Stevenson Favors Plan For State To Assume Debts

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Governor Coke R. Stevenson recommended to a special session of the legislature today that the state assume indebtedness incurred by counties up to September 1 this year for rights-of-way on highways now a part of the maintained state system.

He made the proposal and urged quick enactment in an effort to break a deadlock which has existed in the past between Senate and House over how to dispose of a surplus of about $2,500,000 in the fund from which the state pays principal and interest on certain county road bonds it has taken over.

Surplus To Highways

Any surplus in the fund after right-of-way costs specified had been serviced would be given to the state highway department for use on state highways.

The cost of rights-of-way for state highways at present is, and long has been, borne by the counties. The latter provide the right-of-way and the state highway department constructs and maintains the highways.

In his message, Stevenson said at the outset "I believe all of us are actuated by a common motive and that is to find solution of this problem which will give the greatest benefit to the people of this state."

Voted By People

He reiterated an oft-expressed opinion that the surplus in the county and road district fund should be spent for constructing state highways but said he was willing to give ground to bring about a settlement of the controversy.

"Most of us know it has never been the burden of state taxes which has been grievous to the taxpayers, but the real heavy load carried has been local taxes voted upon the people by themselves," he continued.

The original plan of taking over county bonds voted to build highways later incorporated in the state system was to relieve taxpayers of the burden and pay off the debt, he said.

Matter Of Judgment

"This was then a laudable purpose and it still is," he said. "This objective is being accomplished by the expenditures necessary to service the eligible obligations."

But in accomplishing the plan

Rain Covers Large Portion Of Texas

(By The United Press)

Rain precipitated by a norther fell over most of Texas today and was due to continue intermittently Wednesday. It soaked cotton lands and already late crops which urgently need hot, dry weather to combat the worst insect infestation in 20 years.

A cold front, riding over the Rockies from the northwest and fanning down across the great plains states, took rain to the gulf as it encountered the warm moist air.

Heavy Over State

Wichita Falls reported 3.68 inches for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday and the sky was overcast. Quanah had 3.41 inches; Eldorado, in southwest Texas, reported 3.02 and raining. Abilene reported 2.42 inches and raining; San Antonio 1.04; Brady 2.17; Galveston one-half inch; Lubbock .49; Waco .82 and raining; Wink 1.26; San Angelo 1.27; Brownwood 1.90. Oklahoma City reported 3.29.

The untimely moisture meant an impetus to the leafworm that has stripped cotton stalks in many sections. It meant encouragement for the largest over-wintering boll weevil infestation on record.

But the rains benefitted pastures, grazing crops and winter wheat prospects.

Cool Weather Blankets Area

Blanket-and-coat weather returned to Lubbock and the South Plains last night and today.

Autumn paid an early visit to an accompaniment of a rain which fell slowly most of the night, sending the temperature to the lowest levels since spring.

The mercury dropped during the early morning hours to a minimum reading of 49 degrees, according to information supplied by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state agricultural experiment sub-station east of the city.

Near All-Time Record

The figure was 16 degrees lower than the minimum reported Monday. It was 23 degrees lower than Monday's very mild maximum and 41 degrees below the top recorded Sunday.

Rainfall, as measured at the experiment station Monday afternoon and during the night totaled .49 of an inch, increasing the total for the month there to 1.14 inches and for the year to 30.44 inches.

The figure for the year is within 1.44 inches of the all-time record in any entire year during the 31 years that official records have been kept here. The all-time record was set in 1915, when 31.88 inches of precipitation were measured. Other high-figure years were 1919, with 31.61 inches, and 1914,

Willkie Claims Nye Trying To Split Country

Charges Hurled As Inquiry Into War Propaganda Opens

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Wendell L. Willkie charged today, at the opening of a Senate committee inquiry into war propaganda, that Senator Nye (R-ND) was seeking to "divide the American people into discordant racial and religious groups, in order to disunite them over the United States foreign policy."

Willkie, representing the motion picture industry at the hearing, made these charges in a formal statement handed to the press shortly after Nye began testifying on a resolution, by Nye and Senator Clark (D-Mo), proposing an investigation into propaganda.

Charges Are Hurled

Nye, appearing under oath after Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) had ruled that Willkie could not cross-examine witnesses, asserted that four or five movie magnates held the power to feed propaganda to the American people.

The North Dakota senator, first witness at the hearing conducted by an interstate commerce subcommittee, contended that several films already have been released which "have served to drive some Americans under their very beds for fear of Hitler and his minions."

Denied the right to interrupt, Willkie passed reporters sitting nearby a mimeographed statement by way of reply to testimony given by Nye in a lengthy prepared statement the North Dakota senator was reading

100,000 Nazis Claimed "Cut To Shreds"

German Siege Guns And Stukas Pound Leningrad Front

(By The Associated Press)

German siege guns were reported raining a continuous fire into Leningrad's great industrial plants today, reinforcing the assaults of hundreds of stuka dive-bombers, while on the central front the Russians declared they had all but annihilated a Nazi army of more than 100,000 men in the maws of a "great mincing machine."

Meanwhile, authorized quarters in Berlin denied that there was "any general order to attack American ships"—a statement closely following British assertions that a long-range Nazi bomber had sunk the unarmed American freighter Steel Seafarer in the Red sea.

Broken Forces Pursued

The Soviet armies of the central front today were pursuing the broken remnants of a German force of 100,000 men back westward toward Smolensk, having thrust the Nazis back 16 miles in two days and recaptured 150 square miles of territory and 50 villages in a gigantic continuing battle, official dispatches reported.

A communique reported that within ten days the Rumanians besieging Odessa have left more than 20,000 dead men in the approaches to that Black sea port as the Red navy leads a daily sortie against the Germans' allies.

Nazis Cut To Pieces

It was the big counter-thrust on the central front, however, that shone as the roslest star on the

S. E. Cone of Lubbock has completed his third producer in the Sundown area of Hockley county, it was announced today.

The S. E. Cone No. 3 Hensley, in tract 13, league 42, Hockley county, was rated at a potential of 888 barrels. It was completed at 4,961 feet after perforating casing with 120 shots from 4,936-61 and acidizing with 4,000 gallons.

American Freighter Bombed In Red Sea; U. S.-Axis Crisis Is Nearing Showdown

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — The state department reported today that 24 members, including one American, were "presumed lost" in the torpedoeing of a former Danish ship flying the Panamanian flag Aug. 17 about 300 miles southwest of Iceland.

News of the sinking, in which only three men aboard survived, came close on the heels of the sinking of the American freighter Steel Seafarer in Red sea waters by an aerial bomb. British sources at Cairo blamed a German bomber based in Greece.

The state department announcement on the torpedoed ex-Danish ship said:

"The state department has been informed by the navy department that on Saturday morning September 6 the navy picked up three surviving members of the crew of the S. S. Sessa about 300 miles southwest of Iceland.

"The state department is informed that the survivors stated that the ship had been sunk by a torpedo on August 17. Twenty-four members of the crew are unreported and presumed lost.

American's Name Lacking

"There was one American citizen member of the crew. His name is lacking and he is not one of the survivors.

"The names of the three survivors have not been furnished.

"The Sessa was a former Danish ship which was acquired from the Danish government under the authority of the recent law permitting the taking over of idle foreign flag ships in American waters.

"The vessel was under Panamanian registry and was transporting supplies for the government of Iceland and owned by that government.

(Officials explained this meant the supplies were owned by the Iceland government.)

Rich Prizes To Be Offered At Rodeo

Winners Will Receive $2,700; Specialty Acts Are Scheduled; Other Plans Made

Contracts were approved this morning for the rodeo which will be the night grandstand attraction at the Panhandle-South Plains fair Oct. 6-11, according to announcement by Homer D. Grant, president of the fair association.

It will be the biggest event of its kind ever staged in Northwest Texas, he declared.

The total cost of presenting it will be $6,500.

Prize money for the contestants will total at least $2,700, and may reach $3,000.

Nearly 200 head of bucking horses, Brahma calves, Brahma steers for riding and Mexican steers for roping will be brought here for the six-day rodeo.

More than 100 head of the stock will come from the famous Beutler Bros. ranch of Elk City, Okla., from which a large share of the livestock used in the Madison Square Garden rodeos in New York City has been obtained in recent years.

Special Acts Planned

The nightly programs will include several special acts by outstanding performers. Negotiations now are in progress with several such acts, and the best among them will be selected for the rodeo here, Grant declared.

Contest events here will be calf-roping, bronc riding, steer riding and bulldogging.

The guaranteed prize money in each event will be $400 plus all entry fees. The most conservative estimate of the total of entry fees, Grant said, is $1,100.

Entry Fees Announced

The amount of the entry fees will be $10 for calf roping and $7.50 for each of the other events.

Rules of the Cowboy Turtle association will govern all contests.

Norwegian Islands Seized By Allies

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Alleged German plans for seizure of the rich coal mines of Spitsbergern, Arctic archipelago owned by Nazi-occupied Norway, were declared officially today to have been thwarted bloodlessly by a powerful Canadian, British and Free Norwegian expeditionary force in a full-dress invasion which the natives welcomed.

"This source of fuel has now been denied to the Germans," the British war office said, without reporting whether the mines simply were left under guard or their usefulness destroyed.

'Greater Help' From Nation's Navy Is Asked

Atlantic May Turn Into A Vast War Zone—Churchill

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 9—Prime Minister Churchill in a sweeping review of the war today expressed the wish for "greater help" from the American navy and warned that Adolf Hitler may come to "close quarters" with the United States and turn the whole Atlantic into one vast war zone.

Addressing the House of Commons, assembled for the first time since Aug. 6, Churchill declared bluntly that the battle of the Atlantic was not yet won.

An implication that both Britain and the United States were ready for Atlantic eventualities was in his statement that "strong British and United States forces" in Iceland now include "some very considerable United States and British naval air forces."

The prime minister gave the British people a somewhat cheering picture of the battle of the seas, with a sudden increase in British successes in the past two months, but he made it plain that there was a long fight ahead.

Germans Hampered

Churchill told a cheering House: "The Germans are much hampered on the American part of the Atlantic by fear of trouble with the powerful American naval forces which ceaselessly patrol the approaches to the western hemisphere. This has been a help to us but I wish it might be a greater help.

"The enemy's tactics may change. No doubt Hitler would rather finish off Russia and Brit-

Schools Show Big Increase

Increases in enrollment in Lubbock public schools are sufficient to fill "an additional rather large elementary school," Supt. W. B. Irvin said this morning.

Every school in Lubbock independent school district had an increased enrollment this morning as the second day of the 1941-42 school term opened.

New Mark Expected

Utilizing all possible space of the already overcrowded school system, officials today were making adjustments. Some students will be transferred from one school to another, Dr. Irvin said.

First day enrollment was 6,281, an increase of more than 7½ per cent over the first day's registration last year.

Basing his estimates on comparison of initial figures, the superintendent said this morning he expected enrollment for the year to exceed 8,000, nearing 8,300 or 8,400.

Comparisons Made

Total for last year was 7,506 and even that number overtaxed school facilities.

"It is thought that most of the additional students have come in because of the air field, directly or

Pastor Told To Take Job In Defense Work

GLENDORA, N. J., Sept. 9 (AP)—Chews Methodist church has asked its pastor to quit the pulpit for a year to help build warships for Uncle Sam.

The action came after the Rev. Alexander Kerney, 35, preached both morning and evening sermons Sunday, then donned overalls to work a full night shift at the New York Shipbuilding company's yards in nearby Camden. As a machinist, he makes twice as much as his $100 a month and parsonage as a pastor.

"If he can make more on a defense job, that is the place where he should go," said Chairman Raymond Rowand of the pastor's relations committee.

(By The United Press)

HASTINGS, Mich., Sept. 9.—A 32-year-old mother brooded over the long hours her husband devoted to his machine shop and finally killed her two children and herself, authorities believed today.

Sunday morning Grace Demott and her husband, Vern, quarreled over the time he spent away from her. He left for his shop and that night he slept by his work bench. Monday night, after working all day, he returned home.

In the attic he found his children, Mary, 2, and Bonnie, five months old, with their throats cut by a large butcher knife which lay blood-stained on the floor. Bonnie's head had also been bashed in by an axe that stood in the corner. His wife's body lay in a pool of blood. There was a noose about her neck but the rope slung over a girder had been cut.

Barry County Coroner Gordon Fisher said Mrs. Demott killed the babies with the HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 9—In the presence of a sorrowing president, her only son, Sara Delano Roosevelt was buried today.

Simple, private services were held at the home which was hers and the president's together for six decades, and at the family plot behind ivy-shrouded St. James church, where they had worshipped side by side.

The Rev. Frank R. Wilson read from the Episcopal book of common prayer the solemn, comforting words of the order for the burial of the dead.

"Unto Almighty God," he said, "we commend the soul of our sister departed, and we commit her body to the ground; earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; in sure and certain hope of the resurrection unto eternal life."

Britain Viewing Crucial Battle At Sea With Growing Confidence

U. S. Helping Reduce Losses

BY NED RUSSELL
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 9—The British navy enters the third year of the war under the greatest strain in its history, but holding a comfortable edge in the Battle of the Atlantic and still dominating the Mediterranean and other ocean battle zones.

The steady widening of the zone of military operations during the second year of the war stretched the navy's front until now it extends from the Arctic throughout the North and South Atlantic, through the Mediterranean and around the Cape of Good Hope to the Indian Ocean and South Pacific.

With virtually every strategic expanse of water in the world, except the Pacific to watch, the navy still is compelled to concentrate its main strength along the Atlantic "lifeline" to bring to Britain the American supplies and food without which Britain would be helpless against the military, industrial and agricultural might of Germany and German-occupied Europe.

Atlantic Losses Down

The toll of Allied and British shipping taken in the North Atlantic by German submarines, surface raiders and long-range bombers, is decreasing steadily. This may be due largely to President Roosevelt's order to the U. S. Atlantic Fleet to patrol the vital ocean lanes, reporting the presence of German air and sea craft to British warships and warplanes.

The combined action of the British and American fleets in the Atlantic, together with the steady improvement in armament of merchant vessels and the gradual increase in the number of escorting warships for convoys also have forced the German navy to extend its zone of operations.

The U-boats, charged with the task of smashing the larger and more valuable convoys plying across the North Atlantic, were forced to alter their strategy and prowl in packs of four and five, bobbing up in the midst of convoys and discharging their torpedoes. These "wolf-packs" admittedly have achieved considerable success.

Two Raiders Knocked Out

Much of the danger to the Atlantic convoys from German surface raiders was minimized when the two pocket battleships, Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, went into Brest for refueling and refitting in late March and were trapped by ceaseless bombing by the Royal Airforce. These attacks put the ships out of action indefinitely.

A third Nazi cruiser the Prinz Eugen, also is trapped in Brest after fleeing from the full strength of the Atlantic Fleet in pursuit of the ill-fated Bismarck.

The strength of the navy as a fighting force after two years of war is a secret, but it probably is greater than when the war began. The last year of war saw at least two and probably all five of Britain's newest and most powerful battleships of the King George V class steam into action.

The feats of Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham and his Mediterranean Fleet in crippling the major part of the Italian Fleet and maintaining firm control in the Mediterranean for British convoys probably have done more than anything else to retain Britain's supremacy of the seas.

Crete Losses Severe

However, Cunningham's triumphs have been scored at heavy loss. His losses, both in ships sunk and damaged so badly that they have been out of action for several months for repairs, have been severe. The greatest blows to his forces were administered by the luftwaffe when Cunningham was beating off attempts of the Germans to land troops in Crete.

The navy's losses in two years were topped by the "lucky" sinking of the 42,000-ton battlecruiser Hood, most powerful warship afloat until the advent of the King George V class, by the 35,000-ton German battleship Bismarck after it had been at sea only two days in its first venture out of the Baltic. The Hood was quickly avenged, however, with the sinking of the Bismarck three days later after the most dramatic chase of the war at sea.

Other losses since the start of the war include the battleship Royal Oak, the aircraft carriers Courageous and Glorious, seven cruisers, and numerous smaller warships.

Lynn Wildcat Being Watched

The George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 J. E. Rice, wildcat test two miles northeast of New Home in Lynn county, lost circulation for the second time Monday when the bit penetrated caverns well below the 5,000-foot depth.

The test first lost returns at 5,665 feet. Heavy mud was pumped in the hole, restoring circulation temporarily, but it again was lost at several points below 5,665. At last reports No. 1 Rice was drilling ahead below 5,772 feet in lime.

In Western Lynn county, Trinity Drilling company No. 1 Dan Auld topped the San Andres lime of the Permian at 4,300 feet, 1,074 feet below sea level, and drilled ahead past 4,420 feet in lime. The San Andres marker is said to be normal regionally.

2,400 Feet Of Fluid

L. C. Harrison and associates No. 1 W. G. Nairn estate, central Lubbock county well indicating opening of a clear fork pool, is swabbing and cleaning out 45 feet off bottom. It has 2,400 feet of fluid in the hole, mostly oil. Total depth is 5,002 feet in lime. The discovery is three and one-quarter miles northeast of Lubbock.

Atlantic Refining company No. 21 H. T. Boyd, Clear Fork test in the Cochran county sector of the Slaughter field, has passed 6,720 feet in lime.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1-13 L. H. Wright is a new wildcat location for eastern Yoakum county 22 miles west of Brownfield. It is 467 feet out of the northwest corner of section 13, block D, John Gibson survey, and is slated to go to 5,500 feet. Operator will employ rotary to top of lime, then will standardize the test. Location falls two and one-quarter miles southwest of Texaco No. 1 S. T. Murphy, western Terry county failure which showed a promising amount of oil in the San Andres lime.

Flow Is Gauged

In the Seminole pool of central Gaines county, Humble Oil and Refining company and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 4 T. H. Hand gauged natural daily flow of 611.12 barrels upon completion at 5,310 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 11 F. L. Woodley, producing from the regular Slaughter pay in Cochran, flowed 977.40 barrels a day after acidizing with 10,500 gallons at total depth of 4,976 feet. On the Hockley county side of the field W. J. Richardson No. 1 Sun Oil company-Miller pumped 364.12 barrels daily following acidization with 7,500 gallons at 4,982 feet. Also in Hockley the Texas company No. 28 Bob Slaughter block made 919.08 barrels per day at 5,020 feet in response to treatment with 6,000 gallons. Magnolia No. 4-F Mallet Land and Cattle company flowed 1,609.20 barrels daily after 10,500 gallons at 5,020.

A BAD ONE DOES TURN UP ONCE IN A WHILE!

Good weather and a bumper crop! Even then one finds a poor stalk once in a while.

The retailing of beer is something like that. Most beer retailers operate respectable law-abiding establishments. Occasionally one finds an exception—a man who tries to beat the law or who permits anti-social conditions.

The beer industry wants this type of undesirable retailer stamped out. Your cooperation will help us in our clean-up efforts.

The beer industry brings important benefits to the community. Here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

Texas, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for materials, equipment, and services—from over 100 other industries.

You can help us protect these benefits in two ways. First—patronize only the reputable places where beer is sold. Second—report to the proper authorities any law violation you may observe.

Little Damage Seen In Raid

(By The United Press)

ROME, Sept. 9—Planes raided Palermo, chief town of Sicily, during the night, but some of the bombs fell in the sea and there was little damage, a high command communique said today.

Revised reports showed 27 persons killed and 58 wounded in a British raid on Palermo the night before, it was said, but there were no casualties in last night's raid.

The high command confirmed the British statement that the 11,405-ton Italian liner Esperia had been sunk in the Mediterranean by a British submarine. "Virtually all" aboard were rescued by other ships in the convoy, it was added.

Italian and German planes successfully raided objectives at Tobruk and Marsa Matruh in northern Africa, the high command said, and Italian detachments in Ethiopia repulsed a British raid.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Only a wife would dare to:

Criticize a man's taste in neckties.

Keep after a man to eat his salad.

Make cracks about a man's bald head.

Tell a man he needs a haircut.

Say at the end of a goodbye kiss, "Don't forget to pay the telephone bill."

Make fun of a man's old girl friends.

Let a man see her wearing cold cream, or with her hair stuck up in curlers.

Tell a man that her new shoes hurt her feet.

Criticize a man's relatives.

Call a busy man at his office and ask him to run an unimportant errand for her.

Say "I told you so" when a man pays no attention to her advice and suffers for it.

Take a bored, oh-yeah attitude toward a man's extravagant compliments.

Accept an invitation for a man without consulting his wishes.

Tell a man with a hang-over that he made a fool of himself at last night's party.

Open a man's mail, or say, "Who was that?" every time he receives a telephone call.

Disapprove of a man's choice of friends in plain language.

Openly exchange a man's gift to her.

Complain of the food or the prices when a man takes her to dinner in a restaurant.

Tell a story that gets its humor from making a man look silly.

Tell how hard a man worked to get her — in front of the man.

Programs Of Varied Topics Given By Church Societies

An anniversary program, Bible and mission studies and Red Cross sewing occupied church women of Lubbock at their meetings Monday.

First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church for a birthday program at which the president, Mrs. C. P. Carlock, was main speaker.

Pastor Is Present

Communion was administered by Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor, to about 75 members and ten guests attending. Along with the W. S. C. S., Mesdames F. M. Maddox and J. L. Murfee were honored on their birthdays.

Organ music was presented by Miss Louise Hodges before the service. Mrs. E. L. Price lead the group in the responsive reading of the beatitudes. Accompanied by Miss Hodges, Mrs. Arthur Earl Gamble sang, "My Task."

Enumerating "Today's Responsibilities for the Christian Woman" Mrs. Carlock said that woman's first obligation was her home. Church responsibilities to the W. S. C. S., were given as "to pray, to serve, to give."

Using the women of the Bible as an example, Mrs. Carlock stated that "the world is made up of small things that have been done well."

Post Society Dear

Mrs. Carlock explained that "one year ago the Woman's Missionary society had become very dear to our hearts. It had made a wonderful record. It was because of this that we felt we had lost a friend when the Missionary society closed its books."

The speaker said that the Woman's Society of Christian Service has possessed a rich heritage since it has been launched on its career one year and that out of its many wonderful possibilities, much had been accomplished. "With this in mind," the president said, "we have come to observe our first birthday."

A social hour followed the service at which time a birthday cake was cut. Mrs. Mary E. Payne's circle was hostess.

If Reds Defeat Axis--Then What?

Delicate Issue Is Reviewed

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

Herr Hitler has made known in general terms the nature of his new order calling for the Nazification of Europe (and then some), and the Anglo-American leaders have announced the policies "on which they base their hopes for a better future of the world."

Nobody else has claimed, or been accorded, a dominating position in the tangled affairs of the continent. Most folk seem to have taken it for granted that Europe is predestined to come under the guardianship of either (1) the fuehrer, or (2) the Anglo-American brotherhood, when the war has picked the victor.

Russia Ignored?

Maybe that's the correct answer, but it seems passing queer that the prophets should ignore Russia as potential boss of a good part of the old world—provided the Axis is beaten.

Perhaps they are avoiding a mighty delicate issue, purposely, and that this column is rushing in where angels would find tough going. Still, the great strength being disclosed by the Bolshevists, as the fiercest and most bloody battle of history rages from the Baltic to the Black sea, certainly gives pause for thought.

One must suppose, of course, that London and Washington and the Allied countries have considered the possibilities. They may even have a solution for what might easily become a problem of the first magnitude. All that is without my kent, but it seems to me that it's difficult to escape this conclusion:

Reds Under Supreme Test

If the Allies are victorious in this war, it isn't at all unlikely that the Muscovites will emerge as the dominant force in Europe as far west as the Rhine—and maybe farther.

Much must depend on whether the peoples of all the Russias are solidly behind the Communist government. That long has been a moot question among observers, but up to this moment the situation has been shrouded in mystery. The only answers we have had are such as comes out of besieged Leningrad, where civilian men and women are fighting beside the troops.

When I toured eastern Europe just before the European war began, the experts all expressed the view that it would take a major war to demonstrate whether the people of the Soviet union were solidly behind the government. Well, we have the war all right, and thus far Stalin's support appears steady enough. However, the conflict is still young.

Soviet May Be Dominant

It's schoolboy stuff that Russia covers a seventh of the land surface of the globe, and that it contains almost all the resources required by modern man. They say that Russia and the United States are the only two countries which are so nearly self-contained that they could wage war just about indefinifely on their own resources.

The Soviet's young but strong industrial development, with its strategically distributed factories, and the powerful army, have been brought into the open by the war. Russia has disclosed an actual strength, quite apart from potentialities, which has astonished the outside world.

Up to the present Germany has had politico-economic domination of central and eastern Europe. Hitler has held that part of the continent in the palm of his hand, with the qualification that Turkey and Greeece, being on the fringe of his political empire, rendered him only partial homage.

If Germany is defeated there is the strongest prospect, or so it seems to me, that Russia will take her place as the dominant power. And that influence isn't likely to stop in eastern Europe and the Balkans.

Youth Facing Prison Term

LEVELLAND, Sept. 9 (Special)—It cost Larson Lee Crawford, 21, five years in the penitentiary Monday afternoon for robbing Levelland First National bank May 22, when he menaced nine employes with a gun and took $20,360.

The charge was bank robbery.

The jury, which deliberated 30 minutes, had been told that the money had been recovered from four or five hiding places.

The Levelland youth, son of prominent farm parents, pleaded guilty to the grand jury indictment. Testimony was heard Monday morning and the verdict was returned by 3 o'clock that afternoon.

Crawford waived two days allowed by law and accepted sentence, which Judge Daniel A. Blair pronounced immediately.

Defense counsel called several prominent Levelland persons to the stand as character witnesses, among them J. M. Tunnell, County Judge James A. Ellis, J. T. Shofner, a bank director, J. W. Philpot and Ray Watson, a merchant.

Sheriff Ed Hofacket arrested Crawford on a tip from another person and in a comparatively short time the case had been "broken." Law enforcement officers from a vast area had gathered here to assist in the investigation.

On a plea of guilty to chicken theft, A. A. Pollard, was allowed suspension of a one-year penitentiary sentence.

Judge Blair ordered D. L. Galloway's $1,000 bond forfeited when he failed to appear to answer to a similar charge. The judge issued a sharp reprimand from the bench of "professional bondsmen in Lubbock."

"This may have a wholesome effect on men who promiscuously sign bails for personal gain," he said.

In another case, Charles S. Hammock pleaded guilty of forgery and was given a two-year penitentiary sentence. He was indicted for forging Earl Cadenhead's signature to a $37 check.

Judge Blair set for hearing at 10 o'clock this morning the case of J. D. Beaty, charged with forgery, and court officials said an assault to murder charge against Clovis Younger, 35, was set pending completion of the Beaty charge. Charged jointly with Beaty are Ray Bethany, Carlton Chambers and J. W. Chambers.

Bombers Open Final Series With Clovis Tonight

For District 1-AA, South Plains Fans—
Schoolboy Grid Roundup--Here Are Schedules For The Season

EDITOR'S NOTE — The schedules given in today's football roundup have been checked and re-checked for accuracy, but it is inevitable that some mistakes will creep in. The sports department of the Evening Journal will appreciate its attention being called to any errors which readers may discover, in order that they may be corrected in the future.

The high school football roundup will be a regular feature of Avalanche-Journal publications this season. Watch for the next issue, containing early scores of all teams, on Wednesday, September 24. In addition, Friday, Saturday and Sunday papers each week will carry complete accounts of all games played in this area.

District 1-AA

AMARILLO HIGH SCHOOL SANDIES
Head coach: Howard "Bull" Lynch.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Childress at Amarillo.
Sept. 26—Vernon at Amarillo.
Oct. 3—Amarillo vs. Brackenridge at San Antonio.
Oct. 10—El Paso Austin at Amarillo.
Oct. 17—Nelson, Okla., at Amarillo.
Oct. 25—Lubbock at Amarillo.
Nov. 1—Fort Worth North Side at Amarillo.
Nov. 11—Borger at Amarillo.
Nov. 20—Amarillo at Pampa.
Nov. 28—Amarillo at Plainview.
PROSPECTS: Gone are most of the huskies that won the state championship, but the lads who provided the reserve strength for that powerful eleven are back. The Sandies will be tough enough to beat all outside competition and probably good enough to win District 1 again.

BORGER HIGH SCHOOL BULLDOGS
Head coach: W. W. (Windy) Nicklaus.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Borger at Quanah.
Sept. 26—Borger at Electra.
Oct. 3—Borger at Perryton.
Oct. 10—Tahoka at Borger.
Oct. 17—Lubbock at Borger.
Oct. 24—Plainview at Borger.
Oct. 31—Hollis, Okla., at Borger.
Nov. 11—Borger at Amarillo.
Nov. 27—Borger at Pampa.
Prospects — with only four lettermen back, the Bulldogs can be counted out of the District 1-AA race. But Nicklaus is cooking up gridiron magic despite shortage of material, and you can look for Borger to turn in one or two stunning upsets. And watch out in 1942.

LUBBOCK HIGH SCHOOL WESTERNERS
Head coach: J. G. (Goober) Keyes.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Fort Worth North Side at Lubbock.
Sept. 27—Lubbock at San Angelo.
Oct. 3—Vernon at Lubbock.
Oct. 10—Breckenridge at Lubbock.
Oct. 17—Lubbock at Borger.
Oct. 25—Lubbock at Amarillo.
Nov. 1—Pampa at Lubbock.
Nov. 7—Lubbock vs. Brackenridge at San Antonio.
Nov. 14—El Paso Austin at Lubbock.
Nov. 20—Lubbock at Plainview.
Prospects—As usual, the Westerners will win most of their games. Keyes has a veteran squad and enough prospects from the Cowhands. Good enough to win almost any district except District One—and maybe good enough to win District One.

PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL HARVESTERS
Head coach: J. C. Prejean.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Burkburnett at Pampa.
Sept. 26—Clovis, N. M., at Pampa.
Oct. 3—Open.
Oct. 10—El Paso Bowie at Pampa.
Oct. 16—Pampa vs. El Paso High at El Paso.
Oct. 24—Pampa at Childress.
Nov. 1—Pampa at Lubbock.
Nov. 11—Pampa at Plainview.
Nov. 20—Amarillo at Pampa.
Nov. 27—Borger at Pampa.
Prospects — Pampa's second team was pretty good last season, and the first team wasn't so bad. The Harvesters have more returning lettermen than any other team in the district and they may be very hard to beat.

PLAINVIEW HIGH SCHOOL BULLDOGS
Head coach—Jerome Vannoy.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Olney at Plainview.
Sept. 19—Plainview at Abilene.
Sept. 26—Lamesa at Plainview.
Oct. 3—Plainview vs. Bowie at El Paso.
Oct. 10—Open.
Oct. 17—Ysleta at Plainview.
Oct. 24—Plainview at Borger.
Oct. 31—Plainview at Big Spring.
Nov. 11—Pampa at Plainview.
Nov. 20—Lubbock at Plainview.
Nov. 28—Amarillo at Plainview.
Prospects — Plenty of critics will tell you the Bulldogs had the second best team in the state last year. With the three Mason brothers and four other lettermen back, Vanney will have the nucleus of a good team.

District 4-A

CROSBYTON HIGH SCHOOL CHIEFS
Head coach: Clinton R. Meek.
The season schedule:
Sept. 12—Open.
Sept. 19—Open.
Sept. 26—Silverton at Crosbyton.
Oct. 3—Matador at Crosbyton.
Oct. 10—Lockney at Crosbyton.
Oct. 17—Crosbyton at Paducah.
Oct. 24—Open.
Oct. 31—Crosbyton at Spur.
Nov. 7—Ralls at Crosbyton.
Nov. 14—Crosbyton at Floydada.
Nov. 21—Post at Crosbyton.
Prospects—Dismal for 1941, good for 1942. Clinton Meek is new coach, and with six lettermen from the 1940 team who'll be eligible both this season and next year, he should have a crack eleven in his second year with the Chiefs.

FLOYDADA HIGH SCHOOL WHIRLWIND
Head coach: Floyd Murray.
The season schedule:
Sept. 19—Slaton at Floydada.
Sept. 26—Floydada at Littlefield.
Oct. 3—Floydada at Crowell.
Oct. 10—Floydada at Ralls.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Paducah at Floydada.
Oct. 31—Floydada at Lockney.
Nov. 7—Matador at Floydada.
Nov. 14—Crosbyton at Floydada.
Nov. 20—Floydada at Spur.
Prospects—The Whirlwind lost a lot of lettermen last year, but so did the other 4-A teams. Advance reckoning counts Floydada and Spur at the top of the heap.

LOCKNEY HIGH SCHOOL LONGHORNS
Head coach: Wilson Head.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Canyon at Lockney.
Sept. 26—Lockney at Tahoka.
Oct. 3—Paducah at Lockney.
Oct. 10—Lockney at Crosbyton.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Lockney at Spur.
Oct. 31—Floydada at Lockney.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Lockney at Matador.
Nov. 20—Ralls at Lockney.
Prospects—Green but determined is the word for the Longhorns. They're just Curtis Kelly and a lot of other good boys, but the district as a whole is weaker, and the Longhorns will probably stay in the first division.

MATADOR HIGH SCHOOL MATADORS
Head Coach: Don Martin.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Crowell at Matador.
Sept. 19—Matador at Olton.
Sept. 26—Open.
Oct. 3—Matador at Crosbyton.
Oct. 10—Spur at Matador.
Oct. 17—Quitaque at Matador.
Oct. 24—Matador at Ralls.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 7—Matador at Floydada.
Nov. 14—Lockney at Matador.
Nov. 21—Paducah at Matador.
Prospects—The smallest school in the district is usually one of the roughest, but Coach Martin faces a tough rebuilding job. Eight of last year's regulars have graduated. Two of the best ends in the district in Billy Tunnell and Phil Green.

PADUCAH HIGH SCHOOL DRAGONS
Head Coach: Neil (Stormy) Davis.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Quanah at Paducah.
Sept. 19—Paducah at Crowell.
Sept. 26—Memphis at Paducah.
Oct. 3—Paducah at Lockney.
Oct. 17—Crosbyton at Paducah.
Oct. 24—Paducah at Floydada.
Oct. 31—Ralls at Paducah.
Nov. 11—Spur at Paducah.
Nov. 21—Paducah at Matador.
Prospects—Not bright. From last year's bi-district championship eleven, only three lettermen return. End Elmer Biddy will be one of the district's best performers.

RALLS HIGH SCHOOL JACKRABBITS
Head Coach: Fred Salling.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Ralls at Denver City.
Sept. 19—Ralls at Post.
Sept. 26—Open.
Oct. 3—Open.
Oct. 10—Floydada at Ralls.
Oct. 17—Spur at Ralls.
Oct. 24—Matador at Ralls.
Oct. 31—Ralls at Paducah.
Nov. 7—Ralls at Crosbyton.
Nov. 14—Lubbock Cowhands at Ralls.
Nov. 20—Ralls at Lockney.
Prospects—The Rabbits lost only five men from last year's team, and the squad that was fighting for the cellar in 1940 may be fighting for first place in 1941.

SPUR HIGH SCHOOL BULLDOGS
Head Coach: Woodrow Duckworth.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Rule at Spur.
Sept. 19—Haskell at Spur.
Sept. 26—Spur at Olton.
Oct. 3—Open.
Oct. 10—Spur at Matador.
Oct. 17—Spur at Ralls.
Oct. 24—Lockney at Spur.
Oct. 31—Crosbyton at Spur.
Nov. 11—Spur at Paducah.
Nov. 20—Floydada at Spur.
Prospects — Woodrow Duckworth drilled his boys soundly on fundamentals last year, and they were coming along fast at season's end. The Bulldogs must be rated co-favorites with Floydada this year.

District 5-A
NORTH ZONE

LEVELLAND HIGH SCHOOL LOBOS
Head Coach: Gano Tubb.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Brownfield at Levelland.
Sept. 26—Levelland at Denver City.
Oct. 3—Muleshoe at Levelland.
Oct. 10—Levelland at Wink.
Oct. 17—Levelland at Sudan.
Oct. 24—Levelland at Morton.
Oct. 31—Levelland at Slaton.
Nov. 7—Olton at Levelland.
Nov. 14—Littlefield at Levelland.
Nov. 21—Open.
Prospects—When Bill Stevens went to Daniel Baker he left Tubb very little experienced material, and it isn't likely the Lobos can repeat last year's undefeated record. However, they'll be close to the top in the north zone of 5-A.

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL WILDCATS
Head Coach: Abe Murphy.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Morton at Littlefield.
Sept. 19—Littlefield at Hereford.
Sept. 26—Floydada at Littlefield.
Oct. 3—Littlefield at Slaton.
Oct. 10—Sudan at Littlefield.
Oct. 17—Open date.
Oct. 24—Olton at Littlefield.
Oct. 31—Lubbock Cowhands at Littlefield.
Nov. 7—Muleshoe at Littlefield.
Nov. 14—Littlefield at Levelland.
Prospects—Murphy built a solid foundation in his first year at Littlefield, and this season the Wildcats are going to give somebody a lot of trouble. Reserves are lacking, though, and they may fade toward the end of the season.

MORTON HIGH SCHOOL INDIANS
Head Coach: George Gray.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Morton at Littlefield.
Sept. 19—Sudan at Morton.
Sept. 26—Open.
Oct. 3—Morton at Olton.
Oct. 10—Morton at Slaton.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Levelland at Morton.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Morton at Muleshoe.
Prospects—Morton will probably be better than last year, but the Indians still won't win more than a couple of games. Morton just doesn't have the material nor the spirit for winning football.

MULESHOE HIGH YELLOWJACKETS
Head Coach: Prince Scott.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Muleshoe at Spring Lake.
Sept. 26—Slaton at Muleshoe.
Oct. 3—Muleshoe at Levelland.
Oct. 10—Olton at Muleshoe.
Oct. 17—Open date.
Oct. 24—Muleshoe at Sudan.
Oct. 31—Open date.
Nov. 7—Muleshoe at Littlefield.
Nov. 14—Morton at Muleshoe.
No. 22—Friona at Muleshoe.
Prospects—So-so. A better team, with better coaching, than last year, but the competition is considerably tougher. Will be a toughie late in the season.

OLTON HIGH SCHOOL MUSTANGS
Head Coach: Lloyd Hunt.

Keyes Reviews Squad Lineup

Initial Scrimmage Here Wednesday

BY JOE PIERCE
Journal Sports Writer

James Garland "Goober" Keyes, head man of the Lubbock High school football forces, tells you that "we're gonna have a mighty fine team if some of those 'ifs' come through in good shape."

GOOBER KEYES

But when he says it, there's a gleam of optimism in his blue eyes that seems to say: "Look out, Amarillo, the Westerners are on the warpath."

The Lubbock High football gladiators suited up Monday and went through their first workout on home soil, despite a drizzling rain that made for slippery footing. After an hour and a half of good, hard work that included about everything but real scrimmage, Coaches Keyes and Dixie White called quits and announced:

Public Invited

"There'll be a real scrimmage Wednesday afternoon, starting about 4 o'clock, with the first team facing the second team for an hour or more. All the fans are invited out to see it. There'll also be scrimmage between the third string and the Cowhands."

The third string, or Westerner reserves, will play Cooper Thursday night at Cooper. The Cowhands will meet Post at Post Friday night.

The Westerners got back to town after a week's hard work at Cisco without a single injury and with every man ready to pour it on for the next week and a half in order to get ready for the first game, with Fort Worth's North Side High here a week from Friday night.

Praises Fine Attitude

According to Keyes, this was the first year since he'd been working at Lubbock High (he came here in 1935) that the entire squad escaped the training camp without injury.

But even more cheering to Keyes has been the attitude of his boys in the first stages of training. He reports that they went to camp in much better condition than did last year's team, that every man on the squad hustled through the workouts at camp every minute.

"My boys like to play football," says Goober. "I've seen football teams that played as if they regarded it as a duty, or something that just had to be done and the sooner it was over the better. These boys are not like that. They've got the spirit it takes to win football games."

McKinley To Play

Among other cheering news revealed by the Westerner coach: Robert McKinley, letterman guard of the 1940 team who had intended to stay out of school this fall, enrolled Monday and was out for the workout. He'll provide added strength at the guard posts, even though it's doubtful if he can win a starting berth after losing a week of practice.

Marvin McBrayer, the husky tackle who played regularly last year until he broke a leg in the Pampa game, is coming along nicely. He hasn't had a twinge in the leg yet; Keyes hasn't allowed him to do any heavy work, and doesn't plan to use him regularly until October. But he's counted on for great things down the late October and November stretch.

Others Looking Good

J. A. Blackwell has grown up to 147 pounds, which means added weight at one of the terminal posts.

Roland "Tuffy" Nabors is better than ever at center, and that means that Lubbock High will have the state's top pivot man this fall.

Billy Wright is fitting perfectly into the fullback slot, and seemingly has the ability and spark to play that post in the stalwart tradition set by former Westerners who held down that position—C. L. Storrs, Walter Webster, Joe Tyson, for instance.

Max Walthall promises to improve over last year in handling the team, in passing and in blocking. There'll be no worries at quarterback.

Jerry McCauley, a nifty little tackle up from the Cowhands, has put on a number of pounds in the right places and is showing up very well indeed.

Major Taylor, a squadman at center last year, has been shifted to offensive tackle and defensive guard and is doing a good job of work. So good, in fact, that Mc-

Big Things A'Doing

By Collier Parris

BIG SPRING, Sept. 9 — And sure enough, we gave a lot of guys the wrong steer about the weather over here. But we were one among you who dared the elements and came on, anyway, to see the Bombers and the Pioneers play ball in the championship round of the West Texas-New Mexico league playoff series.

As late as 5:30 o'clock, we telephoned Mr. Jodie Tate, the manager of the Bombers, and inquired about the weather.

"Clear as a bell here, not a cloud in sight. Sure we're going to play ball tonight. Come on over."

• • •

It was raining like the dickens in Lubbock at the time, but they said it was clear here. So Jerry Malin, the Amarillo scribe, came by and we high-tailed it for Big Spring. The rain kept right along with us, and the streets were flooded, just like portions of the highway had been flooded in the Tahoka-Lamesa district.

First person we saw in the lobby of this hotel was Grover Seitz, the bald-headed youngster who has worked a miracle with the Clovis Pioneers since taking over June 1.

"We haven't got the pitching staff, and we've been just plain lucky in the other departments," said Seitz. "But these kids really want to win, and they'll put out everything they have. We may lack in smartness and manpower, but we'll darn sure not lack in desire to win."

Anyway the game was rained out, and the championship series starts tonight, instead of last night, weather permitting. The Clovis and Big Spring ball players will meet here tonight in the first game of the four-out-of-seven series. The teams will play two games here, then three games at Clovis. If other games are necessary, they will be played here.

Before leaving Lubbock, it was indicated that a special bus would run from Lubbock to Big Spring and return for tonight's game.

The field, although flooded last night, will be in good shape tonight unless the rains continue to come. At this writing there isn't much indication of further rain—but you can't depend on this Big Spring weather, especially if it's raining in Lubbock.

But Frank Blake is "sot" in his baseball ways: He's sponsoring a chartered bus to Big Spring, from Lubbock and return, tonight. It's no skin off Frank's back, and he doesn't make a cent out of it, but he figures a lot of Lubbock baseball fans would like to see the Bombers and the Pioneers in the playoff series. The fare will be in accord with the special bus fare to Clovis the other night. A lot of Lubbock fans took advantage of that trip.

So if you want to board that bus, or them busses, this afternoon around 5:30 or 6 o'clock, let Frank Blake know, and right away, at his phone number, 2-2178. The game is to start at 8:30 o'clock, Lubbock time. That's fresh from the authorities, because Tink Riviere, president and general manager of the Big Spring club, is sitting right here and censoring these remarks.

Odds on Big Spring took a drop tonight, following the day of rest for the hard-working Clovis Pioneers.

The Bombers have had three days of rest, following the sweep of the opening series over Amarillo, and Manager Jodie Tate, who is also looking over our shoulder, says that Charlie Whelchel, the lanky righthander, will start against Clovis tonight.

Grover Seitz, the first person we saw here (whom we recognized) said he might give Bill Hewitt a chance tonight, but that Clovis Bridwell would be ready. Mel Kramer is also readyer, and Seitz thinks these two Lubbock castoffs might mean the difference.

They had planned big things over here, for the playoff. The grandstand and all box seats had been sold out. President Riviere remarks, however, that there will be plenty of seats. The grandstand here holds some eight hundred, but the bleachers, which are just as good for night games, hold a similar number. Riviere says that the park can seat nearly eighteen hundred persons.

Big Spring figures to do a lot of black ink business in the playoff, and all visitors are welcome. So give Frank Blake a call.

Crucial Series Set Thursday

Brooklyn Has Edge For Final Games

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the bookmakers finally have discovered Brooklyn is still in the National league.

For the first time since the pennant pot started to sizzle, the west 49th street betting booths in Pa Knickerbocker's village have put the Brooklyns up as favorites to hang onto their three-game lead through the last western whirl they start today, and go on to the championship.

Schedule Favors Dodgers

On the latest prices, you have to lay $3.50 to win $1 if you like Brooklyn. On the other hand, if you're still stringing along with old St. Loo, you can get $2.50 for each $1 you put up. The $1 difference is what is known as the bookies' spread.

What finally convinced the betting boys was not only the three-game edge the daffiness boys built up, but also the fact that the schedule the rest of the way definitely leans far over in Brooklyn's favor.

Cardinals On Spot

Looking beyond the action for the next couple of days (the Cards tangle with the pathetic Phillies and the Brooklyns work on the Chicago Cubs) you come right up and say howdy to the hot Dodger-Cardinal series Thursday, Friday and Saturday in St. Louis. If things Thursday are still as they are today, the Missouri mudcats must sweep that set in order to come charging back into the fight.

If they don't do that thing, the Cards can't look for any relief the rest of the way. For still in front of them are six contests with Chicago—and although the Cubs are the National league's sixth-place team, Billy Southworth's sluggers have just managed to break even in 16 games played to date with Jimmy Wilson's wallopers.

Both leagues took a holiday yesterday.

Jameson Is Tied For Honors In Tourney

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 9 (AP) The East's solid ranks in the Women's National golf championship are due to suffer a severe shattering today when the 64 survivors engage in the opening round match play at the Country club.

A total of 37 easterners managed to qualify by carding 29 or better yesterday when defending champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, launched her campaign for her third straight title by finishing in a four-way tie for the medalist honors. Today 22 of those victors were paired.

Sharing the spotlight with the attractive Texan were three competent eastern rivals who also managed to post three-over 76s for their qualifying tests, Grace Amory of Locust Valley, N. Y., Jean Bauer, the Rhode Island champion, and Alice Belanger from nearby Beverly.

To Bear Down Soon

Tech Swinging Into Sessions

The Texas Tech football squad, with its first game only eleven days away, will drill twice today, possibly for the last time this year.

Registration for the fall school term is slated for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with classes beginning Saturday, and Raiders probably won't be able to get in many more two-a-day practice sessions.

Heavy Drills To Start

One of Monday's workouts was rained out, and Coaches Dell Morgan, Berl Huffman and Walker Nichols turned their attention to "skull" practice that lasted about as long as a real workout would have taken.

The morning workout featured a long session of calisthenics and some running, kicking and passing.

Heavy work in the Raider camp is due to begin about Wednesday.

Devo's A Passer!

One surprising feature of the early drills has been the making of Charlie "Devo" Dvoracek into a passer. Dvoracek, 193-pound first-line fullback, has always been known for his powerhousing, but this season he may account for touchdowns by throwing the ball, too.

Devo has never claimed to be a passer, but when Morgan showed up with several plays that called for the big fullback to pass, he just grinned and remarked that another Sammy Baugh was being born. Dvoracek does look good throwing the leather, so that combined with his running power will make him a "double-threat" when the curtain goes up on the 1941 campaign.

Transfers Looking Good

One of the main attractions in the camp so far has been the work of six junior college transfers who are really showing some fancy tricks. Howard Webb, Buck Gillingwater, M. J. Crow, Harold Parsons, Byron Mayfield and Bob Phillips are the new lads who are bringing smiles to the coaches.

Webb and Gillingwater are tackles, both 200-pounders and both from Weatherford Junior college. They're expected to be a great help to Jack Shanks and Newman Ledbetter, seniors who played nearly 60 minutes in every game last year.

Former Westerners Playing

Crow is a big end, fast and powerful, who has been showing a lot of promise as a pass receiver. He's a transfer from Schreiner. Of course it isn't likely he'll win a first team berth with veterans like Clarence Tillery, Bing Bingham and Robert Duncan around, but he'll nevertheless be very valuable at the wing post.

Parsons is a former Lubbock High boy who transferred from New Mexico Military institute and is looking good at the blocking back post. He does a nifty job of getting the plays off the "T" formation.

Mayfield, a Hillsboro Junior college transfer, is also in the fight at quarterback, and due to his fine showing there, the coaches have shifted Howard Alford, the Lubbock High all-stater of 1939, to the fullback post, where he seems to be more at home.

Bob Phillips, a triple-threat halfback from Chanute, Kan., Junior college, is the other newcomer. He's furnishing a lot of thrills these days with his sharp, accurate passing.

Monday Game Is Postponed

Big Spring Scene Of Two Contests

(Special To The Journal)

BIG SPRING, Sept. 9.—The Bombers of Big Spring and the Pioneers of Clovis try again tonight to open their best-four-of-seven series to determine the championship of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Rain flooded Roberts field last night and forced postponement of the first game. Weather was clear early this morning, indicating that the field will be in good shape for tonight's game.

Break For Pioneers

The two clubs will play here tonight and Wednesday, then move to Clovis for three games, returning here for as many more as may be necessary.

The rain promised to be a break for the hard-working Pioneers, third-place club in the regular season schedule. They wound up a tightly contested first round series Sunday with a 4 to 3 victory from Borger, and the day's rest should be just what the doctor ordered for the Clovis pitching staff.

Bill Hewitt is the probable choice for Pioneer hurling chores tonight, but Mel Kramer and Clovis Bridwell, both former Lubbock players, will both be ready and may get the call. For the Bombers, it'll probably be tall Charles Whelchel, the no-hit hurler.

Texas League Starts Shaughnessy Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

It should be a battle of pitchers in the Texas league Shaughnessy playoffs tonight.

In the opening game at Houston, the Buffs will depend upon young Freddy Martin to match slants with diminutive Sal Gliatto, who is about the best moundsman on the Dallas Rebels' staff.

At Shreveport 21-year-old Henry Wyse, who has won 20 games and lost 4 this year, will start for the Tulsa Oilers against 38-year-old Jack Brillheart, crafty Shreveport hurler who has won 14 and lost 7.

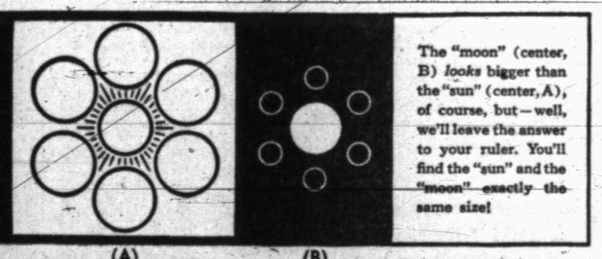

The Oilers, virtually the only uncrippled team in the series, concentrated on batting practice yesterday in a workout at Tulsa Roy Johnson, Oiler pilot, predicted on the eve of the series that his team would emerge victorious over Shreveport, which he considers a tougher foe than either Dallas or Houston. It will be the first time in 22 years that the Sports have taken part in a championship playoff.

The Buffs go into their series with Dallas overwhelming favorites.

Three Fliers Of American Eagle Squadron Missing After Raids

Enemy Planes Too Numerous

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 9—Three fliers of the American Eagle squadron are missing from operations Sunday over German - occupied France, an American source said today.

The fliers: Eugene Quimby "Red" Tobin of Los Angeles; H. S. Fenlaw of Lewisville, Tex.; and William H. Nichols of San Carlos, Calif.

An Eagle squadron source commented: "Yesterday, of course, was the first time we lost three pilots in one day.

Hit Tough Opposition

"Our boys just ran into tough opposition. They were hopped on by a hell of a lot of enemy planes. Pilots on the sweeps reported Messerschmitts literally were swarming over France. One said he sighted at least a hundred."

Tobin, big and red-haired, was reported to have been the first flier from the United States to shoot down a German plane over Britain.

Tobin, with three other United States youths, headed for Europe in the early days of the war with the idea of forming another Lafayette Escadrille.

Finally Join RAF

They reached France about the time of the French collapse and barely got out ahead of the invaders. Finally reaching Britain, Tobin and his companions tried to join the RAF. RAF officers were not interested. They said the youths did not have enough experience.

Tobin and the others dejectedly prepared to return to the United States, but then found that this was not easy either. The American embassy finally aided them but when they were about ready to leave, the RAF officers changed their minds and accepted the recruits.

ain before coming to close quarters with the United States.

Must Block Supplies

"Hitler has, however, also the greatest possible need to prevent precious munition supplies now streaming across the Atlantic in pursuance of the policy of the United States government from reaching our shores.

"Should he do so the area of danger zones will again become ocean-wide. Meanwhile let us hear no vain talk of the battle of the Atlantic having been won."

Of the sea warfare, he said that sinkings of British and Allied shipping in July and August was only slightly more than one-third of the total tonnage of Axis shipping sunk by British and Allied warplanes and submarines.

British submarines, he added, had sunk or seriously damaged a total of 17 enemy warships and 105 supply ships in 1941, for an average of 15 a month.

"There has been a corresponding increase in tonnage and the value of cargoes safely landed on our shores," he added, "despite the fact that every night 30 or 40 German planes sow mines in British waters."

Important Decisions

Churchill asserted that he and President Roosevelt reached "highly important decisions" in their historic Atlantic conference regarding help for Russia and "the policy to be pursued" to check Japan and prevent spread of war to the Pacific.

He said that Britain must be prepared for "definite reductions" in military supplies from the United States so that they now can go to Russia; he praised Russian resistance as "magnificent" and said that Germany now is "certain of having to maintain armies through the Russian winter from the Arctic to the Black sea."

The prime minister announced that "powerful" British reinforcements have reached Egypt and said he was confident "we shall be able to defend Egypt successfully from a German invasion across the western desert."

Rain Covers State

said the rain could not come at a worse time. Not only did it retard cotton harvesting, as earlier it forced wheat farmers to see their dollar a bushel grain waste in the field, but it retards the maturing of sappy feed crops, he said.

Leafworm is widely present in every county of the state and in Oklahoma and will be spread further, he said. After eating the leaves, these worms attack the young cotton bolls.

"The squares on which it is counted to make a top crop must have hot, dry weather," he said. "The top crop will be lost to the weevil or leafworm unless favorable weather returns soon."

Meeting Is Planned

Schoffelmayer said that in some sections cotton already had four and five plantings, and in cool, wet weather was all the more vulnerable to spreading pests.

He counted on the special drive being spearheaded Sept. 15 at Shreveport, when state college entymologists of Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas confer, to meet the spreading crop infestation.

The meeting will devise best means of poisoning insects, especially the leafworm, and will be a "last main attack" by the farmers to save their crops.

MARKET DEALINGS HEAVY

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP) — Heavy dealings in commodities and low-priced stocks stole the limelight in today's financial markets.

Large blocks of issues selling under $10 per share helped put the day's volume at around 800,000 shares, one of the largest since late July.

Stocks posting new highs for the year included Hiram Walker, International Nickel, U. S. Rubber and Pan American Airways.

Eastman Kodak got up 3 points on a few sales. Modest support was accorded Goodrich, Goodyear, Standard Oil (NJ), American Airlines, Anaconda and International Harvester.

On the losing side were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Western Union, Texas Corp., Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, Lockheed, Consolidated Aircraft, U. S. Gypsum and Kennecott.

Bonds were mixed. At Chicago wheat ended up ⅞ to 1⅛ cents a bushel and corn was ahead ⅜ to ⅝. Cotton, in late transactions, was 55 to 95 cents a bale advanced.

Proper in the curb were Gulf Oil, Pennsylvania-Central Airlines and Pittsburgh Plate Glass. Inclined to waver were Brewster Aero, Beech Aircraft, Bell Aircraft and Cessna Aircraft.

Soviet horizon.

A government communique said eight Nazi divisions were cut to pieces in a fierce counter-offensive which began 26 days ago and reached its climax with recapture of the railway town of Yelnya, 200 miles southwest of Moscow and 40 miles east of Smolensk.

Front-line reports to Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, gave an even more striking account of this greatest victory yet claimed by the Russians in nearly 12 weeks of war.

The Germans reached Yelnya in July, it was admitted, and chose it as the base site from which to launch their great drive on Moscow.

But the Russians struck back with fury, and soon smashed the German tenth tank division and 15th infantry division, capturing many heavy guns, prisoners and much ammunition, said the novelist Stavsky, correspondent for Pravda.

The Germans promptly dug in on the surrounding heights, building massive fortifications of iron and concrete, linked by deep trenches and guarded by barbed wire.

The Russians settled down to a fiery artillery bombardment.

"The German command hastened to bring up fresh divisions," he wrote, "disregarding the fact that the Yelnya district had become a giant mincing-machine for German regiments.

"Division after division passed through the Yelnya district. Tons of metal poured down on the Germans, and battered divisions were withdrawn to the rear, but the German command continued to cling to the district."

Russian Industrial Plants Under Fire

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 9—The great industrial plants of isolated and besieged Leningrad are under continuous German artillery fire, making their operation impossible, while stukas and level-bombers add to the destruction with day and night assaults, the authoritative Dienst Aus Deutschland commentary declared today.

A communique from the fuehrer's headquarters said Leningrad and its 3,200,000 population with extensive defending forces was cut off when "speed divisions of the German army, excellently supported by air force combat units, reached the Neva on a broad front east of Leningrad."

Then a single German infantry regiment stormed across the Neva river and took Schuesselburg, 21 miles east of Leningrad, the communique said.

Yesterday and last night, it was said, the German air force concentrated on Leningrad's teeming "armament and supply facilities," and also directed a night raid on Moscow.

Bond Issue Favored In McAdoo Election

McADOO, Sept. 9. (Special)—An $8,000 bond issue for purpose of building a gymnasium for McAdoo independent school district was favored by a large majority in an election here Saturday.

The building will be a frame structure. Construction is to open as soon as bonds are sold.

B. M. Keese, superintendent, said it was hoped the structure would be completed by opening of the basketball season.

McAdoo schools opened Sept. 6, with an increased enrollment. The 12-year system has been adopted and new books are being received to conform to the new program.

School board members are Austin C. Rose, president, H. E. Henderson, secretary, Chas. McLaughlin, Carl C. Neeley, Andy Wooten, John E. Wooley and O. T. Boucher.

with 31.43 inches.

After very light rain had fallen Monday morning, a heavy downpour continued for about an hour during the middle of the afternoon. It resumed as dusk approached and fell slowly but almost continuously during the night. Skies varied from clear to partly cloudy in Lubbock this morning.

Rain comparable to that here fell over much of the Lubbock area. Minor wind damage was reported in places, notably in Levelland, where about an inch of precipitation fell.

Superintendent Jones said the rain probably was not sufficient to wash poison from cotton fields where pest infestations have been reported. The net result of the change in weather, he added, should be beneficial.

The cool weather, he explained, should help to kill worms and the warm weather which still is to be expected should help to hasten the maturing of the cotton crop. The blooms of the week end probably will make bolls unless there is an unexpectedly early frost, he reported.

The moisture also should help late feed and will start the growth of shoots on early feed in fields that have been harvested.

Reports Are Received

Santa Fe Railroad company dispatchers announced the following reports of rainfall:

Brownfield and Meadow, 3 inches; Ropesville, 2½ inches; Tahoka, 2¼ inches; Wilson, 2 inches; Seagraves 1.75 inches; Slaton and Lamesa, 1 inch; Shallowater, .75 inch; Ralls, .60 inch; Hale Center, Floydada, Idalou, Lorenzo, Crosbyton, Levelland and Whiteface, .50 inch; Bledsoe, .33 inch; Lehman, Lockney, Littlefield, Tulia, Plainview and Abernathy, .25 inch; Happy, .20 inch; Muleshoe, .17 inch, and Amherst and Texico, showers.

German Losses Said Soaring

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Germany in the last three months has suffered casualties greater than in any single year of the World war, it was stated officially today. And Russian armies of between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 men make certain there will be a winter conflict on the eastern front.

(German casualties in the World war were 7,142,558, or about 1,785,000 average per year. The total Germans killed in the World war was 1,773,000 or about 443,200 per year.)

Almost all of the Russian troops are fully armed and equipped, it was stated.

The Germans reportedly have been forced to throw some 500,000 fresh men withdrawn from Germany and occupied Europe into the attack on Leningrad.

The official statement said, nevertheless, that the need for British and American war aid to Russia on a big scale is urgent.

Reds Are Attacking

Russian counterattacks led by Marshal Semyon Timoshenko on the central front protecting Mosmiles east of Smolensk, and are cow have recaptured Yelyna, 50 "pretty hearty counter-attacks," it was stated officially. These Russian drives were described as continuing.

The Germans, described here as now certain to face a winter war from the Arctic to the Black sea, were said to have reinforced their attack on Leningrad with some 150,000 soldiers who had participated in the occupation of the Estonian capital of Tallinn.

ing place of his father, James, who died in 1900.

Earlier at the family home the voices of a choir from St. James church blended in the favorite hymn of Mrs. Roosevelt, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," which closed with a thought that life "shall endless be." The services were devoid of any eulogy and adhered strictly to the ritual of the Episcopalian prayer book.

The casket was lifted up by men from the place, just as was done when the president's father died, and carried outside for the three-mile journey along the Albany post road to the church and its burying ground.

With her distinguished son beside her bed, Mrs. Roosevelt died Sunday at the family home after a circulatory collapse brought on by her advanced age. She was nearly 87.

While all the nation, and a large segment of the rest of the world, showered the president with messages of sympathy, the grief of Franklin Delano Roosevelt was a personal thing, the tragedy of a man rather than of a chief executive.

Nairn Well Rigged With A Sand Pump

Encountering difficulties in cleaning out the past several days, the L. C. Harrison No. 1 Nairn estate oil well 3¼ miles northeast of Lubbock, was rigged with a sand pump which was in operation today, Harrison, principal figure in the enterprise, said at noon.

The pump was being run about 40 feet off bottom and there was approximately 2,500 feet of fluid in the hole, Harrison said. The test is bottomed at 5,000 feet.

"We have been meeting with a lot of trouble in cleaning out which is not unusual for a well that has been shot," Harrison said. He said he expected faster headway to be made in the operations in the next few days.

Harrison returned last night from Laredo where he had been on business for the past several days.

Pre-Registration At Tech Being Staged

Up to 1:15 o'clock this afternoon, 1,332 students had obtained permits to register for the fall semester at Texas Technological college.

Pre-registration activities opened Monday. A total of 930 students obtained permits to register Monday, or 130 more than on the first day last year, and 756 paid fees, 326 more than on the first day fees were accepted last fall.

Thursday and Friday will be official registration days. Classes will be scheduled in the library building. Students may avoid congestion on those days by reporting for physical examinations, approval of housing, permits and payment of fees early if they wish.

Registrar W. P. Clement said that after Friday registration would be conducted only on certain days, Monday afternoon, Tuesday and Friday of next week. A late registration fee of $2 will be charged after next Tuesday.

Legislators Meet

a surplus has accumulated and disposition of the surplus has become a legislative problem, he stated.

"I recognize that any lawful and moral use to which money is allocated is not a matter of principle and involves no sacrifice of principles," he asserted. "It is a matter of judgment as to what can best be accomplished by the expenditure."

Makes Suggestion

He declared disposal of the surplus was a matter for the legislature to determine.

At the same time, he reminded that the war department had decided to discharge certain men in the armed forces over 28, said he had been asked to appoint 351 persons in as many communities to assist in aiding the diseharged men to obtain work and suggested expenditure of the surplus by the state highway department would tend to provide such work.

Stevenson recalled that recently he issued a statement urging compromise but giving no indication as to the form of compromise desirable.

Submitted Proposal

Later, he said, he submitted to interested persons a proposal to return the surplus to the highway department with the following further provisions:

That as long as the surplus was $2,000,000 or less the money would be placed in a separate fund known as the state farm-to-market road fund to be used by the highway department in constructing and maintaining roads not a part of the maintained state system on Jan. 1, 1941:

That when the surplus exceeded $2,000,000 any sum over $2,000,000 would be divided equally between the state farm-to-market road fund and the state highway fund.

Says Plan Has Merit

The plan met considerable favor and also some opposition, he said, asserting it has merit.

"I am thoroughly convinced that the time is not far distant when we will inaugurate a permanent farm-to-market road plan in Texas, under the supervision and direction of the state highway department," he said.

During the period he advocated the plan, he also listened carefully to suggestions made him by members of the legislature, he went on. From them, he hit on the plan of taking over right-of-way costs, he said.

He said he believed a majority of both houses would agree on the plan.

"This is the plan I am recommending to this session of the legislature with the hope," Stevenson concluded, "that it will be speedily enacted and evidence given to the people that this legislature is capable of the speedy solution of this and all other problems of legislation which may be submitted to them."

Rodeo Prizes

Events will be open to members of the association and all amateurs in good standing. A specific regulation which has been adopted, Grant said, will bar blackballed "turtles" from competition.

The admission price to the rodeo performances has not been set.

Grant was informed that some of the most famous bucking steers and horses in rodeo will be brought here for the contests.

Among the steers will be "Old Twenty-one" which is credited with having been ridden only three times in the past four years.

Famous Broncs To Appear

The bucking horses will include "Amos" and "Andy", a pair of paint outlaws which have been much in demand in rodeos, and "Cork Screw," "Hell Sinki," "Red Snapper," "Yehudi," "Lee Rider," and "Joe Louis." Each of those was described by local rodeo authorities as being a name famous in rodeo circuits everywhere.

Entries for the contests here must be filed with entry fees, before 5 p. m. Oct. 5. A rodeo office will be open from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. that day either at the fairgrounds or in the chamber of commerce.

Willkie's Charges appeared from his testimony to be three-fold.

First, Willkie charged, Nye desired "to foster and create public prejudices against the motion picture industry, and thus attempt to high pressure it to stop producing accurate and factual pictures on Nazism."

"Second, similarly," the Willkie statement continued, "Senator Nye is trying to influence the motion picture industry to alter another of its policies, the portrayal to the American public of accurate and factual pictures on our national defense program.

"Third," the statement went on, "Senator Nye obviously is seeking to divide the American people into discordant racial and religious groups, in order to disunite them over the United States foreign policy, which has been overwhelmingly approved by the Congress and the people."

News Briefs

Go To Encampment — Eleven young people of First Presbyterian church, headed by Rev. W. Jack Lewis, assistant pastor, left this morning for Monument Lake, Colo., about 40 miles west of Trinidad, where they are to camp in a summer encampment grounds until Friday morning. The party will arrive in Lubbock late Friday. They are due to arrive at the lake late this afternoon.

Entomologists Here — Dr. J. M. Roney and W. M. McGregor, of the department of entomology of the state experiment station at College Station, are here for an inspection of insect conditions in this area. The two men are making headquarters at the state experiment sub-station and will visit a large number of fields to check the varieties and numbers of insects in cotton and feed.

Tax Board Meets — Protest hearings were started before the tax equalization board of Lubbock independent school district in the business office, 1007 Texas avenue, this morning. Sessions will continue Wednesday and Thursday. Members of the board are O. W. Ribble, F. W. Groce and Knox Thomas.

Jail "Building Up" — Sheriff Tom Abel said this morning there were 50 persons held in county jail, or from 15 to 20 more than "average business for the summer." The influx was termed a "seasonal trend that likely will increase through the fall and winter," particularly in the cotton-picking fall.

Feed Truckers Warned—Loads of feed sometimes extending from 14 to 16 feet wide are being encountered on South Plains roads and charges are being filed against drivers of such illegal loads, the state highway patrol warned this morning. The statutory limit for load widths is eight feet. Trucks with wide loads have been sideswiping automobiles and other trucks, "and have been running large vans off the paving," a member of the patrol said. A load of feed can brush another vehicle with two feet of its sorghum stalks without losing its load, but the stalks badly scratch paint of motor cars and vans. Strict prosecution will be made in cases where loads exceed statutory width, said Capt. W. W. Legge of the patrol office in Lubbock.

To Make Addresses—Capt. W. W. Legge of the state highway patrol office in Lubbock left this morning for Seagraves where he was to speak to the Rotary club at noon, the high school at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Bond Ordered Forfeited — County Judge G. V. Pardue said this afternoon he had ordered the $250 bond of O. C. Byers of East Texas forfeited since Byers had not appeared for trial in a case charging check law violation. Ralph Brock, county attorney, said forfeiture might be asked in the case of Leonard Hereford, charged with drunk driving. He is under $500 bond and this morning fled when officers sought him in a negro section of Lubbock. Brock said he had instituted peace bond proceedings against Willie Mason, another negro, who allegedly had threatened the life of Cat Means, negro policeman. Bond of $1,000 must be executed or Mason must remain a year in county jail, in terms of the order issued by J. T. Inmon, justice of peace. The county court jury was dismissed until Thursday morning.

Optimists Hear Talks—"Classification talks" were given by three members of Lubbock Optimist club at the club's luncheon today in Lubbock hotel. Clifton Cummings talked on the grocery business; J. R. West, on farming, and L. G. Pierce, jr., on the abstract business. J. B. Morrisset presided for the program.

Transferred To Midland—Police said this afternoon they had transferred a 23-year-old Midland man to Midland county for charges in an alleged swindling action. He had been arrested Monday afternoon in 500-block Thirteenth street. A 21-year-old Slaton man was being held for the county in connection with drunk driving investigation growing out of a wreck at Thirteenth street and Avenue G Monday afternoon. James H. Riley, 21, was held in county jail to answer to a 99th district court indictment charging forgery and passing of a $12 check.

Injured Slightly—A Plainview woman, Mrs. R. S. Miller, 39, suffered a fractured ankle in a 9:41 o'clock collision of two automobiles this morning at Avenue H and Second street. The automobile she occupied was driven by Mrs. W. E. Sherman of 809 Galveston street in Plainview, police said, and was in collision with a car driven by Lorenzo Garcia, 51, of 112 Avenue H. Property damage was slight, it was indicated.

Lions Hear Reports—Reports of committee chairmen or members on the activities of the club, were given at a Lions club luncheon at noon today in Hilton hotel. J. O. Kuykendall and Dr. Elmer Moore were co-program chairmen. Miss Dorothy Nell Reese played several numbers on the accordion.

Girl Treated—Marion Bigham of 1404 Fourteenth street, was dismissed from Lubbock sanitarium after treatment for a minor cut of the left knee suffered after a car in which she was riding with her brother was in collision with an ambulance at the intersection of Broadway and Avenue M at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Report of Earl Horton, police patrolman, showed a car driven by Lonnie E. Bigham, 25, of the same address and a Plains ambulance driven by Bryan McDonald, 45, of 2020 Broadway, were in collision.

Ask For Field Man—Members of Lubbock County Dairy Herd Improvement association, meeting Monday night in the office of C. C. Jobson, agricultural agent, accepted the resignation of D. M. Carrell as field man. Jobson was asked to contact G. G. Gibson, extension service dairy husbandman at College Station and ask him to recommend a field man for the place here. Carrell is leaving this week for Buda where he will be with the Heep Jersey Farms.

Los Angeles Men Here—Walter Leur of Los Angeles, vice president of Leur Packing Co., and L. C. Hageman, comptroller, are here for several days business visit in Lubbock.

Recruiter On Trip — Neal Walker, yeoman in the navy recruiting office, left this morning on a short recruiting trip. He will visit in Post, Tahoka, Brownfield and Seagraves, said J. E. Calloway, chief quartermaster and recruiting officer.

Regular Meeting Planned—Regular weekly luncheon of Lubbock Rotary club is to be held Wednesday noon in Lubbock hotel, President Roy Furr said this morning. The club is giving its annual inter-club barbecue Thursday night at Texas Technological college, he added.

Principal At Garden City — Owen T. Loyd, who graduated from Texas Technological college in 1938 and who has taught in Amherst schools for the past two years, is serving this year as principal of the 15-teacher elementary school at Garden City, Glasscock county, it was learned here today. Loyd is 25 years old.

Jaycee Drive Given Boost Near $100

Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce's drive to mark 'Cemetery curve', southeast of the city limits on the Slaton highway neared its first hundred dollars today. Estimates were being secured by members of the committee today on the probable cost of a flasher danger warning signal at the curve.

Donations at a stag party staged by the Jaycees at Lubbock Country club Monday night and from Bill Dean and Lubbock Auto company ran the total subscribed in the campaign thus far to $98.

Lubbock Auto's check was for $10 and Dean's donation was $2. Previous donors were: Mrs. Verna Archer $25, A. M. Jones $25, Shook Tire company $10 and Mrs. A. E. Denny $1.

The state highway department has already cooperated in the drive by erecting a warning sign on the curve. The sign, equipped with blinker buttons, may also be seen at night, but the Jaycee committee is hopeful of erecting the amber flasher signal which will serve as a constant reminder to motorists of the danger of the curve on which more than a dozens lives have been lost in the last decade, two of them in the past month.

No solicitations are being made in the campaign but should you desire to do your bit, just bring or send your donations to the Jaycee Safety drive, care of the Avalanche-Journal.

Prisoner Asks For Leniency In Letter

This is the text of a letter received this morning by Judge E. L. Pitts, who had set $1,000 bond for the writer on a burglary charge:

"Dear Sir I am one of Your Defenders in your Court Sir I am guilty off my crime and I Dont wante to give Your all No trouble at all and Kindly Sir I am asking you for a none jury trial and to Sir I believe that you will be verry Light on me and if you will Kindly Sir I will Kindly appershe-at it and guaranteed you no more trouble here in Court my Charge is Burglary."

The letter was signed "Your prison ————" and bore the following P. S.: "Thanks your attention Sir to your answer."

All of which was interpreted to mean the prisoner would waive a jury and enter a plea of guilty of burglary before the 99th district court and ask what leniency could be shaped for him.

stuffs, cereals, lumber and other general cargo and did not include arms, ammunition or implement of war."

The Sessa was one of the Danish flag ships refugeeing in American ports which were taken over by the maritime commission under an agreement between the United States government and the Danish minister, who is still recognized here as the representative of the German dominated kingdom of Denmark.

Even before news of the Sessa's sinking was heard here it was apparent that the Steel Seafarer incident had intensified the crisis in relations between the United States and Germany on the issue of freedom of the seas.

Crew Reported Safe

The crew of the ship, a captain and 35 men, were reported officially to be safe.

The maritime commission reported that the Steel Seafarer was bombed at 11:30 p. m., last Friday night.

Previous reports were that the Steel Seafarer was sent to the bottom Sunday.

The bombing of the Steel Seafarer, coming only hours after the Sept. 4 sea clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a German submarine in the North Atlantic, seemingly made a showdown inevitable with the Axis on the American interpretation of freedom of the seas.

The general expectation here was that President Roosevelt would use his address to the nation Thursday night for a forceful declaration of policy on the subject.

In some quarters the conviction was already growing that the chief executive would announce that henceforth the United States would meet force with force every time it is encountered on the oceans.

There was lively conjecture, too, as to whether the administration would act to arm merchant shipping on dangerous routes so that they could defend themselves. The navy has kept plans for such an emergency up to date since 1918, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed not long ago.

News of the Red sea sinking was transmitted to the state department by Alexander C. Kirk, the American minister at Cairo, Egypt. The department did not release the location where the ship went down, the circumstances of the attack, or whether the ship was en route to Egypt or returning home.

Presumably Axis Plane

In the absence of more specific information, the assumption here was that she was a lease-lend cargo vessel — all American ships plying the Red sea route carry lease-lend shipments, the maritime commission indicates — and that her attacker was a long-range German or Italian bomber operating from a Mediterranean base.

The Red sea area has held the potentialities of a U. S.-Axis conflict of policies since early spring and both sides have been unyielding in the positions adopted.

Claims Sharply Clash

On April 11 President Roosevelt opened the Red sea to American shipping by cancelling the combat zone in the Indian ocean which had blocked its approaches until the British campaign which swept the Italians from the adjoining east coast of Africa. At the time Mr. Roosevelt indicated that, if necessary, vessels plying that route would get armed protection, because that was the law of the United States when ships were not operating in combat zones.

A month later, May 13, Germany formally proclaimed the northern part of the Red sea an official war zone, where every ship "exposes itself to destruction by mines or other weapons of war." The German press accused President Roosevelt of "lifting war zones in a moment when the war really approaches these zones and when the German submarine-mine-air-raider warfare is just properly unfolding."

The United States, however, has consistently refused to recognize the various war zones proclaimed by the Axis, holding that government decrees did not constitute an effective blockade.

L'ENVOI

He tried to cross the railroad track
Before the rushing train.
When they put the pieces in a sack—
They couldn't find a brain!

SEVERAL times recently, citizens have come to The Plainsman suggesting that he "pour it on" the City commission, (1) for absolutely failing to do anything about establishing a city-wide traffic control system mapped out several years ago by experts in that line; (2) for failing to improve and extend street lighting in the residential sections; and (3) for not seeing that sufficient policemen are employed, or detailed, to enforce existent traffic laws.

While your humble servant is highly in favor of the city's doing something about installing a sensible, workable traffic control system, improved street lighting and better enforcement of traffic regulations, he's thoroughly cognizant of the fact that the elected officials at City hall are and have been doing a good general job of work.

Being a member of the Lubbock City commission, or being mayor of this thriving metropolis, is to many intents and purposes "a thankless job." It is more of a civic job than anything else — a job of work, and of generous service to the community — just as is being president of the chamber of commerce, of the Panhandle-South Plains fair, or of one of the luncheon clubs. Outside of a modicum of prestige and power which election to and service in a city office brings, being mayor or commissioner very frequently is a liability, rather than an asset, to the individual official.

As to financial remuneration involved, that doesn't mean a thing.

Your mayor gets $75 per month for his arduous services; your commissioners draw $25 per month. And while The Plainsman has never been either mayor or commissioner, he knows that in most cases holders of those offices have to lay out more actual cash — not counting their time, effort and thought — than they take in, due to the prominence of their positions. They're always — or nearly always — "first" victims of every passing of the hat and, because of their official stature, they are frequently more generous than they should be, or otherwise would be.

Serving the City of Lubbock in an elected capacity isn't all beer and skittles, or nectar and ambrosia.

Not on your life.

While this condition is not the easiest in the world as far as individual mayors and commissioners are concerned, it certainly is best for the city as a whole, and every permanent resident in it.

As long as service on the commission, and in the mayor's office, remains a civic duty, rather than a political "soft-spot," and as long as these offices offer nothing in the way of financial return, just so long will those jobs remain uninviting to men who are looking for places at the gravy trough, instead of opportunity to serve their city and their neighbors.

But, on the other hand, should elective city offices here ever carry with them a "living income," then will politics supplant civic service and then will each and every municipal election attract squads of persuasive but inefficient candidates who seek not the job of work to be done, but the paycheck which goes with the most votes.

BY AND large, members of the current city administration have done and are doing a good, safe, sane, honest and constructive job for Lubbock and those of us who live here.

The same can be said, generally speaking, of most preceding administrations of the past two decades, which are the only ones The Plainsman personally can testify for.

On the whole, our municipal administrations since 1924, at least, have been composed of business and professional men with no personal axes to grind but who, instead, sought and accepted city office as a public trust and then proceeded to guard the trust by rendering thoughtful and honest service.

Of course, the men who make up the present administration, as well as those who composed commissions of years past, are only human beings and, as human beings, are subject to the same frailties which beset the rest of us who walk on two legs.

It's hard for The Plainsman, and many another citizen, to understand, sometimes, what looks like — and perhaps is — procrastination at City hall over projects which everyone agrees are good, and essential — such as a system of traffic control, improved street lighting, widening of certain streets and continuation of blind alleys.

Sometimes it looks like there's a great deal of "putting off" at City hall, and there probably is, because all of us humans "put off" things today expecting to get them done tomorrow when, in reality, we may never get them accomplished simply because we have a hard time "getting around to it."

It is easy to criticize the administration when we have most, or all of the facts, surrounding many municipal problems; it is much easier to criticize when we do not have possession of salient facts.

* * *

BUT, on the whole, the present administration, despite its most apparent weakness of putting off until 1942 what should have been done in 1939, is a good one.

And two things you'll have to give Mayor Slaton and his aides credit for is this:

They're safe and sane, and they are honest.

That's worth a lot to any city—and particularly to a rapidly growing one in which temptation is great, sometimes, to over-extend.

DOCTOR HARRY L. KENT, executive assistant to President Clifford Jones at Texas Technological college, believes reports of low morale among National Guardsmen and selectees in the Army are greatly exaggerated.

And the doctor has a pretty good reason for feeling like he does.

Doctor Kent has a son-in-law with an anti-aircraft artillery outfit, recently ordered from Fort Bliss to San Francisco on the first leg of travel for "service heaven only knows where." The outfit originally was made up entirely of New Mexico National Guardsmen, snatched from private life when the guard was called to national duty by special emergency order.

When preparing the regiment for its trip to San Francisco and for future service under sealed orders, it became necessary to eliminate from its personnel numerous young men unfitted for the duty involved. Some were Latin-American lads from New Mexico's mountain districts and unable to speak sufficient English to fill the bill; others had physical and mental deficiencies which fitted them for some type of service, but not for the particular type involved. So, for one reason or another, numerous lads were transferred from their regiment to others of similar type which are to remain at Fort Bliss for further, routine training.

In order to replace those eliminated, and bring the traveling regiment up to full strength, announcements were made to lads in other regiments, asking for volunteers for the outfit being ordered into active service. It was fully explained to boys in the other regiments that they could stay where they were, in Fort Bliss adjacent to El Paso, until further orders covering only their own outfits. Or, if they preferred, they could volunteer and get some active service.

What did they want to do?

Doctor Kent's son-in-law, an officer in headquarters company of the regiment being ordered out, reports that selectees and guardsmen in the other outfits literally ran themselves bowlegged trying to get into the outfit going to San Francisco and then "heaven knows where" into active service.

"Since this is true," Doctor Kent says, "can morale in the Army camps be as bad as we have heard it is?

"I don't think so!"

Neither do we.

CHAPTER 23
HOUSEBREAKERS

Jeff smiled fetchingly at the woman. "Oh," he said, "I didn't know Mr. Ashley had a wife."

"I didn't either," said the woman."

"Are you his sister, then?"

"Hell, no! I ain't related. I wouldn't be! My name's Baumer. You must've rang the wrong bell."

Jeff snapped his fingers in disgust. "Yeah, I must have. What a dope!"

"That's okay. Ashley lives on the top floor." She inspected me over Jeff's shoulder.

I knew Philip's door when I saw it. There was a knocker on it shaped like a tiny black cat. Jeff marched right past it and started climbing another flight of steps, steep and narrow. Panting, I followed him. He pushed open a door at the top of the stairs and pulled me through it after him. We stood in the shadow of a chimney on the gravel roof.

"Jeff!" I wheezed. "What are we doing here?"

He moved to the edge of the roof and looked down. "We're using the fire escape. That would be it and that would be Ashley's window. C'mon."

"Jeff, you can't! You get ten years for that!"

"Not if you catch a murderer."

"But somebody will call the police! Or take a shot at us"

"Who?" We looked around over the adjoining roofs. There was no one in sight but a little boy with big unhappy blue eyes. He was leaning on the parapet across the shaftway. In his hands was an enormous homemade kite. He was waiting for some wind. "Hey, Kid," Jeff said, pointing to the fire escape, "is this the way to Perry Street?"

"I don't know," the little boy said.

"He'll tell his mother on us, Jeff, and . . ."

"My mother isn't home!"

"See, Haila. Let's go."

I didn't feel quite like it. "Jeff, the window won't be open."

"It would be if you hadn't said that."

I eased myself down the iron steps gingerly after Jeff, until we stood on the balcony outside Ashley's window. Jeff put his hands against the pane and turned his head to me. "Cross all your fingers, Haila." I did. Jeff pressed upward: nothing happened.

"Damn!" Jeff said.

The little boy said helpfully, "The next one to it is open." We looked and he was right, but it wasn't on the fire escape. The sill was a good three feet from the rail of the fire escape.

"No, Jeff!" I said. "You'll kill yourself!"

"Don't be a sissy!" the little boy shouted.

Jeff grinned at me. "See, I got to."

He managed it very easily. That made me the sissy. Jeff opened the window on the fire escape and helped me in.

Ashley's apartment was a large sized edition of his dressing room, as scrupulously clean and astonishingly neat, considering the amount of knickknacks he had amassed and assiduously arranged. Every square inch of flat surface was buried under tiny figurines in terra cotta and ivory, china, animals, mostly cats, little snow scenes in crystal balls, cactus plants in hand-painted pots and an assortment of ash trays and cigarette boxes that ran the gamut.

I stood there staring about me helplessly. I looked at Jeff; he was smiling and shaking his head. "The government should plow this room under."

"Find what you want and let's get out of here, Jeff. I'm nervous."

"As a cat?"

"Please, Jeff!" I went to the window and looked down Perry Street. Jeff started opening drawers. I thought I might as well cooperate, I opened a door; it was a closet kitchenette. I went into the bathroom, a tiny almost infinitesimal room, with dubonnet and white monogrammed towels hung tidily over the tub. Between it and the lavatory was wedged a red bathroom scale.

In the medicine cabinet, nestling behind a bottle of Listerine, I found three white tablets, the size of aspirin. "Jeff!" I called. When he stuck his head in the door, I held out a tablet to him. "Look!"

"Yeah?"

"They're the same as I found in his dressing room!"

"I don't want them." He was examining some kind of electric vibrating contraption with avid interest.

"Don't be stupid, Jeff, we'll have them analyzed. They may be morphine!"

Jeff went back into the living room. I followed him. We both stopped. There was the sound of steps on the stairs. They came briskly down the hall and halted before the door. I looked frantically at Jeff.

The door swung open and Ashley closed it and slipped his keys into his pocket before he saw us. His expression changed from startled surprise to indignation, then to fury.

"Hello," Jeff said.

Ashley looked at me. "Snooping again!" His lips were compressed into a thin, prissy line. "This is unspeakable. I wish I hadn't caught you. I'm not up to a vile situation like this."

I couldn't talk. I would have given anything to have been n a concentration camp; any place some place else.

"Ashley, I dragged Haila into this," Jeff said. "I'm the snooper and I'm sorry."

"Sorry! Don't be ridiculous!"

"I'm trying to solve a murder; that partly justifies my intrusion. You've been holding out on me; that completes the justification. And on top of that, I apologize. Do you forgive me and can we be friends and have a little chat?"

"How charming you are, Mr. Troy!" Philip sneered. "How did you get in here? Did that fool janitor . . ."

"We didn't see any janitor. We crawled up through the plumbing." Jeff sat down on the arm of a chair and pulled a pack of cigarettes out of his pocket. Ashley opened the door.

"Now, if you don't mind, please leave." I started toward the door, but Jeff stopped me. Ashley glared at us; he was shaking. So was I. I wanted to run. But Jeff

A NATION SYMPATHIZES

The sympathy of the nation goes out to President Roosevelt in the death of his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

The words that would be used by the mass of the people of our land in referring to her doubtless would be something on the order of: "She was a splendid old lady." When one considers the feeling that lies behind those or similar words, they become a tribute as high as any that might possibly be paid.

Her passing has emphasized anew that, although it may appear at times that some people are on low levels and some are upon levels that are lofty, the difference between them actually is non-existent. In the fundamentals—the things that count—we are human beings together who share the same joys and the same sorrows in about the same degree.

Thus it is that the sympathy that goes out to Franklin D. Roosevelt is not meant only for a President of the United States. It goes to a son whose mother has gone beyond. All of us can understand and appreciate what that means.

BY BARBARA STANWYCK
Movie Actress

A BIT of tattle-taling on the pasts of Hollywood celebrities: Even as no motion picture has ever been made in the city of Hollywood, another indisputable fact is that few one-hundred-per cent actors and actresses can be found in Hollywood. No motion picture has even been filmed in the city of Hollywood because it is not and never has been a city. The place now known as Hollywood was annexed to Los Angeles before the first film was shot and it has been within the corporate limits of the City of the Angels throughout the life of the industry.

As for the actors and actresses, a one-hundred-per center is one who was born to the theater from theatrical parents or who has never engaged in any other profession but acting. As for the less than hundred per centers, it is safe to guess they outnumber the hundred per centers nine to one.

Clark Gable worked in a tire factory, was an oil worker, a lumberjack, classified ad salesman and hop-picker before he became an actor.

Greta Garbo was a model in a Stockholm department store.

Then, there's a certain chap who could do right well crooning in a radio, hill-billy quartet for that is what he did for a while before he left Beatrice, Neb., to win fame and fortune and a lovely wife like me in Hollywood. His name is Robert Taylor.

Robert Montgomery served as an apprentice on an oil tanker and worked in a locomotive plant.

* * *

Should the props fall from under Cary Grant, he could go back to stilt-walking, which he did throughout England in his younger restless days.

Charles Laughton served several years as a London hotel clerk and manager, while William Powell's first thoughts were of law.

Bruce Cabot was a rancher and cotton buyer before his grease-paint days and Robert Benchley was one of the best newspapermen and magazine editors to turn his back on New York.

Claire Trevor was seriously studying to become a portrait and landscape painter at Smith college when the acting fever sidetracked her.

Buddy Ebsen took a premedical course and worked as a soda jerker in New York's Pennsylvania Station before he faced the footlights and, later, the motion picture cameras.

Fred MacMurray was doing all right for himself as a hot horn tooter when his band landed in Hollywood and he landed in pictures.

* * *

RAY MILLAND, at this particular time, could find immediate employment in any man's army for, before he became an actor, he was a professional soldier and aviator in England.

Nelson Eddy studied singing while working as a Philadelphia newspaper reporter and Allan Jones earned his first dollar running a steam shovel in the Pennsylvania coal fields.

Fredric March was a very handsome model, and they still use models to advertise things.

George Murphy, who is just coming into his own, and justly, was a Wall Street broker and a dancer and Rosalind Russell's first job was as a riding instructor.

Robert Young earned his first dollars in a drugstore, a newspaper office, a building and loan association and a bank.

Guy Kibbee was a successful printer and Warren William has had experienece enough to serve as cub reporter on Guy's paper.

Frank Morgan sold bitters, tooth brushes and real estate and then punched cows.

Martha Scott and Madeleine Carroll have had experienec as school teachers and George Raft still can shake a couple of graceful feet on the dance floor, for which he was amply paid by night clubs before he flipped the lucky coin in "Scarface" that changed his future life.

Me? Well, I was third from the left in the chorus on the Strand Roof.

Myrna Loy ran a dancing school just 400 feet from the studio that later made her a star.

Warner Baxter sold automobiles and William Holden sold fertilizer for his father.

Joe E. Brown was a crack baseball player and can still bounce as agilely as when he was an acrobat, if necessary.

Johnny Weisemuller could serve as a life guard and Brian Aherne, once an architect, could build houses.

Comedian Allen Jenkins could be mighty handy right now as a riveter on new warships while Jimmy Gleason still can turn out a good play or screen story.

* * *

JANET GAYNOR sold shoes before her extra days and Ellen Drew was a soda jerker next door to Grauman's Chinese Theatre.

Dorothy Lamour was an elevator operator in Chicago.

Before Boris Karloff became a boogieman he toiled as a stevedore and Gene Autry was clicking a telegraph key in Oklahoma when Will Rogers first heard him plinking his guitar.

'Think We Should Slow Down?'

You Hear A Lot About The Red Army, But Don't Overlook This:

Russian Navy, With 200 Subs, No Soft Touch

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In all the to-do about the Russian army, not much attention has been paid to the Soviet navy, but in the big game of bluff now going on between the United States and Japan over the shipment of war supplies across the Pacific to Vladivostok the force of the Red fleet is something to conjure with.

PETER EDSON

Just what the strength of the USSR navy is will necessarily remain a mystery. The Stalin boys don't give out on this dope the way they should, and their propaganda issued for U. S. consumption is positively funny. All it does is quote the best guesses that have been made by British and American reference works, Jane's Fighting Ships, Col. R. Ernest DuPuy's "World in Arms," and the writers in Japanese and German publications.

Taking the average of all these guesses, the Soviet navy is said to consist of four fleets, one each on the Baltic, the Black Sea, the Arctic and one on the Pacific. Of battleships, the Reds have from one to five; cruisers, seven heavy and anything up-to-49 light. That isn't much of a navy, but where the Soviet is supposed to be particularly powerful is in submarines with approximately 200. If they are at all well trained, they might have a lot of fun operating against the Japanese fleets in the Sea of Japan.

ONE of the U. S. air forces' most closely guarded secrets is the Norden bomb sight. The Navy has been asked so many questions about it that one officer recently got tired of saying, "No!" to these queries, and had his answer printed on cards. Now, when anyone asks about the Norden bomb sight or other secret information, he is handed a black bordered card bearing the inscription:

The Holder of This Card Is Entitled to Our Deep and Heartfelt SYMPATHY!

MORE ON MINES

MORE information about the dreaded German acoustic mine and the methods of combating it is beginning to be received in the United States. This mine replaces the old magnetic mine, now successfully made harmless by magnetic cable belts around ship hulls. The acoustic mine is "attracted" to the ship, or at least exploded by vibration of the ship movement through the water, and while it was at first thought to be a deadly weapon against all ships, it is now believed that steam-driven vessels are immune to the danger, though Diesel-driven vessels are not. The only successful maneuver aginst the acoustic mine so far has been to stop the engines of Diesel-driven ships going through the mined areas and slowly tow them into port. The big drawback here is that it reduces the speed of the convoy.

ONE of the U. S. Navy's oddest tasks at the moment is the job of trying to pry out of Japan a shipment of pig bristles, and the strained diplomatic relations aren't making the matter any easier.

Select, extra long Chinese pig bristles make the best paint brushes in the world. Japan's blockade has made difficult the direct export of them from China to the United States, but the Japanese have been doing considerable business in this trade from their occupied area on the chinese mainland. Unfortunately, one big shipment of bristles happened to be going through Japan for transshipment just at the time the trade restrictions were slapped on by the two countries. Whether the shipment can be freed by State department intervention is a question of shipping clearances.

Some f the Navy wags say they wouldn't mind fighting Japan for silk stockings, but they'd hate to have to go to war just for pig bristles.

BLOOD ON WHEELS

A TOURING blood bank is one of the latest defense ideas thought up in Washington. What this strange device turns out to be is a Red Cross laboratory on wheels. It will travel the countryside and visit a number of cities, yelling for blood, or at least looking for blood, but not on the hit-skip driver basis.

Patriotic citizens will be asked to step into the car, have their blood tested and typed, and then the usual quantity of blood will be drawn from the donor's veins, put in cold storage, and later dried for blood plasma preservation and banked until called for in emergency transfusion. The cars also can be used as transfusion first aid stations.

BYWAYS AND BYLINES

WPA writers projects having completed their 48-volume American guide books, will turn to a six-volume "Hands That Built a Nation" series on regional arts and crafts . . . Department of Interior has just published an 800,000-word "Handbook of Indian Law." . . . The Rockefeller Office of Inter-American Affairs is preparing a two-volume, 1600-page, 750,000-word guide to Latin America . . . CCC reports that of the 77,000 men who left the camps to take jobs last year, 14,000 joined the army . . . Gasoline and power shortages will make bus and street car riders walk a little farther, morning and night, by introduction of more skip stops . . . Washington, D. C., per capita income in 1940 was $1,022, nearly double the national figure of $573 and may explain (1) why people come to Washington or (2) why people like to get on the government payroll . . . Correspondents in Washington have been bothered about how to address Lord Beaverbrook, but such niceties never bother news cameramen. One yelled out, "Hey, Lord, pet the dachshund."

still hadn't moved from his chair.

"Ashley, where were you born? Was it London?"

Some of the rage left Ashley's face and caution took its place. "No, Portsmouth."

"Portsmouth? Hmm. Is that near Salt Lake City?"

"What are you driveling about?"

"About where you were born. And reared. Did you know a family named Young? The Brigham Youngs?"

"Please stop trying to be funny!"

"Or a family named Blanton? There was a daughter, Carol Blanton?"

"Oh, so that's it!"

"Yes," said Jeff. "So you better answer my questions. I'll be more open-minded than Peterson."

"I doubt that! But, yes, I was born in Salt Lake City. I adopted England as my native land for purely professional reasons. It was advantageous. . . ."

"We know about that."

"You seem to know a great deal. But I left Salt Lake City when I was eighteen . . . before Carol Blanton was born. And I've never been back since. Now get out of here! I won't stoop to talk to a pair of sneak thieves who pretend they're trying to solve a murder and . . ."

I couldn't keep quiet any longer. I thrust the three white tablets I had found in the bathroom before Ashley's eyes.

"What about these? Your'e going to be very embarrassed, Mr. Ashley, if they turn out to be morphine! And what about your own sneaky tactics? Ducking us and pussy-footing around Radio City!"

"For the last time, get out of here!" Ashley's face was ugly. Instinctively, I stepped behind Jeff.

"If Mr. Ashley won't talk, Haila, I will. I know the answer to the mysterious mission at Radio City. And the tablets."

Ashley clenched his fists and started toward Jeff who glided around in back of me and spoke to Philip over my shoulder.

"The answer is strictly glandular. Fat! Obesity! That middle-aged spread." Philip wilted and looked as if he were about to bust into tears. "An actor must keep that schoolgirl figure. Those are reducing tablets. In Radio City, on the same floor as Vincent Parker, is the emporium of Madame Somebody, Corsetiere. In the bathroom, note the scales, the reducing machine. In that closet is a girdle for every day of the week. No wonder our friend raised a rumpus when you borrowed his tablets at the theater. You might have discovered what they were and ruined his glamour."

A small "Oh!" was all I could manage.

"It's nothing to be ashamed of, Ashley."

"You son . . . " Ashley started to say.

"Uh-uh!" Jeff waggled a finger at him. Ashley turned his back and stamped to the window. I caught Jeff's eye and motioned toward the door. I wanted to get out of there.

"Ashley," Jeff said, "you shouldn't let your pride make suspicious people like Haila think you're a murderer."

He pivoted around to Jeff. His voice was loud with righteous anger. He was his old pompous self. "Now are you satisfied? Now, will you leave before I have you thrown out by the police? I won't touch you; you nauseate me!"

"We'll go in a second. Quietly," Jeff said. "As soon as you explain this." He held out a small slip of paper.

"What's that? Where did you find that?"

"In your desk."

Ashley whitened. "You've been in my desk? How contemptible of you!"

Jeff read from the paper: "I. O. U. five hundred dollars. Signed Carol Blanton. How do you account for that, Ashley?"

Ashley looked uncertain for a second, then gave a little deprecating laugh. He went to one of his porcelain boxes and got himself a cigarette.

"Oh, that," he said. "I must tell you about that."

"Yes, you must," Jeff said.

Schoolboy Grid Roundup--Here Are Schedules For The Season

Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Matador at Olton.
Sept. 26—Spur at Olton.
Oct. 3—Morton at Olton.
Oct. 10—Olton at Muleshoe.
Oct. 17—Slaton at Olton.
Oct. 24—Olton at Littlefield.
Oct. 31—Open date.
Nov. 7—Olton at Levelland.
Nov. 14—Sudan at Olton.

Prospects—With the Hedges twins, Willis and Willard, back to run the opposition touchdown crazy for the fourth year, the Mustangs are favorites to win their fourth consecutive north zone championship. The competition will be more than usually stiff this season.

SLATON HIGH SCHOOL TIGERS
Head Coach: Curtis (Stump) Hamilton.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Slaton at Floydada.
Sept. 26—Slaton at Muleshoe.
Oct. 3—Littlefield at Slaton.
Oct. 10—Morton at Slaton.
Oct. 17—Slaton at Olton.
Oct. 24—Slaton at Post.
Oct. 31—Levelland at Slaton.
Nov. 11—Brownfield at Slaton.
Nov. 21—Slaton at Sudan.

Prospects — Looks like the best Tiger team in three years, but hardly likely to edge out Olton, Littlefield or Sudan for the north zone championship. Elzo Collier will be the best line-plunger in the district.

SUDAN HIGH SCHOOL HORNETS
Head Coach: Phillip Harmon.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Sudan at Amherst.
Sept. 19—Sudan at Morton.
Sept. 26—Sudan at Hereford.
Oct. 3—Lubbock Cowhands at Sudan.
Oct. 10—Sudan at Littlefield.
Oct. 17—Levelland at Sudan.
Oct. 24—Muleshoe at Sudan.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Sudan at Olton.
Nov. 21—Slaton at Sudan.

Prospects—The Hornets must be rated as the "dark horse" team of the district. If the green men in the backfield come through, the Hornets could sweep through the season undefeated.

SOUTH ZONE

BROWNFIELD HIGH SCHOOL CUBS
Head Coach: Aubra Nooncaster.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Kermit at Brownfield.
Sept. 19—Brownfield at Levelland.
Sept. 26—Open.
Oct. 3—Brownfield at Seagraves.
Oct. 10—Seminole at Brownfield.
Oct. 17—O'Donnell at Brownfield.
Oct. 24—Denver City at Brownfield.
Oct. 31—Post at Brownfield.
Nov. 11—Brownfield at Slaton.
Nov. 21—Brownfield at Tahoka.

Prospects — With eight lettermen and some good newcomers, the Cubs will have another good team. But every eleven in the district will have its sights levelled on Brownfield to keep the Cubs from winning their fifth straight zone title.

DENVER CITY HIGH MUSTANGS
Head Coach: Hatcher Brown.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Ralls at Denver City.
Sept. 19—Open.
Sept. 26—Levelland at Denver City.
Oct. 3—O'Donnell at Denver City.
Oct. 10—Seagraves at Denver City.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Denver City at Brownfield.
Oct. 31—Denver City at Tahoka.
Nov. 7—Post at Denver City.
Nov. 14—Denver City at Seminole.

Prospects—Newcomer to the league, and hardly figures to be up to the speedy competition in this district. Oil field teams have trouble holding boys. May surprise, however.

O'DONNELL HIGH SCHOOL EAGLES
Head Coach: Ray DeBusk.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 19—Fluvanna at O'Donnell.
Sept. 26—O'Donnell at Seminole.
Oct. 3—O'Donnell at Denver City.
Oct. 10—O'Donnell at Post.
Oct. 17—O'Donnell at Brownfield.
Oct. 24—Open.
Oct. 31—Seagraves at O'Donnell.
Nov. 7—Tahoka at O'Donnell.

Prospects—Even the most ardent Eagle fan couldn't predict that O'Donnell will win more than one or two games. Shortage of material handicaps the Eagles, who lost 10 lettermen from a 1940 team that was none too good.

POST HIGH SCHOOL ANTELOPES
Head Coach: Howard Price.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Lubbock Cowhands at Post.
Sept. 19—Ralls at Post.
Sept. 26—Seagraves at Post.
Oct. 3—Post at Seminole.
Oct. 10—O'Donnell at Post.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Slaton at Post.
Oct. 31—Post at Brownfield.
Nov. 7—Post at Denver City.
Nov. 14—Tahoka at Post.
Nov. 21—Post at Crosbyton.

Prospects—The Antelopes figure to have their best team in many seasons. Dean, Carpenter and Luttrell will be the roughest backfield trio in the district. The retiar team of 1940 is quite likely to become the district champions of 1941.

SEAGRAVES HIGH SCHOOL EAGLES
Head Coach: Olan Tipps.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Plains at Seagraves.
Sept. 19—Cooper at Seagraves.
Sept. 26—Seagraves at Post.
Oct. 3—Brownfield at Seagraves.
Oct. 10—Seagraves at Denver City.
Oct. 17—Open.
Oct. 24—Tahoka at Seagraves.
Oct. 31—Seagraves at O'Donnell.
Nov. 7—Meadow at Seagraves.
Nov. 20—Seminole at Seagraves.

Prospects — Seagraves couldn't win in Class B last season and is not likely to go far in the rougher competition of Class A. The Eagles, however, lost only four lettermen last year and have eight veterans back, plus a hefty squadron of newcomers.

SEMINOLE HIGH SCHOOL INDIANS
Head Coach: Horace Jones.
The season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Seminole at Sundown.
Sept. 26—O'Donnell at Seminole.
Oct. 3—Seminole at Post.
Oct. 10—Seminole at Brownfield.
Oct. 17—Seminole at Tahoka.
Oct. 24—Open.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Denver City at Seminole.
Nov. 20—Seminole at Seagraves.

Prospects — The Indians were good enough to win Class B bi-district honors last year, but Class A is something else again. They should finish about halfway down in the standings.

TAHOKA HIGH SCHOOL BULLDOGS
Head Coach: Leo Jackson.
Season's schedule:
Sept. 12—Tahoka at Lamesa.
Sept. 19—Andrews at Tahoka.
Sept. 26—Lockney at Tahoka.
Oct. 3—Open date.
Oct. 10—Tahoka at Borger.
Oct. 17—Seminole at Tahoka.
Oct. 24—Tahoka at Seagraves.
Oct. 31—Denver City at Tahoka.
Nov. 7—Tahoka at O'Donnell.
Nov. 14—Tahoka at Post.
Nov. 21—Brownfield at Tahoka.

Prospects—Despite the fact that he lost 11 lettermen from 1940, Jackson expects to have a strong team. The Bulldogs will be strengthened by several graduates of the Bullpup team who are expected to be plenty tough in their first season.

Westerners

Kinley probably won't be able to beat him out after returning to the squad.

Aubrey Smith, biggest boy on the squad, is handling his 178 pounds in fine fashion at one of the tackles.

Wesley Hamilton, a 6-foot 1-inch, 170-pound senior who never played football before, is developing into a natural at end and before season's end may be among the best.

The backs are proving their versatility by learning signals from all the backfield posts, thus allowing an interchange of backfield men. For instance, Milner Thorne may be used at left half or end; Robert Brewer, Primo McCurry and Howard Lanford all can play either halfback capably.

J. A. Raley has been handling himself in sensational style at times, and could possibly develop into one of the best backs on the team.

Keyes points out the 'ifs', the dark spots, too. He shows you that his team will average about 165 pounds, and will probably be outweighed 10 or more pounds per man when the Westerners meet Amarillo. He points out what injuries in key positions could do. And he recalls the inexperience of some of the men he's counting on, and wonders how they'll react under the gruelling tests of actual competition.

And then he says: "Wonder what kind of team Amarillo will have this year?"

Amarillo usually has a "wonder"-ful team!

Atlanta, Nashville Lead In Shaughnessy

(By The United Press)

Atlanta and Nashville were one up today in their playoff series for the Southern association championship.

Atlanta, which finished the season in first place, beat Chattanooga 6 to 2 last night in the first game of the playoffs while Nashville whipped New Orleans 10 to 6.

The champion of the Southern association Shaughnessy playoffs meets the Texas league winner in the annual Dixie series.
