Wife To Rescue

LONDON (AP) — The vicar seized a sword and routed the housebreaker, but it was the vicar's wife in a nightgown and coat who caught up with the fleeing intruder, slapped his face and held him by the neck.

The violence in the vicarage began with the sound of breaking glass late Saturday night, the Rev. Jack Dover Wellman said today. A former navy officer and air force chaplain, the vicar picked up a three-foot ceremonial sword, a family heirloom, and went to investigate.

"In the Queen's name, I arrest you!" He shouted at the man he found in the garden. The man ducked from the sword and ran off, the vicar and his wife in pursuit.

The clergyman lost a bedroom slipper and fell behind, but his barefoot wife got her hands on the man after 200 yards.

"I was determined not to let him go," said Mrs. Wellman. "I kept my left arm tightly round his neck and beat him round the face with my right arm.

"I was roused and infuriated. An Englishman's home is his castle, and it's scandalous for people to try to break in. I think we should all have guns to protect ourselves.

"As I was saying to the bishop only on Friday, if we are going to preserve our society we must fight to the death."

Several neighbors were wakened by the commotion and helped hold the man for the police. He collapsed in the police station and was taken to a hospital.

The vicar said he had used the sword once before — to chase some burglars away from the vicarage three years ago.

THREE-MONTH LULL ENDS

Heavy Fighting In L'lands

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed 416 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in the populous coastal lowlands below Da Nang in a series of battles Sunday, military spokesmen reported. It was the heaviest fighting in the area in three months.

Thousands of troops were sweeping the seacoast and jungled foothills in an attempt to thwart any plans the enemy might have to attack Da Nang in force.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the South Vietnamese commander of the northern provinces, said the fighting marked the opening of the enemy command's winter offensive in his area. However, he told a news conference he does not expect any major ground attacks against the larger cities, including Da Nang, Hue, Quang Tri, Quang Ngai, Hoi An and Tam Ky.

Instead, said Lam, he expects rocket, mortar and terror attacks on the cities and ground attacks on smaller, more lightly defended district towns and outposts.

The general added to a series of U.S. Command reports of Hanoi violations of the demilitarized zone since the halt in American bombing of the North. He said his men had spotted North Vietnamese units up to company size last week moving supplies across the Ben Hai River from the northern to the southern sector of the six-mile-wide buffer zone.

He declined to say, however, whether he believed the North Vietnamese were using the bombing reprieve to build up supplies for a new offensive along the frontier. The two provinces just below the DMZ, Quang Tri and Thua Thien, were unusually quiet over the weekend.

Lam said there had been 45 enemy-initiated incidents since Saturday night in the three provinces below Da Nang, including eight ground attacks, 32 mortar and rocket attacks and five terror incidents. He said prisoners reported this was the kickoff of the enemy winter campaign.

Twelve South Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the biggest battle and 72 were wounded. The South Koreans reported seven of their men killed and two wounded in another engagement. No American casualties were reported.

The new outbreak of fighting came after a weekend wave of enemy attacks and terrorism in Da Nang and along an 80-mile stretch of the coastal lowlands south of the country's second largest city.

National police seized 150 persons in Da Nang who could not produce proper papers. They were being questioned to determine if they were Viet Cong. Gen. Lam said 15 terrorists, including four women, already had been found and they told interrogators 45 other Viet Cong agents had entered the city.

A 24-hour curfew was put on the city of 300,000 Sunday but was reduced today to 12 hours, from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m.

The heaviest battle raged 19 miles south of the city, around a district headquarters town, Dien Ban. South Vietnamese infantrymen and militiamen; and U.S. helicopter gunships and artillery were credited with killing 253 enemy soldiers in a 24-hour fight that ended early today.

The South Vietnamese troops pursued the enemy soldiers while militia men closed in from another direction, trapping the enemy.

Dubcek's Role Nearing End?

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of Czechoslovak students continued sit-in strikes at their schools today as Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek's leading role in the occupied country appeared nearing an end.

The students, barred by the government from demonstrating in the streets, shut themselves in their school buildings to demonstrate their disappointment at the party Central Committee's retreat under Soviet pressure from the reform program Dubcek had headed.

It was the first organized student political action since the Communists took power in 1948.

A three-day Central Committee meeting that ended shortly before dawn Sunday set up an eight-man executive committe that was believed likely to reduce the popular Dubcek to figurehead status.

The committee was expected to establish a collective leadership that some Czech sources predicted would result in public apathy and the eventual eclipse of Dubcek, the symbol of the reform movement.

Student leaders said about 30,000 students were on strike in Prague Sunday, when no classes were scheduled, and other students in Bohemia and Moravia joined in. The students said they would occupy the buildings until Wednesday and perhaps longer in an effort to get the government to recognize them as a political force.

The strikers avoided open contact with outsiders so as not to give the police a pretext for moving against them. Prague's university student action committee also dissociated itself from brief, small youth demonstrations Sunday night.

About 300 youths marched from the national museum to Old Town Square but dispersed immediately at the request of police. Patrol cars and busloads of police stood ready to break up any other demonstrations, but there were none.

At student meetings inside the university halls, disappointment was expressed that the Central Committee ignored a 10-point student resolution urging an end to press censorship within six months, freedom of assembly, freedom to travel abroad without restriction and that important jobs be denied to "all who have lost the faith of the people and have never made quite clear where they stand."

Band Does It Again; 16 In A Row!

For the 16th consecutive year, the Snyder High School Black and Gold Marching Band received a Division I rating in Interscholastic League competition. The Region VI UIL contest was held Saturday in Odessa.

Under the field direction of drum major Jan Williamson, the Black and Gold Band competed with eight other AAA bands from this region. Judges were Bill Woods, Levelland High School; Gary Zook, Canyon High School; and Norvell Howell, Clovis High School, Clovis, N. M.

Twirling contest was also held in Odessa in conjunction with marching contest. Snyder High School twirlers receiving Division I ratings in solo competition were Judy Voelkel, senior, and Linda Hicks, senior. Receiving Division II ratings were Pam Patterson, junior, and Susan Stewart, junior. A twirling quartet composed of these four members of the Black and Gold Band twirling corps received a Division II rating.

The Snyder High School Band is directed by Don Eiring. Charles Shaw is assistant director.

NY Teachers Balloting

NEW YORK (AP) — The 11th week of New York City's education crisis began today with schools still closed while teachers continued balloting on a tentative settlement that would reopen them for 1.1 million children.

Some union members have voiced strong objection to the plan to end the strike of the public school system's 55,000 teachers.

The rank-and-file vote of the United Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, resumed at 8 a.m. to accommodate those unable to cast votes during the 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. balloting Sunday night.

Mayor John V. Lindsay announced the tentative accord Sunday afternoon, following 27 hours of continuous talks at Gracie Mansion, his official residence.

FOR ADMINISTRATION JOBS

Nixon Conducts Talent Hunt

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon has his top advisers on a talent hunt, looking for men to serve in his Cabinet and seeking people for scores of other administration jobs.

He already has lists of potential Cabinet officers, and one top aide said Nixon has reached some preliminary, personal judgments on choices for those posts.

But the advisers also said that Nixon has chosen no one, even tentatively, at this point.

Nixon is known to have spent some time studying administration personnel prospects during his working vacation at this island resort.

But he is spending much of his time alone, considering the job problems and also working on initial drafts of the inaugural address he will deliver Jan. 20.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew into Miami Sunday afternoon to continue his postcampaign vacation. Aides to the President-elect said they had no prior knowledge of Humphrey's arrival and there were no plans for a meeting between the two. Humphrey aides—from the vice president's hotel a few miles up the Atlantic coast from Nixon's hideaway—confirmed that no arrangements had been made for a meeting.

The Nixon talent hunt is proceeding on two levels. There are the top-level jobs to be filled in the Cabinet and just below. Two top advisers in that operation are John N. Mitchell, who was his campaign manager, and Leonard K. Garment. Both are partners in the Nixon law firm.

Then there is an effort to find people, particularly young people, for the array of assignments at lower levels of the administration.

A key man in it is John D. Ehrlichman, already appointed as an assistant to the president.

He is at work on the immediate manpower needs of the incoming administration, and on a permanent mechanism for seeking talent.

Through that system, which is to be outlined in detail within the next few days, the new administration hopes to find and retain a continuing supply of talented people, with the emphasis on youth.

Nixon has appointed three top aides to White House positions as presidential assistants: Ehrlichman, H. R. Haldeman and Bryce N. Harlow. It is possible that there may be additional appointments, perhaps two, to the White House staff at that level.

One question now revolves around the possible future role of Herbert G. Klein, long a friend and communications advisor to Nixon.

Nixon has made clear that he has an assignment in mind for Klein, who was his director of campaign communications.

Prospect Dim For Airmen's Release

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Despite the bombing halt and expectations that the Vietnam peace talks will resume soon, prospects do not appear bright for speedy release of American airmen held prisoner in North Vietnam.

Hundreds of U.S. flyers—a rough estimate used here is 400—were captured when their planes were shot down during the three years and nine months of U.S. air attacks ended by President Johnson's order Oct. 31.

A persistent effort by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and his team of negotiators produced meager results on the prisoner of war issue during the past six months of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks.

Harriman plans to press ahead on this matter whenever he sees an opening. But many obstacles seem to spell delay.

For one thing, the Paris conference is indefinitely suspended because the South Vietnamese government refuses to attend. This has suspended most U.S.-North Vietnamese contacts for the time being while U.S. diplomat focus on patching up the split between Saigon and Washington.

If and when an expanded conference gets underway and begins to tackle the basic issues of a peace settlement, the matter of prisoners may well be among the last items threshed out. During the two years of negotiations to end the Korean War, prisoner exchanges were not settled until the end.

Still another problem is Hanoi's continuing disinterest in talking about prisoner swaps. After a long period of denying or refusing to admit the presence of North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, U.S. diplomats say the North Vietnamese are at least indirectly acknowledging that the North has sent soldiers into the South. But North Vietnamese negotiators have yet to talk publicly about Northern prisoners in the South.

Goodfellows To Organize Tonight

Hungry Son Disposes Of Parking Tickets

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Police Judge Wallace Clark received a note and a check from a parking meter offender which read:

"This check covers the payment of two tickets, one for Nov. 10 and one for Nov. 12 which my son ate. Thank you."

Patterson Service Set Here Tuesday

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church for Frank H. Patterson 77, who lived northeast of town.

Mr. Patterson died early Sunday. Death was attributed to a gunshot wound, and Justice of the Peace Jimmie Billingsley said he had not yet entered a coroner's verdict.

A native of Ellis County, Mr. Patterson had been a stock farmer here. He was married in 1925 at Cisco to Miss Lillian Thurman and she survives. Other survivors include a daughter, Miss Claire Patterson of Los Angeles, Calif.; two sisters Mrs. Nancy Caton and Mrs. Nell Covey, both of Snyder; two brothers, J. N. Patterson of Fort Worth and Horace Patterson of Seminole.

Dr. John English, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will officiate at the funeral service. He will be assisted by the Rev. John Gordon, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Bell - Seale Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

18 Bodies Counted In Glasgow Blaze

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Fire swept a warehouse on the Glasgow waterfront today and firemen battling through flames reported sighting 18 bodies, and fears were expressed the toll may be higher.

Officials said 26 workers—many of them women—were believed trapped in the building, owned by an upholsterers' firm.

The multistory building was turned into an inferno within minutes. Rescuers said an hour later: "There is no hope of anyone being left alive."

At least three persons were known to have escaped and were taken to a hospital with burns.

It was the second bad fire to hit the British Isles within 36 hours.

Seven persons perished in a blaze that swept a seafront hotel in Brighton, on the south coast of England.

Some workers trapped in the burning warehouse on the Glasgow waterfront were seen screaming for help from behind barred windows.

One witness, George Hendry, 38, said: "I saw men and women standing behind the iron bars of the windows screaming. Seconds later they were engulfed in smoke and the screaming stopped."

Every available fire unit in the city went to the blaze on the Glasgow dock and fireboats offshore lent their help.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I'm sitting down to write this letter. I am desperate.

Yesterday I read an article in the newspaper about a man becoming a woman thru an operation they call "trans-sexual." They ran a picture of "her" and she is gorgeous! The judge says that "he" is a "she" now. Her measurements are 40-23-37.

What I am getting at, Abby, is this. I am a born woman of 25 and my measurements are 32-23-37. I've sent for all the creams and exercises I've seen advertised to build up the bust, but nothing has helped me. I want more than anything in this world to have a beautiful bust. I could cry. No one knows how I feel. I tried walking topless across the room once and my husband didn't even turn his head. I've had three children but I don't feel like a woman with this boyish shape of mine.

If a man can become a woman and get shots to give him a 40 bust, why can't I get those shots?

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: I don't know where the "he-turned-she" got the shots, but I do know they are illegal in the U. S. A.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a situation which is presently baffling some very dear friends of ours:

Their 23 - year - old college graduate son (I'll call him Dick) had a date with a beautiful 19 - year - old college girl (I'll call Mary.) They dated occasionally, but there were no commitments on either side.

One night when Dick and Mary were coming home from a date, they had a terrible auto accident. Dick was not exceeding the speed limit, he was cold sober, and it was not his fault. (He was forced off the road by an on-coming car.) Dick was only slightly injured, but Mary was nearly killed. Her back and pelvis were broken and she will probably never walk again. Also, her once-beautiful face was all cut up and she will need a lot of plastic surgery for years to come.

Mary's parents called on Dick's parents and suggested that since it was Dick's "fault" that Mary's life is ruined, Dick should marry her. What is your opinion? No names or city, please.

FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: How does Dick feel about this? And Mary — what are her feelings?

Mary's parents may mean well, and they have my sympathy, but if such a marriage could be arranged (which is doubtful) it would probably be a disaster.

DEAR ABBY: The recent "Now I've Heard Everything" letter was just that. It was about the young couple who fought continually, then she finally went home to her mama and took everything, including all their wedding presents consisting of appliances, etc.

That's the way it is when American brides walk out on their husbands. They take the wedding presents which were intended to be shared by both.

So what's wrong with the neighbors giving the poor husband who was left with nothing but a kitchen shower? I'm all for it.

SAME BOAT

DEAR SAME: Now that you put it that way, I agree with you. But I do think in the case of a split, the gifts from HIS side should remain with HIM, and those from her side she may take.

West Texas Areas Get Snowfall

Freezing weather covered Northwest Texas and the Red River early today after temperatures plunged downward during the night.

Snow fell over vast regions of West Texas late Sunday night. The downfall stretched from the western edge of Amarillo almost to Dalhart in a 20-mile wide strip.

Light rain was mixed with the snow which pelted down just north of Odessa to the Big Spring vicinity. The Weather Bureau said accumulations would remain light.

Temperatures dipped to 29 degrees at Dalhart in the Northwest Panhandle and to 30 degrees at Amarillo and Midland.

The Weather Bureau posted small craft warnings as chilly northerly winds whipped the Texas coast.

The cool weather developed as a speeding cold front swept across all but the southernmost tip of Texas. More cool air was forecast to feed into the state today under generally fair skies.

The Weather Bureau promised a warming trend by Tuesday, but it may be short-lived. Five-day forecasts call for temperatures down to eight degrees below normal over most of the state within the next few days.

Light rains fell from 160 miles south of Galveston to New Orleans along the Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast Sunday night. The only rainfall recorded during the 24-hour period, despite the light showers along the coast, was .43 of an inch at Lufkin.

Sunday's maximum temperatures ranged from 87 at Brownsville down to 40 at Dalhart, but dropped toward season lows as the sun began to sink.

Kelly Probe Shows No Favoritism

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A six-week survey, which he called the most thorough of its kind in Air Force history, produced "no evidence that there is any substance to charges that there is systematic discrimination at Kelly Air Force Base" says Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex.

A 12-member team conducted the survey after a report by the Texas advisory committee to the U. S. Civil Rights Commission raised numerous allegations about Kelly employment practices.

In an announcement over the weekend, Gonzalez said the survey also showed "dramatic gains by persons of Mexican decent within the past five years."

He cited as examples figures showing that among wage board workers earning more than $7,000 annually, Mexican-Americans increased from 14, or 9.9 per cent, in 1963, to 1,058, or 46 per cent, in 1968.

The number of GS17 employes of Mexican descent rose from six to 17, or from 3.5 to 5.7 per cent, in the same period.

SPECULATORS HOLD OFF

Money Markets Quieter

PARIS (AP) — European money markets were quieter today as speculators apparently held back in the expectation of international emergency action to prevent chaotic disruption of the world's major currencies.

Pressure on the French franc eased off noticeably from the near hysteria level reached at the end of last week.

The governors of the leading Western central banks met in Basel, Switzerland, for the second day amid reports that the German central bank was ready to give France an emergency credit of a billion dollars. Bankers in the know discounted reports that France had rejected a condition that French domestic consumption be cut down.

The speculators who bought an estimated $1.5 billion dollars worth of West German marks last week in the hope that the mark would be revalued upward and the franc devalued apparently were less sure today.

The frenzied speculation last week brought the franc to its lowest level since the riots and general strike last June. The fever also affected the pound and other European currencies.

Leading bankers throughout Europe stressed their belief that the collapse of the franc and the pound would disorganize the entire world monetary system. They said world financial solidarity was essential to ward off the speculative onslaught.

French officials contended that the crisis was caused by snowballing rumors, that the mark would be revalued rather than by any new weakness in the French economy. Speculators who expected both devaluation of the franc and revaluation of the mark traded francs for francs in enormous quantities in the hope of a double profit.

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville scheduled a television address tonight to announce government measures to deal with the crisis. The newspaper France Soir said the speech should put an end to the market speculation.

The paper said one likely solution was a direct arrangement between the French and German governments to ship back to France the capital exported by French speculators. This would permit the Bank of France to sell marks without restriction, "while waiting for the speculators to run out of ammunition."

There were some reports that Couve de Murville might also announce some curtailment of French government expenditure. This might meet the condition reportedly attached by Germany to a billion-dollar loan to France.

South Viets Expected To Send Envoy

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that officials of the Johnson administration expect the South Vietnamese government to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks in a few days.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Times said officials reported U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and President Nguyen Van Thieu are working out final details in Saigon.

American sources in Saigon would not exclude the possibility of a favorable break in the next few days. But the sources said they had no specific reason to believe a solution was imminent. South Vietnamese officials would not comment.

Vandals shattered the right front door glass of Rickie Bob Morris' 1962 Ford while the vehicle was parked in front of his house at 900 Twenty - sixth Street, about 1:40 a.m. Sunday. The damage was placed at $10.

Someone also shattered the left rear door glass of a car owned by Mrs. Truitt Simmons, Route 2. The incident occurred between 7:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Saturday while the car was parked at 1012 Twenty-sixth Street. Damage was placed at $25.

Unique Agenda For API Meeting

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Petroleum Institute, the nation's largest trade group for oilmen, opened its annual meeting today with an agenda that is unique to its 48-year history.

The three-day program places greater emphasis on such social problems as education, hard-core unemployment, and air conservation than on the industry's production, processing and marketing problems.

Frank N. Ikard, president of the Institute that represents all segments of the domestic industry, said the program is a measure of how closely the industry's operations are now linked to the broader problems that are important to the entire nation.

"The increasing scope and diversity of the petroleum industry's interests are reflected by the speakers and topics," said the former Texas congressman.

"Most of these topics would not have been discussed at a meeting of this kind a decade ago, but times have changed."

Hard-core unemployment is to be discussed at Tuesday's general session by Henry Ford II, chief executive of the Ford Motor Co. Ford is chairman of a group seeking solutions to the problem, the National Alliance for Businessmen.

Ikard said air and water conservation is the most obvious example of how the petroleum industry is cooperating in the movement to protect the dignity of man.

"It is an area in which oil companies have committed themselves very deeply," he said.

A recent survey made by the Institute indicates the industry is spending more than $1 million a day on domestic air and water conservation programs.

Ikard said a massive program of fundamental research into the engineering, atmosphere and health aspects of automotive emissions now is being conducted jointly by the petroleum and automotive industries and the federal government.

"It is anticipated the program will cost more than $10 million over a three-year period," he said. "This makes it one of the most extensive and expensive attacks on automotive pollution ever launched."

He said research by the automobile industry already has paid off in solid results.

"The hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions from the 1968 and 1969 model cars are about two-thirds less than those produced by the models of the early 1960s," he said.

The 1970 model vehicles, he said, will reduce such emissions another 30 per cent below current models.

"And by 1971, emissions from fuel tanks and carburetors of new cars will be reduced by an even lower level," he said.

Chinese Stop Soviet Ship

HONG KONG (AP) — Two Communist Chinese gunboats stopped and searched a Soviet freighter near Hong Kong last week, the Hong Kong Sing Tao Man Pao reported today.

The newspaper said the incident was reported to the Hong Kong marine department by the captain of the Soviet freighter Sinegorsk when it arrived here Nov. 12.

The paper said the captain reported his 3,359-ton ship was between the Lema Islands, 25 miles south of Hong Kong and claimed by China, and Hong Kong when the gunboats stopped it and put a boarding party aboard.

The boarders questioned the Russian captain at length, then inspected and searched the ship, the paper reported.

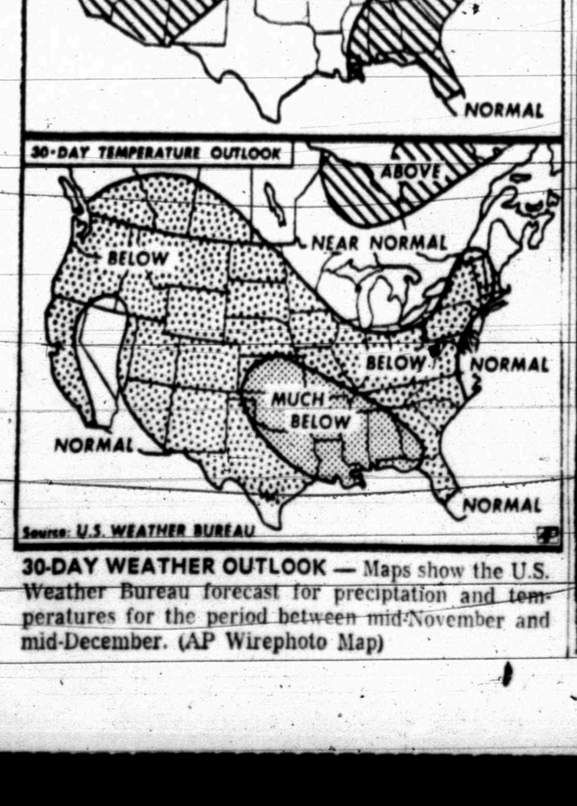

Hong Kong government officials refused to comment on the report. Shipping sources said the Sinegorsk arrived Nov. 12 and sailed two days later. Its destination could not be immediately determined.

The ema Islans area is where two red Chinese gunboats on Oct. 28 fired warning flares across the bow of the U.S. freighter Thunderhead, which picked up speed and steamed into Hong Kong.

Pumpkin Bread Is A Tenn. Treat

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's a recipe for Pumpkin Bread that we think you'll enjoy down to the last crumb. It has a delicate flavor, an airy texture and slices beautifully.

The recipe comes from Mrs. Blaylock of Chatanooga, Tennessee. Daughter Sandra used to do art work for the women's pages of the New York Herald Tribune. When Sandy would go home for vacation, Mrs. Blaylock would always have her special Pumpkin Bread on hand. Then when Sandy returned to New York, her suitcase would bulge with treats from her mother for Sandra's co-workers on the newspaper.

The late Clementine Paddleford, famous food editor in the good old days of the New York Herald Tribune, loved Mrs. Blaylock's Pumpkin Bread and would look forward to receiving a loaf. Clem would demolish several slices while writing a column, then wrap the remaining loaf to carry home.

Clem used to share goodies with her staff, but the Tennessee Pumpkin Bread was an exception that always went home for future munching. She liked to spread it with cream cheese and serve it with weekend brunch.

Mrs. Blaylock is a great cook and Sandra, recently married, wants to follow suit. Right now she's in Pakistan where her husband will be working for a couple of years. If she can find canned pumpkin there, she'll be treating her new neighbors to the Tennessee bread.

We baked the Pumpkin Bread in a non-stick coated pan (no need for greasing) and it slid out in a wink. With canned pumpkin on our market shelves, this delicious loaf is an easy-to-make treat.

Tennessee Pumpkin Bread

1 2-3 cups sifted regular flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1-3 cup shortening
1 1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 cup canned mashed pumpkin
1-3 cup water
½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Grease a regular loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) or use a non stick coated one and do not grease.

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg.

In a medium mixing bowl cream shortening, sugar and vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Stir in pumpkin. Stir in dry ingredients in 4 additions, alternately with water until just smooth; do not overbeat. Fold in nuts. Turn batter into prepared pan.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean 45 to 55 minutes.

Turn out on a wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Stored in a tightly covered tin box loaf will keep nicely for several days. Or wrap tightly and store in refrigerator; bring to room temperature before serving. For special guests serve the loaf, cooled, after it is freshly baked TENNESSEE PUMPKIN BREAD — Made with canned pumpkin and good to the last crumb. Baked in a nonstick coated pan, this loaf slides out like a dream.

Galveston Shooting To Grand Jury

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Patrolman Eddie Barr of this city's police force shot a man to death Sunday after being slashed three times with a knife.

Investigators said Clarence "Kilbee" Franklin, 24, of Hitchcock, emerged from a reportedly stolen car brandishing a knife. Barr had stopped him near the downtown district.

Police said no charges would be filed but that the case would go directly to a grand jury.

Barr was not believed seriously injured in the encounter.

Humphrey Vacationing In Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey moved his vacation to the U.S. mainland Sunday, just a few miles from President-elect Richard M. Nixon's hideaway.

Humphrey flew to Miami from the U.S. Virgin Islands after telling newsmen, "that's a private matter," when asked if he was in line for a job in the Nixon administration. He said he was not ready to disclose his future plans.

Questioned about a possible appointment as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Humphrey replied: "I read about that too."

Humphrey, the Democrat Nixon defeated in the race to the White House, flew into Miami International Airport and drove to a hotel on the Atlantic coast without fanfare.

Aides to Nixon, who is staying a few miles down Biscayne Bay, said they had no prior knowledge the vice president was coming to Miami. They said there were no plans for the two men to meet.

A spokesman for Humphrey confirmed the vice president had not arranged to talk with Nixon while in the Miami area.

Nixon and Humphrey had a smiling, handshaking meeting in Miami three days after Nixon defeated Humphrey for the presidency. Humphrey flew to Miami to visit Nixon before flying to St. Thomas to begin his Virgin Islands vacation.

Joan Baez Denies Turning Conservative

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Joan Baez, who last week cut her hair and said she opposed militant campus sit-ins, told an audience last weekend she is not becoming conservative.

Then the pacifist folksinger asked Vietnam war protestors in the concert audience of 14,000 to give her their draft cards.

More than 40 youths left on the stage what they described as their draft cards. "I'll send them to the President," said Miss Baez. "No, I'll send them to Mr. Nixon."

Big Weekend For Johnsons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marriage played a special part of President Johnson's weekend. He celebrated his own 34th wedding anniversary Sunday and attended the marriage ceremony of one of his young aides.

The President and his wife Lady Bird noted their 34 years of marriage by exchanging sentimental gifts. Johnson gave his wife a letter he had written for the anniversary.

The First Lady, in turn, presented the President with a copy of her diary entry dated Feb. 13, 1941, the first time the then Texas congressman and his wife attended a social function at the White House.

Sunday night, the Johnsons attended the wedding of his appointments secretary, Jim Jones, to Olivia Barclay, a Washington attorney.

Jones, at 29 one of the youngest men to hold the appointments post, was once described by his boss as having never made a mistake.

"$64,000 Question" Whiz Speculating In The Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven years ago Leonard Ross' knowledge of stocks earned him $164,000. Since then, despite one of the biggest bull markets ever, Ross' fortune has not again reached that figure.

Not that he has done that poorly investing. He hasn't. In fact, his theories brought him substantial gains for a while. That is, until he began speculating this year.

Some people might remember Ross, now a 23-year-old doctoral candidate at Yale, as the youngster who amazed television audiences by accurately answering stock market questions on "The $64,000 Question" and "The Big Surprise."

Taxes soon reduced the stake to between $60,000 and $70,000. The money then went into a trust fund, tied up in red tape that made it almost impossible for the young wizard to put it into either blue chip or glamor stock.

In the ensuing years, the market took off on a prolonged rise, sometimes interrupted, during which hot issues tripled in months and even blue chips doubled in a year. It was a time to be in stocks, but Ross wasn't.

Instead, most of the money went into savings and loan associations, which paid an assured interest rate but nothing like the return that might have been provided by a similar investment in their shares.

Was Ross frustrated? "No," he said in an interview. "My interest lapsed and I eventually resigned myself to not being able to invest. I could have done so, but only with red tape, and then it would have been hard to get out too."

He explained, "It was too risky to commit money to a rigidly controlled approach to investments. So I just sat it out."

During the sit-out period young Ross was graduated from Verdugo Hills High School in the Tujunga section of Los Angeles. He entered Reed College in Portland, Ore., and then received his degree from the University of California.

Yale Law School was next, and he became editor-in-chief of the Yale Law Journal before graduating. He is now a graduate student in economics, and hopes to received a doctorate in 1970. After that comes teaching or government service.

Two years ago Ross turned 21 and came into possession of his fortune, a large part of which he promptly invested in stocks.

"I did well the first year," he said, "doing primarily what my father had done: invest in stocks with sound earnings histories and low price-earnings ratios; the classical cyclical industries; industries in which the downside risk is limited."

With this conservative attitude Ross made in the first year about 35 per cent on his investments, a solid return for rather minimal risks.

"This year I didn't do as well," he said, "atributable I think to a different strategy. I simply got into speculative situations on the basis of friends' guesses. I think I've bailed myself out. Now I'm going back to the first approach, with a little more care."

Ross' strategy will be to choose stocks "entirely on fundamentals—on good earnings histories, avoiding guesses as to market trends and avoiding tips also."

He hopes also to overcome what he feels is another investing weakness, a difficulty with the timing of his sales. "I have a tendency to get out too soon," he said.

With his vast knowledge of the market, and his training in finance and economics, Ross hopes to begin work soon with some friends on a basic books on investments.

Will Musical Bring Fame To Dorothy?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Along Broadway these days the people who like nice people in show business are rooting for the success of Dorothy Loudon in "The Fig Leaves Are Falling."

Every talent needs a major vehicle to stardom and this looks like the one for Dorothy, who has done everything in the theater except carry her own piano on and off stage and she would probably be willing to do that if it made for a better performance.

"It's the best thing that has happened to me so far—the culmination of everything I've tried for," she said over a brunch dish of eggs during a rehearsal break.

The big new musical, which opens at the Broadhurst Theater here Dec. 27 after a Philadelphia shakedown cruise, is the 90th directorial effort of veteran showman George Abbott. Put together by Allan Sherman and Albert Hague, it costars Barry Nelson and Jules Munshin.

For Miss Loudon, a mature Cinderella with a tremendously mobile face and slightly dumpling figure, the production has a personal drama within its musical unfolding—something of a crisis in her varied career.

Her name and face and clear lyric voice—her wry comedic grace—are well known. She is already familiar to a wide public by her success in radio, television and years of travel along the nation's supper club circuit.

Dorothy loves the memory of those years during which she sang in all but three states of the union—Virginia, Utah and South Dakota. But she came to dislike their ordeal, the lonely nights she spent sewing her own costumes to help kill the time between shows.

"I have tried to plan my career deliberately," she said with the utter frankness she brings to anything she does, "but I got a little delayed.

"People in the theater are a little snobbish about the theater. I had trouble proving myself because they'd say, 'She's nothing but a night club performer.'

"What they didn't realize is that I only did night clubs to put bread on my table and money in the bank."

Dorothy—remember her from the old Garry Moore video shows?—was born in Boston and it is said of her that she hummed with a New England accent before she was delivered and burst into song shortly thereafter.

She began her career as a singer and a weekend band while she was a student at Syracuse University.

"I made nothing—it was for the glory of it all," she recalled.

Glory is still the simplest aim of her being.

"The best thing in life, I think, would be serenity," she said. "But I've never had it, and I'm not sure I've ever met anyone who has. If I did have it, I'm not sure I'd like it.

"My goal is to do what I am now doing. I'd love to be in a fine musical comedy once a year. I'd like to know that people came to a show just to see me—that would be the joy of my world.

"I'm terrified of disapproval of any kind. The reason I dream of serenity is that I think with serenity you'd be all through with quarreling with yourself.

To Film 'I Do! I Do'

NEW YORK (AP) — Motion picture rights to the Broadway musical "I Do! I Do!" have been acquired by the Mirisch Production Co., it was announced today. Harold J. Mirisch, president of the filmmaking organization, said Dick Van Dyke will star in the movie version, with Gower Champion, who directed the stage play, signed to direct the film. It starred Mary Martin and Robert Preston on Broadway.

Junior Editors Quiz on— COURTESY

QUESTION: Why do we say "Thank you" and "You're Welcome?"

* * * *

ANSWER: Each of the two wolves in our picture, squabbling over a dead rabbit, is trying to scare the other away, so he can grab the food first. How different is this behavior from that of the boys below, who have been trained to use courtesy and good manners toward each other. Rules of etiquette, or manners, have very good reasons behind them. In our complicated society, we human beings must eat, work and play together. If we are to get along in harmony, we must respect each other's rights. If you pass me the potatoes first, I will be pleased with your courtesy and say "Thank you," and you may say "You're welcome" in return. Good manners like these make the world a pleasant place. Without them, we'd all be pushing and shoving with very little regard for each other. Try the idea of looking out for the other fellow's interests and see if your friends don't like you even better than before. When you drive a car some day, you'll find out how important courtesy is. Give the other driver a break and be thankful for the ones he gives you.

Auto Warranties Studied By FTC

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission released a controversial staff report today that charges automakers with stressing sales at the expense of proper warranty service and repair operations.

A 1965 field study, conducted largely in the Washington, D.C., area, was the jumping off point for the investigation described in the report, including extensive interviewing among the manufacturers and dealers.

"The report has focused attention on several problems," the agency said. "It concludes that many new cars are delivered to the buyer in poor condition; car owners experience difficulty in having repairs made simply and expeditiously, often causing them great inconvenience; workmanship in warranty repair work is frequently shoddy; and exclusions, limitations and conditions in the warranties are not made clear to the purchasers."

The commission itself has taken no position on the report, which is the work of two of its staff bureaus.

But the FTC announced it will open hearings on car warranties Jan. 9 and may make some proposals to Congress.

Among criticisms in the report is the charge that the automakers put too much stress on sales, giving dealers little incentive to develop strong repair and service operations.

Other points:

Bad feelings about warranties could be eased if the manufacturers caught more defects at the factory and dealers did a better job of predelivery inspection.

—Dealers might show more enthusiasm for warranty repairs if their payment from the manufacturers was increased.

—Warranties should be presented in more straightforward terms and publicized more fully by manufacturers and dealers.

There will be two other investigations into the cost of auto repairs.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has scheduled hearings starting Dec. 3 by the Senate antitrust subcommittee. Hart says the subcommittee staff has substantiated "information and impressions in the warranty area" as described in the FTC staff report.

The Transportation Department plans the other inquiry into the rising cost of fixing cars as part of its general look into the auto insurance industry.

Rotation Of Commanders Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and Marine Corps' practice of rotating battalion commanders in Vietnam every few months has been questioned by a secret Pentagon survey as possibly costing extra casualties, the Washington Post said today.

The Post said the Defense Department's Systems Analysis Office, a civilian run agency, ran a study which it said indicated there was a relationship between the experience level of the battalion officers and the casualties suffered by their men.

According to the newspaper, the Marines and the Army rotate the officers commanding battalions every four to six months.

The study, made over a two-year period ending in 1967 and involving more than 100 battalion commanders, shows that battle deaths rose from four men a month under experienced commanders to almost five under inexperienced ones, the Post story asserted.

The Post cited military officials as arguing that the increase is so small it is unsound to blame it on inexperience alone since there are too many other variables affecting casualty rates.

Pentagon officials said, according to the newspaper, that because of these objections the Systems Analysis Office had labeled its report as tentative and recommended further study.

Morgan Rites Held Sunday

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church for L. P. (Bill) Morgan.

Mr. Morgan, 45, died unexpectedly in DeLeon after suffering a heart attack early Saturday.

The Rev. Miller Robinson officiated at the funeral service and burial was in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Four From Coleman Killed In Crash

SANTA ANNA, Tex. (AP) — Four Coleman residents were killed Sunday and three injured when their car slammed into a bridge on U.S. 84. The accident occurred about two miles north of this West Texas town.

The dead were identified by the Texas Department of Public Safety as Jesse Sanchez, 17; Erasmo Rosales, 19; Rail Rosales, 20 and Johnny Rosales, 15.

Injured were Rudy Sanchez, 17, Joe Rosales, 16 and Robert Rosales, the driver, 23.

Money Problems Closing Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohio school districts will close down in the next two weeks because of financial crises. Four more say they may have to.

But in five of these seven school districts a change of heart by voters in special school tax levy votes next month could provide money to keep the schools open.

To some observers these threatened school closings appear to be aimed at assuring passage of the tax levies. But the issues were defeated two weeks ago despite warnings by most of the districts that schools would be closed if the levies lost.

Two of the districts can't ask voters for more money until after the first of the year, since they've already submitted their requests twice this year. A third try isn't allowed.

The largest district, Youngstown with 28,000 pupils, will close down Nov. 27 and remain closed until Jan. 8. Voters there turned down a 12-mill levy—$12 for each $1,000 assessed personal property value—on Nov. 5.

Graham local district in Montgomery County, near Dayton, saw a 19.1-mill combination renewal and new tax levy defeated Nov. 5 and also must wait until next year for another vote. Classes may be shut down, but it's believed the district instead will cut back its budget drastically.

Besides Youngstown, two other districts face shutdowns, but they may be brief, depending on what voters decide.

The Nelsonville-York City school district in Athens County will close Nov. 27. If a 7-mill levy is approved Dec. 10, classes will reopen Dec. 12. If not, reopening—will come the first of the year when the next regular state school subsidy comes in.

The Ostego local district in Wood County says it can't meet December's payroll and will not hold classes after Dec. 1. But it, too, is going to voters Dec. 10 with a 3.5-mill levy which lost Nov. 5.

The other three school districts resubmitting defeated levies Dec. 10 are Hamilton local in Franklin County, C.R. Coblentz local in Preble County and Conneaut city in Ashtabula County. All say they may have to close but have made no definite decisions.

Says Sonic Boom May Destroy Capitol

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An architect says America's Capitol could come tumbling down with a minor sonic boom or construction blasting three miles away.

Mario Campioli, assistant Capitol architect, told the Society of American Registered Architects that most city ordinances would condemn the Capitol as too hazardous. "Great pieces of stone have fallen from the cornices and column capitals," he said Saturday.

Preventing the Capitol's collapse would cost an estimated $50 million and take four years, said Campioli.

RELUCTANT ALLIES OF MOSCOW

Hungary Has Western Look

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungarian leaders, reluctant allies of Moscow in halting the Czechoslovak liberalization drive, seem determined to pursue their policies of relative freedom at home. Western obsrvers agree that prospects are good that they will manage.

Fears have been widespread that the crisis might herald an end to the reform course which, 12 years after the bloody uprising, has given Hungary the most Western look in the Soviet orbit.

Newspapers and radios were showered with worried letters when Hungarian units joined troops of the four hard-line Warsaw Pact member countries in the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"They asked whether this will mean a shift in policy," a Communist editor said. "In a way this concern was a massive support and a proof that we have been on the right way."

Party leaders readily responded with assurances of party policies whose basic tenets include economic reform and democratization of public life.

On the contrary, said the party newspaper Nepszabadsag, the Czechoslovak crisis has confirmed the Hungarian party in its conviction that "there is no other policy than that which it has pursued so far."

That road, it emphasized, was in many aspects "quite different" from the Soviet and other Communist models "because only by being so was it able to approach the vital questions of our society with a truly Marxist attitude."

Hungarian Communists insist the party's course is as liberal as that of the Czechoslovak leadership. The economic reform is claimed to go beyond that of Prague in several points.

How then does Hungary make the Soviet Union give its green light?

In a speech, Premier Jenoe Fock gave one answer:

"An important role in the success achieved so far by our economic reform is played by the knowledge that we do not live in a vacuum. We took care that international public opinion, primarily the Socialist community of which we are members, should understand more or less correctly what is happening in our country and, what is more, should possibly agree with it."

A lower Communist official privately explained another secret of Hungary's success:

Western diplomats here see no indication of a shift in Soviet policy toward Hungary. Some think party chief Janos Kadar can claim personal credit for continued success in the tactics of caution.

Kadar, say some sources, has managed to build a special relationship with Moscow and is one of the few to whom the Kremlin men are willing to listen.

"He had the confidence of Nikita Khrushchev and somehow he has managed to convince his successors, too, of his complete loyalty," one analyst said. "That has given him lots of room to move."

With the rift in the world Communist movement widening in the wake of the invasion, the Soviets may need a broker like him.

Kremlin Conceals Bizarre Dealings

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Because of centuries of stormy Russian politics, the word Kremlin has acquired an ominous ring in the West.

Those massive, brick Kremlin walls have concealed some of history's most bizarre dealings —with principal characters ranging from medieval czarist despots to Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin.

Most Kremlin business remains a well-kept secret today, but sections of the huge 15-building compound have been opened in recent years to Russian and foreign tourists.

Extensive restoration of its ancient structures now lends the Kremlin a spotless, if somewhat sterile, appearance probably equal to its original beauty.

Tourism is encouraged in the open section of the Kremlin and most Russians from the provinces consider a visit there essential during trips to Moscow.

The golden domes of the Cathedral of the Annunciation and the belfry of Ivan the Great continue to dazzle visitors on sunny days, as they reportedly did Napoleon in 1812.

Touring the stone passageways and the well-worn staircases inside the cathedrals, Russia's rich past comes to life.

Priceless ions and the czar's caskets can be viewed within touching distance.

Russians who visit these once-sacred grounds often make no effort to hide their devout respect for the old Orthodox churches still standing in the new era of Soviet atheism.

On a chill, autumn afternoon recently, two elderly women in woolen shawls paused silently in the opulent Cathedral of the Archangel and crossed themselves.

"This is a museum now," a young woman guide was telling a group of foreign visitors at the same moment. "Only a few old people from another generation come here for religious reasons."

On any typical day, the museums inside the Kremlin are packed with groups of simple Russian peasants and factory workers in town for brief visits.

Many of the old men dressed in the belted tunics of the 19th century peer at the old Bolshevik revolutionary relics with great curiosity, then shuffle off without a word.

Also on display is a magnificent collection of 18th and 19th century czarist carriages, clothing and household effects.

The contrast between the extravagant wealth of the old nobility and today's drab masses is a striking scene in these museums.

The American Geographical Society library of 160,000 volumes, 300,000 maps and 4,000 atlases and globes constitute the largest nongovernmental geographical collections in the Western Hemisphere.

Cage Trustees Discuss Changes

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association trustees opened a two-day meeting today with talks expected to range from the league All-Star game to a foul rule change proposal.

A site for the Jan. 28, 1969 All-Star game will be selected, an ABA spokesman said.

ABA Commissioner George Mikan said there will be some discussion to modify the foul rule.

"I'd like to assess the foul and let the offensive team take the ball out of bounds to cut down on the parade to the free throw line," Mikan said.

Mikan said he "would vote for the change now, but I don't know about the owners."

Canadians Shade Boros, Trevino

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — After 16 years Canada has finally put its name on the cup it once called its own.

Al Balding, Canada's goodwill golfing ambassador, teamed with George Knudson for the etching ceremony Sunday by winning the World Cup golf tournament, formerly called the Canada Cup.

The pair of Toronto natives overtook the heavily-favored United States and surprising Nationalist China on the final round with a total 569. The U.S. team of Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, and Julius Boros, the PGA champ, finished second at 571.

This tournament started in 1953 with two-men teams representing each country, and never before had the Canadians won.

Balding, who almost retired from golf until he had a shoulder injury corrected by surgery in 1965, rang up a 14-under-par 274, ony two shots off the record and good enough for individual honors.

He fired a 67 on the final round and Knudson, who won individual honors two years ago, a 74 for a final 295.

Trevino and Boros, who with Nationalist China led by two strokes entering the final round, finished with rounds of 73 and 72, respectively. Trevino was third behind Balding and Italy's Roberto Bernardini for individual score with 283 while Boros had 288.

Thus Canada cut into U.S. dominance of the tournament, which it had won 10 of the 15 years, including last year's victory by Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Italy came up to finish third with 573 while Nationalist China slipped to fourth at 576, par for the 6,850-yard par 72 Olgiata course. Hsieh Yung-Yo had a final 74 and Lu Liang-Huan a 76 for the Chinese.

Jaybirds Clip Cards 33-16

HERMLEIGH — The host Cardinals dropped a 33-16 decision to powerful Jayton's Jaybirds here Saturday night, but the Homecoming crowd wasn't disappointed by the way their Cardinals fought right up to the end.

Hermleigh scored both of its touchdowns in the fourth quarter after trailing 33-0.

With 6:30 left in the game, Tom Chorn sprinted 20 yards around left end to pay dirt, then Ronnie Helm went wide through right tackle for extra points. Then, with 35 seconds remaining, Burton Sandefur chugged across from the two to cap a drive from midfield for the second Hermleigh TD. Chorn swept right end for the two points.

Actually, the game was closer than the score indicated. Hermleigh fought the heavier team on even terms and may even have held an edge in the first half, although they fell behind 7-0 at intermission.

The Cards took the opening kickoff and drove 65 yards to the five, but couldn't get into the end zone.

Twice more in the first half, Hermleigh penetrated deep into Jaybird territory. Chorn, perhaps the best runner in the district, almost broke loose on a long run, but his injured knee gave way at about the Jayton 25. Then Robert Peterson blasted through for another first at the 13. The hosts drove on down to the two but were stopped by a fumble. A little later, the Cardinals recovered their own punt deep in Jaybird territory and threatened again, but a pass interception stopped this drive.

Jayton got its first half TD on a plunge from the one by Donnie Baker. It was set up on a long pass from Kim Nichols to Rickey Hall, who did a juggling act before finally grasping possession at the one where he was knocked out of bounds. Nichols kicked point.

Martin Garcia scored on a one yard plunge, and Nichols added another on a fourth down play from the one early in the third quarter. Garcia also swept left end from the 15 for the third Jaybird TD of the frame. On a fake, Garcia passed to Joe McAteer for extra points as the margin went to 27-0 with 15 seconds remaining in the stanza.

The Jaybirds got their last tally on a 15 yard pass, but the run for extra points failed.

There were four interceptions in a one - minute time span as the first half came to a close. There was plenty of hard-hitting by both sides, but give Hermleigh credit for never giving up.

Tennessee Gets Cotton Berth

By DENNE FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The colorful Tennessee Volunteers of the Southeastern Conference were namd to play in th 33rd annual Cotton Bowl Classie New Year's Day.

It will be the third appearance in the classic for the Volunteers as the guest team against host Southwest Conference foes.

Previously, Tennessee split two games with the Texas Longhorns. The Vols won the 1951 game 20-14 but were defeated two years later by Texas 16-0.

Texas can set up a rubber match in the series by defeating Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day. A victory over the Aggies would give Texas at least a tie for the SWC crown, the host spot in the bowl and an 8-1-1 record.

Tennessee, with a 6-1-1 record, has two games to play, but the Vols are heavy favorites to defeat SEC foes Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

The host berth, which goes to the Southwest Conference champion, clear a bit after Saturday's games but is by no means clear.

Texas and Arkansas currently are tied for the title with 5-1 records. Texas is ranked 8th in by The Associated Press.

Texas has the clearest shot at the Cotton Bowl. The Longhorns need only to beat Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day to snatch up the Cotton. A Texas-Arkansas tie for the title also would put Texas in the Cotton Bowl because they defeated Arkansas in league play.

Arkansas will get the nod if it defeats Texas Tech Saturday and the Aggies upset Texas the following week.

There also was the slight possibility that the SWC could be thrown into a four-way tie such as the one broken up last Saturday among Texas, Arkansas, Tech and SMU.

The quadrangle would exist again if Tech defeats Arkansas SMU defeats Baylor and the Aggies defeat Texas.

In such a case, Texas Tech would get the bowl berth because it never has represented the SWC in the Cotton Bowl.

Orange, Gator and Sugar bowl officials also are keeping a close eye on the SWC race. All three bowls are leaning toward Arkansas should the Hogs miss the Cotton Bowl.

And SMU Coach Hayden Fry said Sunday that three bowls are interested in having the Mustangs as guests. Since SMU is out of Cotton Bowl contention, a victory over Baylor Saturday probably would sew up a bowl bid.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don Meredith took his latest injury like a man used to the breaks of the game.

And, like most other pro quarterbacks today, he should be—he has had plenty of them.

Meredith, whose medical chart already lists a twice-broken nose, cracked ribs and pneumonia for the last two seasons, suffered a second torn muscle in the same knee Sunday as he guided the Dallas Cowboys to a 44-24 National Football League victory over Washington.

"It'll hurt for a couple of days, but I think it will come around," said Meredith, as a trainer swathed his left leg in heavy tape from high on his thigh down to his ankle.

"I don't know about playing next Sunday—that will be close," Meredith said. "But I won't be out more than that."

The Cowboys next foe, Chicago, also lost a quarterback Virgil Carter, to add to a rash of injuries ranging from top to bottom among NFL signal-callers this season.

Why all the quarterback injuries?

"It's a tough ball game," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "The guys are getting bigger and quicker and faster and stronger, and when you've got that situation, the quarterbacks are going to take the brunt of it."

Meredith had tossed for two touchdowns against the Redskins and was moving close to a third when cut down by a pass rush late in the third period.

Craig Morton came in off the bench and completed the drive with a nine-yard touchdown pass to Lance Rentzel. A long scoring run by Don Perkins and a touchdown on a fumble recovery by rookie lineman Larry Cole put the game out of reach in the fourth period.

Sonny Jurgensen, discarding the cumbersome cast he had worn the last four weeks to protect a cracked rib, passed for two touchdowns and a brief 17-13 Redskins lead in the third period before Dallas reeled off 31 straight points.

Meredit hit Rentzel with a 14-yard scoring strike for the go-ahead touchdown and Morton called the same play for the next touchdown after he took over the helm.

Rentzel conceded a change in quarterbacks can affect a receiver's timing and handling—for instance, Morton throws harder than Meredith—but he gave the backup passer strong support if he has to take over as starter.

"I've never seen a guy that's got the strength, the arm, the confidence, the leadership he has," Rentzel said. "I don't think any team has got two quarterbacks today like we have."

In the NFL this year, that can be a necessity.

Oilers Hang In AFL Race

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers clung to a wisp of a chance today to finish at least tied for the American Football League Eastern Division Championship.

Houston battled past Denver 38-17 Sunday, giving the Oilers a 5-6 record behind division-leading New York.

New York fell to Oakland 43-32 for a 7-3 record. The Jets have four games to play, the Oilers three. If New York wins two of its contests, Houston is eliminated.

Quarterback Pete Bethard perhaps played his best game of the season against the Broncos, completing 17 passes for 234 yards and two touchdowns while scoring twice.

Denver failed to intercept any of Beathard's 29 passes.

Mac Haik caught two Beathard passes, both for touchdowns, including a 50-yarder that put the game on ice for Houston after Denver pulled within seven points in the fourth quarter.

Houston also scored on a 40-yard pass interception by Larry Carwell and an 18-yard field goal by Wayne Walker.

The Broncos tallied on Floyd Little's 67-yard punt return, a 17-yard pass from backup quarterback Marlin Briscoe to Al Denson and a 12-yard field goal by Bob Howfield.

"Just an ordinary game," Beathard said. "Well, I guess it was the best game this year as far as consistency goes."

"I only had to call two audibles," Beathard said, explaining how he was able to keep the game plan. "The only difference in this game and any other was probably that I did a little more of what the coaches had in mind."

Starting his first game since undergoing an appendectomy Oct. 3, Beathard raced 10 yards into the end zone for Houston's first touchdown.

"I think I just tripped over my own feet and then fell to the outside and just happened to come down in the end zone," he quipped.

Denver quarterback Steve Tensi was injured and left the game in the second quarter after he tossed a 40yarder to Denson that set up the Broncos' field goal.

A preliminary examination indicated Tensi broke his left collar bone, which was broken before the season and kept him out of the first three regular games.

Kathy Collects Pensacola Cash

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth conquered a balky putter Sunday to finish the last nine in par figures and win the Pensacola Invitational Golf Tournament. She collected $1,875.

Miss Whitworth's 216 for the 54 holes was three strokes ahead of Jo Ann Prentice and it gave her more than $30,000 in winnings on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour this year. It was her first victory at Pensacola.

JoAnn Prentice captured the $1,475 second spot and Betsy Cullen tied with Sybil Griffin for third.

"I had to struggle all the way and had a hard time settling down," Miss Whitworth said.

"I don't know whether it was the pressure of wanting to win here so badly or if it was that you simply can't let down on a single hole.

Miss Whitworth took bogeys at three, eight and nine, but biri died the 10th hole and played par golf from there on in over the 6,316-yard Scenic Hills Country Club where par is 36-37—73.

Texarkana Eyes Crown

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texarkana can clinch the championship of the Eastern Division this week to furnish the playoff teams in the Texas Football eague.

San Antonio already is there, boasting an 11-0 record with only one game to play and holding the Western Division title.

Texarkana took a 42-3 hammering from Fort Worth Sunday night but would have to lose its remaining game—against Beaumont at Texarkana Saturday to even be tied for the championship of the Eastern Division.

However, to bring that about even then Tulsa, the second place club, would have to win its two remaining games—against Dallas at Dallas Saturday and El Paso at El Paso Nov. 30.

San Antonio closes out the league schedule against Fort Worth at Fort Worth Sunday.

Only two games were played over the weekend with Odessa smashing Dallas 45-17 in one. The Fort Worth-Texarkana game was the other.

The league playoff is scheduled Dec. 1 and will be at San Antonio.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria to see films of the game at Brownfield last week and to hear scouting reports on Lamesa, the final opponent of the season in a tilt here Friday night.

President Vonnie Black urged everyone to attend.

Prince Named To Protect Refugees

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A young Moslem prince who abandoned a life of affluent ease to help the world's underprivileged has been renamed U.N. protector of 3.5 million persons without countries.

The U.N. General Assembly voted by acclamation Friday to name Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan as U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees.

The 35-year-old prince, who was first named to the post in December 1965 will serve five years starting Jan. 1.

The prince, who is uncle of the Aga Khan IV, is following a family tradition of public service. His father, the late Aga III, was India's representative to the League of Nations and president of the League. His half brother, the late Aly Khan, headed the Pakistani delegation to the United Nations in the late 1950s, and a nephew, Prince Amyn, has served with the U.N. Economic and Social Affairs Committee.

As son of the spiritual leader of 20 million Ismaili Moslems who owned one of the world's finest racing stables and roamed the play spots of the West, Sadruddin was brought up in an atmosphere of Oriental splendor and western opulence. He is an Iranian citizen.

At Harvard, he developed an interest in international affairs. He first won the attention of the U.N. inner circle by helping raise $10 million to keep priceless Egyptian art treasures from being flooded by the waters of the Nile backing up behind the Aswan High Dam.

In 1962, Sadruddin was named deputy refugee commissioner and has served the cause ever since.

At present the commission has its hands full looking after the thousands of refugees swarming across borders in the volatile continent in Africa.

Body Is Identified

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The body of William Prather Davis Jr., son of a prominent Waco decorator, W. P. Davis, was identified Sunday after being found beside a gravel road last week.

Police said young Davis apparently died about Oct. 27. He had left Waco about a day earlier to return to a ranch job he held at Whitney. He was not known to have been missing until several days later.

Investigation officers said Davis, 27, apparently died from a blow or a shot in the back of the head. A small hole was found in his skull and several teeth were missing.

Officers said an investigation was in progress.
