Red Cossacks Pursue Nazis

Roads Strewn With German Dead And Wrecked Armor

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 30—Red Army troops of the Nogaisk steppe converged on the lower Dnieper river stronghold of Nikopol today after shattering a German defense line 25 miles to the southeast yesterday and also pounded a demoralized enemy back to the approaches of the imperilled Crimea, Moscow announced.

Paced by Cossack cavalrymen who slashed the enemy far in the rear of every improvised German rearguard stand, the Russians swept through 80 more villages in smashing 15-mile gains which put them with 30 miles of the Sivash salt marshes bordering the northeastern gateway to the Crimea, and within 50 miles of the Perekop bottleneck at the northwestern corner of the peninsula.

Smash On In Bend

General Malinovsky's units operating inside the bend smashed ahead six miles to capture 26 localities, including Alexandrovka, only 42 miles north of Nikopol, said the Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

A Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press announced a new crossing of the Dnieper just below Zaporozhe by other Russian units driving on Nikopol, which is only 40 miles southwest of Zaporozhe.

At besieged Krivoi Rog, iron center 50 miles west of Nikopol, the Russians beat off heavy enemy tank and infantry attacks in their effort to capture that city and seal off all the Germans caught in the triangle between there, Nikopol and Dnepropetrovsk.

Huge Tank Battle

The Germans reported a huge tank battle raging for the second day at Krivoi Rog as Axis troops fought savagely to hold open an escape route between that city and Nikopol, and also to protect the flight of the German units being pushed across the Nogaisk steppes to the southeast.

Cossack horsemen were reported operating within 40 miles of the northern Crimea, slashing and harrying the German retreat from the heart of the steppe country.

The bulletin said General Tolbukhin's Army had captured Torgayevka, 550 miles northeast of Perekop in its swift drive to close off that Nazi escape hatch from the Crimea. Ivanovka, 14 miles southeast of Torgayevka, also was overrun, and other Russians smashing down the Melitopol railway took Bolshoi-Utlyug, only 45

Yanks Lash For Cutoff In Italy

Advance Menaces Area Road Junction

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 29—American and British troops, struggling up 1,600-foot slopes with fixed bayonets against massed German artillery, reached a position today to apply a powerful cut-off play against the mighty mountain fortress into which the enemy has converted Massico ridge on the southwestern end of the Italian front.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American infantry, advancing through a driving rain, smashed three miles beyond Sparanise, and official reports from the front said they were threatening the road junction of Teano, from which a highway passes northward of lofty Massico ridge toward Rome, 94 miles away.

Could Isolate Nazi Group

Five miles south of Teano other Fifth Army units already had seized Francolise, on a main highway just north of the Massico fortress. These two forces, by converging and pushing through the available pass, would isolate German troops on Massico, anchor of the entire Rommel defense line.

The United States Navy also applied pressure on the seaward side of the ridge. An American cruiser and destroyers stood off in the darkness Wednesday night and poured shells into the enemy's line of communications in the Minturno area.

The Fifth Army's coastal flank still was held up by elaborate German defenses along the Rgia canal, only four miles north of the Volturno. British troops which landed from the sea had, for the most part, been unable to cross the barrier.

British Move Forward

At the other extremity of the front, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery sent his British and Canadians forward on the mountainous inland sector toward the upper reaches of the Trigno river.

Daniel DeLuce, Associated Press correspondent at that front, said Montgomery's troops, facing "mud and mountains in seemingly inexhaustible quantities," were encountering their toughest going since they entered Italy Sept. 3. "Not one offensive, but several, will be necessary before the Eighth Army can hope to see the seven hills of the Eternal City," De Luce wrote. "Tanks are an almost useless luxury in this sector."

Plane Brave Storms

Fifteen miles inland Eighth Army units occupied Montefalcone after a five-mile advance from Castelmauro, and still farther inland Canadian regiments fought their way into Molise, 18 miles east of the important enemy communications center of Isernia.

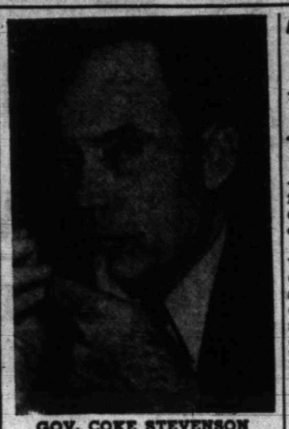

Allied fighters and bombers braved the unsettled weather to attack enemy gun and troop positions, road junctions, trains, bridges and airdromes. Two Nazi planes were shot down, while, as frequently occurs in recent weeks, the Allies did not lose a single craft.

The first official report from the raid by heavy Northwest Africa airforce members on Austria last Sunday disclosed that considerable damage was done to rail facilities at Ebenfurt, some 30 miles from Vienna. The bombers were escorted by Italy-based fighters.

Governor Talks With Dem Chief

Reporters Told He Just Has No News

By L. T. (Tex) EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Pipe smoking Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas parried reporters' questions for an hour today following a conference with Frank Walker, Democratic national committee chairman.

He wouldn't concede there was any political significance to his visit here, but the meeting with Walker was the only one arranged before his arrival this morning.

"I'm sorry, but I reckon there's just no news I've got to put out," he told a dozen reporters who crowded into his hotel suite.

Unhappy Over Rationing

The bronzed West Texas rancher-governor, who mentioned that he owned 200 pipes, said he had talked with Walker only about the Office of Price administration (OPA), and informed him that the people in his state were highly unhappy about gasoline, meat, butter rationing, and "what-not."

"But governor, since Mr. Walker doesn't happen to be affiliated with the Office of Price administration," a reporter asked, "it might be reasonable to presume that you were discussing the effect that OPA regulations might have on Texas voters next year?"

Knocking the ashes out of his pipe, he drawled:

"Now you're going to get me out on a limb."

Walker called the OPA and arranged a conference for him tomorrow with an assistant to Administrator Chester Bowles, the governor reported. Bowles was out of town.

Great Distances Cited

"I'm going over to tell them that we feel there is no equity in the gasoline rationing system," he commented. "We have great distances out west, and this and other factors should be taken into consideration. As for meat, I think we would be a lot better off if there was no rationing whatever, price ceiling alone would be enough."

The governor said he also might protest to the Federal Power commission against the proposed natural gas pipe line from Texas to West Virginia. He said he was against depletion of a natural resource which serves as a drawing card for industrialization of Texas.

Vinson Rejects Oil Price Hike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — The director of economic stabilization, Fred M. Vinson, tonight rejected the proposed 35-cent a barrel increase in the price of crude oil, declaring this proposal recommended by Interior Secretary Ickes would cost petroleum consumers "at least $500,000,000 annually."

"To keep faith with the unnumbered millions of wage earners, producers and merchants whose wages and prices have been stabilized, no price increase can be granted in the price of crude oil in the light of the other practical measures available to insure an adequate supply of petroleum," Vinson said.

Wants Wildcat Program

Present producer prices are about $1.18 a barrel.

While denying a general increase — advocated by Ickes and the industry to stimulate new production but already rejected twice by the Office of Price administration—Vinson instructed Ickes as petroleum administrator to prepare a program giving more financial incentive for the drilling of wildcat wells and for development of new oil fields.

Ickes was further directed to formulate, if feasible, some program "other than a general price increase" to give additional financial support for the operation of marginal wells and for the recovery of secondary petroleum.

While the flat 35-cent increase

Thomas Is Shown As Man Of Many Roles

A MAN of many roles is this man Jim Thomas . . . being held for questioning in the double murder of Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hunt of Littlefield.

The books of the old Baylor University Medical school were being checked last night by Dean Moursund to verify the information, deemed authoritative, that Thomas spent four years studying medicine at the medical school and that he was drafted out of the school by the Army in 1917.

Since that time his career has been a path of crime covering several states.

It has been definitely established that he spent several years as an attendant and nurse in the Nebraska penitentiary hospital and worked as an operating room assistant. Information has been given that he was skilled in that branch of work in the prison.

The governors office has announced that officials were assured that an anaesthetic was used in connection with the killing of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt.

When he stepped out of the Rangers car late Thursday afternoon at the courthouse in Lubbock, he had the appearance of a business man, wearing a neat, new business suit . . . a few months ago he wore stripes in the Texas penitentiary. . . . He was a bank robbery record . . . was investigated for violation of the Traffic Act—has been investigated for kidnaping, assault to murder, has been a fugitive from justice . . . and other crimes over a long period of time.

He's now a prisoner of the state of Texas and is in the hands of the Texas Rangers, being held in the Lubbock county jail.

Articles From Death Room Sent To Police Laboratory At Austin For Examination

The mystery of the master bed room, where Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hunt were found brutally murdered early Tuesday morning, is now being studied by the bureau of the Texas Police laboratory in Austin, it was disclosed by investigating officials Friday night.

The articles that were found in the death room are being checked, scientifically, in the laboratory.

Those articles include Dr. Hunt's billfold; the gown worn by Mrs. Hunt; the gowns that were around the neck of the murdered pair; the gown worn by Jo Ann Hunt, 5½-year-old daughter, who was pushed into a closet and said that "the 'bad man' through water on me that smelled like gasoline, slammed the door and I went to sleep."

Anaesthesia Used In Crime

According to information placed at the disposal of the Governor in Austin the officials there have been assured that an anaesthesia had been used to some extent in commission of the double murder.

Questioning of Jim Thomas in connection with the bedroom murder, had ceased Friday while officers prepared to work on the missing links in the case. One link bore on Thomas' whereabout between last Saturday and Tuesday.

Thursday night the prisoner, a hardened character, knew all the tricks of confounding the questioning officers, gave a detailed statement of his recent activities, dictating for two hours. Then he laughingly declined to sign the document.

It has been said by some of the investigating officers that the death of Mrs. Hunt probably was not in the killer's original plans. The assailant was intent on "getting Dr. Hunt out of the way" and not in killing Mrs. Hunt.

From Galveston, officers reported that state patrolmen were looking for a second suspect and a suitcase purpostedly owned by the convict under arrest.

The suspect is held on an order from the Governor's office revoking his parole. No charge has been filed against him.

The Nebraska episode which put the convict in prison involved a bank robbery and an incidental kidnaping. He was sentenced to 25 years in May, 1931, and served ten years, when he was turned over to the Texas authorities.

Anaesthesia Angle

The anaesthesia angle has intrigued many of the officers who are working on the case because they have held that an antsthetic was used in the gruesome affair in which handsome Dr. Hunt and his wife were bound by wire and ropes in their bed and bloodily beaten and shot to death.

Thomas worked in the prison hospital in Nebraska for several years as an attendant and a nurse. He worked in the operating room where anaesthetics were used.

Prison records, at the Texas penitentiary, show that Thomas was received there in 1917. The record further notes that he is divorced.

Thomas was under orders from the Galveston parole board not to leave Galveston county without permission, but that he had done so twice since last May, was disclosed during the questioning Thursday night.

As the law enforcing bodies throughout the state are working day and night to break the case, citizens of Littlefield and Lubbock have put up more than $12,000 for the person or persons who solve the case. This is one of the largest rewards ever offered in the state.

New Tax Plan Quickly Killed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — A $13,800,000,000 additional tax and compulsory savings program, including a war-time supertax, was proposed to the House Ways and Means committee today by Marriner S. Eccles, federal reserve chairman, and was immediately scrapped.

The committee, which thus far has voted to raise only $2,000,000,000 in new revenue despite a Treasury request for $10,500,000,000, showed no disposition to follow Eccles' recommendations, notwithstanding his warnings that the nation is threatened by inflation.

Plan Said Fantastic

Committee members reported that Chairman Doughton (D-NC) told Eccles his program was "amazing, fantastic and visionary." The program was discussed by Eccles at an executive committee session.

Doughton remarked to newspaperman later: "I don't like it at all. I felt the same way about the Treasury program. From what I said I think Mr. Eccles would come to the conclusion that I was against his program."

As outlined by committee members, the federal reserve chairman's program would provide:

Big Italian Army Is Operating In North

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP)—An Italian Army of 30,000 trained fighters has been established in northern Italy and, with the aid of arms supplied through Yugoslav partisans, already has engaged German troops, a Swiss dispatch reported tonight.

This perhaps significant widening of the German's long northern Adriatic defensive front was reported soon after Yugoslav armies announced they had cut Yugoslavia's main railway both above and below the capital of Belgrade.

A dispatch dated at the Italian frontier printed in the Basel, Switzerland, newspaper Nachrichten said that the trained Italian Army had been formed in Venezia province, comprising the northeastern part of Italy and bordering on Yugoslavia and Austria.

Let-Down Will Not Be Tolerated—FDR

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt, saying that a let-down of coal production is not to be tolerated, declared tonight that the striking coal miners must accept the War Labor board's wage decisions as final.

If they do not, he said, "I shall take decisive action to see that coal is mined."

While the number of striking miners went past the 80,000 mark, and the United Mine Workers high command arranged a meeting Monday on the WLB's decision which UMW President John L. Lewis has rejected, Mr. Roosevelt wrote Chairman W. H. Davis of the WLB:

"We are short of coal to meet our war needs.

"We must have more coal.

Can't Tolerate Let Down

"We can no more tolerate the letting down of coal production than we can tolerate letting down of the shipping of supplies to our fighting men."

Mr. Roosevelt said, however, he would not take "decisive action until after the meeting of the policy committee of the miners next Monday."

He thus checked up to Lewis and his associates a decision on whether to stop the nation's fourth coal strike of the year now.

And at the same time he appealed to the miners indirectly to disregard any of their leaders who counsel against the War Labor board's recommendations, saying:

Must Make Sacrifices

"Certainly in war time, the miners will not take the position that they will sign no contract other than one dictated by their leaders. We are at war, and all of us must make sacrifices for our common good and common safety."

"... The board has resolved every reasonable doubt with respect to the requirements of the stabilization program in favor of the miners' demands," the President said.

No Basis For Assertion

"There is no basis for the assertion that the board's proposals involve in any way a reduction in the basic rates that the miners are receiving. On the contrary, the assertion ignores the fact that the present basic rates are for production work at their working places, and make no allowances for travel time (underground) as such. Under the board's proposal the miners for the first time will receive pay for travel time, as such."

Once before this year the President has ordered government seizure and operation of the coal mines to assure continued production.

The mines were operated for a while by Interior Secretary Ickes as federal boss but the last of

Japs Flee Without Fight As Bougainville Threat Mounts

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Saturday, Oct. 30—American paratroops, spearheading a drive to clear out the Japanese from all the Solomons, landed Thursday morning at the village of Voza on southwestern Choiseul island and the Japanese there fled north without offering a fight.

This second invasion move in as many days increased the threat to Bougainville, the last big enemy island barring the way to Japan's key southwest Pacific fortress of Rabaul, New Britain.

Airfields Bombed Out

Bougainville southern airfields already had been bombed out and unable to figure in the opposition and headquarters, in announcing the Choiseul strike today, reported a heavy attack by Lightning-screened Mitchells on the Buka airdrome north of Bougainville. During which 200 Japanese working on the runway were killed, seven grounded planes were destroyed and four others damaged.

The Choiseul invasion followed by a day American and New Zeland amphibious landings in the little Treasury islands 30 miles south of Bougainville. There on the larger cone-shaped island of Mono, the attackers drove the Japanese toward its northeastern end, supported by Ventura bombers.

100 Miles Northwest

Bougainville is approximately 100 miles northwest of the paratroop landing scene on Choiseul but it is less than 50 miles from that island's northern tip.

A spokesman at South Pacific headquarters of Adm. William F. Halsey, who is in command of the Solomons forces, said only a few hundred Japanese were on Mono. Allied forces are taking steps to prevent their evacuation.

Elaborating on General MacArthur's reports, he said the Japanese had retreated to Malsi village at Lua point, about four miles from the Allied landing point and across the elevated portion of heavily wooded Mono. Allied patrols now are moving up the beach along an eight-mile route.

Near Jap Barge Area

The landings on Choiseul occurred near the Japanese barge staging area. It was to Choiseul that many remnants of the Japanese troops driven out of the central

Chinese Smash Jap Offensive

Town Retaken, And 1,200 Nips Killed

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, Oct. 29 — The Chinese announced today the smashing of the Japanese October offensive within the triangle of Shanghai, Nanking and Hangchow in eastern China with the recapture of Siaofeng. More than 1,200 Japanese were killed and remnants were forced to retreat.

At the same time the hard-slugging American Air force of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault put the punch of its four-engined bombers behind the Chinese counteroffensive against 30,000 of Nippon's troops who tried to forestall a Burma road drive in far western Unnan province.

Burma Road Base Pounded

A communique from Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said the heavy bombers plastered Lungling, Japan's Burma road base, with explosions and fires and shot down at least eight Zeroes out of 16 which attacked. Two more probably were destroyed and two more damaged in 80 minutes of battling.

The Chinese said Siaofeng, 35 miles northwest of Hangchow, was recaptured after heights to the east, south and west had been occupied and 1,200 Japanese annihilated by a ring of artillery fire.

A spokesman said the Japanese were quitting Kwangteh, 85 miles southeast of Nanking, and villages near Hsuancheng, the two remaining advanced bases which the Japanese took over at the beginning of their Oct. 1 offensive in an effort to safeguard Nanking and protect their communications in the big city triangle of eastern China.

Realize Critical Situation

The spokesman described the reported suicide of Seigo Nakano, fire-eating pro-Fascist of the Japanese Diet, as evidence that the Japanese people are beginning to learn they are faced with a critical war situation.

Nakano, a leading advocate of war on the United States and Britain, was believed to have cut his throat on receiving information at the session of the Diet which convinced him Japan is doomed.

(Tokyo broadcasts today said the Diet concluded its session after rubber stamping 14 measures "for the destruction of our long standing enemies." The bills advanced the upper age limit for military conscription, provided for evacuation of industries from areas endangered by air attack, "streamlined" judicial processes, and strengthened price control.)

U. S. Subs Sink Ten Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — American submarines cruising the Pacific, have sunk 10 enemy vessels and damaged four others.

The figures, contained in a communique issued at Secretary Knox's press conference, brought to 474 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged.

Knox also announced that improvement in the submarine situation in the Atlantic has made it possible to discontinue plans for construction of 427 vessels which have been used in anti-submarine work and to use the construction facilities thus released to build vessels for amphibious operations throughout the world.

Vessels Canceled

The vessels on which plans for construction were canceled included 305 destroyer escorts; sixty 180-foot escorts originally designed as mine sweepers; fifty 173-foot patrol craft and twelve 110-foot submarine chasers.

Knox emphasized that actual construction had not been started on any of the ships and said the change was "just cancelling the program."

The Navy secretary also announced that with increasing ac-

Domestic Sizes Of Coal Frozen Again

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — To assure supplies of heating fuel for communities on a basis of need, the solid fuels administration for war today ordered the freezing of domestic sizes of bituminous and anthracite coal in cars at the mine pending distribution orders.

The order does not apply to coal in transit or on main railroad lines, but it prohibits shipment from the mine of all anthracite sizes larger than barley and all bituminous double-screen and prepared sizes.

Officials said the order should produce almost immediately a pool of a million tons of bituminous and 150,000 tons of anthracite. The order carried no terminal date.

Gloria Sadler Allen Is Trouper To Last As She Dies In Childbirth At Sweetwater

IT WASN'T always easy, back yonder when Harley and Billie Sadler were sort of getting started on a stock show career that later was to become a West Texas epic.

Going from place to place, pitching a tent and acting out melodramas and comedies was a grind known peculiarly to people in the show business. Sometimes energy would be low—and characterizations would be affected.

They Found The Remedy

The audience naturally would notice.

There was something the Sadlers could do, however, to melt the apathy of any audience—and frequently, they resorted to that resource.

Out of the wings and onto the shakey boards would appear a chubby little girl with great big eyes. At first she'd have to toddle—she wasn't but 2 when she began gazing over the footlights. Later she would come tripping out with the assurance of a seasoned trooper. The "big words" Papa and Mama taught her wouldn't exactly come out right every time, you understand, but the audiences loved it.

Beautiful Young Woman

Over the period from those early days of about 18 years back, Gloria Louise, only child of the Sadlers, gradually was transformed from a baby to a young woman of wondrous beauty.

"Startling beauty," her friends had a habit of saying.

Her press notices were peppered with superlatives.

It almost could be said that she,

TRY WALKING

FRESH air is one of the best tonics you can take. Too many of us who work indoors all day are inclined to duck over to the nearest restaurant for lunch and then spend the rest of the time reading or shopping or "just looking." Even the hours after work we spend indoors at home, in the movies or visiting friends.

If an actual clocking of the time you spent outdoors were made, many wouldn't average more than a half-hour a day.

Why not to resolve to spend a little more time out of doors? A brisk two-mile walk can be broken up by doing part of it on the way to work, at lunchtime or on the way home or after dinner. You'll be delighted to discover it will kill off those fatigue germs which cause that let-down feeling you suffer at the end of the day.

THIS letter, which is supposed to have been written by a soldier serving on Guadalcanal and sent to his family, may or may not be an actual letter. Whatever its origin, it is thought provoking.

Dear Family.

It is pleasant to hear from you after such a long period of time, but it is unpleasant to learn of your changed condition of living, which I can more readily understand from the change of my own condition.

It is too bad that you are limited in the use of your automobile. I know how it is to walk through miles and miles of swamp and jungle, so I understand.

It is too bad to have your choice of food limited. I have experienced this too, except there is no choice here, so I understand.

It is too bad that Willie has such little time for amusement. I am deprived of my amusement too, so I understand.

It is too bad that you have to wait in the rain for transportation. I have to wait in the rain on my post, and my transportation is uncertain, too, so I understand.

It is too bad that you are being paid so little for working so hard. I get only a fraction of your pay, so I understand.

Winning this war is hard on all of us. You work long hours and so do I, so I understand, but during those hours I get shot at. Do you?

MIND YOUR MANNERS

TEST your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. In speaking of a woman's age is it good manners to say, "She'll never see 50 again"?
2. In describing a woman would it be better to say, "She is fat" or "She is a rather large woman"?
3. Should you try to keep your descriptive phrases from being unkind like referring to a small man as a "little shrimp"?
4. Should you ever speak of children as brats?
5. Should you speak disparagingly of a man because he is "4F"?

What you you do if—

You bring in the morning mail and there is a post card for another member of your family—

(a) Read it, feeling that a post card is everybody's business?
(b) Don't read it, any more than you would read a letter addressed to someone else?

Answers

1. No. Say: "She must be in her fifties." Or, "She must be past 50." The other sounds both crude and cruel.

The presentation featured the second day of the convention of representatives of the civilian flying school which operate under contract to the AAF training command.

Gen. Yount said that the accident rate per 1,000 hours of flying time in the western states is less than it was in 1939, when there were only nine civilian flying schools.

Danger Signals In Nazi Morale Seen

By LOUIS P. KEEMLE
United Press War Analyst

The belief that morale in Germany has been undermined by continuing defeats in southern Russia and by Allied bombing of the Reich appears to be amply jusified.

Any idea that there is an early prospect of a Germon collapse, as in 1918, or that Hitler's government will cave in like Mussolini's, would be dangerous thinking.

Danger Signals Seen

The fact that responsible Nazi quarters, including Dr. Goebbels in his newspaper Das Reich, are giving out with gloomy forebodings, is in itself a danger signal. These pessimistic reports, figures on air raid, casualties, etc., are being permitted to come out of the Reich through neutral capitals. It is safe to conclude that they are being permitted for a reason.

One purpose might be to spread false optimism in Allied countries, with the idea of encouraging a slackening of the war pressure. Perhaps the Germans think they can encourage delay in opening the front in western Europe if they make it appear that Germany will collapse without it.

People Might Give Up

Internally, the Nazi leaders migut be trying to whip up the flagging morale of the people through fear. It is about the only weapon they have left. Now that their hope of victory is gone, fear of the consequences of defeat might spuf the Germans to keep on resisting.

Otherwise, it is possible that the people themselves might be willing to give up if they could shake off their Nazi rulers. That is highly improbable, however.

Means Utter Destruction

Every semblance of an organization has been ruthlessly stamped out. The Gestapo rules with an iron hand and anyone who dares raise his voice is shot. It is quite different from 1918, when parties and organizations still existed, and it was possible to turn against the Kaiser and his accomplices.

That leaves only the Nazi gang to seek terms, but it means unconditional surrender and their own utter destruction. Britain and the United States have made their position abundantly clear.

Neither can the Nazis expect terms in a separate peace with Russia. The Soviet Union has not demanded unconditional surrender as far as the German people are concerned, but it has stated that it will not permit the survival of the present ruling clique in Germany. It is unlikely the Kremlin could be fooled by any false "front" which would only appear to have discarded the Nazis.

Protection For Rome Is Sought

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 29. (AP)—A group of Rome civilians, with the reported approval of Pope Pius, has suggested the declaration of the Italian Capital as a neutral "Holy City" under the supervision of an non-political 11-man commission and a neutral Swiss delegation, the Swiss telegraphic agency said today in a dispatch from Rome.

The plan, based on the Lateran pact which recognizes Vatican City as neutral and inviolate, would extend that neutrality to a radius of 12 miles from the hub of Vatican City.

High Roman personalities were said to have asked the Swiss government to name a delegation which would assure the removal of any military installation from the proposed territory.

(Dispatches to Stockholm newspapers said the Vatican had again inquired of the German and Allied governments concerning the possibility of preventing Rome from becoming a battlefield and imperiling cultural monuments.)

FDR Still Finds Time For Personal Touch

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — With all his wartime duties President Roosevelt still finds time for the personal touch.

The morning mail brought this note from the President to Senator Hattie Caraway (D-Ark).

"Dear Hattie:

"For the last three days I have been signing bills bearing your signature as 'acting president of the Senate pro tempore'—and I may say that I have not vetoed a single one of them! I just wanted to let you know that I am delighted that you have been thus serving."

Mrs. Caraway had signed the bills during absence of both Vice-President Wallace and ailing Senator Carter Glass (D-Va), the regular president pro tempore. It was the first time a woman had so acted.

RAF Typhoons Lash Airdrome At Brest

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP)—Ranging out on a trip of more than 300 miles, RAF Typhoon bombers, covered by Typhoon fighters, bombed the Guipaves airdrome at Breast in France today without loss of a plane, the air ministry said.

The fast little bombers, after planting explosives on hangars and runways, swung home by way of Ushant (Ouesant) island, seeking targets for their cannon, but encountered neither enemy planes nor ships.

While this was not a record run for Typoons it was longer than most of their sallies and indicated their availability for aiding in operations up to 150 miles or more from Britain's coasts.

MODERN ROBIN HOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Office of War information, quoting a Bern dispatch in the Swedish newspaper Aftontidningen, said today the French patriots, acting in the manner of Robin Hood, frequently stop Germany-bound freight trains and distribute the merchandise to residents of the surrounding countryside.

Increase Noted In Crude Stocks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—The bureau of mines reported today that stocks of domestic and foreign curde petroleum totaled 235,998,000 barrels on Oct. 23, a net increase of 2,001,000 barrels for the week. Domestic crude increased 1,949,000 barrels; foreign curde increased 52,000.

Daily average production was 4,410,000 barrels, a decrease of 2,000. Runs to stills averaged 4,160,000, a decrease of 11,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels):

Northern Louisiana 4,557, inc. 91; Gulf Coast Louisiana 9,312, inc. 9; Oklahoma 34,782, Dec. 44; East Texas 22,411, inc. 192; West Texas 23, 961; inc. 593; Gulf Texas 31,995, inc. 860; other Texas 26,255, Dec. 94.

Production Declines

Production of crude petroleum in 1942 amounted to 1,386,645,000 barrels, a decline of one per cent from 1941, the bureau of mines said in its final summary of petroleum products for last year.

On the other hand, crude runs to stills declined more than five per cent, totaling 1,334,103,000 barrels. The relatively greater curtailment in refinery operations was due to a decline in the total demand for all oils and an abnormal reduction of 47 million barrels in stocks of refined oils.

Principal gains in production were in California, which turned out 18 million barrels more than in 1941.

Production declined 22 million in Texas and 14 million in Oklahoma.

Cooperation Is Urged In Reclamation Work

DENVER, Oct. 29. (AP)—Governor M. Q. Sharpe of South Dakota, chairman of the Missouri River States committee, today asked the support of the National Reclamation association in "securing intelligent planning and cooperation in reclamation work by federal construction agencies."

Speaking before the association's annual convention, Governor Sharpe said:

"The committee is dedicated to adjusting all the federal agencies difference of opinion with the ultimate idea of eliminating duplication of effort and expense by the crops of army engineers, the bureau of reclamation and the department of agriculture."

The governor, discussing a proposal for development of the Missouri river basin, said "we hope to stimulate aggressive action and influence by the states and all interested parties to bring about actual construction of the valley-wide project."

University Of Texas Cotton Investigator Dies Of Heart Attack

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29. (U.P.) — Dr. Glenn Warren Goldsmith, 56, director of a cotton investigation and research project at the University of Texas, died about midnight after a heart attack.

The project upon which he was at work here was financed by Benjamin Clayton of Houoston. Its objective was development of new strains of cotton, and development of a parasite that would effectively combat the cotton boll weevil. Significant progress had been made in his work, university offices said today.

Born in Hutchenson, Minn., Dr. Goldsmith held degrees from the University of Minnesota and the University of Nebraska. Before coming to the University of Texas he was on the faculties of Southwestern Luoisiana Institute, Tulane University, Texas A. & M. college and of the Carnegie Institute at Colorado Springs, Colo.

His widow survives.

Graduation At LAAF Set For Wednesday

Men from all walks of life will receive their wings at Lubbock Army Air field next Wednesday when a large class of aviation cadets will graduate at 10 a. m. in the post theater.

Preceeding the exercises the LAAF band will give a short concert, directed by Warrant Officer George P. Attridge.

Included in the class are men from every section of the nation, who are eager to get into action against the enemy. They were in many occupations prior to entering the Air Forces, one was a United Press staff correspondent, another a professional roller skater while a third was a showman who travelled all over central United States.

One member of the class was on hand when the Japs bombed Dutch Harbor, and manned a machinegun in an attempt to stem the attack. Another member of the class got his first taste of being a pilot when he "swiped my father's airplane and tried to take off without the wings on the plane, resulting in my first ground loop — and I hope my last."

Also in the class are several Student Officers who will receive their wings.

American Families Save On Victory Food

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—Victory gardeners whittled at least $1,250,000,000 from the country's total food bill this year, the American institute of food distribution estimated today.

The non-profit research agency said the saving represented an average of about $30 for every family in America—city dwellers and suburbanites alike—and called the estimate "conservative," adding that actually the amount might be considerably higher.

City inhabitants—with fewer gardens—benefited because those in outlying districts, if they had not turned to the hoe, would have created additional demand for vegetables and fruit—thus bidding up prices generally.

Striking Japs Silent, Sullen

TULE LAKE, Cal., Oct. 29. (U.P.) —Two thousand Japanese, who apparently have entered into a pact of silence under the leadership of skilled strike organizers, refused to work in the vegetable fields today at the War Relocation authority's segregation center for disloyal internees.

Silent and sullen, they lounged about their quarters while a strong detachment of Army troops and WRA internal police redoubled their vigilance to prevent any possible outbreak.

Adult Men Involved

WRA spokesmen said only the adult men — about 2,000 of the camp's 15,000 population—were involved in the work stoppage, now entering its third week. The sit-down was revealed yesterday at San Francisco by R. B. Cozzens, field assistant director of WRA.

Many of the internees' wives and children, born and educated in the United States, did not join in the demonstration. The WRA regarded a large number of wives, sons and daughters as "loyal" and unsympathetic with the strike.

When admittedly disloyal Japanese were segregated in other camps and transferred to Tule Lake, their families were sent with them.

C. Brookshier, acting county farm agent. A Lubbock county youth, Henry Kveton, 16-year-old member of the New Deal club, was among the winners.

Eight club boys of this area were among the 19 winners for the state. They were determined on the basis of work accomplished during the past year.

The congress has been set for Nov. 28 to Dec. 2.

Other area winners were announced as: Sherman Famuliner, 20, Morton; Edward Bennett, 18, Hart; Leon Grisson, 17, Farwell; Jackie Gene Brock, 14, Floydada; Billy Joe Snodgrass, 15, Tokio; Udell Adams, 17, Tulia, and Alvin G. Davis, 15, Post.

Kveton's demonstrations this year have been on hogs and grain sorghums. A member of the New Deal club since the age of nine, the county youth has sold over $2,500 worth of hogs in the past eight years. He is a registered hog breeder and is the only 4-H club youth who is a charter member of the South Plains Poland China Breeders association. His work with grain sorghums has been equally outstanding, said Brookshier.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kveton.

Italians Apathetic Toward Badoglio

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Reynolds Packard, manager of the former Rome bureau of the United Press, went into Naples with Allied armies and has been in contact with Italian political figures. In the following dispatch he draws on his background in Italian affairs to give a picture of current Italian politics).

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press Staff Writer

NAPLES, Oct. 29—Neapolitans appear apathetic toward politics but there seems to be little or no enthusiasm among them for the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

Badoglio and his cabinet are accepted merely as a stop-gap for the emergency. In fact, nowhere has a political leader appeared capable of rallying the Italians around him. There are no political figures to play the role De Gaulle played for the French. And the major military figure is Badoglio.

Sforza In Background

Count Carlo Sforza, returned from America, has aroused the imagination of some Italians but so war he has kept in the background, almost as if he as waiting for King Victor Emmanuel to depart from the scene.

Sforza reportedly was disappointed by his conversations with Badoglio and, according to his followers in Napes, he is willing to work with him only if the breaks his attachment to the royal house —which Badoglio will never do.

Benedetto Croce, prominent in university life and a powerful influence with the people, told me that at 77 he has neither the strength nor the inclination to attempt to lead the people politically.

Most Italians with whom I have talked admit they are tired of war and are not anxious at this point to involve themselves in politics.

Italians say that "who holds Rome holds the heart of the Italian people." The feeling that any government is temporary may persist until the capital is in Allied hands. Until then, too, the people may be skeptical of any genuine political parties being developed.

Six Parties Established

Six parties have been established in Naples and the Naples area since the Germans were ousted all six have been recognized by Badoglio's regime. They are the Liberal party, the Christian Democrats, Labor Democrats, Socialists, Communists and Party Action.

The largest and most influential is the Christian Democratic group, whose principles are based on Catholisism. The Liberals come next and Labor Democrats third—the latter a sort of center group favoring the monarchy.

The other three are leftist and anti-monarchist. The Communist party, although arousing considerable interest, hasn't expanded in numbers very much.

Nazis Condemn Czech Patriots In Moravia

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP) — The Germans have condemned 519 Czech patriots in the Moravian town of Olomouc (Olmuetz), the Czechoslovakian information bureau said today.

All were sentenced to death for "acts of terror and sabotage" in the important rail junctions. A number of other Czechs were reported put to death on charges of "being harmful to the German nation."

The mass death sentences by drumhead Nazi courts indicated a general uprising of patriots in the town of 65,000, once recognized as the capital of Moravia.

Quinine Gathered Up From Store Stocks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — Voluntary contributions from family medicine chests and from druggists' shelves have created a new stockpile of hard-to-get quinine, as important as bullets in the Pacific war zones.

The American Pharmaceutical association announced today that approximately 150,000 ounces of quinine — enough for six and a half million doses—had been contributed to a national pool hastily gathered after Japanese conquests cut off 90 per cent of our former supply from the Far East. Quinine is the only sure foe of malaria.

The Association, which started the pool last February, in cooperation with the defense supplies corporation, said approximately 18,000 donors had responded to the call.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.(AP) —A message from Pope Pius XII was read today as the University of Notre Dame celebrated its centennial commencement.

Pope Pius, recalling his visit to Notre Dame as Cardinal Pacelli in 1936, praised the university's training which, he said, "does not leave the sons of Notre Dame wanting in loyal patritoism."

Cadet Charged In Wife's Death

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—In six action-packed hours, Wayne Lonergan was paraded in police lineup today, arraigned in homicide court, and then indicted on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of his wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan, 22-year-old heiress to millions.

Shortly after the grand jury acted, the prisoner informed General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein that he was destitute and signed the equivalent of a pauper's oath to clear the way for the court to assign him an attorney. The jurist fixed next Thursday to hear a plea to the indictment.

Left Out Of Will

Police said Lonergan told them his wife had left him out of her will and that he knew it four months ago.

Coincident with the indictment, police disclosed that three hours after Mrs. Lonergan was slain Sunday in her home in the fashionable Beekman Hill section, the 26-year-old Royal Canadian Airforce cadet returned to the building and left a toy elephant in the hallway as a gift for his 18-months-old son.

The tall Canadian already had related in a confession, according to police version, that he slew his wife in a rage over her refusal to permit him ever to see his son again.

Police also disclosed that the RCAF cadet said he tore and ripped his uniform to shreds with scissors in the apartment of a friend after he was unable to remove blood stains. Grapplers still were searching tonight for the garments in the East River, where Lonergan said he threw it.

Meek At Hearing

In homicide court, he stood with hands clasped behind him and looked straight ahead as Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet charged him with "the brutal and unprovoked killing of his wife."

Lonergan replied in a polite whisper when Magistrate Charles Ramsgate asked when he wanted a date set for a further hearing.

"Any day, sir," the prisoner said.

The magistrate fixed next Tuesday as the time, but the subsequent indictment removed the case from his jurisdiction.

Cattle Sold On Right Day Will Bring More

CHICAGO, Oct. 29. (AP)—Traders in the livestock market were convinced today that the newly announced cattle floors and ceilings, now scheduled to go into effect December 1, are not exactly the rigid daily limitations on prices which they first appeared to be.

After studying the official directive of Fred M. Vinson, head of the Office of Economic Stabilization, livestock interests were certain prices on any given day could be above the ceilings or below the floors without any penalty of a deduction in subsidy payments to packers.

This is an important point for producers. It means they can get more than $16 a hundred pounds, the ceiling at Chicago, for their cattle if they market the cattle on a day when the demand is strong and the supply light.

Stores Swamped By Hoax By Railroader

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 29. (AP)—A hoax which hunters say was perpetrated by a railroad man, swamped sporting goods stores under inquiries today about "the several carloads of shotgun shells" reported to have arrived this week for sale.

Most of the hunters claimed they had "confidential" information from a railroad man.

Rubber Production In Brazil Mounts

RIO DE JANIERO, Oct. 29. (AP) —With shipments of Brazilian rubber up 30 per cent and Bolivian production more than doubling last year's 18 months of joint American efforts to whip the tough Amazon country into getting wartime rubber on the way is paying off this year.

This seems to be the consensus of a group of United States newspapermen who arrived in this city yesterday after three weeks and thousands of miles of touring the rubber back-country of Brazil and Bolivia by plane, river launch, truck and horseback.

Even so, the full force and effect of results of the rubber development corporation five-year program will not be felt until 1944, said President Douglas Allen, who greeted the travelers. Allen predicted that the 1944 production probably would be greater than any in the history of the Amazon, including the "hey-day" early 1900's.

Russia And Bombings Main Nazi Trouble

LONDON, Oct. 29. (AP) — Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, told the German people today that Soviet Russia was "the real danger of this war," but that as far as the home front was concerned Allied bombings "represents the lion's share of our troubles."

Goebbels made the statements in a Das Reich article quoted by the Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

Allied propaganda, he said, had set Nov. 11 as the day of Germany's collapse—but "the enemy's mind is still dwelling on the realities of the first world war and is therefore disinclined to believe that today he is facing totally different people."

German-Jap Spooning Is Mystery To Chief

DENVER, Oct. 29. (AP)—Major W. L. Wolcott, chief of the Prisoners of War branch of the Seventh Service Command, says Army officials are at loss to explain how German prisoners of war in a camp at Trinidad, Colo., found it possible to "spoon" with Japanese-American girls in the area.

"I know very little more about it than you do, but you can be assured, however, that everything necessary is being done," he said in an interview with the Denver Post, whose publication of snapshots showing Japanese women and Nazi prisoners in amorous embrace prompted an F.B.I. investigation of the Trinidad matter.

ACTOR DISCHARGED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29. (AP) — Cpl. Alan Ladd, screen actor, today received an honorable discharge from the Army Air forces because of a stomach disorder presently complicated by influenza. Ladd's studio announced he had received the discharge at a Santa Barbara military hospital. He has been in the air forces 10 months.

Defense Fights Print Evidence

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 29. (AP) —Alfred De Marigny's defense corps struck new blows today at exhibit J—the vital fingerprint which may decide the outcome of his trial for the murder of Sir Harry Oakes.

But first chief counsel Godfrey S. Higgs sought skillfully to suggest that sunburn, and not the flames with which an attacker tried to destroy Sir Harry's bludgeoned body, might have caused singed and curled hairs reported found on the accused son-in-law's arms and hands after the slaying.

Spectators Stir

"Nobody told you he was a yachtsman?" inquired Higgs of Capt. James O. Barker, Miami police officer who told during a lengthy cross-examination of finding the burned hairs July 8, the day the millionaire's death was discovered.

Spectators stirred with suppressed excitement as Higgs suddenly shifted to another attack on the fingerprint, planned during a night conference of defense strategists—private Detective Raymond C. Schindler, investigator Leonarde Keeler, fingerprint expert Maurice B. O'Neil of the New Orleans police, attorney Max Spelke, Higgs himself and associate counsel W. E. A. Callender.

Barker had testified he lifted the fingerprint in evidence from a bedscreen in the death room.

Technicality Of Print

When prints are lifted, Higgs asked, wouldn't grooves or irregularities in the surface be shown on the adhesive rubber or scotch tape used?

The investigator could show them if he wished, Barker conceded.

Higgs previously had attempted to have the evidence thrown out because the print was lifted and no signs now remain on the screen for the jury to view.

He also questioned Barker's qualifications as an expert.

Federal Judge Steps Into OPA Squabble

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Federal Judge W. H. Atwell today stepped into the middle of an OPA-businessman squabble and handed each of them an injunction.

He enjoined W. J. Holt, Office of Price Administration attorney, and six investigators of his staff from 'proclaiming the illegality of (S. Lee.) Garland's business to potential customers ro to the public; and from unreasonable inquiries and espionage and statements around Garland's place of business."

He enjoined Garland, travel bureau operator, from "knowingly dealing with any driver who uses rations or certificates for gasoline or tires illegally, and from interfering with such orderly and reasonable investigation of drivers by investigators of the OPA."

Training Command To Get Own Graduates

FORT WORTH, Oct. 29. (AP) — For the first time since establishing its women's flying training detachment, the AAF Training command soon will receive three consignments of WASPS (women Army Service Pilots) graduates of its own school at Avenger field, Sweetwater, Tex.

Two classes of WASPS, scheduled to be graduated Nov. 13 and Dec. 18, will be assigned immediately to the three Flying Training commands. An additional 18 WASPS, also alumni of Avenger field and currently on duty with the Air Transport command, will be transferred to the training command.

Training command officers expressed the opinion that the Flying Training commands probably would order the women to pilot, bombardier, navigator and gunnery schools for various types of flying duty.

Mental Hospital Is Hiring Patients To Ease Labor Problem

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 29. (AP)—What manpower problem? asks Dr. D. W. Griffin, superintendent of central state hospital for the mentally ill.

He simply hires his patients.

And both the institution and its inmates benefit, he acknowledges with pardonable crime.

Fifty-four men and women described as marginal cases are going about their full-time duties at the hospital, filling with credit positions vacated when normal employes were attracted by higher salaries at two nearby naval bases.

In addition to saving the institution, Dr. Griffin reports, the plan has given a tremendous lift to the morale of the employed patients, many of whom are drawing their first pay checks they ever received.

The superintendent said there had not been a single instance of trouble resulting from employment of the patients and only three have been relieved of their duties.

Do You Want A Bet On Coffee Rationing?

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29. (AP)—Want to make a little wager? George C. Thierbach, president of the National Coffee association, declared today:

"So firm is the conviction of our association that coffee rationing will not return we are willing to contribute $5,000 to the USO if it is rationed again at any time during this war."

Goebbels Hoots Idea Of German Collapse

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP) — Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda chief, says the Allies have set Nov. 11—Armistice Day—as the time for Germany's collapse, but in a broadcast for domestic consumption he asserted he saw no signs of it.

The Berlin radio, giving a review last night of an article by Goebbels in Das Reich, quoted him as saying that "in Germany opposition to the war does not exist and divergences between the party and armed forces exist only in the imagination of the enemies of the Reich."

To transport 1,000,000 soldiers overseas requires 400 troopships and more htan 700 cargo vessels.

Kidney Trouble
The function of the kidneys is to filter uric acids, urates, and poisons from the blood stream. Many times this filtering process does not work to the extent of clearing the blood of poisons and a toxic blood stream follows with rheumatism, neuritis and other aches and pains. On the other hand if this process is to lax red blood cells find their way out through the kidneys which we term hemituria. When a kidney fails to function it is called a dead kidney. All functions and actions are controlled by the nerves. A chiropractor recognizes this fact and kidney trouble is easily handled when the cause is adjusted.

Westerners-Harvesters Set For Schoolboy Battle Here

The chips will be down this afternoon at Tech Stadium as the Lubbock Westerners blast the lid off the District One gridiron race with the Pampa Harvesters on hand to defend their present co-leadership in the conference race along with the favored Amarillo Golden Sandies.

Lubbock is the last team in the conference to open the conference race, with Pampa and Amarillo winning conference openers last week over the Brownfield Cubs and Plainview Bulldogs, respectively.

Throughout the rest of the district, the powerful Harvesters, spearheaded by Charles Boyles, have been established as favorites over the Westerners in the game today.

Goober Keyes Here

But the Lubbock lads will have a special incentive for play this afternoon for in the stands will be J. G. "Goober" Keyes, former grid mentor here before joining the Army. Keyes is now Lt. Keyes, stationed at Pampa Army Air Field. Keyes came to Lubbock for a visit and to attend the game Saturday.

The Harvesters arrived in Lubbock Friday afternoon and took a limbering up workout at Texas Tech stadium, site of the battle this afternoon. They spent the night at the Hilton hotel.

Coach Otis Coffey brought a squad of 36 boys to Lubbock and two student managers.

Coffey said Friday afternoon that the team would be somewhat crippled for the game with the Westerners. Both regular tackles, Turner and Noblett, will see very little, if any, action in the game, and one regular backfield ace, Manry will also be missing from the lineup.

Cripples Ready

On the other hand, the Westerners will be in top shape for the game, and cripples who have been out of the lineup for several games will be back for this game and ready for the call. It has been several weeks since Jim Strawn, tackle and co-captain, has been named as a starter.

Ready for action, but not listed as starters will be Roy Grimes, George Brewer and Burl Moore who have been benched with injuries.

The Westerners also took a brief warmup Friday afternoon at Chapman Field. The tuneup consisted of tossing a few passes and brushing up on the kicking of the club. Punts, kickoffs and extra point kicking was stressed before the boys were dismissed early.

Other guests of the Westerners at the game today will be the Amarillo Sandies, co-leaders of the district race with Pampa, and favored to go far in the state race by critics over Texas. The Sandies are also listed in the Texas schoolboy "Four Horsemen," comprised of Amarillo, San Angelo, Austin and Lufkin that sports writers over Texas have picked as the four greatest grid machines in the Texas Interscholastic league.

In games played this season by the two teams of today's battle, the Harvesters have won three out of five games while Lubbock has won four out of five.

Pampa dropped two games to strong Oklahoma schools, losing to Hollis and Lawton, the latter rated one of the greatest in Oklahoma grid history, while winning from Weatherford. Against Texas foes, Pampa is undefeated with wins over Phillips and he conference win over Brownfield.

Lubbock upset Odessa in the season's opener, were trampled by San Angelo, then came back to win over Big Spring, Lamesa and Temple in order.

Spur Bulldogs Romp Over Lockney, 44 To 6

SPUR, Oct. 29 (Special)—The Spur Bulldogs clicked off a 44-to-6 victory over the Lockney Longhorns here tonight to remain in the thick of the scrap for the District 4A championship.

Wilburn Ball paced the Bulldogs to the victory, scoring three of the touchdowns and converting one extra point. He scored the first touchdown the first time Spur had the ball and scored twice more in the second period.

Gammon crowned him for scoring honors, scoring touchdowns in the first and third quarter. Reserves took over the third period and Rumfield raced 15 yards for the final score in the fourth quarter.

The Lockney score, that tied the count at 6-6 early in the first period came as Norman took a pass from Meyers to race 66 yards for the goal line.

Spur held an advantage of 18 to 5 in first and tens.

Tulsa Might Get Big Test Against Pirates

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 29. (AP) — Tulsa's Golden Hurricane, shooting for its second all-victorious season and its third bowl bid in a row, faces Southwestern's Big Marine crew from Georgetown Saturday in Skelly Stadium.

A victory for Tulsa, currently the nation's 13th ranking team, would mark the Hurricane as the top football power of the southwest and a capacity crowd of 16,000 was expected to turn out.

The game loomed as a contest between the aerial might of Tulsa's all-civilian club and the rugged running offensive of Southwestern's collection of former stars from Texas, Baylor, Rice and Texas Christian.

Both teams were weakened by injuries. Tulsa will operate without Al Kowalski, 210-pound blocking back, and Jimmy Ford, its fastest runner and No. 1 punter.

Coach R. M. Medley of Southwestern reported that three of his starting backs—Jackie Field, Bo Robinson and Ken Matthews—were crippled and would not make the trip.

Tulsa will rely on the pitching arms of Clyde Leforce and Red Wade to propel the Hurricane over the 203-pound Southwestern line. If the Hurricane finds it can move along the ground, big fullbacks Camp Wilson and Allen Smith will do most of the lugging.

Southwest Conference Games Offer Colorful Grid Slate Saturday

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Coming in on spirit and a prayer, Southern Methodist puts everything on the line against mighty Texas Saturday in its bid for the Southwest Conference football championship.

There'll be some faces missing next week when the service takes several Mustang mainstays but S. M. U. will present probably its strongest front of the season for this one game.

Texas, too, will be at its height—and that's why S. M. U is given its leanest chance of the modern football era against a Longhorn eleven.

Although Texas A. and M. is one of the few unbeaten teams in Southwestern and Southern football for the half-grown 1943 campaign, there is more than a sneaking idea going the rounds of the Ozark hills that an inexperienced Arkansas squad may surprise the Cadets on homecoming Saturday.

That the idea is getting around is evidenced by a steady demand for tickets to the annual classic. Razorback athletic officials reported that the advance sale is ahead of 1942.

The Razorbacks were idle last week, following cancellation of the Naval Air Technical Training Center game in Memphis, and are believed ready for their best efforts of the season. They will miss two big backs, Ewel Thompson and Nathan Hudson, who have been called by the Air Corps.

Coach John F. (Bud) Tomlin watched the Aggies in their scoreless draw with North Texas Aggies last week and is confident his youngsters have a chance against Homer Norton's team

An estimated 20,000 fans will see the gridiron version of an ancient problem here Saturday night when an "irresistible force"—Louisiana State's Steve Van Buren—meets the "immovable object" of Texas Christian's line.

"Moving Van" Buren, leading collegiate scorer for the nation as well as for the Tigers, will attempt to blast his 200 pounds through the Horned Frog wall for at least LSU's first touchdown against a Fort Worth team in four games.

The Bengals will field against the visitors practically the same teammates that have helped the big back pile up yardage for victories this season over all but one foe, with the exception of injuried blocking back Charley Barney and tackle Joe Hartley.

Plainview Roars Over Brownfield Cubs, 19-0

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 29. (Special)—The Plainview Bulldogs battled up to the .500 mark in the District One grid race here Friday night by winning 19 to 0 over the Brownfield Cubs in a conference battle.

Early in the first period, Farris sweapt around his own right end for 25 yards to the Cub 10, and on the next play skirted the other terminal for the touchdown.

The two teams then locked up in a punting duel for the rest of the half with Plainview getting a little the best of the duel. Plainview offered the only other scoring threat in the first half during the second period when William passed to Horn for 40 yards to the Cub 20. McCarroll then romped to the 10, but on the next play, Plainview fumbled and the threat was killed.

In the third period, the punting duel resumed, but midway in the frame Jack Williams intercepted a Cub pass and raced 50 yards for the touchdown.

Plainview again struck from midfield in the last quarter for the final touchdown as Williams rifled a 30 yard pass to Horn who took the ball on the Cub 20 and scooted for the goal line.

Billy Greenfield, Brownfield back, was the outstanding player on the field, and stood out both on the offense and defense.

Farris and Horn were also outstanding for Plainview with Winkles playing a great game at tackle in the place of Reddell, the Plainview star stricken recently with infantile paralysis.

Rice Aerial Attack Ready To Be Used Against Tech

HOUSTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — Still seeking their first triumph of the season, Coach Jess Neely's Rice Owls had an aerial attack primed for their game with Coach Dell Morgan's Texas Tech Red Raiders Saturday afternoon. Kickoff is at 3 p. m. and a crowd of about 6,000 is expected.

The contests the Owls haven't been able to hold the ball enough to do much passing. The opportunity may come Saturday, because Tech, while a slight favorite, lacks a line as stout as Rice encountered in the Tulane and Texas games.

In most quarters Tech was a six point favorite. The Red Raiders have won two out of six contests, both from Army teams. Rice, in dropping five straight, has faced stronger opponents.

When the Red Raiders clash with the Owls at Houston, the Owls would be wise to plan their defense against Bob Brewer of Lubbock and Buster Melton of Merkel.

Bob Brewer, on rushing, is the leading ground gainer for the Red Raiders and Buster Melton plays the role of second best man.

Brewer, the regular right halfback, has carried the ball 43 times in five games, gained a yardage of 142 and has lost only six yards for a net yardage gain of 136.

Melton, who has been switched in as the starting fullback, has carried the ball 51 times, his yardage gain is 173 and yardage loss is 43, giving him a yardage gain of 130, six yards behind Brewer.

Arthur Winkler, a fullback, is third in rushing for territory. Winkler has lugged the ball 43 times, gained yardage of 108 and lost yardage of 19 which gives him 89 net yards.

Freddie Brown, regular left halfback, has carried the ball 75 times but comes up fourth in net yards gained. Brown has carried the ball 75 times and totaled a yardage of 187 but in five games, Brown has lost 135 which gives him a net of 52 yards.

In the second LAAF game, Brown carried the ball 13 times, gained 40 yards and lost 40 yards to come out with a zero on ground gained. In the Tulsa university game, Brown carried the ball 17 times and gained rushing 24 yards, but Brown lost 44 yards which gave him a minus of 20 yards.

In passing, Buster Melton is the most successful aerial artist. Buster has tossed 28 passes, completed 11 of them and had one intercepted. With his successful passes Buster has a 173 net yardage. Freddie Brown is second in passing for the Red Raiders. Brown has shot 39 through the ozone, completed 18 of them and had four intercepted. Brown has a net yardage of 146. Bob Brewer has tossed a couple of passes, completed both, for 39 net yards. Joe Thompson throwing one pass in five games, completed for a net yardage of 6.

Sundown Storms Over Wilson For 51-6 Win

SUNDOWN, Oct. 29. (Special)—The Sundown High school six-man football team put a blazing finish on the district 3 race here Friday afternoon, winning 51 to 6 over Wilson. The victory rolled up the season score for Sundown to 246 points to 36 for the opponents.

Benson led the scoring parade for the winners, accounting for four of the touchdowns. Buck scored two tuchdowns and one extra point. The rest of the scoring was accounted for by Matlock and Lambert.

James Nienan was the outstanding star for Wilson, and scored the lone touchdown for his team on a runback of a kickoff in the closing minutes of the game.

SPAAF Gridmen Reach Site Of Battle With Kirtland Field Club

(Special To The Avalanche)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 29.—South Plains Army Air field's football "Winged Commandos" rolled into the city late today and tapered off a week's hard drills with a light workout in preparation for Saturday afternoon's tussle with the star-studdied Kirtland Field team.

With cries of "stop Kimbrough," the SPAAF squad looked over the odds and found themselves on the spot for the tilt. The great Texas Aggie grid star has just about rounded into shape after two weeks' hard practice and should be able to open up against the Commandos.

Although Kirtland has lost two games and won none, the addition of Kimbrough is expected to make the New Mexico eleven plenty rough for the visitors, especially since Kimbrough seems to have enough support to let him catch his breath occasionally.

SPAAF expects to uncork its passing game and pull the blanket on a few hipper dipper maneuvers previously shunted aside in favor of a power game in previous tussles. Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, coach of the SPAAF team, said his boys would be at full strength for the Flying Kellys.

A crowd of 9,000 is expected for the contest which replaces the bitter feud formerly held up by Texas Tech and New Mexico university when the Loboes were coached by the same Capt. Ted Shipkey who now tutors the Kellys. As an added feature, the New Mexico team will be tossing more Texans into the fray than the SPAAF team, Connie Sparks of Texas Christian fame, also getting a starting berth.

The probable starting lineups include:

SPAAF	Pos.	KIRTLAND
Kolka (190)	LE	Bennett (185)

Deer Hunting Should Be Good This Season

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP) — Conditions are generally favorable for good deer hunting in the Texas hill country this season, says Dr. Walter P. Taylor, head of the department of game and fish at Texas A&M college.

Completing a survey of deer pastures in the area, he found that rains had come soon enough to afford plenty of food for game.

Season opens Nov. 16 and closes Dec. 30, except west of the Pecos river, where the closing date is Dec. 15.

Levelland Wins Over Olton By 19-6 Score

LEVELLAND, Oct. 29 (Special) In a game that had been heralded as a duel between Seth Murphy for the Levelland Lobos and James Franks of the Olton Mustangs, the Lobos won a District 5A grid battle 19 to 6.

Murphy carried over two of the three touchdowns, romping 18 yards for the first score in the first period and in the third quarter he took a pass from Barley to romp 30 yards for his second six-pointer. Houser scored the third touchdown in the second period on a 19-yard run.

But Franks lived up to his advance notices and scored in the third period for Olton, romping 23 yards as a climax to six straight times to carry the mail.

The play of Charles Balew and Bill Tibbets in the Lobo line featured the game.

First downs were even, 11 to 11, but the Lobos packed an advantage in penetrations with four to one for Olton.

Lubbock Army Air field's improving football team gets a thorough test tonight in their meeting with the Zoomers of the Norman, Okla., Naval Air station. The game, on the turf of Texas Tech stadium, will start at 8:15 o'clock.

It is expected that LAAF's Roger Smith and Buster Dixon will have a bit of a duel with the Zoomer's R. Coble, former star at Southwestern university. Dixon's foot injury is completely healed and he is ready to step again in his early season form.

The Fliers will have F. L. Eicke, an ambitious youngster, at guard in place of Vance B. Cotten, jr., usual starter opposite Coach G. B. Morris at that post. Cotten has been transferred from the field.

Besides Smith and Dixon, LAAF will have in its backfield Chesley McDonald, formerly of Abilene Christian college, and Norman Volz, Oklahoma Indian and former basketball star at Tech. The coaches said that Jimmy Williamson, ex-backfield man of the Lubbock Westerners, probably would see considerable service in substituting for Volz.

With the exception of the guard switch, the LAAF line will be the same that started against the Red Raiders last week. That forward wall was composed of Arnold Teusink at center, Rafe Nabors and James McWherter at tackles and Marshall Cauley and Bill Schmidt at ends, in addition to the guards.

That line has been pretty stubborn throughout the campaign, climaxing its fine play with a goal-line stand that had spectators standing in the final period of the thrilling 10-7 defeat of Tech last Saturday night.

However, there will be stern opposition across the scrimmage line tonight. Led by J. Svenson, a little All-America player, from Lafayette college, the line will average 207 pounds. Svenson is an end.

Other standouts include R. Blaine and G. Clay, guards from Nevada and Tulane, and R. Boyd, tackle formerly of North Texas State Teachers college.

The Zoomers are coached by Lt. Ray Branchau, formerly of Notre Dame, and Lt. Lou Zara, a star of the late thirties at Michigan State.

LAAF sports victories in four starts this season—South Plains Army Air field, Fort Bliss Commandos and Texas Tech having been victims. The Raiders defeated the Fliers in the season's opening exhibition.

Congress And The People

MANY members of Congress doubtless will plead guilty with pride to at least one of the "charges" brought against them by administration spokesmen because they have opposed the Treasury department's tax recommendations.

These spokesmen "charge" that many members of Congress, in considering the new tax measure, also have their eyes on the 1944 elections. The administration pretends, apparently, that it is something bordering upon the criminal for a congressman to consider what the attitude of the people he represents may be toward the tax legislation.

Presumably, the administration would approve if representatives and senators would vote for the recommended tax measure, regardless what people of their districts and states may think of it.

Certainly, the representative and senator consider the wishes of the constituency he represents before deciding his attitude as a member of Congress toward any legislation. That is what he is supposed to do. That is what he is elected to do. He is the agency created under the Constitution through whom the wishes and interests of the individual districts and states are represented. When any member of Congress deliberately acts contrary to what he believes to be the wishes of the majority of the people he represents, he is failing in his duty. He is doing his best to make a mockery of the representative democratic form of government, which is nothing more nor less than a government in which the will of the majority prevails.

True, it now seems certain that the refusal of congressmen to go contrary to what they believe to be the wishes of their constituencies will doom the tax recommendations. But, if that is what the people want, could honest representatives of the people do anything else conscientiously? Would this still be a democratic form of government if a few men could adopt the attitude of to hell with the people? Obviously not.

This will be a democratic form of government only so long as it is a government by, for and of the people in all legislative matters, including taxation. Fortunately, most members of Congress seem to take cognizance of this fact even though the not-so-New Deal administration does not.

Quick On The Uptake

ALTHOUGH the fire which put the Steamship, Lafayette — formerly the Normandie — out of service on Feb. 9, 1942, represented inexcusable carelessness, or worse, credit must be given for notable progress toward restoring it to usefulness.

When the giant hull turned upon its side during the fire, some engineers said it never could be righted—that it was good only for scrap. But it has been righted, and the promise is made that it again will be back in service within the next nine months.

That means, of course, that much time has been lost. But it also will mean that, within a little more than two years, a ship will be made available for service which would have required four or five years to build.

If the war isn't over when the Lafayette is ready — and only the more optimistic expect victory by then — it still may deliver some mighty blow against the enemy. Despite its more than 83,000 tons of weight and its more than 981 feet of length, it will be one of the fastest ships afloat and probably will be first in the world in carrying capacity. There will be a lot of room for a lot of bad news for the enemy aboard the Lafayette.

Naturally, it would have been infinitely better if the Lafayette could have been in service all along—as it properly should have been. It has been needed worse during the past 18 months than it is likely ever to be needed again. But some consolation can be derived from the fact that no time was wasted in wailing over spilled milk. No complaint is justified over the efforts that have been made, with such noteworthy success, to undo the damage resulting from the fire.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE SHIP THAT TORPEDOED ITSELF

The giant French destroyer "Maille Breze" torpedoed itself. While lying off Glasgow in April 1940, by some incredible accident, one of its torpedo tubes was discharged and the torpedo fell on deck of the 2440 ton destroyer. The torpedo slithered along the main deck and exploded against the foc'sle and bridge structure. The ship blew up and sank. Of the 220 men aboard, 38 lost their lives.

BY PAUL DAVID PRESTON

THE STORY: Nancy Hale is ruining Blythe Miller's happiness. And Nancy's 2-year-old son, Scooter, has all but ruined a football game for the Lincoln Field cadet pilots' team. Nancy, a pretty young widow, seems to have captivated Duane Hogan, cadet football star whom Blythe loves. And Scooter upset Duane, on the way to a touchdown in a scoreless game, by running out on the field and causing Duane to fall in avoiding him. The cadets win the game through the generous act of conceited Quarterback Norman Dana, who grabs the ball, fools the opposition, and then passes it to Duane for another try. This sends his stock up only slightly with Blythe, whom he wants to marry.

POEMS AND PLANS

CHAPTER X

Nancy certainly is beautiful . . . Nancy certainly is beautiful.

That sentence, uttered in the theater by Norman Dana, kept moving through Blythe Miller's mind. Norman had to be back at Lincoln Field on duty at 6 p. m., so he had been forced to leave her rather hurriedly downtown.

"I don't want to go home," Bly had told herself. "I—I want to be alone, at least for a while."

She slipped in a place called the Ship's Anchor and ate shrimp cocktail and salad and ham patties for Sunday supper; then because she would almost surely be recognized here soon if she lingered, she slipped back out again. Two blocks up she found a branch library open.

A library is a perfect place to think, she reminded herself. You can always pretend you are reading. A sign said she had until 9 p. m. here. And there weren't many other patrons. Presently she found it all very cozy and warm and nice. Street sounds were a faint, far-off, audible memory; calmly now she could lay her own thoughts and problems on the big oak table and inspect them.

The book she held had come from a nearby shelf labeled "Essays and Poems; Miscellany." She read one tidbit:

"I built a chimney for a comrade old,
And Love's great wages were my only hire.
Then I traveled on in winter's cold,
Yet all the day I glowed before the fire."

The beauty of it turned Blythe's mood into something a little mellower. Edwin Markham's poem. Edwin Markham, who must have achieved somehow the perfect philosophy of life. Blythe wondered about him. At 19, she couldn't know much about the love that grows from old companionship. But, she wondered, had this poet ever fallen in love, as she was in love with Duane Hogan?

She didn't know, and she wasn't interested now in hunting his biography. She grew pensive, introspective. A chimney for a friend . . . and I glowed before his fire . . . even though out in winter's cold. Well, she could understand that. She had built a chimney for Nancy Hale, hadn't she." Nancy the widow, who had so sadly needed friendship and gotten it from Blythe. And, truly, Blythe had glowed before that heart fire. It was all very poetic and perfect just like Edwin Markham—that far. But then Nancy had fallen in love with the boy Blythe herself had wanted. That "other" kind of love.

"I wish he had written a sequel," Blythe whispered. "I wonder if he—if he could have continued glowing, even if that friend had stolen his sweetheart."

She supposed he could have. Philosophers like Markham were, she conceded, far above her; almost divine. She herself felt human and little and narrow; she, Blythe Miller, wanted to do what the gashouse jennies would have done — jump on her rival and scratch out her eyes. But—no.

Her attention skipped over to a longer poem by one Hugh C. Cave, and the last stanza read:

"We go from friend to sweetheart, dear,
Without a touch of pain.
But — sweetheart — do you know there is
No pathway back again?"

That simple quatrain suddenly frightened her. No pathway back again!

Duane Hogan, big Duane of the kind heart, had also seen Nancy Hale's frantic grasping for help and friendship, and of course he had responded. It had been Duane who lifted Nancy out of the wrecked coupe that night in the storm. It had been Duane who captivated baby Scooter, who gave him the puppy, who almost single-handed had remodeled the loft apartment in which Nancy and baby and puppy now lived. Of course big Duane, the sentimental Texan, had tendered friendship, and of course Nancy would have been a fool not to have succumbed. Blythe could understand all of that. But — "no pathyway back again!"

The newspapers, the popular talk, even the radios, had hinted broadly that Duane and Nancy were lovers indeed. And tonight even the movie screen had seemed to verify it.

On the other hand, Pop Miller himself had lectured her on fighting for your rights, scrapping for what you want, for what is rightfully yours. Neither Pop nor his daughter Blythe liked a person who just "took" life's blows; they believed you could and should fight back. But, with brains. And Norman Dana had said in the theater that "Nancy certainly is beautiful."

"All right," Bly whispered to the book of poems now, "if he thinks she is beautiful, he could be made to do something about it! She really is beautiful, and he's good-looking himself. If only they—they!—had struck it off together! . . . Duane liked me once. . . . I know he did; I'm sure of it. I guess I was too slow about encouraging him. Too—too prideful, waiting for him to make the open moves . . . Duane is girl-shy . . . But Norman isn't. Norman isn't shy of anything. He's aggressive to a fault. If he would only start rushing Nancy, he would flatter her even more than Duane's friendship did . . . Maybe I . . . could do them all a favor . . . and myself as well! . . . Maybe!"

The book disappeared before her eyes and Blythe was living, planning, rehearsing a campaign out in life. There's always something zestful about playing Cupid even when you yourself are involved, and she felt a definite enthusiasm now. In the theater this evening, Norman had admitted his conceit, admitted it as a fault and tacitly said he yearned to overcome it. It had raised him high in her estimation—this new, deeper understanding of a cocky young man. It hadn't made her love him as he thought he wished her to—not that; but it made her know that some girl, somewhere, would be extremely lucky to get him. Just as any girl would be lucky to win Duane.

"The truth is Norman is lonely!"

That thought struck her all at once. It bore out some things wise old Pop had said. She was almost whispering her thoughts again.

"Norman is lonely, inside, and trying to hide his loneliness with smart talk and conceit. Hide it from himself! Pop said . . . Pop said it is a common way for lonely people to act . . . He said we had

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WE have a receptionist in our office, who, to my mind, may well serve as an example to all womanhood—and much of the manhood as well.

When I get off the elevator (usually about a quarter after nine) Vera greets me with a big smile.

Yet, she got up at 5:30 this very morning, and put in what is to many a person a full day's work.

She has cooked breakfast for her two young daughters, put up their luncheon for them, made the beds and taken the kids to school.

After that she got on the subway and spent an hour riding down to the office—standing all the way.

Until 5 o'clock she takes care of a constant stream of callers, making the unwanted ones feel a little better for her cheerfulness, looks after telegrams and messages, and does some clerical work.

Then, when for me the working day is over, she spends another hour on the subway, does her marketing, cooks dinner and washes the dishes.

When that is done she helps the girls with their home studies, and, finally at 9:30 or thereabouts, she has the rest of the day to herself.

She reads her paper, listens to the radio for a quarter of an hour and goes to bed.

"What do you do with your weekends?" I asked her.

"Oh, there's washing to do and ironing and mending and lots of other odds and ends."

VERA is a widow, goodlooking, cheerful, and full of the joy of living.

Her income isn't large—it would be chicken feed to many kickers—but she makes it go and even puts some of it in war bonds.

My hat is off to Vera and the many thousands of women like her.

It makes me kind of ashamed to compare myself with her. I kick about gas rationing, shortage of butter, the scarcity of steak.

She doesn't grumble. To her, life is a job to be done, with duties and responsibilities.

She doesn't feel—the world owes her a living. To her there is beauty in work, love in her children, pride in keeping her home clean, decent and happy.

The next time you feel sorry for yourself, think of Vera.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

COMMERCE SECRETARY JESSE H. JONES, who was banker for a third of the railroads in the worst days of the depression, has intervened quietly on several occasions to prevent speculators from raiding the treasuries of the lines. Stock jobbers had hoped to make cleanups based on temporary war earnings but they reckoned without the man from Houston.

Most spectacular case involved a relatively small but important road in the Middle West. Linking two key cities—Chicago and St. Louis—it had accumulated a large income after paying all fixed charges, including its debt to the government.

A small clique bought in, paying only $1.06 a share for the securities. Its first act was to declare a $2 dividend. It also planned to elect a friend as president at a salary of $40,000 a year.

Now, Jones has no authority to regulate dividends provided that a carrier makes its interest and amortization settlements to him. He can only resort to moral suasion. And he did. He wrote several sharp letters to the heads of the organization, pointing out that its prosperity rested solely on the emergency and that it was still in hock to Uncle Sam.

The majority owners took the tip. They retained the present executive and did not cut the melon.

SCHEMES: In the last 10 days Washington has witnessed the most determined revolt against federalism since Franklin Roosevelt entered the White House. Never before have attempts by New Dealers to regiment various activities met such stout resistance.

The Supreme court set the pace when it ruled that an employer has the right to discuss union membership with his workers, thereby overthrowing the fixed policy of the National Labor Relations board. With Southerners voting almost solidly in the negative, the Senate defeated the Thomas bill which would have permitted the government to subsidize the educational system.

In the House, an avowed friend of the administration, Rep. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, Labor Committee chairman, has spiked the plan by which the uplifters would manage centers for the care of children. She amended the proposed statute so that hard-boiled Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works administrator, will handle them.

The Senate Judiciary committee will undoubtedly report favorably the Van Nuys resolution declaring that regulation of insurance should be a state rather than a national matter. Although their reparks attracted hardly any attention, such good Democrats as Senators Josiah W. Bailey of North Carolina, Pat McCarran of Nevada and Rep. Hatton W. Sumners of Texas inveighed against the dictatorial trend.

To be fair to the President, it should be recorded that he has not inspired any of these schemes. They are the brain children of some of his overenthusiastic aides, who do not realize that FDR has turned to the right in a big way.

TRAINING: More than a million American young men and women will receive specialized instruction at Uncle Sam's expense if the conflict lasts a few years longer. For the colleges, deprived of normal enrollments by the draft, the project is a godsend.

Like manufacturers seeking contracts, chiefs of these institutions trek daily to Washington in an effort to obtain larger numbers of subsidized pupils. The full quota is only 470,000 but that figure will be doubled or trebled before the armistice.

Each youth is paid $50 a month by the U. S. Treasury. Total cost of the enterprise cannot yet be computed. Every conceivable subject is taught, ranging from aviation and medicine to languages, economy, government, agriculture and chemistry.

The following statistics give some idea of the scope: University of California (both the Berkeley and Los Angeles branches), 6,300; Yale, 4,500; University of Minnesota, 7,500; Harvard, 7,000; University of Minnesota, 7,500; Harvard, 7,000; Michigan, 5,000; Northwestern, 4,200; Amherst, 1,300; Cooper Union, 1,500. Even the fine Quaker school, Haverford, has a sizable contingent of soldier students.

It is quite probable that the venture will become a permanent arrangement after the war. Army and Navy topnotchers believe that it would serve as a substitute for universal military training and be far more palatable to the people.

AWE Willkie, on his recent Washington visit, replying to a query from Representative William Price Elmer of Missouri declared for (1) a Council of Nations to preserve the peace and (2) an international police force to make aggressors behave. He did not believe American participation would infringe on our "sovereignty." But if it should, he pointed out, "sovereignty connotes the authority to divest itself of a portion of the whole for the general good."

So awe-struck was the House bloc by his views that, on leaving the hotel, an elderly member gasped, "Well, I'll be damned! The son of a gun really means it!"

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

HIGHEST military officials are privately justifying to manufacturers the frequent changes in design for materiel ordered by the fighting forces.

They direct attention to the fact that constant alterations—regardless of the seemingly wasteful process—are necessary to offset enemy inventions. Here are a few of the latest secret weapons for us to match and master:

The Nazis are sowing the sea lanes with powerful new torpedoes, self-propelled by electricity from batteries and running 10 hours without recharging. Their novelty is that after rudders are set, they move continuously in wide circles, leaving no telltale wakes.

These hellish contraptions are strewn in a convoy's path. Because of their inconspicuousness and great range they are more deadly than a dozen floating mines, easily spotted by a lookout. Often explosions occur in the center of a fleet of merchantmen.

Information regarding the Luftwaffe's rocket bomb has been officially released. Its operation, however, is not generally known. A pursuit plane fires a string of two dozen black missiles, each the size of an apple, which detonate with great violence. Usually the shells are shot from a distance of 2,500 yards, beyond the reach of our aircraft cannon. In a recent foray three of our Flying Fortresses were destroyed by this innovation.

HORRIFIED: The Germans are employing a four-inch gun, without recoil, against the Yanks and Tommies in Italy. This piece of ordnance is really an adaptation of one used by the Americans in the first World war and intended for airplanes had the struggle continued beyond 1918.

The principle is that two barrels are placed end to end with the projectile loaded in the middle. The rear muzzle allows gases to escape without hitting the breech—thus eliminating the normal "kick."

Berlin has developed a huge flame-thrower mounted on a tank prepared to hurl blazing oil at least 150 yards. As the armored car bears a single giant blow torch and no guns, it can transport a large supply of fuel, the lack of which has handicapped the smaller Flammerwerfers carried by foot soldiers.

The diabolical instrument—in its many forms—is not, as most suppose, primarily a lethal weapon of attack; it is an incendiary tool. In the retreat from Russia these fire-breathing monsters travel through narrow city streets igniting everything within reach. Often they prowl in grain fields and railway yards.

Incidentally, we utilize them in the Pacific to destroy pillboxes and burn passages through the dense jungle vegetation.

"Out Our Way" Now In Book Form

Williams' Great Cartoons Preserved For Posterity

(By NEA Service)

FOR QUITE a few years, now, admirers of J. R. Williams' "Out Our Way" cartoons have urged the artist to collect some of his work—especially his cowboy drawings—into a book.

Williams would say well, that would be pretty nice, all right, and maybe he'd get around to it sometime. But it seemed that he always was too busy getting an idea for the next day's drawing to think very much about selecting cartoons that already had been published in hundreds of newspapers. And besides his regular work, there was always his 45,000-acre Arizona ranch to occupy his interest. Or, his 45-acre "city place" 20 miles from Los Angeles. Or something.

MORE REQUESTS

MEANWHILE, the requests for a book piled up, along with an occasional inquiry from a publisher. Then, several months ago, Williams got a letter from J. Frank Dobie, famed western author, teacher and collector of range lore. He recounted some incidents in which "Out Our Way" cartoons had figured, and concluded:

"Seriously, for your own sake and for the sake of lots of us people who love the life you depict so realistcially, I advise you to bring out the book (of cowboy drawings). It will talk, to people know, like nothing else this side of Charles Russell's 'Trails Plowed Under.' It will, of course, reach a much wider audience than old Charlie ever reached."

Apparently, Dobie's appeal was the final spurring needed to drive Jim Williams between the covers of a book. For now there is a book. Charles Scribners' Sons have just published, and stores have it for $1.25. It's titled "Out Our Way," and inside are 126 cartoons—a selection from the thousands which Williams has drawn durnig the past 20 years. Newspaper clippings of these same cartoons — many of them frayed and yellowed, and many of them carefully framed, already decorate ranch and bunkhouses throughout the cattle country.

In the same fashion, Williams' machine-shop cartoons, current and old, are to be found on virtually all the bulletin boards and in the locker rooms of the humming war factories of the United States. And Williams' steady stream of fan mail indicates that most of the scrapbooks of the nation are liberally sprinkled with his cartoons of "Why Mothers Get Gray," "Born 30 Years Too Soon," and the "Worry Wart."

The appeal of all of these drawings was described in the letter from J. Frank Dobie (who, incidentally, is at Oxford university as a lecturer on America). He wrote to Williams:

APPEAL DESCRIBED

"MAN, YOU'VE got something that beats cleverness all hollow. You've got humanity and the power of seeing things and the ability to translate concrete observation and humanity into lines. You've got the ability to bring life home to 'the bosoms of men.'

"For instance, while I was writing my book on the Longhorns about three years ago, a lawyer in San Angelo told me that, pasted up on the bulletin board in the courthouse away out at Fort Stockton, was one of your cartoons showing a tramp watching cowboys load some of those old Longhorns on a train. I told this lawyer I had missed the picture and would like to have it. He was out at Fort Stockton not long after that, had a conference with some of the courthouse gang, and they all decided that being as you are you, as I am I, and as the old Longhorn was Texas itself, they ought to let me have the cartoon. They sent it to me . . ."

Unlike death from most causes, mortality due to excessive heat fluctuates widely from year to year.

SUPPORT REDUCES LOSSES

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Stocks generally were subjected to further profit cashing in today's market although late support reduced many early losses of 1 to 4 points and enabled scattered favorites to emerge on the topside.

Liquor stocks, weak most of the day, rallied in the afternoon but failed to hold recoveries. American Distilling, for instance, was off 4 points at one time, converted this into a gain of 2 and ended off ⅝. Schenley was unchanged and national distillers and Distillers Corp.-Seagrams down ½ each. Allied Mills, on the other hand, ended up 1⅝.

The Associated Press 60-stock average, due partly to a fall of 4 points in J. I. Case on sales of only 500 shares, was off .4 of a point at 50.7. Of 821 issues traded, 291 were down, 201 up and 329 unchanged. Tranfers totaled 668,010 shares against 714,510 the day before.

United Merchants and Manufacturers was up 2⅛ at a new 1943 top. Farnsworth Television was admitted to the big board today and, in active transactions, showed an advance of about a point from its previous over-the-counter quotation. Modest plus marks were retained by Standard Oil of Cal. Baltimore and Ohio, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Woolworth, Montgomery Ward, General Motors and International Telephone.

Losers included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Southern Railway, Boeing, United Aircraft, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Anaconda, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, General Electric and du Pont.

In the curb Brown-Forman Distillers jumped 5 points and modest improvement was exhibited by Technicolor, American Gas and Pennroad. Easier were Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Electric Bond and Share, International Petroleum and Carrier Corp. The aggregate here was 192,980 shares versus 212,375 yesterday.

Yank Paratroops

Solomons were evacuated, with Bougainville their ultimate designation?

Choiseul is separated by Bougainville Strait from Bougainville and its investment would control waters by which both southern Bougainville and the nearby Shortland islands are supplied.

The parachute troops which landed at Choiseul were unopposed in their landing on that island's southwest coast.

It marked the second such employment of paratroops in the current Pacific offensive. Paratroopers landed Sept. 5 northwest of Lae, New Guinea, prior to pincers envelopment of that air base.

Fighter-escorted medium bombers struck the smashing blow at Buka, raiding at treetop height.

The large number of Japanese killed were working on Buka's runway at the time.

Auxiliary Vessel Sunk

The bombers also sank an auxiliary vessel and damaged four enemy planes in addition to the seven destroyed on the ground.

Bombers of all categories, escorted by fighters, struck anew at Kahili, left all of its runways unserviceable and knocked out anti-aircraft positions.

The inoperative airfield of Balalale in the Shortlands was strafed by fighters.

The planes which assaulted Kahili also pounded the nearby Kara airfield.

The half of cresent-shaped New Britain nearest to General MacArthur's ground positions on New Guinea also drew air attention.

The first details of the operations against the tiny Treasury islands of Mono and Stirling were announced yesterday.

incomes, with $4,000,000,000 refundable after the war. The normal individual income rate would be raised from 6 to 10 per cent, personal exemptions lowered from $500 to $400 for single persons, from $1,200 to $800 for married couples and from $400 to $250 for each child. The Victory tax would be repealed and a super-surtax imposed.

More Excise Taxes

2. $3,000,000,000 through additional excise taxes on so-called luxuries.

3. $800,000,000 through increased corporation taxes.

The program would provide special relief credits up to $500 for persons having received little, if any, increase in income because of the expanded wartime economy. A limit of $1,000 would be placed on the amount of post-war refund through the compulsory savings program.

One committee member, Rep. Disney (D-Okla) suggested that unprecedented controls on government spending be written into the tax bill. Disney urged the creation of an "overall" budget committee, comprised of Senate and House members, to reduce expenditures through close scrutiny of budget outlays.

Stevenson's Trip

Fred Vinson to urge that the request for an increase in crude oil be granted. Vinson told him that he already had reached a decision and that it would be announced later in the day. The price increase request was turned down.

Wouldn't Be Drawn Out

But the governor would not be drawn out on what was the principal object of his presence. Asked if the talk with Walker was the primary reason for his visit, he replied:

"I'd say it was a very important item."

Asked if he would seek reelection next year, Stevenson responded.

"I'm not going to answer that."

Later, he commented that he was confident that 90 per cent of the people of Texas were solidly behind him in his views on federal regulations.

"There are a lot of things about the New Deal that I like and the people like," he said, "but I am against the way the OPA has been administered in Texas."

The governor said he had planned to leave tomorrow for home, but might remain to attend a social gathering of Texans Saturday night in Washington.

Stevenson said he would like to visit President Roosevelt, but commented "I'm not sure whether I'll find the latch string in or out."

Mystery To Texans

Stevenson told reporters he had been invited to Washington, but declined to say who did the inviting, and the purpose of his visit was a mystery to such Texans here as Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones, Speaker Rayburn, and Senator Connally.

Around capitol hill there was an unsubstantiated report that the governor's conversations would be political and relative to the 1944 elections.

A report was circulated before his arrival that he would confer with prominent anti-New Deal Democrats, regardless of their state affiliations.

The Texas governor's luke-warm attitude toward the New Deal has been no secret, and Democratic national leaders probably would like to discuss the 1944 political picture with him, since the Texas delegation is one of the largest to the national Democratic convention.

TEMPLE, Oct. 29-(AP) — Three persons, including two Army officers, were killed and four were injured, three seriously, in an auto collision eight and one-half miles east of Gatesville, Texas, on Highway 84 early tonight.

The dead were:

Major G. H. Bingham, 37, of North Camp Hood; 1st Lt. Leo Wardlow, 28, also of North Camp Hood; Vannoy Powell, 45, of Gatesville.

Three Army officers, all from North Camp Hood, were in one automobile and four civilians in the other.

The injured were Capt. Will L. Vivell, 32, a dental corps officer who suffered a severe brain concussion; Jeff Hardison of Jonesboro, whose condition was critical; Mrs. Tom Rogers of Gatesville, injured seriously, and Mrs. A. H. Way of Gatesville, who suffered slight injuries.

The first three were in the North Camp Hood station hospital; Mrs. Way was in the Gatesville hospital.

Gloria Sadler Allen

professing no special love for the stage but more for the study of medicine, nevertheless became a sort of ward of those who continued year by year to flock to the tent show when Harley and Billie came to town. Playgoers, in other words, felt a sort of proprietory interest in being around those infrequent times when she, back from school or some place would be introduced from the stage to those who remembered her as a child.

Occasionally Did A Stint

Occasionally she'd do a bit in one of the productions of the Sadler show. Just occasionally. In the summer vacation time.

Harley and Billie Sadler would be tremendously proud. They've had a consuming love for the stage. But they had more for their daughter. So they didn't attempt to influence her seeking of a stage career.

So Gloria turned her back on the tinsel of the stage, and began pre-medical studies. Chemistry and biology.

That career was soon to end. She and J. Richard Allen met. She gave up medicine for marriage.

Resigned From Academy

Another career was terminated at the same time. Young Allen, now a first lieutenant and flight instructor at Lubbock Army Air field, was in West Point Military academy. Classmen there are not allowed to marry before they are commissioned. Allen resigned from the academy.

They moved to Lubbock soon after that 1942 marriage, and made their home at 2602-A Twentieth street until a month ago, when Mrs. Allen went to the Sweetwater home of her parents, now State Rep. and Mrs. Sadler.

She was expecting a baby.

She promised friends in Lubbock she "certainly would" inform them when the baby was born.

Died Friday Morning

But she didn't: Mrs. Allen died Friday morning in childbirth, in a Sweetwater hospital.

Mrs. Allen, born at Cameron, graduated from Sweetwater High school and Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene, where she was a featured member of the noted Cowboy band a recognized "flag rider," will be buried at Cameron, where the body will be taken overland after 2:30 o'clock services this afternoon in Sweetwater's First Baptist church.

Her immediate survivors are only the parents and the husband.

—Unless, as Lubbock friends said, you "count all those West Texans who watched her over the years on the stage and feel like she somehow belongs to them too."

them were returned to their owners this month. Ickes has expressed fear of runaway strikes unless a contract is agreed upon by Oct. 31, and other federal officials have described the need for continued production to keep war industries going.

Serious Setback Possible

Sunday, the War Production board said a "serious setback" for the armed forces could result from prolongation of the shutdowns.

Mr. Roosevelt touched on the patriotism note in concluding his letter to Davis thusly:

"I am confident that when the patriotic American miners realize the substantial increase in benefits the board's proposal offers them they will not reject the opportunity to secure a contract.

"But if I am mistaken and the miners do not accept the board's proposals, I shall take decisive action to see that coal is mined."

Lewis Condemned As Unfit For His Job

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 29. (AP)—The New York state CIO today condemned John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, as "totally unfit for any place of leadership in the labor movement" and asserted admission of Lewis into the American Federation of Labor would be a "grave disservice to all of labor and the whole nation."

The condemnation was contained in a resolution adopted at the fifth annual state convention.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

News Briefs

J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, Friday reduced bond of James Williams, a negro charged with assault with intent to murder John A. Samuels, a white man, Aug. 24, at a cafe in Lubbock—from $2,000 to $1,000—on suggestion of the state.

Mrs. Paul Hardwick, of 2307 Eighteenth street, was informed Friday that a nephew, S/Sgt. Joseph Dunwoody, 21, a gunner crewmen of a Billy Mitchell squadron in the Aleutians, had been reported "safe and well" by the War department. He is a member of the highly restricted "I bombed Japan club," and had been reported missing in action Sept. 11. Further details were not available immediately, Mrs. Hardwick said.

Release from county jail of two Amarillo boys, 13 and 16, who had been held several weeks in connection with a car theft case, was announced Friday afternoon by the sheriff's department, two days after the court of civil appeals at Amarillo had reversed a county court conviction and remanded the cause for trial. The case had been taken on appeal to test constitutionality of a new Texas law, which set out that cases against juveniles must be conducted according to civil procedure, much as in the manner of guardianship. Judge E. L. Pitts, chief justice, held the law constitutional, but rules that the juveniles should have been given a jury.

Willie Wyatt, 52, a negro, posted a $1,000 Friday in connection with a liquor law violation complaint; bond of $500 had been set for Joe Willie Evans, 18, a negro charged with carrying of knucks, and Charlie Mead, 35, was back in jail on an unsatisfied judgment, the sheriff's department announced Friday afternoon. A woman, 35, was held here for investigation of Tulia authorities, it was announced.

County Judge G. V. Pardue, Friday set aside a $1,000 fine assessed in a Wednesday verdict of a jury, and granted a new trial to Bob Vaught of Lubbock. The case, charging transportation of liquor Aug. 3, 1942, had been tried once before, a judgment giving Vaught a year in jail. That conviction was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals.

The Lubbock Fire repartment reported three runs Friday evening. Runs were: Lowrimore Gin, 414 Avenue H, at 6:05 p. m.; prairie fire, four miles west of Monroe, 6:35 p. m.; and a small barn afire at 600 block Avenue C, at 7:30. Damage was reported slight in all of the fires.

Former Speaker Of House Is Indicted

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 29 (AP) — The Tulsa county grand jury investigating reports of fraud in state textbook dealings indicted J. T. Daniel, former speaker of the State House of Representatives, tonight on a perjury count.

The indictment declared that Daniel testified before the grand jury on Oct. 21 that he had never solicited or received money from textbook companies in exchange for promoting the adoption of their books and added:

"All of the said testimony was false and untrue."

Jap Ships Sunk

tivities in the Pacific it has been deemed advisable to improve repair facilities on the west coast. To free yards there for repair work, he said, construction of three cruisers, seven destroyers and nine fleet tugs had been transferred to east coast yards.

In addition, Knox said, plans for construction of about 75 minor craft, for which no contracts had been let, have been cancelled.

Transferred To East

The cruisers transferred from the west coast were to have been constructed in the Bethlehem Union yards at San Francisco, but now go to the Federal Shipbuilding company in New York; the destroyers are transferred from the Bethlehem Union yards to Bethlehem's Fall River and Staten Island yards, and the tugs from the United Engineering company yards at Alameda, Calif., to the Charleston Shipbuilding company, at Charleston, S. C.

Knox said American submarine attacks against Japanese shipping were "proceeding at full speed with steadily increasing forces."

The communique announcing the sinkings brought to 329 the number of enemy vessels sunk; 36 probably sunk and 109 damaged by American submarines in the Pacific.

There is available, except for the war, radiotelephone servivce to 83 foreign countries.

Price Hike Rejected

was advocated as a means of stimulating the sinking of wildcat wells, Vinson declared its effect also would be to "increase the price of every barrel of oil from the approximately 400,000 existing oil wells, most of which had been drilled in years gone by."

Older Fields Profit

"To grant a 35-cent per barrel increase in the price of crude . . . would enable those producing the larger portion of our crude to virtually double their profit margin and provide additional incentive for production from old fields now producing without it," Vinson went on.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla) has introduced a bill to force the increase.

Vinson said that improved oil transportation and producing facilities now assured that "there will be no lack of oil to supply military and essential civilian demands."

By turning also to the use of foreign production, Vinson said he was able to state that "supplies are in sight for all essential needs through 1945."

Based On Stabilization Act

The stabilization director said his ruling was based on the stabilization act of October, 1942, and President Roosevelt's hold-the-line anti-inflation order of last April.

Since Ickes' original recommendation, moreover, alternative measures have presented themselves to increase the nation's output, Vinson said. He sketched them thusly:

1. Full use of the productive capacity of Texas oil fields, which are estimated to have an unused capacity of more than 300,000 barrels daily over the September rate of production. The Petroleum Administration for War is now taking steps to increase the Texas facilities for transportation and refining.

2. Increased drilling in proven areas, as distinguished from wildcatting. Vinson said the drilling of the 19,000 wells in proven areas, as planned for 1944 would "contribute significantly" to the country's productive capacity, without the necessity of a price increase.

Use Of Foreign Oil

3. The use of foreign oil. He estimated that at least 337,000 barrels daily of foreign oil would be used by the end of next year, as a result of measures under way to utilize available foreign sources "to the full."

Estimating that this country, with only 38 per cent of the United Nations' crude oil reserves, is supplying 75 to 80 per cent of the oil for the war, Vinson declared: "There can be no justification in exhausing this country's oil reserves at the most rapid rate possible if there is any feasible alternative."

Vinson said also that any incentive program would have no effect on crude oil production for a year or two, and that there was no prospect that such measures would result in any increase in gasoline for non-essential civilian use.

THOMAS TO TEST OUT CHANCE OF LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP) — Senator Thomas (D-Okla) said tonight that Economic Stabilizer Vinson's definite rejection of a crude oil price increase will "give us a chance to step out and see what we can do through legislation."

"The oil states will have to join hands with others seeking various forms of relief," Thomas told a reporter. "They're raising prices every day on other things, even whisky, and I don't see why they can't raise it on essentials like milk and oil."

Triple Axis Fear Doom Approaching

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The sweep of events in the global war today points up for what is left of the dismembered Nazi-Fascist-Nipponese Triple Axis with grisly specters of approaching doom.

In Russia the spirits of an army of Germany and satellite dead, left behind in a Nazi retreat to the Dieper and beyond, must haunt the dreams of surviving comrades and of relatives at home with questioning as to why their blood was so ruthlessly and futilely shed. It calls out for German vengeance on Hitler and Hitlerism.

The Axis debacle in Europe began a year ago in Africa and at Stalingrad. And now it is certainly beginning for Japan in the Pacific. While destructoin of German power still stands first on the strategy books, there is every indication that in the Pacific events are shaping toward early fulfillment of the phophesy to Congress many months ago of Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the 'supreme challenge" of sea power will confront Japan.

SIMPSON

The challenge of the wide-based American - Australian assault against the Southeast sector of the Japanese insular defense ring has gone ignored by the Tokyo high command. Step by step it had given ground rather than risk a major sea fight until the Rabaul anchor of the line on New Britain has been exposed to final amphibious attack to convert it into an allied advance base.

There has been no effort to conceal preparations for a synchronized advance Eastward in the center of the long Pacific line.

At which of the many Japanese-held island outposts its first surges will be aimed can only be conjectured; but it is coming.

And from the recaptured Aleutians other operations are clearly in prospect that must fill Japanese minds with haunting dread of long range air bombardment.

Besides threats of eventual drives from China via Burma there is still another factor for Tokyo's contemplation in viewing the tightening allied encircling ring. This ring has only one real gap even now. That is Northward.

Japan and Russia still are at peace; but it is a peace born only of Russian involvements in the West and Japanese over extension in the south. It is a feeble security reed for Japanese hopes to lean upon in view of Russian victories in the West and the close integration of war effort obviously sought in the Moscow tri-partite conversations.

That Washington and London now know what to expect of Russia in the Asiatic theater, and when, is wholly probable. There can be no comfort for Tokyo in that.

Private With 31 War Ribbons Trains In U. S.

FORT MYERS, Fla., Oct. 29. (AP)—It's not the 31 campaign ribbons that Pfc. Kenneth Bostick, now an aerial gunnery student at Buckingham Army Air field, is entitled to wear that makes his record amazing.

Nor is it his decorations—Croix De Guerre, Distinguished Flying medal, Order of Parliament and Purple Heart.

It's the fact that he's been in so many war theaters when the show was at its worst.

As an RAF bomber pilot he fought in the battle of France, Dunkirk, Britain, Norway, Greece and Crete. On Dec. 7, 1941, he was with the national guard coast artillery at Pearl Harbor. And during the Aleutian campaign he was in the Alaska Defense Command, serving as a gunner on oil barges.

Two of his brothers have been killed in action, and his father, Rear Admiral E. H. Bostick, has been reported missing by the Navy department.

(2) Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, whom Jones replaces as the American member, will become the board's non-voting head.

Canada Represented

(3) Hereafter Canada will have a representative on the board, along with Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt said the actual cost of food in the last three months—a period which largely covers the tenure of Jones as food administrator—has gone up not at all or but a tiny percentage. The cost of some items, he added, has gone down a tiny percentage.

He told the conference that he expected to sand to Congress Monday his long-awaited message on food.

The addition of Canada to the combined food board was announced jointly by Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Keep Down Conflict

By replacing Wickard with Jones as the American representative on this board, the President moved to eliminate any possibility of a conflict between domestic food programs and policies — which are a responsibility of Jones—and those which otherwise might be advocated by Secretary Wickard, who now exercises no authority over this country's food programs.

Mr. Roosevelt also took steps to eliminate the possibility of a conflict between Wickard and Jones over the allocation of American food supplies among various claimants, such as the armed forces, the United Nations, foreign relief programs, territories dependent upon this country, and American civilians.

He directed Jones to set up a foods requirements and allocations committee to pass on all claims, in which Wickard will have no say.

Victory Model Ready

Girdle Made Of Synthetic

By EDITH K. GAYLORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—A victory model answer to a woman's number two prayer appeared in the War Production board press room today and shook the place to its foundation.

The sample synthetic rubber girdle—a little unmentionable of tea rose neoprene with undershading which gave a bluish effect—roused comment as snappy on the comeback as the old two-way stretch.

In fact, a WPB spokesman insisted that the synthetic held its shape—and that of its wearer—better than did the pre-war natural rubber elastic.

It developed also that a woman on the WPB staff, who hastily claimed anonymity, has been wearing one of the neoprene jobs for five or six weeks as part of her contribution to the home front war effort.

"Its very satisfactory," she asserted. "Of course, there are a few bugs to be worked out yet."

The unmentionable launders "nicely," though, she said.

However, the girl guinea pig for the test tube girdle added that pleasingly or otherwise plump women shouldn't figure that stores soon will have stacks of control scanties for sale because manufacturers still are experimenting all along the line.

For another thing, there's a tug-of-war between manufacturers. The garment guys are wary of mass production until the elastic yarn makers prove that all those bugs are worked out.

But when production works up to the fullness thereof, the number of victory models for conquering that too, too solid flesh should amount to about 65 per cent of the pre-war supply, WPB estimated.

Facsimile Of Safety Award Received Here

A facsimile of the National Safety council's Distinguished Service to Safety award recently presented by the Army Air force has been been received at Lubbock Army Air field by Col. Ralph E. Holmes, commanding officer.

In sending the award to Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air forces, Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, wrote:

"Credit for the air safety record which inspired the award should be shared by you and your entire command.

"You have helped effect a reduction in the rateof Army aircraft training accidents during fiscal 1943 as compared with the previous year. This reduction was achieved during a year in which there was more than 190 per cent more flying than in the previous year."

Gen. Arnold said, in accepting the award:

"Ninety-five of every hundred Army Air forces cadets are going through their flying training program with no personal injury of any kind."

Giant Irrigation Project Starts

REYNOSA, Mex., Oct. 29. (AP)—One of North America's most ambitious irrigation projects — a multi-million-dollar development to turn 150,000 acres of northern Mexico wilderness into a vegetable-grower's paradise—was in operation today as water poured over the spillway of a dam almost five miles long.

The mighty dam, named Azucar (Sugar) and promising sweet profits for Mexican agriculturists, is situated on the San Juan river 75 miles west of here. Already its great cement half-moon spillway, flanked by miles of earth and rock, has backed up 210,874 acre feet of water, forcing the evacuation of two villages.

Service Three Systems

Capacity of the basin is the tremendous 2,100,000 acre-feet—enough water to service three spreading irrigation systems.

One of the systems is the San Pedro, a network of canals which reaches the vicinity of the border town of Roma, Tex., and which will provide water for 17,000 acres of land. Abraham Sanchez, engineer in charge of the dam, said water will be released into the San Pedro system in November and that all the locks of the canal had been tested and found in good order.

Rio Grande Unaffected

Water moving over Azucar's spillway drops into a giant basin and is then allowed to re-enter the San Juan river channel, through which it flows to the Rio Grande. The flow over the spillway has not yet affected the stage of the Rio Grande, Sanchez stated.

West of the dam, 14 miles of railway tracks are being raised to prevent inundation when Azucar's reservoir fills. When the job is complete, two notches in the spillway, which now keep water in the lake at a level low enough to protect the traucks, will be closed.

Sanchez said elevation of the water in the reservoir at present was 69 meters.

THE FIRST THING TO DO—

REPRINT FROM AVALANCHE

IF

YOU ARE UNFORTUNATE ENOUGH TO LOSE ONE OF YOUR RATIONING COUPON BOOKS

If You Lose Your Rationing Coupons—

Board Outlines Procedure In Getting Duplicate Book

Persons who lose their ration books henceforth will be required to advertise their loss three times in the press, before they can obtain new books.

This requirement was announced Wednesday following a conference of Lubbock county rationing board officials, and applies to gasoline and sugar-coffee rationing books and to other rationing books which may be issued in the future.

They explained the procedure as follows: When a book is lost, the first thing the owner should do is to insert a newspaper advertisement. After the ad has run three times, the newspaper supplies the owner with an affidavit attesting to proof of publication. He should take this with a clipping of the ad to the rationing board office, 1215 Texas Avenue, where he must make application and a sworn statement that the book has been lost.

Officials emphasized that it will be needless to go first to the rationing board, that the initial act should be the insertion of the newspaper advertisement.

The plan is designed, they said, to aid the holder in locating his book and to protect him from use of the book by some unauthorized person.

INSERT A "3 DAY AD" IN THE LOST & FOUND COLUMN

A Small INEXPENSIVE "10 Word Ad" in the Lost and Found Column of the Avalanche-Journal, published for three days, will comply with the ruling now in force. Here is all it will cost to place such an ad in the Avalanche-Journal—

10 WORD AD PUBLISHED FOR— 3 Days WILL COST YOU ONLY— 80c

IF Within THREE DAYS your RATION BOOK is not returned, the Avalanche-Journal will furnish you with an "Affidavit of Publication" This signed and notorized statement contains a copy of the ad, and certifies that you have complied with the Rationing Board's advertising regulation. Just attach it to your application for replacement.
