Sea Serpent Is Just an 'Overripe' Basking Shark

Copyright, 1934, Weatherall's

Just when British Columbia was all agitated over finding of a "sea serpent," a few killer came along in the person of Biologist W. A. Clements of Kamloops, B. C., and captured the idea. He proved that the 25-foot carcass shown here at Prince Rupert, B. C., was merely a "rottenish mackerel," otherwise was a well-known or basking shark. The creature was described as having a skin like sandpaper, a head like a horse, and tail covered partly by hair and partly by spine-like gills. It had been dead for two months, as the small boys in the picture indicate by holding their noses.

She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church and was a devoted Christian and was loved by every one who knew her and numbered her friends by who knew her. She was a very close friend of the writer and lived in halting distance of the writer who will miss her almost as much as her parents. The entire community is in sympathy with the bereaved. Will Rogers' Latest Also Is His Finest Described in advance accounts from Hollywood as the finest to date of Will Rogers' notable series of American character portraits, the Fox Film production, "The County Chairman," will be seen here at the Lyric Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

"The County Chairman" is a screen adaptation of the famous play of the same title, by one of America's foremost humorists, George Ade. Opening on Broadway in the year 1902, "The County Chairman" ran there for a year with Maclyn Arbuckle as its star and then toured for the next three seasons. In addition to the celebrity which it brought to Arbuckle, the play created another star of the era—Willis P. Sweatnam, who appeared in the famous role of "Sassafras," colored man-of-all-work.

In the screen play, Stepin Fetchit is seen in this notable part.

A notable supporting cast includes such players as Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Louise Dresser, Berton Churchill, Mickey Rooney, Frank Melton and Stepin Fetchit.

Once again, it is stated, Will Rogers displays his recently developed flair for singing in this picture. You will recall his musical propensities in "Judge Priest." This time he renders an old-time western rangers' song, accompanying himself on the guitar. Another highlight of "The County Chairman" is one of those famous torchlight processions so much in vogue at the turn of the century. This one is staged by Will and is said to have all the frenzy and thrill of its originals.

wishes to announce the purchase of a new

AMBULANCE--St. Regis SEDAN

(By Studebaker)

This beautiful car is so wholly different in appearance from the ordinary ambulance that it can hardly be recognized as one. Completely stripped of every outward mark of identification, the New St. Regis presents the appearance of a family sedan as it conveys the patient to its destination.

Careful drivers and attendants are on duty every hour of the day or night, and a phone call (303) will bring this new ambulance to you just as fast as it can come without endangering the lives of others.

Featuring . . .

SILENT Ambulance Service

In contrast to the shrieking siren as it commands right-of-way and invites morbid curiosity, our new ambulance will be operated just as inconspicuously as possible and in most cases only those who expect it will be aware of its presence.

NEW PROVISIONS OF TAX LAW EXPLAINED

Definite information on provisions of the tax bill passed by the last special session of the Texas Legislature has been provided for Brown county tax payers by Weldon Lancaster, deputy in the new county tax assessor-collector office. According to Mr. Lancaster the bill enacted by the last special session provides for the remission of penalties and interest on taxes that became delinquent prior to August 1, 1934, but does not remit costs. However, the bill provides no relief for those who allow their 1934 taxes to become delinquent.

The relief measure enacted by the special session was intended to allow about four months for the payment of delinquent taxes without penalty and interest but because of failure to receive a two-thirds majority vote, the law does not become effective until February 9 (ninety days after adjournment of the legislature). Property owners will have until March 15 to take advantage of provisions of the bill.

Other provisions of the tax relief measure are: Provisions of the act shall apply to towns, cities, schools districts and other taxing units if and when their governing bodies shall pass a suitable ordinance of resolution allowing them.

Prompt Payment Discounts. A further change in tax laws was included in a division of the act allowing discounts for prompt payment. These discounts and a new graduated scale of penalties apply on 1935 taxes and will become effective in October, 1935. At that time payment of all taxes will give the taxpayers a 2 per cent discount if payment is made in October; 2 per cent if paid in November in full, and 1 per cent in December. Payment in full in January will be on a net basis, while if unpaid in January the taxes become delinquent as at present.

However, under the new plan, the drastic 10 per cent penalty will not apply, being replaced by a sliding scale of penalties as follows: One per cent on taxes paid in full in February, 1936 (and a similar penalty in future years on taxes of each preceding year), 2 per cent in March, 3 per cent in April, 4 per cent in May, 5 per cent in June, and after June 30, 8 per cent.

The law also states that all accumulated interest and penalties will be remitted provided the tax is paid before April 1, and following that date the schedule of interest will be as follows: Before April 1, 1935, two per cent; before May 1, three per cent; before June 1, four per cent, and before June 30, five per cent.

REPORT SHOWS HUGE VOLUME OF WORK DONE DURING YEAR BY COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

THE ANNUAL REPORT of County Agent C. W. Lehmberg for the twelve-month period ending December 31, 1934, reveals that 1934 was one of the busiest years ever experienced by the county farm demonstration agent office. In addition to the routine duties of the office, the county agent during 1934 handled an immense volume of federal government business.

This included the cotton acreage reduction program, the federal government's drought relief purchasing of cattle, sheep and goats, the government's corn-hog program, peanut reduction program, feed and seed loans, wheat acreage reduction program and other adjustment projects, all of which involved extensive clerical work, taking of applications, signing of contracts, disbursement of funds, etc.

The report discloses that Brown county farmers, during 1934, received more than half a million dollars in cash for their products and as benefits from the federal government through the various farm adjustment programs handled through Mr. Lehmberg's office. In order to handle this vast volume of work Mr. Lehmberg had to employ a large staff of clerks, appraisers and adjusters, most of whom were paid by the federal government. Throughout the year Mr. Lehmberg's office has been one of the busiest in the courthouse.

The county agent's report for the year follows:

"The Brown county farm demonstration council was organized on October 21, 1934. Since then 19 community agriculture associations were organized," the report states, and continues:

"The following nature and scope of work has been done by these associations:

"Planned organization of community agricultural councils and a long time balanced farm program in Brown county. A total of 67 meetings have been held in the county with a total attendance of 1,736.

"The agricultural councils have given these communities a wider scope of rural activities, have drawn the people of the communities closer together and have been a great help to the county agent in putting over the various phases of the adjustment programs.

"One of the most important functions of the county agent's office, during the year, was the handling of the various phases of the adjustment program.

Cattle Purchasing Program.

"The government cattle purchasing program easily takes first rank in scope and importance.

"1,842 cattle vouchers, comprising 13,766 head were handled in the agent's office. The payments farmers and ranchers received for these cattle amounted to $185,246.

"This program also covered sheep and goats. A total of 7,892 ewes were sold the government, amounting to $15,784. 2,078 goats (does) bought by the government brought the farmers $2,909.20. The total sum paid farmers and ranchers by the government for cattle, sheep and goats amounted to $203,939.20."

The above figures are not complete at present as the government purchasing program is still in progress but were compiled up until the final quota of 1,000 head was allowed this county last week. Upon the completion of this work an adjusted group of figures will be released.

Cotton Acreage Sign-Up.

"Second in importance to the adjustment program is the cotton acreage reduction sign-up. 1,007 cotton reduction contracts were signed during the spring of 1934 comprising a total acreage of 37,893 acres. Of this total 15,128 acres were taken out of cotton production, and diverted to growing of feed and food for home use. Figured at $3 per acre added $45,384 to the farms income. The rental payments to farmers amounts to $55,312.78. Parity payments amounted to $14,235. Option payments brought $44,316.56. Brown county received approximately 1,156,350 pounds of surplus tax exemption certificates. Figured at the price set by the government at 4 cents per pound amounts to the sum of $46,264, making a total of $205,512.34.

"The above figures do not include the 12 cent government loan on 1933 and 1934 cotton nor the 2 cent advance on 1933 participation trust certificates.

Wheat Reduction Campaign.

"The wheat reduction program plays an important part in the adjustment program as far as Brown county is concerned. 136 wheat reduction contracts were signed, with benefit payments amounting to $26,718.77. These contracts cover a total acreage of 1,697 with 1,304 acres taken out of wheat production, and diverted to feed and food production. Figured at $3 per acre amounts to $3,912.

"263 corn-hog contracts were signed by farmers of Brown county. The total acreage under these contracts amounted to 2,697 of which 696 acres were taken out of corn production. The total payments amount to $226,565.20.

"The peanut reduction program has just been started in the county. It is estimated that 200 contracts comprising 3,500 acres, which figured at the minimum benefit payment of $2 per acre amounts to $7,000."

The next step in the report is the "filling the farm storehouse" program, "897 definite demonstrations of this kind were carried on in the county. With probably as many more of which no definite records were kept. Out of these 897 demonstrations 497 raised all the vegetables needed for the family. 102 families raised all the fruit they needed. 497 raised all the poultry they needed. 439 raised all the meat they needed and 583 all the dairy products they needed," says the report.

"In addition to supplying their own needs, these 897 families sold, or exchanged for other goods, $11,317 of vegetables, $3,483 of fruit, $24,941 poultry, $9,219 of meat, $14,375 of dairy products.

Farm Record Books.

Under a heading "Farm Record Books," the report states that 2,075 farm record books were distributed during 1934. Eighteen night schools were conducted, giving instructions in the proper use of the book and these meetings were attended by 1,785 farmers and farm boys.

Under the heading of wheat marketing organization the report tells of the organization of that association last year and of the work done by it. There are a total of 237 members and it is affiliated with the national grain marketing association. The association handled 67 car loads of grain for the farmers, the report says. It says further that the total profit to farmers who were members was $2,435.75 due to the organized efforts.

with the terracing of farms in the county, declaring that Brown county farms have reached an alarming state of erosion and tells of the 10 terracing schools that have been held, stating that 397 farmers attended the schools. A total of 97 farms, comprising 2,938 acres were terraced during the fall and winter. It says that 75 applications for terracing are now on file at the county agent's office. The report estimates that an increase in value to the terraced farms is $29,280.

Orchard Work. A brief summary of the pruning work of orchards of the county and value to fruit trees, and the saving and betterment of all trees and increase in production is given.

It also tells of efforts being made to have every community adopt the one cotton seed plan and raise the standard of cotton production in the county. One community has adopted this method and there will be 2795 acres planted with the same variety seed.

The livestock improvement is given the next heading and the report outlines plans for the betterment of livestock breeds in the county by purchase of registered bulls and cows for both dairy and beef herds.

A number of poultry demonstrations have been given and these will be increased during the coming year as will the number of demonstrations in the 4-H club work for farm boys.

pals of Southern association high schools must hold master's degrees and must have a minimum of six semester hours of graduate work in the field of education. This requirement is not retroactive. A maximum teaching load and a minimum annual salary are prescribed for the teachers and each school is expected to comply with these standards.

Accurate and complete records of attendance and scholarship must be kept on file by each school. Certain standards of housing, equipment and sanitation must be met.

The provisions of adequate library facilities is emphasized. The standards must be complied with concerning: (1) Number of books and periodicals, (2) qualifications of the librarian, (3) amount of annual library appropriation, (4) training of students in the use of the library, (5) organization and (6) equipment. A sliding scale on the basis of student enrollment is used in order to equalize the advantages per pupil between the small school and a large one.

Man Hurt In Truck Crash Will Be Back At Home Here Soon

R. M. Salyer, of Brownwood, who was seriously injured and burned when a truck in which he was riding overturned and burned near Brenham Saturday night, was expected to be able to be returned home Friday or Saturday of this week.

Salyer and Droman Wilson, of San Angelo, were returning to Brownwood from Houston when the accident occurred. They had taken a load of turkeys to Houston and on the return trip had a load of egg crates. The truck and crates were destroyed by the fire that was caused by gasoline becoming ignited.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Roscoe and family wish to acknowledge with grateful appreciation all kind expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings in their recent bereavement of their little daughter, Norene. Especially do we wish to thank the Church of Christ and Dr. Joe McFarlane.

The English language was despised by Francis Bacon, who strove to write chiefly in Latin. Despite this fact, he is chiefly known for his mastery of English prose.
