Sam Rayburn Views Waning Congressional Session With Satisfaction; One Act Fails

DONALD A. YOUNG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A short, stocky, bald Texan who has shepherded the biggest Democratic majority ever in the house of representatives puffed rapidly on a cigaret today and viewed the waning session as satisfactory.

"The boys all have pulled together and we have accomplished something," said Rep. Sam Rayburn, the Democratic floor leader. "We suffered only one major reverse since we came back here in November and that was the shelving of the reorganization bill."

Boys Ready To Go Home

Against the reorganization defeat, Rayburn placed congressional approval of a new crop control bill, house acceptance of a wage-hour bill after refusing to pass the first draft, and speedy adoption of regular appropriation bills.

"I think most of the boys are ready to go home. I know that I most certainly am."

"Sam," as the house members always speak of him, has been in personal command of the 224 Democrats elected in November, 1936.

SAM RAYBURN

It hasn't been an easy job, Rayburn admitted.

Total Of 185 Golfers Here For Tourney

Thirty-Five West Texas Towns Represented In Entry List; Cards In This Afternoon

Winds to fore, back and from the transverse compass points this morning raked Lubbock Country club's sleek greens and rolling fairways, and cards of golfers here from 35 towns to qualify in the fourteenth annual West Texas Golf tournament were dizzy.

Because of the gale, most of the hotshot element preferred to wait until this afternoon to turn in scores and cards turned in were few and far between.

One hundred eighty-five hopefuls had registered.

Joe Bihl, who recently copped the Meadowbrook annual championship trophy, came in with a 72, one over par, qualifying round early this afternoon to throw a scare into the ranks of the low shooters.

Bihl's card:

Par out:	4 4 3 4 4 4 5 4 3	35
Bihl out:	5 5 2 4 4 4 5 4 2	35
Par in:	4 5 3 5 4 4 4 3 4	36	71
Bihl in:	5 5 3 4 4 4 4 4 4	37	72

A telegram from Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, winner the past two years of the West Texas, advised he would not be able to come to Lubbock for defending his championship.

The wind in the early afternoon indicated it might lapse for a time and give golfers the change they were waiting—a comparative calm. Temperature at noon of 80.6 degrees was termed "perfect" for play. Skies were two-tenths clouded and the wind was south 18 miles an hour.

Another Mark Set In Building Here

Another record—that for building permit total for any calendar week of 1938—toppled this morning when Mrs. M. A. Sparks, owner, and G. A. Browne, contractor, were authorized to erect a residence costing $2,250 at 2121 Twentieth street, according to records in the building inspector's office.

Permit total for the week thus far was increased to $83,634. Previous high mark for an entire week was that of May 15 when construction to cost $81,816 was authorized.

Permits issued in the 24-hour period to noon today called for building to cost $19,027.75, increasing the total for the month to $46,317.75 and for the year to $1,040,965.57.

Among those issued were: W. P. Savage, owner, and C. E. Killingsworth, contractor, frame and stucco residence at 2509 Twenty-sixth street, $4,700; J. E. Sullivant, owner, and G. H. Hughett, contractor, residence at 3013 Twenty-second street, $3,400; Bailey Wright, owner, and Martin Brcs., contractor, residence at 3008 Twenty-second street, $3,375; Z. H. Brock, to repair and alter residence at 2302 Eighteenth street, $3,000; and E. L. Klett, owner, and Lydick Roofing company, contractor, to reroof residence and garage at 2223 Broadway, $1,300.

Consumption Of Surplus Is Planned

Relief Funds Would Be Used To Purchase Products For Low Income Families

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2—President Roosevelt and his advisers are working on a plan, agriculture department officials said today, to use several hundred million dollars of relief funds to increase domestic consumption of surplus farm products.

The program, discussed at a White House conference this week, would have a two-fold objective:

Would Bolster Prices

1. To supplement efforts of the agriculture department, through the new crop control law, to bolster declining prices of farm commodities.

2. To provide undernourished and underclothed relief and low income families with large supplies of food and cotton products.

Would Expand Activities

The proposal, if adopted, probably would expand activities of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, which has been buying surplus perishable farm commodities to bolster prices.

Its purchases, which have been small compared to those contemplated under the new program, are distributed to needy families through relief agencies.

Agricultural department officials said purchases would be made through regular trade channels, thus releasing funds more quickly to stimulate business.

ATTITUDE IS REVEALED

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley told the senate today President Roosevelt does not want to use government funds for building public utility plants competing with privately-owned systems until private utilities have been given an opportunity to sell their holdings at "a reasonable price."

Hoover Takes Over Florida Kidnap Probe

Chief Of Federal Bureau Of Investigation Arrives In Miami; Posses In Search

(By The Associated Press)

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, took charge of the James Bailey Cash, jr., kidnaping case today while small boats and divers augmented a huge posse combing this area in the rain for a trace of the 5-year-old victim.

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened immediately to the FBI office in a downtown skyscraper where agents have been questioning several suspects for 24 hours. He refused, like his subordinates, to discuss the case and indicated he expected to be here several days.

Posses In Search

Hundreds of men in khaki veterans' uniforms and hunting togs, many with pistols at their belts, assembled at dawn and were taken out in farm trucks to the sectors assigned for the second day of the search.

The hunt was extended northward through palmetto thickets, weeds and flat truck farm lands.

Parents In Seclusion

The senior Cash and his wife remained secluded in their frame apartment building, although the father came to the door to receive three telegrams.

It was learned that the anguished mother who had been prostrate with grief, finally was sleeping.

Committee Is Overridden In Standing Vote

Total Sum Of $965,000,000 Approved By House Is Put Back Into Measure Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2—The senate overrode its appropriations committee today to restore the Public Works appropriation in the lending-spending bill to $965,000,000, the amount previously approved by the house.

The action came on a standing vote after Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) had led a floor fight to increase the total which the committee approved.

Wheeler Opens Drive

During consideration of the appropriation Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) opened a drive to earmark funds in the $3,247,000,000 lending-spending bill for specific purposes.

He asked the senate to assign $100,000,000 of the proposed $865,000,000 PWA appropriation to reclamation and irrigation projects.

Only Way To Do It

"If you want to add to the capital assets of my part of the country," he told the senate, "this is the only way to do it.

"You know about the dust bowl. There have been drouths in the Great Plains states for years."

Several other anti-administration senators also planned to submit earmarking proposals.

Morgenthau Makes Plea

Earlier Secretary Morgenthau said congress should give President Roosevelt virtually unlimited authority to determine how funds should be spent in the new relief-public works program.

"In the present situation where we do not expect congress to meet again until next January and do not know whether the economic situation will get better or worse," the treasury chief said, "the wise thing would be to give the president the right, as he had in other bills, to transfer funds from one title to another in order to take care of the situation."

Church Event Is Celebrated

(By The Associated Press)

SAN AUGUSTINE, June 2.—Scores of churchmen came here today for an all-day celebration of the establishment, a hundred years ago, of the First Presbyterian church in Texas.

Dr. Hugh Wilson, a preacher who had left a ministry among the Mississippi Indians, came here to found the church, first in the Republic of Texas, June 2, 1838.

Other Presbyterian ministers had pioneered, but Mexican rulers had prevented their organizing protestant congregations. Dr. Wilson's church with a charter membership of 22 persons, including two negro slaves was called Bethel.

Reproduced On Memorial

The one-room, log cabin edifice, replaced in recent years by a modern building, has been reproduced on a bronze memorial tablet for presentation to the San Augustine congregation. On the tablet are the names of the original members.

Five grandsons of the founder were scheduled to have parts on the memorial program, of which Dr. Cecil Lang, Kilgore pastor, was in charge.

More Than 500 Present

The five were Rev. R. L. Owen of Longview, Rev. C. P. Owen of Brownwood, Rev. J. A. Owen of Albany, Rev. T. M. Cunningham, Oak Cliff, Dallas, and Rev. L. O. Cunningham of Kerrville.

More than 500 persons were present for the all-day celebration, climaxed in the afternoon by a "pageant of Texas Presbyterianism" given by the young people of the San Augustine church. Dr. J. C. Oehler is host pastor.

Primitive Indians Of Brazil Are Said To Be Healthiest People

LYNN, Mass., June 2 (AP)—The Wei Weis, primitive Indians of northern Brazil, today were described by Dr. William Hall Holden, New York explorer, as the healthiest people alive.

Dr. Holden said in an interview that the primitive Wei Weis had no tuberculosis, syphilis, cancer, heart trouble, or other diseases of civilization.

None was feebleminded, due in part, he said, to the fact they kill sick or deformed babies at birth.

Dr. Holden attributed their health to simple diet, no overeating, no stress and strain, no worry of making money or paying bills and no "keeping up with the Joneses."

New Strike Is Threatened For Mexico Phone System Today

MEXICO CITY, June 2 (AP)—Leaders of a short-lived strike which disrupted one of Mexico's two telephone systems, the Ericsson company, threaten a new strike unless their troubles are settled. They are embroiled in a dispute with another union.

Fifty-two thousand telephones were silenced yesterday before labor department officials convinced the workers the strike was "unpatriotic"—out of line with President Cardenas' plea that labor troubles not be added to the government's worries.

APPOINTMENT ANNOUNCED

FORT WORTH, June 2. (AP)—Appointment of Dr. William F. Ossenfort as medical officer in charge of the United States public health service hospital here was announced here today by Dr. W. L. Treadway, assistant United States surgeon general.

School Plans Are Studied

Probable school needs of Lubbock the next several years occupied the attention of several conferences of school officials and architects today as they studied applications which are to be made to the Public Works administration for grants toward a building program, according to information given this morning by school officials.

Work has not progressed far enough, officials said, to do much more than "make a guess" as to what the needs actually are and as to what the best solution of the problem may be. They were agreed, however, that the amazing increase of scholastic population the past year together with the prospective continuation of that gain demands additional school space.

May Approximate $200,000

Estimates were that the program may approximate $200,000 or, more likely, will be somewhat less than that sum. Whatever it may total, the WPA will be asked for a grant equaling 45 per cent of the amount.

Problems for decision, officials explained, is whether to build additional buildings; whether to enlarge existing buildings; or whether to do both.

Indications were that the plan finally adopted may call for enlargement of present structures and for one or two additional buildings. Additional buildings, however,

Notices Sent To Taxpayers

Notices giving property owners opportunity to appear before the county board of equalization June 15 or 16 to show cause why renditions they have made should not be altered were being placed in the mails today under the supervision of County Clerk Ed D. Allen and Chief Deputy Louie F. Moore.

Approximately 350 of the notices were prepared, an unusually small number considering the number of names on the tax rolls prepared by County Assessor Collector H. B. Bryan, officials said.

Alterations Are Increases

Practically without exception, the alterations ordered by the county board are increases. Members of the county commissioners court also serve as an equalization board.

The hearing will be the first of three by boards of equalization in tax units centering in Lubbock. The others will be for Lubbock independent school district and the city of Lubbock. Boards of equalization probably will be named sometime this month by the city commission and the school district board of trustees, officials said.

Work About Complete

Meanwhile, the work of compiling the assessment roll for the school district is about complete, according to H. D. Stanley, chief deputy assessor collector. He said he plans to spend several days in rural areas

New Art In Parachuting Being Developed To Bring Great Sounding Rocket Back To Earth In Experiment Near Roswell, N. M.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ROSWELL, N. M., June 2.—A new art in parachuting has been developed in the desert near ether to bring safely back to earth the great sounding rocket of Professor Robert H. Goddard of Clark university.

This is the world's first practical rocket motor aircraft. Her builder today revealed some of the details of his unique work which has been quietly under way here for several years.

The early rocket ships usually destroyed themselves by falling to the earth after they had ascended a mile or more. This new "ship" comes down gently with a parachute. But before this could be accomplished the rules about parachute strength had to be revised.

Dr. Goddard

The Goddard rocket is 18 feet long, about a foot in diameter, made of aluminum painted black, and capped with a shining conical head. It weighs only 84 pounds after its flaming oxygen-gasoline tail which drives it up is exhausted. At this point the cap opens and two parachutes come out. A small one carries meteorological instruments sent up with the rocket.

Valve Releases Parachute

The large parachute with a spread of ten feet is for the rocket's descent. A pressure valve releases the parachute at the proper moment but the speeds which this pioneer rocket ship has developed run up to 700 miles an hour. They make it difficult to operate a light parachute as the rocket slows down.

At first the shroud lines holding

Fine Finish For Vegetable Dinner

A fitting finale to any dinner is a luscious fresh strawberry pie topped off with a garnish of whipped cream.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

New vegetables are the May flowers of the menu. Make the most of them.

Asparagus Au Gratin
(Serves 4 to 6)

One pond fresh asparagus, 3-4 cup boiling water, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup fine breadcrumbs.

Wash asparagus thoroughly several times to remove all sand and dirt. Cut into 2-inch lengths. Have 3-4 cup boiling water in glass saucepan, one quart size; add the asparagus stalks but not the tips.

Boil gently for about 10 minutes. Add the asparagus tips and the salt; cook 5 to 10 minutes longer, or until tender. While asparagus is cooking melt butter and stir into bread crumbs. Drain asparagus and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Serve in the same glass dish used for cooking.

Glazed Carrots
(Serves 5 to 6)

Twenty small carrots, 1-2 cup water 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup water drained from cooking carrots, 6 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup sugar.

Brush carrots clean and cook in salted water in a 1 1-2 quart glass saucepan until tender. Remove carrots from water; save 1-4 cup water drained from carrots for making syrup with butter and sugar.

Return carrots to syrup and cook slowly until glazed but not brown—about 15 minutes. One tablespoon of chopped fresh mint leaves may be added to the syrup if desired. Drain carrots and serve piping hot.

Creamed New Potatoes and Peas
(Serves 6—1 1-2 quarts)

Twenty to 25 very small new potatoes, 1 pint new green peas.

Scrape new potatoes and boil them in salted water (about 1-2 teaspoon salt to 1 pint water) until tender—about 25 minutes. In another pan boil the new peas in salted water until tender—about 15 minutes.

Sauce

Four tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 1-8 teaspoon sugar.

Melt butter in a saucepan, 1 1-2 quart size; add flour, stirring to form a smooth mixture. Add the milk a little at a time, and stir constantly to form a creamy sauce. Add seasonings. Cook for 5 minutes or the drained potatoes and peas. Allow potatoes, peas and sauce to cook until no starchy taste remains. Add very gently for about 3 minutes, or until well heated throughout. Serve at once.

Air Markers Are Planned

Larger arrow markers are to be painted on top of strategically located buildings throughout Lubbock WPA district pointing toward adjacent airports, according to information given here Wednesday. Fifteen men are employed on the project.

It is set up in the project to have the markers completed in two months in WPA district 17 which includes 24 counties. Markers will be placed in virtually every village and town of this area directing pilots of airplanes to the airport here and over the safest route in bad weather conditions. Each marker will give the name of the town, and the direction of the nearest port. A separate arrow also will point northward so as to assist pilots in maintaining their bearings.

First Is Painted Here

The first marker was painted here Wednesday atop the Sikes and Ingle, contractors, building, at 120 Avenue F, according to attaches of the district WPA office here.

Tentative schedule for painting of the markers in other points of this immediate area is: Crosbyton, today; Floydada, Friday; Plainview, Monday; Muleshoe, Tuesday; Enochs, Wednesday; Levelland, June 9; Brownfield, June 16; Seminole, June 17; Lamesa, June 18 and 20; Tahoka, June 21; Post, June 22; Spur, July 1; and Dickens, July 2.

Supervisor Is Here

W. E. Butcher, supervisor of safety for the Works Progress administration, with main offices at San Antonio, was here Wednesday in connection with launching of the project.

Sponsor of the project is the state railroad commission. The Texas National Guard is furnishing part of the paint and the highway department the necessary trucks. The state-wide project was authorized last year by the Texas legislature.

Robert L. Clark of San Angelo, an experienced painter, is superintendent and recently completed the project for the San Angelo district. Thirty-two signs were painted in that district.

Camping equipment for 16 men, including tents, cots, cooking utensils and field kitchens, are expected to arrive today from National Guard supplies for the men. The men will camp out when working on the project, moving their camps from town to town, it was explained.

After completion, the project will be checked by plane with visits to each of the towns where the markers are being painted.

The project requires one coat of aluminum paint as a seal coat and two coats of chrome yellow or international orange. On galvanized iron roofs or concrete pavements, only the two coats of yellow or orange will be required.

It is specified that the towns' names must read toward the town and names written on the directional marker must read from butt-end toward the point of the arrow. The directional arrow will "point along the route easiest to follow in bad weather to the nearest airport," the specifications said.

Markers on light backgrounds will be outlined in black. None of the letters will be less than seven feet in height, and width will depend upon height and will be in proportion.

The size and width of the signs will meet requirements of all commercial aviation and will be recognized as official markers by the United States army, WPA officials said.

Roofing space for painting the signs was donated in every town, it was explained.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else. —Adv

Progress In Schools Cited

trons and citizenship in general with regard to building and maintaining a public school system with the greatest efficiency that available resources will provide," said Holbrook.

"A further indication of the progressive spirit of people on the South Plains in the matter of school building is exemplified in many new modern school plants that have been erected for adequate education and training of the youth of this section of West Texas. In the last five years, there have been 10 rural school centers effected in district two through consolidation and cooperation of smaller districts which have been grouped for high schools purposes. These high school centers all maintain a fully accredited high school system with effective grammar schools and most of them operate a full course of vocational and industrial training."

Twenty Buildings Erected

In the last five years, 20 new school buildings have been erected in the district. Holbrook praised the progressive spirit and determination that has overcome the many handicaps present because of sparsely settled areas and that has resulted in "one of the most progressive school programs in the state."

For the first time in the history of South Plains schools, the report shows no partially accredited high schools of any type.

Schools in the 16 counties of this district in which number of credits has been increased, ranging from one-half to six credits, in the last year are: Abernathy, Amherst, Andrews, Anton, Brownfield, Cooper, Crosbyton, Cotton Center, Redwine-Draw, Frenship, Hale Center, Idalou, Lamesa, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Morton, Muleshoe, New Deal, O'Donnell, Olton, Pettit, Plains, Plainview, Post, Ralls, Robertson, Ropesville, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, Smyer, Spade, Springlake, Sudan, Tahoka, Union, Wellman, Whiteface, and Wilson.

Schools Are Standardized

There are also 44 standardized rural grammar schools, "the pupils of which are entitled to enter any accredited high school system without entrance examination," said Holbrook. That ruling became effective last fall.

Students attending any two-year affiliated high school have full credit on all work done in the junior schools if they enter four-year high schools, and all graduated from accredited four-year high schools may enter college without entrance examinations.

Lubbock has a total of 82½ credits, the largest number of any in the district, and Plainview is second with 43.

Holbrook will leave Monday for Austin to be engaged in the high school division of the state department in checking and compiling material for a bulletin of standardized and accredited high schools for 1937-38 and serving as a basis for 1938-39. He will be in Austin several weeks. Holbrook has headquarters at Texas Technological college.

Move On Brinkley Halted In House

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—An effort to halt interstate distribution of drugs and medical advice by Dr. John R. Brinkley failed in the house Wednesday when Representative Driver (D-Ark) presiding, ruled out an amendment to the food and drug bill by Representative Ferguson (D-Okla).

Chairman Lea (D-Cal) of the house commerce committee made a point of order that the amendment had no bearing on the section of the bill to which Ferguson proposed to add it. He withheld the point, however, until Ferguson had an opportunity to explain to the house the amendment was meant to curb the activities of Brinkley.

Ferguson's amendment did not mention Brinkley's name, but would have prohibited interstate shipment of drugs, literature, or advertising matter describing them, which were advertised over foreign radio stations. Brinkley's radio station is at Reynosa, Mexico, just across the border from Texas.

through," he said. "I've got to tell him in most cases that we've got to put him off a while, what with an administration bill ready for the floor and then an appropriation bill or two.

"I try to be honest with them, but with a big gang of men like we have here now, it's pretty hard to keep them all satisfied."

Must Determine Order

To Rayburn falls the responsibility for determining the order in which legislation is considered. If possible, he maneuvers to the sidelines bills objectionable to the administration.

When a major measure is ready for a vote, Rayburn and his corps of assistants, called "whips," try to cajole wavering Democrats into line.

"Only twice this year were we wrong when the final vote was taken—that was on the recommittal of the wage-hour and reorganization bills," Rayburn said.

He came to congress 25 years ago after serving as speaker in the Texas legislature. If precedent is followed and the Democrats continue to control the house, he some day may hold the title of speaker again.

Carlisle Tubbs of Jefferson has arrived for a few days visit. He joins his wife and daughters, Betty Loys and Bobbie Ann, who have been here visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fagg and Mrs. R. I. Tubbs.

Huge Airliner Makes Debut; Ready Soon For Test Flight

The world's largest commercial land plane, the DC-4, is shown as it was hauled out of the Douglas Aircraft Corp. hangar in Santa Monica, Calif., where it was built, to prepare it for its first test flight soon. The $1,700,0 00 four-motored craft, 98 feet long and with a wingspread of 138 feet, will carry 42 passengers and a crew of five. The size of the ship is empha sized by the two DC-3's, present Douglas airline standard, and other smaller ships in the background.

Anti-Trust Suit Case Opened

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Opening the government's case in its anti-trust suit against the Aluminum Company of America and 62 co-defendants, Special Assistant Attorney General Walter L. Rice asserted the company and associates had a "100 per cent monopoly in the virgin aluminum and bauxite industry throughout the western hemisphere."

Aluminum and its subsidiaries, he said, controlled the entire output of this country and, through Aluminum, Ltd., and its affiliates, controlled the output of the "rest of the world."

Two Big Issues Cited

The two big issues in the case, he said in his outline, were:

"First, whether or not there is a combination or conspiracy in interstate commerce in violation of section one of the Sherman anti-trust act, and, second, whether or not there is a monopolization or attempt to monopolize interstate or foreign commerce in aluminum in violation of section two of the act."

He conceded there might be a "fair question" as to whether a complete monopoly always was illegal per se, but insisted that in this case the government would prove oppressive, restrictive and unfair tactics by the defendants.

Roswell Experiment

the edges of the parachute were silk cords, each able to support 100 pounds. There were ten of these giving 1,000 pounds pulling strength to hold the weight of 84 pounds. The lines had to be strengthened until each would hold 400 pounds, or a total strain of two tons.

Thus equipped, the rocket thereupon broke a one-eighth inch steel cable which was attached to the lines. After this had been remedied, it broke a ring of iron one-half inch thick holding the cable to the rocket. This iron ring was a standard part used for tractors to pull heavy loads.

Flights are made about once a month in a deserted, saucer-shaped valley about 15 miles from Roswell. Between tests, the rocket spends its time in a shop set up by Dr. Goddard and operated by four assistants close to his residence just outside Roswell.

First Objective Outlined

The first objective is to solve the practical principles of rocket ship flight.

In the present rocket, Dr. Goddard has a reliable motor which can be used repeatedly. He has been able to make experiments that indicate it will be practicable to send rocket ships to heights far exceeding balloons. They will ascend to the interesting regions where meteors burn, and where the sun's radiation exists in forms unknown at the earth's surface.

Working 24 Years

Dr. Goddard has perfected means of sending scientific instruments up with the rocket and landing them safely. He has been working on this problem 24 years. The new parachute illustrates the mechanical difficulties of each step.

"The principles of rocket flights," Dr. Goddard said, "have been thoroughly worked out. But even the smallest problem of practical design requires months of experimenting."

His work here is supported by the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim foundation, New York. Clark university, at Worcester, Mass., where he is head of the physics and mathematics departments, has given him leave of absence.

of the district taking assessments to complete the preparation of the rolls for submission to the equalization group.

He suggested that any property owner whose assessment has not been rendered might save himself later inconvenience if he will call at the school district office, 1007 Texas avenue, to report his holdings.

Less progress has been made on the city rolls, but officials there cannot start their work as soon as in the county and school divisions.

The school district embraces the whole city of Lubbock and rural areas within a distance of approximately five miles of the city limits.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 2. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 to 7 points net higher today on accumulated overnight buying orders and some covering by shorts.

Favorable foreign markets, reports of a moderate pickup in textile activity and expectations of low crop estimate aided sentiment in early dealings.

July opened at 8.10, Oct. 8.13, Dec. 8.14, Jan. 8.13, March 8.19, and May at 8.23. Trading was moderately active after the start and towards the end of the first half four active months were ruling 3 points net higher.

The market lacked initiative during the morning and moderate profit taking and liquidation erased the initial gain in quiet trading.

Towards mid-session July traded to 8.03, Oct. to 8.03, Dec. to 8.07, March to 8.15 and May 8.14, or unchanged to 3 points lower compared with the previous close.

A private estimate placing the crop at 9,815,000 bales was released during the day but was offset by a second and larger forecast of 12,927,000 bales.

Weather conditions over the belt were unfavorable with light to heavy rains reported in the central and eastern sections and scattered showers in the west.

The turnover yesterday was 33,750 bales and open commitments 358,800 bales, an increase of 1,350 bales over the previous day.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 6 to 7 up on higher cables and foreign buying against a scarcity of contracts. July 7.96, Oct. 7.99, Dec. 8.02, Jan. 8.02, March 8.05, May 8.10.

Oct. reacted from 8.00 to 7.93 and later sold at 7.95, with the list net unchanged to 2 points higher shortly after the first half hour.

The market met more trade buying around the previous closing levels but the reaction from the early highs made outside buyers cautious and rallies were feeble.

Oct. which had eased to 7.92, was quoted at 7.94 around midday when the list was unchanged to 2 points net higher.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Late buying in utilities awakened a sleeping stock market today and selected issues, after succumbing to earlier profit selling, got back on the rallying trail for net gains of fractions to a point or so. There was an assortment of losers, however, at the close.

Transfers were around 500,000 shares.

Power and light company stocks drew support.

Strength came into U. S. government securities when secretary Morgenthau disclosed the treasury could borrow no additional cash in its Feb. 15 financing. Wheat at Chicago converted losses into advances of ⅜ to ⅞ of a cent a bushel and corn jumped 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents. Steels were good in the morning but eventually gave way and ended somewhat irregular. European markets took on a brighter tone after Great Britain inaugurated a move for peace on the continent.

Favored shares included Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. J., National Power & Light, Pacific Gas, Western Union, Columbia Gas, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Texas Corp., Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, Allied Chemical, National Biscuit, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Eastman Kodak and Phillip Morris.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., June 2 (AP)—A blackbird, seized and held captive by a giant clam and threatened by a cat, was alive today only because of the intervention of spectators.

The cat was approaching stealthily when boys smashed the clam with a stone.

Arrests Made In Fraud Case

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—The indictment of six men, accused by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of looting seven investment trusts with combined assets of over $16,000,000, was disclosed here with the arrest of four of the defendants.

With a total investment of only $5, Dewey said, the men got control of four investment trusts with aggregate assets of $13,500,000 out of which $4,300,000 was quickly dissipated.

Arrested As Fugitives

Two of the men, Thomas W. Morris and Ralph H. Robb, Boston lawyers, were arrested in the Massachusetts capital as fugitives. A third, Philip A. Frear, a former New York City securities dealer, was seized in Washington, D. C.; and the fourth man, Vincent A. Ferretti, a lawyer, was taken into custody here and held in $25,000 bail.

The indictment against the six contains ten felony counts, six for grand larceny, two for receiving stolen property, and two charging the bringing of stolen property into the state.

The four investment trusts of which Dewey said the men acquired control were named by him as the First Income Trading corporation, Continental Securities corporation, Administered Fund Second, Inc., and Reynolds Investing company.

Prison Sentence Is Given For Forgery

(Special To The Journal)

SEMINOLE, June 2. — Harry Goodloe, 68-year old transient, remained in the Gaines county jail here today awaiting disposition of other cases pending against him after having pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and accepting a two-year penitentiary sentence in 106th district court Wednesday.

Authorities here had not been advised whether he will be wanted for prosecution in any of those counties. The plea of guilty to the forgery charge was the second to be received by Judge Reed during the day. (Cowboy) Word here Tuesday, has been set before Judge Louis B. Reed in 106th district court at 2 p. m. here Friday.

Bathhouse Opening Is Delayed A Week

Opening of the bathhouse almost completed at the city swimming pool in Mackenzie park will be delayed until the week-end of June 11 instead of next Saturday, according to information given by park officials this morning.

Despite the absence of dressing rooms, however, officials said, business has been rushing at the pool since the official opening last Sunday.

Another announcement in connection with operation of the pool today was that Maynard Knight, who was manager last summer, has been re-appointed to that post this year. Net profits from the pool go into the city general fund, with expectation that the amount will approximate $2,000.

Kelso D. Vernor, superintendent of the park, said it would be possible to open the dressing rooms next Sunday. If that should be done, however, it would necessitate permitting bathers to pass through portions of the building not finished and might result in damage. The entire interior, he said, will be finished before the following week-end.

Tourney Opens At Club Here

bock hotel starting at 8 o'clock.

Evidence of the competitive agency of the wind, Alfred Holton's touring round resulted in a 79, which brought concern that the Lubbock ex-caddy might not make the championship flight.

Hale Turns In 74

Earlier, Bob Hale's 74 apparently was the lowest card turned in up to noon, but his round was Sunday, which automatically would bar him from medal honors. He has the alternative of requalifying, however, before 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, the deadline.

Clint Bussey, another Lubbock golfer, turned in a 76. He won the West Texas in 1929 at Stamford. Weldon Counts of Lubbock came in with a 75.

First Round Friday

First round play will be Friday morning, second round that afternoon.

Billy Bob Coffey, runner up in the West Texas last year, had not qualified this morning but was expected to do so this afternoon.

NIX SHOOTS ACE!

E. C. Nix, veteran Colorado golfer and annual contender for the West Texas title, burned up the Country club course yesterday, especially one hole of it, to establish himself a definite threat.

Nix had a 31, which is five under par, on the back nine, and the hole-in-one he shot on the No. 12, par 3, 165 yards, didn't hurt him any. Playing with Jo Dick Slaughter and Cotton McAfee of Lubbock and Morgan Neal, Odessa, Nix holed out across the chasm on the No. 12 as prettily as you please, for the second ace of the year on the course. He had fired a 39 on the front side, so wound up with a total of 70, one under par for the 18.

A lot of golf will be played over the rolling fairways, rich bermuda greens and out of troublesome rough during those four days.

One of the most handsome championship prizes ever offered in any amateur tournament in Texas will be carted out to the winner Sunday night. It is a huge gold-plated outfit, replete with statuettes and other figures, and suitably engraved.

Other prizes are, while less expensive, of more practical value to winners. Winner in each flight, for example, receives a wrist watch, valued at $50. Runners-up and consolation winners in each division will receive trophies of proportionate value.

Arrival of Billy Bob Coffey, Fort Worth youngster who won second place in the tournament last year at Brownwood, and of Frank Mitcham, winner of the 1938 Green Belt championship last week at Shamrock, helped to highlight yesterday's progress. Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, for two years winner of the event, is expected to arrive today and defend his title. Grover Austin, runner-up in the Green Belt, arrived two days ago and has been getting in some valuable practice.

Bob Scott of Colorado, J. C. Southworth of Sweetwater, Jack Morgan and Douglas Jones of Big Spring, A. N. Holmes of Shamrock, H. F. Templeton and L. M. Montgomery of San Angelo, Paul Gore of Amarillo and W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth arrived yesterday and trod the course in practice rounds.

Billy and Lyle Holmes of Shamrock, well known to local golfers, are expected today. Although Billy resides in Sayre, Okla., his golf membership is at Shamrock, his home town, making him eligible to compete here.

Bussey After Second Title

Clint Bussey, winner of the tournament in 1929, is the only ex-champ yet to register. Bussey has been hitting his shots nicely, and is due to rank with the favorites tonight.

Obie Bristow of Big Spring, winner of numerous tournament titles and always a strong contender, has been practicing here and is ready for tournament play. Bristow won the last tournament he played in here—the 1937 Lubbock Country club invitational.

Oh, they're here—or will be here—for miles around, and it promises one of the largest, toughest fields in the history of the event, if not the very largest. Club champions from nearly every town that is a member of the West Texas association will compete.

Galleries Are Welcome

Additional entertainment this week includes a night club party at Hotel Lubbock tomorrow night, with an orchestra and comedy team imported from Fort Worth to put on "the works." The party is open to all holders of tournament tickets, and their girl friends.

A dance at the Auditorium Saturday night, played by the same band, will attract the field down that way.

Fans are cordially invited to the Country club this week to watch the stars in action. There will be no admittance fee, and a large gallery is hoped for.

Four Planes Leave Today For Participation In Clovis Fete

Four planes with Lubbock pilots at the controls took off from Municipal airport this morning for Clovis to present an air circus today and Friday as one of the feature events of the fourth annual pioneer days' celebration there. Time of the air event will be 12:30 to 1 p. m., with Clent Breedlove, manager of Municipal port, in charge of arrangements.

Pilots, additional to Breedlove, are M. F. Dagley, Art Chase and V. J. Spreckels. They will remain in Clovis until late Friday to operate a commercial hop concession.

Another event of the celebration will be a program sponsored by Lubbock Chamber of Commerce from 11:30 until noon Friday.

J. H. Brock, assistant manager, will represent the chamber of commerce.

Optimism In Oil Industry

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., June 2.—Hopeful signs of expanding business have brought a wave of optimism to the petroleum industry.

The word was out today that gasoline inquiry and movement was on the upswing. That conditicn brought frequent observations that at present the outlook was the best so far this year.

Asking Higher Prices

Marketing reports were that some refiners already were asking an eighth to a quarter of a cent above posted prices for gasoline. In some quarters there was more and more talk of a general rise in the tank car, cr wholesale, price of gasoline.

On top of unusual gasoline demands for the three-day memorial holiday, refiners reported, wholesale buying against the summer motoring season was reaching a greater volume than anticipated earlier. Motor fuel requirements were said to be pyramiding into a summer business that seemed much like the good seasons of '36 and '37.

Things Look Better

"Mark you," said one oil company executive, "we are far from out of this business slump yet. But things do look infinitely better at the moment."

The strength in the refined products division came on the heels of drastic measures to halt mounting crude stocks. Curtailment of state allowables had cut the crude output something like 250,000 barrels daily in the past three weeks.

Field activity remained relatively steady. The Oil and Gas Journal reported 538 completions for the week, 22 less than the week before.

In "Utopia," published by Sir Thomas More about 1516, a six-hour day is described as the ideal working day.

WASHINGTON, June 2.(AP)—Chief Justice Hughes was the only member of the Supreme court on the winning side in every case decided this term.

Valley Ships Much Vegetables, Fruit

BROWNSVILLE, June 2. (AP)—The lower Rio Grande valley's 1937-38 fruit and vegetable season closed today after 38,778 carloads had been moved to the nation's markets, at an estimated gross return of $17,500,000.

A few cars of tomatoes were yet to move, but the season usually is considered closed June 1.

In addition the valley had received, and was still receiving, millions of dollars from its canned fruits and vegetables.

Shipments this season were considerably behind those of last year, when the valley rolled a total of approximately 45,000 carloads of produce, and received a gross return of about $25,000,000.

This season's shipments included 14,264 carloads of citrus fruit by rail and 4806 cars of citrus by truck for a total of 19,070. Canning plants used a total of approximately 10,000 carloads of citrus fruit, bringing the season total to 29,070, or only 2,000 fewer than the previous record year.

A total of 15,608 carloads of vegetables had been shipped from the valley this season by rail, and 4,000 by truck for a total of 19,608 cars. No figures were available on the amount of vegetables used in canning.

Hubbers End Home Stay Today; To Return June 11

Midland Foe Again This Afternoon

Benny "Chief" Franklin and Clovis Bridwell likely will do the elbowing at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in Lubbock's final appearance before taking to the road until June 11.

Manager Pincher Withers has indicated that the big Injun will take the mound for Midland and Bridwell's turn it is today. The lanky Hubber righthander has split even in a couple of attempts on the hill. The Hubbers leave tomorrow for nine games on foreign soil.

Rain Aids Locals

Rain that never precipitated almost washed away the Lubbock-Midland affray Wednesday afternoon. The Hubbers, however, salvaged a 10-to-8 victory, and rain at Wink enabled the locals to advance a half game over the Spudders.

Ernest "Big Bill" Terry, who has become a mainstay on the Hubber hurling staff after dropping two decisions, allowed only six hits while Lubbock was pounding Tommy Warren and Hank Proschauer for 14 safeties. Every man in the Hubber lineup garnered a hit, and Al Carr and Mal Stevens turned three into quick run-producers.

Carr Tied For Homers

Carr pulled alongside Midland's Jake Suytar with his thirteenth roundtripper of the season. Stevens wanted his name left in the pot, so on consecutive appearances at the plate he cracked his tenth and eleventh homers. Two were on for Carr's drive and none and one on for those of Stevens.

Johnny Taylor and Terry joined Carr and Stevens with two bingles each.

Clovis Still Winning

Clovis continued to set the woods afire with winning baseball Wednesday by applying a 6-1 shellacking on Hobbs. The win pulled the Pioneers within one game of Midland.

George Jones was deprived of a shutout when the Boosters crowded over an unearned marker in the seventh chapter. Marshall Scott held the Old-timers to eight hits, but sloppy play of his teammates kept him in warm water all afternoon.

Big Spring and Wink will tangle tonight, their game last night giving way to rain. Hobbs remains at Clovis.

Armstrong Tries To Find Out How Ross Is Feeling; Negro Is Said Remarkable Fighter

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 2—Henry Armstrong devoted an hour to giving Barney Ross one of the most unmerciful beatings ever meted out to a champion, and then yesterday he spent hours trying to get hold of Barney on the telephone so he could ask him how he was feeling.

Henry must have known how Barney felt, because it was no secret that Barney's face was terribly swollen and that he was grieving for his lost welterweight title. But it was typical of Armstrong, a friendly little negro, that he would want to say he was sorry.

Likeable And Pleasant

Armstrong is such a vengeful fighter and has been called so many kinds of assassin and human destroyer lately that the reader might be surprised to learn that he is an exceptionally likeable and pleasant person outside the ring.

Should he add the lightweight crown to his abnormal collection of titles when he meets Lou Ambers on July 27, there is not likely to be a popular demand for a "white hope" to knock Henry's ears down.

At 25, he is a solid family man, with a wife and child and a home in Los Angeles. He sings in his church choir every Sunday when he is at home.

Speaks Flawless English

Nobody around here has seen him excited or heard him lift his voice. He speaks almost flawless English and is approximately five times as intelligent as his noted friend, Joe Louis. While training for the Ross fight he dashed off several portions of free verse that were much better than you might suspect. One of them was published.

During training at Pompton Lakes, Armstrong was visited frequently by the entertainers from a couple of big Harlem hot-spots. First thing he did after he had disposed of the gallant Barney was to drive out to both places and thank his friends.

Face Escapes Cuts

One of the more remarkable things about Armstrong is that he has never been cut around the face in six years of professional activity. He has skin like a rhinoceros. "I guess he's got blood inside him, but I've handled him in over 60 fights and never seen any sign of it," says Manager Mead.

He shows no symptoms of getting any larger than he is right now—133 pounds. It looks like he will be able to shuttle back and forth between the featherweights and welterweights as long as he wishes. The fight crowd is unanimous now that the only kind of man with a hope of beating him is one with an absolute one-punch knockout in his right hand. Some think Ceferino Garcia might do it.

Henry has no superstitions. His only deep-set conviction is that he can whip any man in the world, short of the middleweights. He expects Ambers to give him more trouble than Ross did, though.

Qualifying Rounds Begin For Beaumont Tournament Today

BEAUMONT, June 2. (AP)—Qualifying rounds started today in the Beaumont Country club's first invitation golf tournament.

Bobby Riegel of Beaumont, recently crowned state amateur champion; Don Schumacher, Trans-Mississippi champion, and O'Hara Watts, Dallas ace, headed a classy field into the trial rounds.

Match play begins Friday. Quarter finals and semi-finals are scheduled Saturday and the 36-hole finals Sunday.

More than 300 municipal councils of Brittany have petitioned the French government that Breton be taught as a secondary language in Brittany schools.

Beaumont Is Nearing Top

(By The Associated Press)

The hustling Beaumont Exporters were within a game of the Texas league top today thanks to the fine pitching of Dizzy Trout and an uprising on the part of the Dallas Steers.

The leading Tulsa Oilers took it on the chin from Dallas, 12-3, last night while second place San Antonio fell before the slants of Trout and his Beaumont mates, 4-1. Today Tulsa had an eight-point lead over San Antonio and 20 points over Beaumont.

Allowed Five Hits

Trout allowed five hits while Beaumont pounded out eleven, mixing them with four walks and three errors on the part of the Missions to edge in with the victory.

Tulsa miscues helped Dallas greatly but the Herd also used eleven hits to advantage, scoring six runs in the first two innings to sew up the game early.

Cats Scratch Indians

The Fort Worth Cats downed Oklahoma City, 7-4, Indian errors doing them a lot of damage and a dozen Panther hits doing still more. Joe Mowry, Cat outfielder, continued his noble work with the stick to move into second place in league batting with a .350 mark, just eight points behind the top hand, Garner of Beaumont, who was idle. Mowry got two hits in five tries.

Houston had a field night at the expense of the hapless Shreveport Sports, winning 14-6. The Buffs broke a 4-4 tie with a six-run splurge in the fifth. Houston got 16 hits, Shreveport 12.

Nation's Pros Are At Kansas City For $5,000 Open Play

KANSAS CITY, June 2. (AP)—The humpy, trap-pocked Hillcrest terrain swarmed with exploring parties today as the nation's golf greats probed here and there for trouble they will seek to avoid when the $5,000 Kansas City open tournament starts tomorrow.

Competition will be 72 holes of medal play, including 18 holes tomorrow and Saturday, and 36 holes Sunday.

Gene Sarazen, Johnny Revolta and Lawson Little are indicative of the field.

Jimmy Thomson, and Sam Snead, rated kings of the sluggers, are entered, as are Horton Smith, ace of the putters; Ray Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, the Houston husky who looks as a dark horse; Leonard Dodson, Frank Walsh, Harry Cooper, Ed Dudley, Willie Goggin, Paul Runyan and others great in their own right.

Soldier Thomas Defeats John Nemanic In Last Night's Bouts

The winnahs:

Soldier Thomas of Washington beat out John Nemanic of Denver on Wednesday night's Auditorium grappling event.

Panther Joe Kopecky and Andy Tremaine went to a draw, as did Blacksmith Pedigo of Louisville and Dizzy Dilly Davis of Houston—but they respectively were in the semi-final and curtain-raiser bouts.

Trojans Are Favored In AAA Track

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Confident of "34 points, enough to win," Dean Cromwell and his Southern California U. squad were the chief attractions today as the picked athletes of 31 colleges made ready for the outdoor championships of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. at Randalls Island stadium tomorrow and Saturday.

Although Olympic champions and sophomore phenoms mingled in the largest concentration of track talent since the 1936 Olympic tryouts in the same stadium, the talk was all of the Trojans' might.

They were joined today by the California team and the University of California at Los Angeles' one man squad, Tom Berkeley, the low hurdler; as well as the teams of the more distant Eastern colleges.

The Trojans have men in 10 of the 15 events that comprise the championships and they may score in all ten.

They Laughed When Cornelius McGillicuddy Hinted He Might Have Something--But Not Now

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They laughed when old Cornelius McGillicuddy hinted he might do something with his apathetic Athletics this season. They laughed when he tossed a couple of ex-college boys into his lineup, and they wanted to know if he thought a Ph. D. or two could change a situation that looked like the cellar from Philadelphia to Moscow and back.

But they're laughing out of the other side of their faces now. For the venerable Mr. McGillicuddy — he's the same old Connie Mack, of course—looks like he really might have something there in Philly.

Have Been Doing Tricks

It's extremely doubtful if even so excellent a tactician as cagy Connie can pull his boys out of second-division darkness, but several of the young gentlemen have been doing such tricks recently that Mr. Mack finds them in the American league's sixth place today, with seven wins in their last ten starts.

The lates was a 9-5 thumping they handed Cleveland's league-leading Indians yesterday.

Giants Look Sour

Meanwhile the New York Giants, against their customary cousins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, looked pretty sour yesterday as they dropped a 4-1 decision, with young Russ Bauers turning in a five-hitter.

Getting back to the A's, you find their sudden spurt dates back about two weeks, when Swingin' Sam Chapman, the All-America footballer, left the sunny California campus and showed up at Shibe park. Sammy supplied an extra punch. In 15 games, he has hit for .314 and driven in 14 runs, a power pace that makes up for the fielding experience he still lacks.

Nelson Proves Surprise

Then there's old Lynn (Line Drive) Nelson, who has proved a most pleasant pitching surprise. He went the route for the sixth straight time yesterday, turning in an effective job for his fourth win.

Since the Yankees also lost yesterday, Cleveland's pace-setting margin remained at three full games, with the A's eight games back. The Yanks found Vernon Kennedy's flinging too much and were belted around, 8-4, by the Detroit Tigers.

The Giants' lead, meantime, was shaved to two games over the Cubs, whose clash with Boston's third place Bees was rained out. The Cardinals featured homers by Ducky Medwick and Enos Slaughter in walloping the Phillies, 9-4, and Johnny Vander Meer pitched a five-hitter to give the Cincinnati Reds a 4-1 victory over Brooklyn's doleful Dodgers.

Joe Cronin's homer with two aboard was enough for the Boston Red Sox to trounce the St. Louis Browns, 6-3. Buddy Lewis' ninth-inning single drove in the run that enabled Washington's Senators to nose out the White Sox, 5-4.

Marshall Holds Lead In East Texas; Longview In Second

(By The Associated Press)

Marshall held the lead in the East Texas league today while the Texarkana Liners, who had pulled up to a tie for the top, fell to third place and Longview took over the runner-up slot.

Marshall downed Jacksonville 13-7 last night, scoring nine runs in the fifth inning. Marshall got 16 hits, Jacksonville 11.

Steve Rachunk held Texarkana to seven hits while his mates blasted three innings in a 16-6 route of the tory.

Longview hit 16 times in the first three innings in a 16- rout of the Kilgore Rangers.

Tyler downed Palestine 10-4, Carl Kentling leading the attack with two homers and a single to drive in six runs.

Greetings To The Golfers
By Collier Parris

AND SO, ma-ah fra-a-ans, without further ado and without studying the shot, we're welcoming you to Lubbock and Lubbock Country club, and we trust you have a most enjoyable visit here.

And we DO mean you, the visiting golf brigade from near and far.

The boys at the Country club have devoted a lot of time and effort toward making this the best West Texas tournament in the 14-year history of the event. If they have done, and are doing, a good job, tell them about it. If they have fallen down in any department, tell us about it, and we'll see that the correction notice gets to the proper persons.

You can't all win, of course, so there's bound to be more disappointments than triumphs. But as long as you're here, winning or losing, you are to make yourself at home and have a large time. This town never has been called inhospitable, and it'll go out of its way to help you have a happy week. Of course, you came here to play golf, but that'll take care of itself.

You'll be interrupted and bothered, no doubt, by presence of such buttinsky persons as sports writers and other "experts" who know just what you should do in every case, but you'll just have to look over the Amos Meltons, Jerry Malins, Felix McKnights and other disturbing influences who'll be cluttering up the roughs. Oh, yeah—they're sort of welcome, too.

If the tournament is as hot as pre-tournament activity at the course, it'll set records for several things. Take that hole in one scored by E. C. Nix, the Colorado sharpshooter, for instance. Nix, whom we'll call a veteran tournament contender, really got hot on that back nine yesterday. And it's considered quite a tough hillside backstretch, too. His ace on the 12th sets him apart from the ordinary linksman, and his 31 for the nine puts him in a class all alone. Such shooting is seldom seen on the local course.

This far only one ex-champion is listed. That is, until early this morning. Clint Bussey, only Lubbock player ever to win the event, has been working out pretty hard for the last several weeks over the Country club course, and is hitting his shots nicely. We look for some good work on Bussey's part. He won the title in 1929 at Stamford.

Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, has won the title for the last two years, and is expected here today to start his second defense. None of the other ex-champs have been heard from, but maybe some of 'em will show up.

By way of keeping the record straight, it might not be amiss to reprint the names of former champions and runners up since the event started:

1925—Alex Collins, San Angelo, defeated C. C. McBurnett, San Angelo, at San Angelo.

1926 — At Breckenridge, Al Badger, then of San Angelo, defeated Budley Raines of Stamford.

1927 — At Abilene, Budley Raines came into his own, defeated Guy Witherspoon of Abilene, 1 up, 36 holes.

1928 — At Mineral Wells, Dennis Lavender of Abilene, 18-years old, won from Bob Scott of Colorado. Lavender was tournament medalist and THE tournament hotshot, winning from Scott, who is entered in the 1938 tournay here, 9 up and 8 to go. But Bob has improved.

1929—At Stamford, N. Clint Bussey of Lubbock played and talked himself to the championship, after Lavender had been beaten in the first round, by taking J. Dixon White of Dublin on the 37th green.

1930 — Lavender came back, and J. Dixon White was runner up for the second time in a row. The tournament was played at Brownwood. Lavender thus was the first to win the tournament twice—but not the last.

1931—At Lubbock, the golfing postmaster of Post, Charlie Quail, stayed in there and fixed up L. T. "Bobby" Burns of Wichita Falls, 6 and 5. Quail has tried nearly every time since then, but couldn't quite get over.

1932—At San Angelo, Jimmy Phillips of Ranger defeated Jack Satterwhite of Big Lake, 9 and 8. Phillips was medalist, and Satterwhite defeated Charlie Quail in the semi-finals, 1 up.

1933 — Over the tree-lined Wichita Falls Country club course, young pale-faced Carnes Wilson of Abilene started a two-year reign over West Texas golfers. He weighed 110 pounds, sold for $22 in the Calcutta — then defeated Jimmy Phillips in the final round, 4 and 2.

1934—Wilson successfully defended his title at Big Spring, winning from Billy Holmes, Texas Tech star, 9 and 7, in the final, after beating Jimmy Phillips in the semi-final.

1935 — At Abilene, Johnny Marston picked off Shanty Hogan to cop the championship.

1936—Morris Norton of Wichita Falls dethroned Marston, and defeated Charles Reasor for the championship.

1937—Norton became the third player to win the title twice, the second to win it twice in a row, by defeating Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth at Brownwood.

1938—Quien sabe?

In addition to the ex-champs named above who may be here, there'll be former runners-up to try again for the elusive title. Billy Bob Coffey and his pater, Dr. Alden, arrived yesterday. Billy Holmes, now living in Sayre, Okla., but a member of the Shamrock club, is expected, and Bob Scott of Colorado is expected.

So it's all yours, gentlemen. Take over, and go to town.

And this welcome is extended the fourth and fifth and sixth flighters as well as the championship boys. In fact, we'll be meeting up with you down the ladder guys and will feel on more even terms with you than the hotshots. Us duffers have gotta hang together.

Pairings For Walker Cup Matches Made

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 2. (AP)—Pairings for foursomes competition in the tenth Walker cup golf series between the United States and Great Britain were announced today by the rival captains, Francis Ouimet and John Beck.

The four foursomes matches, to be played tomorrow, follow:

Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and Charles (Chuck) Kocsis, Detroit, versus Harry Bentley of England and Jimmy Bruen of Ireland.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha and Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., versus Gordon Peters and Hector Thomson, both of Scotland.

Charley Yates of Atlanta, newly crowned British amateur champion, and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., versus Alex Kyle of Scotland and Charlie Stowe of England.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas and Freddie Haas of New Orleans versus Frank Pennick and Leonard Crawley of England.

Eight singles matches on Saturday will complete the series in which the United States has won all nine previous competitions.

A howling wind and cold weather prevented both squads from practicing today.

Bankers' Leader Says Relief Must Return To Local Communities

Adams Cites Tax Burden

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, June 2—A sound fiscal policy in government "can never be achieved until a major part of the relief load is turned back to local communities," the president of the American Bankers' association declared last night.

In a speech before the final session of the Mountain States Accounting conference, Orval W. Adams, Salt Lake City, said:

"It Is Unthinkable"

"It is unthinkable that the relief program should continue to be administered out of Washington. Providing for the worthy needy is a legitimate function of local and state government, and should never have been centralized at political Washington."

If local agencies had the full relief picture before them, the bankers' president declared, "how quickly there would be a shrinkage in the army of those being taught to glorify indolence and shun the responsibility of individual achievement."

Answered In Three Words

Discussing what is expected of America's businessmen, Adams said:

"It can be answered in three words—courage, intelligent guidance.

"We occupy a unique position that requires that we inform the American people of the nature and complete significance of the present doings of government and the results which will come to them if this bold, violent venture from American traditions is permitted to continue unchecked.

"The taxpayers of America should get this picture. They then will realize what it means to them when these lavish expenditures, these unstinted loans, these prodigious financial projects of government are launched, resulting in the piling up of the hugest debt in the history of any country, and for which the taxpayers, and the taxpayers only, must pay."

LEVELLAND, June 2 (Special)—Improvement of Levelland High school stadium was started today as a National Youth administration project.

Curb Service

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

MIAMI, Fla. — Ho-hum. It gets kind of hot down here in the summer, no matter what the chamber of commerce says, so enterprising merchants go in for "curb service" in a big way to help lazy motorists. You can get—ho-hum, pardon us—about any goods or services you want without leaving your car. Witness:

1. THIS IS A CURB MARKET, where housewives can shop without leaving the family sedan. Those are Florida oranges.

2. PRETTY SOFT, but we don't mean the crease. You can have your suit cleaned and pressed without stepping on terra firma.

3. THIRSTY? JUST DRIVE UP to the drug store, and the boy will bring a drink to you—or anything else that's in stock.

4. SEEING'S BELIEVING. This is a just-drive-in movie, and you don't have to get out from behind the wheel to enjoy it.

5. AND THIS, ladies and gentlemen, is a night club for motorists who just can't be bothered to shake a leg but like hot tunes.

Feels Fine; Like A New Man Again

Finds Gly-Cas Just What He Had Needed For Years; "Without An Equal", He Declares

"Gly-Cas changed my years of suffering to that of good and glorious health—even after all else tried had failed," said Mr. F. F. Atler, 1616 South Williams St., Albuquerque, New Mexico. "For several years

MR. F. F. ATLER

I was bothered contipually with severe bloating and awful gas pains after every meal I ate, regardless of my diet. I was badly constipated too, became terribly nervous until I could not sleep at night and I was always tired and worn-out. In spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. Then I began to hear so much praise for Gly-Cas and of its remarkable accomplishments and decided it was surely worth a trial."

"Gly-Cas was the very medicine I had been needing for years," continued Mr. Atler. "By the time I had finished my first box of this new remedy I was a new man. I now eat and enjoy the foods I wish without any distress afterwards. I sleep good the whole night through without the least disturbance, get up of a morning full of pep and energy and feeling fine. Even my nerves are quieted, those awful gas pains relieved and I cannot say half enough in praising such a remarkable remedy as this new Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

Spur To Stage Feeders' Day

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, June 2—Attendance of several hundred is indicated for the annual field day at the state experiment sub-station here Friday, according to R. E. Dickson, superintendent.

Among those expected are delegations from Lubbock county, including several faculty members of Texas Technological college.

The day will mark the close of a 196-day experiment in the feeding of cattle. Seven lots were divided into four groups of experiments: comparison of sumac silage with kafir silage; comparison of levels of protein in ration; comparison of levels of fat in ration; comparison of sources of cottonseed meal and cottonseed oil.

Reports To Be Made

Fifty high grade Hereford yearlings were in a vitamin A requirement study and reports on these experiments will be made.

J. M. Jones, chief of range experiments of the experiment service is to be here and he will discuss results of experiments. John Jones of the extension service, G. W. Barnes and A. L. Smith of the extension service and possibly some others, are expected also.

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological college and his associate, Ray C. Mowery, likewise plan to be here.

A barbecue is planned for noon, at the station.

One Of Big Problems

"One of the big problems confronting the farmers of West Texas through the years has been converting feed crops into cash and into products for home consumption," Dickson said. "With our crop control program these problems are more important than ever, and region-wide discussions of these problems will possibly be of much value at this time.

"The set program for the field day will consist of a short discussion of the experimental work that is being conducted; then a round table discussion of any and all of the problems pertaining to the intelligent use of feed and pasture crops will be to open those attending. It is hoped that this general discussion will bring out many of the problems and possibly a solution of the problems of the West Texas farmer and feeder.

"It is the opinion of many that the best market for high quality meats that is now open to producers of West Texas is the people of the region and that our general agricultural set-up offers the best opportunity in the history of the region for every one to have high quality meats for home use in addition to a liberal amount for the market."

They Sell Real Estate--Half A City

ASSETS INCREASED

LAMESA—Assets of the Lamesa Federal Savings & Loan association increased $12,000 over last year, annual report shows. They grew from $68,477 to $81,150. There are 78 investing members and 79 borrowers. W. V. P. Baker is president and O. H. Morris, secretary.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

That Girl on Broadway says the bigger the man the easier time he has in expressing his thoughts in small words.

Someone has said that worry makes gray heads. Maybe it does, but if so that's about all it can claim credit for doing.

A GUY by the name of Fred G. Somers will stand with an apple atop his head while one Howard Hill, billed as a champion archer, shoots at the fruit with a bow and arrow.

Smart guy.

Pete Smith, a movie maker for whom the stunt is being pulled, says Somers is the bravest man in Hollywood.

We wouldn't call him brave, although he probably would qualify as the biggest boob in Hollywood.

And anybody who is the biggest boob in Hollywood is SOME boob, so maybe the distinction is greater than that of being the bravest man out there!

An expert is a person who has his ignorance well organized.

THE Plainsman was wondering the other day what had become of the duke and duchess of Windsor and a few minutes later ran across a news item telling the world that on Friday, June 3, they will celebrate their first wedding anniversary.

Just a year ago the whole world was teetering on the brink of a nervous breakdown over the approaching wedding of the Maryland grass widder and the No. 1 traveling salesman on the payroll of the British empire. But now, after just a year, nobody seems to give a whoop whether they're living or dead, much less about what they're doing.

Fame—or should we say notoriety—is a fleeting thing, which is probably as it should be. The public, individually or collectively, is better off when it has varied interests, than it would be if it were compelled to keep its attention riveted too long upon any one thing.

The barber had given his bald customer a bang-up sales talk on a certain brand of hair restorer.

"You think this is good stuff, do you?" the almost-persuaded customer asked.

"You bet I do!" said the barber. "Why I know a man who removed a cork from a bottle of it with his teeth—and within 24 hours he had a moustache!"

That Man on Avenue Q says all men are created equal—but what they are equal to is pretty largely up to them to work out.

* * *

The old gent glared over his spectacles at the young man who had haltingly asked for his daughter's hand in marriage.

"Young man," said the old gent "are you sure you can support a family?"

"Well, er, ah," the young fellow stammered, "you see I only wanted Mabel!"

PARDON the yawn, but to the gentleman who wrote saying that "everybody I know in this community disagrees with you every day" The Plainsman makes the following rejoinder:

What interested me in your letter was not that "everybody in the community disagrees with me every day," but the fact that apparently everybody in the community reads this column every day.

I don't write with the idea in mind of agreeing with the most readers. Inelegantly, perhaps, but "I ain't no Pollyanna."

As far as I am concerned, the reader is free to agree or disagree. That's his privilege. What I am most concerned about is whether people read this column. And judging from what you, a critic, say, they are reading it in your community. Thanks for the information!

It's all right to have your own ideas, but have them ready to change whenever you come across some that are better.

BY FAR the most picturesque of the state political candidates yet to visit Lubbock this year is James A. Stephens, of Knox county.

Running for a place on the court of criminal appeals, Mr. Stephens is from Benjamin, in Knox county, and has been practicing law in West Texas for 44 years. And he is the prototype of the early day barrister of the wide open spaces.

Tall, heavy and with gray hair which sweeps back from the top of his head to an old fashioned roll at the nape of his neck, Mr. Stephens knows Lubbock far better than 90 percent of the people who live here. For back in the early days, when it took him two days to drive in a buggy to court here, Mr. Stephens saw the beginning of this thriving community. And he remembers it well.

CHUCKLING with reminiscences, the Benjamin lawyer recalls that "the Penneys got all our money in those days." He was referring to the family of the late W. E. Penney, who has three children still living here. They are P. B. (Barrett) Penney, Mrs. W. B. Powell and Mrs. J. C. Royalty.

"Yes, sir," Mr. Stephens recalled, "Mr. Penney ran the only hotel — the Nicolett which is now the Broadway. Joe and Jink had a livery stable. Elder ran the confectionery, Bob had a barber shop and Barrett was high sheriff. No matter which way you turned, or what you bought, the money eventually got to the Penneys!"

Of particular interest was a story Mr. Stephens told about the way they got along here — 110 miles from a railroad — without a bank.

"I'd give checks here and there while I was in Lubbock," he recalled, "but they never got back to my bank until about six months had passed. You see, they used checks as currency in Lubbock and by the time a fellow's check cleared the bank it would be nearly worn out and its back would be filled with endorsements.

"You'd cash a $20 check for a $1 purchase and as 'change' you got a bill or two, some silver and the balance in other people's checks. But people then didn't give checks that weren't good and they took the place of money very nicely."

The Plainsman shudders to think what would happen if a similar system were followed here — or anywhere else in the country — in this day and time!

* * *

EVERYBODY knows that Harley Sadler is a good showman and as loyal a West Texan as there is in all this wide open country.

But this summer we're going to learn just what kind of a politician he is.

During his long career Harley has assiduously eschewed (hot dog! ain't them some words?) politics. He just hasn't mixed up in 'em at all. But this year he has a kinsman running for the railroad commission and has accepted the post of West Texas campaign manager for him. The kinsman is Jerry Sadler, of Longview.

It's going to be a mighty interesting spectacle to see Harley on a political stump — especially to the thousands who think of him in "Toby" parts under his canvas show tent.

Somehow or another, it's hard to imagine.

Nat Campbell in the El Paso Times:

AN announcement by the Lubbock school board Tuesday that steps would be taken to get federal aid in the construction of new school buildings here did not come as a surprise to readers of this column. It has been noted here upon several occasions during the past 18 months that the time would soon be at hand when additional school facilities would have to be furnished.

If the school board deems it best to attack the building problem via the PWA route, doubtless that is the right thing to do. Board members have been studying the situation for a long time.

But if something happens that PWA money is not forthcoming, Lubbock will have to have new school buildings just the same. We'll have to dig up the money here at home.

There is nothing more important to Lubbock than its school system.

From the primary grades through the master's degree that Texas Tech, our system of public education draws and holds more population than any other one thing.

Schools must be kept apace of the city's needs, else we will all suffer.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE A. TAYLOR
Copyright, 1938, Associated Press

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is privately investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quanomet. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Suspected Pam Frye disappears because an unknown person who smokes Turkish tobacco is trailing her to discover the whereabouts of $50,000 worth of ambergris Pam found the day of the murder. Agreeable Tim Carr, a boarder at the Frye's Octagon House, is left handed, smokes Turkish tobacco, and hated Marina. Gabby Nettie Hobbs who swears she saw Pam commit the murder is called a liar by Peffy Boone, an artist. And Roddy Strutt, whose plane crashed in the square, pays Nettie $5,000 to keep his name out of her story. Asey decides to see the injured pilot.

Chapter 17

The Indestructible Man

"By the way, how's the crowd over to Octagon House gettin' along?" Asey asked the traffic cop.

"Hanson's got 'em in order now, I guess. But they ripped up the flower beds, though, and a couple was tryin' to make off with that iron deer before he got 'em under control. There's some still around the garage at Lornes'. Someone went by a while ago with a load of barbed wire, an' there was a state cop on the truck. I guess they're settin' up a barrier. Where you bound?"

"Hither an' yon. Oh, if you know where pickle limes come from, Jerry, go tell the minister's wife over at the Exchange. Tell her I think she could prob'ly palm off lemons dipped in brine, if she got hard up. Oh—an' tell 'em they're missin' a good bet in taffy apples. They'd ought to fetch half a dollar an' the prime expense is sticks."

He extracted Syl's truck from the maze of parked cars, and bounced over to the little Pochet hospital.

The nurse in charge was the daughter of a neighbor of his. She hesitated a moment when Asey addressed her by name, and then she laughed.

"Why, Asey," she said, "I hardly recognized you in that outfit. I don't think I'd have known you if I hadn't seen Syl's truck. That truck used to belong to Father, you know. It's a family legend. Isn't this business over in Quanomet simply hideous? And is it true that you're not helping with the case?"

"What do you think?" Asey asked.

"You can't fool your neighbors," she said. "Of course you are. You're up to something, dressed this way, and driving that truck. I suppose you want to see Earl Jennings, don't you?"

"Who's he?"

"That Quanomet selectman who got bumped in Roddy Strutt's plane crash last night."

"As a matter of fact," Asey said, "I'd like to see Roddy Strutt's pilot. Can I?"

She shook her head. "I'm afraid not," she said. "He's in pretty bad shape. We hoped Roddy would agree to sending for Dr. Carter, but Roddy wasn't interested. Roddy isn't even interested enough to notify the fellow's family, if he's got any. We telegraphed all the people whose names and addresses we found in his wallet, but no one's answered, and two wires came back, Unknown, or something."

"Get Carter," Asey said, "and charge him to me, will you? And—"

"Asey, that's swell of you!"

"Not a bit," Asey said. "And when he gets so that he can be asked questions, let me know. Be sure. And—just for fun, if Roddy should take it into his head to see the fellow—what's his name? Brigham? Well, if Roddy asks to see Brigham cause him to be thwarted, will you?"

'Somethin' Queer'

"I will, and I'll tell the rest. We're all so mad at him, and anyway, you'll be taking charge. That'll make it all right. You know,' she added, "I shouldn't say this, but there's something queer about this crash. Brigham's sleeping now, but he's been unconscious, and he kept muttering about the plane, and Roddy, and calling him names, and telling him to keep off. It was sort of bloodcurdling."

"Could you say, Susan, if all Brigham's injuries come from the crash?"

"Where else—oh, Oh, I see what you mean. That someone might have hurt him before it. I couldn't say, Asey. Carter might be able to tell you, and Brigham can, certainly, when he's better. It was quite a crash, enough to bang up those cars in the square, and shake up Earl Jennings—look, won't you take pity on him and see him? He's simply raving about this Quanomet business, and everyone in town's so busy making money out of the tourists, they haven't time to do more than send consoling messages by phone. His wife has been over twice, for ten seconds. She's making doughnuts by the hundred thousands, and she says if she can live through another day, they'll have a new car."

"Is this Jennings hurt bad?" Asey asked.

"No, he's sort of an indestructible man. He's just bruised, but his doctor wants him to stay for a couple of days, and rest. He's got a bad heart. Won't you see him?"

"Sure, for a minute," Asey said. "But I don't know the man."

"That won't matter. He knows you, and he's so eager to talk with someone."

Mr. Jennings, a burly six-footer who seemed far too big for his bed, smiled at Asey and extended his hand.

"Boy," he said feelingly, "am I glad to see a human face!"

Asey laughed. "I hear you're sort of marooned an' deserted."

"Oh, lots of folks phoned, but as soon as they find out I'm all right, and just being kept in cold storage, they send their regards and say they'll drop over when I get back home. You can't blame 'em. There hasn't been so much money loose in town for year. My boy—he's 15—he's had trouble this summer, selling little wooden windmills for a dime apiece. Today, he and his friend got the idea of making little octagon houses out of two by fours, and painting 'em up, and they're getting a dollar apiece for just as many as they can make. Think of it! If only the doctor—but I suppose he's right. I wouldn't keep quiet, if I got out. I'd be out hawking with the rest. Say, what do you think about this murder?"

"There's more to it than meets the eye," Asey said, "if that's what you mean."

"Sure there is,' Jennings agreed. "After I heard about it, I went up town—I was going to rout out the other selectmen, and have 'em send for you. But they told me you was away, and then that fool crashed his plane, and I landed over here. But you know what I think—and what everyone else in town thinks? We think it's someone that was sore about being pictured in that mural thing. You don't know how mad people in Quanomet are about that!"

'Red Lead Paint'

"By degrees," Asey said, "I'm gatherin' that there's been considerable indignation. But the point is, is there any one person that's madder than any other? And why should Marina be killed, and not Lorne, who painted the picture?"

"Oh, Marina put him up to it," Jennings said. "Lorne's a fool. The only way that fellow can think is with a paint brush in his hand, and then he isn't too bright. Everyone knows she put him up to painting in the faces. He couldn't have thought of it by himself."

"Then you think it's a local person, who knew enough to figger that Marina was to blame?"

"I do," Jennings said emphatically. "And I thought right off the bat about Aaron Frye. He's in the mural. Father Time, or something. I don't know. But he's had more than that from that daughter of his in the past. So has Pam. The way I figure, if they haven't killed Marina before, that picture wouldn't move 'em to kill her now. Then—you'll laugh at this. But I thought of Nettie."

"Is she in the paintin?" Asey asked. "I seen it, but I got to laughin' so, I had to go out before I took in more than the main panel."

"The other panels are the ones with Quanomet faces," Jennings said. "Nettie's an old hag gutting a fish."

"A fish wife, huh? Well, that's apt," Asey said.

"Uh-huh. And beside her are two pickle limes. She's had a jar of pickle limes in that window of her store for years. Then I decided it couldn't be Nettie, because the time they said she left Octagon House and the time Pam found her sister, they didn't hitch up. And besides, I had a better idea. And you'll think I'm crazy for sure. I thought of Roddy Strutt."

"Is he in the mural too?"

"He sure is. With two girls on his

THIS YEAR'S RECREATION PROGRAM

Most Lubbock citizens who observed the operation of the first summer parks recreation program last year will approve enthusiastically the probable revival of the project this summer.

Those who supervised activities last summer estimated they attracted total attendance or participation of approximately 70,000 persons. That figure may not be conservative, but it does not remove the fact that the program interested, directly, a whale of a lot of folks.

Kids turned out in droves for supervised play, and the youngsters for the most part were enthusiastic about the whole thing. Mothers by hundreds were left free to go about their home chores, knowing their children were safe. In the evenings, delightful programs in the relatively cool outdoors were provided for thousands.

The same plans, in a general way, are to be followed this year on a somewhat more ambitious scale. The cost will be trifling, making it without doubt one of the finest investments possible of funds by the city and WPA, which will be joint sponsors.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 2—All over the lot: On a set for "Garden of the Moon," but with neither garden nor moon in evidence, John Payne is singing to Margaret Lindsay. He is supposed to be singing to the accompaniment of a phonograph, but the movies even fake phonograph music, and the record that Payne puts on the instrument is a blank. The music comes from a playback machine operated behind the camera.

Payne's song is called "Love Is Where You Find It," and his performance is supposed to be gay and lightly burlesqued. But the actor doesn't seem light-hearted enough to suit Director Busby Berkeley, so the director goes in and acts and sings the scene himself, gesturing, smiling at the attentive Miss Lindsay, going to his knees before her at the finish.

Cheerful Mr. Berkeley must be a good actor, because only this morning he has been served notice to defend himself against a $250,000 alienation-of-affections suit. He is charged with pilfering the love of Carole Landis, a dancer whom he has directed in musicals. But he doesn't seem worried or self-conscious now, as he sings "Love Is Where You Find It."

Enter Mortimer, of the Buck Teeth

Charlie McCarthy has a competitor in "A Letter of Introduction." The rival's screen name is Mortimer, but his night club name was Elmer. He is a tow-headed, grotesque rube with buck teeth and no brains at all, and he seems wholly out of place against the background of Edgar Bergen's slick appearance and patter. Charlie hates Mortimer; calls him an oaf and an uncouth peasant.

Before McCarthy gets too uppity he should be reminded that he was just a wise-cracking guttersnipe originally, and that he was almost abandoned by Bergen when vaudeville died. Bergen went to work in night clubs, and he didn't want to take along an urchin. Instead of designing a new dummy, though, he polished up Charlie with white tie and topper.

Mortimer doesn't have much to do in the picture, so McCarthy isn't especially jealous. A brash little baggage called Peggy also was tested for a dummy role, but she didn't film well. Another difficulty was that Bergen hasn't yet cured her of ad libbing unscreenable remarks.

Accidents Never Happen The Same Place Twice

Bing Crosby, Fred MacMurray and young Donald O'Connor are doing a scene within a scene for "Sing, You Sinners." They're on the bandstand of a night club crowded with extras.

Ready for a rehearsal, Donald happens to prod Crosby in the ribs as he is taking a drink of water. This causes Bing to spout water into the footlights, and one of the bulbs explodes. The accident is so funny that Director Wesley Ruggles decides to film it that way.

So with the camera turning, they try it again, and again. But never a bulb bursts, and after six takes they give up. Accidents just won't happen on purpose.

Sky-Skimmers

Ray Milland, who likes to fly, couldn't interest his wife in the sport until he went to work in "Men With Wings." Now, with Instructor Dwight Peterson, who has taught a lot of Hollywood people, she's skimming the skies. Meanwhile Milland, an able pilot for years, is grounded. He was grounded by William Wellman, director of the aviation film, and himself a war pilot, because he says flying is too hazardous—for actors.

A Wonderful Age

In the household of a Hollywood lawyer is an elderly cook, a quiet woman who during 25 years has been in the employ of several screen players. On her idle evenings she always has preferred to stay in her room and sew, but recently, after a good deal of bustling preparation, she went out.

Next day she told her mistress that she had attended a movie. And how did she like it?

"Fine," she said. "Just fine! You know—the pictures talk now."

Lack Of Confidence Due To FDR's Policies Is Being Blamed For Current Slump In Business

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2—The closing days of the 75th Congress have been filled with wrangling over familiar issues and it's many a long month since the administration proposed any new legislation which could be considered likely to disturb business.

Rodney Dutcher

Nevertheless, reiteration continues that lack of confidence as a result of government policies is a prime factor in the depression of the last year.

This stems from the fact that so many politicians and business men believe President Roosevelt will go just as far to the left in reforms and experimentation as he is able. How far he might have gone had he not virtually lost command of Congress by attempting to put over his daring Supreme court plan is any business man's nightmare.

The only important things this session of Congress has done which were not part of the Roosevelt program a year ago are the passage of a "business relief" tax bill and pending enactment of an expanded spending-lending program.

Reform By Taxation Balked

Possibly it will contribute a bit to the mental tranquility of some readers if one lists a few of the proposals which have not been made or supported by the administration and yet, nevertheless, have seriously been considered and discussed at the White House or among the White House advisers within the last year or so.

Most notable of all has been the administration's failure to try to achieve further reforms by taxation, although many a wondrous dream has reached the bud stage. On this front the administration has been thrown for a large loss, through drastic modification of the capital gains tax and virtual repeal of the undistributed corporate surplus tax.

Selective taxation of "profiteering" corporations, taxes on all "oversized" corporations in the intercorporate dividend tax, taxes to eliminate "Delaware corporations" by levying punitively on companies in states where they do no great percentage of their business—these and many other tax schemes have been inside New Deal bonnets and yet failed to see the light of day.

Pressure Off Companies

Not long ago the President was talking about "abolishing all holding companies." But no concrete proposals have been made to Congress. Similarly, after some hot hard attacks by New Dealers on monopoly which were supposed to be a prelude to a demand for anti-monopoly legislation at this session, Roosevelt came through only with a recommendation for an investigation.

A law to require that all companies have a certain number of competitors or be restricted to doing a certain percentage of business within its industry was one of the anti-monopoly plans which died still-born.

No longer do the New Dealers speak ecstatically of plans to "blanket the country with cheap power." The "Seven-TVA's" bill has been sunk with very little trace and power magnates have been told that the government doesn't expect to expand beyond the area of its present projects.

No New NRA Seen

Federal encouragement to consumer co-operatives, anticipated for a time, never was given. The administration has failed to support Senator Joe O'Mahoney's bill for federal licensing of corporations or Donald Richberg's persistent plea for some kind of another NRA.

All these and many other ideas have been among the things various groups of business men have feared. Often they have been revealed as trial balloons, or through "leaks" from brain trusters and high officials. Perhaps more will be heard from some of them in time. But none of them seems to be in the cards for the near future.

lap, and his face—well, it's Roddy all right," Jennings said bitterly. "Anyway, last night when he crawled out of that plane, he was laughing like it was a big joke. I hate him anyway, but that made me sore, with Brigham lying there. I limped over, and lousy as I felt, I kicked him square in the seat of his pants. Knocked him down, too. And while he was down, I give him a couple more kicks."

"That," Asey said approvingly, "was the proper gesture."

"And you know what I noticed when I kicked him? A couple of streaks on his pants. I thought they were blood at first, but later I seen they weren't. They were red lead paint. And I'm a plumber by trade. And yesterday morning I spent up to Lornes', fixing up that pump, and painting their water tanks with red lead. And the old water tank that I painted, the big one, that's out in the garage where Marina was killed. See what I mean?"

Tomorrow: Asey does a bit of thinking.

Livestock

19—Livestock For Sale

We sold about 1500 head of cattle at our auction sales this week.

All classes of cattle were substantially higher than a week ago, and it is reasonable to anticipate that the market will remain firm.

Demand for good butcher cattle is materially larger than our available supply. You need not be afraid of bringing too many cattle, and we can assure you of top prices at all times. We want you to remember that no shipment is too large, neither is one too small.

Good grass and excellent crop prospects in this area, due to recent rains, have materially enlarged the demand for stockers and feeders. If you have stockers and feeders that you want to sell, at the very best market price, it will pay you to get in touch with us at once.

Get your cattle in early. Remember the sale starts promptly at 10:00 o'clock every Tuesday and Friday.

If you need trucks to get your cattle in to the sale, phone or wire us. We will send you trucks, at a reasonable price.

Floridan Seen As Court Pick

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A Southern senator said today he had it "pretty straight" that a Florida lawyer would be appointed to the new judgeship on the fifth circuit court of appeals.

The circuit includes Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and the Canal zone.

The new circuit judgeship was created under a bill President Roosevelt signed Tuesday afternoon. It will increase the court's membership to five.

Recommendations Made

Three recommendations for the judgeship have been sent to the White House by Florida senators. Senator Pepper recommended his former law partner, Curtis L. Waller of Tallahassee, and Senator Andrews asked the president to choose between Assistant Attorney General James W. Morris and District Judge Louie W. Strum of Jacksonville.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) said he would recommend a Texas lawyer for the place, because his state had far more busines before the court than any other state in the circuit.

Texas Senators Continue To Support Separate Men

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Texas' senators continued today to support different candidates for the new South Texas federal district judgeship provided in a bill signed by the president.

For months Senator Sheppard has endorsed a long-time friend, Attorney Brantly Harris of Galveston. Connally has recommended Walton D. Taylor of Houston.

Neither senator would yield and said they would leave the choice to the president.

Joe Gladly Gives Permission To Knock Time Off Sentence

HOUSTON, June 2. (AP)—Joe Smith graciously gave the court permission to cut two years off his prison sentence.

Smith, a negro, had been sentenced to four years for forgery but Assistant District Attorney Spurgeon Bell asked Judge Langston G. King to reduce the sentence to two years. Bell explained that he had an agreement that he would recommend two years if Smith pleaded guilty.

"Is it all right with you if I knock two years off your sentence, Joe?" the judge asked gravely.

"Yas, sah," said Joe, nodding vigorously.

Champion Girl Speller Of U. S. Says She Received Most Of Her Training At Home

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A knack for remembering how words look on a page and her mother's careful tutoring won the national spelling title for 12-year-old Marian Richardson, a shy Indiana farm lass with long blonde curls.

Although she passed the seventh grade at a one-room school in Floyd county, Indiana, this spring, the winning representative of the Louisville, Ky., Times said she had done most of her school work at home with her mother, Mrs. Charles Richardson, a former school teacher.

Can Milk A Cow

Marian, who confessed she can milk a cow as well as spell, received a $500 first prize check for defeating 21 crack spellers from over the country. It will help her go to high school, she said.

"I sort of remember how words look when I read," she explained, when asked how she rattled off "perspicuity," "strenuosity," "anthropomorphic" and 50 other hard ones with ease.

Won On "Pronunciation"

"Pronunciation" was the word which won her the title after Jean I. Pierce, 13, of Kenmore, N. Y., spelled it "pronounciation."

Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Pierce and representative of the Buffalo Evening News, said she would use her $300 second prize for straightening her teeth and having an operation on her nose.

Visiting coaches seemed to be agreed that the most unfamiliar word in the contest was "otiose," pronounced "o-shi-os," and defined as "indolent, or useless." It was drawn by June Gumerson, pretty Detroit News entry, who spelled it "ocious."

Leprosy was regarded between the sixth and 15th centuries as by far the most dangerous disease then known.

NEW BAND DIRECTOR

FLOYDADA—M. T. Camp, new director of the Floydada High school band, began work here. He plans a summer band school with advanced pupils giving a concert regularly and beginners at the end of ten weeks of instruction. Camp came here from Texhoma, Okla. He graduated from Northwestern State Teachers college at Alva and has taught band work ten years.

Cost Of Date Little Too High For Boy Friend's Pocketbook So Co-Ed Stays In And Studies

Sixty dollars for a "date"! Whew!

A Texas Technological college student thought to free his girl friend from study so she could fill an engagement with him, but that would have been the cost.

The youth magnanimously offered to arrange for a downtown accountant to complete a project due in a class in the economics and business administration department.

The accountant informed him the price would be $15 a day for four days.

The co-ed stayed home and studied.

Texas Employers Are Entitled To Refund On Jobless Tax

AUSTIN, June 2. (AP)—Employers penalized by the federal government for failure to pay the jobless compensation tax on their 1936 payrolls by April 1, 1937, are entitled to a refund of these penalties, Orville S. Carpenter, chairman of the state unemployment compensation commission, said today.

The refunds were authorized by the federal revenue act which became law last week without the president's signature. Carpenter said they would amount to nine-tenths of one per cent of 1936 payrolls, plus any interest which was collected with the penalty.

Employers who have not paid their tax for 1936 will have until July 26 to do so without penalty. Carpenter said 196 Texas employers still were delinquent for that year.

A. B. Ellis Issues Formal Statement

Second term as county treasurer was asked in a formal statement issued Wednesday by A. B. Ellis regarding his candidacy for reelection. The statement follows:

"In my experience and observation covering many years, it has been a democratic custom to elect to a second term an official who has creditably discharged the duties and responsibilities of the office during his first term.

Claim For Consideration

"Serving as your county treasurer for my first term, this is my chief claim for your consideration when you go to the polls next July 23.

"If my conscientious, faithful and efficient work in the office the past 17 months merits election to a second term, please know that I will deeply appreciate your vote and consideration.

"It will be impossible to see more than a small percentage of the voters, so will you kindly regard this public statement as a personal appeal for your help? I am deeply grateful for past favors and hope that services have repaid you for the trust and confidence reposed in me."

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

Twin Bait!

WARSAW, Mo. — Francis C. Henkel and Elmer C. Kuhlman, both of Kansas City, are so proud of their piscatorial prowess they made a wager and held a contest to determine which was the better fisherman.

At the end of the day each man came in with — they swear to it — a three-pound big mouth bass, a two-pound crappie and a one-pound big mouth. They called it a dead heat.

Katy-Did

MORAN, Kas. — Mrs. Dorothy Diffey, 26, Austin, Tex., speeding toward Kansas City on the Missouri - Kansas - Texas (Katy) passenger train "Blue Bonnet" lost a race with the stork.

A physician boarded the train here and attended the birth of an eight-pound girl. Mrs. Diffey said she planned to name her Katherine Elizabeth, but probably would call her "Katy."

Dry Humor

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—"Now we'll all join in singing No. 7 in our song books," said the chairman at the Welland County W. C. T. U. convention.

Pages rustled, throats were cleared. Then came gasps.

The song—No. 7—was: "There's a Tavern in the Town."

"It was all a mistake," the chairman explained. "In my book No. 7 is 'Get Together.'"

Life Vs. Death

CHANEYVILLE, Pa.—Three-year-old Shirley Louise Bennett will never see the new baby in her family.

She was sent out to play while the new baby arrived, but didn't return.

After a four-hour search, Rudolph Bennett, her father, found Shirley drowned in a well near the home.

Hole In One

RICHMOND, Va.—A guest at the Country Club of Virginia surveyed the 152-yard par-3 bridge hole, and asked Caddy Bobby Rogers' advice about the proper club.

"A No. 6, sir," Bobby replied promptly.

The guest measured the stiff wind and said he couldn't get home with the No. 6. Bobby insisted.

"Well, if you think so, let's see you hit one to the green."

Bobby scored a neat hole in one.

No Speechifyin'

BREA, Calif.—No commencement address for 57 graduates of Brea Elementary school—instead they will view motion pictures they took themselves of their activities the past year.

Unwanted Gifts

CHICAGO — About all Detective Jack Greer could say when he saw a fat pig playing havoc with his back yard garden was "Ho, hum."

"A month ago some one filled my back porch with pigeons," Greer told fellow-policemen. "A week later they dumped a goose and a duck there. Last week it was a billy goat eating the flowers in the back yard. Now it's a pig. Ho, hum."

The Easy Way

SPOKANE, Wash.—Konstantinos Georgious Kallochristianakis has a load off his mind.

The judge who granted him citizenship gave his permission to change his name to Gus Elf. He is a Greek immigrant.

'Big Jim' To Spend Vacation In Quest Of Something; Has Claim

Vacation time generally indicates a period of relaxation—until one is at it and learns better.

For "Big Jim" Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, however, there was no delusion from the beginning.

The jailor and his helpmeet will take a shovel and dig—somewhere in the mountainous district near Las Cruces, N. M.

Robinson, known to all the cowmen and old-timers, has a mining claim staked out, and he "ain't saying nothing much until I see what it's worth."

But "I'm going to have a vacation I sorta like, even if it isn't the kind the rest of them like to plan."

Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff, and Mrs. Posey returned from vacation Sunday.

The Piltdown Man, believed to have lived from 100,000 to 150,000 years ago, and the Heidelberg Man, who may have lived 300,000 years ago, were chinless.
