C. Banquet Is Huge Success

The principal speaker at the Annual Chamber of Commerce Membership Banquet, Monday night was Dr. Floyd Golden, a native of West Texas and a teacher and administrator in the Texas and New Mexico schools and colleges for 40 years.

The Annual Membership banquet was held at 7:30 p.m. in the Jr. High school cafeteria. Dr. Golden, now Educational Consultant for Rittenberry and Rittenberry Architects in Amarillo is President Emeritus of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, serving as head of the college from 1941 to 1950. He was Dean of the college from 1950 until he was elevated to president. He has served as principal and superintendent of public schools in Miami, White Deer, Friona and Portales, New Mexico.

Dr. Golden was introduced by Earl G. McClellan who spoke of the same 30 different organizations for education Golden was a member.

A veteran of World War I, he is a member of Boy Scouts of America and has received the Silver Beaver Award, does chamber of commerce work, Rotary, American Legion, Masonic Order, Baptist Church and is a member of the White House committee on education. He has dedicated his life to mankind.

He was one of 30 persons selected to tour Russia for six weeks to study their schools and industries.

In speaking of Russia, the Dr. stated that every American should go behind the Iron Curtain and live with Communism then they would return to join him in doing something about the American Way and Christianity. The Russians have no freedom of assembly or speech, and if a group of Americans were set down within Russia they would not last long there.

Speaking to a group of 200 in attendance, Dr. Golden stated it was interesting to see the new homes, High School and all the things which have been done in Spearman. His first visit here was in 1916 and then he could have fenced just as many sections as he wished for twenty to twenty-five dollars an acre. Someone wanted it, someone who had a vision for the future and made it a reality. The area has doubled and redoubled its potential in the last 50 years. There were only a handful of people here then, now this is a tremendous cattle and farming area. The economic condition of this area has doubled many times and will probably keep on doing so.

He continued, this is a community of people concerned with other people. They have improved conditions and made a better place to live and make a living and rear a family.

This city has the finest faculty of curriculum for schooling children. It should be considered a privilege to live in a community like this and persons should be happy to give their time, talent and money for the privilege to live here. In a united community we can go forward but there are some who will drag their feet. These will say the Chamber of Commerce doesn't do much for me. Do they ever stop to think what they have done for the Chamber of Commerce? Ah, persons must work together to make the Chamber of Commerce go forward. A community will be just what you want it to be. The people make the difference and without everyone working together a community dies.

Master of Ceremonies for the occasion was President James Bramlett. Invocation was given by Reverend Luther M. Berry, Pastor of the Spearman First Baptist church.

Mr. Bill Massie, board member, introduced out of town guests. Those attending from Perryton were: President of the Chamber of Commerce, Dean McCutcheon; a Director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Bill Lane; Perryton City Manager John Mayfield; District Manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, Milton Caldwell; Sales Manager for General Telephone, Bob Zinc and District Plant Supervisor for General Telephone Co., Frank Covington.

From Dalhart the City Manager, Sam Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shoulders, Dumas, President of the North Plains Savings and Loan Association.

R. D. Reg Yauch, chairman of the Goodwill committee of the Borger Chamber of Commerce and R. M. Dick Tweed a member of the same committee.

From Pampa the President of the Chamber of Commerce, Harold Barrett, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, E. O. Red Wedgworth, Norman Henry member and J. E. Gunn, a member and with the Federal Land Bank Association in Pampa.

City Manager Bill Moore of Guymon and Sam Fouquet, Salesman for Stanfield Printing.

Eril Pittman of Morse, Co-owner of Excel Chevrolet.

John Eason, photographer for Channel 4, KGNC news.

Mr. and Mrs. Darce Foshee, Spearman's new City Manager.

Following the introduction of guests, Bill Massie gave the presentation of awards.

The distinguished service award was not given to an individual this year but to an organization who has given cause for more publicity for Spearman in the past year than any other. The Rolling Plains Mule Train Organization was recipient of this award. County Judge Johnnie Lee, president of the organization received the award in behalf of the train. In presenting the award Mr. Massie stated the train had let people know where Spearman was on the map.

Pins were presented to the out going directors Gene Cudd, Roy McClellan, E. J. Copeland and Tommy Gooch.

A past-president plaque was presented to James Bramlett, who is now serving his second term as president.

Mary Lou Wysong, secretary for the chamber who has given so much faithful service was presented a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

President James Bramlett gave his remarks and praised the ten directors for their faithful service without pay when he thanked the out going directors. He stated he hated to lose them but there were a fine group of in coming directors replacing them and he wished it were possible for them all to work together.

Mr. Bramlett cordially extended an invitation to every member or any citizen to feel welcome to attend any and all of the chamber meetings. They meet the 2nd and 4th Friday of each month at 9:30 a.m. in the chamber conference room.

He further stated if anyone has anything to discuss to feel free to bring it to the meetings and not hesitate to let them know. The citizens are supporting the chamber liberally and the chamber wants to return your value for your dollar.

Some members have upped their membership fee from twenty-five to as high as three hundred percent. At this rate the chamber should have sufficient funds to do what they want & make it a first rate Chamber of Commerce.

In closing the president invited all to work with them and we will try to make it the best year possible our chamber has ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Joyner and son Chipper of Fieldton, Texas, visited over the week end with her sister, Mrs. R. C. Fisher and Mrs. V. N. King and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Flavil Ayers returned home Sunday evening after a visit in Salida, Colorado, with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parrish & Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith. Mr. Smith is a former Spearman Church of Christ preacher.

License Plates Now On Sale

Monday was the day to start lining up for license plates again. Sales started Monday and end April 1 throughout the state.

Texas Highway Department officials say that a good many people rush to buy plates the first week of sales, but the big rush falls during the last week of March.

Current registration receipt, certificate of title - and money enough to pay for the plates - is needed to complete the transaction.

Lost receipts or ownership papers may be replaced easily enough by sending 25 cents for each duplicate desired to the department's Motor Vehicle Division in Austin (40th and Jackson streets). But remember - to issue duplicate the Department needs your license number, make and model identification number. Receipts may also be obtained from a county in which the vehicle is registered, by the way.

Texas license plates have a new look this year. Each passenger plate has a three-lettered suffix followed by two or three numerals. (Commercial and miscellaneous vehicles retain their special registration system.) A new passenger registration stem enables the Department to cope with the increasing vehicle registration.

Since World War II, approximately a quarter-million more vehicles have been registered in the state. This trend could continue, but the new stem should provide sufficient numbers for at least the next 10 years.

Texas tags this year have black letters on white. Convinced that black and white provide the most suitable combination under both day and night conditions, the Highway Department alternates a color pattern. In odd years plates have black lettering on white; in even years, it's just the opposite. It also more economic to stay with two basic colors, the Department has decided.

Speaking of economy, plates provide a revenue source for building and maintaining roads. They also have another primary purpose: identification. Because of a latter, Department strives for simplicity in plate design. There are, plates in Texas contain only a necessary information: license number, state, and year.

The simplicity in design is of real value to the Texas police. The Texas Police Association has announced that an automobile is involved in 90 per cent of major crimes committed in the state. It is most important that plates be readable from a reasonable distance.

Texas tags are. When you buy yours, incidentally, you might want to order one from the Official State Highway Map of Texas. The map is now available for free worldwide distribution. To make it easy on the citizen, the Highway Department has placed each Texas county tax collector's office a supply of free postcards for convenient ordering. The sooner, the better.

Since the Twentieth Century club of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs of Spearman started this library many years ago, they feel that this auction is a worth while cause.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

by LINDA WEBB, H.D.A.

An advanced clothing workshop will be held for interested homemakers during the later part of February and early March. Any one who has had basic clothing construction instruction is eligible to enroll. A pre-registration meeting for the workshop will be held Friday, February 19, 1965, at 10:00 a.m. in the Home Demonstration Club Room in Spearman.

The main objectives of the advanced clothing construction training will be to further sewing skills, refine methods of making buttonholes, belts, putting in sleeves, collars, and interfacing and getting a more professional look from homemade garments.

A stylish pattern which is not too complicated, yet which contains all the above mentioned problems of traveling and a great deal of matching.

More details will be present ed in the next two weeks, so keep watching.

SOFT BASE SOAPS TO EASE POLLUTION PROBLEM—When a soft base is substituted sometime this year for the current hard base of today's detergent soaps, a nationwide pollution problem promises to do something that problems rarely do—vanish!

Neither toxic as some chemical water are, nor pathogenic like some organic pollutants, detergent foam nevertheless fulfills the definition of water pollution mainly because it degrades and compromises the aesthetic value of water and waterways.

Complicated molecular structure is the reason why hard base detergent material does not readily yield to hungry bacteria and their enzymes.

Detergents in prospect this year have a soft base material constituted of straight chain linear molecules. These detergents will have all the useful characteristics of the current types. They will suds and clean as well as the hard-base detergents, yet their straight line molecules will yield readily to biological sewage treatment, thus eliminating some of the water pollution problem.

The Last Note: Maybe the population explosion has put thousands of communities in debt for schools, but just think what it's doing for the peanut butter industry.

Why Be Frustrated About The New Math

"People prefer automobiles to horses and buggies so why should parents feel so frustrated about the new mathematics?"

This was a question asked by Dr. Merlin Ohmer, professor of mathematics at the University of Southwestern Louisiana and lecturer for the Mathematical Association of America, when he was guest lecturer at Wayland Baptist College. Dr. Ohmer, who has taught at both University of Pittsburgh and Tulane, is consultant for two railroads, is the author of two textbooks on modern mathematics for the education of elementary school teachers, and is featured on television programs in Louisiana.

"Parents want everything modern and up-to-date except mathematics, to hear some of them talk," he laughingly declared when he spoke on "Evolution & Revolution in Mathematics" to Wayland students, faculty and area teachers.

"We could not have jet planes, fast automobiles and rapid communications systems, which take so much for granted today, if it were not for modern mathematics. We have discovered that when a child is old enough to ask intelligent questions he is old enough to have intelligent answers about why a thing operates as it does."

"Children today can understand some mathematical problems that I was not exposed to until I entered graduate school. Our old fashioned way of thinking was that a child could not understand higher mathematics until he reached high school. Of course, the child does not go deeply into such problems as we did in graduate school but we have definitely proved he can learn much earlier than was thought possible only a few years ago.

"It has almost become a cliché to say that more has been learned about mathematics since 1940 than in the history of mankind before that date. Tradition is hard to uproot," he declared. "This is true of elementary school teachers, as well as parents. When elementary teachers apply themselves to learning modern mathematics, they quickly learn that there is a method and purpose through which they can lead a child so that he can discover mathematical principles and concepts for himself. When he discovers these truths for himself he is less likely to forget."

Tossing out the question, "Do you know why in subtraction you borrow a number from another? Children who study modern mathematics know why!"

Today's teachers of modern mathematics attempt to motivate the child to see the need to understand principles behind all mathematics and not merely to memorize tables and formulas.

Stressing also that learning modern mathematics is not necessarily a chore and certainly not impossible to learn, Dr. Ohmer quoted a philosopher who has said that everything can be taught to everybody in some form that is honest. This he definitely believes can be done with modern mathematics, even parents an elementary teachers who have been teaching by old methods for 10, 20, or even 30 years.

The bringing of Dr. Ohmer to Wayland is part of a continuing program begun several years ago under Dr. Dorothy McCoy, Wayland's professor of mathematics to present modern mathematics to Wayland students and the area. In the fall semester some 132 parents enrolled for a 4-week Workshop in Modern Mathematics for Parents under Dr. McCoy. Because of an increasing demand for another section of this workshop, it may be necessary to offer it again in the spring, according to Dean Robert G. Collmer.

Letter To Editor

The Reporter received the second letter from Donald Hughes, who was one of our little paper
boys before he moved to Stigler, Oklahoma late last year. Now living on a farm, his letter is as

Dear Billy Miller,

I sure thank you for the paper, and for the dollar. Now we have twelve cows, and a sick one too.
We use to have forty chickens & we ate five of them. We had a snow storm about a week ago for the first one down here. Daddy is talking about a pony but I have not got one yet. It is raining this morning I would like a subscription to the paper and I will send the money. I don't think I could sell any more down here.

Winterize Your Driving

One of the most dangerous acts by drivers during winter months is failure to completely clear ALL windows and windshields before driving.

It is essential that drivers remain alert and able to see what is around them clearly. The only way this can be done is by cleaning all windows and windshields before starting to drive. And, while you are at it, it only takes a few seconds to clean off the headlights, turn-signals, and tail lights as well.

When temperatures drop below the freezing point, drivers must guard against curtailed visibility.

caused by frosted windows and windshields.

To prevent frosted windows and windshields, idle your car enough for it to warm up for the defroster to be effective before starting. If you must begin driving immediately before the car starts up, open a window so the air escapes.

County Agents Report

The way taxes are today, you might as well marry for love.

Officers elected were: Bill McCloy, chairman; Suzanne Dixon, girl vice-chairman; Delbert McCloy, boy vice-chairman; Rebecca Hutchison, Secretary-reporter; Janice Trindle, treasurer; Sylvia Parks and Alan Dixon, District Council delegates.

COUNTY 4-H ELIMINATIONS

FISH APPLICATIONS
Farmers and ranchers wanting fish for their farm ponds this year will have to apply before May 1, 1965. Application for fish for farm ponds received after date will not be assured of stocking in the season during which the applications are received.

WINDBREAK TREE DEADLINE
The deadline for ordering trees for windbreak planting is Feb. 12, 1965. I have received word that the Texas Forest Service cannot fill orders for Austrian and Ponderosa Pines and Sycamore. I have the application forms in my office.

PREVENT URINARY CALCULI
The addition of ammonium chloride, technical grade, to the ration may afford almost complete protection to steers and wethers against urinary calculi or "water belly" under feedlot and range conditions.

U. D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman, reports that research studies conducted by the Dr. H. R. Crookshank of USDA's Agricultural Research Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have shown that the addition of 1.25 ounces per head daily for steers and one-fourth ounce daily for wethers to feed lot rations will effectively control urinary calculi.

These amounts, points out Thompson, may be included in rations where Calculi has been a problem. These levels may be fed throughout the feeding period without affecting carcass quality or rate of gain. Technical grade ammonium chloride may be added to the premix, concentrate, or mixed ration and can be used with mechanical mixing equipment, according to the specialist. The estimated maximum additional cost in the feedlot for the ammonium chloride is one and a half cents per head daily for steers and 50c per wether for a 112-140 day feeding period.

Thompson suggests for steers on winter pasture three-fourths ounce of ammonium chloride per head daily and one-eighth daily for wethers. The material should be included in their protein supplement, he says. The cost for supplying calculi control or range animals amounts to about one-half of that required to protect feed of animals, Thompson says. The specialist suggests the local drug store as the most likely source for technical grade ammonium chloride.

SHEEP - Shearing Head LOST!
I would appreciate it very much if the person who borrowed the sheep-shearing head for the animal clipper would return it to me at the County Agent's office.

"CASE DEALERS"

See us. We deliver:
big-car luxury,
not just a big-car name.

Remember this fact when you're shopping big-car names. If you don't get the room to begin with, you don't get the luxury. That's why Chryslers come in only one size. Large.

Here's another point to consider. Almost half of the '65 Chryslers are priced only a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars comparably equipped. Last point. If you're going to pay the price of a Chrysler, get one.

THIS PIPELINE WAS BUILT BY THE ROMANS AND SERVED FOR 2,000 YEARS

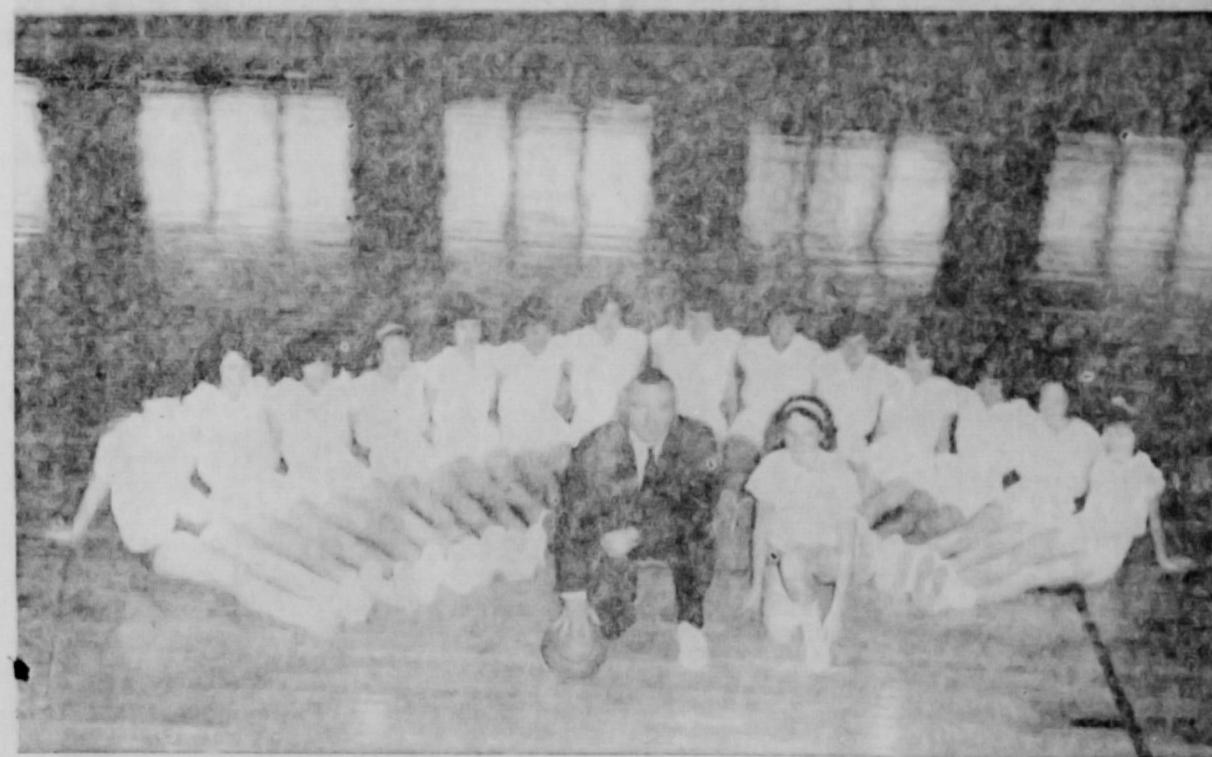

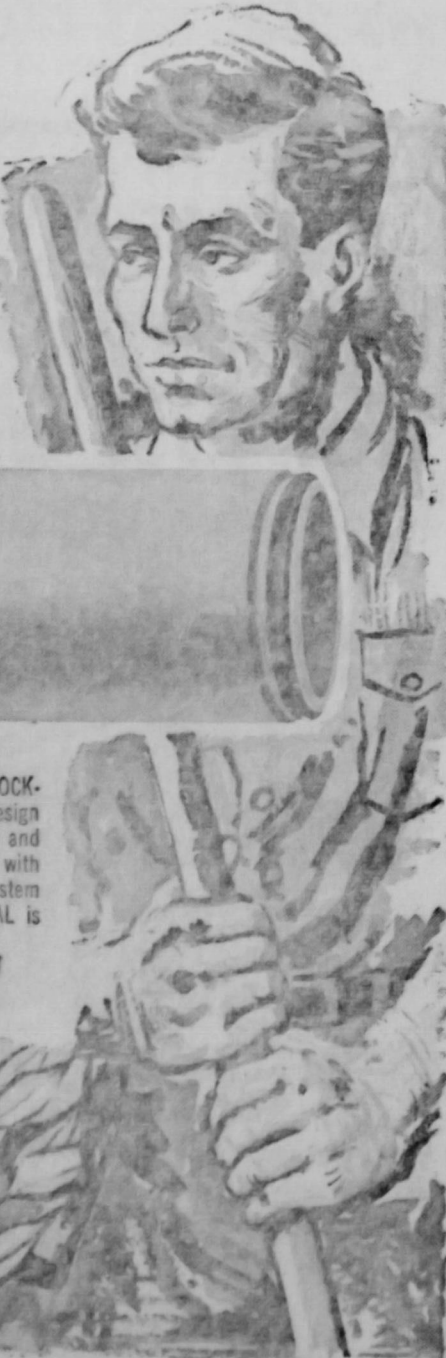

This photo, from the Smithsonian Institute in Washington D. C., shows a section of the original aqueduct that served the water needs of the conquered city of Cologne, Germany. It was constructed in 80 A.D. by the engineers of Fabius Sabinus Titus, Emperor of Rome. The aqueduct extended 56 miles underground between Cologne, and Eifel and served as the main artery for the Cologne water supply until the late 1220's.

THIS PIPELINE IS EVEN MORE DEPENDABLE !!

Because of modern materials and manufacturing techniques, Gifford-Hill-Western's LOCK-SEAL provides an even more dependable underground pipeline. The close tolerance design makes the pipe more suitable, and joint flexibility eliminates the effects of expansion and contraction due to soil conditions and temperatures. By combining a superior product with modern day design and installation know-how, you have an underground irrigation system that serves dependably year after year . . . generation after generation. LOCK-SEAL is the product, Gifford-Hill-Western is the company . . . depend on them!
