Woman of Future—Feed the Hungry—Another Mayor—More Men, More Results—

High-heeled shoes, in the opinion of a famous physician, will make a race of women with hoofs instead of feet, and legs shaped like those of a horse. Mar was made to mourn.

Delegates from 10 precincts will be contested at the county convention today, it is said, with the possibility that whatever the outcome of the contests, Wichita county may send two delegations to the Beaumont state convention. In the election of delegates to county and state conventions, ballots are easier to count than noses, and a ballot system of naming delegates would be far more representative of the thoughts of the voters.

The F[illegible] Relief association presents its April grocery bill of more than $2000 for food distributed to needy families. Now the report is to pass on to the executive leaders of the welfare associations, where the problem of supplying the needs of these families has become acute. It is an unpleasant situation to face—unpleasant to know that so many worthy families here need aid, and to know that funds for their provision are almost exhausted. From the humanitarian standpoint, there is no more important charitable or welfare work than that of providing for the hungry wives and children of men willing to work, but unable to find employment.

"Any man should consider it an honor to be mayor of a city of 65,000, especially a city like Wichita Falls," said Oral Jones Monday afternoon. So Monday night, Mr. Jones, who served as mayor in Mayor J. W. Akin's absence last week, had the honor passed on to Commissioner A. W. King. Mr. Jones is not a politician. He is a business man, a banker and a sportsman.

An increasing amount of work of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce seems to be delegated to the various committees of the chamber, an excellent system that brings the abilities and talents of many Wichita Falls men to bear on the diverse problems of the city. Not only do many more capable men give their time to the work for the city, but each field of activity of an ambitious general program benefits by the undivided attention of its leaders.

Two outstanding pieces of committee work during the last month included the securing of a number of important highway designations in Austin by the highway committee, headed by W. B. Hamilton and A. H. Britain, and the shipping in of the first car load of pure-bred Jersey cows by members of the agricultural committee, headed by J. T. Harrell. In the highway designations, Wichita Falls sought not only that which would be of immediate benefit to the city, but joined its neighbors in their own programs, a piece of work which must surely mean much in friendship and good will, if nothing more.

In April, members of the agricultural committee went to Sherman to purchase the first Jersey cattle brought in by the chamber. Monday the manager of the Kraft Cheese plant reported milk receipts of more than 30,000 pounds for the first time since the establishment of the factory. Steadily increasing production is due in a great part to the purchase of better and more dairy cows by farmers, it was said. The men who give their time and abilities to chamber of commerce work must be accustomed to getting results in their own enterprises. They "bring home the bacon" when they work for the city.—H. C. CHECK BOAT'S CREW

Missing Lifeboats Only Hope for Crew's Safety

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Eighteen men are believed to be imprisoned in the U. S. army dredge Navesink, which is lying at the bottom of the narrows of New York harbor off Governor's island.

This announcement was made tonight following a check-up by the police department and the army staff at the second corps area base on Governor's island. The check had been going on all day and it was determined tonight that there were fifty officers and men aboard the dredge when she sank at 4:15 o'clock this morning.

A number of divers are being assembled at the army base tonight and will be ready to start the search for the bodies with daylight tomorrow.

Thirty-two men were picked up after the crash and it is believed that those who are still missing must have been trapped in the engine room or other parts of the dredge.

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Seventeen members of the 48-man crew of the war department dredge Navesink, sunk today in a harbor collision with the freighter, Swinburne, were missing tonight and were at first believed to have drowned.

The only hope that any of the vanished men survived is that they were carried out to sea in the two missing lifeboats of the dredge. But this hope is a scant one, for the Navesink went down so swiftly after the crash that there was no time to lower the boats. Divers will search the sunken dredge in an attempt to recover the bodies of the men thought to have drowned.

Change of Venue Given In Electra Woman's Suit

BORGER, Texas, May 7. (AP)—A motion by defense attorneys for a change of venue in the case of J. A. Whittenberg, millionaire oil man and rancher of Hutchinson county, in the million dollar breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Donie A. Vandever of Electra, was granted in district court here Monday, being transferred to Carson county. It is to come up at the August term of court there.

Financial Institutions Note Aviation Progress

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—That great financial institutions are keeping a sharp eye on the rapid expansion of the aviation industry, is shown in the monthly business survey issued today by the Chatham Phoenix National bank.

So fast is production expanding, the survey says, figures compiled by the department of commerce become obsolete during the time required for tabulation.

Television Experts Give Demonstration

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Private demonstrations of Baird television, which sponsors say will soon be as cheaply available to the American home as radio, were given in the Astor hotel today.

Action photographs of Captain William J. Gerrard, D. S. C., engineer of the Baird Television company of London, were sent through four partition walls of the hotel to a room 100 feet away.

Lindbergh Flies To Detroit With Companion

DETROIT, Mich., May 7. (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at the Ford airport tonight in his new Ryan monoplane from Curtiss Field, Long Island. He was accompanied by Lieut. Commander P. V. H. Weems, who had flown with Lindbergh from Washington to Curtiss Field.

Youngest Officer of D. A. R.

Mrs. Brooks Gwathmey White, Jr., of Florida, elected a vice president general of the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, is believed the youngest woman ever to hold as high an office in the society. Elected at the convention of the organization in Washington, D. C., Mrs. White has made 22 speeches for national defense in the past three months.

Joint City-County Meet Called To Study Hospital Board Ruling

Operating System of Institution May Prove Illegal; King Named "Mayor" By Council

The city council and the county commissioners will meet in joint session at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the courthouse.

The meeting was decided upon at the Monday night meeting of the city council when an invitation was received from the commissioners. While the invitation explained the meeting as a discussion of mutual interests, the councilmen interpreted it to be on the question of the board of the hospital functioning as at present following an opinion by the attorney general's department in Austin. Its operation under a board of managers is said not to comply with the law.

Thelbert Martin, city attorney, was asked by the councilmen to look into the case and meet with them Wednesday as was George D. Fairtrace, city manager.

Carnival Barred

A carnival with 25 concessions and only five shows was refused a permit to operate here.

Councilman A. W. King was chosen acting mayor as Mayor J. W. Akin was in Denton attending the convention of the League of Texas Municipalities. It was explained that 24 years ago, Mr. King was starring in life and was the star catcher of the Sulphur Springs, Texas, high school baseball team just prior to his first start in studying law.

Roller skating and playing in the streets were banned by the council in an ordinance brought up for first reading by J. D. Bright of the Wichita Falls safety council. A similar ordinance was brought up by Councilman Roy Carter several weeks ago but was killed by the council.

Alderman J. H. Patton's ordinance to prohibit stuffing circulars, and free advertising in automobiles along the streets, and otherwise bothering the public with handbill distribution, was finally passed on third reading. It carries a penalty of a fine up to $200.

Flag For Building

W. R. Duke, state commander of the United Spanish War veterans, and W. E. George, commander of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, came from a joint meeting of their organizations to petition the council to put up a flag pole and flag for the auditorium before the dedication of the building May 27. The council voted permission to the city manager to do it.

A $20,000 bond for the new city manager, from the American Bonding company of Baltimore, was approved by the council.

An ordinance placing the block on Eighth street between Lamar and Travis, in the two hour parking limit area, was suggested by Paul Pearson. He had a request signed by the property owners of the block which includes the Hamilton building, the Willard battery station and the Martin Printing company.

The council passed the ordinance on first reading.

The Burkburnett boy's band was granted the free use of the municipal auditorium for a concert at 1:30 o'clock May 13. E. L. Nichols is the director.

CHINESE FRONT CALMS DOWN

Japanese Bring Down Bombing Plane

TOYKO, May 8. (AP)—A dispatch from Tsinan, China, coming through Peking, today reported that an American missionary was among those murdered during the Chinese-Japanese fighting at Tsinan.

SHANGHAI, May 7. (AP)—The situation at Tsinan was seen in a new light here today with dispatches from the Shantung city that an airplane bomber of the northern forces was brought down by the Japanese. The plane had been engaged in bombing the foreign settlement, the dispatch said.

First Hostilities.

This was the first report of active hostilities between the Japanese in Shanting and the northerners, and, followed by only three days an offer by the Peking war lord, Chang Tso-Lin, to aid the Japanese in their fighting at Tsinan. The offer, summarily refused, was followed by more or less vigorous protests by the Pekingese against continued Japanese occupation of Shantung province.

Tsinan itself was said today, in such reports as penetrated to the outside world, to be comparatively quiet with only desultory looting. The list of known murdered Japanese increased from seven to thirteen, with 28 others missing of whom two are believed to have been murdered.

Fighting Ceases.

Fighting has almost entirely ceased with the withdrawal of the nationalist troops and the arrival of reinforcements for the beleaguered Japanese defenders of the foreign settlement.

Production Records Smashed By Mammoth Pecos County Gusher

SAN ANGELO, May 7.—A new record production for the eastern Pecos county shallow oil field was established today by California company's No. 15 Yates. From a 50-minute gauge at 1125 feet 2678 barrels were saved but the amount blown from tanks by the heavy pressure raised estimates of the rate of the flow to 4000 barrels an hour, or 96,000 barrels a day.

After this the well was shut in. The previous record was a 20-minute open flow gauge of 865.85 barrels on March 30 by California No. 10 Yates, in the same section as No. 15. It bested the mark of 2749 barrels in an hour last fall by Mid-Kansas and Transcontinental No. 2-C Yates, partly pinched.

California No. 15 Yates is 1934 feet east of the west line and 1217 feet north of the most northerly south line of section 34, block 194, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey.

FLOOD CONTROL AID ASSURED AFTER PARLEY

Conference Adjusts All Differences With Coolidge

MAY PASS TODAY

No Objections Seen In Senate, Says Bill's Author

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Mississippi river flood control legislation was made practically certain today after a conference between President Coolidge and house and senate conferees on the Jones bill.

After spending more than an hour with the president, the conferees amended the measure to meet the objections raised by the chief executive and submitted a new report to both houses.

Chairman Reid of the house managers, said he would ask for action tomorrow with every indication that the house would approve the course taken by the conferees at their sessions, both before and after they were summoned to the White House.

Report to Senate

After the house acts, Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, author of the measure and chairman of the senate conferees, will call the report up in the senate. He expects no difficulty in receiving senate approval and believes the bill will be in the hands of the president before the end of the week.

During the White House conference, which was attended by Major General Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and Attorney General Sargent, Mr. Coolidge suggested three changes in the bill as finally agreed upon last week by the conferees and these changes subsequently were made.

The most important was that relating to section four, added by the house, which requires that the United States provide flowage rights for destructive flood waters passing by reason of diversions from the main channel of the Mississippi.

Millions Saved

This was amended so that the federal government would be liable for flowage rights only on those lands not heretofore subjected to floods. The objection of the president was that the house amendment as finally changed by the conferees might entail a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars to the federal government.

A second change made by the conferees after the conference was along the same lines. Under its terms the federal government would be required to purchase or obtain the flowage rights over such lands adjacent to the lower Mississippi which are not now subjected to floods by reason of the construction of levees on the opposite of the bank of the river at such points where it is found impracticable to construct levees on the other side.

Kerr Dispute Finally Ended

The county commissioners court ordered that $3464.03 paid heirs of the late A. F. Kerr, former district clerk, at the regular weekly session Monday. This action on the part of the commissioners releases to the county a trust fund of about $18,500 which had been held by the district clerk pending final disposition of the Kerr accounts.

When E. P. Walsh, county auditor, brought up the question of the legality of the operation of the Wichita General hospital under the control of a board of managers, the commissioners voted to invite the city council to meet with them at the courthouse Wednesday morning for a further consideration of the matter. The General hospital is jointly owned and supported by the city of Wichita Falls and the county of Wichita.

Mr. Walsh cited an opinion received from the state attorney general's department, which tended to show that operation under a board of managers was illegal. Meanwhile Mr. Walsh will communicate further with the attorney general's department and seek to obtain a fuller and more comprehensive opinion. With reference to hospital accounts, Mr. Walsh declared that approval of bills should be made by the county court alone.

Former Texas Woman Suicides in Kansas Jail

STRONG CITY, Kan., May 7. (AP) Just after her youthful husband, who is serving a jail sentence, had visited her, Mrs. B. B. Boren, 16, formerly of Borger, Texas, ended her life last night.

Accompanied by a deputy sheriff, the 21-year-old husband, who is under a 60-day sentence in Chase county jail on a charge of selling liquor, called on his wife. As they were leaving they heard a shot and rushed back to find the woman dying.

Results Of 10 Precinct Meetings Contested

Dispute Arises Over Signing of Party Pledge by Voters; Delegates Instructed Against Al Smith.

The results of ten or more precinct conventions held Saturday in Wichita county will be contested at the county Democratic convention Tuesday afternoon at the court house, according to information given H. J. Bruce, acting chairman of the county Democratic executive committee.

All of the precincts to be contested, so far as was known Monday night, sent delegates to the county convention instructed to vote against Al Smith for president and for a prohibition plank in the party platform.

Pledge Is Nub

The proposed contests are outgrowths of the party dissension over the signing of the pledge of loyalty to the party. Those working for uninstruction of delegates are instigating the fight to unseat about 30 delegates to the county convention.

Joe B. Hatchitt, working for uninstruction, has declared that at many of the boxes persons at first refused to sign the pledge until advised by the precinct chairman that it was not binding to them. It is because of this disregard for the pledge, voted by the state executive committee several weeks ago, that the seating of delegates is being contested.

Should the executive committee prior to the convention Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, rule that the contested delegates can not participate in the convention, their ruling still must be approved by the convention itself. The contested precincts, however, will have no voice in their own eligibility, in the opinion of Judge Bruce.

Rights Outlined

B. D. Sartin, local leader of the Constitutional Dry Democratic club, declared Monday night that any effort to unseat delegates to the convention would be without results.

"No person or group of persons," Judge Sartin said, "has a right or the power to refuse delegates elected by the people a place in the convention."

Official returns from five precincts in Wichita county had not been received by the executive committee chairman Monday night. Unless these laggard returns are in on time and the delegates certified the precincts will not be represented at the convention. The returns must be in the hands of the county chairmman or vice chairman by 1:30 o'clock Tuesday, according to Mr. Bruce. The executive committee will go into session at this time to approve the delegates and to consider all protests filed.

The convention itself will be opened by Mr. Bruce at 2:30 o'clock and a presiding officer elected by those delegates whose names prove acceptable to the county executive committee.

In the event contest of the questionable precincts is successful, forces favoring uninstruction of delegates will be in control of the convention.

Fears of Dam Break End in South Carolina

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 7. (UP)—Fears of a cave-in of the Greenville city water works dam at Table Rock cove, 31 miles from here, virtually ended today when reports were brought from the dam that sloughing away of the earthen structure had stopped and constant rains had caused no appreciable damage.

Dallas Woman Named Press Asociation Head

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Mrs. Emma Cobb Evans, Dallas, was elected president of the Texas Woman's Press association today at the close of the annual convention. She succeeds Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie, who is president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. The next convention will be held at Alpine.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 7. (AP) The boys in gray were mobilizing here tonight for the thirty-eighth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, which will open sessions here Tuesday.

Stone Mountain Stops Air Mail

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., May 7. (AP)—The northbound Atlanta-New York air mail plane of the Pitcairn Aviation corporation crashed on Stone mountain, near here, shortly after hopping off from Atlanta early tonight when the pilot apparently lost his way due to poor visibility.

The pilot, Johnny Kytle, escaped serious injury and left at once in a private automobile for the Atlanta airport, carrying his cargo of mail.

COSTS LITTLE TO MAKE RACE

Probe Reveals Expense Of Candidates

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—If it really costs no more to run for president than was indicated to the senate campaign investigating committee today by some who are doing it, there is no reason why there should not be a presidential candidate in every home. It costs no more, apparently, than a second hand automobile.

Norris Spends $6

Campaign expenditures in the 1928 presidential race were disclosed in the opening session of the senate investigation by candidates as follows:

Senator Norris of Nebraska—$6.

Senator Curtis of Kansas—$11,468.76.

Senator Borah of Idaho—nothing.

Senator George of Georgia—approximately $156.

Senator Walsh of Montana—$1190.65.

Senator Goff of West Virginia—approximately $60.

Former Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska—$1744.85.

Representative Hull of Tennessee—Approximately $1000.

Most of the expenditures represented in these figures went for stenographers, office rent and letters.

It is only fair, however, to warn those who may be about defer buying an electric refrigerator to take a flyer in presidential politics that it isn't the first cost but the upkeep that is expensive. In 1920 before General Wood got through with his campaign it cost nearly $2,000,000. Even the economical presidential campaign which Mr. Coolidge put on in 1920 cost $68,000, although considering what came out of it the investment was a good one.

Question Ritchie Today

The eight candidates questioned today were minor ones. Arrangements were made to go to Baltimore Tuesday to question Governor Ritchie of Maryland. Senator Reed will be heard here in the afternoon. Secretary Hoover probably will testify Wednesday, and Governor Smith, Thursday in New York. No date has been set for Governor Lowden. Senator Watson of Indiana may appear Friday.

The figures disclosed today represented the actual outlays of which the candidates had official knowledge. Most of them said they did not know how much their supporters had spent.

Senator Norris was the first witness. Although a vigorous campaign was waged for him in Wisconsin and Nebraska, he said he had spent only $6 and that was forced on him by a thrifty editor who printed an unauthorized advertisement and then billed the senator.

"I hope that editor doesn't print any more advertisements," Norris said. "I haven't spent anything else and I haven't authorized anyone to spend anything for me."

Revival of Middle-Age Tortures Charged to Miami Police Force

MIAMI, Fla., May 7. (AP)—After three months investigation, the Dade county grand jury today charged the Miami police department with "underworld alliances, summary executions, revival of the tortures of the middle ages and despotism of such nature as to destroy the freedom of our citizens."

The denunciation of police department policies was contained in the final report of the grand jury which some time ago indicted Chief of Police H. Leslie Quigg and several members of his force for murder and beatings. Quigg together with three of his men was acquitted recently of killing a negro prisoner.

The grand jury pronounced Quigg "wholly unfit for the office." He now is under suspension.

Common practice in police questioning of witnesses included forcing them to sit on a chair electrically wired so as to cause acute discomfort, with an officer standing reading to knockback into position anyone who attempted to escape the torture, the report said.

The jury said it had been informed that one negro prisoner had the soles of his bare feet beaten with a copper-bound ruler for an hour and a half. The negro was accused of stealing an automobile.

ALIEN RIGHTS VIOLATED BY CAROL, CLAIM

Exiled "King" Prepares For Hop as Ouster Is Announced

FLIGHT PROHIBITED

Rumania Under Martial Law As Peasants Revolt

BEKESCSABA, Hungary, (Near the Rumanian Frontier.) May 7. (US)—Swearing an oath to "Almighty God" to drive out the Bratianu government and "restore its ancient freedom to Rumania," thousands of peasants, clad in the picturesque garb of the foothills and mountain pass, are marching on Bucharest.

LONDON, May 7. (US)—The British government tonight ordered Prince Carol to leave England immediately. The Rumanian prince who renounced a throne and later repented has been living the past week in Surrey, which has become the headquarters for his plans to return to Rumania as king. In announcing that Carol had been ordered to quit England, the foreign office said his conduct had been "in violation of the rights of aliens and subversive to Great Britain's friendly relations with the present government of Rumania."

CAROL ATTEMPTS TRIP TO RUMANIA.

LONDON, May 7. (UP)—The exiled Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, now visiting at Godstone, Surrey, chartered airplanes to fly back to Rumania and take personal charge of the movements to place him on the throne, it was learned officially here today.

The flight was to have been made Saturday in two airplanes from Croydon airdrome, but the authorities prohibited the flight because Carol did not possess the necessary papers to land in Rumania.

Referring to his plans to reclaim the Rumanian throne the Evening Standard in an interview quoted Carol as saying:

"There is no plot, but the moment has come and I am now striking."

PREMIER DEFIES PEASANT HORDES.

BERLIN, May 7. (US).—The Rumanian government of Premier Bratianu, defying demands of the peasants marching on Bucharest, has proclaimed martial law throughout the country, according to dispatches received in Berlin. The nation is on the verge of revolution, if the alarming reports echoing throughout the entire Balkan corridor are to be believed regarding events going on in Rumania behind a thick veil of censorship.

Peasants Dispersed.

Rumanian troops have dispersed 30,000 peasants near Sejusch according to news brought by travelers arriving today on the Rumanian-Hungarian frontier. Sejusch is near Albajulia where 200,000 peasants yesterday took a dramatic oath to see that the government of Bratianu is overthrown, and then started in three columns to march on the Rumanian capital.

Reports that did leak out of the country indicate that the conflict has brought Queen Marie back into the political arena. Thwarted by Bratianu in her ambition to become a member of the regency, Marie is reported to have taken advantage of the peasant uprising to try to oust Bratianu, thereby winning sympathy for her own ambitions and at the same time avoid the revolution and the possible overthrow of her own dynasty.

It is reported that Queen Marie has persuaded at least one member of the regency, presumably Prince Nicholas, to side with the peasants in demanding the resignation of the premier. Her efforts to conciliate the peasants are also believed to be due to the fact that Julius Maniu, leader of the peasant party, has repudiated any connection with former Crown Prince Carol.

ROYAL MASTER DEGREES GIVEN

47 Candidates Take Work At Meeting

Taking the degrees of the Royal and select masters were 47 candidates when Wichita Falls council No. 140 conferred the work for the fourth time in its history Monday evening.

The main degree, the super-excellent Masters,' was conferred by the regular team in charge of J. S. Pitman, illustrious deputy master, in the Maskat Temple lodge rooms in the City National bank building, at 8 o'clock.

The royal masters' degree was conferred by John A. Elder, thrice illustrious master at the Masonic temple, starting at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The select masters' degree followed and was conferred by J. D. Avis, past most illustrious grand master of the grand council of Texas.

Candidates from Wichita Falls, Dallas, Olney, Iowa Park, Plainview, Rising Star, Electra, Burkburnett and Seymour took the degrees of the order, which is said to be one of the best the council has ever conferred.

Man and Woman Held Under Whiskey Charge

D. S. Shadel and Mrs. Geneva Shadel were charged in federal court with possession of whisky.

Charges were filed after a raid was conducted Saturday by Sheriff W. B. Brallev, Deputies Dick Morris and Charlie Gant, and S. O. Hamm, state highway officer, at Newtown, in which liquor was found in half-gallon jars and a five-gallon keg which was buried near a house.

The man and woman were committed to the county jail on failure to make $500 bond each.

AIR MAIL WEEK BEGINS MONDAY

10th Anniversary of Service On Tuesday

The week beginning Monday, May 14 has been designated as "Air Mail Week," according to a bulletin received by Postmaster O. P. Maricle from Harry S. New, postmaster general, and will be observed as such in Wichita Falls during that period.

Saturday, May 12, will be the second anniversary of the inauguration of air mail in Texas and Oklahoma, it was announced by Charles B. Braun of Dallas, divisional traffic manager of the National Air Transport, Inc., which has flown nearly 2,000,000 miles without the loss of a letter or without injury to any one.

Tuesday, May 15, will be the tenth anniversary of the establishment of the first air mail line between New York and Washington. May 15, 1918, was the beginning of a system which today operates over 9916 miles of airways and calls for daily mileage of mail pilots amounting to 22,110 miles, according to Mr. New.

The National Air Transport has issued literature to postmasters suggesting means by which publicity may be given to the two anniversaries. Postmaster Maricle announced Monday that steps would be taken Tuesday to bring "Air Mail Week" to the attention of the public. It is planned to have the mayor or some public official to proclaim May 12-19 as "Air Mail Week," to arrange short talks before luncheon clubs, to provide newspaper publicity to send out letters from the postoffice to all business firms, to distribute cards at all stops by carriers giving the advantages of air mail, to have hotels and restaurants place on menu cards "Air Mail Week—send all mail by air," and to persuade local merchants to run inserts in their advertisements mentioning "Air Mail Week."

DeMolay Delegates Back From Denison

Five members of the local De Molay lodge, Faith chapter, who went to Denison Saturday morning to attend the fifth annual De Molay conclave, returned home Monday morning.

Degree teams from various towns entered the tournament held at Denison. Delegates from an area that extended from Wichita, Kansas, to Houston were in attendance and participated in the patrol parade, banquet and other social activities.

Those going from Wichita Falls were B. D. Ewing, master councilor; Seldon Hale, senior stewart; Gerald Downing, Thomas Huchinson and Joe Barnhart.

Fort Worth Baritone Featured In Closing Program of Choral Club

As the closing event of the season, the Woman's Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Luella B. Thompson, presented an unusually interesting and diversified program at the First Baptist church Monday evening, featuring Bernard U. Taylor of Fort Worth, well-known baritone.

The number which was probably most enthusiastically received by the audience was Schubert's "Ave Maria" by the Choral club, in which was featured the clear, silvery soprano voice of Miss Modena Howell, well known in the city. This number was sung with organ accompaniment by Mrs. F. R. Collard and piano accompaniment by Miss Elizabeth Cole. The Ensemble Players played the violin accompaniment and obbligato.

Dramatic Ability Shown

Mr. Taylor sang his numbers with feeling and intelligence and a display of dramatic ability. He pleased most with his "Caro Mio Ben" and "Prologue," the latter showing good interpretation.

As encores, Mr. Taylor gave "In the Time of Roses" and "Boots," taken from a poem by that name written by Kipling. His "Green-Eyed Monster," a light humorous ditty, was also well given and pleasing to his hearers.

Program numbers given by the Choral club included the followings: "The Omnipotence" (Schubert), as the opening selection and "Agnus Dei" (Bizet), with Mrs. Kenneth Bebb, soprano, and Mesdames Bruce Greenwood, Jouette Bonner, J. E. Hall and Miss Monterey Lewis, violins; "Rain" (Curran), and "Ave Maria" (Schubert), with Miss Modena Howell, soprano, and Mesdames Greenwood, Bonner, Hall and Miss Lewis, violins, and Mrs. F. R. Collard at the organ. Miss Cole played the accompaniment to choral numbers.

Mr. Taylor's program numbers were as follows: "Caro Mio Ben" (Giordani), "Widmung" (Schumann), "Prologue" (Leoncavallo), "Love Goes As the Wind Blows" (Bostleman), "The Green-Eyed Dragon" (Charles), "My Prairie Home" (Fox), "Hills" (LaForge). He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Annette Walsh.

Ensemble Players

In addition to the numbers mentioned above, the following numbers were given by the Ensemble Players: "Morning," "Anita's Dance," "Ase's Death" and "The Bride's Lament," all taken from the Peer Gynt suite by Grieg. The Ensemble players are: Mrs. Bonner, Mrs. A. M. Miller, Mrs. O. E. Nichols, Mrs. Greenwood and Mrs. Harwood Stacy, accompanist.

Kin of Costa Rican Consul Is Suicide

BOSTON, May 7. (UP)—Rafall Volis 21, cousin of Mario Sancho, Costa Rican consul, committed suicide here early today by shooting himself. Police after questioning his finance, Miss Pauline Leonard, said Volis' act had been caused by his belief that Miss Leonard intended to return to her former work as stage dancer.

House Prepares to Solve Muscle Shoals Quandary

WASHINGTON, May 7. (US)—Battle lines were drawn today for a showdown in the house Wednesday on the Norris-Morin bill providing for government operation of Muscle Shoals power plant on a large scale.

Chairman Bertrand H. Snell of the rules committee told Universal Service that he favors a five-year experiment in government operation at Muscle Shoals.

Court Postpones Trial of Slayer

ELDORADO, Kan., May 7. (INS) Judge G. J. Benson of Butler county district court today postponed until Wednesday the sentencing of Owen Oberst, 17-year-old farm boy, slayer of his father, mother and five brothers and sisters.

The postponement was granted at the request of a committee of citizens Judge Benton had appointed to confer with the youthful confessed slayer of his family.

The request came after a two-hour conference with the boy in Judge Benson's chambers.

The committee made no announcement of the outcome of the conference except to set at rest any rumor the boy had been forced to confess [illegible] degree methods. Owen, the statement said, reiterated his confession to them and asserted he had not been threatened by Sheriff E. E. McKnight or by Stanley Taylor, county attorney, to whom he confessed Friday night.

But, a spokesman for the committee said it would be for the best interests of all concerned if the plea of guilty, which the boy is willing to enter, were postponed until Wednesday. There are "other matters" which should be investigated, the committee reported.

What the "other matters" are, the committee refused to state. Officials believe new details of the crime were revealed by the youth in the conference this morning.

While accepting, in the main, the story told by young Oberst, county officers never have been satisfied as to the details of the crime. It is inconceivable, they assert, that Owen could slay his five brothers and sisters and his mother and father with a .22 rifle without some of them struggling with him, unless, perhaps, he had an accomplice.

All except the father were in the house when Owen began shooting, the youth said. The father came in later and was slain by the son, who then poured kerosene over the bodies and over the house and applied a match to cover the crime.

Texan Found Dead [illegible]th Pistol Nearby

ENNIS, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Frank Spaniel Jr., was found dead in a clump of bushes on the Waxahachie creek four miles west of Ennis today with a bullet wound in his forehead. A pistol was nearby.

He had been missing since Saturday night but his family thought he had gone to a dance and then fishing. Justice of the Peace Cox of Waxahachie was to head an inquest.

Fort Sill Horse Show Ends Sucessful Meet

LAWTON, Okla., May 7.—The sixth annual Fort Sill horse show closed its most successful meet Saturday afternoon with several thousand spectators witnessing the closing day's events. It was the most successful show ever given on the reservation. Many visitors were present from Oklahoma cities.

Dixie, Lieutenant Merriman's horse, was winner of the commandant's cup and the trophy was presented the winner by Commandant George Aultman. The American Remount association cup went to Lieutenant Shallane, riding Verdict.

A feature of Saturday's show was the appearance upon the field of a tallyho driven by Col. W. P. Ennis. The hunters wore bright red coats and the party was accompanied by a pack of dogs.

Marked improvement in the horses was noted by Col. George P. Tyler. The riding and jumping compared favorably with other big events he has witnessed elsewhere.

Maj. C. P. George, member of the army Olympic team, directed the show.

NEW YORK, May 7. (INS)—Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, speaking this afternoon at a luncheon given at the Hotel Astor for Captain Koehl, Major Fitzmaurice and Baron von Huenefeld by the board of trade for German-American commerce, warmly praised the achievement of the crew of the Bremen and its good effect upon German-American relations.

Harry Wurzbach Still Fighting

SAN ANTONIO, May 7. (AP)—Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin announced today that he intended to carry his fight for an uninstructed delegation from Texas to the republican national convention to the state convention in Dallas.

He predicted that his organization, which is opposing the faction of the party led by R. B. Creager of Brownsville, would have a clear majority at the county convention here tomorrow and that it might have a majority at the Dallas convention.

Wurzbach announced that congressional district conventions would be held throughout Texas and that these conventions would name 22 of Texas' 26 delegates at large. T. S. McClure, representative of the Creager forces here, declared that his wing of the party will not recognize, or enter the district conventions because they are not authorized by the Terrell election law. McClure disputed Wurzbach's prediction that he would be able to control the county convention here tomorrow and asserted that 33 delegates from Bexar county would be instructed for Hoover.

DOROTHY GIVES YOUTH ADVICE

Leave Married Woman To Her Hubby, She Says

Is the Modern Type of Love Real? Advice to a Young Man in Love With a Married Woman Ten Years His Senior—How to Make Reluctant Brothers and Sisters Contribute to Parents' Support.

Dear Miss Dix: Is there such a thing as love nowadays? I do not believe that modern young people are capable of loving the way men and women did in the past.—JANIE.

Answer: Of course, there is just as much love in the world now as there ever was. There is just as much romance. People are just as sentimental, for the one thing that never changes is the human heart.

Undoubtedly lovemaking is less picturesque than it used to be. A young man in tweed or plus fours is not as gallant a figure as one in brocade and lace and with a jewel-hilted sword at his side. A bobbed-haired flapper doesn't look as much like a lady love as a maiden with flowing locks and trailing laces. It is certainly less spectacular for a youth to telephone his love than for him to risk his neck climbing up to his sweetie's balcony to whisper his impassioned vows in her ear. And certainly a proposal loses much of its pep when a man says casually: "Say, listen, Sally, how would you like to tie up with me for keeps," instead of swearing his devotion on bended knee and quoting poetry and asking a woman to do him the honor to bestow her heart and hand upon him.

Other times. Other manners. Other methods of courtship. To each age its own way of doing things. These are but the outer trappings of sentiment, and the good old heart goes on doing business in the same old way.

The present generation boasts that it is hard-boiled and sophisticated, and it is about many things, but when it comes to love it is as mushily sentimental as any age in which lackadaisical maidens pined away and died of blighted affection and youths committed suicide when cruel parents separated them from their sweethearts.

Look at the number of girls and boys who are so much in love that they can't even wait until they are grown to get married! Look at the young men who, for the sake of a girl, sell themselves into slavery! They know that they are sacrificing their futures by burdening themselves with the support of a family, but they are willing to give up everything for love. Look at the girls, who love poor men well enough to give up good homes and good-paying jobs for them and spend the balance of their lives cooking, and sewing, and scrubbing, and washing, and pinching pennies for them!

Look at the men you know whose love has been strong enough to make them endure patiently with sickly and neurotic wives year after year! Look at the women you know who have loved men well enough to follow them into strange places and suffer hardships with them and even to endure neglect and faithlessness and poverty and want!

Whatever else has changed, love hasn't changed, and if there is any comparison to be instituted between the way people loved in the past and the way they love now it is in favor of the present generation, because it is wiser. It knows more of what it is about when it takes as its slogan: "All for love and the world well lost."

DOROTHY DIX.
(Copyright by Public Ledger)

Dear Miss Dix: A married woman and I are very much in love with each other. She is ten years older than I am and has two children. Her husband is selfish and does not love her, but he supports them. She is unhappy and wants to get a divorce and marry me, but I am very poor. What do you think of it?—MR. PERPLEXED.

Answer: I think such a marriage would be disastrous and that you would both regret it.

To begin with, the woman is entirely too old for you. A married woman with two children who is ten years older than a man who has never been married is in reality ages older than he is in experience and knowledge of life. She is mature while he is still a boy, and it would be far better for her to adopt him as a son than to take him as a husband.

Furthermore, when a man marries he is up against the practical side of matrimony, and if you are very poor, as you say, how do you propose to support a ready-made family? The high cost of living makes taking care of a wife and the average young man on a small salary can manage, and he is certainly looking for trouble if he undertakes to feed and clothe some other man's progeny.

And, furthermore, your elderly lady love, who is used to a good home and a comfortable living, will soon repent her rash step in swapping off a husband who was a good provider for a romance that peters one's own children about all that out pretty thin when it is subjected to the hardships of poverty. And then she will be a mighty peevish companion to live with.

Believe me, son, trying to comfort a middle-aged woman who is dissatisfied with her husband is a mighty dangerous thing to do, and my earnest advice to you is to counsel the lady to stick to her job as wife and mother. Don't let her wish herself off on you. You will have a far better chance of happiness if you marry some young girl of your own age who is not incumbered with any little olive branches.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am the sole support of several members of my family. Both of my brothers married and left the burden on my shoulders, and it is a heavy one. Do you not think that they should, at least, help to support their mother? They give their wives luxuries, but they leave me to provide alone for my mother and an orphan child and to support other members of the family who are too old to work. I do the best I can, but my salary is not sufficient to cover all these needs, and I feel that if my brothers had a spark of feeling they would help me. Don't you think so?—IONE.

Answer: I do indeed, Ione. I think that human nature never shows itself so mean and little and selfish and contemptible as it does in the way in which so many sons and daughters evade their responsibility to their parents.

Just how the family goat is elected no one knows, but in nearly every family you will find that where there is an old father or mother to be supported, or to be taken care of, or to be nursed through a long illness, that the job is wished off on some one son or daughter.

If all were to share in bearing the burden, it would be hard on no one. If all were to contribute to the old people's support, it would touch every purse lightly, but it is a crushing burden when one alone has to bear it on one pair of shoulders and one meager purse has to stand the drain upon it.

Mother is just as much John and Mary's mother as she is Tom's and Susie's mother. She has done just as much for them. They are under the same obligations to care for her. But John can't help mother because he is buying a new car, or refurnishing the house, or the children must be sent off to school, and Mary can't have mother stay with her because she gets on her husband's nerves, and so they leave Tom and Susie to make all the sacrifices and put up with all of mother's whims.

It is a cold, callous, dishonorable thing for the recreant sons and daughters to evade their responsibility to their parents and force a brother or sister to do their duty for them, and it is a pity that the poor put-upon brothers and sisters haven't enough nerve to compel these quitters to contribute their quota to their parent's support.

They would come across quickly enough if they knew that they were to be disgraced by the courts compelling them to do their share toward supporting their old mothers and fathers.

DOROTHY DIX.
(Copyright by Public Ledger)

Dear Miss Dix: I have a very dear mother who makes her home with us. We are glad to have her, but my youngest brother, who is a big, husky, grown man, also stays here because mother wants to have him with her. He will not work nor pay any board, and I do not feel that my husband, who is not strong and who has to labor hard to support a big family, should also have to support my brother. It is driving my husband wild and the children resent the extra one, as we have a small house and are much crowded. Yet when we tell my brother to leave my mother threatens to go, although she has nowhere to go. What should we do? WORRIED WIFE AND MOTHER.

Answer: Chuck the loafing deadbeat brother out immediately and refuse to let him come back. It is an injustice to your husband and children to support him in idleness. Don't listen to your mother's silly threats. Tell her that when her son makes a place for her to go, you will not object to her leaving, and that will silence her.

But isn't it queer how a mother will always sacrifice her good children to the black sheep?

MODISH MITZI — MAYBE IT WILL WORK — By Jay V. Jay

Mitzi's step-in is cut very low in back, in fact it has no back at all, to go with the low back neckline of her evening gown. Marie is wearing a dance set of rosy crepe. This is a conference. Since Marie romantically tried to fix up everything for Mitzi and the Goofer (which they didn't at all desire) life has been almost unendurable for all.

That's why the Goofer imported his nephew hoping to switch Marie's interest to a more appropriate subject. And now when Marie is all dressed in her tulle and lace party dress, and Mitzi is admiring the effect of her lace collar, Marie is promising that for Mitzi's sake only, she will try to be polite to this horrid boy named Bob. Not that she likes him.

The Goofer said a few words to Bob on the subject, too. Bob has promised to be nice to Marie—although he thinks she's quite uninteresting. Mitzi's evening wrap has a wide cape that also makes the sleeves and an unusual collar that is a series of soft draped bows of material. Marie's evening wrap has sleeves with wide ruffles just below the elbows. A knotted length of fabric spreads out over each shoulder to give the effect of a cape. Mitzi's is very soft lame. Marie's is satin. It does look as though for these and other reasons they are going to have a pleasant evening—at any rate Mitzi and the Goofer won't feel guilty because Marie expects them to hold hands and languish.

Murder Case Continued In Absence of Witnesses

ABILENE, Texas, May 7. (INS) On motion of the state, the case of Sam Ellison, charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife several months ago in Crane county, was continued today by Judge Millburn S. Long until July 23. The case was transferred to the sixty-second district court here on a change of venue from Crane county. Absence of four important state witnesses was given as the reason for asking the continuance.

Deep Sea Diving School Formed by Government

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—An increase in the number of submarine rescue vessels to five and the establishment of a deep sea diving school have been authorized by the navy department.

League Play Given At Iowa Park Church

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—The senior league of the Methodist church gave a play Sunday at the evening hour entitled "Barabbas." The scenes were laid outside the gates of Jerusalem three days after the crucifixion of Christ. Three crosses appeared in the background also the tomb of Christ, while in the foreground appeared the robbers and Barabbas in conversation. Those taking part in the play were Miss Mary George, Elgin Denny, Orren Freeman, Le Roy Nichols, Alvin Smith and Fritz McDonald.

Difficult to Work—Always Tired

No Energy—Can't Concentrate—Poor Memory—Hard to make decisions about important matters?—Take Gordon's and you will soon be your natural self again.

THE reason so many people think they are working too hard is because they find it difficult to work at all. They feel tired and worn out—their old-time "pep" is missing—their vitality sapped. They are suffering from auto-intoxication—their brain cells are drugged with poisons.

How is it with you? Are you of the fortunate ones who enjoy good health, or do you, too, long for the days when you were young and strong, healthy, buoyant, active and afire with ambition?

Your body may be organically sound, but if your system is clogged with poisons you are not getting much out of life. You owe it to yourself, your family and your associates to regain your "balance."

You CAN Be Your Natural Self Again

This remedy called Gordon's (named for its discoverer, and for which he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of compounding), will make a new man of you. It will make it possible for you to eat what you like and as much as you want without any distressing after-effects. It will tone up your digestive organs so that your appetite will again be normal. It will speedily relieve you of that "tired" feeling.

Gordon's stops fermentation (souring of food matter) in the stomach and bowels. It exercises an antiseptic effect, dissolves the excess acid, absorbs the gas that is present and prevents more forming. It drives out the poisons. It soothes and heals the irritated and inflamed delicate membrane lining of the stomach—made raw by excess acid.

A spoonful of Gordon's after meals will bring quick relief in cases of indigestion, gas, dyspepsia, bloating, heartburn, excess acid, bad breath, bowel troubles (constipation and diarrhea), sick headache, and nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion.

Make This Test Today

Go to or phone your druggist for a bottle of Gordon's. Take a dose after each meal and before retiring. See how much better you will sleep and how refreshed and vigorous you will be in the morning.

If, after taking one bottle of Gordon's, you do not feel that the benefits you have received are worth many times its cost, go to your druggist and he will cheerfully refund your money.

If you prefer, cut out this ad and mail it, along with 15 cents in coin or stamps, to the G. M. GORDON DRUG Co., Dallas, Texas, and receive in return a two days' trial treatment.

—GORDON'S—
Named For Its Discoverer

Gordon's, the Internal Antiseptic, Stops Fermentation

Sold by druggists. $1.50 per bottle of 64 doses—less than 3 cents a dose.

The Social Side—Wichita Falls' Woman's Interests—Clubs and Churches

Three Wichita Women Seek Public Office in Elections This Year

Women in politics is not so recent an idea in Wichita county as the average person would suppose, for back of each woman who is seeking office in the coming election, there have been years of training in the field for which she has announced her candidacy or that idea that she "has grown up" with the particular branch of work.

Three women of the city are seeking office in the July primary. They are Miss Elizabeth Hall, who is seeking re-election as county clerk; Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk, who would succeed herself, and Mrs. W. W. Gardner, local business woman, who has announced her candidacy for county treasurer.

Succeeded Kerr

Miss Jackson has occupied her present office since August 1, 1926, when she succeeded the late A. F. Kerr, whose assistant she was previous to his death. Miss Jackson has been engaged in business endeavor since her school days and came here from Hunt county where she was employed in the offices of the district clerk.

She is interested in her work since it eliminates some of the monotony of the average position. She keeps all court records of all suits filed and all criminal cases which have been indicted and of all civil cases. And after having spent several years in this type of work she is at ease in discussing her work and takes great interest in the office detail.

Mother in Race

Mrs. Gardner in launching her campaign for county treasurer with modesty and sense that in the work of bringing up a family of three children, a baby boy and two girls, she has spent some valuable time. But a woman grounded in business and versed in the everyday saving necessary in bringing up a family on a budget, has received valuable training which might be turned to account in the work of keeping the county treasury in 'ship shape order.

Mrs. Gardner has been in the insurance business since the first of the year. Her training for business was gained from the course taken with a group of much younger students at the Junior college a few years ago. Mrs. Gardner taught in the plains schools for a few years and taught in Wichita Falls one year.

Miss Hall has occupied the office of county clerk since Feb. 1, 1926, when Mrs. W. P. Ferguson, then Mrs. Alma Miller, resigned her office. For four years previous to that, Miss Hall was deputy clerk for W. T. Harris, then county clerk. Miss Hall came here from Graham where she was deputy county clerk in Young county for four years.

In 1922 Miss Hall ran against Mrs. Miller for the place won by the latter, and was appointed later to fill out the unexpired term of the county clerk by the county commissioners.

Miss Hall has "grown up" in the work of the county with the exception of four years spent with the General Abstract company. She makes her home at 904 Broad street with three sisters and two brothers, all of whom are employed in the city.

Ramblin'

with Marie Theresa

THE Nafziger Baking company and the Shepherd Cleaners are extending their offer of 20 cents and and 10 cents to each member of the Womans' Forum, who will visit their plants, during the entire present week. Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, president of the Womans' Forum, urges that all members of the Forum and their friends register at these plants in order that the organization be credited with the sum of 30 cents for each member.

MRS. A. R. BLEAKLEY, last year second vice president of the Womans' Forum, is departing soon to make her home in Dallas, her former home. The Womans' Forum, as well as the church and other organizations, will miss Mrs Bleakley's activity. Mrs. Bleakley has not only a willingness to work in the face of adverse conditions, but has a thorough knowledge of the work of the Womans' Forum in all its departments. Her activity will be missed as will her knowledge of the organization activities, which has taken up most of her leisure time.

SOME persons still suffer from the inconvenience of a conscience. Mrs. L. B. Moore of Bellevue, whose husband is cashier of the First National bank at Bellevue, recently lost $5000 worth of diamonds when a handbag fell from her car between Bowie and Bellevue.

In the bag were letters to identify the owner. The bag and contents minus the diamonds were returned soon after the loss, about a month ago.

Sunday a telephone message came to Bellevue from a man in Tyler, who said that he would deliver the diamonds to Mr. and Mrs. Moore if they would come to Tyler for them. They went and ransomed the five diamond rings and platinum bar pin for $500.

Then the conscience of the finder smote him and he followed Mrs. Moore to Bellevue and returned $250 of the money given him.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are well known in Wichita Falls.

THIS modern and chivalrous world! Here is a story printed in one of the dailies of the capital: "Miss C. Virginia Deidel of Washington, D. C., admitted to practice before the United States supreme court, is said to be the youngest woman ever to be given that coveted honor."

And in addition to the above is given a more detailed description of Miss M. Vashti Burr of Harrisburg, Pa., who cops the honor of being the second youngest woman of the country to be thus honored—and not a word as to the age of either.

Not bad, that idea, for goodness knows you can't tell the age of the modern woman by looking at her.

SOCIETY Personals

Mr. and Mrs. William Truax and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Doolittle and Lloyd Jr., of Dallas were the week-end guests of Mrs. Doolittle's brother, E. W. Wade, and Mrs. Wade on McGregor. They have been spending several days at the Doolittle camp at Lake Kemp.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Allen Nelson have as a guest Mrs. Nelson's brother, Frederick Blom, of Graham.

Mrs. S. M. Wilson of 401 Filmore has returned from Haskell, where she visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hosts at Outdoor Party

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark were hosts to a group of friends at an outdoor and fishing party, over the weekend at the Clark cottage at Lake Kemp.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Archie Knautz, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bean, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Estergrin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Knautz of Nebraska City, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bace, Mr. and Mrs. William Nolte and Mr. and Mrs. George Goddard.

Texas Girl in Mother's Steps

"Out of sight, out of mind" is a true saying. The fact that we can't see what's happening inside our children's bodies is the reason so many of us allow them to go on suffering from constipation until they are full of the poisons from decaying waste and they're bilious, headachy, sallow and weak, with no appetite or energy. Watch your baby or child, Mother, and at the first sign of coated tongue, bad breath or feverishness, give him a little California Fig Syrup. This rich, fruity product gently expels all the souring waste; gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels, so they continue to act normally; stimulates the circulation; tones and nourishes the entire system.

Its sales record of over four million bottles a year and the enthusiastic praise of women everywhere, prove mothers depend on it today as they have for more than 50 years. A Texas mother, Mrs. M. H. Goodrich 1530 So. Olive street, San Antonio, says: "I used to take California Fig Syrup as a child, so when my little girl began to suffer with constipation I started her on it. It stopped her trouble quickly and made her look ever so much better. I kept using it with her for a few weeks and it made a different girl out of her. She has grown so well and strong and is never sick any more."

See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name "California," so you won't be imposed on by imitators. —Adv.

Miss Young Weds J. B. Yeager In Sunday Ceremony

Miss Ruth Louanna Young was married to Jim Brown Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Yeager, 2604 Ninth street, Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Humphrey, 1717 Eleventh street, in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the couple. Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated with the ring ceremony.

The living, dining room and the sun parlor of the Humphrey home was thrown open and transformed into a garden scene of unusual appeal, by ferns, smilax and masses of colorful roses. An altar was built about the mantel piece and extended to the ceiling in a succession of tiers of ferns and smilax intertwined with pink roses.

Tall lighted tapers of white and pink and lighted bracket lights shed a faint light over the pretty scene. The bride and bridegroom stood before a white bear rug with a coverlet of white satin tied with large bows of white tulle.

The bride was attended by Miss Reba Newman while Milton Bell attended the bridegroom. The bride was dressed in a blue georgette gown with beige trim and wore matching beige accessories. She carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses and lillies-of-the-valley. Miss Newman wore a navy blue georgette model.

The bride and bridegroom entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr.

Mrs. Yeager has been a business woman here for several years and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Young of Fort Smith, Ark. Mr. Yeager was reared in the city and educated here. He is at present traffic manager for the McMillan Oil and Refining company of Amarillo, where the young couple will make their home in the Palo Duro apartments.

Guests were served a wedding breakfast by Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Henry Alexander Gray Jr., and Misses Helen and Helena Humphrey, directly following the wedding.

Mrs. Goldstucker Made President Council of Jewish Women Monday

Mrs. Leo Goldstucker was elected president of the Wichita Falls Council of Jewish Women at the election of officers held at the last business meeting of the year at Temple Israel, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Morris Kauffman was made first vice-president while other officers elected as follows: Mrs. Jake Cohen, second vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Ginsberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Maury Goldstien, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sam Quicksilver, treasurer; Mrs. Sam Brettler, auditor; Mrs Abe Sandler, parliamentarian; Mrs. Milton Katz, publicity, and Mesdames Eugene Liepold, B. Brettler, S. J. Schwab, Ben Newman, Herman Goldstucker, Louis Pink and Harry Jaffee, directors.

Plans were completed for the annual luncheon to be held at the Woman's Forum, Friday, May 18. Mrs. Goldstien will be in charge of reservations while Mrs. Katz will have charge of the program.

It was decided that one day of next week be set aside for sewing for the Wichita General hospital. The Morgan Floral company sent a basket of flowers as a courtesy at the election of officers. Reports were heard from chairman of standing committees.

Twenty-two members were present.

Pot Shots at Politics

NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS

There is a woman filling a prominent place in the national picture gallery of the democracy. She is Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross. She was the first woman to officiate as governor of an American commonwealth. Her husband was governor of Wyoming. He died. She was elected to serve out his unexpired term. She was given a second term by the Democrats and independent voters of Wyoming. She led the Smith fight in the California campaign. Indeed, she was the principal orator of the Democrats who espoused the cause of the New York governor, and they give her a large share of the credit for the election of the Smith delegates to the Houston convention. Wyoming Democrats are to send a delegation to Houston favorable to the candidacy of Smith, and there are leading Democrats of Wyoming and other states who insist that if the New Yorker is given the first place on the ticket, Mrs. Ross should be the nominee for vice president. Stranger things have happened. Wyoming was the first commonwealth, and this away back in territorial days, to give the ballot to woman. And New York was the first eastern commonwealth to confer the right of suffrage and Smith signed the bill of emancipation as well as all the other bills sent to him by a democratic legislature placing the women of New York on the same plane as man as far as it was possible for the state lawmakers to carry on. Mrs. Ross will attend the Houston convention, and the delegation, it is said, will be headed by United States Senator John B. Kendrick. John B. Kendrick was born in Williamson county, Texas, was a cowboy and a trail rider in his youth, moved on to the Rocky Mountain country, and is one of the cattle barons of his adopted state.

A Praise

Flower garden that I see,
You don't know how you help me
Every morning, rushing down
To the work I have in town.
Though your plants and blooms are few,
I take off the thought of you;
Early joy that I get there,
Makes my office day more fair.
You will never miss the theft—
You'll have many treasures left.

As I see you in the morning—
So I see you, on returning.
Nothing gone—your beauty there.
All your flowers, trim and fair.
All your charms for me to borrow
As I go to work—tomorrow.

Do you hear this praise from me,
Flower garden that I see?

—John Self Elliott.

In th' years t' come when one of our present day youngsters has th' presidency almost within his grasp, it's goin' t' be purty tough t' have some one bob up an' say, "I kin remember when he'd steal th' first car he came to." Free Brake Tests

MUNICIPAL authorities and auto clubs in all parts of the country are adopting, in increasing numbers, the plan of giving free brake tests to all motorists who want them.

It is a good idea. A man's brakes may be good enough for ordinary driving and so lull him into the belief that they need no attention, when as a matter of fact they are not adjusted properly to bring his car to a quick stop in an emergency. And the emergency, he it noted, is just the time when the car must stop quickly to avert a tragedy.

The man who drives with faulty brakes is endangering his own life and lives of his fellow citizens. Yet many do it innocently, not knowing that their brakes need adjustment. These free tests are excellent things. They should be extended.

We're Used to Flying Now

THE transatlantic flyers really ought to lay off a little while. We're getting so used to skillful and heroic feats in aviation that we're losing our capacity to cheer.

We pretty nearly cheered ourselves out for Lindbergh. Then came Chamberlin, followed by Byrd, and we did it all over again. There followed a long list of new heroes; and each time we responded to the best of our ability. Now the Bremen's trip is followed by the amazing polar dash of Wilkins and Eielson.

We're almost coming to regard these things as commonplace—which they aren't, at all. If the flyers don't give us a rest for a while it will get so that a man will have to fly to Mars, at least, to make us take even a second look at him.

The Man of Vision

PROBABLY the most abused word in our language is the word "vision."

It is applied, at some time or other, to every man in the country who manages to rise higher than the bottom rung of the ladder. If a man makes a lucky investment, uses plain common sense in managing his own business or displays just enough intelligence to avoid the more obvious pitfalls, someone is sure to arise and proclaim him "a man of vision."

This sloppy way of speaking is regrettable; for genuine "men of vision" are rare, and when they come on the scene they make a profound impression on their time. If we apply the term indiscriminately, and keep rushing to pay homage to minor prophets, we may not be able to recognize the real seers when they appear.

The advancement of any group of men—town, state or nation—depends first of all on the qualities of its individuals; on their industry alertness, intelligence, forbearance and tolerance. But in the last analysis it depends most of all on their leaders—on the "visison" of the men who guide them.

The will for independence was strong in the American colonies during the revolution; so, also, were the courage and frontier hardihood that enabled the colonists to make independence a fact. Yet it is just as sure as anything in this world can be sure, that without Washington the revolution would have failed. His leadership—his "vision" of the trend of the times and the requirements of the future—was the prime essential in the situation.

After the establishment of the republic the tide of the new nation's destiny flowed westward. It seemed almost inevitable that the country should expand to the far west; yet without the vision of Thomas Jefferson the expansion probably would have died a-borning. Jefferson could see farther ahead than his fellows. It was he who paved the way for the great "westward, ho!" movement of later years.

You could go on multiplying instances indefinitely. You could point to Lincoln and the preservation of the Union; to Vanderbilt, Harriman and Hill and the development of railways; to Ford and the growth of modern industry; to Roosevelt and the rise of twentieth century liberalism. It is always the old story in a new form. The mass of us will always find our lives, our thoughts, our ideals shaped by the man of vision.

It is a magnificent title; as fine as any we can apply to a man. We should not abuse it. It does not belong to every petty industrialist and business man. When a genuine man of visison comes along the whole country knows it.

New York's police commissioner has ordered his men to be courteous. Evidently they cannot adequately perform their duty unless disguised in some way.

LOCOMOTIVE WHISTLES

Locomotive whistles are due for some radical changes if heed is given by the railroads to the suggestion of Prof. Arthur L. Foley of the physics department at Indiana University. The whistle blows the wrong direction, according to Prof. Foley. It is intended primarily to be heard in front of the locomotive, and never further to the rear than the end of the train. By reason of the location of the whistle it is heard three times as clearly from the side as from the front. The noise ahead of the engine is cut down by placing the whistle behind the smokestack, steam dome and sand box.

THE DEMOCRATIC KEYNOTER

The significance of selection of Claude G. Bowers, associate editor of the New York World, as temporary chairman and keynote orator at the democratic national convention, is that the preliminaries of the convention will be in the hands of the friends of New York's favorite son, Governor Smith.

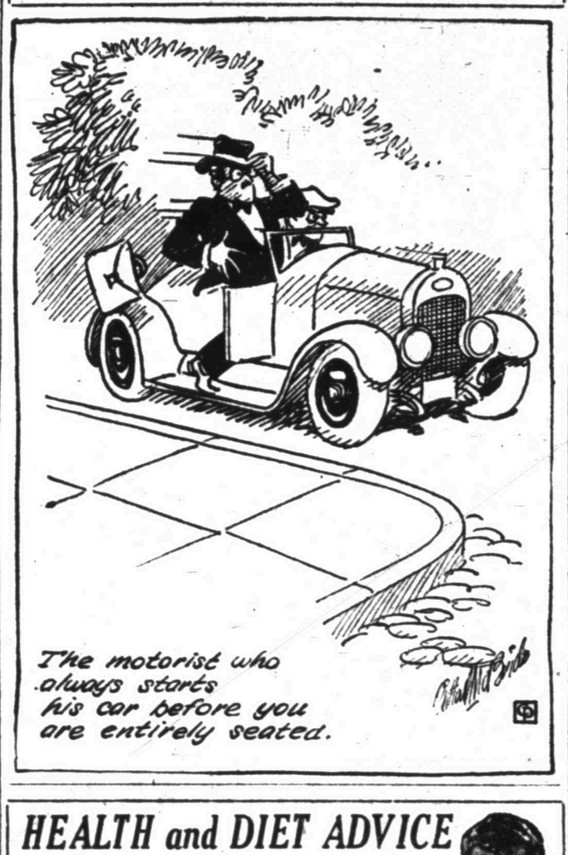

It means also that the keynote speech will have naught of intolerance and division about it, but that it will be a bid for the east, which has been voting tremendously republican in the last few elections, to return to the democratic fold, and a mirroring of Smith's national issues.

And it furthermore means that corruption in high places at Washington is in for a mighty fine skinning—for that is what the World does right along.

BREATHING OUT TOXINS

The lungs have two useful purposes. One is to supply oxygen to the blood, and the other to throw out poisonous wastes. The ordinary air inhaled into the lungs is pure, and that going out is impure.

There is an unseen burning up of tissues going on in the body at all times as long as there is life, and this oxidation of tissues can only continue from the absorption by the blood of oxygen which is extracted from the pure air we breathe into our lungs.

It is important to learn to breathe deeply enough to keep up an adequate supply of oxygen which the body can use, but, at the same time, equally important that the poisonous gases of the body be thrown out through these same organs. The double action of inhaling and exhaling must go on day and night without interruption. Oxygen is necessary that the foods may be burned within the cells. Poisonous gases must be exhaled with every breath, or death would ensue within a few minutes.

When you consider that the lungs are important organs of elimination, you will realize how valuable it is for one who is ill to understand how to increase the throwing out of poisons through these organs.

The blood and lympathic circulation go to all parts of the body and must pass through the lungs. No matter where disease exists at any particular place, the wastes from tissue changes and toxins are finally carried to the lungs and at least a portion eliminated.

Any exercises which will increase deep inhalation and exhalation of the lungs will assist in emptying the blood of toxic substances which are hurrying about through a circulatory system looking for a place of exit.

Walking at a leisurely gait of two miles an hour will force the lungs to eliminate twice as much poisonous air as when one is resting. If one will increase the speed of his walk to four miles an hour, the elimination of poisonous gases will be four or five times greater than when one is comfortably seated, or working at some sedentary occupation. If deep breathing is taken with calisthenic exercises two or three times daily, the amount of elimination of toxins is materially increased.

An offensive breath is usually an evidence that the body is literally loaded with impurities, and increased deep breathing is always indicated for the one who is suffering from halitosis.

Many will argue that it is not natural to do any more breathing than that which is evolutionary. But whether forced deep breathing can be called "natural" or not, the fact remains that it is a "trick" we have learned which can be used to increase health, to improve efficiency, and which is a valuable aid in the actual cure of every disease.

Take my advice and try a little "un-natural" deep breathing and see what wonderful improvement will be made in your general health. Those who are ill and too lazy to take deep breathing probably deserve to be sick!

In tomorrow's article I will explain how to increase elimination through the intestines.

Questions and Answers

Question—Mrs. J. L. writes: "I am an anemic, and my doctor advises blood transfusions. What do you thing about this kind of treatment?"

Answer—Blood transfusions are most helpful after a loss of blood through hemorrhage. If you have pernicious anemia you are in a serious condition and must not depend upon the advice which I can give you in such a short answer in this column. Transfusions of blood can at best be only temporary help. You must at once start getting rid of the vicious toxemia which is destroying your red blood cells. It may seem ridiculous to you when I tell you that you can best do this through fasting for 10 days or two weeks. You need so much information about this that I urge you to go to some doctor who understands how to apply the fasting cure, or write me again, giving your name and address so I can answer you personally.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By BURTON RASCOE

TIMES BUILDING

NEW YORK, May 7.—Sights for sight-seers in the biggest city in the world: Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board, Bethlehem Steel corporation, sitting on a stool at the Grand Central station oyster bar, eating stew. Supposedly hard-boiled feminine members of the younger generation weeping at the revival of "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Burton Rascoe, the internationally known critic of the arts, enjoying the show at Minsky Brothers' burlesque theater. The New York skyline through the blue haze that envelopes it just after sundown. The office of Crosby Gaige, show producer, and the extraordinary furnishings and art objects it contains. James J. Walker, mayor of New York, doing the Charleston. A caravan of armored cars taking $1,800,000 in gold bullion from the Federal Reserve bank to the liner Aquitania. Ushers at the Roxy theater, "Cathedral of the Movies," going through military drill. David Warfield avidly disposing of chili in a quick-lunch shop on Forty-second street. The motion picture critics trying to act like critics at openings. A solitary window-washer at work on the 37th floor of the Woolworth building. Mabel Boll, the amateur aviatrix, wearing her diamonds. O. O. McIntyre's clothes.

Barkers on sight-seeing buses report that the average visitor from out of town and the rubberneck tourist from in town, insist on believing that Chinatown is just as sinister and mysterious and wicked as ever it was in the old days. The folks want to see opium dens, and places where Chinese live with white girl slaves, and Oriental gambling houses, and perhaps a tong war in progress. They're disappointed when they fail to find Chinese women in native costume and Chinese men with pigtails.

However, when questioned by passengers the barkers give the answer they believe the questioners expect. They have learned that it pleases the customers to show off pretended knowledge of the big city or to be made to feel that they know what they're talking about.

The men who do the announcing on the buses dislike to be called barkers. They are lecturers. They know a lot about human oddities. They can tell "a live one" a block away.

They know that men grumble most about delays in starting. Women like to watch crowds pass on the sidewalk. They have learned that westerners are less likely to be offended by wise cracks addressed to them and most likely to engage in bandinage. Only men ever give tips. Most people when suddenly told to look to the right, look to the left. Older persons usually are in the majority on the tours. Newlyweds usually try to get the back seats. The weather makes a great difference in the humor of the passengers. In cold weather they are less likely to smile at jokes, but in summer they are a jovial crowd.

DINNER STORIES

Chary.

Nellie, a small English girl, had been so naughty at the dinner table that she had been banished to her room. Her indulgent mother subsequently sent word to her by the maid that if she were repentant and would promise to be a good girl she might come down for the pudding. The maid returned without Nellie. "Did you tell Miss Nellie what I said?" inquired Miss Nellie's mamma. "Yes'm," said the maid. "Well, what did she say?" "She said, 'What sort of a pudding is it?'"

THE STORY THUS FAR

The jewel case had been opened with a chisel after being battered with a poker. And this puzzles Vance when it is found near the strangled body of Margaret Odell. It makes him think two men were in the apartment, the murderer unaware of the man hiding in a clothes closet. In no way can the presence of even one be accounted for. Finger-prints lead to the arrest of Skeel, after Cleaver and Dr. Lindquist are questioned and Spotswoode's known action eliminate him. Vance shoots a sudden question at Skeel; "Why didn't you give the alarm?"

CHAPTER XXI

"Don't bother to answer," pursued Vance, as the man opened his lips to speak. "But tell me: didn't the sight shake you up a bit?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," Skeel retorted with sullen impertinence. But, for all his sang-froid, one sensed an uneasiness in his manner. There was an overtone of effort in his desire to appear indifferent, which robbed his words of complete conviction.

"Not a pleasant situation, that." Vance ignored his retort. "How did you feel, crouching there in the dark, when the closet door-knob was turned and some one tried to get in?" His eyes were boring into the man, though his voice retained its casual intonation.

The muscles of Skeel's face tightened, but he did not speak.

"Lucky thing you took the precaution of locking yourself in—eh, what?" Vance went on. "Suppose he'd got the door open—my word! Then what? . . ."

He paused and smiled with a kind of silky sweetness which was more impressive than any glowering aggression.

"I say, did you have your steel chisen ready for him? Maybe he'd have been too quick and strong for you—maybe there would have been thumbs pressing against your larynx too before you could have struck him—eh? . . . Did you think of that, there in the dark? . . . No, not precisely a pleasant situation. A bit gruesome, in fact."

"What are you raving about?" Skeel spat out insolently. "You're balmy." But his swagger had been forgotten, and a look akin of horror had passed across his face. This slackening of pose was momentary, however; almost at once his smirk returned, and his head swayed in contempt.

Vance sauntered back to his chair and stretched himself in it listlessly, as if all his interest in the case had again evaporated.

Markham had watched the little drama attentively, but Heath had sat smoking with ill-concealed annoyance. The silence that followed was broken by Skeel.

"Well, I suppose I'm to be railroaded. Got it all planned, have you? . . . Try and railroad me!" He laughed harshly. "My lawyer's Abe Rubin, and you might phone him that I'd like to see him."

Markham, with a gesture of annoyance, waved to the deputy sheriff to take Skeel back to the Tombs.

"What were you trying to get at?" he asked Vance, when the man was gone.

"Just an elusive notion in the depths of my being struggling for the light." Vance smoked placidly a moment. "I thought Mr. Skeel might be persuaded to pour out his heart to us. So I wooed him with words."

"That's just bully," gibed Heath. "I was expecting you any minute to ask him if he played mumbly-peg or if his grandmother was a hoot-owl."

"Sergeant, dear Sergeant," pleaded Vance, "don't be unkind. I simply couldn't endure it. . . . And really, now, didn't my chat with Mr. Skeel suggest a possibility to you?"

"Sure," said Heath, "—that he was hiding in the closet when Odell was killed. But where does that get us? It lets Skeel out, although the job was a professional one, and he was caught red-handed with some of the swag."

He turned disgustedly to the district attorney.

"And now, what, sir?"

"I don't like the look of things," Markham complained. "If Skeel has Abe Rubin to defend him, we won't stand a chance with the case we've got. I feel convinced he was mixed up in it; but no judge will accept my personal feelings as evidence."

"We could turn the Dude loose, and have him tailed," suggested Heath grudgingly. "We might catch him doing something that'll give the game away."

"That might be a good plan," he acceded. "We'll certainly get no more evidence on him as long as he's locked up."

"It looks like our only chance, sir."

"Very well," agreed Markham. "Let him think we're through with him; he may get careless. I'll leave the whole thing to you, Sergeant. Keep a couple of good men on him day and night. Something may happen."

Heath rose, an unhappy man.

"Right, sir. I'll attend to it."

"And I'd like to have more data on Charles Cleaver," added Markham. "Find out what you can of his relations with the Odell girl—Also, get me a line on Doctor Ambroise Lindquist. What's his history?—what are his habits?—you know the kind of thing. He treated the girl for some mysterious or imaginary ailment; and I think he has something up his sleeve. But don't go near him personally—yet."

Heath jotted the name down in his note-book, without enthusiasm.

"And before you set your stylish captive free," put in Vance, yawning, "you might, don't y' know, see if he carries a key that fits the Odell apartment."

Heath jerked up short and grinned.

"Now, that idea's got some sense to it. . . . Funny I didn't think of it myself." And shaking hands with all of us, he went out.

(Wednesday, September 12; 10:30 a. m.)

Swacker was evidently waiting for an opportunity to interrupt, for, when Sergeant Heath had passed through the door, he at once stepped into the room.

"The reporters are here, sir," he announced, with a wry face. "You said you'd see them at 10:30."

In response to a nod from his chief, he held open the door, and a dozen or more newspaper men came trooping in.

"No questions, please, this morning," Markham begged pleasantly "It's too early in the game. But I'll tell you all I know. . . . I agree with Sergeant Heath that the Odell murder was the work of a professional criminal—the same who broke into Arnheim's house on Park avenue last summer."

Briefly he told of Inspector Brenner's findings in connection with the chisel.

"We've made no arrests, but one may be expected in the very near future. In fact, the police have the case well in hand, but are going carefully in order to avoid any chance of an acquittal. We've already recovered some of the missing jewelry. . . ."

He talked to the reporters for five minutes or so, but he made no mention of the testimony of the maid or the phone operator, and carefully avoided the mention of any names.

When we were again alone, Vance chuckled admiringly.

"A masterly evasion, my dear Markham! Legal training has its advantages—decidedly it has its advantages. . . . 'We've recovered some of the missing jewelry!' Sweet winged words! Not an untruth—oh, no!—but how deceivin'!"

"Leaving all that to one side," Markham rejoined impatiently, "suppose you tell me, now that Heath's gone, what was in your mind when you applied your verbal voodooism to Skeel. What was all the conjurer-talk about dark closets, and alarms, and pressing thumbs, and peering through keyholes?"

"Well, now, I didn't think my little chit-chat was so cryptic," answered Vance. "The recherche Tony was undoubtedly ambuscaded in the clothes-press at some time during the fatal evening; and I was merely striving in my amateurish way, to ascertain the exact hour of his concealment."

"And did you?"

"Not conclusively." Vance shook his head sadly. "Y' know, Markham, I'm the proud possessor of a theory—it's vague and obscure and unsubstantial; and it's downright unintelligible. And even if it were verified, I can't see how it would help us any, for it would leave the situation even more incomprehensible than it already is. . . . I almost wish I hadn't questioned Heath's Beau Nash. He upset my ideas frightfully."

"From what I could gather, you seem to think it possible that Skeel witnessed the murder. That could not, by any stretch of the imagination, be your precious theory?"

"That's part of it, anyway."

"My dear Vance, you do astonish me!" Markham laughed outright. "Skeel, then, according to you, is innocent; but he keeps his knowledge to himself, invents an alibi, and doesn't even tattle when he's arrested. . . . It won't hold water."

"I know," sighed Vance. "It's a veritable sieve. And yet, the notion haunts me—it rides like a hag—it eats into my vitals."

"Do you realize that this mad theory of yours presupposes that, when Spotswoode and Miss Odell returned from the theater, there were two men hidden in the apartment—two men unknown to each other—namely Skeel and your hypothetical murderer?"

"Of course I realize it; and the thought of it is breaking down my reason."

"Furthermore, they must have entered the apartment separately, and hidden separately. . . . How, may I ask, did they get in? And how did they get out? And which one caused the girl to scream after Spotswoode had left? And what was the other one doing in the meantime? And if Skeel was a passivie spectator, horrified and mute, how do you account for his breaking open the jewel-case and securing the ring—?"

"Never-fail" Recipe for Crushed Strawberry Jam

Once you have tried the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo you will discard the old, tedious, uncertain way as an out-of-date piece of kitchen drudgery.

Ten glasses of the most delicious Strawberry Jam can be made by the following recipe quickly, easily and with perfect results every time.

Crush about 2 quarts of berries one layer at a time so that each berry is actually crushed or broken up to a pulp. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil, and prevents fruit rising to the top or floating. Best results are obtained by running berries through a food chopper. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into a large kettle, add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard from 1 to 2 minutes, remove from fire and stir in ½ cup Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax.

Certo is the natural jellying substance which has been extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that perfect jams and jellies can be made without long boiling.

Recommended by a famous expert in cookery

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—

"I strongly advise all housewives to make all their jams and jellies with Certo because: It's easier—Takes only one minute's boiling. Tastes better—No flavor boiled away. Better color—Not darkened by long boiling. No worry—Never fails to set. It's economical—Fifty per cent more from given amount of fruit and no waste from failures."

Get Certo today from your grocer. With each bottle comes a complete book of recipes for making better looking, better flavored jams and jellies the quick, easy Certo way.

Favorite Jokes of Famous People

As Told by Them to

FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON

By ARTHUR GUITERMAN

This is the man whom Joyce Kilmer characterized as "The Most American of Poets," whose verses James Whitcombe Riley loved and admired, and whose untiring inventiveness has won him a large following among readers of the widest diversity in taste.

His poems include historical and legendary ballads, folk tales, nature lyrics, society verse, fables of birds and beasts, imaginative and thoughtful sonnets, and couplets and quadrains based sometimes on Oriental proverbs, sometimes on his own philosophy.

Among his works are "Chips of Jade," "The [illegible]ong Muse," "The Mirthful Lyre."
His Car of Song can make the grade,
And never needs an extra tire.

I once read one of Mr. Guiterman's poems about life hereafter. Gee, but it sounded Dante.

Mr. Guiterman says that so many people mispronounce his name. Gurgle the explanatory couplet below and you'll see how it's done.

There ain't no better, fitter man
Than Mister Arthur Guiterman.

"This favorite joke of mine is a true story," Mr. Guiterman told me, "and for diplomatic reasons I shall have to disguise the distinguished dramatist under the alias of Fred Colby.

"Anyhow, this alleged Mr. Colby, being one of the speakers at a public dinner was seated at the guest table. On his right was Mrs. Colby; but on his left was a well-known dancer, especially well known because of the scantiness of her costumes.

"She was deserving her reputation by having achieved such an extent of undress that to the startled eye of the diners on the lower level it must have seemed that the lady was in her bath. Mrs. Colby took a good look. Then she nudged her husband violently and whispered:

"'Fred! Fred! for heaven's sake, talk to that woman or they'll think she's your wife!'"

SPUDDERS FAIL TO SEIZE SCORING CHANCES AND BEARS WIN

ENEMY TAKES FINAL, 4 TO 3

Jenkins' Homer With 2 On Scores Our Only Runs

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Opportunity, contrary to the maxim of my grandpap, knocked not once, but several times yesterday out at the orchard. But the Spudders were otherwise engaged, failed to heed the rapping and lost the ball game. The San Antonio Bears won, 4 to 3, taking the final and decisive contest of the series.

And more than that. The champions, as a result of the loss and wins by Fort Worth and Houston, were tumbled into third place.

The Bears won by persistently bunching hits off Tom Estill and with the help of the Spudders, who refused to help themselves. Walter Newman, turned back by the Detroit Tigers, lacked control as usual. But the champions helped him along and though Walter issued six bases on balls and yielded eight hits, poor base running or inability to hit with comrades on the paths cost our nine the ball game.

Except for a home run by Tom Jenkins in the third inning, a tremendous wallop over the left-field fence with two comrades on base lines, the Spudders were impotent when hits meant tallies. Our nine had two men on bases in the first inning, three on in the second, one on in the fourth, two on in the sixth, one on to third in the seventh, and one on in the ninth without scoring.

Eldred Available

Mr. Brick Eldred, who has had quite a reputation as a batter in the Pacific Coast league for several seasons, doubless will see service soon with such hitting, or lack of it, as evinced yesterday. Mr. Eldred, incidentally, reported for duty yesterday. He is a medium-sized, heavy-set fellow, buil't along the lines of Ping Bodie.

The Bears scored one in the first, fourth and sixth innings and finally won in the ninth, when they made two hits count for the decisive tally. Estill gave up nine hits in a fair hurling performance, but was guilty of a wild throw to first base in the first inning that cost a run. Tom, however, nor any pitcher can win when his mates fail to score runs for him.

The game was marked, or marred, however one views such affairs, by constant bickerings of players with umpires and among themselves. Two hour was required to finish the pastime.

How Bears Won

San Antonio scored in the first. Najo walked with one out and went to third on Estill's wild throw to catch him off first. Griffin's sacrifice lift to Jenkins scored Najo.

Fitzgerald strolled and Lamb was safe on a bunt in the third and both were scored by Jenkins' homer and the Spudder cause looked hopeful.

But San Tone counted in the fourth. Grimes was safe on Benton's boot, went to third on Boggess' double to left and tallied while Benton was throwing out Nason.

The Bears tied in the sixth. Griffin tripled to right and scored on Grimes' sacrifice fly to Fitzgerald.

They won in the ninth. Newman himself started it with a single to center after one was out. He went to second while Turgeon and Stanton were retiring Flaskamper and scored on Najo's single to left.

Notes of the Game

The Spudders left last night on a road trek of two weeks' duration, on which they play all four clubs of the southern half of the loop and Shreveport before returning home two weeks from today.

Myers made an expert throw catching Jenkins off second base in the second with two out. It was a courageous play as he had almost thrown the ball away just before, Flaskamper making a stop that held Tom on second.

Flaskamper made a corking snatch of Benton's fly into left field in the second with the bases filled and two out.

Gibson argued long and vehemently with Umpire Harry Kane over the calling out of Flaskamper in the third. Kane banished Pitcher Watt from the dugout and park while the Bears were at bat in the fourth.

Lapan caught Najo off first in the third with a quick, accurate peg.

Lamb saved a hit, probably a run, with a running catch of Najo's drive in the fifth with two out and a runner on second base.

Skipper Gibson of the Bears permitted Boss Williams to run for Swenson in the second and allowed Wally to resume play. Swenson had turned his ankle in stealing second.

Scotland Plumbers Trounce DeMolays

Stellar pitching by Roberts and heavy hitting gave the Scotland Plumbers a 16 to 0 victory over the De Molay baseball team Tuesday afternoon on the Jalonic street diamond, in a City league game.

The De Molays were unable to make a substantial stand against the Plumbers, making many errors and fielding poorly. Score:

CATS SHUT OUT WACO, 6 TO 0

Wachtel Blanks Foe Second Game of Season

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Paul Wachtel turned in his second shutout victory of the season to give Fort Worth a 6 to 0 win over Waco in the third and final game of the series Monday afternoon at Panther park. Andy Harrington, second baseman, returned to the lineup to play an important role in the run making.

Oscar Tuero started for the Cubs, but went out in the seventh inning in favor of Gallivan, who finished. Moore, Harrington, and Smith, each collected three hits. Score:

Right to Erect Hall On Public Square Denied

NEW ORLEANS, May 7. (AP)—Shreveport was denied the right to build a municipal auditorium on a public square in a decision handed down by the state supreme court here today. Upholding the decision of a lower court the supreme court held that the terms under which Shreveport was given the park more than 65 years ago prevented its being used for any other purpose.

Indians Second In Track Meet

Hodges Wins Three Firsts For High Point of 15

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—The John Tarleton Agricultural college Plowboys of Stephenville decisively won the track and field championship of the Texas Junior College Athletic association here Monday afternoon, piling up 61½ points to triumph over six other colleges. The annual meet of the association was staged on Texas Christian university's athletic field.

Wichita Falls Junior college was second with 34 points and North Texas Agricultural college of Arlington came third with 22½ points. The four other teams and the points won were: Paris Junior college, 19 points; Hillsboro Junior college, 9 points; Texas Junior college, 6 points, and Wesley Junior college of Greenville, 1 point.

Jot Hodges, Wichita Falls Junior college flash, was awarded high score honors for collecting 15 points. He won three first places, winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the 120-yard hurdles.

Time in the races and results of the field events were not unusual but were so much better than past performances in the annual Junior college meet that eight records were broken and another tied. New circuit records were established in the shot put, 880-yard run, 440-yard dash, pole vault, 220-yard hurdles, high jump, javelin throw and mile relay and the 120-yard high hurdle record was tied.

Loveland Victor In League Debut

CHATTANOOGA, May 7.—Loveland celebrated its entry in the Cotton Belt league by defeating Chattanooga in a pitchers' battle by a score of 3 to 2. The largest crowd of the season was out, including quite a number from Grandfield and Loveland to boost the new member.

The feature play was made in the eighth inning, when, with the bases loaded, Winkleman hit what looked like a cinch hit just to the left of second base and on a line, but Loveland's fast shortstop, Ray Riley, charged across with outstretched hand, caught the ball and stepped on second to complete a double play unassisted and saving the game.

HALLAS VICTOR IN ROUGH BOUT

Hassan Unable to Continue After Each Wins Fall

Billy Hallas, the Greek middleweight grappler, is going to retire to his ranch down in New Mexico. That is, Hallas will retire temporarily, which means a few months. Billy leaves the mat here flat on its back—but not on his back. He is undefeated this year in shindigs at Mr. Alec Ross' The Gym. Last night saw Hallas score another victory, though it was somewhat clouded.

Ali Hassan, the Turk, called "Terrible" like all of his nationality, as a baseball pitcher named Young is always labeled Cy, was the victim last night. Hassan, however, lost only one fall and gained one. But he was injured so in losing his fall—which was the second—that he was unable to return to the mat. Thus Referee Blondy Lusk had no other course to follow than to award the match to Billy.

Gruelling Match

It was another of those gruelling, free-for-all affairs, with its rough and tumble milling to thrill the patrons, interspersed with bits of comedy, as for instance when the grapplers tangled with the rough and willing Mr. Lusk.

Hallas conceded the first fall in 21 minutes when Hassan clamped on a toehold. After 18 minutes of exceedingly rough going Hallas threw his foe heavily to the canvas with a flying eagle. Hassan's shoulders were pinned. He was unable to continue the contest.

Gipsy Smith Wins

Gipsy Smith, the British globe trotter, defeated Pete Pallas, another Greek, in straight falls. This was wrestling, not the so-called New York commission rules. That is, it was billed as wrestling. But Pallas forgot himself and was disqualified for the first fall in eight minutes for slugging. Smith took the second and decisive fall in 23 minutes with a touble toehold, the Gipsy showing cleverness and speed in winning.

Mr. Ross announced that the popular Matty Matsuda will grapple here next week.

MEHLHORN'S 72 LEADS QUALIFIERS IN BRITISH OPEN GOLF

BARNES, HAGEN SCORE 74, 76

Armour and Sarazen Shoot 77; Nabholtz Has 80

SANDWICH, Eng., May 7. (AP)—"Wild Bill" Mehlhorn led 200 golfers home today in the first qualifying round of the British open championship, although he did not want to do it. The sensational American, who usually manages to throw a fright into his opponents during a round or more of any championship in which he participates, has often started off in front, only to finish behind, and he frankly hoped that his 72, compiled early in the day, would not stand up.

As the scores in the qualifying rounds do not count in the championship proper, Bill refused to permit himself to grow enthusiastic over his position at the head of the parade today.

All of the American professionals tonight seemed reasonably certain to survive tomorrow's play when the low 100 and ties will be certified for entrance in the title play. "Long Jim" Barnes, who has won a British open, was on Mehlhorn's heels with 74 and Walter Hagen, who has won two, had 76.

Armour Shoots 77.

Tommy Armour, the American Open champion, and Gene Sarazen, scored 77 as did Johnny McHugh, California amateur, playing in his first big golf test away from home.

Larry Nabholtz, still feverish after a day in bed yesterday when he was threatened with influenza, played good golf to get an 80 which probably will be good enough if he can duplicate it tomorrow.

Conditions today were difficult and old golf observers said no previous championship competition here has been made harder for the contestants. With white caps topping the waves of the English channel from a stiff wind off the North sea, it was hard to score on both Prince's and Royal St. George's.

As a result the huge score board half hiding the little St. George's clubhouse was covered with late 70's, a lot of 80's and numerous 90's.

Heavy Wind.

As the seemingly never ending string of golfers wound its way among gigantic sand dunes and tried to skirt yawning bunkers from morning to night, the wind kept on blowing and with each extra gust a golfer asked himself: "Will I qualify?" The players battled a head wins much of the way and it blew some of them out of the competition. They will not be counted out formally until tomorrow night, but many are out now.

A stroke behind Mehlhorn's 72 were George Duncan, the veteran Scot, the long driving Jack Smith, Len Holland, an experienced competitor, and William Davies of Prenton.

T. A. Torrance, Scottish amateur, James Bradeer, H. C. Jolley and Arnaud Massey, the French star, all had scores of 74.

Percy Allis, E. R. Whitcombe and Jose Jurado, the Argentine, were in with 75's. Archie Compston and Abe Mitchell 77, and Aubrey Boomer 78.

Ford Ineligible In Indian Tennis

But Kirkland and Couper Will Be Formidable

Wichita Falls Junior college doubles team in tennis suffered a setback when Jimmie Ford was declared ineligible on scholastic standings with the state meet only one week off.

Herbert Kirkland, who won the Junior college singles championship two weeks ago, has coupled with Fred Couper, Ford's partner, and the two will represent the school in the state meet at Fort Worth Saturday.

The Indians hold both the doubles and singles championship in the Junior College conference and have bright prospects for attaching another state title.

Kirkland won the city high school championship of Dallas for two years and came within one point of winning the state high school meet last year.

Couper went to the final match last year in the Junior college elimination tournament and ranks second only to Kirkland in the school.

Regular dirigible service starts between New York and London this summer. Fare, five thousand dollars, win or lose.

Commander Burney states that the trip will be pleasant provided that nothing happens.

We don't like it.

It's too much like getting a guarantee with a stick of dynamite.

If you are not going to get there, we would like to do it much cheaper.

Five thousand bills is an enormous mustard plaster on the bankroll. We will have to stick to the kiddy-kars in Macy's basement.

However, there will be more economical rates. You can straddle the tail skid for two thousand, payable in advance, or hang on a rope for eighty-five cents, cash.

All those in favor of flying this summer in a dirigible or squatting on a red hot stove in July will please remain seated.

World Shot Put Record Is Claimed by German

BRESLAU, Silesia, May 7. (UP) A new world's record for putting the 16-pound shot was claimed today for Hans Hirschfeld, German athlete, whose best toss in a meet here was measured as 15.790 meters or approximately 51 feet 9 inches.

The official world's record for putting the 16-pound shot is 15.54 meters, or 51 feet, established by Ralph Rose in 1909. The Olympic record is 15.34 or 50 feet 3⅞ inches, made by Pat McDonald at Stockholm in 1912.

DEMPSEY WILL MANAGE BOXER

Jack Hopes Armand Emanuel Will Whip Tunney

By ED FRAYNE

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—William Harrison Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, whose retirement has provoked many a guffaw in the past few months, has made a move in the last 24 hours that will astonish the scoffers. He has become the legal manager of Armand Emanuel, the boxing barrister of San Francisco.

Details of an agreement between Dempsey and Emanuel were settled at the office of Attorney Arthur Driscoll on Wednesday. Charles Emanuel, father of the young heavyweight sensation, and George (Tex) Rickard, the promoter, were present.

Jack Manager Now

So far as Dempsey is concerned, he is now officially retired so far as the New York State Athletic Commission is concerned. He cannot be a contender and a manager of a contender at one and the same time. In addition, he is reported to be a stockholder in Madison Square garden, which also complicates his status.

The story that Dempsey was Emanuel's manager has been prevalent for several months. It was a publicity stunt to begin with, and was later denied by all concerned.

In the past few weeks the idea of managing Emanuel has become an obsession with Dempsey. The boy's father intended to manage the lad himself, but Dempsey was determined. He would not take no for an answer. Dempsey used Armand as a sparring partner last year, and he thinks the boy is just the type to out-box Gene Tunney. Jack argued for three days, and he finally talked the father and son into giving him a 33 1-3 per cent interest in Armand's earnings. The length of the contract was not learned.

Lomski to Fight Latzo

Humbert J. Fugazy continued his signing activities today in sensational fashion. He matched Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen light heavyweight, with Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion.

Lomski and Latzo will meet at Ebbets field on May 30 in 10-round bout. There is no title involved, but it should appeal to fight fans as a real attraction. Latzo has an excellent chance to defeat Lomski, which would make Peter an outstanding contender for the light heavyweight title.

AAA Sanctions Dallas 250-Mile Race May 13

DALLAS, Texas, May 7. (UP)—The sanction of the American Automobile association of the 250-mile national championship race to be held at fair park here May 13 has stimulated a great deal of interest among Three A drivers of Texas, who have begun to make entries.

Two Texas drivers have sent in their entries. They are J. W. Draper of San Antonio, driving a Winfield special and H. C. Wade of Somerset, driving a Wade special.

Promoters of the Frank Lockhart memorial race said they were in touch with several of the leading drivers who are expected to enter the event.

The association has made the 250-mile race a "point event," the winner to be awarded points on the national championship.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

POSSIBLE PENNANT contenders and nothing worse than the first division. Thus looms the San Antonio Bears. There is all-around balance to the San Tone club to indicate they are going to be dangerous all the way. Riviere, Fillingim, Messenger, Newman and Watt form the nucleus of a very good pitching staff, heading a defense that will hold opposing clubs very well.

Skipper Frank Gibson didn't pastime in major league regalia for several years for naught. He is a star receiver, ranking with Jonnard and Snyder of the Buffs as the best in the league. The infield is experienced and fast. Ray Grimes is a capable first baseman. He was a hard hitter in the big leagues and with Toledo and Little Rock. He should be a leading smacker in the Texas loop. Philbin and Flaskamper form an efficient keystone pair. Flaskamper is phenomenally fast. Taylor is an excellent third baseman.

NASON AND GRIFFIN always have been hard hitters and with Najo form a trio of capable offensive gardeners. There seems to be something to be desired in their defensive play, however, though the gardeners won't lose a lot of games with lack of speed. The outfield does not measure up to the inner defensive quartet in the matter of defensive worth and must make up for that by mighty clouting. Whether they achieve that end remains to be seen.

HAVING SEEN ALL clubs of the circuit at Athletic park, the preseason forecast is altered but little. Houston and Fort Worth still are favored by this writer as leading menaces to the Spudders' hopes of repeating. Dallas has lost some in the estimation of the writer. I picked them for fourth. Sixth place may be the best the Steers can reach. San Antonio looks the best for fourth and as possible contenders for the gonfalon, though that is an outside chance, with the possibility of Waco gaining that place. Shreveport will beat out Beaumont for seventh.

Perrella Leads Bunion In Longest Day's Grind

MISHAWAKA, Ind., May 7. (AP)—Louis Perrella of Albany, N. Y., today paced the transcontinental derbyists through their longest day's lap since leaving Los Angeles, traversing the 66.2 miles from Gary to Mishawaka in 9:30:32.

Perella's total elapsed time for the 2496.9 miles traveled thus far is 466:57:09. He is in ninth place.

Maintaining his feat of slowly creeping up on the leaders, John Salo of Passaic, N. J., came in second today in 10:15:35. He is in third place.

Another Lean Outdoor Boxing Year Doleful Forecast of Damon Runyon

Lack of Oustanding Attractions Seen, Though Rickard Probably Will Profit Again With His Shows

By DAMON RUNYAN
Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service

NEW YORK, May 7.—The season for outdoor boxing is upon us, and the promoters and their matchmakers are dashing hither and yon seeking attractions for their various premises.

'Tis strange how hope ever blooms in the bosoms of the outdoor promoters and their matchmakers when comes the first warm zip of spring. It lingers—withering slowly, to be sure, but still lingering—until the hot breath of the sheriff hits the back of their necks along toward late July.

If the outdoor boxing dodge is no better in 1928 than it was in 1927, the boys might as well turn those al fresco arenas into tennis yards. The summer of '27 will ever be remembered by the promoters and matchmakers as positively enervating. The way the clients remained away from those open air spots was terrific, especially when you consider how much the clients need the open air.

Rickard Profits

The ubiquitious old boy Rickard cut in with a couple of paying outdoor shows, but most of the other promoters died standing up. I see no better outlook for the impending summer, but the boys never pay attention to outlooks. Some of them are only in on their muscle, any way, and if they lose they are no worse off than when they started.

I doubt if there are enough real pugilistic attractions afoot to make big business for all the big operators, though some of the little fellows may manage to chisel along at a profit. Then again it is a heavyweight championship year here, and a large bout is bad for boxing business in general.

Why?

Because it detracts attention from other bouts.

I am inclined to think that this game of pasture pool, or golf, has crumbed the outdoor boxing dodge as much as anything else.

Now don't give me the argument that this can not be so because golf is played in the daytime, while the outdoor boxing goes forward at night.

After a guy has fumbled around with his golf all afternoon, he does not feel like changing his apparel and faring forth to fisticuffs. He wishes to sit around all evening and talk about his score.

Boxers Take Up Golf

I do not say that this preference of the clients for golf over boxing shows that the clients are acquiring intelligence. I but state a condition. I note that a large number of the persons directly connected with boxing have taken up golf, so the baleful influence of the latter pastime is very great indeed.

But in any event there is no doubt in my mind but that golf has hurt outdoor boxing. Even Rickard has taken up golf. How can he give his complete attention to his boxing when he is thinking of how to correct his habit of slicing?

Old Boy Rickard has the Yankee stadium and the Polo Grounds sewed up for such outdoor boxing as he expects to promote this summer, which will probably not be a great deal. Rickard does not fool with outdoor boxing beyond important attractions, but he likes to grab the best available yards to keep anyone else from fooling with it on a minor scale.

It amounts to a monopoly, to be sure, but the boxing commission tolerates it, so I suppose it is nobody's business. The boxing commision, Messieurs and Mesdames, tolerates about anything that Rickard undertakes. The hook-up of the two yards with Rickard debars anyone else from putting on a show of any magnitude on Manhattan island.

Fugazy Handicapped

The good Signor Humberto Fugazy is operating at Ebbets field, but he is apt to find himself handicapped by lack of matches for any real big shows. About the biggest attraction he could hope to secure would be a bout between the middleweight champion, Mickey Walker, and some contender, for Walker is about the only titleholder not tied up with Rickard.

Outside of the three ball yards in the greater city, the next best arena, in my opinion, is the Queensboro, and if the promoters have squared themselves with the weather man they ought to get by with fair cards at their moderate scale of prices. But somehow it always seems to rain on Queensboro nights, even when they change the nights.

The Coney Island stadium is a nice spot for boxing, bar a fog, and Lew Raymond, the new matchmaker, has already chewed up a large box of cigars trying to think of an opening card. The stadium hasn't prospered greatly in the past, however, and no one can say just why.

Smaller Arenas

There are a number of other smaller open air arenas scattered over the big town, including such as Dexter Park, in Brooklyn, which is always a fair money maker. These arenas can scarcely compete for the top liners in the boxing game. Their draw is mainly from their immediate neighborhoods.

I am told that Newark hopes to offer some outdoor competition to New York this summer in the new baseball yard of the Newark Bears, which is big enough to produce the kind of money that pulls in important bouts. In fact, I hear that the promoters over there are already skirmishing around among the high shots of the game muttering large figures.

However, there are never more than half a dozen real big attractions available at any time in the boxing racket, and after these are exhausted there is little gimp left in the outdoor pastime. The fact that the heavyweight championship show goes on a little early this year may help the small promoters some, as it gives them the month of August to themselves.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Reports of cold rains in the eastern belt and a more favorable interpretation of reports from the goods trade, seemed responsible for a renewal of the recent buying movement in the cotton market today. Offerings were comparatively light, particularly during the afternoon when July contracts sold up to 21.25 or 62 points net higher and closed at 21.23, the general market closing strong at net advances of 58 to 68 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 20 to 29 points on the cables and weather news. Active months sold 28 to 40 points net higher in the first half hour, buying being stimulated by relatively firm cables, and a report that sales of cotton goods by some of the larger Worth street interests the last two weeks had exceeded production. The early buying was supplied by liquidation with some local and southern selling on prospects for gradually clearing reactions of about 20 points from the best during the day. The volume of selling tapered off on the decline, however, suggesting that the market had been fairly well liquidated on speculative long accounts on the reactions of the last week and prices firmed up again in the afternoon. Failure of a private report pointing to a probable increase of 9.1 per cent in acreage to bring in larger offerings no doubt increased the disposition to cover short contracts or to rebuy long cotton liquidated on the recent setback. At any rate trading became more active, May selling up to 21.49 and October to 21.23 in late trading or 60 to 69 points net higher. The private report on acreage prospects said the season averaged 9.4 days later than normal, compared with 9.1 days late a year ago.

The figures pointing to an increase of 9.1 per cent in acreage compared with two private reports, issued last week, one of which put the probable increase at 4.2 and the other at 3.5 per cent.

Private cables reported continental buying and trade calling in Liverpool, and an improved cloth demand from India, although yarns were inactive.

Port receipts today 16,145 bales, U. S. port stocks 1,447,768. Exports 14,374, making 6,563,260 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 7. (AP)—Unfavorable weather news from the eastern section of the belt, coupled with reports of generally cool weather and higher cables sent the cotton market gyrating today, active months scoring an advance of from $3 to $3.25 a bale by the end of the session.

Weather news was the predominating influence in the movement for higher prices. Following closely upon reports of further heavy rains in the east, came word that the Texas crop was being retarded by drought. July opened 17 points above the previous close, and although there were occasional reactions, these were overcome in the steady movement for higher ground and the position closed at 20.95, net 57 points higher on the day.

The general market closed steady at net gains of from 57 to 65 points.

Cables were from 3 to 7 points better than due and first trades were from 17 to 18 points over the previous close. This spurt saw July trading up to 20.75 and October 20.54, or 37 to 42 points over the previous close before realizing by recent buyers and some selling by ring traders brought on a slight reaction. In the downward movement, July settled to 20.60 and October 20.35, 15 to 19 points down from the highs and which proved to be the day's lows.

The market firmed up after mid-session upon receipts of detailed reports of rains in the eastern section which showed them to have been heavier than was first indicated. The market continued firm as the session wore on and the advance became more rapid with new highs being established near the end. July reached 20.99 and October 20.78, 61 to 66 points above Saturday's close. The close was from 3 to 4 points lower than the highs.

Reports were current in the market of considerable continental buying and trade calling that also had a stimulating effect on prices. Near the end of the session, reports were circulated that week-end weather had had a retarding influence on the crop generally.

Grain

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.
Universal Service.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Up and down markets kept the trade guessing in wheat and corn today and brought to close a rather quiet, thoughtful day in the pits with a slight lowering of price levels, in spite of good decreases in the visible supplies.

At the finish wheat was off ¼ to ⅜c; corn was ¼c lower to ⅛c higher; oats were down ¼ to ½c; but rye was strong and up 1¼c to 1⅝c.

Both wheat and corn seemed to be jockeying for position. Herbert Blum told me after the close that he is bullish as ever on the latter grain.

"I like the July future," he said, "because by the time that delivery gets round the demand for the cash grain will in my opinion call everyone's attention to the inadequacy of remaining supplies."

There appeared to be a good deal of short selling of corn today. It was that, probably, which made the market erractic. When the session was over, however, the net gain made by Bears was so small as to be negligible, and the very selling that had taken place is likely to have left the market stronger than it was before.

Corn is having a hard fight to get up into high enough ground to force the bears to throw up the sponge. Nevertheless, it does not stay down. Although it is repeatedly walloped for a fall when it gets up to a new high, it picks itself up again and comes right back to make another still higher top.

In the cash market wheat was unchanged to 1 off; corn was unchanged to ½c up; oats were unchanged to ½c off; rye was quiet; barley was steady.

Iowa Park News

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—Miss Barbara Swanson, who has been employed by the Texas Power and Light company at Munday, is spending her vacation here with her parents before going to Sonora, where she has been transferred by the company.

A. D. Dutcher is confined to his room with an attack of pleurisy.

Friends of Miss Mona McKinney, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel McKinney, will be glad to know that she is able to be up again for the first time in six months. Her recovery is attributed to the remarkable serum treatment recently discovered by a physician in Pennsylvania.

Superintendent R. E. Brewster with Mrs. Brewster and little daughter spent Monday and Tuesday in Denton visiting Mr. Brewster's parents.

Jimmy Stewart returned home Tuesday from a visit in Gilmer, where he spent ten days with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Barbour and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Park and little daughter spent May 1 at Lake Kemp enjoying the new camp house just erected there.

Mrs. A. B. Bishop, Mrs. O. L. Woodall and Mrs. Pearl Smythe were in Wichita Falls Tuesday evening attending the Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have recently moved to Wichita, Kan., to make their home. Their son, Costello, who is a member of the graduating class of the Iowa Park high school, will remain here until the closing of school.

Mrs. G. R. Hoge was among those who attended the district conference which was held at the Floral Heights Methodist church Tuesday.

Miss Winkie, who teaches in the primary grades in the Iowa Park school, left for Lubbock Friday after school to visit her mother, who is ill in a hospital there.

Miss Ruth Williams is in Fort Worth visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams.

Miss Reola Thompson of Dallas is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Hattie Christopher.

Call Rate Advance Fails to Halt Bullish Enthusiasm; Radio Hops to New High Record

BY BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Radio in a wild advance to a new high record price featured another active and strong market today.

General Motors was the leader early, but the favorable report of Radio for the first quarter influenced ever-increasing demand and more dizzy price fluctuations, so that before noon it was monopolizing speculative attention.

International Combustion jumped into prominence and was one of the 58 stocks to establish new highs.

Advance in the call rate to 5½ from a renewal of 5 per cent following further calling of loans failed to dampen bullish enthusiasm. Railroads joined in the upward move with Canadian Pacific in the lead as it broke into new high ground. Oils quieted, but were fairly steady.

American Telephone and International Telephone occupied the spotlight in the utility section with local tractions remaining quiet. American Tobacco shares more than made up recent losses.

Further realizing in wheat unsettled the grain market, while cotton held fairly firm. Sterling recovered further in a generally steady foreign exchange market.

There are two important developments to be expected this week, both of which will mark the passing of further "good news." General Motors directors meet Thursday and it is generally expected that they will declare the $2 extra dividend first forecast here. There has been some talk of an increase in the regular dividend, but those usually best informed on the workings of the DuPont-Morgan minds do not take it seriously. The other development will be the consumnation of plans of Cutten and his associates for lightening the load of holding Baldwin up. Announcement is looked for of the formation of a holding company which will take over control of both Baldwin and Westinghouse. Later on, it is believed, other companies will be taken in.

STOCK-A-DAY

BUTTE COPPER & ZINC CO.

The Butte Copper & Zinc company was formed in 1904, but did not become active until 1916. Since that time its mines in the Butte section of Montana have been producing chiefly manganese and zinc, with some silver, lead and copper. In 1915, the properties were leased to the Anaconda Copper Mining company for five years. In 1917 a new lease was made to extend to 1931 unless previously terminated. This provides that the net earnings from ores received be divided equally between both companies, the Anaconda agreeing to keep the properties in good condition.

The properties of the company are located in the center of the city of Butte and is a compact group covering 3000 feet along the Black Chief vein. The Anaconda company owns $1,085,200 of the $3,000,000 worth of stock of the Butte Copper & Zinc company.

Net income in 1927 was $58,310, or 10 cents a share, compared with $194,524, or 32c a share in 1926 and 63 cents a share in 1925. The small earnings were attributed to the low metal prices and to the light demand for maganese, together with unusual expense for development and machinery.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock consists of $3,000,000 in shares of $5 par value.

No dividends are being paid at present. The dividend was passed January 16, 1928, when the annual dividend rate of 50 cents a share, which had been maintained since 1923, was discontinued.

As of January 1, 1928, current assets amounted to $109,933; current liabilities to $6113, and net working capital to $103,820. Book value of the stock amounted to $5.75 a share.

Auxiliary Gives Birthday Party

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—The Ladies auxiliary of the Presbyterian church held their annual rbirthday party Wednesday evening at the church with a splendid program, and a birthday offering to aid in the establishment of a nurses' training school for negro girls' in connection with the Stillman institute, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The principal feature of the evening was a play in two parts dramatizing the work made possible by the birthday offerings and the needs of the negro girls for Christian education. Those who took part in the play were Mesdames F. P. Stryker, Will Gauntt, King Abernathy, E. J. Wilson, Gale Lowrance, Scott Ralston, G. C. Richards, Gayle Park, Dick Kidd, Robert Van Horn, and Misses Clara Lowrance, and Leila Grace Cornforth.

Mrs. Dick Estes gave the prologue to the play. Mrs. James A. Sewell played the accompaniments for the musical numbers. Hattie Johnson, a local colored girl, sang negro spirituals.

Mrs. Noel Troutman gave a reading entitled, "The Little White House on the Hill."

Vacancies Filled In Iowa Park Faculty

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—The board of trustees of the Iowa Park public schools met recently and elected several teachers to fill some of the vacancies of the faculty for next year, caused by the resignation of several teachers.

Miss Julia Alice Gardiner of Petrolia was elected to teach English in the Junior high school; Miss Helen Wilkins of Oklaunion to teach penmanship in the Junior high; Miss Grace Kibble will teach penmanship and reading in the ward school and intermediate department; Miss Audra Brown of Piano, Spanish and freshman English, and Miss Gertrude Brooks of Panhandle was elected into the primary department.

The other vacancies will be filled at the next meeting of the board.

Curb

Leading Issues on New York Market

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Trading was heavy and the price trend of the general list upward on the curb market today. Utility stocks were leaders in the advance, but the artificial silk issues, some motor accessory shares and a few oils also were active and strong.

Large blocks of United Gas Improvement changed hands, the turnover at noon exceeding 21,000 shares and the price rose to a new high. Buying appeared to be inspired by reports that certain interests are accumulating United Gas and other shares with the idea of forming a new large public utility corporation. American Gas and Electric advanced nearly 10 points to a new top at 161⅞.

Creole Petroleum moved to a new high price at 16½ on heavy buying based on arrangements to list the issue on the "big board." Darby Petroleum reached an all time high at 23¼ and Imperial and Leonard Oils also established new high records. Vacuum sagged more than a point and Penn Mex Fuel dropped 11.

Fox Theater A was a feature of the industrial group, moving to a new top at 26⅝ on an exchange of nearly 50,000 shares. Columbia Graphaphone, Deere and Company, Bancitaly, Mercantile Stores, Pratt and Lambert, Shattuck Denn and Bullard Machine tool registered gains of 2 to 8 points. Most of the artificial silk shares were strong, Celanese gaining about 8 points and Tubize 22, although the latter's gain was cut to 13 on profit taking.

Phone Your Classified Ads to 4391

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad Department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Where ads are ordered and paid for no refunds are allowed where ads are cancelled before expiration date.

CLOSING HOURS FOR CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

6 p. m. for Record News day before publication.

11 a. m. for Times day of publication.

SUNDAY DEADLINE BOTH PAPERS, 1 P. M. SATURDAY.

CLOSING HOURS FOR STRAIGHT CLASSIFIED ADS

Ads accepted for week days until 6 p. m. day before publication and for Sunday's issue until 7 p. m. Saturday night.

NO DISCONTINUANCE ORDERS WILL BE TAKEN AFTER 6 P. M.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN SUNDAYS

from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. And telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want Ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

Ads coming in after closing hours will not appear until next morning's issue, with exception of Lost and Found. Ads coming under this classification will appear under the Too Late to Classify column in the evening edition.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headings and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

IDAHO ENJOYS DRILLING PLAY

State May be Added To Oil Producers

POCATELLO, Idaho, May 7.—Idaho, which is bounded by the states of Montana, Wyoming and Utah with oil fields, promises to take its place in a class with the oil states this year, providing the three tests now drilling are completed successfully. Though wet gas has been struck at a depth of 1350 feet in the Norton Bros. Fink No. 1, about 13 miles (air line) southeast of Pocatello, the well has not been made a commercial producer. There is not a producing oil well in the state of Idaho as yet.

Norton Brothers' test is being drilled with a core drill like those generally used in mining or in testing out oil formations. Each sand has been cored with the small rotary bit, in the Norton well.

The Standard Oil company of California is drilling on the 8000-acre block east of the Snake river valley in the Idaho Falls district. This well is about 60 miles up the valley from Pocatello. Considerable oil excitement has resulted since the well was started, over taking up of state lands near the drilling block. There has been active trading in leases in southeastern Idaho, especially in the Idaho Falls and Pocatello districts.

Showings Found

For more than two years, the Gem State Petroleum company has been drilling a wildcat just over the mountain range, 40 miles to the southwest of Pocatello. This well is down 2400 feet and is drilling. Some oil and gas showings have been reported.

That there are a number of good-looking oil structures in the Snake river district is the prediction of Geologist G. M. Johnson, formerly with the Imperial Oil company in the Fort Norman oil field of Canada, but more recently with the Essex-Hudson oil interests in the Kevin-Sunburst field of Montana.

According to Johnson, one of these structures is situated between Pocatello, and Blackfoot, part of the land being in or near the Fort Hall reservation, where about 1800 Bannock blanket Indians reside. Thus, as a Tulsa newspaper editor said, in speaking of "corrupting" the Osages, "another Indian tribe faces ruination with oil money," if oil is found in Idaho.

A cross structure is shown on the geological map, near the town of McCammon, southeast of Pocatello. On toward the east is found large deposits of sulphate of soda and mines are being worked. About a year ago, a farmer living near McCammon, drilled through lava rock and struck a deposit of grease similar to cup grease used in autos. He claims that the bit fell 10 feet into the grease, at a depth of only 25 feet.

No Water Found

On the Marsh valley structure, where Johnson has located the Norton Brothers' test well, no water has been found by drilling despite the fact that for over 30 years, an artesian belt with 17 wells showing gas, have continued to flow water and gas. The artesian wells ar elocated less than a mile from the oil well test. The geologist claims that drilling has proven his findings; that the well is on the oil structure and is out of the artesian water belt. Formation, the geologist says, is of Pennsylvanian and pay oil production should be found at 1700, also at 3000 feet.

Log of the Norton Brothers' well shows several stratas of gas and that the sand found at 1325 to 1350 feet, shows oil. The gas, the geologist says, threw drilling water and some oil over the top of the rig and stopped operation of the drill bit. The hole bridged over but is to be cleaned out and bailed. The gas is petroleum and appears to be suitable for making gasoline, the geologist says, though a gasoline test has not been made.

GILLILAND-NEIMEYER

G. W. Gilliland No. 1 W. F. Neimeyer, located 780 feet north, and 150 feet east of the southwest corner T. E. L. survey, section 2415, and a short distance of the Harmel pool in southwest Archer county, is drilling at 650 feet.

Iowa Park Society

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—Spring with its pleasant breezes and its greening woods is calling every one outside for their entertainment, and the folks are heeding the call by going fishing and the youngsters are going out for picnics.

The Intermediate Hi society of the Methodist church went out to Coleman's park Monday evening for a wiener roast. They developed an appetite by playing a lot of strenuous games for the wieners which they roasted over the fire, buns, pickles, marshmallows and fruit.

Those who went were: Mary Lea Smith, Glenda and Anna Mary Bevill, Ernestine Towerton, Beatrice Corder, Helen Litchfield, Virginia Beasley, Violet Shipman, Rosalie Kellar, Dorothy Watkins, Velva Shipman, Ruby White, Carroll Thurber, Louise Peveler, Maude Burnam, Marion Swint, Winona Peveler and Jim Estes, Malcolm McGillevery, Maurice Monroe, Marshall Chrestman, Thomas Burman, Lloyd Smith, Dell Harbour, Melvin McIntyre, Frank McReynolds, Frank Young, Herman McKinney, Costello Taylor, Buster Copeland, Travis and J. B. Sherwood, Griffith, Latona Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. O'Briant, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Hester, Mrs. Sevill and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Burnam chaperoned the crowd which went out in a truck furnished by Mr. Burnam.

School Picnic.

The youngsters from the 6-B class went on a picnic Thursday afternoon, braving the threatening weather for an afternoon of fun at Coleman's park. The room had been divided into two sides for a series of debates, and the losing side headed by Violet Shipman had to entertain the winners whose captain was George Thurber. They had a jolly time chaperoned by Mrs. Starnes and Miss Onelta Cherry. They roasted weines and marshmallows, which they enjoyed with their sandwiches, pickles and fruit.

The winners, who were entertained were: George Thurber, Ophelia Huff, Myrtle Bridges, Ross Burney, Pheron Harbour, Winnie Cherry, Tommie Harding, E. T. Starnes, Willis Summers, Bethel Taylor and Edna Mae Cambron.

Lawrence Summers and Velva Shipman were guests.

Class Entertained.

The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church was delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. M. B. Cain. About thirty guests enjoyed a jolly evening. The capsules were revealed, and a shower of love gifts made to Mrs. Urb Farmer. After a business session a social hour was enjoyed with refreshments of lemonade and wafers.

MILK RECEIPTS AT NEW PEAK

30,000 Pounds Received At Kraft Plant

Milk receipts at the Kraft Cheese company plant at Bluff and Sibley streets jumped to more than 30,000 pounds Monday for the first time since the plant was opened.

C. L. Teissler, manager, expressed the belief that the input of whole sweet milk will continue to gain.

One of the new 10,000-pound vats was set in place Monday in order to take care of the increase. This vat makes the immediate capacity of the plant 40,000 pounds. There is another vat on hand, so that at any time the plant can be made to care for 50,000 pounds. Mr. Teissler said that as fast as the farmers increase the milk supply, his company will be a step in advance and always be ready to take all the milk the farmers will bring in.

"We wish that the farmers would bring in 150,000 pounds daily instead of 30,000 pounds," he said.

The increase is pleasing to the plant officials, who said that with the gradually increasing number of high grade dairy cattle being brought into the county and also with the freshening of many cows, the milk supply should reach a higher figure soon.

School - College Notes

"Give me that man
That is not passion's slave."
—William Shakespeare.

Between 25 and 50 entries are assured for the Frank Haley extemporaneous speaking contest which will start Tuesday morning. The Haley medal contest in the Junior college corresponds to the J. Wilkie Talbert contest in the high school. All preliminary contests will be held Tuesday morning. It is customary to award the medal at the graduation exercises.

'LOOKS LIKE RAIN' GOES TO ARCHER CITY

"Looks Like Rain," the three-act comedy that the Blue Curtain club of the Junior college has presented successfully a number of times is to be given by the same cast in Archer City Tuesday night.

Members of the cast are Raymond Strong, Harriett Peterson, Katherine Michaelias, Seldon Hale, J. W. Atkins, Dorothy Reed, and Weldon Carter. Miss Juanita Kinsey will direct the presentation.

VARIED PROGRAM FOR MOCK MAJESTIC

Final checking on the receipts of the Junior college rummage sale Saturday showed net returns of $70.62, according to an announcement from the business staff of the Wai-Kun.

Every one is concentrating on the "Mock Majestic" to be presented Thursday night in order to put the finances for the 1928 annual over the top.

"Lord Helpus," a comedy skit "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and the Little Rovers will cooperate with well known entertainers like Lefty Watson, John Robinson, George Wright, Lois Franklin, Walter Pinney, and Lorene Tucker to make the program one of the biggest drawing cards of the year. Estal Parham is directing the majestic. Professor R. O. Jonas, business sponsor of the Wai-Kun, has charge of the ticket sales, all proceeds from which are to go to the college annual.

BASH NAMED EDITOR OF 1929 COYOTE

Wendell Bash, according to an announcement Monday morning, will pilot the 1929 Coyote staff through the year as editor-in-chief. Elmer Parrish will be business manager, Otto Juhl athletic director and Billy Welty, art editor.

Coyote officers for the following year are chosen by the retiring officers of the junior class in conjunction with the faculty editorial sponsor and business sponsor.

Those who met with J. W. Williams and Miss Louise Kelley to choose the staff were Elizabeth Langford, Dell Hatchitt, Louise Carpenter, and Paul Henry Packard Jr.

FROSH TO ENTERTAIN COLLEGE SOPHS

Sophomores of the Junior college are to be entertained by the freshmen class members at the Maskat Temple hall at Call Field Tuesday night. Freshmen and other nongraduates who attend are to be taxed $1 for couples and $1.25 for stags. Games and other forms of entertainment are to be provided.

Safety Council To Give C-C Program

The Safety council of Wichita Falls will have charge of the business council meeting of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce Friday, May 18, according to announcements made at the chamber offices Monday.

Deaths

NOAH S. GORE.

Noah S Gore, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Gore, 1003 Fourth street died in a Wichita Falls hospital Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. W. H. Townsend, pastor of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church, officiating.

The child is survived by his parents, five brothers and two sisters.

MRS. MINNIE L. MORRIS.

Mrs. Minnie L. Morris, 48, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Sunday night at 11:30 o'clock. The body was forwarded to Alvord, Texas, Monday morning by the Hines mortuary.

JURY FREES PAUL HUNTER

Not Guilty Verdict In Woman's Death

Paul Hunter Monday night stood free of all charges in connection with the death of Mrs. Fay Roberson, at her home here January 29, following findings of a jury in 89th district court Monday afternoon. An instructed verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury.

The trial itself consumed only a few minutes of the afternoon after the entire morning had been used in selection of jurymen. The twelfth man selected was the thirty-seventh examined.

James V. Allred, attorney for the defense, contended that Mrs. Roberson was not murdered and that she did not die as the result of blows received the night preceding her death.

The indictment returned against Hunter charged the Wichita Falls man with Mrs. Roberson's murder, stating that she died as the result of bruises received in a beating said to have been administered by Hunter.

Hunter, following Mrs. Roberson's death, called Frank Morgan, constable, and surrendered to him upon learning that officers were seeking him in connection with the woman's death.

MAJESTIC: George Sidney and Patsy Ruth Miller in "We Americans." Fables. Topics. Paramount news.

OLYMPIC: "The Fifty Fifty Girl" with Bebe Daniels. Pathe newsreel. Comedy.

Mission: Closed by fire.

GARDEN: Bert Lytell in "Alias the Lone Wolf". Comedy. Western.

GEM: "Shooting Irons". Comedy. Serial.

Do you want to laugh or cry? Do you want a big, tense dramatic picture of high quality or do you want an uproaring comedy?

Here's the answer to the "how" of the question. Pathos is so strong in "We Americans" that you can't help shedding a tear or two at the Majestic show. Bebe Daniels is so funny and good at the Olympic in "The Fifty Fifty Girl" that laughs are an inseparable part of the show.

If you have the price of admission, either of these shows will help make you feel a lot better. One will make anyone feel glad he is a free American and will make for a better appreciation of acting of the highest type. The other will make anyone laugh away the blues.

A sign reading "Closed by fire" adorns the large canopy over the sidewalk at the Mission theater. The front of the building shows no effect of the fire, which was confined to the stage portion of the building.

Committee Appointed To Work With Fire Chief

Following the custom of the chamber of commerce of years, Charles I. Francis, president of the chamber, has appointed an advisory board of business men to assist Joseph L. McClure, fire chief, in working out fire prevention measures and in cooperating in any other way with the fire department and the chief.

Lester Jones, of the Wichita Falls Safety council, was reappointed chairman of the committee. The other members include J. W. Lyle, W. B. Hamilton, J. C. Ward, and T. B. Noble, Sr.

Majority Services Held by DeMolay

Majority services were held for five boys who had reached the age of 21 years and automatically ceased to be members of the lodge, when Hope chapter, Order of De Molay, held its first public majority service in the Faith lodge rooms Monday evening.

Those for whom the service was held were J. W. Whitlaw, Marconi Hobbs, Lowell Nichols, Harry Cohen and Everett Lathan. The services was conferred by the officers and degree team of the chapter.

About 50 members and guests of the chapter were present for the ceremony. Miss Helen Grace Gould read Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's "Robert of Sicily," and Miss Dorothy Reed gave a reading, "Spring."

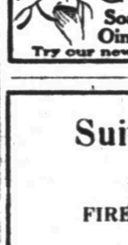

J. D. "Dad" Bright, advisor to the chapter, addressed the meeting in a few words, recalling to the new members the days of the chapter's infancy.

Following the services a business session was held.

$2046 Grocery Bill Submitted For Family Relief Work in April

A total of $2046.44 was spent for groceries alone to feed the destitute families of Wichita Falls in April, according to the report of the Family Relief association, of which Mrs. Effie McHam is secretary. The report was approved by the finance committee Friday and will be presented to the board of directors' meeting Wednesday.

The report shows 367 families were cared for during April and that 310 cases were "forwarded" to the present month. Of the 367 families which comprised 1970 persons, 192 families were given major relief and 175 families were given minor relief. A total of 605 interviews and investigations were made.

The executive board of the association will hold a special meeting at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning to consider all angles of the situation that confronts the Family Relief association. This is the only organization in the city taking care of needy families in large numbers and because of the heavy demands made this year, the funds allowed for the entire year have practically been used.

Report of Kiwanis Club Sunshine Committee Shows Varied Activity

Reporting on the activity of the "Sunshine" committee, Howard Renfro, chairman, stated at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Kemp hotel, that an effort had been made to send flowers to members of the club or to members of their family who were ill; that work had been supplied to several worthy persons; that the marital discord of a man and woman with several children had been diverted to a harmonious trend; and that the first day's proceeds of a downtown restaurant, which the committee aided in opening, went to the benefit of the day nursery.

Dr. F. R. Collard, president, upon completion of the report, urged that every member support the committee and to aid in its work.

Frank Moore, president of the Henrietta Kiwanis club, gave a short talk. A. E. Kelly, a visitor, also addressed the club. Six members of the club who had been fishing since the season opened were called on for "fish stories" but refused to comply.

A review of the late issue of the Kiwanis magazine was given by O. E. Nicholls. W. E. Young led the singing with M. A. Ellis at the piano. The program was in charge of P. M. Cordell.

GIRL KEPT LOSING WEIGHT

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Built Her Up

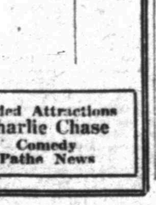

Scobey, Mont.—"I was working for two years—clerking in a store—and seemed to be steadily losing in weight so was forced to give up my work. A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I have now taken six bottles and can't tell you how I have appreciated it. I am feeling better and stronger every day. I recommend it to all young girls and if any have the same trouble and will write to me I will gladly answer."—Mrs. Ettil H. Gerths, Box 476, Scobey, Montana.

Trapped by her past!

"I had just started to remove my make-up when a note was handed to me. I usually paid little attention to them, but glancing at this one, the name at the bottom caught my eye, and the lights danced dizzily before me." (From "Trapped by My Past," June True Story Magazine).

RECENTLY a woman who a few years ago was a popular actress on Broadway, whose name was emblazoned in electric lights, submitted a story to True Story Magazine which created a stir even among the editors long used to reading startling and unusual stories.

It was the account of why she left the stage abruptly at the height of her career never to be seen upon the boards again.

It was a tale of dread and terror which told how each night, while she swayed her thousands to smiles or tears, her eyes, masking the agony in her soul, were seeking, always seeking, among the audience the one man in all the world who had it in his power to drag her down from the pinnacle of success to the ignominy of defeat.

Deep in her heart she knew that some day he would come, and that when he did her career would end.

And so when one night an usher delivered to her dressing room a note from a man in the audience who was waiting for her reply, she knew that at last the time had come to settle her account with fate.

Her story appears in True Story for June under the title "Trapped by My Past." Told in her own words, with nothing hidden, nothing omitted and without excuse, into it she has put all the fire and drama that perhaps once held you spellbound across the footlights.

It may be that when you read it you will recognize her. If so, you will know the answer to a question you have probably asked yourself many times.

More Charm—
no blemishes now
UNDERNEATH a clear, smooth skin, healthy tissues—full of rich, red blood—thrive.
No worry about pimples now. Instead there is a certain satisfaction that gives confidence.
All this because rich, red blood is Nature's way of building and sustaining the body.
Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.
You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.
Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.
All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."—Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.
