Ike Calls For Unity, Courage In NATO Alliance

Door Open To 'Honest Talks'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower summoned the free world today to display unity, courage and perseverance in a quest for world peace despite Communist "menace and threats."

"Those who respect the dignity of man will not fail before the magnitude of the task," he said.

In an address prepared for the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council, Eisenhower said the real need for world peace is that the Communists abandon their "purpose of world domination."

"We shall never cease to encourage such a change," he said, but added that free men must be prepared for years of tension and bickering with a force that menaces the very spiritual foundations of Western civilization.

Eisenhower addressed himself mainly to the long-range problems of a troubled world and gave only passing mention to the Berlin crisis which lends urgency to the NATO meeting.

Speaking in apparent reference to the upcoming foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union on the Berlin and related problems, and the probable summit session to follow, Eisenhower said: "We shall always keep open the door of honest discussion—even to those whose creed is world domination."

"We shall continue to make concrete and realistic proposals for disarmament, for a just solution to the problems of Germany, for European security and for cooperation in the newly opening realm of outer space," he said.

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak, on the speakers list just ahead of Eisenhower, applied himself more directly to current matters.

He told the Council in a prepared speech that the Soviet Union by raising the issue of ouster of Western forces from Berlin "is playing a game in which the ultimate stake is the very existence of our European political institutions and defense systems."

Spaak said NATO "cannot afford to relax."

Spaak reminded his audience that the Soviet Union continues to strengthen its military power and said it is now launching a political offensive against Europe itself.

Recalling the history of NATO, Spaak said the free world countries did not seek this union immediately after World War II.

"It was imposed on us by the dangerous, unacceptable policy followed by the U.S.S.R.," he said.

Spaak said NATO has achieved two main goals—the creation of a defense "now strong enough to deter any act of aggression," and the maintenance of unity.

Spaak said too that NATO has become the core of a union without precedent, serving other needs of free men, and will survive in some form even after the now-ominous horizon clears.

Joseph M. A. H. Luns, foreign minister of the Netherlands, proposed in another address that the solidarity of NATO nations not be restricted to the area of the alliance but "also find its expression with regard to problems in other parts of the world."

Luns, president of the present session of the Council, said his country and some others feel they are entitled to greater comprehension of their efforts to solve their non-European problems.

Tibet's Dalai Lama Reported In India

LONDON (AP) — Red China's radio declared today Tibet's Dalai Lama has taken refuge in India.

The broadcast, quoting the New China News Agency, said the Dalai Lama left Tibet "under duress by the rebellious elements."

There has been no definite word on the fate of the Dalai Lama since fighting broke out between Tibetans and Chinese Communist occupation forces on March 20.

But unofficial reports said the 23-year-old spiritual and political leader of his mountaintop country was with rebel forces in southern Tibet and perhap trying to reach asylum in India.

The Peiping broadcast said he and his party "arrived in India on March 31" and that by order of the Indian government police authorities had been sent to meet him.

The place of his arrival was not stated.

The Indian high commission in London said it had no information on the whereabouts of the Dalai Lama.

Reports from the Indian border town of Kalimpong earlier today said the God-king's exiled supporters there were beginning to fear for his safety.

The Dalai Lama had been believed traveling by mule through southern Tibet bound for India with Communist Chinese planes and troops hunting him.

In Taipei, Nationalist China's official Central News Agency said Tibetan rebels and Chinese Communist troops are fighting 165 miles northeast of Lhasa as well as near the Tibetan capital.

Central News said the report came from intelligence sources in Lhasa. There was no way of checking its accuracy, but Peiping radio said speakers at a meeting in Lhasa urged the Red army "to continue mopping up the rebels in remote areas of Tibet."

The Central News Agency report said more than 100 Communist troops were killed Monday and Tuesday in the Heiho area and fighting was still in progress. Communist reinforcements from Sinkiang, bound for Lhasa, were reported to have arrived at Heiho, a small highway town 165 miles northeast of the capital and 60 miles from Tibet's frontier with the Chinese province of Tsinghai.

The report also said the rebels controlled the highway between Lhasa and Shigatse, the second largest town in Tibet 140 miles southwest of Lhasa and the site of the lamasery headed by the Panchen Lama.

This report, if correct, could mean that the Panchen Lama, named by the Communists to replace the Dalai Lama as head of the Tibetan local government, so far could not reach the capital. The Communist radio had reported him still in Shigatse on Monday. There was a possibility, however, that the Reds plan for him to "govern" from Shigatse since his following in Lhasa presumably is small.

GIRLS' ANSWER TO PHONE BOOTH FAD—Twenty-one coeds at Long Beach State College, Calif., are jammed in or on a small foreign-made auto on campus. The girls said they wanted to "expose the foolish antics" of college boys around the country who have been packing themselves into telephone booths. Men of a fraternity at the school promptly vowed they'd top the girls' record. (AP Wirephoto)

Eddie, Liz Planning To Wed In Mexico Within Six Weeks

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher said today that he and Elizabeth Taylor will marry in Mexico within the next six weeks.

Wednesday night he had said they would wed in Las Vegas if he could get the consent of his former wife, Debbie Reynolds.

But he added later that he had slight hope of getting Miss Reynolds to agree to a Nevada decree. She has obtained a California divorce which will not be final for a year.

Fisher pointed out that he could get a divorce in Mexico without his former wife's consent.

Asked if that means he and raven-haired Miss Taylor would get married in Mexico, Fisher nodded in agreement.

He and Miss Taylor said they have not selected the site for the wedding.

"We do not want it to be public," she said.

Fisher pointed [illegible] Taylor is leaving in May for Europe to make a movie. He said he is going with her.

"We want to travel as man and wife," he said.

Miss Taylor said she hoped Miss Reynolds might consent to a Nevada decree on her return from movie work in Spain in a few days.

"Debbie was very much hurt at first to find out that Eddie and I were in love," said Miss Taylor. "That is very understandable, but I think the hurt has now left and that she may consent to Eddie getting a divorce in Nevada. What has she got to gain by opposing it?"

This discussion followed the opening of Fisher's show at the Tropicana Hotel. Miss Taylor attended the opening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor of La Jolla, Calif.

'BRANCHY TASTE' IN LAKE WATER STUDIED

Can chemical treatment prevent that branchy taste in lake water late in the season?

Experiments begun Tuesday at Lake J. B. Thomas may provide an answer. At any rate, the Colorado River Municipal Water District is working with the State Health Department in an effort to exercise some degree of control of algae, microscopic marine vegetation.

Tuesday, 2,000 pounds of copper sulphate in coarse granular form was dumped into the lake within a 1,500 foot radius of the Big Spring-Odessa intake. O. H. Ivie, production engineer for CRMWD, estimated the volume of water at 800,000,000 gallons within that area, which would give a saturation of ½ part per million of copper sulphate. A stronger solution would probably affect rough fish and possibly game fish.

Ivie said that one theory is that the copper sulphate might prevent or control the growth of algae on the bobttom. If subsequent tests of water show indications of this, then periodic treatment may be attempted to cut down on the algae growth within the area of withdrawal.

Algae got the blame last autumn when the water assumed a rather pungent taste. While this did not affect the quality or purity of the water, it was hardly pleasing to consumers. Treatments aganist this at city plants is not always effective and frequently is quite expensive. The lake experiment is an attempt to get at the problem more economically and effectively.

Vehicle Registration Passes 10,000 Mark

Vehicle registrations for Scurry County totaled 10,014 by late this morning, according to Geral Greene, county tax assessor-collector.

The registrations ran about the same as last year. By this time last year there had been 10,078 registrations here.

Greene said there are usually quite a number of registrations during April, including late-registrants and new vehicles sold. Last year there were 376 registrations here during [illegible]

Penalty will be charged to those who drive vehicles now without 1959 registration.

The registrations here by today included 6,782 passenger cars.

Broadcast Stirs Middle East

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli government worked overtime today to calm new war jitters in the Middle East, caused by a coded broadcast Wednesday night calling up Israeli army reserves.

The army said the announcement should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training maneuvers. But the army said the government radio had broadcast it in a way "likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad."

Neighboring Syria had immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 24-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken "all necessary measures to defend herself" in the wake of the Israeli announcement.

Jordan's higher defense council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security." The communique, broadcast by the government radio in Amman, did not specify what measures were being taken.

Shortly after the Israeli broadcast, which gave the impression of a large-scale mobilization order, Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the misunderstanding.

Premier David Ben-Gurion, who is also Israel's defense minister, met this morning with heads of the armed services. Afterward a spokesman said the "incorrect version of the army chief of staff's order as broadcast corresponds in no way to the decision or original intention of general headquarters."

Ben-Gurion named a special committee to find out who was responsible for the broadcast.

TB Unit To Be Discussed Here Friday

Civic clubs, women's clubs, and Parent-Teacher Associations have all been asked to send representatives to a public meeting to be held here tomorrow afternoon in connection with the proposed organization of a local Tuberculosis Association.

The association will not be organized at tomorrow's meeting but is expected to be organized in a meeting about a week later.

Tomorrow's meeting, called by the health and sanitation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will be at 3 p.m. in the banquet room at the Village Restaurant.

B. G. Lovelace, educational director for the Dallas Tuberculosis Association, will be at the meeting to show films and explain the need of an association and the work it does.

[illegible] associations give aid to TB patients and contacts and help keep the public informed about the disease. There was previously a TB association here, and there is $1,500 on deposit for use of such an association if it is organized. The associations raise their funds through Christmas seal campaigns.

There are 38 known TB cases now in Scurry County. Of those, eight patients are in the McKnight State Sanatorium near San Angelo, two at the "lockup" ward at San Antonio, and three children in a children's ward at the sanatorium at Tyler.

Chicago's Barbers Now Among Highest

CHICAGO (AP)—A shave and a haircut in Chicago, in a few weeks, will cost $3.25, an increase of 25 cents for each.

The new prices, $2 for a haircut and $1.25 for a shave, are believed among the highest in the country.

DOG NOT TO BLAME—A bullet was removed from the leg of Angelo Romeo, 11-months-old, held by her aunt Mrs. Joseph Romeo, two weeks after the wound was mistaken—and treated—for a bite of their dog, Penny. Doctors who had been treating the girl for the supposed dog bite and swelling, discovered a small caliber rifle bullet imbedded in the fleshy part of the leg just above the shin. The dog was blamed after he was found licking Angela's bleeding leg. (AP Wirephoto)

McKinzie Is Reindicted

Ten indictments were returned yesterday afternoon by the Scurry County grand jury for the February-March term after two days of late-term work.

The grand jury was dismissed subject to recall by Judge Sterling Williams after its report at about 5 p.m. The grand jury's term ends this weekend, and no recall is expected. Wayland G. Holt, district attorney, met with the jury.

One of the indictments was an eight-count reindictment of J. E. McKinzie of Lubbock, four of them for theft, and four for swindle by false pretext. The indictment is in connection with oil deals with Snyder men. McKinzie last June was convicted and given a four-year prison sentence on one indictment, but it was reversed in February by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Holt said other indictments pending were to be dismissed after the reindictment, putting all of McKinzie's pending cases into one indictment.

Williams set McKinzie's bond at $20,000. He was out on bond on the previous indictments and must make new bond.

James Taylor, Snyder Negro man, was indicted on two counts, assault with intent to murder and assault with a prohibited weapon. This is in connection with the charge that Taylor shot at Sheriff Earl Abercrombie with a pistol several nights ago while Abercrombie was attempting to make an arrest. His bond was set at $3,000. Taylor is in the county jail.

Two indictments were returned against Truman Brown of Snyder for forgery and passing. The indictments charge both instruments were passed to the JRB Rainbow Market. His bond was set at $1,000. He was out on bond after the charge was filed.

There were also two indictments against K. L. Kifer of Snyder and Brownfield, one for conversion by bailee of an adding machine from Bud England and one for felony check swindling of a $72.00 check to Fenton's Dad & Lad. He is not in custody. His bond was set at $1,000 in each case.

Chester G. Gray of Missouri, who is not in custody, was indicted for felony check swindling in connection with a $50 check to Wilson Birdwell. His bond was set at $1,000.

An indictment was returned against Herman Grady Moore for driving while intoxicated as a repeated offense, and his bond was set at $1,000. He was on bond after the charge was filed.

Two men who are not in custody were indicted for child desertion, one of them believed to be in this area.

Members of the grand jury were H. F. Billingsley, foreman, Marvin Key, Aubrey Hudleston, F. M. Winter, Bill Rea, A. W. Scrivner, Dick Hardee, Clyde South, Perry Echols, J. E. Perry, and Edgar Von Roeder.

Post Office Receipts Soar

Postal receipts were 40 per cent higher in Snyder during the first quarter of 1959 than during the same period last year, which was a record year.

Receipts for the quarter totaled $43,180.90, which was $12,365.17 higher than the $30,815.73 for the first three months of 1958. Totals for first quarters in previous years included $30,593.85 in 1957 and $30,568.76 in 1956.

A new March record was set with receipts of $14,362.30, which was 38 per cent higher than the $10,370.77 in receipts last March. The previous record receipts for March was $11,296.63 in 1955.

The postal rate increase of last August accounts for about 25 per cent of the increase, but all above that is assumed to be increased business at the post office.

January and February had also set new records, January with $15,894.85 and February with $12,923.75.

Livestock Auction Session Tonight

A special committee heading an effort here to organize a corporation to operate a local livestock auction ring today urged farmers, ranchers and businessmen to attend a public meeting to be held tonight.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the district courtroom.

Discussions will be held on various points of organization of the corporation. In a public meeting held last week the special committee, headed by Weldon Johnson, reported on studies and proposals of the committee, and the group attending decided to go ahead with organization of the corporation.

It was decided in last week's meeting that the corporation would have three kinds of stock. One would be the "A", or preferred stock, in blocks of $5,000 each, with 11 preferred stockholders serving as directors. Another would be "B" stock for smaller investments of farmers and ranchers. Both these types would be dividend stock. A third type "C" stock, would be for businessmen and would not draw dividends, since merchants get their benefit from having the sale here weekly to draw potential trade.

The "A" stock was selling rapidly during the past week, and there was even more sale of "B" stock, even though it was not yet solicited. Both "B" and "C" stocks are expected to sell rapidly.

The special committee urged all interested to attend tonight and participate in the discussion, giving suggestions. After tonight's meeting the organization is expected to be turned over to the new board of directors.

Blood From Cured Victim Is Aid To One Cancer Patient

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Cancer vanished in a young man given blood from another man who had spontaneously recovered from the same type of "black cancer," two physicians reported today.

His dramatic recovery indicates the borrowed blood contained some mysterious defense against the cancer. But it could also have been a very rare coincidence.

A third man receiving the borrowed blood did not benefit. But his body was badly riddled internally with the cancer.

The unusual case was described by Drs. Wilbur C. Sumner and Alvan C. Foraker of Jacksonville, Fla., to the annual meeting of the James Ewing Society at Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases here.

All three men had malignant melanoma, the so-called "black cancer" which often starts in moles on the body. Surgery can cure if the melanoma is still localized. But it often spreads rapidly, early, and fatally to other parts of the body.

A 30-year-old man, first seen in 1949, recovered from fairly widespread melanoma after some of the black cancer spots had been removed surgically.

In 1954, some of his blood was given to a 28-year-old man who had multiple outbreaks of melanoma on his body. Again, only some of the cancerous spots could be removed.

But six weeks after he received the blood, many of the cancerous lumps and other symptoms began melting away, the physicians said. Within six months there was no sign of melanoma. One finger showed a black cancerous spot a year later, and this spot was removed. Since then he has been perfectly well.

Examining the first man's blood, scientists at the National Cancer Institute found no sign of viruses, nor any effects on melanoma cells treated with the blood in test tubes.

Spontaneous recovery from melanoma is rare, Sumner and Foraker said they knew of only one case other than the man who came to them in 1949.

Alcorn Works On Convention Site

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retiring Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn turned today to the business of helping pick a 1960 national convention site for his party as speculation over a new party chairman continued.

Alcorn, who notified President Eisenhower Wednesday of his intention to quit, had a date to receive in mid-afternoon a Chicago [illegible] to raise that city's previous cash offer of $300,000 for the convention to $500,000.

Ray C. Bliss, site committee chairman, will join Alcorn for the closed meeting with the Chicago group, now bidding with Philadelphia and New York for the right to play host to the GOP when it nominates a presidential ticket next year.

The site committee will recommend a city and date to the full committee at a meeting here April 10. The full committee will decide [illegible] the next day.

The same full committee meeting will receive Alcorn's formal resignation as chairman of the national committee. Alcorn told Eisenhower and a news conference Wednesday he has served 26 months in the job without salary at a great financial sacrifice and he must return to his Hartford, Conn., law practice.

Alcorn said he hoped the April 10 committee meeting would elect a successor. Eisenhower will have a big say as to who is to be the new chairman, but he told Alcorn, the latter said, he will not dictate a choice.

Alcorn will name a committee of seven, probably next week, to discuss with Eisenhower a list of prospects for the post. He said the President's views of course would have great weight.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky [illegible] as the likely [illegible] for the post, although Alcorn said about 25 names have been discussed.

New Firm Is Moving Here

E. H. (Ab) Williamson, developer of the Highlands Shopping Center off the Big Spring highway, has announced the leasing of space in his shopping center to a new business moving to Snyder.

It is Pittman Furniture & Floor Co., which will occupy a space 50 feet wide by 80 feet long in the center. The building which will house the new firm is now under construction at the north end of the shopping center. Roe Home & Auto will occupy half the building now under construction, with the Pittman firm taking the other half. The building will be of masonry and brick construction, with glass fronts.

The firm is owned by Roy Pittman and Floy Pittman of Sweetwater. They have a business of that type in Sweetwater now.

Williamson said the building is expected to be complete and ready for the businesses to open about May 1.

Already operating in the Highlands Shopping Center are the D & H Super Market and the Hillcrest Barber Shop. Scheduled to open soon in the center are Toysland, S & H Green Stamp Store, Roe and Pittman.

Williamson still has 90 feet of frontage in the center which has not been developed.

Taken To Hospital

Fonda Nelms, 13-year-old junior high school student, was taken this morning from her home at the Service Pipe Line camp at China Grove by Bolger ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Miss Nelms developed an illness during the night.

Roddy Rites Here Today

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. today here for Jack William Roddy, 40, of Las Cruces, N.M., formerly of Fluvanna.

Roddy died at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday in Providence Memorial Hospital at El Paso from injuries suffered in a collision of his car and a bus between Las Cruces and El Paso March 29.

Born March 10, 1918, at Honey Grove, he later came to Scurry County with his family. He was a World War II Army veteran. He was Presbyterian. At Las Cruces he was employed by the American Linen Supply.

The Rev. R. Charles Spivey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was to officiate in services at that church, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church.

Pallbearers were to be Mert Jones, John A. Martin, Barney O. Greenfield, J. T. Sullenger Jr., Jess E. Linsey and Buford Browning.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Roddy of Snyder; two sisters, Mrs. Fisher O. Stark of San Antonio and Mrs. Nolan J. Fulford of Snyder, and three brothers, Layne Roddy of Snyder, Robert L. Roddy of Waller, and John H. Roddy, who is in the Air Force and stationed at Wichita Falls.

Graham In New Zealand

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham arrived here from Australia tonight and told a welcoming crowd that world prayer could avert a third world war.

"I am certain that if Christians in China, Russia, the United States, Europe and around the world united in prayer and put the emphasis on spiritual things, we could avert war," Graham said.

"We don't have anything in common, racially or politically. One common denominator we do have is spiritual."

About 3,000 people greeted Graham when he drove into the city from the airport at midnight. He begins a six-day campaign Friday.

Graham said his wife plans to travel from the United States to join him during his campaign in Sydney, Australia, which begins April 12.

They will take a two-week holiday at Broadbeach, Australia.

He said the ailment which has bothered his left eye is much better and that his general health is greatly improved.

Rep. Green Is Hurt In Fall At School

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI), 91, oldest man in the U.S. Senate, was in Jane Brown Hospital today with a bruised hip and back suffered in a fall.

Doctors said there were no fractures, but he was held for observation.

Green fell Wednesday at the Rhode Island School of Design where he had gone to hear a lecture. He stumbled down two steps.

In Veterans Hospital

Alton C. Roberts, 2900 Avenue N, was taken last night to Cogdell Memorial Hospital and transferred to Veterans Hospital in Big Spring by Bolger ambulance.

Red Plot Is Uncovered In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Investigation of the Easter rail strike has uncovered a Communist plot to upset Mexico's social order by a chain of strikes in key industries, informed sources said today.

More than 300 confessions from strikers in the holiday rail tieup reportedly revealed the sweeping goal of Red agitators.

The Mexican government has linked two Soviet Embassy officials with the plot and ordered them to get out of the country Friday.

A reliable Mexican source said the Soviet Embassy gave one million pesos (about $80,000) to agitators. Secret police trailing a leftist union leader seized the cash.

Train service meanwhile is gradually getting back to normal. There are still pockets of resistance.

In Jalapa, an important rail junction 150 miles east of Mexico City, more than 300 women demonstrated Wednesday for the release of Demetrio Vallejo, jailed head of the Railway Workers Union.

Vallejo was rounded up with an estimated 3,000 other union leaders and rail workers when the government moved to break the strike. Most of the others have been freed.

Soviets Offer Cheap Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Russia is offering its cotton on world markets at prices as much as 6 cents a pound below U.S. prices.

Mexican cotton is being offered in European markets at 2½ to 3 cents a pound below U.S. prices.

The American price is being held above world levels by the farm price support program. The government has attempted to keep the price competitive by offering an export subsidy of about 6 cents a pound, but this has not been enough. This subsidy will be increased to 8 cents—and even more if need be—on exports after July 31.

Exports are expected to drop from 5½ million bales last season to 3 million this season.

Curious Boy Gets Foot Stuck In Hole

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When a boy sees a hole in the ground, it's only natural he'd want to explore it.

That's just what Niles Kinnick did — with his foot. It stuck.

He couldn't get it out. His mother couldn't get it out. Policeman W. E. Franklin couldn't get it out for half an hour.

The hole was the kind nobody over 7 would care anything about. It held a signpost once.

"I'll be darned," Niles marveled as he walked away. "I wondered what it was."

Daniel's Proposal Debated On Floor

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — The House killed today, at least temporarily, a legislative proposal to set up boat safety regulations in Texas, then turned to one phase of Gov. Price Daniel's deficit-erasing plans.

It was the first time this session that the governor has been able to get one of his pet plans before legislators for actual floor debate.

Debate on the administration's financial bill, a plan to erase up to 18 million dollars of the deficit by revision of state bookkeeping procedures, was scheduled to continue after a joint session at which U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough was the principal speaker.

"We've got to pass something and there's not a thing in this bill that would hurt anyone," Rep. Sam Parsons, Henderson, said of the much-amended boat safety bill.

The measure has been debated off and on for the past week. Proponents claimed it was needed to prevent numerous boating and swimming accidents on lakes that are fast becoming crowded with pleasure and fishing boats. Opponents said the safety restrictions requiring certain lights, fire extinguishers and life preservers were unenforceable and impractical.

A motion to postpone final action on the bill until Monday was defeated 90-38. The representatives then voted 73-78 against final passage.

By a special parliamentary procedure the defeating vote may be reconsidered later and revoked—if there are enough votes in favor.

The House also finally passed and sent to the governor for signature a bill making the same title requirements for trailers and semitrailers as the present provisions for trucks and automobiles.

A special local and uncontested bill session for 21 measures was set for 1:30 p.m.

The Senate took no action on any bill today and turned down 13-16 a motion to adjourn until Monday. Senators approved a counter motion to recess until 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, the Senate's first Friday session.

Crash Kills 4 Crewmen

ORTING, Wash. (AP) — Trailing a ribbon of flame, an Air Force transport plane carrying four crewmen crashed and exploded five miles from this western Washington town Wednesday night.

Air Force crews could find no survivors.

Witnesses said the four-engined military version of the civilian DC6 was afire when it crashed.

There was no explanation of the crash, although Air Force officers said the pilot indicated a collision was at fault. He radioed McChord Air Force Base: "We have hit something, or something has hit us."

Col. Robert E. Booth, commander of the 1705th Air Transport Group to which the C118 was attached, said the pilot said he would attempt to make it back to McChord.

But after a brief period of silence, the pilot told the McChord tower: "This is it."

Fog Hits New York, Storms In Florida

By The Associated Press

A heavy, crippling fog blanketed the New York area for the second day today while tornadoes struck two communities in Florida. The high winds killed one person, injured at least nine others and caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars.

At least two lives were lost as a result of the fog blanket in New York; many airliner flights were canceled and the near-zero visibility anchored the liner Queen Elizabeth—the world's largest—near the exit to New York Harbor. Idlewild Airport was shut down tight overnight and La Guardia's business was limited to the takeoff of eight planes.

The Florida tornadoes hit Dade City, about 50 miles west of Orlando, and Azalea Park, a suburb of Orlando. The sheriff's office reported property damage of one million dollars at Dade City. Many houses and business buildings there were damaged or destroyed and power lines were torn down.

One death was reported at Azalea Park and at least seven were injured. The Weather Bureau warned of further possible damaging winds in south and east central Florida, but added that further twisters were not likely.

Heavy overnight rains in the Jamestown, N.Y., area caused northwestern Pennsylvania tributaries of the Allegheny River to overflow near Warren, Pa., today. Some low-lying areas were flooded, but little damage was reported.

April showers, meanwhile, continued to splash areas in the eastern third of the nation and the far Northwest, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the country.

The stormy weather which struck the central plains Tuesday and Wednesday ended. Seven persons were killed and 61 others injured in Texas and Oklahoma, hit by tornadoes and severe thunderstorms.

The biggest precipitation belt during the early morning was from Michigan southward across the Ohio Valley into the southern and southeastern sections of the country. Snow fell in parts of Michigan.

Nearly [illegible] inches of rain doused Augusta, Ga., and more than one inch fell in West Palm Beach, Fla., and Detroit. Thunderstorms rumbled along the Georgia coast and hail, with strong winds, swept the Columbus, Miss., area.

Injured Finger Not Worth Any Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Entertainer David Street wanted $103,500 in damages because he banged up a finger operating an elevator.

But a judge said Wednesday it wasn't worth anything.

Street said he cannot play the piano because of the injured finger, but Superior Court Judge Arnold Praeger upheld arguments of operators of the building. They said Street operated the lift at his own risk. Praeger dismissed the suit.

Seniors Honored By Church Group

The seniors of Snyder High School were guests of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening.

Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, President of Mary Hardin-Baylor College, was the main speaker. Bro. G. M. Cole acted as master of ceremonies and Dan Bohannan gave the invocation. Included on the program was a trio of girls from Mary Hardin-Baylor. They were Misses Sue Purcell, Beverly Ward and Cathie Garrett with Miss Carlene Lewis as accompanist. They sang "Gypsy Love Song", "Indian Summer" and "The Old Woman and the Pedler". Miss Donna Bridges gave a reading. The benediction was given by Mr. R. Virgil [illegible].

The menu and decorations were oriental carrying out the oriental garden theme of the banquet. Oriental type screens were hung on the walls and Japanese laterns were hung on the lights in the Fellowship Hall. The table decorations included oriental dolls, miniature trees hung with miniature laterns and umbrellas. The members of the Intermediate Girls Auxiliary who served were dressed in oriental type kimonos.

Mrs. Tom Fulton was chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Percy Tate was chairman of the decorations committee and Mrs. W. G. Herring was in charge of the food committee, and Mrs. Curtis Hays was chairman of the invitation and publicity committee.

Oatmeal Cheese Muffins

Call this recipe for Oatmeal Cheese Muffins "something special" because it is the "special" recipe that appeals, in these days, to the home-baker. The added touches that make this muffin unique are the caraway seeds and cubed cheese. The recipe becomes, therefore, one that truly reflects the creative ability of the home-baker, and appeals to the taste and appetite of those who will enjoy these muffins. It goes without saying that real pride and pleasure are the rewards that come to the thoughtful baker of this unusual recipe.

Yield: 12 muffins

¾ cup sifted all purpose flour
¾ cup uncooked rolled oats
2 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder.
½ teaspoon caraway seed
1 egg
¾ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
12 ½-inch cubes cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons shortening

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, salt and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture is fine. Blend in oats, and caraway seed. Beat egg and milk together. Add to dry ingredients all at once; stir until flour mixture is just dampened. Do not over mix. Place a heaping tablespoon of batter in each of 12 greased 1-½-inch muffin cups. Place one cube of cheese in each muffin cup. Fill muffin cups ¾ full of batter. Bake in 425 degrees F. (hot) oven about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

South Hermleigh 4-H Club Meeting

The South Hermleigh 4-H Club met at the home of Helen Stirl, Wednesday March 25th.

Miss Stirl gave a demonstration on the basic beaten batter.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Peggy Ranneield, Carolyn Chitsey, Margie Soles, Kathryn Helm, Lora Mae McGlothlin, Marilyn Darden, Carolyn Roemisch, Karen Schulze, Eddie Lou Wemken, Helen Stirl, and Wanda Hudgins.

Eggs Benedict

Ingredients: 2 English muffins, butter, 4 slices baked ham (each the size of a muffin half), 4 eggs, 2 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons heavy cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt, 4 tablespoons butter.

Method: Split muffins into halves with a fork; toast cut surfaces; butter and keep hot. Heat ham in a little butter in a skillet. Poach the 4 eggs. For Hollandaise Sauce put the 2 egg yolks, cream, lemon juice and a dash of salt in a 1-quart mixing bowl; combine with a whisk. Place bowl in a small skillet of simmering water over low heat; water must not boil. Whisk in 4 tablespoons butter, adding them one at a time as each is combined. By the time the last one is added sauce will be thick. Sauce may stand in skillet off heat for a few minutes while eggs are being poached; just whisk a few times. To serve, place ham on muffin halves and top with poached eggs; spoon sauce over and don't worry if sauce slides off egg yolks. Makes 2 servings.

VOTER'S GUIDE

COMPILED BY

The League of Women Voters of Snyder

Answers to questions submitted by the League to candidates for School Board Trustees (Three vacancies to be filled)

The League of Women Voters does NOT Support OR Oppose any Candidate or Party. Election to be held Saturday, April 4, 1959. Please read carefully.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: Lee D. Stone

AGE: 37

EDUCATION: 2 years college — ETSC AND NTSC [illegible]

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: 6 years operator of service station, 5 years factory sales representative, 16 years commissioned officer in the Armed Forces of the U.S.A.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: Church of [illegible] Lions Club.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: 9 years.

1. What in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board Member?

I am a business man and have dealt with people in all walks of life, am the father of three children and feel that I can be fair and impartial in matters pertaining to school business.

2. Where, in your opinion, does the school board's responsibility end and where does an administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

A school board should be responsible for creating broad, overall policy. The operation of the school should be left up to the Superintendent who as a professional administrator, is, in turn, responsible to the board for carrying out these policies.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views and also be encouraged to give constructive criticism of school program?

As school business is everyone's business, closed meetings should be kept to a minimum and only perhaps when personalities are involved. Supporting a candidate is your democratic right, and as far as constructive criticism is concerned, I would welcome anyone's ideas or suggestions if his interest lies in the welfare of boys and girls.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organizations and use sources of information secured outside of our school district?

To a reasonable extent, the Snyder School Board should encourage faculty personnel to strive for high standards of professionalism. By the same token, the members of the board should utilize every opportunity to broaden their own perspective in regards to effective board techniques and procedures.

5. Should the school board encourage the superintendent to study recognized standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people, and administrators?

Recognized standards for employing school personnel are in existence and should be applied except in cases of extreme emergencies.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching, or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use new methods? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

In general, school administrators and teachers should be ever alert and eager to try new and better methods of instruction that may arise in the field of education. This is progress. Any project incorporating new materials and equipment on an experimental basis must be judged on the merits of that particular project.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

Public school education is the privilege of every child to the limits of his capabilities.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: William J. Schiebel

AGE: 39

EDUCATION: Crozier Technical High School, Dallas, Texas; University of Texas, 1937-41; Texas Tech, 1946.

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: Administrative Services, owner, 5 years; Car sales 2 years; Manager Chamber of Commerce, 3 years.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: First Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, Toastmasters Club, National Guard.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: 15 years.

1. What, in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board Member?

My own experience in teaching and my family background, father PHD in education and in teaching and education field 35 years. Common business knowledge and organization ability.

2. Where, in your opinion, does the school board's responsibility end and where does an administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

General overall policies should be set by the Board with recommendations from administration and carried out by the administration.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views, and also be encouraged to give constructive criticism of school program?

These facts are the only facts that will lead to a complete understanding of the problems of a school system and the accomplishment of a better job of operation.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organizations and use sources of information secured outside of school district?

I believe the administration should follow state laws in fulfillment of educational requirements for teachers and personnel. The integrity and personal motivation of the individual with regards to professional organizations and meetings should be the deciding factor in their participation.

5. Should the school board encourage the superintendent to study recognized standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people and administrators?

The superintendent should do these things without encouragement from the Board.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use new methods? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

Traditional methods incorporating new methods and equipment to raise the level of absorption by the student and effectiveness of the teacher should be used. Experimental basis if necessary.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

A school system giving the maximum education to all children to the extent each child is able to absorb.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: Gene Best, Encumbent

AGE: 47

EDUCATION: High School — 2 years college.

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: 4 years — Oil Well Supply Co.; 11 years — Manufacturers Representative; [illegible] years — Ready Mixed Concrete.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: First Baptist Church, Optimist Club, Past Director of [illegible] of Grand Boys Club.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: 9 years.

1. What in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board member?

Business experience.

2. Where in your opinion does the school board's responsibility end and where does an administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

In my opinion the board should set the policies and see that they are carried out by the administration.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views and also be encouraged to give constructive criticism of school program?

All parents and taxpayers should be encouraged to keep themselves informed about the school program, offering constructive criticism at any time.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organizations and use sources of information secured outside of our school district?

In my opinion the school board has an adequate policy on leave of absence for faculty personnel who wish to return to college or further their education. The faculty should be encouraged to use all sources of teaching information available.

5. Should the school board encourage the superintendent to study recognized standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people, and administrators?

Yes.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use new methods? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

We should stay with proven methods of teaching and be very cautious about experimenting with our students.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

Yes.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: W. F. McMennamy

AGE: 40

EDUCATION: High School — correspondence courses.

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: President & Manager Snyder Glass & Mirror Co., since Jan. 2, 1950. Prior to this shop foreman and asst. mgr. Wichita Glass & Mirror Co., Wichita Falls, Tex.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: Church of Christ.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: Jan. 2, 1950.

1. What in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board Member?

Striving to live a Christian life, business experiences, also having four children, three which are in school now, Vicky 4th grade, Roger 10th grade, Barbara 12th grade and Nelda who will be 6 in Sept.

2. Where, in your opinion does the school board's responsibility end and where does an administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

Cooperation from beginning to end.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views and also be encouraged to give constructive criticism of school program?

Yes, if done in the right manner and spirit for the betterment of the school.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organizations and use sources of information secured outside of our school district?

Strict.

5. Should the school board encourage the superintendent to study recognized standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people, and administrators?

A good starting point.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use new methods? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

If new methods are better than the old ones — Yes. In most circumstances — yes — there could be exceptions.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

Yes.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: Ross H. Hemphill, Encumbent

AGE: 39

EDUCATION: LLB Degree, University of Texas Law School 1942.

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: Attorney — Partner of law firm of Park and Hemphill.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: First Methodist Church, Downtown Lion Club.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: 9 years.

1. What in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board Member?

1 term's experience.

2. Where in your opinion does the school board's responsibility end and where does an administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

The School Board's function is to determine basic policies and see that they are enforced, the administrator's responsibility is to carry out and put in action the Board's policies.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views and also be encouraged to give constructive criticism of school program?

Yes.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organizations and use sources of information secured outside of our school district?

The one the present Board has adopted.

5. Should the school board encourage the superintendent to study recognized standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people and administrators?

Yes.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use "new methods"? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

Whatever methods are best suited for certain courses should be used, whether such methods are traditional or new — If results are obtained.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

Yes.

NAME OF CANDIDATE: Malven K. Stevenson, Encumbent

AGE: 38

EDUCATION: Graduate BS in commerce, Texas Christian University 1941. Further work at Harvard School of Business 1942.

OCCUPATION AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE: Grocery Store Owner.

CHURCH AND CIVIC ORGANIZATION AFFILIATION: First Christian Church, Member of Rotary Club, Director of Chamber of Commerce, Director Colorado Water District Board.

LENGTH OF RESIDENCE IN SCURRY COUNTY: 10 year.

1. What in your experience would be valuable to you as a School Board Member?

Previous experience on the School Board plus serving the public for many years in other civic endeavors.

2. Where, in your opinion does the school board's responsibility end and where does a administrator's responsibility begin in setting policy and in carrying out policy?

The School Board should make all general policy. The administrator should administer it. In almost all instances, the administrator should be consulted before a policy is made.

3. Should interested citizens be encouraged to inform themselves of school program by such methods as attending school board meetings, supporting candidates who represent their views and also encourage to give constructive criticism of school program?

The School Board should welcome all interested persons at its meetings. Encourage opinions, citizens should support candidates and let the majority decide who represents them. Constructive criticism is excellent.

4. What kind of policy is appropriate for members of the Snyder School Board to make or to formulate in regard to faculty personnel to return to college, attend professional meetings, join professional organization and use sources of information secured outside of our school district?

The better our teachers are prepared the better job they can do. It would seem that all of the above mentioned usages of the teachers extra time would meet my approval, as long as it didn't interfere with their duties.

5. Should the School Board encourage the superintendent to study standards of qualifications for employing teachers, special service people and administraters?

By all means — However each instance is a problem in itself and the superintendent's long experience will also be a factor.

6. Should our schools stay with traditional methods of teaching or should they employ new methods of teaching and our teachers and administrators be encouraged to use new methods? In your opinion should this be done in projects which incorporate new materials and equipment on an experimental basis?

It seems to me that the main idea of education is to educate the student. This at all times will be my goal — to turn one's back on new ideas is foolish — and by the same token adopting such ideas without thorough proof is ill advised.

7. Should our school tax dollar be directed toward a school educational program to meet the needs of all children?

I believe in giving the maximum education to all children — concentrating on the gifted as well as the slow. Education should never be for the few.

Krush Used Stalin Tactics To Ascend

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst

There, in the middle of things, bubbled Nikita Khrushchev, jabbing a stubby finger into the chest of his startled listener.

The scene was a British Embassy reception in Moscow in mid-1954. The listener was Clement Attlee, head of Britain's Labor party.

Stalin, safely mummified, lay in his gaudy Red Square tomb. His lieutenants could talk out in public.

Khrushchev talked and talked, torrents of rapid, often ungrammatical Russian tinged with Ukrainian accent. Through it all his broad, persistent grin exposed two front teeth of glittering gold. His pale blue eyes stared into his hearer's. His pudgy fists would grab the hearer's lapel and hold him captive.

Cultivated, taciturn Georgi Malenkov, who considered himself Stalin's heir, looked on with a superior smile. Few outsiders seemed to take Khrushchev seriously, and some in the Kremlin made the same mistake.

"Noisy chap," muttered Attlee when the talking bout was over.

The first summit meeting still was a year away, but already it may have been in the back of Khrushchev's mind as a device to lull the West. An era of smiles had begun.

Soviet leaders became aggressively friendly to diplomats.

The smiles obscured from view a titanic struggle for Stalin's power.

In that struggle Khrushchev performed like a true Stalin pupil. He made alliances as necessary, repudiated them when they no longer were of use.

Moscow's collective leadership was a mutual protective association to prevent any one man from getting the upper hand. Its first concern was to break the power of Lavrenty Beria, whose army of secret police nearly took over Moscow at the hour of Stalin's death. With the help of Marshal Georgi Zhukov and the army, the collective destroyed Beria and purged the secret police machine.

Stalin's power had derived from control of both party and police. Having pushed Malenkov aside, Khrushchev had the party reins. No single leader had the police to himself. Khrushchev's authority increased. The world began to take more notice of him.

Hopefully, some Westerners clocked Khrushchev as a man of quiet strength who leaned to the West.

Knowland Finds Return To Private Life Has Rewards

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For half of his 50 years, Big Bill Knowland swam in the whirling goldfish bowl called politics.

At 24, he became California's youngest assemblyman; at 26, its youngest state senator; at 36, its youngest U.S. senator. They called him a "young man in a hurry."

For five of his 13 years in the U.S. Senate, he was Republican leader, and there were those who said his momentum might carry him into a presidential nomination in 1960.

Today, at 50, Big Bill Knowland is suddenly a private citizen again and the presidential nomination is dimmer than a candle in a London fog. How does a man like Knowland, suddenly derailed, make the transition from public to private life?

The question brings a wry smile.

"It hasn't been too bad an adjustment," he says. "If you were going from the Senate back to private life as a farmer or insurance man, it might be harder to take. But going back to the newspaper business, as I've done, you don't exactly feel out of things. You don't feel so isolated."

Knowland is assistant publisher of his family's newspaper, the Oakland Tribune. It was here that he returned after quitting the Senate and then losing the fight for governor last fall.

Knowland says he still keeps in touch with political developments through a heavy correspondence, through personal contacts and through the flow of news.

"I like to watch the Washington dispatches coming over the wire. After all, I know many of the personalities involved. I can tell why a certain fellow puts up a certain bill. I enjoy reading between the lines."

As a private citizen, he enjoys being able to control his own time, being able to spend more time with his family.

As a private citizen, he admits missing the sense of being on the inside, of being there while history is made.

"In Washington, I had a great feeling of being in touch with the nation and the world. There were the regular Tuesday conferences with the President where, of course, many decisions were discussed long before they became public. There were the off the record meetings of the Foreign Relations Committee with the secretary of state after his return from a trip abroad. There were these many contacts with visiting presidents and premiers from around the world.

"Most of all, I miss the friends I made. The Senate, you know, is small enough to know all these senators pretty well and some of them very well. I had friends on both sides of the aisle.

"But remember, I grew up in politics. My father served many years in the House. We knew that in politics you can only win or lose. I had a good batting average until I came out on the short end last fall. I have no regrets about running for governor or fighting on the issues I did."

What of Washington does Bill Knowland miss least? He had to think about that one.

"Well, I can't say that I miss being called in the middle of the night. Some of my constituents in California used to forget the three-hour difference in time.

"I don't particularly miss the life in the goldfish bowl, although I never let it get me down."

As of now, Knowland says, he has no political plans; he intends to remain in the newspaper business. When he ran for governor, he says, he did not intend that as a stepping stone; he did not plan to seek the presidential nomination in 1960.

Who is his personal choice for the nomination?

"As of now, my choice is the vice president. He's from my state and he'll get my support in the convention. That is based on the situation as of today."

How about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York?

"Rockefeller has yet to make a name for himself as an executive. Being governor of the state with the largest delegation, he will be a factor at the convention. But he doesn't have too much time to develop his own record."

How about William F. Knowland?

"It's not very realistic to talk about the presidential nomination for a man who has just been defeated for governor."

Spanish Club Group On Kiwanis Program

Members of the High School Spanish Club presented several musical numbers at the Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Wednesday in Starr's Restaurant.

Vocalists on the program included Paula Keaton, Linda Mize, Linda Gayle Miller, Brenda Pitts and Kathy Crooks. They were accompanied by Rozanne McCloskey.

The students were presented by Mrs. Wendel Shiflett, High School Spanish teacher and sponsor of the club.

They presented numbers they will use in competition at the Pan-American Student Forum in Austin this weekend.

The Kiwanis Club will hold its regular meeting next Wednesday at the Scurry County Boys Club.

Beckett tore at his clothing Wednesday while waiting to appear before a judge on suspicion of drunk driving. Bailiffs hurried him out of the room.

Buick-Pontiac Dealer Sets Grand Opening Event Here

Grand opening of Pat Buick-Pontiac located on the East Highway at Cherry Street will be held here tomorrow and Saturday.

For its grand opening the firm has on display 23 new Buicks and Pontiacs in a wide variety of styles, colors, and models.

The firm was opened here on March 1, having moved from Winters where it had been located for 10 years.

Owner is Pat E. Underwood.

Along with the grand opening, Underwood announced that additions are now under construction to expand the service facilities of the firm. A new addition to the service department of the building will house a wash and grease department, permitting the firm to offer complete service on all cars.

When the firm moved to Snyder it brought along with it, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Pat E. Underwood and family, several other key employes and their families.

They include Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hale and their two children; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Duff, and Miss Lorene Kohutek. Hale is employed in both the sales department and as service manager, and Duff is parts manager, and Miss Kohutek is bookkeeper.

Duff has been with the firm for all its 10 years, Hale for five years and Miss Kohutek for six years.

"We are looking forward to meeting everyone in the Snyder area, and we hope to be of service to all motorists," Underwood said.

Underwood is a native of Runnels County, and is married to the former Miss Marva Jean Turner, also a native of Runnels County. The couple have three children, Jan Underwood, six, Randle Underwood, three, and Jackie Underwood, two.

Other employes of the firm added to the staff since its move to Snyder include M. W. Pilcher, salesman, Bob Harris, mechanic, Leon Davis Jr., and Robert Wesley, service department.

Bids Requested On Seal Coating Project

Bids will be taken by the State Highway Department April 17-18 for the more than 60 miles of seal coating on paved roads in Scurry County.

The seal coating here will be on State Highway 208 and on a number of farm-to-market roads.

The letting by the highway department will be in a large block of 242.214 miles of seal coating in Scurry, Howard, Mitchell, Kent, Fisher, Borden, Nolan and Glasscock Counties on U. S. 80, 84, 180, and 380, State Highways 70, 92, 208, and FM 611, 670, 644, 519, 821, 1224, 1231, 1584, 1606, 1641, 419, 1269, and 1205.

General Gets Plane Seats Back For GIs

TOKYO (AP)—Seven American enlisted men going on emergency home leave—one to the bedside of his critically ill mother—were assigned seats on the U.S. military airliner from Tokyo.

The deluxe "Pacific Express" was flying to California with a stop at Hawaii.

At the last minute on March 26 a lieutenant colonel with his wife and family—six in all—showed up at the airport, bound for a Hawaii vacation.

The GIs were bumped and the colonel and family given their seats.

Airman Coye Y. Bell of Fayetteville, Tenn., telephoned Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, to protest that he was trying to get home to his ill mother.

The plane was half an hour out of Tokyo over the Pacific before the general could verify the complaint. Burns ordered the aircraft back and went himself to Tachikawa Air Base to see that the GIs got their seats back.

Among those with Bell were Sgt. Paul S. Cain, Sedalia, Mo.; Airman Robert J. Kindl, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.; Airman Gordon N. Read, Ithaca, N.Y. and Sgt. John P. Snyder, Vandergrift, Pa.

The colonel's name is being withheld pending completion of an investigation. A U.S. Air Force spokesman explained that he "might be completely innocent in the affair."

"Boss" W. M. Tweed, Tammany political leader in New York City, was convicted of fraud and sentenced to 12 years in prison in 1874.

Sonic Boom Is Growing Problem

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — IF YOU HAVE NOT HEARD a sonic boom, it likely will not be long before you do. You will not have to visit an air show or live near an air base. It may awaken you in the night. It may set the dishes jumping in the cupboard at any hour of the day or night, no matter where you live.

INSTEAD OF FINDING AN ANSWER to a problem, the problem is increasing day by day. Within eight to ten years from now, commercial planes will be breaking the sound barrier. Contrary to popular understanding, when a plane breaks the sound barrier by flying at a speed of 760 miles per hour at sea level, the barrier stays broken as long as the plane flys at that speed or greater. In other words, it is not one boom, but a continuous boom affecting everything in the path of the shock wave which it creates.

ABOUT A YEAR AND A HALF AGO the experts were more or less saying that the shock waves from the breaking of the sound barrier could not really harm property on the ground. Since plate glass windows and damage to plastered ceilings and walls occurred in Hamilton, Comanche, Erath and Eastland Counties, all located in an area designated for the testing of supersonic planes, both the Air Force and Civil Aeronautics have recognized that damage can be done. However, the psychological effect on people is probably worse than the physical damage. A shock wave coming out of a clear blue sky from a plane which is not seen and many times not even heard, is a disturbing experience, to say the least.

A PLANE FLYING AT 50,000 FEET over the City of Milwaukee, upset the entire populace and created near panic. Telephone circuits were jammed with inquiries as to what was happening.

ATMOSPHERIC CONDITIONS make a tremendous difference, according to the experts. Ordinarily a plane breaking the sound barrier at or above 35,000 feet is not severe; but a plane at 10,000 feet, flying at supersonic speed, concentrates the shock in a more narrow cone, resulting in greater severity. So, the answer lies not entirely in keeping a plane at or above 30,000 or 35,000 feet, although the shock is less concentrated.

NORTH AMERICAN AND CONVAIR, aircraft manufacturers in the Fort Worth area, and the Air Force are both conducting tests at various levels in a corridor running North and South from an area East of Abilene to the Mexican Border. In consultation and contacts with representatives of North American, Convair, the Air Force and Civil Aeronautics, I have insisted that they shift the area to sparsely settled areas of Southwest Texas or over the Gulf of Mexico. This may be the answer for the immediate, but in a few years the giant B-58 Bomber will be stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. With these planes capable of breaking the sound barrier, it means that the problem will be more severe. Even sooner, a jet fighter plane taking off from a field will be capable of breaking the sound barrier in its immediate climb. A commercial plane from New York to Los Angeles, flying at supersonic speed, will be creating a shock wave on the ground parallel to its flight across the entire continent. There appears to be no answer to the problem at this time.

IN THE MEANTIME, SHOULD DAMAGE OCCUR to your property from a sonic boom shock, promptly make a note of the hour and even the minute it occurred, and report it to me immediately. I shall do my best to see it is placed in the hands of the Air Force or the plane manufacturing companies, or you may report it directly to them.

EARLIER, WHEN THE EXPERTS presented some argument that damage could not occur from the shock waves created by a plane flying at supersonic speed, it reminded us that the scientists in aerodynamics concluded that the bumblebee could not fly. But the bumblebee was not aware of his plight, and does.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

SEVERAL OF THE HOSTS of the schoolboy track and field meets in the area this spring have been playin' the bridesmaids role in the races for the team championships.

The Tigers started the ball rolling in this category by finishing second to Midland in their own Canyon Reef Relays.

Then San Angelo wound up with the [illegible] trophy in its own San Angelo Relays, Abilene bagging the title.

And last week the Big Spring Steers won the runnerup trophy in their own ABC Relays with Midland taking home the bacon.

It seems as if the Tigers played "turn about fair play" with San Angelo and Big Spring. San Angelo finished third here and the Tigers in turn placed third at San Angelo and Big Spring finished fourth here and the Tigers, would you know it, placed fourth at Big Spring.

Another oddity in track and field this spring concerns Hardin-Simmons and McMurry. These two Abilene schools have participated in three meets this spring with McMurry finishing ahead of the Cowboys in each meet — the Border Olympics, Southwestern Recreation Meet and the West Texas Relays.

But in a dual meet last week Hardin-Simmons scored a smashing 92-43 victory over McMurry.

Behind The Times

It's still a mystery why Abilene doesn't sponsor a track and field meet. Two Abilene schools, ACC in the College Division and the Abilene Eagles in the High School Division, have been producing top-notch track teams the past several years but track fans in Abilene rarily ever see these athletes perform.

Why? Because the Abilene track athletes have to show off their wares on foreign cinders. Oh, ACC may work up a triangular meet or something during the season but so far as having a big meet, Abilene is "dormant" in this category.

Probably the main reason Abilene doesn't sponsor an invitational track meet is that it can't make any money at it. Abilene once hosted the NAIA track meet that brought in colleges from all corners of the U. S. and each year the Abileneans went deep in the "red."

Abilene just isn't interested in sponsoring anything unless there's some revenue to be realized from it, whether it brings the city unlimited publicity or not.

It takes a lot of preparation to conduct a track meet and maybe the Abilene folks just don't want to pay the price. They had rather someone else do all the work and all they have to do is to show up on the day of the track meets held around the state.

No Track At New Stadium

Abilene sports writers harped loud and long because a track wasn't included in the plans of the new stadium now being built there. But those behind the stadium project are going ahead anyway without the track, saying that putting in a track costs too much.

If cities like Snyder, San Angelo, Big Spring and Odessa can afford to build stadiums with a track we can't see why Abilene couldn't. We believe the "cost angle" was just a brush-off, though.

The big reason for not including a track, we have heard, is that it takes the football fans "too far away" from the field. That's a bunch of nonsense, too. I don't believe the Tiger fans have had any trouble seeing what's going on out on the football field.

Well, actually we shouldn't be getting worked up over what any of our neighbors have or don't have.

But, in doing this, we can be more proud of the fine athletic facilities we have here for all sports and the overall sports program carried on.

Our city of 17,500 is ahead of Abilene, a city of 75,000, in this respect.

JONES HIT HARD IN DEBUT

Cardinals 'Ahead' In Giant Trade

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first returns are in on last week's controversial Sam Jones-Bill White trade between the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants. It looks like Card General Manager Bing Devine might not have gotten the bad end after all.

Devine was criticized for giving Jones, his pitching mainstay last season with a 14-13 record, to the Giants for White, who has only little more than a season of major league experience.

Jones, in his first start for Giants manager Bill Rigney since the trade, was blasted for nine hits and nine runs in four innings Wednesday by the Chicago Cubs who beat the Giants 10-5. Among the hits were three-run homers by rookie George Altman and Moe Moryn.

Jones, last year's National League strikeout king, walked three and fanned four.

On the other hand, White has made a more favorable impression on Cards manager Solly Hemus — at least until his error paved the way for a five-run New York Yankee ninth inning that gave the world champions a 5-1 victory Wednesday.

Hemus decided before the game to give White the first base job and move Joe Cunningham to right field. White has hit three home runs and batted over .300 since joining the Cards. Cunningham has been hitting under .200 all spring.

But it was the fielding that swayed Hemus' decision. He said he had no doubt that White would be better than Cunningham at first.

White's error ruined a five-hit eight and one-third inning performance by Vinegar Bend Mizell as the Yanks then capitalized on an intentional pass and three straight hits for their victory. Yankee sorearm right-hander Don Larsen gave up one run and three hits in four innings, his first action since March 15.

The Cubs got their third straight victory as Bob Anderson pitched the first eight innings, allowing 11 hits and five runs.

In other exhibition games, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4, Los Angeles shutout the Philadelphia Phils 8-0, Cincinnati defeated Washington 6-4, the Chicago White Sox humbled the Milwaukee Braves 8-5, the Kansas City A's won over Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in a 12-inning night game.

Rookie Jerry Casale's wild pitch let in the winning Cleveland run in the eighth inning. The Indians' Herb Score pitched three innings, giving up four runs on homers by Sammy White and Frank Malzone but striking out eight.

Gil Hodges' homer and double and Duke Snider's triple and double powered Los Angeles to its victory while Eddie Kasko's eighth-inning triple sparked the Cincinnati win.

The White Sox routed Joey Jay with a five-run eighth inning in its victory and A's pinchhitter Preston Ward slammed a two run homer in the ninth inning to beat the Tigers.

Al Pilarcik singled in the 12th inning to give Baltimore its victory, scoring Jim Finigan from second base.

In other major trading action, the Baltimore Orioles traded temperimental right-handed pitcher Billy Loes to the Washington Senators for right-hander Vito Valentinetti.

Lady Golfers Slate Business Luncheon

The Snyder Women's Golf Association will hold its monthly business luncheon at noon at the Country Club tomorrow.

Weekly match play will also be held tomorrow.

The main topic on the business meeting agenda is setting the date and making plans for a one-day Ladies Invitational Tournament.

In last week's golfing, Betty Ann Henderson was the big winner, capturing low gross and low net honors and tying Dell Dugger for low putts.

Lou Keeble won the "event of the day."

The SWGA announced that a Scotch Foursome Tournament will be held Sunday at the Country Club, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Harris Easily Beats Fleeman To Keep Title

By WHILEY SWAYER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Roy Harris possessed about $5,500, a cut forehead and another victory over Dennie Fleeman today but his manager didn't think he was any closer to a rematch with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

"I don't think so," Lou Viscusi, Harris' manager, laughed when asked whether he thought the one-sided victory brought the Texas heavyweight champion from Cut and Shoot any closer to a rematch with Patterson. Patterson cut Harris to ribbons last year for a TKO.

Previously, Viscusi, of Houston, had said he felt if Harris won big it would help him toward a rematch.

Harris won a lop-sided margin over Fleeman but he had to jab his way to it from behind a mask of blood. Late in the fight Harris landed freely but was unable to score a knockdown Wednesday night.

A butt in the second round opened a ragged two-inch cut over Roy's eye. It bled badly until after the seventh when his seconds stopped the bleeding and Fleeman was unable to hit him and reopen the cut.

Fleeman, 183, of Midlothian, Tex., looked good in the early rounds, especially the second and third but he faded badly and was a well-beaten fighter by the end of the 12-round, nationally televised bout.

Harris, 198, never let up with his steaming left jabs, often using them as counters. He landed several hard rights and staggered the gritty Fleeman several times.

Harris is ranked seventh among the heavyweights and Fleeman ninth nationally as a light-heavy. The fight was for the Texas heavyweight championship.

The fighters got 15 per cent each of the net gate and $4,000 each from television. An estimated 5,500 paid a gross of $14,160.

Judge Norman Levinson scored it 119 for Harris, 109 for Fleeman. Judge J. O. Cherry had it Harris 120, Fleeman 108. Referee Charley Cravatti had it Harris 120 to 108 and The Associated Press gave it to Harris 118 to 108. Scoring was under the 10-point must.

Classy PV Field For Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A classy pole vault field began moving in today for a crack at the Texas Relays record which appears in serious trouble.

Three entrants already have bettered the vault mark of 14 feet, 3¾ inches set by Joe Rose of Arizona State. Four have come close.

The pole vault field includes Nebraska's Ken Pollard, who won the Big Eight indoor title with a 14-6¼ vault. He will be the man to beat for the title.

Others include Oklahoma State's Aubrey Dooley, last year's Big Eight outdoor champ at 14-9; Oklahoma's Larry Neeley, who has cleared 14-6; Oklahoma State's Jim Graham, a qualifier for the 1956 U.S. Olympic team; Cornell University's John Murray [illegible] with 13-9; and Missouri Valley titlist Marvin Howard of Wichita, who has vaulted 14 feet plus.

Both the 1958 broad jump and high jump champions are returning. Ernie Shelby of Kansas was the jumping star of the 1958 meet. The slim California native, who later won both the National Collegiate and AAU titles last year, set a record of 26 feet 3½ inches.

Bill Alley of Kansas and Bruce Parker of Texas are threats to the javelin record while Mike Lindsay, an Oklahoma sophomore, heads the shot field.

Illnesses, injury or grade troubles will keep eight members of the Kansas track team from competing, Coach Bill Easton said yesterday.

Rabbit Drive Slated At Fluvanna Saturday

The Fluvanna community is going to stage another rabbit drive Saturday.

All hunters from high school age and up are invited to take part in the drive. Those who wish to participate in the drive are asked to assemble at the Fluvanna Community Center at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Ammunition will be furnished at wholesale prices by the J. D. Patterson General Store of Fluvanna.

A noon luncheon will be served at the Community Center by the wives of the ranchers and farmers of Fluvanna.

Palmer Seeks 1st Masters Repeat

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, a muscular young man from Latrobe, Pa., sets out today with hopes of accomplishing something no other golfer has ever done — successfully defend his Masters title.

Since grand-slam king Bob Jones and Cliff Roberts launched this classic event 25 years ago, some of the biggest names in the game have won it. A few have won it more than once.

But none has been able to tame this demanding 6,980-yard Augusta National course and the talent-rich field two years running.

Palmer isn't favored to shatter precedent.

Although there is no outstanding favorite in the field. Among those claiming most attention were Sam Snead, Ken Venturi and Jack Burke Jr.

The top threats in the 10-man foreign field appeared to be Australia's Peter Thomson, who has won four of the past five British Opens; South Africa's Gary Player, who fired a 64 in his final tuneup round, and Spain's Angel Miguel, individual champion of the 1958 Canada Cup matches in Mexico City.

Player, making his third Masters appearance, missed an opportunity to set a course record when he three-putted the final green for a bogey-5 Wednesday.

Par for the lush rolling layout with its mammoth greens is 36-36—72. Lloyd Mangrum set the record at 64 in the opening round of the 1940 Masters. Hogan holds the 72-hole record of 274.

Snead is one of the two men who own three Masters titles. The other is Jimmy Demaret. The [illegible] played the circuit this winter but has been unbeatable in a series of head-to-head televised matches with a dozen top pros.

Ben Hogan, a two-time Masters champion, predicted this year's victory will go to a long hitter. Snead certainly qualifies there.

Venturi is a determined young man who came within a whisker of winning this tournament in 1956 as an amateur. He has been scoring well in practice, is second to Snead in the betting line of a local oddsmaker.

Burke captured a lot of attention with practice rounds of 66 and [illegible] but he acknowledged he was playing a gambling brand of golf he'd never dare in tournament play.

Hottest golfer among the touring pros is slender Art Wall, who captured the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N.C., Monday and leads in money winnings with more than $18,000 this year.

Archery Club Officers OK'd

The newly organized Snyder Archery Club elected permanent officers at the club's first official meeting Monday.

Marvin Vincent, who had been elected president previously on a temporary basis, was officially endorsed as the club president at Monday's meeting.

Other officers elected were: [illegible]

Secretary, Gerald Pullig.

Treasurer, Lester Bruns.

Publicity chairman, Oliver Guy.

Range officer, William Autry.

The club has announced that it will stage a Javelina hunt April 11-12 at [illegible], Tex.

Next club meeting will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at Bruns and Guy TV Service, 3919 Twenty-sixth Street. A time for a regular meeting date will be set at Sunday's session.

All persons interested in archery are invited to join the club. The club is open to both male and females from ages eight years and up.

Wayland In AAU Semis

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — The three favorites and an upstart battle it out tonight in the semifinals of the National Women's AAU basketball tournament.

Nashville, Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., and Iowa Wesleyan dominated regular season play among the women cagers and worked their way handily into the semifinals.

The Omaha Commercials made it the hard way last night with a 36-34 victory over the fourth-seeded Kansas City Guys.

Nashville plays Omaha and Wayland meets Iowa Wesleyan in the semi-finals.

Celtics Win Eastern Pro Cage Crown

BOSTON (AP) — The mighty Boston Celtics feared only overconfidence against the upstart Minneapolis Lakers today while marking time before their series opener for pro basketball's world championship.

"We figure to beat the Lakers, but we have to guard against overconfidence," warned Bob Cousy, Boston's veteran backcourt magician.

"That's right," chimed in Coach Red Auerbach. "We've taken them easily the past two years and then they didn't figure to upset St. Louis. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

The Celtics streaked into a National Basketball Assn. title showdown with Minneapolis by coming from behind for a 130-125 victory over the stubborn Syracuse Nationals Wednesday night in the seventh and deciding game of a torrid Eastern division final series.

The opener of the best-of-seven NBA championship series Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden will find the Celtics seeking their 19th straight triumph over Minneapolis. The Lakers last defeated the Boston club in the final game of the regular 1956-57 campaign.

Despite outward attempts to tone down confidence, the Celtics were unanimous in predicting they would regain the NBA crown they won two years ago.

"This is the greatest team ever —it didn't quit, it didn't quit," Auerbach cried happily in the dressing room.

Despite the strong "greatest" tag by their coach, the Celtics had to rally from a 16-point deficit midway through the second period and then outbattle Syracuse in the closing minutes.

Frank Ramsey topped the Celtics with 28 points with a right fore-finger encased in a cast. Cousy had 25.

Tiger, C-City Yearlings In Tilt Today

The freshmen and sophomores of Snyder High School and Colorado City High School will clash in a practice baseball game today at Colorado City.

Freddie Miller, a freshman, was expected to open on the mound for the Snyder nine.

Game time for the tilt was set for 4:15 p.m.

The Tiger varsity, winner of four of their last five games, will return to action tomorrow against the Tom S. Westerners of Lubbock here, with game time set for 4 p.m.

The Bengals will then close out their week's play Saturday with a doubleheader against the Big Spring Steers at Big Spring.

Aggies, Rice Share Lead

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference baseball race was in a two-way tie between Texas A&M and Rice Thursday while SMU and Texas weren't in a deadlock for the lead only because they hadn't played enough games.

SMU knocked the Aggies out of undisputed first place Wednesday with a 7-6 victory. It dropped A&M into a tie with Rice for the lead, each with 2-1 records. SMU and Texas are 1-1.

Saturday Rice and Texas A&M clash at Houston.

Texas and Baylor get together at Austin Friday while SMU and TCU tangle at Fort Worth Saturday in other conference battles for the week.

NT Relays Draw 19

DENTON (AP) — The North Texas relays April 10-11 have drawn 19 teams with all defending champions returning. Bobby Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion may run in the open 100-yard dash.

JOE BAILEY CHEANEY VOWS

Trackmen Today More Intelligent

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Joe Bailey Cheaney, the old Howard Payne track star who missed the Olympic Games because he was set back a yard for jumping the gun, is one of the best starters hereabouts. He has been doing it since 1926 and has sent a lot of great athletes off and winging.

Cheaney observes that the track boys of today are mighty smart. They study their sport from all angles and they are always matching wits with the starter. Sometimes they come off best, too.

Cheaney was impressed with the efforts of Dave Sime, the Duke star who ran against Bobby Morrow at Odessa in the celebrated spring duel that had the nation agog.

"He watched me make at least 20 starts and worked right along with me," Cheaney recalled. "He knew about every move I would make. He almost beat the gun on one start — I had pulled the trigger halfway. Sime is a great runner and a fine boy. A fellow who can run 100 yards in 9.4 against the best sprint man in the world — Morrow — with only three weeks of work must be considered a truly great athlete."

Sime was giving the mighty Morrow, who was in top condition after months of training, the fight of his life in that special race. Cheaney isn't sure he won't beat Morrow the next time they meet, although the veteran starter still considers Morrow the greatest runner of all time.

Cheaney ran back in the days when you were set back a yard for a false start. After you had been set back two yards you were disqualified for a third false start. Now you are not set back but you are disqualified if you make two false starts.

In the Olympic trials at Boston, Cheaney was running against fellows like JacksonScholz, Charley Paddock and Lorin Murichison. He was set back a yard when he beat the gun but, says Cheaney, the starter fired his pistol to bring the runners back and actually he should not have been penalized. The starter, though, wouldn't budge. So, Cheaney was a yard behind those great runners. "You would know how a race like that would come out," said Cheaney. "I lost and also lost my only chance at the olympics."

Perry Samuels, the former Texas sprint star, was about the cleverest athlete Cheaney says he ever went up against.

"Perry knew he had to get the start if he was going to win because he was running against Charley Parker," Cheaney recalls. "He would gam[illegible] and wait in his holes twice, figuring somebody would jump each time. Then he had lulled the starter into a sense of security and gotten his attention on somebody else. Perry would make his move to come out ahead of the others. He once beat me by five yards."

Cheaney tells a good story about the time his starter's pistol wouldn't fire and Boyce Gatewood, the great Texas hurdler who always ran second to Fred Wolcott of Rice, got the jump and couldn't be called back.

"Emmett Brunson, the Rice coach came down out of the stands as mad as a hornet," said Cheaney. "He said 'What happened?' I didn't answer, just stood there. Then the man on the public address system yelled out, 'Winner of the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.9, a new Texas relay record, Wolcott of Rice.' Brunson said, 'Pretty fair country runner isn't he' and went back up into the stands."

Baylor Spring Drills Attract 83 Candidates

WACO (AP) — A Baylor squad of 83, including 18 lettermen, held their first spring football workout under Head Coach Jim Bridgers yesterday.

Most of the workout was group work on fundamentals.

Two simultaneous full team 30-minute scrimmage sessions featured Baylor's new pro style offense.

Parole System Pays Off

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE

The Legislature in 1957 created a parole system under the Texas Department of Corrections, with the principal objective of rehabilitating criminal offenders and seeking to reduce crime. What probably was the most pressing reason for the parole system, however, was the growth of prison population. The state prison system had 7800 inmates in 1954 and four years later had 10,500.

There is a substantial benefit from the parole system [illegible] state savings in costs to the state between keeping a man in prison or paroling him so he can support himself and his family.

It now costs the Department of Corrections 96 cents a day to keep an inmate in prison. This is one of the lowest costs in the country. In addition, the state welfare department spends an average of 13 cents a day for relief to inmates' families. Also, if something had not been done to relieve the growing prison population, more buildings would have to be constructed. These cost about $2500 per inmate.

Prison officials have estimated that in 1958 the state saved $1,136,994 on prison operations and welfare from the 3250 parolees under supervision at the end of the year. It saved $1,030,000 on building costs. The parole system cost $326,120 during the year, so the net saving to the state was $1,840,874.

The officials estimate that during the four years 1958-61 the state will save $6,516,071.

The parole system is paying for itself dollarwise. It is to be hoped that a proportionate saving crimewise will be achieved.

Alcorn Noted For Frank Appraisal

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every once in a while a politician leaves this citadel of stuffy party platitudes after a career which makes you feel like saying "Thanks for some cool air, for a change."

Meade Alcorn is such a one.

With a few moments of frankness he dented, although the dent disappeared fast, the long tradition which seems to require political big-wigs to slam-bang the opposition only and never admit defeat beforehand.

Alcorn, 51, did his share of slam-banging before he [illegible] Wednesday as chairman of the Republican National Committee after more than 22 months of trying to steer his party down a victory road.

But it was his plain talk — months before the 1958 elections — that his party figured to lose which anguished some of his fellow Republicans and astonished politicians of both parties.

Alcorn, a lawyer who is going back to his practice in Connecticut, looked over the prospects last April and announced to newsmen "it isn't in the cards" for the Republicans to win the Senate.

He thought his party might barely make it in the House.

Among politicians this umbrella of gloom which Alcorn raised over his party's chances may have seemed unheard of, unnecessary, unprofessional and even unsporting. It was certainly unrehearsed.

But it was realistic. And it was justified, for what seemed at the time like wild optimism from his opposite number, Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, turned out to be rather conservative.

Butler predicted the Democrats would win perhaps 12 seats from the Republicans in the Senate and 40 in the House. In the 1958 elections they actually took 13 Republican Senate seats and 47 in the House.

It was the biggest Democratic victory since early New Deal days.

But Alcorn gave his party another dose of jolting frankness last January when the Republican National Committee met in Des Moines to hold a wake over the 1958 disaster and plan for victory in 1960.

Alcorn told committee members they had better dream up a new look for the party or get set for another shellacking.

"Today," he said, "we are being out-voted, out-talked, out-spent and out-worked by an alert, disciplined, politically astute opposition.

"In politics you can't stand still. Either you go forward or you go backward. And it's high time for the Republican party to shift gears. It's time we snatched off the 'big-business' false-face that the Democrats placed on us years ago.

"It's time we erased the dollar sign they painted on our vest."

Alcorn, like Butler on the other side of the fence, had no easy time trying to get Republicans to see eye-to-eye or work together.

Butler has to try to keep Southern Democratic conservatives running happily in the same harness with Northern liberals. Alcorn had the same task with the conservatives and liberals of his party.

Even if Alcorn made a policy of sweet-talk, he couldn't have pleased everybody.

Highly conservative Rep. Clare Hoffman, Michigan Republican, was so outraged by Alcorn's selection to be the party's general in January 1957, that he reacted immediately with this statement:

"The conservative wing of the Republican party has been liquidated and is about to be buried."

Today's Best Show: A Business Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest remaining indoor circus in America is the average business office.

It has more acts than Barnum and Bailey ever dreamed of. But one of the best sideshows is watching how the animals in the office zoo go about startin' their daily circus routine.

Here are some typical star performers you can see in action in your own office practically every morning:

Ailin' Ike — "The Doc told me I oughtta stay in bed at least a couple more days," he says on arrival. This means he really is too sick to work, and no matter what goes wrong during the day you can't blame him as he is a real hero to be there at all.

The Quick Change Artist — This ambitious secretary gets to the office five minutes early so she can erase her ride-the-bus face and replace it with her greet-the-boss face. As soon as the boss is in his sanctum, she goes downstairs to the drugstore and spends a half hour at breakfast.

The Supreme Organist — The initial problem of the boss is to decide which button to press among the row of buzzers on his desk. "Let me see," he muses, "who'll I scare first today?"

The Proud Grouch — He speaks to no one, but takes out pen and pad and starts figuring how many more months, days and hours he will have to spend in this wilderness of ingratitude before he can retire and start mingling with a better class of people.

The Guilty Innocent — Feverishly he sets about doing work he should have finished yesterday, and he hopes nobody will find him out. What he doesn't realize is that 9 out of 10 people in the office still are putting off the work they should have done the day before yesterday.

The Boy Wonder — This pink-cheeked junior executive fidgets until 9:03 a.m., then bursts in on the boss to brag about all the work he did at home the night before. The [illegible] unimpressed, [illegible] makes a mental note to fire the guy at the first opportunity — to safeguard his own job.

The Efficiency Expert — He strides briskly into his office, closes the door, then lies down and takes a three-hour nap. He feels perfectly safe. Nobody ever watches an efficiency expert. They figure he's always watching them.

Exchange Of Stock Offered By Sunray

TULSA (AP) — C. H. Wright, chairman of Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co., announced a plan to offer Suntide Refining Co. stockholders an exchange of one share of Sunray common stock for each three shares of Suntide common stock.

The exchange would be subject to ratification by the company's board of directors, which meet here April 17.

Judge Critz Dead At 81

AUSTIN (AP) — Richard Critz, 81, former associate justice of the State Supreme Court, died here yesterday. He will be buried tomorrow following funeral services in Austin.

The jurist had been ill for about a year.

Critz had been senior partner in an Austin law firm since 1945, when he left office after 10 years on the Supreme Court.

He was defeated in 1944 by Judge Gordon Simpson.

Named to the State Commission of Appeals in 1927, Critz spent about seven years in the post before former Gov. James V. Allred named him to the Supreme Court in 1935. He succeeded the late William Pierson.

Critz was city attorney in Granger, Tex., from 1906-1910 and Williamson County attorney from 1910-1918.

He was a native of Starkville, Miss., and came to Texas when he was 14.

Critz attended Southwestern University at Georgetown and taught school prior to being licensed as a lawyer in 1892.

Weather Research Institute Planned

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tired of just talking about the weather?

Thirteen universities are banding together to do something about it. They're mapping plans for a 71-million dollar weather research institute.

The schools have formed a University Corp. for Atmospheric Research to start the project. Plans were announced at a news conference at the University of Arizona Wednesday night.

Dr. Henry C. Houghton, head of the department of meteorology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and chairman of UCAR, said the institute would lead to better weather forecasting and control.

No site has been chosen for the institute. Money for the project is expected to come from the federal government's National Science Foundation.

He gave this picture of the proposed institute:

It would have a staff of about 550, including about 100 research scientists. A fleet of nine airplanes, including several of transport size, would gather atmospheric data. Information obtained in these studies would be a major step forward in the nation's efforts to solve mysteries of the atmosphere.

Houghton said the benefits to the nation's security, agriculture and industry would be invaluable.

He said the Soviet Union is well ahead of the United States in applying the institute approach to weather research.

Scientists have been studying plans for the proposed institute for 18 months. If Congress agrees to appropriate the necessary funds, he said, the project will need at least another year of preparation before construction can start.

Houghton said the site would have to be near "an academic institution."

Strange Partners In Cancer Fight

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The surgeons' knife, a powerful poison and a flip of a coin.

These are the strange partners in testing a technique against cancer. First indications are promising.

Signs of success of the technique in treating breast cancer were reported by Dr. Warren Cole at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress.

The test was begun more than three years ago. Dr. Cole and his colleagues wanted to try a power- [illegible] surgery against breast cancer.

Nitrogen mustard, a cousin to the poison gas of World War I, is poisonous to both the cancer and the patient. Just enough is given to the patient to hit the tumor [illegible]

"To get the effect you have to approach the toxic dose," said the University of Illinois researcher.

To control or compare the method properly, only half of the women participating in the test got nitrogen mustard treatment after the breast cancer operation. A flip of the coin decided which women got the poison.

Dr. Cole said cancer has recurred twice as often in women who did not get the nitrogen mustard treatment — and deaths are more than twice as high.

Other chemical compounds that are toxic to cancer cells also can be used.

Some are available that can find and destroy those cancer cells dislodged during the cancer operation.

"The surgeon controls 90 per cent of the solid tumors in men," said Dr. J. S. Ravdin of the University of Pennsylvania. "But a surgeon also must concern himself with drugs to reach widely spread small cancers the knife can not find or remove."

Each year cancer in the United States kills 250,000 persons, said Dr. Stuart M. Sessoms, chief of cancer drug therapy for the National Cancer Institute.

[illegible] found each year—and there are always 700,000 under treatment for cancer.

This unchecked would mean 40 million Americans now living will develop cancer and 26 million will die of it, Dr. Sessoms said.

One Slain As Two Brothers Fight

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Two brothers argued Wednesday when one swore at their mother. The two stepped outside their home.

Then, police said:

Rayes Trujillo, 28, pulled a board from a fence. His brother, Ernest, 31, grabbed a butcher knife.

Rayes died a few minutes later of stab wounds in the chest and back. His brother was jailed without charge.

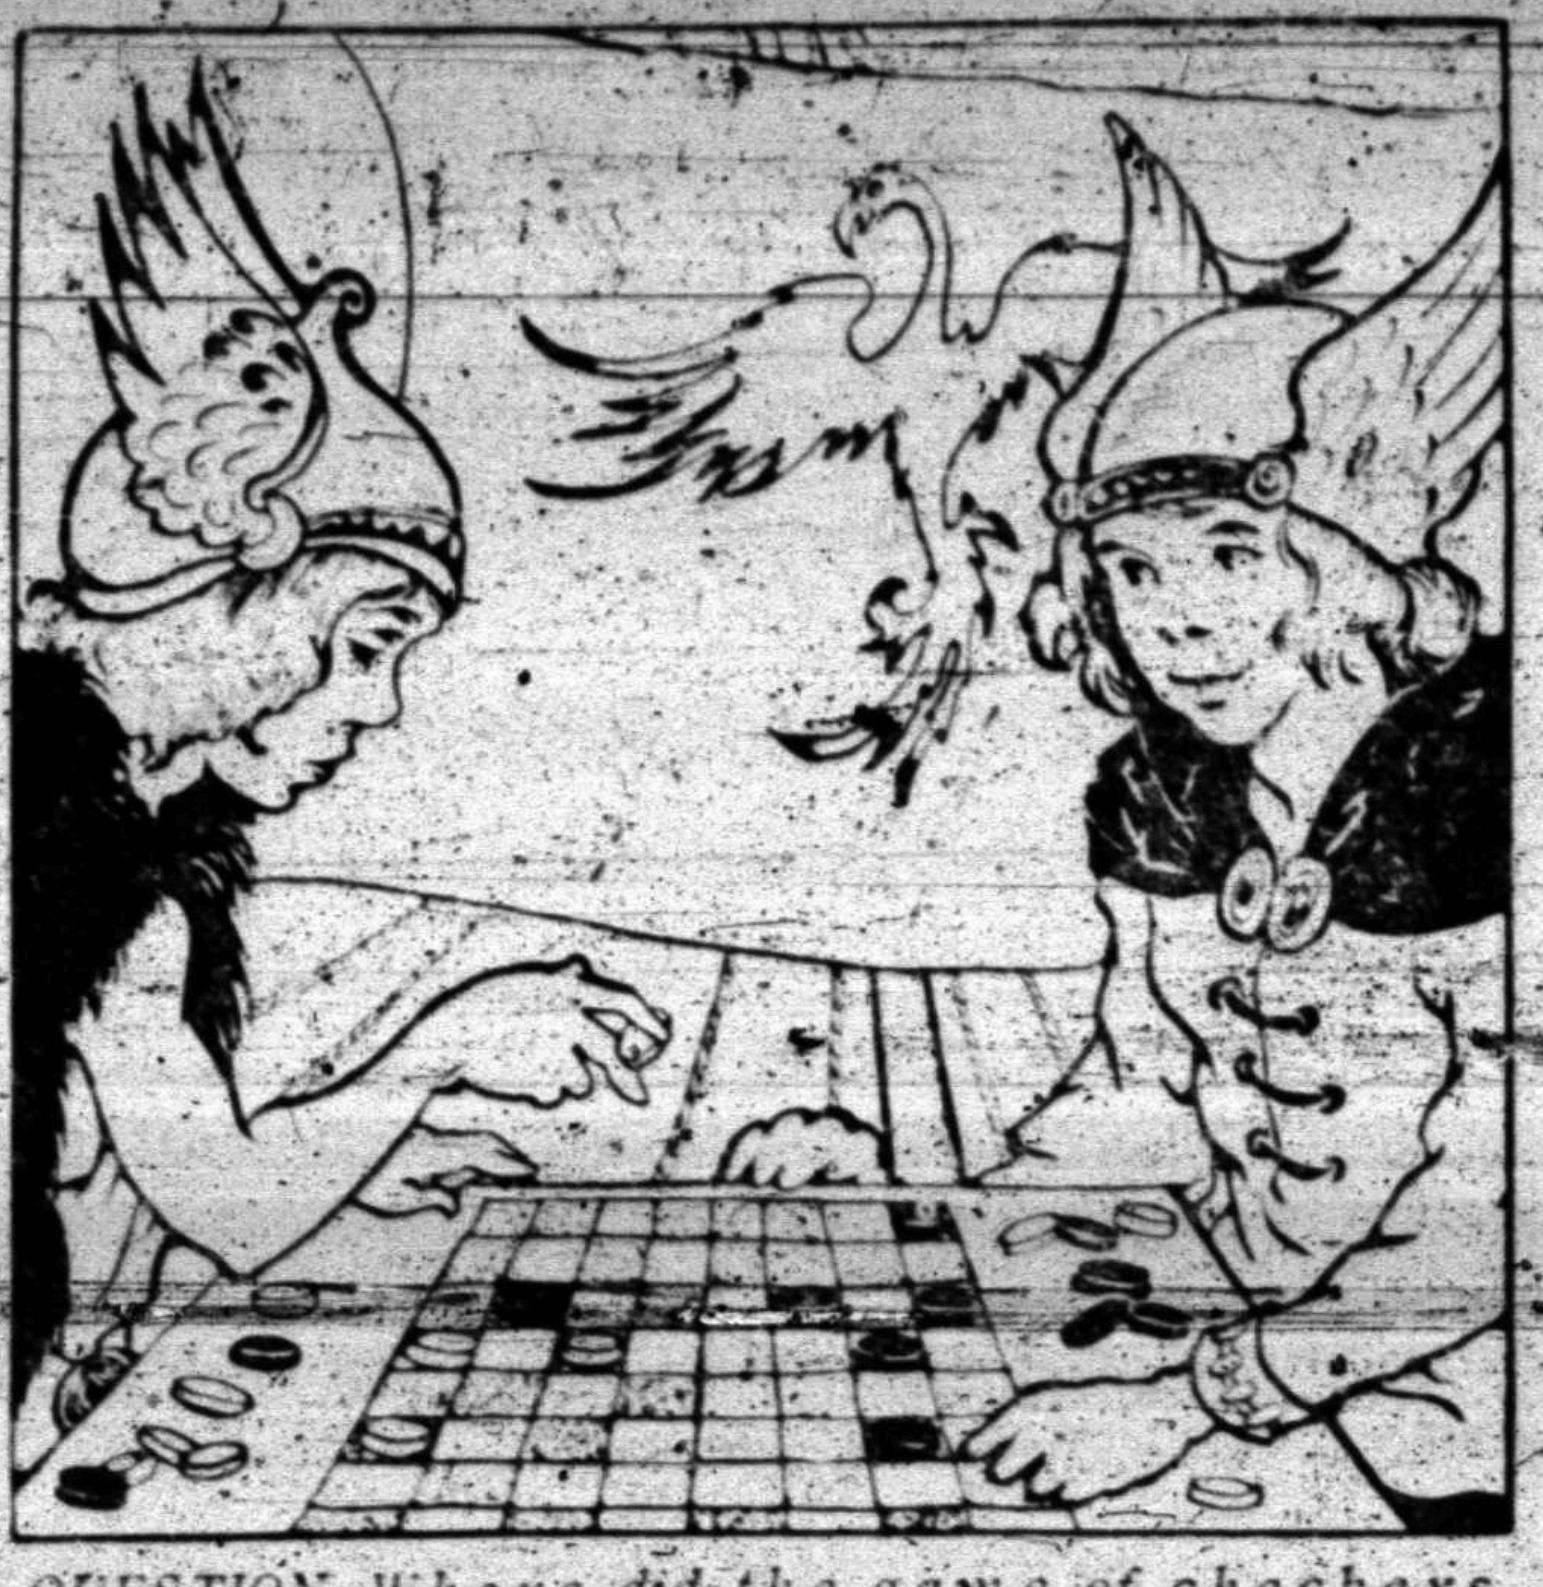
Junior Editors Quiz on GAMES



QUESTION: Where did the game of checkers originate?

• • •

ANSWER. When you see a group of old men playing checkers on a sunny park bench, you think that it must be a very old game. And you are right; but the age of the men has nothing to do with it.

The game was played thousands of years ago. This we know from art work found in the tombs of the Egyptian pharoahs and in the sculpture of the Greeks and Romans.

The Vikings, who traveled widely around the world, also knew the game and played it to while away the time on their voyages.

In Europe it is called draughts. Although a simple game to learn and play, it has for centuries been a pasttime of scholars because of the mental challenge involved.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: These Vikings are playing checkers aboard their ship. Color the picture and save it in your scrapbook. If you do not know how to play checkers, why not learn now and see why it is a game that has been played for centuries.

• • •

(Patsy Parent of St. Catherine's, Ont., wins $10 for this question. Send yours on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper, and you may win an award if it is chosen. Tomorrow: Who were the first people to use rubber?) 4-2

Attractive Prices On Vegetables

By The Associated Press

Texas housewives could stretch their dollar a little this week if they include cabbage and lettuce in menus. Wholesale deliveries are large and prices paid to growers are considerably less than a year ago.

Other vegetables with attractive price tags include cauliflower, celery, greens like collards, turnip greens, green onions and bunch spinach, and old-crop potatoes. Both red and russet potato prices are lower than a week ago.

Winesap apples, avocados and bananas also are sufficiently plentiful and reasonably priced to claim the "good buy" lable.

Volume is picking up and prices are some lower on Florida corn and cucumbers, Mexican crystal wax onions, and peppers.

Texas oranges and grapefruit and tomatoes from Florida and Mexico are higher than last week. The supply of yellow squash from Florida is limited and prices are up.

New items include purple hull peas from Florida, Valencia type onions from Chile, and South Texas yellow crookneck squash. Supplies or strawberries in Louisiana are increasing rapidly and prices in the field have dropped sharply.

Egg prices dropped further this week at some markets, reflecting the greater spring production. All cuts of pork and broilers also continue plentiful and economical. A good supply of lamb is available.

Phillips Completes Venezuela Extensions

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Two large extension wells have been completed on Lake Maracaibo in Venezuela, Phillips Petroleum Co. announced yesterday.

One of the wells was completed for an initial potential flow of 6,384 barrels of oil per day and the other for 6,384 barrels per day.

"Corn has been the major U. S. crop as far back as official records go. Approximately three bushels in four are fed by the grower [illegible]

Local Band Students Set For Contests

More than 80 high school and junior high students from Snyder will go to Abilene Saturday to compete in the regional Interscholastic League band solo and ensemble contests.

During the past several days the bands have been having tryouts to choose the students who will enter competition.

Melvin Montgomery, high school band director, will have 37 students going to the contests. Montgomery and Bill Green, assistant director, will accompany the students on the trip. There are about 95 students in the high school band here.

Tim Dennis, junior high band director, will have 40 to 50 students in the contests. The junior high band has 113 students.

The contests will be held on the campus of McMurry College and will draw about 1,000 students from about 50 schools in the region.

The high school band will enter students in Class I and Class II solo and ensemble contests. Junior high students will enter Class III. The classes are divided according to difficulty in playing. The contests will have seven judges.

High school students entering solo contests:

Clarinet — Joyce Rodgers, Dorothy Payne, Delbert Lloyd, and Marjory Nicks.

Alto sax — Dale Cushenberry, Annette Blum, and Phillip Smartt.

Baritone sax — Ray Lashaway.

Flute — Judy Nachlinger.

Piccolo — Sharon Morgan.

Cornet — Kay Powell, James McKinnon, Ann Byrd, Jean Young, Bob Fields.

Trombone — Steve Bates.

French horn — Iris Turner.

Baritone horn — Jerry Roe, Bill Patterson.

Snare drum — Doug Vice, Charles Easterwood.

Bass horn — Dick Martin.

Ensembles from the high school band include:

A sax quartet composed of Phillip Smartt, Dan Bohannon, Ray Lashaway, and Danny Ogden.

A mixed clarinet quartet composed of Delbert Lloyd, Dorothy Payne, Fred Reynolds, and Brenda Pierce.

A flute trio, Sharon Morgan, Thelma Howser, and Mary Clare Peebles.

Two cornet trios, one composed of Jean Young, Kay Powell, and Ann Byrd, the other made up of Bob Fields, James McKinnon, and T. R. Green.

A trombone quartet, Glen Thompson, David Wiman, Steve Bates and Joe Robinson.

Accompanists from the junior high band will be Mary Bowlin, Gene Shelburne, and Glenda White. Also acting as an accompanist will be Mrs. Nan Lee, junior high choral director.

Junior high soloists will be:

Clarinet — Judy Johnson, Bobby Covey, and Elizabeth Williams.

Flute — Susan Gracey, Rita Hanback, and Bobbie Pruitt.

Trombone — Ross Wise, Harmon Howser, Robert Meyer.

Tuba — Sandy McPherson.

Oboe — Sandra Autry.

Snare Drum — Bobby Easterwood.

French horn — Janie Crowder, Ernestine Potter, Susan Richardson, Becky Beaty, Margie Cole, Becky Lewallen.

Alto sax — Karen Elkins, Ann Patterson, Henrietta Fowler.

Baritone sax — Jimmy Walker.

Bassoon — Charlotte Womack.

Cornet — Tom Bennett, Paul McBeth, Josephine Linville.

Trumpet — Hillman Bearden.

Ensembles from the junior high entering contests:

Cornet trio composed of Paul McBeth, Josephine Linville, and Connie Koonce.

Two clarinet trios, one with Joyce Yoast, Priscilla Denson, and Carol Young, and the other made up of Judy Johnson, Elizabeth Williams, and Jay Watts.

Sax quartet, Ann Patterson, Jimmy Don Everett, Jimmy Walker, Karen Elkins.

Clarinet mixed quartet, Janice Sawyer, Harrline Barnett, Norma Allen, and Bobby Covey.

Two horn quartets, one composed of Becky Beaty, Marjorie Cole, Janie Crowder, and Susan Richardson and the other with Becky Lewallen, Ernestine Potter, Nina Procter, and Diana Ator.

John Ireland Files In Bankruptcy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Movie actor John Ireland filed a petition in bankruptcy Wednesday. He asked 10 days to file a schedule of assets and liabilities.

Ireland is married to actress Joanne Dru, ex-wife of singer Dick Haymes.

Ignorance Top Oppression

AUSTIN (AP) — U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said here last night the first and greatest oppression in the world is ignorance.

"Freedom has no real meaning in this world until we give it meaning in terms of enlightenment and education," the Senate majority leader told the annual meeting of the Ex-Students Assn. of the University of Texas.

"The stirrings of the world today are the stirrings of men seeking to rise above the circumstances of their birth and to fulfill the promise of the resources of their native lands as we have done," Johnson said.

"The men and women of Asia and Africa and Soviet Russia and Latin America do not want war or conflict—but they do want food for their families, health for their babies, hope for their young

Hawaii Plans For Election

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. William F. Quinn says Hawaii's plebiscite on statehood probably will be held the same date as its first primary election under statehood — June 27.

But he said he would not formally proclaim either this date or a general election for July 28 until the territorial Legislature approves important changes in Hawaii election laws. He must issue the proclamation before April 17 under the rules which govern states coming into being.

Quinn said he thought 90 to 95 per cent of the voters would approve statehood. They will choose two U.S. senators, one representative, and their own governor and lieutenant-governor.

He said a new seven-cent airmail stamp commemorating statehood would be issued on Admission Day when President Eisenhower certifies Hawaii's admission to the union as the 50th state.

Snyder Soldier Completes Course

Pfc. Tom L. Taylor of Snyder recently completed an orientation course at Nurnberg, Germany, which was designed for soldiers who have just arrived in Germany.

The course, emphasizing the role of each serviceman as a good will ambassador for the U. S., included a brief study of European history, familiarization with German customs and suggestions for taking full advantage of off-duty time while stationed in Europe.

Taylor, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Taylor, Route 2. He is a 1951 graduate of Snyder High School.

A central office repairman at the Army garrison at Nurnberg, Taylor entered the Army last May and received basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Four Persons Die In Auto-Train Crash

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP) — A speeding auto failed to make a railroad crossing near here Wednesday and was hit by the Santa Fe Texas Chief passenger train. Four persons were killed, two critically injured.

"The only thing I saw when we hit was flying bodies," said engineer Floyd Webb. He said the train's speed was 60 miles an hour, about the same as the auto.

The victims were identified as Dale McNew, 20, Pearl Williams, 40, her daughter Roberta, 18, all of Bristow, Okla., and Mrs. Roger Joyce, 24, Gowen, Okla.
