HILL COUNTRY KEEPS OLD SPANISH TRAILS

Word has been received here that the Old Spanish Trails Route, has been saved for the Hill Country of West Texas and that the directors of the United States Highway Association have definitely approved and designated the route from San Antonio through Boerne, Kerrville, Junction, Sonora, Ozona and Fort Stockton to Van Horn.

The Old Spanish Trail is one of the most traveled routes in the United States. It runs from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Cal., and is one of the few all-year routes across the continent.

The road from San Antonio to Sonora will be one of the best in the State when the last 10 miles of new road which is being built from Sonora to the Kimble County line is completed and opened for traffic on January 1, 1927.

With the completion of the Junction road, Sutton County will have finished its expenditures under its $300,000 bond issue passed three years ago.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO MEET NOVEMBER 4TH

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet next Thursday afternoon at 3:30, in regular business session, in the school auditorium, and all interested persons are cordially invited to attend and witness "Fire Prevention" program which the Association has arranged and will put on.

The program promises to be interesting as well as instructive, and it is given herewith, as follows:

Fire Drill, by entire school.
Songs: False Alarm, and Scottlands Burning, by pupils of Miss Lois Hankins.

Reading, Fire (Edward A. Guest), by Mae Delle Lowery.
Piano Solo, Midnight Fire Alarm (Harry J. Lincoln), by Jewel Riley.

Home Hazard Hints (State Fire Marshal), by Mrs. George Pepper.

Solo (Selected), by Miss Lois Pippin, accompanied by Mrs. Weaver H. Eaker.

Install Fire Escapes Regardless of Need (Paper by F. E. Gilmore, Dallas), by Mrs. Edgar Jordan.

Electricity, by representative of West Texas Utilities Company.

Mrs. A. W. Oeffler went to Houston last Saturday to attend a meeting of the Order of Eastern Star, which convenes in that city this week.

Mrs. Otto Herrmann, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. T. M. Hodges, Jr., for the past several weeks, left Tuesday for her home in Los Angeles, California.

John R. Martin left Tuesday for San Angelo where he goes on business connected with the Federal Land Bank of Houston; from there he will go to Alpine and Sanderson before returning home.

SPLENDID REPORT ON JUNCTION SCHOOL

Professor J. J. Brown, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, has been in Junction the past week looking over the work here, and in making his report, he has handed Junction several compliments relative to the work which has been and is being done here under the supervision of Mr. Ross Brison.

Mr. Brown states that Junction evidently had a very successful school last year, and bids fair to be even better the coming year. He is quite well pleased with the work being done by Mr. Brison, and compliments him very highly.

He thinks that the school board should be commended for its close co-operation with the State Department of Education.

Further in his report, he states: "That with the excellent building, good equipment and splendid corps of teachers, as well as excellent esprit de corps, Junction will have her very best school year."

JACK RIDDLE DIES

Jack Riddle, known to many of this county, died at Stanton, Texas, recently and was buried at that place.

Deceased was born in Kentucky, in 1834, and came to Texas when ten years of age with his parents, who settled in Titus County.

He grew to manhood in that part of the State, and served as Texas Ranger for seven years. He was also a Confederate soldier, and served during the Civil War.

The funeral services were conducted by the Masonic Order, of which he was a member, and the religious services were conducted by Rev. Sailors, pastor of the Baptist Church at Stanton.

The program which was to have been carried out by the Parent-Teachers' Association this afternoon has been postponed until the first Thursday in November, in deference to Mr. F. E. Garrett, a member of the school board, whose wife died yesterday.

JOHN ALEXANDER MILLER DIED HERE LAST SUNDAY

Another of the old settlers of Kimble County passed to the Great Beyond last Sunday at 10 o'clock, which has caused considerable grief throughout the entire county.

Mr. Alexander Miller, born in Mississippi, February 15, 1848, died in Junction October 24, 1926. He had been in bad health for some time and for the past few weeks friends and relatives had given up all hope of recovery, and the end came not unexpectedly.

Mr. Miller came to Texas from Mississippi in 1870, settling in Guadalupe County, near Seguin, living there for four years when he moved to Kimble County in 1874, settling on the Johnson Fork, in the vicinity of which place he spent the remainder of his days.

Deceased is the father of nine children, all of whom were with him at the time of his death. The children are: William Miller, of Uvalde; Alford and Leander, of London; Larkin, of Junction; Mrs. J. L. Wright, Mrs. P. T. Hodges, Mrs. Dug Jobs, Mrs. Margie Jobs, and Mrs. Zora Burt, all of Junction.

Besides his wife and the above mentioned children, he has quite a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, as well as some great-great-grandchildren, who survive to mourn his demise.

Those of the grandchildren who were here to attend the funeral were: Selby Jobs, Bill and Nettie Wright, from Howard Payne College, at Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parker, of Noxville; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sykes of Sonora; Mr. and Mrs. Felton Wright, of Ballinger.

Funeral services were held Monday, October 25, at the Junction Cemetery, where interment was made, among a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Mrs. Flossie Blardone and Mrs. Dupuy left Thursday for Port Lavaca, where they will spend the winter.

LOCAL MOVIE THEATRE MAKES IMPROVEMENTS

E. G. Lockley, manager of the local movie theatre, returned from Dallas Wednesday of last week where he went to buy opera seats, a new projection machine, and to book more notable feature films for showing here.

The new picture machine was installed the first of this week and now Junction theatre has as good and as clear a reproduction on the silver screen as any theatre in larger cities than this. Monday night's picture program was free to all who attended, as the management wished to show the improvement the new machine would make.

Mr. Lockley announces that beginning November 2nd, the theatre will present three programs each week, one Tuesday and Wednesday, another Thursday and Friday, and one on Saturday.

The local theatre has been giving some very fine and costly pictures lately, and there are several other big feature pictures contracted for to be shown on future dates. The "Black Pirate" was shown here last week end with a good attendance, and this week end Lon Chaney in "The Pat" will be the notable picture.

The management of the Junction Theatre should receive the hearty congratulations of the movie fans of this section for the efforts expended in giving the best in movie entertainment.

Rev. J. L. Rea, wife and son of Kenedy, in company with Rev. L. M. Ratcliff and Mr. Meyer of Beeville arrived in the city Monday afternoon, where they spent Monday night. Rev. Rea and family were guests of the former's sister, Mrs. J. Virgil Davis, and Rev. Ratcliff and Mr. Meyer were guests at the home of Mrs. Ada Dockery. The party were en route to San Angelo, where they will attend the Methodist District Conference which is in session at that place. Rev. J. Virgil Davis of this city accompanied them to San Angelo Tuesday.

SUTTON COUNTY MOHAIR BRINGS TOP PRICES

The Sutton County pool, consisting of 175,000 pounds of mohair, has been sold to J. M. Lea of San Angelo, representing Draper & Co., Boston, for the top price of the season.

The kid hair brought 78 cents and the old hair 65 cents. The wool has been delivered and the money is on deposit to the growers' credit in the First National Bank at Sonora.

The Sutton County pool consists of the wool and mohair of a large number of sheep and goat men who have been pooling their clips. The largest contribution from any one grower was under 5,000 pounds.

RAINFALL TO DATE SHOWS 26.07 INCHES

Mr. E. Hekamp, the official weather man, has handed in the following figures on the amount of rainfall to date, which shows slightly above the average for previous years, with two more months to go. The average is about 23 inches.

The figures for each month's follow:
January, 2.90; February, none; March, 4.48; April, 2.72; May, 3.24; June, 4.51; July, 1.32; August, 1.20; September, .43; October, 5.17.

The rains of the past two or three weeks have brought the amount of rainfall to date above the past average and puts ranges in excellent condition.

On Thursday of last week, the little daughter of Son Hodges had a very narrow escape from drowning when she fell into the stock water trough near the house. The little one has been walking only a short time and had wandered away from her mother when the accident happened, and when found it was thought that she was drowned, but when medical aid was summoned, and the little girl examined, it was found that she could be revived, and efforts to that end were immediately made, and at last report, the little girl was fast on the road to recovery.

Mr. M. Huffman was in the city Wednesday and renewed subscriptions for himself and daughter, Miss Lela, who is in San Antonio as stenographer for the Famous-Players-Lasky Film Corporation. He states that Miss Lela has been with this concern about a year now, and is very much pleased with her work. She is a graduate of the Draughon Business College of San Antonio, and never misses an opportunity to speak a good word for that school. Mr. Huffman also subscribed for The Eagle to be delivered to his wife here in Junction during the school term.

The Eagle was informed of the death of Mrs. F. E. Garrett, which occurred in Austin Wednesday, but as the information reached us just as we were going to press, it was not possible to get the details as to where her funeral will take place, and when.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Craven were here last week from Austin, looking after their sons, Cecil and Lee. They are back in Austin this week, making preparations to move back to Junction as Mr. Craven has accepted a position with Wigley's Drug Store as prescriptionist.

Mrs. C. K. Stevenson left Thursday for San Antonio and Houston, where she will attend the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, after which she will visit her sister, Mrs. French Murphy, in Nacogdoches.

LETTIA BARES HER CLAWS

Letitia was looking at a Curtiss, her face troubled and discontented.

"You didn't tell Sallie, did you?" she continued, apparently seeing and enjoying the discomfiture her insinuation was causing.

"Now," replied Curtiss, "I haven't seen her long enough to reveal all the deep, hidden secrets of my wild life during our separation," he tried to make light of the conversation but Letitia was determined to pursue the subject.

"I never start anything I can't finish," she laughed flipantly and her voice rang with carefree bravado, so I'm going to tell Sallie. You see, the other day when I saw Curtiss for the first time since the old days in California, I was so thrilled over seeing him again, that I threw my arms about him and kissed him, without thinking, Louie Beatty and a bunch of the boys who saw me have never ceased kidding me about it either. Why, what's the matter, Sallie? For Heaven's Sake, I believe you're peaved. You don't really mind do you?"

Her face was temperamental as a May morning—ever-changing in its expression. Now to all outward appearances she was sorry for a misdeed and her whole manner was one of absolute dejection.

"Certainly not," I answered quickly, "please don't think I'm that old-fashioned." But I hoped that my voice did not reveal the resentment I felt towards this girl, who was the first Curtiss had kissed since we were married. The future might hold many such episodes as Letitia had just related but none could bring the heartbreak of his first aberration.

"Well, I don't know, some wives are so unreasonable about their husbands—especially when they're good-looking!" She concluded smiling flatteringly up at Curtiss. I felt more and more uncomfortable and I shall always be grateful to Sibley Crawford, who came up just at that time and asked me to dance.

Going home later in the car I realized that an inferiority complex held and bound me when I was in the presence of Letitia Evans. This was indeed a new experience, because I had always had a full share of confidence in my own talents.

"Well, what do you think of Tish?" began Curtiss. "She's a cute kid, isn't she, honey?" I felt a quick flow of criticism rush to my lips but because I was foreign to my nature to be jealous and "catty" I stopped the vituperative utterances that would have fallen.

"She's very modern and er—quite pretty," I finally managed.

"So you want to help you get the things for the house," he continued, "she told me to tell you that she could save tomorrow morning for you to begin with, while I think was very good of her, because she's quite busy." She had a cousin in New York and they say she lists her marvelous color combinations. I thought perhaps—

"That I wasn't able to select the furnishings for my own home," I questioned tartly.

"No, of course not, darling. I've questioned your taste in such matters. I only know that this is a day of specialties and I thought perhaps Tish could assist you as she has gone so thoroughly into the subject. Just tonight at the dinner table, you remember, Mrs. Caldwell said that there should be a law passed by the Legislature for—bidding brides of less than five years from selecting their own furniture and so on. It seems that they get so many things that are impractical and just making bad any impression. It is very strange. The best I could do is to let you know that I am not really in a hurry to change."

"Well, for once and all, Curtiss," I interrupted, "I won't have Letitia Evans or any other woman dictating to me about the things I'm to have in a house that I'm to live in. Anyway, to hear you talk, one would think that I am positively lucky."

I felt justified in my righteous indignation over his suggestion and it was some time before he convinced me that he had only wanted to save me the annoyance and trouble.

In the dream album of every girl there is a picture, sometimes faint and again, in many cases, quite definite, about the sort of rugs, chairs, tables, divans and bra-s-brae she wants for her own lovenest. I myself had many decided ideas about furnishings which, if carried out, would make our little house distinctive and different.

I scoured the furniture shops in town but their offerings were so stereotyped to consist of I disliked intensely anything that had been exactly or pieces that came in sets or "suits"—as the salesman called the heavy looking groupings which, to me, were abominably depressing. I wanted everything in our home to have its own character and individuality with a sort of poetry in even the smallest chair and table.

At last I came across a decorating company which was in competition to Letitia Evans. It was owned by a Frenchman who was an artist and who did not attempt to force his opinions on me while making my selections.

For days I reveled in hand-blocked linens for draperies, lovely shaded rugs of solid, soft-toned colors, old chests, Renaissance tables, Florentine desks and antique candelabra.

For my dining room I selected a refectory table, gracefully long and narrow, the pedestal being of hand-wrought iron and the board of black marble. There were two low benches, intricately carved for either side and two tall and stuning chairs for the host and hostess. These were done in old gold parchment, the backs enlivened with Spanish emblems of myriad shades. A narrow console with top and brackets of black marble I ordered for one side of the entrance and a niche in the rough plastered walls would hold a Della Robbia that had been stolen from a Cathedral in Florence. The draperies would be hung from old-blue wooden poles from huge wooden rings. For the bed-chambers unfinished pieces were selected and decorated to suit my fancy. I persuaded Monsieur Lemongre to have the foot-boards removed from the beds in imitation of some I had admired in the Palace at Fontainebleau.

For the living room there was a rug covering the entire floor made of alternate stripes of mauve and deep violet color. Beige linen with a gay flower pattern made bright splashes at the long, casement windows. A divan and several small tables painted leaf-green and robin's-egg blue were placed here and there, making a pleasing ensemble. Dainty, low chairs that set immediately upon the floor, such as I had seen at the Exposition in Paris and narrow hanging book shelves completed the room in which Curtiss and

When we were at home.

Curtiss was not permitted to see any of the things until everything was in its place. This suited him perfectly as he was increasingly busy; ever working well into the night.

I reveled in the colors I had chosen and was especially well pleased with the finished result as I had planned everything entirely by myself.

At last the momentous day arrived when we were to spend our first night in our adorable little house. I anticipated the event with as much enthusiasm as I had other memorable occasions in my life—such as my graduation—my debut and my wedding day.

If everything turned out as happily as I expected, I would have added another bouquet to Memory's immutable delights!

How will Curtiss like his little home?

Cotton Prices Picking Up

Cotton prices are advancing some, due to the holding movement, the agitation for reduced acreage, and the increased interest in the use of cotton goods. It will continue to advance unless growers get picky and rush the crop to market before the prices reach a profitable basis. The feeling now is that the price should reach 29 cents and that the crop should be held back from market until it does. With proper co-operative effort even a higher price should be obtained. The advice of experienced cotton men is to hold and not to turn loose the crop on any slight advances. Every cotton-growing State will be systematic ically canvassed county by county to encourage holding and to get every grower to contract to reduce acreage next year at least one-third. It is hoped that this may be done by the first of November. Every farmer and business man should join in this movement with all his strength. The prosperity of the South depends on united effort.

Increasing Use of Cotton

The Imperial Sugar Company, at Sugarland, Texas, has set a good example in adopting cotton bags for sugar containers in place of jute bags. It is stated that this will make a market for 2,500 bales of cotton, and that if merchants will only ask for sugar in cotton sacks hereafter the Imperial Mills alone will consume 7,000 bales annually for that purpose. The Texas Parent-Teachers' Association is to start a campaign at its November meeting in Fort Worth for wearing cotton clothes, the members being expected to dress in cotton for that meeting. This movement should be carried into every school in the country, both as a matter of economy and to increase cotton consumption. An effective permanent organization is needed to keep the people reminded that they should return to the use of cotton goods.

Texas Needs More Labor

The United States department of Labor reports that practically all labor in Texas is absorbed through industrial activities and the increased demand for farm labor. The industries do not appear to be suffering to any great extent, but the farms are sustaining large losses because farm labor cannot be obtained to save the large crops. Much cotton will not be picked because pickers cannot be had. Texas is going to waste because there are not enough pickers. Much of the strawberry crop had to be left unpicked. Acres of onion slips could not be saved. Across the Rio Grande in Mexico there are thousands of laborers hungry, for lack of work. Texas can use all the labor that can be obtained on its farms.

Great Need for Industries

At the meeting of the Texas Textile Association in Fort Worth, President J. G. Conan, of Mexia, stated that the cotton mills of the State are all prospering, and that most of them are working night shifts. He also stated that there is room for many more such mills in the State. There are only about 25 textile mills in Texas, and ten times as many are needed. It is a pity that Texas is not prepared to manufacture all its 5,000,000 bale cotton crop. There are scores of Texas towns with plenty of capital to build and operate enough cotton mills to convert the raw product into goods worth ten times as much as the raw cotton.

Hunting Markets and Labor

The South Texas Chamber of Commerce is being organized to serve all that part of Texas to Marfa through Brady to Bay City. It will have many problems to solve that are largely local to that territory. The first year will be given mainly to matters of labor and marketing. Marketing involves transportation and co-operation, for which ample and reasonable freight and express rates and co-operative selling, South Texas will have its continued prosperity assured. The South Texas chamber will have a great work to do in a field largely its own.

East Texas Publication

"East Texas" is a new publication issued by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in the interest of that part of Texas. It is a neat and creditable journal, to which a number of the secretaries of local chambers of commerce of East Texas have contributed articles and their pictures. A close study of it makes one wonder, though, whether "East Texas" is serving that part of the State or Shreveport, Louisiana. Certainly Shreveport carries most of the advertising.

Getting Ready for Tourists

Fredericksburg, Kerrville, Junction, Burne, Alpine, Marfa and a number of other places in the "Hill Country" and mountain section of Texas are building new hotels, remodeling the old ones, constructing tourists' camps and otherwise getting ready for a big tourist trade that is expected next spring and summer. The "See Texas First" idea is growing.

Sees Texas Growth

B. C. Forbes, one of the country's leading financial writers, has been to Brownsville, and predicts a wonderful growth for that part of the State. It is a very safe prediction even for an expert on predictions, and Mr. Forbes could well have extended his remarks to blanket the entire State of Texas.

SOME LIGHT ON APPEL-LATE COURT CASES

So much general criticism and so little of detailed information touching the courts of the State have been published that I have prepared from the records facts covering the last ten years.

The result of my research is embraced in the enclosed statement, and I believe you will find it of interest.

The outstanding facts that of each 100 felony cases tried, 85 are convicted, while but 13 are acquitted and only 5 reversed, are matters of which the public is not aware, and of which I think it should be so informed, through the press and otherwise.

Statement showing number of felony cases tried in Texas and results for a 10-year period ending August 31, 1926:

Trials, 27,012; convictions,
23,002; reversals, 1,208.

Figures were compiled from reports of district clerks. The law requires such reports, and that the Attorney General embrace the data in his bi-annual report to the Governor. The reports are not complete in that only part of the clerks made reports to the Attorney General.

The counties embraced in the reports, and from which the above figures were obtained are as follows:

Two-year period, ending August, 1918, 208 counties. Two-year period ending August, 1920, 221 counties. Two-year period ending August, 1922, 147 counties. Two-year period ending August, 1924, 80 counties.
Two-year period ending August, 1926, 166 counties.

From the figures mentioned, it appears that of each 100 cases tried, the result is approximately as follows:

Convictions, 85; acquittals,
15; reversals, 5.

Other information is obtainable from the reports mentioned, such as the number of indictments, dismissals, and the nature of the offenses. To embrace all would extend this statement too much, and additional facts obtainable from the public records mentioned will, when compiled, be embraced in another statement.

The foregoing relates to felony cases only. The data at present available, relating to misdemeanors, covers but four years, viz: 1916 to 1918, 181 counties; 1918 to 1920, 161 counties; and discloses the following:

Trials, 32,000; convictions,
28,000; reversals, 184.

The misdemeanor reports do not include trials in justice and corporation courts, but only those in county courts of the counties reporting. The data touching appeals and reversals was compiled from the records of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

OLIN W. FINGER, Clerk,
Court of Criminal Appeals.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By E. R. Waite)

Sydney I. Snow, managing editor of the Reading, Pennsylvania Tribune, says:

THAT the newspaper interesting women readers is that of greatest value to the buyer of advertising space. Women control 70 per cent of the purse-strings of the Nation. Watch an alert, intelligent woman read her newspaper and draw your own conclusions. She goes through the department store advertising with the same enthusiasm that a baseball addict attacks the sports page. She lists the things she wants and the places to get them. She plans her shopping trip systematically—to buy most advantaneously and to conserve her energy. To her the merchant's message is news.

And after all, all good advertising is news. That does not mean, as some of the press seem to think, that all good news is advertising. But advertising does have a definite news value. Anyone who has tried to build up circulation knows that. The whole thing works around in a circle. If the publisher has circulation, he can get advertising; if he has advertising, he can get circulation. Of course he must maintain a balance between news, features and advertising.
He cannot afford to have his clientele complain that he is running a magazine instead of a newspaper. He must have an alert news room force to be successful.

He must also sell ideas to the buyers of space. This must be done diplomatically, or the merchant will develop resentment at what appears to him an effort to tell him how to run his business. But if that merchant is wasting the space he buys, the publisher should be honest enough to tell him. For after all, the merchant will not be a good space customer when he finds that his advertising is not pulling as he expected, and he will place the blame upon the newspaper as a medium, not upon himself as an advertisement writer.

Despite the rapidly increasing numbers of women in business and professional life and in industry, most of them are still chiefly interested in matters concerning the care of children or of a house. Therefore, I believe it wise, as we are doing at the Tribune, to seek to make a good part of the paper a "trade journal" for housekeepers. For our reason, just watch a man reading a trade journal pertaining to his particular activity in life. He will read the advertising first.

I believe that by building up a greater appeal to the Nation's housekeepers, a newspaper can increase its efficiency as an advertising medium. The drift of thought among men who have spent their lives in studying advertising is toward greater use of newspaper space. These experts know that all intelligent advertising pays but have found that the newspapers, with their quick and effective contacts with great numbers of buyers, pay best.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas is now the leading oil
State, producing 601,451 barrels a day to 609,000 for California, and 467,110 for Oklahoma in September.

Spindletop and the Panhandle moved Texas from third place among the States in production of petroleum to first place.

Texas stands away up in the list of oil producing States where crude oil is processed into the finished product.

Texas leads all the States in the use of natural gas for fuel in producing power and in industry.

No other State has such potential and developed diverse fuel resources as Texas has in petroleum, natural gas, and lignite.

Circle to Destiny

This scientific and destiny can be read by consulting the people dance.
The total destination of a society state can be read by consulting the people dance. The people dance is a thing of the future, and it will come when the dance.

Costly Elegance

About 35,000 persons in Great Britain pay taxes for using armorial bearings on automobiles and carriages.

A Letter

In the South Sea Islands there is a little fish about six inches long which the natives use to leave the water to hunt insects and worms on the beach.

A FEW GOOD SANDWICHES

For an occasion when hearts are an appropriate decoration try:

Heart Sandwiches.— Drain one pint from a can, rinse in cold water, dry between two towels and then mash through a sieve. Mash one cream cheese, add gradually the pulp of the pimiento, stirring until well blended; add an equal measure of finely chopped stuffed olives, mixture with mayonnaise with a heart-shaped cutter cut small hearts from thin slices of white bread. Spread half of them with mayonnaise and the other half with the cheese mixture. Put together in pairs, press the edges together and garnish each sandwich with a tiny heart cut from the drained pimientos—use a small vegetable cutter for this purpose.

Chicken and Ham Sandwiches.— Cream one-third of a cupful of butter, add gradually one-half cupful each of chicken and ham, cold boiled ham, finely chopped. Season with salt, pepper and cayenne to taste. Spread thin slices of entire wheat or Graham bread with mayonnaise and an equal number of slices with the meat mixture; put together in pairs, trim of crusts and cut into triangular pieces.
Serve with tea or coffee.

Wheat Bread Sandwiches.— Steam brown bread in one-half pound baking powder cans. Cut into slices one-fourth inch thick, spread with butter.
Close fine one-half cupful of walnut meats, mix with one cupful of American cheese and mustard with sandwich dressing. The cheese should be grated. Use as filling on buttered bread and garnish each sandwich with a perfect half of a nut meat. Serve with coffee.

Swiss Cheese Sandwiches. Spread thin slices of rye bread with prepared mustard, cover with thin slices of Swiss cheese. Spread as many slices of bread with mayonnaise, cover with very thin slices of southern onion, spread the onion lightly with the mayonnaise, put together in pairs, trim and serve with coffee.

There's a dance every night,
where there's a Radiola 20 in the home. And it brings in more than music and songs. Weather and crop reports—news—excitement!

It has the newest features of radio—single control—and a power tube. But it has been thoroughly tried,

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

and Save the Difference!

Let's Stop and Think What the Difference Means to You!

Touring Car $460.73; Roadster $440.25; Coupe $574.43; Tudor $584.67; Fordor $635.87; Truck, complete with cab and body, $560.40. Tractor, $605.50, with Fenders

These prices mean delivered at your door fully equipped, balloon tires and filled up with gas and oil. THESE PRICES also represent a saving of nearly $200.00 against any other make of car, and just think what this saving can and will buy for the whole family.

LET'S STOP AND FIGURE—HERE ARE EIGHT REASONS:

It will buy four to six good suits or dresses, or other dry goods for all the members of the family—

OR

It will buy a brand new model Victrola or Piano or Radio, or some other good musical instrument, that the whole family will enjoy—

OR

It will buy some valuable furniture, linoleums, carpets, stoves and kitchen utensils the wife's been wanting for so long, and should have, and the whole family will enjoy the comforts thereof—

OR

It will buy an electric range, electric washing machine or other electrical fixtures, that will add much to the comfort of the entire family, if you live in town or near an electric line—

OR

It will buy needed farm implements that will make farming more pleasant and profitable—

OR

It can be used to improve the home and farm for the comfort of the entire family—

OR

You can use this big saving to a hundred different advantages, and still know that you are owning one of the best automobiles, built by the largest automobile industry in the world.

In this country where cars are put to the supreme test over all kinds of roads, steep hills, river crossings, and where they are used for every conceivable purpose, Fords are given the hardest test, day in and day out. Fords are given the hardest treatment, yet those who have them know their value, the low upkeep and low depreciation—and half the used cars sold are FORDS.

Give your Ford the same consideration and care that you would give any other car and you will get many more years of service.

Come and visit us whether you buy anything or not.

FOUR REASONS WHY 11 MILLION FORD CARS ARE NOW BOUGHT AND BEING USED DAILY:

BEST VALUES, LOWEST COST PRICE, MOST CAR VALUE FOR YOUR DOLLAR.

EXCELLENT SERVICE STATIONS IN EVERY COMMUNITY, WITH FULL STOCK OF PARTS, ASSURES YOU PROMPT REPAIR JOB AND NO WAITING.

REPAIR COST HALF OR LESS THAN HALF OF ANY OTHER CAR.

RESALE VALUE 30 PER CENT MORE IN PROPORTION TO ORIGINAL COST.

That's Why Other Dealers Offer You More—They Want That Ford.

CARNIVAL MEMBERS
JAILED AT MENARD

Menard Messenger: The said carnival has come and gone. Most everyone in this immediate vicinity had occasion to view it and its offerings from a close-up. Personally, the writer has not heard of any particular way in which the attraction helped the town. What we think of it as an individual probably would weigh very lightly with the large majority of people. However, there is one concrete example of what kind of reaping may be expected with such sowing.

As this is being written two young men, reported to have been associated with the carnival, are lodged in the county jail. Sheriff Walston made quite a run Wednesday into McCulloch County in order to bring these fellows back to Menard to answer for their conduct. Two young ladies were reported leaving in company with these men and so the arrest was made. This is a brief statement of the example that we have to call your attention to.

There is this further comment that may be made with reference to traveling carnivals. There are always a greater or less number of young men with them who do not care for their own lives, and they are the ones who make a study of becoming popular with the home girls during the stay of their show. When the show leaves they leave, and the young women who form their own personal friendship seldom if ever find any advantage from the acquaintance. In short, these smooth-tongued, bold-fronted, world-be-poor carnival dudes, should be let for worse.

Someone has suggested that to fail to patronize such shows will drive them out quicker and more effectively than any other method. Probably so, but this is seldom done by the public which is made to bear the expense of just such legal amples and procedures as the one above mentioned. Good clean home amusement should be encouraged and the transient, questionable character gangs should be told to seek other half-acres on which to pitch tents.

SOCIALISM AFFECTS EVERY INDIVIDUAL

Both Oregon and California will vote at the November election on measures which provide money for State development of hydroelectric power. Oregon is asked for $50,000,000, California for $500,000,000.

In Oregon the amount demanded would nearly double the bonded indebtedness of the State, while in California, the amount sought would nearly double the bonded indebtedness of the State, cities and counties combined.

Neither measure would increase taxable assets because publicly-owned property is not taxable. But each measure would add enormously to the liability of taxpayers, farm owners, home owners and all taxable property which would be responsible for payment of interest and principal on the bonds issued.

Aside from all other reasons which could be advanced against this political ownership and operation of industry, the foregoing is in itself sufficient to cause any thoughtful person to refrain from further increasing the bonded burden of his State, and especially for an undertaking which is in the field of private enterprise and entirely outside the function of government.

The logger out in the woods, the fisherman on the river, the brakeman on the train, the agent writing insurance and the clerk selling a necktie may think that schemes for State ownership of industry have no effect on their jobs or their cost of living. They are sadly mistaken. Any measure which doubles the bonded debt burden, increases direct taxes and discourages the investment of private capital and labor, affects every man, woman and child, from day laborer to railroad president.

MISS SPILLER HOSTESS

On Tuesday afternoon the attractive ranch home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Spiller, Miss Flora Mae Spiller was hostess at a 1 o'clock Halloween luncheon of charming appointment, arranged to honor Mrs. Andrew Patterson and Mrs. Lee J. Corkill.

Six tables of players gathered for the hospitality in rooms made especially warm by jack-o'-lanterns, were black cats with scarp tails, black witches and hobgoblins. After the arrival of all the guests a most delicious two-course turkey luncheon and all the goodies was served by Mrs. Lee J. Corkill, Misses Clara Fritz and Flora Mae Spiller, who wore black and orange crepe paper aprons and caps. Little nut baskets and salad favors also carried out the Halloween motif.

At the close of the game Mrs. H. G. Henry was awarded a lovely hand-painted bottle of orange bath salt for the Laff-A-Lot high club prize and Mrs. Ed White received a hand-painted water jug filled with orange bath salt as high guest prize. The special gifts to the honorees were a box of pretty linen handkerchiefs to Mrs. Patterson, and attractive hand-painted ivory shoe trees and horn to Mrs. Corkill, who also received second club prize, a package of bath salt. Mrs. Mamm Wolf was consoled with little cluster of orange sachet packages in shapes of onions. At 6 o'clock tea and cake were served, after which the guests departed, all declaring the affair a "howling" success. —By A Guest.
