Austin. — Texas Democratic party politics are in the national spotlight again — this time at Chicago during the national Demo convention.

Hearings were scheduled Wednesday (Aug. 21) before the convention credentials committee on a liberal group's demand that the Texas delegation led by Gov. John Connally be reconstituted to insure proportional representation of ethnic groups.

Texas Democrats for An Open Convention also asked for scrapping of the unit rule under which all the states delegates are bound to vote as the majority determines. Delegates were instructed at the state convention in Dallas June 11 to vote for Connally as favorite son candidate for president until he releases them. After release, all 104 votes under unit rule probably will go to Hubert Humphrey.

TDOC, in a brief filed with the credentials committee, demands 50 seats — 48 per cent of the delegation. Proportional representation is asked for Negroes, Mexican-Americans and non-conservative loyal Democrats who have always supported the party. Delegation now includes six Negro delegates and 11 alternatives and five Mexican-American delegates and five alternates, but TDOC claims they are "unrepresentative of their communities."

Most active TDOC members are supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president. McCarthy backers also have filed challenges in Alabama, Connecticut, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Georgia and Washington.

Decision of the committee will not be known until next week, and challenges likely will go to the convention floor. Connally forces maintain the Texas delegation is representative and was selected at a fair state convention which they controlled, 2,835 to 499.

TEXAS REPUBLICAN PARTY POLITICS — Despite the fact that only two Republican presidential nominees have ever carried Texas, Richard Nixon's chances appear to be as high as 50-50 — depending largely on whom the Democrats nominate.

First successful Republican in Texas was Herbert Hoover in 1928, carrying the state by 367,000 votes to 341,000. Dwight Eisenhower was the only other GOPer to win a majority of Texans, in 1952 and 1956.

However, there are several factors which could shake up Texas' habit of going with the Democrat. One is the fact that, in 1960, Nixon missed carrying the state by a slim 46,000 votes — and with Lyndon Johnson the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

And since Hubert Humphrey — almost certain to be the Democratic nominee — is known as being even more liberal than John R. Kennedy and Johnson, Texas' traditionally conservative — to — moderate voters could easily find Nixon more attractive.

This should be especially true since Nixon picked Maryland Gov. Spiro Agnew for the No. 2 spot on his ticket, and the two appear to be running a "law and order campaign" to offset the influence of American Party Candidate George Wallace.

Also of course, Nixon will have the challenger's advantage of being able to attack the incumbent administration on touchy issues — in this case, the war in Vietnam, the monetary crisis and the racial situation in big cities.

On the other hand, Humphrey will have several plusses in his column when Texans go to vote in November. One could be his vice-presidential pick, who many people think Governor Connally has a good shot at.

Another will be Wallace's candidacy. As an extreme right-winger, Wallace will probably draw considerably more votes away from Nixon than from Humphrey, and some estimates of Wallace's vote are as high as 50 per cent in West and East Texas and 30 per cent in Central Texas.

ATTORNEY GEN. RULES — Senate's failure during special session to confirm appointment of J. C. Looney, Edinburg, to the Public Safety Commission did not invalidate his appointment, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. Martin said Looney remains a member of the body, since the Senate didn't act one way or another on the governor's selection.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: • Rio Grande City Independent School District can issue tax bonds to finance part, but not all, of a new assembly hall - library - classroom - clinic complex with federal Economic Development Administration aid.

• Property owners can't cut the fence of another to gain access to an alleged county road unused for 20 years, except where egress and ingress have been denied to one living in enclosure of fencing. Public roads remain as such although unused, unless rights of public are cut off by county commissioners court, adverse possession by land owner or common law abandonment.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT — Railroad Commission again cut oil allowable, to 41.3 per cent of potential for September.

Factor will permit maximum production of 3,213,193 barrels daily, compared with 3,414,999 in August under 44.8 per cent allowable. Eight of 14 major purchasers of Texas crude requested less oil next month than in August. Four asked no change. Two requested increase.

VOCATIONAL ED COMMITTEE MEETS — A Senate vocational - technical education study committee heard testimony that industry needs workers who are skilled with tools but who also have sound academic education.

Committee is formulating its recommendations to the next legislature. Meanwhile, Texas Research League has advised that vocational rehabilitation service and management remain in Texas Education Agency framework rather than a separate agency.

OBSCENITY LAW STANDS — U. S. District Judge Adrian A. Spears has held valid the Texas anti-obscenity law, which uses the "contemporary community standards" of "the average person."

Spears upheld the Constitutionality of the law. He said he felt there was no federal question involved, so he dismissed the suit attacking the law.

Attorney Gen. Martin, whose office defended in the San Antonio suit, said he will ask the next Legislature to strengthen the law, removing exceptions for foreign films and films in interstate commerce. He also wants authority to get injunctions to stop the showing of films which might be offensive.

Attend Farewell Party for Giegers

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jones and Mrs. B. L. Gieger were in Fort Worth Thursday and Friday visiting Mrs. Gieger's son and family, the L. L. Giegers, the Charlie Nichols and James Kelsoe families.

While there they attended a farewell party given for the L. L. Giegers in the Gause-Ware Banquet Hall. They will be moving to Dallas Sept. 1, where Mr. Gieger will be preaching for the North Dallas Church of Christ after that date.

The highlight of the occasion was a trip to the Holy Land for the Giegers, made possible by the church and friends where he had preached before going to West Berry Church of Christ some ten years ago. The trip will be made with a group made up by Ruel Lemmons of Austin. The cash around $2,200. A check for $3,176 was presented to them.

A good time was had by all, with a lot of kind things said by different speakers. About 300 attended.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Harris and daughter of Colleyville, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Harris and baby of Mesquite, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harris.

Students who do not pre-register may enroll on the one date set aside for this purpose, Friday, September 6, from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Evening school registration has been set for Friday, September 6, 7:00 p. m.
