Slow Rains Give Boost to Growing Crops

Cotton and grain sorghum growers saw early season prospects skyrocket over the week end as slow, ground-soaking rains fell, ranging from an inch and a half to two inches over the county.

This ended a dry spell that was threatening newly-planted cotton, and which had stopped planting in scattered areas. The first rain fell Friday, June 13, and the last shower came Monday morning, June 16.

It is the first time in recent years that young crops have come almost to the 20th of June without damaging rains that caused widespread replanting.

County Agent Don Reeves estimates that 95 per cent of the crops are planted one time over. Strong hot winds that preceded the rains by a few days had baked the ground in a few fields and it remains to be seen if this will have to be replanted, he said.

With these exceptions, crop reports from all sections of the county are the same: Cotton sure looks good, and the rain was just right, according to Velman Warrick of Warrick Feed Store.

Raymond Cearley of Dodson

Farmers Co-op said rain in that area measured two inches or a little and would put cotton in good shape until around July 1 at least.

More than 90 per cent of the crops are up, he said.

Farmers are feeling a lot better, Jones Singley of Singley Mill and Elevator reported, as a number of cotton growers had expressed concern with a stand.

Rain appeared heaviest in the Wellington area, where there were a number of reports of two inches.

Loco also measured two inches of moisture, and at Quail from one and a half to one and three fourths was reported.

Marvin Knoll said he received 1.75 inches east of Lutie and that amount was general through the area north of Salt Fork, and crop prospects are bright.

With most of the cotton and grain sorghum up, planting of guar has just started. There appears to be a little more interest in guar with the guaranteed minimum price of $4.60 per cwt. Guar turned into a good money crop for growers last year when the price went up to $5.60.

An estimated 95 per cent of the wheat has been cut in the

A. R. Copeland Drowns Friday in Flash Flood

Archie Ray Copeland, 62, of Lubbock, a former Wellington resident, was drowned Friday afternoon, June 13, near Anton, when his pickup was caught in a small draw by a flash flood.

Mrs. Copeland, who was with her husband, was able to climb out of the pickup and onto the top of the cab, her cousin, Paul Bell, has learned. Mr. Copeland was unable to get out of the vehicle. She is still under treatment in a Lubbock hospital.

Mr. Copeland was the son-in-law of Mrs. Andy Bell, and his wife is the former Dorothy Bell.

A successful insurance agency owner, Mr. Copeland in recent years had devoted most of his time to extensive farming operations and to the feedlot he owned.

Mr. Bell said that as nearly as could be determined, Mr. and Mrs. Copeland had taken livestock in a trailer to the feedlot. On the return trip, they were caught by the rapidly rising water in the normally dry draw, which they had crossed without trouble just a short time before.

Rev. Kenneth Rogers

sonary assignments he served as a pastor in Eastland, Wichita Falls, and Rotan, Texas.

in operation Tuesday, June 17, by the city's sanitation department.

Herbicide Test Here Most Extensive Yet

Some of the major herbicide tests on cotton, grain sorghum and guar in the sandy-land areas of Texas this year will be done at Wellington in the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program. It is a continuing program, but not in the 13 years of herbicide testing has it been as extensive as in 1969.

This is one part of the Research Demonstration program, sponsored jointly by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Experiment Stations in Collingsworth, Hall and Wheeler counties.

Dwane Scott, farm demonstration assistant, and County Agent Don Reeves have put down 21 herbicide tests on grain sorghum and 25 herbicides and herbicide mixtures on cotton, all of the pre-emergence type. There are 10 participating herbicide tests on guar.

The work is under the direction of Dr. Alan F. Weise of the Southwestern Great Plains Research Station at Bushland, recognized as one of the nation's leading weed control specialists.

Of all the herbicides Scott is using, just a few are cleared for use commercially. These include Treflan, a favorite in this area, Caparol, Karmex, Cetoran, Dachthal, Herba and Planavin.

Others are experimental herbicides and carry only test numbers.

Perhaps this is fortunate. One of the more effective herbicides tested here since 1966, has been named Lasso. But its chemical name is the jaw-breaking N-methoxymethyl-2-chloro-2', 6'-dithylacetanilide. Scott expects Lasso to be cleared for commercial use this year.

"We're testing a number of new pre-emergence cotton herbicides this year," he added. "We're taking a look at some we haven't tried before."

It doesn't take a lot of land to test these powerful herbicides. Plots are from one to four rows wide and about 30 feet long. However, each chemical may be put down from one to six times in various amounts or combinations.

Because cottonseed, grain sorghum and guar all may go directly or indirectly into food for human consumption, herbicides are tested over a period of years. Even then only a small number of those tested ever reach the market.

The Northwest Texas Research herbicide work at Wellington is recognized by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, and its findings are weighed to help determine the approval or rejection of a herbicide.

The tests with guar are perhaps the most extensive in the country. Work done in the past is already incorporated in practices now in general use.

All of the tests are at the Dwane Scott farm.

"You have to watch these closely," he pointed out. Then he revealed a trade secret. A herbicide test must have plenty of weeds, sometimes more than nature provides. So weeds as well as cotton and grain sorghum may have to be planted.

"I don't want to get anybody else's farm infected with weeds he may have trouble getting rid of later," Scott said.

Invention of the row crop tractor in 1925 opened the way to new efficiency in cotton production.

Fire Destroys Grass, Fence Near Memphis

Between a quarter and a half section of grass was destroyed by fire, and nearly three quarters of a mile of fence damaged late Wednesday afternoon, June 11, on land leased by Wayne Cudd in the southwest part of the county.

Wellington firemen were called to help the Memphis department fight the blaze, which Mr. Cudd said started on the Clyde Collins place. It is not known how it started.

The land operated by Mr. Cudd is the Bess Browder ranch.

Also Wednesday evening firemen were called to a grass fire of undetermined origin on a vacant lot just west of Ellison Park. This is the location of an empty house that caught fire 11 times before it finally burned down, Chief Oney said. Another grass fire brought out the department Friday evening, this one on a lot behind the Duncan Laundry at 901 Ennis St., which was closed recently.

The fire department siren hung on this call, and was sounded later in the evening as firemen tested it after repairs.

Mrs. Jack Boyer, Anchorage, Alaska, was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Ollie Wilson, and told of her one year of living in Alaska, where her husband was transferred with an oil company. The short days of sunlight in winter are depressing, she said. Ordinarily her children get home from school after dark, at 3 p.m., unless there was basketball practice for another hour.

In that case, Mrs. Boyer goes for them in the car. The streets are well lighted, but there are moose in the neighborhood, she said.

She dispelled misconceptions of Alaskan cold, when she said they used their cars all winter to get around, as the streets are cleared early each morning in this city of 200,000.

She plans to visit relatives about one month, then the family will return to Anchorage for another year or more.

Mrs. Guy Owens gave the program with two inspirational articles, "A Gift from the Heart" by Norman Vincent Peale, and "From Galilee to Manhattan," by Dr. David Reed. She was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Woodriddle, who gave the devotional, "Two Talents" by Amy Bolding.

Plans were made for a salad supper Thursday, June 26.

Attending were Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Raymond Dyess, Mrs. Bill Reeves, Mrs. Woodriddle, Mrs. Byron Duncan, Mrs. Gorman Owens, Mrs. Guy Owens, Mrs. Barbara Williams, Mrs. Barney Glenn, Mrs. Rita White, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, Mrs. John Forbis, Mrs. Calvin Aaron, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Henry Vaughan and Mrs. Boyer.

Miss Shari Foster and Mrs. Augusta Jones of Amarillo were guests in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Dyess Sunday. They came to see Tony Dyess receive his license to preach.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karnes were their daughters, Mrs. Oliver Bishop and Miss Elaine Karnes of Dallas.

Dinner Honors Bridal Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fires were hosts Friday evening, June 13, at the rehearsal dinner honoring the wedding party of their son, Alan Fires, and Miss Patti Lacy. A number of family members also were included.

The dinner was held in the club room of Bura Handley Community Center. The serving table was decorated with a large horseshoe made from miniature pine cones, denoting the ranching activities of the bridegroom's family. Daisies and honeysuckle were at the base.

Tables where the guests were served were laid in blue and white, and clusters of daisies were used in floral decorations. Lighted white tapers and votive candles completed the decorations.

Those attending were the guests of honor, Miss Lacy and Mr. Fires; also Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Carlisle of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood, Mrs. Lela Maxwell of Quail, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fires, the Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Gaston, Mrs. John Vaughan and Mrs. Roger John and son, Michael of Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, Ken and Randall, Dean Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Farris Wood, Debbie and Channy, Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. Williams and Deann, Miss Linda Williams, Miss Sharon Gaston, Miss Judy Porter, Miss Connie Hughs, Miss Joy Hudspeth of Amarillo, Dan Fires, Dan Ralston of Gruver, Luke Ethridge of Llano, Tony Hurst, Joe Shields of Stinnett, Rusty Shinn of Perryton, Andy Henard, Joe Wood, George Kopp, Johnny Harris, Miss Karen Taylor and Miss Gay Luckie of Brownfield, Miss Roz Brillhart of Perryton, Miss Penny Sanders of Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Estes and the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Fires.

In addition to the many laws and regulations to which we must conform, after July 1, 1969, we will be subject to and must comply with the Federal Consumer Protection Act, better known to banks as Regulation Z, Truth in Lending.

This law applies to all persons who in the ordinary course of business regularly extend, or offer to extend, or arrange, or offer to arrange, for the extension of consumer credit. The purpose of this act is to assure that every customer who has need for credit is given meaningful information with respect to the cost of that credit which, in most cases must be expressed in the dollar amount of finance charge.

All of this means that each and every customer, who from time to time finds it necessary to borrow money, will be given a disclosure statement by us showing the cost of that credit, whether it be interest, property insurance, credit life insurance, attorney fees, abstracting, recording fees, or any other expense which will be added to the original amount of the credit requested.

On some loans, interest will be the only added cost, on some there will be in addition to interest, property insurance, abstracting, attorney fees and recording fees. Property insurance such as on a home or automobile is necessary for the protection of both the borrower and the lender and it is required of us by the State Banking Department. The customer at all times has the privilege of purchasing his own insurance. We do not write this form of insurance. We do write credit life insurance which offers an added protection to the borrower but at no time do we make the purchase of credit life insurance a condition on granting the loan. The purchase of this form of insurance is optional at all times.

The purpose of this act is protection for the consumer, which is all of us. We are glad to comply with this law in so far as the disclosure statement is concerned and we feel that our interest rates are considerable lower than the national average. Any other charges which must be paid by the customer will be only those which are absolutely necessary to make our loans conform to the banking laws of the State of Texas under which we are chartered.

We will as always welcome an opportunity to discuss these and any other items incident to our banking operation with you at any time.

Mrs. Dennis James Marks

Nancy Sanford Weds James Marks in Wichita Falls Church Ceremony

Wedding vows were spoken by Miss Nancy Lynn Sanford and Dennis James Marks in First Christian Church, Wichita Falls, at seven-thirty Saturday evening, June 14, before Dr. William E. Wright, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack William Sanford, 1601 Graham Street, Wellington, who formerly lived at Wichita Falls. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jennings Marks, 4412 Westward A Drive, Wichita Falls.

Sanctuary decorations were a large sunburst arrangement of white gladiolus, stock and Kilian daisies on the baptismal. Spiral candelabras holding crystal votive cups and garlands of emerald foliage and white gladiolus were on either side of the communion table, while smilax and crystal cups were used on the chancel rail.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Peggy Thigpen of Haskell, vocalist, and Brent Stratten of Wichita Falls, organist.

Mr. Sanford gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over peau de soie, with re-embroidered lace appliques scattered with seed pearls. It was designed with an empire waist and A-line skirt, while the long sleeves were pointed over her wrists. A full chapel-length train was attached at the back waist by a flat bow, and enhanced with lace appliques.

Her headpiece of organza petals trimmed with seed pearls held a bouffant shoulder-length tulle veil. She carried a dainty Juliet bouquet of white butterfly roses with garlands on English ivy.

Mrs. Olan Moore of Lubbock was the matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Linda Richardson, Miss Linda Thompson of Fort Worth and Miss Allyson Marks of Wichita Falls.

The attendants wore full-length dresses of soft yellow crepe, designed with empire waists, scoop necklines and long chiffon sleeves. Their headpieces were large daisies that held short yellow tulle veils. They carried white wicker baskets.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilkins announce they are adopting a daughter, Penny Suzanne, who was born June 3. She weighed eight pounds and one ounce.

Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Mitchell are the parents of a son, Carl Denver, born June 11 in St. Joseph's Hospital. He weighed five pounds six ounces.

kets holding orange Marguarite daisies with green velvet streamers.

The bridegroom had his father as best man, and groomsmen were Charles Dixon of Austin, Gary Webb of Wichita Falls, Bob Sanford of Dallas, the brother of the bride, and Mike Randall of Wichita Falls.

Guests were seated by Mike Chadwick and Dean Kirkpatrick of Wichita Falls.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford honored the couple at a reception held in the church parlour.

The bride's table was covered with a pale yellow satin cloth. A silver candelabra held an arrangement of white stock, yellow daisies and yellow tapers, with garlands of smilax.

Members of the house party were Miss Suzi Swayden; Mrs. Don H. Johnson, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. E. L. Sanford, her aunt, all of Wichita Falls; and Miss Peggy Thigpen of Haskell.

Upon returning from their wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the couple will live at 2501 1/2 Polk Street, Wichita Falls.

The bride, a graduate of Wellington High School, is a senior in Midwestern University, where she is a cheerleader, and secretary of the student government. She was freshman, sophomore and senior beauty and a nominee for Outstanding Senior Woman. Her sorority is Gamma Phi Beta.

Also a senior at Midwestern, the bridegroom was graduated from Rider High School, Wichita Falls. He is president and rush chairman of the Inter Fraternity Council, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and the Gamma Phi Beta Sweetheart. He is employed as a teller at Parker Square Bank in Wichita Falls.

Dr. Holcomb Discusses Mental Stresses for B&PW Club Members

Dr. Carter Holcomb was the guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's Club dinner Tuesday evening, June 10, discussing several phases of mental health.

Mrs. H. L. Jenkins and Mrs. Pat McAlister were in charge of the program.

"We need to learn to live with ourselves," Dr. Holcomb told the women. "So many of us are subjected to stress and strain. There is so much competition in the world and it begins in the first grade."

There is too much free time for teen agers, and students need more physical labor, he said as he talked of college rioters and marchers.

Another source of stress that Dr. Holcomb cited is moonlighting, with the wage earner of the family holding several jobs to make ends meet.

There is a place for medicine in one's life, he said, but warned that tranquilizers and liquor do not mix.

In another warning, he told the women to never increase a dose of medicine without a doctor's orders.

Television has killed the art of reading and talking, and home life becomes disjointed when there are so many meetings and activities outside. Ninety percent of the family troubles come from lack of communication, he estimated.

"A meeting of minds in families is much better than a meeting of tempers." In closing he recommended to the B&PW members more church attendance and more wholesome family activities performed together as a relaxer for tensed nerves.

During the business session, Mrs. R. H. Isbell and Mrs. Ernest Harwell reported on the State B&PW convention in Galveston. Next year's convention will be in Amarillo, they said.

Those attending were Mrs. David Peters, Mrs. Bud Higginbotham, Mrs. Charles Darter, Mrs. Jack Lowry, Mrs. Annie Hill, Mrs. Bob Langford, Mrs. Truman Estes, Mrs. Drury Lacy.

Mrs. Raymond Patton, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Dudley Phipps, Mrs. Amos McQuary, Mrs. Harwell, Mrs. V. K. Orr, Jr., Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mrs. Rob Isbell, Mrs. Otis Emmert, Mrs. Clifford Christian, Mrs. Rufus Sweat.

Miss Rose Shadid, Mrs. Jo Anne Flint, Dr. Holcomb, Terry Ann Shadid of Memphis, Mrs. J. L. Brown of Mineral Wells, and Mrs. Dora Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. McKinney and children and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pendergraft visited in Hollis Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Pendergraft's son, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Pendergraft, Doris, Raymond, Jerry, Jimmy and Marvin. Raymond left Tuesday for Oakland, Calif., where he will leave June 27 for Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Knight and small son, Jay Darrell, of Chillicothe were here for Fathers Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Lowrie of Dodson.

For Fun, Credit

Homemaking Studies Continue in Summer

By Mrs. P. M. Scott
Homemaking Instructor

Summer homemaking activities in Wellington High School have attracted a large number of participants, despite conflicting schedules with drivers education and vacation Bible school, vacations and unfavorable weather.

Thirty-one students are currently enrolled in some phase of this program. Twenty-four girls are enrolled in courses for fun and to extend their learning in special areas of interest.

During the week of June 2 through 6, three students participated in a summer foods workshop. Fifteen students signed up for this course, but a conflict with driver education prevented their carrying out these plans. Dora Cantu, Kathryn Scott and Judy Jones planned meals for four days, shopped for food and prepared the meals. One of their major problems of the week was adjusting their plans to include seven unexpected luncheon guests in one day.

A clothing workshop was held June 9 through 13. Enrolling in this course were Dora Cantu, Glenda Chandler, Beth Peters, Judy Jones, Karen Maxwell, Linda Williams, Cozette Seitz, Vickie McAdams, Ann Smith, Jennifer Bouchelle, Leigh Nall and Kathryn Scott.

The girls studied selection of fabrics and findings compatible with pattern design. Then they made a variety of summer play and dress clothes.

Doris Simpson and Lea Anne Bohannon are presently enrolled in a clothing workshop.

The week of June 16 to 20 will be spent in cleaning the department and rearranging equipment in the clothing laboratory to make room for five new sewing machines.

Next week, June 23 through 27, workshops on accessories for the home and refinishing furniture will be featured. Several students are signed up for these workshops.

Six students are enrolled in the summer Homemaking program for credit. By doing the equivalent of one semester's work during the month of June they may earn one-half credit. Part of this work includes supervised home experiences and part must be done in group or individual work in the homemaking department. Prerequisite to the earning of the first half credit is the completion of Homemaking I.

A second half credit may be sought by students who have completed two years of homemaking. Students enrolled for one-half credit are Judy Jones, Dora Cantu, Kathryn Scott, Jan Henard, Doris Simpson and Lea Anne Bohannon.

Future Homemakers also share in the summer program. An executive council meeting was held Thursday, June 5, to make plans for summer activities and to begin planning FHA activities for 1969-70. A special to look forward to is Tuesday, June 24, when all Future Homemakers and incoming freshmen girls are invited to a swimming party and picnic to be held at Marian Airpark Pool. The executive council of FHA will meet again during the last week of August to make final plans for the new school year.

Degree workshops for Future Homemakers have been held for students interested in this phase of FHA work. A half-day clinic on Junior Degrees was held near the end of May. Attending were Beth Peters, Marcia King, Rose Mary Popwell, Jennifer Bouchelle, Judy Jones and Kathryn Scott.

These students will soon complete requirements for the Junior Degree.

Kathy King attended a workshop on State Degrees in Shamrock June 11. She expects to complete requirements for this degree by next February.

Young Homemakers continue their activities throughout the summer. Paul Guthrie presented a program on "Selecting Home Furnishings" to this group June 3.

The Young Homemakers annual family picnic is scheduled for July 1. A group will attend the Young Homemakers College in Amarillo July 17. Installation of officers and the beginning of a new year is scheduled for Aug. 5.

Summer Homemaking ends with a luncheon for students enrolled for credit Monday, June 30. At this time evaluation of experiences will be completed and all reports turned in.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Williams had as their guests over the week end their daughters and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Carlisle, Mrs. Oleta Bennett and Bill of Wichita, and John Williams of Dallas. They were all here for the Patti Lacy and Alan Fires wedding. Mr. Williams' son, Johnny Williams, returned Saturday from a year in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Rogers of Freeport visited for two weeks with her mother, Mrs. F. F. Popwell, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Popwell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Handley and children, Mark and Cindy, are visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Felix Handley, this week. Mr. Handley is counselor in the Burgess High School in El Paso where he and his family live.

Cindy Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Roberts, is visiting this week with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Marchant of Big Spring.

Greenbugs

Most farmers are well aware of the damage the greenbug did to the grain sorghum crop in 1968. This was a new thing that caught the entire grain sorghum industry off guard.

Extensive research and study has gone into this problem since last season in order to prevent the same damage to this year's grain sorghum crop.

Extent of greenbug damage in grain or forage sorghum depends on greenbug numbers, plant size and stage of growth, plant vigor, moisture conditions and the presence or absence of parasites. Producers should closely observe plant conditions, development of greenbug numbers and damage done by the insect.

Damage from the seedling stage to early boot may result in stand loss and plant death.

Plants from emergence to about six inches high should be treated if damage is visible on the lower leaf surface.

Based on one year's experience and research grain sorghum from the pre-boot stage on should be controlled for greenbugs when they cause death to more than the two lower normal sized leaves.

In the past, the growth stage from approximately six inches to pre-boot has been the time most producers have had to make the decision whether to spray or not to spray.

The general recommendation is to spray before any entire leaf is killed from greenbug damage during this stage of growth.

The control recommendations for greenbugs include Trithion, Systox, Diazin, Malathion, and Parathion. Do not substitute methyl parathion for parathion as methyl parathion can do heavy damage to the sorghum plant.

Cattle Grubs

Cattle grubs cost the Texas livestock industry several million dollars each year. Losses to this pest are an important problem in Collingsworth County as the majority of our cattle end up in a feedlot and this is where grub damage is so evident.

Losses occur at all levels in the production and marketing chain. The cow-calf producer is concerned about the reduced milk production by mother cows and resulting reduced weaning weights of calves. The feeder suffers profit losses as a result of reduced gains and a lowered market price for grubby animals.

The packer who buys and slaughters grubby animals realizes hide losses, carcass trim, increased handling costs and lowered carcass value. Consequently, cattle grub control deserves the attention of the entire beef cattle industry.

Cattle grubs can be effectively controlled through the proper use of systemic insecticides. Depending upon the operation, systemics can be administered as dips, sprays, backling pour-ons, mineral mixers or feed additives. Cost of these treatments vary with the method and chemical selected, but generally, ranges less than 50¢ per animal in most instances.

Before purchasing and applying livestock insecticides, read the label and pay particular attention to precautions and restrictions listed. Observe strictly the slaughter intervals as clearly stated on the label, as well as other precautions.

Medal for Heroism Given Jimmy Lester

Mr. and Mrs. Pate Lester of Amarillo, formerly of Quail, have learned of the posthumous award of the Army Commendation Medal for heroism in Vietnam to their son, Sgt. Jimmy Don Lester.

The 21-year-old soldier, who attended Quail grade school, was killed April 15 near the Cambodian border. He entered the service in January 1968 and had been in Vietnam since July 1968.

Lester was promoted to sergeant after his death.

The medal with "V" device was awarded as the result of his actions while serving with Company A, 2d Battalion, 27th Infantry.

An Army spokesman said, "While in their night defensive position at Fire Support Base Diamond, Company A came under a heavy barrage of enemy fire.

"When the ammunition became scarce, Sgt. Lester volunteered to brave the intense enemy fire in order to resupply his section of the perimeter.

"With complete disregard for his own safety, he moved through the heavy barrage and carried the vital ordnance to the bunkers. His valorous actions enabled the bunkers on his section to continue their constant flow of fire in order to prevent the enemy from overrunning the base.

"His personal bravery, aggressiveness, and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division and the United States Army."

Lester had been twice wounded in Vietnam prior to his death.

The young soldier was the grandson of John Calcutte of Wellington.

Personal

Miss Sharon Gaston was in Fort Worth for two weeks visiting relatives and while there she attended Casa Manana to see "Music Man", and the Wing and Masque Theatre, which presented "The Impossible Years". Miss Gaston also visited Six Flags.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Vaughan were their son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vaughan, Johnny, Billy, and Angela of Wichita. Johnny and Billy will be staying for a two-week visit.

Students Hear Safety Officer

Two films showing realistically the cost in human life from traffic accidents were shown members of the Wellington Driver Education Class Thursday, June 12, by Patrolman Chester Fant, district safety officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The first, "Broken Glass," was made during a University of California experiment in which cars with test equipment and mannequins replacing humans were crashed head-on at varying speeds.

"Death on the Highway," made by the highway department in Illinois, at accidents before the victims were removed, showed the students what can happen to a human during an accident.

Mr. Fant told the boys and girls that more Americans have died in highway accidents since 1900 than have died in all U.S. wars since 1775. Those who died in war number 1,161,007, but those who have been killed in highway accidents totaled 1,721,754 through 1968.

Cattle Feeding Publicity Points Up Key Location of Area

The Panhandle is receiving deserved national publicity as the cattle feeding center of the United States, a status it attained so fast it is hard to believe.

Collingsworth is in a good position to cash in on both this favorable publicity and the upswing in the feeder business.

From the standpoint of weather and geography, the southwest Panhandle is in a much better position for feedlot operation than is most of the Panhandle. It is closer to major metropolitan centers by from one hundred to two hundred miles. And grain sorghum, the backbone of southwestern cattle feeding, is a major crop.

The groundwork for feedlot operation has been laid by Sagebrush Feedlots and other private feedlots. With the number of feeder cattle now levelled off, and the trend toward marketing at a lighter weight, the industry appears to be steady for a long time to come.

Cattle feeding can well be one of the things to make this county boom.

Spoon-Feeding the Public

The tremendous brilliance of mind on the part of some TV commentators continues to amaze us! For example, immediately following President Nixon's policy speech on Vietnam and foreign affairs the other night, the networks rushed on with various staff people who had, in a brief few minutes, completely analyzed the President's speech down to the minutest detail, a feat which we must characterize as being common only to a breed of supermen!

And yet, this is not new. President Johnson was frequently favored with the same treatment from these men who feel duty bound to "tell the people" what the President had just told them. But, of course, it does not always appear to be the same version. In fact we have seen "interpretations" so far removed from our own to render them almost unrecognizable.

What the end result of this type of reporting is, we have already seen, and much of it is not good. And it is reporting, although at times, it gives the listener the feeling that the script had been prepared well in advance.

The news media, on the one hand, has appeared to be going along with the idea that North Vietnam's 10-point program for settlement of the war bears more study before it can be determined whether or not it contains "anything new." Would it be asking too much to allow the same courteous treatment to be applied to a policy statement presented by the President of the United States?

The Other Side of the Coin

AUSTIN.—Gov. Preston Smith plans to answer the state's big money question Friday, June 20.

He is expected to announce on a statewide television hook-up whether he will veto the Legislature's one-year budget bill and if so, when the special session to mop-up the unfinished finance job will be scheduled.

At noon the following day, the Governor will present further views on the subject when he addresses the 90th Annual Summer Convention of the Texas Press Association at Saturday's luncheon at the Inn of Six Flags in Arlington.

He can, of course, veto the entire one-year bill and call legislators back to work promptly on a two-year budget. Many expect him to do just that.

Bills Challenged

Gov. Smith left up in the air the fate of 41 bills and 13 concurrent resolutions passed at the last minute by the recent legislature. He challenged their validity on two counts.

Smith said the measures — one of which created 28 new district courts — were not signed in the presence of the House and the Senate by the lieutenant governor and the speaker as required by the constitution. He contended that they were signed after the Legislature already had gone home. In addition, they reached him seven days later than they should.

A thorough study will be made of their legal status before he acts, pledged Smith. Legislative leaders contend that a logjam of bills caused processing delays that are commonplace at the end of sessions. They say that other governors have not complained.

Education

Twenty-three college and university educators from around the state have sent Gov. Smith a letter asking that he not veto the bill that will increase the cost of education to students by $10 a semester. They are the presidents and chancellors of the various state supported schools. They point out that vetoing the bill will cost the state $4 million a year.

Bond Campaign Mapped

Committees to ramrod a campaign for a $3.5 billion water development bond issue have been formed under the direction of Gov. Smith and former governors Allan Shivers, Price Daniel and John Connally.

Smith called for a statewide education campaign, warning that the state "stands on the brink of water deficiency" unless an imaginative, positive program is carried out.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where the business of Demanding is picking up. But Demander James Forman who demanded $500 Million from the churches must feel like a piker now that COREman Roy Innis has demanded $6 Billion from the banks.

Of course, Mr. Innis' plans for making the banks wish they had if they don't come across may be 12 times as direful. Or he may figure that bankers are 12 times as chicken as preachers.

But my neutral neighbor says his experience with both clerical and financing types leads him to expect Mr. Forman will come out best. Neither he nor Mr. Innis will get what they have demanded, and Forman will feel only 1/12th as deprived.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER

Mrs. Dennis Ray Caillet

Former Wellington Girl Weds in Church Ceremony at Farmers Branch

Farmers Branch Church of Christ was the setting for the wedding of Miss Linda Ann Bonneau and Dennis Ray Caillet on Saturday, June 14, at eight in the evening. Minister Roy Williams performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bonneau, 2413 Lakeland Drive, Carrollton, formerly of Wellington, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Caillet, 1710 Primrose, Dallas. The bride is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Bura Handley of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Van Bonneau of Dodson.

Baskets of white daisies and star chrysanthemums decorated the altar. Three candelabras held lighted tapers. Wedding music was presented by a quartet that included Edwin Bonneau, Ted Polk, Dan Futch and Fred Futch.

Mr. Bonneau gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over peau de soie, designed with a fitted bodice accented with seed pearls. Tiers of lace formed the skirt that swept to full chapel length at back. Her shoulder veil of illusion fell from a rose petal pearl crown, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Miss Cathy Webb of Carrollton was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Susan Webb and Miss Kim Caillet of Dallas, Miss Barbara Epley and Miss Vicki Bratz of Carrollton. They wore formal gowns of blue peau de soie designed in empire style and carried cascade bouquets of garden flowers and daisies.

Candles were lighted by Miss Janet Brock of Portales, N.M., Debra Bratz, Rene Bonneau, and Pete Brock Bonneau. Jill Michelle Brock of Amarillo was the flower girl, Ronnie Bonneau the ring bearer, and Jeff Martin the train bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonneau were hosts at a reception after the ceremony in the church annex. A white cutwork cloth covered the bride's table, and the centerpiece was a silver candelabrum. Members of the house party were Miss Myra Setleff of Plainview, Miss Brenda Smith of Farmers Branch, Miss Debbie Proctor of Carrollton, Miss Kay Crouch of Dallas, and Miss Cindy Hunt of Carrollton.

After a wedding trip to Corpus Christi and Galveston, the couple will live at 11902 Chapel Forest, Dallas.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Turner High School, Carrollton. She was a band honor student and member of the National Honor Society. She is now employed at Park Forest Dental Laboratory. Mr. Caillet is a junior business management major at North Texas State University, Denton, and is employed at Montgomery Ward, Dallas.

Parties Honor Bride-to-Be

Parties here and in Wichita Falls have been given for Miss Nancy Sanford, whose marriage to Dennis James Marks of that city took place Sunday, June 15.

A personal shower was given in the home of Mrs. M. C. Cleveland recently. Other hostesses were Mrs. James Richardson, Miss Linda Richardson, Mrs. C. W. Rousser of Kress, Mrs. Mike Hughes of Plainview, and Mrs. Buster Hughes.

Yellow carnations formed the centerpiece for the table, which was laid with an ecru lace cloth. Crystal appointments were used.

The guest list included Mrs. Elmer Keller, Mrs. Olan Moore of Lubbock, Mrs. Billy Wilkerson, Mrs. Bruce Ward, Mrs. Gene Sweat of Charleston, S.C., and Miss Mary Helen Langford.

A bridal shower in Wichita Falls was given in the home of Mrs. L. O. Brown, Jr., with Mrs. Henry J. Rizan, Jr., and Mrs. Harry Prine, Jr., as co-hostesses.

The table was appointed in silver and crystal and the centerpiece was a wicker basket, overflowing with daisies. Guests were served by Mrs. Artie Wood and Miss Mary Brown. The hostess gift was a silver water pitcher.

Guests called between two and three-thirty o'clock.

A kitchen shower, also in Wichita Falls, was given by Mrs. Charles Salter with Mrs. William Forbes as co-hostess.

The centerpiece of white carnations and yellow daisies was used on a white cloth. Punch was served from a milk glass bowl on a gold pedestal.

The hostesses presented Miss Sanford with a silver serving tray.

Loyalty Class Has Luncheon

The Loyalty Sunday School Class of First United Methodist Church was entertained Tuesday, June 10 in the home of Mrs. Henry Vaughan with a luncheon and forty-two party.

Members and prospective members attended.

Those present were Mrs. Byron Duncan, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. Bob Sessions, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. Chester Fires, Mrs. Barbara Williamson, Mrs. Nita White, Mrs. R. R. Crawley, Mrs. Mayme Denley, Mrs. Johnny French, Mrs. Roy Horn, Mrs. Raymond Dyess, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Miss Maudie Coffee, and Mrs. Vaughan.

Former WHS Coach Dies

A former Wellington high school coach, Robert L. "Bobby" Williams, 41, died Monday June 2 at his home in Tehachapi, Calif.

The well-known former Panhandle area high school athletic coach who grew up in Sanford was stricken at home and died on arrival at a hospital.

Mr. Williams was here in the late 1940's, and this was his first coaching assignment.

He was born in Oklahoma and moved to Sanford with his parents in 1936. He graduated from Phillips High School, where he was a star athlete.

Williams earned five letters at Texas Tech in football. He spent three years in the Coast Guard in World War II.

After leaving here he coached at Phillips as an assistant to the late H. C. (Chesty) Walker and after that he was head football coach at Hereford almost four years before he became superintendent at Plemmons. He coached at Phillips again just prior to moving to California. Only recently he accepted a position with the Los Angeles Public Schools athletic department.

Williams was one of five brothers who played football at Phillips under Chesty Walker. Funeral services and burial were at Amarillo.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Barbara Williams; three daughters, Debbie, Deanna and Danna Lou of Tehachapi; his father, Earl L. Williams of Panhandle; and four brothers: Clinton Williams of Panhandle; Jimmy Williams of Borger; P. D. Williams, with the U.S. Navy in Washington; and Don Williams of Odessa.

Newspapers Lauded for Support of "Breath Test" Legislation

AUSTIN.—Texas newspapers were lauded recently by an official of the Texas Safety Association for their support of the recently passed "breath test" legislation designed to help remove drunk drivers from the streets and highways of the Lone Star state.

"The newspapers of Texas are to be commended for their all-out efforts to awaken the public to the drunk driver problem in our state," Robert F. Miller, Dallas, vice president for traffic safety, Texas Safety Association, said and added: "Without the public support generated by the news media, passage of this greatly-needed legislation would have been extremely difficult if not impossible."

He pointed out that drunk driver legislation had a history of being an unpopular issue in the state and that several previous attempts to enact similar legislation had failed.

"In spite of this unfavorable climate, the editors and publishers of Texas rallied to the cause and gave their full support to the effort," Miller continued. "Their basic presentation of the facts to the public was objective and fair and their editorial support outstanding. They came to the rescue during several crucial test periods of the legislation by keeping the public informed on its progress."

"Texans should be proud of the part that our newspapers have played in promoting this legislation. We are indebted to them for the savings of many lives each year."

The Safety Association official, who was in Austin for the signing of the "breath test" bill, also commended the Governor and Texas legislators for their response to "the needs of the driving public."

Texas' new "breath test" legislation was a part of Governor Smith's official program and provides for testing of traffic violators who are suspected of driving while intoxicated on the state's streets and highways.

The Texas Safety Association which endorsed the "breath test" legislation, estimates that as many as 500 lives a year may be saved by removal of drunk drivers from the public roads of Texas.

"What You Can Do" brought suggestions to those attending the afternoon session. BANK TELLER TALES

According to bank tellers, some customers request old bills when being served. They complain that new bills stick together. Thus there is a danger of mistakenly paying out two bills.

Other customers want new bills exclusively. Their complaint is that old bills are germ carriers.

There are five points which tellers keep in mind when cashing checks. First, is the signature forged? Second, has the check been altered in any way? Third, is the amount clear as expressed in numerals and words?

Fourth, has the name of the payee been changed? Five, are you sure of the signature? Is it that of the one whose name appears on the signature card?

Although a check is made payable to "bearer", most tellers require an endorsement.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Everybody dreams of being his own boss. At least all young people did when there were fewer laws, rules and taxes. Even so there is magic in thinking of owning your own business, the obvious headaches and the long hours notwithstanding. And it can be done by anyone of character who has some cash to invest and it can be profitable if you select the right location where there are enough people and enough demand. It lies in securing one of the many hundreds of franchises specializing in services—many of them food and drive ins.

This week I was fascinated by page after page of display advertisements in The National Observer. The first ad that caught my eye was one from Dizzy Dean which offered a franchise to sell Big Beef hamburgers and hotdogs, luscious Roast Beef and Corned Beef sandwiches with supervision the year round and the cost of the franchise was only $28,500.

Another glamorous offering was Arthur Treachers Fish & Chips which provides full training for you and your managers, national advertising and financing of equipment. This requires only $10,000 initially with a reserve of $10,000. I suppose this latter is in case you do not work hard enough.

I feel favorably inclined toward the ads of Dizzy Dean—one of my favorite baseball pitchers and TV commentators. The same warm feeling of admiration continues of Arthur Treacher, the actor of British roles. If I were in the recommending business instead of the warning business, these are two franchises I would recommend.

On the other hand there is a bait offered by Rowan and Martin labeled the "Laugh-In". If their type of humor interests you, then the franchise may also, provided some of your mental wheels need a little lubrication. The cost of the Rowan & Martin package is $34,000.

You do not need to confine yourself to serving food if you desire a franchise. There is Speedy Copying, $29,500; Big Brake, a brake repair service, $22,500; or Car Wash, $10,000 with $10,000 in reserve. On some of these the franchise people will provide the money themselves; you still owe for it.

Many of these are desirable opportunities for energetic young people who have saved a certain amount of cash. In other words the financing is arranged by the company provided the franchise seeker can provide the right references of character, thrift and industry. For some of these determined young people this may be a splendid opportunity in spite of government regulations, filling out forms, paying innumerable taxes and listening to countless complaints of both employees and customers.

Some of these youthful hard working people are doing splendidly under the franchise system provided they selected wisely. On the other hand some middle aged or older people have lost their life savings. Like any other investment it is something to be considered carefully.

L. B. Bratten says the headline on the story about postal rates has caused confusion. The story said it was proposed to raise the rates July 1. Congress has not done this and now there is not time for a letter to make such a change. A letter can still be mailed for 6¢ after July 1 and perhaps for some time after that.

June temperatures have been below normal for the past three years with this one being the coldest of any of the three. The nights have not been much different from 1968. The big difference has been in the daytime temperatures. On June 15, Fathers Day, the temperature was still 60 degrees at noon.

You know what the daytime temperatures have been for the past week. Take a look at what they were during the first 11 days of last year:

	High	Low
June 1	68	60
June 2	79	54
June 3	82	57
June 4	82	59
June 5	85	61
June 6	84	65
June 7	92	70

Oney Warns of Grass Fire Danger

Although rain Friday, June 13, dampened grass for the present, Fire Chief J. B. Oney has warned that this is to be considered the dry season and a time to be especially careful of grass fires.

The grass and weeds that grew so lushly during the spring when once ignited, could spread rapidly and with destruction, he pointed out.

"This will rye that we have all over town burns like kerosene," he declared.

Mr. Oney warned especially of aerosol cans burned with trash, which upon exploding can scatter fire over a wide area.

"There is a safe way to handle them," he said. "Turn them upside down and press the button until all the spray is out, then open them on the bottom with a beer can opener. They are then perfectly safe to burn."

Most Wellington residents have barrels in which to burn trash, but few of these barrels have a screen or lid to keep burning bits of trash from blowing out and igniting dry grass in alley, the fire chief warned.

Riding Club Members Win

Wellington 4-H Riding Club members brought home more laurels as they competed in the Guthrie 4-H Horse Show Saturday, June 14.

Pam Patterson placed first in the barrel race and showed two registered mares in the halter class.

Susie Lowe came second in the barrel race and won second on her mare exhibited in the grade division of the halter class.

A mare exhibited by Bart Patterson in the grade division won first at halter, and the youth also placed fifth in western pleasure riding and sixth in reining.

Susie and Bart were picked for showmanship at the end of the scheduled contests.

Several members of the 4-H Horse Club will compete in the Cottle County Horse Show Saturday, June 28.

County Man Enters Service

One Collingsworth County man, Bobby L. Sherwood of Wellington, was among the registrants forwarded to the armed forces entrance and examination station on June 5 for induction into the Armed services.

The 10 men came from the five counties served by Texas Local Board No. 20, Childress, Cottle, Hall, Collingsworth and Briscoe.
