Borah Starts Action

WIDE OPEN RACE FOR G. O. P. NOMINATION IS FORECAST

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—"Liberal" and "conservative" wings of the Republican party plunged toward a showdown fight today after Senator Borah of Idaho had formally entered the presidential struggle.

SENATOR BORAH

Borah's announcement that he would campaign for delegates in the Ohio presidential primary May 12 foreshadowed a wide open race for the nomination. It served as a challenge to other Republican possibilities and to party leaders whom the Idaho senator has battled.

Speculation Is Begun

Immediately politicians began speculating whether other candidates would contest with Borah for Ohio's 52 delegates or would let him fight it out against a favorite-son entry.

There was no doubt among those who have watched the Borah movement, that the senator's entry into Ohio was a declaration of war against the established party organization. He found that was the only way he could hope to get what he considered "liberal" delegates.

Demos Also Troubled

Democratic party leaders also faced a challenge in an announcement from Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts that he would fight for an unpledged delegation from that state to the Democratic convention. Roosevelt leaders in Massachusetts are insisting upon a delegation pledged to the president.

Ely, in an interview yesterday, asserted that the re-election of President Roosevelt was "an impossibility" unless administration policies were changed. He said he wanted an unpledged delegation "to restore the party nationally to the principles of the 1932 platform."

Other Developments

Other political developments included:

1. Political observers looked to Postmaster General Farley to indicate Democratic campaign strategy tonight, and perhaps to comment on Alfred E. Smith's recent anti-New

SUPREME COURT RULES FINANCING PLAN OF PROJECT IS O. K.

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—The Supreme court today upheld validity of bonds issued by the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district to aid in financing a $30,000,000 project.

The court granted the district a mandamus directing the attorney general to approve an issue of $3,800,000 bonds to be repaid from a 20-year diversion of state property taxes in 10 counties and revenue from operation of the flood control, power and reclamation project.

Power Questioned

Mexican Is Given Death For Attack

BASTROP, Feb. 5 (AP)—John Rivera, Mexican farm hand, today faced a death penalty upon conviction of criminally attacking two white girls near here Jan. 18.

A Bastrop county jury returned the death sentence verdict after brief consideration.

Girls Born Today May Expect To Live 62.6 Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Girls born today may expect to live 62.6 years, boys 59.1 years.

Reporting this to a house committee, Dr. Hugh S. Cummings, retiring surgeon general of the United States, said a substantial increase in the normal life expectancy since 1929 had been due largely to better care of infants and children.

"You and I have no more expectation than men of our age had 20 years ago," he said, "but there is an increase among younger people."

The difference of live expectancy between men and women he attributed to "the greater stress of life for men in industry, although that would be a decreasing cause due to the fact women are going more into business and industry."

THREAT OF OIL EMBARGO SAID DANGEROUS

RENEWED CONFIDENCE IS GIVEN IL DUCE; WAR MIGHT RESULT

BY CHARLES H. GUPTILL
(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

ROME, Feb. 5—Premier Mussolini and his grand council, with renewed confidence in their military power, flung a challenge of counter-action today against the threat of a League of Nations oil embargo.

Fascism's highest executive body, in a session which extended into the morning hours, gave uncompromising support to Il Duce's campaign for conquest in Ethiopia and fresh defiance to the league's war penalties.

Lines Established

A terse communique, issued after the session, announced that the Fascist grand council "established the lines of Italy's counteraction in the event of further tightening of sanctions."

It urged the Fascist armies in East Africa on to new conquests in Ethiopia, cast fresh derision on the discarded Franco-British proposals for peace, and approved sterner commercial regulations to combat the league's economic siege.

Specific Measures Not Cited

Italy's warning to the world that new sanctions would strike fire from Mussolini's fully-prepared realm did not cite specific measures decided upon in the council's private session.

Informed sources, nevertheless, recalled the recent admonition by Il Duce's own organ Popolo D' Italia, that an oil sanction — now being considered by a committee of experts at Geneva — eventually would "mean a blockade, and a blockade will be war."

Advance speculation also included a possibility that Italy immediately would sever diplomatic relations with any nations adopting the proposal for an oil embargo, striking at the source of vital supplies for the nation's mechanized armies.

HARMONY WILL BE SOUGHT

TEXAS DEMO LEADERS PLAN PROGRAM OF COOPERATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Chieftains of the Democratic party in Texas launched a program today aimed at assuring a harmonious state convention and a Philadelphia convention delegation securely anchored to the Roosevelt-Garner banner.

Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, a power in the state organization, opened the preliminary maneuvering with conferences with Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham over the make-up of a Democratic state committee of 105, five for each congressional district, to smooth the road to the state meeting.

Bialock To Confer

In a further effort to forestall factional uprisings before they appear, Myron Bialock of Marshall, chairman of the state executive committee, will come here this week-end to confer with Vice President Garner, Postmaster-General Farley, Rayburn, Miller and Karl Crowley, postoffice department solicitor.

"We want the state convention to go smoothly," Rayburn said several weeks ago after these men held a preliminary meeting here. "We don't want any factions to cause us trouble—all we're interested in is getting delegates to the national convention who will support Roosevelt and Garner to the last ditch."

As the Texans worked toward their week-end discussions, they renewed their predictions that Texas again would be found in the Democratic column next fall by a heavy majority.

BODIES OF BOYS SOUGHT IN LAKE

MARFA, Feb. 5 (AP)—Two hundred searchers dragged icy waters of a lake near here today for the bodies of three prominent Marfa boys, believed drowned when a stiff north wind capsized their tiny boat Monday night.

The missing youths are R. L. Stiles, 16; Leroy Cleveland, jr., 15, and Donald Niccolls, 17, members of prominent families.

Discovery of their automobile and a small, overturned sailboat two hundred yards from shore late yesterday, kept the searchers dragging water from 20 to 40 feet deep throughout the night.

Dragging was difficult because of the depth of the water.

Scratches and marks on the bottom of the boat indicated at least one of the trio sought safety on the overturned craft but probably perished of exposure.

Relatives believed the youths went sailing in quiet waters but that the sudden north wind capsized their boat.

New Deal Moves To Clear Its Decks Of Borrowing Powers

MORE THAN BILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF POWER NOT USED IS TO BE CANCELLED; SAID TO BE NO LONGER NEEDED IN ADMINISTRATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—With big money-raising operations ahead, the New Deal moved today to clear its decks of more than $1,000,000,000 worth of borrowing powers which have not been used and are now declared obsolete.

President Roosevelt and advisers decided that authority to raise that sum and lend it through the Home Owners Loan corporation and other agencies is no longer needed. Cancellation of the power, granted by congress, was agreed upon at a White House conference yesterday.

Might Have Hindered

Observers discussed what effect this move would have on the forthcoming financing of other governmental activities. Some believed that had the unused powers been left on the books they might have tended to hinder rather than help the fiscal operations—provided they had any effect at all.

The Washington Post reasoned that "assurance that the government will not borrow $1,000,000,000 which congress has authorized it to borrow may have a somewhat settling effect" on the financial situation.

Responding to reporters' questions,

THREATENING RED MENACE IS STRUCK IN EUROPE; ACTION ALSO TAKEN IN MEXICO AND SOUTH AMERICAN AREAS

(By The Associated Press)

Alleged communistic activities brought raids, labor demonstrations and official denunciation in Europe, Mexico and South America today.

Five nations of southeastern Europe—Hungary, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Austria—struck simultaneously amid warnings of a "new red menace" and attempts to rouse the public against an increase of Soviet Russian influence in the Valley of the Danube.

Crush Organization

Hungary crushed an organization allegedly communistic and led by Bela Kun, who headed a communistic regime in 1919.

In Bulgaria 80 persons were arrested in a series of raids and 19 gypsies were put on trial for reputed communistic activity.

Rumanian, Yugoslavian and Austrian police made many raids.

Some sections of the Austrian press indicated belief Russia was seeking to replace Italy as the dominant power of the southeastern area, taking advantage of Italy's operations in East Africa.

But Modes Of Transportation Almost Exhausted

BALTIMORE, Feb. 5 (AP)—A distraught husband, two trolley motormen, a boy's sled, the trolley and a taxi-cab combined here to get an expectant mother to a hospital.

The husband's automobile would not start.

The husband hailed the passing trolley and enlisted the aid of its crew. Together, the three men placed the mother on a boy's sled and carried her to the car.

The car, an empty, headed for the nearest car barn.

The husband dashed into the street to find a cab. Meantime, the trolley's crew received orders to route the car as a "special" to the nearest hospital.

But, the husband found a cab in time and the journey was completed in that vehicle.

The party reached the hospital in time.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN SAYS HE HAS A LETTER SHOWING ACCOMPLICE BELIEF

(By The Associated Press)

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 5 — Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who has directed state police to find accomplices of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, said today he has a letter showing that as early as August, 1932, Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, ransom intermediary, said he could "identify one or two of the kidnapers" of the Lindbergh baby.

Through his press aide, William S. Conklin, the governor said he had received a letter date Aug. 28, 1932, written by Dr. Condon to a Florida attorney, whose name was not made public.

In the letter, Conklin said Dr. Condon wrote:

"Although I am not a police officer, I believe I could identify one or two of the kidnapers."

Conklin said the governor believed the letter "further emphasized" Dr. Condon's once expressed views

MID-WEST IN THROES OF WINTER

WORST STORM IN TWO DECADES RAGING IN MIDDLE STATES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5—Raging blizzards over Minnesota and North Dakota added new worries today to the nation already overburdened by ice, snow, sleet, high winds and fears of floods.

Little immediate hope for less severe climatic conditions was held by the weather bureau. While the mercury rose in sections of the middle and North Atlantic states, the forecast was for much colder weather today.

Extends Into Florida

Most of the nation east of the Rockies was covered with snow and ice, while but little of the south escaped the bite of the new cold wave. Freezing temperatures extended into Florida.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel of Chicago termed the blizzard in the northwest the worst in 20 years. The temperature here slumped 36 degrees within 24 hours to 11 below at 2 a. m. (central standard time) today. The forecast said the mercury in the suburbs might go as low as -20 and the cold wave would continue through Friday.

LOCAL OPTION RULING MADE

INTERPRETATION GIVEN BY ASSISTANT STATE ATTORNEY ON CASE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Refusal of voters to legalise all types of liquors at a local option election the attorney general held today would not rescind previous legalization of beer sales.

The ruling was in an opinion for County Attorney Wilburn Barcus of Big Spring. He asked an interpretation of the effect of a dry vote against all types of liquors on legalization of beer in 1933. Howard county, he said, would ballot this month.

Three Issues Cited

Leon Moses, assistant, said three issues could be submitted:

For or against legalizing tour per cent malt liquor, 14 per cent malt and vinous liquors, or all liquors.

If beer previously had been legalized, he held, "and an election is subsequently held wherein the sale of all liquors is prohibited, the later election would have no effect whatever on the sale of beer."

The reason, he said, was that af-

Defense Opens In Ensey's Trial For Slaying Of Speegle

STATE'S CASE RESTED TODAY; INTEREST HIGH IN TRIAL

BY GORDON WEBB
Journal Staff Writer

FLOYDADA, Feb. 5—Defense began its case this morning in the murder trial of Melvin Ensey, after state had rested at 10:05 o'clock. Five hundred persons crowded 110th district courtroom.

There was likelihood the defense might complete its testimony this afternoon and that rebuttal evidence might begin. Four of its witnesses had been introduced.

Verdict Not Asked

The defense, as it previously had announced, did not ask for an instructed verdict.

Principal prosecution witness this morning was Dr. A. C. Traweek, jr., of Matador. He testified he attended J. B. Speegle, 69, Matador tourist camp proprietor, the night of Nov. 22. Ensey was indicted for murder in connection with Speegle's death, as was Everett McArthur, whose trial is set to follow that of Ensey, the case being transferred here on a change of venue. Both defendants are 23 years old and live at Spur.

Dr. Traweek said he saw Speegle at 8:30 o'clock that night, in the Traweek hospital at Matador. He said he was not certain if the man was conscious, but that two or three times Speegle indicated the treatment hurt.

Intense Swelling Of Neck

In describing Speegle's condition, Dr. Traweek said there was intense swelling in the neck, "which was actually bigger than his head," and dozens of deep scratches, which he said undoubtedly were caused by finger nails.

His explanation of cause was stricken from the records after the statement was protested by defense counsel.

Found 50 Cuts

Dr. Traweek said about 50 semi-circular cuts ranging in depth from one-fourth to three-eighths inches were found on Speegle.

The prosecution asked the doctor if he was familiar with finger nail wounds, then if the semi-circular wounds were made by finger nails.

"Yes," Dr. Traweek answered to

GROUP IS REPORTED TO BE DEADLOCKED 6-6 ON VERDICT

(By The Associated Press)

PARWELL, Feb. 5—A district court jury continued deliberation today in the case of George S. Hamlin, former Oakland, Calif., fireman, tried for slaying his wife at Amarillo Jan. 6, 1935.

The jury started studying the case early yesterday and later reported a 6-6 deadlock. A. G. White reported the standing when the jurors requested clarification of the court's charge.

Hamlin's first trial, held at Amarillo ,ended with a deadlocked jury.

Leader Of "Stork Derby" Loses Child

TORONTO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Matthew Kenny, who claims leadership in the "stork derby" for $500,000 instituted by the will of the late Charles Vance Millar, sorrowed today, at the stillbirth of what she claimed to have been her 12th child since 1926.

Her nearest competitor is believed to be Mrs. Joseph Baganto, who has borne nine children since the fantastic terms of the famous will became known.

Millar, who died late in 1926, was a millionaire lawyer, sportsman and man-about-town. He stipulated that from his estate $500,000 and accumulated interest or profits should go to the Toronto mother who produced the largest family in the 10 years following his death. The derby will end Oct. 31.

NEW PROGRAM FINANCING PLANNED

HALF BILLION DOLLARS TO BE NEEDED FOR ADMINISTRATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—Actual drafting of taxes to finance the new farm program was scheduled for today by President Roosevelt as he pressed forward with a series of major financial conferences.

As some Capitol Hill Democratic sources heard the White House had no present plans for new levies to finance bonus payments, Mr. Roosevelt summoned advisers to go over the farm tax program.

He has said at least $500,000,000 would be needed, drawing a distinction between "new" taxes and levies simply replacing the invalidated AAA processing taxes.

Not To Seek Bonus Taxes

A leading Democrat closely in touch with tax matters said today, definite word had reached the house ways and means committee that the administration had no present plans for asking new taxes to cover bonus payment costs.

In some quarters $230,000,000 in bonus taxes had been discussed. Mr. Roosevelt told the press yesterday, however, that the additional cost to the government of paying the bonus immediately was about $100,000,000.

Originate In Committee

All tax bills originate in the ways and means committee.

The prominent Democrat preferred not to be quoted by name. He indicated Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the committee, in a discussion with the White House by telephone, had received information that on

BIRTH CONTROL LEAGUE CROSSED WITH NEW GROUP—GOTHAM MILK PRODUCERS

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—Birth control advocates, who have waged spasmodic wars of words for two months with persons opposed to birth control, found themselves at cross-purposes today with another croup—the certified milk producers.

The American Birth Control league, said Dr. John L. Rice, New York City's health commissioner, "evidently puts the cow before the mother and the profits of the milk producers before the health and security of New York families."

Dr. Rice had declared: "A very marked decline in the birth rate from about 35 per 1,000 at the beginning of the century to 13 per 1,000 now cannot have failed to lessen the demand for a milk used almost entirely in infant feeding."

Backing Dr. Rice's stand before the Metropolitan Certified Milk Producers, Inc., was Kenneth F. Fee, director of New York state's milk

Permit Is Issued For $13,200 Home

Largest amount to be spent in nearly 6 years on building a residence here was listed in a permit filed Tuesday afternoon at the office of D. A. Forbess, city building inspector.

Construction of a $13,200 brick veneer residence for Morris Levine, manager of the Levine's store in Lubbock, was authorized in a permit issued Jess Williams, contractor. The new home will be located at 3019 Nineteenth street. Work has already been started.

The cost of the new residence exceeds that of any other residence construction here since June, 1930, when a $27,500 permit was issued for building the E. J. Parsons home, 2521 Nineteenth street.

Two other permits were filed Tuesday afternoon and were issued to Jess Williams for construction of two tile wash and grease buildings for the Gulf Refining Co. at stations situated at 1319 Avenue H and 1319 Main street. Cost of each was estimated at $2,450.

The $18,100 building activity authorized Tuesday boosted totals for February to $40,500, and for the year to $80,835.

ADJUDGED INSANE

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—John W. Koegh, 72, courtroom slayer of Attorney Christopher Kinney, was found insane today by a jury in the court of Judge Joseph Burke. Keogh shot Attorney Kinney to death in Judge John Prystalski's court, Jan. 13.

Lubbock Circle Is At Social Tuesday

Members of the Lubbock circle of the Child Conservation League were entertained in the home of Mrs. Marlin R. Smith, jr., 1915 Avenue M, Tuesday afternoon with a party which was a courtesy to Mrs. Ethridge W. Eagan. Mesdames Paul Laverty and Roy Furr assisted Mrs. Smith. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth with tall white tapers and centerpiece of varicolored sweet peas and baby breath. Plate favors were colored candies.

Little Rose Shelley Furr sang "Mighty Lak a Rose," with her mother playing piano accompaniment. Marlin R. Smith, III, gave several readings. Other entertainment consisted of games and contests.

Attending were Mesdames J. D. Hassell, J. L. Holt, Thomas E. Boyd, C. E. Moreman, W. G. Alderson, C. H. Hamilton and the honoree.

The next meeting will be February 18 with Mrs. Moreman, 2421 Nineteenth street.

TEACHERS WILL MEET HERE

WEST TEXAS GROUP IS TO HOLD PARLEY IN CITY, FEB. 14-15

Announcement of a tentative program to be given here Feb. 14 and 15, when 2,000 teachers of West Texas Teachers association gather, was made in letters received here Tuesday from W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of Big Spring schools and president of the teacher organization.

The program will be launched with an afternoon session Feb. 14 at Senior High school and will be adjourned at 12:30 o'clock the following afternoon.

Plan Special Music

On the Feb. 14 program, special music will be arranged by Deputy State Supt. G. D. Holbrook. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, will welcome visitors. Response will be made by Supt. A. B. Sanders of Littlefield.

Sectional meetings will be conducted, a primary group under direction of Miss Agnes True, supervisor of Lubbock public schools, and by Miss Bonnie K. Dysart, professor of education, of Texas Technological college; an elementary section under direction of Thomas E. Pierce, director of elementary education, of Big Spring public schools, and Dr. D. D. Jackson, professor of education Texas Technological college, and a secondary education section under direction of E. M. Ballengee, principal of Plainview Junior High school, and by Dr. R. E. Garlin, professor of education, of Texas Technological college.

Banquets Are Arranged

Banquets have been arranged for the early night. Supt. K. E. Oberholtzer of Lubbock will be chairman of that for superintendents and for principals, Roy M. Stone, president of Lubbock Classroom Teachers association, for classroom teachers.

The rest of the night program will include: A special Centennial musical program by Lubbock public schools; "Legislative Reforms for Texas," an address by State Senator G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, "Texas and West Texas Yesterday and Today," an address by Dr. William Curry Holden, professor of history and anthropology, of Texas Technological college, and nomination of officers for the ensuing year.

Others Will Speak

An address by Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the department of education, of Texas Technological college, on "The Part of the West Texas Teachers association in the Production of a Vitalized Curriculum" will launch the morning session. Dr. J. C. Parker, director of curriculum of the Fort Worth public schools, will speak on "Producing a Vitalized Curriculum," and special music will be played by Julian Paul Blitz, professor of music at Texas Technological college.

"The Part of the State Board of Education in the Production of a Vitalized Curriculum" will be subject of an address by Tom Garrard, member of the state board of education. Supt. N. S. Holland of Breckenridge will discuss "Financing Public Education in Texas," and "The Program T.S.T.A." will be discussed by Supt. V. Z. Rogers of Lamesa.

A 15-minute business session will conclude the program.

PROBE ORDERED IN REVERSAL OF FORM BY HORSE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5. (AP)—The board of stewards of Santa Anita track have ordered Alexis O. Wilson, trainer for the Fred G. Alger Stable of Detroit, to explain "the sudden reversal of form" which caused Dark Winter to finish a surprise winner at the track Tuesday.

Dark Winter was ordered by the stewards to the receiving barn for a saliva test.

"The stewards are not satisfied with the showing of the horse Dark Winter at this meeting and a thorough investigation will be conducted to determine the cause of the sudden improvement in his form" read a statement issued by the stewards.

Dark Winter paid $21.60, $10 and $5.40 on the $2 mutuel tickets. He came thundering down the stretch in the last sixteenth of a six furlongs race to pass Bluebeard, finishing second, and St. Stephen, finishing third.

Azucar, winner of last year's $100,000 handicap, is also owned by Alger and trained by Wilson.

LEMON RE-NAMED SCHOOL LEADER

SLATON, Feb. 5 (Special)—Slaton schools system has reelected David Lemon as its superintendent.

Associated with the system seven years, two years each as teacher and as principal, the superintendent has seen continual progress in Slaton schools. Four and one-half units were added to the high school curriculum last year and additional ones will be secured this. Outstanding additions were two in band and orchestra. The high school band was organized in October, 1934, under direction of Clyde Rowe, and now has a membership of 55. Junior High school band was organized in October, 1935, and 57 students are associated with it. Others will be registered when additional instruments are bought.

The chamber of commerce purchased more than $700 worth of band instruments last year.

Lemon is active in civic affairs of Slaton and of the district. For the past three years he has been a member of the district football executive committee and, this year, is director general of the Interscholastic league for Lubbock county. He is a director of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and the Board of City Development, adjutant of the Slaton American Legion post, superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school, and active in Rotary and Boy Scout work.

PLAYGOERS OPEN DRAMA SEASON IN CITY LAST NIGHT

An audience of approximately 1,000 persons sat through a performance of Samuel Raphaelson's three-act comedy, "Accent On Youth," that was staged in Senior High school auditorium Tuesday night under the auspices of Lubbock Playgoers League.

This was the first play in a series of three that the league will sponsor here this season. "The First Legion" will be presented the latter part of February.

Tuesday night's audience was attentive, indicative that this type of entertainment has popular appeal in Lubbock.

Cast Is Competent

Considering that the accoustics in the auditorium are not perfect and that the play is of a sophisticated drawing room type, the production was pleasing enough. The cast was competent and the setting acceptable (considering the necessity of playing the three acts with four scenes in the same setting).

Honors, if any, should go to Douglas Rowland, who played the role of a middle-aged playwright, Steven Gaye, who falls in love with his young secretary, Linda Brown, a role taken by Miss Ethel Barrymore Colt. His lines seemed convincing, especially in the last act, which might receive a popular vote as the best one in the play.

Poor Diction Used

Miss Colt, pretty and earnest enough in her efforts, used poor diction; at times her voice was scarcely audible past the center of the house. She does know how to walk across a stage with graceful movements, although she could practice a bit more in the kneeling scenes.

John Maroney made as good a butler as could be dug up even in Hollywood. His lines contained some good comedy strokes.

Mervin Williams played an acceptable role as Frank Galloway, "a has-been actor," and Pendleton Harrison imparted the impulsiveness of youth in his characterization of Dickie Reynolds, who also was in love with Linda.

Minor roles were taken by Alice Cheney, Barbara Benedict, Robert Caldwell and John Neill.—F. M. T.

Sheriff Abel And Charlie Middleton Not Acquainted

Somebody may be embarrassed yet.

Sheriff Tom Abel and Charlie Middleton, candidate for that office, have never met.

Neither would know the other should they meet.

Both are soliciting votes.

Get the point?

Each candidate, however, has made attempts proposed to insure against asking the other for his vote. Abel twice stopped at Lubbock hotel, where Middleton makes his headquarters, only to find the well-known cattleman gone. Likewise, Middleton went to the jail, but the sheriff was not in.

They hope to meet before July—sincerely.

OFFICIALS REELECTED

SONORA, Feb. 5 (AP)—All officers and directors were reelected Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Sonora Wool and Mohair company. Ed C. Mayfield, Sutton ranchman, is president.

Stockholders were told the company shipped nearly 3,500,000 pounds of wool and mohair last year, the business amounting to $921,389.86. Twelve months wool was sold at an average price of 27.3 cents, and fall wool at an average of 27 cents.

Caliche Base On No. 9 Being Put Down

Six miles of the first caliche course on highway No. 9 in Howard county, north from Big Spring, has been completed, according to word received from that city. Traffic is being run over the caliche to pack it down before the second course is started.

About half of the first course of caliche south of Big Spring on No. 9 is completed, on a nine mile sector. The highway is to be surfaced to the county line on the south and to a point 16 miles northwest of the county seat north of town. Some time this month the remaining 4.5 miles in Howard county, up to the Martin county line, is to be let, with the short section across that county connecting with the Dawson county paving at Ackerly, let later in the spring.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

VARIETY CARD OFFERED IN MAT BILL

DORY DETTON TANGLES WITH RAY RYAN IN MAIN EVENT

It's a variety card at the Auditorium tonight, rough rasslers meeting villains in the supporting bill, gentlemen scrappers having it out in the main go. Dory Detton meets Ray Ryan in the main; Bill Cazzell fights Nick Bozinis in the semi-final, and Luis de la Torre, the terror of Mexico, grapples with Bob Castle in the prelim.

Promoter Allen pits a couple of hardy gentlemen, though clean and law abiding when not ruffled, against each other in a main event that may go down as one of the highlights of the winter season. Dory Detton, if he is sufficiently recovered from injuries sustained several nights ago in Abilene, should be at his top form against Ray Ryan, the blacksmith-muscled he-man from Denver. And vice versa.

He Has Something

Although defeated twice by Walter Stratton in battles of manpower, Ryan has demonstrated on numerous occasions here and elsewhere his knowledge of the game and his ability to play it. In local performances, he has acted like a gentleman, and since he meets a gentleman tonight, the bout is hereby forecast as a clean exhibition of wits and strength.

Detton, since his return to form after laying off for several weeks, has been unable to put on one of his scientific shows which have delighted crowds here, because in every case he has been pitted against one of the villainous types.

Blood And Thunder

The supporting card offers variety, contrast and four men who probably will mix it steadily from gong to gong.

Luis de la Torre, who made his debut before a small crowd last week, comes back for another introduction. He meets a fellow who will test him in Bob Castle, snarling, biting, growling roughster from Missouri. La Torre showed something of form in the seven minutes he hung on to Doc Mueller last week, preventing that worthy from making it a double-header preliminary and causing him to forfeit the match.

The semi-final brings an old timer of the circuit back into circulation, against a fairly newcomer. Nick Bozinis and Bill Cazzell should put on a match the like of which is popular with fans who yell for blood and thunder.

LOCALS SWAMP BIG SPRING

WESTERNERS WIN BY A 50 TO 24 SCORE LAST NIGHT

BIG SPRING, Feb. 5 (Special)—The Westerners from Lubbock High school walloped the slighter-built Steers of Big Spring, 50 to 24, here last night in an inter-district basketball game.

For the first two periods, the Westerners could boast no great advantage, merely doubling the score by half-time, 24 to 12, but in the second half the visitors completely outclassed the Shorthorns.

Murray Venable was the scoring leader with 15 points, the Western forward sinking them from difficult angles and from short shots all evening. Weldon Bigony, forward, and Jack Wilson, guard, tied for Big Spring honors with seven each. Dudley Brummett of Lubbock, however, took second place with eleven points.

In a preliminary game, the Big Spring Devils, "B" squad at the high school, came from behind in the final minutes to defeat the Lubbock High Cowhands, 17 to 14. Dutchy Cawthon with 8 points and Moxley with six did all the Cowhand scoring.

The box score:

LUBBOCK	FG	FT	TP
Venable, f	6	3	15
Brummett, f	5	1	11
Chant, f	3	0	6
Storrs, c	3	1	7
Oden, c	0	1	1
Letsinger, g	2	0	4
Watson, g	1	0	2

Totals	8	8	24

Personal fouls: Venable, Brummett, Storrs, Oden 4, Watson 2; Bigony, Flowers, Wilson 4, Poe.

Half-time score: Lubbock 24; Big Spring 12.

Referee: Jack Smith.

Joe Louis? Golf's Easier To Him

James J. Braddock probably prefers to think about his golf these days rather than about Joe Louis, who will be his opponent in September. The champion is shown brushing up on his driving under the eye of George J. Jacobus, president of the Professional Golfers' Association, on the Bobby Jones course at Sarasota, where the erstwhile Jersey stevedore appeared in resuming his exhibition tour.

SPORTOMETER

by COLLIER PARRIS

NECK-TWISTING TONIGHT at the Auditorium. Dory Detton and Ray Ryan in the main spasm. Bill Cazzell and Nick Bozinis in the semi-windup. Luis de la Torre versus Bob Castle in the curtain-lifter.

The quality of wrestling, it would appear, depends to a large extent on the size of the crowd. Promoter Sled Allen was no more disappointed at the lack of fireworks in last week's card than the cash customers, but Sled, who is no newcomer to the field of sport, shrugged it off: "They're just like a bunch of ball players—won't put out unless somebody's there to cheer and jeer."

With fair weather promised, the crowd should get back to normalcy tonight, which means that the wrestlers will take up where they left off two weeks ago. Detton and Ryan are expected to put on one of those clean classics we sometimes see, but there should be plenty of action.

We observe in other writings that this de la Torre person is no less a somebody than middleweight grappling champion of Mexico. He came to this village more or less unheralded, but in the seven minutes he has appeared in the public eye here he didn't look like a novice. True, he fixed a torturous hammer-lock and held it on the stormy Doc Mueller for five of the seven minutes. All he had to do last week to win was to keep from being thrown, and he did that by swinging on to the hammerlock.

That he is champion of Mexico, if he is, means something, of course, but not necessarily that he is tops in his profession. We're all Missourians around here when it comes to wrestlers, and those we know say that the game has not progressed in Mexico, or at least is not up to United States standards. A lot of the boys go to Mexico City, not merely for the climate but because they usually meet with better success against native grapplers than against thier own countrymen. On the other hand, our grapplers do not always grip the hand of welcome over there, as witness the case of one Danny McShain, who, after a brief season of his typical wrestling tactics in Mexico City, and a vacation in a local hoosegow, was asked if he'd rather leave the country under escort or under his own volition. "I'll go peacefully," he replied, but they gave him free transportation anyway, along with a bodyguard.

AN INTERESTED spectator tonight will be Mr. Robert B. Gragg, member of the Texas Labor commission and specially detailed as a deputy investigator of boxing and wrestling conditions through this section. Mr. Gragg, mentioned in Monday's col'm, while admitting that the labor department didn't ask for the job of supervising boxing and wrestling in the state, in lieu of failure to set up a specific commission, admits that he finds an appeal in his work.

"I didn't know much about the fight game, still don't profess to be an expert, but I find the work interesting," he says, and he can reel off names of boxers and wrestlers, comment on their style of combat and their records like a veteran.

"Now this wrestling," he starts, then smiles and shakes his head. "Well, I was introduced to it in Amarillo. The card that night was pretty rough. I cornered Dutch Mantell. 'Dutch,' I remarked, 'don't you think they go about this wrestling a bit too seriously and roughly? Looks pretty rough to me. Don't they have rules or something to govern this—this slugging and hair-pulling and so on?' But Dutch laughed it off, said the fans liked it, wouldn't come out if it wasn't rough.

"Well," mused Gragg, a slightly built, kindly man past middle age, "I guess it's all right. It doesn't hurt—me. But I think maybe the rules should be enforced a trifle more rigidly."

Mr. Gragg didn't say he would recommend to his superiors in the labor commission that wrestling rough stuff should cease, but if we were a referee and desired to get our license renewed, we'd be a bit tougher on some of the tough eggs, especially if we knew some of the deputy labor commissioners were among the spectators.

The primary reason for Mr. Gragg's presence in the community just now is to check up on boxing and boxing promoters and referees in the sector. For instance, his boss at Austin handed him a clipping from the Morning Avalanche which reported a recent boxing show at Crosbyton. The commission's files failed to show that a license had been granted the Crosbyton promoter, and that one or more boxers mentioned in the report had not applied for or had not been granted tickets. Mr. Gragg spent a day at Crosbyton, came back and told us that everything was cleaned up, that boxing at Crosbyton has been promoted under auspices of the American Legion, and it was the understanding there that a license was not required under such conditions. It was explained that anybody, anywhere, under any conditions, must have a license to operate, and that all participants in shows must have licenses, so the Crosbyton folks got on the line, applied for license to be issued retroactive to the date fights cards started there.

So everything is all right at Crosbyton, and the bi-weekly cards are to continue uninterrupted.

ATHLETES ALL READY FOR OLYMPICS

THOUSAND STARS FROM 28 COUNTIES TO BE IN WINTER TILTS

(By The Associated Press)

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 5—A thousand athletes from 28 countries groomed equipment and took final practice turns in the cold, bracing weather that finally arrived for the opening tomorrow of the fourth winter Olympic games.

Performances were checked, skates and sled runners were sharpened and skiis waxed once more for the formal tests for which many of the athletes had been preparing for four years.

Welcome Cold Spell

Some of the contestants have been here for weeks. After disappointing mild weather, they welcomed a cold spell that arrived two days ago.

The two villages of Garmisch and Partenkirchen fairly overflowed as the teams, which had spread all over Europe seeking snow for practice or in case of the hockey teams, playing exhibition games, assembled for the opening ceremony.

U. S. Teams Arrive

The American ice hockey team was just in from France. The speed skaters who had been racing in Switzerland, and the figure skating team were also late arrivals.

Following the opening ceremony tomorrow morning, hockey will complete the first day's program and no other sport is scheduled until the first ski events are run off Friday.

TECH LOSES TO NEW MEXICO

MATADORS VIRTUALLY ELIMINATED FROM BORDER CHASE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 5—Texas Tech's Matador cagers headed home today, virtually eliminated from the Border conference basketball race after dropping a two-game series to the University of New Mexico Lobos.

In a rough game last night, the Lobos overcame Tech's lead late in the game to score an exciting 35 to 32 victory and sweep the series, thus making it three out of four for the season in competition with the Matadors.

Only by something slightly less than a miracle can Texas Tech retain its Border conference championship which the Matadors have won for the past three seasons. They play New Mexico's Aggies, a team which defeated the University of New Mexico twice; next Friday and Saturday nights at Lubbock.

Judge Garrett, who led Tech's scoring Monday night with 11 points, fell to seven last night. Bob Case, reserve forward, was high for the visitors with four field goals and a free toss.

Ralph Bowyer, all-conference center, ran away with scoring honors with eight field goals an da free toss.

The lead was in Tech's hands nearly all the way, the Matadors going ahead, 16 to 12, in the first half.

The box score:

TEXAS TECH	FG	FT	TP
Garrett, f	3	1	7
Wiginton, f	0	0	0
Case, f	4	1	9
Wilkinson, c	3	1	7
Snodgrass, g	1	2	4

PATTY BERG TOPS WOMEN'S TOURNEY

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Patty Berg of Minneapolis was both medalist and favorite at the start of match play today in the Miami Biltmore women's golf tournament.

Hitting from the tees with unusual force the red-haired runnerup in the national championship last year stroked the long course in 80, two under par.

Her first round opponent was Mrs. Blanche Fitzgibbon of New York, who barely managed to qualify at 98.

Maureen Orcutt Crews of Miami, veteran campaigner who tied for second in qualifying with 83, was matched against Mrs. Guy Butler of Atlanta.

TECH FIGHTER WINS AGAIN

JIMMY ELDER FACES PORT ARTHUR BOY THIS EVENING

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 5—Frank Pierron, one of several Port Arthur fighters surviving second round bouts in the state A. A. U. boxing tournament, will meet Jimmy Elder of Texas Tech in the lightweight division tonight.

Pierron knocked out Albert Santa Maria of Houston in their second round bout and Elder won from Ernest Taylor of Bakersfield, Calif.

Tom Walker of Houston eliminated Frank Mendoza of the University of Texas in the featherweight division and Arthur Dorrell of Port Arthur shaded George Gathings of the University of Texas in a welterweight battle.

Claude, Clarence and Clyde Villemes, brothers from Port Arthur, remained in the tourney. Claude decisioned T. J. Augustat, University of Texas lightweight, Clyde, also a lightweight, won in the same manner from Richard Jiminez of Houston, and Clarence, featherweight, won from C. M. Ross of Houston on a technical knockout.

Ralls Winner In Two Cage Contests

RALLS, Feb. 5—(Special)—Basketball fans were treated to a program of three games here last night, two of which were won by the margins of one point.

In the main event, the Jackrabbits defeated a fighting Lorenzo team, 35 to 34. The battle was close all the way, tied several times, in doubt until the last toss. Fox of Lorenzo took scoring honors with 17 points. Cox led the Jackrabbits with nine.

Fox and Gray played forwards for Lorenzo, Smith at center, Herrington and Cherry at guards. Pace and R. Smitty were Ralls' starting forwards, Cox the center, Reed and Childress the guards.

The Ralls "B" team played two games, defeating Robertson, 17 to 11, and losing to Farmer, 14 to 13.

Plowboys Capture 54th Straight Win

STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 5 (AP)—The John Tarleton college Plowboys defeated the North Texas Junior Aggies of Arlington, 41 to 23, last night to annex their 54th straight basketball victory and clinch the Central Texas conference title.

The score boosted the Plowboys' total points in their long winning streak to 2,126. Their biggest score was a 92 to 17 count against Ranger Junior college last Saturday.

Coach W. J. Wisdom's Plowboys, a junior college team, haven't been defeated in nearly three years. They have won from many senior college quintets.

Tarleton will play T. W. C. of Fort Worth here Friday night.

Man's greatest productivity in creative work comes at the age of about 35, psychologists believe.

BALL SESSION ENDS; TALK LINGERS

TRADES STILL SUBJECT OF CONVERSATION IN SEVERAL CIRCLES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—The National league schedule meeting is over but trade talk lingers on—especially in the vicinity of Ebbets field.

At almost every turn yesterday while the magnates were gathering to adopt the schedule and iron out a few other matters, there was Casey Stengel, the Brooklyn Dodger manager, in a huddle with a manager or club owner.

Seeks Batterymen

Casey, it seems, is angling for a couple of batterymen and to get them is willing to give up Sambo Leslie, his clouting first baseman, and perhaps toss in a few of his spare outfielders. Bill Terry of the Giants, who would be content to warm the bench this season if he could find a capable substitute, would like to see Leslie filling his shoes—that is if it wouldn't cost him one of his two catchers, Gus Mancuso or Harry Danning.

The trade winds also wafted around the Boston beehive and the Phillies bailiwick but when the bargaining was over no deals had been made.

Prices Pretty High

It was evident from the lobby quotations that most of the owners were pricing their own players pretty high while putting low estimates on their rivals' ivory.

The Giant-Dodger negotiations reached the point where the New York president, Horace Stoneham, offered cash but no players for Leslie, but Stengel feels thta he needs man power badly at the moment.

Receives Rude Setback

Casey buttonholed Bob Quinn of the Bees on the subject of Fred Frankhouse, the veteran right hander, but received a rude setback when Quinn said the Bees would take Johnny Babich, a first rate young flinger, and Gene Moore, who is considered one of Brooklyn's best outfield prospects, in trade. Stengel is reported to have offered Leslie, but Stengel feels that he needs

The Dodgers also approached Branch Rickey of the Cardinals, offering a couple of players and cash for Johnny Mize, the rookie first baseman if the deal with the Giants goes through.

Buffs Sweep Cage Series With OCU

CANYON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The West Texas Teachers defeated the Oklahoma City university Goldbugs, 37, to 23, last night to sweep a two-game basketball series. The Texans took an early lead but a Goldbug offensive left the invaders trailing only two points at the half. George Colvin, Teacher center; led a last half scoring spree that put the Texans out of danger.

COMISKEY CAN TELL YOU MONEY ROOT OF ALL EVIL; SEVEN OF HIS PLAYERS WANT RAISE AFTER SALE OF SIMMONS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5—J. Louis Comiskey, rotund owner of the Chicago White Sox, can tell you that money is the root of baseball woes.

Ever since Comiskey sold Al Simmons to the World's championship Tigers for $70,000, he has had his troubles. Every club owner in the American league — and the minors —wants that $70,000 or part of it.

Seven Fall To Sign

Several of his ball players, knowing Lou has an extra $75,000, also would like some of it in salary increases. As preparations got underway today for the departure to the spring training camp at Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 20, seven members of the Sox had failed to return the signed contracts for 1936.

Those asking for an extra couple of thousand are:

Luke Appling, outstanding shortstop, coveted by other American league clubs.

Sewell Wants $5,000 More

Luke Sewell, 35-year-old catcher, who, because of his good catching and .285 hitting in his first year with the Sox last season, wants $15,000, a $5,000 raise.

Zeke Bonura, who thinks .285 hitting last year and his first basing is worth $15,000, a $5,500 boost.

Vernon Kennedy, the lone no-hit pitcher of last season.

Mule Haas, veteran outfielder.

Rack Hayes, utility infielder; Frank Grube, substitute catcher.

Personnel Of U. S. Polo Team Is Full

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—The personnel of the United States polo team which will invade England next summer for resumption of International Westchester cup competition was completed today with the acceptance by Eric Fedley of California of an invitation to substitute for the veteran Tommy Hitchcock, jr.

The other members of the team, all rated at eight goals, are Winston Guest, Elbridge (Ebby) Gerry, Mike Phipps and Stewart Iglehart.

CHURCH MEET SCHEDULED

DISTRICT METHODIST INSTITUTE TO BE HELD IN CITY

Partial program for a district missionary institute to be conducted in Lubbock Thursday for all churches of the Lubbock Methodist district as a part of a training program including a series of group institutes, has been announced.

An all-day group institute was conducted in Crosbyton Tuesday, one will be conducted in Levelland today and one in Lubbock Asbury Methodist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Program also was announced by Rev. Dr. W. M. Pearce, presiding elder, for the group institute here.

Speakers Selected

Messages will be given at the district institute, which will begin at First church at 10 a. m., by Rev. C. A. Bickley, Big Spring, chairman of the conference board of missions; Rev. M. M. Beavers, Lamesa; Rev. D. A. Betts, who has spent many years as a missionary in Brazil and who will represent the general board of missions at Nashville, Tenn; and Dr. Pearce, who will be in charge.

The group institute at Asbury church will be conducted for Lubbock Methodist churches, Shallowater and Lubbock mission charges and Monroe church. The program follows:

Devotional, C. A. Holcomb, jr.

"How to Revive and Sustain Interest in the Church School," Rev. A. M. Dupree, Asbury pastor.

"Relation of One's Christian Experience to Christian Education," Rev. C. R. Matthews.

"Essentials of a Successfully Working Board of Stewards," M. B. Hilburn.

"Relation of the Church School to all Finances of the Church," Mrs. R. T. Campbell.

"Why Every-Member-Weekly-Pay Plan," W. E. Peterson.

"Sources of Programs of Work—How to Get Them," Joseph R. Griggs.

"Keeping up with the Calendar," Rev. Dr. W. M. Pearce, presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist district.

Closing Program By Gilks Staged Here

With an address of Maj. George Gilks, state commander, observation of 14th anniversary of the founding in Lubbock of Salvation Army program was terminated at Army hall Tuesday night. One hundred fifty persons attended.

George Berry, secretary of the Citizens committee, presided as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Music was furnished by Salvationists.

Speakers On Program

Speakers ipcluded: George W. Dupree, attorney; Rev. R. M. Hocker, pastor Nazarene church, representing the Ministerial association; Dr. H. H. Bidwell, commander American Legion; Mrs. Fred Higbee, president American Legion auxiliary; Mrs. W. H. McDonald, past president V. F. W. auxiliary; Mrs. G. W. Scott, advisory board; Mayor Ross Edwards for the city; C. A. Sanford, chairman, Citizens committee.

Major Gilks, son of a Salvationist and reared in an Army home, spoke on "The Typical Salvation Army Spirit." He praised the work of the Army here and lauded the work of the local corps. Support of the work by business men and women was also praised.

Returns To Dallas

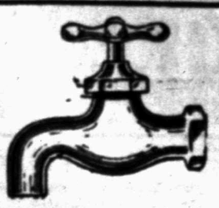

Following the meeting, the major returned to Dallas headquarters. It was his second visit since succeeding Colonel David Main last year.

During the afternoon the state commander met members of the advisory board. It was decided to postpone election of officers until a called meeting is held. Eight new members are on the board of 15. Plans for the work in 1936 were outlined.

At the meeting last night Captain Guy Hepler and several members of his Plainview corps were present as well as S. C. Tillman, Post, and T. L. Jobe and several members of his family from near Seminole.

"GREAT ENGINEER" OF LAST CAMPAIGN BECOMES "GREAT ENIGMA" OF PRESENT NATIONAL WHIRLPOOL OF POLITICS

Buoyant of manner and bluntly outspoken in his bombardment of the "new deal," the Herbert Hoover who has entered the 1936 political arena apparently is very unlike the chief executive who retired in defeat four years ago.

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The "great engineer," who rode into the White House on the comparatively placid political surge of 1928, has become the "great enigma" in the political whirlpool of 1936.

The inscrutable silence of Herbert Hoover concerning his personal role in the campaign and regarding other Republican presidential possibilities, as well as himself, has made the former chief executive a figure of political mystery to politicians and the public alike.

Bluntly outspoken in his recurrent blasts at administration "regimentation" and "extravagance," Mr. Hoover has kept his lips tightly shut when it came either to public discussion of a possible attempted comeback by himself or to his attitude toward any other likely candidates for G. O. P. standard-bearing honors.

Fortune's Ebb

Doubtless, he plays his semi-mysterious part in the battle of 1936 with few if any illusions about the constancy of the electorate or the stability of political destiny. Eight years ago this spring, he was riding the crest of political popularity on his way to a virtually uncontested nomination for the Presidency and a subsequent smashing victory over his Democratic opponent, Alfred E. Smith.

Seven months after he entered the White House, the stock market bubble burst and the depression was under way. Thus began the ebb in the Hoover political fortune which culminated in his submersion under a tidal wave of electoral votes for Roosevelt in 1932.

Some political observers hailed the Democratic triumph as spelling "the end of Hoover." But others including many of his loyal supporters contended, even in those darkest hours for the G. O. P., that he alone qualified as the party's commander-in-chief and that he was the logical man to reorganize Republican forces and lead them back to power.

So, early in 1935, when Mr. Hoover returned to the political wars with a "Republican call to arms" and the first of his big bombardments of the Roosevelt regime, his role in the 1936 campaign became one of the major political questions.

Interest in the "Hoover mystery" was further intensified by his emergence from the shadows of political defeat and retirement as a "New Hoover." Buoyancy of manner and expression had replaced his somewhat sombre gravity. The Hoover of 1935 and 1936 seemed to smile more easily and to wise-crack more readily and naturally than the worry-burdened Hoover of 1931 and 1932, or even the Hoover of optimistic 1928 campaign days.

Not only have many persons been surprised at the new sparkle and the wit-shafted sarcasm in the phrase-making of the former President but some radio listeners say they have failed to recognize his voice owing to a strange quality of liveliness, breezy informality and effective inflection.

Possible Platform Planks

Meanwhile, the politicians wonder whether Herbert Hoover is seeking the Republican presidential nomination or is intent only upon influencing the selection of a candidate and the writing of a platform.

He has been engaged in the most formal and co-ordinated attack on the Roosevelt administration of any of those by men suggested for nomination by the Republican at Cleveland. In each of the major speeches he has delivered in his "series" of attacks on the "new deal," Hoover has suggested in broad outline the substance of Republican platform planks he may plan to urge.

He has also made each of these speeches a vehicle for a personal defense of his policies and acts as President. This has tended to convince some anti-Hoover elements in the Republican party that the former President, even if he does not seek the nomination, is intent upon obtaining his own vindication in the platform.

tors in America."

She spoke of the requirements for acting, saying it was "silly for me to give advice."

"It's just as hard to be an actor as it is to be a great violinist, but no one would think of saying 'I think I'll be a violinist', as hundreds of persons say 'I think I'll be an actor,' she said.

"If you'd rather die than not do it, then go on the stage," she advises.

She quoted figures of the average salary for young people in the theater. For the last five years, it has been $25 weekly for two weeks, or $50 a year, she said.

The actress wants a pair of cowboy boots but they are too expensive—$25—she said.

ETHEL BARRYMORE COLT IS LACKING IN TRADITIONAL FAMILY ARROGANCE; ACTRESS MODEST IN INTERVIEW HERE

Arrogance attributed by biographers and critics to the Barrymores was lacking when Ethel Barrymore's daughter minimized her talents Tuesday.

Playgoers will flock to see Ethel Barrymore or Katharine Cornell, but when they are to see Barrymore's daughter—that's a Colt of a different color, Ethel Barrymore Colt said, in effect.

First Lady's Daughter

Daughter of the first lady of the stage and niece of Lionel and John Barrymore, the 23-year-old actress came to Lubbock in a popular priced automobile, shared a room, not a suite, with an actress in her company, and with a friendly smile spoke of "earning a living."

Dressed in a perky hat with a feather, a plaid ensemble and a sport coat, the young actress spoke of her work.

"I just want to make a living out of the stage," she said, but confessed that she would rather not eat than to leave the stage.

She denies that she aspires to her mother's position or "to anything."

Mother Opposed Career

She went on the stage after returning from a finishing school abroad. Her mother opposed her launching a stage career, perhaps because she did not want to think she had influenced her daughter, Miss Colt said.

She resents inference that the Barrymores talked theater over every coffee cup. "No one talks theater in our family," she said.

The actress is slender, with brown hair and blue-green eyes. She appeared in "Accent on Youth," at the Senior High school auditorium Tuesday night.

She was enthusiastic over the auditorium facilities. Good auditoriums often do not have good dressing rooms, but the school here has both, she said.

Easier To Get Plays

The actress believes wider use of automobiles to transport casts will make it easier to get good attractions. It has often been too expensive to send good casts to towns far away from Broadway, she said.

She commended the Playgoers league and similar organizations because they protect the actor, producer and playgoer.

"If you're really interested out here, there's no reason Broadway can't be brought to you," she said.

A favorite comment of Miss Colt on the Barrymore name is that "It will get you the first job, but it won't get you a second."

She thinks her actor uncles are "perfectly marvelous," that they are "two of the foremost ac-

That Girl on Broadway says not only is there a new generation that never rode on a train but there are children well along in school who never saw Father work.

The worst thing that can happen to a diplomat is be caught with his spats down.

THERE is some talk going around that the Townsend plan issue will be injected in to the Congressional race in this district.

The other day The Plainsman was talking to Veal Manly, one of the highly interested Townsendites here and during the conversation Mr. Manly remarked:

"We're going to beat George Mahon".

Mr. Mahon, of course, is not in favor of the $200-per month idea of the California doctor and told a Townsend committee how he felt when he last visited Lubbock.

It is not at all outside the realm of possibility that the Townsend issue will come up in the Congressional race. In fact, it is probable that it will.

The organization has plans to enter into Congressional races wherever possible the country over, following more or less the old political methods once so successful with the Anti-Saloon league, where if a candidate claimed to favor the Anti-Saloon league he was the man to vote for whether he had any real qualifications for the office, or not.

BUT beating Mr. Mahon is another matter altogether from attempting to beat him.

Some of us in Lubbock learned a couple of years ago that George is quite a vote-getter and since he has been in Congress he has further convinced a lot of people who didn't vote for him in 1934 that he's a good man for the job.

Personally, The Plainsman doesn't believe the Townsendites or any other organization could beat him with an adding machine, even if he deserved to be beaten, which he certainly does not.

I. W. Ross, another staunch Townsendite, also told The Plainsman that the organization was going to get into the Congressional mixup to beat Mahon, if possible, but he says "no one but a qualified man will be selected" and "the Townsendite choice will have to have other talents" besides being for the $200-per month pension plan.

According to Mr. Ross, the Townsend candidate will be selected in a convention of the organization in this Congressional district, probably to be held in Lubbock. Although City Commissioner A. J. Richardson has been suggested as a possible Townsend candidate by some members of the organization, Mr. Ross said he hadn't heard of any particular person's name being yet mentioned.

That Man on Avenue Q says the idea of getting something for nothing isn't new; that's what led to the discovery and settlement of this country.

If a man biting a dog constitutes news, all the papers would get out extras on a story telling how 1,000,000 fascists on a balcony made a pep talk to Mussolini down below!

UNCLE Sam, who cheerfully pays for everything he wants (and a lot that he doesn't want) except his advertising, has sent The Plainsman about 10,000 words of advice on filling out income tax blanks with the polite request that we publish same.

Of course, we can't publish it all, and if we did, no one would take the time to read and study it, anyhow.

But some blanket "Don'ts on Income taxes" really intrigue us.

They are:

"Don't prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

"Don't procrastinate. Early assemblying of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

"Don't destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

"Don't omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return".

The Plainsman got to thinking about those "don'ts" and decided Uncle Sam left out a few that might come in handy. So we've added these for the benefit of all those who are about to take their pens in hand and figure on how much they can get out of paying:

"Don't grit your teeth, swear or kick your mother-in-law after the first 15 minutes of trying to solve the Chinese puzzle labeled 'Income Tax Return'. You can do a better job of any of them after 30 minutes.

"Don't add a few dimes to what you figure you owe. Uncle Sam's men are more suspicious over those who over-pay than those who under-pay, and it might send you to Leavenworth or the closest booby hatch.

"Don't let your wife know when you're working on your return. She may want to have the whole thing explained to her and that invariably precipitates a family row.

"Don't think of part of the Star-Spangled Banner where it says 'Home of the Free'. That might bring on a stroke.

"And whatever you do, DON'T think the job's done when you dump your envelope in the mail just before midnight on March 15, because it won't be. In 1941 you'll get a letter from the cousin of some Senator's wife asking you why your 1935 car expense (for business) was $46.63 instead of $46.64, and how many gallons of gasoline you used in April 1935 and how much it cost you a gallon!

GEORGE Garrett, engineer in charge of division five of the Texas Highway department, has had some men working in parts of the district recently, picking up trash along the various highways.

Most interesting thing found by the trash pickers was five truck loads of trash dumped out between Seminole and the New Mexico line and in the trash were a number of envelopes, all addressed to guests at a Hobbs, N. M., hotel.

Among other points of interest were:

Nine cases of empty beer cans found under one culvert in a "dry" county.

A total of 98 empty pint whisky bottles along a 15-mile stretch in another "dry" county.

Approximately 100 of the same along a 16-mile stretch in another "dry" area.

And 18 cases of beer cans within 200 yards of the city limits of a town where for awhile beer was legally sold.

Thus far George hasn't had a checkup on the highways in the vicinity of Lubbock, but the home of the hardest drinking bunch of drys in the United States will probably be right in line, if not ahead, of its "arid" neighbors!

The Boy On The Other Side Of The Tracks!

They Fight For Play, These Wedded Scribes; Bliss Reigns When The Hacketts, Filmland's Busiest, In Collaboration

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 5.—There are few married writing teams in the flicker colony, the reason being that few temperaments can blend in the jittery exigencies of scenario building. Most effective collaboration seems to come out of stormy arguments.

Best known married scribblers are Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell. But that's because of the prominence of Miss Parker; they haven't worked on many pictures. Then there are Sam and Bella Spewack, co-authors of some Broadway plays, including the current hit, "Boy Meets Girl," a satire on Hollywood.

Least known but busiest are the Hacketts—Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich. Theirs has been the obscurity that is the traditional heritage of most authors who come to Hollywood, and if you haven't heard of them you are not far behind the brass hats of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the studio which happens to employ the pair.

Only The Authors

One of the executives was holding forth on the subject of preview tickets the other evening. "I tell you we've got to cut down on these Annie Oakleys," he declared to his underlings. "It's getting so everybody and his third cousin can come to our previews. Just look at this list for tonight—dozens of people you never even heard of. For instance, who the —— are Albert and Frances Hackett?"

Great was the consternation when a young man piped: "They're the authors of the screen play."

Once On Stage

The Hacketts used to be on the stage in New York, though never in the same production. He had a number of juvenile roles and also wrote vaudeville sketches. She was a Vassar girl who went to Broadway in ingenue parts and married a prominent writer. He thought so highly of himself that she began writing in self-defense.

After their divorce, Miss Goodrich began collaborating with Albert Hackett. They wrote plays which were fairly successful—"Up Pops the Devil" and "Bridal Wise" among them. Up popped a Hollywood contract—but only for the services of Hackett. He turned down offer after offer until one finally arrived that included Miss Goodrich. Then they got married and came to Hollywood.

Their work here has included screen plays of "The Thin Man," "Naughty Marietta," "Penthouse," "Hide-Out," "Ah, Wilderness!" and "Rose Marie." Next will be an adaptation for Joan Crawford and Clark Gable: "The Lady Comes to Town."

Fight It Out

This is their method: They discuss each scene and all the relevant action that it should contain. Then they go into different rooms and write it. Usually there is a good deal of variance between their ideas. Next they go into conference and battle amicably over the final product.

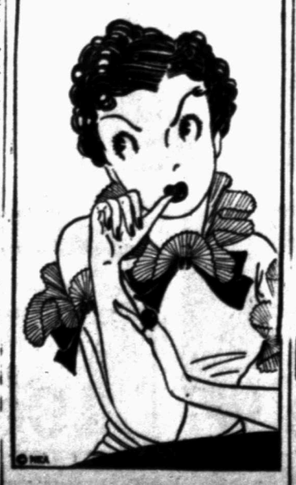

Adapting the work of a famous author is a ticklish proposition. After completing Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!" they discovered with trepidation that 60 per cent of the words in the script were their own. They had visions of newspaper headlines: "Overzealous Studio Writers Ruin O'Neill Classic." At the review, Hackett was so nervous that he broke out with a case of shingles.

Praise From Sir Critic

The critics didn't say that, though. They didn't notice the changes, and complimented the studio for sticking so closely to the original play. In fact, the Hacketts weren't even mentioned.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THESE FIGURES TELL A STORY

Again receipts of the Lubbock postoffice have set a new record. This time the previous all-January total of approximately $11,000, made in 1934, was exceeded.

First month for 1936 shows total receipts of $12,839.69. The gain is $2,083.28 over the corresponding month in 1935 and the net increase is 19.37 per cent.

Postal receipts are generally considered a good business barometer. As people have more money to spend, they want to write letters to friends and relatives; in turn relatives write them and there is the music of the tramp of mail carrier's feet that go " 'round and 'round."

Increased business of all kinds calls for more postages as more orders are sent in, filled and mailed out; correspondence between business firms and their connections increase; more advertising in newspapers and magazines makes heavier newspapers and magazines, which, in turn, means more money to Uncle Sam.

Lubbock's postal receipts have, on the whole, shown a steady increase during the past decade. They have kept pace with the growth of the town. Last year an all-time record of over $143,000 was set by the Lubbock office. It may be increased this year, as the city continues to grow.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—If gossip nominated presidential candidates, Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts would be as likely a Republican possibility as anyone.

There's a choice report going around in rather exalted circles that Roberts, asked recently by a friend whether he would accept the nomination if it came to him, replied that no man could duck such responsibility.

THE LIMIT IN JOKES

Latest joke on a certain widely known New Deal agency:

"I was hurrying home, darling," explained a tardy husband to his wife, "when I saw some boys and girls building a snow man. It was a very handsome snow man.

"After they got through, they put a hat on his head and leaned a shovel up against him.

"And just as I was about to leave, a PWA man came along and handed him a check!"

Prominent Pennsylvania Republicans are said to be especially interested. Roberts was one of them once. Bosses in other eastern states also have been thinking about it. Roberts has become the hero of anti-New Deal forces through his majority opinions against New Deal laws.

It can't be said definitely whether Roberts has been sounded out. But no convention will nominate a man unless party leaders are certain in advance of his acceptance.

In 1916 it was William Howard Taft—not then on the bench—who first approached Justice Charles Evans Hughes. After that George Perkins, the ex-Morgan partner and financial angel to Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose campaign, did the go-between work with Hughes and the politicos.

New Consumers' Champion

The Social Security board is about to acquire an economic adviser who will study its vast program in operation, and consumers will have still another champion to represent them in government councils.

Walton Hamilton will resign as director of the consumers' division to accept the social security appointment. He will be replaced by Clarence Ayers, chairman of the economics department at University of Texas.

Hamilton is a professor of law and economics at Yale. He was a member of the National Industrial Recovery board and recently has directed a notable series of price studies for a special cabinet committee.

His aim is to make a constructive attack on insecurity and his job will be to locate weak spots in the present program and study the problems which it doesn't reach.

He regards the problem of reducing the volume of unemployment both as imperative and as falling within the federal security program's scope of study.

Ayers was associated with Hamilton on the Amherst college staff.

Why Coolidge Quit

Thomas Jefferson Coolidge resigned as undersecretary of the treasury not, as most reports said, because of disagreement with Roosevelt's fiscal policies. He quit because he couldn't get along with Secretary Henry Morgenthau, who, it has been said, tends sometimes to become arrogant and difficult.

Assistant Secretary "Chip" Robert quit after certain suggestions. Practically all his former duties had been taken away.

Coolidge's resignation leaves Assistant Secretary Josephine Roche, who has nothing to do with fiscal affairs, as the person with the most ability in the treasury. Roosevelt runs the treasury from the White House and under him the secretary will always be a "shadow man."

The source of Roosevelt's advice in treasury affairs is rather a mystery, but the most likely suspect is Reserve Board Governor Marriner S. Eccles.

HIGH COURAGE

by Jeanne Bowman

SYNOPSIS: Anne Farnsworth just has learned that Rob Crocker, her former fiance, is cheating the Farnsworth Fisheries, of which he is general manager, by surreptitiously owning three of the fish traps old Luke Farnsworth had detested. Anne has, apparently, been left out of Luke's will; she finds also she is not even his adopted daughter. Her "relatives" have turned her out, and she is living on a small allowance among the disgruntled Finnish fishermen who serve the Farnsworth Canneries.

FIRST STEP
Chapter 27

Anne thought of her foster uncle, Lee Farnsworth. She went back in memory to her earliest recognition of him as a part of her world. She had never known him to do an unfair, unjust act. She had never known him to be unkind. His only fault had been his good-natured, easy going disposition.

But he had stood by her that one time. He had defied Charlotte, at what must have been considerable cost to his peace of mind. Perhaps if he realized what was going on he would fight to see that Luke's wishes were carried out.

"How can I reach him, without revealing my whereabouts," she pondered. "I don't want to risk seeing him, though I would if it were necessary."

And then she decided she could write to Judge Kellogg, who, having read the will, could approach him on the ground of the canneries' failure to obey the terms. It would save her writing direct, for she wasn't sure the letter wouldn't be waylaid so he would never receive it.

Satisfied with her decision, she looked up. John was standing near, watching her. "Feel better?" he asked.

Anne nodded and just then a call came from George. It was time to haul in the catch and John sprang into action. Even Mina, who had been curled up on the galley bench asleep, stood by.

Anne watched entranced as the net was hauled in, the steady glare of the boat's searchlight playing on the fish as they came flipping over the side. A giant chinook flopped out of the net and Orvi uttered a cry of triumph. A good omen for the boat, it was all of thirty pounds.

George tossed a flat flounder back into the water. "Plap" it went and Anne laughed as she imagined it cutting the lower waters like a blade in its rush to reach the shadowy security of the bottom. There was a sturgeon, too, to be taken home and baked by Tecla.

It was a good haul; a good omen. Satisfied, they put back to town, nosed into a wharf from where Anne, huddled in John's coat, could see the Farnsworth Fisheries, the silver letters of the sign gleaming out beneath the wharf lights.

She thought of another time when she had looked up at the long green buildings. So much had happened in the short span of time between; so many things which Luke had given the best of his life to perfect were being undone. And she was helpless to interfere, her hands literally tied by the will Luke had left.

And yet, Anne felt that there was something yet to come, some crisis for her to meet. Standing in the prow of the boat, her face lifted to the cool, night wind, she wondered if she would have the courage, the high courage, to meet it.

That night she lay in her narrow bed and thought of the things John had told her. Somehow she could not doubt him. It clarified the mystery of Luke's actions, it explained Rob's reaction to her loss of the estate.

And she thought of John's concern over some possible danger to her. Foolish that, but pleasing. He had asked her to trust him. She did, though she wondered how she could trust anyone after the way her implicit faith in Rob had been shattered.

Anne awakened the next morning with the realization that she had been at the Sorkis an entire week, and that she was that morning to unpack the things sent down from Portland.

After hurrying through breakfast and the housework, she and Mina rushed up to the cottage where John had left the boxes, barrels and trunks, opened and ready for them. Anne had one moment of panic as she saw the crowded room and realized that here were things which would definitely tie her to memories of the past.

There was the great cedar chest with its neatly packed layers of lin-

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—A cheerful tone pervaded stock market dealings today.

Advances of a point or more cropped out in various sections of the list, particularly in farm equipments, business machine makers, and miscellaneous industrials. Narrow improvement ruled in most of the utilities and rails.

Western Union, ahead nearly 3 points for a time, slipped back a bit from its best. Case gained nearly 3 points. Deere, Worthington Pump and Mack Truck added nearly 2 each.

Such issues as American Telephone, Chrysler, Kennecot, International Harvester and Pensylvania improved modestly.

Grains got up slightly, but cotton gave ground from the beginning.

The French franc and other leading gold currencies slumped off against the dollar to around the point at which gold exports from New York were no longer profitable.

The flush of inflation sentiment appeared to be lacking in today's dealings, brokers reported. Trade prospects and the pressure of idle funds were resuming dominance as market stimuli, it was said.

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Supreme court today granted a rehearing in a suit involving validity of a tax remission to Hidalgo county because a subsequent act of the legislature changed the issues.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 9 to 13 points decline on lower Liverpool cables and under foreign selling and liquidation. Mch 11.01; May 10.73; Jly 10.46; Oct 10.17; Dec 10.18; Jan 10.15.

The initial decline carried the market off to 11.00 for March and 10.15 for Oct., making net losses of about 10 to 14 points.

These prices seemed to bring a fairly good trade demand, however, as well as considerable covering, and the market held fairly steady after the call.

At the end of the first half hour prices rallied 4 to 5 points from the lowest with active months off 8 to 9 points.

The trade demand for March, which helped to check the early decline, was supplied later in the morning and that month broke below the early point of resistance of 11.00. Active months sold about 12 to 16 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5. (AP)—Lower prices prevailed at the first call on the cotton market as the easier tone of Tuesday's session carried over into early dealings today.

March opened at 10.99, off 9 points, and then gained a couple of points to cross the 11-cent level. May sold at 10.70 and July at 10.50 during the early dealings, off on the average of 50 cents a bale.

The downtrend was directly attributed to bearish sentiment engendered by the new plan for selling the 6,000,000 bales of spot and futures cotton held by the government agencies.

Postponement of the Smith bill in congress kept cotton prices lower during the morning in extremely quiet trading.

Active positions held from 11 to 15 points lower as March sold at 10.9[illegible], May at 10.86 and July at 10.49. October was 75 cents a bale lower at 10.13.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Firmness distinguished grain values early today. Severe cold weather throughout the entire domestic grain belt had some bullish influence, and so too did reports that the Liverpool wheat market was oversold.

Opening unchanged to 1-4 cent higher, May 99 1-2 to 5-8, wheat then showed an all around upturn. Corn started at 1-8 to 3-8 gain, May 60 3-4 to 7-8, and for the time being altered little.

Livestock Market

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 5 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs 3,000; top 10.25; 140-270 lbs. 10.00-10.20; 280-330 lbs. 9.75-10.00; sows 8.50-9.00.

Cattle 4,200; calves 800; largely fed steer run; about steady; she stock steady to 25 higher; bulls, vealers and calves firm; short fed steers eligible to sell from 7.00-9.00; heavy beef cows up to 6.50; better vealers 9.00-11.00.

Sheep 7,000; lambs fairly active, 25 lower; sheep steady; bulk fed lots to packers mostly 10.50; natives mostly down from 10.00; best ewes 4.25.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs 1,400; steady with Tuesday's packer market; top 9.85; mixed grades butchers and good 155-180-lb. averages 9.00-75; packing sows steady, mostly 8.50.

Cattle 2,400; calves 800; beef steers and yearlings slow, few sales about steady; medium grade shot fed steers and yearlings 6.25-7.25; plain warmed-ups and grassers 6.00 down; few loads good fed yearlings held around 7.75--8.00; common and medium grade heifers 4.25-6.25; few good short feds 6.75-7.25; beef cows 4.25-5.25; bulls 4.00-5.25; killing calves 5.50-6.50.

Sheep 700; fat and feeder lambs steady; medium to good fat lambs 8.50-9.50; feeder lambs 7.75 down.

Troops Mobilized In Liquor Strike

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 5 (AP)—Five companies of Illinois national guardsmen were mobilized in nearby Peoria as federal authorities joined attempts of Illinois officials today to end a distillery plant dispute that precipitated a general strike, virtually paralyzing this city of 17,000.

All but a few stores planned to remain closed for the second day as J. E. O'Connor, federal labor conciliator, and Director Martin Durkin of the state labor department called a conference at Peoria with strike leaders from the American Distilling company plant.

Opening To Gulf On Colorado Is Studied

BAY CITY, Feb. 5 (AP)—State and government engineers today inspected the lower Colorado river to determine feasibility of deepening and widening the channel and providing an opening into the gulf.

SCOUT WEEK IS ARRANGED HERE

Arrangements for conducting Boy Scout week in Lubbock, Feb. 7 to 13, inclusive, were completed at a round-table discussion conducted Tuesday night at the home of Earl M. McClure, scout executive, at 2003 Main.

Attending were W. G. McMillan, district commissioner; Carroll Thompson, neighborhood commissioner; and all scoutmasters and assistants.

Parent night programs Friday at troop meetings will inaugurate the observance, arranged for the 7-day period by O. J. Sexton, chairman of arrangements.

Last Boy Scout week was observed in Lubbock in 1934, the organization being without a scout executive during 1935. The program planned will emphasize the 26 year growth of scouting in the United States.

establish a Bolshevist dictatorship."

The immediate cause of the activity at Monterrey was the decision of an arbitration board that a glass factory strike was legal.

In South America official statements accused communists of fomenting railway strike trouble in Chile and underground political activities in Paraguay.

These brought to five the South American countries in which similar accusations have been made in recent weeks. Previously communistic allegations were made in Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay.

The Chilean government asserted it had "proof" communists were engaged in actions connected with the current National Railway lines strike, and the Paraguayan defense ministry declared several army officers would be asked to resign under suspicion.

MONEY POWERS

Mr. Roosevelt said the action could not be construed as a tightening of purse strings or as a signal that the emergency was over. It was a usual procedure, he said, and was not calculated to affect the government bond market.

In discussing the scrapping of powers, President Roosevelt mentioned specifically the HOLC, the Farm Credit administration, and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The HOLC (set up to lend money in aid of distressed home owners) was authorized by congress to expend $1,750,000,000. It was said that most of the loan applications received before the deadline fixed by law have been passed upon and that the corporation will be able to stop $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 short of the authorized outlay.

On Thursday, the president will discuss with his advisers the government's financial needs. He said nothing new has been decided as to methods of paying the bonus, for which he has asked congress for a $2,249,000,000 appropriation.

NEW FARM TAXES

This word was advanced on Capitol Hill as Mr. Roosevelt planned a meeting tomorrow of the heads of the view of determining whether any government spending agencies with unexpected balances of authorized outlays might be held up.

Eight Detours Are Designated In Area

Eight detours are in operation on state highways over division No. 5 of the state highway department, George M. Garrett, division engineer, reports. They will be effective beginning Thursday.

Detours on six highways are as follows:

Highway 28, Lamb county, from Hale county line to Circle, nine miles.

Highway 24: Lubbock county from six miles west of intersection of Nos. 24 and 137 near Lubbock to the Hockley county line, 8.3 miles; Cochran county from west edge of Morton to nine miles west, Hockley county from Levelland to Smyer, 10.5 miles.

Highway 51, Terry county, from Brownfield to 1.5 miles north of Wellman, 15 miles.

Highway 15, Dawson county, from one half mile west of Lamesa west to 8.5 miles west.

Highway 9, Lynn county from one mile south of Lynn-Dawson county line to nine miles north of the line, 14 mile detour.

Highway 86, Briscoe county, from four miles east of Silverton to seven miles west of Quitaque, eight miles.

Illinois Director Is Coming To Tech

The director of the largest college band in the world, A. A. Harding of the University of Illinois, will be a guest conductor July 6-11 at the third annual band school at Texas Technological college.

The band school will be directed by D. O. Wiley, Tech band director. It will coincide with the summer terms, first of which will be conducted June 9-July 18 and the second will begin July 20.

SPEEGLE SLAYING

both questions.

"Partly due to immense loss of blood, shock and to suffocation," the witness said.

Dr. Trawick explained that the jaw bone was broken on both sides, and that death was at approximately 9:45 o'clock that night.

The witness was asked if the victim had been choked.

"Undoubtedly," he said.

J. E. Russell, former sheriff, was recalled by the state. He testified he found blood on McArthur's shoe heel the night of Speegle's death, between the sole and the uppers. He said the blood appeared to be fresh. Also, there was blood on one of the man's socks, Russell said.

Defense witnesses to take the stand this morning were: Morris Collett, 22, of Wichita Falls; Tom Anderson, who lives one and one-half miles southwest of Girard; Perry Lee Marshall, who lives one and one-half miles east of Matador, and Russell Smith, cousin of McArthur and who lived at Spur but now is a Marfa resident.

Smith admitted on cross-examination he was anxious to get McArthur out of trouble.

All testified relative to the car in which Speegle's body was found and to person or persons seen in it.

Some were questioned relative to Harold Karr's statement Tuesday that he had asked McArthur at Roaring Springs after Speegle had been found injured: "I asked him who hurt the old man and put him in the car. Everett held up his fist and said: 'That fist.'" Karr had said "Melvin kind of pushed him (McArthur) and told him to hush," referring to the moment after McArthur had been identified as holding up his hand and speaking.

Another witness, Argie Thomason, had given similar testimony that afternoon.

Brother-In-Law Testifies

Collett, a brother-in-law of Karr, was questioned by W. D. Wilson. He said he did not hear Karr ask McArthur how Speegle came to be injured.

Andrews said he was at Matador the night of Speegle's death. He said he saw two automobiles near the tourist camp but no persons in the "front car."

Inference Given

(In testimony Tuesday of two witnesses, E. H. (Rang) Thornton and Albert Morgan, it was said Thornton pushed another car at the tourist camp, at the request of two boys in that machine. Inference was made that the machine pushed belonged to Karr and that the boys in the machine were McArthur and Ensey. Those in the car were not identified, however.)

On cross-examination by Alton B. Chapman, Andrews testified he heard someone in the front car say something about getting a key.

Marshall said he saw two cars but saw three persons in the front machine. On cross-examination of John A. Hamilton, he said the "one in the middle" could have been the feet of a man sticking up on the back of the front seat.

"Ensey Pretty Tight"

Smith said, "Ensey was pretty tight" at Pinky George's Oasis saloon after a Spur-Matador football game the afternoon of the day Speegle died. He said that, on Karr's suggestion, they took Ensey to the camp, rented a cabin and put Ensey to bed.

He testified that Jack Price, who had been identified as a "bouncer" for a dice game at the camp, told for a dice game at the camp, told McArthur, who, he said, was in the gaming room but was not playing, to quiet down, that Speegle had threatened to call officers. Price and McArthur left the dice game at the same time, he said. Smith testified he left the camp and went to town.

Did Not See Defendants

The witness was asked what he saw when he returned to the camp, and testified he saw Karr at Karr's automobile, alone with Speegle. He said he did not see McArthur or Ensey, saying they were not there. Later, he said, McArthur and Ensey came out of the cabin and helped remove Speegle from the Karr machine.

Smith also testified Speegle was laid inside a car shed beside the cabin which had been taken for Ensey and McArthur.

He denied hearing Karr ask McArthur at Roaring Springs about the cause of Speegle's hurts.

"I positively did not," he said.

On cross-examination by O. E. Hamilton, Smith admitted his desire to see McArthur out of trouble, and said no report to anyone on their placing Speegle in the shed had been made.

At Tuesday's proceedings Price emphatically denied any connection with Speegle's fatal beating. Defense counsel had sought to implicate him.

Cause of Speegle's death was asked.

Thomason, of Wichita Falls, said he heard Karr ask McArthur at Roaring Springs who hit Speegle. "McArthur doubled up his fist and stuck it out and said, 'I hit him with that.' Ensey slapped him lightly on the face and told him to shut up," he said.

Oil On Floor

H. H. Courtney, Motley county deputy sheriff, said the cabin occupied by the boys had coal oil spilled over the floor.

Price denied he was "bouncer" for a game the night of the beating. He said he and McArthur had argued over automobile keys and that he struck McArthur because "he was coming straight at me."

Frequent gambling at the camp was reported by several witnesses.

John Lemons, who allegedly had been banking the dice game, and "a man with boots on" were mentioned by the defense as possible slaying suspects. Defense counsel charged Price had told Lemons to "lay low."

Thornton, a resident of Matador 30 years, implicated Sheriff Skinner in the gaming.

Trial of McArthur at this term of court is not likely, said Judge Folley, who said a special term might be called for trial of the case.

CHURCH RALLY

in an Interdenominational Committee on Cooperation, Texas Centennial Revival, planned the rallies to place a state-wide emphasis on evangelism during 1936.

Other members of the Lubbock general committee, appointed at a ministers' association meeting Monday morning, are Ethridge Eagan, secretary-treasurer; C. R. Matthews and R. A. Springer, directors of meeting places; Lyle Barnett, director of entertainment for visiting speakers; Miss Virginia McLean, director of a young people's dinner. Other appointments to be made include a presiding officer for the women's meeting, toastmaster for young people's dinner, director of men's dinner and toastmaster for the men's dinner.

Guest speakers at the rally will include Bishop Seaman, Amarillo, and others.

Rev. R. C. Snodgrass, Amarillo.

There will be six sessions: at 10:30 a. m. for the general public; two simultaneous 2:30 p. m. sessions, one for women and another for ministers and laymen; two 6 p. m. banquets, one for young people and one for laymen; and a mass meeting.

A meeting of the general committee and the Lubbock Ministers' association has been set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the study of the First Methodist church.

The objective of the cooperative rallies is the "maintenance of evangelistic work in every church in every community in the state of Texas during the Centennial year."

Other cities where rallies will be conducted are Texarkana, Sherman, Tyler, Houston, Harlingen, San Antonio, El Paso, Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas, Abilene, Wichita Falls, San Angelo and Amarillo.

FLORIDA MINISTER SENDS LETTER COPY

DADE CITY, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—The Rev. John B. Peden of Dade City today sent Governor Hoffman of New Jersey a copy of a letter he received in 1932 signed B. R. Hauptman and mailed from New York.

Written in pencil on ruled paper, the letter said:

"I have a friend who wants to buy a farm in Fla. an orange grove worth around ten thousand dollars. One of your brethren, a minister from Texas, told me you were a good judge of Fla. property. If you will find a place give me description of it. I will send cash by reg. mail to pay for it. I enclose env for reply. Let me hear at earliest possible date. Yours truly, B. R. Hauptman."

COLD FADING OUT OF SOUTHWEST AREA

(By The Associated Press)

Cold faded out of the Southwest today and temperatures climbed steadily under sunny skies.

Winter vegetable growers and stockmen found they once again had escaped appreciable loss from the norther which swept in from the Rockies Monday night.

Except for partly cloudy conditions in the triangular South Texas area between San Antonio, Brownsville and Del Rio, Texas was clear.

Takes Final Fling

Sub-freezing temperatures prevailed in most of North Texas last night as the cold wave took a final fling before drifting off to the east. The cold north wind had subsided.

It was 13 at Lubbock, 16 at Borger, 12 at Amarillo, 16 at Abilene and 17 in Dallas. The Love field airport weather bureau on the outskirts of Dallas had a low reading of 15.

The low at Austin was 20, San Antonio 22, Palestine 20, Houston 28, Port Arthur 30, Galveston and Corpus Christi 32, Del Rio 30, El Paso 36, Corsicana 18, Brownsville 36 and San Angelo 15.

The weatherman forecast considerably warmer weather for Texas in the next 24 hours.

Vegetable growers in the lower Rio Grande valley had been expecting a freeze last night but it failed to materialize, possibly because of cloudy skies.

Trouble Is Feared In Assassination

DAVOS, Switzerland, Feb. 5 (AP)—The political assassination of Wilhelm Gustloff, 40-year-old leader of the German Nazis in Switzerland, by a Yugoslav medical student aroused fears today of grave international complications.

The assassin, who surrendered promptly to police, told the authorities he was David Frankfurter, a 26-year-old Jew, and that he wished to strike a blow against the Nazi regime to avenge sufferings he said were inflicted on his fellow Jews in Germany.

CRIMINAL APPEALS

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today included:

Affirmed: A. L. Weiss from Gregg; Cyril Gillock from Gregg.

Appellant's motion for rehearing overruled: Cliff Clyburn from Smith.

Submitted on brief and oral argument: H. C. Chamberlain, et al, from Cameron.

Submitted on brief for both parties: C. H. (Dutch) Smoot from Gregg.

Submitted on state's brief: Sam Lightfoot from Anderson; Tom Moffitt from Lamar (2 cases); Loraine Smith from Smith; ex parte Tom Lyons from Gray.

PLANES TO LAND HERE THURSDAY

Probably due to delayed homing flight of a pursuit section, which Tuesday was ordered to pass Lubbock by and land at Midland, rather than stop at both control centers, an observation flight of 14 observation craft from Kelly field, San Antonio, will land at Municipal airport Thursday, a day late.

The O-13's are expected to ask 7:30 o'clock weather that morning and begin arriving from Fort Sill, Okla., before mid-morning. Personnel, composed of cadets of the February graduating class at the training school, mechanics, officers and, possibly, a flight surgeon, is expected to have lunch here.

The flight will continue to its base by way of El Paso and Dryden, probably first setting down on the field at Midland or at Carlsbad. A night stop will be made at the border city.

Weather this morning was perfect for flying, unless discomfort of temperatures be considered. A low of 13 degrees was established a few minutes before 8 o'clock, when a southeast wind of eight miles an hour was blowing. At 11 o'clock the mercury had moved up seven degrees, a southeast 20 blow was recorded at Municipal airport, ceiling was unlimited and clear, as was visibility.

The barometer was low, but was rising. The reading at 7 o'clock was 29.89, but had gone to 29.90 at 11 o'clock. Normal at this altitude is approximately 30.10.

Deal address. Farley will speak at Coral Gables, Fla. The speech will be broadcast at 9:45 p. m., central standard time.

2. Assailing what he called "waste" under the Roosevelt administration, Rep. Bacon (R-NY) said in a speech last night that a "lot of it is due to the energetic application of the soils system, and partisanship of the administration of relief.

3. The senate passed yesterday, and transmitted to the house, the Van Nuys bill providing fines up to $5,000 for any one seeking to swing votes of their employes through "fear or intimidation."

Creates New Interest

Borah's flat announcement created a wave of interest in both parties. Many Republicans here were slow to comment, pending a study of the situation, but Rep. Fish (R-NY), a Borah supporter, hailed the move, saying Borah's strength "lies with the taxi driver, the elevator operator, and the rank and file of substantial America."

There was no immediate announcement as to what other men mentioned as possible contenders for the nomination would do. The opinion that Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago would take whatever steps are necessary to protect his interests in Ohio was expressed by a Knox supporter. Clarence J. Brown, former Ohio secretary of state. Brown said Borah's move was "not conducive to harmony."

Although the Borah boom had been in the making for months, many political observers had believed he might not actually make the race. However, he tossed his black sombrero into the ring last night after conferring with his leaders from Ohio.

They left Washington convinced that Borah not only would campaign in Ohio, but was a bona fide candidate for president and not a "stalking horse" for liberal delegates.

control board.

Said Director Fee:

"I am inclined to agree with Dr. Rice that birth control advocates are partly responsible for the lower certified milk sales, but I feel that the business depression had more to do with it."

League Responds

The birth control league responded, "the mother, rather than the milkman, must be the judge of how many children her health and circumstances will permit her to have."

It added, "not fewer babies, but more babies, healthy and with a good start in life, is the aim of the American Birth Control league." Birth control knowledge, contended the league, helped families keep off public relief rolls, raise their standards of living, and thus purchase more milk and other commodities.

The league last December engaged in a controversy with anti-birth control groups, championed by Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

HIGH COURAGE

by Jeanne Bowman.

ens; the barrels of dishes. And there were odds and ends of furniture. Smoking stands, coffee tables, book and wall shelves, a radio, and one deep chair with an ottoman to match.

Anne looked at the chair and wished she might do away with it. It was to have been a birthday present to Rob. When she had bought it she had imagined she could see him; dark head against the cushioned rest, herself sitting on the ottoman looking up at him.

That was it, always with Rob she was looking "up." He had demanded it, and because of his years of seniority she had given it. Never had they met on common ground such as she and John were meeting on daily. But why compare Rob and John? She wasn't in love wth John.

She would give the chair to Lilsa, surely the sight of Lilsa's top-knot sliding back and forth would serve as an antidote for any unhappiness she might have at seeing it in the room.

Lilsa was delighted when Anne presented it to ther that noon. She was delighted with everything. She marched from room to room with pencil and paper, as Anne sat writing a letter to Judge Kellogg, which Lilsa would take into town to mail.

The letter off, Anne relaxed. Uncle Lee would arise to this challenge. The fishermen would be treated fairly and she . . . well, somehow the days would pass.

The days did pass. Closed season came on and the boys were free to help with the new home, and "the boys" included John. Not that he was there too often, for there seemed always to be someone calling him to attend to this or that. But it was often enough to make the house seem lonely without him.

And the days passed without hearing from Lee Farnsworth. Judge Kellogg wrote once, and eagerly Anne took his letter to her room to scan it.

Dear Anne:

I saw Lee yesterday. He had a time seeing him because Farley found out, by some hook or crook, that I was in the outer office and insisted upon attending to Lee's business for him. Farley looks pretty dissipated. He needs a Luke to keep him straight.

However, eventually I bearded the lion in his den; not the lion, he was like a lamb. Poor Lee, his concern over you was pathetic. I told him you were getting along as well as could be expected. I could have been kinder but I thougnt your plea would have more weight if he felt everything wasn't right.

I told him I had received a report that Crocker owned the traps. He didn't seem angry, but insisted I was mistaken, that the report doubtless came from Crocker's enemies. I also told him of the trap preference and he said he would call Farley in and prove that untrue, as Farley was in charge and would know what was going on.

However, he consented to make a secret investigation and upon this you will have to pin your hopes.

There was more but Anne paid little attention to it. She would wait, she decided, and give Lee time for his investigation. Then if things didn't change, she would act. How she didn't know, time to worry about that later.

It seemed to Anne she had never been on as many picnics; that these Finnish people made a picnic of everything. There were trips to a deserted suarry for old stone with which to build the fireplace; there were picnics inland for plants for their rock garden; and there were picnics along the beach to gather drift-wood which must be stacked and dried and cut.

Sometimes Anne wondered at the happiness of these people with their simple pleasure, wondered, and grew radiantly happy with them.

"If only I didn't have to go away," John said to Anne the Sunday before he sailed. They were aboard the boat, heading for a picnic in a cove up the river. "I wish I hadn't signed on, and yet I'm going to need the money. I'm going to buy that trawler because I want to work for myself."

Anne smiled at him, unable to put into words the desolation she felt at his going.

They beached the boat on smooth sand, built a fire for the inevitable coffee, then sat in the sun talking while the younger children scurried along the beach picking up shells, making sand houses for the waves to wash down, wandering inland for spring flowers.

Tecla and John's mother, a tall, red-haired Irish woman, sought the shade of a tree for their knitting and gossip. Lilsa soon joined them, leaving Anne and John alone.

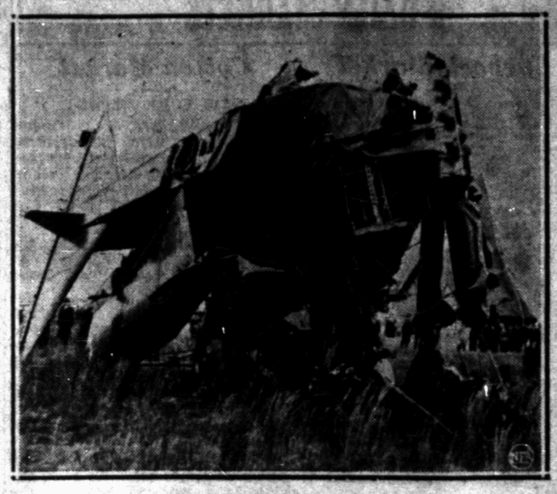

For a long time the two lay stretched in the sand in the shelter of a rock, listening to the slap of tiny waves.

Silver coins worth five milreis (about 3 0cents) and nickel coins worth 300 reis (about two cents) will make their appearance in Brazil soon under a bill approved by the finance committe of the chamber of deputies.

CRASH!—And Nobody Hurt

Its pilot narrowly averting a crash into the roof of a school, an old model U. S. Army bomber participating in maneuvers over Long Island plunged to the ground near Mineola and broke in two. The unusual spectacle presented by the wreckage is pictured here. Captain D. T. Craw, Major E. J. Carpenter and Staff Sergeant E. A. Sell of Mitchell Field all escaped injury.

Painless Dentistry Attacked In Report

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 5. (AP) — The University of Michigan school of dentistry has reported its clinical tests indicated that a recently announced desensitizer would not prove to be a "panacea for relief from all pain from instrumentation in the dental chair."

Dr. Paul Jeserich, professor of dentistry and director of operative clinics, issued the report. It said that in only five of 100 cases in which the desensitizer developed by Dr. Leroy L. Hartman, of Columbia university, was used was there "any considerable reduction in the amount of pain from operative procedure."

"In no case," the report continued, "was the desensitization as profound as that obtained by injections of novocain."

In 40 per cent of the cases, the report said, the pain was "minimized to about the same extent that applications of phenol and warm air have accomplished for many years." In the others, the desensitizer "gave no apparent decrease in the sensation of pain."

China and India together have as great a population now as the entire world had a little more than a hundred years ago.

RETAIL SALES SHOW GAIN

DOLLAR VOLUME IS UP 21 PER CENT OVER 1934 IN AREA

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 — The commerce department reported today that the dollar volume of last December's retail sales in 849 independent stores in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico was about 21 per cent higher than in December, 1934.

A survey showed that an increase of about nine per cent would have been shown if sales by motor vehicle dealers were excluded. Introduction of new models was responsible for the spurt in this line of business, it was said.

The report did not cover stores with a sales volume of less than $20,000 annually or department stores.

The labor movement became a factor in politics in England more than 100 years ago.
