Hawaii Officially Becomes A State

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii, a group of volcanic and coral islands 2,400 miles west of San Francisco, officially joins the Union today as the nation's 50th state.

President Eisenhower arranged at 4 p.m. (EDT) ceremony at the White House to proclaim statehood for the territory after a 56-year effort by Hawaiian citizens, now numbering 585,000.

Besides signing the statehood proclamation today, the president issues an order designating a new 50-star flag to become officially effective next July 4.

The new banner will take the place of the 49-star flag which became official only last July 4. The 49 - star emblem, to provide for Alaska, has a blue field of seven staggered rows of seven stars each. It supplanted the 47-year old, 48-star flag which had six even rows of eight stars each.

Soon after the Hawaiian proclamation, the government will put on sale a special 7-cent air mail stamp commemorating the event.

The signing also will be the signal for Gov. William F. Quinn, a Republican elected as the state's first governor last July 28, to take the oath in Honolulu, capital of the new state.

Quinn will then notify Washington of his certification of the election last month of Hawaii's first congressional delegation in time for the two senators and one representative to take their oaths here Monday.

The two senators are Hiram L. Fong, 52-year-old Republican of Chinese descent, and Oren E. Long, 70-year-old Democrat and former territorial governor. The House member is Daniel K. Inouye, 34-year-old Democrat of Japanese parentage who lost an arm fighting with the 442nd Regimental Combat Team in Italy in World War II.

Terms of the senators will be decided by a drawing after they take the oath.

Swearing of the three will raise the senate to 100 members — 65 Democrats and 35 Republicans. House strength will go to 437—283 Democrats, 153 Republicans, and one vacancy.

Hawaii will rank 47th in size among the 50 states and 44th in population. Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island have less area than Hawaii's 6,434 square miles. In population, the island cluster surpasses Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, New Hampshire, Vermont and Wyoming.

NEW SET OF WHEELS—Jim Cortese, Sunday editor of the Memphis, Tenn., Commercial Appeal, puts on a new set of skate wheels borrowed here this morning to continue his trip across Texas on roller skates. Behind him, looking at a road map, is his traveling companion, Tommy Wilkinson. Cortese expects to complete his journey to Hobbs, N. M., sometime late tomorrow afternoon. (Lee Watson photograph)

Skating Editor Gets New Wheels, Heads For Hobbs

By LEE V. WATSON

"They roll real good," was Jim Cortese's last remark as he set out on U. S. Highway 180 headed west toward Hobbs, N. M., about 11 o'clock this morning after a rest stop in Snyder.

He was talking about a new set of skate wheels borrowed from a junior high school girl's set of skates here.

Cortese is nearing the end of a journey across Texas started Aug. 16, on roller skates.

Although he rides the skates all the distance, he has given up the idea of doing it all under his own power.

"I skate down the hills and on the level stretches, but my traveling companion, Tommy Wilkinson, pulls me up the hills with the car," Cortese said.

Cortese is Sunday edifor of the Memphis, Tenn., Commercial Appeal, and a man who lives by the philosophy of "be original, use imagination, and stay in the bounds of responsibility."

As a newspaperman nearing his fortieth birthday wo years ago, he found himself in the proverbial "rut" and while talking with his wife one night, decided to do some of the many things fleetingly dreamed of by almost everyone, but never undertaken by anyone else.

"I'd like to swim across the Mississippi River," he told his wife Ann, and in the spirit of the usually lightly taken remark, Ann answered, "Well, why don't you do it then?"

That as the beginning of a list of such things that Cortese had often dreamed of doing, but never had done before. He and his wife made the list that night, and Cortese is rapidly going down the list.

He swam the Mississippi River and in only 21 minutes - - something of an unofficial record.

Also on the list was to spend some time in a Trappist Monastary, visit a nudist camp, climb all the steps to the top of the Empire State Building and climb back down again, meet a real "Vermonter," skate across Texas, and several other things in similar vein.

He has done all of the above, except skate across Texas, and

Haiti's Government Orders Arrest Of Leading Prelate

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Haiti's government has ordered the arrest of the nation's leading Roman Catholic prelate in a widening split with the church in this predominantly Catholic Negro republic.

The archbishop of Port Au Prince, Msgr. Francois Poirier, was ordered seized after he ignored a summons to appear at the district attorney's office.

There was no immediate indication whether the archbishop, a French national, had been found and taken into custody. Church sources declined to comment.

(A high Vatican source said Haitian government leaders who are Catholics might incur automatic excommunication from the church if Archbishop Poirier is arrested "without good reason.")

A justice department spokesman said the arrest was ordered because the archbishop had criticized the government for expelling two priests. One was the head of Haiti's largest Catholic college.

The two priests, the Rev. Etienne Grinenberger, rector of Saint Martial College and Superior of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Haiti, and the Rev. Joseph Marrec, both French citizens, arrived by plane in New York Thursday night. They said the government was apparently waging a concerted campaign against the Catholic church in Haiti.

President Francois Duvalier had personally ordered the two priests kicked out of the country "for reasons of internal security." Father Grinenberger said he and Father Marrec were not given any official explanation for their expulsion but he learned they were accused of being involved in a bombing plot. He gave no further details.

Vatican circles were reported gravely disturbed over the developments in Haiti.

District Attorney Max C. Duplessy had summoned Archbishop Poirier for an article in the Catholic daily La Phalange protesting that the church authorities were not consulted or given any explanation for the expulsion of the priests.

When the prelate failed to appear, the district attorney ordered his arrest under a provision of the penal code prohibiting religious authorities from censuring or criticizing the government.

Duvalier's clash with the church heightened as government troops were reported to have killed or captured a band of about 40 revolutionaries who invaded the southwest coast a week ago. The invaders were believed to have come from Cuba.

The army said 12 rebels were killed before they could fire a shot when they were surprised near Tiburon. Other sources said 25 of the invaders were killed and 16 either wounded or captured. These informants said there were no army casualties.

Occupancy Rate High At Hospital

Cogdell Memorial Hospital had an unusually high occupancy rate during July, Bill Newsom, hospital superintendent, reported to the county hospital board in its monthly meeting last night.

With an average occupancy of 69 per cent last month, the hospital was much fuller than is ordinary for the supposedly slack summer months.

The situation had been much the same in June. During July the hospital had 251 adult admissions and 1,068 adult patient days, which was the same number of admissions and only two patient days less than June. The hospital had 30 new babies and 103 baby days during the month.

This morning, Newsom said, the hospital had 51 patients plus newborns. Normally it is a 50 - bed hospital.

Such a large amount of summer admissions causes some concern, Newsom said, about what conditions will be in the fall and winter months, when there are usually many more patients.

The 50-bed addition to the hospital will not be complete for 12 to 14 months. Newsom said A. P. Kasch & Sons of Big Spring, contractors for the addition, have moved some building shacks onto the site in preparation for beginning of construction on the two-story addition. The contract between the county and Kasch is due to be signed by Sept. 1, and it is hoped that work will begin by that time, Newsom said.

Total expenditure for July by the hospital was $34,076.40. Gross earnings amounted to $38,102.87. Collections were over 90 per cent.

Letter By Union Chief Ires Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new backwash of accusations rumbled today in the wake of House-passed labor legislation.

Fighting mad were:

1. The AFL-CIO Executive Council. It charged in a resolution that "the vote against labor last week was part of a legislative package deal between Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans. America must not tolerate such cynical political maneuvering." It claimed there was a swap to pass strict labor controls and kill off civil rights legislation.

2. James B. Carey, AFL-CIO vice president. In sharp letters to House members who voted for the measure he called vindictive, he wrote: "We shall do all in our power to prove to the working men and women in your district that you have cast your lot against them and they should therefore take appropriate action at the ballot box."

3. Many House members who got Carey's letters. Their retorts including "attempt at political blackmail' and "a cheap effort at intimidation."

The new outburst stemmed from House passage last week of a labor control bill sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). The measure was backed by the Eisenhower administration. The AFL-CIO had called the bill anti-union.

Carey, in a statement today, fired back that "the bitterness of the reaction to my letter. . . indicates that my criticism has struck home. I threatened nobody. There was no intimidation. . . ."

Carey delivered Thursday's first punch with his critical letters to the 229 representatives who supported the Landrum-Griffin bill. He also sent thank you letters to the 201 who voted against the relatively strict bill. An aide said Carey acted as president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and with approval of its officers.

"Who do you think you are to be threatening members of the United States Congress?" fired back Rep. Steven B. Derounion (R-NY).

"Carey's letter doesn't worry me a damn bit," said Landrum.

"You and too many other autocratic union bosses are guilty of the un - American philosophy of class hatred." Rep. Edward J. Derwinski (R-Ill) wrote in reply to Carey.

While angry congressmen were blasting back at Carey, the AFL-CIO Executive Council adopted its "cynical political maneuvering" resolution. The action was taken at the wind-up of the council's summer meetings at Forest Park, Pa.

The council charged there was a deal in the House to pass a stiff labor control bill in exchange for killing off any meaningful civil rights legislation this year.

George Meany, federation president, said he had no direct evidence of any such deal between Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans, but added he and other AFL-CIO chiefs feel sure there is one.

Living Costs At New Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in July to another record high, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said higher prices for all major classes of goods and services contributed to the advance, with food prices leading the way.

The consumer price index for July was 124.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average, eight-tenths of 1 per cent higher than in July 1958.

The increase will mean wage boosts to about one million workers primarily in the automobile, farm equipment and aircraft industries.

Hersey E. Riley, chief of the department's division of prices and cost of living, said most of the effected workers will receive a quarterly raise of 2 cents an hour.

He said this is the first increase for automobile workers since last July.

Riley said the increase from June to July was "pretty much a result of seasonal factors. Only twice since 1941 have food prices declined in July and the average increase for that month is five-tenths of 1 per cent."

Food prices increased four-tenths of 1 per cent over the month this year. The cost of eggs went up 18 per cent, much more than usual for the season.

An advance in beef and poultry prices offset some declines in fresh fruits and vegetables.

"We are quite certain from what we see now that food prices will drop in August, but we can't tell just how that will affect the entire cost of living index," Riley said.

He said about one-quarter of the total increase in the cost of living this month could be attributed to local tax increases such as those on cigarettes and restaurant meals, and state sales taxes in Illinois and Arizona.

Riley also announced that the spendable earnings of factory workers and the buying power of those earnings dropped in July.

He said the decreases resulted from the usual summer drop in the work week due to vacations and other such factors, and to a lesser extent from the work stoppage in the steel industry in mid-July.

With the exception of fruits and vegetables, down 2.8 per cent, and new automobiles, off seven-tenths of 1 per cent, prices all along the line rose during July. The increases included: Restaurant meals one half of 1 per cent, housing one-tenth of 1 per cent, reading and recreation eight-tenths of 1 per cent, transportation three-tenths of 1 per cent, clothing two-tenths of 1 per cent, medical care three-tenths of 1 per cent, and personal care two-tenths of 1 per cent.

Claim Sharp Acted As Strike-Breaker

HOUSTON (AP) — Striking machinists at Mission Manufacturing Co. have protested to President Eisenhower, asserting that Undersecretary of the Air Force Dudley Sharp Sr. acted as a strike-breaker at the Houston plant. The letter charged that Sharp is opposed to labor unions.

A Mission executive promptly denied the charges.

Sharp, a major stockholder, was vice chairman of the board at the oil and industrial tool firm until he returned to Washington early this month. He earlier was assistant Air Force secretary for material.

Pair Injured In One-Car Accident

Two men were injured in one accident and no one injured in another investigated by highway patrolmen here last night.

The first occurred 11.9 miles north of here on State Highway 208 at 8:20 p.m. yesterday.

Jesse Cano Roa, 22 of Spur, was driving a 1955 Ford sedan, heading south, when he lost control of the car. The car skidded down the right barrow ditch and overturned one complete time, slightly injuring Roa and a passenger, Jose Juan Picina, 30, of Spur.

The two were taken by Bell ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where Picina was released after emergency treatment and Roa was held overnight for observation of injuries.

Gordon Johnson and Will Cleveland, highway patrolman, investigated the accident.

At 1:40 a.m., another one-car accident occured on the Ennis Creek road 1.3 miles northeast of Snyder.

Dwaine Calvert, 18, of 2609 Avenue G, was driver of a 1951 Oldsmobile and failed to complete a turn at a corner. The car went into the barrow ditch, caught on fire and was destroyed, according to Johnson, who investigated. Firemen answered the call. There was no injury.

Tentative Pact To End Strike Reported

GARY, Ind. (AP) — The Gary Post-Tribune said today it has learned that a tentative agreement has been reached to end the 38-day-old steel strike.

The newspaper in Indiana's steel capital said word of an impending settlement came from a top industry official in a private conversation Thursday night.

The official, who was not further identified, was quoted as saying the basis for a settlement is a small wage increase.

Remitted State Tax Levy Plan Proposed For County

The people of Scurry County could take advantage of a constitutional amendment to apportion the county budget in such a way that a new county courthouse could be built and paid for by 1966, J. Ray Martin, county judge, said in a talk at the Rotary Club here yesterday.

The Texas constitution, Martin said, provides for a remitted state tax levy of 30 cents on each $100 valuation. "By taking advantage of this, a tax saving to the taxpayers could be effected annually in the amount of $107,100 on present valuations," Martin said. The taxpayers of the county would have to vote for the remitted tax levy before it could be put into effect.

If passed, this could mean apportionment of the remitted tax levy for use in retirement of road bonds, freeing that in the operational budget now used for road bond retirement to be used for courthouse bonds. At the present time the county is paying about half a million dollars annually to retire indebtedness. The remitted tax levy would take care of all but four cents per $100 valuation of county road retirement and leave the remainder of the regular tax levy for other operations and retirement of other types of indebtedness, Martin said.

Once the present unlimited 1951 road bonds of $2½ million was completely retired by 1962, interest and sinking fund finances of the county could be rearranged in such a way that as much as $1½ million for courthouse and jail improvements could be retired by 1966 without an increase in either the present valuations o tax rates the judge said.

"If some action is not taken by the people within a year, the financial opportunity to rearrange the debt structure will be lost," Martin said, adding that the courthouse and jail funds and quick retirement without any increases would not work unless the people voted the remitted tax levy.

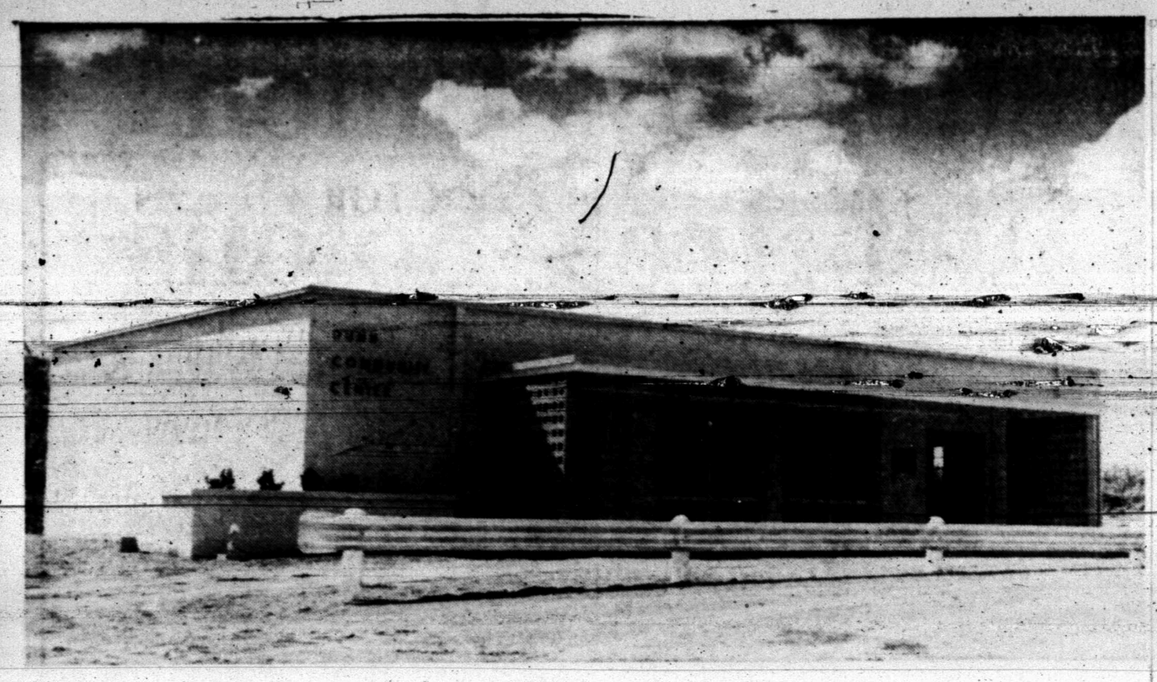

The state formerly levied the taxes, but a constitutional amendment gave counties permission to levy this tax if the people voted to do so. Article 8, Section 1-a of the Texas Constitution, which became effective Jan. 1, 1951, authorized the counties to levy ad valorum taxes upon all property within their respective boundaries for county purposes, except residential homesteads. The constitution provides that these funds shall be used for road purposes.

Such an arrangement would allow the county to build a $1½ million courthouse without a tax increase. Without the 30 - cent remitted tax levy arrangement, however, the county would be burdened for 20 years if it built a courthouse, instead of until 1966, the judge said.

Homesteads, Martin said, are not subject to taxation under the remitted tax levy. He added that all tax experts have expressed themselves in favor of the remitted tax levy.

"The county would not collect any more taxes under this arrangement; it would just change the manner in which it apportioned the budget," Martin said.

The judge said 40 per cent of the counties in West Texas have voted either all or a portion of the remitted tax levy and now have it in effect. Counties which use it include Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Baylor, Brown, Castro, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crane, Crockett, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gaines, Gray, Hale, Hansford, Haskell, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Irion, Kent, King, Knox, Lipscomb, McCulloch, Menard, Mitchell, Moore, Nolan, Ochiltree, Oldham, Pecos, Randall, Reagan, Schliecher, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Throckmorton, Ward, Wheeler, Wilbarger, Winkler and Yoakum.

NEW DUNN COMMUNITY CENTER—Dedication ceremonies will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the new Dunn Community Center, above. The new building has a meeting area which will accomodate about 200 persons, kitchen facilities, folding chairs and a spacious parking area. J. Ray Martin, county judge, and Jay Massingill, commissioner of precinct 4, will be speakers during the ceremonies. (Lee Watson photograph)

Dedication Set At Hillside Gardens

Dedication will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday for the new Garden of Everlasting Life and the Everlasting Life monument in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

This is the second garden of the cemetery, which has long-range plans for seven gardens, a mausoleum which is committed to be built by June 1961, and other facilities.

The new garden has 7,000 spaces, more than three times the size of the Christus Garden, which was dedicated May 1, 1955, and has 2,000 spaces.

Hillside Memorial Gardens, managed by Lloyd Huval, is located beyond the traffic pattern on the Colorado City highway.

The Everlasting Life memorial in the garden is hand-sculptured by Domenic Zappia of Italy. Mounted on a ledgestone base, it weighs over 6,000 pounds.

George R. Killam, county attorney, will be program director for the dedication. The dedication will be delivered by the Rev. Jack Dean, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church. The welcome address will be by Mayor Harold Bennett.

Special music will be by R. Virgil Mott, director of music and education for the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Walter Lentz, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, will deliver the call to prayer.

The dedicatory address will be by the Rev. John Reaves, pastor of the First Christian Church, and the benediction will be by the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Skating Editor

that will have been done, "God willing," he says by tomorrow night.

His list also includes several other things he doesn't talk about, because he fears someone else might beat him to doing them.

Cortese has the good fortune to be married to a "pretty blond," who has the understanding to go along with his ideas.

He said that the "desk bound" newspaper editing job with its routine and "civilization" prompted the ventures.

"Of all the experiences, the stay at the Trappist Monastary left the greatest impression on me," he said.

His wife and three of his four sons accompanied him to the monastary, but his wife and children didn't go to the nudist camp.

"The stayed in a motel in the town where the camp was located, and Ann drove me out to the camp each day—but about the fourth day she got suspicious of the 'unadorned temptations' and cut that venture off," he said with something of a dreamy look on his weatherbeaten face.

Skating across Texas has its problems. One thing, his skates will not stand the strain. He has used up five pairs of skates, and several sets of new wheels.

He said he hoped the set he borrowed here would last the rest of the trip.

When he first started, the skates didn't worry him as much as his legs and feet, but "I've found that the legs can take it, and they don't bother me now," he said.

He did have to get some bunion pads in an East Texas stop, to ease blisters, but hasn't had any trouble since.

"Seal coating along the way is another problem, because the skate wheels won't roll in the loose gravel," he said.

However, he didn't hit any seal-coating or fresh pavement until just before he reached Snyder.

Following his trip up and down the Empire State steps, he went to Gettysburg, Pa., and delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg Address from the same spot where Lincoln said the immortal words.

Cortese says that he can do all the things which come to mind, and yet stay in the bounds of responsibility to his family and his job, and he thinks that more people should adopt a similar attitude.

He is doing the skate trip during his vacation from the newspaper job, and the responsibility to his family is easily taken care of. His youngest son, Mike, is only five months old, and his family couldn't take the trip because the baby is too young. His other children are Ted, 7, Jim 6, and Richie, 4.

Cortese said that his only "hitch" with the newspaper job was on the second afternoon he was on the journey when police stopped him and told him to call his office.

"Since then, I've had to call and make a progress report each afternoon," he said.

Cortese says that the skating trip has become a real pleasure, because almost everyone knows who he is as soon as they see him, and children meet him with cold drinks and small gifts.

One small girl from Clyde, Tex., handed him a note as she rode past in her family's car— she didn't stop; just handed me the note and the car kept going and I kept skating," he said.

That's what he was doing when he left Snyder this morning—just skating, but with a new set of wheels that "roll real good."

Premature Firing Halts Rescue Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — An escape rocket fired prematurely today and wrecked an attempt to test rescue methods for the men who will make the first space flights.

The blast lobbed a full-size space capsule into the surf off the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's test station on Wallops Island on the Virginia Eastern shore.

NASA said the premature firing occurred 20 minutes before the capsule was to have been launched by firing of the main propulsion engine.

The rocket that blew off ahead of time was one intended to kick the capsule free from the main rocket in the event of emergency.

The capsule was to have been launched to great height by a Little Joe booster rocket.

At the top of its flight the escape rocket was to have been fired for test purposes.

NASA said there were no injuries.

The launch area had been cleared of all personnel about 10 minutes before the ignition of the escape rocket.

Attempts will be made to recover the capsule from the water.

The launching had been planned as the first in a series of tests of Project Mercury space capsules during the launching phase. The 2,000-pound capsule was a forerunner of those that will carry the Mercury astronauts on their first launchings by rocket next year, leading up to the first manned orbiting of the earth probably in 1961.

The Little Joe launching rocket stood 24 feet tall. On top of it was the capsule 10 feet high. Above that was an escape tower 16 feet tall, containing the rocket that fired prematurely.

The escape rocket was designed to pull the capsule several thousand feet above the main launching rocket, if the latter should misfire or otherwise perform badly at a space capsule launching.

From that point it was to have been lowered by automatically opening parachutes to a landing.

Huge Balloon Is Launched

BROWNWOOD (AP) — University of Chicago scientists made their first successful launching of a huge balloon early today in a study of high-altitude gamma rays.

The balloon ascended at 5:44 a.m. (CST) and within two hours was 102,000 feet aloft over Coleman.

In its gondola were instruments placed by University of Chicago scientists. How long the balloon would remain up was not disclosed. It was expected, however, that after the balloon reaches 120,000 feet, or more than 20 miles, the scientific instruments will be parachuted by means of a radio control.

Police Stand Guard Over Negro Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — A policeman kept watch overnight after a gang of boys Thursday night smashed windows in a house bought by a Negro family in an all-white neighborhood.

The purchaser, postal employe Harry McCarthy, has not yet moved into the house, which is vacant.

The gang came by bicycles, and a resident of the area, Abbie Bloom, said there were about 20 of them, 12 to 17 years old. Mrs. Bloom who called police, thought they came from another neighborhood.

The vandals smashed at least eight windows. They pulled drapes from a living room window onto the porch and dragged venitian blinds to the lawn.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ray King, Route 1, are parents of a daughter weighing six pounds, 11 ounces, born at 3:55 p.m. yesterday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Of the 1,198 lost when a German submarine sank the liner Lusitania on May 7, 1915, were 124 Americans.

Painting Is Fun For Toddlers

By DOROTHY V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures

TODDLERS love to paint—that is they get great joy from bright colored poster paints they can streak across big pieces of paper.

"Painting is a valuable experience for little children. They do not paint pictures, they paint the way they feel. It is often very worthwhile for a youngster to be able to express himself in this way.

It takes a bit of doing to arrange a place at home where a small child can paint. In today's column we will discuss how to equip a painting corner. In the next column we will talk about what to expect from the little ones who paints.

Select a corner that will not be too much damaged by a bit of paint being slopped around. Cover the floor with a big piece of linoleum. In the summer the painting equipment might be set up outdoors or in a corner of the garage.

You will use water soluble paints so the clean-up is possible with a wet rag. Bright color poster paint can be obtained at an art supply store. But the dry pigments (they are cheaper than liquid paints) Get some Bentonite which mixed with the pigments and water will make your paints go much further. You will need pigments in the three primary colors, red, yellow, and blue, and also black and white. With these you can mix a variety of colors. Have a few wide mouth jars for a small amount of each color paint to be given to the child. You will need brushes, one for each color of paint.

The paper can be newsprint. You can obtain it from your local newspaper printing office — free sometimes, but never expensive.

It is handy to have an easel though you can use a table top or even the floor. Of course you can buy an easel, but a most satisfactory one can be made from an old orange crate. Stand the crate on end. Nail an upright piece of wood at the back of the top and a horizontal piece of wood at the front of the top. A big piece of cardboard can then be supported on the upright and will be held in place by the strip in front. Your newsprint can be attached to the cardboard with thumb tacks.

If the orange crate has a divider in it, as most do, it will provide a handy shelf for jars, of paint.

With a very small expenditure of money and some time and effort you will be equipped to provide your child with painting equipment that will last for years. You child will get great joy from painting and you may come to understand him better by watching his activities with this play medium.

Winning Spouse And House Were Easy For War Hero

By HARRIET GEF
Honolulu Star-Bulletin

HONOLULU (AP) — Have you ever tried dating one of the teachers while just a student in school?

Was hero Daniel K. Inouye, Hawaii's Congressman-elect did, and was accepted on his first try.

"But he was floored," his wife recalls with a laugh.

Dan was a junior at the University of Hawaii in 1947 when his wife, the former Margaret Shinobu Awamura, was in her first year as a speech instructor.

"I thought he was dashing, very interesting and most considerate," Maggie, as she likes to be called, says.

"One of the things that attracted me to Dan was the fact that he's never indicated his country owes him something for the loss of his arm.

"He's always outgoing, perfectly adjusted, more so than many of us. He's always wanted to go out and help others."

Inouye, 34, a Democrat, won election to the U. S. House of Representatives by a landslide margin in Hawaii's first state election July 28. He received 111,700 votes to his Republican opponent's 51,000, and made island history by being the first person ever to receive more than 100,000 votes.

Proposal on Third Date

On their third date, says Maggie, Dan proposed marriage and she accepted. They were married at Honolulu in 1949.

Maggie, 35, modestly refuses any credit for helping her husband become the polished public speaker he is, saying: "He made sure he wouldn't take any speech courses from me.

Mrs. Inouye, until now, has been an instructor in education at the University of Hawaii. After her husband's election, she asked for and got a leave of absence.

She regards it a duty of every wife to offer criticism when requested and says her husband "always asks for my frank opinion" after each public appearance.

Marriage No Different

She doesn't think her marriage to a disabled veteran is different from any other.

"He likes good old fashioned beef stew, long ties (no bows) and listening to records. He works in the yard, does some carpentry and prefers small, quiet parties.

The Inouyes won't be strangers to Washington, D. C., as Dan attended George Washington University law school there for two years after their marriage and Maggie was with him.

Says Maggie of her husband's imminent job in Washington:

"I will try my very hardest to help my husband, and the people of Hawaii and the nation."

Fish Fillets

INGREDIENTS: 2 pounds fish fillets, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 large bay leaf (broken into 4 pieces), 1-16 teaspoon ground dried thyme, 2 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), salt, white pepper, paprika, minced parsley.

METHOD: Arrange fillets on broiling pan; if there is skin on them, place skin side down. In a small saucepan over low heat, heat the butter, lemon juice, bay leaf, thyme and onion until butter melts; pour over fillets. Broil about 2 inches from high heat until fish flakes easily with a fork and is opaque through. Do not turn but baste once during broiling. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika and parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

LUNCHEON DELIGHT

Cream fine dry bread crumbs with butter and add herbs. Arrange cooked shrimp in a pie plate and put bits of the butter combination over them. Sprinkle with paprika and broil slowly. Delicious for lunch with a green salad!

The 1-2-3's To Easy Carefree Hostessing

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A girl hasn't really earned her hostess wings until she's been through her first dinner party.

The bride's initial effort at entertaining is likely to be in the interest of in-laws to prove she's a "natural born hostess" and that she's making good use of her wedding presents.

Human nature being what it is the bride will be lucky to appear at the appointed hour in complete command of the situation. On the contrary, she'll probably be on the verge of tears by the time the company arrives.

The bachelor girl who wants to display her culinary acumen to the office crowd or a favorite beau may find herself in the same boat.

It is important for new hostesses to learn that entertaining can be made simple and it doesn't need to be a big production to be successful. There's are several important pointers that should be observed, and if these are observed everything should go smoothly.

1. The table cloth should be clean, the glasses should gleam, the silver should shine. If possible set it in advance. Put a screen around it if it is in the living room.

2. Never cook anything that can't be timed to the exact second you want to serve it. This will keep you more on edge than anything else. A dish that may be cooked in advance and heated up and kept warm is the ideal one to choose. Beef Bourginone (beef in red wine), Beef Stragonoff (in sour cream), chicken pot pie, meat loaf, pot roast, shrimp, chicken or lamb curry, are all good choices as these may be kept ready-to-serve.

3. Make up a list in advance of the dinner party. Write down everything you must do in connection with the party. List everything that will go on the table from candle sticks to salt cellars. Make sure the table cloth is clean. These last minute gaps in service can prove embarrassing.

4. The strain of a dinner may be eased by serving dessert and coffee in the living room. This will give you the opportunity to set the dessert tray in advance with the plates, cups and saucers, spoons, cream pitcher, sugar, and cigarettes.

5. Empty the ash trays occasionally. Keep the conversation going by prodding each guest's interest if time lags. Avoid controversy.

6. Make sure the bathroom is neat, that guest towels and soap is available.

7. Be prepared for soiled dishes in the kitchen by making sure there is no clutter before you remove articles from the table. Have a place to put salt, pepper shakers, etc. Scrape dishes and put them in the sink or dishwasher.

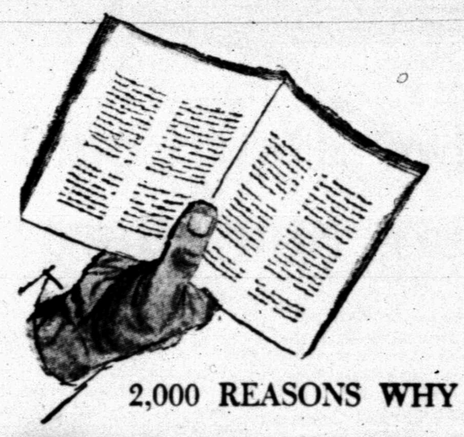

8. Be completely dressed at least one-half hour before guests arrive with last minute touchups in the house including inspection of ash trays, bath tub, kitchen.

Preparedness is the secret of the good hostess, because to make your guest feel at home you should be relaxed yourself. A harried hostess not only manages to give her guests indigestion but puts them in the mood to go home early.

Teatime

Teatime treat: roll trimmed slices of white bread thin and butter, then sprinkle with a goodly amount of grated sharp cheddar cheese. Re-roll and butter outsides; toast in a hot oven.

Savings Bonds Beneficial

U. S. Savings Bonds are still a good buy for the "little man" and they do more good for the country than many people realize.

That is the doctrine being promoted by Leonard F. Cowden Jr., area manager of the U. S. Treasury Dept. Savings Band Division, who was a visitor in Snyder the other day.

While here, Cowden noted that Scurry County has logged only about 35 per cent of its Savings Bond goal for this year, and the year is more than half gone. There are no quotas set for Savings Bond sales, but goals are established to give the treasury some idea of what to expect.

The treasury started out to seek about five billion dollars in Savings Bond sales over the nation this year. At the present rate, it appears that about four billion or possibly four and a half billion dollars worth of Savings Bonds will be sold.

Four or five billion dollars may appear insignificant when cmpared to the federal budget or the federal debt, but the U. S. Treasury Dept. regards it as highly important because it helps curb inflation.

When the "little man" puts money into bonds systematically, it produces a noticeable effect on the value of money, Cowden said. The Savings Bonds are not offered for those who are in a position to invest a hundred thousand dollars or so, but for people who can save a little here and there. Of course no one is excluded up to the limits set by the government, but Savings Bonds are offered primarily with the small investors in mind.

Of course Savings Bonds pay interest, but the "storing" of the principal invested, plus the benefit to the government help make them a better buy.

Labor Day Could Bring Showdown

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Both management and labor are wondering today if this year's observance of Labor Day may coincide with a major showdown.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's background report on the steel strike points to it. The report confines itself to statistics rather than issues. But the issues show through.

Both management and labor stress that the issues in the steel strike are fundamental, rather than just dollar and cents ones as in the past.

A similar type of strike is spreading through the copper industry.

Meat packers and their workers are reported split over the same issues with a strike possible around Labor Day.

Others outside the industries directly involved, but themselves affected by the results as primary customers or ultimate consumers or as union members in other industries, also are taking sides.

Labor's position, perhaps oversimplified, is that today's high and often record profits can absorb another increase in wage scales without any need for another price rise; and management's demand for a return to greater say-so in conducting plant operations is an effort to break the unions and restore old objectionable practices.

Management's position is that price inflation has to be stopped some time and the way to do it is to hold the present wage and price line; and more management control over operations would raise productivity and lower operational costs.

Productivity thus becomes a key issue. It means the amount of goods or services turned out per man hour. Mechanization and automation has tended to raise this sharply in late years — although mechanization can be a costly thing in itself.

Working against more productivity, management says, are feather-bedding and other practices that slow production and add to costs.

On this issue management and labor seem to be at opposite poles. The chance of a major showdown this year seems to lie here more than in wage scales themselves.

The Mitchell report on the steel industry says that since 1940 the output per man hour has increased by about 74 per cent. The average annual increase in the 1947-57 period was 3 per cent, while for the economy as a whole it was 3.7 per cent, and for manufacturing alone 3.1 per cent.

Steel management stresses that to achieve this increased productivity it has raised its capital investment per production worker from $9,000 in 1947 to $20,000 in 1957.

It argues that this great capital investment makes it impossible to hold price lines if wages and other operational costs go up.

In this showdown building up between opposing management and labor views there is a third party—the public.

Truman, Jack Benny To Team Up Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman and Jack Benny will team up again, this time on Benny's television show Oct. 18 via the CBS network.

The announcement Thursday said part of the program featuring the pair would be video taped at the Truman Memorial Library, Independence, Mo. There was no mention of what they'll do.

At a benefit concert of the Kansas City Symphony in March 1958, Truman conducted a portion of the concert and Benny played the violin.

Soviet Progress Worries Leaders

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — American leadership is showing a growing concern about the ability of this country—at the rate and in the way we are going—to keep up with Soviet progress.

Time was when Soviet claims to achievement were taken with a grain of salt in the United States.

That attitude began to change when the Soviets showed how far advanced they were, industrially and scientifically, first by making the atom bomb, then the hydrogen bomb, and then beating us into outer space with their Sputniks in 1957.

Earlier in the week this writer reported President Eisenhower:

1. Is concerned about the driving urge to get ahead which the Soviets seven-year plan is giving them.

2. Thinks this country needs an incentive toward harder work—something similar to the seven-year plan—which he believes is providing the Soviet people with the moral equivalent of war.

3. Feels Americans must be induced to work harder, think more of achievement, less of leisure and money.

Now comes the Draper committee—a 10-man group headed by the investment banker, William H. Draper Jr.—which sounds like a direct echo of the President.

Eisenhower created this committee to study the United States program of military assistance to other countries. Its report, made public Thursday, urged even bigger aid and went much beyond talking in terms of weapons alone.

The 10-man group sought to look at the Soviet challenge from many angles—its progress, its productive expansion, its goals, and its tactics—plus the need it creates for American efforts to match Soviet efforts.

The committee, noting the Soviets are maintaining a higher rate of growth than the United States in industrial production and in their technology and technical education, said:

Their objective of equaling and exceeding the United States in selected areas of their own choosing has provided an unusual psychological stimulation to their people which we must more than match by dedication to our own cause.

"These trends in the Communist world cannot be ignored. They suggest the need for real concern about our present and prospective rates of progress which will determine our future ability to compete with communist states.

All this requires a positive individual and national dedication, greater emphasis on hard constructive work and thought, less rather than more emphasis on leisure, more rather than less application to our tasks."

The similarity between Eisenhower's thinking and the committee's statement may have been the result of the President's having seen the Draper report before it was made public.

But he was concerned about this problem of competition and incentives many months ago. He announced in his State of the Union message last January he would create a committee to study and then propose national goals.

The Soviets' seven-year plan is in their case a national goal. Eisenhower is ready to name his committee as soon as he can find enough private organizations to finance its work. He doesn't want the government to foot the bill.

But neither Eisenhower nor the Draper committee has come up with an answer to the question they raise.

More than half of Czechoslovakia's natural resources are now nationalized.

Are Epic Movies Getting Too Big?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is the film colossal getting too colossal for Hollywood?

Producer King Vidor, one of the last active survivors of the film colony's epic past, says yes. He feels the epic movie is now too big and costly for the Hollywood wallet.

"I doubt if ever again you can make spectacle movies in Hollywood which require the building of vast sets and 4,000 or 5,000-man casts," he said.

"It's impractical. Too expensive. Too many crippling rules and regulations," Vidor said.

"To shoot a crowd scene with 1,000 players would cost $20,000 a day in Hollywood. In Spain you could do it for around $1,000 a day."

Vidor recently returned from Spain where he spent two years and six million dollars making the biggest color spectacle of his career, "Solomon and Sheba." The death of Tyrone Power forced him to shoot a third of the film over, added a million dollars to the firm's budget.

Unlike such early giants of the industry as D. W. Griffith and Cecil B. De Mille, Vidor has never been an exponent of personal showmanship. But he has been one of the screen's most consistent experimenters.

Starting more than four decades ago as a ticket seller and newsreel operator, he learned the director's trade by turning out two-reelers. His first, which dealt with auto racing—Vidor was an early hot rodder himself — cost $500.

"And that's probably about what it took in at the boxoffice," he remarked wryly.

"The Big Parade," made in 1925 with John Gilbert as star, was one of the greatest sleepers in filmdom's history. "It cost only $245,000 to make, and the last I heard it had brought 16 or 18 million," Vidor said.

But the graying, mild-mannered producer isn't a man who believes in looking back.

"Everything is new," he said. "When I start a new project, I begin a whole new life. I don't believe in dwelling on what's behind you."

Vidor believes the answer to the epic costs of making film epics isn't to turn out fewer of them, but to turn out more of them abroad.

"We've got a big screen now, and we have to fill it up," he said. "Let people who like small themes and small screens watch television.

Giants Retain Lead As Jones Nails Spahn

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Spahn couldn't do it.

Milwaukee's 38-year-old southpaw ace, called on for his third start and fourth appearance in 10 days, finally was nailed by Sad Sam Jones and San Francisco's wonderous Willies Thursday night as the Giants beat the Braves 5-3.

It was Spahn's third defeat in his last four decisions and once again kept him from pairing with Lew Burdette (who beat the Giants 5-2 Wednesday) for the one-two pitching punch that had the Braves in command through the first half of the season.

The Giants retained their two-game National League lead over Los Angeles while skidding the third place Braves four games behind again.

It was Jones, beating Milwaukee for the fifth time against two losses (both to Spahn), and the Willies—Mays, McCovey—who did it.

McCovey had three hits and drove in three runs, putting it away with his seventh homer after Mays had lined his third single with two out in the ninth.

Los Angeles kept the pace, beating Cincinnati 8-5.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 3-1. The Chicago Cubs split a twi-night at Philadelphia, beating the Phils 6-4 after losing 8-5 in the replay of Wednesday's 12-inning tie.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox' lead was cut to 2½ games when they dropped their second straight to Baltimore 7-6, and second place Cleveland beat Washington 6-1, Detroit walloped New York 14-2, and Boston out-staggered Kansas City 11-10.

The Giants pounded 15 hits off Spahn (16-13), who had beaten them six times in a row since July of last year.

The Giants came from behind with two in the fifth on Ed Bressoud's double and consecutive singles by Jackie Brandt, Mays and McCovey. They made it 3-1 in the sixth on Bob Schmidt's single and Bressoud's triple that was misjudged by rookie Lee Maye in left field.

The Braves scored an unearned run in the first off Jones (16-11) on a double by Frank Torre, whose unannounced substitution for Joe Adcock triggered a Giant protest.

Los Angeles, beaten by a seven-run eighth at Cincinnati the night before, squared things when a third strike got past catcher Ed Bailey with two out and nobody on base in the fifth. Blanked on two hits by Bob Purkey (10-13) 'til then, the Dodgers poured across with Charlie Neal's double scoring two runs and Norm Larker's homer counting three.

Danny McDevitt (9-8) won it with Larry Sherry's relief after a pinch homer by Frank Thomas in the ninth.

Art Schult drove in two nightcap runs for the Cubs, getting the winner home with a fifth inning home run. The Phils took the opener on homers by Carl Sawatski, who drove in four runs, and Wally Post as Ruben Gomez (2-8) won his first since beating the Cubs May 21.

Bob Friend (6-15) won two in a row for only the second time this year for the Bucs, giving up nine hits but fanning 11. Dick Groat's triple beat the Cards and Ernie Broglio (6-10) in the fifth.

Nellie Fox Night Set In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) —This is Nellie Fox Night at Comiskey Park.

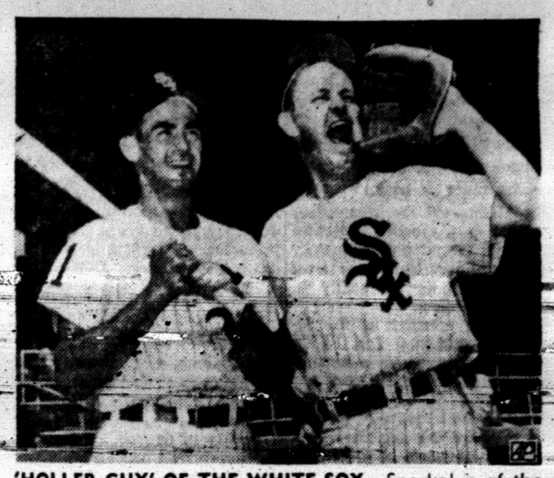

The durable little second baseman who will be playing in his 635th successive game for the Chicago White Sox will be showered with gifts in pre-game ceremonies.

Probably his biggest hope will be that the Sox shower the Washington Senators with hits and win behind the pitching of unpredictable Ed Donovan.

The Sox, losing 7-6 to Baltimore Thursday, now have dropped 4 of their last 5 starts and the American League lead has sagged to 2½ games over Cleveland.

Losing hurts Fox more than anything. Since he came to the Sox in 1950 from the old Philadelphia Athletics he has been a team man. He has been named to 10 All Star games and played in nine of them, and has led the AL in hits for the last two seasons.

The 5-foot-8 Fox, who is leading the league with 157 hits and is batting .322, could have been appearing in his 910th straight game tonight. But on Aug. 6, 1955, Marty Marion, then Sox manager, decided Fox was wearing himself to a frazzle and benched him for a day rest. It broke an original string of 274 games.

'HOLLER GUY' OF THE WHITE SOX—Sparkplug of the Chicago White Sox, currently leading the American League, is little Nelson Fox, right, shown with running mate shortstop Luis Aparicio, during batting practice. Much of the defensive success of the White Sox is credited to the speedy work in the infield of Fox at second and Aparicio. (AP Wirephoto)

White Sox Miss Pierce's Hurling

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Somebody ask how much the Chicago White Sox would miss Billy Pierce? So far, the injured left-hander has missed one starting assignment and their American League lead is down to 2½ games, almost cut in half.

The White Sox led by 4½ games, the biggest bulge of the year in the AL, when Pierce was shelved Monday for from five to eight days to nurse his ailing hip. Uninjured, Pierce would have pitched either Wednesday or Thursday against Baltimore. Without him, the Sox dropped both games while second place Cleveland took two from Washington.

The Orioles counted 10 runs in the two games, beating Barry Latman 7-6 Thursday for the White Sox' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cleveland continued its rebound from a four-game slump by belting Washington 6-1 behind Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

Detroit walloped the Yankees 14-2, and Boston overcame three home runs by Kansas City's Bob Cerv for an 11-10 decision over the A's.

In the National League, San Francisco retained a two-game edge and dropped third place Milwaukee four games behind with a 5-3 victory over the Braves. Second place Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 8-5. Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 3-1, and the Chicago Cubs split a twi-night doubleheader at Philadelphia, winning 6-4 after an 8-5 defeat.

The Orioles tagged Latman (5-5) and six relievers for 13 hits.

Rookie Jim McAnany drove in three runs for the White Sox, who had 10 hits and made it close with two runs in the seventh off Billy Loes after winner Hoyt Wilhelm (12-8) was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Two home runs did it for the Indians. Ed FitzGerald smacked his first of the year and Woody Held then cracked a 1-1 tie with a two-run shot, his 23rd, in the seventh against loser Pet Ramos (11-15). Grant (8-5) lost his shutout in the sixth on a walk, sacrifice and Bob Allison's double.

Milt Bolling, who hammered two home runs, and Gail Harris each drove in six runs for the Tigers. Jim Bunning (12-10) beat the Yankees for the first time this season with a five-hitter. Gary Blaylock lost it in his first AL decision.

Rookie Earl Wilson, driving in three runs with a single a double, won his first major league decision as the third of five Red Sox pitchers. Tom Sturdivant (1-5) was the loser for the As.

Tulsa Takes Double Bill

By The Associated Press

Tulsa held second place in the Texas League Friday after a mighty long night of baseball.

The Oilers toiled for six and one-half hours against Amarillo and won both games of a doubleheader. The Oilers won the first 5-4 in 10 innings and then did it all over again, 5-4 in 10 innings, in the nightcap.

The first game took 2 hours and 5 minutes and the second 3 hours and 34 minutes.

San Antonio beat Austin 4-1 and 6-3. Victoria trimmed Corpus Christi 7-3, then Corpus Christi came back and won 9-1.

The night's play jumped Tulsa from third to second ahead of Austin and pulled San Antonio from fifth to fourth ahead of Amarillo.

Victoria continued to lead by a strong eight games.

Duke Carmel blasted a triple in the first game that scored Julio Gotay, who had walked, with the winning run at Tulsa. In the second game Carmel walked in the 10th inning and Jim McKnight doubled him home with the victory tally.

Carroll Beringer of Victoria won his 17th game gainst four defeats, beating Corpus Christi in the first game.

In the second game, Tommy Bowers scattered six hits and Neal Wilson blasted a double and two home runs to drive in six runs for the winning Giants.

Pitcher Joe Margoneri doubled with the bases loaded in the final, inning of the first game to give San Antonio the victory.

Pee Wee Gridders To Launch Drills

Workouts in Pee Wee football will begin Monday afternoon and will be held each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Bill McLaughlin, coordinator of the program and physical director of Scurry County Boy's Club, said.

About 100 boys are expected to turn out for the workouts and all are asked to bring gym shorts and tennis shoes.

McLaughlin said that several boys have already registered and anyone else who is interested may do so either before or after workouts start by contacting Michie Brous, director of the boy's club.

Complete football uniforms will be furnished for all boys, McLaughlin said.

Boys eligible to participate must be at least 10 years old Sept. 1, and not more than 12 years old, and must be elementary school students. Junior High School students are not eligible.

Tryouts will be held during the first two weeks drills, and the boys participating will be divided into four teams after the tryouts.

Coaches of the teams so far designated are Lacy Boles, assisted by Royce Burrows; Walter Hales, and Levi Garrett. One other coach and other assistants are urgently needed, McLaughlin said.

The four teams will play each other team three times during the Pee Wee season, and an all star team will compete in the State Pee Wee Football playoffs in Fort Worth as the climax of the season.

No Sympathy For New York Giants

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — There aren't too many people who have much sympathy for New York Giants football Coach Jim Lee Howell as he prepares his Eastern Division National Football League titleholders for an exhibition game against the world champion Baltimore Colts tonight.

Why this unsympathetic feeling? It seems that Howell has five quarterbacks on his squad, an all-pro halfback named Frank Gifford who also is dabbling as one of the signal-callers and a collection of behemoths that man the defensive platoon.

But Howell isn't buying the pitch despite the return of almost all of the team that won the Eastern Division crown in a playoff with the Cleveland Browns, then lost 23-17 in overtime to the Colts for the NFL title.

"Sure, we have depth at some positions, notably quarterback," Howell conceded. "But we are shallow at other spots like offensive guard, defensive end and defensive halfback. Unless we can plug some of these gaps, injuries could put us in a lot of trouble."

The 11-year- veteran Charley Conerly leads the quarterback candidates. But the Giants also have the highly-touted George Shaw, obtained from the Colts last month, their No. 1 draft choice, Lee Grosscup from Utah, holdover Don Heinrich and Gifford.

Off-season trades brought defensive halfback Dick Lynch from the Washington Redskins; guard Darrell Dess from the Pittsburgh Steelers and linebacker Tom Scott from Philadelphia.

The Giants drafted Rice All America end Buddy Dial, who should join veterans Kyle Rote and Bob Schnelker as top flankmen.

Champ Colts Meet Giants

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Passing maestro Johnny Unitas and the National Football League champion Baltimore Colts meet fledging quarterback Frank Gifford and the New York Giants at the Cotton Bowl tonight.

The exhibition game in Dallas marks the first clash of the teams since Alan Ameche bolted into the end zone last December at 8:15 of their sudden death playoff for a 23-17 Colt victory and the professional title.

The contest will be televised nationally by CBS starting at 10:15 p.m., EST.

In another pre-season encounter, Washington's Redskins meet the Rams at Los Angeles.

The Colts defeated the College All-Stars 29-0 in their previous start while the Giants lost to Philadelphia 21-17.

The Washington - Los Angeles game probably will turn into a passing struggle between the Skins' Eddie Lebaron and Billy Wade of the Rams.

Lebaron was the league's passing champion last year. Wade gained the most yardage among passers during the 1958 campaign.

Alpine Only Visiting Loser

By The Associated Press

Alpine was the only visiting team that couldn't win its Sophomore League game Thursday night.

The Cowboys went to Plainview and took an 8-7 loss in 11 innings. Carlsbad beat Roswell 11-8, Hobbs trimmed Midland 10-3 and Odessa defeated Artesia 14-1.

Plainview pushed a run across in the bottom of the eleventh on a single through the box by Bob Carothers.

Homers by Gil Carter, Jim Purslow and Murray Hall pulled Carlsbad to victory over Roswell. Marty Perez was the winner and Larry Littlejohn the loser.

Wayne Schafer went all the way for Odessa as the Dodgers pounded Artesia. Artesia spoiled his shutout when Mike de Rosa hit a solo homer in the seventh. Odessa left fielder Bob Stotsky left the game in the ninth after discussing a called third strike in loud tones.

Lynn Rube coasted to his 15th victory against 7 losses as Hobbs whipped Midland. Rube scattered six hits, the only runs coming on Hermond Hubbard's three-run homer in the seventh.

Texans Wear Favorite Tag

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Texas and Oklahoma clash tonight in the Oil Bowl football game with Texas favored as usual but with Oklahoma hopeful as usual.

Texas, with what may be its most powerful squad yet, was rated a 2-touchdown choice over the visitors from across the Red River, Texas, however, always is given a favorite's tag like this. The reason is that only once has Oklahoma been able to win. That was in 1957.

Johnny Genung, the ramrod of Wichita Falls' state champions of 1958, is key man in the Texas T attack. His chief helpers are expected to be Ronnie Goodwin, the Odessa star, and Wayne Fields, power runner from Big Spring.

Texas also has a big but mobile line featuring such giants as George Hogan of Longview and Mike McConkey of Highland Park.

Oklahoma pins its hopes on a couple of top passers and runners, Southeast and Dean Bass of Moore. The Sooners also look rugged in the line.

Rookie pitcher Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians attends Campbell College at Buies Creek, N. C., in the off season.

Johnny Lipon, former big league infielder, manages he Selma, Ala., Cloverleafs in the Class D Alabama-Florida league.

Clay Meets Sonny Ray

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Von Clay, an inexperienced lad of only 10 fights, makes his first national television (NBC) appearance tonight in a scheduled 10 round right heavyweight bout against the veteran Sonny Ray of Chicago.

The 20-year-old Clay, winner of nine fights, feels his "big" punch and aggressiveness will offset the greater ring savvy of Ray, fourth ranking 175 - pounder. The only time the hard hitting Philadelphian failed to win he was held to a draw by Pat Roberts. Later, Clay kayoed Roberts in two rounds.

Ray has worked his way up the light heavy rankings with a 19-7-5 record.

Champion Round Table Faces Girl Trouble In Next Race

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Round Table, the all-time money winning champion of Travis Kerr, is having girl trouble.

A strapping filly from Australia, Wiggle II, wants to cut in on his earnings.

The enormous-striding 4-year-old, is given a pretty good chance of doing so in Saturday's $100,000 added Arlington handicap at Arlington Park.

Round Table must carry his usual high weight of 132 pounds for the mile and three-sixteenths race on the grass. Wiggle II gets in at 105.

"That Australian filly is one of the best I've ever seen," says Round Table's trainer, Bill Molter. "I don't think she can beat Round Table. But when you give a runner like that 27 pounds, you can't tell."

Wiggle II, to be ridden by Dick Barnett, took the winner's share of $34,050 in the Arlington Matron last Saturday in beating Honey's Gem by three lengths in the 1⅛ miles event. It was her first major U.S. victory after winning 15 of 26 starts in Australia and boosted her loot in two years to about $105,806.

Wiggle II is owned by Bill Godby, now acting as her groom.

"With a 27-pound edge I see no reason why she won't beat Round Table," says the confident Godby. "I'm worried about all the other light weights in the race."

Round Table was a disappointing third in the recent Equipoise mile but never has been beaten in nine grass races in Chicago. Round Table, again with Willie Shoemaker aboard, can pass the 1½ million dollar mark with victory in the Arlington handicap. His up-to-date winnings are $1,466,139.

Wiggle II and Round Table are expected to face six others.

They are Tudor Era (111 pounds including Bill Hartack), Noureddin (109), second to Round Table in the Stars and Stripes; Terrang (108), winner of three stakes; Manassas (107), winner of the Arlington handicap two years ago; Jack Ketch (102), an Irish-bred runner, and Anxious Moment (104).

Blast From Shelter Easy On Pilot, But Tough On Mouse

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Test Pilot Al Blackburn, first man to blast out of a bomb shelter in a rocket-boosted jet plane, says:

"It was a snap for me, but you should have seen the mouse."

Blackburn was referring to a desert mouse accidentally caught in the cave-like shelter at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., at the time of blastoff Wednesday.

"The mouse staggered out stunned and shaken but he was definitely alive," Blackburn said. "I think he must have heard the laboratory people saying, 'let's grab him and check him over,' because he got right up and scampered off."

Blackburn used the mouse incident to minimize the dangers of his feat in an interview after returning to his home here Thursday.

"That mouse was exposed to the full blast and noise of the booster," Blackburn said. "I was protected inside the plane and the plane was out of the shelter in less than a second."

Blackburn, 36-year-old test pilot for North American Aviation, added:

"When I first started preparing for the test, my first reaction was that the shelter would be a mightly tight hole to get out of. Knowing that the blast would be confined and that the noise would be reflected back on the pilot, we had a number of apprehensions as to how rough it was going to be.

"But as the program went along it became obvious that we were not going to have any problems."

Blackburn had undergone 14 such blast-offs earlier at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., identical except that they were out in the open. The shelter take-off was made to prove that planes can be protected from sneak nuclear attack and still be ready for a quick counter-blow.

Blackburn's supersonic F100 was airborne after a takeoff of less than one inch — the distance the plane moved before breaking the shear-bolts that held it in the shelter.

The booster rocket, attached below the tail of the plane, built up a pressure of 130,000 pounds of thrust — almost equal to that developed by a Thor intermediate range missile. Four seconds after blast-off the jet was doing 275 miles an hour and the booster dropped away. In another few seconds the jet's own engine was propelling it faster than sound—more than 750 miles an hour.

Blackburn said the tremendous acceleration — creating pressures four times that of normal gravity —and extremely high noise level had no effect on his ability to manage the plane.

Blackburn, president of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots, said the test proved his contention that tomorrow's missiles can and must be manned. He added:

"If we were to put men in missiles to make the necessary corrections there would be a lot fewer failures."

$50 Voyage To Europe Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP) — In a couple of years you may be able to sail to Europe for $50.

Hyman B. Cantor, New York hotel and steamship operator, Thursday announced signing of preliminary contracts for two 90,000 gross ton liners, each capable of carrying 6,000 passengers, and said about 20 per cent of the passenger cabins — with private bath and toilet facilities — will sell for the $50 rate, east or est bound. The balance of choicer accomodations will be scaled to a maximum $125.

The fares do not include food. Passengers will pay for what they eat.

Cantor, head of Sea Coach Transatlantic Lines, Inc., said the vessels will have a 34-knot speed, enabling them to make the trip in four days.

The most inexpensive ship fare to Europe now is about $200, including food.

The contracts involve more than 160 million dollars. The first of the giant liners is scheduled for service, sometime in 1962.

The vessels will be built at Deutsche Werft Shipyards, A.G., Hamburg, Germany. They will operate between New York and Zeebrugge, Belgium, the first port of call on the eastward passage, and then on to either Cuxhaven or Bremerhaven in West Germany.

Cantor said he obtained financing abroad when he failed to get action in this country.

He said each ship will have two swimming pools, a skating rink, two movie theaters and facilities for convention meetings. Each will contain 2,750 cabins and quarters for a crew of 1,350.

The largest passenger liner now afloat is the Queen Elizabeth, with a gross tonnage of 83,673. The Queen Mary is second with 81,237 gross tons. The liner United States has a gross tonnage of 53,329.

Negro Loses Memphis Race

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A record breaking white vote smothered the first all-out Negro political campaign in the history of this Mississippi River city of the Deep South.

Ruscell B. Sugarmon Jr. a 30-year-old Negro lawyer, finished second in a race for public works commissioner that had jittery segregationists predicting catastrophe.

The final count gave Sugarmon 35,237 votes. He lost to a white "Unity Ticket" candidate, William W. Farris, by about 23,000 votes.

The predicted heavy vote for Negro candidates came as advertised, but the uproar of the campaign spurred the total turnout Thursday to a whopping 129,868. The previous record for a city election was 86,370.

Ties From Novak's Sheets Not Selling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Neckties made out of Kim Novak's lavender bed sheets are not selling so well.

This complaint, lodged to no one in particular, was registered by a San Francisco manufacturer, Beall Ernst, who obtained the frilly sheets at an auction.

He said he appears to be stuck with about half the 200 ties he fashioned from the sheets, used in the film "Vertigo."

Lantern In Bush Sends Out SOS

BERLIN, N.H. (AP)—An SOS signal appeared to flash from atop 1,000-foot high Mt. Forist Thursday night.

A Boy Scout reported to police he saw a light spelling out the distress signal.

Two policemen climbed the mountain and found two U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey men.

The surveyors had set down their lantern beside a bush.

Griping Soldiers In Cold Skirmish

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Where does a soldier's griping end and disrespect for his uniform and his country begin?

The question formed a backdrop today to the latest psychological cold skirmish between the Army and some of its soldier-scientists stationed at the super-secret chemical center here.

Army investigators questioned five college-trained G.I.'s who admitted Thursday they attended an Aug. 13 beer party featuring such songs as "Down with the Army."

Still being sought were about 5 more celebrants at the party held at a nearby off-post inn. An Edgewood spokesman said officials had received complaints about the signing of vulgar anti-Army verses at the beer bust, during which some women were within hearing distance.

"Somewhere along the line," said Brig. Gen. Harold Walmsley, Edgewood commander, "American parents and educational systems have failed to instill in these men an appreciation for their heritage and the desire to perform duties for their country."

A plan to spot the party-goers through a rare device never came off. Because the 60 or so attended the party in civilian clothes, all members of the soldier-scientist detachment were ordered to a special formation in mufti so they could be identified more easily by witnesses.

Walmsley cancelled the scheduled viewing of the line-up by witnesses, but the G.I.'s took no chances. Most of them turned out for the formation wearing white shirts with sleeves rolled up, which would have made identification more difficult.

The formation was marched to a post theater, where an hour-long lecture on the code of military discipline was delivered by the Edgewood legal officer. He asked participants in the Aug. 13 party to stay when the lecture was over. One did and four others turned themselves in about two hours later, an Army spokesman said.

"No charges have been filed yet," he added. "The investigation is continuing."

After a similar incident at Edgewood last year, 11 soldier-scientists were court-martialed on drunkenness and disorderly conduct charges.

Convicted only of disorderly conduct, they were demoted and fined $25 each after their civilian lawyer complained to the secretary of the Army that they were being penalized merely for exercising the soldier's time-honored right to gripe.

The G.I.'s also complained that their talents were being wasted on routine chores like K.P. and that they were not given personal credit for accomplishments in scientific research.

Capsule Is Frozen Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extremely low temperatures in America's Discoverer VI satellite may have frozen out chances of recovering an instrument-filled capsule it ejected over the Pacific Ocean.

The 300-pound capsule was kicked loose Thursday night as the satellite orbited over the Hawaiian Islands. But no trace was found of it.

What went wrong? Scientists aren't sure. But they think the low temperatures in Discoverer VI may have affected the battery power supply in the recovery capsule.

If that was the case, the capsule was "dead" as it plunged down through space. Without the power supply, the capsule's radio beacon would not operate and its signal lights would remain dark. Its parachute would not open.

The powerless capsule would be unable to signal to plane crews that had hoped to snag it as it fell, or to recovery teams on ships that were to pull it from the ocean if the recovery by plane failed.

Chances of a successful catch had been rated to 1 in 1,000.

Pennsylvania Sales Tax Hike Bill Signed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence signed into law Thursday a measure raising Pennsylvania's sales tax from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent.

Exempt are food for home consumption; clothing, material used in the construction of foundations for machinery; maintenance supplies bought by charitable and similar nonprofit organizations; machinery; printing services; and repairs to equipment used directly in radio and television broadcasting.

Pennsylvania and Washington now have the highest state sales tax in the nation.

Starlings Are Put To Flight

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP)— Otto Standke moved in, and the starlings moved out. All of which makes a bird of a story.

For 10 years, residents of this area have been trying to get rid of the starlings, who appear by the thousands in August and mess up the neighborhood. All efforts failed — including fire hoses, battleship searchlights, skyrockets and dishpan pounding.

There was a big, hushed crowd of humans at twilight Thursday night when Standke, the starling startler, appeared. Out of a battered gray box about the size of a plumber's tool kit the 71-year-old Standke fished out two metal flappers and a metal chime. He hung the chime around his neck and put the flappers on his hands.

Alternately banging the flappers and sounding the chime, Standke marched around the area for 45 minutes. At first the starlings, like the specators, just stood around and listened. Then the winged villains took off, covey after covey.

Standke said he can't say why the noise he makes causes starlings to take it on the lam.

He invented his contraption, he said, after his home town of Great Bend, Kan., spent $1,500 for aluminum owls, putting them in the trees to scare the birds. The starlings just roosted on them.

Woman Becomes Sick Of Talking

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A woman walked into a hospital Thursday and whispered to nurses that she was sick of talking.

The unidentified woman told them she had been talking for three days while demonstrating products at the Illinois State Fair. She told the nurses at St. John's Hospital that now, every time she opened her mouth, she became nauseated.

She asked if there wasn't something she could take that would enable her to talk and feel good at the same time. The nurses said there wasn't.

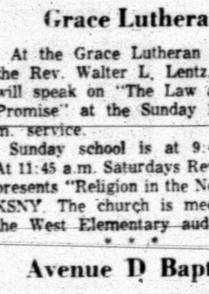

Miss Weyel Will Attend WF Meeting

Candy Weyel has been elected by young people of the First Presbyterian Church to represent them as a delegate at the Westminster Fellowship synod meeting at Trinity University, San Antonio.

The meeting will be held next Monday through Friday.

Miss Weyel is also chairman of the program area of witness for the Abilene Presbytery.

The Christian's Corner—

Glen Pace, Minister

(QUESTION) "Is the word of God of any great importance?"

(ANSWER) Yes, the word of God is of very great importance! We can know His will only through His word. Paul, in speaking of the word, said, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth . . ." (Rom. 1:16). We see, then, that God's word is the power unto salvation. One cannot be saved seperate and apart from God's word. James tells us that the word saves us. (Jas. 1:21). The Bible is not a dead letter as some would suppose; neither is it just something to have around the house to drive "witches and goblins" away. We are told that the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12). It is that "sure word of prophecy" that illuminates our minds and allows us to see with the eye of faith that which otherwise would be impossible to see (2 Pet. 1:19) It is "a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path." God speaks to us in no other way today except His word through His Son. (Heb. 1:1,2) He does not speak to us in a miraculous way today: not through angels, spirits, or any other medium. If an angel were to appear to us, he could not afford to tell us anything other than that which is recorded in the Word of God. Paul said, "But though we or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." (Gal. 1:) If an angel cannot afford to tell us anything that the Son has not already revealed to us, why see one? Or, why listen to one? Yes, God's word is important. You cannot know Him without it!

Chef Is Shot By Strangers

CLEBURNE (AP) — A restaurant chef died today after a mysterious shooting and beating by three men, strangers to the cook's friends.

He was Jack White, 43, brother of a prominent Cleburne restaurant owner.

The beating occurred about 8 p.m. last night in front of the home of a friend of White's. The victim died at 9:20 a.m. today.

White returned only Wednesday from Albuquerque, N.M., where he had been employed since mid-July.

White was found with two bullet holes in his head and severely beaten in front of the Johnson County Hospital shortly before 10 p.m. He was on the floorboards of his own automobile.

Jack's brother, Rupert, said Jack went to Rupert's home yesterday afternoon to rest. While there, Rupert received three mysterious telephone calls for Jack, but refused to rouse him.

Later, the victim went to the home of a friend, Carl Davis, on the outskirts of Cleburne. As he parked, another car pulled up behind and three men got out. They pistol whipped White and shoved him into their car, then drove away with one of the men driving White's car.

Eddie Cantor first appeared on stage in vaudeville at the Clinton Music Hall New York, in 1907.

Locomotive Engineers Approve Strike Fund

CLEVELAND (AP) — A strike fund assessment on 50,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was approved today by the union's Advisory Board.

The board authorized collection of $2 a month from each members.

Guy L. Brown, chief engineer, said the aim of the levy is to build a strike fund of several million dollars.

The brotherhood's agreements with 130 railroads expire Nov. 1.

Brown and Secretary-Treasurer H. F. Hemry will decide when the assessment becomes effective.

California School Hearings Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities will cancel hearings scheduled Oct. 14 for the investigation of communism in the California school system.

Subpoenaes issued for some 60 or 70 California teachers also will be canceled.

The committee plan became known as a result of a letter sent by Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) to Arthur F. Corey, state executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn.

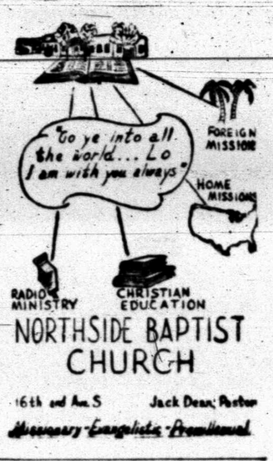

Corey, in a letter to Walter dated Aug. 17, objected to delays in the hearings and protested that the names of many of the teachers involved had been made public.

Radiation Alarm For $15 Is Seen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A scientist says a gadget that howls like a siren can be built into portable radios for $15 to warn of dangerous radiation.

The penny-size device could save thousands of lives in an atomic attack, Dr. Willard F. Libby told the City Council Thursday. He is a UCLA chemistry professor and former member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The device, called the Banshee, contains a cadmium sulfide crystal. To demonstrate its effectiveness, Dr. Libby moved a piece of radioactive cobalt near his Banshee-equipped portable radio. The device emitted a loud wail.
