Pullout Deadline Backed

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the drive to free American POWs in North Vietnam are beginning to favor the idea — so far opposed by the administration — of offering a troop withdrawal timetable in return for the prisoners' release.

The idea also appears to have support in the Senate, where early in the next session it could provide the basis for another stiff battle over administration war policies.

"If we're getting out of Vietnam anyway, why not get something for it," said Charles Havens, former member of the Pentagon's Prisoner of War Committee and now counsel for the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Ausia.

The development signals something of a drift from the league's heretofore close alignment with the Nixon administration, which still rejects a fixed timetable for withdrawing American troops.

Mrs. Bobby G. Vinson, national coordinator of the league,, says she thinks the timetable - POW bargain should be tried and that other relatives of captured and missing men probably feel the same way.

Communist negotiators at the Paris peace talks have offered to take up the prisoner problem immediately if the United States will set a date for getting its troops out of South Vietnam. Initially they demanded a June 30, 1971, deadline, but last Thursday asked the United States to propose any "reasonable date."

U. S. diplomats have rejected the idea so far. President Nixon has said setting a timetable would remove any incentive for the Communists to bargain effectively in Paris.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, in a floor speech Saturday called on the administration to accept a timetable-POW swap.

The Montana Democrat said the scope of U. S. involvement has not decreased in the past year and peace appears no closer.

Mansfield's speech may or may not be significant in view of indications Senate doves may try again in the next session of Congress to legislate a deadline for U. S. troop withdrawal.

Both Havens and Mrs. Vinson said they would support such a move.

Sen. George S. McGovern, DS.D., a chief sponsor of the socalled Amendment to End the War that was defeated last summer, said in an interview the United States should accept the offer by North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

Sources in McGovern's office indicated a new measure would be offered early in the next session embodying a withdrawal deadline but containing a provision that if repatriation of prisoners were not progressing satisfactorily, the deadline would be extended.

Taking the Communists up on their offer, Mrs. Vinson said, would at least let the world "see if they mean what they say."

"It appears to be the only opening gambit available," Havens said.

Hotel Fire Is Probed

By BILL ROBERTS
Associated Press Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Police detectives said today they were investigating possible criminal involvement in a hotel fire which left 28 dead and 27 injured.

Several survivors of the flames which raced through the upper half of the 12-story Pioneer International Hotel early Sunday said they had smelled a volatile substance in the corridors.

"I hadn't heard of that," was the only comment by Police Capt. Francis Kessler, heading the investigation.

The fire in the 41-year-old building broke out on the sixth floor and flared through hallways and staircases, penning about 60 persons in their rooms with no way out except through the windows.

One woman plunged to her death from the seventh floor

Among the dead were 13 prominent northern Mexico citizens, including two grandchildren of former Sonora Gov. Ignacio Soto, the wife and five children of Francisco Luken, Sonora police chief, and Dr. Jose Jesus Antillon of Hermosillo, one of his country's top cardiologists.

Harold Steinfeld, 82, builder of the hotel and owner of a department store died with his wife Peggy in their penthouse apartment.

Many of the survivors said they awoke with smoke pouring into their rooms.

Two firemen were injured when a fire department ladder broke during the rescue attempts. Capt. Ellis Franklin hung upside down for 25 minutes on a broken 45-foot ladder before he could be rescued.

On the ground floor 650 persons attending three Christmas banquets were evacuated safely.

The hotel was sold by Steinfeld in 1963.

Asst. Fire Chief R. B. Slagel said construction of the building was completed in 1929 and it was not subject to building code safety changes made later.

Slagel said that "if there had been a sprinkler system, no one would have died."

The Rev. Quinton Montgomery, pastor of Green Hill Baptist Church where Mrs. Young was a member, will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in the Lawn Haven Memorial Gardens at San Angelo, with Bell-Seale Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Young is survived by a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Cooper of Snyder; three sisters, Mrs. Nannie Edwards of Winters, Mrs. S. T. Sands of Baytown and Mrs. Bill Hutton of Dayton; three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Chamber Picks New Directors

Members of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce have elected six new directors to serve two-year terms on the organization's board.

The six were elected from a field of 12 nominees which had been submitted earlier by a nominating committee. Ballots were distributed and returned by mail.

Elected to the board were J. L. Browning of Browning Realty; Jack Cummins, Dairy Queen; Bill Gilliland, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.; Jimmy McFarland, Sherwin-Williams Store; Paul Sizemore, Arrow Construction Co., and Loren Sullivan, J. C. Penney Co.

Directors whose terms expire are Max von Roeder, the 1970 president; Jay Rogers, Tommy Mills, Carl Whitfield, and Arel Faver. Also, Sullivan has been serving out the remainder of a term to which Jimmy Melton was elected and subsequently moved from the city.

Von Roeder, as the past president, will become an ex-officio member of the new board.

Hold over members of the present board who still have a year to serve on their terms are Mel Gilbert, Gene Best, H. F. Clark, Herbert Reed, E. W. Schrader and Guy Sullivan.

A special board meeting will be called within the next few days to select officers for 1970.

18-Years-Old Vote Approved By Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A splintered Supreme Court upheld today the key provision of the 1970 Federal Voting Rights Law, giving the vote to 18-year-olds in presidential and congressional elections.

At the same time, the court approved by a 8-1 vote the law's abolition of long residence requirements for voting for president and by a unanimous vote the suspension of literacy tests wherever they exist in the country for five years.

But the court turned around and ruled Congress has no power to order the states to allow 18-year-olds to vote in state and local elections.

These four conclusions by the court in judging the 1970 law were produced by four separate lineups. Justice Hugo L. Black was the key man so far as the 18-year-old vote was concerned.

The ruling in the last public session of the year took several hundred pages to set forth the justices' views.

On the 18-year-old issue, Justice Hugo L. Black swung the significant fifth vote. He and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall formed the majority to hold that Congress has the constitutional power to enfranchise 18-year-old citizens for national elections.

Then, Black swung to join Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Harry A. Blackmun to bar any interference by Congress with the age for voters set by the states for state and local elections.

Only Harlan dissented from the abolition of residence requirements of more than 30 days.

In other actions today, the court:

—Declined unanimously to review the 1967 conviction of former Senate aide Robert G. "Bobby" Baker on larceny, income tax evasion and other charges.

—Agreed to decide whether Arizona's plan reapportioning legislative districts by using voter registration figures should be blocked.

—Received a plea from attorneys for Angela Davis asking the court to stay her pending extradition from New York to California on murder and kidnap charges until she can file an appeal.

The 1970 law had lowered the voting age to 18 for all kinds of elections—national, state and local beginning Jan. 1—11 days from now.

Oregon and Texas had sued in the court against enforcement of the 18-year-old provision, Arizona had fought the literacy test ban and Idaho had opposed both the residence and 18-year-old provisions.

The states maintain the law takes away from them powers reserved to the states by the Constitution to control their own elections.

Black traced to 1819 Supreme Court recognition of the power of Congress to regulate national elections.

He said if Congress could rearrange districts according to population and could supervise voting to prevent fraud, as the court has said, Congress certainly has the authority to permit 18-year-old citizens to vote in all federal elections.

"I would hold, as have a long line of decisions in this court, that Congress has ultimate supervisory power over congressional elections," Black said.

"Similarly," he said, "it is the prerogative of Congress to oversee the conduct of presidential and vice presidential elections and to set the qualifications for voters for electors for those offices. It cannot be seriously contended that Congress has less power over the conduct of presidential elections than it has over congressional elections."

Rivers Revived By Physician

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D—S.C., suffered a "sudden cessation of heart action" at University Hospital but was revived by a physician, a hospital spokesman said today.

Rivers, 65-year-old chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, underwent surgery Dec. 11 to replace a faulty heart valve with a plastic one. He had spent a restful weekend and Sunday night the hospital reported it would stop issuing daily reports on his condition "because his recovery process has followed a consistently normal pattern for several days."

But a short time after the statement was issued, the spokesman said, Rivers' heart stopped beating.

"Fortunately," the spokesman said, "a resident physician was just a few feet away and resuscitative measures were begun promptly.

"These were effective in restoring a normal heart action. All indications at present are that brain and heart action are again normal.

"However, this event is a serious one and its occurrence renders the patient seriously ill."

DDD Is Slated Here Jan. 17

Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) will be introduced in Snyder and Hermleigh on Jan. 17.

Bill Gilliland, manager for Southwestern Bell, said that the new telephone service will enable customers in the two towns to dial their own station-to-station long distance calls.

"Southwestern Bell is pleased to provide this service improvement for telephone customers in Snyder and Hermleigh," Gilliland said. "We are interested in providing the best possible service for our customers."

Installation and testing of necessary equipment for the conversion is nearing completion.

With introduction of DDD, Southwestern Bell no longer will have telephone operators in Snyder.

"The operator unit will close because DDD will handle a great portion of long distance traffic which now is routed through operators," Gilliland said.

Southwestern Bell operators here now handle long distance calls placed from Snyder and Gail. Hermleigh calls currently are handled by Sweetwater operators. After the conversion, calls from Snyder and Gail which require operator assistance will also be routed to Sweetwater. Gail is not converting to DDD, so all long distance calls from there will go through Sweetwater operators.

All regular Snyder operators have been provided opportunity to transfer to other Southwestern Bell locations.

"DDD probably will handle at least one-third of the calls now handled by Snyder operators," Gilliland said.

With DDD a maximum of 11 digits will be dialed for a station-to-station call. Customers will dial "1" for access to the DDD network, the three-digit Area Code and the seven-digit number being called.

For calls to other telephones in the 915 Area, Snyder and Hermleigh residents will dial only eight digits — "1" and the seven-digit number. The 915 Area Code will not be required.

More Water For Oil Field Units

An agreement has been reached under which the City of Midland will reduce its water requirements from the Colorado River Municipal Water District during winter months so the district can help keep alive oil field repressuring units in the area.

The net effect is one of redistribution without increasing the total volume of water, said O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD.

Midland's own production facilities are ample for its winter needs, hence it can get along at this time of the year without all or part of the 6,200,000 gallons it has been taking daily from the CRMWD under terms of its contract.

The district plans to buy back that portion of the Midland contract gallonage which it can resell to the oil companies in order to keep their repressuring units operative. Some units have had to seriously curtail operations or entirely shut down. In either instance, this has presented a threat of serious damage or loss of efficiency to secondary recovery programs, said Ivie.

The arrangement, according to the general manager, offers several benefits. One is that this will maintain revenues at required levels for the district while it seeks to cooperate with the oil companies. Another is to soften for a time the Midland financial obligations under terms of its contract with the district.

In addition, noted Ivie, the aid to secondary recovery operations will make a substantial contribution to the economy of this area which is so dependent on the well-being of the oil industry. Jobs and values are wrapped up in the productive capacity of the companies.

"This will not draw on our surface reserves to any greater extent than previously anticipated," said Ivie. "At the same time, it can work to the advantage of the entire area."

Among oil operations affected may be the SACROC unit in Scurry County, Atlantic-Richfield and Standard and the Walsh & Watts unit in Howard, and Sun Oil in Coke County.

CHRISTMAS PARTY — The Snyder Jaycees took these youngsters on a "shopping spree" in Snyder Saturday afternoon, then they held a Christmas Party for them at the First United Methodist Church. Each child was given $5 to spend on the "shopping spree." This is an annual project of the Jaycees.

Hubby blames all on 'dumb' women

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always criticizing women. He says the worst thing that ever happened to this country is when they gave women the right to vote. He says they are nowhere near as intelligent as men, and all women should be kept pregnant or barefoot.

Whenever he sees a driver do something dumb, he says, "That has got to be a dame!" He blames everything from the San Francisco earthquake to the Chicago fire on the stupidity of women. Next time he starts up with me about how dumb women are, what can I say to shut him up?

BELLE IN BROOKLYN

DEAR BELLE: Ask him why he didn't remain a bachelor.

DEAR ABBY: When I went overseas I had a girl who promised she would wait for me. We went together since eighth grade. Her letters kept me going, and I slept with her picture next to my heart every night. After I got home I found out she had been running around with other guys since the day I left. Everybody knew it but me. Her mother told me she kept on writing to me like everything was the same between us because she didn't want to break down my spirits while I was away.

She's getting married to a guy she's only known a month. I still love her, Abby. Please tell me how I can get over her?

"GONE TO POT"

DEAR GONE: You can get over her by facing the facts. She is marrying someone else. If she started to run around on you the day after you left, she's no bargain. Better to have had a cheating girl friend than a cheating wife. Maybe you're luckier than the guy she's marrying.

DEAR ABBY: I have read with much interest thru the years of your encounters with women who write, "My husband likes to wear lace panties, what shall I do?" Or, "Is my husband perverted because he sleeps in a nylon nightie?" Your answers usually reflect wisdom and compassion.

I am a 49-year-old man who has been wearing women's clothing for at least 40 years. I find much comfort in a corset, nylons and bloomers under my male attire.

My wife is very understanding, and has always helped me to obtain feminine clothing. We have raised three fine children. I am very masculine (outwardly) and have been a semi-trailer driver, racing car driver, and I enjoy other manly sports. I have never had any type of homosexual tendencies or desires. So, as long as I don't bother anybody, what is wrong with dressing as I wish in the privacy of my home?

If you use my letter, please sign me . . .

"NORMAL" IN BEAVER DAM, WIS.

DEAR NORMAL: Nothing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE MEN OF THE 8TH SECURITY POLICE SQUADRON (COMBAT): If you aren't putting me on, I am delighted to be your pinup girl of the month. But the above address is insufficient. Complete the address and you shall have my picture for the POLICE BULLETIN BOARD. (P. S. I hope you realize, it is only a "head" shot.)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Parents Battle Over Burial Site

DALLAS (AP) — The body of Pfc. Jesse Lynn Kestler was taken off a 727 Boeing jet airliner Sunday for his Dallas funeral—the second step in a court-ordered arrangement that will end with his burial in Arlington National Cemetery this week.

Kestler, 20, an Army infantryman, was killed in Vietnam combat on Nov. 12, about three months into his 12-month Asian duty tour. A military vehicle on which he was riding struck a mine.

Shortly after Kestler's body arrived at a California Army base, a courtroom battle over custody of the body erupted between his divorced mother and father.

The mother, Mrs. Betty L. Loebach of Ontario, Calif., sought to have the funeral and burial there. Dale Kestler of Dallas, the father, filed a suit in federal court in San Francisco Nov. 26 to block those arrangements.

The father said his former wife wanted to bury the soldier under "the alias name of Jesse Lynn Loebach." He said he wanted his son buried as Jesse Lynn Kestler, which he said was the youth's legal name.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert C. Wollenberg last week ordered in San Francisco that the soldier be buried in Arlington National Cemetery as Jesse Lynn Kestler.

The mother was allowed to have the body for two days in Ontario for funeral services there, and the father now has the body for funeral services in Dallas.

Funeral services in Dallas will be held Tuesday. Kestler said he is not sure his ex-wife will attend. Military graveside services will be held Wednesday in Arlington National Cemetery.

Fog Cloaks Texas Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fog and drizzle cloaked broad stretches of Texas this morning, making streets and highways slippery.

Visibility occasionally shrank below two miles and air and surface travel were impeded.

The misty weather spread over the state's central, north and northeast sections after a cold front drove to the Gulf Coast Sunday and started back north as a warm front. Temperatures were generally mild except in the north part of the Texas Panhandle, where it was freezing.

Early today the frontal system lay stalled along a line from Cotulla to Lufkin. Clouds covered the eastern three-fourths of Texas and it was at least partly cloudy elsewhere.

Light showers ranged through North Central Texas into Oklahoma, ranging also into the southeast part of the Texas Panhandle.

Sometimes heavy thundershowers fell in the northeast section of the state Sunday afternoon. Longview measured 1.47 inches and across the state line in Louisiana, Shreveport received 2.95 inches.

Temperatures climbed Sunday afternoon to 81 degrees at Alice, 82 at Brownsville and 83 at McAllen in extreme South Texas while to the north it was only 41 at Childress and 43 at Texarkana.

Readings near dawn today ranged from 30 degrees at Dalhart up to 73 at Brownsville.

Man Charged In Dallas Robbery

DALLAS (AP) — Two men invaded a fashionable North Dallas apartment, tied up a woman and kidnaped her husband Sunday, seeking to force him to open a discount store's safe.

His wife worked free after the intruders left and notified police, who rescued Isadore S. Segal, 61, in the darkened store.

Officers seized a man they identified as Mark Howard, 32, of Hollywood, Calif., and charged him with armed robbery. He was ordered held without bond.

A second man, about 30 and last seen disguised in a ski mask and false teeth, was sought.

Police related these details:

Segal, expecting guests, answered a back door buzzer about 2:30 p.m. and two men herded him inside at gunpoint.

After telling Segal they intended to rob the safe at one of the Medallion department stores, which he heads as president, one bandit escorted Segal to his car and they drove to the store.

The other man tied the hands of Segal's wife Edith loosely with rope, assured her they would not harm her husband and talked with an apparent confederate, either in person or by telephone. He left after about 15 minutes.

At the store, Segal was forced to turn off an alarm system and entered at the back with his captor. The gunman found a pry bar and hammer in the stock, forced open a snack bar cash box and took $306.

They proceeded to the office and Segal was directed to open the safe. He insisted he did not know the combination, but the bandit pried open a desk and found it written on a piece of paper.

Because the safe was protected by a time lock, it was still closed as police quietly surrounded the building and began a search for Segal.

As patrolmen Eugene Jones and J. W. York reached a darkened hallway, Segal and his captor emerged from the office and headed toward the back door.

As Jones shouted and levelled a 12 gauge shotgun, Segal slipped around a corner and out of the line of fire. With one hand gripping a pistol in his coat pocket, the robber froze.

Jones and York quickly disarmed their prisoner.

Officers said the man in custody told them he arrived here Saturday from Hollywood but imparted little other information, refusing to tell anything about his confederate.

Russia Pledges Aid To Egypt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Soviet Union said today it is prepared to expand military and economic aid to Egypt.

A Kremlin communique said the pledge was made to Vice President Ali Sabry and other Egyptian visitors at a meeting in Moscow.

Sabry met in the Kremlin with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Another round of talks was set for Tuesday. The Egyptians arrived in Moscow on Sunday.

Tass, reporting the arrival of Egyptians for an eight-day visit, said the Soviet government had pledged "to give all-round support to the U.A.R. in its struggle against Israeli imperialist aggression."

The Soviet news agency also reported that a senior Communist party emissary in Cairo had "reaffirmed the Soviet Union's steady resolve" to back the Egyptians. This tended to confirm predictions by diplomatic sources in Moscow that Sabry and his delegation will get pretty much what they want.

Informants in the Soviet capital said the Egyptians and the Russians would also discuss joint diplomatic action to cope with the possibility of Israel's returning to the U.N. peace talks that have been dormant since September. U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring is to report to the Security Council Jan. 5 on the prospects for his mission to negotiate a Middle East peace settlement, and Arab diplomats in Moscow say they expect Israel to rejoin the talks before the end of January.

Israel left the talks after accusing Egypt of violating the cease-fire by moving Soviet antiaircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

The Israeli Cabinet met in Jerusalem Sunday and once again postponed its decision to return to the talks. An announcement said only that "a political discussion commenced and will continue at the next Cabinet session."

The Israeli government has indicated willingness to rejoin the talks, but is seeking certain U.S. military and political commitments before it does.

Arab saboteurs fired two rockets into a residential section of Jerusalem Sunday, and one exploded harmlessly in a vacant lot near an unfinished building that will become the residence of President Zalman Shazar. The second damaged a doctor's home 500 yards away, but no one was hurt.

Three Mishaps Logged Here

Minor damage resulted from three motor vehicle mishaps investigated by City Police over the weekend.

The first one occurred at 9:09 p.m. Saturday in the 1400 block of Avenue E. It was a one-car mishap. Damage to the 1967 Model Mercury of Randall Ray Beard, 3100 Forty-first Street, was estimated at $400.

Only one car was involved in a mishap on Avenue T at Seventeenth Street at 1:42 a.m. Sunday. Damage to the 1959 Model Ford of Howard Lee Murphree, Route 3, was placed at $200.

The other collision occurred at 5:24 p.m. Sunday on Avenue E at Twenty-first Street. Involved were the 1963 Model Ford of Rosuena Garcia Alarcon, 606 Twenty-fourth Street, and the 1969 Model Ford of Gary Buel Fulfer, Box 944, Snyder. Damage to Fulfer's car was placed at $125, and damage to the other one was set at $50.

Objection To Courthouse Plan

Mrs. J. E. Sorrells of the Knapp Community appeared at the regular meeting of County Commissioners this morning.

She voiced an objection to changing the outside of the county courthouse. Commissioners said they would take note of her exception to tentative plans to remodel the courthouse.

The commissioners court last week instructed the architect, J. D. Hinton, to proceed with development of working plans for remodeling the courthouse building. The tentative plans approved call for vast remodeling of the inside of the building and new exterior improvements.

The Miracle At Derrick, Texas

By LUISE PUTCAMP JR

SYNOPSIS: Not one of the orphans really wants Christopher to sing with them in the carol festival. But who can tell him? "If we all changed our minds about Christopher," says Peggy, "that would be almost a miracle!" And then Ann remembers nobody drew Christopher's name for a Christmas present.

CHAPTER XI

Big Night

Fred Ketchum, arriving early in his good blue suit, turned on the lights in the High School Auditorium and looked around. You could sure tell it was the big night. The ladies on the decorating committee had done themselves proud this year.

Big green branches crowded the corners and bright bits of holly hung over the doors. All the lights had red bows on them and there was a good smell in the air—the smell of Christmas.

Behind Fred the front doors opened. He straightened his tie and turned around to greet the first comers to the carol festival.

"Howdy Fred!" they said. "You usherin' again this year?" and "Evenin', Fred. How's things down at the drug store?"

The women smiled and the men slapped him on the back. For the first time since that day he'd played Santa Claus in the old town square, Fred Ketchum began to feel Christmasy. Even in Derrick, Texas—the place where he'd said it was a wonder Christmas ever came.

But Fred still felt bad about that Orphanage deal. Mighty bad.

Fred watched folks hurry down the aisles and settle into the hard seats and squirm out of their coats and look around to hello the ones they knew. It was a funny thing, he thought. Some came to the carol festival every year to hear the singing. But some came just because it was the thing to do, or to get in out of the cold, or because they didn't want to sit home one more night looking at each other.

The women smiled and the men slapped him on the back.

You take old Mrs. Bittrell. Here she came now. "Evenin', Fred," she said. "Where's your Santa Claus suit?" She cackled all the way to her seat. She came, Fred thought, because she was afraid she'd miss something if she didn't.

Or Banker Skrind. "Fred," he nodded, passing by. Fred nodded too, and looked after Skrind as he marched down, several paces behind Mrs. Skrind. He came every year just because she made him come.

And oh man—there was Gus Derek, all done up in his solid gold derrick cuff links and his fancy boots and his big hat. Derek came because he was giving the big prize. When a man gives away $10,000, he wants people to see him do it. Derek took a solitary seat in the front row.

And then, Fred thought, some people came to hear their kids, or the neighbor's kids.

There were four schools trying for the prize. There was the Driller's Dell Grammar school, where the rosy-cheeked children of the oil field workers learned their ABC's. There was the Gusher Heights Grammar School, on the side of the town where the reek of oil was richer than anyplace else. There was the high school. And then there was the Orphanage.

Of course nobody in Derrick, Texas ever came just to hear the orphans. Nobody even cared if the orphans sang at all. Maybe, thought Fred, that's why the Orphanage had never yet won Gus Derek's prize in the carol festival, not in 15 years.

The lights in the auditorium went down and the hubbub of voices hushed abruptly. Fred Ketchum closed the doors and slid into a seat in the last row.

In this moment, just after the lights went down and just before the worn velvet curtains swung back on the stage, it always seemed as if something important were about to happen.

But what could be more important than the carol festival in Derrick, Texas with $10,000 as the prize?

-NEXT: Competition.

Crime Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 10 per cent during the first nine months of this year compared with the same period in 1969, the FBI said today.

Robbery increased 15 per cent, murder 9 per cent, aggravated assault 7 per cent and forcible rape 2 per cent, the FBI said.

Armed robbery, which accounts for two-thirds of all robbery offenses, increased 18 per cent during the nine-month period, the FBI said, and aggravated assaults with firearms increased 10 per cent.

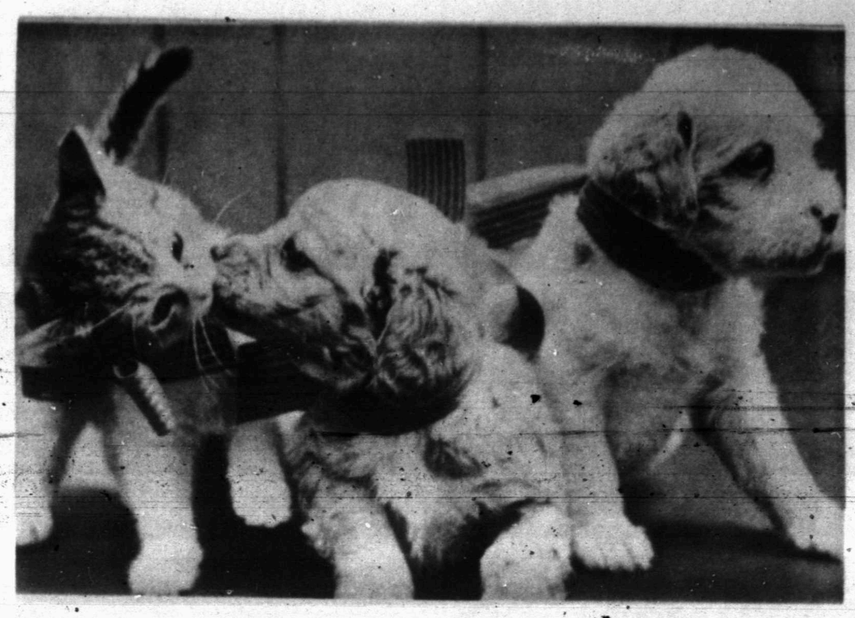

Among property crimes, larceny of $150 or more rose 14 per cent, burglary 9 per cent and auto theft 6 per cent, the report said.

Suburban areas recorded the largest crime increase—14 per cent, the report said, while crimes rose 9 per cent in rural areas and 6 per cent in cities of more than 250,000 population.

In a geographical breakdown, the FBI said Southern states reported a 14 per cent crime increase, North Central states a 10 per cent boost and Northern and Western states a 9 per cent hike.

Crime increases during the first three-quarters of previous years were 10 per cent in 1966, 16 per cent in 1967, 19 per cent in 1968 and 11 per cent in 1969.

Nearly 10,000 full-blooded aborigines still live in Western Australia, more than half in the tropic north, where they labor as iron miners, irrigation workers, and cowboys.

Peebles Gets Image Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Marvin Van Peebles, who directed and scored Columbia Pictures' "Watermelon Man," has been named winner of the 1970 Image Award for the best score of a motion picture. The Image Awards are presented annually by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in recognition of outstanding achievement in all fields of entertainment.

"Watermelon Man," starring Godfrey Cambridge and Estelle Parsons, is a satire about a bigoted white suburbanite who awakens one morning to discover he has turned black.

Training Tips For Veterans

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Here's a clip-and-save list of educational and training resources for the returning veteran, compiled by the American Legion:

1. STATE HELP. A good starting point is to check the laws of the state where you reside for possible benefits. If the college or vocational school you wish to attend is unable to give you the information, try writing to the State Guidance Director (get the address from your state employment service office or nearest U.S. Veterans Assistance Center)

2. "NEED A LIFT?" is a 130-page booklet full of useful information on financial aid (both for veterans and nonveterans) worth far more than the 50 cents it costs. Order from the American Legion, Dept. S., P.O. Box 1055, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206.

3. LEEP. This is a program administered by the Law Enforcement Education Program, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530. It provides financial aid for college studies by police, courts and corrections employees and students preparing for careers in these fields. Loans can be repaid simply by staying in the law enforcement field. LEEP benefits can be coordinated with GI benefits – you don't have to give up one to get the other.

4. GUARANTEED LOANS. For college and vocational school students, this program authorizes loans negotiated between the student and local lending institution to cover educational expenses. Eligibility does depend on adjusted family income but standards are liberal enough that many veterans can qualify. Students with adjusted family incomes of less than $15,000 are eligible for Federal payment of interest charges of up to 7 percent of their loans during school years, prior to the repayment period and during authorized periods of deferment. Students who pursue qualified higher education or vocational courses may borrow up to $1,500 a year. If you're interested, discuss the matter with your bank, savings and loan institution, credit union, other lender or the financial aid officer of the school you wish to attend.

5. WORK-STUDY. The National Commission for Cooperative Education, 52 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017, has a free list (enclose return envelope) of 201 colleges and universities that offer programs of cooperative education. Included among the work-study programs are engineering, liberal arts, business administration, education, pharmacy and nursing. During the 1969-70 school year, 85,000 students were earning over 200 million dollars toward the cost of their education under cooperative education plans.

6. FEDERAL. The Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, as amended, provides occupational training for unemployed and under-employed persons, to equip them with skills so they may secure and maintain suitable full-time employment. Courses vary in length, depending on the occupation for which the training is offered. Training may be given in public or private school facilities, or on the job. Training allowances up to 104 weeks may be paid to unemployed persons selected for training and who have had a year's work experience, including active military service. Interested applicants should visit their State employment service office to determine eligibility and range of training courses available.

7. BOOK. "The Occupational Outlook Handbook," published by the U.S. Department of Labor contains information on some 700 occupations. See a copy in a school or library, or purchase for $6.25 by ordering from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402 (enclose check). Another publication available from the Superintendent of Documents, for $1.00, is the "Veterans' Reemployment Rights Handbook" – discusses such subjects as an explanation of who is eligible for reemployment rights, applying for reemployment, position to be offered and rate of pay.

Study Urged On Housing

AUSTIN (AP) — After studying Texas' housing needs for 14 months, the Texas Research League recommended today a study to determine the housing situation in Texas.

A "preliminary report was delivered to Gov. Preston Smith, who asked the league on Oct. 10, 1969, to study the state's role in the housing field and make "specific recommendations for necessary action."

"It is essential that the State of Texas develop the factual basis for determining its own role in the 1970s as soon as possible," the league said.

The league said the first step is to set a standard on what is decent housing.

It said the governor's office should use with "a competent survey research firm" to conduct 5,000 on-site inspections and interviews to estimate conditions of housing in the state according to "the set of pretested standards."

From this data, the governor's staff should develop basic criteria to be used statewide to monitor the condition of housing.

Tigers Fall,62-60, In Double Overtime

Ft. STOCKTON — Snyder's Tigers, otherwise known as the cardiac kids, were involved in another basketball tilt that went down to the wire here Saturday night as they dropped a 62-60 decision to the host Fort Stockton team in the finals. The game went into double overtime.

At the end of regulation play each team had 60 points. Neither team was able to score in the first overtime. Then, in the second overtime, Eiijio Carillo, who had scored only two points in the previous five periods, hit a 30 foot jump shot with just two seconds showing on the clock to give the hosts the victory.

It was close all the way: The score was tied 12-12 after one period, and Snyder led 34-30 at halftime. The Tigers still led 48-46 after three periods, but the hosts were able to tie it up and send the game into overtime.

Dubby Preston and Tommy Washington, both of whom made the all-tournament team, led Snyder scorers with 23 and 19 points, respectively. Fort Stockton had four boys in double figures: Fallen with 19, Slay with 13, Blanco with 13, and Salcide with 10.

The Bengals had a hot night from the field, hitting 14 of 20 shots for 70 per cent in the first half and 9 of 25 for 36 per cent in the second half. At the line, the Tigers put in six of 12 for 50 per cent in the first half and eight of 15 for 53 per cent in the second half. Fort Stockton connected on 10 of 21 shots from the field for 49 per cent in the first half and 11 of 31 for 35 per cent in the second half.

The Tigers scored one more shot from the floor than Fort Stockton did, but the hosts held a 18-14 edge at the free throw line and this provided the margin of victory.

Snyder pulled 46 rebounds off the boards. Preston and Washington each claimed 12, and Jerry Brooks grabbed eight.

It was a rough contest with Jerry Brooks, Preston and Washington all fouling out for Snyder. Slay fouled out for Fort Stockton.

The Tigers defeated Crane 66-63 in another close game in the semifinals with Preston sparking the attack with 20 points. Jerry Brooks roped 14 points, Bid Cooper put in 12, and Kent Horsley netted 11. High point men for Crane were Andregg, Ward and Neal with 18, 13 and 13 points respectively.

Snyder trailed 25-24 after one period and 35-33 at halftime. But they took command at 54-51 in the third period and the fourth frame was a standoff.

Washington fouled out for Snyder in the semifinals.

The Tigers had another respectable record on shooting as they hit 12 of 24 field shots for 50 per cent in the first half and 12 of 25 for 48 per cent in the second half. At the line, the Tigers hit nine of 12 for 75 per cent and nine of 16 for 56 per cent.

Snyder now is 11-3 for the campaign. The Tigers will meet Dunbar in Lubbock Jan. 2 in their next game, and it will be a district encounter.

Owls Name Peterson Head Football Coach

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University, which hasn't had a winning football team since 1963, has hired Florida State University coach Bill Peterson to bring it out of the woods.

Peterson will be both head coach and athletic director at Rice, which lately has been noted more for scholarship in the Southwest Conference.

Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of Rice, said Sunday that Peterson will take over his new duties immediately.

Peterson drew $30,000 a year at Florida State. Hackerman refused to say what he will be paid at Rice under a five-year contract.

The new coach will replace Harold "Bo" Hagan, who resigned in November with three games to go. Rice won all three of the remaining games and would up with a 5-5 record, tying for third in the Southwest Conference with Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

Peterson has led the independent Seminoles, who have vainly sought Southeastern Conference membership, to 62 victories in his 11 years at Florida State.

Previously Peterson was an assistant to Paul Dietzel at Louisiana State, including 1948 when the Tigers won the national championship.

Talking to newsmen in Tallahassee, Peterson said Rice's membership in the Southwest Conference was one of the reasons he was coming here.

"It's just a great regret that I leave here," he said. "But I think Rice is a great University and it presents a great challenge. That's about all I can say."

Rice's 72,000-seat stadium, Astroturfed this year, is regarded as one of the finest in the nation, Peterson said, adding, "My job is to fill that stadium. The president said he wanted a winning team, and that impressed me."

Peterson was known to be unhappy with growing student opposition to big-time football at Forida State. A protest led by student body president Chuck Sherman forced its board of regents to investigate the football program this year. The regents concluded that football should not be scaled down.

Hackerman said any decisions about what assistants would be kept at Rice would have to wait until Peterson arrived. He has scheduled a news conference for Tuesday in Houston.

The Rice president did say that A. M. Bale, who has been intermathletic director since Hagan's resignation, would stay on as assistant athletic director and Charley Moore, a Rice grid assistant for 20 years, will remain at the school.

In his 11 years at Florida State, Peterson has produced four bowl teams and such All-Americans as Fred Biletnickoff, who now plays for Oakland, and Ron Sellers, a pro at Boston.

Peterson's best year at Florida State was 1964, when the Seminoles went 8-1-1 and beat Oklahoma 36-19 in the Gator Bowl.

Impressive Cowboys Win Eastern Crown

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bengals threw perfectionist Paul Brown's playoff timetable off by two years but the Dallas Cowboys' five-week plan was right on schedule.

As a result, both of those teams—along with the San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Miami Dolphins—won their way into the National Football League playoffs with impressive victories Sunday, joining the Minnesota Vikings, Baltimore Colts and Oakland Raiders, who made it earlier.

Among the disappointed were the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs, Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals. Even winning didn't help the Rams and Browns, while the other three pretenders all lost.

The road to the Jan. 17 Super Bowl in Miami begins next Saturday with Cincinnati at Baltimore and Detroit at Dallas. On Sunday, it's San Francisco at Minnesota and Miami at Oakland, with the winners meeting for the National and American Conference titles Jan. 3.

The other 18 teams can devote their attention to next month's college draft, with the Boston Patriots getting first pick thanks to their 2-12 record, worst in pro football.

The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 45-7 rout of Boston that gave them the AFC Central Division championship, at the same time insuring that the Patriots would get the pick of the college crop.

Brown, who beat out the Cleveland team he once coached by one game, called it a "personal dream come true. I didn't know we could do this well."

Running back Essex Johnson said when the expansion Bengals were born in 1968, Brown told the players it would take five years to mold a winning team.

The Bengals scored the first seven times that had the ball Sunday. Virgil Carter passed for one touchdown before an injury forced hin to give way to Sam Wyche, who threw for two more and scored one himself. It was Cincinnati's seventh consecutive victory following a six-game losing streak.

Dallas smashed Houston 52-10 and captured the NFC East title as the Giants bowed to Los Angeles 31-3. Craig Morton of the Cowboys passed for 349 yards and five touchdowns, with Bob Hayes grabbing four of them.

Five wins in a row enabled the Cowboys to finish at 10-4 and erased the doubts they had when they had a so-so 5-4 record after an embarrassing 38-0 loss to St. Louis.

John Brodie's three scoring passes paced the 49ers to the first championship in their 25-year history with a 38-7 romp over Oakland. Had the 49ers lost, they would have lost the NFC West to Los Angeles and missed the playoffs, as well.

Brodie was nailed by the opposition only eight times all season, breaking the record of nine set last year by the New York Jets.

Roman Gabriel threw to Pat Studstill for the first two Los Angeles scores against the suddenly inept Giants, but the result from Oakland made losers of the Rams on a day when they played "the best game we have played in a couple of years," according to defensive tackle Merlin Olsen.

Detroit and Miami wound up with 10-4 records and made the playoffs with the best second-place records in their respective conferences.

The Lions blanked Green Bay 20-0 behind return specialist Lem Barney, who ran 49 yards to score with an interception, raced 65 yards with a punt to set up another touchdown and put the ball in field goal position with a 74-yard kickoff return.

The Dolphins blasted Buffalo 45-7 for their sixth straight win and the highest point total and most one-sided victory in their five-year existence. Jim Kiick barreled into the end zone three times and Larry Csonka set up two scores with a 54-yard run and a 54-yard pass reception.

The Chiefs, eliminated from a playoff shot by Miami's victory, then went out and bowed to San Diego 31-13 as Mike Garrett scored twice, including a 44-yard run on which he broke two tackles after taking a shovel pass from John Hadl on a busted play.

Later, Garrett insisted it was his farewell to football. The star running back said earlier in the year he was quitting to pursue a baseball career.

Cleveland presented Coach Blanton Collier with a retirement present in the form of a 27-13 triumph over Denver, with Bill Nelsen passing for two touchdowns and Bo Scott scoring two.

Sonny Jurgensen's passing and the running of Charley Harraway helped Washington to a 15-point lead over St. Louis and the Redskins held on for a 28-27 decision when Jim Bakken of the Cards, who earlier booted two long field goals, flubbed a 21-yarder with four minutes left.

Elsewhere, Minnesota trounced Atlanta 37-7 as quarterback Gary Cuozzo returned to action, Chicago beat New Orleans 24-3 on Jack Concannon's three TD tosses and Philadelphia snapped a tie in the final four minutes and defeated Pittsburgh 30-20.

Baltimore finished its regular season Saturday by whipping the Jets 35-20 as Earl Morrall threw four scoring passes.

Drake Slips Past TCU Frogs 79-78

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For a team with a 2-6 record, Texas Christian is getting some high praise from coach Maury John of ninth-ranked Drake.

"This is the best team we've played to date," John said of the Frogs after the Bulldogs, 6-0, had pulled to a 79-78 victory in the final two minutes Saturday.

"We were able to jump to good leads in each half but they wouldn't let us put them away.

"Simpson Degrate and Eone Kennedy were the difference. They kept TCU in this game."

Tom Bush netted a free throw with just 2:18 left to put the rugged Bulldogs head for good over the Frogs, who hit 60 per cent from the field to Drake's 49 per cent.

Southern Methodist's two straight losses in the Vanderbilt Invitational, coupled with Texas Tech's 73-69 victory over Southern Illinois Saturday, moved the two teams into a tie for the SWC lead with 4-3 records.

SMU was defeated by Clemson 67-51 in the consolation game and Arkansas downed Centenary 71-61 in other games Saturday.

Tech defeated the Salukis without junior college transfer Sam Seibert, who was declared scholastically ineligible and left the campus before the game.

Concerning Seibert's departure, Tech head coach Bob Bass said: "Every possible avenue was pursued by the Texas Tech basketball staff to encourage this young man in his academic progress. His failure was directly related to irregular class room attendance and neglect in making up missed work."

The SWC has an abbreviated schedule this week to make room for Christmas with only five games on tap. Missouri of St. Louis is at Arkansas tonight, Colorado plays at Tech Tuesday and on Wednesday, Southwest Texas is at Rice; Texas A&M is at Tulsa and Houston Baptist is at TCU.

Rambling WreckStops Raiders

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech's running machine smashed head on into the Rock Saturday in the 36th annual Sun Bowl.

The Rock didn't budge and neither did the 10 other pillars of granite composing Georgia Tech's defensive unit, as they led the Yellow Jackets to a 17-9 Sun Bowl victory over the Red Raiders.

It was the Georgians first appearance in the nation's third oldest post-season classic.

The Rock, who goes by the name of Rock Perdoni and who happens to be Georgia Tech's All-American defensive tackle, was in on 13 tackles Saturday despite playing with a bruised rib cage much of the second half.

The Yellow Jacket defense recovered three Texas Tech fumbles and intercepted three Red Raider passes. But that wasn't anything unusual for Georgia Tech's quick, aggressive defenders.

During the regular season, they forced their opponents to cough up the ball 29 times. The Yellow Jackets recovered 24 of them.

In the Pasadena Bowl, Louisville of the Missouri Valley Conference and long Beach State of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association battled to a 24-all standoff. Leon Burns, Long Beach State's Little All-American running back, scored his third touchdown of the game early in the final period to cap the 49ers' comeback and they knotted the score with a two-point conversion pass.

Hermleigh took a 11-9 lead in the first period, boosted it to 36-19 at half time, and coasted to victory.

Ramona Adams pitched in 32 points to lead the Hermleigh girls. Terri Medrano roped 21 points for Hobbs.

Reagan, B'wood Claim Prep Titles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1970 schoolboy football football season screeched to a halt Saturday after making some wacky tsists and turns along the way—but it saved some surprises for last.

Odessa Permian, conquerors of Wichita Falls, ran into playoff-wise Austin Reagan and lost 21-14, giving Reagan its third state Class AAAA championship in the past four years.

Brownwood came through as expected to blank Cuero 14-0 and cop the Class AAA title for the second year in a row. It marked Brownwood coach Gordon Wood's seventh state championship, most for any Texas schoolboy coach.

Iowa Park also grabbed its second straight state Class AA championship, but this year the Hawks have to make room for Refugio, which rallied for a 7-7 tie in their title clash Saturday. It snapped Iowa-Ark's 29-game winning streak.

The Class A champion is Sonora, which overwhelmed Pflugerville 45-6 to win its third state crown in five years.

Coach Travis Raven's Reagan Raiders put Permian behind 14-0 in the first quarter on a 6-yard plunge by Doug Mitchell and a 34-yard interception return by Scotty Senter. Mitchell scored again before halftime for the clincher.

Brownwood had to wait until the second half to put the winning points on the scoreboard. Cuero fought the Lions to a scoreless first half but two costly errors—a penalty and an interception finally gave Brownwood the crown—its fifth state title in 11 years.

Iowa Park held a 7-0 halftime lead on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Greg Frazier to Lee Dawson. But Refugio gained a share of the championship in the third quarter on a 25-yard scoring dash by Rudy Vela.

Milton Noel scored three times and Scott Jacoby hit paydirt two times to lead Sonora to its championship.

Poland Changes Economic Plans

By NICHOLAS LILLITOS
Associated Press Writer

WARSAW (AP) — Poland's new Communist leadership indicates it will revise the economic plans that spawned last week's rioting and will maintain total allegiance to Moscow.

Otherwise, its future course is unclear. Western observers consider the new party First Secretary Edward Gierek a dedicated Communist identified with neither the liberal nor the nationalistic party factions.

Radio Warsaw reported Sunday that Gierek, the party's top economist and party secretary of Silesia, had replaced Wladyslaw Gomulka, who resigned along with President Marian Spychalski and three other members of the Politburo. Apparently Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz was not affected.

Gierek's success in keeping his home province quiet, was seen as a key to his promotion. As bloody riots shook Gdansk, Gdynia, Sopot, Szczecin and Slupsk—shipbuilding, seaport and industrial centers in the north—workers remained quiet in industrial Silesia, where violence was widespread during the bread riots that brought Gomulka to power in 1956.

Last week's disturbances began after the Gomulka regime raised prices 17 to 20 per cent on food, clothing and other essentials in a prelude to a new five-year plan that was to begin next month.

In a television address after his elevation, Gierek said: "We will have to reconsider carefully the problem of the economic plan for next year and for the whole five-year period."

Radio Warsaw said the party's Central Committee instructed the new regime to consider "possibilities for improving the material situation of low-wage families with many children, who, as a result of the change in prices, have suffered most severe losses in their budgets."

Observers anticipated bonuses or wage raises will be given to compensate for the increased living costs.

Snyderite In Army Excercise

FT. GREELY, Alaska—Army Sergeant Troy C. Pinkerton Jr., whose parents live at 2306 Twenty-sixth Street, Snyder, recently participated in Exercise Acid Test III, a northern warfare training operation conducted at Ft. Greely from Nov. 30 to Dec. 14.

Combined forces of the Canadian Army and Air Force joined with the U. S. Army, Alaska elements and elements of the Alaskan Air Command and Air National Guard in tactical maneuvers designed to train and to test individuals in cold weather warfare.

During the exercise, air drops of men and supplies, air reconnaissance, tactical air strikes (without ammunition), and air mobile lifts of fighting forces by helicopters supplemented the usual foot and vehicle movement of combat forces on the ground.

Approxumately 4700 soldiers and airman participated in Acid Test III and about 500 vehicles and 100 aircraft were utilized. Sgt. Pinkerton is regularly stationed at Ft. Wainwright as a squad leader with Company A, 6th Battalion of the 171st Infantry Brigade's 9th Infantry. He entered the Army in May, 1969, and completed basic training at Ft. Bliss.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1966 graduate of Snyder High School. He also attended West Texas State University.

SST Delaying Adjournment

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today held the key to congressional adjournment but remained locked in debate over the controversial supersonic transport—SST—program.

Senate sources say once the SST fight is resolved disputes over other bills can be settled quickly. But they admit the prospects of this occurring before Christmas are dim.

SST supporters tried Saturday to shut off debate on the program but the move was rejected 48-42. A new effort is scheduled Tuesday but there seems little chance supporters can gain the necessary two-thirds vote.

The roadblocks to adjournment all lie in the Senate, largely due to changes made by Senate-House conference committees trying to compromise differences in bills passed by each chamber. Most of the changes go against the position the Senate has taken.

Besides the SST controversy, a break is believed near in a stalemate over U.S.-Southeast Asia policy, but the Senate is making only slow progress on the massive Social Security-welfare-trade bill.

The Senate took one test vote on President Nixon's family assistance plan Saturday, rejecting 65-15 a move to kill the proposal. However, there appeared no early sign of a vote on the plan itself.

The White House said over the weekend that President Nixon would force the 92nd Congress to convene immediately after the current session ends on Jan. 3 unless there is action on his legislation.

The President can do this by simply refusing to sign the congressional resolution that sets Jan. 21 for the next session to start.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

An army of nearly a quarter of a million ladybugs brought from California is helping fight an insect that ravages white pine trees in New York State.

The ladybugs, also known as ladybird beetles, are dining so well on white pine aphids that no one wants then to "fly away home" as the old nursery rhyme advises. They are better, cheaper and safer than pesticides, in ill-repute these anti-pollution days.

"It's an experiment, really," says Henry L. Diamond, New York State commissioner of Environmental Conservation. "We're controlling an insect problem without any pesticide —and that's something people want."

The 210,000 ladybugs, purchased and shipped to Lowville at a total cost of $45 last summer, were released in white pine fields early in August.

The ladybugs are substitutes for the pesticide malathion. Diamond said there were no known serious side effects of malathion but "it is good to be using nature's own way of controlling this insect."

"We're concerned and we've taken action on the pesticide problem," Diamond added. "Our department has adopted the nation's strictest pesticide controls, which call for banning 10 pesticides, including DDT." Some 60 others may be bought or used only under strict limitations in 1971.

Ladybugs get to aphids better than malathion. Spraying covers needles of seedlings but because the seedlings are close-packed, the spray doesn't reach bark where aphids live. The ladybugs have no trouble penetrating the dense leaves.

Another advantage is that ladybugs eat the aphids, disposing of the remains. Even dead aphids can be the source of infection since fungi feed on them.

Malathion requires six four-hour sprayings each summer to be effective, at considerable cost.

"We're hoping to get a new batch of ladybugs next spring from the larvae of these," said Bob Evans, nursery manager. "That way we'll have a natural recycling effect."

As a bonus, local ladybugs are doing well because malathion spraying, which killed many, has been discontinued.

The ladybugs appear to be doing the job. Researchers have noted fewer aphids in 1970 than on 1969 plants taken in for storage.

Plants grown in the nursery's white pine stand are distributed for use on state forest land and sold to private landowners.

The state also is investigating control of other insect populations by their natural predators.

Pecan Cream Cheese Pie

This delicious recipe, sometimes called Mystery Pie, is repeated on request.

2 packages (each 3 ounces) cream cheese
¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
4 large eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
¾ cup dark corn syrup
Unbaked 9-inch flaky pastry shell
1¼ cups coarsely chopped pecans

Beat together the cream cheese, ¼ cup of the sugar, 1 egg and 1 teaspoon of the vanilla until thick and smooth; reserve. Beat the remaining 3 eggs slightly; add corn syrup, remaining 2 tablespoons sugar and remaining 1 teaspoon vanilla; beat gently only until blended. Spread reserved cream-cheese mixture in the bottom of the pastry shell. Sprinkle with pecans. Gently pour the syrup mixture over the pecans. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven, on rack below center, until middle of pie filling is firm to the touch—35 to 40 minutes. Cool.

To carve a sirloin steak, remove the bone by cutting all the way around it. then cut steak across the grain and at a slight angle.

Securities Gaining In Popularity As Gifts

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Anelyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Last minute shoppers still have time to buy stocks, bonds and mutual funds for Christmas stocking stuffers, and perhaps in the process win themselves some tax benefits as well.

Securities have gained a bit in popularity as Christmas gifts in recent years, primarily because the laws governing such transactions have been simplified. But they also make fine gifts for graduations and birthdays, too.

In fact, because the market has a tendency to rally late in the year, the purchase of stock during the Christmas season could sometimes be more expensive than at other times of the year. But what gifts aren't?

Here are some questions and answers designed to simply this business.

How do I go about purchasing securities as gifts for minors?

In the same way you buy any stocks or bonds, by going to a broker and placing your order. Your broker has, or should be able to obtain, gift cards that may be presented immediately while the actual certificates are being made out.

One such card reads: "Announcing A Gift For Your Future. Congratulations. A share of American business has been given to (Name). It contains blanks for the names of the securities, the donor and the broker.

What are the advantages of securities as gifts?

There is a good chance they will grow in size or at least pay regular dividends. With college expenses expected to continue rising, some parents feel they must invest rather than merely save for a child's education.

Securities gifts have educational value in themselves, serving to introduce youngsters to the fortunes and misfortunes, the risks and rewards of the marketplace. Youngsters become participants rather than onlookers.

Most people, however, think of the tax advantages.

What are the tax advantages?

There are two: Some or all of the gift may be exempt from gift tax; and the income from the gift will be taxable to the child rather than the adult, which usually means a much lower rate or no tax payment at all.

Here are the specifics: A donor in his lifetime may give away $30,000 free of tax. In addition, he may give $3,000 a year to as many persons as he wishes without incurring any gift tax.

It means that two parents can give each child $6,000 a year and pay no tax. It means, in effect, that $6,000 has been transferred from a high tax bracket to an insignificant one. And the parents usually retain their $600 dependency deduction.

Who supervises the account?

The stocks or bonds may be put into a trust set up for the minor or they may be held in the name of the donor as custodian. Any adult member of the family can also serve as custodian. Such accounts are simple to open.

What does the custodian do?

He is empowered to collect, hold, manage, invest and reinvest the property in his custody. He may also pay over to the minor any or all of the property as he deems advisable, for support, maintenance and education of the minor.

When the youngster becomes 21, the custodian must turn over the property to him. If the custodian dies or becomes legally incapacitated, the youngster's guardian automatically assumes the role.

Are such gifts irrevocable?

Pretty much so. The Association of Stock Exchange Firms reminds donors that: "Once the gift is made, the donor cannot change his mind with regard to the amount or the minor to whom he is making the gift."

Junior Editors Quiz on HONEY BADGER

QUESTION: Can you tell me what a honey badger is?

ANSWER: Ask your class what a honey badger is and they'll probably reply "A badger which eats honey" — and that won't be far from the truth. There are, however, a number of points about this interesting little animal your class may not know about. What is it's real name? Ratel — "Honey badger" is a kind of nickname. Where does it live? Southwestern Asia, Africa, India. It is actually a badger? Actually, it is a member of the weasel family. Badgers are included in the weasel family, too, but belong to a different genus. Does the ratel only eat honey? No, it likes birds, insects, rats, snakes, as well. But when it does eat honey, why don't the bees sting it to death? That seems a good question — but the ratel has such long hair that the bees can't reach through to the skin. Our picture shows a very odd thing about the ratel. Most animals are dark above and light below; since there is almost always a shadow under the body, this arrangement makes them more difficult to see. But with the ratel, the light part is above and the dark below, much like the skunk. Why is this? We have not found the exact reason — you'll have to make your own guess.

Boyle Learns From Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Ninety per cent of U.S. women now work at some time during their lives. Married women work an average of 25 years, those who never marry 40 years.

Lo, the poor Indian, isn't a vanishing species. As a matter of fact, American Indians have increased since early in the century from 332,000 to nearly 600,000 today.

If you read for nine hours straight even at a slow rate, your eyes would have traveled across about a mile of print. The average slow reader covers 184 yards of type an hour.

Your pet pooch can prove who he is by his nose. A dog's noseprint is as infallible proof of his identity as a fingerprint is among human beings.

Don't worry about spoiling your baby by too much loving, mother. Some doctors believe that children rejected by their mothers not only fail to achieve good health but even fail to grow at a normal rate.

Too much sleep can make you dope. A study at a Boston hospital found that men who habitually slept nine hours or more a night tended to be introverted, passive and mildly depressed. Those who got along with six hours sleep, or even less, were more efficient, hard-working, and ambitious.

Pun of the week: Sign at Bromley Mountain, Manchester, Vt.: "We hope to ski you again."

Doctors against themselves: Psychiatrists are their own worst enemies. Their suicide rate—58 per 100,000—is the highest among medical specialists. The rate for doctors in all fields is 33 per 100,000.

Safety slogan: "When driving, it isn't the right-of-way that counts. It's the RIGHT way."

Worth remembering: "When you see what some girls marry, you realize how they must have hated to work for a living."

Odd Christmas customs noted by the National Geographic Society: Armenian Christians celebrate with boiled spinach, in the belief the Virgin Mary ate this vegetable the night before Christ was born. In southern Syria, children believe it is not Santa Claus but the youngest camel ridden by the Three Wise Men which brings them Christmas presents. So, the night before, they set out bowls of wheat and water for the small animal.

Called Revolution

LONDON (AP) — John Cardinal Heenan, Archbishop of Westminster, would like young people to see films of the notorious Nazi concentration camp at Belsen each year.

"They should be allowed to see what was done in the name of national purity and eugenics by 20th century man and women," he said in giving the Marlow lecture at the London School of Economics.

Often, he said, youth loudest in condemning world war were the most powerful agents for civil war.

"They call it revolution," he said. But translated into terms of torn flesh and streaming blood it means murder, rape and arson."

Abductor Arrested

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — A 6-year-old Atlanta, Ga., girl was in custody of juvenile authorities here and her alleged abductor was in jail being held for the FBI Sunday.

Detective C.J. Strickland said the child, Memie Renee Carter, was "well and happy."

Paris police arrested Joe Lee Bensing, 23, formerly of Atlanta, on an FBI warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Officers said they made the arrest Saturday night after the pair was found in a car at a drive-in theater.

Memie Renee was last seen more than two weeks ago when she walked away from an Atlanta supermarket toward her home. She carried a pair of nylon hose for her mother, Mrs. Geraldine Harvey, 19, and some penny candy for her brother and sister.

Gov. Lester Maddox posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the recovery of the child.
