Rains Up To 12 Inches Soak County

Lakes Continue To Catch Water

Water Damage

SWIFT RUNNING WATER caused by intense rainfall in the past nine days cut a swath through this neatly plowed field in the Seven Wells community. Many terraces were broken during the heavy downpour.

Hail Covers Ground

AN INTENSE HAILSTORM in the Seven Wells Community Thursday covered the ground with the small white stones in many sections of the area. A similar storm in Lorraine damaged roofs and inflicted heavy losses on the community's fruit crop.

Terrestrial rains continued to soak Mitchell County Saturday with one report for the nine day rains hitting 12 inches.

That big report came from Seven Wells, south of Lake Colorado City, who had recorded 12 inches through Saturday morning. He received 1.5 inches in the shower Saturday.

Colorado City's official gauge at the courthouse had .83 for the Saturday shower and a total of 5.73 to date in April. The Saturday shower could make 1966 the second wettest ever recorded in the official county records.

In 1922 a total of 12.28 inches fell and in 1937 the city had 6.21 inches. Thus, another half inch Saturday could have put this April into second place.

During last April, a total of 3.29 was reported.

The Colorado City total is among the lowest coming in from all areas of the county.

Some sources in the Seven Wells area report up to 4 inches and Bill Thompson at the Lake Champion turned in a report of 8.75 for the nine days including two inches Saturday.

Both county lakes continued to rise with Lake Colorado City's level six feet as of 8 a.m. Saturday and still rising.

Thompson, who checks the Champion level, said it had caught three feet and that South and North Champion Creeks were "still running full."

Morgan Creek, flowing into Lake C-City, was also flowing full Saturday morning.

Cuthbert — 8.00 inches, China Grove — 6.00 inches, drizzle Saturday.

Buford — 6.50 inches, 50.100 Saturday.

Leoney — 8.70 inches, 2.00 Saturday.

Lake C-City — 7.00 inches, 1.75 Saturday.

Westbrook — 9.00 inches, 3.00 Saturday.

Lorraine — 8.00 inches, .80 Saturday.

Mrs. Francis Winn in the Spade Community south west of Colorado City gave a 10-inch rainfall total with 2.4 inches Saturday morning.

A seven inch total came in from two miles south of the city.

Herbert Mearse in Lorraine reported minor roof damage in that city from Thursday's hail storm and heavy damage to fruit in the area. The hail was small but very intense during the 35-minute siege according to Mearse.

Mrs. Evatt Rites Friday

Last rites for Mrs. Minnie Evatt, 80, were held Friday at 2 p.m. in Kiker and Son, Chapel with the Rev. Linus Prentice, pastor of the Evangelist Methodist Church in Slaton, officiating.

A former Colorado City resident, Mrs. Evatt died at 10 p.m. Wednesday in Douglas, Ariz. after a long illness.

Born in Alabama on July 21, 1885, she had spent most of her life in Texas. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors included a son, B. L. of Alford, Ariz.; four brothers, L. L., Pat and Jim Bodine of Colorado City and Fred Bodine of Abilene; four sisters, Mrs. J. E. Wilson of Itasca, Mrs. Lloyd Morris of Moran, and Mrs. J. R. Jacks and Mrs. Mallie Levens, both of Abilene.

Local Attorney Tommy Rees Master of Ceremonies Tommy Marrick read letters from several candidates, including District Clerk Bill Erwin, Senatorial hopefuls John Tower and Waggoner Call, Railroad Commission entries Paul Haring and Byron Tunnell and from Lt. Governor Preston Smith.

Beginning Thursday, the representative will be in the Chamber of Commerce conference room from 8:30-9:30 a.m.

to accept applications and claims for unemployment compensation. The morning schedule will continue with bi-monthly visits according to Lawson C. Burkhardt, TEC office manager in Sweetwater.

Absentee Deadline Tuesday

Absentee vote total climbed to 33 for the democratic primary election in Mitchell County with the Tuesday deadline fast approaching.

Nineteen requests had been received by mail and 16 persons voted at the county clerk's office.

Any voter who will be out of the county on election day, Saturday May 7, may cast his ballot in the clerk's office during regular working hours.

Persons apply in writing when illness or physical disability prevents them from reaching the polls. In this case a certificate is required by the voter's physician indicating that the person is unable to appear in person to cast his ballot.

Howard Cox is election judge for the absentee box in the Democratic Primary.

Voters are being reminded that the deadline is Tuesday, May 3, for casting absentee ballots.

TESCO Plans Office Move

Texas Electric Service Company has announced plans to move their business office to a new location at 406 Walnut St.

First day of operation in the newly remodeled offices will be May 9 according to Don Benson, TESCO office manager in Colorado City.

"The new office will be more convenient and easy to reach by our customers," Benson said.

Display and accounting office facilities occupy the front portion of the building. In other parts of the centrally heated and air conditioned building will be offices for the manager, service and meter men and a large conference and meeting room.

May 6 is the last day of work in their present facilities where TESCO has been located since 1927.

Roger Brown "Clears Air" On Sales Tax Exemptions

By JAMES ANDERSON
Record News Editor

The heated battle for the 72nd District's seat in the state legislature again burst into the political spotlight in Mitchell County Friday night.

Speaking before 50 persons at the Jaycee political rally, State Representative Roger Brown of Big Spring said emphatically, "I oppose removal of the sales tax exemptions on farm machinery, medicine and food."

Brown made the statement in denial of charges by State Representative Temple Dickson of Sweetwater that he (Brown) favored the removal of exemptions on the three items.

"I want to clear the air in this room and on the radio," Brown told the audience referring to his opponent's charge.

Dickson has been hitting hard on the issue since April 22 when he made the charge against Brown during a rally in the Seven Wells community.

Brown said "there seems to be some confusion" referring to his feelings on taking away the exemptions on the mentioned items.

"Both Governor John Connally and Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith have said the state will be faced with a $150 million tax bill," Brown said.

"There are three ways to raise the money — remove the exemptions, have a state income tax or raise the sales tax."

The Big Spring legislator voiced opposition to any increase in ad valorem taxes for more revenue.

"I would rather remove the exemptions (sales tax) than to have a state income tax," Brown commented.

Sweetwater attorney Johnny Moore, speaking in behalf of Dickson who was attending rallies in Big Spring, said, "Temple Dickson is unalterably opposed to taking the exemptions off farm machinery."

Moore pointed out the importance of farming in the district and that loss of exemptions would be a great blow to many marginal operations.

The speaker emphasized Dickson's previous experience in the Legislature as being valuable to the district. He noted Dickson was appointed to five standing committees and also served as secretary for the Interim House committee working with inland salt water pollution.

"His opponent has served only 10 days in the Legislature," Moore said, "and he's not on any committees."

Brown was elected in a special election and served only in the session dealing with the writing of a voter registration law.

Moore pointed out Dickson had supported education and that teachers' groups in Nolan and Mitchell Counties had endorsed him for reelection.

The speaker said Dickson's work on the farm-to-market road system was also beneficial to the district.

On other campaign topics Brown advocated the strengthening of the safety responsibility act in the state.

"We must put teeth into our law or require compulsory liability insurance," Brown said. "There are some people driving guided missiles on the streets."

He also favored the setting of auto insurance rates on a competitive basis.

In the field of education he said the pay raise being asked for by teachers would cost $90 million. He said Texas educated teachers were leaving for other states to teach due to higher salaries.

Brown explained that a man teacher heading a household had a hard time making a living on the Texas salaries.

"A man teacher can't live on the present starting salary," Brown said. He added that he felt the present salary was adequate for women teachers. Brown mentioned that the teachers had endorsed his opponent.

Brown voiced opposition to the cotton checkoff proposal coming before the U. S. Congress. This bill would require mandatory payment of $1 per bale by producers toward research and promotion in the cotton industry.

"The program would be administered by the Secretary of Agriculture," Brown said, "and we don't need any more control in the field of agriculture."

He voiced support of the "Dickson Amendment" for basing representation in one part of state legislatures on geographical areas instead of having both houses based on population.

FOR CONGRESS

FOR CONGRESS

Talks Boost Candidates

A present and a former Colorado City businessman spoke in behalf of two Congressional candidates Friday night at the Jaycees political rally in Civic House.

On the program were George Witten for Eldon Mahon and Walter Grubbs who spoke for Omar Burleson.

Grubbs mentioned that he had joked with Burleson about being "sent into the barrel of a cannon" referring to the Colorado City appearance.

Speaking first, Witten said "Eldon Mahon is the kind of man the people in Mitchell County and the other 23 counties want and need as our representative in Congress."

"We know of his qualifications," Witten said.

"Eldon Mahon is acquainted with the problems of farmers, ranchers, businessmen and professional people," Witten said.

"He is responsible, responsive and open-minded," Witten said.

"Eldon Mahon is dedicated to serving the needs of the people in the 17th District," Witten emphasized.

"He has vigor, foresight and a reputation for success," Witten said.

"Eldon Mahon is the man the 17th District needs for more effective representation in Congress," Witten said in closing.

In his talk for Burleson, Grubbs stressed his candidate's seniority, record and committee assignments in Congress.

He recalled that Burleson had defeated his opponent in 1964 by a two and a half to one majority.

"Burleson is highly respected by his colleagues," Grubbs said.

Noting Burleson's chairmanship of the House Administration Committee and being the third ranking member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, Grubbs said the "district has an investment."

On Burleson's attendance record in Washington, Grubbs told the audience, "he's been there 98 percent of the time to cast his vote and that's what you sent him for."

"He's had to face the issues and has a record," Grubbs said, "there's no need to wonder."

VFW Names New Slate In Meeting

An estimated 100-200 persons were on hand at Wilson Wyatt VFW post Thursday night for a barbecue supper and election of new officers.

New quartermaster for the organization is Jesse Bolin with Ross Strain serving as trustee.

Other officers filled by Thursday night's election included Aubrey Hale, chaplain; Jim Hill, surgeon; and Gerald Frazell, judge advocate.

Installation of the new officers will be conducted in May at a date to be set later.

Damaged Road

TORRENTIAL rains in Colorado City over the past weeks created this gully across a street in the northwest section of the city. Chug-holes and washouts were frequently encountered by motorists in certain areas of the city.

Achievement Testing Done

Completion of the achievement tests for the second, fourth, and sixth grades has been made for the Westbrook School.

Seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades were administered the achievement tests last fall at which time participation was made in the State Testing Program. Other tests given included reading readiness and mental ability tests, vocational and occupational tests. Profile charts were issued to students at that time.

Student profile charts have been completed for students who took the spring achievement tests. Profile charts showing the students' strengths and weaknesses have been discussed with them and profiles are being sent to the parents.

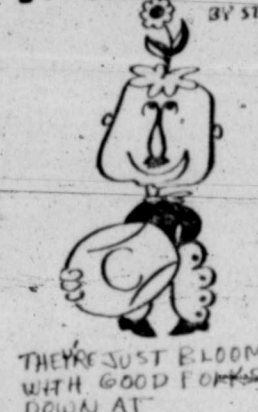

The pupil's cumulative record folder contains a record of the achievement tests and other tests for use by the school personnel. The pupil's profile charts will enable the parents to know about accomplishments of the individual. Parents are invited to discuss the student's profile charts with his teachers and the counselor, said Preston Lightfoot, counselor and coordinator at Westbrook and at Loraine.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Raschke and family of Midland and Larry Raschke of Fort Stockton visited Mrs. A. A. Raschke Sunday. Monday guests of Mrs. Raschke were her mother, Mrs. John Ehler of Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Ehler of Idalou.

A Student Honors Committee makes a final selection of nominees whose names are approved by a national committee for the honor directory of the nation's student leaders.

Scholarship, campus leadership, participation in campus affairs, and qualities denoting future potential are considered in the selection.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, believe the Democratic Primary Election, Saturday, May 7, offers Mitchell County and our entire 17th Congressional District rare opportunity to send a fresh voice to Washington . . . a strong, vigorous voice that will make our District's needs and aspirations heard effectively in the halls of Congress.

It is our sincere belief that if a strong, aggressive representation is to be ours during the momentous years ahead, we must take the initiative now and elect a new Congressman — Eldon B. Mahon — on May 7.

We believe the representation of the 17th Congressional District (which Mitchell County joins for the first time this year) during the past has been characterized by negative thinking, timidity, ineffectiveness and a pronounced indifference to the pressing needs of our great West Texas area.

The pulse of the times is beating faster . . . events and opportunities appear with greater rapidity. And this tremendous tempo demands a Congressman who can keep pace . . . who can seize opportunities of today and shape them to greater progress and prosperity for all of us within our 17th District.

Eldon B. Mahon is the man for the job. A man of vigor and foresight, Eldon Mahon has an indisputable record of success in law, business and civic endeavors. Our knowledge of his merit is first-hand because Eldon Mahon is a native of Mitchell County, born and reared in Loraine, honed to the principles of West Texas enterprise and integrity in business, church and public service as a district attorney and district judge right here at home in Colorado City.

Because of his qualities and qualifications . . . because of his Democratic principles . . . and his dedication to meet the needs of all the people . . . we are proud to publicly endorse Eldon Mahon for Congressman from this 17th District . . . and urge you to support his hometown candidacy in behalf of better, more effective representation in Washington.
