Soviet Refuses To Take Action In Peace Move

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — President Truman said today he is sticking to his statement that a Russian agreement is not worth the paper it is written on.

This was the President's only comment on Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky's statement that U. S.-Soviet relations could hardly be worse than they are now after Mr. Truman had said in a speech that Soviet agreements are not worth the paper on which they are written.

Vishinsky made the crack in a note rebuffing a secret United States proposal that Moscow act to bring about an armistice in Korea. He suggested instead talks on the general causes of East-West conflict.

Mr. Truman told a news conference he had not yet see the Soviet note and couldn't comment on it.

Initial State Department reaction was that this offer was propaganda, but the wording of the Russian note was such as to set off guessing among diplomats as to whether the Kremlin is sincere.

Moscow and the State Department disclosed Wednesday night that Ambassador Alan G. Kirk on Oct. 5 made the approach for Soviet intervention to end the deadlock between United Nations negotiators and the Communists.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky gave no direct reply, but he noted that Russia is "not a party to these negotiations."

He also: (1) charged the U. N. command created the cease-fire stalemate with "all kinds of incidents"; (2) supported the North Korean-Chinese position regarding a truce line in the area of the 38th Parallel; and (3) offered the Soviet's "full and energetic support" of measures for "the successful conclusion of negotiations" — successful presumabley from the Red viewpoint.

Vishinsky also questioned the good faith of assurances from Kirk that the United States and its Western Allies are arming only for defense and have no "aggressive designs" on Russian or any nation.

Vishinsky commented tartly that "this sort of statement" is contradicted by actions "which show that the government of the U.S.A. is not at all concerned with the maintenance of peace."

CITES ECONOMIC MEASURES

As examples, he complained of economic measures the United States has taken recently against Russia and the Soviet bloc and of President Truman's statement that agreements with Russia aren't worth the paper they are written on.

The rebuff convinced top American officials that at the moment Moscow is not interested in confidential negotiations like those which ended the Berlin blockade. They tabbed Vishinsky's response "propaganda."

Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counselor and Secretary Acheson's principal advisor on relations with the Kremlin, told reporters: "it is characteristic of Soviet procedure that when they are seriously interested in any subject they don't publicize it in the way they did this."

TWO HINTS DETECTED

At the same time some officials thought they detected two possible hints that Moscow may be willing both to reach a settlement in Korea and to discuss the settlement of other East-West issues. They noted:

1. Vishinsky reaffirmed that Russia is standing by its proposal of last June which initiated the Korean armistice talks. This was that Moscow had in mind an armistice on a military basis with political considerations to be left for the future.

2. The foreign minister wound up his 2,000-word statement by saying Russia "agrees to examine with the participation of the government of the U. S. A. all important and unsettled questions and to discuss measures for the improvement of international relations, including relations between the Soviet Union and the U. S. A."

Some authorities speculated this referred to the announcement last month by Acheson and the British and French foreign ministers rather than to anything Kirk said. This was that the Western powers held to the view that a peaceful settlement of East-West issues is possible, and that the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly at Paris next month would afford an opportunity for discussions.

Kirk complained to Vishinsky that the North Korean and Chinese negotiators were not following the understanding he received from Acting Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko last June that Russia favored an armistice on a military basis alone.

This referred mainly to the Communist insistence that the truce line be established along the 38th Parallel instead of the existing military line as demanded by the U.N. negotiators. If the Communists sincerely want an armistice, he said, they would agree to a "reasonable" truce line affording safety to both sides, permit inspection to assure compliance, and provide for satisfactory disposition of war prisoners.

Hopes Revived For Resuming Meetings

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 18 (AP) — Efforts to revive Korean truce talks took a hopeful turn today after the United Nations command submitted a compromise security zone proposal.

Communist liaison officers took the suggestion under consideration overnight.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official spokesman for the U. N. command, expressed "cautious optimism."

"Tangible progress definitely was made" in Thursday's conference between Red and Allied liaison officers, Nuckols said. It was their eighth meeting at Panmunjom, a village in no-man's-land.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior U. liaison officers, took an "optimistic view of the situation."

Kinney said the liaison delegations Thursday reached "substantial agreement on one or two points which had been in dispute." But, he cautioned, "we still have several fundamental questions remaining."

Referring to some of these points, Col. Chang Chun San, heading the Red delegation, remarked: "I find very little difference between us."

Chang said his delegation may reply to the new U. N. neutral zone suggestion when the liaison officers meet at 10 a.m. Friday (7 p.m. Thursday, CST).

The new Allied proposals could establish a five-mile attack free radius around Communist truce headquarters at Kaesong and the U. N. advance camp at Munsan.

The Reds wanted to keep the five-mile zone which surrounded Kaesong when it was the site of truce talks. They had proposed a similar circle around Munsan.

Both sides already have agreed on a 1,000-yard protected sphere around the big tent at Panmunjom where negotiators are to meet.

The new Allied offer ignored the Red proposal to create a protected strip along the road linking Kaesong, Panmunjom and Munsan. The U. N. has agreed to safe conduct of truce parties traveling on the road.

Whipping Of Woman Fatal

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 18 (AP) — A leader of a religious cult was held in jail today in connection with the death of an elderly woman member whom he admitted whipping during cult rites "to drive out the devil."

Citing Biblical quotations, members of the religious sect attempted to explain the fatal beating of Mrs. Anna Halvorson, 64, and the serious injury of a second woman.

"The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil and so do stripes the inward part of the belly," was one Biblical quotation (Proverbs 20:30), cited by a member of the sect.

Sheriff Thomas Gibbons said Curtis Lennander, 33, a railroad worker, admitted Wednesday night in a tape-recorded statement that he fatally whipped Mrs. Halvorson Monday night after first whipping his wife.

Arrests Made In Vet Frauds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — The FBI today announced the arrest of 22 persons on charges of fraud against the government in connection with the GI educational program.

Fourteen arrests were made in Miami, Fla., two in Detroit, one in Dayton, O., two in New York City and three in the Newark, N. J. area.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified those arrested as employes, officials, and owners of five vocational schools, including the Berlitz School of Languages of America, Inc. at Miami.

Hoover said the alleged fraud total more than $350,000.

In the past 40 months, he added, FBI investigations have resulted in the arrest of more than 300 persons charged with veterans' school frauds totaling close to $1 million.

Compromise On Tax Bill May Be Up Friday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — Administration leaders today hopefully cast about for a new compromise on a multi-billion dollar tax increase, the master key to quick adjournment of Congress.

Although surface indications of any agreement were lacking, the peacemakers seemed cautiously optimistic of working out a measure mutually acceptable to the Senate and to the Republican-Northern Democrat combination that trounced the original $5,732,000,000 compromise tax bill in the House Tuesday.

The conferees were called back into session today after an exploratory meeting Wednesday which produced no tangible results.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts told the house after that meeting, "it is hoped" that a new compromise will be ready by Friday. If that happens, and if prompt Senate and House approval are forthcoming, adjournment would still be possible on Saturday, as originally planned.

The four Democrats on the House conference delegation consulted with staff aides and Treasury experts on possible revisions. There were no public conciliation moves by their three Republican colleagues, or from the five Senate conferees.

While a dozen possible "package" settlements were rumored around the capitol, the men trying to settle the dispute confronted some tight specifications.

An attempt had to be made to satisfy (1) Republicans who want no tax increase or who consider the proposed rise too high, and (2) a bloc of Democrats who insist the original compromise hit the low income groups too hard and let off corporations and wealthy individuals too lightly.

Further, the Senate's top negotiators have served notice they will support no increase higher than the $5,732,000,000 estimated new revenue in the bill the House turned down.

Plane Carries Polio Victim Across Pacific

HONOLULU, Oct. 18 (AP) — A specially equipped military transport plane winged across the Pacific today, carrying a young mother with polio to her parents' home in Fresno, Calif.

Mrs. Mildred Button was in an iron lung adapted to operate off the powerful generators of the huge plane. She was attended by an Army doctor, two Air Force nurses and three iron lung technicians.

Mrs. Button, 23, can stay out of the lung only 90 seconds at a time. She cannot breathe in a portable lung.

The plane left Hickam Air Force Base at 10:05 Wednesday night (2:05 a.m. Thursday, CST). It is due in Fresno at 12:50 p.m. (2:50 p.m., CST) today.

Mrs. Button's husband, Staff Sgt. Edgar C. Button, left Honolulu by plane Tuesday night with the couple's year-old daughter, Pamela. He will meet his wife's plane in Fresno.

Nobel Prize To U. S. Physician

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 18 (AP) — The 1951 Nobel prize in medicine was awarded tonight to Dr. Max Theiler of New York for developing the first effective vaccines against yellow fever.

The award recognized the contribution of Dr. Theiler — who has been on the staff of the international health division of the Rockefeller Foundation for 21 years — as the most important achievement in 50 years in the fight against one of the great plagues of the world.

The 51-year-old medical scientist has spent half of his time in the past 10 decades attempting to find the effective weapon against yellow fever, scourge of the tropics and sub-tropics.

It was learned from reliable sources that [illegible] worthy of the Nobel Prize in [illegible] awarding body at least three times in recent years.

Nearly 50 million people are estimated to have been inoculated by one of the two vaccines developed for general use by Dr. Theiler.

Allied Forces Make Gains On Western Front

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 18 (AP) — Chinese suddenly abandoned a series of key hills in Western Korea to attacking Americans today. But they stiffened against Allies crunching forward toward their Kumsong stronghold in the center.

Troops of the U. S. First Cavalry Division overran four hills northwest of Yonchon almost unopposed.

The Americans had been fighting for the ridge line for two weeks in one of the bloodiest small actions of the entire United Nations autumn offensive. Chinese deserted the western hills during the night after beating off a series of flame-throwing attacks Wednesday.

The doughboys fanned out over the charred, artillery-scarred ridge virtually without firing a shot.

TWO-MILE GAIN

The unopposed advance placed the cavalry troopers about two miles in front of their positions of Oct. 3 when the U. N. Western offensive started.

A front line officer said the operation "to all practical intents and purposes is complete."

From the center of the Korean front, AP Correspondent Sam Summerlin reported a "curtain of smoke from bursting U. N. shells and bombs rose like a sweeping forest fire" in front of Allied infantrymen advancing on Kumsong.

After flying over the area, Summerlin wrote:

"Kumsong looked like a ghost town. It was pock marked with bomb craters. Allied planes had knocked out the spans from both the road and railway bridges across the river."

McCormick To Open New 66 Station Friday

The largest Phillips 66 service station in the world is being pushed into second place with the opening of a new Phillips 66 open air super station at Avenue S and Seventeenth Street here.

"In many respects the new station is larger than the Phillips 66 Super Station located in East Snyder which was the world's largest when built," C. E. McCormick, owner of both, said.

The new station will be officially opened with a day-long celebration tomorrow. Orchids will be given all women customers at the service station tomorrow and salt and pepper shakers will be given by the cafe which is to be operated in conjunction with the new station.

The new station has 14 pumps for regular and ethyl gasoline and diesel fuel. An added feature is racks for canned oils which hold about 75 cases of oil located on the driveways within easy reach of attendants.

Seven persons will be employed by the station, and nine persons in the cafe, McCormick said.

Both the station and cafe will remain open 24 hours per day.

The station has 10 fuel pumps on driveways facing Avenue S, and four facing Seventeenth Street.

C. E. McCormick & Sons are Phillips products distributors here.

The dormitory at the super station on the East Highway has proven highly successful, and most nights it is overflowing, McCormick said.

Pilots And 22 Refugees Flee From Yugoslavia

ZURICH, Switzerland, Oct. 18 (AP) — The Swiss Department of Justice considered today political asylum pleas from two Yugoslav airline pilots who turned their plane — and 22 passengers — off an internal Yugoslav route and fled to Switzerland.

The pilots asked refuge for their families who were aboard the plane.

They landed at Zurich Airport Wednesday. Swiss police reported one pilot said they could no longer endure "the Communist terror regime in Yugoslavia."

Russian Planes Bomb Freighter Off Red Coast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Oct. 18 (AP) — A British sea captain today accused Russian airplanes of making an unprovoked bombing attack on his ship near the Soviet port of Archangle last Sept. 14.

Soviet sea planes dropped three bombs but none hit, Capt. Leslie Gow of the 3,538-ton freighter "Bervistone" told reporters.

British intelligence agents interviewed him when the vessel returned from Russia this morning.

In London, the admiralty and the foreign office said they had heard of Gow's statements but could not yet comment.

Gow's account suggested a possibility that the Soviets had failed to identify the approaching ship and were trying to warn her away from Archangel.

British vessels ply regularly between the Arctic port and the United Kingdom in carrying on Anglo-Soviet trade.

Gow said he made a report later to Soviet authorities but received no explanation. Britain has no consulate at Archangel, so no immediate report to the British government was possible, he explained.

Gow told this story of the bombing:

The planes appeared overhead at about 4 a.m. local time, about ten miles outside Archangel harbor. The Russians dropped flares to light up the sea.

The first bomb fell about 100 yards ahead of the ship.

Censors Delay News Release For 24 Hours

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 18 (AP) — British and Egyptian troops clashed Wednesday along the Suez Canal and the British seized the only bridge crossing it. Two Egyptian soldiers were killed in the fighting.

The Cairo newspaper Al Misri said that by seizing the bridge the British had cut the canal area off from the rest of Egypt. But the Arabic newspaper Al Zaman later said the British had withdrawn from the bridge — called El Ferdan — and that Egyptian troops had resumed guard duty in the area.

Egyptian censors held up news of Wednesday's clash for 24 hours. It started about 2 a.m., according to the British version, and lasted 15 minutes. The Egyptian version was that resistance continued into midmorning.

SHOUTING STREET MOB

Today in Cairo, a shouting street mob of 2,000 demonstrated in front of Shepheards Hotel, displaying newspaper front pages carrying pictures of rioting at Ismailia and Port Said. The mob shouted anti-British and anti-Western slogans.

The pictures showed a funeral procession in Port Said Wednesday for five civilians killed there, showed a dead Egyptian policeman lying in the street at Ismailia and other scenes showing British troops in the streets.

A British army spokesman said the canal area was quiet again Wednesday night and today.

It was the second successive day the British had fought with Egyptians. They opened fire Tuesday on rioters and looters at Ismailia, where the Egyptian government said seven were killed. The British said they fired in self-defense.

But today the British moved to ease tension at Ismailia, site of a British army sub-command. Egyptian officials said the Britons agreed to pull their troops out of the town of 50,000 and leave it in control of Egyptian police.

COMPLETE TRANSFER

The British, meanwhile, were due to complete today the transfer by air of 3,500 parachute troops from the Mediterranean island of Cyprus to the canal area where 40,000 or more British soldiers and airmen already were on the alert.

The commander of Britain's land forces in the Middle East, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, left London by air today for the Suez area. He is due there Friday afternoon.

The El Ferdan bridge, scene of Wednesday's battle, links Africa and Asia. Its eastern end is on the railway to the Holy Land. The bridge site is where the Holy Family reportedly crossed on its flight into Egypt.

The present bridge is a swinging structure that is pulled to the canal side when not in use.

The commander of the Egyptian detachment there, Lieut. Rizk Abdel Rahman Shehawi, gave this account of the battle to Zein Nagati, an Associated Press newsman:

VARYING ACCOUNTS

A British detachment of 90 infantrymen, with three small caliber field guns, moved up before dawn against his group of 24 men guarding the bridge. They opened fire before being challenged by Egyptian sentries and the battle continued until late in the morning, when the Egyptians surrendered.

British officers said the Egyptians opened fire first, without warning, and the clash lasted only 15 minutes.

President Mum About Future

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — President Truman said today he will not disclose whether he will run for reelection until after he completes the three major messages he will submit to Congress in January.

This was about the only definite thing the President said regarding his political future during a bantering exchange with reporters at a news conference.

A reporter told Mr. Truman that Senator Taft (R-Ohio), when announcing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, had said he would like to meet Mr. Truman as his Democratic opponent.

"Will you accommodate Senator Taft," the reporter asked.

The President said he couldn't answer that question now. He said he had made up his mind what he is going to do but proposed to pick the time of his announcement.

U.S. Backs Britain On UN Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP) — Britain must wait still another day — until Friday — for a U. N. Security Council vote and possibly a Russian veto of her campaign for council-sponsored talks to settle the British-Iranian oil crisis.

The council Wednesday night scheduled another meeting on the Iranian question for Friday, when a final vote is expected on an American-backed British resolution calling for new oil negotiations between Britain and Iran under U. N. auspices.

Iran, backed by the veto-empowered Soviet Union, contends the dispute is an internal matter and no business of the council.

The council meets today to take up briefly another Asian powder keg, the long-disputed princely state of Kashmir. It is slated to hear U. N. mediator Frank Graham report that India and Pakistan have failed to agree on which country shall control the Himalayan State.

The British position on Iran was strongly backed Wednesday by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin who insisted the council had not only the right but the duty to inquire into the dispute.

He chided Iran's Premier Mohammed Mossadegh for insisting the oil issue was only a domestic question and said, on the contrary, it concerned the turbulent Middle East and the whole world.

The strong statement of U. S. support pleased the British, who had been openly upset as the debate continued without public U. S. backing for their resolution.

Truman Denies Mac Statement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP) — President Truman said today General Douglas MacArthur's charge that his opposition "wrecked the secret plan" to let Formosa fall to the Chinese Reds was not based on fact and the general knew it.

Mr. Truman's comment was in [illegible] at his press conference.

MacArthur made his assertion in a speech to the American Legion convention in Miami, Wednesday. The general said, too, that the plan also would have given Red China a seat in the United Nations.

TOKYO, Oct. 18 (AP) — Five American soldiers were slightly injured by the typhoon that struck Okinawa Saturday, the Army said today.

AFL President Green Blasts Congress Before Legion Group

MIAMI, Oct. 18 (AP) — President William Green of the American Federation of Labor charged today, [illegible] profiteering and price gouging in the present price control laws.

He told the final session of the American Legion National Convention the twin evils of inflation and a housing crisis are threatening to undermine the morale of American defense workers.

Green gave his views in a speech prepared for delivery in the closing hours of the convention which Wednesday heard Gen. Douglas MacArthur deliver a bitter attack against the Truman administration's military, domestic and foreign policies.

The delegates appeared ready to elect Don R. Wilson of Clarksburg, W. Va., as their new national commander to succeed Erle Cocke Jr. of Georgia.

Green said the American workers are supporting the mobilization effort. But he added:

"If this popular spirit and morale is to be maintained, none must be permitted to exploit the pressures of emergency for their own selfish purposes. . . or to profit from the sacrifices of their neighbors.

". . . we have an act (price control) which lends the sanction of Congress to the ruthless profiteering and price gouging which has occurred since the outbreak of the war in Korea."

Green said it is the people who must bear the brunt of the conflict with Communism. Then he warned:

"no amount of military might, economic strength or potential productive capacity could suffice to take us to victory if the people of this country . . . were to be made cynical, disillusioned and embittered at the trend of evenis."

The convention renewed a demand that the Communist party be outlawed in this country and commended labor for its fight against Communism. It pledged a drive to expose and fight Communisis and their fellow travelers in the entertainment world.

THE FORRESTAL DIARIES

Forrestal Torn Between Joint Chiefs of Staff and Truman

20. THE BATTLE OF THE BUDGET

On the eve of the 1948 election Forrestal was absorbed in an attempt to put together an adequate military budget for the fiscal year [illegible] he was trapped between the President's insistence upon a rigid $15 billion "ceiling" and the refusal of the Joint Chiefs to allocate — and so take responsibility for — anything remotely within that limit. The Services' independent ideas of their needs aggregated some $30 billion. Since August a board of high officers under Gen. Joseph T. McNarney had been laboring to cut this total. they had worked it down to $23.6 billion but could reduce it no further.

(Forrestal knew the President would never accept this; but he also knew the acute need for increasing our useable military strength, and hoped that he might get a median figure of around $18.5 billion. On Oct. 5 he explained to the President that if the "ceiling" stood the armed forces could probably do no more, in the event of war, than conduct air reprisal from Britain. "The Mediterranean would be ruled out." But for $18.5 billion a budget could be developed predicated on holding the Mediterranean line of communications. The President said that he wished first to consult Marshall, whom he was calling back from Paris.

HOW POLICIES ARE FORMED

(Forrestal hoped for Marshall's support, because of the Secretary of State's obvious need for stronger backing for his diplomatic efforts. But Marshall, his mind fixed on UMT and on the importance of getting arms into the hands of the Europeans, seemed to feel there was no hurry about augmenting the American regular forces, and gave little help. Forrestal turned to the Joint Chiefs. His strategy is apparent. He wanted them first to allocate a budget within the Presidential ceiling of $15 billion. This would show clearly how weak the resultant forces would be and how little they would be capable of. Then he wanted them to prepare an $18.5 billion budget, showing its larger capabilities, which he could use to convince the President. On Oct. 15 he called the staff chiefs to his office. A partial stenographic record of the conference was entered in his diary; and it gives a remarkable glimpse of the actual processes of policy formation under our system.

(Forrestal began with the President's $15 billion limit: "Of course, you have come up with a split paper on that. What I have been anxious to do is, first, to see what we could do on the $15 billion." He explained that there were two possible approaches to this problem (which the Joint Chiefs as a body had refused to face). One approach was, so to speak, functional: they could confine the plan "only to the mounting of the atomic offensive from Britain," and then see "whether you are going to try to do anything else. I take it from you haven't resolved anything yet." The other approach was to start with the empirical monetary limit, and then cut to that." This approach was "easier," but, Forrestal continued, "it is not satisfactory to me. Sixty-six per cent complements on board your ships in the Navy. That is breathing, but not moving. I want to get the flying time believed the Navy and the Air Force a little more closely examined. . . On the question of your pants, Brad, the seven pairs per man in the Navy you have to have them, but I suspect you (the Army) have got to." The sentence is unfinished in the transcript.

(Once a division of a $15 billion budget was agreed upon, "the next step," Forrestal continued, was to take the Services' new concept of their needs. It was necessary to see what between the McNarney figure and the $15 billion figure "would give you a possible force that could jump off if war came. I should like to present those two, if I could, together. I do not know whether it is possible or not, but I am most anxious to say we have made a terrific effort to come under the $15 billion. You cannot have a satisfactory and usable military power under that ceiling. You can do a patchwork job. You cannot do a thorough one. The second figure — we cannot do everything we would like to do but it is a fairly practicable instrument to use." Forrestal, who understood the political problem much better than the military men appear to have done, urged them with eloquence to produce such an intermediate figure.

("Whether you can get that done in the next two weeks, I do not know. I hope very much that you can, because if you could come up in the Joint Chiefs — saying we are agreed upon this second conclion, and we will go to the Concept, whether it is $17.5 or $18 bilgress and back this one, it would have a tremendous effect for the country and a tremendous gain in stature for the JCS, which I think is more important. I shall be here within one, two or three months, but I think, as a citizen, it is most vitally important that the concept of the JCS not lose face with the country. I think it is a dangerous thing for the country if it does. You accept to some extent a confession of inability to get away from Service interests and look at the whole business in the light of what the national interest is. That will be the public interpretation of it."

(What he was really asking them to do was to assume the corporate responsibility for military policy as a whole which the nation supposed that they were discharging. Bradley was first to respond, perhaps intimated, the Army could prune its share of the McNarney $23.6 billion figure by some such interservice deal. Actually he had already [illegible] to apply all these things that we have [illegible] trying seven pairs of pants, I think we can afford to put it in this year's budget. . . ." Put that down to the bottom. . . . The force requirements will be squeezed out by squeezing out the extra pairs of pants and some of that equipment." Forrestal entered a caution against squeezing too much on equipment, but Bradley thought it could be done. "Maybe Louie (Denfield) can get along without a better destroyer and I can get along without a better gun. There are things like that which I think we can squeeze out of that 23.6 figure and still have an 800,000-man Army."

ON MOUNTING OFFENSIVE FROM BRITAIN

(Forrestal challenged them to clarify their thought in another way: if, he suggested, the plan was based simply on an air offensive from Britain, would the Army and Navy require the strengths they were asking? The discussion became somewhat involved. Bradley objected that to plan only for an air offensive was to "put all your eggs in one basket" and the argument digressed into other considerations. But Gruenther brought them back to the main point by observing that the simple air offensive from Britain had never "for one moment" been regarded "as an acceptable concept"; it had merely been taken as a "very minimum" in the effort to meet the $15 billion ceiling.

(Here was the point Forrestal wished to drive home. He had raised the matter "simply to bring out the absurdity" to which the presidential ceiling led, when the problem was stated, as he wanted the Joint Chiefs to state it, in functional terms. On the $15 billion limit they could "certainly" mount an air offensive from Britain; but that

Yesterday noon there was a domestic air about the Homco officees just back of the Daily News on Avenue T. Lower Neckline From Paris Again

PARIS, Oct. 18 (AP) — Lanvin is already tired of the high, prim neckline and is cutting out revealing "skylight" triangles beneath it.

This came out at the first of the mid-season Paris collections, shown by Lanvin Wednesday afternoon.

Nonsense novelties were needlepointed hat crowns copied from Cambodian dancers' heraldic headdress, and rice planters' flat hats.

The fashion picture has never been blacker — quite literally. Nearly everything Lanvin shows is black.

Sometimes mid-season collections launch timid trial balloons for next spring's fashions, but fashion writers say there are no hints of a revolution to come.

ASK MILDRED

Please send your questions to Mildred Sparks, County Home Demonstration Agent, Courthouse, or to the Daily News.

I have just bought a shower curtain and it is oiled silk. Was that a good buy? Mrs. T. H.

Yes, I expect it will serve its purpose well; oiled silk is a thin transparent silk fabric which has been soaked in boiled linseed oil and dried. It is water - proof and fairly pliable.

Our club has decided this year to make Christmas stockings for boys and girls. What kind of material should I look for? I want that mesh looking type that commercial Christmas stockings are made from. Where can I find it? Mrs. H. D. M.

The open - mesh transparent fabric you are looking for I believe is a type of muslin called tarlatan. It comes in red, green, blue, etc. I have seen it in mail order catalogues.

What is the second oldest city in the United States? I know the oldest is St. Augustine, Fla., but I cannot find the second oldest. Mrs. G. R.

According to the Encyclopedia Americana, the second oldest town in the United States is San Gabriel, N.M. It was founded in 1591 by Juan de Onate and was the first capital city established. In 1605 Onate founded Santa Fe, which replaced San Gabriel as the capital of New Mexico.

If you are more interested in the English settlements rather than the Spanish explorations, you might like to know that the Jamestown colony established in Virginia in 1607 is considered the first English town.

Our family has been arguing over what fish-and-chips is. One group thinks it is fish with potatoes on the side, and the other thinks it is fish on top of mashed potatoes. Can you help us? Mrs. R. A. R.

Fish and chips, the water front special, is fish served with fried potatoes, according to Mrs. Artie Berzman, Snyder school cafeteria dietitian. The potatoes, she says are never mashed. But cut American style (thin rounds with the peeling left on, usually) and fried in deep fat until they are crisp and chip-like. Restaurateurs, it seems, are not especially particular about the fish and chips they list on menus, as the item is served often with French fried or waffle fried potatoes.

was all they could do, and in that case all the rest of the Military Establishment became useless. The result was an obvious absurdity — unless, as Gruenther added, "you are willing to gamble on that (the air offensive)—that it will bring the end of the war."

(Forrestal tried to emphasize the demonstration: "I want to say to you men also that I am going to try to be in this as much as I can myself, so I would appreciate attending any (JCS) meeting.

(I am not there as a spy. My job is going to have to be to convince the President and his successor, if there is one, that we have taken every drop of water out of this thing that we could find—we can't catch it all — but I have got to be able to say that we have gone into this thing from the ground up and prefer to go at it from the top down. . . This is not any Gestapo to try to produce evidence. . . . We are talking about three things: maximum (the McNarney $23.6 billion) concept; minimum—$15 billion; intermediate one, which is what I want really to get to ceiling."

(Forrestal throughout tried to keep them firmly on the rails of concrete proposals involving functional military results. "What I want is what we get out of the $15 billion, and what I want these men to do is to agree what the distribution would be on the $15 billion. They failed to do that. I want to get what the results will be from the $15 billions of appropriations. Second thing is the intermediate field which enables us to have a healthy response to Russia."

(Ultimately the Joint Chiefs were to see the light; at least the extent of putting their unanimous agreement behind an "intermediate" budget figure. They even cut it to this $? billion. Even Marshall came round, and when, after the election, Forrestal laid this intermediate budget before the President, he was able to add that the Secretary of State authorized him to say that the contemplated forces would be most helpful in the period of difficult international negotiations ahead. But the President was unmoved, after all. The $15 billion ceiling stood, and with it the paralyzing weakness it imposed, down to the outbreak of the Korean War.

Lower Neckline From Paris Again

PARIS, Oct. 18. (AP) — Lanvin is already tired of the high, prim neckline and is cutting out revealing "skylight" triangles beneath it.

This came out at the first of the mid-season Paris collections, shown by Lanvin Wednesday afternoon.

Nonsense novelties were in-delie-pointed hat crowns copied from Cambodian dancers' heraldic headress, and rice planters' flat hats.

The fashion picture has never been blacker — quite literally. Nearly everything Lanvin shows is black.

Some time ago designers began to launch timid trial balloons for next spring's fashions, but fashion writers say there are no hints of a revolution to come.

ASK MILDRED

Please send your questions to Mildred Sparks, County Home Demonstration Agent, Courthouse, or to the Daily News.

I have just bought a shower curtain and it is oiled silk. Was that a good buy? Mrs. T. H.

Yes, I expect it will serve its purpose well; oiled silk is a thin transparent silk fabric which has been soaked in boiled lisseed oil and dried. It is water - proof and fairly pliable.

Our club has decided this year to make Christmas stockings for boys and girls. What kind of material should I look for? I want that mesh looking type that commercial Christmas stockings are made from. Where can I find it? Mrs. H. D. M.

The open - mesh transparent fabric you are looking for I believe is a type of muslin called tarlatan. It comes in red, green, blue, etc. I have seen it in mail order catalogues.

What is the second oldest city in the United States? I know the oldest is St. Augustine, Fla., but I cannot find the second oldest. Mrs. G. R.

According to the Encyclopedia Americana, the second-oldest town in the United States is San Gabriel, N.M. It was founded in 1597 by Juan de Onate and was the first capital city established. In 1605 Onate founded Santa Fe, which replaced San Gabriel as the capital of New Mexico.

If you are more interested in the English settlements rather than the Spanish explorations, you might like to know that the Jamestown colony established in Virginia in 1607 is considered the first English town.

Our family has been arguing over what fish-and-chips is. One group thinks it is fish with potatoes on the side, and the other thinks it is fish on top of mashed potatoes. Can you help us? Mrs. R. A. R.

Fish and chips, the water front special, is fish served with fried potatoes, according to Mrs. Artie Berzman, Snyder school cafeteria dietitian. The potatoes, she says are never mashed, but cut American style (thin rounds with the peeling left on, usually) and fried in deep fat until they are crisp and chip-like. Restaurateurs, it seems, are not especially particular about the fish and chips they list on menus, as the item is served often with French fried or waffle fried potatoes.

was all they could do, and in that case all the rest of the Military Establishment became useless. The result was an obvious absurdity — unless, as Gruenther added, "you are willing to gamble on that (the air offensive) — that it will bring the end of the war."

(Forrestal tried to emphasize the demonstration: "I want to say to you men also that I am going to try to be in this as much as I can myself, so I would appreciate attending any (JCS) meeting.

"(I am not there as a spy. My job is going to have to be to convince the President and his successor, if there is one, that we have taken every drop of water out of this thing that we could find—we can't catch it all — but I have got to be able to say that we have gone into this thing from the ground up and prefer to go at it from the top down. . . This is not any Gestapo to try to produce evidence. . . We are talking about three things: maximum (the McNarney $23.6 billion) concept; minimum—$15 billion; intermediate one, which is what I want really to get to ceiling."

(Forrestal throughout tried to keep them firmly on the rails of concrete proposals involving functional military results. "What I want is what we get out of the $15 billion, and what I want these men to do is to agree what the distribution would be on the $15 billion. They failed to do that. I want to get what the results will be from the $15 billions of appropriations. Second thing is the intermediate field which enables us to have a healthy response to Russia."

(Ultimately the Joint Chiefs were to see the light, at least the extent of putting their unanimous agreement behind an "intermediate" budget figure. They even cut it to only $16.4 billion. Marshall came round, and when, after the election, Forrestal laid this intermediate budget before the President, he was able to add that the Secretary of State authorized him to say that the contemplated forces would be most helpful in the period of difficult international negotiations ahead. But the President was unmoved, after all. The $15 billion ceiling stood, and with it the paralyzing weakness it imposed, down to the outbreak of the Korean War.

Mrs. Stuart Suffers Heart Attack, Condition Not Called Critical

Mrs. Stuart was returned home after examination. Dr. J. B. Woodall, of the hospital staff, said her condition was not critical.

She was in the Victor Baze Grocery & Service Station, 1411 Avenue S, when the attack occurred.

Acetylene, Gasoline Blaze Is Extinguished

Firemen met with considerable difficulty in extinguishing a fire at the R&W Construction Co. yesterday afternoon because of burning gasoline and acetylene spewing from welding bottles and creating terrific heat.

Both water and chemicals were used in extinguishing the fire which required about 30 minutes. Numerous spectators gathered near the oxygen and acetylene bottles and an open container of burning gasoline despite warnings of workers and firemen of the possibility of an explosion.

The fire occurred about 5 o'clock as an employee of the firm was welding under a truck parked in the rear of the building. The container of gasoline ignited and set fire to the truck. Heat from the burning truck destroyed the rubber hoses connected to the welding bottles.

Benson Rites Are Held Today

A verdict of suicide has been returned by W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace here, in the death of Horace Harold Benson, 61, of Fluvanna, who died in an ambulance three miles north of here yesterday.

Davidson said his verdict was death by a bullet wound in forehead, self inflicted.

Benson, owner and operator of the Fluvanna drug store, was found dying in the bathroom of his quarters in the rear of the store yesterday morning, a .38 caliber revolver nearby. He was being rushed to the Snyder Hospital in a Bolger - Barnes ambulance when he died.

J. L. Rogers, Texas Ranger from Lamesa, said a farewell note believed written by Benson was found in his quarters.

Funeral services were to be held at the Fluvanna Church of Christ at 2 o'clock this afternoon with Roy Phemister, minister, officiating. The body was then to be taken to Olney for main services and burial tomorrow.

Mr. Benson was born July 12, 1890, at Olney. He leaves his wife, a son, five brothers, and three sisters.

A veteran of 18 years with Sun, he came here in April, 1950, from Hobbs, N.M. Under his supervision, the camp on the Lemons lease west of the city was completed.

He will be replaced here by Max Dyer, Gainesville, Tex., who will occupy the Kownslar home at the Lemons camp. Dyer has been with Sun about 25 years, Kownslar said.

As sub - district superintendent, Kownslar will be in charge of Sun installations at Silver, near Robert Lee, at Colorado City, and at Snyder. He will have under him a staff of about 75 persons. About 35 of them live in Scurry County.

In another recent change in personnel at the Sun camp, Ed Prendergast, who had lived here several months, was transferred last week to Midland where he will be in the land department. Prendergast is a grandson of J. Edgar Pew and a nephew of Jack Pew, Philadelphia, at present head of the Sun Oil Co.

Navy Man Visiting Here Before New Assignment

Billy Joe Middleton arrived in Snyder Tuesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Middleton, west of the city.

Middleton recently completed Navy boot training at San Diego, Calif., and will spend a 14-day leave at home before going on to the Great Lakes Service School, located outside Chicago, where he will continue training.

He is a 1949 graduate of Snyder High School.

Snyder Clubwomen Attend Conference

Sweetwater members of the B&PW club were hostesses for the conference held in the Bluebonnet Hotel.

Miss Vera Periman, finance chairman of the Snyder organization, discussed finances at the workshop held Sunday morning.

Also attending were Miss Zaida Brown, president of the Snyder group, and Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton.

Williamson Takes Villanova Over Kentucky, LSU Over Ga.

By PAUL B. WILLIAMSON.

In major circles this week there are practically no crucial games. Probably the sharpest focus will be on California over Southern California on the West Coast and Penn over Columbia in the East. A close third on the Atlantic coast board will be the V.M.I. Keydets to take Virginia's Cavaliers.

Interesting intersectionals include College of the Pacific to stop Boston U. (and Agannis), Washington and Lee to turn back Miami U. of Florida. Both these games are slated for Friday night. The Williamson System has been good in predicting on Miami in the past. It could be wrong this time.

Another unusual game will occur Friday the greatest team North Texas State has ever had will probably go down before the mammoth gridsters of Carswell Air Field of Ft. Worth, Texas.

On Saturday good intersectionals include San Francisco over Fordham in New York City, strong Villanova over passing Kentucky, surprising Tulsa over the Marquette aggregation which held Michigan State to a difference of one touchdown last week, and Illinois over Washington.

Closely-rated big games include Syracuse over Dartmouth (that's right), Vanderbilt over Florida (and have the Commodores come back!), Louisiana State over Georgia (that's right too), Iowa State over Missouri (after a long time).

Other close "name" games will embrace Minnesota over Nebraska (who'd a thunk it?), Oregon State over Washington State, Mississippi Southern over Southeastern Louisiana, Tempe Arizona State over San Diego State, Denver over Utah, and Houston over Hardin Simmons (tough).

Among the middle bracketeers the following games should be honies: Wofford over Presbyterian, Dayton over Chattanooga, Kent State over Morris Harvey, and about 20 other nip-and-tuck meetings.

By the way Rose Poly is rated to win from Eureka this Saturday to make the first win for the gallant engineers in a coon's age. An important junior college tilt this week calls for Boise to slow down Weber which has been blazing this fall like a house afire.

PREDICTIONS FOR WEEK ENDING OCT. 21, 1951

EXPLANATION: Team in first (left) column is picked by the Williamson System as the WINNER. It is also the HOME team unless its opponent in second (right) column is starred (*), to mean the expected LOSER is the home team. In four general groups: (1) Major Conference games, (2) All other Four-year games by regions, (3) Service games, (4) Junior College games. Home teams in alphabetical order under each division. All teams below with no ratings given, either have not played previously this season or their scores to date have not hit the wire services. A team's rating remains the same when its last score was consistent with the rating of same, its latest score was unreported by noon Sunday, deadline of the wirephoto release.

Hard Schedule Set For SW Cage Players

(By The Associated Press)

A schedule of 115 games has been mapped for Southwest Conference basketball teams. There will be 73 nonconference contests with most of those against intersectional foes.

The intersectional schedule will take the teams through the South, Mid-West and the East. For the first time in years, no team will go out to the West Coast.

The intersectional schedule includes games in Madison Square Garden — Texas A&M vs Manhattan and Texas Christian vs Manhattan.

The seven conference members also will participate in a tournament in Dallas which has Vanderbilt as a contestant. This will be Dec. 26 to Dec. 29.

The conference race does not start until January 2.

All members of the conference have started practice and first games will be played Nov. 27-28-29.

Texas Christian, which tied Texas A&M and Texas for the title last year but lost in a play-off to determine the conference representative in the NCAA, is back with all 10 lettermen of last season. The Horned Frogs will be favorites in most quarters. But A&M is strong again with nine lettermen and loss of only one regular — John DeWitt and Texas is back with seven lettermen, its main loss being Joe Ed Falk.

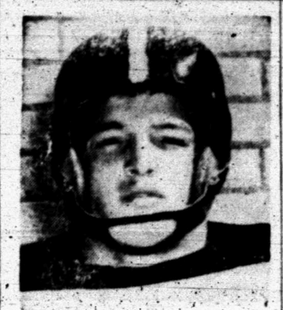
NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Joe Louis-Rocky Marciano fight will be seen on home television Oct. 16 — with seven TV manufacturers and the Gillette Safety Razor Company footing the bill.



Grant Teaff

Grant Teaff In Lineup For Game Friday

One of Snyder's football "greats" Grant Teaff, is a member of the San Angelo Rams who will play the California Campton College team Friday night in the Bobcat Stadium in San Angelo. Compton is one of the top junior college teams in the nation.

This intersectional junior college contest has attracted a lot of attention and will be accompanied by a San Angelo College Ex-Students' Home Coming celebration and dance.

Grant plays at the center position and will wear number 68 in the game. He is a freshman this year, but he played on the all district team in high school.

It is expected that a number of Snyder football enthusiasts will attend the game.

Grant missed the Ranger game because of illness, but he was outstanding as linebacker in the Rams first two games. He will be outstanding on defense against the Compton team.

Use Common Sense to Take Off That Ugly Fat

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra poundage. A rigid diet over a protracted period of time, can also do harm.

Why not try the Barcentrate way as countless others have done, with remarkable results? Barcentrate contains no harmful drugs. In fact, it contains ingredients to make you feel better. Just go to your druggist and get 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle and add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take 2 tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off bulky fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here Is the Proof

"I have taken Barcentrate and got wonderful results," writes Mrs. B. L. Peavy, 724 E. 41st St., San Angelo, Texas. "I have lost 14 pounds and I feel so much better. I got rid of all my bloat and gas and can now get a good night's sleep. I ate anything I wanted."

Lost 13 Pounds

"Barcentrate not only made me lose weight, but it made me feel so much better," says Mrs. Ida C. Johnson, 702 Scott St., Dalhart, Texas. "I have already lost 13 pounds taking Barcentrate."

10 Pounds Lost

"I am very grateful to Barcentrate," writes Opal McKelva, 205 W. 9th, Bonham, Texas. "I have lost 10 pounds taking this wonderful medicine."

Southwest Conference Teams Drill For Play Within Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Three championship battles put special emphasis on this week's Southwest Conference schedule as coaches grilled and drilled their charges on what the upcoming opposition has done this season.

Arkansas feadied for Texas' powerful, game-winning defense.

Rice — you might know — stressed pass defense for its fight with passing Fred Benners and the SMU Mustangs.

Baylor, with memories only too vivid of Texas Tech's stunning defeat of Texas Christian last week, prepared for a rugged game.

Texas, A&M, a national favorite with no losses this season thus far, spent Wednesday afternoon setting up defenses against TUC's wing and spread formations.

TEXAS IS FAVORED

The odds-makers have established SMU, A&M and Baylor as 13 1-2-point choices over Rice, TCU and Texas Tech respectively. Texas is a nine-point favorite over Arkansas.

The schedule at a glance:

A&M vs TCU at Fort Worth, 2:30 p.m.

Baylor vs. Texas Tech at Waco, 2:00 p.m.

Rice vs. SMU at Dallas, 8:00 p.m.

Arkansas vs. Texas at Fayetteville, 2:00 p.m.

Texas, which beat Oklahoma, 9-7 last week in the Cotton Bowl, was reported in near top health for its conference opener with Arkansas.

At Fayetteville, Coach Otis Douglas said both his ailing fullbacks, Lewis Carpenter and Larry Hogue, would be ready for play.

TEST FOR BAYLOR

Baylor, picked by many to win the Southwest Conference, expects a stern test from Texas Tech in Waco Saturday.

TCU's two star tailbacks were limping. Marvin Fowler from a knee injury and Gilbert Bartosh from a sprained ankle. It was thought Bartosh might get into the TCU-Aggie scrap Saturday.

Southern Methodist's great linebacker and defensive star, I. D. Russell, slowed down by a charley horse, was classed as a "very doubtful" starter by Coach Rusty Russell.

In Houston, Rice's Denny Marsters and Leroy Fenstemaker emulated SMU's Fred Benners, Billy Burkhalter, Gene Silver and Horton Nesrstra, had considerable success in breaking up the passes.

Sam Houston's Passer Leads

(By The Associated Press)

Despite the fact that he was idle last week, Don (Cotton) Gottlob, Sam Houston State's passing specialist, continues to lead in total offense in the Lone Star Conference. He has amassed 499 yards in four games.

Southwest Texas' passing star, quarterback Pence Dacus, had only to net 76 yards in his game against Sul Ross to surpass Gottlob, but he lost 38 yards on the ground to make a goose egg for total yardage, hitting pass receivers for 38 yards. In the same game, Sul Ross' quarterback Charles Laffcom ran his total offense to 454 yards for second place.

Gottlob's favorite receiver, End Ed Olin was not so lucky in Sam Houston's off week-end, as East Texas End Thomas McCormack ran his pass snatching total to 15 for 349 yards to lead the circuit. James Terry of Stephen F. Austin leads in number of receptions with 16, but has gained only 190 yards.

Little Sammy Carpenter of Lamar Tech clung to his scoring and ground gaining leadership despite his team's 47-7 loss to East Texas. He has gained 407 yards on 66 carries.

The leading punter is Southwest's Ray Palmour, who has a [illegible] three games.

Carpenter is the leading scorer with 42 points.

VOL. 2, NO. 145 — SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1951 — SECTION TWO

OYSTERS IN CURRY SAUCE, ON FLUFFY MOUNDS OF RICE, BECOME OYSTERS INDIENNE . . . add a green salad and French bread, and you have a dinner for a connoisseur.

Cool Weather Sharpens Appetite for Oysters

While September is full of the tradition of the opening of the oyster season, it is October when the eating of the succulent bivalves gets unto full swing. In fact, it seems almost as if the cooler autumn weather gives them that extra tang.

The first cool blasts of fall

shelves many of the warm weather foods in the out-of-season class. And it is just as well in some instances, for seafood is a much more economical choice. Moreover, few foods are better balanced nutritionally along with their palate pleasing qualities, than oysters.

With the oyster season in full swing, the cook begins to look for more and more choice recipes, other than the familiar oyster stew and other favorites." Oysters Valliant" is a recipe similar to the gourmet dishes that intrigue her and can, with a little care, be prepared at home.

Oyster Valliant

1 dozen large sized oysters
1 [illegible] pound) bag rock salt
3 tablespoons sifted flour
1 cup light cream
1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup coarse, fresh bread crumbs, browned in butter
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, additional parsley sprigs for garnish

Have oysters delivered on deeper half shell. Remove oysters. Wash shells and place on rock salt in broiler pan. Make a cream sauce of the butter, flour, and light cream. Poach the oysters in 1 cup water for 1 minute. Remove oysters. Add the hot water to the cream sauce. Season. Stir in bread crumbs and lemon rind. Place a tablespoon of filling in each oyster shell. Arrange an oyster on each. Top with a teaspoon of remaining sauce. Broil about 5 minutes. Baste each oyster with a teaspoon of water. Continue broiling 3 minutes or more or until tops are browned. To serve, decorate each oyster with a pinch of chopped parsley. Garnish between shell with sprigs of parsley. Serve in broiler pan. The recipe makes servings for 2.

Here are two recipes— one for an appetizer and the other for a main dish—which will make oysters a tasty part of the family menu.

Smoked Oyster Hors dOeuvres

1 3¼-ounce can smoked oysters (½ cup)
2 cups cottage cheese (1 pound)
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 teaspoon garlic salt
Paprika
Small whole wheat wafers
Potato chips

Place oysters in large mixer bowl. Using 3 beaters, beat at a low speed and then increase to a high speed, guiding oysters into beaters with rubber scraper until all are finely chopped. Add cottage cheese, cream cheese and garlic salt and beat at low speed until broken up; gradually increase to a high speed until blended and fluffy. Place mixture in serving bowl and sprinkle with paprika. Use as dip with small whole wheat wafers or potato chips. The recipe makes 3½ cups.

Scalloped Oysters

1 cup soft bread crumbs
1½ cups fine brown unsalted cracker crumbs
⅔ cup melted butter or margarine
1 quart shucked oysters (or equivalent in frozen oysters)
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
Speck of pepper
¼ cup oyster liquor
½ cup milk

Combine bread crumbs, cracker crumbs and butter, mix until well blended. Add half of the mixture to greased 1½ quart baking dish. Drain liquor from oysters and save it. Pick over oysters to remove any pieces of shell. Place half of the oysters in baking dish over crumbs. Combine salt, nutmeg and pepper and sprinkle half of the seasonings over oysters. Spread half of remaining cracker crumb mixture over oysters, then add remaining oysters and seasonings. Combine oyster liquor and milk, and pour over oysters, making a hole with a knife in 3 or 4 places to allow some of liquid to go down to lower layer. Spread remaining crumb mixture over top and sprinkle parsley over crumbs. Bake in oven 350 degrees F. for 50-55 minutes. The recipe makes 4-6 servings.

Everyone likes a change. Probably that's why oysters are such a popular food in the fall. Same thing entirely different for the fall dinner is this recipe for oysters Indienne, served with a green salad and French bread.

Oysters Indienne

1 pint Bluepoint oysters
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup oyster liquid and rich milk
1½ tables flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 package (1½ cups) pre-cooked rice
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt

Saute oysters very gently in 2 tablespoons of the butter until edges begin to curl. Remove from heat. Drain, reserve liquid, add rich milk to make 1 cup.

Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add flour and seasoning and blend. Add oyster liquid and milk gradually and cook over low heat until mixture is thickened, stirring constantly. Add oysters and heat thoroughly.

Combine rice, water and teaspoon salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. Do not stir. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Serve at once with oysters Indienne. The recipe makes 4 servings.

If anyone is under the impression that a meal isn't complete without meat, it isn't necessarily sa. A starch vegetable, and a light one may be served together for a hearty facsimile to the meat-and-potato standby. Corn "oysters", made in a foamy egg and flour batter, and glistening glazed carrots are a main dish combination that will perk up appetities.

Corn Oysters

1 12-ounce can kernel corn
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons sugar
2 egg yolks
2 egg whites

Drain corn, chop, stir in monosodium glutamate. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt, paprika and sugar. Beat egg yolks; add corn, add to dry ingredients. Beat egg whites stiff, fold in. Drop by teaspoons in shallow fat (1½ inches deep) heated to 375 degrees F. Fry until golden brown. Drain on paper towels. makes 6 servings.

Glazed Carrots

2 bunches small carrots
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup water
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Scrape carrots; cut in fourths lengthwise; place in heavy skillet. Add remining ingredients; cover; cook over low heat, turning often, until tender and glazed. The recipe makes 6 servings.

For meatless meals, oysters a la Newburg is a dish that offers variety and gourmet appeal. The recipe calls for careful handling and good ingredients, but is simple to follow and takes very little time.

Oysters a la Newburg

1 cup mushroom caps
1 cup oysters
1-3 cup water
¼ cup butter
1 tablespoon flour
Salt and cayenne
¾ cup heavy cream
2 egg yolks, slighly beaten
1 tablespoon brandy

Break mushroom caps in pieces. Add oysters and water, cover and let stand 1 hour. Melt butter, add first mixture, and cook 8 minutes, add flour. Cook 2 minutes. Season. Add cream. Just before serving, add egg yolks and brandy. The recipe serves six.

8 Out of 10 Voters Believe Truman Will Run Next Year

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCTON, N. J., Oct. 18. — Although President Truman's popularity continues at a low level in the latest nationwide test by the Institute, a large increase has taken place in the number of voters who think he will seek office again next year.

Eight out of every ten voters are convinced, from what they have observed and read about Mr. Truman's actions, that he is a candidate for re-election. Five months ago, only half that number believed he would run.

The sharp change in attitude was found when interviewers for the Institute, questioned a cross-section of voters throughout the country on the following:

"What do you, yourself, think—will Truman be a candidate for President in 1952, or not"

The vote:

Truman will run	80
Will not run	11
No opinion	9

Last June a similar survey found 61 per cent expressing the opinion that he would run, and last April only 40 per cent.

Mr. Truman's true intentions are of course, masked in secrecy, although he announced last spring that his mind was made up, but he wasn't telling.

Political observers have pointed out that even if he has decided not to be a candidate, he must act as if he were one in order to keep control of the party reins.

POPULARITY UP SLIGHTLY

His ultimate decision may depend to a great extent on how much pressure is put on him from within the ranks of the Democratic party.

His popularity with the nation's voters although greater than it was last June, is still far below the great heights he enjoyed when he started his second term in January, 1949.

The latest test by the Institute shows the following vote as of late September:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Truman is handling his job as President"

Approve	32
Disapprove	54
No opinion	14

This marks a slight gain since August, when a similar survey found 31 per cent approving, 67 per cent disapproving and 12 per cent undecided.

A little over a year ago, at the beginning of the Korean war, the proportion expressing approval was 46 pes cent. At the start of his present term of office it was 69 per cent.

Among Democratic voters his popularity is up slightly today. In fact, a clear majority in the party give him the nod of approval.

Here is the vote by party affiliation:

	Democrats	Republicans	Independents
Approve	53	12	29
Disapprove	33	77	55
No opinion	14	11	16
	100	100	100

Last week one of President Truman's sub-Cabinet officers, Michael J. Galvin, Under Secretary of Labor, declared in a speech in Washington that President Truman will win in 1952 by at least 56 per cent of the two-party vote.

New Law Says Gamblers Must Tell Government All Secrets

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The nation's furtive numbers operators and betting bookmakers are supposed to come out from cover in the next two weeks, walk into Internal Revenue Bureau offices and say, in effect:

Sure, Bud, I run an illegal gambling business. Here are all the addresses where I operate, and here are the names of all the people who work for me.

Now if you will take my $50 and give me a federal tax stamp for gambling, I'll go back and post it conspicuously in my joint so everybody can see it.

Further, each gambling operator is supposed to report the amount of his monthly business and pay a 10 per cent tax on all bets placed with him. Thus, next month, if a bookie takes in $10,000 in horse race bets or a numbers writer sells $10,000 in numbers tickets, each would owe the government $1,000.

NOBODY'S KIDDING

But nobody is kidding anybody. The Internal Revenue Bureau, which will administer the wagering tax, isn't expecting to be rushed by gamblers divulging all their secrets.

Experts in the Treasury Department and internal revenue bureau have been huddling over this problem for days. They say it has more potential headaches than any new tax provision in years; they don't particularly like the idea but Congress insisted.

Regulations will be issued shortly calling on all those covered by the law to register and get their tax stamps. Forms will be issued for providing the government all the information it wants and for turning in the monthly tax payments.

This formal material will read like a strange mixture of law books and gambling jargon.

Then the government will sit back and wait a short while. The theory is to give everybody a chance to comply willingly — just like the government assumes you will pay your income tax and starts checking after it finds something is wrong.

$20 BILLION INDUSTRY

The total amount placed in bets on sports events and lotteries has been estimated by the old senate crime committee at $20 billion a year. At a flat 10 per cent, that would mean $2 billion in revenue. The official estimate of income from the new betting tax is only $400 million or 20 per cent of the potential.

Paris Has Headaches When UN Moves From U.S. For Winter

PARIS, Oct. 18. (AP)—The job of playing host to the United Nations is giving Paris a headache.

A little bit of Paris becomes international territory on October 24, which is the United Nations' sixth birthday. The territory includes the Palais de Chaillot, just across the Seine River from the Eiffel Tower.

The U. N. begins its sixth general assembly there November 6. The session probably will last all winter.

The pain of the host's headache is caused by the fact that the project is costing France about $3.5 million for the temporary office buildings being built in the Palace Gardens.

However, there is solace in the profit expected from the foreign currency the 4,500 delegates and U. N. employes will unload in Paris during the session. The flood of U. N. visitors will start at about the time the Paris tourist season generally fades into a lean winter for inkeepers, merchants and waiters.

PROFITS POSSIBLE

Calculating the possible profits, Parisians are inclined to overlook protests that the U. N. assembly "home" for this session is an eye sore marring one of the more beautiful structures in the city.

The Palais de Chaillot, built for the Paris Exposition of 1937, housed the 1948 General Assembly in its auditorium and two semi-circular wings. The only extra construction was a small restaurant in a courtyard between the wings.

This year, however, the palace wings are full and the assembly offices will be housed in a U-shaped prefabricated monstrosity, four to five stories high.

Some 400 workmen have been busy since June putting 2,600 tons of steel into place for the new building. The sides of the "U" run 500 feet along the fountains of the Palais de Chaillot lagoon, which form part of the scenic setting for the Eiffel tower across the river.

AUDITORIUM USED

The only part of the palace itself which the U. N. will use is a 2,000-seat auditorium. All the rest will be in the prefabricated structure which will have office rooms, broadcast studios, restaurants and bars, and a printing plant that will turn out as much as two tons of documents a day.

French architects designed the building so that it can be torn down next spring and the parts salvaged for other construction.

U. N. officials have been at work in Paris for weeks, supervising construction, hiring a local staff, and doing the myriad other chores necessary to move the U. N. lock, stock and quarrel from New York to Paris.

Secretary - General Trygve Lie visited the site in August and plans to return October 24 to formally receive the "keys" to the international territory.

STAFF PROBLEM

One of the main chores in preparing for the U. N. assembly is the hiring of a staff. Russell Cook, formerly of Elyria, Ohio, the U. N. chief of personnel in Europe, has been here most of the summer to handle the job.

Some 625 jobs have to be filled locally, covering more than 50 categories of work. Several thousands of persons have made application, and a large staff still is trying to screen them out.

The tempofary staff, which will augment the "rather large" staff being brought over from U. N. headquarters, is paid in francs, according to the U. N. custom of paying employes in the currency of the country in which they do their work. Those hired here will get about the same as for similar jobs in Paris outside the United Nations.

MOSTLY BI-LINGUAL

Nearly all of those hired for the temporary staff must be at least bi-lingual. The U. N. has five official languages — English, French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian — and stenographers fluent in two or more of them are hard to find.

The U. N. requires a stenographer to take dictaiton at 120 words a minute in her mother tongue, and 90 to 100 words a minute in a second language.

Delegations to the general assembly will live in hotels as close as possible to the U. N. site, which is in the western section of Paris. The United States delegation, numbering between 150 and 200 persons, will be scattered over half a dozen hotels, but will maintain offices in on two floors of the Hotel Palais d'Orsay, a few blocks from the assembly.

Top officers of the U. S. delegation will [illegible] across the street from the American Embassy.
