Strength Rolls Up For Home Guard Plan

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A movement to form a "home guard" composed primarily of World War veterans gathered headway in congress today as the senate approached a vote on the bill permitting the President to order the national guard into active training.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) asked the senate military committee to begin work Friday on legislation authorizing formation of state militia units to replace guardsmen called into federal service.

The measure, he told reporters, probably will follow generally plans outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt at a Hyde Park press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt said the organizations probably would be built around a nucleus of trained men furnished by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Whether the federal government would be called upon to furnish equipment and to aid in training the groups is a question to be settled, Sheppard said.

Senate debate on the national guard bill was interrupted yesterday by a fiery argument between Senators Holt (D-W. Va.) and Minton (D-Ind.) in which the words "liar" and "slacker" were shouted, but leaders set a time limit on speeches in order to get a vote late today.

Passage of the measure today would clear the way for opening debate tomorrow on the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.) said he thought the real test would come on a substitute submitted by Senator Maloney (D-Conn.).

Maloney would delay a selective draft until attempts had been made to obtain sufficient manpower thru voluntary enlistments.

Minton precipitated the heated exchange when he arose to shout, after Holt had attacked the conscription bill, that he was "getting impatient with being lectured by a slacker family."

Holt dubbed "malicious lies" Minton's charges that Holt's father had opposed sending food to the soldiers in France in the World War and Minton's assertion that Holt's brother had been "hidden away" in South America at that time to avoid the draft.

Later, in a radio address, Holt charged that attempts had been made to "smear" him in order to break his opposition to the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Britain Begins Negotiations For Tanks, Artillery

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The British government started negotiations here today for "hundreds of millions of dollars" of tanks, artillery, and other war supplies in addition to all previous Allied orders.

Arthur B. Purvis, chief British purchasing agent, who presented the program to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, told reporters his government was now seeking the purchase of many types of supplies not previously purchased in this country. He emphasized tanks and field artillery.

The British previously bought old artillery the United States had left over from the World War. The new program is for new weapons.

He declined to estimate to what figure the program might expand total British purchases in this country, but previous purchases, mostly airplanes, amounted to well over $1,000,000,000.

The British agent explained that the new program was for material to be delivered a considerable time in the future.

He indicated previous purchases had been made largely on the basis of immediate needs.

Italians In Position To Attack Egypt

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A concentration of at least two Italian divisions was reported on the Libyan frontier near the Mediterranean coast today and British military circles declared "it looks as though the Italians are ready" to advance into Egypt in a large scale campaign for realization of one of Mussolini's dreams—possession of Suez.

Official circles at Cairo denied, however, that the Italians already had crossed the frontier.

"The only Italian officers presently on Egyptian soil are one general and 818 officers and other ranks—prisoners," said a semi-official statement at British headquarters in Egypt.

(Yesterday's Italian communique said the British were put to flight "during a clash of advanced troops beyond the Cirenaican-Libyan border.)

Military circles here said the Italian divisions were concentrated in the Bardia area, adjacent to the Egyptian frontier.

This concentration is opposed by a small mobile British force of expert desert fighters who have been carrying out the first phase of the operations in Africa, a sort of guerrilla warfare of lightning raids, skirmishes and reconnaissance expeditions.

Britons were warned today by the Daily Express, which is owned by the Minister for Aircraft Production, Lord Beaverbrook, that they may expect "some Italian successes" in the war in Africa.

British military circles said Italian columns moving on Hargeisa and Dweina would have to cross high hills over a single track road "barely negotiable for vehicles."

Neutral military observers said these hill roads were possible points for the first British counter attacks.

No Damage Or Loss Of Life Yet Reported

Torrential Rains Accompany Wind In Orange Area

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 7 (AP)—Hundreds of residents fled this city and additional hundreds sought haven in public buildings today as the weather bureau warned that hurricane winds of around 90 miles an hour approached the Texas coast between here and Sabine, 14 miles south on the Gulf of Mexico.

Immediately east of here lies 10-mile-wide Sabine lake, over which the New Orleans weather bureau said the center of the increasing tropical storm would pass within the next few hours.

At noon the thrashing wind reached a velocity of 77 miles an hour with frequent puffs shrieking to 90 miles an hour.

The barometer lowered shortly after noon to 28.87, an all-time record for Port Arthur. Streets were littered with signs and broken window glass.

The weather bureau expected wind velocity of from 70 to 80 miles an hour at Port Arthur, and of about 70 miles at nearby Beaumont. Both cities of more than 60,000 population are in the center of a heavily-populated industrial area.

No great damage or loss of life had been reported in Texas thus far, and the coast guard at New Orleans announced receipt of a radio message from Morgan City, La., stating that 19 persons reported missing at Atchafalaya Bay had been picked up.

State highway police cleared beach settlements near Port Arthur, and one strong gust of wind tore away the weather bureau's wind gauge, which later was repaired. School buildings were jammed with residents who feared their homes might be torn away by the howling tropical hurricane. One house was demolished, but there were no reports of injuries.

The high wind wrecked signs and uprooted trees, but Port Arthur city officials believed the sea wall on Lake Sabine and levee protection elsewhere about the city would keep water from the lake out of the city itself. The wind, blowing from the north, reached 75 miles an hour at noon and was pushing the tide away from the city.

What the tide would do if the wind shifted to the east was a matter of speculation.

The barometer continued to fall at Port Arthur, with a reading of 29.03 at noon compared to 29.31 at 10 a. m. The reading at the coast guard station at Sabine was 28.74.

Britain Looks To U. S. For Needed Resources

(By The Associated Press)

Britain's urgent need of relating her wartime economic problems with the American national defense preparations was stressed in commons today as she faced the threat of a blitzkrieg invasion from across the channel and destruction of her vital Mediterranean lifeline by Italy.

Arthur Greenwood, laborite member of the war cabinet, told commons a new wartime economic committee had been formed, and added that since France as an ally was gone it was necessary to "supplement our own production by drawing upon the vast and invulnerable capacity of North America."

Even as he spoke Italy was giving every indication that Premier Benito Mussolini was ready at last to risk the fight which may make or break his African empire.

Reported troop concentrations on the Libyan-Egyptian border close to the eastern Mediterranean shore, jabbing blows at Kenya and British Somaliland, and air raids on Haifa, Palestine, and other British positions in the near east strengthened the belief that the "hour of destiny" of which Mussolini spoke two months ago upon the declaration of war was at hand.

The British were even warned to expect some Italian successes in the African campaign.

The opinion was noted in some quarters that the threat of a Nazi blitzkrieg against England was perhaps nothing more than a diversion in the strategy to conquer the African continent, seize the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal and thus break the British empire's life-line to the far east.

At the same time Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, declared in Il Giornale D'Italia that Italy and Germany had no designs on the western hemisphere and were concerned with the solution of Europe's problems.

Gayda wrote that Secretary of State Cordell Hull was "creating a phantom of German-Italian menace" for political purposes when he declared yesterday that the American people must be prepared to make sacrifices in preparing to arm to meet any attack from abroad.

Gayda's newspaper also carried today a dispatch from Algeciras, Spain, reported that two planes had bombed Gibraltar, British fortress. The Italian high command's communique did not mention the attack.

The raid on Haifa, important oil center, was the third since the war began. Gasoline tanks and port facilities were reported by the Italian high command to have been badly damaged.

There were other raids in east

The War Today

(By DEWTT MACKENZIE)

Mussolini's attack on the British in Africa serves the logical purpose of compelling England to conduct two crucial, big-scale military operations simultaneously, thereby dividing her strength at a moment when she needs all she can muster for home defense against Hitler.

The Italian campaign represents more than that, however—assuming that what we have seen thus far is a serious offensive and not a feint. It is a blow at one of the very foundation stones of the British empire—control of the vast Mediterranean area and the Suez canal.

Of the three places at which Il Duce is striking simultaneously, the push against Egypt from Libya is by far the most vital. The drives into Kenya colony and British Somaliland from Ethiopia do not at this juncture present any real menace, though they undoubtedly would were he successful in Egypt and the Sudan.

Were the Italians to overrun Egypt and capture the Suez canal it would represent a disaster of the first magnitude for the English. Among other things it would mean:

England's domination of the Mediterranean would be smashed.

The imperial lifeline via Suez to India and the other great dominions of the far east would be severed.

By the same token, British influence in the Orient would be dealt a terrific blow, thereby giving Japan the chance she wants for hegemony.

England would lose her control of the near east and her powerful hold on the great Arabian population.

She also would lose control of vast oil fields in the Persian gulf region.

British opposition to a possible German offensive down through the Balkans would be removed, and those Dardanelles might come under Hitler's control.

Strangely enough, though, should this catastrophie be visited on England it wouldn't necessarily break her blockade of Europe. So long as her navy could control the oceans,

New School Bus Delivered Here

A new bus has been received by the Pampa Independent School district and two other new vehicles for Pampa are in transit.

Roy McMillen, school district business manager, returned to Pampa Monday driving a 24-passenger Mercury, with 134-inch wheelbase, equipped with a Wayne all-steel sectional body. He left here July 28.

The car was delivered to him in Richmond, Ind. Joe Shelton and son Charles also accepted delivery of one bus each at Richmond, of the same type.

Bus Superintendent Joe Shelton, Charles and other members of the family are en route home with the buses, combining a vacation trip in Arkansas and Kentucky with their journey.

Cost of each of the new buses is $1,300. The trio of old buses were traded in on the deal, leaving the total number of Pampa school district vehicles at the same figure, eighteen.

Where the new buses are to be used has not been definitely decided. The vehicles will serve thinly populatd areas of the district, Mr. McMillen said.

Springfield Woman Killed In 'Jungle'

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 7 (AP)—The gagged and stabbed body of Miss Rose Lodi, 22, attractive employe of a Springfield match company, was found today, partly disrobed, in a roadside thicket.

She disappeared yesterday afternoon while enroute to her employment.

The area in which the body was found, police said, is frequented by vagrants, known to authorities as "wood dogs."

State Department Asks For Text Of Cudahy Interview

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The state department asked Ambassador Kennedy in London today for a complete text of the interview given there yesterday by John P. Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium, which was sharply criticized by the British press.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said Cudahy's interview in which he described the food situation in Belgium as approaching a famine condition, was granted without prior consultation with or authority from the state department.

Discussing conditions in Belgium, Cudahy also said in the interview:

"I was a soldier in the last war and I think these Germans behaved better than United States soldiers would have done."

Navy Objects To Obscene Painting

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The roisterous title—"Sailors and Floozies"—was bad enough, but when the navy saw that painting, it knew it had been outraged.

And as the result of that Paul Cadmus' conception of a sailor's diversions ashore came down in a hurry from where it was hanging in the Palace of Fine Arts at Treasure Island.

Conceding that the painting was "unnecessarily dirty," Dr. Walter Heil, one of the officials at the fine arts exhibit, said "if it were a master work, I'd take a stand against shelving it."

"The navy wanted to make a to do about the picture, so we thought it simpler to remove it," he explained.

Congress Presented New Profits Tax Law

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—An excess profits tax bill was offered congress by a house subcommittee today in an effort to raise $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year from corporation earnings under the defense program.

The new levy would range from 25 to 40 per cent on certain proportions of industrial profits.

Coupled with it was a plan to let the cost of plant expansion for defense purposes be charged off against company earnings within five years, at the rate of 20 per cent a year. Should the emergency end earlier, the annual deductions would be proportionately greater.

To determine the excess profits tax, alternate bases of actual profits or invested capital were proposed. A corporation would take:

1. The difference between profits in 1940 and the average profits in the 1936-1939 base period, or

2. The return on invested capital, also computed on the base period.

Pampans Abusing Parking Favors

Pampans are making a traffic hazard out of West Brown street, Police Chief John B. Wilkinson said today.

Parking cars three and four deep in front of Road Runner park on baseball game nights is practically blocking the street.

A dangerous situation is created as persons moving in and out of the line of cars on foot are liable to be hit by automobiles backing out or moving along the street.

"Somebody's liable to get hurt and we could have a serious accident," Chief Wilkinson said.

He indicated that the police department felt that Pampans were taking advantage of departmental leniency and that restrictions would have to be enforced if the multiple parking privilege was abused further.

'Pendergast' Solon Leads In Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7. (AP)—Senator Harry S. Truman, who had been termed "the Pendergast senator" by his two opponents in Missouri's primary campaign, rode a swelling tide of city votes into the lead today in his bid for Democratic renomination.

The senator, elected in 1934 with the support of Tom Pendergast, the now fallen Kansas City political "boss," ran behind Gov. Lloyd C. Stark in the rural precincts, but shot ahead on an outpouring of votes from Kansas City and St. Louis.

Maurice M. Milligan, former U. S. district attorney at Kansas City and prosecutor of Pendergast on income tax evasion charges, tagged behind.

Unofficial returns from 3,714 of the state's 4,447 precincts gave Truman 222,936 votes, Stark 218,292, and Milligan 105,609.

Lawrence McDaniel of St. Louis, who shared with Truman the brunt of "bossism" outcries from campaign rivals, held a comfortable lead over State Senator Allen McReynolds of Carthage in the Democratic gubernatorial race.

Manvel H. Davis of Kansas City and Forrest C. Donnell of St. Louis appeared to have won the Republican nominations for senator and governor, respectively.

Primrose Party To Be Given For Pioneers Friday

All men and women of Pampa 70 years of age and over are invited to be the guests of the Federation of Church Women at a Primrose party to be given on the lawn of the First Methodist church Friday afternoon. In case of rain, the party will be held in the church basement.

The program, which will begin at 4 o'clock, will include an old-fashioned sing song, special group singing, two numbers by Helen Kay Wilson, and vibraharp numbers by Arthur Nelson.

Individual churches are arranging transportation for the guests but anyone who does not have a way may call Mrs. C. E. Cary.

Fence Around School Campus A Protection

Cultural tastes, or perhaps the native Texan spirit of liking the unfenced range, has given rise to some criticism of the fence being constructed around the half of the block containing the Pampa High school building.

Answering critics who have protested that the "fence makes the school look like a penitentiary," Roy McMillen, business manager of the Pampa Independent School district, said:

"The purpose of the fence is to save lives. When a boy is playing ball and the ball goes into the street, his idea is to get the ball, not to watch out for cars. So the fence is up first to stop the ball, then if the ball goes over the fence, to stop the boy."

Construction of the fence was started early this week by two school employes. The fence extends 415 feet and two inches from the high school gymnasium on N. Cuyler street, to the intersection of Cuyler and Francis, thence west along Francis to a location opposite the east entrance to the high school building.

The fence is 10 feet high and stretched on iron posts that are sunk in concrete 34 inches below the ground. Building of the fence is expected to be completed tomorrow.

Murder Charged Snake Cult Leader

TIFTON, Ga., Aug. 7 (AP)—Sheriff N. N. Hughes of Berrien county said today a murder warrant had been issued for W. T. Lipham, leader of a snake-handling religious cult, in connection with the death of Mrs. Jeffie Smith.

Mrs. Smith died two years ago in Ray City, reportedly after being bitten by a poisonous snake in rites similar to those in which six-year-old Letha Mae Rowan recently was bitten.

Heat Wave Hatches Chick

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Aug. 7 (AP)—Farmer John Tart couldn't account for the plaintive peeping coming from somewhere in the house and he knew he hadn't any baby chicks.

But when he opened a door to a cabinet, out hopped a chick. He says the heat wave hatched one of the eggs stored there.

License Examinations Held Here Tuesdays

Although day of the weekly drivers license examinations in Gray county was changed more than a month ago, many Gray county motorists still call on Thursdays, unaware of the altered schedule.

Place of the examinations is unchanged from the office of the county tax officer in the court house, but the day is now Tuesday, not Thursday, and the hours from 8 to 11 a. m., instead of the former 1 to 4 p. m.

Byron L. St. Clair and Glenn Abbott, of the Texas Highway patrol, both of Amarillo, conducted the tests here yesterday.

Trotsky Estate Now Veritable Fortress

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7 (AP)—Leon Trotsky, Russian exile who escaped machine-gunning by would-be assassins May 24, is transforming his estate at Suburban Coyoacan into a veritable fortress to guard against any further attempt on his life.

Workmen are erecting three brick and concrete towers equipped with narrow slits through which riflemen could dominate the walls encircling the estate.

Another tower atop the residence is being remodelled along similar lines, windows nearest the street have been barred, and the guards have been equipped with floodlights.

Kansas Nominates Ratner And Burke

Ratner, a Republican serving his first term, overwhelmed Jay A. Welch, Haddam banker, and C. D. Lank, Wichita pickle manufacturer.

Pat Lyng Wanted Touch Of Blarney Stone Last Night

Patrick Francis Lyng, as true an Irishman as ever left the old sod, is idle for the first time in his life and he doesn't know how to act. He is also speechless, probably for the first time in his life, too.

Patrick, who has been a driller for The Texas company since 1928, was retired on August 1. Last night fellow employes honored him at a picnic during which they presented him with a well-filled purse. The present was made by W. I. Gilbert who congratulated and praised Lyng for his excellent record with the company.

Fellow employes, introduced by "Stormy" Jordan, who acted as toastmaster, paid tribute to the veteran driller.

When the popular Irishman was called to the platform, he was speechless and tears were in his eyes. He finally cleared his throat and thanked his fellow workers for the generous gift. He also praised the company for which he had been employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyng and their five children plan to settle on a plot of land in Missouri.

"Pat," as he is known in nearly every gold camp in Colorado and oilfield in the southwest, came to the United States form of government. Pat replied, "I'll bet I can answer more questions than any nine out of 10 men on the street."

He started in Cripple Creek and other Colorado fields. He also mined coal for years. In the early part of the century he turned to the oilfields, working as a roughneck, tooldresser and driller in Oklahoma and Texas. He joined The Texas company in 1928. He is the first Texas company employe in the Panhandle field to be retired.

When it came time for him to retire, Pat was asked to furnish proof of his age. He didn't have a birth certificate so he wrote to Washington and asked for proof from his naturalization papers. But he was informed that he was never naturalized. That was when Pat discovered that although he went through the process of becoming naturalized in the 1890's in Colorado, his papers had apparently been lost.

So Pat had to go through the procedure and it wasn't until May of this year that he officially became a citizen.

"And to think I've been votin' iver since 1895," Pat remarked. "Sure an' I've helped elect many a many a man, illegally, I'm afraid," he remarked after getting his final papers.

When asked if he knew about the United States form of government, Pat replied, "I'll bet I can answer more questions than any nine out of 10 men on the street."

Pilot Killed In Texas Plane Crash

(Presumably the plane was from a San Antonio army flying field.)

The ship crashed into a heavily wooded section of a ranch and was not found until 3 a. m. today. The body was thrown clear of the wreckage. Part of the plane and trees and grass nearby were burned.

Observers said flares were dropped just before the crash. Army authorities on the scene refused to divulge details.

Miss Eula Johns Becomes Bride Of Burton Hobson Tuesday Evening

Popular Couple To Be At Home Here After Trip

In an impressive ceremony solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the First Methodist church, Miss Eula Marie Johns, daughter of Mrs. R. D. Johns of Kansas City, became the bride of W. Burton Hobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hobson of Vernon.

The Rev. Robert Boshen, minister of First Presbyterian church, officiated as the vows were read at an altar banked in a profusion of palms and smilax. Tapers in white candelabra illuminated the arrangement which was flanked with white urns of white gladioli.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Tom Rose played a program of organ numbers including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" (Victor Herbert), "Oh, Promise Me" (Reginal De Koven), and "Serenade" (Schubert). Miss Alfred Gilliland sang "Because" (Guy D' Hardlot), and "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs Bond).

As Mrs. Rose played the processional, the Rev. Boshen, the bridegroom, and his brother, Hunter Hobson of Vernon, who served as best man, entered from the right as Miss Aidelle Johns, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, came down the left aisle.

Miss Aidelle, who was gowned in dusty rose slipper satin, wore matching lace mittens and a head dress of Better Times roses and lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of the same flower.

The bride, who was given in marriage by T. G. Green, was attractive in a gown of ivory duchess satin made on princess lines with sweetheart necklines, long fitted sleeves, and a full skirt which extended into a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of stephanotis. She carried a white prayer book covered in Johanna Hill roses with a shower of white satin ribbons knotted with stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Johns, mother of the bride, was dressed in navy blue with a corsage of white carnations, and Mrs. Hobson, mother of the bridegroom, wore black with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Rose wore aqua blue with a white gladioli corsage and Mrs. Gilliland, pink lace with an orchid sweet pea corsage.

Ushers were George Grammas and Charles Lambka.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Jones, 609 North Somerville street. The house was decorated with urns of white gladioli and the table, which was laid with a white satin damask cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The centerpiece was encircled in a lei of white gladioli and pink tapers lighted the table.

Mrs. John Ketler, who wore a corsage of white gladioli, presided at the cake while Mrs. Leo Recknagle and Mrs. Frank Hood poured punch. Miss Etha Jones had charge of the bride's book.

The couple left after the reception on a 10-day trip to Lake City, Colorado, after which they will be at home at 518 North Faulkner street. For traveling, Mrs. Hobson chose a dusty pink light wool suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white rosebuds.

Mrs. Hobson, who was graduated from the high school at Wilson, Oklahoma, has been employed at the Fatheree Drug store here. Mr. Hobson, a graduate of Vernon High school, is connected with Tom Rose Ford company.

Out-of-town guests were Lowell Rushing of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hobson of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morris, Mrs. R. D. Johns, and Miss Aidelle Johns of Kansas City, and Mrs. T. B. Daniels of Vernon.

Wall Decorations Discussed At First Meeting Of HD Club

"Pictures and Wall Decorations for the Home" was the subject discussed at the first meeting of Hopkins Home Demonstration club which was held in the home of Mrs. Howard Reed.

Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, agent, gave a demonstration on proper hanging and added that one should not have too many pictures as they make a room look smaller. Mirrors, wall vases, and flower pots add attractiveness to any room, continued Mrs. Kelley.

Refreshments of salad, cheese wafers, and punch, were served to six members and Mrs. Julia E. Kelley.

The second meeting of the club was in the home of Mrs. Sam Williams when kitchen and bathroom shades and curtains was the topic with Mrs. G. C. Blalock as leader.

"Oil cloth or plain white canvas make durable shades for the bathroom and are very inexpensive," said Mrs. Blalock.

Mrs. C. F. Jones, who demonstrated material and colors in curtains, showed a bathroom curtain of white crossbar batiste trimmed with blue bias tape and morning glory applique in the same shade of blue as the tape. Matching lid cover and bathmat were made of quilted table padding bound with the bias tape and appliqued in the same design and color. Mrs. Jones stated that this was a McCall pattern and could be purchased at any department store selling McCall patterns.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by the hostess to nine members and one visitor.

37,000 RAF Bombs Have Fallen On German Territory In Month

By DREW MIDDLETON

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE, SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 7 (AP)—Long hours of methodical preparation go into every one of the hundreds of raids in which royal air force bombers have battered at the heart of industrial Germany.

Here is a description typical of any of the last 30 days during which the RAF has dropped 37,000 bombs.

Objective: the Ruhr valley.

At noon, as orders come through specifying the target and the number of planes to be used, the RAF station goes into action.

All through the afternoon, sweating men in overalls feed gas to the heavy bombers, overhaul motors, restock the gunners' supplies of machine-gun bullets, prepare the bomb racks.

Pilots bend over plotting their courses—"Guns are pretty thick there. Better go north of it."

Then comes dinner, a merry meal despite the possibility that in 12 hours, at another meal, some places at the table may be empty.

At 11 p. m. when the English countryside sinks into sleep in the hush of a summer evening, a Whitley bomber, bearing two tons of bombs, trundles down the runway. A moment later it noses ponderously into the air.

The others follow. They fly above the airdrome for a moment, then the motors break into a roar and the formation heads east toward the channel.

As the drone of engines dies, the ground crews troop off to their billets to sleep. The raiders will keep silent until sometime during the night one word will flash back to the command, telling whether the bombing was successful.

What's it like?

A flight lieutenant who has flown his Whitley over Germany two of every three nights for six weeks gives this picture:

"We know the continent as we know our own pockets, from the leaflet flights (which preceded actual bombings). It's easy going until we reach Germany. We rendezvous and then glide toward the target to obtain maximum surprise.

"When you near the target, things heat up. It's dark, then suddenly searchlights are around you like pillars of white. Their anti-aircraft starts to hammer.

"Their blackout is very good. So if there's no moon, we drop flares. Moonlit bombing is a picnic. The blackout doesn't help very much then. We go over the target, drop our 'sticks' (dropping the bomb load in a line across the target) and head home singly."

German fighter planes don't bother him, he says, with the true bomber pilot's scorn of fighters.

When German barrage balloons were mentioned he laughed and said, "Sometimes we give them a couple of rounds on our way home."

As returning planes pass over the coast, they give a recognition signal.

The ground crews wait at the airdrome counting planes as they come in. The first plane lands and its weary crew steps out, joins in scanning the skies and counting other planes, swearing or praying according to their natures.

Then they go silently to breakfast and bed.

The ground crews work the planes over to their ground "garages."

There is silence over the vast expanse of airdrome as dawn breaks.

But in five or six hours the telephone from general headquarters of the RAF will ring briskly. Another night's work will start.

Permanent Munitions Industry Plan Urged

By REG INGRAHAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A permanent munitions industry, owned largely by the federal government and capable of supplying an army of 2,000,000 men, emerged today as one of the major goals of the defense program.

Robert A. Patterson, new assistant secretary of war, described as an "innovation" the idea that most of the projected 60 ordinance plants to be built with government funds would be established on a permanent basis.

The United States has maintained a system of government arsenals which formed the nucleus of a munitions industry but which was not capable of rapid expansion in an emergency.

To prepare better for future crises, Patterson said the new powder, loading and storage plants would be designed for long life. He made it plain, however, that they would be operated only for such periods as are necessary to prepare the required stocks of munitions.

The army already has been given $244,000,000 of the $700,000,000 required for the new plants and has contracted with the Dupont interests to operate a $25,000,000 powder plant in southern Indiana. A shortage of labor capable of manning the necessary loading plants is proving something of a problem, Patterson said, adding that one or two such plants probably would be the next for which contracts would be let.

"We want to be sure of a source of supply for the forces we already have," he explained. The rest of the program would come along more slowly, he said.

Axis Powers Have No Design On U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

Rome, Aug. 7—Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, replied today to the warning of United States Secretary of State Hull against the danger of aggression by declaring that Germany and Italy have no intention of carrying the war into the western hemisphere.

Gayda wrote in Il Giornale d'Italia that Hull was "creating a phantom of German-Italian menace" for political purposes.

(Hull's statement yesterday asked the American people to "be ready and willing for real sacrifice of time and of substance and for hard personal service" and to "arm to such an extent that the forces of conquest and ruin will not dare to make an attack on us or any part of this hemisphere.")

Italy and Germany entered the war to solve European problems and "never thought and will never think of threatening other continents," Gayda asserted.

The Fascist editor declared Hull was attempting to "create an atmosphere favorable to that of the objectives of American politics."

One of these objectives, he continued, was "North American imperialism directed toward a monopolizing political, financial and economic control over other American countries under the specious pretext of non-existent threats from across the ocean."

German Diplomatic Staffs In Americas May Be Shaken Up

By J. C. STARK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A shakeup of German diplomatic and consular staffs in the western hemisphere was forecast in reliable quarters today as a result of measures adopted at the Havana Pan-American conference against "fifth column" activities.

German authorities were said to be perturbed by the determined attitude of the American republics and by the manner in which some Nazi officials have aroused concern in the countries where they were stationed.

A possible withdrawal of a considerable number and their replacement by diplomatic officials less active as Nazi party members was expected by some well-informed persons.

Washington developments relating to foreign agents' activities included:

1. The interstate commission on crime demanded an investigation of what it termed "Nazi-Fascists' use of attaches of legations and consulates for subversive propaganda and other fifth column activities."

2. The federal bureau of investigation announced its field officers would go on a 24-hour daily schedule to expedite investigations of fifth column suspects.

3. The house passed and sent to the senate a measure to permit the FBI to tap wires in investigations of sabotage, treason and espionage.

One German agent in the United States believed listed for early recall was Dr. Gerhard Westrick, the commercial counselor of the German embassy.

The publicity given his relations with prominent business men in New York and his activities generally was understood to have met disapproval of German authorities.

Another possibly due for a transfer was Baron Edgar von Spiegel, German consul general at New Orleans. A remark attributed to him that Germany would not forget aid given its enemies by the United States caused a state department inquiry.

Shamrock Firemen Back From School

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, Aug. 7—Ira Wall and Ward McPherson returned Saturday from College Station where they attended the annual training school for firemen. The training school is held one week each summer and intensive training in all phases of fire fighting is given by the extension service.

Technical instruction in the use of fire fighting equipment and latest methods in fire fighting were given during the week and each fireman attending took nine subjects, each one an important phase of the work.

Wall and McPherson will pass on the benefits they received in the school to all the local department in a series of lessons beginning at the regular firemens meeting Tuesday night and continuing each Tuesday night practice until each local man has full instruction in these methods.

Committee Named To Direct Economic War

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio, announced to the house of commons today the organization of a committee composed of himself as chairman, Neville Chamberlain and Sir Kingsley Wood to direct Britain's economic war policy.

He declared that the war "may be prolonged and prodigious suffering may be inflicted before victory is achieved unless all the economic resources of our commonwealth, our allies and friends are mobilized to the fullest possible extent."

Greenwood said Germany and the territories she has overrun are facing famine this winter and that next spring the pinch will be even worse.

"Hitler cannot add starvation to slavery without running the grave risk of revolution within his own territory," he said.

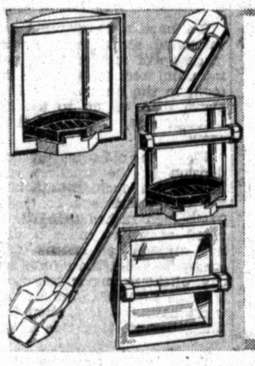

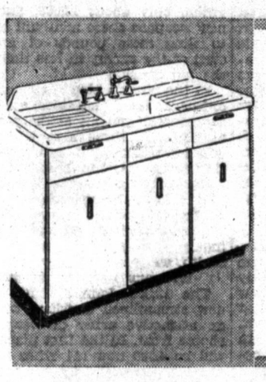

Greenwood said some of Germany's chief industrial areas and airdromes had "suffered very heavy punishment" from British fliers and the "output undoubtedly is seriously interferred with."

"Oil refineries, stores, railway junctions, marshalling yards, docks, and ships have been and will continue to be targets for our deadly bombing planes, night by night and week by week, more heavily as our bombing strength increases," the minister said.

649 Years Of Freedom

In days when many things are being swept away by that flood, it is pleasant to look upon so firm, even if so small a rock.

They have been pointing out some of the virtues that have enabled Switzerland to survive when others have fallen. Switzerland has every disadvantage that is supposed to go with democracy. It is, in many ways, the most democratic country in the world. Yet it thrives.

Its population is mixed. Seventy per cent of them speak German. But "Fifth Columning" is negligible. Why? Because the regime is so just, so advantageous, that practically every Sweitzer knows he is better off than under a totalitarian system.

Switzerland is poor. It depends on export and import, from which it has been largely cut off by the war. Yet so rugged and independent are its people that they have simply pulled in their collective belt and settled down to wait until conditions clear up.

Switzerland is small and weak. There is no question that it could be overrun by neighboring conquerors. But Switzerland is prepared and resolute. The cost of any such invasion in the face of the natural ruggedness of country and people would be out of proportion to the loot. So in the midst of war, Switzerland remains at peace.

Switzerland is a living demonstration of the principle of live and let live.

There are four distinct cultures, German, Italian, French and Romansch. People of each are allowed to live culturally as they wish. Yet by co-operating in affairs common to all, they have achieved a country without great wealth, yet without dire poverty either.

They have achieved a country in which every male citizen is a trained soldier, and yet which is not militaristic.

They have achieved a country in which freedom can and does live side by side with patriotism, military effectiveness, industrial efficiency, and social progress.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7—Nation-wide registration of aliens beginning Aug. 27 will be neither a glorified redhunt nor a means of compiling a black-list by which super patriots can chase foreign-born workers out of their jobs, if the man who is running the show has anything to say about it.

This man is Earl G. Harrison, a youthful-looking Republican lawyer from Philadelphia, who is working until midnight five or six nights a week preparing the machinery which will make the names, finger prints and personal histories of from three to six million people part of the official records of the U. S. government.

Big idea is to find out exactly how many aliens there are in the country, where they came from, what they're doing and who they are. A good many liberals have been worried about the uses to which all of this data may be put. Here is Harrison's answer.

"The full extent of the government's policy hasn't been worked out yet," he says. "But two things are perfectly clear:

"First, Congress made it emphatic that these records are to be secret and confidential.

"Second, the lists will be available only to such persons or agencies as are approved by the attorney general.

"It's rather funny, maybe, but already we've had quite a reaction indicating that the foreign-born themselves aren't going to be nearly as concerned about this registration as some of our own citizens are. Most of these foreign born people are used to this sort of thing, back home."

WON'T HAVE TO CARRY CARDS

The whole job is going to be handled by the Postoffice Department. Veteran postal employes in all first and second class postoffices, and in all postoffices in county seat towns, will have questionnaires which each alien must answer.

Wording of these hasn't been finally determined. They'll ask the alien's name, the date and place of his entry, his nicknames or aliases, if any, his criminal record if he has one, his occupation, how long he intends to stay and what he intends to do, what societies or organizations he belongs to, and so on.

The finger-printing part of the job is rather a headache. FBI agents are preparing a set of instructions so that the postal men will know how to do it.

Registration will last four months. The 1930 census showed something over 6,000,000 aliens in the United States. Best guess is that naturalization, deaths and emigrations have cut this to about 3,500,000.

Each alien's registration card and prints will be sent to Harrison's office in Washington. A receipt will be mailed to the alien and he'll be asked to keep it but he won't be required to carry it around with him like a European card of identity.

PICKED BY BIDDLE

Harrison was picked for this job by an old friend, Solicitor General Francis Biddle. He has never held public office before, although he has had a good deal of experience with the foreign-born; while working his way through the University of Pennsylvania, 20-odd years ago, he taught night school classes in English, and more recently he was president of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, which in 1939 waged a campaign against proposed Pennsylvania legislation involving discrimination against aliens.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

YOUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

Loose thinking resulted in my hearing the contention from a pulpit that we are, in fact, our brother's keeper. I believe statements like this, without qualifying and explaining what is meant by being the keeper of one's brother, has done as much harm as any other belief. Preachers are usually emotional and have little regard for after-effects. So the contention should be discussed.

Even God did not attempt to be the keeper of men. He gave man freedom of choice and permitted him, as the allegory explains, to eat of the forbidden fruit. And if God did not think He was wise enough to keep mankind, certainly some men should not assume the responsibility of being his brother's keeper.

Contradictory To Americanism

If Christianity means we are our brother's keeper, then the United States government was not founded on Christian principles. Every student of history knows that it was; that it was founded on the law of equal freedom to have the use of one's faculties. This is the very cornerstone of Christian principles. If this statement that we, collectively, are our brother's keeper, be true, then a man could not be both a good American and a good Christian.

Of course, man should be interested in his fellowman and be willing to assist him, provided he is willing to try to help himself. But that is not being your brother's keeper.

Live By Sweat

The old admonition that man should live by the sweat of his face, and, as Saint Paul advised that he who would not work should not eat, certainly is evidence that the Christian philosophy did not intend for one group of people to keep or control the lives of others.

If a man would keep another, he must regulate and control him so he can be kept.

This idea that man is his brother's keeper is nothing but pure socialism and communism. It is invariably advocated by people who do not supply much material help to their brothers themselves but want to compel and coerce others to keep the unfortunates. They want to do this invariably by voting majority and relieve themselves of the responsibility of actually furnishing material things they contend should be given to each individual, whether he earns them or not. They seem to forget that Jesus said, "Have I no right to do what I please with what is mine?"

We certainly should try to get our neighbor to understand the importance of following the law of equal freedom. This, however, is not altruism. It is just common sense and self-preservation. The man who devotes a great deal of time and energy trying to get others to understand this principle is not the man who wants to claim special approbation and an important place in society for himself for doing this.

The man, however, who wants to force others to be his brother's keeper is invariably the man who wants to be put down as a great humanist and a great lover of his fellowman for attempting to coerce other people to do things that he does not want to do himself.

MOST IMPORTANT TEMPERANCE

At a Sunday School class meeting Temperance was discussed in the usual manner stressing non-use of alconolic liquors. This is important, but is of little importance compared with being temperate in trying to regulate the lives of your fellowman.

Most of the members of the class, like many who like to have an easy standard of goodness, seemed to be convinced that the greatest service they could be to their fellowman from a temperance point of view, would be to pass a law to prohibit other people from having alcoholic liquors.

They did not seem to realize that when people desire the state to take away the civil rights of an individual to make him be healthy, that, sooner or later, this same government will take away the rights of free speech, free religion and free enterprise.

The members of the church should be the greatest fighters and set the best examples of all for tolerance as to the civil rights of others and not attempt to coerce by law people to be good, as long as they are only directly injuring themselves by so doing. God gave man the right of choice. He did not expect the government to protect himself against himself.

This intemperance in the desire to control others has grown and grown and grown, until we are rapidly losing the very fundamental principle on which Christianity and this nation was founded.

The Nation's Press

MEXICO'S OIL TROUBLES
(Los Angeles Times)

President Cardenas' long-threatened decree slashing the pay and the privileges of Mexican oil workers emphasizes that when Mexico expropriated according to Mexico, or confiscated, according to the owners, the property of foreign oil companies she did not acquire any bonanza.

The seizure, it will be recalled, was on the ground that the oil companies had refused to pay the wages and provide the working conditions which the unions said they wanted and which the Mexican labor court decided they were entitled to.

They did not get these wages and conditions when the Mexican government took over the properties, but attempting to work the fields on a more modest wage scale has proved a fiscal impossibility. Last year's deficit from oil operations was $4,400,000, and the first six months of this year showed a deficit of $3,200,000.

The Cardenas cuts will save about $2,000,000, it is said, which is obviously far from enough to meet the deficit. It looks as though government ownership and operation of the oil business, in Mexico at least, is just a big headache.

NO WONDER
(Pittsburgh Post-Gazette)

Back in 1930 Washington, D. C. had a population of 486,869. It has increased 36.6 per cent in the last decade, to 663,153. A considerable share of that increase is due to federal employes, who numbered 68,510 10 years ago and 130,937 last June, without counting their families. And civil service spokesmen estimate another 5,000 federal workers with 15,000 dependents, will arrive on the defense boom shortly.

Under those circumstances, is it any wonder that a special paragraph was included in the Democratic platform, supporting extension of the right of suffrage to the residents of the District of Columbia? Think of all the good Democrats down there.

SUMMER IN WASHINGTON

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7—There have been many favorable estimates of the talents of Katharine Hepburn, especially since her stage triumph in "Philadelphia Story." But I believe this department is the first to be able to report authoritatively that she is an actress to the tips of her toes.

For one sequence in Metro's filming of the play, Miss Hepburn not only emoted from those extremities, but also appeared to be squiffed to her patrician eyebrows. She and Jimmy Stewart had had a big night (with conversation and champagne) by a swimming pool, and she now was allowing herself to be carried in his unsteady arms to the house. Her hair was damply disheveled and except for bare arms and legs she was wrapped in an old brown robe.

Thus greeting the dawn, they also met the man whom she was supposed to marry that day. In defiance of such an awkward situation, Miss Hepburn proceeded to embrace Mr. Stewart. With her shoes on, this would have been only an ardent gesture. With her feet bare, it was something to watch. While her arms clutched the man carrying her, her rather long and astonishingly prehensile toes intertwined and clasped. If feet can behave ecstatically, hers did. All this was carefully recorded by eight shots of the camera under the direction of appreciative George Cukor.

"NEW HEPBURN" WORTHY OF AN AWARD

Hollywood has had a hard time reconciling itself to the completely ingratiating manners of the New Katie Hepburn. All I can say is that if her current cordiality is an act, it is a performance worth an Academy award. Because her behavior goes beyond mere tolerance of visitors on the set and amenity to interviews, she's the life of the company and the darling of the press agents. Still-picture cameramen find her an easy subject, and she rejects fewer photographs than almost any other star. She works overtime without complaint, and even asks Cukor's assurance that she isn't making faces or hogging any scenes.

Many an actress, called "difficult" or worse by her home studio, has zoomed into personal popularity under friendlier circumstances. Marlene Dietrich, now whooping it up at Universal after unhappy years with Paramount, is the best example. Katharine Hepburn, antagonized by RKO literally from the minute she got off the train, still thinks of that studio with a deep and abiding loathing.

We had quite a lot of conversation, disjointed by her frequent trips to an off-stage mirror to disarrange her hair, and by Cukor's imperative howls for her presence on the set. Once she talked about Philip Barry, author of this play. Next trip, she praised Cary Grant, really the head man of the cast. This is her fourth picture with him, and it seems he has a marvelously mobile face.

CANTANKEROUS? NOT ANY MORE!

Another time, she urged me to have tea—a special kind and extra strong. Back again, she talked about Stewart. Later she said she'd go on the road again with "Philadelphia Story," would do another play in New York late in the fall.

Pretty soon, John Ford's name was mentioned, and my interview went overboard for an argument. Miss Hepburn thinks he's marvelous guy.

And anyway, I believe the circumstances were more interesting than the things she said. Her one-piece costume was a rag-bag item instead of a glamor gown. She shuffled on and off the set in a pair of old bedroom slippers. She sat on a rolled-up carpet on the floor and talked, smoked, sipped tea, fixed her make-up, examined and praised some stills, made a joke about "Sylvia Scarlett," her worst picture flop. This is the gal we used to call Cantankerous Kate.

OUR DEFENSE--

The Men Who Used To Fight On Foot

We have a reorganized and rejuvenated army these days. It is made up of smaller, harder-punching units from the squad to the platoon, to the company, to the regiment, then on up to the division through the corps, to the field army.

Where the old army division (the division is the smallest complete unit which includes all kinds of weapons under one command) of 20,000 men rushed to battle at the speed of twelve miles a day, the new division can snap toward the enemy at more than forty miles a day whenever motor transportation is made available. And the soldiers won't have flat feet when they get there, because they ride to work in trucks.

There will be fewer men to a division, only about 13,000, but with new weapons these men will be able to sling more pounds of assorted steel at the enemy in less time than the old divisions could.

In the new division the commander has, as his direct aides, an infantry general and an artillery general. Through these men the orders will be transmitted down through the regiments, the battalions that make up the regiments, the companies that make up the battalions, to the platoons, and eventually to the squads where the corporal will indicate to our new recruit, John Smith, what is necessary.

Weapons For The Infantry

The 13,000 John Smiths in the new streamlined divisions will find an attractive array of weapons to choose from. In the first place there will be 4,500 new M1 rifles for one of these streamlined divisions of infantry. These new semi-automatic rifles, weighing only nine pounds, will pump out two to three times as many shots per minute as the old rifles would. One of the prime jobs facing the army, and in turn the National Defense Advisory commission, is where and how to turn out rifles fast enough to equip these new troops. And that problem is being worked out day by day.

There are other new weapons. There is the .30 caliber automatic rifle or light machine gun, enough like a rifle for a man to pick up and walk away with it. There will be about twenty 81 mm. mortars, and 60 mm. mortars for each division. A mortar can lob a shell weighing several pounds right to where the enemy is hiding behind a building. There will be a supply of eighteen .50 caliber machine guns that can stop anything up to and including light tanks, and another eighteen 37 mm. anti-tank guns whose 1½-inch shell will ruin almost any tank that ever clanked. In addition, the infantry must be supplied with .45 caliber service pistols, a large number of hand grenades to present to nearby enemies.

The job facing the nation today is to provide adequate manufacturing facilities to supply those weapons for the existing divisions as rapidly as possible, and to deliver them to the new divisions as fast as they are ready for them. That calls for special steels for the gun barrels. It calls for machines that can convert that steel into weapons. And it calls for men who can operate those machines. The army knows its needs. It is the job of the National Defense Advisory commission to find out how we fulfill those requirements without crowding and confusion. But that list above is only what a modern infantry regiment can more or less carry over its shoulders in the way of weapons.

There are also fast modern tanks which carry substantial armor and machine guns. We will have small ones capable of galloping over good roads at 35 miles an hour, and moving over rough ground at a good clip. And there will be big ones capable of slugging it out with anything that comes along. Under new contracts, these steel turtles are being turned out in the middle west. The steel industry has already told the advisory commission that preparations are under way to increase production of light armor plate to meet requirements.

Ammunition Needs

That more or less settles the weapons that the infantry has handy. But these modern, agile, war machines can dispose of a surprising quantity of ammunition in a short time. For example, the M1 rifle with a good man on the trigger end can fire over 130 shots in five minutes. A machine gun can loose about 2,500 shots in the direction of the enemy in the same time. So it is evident that there will have to be considerable expansion of the nation's ammunition facilities in a hurry. And, this in turn, will call for more powder plants, and stepping up of production of brass shell cases, and steel-jacket bullets. All this has to be done without creating bottle-necks, without waste motion. And that's the way it's being done.

Akron Invaded By Hunters Of 'Willkie Lore'

By JOSEPH MORTON

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 7 (AP)—Akron has become a mecca for seekers of "Willkie lore."

Visitors—reportorial, historical and perhaps political—are seeking out those Akronites who knew Wendell Willkie "when."

The Republican presidential nominee spent 10 years here, arriving in 1919 to join Firestone Tire & Rubber company's legal department. Two years later he entered private practice with N. O. Mather and Roy Nesbitt.

"Mather & Nesbitt took Willkie in and Willkie took Mather & Nesbitt over," an associate of the firm related today. "The show was well worth seeing."

The new Republican leader was one of the hardest-hitting and fastest-thinking lawyers this "rubber city" had ever seen. He could read until 2 a. m., sleep for a few hours, get up and read some more and then go to the office for a 15-to-18-hour day.

There are a lot of stories about Willkie law suits.

Once a judge stepped into his chambers for a moment as attorneys were conducting final arguments. An objection was entered. Willkie, standing in the doorway between courtroom and judge's office, relayed it.

"Oh hell, let them fight it out," the jurist muttered while making up his mind what to say.

Willkie stepped between the attorneys and jury and announced succinctly:

"The judge says, 'Oh, hell, let them fight it out.'"

Akron knew Willkie as a man who liked to deliver the Gettysburg address and who loved to argue.

Arriving at a party, Willkie looked around to see who was there, decided how they stood on a certain issue and started an argument on the opposite side.

Principal chronicler of Willkie lore in Akron is Keyes Beech, staff writer for the Akron Beacon Journal. He discovered:

(1) A former county detective who once threw Willkie out of the courthouse.

(2) A caddy who described Willkie's golf debut, at Portage Country club: "Pretty bad."

(3) A lunchroom attendant who remembered Willkie's typical repast (when he took time to eat) as "a couple of cheese sandwiches and a pot of beans."

(4) An old Willkie speech in which he expressed opposition both to prohibition and dancing on Sundays.

Beech also recalled that his newspaper congratulated the 48-year-old nominee on his birthday in 1928 with an item which concluded:

"He . . . has no political aspirations."

Germany Already Planning Europe Without Any Jews

BERLIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—A European continent without Jews—who would be banished to some remote corner of the globe—will be one of the prerequisites for a "German peace," Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Adolf Hitler's SS Elite Guard, said today.

The paper warned that Jews everywhere in Europe would be driven from their "hide-outs," despite the present observance of "camouflaged restraint."

The article implied that anti-Semitic measures in various European states are too weak to suit the Germans.

"The European Jewish question is not to be solved through homeopathic remedies and not by administrative and humane directions," it said.

"Germany will solve her own Jew questions herself. As soon as the last Jew is driven out of Germany, the rest of Europe, which is awaiting a German peace, may know this peace must be one without Jews."

"Germany's and Italy's victory," it said, "will secure space far away from European labor and culture where the scum of humanity may try to lead a life of its own toil, or die a death it earned."

Famed Bulgar Monastery Pictured on New Stamp

MODERN and ancient worlds meet on the new Bulgarian airmail stamp, above, picturing an airliner over the 857-year-old Batchkovo Monastery. Designs of the airmail issue depict scenic beauties and famous buildings of the Balkan state.

Batchkovo Monastery—the Monastery of the Holy Mother of God—was built in 1083 by Gregori Pekurian, to serve as a fortress as well as a religious retreat. Crusaders battled over its walls in the 13th century. It was restored in 1344 by Bulgarian Tzar Ivan Alexander, and captured by Turks in 1370.

The monastery is filled with works of art dating from the 12th century. The icon of the Virgin is considered one of the best examples of 14th century art.

Other stamps of the issue include views of Sofia airport, the royal palace, the Pirrin mountains, St. Alexander Nevsky cathedral in Sofia and the Shipka Pass monument.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

WHAT SHALL BE USED FOR MONEY?

By HARLEY L. LUTZ
Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University

The Democratic platform of 1940 is silent on the most important of all domestic issues, which is the government finances. Neither the word "budget" nor the expression, "economy in public expenditure" is to be found in it. The only reference to taxation is the sterile proposal to end the so-called tax exemption of federal, state and local bonds. This matter is of no importance whatever, either as regards the revenue or the public's inclination to invest capital in private enterprise.

In seven years the administration has issued at least 30 billion dollars of direct and indirect federal obligations, but it has made no move to terminate the remaining tax exemptions allowed to the federal debt paper. The real objective is to tax state and local debt, of which about 19 billion, 600 million dollars are now outstanding.

All that has been said about the tax immunity of state and local bonds causing a net loss of revenue and a diversion of investment from business is pure hokum. These arguments are intended to cover the real objective aimed at, which is to destroy the financial independence of the states and thus to destroy the nation as a union of states. It is part of the New Deal drive toward complete centralization of all financial and administrative power in Washington.

The omission of all reference to budget and taxation is most significant, in view of the long list of promises to help everybody which the platform contains. These promises include the young, the old, farmers, consumers, workers—in short, virtually the whole community. The one thing that is lacking is to say what is to be used for money in carrying out the promises.

This subject is completely ignored. Eight years ago Mr. Roosevelt, as a candidate, was fighting mad all through the campaign over Mr. Hoover's extravagance and the way in which he was driving the country toward bankruptcy. As a spender Mr. Hoover was a piker by comparison with Mr. Roosevelt. The 1940 platform which the President presumably approves, simply makes wholesale promises of bigger and better government bounty to all.

The necessary inference is that the New Deal intends, if it should be kept in power, to go on creating bigger deficits than ever. This is quite apart from the financing of the defense program. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Roosevelt said that all must sacrifice in this hour of need. His platform had already anticipated this point in the acceptance speech. But the rest of the platform contains no hint of sacrifice by the New Deal beneficiaries. It is a series of invitations to step up to the pie counter. In one sentence there is pious talk of universal sacrifice, but in another it is said that there must be no sacrifice of the New Deal bounty to its friends.

The one thing that must be said, over and over, in the campaign and in the years to come regardless of the result of the campaign, is that the financial methods of the last seven years will, if continued, destroy the American way of life and the free institutions which we are supposed to be preparing to defend. The Democratic platform is obviously a pledge to continue these financial methods. Thus it makes a mockery of the platform's closing section, with its unctuous phrases about preserving the American heritage and fulfilling the American destiny as the custodian of free institutions.

Hubbers-Oilers Play Doubleheader Tonight

Oilers Lose To Gold Sox By 12-4 Score

A month ago Ben Parrish was with the Pampa Oilers and Peavine Trantham was with the Amarillo Gold Sox. Last night the pair met in a mound battle and Parrish was an easy winner although both allowed barrages of base hits. The final score was Amarillo 12, Pampa 4.

Tonight the Lubbock Hubbers and the Oilers meet in a doubleheader, both games seven innings. The first game will be called at 8:30 o'clock. Although Manager Grover Seitz has not officially named starting pitchers, the call will be for Hallbourg and either McPartland or Dilbeck to try to stop the rampaging Hubbers who have won 15 of their last 17 starts.

No hike in price of admission will be made for tonight's twin bill. The teams have to make up a game so they decided to give the customers a break and show them two for one.

Gorski, the scourge of the league last year, is back with the Hubbers now and he'll probably hurl one of tonight's games.

25 Base Hits

Last night's game was a ragged affair as 25 hits rang out, which, mixed with a total of nine bases on balls and seven errors, all by the Oilers, gave fans the willy-nillies.

Peavine Trantham didn't have much on the ball and his support wasn't anything to brag about either. The huge slow-motion chunker should make the ball look like a millet seed but instead it must have looked like a balloon to Amarillo batters who socked it far and often for 14 hits, including a home run, triple and double by E. Altenburg, triple by Bones Sanders and a double by Fulenwider.

Ben Parrish continued to have trouble with his control but showed more stuff last night than at any previous time this, or last, season. He allowed only three hits during his first five innings on the mound. Then he weakened, but when he did his support rose to new heights, pulling five double plays, which is a record for one game.

Sox Score Early

The Sox pulled away to a flying start in the first inning. Denorio singled but was forced by D'Antonio. E. Altenburg doubled. Fulenwider lined out to Malvica. Duarte singled to left, D'Antonio scoring and when Summers dropped Knobles' heave to the plate, E. Altenburg was also safe. The Sox added two more in the second on a walk to Denorio and on E. Altenburg's home run over the right centerfield fence.

Trantham then pitched two innings of hitless ball but in the fifth Malvica got him in trouble with a bang by messing up D'Antonio's hard grounder which was followed by four singles and then another error by Clutter.

It wasn't until the sixth inning that the Oilers could put a run across. Seitz opened the sixth with a single and Prather walked. Jordan fanned but Potter came through with a triple which was followed by Clutter's single. A double play then killed the rally. The other Oiler run came in the eighth when Seitz again opened with a single and Prather drew another walk, his third straight and Jordan doubled. Another double play killing ended the rally.

PIRATES TRIM CARDS

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7 (AP)—The upsurging Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into a tie for fifth place with St. Louis in the National League pennant race yesterday by trimming the Cardinals 3 to 1 behind the fine pitching of their rookie southpaw Ken Heintzelman.

Rain twice interrupted the game and so delayed it the second part of a doubleheader was called after three scoreless innings because of darkness.

Dizzy Goes 11 Innings To Beat Oilers

(By The Associated Press)

Dizzy Dean went 11 innings last night as Tulsa downed Shreveport 6-2.

A crowd of 6,000 waited for Ol' Diz to falter and retire with his misery as the game wore on to a 2-2 tie for 10 innings. But Marse Wrigley's cub expatriate jogged manfully along what he hopes is his comeback trail to the majors.

In the first half of the eleventh, the Tulsans broke through Jackie Reid for four runs, then held the Sports scoreless.

Striking out two and walking a pair, Diz scattered 6 hits and used his new "psychological" sidearm delivery only in the clutches.

Dallas collected 10 hits—twice as many as Beaumont—but lost to the Exporters 1-0.

The Oklahoma City Indians took San Antonio 7-2.

Fort Worth out-hit Houston 7 to 6, but was shut out by the Buffs 5-0.

Mount Pleasant Meets Enid In Denver Tourney

DENVER, Aug. 7 (AP)—One of the top teams in the Denver Post baseball tournament will have its perfect record dented after the defending champion Enid, Okla., Champlins and Mount Pleasant, Texas, finish their chores tonight.

Each has won two. Other teams with the same records are the Duncan, Okla., Halliburtons; the Buford, Ga., Bona Allens and Cody, Wyo.

Newsom Wins 14th To Put Tigers Back On Top Again

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

After one day in the doghouse the Detroit Tigers are running on top of the American league again and Big Buck Newsom is back in the win column.

The showboat doesn't have a full head of steam yet, but, with a little boost from Archie McKain, he conquered the St. Louis Browns 6-2 last night for his 14th victory of the year.

Newsom pitched seven-hit ball, but walked eight men and in the ninth inning he filled the bases with two out. McKain stepped in and fanned Walt Judnich to end the game.

With Newsom again in winning stride after his thumb injury the Tigers appear to have the best pitching in the league and the records show without question that they have the best batting.

The pennant prospects of the Tigers looked as roseate today as any club holding only a scant half-game lead could expect.

The Cleveland Indians divided a doubleheader to back out of the momentary margin they had assumed Monday. Lefty Thornton Lee of the Chicago White Sox pitched his second successive two-hitter to whip the Tribe 5-1 in the first game, but Cleveland edged out a 3-2 decision in the nightcap with Bob Feller saving the game for Johnny Allen. Feller came in with two out and two on in the ninth. Jeff Heath dropped a pop fly to let in two runs, but Bob got the next man.

The best twirling of the day was a one-hit performance by Washington's Sid Hudson, who shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 11-0, missing a no-hitter when Sam Chapman singled in the seventh.

The New York Yankees fell apart again as they dropped their fourth straight game, 8-3 to the Red Sox. Boston made 14 hits and was aided by two Yankee errors during a three-run rally that broke a tie in the seventh.

None of the first division clubs in the National league got into action yesterday, and the Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of the lull to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 and move into a tie for fifth place.

The Boston Bees plastered a double licking on the Phillies 3-0 and 12-2 for Philadelphia's sixth straight setback. Manuel Salvo shut out the tail-enders in the first game with four-hit hurling and in the nightcap Lefty Joe Sullivan kept seven hits spaced while his mates blasted out 15 safeties. Ed Miller hit a home run in each game.

All Star Game To Be Played In Amarillo Friday

The West Texas-New Mexico league All-Star ball game will be played in Amarillo Friday night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Originally scheduled for July 20, the game was called off when a miniature tornado ripped part of the roof off the grandstand and rain followed.

Five Pampa players—Grover Seitz, Dutch Prather, Rex Dilbeck, Gus Hallbourg, and Sam Malvica—will be playing for the north along with players from Borger, Amarillo and Clovis.

The game will be broadcast over station KPDN, Pampa, Manager Herman Krieger announced today.

An estimated 5,000 fans will witness the big game which will send the best of the north half against the best of the south half. Game proceeds will go to the league.

Collegians Meet Packers Aug. 29

By TOM SILER

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, scourge of professional football, have a date with trouble Aug. 29.

That's the night the pro champions line up in Soldier Field against a "dream squad" of collegians having their last fling at football glory as amateur gridders.

The game will reunite for a night the famed and feared Iowa combina of Coach Eddie Anderson and his dazzling triple-threat halfback, Nick Kinnick.

Anderson was selected as head coach of the All-Stars in a nationwide poll. In a similar contest Kinnick was designated as a starter in the game, polling more votes than any other player. The leadership of Anderson and Kinnick in the two polls conducted in 47 states was an eloquent tribute to their spectacular record at the University of Iowa last autumn.

Assisting Anderson in handling the All-Star squad of 67 players will be Don Faurot, Missouri; Buck Shaw, Santa Clara; E. E. (Tad) Wieman, Princeton, and Lowell (Red) Dawson, Tulane. Each earned his spot on the staff by leading the voting in their respective sections.

The Packers, who won their fifth pro title last fall, and the All-Stars will begin practice next Monday, giving each squad two and a half weeks for conditioning exercises.

Kinnick's running mate on the starting eleven chosen by the fans will be Lou Brock of Purdue with Ambrose Schindler of Southern California at quarterback and Joe Thesing of Notre Dame at full.

The line contains two other members of the great Trojan machine of last fall as well as many other 1939 headliners. At the ends will be Bill Fisk of Southern California and Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State. Nick Cutlich, Northwestern, and Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, were named tackles; Harry Smith, Southern California, and Jim Logan, Indiana, guards, and Clyde Turner, Hardin-Simmons, center.

Woman Pistol Champ Makes Own Shells

ALPINE, Texas, Aug. 7 (AP) — Constance Duncan, 17, Texas women champion in 38-caliber pistol shooting, plays the violin and makes her own bullets. She is the daughter of a champion, her father, Bruce Duncan, Alpine chief of police, is state police champion with the 38 caliber pistol.

Miss Duncan, a sophomore at Sul Ross college, started target practice by pot-shooting at rabbits in the Big Bend country with a .22 rifle when she was in the fifth grade. She and her father have participated in numerous shoots, the latter winning eight medals in the state shoot at Dallas last year and also has won skeet shooting honors. "Connie" won first place in .22 pistol shooting against men competitors at the El Paso pistol club shooting this spring and the 38-caliber championship against 25 women contestants at the state shoot at Austin recently.

The Duncans, father and daughter, for several years have been making their own bullets, and thereby saving about $1 a box. After shooting into the sand, melt, and remold it, resize the cases, put in new primers, powder and bullets and have shells good as new.

The girl is an expert horsewoman and in leisure moments plays the violin.

Italian Planes Bomb Palestine Objectives

ROME, Aug. 7 (AP)—Italian planes were reported today by the high command to have bombed the port of Haifa in Palestine for the third time in a widespread air attack on British positions in the Near East and Red Sea zone.

Naval bases at Aden and Berbera, on the Gulf of Aden, also were reported subjected to "an effective bombardment."

Gasoline storage tanks were set afire and port facilities damaged in the attack on Haifa, a communique said. All the Italian raiders were reported to have returned safely.

(A dispatch from Jerusalem said damage and casualties suffered in the raid on Haifa were believed to be slight.)

In Egypt, Italian fliers bombed a British encampment south of Sollum, near the Libyan frontier, and a railroad line running from Mersa Matruh to Alexandria, it was announced.

Three Killed In Explosion

LEBANON, O., Aug. 7 (AP)—Three men were killed today in a terrific explosion that wrecked a power-processing building of the King Powder company, at nearby King's mills.

Steve Resibois, a workman, said the dead were Charles Resibois, 25, his son; Hobart Combs, 35, and William Reed, 45.

The cause of the explosion was not known.

Research Among Baseball Players To Be Conducted

By EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Dr. W. M. Patterson of San Antonio university, who has been conducting research into the pacing of tigers and the cawing of crows, turned his attention today to specimen number three—the baseball player.

"Timing," he said, "is everything, and there's no time like the present to study these athletes who perform before the critical eyes of thousands every afternoon."

Coming to the capital from the Bronx zoo, Dr. Patterson armed himself with a stopwatch and a sheaf of charts and began on the Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletes.

"It's just as easy to watch the timing of George Case, the fastest man in baseball," said the scientist, "as it is to study the tiger who paces up and down in his cage."

Case came to bat, and Dr. Patterson watched him drive a triple into left field.

"Case is a five-seven or I'm badly mistaken," he said with scientific detachment.

Case came home on a passed ball, and Dr. Patterson exclaimed: "He's a five-seven, all right!"

Human beings, animals and birds have the same general rhythm in their movements with an interval of seven-tenths of a second predominating between coordinated movements, he explained.

"That means," he said, "most people, animals and birds are sevens."

Some have duplex rhythm. Dr. Patterson knows a tiger who paces at seven while he pants at five.

"The same is true of Case," he explained. "He runs at seven while he wags his bat at five."

Dr. Patterson said that Jimmy Cagney, the movie actor, and Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, are also "fives." Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, is a "ten."

"That's because," said Dr. Patterson, "Connie Mack still remembers his youth. He is an energetic five and while he slowed down, he subconsciously can't forget it, so he slows down to a ten, which makes two fives."

Wallace, Hopkins To Visit President

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt's stay at his Hudson valley home took on a political hue today with the announcement from the temporary White House that Secretaries Wallace and Hopkins were coming up to see the chief executive.

Hopkins, one of the third term managers at the Democratic convention in Chicago, was expected some time today. Wallace, the vice-presidential nominee, has arranged to spend tomorrow afternoon with Mr. Roosevelt.

Wallace's visit will coincide with a political tea and garden party at Mrs. Roosevelt's Valkill cottage on the family estate. Invitations have gone out to 850 Democratic women from five New York counties, and sponsors said they were hopeful the President might attend and make a talk.

The plans for Wallace to come to Hyde park house meant that the President would defer until Friday the start of another defense inspection trip.

The presidential campaign will be conducted strictly on the merits of the nominee, President Roosevelt, Blalock said after a conference here yesterday with Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi, national committeewoman.

Mrs. Driscoll said Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican candidate, will be ignored in the campaign, adding:

"Those Democrats that leave the party—that's their business."

Mrs. Driscoll said her chief concern is to keep Texas loyal to the Democratic party.

Annual Plains Baptist Camp Held At Miami

Special To The NEWS

MIAMI, Aug. 7—Those attending the Panhandle Baptist Encampment of district 10 agree that this year's is the best one yet both in point of attendance and inspiration. Campers are tenting on the grounds from every church in the district.

A record congregation was present at the morning and evening services Sunday. There were 250 in attendance at Sunday school and 275 at the Training Union.

Included in the daily schedule are classes and conferences in all phases of the denominational work. Dr. G. S. Hopkins of Dallas, has charge of the Sunday school classes. The Rev. George Thompson of Panhandle has arranged the four departments of the vacation Bible school to care for all ages of boys and girls.

For the first time in a number of years a state worker is present from the Training Union department to lead in the teaching of the Union's books. Miss Nella Casement of Dallas, is this worker. She is being assisted by Dr. John Cobb, teacher of Bible in Wayland college.

Before each preaching service a short devotional period has been devoted to the presentation of outstanding speakers who are visitors, but not on the regular program. Monday night, R. A. Springer, a state officer from Dallas, spoke at this period. Sunday evening, Z. T. Huff of Brownwood, formerly dean of Wayland college was accorded a like privilege.

Mrs. D. A. Grundy of Memphis, district president of the W. M. U., is in charge of the women's work of the encampment. She is being ably assisted by Mrs. J. W. Sanders of Amarillo, Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless of Pampa, and local workers.

Van Horn Bows To Veteran Hal Surface

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Welby Van Horn, the boy who was going to make everybody forget about Bill Tilden last year, is just an interesting topic for speculation this season.

Welby did nothing to remind the spectators of Tilden yesterday when he bowed out of the eastern grass courts tennis championships before Hal Surface, Kansas City veteran, 6-0, 6-3.

Last summer he came from nowhere to earn fourth national ranking and in spite of this year's reverses is causing a lot of talk among tennis players and fans.

There were no other upsets in the second round of either the men's or women's divisions. Bobby Riggs and Don McNeill won handily from Ronnie Lubin and Larry Dee. Advancing with them were Hank Prusoff, Bitsy Grant, Gil Hunt, Joe Hunt and Gardner Mulloy. Dorothy Bundy, Sarah Palfrey, Pauline Betz, Helen Bernhard, Gracyn Wheeler and Virginia Wolfenden were among the women winners.

SERIAL STORY

SUMMER THEATER

BY MILDRED WILLIAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Johnny tells Jean that Molly will marry him. Instead of being heart-broken, Jean is angry. His request that she sell or give the cameo to him only increases her rage. While Johnny tells Molly of Jean's refusal, there is a crash, a scream: "The lamp turned over. Get out! The theater is on fire!"

CHAPTER IX

THE theater was on fire. The old lamp had turned over, the kerosene spilled. A spark from the switchboard had ignited the oil.

With half of his mind Johnny heard the garbled explanation of the blaze; with the other half he was trying to figure out the quickest way of helping Jean Reynolds save the valuable Cape antiques she had gathered for the set.

"Cover your face, Molly, and stay close to me. We're going up."

He dragged Molly after him. The flames licked at his ankles dangerously. Johnny lifted Molly over the threshold of the stage door.

"Get over there on the lawn and don't come back again."

"What are you going to do?" Molly was hysterical.

"I'm going to help Jean get the props out!"

Johnny pushed his way through the screaming crowd of actresses. Choked with smoke, he reached the stage door again just as Jean threw out the Carstairs silver service.

"Thank heaven for somebody who's not an actor," Jean shouted when she saw him. "Get in here and help me, Johnny."

Johnny took her orders. He was amazed at her courage and efficiency.

Johnny had never been so tired in his life. He was drenched to the skin. Jean looked exhausted, but she squared her shoulders and went toward the building once more.

"Last trip, Johnny!"

He wanted to tell her how brave she was, but there wasn't time. She toppled against him weakly. "You'll have to go in alone this time. The liqueur set. It's Bohemian glass and I promised Mrs. Wilson nothing would happen to it."

"Damn the liqueur set. I'm taking care of you. Get Dr. Warren, somebody. Jean's fainted."

Jean's eyelids fluttered. "Go on. I'm all right."

In a daze Johnny found his way across the stage once more. He brought out the liqueur set; his coat pockets were full of tiny glasses.

"Where's Jean?" he asked Earl when the liqueur set was packed safely away.

"Dr. Warren took her home. Her hands were burned. Everything safe?"

"Jean wanted it taken back to the people who own it. Can you help me with it?"

"Sorry, old man, I'm busy." Earl strolled off without concern.

Johnny stood and watched him. Whose responsibility was this, anyway? Certainly not Johnny Regan's, and only Jean Reynolds' by request. Carter Earl, as head of the theater, should have offered assistance.

"So it's up to me," Johnny told himself, "or the stuff spends the night on the lawn where the Portuguese lads can have a go at it."

Since he couldn't expect any help from the theater crowd, he'd have to find some Cape Cod cronies. With Rex Arnold's beach wagon . . .

"Hello, Johnny. Well, here I am, safe and sound." Molly, looking fresh and young again without her make-up, came up with Andre Masters. "I sat over there on the lawn and let the sparks fly upward."

"I hear Miss Reynolds burned her hands." Johnny nodded. Masters looked at the antiques piled on the lawn and whistled softly. "An antique dealer would give his eyes for that stuff. Careful of scavengers," he warned.

"I'm getting it back to the owners tonight," Johnny said, and shrilled out the gang's whistle for Rex.

"Oh, come along, sweet," Molly told him. "We're going to the Inn. All this stuff will be here when you get back." When Johnny shook his head, she continued, "Well, when you've finished your homework, look us up."

* * *

JOHNNY watched them go down the street. They were black silhouettes against the still smouldering theater. He felt detached from them as if they were characters in a movie. Rex Arnold, who came up at that moment, was more real and important to him.

"Could we pile all this stuff in your station wagon? Jean got it together for the set, and now that she's laid up, we'll have to get it back."

Rex helped him pile Hitchcock chairs on top of highboys and fasten silver sugar bowls to the knobs of tables.

"We've sure missed you and Jean this summer," he said. "You earning out a living as a shopkeeper and Jean hanging around the theater."

"I've missed you," Johnny told him. He had missed them. His Cape Codders. They were his folk, all right. He laughed bitterly.

"What about the apprentice? Jean said you were lovey-dovey."

Johnny didn't answer. He wondered what Masters was saying to Molly at the Inn. They took the seats out of Rex's station wagon and piled in the furniture and valuables.

"Ready to go?" Rex asked, and they threw the car into gear.

DR. WARREN had just left the Meltons' and Jean was supposed to be asleep, Sue told him.

"Tell her Johnny's here," he said. "It's important."

And so he stood beside Jean's bed holding one of her bandaged hands.

"I came to tell you that everything is back where it belongs. But why on earth did you go clear to Chatham for a bell-pull?"

"It was on Mr. Earl's list," she said. "Darling, you look so tired."

Johnny drew himself up with a jerk. He mustn't tell her he would like to put his head in her arms and cry. He mustn't tell her that all he wanted was a friend like Jean, not a sweetheart like Molly.

"Where's Molly?" Jean asked, oddly.

"She's with Masters at the Inn. I'm supposed to catch up with them, but I'm going home to bed."

Jean's eyes were tender when she looked at him. "Johnny, I've decided to give you the cameo. I think I meant to all the time; something just got into me at the theater tonight."

He sighed with relief. "The fight was part my fault. I was too bossy."

"No," you were right. You've always been my big brother and acted like it. I was the one who wanted it to be different. Even tonight when we were mad as two hornets, you came to help me when I needed you most. That was a real pal, Johnny," she continued slowly as if feeling out the right words. "So tell Molly the cameo is yours for a wedding present. I hope you'll both be very, very happy."

"I'm not going to take it, Jean. Don't ask me why; I can't explain why."

"Well, Molly will take it. Tell her what I said. Now go away. I'm sleepy."

Johnny went, reluctantly. But it wasn't until he was out of the house that he realized what had happened. The cameo was the only piece of property borrowed for the theater that hadn't been returned to its rightful owner.

Amber Light On In Oil Business

By WILLIAM E. KEYS

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—Caution is the watchword for the oil industry this month.

Mindful of last August's crisis with its 15-day shutdown of production, the lid has been clamped down in most states to guard against too much storage and to avoid price breaks.

Texas, the nations biggest producer, has taken the lead by adding two production holidays to seven previously ordered for August. Allowables generally were designed to conform closely to market demand in prorated states and even in unprorated Illinois output was dropping sharply.

The threat of price collapse faded when Harry F. Sinclair personally announced at a Texas proration hearing last week restoration of north and central Texas crude prices, cut by one of his companies in mid-July.

This is the top gasoline consuming month and the Texas Railroad commission chose it for the further cutback of oil production in order to work off excessive gasoline and crude stocks and possibly head into fall with production and consumption in balance.

A statistically desirable picture at the start of the fall season would be welcomed by operators who look to the expanding defense program as the spring board to better business.

Trade reports placed United States production of crude at 3,475,325 barrels daily for the week ended Aug. 3, or 162,375 barrels below the United States Bureau of Mines estimate of demand.

The Texas commission reported average daily production at 1,242,054 barrels for last week and estimated the flow would drop to an average of 159,346 below the Bureau of Mines recommendation for August market demand in Texas.

Democracy Will Be Stressed In Schools

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP) — A strong desire to increase the study of the principles of democracy in Texas' Grade schools was evidenced here today by the state board of education.

Five texts on community civics, problems of American democracy and subjects designed to promote a love for the United States and its institutions were included on a list of about 30 books for which bids were asked under the free school textbook law.

The books on principles or democracy were proposed by Ben F. Risinger of Dallas, board member, who said present civics courses were not "getting the job done."

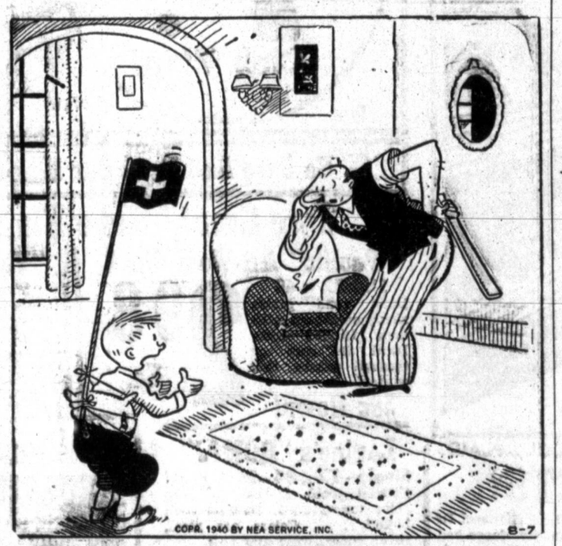

Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, another member of the board and a former state senator, in the discussion, said:

"I am amazed at the things I hear from school boys and girls. Some of them are saying maybe Hitler is right. They know almost nothing about government."

Regarding the re-adoption of German texts, Risinger commented:

"This is an example of American tolerance."

BRITAIN

Africa on the air and naval bases of Aden and Berbera, and land advances into British Somaliland.

Possession of Suez would be the realization of one of Mussolini's dreams, but official circles at Cairo appeared confident the British could hold it with their veteran desert troops even in the face of numerically superior forces of Italians reported ready to advance across Egypt.

The warning to the English to expect Italian successes came from the Daily Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production and member of the inner war cabinet.

Britain's forces facing the 250,000-strong Libyan army are outnumbered but their control of water supplies and their experience are considered compensating factors.

The Express said Britain "must concentrate on: (1) ensuring the ultimate collapse of Mussolini's African empire by cutting off supplies from Italy; and (2) preparing to resist invasion here."

Only a few German bombers were reported over the British Isles during the night. Two districts in Scotland and the Bristol Channel area were bombed but the British government said "damage was negligible and there were no casualties." Leaflets containing Hitler's "peace or destruction" ultimatum also were dropped in the Bristol channel area.

British wondered about the lull, speculated that Adolf Hitler's blitz-machine is not yet geared up, but said the blow must come soon if it is to come at all this year.

A German radio broadcast singled out London as a "big target" for Nazi air power aiming at dock destruction along the twisting Thames. The statement by U. S. Ambassador to Belgium John Cudahy that Belgium would face near-famine by mid-September unless she received food from the United States drew British criticism.

Soviet Russia formally accepted Estonia into the Soviet union and signed a new trade treaty with the United States.

and prevent shipping from entering the Mediterranean through the narrow strait of Gibraltar or the Suez canal, the blockade still would be tight. I mention this merely as an interesting possibility, and not as predicting that England would be able to carry it out.

The task which Mussolini is undertaking is herculean. It wouldn't be surprising to see him meet with considerable success in Kenya and Somaliland. Egypt, however, is a horse of another color.

While the British are said to have fewer troops (the Italians have some 250,000 for the Egyptian show and a similar number for other operations) they have strong bases and their soldiers are largely seasoned African fighters.

One handicap which is likely to cause Mussolini trouble lies in his supply line. That, of course, must pass through the Mediterranean to Italy and thus his ships will have to run the gauntlet of British naval guns and bombing planes.

But while there are drawbacks, Mussolini has a tower of strength in his command—Marshal Rodolfo Graziani. He is one of the most adroit of the desert warfare leaders of history.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Prices held almost as though pegged today in a timorous stock market.

The morning trend was slightly downward but many minus signs were erased in the afternoon.

Commentators discerned only one real market factor—the battle of England. They said no real stock trading was likely until that battle was joined by major forces. In the meantime, even domestic political matters were regarded as secondary.

HURRICANE

force were predicted for later today as far north as Lufkin, Tex.

Gales whipped a wide area over southwestern Louisiana and extreme Eastern Texas.

Hurricane warnings flew from Lake Charles, La., to Port Arthur. Excessively high tides sent hundreds of lowland residents in the area to inland points, and at Orange the scream of whistles from factories and harbor craft warned residents of the industrital city of 8,000 to seek safety. Streets were deserted and hastily organized relief forces were ready for any emergency.

The barometer continued to drop at Port Arthur, from 29.31 at 10 a. m., CST, to 29.21 at 10:30 a. m.

The Sabine area of Texas, directly in the path of the hurricane, is a heavily-populated industrial and oil refining and shipping district. Principal cities are Port Arthur, Beaumont, and Orange. Between Orange and Beaumont and Port Arthur are thousands of acres of low, marshy land, thinly populated and fully exposed to the force of winds and the abnormally high tides. Populated areas are for the most part protected against heavy blows.

Approximately 25 years ago the area was battered by a tropical storm that took many lives and did heavy damage to property.

The weather bureau at New Orleans, ordering storm warnings displayed as far west in Texas as Freeport, urged that "every precaution" be taken in the Sabine district.

Meanwhile, P. J. Naughton, meteorologist at the New Orleans weather bureau said the storm had definitely passed from the New Orleans area where several thousand residents were marooned or evacuated from the coastal trapping villages and resorts, but strong winds whipped Lake Charles, extreme southwest Louisiana metropolis. No serious damage was expected there.

Highway traffic was opening up today north and east of New Orleans where high tides almost marooned the city yesterday.

Another tropical disturbance, described by the Jacksonville, Fla., weather bureau as of "slight to moderate intensity," moved slowly northwestward through the eastern Bahamas. Small craft warnings were displayed. The center of the storm was charted some 275 miles east-southeast of Nassau at 7 a. m.

ITALIANS

Somaliland Camel corps, which contrary to its name, is partly mechanized, the King's African rifles and "some others."

The carefully provisioned advances of Mussolini's Libyan forces noted by scouts were regarded by some observers as possibly the beginnings of a "grand strategy" by the axis high commands.

The Italians may be planning to "mop up" British Somaliland and the Aden protectorate to gain control of the southern entrance of the Red Sea, and then attack Egypt from Libya on one side and from the Red Sea on the other.

Persistent reports of German concentrations on the Spanish border, and Spanish propaganda calling for the return of Gibraltar, also would fall in with this line of African attack, it was noted.

The bulk of imperial Germany's colonial empire was concentrated in Africa. The Nazis have persistently declared they want these colonies back.

Industrial Germany needs the gold, tin, copper, vanadium, industrial diamonds, cotton, cocoa, palm oil, rice, sugar, sisal and rubber that she could get from Africa.

Italy's own colonial empire is in Africa, and Mussolini wishes to consolidate it by connecting up Libya and Ethiopia, now separated by British possessions.

For the "battle of Africa" Italy is estimated to have half a million native and white soldiers, many of them with modern mechanical and motor equipment.

Britain's forces are far smaller, but they are schooled in years of fighting and living under the peculiar conditions of the desert.

The British and Italian air forces in Africa are rated about equal in number of planes.

In southwest England, in the Bristol channel area, the Germans dropped more leaflets containing Adolf Hitler's "peace or destruction" ultimatum and some bombs. A government communique said "damage was negligible and there were no casualties."

Germany continued her war of nerves with a radio broadcast to the English that the German air force is "ready to strike now."

An announcer pointedly referred to densely-populated London as the "big target."

Pennsylvania has more blast furnaces than any other state, with 78; Ohio ranking second with 38 and Illinois third with 23.
