RESOLUTE LEADS SHAMROCK IN CUP RACE

YACHT RACERS RUN IN FINAL GAME FOR INTERNATIONAL CUP

CLEAR SKIES AND A BREEZE NOT AT ALL IN BEHINDING OF LAST DAY

SHAMROCK SAILORS ARE LEARY OVER VICTORY

Lime-Juicers Think Resolute is Best Boat and Do Not Relish Idea of More Races

SANDY HOOK, July 27.—Resolute spun around the outer mark ahead of Shamrock IV in today's international yacht race which with the tally standing two to two, will decide whether the America's cup is to stay in this country or travel overseas.

Resolute turned the outer mark at 5:18:25 and started back on the last 12 miles of the 30-mile run toward and leeward course after having overcome on the first leg a lead of 40 seconds obtained by the Lipton craft at the start.

Shamrock was about a half mile astern when Resolute rounded the outer mark. The challenger took in her jib as she neared the mark and rounded at 5:22:25, unofficial time.

To win the cup Shamrock, four minutes and eight seconds eastern of the defender, faced a task of passing Resolute and finishing six minutes and 41 seconds ahead, one second more than the time handicap of six minutes and 40 seconds she has to give the American boat. This seemed impossible if the wind held steady and the distance from the windward leg was Resolute 3:01:35, Shamrock 3:05:37.

Shamrock IV today led Resolute across the starting line in the final international yacht race to settle the destiny of the America's cup.

The official starting time was the same for both boats at 2:17:00 because both had failed to start within the two minutes handicap limit.

Starting on the 20-mile windward and leeward course, charted for this evening, Shamrock, led by her skipper, berthing her nicely to windward before the yachts crossed the line.

Having beaten Captain Adams of Resolute for the first time in the series, Captain Burton crossed the line on the starboard tack and then came about on the port tack apparently hunting for a better breeze under the Jersey shore. Resolute did likewise.

The sea was very smooth and there was very little quartering. The first five minutes of sailing was the way Shamrock held herself on the edge of the wind. She pointed as well as did Resolute, but her crew, in their fight for the America's cup, she increased her gain as she moved inland and it seemed as if she was getting a better breeze.

Wind Picked Up. The wind had picked up off shore to about three to four miles per hour. Believers the yachts would finish within the six hour time limit unless it freshened considerably.

Southwest usually blew stronger as the afternoon advanced and this probably was the reason for ordering a start.

The wind came in variable strokes and first one and then the other yacht would point better. Captain Adams, however, began to pinch Resolute a little bit and she gradually worked out to weather. Resolute, which however, at 2:53 still held a slight lead.

At the starboard tack seaward Shamrock footed faster than Resolute and improved their position. Both yachts were hardly more than 200 yards apart. Flutters of wind were playing an important part in the contest.

Shamrock IV had worked still further out to weather and was leading Resolute by several hundred yards in the final race for the America's cup when at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon the yachts had covered about six and a half miles of their 18-mile windward leg of their 30-mile course. Both yachts were about 100 yards apart.

Resolute began to slip out ahead of the Lipton craft and had taken the lead from the challenger, although it was a slight one.

At 4:04 Resolute took a favoring slant of air and rapidly cut down Shamrock's lead.

Resolute, by rapid footing, forced Shamrock to tack and then came about on the port tack at 4:08.

The defender, however, could not quite clear Shamrock's bow and was forced to come about on the starboard tack as Shamrock had the right-of-way, being close hauled on the starboard tack. Only a few yards separated the racers at 4:10 p. m.

At 4:22 Resolute tacked to port Shamrock's bow.

She was doing better work than she did in the early part of the race.

CHICAGO POLICE CAPTURE TWO PAYROLL BANDITS

CHICAGO, July 27.—Capture of two bandits, who with three others held up three express messengers yesterday, getting away with $12,000 after a revolver battle, led the police to believe today that they had broken up the payroll gang, which, in the last few weeks had stolen more than $100,000.

FORMER U. S. SENATOR SUFFERS COLLAPSE TODAY

NORTHAMPTON, MASS., July 27.—Former United States Senator W. Murray Crane suffered a collapse today while attending the ceremony in connection with the nomination of Governor Coolidge of his nomination for the vice-presidency here. The collapse was said to have been induced by the heat, but physicians said the former senator's condition was not considered serious.

TRUNK MYSTERY LEADS POLICE OVER COUNTRY

Cues as to Identity of Woman and Search for Leroy Leads Cops of N. Y. to Frisco

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., July 27.—The woman whose body was found jammed in a trunk in the New York office of the American Railway Express company, was Mrs. Katherine Jackson, 19 years old, and her home was in Sturgis, Miss., a little town 20 miles southwest of Starkville, according to an investigation made by the Birmingham News. In a special article today, the News gives the result of its efforts to establish the identity of the woman and to trace her movements up to the time she went to Detroit.

Kid McCoy Jackson, a young farmer who has never been inside a prize ring despite his pugilistic title, was her husband, according to the News. Her maiden name was Katherine Lou Fonden and she was the step-daughter of Alfred Vaughn, a Sturgis farmer. Her father was Hampton Fonden, and he died when she was seven years old. The woman's mother, who married Vaughn several years later, died in April, 1919.

After the death of her mother, Mrs. Jackson disappeared. At various times she was heard from in Birmingham, Nashville and other cities.

Mrs. Jackson is said to be survived by a brother, Earl Fonden, who lives in Idaho; a half-brother who lives in Sturgis; and other relatives in Sturgis and Starkville.

Investigator Report. CHICAGO, July 27.—Police today were investigating the report of C. C. Finley, a Pullman porter, that a man answering E. Leroy's description came from Detroit to Chicago recently and asked the porter's assistance to make marks about police being in search of him.

The police wired railroad centers in the west following the porter's statement that the man accompanied by a woman, said he was going to Los Angeles, taking a Santa Fe train out of Chicago.

Southwest police said the man expressed concern about the inspectors on the train and said that police were after him.

To Become a Mother. DETROIT, July 27.—A statement to the police by Mrs. Leo Trumbull, wife of a patrolman, that Mrs. Eugene Leroy, victim of Detroit trunk murder mystery, had confided in her that she was about to become a mother, induced a new theory into the case today.

Police today divided their attention between a hunt for Leroy, husband of the slain woman, and a second trunk believed to contain vital organs of the body and which is known to have been sent from Harper avenue apartment house where the Leroy's lived.

Police believe that examination of the organs might reveal whether death was due to a criminal operation, as has been hinted since Mrs. Trumbull made her statement.

Mrs. Trumbull was to go to New York today to view the body.

The police declared today they had established that Mrs. Leroy planned an attempt at suicide before her death.

The trunk, which was found in Harper avenue apartment house here, was conclusively proven today, according to the police, by finding there of blankets identical with those in which the body was wrapped before it was placed in the trunk. Another blanket has not been accounted for and the police believe the vital organs of the body were hidden in it.

A call has been sent to every express office in the country to check over uncalled for baggage in an effort to locate the second trunk.

RAILROAD MEN WILL SOON GIVE DECISION

Expected Many Railroad Men Will Oppose Increase of Freight and Passenger Rates

By United Press. WASHINGTON, July 27.—Organized railroad labor will soon make known its definite decision to oppose the granting of the full demands of the rate increases put forward by railroad executives today.

Back of labor's opposition was the determination to refute the repeated argument that the public must bear the entire burden of the $500,000,000 wage increase recently granted by the railroad labor board.

"Labor does not intend to be the scapegoat," said Edward Keating, former Colorado congressman and editor of "Labor," official organ of the Plumb-plan league today. "We do not propose to see the men get a $400,000,000 increase and then have the railroads use it as an excuse to collect more than that in increased rates."

Studies of the rail managers' most recent request for increased rates including passenger, baggage, Pullman and freight and the first request laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission were being made by the labor leaders.

When rate hearings are held the rail union heads will be ready to argue that they will bring in several hundred million dollars a year more than the railroads need.

FUEL OIL TOO COSTLY FOR STATE BUILDINGS

AUSTIN, July 27.—Because of the high prevailing price of fuel oil, the state institutions now burning that commodity may have to change to other fuel, it was learned today from the state board of control. Only one bid has so far been received by the board and this was on a graduating scale, and it has not been thus far accepted. This bid was approximately 50 cents below the market price.

INDUSTRIAL COAL FAMINE PREDICTED WITHIN TWO WEEKS

SEARLES SAYS UNLESS MINERS RETURN TO WORK INDUSTRIES WILL STOP

CHICAGO, July 27.—Starving for coal, the nation's industries will lapse into unconsciousness before another 10 days of coal miners' strikes, F. C. Searles, president of the Illinois Coal Operators Association, unreservedly predicted today.

"Coal authorities throughout the middle west today concurred in the opinion that Illinois, Indiana and Kansas miners strikes threaten the most serious situation the country has faced industrially."

Reports early today indicated the strike was spreading. Further defections in Indiana and Kansas mines were reported. Iowa miners prepared to confer tomorrow with operators in hopes of securing wage advances and forestalling a strike. Authorities declaring the strike stream breaking eastward, anticipated it would break into flood volume before the week end.

"The available supply ranges from two to 10 days," Searles said today. "Railroads and some public utilities have the largest supplies."

"Car shortages and transportation tangles have prevented anyone laying in the usual large stocks prepared for winter. The car supply has curtailed production."

Compulsory Contracts. "There is nothing the operators can do but insist the miners comply with their contracts. We have laid the situation before President Wilson and now await his action. We made no recommendations but fully outlined what condition faces the country. The labor situation has not disturbed the east but reports indicate there is considerable unrest there."

Any increase granted miners naturally will increase the price for our contract business," Searles said. He said he was not able to estimate the amount of increase to be handed down. "The public indirectly will have to pay an increased price."

Searles said he held little hope federal action would be taken to open hearings in the Illinois fields today would accomplish anything.

"They understand, have no power to act, but they will investigate the condition and make a report," he said, indicating the crux of the situation would be reached before action could be hoped for on the report.

John McCord, chairman of the Indiana public utilities commission, said today that industries there have only a five days' supply.

Production will be cut unless the strikes terminate quickly fuel famine faces the nation for winter months because of the inability of large concerns to store their customary practice of laying in supplies during summer months.

United Mine Workers' official today took cognizance of unauthorized coal mine strikers who entered into districts in the central competitive field with increased threats of staggering industry.

Union officials in session in Indianapolis notified Ed Stuart, district president, they expected to decide whether to permit conferences with operators in an attempt to soothe strikers demanding increases of 12 a day.

Iowa coal mine owners prepared to meet to decide whether to confer with strikers in an effort to fully settle coal difficulties there.

Further walkouts were reported from Illinois and Indiana. Half the miners in the Kansas field were reported on strike.

Reports were received that railroads in Oklahoma had been seizing coal supplies, fearing strikes in other states would paralyze them.

Operators and miners looked to Washington for settlement of the situation. Federal conciliators completed their work and forwarded a report. They refused to announce whether they made recommendations. President Wilson was expected to act soon on the appeal of operators for a statement to ease the situation.

Predict Serious Results. Coal operators marked predicting results would be serious unless settlement comes soon.

Kansas City Famine. KANSAS CITY, MO., July 27.—Kansas City utilities are facing a coal famine. The street car company has but a five day supply of coal on hand, and the water and light plants but 10 days' supply.

Officials have appealed to the interstate commerce commission for a priority order on coal mined in southwest fields, which is now being sent out of this territory.

Issues Challenge. PITTSBURG, KANS., July 27.—District President Howard, of the United Mine Workers, has issued another challenge to the Kansas industrial court law. With about 2,000 men out on strike in protest to fines imposed by the company for attempts to establish a five day week, regardless of contract, Howard "invited" Governor Allen and Attorney General Hopkins to see if they can get the men to return to work.

Howard characterized the fines as "a disgraceful steal," and promised to help striking miners move beyond the jurisdiction of the Kansas industrial court law which makes strikes which would curtail production of necessities, illegal.

DEMPEY AND MINSK WILL FIGHT LABOR DAY IN MICHIGAN

REPRESENTATIVES WILL MEET FRIDAY TO ARRANGE TERMS FOR AN ARMISTICE

LONDON, July 27.—Russo-Pole armistice negotiations will begin Friday at Haranovitch, in the province of Grodno, between Minsk and Pinski, a Moscow wireless dispatch today announced. Hostilities will cease immediately upon opening of the negotiations, the dispatch said. Warsaw dispatches said the Polish armistice commission had left to meet bolshevik field commanders without knowing where or at what date the negotiations were to be conducted.

The armistice line will run along the general line fixed by the allies at Spa. Premier Lloyd George has left Hythe for Boulogne, where he will confer with Premier Millerand, Marshal Foch and other French military and government officials regarding the Russo-Pole situation. It was believed this conference might result in tacit approval of the Russian soviet government without granting formal political recognition.

To Persuade France. It was understood the British premier would endeavor to persuade the French to accept a London conference to discuss the Russo-Pole situation. The conference would be held at a round table at which negotiations could be conducted looking toward peace between Russia and the allies. The terms of the conference were transmitted by the British government to all allies. It was not sent to the American government, however. It was understood that the Polish question and to make the conference with the Russian soviet representatives and delegates from the Russian soviet government.

It was declared the entente will not cease their plans to assist Poland until an armistice between that country and the soviets has been actually concluded.

The soviets' delayed acceptance of the proposal of Premier Lloyd George at Spa was undoubtedly a backhanded compliment to the entente. It was believed here the soviets would not negotiate with the latter states when the London conference is held. Their main object, it was believed, will be to obtain recognition of the bolshevik government. The conference, if it convenes, will also take up the question of trade with Finland and payment of the Russian debt to France and Belgium.

Recognition Complete. British official circles frankly admitted recognition of the soviet government. Complete except for formal announcement.

A year ago, it was pointed out, he allies could have dictated almost any kind of terms to the soviets. Russia's position at present enables the bolshevik to make terms to the entente. Neither Great Britain nor France are able to wage a war upon Russia or prevent re-occupation of Poland by the soviet army.

Lloyd George told the house of commons the soviets had been told to send trade delegates to England until they were returned to Poland. Poland would not be invaded. These assurances have been received, he said, and the Russian delegates will arrive shortly in Great Britain to assume negotiations.

While these negotiations were proceeding, fighting between the bolshevik and Poles continued along the front. The soviets continued their advance in the southern sections, at many points penetrating the line fixed by the allies as the Polish boundary.

Warsaw dispatches said the Reds have renewed their attack south of Grodno and had crossed the river Niemen at many additional points. The Poles abandoned the Niemen line and the soviets occupied Nowydwor.

The allies mission was greeted with cheers upon its arrival at Warsaw, where it will consider Poland's military and financial situation and plan allied aid.

Supply Train Stopped. By Associated Press. COBLENZ, July 27.—A Polish supply train of 17 cars bearing arms and ammunition and from France with fire Polish and one French officers aboard, which left the American area Saturday evening, was held up by German police and a crowd of civilians at Marburg, 40 miles east of Coblenz, Sunday afternoon. The Germans completely stripped the cars of their war material and the train crews refused to convey them farther. They returned to Koblenz tonight.

Altogether the train consisted of 45 cars with non-military stores for Poland and the supplies for the American legation and the American Relief committee. These cars were in charge of American soldiers and were not disturbed. The German railwaymen in the Coblenz district have given notice that they will refuse to run Polish trains.

The reason for the attempt to run a Polish military train through Germany after last week's announcement at Berlin of Germany's neutrality in the trouble between Russia and Poland, is vague.

BOLSHEVIK-POLES BEGIN ARMISTICE CONFERENCE SOON

ENGLAND VIRTUALLY MAKES RECOGNITION OF SOVIET

GRAIN MARKET TAKES BIG SLUMP TODAY

Wheat Drops 13 and 14 Cents in Chicago and Kansas City Markets

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 27.—Wheat futures dropped 13 and 14 cents today and corn futures were down five cents a bushel at the close of the grain market here today.

December wheat closed yesterday at $2.41 a bushel and today's close was $2.27, while today's closing quotations were $1.21 for September and $1.21 for December.

The corn market ended yesterday with September at $1.50 and December at $1.25, while today's closing quotations were $1.25 for September and $1.21 for December.

Today's break in the grain market followed an equally sensational drop yesterday when corn and wheat made a decline of from seven to 11 cents, respectively.

Oats, which dropped from three and one-half to two cents yesterday, showed a decline of from two to five cents today.

The favorable crop outlook, coupled with the tightness of money is ascribed by market experts as the cause of the crash in prices. Elevator men and millers, they say, do not care to accumulate big stocks of wheat while money is so difficult to obtain. Rains in the corn belt are responsible, they say, for the sag in corn prices.

Stock Market Unsettled. NEW YORK, July 27.—Country-wide credit strain and unfavorable industrial events caused extensive liquidation in the stock market here today. Leaders of the steel, equipment, oil and motor groups, as well as various miscellaneous issues, were 2 to 5 points under yesterday's closing at mid-day.

Much of the selling was attributed to the absorption of professional leaders, but a large part of the offerings probably resulted from weakened speculative holdings. Rails were the only shares to show relative steadiness, but even in that quarter moderate losses ruled.

All money opened at nine per cent but time accommodations were extremely scarce on either noon today or in the afternoon. The Federal Reserve banks continued to strengthen their resources to meet impending crop demands.

St. Louis Breaks. ST. LOUIS, July 27.—Severe breaks in the grain market continued today on the mercantile exchange here. Investors wheat, which dropped 10 cents a bushel yesterday, fell to $2.35 today, 14 cents under yesterday's close.

Reports from 241 Counties Representing Approximately Four-Fifths of Votes Received

DALLAS, July 27.—Returns received by the Texas Election Bureau today morning gave J. W. Bailey the largest lead he has yet commanded since the count of the votes cast in Saturday's election began. Reports from 241 counties gave Bailey a total of 251,000 votes over Neff of these counties 43 show complete returns.

A total of 327,491 votes have been accounted for. The standing in the race for governor is:

Neff 124,954
Bailey 129,034
Thomason 89,378
Looney 44,985

TWO CHARRED BODIES FOUND AFTER BARN FIRE

HOUSTON, ILLS., July 27.—Two bodies charred beyond recognition were found shortly after noon today in the ruins of a barn at Wellington, five miles north of here. The barn was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The fact that the fire started a few minutes after an automobile stopped at the barn aroused the suspicion of neighboring residents who asked county authorities to investigate.

W. W. OWENS, PROMINENT LIVESTOCK MAN IS DEAD

CHILDRESS, TEX., July 27.—W. W. Owens, herdman and caretaker for the Alexander, Michie & Jones Co., was found dead in bed this morning. Physicians attributed his death to heart trouble. Mr. Owens leaves a son in Indiana and his father resides in Florida. He was about 45 years of age and was considered one of the best livestock authorities in the business.

LOONEY-THOMASON WILL SUPPORT NEFF IN RUN-OFF PRIMARY

WOULD NO MORE THING OF SUPPORTING HIM THAN ANY OTHER ENEMY OF PARTY

DALLAS, TEX., July 27.—Robert E. Thomason, of El Paso, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Saturday's primary, today announced he would support Neff of Waco in the run-off primary August 28.

"In view of the fight I made in Cooke county as well as in behalf of the national democratic administration, I cannot support Mr. Bailey," the statement said.

"Regardless of developments in the recent campaign, I place the interest of the state and the success of the democratic party above everything else," said Mr. Thomason.

GREENVILLE, TEX., July 27.—Ben F. Looney, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, today announced that he would support Neff in the run-off primary. Mr. Looney said he issued the statement "in order to stop speculation as to my position." It follows the statement of Neff that he would support Bailey than any other enemy who has tried to destroy the democratic party. His triumph would be the triumph of the forces in government that I have opposed all my life. Certainly I will not surrender now. In order to stop speculation as to my position, I make this definite statement."

Special to The Times. DALLAS, July 27.—Neff and Bailey leaders at this time are expected for a harder fight in the run-off than in the first primary. The Bailey leaders are putting forth every effort to capture a majority of the votes of the district. Looney and Thomason are also claiming considerable success already.

Luther Nickels, Bailey's campaign manager, announced today that he had received from Neff similar reports of pledges to Mr. Neff are coming from Mr. Neff's office. A majority of the votes received by Neff's supporters here received with great satisfaction Mr. Looney's declaration that he could not support Bailey. They believe this will be the attitude of a majority of the voters of the administration of demagogues who really wish for the success of the national ticket. This fall.

While some of Thomason's warmest supporters were making plans to lend aid to Neff, telegrams were being received at Bailey headquarters from prominent citizens and business men of the district, asking for the removal of their favorite would cause them actively to support Bailey. There was less evidence of a line of cleavage among the voters of the district. W. M. Harris, manager of Looney's campaign in this section, said that Looney's support would flock to neither of the candidates. Harris said that he had discharged his obligation to Thomason and am now ready and anxious to do everything to insure your nomination. Similar telegrams were received from other prominent citizens of the district.

Among the telegrams received by Mr. Bailey was one from W. W. Turney, prominent attorney, banker and cattleman of El Paso and president of the cattle and horse raisers' association. "I have discharged my obligation to Thomason and am now ready and anxious to do everything to insure your nomination." Similar telegrams were received from other prominent citizens of the district.

Both candidates were making plans to wage a vigorous speaking campaign. Mr. Bailey contemplates a swing through the Panhandle and probably will include El Paso in his itinerary. Thomason is expected to make a similar tour in the north and northeast Texas. It was announced that similar rallies or "revivals" will be held at Houston, San Antonio and other popular centers during the next week or two.

Mr. Neff's friends declared that he is in excellent physical condition, that his voice is strong and that he will be ready to take up again the task of making from two to half a dozen speeches daily. Mr. Bailey already has an engagement to speak at Big Springs on August 7 at a celebration there.

"While my two rivals in the gubernatorial race differed from me in the minor issues of the race, in the major issues we were one," Pat M. Neff said last night. Mr. Neff said he had no definite plans for a campaign, but would announce his campaign program within the next few days. Mr. Neff spent several hours last night at the Southland hotel and conferred with several of his supporters in Dallas.

"In the recent campaign many things were doubtless said by candid tea and through the press, but I believe in this public way that I treasure no ill will (Continued on Page 9 Column 2)

BAILEY AND NEFF ADHERENTS PLAN FOR THE RUNOFF

MEETING OF NEFF SUPPORTERS
CALLED FOR TONIGHT—BAIL-EY RALLY WED. NIGHT

THOMASON MEN SIGN CALL FOR BAILEY RALLY

Fund of $10,000 Reported Raised by Bailey's Friends Here to Aid Campaign

The run-off primary campaign in Wichita county will be opened by a meeting of the adherents of Pat Neff in the 30th district court room at 8:00 o'clock tonight. This will be followed by an open air rally of the Bailey supporters on the Moore & Ribcort lot at Ninth and Indiana Wednesday night.

At the meeting of Neff supporters tonight a campaign organization will be formed. Both sides are making strong efforts to gain recruits from the Thomason and Looney vote. The Neff adherents believe that Bailey will gain few recruits from the Thomason and Looney vote here as Bailey under any circumstances, they believe, voted for him in the first primary.

It was reported this morning that Bailey's friends here had raised $10,000 for his campaign.

That Bailey will gain some of the Thomason strength here was indicated by the names on the call for the Bailey rally tomorrow. Among the Thomason supporters joining in the call for the meetings are: Judge C. F. Spencer, J.
D. Farnell, legislative representative in this district; H. F. Johnson, representative-elect; Leslie Humphrey, Ed Sheegog, J. E. Strong, Tarleton Morrow, Dr. L. L. Coons, W. D. Cline, all of whom were active in the Thomason campaign.

Judge C. F. Spencer will preside at the Wednesday night rally and Leslie Humphrey and Mr. Farnell will be among the former Thomason men on the program.

Included in the call is an urge to all former Thomason and Looney men to attend the meeting and hear the issues of the campaign discussed.

The Thomason men declared that the majority of the Thomason supporters in the last primary, as well as the supporters of Looney, will support Mr.
Bailey in the run-off.

Judge Spencer, who was a warm supporter of Thomason, declared an intention to stump this congressional district for Mr. Bailey in the run-off.

He declared that he stood for Mr.
Bailey's election because of his undoubted superior ability, and the believer that he would make the state of Texas a much more able governor than would Mr. Neff.

"Mr. Bailey is a man with the courage of his convictions," he said.

"Whether the people agree with him or not, they are bound to admit he is not afraid to state his position on any public question."

Others making statements in this connection included Mr. Farnell, Mr.
Humphrey, Ed Sheegog, Judge W. W.
Cook, J. E. Strong and S. M. Jamison.

Mr. Farnell and Mr. Strong declared that they had talked to nearly two score of the leading Thomason men and that practically all of them had declared their intention of supporting
Mr. Bailey in the run-off.

WOMANS GOLF TOURNAMENT POSTPONED TO LATER DATE

The Women's Tournament at the Golf Club, which was to have been held Wednesday, July 28th, has been postponed until cooler weather on account of the extreme and exhausting heat of the past week, it was stated Tuesday morning.

Interest in the game among the women members has been unusually enthusiastic during the first week or two—with the daily practice many of them are getting, it is expected the tournament will be a live affair, when it is held. There was a much larger Monday evening attendance at the Club than usual, and a lot of playing at the putting green.

Wednesday is Ladies' Day at the Club.

RANCH HOUSE PARTY YOUNG FOLKS HERE ENROUTE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Alex
Stout of Clarksville, West Virginia,
Misses Cora Neville, Maud Edwards,
Lydia Cook, Dorothy Bear and Sarah
Dale, and Tom Morris and Ted Weaver, all of Hearletta, came through Wichita Falls Monday enroute home to Henrietta from the Neville Ranch in Archer county, and were guests at luncheon at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. F.
Weldon. Misses Ruth Nolan and Ruth Cole and Hayward and Edwin Weldon of Wichita Falls were also in the house party and accompanied the others here.
The young people had a big time at the ranch, enjoying swimming, fishing, hunting, and riding, and reported plenty of game.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Billy Dunforth of 1406 Eleventh is in Dallas for the rest of the week with relatives.

Frank Patton, who has been with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bundy in Benton-ville, Arkansas, has returned to Wissota Falls.

John W. Bradley and family left early today by auto on an extended trip to Colorado points.

Mrs. Joe Deltman left Monday for Chicago for a few weeks visit with relatives.

T. B. Noble returned today from Dallas where his son, T. B. Noble Jr., recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. The young man is "getting along fine," according to his father.

Mrs. Fred Lane is visiting her parents in Fort Worth.

R. C. Roberson and J. Roberson, brothers of Jim Roberson, who was killed in a shooting affair in the Kemp-Munger-Alford oil field on the evening of the 25th of July, were in the city yesterday for the purpose of talking the body of the deceased to be kept in the city for interment. The remains had been held at the establishment of a local undertaking firm since the inquest.

Empress.

A hobby suit of clothes and its unusual accessories, a working knowledge of city ways and manners and an unlimited supply of nerve are the only earthly possessions of which Charles Ray can boast in his portrayal of Homer Cavender, who is the leading figure in "Homer Comes Home," now being featured at the Empress. But these prove to be sufficient for the ideas of the ex-country hick, and the way in which he turns these things to account is marvellous to behold. From the moment he alights at the old depot until the end, when he is established in splendid as the manager of a large factory, the leading business man of the town, the possessor of a very considerable fortune and the lord of a brand new wife Mr. Ray moved his activities into peals of laughter and provides one of the most delightful entertainments that have been seen here in many moons.

Olympic.

Oriental mystery and romance pro-dominate in the Universal Jewel production "The Virgin of Stamboul," featuring Priscilla Dean, which opened at the Olympic Monday for a three days'
run. The scenes are laid in the city of Stamboul, on the very edge of the Arabian desert, and there is an unmistakeable atmosphere of oriental treach-ery and lust running through the entire picture. Miss Dean in the role of Sari, an untamed beggar of the streets, gives a splendid interpretation of her part, as does Mr. Oakman in the role of an American army officer who falls in love with her and eventually brings about the downfall of a murderous Turkish sheik. Wallace Berry as this same villainous Turk was at his best and in spite of the unpopular roles which he fills Mr. Berry is getting in favor with his every appearance. This picture combines all of the elements of a successful production and the various parts have been arranged in a pleasing and entertaining style.

her picture, "The Sporting Duchess,"

TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1920.

The general public will lose sight of all other races in their interest in the presidential contest, which course, is pre-eminant. But the politicians who watch the course of things in their true inwardness as they concern the body politic aren't too busy watching the main ring to miss the principal political sideshow—which this year is the senatorial race. Thirty-two senators are to be elected in November. The President is to be elected for years, at the end of which time he is subject to the recall. His power in that period principally is, for that matter, to direct and his influence in the Senate is subject to review and veto, one way or another, by the Senate. The Senators whose terms begin next March are in for six years to come, as members of the most influential body in the United States. The republican majority in the Senate is only two and one of those, the Senator of Michigan, is subject to ouster if his sentence for political corruption conviction is affirmed. The complexion of the thirty-three to be named next November, then, will determine the control of the upper house. The names of the retiring ones are democratic—republicans. Democrats are certain of nine of the places and confident of some more. They have a good chance in Indiana where Taggart and Watson are soon to be in the midst of a real political tussle. If the New York republicans ignore the protest of the women and persist in renominating Wadsworth, the democratic will have at least a fair chance for one democratic senator from the Empire state. Two in Alabama, one each in Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oregon (Oregon likely will go republican, but Senator Chamberlain's re-election seems generally accepted as a foregone conclusion) while in Arizona, Kentucky, Maryland, Nevada and Oklahoma the chances strongly favor democratic success. The intensity of the Ferris-Gore fight in Oklahoma democratic ranks is counted on by Eastern republicans to make the Oklahoma election doubtful for the democrats in a state which has never elected a republican senator. A bunch of democrats in the West who were elected in 1914 largely through the popularity of the Wilson administration are considered doubtful now, and this includes Senator Phelan of California, Thomas of Colorado, Nugent of Idaho and Johnson of North Dakota. But, if factional fights have weakened the republicans in Wisconsin and Michigan, not to mention New York, and Missouri is counted on to send a democrat to succeed Senator Spencer (rep.), both parties in Missouri having factional troubles, minority anyway, then probably will be re-elected in California; Idaho, our information is, is almost or quite certain to return Nugent so it can keep its strong pair of opposition Senators in Washington. Nugent being of calliber worthy even of Borah's mentality. Thomas' fight against the President and the League of Nations has weakened him in Colorado, but probably if he decides not to run himself and gives his loyal support to some democrat who can poll the full strength of the administration elements, Colorado, too, will send another democrat to Washington. The election of Coffey in Missouri will help to secure ratification of the Versailles peace treaty and the League of Nations, which apparently is going to be the outstanding issue in this campaign. Conceivably a big majority might whip the recalcitrants into line as showing how strongly the people of the country favor the United States carrying out its plain duty to the world. But the election of a real majority of those thirty-three senators by either party will actually determine the fate of the treaty and league covenants. That's why the political sharps are not letting even the presidential race obscure what is happening in thirty-two states to those thirty-three senatorial contests.

The political situation in Texas recalls that famous old ghost story. The man, discovering the ghost, undertook to escape by out-footing him. He ran, and he ran and he ran. Finally when he was out of breath and he thought he had distanced his pursuer, he sat down on a log to rest. A moment or two and he discovered that the ghost was at the other end of the log. The ghost remarked, in sepulchral tones, "My friend, we have had a hard race." The man started up and was off again, but not until he had replied, "Yes, and we are now going to have another one." Bailey and Neff got into the second primary on practically even terms, as it appears at this writing. The run-off primary comes on August 25 and it will be a two-handed race with one certain to get a majority vote. Bailey received practically a third of the vote throughout in the recent primary, leaving Neff as the only challenger to him. Of the votes that Thomason and Looney received, he of course will get some; but the mutations of politics will lose him some that he got in the first race, and we believe that a very large majority of those who supported Thomason and Looney will take Neff as second choice rather than Bailey, because Bailey is out of accord with the things that Thomason and Looney stood for. Much depends on the attitude of the two defeated candidates, however; if they take the lead in supporting Neff, as Brooks did in the Colquitt-Cuberson race, or if the leaders who supported them espouse the Neff cause, as we believe they should and will do, we shall have a repetition of the senatorial race of 1916 when Colquitt, who led by a much wider margin in the first primary, went down badly defeated man before Cuberson in the second. Neff's unfortunate statement at Fort Worth that if Thomason were in the run-off he would not support him is to be deplored; but even that can be condoned in that it came in the heat of an impassioned argument when personal feelings were strong. The American people are so constituted that when an election is over they forgive and forget some of the brutal things done and said during the heat of the campaign. Since Neff stands largely for the same things that Thomason and Looney stand for, and Bailey stands for the things that they and Neff opposed, we are confident that the bulk of their votes in the second primary will go to the man who is the antithesis of Bailey; we do not see how it could go contrariwise.

With the $14.50 per capita scholastic apportionment setting a new high record for Texas and furnishing more than $15,000,000 from the state for the support of the public school system, it would be of interest to know just what is the real total and the per capita average available fund for Texas schools this coming year. In the better classes of cities, including even those smaller towns which have an ambition to shine through reflection from first class school systems, it is probable that the per capita from local maintenance funds will fall little if any short of $20—certainly it will equal the state apportionment of $14.50. The smaller towns and rural communities will not get up so much money, but in a case practically all of them have special school maintenance funds of their own, it probably is within the facts to estimate the per capita average available from all sources in Texas is approximately $20—the figure errs if at all on the side of conservatism. The available school money for all schools, with 1,253,110 scholars, is $25,952,290. Not long ago we saw the Rockefeller Foundation's report of its educational survey of the states. Texas, we recall, was placed thirty-ninth. But that Texas citizens are doing real things to get rid of that stigma is shown by the facts and figures set forth above, and we venture that the next Rockefeller survey will show that Texas schools have ascended in the scale to within striking distance of the top. A lot of us Texans have been proud of our schools simply because we believed them to compare with the best; the time is coming when a lot of us will feel a real right to be proud of the Texas school system as one fit to compare with the very best in the whole country.

Senator Harding expressed the "earnest hope" that legislative members of the Tennessee Legislature will vote to make Tennessee the thirty-sixth state to ratify the Federal suffrage amendment. Governor Cox—and the difference typifies the difference between the republican and democratic nominees, wholly to the latter's advantage—told the women when they urged him to send a special personal representative to Nashville to work in their behalf that he had "beaten them to it," and that he already had "two or three men" from Tennessee capital for that very purpose. The Democratic nominee subscribes to that ancient, honorable and efficient motto of "Do it now!"

RIPLING RHYMES

After Conventions. Historic now the great conventions, at which our loghorn statesmen raved, both parties took of those intentions with which the Hades' streets are paved. Both parties drown on those abuses which make our lives one long wail, and both would cook the sinful goose of profiteers who gouge and steal. I listened to the keynote speeches, applauded when the stunts were done, 'til all the members on our benches. I missed, "these statesmen take the bun." I'm glad our woes will soon be over, all finished on election day; oh, how I'd like to be around in Iowa and raise our glad hurro, hurro! Both parties give their sacred promise to cure all evils they can reach; for once, I am no doubting Thomas, discrediting a keynote speech. When two great parties are determined to make the world a better place, so scrapping, bawling and ermined, might think not expect no disagree to them I drink two brimming beakers of tangefoot (a home made brew); I heard their gifted keynote speakers, and knew just what they plan to do.

The Book of Memory. Turn me loose and let me be Young once more and fancy free: Let me wander where I will, Down the lane and up the hill, Trudging barefoot in the dust, In an age that knows no "must," And no voice insistently Speaks of duty unto me: Let me tread the happy ways Of those by-gone yesterdays. Fame had never whirled then, Making slaves of eager men; Greed had never called me down To the gray walls of the town, Offering frankincense and myrrh If I'd be its prisoner; I was free to come and go Where the cherry blossoms blow, Free to wander where I please, Finding life supremely good. Did I turned, as all must do, From the happiness I knew To the land of care and strife, Seeking for a fuller life; Heard the lure of fame and sought Recognition in her court, Answered the voice of greed: "Give me what I seem to need" Now the gray town holds me fast, Prisoner to the very last. Age has stamped me as its own, Youth to younger hearts has flown; Still the cherry blossoms blow In the land I used to know. Still the fragrant cover spills Perfume over dales and hills, But I'm not allowed to stray Where the young are free to play. All the years who grant to me In the book of memory.

Side Talks

WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO STEAL? Did you ever want to steal anything? I wonder how many people think that's an absurd question? And then I wonder how many of the same people, if they were absolutely honest with themselves (as honest in thought as they are in deed) would not admit to themselves that they have had the great idea of stealing something. Here's the sort of thing I mean. A good citizen, a thoroughly reliable man who wouldn't really steal any more than you could put up with that other day, "I never can get a pile of lumber without thinking I'd like to 'steal' a few pieces. I just vision how I would come around the store with my machine and steal away a few pieces and make off with them. I don't know why it is but there's something about a pile of lumber that always arouses that primitive feeling in me. I suppose it's because there are so many things I want to be around the house with lumber and the darn stuff costs so much that you can't put up with a cupboard without almost covering it with silver." She Wants to Steal Sugar. A woman told me last summer, that she never saw sugar anywhere without feeling as if she must carry some off. Two other women with whom we were discussing the subject, admitted that they had these impulses, one with regard to silk stockings—the could just see herself taking them when the clerk's back was turned—and the other in regard to books. My own impulse seemed to be in relation to money itself—not bills especially not unclean ones, so much as silver. If I saw a handful of loose change, I don't think I could resist actually had a desire to sweep it into my pocket. For some reason or other I seem to have gotten that anti-theft hinger in the thing I'd like to steal most.

THE BEAT PEOPLE HAVE HAD IMPULSES.

The beat people, who has been looking over my shoulder, wants to know I don't think that saying such things might have the effect of making people think that stealing isn't so great a sin after all. I should hope not! That perfectly good people may have perfectly wicked impulses doesn't mean that yielding to such impulses is any more justifiable. The thing that makes such things wrong is that they have much more powerful inhibitions against those impulses. It's the lack of the inhibition, rather than the presence of the impulse, that makes the criminal. The Sweetest Lady I Know. There may be people who don't even have bad impulses, but I must say I doubt it. The sweetest elderly lady I know, an absolutely unselfish person who will certainly walk straight up the golden stairs into heaven when the door of life is opened to her, does not like me to tell her how good she is. "You mustn't say that," she says. "Why, I have all sorts of bad thoughts." Do you think Paul or Peter or Philip Brooks or Abraham Lincoln lacked bad impulses? I don't. Wouldn't you wonder a bit if when Peter saw a fine strong fish net, he sometimes thought he would like to jigal it—would you?

WHY?

Does a Blotter Absorb Ink? If you take a small glass tube, one with a diameter of a quarter of an inch or less, and place one end in water you will note that the water will rise inside the tube above the level on the outside. This is due to what is known as capillary attraction, so called from the Latin word for "hair," referring to the thin or hair-like diameter of the interior of the tube. A sponge, on account of its small capillaries, which extend inside and because of the material in the sponge itself, also possesses this power of capillary attraction as does a blotter. The surface of a blotter being rough and its texture loose, the liquid in this case ink—is easily soaked into it and lifted by means of the same power which makes the water rise in the small glass tube. A sheet of coated or smooth paper, being more compactly formed, does not possess this ability and merely causes a blot of amudges. If a regular blotter is not handy, however, one may easily make use of a piece of newspaper or any other rough, loose fibrous material, taking care not to press down on the ink too quickly, but to give the tiny hairs of the paper-time to lift the surplus liquid from the writing surface.

This should be an auspicious rule for beginning any enterprise, particularly if it is to develop along building or construction lines.

Neptune is in an aspect that seems to promise a continuation of crimes that have money as their object. Burglaries and robberies will continue to be numerous.

Astrologers predict that reported shortage of oil will lead to unexpected consequences that may be of serious import.

Since good impulses seem to come in tides that rise and fall, the receding wave that seemed to promise so much in spiritual interest will rise again, the seers declare.

The autumn should bring better conditions of thought and should unite the people in efforts for national welfare.

Women now will demonstrate extremes of ability in public activities. They will bring about reform as in living and working conditions, the seers prophesy.

Those who foretell that the enlarged sphere of women will be beneficial deny, however, that one sex is better than the other. Changes will be due to wise cooperation, they declare.

Labor will attain a new status through some condition following the next election, if the stars are read aright.

MR. HARDING ACCEPTS.

(Dallas Journal) Mr. Harding's speech of acceptance is the Shylock's call-harmonious and necessary. If any fault is to be found with it, it is that of being too perfect. It has the remarkable quality of absolute symmetry. There seems to be no issue on which it does not take both sides. Beginning with the question of foreign relations, Mr. Harding condemns the policy of entrance into the League of Nations in the most sweeping terms and declares for an immediate, separate peace. Yet he advocates an international association to minimize wars. "I can speak unreservedly," he says, "of the American aspiration and the Republican commitment for an association of nations, co-operating in sublime accord, to attain and preserve peace through justice rather than force, determined to add to security through international law, so clarified that no misconstruction can be possible without affronting world honor." The chief difference between the Democratic league and the proposed Republican association is that the former is real and the latter is imaginary; the chief difference between the nations, so tragically striving to avert a world disaster, with which the Democratic party would have associ-labor and management should come to an understanding; that labor can have high wages and low prices, but not unless they do some work; that we should have intelligent deflation and governmental economy and the checking of profiteers, but that more still depends on personal economy among the people; also that we should have good roads and good waterways and a merchant marine, and that Mr. Harding would go more into detail if he had more time. All of this is edifying, but it does not give us much idea of what Mr. Harding would do if he were elected President or how he would go about it.

There are no "promissory notes" in Mr. Harding's speech of acceptance.

In the other matters dealt with in his speech, Mr. Harding continues to take both sides of the question and with equal sagaciousness. For instance, he says, in effect, that we must check the "bolshievis" agitators. Yet, he adds, we must not abridge freedom of speech, of the press or of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. Still, "we do hold the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law," because "the who threaten destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for lawful authority... forfeits his rights to the freedom of the Republic." Thus we see that we can and we can't, we must and we mustn't. Similarly, we are told that capital,

JOHNSON ASKS FOR NEEDS OF PEOPLE

Wants to Give Beneficial Legislation to People of State and County

Calling upon the citizens of Wichita and Wilbarger counties to make known any legislative needs of more than ordinary importance, B. F. Johnson, democratic nominee for representative from the 16th district, today made public the following announcement: "To the Voters of Wichita and Wilbarger Counties: My nomination at the hands of the democrats of the 16th district, in the primaries Saturday, July 24, entails upon me the obligation of acquainting myself with the legislative needs of the State of Texas, and this district in particular. To this end I solicit the close co-operation of the voters of both counties. I trust that every one will feel free to write me fully with reference to such matters. "I wish here to reiterate my pre-election promise to those who voted against me, that I shall endeavor to represent them as impartially and fairly as if I had had their unanimous support. I have forgotten the opposition and cleansed my heart of any trace of prejudice that might have been engendered during the heat of the campaign. "To the thousands who voted and worked so diligently for my election I extend my heartfelt thanks, and will say to them, that I believe they were working for a principle rather than for the man, and that I shall try to uphold faith by the standards of good government during my incumbency. "Yours very truly, B. F. JOHNSON."

CLAIMS HE WAS ATTACKED BY SOCIALIST STRONG ARMS

NEW YORK, July 26.—Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier charged today in the Harlem court that he had been attacked and assaulted by a "socialist strong arm squad" seeking revenge on him for his legislative activities last winter in the ousting of five socialist assemblymen at Albany. The assemblyman described the alleged attack when he appeared in court to defend a client, who claimed to have been assaulted by a socialist. The Finnish socialist society headquarters in Harlem was described by Mr. Cuvillier as a "nest of bolsheviks who have formed strong arm squads to patrol the district and beat up democrats and republicans."

CALOMEL

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which starts your liver just as surely as calomel, but doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless. Calomel is a dangerous drug—it is mercury and attacks your liver. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you. —Adv.

FEDERAL RESERVE SHOWS LESS EXTRAVAGANT BUYING

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—Extravagant buying is rapidly subsiding despite the fact that the purchasing power of the public has not diminished, according to the monthly report of the eighth federal reserve district issued here today.

The report states advances from department stores say customers are demanding the worth of their money in quantity and quality. Statements from bond houses that the public is buying Liberty bonds over the counter "with eagerness" and the fact that there is a "well defined slowing down in the automobile industry" are further indicative of the general trend toward saving, the report states.

Prices of certain commodities have shown a sharp decline, according to the report, but the reduction will hardly be felt in bills covering the cost of living. No change is forecast in the shoe industry and clothing for fall delivery is steady to higher, the report says.

TRIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—such as women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear. Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug. Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves, sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. It is sold by Miller Drug Co., and all good druggists.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, as much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

CURLEY SMITH HANDS ANTON THE GREEK TERRIFIC DRUBBING AND IS DECLARED WINNER IN SIXTH ROUND

There was plenty of fight at the Camel A. C. last night and Curley Smith, the Oklahoma welterweight sensation, was mixed up in most of it. Other participants were Al Vinn, the bull dog referee, a few seconds, two or three spectators and last but not least Anton the Greek. Curley was them all. He forced the Greek to quit in the sixth round after he had absorbed enough punishment to last him several years to come.

He followed up his body blows with three swings to Anton's face, but that was as far as he got in the round. Anton came back at him when the round was half over and it looked then as if his better condition was going to win for him. Smith's steam was apparently gone and his blow, lacked force. Anton was chasing him all over the ring at the end of the round and he hit him at will. It was the Greek's round by a wide margin.

Both men had wallop that resembled the kick of a mule and said wallops were not confined to one mitt. They hit with either member with equal success and they hit often. They start 1 to mix it in grand style in the opening round and the honors were fairly even. Smith started like a whirlwind at the beginning of the round, but Anton was forcing the fight when the going soured. In fact, the men were so wrapped up in the business of the evening, that neither apparently had time to take his fight out on Anton. He did it to perfection.

Smith came out fast in the second and hit Anton a trifle low a couple of times. The Greek looked appealingly at the referee and when Vinn jumped in between the two men, he caught Smith off his balance and the latter fell. When he got up he hit out for the referee and it looked for a second as though there would be a free-for-all, but Smith was soon quieted. Both men were sent to their corners to cool down. Anton opened an ugly slash over Smith's left eye in this round, but the honors were even.

Smith's eye was practically closed when he came out of his corner for the third, but he could see Anton's stomach without any difficulty and he pumpeled away at it right off the reel.

The fans were yelling for Anton to put him out of the way in the fifth, but Smith's short rest did him a world of good as the change was remarkable. He landed a couple of stiff blows in Anton's stomach and it was the beginning of the end. The blows took all of Anton's pep and the bell was all that saved him from a knockout. Both men tried to land the sleep punch. In this round, but the majority of their blows were wild. Anton was groggy at the end of the round and had difficulty in finding his corner.

Smith came out fast in the sixth and started off with a terrific fight to the jaw. The blow would have floored nine out of 10 men, but the Greek stood up and took several more, before the referee finally stopped the fight to save him for future use.

Tam Ewing's opponent was a match for him in the semi-final and the fight was stopped in the second round.

TILDEN TERMED "GOOD SPORT" AS NEW KING OF TENNIS COURTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 27.—World's champion at tennis is an impressive title but the nicest thing the friends of William T. Tilden, the new king of the courts say about him is that "he's a real fellow and a good sport."

Tilden's feat of winning the world's championship at Wimbledon from Gerald Patterson was the greatest thing achieved for American tennis. But it wasn't the first thing that this tall, lanky Philadelphia had done for the game in the United States.

The unselfish interest that he has always shown in getting youngsters interested in the game has been one of the biggest factors in raising tennis from an alleged "pink tea" sport to a place where it ranks as a real national pastime.

Tilden is far from a veteran himself—being only 27 years of age—but he has always shown an admirable inclination to neglect the furtherance of his own game in coaching along the youngsters.

He is credited with "making" Vincent Richards, the eighteen-year-old Fordham youth whose prowess on the courts has been the inspiration of all "kid players."

A friend of the champion's in Philadelphia recently spoke of a conversation in which Tilden had told him several years ago:

"Tennis of the future depends upon the youngsters of today. I figure I can do more for the game by helping the youngsters along and getting an embryo champion on the way than by campaigning for laurels myself."

He followed this policy with great success around Philadelphia. In 1919 he coached the Philadelphia team in the Philadelphia district, the Schuylkill Valley, Newport, North and South, Seabright and Delaware. Again he was rated second in the first year.

This spring he won the indoor national championship and paired with young Vincent Richards, whom he defeated for the singles title. He won the doubles championship at Seabright and the North and South tournament and annexed the Schuylkill Valley crown with Rodney Beck.

By the time Fred Fulton and Harry Wills have concluded their coming entertainment we shall know something about the manner of Dempsey's next suitable opponent. Fulton's campaign, which included more fighting than any other heavyweight has known in two years, leaves him a tidy choice over Wills. Unless another upset is personally conducted into camp, Fulton is still Number Two among the leading heavyweights, outkicked only by Dempsey.

TED RAY'S PIPE

Ted Ray is not only a fine golfer. The big Englishman has still another marvelous knack. He can carry a lighted pipe, and keep it lighted, in a rain too heavy for any one but an expert to carry an umbrella.

Back in 1923 we followed him for the better part of thirty-six holes at Sayre. A combination cloud burst and deluge was in the act of swashing the landscape into a foam.

No one else could smoke, even under a tree. Every cigar, cigarette and match within a radius of twenty-two miles was soaked. Ray's pipe continued to emit smoke, which circled up through the rain after the manner of a cabin chimney. It was a great exhibition and elicited as much admiration from the gallery as Ray's mighty sublimic swipes called forth.

NOT QUITE ALL

"After all," writes a correspondent, "Ted Ray's ability to hit these home runs merely a matter of his tremendous physical bulk. Just what else figures?" By no means. Here is an example: When Ruth had made twenty-nine home runs he was naturally more than keen to beat his old record and establish a new mark. Opposing pitchers were just as keen to be selected as those whose name or names might be carried down in the records as the victim.

So for two days no pitcher would give Ruth a chance. He was either walked or forced to hit at balls. Finally he came up in the second game of a White Sox double-header with Pipp on first. It was poor strategy here to walk Ruth with one out and the Sox leading by run.

After getting the big slugger at 2 and 2, Kerr was forced to lay one over. The ordinary tendency under these conditions would have been to hit too soon, one of the most common faults in baseball golf or tennis. But Ruth, with extreme deliberation, stepped into the pitch, took only his normal swing and deposited the ball into the right field bleachers.

The answer is that with all his tremendous physical force, he also has his nervous system and his muscular system under perfect control. He isn't one of those wild swingers who overreaches himself. He delivers a tremendous punch, but not sufficiently hard to throw himself off balance. In other words, he rarely overtries, being content to hit well within his power.

THE SOUL WRECKER

I hate a slanting downhill putt;
I hate a pitch shot from a rut;
But more than all I hate the ball,
The new white ball I've badly cut.

I always hate a cuppy lie;
I hate the short, half-hearted try;
But more than all I hate the ball,
I have my rival's ally.

Speaking of veterans being outclassed by such younger stars as Sisler, Ruth, Hornsby, Roush, etc., just how many second basemen are there now around who are any better than Eddie Collins, a veteran of twelve campaigns? We put this in the form of a query in the knowledge that, after all, there can be only one reply.

In naming the list of great outfielders we inadvertently left out Fred Clarke, one of the greatest that ever travelled in any one of nineteen directions for a fly ball.

Sport Shots

By Paul W. Larkin

Yes-day's slant out makes two in a row for Eby.

If the diminutive Spudder hurler can get over the hump in the first two innings he will win the big majority of his games. He usually has a hard time getting started.

Every one of the Spudder's road victories have been shut outs.

Danny Clark put up a real $4,000 game yesterday.

We'll have to do better than split even in Beaumont if we are to stay in the running. A club that will play .500 ball on the road and clean up at home will usually be up at the top at the end of the season, but the Spudders are too far behind to be contented with playing .500 ball on the road now.

A pitcher that can hold the Yankees and its famous "Murdere's Row" to three hits is worthy of special mention. Jones, the Red Sox club artist, performed the feat yesterday, and kept the Huggens away from the plate for nine innings.

The Presbyterian Bible class, formidable contenders for the City League championship, has its work cut out for this week and beginning today, will play three games in a row. They cross bats with the City National Bank of Commerce today and will meet the First National bank tomorrow and Thursday. All games will be played at Athletic Park and will begin at 5:15.

Al Edwards spoke volumes when he stated that the bout between Anton and Smith would be full of fight and that Smith knew nothing but fight. We didn't see any fans hollering for their money back. It was easily the best scrap staged at the club for some time.

After the scrap was over Curley went over to Anton's corner and while shaking the Greek's hand, cried out, "I've beaten some game men in my day, but this boy is the greatest I ever met." We never saw Curley's other opponents, but we doubt if it is humanly possible for a man to take the punishment that Anton did and stay on his feet.

Harry Wills' victory over Fred Fulton was not entirely unexpected, but fight followers hardly looked for a K. O. in the third round. A tougher opponent cannot be found for Jack Dempsey than the big negro, and if Jack sticks by his decision, and agrees to waive the color line, he will have some contract on his hands when he awakes blows with the New Orleans smoke.

THIRD STREET HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

A frame cottage at 1193 Third street, owned by Mrs. Lillian Baker and Mrs. E. Walger, was destroyed by fire late last night. The adjoining home of G. W. Clark also was attacked by the flames, which cut away part of the roof and rear of the building. The firemen were badly handicapped by having to stretch hoses from more than 500 feet to the nearest fire plug. That, and the fact that the alarm was late in being turned in, gave the flames a headway on the Baker-Walger home that could not be recovered. For a time the entire block, with a wooden cottage on every lot, was threatened, and the fire department today deserves a world of credit for holding the flames in check.

All of the furniture was saved from the two buildings, but it is estimated roughly that the property loss will be at least $4,500.

The department earlier in the evening answered an alarm from Miss J. J. Papp and Paul, where a gas main had burst. The blaze was easily extinguished.

Fire Chief McClure this morning issued a request to citizens asking them not to shout advice to firemen when the men are fighting a blaze. "Orders" of various kinds, repeatedly were shouted to the men from the crowd that watched the Third street fire, and more or less confusion resulted. It is impossible, often, for the men to know whether such an order is from the fire chief or from a private citizen.

Beauty Secrets for Women

A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so-called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girlish dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have headache and dragging down pains. Some women took it years ago and have felt young and well ever since. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. In tablet or liquid form at all druggists, or send 10c for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

BOY AIN'T IT GREAT! WHAT? OH THE HEAT!

C. F. C. Lossa a Sweet Last Night When the Wind Sheeted His Heat Wrecked Frame

When you've dragged your weary way through a day of wicked heat, and at night you've gone to bed out on an open porch, and the heat won't quit and you restlessly, through the night, and then about 3 o'clock in the morning you are awakened by a sweeping, cooling breeze and you let the wind blow the sheet across the porch and attack your perspiring frame, and you lie there and look up at the Texas stars and the black clouds skidding intermittently across the sky.

"Oh, boy, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?" Perhaps, Mr. or Mrs. Reader, you personally, did not sleep out on an open porch last night, as did the writer of this hymn of heat—but, regardless of where you slept, you could not have avoided feeling that wonderful breeze that swept the city early this morning in gaffer a day of blistering torture.

And not one day alone. For many days sun and humidity have done their worst to harass the bodies and vex the spirits of Wichitans. Many hundreds have fled to mountains and seashores to escape the heat for brief vacation periods—but the big majority of citizens have been forced to camp in the hot old town, and gall pitiously upon the electric fan and the ice fountain.

And Old Man One-Hundred-In-The-Shade (only there ain't no shade) chuckles, and answers: "Hows, Mercury, old little late the electric fan and the ice fountain? It is enough, it is more than enough. It is too much. Even Hambone could not 'meditate' in heat such as this!"

LOONEY-THOMASON WILL SUPPORT NEFF

(Continued from page one) against those who opposed me and if in the heat and strain of conflict I have said anything anywhere that offended, I cheerfully make the amends hereafter.

"As to the particular statement complained of, this was an unthought declaration on my part which I realize was a mistake. Of course, had Mr. Thomson led, I would have given him my earnest and loyal support against Bailey and the things for which he has stood and now stands in the politics of Texas.

"The differences between rival candidates against Bailey are trivial in the presence of the vital issues now confronting the patriotic people of Texas in the politics of Texas.

I now submit to my standard all the forces of democracy that stand for clean, forward looking government in Texas.

THE ILLITERACY DIGEST.

By C. F. C.

Sounds Reasonable.
There are no trunks above the doors of the second floor rooms in the new Kemp hotel. Prominent city official says this floor is being reserved for poker players!

It's a Great Sport.
The deciding yacht race in the international series will be sailed today—if there is enough wind. If there is not too much wind, if the Resolute's balloon topsail is in good condition, if the Shamrock's last coat of oil and paint is dry, if Tom Lipton reports his tea sales quite satisfactory and if none of the members of the regatta committee has a headache.

Hey Boy! Two Cakes!
Blessings on that little man. Prefect boy with cheeks of tan. Who, despite the awful heat, Chases to my ball park seat; Lifts his voice and bravely flouts it: "Ice cold sods pop—who wants it?"

Drink It and Be Quiet.
"Coffee Weak," exclaims a headline of the market page. The same exclamation is made by peeved husbands daily in millions of homes—but the answer frequently returned by the wiser half of the household agencies whatever strength the coffee lacks.

Saturday Night Social News.
According to the Albany (Ala.) News-Argus, "bathing has become quite popular with the social set." Providence, he praised! There is hope for the world when the classes and the masses find one interest in common!

Good Exercise for the Back.
It is rumored that Lewis Jernigan is circulating a petition requesting H. F. Johnson to make it his first duty as representative to repeal the law

Toilet Goods
FOR MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN and INFANTS

One of the most complete toilet goods departments any drug store in this locality can offer you. It would be hard to ask for any required toilet article or preparation for man, woman or child which we did not have, and certainly it would be impossible to ask for anything on the market which we could not obtain for you. So patronize our toilet goods department and be sure that you will get what you want and of the best character at the right price.

It's Different in the Wichita District—

Commercial reports show business "off" in many sections of the United States.

But conditions in the district around Wichita Falls are still reported as "better than normal." This section is still getting its full measure of prosperity.

The Editor is a Brute.
The editor is leaving Saturday on a long vacation. He has asked us to write a story about the terrific heat in Wichita Falls, the heat that he is departing from and in which he is leaving us. The outrageous heartlessness of some folks is positively astounding.

We Love 'Em Regardless.
She cannot cook, she cannot sew, of business she has no knowledge; she cannot even make a bed— She learned too much at college. —Yonkers Statesman.

"She cannot sign, she cannot play Like some girls young or older, But when it comes to dancing—say! She shakes a wicked shoulder!" —Youngstown Telegram.

"She cannot bake, she cannot roast, she cannot build a stew; but her admirers are a host— The stuff that girl can brew!" —Houston Chronicle.

Though conversation's not her forte; In fact, she's rather dumb; Yet you should see her jaw bones move When she is chewing gum. And while she's weak on bking pie, (So swears her brother Jimmy) still it's delicious to the eye To see that glib shimmy!

CONFERENCE ON OIL MEASURING DEVICES AT AUSTIN TODAY

AUSTIN, July 27.—Representatives of oil distributing companies and oil pumping devices are in conference here today with F. C. Weinert, state superintendent of weights and measures, on the question of tolerances and measuring devices, the purpose being to bring about a more complete understanding of the weights and measures laws as applied to the distribution of petroleum products in the state. It is desired that the state law be brought up to the same standard of enforcement as the federal law on the subject. It is likely a new set of regulations will be issued as a result of the conference.
