Kissinger, D'Estaing Talk

Progress On Oil Dialogue

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger conferred with French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing for more than an hour today and reported very good progress had been made toward resuming the dialogue between oil producers and consumers.

Kissinger later flew to Geneva for talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on limiting nuclear weapons and prospects for a Sinai settlement between Egypt and Israel. A senior U.S. official said Kissinger hopes to receive from Gromyko a proposal on the major issues that have delayed negotiations on a 10-year weapons pact.

Kissinger conferred in Paris first with Foreign Minister Jean Sauvagnargues and afterwards went with him to the Elysee Palace for an unscheduled meeting with Giscard d'Estaing.

As he emerged from his talk with the French president, the secretary of state said "we had very constructive talks on the most outstanding issues, in the spirit of friendly cooperation which characterizes our relationship".

A spokesman for Giscard d'Estaing said the president decided to invite Kissinger and Sauvagnargues to his office when the talks between the two ministers showed that the viewpoints of the two governments on the energy dialogue had moved substantially closer.

"The president decided to receive Mr. Kissinger and Mr. Sauvagnargues largely to discuss in detail how the dialogue can be resumed," the spokesman said.

Later in the day he flies to Geneva to discuss the Middle East and nuclear weapons with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

U.S. officials said Kissinger believes another preliminary energy conference can begin within two months and that separate commissions dealing with energy, raw materials and the problems of developing nations can start their deliberations by the end of the year.

The first preparatory meeting collapsed in April when the United States and other industrial nations rejected demands by Algeria and other developing nations that the oil conference be broadened to include all raw materials.

Kissinger in May put forward a compromise proposal for several conferences working simultaneously. Last week, the major oil-consuming nations agreed on the three-pronged approach. Charles Robinson, the under-secretary of state for economic affairs, is visiting Brazil after stops in Iran, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela, and a senior American official commented: "It's now beginning to crystallize."

However, U.S. officials are not optimistic about holding back another oil price increase next fall. But they think it will be less than the $3 to $4 a barrel predicted in some quarters.

Newsmen traveling with Kissinger were told he expects Gromyko to give him "an answer" on verification procedures and a number of other issues involved in the proposed 10-year treaty to limit the size of the Soviet and American nuclear arsenals. Kissinger in turn will give Gromyko his assessment of the Soviet position.

On Friday, Kissinger intends to raise the problems of his negotiations to work out another agreement between Israel and Egypt for another Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai desert.

While reports from the Middle East suggest the two sides have moved closer together, Kissinger dismissed as "totally wrong" a suggestion that an agreement has already been wrapped up.

NOWHERE NEAR AGREEMENT—Secretary of State Henry Kissinger meets with reporters at nearby Andrews AFB, Md., Wednesday prior to departing for Europe. Kissinger declared that Israel and Egypt are nowhere near agreement. During his four-day trip he will promote a Sinai settlement. (AP Wirephoto)

The SDN Column

Many little, unnoticed sidelights associated with major legislation during the past session at Austin are coming to light as citizens, and even some of the legislators, have time to digest the results of the session.

One of these will change the motor vehicle registration period and eventually put it on a year-round basis.

The year round registration will become effective on Jan. 1, 1978. However, The Texas Department of highways and Public Transportation must work out a transition system beginning that year that will lead to an orderly schedule. The ultimate result will be a system in which the car registration process will be staggered on a monthly basis similar to that followed now by the safety inspection system. It is encouraging to note that we are getting more sensible about some things. This not only will take some of the February-March pressure off county tax offices, but will help improve the image of the month of April which has been tainted by both the car-tag and income tax deadlines for many years. That is more than a single month should have to bear.

George Turner of Sterling City called this department to praise the Independence Day celebration here, and especially the July 4th Art Show.

"You people have one of the best July 4th things going," he declared. "We have been coming to Snyder on the Fourth for four years now and we think it gets better each year. That art show is one of the best in this part of the country."

Turner's son, Wesley Turner, had a couple of paintings that placed high in the junior division of the July 4th art show this year.

The Scurry County Rodeo's experience this year will be watched with considerable interest, since it is going indoors for the first time. The coliseum will offer protection against rain-outs, something that always seem to hover over the rodeo each year.

However, the huge Astrodome at Houston narrowly missed having a baseball game rained out recently. There was no problem in the dome itself, but flooding almost prevented the two teams from getting there and the crowd never did arrive.

Never-the-less, local people hope the rodeo will fill the coliseum during its four-night run.

So far as we can recall, the largest crowd attracted to the huge indoor facility for a single event was something over 3,200 who witnessed a high school basketball playoff game between Lamesa and Lubbock Dunbar a few years ago.—WACIL McNAIR.

Astronauts In Superb Condition

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Three American astronauts were prononuced in superb condition after a preflight physical for next Tuesday's start of a joint U.S.-Soviet space mission.

Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand and Donald K. Slayton were examined for more than two hours by space agency doctors in the Johnson Space Center at Houston, Tex.

Crew surgeon Dr. Arnold E. Nicogossian reported "I foresee absolutely no problems with this crew.

"They are in top shape and I have no reservations in their readiness to fly the mission at this point," he said.

After the examination, Stafford, the U.S. commander, called his counterpart Alexei Leonov in the Soviet Union. They discussed the mission and both reported preparations going well for next Tuesday's twin launching.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration statement said that Stafford asked Leonov, at the Russian launching base at Baikonur, about the status of the Russian rocket and Soyuz spaceship, scheduled for launch at 8:20 a.m. EDT Tuesday.

The American Apollo spacecraft is to lift off from Cape Canaveral at 3:30 p.m. that day.

Stafford reported Leonov told him everything was on schedule at Baikonur. The American commander reported the same for preparations at Cape Canaveral.

Stafford said he plans to talk to Leonov again on either Sunday or monday.

Space agency doctors examined the astronauts for more than two hours today in the final physicals before launching.

The exams have a dual purpose: to make sure the astronauts are physically fit and to gather baseline medical data for in-flight and post-flight comparison.

Jackson Says Reds Negotiating

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said today the Russians are negotiating with major U.S. grain exporters for several million tons of grain.

Jackson's statement came after Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said Wednesday that reports of an impending grain deal with the Soviets "may be more than rumors."

Butz told a news conference in Kansas City that intelligence sources indicate that Russia will have to buy American wheat this year.

The Agriculture Department says hot, dry weather in Soviet grainlands is expected to reduce grain harvests to a level about 10 per cent short of Moscow's 1975 goal.

Kidnapers Extend Deadline To Kill Colonel Morgan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A note received by a news agency said today kidnapers decided on a 72-hour extension of their deadline to kill a U.S. Army colonel if certain demands are not met by the U.S. government.

The note was sent to the office here of the French agency Agence France Press.

There was apparently no change in the demands made by the group which seized Col. Ernest R. Morgan of Petersburg, Va. The demands were for delivery of food and building supplies to a slum area of Beirut and have U.S. Ambassador McMurtrie Godley announce the move publicly.

The original deadline passed Wednesday with no sign of Morgan. The new deadline would be 2 p. m. EDT Saturday.

The kidnaping has aggravated a split among Palestine guerrillas. The more moderate leadership of the Palestine Liberation Front — PLO — headed by Yasir Arafat, has accused radical Palestine groups of seizing Morgan.

Both U.S. and Lebanese officials indicated the demand would not be met. Meanwhile, Lebanese officials said the police and army search for Morgan and the kidnapers was continuing.

The Palestine Liberation Organization said Wednesday night it also had searched for Morgan but had failed to find him. The 43-year-old colonel was taken from a taxi on June 29 at the height of street fighting between Palestininan guerrillas, leftist Lebanese Moslems and militiamen of the conservative Christian Phalange party.

The ransom demand was signed by the Revolutionary Socialist Action Group and was the first word of that group's existence. But the PLO said it was a "fictitious organization" and the name must have been fabricated in an attempt to hide the identities of the kidnapers.

The PLO said the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, a radical guerrilla organization, admitted to it that it had kidnaped several persons including Morgan but claimed it handed the American over to "some Lebanese group."

Ford Approached About Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Ford has been approached about a bicentennial meeting here with President Luis Echeverria of Mexico and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau of Canada, U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., says.

Gonzalez said Wednesday that he proposed the meeting to President Ford during a White House session of congressional leaders discussing the Turkish aid crisis.

President Ford expressed great interest in the idea and said, "I'm going to jot this down and consider it," according to Gonzalez.

Such a meeting would "commemorate the bicentennial of that part of the U.S. which is just as integral a part as the 13 colonies," the Texas representative said.

Coleman Says Proposed Rail Bill Unworkable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. said today legislation designed to put America's unemployed to work rebuilding the nation's deteriorating rail system could be a waste of taxpayers' money.

Officials of Amtrak and railroad labor organizations gave their support to the proposed legislation Wednesday, saying it would lead to an improved rail network while putting thousands of unemployed Americans to work.

Coleman told a House subcommittee on transportation and commerce today that the legislation was unworkable because it attacked the symptoms of the railroads' problems without getting to the root causes.

He said the adoption of such legislation "will result in a massive expenditure of federal dollars without necessarily improving the roadbeds and track which are needed for a truly efficient, excellent national railroad system.

"Moreover, if $700 million to $2. billion can be found in the present national budget for railroad expenditure, there are better, more intelligent and more effective ways to spend it."

Amin Frees British Lecturer

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — British lecturer Denis Hills, who was sentenced to death for calling Ugandan President Idi Amin a village tyrant, was freed by Amin today after the president met with British Foreign Secretary James Callaghan.

Callaghan met for more than an hour with Amin in Kampala, then drove with Hills to Entebbe airport, on Lake Victoria 20 miles away, where a Royal Air Force plane waited to take them back to London.

Hills, 61, a longtime resident of Uganda and reportedly suffering from cancer, told a British radio newsman after his release: "I'm feeling very well. I'm very happy indeed."

Hills was arrested April 1 and convicted by a military court of treason for his remarks about Uganda's military president in an unpublished manuscript.

FEC Ruling May Shift National Convention Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic and Republican national committees may have to take a second look at potential sites for their national conventions because of a ruling from the Federal Election Commission.

The commission ruled Wednesday that the national political conventions can't accept free services from private industry beyond what those corporations would be willing to offer any other gathering. According to that ruling, the free automobiles and buses and the free beer and soft drinks always in plentiful supply at past presidential nominating conventions will be missing in 1976.

The two national chairmen, Mary Louise Smith of the Republicans and Robert S. Strauss of the Democrats, were not available for comment on the ruling.

The commission ruled that the parties could accept free services from state and municipal governments although it specifically warned against using them as conduits for corporate donations.

The ruling could influence whether the Democrats choose to hold their convention in New York City or Los Angeles. Madison Square Garden in New York is privately owned and thus could not be offered rent-free to the Democrats. The convention hall in Los Angeles is publicly owned and could be offered rent-free.

Under the commission ruling, the City of New York could rent Madison Square Garden, paying the normal rate, and then offer to let the Democrats use it for free. But somebody, either the city or the Democrats, would have to pay for use of the hall.

All five cities under consideration by the Republicans have publicly owned halls. They are Los Angeles, Miami Beach, Cleveland, New Orleans and San Francisco.

In another ruling the commission said that loans to pay the cost of an upcoming Democratic fund raising telethon are contributions subject to the Campaign Reform Act of 1974, which imposes a $25,000 ceiling on the amount that any individual can contribute in one year.

Air time for the telethon scheduled for July 26 and 27 is estimated to cost $1.5 million which must be paid in advance. The commission ruling would prohibit the Democrats from raising that money with a few large loans which then would be repaid from the telethon proceeds.

In anticipation of an unfavorable ruling the Democrats have been raising money in smaller chunks and now have collected nearly $800,000.

Estrada Rites Set Friday

Funeral rites have been set for 2 p.m. Friday at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church for Mrs. Enriqueta Estrada, 61, who died early Wednesday in an Austin hospital. Fr. Tony Moran will officiate, and burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Surviving are her husband, Felipe Estrada of the home at 2712 Avenue E; two daughters, Inez Hernandez of Snyder and Rose Gonzales of Austin; 10 sons, Victor Vasquez of El Paso, Robert Vasquez of Snyder, Andress, Henry, Marcario, Guadalupe and Rudi Hernandez, all of Snyder, Pablo Hernandez of Greeley, Colo., Juan Hernandez serving in the U.S. Army, and Pete Estrada of Snyder; 49 grandchildren; six sisters and six brothers.

ON HIGHWAY TRUST FUND

Briscoe Against Ford's Proposal

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said today he is opposed to President Ford's plans to reduce the federal highway trust fund and has asked all Texas congressmen and senators to oppose it.

"A state as large and complex as Texas survives and prospers by its highway system," Briscoe said in a statement. "Since 1917, we have been working toward creating the finest highway system in the nation and while we are well along towards that goal, much yet needs to be done. I feel that the National Highway Trust Fund is still vital to the nation and to Texas and I cannot support the President's suggestion that it be abolished."

Briscoe said that the gasoline tax has traditionally been a state source of revenue and Texas was the second state to pass a gasoline tax in 1917.

"When the highway trust fund was created in the 1950s, it was understood that the revenue would remain dedicated for the construction of a national system of transportation, and when that goal was completed, the revenue source would be returned to the states. The administration's offer of returning one cent to the states covers up its attempt to move two cents into the federal treasury and away from the needs of the states."

The governor said Ford's proposal that the federal government assume maintenance of the interstate highway system means nothing to Texas because the state does not depend on the federal government for interstate highway maintenance.

Mom Snowed Under By Son's Gift-giving Girl Friend

DEAR ABBY: I knew Lt. Col. John W. Kellogg, the Catholic who proudly wore a Star of David, a symbol of the Jewish faith, in honor of three Jewish comrades in arms.

John was a bomber navigator in WW II. After a bombing run over the Ploiesti oil fields in Roumania, his plane was badly shot up. While the plane limped back to the Air Force base in Italy, the men tossed out everything that was loose to lighten the plane's load until nothing remained but the shell. It looked as though they weren't going to make it. When the Italian coastline was spotted, the captain ordered all his men to prepare to parachute to earth.

John bailed out and landed in a plowed field where an Italian farmer and his son were working. John was so grateful to be on terra firma that he dropped to his knees and began a prayer of thanksgiving.

The two Italians, having witnessed the scene, came over, doffed their caps, bowed their heads and also began to pray—loudly.

After a few moments, John looked up and said, "F'chrissakes, shut up! I can't hear my own prayers!"

The John I knew could be both reverent and irreverent.

ROY J. ARNSTON: LAGUNA BEACH

DEAR ROY: Thanks for the memories!

DEAR ABBY: How do I go about telling the girl whom our son dates to please stop buying our family expensive gifts for every occasion? We do not want them because we can't afford to reciprocate.

She has a very large family, and because she gave everyone in our family she ever said hello to a very expensive Christmas gift last year, my son felt that he had to do the same for her family. (He is still paying for them.)

For St. Valentine's Day she gave ME a present and also my husband. On Mother's Day, another one, and she's not even engaged to our son. She even found out when our birthdays were (mine and my husband's, the other childrens', even the grandparents!) and the presents come.

Please, please help me solve this. I have no objections to her and my son exchanging gifts, but I wish she would leave the rest of his family alone.

TOO MANY GIFTS

DEAR TOO MANY: Ask your son to tell the young lady that he appreciates her thoughtfulness and generosity but prefers that she discontinue the gift-giving to the members of his family. And if that doesn't do the trick, send her thank-you cards for the gifts, and let it go at that.

DEAR ABBY: This message is for Ed in La Mirada, who for 31 years has been saying things to his wife that might sound like insults to others but who insists he didn't mean them as such.

Ed, ole buddy, your technique is abundantly clear. For 31 years, you've been announcing to everyone within earshot that your awareness of your own inferiority compels you to belittle your wife so that your own lack of worth will be less conspicuous.

You poor jerk, you might just as well have worn a big zero on your forehead.

Rites Set For Morris Infant

Graveside rites are set for 2 p.m. Friday at Lawn Haven Cemetery at Clovis, N.M., for Stephen David Morris, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Morris of Clovis. The child was stillborn at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Memorial Hospital there.

The father is a former Snyder resident, and in addition to the parents survivors include a grandmother, Mrs. T.A. Morris of Snyder.

Wounded Man Is Released

Isaac Thompson, 70, 3301 Avenue M, was released from Cogdell Memorial Hospital yesterday morning after recuperating from a gunshot wound to the upper chest during an altercation at the KoKo Palace in Southeast Snyder at 10:19 a.m. Sunday, according to local authorities.

Hospital authorities said the wound was superficial, and they described Thompson's condition as good.

Shortly after the shooting, Robert Durst, Sr., 49, 3009 Avenue K, surrendered to sheriff's authorities, and he was charged in Justice of the Peace Court with aggravated assault. He was released later in the day on $1,000 bond.

City Police said the shooting apparently stemmed from an argument. They said Thompson was shot once in the chest with a .25 caliber automatic pistol. He was carried to Cogdell Memorial hospital by private vehicle.

Playday Set At C-City

COLORADO CITY—The Western Riding Club of Colorado City will have their monthly playday Saturday at the arena on west Highway 80 in Colorado City. The monthly playday has been changed from the second Sunday evening to the second Saturday night during the summer months due to the heat.

Registration will begin at 7 p.m. and the events will begin at 8 p.m. There will be barrel races, pole bending, flag races and one optional event.

Entry fee will be $1 per event. Ribbons will be given the first six places in each event with prizes going to high point winner in each age group.

There are four age groups: 9 and under, 10-12, 13-15, and 16 and over including adults. Yearly high point winners will receive gold and silver trophy belt buckles.

Completes Expedition

HONOLULU (AP) — John F. Kennedy Jr., son of the late president, has finished a two-week stint diving to examine the hulks of sunken Japanese ships for a film crew.

Kennedy, 14, and a cousin, Timothy Shriver, stopped here on their way back from the expedition at Truk Lagoon in the Caroline Islands. Their job was to dive to some of the hulks and report back on their findings.

DUE TO CHOLERA

Iowa Shuts Door To Texas Hogs

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A hog cholera outbreak in the Texas Panhandle has caused the state of Iowa to ban entrance to all Texas hogs, but the U. S. Department of Agriculture says the only known infected hogs are dead and buried.

Diane Kramer, member of a Department of Agriculture task force here, said Wednesday a state and federal quarantine has been imposed covering a 10-mile radius from Hereford prohibiting the movement of hogs from the area or from farm to farm.

The Department of Agriculture said a 189-head herd in Hereford, Tex. was destroyed July 5 after a cholera outbreak among them was confirmed.

The Department's 50-member task force of federal and state agricultural officials in the area is taking blood samples, and tracing 157 movements of the herd during the past two months in search of other exposed herds.

Miss Kramer said how far the cholera has spread is unknown.

"Fat" hogs ready for slaughter could be moved after inspection and issue of a permit.

A possibility some of the original herd were sent to Oklahoma City, Okla., for slaughter exists, she said. The task force is trying to find Oklahoma herds exposed to the Texas hogs.

No other Texas hogs have died or been confirmed to have cholera, she said.

Iowa imposed an embargo on Texas hogs until further notice because of the cholera and because its source had not been identified. About 600 Texas hogs enter Iowa each year as breeding hogs and feeder hogs, said an Iowa secretary of agriculture spokesman.

Two Hurt In Mishap Here

Two persons sustained minor injuries in a two-car mishap in the 3500 block of Avenue V at 8:51 a.m. Wednesday.

Taken to a private physician by private vehicle were Edna Louise Kerby, 23, and Felicia Perry, 3, both of 3733½ Avondale.

The woman was driving a 1973 Model Ford that was in collision with the parked 1968 Model Oldsmobile of Bennie Ortegon, 811 Thirty-second Street.

Police also investigated a one-car mishap at Twenty-fifth and Avenue G. The 1966 Model Rambler of Minnie Madding, Route 2, was in collision with a steel post at the Sweet Shop. There were no injuries.

DOCTOR TELLS OF ORDEAL

Plague Case Said Nightmare

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "You've never seen anything more frightening in your life. I mean, his whole body was black. He was as sick as any human could be and still live."

Dr. James Favata reflected on the month-long struggle to save 23-year-old Ralph Fulp from bubonic plague, an ordeal Favata described as a "nightmare for everyone."

He said Fulp, of Chino Valley in north central Arizona, will live but will lose parts of most fingers and some toes.

Of seven plague cases confirmed nationwide this year, the Arizona Health Department says five occurred in Arizona, most on the Navajo Indian Reservation in northern Arizona. All have been nonfatal.

The disease is usually transmitted by fleas.

In an interview on Wednesday, Favata recalled the morning of June 14 when Fulp struggled into his office.

"I told his mother then that if he had been on the reservation or in that area, I would say he had the plague," Favata said. "But the idea seemed so outlandish. The plague was something I read about in medical textbooks 15 years ago. I never in my wildest dreams thought I would be treating it. The case was a nightmare — for him, for his parents, for me, for everyone."

Hospital tests confirmed Fulp had the plague.

"By Sunday, he started to fail rapidly and went into severe shock," the doctor said. "He became extremely short of breath and his blood pressure fell to nothing."

Favata said that at one point Fulp's temperature was so high it wouldn't register on an electronic thermometer.

"By Monday, he was black from the tip of his head to the tip of his toes," Favata said. "I've treated a lot of people, but I've never seen anybody as sick as he was. By Monday, the odds of him dying were good."

In those first few days, the problem was not how to treat the plague, but how to keep Fulp alive until antibiotics took effect, Favata said.

Two Mishaps On Area Roads

Three people escaped injury in two separate motor vehicle mishaps on area highways last night.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said the first one occurred 10.8 miles south of town on State Highway 208 at 8:30 p.m. Involved were the 1969 Model Ford of Alfredo Corrales, Colorado City, and the 1967 Model Ford of Reynaldo F. Arispe, also of Colorado City. Both vehicles were traveling north when the collision occurred. The cars went out of control and ran off the road, officers said, and there was considerable damage to both vehicles but both drivers escaped injury.

About an hour and 15 minutes later 2½ miles southeast of town on U.S. 84, the 1967 Model Pontiac of Rudolfo Alvarado of Hermleigh had a blowout and overturned officers said, causing heavy damage, but the driver was not injured.

Kids Dress For One - Room School

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Second graders from the Lucas Valley School near here spent a day at the old one-room Dixie Schoolhouse to discover the difference in their modern education and that of the 1869 era.

The children dressed in clothes of the period, long dresses, bonnets, caps and hats. They sat and did their lessons at the old wooden desks. Missing was the old pot-bellied wood stove so typical of the small country schools of that day.

The Dixie School was made a historical landmark several years ago.

REMODELING BATHROOM—Kitchen specialist who designed this bath "zoned" its fixtures with decorative ceramic tile, installed dual lavatories, provided both vanity and overhead lighting as assets of remodeling.

Kitchen Specialists Also Plan Bathrooms

The kitchen planner is often a bath planner, too, for he deals basically with two things: space and storage. In a kitchen, he uses cabinetry and appliances; in the bath, cabinetry and fixtures to provide the kind and amount of storage you need in an arrangement that uses space to advantage.

As in planning a kitchen, the specialist will check a list of questions with you prior to laying out a bathroom - or remodeling one - for you. He does this because of the obvious manner in which decorating the bath differs from decorating a living room, bedroom or den: You can't change your mind once the fixtures are in.

Members of the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers - 80 per cent of whom also plan bathrooms - ask such questions as: how many in the family will use this bathroom regularly? must it serve as both family and guest bath? what personal care appliances do you use, such as curling comb, facial sauna, hair dryer? do you prefer to store linens in the bathroom or keep them in a separate closet? do you wish a shower separate from the tub? a bidet as well as a toilet? a built-in sumlamp? a vanity base with or without a hamper? do you like to grow plants in the bathroom?

The answers to these and many other questions will determine layout and facilities. Beyond that, there's style to consider: do you prefer ornamental cabinets or simple modern? what colors do you find happiest to live with?

If you are planning a new home, the layout is a matter of placing fixtures most conveniently in the available space. If you're remodeling, the specialist will utilize existing plumbing to minimize the expense of putting in new water supply lines, for example. He may be able to zone the bath for different functions, switch fixtures around, install beams to lower the ceiling, build in a light box above the vanity counter - or even open up a closet next to the bath to expand it.

In short, the specialist - even if you plan to be your own contractor, working from the professional's plans - can open your eyes to new possibilities as well as new products. He'll help you select those which are both practical and pretty, so that while your bath is easy to maintain it's anything but a "plain Jane"!

Fashion-Conscious Japanese Women Like Western Look

By KATHRYN TOLBERT

TOKYO (AP) — Fashion-conscious Tokyo mirrors the clothing trends of the United States and Europe with amazing speed and accuracy, but there are some exceptions.

The Chinese look said to be favored in New York and Paris will probably never catch on in Japan.

"Fashion must be something more than life. It must be exotic. Japan is too close to China, so it would be difficult to make the China look fashionable," said Hajime Sakisaka of the fashion research center of one of Japan's major textile manufacturers.

Instead, it is the ethnic look from Switzerland and Germany that Japanese women like.

Fashion is big business in Japan and the European influence is conspicuous. Every weekend in Harajuku, one of the more fashionable areas of Tokyo, soft rock music flows from the open doors of crowded boutiques and thousands of young women in long skirts or chic overalls and wedged sandals stroll down the wide tree-shaded sidewalks.

Small shops that sell only Japanese-made clothing have French names, and although Japanese designers are becoming increasingly well known internationally, Christian Dior, Yves St. Laurent and Pierre Cardin are more popular.

Japanese designer Hanae Mori's butterfly-splashed clothes that made hers a familiar name in New York are said to be less popular here because the prints are identifiably Japanese.

And the Japanese preference for Paris fashion made it necessary for one Japanese designer, Jun Ashida, to make plans to have his clothes manufactured in Paris and then brought back to Japan with "Made in Paris" on the label.

Western clothing does not have a long history in Japan. Only since World War II — the last 30 years — has Western fashion become a point of interest and study.

It has been undertaken with characteristic thoroughness. Blue jeans are the uniform for the young, the classic shirtwaist dresses are a perennial and seasonal fashion changes follow close on the heels of Paris.

The full tent-like clothing of winter's "big look" has given way to what one of Tokyo's most fashionable department stores calls the "semi-ample" or "controlled look," with below the knee skirts and culottes of flat-woven cotton in earthy colors. They cost between $15 and $30 U.S.

There are no Japanese fashion magazines, but foreign fashion magazines are a regular for beauty salons and bookshop browsers. Japan's weekly and monthly women's magazines usually devote a few pages to photographs of fashionable clothing.

It has only been in the last four years that Japanese women have been able to afford to dress with individuality and in a variety of styles, according to one fashion research center. It reports they still are behind the United States.

By 1976 they predict the Japanese average income will reach the 1971 U.S. level and make it possible for Japanese women to coordinate their wardrobes, buy better quality goods and have the leisure time that encourages sewing one's own clothes — a practice not widespread here.

The French influence is by far the strongest in the Japanese fashion world, but a Tokyo department store opened a Calvin Klein shop in February and it has been averaging $50,000 U.S. a month in sales.

New Warranty Law Affects Clothing

COLLEGE STATION—Consumers can look forward to more explicit warranties from fiber manufacturers who offer warranty programs on their products, Claudia Mitzel, consumer information—clothing and textiles specialist, reported this week.

The new law—effective July 4, 1975—does not make warranties mandatory. It does set standards that manufacturers must follow if they offer warranties, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"For the consumer, clothing warranties are an excellent way of insuring a high standard of materials and workmanship. Warranties are found on many types of clothing and some household furnishings.

"If durability is important to the consumer, he should look for those items which carry warranties."

The specialist noted that one major provision of the new law is to distinguish between "limited" and "full" warranties. A full warranty will cover all aspects of fiber, fabric and apparel performance—whereas a limited warranty will not.

"Another requirement the law will effect is the use of the word 'guarantee.' This word will no longer appear by itself on any hangtags or advertisements. But it may be used if accompanied by the word 'warranty.'

"The tags will carry a mandatory printed warning stating 'Protect your warranty, keep this tag and your sales slip.' "

Peaches Reasonable Now

COLLEGE STATION—Fresh peaches—a sure sign of summer—are in season now. That means consumers can find highest quality and lowest prices now, Marilyn Haggard, foods and nutrition speicalist said this week.

She advised selecting peaches that are bright in color, plump, fresh looking, fairly firm and free from bruises.

"Shy away from peaches that are close to overripe, because a small bruised or overripe spot quickly takes over the entire peach,'" the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Ripening can be delayed temporarily by refrigerator storage. Peaches can be kept refrigerated for three to five days, depending upon their stage of ripeness.

An easy way to loosen the peeling is to dip the fruit into boiling water for about 45 seconds, then plunge directly into cold water. Peel the peach gently using the dull edge of a knife, she said.

Farmer Not To Blame

No one can deny that food prices have gone up. They have - by about 64 per cent between 1953 and 1973. But during the same period, wages increased more than 142 per cent.

Moreover, Americans are spending a smaller percentage of their incomes on food than they did a couple of decades ago. In 1953, food took about 22 per cent of disposable income. In 1973, it was down to 16 per cent, and the Department of Commerce estimates it was 16.7 per cent in 1974, despite the fact that the consumer price index—the cost of everything - rose nearly 12 per cent.

This is less than in any other country. World wide, the percentage of income spent on food runs between 30 and 60 per cent.

According to a report by The Conference Board, a New York based economic research organization, total consumer spending (after inflation is subtracted) rose $350 billion, or 75 per cent, in the United States between 1960 and 1973. And while 9 per cent that increased spending went for food, this compares with 14.5 per cent more spent on luxuries and 15 per cent more spent on automobiles.

Nevertheless, everyone thinks food prices are too high and that somebody is getting rich because of it.

Well, it's not the farmer, according to one source. While farm income has gone up in recent years, it is still low, says F.L. Wooten, vice president of Kaiser Agricultural Chemicals.

In 1971, median income for all U.S. families was $10,285, he says, but for farm families (and 98 per cent of all farm are family operations) it was $5,712. In 1973, farmers earned approximately $3,300 per person, but national per capita income was $5,000.

Then where is the food dollar going?

The farmer receives less than half the money spent for food, says Wooten. In 1973, he got 46 per cent of each food dollar; in 1974, 42 per cent. All indications are that it will be even less this year. The remainder goes for transportation, processing and retailing.

America's farmers remain the world's most productive, feeding more than a quarter of the earth's population. They have played a large part in improving the nation's balance of payments situation and are constantly working to achieve greater efficiency.

For example, in 1960 there were 7.9 million farm workers, each supplying enough food for 25 other persons. In 1974, there were only 4.3 million farm workers, but each provided enough food for himself and 50 additional people.

None of these statistics may do much to ease the pain one experiences while strolling down the supermarket aisle, but at least they may help to put things in better perspective.

No Organizing Allowed

If United Farm Workers Union organizers thought they had encountered problems in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, they must have thought the roof caved in when they went across the river into Mexico.

Mexican officials were not disposed to waste much time discussing the situation. News reports said that Tony Orendain, a UFWU organizer, went across the border from Presidio into Ojinaga, Mexico, to whip up a demonstration. Mexican Federal troops escorted him back across the border into Texas and warned him not to return to Mexico.

An avowed objective of the UFWU is better pay and better working conditions for the Mexican nationals who come across the border daily to work on farms. Officials in their homeland apparently are skeptical of the operation. Anyway, they have let it be known emphatically that they want no part of it.

Orendain was reported headed to Pecos, well north of the border. So, if the Mexican National workers are to be organized, it appears that the organizing will have to take place north of the Rio Grande.

White Opposes Federal Voting Rights Act

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Secretary of State Mark White says Texas is tops in the nation in protecting the right to vote and, therefore, should not be placed under the federal voting rights act.

White held a news conference Wednesday to repeat what he and Gov. Dolph Briscoe have said over and again—that federal election monitors are not needed to protect voting rights of Mexican-Americans in Texas.

The U.S. Senate has before it legislation that would apply the enforcement provisions of the voting rights act to Texas.

"Texas is foremost among all the states in protecting the rights of her citizens to vote," White said.

He was asked about a suit filed by Mexican-Americans who claim they are intimidated by the requirement that they sign their ballot stubs and deposit them in a special container.

That requirement, White said, is "designed to prevent fraud." And it is a felony, carrying a maximum 10-year sentence, to tamper with a ballot box, he said.

Gospel Music Concert Set Here Friday

The Gospel Continentals, a full-time gospel singing and evangelistic group from Franklinton, La., will present a concert Friday night at Morningside Baptist Church in Snyder.

The concert is set for 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge. However, a free-will offering will be taken.

The Gospel Continentals are known nation-wide. They are returning from a trip to the West Coast and when it is completed they will have been across the United States twice in one year.

The Gospel Continentals are a family group composed of two brothers and a sister, a brother-in-law and a sister-in-law. Sam Husser, an ordained Baptist minister, is the evangelist for the group. Doug Lee is the pianist and manager of the group. They record on the Nashville Superior Label.

Carillo Inks Judgment Order Ousting Parr

HEBBRONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A district court judge under indictment for income tax evasion and the subject of a Texas House impeachment inquiry Wednesday signed an order removing from office a county judge convicted of perjury.

With a stroke of his pen on a judgment order, District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo permanently removed suspended Duval County Judge Archer Parr from the office Parr has held for the past 16 years. Parr will remain suspended pending the outcome of his appeal, the judge said.

The judgement was signed after Judge Carrillo granted a motion for an instructed verdict against Parr in his ouster trial here.

The motion was filed by Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra Monday after Parr failed to appear for a deposition hearing at San Diego.

The deposition hearing became necessary because Parr, a nephew of the late South Texas political boss George B. Parr and heir apparent to the title "Duke of Duval," could not be located to be subpoenaed.

The ouster trial resulted from a civil suit filed by Guerra against Parr on March 24. At that time, Judge Carrillo temporarily suspended Parr from office.

The civil suit noted Parr's perjury conviction and accused Parr of acts of official misconduct and conflict of interest.

Defense lawyer Mrvin Foster of San Diego said he will appeal the judge's ruling and instructed verdict that ordered the jury of nine men and three women to rule against Parr and declare him guilty of "incompetence, gross carelessness and official misconduct."

In a lengthy statement issued after the ruling, Foster criticized Judge Carrillo, noting that Foster had tried to get the judge to disqualify himself from presiding on grounds that Judge Carrillo is involved in a political conspiracy to take control of Duval County from Parr and his political faction.

Of the ruling and subsequent judgement, Foster said, "The last shred of judicial dignity has now been ripped from the due process of law shield to which all citizens are supposed to be entitled."

"The real question at issue during this case was not whether Archer Parr should or should not remain as county judge of Duval County, but in truth and in fact is whether or not our judicial process can withstand and survive an onslaught of political abuse and misuse of judicial power," Foster continued.

What is causing low blood sugar

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—We have just found out after a glucose tolerance test of four hours that my wife has or is a hypoglycemic. Her test results were: First hour, 110; second hour, 80; third hour, 36; and fourth hour, 40.

The doctor here is treating her as a diabetic, but with no medication, just an 1800 calorie diet with six meals a day. But she is very tired 90 per cent of the time.

The doctor said this was just the opposite of diabetes. We would appreciate anything you could tell us about this.

DEAR READER—It would be interesting to know why your wife had a glucose tolerance test. Was she actually having symptoms of low blood sugar? When I first tested athletes, I was surprised how many endurance athletes had relatively low blood sugar levels on repeated tests but had no sumptoms at all and were in optimal health. These young men were in training for the Olympics. The point here is that the blood glucose level is not always a reliable indicator of how much glucose is getting into the cells and that is what counts.

A diabetic can have relative hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) even when the blood level is quite high, because the level is not high enough for him with his problem of getting glucose into the cell.

In general, it is true that low blood sugar (hypoglycemia) is the opposite of diabetes. There are several ways low blood sugar can be caused. Some diabetics have episodes of low blood sugar because the islets of Langerhand, where insulin is formed, are not fuctioning right and release too much insulin at the wrong time. Later the islets get worse and true diabetes develops. So, low blood sugar and diabetes can be part of the same disease problem.

What you mean by treating your wife like a diabetic is also of interest. Most people think that a diabetic should be treated by avoiding carbohydrates. That idea is on the way out. Many diabetic specialists today think that a person with diabetes should restrict the fat intake and use more carbohydrate in the diet. This may help to prevent heart and vascular disease so common in diabetics.

The carbohydrate recommended, though, for diabetics is from unrefined foods, such as fresh vegetables, fruits, salads and cereals. You can usually use these goods, even when low blood sugar is the problem.

I would guess your doctor wants to decrease your wife's weight and also to provide her with small continuous feedings to avoid attacks of low blood sugar. That is good practice. The fatigue may be a symptom of her low blood glucose. If she can tolerate it, a regular program of mild to moderate physical activity may help relieve some of her fatigue. Too much exercise could use up her glucose and make her blood sugar fall still more. Walking and general light exercise, though, sometimes help to mobilize fat and other food stores that provide energy.

The treatment for low blood sugar depends on what is causing it. For more information about hypoglycemia, write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019, and ask for the Health Letter number 3-9 on Low Blood Sugar. Send a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 50 cents for mailing and costs.

CHER BONO
. . .Made a mistake

Cher Is Seeking Divorce

By KEVIN McKENNA
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Gregg and I made a mistake," entertainer Cher said in announcing that she was seeking a divorce after nine days of marriage to rock musician Gregg Allman.

"I've always believed it best to admit one's mistakes as quickly as possible," she said late Wednesday. "We just cannot live together as man and wife."

A spokesman for Cher said the couple had been separated since last Friday, and Cher had left for an undisclosed location.

Cher said, "I am trying to make my own decisions now after years of having had them made for me. I am bound to make wrong ones from time to time and this was one of those times."

But after filing for divorce from Allman, 29-year-old Cherilyn LaPiere Bono Allman reportedly was not sure her latest decision was the right one either.

Less than two weeks ago, Cher had shed her first husband, long-time singing partner Sonny Bono.

A spokesman for Allman said the latest divorce action was all a misunderstanding. He claimed Cher had already reconsidered, and he said he thought she might not go through with the divorce.

"The papers have been filed but the litigation will not go through," said Mike Hyland of Allman's recording company, Capricorn Records. There were also reports, later withdrawn, that Cher was unaware of the divorce action.

Later, Hyland said, "I think they had a misunderstanding. I think they got things straightened out, but I really have no way of knowing. I know they were on the phone this afternoon."

He said Allman was "pretty much surprised" by Cher's divorce petition, which cited "irreconcilable differences."

Hyland said it was possible the couple would get together over the weekend in Georgia, home of the Allman Brothers Band, or Los Angeles.

Allman, 27, was in Macon, Ga., recording an album.

Cher, a long-haired beauty with one of the most frequently photogaphed navels in the history of American television, and Allman were married June 30 in Las Vegas in a small ceremony in the Caesars Palace suite of Cher's lawyer, Milton Rudin.

She had been divorced from Bono for only three days.

"I have my own feelings about divorce," Cher had said after her split wth Bono. "So many people get divorced today. I think you shouldn't regard it as a failure. Just a change."

SIFTS THROUGH ENQUIRER'S GARBAGE

ost Reporter Believes Turnabout Is Fair Play

ST PALM BEACH, Fla. the belief that turnabout r play, a local newspaper one unto the National En- what it did unto Secre- of State Henry A. Kissin- sift through the garbage.

e Enquirer, a weekly news- based in nearby Lantana, reporter Jay Gourley to away trash from the Kis- household in Washing- Georgetown section on day.

ourley, who was quizzed for hours by the Secret Serv- ice, retained the five bags of trash.

Reporter Steve Mitchell of the Palm Beach Post was luck- ier in his efforts Wednesday. He managed to slip away unde- tected after he rummaged through an Enquirer dumpster.

"My goal was the same as the Enquirer reporter: to sort through old bills and any other old documents for a story," Mitchell wrote of his escapade. "If apprehended, my defense would be the same as the En- quirer's: the trash and gar- bage, once discarded, belongs to anybody who has the stom- ach to go through it."

Mitchell said it took him just three minutes to stuff a big bag chock full of the Enquirer's leavings.

He said he rejected "the ruins of a pizza and the gnawed hulk of what once had been the pride of Col. Sanders" and con- centrated on printed material that turned out to be rejected stories and correspondence, computer print-outs of Enquirer stories and other relatively rou- tine items.

"It was not until we arrived back at the Post and began go- ing through our loot that I real- ized what a prize we had," Mit- chell wrote. "It was nothing less than the secret of the Na- tional Enquirer's success — a memo to the editorial staff from publisher Generoso Pope Jr. himself."

Mitchell said the Aug. 17, 1973, memo told the the staff how to write stories "packed with color and emotion ... We need quotes that tug at the heart. Prod, push and probe the main characters in the story. Help them frame their an- swers."

Mitchell said Pope gave his workers an example: "How did it feel?" "Bad." "No, I mean what did it feel like?" "I don't know, it just hurt." "Was it a sharp pain?" "No." "Was it more like a toothache?" "No."

"Did you ever feel anything like it before?" "Not really, but it was something like an elec- trical shock." "Where did you feel it?" "It hit me in the back of the neck and went down my spine." "Did you scream?" "I couldn't."

According to Pope's memo, the reporter is ready to pro- ceed: "Let's see if I got this straight. You said, 'The pain hit me. It was like an electric shock. It started in my neck and shot down my spine. I wanted to scream but I couldn't. I've never felt any- thing like it.'" "Yes, that's it."

Sales Tax Upheld By Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The 4 per cent state sales tax, which produces nearly $1.5 billion a year in revenue, is con- stitutional the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals ruled Wednesday.

The tax has been in effect for 14 years and is the state's big- gest revenue producer, but its constitutionality apparently had never been challenged and de- termined.

American Transfer & Storage raised the issue in a suit to re- cover $11,654 in sales taxes paid under protest on packing materials used in its business.

Company lawyers contended the tax was not constitutional since it is not among those spe- cifically authorized by the Texas Constitution—property taxes, poll taxes, corporation taxes, occupation taxes and in- come taxes.

But the appeals court cited another provision that allows other taxes as long as they are "consistent with the principles of taxation fixed in this con- stitution."

Coast To Coast

By Dick Maurice

Does Goldie kiss and tell? For those of you wondering what went on behind the scenes of the movie "Shampoo, GOLDIE HAWN has this little tid bit about WARREN BEATTY.

"When we first met, he made his obligatory pass and it was cute and sweet. I did not know if he really wanted to whisk me off to the bedroom – or if it was just his nature. Then I realized that it was just Warren. He does it with everybody -- women, women of all ages, men, children. In fact, the only thing I've never seen Warren not be nice to are animals"

Who says that one needs good grades to be successful? EFREM ZIMBALIST JR. flunked out of Yale twice but went on to fame and fortune as a TV star. Still Efrem confesses to having had a disagreement with his wife over the word "heterosexual." "I'm such a square," the actor says, "I thought it was dirty – that it meant swinging both ways." Didn't he learn anything on the F.B.I.?

There's been a lot of talk that FRANK SINATRA came out of retirement because he needed the money. Now there are whispers around Hollywood that LUCILLE BALL may soon come out of retirement as well. However, in Lucy's case, it isn't because she's broke. A conservative estimate of her wealth is placed at $10 - $20 million. Not bad for a dumb red-head.

Remember the actor TAB HUNTER? Well he's as youthful as ever and doesn't look a day over 30. When I asked him what his secret was, he smiled and said, "When I was a child, I had a picture of SONJA HENIE in a blue mirrored frame and I used to kiss her goodnight after my prayers." The truth is however, he sleeps 16 hours a day. No wonder I haven't seen him in films lately!

"Kojak's" TELLY SAVALAS was asked on his passport application – he went to Germany to make a flick – to name his occupation and here's what he put: "Social Worker." Funny, I believe him. I've seen him working the social scene when I was in California.

MOVIE OF THE WEEK: "The Drowning Pool" They're not getting older, they are getting better. PAUL NEWMAN and JOANNE WOODWARD that is. This old fashion who done it flick weaves the known and the unknown into a movie that curdles the blood and keeps the suspense soaring without a letup even after its bizarre ending. Two bright performances are given by two newcomers: Gail Strickland and Melanie Griffith. It's a film worth standing in line for.

Funny lady RUTH BUZZI of "Laugh In" fame has been touring the country with a nightclub act and says it wasn't merely money that got her on the road: "I thought my nightclub act would be a great showcase to prove my versatility and it's been a lot of fun so far. I have four boys who work with me. They sing, dance, and join me in skits. I only use two characters from "Laugh In" - one is Gladys Ormphby, the spinster, and the other is a surprise."

Don't ask to interview INGRID BERGMAN - this is what she'll tell you. "People are bored hearing about me." I've been asked everything and am fed up listening to myself talk about myself"

Anything but lazy is JOAN FONTAINE. I stopped by her magnificent East Side apartment for tea, and was absolutely bowled over with her great energy. Joan is now lecturing around the country on a subject she knows well, "Hollywood, Then and Now". The 50-plus actress, who brags that she doesn't wear a bra or a girdle, has an interesting philosophy on facelifts. "I like what God does to one's face as it gets older, but one must consider that it's not you looking at yourself; it's your friends who have to look at you." I think she looks great. But then I'm biased. She's my godmother.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "I once tried to kill myself – when I was living in New York. It was very embarrassing – I cut my leg. My doctor gave me hell – he said it was the silliest suicide attempt he had ever seen. But I still have the scar. But a more serious attempt would not be in my nature...not even in my most painful moments." Who said this? Actress, FAYE DUNAWAY.

Rumors persist that this is JOHNNY CARSON's last year on the "Tonight Show". The man who many insiders think will replace him is Arthur Simeonivch Efimchik, better known as ART JAMES, the smiling head man of the "Who, What or Where?" game.

Jenkins Hurls 4-Hit Shutout

NEW YORK (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins doesn't mind being compared to Robin Roberts and Catfish Hunter, but there's one area in which he wishes he were different.

"Home runs have been a problem all my life," Jenkins said Wednesday night after pitching the Texas Rangers to a four-hit 4-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

Jenkins didn't seem impressed when someone mentioned that Roberts and Hunter also had a tendency to give up a lot of home runs but still posted outstanding records.

"That's what people keep telling me," Jenkins said, "but I don't want to break Roberts' record."

Having already allowed 25 home runs, Jenkins is well on his way toward Roberts' unenviable major league mark of surrendering 46 homers in a season. The American League mark is 43 by Washington's Pedro Ramos.

"Twenty-five homers is pretty horrible at this point," said the 31-year-old right-hander. "I aim to cut it down in the second half of the season."

All he has to do is pitch like he did against the Yankees, allowing just four singles, walking none and striking out five in running his record to 10-9.

"I'm a zone pitcher. If I miss the zone on a hot hitter, that's when I get hurt. Wrigley Field was a tough park to keep the ball in," added Jenkins, who spent eight seasons with the Chicago Cubs, "and Texas isn't any better because the ball jumps out of there. But if I pitched in Yellowstone, somebody'd hit a couple of homers off me."

The only Yankee who came close Wednesday night was Thurman Munson, but his long drive was caught in front of the left field fence for the final out of the game.

Jenkins had considerable help from batterymate Jim Sundberg, who tagged loser Rudy May, 7-6, for a three-run homer in the sixth inning. Tom Grieve doubled home the Rangers' first run in the opening inning.

Wildness proved May's downfall. He walked two batters before Grieve's run-scoring double and issued an infield hit and another walk—his sixth of the game—before Sundberg's two-out homer in the sixth.

BLASTS OUT—Gary Player, South African defending Open champion, hits out of a bunker during the first round of the British Open Golf championship. Many of the talented golfers came to grief in the opening round, but Peter Oosterhuis, British favorite, was leading by four strokes going into today's second round. Jack Nicklaus was only one stroke off the pace. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Injunction Is Denied

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Owners of two football teams "sound the death knell" for professional football here if they continue to fight, a federal district court judge says.

Chief U.S. Dist. Court Judge Adrian Spears gave that warning Wednesday after denying an injunction request which would have stopped the World Football League game between the San Antonio Wing and Memphis on July 19.

Asking for the injunction was Henry Hight, owner of a minor league football team called the San Antonio Toros.

Judge Spears urged both sides to get together to work out a reconciliation and said a civil suit would be the proper way to decide any damages.

Spears gave his opinion on the Toros-Wing squabble after describing himself as old football fan and saying he wanted "to shed his robe as a judge and speak as an interested citizen."

Both Toros owner Hight and Wing governor Norm Bevan said they would try to get together on a deal.

Hight and the Toros have sued the Wing for $3 million damages.

Lee Roy Jordan Signs Contract

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, a 13-veteran, has signed his 1975 contract with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League and says he will be around until his replacement is ready to take over.

His replacement is Randy White of Maryland, the Cowboys' number one draft choice.

Jordan said Wednesday he has signed a two-year pact with the Cowboys, but added: "I still can't really say how long I'll play. It depends on how I feel physically and how well Randy does."

Jordan praised the top rookie. "He is best rooke we've had around since Bob Lilly... He has great quickness and movememt."

Jordan had an off season last year after being named defensive player of the year in 1973. He said he did not train at all before last season and also recently found out he had played with a fractured rib.

"I knew my back was bothering me, but I just thought it was old age."

The Cowboys announced Wednesday that rookie Bob Breunig, the team's third draft choice out of Arizona State, has signed his contract.

Cowboy officials said Breunig signed in time to complete his physical examination and will be available for work when the Cowboys put on their pads for the first time Thursday at their training camp to begin two-a-day drills.

"I've been working out," Breunig said, "so I'll be ready to go with the rest of them. I am glad it's over. I was getting a little edgy about the situation because I like to get things settled."

The Cowboys will scrimmage with the San Diego Chargers Monday.

Willie Shoemaker's victory aboard Avatar in the 107th running of the Belmont Stakes marked the jockey's second successive victory in the rich race. He won with Damascus in 1967 and has taken five Belmonts in eight efforts.

Jr. Girls In Tourney

DALLAS (AP) — Medalist Carol Bragdon of Richardson goes against Leilani Smith of Laredo today in the top Open Division semifinalis match of the Texas State Junior Girls Golf Tournament.

In another semifinals match Peggy Gustafson of Brenham will play Sandy Yount of Plano.

Miss Bragdon notched four birdies in the front nine Wednesday to defeat Robin Hall of San Antonio, 5 and 4 in the quarterfinals. Miss Smith defeated Robin Hurley of Humble 2 and 1 while Miss Gustafson beat Pam Skelly of San Antonio, 3 and 2; and Miss Yount beat Missie McGeorge of Richardson, 3 and 2.

Medalist Sheila Oldfield of Bastrop, Jennifer O'Neill of Conroe, Marci Bozarth of Lampasas and Cindy Phillips of Sugar Land gained semifinals berths in the Intermediate Division.

The four contestants left in Sub-Junior Division are Rae Rothfelder of Fort Worth, Mary Ann Crow of Dallas, Nikki Murphy of Bedford and Lori Brock of Dallas.

In the Midget Division the semifinalists are Amy Norman of Conroe, Sharon Castillo of Houston, Elizabeth Ornelas of Austin and Karen Sue Schmidt of Sugar Land.

The tournament is sponsored by the Dallas Times Herald.

Honorable mention are Loyd Sands, Jimmy Autry and Tom Bills.

Members of the Blue All-Stars are Lewis Tate, Whit Parks, Terrance Dennis, Jesse Zamora, Randy Lyons, Larry Turk, Kip Elkins, Randy Beasley, Billy Clayton, Jesse Guzman, Paul Schaufele, Bobby McArtnur, Robert Velasquez, Riley Kitchens and Mark Hockenbrock.

Manager of the Red All-Stars is William Powell while Don Huddleston, Mike Trull, Kenneth Martin and Albert Malone are coaches.

Jerry Dennis is manager of the Blue All-Stars. Coaches are G.A. Parks, Bill Clayton, Dug Grimes and Truman Hockenbroch.

The Indians were champions of the Farm League this season.

Cole Fires Six Under

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — The lion links of Carnoustie purred like a kitten today as Bobby Cole of South Africa and several other golfers brave the course record in the second round of the British Open golf championship.

Cole, who shared the early 36-hole lead of 138 with Tom Watson and South African Andries Oosthuizen, fired a six-under-par 66, and Watson, Australian Graham Marsh and Briton Bernard Gallacher shot 67s.

The previous mark of 68 was set by Ben Hogan 22 years ago when he won the British Open. Hogan's effort was unequalled until 1968 when Billy Casper tied it in the Open. Then first-round leader Peter Osterhuis matched it again on Wednesday.

The course, a 7,095-yard, par 72 layout laced with Barry Burn, had been rock-hard all week and felled most of the best in the opening round, particularly during the last three holes. But an overnight rain tamed it.

Marsh's round put him one stroke back of the early pace with a 139, along with Gallacher, former U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin and John Mahaffey. Irwin shot a 70—139 and Mahaffey a 68—139.

Oosthuizen grabbed a share of the early lead with his second straight 69.

Jack Nicklaus, heavily favored to win his third British Open title, remained in contention with a 140, four under par and two strokes off the early pace, with a second-round 71. Also at 71—140 was Jack Newton of Australia.

Lou Graham, who ended Irwin's reign as U.S. Open champion last month in Medinah, Ill., parred the course today. His 72—145 put him one over par for 36 holes, well off the early pace.

Immediate Expansion Deferred

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Missouri Valley Conference officials decided Wednesday against immediate expansion to eight members.

A final decision will not be reached until after the National Collegiate Athletic Association meets in Chicago Aug. 14-15, Mickey Holmes, conference commissioner, announced at the end of the meeting.

Holmes said the main factors affecting the final decision are how television revenue will be determined in the future and rules governing championship consideration by the NCAA in various sports.

The conference was reduced to seven members in May by the surprise pullout of Louisville to enter a new conference. Since then consideration has been given to Indiana State and Arkansas State for possible addition.

Part of the initial interest in expansion is a rule assuring conferences with at least eight members of three television appearances in a season. There is a chance now, however, that that rule may be dropped or amended by the NCAA.

"Dynamite Twins" Are Sensational

By DAVE O'HARA
AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Nobody's comparing them with the immortal Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig as a 1-2 punch yet, but rookies Jim Rice and Fred Lynn of the Boston Red Sox are baseball's newest dynamite twins.

"You ain't seen nothin' yet," Boston scout Sam Mele said with a grin and a wink Wednesday after the two young sensations helped power the Red Sox to a dramatic 9-8 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Mele, former major league player and manager, was all smiles after watching two of his prize pupils during a break from his travels to farm clubs. He couldn't hide his pride.

With the Red Sox trailing 8-4 in the eighth, Rice drilled a vicious RBI double off the wall in left center. Lynn followed with his 15th homer, hoisting a 1-2 pitch into the left field screen.

Then, in the ninth, after Cecil Copper tied the score with a pinch homer and Doug Griffin delivered a pinch single, Rice got another shot. The 22-year-old outfielder lined a 3-2 pitch to left-center for a double and Griffin scored easily with the winning run.

"Jimmy Rice hasn't even started to hit yet, and I know what he's done so far," Mele said. "He's going to get better and better. Just wait until he stays away from the bad balls, which he will. He's just about the best young right-handed hitter I've ever seen. He knows what he's doing up there all the time."

Mele and scout Mace Brown saw Rice in high school in South Carolina. Later, Mele provided helpful advice in the Florida instructional league and in the minors.

Lynn, a former University of Southern California star, was the Red Sox' No. 1 draft choice in 1973, two years after Rice was the club's top pick. Mele wasn't involved with Lynn's signing, but he's very high on the young centerfielder.

"Fred is a little older (one year) than Jimmy and had a lot of experience when he signed," Mele said. "After about a half-season in Class A, we brought him to the instructional league in 1973.

"You could see that he could hit the ball. He was a polished player even then."

As baseball heads to the All-Star break, Rice and Lynn are running neck and neck for the American League's rookie of the year award.

Lynn may have a slight edge, but Rice is known for his second-half hitting. Playing regularly, while Rice was a designated hitter much of the time, Lynn has been outstanding in the field, even throwing out a runner at the plate Wednesday.

Rice went 2-for-5 as the Red Sox swept a three-game series from Minnesota. Lynn, who had a game-winning pinch single in the ninth Tuesday night, was 3-for-4, with a bunt single and a line double to go with his homer.

Lynn, who returned to the starting lineup after nursing a bruised left hand since last Friday, raised his season average to .333. His 89 hits include 15 homers, four triples and 19 doubles. He has driven in 61 runs and scored 56.

Rice has 13 homers, three triples and 18 doubles among his 86 hits, has driven in 56 runs and scored 56. Both have played in 74 games.
