Moody Follows Fast In Steps Of Texas' Immortals When He Faces Ferguson's Defy With Unfaltering "I Will"

BY HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD.
Record News Staff.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 27.—Hats off to Dan Moody, red-headed and red-blooded, chivalrous and high-minded, who ran true to form when the Ferguson challenge was thrown into his teeth.

He squared his shoulders, bowed his neck, stood erect, showed his teeth, flashed fire from his eyes and let the Texas world know that he has faith in himself, the cause for which he is battling, the ideas of democracy, and met the issue face to face.

He would have been yellow if he had done otherwise. He would have been a coward if he had evaded. He would have been a hypocrit if he had stammered. He would have been made the butt of ridicule if he had retreated or run up the white feather.

There are times in the life of man "when he who dallies is a dastard; he who doubts is damned." Now the lines are drawn. The people, the sovereign voters of Texas who call themselves democrats should be able to find themselves.

They should be able to enroll under the banner of the candidate whom they think is the best man to place in the high office of governor and whose standard reflects the glory of that Texas that was and the Texas to come.

This is no time for sniveling or snivellers. This is no time for side stepping or side steppers. If the people, the democratic men and women of Texas wish to give the Fergusons their fourth term in the office of governor, it is their privilege.

If they wish to dismiss the Fergusons from the office of governor and oust them from power under the blue skies of Texas, they have a glorious opportunity to do it in the coming month of July, less than 60 days away.

Mark you, it will be the fourth term that Farmer Jim will be given if the Fergusons are given the nomination this year. There are hair splitters in politics. When a crisis comes, they make a red-blooded man weep.

They fiddle around, they pick flaws wherever they think a flaw may be picked, they squirm and they squall and they act like a chicken on a hot griddle would act if a camera could take the motions of the feet of the chicken.

Moody ran true to form. And get this, Moody always runs true to form. He never dodges or evades. He never crawls on his belly like a snake. He always walks on his feet with his face to the foe.

This is his record, boy and man, and if the writer is any judge of character and manhood, it will be his record until his Maker calls him to that land beyond the river where gallant souls walk together and talk together as gallant souls flock together in this veil of tears.

This is not a political article. It is not a partisan article. It is a straight from the shoulder endorsement of Dan Moody for his acceptance of the Ferguson challenge in the Alamo City where red-blooded men made Texas immortal by facing thousands of soldiers of Spain and Mexico led by the warriors and military

MEXICANS HOLD FIVE AMERICANS AS PRISONERS

United States Embassy Is Informed of Two More Kidnapings

DETAILS LACKING

Bandits Seize Yank Workmen, Burn Bridges And Escape

MEXICO CITY, May 27.—(AP) The United States embassy has been informed that two more Americans have been kidnaped by bandits, bringing the number spirited away recently up to five. The most recent victims were two oil drillers in the Tampico district, Briggs and Greeley.

The embassy has been informed that the bandits threatened the men with death or punishment unless a ransome was paid.

Information coming to the embassy says that the bandits in the El Potrero district have threatened to kill J. W. Shanklin, an American employe of a sugar plantation, who was kidnaped Tuesday, unless a ransom of 20,000 pesos is paid by tonight. Friends offered to pay 5,000 pesos, but this was refused.

The embassy has made representations to the Mexican foreign office and has urged that every effort be made to save Shanklin's life.

Of the five Americans who are reported the captives of bandits in various parts of Mexico, C. C. Barden, a mine owner, coming from Laredo, Texas, is reported to have been tortured. No word has been heard of him today.

Caught in Durango

Braden was captured in Durango on May 18, the same time an American mining engineer named Gallagher was made prisoner.

Details of Shanklin's kidnaping, received by the embassy say that he was taken prisoner by three armed bandits Tuesday morning while riding near the El Potrero sugar plantation in the state of Vera Cruz. The three bandits delivered him to another band of nine men who carried him off.

Briggs and Greely, whose capture was reported today, were employed by a British company. The bandits attacked their oil camp on Wednesday, burned several bridges leading to the place and retreated with federal troops in pursuit.

The bandits who captured Shanklin later sent a letter to Superintendent McLane of the El Potrero Sugar plantation saying that Shanklin was safe but that 20,000 pesos were necessary as a ransom. McLane sent a messenger offering 3,000 pesos. When this was refused, McLane raised the amount to 5,000 but the bandits again refused to accept it.

'FREEZING OUT' STATION AGENT COSTS HIM LIFE

Servant, Whose Employe Admits Plot, Is Found Guilty by Jury

GIVEN DEATH PENALTY

Counsel for Defense Insists Evidence Is Circumstantial

LA GRANGE, Texas, May 27.—(AP)—Death in the electric chair was the penalty assessed here tonight against Pete Banks, negro, by the jury trying him for murder of C. P. Jones, railway station agent, whose widow, Mrs. Ella Jones, admitted an agreement with the negro to "freeze out" her husband.

Mrs. Jones, who insisted on the witness stand she did not know Banks "meant to kill" Jones, is to be brought to trial Friday morning. Her part in the case is concerned with an alleged offer of $150 to Banks to "freeze out" Jones, at the negro's suggestion.

The jury retired late today to deliberate, after violent and dramatic summations by opposing counsel.

Most of the evidence has been circumstantial.

District Attorney Blumdell, closing for the state, vehemently demanded the death penalty for Banks, whom he charged with "familiar conduct." He referred to circumstances surrounding the negro's alleged offer to accept $150 from Mrs. Jones to "freeze out" the subsequent victim.

H. O. Jones, Carlyle, Ill., brother of the slain man, who was shot to death through the door of his home, opened the state's argument and spoke dispassionately, making no reference to the death penalty.

"All I want to see," Jones said, "is justice done. I'm convinced from the evidence that Banks is guilty. Whatever you do will be satisfactory to me," he told the jury.

The negros' counsel centered its argument on the fact that the most important evidence was circumstantial.

Heir To Throne Of Sweden And His Royal Bride Desire To Learn How To Do The Charleston Dance

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—The hearts of New Yorkers were captured without a struggle today in a friendly foreign invasion.

The "invaders" were the Crown Prince, Gustavus Adolphus "and Crown Princess Louise of Sweden. They arrived to pay honor to Captain John Ericson, inventor of armor plate and native of Switzerland.

The royal couple stepped on American soil for the first time at 11:30. At 1 p. m. a train whisked them away to Washington to attend the unveiling of Captain Ericson's memorial.

The sun shone on Battery Park and its crowd as the royal party landed. Twenty-one times the guns on Governor's Island boomed in salute. A city tug in full dress scraped the dock. The royal couple appeared. The band struck up a march.

From the roof of Whitehall building came a cheer, a spark ready to powder. The crowd exploded. Cheer followed cheer. The crowd fell in behind the royal pair in automobiles and cheered its way up a Broadway banked with thousands of cheering beings, to whom the first ardor had been communicated. It stopped cheering when the Crown Prince and Princess disappeared in the city hall to receive the city's welcoming scroll from the hand of Mayor Walker.

The crown prince greeted reporters in English as he appeared aboard the S. S. Gripsholm with the crown princess for his first interview ever given.

"Look this way, please," shouted 50 potographers, encircling the royal couple.

The crown prince smiled.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I have only one face and it is so arranged on my shoulders that I can only look one way at a time."

"I am so glad I have got to America," the princess said, smiling graciously. "I have always wanted to come. My brother (Marquis of Milfordhaven) has told me how wonderful your country is."

"I love to dance," she exclaimed. "I dance every opportunity I have. I think it healthful. I have also learned to ski, but not to skate."

Did the crown prince dance the Charleston, he was asked. No, but he would like to learn. Both smiled sometimes at the interviewers and sometimes at each other.

The crown prince declined to answer questions of a political nature and classified prohibition as a political topic.

"Know Babe Ruth," he was asked.

"It seems I've heard the name," he replied. A member of the royal suite explained who Babe Ruth was. "Ah! I am going to a base ball game if I can while I am in New York," he said. "I am much interested in it. You have wonderful athletes. They have caused us much trouble in the Olympic games.

PA SAYS DAN'S A 'LITTLE SPUD'

He And Ma Speak In San Antonio Thursday Night

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANTONIO, May 27.—An actual count would be necessary to establish any difference in the sizes of the crowd that heard Governor Ferguson and her husband here tonight and the crowd that heard Dan Moody in the same place last Saturday night.

James A. Harley introduced Governor Ferguson. As a state senator Harley voted for conviction of Jim Ferguson on the impeachment charges. He served as adjutant general under Governor Hobby.

Mrs. Ferguson, modishly gowned, read her Sulphur Springs address, after receiving flowers presented by children. She could be heard only a few rods from the platform, and there were calls of "louder."

Pa Gets the Applause.

She received considerable applause but the big demonstration greeted "Pa" when he was introduced.

The former governor complimented San Antonio as the place that set the pace in demand for local self government and freedom in religious belief. He also complimented Mayor John Tobin of San Antonio, though Tobin was not present at the meeting.

He stated the people opposing his wife's re-election "got mad" because when she was elected before, he did not leave home. This and his references to Moody as a "little spud" and a "blowed up sucker" were applauded vigorously, religious and klan references were met with silence.

Ferguson definitely announced 25 cents as the proposed new state tax rate in his speech.

SECOND LOVE

MALCOLM DUART

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY EUGENE MacLEAN

SYNOPSIS.

John Parrish is the poor young husband of a rich young wife, Audrey. They have quarreled because he went to a girlie-girlie revue without telling her. She invites Marcie Allen, young, dark, beautiful, to her house. Marcie believes that the new freedom among women means that women can do everything that men ever did, including their shadier amusements. She tells Parrish so. Audrey believes Parrish will be shocked at her friend, but Parrish says he regards Marcie as "a mighty interesting girl." Audrey's father, Harry Morton, writes her from London warning her that her first marital quarrel is due, and suggesting that she "let her husband win sometimes."

Audrey dresses in her best to meet Parrish that evening, and tells him not to be mean to her any more, and says she has been good to him by letting him manage her money. He tells her he has an engagement with Marcie at his office that evening; that she wants him to be her business adviser.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

(Characters and situations in this story are fictitious).

CHAPTER III.

Audrey drew back from Parrish and held him at arm's length.

"What on earth does Marcie need a business adviser for?" she demanded.

"I don't know exactly," he confessed.

"She said it was something about her investments."

"Investments, fiddlesticks!" said his wife. "She hasn't any investments. She lives with her father and mother, and they give her a big fat allowance. That's all the investment she's got."

She considered for a time. "I'll bet she's got herself into some kind of a mess, and wants you to help her out. Well, all right. What time do you meet her?"

"In half an hour, now," he said.

"I'll go down with you," she promised, and ran into the house.

Audrey kept her father's chauffeur for her own car, but her husband insisted on driving a disreputable old flivver. It had been his long before their marriage. For a brief time of trouble and debt it had passed out of his possession, but his first errand, when once more in funds, had been to rescue the car from the dealer who had it. This contrivance he now piloted to the front curb, and sat in it, waiting for his wife.

She made no comment when she saw it, but climbed in beside him.

"Aren't you afraid the hind wheels will fall off?" she inquired, as they rattled down Tenth.

He laughed. "They're liable to at that," he said. "Had a fine offer for this car on a trade deal—twenty dollars. But I'm holding out for twenty-five."

"You'll never sell it at all," she told him. "You'll drive it until the whole thing caves in."

"Maybe so," he agreed, masterfully quelling an attempt of the steering wheel to jiggle.

Outside the downtown office where Parrish managed his wife's fortune, and the affairs of his father-in-law in the latter's absence, they saw Marcie Allen's yellow roadster.

"She's here ahead of us," he said, "But I had your dad's secretary wait, to let her in."

They parked the little, rusty car behind the shining, gaudy long one, and entered the building. It was not yet dark, and the night elevator man stood in the doorway, enjoying a draught on his pipe.

"How do, Miss Morton," said the elevator man. "That is to say, Mrs. Parrish. Some folks waiting for you upstairs," he added, to Parrish.

Marcie greeted them with bubbling enthusiasm at the outer entrance of Harry Morton's suite.

"You dear things!" she cried. "How sweet of both of you to come." She kissed Audrey on the cheek. "Did you come along to guard him from me?"

Audrey laughed. "I'm not afraid. But I wanted to hear more of this nonsense about your investments. Why didn't you come over to the house?"

Marcie led the way into Parrish's private room, and seated herself in his chair.

"This was strictly business," she said, "and I didn't want to bother you at home about such things. But you can stay and listen, Audrey, dear."

"So sweet of you," said her friend.

Parrish settled himself in the stenographer's chair that stood beside his desk.

"What was it you wanted to ask me about?" he inquired.

Marcie threw up her hands. "Isn't business terrible? The way men do it, anyway. No preliminary chit-chat at all. Just hard, cold business. But we women'll fix that!"

She dug into a handbag that she carried looped to her wrist, and extracted from it a gold and green stock certificate. She opened this, disclosing the seal at the bottom of the page, and handed it to Parrish.

"How much is that worth?" she asked.

He glanced at the certificate, and then turned to the wastebasket behind him. The office had not yet been cleaned, and the basket was full. After a moment's search, he drew forth a crumpled morning newspaper, smoothed it, and turned to the market page. His eye moved swiftly down a column of fine print.

"That share you have there," he said, "is worth exactly twelve hundred and twenty dollars and fifty cents."

"Aren't you smart!" exclaimed Marcie, in admiration. "How did you find out so quickly?"

"It's a good stock—all I had to do was to look up today's market," he explained.

He gave her back the certificate. She received it with a flourish.

"Well, kind friends and neighbors," she said 'take a good look at this. It's all I have in the world, besides my clothes and my roadster. I must live the rest of my life on twelve hundred and upsteen dollars and umpty cents!"

"Why, dearie!" Audrey's tone was concerned. "What's wrong?"

Marcie arose and poised before them, theatrically. "Behold the prodigal daughter! My daddy is up-to-date, too. He's turned me out of house and home!"

"Well, kind friends and neighbors," Marcie said. "I must like the rest of my life on twleve hundred and upsteen dollars and umpty cents."

"What?" cried Parrish and Audrey together.

"He did," insisted Marcie. "Just like cruel fathers used to turn out the boy who wouldn't enter the counting house. Kicked me out without a dime—except this, and it was mine anyway."

Audrey rose and took the other girl by the shoulder.

"Are you joking?" she asked, intently.

"Joking, hell," said Miss Allen, profanely. "I say I got the grand bounce. And, Moses! What a panning! I tried to out-cuss him, but I couldn't. He's had more practice."

Audrey took her and pushed her back into Parrish's chair.

"Now tell us what happened," she commanded.

Parrish drew his chair nearer, his serious face alert, and his eyes glistening.

"It sounds like a bully row," he said. "Tell all about it."

The girl bit the corner of her handkerchief, in doubt. "I don't know just where to start," she said. "But, anyway, it's about feminism."

"About what?"

"Feminism—woman's rights. It's been going on a long time. Dad had an idea, I guess, that when I went to college I'd learn to spout Greek and make speeches in Hebrew. When he found out what I actually did learn, he was mad. Said it wasn't decent to talk about the things I talked about—claimed that only livery stable loafers said such things, and that even they didn't exist any more."

She lapsed into silence.

"Well?" said Audrey.

"Things got worse from then on," said Marcie. "Dad never went to college. He doesn't understand."

"But goodness, child—I know lots of girls from college and they don't have a wild line of talk like yours," Audrey said. "Why didn't you tone down?"

"You don't understand either." Marcie shook her head. "I tried to explain that to dad. I told him that girls are just like boys, now. It's the new feminism. There are nice boys in college, who study and want to be great men. Then there are wild boys, who go necking with a bottle on their hip. It's the same way with the girls. I didn't want to be a pale girl with spectacles. I wanted to be the other kind. I wanted to be free."

She laughed shortly. "I'm free now, all right." She looked at her stock certificate. "Grandpa gave me that, or I'd be touching you for a loan right now."

Parrish shifted in his chair.

"You didn't finish your story," he suggested.

"No?" Her voice was inquiring. "Well, it ended this way. I told him that men and women are coming into a lovely equality. There will be fussy old women around club rooms, needing a bath, just like the fussy old men you see in the front windows of clubs. There will be lady gamblers, and there are lady bootleggers right now. He asked me what I was driving at."

They waited for her to go on.

"I said I was just thinking out loud. I told him there would be ripsnorting old terriers of women, going out and winking at the pretty boys along the street, just as the old bucks do to the girls. Then he slapped me!"

Her eyes twinkled. "Do you know what I called him? Well, I won't tell you. But I kicked him on the shins."

She fastened her handbag with the stock certificate inside.

"And that's how I come to be here," she concluded, "asking financial advice."

She sat waiting for them to speak. Parrish and Audrey caught each other's glance, and looked back at the girl. Her face was composed, her brilliant color unpaled, her eyes and lips serene.

Parrish had been conscious of a muffled sound, coming from the rear end of the suite.

"Oh, I forgot to say," Marcie said brightly. "Dad followed me up here, and I have him locked in your back office. That's he, pounding on the doors."

Tom Stacy Makes A Good Start As Disch's Protege

Wichita Falls Youngster Gets Autographed Ball From Veteran Mentor

Three-year-old Tom Stacy is back from a profitabl 1rip to Austin where, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Stacy, he has been visiting at the home of his grandfather, Gen. W. H. Stacy. That was fun in itself, of course, but the immediate cause of his present glee is a regulation baseball, presented to him by Uncle Billy Disch, veteran Texas universiyt baseball coach who inscribed on it "to Tom Stacy from Uncle Billy Disch, 1926."

The elder Stacy saw Disch win his 14th baseball championship in the Southwestern conference. In 1911 Mr. Stacy was captain of the Texas team and as a member of the Texas athletic council recommended that Billy Disch be employed as baseball coach. Later he was delegated to represent the school in negotiating for the services of the famed mentor and eventually signed the contract that brought him to the state university.

Not long ago Disch presented Mr. Stacy with a gold baseball watch fob which he highly prizes.

"He promised us he would still be coaching at Texas when my boy was old enough to try for the team," Mr. Stacy said in commenting on his visit.

While in Austin Stacy had several visits with Dan Moody, with whom he attended school and graduated in the law department.

Mob, Including Women, Hang Negro For Attacking Girl

WILSON, Ark., May 27.—(AP)—Albert Blazes, 22, negro, charged with attacking an 11-year-old white girl yesterday, was taken from officers late by a mob of several hundred persons and hanged.

Sheriff Haas, who with two deputies was guarding the negro in a warehouse here, said that it was impossible to keep the mob from taking the prisoner. He said that after hanging the negro the members of the mob returned to town quietly and "went to bed." He anticipated no further disorders.

Officers intended to take the negro to Blytheville or Osceola today for safe keeping.

Following the attack, which occurred when the victim and two girl companions strayed from a school picnic, blood hounds were taken to the scene and trailed the negro who later was identified by his victim.

Reports said a number of women were i nthe mob.

MOODY

strategist of a Spanish-American despot. The place was fitting. All the stories of the Alamo are the stories of the red-blooded who did not fight in vain for the rights of man and who gave their lives for justice founded upon liberty and all that is dear to the hearts of free men who believe in high ideals of government and the rights of the humblest before the law.

Every official act of the life of Dan Moody has been actuated by the high principles of a man gallant and clean. This is his record and it cannot be splotched or spotted in a campaign where stink pots are hurled, or mud shovelers are privileged to speak from platforms.

In this life of ours the true man never strikes below the belt, the brave man never stoops to falsehood; and the patriotic man places the cause of his state and the people above his own private ambitions or his personal fortunes.

So why cavil or snivel because a red-blooded man hurled a gauntlet back into the teeth of the thrower and made the issue clean cut for the democrats of Texas to settle once for all at the primary ballot box in less than 60 days.

Sam Houston would have accepted the challenge. He knew his people. Sul Ross would have accepted the challenge. He knew his record and his people.

James Stephen Hogg, God rest his soul, would have accepted the challenge for his was red-blood with the Celtic strain in his veins.

Chivalrous Charles A. Culberson, knightly and courteous and ever true to the tenets of the democratic faith, would have smiled and shivered his lance on any insolent foeman, knowing in his heart that a large majority of the people of Texas are red-blooded and ever willing to take a sporting chance before a jury composed of the electorate of an imperial commonwealth.

Gallant and rugged old Joe Bayers would not have flickered. And other mighty sons of Texas, some of them living and some of them dead, who would have acted almost in the twinkling of an eye as Moody acted in the Shrine City where heroes of Texas became immortal for a cause that was red-blooded and required the sacrifice upon the altar of liberty of men who were red-blooded, without yellow in their veins or the saffron stuff in their hearts.

The setting has been made. The arena has been staked. The issue is before the democrats. Shall the Fergusons be given four terms in the office of governor?

This is all there is to it and the issue has been made by the principal actors and leading figures in this drama of political action. Shall it be a continuation of the rule of the Fergusons and Fergusonism in Texas?

Under which flag? This is a free commonwealth. There are a million democratic voters in it. They are the masters. Let them decide.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

May 28, 1925

E. W. Claitor instantly killed in automobile accident on Fort Worth-Wichita Falls highway.

HE FACES A HIGHER COURT

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN JOHN T. KING of Connecticutt indicted with Harry M. Daugherty for conspiracy to defraud the government will not answer to the indictment to a court here below. He was stricken down with pneumonia and death claimed him in six days. He was summoned to a higher court to make answer to the sins of the commission or omission that he was guilty of here below.

A wonderfully fascinating man was John T. King, high in the councils of the republican party and in his life time a warm friend of Theodore Roosevelt. He was one of the finest Latin scholars in New England, and was intended for the priesthood in his youth. He changed his mind before the hour of ordination came, engaged in politics and amassed a fortune in the undertaking business.

He was a master political strategist, was ever loyal to Roosevelt, and 1912 he managed the Leonard Wood forces and campaign until he became involved in a row with two of Wood's rich friends, which made him necessary for King to sidestep. Now Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States, must go to trial alone. An indictment is not a conviction. A person accused of crime is presumed to be innocent until he has been convicted by a jury of his peers after he has been given a fair trial. It is morally certain that the indictment killed John T. King. Politics is an ugly game. There are desperadoes who play the game. There are character assassins who play the game.

There are men who always strike below the belt who play the game. There are matchless liars who play the game. It has been so from the beginning. Why should it continue to be so in the years to come. Demagogues, without ideals, without high conception of the duty an official owes to the state, without conscience to guide him or pride to sustain a menace to honest and economical government.

VIEWPOINT OF A STATESMAN

"OUR comparative success in governing ourselves for the past 150 years has rested most of all, upon the initiative and enterprise of our people in meetings and solving governmental problems as they arise."

This excerpt is taken from a speech made by Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York months and months ago. He dealt mainly with the rapid inroads or encroachments of the federal government in its invasion of the rights of the state. Speaking of the large number of new and important functions created by the congress in recent years, he said:

"Most important of all, through the adoption of the eighteenth amendment, we have given the federal government police power over every citizen to an extent never dreamed of by the founders of the government."

Senator Wadsworth must have foreseen what was coming. Now President Coolidge has taken over the police power of the state. This was the final warning of the senator, "if we continue to take power away from the people and to transfer it to Washington, our local government will dwindle to the vanishing point and we shall find the average man becoming a servant of the government instead of its master."

Senator Wadsworth is a republican but he talks like an old school democrat, indeed, he is a better democrat of the Jeffersonian type than many senators who proclaim themselves to be democrats and are elected by democratic constituencies.

IT IS ON

BARRAGES of mud, barrages of insinuations, barrages of accusation, barrages of bull, barrages of smoke, barrages of smoke perfume, barrages of historical allusions that are not found in the books, yes, the campaign is on, and the political Bubbling Overs are sweating like porpoises. Perspiring would be more elegant, but politicians never perspire. They sweat and some of them sweat like hogs in a broiling summer sun.

DISTRESSING THOUGHT

Let us hope there is no ice strike. Goodness only knows what they'd try to sell for substitutes.

TEXAS FIRST, THE EYES OF THE WORLD ARE ON YOU"

TEXAS is the banner democratic state.

Texas has a registered voting population, counting exemptions of approximately 1,400,000. In other years neither at the primary or the general election, have the candidates and the issues called out more than 800,000.

In the primary election two years ago, when feeling ran high and the klan control was the issue, upwards of 800,000 democrats registered their personal verdict by their ballots as to choice to candidates and issues.

Texas is on the map of the world today. Its remarkable history, its remarkable size and area, its remarkable natural resources and the rapid growth in wealth and population of the commonwealth, has focused upon the state the eyes of the people of all the states, Canada and Mexico and the nations of Europe.

A citizen isn't worthy of the name unless he assumes the responsibilities of a citizen. He isn't worthy of the name if he isn't willing to assume and discharge those responsibilities.

This is a democracy, an imperial commonwealth from every viewpoint and it should be given the best government that men of vision and men of integrity can bestow upon it. Honesty in government is a slogan as old as the republic.

High ideals in government were the ideals of the fathers. Economy in public expenditures was the watchword of the fathers. Justice to all men regardless of nativity or creed, was more than the dream of the fathers. It was written into the constitution that Jefferson made and into the constitution that the fathers of Texas made.

These constitutions, in their original form and as they have been since amended, carry guarantees which protect the rights of the minority, property rights, and the sacred protection of life which should come first.

Now a government is just as honest and just as idealistic as the people who make it. It is just as strong as the people who make it. It is just as weak as the people who make it.

It is just as clean as the people who make it. It is just as corrupt as the people who make it and as the servants in office who reflect the wishes of their masters, who are the voters of commonwealth.

There should be a tremendous primary vote this year. Prejudices should be buried. Passions should be stiffled. There should be an appeal to the reason of the people and not their baser instinct.

All the facts should be thrashed out and the men and women who are voters should familiarize themselves with the issues which are uppermost, the official records that have been made, the good that has been done, the evil that has been wrought and in the last analysis, they should go to the ballot box and vote for men and measures, or policies, which are the best for Texas today and the Texas to come.

Men of vision, men of integrity, men of high ideals, men of lofty purpose; should be called to the major offices and the minor offices should be filled with the best material obtainable. Place Texas first. Place good government above all things. Place men of high character and high ideals at the head of the procession.

This was the message that the fathers of Texas gave to those who would come after them. This is the message that should be carried on down the ages by Texans. Those early builders did not quarrel over endless creeds or modes of worship. They did not quarrel over the nativity of their fellows. They did not believe in grab-bags for the rich picking that might be found along the line of duty or that a public office was a snap for the man who held it.

They believed in justice in all things, equality of all before the law, civil and religious liberty, protection of life and properity, the development of natural resources, and they gave to those who came after them a constitution which includes the bill of rights, that should ever be dear to the hearts of those who believe in the square deal, honesty in government, one law for all, (the classes and the masses) and special privileges to none.

All the major state offices are to be filled this year; all the minor offices are to be filled; a legislature is to be elected, and if the people are wise, they will draft their ablest and their most patriotic for legislative place as well as along the line from top to bottom.

On the firing line and place Texas first.

Questions From the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

"We Oldsters are Still Full of Pep And Go and Are Filled With Rebellion Against our Devoted Children, Who Deprive Us of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness in Our Own Way," Says Elderly Spokesman.

An elderly lady was complaining to me the other day of her lack of personal freedom. "I am," she said, whimsically, "the victim of devoted daughters, who chickenpeck me to that degree that even my soul is not my own.

"Of course, they do it through love, and a high sense of finial duty, and I am properly appreciative of the noble motives that inspire their tyranny. But there are times when I could do with less affection and more liberty, and when I envy the mothers who have neglectful children.

"It would horrify my daughters to know that I entertain such heretical sentiments. For they are filled with self righteousness over the way they take care of me, and about the sacrifices they make for me, and about how they have relieved me of all care and responsibility and labor. They never dream that the very things they pat themselves on the back for doing for me are the things that I don't want done.

"I don't want to be kept in cotton wool. I want to be still out in the thick of life. I don't want to be laid on the shelf. I don't want to be made to feel that I am a has been. I don't want to sit with idle, useless hands.

"I want to be busy, interested, employed. Above all, I don't want anybody to be martyred for my sake. I would rather die a thousand times than to feel that I was the slightest burden on my children, or that I interefered with their pleasure. I want my children to feel that I am something beautiful and benign in their lives, not an Old Woman of the Sea on their backs.

"It is funny—and pathetic—that our children never understood us parents and never realised that we are human beings, even as they are, with the same natural human desires and likes and dislikes. They think of us as being different, somehow, from them, and as not wanting to do things, or have things. Especially, when we grow old they picture us as turning into plaster saints, content to sit where we are put and brood over our latter end.

"Which isn't the way of many of us oldsters nowadays. We are still full of pep and go, and interested in carnal things, and we are filled with rebellion against our devoted children who deprive us of our rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in our own ways.

"Now my good daughters long ago deprived me of my home. They said that I was too old to be bothered with keeping a house, and having to worry over servants, and so nothing would do but that I must sell my house and my furniture, every piece of which was enriched with a sacred memory, and come and live with them.

"As I said, they are good daughters, and my sons-in-law are splendid men. They always make me feel that I am a welcome guest, and I have the seat of honor at their tables and at their firesides.

"But it makes me nothing but a tramp, wandering from house to house, with no fixed abiding place.

"I have lost all sense of dignity. I feel myself a sort of gilded parasite, and I get worn out trying to remember that I am living in my inlawa houses, and that I mustn't interfere or advise, or make myself offensive to them in any way."

POEMS THAT LIVE

"Was This The Face?" by Christopher Marlowe.

"The father of English Poetry," Marlowe has been called; and it is said of him that he paved the way for Shakespeare. There was no authentic blank verse until his advent. He left us four tragedies, and a handful of imperishable lyrics. Of the plays, "Dr. Faustus" is by far the finest achievement of this young genius whose stormy career ended at the age of twenty-nine when he was murdered.

The description of Helen's beauty in "Dr. Faustus" is so famous that it needs no comment:

Was this the face that launch'd a thousand ships
And burn'd the topless towers of Ilium?
Sweet Helen, make me immortal with a kiss!
Her lips suck forth my soul—see where it flies.
Come, Helen, come give me my soul again;
Here will I dwell, for heaven is in these lips,
And all is dross that is not Helena.
O thou art fairer than the evening air,
Clad in the beauty of a thousand stars!

Farmer Kills Wife And Commits Suicide

BROWNWOOD, Texas, May 27.—(AP)—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Zin Barry each about 35 years old, were found lying in a barn at the home of his father, E. S. Barry, near Proctor, in Comanche county, Wednesday night. Each has a bullet hole in the head, and a small calibre revolver lay near the man's body.

The coroner's verdict was that Barry killed his wife and then fatally wounded himself. The man and wife were found lying with their arms about each other.

Mrs. Barry has been a teacher in the Proctor schools for several years and Barry was a farmer. They had been married three months, and no motive for the tragedy is known.

CHANGE THEIR MINDS

FORT WORTH, May 27.—(AP)—After gnawing the wooden bars of its cage into here late yesterday a black wolf, full grown, escaped and prowled through a residential district here for some hours. It was captured by some negroes, who took it for a dog.

When it began gnawing the rope they changed their minds and turned it over to the police. It was returned to the express company which was shipping it to a northern menagerie.

DINNER STORIES

The chairman of the gas company was making a popular address.

"Think of the good the gas company has done," he cried. "If I were permitted a pun, I would say in the words of the immortal poet, 'Honor the Light Brigade'!"

Voice of a consumer from the audience: "Oh, what a charge they made!"

A young lawyer, pleading his first case, had been retained by a farmer to prosecute a railway company for killing 64 hogs. He wanted to impress the jury with the magnitude of the injury.

"Twenty-four hogs, gentlemen. Twenty-four; twice the number there are in the jury box."

A visitor calling on an Irishman who had the credit of being an ardent partisan at political meetings said, "What's that, Mike, that you have in the glass case?"

"Oh! that's the brick I got agin my head at the last election."

"Oh! and what's that little flower on the top of it for?"

"That's the flower from the grave of the man that threw it."

When the colored couple were being married by the clergyman, and the words "love, honor and obey" were spoken, the bridegroom interrupted: "Read that again, suh! Read it once moh, so's de lady kin fetch de full solemnity of de meanin'. I'se been married befoh."

Child Killed And Grandmother Hurt

BEAUMONT, May 27.—(AP)—Ernest Alston, four, was instantly killed when his body was cut in two under the wheels of a tank car switching on the Kansas City Southern tracks, and his grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Alston, 76, lost her right arm below the elbow in a vain attempt to save the child here today. Injuries to the aged woman may prove fatal, attending physicians said.

TWO FOUND DEAD.

PANHANDLE, May 27.—(AP)—A short time after they had agreed to separate and had gone to their tent home near the railroad station here to divide their belongings last night, Porter Davis, 31, a truck driver, and his wife were dead. According to a coroner's verdict, Davis shot his wife and then killed herself. Three children survive.

In these days of quick deliveries, the man who watches the clock gets the raise in pay.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

I WANT TO BELIEVE

I want to believe that men are fair;
How high they climb, or how far advance,
That they give the little man, too, his chance,
The chance they would want if they were there.
So I shall not judge all the rest of men
By the knave who jostles me now and then,
He was only one in the crowded square;
I want to believe that men are fair.

I want to believe that men are kind;
That the help they give, that the friends they make,
Are not things they do for a duty's sake
Or a meaner motive that lurks behind.
For the only love that is worth the while
Is the gentle word of the friendly smile
We give whenever the need we find;
I want to believe that men are kind.

I want to believe that we are
Companion souls on a common road,
And we lend a hand or we lift a load,
However we climb, advance how far,
Because of that common brotherhood,
I want to believe that men are good,
Are fair, are kind, in the jolt and jar,
Because—because I believe they are!

What Do You Know About It?

Daily Science Six

1. How is sea level officially determined on as related to the varying level of the sea during the tides?
2. What does a barometer measure?
3. What is an isobar?
4. What weather follows a "fall" in the barometer?
5. What sort of weather accompanies a "high" barometer?
6. What happens to the barometer when taken from sea level to a point below sea level?

Answers to these questions in tomorrow's Record News.

Aneroid Barometers

The aneroid barometer has its uses, as it is a small instrument which may be carried around without getting out of gear, may be read at a glance without adjusting, and is as useful compared to a mercurial barometer as a watch compared with a grandfather clock. However, it is only very roughly accurate, and even for determining the altitude of a mountain is not wholly satisfactory. A boy in Boston Technology Institute was asked in an examination how to find the altitude of a building with an aneroid barometer. His answer was: "I would let it down to the ground on a string, and measure the string. The professor, who seemed to think this was about all an aneroid was good for, gave the boy an "A" for his answer.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions:

1. Longitude 0 degree was arbitrarily decided on; it passes through the center of the Greenwich observatory in England.
2. Madrid and Washington are in approximately the same latitude.
3. A line drawn straight south from New York would pass along the western or Pacific coast of South America.
4. The south side of a house is the shady side in the Southern hemisphere.
5. The roaring forties are windy latitudes between 40 and 50 degrees; the term is generally applied to sea latitudes rather than land latitudes.
6. The tropics as a geographer understands them are, strictly, the two imaginary lines, the tropic of Capricorn and the tropic of Cancer, which are equally distant from the equator; in a broader sense the tropics are the regions between these lines. The word has nothing to do with climate or vegetation; the tip of Florida "feels" tropical, but it does not officially lie within the tropics.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

Today's planetary aspects are distinctly favorable, and continue so until sunset. They then become rather adverse. During the day, anything that savors of constructive effort or normal uplift can be safely attempted, and the signs denote success. It is not, however a good occasion for travel, nor will any fruitful results be obtained by drastic or radical changes. Conservative progress should be the keynote of all operations. In the evening the vibrations become sluggish and the indications point to an undue sense of dissatisfaction, not only with yourself, but with others. Under such conditions it is advisable to seek some form of light recreation as a means of relaxation.

Children born today will, per se, be rather disappointing in their early days. They will fail to show signs of lustiness that are usually associated with the period of infancy. On longer acquaintance, however, they will steadily improve and, although not entirely immune to sickness, will develop into strong healthy specimens of adulthood. Their dispositions will be cheerful, although not free at all times from moodiness and moroseness. These fits will only be of short duration, and they will always be more than anxious to make up for any unpleasantness their lapses from normalcy may have caused. They will be ambitious, quick to learn, and ready to work.

If today is your birthday, you possess a delightful personality, but are rather disposed to trust to this virtue, than to ability and work. You are not lazy but disposed to procrastinate. Your knowledge is superficial, rather than profound. You have a passing acquaintance with many topics but are not intimate with any. To the ordinary person, you can pass yourself off as well-informed. To the student and thinker, you appear shallow. Your manneriams have achieved for you a certain measure of success. If, however, you had fixed on one subject, and mastered it, your success would have been greater. You are a general practitioner, never a specialist, and this is both the time and country of specialising.

Your home life is happy, especially if mated with one born in August or October.

Successful people born this date are:

William A. Buckingham, war governor of Connecticut.
Frederick Fraley, financier.
Albert G. Riddle, Lawyer and author.
Mmella J. Bloomer, reformer.

"This CAN'T be the place," whispered the girl.

"It is, I'm sure," said her mother sharply, "although I can't recommend his taste in entertainment. He'll hear from me if this is a cheap show! Let's go in!"

—WHY Was the Country Club Estates Located in the South Part of the City?

More than three years ago we decided to develop for Wichita Falls a residential subdivision which would surpass any in the Southwest. We gave very careful study of the many tracts offered the parties buying for us, before any location was decided upon. Experts in City Planning were brought here, and their advice as to location of this superior subdivision was secured before any acreage was purchased.

Then for more than a year persons representing us quietly purchased more than a section of land, in a solid block, and this at a cost of Several Hundred Thousand Dollars.

About two years ago we announced that we would soon begin the development of a residential subdivision of which all of Wichita Falls could feel justly proud. We have spent more than One Million Dollars, in addition to the cost of the land in developing this property.

Why was the 660 acres of land now being developed into the Country Club Estates selected over all other sections in and adjacent to Wichita Falls?

1st. Unequalled environment, overlooking the golf links of the Country Club and Municipal Park, close to High School and Junior College.

2nd. From one to two miles closer to the business section of the City, yet far enough away to get all the advantage of space, beauty and attractiveness of the country. Country Club Estates is the same distance from the City as the intersection of Tenth and Grant streets.

3rd. Best sandy loam soil. Where trees and shrubbery will grow luxuriantly. Here you are out of the area generally known as "hard-pan" soil, which is so common in central and western part of the City.

4th. The best subdivisions of most cities will be found either on the South side or the North side of same.

5th. To avoid driving against blinding West Sun in the afternoon, or an East Sun in the morning.

6th. To avoid the congested traffic on Tenth Street.

7th. To avoid the heavy laden oil field trucks and other oil field traffic going out Seymour Road and out Grant Street.

8th. To avoid the wind-swept and exposed places where one must endure the fury of the cold blasts from the North in the Winter, and the hot parching winds over the dry prairies in Mid-Summer. West Texas need not fear about having enough breeze.

9th. Country Club Estates will be cooler in the Summer and warmer in Winter. All residences of brick construction. Irrigation water under high pressure in cast-iron pipes will insure beautiful green lawns, trees and shrubbery. 100 acres in Parks in the Country Club Estates; eight miles of shade trees; large amount of trees and open space in golf links of the Country Club and Municipal Park will certainly give this section a large advantage over any other part of the City.

2 Men Sought By Lawton Sheriff Are Caught at Marlin

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 27.—Arrest has been made at Marlin of R. P. Runyon and Kenneth Ray, who were being sought by Baylor county officers following an attack on Sheriff George Frampton of Comanche county, Oklahoma, Monday morning, eight miles out on the Seymour road to Wichita Falls, according to reports here.

Frampton and Charles Hankin, Lawton Chevrolet dealer were returning from Odessa to Lawton at the time of the attack. Sheriff Frampton was choked, beaten over the head, shot through the hand and robbed of his gun and keys. Hankin was not hurt in the attack. The two men, Runyon and Ray, were accompanying them to Lawton and are said to be soldiers from Ft. Sill.

Sheriff Frampton received a telegram Thursday morning from the sheriff at Marlin stating the men had been arrested. Frampton left immediately to identify them.

Bandit and Decoy Nabbed by Officers

SAN ANTONIO, May 27.—(AP)—The tables were turned in a double holdup staged on the Castroville road last night when a man and woman were arrested and held as suspects in a series of robberies which have taken place on country roads near the city in recent weeks. The couple held up a motorist, and were in turn held up by Deputy Sheriffs Sam James and F. N. Flores, who caught them in the act of attempted robbery.

The woman, it is believed, has been playing the part of a decoy while her companion acted as the road agent. Her part in the operations, officers say, was to entice a man into her car for the purpose of going for a ride into the country. Her confederate would step from the brush and hold them up.

Deputies James and Flores succeeded in getting a man working with them picked up by the woman last night.

As the holdup man held the motorists with fixed gun, the deputies stepped from some bushes and took charge of the situation.

D. Saunders was charged with swindling over $50 in connection with the purchase of some iron drums by check, Harold Allman was charged with offering a bribe to A. A. Warren, policeman, May 9, in connection with alleged liquor law violation.

Poppy Sale to Be Opened Saturday By Legion Women

Each year millions of poppies are sold annually in the United States in the national poppy sale to raise money for the welfare relief among the service men and their families. In 1925, the first year of the American Legion Auxiliary poppy program, over six million poppies were sold by the American Legion and Auxiliary for this great work. Of this number 3,500,000 were made in the hospitals by the disabled, 1,000,000 were made by members of the auxiliary units, and it is estimated that 2,000,000 were purchased from commercial firms.

Saturday, members of the local Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion will conduct the annual sale, when the women will sell the memorial flower in the downtown section of this city. Poppies will be made by inmates of the government hospitals, according to Mrs. O. T. Alles, president of the local auxiliary.

Jeems And His Boys Whale Life Out of Boss Brainard And His Bludgeoning Crew

Brace of Pitchers Fail to Halt Mad Rush Of Beaumont Shippers in Home Town Park

BY BLONDY CROSS.

BEAUMONT, May 27.—Galloway's Buccaneering Beaumonters ran completely over Freddie Fussell, the Spudder portsider, in the second round of today's smoking melee, and before Boss Brainard could get Carl Williams warmed up and rushed to the rescue dismantled the noble left-hander, and poled seven runs across. Williams gave up three runs in the third and then settled down to sling a superb exhibition the remainder of the way.

Elmer Hansen, Beaumont right-hander, was not much of a pitcher today, but a great hitter, he connected for two home runs and a single. This startling display of slugging talent gave the Shippers their victory margin.

Wichita Falls rallied midway and boosted Hansen from the pitching peak but too late. The final score was 10 to 7.

Each team clouted 15 safeties, but a quartet of double plays worked havoc with anything similar to any attempt at a concerted advance intimated by our proud Spudders. Logan Drake, ex-Spudder, copped a large share of the laurel wreath, if any. Three fingered Logan was commandeered into service at the start of the sixth. It was just too bad for Brainard's boys, the curve ball specialist allowed three blows in the remaining four stanzas and was never in danger, saved the game for Galloway and turned thumbs down on his former team-mates.

Spuds Get Jump.

The Spudders with very timely but of course, unintentional, assistance of the Galloway inner protection, jumped two runs out front at the start of festivities. Lamb opened with a bounder at short and Deviveros uncorked a jungle heave into the right field foul zone, Boelzle, backed up first base, took the throw on the hop and flung widely at second as Lambie slid in. Fritz scored lucky with a bingle to center and went to third when Pizzola hoisted one over the two base section of Beaumont's comical right field wall. Sutherland sent a sacrifice aviation soaring to right center scoring Fitz, Brainard was retired, pitcher to first.

Fussell stood 'em wrong side up in the first frame but floundered in the second before a merciless, mauling attack that started after there was one out, and didn't subside until Williams was injected into the affray. Deviveros and Dunning splashed the outer greensward with base bingles. Then Boelzle caromed a double off the right center boards. Hansen himself followed with a four-base rift far over the right center palisade. Tony heaved Brown's bounder into the dirt and Connolly singled through the box. Oliver walked and Davis grounded out, Turgeon to Bodie, but Brown chacked in. Galloway knocked Freddie into the casket with a two-sack wallop to left that sent Connolly and Oliver across the rubber. Carl pulled a belated rush to relief and took Deviveros' punch at the box for that sought third out.

Score Again.

Dunning and Boelzle beat out a couple of teasers in the third and Hansen followed with his second run, another well walloped drive over the starboard barricade before anybody was cut down. Fitz raced under altitudenous aviations manufactured by Brown and Connolly for two of the well known major league style of catches. Oliver singled, but Turgeon chunked out Davis.

Came the fourth with the score 10-2 in favor of the defenders. The Spudders wrathful crew trained their heavy artillery on Hansen, riddled full of holes and before the barrage was silenced pulled up to within four runs of the hooping Beaumonters. Brainard singled for the attack with a rousing two-cushion rift to right center. De Fate followed with a single to the same sector. Query lined out to center and Williams tripled to left, a roaring rush high over the Dunnings' dome.

Deviveros kicked Lamb's shot to short then Turgeon boosted up with a sacrifice fly to right, Bodie closed in with a single past second, but Suds forced Ping. The Shippers made a dirty wave in the same round, Galloway leading off with a two-bagger to right but Williams settled down and pitched himself out of the hole, retiring the next three in order, whiffing Boelzle for the third out.

Here We Come.

Williams came back in the fifth and pinch punched a single after there were two out, scoring Brainard who had opened the round with a double.

Hansen started the Beaumont half of the fifth with a single, but the vetran Williams again arose to the occasion and by rint of sturdy flinging foisted three pop-ups off on the belligerent Beaumont bruisers although Dunning made matters interesting by sandwiching a Texas leaguer that would have been a putout for Suds in night had not that funny fence been in the way.

Drake took up the Galloway hurling burden in the sixth, walked the first batter and gave up an infield single to Fitz. But Jeems grabbed Bodie's hoist and doubled Howard off first. Suds struck out Lamb, opened the seventh with a base on balls but came out of the dumps suddenly by taking De Fate's tap to the mound for another double eraser.

The Spudders menaced mildly in the eighth, Turgy stabbing a single to port, but there were two down and Fitz's hitting streak slumped with a roller to Galloway. Bodie opened the ninth with a heroic two-base shove to right center, but cooled his dogs at second and third while Drake struck out two and pitched another into grounding out to Connolly.

Williams turned back the Exporters with precision after the early round damage. The deciding game of the series is carded Friday, with the Spudder pitching staff splintered and nobody ready to work. Tom Estell, rested but two days, is the probable selection, Morgan is on the suspended list. While he is sick and Sutherland who up to today was the only other available flinger, hurt his arm this afternoon while shagging a fly ball. He stepped into a ditch, which for an unknown reason runs alonog the right field fence turned a somersault, and stood on end, his head in a hole. The fantastic maneuver in some way strained a tendon of the throwing whin.

GOLF
As Champions Play It

What is the purpose of the preliminary "waggle" before the drive, and is it necessary? Why or why not?

BY BILL STRACHAN
Wichita Falls Country Club Golf Professional.

The preliminary waggle is necessary. It allows one time to relax and to concentrate on the shot ahead. This is very important.

The waggle for tee-shots and all other long shots is longer and speedier and more aggressive than the waggle for shorter shots. The reason for this is that the wrists on the downswing work faster on long shots than on shorter ones.

Racer Sets New Track Mark But Fails To Qualify

Frank Lockhart Drives Car Around Speedway at 115.48 Miles Per Hour

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—(AP) Although failing to qualify, Frank Lockhart today broke the Indianapolis speedway record during the elimination trials when he drove his car for an average of 115.488 miles for the first lap. On the second lap his right rear tire gave way and he drove to the pits with the rubber flapping. His time was 1:17.993. To qualify a driver must circle the track four times. The previous track record is 114.295 established by Pete De Paolo last year.

Herbert Jones of Indianapolis, Ind., received a fractured skull this afternoon while attempting to qualify for Monday's 500 mile race at the speedway. He was rushed to the hospital in an unconscious condition. Jones crashed into the northwest turn outer retaining wall when his car threw a wheel.

Reds Win Two

CINCINNATI, May 27.—(AP)—Cincinnati showed a complete reversal of form today and won two games from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 3 and 3 to 1.

Both games were marked by tight pitching with Donohue getting the verdict over Sherdel and Mays beating Vick after a pitchers' duel. The first game the Cardinals had the tying run on third base with none out in the ninth, but Donohue fanned two succeeding batters and caused the third to fly out. Mays pitched himself out of several tight places in the second game while the Reds held their slender lead. Score:

Bobby Jones Is Showing The Way To British Stars

Redoubtable American Links Champion Bowls Over England's Best

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 27.—(AP)—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, Ga., American amateur golf champion, came into his own in British competitive play today and now looms as favorite among the eight remaining in the title tournament. In his second match today he overwhelmed Robert Harris, this country's amateur king, with as fine a display of golfing prowess as has been seen in the classic's half century of history.

Beside Jones in the last eight survivors stands Jess Sweetser of New York, former American intercollegiate and amateur champion, who today scored two victories over British opponents. They are the last of the American host that started play Monday, four of their compatriots having been eliminated today.

Watts Guan of Georgia cracked under the strain of tournament play this afternoon and fell before W. G. Brownlow, son of an Irish nobleman, 3 and 2. This defeat came after the young American had decisively beaten the Scotchman, Seymour Noon, 5 and 3.

The other Americans went out in the opening round of the day, Jesse Guilford, of Boston, bowing to Ormo Bristowe at the eighteenth green, Grane Peacock of Garden City, N. Y., as many relaxe y carnival; fter ys, breakfast ast places rs as Missouri Valley e world's record.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—(AP)—The cotton market ruled very quiet today and the price range did not exceed six points. Such trend to prices as appeared was mildly upward, the market being supported by the continued drouth in the eastern belt and the high temperatures there of 100 to 103 degrees. Four bullish private condition reports issued during the morning helped to maintain values. These reports made the condition average 68 up to 68.8 per cent and one of them made the acreage decrease 1.7 per cent and the abandon 2.5 per cent. After opening three to four points up and losing a few points in the early trading the market gradually advanced until the highs of the day showed gains over the previous close of four to seven points. Prices fluctuated narrowly during the afternoon and the close showed net gains for the day of three to four points.

Liverpool came in about as due, bell first trades here showed gains of three to four points. Prices eased off during the first hour to 17.70 for July, 17.17 for October and 17.19 for December, or one to four points below the opening. These prices proved to be the lows of the day.

Prices rallied in the middle of the morning on the dry weather in the east and the rather bullish private condition reports. July trading up to 17.75, October to 17.23 and December to 17.23, or five to six points up from the lows. The market fluctuated narrowly for the balance of the day within the earlier range and closed at the top for July but mid-way between the extremes on new crop months.

Exports for the day totaled 11,712 bales

Flaherty Shows Railbirds How He Plans to Sock 'Em

Marty Flaherty, New England's Irish welterweight challenger, exhibited his wares to a good sized gathering of fistic fans Wednesday evening, and again on Thursday he showed to an increasingly turn-out of rail birds. Against such rugged men as Jack Ercanbrack, Spike Flannigan and Hollis Long, Flaherty gave every evidence of being exceptionally what he professes to be a real Irishman with an Irish disposition and a terrific jolt in both hands.

Monday night Marty will present something never before seen in Wichita Falls. He will take on two opponents the same night, both of them being men of recognized ability. Duke Trammel, the cowtown slugger and Harry "Dago" Ryan, the ex-cowboy battler from Dallas. It has not yet been decided who will get first crack at Flaherty, but that decision will rest with him. He witnessed the bout between his two opponents last week and expressed himself as being unconcerned as to whom he fights first or last.

The semi-final will bring together two old rivals, Tex Ray and Buckshop Peoples, the fighting painter who astounded the fans with a series of successive knockouts here last winter.

Spike Flannigan, the sensational southpaw welter is to get a shot at the winner next week.

Six Second Smith who won a technical knockout over Wichita Slim a few weeks back when the latter injured his hand after having Smith on the floor several times will have to show plenty of speed to outslug the hard hitting Slim. These boys are rematched for 6 rounds.

Trooper Carr, doughty little bantamweight will step out of his class to take a crack at the erstwhile referee, Dale Bowlen, who scales about 15 pounds more than his opponent.

Bank Accounts in the Wichita State Bank & Trust Co., approximating $2,000.00 in Cash will be distributed by the Mission and Palace Theatres.

Watch this paper and the screens at the Mission and Palace for detailed announcement.

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Stock prices continued their recovery today despite rather heavy pre-holiday profit taking in several sections of the list. Public participation was on a broader scale, with buying orders distributed over a wide list both the rail and industrial averages closed higher on the day, with the day's sales aggregating 1,427,600 shares.

Bullish sentiment was created by the relative cheapness of money, the stiffening tendency of certain basic commodity prices record-breaking freight traffic and publication of another series of favorable April railroad earnings reports. A more optimistic tone also was noted in the comment of bankers and business men on the future business outlook.

A sharp upturn in many motor shares was believed to represent the running of an overcrowded short interest. Mack Truck, whose earnings are reported to be running at record levels, was bid up 4½ points to 112⅞, closing within half a point from the top. Chrysler, Hudson, Studebaker, American Bosch, Mafneto, Packard and Pierce-Arrow preferred, all advanced a point or two, and Reiney Wheel jumped 3 points to 35.

Realizing sales were particularly heavy in the oil shares, but closing 25 stocks generally showed only small fractional changes. Pan-American "B" crossed 72 to a new high on the current movement, but lost all its gain. Lago held firm throughout, advancing to within a small fraction of its high record on the "big board."

Steels were firm on buying influenced by the belief that the recent advance in steel bars would stimulate forward business on the part of consumers who withholding orders because of the recent declining price tendency for that commodity.

Atchison, Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Delaware & Hudson, Lehigh Valley, Nickel Plate, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred and the "Soo" issues recorded the best gains in the rail group. One of the best April reports to make its appearance during the day was that of the New York Central which showed net railway operating income of $3,385,617, an increase of $1,458,705 over the same month last year. The Baltimore and Ohio disclosed net of $2,304,236, an increase of $649,768.

Call money renewed at 5% per cent. It held steady at that figure all day, despite the usual heavy demands for holiday currency. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Another sharp advance of nearly 50 points in Spanish pesetas, which carried them to a new high record for the year at 15.25 cents reflected Morroccan victories of French and Spanish troops. Demand sterling was slightly firmer just above $4.86 and French francs ruled a few points higher just under 3.40 cents.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, May 27.—(AP)—Wheat for May delivery plunged widely downward 9 cents a bushel today. Arrival of a liberal amount of wheat here from Kansas City with more due in Chicago tomorrow over the Kansas City and from Omaha revealed that urgency of buyers seeking wheat to fill May contracts here had come to a sudden halt, for at least the time being. Widespread rains afforded relief from drouth. Lowered wheat prices for deliveries other than May. Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 2¾ to 7 cents net lower. Corn finished 1 cent to 1¼ cent lower; oats unchanged to ¾ cent off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 15 cents.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat weakness, July and September corn touched a new low price record for the season.

Provisions had a downward trend, influenced by the action of grain.

Londos Throws Bulgar Grappler

Jimmie Londos went on a spree of flying headlocks in the late minutes of his match with Neck Velcoff Monday night at the American Legion open-air arena and seven or eight consecutive headlocks was enough for Velcoff. He passed out after one hour and six minutes of wrestling.

Londos showed great speed on the foot, ability to stand the punishment and with wild dashes around the ring made Velcoff look more like a kitten than a lion.

Velcoff took the lead in the first part of the match with numerous headlocks and then tried to work with toe-holds but all of this failed to get Londos.

Rough tactics were employed by both men and they kept the crowd in an uproar with their fast work.

At the end of the fall the five-minute intermission found Velcoff still in the land of dreams and unable to continue. The bout was awarded to Londos on the one fall.

Before the match Marty Flaherty was introduced to the crowd.

Taio Myake won the preliminary match from Savage in a two round match. This bout kept the fans in an uproar.

The first twenty-minute round was without a fall and the Jap came back with a fall with a hammer lock in 13 minutes.

Special Service For Young People

Preparations are being made for a special young people's service Sunday night at the Floral Heights Methodist church, according to Rev. R. G. Percival, assistant pastor. He will preach on the subject, "Where Love Is, God Is," and in connection will review Tolstoi's story by the same title. The choior will give numbers appropriate to the occasion.

An invitation has been extended to the young people's organizations of the church to attend, and the junior department has announced they would sit together in a body for the sermon. The service begins at 8 o'clock.

Heavy Rains Only Bar To Best Crop Year In Texas, Survey Shows; Continued Showers Only Trouble

Upon the question of whether or not heavy rains visit Texas within the next three or four weeks hangs this year's prosperity for the state, according to indications of May crop reports compiled by the department of public relations of the Southland Life Insurance company.

Almost without exception the reports indicate a greater "boom" than was expected even last month with the single reservation that continuous or heavy rains can entirely upset the prediction.

In most sections of the state where these crops are in the ground, the wheat, oats and other small grain crops are moving to a harvest. In a few counties rust and worms have attacked, but damage from these sources is much lighter than was at first expected. And, unless these hazards increase, Texas will have the greatest oat and wheat crop in its history.

Corn Below Normal.

Corn, of course, is below normal and the crop has improved little since last month. Even rain and disastrous hail storms in the northern part of the state, however, have failed to dim prospects for an extremely good produce crop and many of the best sections of the state in east Texas report the crop above normal.

The outlook for cotton is still somewhat hazy. Practically every correspondent reports chances bright "providing it does not continue to rain." Cotton, although still from three to four weeks late in planting, yet has plenty of season before it necessary to make a crop. The danger from the boll weevil and army and cut worms has been minimized in most sections and seasonably dry weather will do much to eliminate much of this danger.

A typical report from one of the cotton counties says: "Cotton late, but promising. Plenty of season yet ahead and 60 days of dry weather will assure prosperity."

Panhandle Better.

Conditions in the Panhandle are better than they were in April's optimistic report; south and south central Texas appear to have improved slightly; and the Rio Grande valley is, as usual, flourishing.

The estimates:

	Percent of Normal	Same time Acreage Last year
Cotton	75 per cent	85 per cent Less
Corn	85 per cent	75 per cent Greater
Grains	125 per cent	85 per cent Greater
Vegetables	125 per cent	75 per cent Same
Fruit	60 per cent	85 per cent Same
Grass	150 per cent	70 per cent Same

Business conditions are reported more nearly normal than they have been since last year's drouth with excellent prospects and money somewhat easier. Cattle raising country again reports prospects excellent.

Wichita county reports conditions as above normal.

Scott Says Bribe Would Have Given Him Freedom

Mrs. Russell Scott, wife of the convicted Chicago robber and murderer, has told officials there that her husband related to her how he (above) could have walked out of the Chester penitentiary for the insane criminals had he been able through her to raise $5,000, asked as a bribe. He was eventually found sane and faces death by hanging.

Lauds Rockefeller

"The outstanding non-Jewish gift to the United Jewish campaign has been by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of New York who gave a check for $100,000 to the United Jewish campaign," Rabbi Samuel Phillips of Temple Israel said yesterday. His contribution went to that of New York City which totaled $6,000,000.

Recently the drive for the United Palestine appeal and the United Jewish relief closed in this city when more than the $15,000 quota for Wichita Falls was subscribed.

Board Finishes

The county commissioners completed their first session as a board of equilization Thursday shortly after noon, and adjourned until their regular meeting Monday at which time they will decide when they are to sit again and hear claims of property owners on the changed renditions.

For that reason cards notifying those whose renditions have been changed will not be mailed out until Tuesday.

National Guards Seek Airplanes

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP) Steps to supply national guard aviation units with up-to-date observation planes have been taken by the militia bureau which has requested that 12 standard O-2 planes be purchased for that purpose.

"This marks inauguration of a program looking to complete replacement of all training airplanes now in the hands of the national guard by June 30, 1928," the announcement said.

ELECTRA

COUNTY LINE CLUB

The County Line Home Demonstration club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tom Haynes, north of the city. Mrs. Dawson Walker who has been president of the club since January 1, was in charge of the meeting and business of the last session wa staken up. Much discussion of the voile dress contest was brought up and only four dresses have been entered from the County Line club. Miss Ethel Louise Webb announced that the council of the Home Demonstration clubs of this county will be held at the local chamber of commerce next Saturday at which time plans will be perfected for an encampment of the club women. There are three possible sites suggested for near Electra, one being the new Country clubhouse, the second the Lions club park and the third near Iowa Park. Byron T. Johnson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will be present and make a report on the better locations for the convention, and encampment.

Mrs. Walker, the president, resigned as she and Professor Walker leave soon for Palestine, Texas to make their home. Mrs. J. M. Denton was elected to succeed Mrs. Walker as president of the club. Reports on home industries were given by the ladies and Mrs. N. D. Cooper distributed questionnaires sent out by the Electra chamber of commerce in regard to information wanted by the Retail Merchants association.

Mrs. J. T. Groves announces that those who have dress to be sent to the voile dress contest in Iowa Park, June 2, will send the dresses to her to be entered at least two days before the contest.

Miss Webb conducted the lessons on yeast breads showing a chart giving methods of mixing the yeast and dough, and baking the bread. Mrs. O. A. Wittenbach, spoke on "kinds of flour, and flour suitable to the different breads." Tea rings, Parker house rolls, and cinnamon rolls were also discussed. Mrs. L. D. Langford spoke on canning.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. J. T. Groves, who with Miss Webb, sang several parodies on the popular numbers, with Mrs. Wittenbach at the piano. Miss Eloise Gafford read a number after which Mrs. W. O. Chester was asked to tell "the best joke on myself." Other personal experiences and jokes were asked for, the duet composed of Mrs. Groves and Miss Webb gave a concluding number, the "Love Sister" contest was concluded and the love sisters revealed and given their final rights, some of which were lovely pieces of hand work.

Refreshments of ice tea, sandwiches and two kinds of cake were served to the following:

Mesdames O. A. Wittenbach, Dawson Walker, R. L. Proud, S. F. Cooper, F. A. Weston, J. T. Haynes, L. D. Langford, Joe Sefcik, J. M. Denton, W. O. Chester, B. A. Weldon, J. T. Groves, N. D. Cooper, H. H. Haynes, Misses Ethel Louise Webb, Eloise Gafford, Annie Langford and Mary Lou Chester; and Otis Luttrel, with Miss Elizabeth Cooper.

COUNCIL MEETING

The last council meeting of the Parent-Teachers association, which will be held during the summer, was presided over by Mrs. Jodie D. Smith, the president of the Parent-Teacher associations in Electra, at the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, at their regular meeting hour, 4 o'clock. Mrs. Smith, in the business session spoke of a new year book for the council; gave a brief report of work pertaining to the council brought up at the Texas convention at Canyon last month. Plans were discussed for the library and it was reported that the council had already done many things for the library for which the school is grateful.

Mrs. Smith read a paper discussing the name, an dit was decided that each Parent-Teacher association should pay $1.00 monthly into the council. Mrs. E. J. Torvie, a former president of the Parent-Teachers association, spoke to some length on the bylaws and constitution of the organization, also reading a letter from the state officers. A motion and vote was to accept the constitution just as it is, with possibly a few amends. The national congress of mothers pin was won by the Thompson ward school which permits the president, Mrs. E. R. Keller, of the Thompson school for the past year to wear the pin.

Next in order came the introducing of officers, president of the first ward, Mrs. W. P. Kilpatrick was introduced first; Mrs. Hal Hughes, president of the Waggoner ward was second; and Mrs. Chisholm of the Thompson ward school. The officers of the council were not introduced.

The presidents of their retiring year for each school, made their reports, Mesdames Homer Jones, Kilpatrick, Keller and Dotson making their reports. Mrs. L. J. Crawford, the second vice-president of the high school division made a splendid report, as also did the treasurer, who reported that the council had $29.35 to start the new year with.

Several splendid reports for the year were made and Mrs. B. M. Hyde read the minutes of the last session. Mrs. C. M. Harvey was elected to take the office as executive of the local Camp Fire organization.

The meeting was dismissed by the Lord's Prayer.

There were 40 present, Tuesday afternoon.

Houston Wins Suit On Park Accident

HOUSTON, May 27.—(AP)—After arguing the case four days before the first court of civil appeals at Galveston, the city of Houston was victorious today in the now famous Vanderford case involving the liability of municipalities, for damages sustained in public parks.

The suit grew out of the drowning of a little girl, about two years old, in the wading pool at Settegast park in Houston over a year ago. Plaintiffs asked $25,000 damages, but the city's general demurrer was sustained both by the district court of Houston and the appellate court at Galveston.

Surprises Come In Feature Film At Strand Today

Struck down by a horned viper, whose sting is considered fatal, with no one to attend to him in his desert isolation except a physician who is his sworn enemy—can you see any chance of succor for the luckless Horace Pierpont.

Banish any thought of the nobility of mind on part of the doctor—he is drink-befuddled and, sensing an old love affair between his wife and his patient, he has only one instinct, and that is to exact revenge.

The outcome of this situation furnishes a tremendous surprise climax for "The Lady Who Lied," the new First National offering at the Strand theatre today.

The genius of Robert Hichens, noted novelist, whose tales of the Sahara are classics of literature, and whose "Snake Bite" forms the subject matter of the new play, is declared to have been preserved in every situation as transplanted to the screen.

Prominent in the cast assembled to interpret this unusual psychological drama are Lewis Stone, Virginia Valli and Nita Naldi.

Farflung locales form the background of the plot, with scenes of Algerian towns and desert, the picturesque carnival in Venice and its lagoons, and French Algiers as it lives at night among its extreme sites.

LONE STAR GAS OFFICERS HERE

Eastern Men on Trip Of Inspection to Panhandle

A prompt starting of work on the Lone Star Gas company's new 18-inch gas main from Wichita Falls to the gas fields in the Texas panhandle was promised Thursday noon by L. B. Denning, the company's president, who passed through Wichita Falls en route to Amarillo and the panhandle. Accompanying Mr. Denning were a number of the Lone Star officers and directors, including George W. Crawford, F. W. Crawford, director, and T. B. Gregory, director, of Pittsburgh; H. J. Crawford of Emeiton, Penn., and F. J. Chase, vice-president, and R. A. Crawford, vice-president and general manager. The group will spend tonight at Amarillo, using Friay to make a tour of the field, and returning to the north Saturday in their private car via the Santa Fe through Oklahoma.

Actual authorization of the board of directors for the gas main project was obtained in a meeting at Dallas Wednesday, Mr. Denning stated, the order being given at the time to go ahead with the work as quickly as possible.

The project planned by the Lone Star officials will give Wichita Falls a second gas main to the panhandle, the Upham Gas interests of Mineral Wells having just this week signed a contract for the laying of a 16-inch gas line from Wichita Falls to Shamrock. The Lone Star is as yet undetermined as to just what portion of the panhandle they will terminate their new line in, Mr. Denning stated Thursday, indicating however, that eventually the main will contain as much or more than 200 miles of the 18-inch line. It is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 and will keep several hundred men employed throughout its construction. It will follow the F. W. & D. C. line all the way to Amarillo.

It will be north Texas' largest gas line when completed, the company having already a 16-inch line out of the Petrolia field, and two other 18-inch lines out of Ranger to Dallas.

Theatre Sold

A new and complete modern combination moving picture and vaudeville theatre in keeping with greater Wichita Falls may be erected in this city by the Dent Theatres, Inc., owners of a great number of theatres in the city and who have recently acquired the Majestic, according to their announcement yesterday. The Marcus Brothers Tire company in the building joining the theatre was also included in the deal by the Dent Theatres, Inc.

The property was sold by the owners, George B. Ray and H. A. Muse, who have owned it for the past year. The sale was made for a consideration of approximately $100,000. It was completed by T. B. Noble, local real estate agent and insurance dealer.

The Majestic theatre, erected in 1908, was formerly called the Wichita theatre, and was opened in December of that year.

1870 Savory

From School Teacher To Great Eminence

A young man who was brought upon a farm in Western Pennsylvania studied diligently and qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save up enough to put him through medical college. He began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pennsylvania.

He was a student of nature, knew and could easily recognize most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods.

Later, he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and in a short time, they were sold to every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than 50 million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell the Gold Medical Discovery, in a liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial package of the tablets by sending 10c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Lovely Bermuda Once Swam the Seas!

Thousands of years ago tiny animals called coral, selected a spot at the bottom of the sea, where Bermuda now blooms, to die.. Others chose the same spot, myriads adding to the pile and petrifying as they "built," until finally islands appeared above the waves and Lovely Bermuda was formed.

'Twas the constant accumulation that wrought such marvelous results.

Systematic savings, even though so small they are hardly missed, plus the interest we pay, build a substantial bank account and insure future success.
