The Gallup Poll: Dewey's Stock Soars As Best Bet For GOP

By GEORGE GALLUP, DIRECTOR, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 29 — New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's popularity as a presidential candidate among Republicans from coast-to-coast has gone up 10 percentage points in the past month, a poll by the Institute shows.

Nearly two-thirds of all Republican voters say they would like to see him nominated at the convention which will begin late next month.

GALLUP

Here is the popular standing today of the Republican leaders whose names are most likely to be presented to the convention.

Thomas E. Dewey	65%
John W. Bricker	9
Harold E. Stassen	2
Earl Warren	2

Others, including Wendell Willkie and General Douglas MacArthur, receive a combined total of 19 per cent.

Ahead For Many Months

Governor Dewey has been the most popular choice of Republican voters for a considerable period of time. He was leading over all other rivals in Institute polls as far back as May, 1943. His popularity increased gradually until it reached 55 per cent last month, then spurted up to the present figure of 65 per cent.

This figure represents a far higher vote than was ever found for Alfred M. Landon prior to the 1936 convention. The peak of Landon's popularity among Republicans came in May, 1936, when 59 per cent of GOP voters polled said they wanted to see him nominated at the convention the following month.

In 1940, Willkie started out with only 1 per cent three months before the convention. Dewey, at that time prosecuting attorney in New York, was the most popular candidate. But Willkie gained rapidly in May and June, when the grave war situation brought about by the fall of France made many Republican voters feel that a more experienced man should lead the party. When the nominating convention opened, Willkie had become the most popular choice of the rank and file, with 44 per cent, as compared to only 29 per cent for Dewey at that time.

Dewey, Vs. Roosevelt

If Dewey and Roosevelt are the opposing candidates this year, as most political observers seem to think, the race gives every evidence of being close.

Recent Institute surveys matching the two candidates show a slight advantage for Roosevelt—51 per cent, as against 49 per cent for Dewey. On the other hand, an analysis of eight special Congressional elections since last November gives the Republicans a slight advantage—51 per cent. The two taken together show an even race.

Amarillo Board Raps OPA Order

AMARILLO, May 29 (AP)—The Potter County Rationing board today declined instructions from the OPA to move from the courthouse to the old postoffice building which is under federal control and called the instructions "undemocratic."

Lawrence Hagy, well-known cattleman and a member of the gas panel termed the OPA request: "Just another step toward closer federal control of local affairs."

In a resolution adopted unanimously at a called meeting the board termed the directive: "Unwarranted and undemocratic."

Resent Force

One member commented: "The Potter county board has always looked on rationing as a community affair. We resent being forced to move into a federally controlled building for no valid reason."

The matter of moving the board first came up in March when the board declined to move. Friday, the OPA ordered its arrangements with the county terminated.

The OPA has been paying the county $100 a month rent. Today the county court met and waived the payment of rent in the future, offering the courthouse space to the board free of charge.

Mayor Joe Jenkins stated: "If the board feels it can do a better job in the courthouse, it should end the controversy."

Bomber Explodes But All Of Crew Escape

COLEMAN, Tex., May 29 (AP)—The nine man crew of a blazing B-17 bomber bailed out safely shortly before the ship exploded and crashed 13 miles southwest of here late today.

The fliers, who said they were stationed at Pyote Army Air field, said they abandoned the bomber after a motor caught fire.

Chinese Face Grave Threat

Japs Fan Out In Campaign, Continue Steady Advance

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

EMBATTLED China, fighting desperately on widely separated war fronts, faced another grave threat yesterday as the Japenese invaders fanned out in their new many-pronged Hunan offensive.

The Japanese continued to advance on their objectives in what appeared to be a drive to capture the entire Canton-Hankow railway and thus strengthen themselves against possible American landings along the China coast.

On the southwest wing of the vast Asiatic war theater, Allied forces improved their positions on bloody Myitkyina battlefields in northern Burma. But they suffered reverses to the west of that main Japanese base as heavy monsoon rains crippled an aerial supply line to the Mogaung valley.

New Drive Southward

Chinese field dispatches said the Japanese started a new southward drive from Yoyang (Yochow) that was threatening Siangyin, 30 miles northwest of the Canton-Hankow railway. The main body of invaders pushed another seven miles toward Changsha, important railway city. Siangyin is 30 miles north of Chiangsha while the railway line is about 425 miles inland from the China coast.

Other prongs of the Japanese offensive thrust westward toward central China's rich rice bowl and eastward into southern Hupeh province. One prong reached southeastward from Yoyang into southern Hupeh while another pressed westward toward Kungang, 75 miles from Yoyang.

Sudden River Thrust

Thirty miles north-northeast of Kungang the Japanese crossed the Yangtze river in a sudden thrust near Shasi.

Some 400 miles to the north of Hunan, counter-attacking Chinese reported recapture of Lushan, in Honan province.

The Japanese already hold part of the north-south railway as a result of the Honan fighting.

In Burma, the Allied northern commander, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, flew to Myitkyina and directed his American and Chinese troops as they cut in from the southeast, stormed a Japanese position and advanced to within

Yanks Advance On Biak Drome

Jap Resistance Is Steadily Mounting

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Tuesday, May 30.—American invaders of Biak have advanced more than a half-mile to a point within 10 miles of the important Mokmer Airdrome, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today, but Japanese resistance was increasing every yard.

Enemy opposition was expected to reach a new peak of fury when the invasion-toughened veterans of the Sixth Army make their final assault on the Mokmer field, 880 miles from the southern Philippines.

Japs Guess Wrong

A headquarters spokesman said the Japanese guessed wrong when deploying troops to combat the Yankee invasion of the largest Schouten island Saturday. The enemy apparently reasoned the doughboys would storm ashore in a frontal assault on the Mokmer and Serido airdromes, both of which are on Biak's south coast.

The Japanese built strong defenses to protect the two fields and the Boroke airdrome, between Mokmer and Sorido and a mile inland. The invasion waves, however, hit the beach three miles east of Bosnek, Biak's largest village, and six miles from their present front lines.

The Americans are working westward along the Bosnek-Sorido coastal road, while Japanese snipers are putting down heavy fire from the ridges above the road.

Contact with the main Japanese forces, who had manned the Mokmer-Sorido coastal defenses, is expected soon, the spokesman said.

Japanese defenses near the three airdromes were believed strong and MacArthur's field commanders ordered that the advance proceed slowly while rear positions were being consolidated.

This accounted for a gain of only a little more than a half-mile since the release of yesterday's communique.

Some 200 miles back down the Dutch New Guinea coast, other

Convoy Of Special Equipment Arrives

A BRITISH PORT, May 29. (U.P.)—An Allied convoy carrying specially designed invasion weapons and troops trained in their use has crossed the Atlantic to the European theater without the loss of a single ship or man, it can be revealed today.

German submarine made half-hearted and wholly unsuccessful thrusts at the convoy. Every attack was detected and beaten off before it could inflict damage.

The size of the convoy cannot be revealed. Besides the invasion arms, it brought men trained in the use of others of the United Nations' secret weapons.

The convoy contained every type of ship, and the cargo was equally varied. One ship carried some of the oldest reliable weapons as well as arms fresh from the proving grounds.

Removal Of Texas FEPC Head Asked

O'Daniel Demands Action And Connally Says Committee Without 'Legal Basis'

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) disclosed today he has called upon Chairman Malcolm Ross of the Fair Employment Practices committee to remove the FEPC Texas regional director at Dallas for what he said were attempts to enforce policies of the committee on a Dallas book binding concern.

O'Daniel, in a letter to Ross, charged the regional director, Leonard M. Brin, had written "impudent and insulting letters" to C. T. Dean, president of the American Beauty Cover company of Dallas over an advertisement offering employment to white women last February.

Discrimination Clear

The Texas senator, making the correspondence public, said Brin sent a letter to the company requesting it "to take immediate steps to remove from this and from any other advertisement in the future any features which are discriminatory as to race, creed, color, or national origin."

O'Daniel said the company ignored Brin's letter, and on March 7 the FEPC official wrote the concern that "if we do not hear from you within 10 days, we shall continue to process our case against you."

Dean, the correspondence showed, penciled a reply to Brin, say-

Bus Service To Northeast Portion Of City Is Asked

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Passage of resolutions asking Lubbock Bus company to operate a bus line into Northeast Lubbock was one of the features of the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon.

Another feature was the approval of the proposed city budget for the fiscal year which started last April 1, and the adoption on first reading of an ordinance setting the new city tax rate at 85 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation. The rate is the same as last year and is the lowest of any Texas city comparable in population to, or larger than, Lubbock.

Budget Action Routine

Actions on the budget and the tax rate were routine, since they were official approvals of indicated actions at previous meetings of the commission. However, final approval could not be given the budget until the citizenship had been given opportunity to appear in protest. Monday afternoon was the time set for the protest hearing. No one appeared, so the budget was adopted and, immediately afterward, the tax rate was set.

The new bus line unanimously asked by the commission would be routed so as to circle the federal low rent housing project there, and would pass the west entrance of Mackenzie State Park at Third street and Avenue D. At this point, the proposed line would be within short walking distance of City swimming pool, picnic areas and other facilities of the park.

To Work Out Details

Further details of the routing of the line, if established, will be worked out by City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., with Ray Farmer, operator of Lubbock Bus company, and other officials of the concern.

During the discussions of the desired line, the city manager announced that the swimming pool in the park will be opened Thursday. Russell Wimberly, physical education instructor and boys' coach in Junior High school will be the manager. Week-end hours

Ecuador Regime Is Overthrown

QUITO, Ecuador, May 29 (AP)—President Carlos Arroyo Del Rio and all members of his cabinet resigned tonight after a revolutionary junta seized power in Guayaquil, Ecuador's main commercial city.

A general strike had broken out here, apparently in support of the Guayaquil revolt in which 40 persons were reported killed after an uprising led by supporters of the exiled former President Velasco Ibarra.

Arroyo Del Rio, a firm supporter of Pan-American solidarity, turned over his power to Dr. Fausto Navarro Allende, Senate vice-president, and took refuge in the United States embassy.

Took Office In 1939

The resigning president assumed office first as acting president in November, 1939, just before the death of President Mosquera Narvez.

In a bitter election the following January he defeated Velasco Ibarra, whose supporters in a brief uprising were quelled.

Nearly a year after Pearl Harbor, in November, 1942, Arroyo Del Rio visited President Roosevelt in Washington and toured

Denver Woman Faces Charge Of Bigamy

DENVER, May 29 (AP)—A 30-year-old Denver woman was charged in Justice court today with bigamy after Deputy District Attorney Frank A. Wachob found papers among her belongings that indicated she had married seven men but divorced none.

She is Rosa Bell Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Hughes of Denver.

Further investigation, Wachob said, indicated Miss Hughes had married, among others:

Cecil Morris, at Amarillo, Texas, when she was 16. He was killed in a train wreck two months later; and Homer Smith, at Raton, N. Mex., in 1941.

INJURED IN CRASH

CHICO, Calif., May 29 (AP)—Second Lt. Desmond Sengelle, 22, of Victoria, Tex., was injured yesterday in the crash of a fighter plane at the Army air base here. His injuries were reported as not critical.

Ed McCrummen Is Found Dead Monday

Ed McCrummen, about 58, member of a pioneer Lubbock family, was found dead at his farm a few miles west of the city late Monday. Cause of his death had not been determined last night, but it was believed due to a heart attack.

Members of the family said Mr. McCrummen had driven alone in his car to the pasture at the farm to do some fence repair. His body was found by one of the daughters after the family became uneasy when he did not return as night approached.

On Right Side of Seat

He apparently had gotten into the car, either to come to the house or to rest, it was said. The body was on the right side of the seat, and the left hand was on the steering wheel. There was no indication of an accidental injury.

Mr. McCrummen had spoken lightly of what he called a pain in the region of his heart, recently, a member of the family said, but had been busy on the farm and did not see a doctor.

Funeral Pending

The body was brought to the Rix Funeral home, where funeral arrangements were to be completed today, after communication with relatives.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Fred at New Orleans and John at San Diego, both in armed service; four daughters, Mrs. Arthur Strehli of Nebraska, and Helen, Edna Ruth and Betty Carolyn, all of Lubbock; three brothers, R. H. of 3204 Avenue T, Homer of Paris, Texas, and Dr. Tom D. of Austin; three sisters, Miss Cecile McCrummen of Austin, Mrs. Norman Morrisson of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. W. F. McElroy, a missionary to the Belgian Congo who is now in Atlanta, Ga.

Allred Asks Referendum On Pledge To Party Candidates

HOUSTON, May 29 — Former Gov. James V. Allred contending that it is "silly to talk about Texas not going Democra c if the people get to vote on it," called on the state executive committee today to "submit to a vote of the people in the coming primaries whether Democratic presidential electors shall be pledged to cast Texas' vote in the electoral college for the party's candidates."

"If George Butler (democratic state chairman) won't let the people vote on this in the coming primaries, we'll all go out to our precinct conventions in July and teach those who would deny the people's will a real lesson at the governor's convention in September," Allred said in a statement.

Asserting that the Democratic state convention last week "had no more right to name the party's nominees for presidential electors than Tom Dewey himself," Allred said that "the law provides for a convention in September to declare the party's nominees."

Butler earlier suggested that a court decision will be required to determine which of two groups of electors named at the Austin conventions will represent the Democratic party of Texas.

Announcing that the electors chosen by the original convention have been certified to the secretary of state in Austin, Butler said:

"They were elected according to law and tradition. If they are not the properly constituted and legally elected electors of the Democratic party of Texas, it will

100 Nazis Downed As Raids Grow In Fury

35 Bombers, 11 Fighters Lost In American Forays

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, May 30—American heavy bombers and fighters, possibly 2,200 strong, shot 100 enemy aircraft from the sky and hammered seven aircraft factories in Poland and Germany and a synthetic oil works near Stettin yesterday.

The blow was the heaviest dealt in a day of perfect weather which saw approximately 6,500 sorties flown from Allied pre-invasion bases in Britain and Italy.

It cost the U. S. Strategic Air force 35 bombers and 11 fighters, the same losses as reported after yesterday's operations in similar strength when 93 Nazi planes were knocked down.

One Marauder was lost as the Ninth Air force kept pace with the heavies by sending a record number of 400 twin-engined Marauders and Havocs against French and Belgian bridges and a French air field.

Blows From Italy

While British-based Liberators and Fortresses were winging across northern Europe, between 500 and 700 heavies from Italy, with matching escort headed into old Austria and bombed a German airframe factory at Atzgersdorf, the Wollersdorf ferry plane base and the Nord airfield, both near Wiener-Neustadt.

All these targets were visited five days ago when the last big strike over the Alps was made, simultaneously with British-initiated raids on Berlin and Paris. Once again the big bombers ran into intense flak and determined enemy fighter opposition. The losses of the Mediterranean raiders were not immediately announced.

Alert At Budapest

At about 10 p. m. last night (p. m., central war time) the Budapest radio broadcast an air raid warning, indicating the offensive was swinging uninterrupted into the night cycle from Mediterranean bases.

The Berlin radio, meanwhile, said a British and American bomber squadron carried out another raid against Rome yesterday causing heavy destruction and at least 100 deaths in the Sao Paolo quarter.

The climax of the day was struck by the 1,000 American heavy bombers which, for the second day in a row had an escort of more than 1,200 Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs furnished by the Eighth and Ninth Air forces.

Governors Split On Post-War Aid

HERSHEY, Pa., May 29. (AP)—A sharp division developed today at the national conference of governors over the question of federal aid in a postwar public works program.

Several chief executives entered the discussion after Gov. Dwight Griswold (R) of Nebraska declared that "real planning at the local event cannot be done" unless states "know now" what the federal government has in mind.

Republican presidential candidate John W. Bricker, governor of Ohio, asserted the federal government will have "a difficult job" solving its own financial problems and suggested that public works be left to states and municipalities which "are either out of debt or approaching solvency."

Few States Can Do It

Gov. John J. Dempsey (D) of New Mexico, declared that "few states can take on the entire responsibility for a postwar program."

Another governor prominently mentioned for a place on the Republican national slate, Earl Warren of California, declared that "peace may be as much a national crisis as war itself" unless "we prepare for it with equal precision and seriousness."

Reds Wreck 60 Planes In Raid

Two Nazi Dromes In Romania Lashed

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, May 30—Softening up enemy air strength in Romania, the Red Air force struck airdromes near Roman and Husi Monday, and destroyed or disabled at least 60 planes, a Soviet communique announced last night.

Roman is on the Siretul river and Husi on the Prut. Both are between the Carpathian mountains and the Dnestr river.

The Russian communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor from a Moscow broadcast, said all the Soviet planes returned safely.

Machine Gun Attacks

At the airdromes, said the Soviets, "after silencing anti-aircraft fire our planes carried out several bombing and machine-gun attacks," destroying or damaging no fewer than 60 enemy craft.

Both the Russian and German communiques said there was little activity on the ground. The Soviets said 35 enemy planes had been shot down in air combat or by anti-aircraft fire Sunday. The Nazis claimed successful air attacks on Soviet supplies and rail stations in the areas of Shepetovka and Korosten.

The Nazis continued probing the northern end of the White Russian front, where a Moscow dispatch said enemy reconnaissance thrusts were repulsed.

Nazis Bomb Front

In a later supplement, the Russians reported that the Germans bombed Russian troop positions on two sectors of the Front—losing five fighters and three bombers over the Gulf of Finland, and five more planes in another sector.

Northwest of the town of Lutsk, the communique said, the Germans attacked Russian forward positions and even succeeded in getting in some advance trenches but were driven out in hand-to-hand fighting, leaving 40 dead and more than 70 wounded.

German reconnaissance attacks southeast of Stanislawow, on the southern front, continued and the Soviets reported killing about 200 of the enemy and taking some prisoners.

Victim Of Assault At San Angelo Critical

SAN ANGELO, May 29 (AP) — The condition of Peggy Arnold, 20, victim of a beating at a San Angelo bus stop late Saturday night, remained grave tonight.

A negro soldier from Illinois, stationed at an airfield here, is being held by military authorities in connection with the attack.

Miss Arnold, a telephone company employe, was reported as still in an unconscious condition. She was given a blood transfusion today.

Military authorities said the suspect had served time in a Texas military prison several months ago for an assault on a negro girl here.

Stabilizer Extension Voted But FDR Amendment Beaten

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Senate Banking committee approved late today legislation extending the price and wage stabilization program for 18 months, overriding an administration attempt to kill an amendment which an OPA offical spokesman said might boost consumer prices of textile goods as much as $350,000,000 a year.

That amendment, by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), would call for periodic adjustment of textile ceiling prices with a view to boosting the market price of cotton to parity levels. Of the probable textile goods price, increases which might result ranged between $225,000,000 and $350,000,000 yearly. The amendment was included by a 12 to 8 vote.

Also approved by the committee was an amendment by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) which would, after June 30, 1945, limit federal subsidies to control consumer goods prices unless funds are appropriated by Congress for subsidy purposes. At present, subsidies are paid from funds of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Commodity Credit corporation, without limitation by Congress.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) said the Taft subsidy amendment was approved without a record committee vote, and there were indications it received comparatively little administration opposition.

It would permit the present subsidy program to continue unchanged for a year—with Congress

Fight For Rome Mounts In Fury

Allies Wedge Into 'Last Ditch' Line

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 29—The battle for Rome—first great capital of Nazi-dominated Europe to fall within range of Allied guns—raged with mounting fury tonight after an Allied wedge had been driven deeply into the enemy's "last ditch" defense line less than 16 miles from the Eternal City.

In a desperate effort to hold Rome at least until his battered forces far to the southeast could disengage and be withdrawn to the new line, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring poured reinforcements into a savage series of counterattacks along a 17-mile front from the vicinity of Valmontone on the Via Casilina to Campoleone at the edge of the Alban hills.

Advance Not Halted

These heavy counterblows slowed but did not halt the advance of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's British and American Fifth Army troops, who doggedly pressed their attack in the face of the flame-throwers and withering artillery and small arms fire.

Daniel De Luce of the Associated Press reported in a front dispatch filed at 6:30 p. m. that American tanks were attacking German strongpoints of armor, artillery and infantry on the slopes of the Alban hills between Campoleone and Lanuvio at a point less than 16 miles southeast of Rome's outskirts.

He said enemy counterattacks employing as much as a battalion of infantry and four 60-ton tiger tanks at a crack were beaten back and that tank-led Allied infantry had made progress all day.

Nazis Lose Heavily

Allied headquarters announced that three of 18 German divisions engaged in the battle had been virtually destroyed since the Allied offensive began May 11, with more than 15,000 in prison cages. Combat strength of enemy divisions now was estimated at 8,000 men.

At their farthest surge to the north and east, beachhead forces were fighting tonight within 2,000 yards of Valmontone, on the shell-torn Via Casilina 20 miles east and slightly south of Rome. Others were battling in the outskirts of Velletri and closing upon Lanu-

British Batter Road To Arctic

By LEO S. DISHER
Representing the Combined American Press Distributed by the Associated Press

LONDON, Tuesday, May 30—The British fleet has gunned and bombed its way to what appears to be hands-down mastery of the Arctic ocean clear to Russia and, for more than 100 days, has been sweeping, free from enemy attack, into the very shadows of the Norwegian coast as a prelude to invasion.

I have just returned from four months with the fleet and have seen that the Allies have won the battle of the Arctic as conclusively as that in the Atlantic.

U-Boats Cleared Out

It can be disclosed that U-boat assaults on Allied shipping in the North have been smashed. German plane attacks have, at least temporarily, ceased completely. The German surface Navy has been hammered until it is questionable whether it now constitutes more than a feeble potential threat.

On supply routes which barely a year ago were so filled with U-boats that torpedoes "ran in grooved tracks" German submarine attacks have dwindled in effectiveness until U-boats sunk outnumbered Allied vessels lost.

Carrier-borne and RAF land-based aerial attacks on the Germans' Norwegian bases and coastal supply lines have been increased during the past 60 days to the greatest pitch of the war.

The fleet racing the Germans for the final showdown of the European war is one of crack fighting outfits. It has the weight, equipment and strength required to hold the upper hand.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1944

"How sleep the brave, who sink to rest
By all their country's wishes bless'd."
How sleep the brave,
I wonder.
Do they, beneath the cross and star,
Rest tranquil in those far-off lands,
Content to know their task is done?
Or do they hear, in restless rhythm,
Dull echoes from the shores of home;
"In vain, the pain of life unlived,
In vain, your young dreams unfulfilled,
In vain, the fight, the death in glory,
In vain, the waste of young blood spilled.
"With busy tongue, with poison pen,
With malice toward our fellow-men
We break the bonds you fought to forge.
"You fought that men might walk the earth
In dignity, and free from fear.
You asked not what a man believed
You fought together, side by side;
There was no color, race or creed—
No rich or poor, no humbled pride.
"We fight—among ourselves, 'tis true;
We snipe at negro, Catholic, Jew;
We sow the seeds of scorn and doubt
From which fresh crops of hatred sprout.
We orate on 'our valiant dead';
Then, wilful-blind, we turn our head
Repudiate their victory."
How sleep the brave?
I wonder.

YOUNG ROGERS QUITS

HAVING seen no editorial comment on the resignation of Will Rogers, jr., as representative from California to Congress, we don't know how writers feel about the subject.

The Woman's Angle has a vague sense of disappointment in young Rogers' career as a politician. Perhaps we expected too much of him. After all the 33-year-old Californian who was the first member of congress to be selected from the army during the present war, was only the son of his father, lacking his father's sense of humor and judgment. Somehow we have an idea he was not very happy as a congressman and was glad enough to get back into a uniform.

DEAR Miss Turner: I have received a request from my brother, Sgt. Louis H. Foote for a camera that is the folding variety. I have been unable to buy one anywhere and I wonder if you could help me find someone who has one he would sell to a boy who is fighting overseas.

If anyone has one and will call me at 2-2610 or drop me a card I will gladly pick it up.

Thank you very much,

FOR WAR EFFORT

"WHAT can I do to help win the war?" one hears asked by people who are genuinely concerned.

Well you can buy War Bonds, for one thing. And if you have already bought some, you can buy more, because a soldier doesn't fight one day and rest the next.

You can grow a garden.

You can fight waste by saving fats and conserving fuels and all critical materials.

You can help keep prices down by refusing to patronize the black market.

You can take a war job. Industry still needs many workers.

You can avoid careless talk. It has proved that thoughtless words, pieced together by the listening enemy, have cost lives.

You can write often to men and women in the services. If you are writing to those overseas, use V-mail. It's faster, it's sure and it saves cargo space.

A total of 1905 pounds of grease has been reported collected in this contest since May 1, according to Miss Rosemary Head, but the amount collected will reach well over 2000 pounds by the end of the week as several of the troops have grease which has not been turned in. This amount, combined with what was collected last fall totals approximately 4000 pounds which have been collected by the organization in a year's time.

The prizes awarded were given by the Chamber of Commerce in connection with the annual clean-up campaign which started the first part of May.

"We want to thank housewives for their co-operation in this drive," Miss Head said, "and also the girls and leaders for the good job they have done."

Also provided in the bill is continuous customs service at government expense at tunnnels, ferries, and highway crossings.

Writer Says Battle For Rome To Be No Pushover

By ROBERT VERMILLION
United Press War Writer

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY AT ARTENA, May 28 — We're close enough to see Rome from here when the mist and smoke of battle drift aside—and we're also close enough to find out that the battle for Rome will be no pushover.

With Homer Bigart of the New York Herald Tribune, I was pinned down with our forward troops today for seven and one-half hours when the Germans tried to halt our northward thrust. We saw a murderous type of warfare in which both sides slugged with their big guns until one gave way and in which both sides sacrificed men freely to gain objectives.

Run Gauntlet Of Fire

We ran a gauntlet of German artillery fire to enter Artena at 10 a. m. with 1st Lt. Bill Bennett, Flushing, N. Y., dashing 200 yards across open space at a crossroads which the Germans were pasting at irregular intervals. As we ran, a shell crashed into one of the corner houses, setting the thatch roof afire. Another shell hit the crossroads just after we'd found comparative safety behind a stone building.

Then we saw an infantry attack launched only 600 yards from our position; we had seen the Germans hold their machine gun fire deceptively and then mow down our boys in the fields.

Crossed Up By Italians

One German suicide squad was located in a monastery behind Artena on the road over which American supplies were moving. Italians reported there were Germans in the monastery eager to surrender. A regimental service company, which is non-combatant and rarely has a chance for glory, eagerly sallied up to the monastery to receive the prisoners. They were met by a blast of machine gun fire. Infantrymen had to be called up to besiege the monastery.

We passed an observation post and the soldiers reported the men they relieved had seen Rome Saturday.

During the next six hours the Germans chased Bigart and me from a crag four times with whistling 88's which burst on the hill behind us. Every time they spotted us they sent over a few shells.

Saw Battle Start

We finally reached a house, and we watched the beginning of the battle toward Valmontone. We saw our artillery lift its attack from the enemy houses and then our troops started across from their ditches. Immediately from the windows of the houses came the high-pitched chatter of enemy machine guns. Tank destroyers moved up and began pasting the windows of the houses.

We saw five men rise and start warily toward the houses. They went 50 . . . 60 . . . 100 yards. It appeared the Germans had been knocked out and we saw other troops getting ready to crawl out of the ditches to follow them. Then the German machine guns cut loose again. As they fell, two threw up their hands; the other three just crawled and lay still.

KILLED IN COLLISION

PALESTINE, May 29 (U.P.) —Anderson county authorities investigated today a Saturday night crash in which Iben F. Hutcherson, 56-year-old dairyman-farmer, was inured fatally. Hutcherson died yesterday of injuries received when an automobile crashed into the wagon in which he was riding near his rural home.

News Briefs

Mrs. Joe Pool pleaded innocent Monday of aggravated assault on Allie Fay Cox and bond of $500 was set by County Judge G. V. Pardue. The charge said she, "with premeditated design and by means calculated to inflict great bodily injury, did kick Mrs. Cox in the stomach and on the head and face." J. N. Cox swore to the complaint.

County commissioners Monday sat as a board of equalization, and set June 19 for appearance of non-resident property owners, June 20 for resident property owners to appear and show cause why rendition values on property owners should not be changed. Commissioners are Barrett Penney, Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt and Newton Stokes.

S/Sgt. I. K. Dixson of Camp Polk, La., and formerly of Idalou, has asked The Morning Avalanche to "correct a story that resulted from a misunderstanding by a relative." The relative had given a written story to the Avalanche-Journay recently, quoting Sgt. Dixson, a soldier nine years, as saying he had received correspondence from General Eisenhower. Mrs. Johnny Joiner, a sister of Sgt. Dixson, explained: "The relative who turned in the story to the paper misunderstood. My brother has written me to request the paper to publicize the erroneousness of the story. As I understand it, Sgt. Dixson told the man who turned the story in that General Eisenhower is popular among the ranks; that he, Sgt. Dixson, had heard that the general is unusually democratic and that he had heard that men in the ranks sometimes had been known to correspond with him.

First Lts. William C. Lumsden, Tahoka, and Benjamin H. Allen, Lamesa, have been awarded Bronze Oay Leaf Clusters to the Distinguished Flying Cross, according to an announcement made by the War department Monday.

The War department announced Monday the names of 697 United States soldiers wounded in action, including T/5 Iryin A. Jackson, son of Otis A. Jackson of Lubbock, (Asiatic area); S/Sgt. Ralph G. Spicer, son of Mrs. Grace E. Spicer of 2415 Twenty-first street, Lubbock; and 1st. Lt. Floyd M. Hodges, son of Rector T. Hodges of Amarillo, (European area.)

Sgt. Roscoe W. Dooley, jr., son of Mrs. Effie G. Dooley of Anton, was included among 568 United States soldiers held prisoners of war by Germany, the War department announced Monday.

Capt. Ray F. Red, chief of the commercial branch of the Eighth Service command signal office and a former resident of Lubbock, has been promoted to major, the command announced Saturday. Major Red was associated with the telephone industry for more than 13 years before entering the service in May, 1942.

Rulings Reveal Court Discord

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — A momentous eight-month Supreme court term that produced decisions upholding war-time powers of the federal government and revealed elements of discord among the justices may come to an end today.

The tribunal made known recently that it would adjourn today for the summer unless otherwise ordered. However, a backlog of 14 undecided cases led to speculation that one additional session may be held next Monday to permit the court to dispose of all argued issues before closing up shop until the new term in October.

The court in the expiring term has handed down numerous 5-4 and 6-3 decisions. It reached unanimous agreement on only about one-third of its cases and among the other two-thirds were sharply-worded attacks on findings which various justices disliked.

Price Fixing Upheld

In one of its 6-3 opinions, the court held constitutional the price-fixing provisions of the emergency price control act. All but Justice Roberts agreed in a decision upholding the rent-control program of the Office of Price administration.

An OPA order restricting sales of a retail fuel dealer for violations of oil rationing regulations was upheld and the court restricted lower tribunals from passing on rate orders by the federal power commission unless the total effect of the orders might be unjust and unreasonable.

In another OPA case, however, the court decided an injunction to prevent a dealer from future price regulation violations need not be issued merely because the price administration requested it.

Greatest public reaction during the term came from the 8-1 decision that negroes have the right to vote in Texas Democratic primary elections. Justice Roberts protested that the court's opinions were getting to be like a railroad ticket good only for one day in one train. The finding reversed a unanimous opinion by the court in 1935 which was written by Justice Roberts.

Poll Tax Amendment Sent To Committee

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — The Senate judiciary committee voted 10 to 7 today to refer to a subcommittee a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish state poll taxes as a requirement for voting.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, told reporters he sought to have the amendment, sponsored by 36 of the party's 37 Senate members, sent to the Senate for immediate action.

But, Wherry said, Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) offered a substitute motion to send the proposal to a subcommittee for hearings.

Among those voting to send it to committee, Wherry said, was Connally, Texas.

Lamesa Man Posts Bond In Stabbing

LAMESA, May 29. (Special) — Bond of $3,000 has been posted by Joe Gurrant, in connection with a charge of murder without malice early Saturday of Allie Estes Staags, 33, of Abilene, said D. M. Campbell, justice of peace. The grand jury meets Aug. 3.

Two special venires will report June 14 to special Judge J. E. Garland of the 106th judicial district—one of 75 men in connection with two three-count indictments naming W. M. Harris for rape and incest. His 14-year-old daughter is complaining witness. The other, of 40 men, will hear evidence in a negro rape trial. Nine bills were returned Friday to Judge Garland, three charging arson to a young woman and two 17-year-old youths.

Two indictments naming Harris for rape and incest were dismissed last week at the state's request, when it was learned they were defective.

Judge Garland, acting on the motion of District Attorney Rollin McCord, allowed the state to withdraw its motion of ready and a request that the grand jury be recalled in an effort to reindict the farmer, father of 13. A new charge of rape was filed against Harris.

Each indictment charges rape by force, statutory rape and incest, charging "separate transactions."

Judge Garland set bond of $2,500 in each case.

Poison Liquor Kills 6 Men; Woman Held

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Mrs. Sophie Krisuinas, 31, was held without bail today on a charge of homicide following the death of six men in Brooklyn who drank what police believe was poison liquor.

The wife of a candy store proprietor and mother of a five-year-old boy was arraigned before Magistrate Charles Solomon in Brooklyn felony court yesterday.

Victor Filipkowski, 58, was found dead yesterday as the latest victim after five men died Saturday. A bottle of liquor found near his body was sent to the city toxicologists for analysis.

Police said Mrs. Krisuinas admitting selling 15 bottles of an alcoholic drink since last Tuesday and reported they had found a 15-gallon tank of denatured alcohol as well as 30 gallons in bottles at the Krisuinas home.

Three Harris County Men Drown Sunday

HOUSTON, May 29 (U.P.)—Three Harris county men drowned yesterday, one of them under circumstances that prompted an investigation today.

Officers were investigating the death of Jesse Wilkerson, 29, Goose Creek. He collapsed and drowned in two feet of water at Morgan's point. Morticians found a deep wound in his head, the cause of which had not been determined. A coroner's verdict on the exact cause of his death was withheld.

Two other men drowned while working on river boats. Joe Jones, 38, Cleveland, fell overboard from a tug in the Trinity river near Urbana. Sherman Lee Robertson, 16, Seabrook, drowned near Pasadena while trying to untangle a line which became fouled in the vessel's propeller.

Here are the FACTS about your GASOLINE SUPPLY

Miracles of production for war have been accomplished by the oil industry. Supplies of crude and refinery output have exceeded all past records; our nation is producing more gasoline than all other countries combined. But the war machines need gasoline in fabulous quantities, and this has eaten into the usual civilian supply.

- From 1942 to 1944, military needs for gasoline stepped up almost four fold.
- In the same period, supply for civilian passenger cars has been cut almost one-half.
- Ratio of military demands to gasoline available for civilian use increased eight fold from 1942 to 1944.

Your Gasoline is Powering the Attack

It takes more than a ton of gas to "deliver" one ton of bombs.

Over half of the total of all supplies shipped to the front is petroleum in one form or another.

From 1942 to 1944, output of 100 Octane aviation gas stepped up eight times.

Training one pilot uses more gas than the average car owner uses in 18 years.

In one hour, a Flying Fortress burns up enough gasoline to last the average car owner about six months.

You can make only a little more than half as much 100 Octane gas as you can regular automotive gasoline from a barrel of petroleum.

Fighting forces must come first and will get what they need. As a result, the home front gets less than it wants. The biggest part must go to the essential home front—farms, trucks, buses, industry, your doctor. Needs of this group are imperative; they are the supply line to victory.

Rationing is not an Arbitrary Plan to Deprive anyone of Gas

Gasoline rationing is designed to make the limited supply go around. It is a plan for dividing available gas fairly among all users. Every irregularity, every black market deal upsets this plan. Every gallon that goes through improper or illegal channels means somebody must do without.

Here's Your Part . . .

Don't apply for more gas than you really need. . . . Get into a ride-sharing club and stick to it. . . Endorse all your coupons now. . . . Don't take extra coupons from or offer them to anyone.

Good Weather Seen, Troops Ready For Invasion Signal

By ROBERT DOWSON
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 29.—Good invasion weather for the next three months was predicted today and Lord Croft, British undersecretary for war, said Allied armies now were waiting for the signal to strike into western Europe.

Long-range forecasts indicate the summer will be dry with frequent intervals of great heat and an abnormally low amount of cloudiness, the London Sunday Express reported. Similar conditions prevailed during the German blitzkreig attack on Holland, Belgium and France in 1940.

Lord Croft told a "salute the soldier" rally that the Allied attack in Italy was the first act of "the greatest drama in all the story of war." Though much more fighting lies ahead on the southern front, "all omens are good and we can see that Gen. (Sir Harold R. L. G.) Alexander has fulfilled the first part of our great strategic purpose," Croft said.

"The great armies of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, American and British, are all waiting for their great crossing of the sea as armies of liberation in this tremendous crusade," he said. "With pride we salute them."

Stockholm dispatches said an unusually large German convoy of some 20 good-sized vessels including naval craft had sailed north through the Oresund between Denmark and Sweden yesterday, presumably for Norway.

Stockholm also reported that the Germans were massing invasion barges off the east coast of Denmark, causing concern in Sweden. At least 50 barges were moored at Copenhagen and 100 at the Danish island of Bornholm off the southeast tip of Sweden.

Radio Berlin said that Adolf Hitler conferred with Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, Japanese ambassador to Berlin, yesterday on "questions of joint German-Japanese activity at the present stage of the war." Oshima also had conversations with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Berlin said.

Cayton Withdraws From District Race

LAMESA, May 29. (Special) — Expecting to be inducted in the armed forces in the near future, County Attorney Karl Cayton announced today his withdrawal from the race for district attorney of the 106th judicial district. Cayton, serving his third term as Dawson county attorney, has already passed his pre-induction physical and is awaiting call.

"It seems fairly obvious," Cayton said, "that I will be inducted some time this year since I am under 30 years of age." The county attorney is 28, married and the father of two children.

The race for district attorney now rests between Rollin McCord, seeking re-election, and Calloway Huffaker, both of whom reside in Tahoka.

various American cities. He revealed then that his government had made bases available to U. S. troops, particularly in the Galapagos islands off the Equadorean coast in the Pacific.

Vice President Wallace later visited Ecuador and was welcomed by Arroyo Del Rio.

Just a week ago President Roosevelt sent a message to Arroyo Del Rio, congratulating him on the boundary settlement between Peru and Ecuador.

40 REPORTED SLAIN IN BITTER 10-HOUR BATTLE

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, May 29 (AP) — A revolutionist junta seized control of this commercial city after ten hours of bitter street fighting today, and a Quito dispatch said that Dr. Carlos Arroyo Del Rio, Ecuadorean president, had resigned.

Forty persons were reported killed in the uprising, led by supporters of exiled former President Velasco Ibarra. The violent movement was aimed at forestalling a scheduled weekend presidential election.

Maj. Manuel Antonio Hidalgo late today was named military and civil chief of Guayaquil by the provisional junta. The city was calm after earlier fighting, and civilians found armed were rounded up and confined in military barracks.

SHE STUMPS OPA

ATLANTA, May 29. (AP) — A Mississippi woman seeking Office of Price Administration guidance in renting her apartments, asked:

"How long is each person supposed to stay in the bathroom?"

The OPA said it was still looking for answers.

The O'Brien car, containing eight occupants, turned over, but the driver was the only one injured.

Stricter Rationing In Future Foreseen

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP) — The new ration chief of OPA told his staff today that more commodities may have to be rationed, while OPA Administrator Chester Bowles asserted that the trend is toward "more rigid rationing" rather than relaxation.

"Some people say rationing is about Over," said Charles F. Phillips, deputy administrator for rationing. "It is not over, or anywhere near over. We could find ourselves six, eight or nine months from now with much tighter meat rationing."

Bowles asserted that the public is behind OPA and has accepted rationing; they would welcome the return of stricted ration controls as a protection against shortages, he stated.

Censorship Leak Said Dangerous

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — Senator Reed (R-Kas) declared today the makings of "a national scandal" lie in misuse of intercepts from censored mail.

Emphasizing that he was not criticizing Byron Price, director of censorship, but some of the people who get copies of the censored correspondence, Reed said he is determined to press the investigation now being carried out by a Senate postoffice subcommittee until it is learned how the confidential material is leaking out.

Amazed At Intrigue

"For a long time I've been amazed at the intrigue in the State department," he told newsmen. "The department seems to be shot through with it."

The State department was one of the government agencies furnished copies and paraphrases of letters between Miss Vivien Kellems, Connecticut war plant operator, and Count Frederick Karl von Zedlitz, Buenos Aires representative of a huge German metals syndicate. Drew Pearson, news commentator, referred to material in the letters in a broadcast, and later Rep. Coffee (D-Wash) quoted from them in a House speech. Reed demanded an investigation to trace the source of the subject matter.

Not Only Instance

The Kellems-Zedlitz case is not the only instance of a censorship leak, the Kansan said.

"There are strong indications of misuse of intercepts of a financial and commercial nature in the department of commerce, especially with regard to South America," he declared.

Police Questioning Slaying Suspects

AMARILLO, May 29 (AP)—Police said tonight several suspects had been questioned in connection with the decapitation slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Snelson, 22, but that all have been released.

Mrs. Snelson, mother of two children, was found dead on an Amarillo street early Sunday morning. Her spinal column had been severed and officers expressed belief the slayer had used a large knife.

Her husband R. D. Snelson of the U. S. Navy, was en route to Amarillo by plane tonight from Oakland, Calif., where he is stationed.

Mrs. Snelson had been living with a brother in Borger, Tex., and had come to Amarillo Friday on a visit. Police said she attended a dance with a relative Saturday night but had left the relative and was on her way home when she was slain.

Twenty paint brushes, 60 mechanical pens and pencils, four putty knives, 17 combs, a 50-foot cord line, two road maps, ration book, a quart of sauerkraut, several pounds of wieners, five pounds of sugar, a tube of shaving cream, a whistle, a gross of used toothpicks, adhesive tape, four flashlights, a razor, bar of soap, three boxes of razor blades, hammer, six knives, shoe laces, a grindstone, buttons, nails, marbles, safety pins and chains.

Distinguished Service Medal Goes To Eaker

Dewey Says Preservation Of Unity Is Vital Problem

HERSHEY, Pa., May 29. (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York said today that preservation of America's wartime unity in the post-war period "is the vital problem of our time" and declared he saw a revival of power and responsibility by the states.

The New York executive, addressing the national conference of governors, asserted that "much of our success in war has come from the sense that every individual citizen had a personal job to do," and added that governors of the states "are heard with new force and influence in the nation."

Called Fundamental

"That is fundamental, I believe, because it represents an administrative revival," stated Dewey, who told newsmen last night he was not discouraging talk that he is leading in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination although not a declared candidate.

"It means that we are emerging from a period in which communities and the states engaged in a holiday of surrendering responsibility to the national government," the speaker continued. "It marks at least the beginning of the end of the surrender of their power by the people.

Asserting that "while there has been a maze of regimentation, some necessary, some inexcusable" Dewey told the governors "our strength at home has come wholly from the genius of our free men in industry and the devotion of our workers and our farmer to their jobs.

Task Is To Unify

The task of political leaders, Dewey said, "is not to lead one part of the American people against another in violent crusades about unessentials. The task is to unify, as in war; to keep and build our new found faith in ourselves, in our country and in our God.

"The evidence is overwhelming that the new competence, the new acceptance of responsibility shown by the governors of the states reflects a new determination by our people that the freedom we have re-won at war shall be reestablished and maintained in peace."

Nazi Panzer Chief Brought To Britain

LONDON, May 29. (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Heinrich Kreipe, commander of the German Panzer division, who was captured by a small British raiding party April 22 on Crete, has been brought to England by plane, it was announced last night.

The British raiders, in one of the most daring exploits of the war, slipped into Crete after dark, captured the Nazi general by waving a red light to stop his car and fled with their prisoner to Cairo aboard a British warship which waited for the party a few miles offshore.

Captured Frenchman Takes His Own Life

ALGIERS, May 29. (AP)—Jacques Mederic, underground leader and member of the French consultative assembly, killed himself to avoid torture and possibly forced disclosures when he was arrested by the Germans in Paris last April, friends disclosed today.

Mederic swallowed poison, which he always carried with him, when he was arrested, and died within five minutes, it was reported.

Solon "Relieved" That War Goes On In FDR's Absence

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Rep. Gifford (R-Mass.) expressed to the House today "relief" to learn that President Roosevelt "could depart from Washington for a month and war could still go on."

"Perhaps he could depart forever from Washington and the war effort still could go on," he said.

He made his comments in a speech, a parity for Gifford who seldom takes the floor.

He referred to the President's recent vacation in the south.

Pulpwood Picture Viewed As Gloomy

NEW YORK, May 29. (AP) — A "much worse" pulp and paper situation can be averted only if all possible workers continue cutting pulpwood, General Manager Cranston Williams of the American Newspaper Publishers association said today.

Williams cited a War Production board statement which stressed the need for maximum output of pulpwood from which paper and related products are made and added: "Unless this production can be maintained at a high level, our war activities as well as our civilian production will be in grave danger."

Dewey-Warren Ticket Is Seen By Farley

BATAVIA, N. Y., May 29. (AP)—James A. Farley, Democratic state chairman, believes Governor Dewey will win the Republican nomination for President on the first ballot and will have Governor of California as his running mate.

"It looks like a Dewey-Warren ticket," Farley declared here.

Farley said that President Roosevelt "has the votes if he wants" the Democratic nomination, and added: "I don't believe there is a strong feeling in the Democratic party for Henry A. Wallace as vice president."

H'A'Y CARD

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 29.—(U.P.)—The judge was stumped for a while when a man was taken into custody recently, but he finally attributed it to the gasoline shortage and charged him with "driving a mule while drunk." A court atendant waggishly suggested that he might have taken up the animal's h'A'y card.

Pre-Registration Starts At Tech

A total of 396 students had obtained permits to register for the first six-weeks session of the 1944 summer school at Texas Technological college Monday, which was pre-registration day, Registrar W. P. Clement announced Monday afternoon. Majority of these students, Clement said, were "entering high school graduates."

Of this total, 214 women students had passed through the dean of women's office, and 173 men students had passed through the dean of men's office. Nineteen students had not passed through either office. So far, the ratio of men and women students was found to be surprising, as heretofore women students had outnumbered the men 2 to 1.

New Registration Plan

Formal registration will begin this morning at 8 o'clock. After the student has secured registration approval and housing approval, he may schedule his classes. Scheduling of classes will be different this year. Students will go to their respective divisional headquarters to schedule as follows: agriculture students, old agriculture building; arts and science students, 2nd flood of administration building; commerce students, 3rd floor of administration building; engineering students, engineering building; home economics students, home economics building; and graduate students, to the division in which the graduate work is to be done.

Dean James M. Gordon announced Monday that classes and laboratory periods would begin a half-hour later than originally scheduled. The official announcement from his office read: Because of the help problem, we find it impossible to have breakfast served in the college dormitories in time for classes to begin at 7:30 a. m. according to the printed schedule. Therefore, all classes and laboratory exercises for the first six weeks will begin and end one-half hour later than the time shown in the printed schedule.

Girl's dormitory No. 2, formerly occupied by the Army Engineers, will be open this six-week term for men students desiring to live there, W. T. Gaston, Tech business manager, announced Monday. Gaston anticipated the opening of both the boys' dormitories in the near future, probably before July 7.

Classes will begin at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. This six-week term will close July 7, with both the six-week term and nine-week term beginning July 7.

Spanish Ships Given Texas Port Clearance

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP) — Rep. Thomas (D-Texas) announced today permission has been granted by the Navy for Spanish vessels to enter the port of Houston to pick up cotton.

The first Spanish flag ship to reach Houston under the new agreement should enter the port within the next day or two, Thomas said.

With Rep. Mansfield (D-Texas), Thomas has been conferring with various naval and War Shipping administration officials, urging that Texas port facilities be utilized fully in the war effort.

Since the outbreak of the war, a negligible amount of tonnage other than oil shipping has moved out of any gulf port west of New Orleans.

Baseball School Closed By Two Well Played Battles

By MACK TURNER
Morning Avalanche Sports Editor

The baseball school at Chapman Field came to a close Monday afternoon with two well played, and closely contested, baseball games between pupils of the school putting on the finishing touch as the Juniors played to a 9 to 8 decision while the Seniors battled to an 8 to 7 finish.

In the afternoon battle on the card, Louder's Leopards got off to a running start to pile up an early lead over Kelling's Kangaroos, then stave off a rally in the "faithful eighth" by the Kangaroos that came within one run of tying the ball game.

Leopards Take Lead

Mickey McCollum started on mound for the winners, and in his three inning tenure on the mound he blanked the Kangaroos while his mates were getting off to a 3 to 0 lead with three unearned runs off little Neal Sikes, the Kangaroos starter. McCollum was nicked for two hits in the first inning, but was pulled out of the hole by some nice support. He gave up another hit in the second and pitched a flawless third.

Sikes was nicked for one hit in each of the first two innings, but errors allowed three runs to trickle over the plate. He pitched a flawless third as his parting gesture.

Walter Higginbotham took over in the fourth inning for the Leopards, and after two scoreless innings, was knocked from the box as the Kangaroos launched their first rally with four hits and three runs before Johnny Tatum was rushed to the mound.

Lefty Jack McCabe took over in the fourth for the Kangaroos and pitched some nice baseball, but was touched for five hits and six runs, largely through loose fielding in his defense.

Davidson Shines

Denny Davidson turned in the best mound performance of the afternoon, pitching three innings of perfect ball with only one base on balls charged against him. He faced only ten batters in the last three rounds.

Pogue Laquey greeted Tatum in the big eighth with a leadoff homer, and Tatum was battered from the hill in this round as the Kangaroos moved within one run of the winners. Jack Alderson came in for the final round and saved the lead by striking out three men in a row in the last inning.

Davis and Laquey of the losers set the hitting pace of the ball game, each getting three hits to account for six of the 14 hits for the losers.

Cats Shade Rangers

The Senior game was also a close battle with Coursey's Cats staging a late rally to push over the tying and winning runs in the sixth and seventh innings without the aid of a base hit.

Charles Pressley started on the mound for the Cats, but was driven from the hill in the fourth inning uprising of the Ragland Rangers. Gerald West started for the Rangers and gave up three hits and two runs in the two innings he worked. Gerald Davis took over but lasted only one inning as the Cats batted around the batting order to punch out four runs with two hits and five walks and a two run single by Stoney Wall and a double by Galey proving his downfall.

Bill Cope took over to finish the game and hurled four hitless innings, but a hit batsman, a walk and Cope's error on Pharr's pop fly let in the tying run.

In the last of the seventh, Cope got the first two men out on a whiff and a pop up, then walked two in a row, a passed ball and a wild pitch let home Ted Forsyth with the run that broke the deadlock and ended the game.

Browns Batter Yankees To Get Back In Second Place

ST. LOUIS, May 29 (AP)—Bobo Muncrief routed an old Yankee jinx that has cost him six straight ball games since 1941 by scattering 10 hits for his first victory over the world champs, 11-3, today as the St. Louis Browns moved back into second place.

Home runs by George McQuinn with a man on in the first and Gene Moore with two on in the third routed Atley Donald, Joe McCarthy's starter. The New Yorkers, who had beaten St. Louis five out of six previous starts, never caught up as the Browns battered three hurlers for 13 safeties.

Mily Byrnes paced the St. Louis attack with two doubles and a single and scored three of the runs off Donald, Ed Roser and Johnny Johnson. Donald suffered his second setback and his third loss of the campaign.

In hanging up his third win, Muncrief fanned five, batted in a run with a single and scored another.

Softball Loops Are Organized

The City Recreation department Monday night completed the organization plans for two adult softball leagues in Lubbock this summer with some openings left in both leagues for other teams that might want to enter, A. C. "Stumpy" Hamilton announced following the meeting of sponsors at the City Hall.

Five adult men's teams entered in the Lubbock Adult league with some keen competition expected to develop through the rival clubs from both Lubbock Army Air field and South Plains Army Air field.

Five teams were also lined up for a women's softball league with at least one more team needed for each league. The deadline for filing entries will be June 7.

League play will start June 12 with all league games being played at Mackenzie State park at diamonds in front of the Meadowbrook clubhouse.

The five teams entered in the men's league with civilian teams from LAAF and SPAAF, one team from the West Texas Induction center, one team from the postoffice and one team from Texas Tech.

Teams entering the women's softball league were WAC teams from both LAAF and SPAAF, sub depot, postoffice and West Texas Hospital nurses.

All equipment and umpires will be furnished by the Recreation department.

Etheridge Resigns Job At Lamesa High

LAMESA, May 29. — Lamesa High school was in the market for another assistant coach today. Duke Etheridge has resigned his position and left immediately for Sundown where he will be employed by an oil company.

Etheridge had served as football mentor for the junior teams made up of youngsters in the grade school and high school here, and had acted as head coach of track and field in the season recently ended. He had been employed by the local high school for about one year and a half.

He is a familiar landmark of sports in this area, having served as an umpire in the West Texas-New Mexico league until it went defunct.

Supt. of Schools V. Z. Rogers said that J. D. Railsback, who recently rejoined the faculty here, would assume Etheridge's duties until and if another assistant mentor was hired.

Looking The Record Over

IN view of reoccuring public discussions favoring increased salaries for Texas legislators, Texans should find an item in the current issue of Collier's weekly both interesting and informative.

It reveals that the average compensation of state legislators in the nation is $645 per year, the extreme range being from $150 per year in Kansas and Connecticut to $2,500 per year in New York.

This is information that Texans may want to remember. Announcements already have been made that the legislators' salary boost bill will be revived in the regular Texas session next January. One specific proposal already announced is that salaries of state senators and representatives be fixed by constitutional amendment at $3,600 per year.

The stressed argument urged in support of past and impending measures of this kind is and has been that Texas legislators are under-paid. Let's see whether this is so.

Texas legislators, both senators and representatives, are paid strictly on a per diem basis only while the Legislature is in session. Each receives $10 per day for the first 120 days of a session, and $5 for each day beyond that time. They also receive 10 cents per mile for each mile traveled going to and from sessions. Regular sessions are held every two years. Special sessions have been held occasionally.

Only one session of the Legislature in a great many years has adjourned within the 120-day time limit. This was the 1943 session which got under the wire by moving the clock back repeatedly on the 120th day. This record contrasted with the marathon sessions of the turbulent and uneffectual O'Daniel administration which were the longest and next to longest in Texas history, each extending beyond 160 days.

Thus, the average compensation for legislators during Gov. Coke Stevenson's administration has been $600 per year. During the O'Daniel tenture, it approximated $750 per year. But, in this connection, it should be borne in mind that each legislator received all his two year's pay, ranging from $1,200 to around $1,500, for spending four to five months in Austin.

No one could suggest, of course, that this is munififence. But it is better than average. Texas legislators are better paid than are those in most states.

Despite all this, it might be that increases in legislative salaries could be justified. If so, it must be on some grounds other than the pretense that Texas legislators are underpaid in comparison with those of other states. On the basis of that comparison, they are not under-paid. On the contrary, they rank well up in the legislative salary bracket.

Petroleum: Our Life Blood

MOST people understand that petroleum—especially gasoline—is the life blood of modern war.

If they suddenly were deprived of gasoline and oil, all combatants in the present struggle would become paralyzed and the form of government exemplified by Adolf Hitler would be secure. Not one single important weapon upon which the Allies are relying to exterpate Hitlerism from the earth could be moved into striking position.

All of us know this to be true. All of us appreciate that the operations of our machines of war require gasoline in quantities so huge that they simply cannot be imagined. Just one major raid of the kind which has occurred almost daily for nearly two months over Europe requires 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 gallons of gas.

Under the circumstances, is it strange that supplies available for civilian uses have been limited sharply? In view of impending events, need anyone be surprised, nor should any patriot complain, if these supplies are reduced even lower before they can be made more plentiful once more?

What can or should individuals do about all this? Well, for one thing, they can avoid complaining. More important than that, they can hold their gasoline consumption to the barest possible mimimum. Most important of all, they can do everything they can to plug the black holes through which entirely too much of our precious blood of war is wasting away.

In short, everyone can and should "play ball" in the matter of gasoline. That would be the least that any patriot could do for a cause in behalf of which so many have died and so many more still must die.

"If viewed from a considerable distance, the earth would appear to be a blue planet," says an astronomer. Viewed from an uncomfortable close-up, it appears decidedly blue to us these days.

Don't burn your bridges behind you unless you are an excellent swimmer.

THE DOUBLE-CROSS

XXVI

COURTRIGHT found Captain Azaraski sitting in one of the cars, where they had agreed to meet. She approached and asked, "Who is that with you?"

"Our associate," explained Azaraski. "Pilot Officer Roger Baldwin."

The shadowy figure of Baldwin remained dark and unstirring in the car. But his voice was low and polite as he said, "Good evening, Courtright."

"You gave me a start," Courtright told him. "We expected you to stay in Yokohama."

"I thought you might need me here, perhaps," Baldwin said. "So I came out."

Courtright was not fooled. She knew Baldwin was watching out for his interests. He was sticking close to see that no one cut him out of his share of the booty. He was wise to do so, too.

Truly, Courtright thought, I am a defeated old idealist in a predatory world, among predatory associates, and being predatory myself.

"Be sure and keep out of sight, Baldwin," she said in warning. "Link knows you by sight, naturally."

"I will, to be sure," Baldwin said. "Although I don't imagine it would do any harm if Link saw me. Or even if he knew I had been placed in his cell weeks ago to make sure he was one of the crew of Kipman Greer's bomber. That part our plot is past."

BALDWIN was a Rumanian. He pretended to be an Australian, but he had been born in Bucharest, the illegitimate offspring of a rascal Englishman and a Rumanian trollop. Even the Japanese army intelligence, which used him frequently, did not know too much about him. Baldwin had evidently been a Spitfire pilot in the RAF for a while, in Japanese pay. Courtright had seen the dossier on him, and there were many gaps in it. Azaraski had shown her the dossier.

Azaraski cleared his throat impatiently.

"Courtright, you aren't doing your part," he said. "You are not trying to make Link discover that Kip Greer was his pilot."

Courtright had a plan. She didn't want to be questioned. She was afraid she couldn't hold up under Azaraski's ragging. Her courage, she knew, was at its bitter end.

She could silence Azaraski. She knew how to do that. She could do it by scaring him. She could start him to worrying about his own safety. Now she proceeded to scare him.

"Captain," she said, "isn't there a chance your army intelligence will learn we're double-crossing them?"

"We look most innocent to them, I assure you," Azaraski said. But he sounded startled.

Tilda Courtright said, "I am not so sure."

"Don't be a silly old woman!" Azaraski snapped.

Pilot Officer Baldwin spoke. He also sounded alarmed. "She might be right. When one begins to worry, there is often a reason. Suppose you go over this, Azaraski, and let's see if we've made a wrong move."

"A waste of time, going back over it," Azaraski muttered.

"It won't cost us anything, my boy," said Baldwin. "And you never can tell."

AZARASKI wiped his face with a handkerchief. Whenever he became worried, he could not control the nervous perspiration.

Angrily, he said, "The Japanese intelligence identified the body of Kipman James Greer when it was found. Our card index files at once suggested a connection with the contents of the vaults of the Greer bank in Singapore. We knew those assets had not been shipped out of Singapore. So they had been concealed. We did not know where. I had nothing to do with any of that. How could anybody be suspicious of me?"

"Go on," Baldwin said. "It could be later we made a slip."

"The crew of Link's bomber were captured. By various means, we collected the information that Kip Greer had given a flyer a message from Norma Greer. We even got a general idea of the message. Something about a storm and a cyclone cellar."

That, thought Tilda Courtright, would surprise Link. He doesn't suspect the Japanese have almost the exact text of the message.

Azaraski continued, still angry. "We had the message. We had Norma Greer, who could decode it, but naturally wouldn't. We had a flyer, but we weren't sure he was the one Kip Greer gave the message to. We knew the flyer we wanted was an osteopath. We put you in the cell, Baldwin, to learn if Link was the flyer. You found he was. All of this was done with the knowledge of army intelligence. They ordered it. They would not have ordered it if they suspected me."

"What about Courtright?" asked Baldwin. "Anything suspicious there?"

"How could there be?" Azaraski demanded. "Our army intelligence knew that she was a friend of the Greer family, and it was their idea to use her, not mine nor yours. The plan was to get Norma and Link and Courtright together in a pleasant group in the country, then Link would naturally tell Norma the message and Courtright would be around to overhear. That was all there was to it."

Baldwin muttered, "They may suspect the three of us are going to double-cross them."

"Or they may find it out," Courtright said.

WHEN a bus driver asked Mrs. Joseph Montone of Newark, N. J. "Cantcha read?" she decided then and there to get herself an education.

And a few days ago, Mrs. Montone, 69 years old, graduated from grammar school with high honors.

She has asked her husband, widely known as "Frank the bootblack," who has been shining shoes for 57 years, for permisison to go to high school, but Frank hasn't made up his mind as yet.

You see, Mrs. Montone came to Newark from Italy when she was 13 years old, without any schooling.

She had never had time to learn much English or much of anything else.

But when the bus came along and she couldn't read the sigh and had to ask the driver where he was going and he made a fool of her in front of all the people with his "Cantcha read?", she made up her mind that she would be able to read some day.

And she wouldn't only learn to read, but she'd study arithmetic and geography and history, and she did.

So now I wouldn't be a bit surprised if, by the time she is 74, she'd graduate from college and be a B. A. summa cum laude.

I remember how I used to resent it when my parents made me get an education.

"What good is college?" I asked myself. Why did I need Latin and Greek? What use would I have for psychology and for chemistry and physics?

And even now I sometimes wonder whether we are not taught a whole lot of useless things and taught them in such a way that education becomes punishment rather than something we appreciate and enjoy.

I wonder, I say, but I don't know.

I do know, however, that many people have told me that they regret their lack of education, and that they envy us who have gone to college.

SOMEONE asked me just the other day whether I advised him to send his son to college.

It's so hard to answer that. If it's just a matter of varsity or of being the thing to do, I'd say no.

But if you really believe in the value of culture and a substantial background, if you think that to know what has gone on before so that he may use his knowledge to better his own life and the lives of his fellow men, then send him to college by all means.

I wish that all youngsters could be made to value an education as much as Mrs. Montone, so that they may be able to read not only the signs on the bus, but all the signs that point the way to progress and civilization.

That should be the purpose of education and that sort of education alone has a purpose!

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE seemingly unrelated moves which Democratic strategists are making in an attempt to advance a fourth-term nommation and election intrigue experienced observers in the capital.

With the government, which means the administration, in control of certain legislative and executive agencies, it is not difficult for key men to issue politically profitable decrees.

The lifting of meat rationing was the most spectacular example of how Washington handles every problem from a partisan standpoint. Supplies of lamb and beef are scarcer now than ever before in most sections of the country, proving that there was no basic reason for doing away with the coupon system. The only meat that is plentiful is pork, which is not a summer dish.

Federal experts admit that certain kinds of clothing should be rationed. Present and prospective shortages of textiles are much greater than the public knows. Because of the present refusal to insist on an allocation of garments and meat stuffs, there may be serious famines—but not until after the election.

AUTOMOBILES: Petroleum is another commodity which many believe should be curtailed for the consuming public. The amounts allowed to civilians were reduced sharply on the eve of the Eisenhower invasion of North Africa in November of 1942.

But now, although the Allies are preparing for considerably more extensive operations in Europe and the Far East, there is no though of reducing the mileage allowances for nonmilitary personnel.

As recently revealed by the writer, Donald Nelson has given the green light to many producers of domestic goods, including automobiles, flat-irons and general household equipment.

His ukase was issued in spite of the protest of Army-Navy heads, who contend that the industrial plant should not be shifted to the manufacture of civilian articles for at least two years—until victory over Hitler and Hirohito is assured.

JUICY: The administration has scored its greatest successes toward the fourth-term try on Capitol Hill. It silenced two committees whose revelations had been damaging the political reputation of the man in the White House—the Dies and the Truman investigating units.

Two of the Dies group were knocked off in the primaries by the efforts of the CIO Committee for Political Action. Chairman Martin Dies has announced that he will not seek re-election.

As a result, only two Republican members survive, and it is doubtful whether they will hold any hearings between now and November. The organization may be revived along different lines in the next session, but for the moment it is moribund.

The Truman committee is temporarily dead. This body has done an excellent job in showing up waste and graft in several federal agencies. It has forced the Army and Navy to tighten up its system of procuring war weapons. Chairman Harry Truman of Missouri has even been mentioned as a possible Vice Presidential candidate.

But the Missourian is a good Democrat and party foot soldier. He came to the capital as a product of the infamous Pendergast school, and his transformation into a crusader for civic decency was one of the wonders of Washington. But now Harry is a principal advocate of a fourth term; and he is also an old friend of Bob Hannegan, Democratic National chairman.

So don't look for any more juicy stories from the Truman files until after next November. It has succumbed to the silent treatment through the acquiescence of its chairman.

HEROES: Americans of Greek descent feel that they have a legitimate complaint against the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin attitude to their homeland. They believe that these Allied chieftains do not give sufficient weight to Greece's contribution to Hitler's eventual downfall.

The writer made this discovery when, a few weeks ago, he cited Hitler's invasion of Albania as one of the prize blunders committed by the Axis powers. He appeared to give Albanians the sole credit—although that was not his intention—for putting up such a strong defense against the Nazis that Der Fuehrer's subsequent invasion of Russia was delayed to the extent that triumph over the Soviet became an impossibility.

It was, of course, the gallant Greek troops who, second to the Poles, furnished the migtiest resistance the Germans had met on the battlefield up to that time. The men of Athens duplicated the fact of Leodinas of Thermopylae. They fought such a fierce reargard action for their firesides that the Nazis became hopelessly involved in the Balkans.

As a result, the timing of Berlin's blitzkrieg was thrown off, and any chance of knocking Russia out of the war disappeared. History may yet laud the small but heroic Grecian band for having turned the tide of this global conflict at a crucial moment.

Critical letters to the writer are not important. But it is interesting to learn that this bloc of voters blames FDR for not appreciating their country's contribution to United Nations victory.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

EVEN Axis radios admit that bombing and sabotage are badly disrupting the railroads.

Their too-obvious laments may be a trick to make us think the job is already completed and that therefore we will call off the pounding. But General Eisenhower is too smart to rise to that bait.

The current campaign is far more serious than the early sporadic raids by flying "train busters" and guerrillas. We have embarked on an ambitious program to paralyze the enemy transportation system in Europe, especially the sections in the potential battle zones.

Not only are tracks attacked, but harbors, rivers, canals, truck highways, transport plane airfields and the various installations which service these mediums of conveyance as well.

MENACE: An enormous amount of freight normally flows between the Bay of Biscay and the Baltic along the shores or through the inland waterways.

American Liberator bombers and British Lancasters now sow these routes with mines. Formerly, contact types were used exclusively. Today, two per cent of the old-fashioned models and more than a dozen different new kinds are distributed. Once only shallow areas could be utilized but modern devices can be dropped to any depth and can even fall from high altitudes without exploding.

So successful are our tactics that last week all Baltic ports except Danzig were closed. The most dangerous spot for Axis shipping is the strip joining the Skagerrak and Kattegat. One day 32 vessels were held up in Trelleborg, Sweden, the skippers afraid to sail.

Stockholm marine experts are the only ones who have solved the mine problem. They pilot gyroplanes over possible fields. The slow-moving contraptions hover above a spot until sweepers are summoned to remove the menace. Belligerent nations cannot use this method as the machines would be caught by swift aircraft.

(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

The incidence of juvenile delinguency in this country is higher than ever before. The G. O. P. has overlooked a good bet in failing to point out that these youngsters were brought up under a Democratic administration.

A person who accepts free bread is obligated not only not to bite the hand that feeds him, but also to suffer himself to be led by said hand.

It is cruel to teach astronomy to a person who derives a peculiar satisfaction out of believing that the moon is made of green cheese.

It is feared that by war's end the government will have become so addicted to the habit of spending money in huge sums that it will not be able to do anything with an appropriation of less than five billion dollars.

Fine Work In Training Of Blind Is Pushed In State

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, May 29.—With about $35,000 state and federal funds which it expects to receive this year, the State Commission for the Blind hopes to train in trade schools and in industrial plants 250 blind persons this year as the beginning of an extensive teaching program.

Previously funds have not been available for this work by the state commission, and training has been carried on through the cooperation of plant owners. Through the instruction of blind persons in the plants, 125 now are employed in private industries, with their salaries ranging from $125 to $250 a month, Commission Secretary Jon Alsup said.

In addition, the commission has training workshops at Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, Houston, San Antonio and El Paso where blind persons do handcraft, weaving and make mops and pillowcases, most of them going to the Army and Navy. A workshop soon will be operating at Waco.

Workshops formerly were called "Lighthouses" by Alsup, but he abandoned that term when an officer came to him to investigate a commission blind supervisor. A woman heard the supervisor talking about a "lighthouse" in a Gulf Coast city and feared espionage.

18 On Staff Are Blind

Alsup, blind himself and a former state representative from Carthage, has a staff of about 30 working to rehabilitate those who cannot see. Of his staff, 18 are blind.

Through the commission, blind persons operate 35 vending stands in various cities of the state. Some of them are located in Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Beaumont, Tyler, Galveston and Amarillo.

In many of these the commission furnishes the equipment and the initial stock, and after repayment, the profits go to the blind operators. In one instance, an operator netted $400 in a month.

In other cases, civic clubs take responsibility of the blind person getting the equipment and stock.

ALSUP is hopeful that the training program, starting with the first federal grant of $6,100 can be enlarged to benefit the majority of the nearly 7000 blind in Texas known to the commission.

The commission has 699 machines which play recordings of popular books, instruction courses and similar records for education and entertainment of the blind.

Also there are seven home teachers who go to blind persons and teach them how to live more easily and make proper use of articles. The commission hopes the number can be increased. Jefferson county with 115 blind has no home teachers.

In addition, the commission sometimes provides funds for operations to prevent persons losing their sight. Last fiscal year, $237 was spent for this sort of work.

Measles Vs. Memory

Pvt. Robert Avant, who resigned as state representative from Marshall to enter the armed forces, believes measles may affect a patient's memory, say friends here who talked with him recently.

Before rounding out training at Camp Hood, Texas, Avant was sent to the hospital with measles. In proper time he was discharged as a physically well soldier ready to resume military duties.

First pop out of the box, Avant's outfit was called out in full field equipment for a march. As the company started marching, the soldier behind hisses Avant's name, but Avant refused to break military discipline by turning his head. He marched in perfect cadence.

Then the soldier softly inquired: "Avant, where's your rifle?" Panic stricken Avent felt on either shoulder. The rifle was not there. Forgetting military discipline, Avant broke ranks, dashed to the lieutenant and explained:

"Lieutenant, six, I forgot my gun."

The company was halted, Avant noting that hair on the back of the lieutenant's neck was bristling. In slow, deliberate speech with rising inflection, the officer barked:

"Private Avant, it's a rifle, not a gun, and go and get it."

He did, blaming the mistake on the measles.

MRS. LOIS BARRY, employe in the state auditor's office, now knows what sort of a medal it was that her son, Lt. Billie Jo Barry, 24, received in Italy.

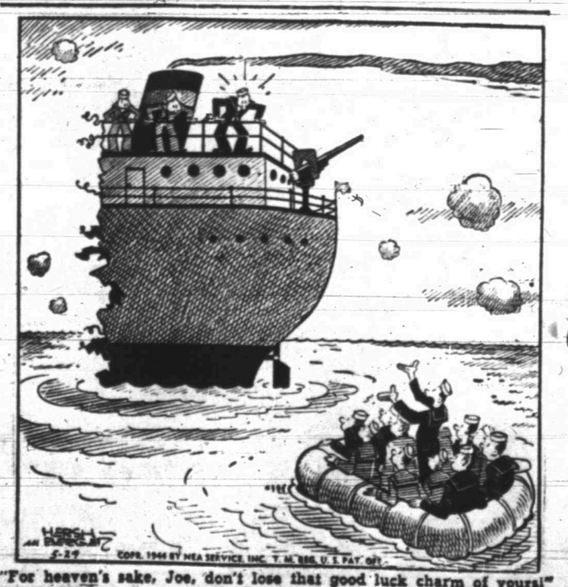

She received a copy of a citation from the Headquarters of the Twelfth Air Force in Italy that her son had been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Shortly after the decoration, modest and thoughtful Lieutenant Barry has written home that hed received "a medal" and he would tell Mrs. Barry "the details next time I see you." A buddy wrote that the officer did not want to "worry his mother."

As co-pilot of a B-25 bomber, the lieutenant flew an attack on enemy-held territory in Italy on January 30. Anti-aircraft fire disabled the right engine, severed the oil lines and damaged the hydraulic system of the plane, but the big ship made the bombing run.

The "Wasp Wagon," one of the Army's newer mobile anti-aircraft weapons, carries four .50 calaber machine guns mounted on a power-driven turret and geared to fire 2000 rounds a minute.

USE SEA POWER TO GET HOGS IN A HURRY
FEED STANTON'S 20% PIG RATION
Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it is working consistently to improve pig health, speed up growth and reduce mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and through creep feeding—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.
MANAMAR
In Stanton's 20% pig ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "complex."
B-G PLUS
Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of research, research and experiment, supplies extra tract minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 20% pig ration.

SPECIALTIES REACH PEAK

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—A wide assortment of stock market specialties, together with scattered pivotals, climbed to peaks for the year or longer today while many leaders did little or nothing.

Investment buying, predicted on the growing urge to employ idle funds, was selective from the start. Individual situations, plus earnings and dividend hopes, provided the principal inspiration. War news also was on the side of bullish forces.

Dealings were unusually lively for a pre-holiday session—important exchanges will recess tomorrow for Memorial day—and gains of fractions to 2 points were well distributed at the close with a few much broader jumps in evidence.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 53, a top since March 21.

Motors and rubbers generally had the aid of predictions that post-war requirements would run to around 18,000,000 new cars.

At highs for 1944 were Laclede Gas preferred, up about 15 points at one time and with a final gain of 11⅛, in the wake of SEC approval of revised reorganization plans; American Telephone, Chrysler, Hudson Motors, White Motor, Nash-Kelvinator, Budd Mfg., Spiegel common and preferred, Oliver Farm, Atlantic Coast Line, American Tobacco "B," South Porto Rico Sugar, Goodrich, Goodyear, Gamewell, Liggett and Myers "B" and American Sugar. In front were Delaware and Hudson, Santa Fe and Dow Chemical.

Park and Tilford broke 3¾ points on further profit cashing and Hiram Walker was down 1⅛. Steels, oils, coppers, aircrafts and utilities were narrow.

Southwest Pacific

veterans of the Sixth Army took the advantage in the struggle for the Maffin Bay airfield opposite from Wakde island, which was invaded May 18. They occupied a height giving them artillery command over the field and Japanese resistance was reported fading.

Far down the British New Guinea coast, the slow-moving Australian ground troops occupied Bunabun. This is 140 miles southeast of Wewak.

Aussies Move Steadily

The Australians have been moving steadily up the coast, pinching by-passed Japanese in the Wewak area, since they captured Madang April 25.

While the ground forces continued their steady drives to sweep the enemy from all New Guinea, MacArthur's far-ranging bombers hit such widely scattered bases as Truk in the Central Pacific, Rabaul on New Britain in the South Pacific, Noemfoor and Japen islands near Biak and Manokwari and Babo on the head of New Guinea.

At the same time, other planes kept up their extermination attacks on the trapped Japanese in Wewak area, easing the way for the advancing Australians working their way toward the Aitape area, which was invaded at the same time as Hollandia, April 22.

EAST TRIAL DELAYED

MEXIA, Tex., May 29 (AP)—The trial of Herman East, charged with robbery with a deadly weapon, today was continued until July 3, by Judge Lex Smith of 87th District court at Goesbeck. East is charged in connection with an attack made on Mrs. Agnes Davis in a Mexia insurance office last month.

Helium gas was first observed on the sun.

Battle For Rome

via, four miles to the southwest.

To the southeast of the rising battle for Rome, Allied beachhead troops drove the enemy out of the mountain towns of Yermoneta and Bassiano, both well north of the Appian Way and the Rome-Naples electric rail line. The two towns are between 8 and 10 miles east and slightly south of Cisterna.

French Slash On

French Colonials slashed through the hills north of Ville Santo Stefano and captured Monte Siserno, 2,400-foot peak about seven miles south of Frosinone on the Via Casilina.

Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's Eighth Army forces swept westward six miles from Ceprano to Pofi after throwing several bridges across the Liri and Sacco rivers. The town of Arce, at the junction of the Via Casilina and Highway 82, appeared ready to fall to Leese's troops, and Santo Padre, four and a half miles to the northeast, had been surrounded.

Light Resistance

The French were reported meeting only light resistance in their steady advance through the mountains, and there were indications the Nazis were running short of artillery in several sectors. A German prisoner said tanks had been used as artillery in recent fighting.

At some points it was evident the Germans were retreating with all possible speed, depending upon demolitions, mines and snipers to hold off the pursuing Allied forces. Nazi parachute troops were fighting stubbornly, however, in the Arce area.

The three German divisions listed by Allied headquarters as having been virtually destroyed were the 71st, 94th and 715th.

New China Threat

about a half mile of the town's railway station. Other American and Chinese forces pushed forward inside the town, severing one Japanese avenue of retreat.

The Japanese suffered heavy losses in thrusts from West of Myitkyina.

Chindits Give Ground

Airborne British Chindit troops near Mogaung, 35 miles west of Myitkyina, were hit by reinforced Japanese units from the south. Their ammunition exhausted and their air supply line disrupted by bad weather, the Chindits were forced to give ground before heavy attacks. The invaders took a vital airstrip and eliminated important road blocks, one of which had cut the Mandalay-Myitkyina railway. The Japanese attack was intended to relieve their hard-pressed 18th (Singapore) division which is being pushed back by Chinese forces coming down the Mogaung valley.

In the Central Pacific, American airmen continued to hammer Japanese island positions in the Carolines and the Marshalls.

Willkie Boomed As FDR Running Mate

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., May 29. (AP)—A group was organized yesterday to circulate petitions asking the Democratic national convention to nominate Wendell L. Willkie as President Roosevelt's vice presidential running mate on the party ticket.

Said the chairman, Ray C. Williamson, accountant: "We must have the best in command and second in command."

He said the group believes President Roosevelt and the former Republican presidential candidate are "the answer."

"A" gas ration card holders are responsible for only 9.1 per cent of the total annual mileage of the country's drivers.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP) — The possibility of important military developments during the Decoration day holiday affected rye futures today and there was an increase in selling near the close of trading. The wheat market was affected by the trade in rye and by prospects for a near record crop, but buying by shorts was a steadying influence.

FEPC Demands

ing, "we are not advertising for white women any more."

Another letter from Brin to Dean acknowledged receipt of the note, but reminded that he had also asked for copies of instructions to the company's personnel and hiring agents.

Failing to get a reply from Dean, Brin wrote another letter saying "unless we hear from you within the next 10 days, it will be necessary to refer this case to our Washington office," according to the correspondence released by O'Daniel.

Dean then wrote O'Daniel, who wrote Brin asking under what authority in law was he writing such letters to Dean.

Submitted To Ross

O'Daniel said the matter was referred to Chairman Ross, who replied that "the dividing line between a war and non-war industry is sometimes difficult to draw," and "we require our field representatives to submit cases of jurisdiction to our central staff."

Ross added at the time that the Dallas case had been called to the staff's attention and that Brin had been instructed "to take no further action" against the Dallas company "or similar enterprises" on the ground that they were not war industries therefore beyond the FEPC's jurisdiction.

Connally Flays Board

Simultaneous with O'Daniel's release of the Brin letters, Senator Connally (D-Texas) issued a statement declaring the FEPC was an "unauthorized" body and that he would vote to discontinue its activities.

Connally declared that he had heard of the difficulties encountered by the Dallas binding company and other Texas concerns with the FEPC and he had told some companies which he considered obviously not under the jurisdiction of the FEPC to ignore the committee.

"According to my views the FEPC has no legal basis," he added. "It's activities are unauthorized and have no force of compulsion. I shall vote to discontinue it activities."

City Commission

will be from 9 a. m. until approximately 9:30 p. m. Sunday hours will be from 1 until 9:30 p. m.

The following schedule of charges will be made, all figures including federal tax: children under 12 years of age, 12 cents; those from 12 to 18 years of age, 14 cents; adults, 25 cents; swim suit rentals, 25 cents; and towels, 5 cents. The 14 cent charge for those in the 12-to-18 age group will be made, it was explained, because federal regulations require that they pay the adult tax, regardless of the admission charge.

Schedule Change Declined

In another matter affecting the bus company, the commission declined a request for permission to re-route the Avenue N-Thirty-fourth street-Avenue S line so as to take buses off Avenue S and put them on Avenue H. A careful check disclosed that too many people use the bus on Avenue S to justify any impairment of service on that street.

Another matter to pertaining to transportation within the city was a discussion by members of the city commission with operators of local taxicab companies of problems pertaining to the operation of cabs.

Mayor O. W. Ribble recalled that a similar conference several months ago resulted in a closer observance by taxicab drivers of city traffic regulations. But, the mayor commented, traffic violations by cab drivers are again become too numerous. He served notice that the condition will have to be corrected immediately.

Firms Cooperate

Spokesmen for the cab companies assured the commission of their desire to cooperate to the fullest in the effort to compel drivers to obey traffic laws. One of the operators remarked that, "fines aren't enough" to compel some drivers to obey regulations—his clear implication being that jail sentences would be a more effective remedy.

The company representatives present were Farmer, for Bryant Cab company; Clifton Cocanougher, for City Cab company; Ed C. Abbott, of Yellow Cab company, and E. G. Abbott, for Domino Cab company.

The commission declined a proposition made by J. F. Hankins that he be employed to solicit new business for the city electric department, his compensation to be one-half of the revenue from each new customer for eight months after the installation of the city meter. City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley advised the commission that it would have no legal authority to enter into such a contract.

Damage Claim Refused

The commission also rejected the claim of Mrs. Martha Winn to $10,000 damages for personal injuries allegedly received when she tripped over a wire on Avenue H north of the underpass on Feb. 19, 1943. Her attorney, Benjamin Kucera, advised the commission that suit will be brought in her behalf.

A $30 claim for the repair of damages to an automobile belonging to Pat Muckleroy, 2122 Twenty-third street, was approved. A garbage truck backed into his car.

Purchase of 8,000 to 10,000 gallons of cylinder oil for the electric plant from Cities Service company at 24 cents per gallon was authorized.

The city manager was directed to call for bids for the annual audit of city records for the fiscal year ending last March 30. They will be opened at the commission's next meeting on June 8.

Payment For Lot

Payment of $280 to L. H. Holt upon his delivery of a merchantable title to a half lot extending into Avenue Q at Twenty-fourth street was authorized. The amount was recommended by an arbitration committee consisting of Glen Hess, A. G. McMath and Tom Turner.

The request of Lubbock National bank for permission to erect a large clock on the sidewalk in front of the bank was declined following the report that it would be in violation of city ordinances.

Present at the meeting, additional to the mayor, were Commissioners W. B. Price, Fred Childress and J. Ray Bickey.

Stabilization Bill

to control the purse strings after that.

Other amendments approved by the Senate committee would:

Boost government loans on six basic crops, Cotton, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts, from the present 90 per cent of parity to 95 per cent.

Provide for review, by federal district courts, of OPA orders suspending business firms from operations as a penalty for violations of rationing regulations.

Extend to the OPA the authority to bring against retailers, as well as wholesalers, suits for damages resulting from price ceiling violations. At present, only consumers can file such suits against retailers.

Revise the present provision fixing mandatory treble damages for price overcharges, to give federal courts authority to fix damages at between one and one-half and three times the amount of the over-charge, or $50, whichever is greater.

Kimmel Insists On Early Trial

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Declaring the "whole story of Pearl Harbor" has not been told, Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel has demanded a "free, open and public" court martial "at the earliest practicable date," it was disclosed today.

Kimmel's demand was made in a letter released by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) as the Senate Judiciary committee voted to act next Monday on Ferguson's resolution fixing Sept. 8 as the deadline for the trial's start.

The House rules committee meanwhile approved legislation "directing" that Kimmel, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short and any others charged with responsibility for this nation's greatest military disaster be held before June 7, 1945.

Refers To Report

Kimmel referred to the presidential commission headed by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, which made a study of the Pearl Harbor disaster and reported:

"The Japanese attack was a complete surprise to the commanders and they failed to make suitable dispositions to meet such an attack. Each failed properly to evaluate the seriousness of the situation."

Kimmel, writing from Bronxville, N. Y., declared he was barred from some hearings before the Roberts commission.

Ferguson also released a copy of a letter Kimmel wrote to the late Navy Secretary Frank Knox on Sept. 7, 1943.

Accompanying this letter was a waiver of the statute of limitations. The admiral said he did not sign the waiver in the form submitted to him by the secretary, but changed it to "assure that my hearing would be in open court."

Allred's Appeal

be for the courts to decide."

Contending that "it is high time for the people to rise up when a steamroller convention, claiming to be Democratic, instructs its nominees to bolt unless they get their way," Allred stated:

"While I did not bolt and do not intend to do so, it is funny to hear this crowd condemning 'bolters' at the state convention and, at the same time, instructing their delegates to the national convention and their candidates for presidential electors to pick up their balls and bats and quit the game if it goes against them in Chicago."

"Special Interest" Charge

"Giant special interests" organized and financed a campaign to "capture the convention on the pretext of an 'uninstructed' delegation which would actually be instructed at the state convention to nominate presidential electors who would bolt the ticket if the President were renominated," declared Allred.

He continued:

"A rule was adopted at the state convention which took away the rights of local delegates to select their own electors and gave a hand-picked committee the right to replace them with men who would not vote for the President under any circumstances. By that means they have stacked the candidates for presidential electors with a majority who will bolt the party and its nominee if the President should be renominated. This would be all right if they had come out in the open about it before the precinct conventions so the people would know what they were up to. Now they are unmasked."

Dangerous Trap Yawns For All Nazis South Of Rome

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A dangerous Allied trap is yawning for battered Nazi divisions south of Rome. Already cut off from direct escape northward by a Fifth Army lunge across the Cisterna saddle to within rifle range of Valmontone, they are being steadily compressed by the Eighth Army push up the Sacco from the south.

SIMPSON

Allied capture of Valmontone at any moment seemed certain although heavy Nazi reinforcements have obviously been thrown in there. It would do more than sever the Via Cailina and its paralleling railway. Five miles beyond the town lies the secondary road and rail system linking Rome with Frosinone in the lower Sacco valley.

Could Become Critical

If it also is cut or brought under Allied gunfire, the plight of German troops still deployed along the Lepini ridge guarding the southwestern flank of the Sacco valley would become citical. There is only one other inadequate road northward still open to them, the Frosinone - Subiaco - Arsolin connection through the Simoruini foothills north of the valley.

A substantial part of the estimated eight Nazi division still south of the Valmontone partial road block must be posted in the Lepini hills. That force is already cut off to the south of Eighth Army capture of Caprano, cutting the Via Casilina connection with the important highway northward along the upper Liri valley. In effect the German trans-peninsular defense line is already split in two by the Allied advance in the south, last reported well beyond Caprano up the Sacco and with the French on the right flank of the Fifth Army converging also on Frosinone, largest and most important transportation hub in the valley.

Noted "Piston" Tactics

It looks as though the Allied field commander, General Sir Harold Alexander, is repeating the "piston" tactics he made famous in Tunisia. Again the Eighth Army is serving as the piston head with the Sacco valley as tye cylinder through which it is compressing the foe and the Fifth Army attempting to seal off the top of the valley at Valmontone against German escape to the Rome defense perimeter.

There seemed little question that General Alexander was within sight of achieving in the Sacco valley his objective of destroying much of the two Nazi armies facing him in the field.

The first postoffice in the United States was established in 1639 at the home of Richard Fairbanks in Boston.

Plea For Texas Workers Issued

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—Drastic changes in production schedules have created an acute manpower situation, and Texans are needed immediately in war plants in other parts of the nation, C. E. Belk, state director of the War Manpower commission said today.

He added that more workers are now needed to assure steady replenishment of stock piles for the invasion.

Expected cut-backs in certain industries have not materialized, Belk said, citing schedule increases ranging up to 1,000 per cent in some categories of munitions.

"Shipbuilding schedules, anticipated to be less in 1945 than in 1944, have been reversed," Belk declared.

"Certain types of equipment vitally necessary to aircraft manufacture have fallen behind schedule in the last 30 days."

He emphasized that needs of Texas war plants will continue to be met and civilian industries will be given every consideration possible but vital war production must come first.

Belk asserted it would be necessary to place more women in industry and that absenteeism and turnover which have risen in the past month must be cut.

The state director ordered 12 area directors in Texas to confer immediately with their respective management-labor committees and lay plans which will "get the maximum labor utilization on all production and thus point the way for release of surplus employees for direction to other states where war production is behind schedule and where new plants are now beginning to go into operation."
