Traders Compress Plans Major Expansion Locally

Traders Compress Company plans major expansion of its Wellington cotton compress and storage facility, according to an announcement this week by Robert S. Poston of Oklahoma City, president of the agricultural services firm.

"We are hopeful," Poston said, "of negotiating a compression and storage contract with local sources and our expansion plans generally are contingent upon the success of our negotiations."

Poston said the Wellington plant currently has a storage capacity of approximately 20,000 bales and employs about 20 people.

He said acquisition of the anticipated contract would prompt Traders' immediate installation at Wellington of new handling, weighing and sampling equipment requiring a capital investment of approximately $25,000. Poston said the firm's Wellington plant now represents an investment in excess of $125,000.

"The modernization program will provide a higher level of employment in the local market," Poston said.

He also announced that Don Milligan, who assumed the position of superintendent of Traders' Wellington plant plans to retire Sept. 1. Milligan, he said, has been employed by the firm since 1947 when he joined Traders as plant foreman in Hobart, Okla.

Upon Milligan's retirement, Poston said, the superintendent's position will be filled by Ed Holley of Tulsa, who has established residence in Shamrock. A native of Howard County, Holley's experience includes some 15 years in cotton processing.

Traders Compress has operated continuously since 1920. The firm acquired the Wellington facility in the early twenties, Poston said.

In recent years Traders has diversified its operation to include general agricultural services. Poston said the firm now has a subsidiary, Pioneer Products, Inc., which operates 17 outlets in Western Oklahoma for liquefied petroleum gas, engine fuels, agricultural ammonia and fertilizers. "Traders is growth and service minded," he said, "and if our negotiations here meet with success, we hope to initiate a continuing program of expansion in Wellington."

Farm Bureau, Farmers Union

Farm Organizations Give Joint Statement

A joint statement has been issued by the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau and Collingsworth County Farmers Union on certain major policies on which both organizations agree.

A meeting was held June 1 by a committee from the Farm Bureau which consists of Ray Null, Danny Davis, Doug Coleman, Dee Coleman and Earl Patterson, and a committee from Farmers Union made up of Rudie Tate, Doug Seal, Delbert White, Elbert Watts, Dan Henard Jr., and Dudley Phipps. Mr. Tate was elected chairman and Mr. Seal secretary. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss policies which both organizations agree on.

The joint statement follows: Why is there more than one general farm organization? Why don't all people belong to the same church? Why is it that one automobile is accepted by one individual and completely rejected by another. Why is it that all breeders don't raise the same breed of cattle? Why does one boy love a Collie dog and another a German Shepherd?

It also sets the pattern for various organizations to cooperate, but not on all policy matters. If farm organizations obtain unity it would be forced and not voluntary.

During the meeting the no-limitation provision on pending farm legislation was discussed. At that time it was voted unanimously to have no limitations approved.

It was discussed that if the farmers were to be limited, then all other government-subsidy programs should also be limited. In the "Government Subsidy Historical Review," of 1960, published by the Committee on Agriculture, some interesting facts were exposed about government subsidy programs. Some of these programs in the agriculture department were deceptive.

For example, the total expenditure was $5,760 million but only $2,622 million went to —See back page

Heart Attack Fatal to Quail School Head

Ed P. Haynie, 62, superintendent of the Quail Schools, and veteran Texas-Oklahoma educator, died of a heart attack in a Shamrock Hospital at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, June 24.

He had gone to the family doctor after becoming ill at home and died after being admitted to the hospital. Mr. Haynie had been under treatment for a heart condition for several months.

Head of the Quail Schools four years, he had guided the system through a major improvement program year before last, re-established its accreditation, and took numerous steps to upgrade the system in the face of changing educational standards.

Along with his strenuous professional duties, Mr. Haynie was a community and church leader and he often spoke of the enjoyment he and his wife had in living at Quail.

He spent 37 years in the educational field, almost all of these as an administrator.

Before coming here he was superintendent of the Petrolia schools four years, and prior to that headed the Allison system.

He received the bachelor's degree at Southeast Oklahoma State College, Durant, and did graduate work at Oklahoma State University.

His first school was at Nida, Okla. In that state he was superintendent of schools at Clayton, Bokchito and at Woodville when it was inundated by Lake Texoma. He headed the Sadler and Italy schools before coming to West Texas.

Mr. Haynie was a deacon in Quail Baptist Church, a long-time member of Lions International and one of the organizers of the Quail Club. He was a 32nd degree Mason, member of the Texas Association of School Administrators, Texas State Teachers Association and a former president of the Wheeler County Teachers Association. For many years he was active in Boy Scout work.

Born in Blooming Grove, Navarro County, Sept. 1, 1907, he was the son of Frank and Annie Lackey Haynie. He grew up at Calera, Okla., and was married there to Miss Mildred Luscombe Dec. 24, 1929.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday, June 26 at Quail Baptist Church with the Rev. Porter Arnold, pastor, and the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor of First Baptist Church at Estelline officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens, Wellington, under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Panfork Baptist Camp Opens Sessions Monday

The Panfork Baptist Encampment, a major summer event for Baptist youth of the Eastern Panhandle, will begin Monday, July 6, and the last of the three camps will end on Thursday, July 23.

The Youth Camp is slated for July 6 to 10; junior girls camp July 13 to 16; and junior boys camp July 20 to 23.

Plans were announced by the Rev. Dick Roehr, pastor of First Baptist Church, Samnorwood, and chairman of the committee in charge of grounds and buildings.

An increase in attendance of about 10 percent is expected for the three camps.

Outstanding pastors and youth lay leaders of the Panhandle, and guest missionaries on furlough from overseas posts, will staff the camp, of which the Rev. Troy Nolan, pastor of First Baptist Church, Canadian, is general chairman.

Youth Camp personnel will be headed by the Rev. John Bobo, pastor of First Baptist Church, Memphis, as director. One of the outstanding events of the entire three weeks will be the music program of the youth week, said Rev. Roehr. The leader is Dale Coody of Lawton, Okla., one of the outstanding evangelistic singers of the Southern Baptist Convention.

John Key, missionary to Brazil, will be camp missionary. The Rev. Alvin Hiltbruner, First Baptist Church, Groom, will be the camp evangelist.

Junior girls camp will be directed by the Rev. Charles Uzzle, First Baptist Church at Darrouzett, while Mrs. Jack

Mrs. Bockman Has Eye Surgery

Mrs. Henry Bockman of Samnorwood, who had eye surgery in Houston June 17, is due to be released from the hospital and go to the home of her son in Pasadena this week.

Both eyes were operated on and she is doing well, friends at Norwood have learned.

Mr. Bockman has been hospitalized in Houston, and he, too, will return to his home at Samnorwood soon.

Department Heads Begin Work on 1970 Collingsworth Fair

Preliminary plans for the 1970 Collingsworth County Fair were mapped Thursday evening, June 25, in a meeting of department heads with the co-chairmen, Billy Moseley and Ralph Owens.

The Fair will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19, with Fair Week beginning on Monday, Sept. 14.

A second meeting of department heads will be held in late July, when plans will be completed.

Several major changes are due for this year's Collingsworth County Fair.

Adult participation in the livestock and agricultural divisions will be stressed, without in any way lessening the role of the youths of the county.

Livestock men of the county will be asked to take part. In the past, the stock division was limited to the youth project show.

Although the work of these Future Farmers and 4-H boys and girls has been outstanding, this year's Fair workers believe that expansion to include adult divisions will strengthen the fair, said Mr. Moseley.

Light Showers Dot County Monday Night

Scattered showers dotted the county Monday night, June 29 and although they cooled the temperature and revived crops where they fell, a general rain is still urgently needed.

Rain was spotted within Wellington. Mack Willis at the northeast edge recorded one-half inch, but in the south part of town it was lighter.

In the southwest corner of the county, R. F. Harris of the Deaver Ranch reported only a shower.

About a quarter of an inch fell at Quail, Loyd Langley reported, but seven miles north, at Marella, N. E. Childers and John Carson each reported .50.

West of Abra, at the W. R. Breeding Ranch, .40 was measured, but only a shower fell at Samnorwood, and south of there, Horace Small reported .20.

Only a shower fell east of Wellington, and southeasterly to Dodson, said Lonnie Robertson.

South of Wellington several miles, an estimated three-quarters inch fell, but this was in a small area, according to Sandy Parsons.

Fair department heads will be given full responsibility of their units, naming their committees and carrying out their plans.

Don Reeves is chairman of the livestock division, and he will have working with him Monty Mitchell as head of the swine division. A worker to handle the cattle will be named.

Mr. Reeves also heads the community products (agricultural and horticultural) division. He will have assisting him the vocational agriculture teachers of the three schools: Doyle Messer of Quail, Jimmy Brown of Samnorwood and Don Lacy of Wellington.

Miss Bonnie Willis, who has studied under some of the country's leading artists, is chairman of the art show. She will name the chairman of the junior art show.

The Junior Hobby Show, a section which seeks to promote the arts and crafts interests of boys and girls, will be headed by Mrs. B. M. Sims, and her assistant will be Mrs. Bill Hall. Mrs. Henry Vaughan is the chairman of the flower show, and she has named her assistants. These are Mrs. Silas Crawford, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. W. R. Franks, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. John Henard, Mrs. Charles Cason, Sr., Mrs. E. W. Clement and Mrs. Bob Hightower.

Life in Saigon Not Bad, Civilians Find

A Collingsworth County man who lives as a civilian in Saigon found he could go about his work without seeing much of the effects of war.

He is Marcus Haralson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haralson, who visited there earlier this month.

A technical representative of Texas Instruments, he works with support equipment which TI builds in the field. His work is regarded as classified.

When he left Saigon June 8, after being there nine months, Haralson completed his third civilian assignment in Vietnam. After being in Okinawa and Thailand, he reached Saigon in June 1968, following the Tet offensive.

His first two assignments were at Tan Son Nhut Air Force Base and Cam Ranh Bay.

Haralson believes conditions are better now than when he went to Vietnam—that the United States position is stronger. The city itself is quieter, and there is greater safety for the people.

"We could pretty well come

and go," he said. "There was a curfew we had to abide by, usually 1:00 a.m., but sometimes 11:00 p.m. or as early as 8:00 p.m." The military situation determined this.

He and another TI employee had an apartment which he described as "pretty nice," but added that it was on the fourth floor and the only way to get to it was to climb stairs.

Commodities Possible

5-County Food Stamp Plan is Restudied

There is still a possibility that the federal food stamp plan may be put in effect in Collingsworth and four other southeast Panhandle counties, in spite of problems that have arisen in the past week to delay action, County Judge Zook Thomas said Tuesday afternoon June 30.

If the problems cannot be resolved, however, the State Department of Public Welfare in Austin will have no choice but to cancel the plan and set up a surplus commodities program through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, since all counties must have one or the other, under federal court order.

Commissioners' Courts of Collingsworth, Donley and Armstrong counties still want the food stamp plan.

Two of the five counties, Hall and Briscoe, signed the basic food stamp contracts, along with the other three.

The cost of the program was apportioned on a pro rata basis in a single five-county unit, explained W. M. Herndon, director of the commodity distribution division of the State Department of Public Welfare.

"After our legal department had sent out final contracts, all came back except for Briscoe," Herndon said.

The program's cost was then re-figured on the basis of four counties, he said, and that seemed to create other problems.

Hall County, with the largest number of participants in the program, would have to pay about $30 per month more. Collingsworth's part would be an additional $18, Judge Thomas said.

It is at this point that Hall County has told the State Department of Public Welfare it will not pay more, Judge Thomas continued.

County Judge M. G. Moreland indicated that the Commissioners' Court was mailing their contract back to Austin that afternoon, after approving the county's joining the program.

In setting up the original program, based on the number of persons in each of the five counties that would have been participating, it was figured that Armstrong County would have 7% of the load; Briscoe 12%; Collingsworth 27%; Donley 21% and Hall 33%.

Mr. Herndon in a statement Monday said that there was still time for the counties to utilize the food stamp program "if they want it."

Fly Your Flag

Many Firms to Close on Fourth of July

July Fourth will be observed quietly in Wellington, but most if not all of the business houses around the square will be closed, their owners have indicated.

Highway 83 businesses will remain open to serve both local residents and travelers, however, a number of these said.

Everyone is asked to fly the American flag.

Since Independence Day is on Saturday this year, when county offices are normally closed, offices in the courthouse will be closed on Friday, July 3.

Wellington Pre-School classes also will observe Friday as a holiday, said Thayne Amonett, Elementary principal.

A number of private offices and business houses also close

Saturday, but none of these so far has announced any additional holiday.

The Wellington Leader, which is open regularly until noon on Saturday, will be closed that morning.

The Frank King Post of the American Legion is requesting all business firms and residents to fly their American flags on Saturday, July 4, according to Riley Dunson, a Post officer.

Although many business firms around the square will be closed, he asks that the owners or an employee come down long enough to put out the flag and take it in.

By this, he pointed out, the people of Wellington can show their love for their country and their strong belief in the principles for which the nation stands.

Guard Unit Takes Army Training Test

Men of Wellington's National Guard Unit, Detachment 1, took the Army training test while they were in summer camp at North Fort Hood, Platoon Sgt. Robert Valliant has reported.

The men, commanded by 1st Lt. Neal Gray, took the 16-hour test in order for the unit to move up in its training area, operating as a mortar platoon.

Results from the test have not been received, Sgt. Valliant said, but there were few complaints from officers at the time and the men are confident they passed it.

All men of the 142nd Infantry were in summer camp at this time, June 6 to 20. Detachment 1 is a unit of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, Mechanized.

During the test, the men were advancing, firing and changing positions constantly in simulated combat. They received CS gas several times during the exercise, and had to wear gas masks all the time.

CS gas, Sgt. Valliant explained, is similar to tear gas except stronger, leaving a burning sensation on skin that is exposed.

The remainder of the two weeks was routine, said the sergeant. The first week's training was at camp, the second in the field.

Members of Detachment 1 who were in camp included Lt. Gray; M/Sgt. Jesse H. Wilson; Platoon Sgt. Donald R. Settle and Platoon Sgt. Robert E. Valliant; S/Sgt. Jerry E. Settle;

Sergeants Leamon W. Bawcom, Darrell W. Burrows, Beauford W. Kerr, Frank O. Marrs, William C. Pratt, Marvin R. Souder, Huey L. Williams, and Specialists 4 Orlan L. Bishop, Graham V. Bowen, James L. Branch, Creed L. Hill, Jerry W. Latham, Winfred H. McQueen, Charles T. Meisner and Teddy E. Thomas;

Privates First Class Dwight H. Bowen, Lynn A. Derryberry, James R. Fulcher, Barry Dan Hatch, Joe D. Holt, James L. Hooten, James N. Hughs, James M. Rudy, Gary V. Sasser, Kenneth W. Brown, Ricky G. Brown, Larry A. Kane and Lanny McGill.

Specialist 4 Ronald D. O'Rear will attend summer camp Aug. 9 through 23 with the Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment at Austin.

Specialists 4 Wesley A. High and Ronnie N. Hartman were excused from summer camp this year.

Three men from the unit are presently on active duty with the Army at Fort Polk: Pfc. George W. Porter, Pfc. Lawrence W. Green and Pfc. Robin M. Green.

Overwintered Boll Weevil Threaten West Texas Area

LUBBOCK. — Overwintered boll weevils were found this year in Andrews County, posing what entomologists term a "very critical danger" to the entire High Plains and Eastern New Mexico cotton country.

The Technical Advisory Committee of the High Plains Diapause Control Program, composed of the nation's leading authorities on boll weevil control, has issued a statement saying "unless steps are taken now to prevent weevils from becoming established in the Andrews area, there may be no practical way to prevent them from spreading north, east and west over almost 3 million acres of cotton."

Four weevils were caught about June 5 on Pheromone (sex lure) traps near the city of Andrews, confirming the entomologists' fear that weevils survived the 1969-70 winter in that area. And the weevil control specialists point out that favorable overwintering quarters for weevils extend on into Gaines, Cochran, Bailey and Parmer Counties, and into Eastern New Mexico.

Emergency spraying and intensified trapping operations to prevent weevils from getting a firm foothold in Andrews are already underway according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. PCG is the originator and coordinator of the Diapause Control Program which has successfully prevented a weevil invasion of the High Plains from the east since 1964.

Dean said the number of traps in the Andrews area is being increased from 200 to over 300 to give a better indication of the number of weevils emerging from overwintering sites and to catch as many as possible before they begin reproduction.

About 90% of U.S. cotton is mechanically harvested.

Defending South Texas Jalopy Racing Champion in 2nd Year

A former Wellington man who was the 1969 South Texas Champion in Jalopy Car Racing has started his second season in Corpus Christi.

He is Dale Needham, and this year he is racing in the stock car division.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Needham, he lived here until only a few years ago.

Cars in the jalopy division race just as they come off the street, with only a roll bar added, it was explained.

Needham began his 1970 season only a few weeks ago in the modified division, after making the necessary changes in his car.

During the 1969 season, the racing driver never had a night without winning money.

Driving car No. 7, he led in point standing most of the season, and at the end he received the handsome champion's trophy.

Because he won the championship, he could not race again in that division and had to move up to the modifieds. But he retained his lucky number, 7!

So far, all his racing has been in the Corpus Christi area.

Needham is married to the former Peggy Lewis and they have five children: Jimmy Dale 16, Jerrell 13, Barbara 9, and the twins, Pam and Paula, 7.

Mrs. Needham and the children were here recently to visit her parents and parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Needham, and her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Hattie Hornsby and Mrs. Anita Anglin.

What Is The Gospel?

BY GAYLORD COOK

Everyone has heard the word "gospel" and most have used it at one time or another. The word simply means "good news," but usually when we use the word we mean specifically "the good news of Jesus Christ." The gospel that we thus speak of is something that can be taught or conveyed to others by the use of words. Note Matthew 28:19; Acts 11:14; Acts 14:1.

The gospel of Christ contains FACTS to be believed. These facts are the death, burial and resurrection of Christ. The apostle Paul says in I Cor. 15:1-4 that these facts are the gospel he preached.

The gospel also contains COMMANDS to be obeyed. These commands are: Believe (Acts 16:31); Repent (Luke 13:3); Be baptised (Acts 22:16). You can read these in your own Bible for yourself.

The gospel also contains PROMISES to be enjoyed. These are: Remission of sins (Acts 2:38); Gift of the Holy Spirit (Acts 2:38) and Hope of eternal life (I John 2:25).

Apple-Ice Cream Pie

It's the Latest Scoop—Those Easy to Make Ice Cream Desserts

By Mrs. Leta Hill
County Home Demonstration Agent

Stay cool this summer when unexpected guests come to visit. Join the ranks of the well prepared by adding these quick ice cream desserts to your repertoire. They're made in a jiffy using ice cream and prepared pie fillings, two convenience products that just naturally go together.

Make a batch of Patio Parfaits to store in the freezer for quick snacking. Just spoon alternate layers of ice cream and blueberry or peach pie filling into paper baking cups. "Kids" of all ages will enjoy eating these right out of the cup, no forks necessary.

For a more elaborate dessert, make a Frosty Apple Pie. It's as easy as pie!

Prepare a crumb crust and line it with a thin layer of melted chocolate, a pleasant flavor surprise for the cinnamon-spiced apple filling that hides it.

Now the "frost" is added—vanilla ice cream spooned over all and ready for waiting dessert lovers.

For garnish, bedeck your pie with amazingly realistic chocolate leaves. These are made by brushing real plant leaves with melted chocolate, letting them harden in the refrigerator, and peeling away the original leaves. Try it!

These quick ice cream desserts are the answer to "dessert in a hurry" and you can have them ready in your freezer.

Frosty Apple Pie

CRUST:

- 1 1/3 cups graham cracker crumbs (16 squares)
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter, melted

FILLING:

- 1 square (1 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate
- 1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) apple pie filling
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened
- Chocolate leaves *

To prepare crust: In a small bowl mix together the crumbs and sugar; stir in butter. Press mixture firmly and evenly against the bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate, building up slightly around rim. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 5 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Chill crust.

To prepare filling: Melt the chocolate and spread on bottom of pie shell; chill. Blend pie filling and cinnamon; turn into crust. Place in freezer for three hours or until firm enough to cut; top with ice cream and serve. Or make a nead of time and freeze solid then allow to defrost at room temperature 2-3 hours before topping with ice cream and serving. Garnish with chocolate leaves.

*Chocolate Leaves:

Wash and thoroughly dry, philodendron or other plate leaves. Melt semi-sweet chocolate; stir until smooth. With small paint brush paint chocolate onto back sides of leaves. Chill to harden. Remove leaves by peeling from chocolate, stem end first. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Patio Parfaits

- 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- 1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) peach OR blueberry pie filling

Line 12-cup muffin pan with paper baking cups. Alternate layers of ice cream with pie filling, beginning and ending with ice cream. Freeze. Makes 12 servings.

Recipe may be doubled using both peach and blueberry pie filling in the parfaits.

Half as Much Skirt Affects Textile Industry

In 1964, a manufacturer of women's apparel needed about 3.2 square yards of cotton fabric to make a skirt. In 1969, he used only 1.9 square yards of fabric for a skirt. Dr. Graham Hard, Extension clothing specialist, notes that the current word on lowering the hemlines will directly affect the cotton textile industry and the man-made fiber manufacturer.

Frozen Salad Mixes? They're Due Soon

Cryogenic freezing? It is using below minus 100 degrees F. temperatures. New techniques in this field may soon provide us with frozen lettuce and salad mixes, reports Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University. Hard to freeze foods such as tomato slices, melon and bananas are being experimented with now. Mushrooms, seafood and onion rings have been successfully cryogenically frozen.

Realistic Shopping Reveals Facts of 'High' Food Prices

It has been suggested that homemakers try a new twist on food shopping. Take two grocery carts through the supermarket — in one, put food products — in the other, non-food items. Total the bills separately. The idea may not be too practical but it will point up what's really being paid for food and might stop complaints about "high" food prices. It is estimated that more than 20% of the items in grocery carts are not food items but non-food products.

Egg Carton Sells Eggs

An egg carton's artistry can influence the customer's decision of whether or not to buy the eggs.

Colors, pictures of hens and farm yards and psychedelic designs appear on today's egg cartons. What type do homemakers prefer?

Dr. David Mellor, Extension poultry marketing specialist, Dr. Fred Gardner and Lionel Lane, of the poultry science department, conducted surveys to find the likes and dislikes of consumers toward egg packaging.

They found 43% of those questioned preferred plastic foam type cartons. Other choices included the standard molded pulp, paperboard cartons, a new see-through carton and a sleeve-type carton. Homemakers chose the foam carton because it was new, different, eye appealing, strong, easy to open, easy to remove eggs from and for overall cleanliness and freshness.

Many consumers indicated carton decorations did not make any difference and therefore they chose a plain carton with the mod egg design on it. Cartons with hens in cages or pictures of eggs ready to be served were not among the preferred cartons. The winning carton showed a kitchen scene of eggs in a basket and copper tea kettle on a table.

People Buy More During the Summer Months Than Most Other Seasons

Many of us are accustomed to speaking of the dull summer months which may have been partially true in another day and a different economy; but the actual facts happen to the the opposite.

Year after year, figures released by the United States Department of Commerce show that people buy more during the summer months than almost any other season of the year.

They are buying clothes for travel, luggage for travel and hundreds of other items connected with vacations and summer; but they are also buying items for recreation at home during the long interesting days of summer.

They are buying air conditioners, refrigerators, cook out appliances, lawn and garden supplies and hundreds of other items that are a part of home living during the summer months.

In fact if it were not for the tremendous sales that start in late November and continue through December, the summer months would exceed any other season.

Knowing these facts, forward looking merchants plan their sales promotion in advance and on a stepped up scale at the very beginning of summer. Let us help you in building advertisement that will increase your summer sales.

Jobs Await in Right Profession

COLLEGE STATION.—If you complete a college education a job awaits—if you are in the right profession.

Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist, reports that although 1966 and 1975 projections predict the demand for college-educated workers will balance the supply, an imbalance within professions is expected.

There will not be enough physicians, dentists, engineers, and physical scientists, she reports from a Department of Labor survey. A surplus of school teachers, mathematicians and life scientists is expected.

About 6.2 million college graduates will be needed by 1975. Professional and technical fields will call for 4.3 million; managerial occupations, .9 million; sales and clerical, .7 million and .3 million will be needed in other fields.

Nation's colleges and universities are expected to confer about 6.5 million bachelor and first professional degrees over the nine-year period, says the Texas A&M University specialist. About 1.7 million master's degrees and doctorates are expected to be conferred from June 1966 to June 1974, more than 100 percent more than in previous nine-year period.

Expected surplus of teachers is currently the largest occupation for women graduates. Mrs. Meyer suggests that unless a larger proportion of women enter other high demand professions, the outlook for employment for college-educated women may be less favorable than in recent years.

Short supply of physicians and dentists can be alleviated only if steps are taken to expand sufficiently the capacity of medical and dental schools, she clarified.

Migrants Happier In Rural Areas

AUSTIN—Dr. Daniel O. Price, a University of Texas sociologist, has made a study of rural-tourban migration which reveals that even though migrants make more money and are better off financially in the city, high percentages of them report having felt happier in the rural setting.

For that reason, Dr. Price recommends that the government neither encourage nor discourage the migration process, but rather that it assist both groups—those who want to stay in rural areas and those who want to move to the city. The study was based on interviews of about 1,000 Negro, Anglo and Mexican-American migrants.

PICKLED PEOPLE

East Panhandle Either-Sex Turkey Season Is Successful

DEL RIO.—What's good for the goose, they say, should be good for the gander.

Wildlife turkey hens have been hunted during the regular turkey season in the eastern portions of the Texas Panhandle since 1964 and have proved to be no threat to the total turkey population along the Canadian River bottomlands.

Jim Dillard, a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist stationed at Wheeler, said harvesting of hens has not upset the 70/30 ratio of hens to gobblers counted in that area.

Dillard told a group of biologists at the Wildlife Restoration Function staff meeting in Del Rio that either-sex season experiment was started to increase the harvest and take advantage of the burgeoning bird populations. There are an estimated 10,000 to 15,000 turkeys in the major Panhandle turkey hunting areas, Dillard said.

When the regulations were changed to allow harvest of hens, each hunter was limited to one bird instead of two gobblers. This change still produced an increase in the total number of birds harvested each year, Dillard said.

Hens made up 43% of the kill in 1969, totaling 800 birds. Only 75 hens were taken in the first season in 1964, according to Department records.

The annual quail harvest in Texas amounts to about 7 million bobwhites and 2 million blues.

Decaying Cities and Dying Towns

If big business is not willing to decentralize its operations for the public good, if it prefers not to rock the boat, if it insists on "letting well enough alone," then perhaps the government could offer a few incentives such as tax concessions. Government has a way of inspiring business to develop new models of airplanes and implements of war. It had a way of encouraging the development of synthetic rubber at the beginning of World War II. It had a way of inspiring business to do many things which business insisted were "unprofitable" or "economically unfeasible."

Letting nature continue to take its course isn't going to solve this national problem of population imbalance.

West Germany needed more industrial workers . . . but rather than drawing them from the farms which it could easily have done by upping wages, it imported foreign laborers to work in the factories!

Germany feels that the country is in trouble when the farm population falls below 30 per cent of the total population. It feels that the country needs this stability.

Meanwhile we Americans permit this trend to continue until today we have 70 per cent of the population living on one per cent of the land!

And as a result of our selfishness, greed and un-concern, we have decaying cities and dying towns.

—The Tulia Herald

No Excuse For Disloyalty

A great many people have become heartily sick of the daily diet of pictures and stories concerning ranting dissenters and unreasoning abuse of the U. S. system and its institutions. A top business leader, in viewing "The heat and extent of the debate going on . . ." says that it is a daily reminder "that our system allows considerably more room for dissent than is to be found in the systems erected by the followers of Marx, Lenin, Che Guevara, Comrade Mao, and other heroes of the militant Left." This business leader readily admits that we have such things as . . . poverty, inferior education, inequality, and urban decay—which are as old as civilization itself.

" . . . However," he adds, "none of these is new, and all of them happen to exist to a greater degree outside the United States than they do here." He concluded that the fact that we are trying to eradicate some of these age-old evils is "clearly in the pioneering and egalitarian tradition of America. Thanks to the tremendous productive capacity of our economy, such a goal may indeed be within our reach. No other sizeable country in the world could seriously begin to consider such an undertaking, on economic grounds alone."

In spite of loyal opposition, criticism is healthy. However, much of the opposition of today lacks any trace of a spirit of loyalty to the U. S.

—Washington County News, Chipley, Fla.

Assesment

Assessing the Congress in a year-in report, minority leader Sen. Hugh Scott said, "Clearly the temper of this age of Aquarius calls for less bureaucratic omphaloskepsis."

If Sen. Scott is going to continue to talk like that, it also is going to require a dictionary. (Note: The work omphaloskepsis means "meditation while staring fixedly at one's navel.")

SWEETIE PIE

"As president of our union, we demand a bigger allowance and less nap time!"

TRUE OR FALSE? Gold necklace reportedly is part of an early Bronze Age collection, but a Greek recently branded the entire set as a forgery.

AUSTIN.—A governor's committee has come up with proposals to withhold state money from segregated school districts and to create a Texas fair employment commission and department of housing.

Far-reaching recommendations in other areas were offered by the 50-member Governor's Committee on Human Relations which also urged that a permanent commission with increased funds and power be set up in the civil rights area.

A sub-committee panel was told there are 36 Texas school districts which have at least one all-Negro school. State funds finance about 80% of school operations.

Dr. Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, Waco, led an unsuccessful fight to defeat the recommended cut-off of funds, arguing that the action would "punish children," not responsible officials. McCall said the remedy for segregated schools lies in federal courts.

All recommendations of the Committee, when finally drafted, will go to the Legislature, where many obviously will face cool reception. Among the proposals were these:

- Adoption of state housing and building codes;
- Open housing legislation and state aid on low-cost housing;
- Review of school textbooks to eliminate those which are "culturally or historically biased";
- Free lunches in schools for needy;
- A state minimum wage law in line with federal scale (now $1.60 an hour);
- Broadened vocational-technical education;
- Establishment of a civil grievance mechanism;
- Review of methods of juror selection in trials to eliminate racial discrimination;
- Better training for all police officers and more rigorous selection and review procedures for officers;

—Study of more-humane crowd control methods, prompt punishment for police brutality and strengthened community relations programs for police and prosecutors.

New Voters Under 21?

Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., calculates there could be as many as 395,000 voters under 21 added to Texas registration rolls if the federal 18-year-old vote act stands.

State's chief election officer cited the Bureau of Census and University of Texas studies estimating there are approximately 594,000 Texans who are over 18 and under 21. About 66% of eligible voters of all ages now register and in general elections about 75% of those registered actually vote.

Dies predicted the U.S. Supreme Court will rule on the constitutionality of the new federal act before Jan. 1, the effective date. He said he hopes the ruling will be before Oct. 1, start of the state's voter registration period for the 1971 voting year.

If there is no decision by that time, problems will be created for registrars. In event the statute is ruled unconstitutional after October, tax-assessors would have to go back and remove newly-added names of the 18-to-21-year-olds.

Courts Speak

U. S. District Judge Jack Roberts in Austin held that a suit for libel and slander brought by a former Richmond State School superintendent against state mental health mental retardation officials posed no substantial federal question.

State has appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans a June 12 ruling by Federal Judge Reynaldo Garza at Brownsville taking jurisdiction in Platoro Inc., suit claiming treasure it recovered from Padre Island shipwreck.

Federal court in Albuquerque granted a temporary order restraining New Mexico ranchers and cattle raisers from spraying insecticide toxaphene on 2,000,000 acres of land which is a portion of the Canadian River inter-state watershed from which 11 Texas cities get their water supply in Moore, Hutchinson and Potter counties.

State Supreme Court held that a firm that circulated an erroneous report of bankruptcy about a Midland man was not responsible for damages.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin is appealing a Dallas federal court decision that Texas abortion laws are unconstitutional.

A. G. Opinions

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System has no statutory authority to fix enrollment limits for public colleges and universities, Attorney General Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Texas Department of Corrections is authorized to make application for a permit to conduct a barber school and receive a license on meeting rules.

—Sheriff of Harris County is authorized to seize goats running at large in the county and impound them at fee.

Patrolmen Stay

Governor Smith concurred in the Department of Public Safety's recommendation that Highway Patrolmen Jerry Byrd and Kenneth Stafford be retained on duty in the Mathis area.

Mathis City Council had asked that the patrolmen be removed for beating prisoners. San Patricio County grand jury later found the officers guilty of no wrong and handed them commendation for "excellent work."

Smith produced a thick file of eyewitness affidavits stating the officers were trying to restore peace and that the prisoner who was "slapped" was struggling and cursing.

Mathis Mayor Winston Bott took strong exception to the finding and said he would appeal to federal agencies for investigation.

Funds Allocated

Criminal Justice Council has received another $5.3 million for anti-crime work in 1970. Council promptly granted $134,900 to be divided among 14 regional councils of government for training teachers for drug instruction program.

Grants of $9,000 each went to Golden Crescent Council of Governments, Victoria; Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council, McAllen; South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock; East Texas GOC, Tyler; Coastal Bend R. P.C., Corpus Christi; Nortex R.P.C., Wichita Falls; Permian Basin Law Enforcement

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where the Supreme Court has ruled that people who don't pay any property taxes must be allowed to vote on local bond issues anyhow, no matter what State laws say.

Court's finding appears to be that people who do not have to help pay for same are just as interested in public facilities and services financed by bonds as their property-taxed brethren, and maybe more so.

Which seems reasonable. My ornerly neighbor says who isn't more interested in the richer things of life when he can vote to make somebody else pay for them?

D. E. SCOTT.

Planning Committee, Odessa; Brazos Valley Development Council, Bryan; Southeast Texas R.P.C., Beaumont; Panhandle R.P.C., Amarillo, and the Heart of Texas COG, Waco.

Six other grants to be made later will increase the total to $196,000.

* Not everyone has the distinction of having a front tooth knocked out by the Chicago Bears' famous Mack Percival. John Alvin Horton can rightfully claim it and was up from Grand Prairie last week to have Dr. J. M. Orr take care of a loosened cap on that same tooth.

It happened when the Bob Percival family lived here and John Alvin and Mack were second graders and learning to play baseball. In a game during recess one day, Mack put everything he had in a swing—and connected with John's front tooth.

* Oran Starkey's enthusiasm for his trail bike is common knowledge. For him it is a working vehicle as well as a pleasure machine. This week he talked some more.

He can, he says, make three trips on it to his fish farm on Salt Fork for the cost of one in the pickup, unless he has to haul something.

He can use it to look after his cattle, even going through deep sand and quicksand in the bed of Salt Fork.

It doesn't step on his aluminum irrigation pipe and it doesn't kick his cows as he has had horses do. And if anything does come up that is cowboying, neighbor be Small always obliges.

There was no mention of such things as running out of gas, blowing a tire or getting caught in a sand storm.

* Mary Dwyer was in town from McLean one day last week. She and John are just back from Mayo's, where he got a good report. He had to give up teaching vo ag at Norwood on account of his health, but now that he feels better, time was getting heavy on his hands. This year he ran for Gray County Commissioner and won over a field of seven opponents.

* Willie B. and Ernest Harwell are enjoying to the fullest their new home at 1200 East Avenue. It should be a good home, she said recently, for it is built from the bricks of the old First Baptist Church, on the site of the old Church of Christ.

painted by Bonnie Willis, that hangs over Esta Glenn's desk. President C. T. Hubbard was high bidder on it during the Hospital Gala Art Auction.

Bonnie, who is such a delightful traveling companion, was with me on an errand in the northwest part of the county a year or more ago when we passed this gray building, set up against a shelterbelt.

She knew at once it should be recorded on canvas.

Abra is one of the few rural schools still standing of the approximately 30 that once dotted Collingsworth. It is an example of the many, many sites in the county that should be recorded as Bonnie has done.

* Suicides come at 10 cents apiece at Little League baseball games. And if you're late learning these things as I was, a suicide is a cola drink with dill pickle juice added. (Big, fat dill pickles are among the best sellers at these games.)

* Porcupines are getting bolder. Mary White and Betty Coleman told of one that appeared on the courthouse lawn and took refuge in one of the small pecan trees until he was routed. This is the first I can remember ever coming into the town itself.

Thomas Go to TNHA Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thomas will attend a meeting of the Texas Nursing Home Association to be held in Corpus Christi Sunday, July 5 through Thursday, July 9.

Most of the sessions will be given over to discussions of nursing home administration, and to information which administrators must have in taking state examinations for licensing, Mr. Thomas said.

En route home, they will visit his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Thomas in Houston.

STERILE TEETH

The study of animals raised in germ-free conditions is known as Knottobiotics. So far, the study has produced little difference in regular and germ-free animals with one exception. The germ-free animals have no tooth decay.

WHEATHEART OF THE NATION

The 1970 winner of the Wheatheart Contest will receive a $1,000 college scholarship, with scholarships of $500 and $250 for the two runner-ups.

County Agricultural Agent

Greenbugs Getting Off to an Early Start in Grain

Greenbugs, those little green aphids which have been attacking grain sorghum in the Texas Panhandle for the past few years, have recently been observed infesting small grain sorghum in several counties in the area.

The main thing for producers to do right now is to keep a close check on their fields. Small grain sorghum up to about six inches in height is much more susceptible to injury by greenbugs than large plants. Only a few greenbugs per plant may be necessary to damage small grain sorghum and damage in the seedling stage may result in stand loss.

The extent of greenbug damage depends on greenbug numbers, plant size, stage of growth, plant vigor, moisture conditions and the presence or absence of parasites and predators are generally still in low numbers but should increase rapidly as greenbug numbers increase.

Be sure that greenbugs are present in damaging numbers before starting a spray program.

Insecticides recommended for controlling greenbugs include carbophenothion (Trithion), demeton (Systox), diazinon, disulfoton (Di-Syston), malathion and parathion. Disulfoton should not be applied as a foliar spray more than twice per crop season or as a granular application more than once per season. Malathion is recommended for ground application only. Methyl parathion should not be substituted for parathion as Methyl Parthion will damage the sorghum plant.

Financial Facts

By Jeff Wilson

JUST SIGN FOR IT

Did you know that not all our currency is signed by the same number of officials?

Although all our paper money bears at least two officials' signatures, some bills have more. The common signatures are those of the Treasurer of the United States and either the Register of the Treasury (1862 through 1923) or the Secretary (1923 on).

There are four issues that have more than two signatures. They are the National Bank Notes, the Federal Reserve Bank Notes, the Silver Certificates of 1878 and the Gold Certificates of 1882. The latter two issues are countersigned by various assistant Treasurers and they are very rare.

The National Bank Notes are also signed by the President and Cashier of the issuing bank. On the Federal Reserve Bank Notes, the Governor and cashier of the issuing bank do the honors.

LEARN TO SAVE

The life you save could well be your own or that of a loved one if you take the time to learn life saving techniques. Many drowning victims could have been saved had someone known the correct safety procedures.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Notes are one thing and what comes out of them may be entirely different. For this week I had intended to write about flying the flag on July 4, the condition of the crops in Hall, Collingsworth, Wheeler and other counties, Clarendon having no hospital at the present time and a number of other items.

Glenn Shelton changed these plans when he wrote as follows in The Wichita Falls Record News:

Dreams reflect our personalities. They offer "a fascinating look at the structure of our psyches." It's been some time now since I dreamed my favorite dreams, to wit: the one in which I soft-land an airplane on a hill and look down on a city below, and the one in which I show up in class in school to find I've missed too many classes and don't know what's going on. Sometimes I can't even find the class.

The dream of not finding the classroom is a common one among students who have attended classes in different rooms in high school or college, Editor Shelton; but the one of landing an airplane on a hill and looking down on a city is rare. In its structural form I have experienced this vision of the subconscious mind more than once. There was no fantasy of a soft-land of an airplane for piloting an airplane is beyond my experience. Instead there was the dream of riding a horse or driving a Model T over a difficult trail and finding below—not a city; but a beautiful valley with green grass, clusters of trees, running water, cattle and horses, birds and deer making sounds ranging from the rustle of the cottonwood leaves to the song of the mockingbird. Heaven is not a "City of Gold" to some people. So they dream different dreams.

After eight years as executive secretary of The Texas Press Association and attending many conventions of the five regional press associations, my dream of not finding the classroom changed to not finding my hotel room or worse of being left in a depot or airport while the convention delegates went off on a tour without me.

My favorite dream in childhood was filled with birds, mainly great white birds. In all probability it originated from the topography of the Wells and Godfrey land on the east side of the town section. In wet weather there were two good sized lakes on my uncle's farm, three on ours and two on the Godfrey land, making seven in a row in one mile. The dream was of great flights of birds, mainly white birds, voyageur birds, some as small as killdeer and others as large as a whooping crane of which I had no knowledge except as a memory inheritance of ancient forebears. The multitude of the flights of the great white birds was so vast that the exaggeration beyond the bounds of common sense invariably woke me up, much to my disappointment.

Dreams are important. Glenn Shelton says they provide a fascinating look at the structure of our psyches. I believe they provide an index to our bodily and mental health. Few of us remember much of our dreams. The only ones we remember are those between deep slumber and waking. I have known people who say they never dream and that is because they pass from deep sleep to awareness. They dream, but they do not remember, unfortunately.

Consider the imponderable of dreams and mental and physical health. In the immediate months prior to my admission to The University of Texas, M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in 1965, my normal happy dreams turned to nightmares. These nightmares were neither horrifying nor terrifying. They were ugly, dirty, repugnant and distasteful.

Now, thanks to providence and science, my happy dreams are returning. They

VICTORIOUS CHIEFS

Fresh from victory over a strong Mangum team, the Wellington Chiefs prepare to take on a Guthrie, Oklahoma, 9 in the Mangum tournament. At front, from left, they are Clay Don Lacy, Bill Havens, Harold Lowe, Bob Cummings and Scott Peeks. At

Bow to Champions

Little Leaguers Win Over Mighty Mangum

The Wellington Little League Chiefs defeated a strong and surprised Mangum, Okla., Mid-get team 33 to 13 during the IOOF tournament in that city Thursday, June 22.

It was the first time in the memory of adult leaders here that a team in that age bracket has been able to defeat a Mangum team.

They savored victory to the fullest, and the following night, no one thought it a disgrace when they bowed 23 to 3 to a Granite team that has gone to the state contest.

Both Mangum and Granite push youth baseball as a major summer sport and have produced some of the strongest youth teams in Oklahoma. Brewer was the winning farmers, and $3,084 million is for programs benefitting the general population and not properly charged to farmers.

Farm Groups

As an illustration on mail subsidies on mail alone:

1. Life Magazine, $9,494,000.
2. Readers Digest, $6,069,000.
3. Look Magazine, $4,807,000.
4. Colliers Magazine $3,177,000.

Also discussed was for all farm organizations to sponsor an education program directed to the American consumer.

1. In 1959 farm workers received an average of 71½ cents per hour. The average factory worker that year received $2.22 an hour. Farm operators actually paid their hired hands more per hour than they received themselves.
2. In 1968 farmers spent 81 cents of each dollar received for production expenses and only received 19 cents for income.

Also discussed was the need to present these three resolutions that we agree on to our respective farm organizations at state conventions.

If the readers would like to have more information on the above, contact or write the Farm Bureau or the Farmers Union.

We discussed and agreed to have meetings in the future to discuss problems of agriculture.

are more moderate with old age. The great white birds of the subconscious will never return to the departed lakes east of town. Instead there is the reality of beautiful red wing and yellow marked blackbirds, mockingbirds, scissortails, field larks, all singing and sounding their thanks for being alive.

Jack Sanford received a croquet set for Father's Day. As a result he has plowed up his garden and turned it into croquet grounds. It sounds like a sound move. He can buy all the vegetables he would have raised for half of what he would have paid for water.

Cancer Drive Totals $1,370 for County

Collingsworth County people donated $1,370 to the spring Cancer Crusade, Mrs. Anita White, chairman, reported as she closed out the drive recently and forwarded the funds to state headquarters.

This is a little more than was raised in the 1969 Cancer Crusade, which Mrs. White also headed, although it is short of the county's goal of $1,500, she said.

"The aim of our drive this spring was three-fold," said Mrs. White. "With material that we distributed we encouraged every member of the community to have a regular health check-up, including cancer tests.

"Second, we hope to teach people protective measures against cancer. By that we mean personal action.

"Third, we joined with other cancer units over the nation in raising money to support vital ACS programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. We look to the laboratories for the final solution to the cancer problem. Today there are 1.5 million Americans alive and cured of cancer.

Danforth Foundation Honors Former Wellington Couple

A former Wellington couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McBride, have been named Danforth Associates by the Danforth Foundation in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. McBride, a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, is chairman of the sociology department of Central State College, Edmond, Okla., and Mrs. McBride is a high school English teacher there.

The two-year program with stipends up to $1,000 per couple per year, is awarded to 2,200 faculty members and wives in 700 colleges and universities for student activities outside the classroom.

The recognition program includes an expense-paid trip in August to Estes Park, Colo., for the National Conference of Danforth Associates.

To receive the associateships the McBrides were recommended by the Central State faculty members who were former Danforth Associates.

Since their marriage 23 years ago, the McBrides have been involved in youth programs, including seven years with the Buckner Children's Home in Dallas. In Edmond he has worked with the Baptist Student Union, while she works with youth in church and high school activities.

"The associates with stipends is to help people help other people," McBride said. It is for those who have a humanitarian as well as an academic interest in students."

McBride, whose parents were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McBride, plans to complete his Ph.D. in sociology at Oklahoma State University in 1972. He has the BA degree from Hardin-Simmons University, a masters in Religious Education from Southwestern Theological Seminary and a masters in sociology from Oklahoma State University.

Mrs. McBride, the former Jean Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wright, is working toward a M.A. degree in English at Oklahoma State University.
