COPS ARREST ANTIWAR PROTESTERS

JAIL 5,000 FRUSTRATED PROTESTERS

Fail To Paralyze U. S. Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war demonstrators clashed repeatedly with police and snarled rush-hour traffic in the capital today, but the arrest of more than 5,000 frustrated protesters' efforts to paralyze the nation's government.

OPEN CITY
Flying squads of police, backed by National Guardsmen and federal troops, kept traffic flowing across major bridges into the capital, but numerous intersections in the city itself were blocked temporarily by the demonstrators' hit-and-run tactics.

"The city is open. The traffic is flowing," Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said at midmorning. Mayor Walter Washington agreed, saying the demonstrators "did not succeed."

Absentee records were not immediately available, but quick surveys of major agencies indicated the normal complement of federal employees had shown up for work today. "It looks like a normal day," several personnel officers said.

Many of the employees, however, had to drive or walk through billowing clouds of tear gas. They joined demonstrators in holding handkerchiefs to streaming eyes and smarting nostrils.

Volley after volley of tear gas had been fired by riot-equipped police, who also wielded billy clubs to disperse crowds of demonstrators.

BLOCK TRAFFIC
The protesters, mostly college-age youths, tied up traffic in the Georgetown and downtown areas by hurling debris—and in some cases themselves—into the streets.

Some vehicles were overturned and others set afire. Vandalism was widespread.

By 9 a.m., about 2,200 Marines and Army paratroopers were moved into the city from nearby staging areas—some of them in helicopters which landed on the Washington Monument grounds. Officials said they had been requested by Police Chief Jerry Wilson, who at midmorning radioed his men in the streets.

GREAT ODDS
"You are prevailing against great odds. You are doing an outstanding job. Keep up the good work."

With the aid of 2,000 federal troops, police kept demonstrators from achieving two of their major objectives—blocking four major Potomac River bridges and marching on the Pentagon.

But the toll was high for both sides in the skirmishes.

Emergency rooms at city hospitals were crowded with injured demonstrators and policemen. No count of the number hurt was available immediately.

The arrested demonstrators were herded onto buses and rented vans and taken to a makeshift compound near Kennedy Stadium.

The demonstrators were almost all young men. However, there was a considerable sprinkling of young women.

The May Day demonstration had been billed in advance as a massive show of nonviolent civil disobedience, but even before dawn it turned into a series of hit-and-run clashes with riot-equipped police.

Cambodian
Leader Runs
Into Trouble

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Brig. Gen. in Tam, the latest nominee to end Cambodia's political crisis, indicated Sunday night he may have run into trouble in his attempt to form a Cambodian government.

In Tam said Sunday night he had been unable to see the ailing outgoing premier, Marshal Lon Nol, and could not say whether he would accept the premiership after seeking the marshal's support. But observers believe the obstacle may be Lt. Col. Lon Non, Lon Nol's younger brother. They think he may be withholding support to bargain for a top job in the new government.

Lon Non, head of Cambodia's Central Intelligence Agency, was one of several leading politicians the general consulted Sunday.

In Tam, 55, a popular general and the National Assembly president, was the fourth leader of State Cheng Heng asked to form a government. Earlier in the day he told newsmen he would make known his decision by mid-evening.

The crisis began April 20 when Lon Nol resigned because of the continuing effects of the stroke he suffered in February. Cheng first asked the marshal to stay on. When Lon Nol declined, the chief of state asked Lt. Gen. Sisowath Sirik Matak, acting premier during Lon Nol's illness, to accept the task. But Sirik Matak and a third candidate, Chuop Hell, also turned it down.

In Tam said he talked with Sirik Matak and received his backing. He added he would ask both Lon Nol and Sirik Matak to act as advisers if he was able to form a new government, which would follow Lon Nol's political line.

HUNT SPREADS
Jailbreakers
Tie Up Family
In Midland

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP) — While deputies intensified their search for seven prisoners who broke out of Ward County jail Sunday night, word came from Midland that four of the group had robbed a home there, tying up a doctor with his wife and family.

The four were identified from mug shots as Johnny Jones alias Robert Hart, 30, an escapee from a Georgia prison who had been held under death penalty for murder while also being charged with armed robbery of motels in Monahans and Abilene; James Simpson alias Calvin Thomas, 25, from Florida, also an escapee from an Atlanta, Ga., prison; Raymond Harris, 21, a Georgia escapee charged with armed robbery in Ward County; and Timothy Youngblood, 21, held on a misdemeanor charge.

Officers said additional charges were being filed against the four.

Dr. W. W. McCullough and members of his family were tied up by men who entered their home early Monday. The bandits took about $500, two watches, the doctor's 1969 model car, and two medical bags containing narcotics.

The other three at large from the Ward County jail include a woman charged with forgery who was forced to accompany the jailbreakers. Sheriff's deputies identified her as Bobbie Kay Winters, 27, of Coleman, Tex., and said they feared for her safety.

The others escaping are Donnie Howard Elder, 22, formerly of Monahans; and Raymond Leslie Hayes, 25, of Midland, both on armed-robbery charges.

The six men made their getaway in the car of a sheriff's deputy, whom they left behind handcuffed in a cell.

A spokesman said Youngblood overpowered W. M. Weed, a 60-year-old jailer, and then freed the other prisoners with Weed's keys.

They then jumped Deputy Sheriff David McPeck, taking his gun, his car and his credit cards.

Redistricting
Fuss Delayed

AUSTIN (AP) — House members won't get to debate proposals to realign their districts until the last two weeks of the legislative session, Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock indicated today.

Jones, chairman of the House Redistricting Committee, said he expected a House reapportionment bill to reach the floor about May 17 or 18.

The session adjourns May 31. After a brief hearing of four "vehicle" bills, Jones also said congressional districts will be debated by the House the end of next week "or at the very latest the first of the following week."

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Twelve miles out of this city in Central Texas, 43 men sentenced to death in the electric chair live in steel closets.

The Supreme Court's decision today upholding the death penalty in effect robbed them of some more hope of escaping execution.

The death row inmates were moved from the dark red main prison at Huntsville in 1967 because stays of execution caused an overflow.

They were taken to the Ellis Unit 12 miles away. This is a heavily guarded and tightly sealed prison housing 1,300 of the state's hardest criminals.

No one has been executed in Texas in almost seven years. There have been no executions in the nation in nearly four years.

REJECTED
The high court rejected today two challenges to death penalty procedures, although neither of the specific appeals were from Texas.

W. D. Kutach, assistant director for treatment at the Huntsville main unit of the prison system, said, "We have been concerned about this and we are pleased to get a decision from the Supreme Court. Now it is up to the discretion of the governor and we have no idea of what he will do."

Kutach said he does not know how many others in Texas are under death sentence but are held in county jails awaiting appeals of various sorts.

There are no women under sentence of death in the Texas prison system.

The assistant prison director said he does not expect numerous or quick executions because of the Supreme Court rulings.

Clyde Whitesides, chairman of the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, declined comment.

The last man to be executed in Texas was Joseph Johnson Jr., sent to the electric chair July 30, 1964, for the slaying of a Houston grocer during a robbery.

TOO LONG
A year ago, Dr. George Beto, director of the Texas Department of Corrections, predicted there would be no more executions.

"I think we've gone too long without an execution for anyone to die now," said Dr. Beto who was away from Huntsville today and unavailable for comment.

At Edinburg, Hidalgo County Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis said, "I'm glad it wasn't ruled unconstitutional. I am in favor of the death penalty in some cases. I am not, however, in favor of using the death penalty indiscriminately. I think it is needed in cases of the murder of police officers and multiple murder and for some hardened criminals."

McInnis added, "In Texas, there's no way to keep someone who is a menace to society locked up. They will be paroled eventually and get out and kill someone else." His county had not had a death verdict in 25 years.

'CLEAR CONNECTION'
They said Miss Bacon had been living in a commune in Washington and has only been in Seattle once before, a half-hour visit while hitchhiking through town.

Miss Bacon, 19, of Atherton, Calif., has been held since last week on $100,000 bond as a material witness in the case. She was brought here last Thursday under a subpoena issued by U.S. District Court in Seattle.

Fayad and Steinborn said after Sunday's session that the government had established for the first time a "clear connection" between the bombing and the grand jury probe here, but they said the connection seemed to be based on misinformation.

BALONEY?
"The government got today to what they told us was the meat of the case," Fayad told newsmen. "We saw some meat, but it seems to be misinformation."

He said the Seattle connection apparently was "something dealing with meetings or plans here." He said the government spent some time asking questions concerning the bombing. The March 1 explosion took place in a mens' room near the Senate chambers. Damage was extensive but there were no injuries.

"If everything is true they think is true, maybe some of the ones connected with the bomb plot are from Seattle," Steinborn said.

Brutality, Sexual Attacks
Charged At Youth 'Homes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh opened hearings today on conditions in juvenile correctional institutions with a charge that many youths "are beaten, brutalized and exposed to vicious sexual attacks."

The Indiana Democrat, chairman of the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee, added in his prepared statement that little, if any, rehabilitation takes place in detention and correctional facilities.

Two of the first witnesses denounced the juvenile justice system in El Paso, Tex., and conditions in the county juvenile detention home there.

JUVENILE JUSTICE
Steven Bercu of the El Paso Legal Assistance Society said it is difficult to imagine any place "where juveniles are so routinely abused."

He said police will arrest any juvenile merely on the word of the parent and, in defiance of Texas law, children are detained for indefinite periods without the benefit of a court hearing and "without any conceivable justification."

Bercu said the county detention has no educational or rehabilitation facilities and its sanitary conditions are disgusting.

He also said children are continually beaten, no qualified personnel are employed, and juvenile records are disclosed to any caller.

Even stronger testimony was given by Bill Payne, who said in his prepared statement he was assigned by the El Paso Times last August to conduct an investigation and write a series of articles.

"Juvenile justice, as it exists in El Paso County, and, indeed, throughout the state of Texas, is a disgrace and an abomination," conceived and executed in bad faith and designed solely for the profit of the keepers even as they speak nobly of solicitude for the children they catch and cage," Payne said.

Since the construction of the detention home in the early 1950s, Payne said, "in El Paso County there has probably never been a legal detention of a child and that county to a state reformatory."

EAT SLOP
In his detailed statement, Payne also said that the detention home has no recreational, diagnostic or rehabilitative programs, that "the children eat slop while the employees eat sirloin tips with mushroom sauce" and that children sit in their cells all day without reading matter or any other diversion.

Government attorneys have refused to indicate why the investigation is being carried on here, but they said after an unusual grand jury session Sunday they were content with the case.

Bombing Of Capitol
Planned In Seattle?

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Leslie Bacon returns for a fourth day of questioning today before a federal grand jury apparently investigating the possibility that the March 1 bombing of the U.S. Capitol was planned in Seattle.

Three Remain In Hospital After SA Doctor's Gunfire

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three survivors of a night of bloodshed, victims of a doctor under psychiatric care, remained in grave condition Sunday.

Critical with gunshot wounds were Paul Marcus Deadrick, 8 months, and Joyce Louise Deadrick, 14.

Their grandmother, Mrs. Viola Edwards, 56, was in poor condition.

BURST OF GUNFIRE

They were wounded Friday night in a burst of gunfire that left Dr. Lonnie Deadrick Jr., 40, his wife and 10-year-old son dead. Officers said Deadrick committed suicide after shooting his family.

Another Deadrick child, Constance, 7, also wounded by her father, died Saturday night. Deadrick was serving a residuency in psychiatry at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston and commuted to San Antonio on weekends.

Officials said he had been under the care of a Houston area psychiatrist and had been hospitalized for 10 days here last month.

"We knew that he was ill and under treatment almost from the time he entered the residency three years ago," said one college official.

Dr. Robert Roessler, acting college chairman, said Deadrick's psychiatric care was not unusual in itself, but he said it was felt he was seriously disturbed. Deadrick's superiors seriously questioned whether he should be continued in the residency program, Roessler said.

Deadrick received notice last week that he would be required to stay in residency another year past June 30, his scheduled completion date. Dr. Roessler told the San Antonio Express-News.

'Slaves' Church Honors Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A church founded by slaves has awarded Gov. Dale Bumpers an honorary membership.

The governor, his wife, Betty, and their children were present when the Rev. J.H. Corbitt of the predominantly Negro Mt. Pleasant Church named Bumpers an honorary member of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Corbitt said it symbolized progress in Arkansas when the governor "will accept such a certificate from a church that was founded by slaves in 1875."

Dies In Peking

TOKYO (AP)—Li Su-kuang, 82, a geologist and member of the presidium of the Chinese people's Consultative Conference, died in Peking Saturday, Peking radio announced.

11 SHOOTINGS, FIVE DROWNINGS Heavier Than Usual Toll

By The Associated Press.

Pleasant May weather sent Texans flocking out of doors and presumably helped to swell the violent death toll for the weekend.

Thirty-eight persons were killed between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, including 18 in traffic accidents.

Also contributing to the heavier than usual toll were 11 shootings and five drownings.

THREE YOUTHS DIE

In one of the worst auto crashes, three youths died about 3 a.m. Sunday as a compact car smashed into a tree in the Dallas suburb of Garland. They were twins Gary and Cary Lancaster, 17, and Rickey White, 18, all of Garland. Two other youths were injured.

Among the other victims

T. D. Blessing, 84, of Robstown was killed in a collision Sunday night on a farm road a mile west of Corpus Christi. His wife, Velma, 66, at the wheel of their car, and Ernest S. Bippert, 26 of Kingsville, alone in the other vehicle, were injured.

Three-year-old Sharon Kay Wilkerson strangled Sunday in Dallas as a window slammed shut, catching her by the neck as the child peered in while standing on a block outside her playhouse. She was the daughter of a city detective, H. O. Wilkerson, and his wife.

CHUTE FAILS

James Z. Rhoades, 72, of Fort Worth drowned Sunday while fishing in Lake Granbury. He went down about 200 yards from the Oak Shores Trail Marina.

Army 2nd Lt. Michael G. Parmley, 24, stationed at Ft. Hood, was killed Sunday when his parachute failed to open while skydiving at Palo Duro airport south of Amarillo.

Jesse Elbert Brown, 61, of Houston was killed Sunday when he was hit by a car as he attempted to cross a Houston freeway.

Charles Edward Goodwin, 42, of San Antonio was shot to death Sunday in what police said was an old dispute. Officers arrested a man.

MEN CRUSHED

Two men were crushed to death Saturday night in their tractor-trailer rig when it hit an embankment at the edge of Fabens in far West Texas. Police identified them as Bobby Prather, 28, of Stantonville, Tenn., and Randall Palmer, 31, of Corinth, Miss.

Jerry D. Traflet, 21, of Dallas was killed Saturday as he fell from a truck on a farm road four miles north of Tyler.

A pedestrian, Ernest Gene Tanner, 32, of Socorro, Tex., was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a car on a farm road east of El Paso.

Antonetta Morales, 10, drowned Saturday in Ascarate Lake at El Paso.

Dr. Lonnie Deadrick Jr., 40, a San Antonio physician who was studying psychiatry, his wife, 39, and two of their children died in a shooting spree during which police said Deadrick also wounded two other children and his mother-in-law.

SHOOTINGS

The San Antonio shootings occurred Friday night and the latest victim, Constance Deadrick, 7, died Saturday night. Her mother and brother, Lonnie III, 10, also were slain. The survivors—Joyce Louise Deadrick, 14, Mark Deadrick, eight months old, and Mrs. Viola Edwards, 56, were reported in critical condition.

Glider pilot Dudley C. Shaw, 31, of Del Rio was killed Saturday when his craft crashed while landing at a Brackettville airstrip. A companion, Carl E. Bohler, 15, of Del Rio, suffered serious injuries.

James Ray Johnson, 10, of Fort Worth drowned Saturday while swimming in Lake Arlington.

Riley R. Williams, 23, of Grand Prairie died Saturday in a car which ran off Texas 24 and overturned four miles west of Newcastle, in Young County.

BOATING ACCIDENT

Johnny Gallados, 37, of Perrin Air Force Base drowned in a boating accident Saturday on Lake Texoma near Big Mineral Camp. His son, 11, and another companion made it to shore safely.

Gunfire killed Bobbie Jean Brown, 33, and wounded two bystanders, neither seriously, outside a Houston bar Saturday. Officers charged her husband, Joe Edward Brown, 33, with murder.

Paula Roberts, 33, a waitress, was beaten and strangled Saturday in her apartment at Seabrook, a Houston suburb. Sheriff's officers held a man, 23, for questioning.

Two teenagers died as a freight train struck their motorcycle Saturday in Irving, between Dallas and Fort Worth. They were Kevin Kemper and Mike Jones, both 16.

FAILED TO STOP

Police said the driver failed to stop after a car hit Domingo Ramirez, 42, and killed him on a Houston street early Saturday. He was aiding a motorist in a stalled vehicle.

Vic Solimine, 52, of Austin died shortly before midnight Friday when he and a companion were struck by a car while crossing a south Austin street. The other man, Billie Tumlinson, 37, of Manor, was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

A collision of their small foreign car and a heavier vehicle killed two men Friday night in Dallas. The victims were L. V. Williams Jr., 22, of Fort Arthur and James Allen, 23, of Dallas.

ATTACKED BY GANG

Police said the manager of a Fort Worth night club told them he shot and killed Renaldo Martinez, 24, of Fort Worth after being attacked by a gang.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

PLANNING PROGRAMS FOR MUSIC WEEK
Mrs. C. L. Capille and Mrs. Richard D. Cook

Local Activities Mark National Music Week

The first event in the annual local celebration of National Music Week, May 2-9, will be held at 2 p.m. today when the Big Spring Music Study Club will present two programs at Big Spring Nursing Inn.

On Wednesday, club members will perform at 9:30 a.m. during the coffee hour at the Veterans Administration Hospital and at 4:15 p.m. in the auditorium at Big Spring State Hospital.

The informal presentations will feature solos, duets, ensembles and instrumental numbers.

The event will climax Saturday with a guest luncheon and program at 12:30 p.m. at First United Methodist Church. At that time, performers will be piano students of club members.

Mrs. C. L. Carlile and Mrs. Don Richardson are co-chairmen of the week's activities, assisted by Mrs. Richard D. Cook and Mrs. Walter Osborne.

The 48th annual observance of National Music Week is sponsored nationally by the National Federation of Music Clubs, a non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement of music.

The 1971 theme is "Joy of Service Through Music." The objectives are to create an understanding and appreciation of the value of music in the home, and community as well as a common bond among people and "an instrument of world peace."

The first such celebration was held in 1924 under the guidance of the late Charles M. Tremaine, with Otto M. Kahn, for many years board chairman of the Metropolitan Opera Company, as first chairman.

That same year, President Calvin Coolidge served as the first honorary chairman, and this year, President Richard Nixon has informed the organization, "I am pleased to join in your tribute to the language of all men, all nations and all ages."

New Officers Are Elected By Club

Coahoma 4-H Club elected officers Tuesday. They are Jeff Mitchell, president; Terry Beistle, first vice president; Linda Beistle, second vice president; Patricia Fryar, secretary; Dale Mitchell, treasurer; Dennis Mayes, reporter; Glenda Addy, parliamentarian; and Phyllis Wynn, song leader.

Miss Wynn presided, and pledges were led by Theresa Carter and Ken Wall. Nancy Howell gave the 4-H prayer, and Cindy Fryar read a poem.

Members will sell candy as a state project to raise money for a youth camp at Lake Brownwood. The candy can be obtained from Mrs. Johnny Harrington at the library before May 10.

Party Held Friday For Bride-Elect

Miss Susan Magee of El Paso, bride-elect of Mark Goettsche, was honored with a bridal shower Friday in the home of Mrs. John Balch, Ponderosa Apartments, No. 119.

Hostesses were Mrs. Guilford Jones, Mrs. James Kreimeyer, Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Jr., Coahoma; Mrs. Dan Allen, Mrs. Jerry Kelly, Mrs. Mark Arnold, Mrs. W. A. Carter, Mrs. Gus Barr, Mrs. Faye Morgan Dallas, Mrs. David Yater and Mrs. J. D. Cauble.

Miss Magee formerly of Big Spring, was attired in a green dotted Swiss floor-length dress with a ruffle at the hemline. She was presented a white and green carnation corsage, as were her mother, Mrs. Jack Magee of El Paso, and her grandmother, Mrs. Polly Eaton of Brownwood.

A white linen cloth covered the refreshment table, and the honoree's chosen wedding colors of green and white were carried out in a pedestal arrangement of spring flowers, accented with miniature wedding bells. Spring flowers also centered the coffee table.

Mrs. Jones served refreshments, and Mrs. Arnold presided at the guest register.

Goettsche is an instructor at Howard County Junior College. The couple plans a May 22 wedding in El Paso.

Club Has Breakfast

Mrs. J. B. Apple held her annual breakfast to honor the president of the Big Spring Credit Women Sunday in her home at 419 Westover.

Mrs. Mahoney, current president, was presented a gift from Mrs. Apple.

The five quartet tables were covered with pastel cloths and centered with straw baskets filled with pansies. Another large table featured a brandy snifter with roses floating in the water, and the serving table was centered with an arrangement of assorted spring flowers. Silver and china appointments were used.

Mrs. Noel Hull gave the invocation. Guests included Mrs. B. J. Nobles, Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Mrs. Georgia Johnson, Mrs. Rip Smith, Mrs. E. E. Reynolds, Mrs. H. D. Cowden, Miss Marie McDonald and Miss Janet Hull.

The members agreed to provide $175 to cover expenses for Mrs. Apple and Mrs. A. G. Eitzen, who will attend the state convention May 15-18 in Corpus Christi.

Knits Spring Into Style

Cotton knits take center stage on the spring fashion scene.

Fashion designers are using them in a variety of weights from jacquard patterns and medium gauge ribs to super fine gauge jerseys.

Typical of the new look for knits in sportswear is a lace-front pullover in ribbed cotton combined with knickers in a diamond jacquard motif.

Nifty little T-shirts in feather-weight cotton knits are the uniform of the day for the junior miss crowd. Most popular are the short-sleeved styles with button-front plackets.

For variation, the classic cotton knit T-shirt is decked out for spring and summer with bold appliques of butterflies or fish.

Bare Jumpsuits For Formal Wear

For the girl who prefers to be a slick chick and not a demure damsel, there are bare evening jumpsuits with slits and cut-out navels, strapless and halter gowns and the pants look-in evening fabrics.

Slate Named At May Day Meet

A May Day theme was used in decorations for the Coahoma Past Matrons Club meeting Saturday morning at Coker's Restaurant. A colorful May Pole and assorted spring flowers were used in the meeting room, where new officers were announced.

The officers are Mrs. Fred Beckham, president; Mrs. Tom Barber, vice president; Mrs. Ernest Garrett, secretary; Mrs. Don McKinney, treasurer; and Mrs. Bert Shives, reporter. Mrs. D. S. Phillips presided, and hostesses were Mrs. Dewitt Shives and Mrs. Carl Bates.

B&PW Club Announces Colorado City Seminar

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Business and Professional Women's Club will host a seminar Saturday at Civic House, according to Miss Nelda Garrett, president.

The all-day program will begin at 9 a.m. and will include a discussion, "Will," by Sweetwater attorney, Johnny Moore; and a talk on "Duties and Responsibilities of Employer and Employee," by Colorado City Manager, J. A. Sadler Jr.

The afternoon program will include "Programming Yourself for Success," by Bill Minick, Dyna group leader of Snyder; "Modern Trends in Appearance," by Ed Thrift, Colorado City department store owner; and "Fads in Fashion," by Mrs. Margaret Aden of Colorado City.

Registration for the session which has as its theme, "Profile of Woman," is $2.50 and should be in by May 6.

A LOVELIER YOU Leg Fashions Keyed To Flattering Colors

By MARY SUE MILLER

For several seasons, the "best-dressed" legs wore matching shoes and stockings as a usual thing — brown leather boots with leather-brown hose, for instance. Other combinations met with Fashion's approval but never seemed to catch on. So don't ever say that Fashion tyrannizes women. Mostly the shoe is on the other foot. Excuse me, in this case, it's the stocking.

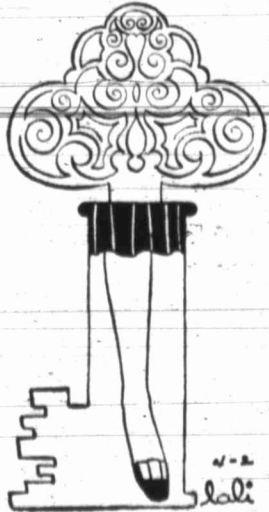

Now women are rethinking the look at the leg. With longer skirts and shorter city-shorts, the color and design of hosiery finds new relationships with what goes on below and above.

This carries through from knee socks to stockings, to pantyhose and head-to-toe body suits.

All weights are liked: sheers, opaques, semi-opaques in plains and such fancies as pintucks, butterfly motifs, ribs and stripes. Most any color is yours for the asking. There are darks with navy leading off. Brights, clear Maltese colors, find their handsomest interpretation in opaques. Pale-pale sheers foretell the summer scene. As do nude nudes — really skin color, light to dark.

Once you put it together you discover you're right on target. —To pick up a print dress, an orange and pink color — sheer pink stockings and orange strip sandals.

—Go monochromatic with a greige sweater, knickers, ribbed socks and oxfords.

—How about black boots, fireman-red raincoat and pantyhose? You bet.

—With a white skirt, blue blazer and navy shoes would you wear a navy or a white stocking? Either one, depending on your preference and your leg size. Remember, deep shades are always slimming.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS — If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, "Legline Trimmers," which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

NEW HAIR-DO WILL HELP

Going Back To Office Job? Sharpen Skills, Confidence

With the ever-rising cost of living eating up the household budget, many women who left office jobs 5 and 10 years ago are interested in returning to work as office temporaries to help bolster the family income.

But there's a hangup, according to a leading temporary help firm. Many of these women are afraid to return because they lack confidence.

Dot Girls, the nationwide temporary help service of Dictaphone Corporation, recently polled the managers of its 34 offices located throughout the country to find out if indeed women were hesitant about returning to work, and for any suggestions that would help make the transition easier.

The majority of managers confirmed that many of their applicants were unsure. As the San Francisco office manager put it, "Many women worry about a drop in their skill levels and are uptight about the prospect of going from company to company for a job."

Another said, "Women who were once highly qualified fear that they will be inadequate on a new job or make an error when they begin competing again." Others blamed lack of confidence and "rusty office skill" as reasons many women are hesitant about returning.

What can a woman do to help prepare herself?

"BRUSH UP" All managers answered that she should first brush up on her office skills, particularly typing and shorthand. "Most areas have adult classes where office practices are taught," the Miami-Dot manager offered. "If not, she can practice on our equipment." Many temporary help firms, including Dot, offer free brush-up courses on the latest office machines and equipment.

A positive attitude was stressed by many of the office managers. The Columbia, S.C., manager volunteered, "It would help if a woman got a new hair-do, and bought an attractive new suit to wear to job interviews or temporary help assignments." She added, "If you look good, you'll feel good. It's all in the attitude."

Another manager suggested that women should try for "less demanding jobs at first, such as a receptionist or general office worker, until they become reacquainted with today's business environment." She added, "As confidence returns, usually fairly soon, she can take on more demanding and better-paid work."

Other suggestions offered: make sure you have firm arrangements for the care of your children; get to know your way around town so you'll be on-time for assignments; be mentally prepared to take on a challenge, and be cheerful.

TEMPORARY

Most of the managers polled agreed that temporary office work offers the woman wishing to return to work one of the best means. "She can select her own hours, has variety in job assignments, and is free from the day-to-day commitment of a permanent job," one manager said.

All agreed that the first step is the hardest, but, as the manager of the firm's Washington, D.C. office said, "All they need is that first push!"

NINE DIE IN CAR-TRAIN COLLISION — Nine Covington youths were killed and another was critically injured Sunday night when this car was struck by a freight train at a crossing about three miles west of Covington, Ga. Spectator is looking into the twisted front seat of the demolished car, a small compact, carrying the three boys and seven girls. Police said the car passed another vehicle which had stopped at the crossing and pulled directly into the path of the train.

Train Drags Compact Auto Almost A Mile, Nine Killed

COVINGTON, Ga. (AP) — Ten youngsters piled into Danny Henderson's "new" car for a Sunday ride. Nine of them died a short time later when a freight train slammed into the compact auto and dragged it almost a mile.

Jimmy Norwood and his sister Almethin were among the victims. So were Peggy Ann Fuller and her sister Susie Ann. The 10 ranged in age from 12 to 16. The only one spared was Sharon Belcher, 16. She was taken to an Atlanta hospital in critical condition.

THEY NEVER KNEW — The accident at an elevated country road crossing was less than three miles west of their homes in this north central Georgia community of 10,300. Newton County Sheriff Henry Odum said the car was hit broadside by the lead diesel of a 65-car Georgia Railroad freight train traveling at about 45 miles an hour.

He said the 10-year-old, second-hand vehicle was bent nearly in half by the impact, with the right rear end of the car lacking only five feet of touching the right front wheel.

"They never knew what hit them," Newton County Coroner San Cowan said. "I was in the first ambulance to arrive and, at first glance, I didn't see how there could be any survivors."

Killed were Henderson, 16; Jimmy Norwood, 15; his sister, Almethin, 12; Vickie Gilstrap, 14; Dora Williams, 12; Peggy Ann Fuller, 15; her sister, Susie Ann, 12; Harold Tuggle, 16; and Sheila Height, 14.

The state patrol listed Henderson as the driver.

All of the youngsters lived within a few blocks of one another in Covington, 35 miles east of Atlanta.

RIDING AROUND — The State Patrol said Henderson had acquired the car less than three weeks ago.

"It was his first car," one trooper commented. "Apparently he wanted to share it with his friends.

"We don't know exactly where they were going or where they had been," the trooper continued. "As far as we've been able to ascertain, they were just out riding around."

Rains Zip Eastward

By The Associated Press

Occasional showers and thunderstorms swept eastward across parts of the Texas Panhandle and ranged along the Red River north of Paris and Marshall this morning.

Most of the shower activity in the Panhandle was from around Perryton and Canadian southward past Clarendon and Childress.

It cropped up along a feeble cool front which was edging deeper into the state along a line linking Lubbock, Abilene and Lufkin near dawn.

Skies were nearly clear before sunrise except for a few clouds in the vicinity of Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Brownsville. A little fog hovered along the coast.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 47 degrees at Dalhart up to 75 at El Paso.

Readings reached into the 80s and 90s Sunday afternoon, going as high as 94 at El Paso.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy weather with a little cooling in northern sections of the state and no change elsewhere.

Resignation Of Baum Suggested By Barnes

AUSTIN (AP)—Elmer Baum has done a fine job as state Democratic chairman but perhaps he ought to quit that post, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said Sunday.

The lieutenant governor's remark was made in talking to newsmen on a television show. "Dr. Baum is a good man and a good friend of mine," Barnes said.

"I think perhaps because of some of the recent events in Texas that Dr. Baum should give some consideration to perhaps devoting more of his time to his private practice of medicine."

"He has given many years to the Democratic party. He has done a very fine job and I am very grateful to him."

Baum, an osteopath, and Gov. Preston Smith split a $125,000 profit on the sale of insurance company stock they bought with unsecured loans from the now-defunct Sharpstown State Bank of Houston.

Both the company and the bank were controlled by Frank Sharp, one of the defendants in a Securities and Exchange Commission stock fraud suit.

The suit alleges that loans were made to several state officials to influence passage of a bill that would have permitted Sharp to avoid federal bank examiners. Smith vetoed the bill.

Neither Smith nor Baum is named in the suit.

Baum's appointment by Smith to the State Banking Board comes up for Senate confirmation after a hearing Thursday. Opponents say they have more than the 11 votes needed to block confirmation.

On other subjects Barnes said:

—He would have adjourned the Senate two or three days for study if a corporate income tax bill had passed last week. A private consulting firm had looked at the bill for Barnes and produced 27 pages of objections to the way it was written. The bill was defeated—15-16.

—He will make public a financial statement and income tax return within three weeks. Only Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, among statewide officials, has done this.

—He opposes an increase in interest rates on loans as proposed by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan and Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth.

TIME TO REPLACE THOSE WORN-OUT TIRES Creighton's Is Tire Center

Forty years of fast, friendly service have proven to Creighton Tire Co.'s customers that the Seiberling dealer is the place to go when you need tire service.

After checking the tires on your family car you may decide that it is time to replace those worn-out tires. If so, you can start out with a high-quality Seiberling tire from Creighton Tire Co.

Charlie Creighton or Dalton Carr sell tires for everything from a tractor to a boat trailer. Especially suited for ranch use are the sealed-air tubes that give puncture-proofing to any tire.

During its 40-year history, Creighton's has provided complete tire service: flats, wheel balancing, repairs and alignment.

The Seiberling Supreme Dynaguard 600 comes with a life-time guarantee and has a reputation for replacement for the first 30 per cent of the tread wear and pro rata replacement adjustment thereafter.

The cord body construction has four piles of polyester, two rayon belts, and a layer of puncture sealant for blowout protection.

The deep safety-chain tread has a wrap-around design that maximizes road contact and tread life to make the 600 the best tire at any price.

Another quality tire available at Creighton's is the Seiberling Supreme 150, a maximum performance tire with 4-ply polyester cord construction and thermovents to prevent blowout-causing internal heat buildup.

The Supreme 150 has up to 57 per cent greater cord body strength, 29 per cent wider tread and 16 per cent greater tread depth than the tires put on new cars at the factory.

Your choice may be the Superwide Sports tire with nylon cord construction, wide oval design and fiberglass belts to prevent stretch.

The Seiberling 200 has a chain tread design for safer starts and stops. The Safety 120 is a plus performance tire with strong 4-ply polyester cord construction.

Creighton Tire Co. now offers its customers the services of a repair truck should the need arise in the field or on the farm.

The truck is fully equipped to either repair tractor or truck tires, or should it be necessary, to replace them.

Whatever your need, Creighton's is the tire headquarters of Big Spring.

Film Processing Business Opens

For the fastest film development in Big Spring, Keaton Kolor, one of the city's newest businesses, is the place to go.

Keaton Kolor's convenient location, 1309 Gregg, offers one day service of Kodacolor and black and white roll film. The business has been open for business since 10 a.m. Monday.

It is film developing the easy way. Just come as you are to the drive-in window, leave your film one day and pick it up the next.

Because Keaton Kolor does their own processing and deals directly with customers, it is able to offer fast service and reasonable prices.

Quality is the keynote of Keaton Kolor where only the most modern equipment is used in the processing of your film. Kodak chemicals and resin-coated paper are used exclusively.

Keaton Kolor also enjoys splendid mail service. Mailers are sent to anyone requesting them with plant service one day after receipt of film.

The Gregg location of Keaton Kolor makes the fourth one opened in the southwest. There is a substation located at 3113 Sherwood Way in San Angelo, one at 3500 N. 6th in Abilene and one at the corner of Fourteenth and Barron in Abilene.

Keaton Kolor is a family-owned business operated by H. G. Keaton, Paul A. Keaton Sr., Paul A. Keaton Jr. and John Carroll.

So if you are tired of waiting a week or longer for your prints, come to Keaton Kolor and discover one-day film development.

Diamond Metal Carbide Plant Expanded

HOUSTON (AP) — A new manufacturing building that more than doubles the facilities of its Diamond Metal Alloys Division at Houston has been completed by G. W. Murphy Industries, Inc.

The structure is expected to be fully operational in about two weeks, board chairman and president George W. Murphy said Wednesday.

Completion of the building will enable the division to increase by 50 per cent its production of sintered tungsten carbide which Murphy Industries' petroleum and mining division uses in manufacturing bits of oil field, mining, tunnel boring and big hole drilling.

Charlie Chaplin, Eight Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Brandeis University has conferred its Rodale Creative Arts Awards to nine persons, including famed comedian Charlie Chaplin.

Also honored Sunday at the Whitney museum were sculptors Louise Nevelson and Claes Oldenburg; choreographer George Balanchine; film-maker Bruce Baillie; composer Earl Kim; composer-conductor John Harbison; and Richard Wilbur and James Wright.

Ruinous People

DALLAS (AP) — Vandalism and burglary in Dallas schools totaling $91,000 has nearly doubled the $50,000 allocated in the budget for such acts. The $50,000 was exhausted in February.

Carter's Offers Furniture Variety

Departmentalized for your convenience, Carter's Furniture features not only a large variety of furniture styles, but also carries accessories from decorator pillows to lamps and pictures.

Shown here is the Boga Cierito Dining Room Group 7000 by Drew. The table and chairs, buffet and china deck are made out of oak veneers and hardwood solids and come in an eye-appealing brown with just a whisper of shadowy antiquing.

Carved solid oak panels which are used tastefully, the paneling on drawer fronts that provide the attractive Moorish influence, and the larger case pieces having a piano-concave shaped front are the design features of which you will enthusiastically approve.

The china deck has a removable antiqued brass plated grill that is illuminated with inside light. This dining room group would make a perfect addition to any home.

Terry and Dorothy Carter and a well-trained staff are ready to help you find just the right piece or suite for your living room, dining area or bedroom.

Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Runnels, is the home decoration center for every style of furniture.

Deferments For Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr announced today authorization of deferments for doctors whose services are essential to their communities.

Tarr said each state must still provide its share of medical personnel in a special draft of doctors to begin in July and continue through January, 1972. The Defense Department has issued a call for the drafting of 1,600 physicians, including 1,531 medical doctors and 77 osteopaths.

Tarr said local boards are being instructed to review immediately the cases of registrants for the doctor draft when they receive information concerning how essential they are to their communities.

County 4-H Youths Win Nod To State Contest

Howard County 4-H youngsters won top honors at the Regional 4-H meet in Lubbock Saturday. The top qualifiers will compete in six events in the State 4-H Roundup June 2-4 at Texas A&M University.

Howard County, biggest winner of the day, took top awards in Civil Defense demonstration, farm and ranch management demonstration, horticulture demonstration, and share-the-fun. They took second place in the field crop demonstration and natural resources demonstrations.

Other counties to send teams to the state roundup are Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Swisher, Lubbock, Crosby, Mitchell, Dawson, Floyd, Borden, Lynn, Scurry and Yoakum counties.

Howard County winners were Jean Reed and Leola Jones, third junior vegetable preparation and use; Betty McIlvain and Buttons Moore, first senior Civil Defense; Martin Nichols and John Neil, third junior community improvement; and Gena Gross, blue award junior clothing educational activity. Jackie McDonald and Kent Robinson, second place electric field crops demonstration; Pat Fryar and Debbie Wall, first senior landscape horticulture; and Ann Nichols and Lynn Hopper, third junior landscape horticulture.

Annette Couch, third senior girls public speaking; Patty Peugh, third junior girls public speaking; Van Gaskins and David Long, first junior vegetable production award; and Connie Hughes and Mary Kay Hunt, first junior horse demonstration.

Carla Hunt and Jill Hunt, second senior field crops demonstration; Greg Gross and David Crawford, second junior field crops demonstration.

Attend Course

Mrs. Pernice Nail and Mrs. Rachel Shaffer, Howard County deputy sheriffs, are attending the law enforcement course this week at the Big Spring police station. The course is being offered to all women employed in law enforcement in the area.

Wreck Victims Are 'Serious'

Three persons, injured in a two-car collision Saturday that claimed the life of one woman, are listed in serious condition in local hospitals this morning.

Killed was Mrs. Horace F. Jarrett, 413 Edwards. The victim's 72-year-old husband and Mrs. Mary L. Lawrence, 67, are in intensive care at Medical Center Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Lawrence was a passenger in the Jarrett auto.

James L. Harris, 51, the driver of the second vehicle, is in serious condition at Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

The accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on SH 350 near the entrance to Mt. Olive Cemetery. The two vehicles collided as Jarrett was attempting to turn into the cemetery. Mrs. Jarrett died at 9:30 p.m. at Hall-Bennett Hospital.

'Litter Alert' Day Is Slated Tuesday

Tuesday will be the fourth day of Big Spring's "Give a Hoot Week."

Litter alerts will be broadcast by local radio stations asking people to clean up the area around them.

The week's activities so far have included "Major Clean-up" day on Saturday, when a small mountain of trash was collected by volunteers from civic clubs all over the city.

The trash is on display at the Texas Electric Co. parking lot on Fourth and Rannels. It will be picked up by city crews Wednesday.

Houston Cougars Join Southwest Conference

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Southwest Conference voted the University of Houston into the league today the first change in the membership since Texas Tech was admitted 15 years ago.

The vote was unanimous. The Cougars needed only six votes from the eight conference members. Houston, a long-time independent, will not compete for the conference football championship until 1976, although it already has games scheduled with members such as a Sept. 11 contest with Rice.

Alan Chapman, Rice faculty representative to the conference, to be admitted and this was seconded by J. Neils Thompson, faculty representative of Texas, who was the prime supporter of Houston's bid to become a league member.

Southwest Conference faculty representatives and athletic directors had resumed their discussion of the Houston question at 8:30 a.m. today after a nine-hour session Sunday.

The Houston situation apparently hit a last-minute snag Sunday. Newsman had been told to stand by for a news conference at 1 p.m. but no announcement was made.

Houston has about 25,000 students.

Commissioner Bill Crooker, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, and Hollis Randall, road and bridge superintendent, were appointed to a committee to implement the system.

Shortly before noon, commissioners were deliberating over the approval of a bid for the supply of gravel for the road and bridge department. W. D. Caldwell Inc. submitted a bid which included the cost of labor and machinery, but bid specifications called only for the supply of gravel, according to County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

Big Spring Gravel Co., the apparent low bidder, submitted bids of $7,141.25, $5,280.25 and $4,205 on the three grades of gravel specified.

Midland Sand and Gravel Co. submitted bids of $7,204.20, $5,276.50 and $4,341.50. W. D. Caldwell Inc. bids, which included gravel spreader and labor, were $9,181.25, $6,770.75 and $5,301.50.

County fathers received a letter of appreciation from the Howard County Bar Association for the conference room in the jail floor which the county has furnished for use by lawyers and their jailed clients.

County Judge Mitchell read to the court a letter of praise from the highway department.

Explosion Possibly Started Club Blaze

An explosion possibly preceded the fire that destroyed the Next Generation Club building, Fourth and Gregg, Friday night, according to fire officials.

"We talked to a woman who heard an explosion at the time of the fire, and we believe someone helped the fire to start by throwing a torch into the building after soaking it with a flammable liquid," said A. D. Meador, fire chief.

Fire officials estimated the fire loss on the building between $15,000 to $25,000. The building burned to the ground leaving only two walls standing.

The building was insured for $15,000 by Omar Jones, owner.

"The way that thing burned and as fast as it went up, we cannot tell exactly what was used to start the fire," said Meador.

The fire is suspected to have been started in the southwest part of the building because of a wooden handstand that was not burned at the back of the building, Meador explained.

The building was vacant with nothing on the inside and the only thing that could burn was the ceiling and roof, the chief had explained earlier.

Jones had agreed to donate the building toward a teen center proposal still in the making in the first meeting on the teen club initiative sponsored by the 1967 Hyperion Club.

There was some smoke and water damage to the First Assembly of God Church directly to the west of the Next Generation Club building. Most of the damage to the church was to the carpet and some furniture that was charred by the heat, it was reported.

The city fire department is still continuing investigation into the cause of the fire, according to Chief Meador.

The 1,300 telephones put out of commission by Friday's fire in the Next Generation Club were all back in operation by 11 p.m. Saturday.

The two burned cables, one with 900 pairs of wires and the other with 400 pair of wires, isolated the 400 community telephones from contact with Big Spring.

"Also, more than 800 local telephones were cut off completely during the 24-hour black-out," said Harry Sawyer, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Crews from Midland joined local crews in the arduous task of repairing the lines. Each pair of wires had to be laboriously traced and spliced into the new cables.

The repairs are permanent, according to Sawyer, and no more interruptions to service are expected.

"The cost of the repairs is not in their yet," he said, "but it was a pretty expensive operation."

Mrs. Horace F. Jarrett, First County Fatality

Funeral for Mrs. Horace F. (Violet) Jarrett, 71, will be at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Leo Gee, pastor, officiating. Assisted by the Rev. Elra Phillips.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home. The Rebekah Lodge will participate in part of the services.

Mrs. Jarrett died about 9:30 p.m. Saturday night following an accident about two hours earlier near the entrance to Mt. Olive Cemetery northeast of town. She was the first accident fatality on county roads this year.

Mrs. Jarrett was born Feb. 10, 1900, in San Antonio. She was married in 1939 in Big Spring. She was employed by Swartz for about 15 years.

She was a member of the Laura B. Hart Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star No. 1019.

Survivors include her husband, who is in Medical Center Memorial Hospital in serious condition being treated for injuries received in the Saturday night mishap in which Mrs. Jarrett died; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Lillian Baker, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Bob Swinson, Baird; a number of cousins, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Survivors include three children, Marlene Lindsey, Scheryl Lindsey and Stacey Lindsey, all of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Petty, Welch; one sister, Mrs. J. L. Proctor, Temple; and one brother, Alvin Petty, Dickens.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church of Welch with the Rev. J. R. Williams, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the O'Donnell Cemetery under direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Survivors include three children, Marlene Lindsey, Scheryl Lindsey and Stacey Lindsey, all of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Petty, Welch; one sister, Mrs. J. L. Proctor, Temple; and one brother, Alvin Petty, Dickens.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church here with the Rev. Warren G. Hall, pastor, officiating, assisted by Wayne Zuck, minister of the Wayne Church of Christ. Masonic graveside rites

LOVE WARMS A LION'S HEART — Dixie Middleton accepts the wet kiss of Vici, who was to be put to death 18 months ago. His original owner did not take proper care of Vici, a male lion, so Vici was brought to the Small Animal Clinic at Michigan State University to be killed. Miss Middleton nursed the lion that could not even lift his head due to malnutrition until he now weighs over 100 pounds, about one-fourth what he should weigh.

IRS Losing $1.5 Billion Due To Manpower 'Savings'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is losing about $1.5 billion in revenue because the Internal Revenue Service was required to make manpower and spending economies which saved only $250 million, IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower says.

Thus, he said, the Treasury loss was $6 for every $1 saved.

Thrower gave the figures to a House Appropriations subcommittee to support the agency's request for a $108.6 million budget increase "to put tax administration in a healthier position."

The testimony, given March 24, was made public today.

Manpower available to audit tax returns is at its lowest level since 1963, Thrower said, down 12 per cent from 1968.

"A person who files an erroneous, fraudulent or delinquent return this year is more than likely to continue that practice next year and the year after unless he is corrected," Thrower said.

He said the backlog of delinquent accounts to be collected increased from 609,000 to 788,000 in two years and the uncollected amount now stands at $1.8 billion.

Cocaine Smuggler Dies In Dallas County Jail

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Louis Robertson, 48, convicted in a cocaine smuggling conspiracy trial last week, collapsed and died in the Dallas County jail Sunday.

A doctor attributed death to a heart attack.

Robertson was found guilty last Wednesday on five counts of conspiring to smuggle and sell cocaine.

Prince Charles' Polo Team Wins

WINDSOR PARK, England (AP) — Prince Charles' polo team, Friar Park, has trounced his father's Windsor Park side 8 to 3 1/2 after conceding half a goal on handicap.

The 22-year-old Prince scored four of his team's tallies Sunday; his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, went scoreless.

Charles' cousin, Prince William of Gloucester, scored one of Windsor Park's goals.

The match was in the semifinals of the Rodney Moore Cup.

NEW CONCEPT — This eye-catching structure at West Point, Ga., built of nylon fabric, and urethane foam, represents a new concept in environmental living.

BATHROOM — Four persons can bathe at the same time in the uniquely designed bathroom of foam house.

Foam House Proves It Can Be Done

WEST POINT, Ga. (AP) — It doesn't take wood, brick and mortar to build a house. Nylon fabric, weather balloons and foam do the job nicely.

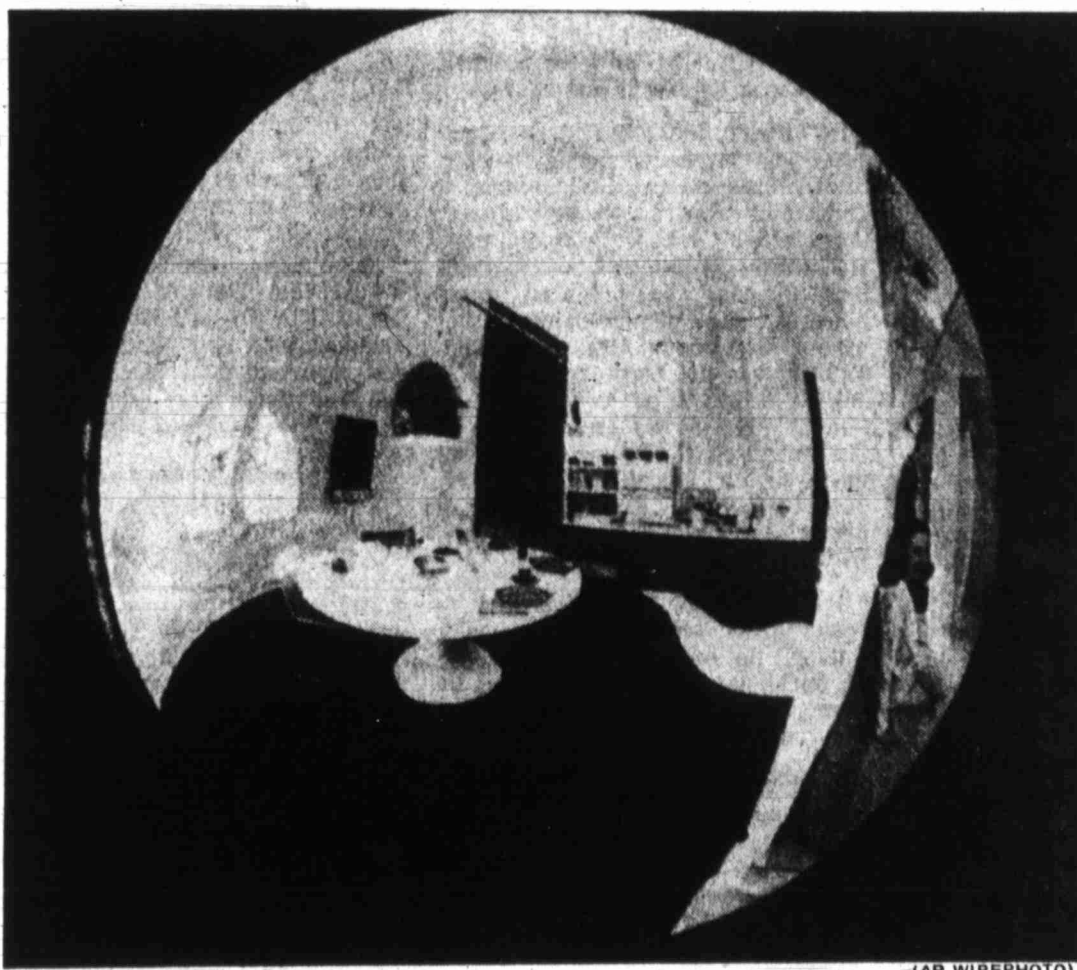

A local industrial firm has built a demonstration foam house of the future on a lake-shore to show how easily it can be done.

Industrial nylon was used as the shell of the house. Weather balloons held it up in the proper shape during construction.

Urethane foam was sprayed over the shell to create the series of domes that make up the home.

Most of the furniture also is fabric and foam and is built right in. The house even has foam windows and skylights. Its builders say sitting in the dining room gives the impression of sitting on the edge of the lake. Lying in bed, one can see the stars.

"Because of the many domes used as skylights and the unusually shaped windows placed strategically at many offbeat locations, there is an exciting blending of the natural decor of the outdoors with that of the rooms," said a spokesman for the builders, West Point Pepperell.

DINING ROOM — The dining room of foam house is viewed through a porthole window.

South Vietnam Militiamen Claim 92 Commies Killed

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made a new shelling attack today on a South Vietnamese military district headquarters south of Da Nang despite heavy losses there Sunday.

For an hour before dawn the enemy gunners fired 60 mortar and recoilless rifle shells into the Dai Loc headquarters 15 miles southwest of Da Nang. A communique said one house was damaged and there were no casualties.

CAPTURES WEAPONS Just 24 hours before, North Vietnamese forces made a ground assault under the cover of darkness against the headquarters. The infantry attack was preceded by a shelling.

Salon headquarters said the North Vietnamese were repulsed with the help of U.S. air strikes, and 92 of the enemy were killed and two were captured. The South Vietnamese militiamen defending the headquarters reported capturing 33 rifles and 12 heavy weapons. Field reports said 15 militiamen were killed and 53 were wounded.

Two other actions were reported in the same region.

Five rockets were fired into an artillery base of the U.S. Americal Division four miles southeast of Dai Loc. The U.S. Command said some Americans were wounded, but none were killed.

BOOBY TRAPS South Korean marines operating 10 miles southeast of Dai Loc said they rounded up 48 persons suspected of being Viet Cong. A communique said the suspects were hiding in a cave, known, a spokesman said.

Calf Plays Hard To Get, Turns Tide In Rope Match

By STEVE HULTMAN

One ornery calf was all that stood between Glenn Franklin and Ronny Sewalt in the third annual Big Spring roping contest held Sunday at the Rodeo Bowl.

Franklin and Sewalt were neck and neck on the first three calves, with Franklin 22 seconds under Sewalt's time.

Then Franklin roped a calf in good time but was unable to quickly tie up the hard kicking calf. Franklin's time of 42.6 seconds on his fourth calf put him out of contention for the match, despite an excellent showing for the rest of the 10-calf match.

Sewalt took the prize money for the third year in a row. The two previous years he has defeated Barry Burk, Duncan, Okla.

Franklin's time of 10.5 seconds on his last calf was the best time of the day in both the matched roping and the jackpot roping. But his total time of 174.7 seconds for 10 calves was still greater than Sewalt's 160.4 seconds.

The average time for Sewalt was 16.04 seconds and the average time for Franklin was 17.47 seconds. The men were competing for a $500 purse, and Franklin has agreed to a return match with Sewalt next year.

The three-calf jackpot roping was won by Sherrill Overluff with an average per calf of 12.53 seconds and a total time of 37.6 seconds.

Franklin with a total time of 98.5 seconds, third was Rex Bland with a total time of 99.2 seconds and fourth was Ed Workman with a total time of 40.6 seconds.

Sewalt was on his way to placing in the money until he tried to tie his third calf. When he saw he had taken too much time and the calf was still kicking, he turned it loose.

The best individual time in the first run was 11.2 seconds. Rex Bland and Mike Howell both had that time and split first and second place money.

Third place went to Sherrill Overluff, with a time of 11.4 seconds and fourth went to Ernie Taylor with a time of 12.2 seconds.

The best time for the second run was Tim Prather's 10.7 seconds. Second was Warren Wuthier's 11.4 seconds, third was James Taylor's 11.9 seconds and fourth was Rex Bland's 12.4 seconds.

The third run top time was Franklin's 10.7 seconds, second was a tie between Rex Prather and Wade Lewis with 10.9 seconds flat.

After the four-hour event was over, most of the 32 ropers signed up for another jackpot contest for one calf. The ropers were still roping long after most spectators had left for home.

Rate Increase Is Possible

City commissioners and administration personnel were scheduled to meet in special session today at 4 p.m. in city hall to discuss water and sewer rate increases.

"We have two ordinances prepared, one on water and one on sewer rates, and from what was said in the last special session held Thursday the ordinances may be voted on in today's meeting," said Larry Crow, city manager.

A proposal by Jack Watkins, commissioner, that the water rates be raised 30 cents on the minimum and five cents for additional thousands of gallons consumed was agreed on by all commissioners Thursday.

Ain't Necessarily So

Now that May 18 is on proposed constitutional amendments, perhaps it is well to take a sober (no pun intended) look at the effects of the liquor-by-the-drink bill signed into law recently by Gov. Preston Smith. Many had assumed that every town or county would immediately vote May 18 on whether to allow this practice. Not so.

The legislature passed the bill as a sequel to the 65,000-vote margin in a statewide referendum last November. But only in those 46 counties which had approved the constitutional amendment to legalize sale of liquor by the drink could there be an immediate referendum. Not so with other counties. Thus, there are some important distinctions to be understood about the new liquor law.

First, local option elections are automatic before liquor-by-the-drink can be sold.

Further, these elections are automatic — they will and must be held — in those 46 counties or parts thereof which approved the amendment in November.

But in the other 208 counties which opposed the amendment local option elections will not be automatic. And, in fact, it will be most difficult even to have any at all, for the normal local option election procedures are retained in this historic new bill. These provide that to call an election, petitioners must collect signatures within a 30-day period of 25 per cent of the number of persons who voted in the 1968 gubernatorial election.

The impact of the liquor bill, then, is to let those counties which historically have drunk and voted wet, to have local option elections for bars, and to make it well nigh impossible to bring about an election where the majority of opinion is against this.

The Negligence Rule

Almost incidentally, as verandians to a bill permitting a 10 to 2 jury verdict in civil cases where liability is based on fault, the Legislature has come to grips with the contributory negligence rule and the question of special issues in civil cases.

Under the contributory negligence rule, an injured party may collect nothing if it can be proved that he contributed to an accident by negligence of the slightest degree. Now the legislature has substituted for it a comparative negligence rule. It will permit juries to determine the degree of fault shared by the drivers of automobiles in accidents and assess damages according to the degree of fault. If, for instance, a loss of $50,000 was determined fair, but the injured party was 50 per cent to blame, the award could be $25,000.

The measure also calls on the Texas Supreme Court to promulgate rules simplifying the special issue practice in Texas. Special issues, in the form of questions to be answered by jurors, are the bane of juries and lawyers alike. Sometimes as many as 100 questions are asked of a jury. Many of the questions are so cleverly contrived that it is impossible for the average juror to know the final effect of his verdict. One answer may to some degree bring a contradiction of another. The jury may decide that a plaintiff is entitled to "X" dollars in damages, only to be trapped by special issues and deny damages to the plaintiff. It is illogical to continue a system which may not permit a jury to determine the effect of its verdict.

Cyclists' Safety

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Motorcyclists who tool about our streets and highways must be a hardy breed. How else would they survive? Most take a dim view of the driving habits of the average motorist, mainly because the average man's driving habits are suspect.

The knights on the two-wheelers likely have been forced into the assumption that every motorist is out to destroy them. For that reason, they have to be very, very careful. And, because most of them are careful, they may be more qualified to be abroad than you or me.

THE ACCIDENT RATE involving motorcycles might be considered alarming but many of the mishaps could be avoided if motorists were better trained to look for motorcyclists.

Drivers of four-wheeled vehicles are trained to watch for other four-wheeled vehicles, but, regrettably, they don't often make allowances for two-wheeled machines.

ON MANY OCCASIONS, the motorcyclist will be in plain view and will have the right-of-way on a public street but the average motorist is apt to regard him as an optical illusion, something that in reality isn't there.

Because many motorists are inattentive to regard motorcyclists as interlopers (and far-out people besides), they are apt to use their vehicles to try and force the two-wheelers off the road and onto a sidewalk or into a ditch.

You can imagine how the cyclists resent this.

OF COURSE, it is small comfort to the cyclists to be told that in accidents involving autos and motorcycles the person at the wheel of the automobile is in the wrong more than half the time. The motorist, of course, can approach this type of involvement with true grit, because his chances for survival are infinitely greater.

Older cyclists are less likely to be involved in mishaps because they reason the safety factor can't be over-emphasized. Too many youngsters over-estimate the reliability of their steeds and their ability to handle their machines.

MANY CYCLISTS reason they can handle a two-wheeler the first time they climb into the saddle. However, they wouldn't think of getting behind the wheel of an automobile and steering it into traffic for the first time without advance instruction.

The best riders employ a double defense in hopes of survival. They not only use every precaution when in motion but try to anticipate what the motorist driving alongside him is going to do.

Eyes On Red China

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — There is of course a "Red China Lobby," just as there has been for 10, these many years, a Nationalist China Lobby. But the new lobby is not composed of naive Ping-pong players and their fawning tributes to the Peking regime. It is composed of American businessmen who want a piece of the action.

THIS DOES NOT mean General Motors or du Pont subversive. One need not embrace a government's ideology to seek the profits waiting to be made by trade with Mao's captive nation. European countries have been reaping those profits for years, with the fastest share going to our leading anti-Communist client, West Germany. No one has suggested that Japan will go Marxist because it sells to Red China.

So what I suppose must be called Big Business is merely looking for a new market. Big Labor also has a stake in this search, since its primary aim is still more jobs, if only to secure the lucrative posts of members of its executive suite.

IN SHORT, there is still no strong grassroots surge demanding that the United States recognize Communist China and support its admittance to the United Nations. Sen. George McGovern's resolution favoring admission has not produced mass marches and demonstrations supporting his stand. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell has not been forced to call out the troops to put down a revolution by Maoists. So far, indeed, all the overtures to Peking have been made by a Republican President named Richard Nixon, who can hardly be described as a fellow traveler.

WHAT NIXON has done is try to open up a serious dialogue with Peking. He believes that the cause of world peace would be served by a regularization of relations between the U.S. and Red China. But he has promised nothing, thank heaven. Thank heaven, because there is still a long way to go. One Ping-pong match does not a policy make, and although Peking apparently has softened its attitude toward Washington, there is yet no reason to believe that the Mao regime is really interested in going all the way to diplomatic relations with the U.S. and accepting a UN seat.

THERE IS A quality of both respectability and reason in the "Stop Red China" campaign launched by the Committee of One Million, headed by the respected and highly informed Dr. Walter Judd, a former congressman to China and former missionary from Minnesota. Like most such groups, Judd's committee tends to specialize in hyperbole, painting Communist China as a nation of unregenerated barbarians. But it is a force for caution, and that is good.

FOR EXAMPLE Judd has noted "political pressures" aimed at forcing President Nixon to accept Mao's terms. As I read his words, he is not talking about Maoist kooks storming the White House, but about those pressures brought in more subtle fashion by business and labor unions. That's where the muscle is. Some administration sources have leaked the intelligence that Nixon would like to establish diplomatic relations with Red China before next year's Presidential election. I hope they're wrong. The problem is too complex to be viewed as just another political ploy.

Cuckoo Pox

LONDON (AP) — The cuckoo is multiplying faster than any other British bird, a census by the Trust for Ornithology shows. But skylarks, thrushes and linnets are losing ground.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I moved to another city and am lonely because I haven't been able to find any friends. I attended several churches and found them unfriendly. One church was very friendly, but I can't agree with some of their customs. What should I do? M.B. Have you thought that possibly there was a relationship between the warm friendliness of the people and their religious faith? It may be that they were so friendly because they honestly care for you and wish to be of some help to you. You will perhaps never find a group of people with whom you will entirely agree. I would encourage you to accept their offer of friendship, overlook the minor differences, and if they have a sincere faith in Christ, and wish to found their faith on the teaching of the Bible, I would definitely pursue further the possibility of friendship with them. If they were sincere in their friendliness, you may find among them some lifelong companions, as well as a fellowship that is peculiar to those who love God.

A Devotion For Today...

I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. (Psalm 104:33)
PRAYER: Thank You, dear God, for making Jesus a human being like the rest of us. We thank You for all the reminders of our kinship with Christ, for His teaching us to pray: "Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Performance, Not Age

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is it a man's age or the way he actually fulfills his duties which should determine whether he ought to be retired from his job in the government? Vice President Agnew, in his recent speech at New Orleans, devoted himself particularly to the controversy over the age of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as he analyzed the work of that agency. He declared:

"HOOVER'S critics continue their drive to get rid of him. One of their principal arguments that he is 76 years old — six years beyond the mandatory retirement age for federal executives. President Johnson issued an executive order exempting Mr. Hoover from that requirement and President Nixon asked the vigorous director to continue in the job. You don't judge a man's worth or his competence by his age, and that certainly holds true in Washington as well as elsewhere."

"Three justices of the Supreme Court are over 70. The senior member, Mr. Justice Black, is 85 years old and still going strong."

"TWELVE UNITED STATES senators among those who list their age in the Congressional directory are over 70, and four of them are 75 or over, including the 80-year-old chairman of the Senate appropriations committee. I haven't heard any Hoover critics in the Senate calling on their colleagues to resign."

"At least 14 members of the House of Representatives among those who list their age are over 70, including the 82-year-old chairman of the House Judiciary committee and four other committee chairmen. And I don't hear any Hoover critics in the House calling on them to resign."

"But still we find those, who try to make some issue of Mr. Hoover's age."

"NO, I think it is something more than age that is the real issue in the effort to drive J. Edgar Hoover out of office. A more likely explanation is the fact that he is anathema to the new left and extremist minds of every stripe, and he doesn't mince words in calling attention to them as dangerous to the country.

The vice president made a comprehensive explanation of the FBI's operations and declared that Mr. Hoover has kept the Federal Bureau of Investigation out of politics during his service under 10 presidents — Republicans and Democrats — and under 19 attorneys general. He noted that there has been a relatively low turnover rate among FBI agents, more than half of whom have been with the bureau for periods from 10 to 25 years or more.

MR. AGNEW pointed out that the bureau has an outstanding record of convictions and that last year over 96 per cent of the persons brought to trial in cases investigated by the FBI were convicted, 83 per cent of them as a result of guilty pleas.

"Also, during the last fiscal year, FBI instructors assisted in the training of more than a quarter of a million local police officers at schools throughout the country."

The fingerprint division, started by Director Hoover in 1924, houses the records of more than 86 million people — the largest collection of fingerprints in the world. These are used in identifying thousands of people each year, accident victims as well as fugitives.

THE VICE PRESIDENT observed that the FBI brings in more money than the cost of its operations. In last fiscal year, FBI investigations accounted for nearly 411 million dollars in fines, savings and recoveries — an average return of $1.60 for every dollar appropriated for the bureau.

They're Angry About Taxes

John Cunneiff

NEW YORK (AP) — Small and independent businesses are smothering a lot of anger these days.

They feel bypassed by thinkers and legislators who deal mainly with the extremes of big business power or the small man's poverty.

Because they have time only for work, because their means are moderate, their goals modest and their attainments while important to their communities — of no great national significance, they feel overlooked, ignored.

These are some of the impressions you receive from talking with people at the National Federation of Independent Business and reading the letters they write when polled on national issues, as they are continually.

Some of these smoldering frustrations will burst through May 17 in Washington, when hundreds of businessmen are expected to gather for a conference titled: "Independent Business Speaks Out."

Listed as a listener and speaker is a president Richard Nixon.

What do the polls show disturbed independent businessmen? No surprise at all; they're angry about taxes, and they want reform. While much of America looks upon taxes as a decided nuisance or as the means to social reform, independent business views them as the power to destroy.

Big business can live with big taxes, they maintain, but small business is being destroyed. And so taxes were at the top of a recent survey by NFIB, which operates out of San Mateo, Calif.

Inflation was next, followed in order by labor law reform, welfare reform, insurance, crime and paperwork.

Here are some examples of why they feel squeezed by changes in society and by the country's concern with dealing with the extremes while sometimes ignoring the middle.

—Minimum wages are now $1.20 an hour and such legislation to increase it may be desirable, but the net effect is to deprive them of apprentices.

"No employer will pay a worker more than he is worth simply because of a government edict," the federation recently stated. And so, they maintain, they have been deprived of a source of unskilled help, and the nation has been deprived of their services as trainers of apprentices.

—Big businesses can deal with paperwork because it can hire the clerical help and install the computers. But proprietors find it nearly impossible to understand and work with the maze of government forms and reports.

The federation doesn't say how it arrived at the figure, but it maintains that "encumbering paperwork and government reporting costs independent business up to $3 billion a year."

Gee, What A Mother

Hal Boyle

By JOY STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Like everything else, they just don't make Mothers Days any more like they used to.

Not that I won't get my share of presents this year. In fact, now that my kids are earning money on their own I'm very likely to be generously remembered.

But the nicest floral arrangement, the tastiest assortment of candy or the most fashionable wearables can't compare with the gifts I received from my children when they were little.

Nothing they can ever give me. The future will come up to those objects made by loving hands at school.

After all, how can you run a household properly without a napkin holder made of one paper plate and one-half a paper plate stabled together, complete with crayon designs and a string for hanging?

And how can you keep your shoes shining without a soft blue polishing cloth with "Mother" spelled out in red basting stitches? What mom would not proudly wear a rattle-like bar pin made of toothpicks stuck together, emblazoned with her name laboriously glued thereto in macaroni letters?

There's no finer place to keep jewelry than in a box, created from gilded ice cream sticks, which looks somewhat like a golden log cabin with a roof that lifts off.

Sometimes there were tears along with the laughter on Mothers Day. One year my daughter had made a plaster of paris cast of her hand in her first-grade class. She was so excited at the presentation ceremony that she dropped it. The plaque was shattered and so was she.

On a happier occasion my son, then nearing 5, presented me with an interesting but unidentifiable object. It was a tiny basketlike affair, made of several layers of crimped aluminum foil with a silver-ball keychain for a handle.

He insisted on knowing if I realized what treasures beheld and seemed a bit crestfallen when I couldn't come up with the answer.

"It's a walnut holder," he said proudly. "It holds just one walnut."

"It's a walnut holder," he said proudly. "It holds just one walnut."

"It's a walnut holder," he said proudly. "It holds just one walnut."

"It's a walnut holder," he said proudly. "It holds just one walnut."

Talk Over Woes Of Border Towns

NOGALES, Mexico (AP) — President Luis Echeverria worked late into Sunday night at a crash meeting of government officials trying to solve some of the many problems of Mexican border towns and states. The meeting continues Monday.

The president came to Nogales Sunday on his 21st week-end working trip since taking office Dec. 1 and immediately plunged into an hours-long work session in a movie house with cabinet members, government officials and local farmers.

They discussed, mostly in prepared statements, such problems as the need for bilingual education, ways to increase commerce with the United States and how to bring public services into an area so hinged to the U.S. economy that many Mexican border towns— including Nogales—get their electricity from across the border.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Gustavo Petricoli said some restrictions on the import of goods from the United States for use by Mexican border residents will be lifted.

"We cannot satisfy a demand by placing restrictions," he said. "What the border requires, more than prohibitive measures, are others which permit the fulfillment in an adequate form of the needs of consumer goods which are not produced by national industry or which are made only occasionally.

"As a consequence, import quotas will be authorized based on the real border demand, and duties will be abolished in order that these goods can be acquired at accessible prices without crossing the border."

He added that the government will protect national industry and try to avoid damaging Mexico's balance of payments by removing federal excise taxes from some Mexican-made goods sold in the border area. This, he indicated, will stimulate Mexican industry to try to sell more goods in the border areas.

The cabinet members announced several moves to stimulate income in the area. Mario Moya Palencia, Minister of Interior, said restrictions against U.S. technicians coming into Mexico to set up or repair manufacturing plants along the border are being eased and immigration procedures smoothed for tourists.

TRIAL SCHEDULED

Two Policemen Accused Of Killing Prisoner

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP)—Two Houston policemen accused of murdering a prisoner are scheduled to go on trial here today.

The case was moved here from Houston after lawyers for the state and defense agreed that publicity would deny the two a fair trial in Houston.

J. A. McMahon, 22, and A. N. Hill, 28, are charged with the death of Bobby Joe Conner, 22. They were suspended from the Houston police force after the charge was filed last spring.

Conner died after being questioned by the two officers in the police station of suburban Galena Park. Conner and a companion, Larry Taylor, 24, were being questioned about an alleged auto theft.

Taylor had to undergo abdominal surgery for injuries after the questioning. The two officers are white and the two suspects black men.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Ernst said he will ask Dist. Judge Terry L. Jacks for a ruling today on his contention that the officers may be tried for murder with malice because they were committing a federal felony when they allegedly were beating Conner.

Ernst claimed the officers were violating the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

If he is not allowed to use this legal argument, Ernst said, he may have a hard time proving murder with malice because of the difficulty of showing intent.

Under Texas law, a person who kills during the commission of a felony—whether the death was intended or not—may be convicted of murder with malice, which carries the death penalty. The maximum penalty for murder without malice is five years.

Defense lawyers Richard Haynes and Fred Dailey contend there is no basis in law for Ernst's theory.

Mrs. Gandhi Digs Gospel Singer

Mrs. Sara Miller, nursing supervisor at Presbyterian, said the quads are in fair condition in their incubators. She added that their mother, Mrs. Clifford James Ward, is tired.

She and her husband had arrived at the hospital early Saturday morning to be somewhat shaken, but elated, by the multiple births that evening. The couple had expected twins.

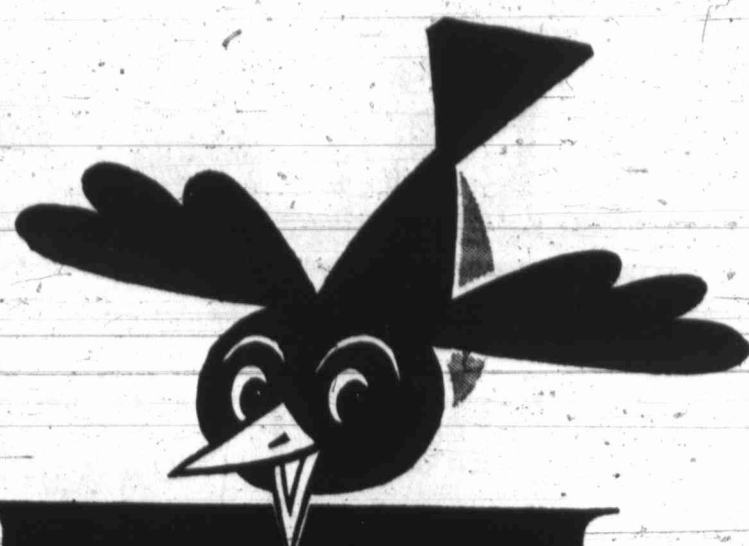

Mrs. Miller said the babies were weighed Sunday—the boys at 5 pounds, and 4 pounds, 12 ounces; the girls at 4 pounds, 9½ ounces, and 4 pounds, 4 ounces. All will stay at Presbyterian until each weighs 5 pounds, she said.

Mrs. Ward probably will leave in about 10 days, too.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi postponed a meeting and stayed to the end as the American gospel singer, Mahalia Jackson, extended a scheduled 90-minute concert to nearly three hours.

"The audience was so great that she did not want to stop singing," one of Miss Jackson's assistants said of the Sunday night concert.

Mrs. Gandhi, accompanied by U.S. Ambassador Kenneth B. Feating, had left the auditorium at the scheduled end of the concert. But when the audience of 1,000 refused to leave and Miss Jackson came back for an encore, Mrs. Gandhi returned to her seat.

One-Day School Boycott Called

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — A Mexican-American group has issued a call for a one-day school boycott here on Wednesday, a Mexican holiday, to protest what a spokesman called the "callous attitude of the school administration."

The group's leaders include two former school trustees and a former mayor pro-tem. Spokesmen said the boycott will protest what they termed a lack of Mexican-American professional staff members in San Marcos schools.

Wednesday is Cinco de Mayo, a national holiday in Mexico. Retired school trustee Augustine Lucio said the Mexican-American community here has been trying for a decade to get more Mexican-American professional personnel.

After recent meetings with school officials, he said, the group decided the school district is "not going to act in good faith to meet our just and reasonable demands."

Lucio said Mexican-Americans comprise 59.4 per cent of the enrollment of the district and that "with 10 years of prodding and federal program requirements, the system has only 6.7 per cent Mexican-American professionals."

Former board president Celestino Mendez said the group first wants the board to admit that a problem exists and that there is a need for more minority teachers, and then the group hopes to negotiate issues like bilingual education.

Girl Killed By Window In Playhouse

DALLAS (AP) — A playhouse window slammed shut Sunday and strangled Sharon Kay Wilkerson, 3, as it pinned her neck to the sill.

Her parents found the child dead in their back yard. She was the daughter of a city homicide detective, H. O. Wilkerson. Officers said the little girl had been playing in the fenced yard with a dog and this is what apparently happened:

She set a concrete block beside the playhouse, stood up on it, raised the window and stuck her head inside. As the window unexpectedly dropped, the block rolled from beneath her feet and she was left dangling helplessly.

A neighbor telephoned the Wilkersons that she appeared to be hanging from the window and they learned that had happened.

Deputy Sheriff Pete Anzaldua, 43, was shot and wounded while escorting a prisoner to the San Patricio County jail Saturday night.

He arrested a young man for a traffic violation, a scuffle developed on the first floor of the courthouse and the officer was shot with his own pistol, Sheriff Wayne Hitt said.

Anzaldua, wounded in the stomach, was reported in critical condition at a Corpus Christi hospital.

The sheriff said Anzaldua's prisoner was held without immediate charge.

Find Auto Of Slain Minister

TERRELL, Tex. (AP) — Officers closely examined today an automobile found abandoned here that proved to be the vehicle of a Shreveport minister whose body was found in weeds west of the Louisiana city last Thursday.

A spokesman for the Caddo Parish coroner said the Rev. Wallace G. Garrett, 41, died of a severe beating about the face and body.

The body was identified Sunday when some of his parishioners at St. James Episcopal Church became worried when he failed to show up for services.

The spokesman said the Rev. Mr. Garrett's absence was not noted sooner since he was to have attended a meeting in Alexandria and then gone on a fishing trip.

He had been vicar of the Shreveport church since 1962. He was a native of Macon, Ga.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K103 ♥J97 ♦A63 ♣AK105

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♣ Dbld. 1 ♠ Pass

What is your response?

A.—Two spades. In this sequence of bidding North's response is not forcing. When a bid is made over an adverse double, a strong raise in clubs on the next round, responder's proper procedure is to redouble. This hand has some attractive features, however, and a raise is recommended. Without a heart stopper, the raise is infinitely superior to a rebid of one no trump.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ93 ♥63 ♦KJ6 ♣AK52

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♠

Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?

What is your response?

A.—Three diamonds. This may seem a bit irregular in view of the fact that we have such a distinct preference for clubs, but the bid is employed in a temporizing manner. The hand must be bid in such a way as to convince partner that he should bid a slam if he is not faced with a loss of two quick heart tricks. The jump in diamonds will be followed by a strong raise in clubs on the next round. Investigation by means of Blackwood will not be helpful for partner might have the materials of slam in a hand that contains only one ace.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQ10632 ♥5 ♦9 ♣K10876

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass

3 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Four clubs. Opposite an opening bid which counts 18 points in high cards, your hand holds forth good prospects of a slam. Partner's action over your four club bid should prove enlightening. He will realize you have 10 or 11 cards in the black suits and if he holds the controls he will be in position to bid a slam.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable. Your right hand opponent has opened with one spade and you hold:

♠AKQ32 ♥843 ♦7 ♣A98

What action do you take?

A.—None. Pass and let nature take its course. A big deterrent for doubling or naming the spade suit at this point.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ1052 ♥AS ♦A7 ♣AK4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass

What action do you take?

A.—A slam bid is called for and six spades is our choice. It is reasonable to expect partner to produce two kings and a queen which would give you a splendid play for slam, depending on the spade finesse at worst.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A73 ♥KJ1063 ♦J10 ♣KQ8

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Six no trump. With this balanced hand containing distributed values, no effort should be made to play at a suit. Partner has at least 14 points in high cards and you have 14, plus added features, which are sufficient for a small slam contract, but not enough to justify a try for the grand slam.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ ♥8 ♦AKQ1074 ♣QJ5

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♣ 1 ♥ Dbld. Pass

What action do you take?

A.—We would give no thought to standing for the double, but would prefer to proceed on to game and conceivably even a slam. There are several courses open. Our preferred call is a cue bid of two hearts, forcing to game.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠102 ♥Q643 ♦KJ64 ♣983

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass Pass

2 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. We do not favor a raise to three hearts which would be an invitation to proceed to game. It must be recalled that partner did not advertise a very strong hand. Had partner desired to indicate strength his proper procedure would have been a takeout double of two diamonds.

Mother's Day

—Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hardly know how to word this letter but I will give it a try. It will soon be Mother's Day again, and I hope my children won't buy me something because they think it is their duty. I would rather have a pack of chewing gum if they bought it because they love me and were thinking of me. So many gifts are bought for Mother's Day more out of sense of duty than for love.

I have a lovely gift that my son gave me last Mother's Day and I haven't had the heart to take it out of the box because he just ran in and handed it to me, saying he had to go back to his mother-in-law's. The gift is expensive, but I had rather spent a few hours with me

MAMMA: SAVANNAH, GA.

DEAR ABBY: My seven-year-old son, when told he was adopted, asked the inevitable question: "Then, Mamma, does that mean you're not my real mother?"

"Well, let's see," I said. "Here, pinch me real hard and we'll see if I'm real or not." He pinched, I squealed, and we both had a good laugh. A happy, frank discussion followed.

But the most wonderful part of that precious son of mine has TWO mothers. I have had the privilege of rocking him, feeding him and watching him grow into an adorable seven-year-old. Yes, I am his "real" mother and don't you dare to call me less!

But no less real is the little girl who refused to have an abortion, insisting, "This little life inside me has as much right to live as I." The little girl who looked the social worker in the eye and said, "This adoption will work, because I am doing it for his sake, and I don't ever intend to hurt him by interfering with his life." That brave little girl has been true to her word for seven years.

Some day when he is grown to a big, strapping six-footer, if his appearance in her eyes would not hurt the children she is now bearing for herself, I should be happy to think that I had so taught him to love and respect the thought of her, that he would take her in his big arms and whisper, "Mother, I love you."

She has every right to his love. And he will be a better man if he proves wise enough to know it.

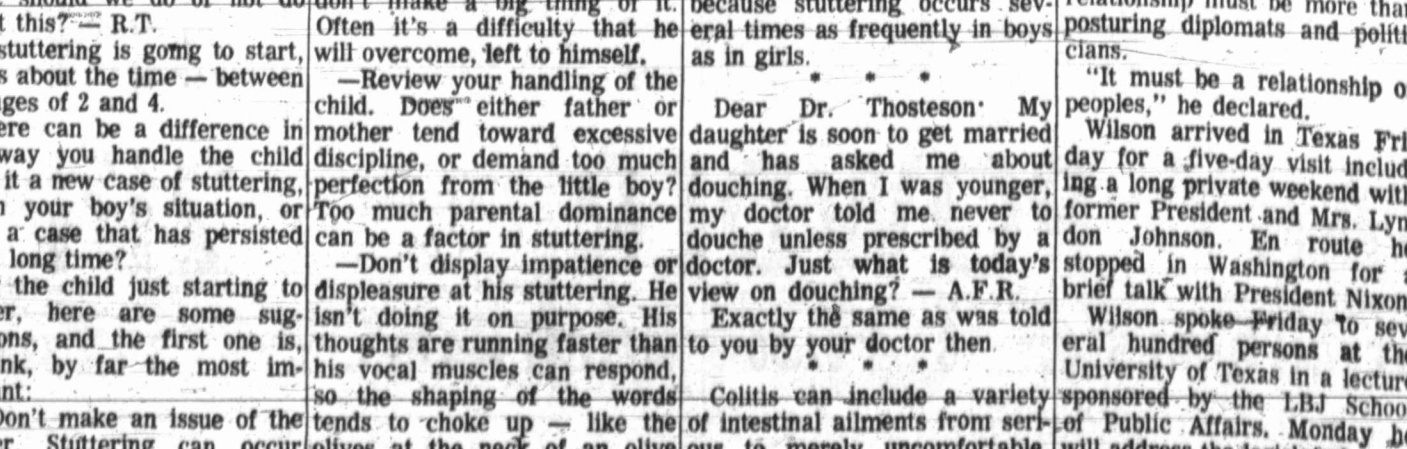

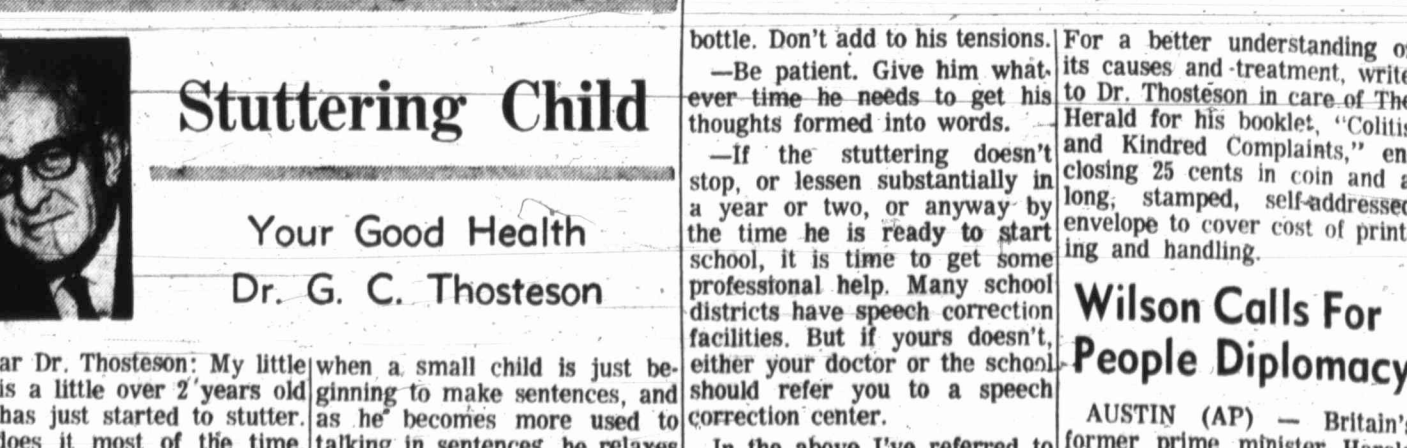

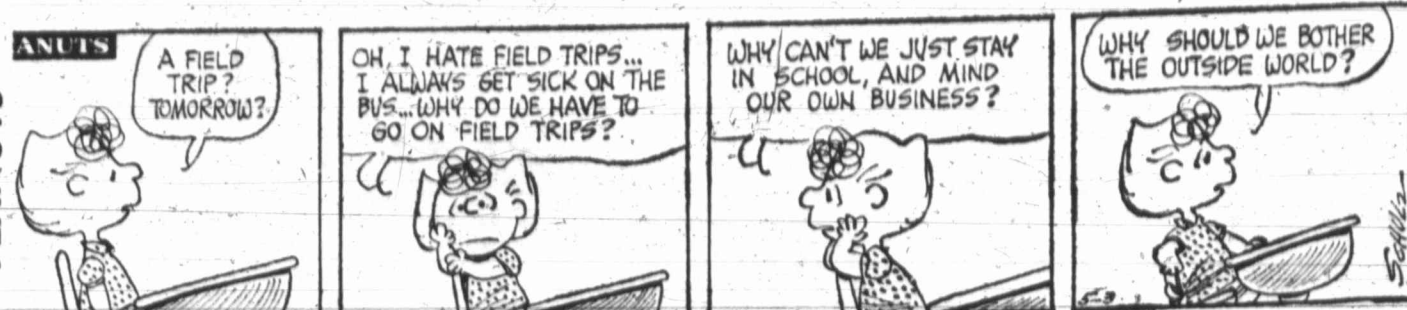

HIS OTHER MOTHER
DEAR ABBY: Not too long ago, a young boy celebrated his 14th birthday. I'm sure he had a birthday cake. He actually had two because I also baked him one and put 14 candles on it!

This boy was born to me out of wedlock. I was 17 years old, and decided it would be best for Stevie if I gave him up for adoption. Stevie is not his name now, but that's the name I gave him for the short time he was mine. I have no regrets because I know that my son has a wonderful home with parents who love him. To them I want to say, thank you for opening up your hearts and home to my son. I send my dearest love to you, and him.

STEVIE'S OTHER MOTHER

Stuttering Child

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My little boy is a little over 2 years old and has just started to stutter. He does it most of the time, not just when he is excited. What should we do or not do about this? — R.T.

If stuttering is going to start, that's about the time — between the ages of 2 and 4.

There can be a difference in the way you handle the child — is it a new case of stuttering, as in your boy's situation, or is it a case that has persisted for a long time?

For the child just starting to stutter, here are some suggestions, and the first one is, I think, by far the most important: — Don't make an issue of the stutter. Stuttering can occur when a small child is just beginning to make sentences, and as he becomes more used to talking in sentences, he relaxes and the stutter fades away. So don't make a big thing of it. Often it's a difficulty that he will overcome, left to himself.

— Review your handling of the child. Does either father or mother tend toward excessive discipline, or demand too much perfection from the little boy? Too much parental dominance can be a factor in stuttering.

— Don't display impatience or displeasure at his stuttering. He isn't doing it on purpose. His thoughts are running faster than his vocal muscles can respond, so the shaping of the words tends to choke up — like the plives at the neck of an olive bottle. Don't add to his tensions. — Be patient. Give him what-ever time he needs to get his thoughts formed into words.

— If the stuttering doesn't stop, or lessen substantially in a year or two, or anyway by the time he is ready to start school, it is time to get some professional help. Many school districts have speech correction facilities. But if yours doesn't, either your doctor or the school should refer you to a speech correction center.

— In the above I've referred to the stutterer as "he." That's because stuttering occurs several times as frequently in boys as in girls.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter is soon to get married and has asked me about douching. When I was younger, my doctor told me never to douche unless prescribed by a doctor. Just what is today's view on douching? — A.F.R.

Exactly the same as was told to you by your doctor then.

Colitis can include a variety of intestinal ailments from seri-ous to merely uncomfortable.

For a better understanding of its causes and treatment, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints," enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Wilson Calls For People Diplomacy

AUSTIN (AP) — Britain's former prime minister Harold Wilson says the Anglo-American relationship must be more than posturing diplomats and politicians.

"It must be a relationship of peoples," he declared.

Wilson arrived in Texas Friday for a five-day visit including a long private weekend with former President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson. En route he stopped in Washington for a brief talk with President Nixon.

Wilson spoke Friday to several hundred persons at the University of Texas in a lecture sponsored by the LBJ School of Public Affairs. Monday he will address the legislature.

Yarborough Is Up And Running Again

Editor's note: May 2, 1970, Lloyd Benson's stunning victory in a primary election had the effect of ending, at least for a while, the tenure of Texas' senior senator. Overnight, spot reaction here underlines just how short of a political career of both Ralph Yarborough and Texas liberalism. Here Garth Jones, veteran Austin correspondent for The Associated Press, takes an analytical look at the man and his politics today.

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — A year ago, Sen. Ralph Yarborough stood amid his tearful and dejected campaign workers in Austin and reluctantly admitted defeat.

There was quick speculation that Texas political liberalism died with him.

Today, the former senator, 67, first elected to the Senate in 1957, pays no attention to the word "defeat" and refuses to recognize the word "liberal."

TRUE BLUE DEMO
"I am a Democrat. I have always been a Democrat. I've always voted for the Democratic Party and supported its nominees," he says with the fast-talking enthusiasm that has marked his political campaigns since 1936. "I've never run as a liberal. I've always run as a Democrat."

And he adds quickly, in case anyone thinks he's too old to run again: "Physically, no man is going to put in more hours working than I do."

A year ago, when Lloyd Benson handed Yarborough the surprising defeat, 816,641 to 724,122 in the May 2 primary, many said Yarborough's political career was finished. He had already made one unsuccessful challenge for attorney general and three disastrous efforts for governor before he finally won a special senatorial election in 1957. It was a sudden death election with scores of candidates.

Former Gov. John Connally, a long time conservative Democrat foe of Yarborough at the polls, had backed Benson and appeared to have a firm hold on Texas Democratic politics.

MEASURING RACES
Then Connally accepted the Republican administration's appointment to be secretary of treasury. Connally's role, and influence in Texas' 1972 political races is undetermined.

Yarborough says he is "carefully measuring" a race either for senator against Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., or a fourth try for governor, but he is not committed yet. In either race he might find his primary opponent as Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, a liberal majority for the first time.

BUSY TALKING
"I haven't been able to get down to my law practice because of the many speaking engagements I have had the past year," Yarborough said. "I know the movement is growing because I'm being invited to speak to Chambers of Commerce and luncheon clubs that would never have invited me before."

Yarborough, along with former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, spoke to an organization meeting of what is called the Action Coalition of Texas headed by Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., of Houston. The group includes such state leaders as Sens. Barbara Jordan of Houston and Joe Bernal of San Antonio.

The group has said it will not affiliate with any political party or endorse candidates but plans to concentrate on elimination of dishonesty in government — which may be a big campaign issue in the 1972 elections.

LOT OF FRIENDS
Yarborough says he is not active in the coalition "but I have a lot of friends there."

Right now, Yarborough is setting up his law office in Austin. "I had offers to go to New York or Washington but I'm not about to leave Texas... I've tried to taper off my speaking appointments during April so I can devote more time to my general civil law practice in May... But I want to leave some time for getting around over the state and making speeches and... and seeing my friends."

He left the impression that he almost said: "... and campaigning."

After the defeat by Benson, Yarborough blamed voter apathy, particularly among his own followers, plus "widespread crossover" of Republicans into the Democratic primary. He also claimed to be hurt by what he called "the big lie technique" that accused him of voting against prayer in public schools, of spawning violence in the streets, by supporting the anti-war moratorium and of ducking out on school busing votes.

Yarborough says he sees a definite growth of "the movement" in his recent travels. Other sources have reported an apparent increase of political liberalism within the past year encouraged by the 18-year-old vote and party reform efforts within the Democratic Party. The effect of liberal blocs is being felt more in the legislature in Texas, particularly in the Senate where there is a robber?

Dwight H. Johnson's father-in-law says he thinks "it was a case of too much too soon; the more they toasted him the more he became accustomed to it."

"Little things were piling up on them. They had things in their first year of marriage it took us 20 years to have," LeRoy May said Saturday of his daughter, Katrina Lyn, and her husband.

Sgt. Johnson, 23, died last Friday after he was shot four times by the owner of a store police say he was attempting to rob.

MONEY TROUBLE
President Lyndon B. Johnson bestowed the nation's highest award for valor on Johnson Nov. 19, 1968. The Detroit tank driver was cited for heroism in leaving his disabled vehicle, slaying several North Vietnamese and rescuing a wounded GI from another flaming tank.

"He was in financial trouble, they bought a house and a lot of things," May said.

On Wednesday Katrina had to go to the hospital and when Dwight walked her up to the desk he didn't have the $25 deposit," May said.

"She told me he looked like a meek little boy when he told them he would have it by the time she left Friday."

Johnson took his 18-month-old son, Dwight Christopher, to visit his wife Thursday night. Police said their investigation showed Johnson later joined three friends, dropped the child off at the home of another friend then struck out on his own.

THEY TAUGHT HIM
He later entered the store armed with a small caliber pistol, police said, and announced a holdup. In an ensuing struggle with the owner, Charles Van Dendeghem, Johnson was shot four times. He died in a hospital three hours later. Van Dendeghem, wounded in the arm, is recovering.

No Pol Loans
MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Franklin National Bank has discontinued the practice of lending money to political organizations.

No more loans will be made until the Justice Department clarifies the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, said a bank official.

"We would not have made the 1970 loans totaling $165,000 if we did not think that we would get the money back," said bank president Harold Gleason. "The loans were unrelated to politics."

$400 Million Program To Aid Farmers Mapped

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon returns to Washington today with a $400 million program to help farmers improve incomes and exports—and perhaps improve his own political image in the farm belt. Loans would make up $349.4 million of the total.

For the man who was booed, picketed and snowballed by Iowa farmers during the winter, one great goal now is to push farm exports to $10 billion a year. A record $7.4 billion is forecast for this year.

Nixon spelled it out in a Sunday radio address to the nation. To achieve the goal, he is adding $1 million to the $27.7 million already in the fiscal 1972 budget for the Foreign Agricultural Service—the federal agency which helps expand agricultural sales overseas.

The President disclosed new measures to help farmers combat inflation and ease the cost-price squeeze on an industry whose income this year will be the highest ever. The trouble, he said, is that increases in total income do not always mean increases in net income—because of the high costs of inflation—beset farmers.

So, Nixon said, the administration is working to expand the supply of farm credit. The first step is a bid to Congress to authorize the Farmers Home Administration to insure farm operating loans and then increase the amount available by $140 million—from $210 million this fiscal year to $350 million for the next.

TAPED SPEECH

Nixon said some prices look good—for soybeans, grain, cotton and cattle. And he said that while hog prices still are too low, they should improve substantially later this year, partly because of the highest government purchases of pork for food distribution and school lunches in 14 years.

Nixon taped his farm speech Sunday morning during a 24-hour interlude in the desert at the posh estate of Walter Annenberg, the Philadelphia publisher and ambassador to Great Britain.

Nixon had time then for a golfing foursome with friends—industrialist Robert H. Abplanalp of Bronxville, N.Y.; banker C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo of Key Biscayne, Fla.; and Reader's Digest President Hobart Lewis. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said staff members kept Nixon abreast of war protest developments in Washington during the day and what was being done to meet the threat to close down government operations Monday by massive traffic tie-ups.

Garden City Teams Win

GARDEN CITY — The Glasscock County senior 4-H boys livestock judging team won its way to the state finals Saturday by taking second place in district eliminations.

Observers in Cairo today attributed the dismissal of Vice President Ali Sabry, the Egyptian government's leading leftist, to his opposition to the federation with Libya and Syria.

Sabry was fired two days before the arrival in Cairo of Secretary of State William P. Rogers for talks with President Anwar Sadat on the Arab-Israeli stalemate. But although Sabry was notably anti-American, Rogers' visit was not believed to be a factor in the Egyptian dismissal.

HE'S 'RELIEVED'

Rumors of a rift between Sadat and Sabry had circulated in Cairo for several days. Brief announcements early today by Egypt's Middle East News Agency and the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said only that Sabry had been "relieved."

Dismissal Of Egyptian's Leading Leftist Is Traced

most recently last December in an effort to get more arms for Egypt. But observers did not believe his Soviet friendship necessarily had anything to do with his dismissal.

NASSER'S DEATH

Sabry, 50, was one of two vice presidents named after Nasser's death, and his ouster leaves Hussein el Shafri the No. 2 man in the government. Sabry also was a vice president under Nasser, but Nasser dismissed him in a cabinet shake-up in March, 1968. He was one of Nasser's group of "free officers" who overthrew the Egyptian monarchy in 1952. In Jerusalem, sources close to the Israeli government expressed surprise at Sabry's fall. There was no official comment. The Israeli Cabinet met Sunday to prepare for Rogers' visit Wednesday and Thursday, at the end of his whirlwind peace-seeking mission in the Middle East. A brief communique said that Deputy Premier Yigal Alon reported on his recent talks with Rogers in Washington, and that Foreign Minister Abba Eban described latest political developments.

Babi Yar Massacre Of 33,771 Trial Set

REGENSBURG, Germany (AP) — Three Nazi police officials went on trial today for the Babi Yar massacre of 33,771 Jews in 1941 in the Ukraine.

The defendants are former Maj. Martin Besser, 79, commander of the 45th Police Battalion; former Maj. Engelbert Kreuzer, 57, a company commander, and Sgt. Fritz Forberg, 65.

The commander of their regiment, Rene Rosenbauer, 82, has been declared physically unfit to stand trial, and Kreuzer has been declared fit for trial only on condition that daily hearings do not last too long.

The three men are charged with organizing the executions of the Jews in the Kiev area and with personally killing some of the victims. Many of the Jews were forced to lie face down in the dirt and were shot in the back of the neck while the next victim watched. The bodies were thrown into the ravine of Babi Yar, and the massacre later was the subject of one of Soviet poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko's most famous poems.

The trial is expected to last three months.

HARD HIT

The President said he hoped this credit expansion would be especially helpful to Southwestern farms hard hit by drought.

Nixon also injected into the budget for the 1971 fiscal year ending June 30 $9.6 million to finance federal and state research and experiment stations to attack Southern leaf blight on corn, and to combat cattle ticks, fire ants and gypsy moths that menace Eastern timber.

To throw more manpower into soil conservation, Nixon is adding $12 million to the $135 million already in the 1972 budget. And he is increasing from $77 million to $105 million the 1972 total for 75 small new watershed projects. And he called for an extra $100 million this year and $111 million next year for an insured loan program to finance rural water and sewer systems.

HAPPY TO SAY

Nixon bore down hard on expanding farm exports at the outset of his speech.

"We know," he said, "that American agriculture can compete successfully—whenever it has the chance. We are determined to see it has that chance."

"As recently as the 1968 fiscal year, farm exports actually dropped by half a billion dollars, a condition which I promised in 1968 to remedy during my presidential term. I am happy to say that we have delivered on that promise."

The president didn't mention it in his speech but he also pledged in 1968 that his administration would improve the farm parity position, the relationship between the price of what the farmer sells and what

PRIEST'S FAMILY — When word leaked out that the Rev. Robert Duryea Jr., pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Pacifica, had been secretly married for seven years and was the father of a 5-year-old, he was automatically excommunicated. This is his wife, Luan, 30, and son, Paul, named after Pope Paul. She is a nurse at O'Connor Hospital in San Jose, Calif., southeast of Pacifica. Rev. Duryea's former parishioners are collecting funds to help him until he can find a job.

Big Spring Recognized For Sanitary Landfill

By BRIAN PEAY

FORT WORTH—In behalf of the city of Big Spring, Mayor Arnold Marshall received a plaque in the 1971 Texas Conservation Awards, an annual award given by the Texas Conservation Council.

Marshall's plaque was presented Saturday night at the Texas Christian University Student Center ballroom.

The city was recognized in the awards program for the recently completed sanitary landfill project east of town, which won the waste disposal portion of environmental improvement of municipalities category.

The project is an excellent example of good landfill techniques and many other cities over Texas are following this example now," said Walter R. Humphrey, master of ceremonies at the banquet, as Big Spring was recognized.

"The city is being recognized for the landfill project in which more agencies than just the city were involved. County, state, federal and city agencies all made outstanding efforts to perfect a better way of disposing of waste," Humphrey said.

"I think the city should be honored to have been recognized with the award, and it points out what can be done through combined efforts of all those concerned with our project," said Mayor Marshall upon receiving the plaque.

Nolan Chafin, director of public works, and Grady Grantham, sanitary superintendent, and his wife were present at the banquet.

Between 400 and 500 people attended the dinner affair in which 27 individuals and agencies were recognized for achievements in state conservation.

The environmental improvement division is a new category in the awards program combining both ecology and conservation. Saturday's banquet marked the second time the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce and TCU have hosted the state-wide program.

"Those who have walked across this stage to receive awards and others in the past have been the real pioneers in Texas soil conservation and ecology," Humphrey said.

Also recognized from the Permian Basin area was KMID-TV station in Midland. The station was awarded for its job of telling the conservation story with pictures and reports in its telecasts and also for the
