A series of free prizes will be given away during the meeting.

In the business session, some 500 members and their families will hear a report on the best year the Greenbelt Co-operaticve has ever enjoyed, Henry said. H. S. Hardin, Claude, president, will be in charge.

Also during the business session Judge Luther Gribble will read the minutes of the 1956 meeting, and two new directors will be elected to replace E. D. Crawley, Wellington, District 1; and John P. Ambler, Twitty, District 4. Candidates to succeed Crawley are W. O. Vaughan of Dodson and Fred Bourland of Quail. Candidates from District 4 are E. E. Henderson and Gene Shaffer.

Officers this year with Hardin have been Ambler, vice-president and Crawley, secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Herbert Knoll, Samnorwood; Terrill Christian, Claude; Glen Williams, Clarendon; and W. S. Kromer, Vinson.

The Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., serves an area going into five counties: Collingsworth, Childress, Donley, Wheeler, Armstrong in Texas and Harmon County, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Arna Knight, a graduate of North Texas State College, will teach homemaking. She has taught four years at Sudan and three at Estelline, and altogether, she has had 11 years teaching experience. Reared at Altus, Okla., he is a graduate of Oklahoma A&M College and is a veteran of service in the armed forces. He is married and has two children.

Jacobs' teams have an excellent record of judging in stock shows of the state. The teams were high in hog judging at Lubbock and sheep judging at Plainview. His teams also placed second in the hog show at Houston out of 1400 entries, and were third and sixth at Fort Worth, and showed the reserve champion in the Lubbock show.

New Hours at Post Office

Postmaster R. T. Savage has announced new opening and closing hours for the Wellington Office.

Until further notice, the windows will open at 8:30 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m. This gives one-half hour more service than the hours that have been observed since the curtailment of services.

THESE ARE SNAKEY DAYS

Snake hunting by bow and arrow and nigger shooter provides both sport and riddance of dangerous reptiles as warm spring days bring out these diamond-back rattlers in the Salt Fork River area.. Oran Starkey, third from right, organized the hunt after presence of so many snakes had prevented fence building on his farm. The group, from left to right are Judge Raymond Horton; Marvin Seale, on whose farm part of the snakes were killed; Leo Russell; Police Chief Bill McCarver; Starkey; Otto Russell, who had one snake sink its fangs in his boot-top; and Alvin Horton. Allen Graves, member of the party, made the picture.

Salt Fork SCD Has 2 Winners In Save the Soil Awards Program

Two of this years Region 1 champions in the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program come from the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, announcement of winners by the Fort Worth Press, sponsor of the program, revealed Thursday, April 25.

The Salt Fork SCD itself was judged the winning district. This is the second time it has received the honor, and 1957 was the first year it was eligible to enter after its previous winning.

Herbert Bearden, young Wellington farmer, and field manager of the Memphis Production Credit Association, was named Champion Comeback Farmer, the third time in four years this honor has come to Salt Fork SCD.

There are only six winners, in addition to 10 essay contest winners, from Region 1. None of the state winners was from this area.

Awards will be made the Region I champions at an awards dinner at Hereford May 9.

The District will receive a check for $300 as the champion Soil Conservation District and Bearden will receive a check for $100 as the Comeback Farmer.

The Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program is sponsored each year by the Fort Worth Press, whose editor, Walter Humphrey, is a leader in soil conservation movement.

This brings to approximately 12 the number of awards the Salt Fork SCD and its co-operators have won in the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program, probably more than any other district of the state.

Plans for the awards dinner are being made and tickets will be available here, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, said.

A large delegation is due to go from here.

Other Region 1 winners are:

Outstanding farmer: Grady Halbert, Crowell, Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District; Outstanding Group, South Chillicothe Group, Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District; Outstanding Service by business or professional man or woman, E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, Pampa, Gray County Soil Conservation District; and Homemaker, Mrs. William T. McEachern, Hale Center, Hale County Soil Conservation District.

Total for Year 5.87 Inches

Easter Spell Brings 1.88 Inch of Moisture

Wellington received 1.78 inches of rain during the Easter weekend, bringing the total for the month to 2.18, and for the year to 5.87 inches, considerably above normal for this period.

Some parts of the county have received more moisture.

Odis Killingsworth, Weather Bureau observer, reported that .20 inch was measured from the rain Thursday night and early Friday; .70 was measured Saturday; and .05 on Easter Sunday. The rainfall Monday accompanying what many believed to be the worst cloud since the storm of June 1955, brought .83 inch.

Prior to that .38 inch fell on April 3 and .02 on April 4, with a trace recorded April 12.

Measurements by months are:

January — .50
February — 1.18
March — 2.01
April — 2.18
Total —— 5.87

Quail Men Plan Co-op Gin for Community

The Young Farmers organization at Quail is calling a community wide meeting for Thursday night, May 2, to lay plans for a farmers co-op gin for that community. The meeting will be held at the school at 8 p. m.

The group has contacted J. M. Tindall of Shamrock, owner of the Quail Gin, and report he is willing to sell his plant.

Preliminary plans have been made, according to Frank Kennedy, advisor, and these will be completed, the organization set up and a temporary board of directors elected at the May 2 meeting.

Financing will be discussed and two methods will be put before the farmers: securing private financing or selling stock.

Donald Langley heads the 15-man organization made up of young farmers of the Quail area. The entire group has been working to secure a gin.

The May 2 meeting is open to all farmers and others interested in securing a co-op gin, Kennedy said.

Seek Persons Throwing Poison Meat and Candy

An animal poisoner is again operating in Wellington, Police Chief Bill McCarver warned as law enforcement officers went to work to prevent serious illness or possible death to some child, as well as further loss of animal life.

A horse belonging to Clyde Gollihugh was poisoned, as well as a number of cats and dogs, Chief McCarver said. Gollihugh discovered the horse was ill early enough for a veterinary to save it, as well as his dog, also a poison victim. McCarver believes the horse, which was in a lot, was fed poisoned candy.

The poison, strychnine, is put out in hamburger meat and candy, and apparently these foods are thrown from a car as the poisoner drives down the street.

"The thing we are so concerned about is that some small child may find the poisoned food and eat it", Chief McCarver declared.

"I want to warn strongly that it is a felony to put out a poison in the city limits. This is a state law as well as a city ordinance.

"If any child gets poisoned and dies, the poisoner will be tried for murder," he declared.

A list of all purchasers of poison is kept by drug stores, and Wellington druggists are going even further in co-operating with law enforcement officers by having every person buying poison sign the register in his own handwriting. If the buyer is a stranger to the druggist, he will be asked to show his drivers license, from which the number will be taken.

McCarver said he is asking druggists of Shamrock, Childress and Memphis to co-operate.

"If you have a stray dog or cat that is bothering you and you want it killed, call the city office, but don't try to poison it yourself," the police chief warned further.

Quail Baptists Call Rev. Johns From Whitharrell

The Rev. Bill Johns, pastor of the Baptist Church at Whitharrell, has accepted the pastorate of the Quail Baptist Church and preached his first sermon there Easter Sunday.

He and his family will not move to Quail until school is out at Whitharrell, as he also teaches in the school there. He has been there this year and also taught prior to moving there.

He plans to continue teaching as well as preaching and will join the faculty of some school in this area.

Reared at Shallowater, he was educated at Texas Tech and attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Rev. Johns is married and has two children.

County Gets First Storm Damage; Tornado Alert

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

Aleta Coleman, left, of Dozier, is presented a check for $150 by Mary Jane Brown of Tulia, president of Buffalo Gals at West Texas State College. Miss Coleman is winner of the service club's scholarship, which is awarded annually to a WT girl. Miss Coleman is a sophomore home economics student.

High winds Thursday night, April 18, damaged farm buildings in a strip approximately six miles long, beginning two miles south of Wellington and traveling northeastward. No houses were destroyed, although several were damaged and there was damage to barns and implements.

This was the beginning of a stormy Easter weekend that ended when a tornado funnel was reported high in the air Monday about 4 p. m., although angry black clouds already had sent most of Collingsworth into cellars.

This brought Wellington's first tornado alert of the year.

County and city law enforcement officers were watching the storm clouds Monday afternoon after a general alert had been issued for the area.

The funnel was cited by Police Chief Bill McCarver and Jake Leach, who were parked by Wellington Livestock Sales. They radioed Sheriff John Rainey, who was north of town, but the funnel-shaped cloud was not visible from his point, but as a precaution, the local alert was sounded.

McCarver said the funnel cloud remained high in the air until it dissipated, and appeared to be about two miles northwest of Wellington.

Rain during the weekend period measured 1.74 inches at Wellington, but it varied up to three and one-fourth inches at Fresno; four inches at Kelley; but only around two inches in some parts of the Quail area and 1.4 inches at Samnorwood.

Raymond Ward farming two miles south of town reported damage farthest south and west — 7 joints of new irrigation pipe wrapped around a tree. This was from a pile of pipe lying in Ward's yard.

To the northeast, a small barn was blown away on the farm of Mrs. J. C. Ford.

At the Elvis Crawley place, two cotton trailers were blown into a pickup then into the side of the house. The trailers were ruined, the pickup damaged considerably and brick knocked out of the house. The Crawley family was visiting at Levelland at the time.

Both Bob Glenn and B. G. Glenn had damage to barns on their farms southeast of town.

East of town, the vents were blown off the roof on a large barn on the Bob Bowen farm, and a heavy steel beam toppled onto a pickup belonging to Johnny Crawford and parked in the barn.

W. A. Colson reported damage to the roof of his home, a shed blew away on the J. R. Nelson farm, and John Ingram reported damage to the roof of his home.

A garage blew away and other outbuildings were damaged at the J. T. Owens farm, and this, apparently was as far as the damaging winds went.

Part of the roof blew off a barn at the John Puryear farm.

A tree at the farm owned by Bobby W. Scott, occupied by Dave Brewer, blew down on a butane delivery truck belonging to John Holton. Brewer is employed as driver of the truck.

Approximately 600 telephones were out in Wellington due to weather conditions during the weekend, but crews worked to restore service as soon as possible, working first at homes were there was illness and in business houses, T. H. Franklin reported.

Cameron Beam, manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, reported a 2,300 volt distribution line down in Dodson, but only minor trouble in Wellington.

Rainfall in the area east of Lutie and north of Aberdeen amounted to between 2½ and 3 inches, Rufus Sweat, mail carrier for Route 6, reported. It was lighted toward Lutie, an estimated inch and a half, and still lighter west and south of there.

Samnorwood received .95 inch Monday night and .45 inch Thursday night.

The Fresno area received one and one-fourth inch Monday night and prior to that had two inches.

Quail received an inch Monday and two inches since Thursday, although north and east of there, heavier rainfall was reported.

Rolla community received an inch Monday, with only a little hail, Mrs. L. A. Davis reported.

Mrs. W. F. Harbin, Loco, reported a total of 2.55 for the week end period.

Star Athlete to Preach

Baptist Youth to Hold Week-End Revival

A revival for youth and by youth will be held at First Baptist Church during the weekend of Friday, April 26 through Sunday, April 28.

Bill Anderson, a starring lineman for the Baylor Bears, and a licensed preacher, will do the preaching. Don Couser, also a Baylor student, will lead the singing.

For this revival, boys and girls have set up their own youth church, The Baptist Church of Shamar. The name was chosen from a Hebrew word meaning "growing youth", the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor, explained.

The young people set up their own organization with adults providing only the information on their procedure.

Officers were elected Wednesday night, with Dale Ratliff pastor; Richard Tigert, Sunday School superintendent; Athen Lowrie, Training Union director; VaRue Sweat, WMU president; Reggie Scott, Brotherhood president; Randall Raburn, church treasurer; Douglas Seale, clerk; and Lowrie, Tigert, Uselton and Ernest K. Peach, deacons.

These were chosen by the same procedure that adult church officers are picked, Rev. Pogue said, and will function during the meeting in these positions.

Evening services are scheduled at 8 p. m., but besides the regular preaching, other events are scheduled, also. There will be morning services at 10 a. m. Saturday, followed at 11 a. m. with a picnic outing at Panfork Encampment.

At 7:30 a. m. Sunday, teachers of the Intermediate Young People's department will entertain with a breakfast, and there wil be choir rehersal at 8:45. The regular training union meeting will be at 7 p. m.

Preaching in the youth revival will be one of Texas best known college athletes. A ministerial student, Anderson is a member of the Baylor varsity football team. He is a junior from Beeville. He is married and his wife will accompany him here. Anderson is active in all religious activities on the campus, and especially the Baptist Student Union.

Wellington's tiny tots, 80 of them stag,ed their annual Easter parade Thursday evening, April 18, and these were picked as winners of the three divisions. James Howard Jones, 4, judged best-dressed in the three and four year old division, was not in favor of having his picture made. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezze Jones. Tiny Landie White, two, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward White, was the demure winner of the baby class, while Mary Roark, six years old and beaming with happiness, could not believe she had won. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lola Lee Roark.

Essentials for Efficient Dairy Farming Listed

College Station—Efficiently operated dairy farms are not the result of chance. On the contrary, says R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman, efficient dairy farming is developed through the careful plannini and management of all phases of the operation.

No dairy operation can be efficient unless a production record-keeping program is developed. Burleson urges every dairyman to participate in one of the organized plans now available. Record information should be the guide for breeding dairy cows, for feeding cows according to their producing ability and for herd culling. Records can provide the leads for cutting costs and increasing net income, says the specialist.

The breeding program for the farm must be such as to provide only high-producing cows for replacement purposes. Here is a phase of dairy farming, adds Burleson, where second guessing can soon deplete a dairy herd—production is maintained and improved in relation to the caliber of the breeding program developed.

An efficient dairy farm operation includes a feed-production program. Grassland crops which will provide an adequate and balanced, low-cost feed supply for the herd the year-round should form the basis of the program. Feeding and management practices which will assure efficient preservation and utilization of all feed for high milk yields must also be developed.

Burleson emphasizes that practices which will use the total farm and herd resources efficiently and economically for producing milk must also be developed. Labor and land utilization should get primary consideration, he adds.

Finally, before an efficient dairy farm can be developed, methods and practices which will result in the production of high-quality milk and cream at all times must be developed.

Combine these essentials into a smooth operating unit and you've got the makings of an efficient dairy farm, concludes Burleson.

Here to visit with relatives and friends during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith and family, Mr .and Mrs. Roger Clubb and family, Mrs. Francis Clubb, and Mrs. Addie Jones, all of Amarillo. Mrs. Jones remained to visit far several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith.

On-the-Farm Testing Program

More Demonstrations Put Down in County

Additional on-the-farm demonstrations have been set up on shinnery and sagebrush control, mesquite and yucca control, and bindweed, County Agent J. W. Thomas, and Duane Scott, demonstrator, have reported.

The shinnery-sage brush tests are on the John Coleman farm eight miles north of Quail. One plot is being tested with the use of TBA pellets applied to the stump, trunk and frill, and another plot of CMU pellets.

The Pat Bradley farm, two miles south of Abra church, is the location of the mesquite and yucca test. One test plot has had 2, 4, 5-T applied by hand sprayer to the stump, trunk and frill of the plants at the rate of 4 pounds of poison per gallon of oil.

Another test plot will have TBA applied to the stump, trunk and frill at the rate of two pounds of acid per gallon of oil.

The bindweed control plots are on the George Lewis farm, about eight miles southeast of Wellington on FM highway 338. Poisons include PCB, 2,4,5-T-P, 2,4,-D amine Baron, Karmes W and Karmex FW, and varying combinations and proportions

Karmex FW, a preparation by DuPont, is still in the experimental stage and is not yet on the market, Thomas said.

Speaking of the bindweed control plots, Thomas pointed out,

"We know some of this won't kill bindweed, but we must remember that this is research, and we will be trying a lot of things that have never been tried.

"We have a lot of chemicals prepared to do a good job in the east, but when you bring it out here, it won't do the job for us. For that reason, we have a lot of things sold to farmers that are not adapted to their needs or areas.

"What we are trying to do is find out what is best for us here in Collingsworth and Hall counties."

His present address is still unknown.

Perkins-Prothro Enter County

Lease Activity Develops In West Partof County

Lease developments reflected in instruments filed in the office of Cliffa Jean Tow, county clerk, was principally along the west side o Collingsworth county during the last 10 days.

Afton Willingham, who recenly leased 6,175 acres in the southwest part of the old Browder Ranch, has assigned that acreage to J. C. Erwin of Erwin and Lee, Wichita Falls. Erwin also has taken 11,581 acres in leases himsel, and filed leases for Shell Oil Company amounting to 3,093 acres. All of this is in the southwest par of the county.

J. J. Perkins and his son-in-law, Charles N. Prothro of Wichita Falls entered the county's oil picture by taking assignments from A. E. Gamble of Lubbock in the northwest part of the county. Their leases now include 13,431.76 acres in both Donley and Collingsworth counties, on land owned by Evan L. Sitter and wife of McLean. These leases originally were given to Gamble in July 1956. From J. R. Godbey and wife, Vivian: the southeast quarter of section 57, block 21.

The two leases filed by Erwin and Lee for Shell Oil Company include: Vera Dial Dickey, Memphis: surveys 87 and 94, and 33 acres in the northwest corner of survey 95 also surveys 88 and 93, and the east half and southwest quarter of section 92, block 19, for a total of 3,073 acres.

Miss Shelba Hamilton and Don Lacy Wed In Rites at Baptist Church, Childress

First Baptist Church in Childress was the scene of the wedding of Miss Shelba Maureen Hamilton and Don Lavelle Lacy Sunday afternoon, April 14, at three o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, 811 Avenue D, Northwest, while the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Drury Lacy, Wellington.

The Rev. R. L. Porter, pastor of Antioch Baptist Church, Lubbock, and uncle of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony.

Decorating the altar area were baskets of white gladioli and emerald greenery, with candelabra holding white tapers on either side. The choir railing was banked with fern palms intersperced with candelabra with white tapers.

Mrs. Glenn Buckley, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Richard Freeby as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mr. Hamilton gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves that tapered over the hands. The bouffant floor-length skirt came to points at the front and back, and the chapel length veil of tulle was attached to a bandeau of pearls and sequins. She carried a bride's Bible, topped with a white orchid, surrounded by a garland of Frenched carnations and tied with satin streamers. The traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue were carried out.

Miss Winona Pinkston of Paducah, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Paula Reeves and Miss Delores Bohannon of Childress. They were dressed identically in yellow organdy dresses over cotton satin, made with low-cut necklines, puffed sleeves and torso waist. The full skirts were ballerina length. They wore headpieces of yellow maline leaves and carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

Lighting the candles were Miss Selinda Hamilton, sister of the bride, and Miss Glanel Webb. Their dresses were like those of the honor attendants and they wore headbands of yellow daisies.

Denzil Lacy, Wellington, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Dwayne Bowen, Calvin Lacy of Lefors, cousin of the groom, while ushers were James Slay of Amarillo and Freddie Porter of Vernon, another cousin.

Mrs. Hamilton chose for her daughter's wedding a beige dress with mauve accessories and a corsage of pink carnations, while Mrs. Lacy wore a navy dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

The reception was held in the church parlor. Receiving the guests were the bride and bridesgroom, their parents and feminine members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with the tiered white wedding cake, decorated with yellow bells and the traditional minature bride and groom. Bouquets of the honor attendants also decorated the table. Fashionable White Will Flatter Tanned Skin

BY EDNA MILES

WHITE is big fashion news for spring and summer. It may be a dress or a coat, shoes or other accessories but the touch of white is the touch that counts.

It will be especially strong in summer fashions, where it's sheer flattery against a suntan. It's used to sharpen dark dresses but it's pretty with pastels, too.

Cleverly handled, white tones down vivid colors and keeps them from dominating you. It's chic, too, with beige, coffee and the neutral colors.

In any year that finds white important, emphasis is placed on accessories. There's a sound reason for this. Many women feel that a touch of white is just what they want. So they concentrate on small jackets, capelets, frosty white jewelry, little white hats and gloves.

There are many of these white accessories for summer. Most are easily kept clean with soap and water. Since they must be fresh with each wearing, the best plan is to have several jackets or capelets on hand for a change-off.

Topping for summer dresses is this neat little capelet. It has a tiny stand-up collar with three tailored bows as front trim.

FEEDING TIME IN THE AERIAL CIRCUS—High over the Pacific Northwest, the first Boeing KC-135 jet tanker-transport refuels an eight-jet, 650-mile-an-hour Boeing B-52 Stratofortress. This team will make high altitude refuelings routine procedure for the Strategic Air Command. The KC-135, scheduled to go into operation with the Air Force this spring, will also serve as multipurpose troop and cargo transports.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Reorganization of the Insurance Commission is a supercharged issue again.

More than a month ago the Senate passed a bill that would sweep out present commissioners and allow the governor to name a new board. But the House State Affairs Committee shunted it off to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Some thought it would die there. Then a verbal battle broke out between John Osorio, chairman of the commission, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Osorio, who was appointed by former Gov. Allen Shivers, will lose his job if Governor Daniel's reorganization plan goes through.

In answer to questions from Rep. Jerry Sadler, Osorio said that Daniel had offered to help him find another job if he would support reorganization. Osorio replied that he felt such a "deal" would violate his oath of office.

Osorio also said, in answer to Sadler's questions, that the governor apparently did not oppose his confirmation by the Senate until after the Commission had closed down the ICT Insurance Co.

Governor Daniel called the charges false. He said he had expected personal attacks to result from his efforts for reform. Then he declared he would fight "even harder for cleanup and reorganization."

In reply to the governor's accusation of a "false" charge, Osorio offered to take a lie detector test, if Daniel would.

House committee members, meanwhile, took new looks at the reorganization bill, admitted to being in a tight spot. Sentiment is reportedly very evenly divided.

ANNUAL SESSIONS FAVORED — With time running out on this session, the prospect of annual sessions in the future is gaining favor.

Senate gave preliminary approval to a measure for annual sessions and $7,500-a-year salaries for legislators. House passed a similar version with only $4,800 a year pay.

Sessions on odd-numbered years would be as now. On even-numbered years a short budget appropriation session would be held.

Measure is a constitutional amendment which would require approval of the voters in November, 1958.

SLUM BILL MOVES — Texas cities would be able to get federal aid for cleaning up blighted areas under a bill given final House passage.

Senate State Affairs Committee blackballed the same bill 9 to 8. But supporters gained an unusual victory when the Senate voted 23-6 to accept the report of the committee minority.

Opponents attacked as unconstitutional the provision allowing a city to condemn property for sale to private parties. Backers said the bill had safeguards to prevent abuse of condemnation powers.

SEGREGATION UP TO SENATE — Enactment of 8 bills designed to preserve school segregation is in the hands of the Senate.

Sponsors predicted an easy majority in the upper house. However, two South Texans whose contituencies are already integrated promised opposition. Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and Sen. Harry B. Gonzales of San Antonio indicated they might try to talk the bills to death in an end-of-session filabuster.

Measures already given House approval would (1) allow school boards to assign pupils to schools, (2) exempt children from compulsory attendance at integrated schools, (3) authorize state to pay tuition for pupils to segregated non-sectarian schools where no segregated public school is available, (4) authorize school boards to designate schools as "White", "Negro" or "integrated", (5) direct the attorney general to defend anti-segregation suits against the state, (6) require registration of persons paid to work for integration, (7) prohibit public employment of NAACP members and (8) ban future integration without a local school district vote.

TEACHER MONEY SOUGHT —Two bills aimed at gaining funds for teacher pay raises probably will be debated this week. Each has gained committee approval in both houses.

One would double tuition at state colleges for an estimated $10,000,000 more in revenue. Another would make one per cent of the permanent school fund available for current spending. It would bring in $7,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Added to a predicted $27,000,000 surplus in the general fund- passage of the two bills would bring to about $47,000,000 the amount available for teacher raises.

Teachers originally asked a basic $399-a-year boost, plus improvement in the schedule of increases for experience. This would cost a total of $67,000,000.

Governor Daniel suggested a compromise whereby teachers would get the basic raise, but not the experience increase. Teacher spokesmen have indicated probable acceptance.

WOMEN GAIN GROUND — Women's clubs won a modified victory with Senate passage of a much-patched separate property bill. It would give married women authority to manage their own estates without husband's consent.

A number of restrictive amendments were put in before passage. One would require a woman be 21 before assuming estate' management "to prevent a 14-year-old girl from getting married and throwing away her inheritance."

REA COMPROMISE OKAYED —A bill designed to smooth over the squabble between private and cooperative utilities has been voted out of committee in both houses.

Bill stems from a recent Supreme Court decision limiting activities of REA co-ops.

Proposed changes in law would allow a co-op to continue to serve old customers in an area after it is annexed by a city and add new customers where private power is not available.

SHORT SNORTS — After two months delay the Senate okayed the House-passed Pool bill requiring a runoff in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large . . . Legal Security Life Insurance Company won the right to continue business after a show cause hearing before the Board of Insurance Commissioners. Board called some of the company assets overvalued, but did not find the one-third impairment of capital required by statute for dissolution . . . .Friends of Speaker Wagoner Carr are pushing him for a second term. His only comment is that he's too busy now for politicking. . . . . U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has approved continuance of emergency feed program in 119 Texas counties . . . . The Thanksgiving snafu whereby Texas celebrates the last Thursday in November and the rest of country the fourth Thursday is apparently to be cleared up. A Bill making the Texas holiday conform passed both houses.

HERCULES FROM HEIDELBERG—A crowd of gaping U.S. soldiers watches as German strong man Max Hartmann of Heidelberg successfully keeps two small army vehicles from moving in opposite directions. Farmers Asking Social Security Must Bring Proof

Farmers who are giving up the operation of their farms and intend to apply for old-age insurance benefits should bring the necessary proofs to support their claims with them when they visit the Social Security Administration District Office. This advice was offered today by John P. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

"If you have proof of age and earnings with you when you come to the office it will speed up the processing of your claims and make a return visit unnecessary", Mr. Sanderson pointed out. A farmer when he retires and applies for old age benefits will need extra copies of his 1955 and 1956 Federal income tax returns, proof of age, his social security tax receipts for 1955 and 1956, and his social security account number card.

For a self-employed farmer making a claim for old-age insurance benefits proof of earnings is a "must". He should bring along a cancelled check, money-order stub, or some other evidence to show that his income tax returns for 1956 and 1955 were filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue.

If his wife has passed her 62nd birthday and is making a claim for old-age benefits at the same time, it is important that she, too, bring along proof of age. Such documents, in order of acceptability, are: baptismal certificate; census registration; hospital record; foreign church of government record; signed statement by attending physician or midwife; family Bible; naturalization, immigration, military, or vaccination record; Insurance policies, or a marriage record. "The older the document, the better the proof," Sanderson declares.

Keep Your Mind on Your Work!

CROSSROADS ★ REPORT

I see where an economics expert points out that our work weeks has been getting shorter by about three hours every ten years, and says this means the four-day week is right upon us.

My pension-aiming neighbor says he figures if this rate keeps up, the working man can look forward to enjoying full-time leisure in a little over 100 years.

Which sounds wonderful, if the pay is good and the retirement liberal, but it's going to put the Devil in an awful strain, trying to find work for so many idle hands.

* * *

Some remarks are being made around about how Mr. Eisenhower set up numerous commissions to study trouble and give him advise but he don't take much of it.

My people expert neighbor says he don't know why anybody is surprised at this natural development.

He says a man may be real humble when he first takes on an important job like President, or postmaster general, or deputy constable, but he lives in great danger of the Authority virus, and when this gets hold of him he is allergic to advice.

* * *

I see where some people are saying we ought to set up special schools for our extra smart children, to keep them from being held back in classes with ordinary kids.

Which might be good for progress, but would just throw another burden on the Supreme Court's social reform department.

They would just have to go to work and judiciate another law so as to protect the civil rights and deactivitate the inferiority complexes of kids who got segregated by arithmetic.

* * *

I see where heart specialist Dr. P. D. White says there would be lots less heart trouble among elderly men if they got more exercise.

Now I've managed to avoid lots of heavy jobs around the house, and have got considerable extra petting in recent years on the theory that a man my age ought to go easy on his heart.

Seems to me, when a doctor gets the urge to give off some free advice like this, he ought to do it privately and not wholesale for the information of everybody, including wives.

I see where the Bureau of Labor Statistics wants Congress to give them some extra money this year so they can re-calculate the basis they use for figuring the cost of living index.

Which ought to be worth the money to any of us dull citizens who haven't noticed that modern 1957-style living costs more than the old-fashioned 1950-style.

I guess the new index will reflect the costs of all up-to-date necessities, such as longer term carrying charges, 300 horsepower automobiles, factory-cooked meals and anti-worry pills.

* * *

I see where the United Nations soldiers assigned to guard the Gaza Strip noticed some of the Israeli troops they are supposed to repulse are girls and are not repulsive at all.

Which might be embarrassing, in case the generals happened to want a few shots fired in anger and it turned out both armies were on the same side of the firing line.

And with nobody but the brass in a mood to fight, Egypt and Israel might wind up by having to roll high dice for the Gaza Strip and its growing population.

Entertainment was by the district talent contest winners from Quail: Travis McGuire Jr., Jimmy Peters, Eddie Riley, Julius Haralson, and Danny Wheeler, a pantomime group.

Denzil Lacy was toastmaster, while Roy Tigert gave the invocation.

Chapter officers, led by A. C. Gray, president, gave the opening and closing ceremonies.

Approximately 160 fathers, sons and other guests attended.

Plenty of Irrigation Water in Gas Test On Coleman Farm

The gas test being drilled on the Alex Coleman farm is to a depth of 500 feet and there has a light showing of gas.

There is, according to all estimations, plenty of water for irrigation purposes. This will be cased off until drilling on the gas test is completed.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe J. Horn and children of Plainview were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn, and also visited with other relatives and friends here during the weekend.

In a recent year, 1,152,500 swimming certificates were issued by American Red Cross.

Winners Named In Tiny Tot Easter Parade

Storm - clouds overhead did not daunt 80 Wellington youngsters, all under school age, who displayed their Easter finery in the Tiny-Tot Easter Parade Thursday evening, April 18.

This was an annual event sponsored by the senior class of Wellington high school.

Winners were named in three divisions: Landie White, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed White, was named winner in the baby division; James Howard Jones, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezze Jones, won the 3-and-4 year old division; while Mary Roark, 6, daughter of Mrs. Lola Roark, received the prize in the older class.

Each of the three received an Easter basket filled with eggs and other prizes.

A huge Easter rabbit highlighted the high school auditorium stage decorations, which also included large Easter eggs and baskets of lilacs. Live baby chicks in a cage enticed the youngest group to walk across the stage.

Frankie Sue Campbell was mistress of ceremonies.

New Teacher In Junior High

Carl Panter, Mineola, has been elected to teach seventh and eighth grade mathematics in Wellington junior high, replacing Don Lacy, who was called to active duty in the Air Force.

Panter, 26, received a bachelors degree from Hardin Simmons University in August 1951 and a masters degree from East Texas State College in August 1954. He has majors in English and biology, a minor in chemistry, and teaching minors in political science and mathematics. He has done work toward his doctorate at North Texas State College, Supt. Bennett Goodloe said.

Before coming here he taught four years at Rotan and Duncanville. He has completed his military service.

Sam Brown Home Damaged in Storm

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown, who formerly lived at Loco, was one of those badly damaged in the twister that hit the Leslie community Monday, April 22.

The roof and ceiling were torn off the house but the walls were left standing, according to a niece, Mrs. John Nash. All outbuildings were destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were in the cellar and uninjured when the storm struck.

Mrs. Nash, Mrs. J. P. Cummings who is Mrs. Brown's sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brewer, went to the Brown home Tuesday and repair on the house was already under way.

Furniture in the house was damaged but not ruined, Mrs. Nash said, although some smaller items were blown out of the house and curtains pulled off the windows.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown had moved from Loco to Leslie since the first of the year.

Pamela Bassell In Piano Festival

Pamela Bassell, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bassell of Hollis, and grandaughter of Mrs. Fred Watkins, Wellington, received highest ratings in the Second Solo Piano Festival of Oklahoma, held recently in Oklahoma City, and sponsored by the Accredited Private Music Teachers Association.

Pam is a student of Mrs. Edith Nelson Mackey, who has studios in Oklahoma City and Hollis.

She played in two divisions, "Honor Division (A), judged by Wendell Ralston, Central State Teachers College, Edmond, Oklahoma; and Competitive Division (A), judged by Leon Rosenbloom, Sherwood School of Music, Chicago.

The Wellington church is paying its pastor's expenses to participate in the revival, which opens April 29 and will end May 8. Music director of the Corvallis church is a brother of Doyle McElroy, music director here.

N. E. Willard, pioneer county resident, is under treatment in an Amarillo hospital. He was due to undergo surgery, friends reported. Mr. Willard has been sick several weeks.

Harold Wayn Moore, student of Bethany Nazarene College, spent the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moore.

News Letter

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS

PRESIDENTIAL SPEED

Many columnists and commentators have been having a Roman holiday with the news that the President's car went 70 miles per hour between Washington and Gettysburg. The news correspondents' car, which usually tries to keep the presidential vehicle in view, was halted by Maryland State Police and told to drive within the speed limit. The instructions brough immediate reaction from several of the correspondents on the theory that the law is the law and the President has no more right to violate it than they do. The truth is that neither had the right to violate the law. Two wrongs do not make a right. Under the law as written, anyone driving over the legal speed limit has violated the law. However, it would seem from all of the clamor that grew out of the presidential 70 mph that the President was driving the car, and was the only person who had ever driven over 70 mph. It appeared for awhile that this tremendous event of events would sweep everything else off the front pages, including the Middle East Crisis and the Texas senatorial election. It would have been much simpler to issue a traffic ticket to the President for a technical violation and thereby dispose of the entire matter. However, if everyone around Washington who drove a few miles over the speed limit received a ticket, the printing presses would be working 24 hours a day.

I am afraid the President is being needled—a practice I hope will not be continued. The best way for the President to stop it is to take these jibes in good grace and not become nettled by questions about helicopters, speed limits and plans to step aside for the Vice-president. This will be difficult, because the office of the President of the United States is probably the toughest job in the world. It should not be made tougher.

SUMMERFIELD ULTIMATUM

His Honor, the Postmaster General of the United State of America, appointed by the President, has served notice on the duly elected Members of the Congress of the United States that he has spent all of the money given to him and needs a mere 47 million dollars with which to finish the fiscal year which ends on June 30. He has further indicated that he expects to get it, and that if he does not get it, there will be a measureable curtailment of postal activities forthwith and immediately. I must confess that this development in the Post Office Department came as quite a surprise to me, because I had understood from the past advertisements of the Post Office Department that Hr. Summerfield had taken over a mis-managed and inefficient operation and had streamlined it into a modern-day dynamo of efficiency and sound business practices; that he had reduced the Post Office deficit by closing a great number of 4th class post offices and denying many of the rural people of this country the postal service to which they are entitled. He reorganized many activities of the Department so that information concerning certain postal operations cannot be obtained in Washington but must be obtained from Regional Offices. He repainted all of the trucks and mail boxes in a three-color scheme of red, white and blue. Now we are most favorable to that color scheme and certainly would not criticize his selection of colors, but some people have been wondering about the additional cost of a three color scheme over a one-color scheme. Some other questions are being asked about who sold the paint.

It might be pointed out that, although Mr. Summerfield was the guiding genius who cut off the farmers' mail service, put the post office equipment in patriotic colors, decentralized the information center, and made several other changes that now require an additional 47 million dollars to pay for, it is only fair to point out that he did have some help. The Post Office Department, in recent years, has paid some fabulous fees to efficiency expert firms to speed up the streamlining of the Department. In fact, one of these fees alone would have kept several 4th class post offices in my district open for a number of years.

I had always thought that government departments were the leading experts in creating deficits; therefore, you can appreciate my surprise to find that one government department had to hire outside help in order to accomplish this. But, then, we must remember that this bunch not only created the deficit, but were able to curtail the service. In other words, we now get less for more — quite an accomplishment.

FOREIGN AID

The grass roots clamor for sizeable budget cuts may pay off handsomely when the foreign aid appropriation bill comes before the House. Even the most ardent supporters of foreign aid, both economic and military, are admitting openly that this program can stand a sizeable cut. The question of whether or not we will get the size cuts we want many depend upon how these supporters line up as to economic aid and military aid. Some are advocating cuts in economic aid, but not in military aid. Others are advocating sizeable cuts in the military, but not in the economic.

Group Marooned At Lake Pauline

Heavy rains at Lake Pauline marooned County Judge R. L. Templeton, six Explorer Scouts, and his young son, Sunday after what they had intended as a quiet week and fishing trip. The group, including Harry White, Junior White, Bart Younger, John Duncan, David Kersten, Bobby Harris, Pat Templeton and Judge Templeton, were forced to walk out, leaving the Judge's truck, trailer, boat, tent, and other gear.

From the lake entrance they phoned Ervin Kersten, who picked them up.

Beginning the trip Friday, no rain fell until Saturday, and intermittent, listening to the truck's radio failed to bring them the information of expected rains.

Saturday night, the youths discovered they had pitched their tent in the wrong place, and after bailing water out during the hardest of rain then had to move it.

While fishing, they had seen no snakes but as they walked out along the lake edge, they saw by count 32 water moccasins. In the shallow waters, they managed to catch eight carp with their hands, the major part of their catch.
