Congress Gets $10 Billion Care For Aged Program

Kennedy May Discuss Soviet Promise Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration was expected to break its silence today on Russia's promise to remove some more troops from Cuba within the next three weeks.

Officials said that barring a last minute change in plans, there would be a White House statement or a declaration by the President at his news conference.

The conference was scheduled for 4 p.m. EST.

In a note three days ago, the Kremlin said "several thousand" of the Soviet military personnel still in Cuba would be moved out by March 15.

The State Department, it was understood, already has replied through diplomatic channels, declaring the Soviet action would be useful in lowering tension in the area. Formal and official White House comment is expected to follow the same line.

The administration is adopting a cautious attitude until it discovers just how many of the estimated 17,000 Russian military technicians and troops still in Cuba are removed.

U.S. reconnaissance planes and naval vessels were watching four Soviet ships nearing Cuba which were believed destined to remove some of the troops. One of the vessels was reported on the point of docking.

In a related development, Kennedy underlined U.S. determination to block further Communist inroads in the hemisphere by giving visiting Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt an unusually strong promise of assistance in a joint communique issued Wednesday night.

Kennedy pledged "the full support of his country to the Republic of Venezuela in resisting the all-out campaign of the international Communists, aided especially by their Cuban allies, to overthrow the constitutional government of President Betancourt."

Kennedy and Betancourt urged intensified efforts on the part of the hemispheric alliance—the Organization of American States—to strengthen defenses against Red subversion and aggression. Betancourt made his Washington visit despite futile efforts by Venezuelan Communists to prevent his leaving his country by conducting a campaign of arson and terror.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he had been told of the four Soviet vessels approaching Cuba and that they might be involved in the promised withdrawal.

He said nobody knew, however, just what troops Khrushchev plans to take out of Cuba. The senator said it might be logical for Russia to pull out its 6,000 combat troops since they presumably were there to protect missiles already removed.

Kennedy Asks For Giant Legislation

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today asked Congress for sweeping legislation to help the aged. His 36-point program for the country's 17.5 million "senior citizens" featured an expanded version of medical care.

Administration officials put a price tag of nearly $10 billion on the over-all program for its first five years.

To pay for hospital insurance for virtually all Americans over the age of 65, Kennedy asked that Social Security contributions by both employers and employes be increased one-quarter of one per cent.

He also requested that the annual earnings base from which Social Security taxes are collected be raised to $5,200 from the present $4,800. The medical plan would start Jan. 1, 1964, and require an extra $13 contribution yearly from both employe and employer.

The President in a 16-page message to the House and Senate called his hospital insurance plan "our number one objective for our senior citizens" and "the most important health proposal pending before the Congress."

Health Dominates Message

The health section dominated the message. Kennedy asked for federal power to require states to provide for all persons receiving old-age assistance medical protection equivalent to care provided for those only medically indigent.

Other benefits for the over-65 section of the U.S. population proposed by the President were covered to a large extent in earlier messages to Congress. Kennedy regrouped almost every prior proposal involving older people under the single tent of today's message.

These plans included the $300 tax credit for each person over 65, establishment of the national service corps and federal assistance for housing developments which include special aids for the elderly such as facilities for group dining, recreation and health services.

The President called again for measures to protect the elderly from fraud in sales of "health foods," devices and nostrums. He also proposed plans to facilitate employment opportunities for older workers.

Cubans Attack U.S. Boat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today ordered U. S. armed forces to take "all necessary action" against any repetition of a Cuban MIG attack Wednesday on an unarmed American shrimp boat in the Florida Straits.

The State Department, acting on orders of the chief executive, also fired a strong diplomatic protest to the Cuban government. It demanded a full explanation of the incident from the regime of Fidel Castro.

The Defense Department announced that two Cuban-based MIG jet fighters fired rockets in the vicinity of the shrimp boat about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday. They were chased off by U. S. supersonic jet fighters.

The White House issued this brief statement:

"A strong protest has been sent forward through diplomatic channels against the attack by Cuban aircraft on an unarmed American fishing vessel.

"The United States government will expect a full explanation from Cuba.

"Orders have been given to the armed forces to take all necessary action against any repetition of such an attack."

The boat was not hit and no one was injured, the Pentagon said.

Take Note Ladies

BATHURST, South Africa (UPI) — Wealthy farmer Douglas Armstrong, 46, is advertising for the "right" wife who must be "between 35 and 40, blonde or brunette. . .a home-lover and not a dance - mad gadabout. . .love children, come from a good Christian background. . .help me with my various businesses."

Armstrong, whose only vice is smoking 40 cigarettes daily, said that in addition to his wealth he is offering another incentive — "A cruise around the world as a honeymoon gift."

JUST FOR SIZE — Cecil Regier tries the chair of Gray County Agricultural Agent Foster Whaley for size after learning of his promotion to County Agent of Collingsworth County. He has served as Gray County Assistant agent for the past five years. Regier, his wife and two children will depart for Wellington, Texas on or about March 15.

Cecil Regier, Gray County Assistant County Agricultural Agent since 1957, will transfer to Collingsworth County, Wellington, as County Agricultural Agent, effective March 15.

Regier, a native of Perryton and a graduate of Oklahoma State University, had a very outstanding career in 4-H Club work in his youth.

In 1955 he spent six months in Iran as an International Farm Youth Exchange student.

Prior to his service in Gray County, Regier served as an assistant County Agent in training in Ochiltree and Lipscomb Counties.

In his new assignment, Regier will be responsible for conducting the educational work of the Texas A & M College Agricultural Extension Service. This includes bringing the latest and most practical information from the Agricultural Experiment Stations to the people.

In New York

Betancourt To Meet With U. Thant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela flies to New York today for a meeting with U.N. Secretary General U. Thant.

The Venezuelan president prepared to depart from Washington warmed by words of personal praise and a pledge of U.S. support to the hilt from President Kennedy.

Betancourt's two-day Washington visit was significant for the extravagance of Kennedy's personal endorsement of his efforts to provide a democratic answer to Cuba's Fidel Castro in Latin America.

The visiting president was scheduled to leave Blair House, official residence for state guests at 9:35 a.m. EST. He will spend two days in New York, where his program today included a lunch with Thant and a meeting with United Nations correspondents.

Betancourt, president of an officially Roman Catholic nation, also will call on Francis Cardinal Spellman and later will receive the New York University medal from the university's president, Dr. James McNaughton Hester.

Tonight Betancourt will be guest of honor at two receptions, one offered by Mayor Robert F. Wagner in Gracie Mansion. The second will be held by the Pan American Society of the United States, the Venezuelan Chamber of Commerce and the Bolivarian Society.

Municipal Filing Deadline March 1

Deadline for candidates to file for office in the April 2 municipal election will fall one week from tomorrow, City Secretary Edwin Vicars said today.

Vicars stated the actual deadline is midnight, Saturday, March 2, but since City Hall is closed on Saturdays, potential candidates will have to file their petitions by 5 p.m. Friday, March 1.

So far, he stated, only five candidates have filed, one each for mayor and four city commission posts. This is the five-man slate, headed by H. Raeburn Thompson, which was filed with the city secretary January 2.

Others on that ticket included Dr. MacField McDaniel for Ward 1 commissioner, J. M. Nation Jr. for Ward 2 commissioner, R. K. Parsley for Ward 3 commissioner, and A. C. Troop for Ward 4 commissioner.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell announced recently that he would not seek re-election. There has been no definite word from Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Will Graham, Leon Holmes and L. P. Foot on their intentions.

However, it has been indicated that at least one or two of the present commissioners will not run for re-election.

City Secretary Vicars said today he had received a number of calls asking about the last day on which candidates could file.

Minstrel To Start Tonight

The entertainment event Top O' Texans have been waiting a year for unveils the first of a two-night stand at 8 p.m. today when the 26th annual Pampa Noon Lions Club's Minstrel, "Rockin' in the Cotton," goes before the lights in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium.

This year's show is dedicated to B. R. "Bunny" Shultz, the "Mr. Interlocuter" and participant in numerous past Minstrels, who died last December.

Max Presnell, director of the show, said this year's production will be "one of the best ever to be presented by the club" and boasts an impressive list of specialty acts in addition to a fine chorus and rib-tickling end men.

A $200 movie camera setup will be given as a door prize tonight as first-nighters will have a real prize to be hoping for as the curtain goes up.

Over 200 prizes are being offered by the club this year, "more than ever before," Presnell said.

Specialty acts on the program tonight will include Sheriff Rufe Jordan, vocalist; dancer Donna Glass, vocalists Jim Edminster, Judy Pemberton, Bob Meridith and Majaunta Hills.

A "Barbershop Quartet," composed of E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, "Dude" Balthrop, Hansford Ousley and Howard Buckingham, will perform, and a jazz trio, "The King's Men," organized by Dr. Frank Hatcher, will delight the audience, Presnell said.

The chorus will also have a special number, during which Katherine Steele will dance. John "Red" Mann will sing while ac-

Coast Guard Finds Lifejackets From Missing Tanker

MIAMI (UPI)—A Coast Guard cutter docked here today with two lifejackets and other items from the missing Marine Sulphur Queen but the fate of the 39 men who sailed aboard the tanker 19 days ago was still unknown.

Lt. (j.g.) Tom Troutman of Knoxville, Tenn., commander of the cutter, said boards picked up with the lifejackets had been in the water for at least a week.

"The stuff already had marine growth on it," Troutman said. He said he did not believe the lifejackets had been used. He said that anyone wearing them would have been strapped in securely, and the jackets were found floating free.

Troutman said the boards picked up by the cutter did not appear to have been burned. He said an airhorn for a lifeboat also was taken aboard.

Troutman indicated the debris could have drifted 275 miles to the southeast if it had been in the water a week.

Crewmen on the cutter said the boards could have been of the type used to separate cargo on the deck of a tanker.

Discovery of the flotsam in the Florida straits Wednesday touched off a renewed air-sea search for possible survivors of the 524-foot vessel, last heard from Feb. 3 on a voyage from Beaumont, Tex., to Norfolk, Va., with a cargo of molten sulphur.

The search was concentrated in an area from Miami southwestward through the Florida Keys to Dry Tortugas, a group of small islands about 70 miles west of Key West.

A Maritime Union port agent told a Coast Guard hearing at Beaumont Wednesday that the Sulphur Queen had undergone a series of fires at sea on previous voyages and the crew had asked that provisions be made to control "spontaneous fires in the tanks" of the ship.

The life jacket plainly stenciled "Sulphur Queen," an oil can bearing similar markings, a conical shaped piece of debris which appeared to be part of a fog horn —also marked with the name of the missing ship—plus part of a broken life raft and other debris were sent to Miami aboard a 95-foot Coast Guard cutter.

The cutter was diverted Wednesday night to investigate sighting of a flare—not in the area where Sulphur Queen survivors would likely be—and then had a breakdown in one of its own engines, delaying its arrival in Miami until this morning.

The life jacket and other debris were found Wednesday about 14 miles southeast of Key West. A small Navy boat used for retrieving stray practice torpedoes used at the big Key West submarine base found the debris and an oil slick covering an area of about 10 square miles.

Other vessels were ordered to the area to help search for more signs of the missing vessel, and a search for possible survivors was renewed in the Keys and surrounding waters. By nightfall, the search had been fruitless.

The appointment of Congressman Rogers was announced by Oren Harris of Arkansas, chairman of the full committee.

Congressman Rogers also is a member of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. He is chairman of that committee's Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee and a member of the subcommittees on Mines and Mining, and Territorial and Insular Affairs.

Committee appointments are for the two-year life of the 88th Congress, which began its session in January.

Whatever It Was It Was A Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Air Force seemed a bit uncertain about what kind of missile it had fired into space. But it was sure the shot was a success just the same.

That was Wednesday night at Cape Canaveral, where a week ago scientists managed to lose a satellite after putting it into orbit.

The missile in question this time was a Minuteman "instant ICBM." The Air Force fired it from the bottom of a concrete-lined "silo," and sent it more than 3,000 miles across the Atlantic Ocean.

But Minuteman missiles nowadays are like brothers—they can be members of the same family but entirely different from one another. At this point Wednesday night, the official stares became blank.

Was this Minuteman one of the earlier "Wing-1" models, like the two dozen or so now on station with nuclear warheads at Malmstrom Air Force base near Great Falls, Mont.,

Or was it one of the more advanced "Wing-2" rockets? a fairly different version using improved first and second stages and still to become operational?

Two Air Force spokesmen said they "didn't know." No one else seemed to either, but everyone was unanimous on one point—it was a good shot.

Finally someone hit on the official answer: The Minuteman was basically a Wing-1 model which "tested some of the components of the Wing-2." Things didn't seem much clearer.

The 3,000-mile range was short for the Minuteman, a three-stage weapon built to hit targets up to 6,500 miles away. The "hold-down" this time was deliberate, experts said.

Minuteman rockets tipped with nuclear warheads will be installed in similar underground launching pits throughout the country, standing ready to be fired on 32 seconds' notice in case of war.

Eventually, the United States hopes to have more than 900 of the three-stage rockets on station as the key link in its continent-based missile forces.

CoC Membership Campaign Contest To End Tomorrow

Workers in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Membership Campaign were checking in at the chamber office in the Hughes Building this morning [illegible] on memberships they had sold in the drive.

The campaign, for contest purposes, ends tomorrow at 5 p.m. The CoC is looking for $40,000 in memberships to take care of the current year's budget needs and progress toward that goal to date has been good, according to Loyal Davies, chamber finance director.

The campaign to enlist CoC members will continue indefinitely but the contest will end at 5 p.m. tomorrow. First place team in the drive will be awarded a prize beef to be purchased at the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show early next month. Second place team will get a prize pig, third place gets a "fryin' chicken" and a "booby prize" of a goat will go to the last place team.

The contest is run on a point basis with each new member counting so many points, each renewal so many, etc. Each team involved is made up of five men. There are 26 teams working in the campaign.

At press time, there was no accurate report on the point totals of each team, but it was learned that there were no significant changes in placement of the teams at that time.

Team No. 4, captained by Dick Evans, is in first place with team No. 14, headed by Floyd Watson, in second.

Davies said that competition is keen in the contest and that "everybody is having a good time." Davies explained that the drive to enlist members will extend past the contest deadline because it "has been impossible to contact everyone in the two weeks available in the contest" and work will continue to be sure that everyone has an opportunity to become a member of the CoC.

Winners will be announced and awards made at the monthly membership luncheon of the chamber in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn Monday at noon.

Winners will be named and awards presented in the current CoC Membership Campaign at the luncheon. The campaign ends for contest purposes Friday at 5 p.m. and 26 five-man teams are vying for a fat calf, fat pig, "fryin chicken" as the first three prizes, respectively. A "booby prize" of a

Franco-German treaty:

The Franco-German treaty will be ratified by the West German parliament sometime in April or May, but only after a lot of preliminary groundwork in committee. Politicians of all shades of opinion are demanding some sort of appendix to the basic treaty, making it clear that the pact in no way can be interpreted as the basis for an exclusive Paris-Bonn axis. But French President Charles De Gaulle, who signed the treaty with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, is opposed to any formal addition. So, the West German parliament probably will go along with an exchange of letters between the two governments which would clarify the conditions. Oddly enough, the pact must be ratified by the parliament in Bonn, but does not have to have a parliamentary okay in Paris.

Pro-Americanism:

Newly - elected British Labor Party leader Harold Wilson, often described as a left-wing intellectual, will miss no opportunity in coming weeks to stress the pro-Americanism he started underscoring on the very day of his victory. Insiders in London say Wilson is quite worried that his "image" in the United States is more leftist and anti-nuclear deterrent than he likes. While the mood of the British electorate might be to vote Labor at the next election, most observers agree that the country would not be too happy to choose a man it thought might endanger the Anglo-American alliance. And if Labor should win, Wilson would be the next prime minister and be in a position to affect that alliance. But the man-in-the-street knows where the big punch lies if another war should come, and he wants it on his side—even if he is not too happy about being dependent on Washington for it.

Common Market Talks:

President De Gaulle's government is casting around for ways and means to get Common Market talks started again with Britain. Even though he vetoed British entry at Brussels in January, De Gaulle strongly favors associate membership as an interim solution and believes West Germany might act as mediator. But he wants to make sure that Common Market agricultural policy is firmly nailed down before any new taks start. Agricuture was one of the main stumbling blocks last time.

Tokyo Troubles:

Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda recently canceled a get-together of leaders of his Conservative Party, ostensibly on the grounds that it would look bad for any kind of a deal on his successor to be made in a smoke-filled room. Those on the guest list included Ikeda, his biggest rival Eisaku Sato, and former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida. Since Yoshida is the grand old man of the party, his word carries considerable weight in party councils. And since Sato is his current favorite to succeed Ikeda next year, it is felt that the Prime Minister really did not even want to hear of any deal that would grease the way into the job for Sato.

Arctic Front Brings Snow To Panhandle

By United Press International

A new arctic cold front howled into Texas today on winds up to 30 miles an hour, bringing snow flurries to the Panhandle and plunging the northern half of the state into a deep freeze.

The wintry blast ended a statewide taste of spring. Temperatures dropped from balmy 70s and 80s Wednesday to sub-freezing in a wide area of North Texas.

Cold wave warnings were issued for all but extreme south Texas. Lows tonight were expected to range from 15 in the Panhandle to the middle 30s along the Rio Grande.

Light Snow Expected

Light snow was expected to fall from the Panhandle to the South Plains.

Icy gray skies blanketed the Panhandle and overcast extended southward to Lubbock and eastward to the upper Red River Valley.

By early morning the cold front bit deep into Central Texas. The leading edge was reported along a line from Lufkin to San Antonio to Del Rio.

Temperatures were in the 20s from the Panhandle southward to a Sherman-Abilene-Big Spring line.

Steady Temperature Drop

Readings in the 40s and 50s were reported ahead of the front, but the mercury was dropping.

Light rain fell at Dalhart, Amarillo and Texarkana.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would continue to fall in South Texas while northern regions can, at best, expect only a slight rise tomorrow.

Fires Damage Pampa Homes

The Pampa Fire Department was out for 40 minutes this morning extinguishing a blaze at the home of Herschel Burne, 1526 Williston.

The blaze, which occurred at 8:10 a.m., was caused by an accumulation of gas within the walls, which blew the sheet rock off the bedroom and bathroom walls. There was heavy damage to both rooms and some smoke damage throughout the entire house.

Firemen were called out twice yesterday. At 2:12 p.m., they extinguished a grass fire at 1221 Finley, which caused minor damage to the house, which was vacant. Firemen reported that the fire was apparently started by children playing with matches.

At 4:13 p.m., a bed caught fire from an open-faced stove at 940 S. Reed. The fire was put out with light damage to the bedroom. The house is owned by A. B. Zalme and resided in by Salvador Dominquez.

Women Say Business Has Stacked Deck Against Them

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American women complain that when they go into business, men stack the cards against them. Statistics prove they are right because few women have fought their way to the top of big corporations, and in factories their pay frequently is lower than that paid to men for equivalent work.

There are thousands of rich women in the United States, but most of them — Doris Duke and Barbara Hutton are examples—inherited the money. Women own about half the stocks, bonds and similar personal property in the nation, and most of them turn the management of the assets over to men. Albert E. Schwabacher Jr., San Francisco investment banker, recently told a University of California symposium that some women fall in love with certain stocks just as they do with men.

"They are likely to develop affectionate feelings toward their investments," he said, "often buying or refusing to buy for purely emotional reasons. Affections are properly bestowed upon people, they can perhaps be bestowed upon boats, but they ought never to be directed toward stocks and bonds."

Goes Into Action

Women have complained so long about discrimination in business and industry that President Kennedy has gone into action. He appointed a commission on the status of women which is still at work but has come up with some preliminary findings.

One of them is that there are about 29 million American women who work regularly or intermittently and that 95 per cent of them earn less than $5,000 a year.

Several years ago Fortune magazine surveyed the role of women in big corporations and came up with this:

"In spite of the loosening of prejudice, women still have not been given top jobs in big corporations. General Motors has no women executives, and not even a woman designer or engineer. General Electric has a few technicians, research associates and women in personnel but no women executives except for the head of the advisory consumer institute.

"DuPont has a woman laboratory section head and a departmental control manager. U.S. Steel has no women executives. A. T. and T., although 60 per cent of its employees are women, has in its central executive group a lone woman assistant secretary. Standard Oil of New Jersey has two assistant secretaries. U.S. Rubber for years has given women supervisory jobs in certain plants, but no department heads are women."

Deny Prejudice

All big corporations insist there is no prejudice against women, and David Sarnoff of the Radio Corporation of America (RCA) stated it this way: "If you were to ask me to give you one good reason why we have no women vice presidents in RCA, I couldn't. It is just habit and tradition as well as the fact that women are not looked upon as permanent in their positions."

The fact that women are looked upon as here today and gone tomorrow, according to research of the federal agencies concerned with the problem, is their principal handicap. The statistics are heavily weighted by the vast number of girls who take jobs as clerks and stenographers merely to fill in time until they quit to get married.

Other roadblocks to women in business include:

—Most companies are reluctant to have women supervise departments where males are employed.

—Women are too openly emotional in their approach to business problems.

—Women have substantially higher rates of absenteeism.

—Few women have the training or knowledge for high-level positions.

War Helps

At the turn of the century about the only jobs open to American women were school teaching, nursing, making hats or dresses and working as domestic servants. Opportunities widened and increased, hitting a peak during World War II which was the heyday of Rosie the Riveter and Winnie the Welder. Women never had it so good before or since.

Twenty-two states have laws forbidding wage discrimination against women, and an equal-pay provision is written into thousands of union contracts. Nevertheless, a survey by the National Office Management Association showed that one-third of the firms paid women less than men for equivalent work.

Two striking examples were banks and laundries. Women bank tellers with less than five years experience averaged from $3 to $15 a week less than for men with the same period of got from 9 to 19 cents less per service. Women laundry workers hour than men.

PUB CUSTOMERS REWARDED

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The bleak precincts of the Republican party suddenly have begun to brighten in a sunny glow of hope.

Hope centers on next year. There is the thought that perhaps John F. Kennedy is not unbeatable, after all. Hope is a long way from conviction or a whistling, carefree confidence. But it is an improvement over blank despair.

The Republican hope is compounded of the political facts of life as they appear 20 months before the next presidential election. Fact No. 1 is that as of now the Kennedy administration is painfully on the defensive. These defensive fronts are numerous and variously embarrassing to the young men of the New Frontier.

Best publicized of President Kennedy's troubles are in the area of foreign relations...Cuba... reserves and balance of international payments...friction with allies such as Great Britain, Canada and France...A growing uneasiness over administration standards for a nuclear test ban.

Panicky Effort

There was a touch of panic in last week's administration actions to calm the uproar over Soviet arms and men in Cuba. The extraordinary effort made by Kennedy and his aides to reassure the public was a measure of the administration's uneasiness over the voters' alarm, suspicions and, even, anger.

The administration's uneasiness must have been very great, indeed there has not been in many years, if ever, an administration appeal to match last week's all-out effort. Returns are not all in, but on Cuba and what to do about it, Kennedy has time on his side. So, too, on most other currently hot foreign relations problems.

Time is not on the administration's side, however, in the area of domestic policy where Kennedy is most sharply challenged and where he has so very much at stake.

It is not yet so obvious or well publicized in the area of domestic policy as in foreign affairs that the Kennedy administration is on the defensive. But the Kennedy forces urgently are deployed in defense of Kennedy's inability to get the country moving again.

Danger on Job Front

Buried like a time bomb in the President's political future is the persistent unemployment of 5 to 6 per cent of the working population. Sustained unemployment at upwards of 6 per cent probably could lick him in 1964. The administration is uneasily aware of that.

The best politician of his generation, Kennedy knows that substantial unemployment is likely to be always an unbearable burden in a political campaign.

The Kennedy tax reduction-reform program is supposed to move the country again and to provide jobs. None has suggested that its impact would be immediate and, anyway, Congress will be slow to act after an uncompromising balk at accepting the whole package. The president can reassure himself with knowledge that FDR was elected twice against the odds imposed by great unemployment. But the circumstances then were special, not likely to reoccur.

With 20 months to go, Republican prospects are looking up.

SUPERCOLOSSAL HIGH WIRE ACT—Some 130,000 miles of steel wire, top—12,500 miles of the stuff yet to come—is gathering in a warehouse at Trenton, N.J. It will be made into four 7,205-feet-long main cables for the Narrows Bridge, below, which will link Staten Island and Brooklyn, N.Y., by early 1965. Three years in the making, the "wire" —steel rod slightly thinner than a pencil—will go, four strands at a time, on a shuttle device between bridge anchorages until the cables, each 35⅞ inches in diameter, are completed by American Bridge Division, U.S. Steel.

'Papa's Delicate Condition' Child Star Is Heart Stealer At Age Of Seven

Woman to Woman
By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The daughter of an FBI agent ranks as a number one heart stealer—at the age of seven.

Linda Bruhl, the heart stealer, figures in a movie that's about to be released.

She holds down a big role — supporting Jackie Gleason in the Paramount picture, "Papa's Delicate Condition."

"I'm no movie star; I'm just a girl," Linda said in an interview.

Mrs. Theodore F. Bruhl explained how her daughter stays "just a girl."

"The movie was filmed during last summer's vacation between the first and second grade," she said. "When it was over, she just went back to being a little student. That's the way we want it."

Linda, selected from 200 applicants for the role, normally earns $30 an hour as a child model. During her session in Hollywood, she was paid $350 a week. Money seems to mean little to the seven-year-old. Ditto for the exposure to celebrities during her Hollywood stint.

Gives View of Gleason

Asked what she thought of Gleason, the second grader from St. Helena's School in the Bronx, N.Y., answered:

"I had to sit on his lap for the picture and he's so fat I had to sit on his knees."

Linda was more impressed by the coffee man than by anyone else she met in Hollywood.

"We had these rests," she said, "And everyone went to their dressing rooms. Not me. I went to the coffee wagon and the man always gave me free doughnuts."

Mrs. Bruhl said her husband spent four of the nine weeks with Linda in Hollywood.

"We were rather thrilled," she said. "But we have no ambitions for Linda to become a child star."

Linda isn't even telling the classmates who don't know about her stardom.

"Anyone who doesn't know, let them find out when the picture comes to their movie," she said.

Proves Typical Youngster

The rest of the interview with the unbeat youngest generation, went like this:

Q. What do you want to be when you grow up?

A. "A mommy because I like babies. I like babies because they're soft. Next question."

Q. How do you like Christopher Paul, your brother, 4?

A. "He's a p-e-s-t."

Q. What do you like about Hollywood?

A. "You get off the plane and you stand there and there's this tree trunk. You look all the way to the top and you see palms. It's just like Hawaii. I like Hawaii."

Q. Do you like California?

"Yes, the pools. We had a pool at our motel and I'll never go swimming in the ocean again. I could open my eyes in the pool and it didn't sting. It stings in the ocean."

Q. What's the greatest thing that ever happened to you?

A. "I was up until one in the morning once."

Q. What plans do you have for your education?

A. "I'm going to study piano and painting from my mommy, then I'm going to college to be an FBI agent like my daddy."

For Pot-Luck Buffet Bali Beef Will Star

Are you sometimes called upon to bring a casserole to a pot-luck supper, such as a church or school affair? Or, do you like to entertain with casual buffet meals?

Then you're doubtless on the lookout for good casserole recipes. Of course, to show off your cooking talents, you'll want a dish with a slightly different flair.

Here's one suggestion you're sure to find successful. . .a Bali Beef Casserole. The unusual feature of this entre is the accent of curry right from the South Seas . . .not so much that the flavor is overpowering, but enough to win the acclaim of all who sample your dish.

Bali Beef is an economical casserole, too, for it calls for budget-wise ground beef to be combined with rice, tomatoes and seasonings.

It's no wonder that casseroles are so popular for buffet suppers. You can easily take them from the oven to the table right in the same dish. Use your prettiest casserole dish to show off the meat combination to the best advantage. To keep the dish hot when you arrive at your potluck supper, wrap it in foil or carry it in an insulated bag.

You could prepare the casserole the night before or in the morning, keep it in the refrigerator, then bake it just before supper is scheduled. When placing a chilled casserole in the oven, allow about 20 minutes additional cooking time.

Although regular freezer storage time is not recommended for meats that have been seasoned, the dish could be held in the freezer for a short time if this is most convenient for you.

Try this exotic beef dish for your next company or potluck supper. It's fine for family meals, too. When the distinctive flavor is discovered, you'll have certain calls for seconds and repeat performances.

BALI BEEF CASSEROLE

1½ pounds ground beef
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
1½ cups cooked rice
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, finely minced
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
2 teaspoons Worchestershire sauce

Brown ground beef lightly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine ground beef, salt, curry powder, rice, onion, garlic, tomatoes and Worchestershire sauce. Pour into a 2-quart casserole. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS

It's possible for one strawberry "mother" plant to produce as many as 100 runner plants in a single season. Runners should be arranged so that new plants are spaced no closer than four inches.

Use Curry Mayonnaise On This Salad

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At the Towpath Inn in New Hope, Pa., a salad of baby beets, apple slices and hard-cooked eggs is served with curry mayonnaise. At the Inn, Belgian endive is used. But because western iceberg is available year round, we use it in this version of Towpath Inn Salad.

TOWPATH INN SALAD
(Makes 4 servings)

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1½ to 2 teaspoons curry powder
¼ teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup mayonnaise
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) baby beets
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 apples, cored and sliced
1 celery heart, quartered

Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent plastic wrap; refrigerate. Stir curry powder and sugar into lemon juice; stir in mayonnaise. Fold in whipped cream. Chill curry dressing while preparing salad. Place 4 outer lettuce leaves as cups on salad plates. Shred half the remaining lettuce (reserve the rest for another salad) and arrange in lettuce cups with beets, eggs, apples and celery. Serve salad with curry dressing. Store remaining dressing in refrigerator.

Delicate shamrock cupcakes and tea, seryed in charming Belleek ware cups and saucers, suggests the kind of tea party that would be popular with the ladies in Ireland. So why not invite friends in on March 17 in honor of the patron saint of the Old Sod?

IRISH CUPCAKES
(36 small cupcakes)

1 egg
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup corn oil
¼ cup milk

Beat egg with rotary beater; add sugar gardually and beat until light; add vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine corn oil and milk in measuring cup; whip with fork until creamy. Add to batter alternately with flour mixture, beating until smooth after each addition. Pour batter into paper-lined or greased and floured small muffin pans about 1¾ inches in diameter. Frost with Creamy Frosting.

CREAMY FROSTING

Cream ½ cup margarine. Sift 2 cups confectioners' sugar. Gradually add 1 cup of the sugar to margarine, beating until smooth. Add 1 egg white and dash of salt; beat until light and fluffy. Gradually add remaining sugar, beating well. Fold in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Makes about 1½ cups. Color about ¼ the frosting a delicate green with food coloring. Frost cakes. Decorate with shamrocks, using a plain pastry tube.

TOOTHSOME TILE TATTLE

No matter how often the tiles in a bathroom are scrubbed, there often appears to be some residue. This usually is dirt accumulation where ceramic tiles join. This is easily cleaned and whitened by scrubbing with a well - lathered toothbrush. A little bleach may be added to the suds.

Stuffed Eggs Offer High Quality Protein For Lenten Day Menus

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Eggs begin to be plentiful now. They are rich in high-quality protein and can be used deliciously in main-dish courses during Lent, which begins Feb. 27.

PARSLEY STUFFED EGGS WITH CHEESE SAUCE
(6 servings)

6 large hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
½ teaspoon powdered mustard
½ teaspoon onion salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
6 slices lightly toasted bread
Cheese Sauce

Peel eggs and cut each in half, lengthwise. Remove egg yolks without breaking the whites. Mash the yolks. Add butter or margarine, parsley flakes, mustard, onion salt, black pepper and mayonnaise. Mix well and use to fill cavities of egg whites. Place 2 halves on each slice of toast. Place in baking pan. Spoon Cheese Sauce over the top, covering the bread. Broil 3 to 4 minutes or until sauce is bubbly and brown. Serve as main dish for brunch, lunch or supper.

CHEESE SAUCE:
(1 cup)

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
2-3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
½ teaspoon parsley flakes
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon powdered mustard
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper

Melt butter or margarine in a small saucepan. Blend in flour. Add milk. Stir and cook until of medium thickness. Add cheese, parsley flakes, salt, mustard and black pepper. Cook only until cheese has melted.

Wool knit travels well. Consider at least one wool knit in your wardrobe.

People Have Odd Ideas About Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Isn't it true that we shouldn't drink milk and eat acid fruits, such as oranges and grapefruit, at the same meal because the acid in the fruit will curdle the milk?

A — No it is not true. In "Foods Without Fads" by Dr. E. W. McHenry, it is explained: "The digestive juice, normally found in the stomach, is more acid than any fruit or fruit juice, and the acidity in the stomach juice is necessary for the part of digestion which takes place in the stomach. Incidentally, the acid in the stomach juice curdles the milk and that is an aid to the digestion of the protein in milk. There are a lot of very foolish notions about foods. We should attempt to get reliable information and not believe the notions."

Q—How much should I spend a week to feed my family adequately?

A—Food economists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture say various typical families spent the following for a low-cost food plan during a week in October, 1962:

Family of two, 20 to 34 years . . .$14.00
Family of two, 55 to 74 years . . .$12.40
Family of four, with preschool children. . .$20.80

Sometimes Tolerance Is Not A Real Virtue

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — You see something that isn't to your liking—but it doesn't absolutely upset your stomach.

So you tolerate it.

But did you ever stop to think that such tolerance isn't necessarily a virtue?

The Rev. John Bruere, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church in Cleveland, makes that point in a report in the PTA Magazine, official organ of the National Congress of Parents and Teachern.

"The typical American," he said, "considers tolerance a national virtue, though he seldom defines it. Yet tolerance is a virtue only when it is directed toward people.

"We should accept people whose ideas do not coincide with our own. We should NOT accept forces in our society that if tolerated, would ultimately destroy us: falsehood, corruption and decay."

Cited Cleveland Experience

To give one example, the churchman described his experience as chairman of Cleveland's Clean-up Committee. In driving about the city looking for conditions that needed cleaning up, he discovered cars with five year old plates cluttering city streets.

Some cars were without wheels and had smashed windshields.

Other eye-sores included garbage piles literally six feet high and 10 feet across.

"These intolerable conditions in a prosperous and progressive city had been tolerated by a whole community, city officials and citizens alike," he said.

Such indifference to evil — physical and moral — exists on a national scale, as the churchman views the situation.

It has led to what he describes as a "twilight of morals."

"Why," he asks, "do we tolerate things that previous generations did not easily accept? Our disbelief in and our disregard for objective standards have brought this social chaos upon us.

Warning From Analyst

"There was a time when the ultimate standards were religious standards, sanctioned by a religious faith. More than a generation ago, a noted political analyst told us that religion was disappearing and that we would have to find new standards.

"The modern American has not yet found these standards. The preiace has turned to postscript."

Rev. Bruere lamented also about the deterioration of the urban church into a "suburban club."

"Its members have retreated from the problems of the city, tolerating them by their escape and leaving solutions to those who can't escape," he said.

"If gold rusts, what shall iron do," he asked.

In stating the case for less tolerance of the malignant growths of decay in cities, the churchman warned that the retreat from the real battlefield of the inner city is "one of the greatest evils that we have tolerated in our generation."

"A rediscovery of religious faith would make moral standards relevant to the problems of our day," he said. "Nothing else has done so. Nothing else will do."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. lists what he considers to be the bright spots in the current market:

—The outstanding strength in Chrysler.

—A new high by the Dow-Jones rails.

—Increasing volume on strength and declining volume on weakness.

—Complete absence of speculative excesses in low-price, high risk issues.

—Good institutional demand for quality stocks on moderate setbacks.

Goodbody & Co. fears the Dow-Jones industrial average has run into what appears to be a major block around the 680 mark and the general view is that any break-out, if it did occur, would encounter still another area of major resistance in the 700-10 range.

There was no news either overnight or during the session to account for Thursday's big rally, says Thomas P. Doherty of Harris, Upham. Lacking any news incentive, the performance of the market on that day was impressive and suggests the current rally has further to go, he says.

St. Augustine, Florida, the oldest town in the U. S., was founded on Sept. 7, 1565.

WISDOM OF SOLOMON

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Mrs. Elizabeth Menge told Judge Christ Seraphim that her husband of 40 years, Otto, 70, wrote her mushy notes and drank too much.

"Lady, you shouldn't be mad about the notes, you should be glad," the judge told Mrs. Menge. And turning to her husband he added, "You'd better stop drinking, but keep writing those notes to your wife."

USE SILENCERS

PARIS (UPI) — Members of the famed Surete Nationale take target practice wearing huge earmuffs to keep out the noise of their automatics.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

ALPINE, Calif. (UPI)—"I never realized that there were cattle rustlers in this day and age," ranch owner Ronald Vukich said Sunday in reporting the theft of eight heifers.

The rustlers used a truck.

ELIZA'S FATHER — Dwayne Smith, Pampa senior, will play the role of Alfred Doolittle in George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," being presented through Saturday night in the Branding Iron Theatre for West Texas State College's Festival of Arts.

Tip to Parents

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Most parents used to ask little more of their children than that they be well-behaved. Today's parents must go beyond that, a University of Michigan sociologist says.

"If parents overestimate the child's ability," notes Prof. Robert O. Blood, Jr., "he will be satisfied with less than the best. If they underestimate it, he may not achieve even what he could since he knows they will still be disappointed."

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars like these to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price (has lots of new lower upkeep features, too, like a flush-and-dry rocker panel ventilating system that helps remove rust-causing salt and slush); the new low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking, fun-loving car that would send any family packing; another perennial family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure driving adventure, America's only homegrown sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Chances are you've already picked your favorite. The next thing is to take a turn at the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, you'd probably rather spend what's left of winter just having a ball around town!

Dear Abby....

Which Is Worse? Toothpick Or Cigarette?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You told a reader that it was poor manners to use a toothpick in public. I agree with you. But why bother with that when every day millions of so-called refined people commit a far more grievous social error by befouling the air with stinking cigarette and cigar smoke? If a person picks his teeth in public, those who don't like it can always look away. But if someone lights up a cigarette or a smelly cigar, those who don't like it can either lump it or leave the room.

DETESTS SMOKE

DEAR DETESTS: You rattled the right cage! I have harped on the offensiveness of smokers so much in the past that even my best friends are beginning to tell me off!

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day and see where kids complain about their brothers and sisters. I hope they see this. I am an only child and I would give anything for a brother or sister. I am very lonely. I have had dogs, cats, fish, birds and now I have a white rat, but I am still lonely. If anyone wants to trade a brother or sister for a house-broken white rat, it is a deal.

ONLY CHILD, AGE NINE

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle something once and for all? Is it proper to tip the owner of a beauty shop if she has done your hair? I was told that you are supposed to tip only the employees and never the owner.

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: When in doubt, offer a tip. If the owner of the shop refuses it, say, "Thank you" and forget it. If this is embarrassing, you'll be embarrassed only once, which is better than being in a constant state of doubt.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GREG: Take care of your character and your reputation will take care of itself!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped, envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Teddy's Philosophy On Health

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As everyone in the entire, every-loving ambulatory world must know by now, America is on a hiking binge.

The way things are going, hiking will become the biggest fad since flagpole sitting. Some people apparently are just now discovering that they have feet.

It all started, of course, with President Kennedy's revival of an old Theodore Roosevelt directive fixing a three-day, 50-mile hike as a fitness test for military officers.

Would you like to hear the true, inside story of what was behind the original directive? Very well. Just stay right there in your easy chair and I will give you the scoop.

Roosevelt was never exactly a 98-pound weakling, but he did have what might be described as a "Charles Atlas complex."

Sickly As Youth

As a youth, according to his autobiography, he was "rather sickly and awkward" and "quite unable to hold my own when thrown into contact with other boys of rougher antecedents."

If Alas, the famous body-builder, had been in business at the would have enrolled in his correspondence course in muscle development.

But he lived in the primitive era before Atlas invented "dynamic tension," so he was forced to create a physical culture program of his own.

For several years, Roosevelt went in big for wrestling. While governor of New York, he billed the state for a wrestling mat, but the expense was disallowed by the comptroller, who took the position that it was not a "proper gubernaorial amusement."

Took Up Boxing

Roosevelt next took up boxing, but abandoned it after a poke in the eye ruptured some blood vessels. He was by then getting pretty old, so he turned to less strenuous exercise—jiu-jitsu.

It was his high regard for what he called "the vigor of life" that prompted him to issue the hiking directive. The armed forces were dismayed by the order and did all they could to circumvent it.

But Roosevelt himself said it was "a test which many a healthy middle-aged woman would be able to meet."

To prove his point, he often went on hikes with an athletic group known as the "tennis cabinet." When they came to a river, they didn't bother with bridges. They swam across.

"If we swam the Potomac, we usually took off our clothes," Roosevelt recalled.

On one occasion the French ambassador joined the hike and as they were about to swim the river someone noticed that he was still wearing his gloves.

"I think I will leave them on," said the proper but otherwise naked envoy. "We might meet ladies."

Quirks In The News

SITTING IT OUT

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The Democratic controlled Assembly showed little vigor Tuesday in dealing with the hiking craze touched off by the New Frontier.

It concurred in a Senate resolution congratulating Gov. Grant Sawyer for his 25-mile hike by a weak 17-13 vote even though seven members were not vigorous enough to vote either way.

And when Chester Christensen moved for a recess "to walk briskly around the block," he was defeated on a unanimous vote.

FLOODED OUT

ASTON, England (UPI) — Michael Chadburn, 37, was comfortably seated in his fireside chair Tuesday when a cascade of water poured down the chimney and flooded his living room.

The flood subsided when three firemen on his roof discovered the fire was in the house next door.

PAMPA PLAYER — Two Londoners find that Henry Higgins is not a detective because his "shoe soles are too thin." Higgins is played by Cal Foster of Amarillo, and the citizens are Ronnie Gabriel, left, of Pampa and Ronny Parks of Paducah. The production of Shaw's "Pygmalion" is being given in the Branding Iron Theatre in Amarillo through Saturday night.

PUBLIC ENEMY—This creature steals more every day than the $1,218,000 taken by the famous Brinks bandits. The sinister-looking fellow is the boll weevil, which, according to Cyanamid Magazine, destroys in excess of a half billion dollars worth of cotton crops each year. Shoot on sight.

She'll Never Dance

WATERLOO, N.Y. (UPI) —How does a father tell a seven-year-old daughter whose love is dancing she will never dance again?

The heart-tearing decision is what faced Orazio Marcuccilli today. He must tell his daughter, Deborah, she has no legs.

Debbie was one of 61 children in a school bus bound for Waterloo Central School last Wednesday morning when it was slammed into a utility pole by a skidding tractor-trailer.

Bus driver Ralph Worden, 32, and 30 of the children were injured. Debbie was sitting at the point of impact and lost her right leg. Doctors at Taylor-Brown Hospial here were forced to amputate her other leg below the knee Monday because of gangrenous infection.

State police said the truck driver pleaded guilty to running a stop sign and paid a $5 fine.

Hospital officials said the little brown - haired, brown-eyed girl from Seneca Falls is unaware of her condition.

"She has never complained," one said. "Her main worry is what happened to her five-year - old brother, Dale. He had a bruised forehead."

Two brotners, Danny, 12, and David, 10, also were on the bus.

"I know how much Debbie loved dancing," her father said. "I don't know how I'm going to tell her she can't dance any more. We told her that some people had sent her money and asked what she wanted to do with it.

"She said she wanted a pocketbook, a pair of gloves and a new pair of dancing shoes. What do I tell her? It was her greatest pleasure."

GOES WITH A GUSH—Trailing a 30-foot stream of water behind it, the "Pump Jet," an experimental hydrofoil, makes its public debut on Lake Washington at Seattle. The 20-foot-long craft, built by Boeing Co., is designed to reach speeds of more than 45 miles an hour using a jet of water for propulsion. A scoop built into the aft strut takes water into the boat and a high-speed centrifugal pump jets it out through a nozzle. The effect is the same as that of an aircraft jet engine. The result is that the 2½-ton craft is propelled forward fast enough for its hydrofoils, or underwater wings, to lift it so that it "flies" several feet above the surface.

New Television Show Will 'Honor' The Pure Scientist

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For the past few seasons, television has been honoring, or dishonoring depending on how you look at it, such professions as medicine, psychiatry and even religion. Now it's the pure scientist's turn.

It was only a matter of time before some video producer decided to dramatize men who dream up rocket fuels and vehicles that hurl astronauts into space.

Recognition of scientists some place other than "The Huntley-Brinkley Show" or "20th Century," gives those probing and dedicated men status similar to western heroes, private eyes who couldn't see through a microscope, and panel shows.

Co-starred in the proposed new series, "The Lab," are two very capable actors, Ralph Bellamy and Brad Dillman. Bellamy plays a scientist with a conservative influence comparable to "Kildare's Raymond Massey and "Casey's Sam Jaffe.

Dillman will be Bellamy's assistant, a zealous young man seeking scientific truth, also one who might blow up the laboratory if somebody doesn't watch what he's mixing in test tubes.

Dillman, now working in a "Virginian" segment, said the new scientific series won't be confined to a laboratory which would get dramatically stuffy after a few weeks.

"I'll play a trouble shooter," said Dillman, "a scientific advisor to anybody with a problem, engineering, medical or scientific. This will take us out of the lab where we could get locked in. A laboratory is a very dramatic place but it would be difficult to make it dramatic for a 39-week series. There's only so much suspense."

Dillman is entering the series with a completely open mind, one which couldn't comprehend classroom science. To help him with his portrayal, Brad has met scientists and discussed their work.

"I never passed a science course in my life," he said, "I found that these scientists are renaissance men. Their minds have reached such a level that they have many interests above and beyond science. I never had this impression of scientists before I always thought they were dull, mainly because I flunked science."

For Dillman to star in a series means that he must eat his own words which in the past have insisted he would stay away from a weekly show.

"It's true that I never wanted to do a series," he said with a smile of resignation. "Mainly because I thought an actor assassinated himself when the series was over and he couldn't get cast in feature movies.

"But in the last few years I revised my opinion when I looked at Steve McQueen and Jim Garner. They're making it in movies and each had a television series.

Weekly Report To Texans

By SEN. JOHN TOWER

Senator John Tower (R. Texas) asked Congressman Ed Foreman of the Sixteenth District of Texas, and a member of the Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives to be his guest on his weekly radio broadcast to Texans this week and to speak about the Cuban situation as he sees it. Representative Foreman's comments follow:

I am pleased to substitute in this radio broadcast for my good friend, Senator John Tower. As you know, being a new Republican Representative from Texas, I was awarded the honor of an assignment to the Armed Services Committee of the House during the organization of the Committees of the House. I am very pleased with this recognition that the Republican leadership has recognized in the needs and desires of the people of Texas by assigning me to membership on this powerful Committee. I think that this is an encouraging personal endorsement by my colleagues and I certainly appreciate the consideration shown which is usually reserved for only senior Members of Congress. I humbly accept this challenge and will work to the best of my ability to uphold the confidence placed in me.

Texas can now be proud of the fact that they have three Representatives on this powerful House Armed Services Committee which approves or rejects fifty - three cents out of every tax dollar that you spend. Congressman O. C. Fisher is one Representative; Congressman Joe Kilgore is a new member that has also been assigned to this Committee. In our meetings of this Committee during the past few weeks we have had an appearance before the Armed Services Committee of Secretary of Defense McNamara; Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Taylor and we have had a complete briefing of our military posture. I am convinced that this country does now and will continue to hold the strongest force among the nations of the world and we must endeavor in order to protect freedom and liberty throughout the world to keep the strongest military force. I have had many letters from people across Texas and from across the country concerning the Cuban situation and the military build-up there and have been asked to comment briefly on my feeling on this situation.

The situation that is developing in Latin America and the Carribean must be cleared up immediately. The Communists have already made organized and dangerous moves toward setting up Armed Camps on the mainland of Latin America, with movements of guerilla bands in Venezuela and now the movement of military equipment into British Guiana. It is my understanding, from reliable sources that two ships steamed out of the Cuban port of Mariel le last week loaded with arms destined for British Guiana. The significance of the event lies in the fact that the government is run in the Communist mold. Cheddi Jagan has called for help from his Communist friends and is getting it in the form of military hardware he needs to keep control of his troubled country. Radio and radar jamming equipment has been set up in Cuba very near our missile test center at Cape Canaveral. I am concerned as I know you are about this situation. I believe that it is high time that President Kennedy take the bull by the horns and invoke the time-honored Monroe Doctrine. President Kennedy in the 1960 campaign said, "We must let Khrushchev know that we are permitting no expansion of his foothold in this hemisphere." The President has backed down from his stand in letting the Russian government set up military installations in Cuba. If he now lets this shipment of Communist strength be delivered and put into use on the mainland of Latin America, then freedom's life is limited in Latin and South America. It would seem to me that the time for a courageous profile is now. This country should and must invoke the Monroe Doctrine. I believe that we should declare a complete economic blockade of Cuba, not just a temporary or a partial economic blockade. I believe that we must commence hard - hitting negottiations with our allies to stop shipment of all goods to Cuba. And I believe in official recognition of a free Cuban government in exile. I will work to support those actions which back up the Monroe Doctrine and freedom throughout North and South America. And I believe, as I have stated many times previously that it would be advisable for the Kennedy brothers to get as tough with Castro and Communism as they did with the American steel industry.

I am pleased to have had the opportunity to substitute on this program for Senator John Tower. He will be with you next week.

Willie Mays Signs Pact For More Than $100,000

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Willie Mays has a $100,000 contract today to prove that San Francisco Giant club owner Horace Stoneham made good on an eight-year old promise.

"Stick with the Giants, Willie," Stoneham told Mays back in the winter of 1954, "and you'll earn as much as any baseball player in history."

Mays saw that promise become a reality Wednesday when he signed a 1963 contract for $100,000 — "perhaps a little more"— and thereby joined Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Stan Musial as the only players in history who have earned a straight six-figure salary for one year.

"Willie should have three or four more good years," said manager Alvin Dark, who held a press conference after the announcement of Mays' signing. "He's 31 now and a ball player really doesn't mature until he is around 28. Willie will play in every game if he can make it."

In his 12th season as a Giant last year, Mays batted .304, hit 49 homers and drove in 104 runs. He tired in September and collapsed on the bench during a game in Cincinnati on Sept. 12. But he made a major contribution in the closing days of the race when the Giants out-lasted the collapsing Dodgers and won the National League pennant.

World Series pitching hero Ralph Terry also received his reward Wednesday when he signed with the New York Yankees for about $35,000. Terry, called by Yankee pitching coach Johnny Sain "the best right - hander in the American League," had a 23-12 record last season and then won two games, including the decisive 1-0 seventh game, in the World Series.

Terry compiled a 16-3 record in 1961 and so stands 39-15 for the last two seasons. Yankee sluggers Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris are technically unsigned but General Manager Roy Hamey says both have agreed to terms verbally and will be in the Yankees' Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., training camp by next Wednesday.

Willie Mays

Ray Herbert, a 20-game winner in 1962, and pitcher Gary Peters signed with the Chicago White Sox leaving only Jim Landis, Floyd Robinson and Juan Pizarro unsatisfied.

Roger Craig, who had a 10-24 record last season, agreed to a "compromise" raise and signed with the New York Mets for an estimated $27,500. Craig is understood to have brought a salary of about $21,000 with him from the Dodgers and is much in demand in the trading marts.

Lee Juniors Split Finals

Robert E. Lee's eighth and ninth grade basketball teams both ended up in a second-place tie for district with Houston Junior High of Borger after a twin bill Tuesday, against S. F. Austin of Borger.

Borger won the ninth grade game, 57-49. The visitors jumped off to a 17-4 quarter lead and the Rebels could never get closer than five points. David Cain, Ken McWilliams and Teddy Bird each had 10 points for the locals. The loss gives the ninth graders a 9-3 district record and makes them 13-5 on the season.

The eighth grade romped to a 35-16 win, making them 10-2 in district and 11-2 on the season. Jack Thompson had 10, Doc Cornutt eight and James Matney and Misson Goodlett six each for the locals.

Wittenberg Tops Cagers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wittenberg, having wound up the regular season with an 18-1 record, led the United Press International small college basketball ratings again today and now must beat some backyard rivals to prove its claim to the national championship.

With two weeks remaining before the final ballot of the season, Wittenberg was comfortably on top for the sixth straight week; Evansville moved up one notch to third, and Fresno State made its way back to the top 10.

Wittenberg defeated Otterbein and Mount Union, two Ohio Conference rivals, last week to close out the regular campaign with a string of 13 straight victories.

Tonight coach Eldon Miller's Tigers meet Otterbein again in the start of the Ohio Conference's 16-team post-season tournament. This tournament is played in two sections, with the first two teams in each group qualifying for the finals at Columbus, Ohio, March 1 and 2.

Wittenberg's toughest threat in this tournament appears to be Akron, which moved up one place in the UPI ratings this week to the No. 6 spot.

Twenty-six members of the 35-man UPI small college rating board made Wittenberg their first place choice. Grambling, with a 21-2 record through last weekend, clung to the runnerup spot, although it did not receive a single first-place vote.

Evansville, with an 18-3 record, was the top choice of three coaches, moving up one place to No. 3 as Southeast Missouri fell back to No. 4. Tennessee State held fifth place and Akron advanced to No. 6, changing places with Prairie View.

This week's top six teams had a remarkable combined record of 116 victories and 13 defeats including last weekend's games, on which these ratings were based.

Southern Illinois, Fresno State and Westminster (Pa.) filled the last three places in this week's top 10 group.

Golf's Big Three To New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Another battle between golfdom's big three—Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus — is shaping up in the New Orleans invitational golf tournament March 1-4.

Player and Nicklaus have already signed to play in the $40,000 event and Palmer has indicated he is "99 per cent sure" of competing for the $6,200 first prize. He has until Monday to sign.

Tournament officials said today more than 100 of the nation's top professionals have signed for the tournament at the Lakewood Country Club on the west side of the Mississippi River.

The entries include 14 of last year's 18 top money winners.

All of this year's major tournament winners so far are also included in the New Orleans entry.

While Palmer, Player and Nicklaus will be the big attractions, veteran New Orleans golf fans will also be keeping close watch on Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Bo Wininger.

Casper, in his last appearance here, won the 1958 New Orleans tournament in a playoff with Ken Venturi.

White Deer Vs. Dumas

WHITE DEER (Spl)—The Dumas Demons, defending Class 3 -A state champions, will host White Deer Friday night at 7:30, reported Buck coach Roy Simmons to the News yesterday.

Dumas clinched the District 1-AAA crown Tuesday night as they beat Hereford in a playoff game, 56-34, for the right to represent the district in the playoffs. Both had tied in the regular district season with 8-2 records. The two teams also tied last year, with Dumas likewise winning the playoff and then going on to win the state title.

Pampa Nixed

Dumas coach Jerry Hale discussed the possibility of a practice game with Pampa High coach Terry Culley, but Hale wanted the game played at Dumas, and Cully, whose 3-4A champion Harvesters meet Haltom City in bi-district play next Tuesday, felt that two long trips in a row would be too much for his team.

Both Dumas and White Deer, instead of playing a bi-district game immediately following the results of district play, meet in regional playoffs. Dumas will tangle in a four-way tournament at Lubbock with the winners of Districts two, three and four, with the victor going to state.

White Deer — Canyon

White Deer meets Canyon, the 2-AA winner in the first round of regional play in Amarillo College Gym on Tuesday night.

Simmons said that since they would have the weekend to rest up and Amarillo would only be a short trip, the Bucks would be glad of the chance of a practice game with the Triple-A champs. The Bucks would also like to seek revenge for two earlier-season defeats at the hands of Dumas.

ROY SIMMONS

Hard Climb

White Deer, last year's Class A state champions with a 32-3 record, moved up to Class AA this year. Although Simmons said that the climb from A to Double - A was a hard one as the Panhandle area abounds in good Two-A teams, the Bucks nevertheless ran up a 23-6 season record and a 7-1 district mark, dropping Dalhart in a double overtime this weekend, 71-67, to clinch the loop crown.

Despite moving up a jump, the Bucks are considered the biggest threat to defending Double - A champ Buna, as they returned three starters and four lettermen from last year's great team, including Carroll Russell, All - State Tournament first team last year, and little Curtis Campbell, who made the second team.

Buck's Revenge

Besides the two losses to Dumas, the Bucks' other defeats were at the hands of Triple - A Phillips, Dimmitt, district foe Shamrock and Miami, one of the Class B favorites for the state scramble. The Bucks avenged the defeats to Miami and Phillips in second meetings, and took two games from Shamrock, once in tournament play and again in district.

Seminole, Lamesa and Graham will be the Demons' opponents in regional play with the White Deer-Canyon winner clashing with the Dimmitt-Seymour winner for the right to represent the Panhandle in the state tourney.

Cincinnati Hungry For North Texas

By United Press International

If you think Cincinnati was tough while it was running high, wide and unbeaten, spare some pity for North Texas State which meets the Bearcats on the rebound tonight.

Cincinnati, top - ranked college basketball team in the nation, had its 37-game winning streak ended by Wichita last Saturday. And while the Bearcats were shaken at first by the defeat, they're all mighty happy to have the pressure off.

They're ready to take it out on North Texas State, too, because a victory would clinch first place in the Missouri Valley Conference for the Bearcats and assure them of a chance to defend the NCAA crown they have won the last two years.

For added incentive, the game is being played on Cincinnati's home court.

The biggest basketball news on Wednesday was Marquette's entry in New York's National Invitation Tournament starting March 14. The Warriors later celebrated the occasion with a 77-76 triumph at Louisville.

Marquette, which has a 14-7 record, thus joins Canisius, Miami (Fla.), Providence and Memphis State in the NIT.

Canisius was upset by Detroit Wednesday night, 55-54, while Providence "escaped" with a hard 68-77 decision over Assumption.

In other leading games, LaSalle outlasted Duquesne, 73-69; Temple upset Pittsburgh, 77-71, and Davidson surprised Wake Forest, 90-75.

Rutherford Clocks Over 165 MPH

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) —John Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., wound his 1963 Chevrolet to an official qualifying record of 165.138 miles per hour Wednesday in warmups for the annual "Daytona 500" Sunday.

Bobby Johns of Miami clocked 164.233 in his Pontiac-powered 1957 Chevrolet in a trial run for the 250-mile modified sportsman event Saturday, another record.

Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach in a Pontiac and Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., in a Ford will hold down the two front row positions when the Daytona 500 starts Sunday. Roberts will be on the inside or pole position.

Boston Celtics Hot As Playoffs Near

By United Press International

You can tell it's almost time for the National Basketball Association playoffs—because the Boston Celtics are hot again.

The perennial champs streaked to their fifth straight victory Wednesday night, nipping the Detroit Pistons, 117-113, as rookie John Havlicek and Bill Russell led a 40-point third period outburst.

Havlicek scored half of his 24 points in that third period to bring the Celtics from behind and back into the game. The score was tied eight times in the final period before Frank Ramsey and Russell combined for three points to put the Celtics ahead to stay with 2:49 left in the game.

The win kept the Celtics nine games ahead of the second-place Syracuse Nationals in the NBA's Eastern Division race with less than a month left in the regular season.

The Nats kept pace by beating the third-place Cincinnati Royals, 128-109, as 10 players scored in double figures. Hal Greer was high man with 24 while Jack Twyman paced the Royals with 27.

Cincinnati already has clinched a playof berth while the race goes on in the Western Division between the Pistons and San Francisco Warriors for the last playoff spot. The Pistons hold a four-point lead over the Warriors, who have played two less games.

Cornhusker Coach Quits

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — The Nebraska coaching career of Jerry Bush, former college and professional cage star, will come to an end July 1, he announced Wednesday.

Bush who has an 81-127 record in nearly nine seasons at the Cornhusker helm, said he was quitting "for the good of all concerned."

Bush, 48, who starred for St. John's University (N.Y.) before entering the professional ranks, had coached at Toledo University before coming to Nebraska for the 1954-55 season.

His resignation followed speculation that he might be replaced because of the poor showing of some of his recent teams, including the present squad, which had a 5-15 record through last Monday and stood 0-9 in Big Eight Conference play.

Bush said he had been considering the resignation "for some time."

Baylor Signs Two Gridders

WACO (UPI)—Baylor University signed two high school football stars Wednesday, to bring the Waco school's total schoolboy signings to 35.

The two are all-state end Arnold Holloway of Wink and all-district tackle Larry Wilson of San Antonio Edison High School.

Miami Takes On Wheeler Friday

MIAMI—The Miami High girls basketball team will try to emulate the boys tomorrow night as they clash with Wheeler at Shamrock for the district 2-B cage title.

The Warriorettes piled up a 9-1 district record and were 21-7 on the season. Their only loss in round-robin district play was to the Wheeler Fillies, 34-32. However, they defeated Wheeler once in a tournament and again in a return district match, but Wheeler won the district tournament to force the two teams into another playoff.

Briscoe Out

Wheeler ended up with a 5-5 mark in regular round-robin play, but defeated Briscoe to give Miami the district lead. Briscoe, which had been favored to win the loop, finished second with an 8-2 mark as Miami joined Wheeler in defeating them. Briscoe had taken a win over Wheeler in a tournament before district started.

Three of the Miami girls' losses were to powerful Samnorwood as they met them four times in the space of two weeks. Norwood defeated Miami in the finals of the Miami Tournament, then did the same as they hosted their own tourney. Miami also dropped a decision to SN in the Sunray Tournament, but took one victory over the Eaglettes during pre-district play.

Coach Confident

With the Warriorettes holding two of three decisions over the Fillies, coach Lawrence Overcast is confident of a victory tomorrow night, and feels that if Miami can win the district, they can beat 1-B winner Follette in bi-district play. "Follette has plenty of height on offense," said the Miami cage coach, "but is weak on defense, and I don't believe they can stop the shooting and rebounding of Connie Dodson and Marilyn Murphy, while I believe our good guards, headed by Dee Mooris, can hold them down."

Sophomore Connie Dodson, 5'8", was a unanimous All - District choice as she averaged 25 points a game this season, making all-Tournament in the two tourneys she played in which picked an all-honor team.

Marilyn Honored

Junior forward Marilyn Murphy, also 5'8", missed most of the season with a broken foot, but came back to play in the last five district games and win honorable mention on the All-District team despite playing only half of the loop season. Marilyn averages 18 points a game, and despite her still-tender foot, is a tremendous rebounder.

Dee Morris, 5'6", made the All-Tourney team at Miami, as she leads the defensive ballhandling, and is the stopper used against the opponents' top scorer in the Warriorettes man-to-man, or in this case, girl-to-girl defense.

Cheryl Gill and Cheri Jackson are the other top forwards for Miami, the pair both having started while Marilyn was out, and now alternating to give the Warriorettes' good bench strength in case of foul trouble.

Defense

Joining Dee in the defensive side of the line are Ruthann Cunningham and team captain Margot Gill.

Martha Paris, Ettavee Simmons, Connie Ratliff, Cindy Coffee, and Joe Lynn Flowers round out the Miami varsity.

RAPID RALPH — Ralph Palmer comes out of the starting blocks as he gets ready for the Fort Stockton track meet Saturday. Palmer, holder of Pampa High's 440-yard dash record, may also run in the 220 and will run a leg on the mile relay team.

'Ricky The Rifle' Signs With UH

HOUSTON (UPI)—A slender all-state quarterback and a giant all-district tackle will enroll at the University of Houston in September, the school announced today.

The latest schoolboy football players to sign letters of intent with the Cougars are Rick Carlisle, a 5-11, 150-pound signal caller from Pasadena; and Allen Daniel, a 6-5, 255-pound tackle from Orange.

Carlisle was named second team quarterback on the 4-A all-state selections. Daniel was called one of the best defensive players he's seen in 30 years by Orange Coach Ted Jefferies.

This Week Must Decide All Cage District Titles

By United Press International

Defending Class AAA champion Dumas was back in the state high school basketball playoffs today along with a pair of other 1962 champions seeking to repeat for state titles.

The Demons, for the second year in a row, had to whip Hereford in a playoff for the District 1 crown. They did so in convincing fashion last night with Kelly Baker's 21 points pacing them to a 56-32 triumph for a 19-7 season record.

Dallas Jefferson, the AAAA titlist, and Buna, the AA winner, already had clinched return visits to the playoff in their divisions, while Class A champion White Deer also was back again—but in the AA ranks this year. Class B winner Huntington, playing in Class A, failed to get outside its district.

Four Undetermined

Only four districts remain undetermined in Class AAAA—1, where a four-way playoff is under way involving El Paso Jefferson, El Paso High, El Paso Austin and Ysleta Bel Air; 5, where Fort Worth Paschal and Fort Worth Arlington Heights are deadlocked; 9, where Houston Davis and Houston Bellaire are tied at one game each in a zone playoff, and 15, where San Antonio Jefferson and San Antonio Lee finished in a tie.

San Angelo, Pampa, Haltom City, Dallas Jefferson, Denton, Texarkana, Spring Branch, Beaumont French, Pasadena, Austin McCallum, Victoria and San Antonio Burbank have won bi-district berths.

In AAA, Corsicana and Waxahachie are tied for the District 8 crown and Clear Creek and Alvin deadlocked for the District 12 flag. All other districts are settled with Dumas, Seminole, Lamesa, Graham, Hurst Bell, Paris, Kilgore, Bridge City, Brenham, El Campo, Austin Johnston, San Marcos, South San Antonio and Weslaco the winners.

Most AA Decided

Most of the Class AA berths have been decided, too, including White Deer, Canyon, Dimmitt, Seymour, Winters, Comanche, Bowie, Mansfield, Whitesboro, Lancaster, Linden-Kildare, Canton, Gladewater, Rockdale, Columbus, Madisonville, Humble, Buna, Missouri City, Randolph Field, Karnes City and San Diego.

In A, McLean, Farwell, Seagraves, Jim Ned, Big Lake, Baird, Milsap, Alvarado, Frisco, Honey Grove, Quitman, New London, West Sabine, Mart, Temple Academy, Weimar, East Chambers, Pettus, Blanco and Charlotte have clinched berths.

In B, Higgins, Miami, Channing, Happy, Bula, Hedley, Quitaque, Meadow, McAdoo Grafford, Huckaby, Priddy, Blum, Abbott, Mildred, Vernon Northside, Prairie Valley, Allen, Alba-Golden, Avery, Wolfe City, Maud, East Mountain, Frankston, Crandall, Buffalo, Willis, Barbers Hill, Dalardsville, Big Sandy, Central Heights, Salado, Evant, Kyle, Snook, Waelder, Johnson City, Brackettville, Natalia, Talpa-Centennial, Westbrook, Barstow and Balmorhea have made the grade.

All districts must certify champions by this weekend. Bi-district games will be played early next week and regional champions must be decided by March 2. The state tournament is scheduled at Austin March 7-9.

Skiers Win 16 At Briscoe

BRISCOE (Spl) — The Pampa Boat-Ski Club won their 16th game against three defeats last night when they invaded Briscoe for a 79-52 victory.

The hosts trailed by only 15-12 at the quarter mark, but the Skiers broke the game open at halftime, 40-22.

Ray Pool had 27, James Lee 22 and Jim Enloe 17 points for the winners. Randy Callan had 17 and Noal Fulks 11 for Briscoe.

The Skiers meet Bell Station of Pampa tonight at Pampa Junior High.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Patient Way

Most of us want what we want when we want it.

There is a basic drive for immediate results in things we normally undertake.

This is probably a beneficial thing, viewed in perspective. Life on this planet is not easy. It takes more than ordinary expenditures of time and energy, merely to stay alive. Were we not filled with a sort of constant dissatisfaction, a type of mental and spiritual unrest, it would be all too easy for most of us to vegetate and to sink back into a kind of pleasant wooing of Morpheus.

But this same tendency to be restless and to demand immediate results leads to impatience which can serve as a temptation to put aside moral rules. And we suspect that many people, learning for the first time our philosophy which rests on freedom, tend to believe that we are impractical simply because they imagine that we must be talking and thinking in terms of an immediate attainment of ideal conditions such as we often mention.

They view us through the eyes of their own impatience. And they conclude that we must mean to abolish some structure, to take steps to deprive them of some particular device or governmental service to which they have become accustomed.

Thus, they look at what we say with some apprehension. Do we mean to do away with the government school system? Are we anarchists, seeking to overthrow the government? Do we actually propose to demolish existing forms so that a society could emerge in which the government would play no role whatever?

We must answer each of these questions, which may arise in the mind of a reader, not only in the negative but with a sense of apprehension of our own.

We seek to abolish NOTHING WHATEVER saving false ideas. If, by some dreadful set of circumstances, the government school system, our accustomed usages or the government itself were wiped out overnight, there can be no question of what would happen. We would descend into chaos.

We, as members of the human species, circa the 20th century, are no more ready for these things than most of us are ready to sprout wings. And were such conditions thrust on us by force or by some mischance, conditions far more intolerable than the ones under which we live would immediately prevail.

One of the things we have apparently had difficulty in explaining about our philosophy is that we are patient, whereas so many are impatient.

We are seeking to point a direction to be taken, not a specific goal to be reached. Freedom is not just an absence of violence administered by the state. Freedom is a condition of self-control, which we do not attain as a static or fixed objective, but which we live and experience as we progress thru life.

Perhaps the prime difference between our outlook and that of so many, is that whereas we propose an improved situation, one as close to ideal as we can envision, we do not propose to seek this improvement thru action forced on anyone in any way whatever.

For example, we eschew the state totally as a device to be employed to bring about a condition we believe conducive of the largest degree of freedom possible. We are concerned, not only with having fredom, but in having it in such a way that we do not deprive another of his freedom.

Means concern us, not just the ends.

Therefore we could not favor the abolition of anything upon which others depend. To do so would be to invoke some type of force to prevent others from having what they believe they have to have.

But the fact that we reject force or instruments of force does not mean that we reject progress. On the contrary, it means that we equate progress with education and not with violence. We would prefer to see people begin to accept their own self-responsibility as a result of their own choices.

But simply because we do not anticipate an immediate fulfillment of our designs does not serve as a reason to abandon either our ideals or our purposes. The road may be long, but it is the journey that fascinates us, not the terminal point, assuming there is one.

We will urge independence; but we will force no one to be independent.

We will urge private and independent schooling; but we will force no one to give up a government system of schooling, even tho we can prove that it is immoral.

We will urge individualism; but we will force no one to follow a pattern of our devising.

In short, we will seek always to enlighten, never to enforce. By so deporting ourselves we believe what tiny progress we may make will be permanent and will not have to be done all over again by those who come later.

More Than A Building

Much complaint is heard concerning the high cost of hospitalization. Not enough is heard of what a hospital must do—and does. A leaflet issued by St. Vincent, a large hospital in Portland, Oregon, tells about this, briefly and well.

A hospital, it points out, "...is more than a building—more than a bed. It is trained people... your doctor, plus specialist consultants, administrators, technicians, nurses, aides. It's an operating room, well lighted, sterile... with the most modern surgical equipment. It's meals... It's housekeeping, laundry, and engineering... 24 hours a day.

"...all this PLUS...clinical laboratory, basal metabolism apparatus, electrocardiography, medical records, blood bank, medical library, pharmacy, emergency department, therapeutic x-ray, physical therapy, sterile supply, diagnostic x-ray, maternity department, post-operative recovery room, cardio respiratory laboratory, and more. Services continue to grow, to bring health and comfort to patients."

A hospital is a world in microcosm—of tragedy and triumph, of success and failure, of jubilation and despair. And it is a world whose activities are eternal—day in day out, night in night out, all around the clock of the year.

Sabotage in Latin America Operating From Cuba Expanded Since October Missile Crisis, Senators Learn

ROBERT ALLEN — PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Senators probing the Soviet build-up in Cuba have gathered convincing evidence that there is a rising Communist guerrilla threat in Latin America, actively aided with money and arms from Cuba.

Detailed proof of this Cuban link was turned over to the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee last week by Director John McCone, of the Central Intelligence Agency, and a reliable Cuban refugee group.

Both of their reports contend that the subversive activities of the Castro regime have greatly increased in Latin America since the apparent withdrawal of Soviet medium-range missiles from Cuba.

CIA Director McCone went the furtherest in his warning. He startled the senators by reporting that these Cuban - supported guerrilla activities could develop into "a serious danger for the U.S., as well as a number of American republics, unless preventative measures are taken soon."

In his blunt testimony, McCone revealed that 1,500 saboteurs and Communist guerrillas were trained in Cuba during the past 12 months and are now at work in Latin countries carrying out the Kremlin's orders for "protracted revolutionary action."

According to McCone, the immediate objective of the Moscow-Havana axis is to cause wide-spread economic and political chaos throughout Latin America by terrorizing local officials, blowing up bridges, oil refineries, mines, and destroying all means of communication.

To learn the latest sabotage techniques, he reported, the local Communists are being trained and armed at two major guerrilla camps in Cuba. One is at Minas Del Frio in Oriente Province and another at La Campana in Las Villas.

The former is headed by Guatemala's ex-President Arbenz, and the latter by Spanish General Alberto Bayo, both members of the Revolutionary Command for Latin America that the Kremlin set up in Havana. This command directs all subversive and guerrilla activities from Cuba.

THE DETAILS — The intelligence information given Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., by a Cuban refugee group clearly demonstrates that the subversive activities of the Castro regime have increased since the October Cuban crisis.

Here is this group's country-by-country report:

"Venezuela: On Oct. 27, 1962, four electric power stations were dynamited by native Communists, who were following orders from the Castro regime. As a consequence of this sabotage one-sixth of Venezuelan oil production was temporarily knocked out. The first radio signal ordering the sabotage was transmitted Oct. 24th from Havana via a ship off the isles of Curacao on the Venezuelan coast. On January 7, 1963, Venezuelan police discovered a secret Castro - Communist arms cache, 20 miles south of Caracas, and confiscated several tons of explosives and other weapons."

"Peru: There have been serious guerrilla outbreaks in several places, notably in the ancient Inca capital off Cuzco, in Cajamarca, 250 miles north of Lima, and in Satipo, between Lima and Cuzco. An unusual feature of guerrilla activity in Peru is that the Castro-trained agents are going in for robbing banks — in the tradition of Stalin's famous "expropriations" of Tsarist banks — to obtain funds for guerrilla operations."

"British Guiana: Youthful followers of Communist Premier Cheddi Jagan are returning from Cuba trained for an expected guerrilla struggle."

"Brazil: On December 27, 1962, Brazilian police dug up an arms cache outside of Sao Paulo. Inspector Alcides Bueno has evidence linking Castro agents with these arms, of Czech manufacture. The arms arrived aboard a Cuban ship and were transported to the Communist Peasants' League headquarters."

"Costa Rica: Francisco J. Orlich, President of Costa Rica, has evidence linking Castro-Communist agents with the recent violence in Cartago. He forecasts increased subversive action in all Central America."

"Ecuador: There have been several Indian uprisings in various parts of Ecuador in recent months which, though stemming from honest grievances, are being exploited by the Communists. Miguel Lechon, who heads the Ecuadorian Federation of Indians, has just returned from Cuba and threatened: 'One day, more than 200,000 Indians will descend from the mountains to take over their land.'"

TURNING THE TABLES — The tables are being turned on two militant members of Congress — in a very unusual way.

Senator Kenneth Keating, R-N. Y., and Representative Donald C. Bruce, R-Ind., are under Defense Department "surveillance" for their highly critical disclosures of the ominous Soviet military build-up in Cuba. The two legislators have revealed a number of jolting facts and are on the trail of others equally sensational.

Keating and Bruce have been tipped off about this extraordinary undercover scrutiny. They view it as an effort to either block further embarrassing disclosures or to learn their sources of information.

Adam Yarmolinsky, special assistant of Secretary McNamara, is in charge of the investigation.

As a counter move, Keating has secured investigators of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, of which he is a member, to keep an eye on his office and the activities of the Pentagon probers. The New Yorker also has changed the combination of his office safe and had his phones checked for possible taps.

Foreign flashes — Yugoslav Ambassador Veljko Micunovic has been notified by U. S. longshoremen that they will not unload Yugoslavian ships in East Coast and Gulf ports unless they are removed from the Cuban trade. This word came from Captain William Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, whose anti-Castro shipping crackdown has been far more potent than the State Department's slap on the wrist measures. Five Yugoslav ships were included in the latest list of "free world ships" trading with Cuba made public by the Maritime Administration. Two other Tito ships docked in Havana recently... Although the election is still six months off, backstage maneuvering already is active in the United Nations over who will succeed General Assembly President Zafrulla Khan, of Pakistan. The U. S. is backing Dr. Carlos Sosa-Rodrigues, of Venezuela. Russia has informed Brazil that it will support its candidate, former President Kubitschek, who will shortly be named head of Brazil's U. N. delegation... The State Department is setting up a "psychological warfare" office for Cuba. Its purpose is to find methods, short of military action, to keep Castro from spreading Communist revolution to other Latin American countries... President Kennedy has sent word to Senator Wayne Morse, R-Ore., that he is opposed to the publication of the Foreign Relations Committee's hearings on the ill-fated Cuban invasion. The unpublished hearings, held in 1961, left unsolved the mystery of who was responsible for calling off the second "air strike" planned against Castro's airfields.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "This 'true or false' question appeared in my daughter's 'social studies' exam: 'The making of treaties necessarily limits the sovereighnty of nations.' The 'correct' answer was 'true.'

"I stated to my daughter that I disgree, and that, in my opinion 'limited soverignty' is a contradiction in terms, since 'sovereign' is an adjective that admits of no comparison. I argued that the power to make treaties is a sovereign power, and, therefore, the making of a treaty is an exercise of sovereignty, not a limitation of it.

"I know this is a very significant question, and I am willing to stand correction if I am wrong.

"Will you please discuss this?"

Answer: Webster's Unabridged, Funk & Wagnalls Standard, and the Oxford English dictionaries, lists political sovereignty as "the supreme power in a state."

Thus if the "supreme power," in exercise of its sovereignty, makes a treaty which removes some of its power, we would suppose it would be limiting its power and abandoning its sovereignty in the issues considered in the treaty. This would appear to us to be a limited sovereignty.

We would say that the statement that "the making of treaties necessarily limits the sovereignty of nations" would not be true. A treaty conceivably could be an agreement whereby neither nation would invade the other's sovereignty, or that neither party to the agreement would invade a third party's sovereignty.

Portly passengers really get a bonus when they buy a plane ticket. Under existing regulations, every passenger is given a free baggage allowance of 40 pounds on domestic flights. The other day at Baltimore's Friendship International airport, we observed a passenger weighing well over 200 pounds with a bag. He paid no excess. We followed with 30 pounds of luggage and a portable that registered 17 pounds on the scales. Our weight is 145. We paid a charge for 8 pounds overage. We believe the carriers should increase baggage allowance to 60 pounds and charge passengers weighing over 182 an additional ticket rate. Why should normal passengers be penalized?

On the golf course at Cyprus Point at Carmel, California, it is not at all unusual to have geese amble across one's path or to see deer scurrying by — frightened by golfers invading territory the deer considers its own.

Latest fad among college and university students studying for their final examinations is to be seen carrying a box of No - Doz. One editor of a college paper frankly states it's the ONLY status symbol to have during that period. Whether used or not, seeing the box gives the impression that midnight oil has been burning. And coming up fast is the use of eyebrow pencils for simulating bags under the eyes.

A Baltimore bookstore advertises: Help stamp out TV—Read Books. Jai alai, the world's fastest ball game, was brought to Miami, Florida, over 30 years ago from Havana. It originated in the Spanish section of the Basque country of the Pyrenees along the Spanish-French border. Small hard balls are bounced off three walls, caught by players in hand baskets, called cestas, and flung back against the wall again by the contestants in rapid succession. It is usually played by two men each on a fronton court. Pari-mutuel betting is permitted... More than 100 registered nurses from the British Isles and Ireland will come to Boston this year for duty on the understaffed hospitals of that city. Already 34 atractive, blue-eyed colleens have arrived to work in the New England Medical Center.

Today's favorite gag: A bachelor, left in charge of an infant niece, was faced with a crisis. He frantically phoned a young acquaintance, a parent, who solved the problem in this man- to-man fashion: First, place the diaper in the position of a baseball diamond, with you at bat. Fold second base over home plate. Place baby in the pitcher's mound. Then pin first and third to home plate."

Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote: "There's no music like a little river's. It plays the same tune (and that's the favorite) over and over again, and yet does not weary of it like men fiddlers."... One of San Francisco's night spots is named the Hangover Club. And another restaurant in that city features a smoked whale meat sandwich.

You hear a great deal today about the Kennedy Dynasty, but in the early days of the Republic the three Virginian-born Presidents, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, all of the same political faith, were known as the Virginian Dynasty. Their terms of office ran from 1801 to 1825.

No one seems to know the exact reason for it, but in the publishing and advertising business, a magazine is called a "book," not a magazine. Yup, in the trade, the Saturday Evening Post, Look, Time and the rest of them are "books."..."Put your best foot forward" is a frequently heard expression. But, unless you're a three legged man, why shouldn't it be. "Put your better foot forward?" Oh, well; even Shakespeare wrote of "the most unkindest cut of all."...In one sense they WERE "the good old days." Back in 1913 when the Federal income tax was inaugurated, the highest rate of surtax on individual incomes was 6 per cent. Today the highest surtax is up to 90 per cent — not that it causes us any personal loss of sleep.

The Doctor Says:

Erythema Nodosum Starts With Fever

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Q—What is erythema nodosum? What causes it and what can be done for it?

A—Erythema nodosum is not a specific disease but may be a reaction to some infection which in a given person may or may not be identified. Among others it may be associated with tuberculosis or rheumatic fever. It usually starts with fever, localized pains, and general indisposition. The skin swellings are red, painful to touch, and vary in size from that of a filbert to that of a lime. Swellings come on rather suddenly and are most commonly seen on the legs. They are hard at first and later become soft but do not discharge pus. They gradually disappear in about 10 days.

If possible a person who has this condition should be placed in the hospital where every effort should be made to discover the cause. Unless the cause is determined the most your doctor can do is to try to relieve the symptoms.

Q—Is it normal for a 14-year-old girl who has just started to menstruate to skip a month or two between periods?

A—Yes.

Q—My sister, who keeps house for me, has progressive muscular dystrophy. She is almost bedridden. She tries to do the housework but her doctor wants her to discontinue most of this and rest. What do you think?

A—In most persons muscular dystrophy is a hereditary disease the cause of which is unknown. There is a wasting of the muscles especially of the shoulders, hips and back. There is no pain, and the disease does not shorten the life of the victim. With proper management many persons with this disease can remain reasonably active. It's a great mistake for a person with this condition to lose heart and abandon all efforts to help himself. In these persons the progressive weakness and muscular contractures that result are erroneously blamed on the progressive nature of the disease when often they are actually caused by inactivity, the atrophy of disuse.

Although there is no drug that will benefit sufferers, much can be done for most of them with physical therapy and the use of self-help mechanical devices designed to meet individual needs.

Walter Rogers Reports

Free World Arsenal

The United States has a clearly defined policy of keeping our powder dry and our arms at the ready. The cost is enormous to the taxpayers of this nation. But I know of no one who would see even one bayonet removed from our arsenal under the conditions existing in the world today.

I would like to tell you some of the things our country is doing to defend us. We are in the strongest, most flexible military position in our history. Let no one doubt that.

In the two-year period from January, 1961, to January, 1963, the United States increased by one-third the number of strategic delivery vehicles on station. These are our long-range bombers, our land-based and submarine - based strategic missiles. In these two years we have doubled the number of these weapons on alert status, ready for use at any instant. These are the forces we would need to carry out the main burden of battle in a general nuclear war. But the major mission of this force is to deter war by its capability to destroy the enemy's war-making potential, including not only his nuclear strike force and military installations, but also his urban society, if necessary.

In the same period, our general purpose air and ground forces have been boosted. In 1961, the U. S. Amy was composed of 11 combat-ready divisions. Today its strength totals 16 divisions ready for combat — an increase of 45 per cent. In 1961, we had 16 tactical fighter wings in the Air Force; today our tactical fighter wings total 21 — an increase of 31 per cent.

One of the major areas of our defense buildup has been in what are called counter - insurgency forces, units ready to conduct guerrilla warfare anywhere in the world. These units are being developed under the spur of President Kennedy's conviction that subliminted, indirect Communist aggression involving the use of guerrillas is the most likely form of aggression through this decade. Since January, 1961, the strength of our counter - insurgency forces has been doubled and re-doubled. This force is 540 per cent stronger than it was two years ago.

General Maxwell D. Taylor, President Kennedy's military advisor, said in a speech recently: "Mindful of the dangers of atomic warfare, we require a military policy which takes as its primary purpose the deterrence of that disaster. At the same time, however it must give due recognition to the need to cope with many situations short of general war. Happily, I believe that these objectives are thoroughly recognized and accepted in Washington today. When achieved, they will assure our leaders a wide range of choice when, at some future critical moment of our nation's history, they may be obliged to decide the issues of peace or war."

Defense Secretary McNamara recently told the House Armed Services Committee: "Last year I told this committee there is no question but that, today, our Strategic Retaliatory Forces are fully capable of destroying the Soviet target system, even after absorbing an initial surprise attack. This statement is still true. We have a total of about 650 manned bombers on 15-minute ground alert and over 200 operational ATLAS, TITAN, and MINUTEMAN missiles on launchers and about 144 POLARIS missiles in submarines. And this force is rapidly expanding as additional MINUTEMAN and POLARIS enter our operational inventory." Secretary McNamara added, "Allowing for losses from an initial enemy attack and attrition enroute to target, we calculate that our forces today could still destroy the Soviet Union without any help from the deployed tactical air units or carrier task forces or THOR or JUPITER IRBM's."

The President's Budget proposal for the coming fiscal year calls for defense expenditures totaling $56 billion — an increase of $2.6 billion over the current fiscal year and about $10 billion more than 1960. The proposal calls for additional purchases of intercontinental ballistic missiles and for six more Polaris submarines. Stress is being placed on improving the non-nuclear general forces. Members of the Armed Forces on active duty at the end of 1964 are expected to number 2.7 million. Our reserve strength will total one million men and women. Part of our defense expenditure next year will go to continuing research and development projects — a new general purpose booster rocket for the national space program, ballistic missile defense systems, a variety of anti-submarine warfare projects, a new tactical fighter aircraft, the Defense Communications Satellite System, and a Mobile Mid-Range Ballistic Missile. All of these are important to our future security in a dangerous world.

President Kennedy pointed out in his State of the Union Address that we continue "to require the best defense in the world — a defense which is suited to the Sixties. This means, unfortunately, a rising defense budget — for there is no substitute for adequate defense, and no 'bargain basement' way of achieving it." The United States of America is the most powerful nation in the world. And Soviet Khrushchev knows it.

On Congressional Humor

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTO N(UPI) — Someone once asked Will Rogers if the field of humor were crowded. "Only when Congress is in session," he replied.

Rogers, of course, operated in the day before comedy records, otherwise known as wax yaks, began flooding the market with high fidelity jokes and stereophonic chuckles.

Nowadays, the field of humor is crowded whether Congress is in session or not. At least it is in my neighborhood.

There always seems to be room for one more, however, and Rogers' quip will give you a fair idea of the type of stuff that is available in the latest comedy album to hit the turnables.

This one is different, all of the laughs being provided by amateur comedians who are professional politicians. Most of the others were put together by professional comedians who are amateur politicians.

Entitled "The Best of Washington Humor," the new record is the brainchild of Tait Trussell, one of our local newsmen, who collects specimens of political levity for fun and profit.

I enjoyed listening to it, but I thought it had two major weaknesses:

(1)—The politicans whose bon mots are presented in the album were trying to be funny. To me, the best humer in Washington is unintentional.

(2)—It contains a rather ponderous introduction by newscaster Chet Huntley. After hearing Huntley's comments on the subject, I would even have trouble laughing at Brinkley.

I mention this because I like to quibble. During one glorious season I won the intercollegiate nit-picking championship.

If for no other reason, the new record deserves honorable mention for introducing the public at large to the fine forensic style of Rep. D. R. (Billy) Mathews, a Florida Democrat who is my favorite authority on boiled peanuts.

Matthews is not as well known as some of the other political humorists, but when he is at the top of his game he can win points from the best of them.

Others in the album cast include President Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who explains why he would be willing to spend a term or two in the White House.

According to Goldwater, "Nobody could turn down such a golden opportunity to advance his family."

To my mind, however, the most entertaining portion of the record is occupied by former Rep. Brooks Hays, D-Ark., who now works at the White House in close proximity to Arthur Schlesinger, late of Harvard.

Hays says someone once complained to him that he and Schlesinger spend their time "answering questions nobody has asked."

Then there was the one about the little old lady who was asked which politician she voted for.

"I never vote," she sniffed; "It only encourages 'em."

Space Craft Power

LITCHFIELD PARK, Ariz. (UPI)—A device that can provide future space craft with power equivalent to that used by three modern homes is under development at the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation facility here. Ground tests of the big dish-shaped device, called a solar concentrator because it collects energy from the sun, will begin early next year. In actual use, it would be packed into a two-part cylinder, shot into space and unfolded. Plastic foam would give it the required rigidity.
