(By Associated Press) The 41st legislature to convene in special session on April 22 at noon. Governor Moody today in his proclamation set out three subjects of legislation for submission. He reserved the right to present other matters from time to time during the session.

Mentioning necessity for legislation centralizing the prison system, carrying into effect an amendment to the constitution providing for a board of education, voted last November, and providing a merit system for the selection of subordinate employees of the state government, the governor did not touch on appropriations to pay expenses of the government during the next biennium.

May Withhold Appropriations It had been reported that he intended withholding the appropriation until after his penitentiary and civil service legislation had been disposed of. The regular session failed to enact legislation on either of these subjects, the civil service bill having been killed in the house, and the governor's measure suspending concentration and relocation of the penitentiary system having been lost in the last-minute rush of the closing hours when the two houses disagreed on some of its provisions.

The constitutional amendment which requires enactment of laws to carry it into effect, provides that all officers of the public free school system, including state institutions of higher learning, may be fixed by the legislature not to exceed six years and to expire before the next election of a state board.

Hope For Fliers Still Being Kept

Unconfirmed Report Heard Telling Of Rescue; No Definite News Received Giving Details.

(By Associated Press) SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 9.—The seventh day since the disappearance of Captain Charles Kingsford Smith's airplane Southern Cross in the wilds of western Australia brought an unconfirmed report that the plane and its crew of four aviators had been found 30 miles southwest of the Drysdale Mission state, but no definite news.

Australian authorities, however, have not abandoned hope of eventually finding the fliers somewhere in the region around the Drysdale station, whence the last definite reports of their passage were given to searching parties. These reports were that an airplane had passed over the station headed southwest on March 31.

A message from the Mission by way of Derby today declared a boat was standing by to take on board the aviators, who were said to have been discovered on the coast 30 miles southwest of the station. This was received with skepticism by Capt. Chater, one of the air searchers.

Hilton Plans For 16 Stories Here, Rumored Tuesday

Cost of Structure On Old Merrill Block May Go To Million; City's Growth Causes Plans Change.

That the Hilton Hotel Company is contemplating the construction of a 16-story hotel here, at the corner of Texas avenue and Main street, on the site of the old Merrill hotel, which is now being demolished, instead of a 12-story building, as at first contemplated, was rumored in several sources here yesterday.

The original plans, for erecting the 12-story building, call for an expenditure of approximately $700,000. With the addition of four more stories, this figure will probably increase more than another $200,000, and it is not improbable that the entire cost would go to $1,000,000.

Reason for the additional four stories is based on Lubbock's remarkable growth, every indication of which points to a continuance and an expansion, that will make the demand for the increased number of rooms thus to be provided so imperative that, by the time the building is completed, every available room will be needed.

Bills Are Drafted Bills designed to carry the amendment into operation were drafted and presented in the regular session but were not enacted.

With appropriation bills and revenue measures to support the highway building program, including a tax on gasoline and registration fees to be charged motor vehicles, pending, in addition to other matters, Governor Moody is almost certain to submit the consensus of opinion to be at least two sessions.

They were sent south to Jimenez and La Reforma where some of them were forced to give their lives for the very cause they had suffered so much to avoid serving. The soldier who told the story was wounded in one of these battles. But General Armenta was not with them. Informal Meeting Of World Powers Planned This Year

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—An informal meeting of delegations from the legislative establishments of five world powers in August to discuss further limitation of naval armaments is described by Chairman Britten of the house naval committee, initiator of the plan, as "an assured fact."

The meeting, he says, will take place at Biarritz, France, August 21, or at Geneva, August 25, after the annual session of the inter-parliamentary union. Groups from the British parliament, the Japanese diet, and the French and Italian chambers of deputies will attend, he asserts, in addition to nine or 10 members of the United States senate and house.

A method will be sought, he explains, looking to an agreement among the powers on the grouping of naval armament according to their needs, and he intends to "make every effort to advance the calling of the second Washington naval arms conference, now scheduled for the fall of 1931, to an early date in 1930, or at least one year ahead of the present scheduled date."

"It Is The Best Medicine In The World," He Says

"I SUFFERED 12 YEARS BUT ORGATONE HAS GIVEN ME HEALTH," Says LUBBOCK MAN.

"At last I am on the road to perfect health again. After I have spent a lot of money trying to get relief from my troubles," said T. J. Teal of Lubbock, Texas, who is in the poultry business here, and has been a resident of this city for a number of years.

"I got to the place where I nearly had to give up. Nothing for I couldn't eat anything but what would disagree with me, and cause me to suffer terribly. All of the food I ate, would cause gas to form on my stomach, until at times, I would feel so puffed up, and have such a bloated feeling I thought I would burst. No matter what I tried, in the way of medicine nothing helped me a bit and it seemed as if there were no relief for me.

"My kidneys were in a very bad condition, and I would have intense, sharp shooting pains in my back and sides. I had a bad case of constipation and was very nervous and couldn't sleep at night. I was extremely restless at night and would roll and toss and couldn't get enough sleep, always felt tired and worn out.

"When a man has been in the shape I have, it sure seems wonderful to be able to eat anything he wants and have no trouble from it, that's just what I can do since taking Orgatone. I began to pick up in a hurry after I started using it and have been getting better ever since. I am now a well man and am feeling stronger every day. All of my troubles are gone, and I eat things now I haven't for years. I sleep fine at night and all the pains in my back and sides have disappeared.

"I'm sure glad I got hold of Orgatone when I did, and there's nothing I could say for it that would be too much. I hope my case will be the cause of others, who have the same trouble finding the same relief as I have. I sincerely think it is the best medicine in the world."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific remedy containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowens Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who is meeting the public daily. Also at Flannery by the South Pains Drug Store. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price $1.25 per one bottle or $4.25 for six bottles.—Adv.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Mrs. Elsie Rea, 20, weighed 145 pounds one day a few months ago when she slipped and fell on a San Francisco ferry boat. The other day when she appeared in court to testify in her damage case against the company, she weighed 225 pounds. She declared that injuries to her thyroid and pituitary glands brought about by the fall increased her weight. The jury awarded her $1,500, or about $18.75 a pound.

LUCKY DAY!

There is no doubt that while $1,500 may seem a royal amount for so terrific a tragedy, it is much more than the too-heavy lady would have won if her case had popped up more than ten years ago when there was no great national and international and interuniversal taboo against embonpoint. She should be very grateful to the beanpole and spaghetti school of aesthetics.

RICH GALS

Nearly half the wealth of America, 41 per cent to be exact, is held by women, according to some recent statistics of amalgamated banking houses. Many New York Stock Exchange firms have opened branches for women only. When it comes to possession of vast sums of money, Federal tax reports prove that there are more women millionaires than men. Women are beneficiaries, too, of 80 per cent of the $25,000,000,000 worth of life insurance policies in this country.

And yet they are still talking about "down-trodden, abused women, and women's rights!" We have wagered for several years that the male sex would gladly change places with the female.

LOVELY HUMANS!

How does Uncle Sam ferret out his tax dodgers? Jealous neighbors, disgruntled employees, the human urge to tattletale and get even, says an official of the New York State Tax Bureau. He explains that it is human nature to boast of what one possesses, one's salary, good investments, etc., but when one turns in the income tax report one forgets what one has told the neighbors; perhaps one boasts about how one has put it over on the government; the neighbors won't stand that, and they take their pens in hand and write to Uncle Sam.

Machinery used included an International tractor, a machine of the Brown Terracing company, of Breckenridge and a Lone Star terracer.

Why? The water is hard. And instead of nice, sudsy water, there's a greasy ring around the basin. The soap has mixed with the hard water to form scum. Big Silver Fleet Sale Continued One Week HEROES of the Silver Fleet Pilots demonstrating the famous Goodrich Edge-Center Tread. All Goodrich Tires are two-way tanned by the water-cure process and built from stretch-matched cords, heavily rubberized. Come in, let us show you more.

THREE GOODRICH TIRES: Silvertown De Luxe, for superlative style and service. The famous Silvertown—the standard quality tire. Goodrich Cavalier, a low-priced tire for keen buyers.

You Can Still Trade In Old Worn Tires at Generous Allowances

Great Public Interest Dealers' Reason for Prolonging Sale Seven Days More

We expected interest! We anticipated crowds. But we must admit we didn't believe it possible for the Silver Fleet to create the excitement and enthusiasm that its brief stay brought forth!

Every day dozens of car owners have stopped to ask questions... about the Fleet... about its tires.

With this great interest, only one thing is left for us to do... To take care of all our friends... all car owners who have not yet had the opportunity to benefit by our Silver Fleet trade-in sale... the big celebration sale must continue for another week.

For 7 more days you can trade in your tires as you would your car... turn doubtful mileage on old tires into real money on sharp, new rubber.

How It Works

Come in and let us point out how economical... how simple... it is to buy sound, new tires just like those the Fleet uses, during our celebration trade-in sale!

On your car are old casings... five thousand, ten thousand... maybe more miles on them. Perhaps the treads are wearing smooth... Perhaps injuries or small cuts have begun to weaken them... Possibly they have already begun to cost you money in repairs.

We have a market for such old tires. We can recondition and sell them for use where long service isn't as important as it is to you. So why hesitate?

Come in... now! And avoid trouble later on by getting new rubber for old, good tires for worn ones. Off with the old, on with the new... while our generous trade allowances on well-worn casings are still in effect.

Can we count on seeing you?

BAD ROADS AHEAD! That's what this farmer told the pilots of the Silver Fleet. But they went right ahead 'cause that's just the kind of going they're looking for. It's travel conditions like this that prove the kind of stuff Goodrich Tires are made of. The Fleet has covered miles of such roads.

WITH THIS CREAMY SHORTENING YOU REALLY DO "WHISK UP A CAKE" - No need to cream your shortening into your sugar or cut it into your flour. Just a few stirs of a spoon and the two are blended perfectly... you really do "whisk up a cake" when you use Snowdrift. Try this recipe for Cup Cakes, and see if it isn't true:

CUP CAKES

1/2 Cupful Snowdrift • 2/3 Cupful Sugar • 1 Teaspoonful Vanilla • 1/2 Teaspoonful Salt
2 Eggs • 1 Cupful Milk • 3 Cupfuls Sifted Flour • 4 Teaspoonfuls Baking Powder

Mix Snowdrift and sugar and add with beaten egg yolks and vanilla. Stir flour, baking powder and salt together and add alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and bake in muffin tin in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

The reason Snowdrift is so easy and pleasant to use, you know, is because it's so creamy... we cream it for you before it is packed in the air-tight case.

Texas Longhorns Take Last Of Series From Southern Methodists

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS
WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Avalanche Sports Editor

BACK IN THEIR OWN BACK YARD
Practically every major league baseball club has left the grapefruit region and started on its jaunt to the north and east, back to the home town fans who have only been able to read about their heroes as they prepared for the opening of the 1929 campaign. Cities on the two circuits will see their teams in action for the first time this week. City series are already under way in some of the centers where both leagues are represented.

And then on April 16, the 16 baseball machines will swing into action on 154 game schedules that promise to be thrillers from the first to the last contest. Depositors have satisfied themselves that the National League race will be even closer than last year with the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants as the real favorites. In the American league it is generally conceded that the Tanks will have more competition than last year. In spite of conflicting reports from the camp of the Philadelphia Athletics the Macks do not appear to be any stronger than last year and if there is any difference, they are not as powerful.

The presence of Bucky Harris at the helm of the Detroit Tigers has put the Bengals in the spotlight as a menacing club. The former star manager is one of the smartest pilots in the major leagues and his club will be watched more closely than any other in the junior circuit. Washington with Walter Johnson in the driver's seat is another club that the experts are watching. Their success during the training season can be taken as an indicator, the Senators will be up and at 'em when the season opens.

AND THEN THERE'S THE TEXAS LEAGUE which opens 2 days later a mystery that even the experts have not been able to dope out. Practically every club in the loop has revamped its lineup until even the home town fans will not recognize their teams when the season opens. Baseball fans will be a grand scramble to peek the grandstands where the opening games are to be played. Especially between Dallas and Fort Worth is the rivalry keen each year for the opening day attendance cap. Baseball fans of Fort Worth have shown year after year greater loyalty than the Steer Fans but when the supremacy of the two rival cities is at stake, the Dallasites will turn out in droves.

Wichita Falls and Houston appear to be just about strong as last season, but other teams in the league have bolstered up their powers in all departments. Shreveport, with Art Phelan at the helm, is considered the dark horse of the league. The Sports are counting strong on rookies this season, four of whom are in the regular lineup. This will give Phelan a crew of experienced pitchers to carry. He has placed his team with Dallas, Wichita Falls, and Houston as the clubs who will finish in the first division.

Intercollegiate League officials have just about given up the idea of an AA league in Texas sponsored by the four largest cities of the state. Sport writers of the state have been in a large measure responsible for the failure of the proposed plan to carry through. Members of this Ransberry Fraternity pointed out in no uncertain terms the absurdities of such an organization from the first and now the venture seems doomed. From our standpoint, the main objection to having Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston and San Antonio out of the Class A League would be the taking away of just that many easy games for such towns as Amarillo, Lubbock and Abilene.

Tech Crew Walks Away With Heavy Score In Opener

McCrory and Hobson Hold Dickens County Lads In Check While Collegians Pound Out Win.

The Tech Matadors found the offerings of the Spur High school baseball aggregation to their liking Tuesday afternoon and slugged out a 23 to 1 decision over the proteges of Andy Hemphill in the first practice game of the season. A late start coupled with a blinding sandstorm cut short the slaughter which might have been even more pitiable if the weather men had not interfered.

The Tech sluggers batted around in two of the four innings that were played. McCrory and Hobson on the mound for the collegians were complete masters of the Dickens County lads while their mates pounded the offerings of Lee and Latham to all corners of the lot. Wildness on the part of the visiting hurriers and loose fielding also gave the locals a number of tallies.

Tom McCrory fed his wronghand slants to the Spur baseballers during the first three frames, taking advantage of the wind to use his curve ball effectively. Hobson worked the last inning and displayed worlds of stuff.

Dewitt Marshall and Peterson led the Matador attack on the high school pitching. Dewitt and Peterson leaped against two for home runs while Marshall was forced to be content with one circuit smash.

The Tech defense was not given an opportunity to function with the Tuesday would likely draw first call against the Class D aggregation.

FORM HOCKEY LEAGUE

Universities of Pacific Coast Form Circuit

LOS ANGELES, April 9. (AP)—Ice hockey has become a popular sport on the Pacific coast.

Two professional puck circuits have been active for several years and the four major universities in the state—California, Stanford, Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles—have begun formation of an intercollegiate ice hockey league which is to open play next season.

Intercollegiate ice hockey here has drawn well enough to make the sport pay.

Bob Shawkey, former New York Yankee pitcher, says Dale Alexander should be one of the sensations of the year in the American league.

Crucial Series To Begin Early

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—The crucial series boys make a strong start in the National league this season.

Chicago and Pittsburgh, rated as two of the strongest clubs in the Heydler circuit, clash on the very first day of the season.

They are booked for a four-game engagement beginning April 19 and lasting through April 23.

Tough Luck Gets Thevenow Again On Eve Of 1929 Pennant Campaign

Philly Shortstop Is Victim Of Wreck In Florida

By BOB MATHERNE
NEA Service Sports Writer

If there is such a thing as a jim that pursues certain luckless ones, it seems that Tommy Thevenow, shortstop of the Philadelphia Nationals, is one of those unfortunate.

Thevenow has been seriously injured in an automobile wreck in Florida.

With another Philadelphia player, and in a rented car, Thevenow was going from Orlando to Winter Haven, a distance of 12 miles, when the accident happened. In attempting to avoid a passing machine their car swerved into a ditch. Both players were thrown from the car and Thevenow suffered serious injuries.

Thevenow, in all probability, won't be able to play with the Philadelphia club this season.

This is unfortunate, not only for Thevenow but also for the hopes that the Phillies had of being a team of some importance in the National race this season.

The Phillies have earned a great deal of praise from the experts by their improved play this spring and no little of the nice things said can be attributed to the work that Thevenow was doing.

His presence seemed to have put plenty of life in the infield.

"I've got a good man at short-stop," Manager-Shotton told the experts. "He fields well and throws nicely and he is able to hit somewhat more than a lot of shortstops. Thevenow is doing wonders for this infield."

Thevenow had had more than his share of bad luck in his major league career of four years. This would have been his fifth. His four previous years were spent with the St. Louis Cards.

Never a very great hitter, but a good man in the pinches, Thevenow was the batting hero of the 1926 world series between the Yankees and the Cardinals. He led off the series, being the only man on either team to hit above the 400 mark.

Late in reaching a salary agreement with the Cards the next spring, Thevenow didn't suffer from a late arrival in the training camp. On the contrary, he was a sensation with his bat.

But the moment the season got under way Thevenow's bat was completely silenced. The jim had him in his first 40 games he drove in exactly two runs across the plate.

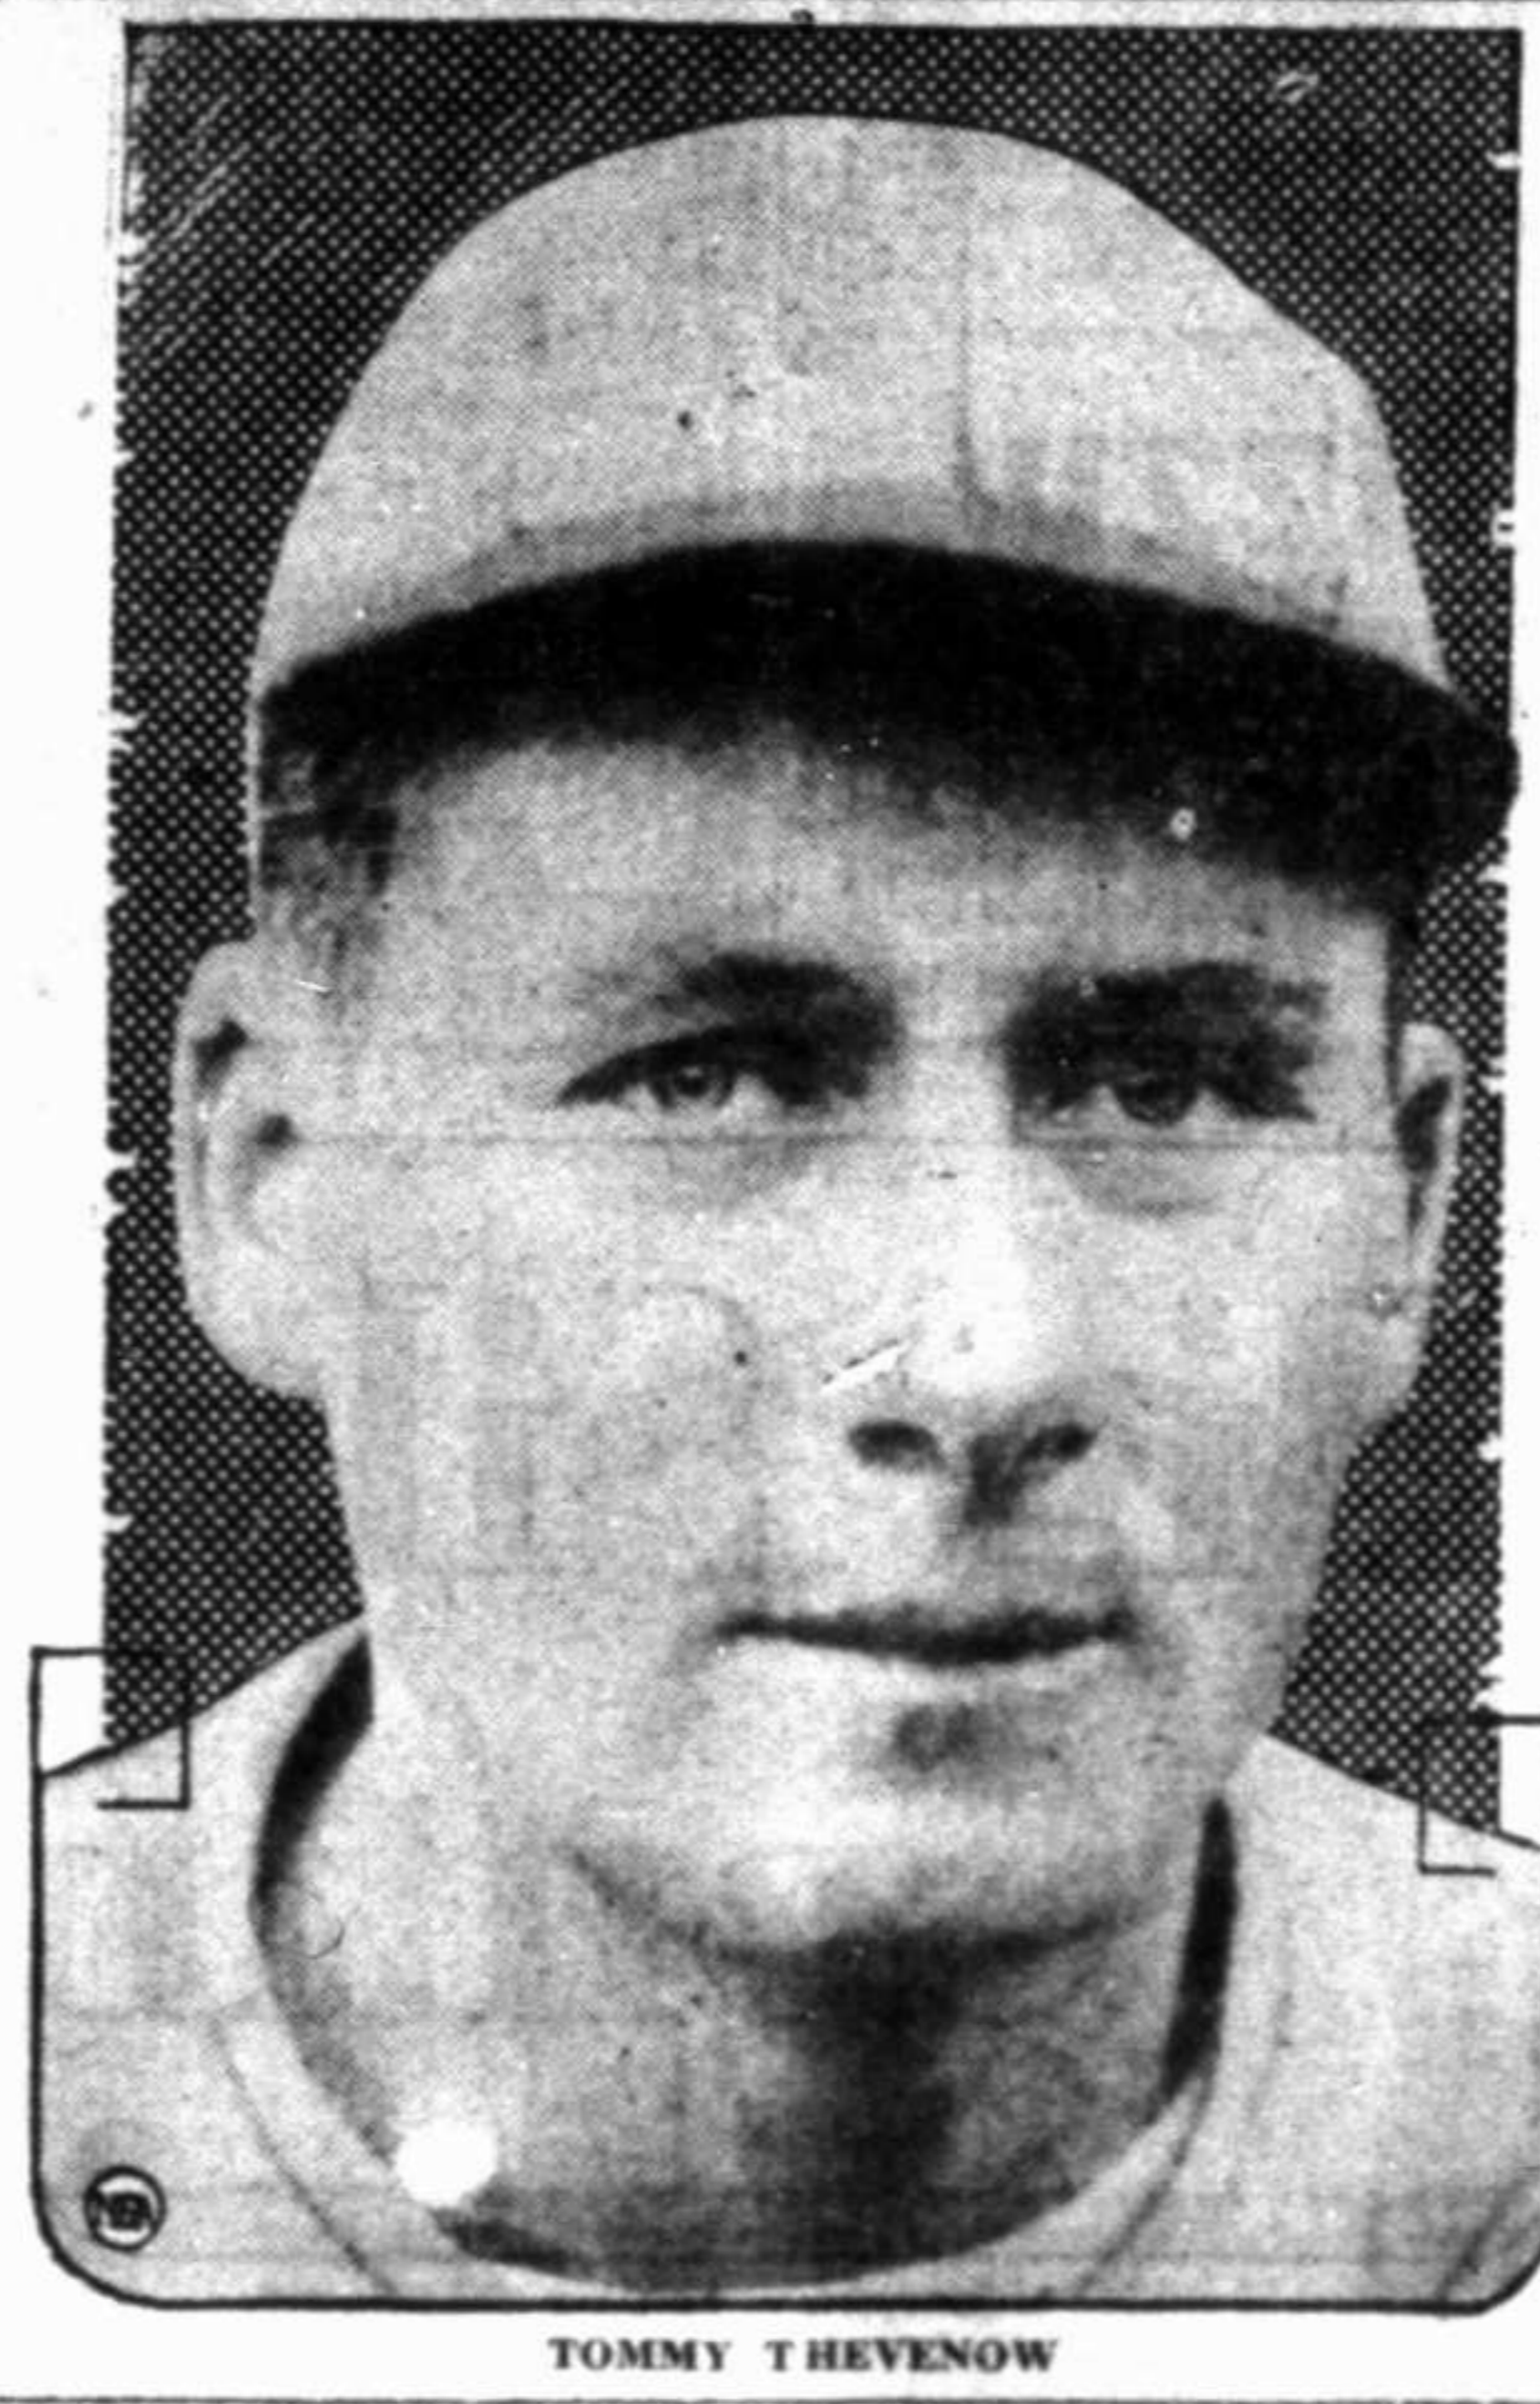

Batting slumps are hard to explain. They come unexpectedly and they go unexpectedly. That was Thevenow's case. But no sooner had he gotten over the batting slump before another jolt came his way.

He suffered a serious leg injury, and, to make it brief, the result was that the record book shows he played in only 55 games for the Cardinals in 1927.

He worked in only 69 games for the Cards last season. His leg again troubled him.

The Cards traded him to the Phillies during the winter months and Thevenow joined his new club with the thought that perhaps he would be able to show the Cards had made a bad deal. And from all the nice things that have been said of him this spring it does seem as if he was on the way to being the Thevenow of old.

And then this accident—just another tough blow for a game little fellow, and a popular fellow, to have to take.

If Jack Kearns' plan for a Walker-Loughran 45-round fight at Agua Caliente materializes, Tommy Loughran can prepare to give up his shirt.

Kearns says Loughran will be paid $100,000 for the bout. Kearns must have been blowing safes in business colleges.

Lena Blackburne has been disciplining his White Sox a bit and the boys are starting to issue statements. Lena can't see how a guy can get dizzy in a picture show.

Art Shires, demoted captain, publicly proclaims he would just as soon be waived out of the league and sent up again to another team. Maybe what he needs is a couple of years under the kindly, caring touch of J. McGraw, Joe McCarthy or Donie Bush.

The Cards beat the Yanks 10 to 2 the other day. Maybe the St. Louis fans ought to ask a recount on the world series score.

Bucky Harris took over the management of the Tigers and said his playing days were over. Now he has regenerated the infield so he can cover second himself. They just can't keep him off that old diamond.

PARIS, April 9. (AP)—One hundred workmen are busy transforming the wooden structure known as the Roland Garros tennis stadium into a cement amphitheatre seating 25,000.

It is here that the 1929 Davis Cup will be won and lost in a contest worthy of comparison with Wimbledon and Forest Hills.

Alabama's baseball team, noted for their 1928 pennant and championship, will be in the running again this year.

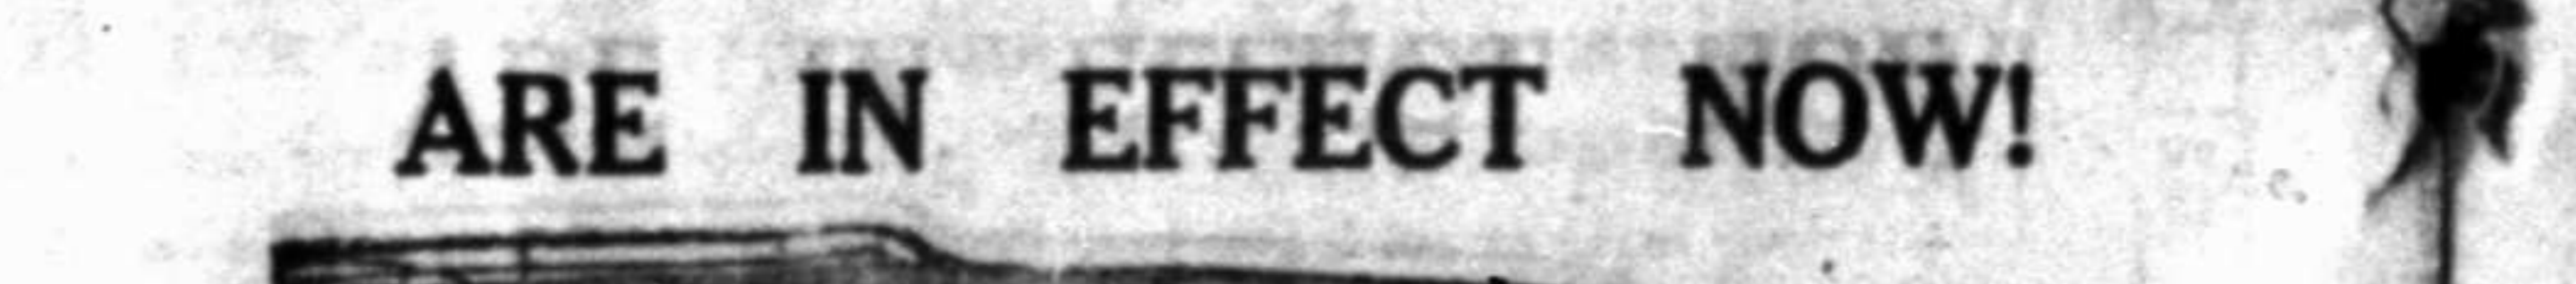

Birmingham's entry won the South association pennant. Montgomery carried off honors in the Southeastern league, and Alabama Polytechnic institute (Auburn) was champion of the Southern conference. All have strong teams in the field this year to retain their laurels.

Having won honors for the state last year, the baseball teams now will compete among themselves. Mobile is anxious for the Southern association championship and Selma is after the Southeastern league title while University of Alabama hopes for the Southern conference honors.

THE THING THAT KEEPS THE SOUTH PLAINS GROWING

There may be a number of things that keep the South Plains going forward, and we really think we could name a large number of reasons for the continuous advancing of the Plains country, but there is one that we specially wish to mention and that is a thing that happened in Plainview just a few days ago, during the Panhandle South Plains Dairy Show.

RATHER DISGUSTING AFTER ALL

After the people of the United States has honored Vice President Curtis with the office, and so many nice things have been said about him, and what a wonderful fellow he seemed to be after having been reared in Indian camps and all that sort of stuff, he comes along and disgusts the average American citizen by raising a fuss about the social standing of his sister.

AMERICA NEEDS MORE OF THE SPIRIT OF CHRIST

America today needs a greatly increased number of men and women who possess the disposition that was in Washington and that was pre-eminent in Christ—humility, purity, clear-headedness. When Washington was derided and attacked he was patient and forbearing.

AMERICAN FARMER IS HANDLING ONLY ONE-HALF OF HIS OWN BUSINESS

The farmer hasn't kept up with improving business methods. He has let some one else take over the selling end of the business of farming, where most of the money is made. He is permitting the other fellow to take profits the farmer should have.

HOOVER WON'T GET TARIFF REVISION THAT HE WANTS, SAYS CONGRESSMAN

BY CHARLES P. STEWART (Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The sort of tariff revision desired by President Hoover, at the special session of congress beginning April 15, says Representative Henry T. Raines of Illinois, "is exactly the kind he will not get."

"The president wants a few small increases. 'Never in all my experience at tariff hearings—an experience of more than a quarter of a century—have I observed such determining as our protected industries are showing now to shut out imports altogether.'"

On most congressional subjects maybe a senator is a more imposing authority to quote than a question of financial legislation, more representative—but not when a question of financial legislation, like the tariff, is involved.

Under the constitution, all money bills must originate in the lower house of congress. The "funding fathers" meant the representatives to hold the nation's purse strings. Until they loosen them, the senate can only wait. Consequently a representative speaks first and most emphatically whenever taxation is the discussions theme.

Especially a member of the representatives' ways and means committee, which frames our tariff laws. Representative Raines will be the committee's oldest member at the coming session, when Representative John N. Garner, hitherto slightly his senior, retires from it to assume the Democratic leadership of the lower house.

"Mr. Hoover" continues the Illinois congressman, "naturally objects to a tariff embargo on imports. He wishes them to come in, to provide revenue for his property program—his waterways and all his vast plans for nation-wide public works. The cost will be immense, and higher direct internal taxation would be unpopular. The tariff affords a less obvious means of raising funds. But of course it cannot be a revenue-producer if it excludes imports."

"It takes very little intelligence,—parentetically—to see all that."

"That, however, is not the tariff beneficiaries' idea. 'They want a monopoly.'"

"A few small increases" reflected the veteran. "Suppose we consider just three schedules—only three."

"Hides. The stock raisers want a few cents on hides. It will make shoe production so much more expensive that imported shoes will begin to under-sell our domestic factories. They will have to have a compensatory tariff on shoes or the industry will be ruined."

"Southern farmers demanded a few cents on Egyptian cotton. Our mills immediately will have to have a higher tariff to protect their finished product, or their industry will be ruined, too."

"Wool—a few cents. To produce a suit of clothes will cost $15 or $20 more. A compensatory tariff on woolen goods."

"The house of representatives may initiate tariff revision in a moderate form," surmised the Illinoisan "but if so, the boost will come when the bill reaches the senate."

"Senator Smoot will see to it there—as the high tariff apostle, and a strong man."

"Besides, his argument will be logical. Agriculture must be relieved. True, the tariff cannot be made to relieve it, but it is the only relief known to the now dominant party—for anything. And that kind of relief, administered to agriculture, will necessitate more of the same for everything else."

"The president," predicted the representative, "will be scared into it. He can be scared—by and by that time the lower house will be acquiescent."

"And that, it may not prove to be a prohibitive tariff after all."

DAILY COLD BATH WILL NEVER KEEP ANYONE FROM CATCHING A COLD

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, The Health Magazine.

Everybody has his cure for a cold. Some prefer to carry a small bag of asafoetida around the neck to keep off a cold. This smells so strong that it will keep almost anything off. Some prefer ten drops of camphor in a half glass of water, some believe that wearing rubbers in wet weather will take care of the situation. A popular remedy involves the drinking of three glasses of whiskey a day. Many prefer soaking the feet in a hot mustard bath and quite a few prefer orange juice and baking soda.

Science's Explanation So far as modern science knows, the catching of a cold is due to a state of lowered resistance of the body brought about by fatigue, exposure, bad nutrition, or any other factor that is wearing rather than stimulating to the body. Associated with this there is a contact with the germs, or virus that have the power to produce a cold by fixing themselves on the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. The resistance of these membranes may be lowered by unusual dryness of the atmosphere, by inflammation or by other causes.

Obviously, the prevention of a cold depends on keeping the body in the best possible physical state and in avoiding contact with people who have colds. Under modern conditions of civilization, respiratory diseases have increased tremendously and the avoidance of contact with people who have colds is about as difficult a proposition as can be put up to anyone.

Cold Baths Futile The cold bath fanatic believes that a man will never be ill if he takes a cold bath regularly every morning of his life. That is another superstition. Then there is the belief that one is certain to get ptomaine poisoning if he eats oysters in a month not containing an "r"—a relic of the period before cold storage, food preservation and modern scientific food handling.

The months that do not contain an "r" include May, June, July and August—the hot months. During these months the transportation of food is a difficult matter. However, modern refrigeration now permits the handling of all sorts of materials without permitting the propagation of germs due to heat.

The idea of ptomaine poisoning is itself an exploded idea. Practically all of the cases of ptomaine poisoning are infections with germs of the so-called coliform typhoid group—germs which affect the intestines more than any other portion of the body.

The Only Danger The oyster grows in shallow water. When these waters are contaminated with sewage, the germs from the intestinal tract in the sewage "take up residence" in the oyster. When the oysters are shipped without proper cold storage facilities, germs multiply.

For this reason there have been typhoid epidemics due to infected oysters. Nowadays the whole oyster industry is controlled by sanitary requirements which make it safe to eat oysters when they are grown, packed, shipped and served under proper sanitary conditions.

Hands Across The Sea!

SO THINK WE

We think Clovis people should feel proud of the new daily paper that started there a week ago. It is a very creditable sheet, and the business firms of Clovis should lend it their liberal support, as it is one of the best assets that the town could have.

We think if Herbert Hoover does not quit appointing democrats to important positions he will lead the people to believe that he thinks the democrats elected him to the office.

We think that prosperity of the South Plains is reflected in the statements of the banks of this section of the country. Fewer bank failures have occurred on the South Plains than any section of the United States. There is a reason—the cow, the sow and the hen.

We think the Hoovers are trying to lighten things up a bit around the White House even the celebrated "green house" is being given a coat of white.

We think from the way Dan Moody wields the blue pencil he does not have edited political opinion at one time in his life for a small town daily newspaper.

We think whatever trouble Adam had, to fill his soul with ire, he never broke a gold club or fixed a punctured tire.

We think there is a very commendable thought in this slogan that we understand is posted in many of the public buildings in Japan: "Kindness is a language that the bum can speak, and the deaf can hear."

We think it must be the effect of spring, but we just can't keep off of poetry today. And they parted with great sorrow, with tears and grief and pain; alas the skirts and choctops will never meet again.

We think a one-armed fireman must be wonderfully handicapped when it comes to telling just how long the first one was that got away.

We think that the station in life for a great many people is the filling station.

We think the trouble with the average farmer is that his sons and his daughters and his profits all go to town and leave him at home with the bag to hold.

We think the fellows who stand around and talk about what is not going to be done in Lubbock get black eyes more than any other set of men. For the very thing that they will not be bobs up about the time they think it will not.

We think the fellows who have been predicting a crash in the building permits of Lubbock for the past five years are certainly having a long period of disappointment.

We think the cities that keep in the lead of Lubbock in building permits in April will have to be running right along with the first on the block when the building permits will be in the lead of the metropolises of the South Plains.

We think that most everyone who attended the rail hearing here last week are pretty well convinced that the Santa Fe should have the preference to build a certain line representing the T. and P., and we are not so sure that they were not convinced that it was the most practical route even then.

We think that time and tide never waits for men, neither does the income tax man.

We think that great wealth comes in different ways. Sometimes it is sheer luck, other times it is the

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

Progress is slow in human nature because we are linked with the past. A London young man named MacKenzie proposed to a young lady. She told him he would have to prove his courage and be an old-fashioned hero. She demanded a pirate or a cave man or something like that. The poor young man resigned his job as a clerk in a hardware store. He went looking for hero jobs. There are few sinking ships these days. Few maidens to be rescued from burning buildings. This young man hasn't grown up into the modern world. The young man has not either, or he wouldn't be trying to do these stunts. The young lady ought to be smart enough to know that it's brain, not brawn, the proposing young gentleman needs for this particular world.

THE CARD MAKER John Omwake, president of the United States Playing Card Co. does not play bridge. Why should he? He does his share in giving others an amusing method of killing time. He doesn't have to kill his. He doubtless finds many vastly more interesting things to do. That would not be difficult.

CROOKS AND DETECTIVES New York City is to have a division of psychiatry in the department of hospitals. Experts on the human mind and emotions will attempt to separate the mentally defective from the normal. It is hard to believe any criminals are entirely "normal." And yet the habit of being vicious when it is taken on in youth, can lead a young man of good mind to a career of crime. Of course he will not have a trained and cultivated mind. Any man with good education knows that crime fails! It does not pay. It exacts too high a price.

DISCRIMINATION Speaking of a department of psychiatry, the city of New York is at least on the right track in making a definite effort to separate the positively mentally defective from the others. In that way, better than in any other, we may get at the cause of crime.

result of a good investment, and sometimes it is the result of the bone dry law, but in the latter we doubt if it comes very often to men who are good citizens.

We think some newspapers are so unreasonable. Some of the democratic newspapers are even begrudging President Hoover's hand shaking time.

We think that President Hoover should insist on proper reappointment of congressmen during his administration, and the strict enforcement of the prohibition laws, farm bills, and the abolishment of about two thousand needless officials in Washington, and then he will be considered having done a real man's job.

We think there is one thing sure, the representatives were here on one of the most pleasant days that West Texas affords, and if they were not well pleased with Lubbock and the South Plains they certainly must be a dumb bunch, but they were delighted. They were favorably impressed with the way people snapped into things around this part of the state, and they know now why it takes so much money to build the Tech and to operate it. It is one of the biggest institutions in the state, and more people are trying to come here to get their education, because of the ideal conditions of this section of the country, and we are quite sure that the visit will mean several thousand dollars more on the appropriations for this splendid school.

THE BLACK PIGEON

"HANDSOME HARRY" BORDEN is shot between one and four o'clock Saturday afternoon. RUTH LESTER, his secretary, finds his body Monday morning sprawled beneath the airshaft window of his private office.

McMANN, detective sergeant questions RUTH, MRS. BORDEN. Borden's estranged wife and the mother of his two children; RITA DUBOIS, night club dancer, with whom Borden was infatuated; and JACK BAILEY, Ruth's fiancé, whose office is across the narrow airshaft from Borden's.

McMANN's belief in Jack's guilt is strengthened by his discovery that Jack's Colt's .38 is missing; by Jack's own admission that he returned to the seventh floor Saturday afternoon after the shooting; and by the fact that the fingerprints of ELEVATOR BOYS MICKY MORAN and OTTO PFUGEL, BILL COWAN, Jack's friend, unwillingly tell McMANN he heard Jack threaten Borden's life Saturday morning.

JACK BAILEY, Borden's bodyguard, is sent for. Meanwhile McMANN questions BENNY SMITH, Borden's office boy; ASHE, his man servant; MINNIE CASSIDY and LETTY MILLER, seventh floor scrubwomen; and CLEO GILMAN, Doreen's maid. She is a girl who gives an ironed alibi. MARTHA MANNING, mother of Borden's illegitimate son, is involved by Ruth's detective work. McMANN questions her about her relationship with the victim but she declines to answer. She insists that she saw him last Christmas Eve.

McMANN quickly presses her fingers into an ink-smeared blotter and records her fingerprints on a sheet of white paper to compare them with prints discovered on the glass panel of the door between the two Borden offices.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX Ruth Lester felt that she, as well as the frail, tortuous woman beside her, could not bear the suspense of the next slow minutes.

With nerve wracking deliberation Detective Sergeant McMANN drew another sheet of paper from his pocket—enlarged photograph of the three fingerprints discovered by Detective Ferber on the glass panel of the door between the outer and inner offices of the Borden suite.

As Jack had said with satisfaction, she had just made in ink of Martha Manning's fingers, then with maddening lack of haste, reached into his coat pocket, secured a small microscope and fitted it into his left eye.

Today's Poem

MAIDEN EYES You never had me hope, I swear, I asked you not to swear, But I looked in those eyes of blue, And read a promise there.

The vow should bind, with maiden sigh, That maiden lips have spoken, But that which looks from maiden eyes, Should last of all be broken.

been endowed with magic the communicating door opened at that moment and the head of the stairway again and waited, listening through a crack in the door.

"After several minutes I heard footsteps and peeped out. Jake was at the elevator. When it had taken him in and was on its way down, I ran to Mr. Borden's door, knocking my glove so that I could knock loudly. I counted on Mr. Borden's thinking that Jake had come back for some forgotten last word. Of course I tried the door first but it was locked as I expected. He did open the door—wide, as I had hoped and before he could prevent me I slipped in."

"Glad to see you?" McMann cut in sarcastically.

"No," the woman answered simply. "But — he did agree to talk with me. We sat here — at his desk — and the beautiful voice faltered, broke."

Borden opened the door between the two offices for you, I suppose?" McMann suggested casually.

"Yes — of course! He was willing to talk things over, as I told you?"

"Then how do you account for your fingerprints on the glass panel of the door between?" McMann sprung his trap.

The woman looked confused then confident again. "I remember! When I came out of this office — Harry did not accompany me to the outer door — I felt dizzy, ill with relief and joy — and I leaned for a moment against the door, throwing up one hand against the glass panel to steady myself."

Again McMann looked so chagrined that Ruth could have laughed although Jack Hayward seemed farther than ever from being cleared of the charge of murder, which might be officially lodged against him at any moment.

"Do you were dizzy with joy, eh?" McMann grunted at last. "What was the good news?"

"Harry — Mr. Borden — had agreed to establish a trust fund for my son, to promise me the woman — you take it up with his lawyer the next day, or Monday at the latest," Martha Manning answered. "He did not live to do so."

"So — McMann leaned forward, and leveled a menacing, triumphant forefinger at the woman — you called him on the telephone Saturday morning and again about half-past one just to tell him how happy you were, I suppose — Wait! No use thinking up another good lie. I will not believe words with you, Miss Manning. I don't believe a word of this fine yarn you've spun to account for these fingerprints of yours! In some way — I'll find out how, all right! — Wait! I knew when Borden and Bailey entered the building and when Bailey left it, but when I got hold of Jake Bailey I'll be able to know your pretty story into a cooked hat —"

"As if the detective's words had ly the sound of voices. I knew that Jake was still with Mr. Borden so precise moment and Birdwell's weary, bored voice announced: "Jake Bailey is here, sir. He wants to know if he can be of any help, he says —"

Jake Bailey tells his story and it confirms the story of Martha Manning. In the next chapter.

NEURITIS PAINS OF 6 YEARS DURATION YIELD TO SARGON

"Sargon is the only medicine that relieved me of neuritis after searching for six years for something to master my misery. I would be doing my housework and all at once, hard pinching pains would start in my left side, and extend up into my shoulders, and many a time I had to sit down or go to bed until the spells had passed. Then, I commenced to suffer with stomach trouble. After eating, hard pains would come in the pit of my stomach, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I had taken so many medicines without any lasting relief, and was so tired, worn and distressed with pain, that I was on the verge of despair. But I will never cease to be thankful for giving Sargon a chance and I am still marveling at the relief this wonderful medicine gave me. If it had done nothing but end my neuritis, that would have been enough, but it helped me in every way, and I am feeling better than I have in years. My appetite is back, I eat and enjoy hearty meals, and nothing disagrees with me. Every ache and pain gone, my strength and energy have returned, and I feel like a different woman in every way.

While the Sargon tonic was building me back my strength, Sargon Soft Mass Pills cleaned my system of poisons, by stimulating my liver and regulating my bowel action. I can never say too much in praise of this wonderful new treatment.

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Gertrude McDonald, highly esteemed resident of 757 Mehta St., Dallas.

Sargon may be obtained in Lubbock from City Drug Stores, and in Slaton from City Drug Store.

Stocks Continue Orderly Retreat As Call Mounts

Rumors of Bull Operators Deciding to Yield to Federal Reserve Cause Downward Trend of Sales.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—The stock market continued its orderly retreat today, along a somewhat broader front, as call money again mounted to 10 per cent and rumors filtered through Wall Street that leading bull operators had decided the time had come to yield to the federal reserve board in its struggle to curtail speculative credit.

The rise in call money, from a renewal rate of 7 per cent, resulted from the calling of about $45,000,000 by banks, presumably to strengthen their positions at the reserve institutions and in preparation for the mid month settlements. Call money still held firm at the abnormal rate of 9 per cent.

Selling Considerably Larger
Selling was in considerable larger volume than yesterday, but the day's business was moderate, with total sales of 2,622,340. This, however, was a gain of approximately 500,000 shares over the previous session.

Some three score issues were driven to new lows for 1929, or to within a point or so of their previous bottom figures for the year.

Custom smelters cut the price of copper about 2 cents a pound, and it was predicted in the trade that this was the beginning of a stabilization of the red metal around 21 or 22 cents a pound. Crude oil production for the latest week took another upturn, cancelling the decline of the previous week. Koller radio reported 1928 earnings of but 19 cents a share attributed largely to the expensive operations required to meet orders, which totaled 43 per cent. International paper, in its annual report, showed a deficit of $4,706,403, compared with a small balance in 1927.

The commodities were generally firm, cotton gaining on reports of rains over the belt, and wheat closing higher after mixed movements.

Foreign exchanges eased slightly, the demand rate for sterling dropping 1-16 of a cent to $4.84 7-8.

Weather Reports Send Cotton Up On Gotham Mart

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Less favorable weather reports and relatively steady Liverpool cables were reflected by advances in the cotton market today. After selling up to 20.16 for July, or 25 points net higher, the market eased off about 10 points but steadied again toward the close with July closing at 20.29. The general market closed steady at net advances of 13 to 18 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points on the cable and weather news. The initial advance met considerable realizing but it was readily absorbed, and the market went about 15 to 24 points net higher during the morning on covering together with some trade buying and moderate commission house demand.

May advanced to 20.70 and December to 20.14, with the active months showing net gains of about 20 to 25 points in early afternoon. There seemed to be apprehension that the rains reported in the eastern belt would work eastward, and that the south might have another spell of wet weather. Some traders, however, thought the rains in the southeast would be beneficial than otherwise, and that showers in the eastern belt would not be unfavorable.

This view, together with an advance in the call money rate and a feeling that probable bullish standard which statistics for March had been discounted, seemed to promote realizing. There was enough of this to cause reactions of 10 or 12 points from the best during the middle of the afternoon but the market steadied up again in the last hour on renewed covering.

The disposition to take profits on the midday advance to 20.70 for May and 20.14 for December might have been promoted by rumors that labor disputes in the Carolina mills were spreading.

Exports today 15,561 bales making 7,071,170 so far this season. Port receipts today 18,811 U. S. port stocks 1,804,724.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, April 9. (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Although cattle receipts around the 11-market circuit were again liberal and trade on killing classes slow, no heavy price declines were enforced. Fed steers and yearlings having sufficient quality to find a shipping market held fully steady, while other offerings ruled steady to 2c lower. Light mixed yearlings and fed heifers were weak to 2c lower with prices at some points 25 to 50c under last week.

Chicago scored $14.50 on choice medium weight steers, and secured $14.50 for heavy steers and mixed yearlings. Stocker and feeder classes were in light to moderate supply with demand sufficient to maintain steady values. Aggregate receipts estimated at 37,500 an increase of 10,000 over last Tuesday but 2,000 short of a year ago.

Comparatively liberal receipts and a light shipping demand resulted in 10@40c lower prices on hogs. Packers on the close at most markets enforcing declines of 25c@40c. The day's extreme top of $11.90 was paid at St. Louis.

Owners of DODGE TRUCKS call it PAY LOAD

Your pay load is the load of actual merchandise you deliver—the load of the actual commodity you haul—whatever the size of the truck, whatever the nature of the load.

There is no profit in hauling the truck itself, or the body. That's expense. Dodge Truck owners know the dollars-and-cents meaning of Pay Loads. That's why there are so many Dodge owners.

Excess weight was engineered out of Dodge Trucks long ago. For your information—for comparison, and we invite it—we will be glad to go into the detail of sizes, weights and prices on the 51 standard Dodge Truck Chassis.

Cotton Market Is Slightly Higher; Demand Falls Low

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP)—The cotton market worked slightly higher today under a demand stimulated by the unfavorable weather in the belt and expectations of a bullish textile report. Realizing was encountered, however, and the demand was not fully maintained. July contracts which had sold up to 20.08, eased off and closed at 19.96, or seven points net up. The general market closed steady at net advances of 7 to 18 points.

The market opened steady in response to higher Liverpool cables. First trades were 6 to 8 points up and active positions soon showed advances of 12 to 13 points over the previous close, due to buying on reports of rain in the belt overnight which traders construed as unfavorable. At these levels May sold at 19.94, July 20.01 and October 19.82.

Realizing was encountered on the scale down and prices eased off 6 to 8 points but offerings appeared well absorbed at the setback and prices immediately started upward under buying said to emanate from Wall Street and on some local covering. May traded up to 20.00, July 20.06 and October 19.88, or 17 to 19 points net up.

In final trading there was a renewal of realizing and some liquidation of the May position which proved sufficient to carry that month to a new low at 19.83. Final prices were 3 to 4 points above the lows with October showing the maximum gain of 14 points for the day, closing at 19.79.

Receipts 10,633, for week 28,901; for year 8,830,298; last year 7,646,414. Exports 19,661; for week 51,173; for year 6,795,986; last year 5,922,394. Stocks 1,529,309.
