COLORADO HIGH honor graduates make their way to their chairs at commencement exercises Tuesday night. Relatives and friends on hand to witness the graduation managed to fill up the stands of Wolf Stadium.

105 Seniors Turn Tassel

Held at Wolf Stadium, the weather--although a bit breezy--remained calm throughout the hour long ceremony.

Graduation opened with "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the Colorado High Band and after the class of seniors had made their way to the front of the stadium, Glyndol Dunn, auto mechanics teacher, offered the invocation.

In her salutatorian address, Dorothea Westbrook told the seniors that "no one knows what the future holds," but to hang on to goals and accept challenges.

Valedictorian John Boyd stated in his address that "life is just what you make it," and he challenged his classmates "to achieve that seemingly impossible goal."

Lynn Britton and Miss Bodine were awarded the medal for character.

Receiving the award for leadership were Luis Rios and Lisa Bolin.

Literary awards went to Boyd and Miss Westbrook.

Blake Hammond and Karen Thomas were presented the medal for most athletic.

The final award--for service--was presented to George Hardegree and Charlotte Goodlett.

Next, Everett presented medals to Ronnie Conner and Kathryn Arthur for being chosen most outstanding teachers.

Everett noted that each year he studies the students in the graduating class and chooses "a good all-around student" to receive the principal's trophy. Marivel Quiroz was the 1978 selection.

Everett also announced that Lupe Badillo and Rios had been named to Who's Who In Foreign Language, a national honor.

Eleven scholarships were presented Tuesday night to graduating seniors.

Sharon Coldewey was awarded the Kiwanas' Frank H. Kelly Scholarship. Eddie Mitchell made the presentation.

Mildred Free presented the Business and Professional Women's Scholarship to Dawnetta Leonard.

On behalf of the Noon Day Lions, Jerry Reynolds presented a scholarship to Miss Bodine.

After the 105 seniors had received their diplomas, they turned the tassels on their caps.

Swimming Pool Is To Open

Today (Thursday) at 1 p.m. the swimming pool at Ruddick Park will open.

The pool will be open every day except Wednesday from 1-8 p.m.

Admission is 50c per person. Individual summer passes can be purchased for $5 and family passes are $10.

Run-Off Election Is Set Saturday

If absentee voting is any indication of the number who will turn out to the polls Saturday, voters may have to wait in line a bit.

Saturday's Democratic primary run-off election, according to Mitchell County Democratic Chairman Tom Rees, should draw about 1,310 to the polls.

That should be quite a change from 1976 when less than 170 persons voted in the run-off election.

However, in 1974, the run-off election managed to draw 1,541 voters to the polls.

But, of course, in 1974 Mitchell County voters were swarming to the polls in an attempt to elect Elmer Martin, a Colorado City resident, to the slot of State Representative from the 61st district. In the run-off with Martin was Mike Young of Abilene. Martin managed to take the race.

Also in the 1974 run-off election were two candidates vying for the position of County Commissioner, Precinct 4. Robert Bruce overcame his opponent Billy Preston 257 to 206 to take the commissioner seat.

And, four years later, the commissioner slot is open again and the same two candidates--Bruce and Preston--are shooting for the seat in the run-off election.

Besides the commissioner race, voters will also be electing a United States Representative, Railroad Commissioner and Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 11th district.

--Precincts 1 and 5, Mitchell County Court House.

--Precinct 2, Westbrook School.

--Precincts 3 and 7, Housing Authority Building at 439 Oak Street.

--Precinct 4, Loraine Lion's Club Building.

Voting polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Election judge for Precinct 1 is Mrs. Billie Marie Long and alternate is Mrs. James Cox.

For Precinct 2, Douglas Barber is election judge and Keith Williamson is alternate.

Olson Sweat will serve as election judge for Precinct 3 and Bitsey Humphreys is alternate.

For absentee voting, election judge is Bob Ratliff and alternate is Peggy Ratliff.

At the close of absentee voting Tuesday, 105 ballots had been cast.

Complete results of election returns will be printed in Sunday's edition of the Record.

Hospital Assumes Ambulance Duty

Today Begins New Service

Today marks the date for the Mitchell County Ambulance Service to change hands.

The Colorado City Police Department which has been running the service incurred manpower, moral and scheduling problems due to the increase in ambulance runs.

After many possible solutions were considered the hospital district presented a workable plan for reorganization, relocating the service in the hospital. This plan was reviewed and accepted by the Ambulance Board which consists of one member from each of the three supporting entities, county, city and hospital district.

Under the new program an Emergency Medical Technician will be stationed in the emergency room lobby until 11 p.m. daily. Another EMT and two drivers will be on call. These men will work on eight hour four day rotating shift.

The ambulance emergency phone number has not changed. It will remain 728-2624 as listed in the phone book. The extension will be placed in the lobby and answered by the EMT. Each call will be monitored by designated hospital staff members and when one EMT leaves on call the other stand-by EMT will be contacted to come to the hospital. The EMT will pick up the driver and proceed to the victim.

After 11 p.m. the EMT will drive the ambulance home where he will stay on call. Pagers will be carried by all EMTs on duty and on call.

About 36 new members of the Mitchell County Ambulance Service met in the lobby of Root Valley Fair Lodge Tuesday afternoon.

Hospital Administrator Charles Root reviewed procedures and instructed personnel in hospital duties.

He informed the EMTs who will be stationed in the hospital emergency room lobby of their responsibilities during the time they were not driving the ambulance. One duty involved keeping the emergency room supplies in order. Root noted there are over 500 items in the emergency room which must be kept in stock and on hand.

Root stated all drivers and EMT's will be required to obtain a chauffeurs license immediately.

Each EMT will work on a rotational basis with four days on duty and two days off. Root commented the schedule would coordinate with the hospital schedule so that the person would not be on duty on either schedule on the two days off.

Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger met with the group and described a "Mini Defensive Driving Program" he hopes to give to all persons who will drive the emergency vehicle. He noted several areas of consideration:

--Crossing intersections.

--How and when to utilize the siren.

--Where and how to park the vehicle at the scene of the accident.

--How to park the ambulance at home.

--Correct tire pressure because vehicle is top heavy.

This instruction session is scheduled to be given in the near future.

Drivers and EMT personnel were given instruction on how to use the radio in the vehicle and Ed Newton instructed them on proper handling and use of a stretcher.

Merchants Offer Bargains

Three merchants are offering special sales during June bargain days.

Advertisments for these merchants are printed in this issue of the Record.

Jamboree To Be Held Saturday

Saturday at 7:30 p.m. a Country & Western Jamboree will be held at the Lone Wolf Coopatorium to benefit the Woodland School and Activity Center.

Donations received at the jamboree will go toward matching government funds to provide a van for Woodland School.

An Editorial

Record's Pick Is Stenholm

Important decisions await voters at the polls Saturday. That's the date for the Democratic Primary.

There will be three races for voters in most of the county while Precinct 4 (Loraine) will have four races on the ballot.

The only statewide race is for an unexpired term on the railroad commission. The candidates are John Poerner and Jerry Sadler. The Record's choice is Poerner. Unfortunately, Sadler holds the edge because his name has been on the ballot for so many years for various jobs that people automatically vote for him. Poerner is by far the most qualified man for the job.

One area wide race is for judge of the 11th District Court of Civil Appeals. The two candidates, both from Abilene, are Bob Dickenson and J. Neil Daniel. The Mitchell County Bar Association has endorsed Dickenson.

The race in Precinct 4 is for county commissioner between incumbent Robert Bruce and Billy Preston.

Probably the race that has caught the most attention county-wide is the run-off between Dusty Rhodes and Charles Stenholm for the 17th Congressional District slot being vacated by Retiring Congressman Omar Burleson.

Both Stenholm and Rhodes should be commended for the race they have run. There have been accusations made by both candidates about dirty tactics but I don't think this should reflect on the candidates themselves, but rather on a few over zealous campaign workers. The Congressional candidates have both run an aggressive race and that should not be construed as dirty politics.

Also to be congratulated are the many people who have gotten involved in working for the candidates. Not only are they helping to educate the public about the candidates but they are also helping to get the candidates in touch with the public.

This is extremely important as it seems in recent years that our government is totally out of touch about what the public wants and our government is, after all, supposed to be by and for the people.

It is difficult, at best,to make a choice between Rhodes and Stenholm. Both are well qualified, well educated and know how to articulate what they have on their mind. They have shown that they are in touch with the people of the 17th District.

If you want to find fault, it's easy to find something you don't like about anybody, especially two people who have had to live in a goldfish bowl like political candidates do. I had rather, instead, stress the positive.

The Record, as is tradition with most politically active newspapers, has sought to learn as much as possible about both candidates before announcing support.

The Record's choice in the race for 17th District Congressman is Charles Stenholm. His background and everything he says tells a person that he is rural oriented and that's what this district is--rural.

His past vocations have put him in the stream of life of the livelihood of the 17th district, farming, oil and gas. He is also strongly aware of the plight of the elderly which I believe is very important in the person we elect to send to Congress.

His past experiences have qualified him to go to Washington and go right to work--I believe he already knows the ropes and wouldn't have to spend years of on the job training like so many freshmen Congressmen have to do.

Stenholm has asked for the two-year contract to prove that he can do the job. I believe he deserves the chance.

Stenholm is our choice. What's yours? Regardless of how you vote, be sure you register your convictions at the polls Saturday--MAC McKINNON

WHEN MITCHELL County residents go to the polls Saturday, they will be electing a candidate for the Democratic Primary to represent the 17th district as United States Representative. Two candidates are in the run-off election--Dusty Rhodes and Charles Stenholm--and printed below, in alphabetical order, are letters stating their opinions.

TWO CANDIDATES--Robert Bruce and Billy Preston--seeking election to the County Commissioner Precinct 4 slot were offered the opportunity by the Record to announce their platforms in the form of a letter. Their letters appear in alphabetical order below. Bruce requested that his picture not be used.

Dusty Rhodes

"Thank you for allowing me to present my views to you, the people of the 17th Congressional District.

"When we talk about the man who is going to be your representative in the halls of Congress, we need to talk about qualifications. We need a man who is qualified to represent all of the people of the 17th Congressional District, in all walks of life.

"I believe that my record qualifies me to serve you effectively in Washington. As a lawyer, I know how to represent people and I understand their needs. Skill in the law is important in Congress, because the sole purpose of the

Charles Stenholm

"I believe my background qualifies me for the job of serving the people of the 17th Congressional District as their next Congressman.

"I was born and raised in the District. Stamford has always been my home. Having been involved in farming all my life and having operated the family farm since 1962, along with other farm related experiences; I feel that I have an excellent chance for leadership in Congress.

"There are only 14 farmers in the U.S. Congress today. I would be number 15. There are already 213 lawyers in the House. When important bills on

Robert Bruce

"I appreciate this opportunity to state my views concerning my job as Commissioner of Precinct 4.

"First, I would like to say that I have attempted to maintain the best roads possible; and, in doing so, it has required that I work fulltime as Commissioner. To keep these roads in good condition has necessitated the purchase of new equipment, which I have done and have still stayed within my budget. Like farming, a Commissioner also has to check his precinct for damage after such occurrences as heavy rains or damaging winds.

"As your Commissioner, I have attended many state meetings and workshops to keep abreast of all the new laws and regulations that we are required to abide by, as well as obtain new ideas. Because, I feel that a Commissioner should be knowledgeable of the workings of county government, including an understanding of the tax structure. To successfully handle the Precinct's part of our county government depends upon the Commissioner spending time working and consulting with the other Commissioners from

Billy Preston

"I want to express my appreciation to all who turned out to vote in the recent election and am grateful for the confidence you showed in me. I am asking you again for your vote in the run-off.

"Being a farmer I am very aware of the inflationary situations we're in. If elected my first priority will be to the people of Mitchell County and Precinct 4.

"It is necessary to thoroughly investigate each need separately and completely in order to use your taxes to the best advantage.

"Being a property owner, I pay taxes and under-

LAKE COLORADO City State Park was the place many chose to spend the Memorial holiday, but not as many as in the past couple of years. Perhaps because of Sunday's shower some visitors decided not to stay and others voted to stay away altogether. Despite the rain, about 10,108 cars made it to the park during the four day weekend. Last year, 15,500 visited the park during Memorial weekend and in 1976, 15,200 passed through.

Congress is to create our laws. Most of the top people in the Congress have legal backgrounds. Because of this, it is important that our next Congressman knows the legal aspects of government and can utilize them in the best interests of the people.

"As a businessman, I know what it's like. I know what it's like to fill out government forms constantly, simply to comply with numerous regulations. I know what it's like to make out payrolls that shrink in value every pay period. I know what it's like to battle through the maze and mismanagement of the Social Security system. Yes, I know what you're going through. And I know what must be done to solve it.

"As a farmer, I've depended on food and fiber for much of my livelihood for longer than many people realize. I've seen the kind of government intereference that is destroying us in world markets. The government actions that feed inflation and threaten our economy are reducing the farmer's fair margin of profit and escalating the costs of staying in operation. We must find a solution to this crisis, and I think that we can start by reducing government controls on our food and fiber--allowing the farmer to make a profit on his own merits.

"As an oilman, I recognize the economic value of the oil and natural gas resources in our area, both to us and to other parts of this country. However, if America is to benefit from these resources, steps must be taken toward the deregulation of oil and gas to encourage further development of those resources. Also, we must not ignore other energy sources available to us. We must continue to develop alternate energy sources for our nation's economic and international security.

"As a family man, I believe that it is a strong family life that has made our country great. I dearly love my wife and four children, and I provide each of them with individual attention and care. I'm concerned aobut the problems that threaten family life in our country.

"Eroded paychecks attack our family's security. Uncontrolled government spending is fueling inflation and endangering our way of life. I want to bring sanity back to government spending, so that my children and your children can lead a good life. I want to fight the immorality in our government that is destroying the moral fiber of our country and tearing down the standards of our young people. I want to talk about a return to the frontier principals that made our country great: trust in God, honesty, concern for fellow men and love of family.

"As a veteran of the Korean conflict, I know the pride and honor of fighting for the principles which I believe in so strongly. The readiness of our fighting forces should have a high priority among our lawmakers. We live under an ever-growing threat of Soviet domination. Instead of meeting this threat, though, we seem to be accommodating it! I don't want my children to live under the grip of an enemy power and I want to do something aobut it. It's time that we took a stand and worked to develop a strong military force second to none.

"As a university board member and PTA president, I have been a supporter of education, both public and private, at all levels. The American way of life has become what it is largely because of the profound contributions of strong schools and dedicated teachers. As parents of four children, all of whom have attended the public schools of our community, Nancy and I are even more personally grateful for the teachers who have touched their lives. As concerned citizens, Nancy and I have always been actively involved in Parent-Teacher and other school-related activities. As your Congressman, I am going to vigorously protect our educational system from all undesirable governmental interference while at the same time enabling it to receive adequate support. The schools of today are important, because they will determine the shape of things to come.

"As a concerned son, I am aware of the problems that our senior citizens face. My father is 72 years old, so I know what the aging must go through. The dollars that they saved many years ago are worth dimes today. They must live on fixed incomes, while inflation eats away at their pocketbooks each day. Our elder people are treated as second-class citizens, and this is wrong! They deserve compassionate and understanding representation as much as you and I do! My work with senior citizens gives me the knowledge to effectively speak on their behalf in the halls of Congress.

"As a world traveler, I have had the opportunity to see first-hand the problems facing us in other parts of the world. Problems such as the Middle East, Latin America, and the threat of Communism in Africa demand our attention and call for a solution. As a leader in the world, we must work to assure our allies of the freedom to maintain their own ways of life. I have been exposed to international cultures and understand how we, as a nation, can maintain our stance in the world today.

"My door (and my phone) will always be open to you. I can be your voice in Washington, but I need your help. I need your support on June 3rd. Thank you."

agriculture come up, Congressmen will automatically turn to their farmer colleagues for expert opinion and more important, informal advice. As a working farmer in Congress, I can be a leader in agriculture right away. This can automatically lead to leadership in other areas.

"I believe that I can make a difference. And that's important to the 17th District and everywhere else in America where people eat.

"Surely a farmer with a demonstrated leadership background can make a difference. I have worked with farmers in the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers as Executive Vice President and President. I have served as a member of the Texas State Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee and as President of the Texas Electric Cooperative Association.

The issue in the election boils down to the fact that we don't need a lawyer to defend us, we need a leader to represent us.

"I am asking that the people of the 17th Congressional District give me a two year contract to serve as your Congressman. If at the end of that two years you feel that I have not fullfilled my obligatiions, then I would expect you to give the job to someone else.

"I am deeply concerned about a number of problems facing America today: inflation, defense, energy, agriculture, senior citizens, education and government regulations.

"Inflation is one of the nation's biggest problems.I am a strong advocate of the free enterprise system.

"Congress needs to pay attention to the impact of the laws it passes on private industry and business. Whenever private business has to fill out forms and use man hours and money to comply with federal laws and regulations, then businessmen must charge more for the goods and services they sell in order to make up the difference.

"People are fed up with paper work created by government bureaucracy.

"The merits of any federal program can be diminished if the cost of administering it reduces the benefits to the people. Programs should not be designed to increase federal payrolls under the guise of helping the people.

"We are at a turning point in America's history. We can either continue the centralizing, inflationary and freedom-stifling policies which have caused so many of our present problems, or we can return to the principles of limited government, sound fiscal policy, and personal responsibility that have been the source of our country's greatness from its birth. We have a crucial choice, but all hopes for our future hinges on that choice.

"Another of my major concerns is maintaining quality education for our young people. Both myself and my wife Cindy have education degrees and experience as teachers.

"I am a strong advocate of quality education with local control and a strong foundation of the basic 'READIN', RITIN' AND RITHMETIC' skills to insure that students graduating from public schools have the necessary tools for competing in our contemporary society.

"My personal experience as a teacher convinced me that the most critical ingredient in providing a good education is a devoted teacher. A supporting structure of closely knit parents and teachers at the local level is the second most important factor.

"Much attention and research must be devoted to making the financial foundation of public education more equitable for students and all others concerned.

"Recent figures provided by the Texas Education Agency say that eight per cent of the money required to operate the local school districts in Texas for the 1976-77 school year came from the federal government. Red tape pressing down from Washington, even to the classroom level, was far out of proportion to this contribution.

"My opponent's call for one third or 33⅓ per cent funding from Washington is, to me, inviting absolute dictation from bureaucrats if what we are getting now is any indication.

"I do believe in federal grants and aids directly to students, primarily when they are to be repaid at low interest rates.I do believe in impacted aid when the government is responsible for imposing burdens on a local school system. I do insist that we must retain local control, and it seems obvious to me that this is hardly possible if we accept more and more aid.

"I am also concerned about the possibility of the Veterans Administration being placed under HEW. It should remain a separate organization, and the VA hospitals should remain under the control of the VA.

"People were made promises when they entered the Armed Forces. These promises must be kept.

"I am also a strong advocate of working hard to keep and maintain our defense system number one.

"Senior citizens are a vital part of the U.S. population. We must make our social security system secure and keep down hospital costs.

"I also beleive that we must all remember that the individual is important in today's society.

"I am grateful that the people of the 17th District gave me the lead in the primary. At the same time, I am extremely proud of the volunteer forces working in our camp and the individual contributions which have financed our campaign.

"We carried my birthplace of Avoca by 96 per cent, my home Stamford by 86 per cent and my home county Jones by 65 per cent of the votes in the primary.

"These figures coupled with the number of volunteer workers and the contributions have made the last nine months most rewarding.

"The decision the voters of the District make on June 3 can make a big difference in our future representation in Washington. The question is whether you want a someone who has never been placed in a leadership position by his colleagues, or A Charlie Stenholm who has demonstrated his leadership ability time after time."

County Accepts Truck Bid

Mitchell County Commissioner met in a brief session Tuesday morning to open bids requested for three new 12-14 yard dump trucks.

Hutchins Ford was the only motor company to submit a bid. They bid $76,468.23 for the three trucks.

County Judge Bill Carter noted this brought the cost of each truck to $25,489.41. He also stated that price did not include the dump beds for the trucks. These, he said, will be put out for bids at a future date.

The bid did not include a delivery date and Carter noted of the six trucks currently owned by the county, five will be sold. These will be put out for bid after the new trucks are placed in operation.

The commissioners agreed to accept the only bid received.

Rios, Badillo Named Who's Who In Foreign Languages

Two Colorado City students have been named to the 1978 edition of "Who's Who in Foreign Languages in Texas and Oklahoma High Schools."

Compiled by the department of foreign languages and literatures at Austin College, the directory is scheduled for publication during the first week of June.

Dr. Dan T. Bedsole, executive vice-president and dean of the faculty at Austin College, said publication of the directory is an attempt to recognize the ability and dedication of outstanding students in various languages such as French, German, Latin and Spanish.

High school teachers from throughout Texas and Oklahoma have nominated students on the basis of excellence in language study, general scholarship, leadership and extracurricular activities.

"As individuals and as an institution we at Austin College are striving to do all that we can to support teachers and students at the high school and college levels in their efforts toward excellence in the study of foreign languages and literatures," Bedsole said.

Dr. Nelson DeVega, professor of Spanish at Austin College and one of the coordinators of the directory, said that generally no more than five per cent of a high school's language students would be considered for inclusion in the directory.

Austin College is a 129-year-old liberal arts college which is related by covenant to the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Boy oh boy, these promises, promises, promises that we hear and read from Dusty Rhodes!

I remember hearing a lot of promises a couple of years ago from a fellow; popular guy then, by the name of Jimmy Carter. He was promising everything for everybody. It scared me then and it scares me now.

Thank you
A. K. McCarley Jr.

Loraine Seniors Spend Active Four Days In Corpus

By Margaret Latimer
Sponsor For
LHS Seniors '78

What vindictive thoughts one has when setting the alarm for 1 a.m., priming for a dark departure at 2 a.m. on a yellow school bus. Bowing to the inexorable and determined whims of 20 seniors, one simply resigns oneself, downs the Dramamine, chased with a cup or two of strong, black coffee, utters a muffled groan or two and throws an ill-assorted batch of luggage in the car.

Two bleary-eyed, half-asleep sponsors stumble in and out, around about, placing one bag above the seat, one bag under the seat, another on the seat, striving to appear cheerful and happy about the whole thing; while half-clad seniors, having yet to go to sleep, are giggly, loud, and already "Blowing" fuses with the "Rube Goleburg" installed loud speakers for their tape player. It seems, seniors can't sleep in the quiet. There seems to be one in every group...at least one watch will stop, causing anxious delays for 19 eager and two not-so-eager travelers. But, then, what could possibly be so exciting as having to chase down the bus at 2:15 on a Wednesday morning.

By the time the bus crossed the Mitchell County line, all but one or two seniors were snuggled down for a long ten-hour nap. Very little was heard from any section of the bus, except for the changing of tapes. All slept well except for the driver, whose youth and determination kept him alert and "whistling - in - the - dark." Promptly, and as anticipated, ten hours after departure, we lumbered into the Master Host in Corpus Christi "by-the-sea," our home for the next four days. Priorities are not hard to identify in some instances: the beach, the pool, and food. "Male sponsor" was the first to be welcomed to the bay by a jelly fish; luckily, only one other was so welcomed during the next three and a half days of surf and fun. The next few hours in our new home were spent, as in most cases of new residency, turning sterile rooms into personable, warm, cozy places with a "lived-in" look and sound. The switch board in the office took on a new tempo; the ice-maker overheated; the chlorine treatment of the pool and jacuzzi was stepped up ("female sponsor's" bathing suit was bleached to disintergration); new and more permanent signs covering hours, safety, first aid were installed around the pool; the security guard was beseeched by the management to be on duty every night instead of just on the weekend; trash pickup was stepped up to twice-a-day instead of once; the laundry room put on a night shift. Still, the management assured the sponsors that the Loraine Senior Class was the nicest, most cooperative and courteous student group of any they had had.

Our beloved yellow bus took us, one day, to South Padre National Park where we fell under the charm of nature and all her miraculous and changing delights; the playful, teasing sun; the foaming surging waves, inviting, challenging; the many suprises the last high tide left along the beach; the sensation of "shifting sands" beneath one's feet; and the fruition of a giant sand castle, complete with mote, turrets, look-outs, flag poles which began as one grain-of-sand and grew into a giant, composite effort of all...a rewarding, fulfilling, proud effort. Not willing to take second place to the beach itself, the snack bar stood ready to replenish an empty body and spirit with the soul-food of seniors. No horrifying thought of some senior being lost to the undertow ever occurred to "sponsors" for the lost could always be found by following the smells of French fries and hamburgers. The ferry crossings, the coastal waste lands, the aquatic wild life, the life style of the Sea Coast, the literal "smell of the sea" are all invigorating, new experiences which broaden and enrich, but, to seniors, there's still nothing like hamburgers and fries.

The diversity of large city; the choices one has on how to spend one's time and money; the complex decision-making processes at work, and learning to live with those decisions... are a few of the immense benefits of such an odyssey. For seniors, this invariably leads to the nearest...or farthest..."shirts, etc" and sale counters of chains. Decisions...decisions.

Male sponsors, contrary to some opinions, are often quite light sleepers; whereas, female sponsors tend to sleep soundly through all sorts of disturbances. It is a known fact that telephone calls at 2 or 3 a.m. can signal the beginning or the ending of some revelry.

When good times are being experienced, time goes by with great speed. So it was with our seniors, '78, R&R. We were suddenly sitting around a Lowake Inn feast, and ending our odyssey which had been the climax of so much work and planning. It was the culmination point of twelve years and twenty personalities, and the interaction of one upon the other: a study of democracy-in-action, of the many fringe benefits of public education, of individual growth and development, of the beauty of a cooperative spirit and the consideration for another individual.

YOU DECIDE

On June 3, Texas voters will elect one of two men as the Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner:

Jerry Sadler, 70, is a twice-defeated former Land Commissioner. Here's what three of the state's leading newspapers have to say about him:

The Austin American-Statesman: "Voters deserve to know whom they will be choosing between in the runoff June 3. Poerner is not a household name; Sadler is. But Sadler has a sorry record in state government. He is the only person ever censured by the Texas House of Representatives (for failure to cooperate with an investigation). He became notorious for attempting to choke then-State Rep. Jake Johnson. He was defeated at the polls in 1970 and lost to Jon Newton in a race for Railroad Commissioner in 1976. And now he's back again."

The Dallas Times Herald: "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision."

The San Angelo Standard Times: "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

IS THERE REALLY ANY CHOICE?

The Railroad Commission regulates the oil, gas and transportation industries in Texas. Our energy and utility rate problems demand vigorous and responsible leadership. We need John Poerner to fight for Texas and protect what is rightfully ours.

John Poerner, 45, is a respected businessman and rancher. John Poerner was elected to three successive terms in the Texas House before being named Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging and Director, Education Resources of Texas.

His honors include being named "Citizen of the Year" in his hometown of Hondo, receiving a "Distinguished Legislator" award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, and being named to the "Agriculture Hall of Fame" at Southwest Texas State University.

He was recently appointed to the Railroad Commission by the Governor.

"Poerner is a solid, competent individual with a record of 10 years of dedicated public service," says the Houston Chronicle. "(We urge) his election."

You can do it!

Weatherstripping and caulking around doors and windows stop energy leaks.

In time, even tiny air cracks can add up to large heating and cooling losses. But sealing those energy-robbing cracks isn't all that hard. You can do it yourself with Texas Electric's free booklets on caulking and weatherstripping. They're part of a series we're offering to energy-conscious homeowners who want to make their homes energy efficient. Using basic tools and readily available materials, even unhandy people can caulk and weatherstrip their own homes to keep energy costs down.

Other booklets in the series cover insulation, storm windows, ductwork, and general maintenance. Just call us, or ask for the booklets on the comments section of your electric bill. See how easy it is to make your home energy efficient
