

Hired Hand A Tour Of Sooner Dogwood

By Glenn Shelton

In the Spring, Nature, like any prissy miss, dons her finery; and I want to mention a tour sponsored annually by R. G. Miller of the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City. It's RGM's annual dogwood tour to the eastern Oklahoma hills and woods, an outing for nature lovers who want to take a gander at the April extravaganza of dogwood, forsythia, redbud, narcissus, Japanese quince, etc. RGM's tour gets under way at Oklahoma City on the morning of April 19, takes a route to Sallisaw and on to the Sequoyah Memorial, thence into the Cookson Hills and to Talequah. Tourists are promised sight of 10,000 or more flowering dogwood trees.

Texas may not care to journey all the way to Oklahoma City for the tour's beginning, but they may, nevertheless, if they've a mind to, travel into eastern Oklahoma up to Talequah. In that area they can witness a riot of flowers.

In his column, entitled "The Smoking Room," Miller speaks of visits to such picturesque places as Sunnygal, Punkin, Walkingstick, Salt Creek and Tincup. His tour is for Oklahomans, but I would guess that Texans could join it if they cared to buy a ticket. Cost of the trip is $10 per person, and that would include bus transportation, a $2 dinner, and mid-morning and mid-afternoon refreshments. Tickets may be ordered by mail from the Daily Oklahoman. No refunds, however, if the weather is inclement.

The tour will begin at 6 a.m. on Sunday, April 19 at NW 4th and Broadway in Oklahoma City.

OFF ON A TANGENT — During my two decades of newspaper reporting, I have been to literally hundreds of 4-H and FFA banquets, and I must say the banquet given last week for the Petrolia FFA and FFA was the BIGGEST of 'em all. Nice goin', kids!

THE FAMOUS "MR. SOUND EFFECTS," WES HARRISON, WILL ENTERTAIN APRIL 15 AT THE ANNUAL WILD GAME BANQUET OF THE NORTHWEST TEXAS FIELD & STREAM ASSOCIATION—7 P.M. IN M-B CORRAL.

BEEG JOKE: "Do you realize," shouted the lecturer, "that somewhere in the world a woman is giving birth to a baby every second?" A woman in his audience gasped. "We'd better find that woman and stop her!" she said gravely.

Thanks to 10 year-old A. B. Taylor Jr. of Austin School for his fine interpretation of "Meaning of the Flag" which he so kindly sent me. Well done, partner!

THE MAILBAG — "Concerning your welcome comments on purple martins, not only do they eat insects and entertain us with their aerobatics, but they also sing a pretty song. However, I doubt that trees are the answer since they desire their house 15 to 20 feet above the ground, and equally as far from buildings and trees. They prefer a duplex or apartment house with each apartment 6 inches by 6 inches by 6 inches, with the entrance 1 inch above the floor and 2 1/2 inches in diameter. They like a perch 4 inches to 6 inches wide on which they can rest in the sun. The compartment should have ventilation and drainage."

Death Comes To MacArthur

DEATH TOLL STILL 7

Mop-Up Begun From Tornado

By NATHAN FAIN

A pile of rubble called "home" faced 225 Wichita Falls families Monday.

In the melee of reconstruction over the weekend, Friday's tornado victims found the process will be long and arduous before they return to normal living. City officials, who toured the stricken Sunset Terrace area Sunday night, promised crews of sanitation and construction workers would begin early Monday morning to clear debris from streets and alleys. Front lawns also will be cleared of noticeable wreckage.

"We are trying to help these people get back in shape," said City Manager Jack Davis, and added, "release forms clearing the city of any liability will be available at three points. Once a homeowner has signed a release, we will clear his lot free of charge."

Forms, drawn up by City Attorney H. P. Hodge, will be at Municipal Auditorium's Public Works Dept., at a control center at Red River Expressway and City View, and at Puckett Lane and Burk Burnett Highway.

Equipment Offered
Davis said he had been offered road equipment by all Wichita County commissioners and several construction firms.

"We will need trucks, graders, bulldozers, but most of all, lifters," he said. He also urged homeowners to contact their insurance adjusters before signing the clearance releases.

"We have every legal right to clear this property," said Hodge. "But we want to be fair, and to

War Hero Dies In Deep Sleep

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. of the Army Douglas MacArthur—dramatic hero of three wars—slipped out of deep sleep into death Sunday, yielding at last to multiple ailments that finally overwhelmed his stubborn will to live.

Death came at 1:39 p.m. CST to end a life that spanned 84 years and found glory and honor on the battlefields of France, the South Pacific and Korea.

Death was officially attributed to kidney and liver failure.

Jean MacArthur was at the side of the still unconscious form of her husband at Walter Reed Army Medical Center when the doctors finally found it impossible to sustain his heartbeat and his very breath. The couple's son, Arthur, 27, also was at the bedside.

Also present was Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, long-time aide and friend of MacArthur.

So ended a 13-day siege in which the general sustained the impact of two emergency operations and myriad other conditions which kept him in critical condition and slow decline.

President Johnson, who had visited MacArthur after the general's early March operation was notified immediately.

The President quickly issued a proclamation praising MacArthur as "one of America's greatest heroes" and directing flags to be flown at half-staff until after the funeral next Saturday.

Immediately after disclosing the death, the Army announced also that the body was to be returned Sunday by highway to New York City where it will lie in state at the 7th Regimental Armory.

It will be brought back to Washington by train to lie in state in the Capitol rotunda where so recently the body of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy lay.

After that, it will be flown to Norfolk, Va. for burial there in a memorial mausoleum already prepared in line with MacArthur's wishes. Funeral services (Continued on Page 2)

Storms Rake East Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roaring tornadic winds cut paths of destruction over wide areas of East Texas before dawn Sunday.

Hardest hit were Kilgore, Mineola and Athens.

Marshall, near the Texas-Louisiana line, also had storm damage.

The storm which hit Mineola at 3:20 a.m. was described as a tornado.

At Kilgore, Mineola and Athens scores of homes were damaged, trees were uprooted, plate glass smashed in buildings and electric power and telephone lines were knocked down.

At Marshall a drive-in theater and two homes were damaged by a windstorm in the eastern part of the city. Light hail fell and one and a half inches of rain was gauged.

Johnson Salutes Wisconsin Leader

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — President Johnson took his first public hand Sunday night in Wisconsin's presidential preference primary with a message of tribute to his favorite son stand-in.

In a telegram to Gov. John W. Reynolds, the president called Wisconsin's chief executive "a patriot and a leader in whom we can all take pride."

Reynolds heads a slate in Tuesday's election pledged to Johnson and is opposed by Alabama segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace, who encountered Sunday one of the roughest receptions of his campaign. There was a report he had been struck by a picket's sign.

The White House tribute was read by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski. "I salute John Reynolds for his unceasing concern for the well-being of all the people in his state," the President said.

Senator Yarborough Visits Wrecked Area

Sen. Ralph Yarborough flew into Wichita Falls Sunday morning to view tornado damage here and after a whirlwind three-hour visit.

Expressed his sympathy with residents who, along with their loved ones lost property and were injured by the savage storm.

Toured the devastated area twice, remarking that he had "never seen such total destruction as a result of a storm."

Conferred with Sheppard Air Force Base officials on plans to rebuild the wreckage of portions of that military installation; Postponed a scheduled April 11 dinner and political rally in his honor until later and commended his supporters and campaign staff here to "continue to divert their energies to assisting Wichita Falls in recovering from the damaging act of nature."

Yarborough arrived in Wichita Falls about 10 a.m. and went immediately to Sheppard Air Force Base where he conferred with Maj. Gen. Robert M. Stillman and his principal staff officers. He pledged his cooperation with military and civilian leaders in appropriations for rebuilding the sprawling base.

More Than 15,000 Attend Times Square Open House

By HAZEL KOHL

More than 15,000 Wichita Falls and area residents toured the Times Publishing Co. offices at Thirteenth and Lamar Saturday and Sunday between 1 and 5 p.m. as the papers observed their grand opening in the new headquarters.

Twenty-seven sections of interest including executive offices and working areas were seen by the visitors and members of the paper's staff were on hand to give "thumbnail" explanations on the operation of each department.

Beginning at the switchboard in the front entrance, groups were taken first through the executive offices, the conference room, the credit union offices, the mailing area, the classified advertising, circulation, the coffee bar, the society department, the library, the editorial room, the photography department, the telephone equipment room, zinc engraving plant, the composing room, the stereotype department, the press room, the mailing room and the company auditorium.

As the visitors toured 62,615 square feet of floor space, the various points of interest in the plant and numerous facts including that about 5,000 tons of newsprint is used each month were pointed out.

Spot News

Persons touring the plant shortly before 2 p.m. Sunday were among the first in Wichita Falls to learn that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had died in Walter Reed Hospital at 1:39 p.m. As soon as the bulletin came in, over the teletypes, a message was set up so that the visitors would be able to learn of the hero's death.

Assisting officials and staff members with host duties Saturday and Sunday were golden-jacketed members of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, on hand as official hosts. Vote for Cletus Schenk for Alderman Place 6. Pol. Adv. paid for by C. Schenk.

As the clothing was being unloaded, 16 volunteers, Sunday, were sorting and sizing, mending and ironing the donated clothing. The DAV Commander Earl Morris said the charity effort will continue as long as tornado victims need help. The DAV center will be opened or have service available 24-hours a day by calling 322-6741.

The center has four vehicles to transport needy families to and from the DAV aid station.

Viet Nam Clash Wounds 6 GIs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Six U.S. Army men were wounded in a 27-hour firefight between government and Communist units Saturday and Sunday in which at least 43 enemy guerrillas were killed.

In addition, U.S. advisors said the Communist force was believed to have carried off about 60 killed and wounded.

Fourteen government troops were killed, and 26, including the Americans, were wounded. There are 18 missing.

In the heat of battle, 150 of the original 250 houses in the hamlet of Phuoc Tan, 45 miles northwest of here were leveled, some by bombing and strafing of fighter planes. Almost all peasants had fled before the worst of the fight began, and only one peasant woman was reported killed.

At the end of the fight, one American advisor found a j12ph Cong-regimental battle flag, indicating the enemy unit had been several hundred strong. The fight, not far from the Cambodian border, was one of the bloodiest in the area in months.

Only one of the Americans, an advisor officer, was reported seriously wounded, by a bullet which went through his neck. Three of the others were released after hospital treatment.

The engagement began shortly after midnight Friday when a large Viet Cong unit attacked the Phuoc Tan outpost, held by government troops. They apparently overran the post and hoisted their flag before a government counterattack began.

The Viet Cong apparently were unable to slip through the net laid down by helicopter-borne government forces around the hamlet area. But the tough, well-armed guerrillas stood and fought.

will be at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Norfolk.

The body will be at the Universal Funeral Chapel in New York from Sunday night until Tuesday morning and will lie in repose at the armory from 10 a.m. Tuesday until 10 p.m.

After arrival by train in Washington on Wednesday, the General will lie in state in the rotunda from 3:30 that afternoon until noon Thursday. After being flown to Norfolk, the body will rest at the MacArthur Memorial until funeral services Saturday morning at St. Paul's. Burial at the Memorial will follow.

Lt. Col. Edward Costello, reading the official bulletin in a halting voice, broke the news to reporters assembled at the public relations office of the medical center, of which the Walter Reed General Hospital is a part. The bulletin said:

"General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, 84, died at 2:39 p.m. EST today at Walter Reed General Hospital, where he had been a patient since March 2.

"Death was attributed to acute renal (kidney) and liver failure which followed his recent surgical operations to relieve common (bile) duct obstruction, esophageal and intestinal obstruction with perforation."

It went on then to give funeral arrangements.

In a sense, the final hours of the old warrior were as the general once said the last hours of an old soldier should be. They never die, he said, "they just fade away."

Doctors marveled at what they called MacArthur's "strength and fiber" and his will to live, as he survived the stress of three operations in 24 days, staging what appeared to be a normal recovery from the first surgery March 6, until struck down again March 23.

Prime causes of the coma and death were apparently poisons building up in the blood because of failing liver and kidney functions. At the end, doctors said only a miracle could have saved him.

They said that they had done everything that medical science could do. If his fight against death showed courage and stamina, then it was cut from the same fiber as his life. He graduated at the top of his class from the U.S. Military Academy, won his nation's highest award, the Medal of Honor, and rose to the second highest military rank in the U.S. Army.

He was one of eight generals of the Army since Ulysses S. Grant, and outranked only by General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

More Than 15,000 Attend Open House

Thursday was set aside for the paper's 55 correspondents, as well as circulation agents and editors and publishers from area newspapers who also were hosted to a banquet with Heloise Cruse as guest speaker after their initial tour of the building.

Friday was the day Howard and his staff hosted newspaper officials from several states as well as wire service bureau heads. This group also was hosted to a banquet as well as having the plant's facilities made available to them when the tornado hit.

Both Saturday and Sunday were set aside for the general public so that they would better understand the operation of the million dollar plant.

Saturday's visitors received a special treat in sharing a Grand Opening cake given Rhea Howard, publisher, by the Waggoner Estate in Vernon. The huge two-layered cake was baked in Vernon. It was decorated as a replica of a newspaper's page one with headlines covering all phases of Wichita Falls and North Texas-Southern Oklahoma life.

The cake was in the Times Square auditorium where visitors saw a modern kitchen to be used by small groups for cooking demonstrations or teas.

MacArthur's Return To Washington A Day Of Triumph

Johnson Pays Tribute To General MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson described Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Sunday as "one of America's greatest heroes," and ordered flags flown at half-staff until after his funeral on Saturday.

U.S. Leaders Mourn Death Of MacArthur

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS One of America's greatest military heroes faded into death Sunday and President Johnson and three former presidents, including one who fired him, led the nation's mourning.

Johnson, ordering flags to half-staff until after the funeral Saturday, called MacArthur "one of the most distinguished soldiers in the history of the United States... a living embodiment of the code he so eloquently expressed—duty, honor, country."

In New York, former President Herbert Hoover, who appointed MacArthur chief of staff in 1931, said he was "a great man, a great general and a great patriot."

"The world is a finer place for his having lived in it," Hoover said, calling MacArthur "a statesman for peace."

Harry S. Truman, who dismissed MacArthur from all Far Eastern commands during a policy dispute in the Korean conflict, said: "I am deeply sorry at the passing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has given of himself with exceptional strength and valor and will be remembered as one of the great military men in our history."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in Palm Springs, Calif., said: "The entire nation will stand in sad salute. Through a long lifetime of service he earned the admiration and respect of his fellow citizens and the personal devotion of those he led in battle."

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, called him "a great soldier, an intrepid spirit and a gallant gentleman. His courage was a high as the flag his troops raised: 'Hoist the colors to its peak and let no enemy haul them down.'"

In a proclamation, Johnson said MacArthur "dedicated his entire life to selfless service in the defense of freedom."

The proclamation said, "Outstanding performance of duty and conspicuous leadership marked his career."

As a mark of respect to the memory to MacArthur, Johnson ordered the flag to be flown at half-staff in the District of Columbia and throughout the United States and its territories and possessions, upon all public buildings and grounds and all military posts and naval stations, and on all naval vessels until after the funeral.

He directed also that the flag be flown at half-staff at all U.S. embassies, legations, consular offices, and other facilities abroad, including all military facilities and naval bases and stations.

The flag on the White House was lowered to half-staff even before Johnson's proclamation was given to newsmen.

Johnson's statement said that in the hearts of his countrymen and the pages of history MacArthur's "courageous presence among us and his valiant deeds for us will never die."

"May his devoted wife and his young son know that on behalf of a grateful nation, Mrs. Johnson and I pray for God's grace on this great soldier and patriot," the statement concluded.

MacArthur's Big Victories, Worst Defeats In Far East

By SPENCER DAVIS WASHINGTON (AP) — In a spectacular career spanning almost half a century, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur won his greatest victories and suffered his most humiliating defeats in the Far East.

"I shall return" became his battle cry after President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered him to leave Corregidor when Japan overran the Philippines in 1942.

"There is no substitute for victory" became his valedictory when President Harry S. Truman removed him as United Nations commander in Korea in 1951 in a policy dispute over extending the war to Communist China.

No other single American of his time had a greater impact on the lives and destiny of the millions of people from Australia, New Guinea and the Philippines to Japan and Korea.

At the pinnacle of his military success, MacArthur sat at a green felt-covered table on the quarter-deck of the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay and accepted the formal surrender of Emperor Hirohito's envoy, Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu and Gen. Yoshijiro Umezu, representing the general staff.

As supreme commander for the allied powers, MacArthur signed the surrender document with five pens—saving one for his son, Arthur. He wore his battered campaign hat and a plain khaki uniform, unadorned by medals or decorations.

In a broadcast to the American people after the ceremony, MacArthur took note of the atomic weapon, saying:

"A new era is upon us. Even the lesson of victory itself brings with it profound concern, both for our future security and the survival of civilization. The destructiveness of the war potential, through progressive advances in scientific discovery, has in fact now reached a point which revises the traditional concept of war..."

"We have had our last chance. If we do not now devise some greater and more equitable system, Armageddon will be at our door."

As the first foreigner ever to rule Japan, MacArthur saw to it that the post-war constitution renounced war forever as an instrument of Japanese policy. The provision still remains.

In the same broadcast to Americans on Sept. 2, 1945, MacArthur made a far-sighted prediction he lived to see fulfilled:

"The energy of the Japanese race, if properly directed, will enable expansion vertically rather than horizontally. If the talents of the race are turned into constructive channels, the country can lift itself from its present deplorable state into a position of dignity."

Post-war Japan has grown at a rate exceeding that of any other country and the growth has been vertical, not horizontal.

MacArthur chafed during the Korean war at restrictions which prevented his counter-blows at Communist China.

Calling it a "privileged sanctuary" he urged expansion of the U.N. war effort to Chinese coastal areas and interior bases of supply. This course would "doom Red China to the risk of imminent military collapse," he said.

"This new enemy, Red China, of such exaggerated and vaunted military power," MacArthur wrote, "lacks the industrial capacity to provide adequately many critical items essential to the conduct of modern war."

The phrase, "old soldiers never die; they just fade away," became a part of our national heritage, like that jaunty bar-acks cap, those sunglasses, that corn-cob pipe.

Heroes are old stuff to the nation's capital, and often it's difficult to drum up a quorum. Yet so great was the excitement that day 12,000 persons waited

EDITOR'S NOTE—Life awarded many exceptional triumphs to Douglas MacArthur, but undoubtedly one of the most satisfying was his return to Washington after his celebrated argument with President Harry S. Truman. A reporter who was there recalls that remarkable day.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Of the billions of words that have flooded Congress, it's ironic that some of the most memorable came from an old, unemployed soldier who never held an elective office.

On April 19, 1951—a great day in Washington history — Gen. Douglas MacArthur addressed the House and Senate.

Only a week previously he had been fired—in the middle of the night — by his commander in chief, President Harry S. Truman. Now MacArthur had come to give his side of the Korean war story.

Who can forget those rolling phrases, those pauses for dramatic effects, those gusts of emotion?

Start Of Service Looking back to his days as a West Point cadet, the start of 32 years of glamorous military service, the general built up to this conclusion:

"I still remember the refrain of one of the most popular barracks ballads of that day which proclaimed most proudly that old soldiers never die; they just fade away. And like the old soldier of that ballad I now close my military career and just fade away, an old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty. Goodby."

The phrase, "old soldiers never die; they just fade away," became a part of our national heritage, like that jaunty bar-

acks cap, those sunglasses, that corn-cob pipe.

Heroes are old stuff to the nation's capital, and often it's difficult to drum up a quorum. Yet so great was the excitement that day 12,000 persons waited faithfully at National airport until past midnight to greet the general as he flew in his plane, "The Bataan."

Thus began an incredible 20-hour day.

Tremendous Crowds

Everywhere the 71-year-old MacArthur went the crowds were simply tremendous. They sprawled all over the Washington monument grounds where he spoke briefly. Some 550,000 lined the parade route up historic Pennsylvania Avenue. (It was the same story in New York the next day, with 7,500,000 out to cheer the deposed hero.)

So many former members of Congress showed up for his Capitol speech—as was their right—that incumbent members could not find seats.

Carefully MacArthur tried to build up his case.

"I address you," MacArthur told the congressmen, "with neither rancor nor bitterness in the fading twilight of life, but with one purpose in mind: to serve my country. (Applause)."

"No Substitute"

"War's very object is victory, not prolonged indecision. (Applause). In war there is no substitute for victory."

MacArthur wanted to carry bombing attacks north of the Yalu river. "I called for reinforcements," he said, "But was told it was not forthcoming."

Sensing they might have Harry Truman on the run, Republicans (and perhaps some Democrats) cheered lustily.

MacArthur had said he had no political ambitions, but he acted like a candidate eager not to overlook any votes. He spoke to Congress—at the monument grounds, to the Daughters of the American Revolution and shook hands with members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

When this emotion-filled day ended at last, and MacArthur left for New York, a bemused reporter wrote:

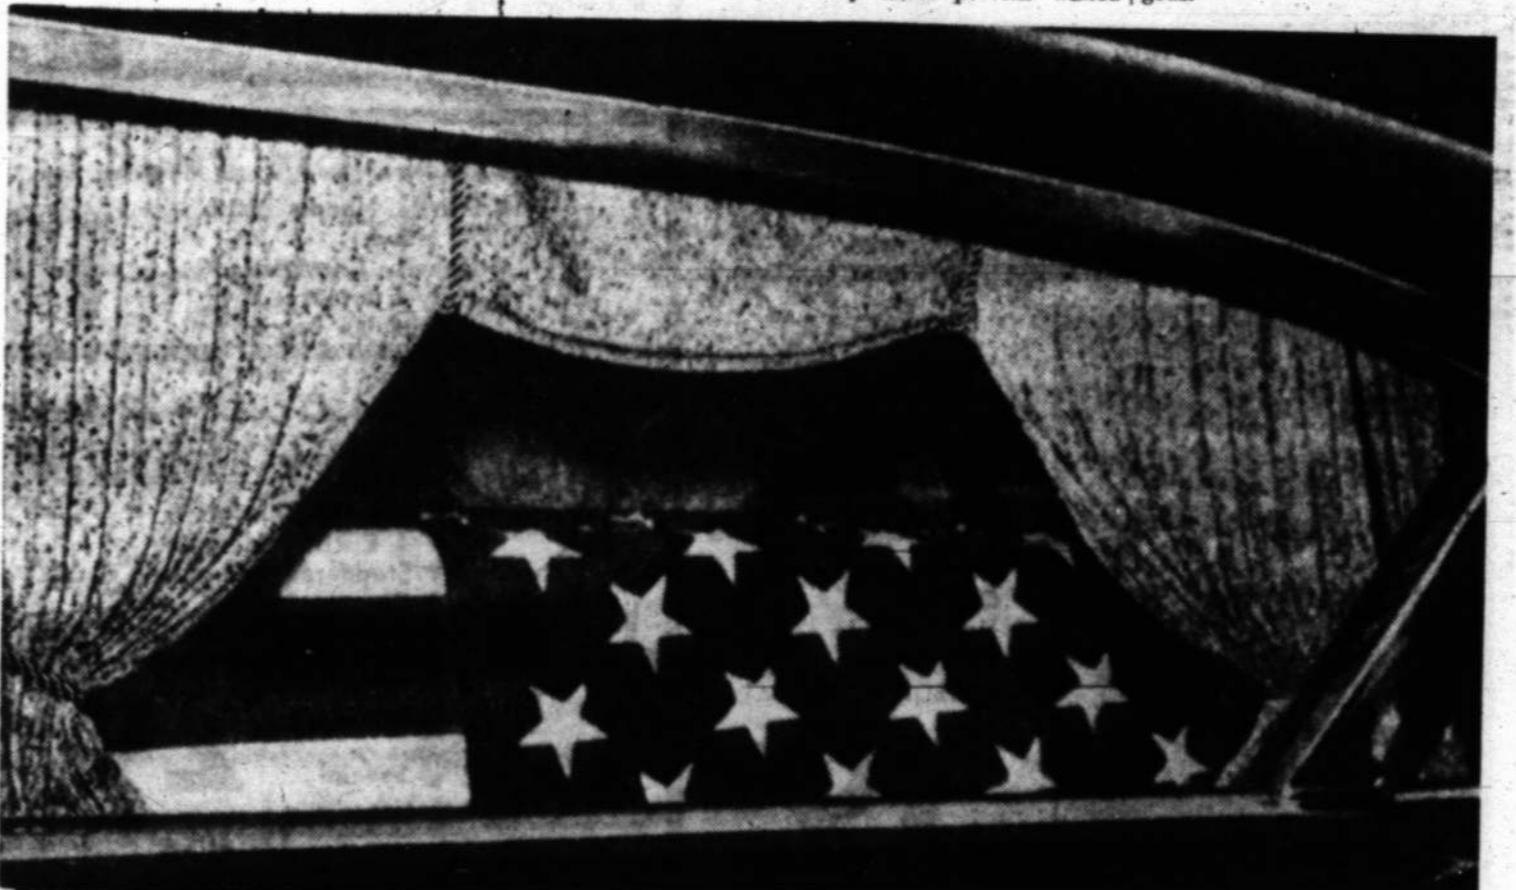

"It was the twilight of the gods."

Red Cross Coordinating Rehabilitation Agencies

By HAZEL KOHL

Workers for the American Red Cross, both professionals and volunteers, continued working around the clock Sunday to give assistance to families who lost their homes and possessions in the killer tornado Friday.

As of noon Sunday some 55 families had applied for assistance in the form of food, clothing or temporary shelter, at the assistance in the form of food, clothing or temporary shelter, at the ARC disaster headquarters, Seventh and Scott.

At the scene of Friday's disaster workers in four mobile canteen units continued to feed at least 300 persons three meals a day. Fed by the units were National Guard troops on duty at the scene, other workers and residents who were in the area to salvage what few belongings remained.

Food prepared at the units was under the direction of Mildard Underwood, Phil Liston and Leroy Daniels.

Workers Sunday were urging all Wichitans whether they were affected by the tornado or not to call or contact out-of-town and out-of-state relatives to advise them of their welfare.

ARC headquarters at Fifth and Baylor Sunday had received more than 300 inquiries from 42 states and five foreign countries asking the safety of relatives.

Plans Made

A meeting in Times Square Saturday attended by representatives from the Federal Housing Authority, City of Wichita Falls, Office of Emergency Planning, Red Cross, Sheppard Air Force Base and other groups, laid initial plans for providing temporary shelter for the hundreds of families who lost their homes.

It was announced that federal housing would be provided those who are homeless for at least 30 days at a nominal rent fee of $1 a month. These homes are provided by the Federal Housing Authority.

Although most of the houses and apartments are unfurnished, the Red Cross is arranging for temporary furniture and each house will contain a stove and refrigerator.

The public housing authority also has 40 dwelling units available for occupancy. These will be rented to those needing temporary homes at $10 a month, which includes the payment of utilities.

It was also decided that the Red Cross should supervise all welfare work from their special quarters in the old Times Building. An FHA official will be present in the headquarters to act as a liaison officer for those seeking temporary housing accommodations.

70 Clearances

George Clevenger, manager of the Wichita County ARC, reported Sunday that some 70 families had been cleared for the temporary housing by the ARC center and that still more are expected.

Most of those left homeless had sought refuge with friends or relatives, and Clevenger felt the demand for houses would increase when "people realize they are going to have to find a temporary home for 30 days or longer."

Sheppard Air Force Base located at least 50 families from the Sunset Terrace area had been placed in temporary houses on base.

Tom Wagner of Marlin, disaster director for the ARC, Saturday issued the following statement of loss to Wichita Falls families: seven killed, 111 injured, 17 hospitalized, 225 homes destroyed, 50 homes with major damage, 200 homes with minor damage, 20 buildings destroyed, 16 buildings with major damage and 475 families suffering losses from the tornado.

ARC officials estimated that the next job, that of rehabilitation, would take some four to six weeks.

Those who suffered injuries Friday, but were not hospitalized, were visited Sunday by a team of five American Red Cross nurses to see what assistance they needed. The nurses were under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Kilgore, chairman of disaster nursing, and Mrs. Randy White, volunteer nursing service chairman.

Officials Move

ARC officials moved into the disaster area immediately after the first reports of the twister Friday and began feeding and giving any other assistance possible to victims.

The Central Boys Club housed a temporary shelter for the homeless Friday night, but has since been shut down. The ARC mobile canteens have been operating 24-hours a day since the tornado hit.

Red Cross officials also reported that the Seventh Day Adventist clothing distribution truck was still in operation Sunday and was meeting all demands. This church group is coordinating with the ARC.

Nine ARC professional staff members were sent into Wichita Falls in the wake of the disaster and some 150 volunteers have been working long hard hours on the full-scale recovery operations.

Nikita Blasts Red Chinese

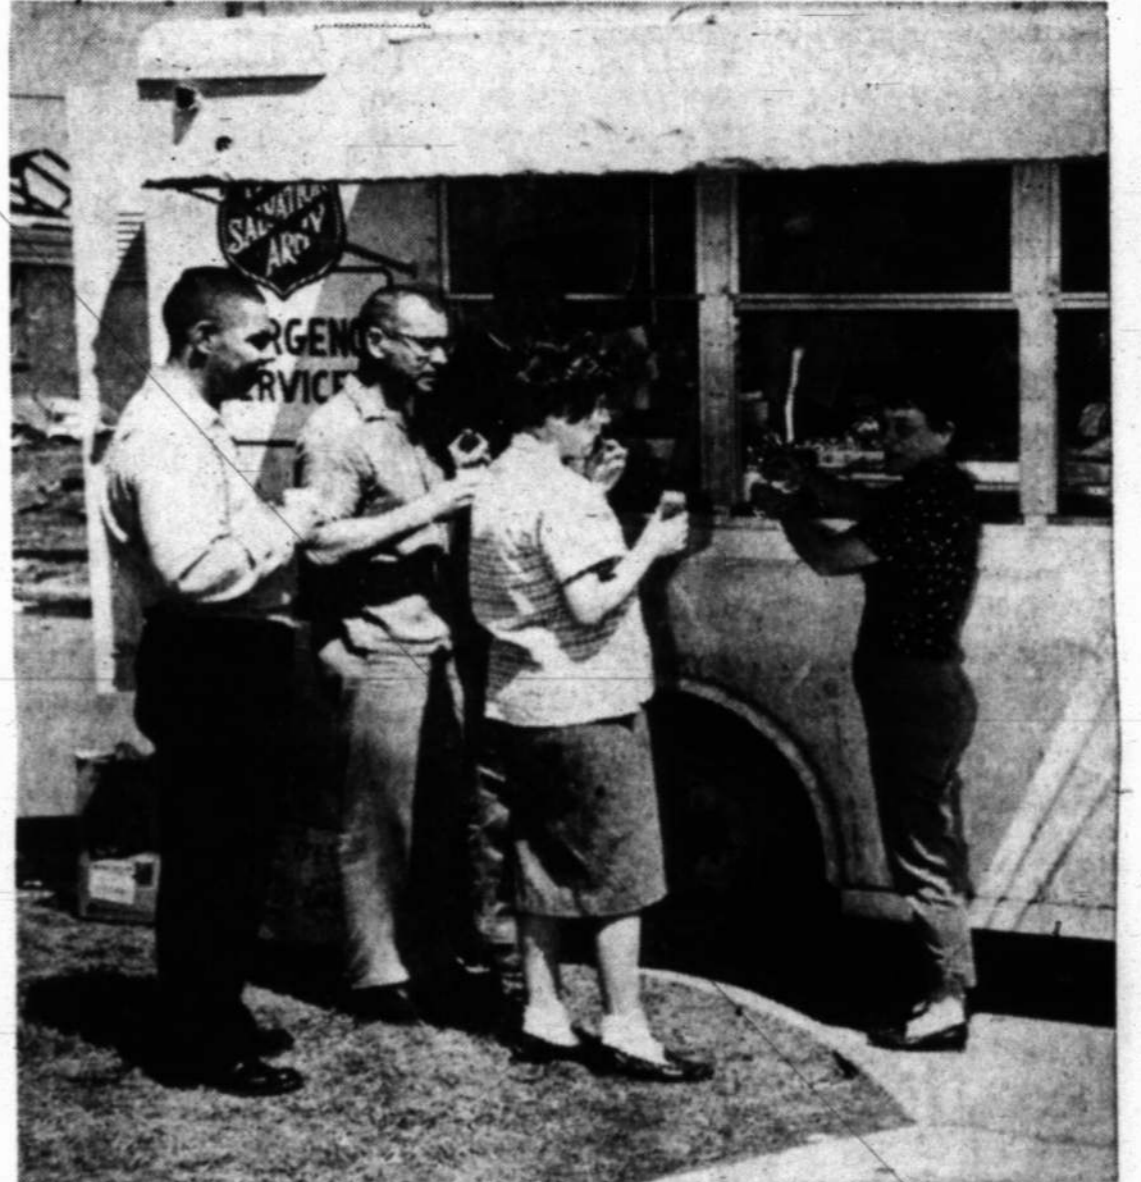

MISKOLC, Hungary (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev charged Sunday that the Chinese Communists were trying to incite the Soviet people against him.

"For this purpose," he told a crowd in this Hungarian steel town, "they invented accusations against me."

"But I am not ashamed of these charges. I am proud of them. They bring me only pride and honor."

The Chinese accused Khrushchev a week ago of being "the greatest capitulationist of all time" and a tool of the United States.

The Chinese also charged that Khrushchev was "too concerned with such unrevolutionary things as rising living standards."

DISPENSARY—One of the mobile food units of the Salvation Army which helped feed the hundreds of residents of Wichita Falls' west sec-

Tornado Friday 'Welcomed' Family To Wichita Falls

By PETE UPTON

S. Sgt. Clarence Byrd and family received a rude welcome Friday. They arrived in Wichita Falls for a new assignment with the 3772nd School Squadron at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Byrd and his family had been living in a motel for 10 weeks awaiting arrival of his household goods after a three-year assignment in Edinburgh, Scotland. During the three-year tour, the couple accumulated an outstanding collection of antique furniture and clocks, including a table inlaid with ancient coins, brass and copperware.

Last week the sergeant purchased a home at 1905 Pearl Circle in the Lincoln Heights addition for his wife Rebecca, and two children. His household goods finally arrived from overseas and he made arrangements to move in the new house Friday morning. The van arrived, unloaded the furniture and personal belongings, put everything in place and departed at 2:30 p.m.

Back In Motel

Sergeant Byrd and his family are now back in a motel. The ter Debra was in school, and drove to a fallout shelter on the base.

The tornado hit at 2:30 p.m. and lasted for about 35 minutes. After the "all clear" was sounded, Byrd returned to his house to find it demolished. Searching through the debris he found the works from one of his clocks inside an overcoat pocket in perfect working condition, and two glass globes that had been stored in a side board in perfect condition but no sign of the side board.

Red Cross is providing food, clothing and maintenance. The Red Cross will assist him in locating a new home and replace basic household goods.

The Air Police at Sheppard Air Force Base have notified Byrd that they found the birth certificate for one of his children on a street on the base, nearly a mile from the spot where his house was located.

The sergeant and his wife appeared to be in high spirits. He said "we are very grateful for the Red Cross assistance," and as an afterthought added, "I wish that moving van had arrived a day late."

Settled Down

The sergeant and his family settled down in the living room to admire their antique collection and turned on the radio to hear the latest news. The first thing they heard on the radio was a news bulletin of the tornado warning. Byrd stepped outside the front door and saw the tornado headed in the direction of his home.

He loaded his wife and son in the car, as his 8-year-old daughter

Law, Order Restored Quickly

By CLARENCE BIZET

Congestion and insecurity was shortlived after Friday's tornado whirled through Lincoln Heights, Sunset Terrace and Sheppard Air Force Base. During disasters this is achieved only with close coordination and cooperation.

This congestion comes from traffic complications and uncontrolled access into the stricken area. Just where or when law enforcement agencies and reserve military forces joined to prevent congestion and additional chaos is difficult to pinpoint.

Nonetheless, Bob Jolliff, director of public safety, was in charge. Control procedures began to fall in place. The Marine reserve had some 40 men on guard at 4:45 and remained on duty until midnight Friday. The men came from G Btry, 2nd Bn, 14th Marines commanded by Capt. Bill Harrah; as a matter of fact, it was commanded by Capt. G. D. Funston, too. He had just relinquished command that day.

The city police were busy. Six units (twelve men) were in action in Sunset Terrace and a similar number in Lincoln Heights. Another unit was at the command post while three dog units patrolled inside the disaster area. All were observing a 12-hours-on and 12-off schedule.

The Texas Highway Patrol called in 25 units into this area. As many as 80 men were controlling traffic and patrolling the ruins of Sunset Terrace and Lincoln Heights.

100 Guardsmen

Augmenting this force were 100 National Guardsmen mobilized by Governor John Connally specifically to help law enforcement agencies. The contingent included 17 officers.

Jolliff assigned the Lincoln Heights area to the Guardsmen. Guards pulled three hour shifts and were off six; officers went on a six-on and sometime six-off schedule.

Their first duty was patrolling the area with radio vehicles; then guard posts were set up in the Lincoln Heights area. Lt. Col. Elbert L. Dickerson said his men were helping civilian officials and were under supervision of Jolliff. Dickerson said the Guardsmen were being demobilized at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Sheriff's Department was sharing patrol, guard and search duty with others. It had 10 units working continuously.

Control and contact of all these agencies was maintained at two points, a stationary command post and a mobile command post in Sunset Terrace. These posts were equipped to communicate with city, state, county and highway patrol units, plus mobile telephones to communicate with each other.

Order Restored

As law enforcement agencies and others moved in the area, it became a secure area and order was restored. Emergency vehicles ranging from ambulances to mobile food trucks were afforded immediate entrance and exit.

Traffic on the highway from Burk Burnett, the Sheppard Access Road and Loop 165 soon reached bumper-to-bumper double lane saturation as onlookers were coming in; however, the array of guardsmen, reservists, highway patrolmen and city policemen only 10 or 12 feet from each other, kept traffic moving and the demolished area clear of unauthorized persons.

Jolliff instituted an effective pass system which kept out all but essential persons in the area. Besides policing officials, home owners were allowed to enter and seek their belongings.

The success of security and control is attributed to the work of many; and, of course, the cooperation of the citizenry.

Campaign A Failure

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A U.N. spokesman said a campaign in which 100,000 leaflets were dropped asking renegade Katangese former Gendarmes to surrender has failed.

He said those who gave themselves up had neither weapons nor proof they were ex-gendarmes.

The Iroquois Indians called their communal dwelling the "long house."

trailer court and Sunset Terrace additions hardest hit by the storm, were toured and the senator later saw portions of Lincoln Heights a second time.

"I've seen the Oak Cliff (Dallas) tornado damage in 1957, the Waco tornado's aftermath and the results of hurricane Carla in Galveston and none was as intensive... as total... as this," Yarborough said after a visit to the housing areas destroyed by the twister.

He said he had never seen more extensive damage contrasted so sharply with the relatively small loss of life. My heart goes out to those who lost loved ones in this catastrophe," the senator said.

Yarborough said he had asked his supporters to postpone the April 11 dinner and rally in his honor in order to give them an opportunity to do their part in helping restore damage caused by the twister.

"I don't want the efforts of a single one of my campaign workers to be diverted to this dinner until no volunteer work (in connection with the tornado) remains to be done," Yarborough said.

as also discussed the operation of the disaster headquarters being operated for all-relief agencies at the former headquarters of the Times Publishing Co. at Seventh and Scott, with Red Cross leaders and volunteer workers.

Making available of Federal Housing Administration-owned vacant houses to victims of the tornado at token cost was strongly commended by the senator. "It's the best thing the Federal Government could have done to relieve victims of their most pressing problems," Yarborough said. He said the act was a "good example of how to use available property and how to cut red tape when time is of the essence," he continued.

"There's a tendency to overlook those who were not physically injured by the storm," he said. But we all should realize that everyone involved in the tornado has undergone a traumatic experience... in having their homes wiped out, along with most of their life savings. "I extend my deepest sympathy to the bereaved families... to the injured, and to those families who have lost their homes and possessions. I'll do in my power to help erase the Nine injured in Friday's funnel remained in Wichita Falls hospitals Monday morning, all of them in satisfactory condition.

At Wichita General Hospital were J. B. Moore, 47, of 1311 North Ninth; Mrs. Janette Thomas, 2113 1/2 Tenth; Joe Collins, 15, of Burkburnett; and George Turnbow, 64, of Burkburnett.

At Sheppard Air Force Base hospital were Ronda L. Thomas, T.Sgt. Roy S. Bennett, Airman S.C. Wayne Wanko, Marie J. Blum and S.Sgt. James Kirchoff. Eight others were released from the hospital Sunday.

give each property owner the proper treatment."

Davis also said a representative of the city's building inspection office would visit each damaged house, and, if the owner agrees, remove all hazards such as teetering walls or jagged glass.

Employees of the city water department worked through the night to read meters at homes whose plumbing leaked, so that no charge would be assessed for the unused water. Notices were posted on front doors explaining the service.

Touring the area Sunday night with Davis and Hodge were R. S. (Bob) Jolliff, director of public safety; Bob Hughey, administrative assistant to Davis; Ronald Neighbors, director of finance; Frank Farlow, city engineer and director of public works effective April 16; R. T. Gregory, present director of public works; Jess Ward, training and education officer of the state Civil Defense program; and Dan Martini, Civil Defense coordinator for the city.

Press Conference

Davis called a press conference at 10 a.m. Monday at the Control Point 1, Red River Expressway and City View Lane, to answer questions. He said Mayor John Gavin and all other city officials would be present.

At noon Monday he expects to issue a statement telling how long the area at Sunset Terrace and Lincoln Heights will remain under the surveillance of law officers.

Meanwhile, the Red Cross, Salvation Army and church groups poured in clothing and food to sustain evacuees from the area.

Policing of the area was maintained by vigilant National Guardsmen of Wichita Falls 49th Armored Division Units called out by Gov. John Connally Friday. They are being assisted by units of the police department of the city, and the Wichita County Sheriff's Office, plus units of the Texas Highway Department.

Salvation Army's Job Began Before Tornado's Fury Ended

By NATHAN FAIN

Telephones at the Salvation Army center on 810 Seventh were ringing wildly Friday afternoon even before the tornado's ugly finger stopped writing its message of destruction across Wichita Falls suburbs.

"Is there anything at all we can do? Food? Clothing?" asked hundreds of commander Brig. William T. Johnson.

And before nightfall Salvation Army volunteer workers were processing tons of clothing and mountains of food for Wichita Falls' hungry and homeless.

"We started going into action right away... I mean just as I was watching the funnel on television," said Johnson Sunday.

The veteran of five major Texas disasters recounted how four mo-ble canteens entered the stricken area to serve coffee and doughnuts, and later food to distraught homeowners.

"By Friday night more than 40 professional Salvation Army workers were here and 12 mobile units were in operation serving food to 4,000," he said. The units came from Dallas, San Angelo, Tyler, Sherman, Paris, Abilene and other cities.

Food Needed

"Saturday, there were 1,500 for lunch, 2,000 for dinner and Sunday morning we fed 500 persons ham and eggs for breakfast. Food is still coming in, but we need more prepared food, hot food, and desserts," Johnson said.

Augmenting the massive relief effort were kitchens in homes nearby which were not badly damaged.

About 25 tons of clothing, routed by Miss Beulah Johnson, was sorted at the main depot and transferred to the Salvation Army Social Service Center at 507 Seventh.

Furniture, "and we still need lots of it," is being kept at the Salvation Army's warehouse at Seventh and Lee awaiting temporary loan to the homeless.

"Those who want to apply for help may come to the central Salvation Army office here on Seventh," said Johnson. "There won't be any 'red tape' or delay, we just want a skeleton sheet of information on people. We want to help."

Appeals Answered

Johnson noted that his appeals for food and clothing were answered by a deluge of telephone calls.

"People were blocking the street Friday and Saturday to unload articles here. The response has been just wonderful."

Assisting Johnson in coordinating the Army's work here is Maj. Emery Frierson of Dallas, wide Salvation Army centers, and Eddie Brown, chairman of disaster work for the Army. BGM men were at Hurricane Carla's rampage two years ago.

Working as volunteer coordinators are Mrs. Frank Wood, Mrs. Lee Frans and Charlene Smith of Young Women's Christian Association.

Crews of volunteers piloting mobile canteens are being directed by Maj. Lewis Stille, Al A. Horwitz is engaged in public relations work for the operation.

Small Business Administration Will Assist Victims Of Tornado

By CAROLE COOK

The Small Business Administration's regional office in Dallas has dispatched a representative to Wichita Falls to make assistance available to victims of Friday's tornado and aid in the restoration of damaged or destroyed property.

Representative Hall Martin set up headquarters late Sunday in the Red Cross building on Seventh and Scott, former location of Times Publishing Co.

Martin will meet with officers of Wichita Falls banks at 9:30 a.m. Monday in Action Hall at the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce headquarters to help coordinate the Small Business Administration efforts with those of the local banks. The meeting was arranged by Rex Jennings, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce.

Purpose of SBA loans, Martin said, is to restore property to its condition prior to the disaster.

In explaining the loans, Martin said the interest rate is three per cent per annum, with the total amount to be repaid in 20 years. Martin said there is no maximum dollar amount, but the victims cannot obtain more than the amount required to restore them to their pre-disaster position.

Though people are urged to contact their local banks first, Martin said the SBA will make loans available to anyone affected by the disaster.

These include individuals, business concerns and non-profit organizations, such as churches.

Provided they have suffered property damage or loss from the disaster and provided SBA has declared the area a disaster area for purposes of financial assistance.

Martin stressed that, those wishing to obtain loans from SBA must make a list in triplicate of the damaged, destroyed or lost property, showing the original cost of the property.

Another "must," he said, is that the person applying for a loan obtain from a contractor, supplier or repairman a signed estimate in triplicate of the cost of repairing the damaged property.

Martin will be available for consultation between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. at disaster headquarters. He said if necessary his hours will be extended. A telephone will be installed Monday at the SBA headquarters.

An SBA representative will be in Wichita Falls for several weeks, or as long as needed, Martin added.

Regional director is Robert E. West of Dallas.

They Came By The Thousands To View Times Square

A LONG WALK—Thousands walked through Times Square Sunday between 1 and 5 p.m. as the newspaper office observed its grand opening ceremonies in new headquarters at Thirteenth and Lamar. Shortly after 2 p.m. the company flags, lower right, were lowered to half mast in honor of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur who died Sunday at 1:55 p.m. Visitors to the plant were the first to learn of the hero's death as a bulletin was posted immediately after the announcement came over the wire. The company library, upper left, was one of the main points of interest as the visitors saw the large files kept up to date and many pictures depicting historic moments in the city and national news. Another interesting point for visitors was the AP Wirephoto Machine, which transmits pictures to Times Square from all over the world and also from which the newspaper can send pictures to all points in the world as Friday when the killer tornado struck the city. Many of the visitors were awed by the large machinery in the composing room and stereotype department as well as the large presses, which are used daily in producing two newspapers. The visitors were greeted at the switchboard and then began the long tour, which took them through the classified and circulation departments, advertising, executive offices, the editorial department, the photography department, the zinc engraving department, the mechanical department, the press rooms, the mailing room and the auditorium. In all more than 15,000 persons visited Times Square Saturday and Sunday to help the paper observe the grand opening. (Staff Photos)

A final statement to the citizens of Wichita Falls: I believe the No. 1 problem confronting us today is new payrolls. Pointers Given On Grooming Show Plants

IOWA PARK, Tex. (Special)—Mrs. S. H. Walton of Wichita Falls, a national flower judge, was the speaker for a meeting of the Iowa Park Garden Club Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Wilburn Bedford. The co-hostess was Mrs. Homer Blacklock.

Mrs. Walton discussed the grooming of plants for the Fourth Annual Flower Show set for April 24 at the Iowa Park Youth Center.

She told how irreparable damage could be done through improper handling during the grooming process as efforts are made to remove all evidence of poor horticulture practice. The reasons listed for grooming were to enhance the beauty of the plant, to remove the evidence of poor horticulture shown by pests and disease, and to prevent in the spreading of disease and pests.

Mrs. Walton described the grooming of potted plants, roses, annuals, perennials and iris, and demonstrated the grooming of a shrub stem.

The theme of the flower show, of which Mrs. J. C. Hill is chairman, is "Flowery Phrases." Mrs. Bart Grant and Mrs. Herman Rains are the schedule chairmen.

The three divisions of the show will be: Horticulture, "Artistic," and Educational.

Mrs. Wilburn Bedford will be in charge of the white elephant table which has been so popular at previous shows.

Mrs. E. F. Soell, president, announced the special dates during April, including the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. Convention April 7-9.

Mrs. Hill reported that a non-bearing mulberry tree had been planted at Park Manor, Iowa Park's new nursing home.

Mrs. A. K. Settle showed two books which she had purchased for the club's donation to the Wichita County Free Library for March and April. These were Design With Flowers by Patricia Kroh, and An Easy Guide to Color For Flower Arrangers by Margaret Dawson.

Crescent arrangements were displayed by Mrs. O. N. Newman and Mrs. Hill.

Ann Landers Says

Be Glad He's Not Grumpy From Morning To Night

Dear Ann Landers: I'm no bride. My husband and I have been married 14 years and the problem I'm writing about goes way back. I hope you can help me because I'm just about ready to crown him with the coffee pot.

Orville is a lovely, kind, intelligent, generous person — from noon on. But heaven help anyone who crosses him during the first four hours of his day. I've never known the man to utter a civilized word before 11:00 a.m.

I have made a genuine effort to be cheerful and sunny at the breakfast table even though at times I've felt pretty lousy myself. Orville's coffee is piping hot, his eggs are just right and the muffins and rolls I bake are just beautiful.

I've tried every device to sweeten up this man in the morning, but I have failed. Help! Please! — END OF MY STRING

Dear String: Nothing irritates a morning sour-puss like a cheerful, chirping wife.

Orville's disposition is geared to his metabolism. Some people don't come alive until noon. Others wake up feeling simply gr-r-rreat — but by 9:00 p.m. they fold like old-fashioned bridge tables. The best thing you can do for yourself — and for Orville — is to turn down the happy voltage and let him alone.

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to say a few words about the women's editors on newspapers — those grand dames who sit on their thrones and decide whose engagement or wedding picture is going to make the page.

I live in a Southern city and if your great grandmother wasn't a descendant of Lafayette and your great grandfather didn't plant thirty-thousand acres of cotton or sugar, forget about getting your daughter's wedding picture in the newspaper.

I'm sure it's the same everywhere. Ordinary, everyday folks don't have a chance. We are living in the age of the affluent society. I say nuts to these dames and their phony values. O.K., now you can throw this letter in the wastebasket. — RESENTFUL

Dear Resentful: I've met hundreds of women's editors. They are the hardest-working, biggest-hearted gals I know.

(In larger cities (yours for example) if the newspapers printed the picture of every bride or engaged girl, there would be no space left for the news or for my column. How would that suit you?

Dear Ann Landers: If just one person in your reading audience learns something from my letter it will be worth the soul-searing agony of putting my failure into words.

It is exactly a year ago today that he left me. I am 30 and he was 33. We had a lovely home and three handsome sons. He worked hard in his business and when he got home at night what did he find? A nagging, complaining wife.

The few times he asked me to invite his mother to dinner I said, "No. I can't stand her." When he wanted to have his business associates to the house

IOWA PARK, Tex. (Special)—Building A Span Bridge Of Understanding was the theme of the Council of International Clubs program presented for a meeting of the Twenty-Three Study Club at the home of Mrs. Sam Hill with Mrs. C. L. Metz co-hostess.

Mrs. C. E. Birk was program leader for the afternoon.

Mrs. Homer W. Thompson used We Stand At The Door Of The World as the topic of a meditation.

Mrs. W. G. Steels played an original piano composition for the fine arts number.

Mrs. T. M. Clark was the speaker. With the assistance of club members she showed how the efforts of club women throughout the world are helping to build a bridge of understanding through their varied projects. Projects mentioned were scholarships, acts to alleviate human suffering and juvenile delinquency, city beautification, good government, efforts to create an appreciation for good music, art and cultural activities.

During the business directed by Mrs. Fred Widmoyer, a report of the Santa Rosa District convention was given by Mrs. Noel Troutman. A contribution to the War Memorial honoring women war dead, a GFWC project, was voted.

The next meeting will be a luncheon meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church April 16 to close the current year's work.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most of the time the way to win at bridge is to play straight down the middle and to let your opponents gallop around among the highways and byways. So, just because today's article is going to illustrate sensational and normally unsound play, don't think that I approve of such tactics except on very rare occasions.

going to break nicely for declarer. You have ace and one diamond, so there should be no trouble setting up dummy's suit. Do you want to lead the king of hearts and hope to collect two quick heart tricks and a heart ruff?

This time if you lead the king of hearts you are a hero.

Next time you are likely to be a bum.

You Can Remove The Gloves To Handle Hymnals

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: Should you take your gloves off when you enter the church to shake hands with the ushers, minister or friends? Do you keep gloves on in church during the service? When holding or carrying gloves, should the fingers be up or down in your hand?—Mrs. S. E., Denver, Colo."

First, you don't shake hands with the ushers. You bow and let them escort you to your pew. After church you do shake hands with the minister and friends, but a lady keeps her gloves on.

It was a Victorian notion that gloves should be kept on in church — except for the taking of the communion — but I prefer to see them removed if you are going to handle prayer books and hymnals, which might soil white gloves and be awkward to handle with gloves on. When you are carrying gloves, it seems more natural to carry them with the fingers up.

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: I am a widow of many years. A very dear friend is in the habit of calling me up a few hours before she has company to ask me if I would like to join them for dinner. When I arrive I find that the other ladies had been invited a week before. Should I continue to accept these invitations?—Mrs. N. T., Flint, Mich."

There is no reason not to accept if you enjoy yourself. Your friend may feel that she'd be placing you under an obligation to reciprocate if she were to issue you an invitation in the normal fashion but that you won't feel obligated each time if it is a last-minute invitation. Most of us like to have one or two stand-by friends who will round out a party at the last minute or fill in for someone who can't make it.

One case in rubber bridge occurs when your opponents have reached game on decisive bidding. Obviously they expect to make this game and obviously they have enough strength to warrant this expectation.

One lead that may upset their apperception is that of a doubleton ace or king. It doesn't take a great deal of nerve to lead a doubleton ace, but lots of players will never open a doubleton king because they look so silly if they lead it right into declarer's ace-queen or some equally unfortunate card combination.

Now supposing you hold the West hand. Your opponents have reached four spades on decisive bidding. You have three little trumps and know trumps are

Keep Skin Radiant For Your Own Sake

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Your neck, shoulders and back are easy to keep in about-face condition. All you need is a little equipment and a good will. The total equipment consists of the familiar, long-handled back brush covered with a soft rubber sponge, a piece of white string for tying the sponge to the brush, a grainy cleanser, and a lubricant (body oil, baby lotion or a medicated cream if the skin is blemished).

Mix equal parts of your lubricant and cleanser. Secure the sponge to the brush and saturate it with your mixture. During your bath or shower, after your soap lathering, massage your neck, shoulders and upper arms with the treated sponge for about three minutes. Then, rinse, remove the sponge from your brush, lather again, and bristle-cleanse the area.

When your bath is complete, clean the sponge and attach it again to the brush. Saturate it with your lubricant (no cleanser this time) and cover every inch of your back. Lie face down for fifteen minutes to allow for

DEAR POLLY — I put several buttons inside a scoop that came in a vacuum-packed coffee can, glued another scoop to it and the result is a baby rattle. A noisy, baby-pleasing crib toy can be made by drilling a hole in each scoop handle and attaching several to a small chain. — A BACHELOR UNCLE

DEAR POLLY — My mother and I had the same problems as Lynn P. and her mother. I wanted to choose my own clothes. We both compromised a little and now she helps me choose my clothes and I help her choose hers. — K.L.S.

DEAR POLLY — "Always clean windows for safe driving!" Do other men get tired or impatient while waiting for the wife or children when they are late or say they are only going to be gone a few minutes? I keep a can of spray window cleaner and a cloth in our station wagon. Now when I have to wait, I clean one or more windows (inside and out) and the time seems to go faster. — BILL

For perfection by summer, give your back this treatment every day for a week and once each week thereafter.

DEAR POLLY — The inside of a closet door is a good resting place for the ironing board. Put two screw-type clothes hooks near the bottom of the door to form a rack to hold the bottom of the folded board. About three feet above this, tack a lady's belt to the door and fasten it around the upper part of the board to hold it in place. Put the flat side of the board against the door and the board stays in place securely. — K.D.

DEAR POLLY — Perhaps the Cub Scout leader who asked for ideas would like to make some of the things our Blue Bird group made when I was the leader.

Collect glass jars, with screw-on lids in various sizes and shapes. Paint the lids and then glue sequins, beads or shells on them and perhaps on one side of each jar, too. Decals can also be used. These make nice gifts when filled with candy, soap or bubble bath. — M.P.

DEAR POLLY — When you are lucky enough to buy a new large appliance, save the heavy cardboard carton to make a deluxe playhouse for the children. My husband used a refrigerator carton and wired the top together for extra strength, cut out windows and a door. It is a pleasure to see the children enjoy a plaything that cost nothing at all. — DAILY READER

Celtics Close In On Sweep

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Boston Celtics moved within a game of a clean sweep of the Eastern Division Basketball Association playoff final Sunday night downing the Cincinnati Royals, 102-92.

Jerry Lucas, whose ailing back limited him to only 14 rebounds in those first two games in Boston, was back on the beam Sunday night. He grabbed 24 rebounds.

Chicago Grabs 3-2 Advantage

CHICAGO (AP)—Stan Mikita's blazing 25-foot goal with less than four minutes to play gave the Chicago Black Hawks a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Red Wings Sunday night and a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series.

In the first half, the Royals hit only 11 of 51 shots while the Celtics got 25 of 51.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Jess Domingues of Oxnard, Calif., fired a 693 series Sunday to claim second place in regular singles at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—American-bred horses took the first three places Sunday in Italy's most important trotting race, the Lottery Grand Prize.

Hawks Jump Into 2-1 Lead Over Warriors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks held off the San Francisco Warriors 113-109 Sunday night to take a 2-1 lead in the Western Division final playoff series of the National Basketball Association.

The fourth game in the best-of-seven set is scheduled in St. Louis Wednesday night.

Using a make shift line-up because their regulars were in foul trouble, the Hawks opened up a nine-point lead 104-95 with 5:27 to play. St. Louis then weathered a closing San Francisco rally.

Wilt Chamberlain, the game's high scorer with 46 points, brought the Warriors within 107-106 on a goal with 2:08 left. St. Louis went three points ahead when Chamberlain was called for goaltending as Bob Pettit drove for the basket with 1:34 to go.

Chamberlain hit a free throw, but Pettit came back with two foul shots giving St. Louis a 111-107 edge with 43 seconds left. Richie Guerin's two free throws nullified Chamberlain's basket in the remaining time.

St. Louis won with balanced scoring. Bob Pettit was high with 26. He was followed by Charlie Vaughn and Zelmo Beaty with 22 each, and Guerin with 19. Cliff Hagan, St. Louis' second leading scorer for the season, failed to make a point. He was checked by the close guarding of Tom Meschery.

Meschery was San Francisco's second highest scorer with 20 points.

Vaughn and Bill Bridges picked up St. Louis after Pettit led after the first quarter 29-28 and increased its lead to 62-59 by halftime.

St. Louis took an 85-84 lead into the final period. San Francisco never caught the Hawks in the final 12 minutes.

Three technical fouls were called in the game, on Pettit, St. Louis Coach Harry Gallatin and San Francisco Coach Alex Hannum.

Jack Nicklaus, who began the round with a three-stroke lead, faded to 73 to finish fourth at 279.

The 44-year-old Boros, long regarded as a warm weather player, never before had achieved a victory before the month of May in his 15 years as a golf professional.

Sunday, he put together nines of 33-33 in 45-degree weather under leaden skies over the 7,066-yard par 36-35-71 Sedgefield Country Club course. His 66 was the day's low round and earned an additional $400 bonus prize.

His earlier rounds were 66-70-73 against Sanders' scores of 73-70-66-68. Sanders won $3,800 for finishing second, his best effort since winning here a year ago.

The last round began with signs of a runaway for Masters champion Nicklaus, but turned into a free-for-all.

Nicklaus, playing in the last threesome with Snead, made the turn in 37 and was tied with Snead and Al Geiberger with nine holes to play. Boros and Sanders were one shot back.

Boros made the turn in 33 with seven pars, an eagle and a birdie. He eagled the 501-yard sixth on a drive, No. 2 iron and 12-foot putt and chipped up a foot from the pin for his birdie four on No. 9.

Starting at the 10th, he made three straight threes, the first two birdies on putts of 18 and 15 feet. Another birdie followed on No. 14 when he came out of a trap and knocked in a two-foot putt.

A bad second shot on No. 15 cost him his only bogey and he finished with three pars, completing the round with a 66.

Boros' Par On Extra Hole Nicks Sanders

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—National Open champion Julius Boros parred the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to edge defending champion Doug Sanders for top money of $6,600 in the $45,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The two had tied over the 72-hole distance with seven-under-par 277's when Sanders bogeyed the final hole.

Sam Snead, leader through the first two rounds, finished third one stroke behind. He failed to get a birdie on the final hole that would have made it a three-way playoff.

Jack Nicklaus, who began the round with a three-stroke lead, faded to 73 to finish fourth at 279.

The 44-year-old Boros, long regarded as a warm weather player, never before had achieved a victory before the month of May in his 15 years as a golf professional.

Sunday, he put together nines of 33-33 in 45-degree weather under leaden skies over the 7,066-yard par 36-35-71 Sedgefield Country Club course. His 66 was the day's low round and earned an additional $400 bonus prize.

His earlier rounds were 66-70-73 against Sanders' scores of 73-70-66-68. Sanders won $3,800 for finishing second, his best effort since winning here a year ago.

The last round began with signs of a runaway for Masters champion Nicklaus, but turned into a free-for-all.

Nicklaus, playing in the last threesome with Snead, made the turn in 37 and was tied with Snead and Al Geiberger with nine holes to play. Boros and Sanders were one shot back.

Boros made the turn in 33 with seven pars, an eagle and a birdie. He eagled the 501-yard sixth on a drive, No. 2 iron and 12-foot putt and chipped up a foot from the pin for his birdie four on No. 9.

Starting at the 10th, he made three straight threes, the first two birdies on putts of 18 and 15 feet. Another birdie followed on No. 14 when he came out of a trap and knocked in a two-foot putt.

A bad second shot on No. 15 cost him his only bogey and he finished with three pars, completing the round with a 66.

ing out of a trap on No. 17 to sink a two-foot putt.

Sanders birdied three of the first five holes on the back nine and came to the final hole needing a par four to win.

But his drive landed in what he said appeared to be a double divot and his second went into the gallery around the green. He chipped up 10 feet from the cup and took two putts.

On the extra hole, Boros was on the green in two about 12 feet from the hole. Sanders appeared to shank his second shot into the crowd and then chipped to the fringe of the green. His fourth shot was inside Boros a few feet, but when Boros placed his putt within a foot of the hole he was home.

It marked the 13th consecutive tournament this year in which a different man has won.

The victory boosted Boros into third place on the year's official PGA money list with $13,568. Nicklaus, by winning $2,500, pushed his total to $20,050. Mason Rudolph finished seventh, winning $1,800 to hold second at $15,747. Arnold Palmer dropped from third to fourth at $13,488 by winning $845 on a tie for 13th shooting a final round 71.

Randall's 72 Shakes Second Round Lapse For Weeks Park Win

Bill Randall fought off a shaky second round to win the first annual Weeks Park Mens' Golf Association Tournament with a 54-hole total of 218, two strokes better than Doyle Murphy and six over par for the tourney.

Randall, who had a three-shot lead going into the second round, found his troubles over the rain-soaked course and soared to a five-over 76 while Murphy, four strokes back after the first round, fired a 73 to pull within one stroke.

Jim LeBus, the medalist, gained a stroke the second round, but was two shots back entering the final round.

All three played steady golf as the wind began drying the course in the afternoon. Randall posted a one-over 72, and Murphy and LeBus could do no better than 73.

Tom Miller took the championship consolation with a 73, six shots better than Foster Watkins.

The consolation was formed after the first 36 holes and the high four started from scratch the final 18.

Winners and runner ups in each flight received prizes and trophies.

This final round highlighted a successful start for the association's first tournament, although bad weather, including the tornado which hit Friday, hampered play the entire three days.

Only one playoff developed and that was in the first flight consolation. Tim Kable and Billy Buntin tied with 36 hole totals of 169, but Kable edged him on the first extra hole.

3 years of service and experience devoted to the present problems confronting Wichita Falls.

I FEEL THE STATEMENTS MADE, ACTS PROMISED AND PERSONAL CONDUCT DURING A CAMPAIGN ARE INDICATIVE OF THE ACTIONS OF A CANDIDATE AFTER ELECTED.

IT WOULD BE FOOLISH FOR ME TO BERATE OR RIDICULE ANY ONE OR GROUP AND AT THE SAME TIME SAY "LET'S WORK FOR A FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE IN OUR CITY THAT WILL BE CONDUCTIVE TO GOOD GROWTH AND PROSPERITY."

I WILL MAKE NO ACCUSATIONS OR UNJUST CLAIMS, FOR YOU PROVED YOU DESIRED ONLY THE TRUTHS WHEN YOU VOTED THE BOND PROGRAM IN 1963 AND VETOED THE WARD SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT AS PRESENTED TO YOU BY A FEW IN THE SAME YEAR.

IF YOU ELECT ME AS YOUR MAYOR (AND I HOPE YOU DO), I WILL CONTINUE THIS TYPE OF PHILOSOPHY AND RESPECT AS I REPRESENT YOU AND OUR CITY. IT IS ONLY THROUGH TEAM WORK AND EFFORT THAT SUCH THINGS CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED.

Singles were the big hits in two extra-inning contests. Three safeties carried Milwaukee over Washington 5-3 in 11 innings. Mike de la Hoz started the rally, moved to third on Bill Woodward's single and scored as Gus Bell grounded out. Ty Cline then singled home Woodward.

Al Kaline's single scored George Smith in the 10th and gave Detroit a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph halted the Tigers' five-game losing streak.

Three other games also were close. St. Louis nipped the New York Mets 2-1. Doug Clemens singled home one run in the third and scored minutes later on an infield out. Ray Washburn pitched five innings and Bob Gibson four, holding the Mets to four hits.

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another—very striking improvement was reported and verified by a doctor's observation. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Old Antagonism

The roots of the Cyprus problem ultimately reach far back into human history. At least to the foundations of the two great religions represented on the island.

majority is a clearly unworkable procedure. A functioning government requires the willing co-operation of both sides, and this is the one thing they are unable to give.

Washington

Tax Cut Unhappiness

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—In Colorado, Republican Gov. John Love is learning that saving money does not necessarily buy happiness.

The state will not benefit heavily at once, but ultimately $5 million more a year is expected.

On World Affairs

East Germans Restless

WASHINGTON — The resurgence of basic human nature that has been making life hard for the communist bosses of Poland, Hungary, Rumania and even the U.S.S.R. has finally spread to the East German so-called "democratic republic."

when he was trying to convince the world of the contentment of the East German people. So the party leaders "merely" ejected Havemann from the ruling party and fired him from his job — to starve or undertake menial work.

Red Leader Expresses Sympathy To Alaska

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—When Nikita Khrushchev sent a message of condolence to President Johnson over the Alaskan earthquake tragedy, it illustrated a point which many Americans do not understand regarding U.S.-USSR relations—namely, politics.

U.S. officials knew as well as East German officials, some of whom have leaned toward the Chinese camp, was that these flyers had flown at a right angle into Germany. In other words, it appeared that they had not strayed across the border by accident.

yet, Johnson now worries about criticism from the man to whom he gave a rostrum from which to criticize.

The Had LBJ
Eisenhower also worried about congressional criticism, but he had one big advantage over Kennedy and Johnson. He had the advantage of having the then majority leader of the senate—an energetic gentleman from Texas named Johnson—supporting him on every single foreign policy issue.

Unshaken

Allen-Scott Report Johnson Planning Tour

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT
WASHINGTON — President Johnson is taking a page from the strategy book of his late predecessor and will make a "non-political political" tour of a number of Western states in the late spring.

Whirligig

New Nationalism

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Nationalistic stirrings among the Soviet satellites in Eastern Europe indicate that the best policy the United States can adopt toward these countries is one of sweet patience.

is an ideology of government is waning. It does mean that the Communist governments in these countries seek to go their own way, in loose association with the Moscow fountainhead.

Prayer For Today

God of all power and might, on this Palm Sunday we praise Thee for the victory of Jesus over death and the grave. We rejoice in the assurance that He has conquered every form of evil for Himself and has armed us for similar triumph over the ills that beset us.

The Country Parson

In most cases, the satellites' overtures to the West have been dictated by economics; they have learned they can turn a profit by trading outside the Communist bloc.

Now that Spring is here, it is time to plan that party you have been thinking about all winter. Catch up with your obligations, gather together a group of good friends, neighbors or club members. Plan a sunny party lunch filled with the spirit of Spring. Bring out your prettiest and gayest linens, your best china. Get a jump on the flowers that aren't yet blooming by planting your window boxes with Spring flowers from Europe — that is, with colorful life-like plastic flowers such as the ones that are imported from Italy. Look for the ones that come in bouquets that include a variety of Spring flowers such as cosmos, lilies of the valley, roses, freesias, columbines and lacy ferns.

If possible, set up your table near a window letting the flowers in the window box be your centerpiece. Or, make a flower arrangement that looks like a window box complete with shutters.

The food for a Spring lunch should be as light and delightful as the decorations. Begin with soup, such as spring vegetable soup made from a mix. Make it up just as the package directs or as suggested here in the recipe for Tomato Vegetable Soup.

As the guests arrive, show them to the buffet table where they can help themselves to cups of the soup and to a creamy leek dip served with carrot and celery sticks for dippers. This way guests will have a chance to circulate before settling down to eat. Arrange card tables where guests can sit after serving themselves.

Chicken salad is always a good choice for a party lunch. It is especially nice when lightly seasoned with curry powder and served with a choice of colorful fruits surrounding it. All that is needed to accompany the salad are tiny fresh hot rolls passed after guests are seated.

Make the dessert Spring personified. The choice here is Spanish Cream served with a fresh strawberry sauce. And, if desired, with Orange Coconut cookies.

All recipes are worked out to serve eight. Double recipes if desired, but instead of filling a bigger mold with Spanish Cream, make two molds.
