Mission Rumored A Failure

Hammarskjold Will Not Discuss Talks

HONG KONG, Jan. 11—UP—UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold crossed the China border Tuesday, ending a weeklong mission to the Communist regime on behalf of jailed American pilots. Hammarskjold returned to the border at 7:50 p. m. 5:50 a. m. on a train from Canton, where he had landed at 1:55 p. m. on a flight from Peiping.

On arriving in Hong Kong proper, the United Nations secretary gen-

LONDON, Jan. 11—UP—Highly placed diplomatic sources said Tuesday that United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold apparently has failed to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed in Red China on espionage charges.

They said Hammarskjold apparently has kept the door open for further negotiations with Red China which might bring about the release of the American fliers later.

The information apparently was based on detailed diplomatic reports received from the secretary general.

eral told newsmen he could not "comment in substance" on his talks with Chou En-Lai.

It was believed that Hammarskjold will withhold his report until after he has conferred with President Eisenhower or other high-ranking U.S. officials.

D. R. Manekar, New Delhi resident editor of the Times of India who is in Peiping on special assignment for United Press, said in cables it was assumed Hammarskjold is taking back to the United States the Red Chinese viewpoint on the fliers' case.

Manekar said it also was indicated that Hammarskjold had promised to inform Chou of the United Nations' reaction.

These views grew from the wording of a joint communique issued by Chou and Hammarskjold in Peiping Monday.

Chiang Air Force Hits Red Positions

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 11—UP—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's air force Tuesday attacked Red-held positions in the Tachen Islands area with heavy four-engine bombing planes.

The Nationalist attacks were in retaliation for Monday's heavy Communist air attack on Nationalist-held Tachen Island.

Returning Nationalist pilots claimed "probable damage" to several Red warships near Sungmen island, southwest of Tachen. They also reported a "successful" one-hour bombing attack on Tachen Island, 14 miles north of Tachen.

Nationalist sources said all Chiang's planes returned safely to their Formosa bases.

The Communists did not resume their attacks against Tachen following Monday's daylight raids, described as the heaviest ever carried out during the long China civil war by either Nationalist or Communist aircraft. Some Red planes did fly over but dropped no bombs.

Eisenhower Asks Increase In Postal Rates, U.S. Payroll

Cost Is Estimated At $394 Million

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—UP—President Eisenhower Tuesday asked Congress to hike postal rates and increase the pay and benefits of federal workers at a cost to the government of more than $394 million a year.

Mr. Eisenhower said in twin messages to congress that the mail rate increase "will be in the public interest" to assure efficient service of the Post Office Department and the pay raise boost is essential "to the further improvement of the federal career service."

In an effort to make the Post Office Department self-supporting, Mr. Eisenhower proposed that the postal rates on the first three classes of mail be increased. He did not spell out the actual proposed increases. He said the postmaster general soon will submit details to raise the rates to "more reasonable levels."

However, the administration stand has been that three-cent postage on out-of-town mail should be increased to four cents and air mail upped from six cents to seven cents.

Included in Mr. Eisenhower's postal rate plan was a recommendation that the second class rate on newspapers and magazines should be increased "until such matter makes a fair and reasonable contribution to postal revenues."

Mr. Eisenhower recommended that the postal rate increases be regarded as tentative pending congressional establishment of an independent commission which would have the authority to prescribe future postal rate adjustments under broad policy guidance of Congress.

Water Pact 'No' Asked

Lynn Boyd, speaking for himing plans for the future in the self and B. D. Robison, today told the Pampa City Commission they would recommend that the city not enter into a water contract with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

However, the two Pampa representatives on the CRMWA board of directors believe the city of Pampa should hold a water contract election and a bond issue election, though they do not think the voters would approve.

The reason for the decision of the two Pampa board members, Boyd said, is that the whole thing would cost too much money in the long run. City Mgr. Fred Brook and City Director of Public Works James Cowan, who also attended the monthly authority meeting in Plainview Monday, were in agreement.

"Get House In Order" Mayor Tom Rose said that the City of Pampa had "better get our own house in order" by making plans for the future in the matter of water. He said that he knows of no water rights which can now be bought and suggested the city had better have its own bond issue election. The rest of the commission indicated agreement.

Port Arthur Picket Lines Get Smaller

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Picketing continued Tuesday at only five of 21 Port Arthur firms which were struck on Nov. 15, 1953, after six more of the businesses reached an agreement with the Sabine Industrial Union (CIO) Monday.

Eight other firms settled recently. Two others have gone out of business. Those signing the agreement that ended the 423-day strike which has had political repercussions over the entire state included the Texas Cafe, the Silver Hut, Silver Star, Payne's Steakhouse, Thomas Bros., and the Farm Road.

The six firms reached the agreement with the union at Beaumont only a short time after it was revealed that suits for $750,000 brought by 11 of the Port Arthur firms against the unions had been dismissed.

Meanwhile, picketing continued Tuesday at the Sabine Hotel, the Goodhue Hotel, two Fred Miller stores and the Home Laundry.

Man Hangs Self In Jail Cell

HOUSTON, Jan. 11—UP—Harold Hopkins, 23, hanged himself in a cell at city jail here Monday after telling a fellow inmate "I've got nothing to live for now."

Hopkins was arrested after he became belligerent when a police officer gave him tickets for speeding, running a red light and having no driver's license.

When the jury was finally picked there were some raised eyebrows. One of the jurors was Waters' father. Another was Judge Parker's secretary. And they remained after the two attorneys took their three "cuts," too.

Judge Parker swore in the jury and Cain read the jury the formal charge. Prosecution witnesses were Mrs. Finis Jordan, Mrs. Virginia McDonald and Mrs. W. J. Craig. Defense witnesses were W. A. York. During the questioning of witnesses, Cain commented about the "Waters Witness Coaching School," and Waters had Mrs. York explain how Mrs. Cain performed a duty for her community.

At Christmas time — she set up a stamp-collecting booth in the post office (where she was "accused" of being a vagrant) and "when she came home at night, her tongue was so sore."

Finally, Judge Parker read the charge to the jury and Cain and Waters made their closing arguments. (Said Waters: "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury and Dad.") The jury went out at 9:40 p. m. and for the 30 minutes they were deliberating Judge Parker, Waters and Cain planned points of law to the assembled Am that ended the evening.

Oh, yes. The jury found Mrs. Cain guilty.

Groups Ask More Space In City Hall

The Pampa City Commission today heard requests from Girl Scout and Boy Scout officials for additional space in City Hall now that the Pampa Public Library will soon be located elsewhere.

City Manager Fred Brook commented that he had also received requests from the Red Cross and the city's corporation court for room.

The commission also asked City Atty. Bob Gordon to draw up an ordinance on 15-minute parking by the Pampa Post Office and gave The Pampa Daily News the contract on legal advertising for the "municipal year," beginning Wednesday.

Thomas Extended Both Girl Scout and Boy Scout officials thanked the city commission for the free rent their organizations have been enjoying over past years, but emphasized that their expansion necessitated additional space.

The Lovett Memorial Library, to be dedicated Jan. 18, will become the city's public library, which will free the rooms in the basement of City Hall now being used for the library. Commissioners indicated they would have to consider all requests when the time came, but decided nothing definitely today.

Cognizant of the parking problem at the post office, commissioners agreed that parking time on Foster and Ballard should be limited by ordinance to 15 minutes. The 15-minute signs have been up for some time, but an ordinance (See GROUPS, Page 3)

Missing Briton Writes Home

LONDON, Jan. 11—UP—A letter mailed in London but believed to have come from behind the Iron Curtain revived Tuesday the mystery of Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean, the British diplomats who vanished 3½ years ago.

Col. J. R. Bassett, step-father of Burgess, disclosed Monday night that Burgess' mother had received a second Christmas message from her son. Both were mailed in London but apparently were brought here through some secret pipeline.

British security officials were trying to find the pipeline for they knew that a system that could smuggle in letters could smuggle out important information. Both Christmas messages were mailed in steady sections of London near the Thames docks.

The diplomats' disappearance in May, 1951, baffled the best police brains of the continent and brought hurried Anglo-American conferences to determine whether they could have carried valuable secrets with them.

Burgess, a Far Eastern expert, was once second secretary of the British embassy in Washington and MacLean was acting head of the foreign office's American section.

Demo Leaders Favor Bi-Party 'Risk' Probes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—UP—Support mounted in Congress Tuesday for a bipartisan approach to working out a better program for handling security risks among government employees.

Sens. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) and Frank Carlson (R-Minn.), members of the Senate Civil Service committee, joined in calling for a halt to political bickering over how the administration has run the security program.

Attention should be centered now on improving the program, they said.

Reliable sources said the Democratic leadership agrees and favors creation of an independent, bipartisan commission to work out proposed improvements.

But Democrats were not ready to abandon completely plans for a congressional investigation to highlight "abuses" of security risk findings. Democrats claim the Republicans have issued padded and misleading figures for political purposes on the number of security risks they have dropped from the government payroll.

Weather Runs Warm Course

By UNITED PRESS Clouds blanketed Texas again Tuesday, but they only served to keep early morning temperatures from dropping as low as has been expected.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said no precipitation had been reported in the state since the freak snow-spawning weather of the weekend moved out of the state to the northeast.

Occasional light rain may start along the coast Tuesday night, however, and move inland Wednesday, the bureau said.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 17 degrees at Dalhart to 50 at Brownsville.

From one to four inches of snow still covered a narrow belt of the state from the Midland-Big Spring area northeastward through Childress and on across Oklahoma, but elsewhere the weekend snow had melted.

Overnight lows included 25 degrees at Midland, Salt Flat and Lubbock, 26 at Amarillo, 28 at Wink, 29 at El Paso and Texarkana, 32 at San Angelo and Abilene, 33 at Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls, 34 at Lufkin, 35 at Waco and College Station, 37 at Austin, 38 at San Antonio, 39 at Beaumont, 40 at Houston, 42 at Del Rio, 48 at Laredo and Corpus Christi.

HOLLYWOOD!
MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) The Year in Review: With 1954 movie production cut in half as Hollywood concentrated on better movies, television making becoming as important economically to Hollywood as theater, film making big-time producers even needed out their "Yes men," keeping only those who said "Positively."

"I heard one film extra say, 'Any sign of a job?' and another extra replied, 'No, not even in my horoscope.'"

"Biggest escape from type casting was June Allyson's snuckling of her angel halo to play a scheming, evil-hearted wife in the film production, 'The Shrike.'"

"Bravest girl of the year was Susan Bell, who made a movie comeback on an artificial leg."

"Mae West made her debut as a light-club entertainer with a group of musicians at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas and announced: 'I feel like a million—but one at a time, men.'"

"MARIO LANGE 'sang' with the aid of some two-year-old recordings on a TV show and then returned to the home screens and sang for his reputation proving he hadn't lost his voice."

"There was no worry about superstition in superstitious-conscious Hollywood when Wanda Hendrix became the bride of Jim Stark. Her bridesmaid was ex-luxury Audie Murphy's cousin."

"Press agents at Fox told Marilyn Monroe 'America's SEAT-belt' but were told to forget it."

"Best casting order of the year was Fred Bronson's, as he started collecting gorgeous dolls for Rosalinda film musical, 'The Girl Rush.' He sent down orders: 'The girls must put a strain on a sweater, but none on the imagination.'"

"Ed Gardner retired as a hero on Duffy's Tavern. Herb Shriner reported booming business in his home town. 'The driven theater is going to end—They've built rabbits.'"

"Gregory Peck skipped his dramatic star production to play bearded, scarred and bearded Capt. Ahab in 'Moby Dick.'"

"BOB HOPE decided it was time to give the public a new Bob Hope and started in a dramatic movie, 'Eddie Fox and the Seven Little Foxes.' His explanation: 'You can't make those boy-chases—girl-girl-chases—boy-girl—em—some—jokes—any—crash-they-re-matched films anymore. That's why I'm thrilled about this.'"

"Columbia turned the career dancing heat on Kim Novak, a new blonde. 'Crazier. Another blonde, Mamie Van Doren, who's the look-alike vague with Marilyn Monroe, landed a Monroish role but insisted: 'Honest, our wiggles aren't even the same.'"

"A survey revealed 3283 old movies showing on TV and one was said: 'I think I'll open a studio and start making old movies for television.'"

"Most interesting costume of the year: Maureen O'Hara's duds as 'Lady Godiva.' She kept them in a teacup. A movie trade paper called this a 'Memo to Producers.' C. B. DeMille has found his greatest film stories in the Bible. Just to protect yourself, you should read the book."

"MARION BRANDON's career zoomed to a new high in 'On the Waterfront' and he lashed at caustic remarks with: 'Intelligent people don't believe all the nonsense about me. People who believe it, I ignore.'"

"Wait Disney brought the famous 'Disney touch' to TV screens with a filmed series on ABC."

"There's no business like show business, and 1954 proved there's no confusion like show business confusion. Columbia refilled 'My Sister Eileen' as a musical following the Broadway hit of 'Wonderful Town,' a musical which was based on Columbia's one-time dramatic hit, the same 'My Sister Eileen.'"

"Fox purchased the film rights to another Broadway hit, 'The King and I,' which was based on 'Anna and the King of Siam,' a movie previously produced by the same Fox studio."

"Spike Jones continued his musical madness with these 1954 contributions: 'No Mad Her Kicks on Backwards No We Turned the House on Her' and 'No Nosed Them What He Was Made of When He Mined the Fireman's net.'"

County Spelling

The 1955 Gray County Spelling Bee will be held at 10 a.m. Feb. 10 in the Pampa High School. County School Supt. B. R. Nuckolls Monday morning said it would be held the morning of Feb. 8, but Monday afternoon, he said it would have to be changed.

Nuckolls said he had contacted High School Principal Jack Edmondson and that Edmondson had said there would be a conflict if the spelling bee were held Feb. 8. "It's the first time I ever had to change the date of the spelling bee," Nuckolls commented.

PORT ISABEL, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Two men rescued Monday when a shrimp boat capsized in rough water as it was being towed into Port Isabel were reported in good condition Tuesday. The Coast Guard said the shrimp boat Lucille had been fishing about 10 miles offshore when it began taking water and its power failed. The Lucille's captain, J. C. Rogers of Harlingen, and the one crewman aboard were rescued.

Rogers Reports On Ike's
State Of The Union Message

"Take the proverbial Mother Hubbard, it covered everything and touched nothing."

That is how Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa characterized the President's State of the Union Message in his weekly newsletter.

"The Number One item is unquestionably the defense of this country," Rogers states. "A close second, and probably an integral part of an overall defense program, is the position this country will take concerning world trade."

Pointing out that the President referred to the defense at length in his message, Rogers comments: "The proper handling of the trade problem could unquestionably go a long way in the prevention of hostilities in the world. It is something that is highly explosive and its delicate mechanism must be handled with the utmost caution."

However, the congressman warns, "an impractical approach could very easily result in great unemployment, tragedy and hardship in this country. . . . We cannot and could not compete on an open world market with the products of slave labor or semi-slave labor."

It appears, Rogers continues, that President Eisenhower expects to use foreign aid as one of the tools to deal with the trade problem.

The congressman also comments on the parts of the President's message dealing with low-income farm families and the plight of small business enterprises in the United States.

Rogers says actual policies tend to damage severely family-sized farms and decrease the U. S. farm population and that examination of the course, Representatives of all the groups, American Heritage, World Affairs, Great Books and Parent Education will also attend each evening. Each will be featured one of the four evenings.

Dr. Per G. Stenlund, West Texas area coordinator of the adult education program, and his executive assistant, John Gregory, are expected to assist with the program.

On Jan. 26, Prof. Raymond Elliott will conduct one of the program's experimental discussion groups in "Sing Your America," which seeks through song to illustrate the history of our country. Prof. Elliott is with the music department at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Programs in addition to those in Spanish and "Sing Your America" will be held as follows: American Heritage, Jan. 25; Parent Education and Juvenile Delinquency, Jan. 26; and World Affairs and Great Books, Jan. 27.

A questionnaire will be passed out during each of the evenings regarding programs which would be of interest to Pampans. Among those suggested by the area center in Lubbock are Ways of Making, Thomas Jefferson and Our Times, and You and Your Community.

Labor's 'Problem'
Is Man Over 45

Editor's Note: The U. S. Department of Labor, and state labor departments in areas where unemployment is serious, are giving special attention to a "problem child" of the labor force—the man past 45 who can't land a job because he is "too old." The following dispatch, the second in a series of three, describes how "age prejudice" affects our senior citizens.

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
NEW YORK, Jan. 11—UP—"First to be fired, last to be hired." So goes the bitter refrain of the middle-aged and older worker in a world that places a premium on youth.

His lament is only partly true. Through union activity and industry's recognition of seniority rights, a man getting along in years has less reason today to fear he will be among the first to be laid off if his company tightens its belt during a recession.

"Job engineering," the shifting of an aging worker to a job of slower pace, also is helping keep older workers employed.

But the deck is still stacked against the man past 45, and the woman over 35, who walks into an employment office looking for a job.

Majority Have Age Maximum
As many as 80 per cent of the jobs listed in employment bureaus carry a specific age maximum.

The U. S. Department of Labor says one out of three applicants for jobs is over 45, but only one out of seven placements involves this age group.

Except in a tight labor market, when employers are grubbing for help, the older worker may indeed find himself "last to be hired."

Employment service officials believe "age prejudice" is responsible for much of the reluctance to put older men and women to work. Employers rattle off stock arguments to justify their policies. But placement officials argue right back. Examples:

"Older people are more likely to get hurt on the job." The Bureau of Labor Statistics surveyed 18,000 workers in 109 plants and found that disabling accidents involved as many men in the 25-35 age bracket as in the 45-plus bracket. The highest rate was among men between 35 and 45.

Survey Shows Absenteeism
"Absenteeism is greater among older workers." The same federal survey showed absenteeism is lowest among workers 55 to 65, highest in the under-30 group.

If a man is unemployed at 45 he is probably a job-hopper and wouldn't work for us long anyhow." Labor surveys show job-hopping is more prevalent among younger workers, who have less family responsibility and are more restless and ambitious.

"As a man gets older he produces less." Statistics aren't available to prove or disprove this, but such a generalization is defied every day in factories where white-haired men keep up with assembly lines as easily as their sons.

"We want young men with zeal and energy!" Energetic young men often do not have the sober judgment, wisdom and experience that comes with age.

Pensions Are Argued
Another argument, not based on prejudice, involves pensions. Some companies say they cannot afford to put a new employee over 40 on the payroll without upsetting their pension program. He would be eligible for retirement too soon.

In some quarters it is suggested that compulsory retirement be done away with. Medical science has increased the life span to the point where 60 to 65 is no longer a realistic age to force a man to retire.

The problem of the older worker is being pressed home to industry and labor leaders—by the fact that increased longevity means the 45-plus group will make up half of America's adult population by 1975.

Gen. Hoge Is 'Sold' On A-Weapons

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Gen. William M. Hoge, the subject of the following interview with a veteran United Press correspondent is commander of the U. S. Army in Europe. He commanded assault engineers who crashed Omaha Beach in Normandy on June 6, 1944, and later captured the vital bridge at Remagen over the Rhine River. Later he commanded Ninth Corps in Korea.)

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
HEIDELBERG, Germany, Jan. 11—UP—New atomic superweapons will enable the United States Army to "carry the fight to the Russians" and "make any aggressor think twice before attacking," its European commander-in-chief said Tuesday.

Gen. William M. Hoge, commander of 250,000 American troops guarding the Iron Curtain frontier in Europe, said the new 280-millimeter "atomic cannon," the "Honest John" rocket and other Sunday punch weapons now in the hands of his forces would make it possible to defend Europe further eastward than earlier thought possible.

In an exclusive United Press interview at U. S. Army headquarters in Europe, Hoge added that the addition of 12 West German divisions under the Paris armistice would put the free nations in a much better position to defend Europe east of the Rhine than had seemed possible only a year or so ago.

Hoge warned, however, that the Soviet bloc with its estimated 225 front-line divisions still has the preponderance of force and the advantage of initiative.

will hold the gavel in the Senate. Fulgham, after administering the oath to the 150 representatives, will hold the rostrum until members of the House—47 of them first-termers—complete the formality of electing a speaker.

Rep. Jim Lindsey of Texarkana, without opposition for the House's highest honor, was assured the speakership. He succeeds Reuben Benham of San Saba, who did not seek re-election to the Legislature.

The 31 members of the Senate, including the new names on the ballot chamber roster, are expected to quickly organize, elect a president pro tempore and announce they're ready for business.

In keeping with custom, each member advises the Governor when it is ready to do business. Of the four new members of the Senate, three served an apprenticeship in the lower chamber. They are: James Owen, III, El Paso; William V. By, Victoria; and William H. B. Adams, Amarillo.

The fourth new member is Ray Robison, a McKinney farm implement dealer, and a former secretary to congressional House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Details on the tax and spend proposals will be aired in detail by Gov. Allan Shivers when he addresses a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday.

Rayburn sources said the House may begin pinning off, will probably come between 25 and 30 percent.

Calver's warning that Texas was in a "temporarily precarious" financial position came as he released his estimate of the fiscal year of the state's anticipated revenues for the next two years.

Lawmakers, preparing to enjoy a huge boost that lifted their pay from $10 to $25 a year, get the checks in January, March and April, he said. Regular state employees of various will probably be paid in January.

He predicted that representatives will be paid in March, and that the checks will be paid in April.

general said. "The enemy, therefore, would always have the jump on us and we must assume he would make penetration at the outset. But the possession of these weapons is a tremendous psychological boost."

"For the first time now our people are taking a forward look instead of merely thinking in terms of withdrawal. There is more hope in the situation than there was before. Our ability to block aggression is greater. We have something now that will make aggression with impunity impossible in Europe. We can carry the fight to the enemy and anyone contemplating aggression would have to think twice before attacking."

Hoge, a slow-speaking native of Boonville, Mo., retired from the Army at the end of the month. The general, now 61, will be succeeded by Lt. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, now Seventh Army commander.

He commanded assault engineers who captured Omaha beachhead in Normandy on June 6, 1944, and headed an armored combat team that seized intact the vital Remagen bridge over the Rhine River the following March.

Cowan to prepare some figures for Pampa's immediate water relief, with the idea of tying immediate measures into a 10-year program. At the same time, the commission, Boyd and Robison agreed that Pampa ought to stay in the CRMWA, even though the present proposed contract is not acceptable. The commission thought it should go along with the recommendation of Boyd and Robison, "as they are closer to the scene than we are."

Next meeting of Feb. 14

Boyd, reporting on Monday's CRMWA meeting, said it did not seem advisable to "obligate" the City of Pampa in a situation where the city might not even get any water or might not be able to use what the dam-and-reservoir project provided. He said Pampa should make plans to get ready for 15 years from now.

Next meeting of the authority board of directors is scheduled for Feb. 14.

2 Gamblers Fined, Jailed In Tax Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11—UP—Two gamblers who allegedly used a "sneezing fund" to avoid payment of income taxes on part of their "take," have been fined $10,000 each and sentenced to four years in federal prison.

Warren O. White, 43, Danville, Ill., and Ralph H. Smith, now of Colorado Springs, Colo., were sentenced Monday after they changed their pleas from innocent to guilty on indictments for alleged tax evasion in 1947.

U. S. District Attorney John B. Stoddard Jr. told the court Smith had evaded taxes totalling $16,778 in 1947 and White's tax evasion added up to about $25,000.

Stoddard said the bookmakers understated their incomes by post-ford, who was killed Monday morning near Elk City, Okla., in a day's take inserting the name of an automobile wreck, will be held a "fictitious" winner in the game in Berlin, Okla., at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Stoddard said the resulting "sneezing fund" sometimes was used to "pay off" public officials in Danville.

The body will lie in state in the Martin Funeral Home, Elk City, prior to final rites.

In addition to his brother, Mr. Fannon is survived by his wife and five children, and a sister, Mrs. Carl Lawrence of Pampa.

Services Today For Man Who Had 160 Blood Transfusions

DALLAS, Jan. 11—UP—Funeral services for Robert W. Harris, 47-year-old Dallas vending machine producer who was a doomed man despite the 160 transfusions of rare-type blood given within a week of futile efforts to save his life.

An autopsy performed shortly after Harris' death Monday revealed that he had not died of internal bleeding, he was doomed by the ballooning of one of his heart's main blood vessels.

Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of Wadley Blood Center and a witness at the autopsy, said "his condition was hopeless from the start."

But efforts by surgeons included a five-hour exploratory operation and the transfusion of more than 160 pints of rare B-negative type blood, as much, Dr. Hill said, "as is normally found among 16,000 persons." The operation revealed only that an operation could not help him.

Veins Ruptured
Veins in his stomach and intestines were ruptured and as fast as new blood was transfused into veins, it poured out on the inside of his abdomen.

Apparently the thing (bleeding) started with a badly-damaged liver," Dr. Hill said. "Because of the damaged liver, his blood clotting mechanism failed."

Dr. Hill said it also caused a back pressure on Harris' circulatory system and "this back pressure, plus the tendency to bleed, had caused little hemorrhages, which turned into little ulcers."

He said there was no possibility of closing the little bleeding ulcers. There also was an aneurism of the aorta, a ballooning of one of the main blood vessels of the heart.

"In any case, the poor fellow's number was up," Dr. Hill, himself an expert on blood diseases, said. "He not only had that (bleeding) condition, but also the aneurism of the aorta. If he hadn't died of the blood condition, he would have died of the other."

Harris Owned Company
Harris, who had a wife and daughter, was the owner of the Abbey Manufacturing Co., maker of vending machines. His funeral was scheduled Tuesday (at 2 p.m.) from the Sparkman - Brand Funeral Home.

The autopsy did not settle the technical question of exactly what caused death. Dr. Hill said bleeding was responsible for it all, but shock probably was as near the direct cause as anything.

"Harris did not die of lack of blood; we never ran out," Dr. Hill said. "Plus or minus three pints, he got 160 pints of blood, plus three units of plasma, plus various doses of coagulants and other drugs."

Dr. Hill said there is no record of anyone's having received as many as 160 pints of blood transfused into his circulatory system. He estimated Harris had his blood supply changed completely 14 times.

A public appeal brought a line of donors when the blood center almost ran out of the rare blood at one time.

The doctor said Harris' mysterious malady was "one of those once-in-a-lifetime things" that a physician encounters.

Laredo Man Held in Slaying
LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Laredo police held a 29-year-old auto mechanic Tuesday, charged with shooting and killing Mrs. Alicia Rosa Garcia, a waitress who refused to serve him more beer or talk to him. Mrs. Garcia was the mother of several children. The mechanic, police said, surrendered following the shooting.

Man's Best Friend Proves Saying True

DURANGO, Colo., Jan. 11—UP—Farmer Frank Montgomery, 69, of Bayfield, Colo., lay in a painful cast with a fractured back Tuesday, alive because Sissie, his collie, dug him out of a freezing trap beneath an upturned tractor.

Montgomery, a tough old man with a stiff knee, had taken the tractor out Monday to scrape the ice and snow off a road which leads down a hill from his farm home near Bayfield to the highway.

When the tractor skidded out of control, he was unable to jump clear because of his knee. The steering wheel of the tractor was jammed into his back, and Montgomery found himself pinned face down in the bottom of an irrigation ditch. He was barely able to breathe through the frozen earth and snow that masked his face.

Sissie leaped down the hill when she heard the tractor turn over. She found her master helpless and nearly fainting from the pain of a fractured vertebrae. The weather was freezing, and the temperature dropping.

The collie sensed there was no time to run for help. Instead she began to dig away at the hard earth and snow around her master's head. Within 15 minutes Montgomery was able to breathe freely, and with Sissie's help struggled painfully out from under the upturned tractor.

Sissie watchfully led the way as Montgomery labored up the hill despite his fractured back and called a doctor.

He was brought to Mercy Hospital here, placed in a cast, and told the physician the story of his dog's heroic feat of salvation.

The physician said Montgomery was resting well and would recover.

One unidentified witness said "bodies flew through the air" like sticks of wood, and another said "there were people all over the roadway."

Mrs. Walling was taking her two eldest children to school.

By 1965, there will be 81 million motor vehicles in the United States, the Automobile Club of New York estimates. Placed one above the other, the cars would make a column 65,000 miles high — More than a quarter of the distance to the moon.

Only about half the landowners in a 3 million acre area sought by the military have signed. The maneuver, termed "Exercise Blue Boar," is planned to help the Army decide what type of combat units will be best suited to atomic warfare.

An Army spokesman in Washington said Monday the exercise still is scheduled for late next month, but may have to be deferred if the required land around Fort Hood is not available.

Farmers and ranchers complained after the 1952 "Exercise Long Horn," involving 95,000 men, that land, fences and bridges were damaged and payments for repairs were too slow.

The Army pointed out that only 30,000 men will participate in the February maneuvers, that damage will be lighter, and a special claims office has been established already in Gatesville to cut red tape and speed indemnity.

MAYBE THAT'S THE SECRET OF MR. GRANT'S LONGEVITY

FROGVILLE, Okla. — UP—When Mrs. S. E. Grant suggested that she invite some friends over Wednesday her father-in-law, James Grant, objected.

"Just peace and quiet, that's all I want," Grant said.

Mrs. Grant agreed and Grant celebrated his 102nd birthday without any company for dinner.

Lone Survivor Of Crossing Wreck Gains

GALVESTON, Jan. 11—UP—Nancy Walling, 9, lone survivor of five persons in a truck that collided with a passenger train at Grapeland Monday remained in serious condition Tuesday, but was reported improving.

The collision killed Mrs. Forrest Walling, 35, and three other daughters, Virginia, 16, Pamela and Paula, three-year-old twins.

Nancy was treated at Crockett, Tex., and taken to John Sealy hospital in Galveston, so brain surgeons could work on her injury. Besides a head injury, she had a broken left leg and a broken pelvic bone.

Authorities said windows of the truck were closed because of the cold weather, and apparently they did not see or hear the Missouri-Pacific train. It hit the truck and carried it half a block on the cowcatcher. Then it was rammed into a mail car, the cab jammed and part of the wreckage torn away.

One unidentified witness said "bodies flew through the air" like sticks of wood, and another said "there were people all over the roadway."

Mrs. Walling was taking her two eldest children to school.

Gold Smuggler Hears Sentence

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 11—UP—William Eugene Osborn, 29, Tuesday faced five years in prison for possessing smuggled gold bullion from the Los Alamos, N. M., Atomic Energy plant.

A confederate, Jerome Walton, 26, was suspended by Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn Monday because Walton is serving a 20-year sentence at the Oklahoma State prison for another offense.

Osborn, of Oklahoma City, was told by Vaughn he had "betrayed the confidence of the federal government" while a plant employee.

Judgment was withheld in the case of a third defendant, Charles Anthony Kautzman, 26, also of Oklahoma City. Judge Vaughn said the role of Kautzman was secondary and his sentence will depend on his behavior during the next six months.

French, Italian Reds Are Losing Strength

United Press Foreign Analyst
The two largest Communist parties in western Europe are quite unhappy.

In both Italy and France the Reds are losing strength — the fellow-traveller appeal.

They still have strong representation in Parliament, and draw votes far in excess of their card-carrying membership. They still control powerful labor unions.

But where a few years ago the Italian and French Reds were a real menace, they now seem more of a nuisance.

They were even unable to extract much propaganda profit from the ready-made issue of West German armament despite the fact that many anti-Communist Italians and Frenchmen also fear what may happen if Germany again becomes a military power.

As the result of their bad situation, both the Italian and French party leaders are squabbling among themselves.

Two Leaders Unhappy
Palmiro Togliatti, the Italian party leader, and Maurice Thorez, the French leader, are in bad health and are unlikely to improve. They are no longer party dictators, and discipline is bad.

Dispatches from Rome told how Luigi Longo and Pietro Secchia, the No. 2 and No. 3 men, sat in sulky silence Sunday while Togliatti made a three-hour speech at a party conference.

Longo and Secchia favor a "tough" party policy. They complain that Togliatti has been too soft. They say that he has been trying to win the support of "bourgeois" elements, and that in attempting to woo the agricultural south of Italy, he has neglected the industrial north where the Communist strength really centers.

There are reports that most Italian leaders would like to pension Togliatti off. He seemed to take note of these reports when he went out of his way Sunday to deny that his strength had been permanently sapped by the wounds he received in an assassination attempt in 1948.

Health Bad Six Years
There seems no doubt, however, that even if the wounds did not leave his health permanently impaired, it is still bad six years after the attempt.

In Italy, the Communists have 143 seats out of the total of 590 in the Chamber of Deputies. Their card-carrying membership is about 2.1 million. The Italian party is not losing much in membership, but its members are much less militant than they used to be.

In France, the Communists have 96 seats out of 627 in the Chamber of Deputies. They have an estimated membership of a little more than 500,000 at the highest. Some estimates are as low as 200,000 as regards active party members. Party strength has dropped about 50 per cent in recent years.

French Communist Leader Maurice Thorez never has recovered from a stroke he suffered in 1950. There is squabbling in his party ranks too. Two party leaders, veteran Andre Marty and Auguste Lecoeur, have been purged in recent months and now vote in Parliament as "Progressives."

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

IT FOREVER AMAZES ME how many facets the field of fashion has. Dress, suit and coat styles affect jewelry, hat and shoe designs. And there are probably more far-reaching effects of fashion that I haven't even considered. Along with the announcing and showing this week of the new spring and summer styles (it hardly seems as if we've completed our winter wardrobes) has come the new trends in jewelry. Below is the description of the new line of spring and summer jewelry by Trifari.

THE LONG TORSO line is in. Necklaces are asymmetrical, O-lines and heartshaped, as well as round and throat circling. Never has the necklace assumed more importance. Long torsos demand ropes, both 60 inch and the newer matinee length, leis, chunky bibs and necklaces that hug the throatline, all worn together to achieve the massed effect.

What makes the new jewelry so enticing and exciting? The same thing that helps make the clothes irresistible. Color, color and more color in sweet pastels and hot flamboyant shades. Black and navy blue for honors with pure white, pale pinks, light and bright blue and a gay citriny yellow. Patriotism is rampant with red, white and blue combinations in the forefront of fashion.

WASHINGTON WINESAP APPLIES

PLIES are good bakers because they hold their shape and texture and their characteristic spicy flavor. For a treat next time you're baking, moisten mince with a small amount of orange juice, fill the centers of the cored apples with the mixture and bake as usual. Serve warm, or chilled with whipped cream cheese.

MRS. DONALD CROW, Houston, Texas, says: "My sons disliked ordinary aspirin. Now I give St. Joseph Aspirin For Children. They like its pure orange flavor."

McCarthy (R., Wis.), who once termed Peress a "fifth-amendment Communist," says he will ask a meeting of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee to consider a new investigation of the case.

Court Dismisses Suits Against Beaumont Unions

BEAUMONT, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Suits asking $750,000 damage brought by 11 strike-bound Port Arthur retail firms against two unions and their officials have been dismissed in two district courts here.

Negro Man Escapes Pair Of Kidnapers

BEAUMONT, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Two men kidnapped a 42-year-old Baytown, Tex., Negro and took him on a 24-hour joyride locked in the trunk of his own car before they fell asleep and he escaped. Police said descriptions of the men fitted those of Julius Bohannon, an escaped killer from Oklahoma state penitentiary, and his son.

The victim was Burnice Roberts, 42, Baytown. He walked into the police station here at 3 a.m. He said he escaped from the pair when they fell asleep drunk on a road near Silsbee. He said one of the men, the older one, called the other "Billy Don."

City Detective W. A. Robbins said Billy Don Bohannon was Julius Bohannon's son and the descriptions given by Roberts fitted those of the Bohannons. The 49-year-old Bohannon, who killed two law officers and another man, escaped from the Oklahoma prison Saturday.

State and county police were alerted to watch for Roberts' 1950 gray Ford sedan.

Roberts said he stopped at a stop sign in Baytown Saturday night and the two men got into the car, one on each side of him, one pushing him out of the driver's seat. Both had guns, he said.

Roberts said he was driven to Dayton on Highway 146, stopping just outside the town where one of the men relieved him of $90. Then he was forced to get into the car trunk, he said. Roberts said the pair drove around all night, stopping at what he thought were taverns. He said he could hear juke box music.

Several times Sunday they stopped for gas but he was afraid to make any noise, Roberts said.

Roberts said the pair let him out of the trunk Sunday night and told him to drive to Silsbee. Both men were so drunk, he said, they probably were afraid to drive anymore.

More Texas Colleges Sought

AUSTIN, Jan. 11—UP—An East Texas legislator said Monday he plans to introduce legislation increasing the number of junior colleges in the state to 32 and cutting out the first two years of instruction at the University of Texas.

Jerry Sadler of Pecos, former railroad commissioner and a new member of the House of Representatives, said his measure would make it possible "for every boy and girl in the state of Texas to attend college."

Sadler proposed that the number of public junior colleges in Texas be boosted from the present 30 to a total of 32 by Sept. 1, 1956, to be administered by the University of Texas board of regents.

Rock Removed
JOHNSTON, R. I., Jan. 11—UP—Ice Age glaciers left a 350-ton rock on Newtakanut Hill. The big rock sat on the brow of the hill for 40,000 years. Then persons living in the shadow of the hill became worried. The rock was broken up and carted away.

Motion for dismissal was entered by the plaintiffs through attorney John Benckenstein. The move was looked upon here as a possible conciliatory action that might preface a settlement of the strike.

Eight of the 18 retail stores strike-bound for more than a year reached agreement with Sabine Industrial Union 1814 (CIO) recently and pickets were withdrawn.

Pickets remained at the other 10 stores Monday. The 10 stores, along with the Golden Arrow Cafe which since has gone out of business, filed the damage suits nearly a year ago against Local 1814 and the now-defunct Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America Union Local 85 which started the strike.

Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepherd threatened recently to take legal action if the prolonged strike was not settled "within two weeks."

Neither employers nor union officials were available for comment Monday.

Quick Exit
FRANKLIN, Neb., Jan. 11—UP—Mice haven't a chance in the Franklin County courthouse. Supplies of poisoned grain kept by the county agricultural agent for fighting prairie dogs, mice and other rodents were recently invaded by courthouse mice. The invaders scarcely made it away from the sack before they succumbed.

Barkley And Morse Get Coveted Posts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—UP—Senate Democrats Monday gave Sens. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) and Wayne L. Morse (Ind-Ore.) coveted seats on the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

This action was announced after a meeting of the 14-man Senate Democratic steering committee, which handles committee assignments for the party which is now in control of the Senate.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson announced that the committee had waived the seniority rule for Barkley and for Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.). Both returned to the Senate this year after interruptions in their long service.

Morse, former Republican who turned independent in 1952, supplied the vote needed by the Democrats to organize the Senate this year. Johnson said it is the responsibility of the majority party to assign independents to committee seats.

Morse also was assigned to the banking committee and, by his own choice, retained his seat on the District of Columbia committee. Republicans bumped him from his former committee assignments two years ago, because of his bolt from the party, and gave him two minor committees.

Barkley was named to the powerful finance committee as well as to foreign relations. He served on both before his election to the vice presidency in 1948.

Johnson described Morse as "one of the ablest members" of the Senate who "would serve with distinction in any post."

O'Mahoney, former chairman of the interior committee, was assigned to that committee and to the judiciary committee.

Friend Of Nugent To Raise Money

MERRILL, Wis., Jan. 11—UP—The leader of a drive to provide funds for the defense of Maj. Ambrose Nugent, a Merrill man accused of treason, said Monday he will canvass several factories in an effort to collect more money.

Frank Johnston, commander of the local American Legion post, said only $1,400 has been collected, with another $1,100 to go to reach the goal. Only $22 had been collected in the last five days, Johnston said. He sent $1,000 of the total to Nugent earlier.

He said he hoped to go to three or four factories Monday in the Merrill area.

"We'll just keep on pegging," Johnston said. "He needs the money." Johnston said the Army was holding up $3,000 in back pay due to Nugent until his trial on charges of collaborating with the Communists while he was a prisoner of war in Korea is over.

Johnson scheduled a meeting of the local Legion post, which sponsored the drive, for Monday night to discuss the situation.

TANDEM 'COPTER MAKES ITS MAIDEN FLIGHT—The world's largest tandem helicopter, the Air Force's YH-16 transporter, is shown as it was flown for the first time above Philadelphia, Pa. It flew at speed in excess of 130 mph and at altitudes between 3000 and 4000 feet. The Army plans to use the 'copter for cargo and troop transport.

JUDGE JUST WANTED TO BE SURE OF ALL THE FACTS

PASADENA, Calif. — UP — Mrs. Emma Kincaid, 45, won a divorce from her husband, Vernon, 50, after telling the judge:

"He broke my nose, broke my collarbone, gave me 50 black eyes, broke my glasses 150 times, kicked a hole in my leg and knocked out one of my teeth."

"Did those acts make you nervous and upset?" asked Judge Kurtz Kauffman.

"Well," Mrs. Kincaid replied, "they certainly embarrassed me."

Lost 18 Pounds With Barcontrate

"When I started taking Barcontrate, I weighed 146 pounds and lost 18 pounds to get down to my normal weight of 128 pounds. To me Barcontrate is the most pleasant and reliable way of reducing and too, I never have that fagged out feeling, but am full of pep and ambition." So writes Mrs. Velma S. Tracey, 2704 W. Harris, San Angelo, Texas.

If the very first bottle of Barcontrate doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back. All Texas druggists carry Barcontrate.

Tennessee To Help Texas In Search For 100-Pound Catfish

SAVANNAH, Tenn., Jan. 11 —UP—Commercial fishermen in this area are making extra efforts to snag a giant catfish to send to Texas, which can't furnish one big enough, despite all the state's traps.

Cecil L. Parris of Savannah started the hunt for the big catfish after getting a letter from a former Tennessean, C. L. McLean of Fort Worth.

McLean told Parris that the Fort Worth zoo needs a catfish weighing "100 pounds or better," and frankly admitted that they don't grow that big out west, even in the great state of Texas.

Parris, who is chairman of Savannah's Catfish Derby, is making no wild promises about filling the order as much as he would like to.

"The fishermen tell me a 75 or 80-pounder is a cinch," he said, "but it will be a miracle if we find a 100-pounder." But, it isn't impossible, he added quickly.

Two commercial fishermen caught a 130-pounder four months ago after a three-hour struggle.

"They finally tied a rope around him to pull him out of the water," Parris reported. "Then they hog-tied him, and one sat on him cowboy fashion so he wouldn't flop around and overturn the boat."

Tennessee fills the order, Texas will be forced to swallow their pride every time they look at the fish.

"I have made the zoo director promise to put a sign on the tank saying that here is a fish bigger than anything Texas grows," McLean wrote.

THE MARQUEE

BY DICK KLEINER

"Mrs. Patterson," with Eartha Kitt, works hard at being a fantasy, which is its chief fault. Fantasies should just sort of happen, not be contrived. But there are lots of tender moments in this tale of a dreamy 15-year-old girl who imagines she's in the social whirl, instead of living in a ramshackle cabin.

Eartha Kitt plays the girl, and while she acts like a 15-year-old, she's delightful — she sings like a sophisticated night-club star. It's a little incongruous — a double-header with music.

Bring a young television producer and an optometrist together and what happens? Generally, not much of anything, but in the case of Peter Nelson and Harry Gould, it may mean an interesting off-Broadway production. Nelson, who is all of 25 and the assistant to the producer of CBS-TV's "Best of Broadway," and Gould, at 33 a successful optometrist in Orange, Conn., have an idea to revive Somerset Maugham's "The Circle." It's more than an idea; almost a reality.

Gould showed me a letter from one of the stage's biggest stars, saying she'd like to play the lead — but for a while the name can't be revealed.

The theater needs people like Nelson and Gould — youngsters with fresh ideas and the nerve to try.

Lately, it's been fashionable in certain circles to knock radio. Particularly network radio. "Network radio," the people in these circles like to say, "should lie down on a comfortable kilocycle and die. It will die soon anyway."

This view is, naturally, not beloved among network radio people. One of the ablest men in the radio business is CBS' vice-president in charge of programming, Lester Gottlieb. And these are Gottlieb's feelings on the matter: "I used to watch television," he says, "and by nine o'clock I'd had it. So I'd turn on the radio. But all radio offered were radio versions of TV programs. I didn't want that — I didn't want to hear the radio counterpart of 'Dragnet' or 'I Love Lucy.' I wanted to relax, take it easy."

"Radio has to present programs that are relaxing. That's what we're trying to do at CBS. We've got people like Crosby, Como, Tennessee Ernie, Amos 'n' Andy — some nice talk and a few nice songs. No spectaculars. You can listen without working at it."

This, Gottlieb feels, is how network radio will survive. The business of putting the same program on a whole mess of stations at the same time — network radio — began, he says, purely from economical reasons.

"Network radio evolved as a means of giving advertisers whole-sale prices," he says. "Say an advertiser wanted to buy time on 150 stations. If he bought it separately it would be expensive. Buying through a network was cheaper. And only a network could afford top-flight shows — independent stations mostly play records and rip some news off a news wire once in a while and read it."

"Today, of course, many advertisers are spending all their budgets on TV. So radio circulation is down, too. Daytime network radio is holding up, but nighttime radio is off. I'd say, about 25 per cent."

Can network radio survive the loss of advertising revenue, and the potential loss of audience? That is the 64-kilocycle question. Gottlieb thinks it can — if it gives the audience some relaxation, something besides what television presents. Might be nice to switch on the radio some night.

Richard Bissell, who wrote the book, "7-11 Cents," on which "The Pajama Game" is based, isn't the only writer in the Bissell family. His son, Tommy, now 11, edits and writes "The Fenelon Place Journal," a weekly sheet he puts out in his home in Rowayton, Conn.

This periodical circulates among family, friends and some selected members of "The Pajama Game" cast. Carol Haney says she's a regular reader. There's show business gossip in it and Tommy also believes strongly in personal journalism. His mother's new coat was reported fully.

When Tommy went to camp last summer, he still ran the Journal. Every week he got a copy of Variety, and used that as source material. Some of our top columnists do the same.

Gas Industry Warned To 'Watch' FPC

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 —UP—Rep. Frank Icard (D-Tex.) said Monday federal regulation of independent natural gas producers means the Federal Power Commission can "move in and take over the oil industry."

"No other conclusion can be reached, for the gas industry, which they now... have set out to control is such an integral part of oil recovery that forcing the separation of oil from gas by artificial regulation is not only uneconomical and wasteful but is also impossible from a practical point of view," Icard said in a speech prepared for delivery in the House.

The Federal Power Commission's authority to regulate the production and gathering of natural gas was established in the Supreme Court's decision in the Phillips Petroleum Co. case last summer.

Although the chairman of the Federal Power Commission denies any intention to bring oil or other industries under the jurisdiction of the commission, I think everyone would feel a lot better, and obviously we would all be safer from further encroachment of federal authority, if an amendment to the natural gas act were enacted clearly reflecting the intent of congress as to the jurisdiction of the commission," Icard said.

He plans to introduce legislation to carry out his ideas.

Icard contended that "the production of natural gas does not possess the attributes of a public utility." He said it is "one of the most speculative and competitive enterprises in our whole American economy."

The biggest of the four dinners will be here Wednesday. The next dinner will be at the veterans hospital at Temple on Saturday and at Brooke army hospital in San Antonio, Jan. 20.

Four plane loads of game were flown from Houston to Corpus Christi, Temple and San Antonio last Friday.

The largest donor for the dinners was the Katy VFW which provided 1,000 of the ducks and 20 deer and 500 pounds of specially-milled brown rice.

Cattlemen Urged To Produce Cheaper, Better Grade Beef

RENO, Nev., Jan. 11 —UP—President Jay Taylor told 1,600 delegates to the 58th annual convention of the American National Cattlemen's Association Monday that the United States is "coming into the greatest 'beef feast' in history."

Taylor, an Amarillo, Tex., cowman, was the opening speaker as delegates from 30 states convened for the first session of a three-day convention.

"There is no reason why people won't eat more beef if we, as beef producers, continue to provide the best beef possible through normal channels at prices reasonable to all and if we continue to educate the homemaker to the enjoyment and the benefits to be had with beef," Taylor declared.

Effective Sales
"We have proven that cattlemen can be effective beef salesmen," Taylor told the cattlemen "you rejected price supports on your cattle and then went out and sold beef like it has never been sold before."

"It's not hard to remember when only a short time ago everyone was cursing us out," Taylor said. "Or when people were advocating all kinds of beef substitutes."

"One thing we've learned, now that we've regained the respect and affection of the nation, is that we can't relax our efforts to continue providing beef efficiently to everyone at prices they can afford to pay. We could get cussed out again," he warned.

Beef Promotion
Executive Secretary F. E. Molin of Denver reported the dominant note in cattle meetings throughout the nation during 1954 was beef promotion.

"This increased activity, started back in 1952, had undoubtedly been very helpful in bringing the cattle market out of the doldrums," Molin said.

Molin emphasized that cattle slaughter had increased from 28 million head in 1952 to an estimated 39.5 million head in 1954.

Had the government been supporting the market, he said, "we would have piled up in some kind of storage a part of this increased slaughter instead of moving it into consumption as we have done. Too, if the government were supporting the market, we would have piled up inventories until we reached an unmanageable basis."

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Gets FASTEST at drug counter.

THIS STORY: Although Riverboat Captain Chung has a reputation for being a tough old prospector, he has turned over his business to his son, Chung Wong. Chung Wong is a young man who has turned over his business to his father, Chung Wong. Chung Wong is a young man who has turned over his business to his father, Chung Wong.

XV
THEY were walking closer to the General Heath where the landing strip was uneven. The Chinese woman lunged and fell against him for support. Lamp-light glared from a jade bracelet on her slim arm; he glimpsed her even while putting out an answering hand to aid. His fingers brushed her hip and drew back embarrassed.

She righted herself quickly, turning up her elongated face. "Captain, I am Linda. You I know, for they have told me many things. But you are not at all as I was led to expect."

"What did they tell you about me?"

"For the moment she lost her substantial gravity and giggled. "I had not one to judge until I have seen for myself. There is an ancient saying that the man will reveal himself more truthfully than will the wind rustling amid empty branches. You wonder what I speak American so well?"

Crotch was not wondering about her speech. He was puzzling painfully what she might tell him about Chung, who lay stiff beside his crude casket. In reply he merely grinned.

Linda spoke as he helped her along the trail. "I went to an American missionary school in China. Chung learned to speak your language, too, before he came. We promised each other that if we were coming to America, we must be good Americans."

"And in this respect, Crotch and gave a warning but, unfortunately, he took a bullet for his trouble. Linda, you can be proud of Chung."

Somewhat awkwardly, then, he led her up the gangplank. They met Jim Melott beside the engine pit where Crotch issued an order. "Have your Coo-pahs ready for action. I told Jamison I'd sink his barge and he's not going to fancy that talk. We're going to do it, Jim!"

Crotch swung to the ladders leading to his high wheelhouse, his hide still smarting under the staminate Jamison had forced upon him. From the vantage point of his bridge deck he could comfortably survey the landing.

There was activity along the landing, but it was too dark for him to make out for a certainty what was taking place. When the San Diego's wheel started splashing he knew deckhands had unfasted her lines. She came slowly upriver against the current, gaining speed.

CROTCH'S face eased into a thin smile as he evaluated the possibilities of what Maddix might try. If the San Diego struck him, Maddix might drive the lighter General Heath hopelessly aground with his powerful paddle.

But the General Heath lay in 24 inches of water. Between her and the main channel, where Maddix would be bringing up his packet, lay a sandbar, running, unbounded, perhaps 15 inches. His own boat could skim across the bar. But never the San Diego! Below on the cargo deck Jim Melott doused the light from a brass bulkhead lantern on his way into the engine pit. Crotch saw Goss leap across the deck, ax in hand. Goss's searching look lifted to the wheelhouse and Crotch nodded, the gesture barely perceptible from below. He rang the engine pit for reversed paddle, and knew lank-bodied Jim Melott in his steamy quarters would be valving his machinery frantically. The General Heath's paddle wheel began slowly to revolve; she stood hard against her straining hawsers.

WORD HAS LEAKED OUT at Clovis that the Clovis Oilers are confident of retaining their working agreement with the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League.

But I'm afraid the Pioneer officials are in for a little surprise.

Grover Seitz, who'll manage the Oilers next season, says it's virtually cut and dried that the Oilers will get the working agreement with the Sports.

Actually, you might say, the Sports have a year-to-year working agreement with Seitz.

Bonnie Peters, president of the Shreveport club, is a personal friend of Seitz and it was through Seitz that the Oilers got the working agreement with Shreveport in the first place.

Peters made a verbal agreement with Seitz and Jones at the winter meeting in Houston in December to continue their working agreement with Clovis.

But it was since then that Seitz resigned at Clovis and signed as the Oilers manager. Seitz got on the phone immediately and called Peters in regards to the working agreement.

Peters told Seitz over the phone that the working agreement went wherever Seitz went.

The papers had already been drawn up for the Sports to work with Clovis this year, but they hadn't been sent through the National Baseball Association office at the time Seitz talked with Peters.

"Peters said he believed he could stop the papers and make the change before they did go through NBA office."

That's about all that could stop the working agreement between the Oilers and Sports, that of Peters not being able to stop the papers.

But Grover is virtually certain that Peters was able to make the change.

By the time it was definitely settled that the Oilers would operate

Klucky Keeps Top Rating Despite Loss

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—UP—The Kentucky Wildcats' myth of invincibility may be exploded, but not their No. 1 status in the United Press basketball coaches' ratings.

Despite the startling upset defeat at the hands of unheralded Georgia Tech last weekend, Kentucky topped the United Press college ratings Tuesday for the third straight week.

However, the Wildcats' defeat, coupled with second-ranked Duke's surprise setback by St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., tightened the national race considerably.

Eight different teams received first-place votes this week in the most scattered balloting of the past four seasons.

Kentucky attracted 14 first-place votes from the 35-man United Press rating board, compared to 21 last week. The Wildcats' point total also was reduced to 298 from a season-high 344 and their lead over Duke was reduced from 73 to 60 points.

Defeat Snaps Streak
The Wildcats' 39-58 defeat by Georgia Tech was their first in eight games this season, snapped their overall 32-1 game winning streak and their amazing 129-game unbeaten streak at home, and ruined their hopes of setting two big major college records.

Coach Adolph Rupp's men had hoped to shatter the modern mark of 39 straight victories and complete an unprecedented second straight unbeaten season.

The Pirates, which retained the No. 2 ranking, attracted the second highest total of first-place votes this week with six, runner-up Duke and fourth-ranked North Carolina State each with the top choice of four coaches; Illinois (ranked sixth) received three first-place ballots; Utah (ranked seventh) had two, while LaSalle (ranked third) and UCLA (ranked ninth) had one each.

This week's top 10 group was composed of exactly the same teams as last week's, except that there were a few changes in order. LaSalle, the coaches' pre-season pick for the national championship and No. 2 team for the first two weeks of the campaign, advanced one notch to third place, exchanging places with North Carolina State, Illinois, which topped the ratings for one week before Kentucky took over, moved up from eighth to sixth place, reversing positions with Missouri. Minnesota retained the 10th ranking.

Coaches Rate Through Saturday
The coaches based their ratings on games played through Saturday night, Jan. 8.

This week's first four teams were separated by the comparatively small margin of 81 points. With points distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 scale for vote from first to 10th places, respectively, Duke had 232 points, LaSalle 221 and North Carolina State 217.

San Francisco had 183 points, Illinois 150, Utah 124, Missouri 104, UCLA 68 and Minnesota 59.

Dayton, which ranked among the top 10 for the first four weeks of this season, clung to the No. 11 rating it held last week, with Southern California and Niagara following. Purdue and Maryland were tied for 11th, Wichita 16th, Iowa and Xavier (Ohio) shared 17th place, and Louisville and George Washington were tied for 19th.

Other teams among the 25 that received points this week were: Cincinnati, Holy Cross, Alabama, Wyoming, Seton Hall, Notre Dame, Texas Christian, Pennsylvania, St. Louis, DePaul, Ohio State, Indiana, Stanford, Marquette, Detroit and Kansas.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—UP—The United Press college basketball ratings (first-place votes and win-loss records through Saturday, Jan. 8 in parentheses):

| Team                         | Points |

| 2. Duke (4) (7-2)            | 232    |
| 3. LaSalle (1) (10-3)        | 221    |
| 4. North Car. St. (4) (13-1) | 217    |

TRAUTMAN TURNS 65 Years Today
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 11—UP—Minor League President George M. Trautman, a hale and hearty 65-year-old, feels there aren't many things wrong with minor league baseball that hard work won't cure.

Trautman, relaxed in his national headquarters here, talked about baseball—past, present and future—as he accepted congratulations from the many friends he has made in a long and interesting career.

"Looking back, there isn't much I would like to change," he said. "Except to see more people in minor league baseball parks."

O'Neal, Krebs Set For 3-Year Cage Baffle

DALLAS, Jan. 11—UP—A personal duel between two of the finest sophomore centers in Southwest Conference history will pack as much fan interest as the loop leadership battle between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist Saturday night.

These bitter rivals have met, one before, when the game didn't count in the standings, and TCU's Dick O'Neal had a three-point better night than SMU's Jim Krebs.

TCU won the game by three points.

Veteran cage fans can't remember when two so sharp youngsters have come along in the conference in the same year of three rugged years ahead of them to argue out their abilities on the court.

O'Neal, an inch shorter than the 6-8 Krebs, has compiled a better statistical record than his rival, has shown more stamina and ruggedness and a more willingness to mix it up in a scramble for the ball.

Drawbacks Shown
This willingness, however, has had its drawbacks. O'Neal has drawn 49 personal fouls and failed to finish five of his team's 12 games for that reason. Krebs, meanwhile, has failed to finish only one in 13 games while drawing 37 personal fouls.

In a tight, championship battle for the loop lead between the two top contenders as TCU and SMU rate at the moment—that trait might be a big contributing factor.

The TCU youngster, a home-grown product, is a more polished performer because he's been playing basketball throughout his prep school days.

Krebs, on the other hand, didn't play a game of competitive basketball until his senior year at Webster Grove, Mo. High School, and lacks the ease and grace which O'Neal has mastered.

His coach, Doc Hayes, says Krebs is "doing real well," however, but he's sure the 19-year-old youngster "hasn't arrived."

O'Neal Has More Points
Krebs, far from O'Neal's match on the rebound, has averaged only 20.1 points per game to 26.1 for O'Neal. But, part of this difference may be due to the fact his teammates give him more support in the point-making department.

O'Neal has hit 112 of 233 field goal attempts; Krebs 98 of 220; O'Neal has dropped 89 of 127 free shots, Krebs, 65 of 94, giving O'Neal 313 points in 12 games, Krebs 261 in 13.

Hayes admits that while Krebs "is not gawky and is reasonably quick," O'Neal is "a little quicker, more polished and a better man under the basket."

O'Neal is deadly with a right-handed hook and creditably sure of himself with a hook from the other side. He's confident enough, he'll hook from almost anywhere, while Krebs has the tendency to feed the ball off and await his chance in close.

They have no peers elsewhere in the conference and the all-conference center berth lies strictly between them—and probably will for two more years to come. That's why the TCU-SMU team battle this week end will get no better than a share of the top billing.

Bout Is Cancelled
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 11—UP—Tuesday night's scheduled 10-round bout between Peter Mueller of Germany and Canada's Gordon Wallace was cancelled Monday when it was learned Mueller was suffering from a virus infection.

LEFORS, Jan. 11—The Lefors Pirates are enjoying their best basketball season in several years thus far this year.

Despite not having a "big man" on the team, the Pirates have rolled to eight wins in 12 starts to date.

The Pirates, coached by C. H. Keeton, are lacking in height with their tallest cager standing at 6-2.

Emmett Johnson, a junior, is the "big boy" but he isn't listed on the starting lineup.

Keeton has four 6-1 boys but only one is listed on the starting lineup. Phil Earhart is the lone regular tapping the 6-foot mark.

R. J. Wooten, who recently was named on the All-State Class A football team, is the only other starter anywhere near the 6-0 mark. Wooten stands at 5-11½.

Wooten and Earhart are the only seniors on the starting five.

The other three starters are juniors. They are Jerry Herring, 5-9; Ronnie Rice, 5-9; and Johnny Rowe, 5-8.

Each of the leading Pirate scorers with 124 points in 12 games—Keeton averages 11.2 per game.

Herring is a close second with 121 points for a 10.1 average.

Next in line are Rice with 108 points; Wooten, 85; Rowe, 65; Tony Maples, 23; Joe Watson, 23; and Jimmy Roberts, 10. The latter three are all juniors.

Wooten and Earhart, incidentally, are the only seniors on the Pirates' squad of 13 boys.

The Pirates have entered two tournaments this season, at McLean and White Deer. They won the consolation prize in the White Deer tournament, defeating Clarendon, 52-33, in the finals.

The Bucs advanced to the second round at McLean before losing to the hosts, McLean's Tigers, 46-32.

Lefors will enter a third tournament this week, at Canadian Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Pirates will play one game before the Canadian tournament, meeting Memphis at Memphis tonight.

Selvy, Pettit 1-2 In NBA

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—UP—Frank Selvy and Bob Pettit, those two phenomenal rookies who were battling for college scoring records only a year ago, wrote history in the National Basketball Associationally today for first place.

Not only was it the first time that two rookies have led the League, but it also was the first time that two members of a last-place team, in this case the Milwaukee Hawks, had been on top.

Selvy, the former Furman star, had the slimmest possible margin over Pettit, his stringbean from Louisiana State. Selvy had 70 points to Pettit's 765. On average points per game, they were tied at 29.8 points.

Selvy was regaining the lead he had held for seven of nine 10-round bouts between Peter Mueller of Germany and Canada's Gordon Wallace was cancelled Monday when it was learned Mueller was suffering from a virus infection.

Gnashings

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

IT MAY FALL on the deaf ears of Pampa coffee-drinkers to tell them, but this is an "historic" week. . . . Historic in that it would be history-making if our Java-jugglers, and that's most of us, ever "went for it." Coffee-drinking in Pampa is practically a social institution — a high-class way of saying, "C'mon, let's talk this over, over a cuppa coffee." . . . A good part of the city's business is said to be conducted over a cup of the steaming brew. . . . But to get back to the "week" at hand. It's "Take Tea and See Week." Purpose? To promote hot tea. . . . And that's not all. Coming up in July is another "week." They call it "Iced Tea Time." . . . That's all well and good. But how about the coffee-stirrer? Anybody know when his time comes? Not Gnashings. . . . Maybe it's just that the coffee boys drink so much of their stuff that they don't need a special week. . . . Besides, who ever heard of ordering fruit juice, ham 'n eggs — and tea?

THE YOUNG MIND: Youngsters these days may not know the answers. But that doesn't keep them from coming up with a sharp reply, nevertheless. . . . Judy Fugate, who is four years old, was explaining one day when her older brother, Bobby, who is 7, was in school and she wasn't. . . . "When Mommy and Daddy went to the hospital, they gave them Bobby first. That," she said, triumphantly, "is why I'm not in school."

TAKING PRECAUTIONS is a fine idea, especially if they work. . . . But there's a time and place for everything. And there is one precaution you don't take the way John Carson did over the Christmas holidays. . . . Though he believes in protecting himself against chapped lips cold weather brings, he also likes to get what he is hunting for. . . . John was out hunting quail early one morning, while there was still no light. He waited and waited and finally sighted a covey. Quickly, he reached into his pocket, he claims, to get a cartridge, loaded his rifle and fired. . . . But he did not get any quail. In fact, he didn't even get an explosion for his efforts. And for a very good reason. . . . For, dribbling out at the end of the muzzle was — a tube of Chapstick, just the size of a cartridge.

Crop Controls Hurt Prison Farm Program

AUSTIN, Jan. 11—UP—Tighter federal crop controls and a growing inmate population are going to make it harder for the Texas prison system to "pay its own way," Chairman French Robertson of the Texas prison board predicted Monday.

Robertson, presiding over a meeting of the prison board, said the prison system in the past seven years has made "tremendous strides" but added that Texas still "has a long road to climb."

A nine-point legislative program was approved by the board for submission to lawmakers at the regular session convening Tuesday.

Request Budget Increase

The board requested a budget increase of $284,000 a year over present spending. Total annual appropriations requested of the legislature will amount to $2,443,226 a year.

However, O. B. Ellis, general manager of the prison system, pointed out the prison system is asking for only $90,226 in state appropriations from tax money.

The budget request asked for appropriation of $10,000 from a 1955-1956 balance, and estimated prison earnings at $2,573,000 a year over the coming biennium.

Depends Heavily on Crops

Robertson warned that the prison budget is heavily dependent upon crop earnings.

"We won't get through the next biennium if we have a crop failure . . . a tornado . . . or a hurricane," he said.

The board reported 10,929 bales of cotton were harvested by the prison system in 1954, with total revenue from cotton and cottonseed of $2,160,142.

However, Robertson told the board, "the time is coming when we're going to have a difficult time paying the way."

He pointed out that under federal acreage allotments the Texas prison system has lost 7,600 acres of cotton land since 1933.

"They're hemming us in pretty tightly," Robertson said.

Three Killed On Snow-Bound Road

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Jan. 11—UP—Two automobiles crashed together head-on on snow-covered Highway 777 a mile south of Randlett, Okla., Monday, killing three persons and injuring two others.

The dead were believed to have been Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. McBride and their two-year-old granddaughter, whose name was not immediately learned. Mrs. Kenneth Riedel, mother of the child, was injured and reported in serious condition in Wichita, General hospital, Wichita Falls, Tex.

The McBrides and Riedels were believed to be from Austin, Tex. The other injured person was James H. Dyas of Lawton, Okla. He was in "fair" condition. The only person in either car to escape either death or injury was Rebecca Riedel, six-month-old daughter of Mrs. Riedel.

Dyas was headed toward Lawton, Okla. The other car was headed toward Texas.

Highest Paid Entertainer Says He's Victim Of Guilt Complex

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11—UP—Jackie Gleason, billed as the world's highest paid entertainer, reflected on his new $11 million CBS television contract and decided it gives him a "guilt complex."

The rotund Midas of TV sat sedately in an elegant hotel during his visit here and surveyed a quiet cocktail party given in his honor.

The air was thick with CBC executives, dollar signs and expensive fashion, lorded over by the former burlesque comic who bumped along the bottom of show business for years.

"Yeah, a guilt complex. You wonder what you've done to get all of this," said Jackie. "But there's nothing you can do about it."

"It's like having bad skin. The more you worry about it, the worse it gets."

"I've had a little indication of what I'd like to avoid. One man wrote that all he needed was $500, which should seem like nothing to me. I don't blame the guy for feeling that way. But what can I do about it?"

Jackie is vague about how he will spend his new riches. He likes clothes, he lives in an expensive apartment and he obviously has a lot of money.

Gleason insists he doesn't know enough about his fantastic deal to break it down into a weekly salary. Out of the $11 million he must pay for the production of his four shows, and he admitted that CBS has an option to skip part of the deal after three years. But he thinks he will net more than he did before despite industry reports to the contrary.

One of his shows will be a filmed version of his familiar sketch, "The Honeymooners." But he will build his own movie studio on an old airport near New York, "rather than uproot our staff of 60 people to go to Hollywood."

Highest Paid Entertainer Says He's Victim Of Guilt Complex

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11—UP—Jackie Gleason, billed as the world's highest paid entertainer, reflected on his new $11 million CBS television contract and decided it gives him a "guilt complex."

The rotund Midas of TV sat sedately in an elegant hotel during his visit here and surveyed a quiet cocktail party given in his honor.

The air was thick with CBC executives, dollar signs and expensive fashion, lorded over by the former burlesque comic who bumped along the bottom of show business for years.

"Yeah, a guilt complex. You wonder what you've done to get all of this," said Jackie. "But there's nothing you can do about it."

"It's like having bad skin. The more you worry about it, the worse it gets."

"I've had a little indication of what I'd like to avoid. One man wrote that all he needed was $500, which should seem like nothing to me. I don't blame the guy for feeling that way. But what can I do about it?"

Jackie is vague about how he will spend his new riches. He likes clothes, he lives in an expensive apartment and he obviously has a lot of money.

AROUND THE SPORTS WORLD

FOR EVERYTHING—Famous Korakuen Stadium in Tokyo doesn't lie idle when the baseball season ends, for its owners know that a few hundred tons of snow can attract a lot of attention when they're spread over the diamond. The artificially produced snow makes a winter playland out of the ball park, and thousands of persons share in the fun.

DOING ALL RIGHT—Chief Justice Earl Warren, left, and his host, Wallace Lynn, of Oakland, Calif., are holding up their bag of ducks and geese after a successful shoot at Colusa, Calif. The former Governor of California, Warren spent his holidays on the West Coast.

REBOUND ACTION—University of Kentucky's Bob Burrow (50) and Utah's Gary Bergen (32) are battling for the ball under a basket after Burrow attempted a lay-up shot in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament in Lexington. At right is Art Bunte of Utah. Kentucky took the game, 70-65.

LOVELY FAN—As Hollywood's own Ava Gardner stepped onto the playing field at the Olympic Stadium in Rome to meet the captains of two competing soccer teams, cheers greeted her. One Italian paper claimed Ava was the most exciting thing seen that afternoon.

HIGH C-MEN—These "seamen" seem apprehensive as they crowd the deck of a plastic yacht exhibited in Paris. The four gentlemen are the Freres Jacques, a well-known French quartet. A recent popular hit about boating put them in high favor with their countrymen who enjoy a good song.

TAKING A COUNT—That's what moderator Jack Barry is set to do in New York as comedian Fred Allen, right, takes one on the chin from Ronny Mezzullo. Fred was rehearsing a return match with the lad on the TV show, "Juvenile Jury," where they'll argue the merits of Allen's new book.

UP AND OVER—Barrels, of course, and world barrel jumping champion Terry Browne is shown in action at the Grossinger Country Club, Grossinger, N. Y. Browne, from Detroit, will defend his crown there on January 8 when the 1955 world championships are held. Great crowds of spectators are expected.

RANGER'S GOAL—Chicago's Gus Morton (2) and Jerry Toppazzini, in black jersey, nearest the net, aid goalie Hank Bassen in a vain attempt to keep the puck from going in for a N. Y. Rangers' goal. This took place at Madison Square Garden as Rangers' Ron Murphy, not shown, made the goal aided by Danny Lewicki (22). The Rangers-Black Hawks tied, 4-4.

LIVE DOLL—Actress Debra Paget looks like a modern version of a figurehead that adorned ships of another day as she sails on Lake Meade, near Las Vegas, Nev. The lissome favorite was appearing at the Flamingo Hotel.

SUDDEN STOP—Frank Gatski, Cleveland Browns' center, wraps his hands around William Bowman, Detroit Lions' fullback in the second quarter of their game in Cleveland, and stops his forward progress after a gain of six yards. Louis Creekmur (76), Lions' guard, runs up to the play as Don Colo (70), Browns' tackle, circles it. Browns won game, 56-10.

PINNED DOWN—The referee's shirt got torn from collar to waist when he struggled to wrench Ruth Boatcaille away from the hold of world champion Mildred Burke, left. The two women were having a wrestling match in Manila, The Philippines, and the torn shirt of the referee was the only "serious casualty" during a series of matches between women.

RIDING FOR A FALL—A volunteer from the audience hit the dust at a stadium in London as he got the air from an "unrideable" mule. Thousands of youngsters from orphanages and hospitals attended this full-dress rehearsal prior to the opening of a circus.

EAST HEAVEN, Conn. — UP—Police charged four youths with going too far when they raided the ice box while visiting a baby-sitter at work. The youths took fresh eggs and hurried them on the walls of the living room, causing $800 damage.

Old Biscuit

TROY, Ala. — UP—Wallace Moore has a 53-year-old biscuit. It was served to him at breakfast the morning before he left college in 1901 for the Christmas holidays. Although it's cracked in a few places, Moore said the biscuit is still in fair condition and is easily recognizable for what it is.

Maine Nimrod

AUGUSTA, Maine — UP—An estimated 175,000 eager hunters took to Maine woods during the fall of 1954 in search of the elusive deer and bear. Over 37,000 recorded deer kills.
