Vote Tangle In Georgia Is Frozen

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court stayed today a three-judge federal court ruling that the Georgia Legislature cannot elect that state's next governor.

The effect is to freeze the tangled Georgia election situation until at least Dec. 5, the date set by the high court for hearing argument.

The three-judge court in Atlanta on Nov. 17 ruled unconstitutional a Georgia Constitution provision that the legislature choose between two top candidates when no candidate for governor gets a majority of the popular vote.

The three-judge court ruling barred a choice by the legislature between Democrat Lester G. Maddox and Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway.

Neither Maddox nor Callaway received the required clear majority for election as governor in the Nov. 8 election.

The Supreme Court said an appeal from the three-judge court ruling had been filed by Ben W. Fortson, Georgia secretary of state. Fortson also asked the lower court judgment be stayed pending final action by the highest tribunal on the secretary's appeal.

The Supreme Court said further that all of the parties involved had requested speeded-up action. Because of this the high tribunal agreed to the Dec. 5 hearing of arguments.

Georgia's attorney general, in asking for delay in further lower court action, gained a temporary ally—the American Civil Liberties Union. The ACLU sought unsuccessfully last week to void the state constitution provision.

Go-Go Girls Arrested

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The go-go girls at French's, where soft drinks and topless dancing acts are specialties, were arrested on charges of indecent exposure early today.

It was the fourth arrest for Dominga Luna and the first for Colette Sems, the dancers who wear pasties and bikini bottoms while dancing in wire cages.

When doubling as waitresses the dancers also wear bras.

Dominga Luna was tried last Friday on indecent exposure charges but a justice court jury deadlocked 4-2.

French's gave up its beer license before initiating its topless act a week ago so it would not be regulated by the Liquor Control Board. Its shows are featured continuously between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. at the Padre Island location just before the entrance to the national seashore.

Three-Car Crash Kills Three Students

NEW ORLEANS (AP)Philip D. Radley, 20, and Nancy Jill Carter, 19, both of Houston, Tex., and John R. Newkirk Jr., 20, Fayetteville, N. C., were killed Saturday night in a collision involving three vehicles on Airline Highway.

The three, students at Louisiana State University, apparently were returning to Baton Rouge after the LSU-Tulane football game here.

EYE PARTY STRENGTH

Romney, Rocky Plan Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, bolstered by a poll in which he outran President Johnson, is expected to meet with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today in Puerto Rico to discuss strengthening the Republican party.

Romney arrived in San Juan Sunday for a two-week vacation. He said in a statement that recently elected Republican governors will be in a position to have more influence in national affairs and in the GOP.

Rockefeller met Friday in the Virgin Islands with Republican Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania. All Republican governors and governors-elect are expected to meet in December in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Romney, who won a third term Nov. 8, says he hasn't decided whether to seek the 1968 GOP presidential nomination. But Romney aides already are setting up Washington headquarters for a presidential drive.

Pollster Louis Harris reported Sunday that voters questioned after the Nov. 8 election preferred Romney over President Johnson 54 per cent to 46 per cent.

Johnson had nipped Romney 51 to 49 per cent in a Harris October poll. In this month's poll, said Harris, 43 per cent of persons calling themselves Republicans favored Romney as the GOP nominee.

Richard M. Nixon was second at 28 per cent and Rockefeller — who said prior to winning a third term that he was not interested in running again for president — was the choice of 12 per cent. Six per cent favored Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy of Illinois and 5 per cent Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California.

Johnson beat Nixon, Percy and Rockefeller each by 54 to 46 per cent and Reagan by 67 to 33 in Harris presidential trial heats.

Reagan said Sunday, however, that he has no intention of seeking the nomination.

On the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers," he added that it is too early "to evaluate who will rise above all to be the candidate."

New Image Is Needed For Hollywood's Sunset Strip

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From the police car blared the amplified warning:

"Attention. Attention. It is now past 10 p.m. The curfew law is now in effect. Anyone remaining in the area under 18 years old will be arrested."

Teen-agers on crowded, neon-lit Sunset Boulevard — some conventionally dressed, many with shaggy beards, hair or clothing — have heard the message often recently.

It may mean a new face for the Sunset Strip, once a place for good food, adult night clubbing, elegant jazz; now a place for youngsters to dance frenetically and clog weekend traffic to a standstill. Many, having autos, can visit the area from distant parts of the Los Angeles area.

In two weekends of protesting the 10 p.m. curfew, more than 200 have been arrested on charges ranging from curfew violation to battery against a police officer. Saturday 400 policemen quelled disturbances involving 1,000.

Reactions — and proposed action — have been varied.

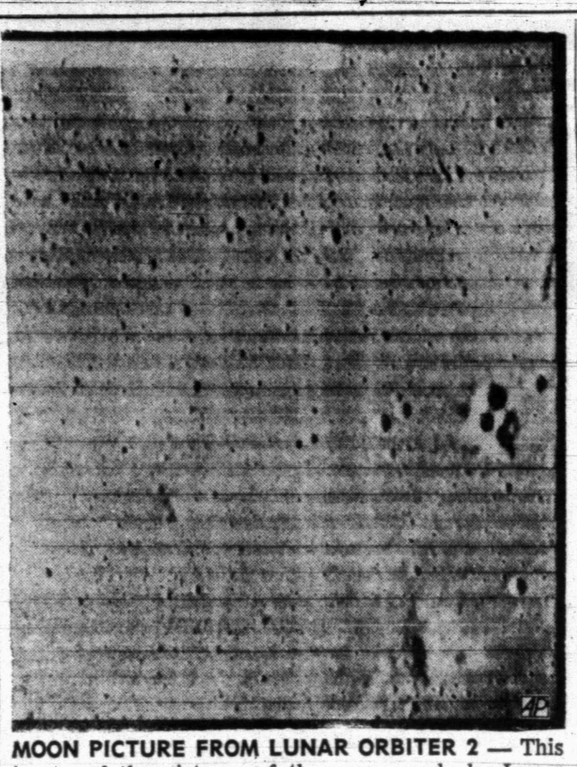

Some say the strip has become run-down, tawdry; the County Board of Supervisors should repeal the ordinance allowing teen-age dancing in night clubs.

Others — adults as well as teen-agers — say it is the curfew ordinance that should go.

Disturbances began when policemen increased enforcement of the curfew ordinance on the strip. This brought taunts, rock-and-egg throwing, some property damage, and a plethora of protesting signs and pamphlets arguing against the ordinance as the "shackling of 15-year-old."

Owners of some clubs and restaurants had said unruly juveniles were hurting their business.

Some citizens talk about what they call teen-age anarchy, others about what they call the rights of teen-agers. Both sides agree that the time has come for the Sunset Strip to take on a new image.

Rebels Take Togo Radio

PARIS (AP) — Insurgents were reported to have seized the Togo radio station early today but President Nicolas Grunitzky later announced that "energetic measures have been taken to put an end to the disorder."

Grunitzky's broadcast, heard in Abidjan, Ivory Coast, indicated that Grunitzky has probably regained the upper hand in the civil disturbances during which his resignation was demanded. It was not clear who was leading the opposition.

An earlier report from the French News Agency quoted travelers arriving at Cotonou, Dahomey, as saying that thousands of demonstrators ringed the presidential palace. The palace was being protected by troops under the chief of staff, Lt. Col. Etienne Guassingbe Eyadema, who has reportedly clashed with Grunitzky recently on the military budget.

First reports of an uprising came from London. An unidentified speaker on the radio at Lome, the capital, said a revolution had broken out in the tiny West African republic.

The broadcast heard in London said:

"The Togolese revolution has just started. The Togolese people want their rights. The people want the immediate dissolution of the unpopular Grunitzky government and of Parliament."

Two of President Nicolas Grunitzky's Cabinet resigned Friday, indicating a developing political crisis in the little country sandwiched between Ghana and Dahomey.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a dispatch from Cotonou, quoted the Togolese government radio as saying the army had seized power and demoted Grunitzky. His whereabouts were not reported.

Togo, a long narrow nation about the size of West Virginia, has a population of some 1.6 million people, divided among 18 major tribes. Its area covers 20,733 square miles.

Grunitzky took power in 1963 following the murder of President Sylvanus Olympio, who was slain by disgruntled ex-soldiers from northern Togo.

The country formerly was a U.N. Trust territory administered by France. It became autonomous in 1956 and independent in 1960.

Bullet Hits Liuzzo Home

DETROIT (AP) A bullet shattered a front window Sunday night at the Detroit home of Anthony Liuzzo, 53, whose wife, Viola, was murdered last year in a civil rights demonstration near Selma, Ala.

Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union business agent, would not comment on the incident.

Police and the FBI were notified, but said Liuzzo had not complained about threats and there was no apparent connection with Mrs. Liuzzo's slaying.

The bullet smashed through the front picture window, hit a wall opposite the window and fell under a chair.

Mrs. Liuzzo was killed by gunfire on March 25, 1965, as she was driving down an Alabama highway after a civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

US Air Cavalry In Close-Quarter Battle

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen clashed with North Vietnamese soldiers in close-quarter fighting today in the central highlands and reported killing 102 of the enemy.

The U.S. military command said the battle broke out when a platoon of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division was attacked at hand grenade range by a "sizeable" North Vietnamese force.

The platoon suffered heavy casualties before reinforcements arrived, a military spokesman said. Air strikes were called in to hammer at the attacking Communists.

The action, part of Operation Paul Revere 4, raged 22 miles southwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Djereng, scene of North Vietnamese probes and skirmishes for more than a week.

Ground action was reported light elsewhere, but Korean marines operating near the South China Sea coast reported killing 91 Viet Cong Sunday in a two-and-a-half-hour battle seven miles northwest of Quang Ngai City. A Korean spokesman said the marines clashed with a reinforced Viet Cong company of 200 men, the largest enemy unit they have met since moving into the area last August.

In the air, Guam-based B52 bombers staged three raids today on enemy positions in South Viet Nam, two of them in Communist War Zone C in Tay Ninh Province.

A few hours after the giant Stratoforts struck, 1,200 men of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division were lifted by helicopter into the target area, moving to within 1,500 yards of the Cambodian border.

Brig. Gen. G. G. O'Connor, the assistant division commander, said his forces would continue to search for the Viet Cong in the area "but it seems now that they have fled across the border for sanctuary."

In the central highlands fighting, a U.S. spokesman said the North Vietnamese hit the American cavalrymen initially from all sides.

The spokesman said contact diminished this afternoon but was still continuing at last report. He said U.S. casualties so far were light.

In addition to two raids on Tay Ninh Province, B52 bombers also struck today at a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration 32 miles northwest of the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

U.S. air action over North Viet Nam was limited sharply again Sunday by bad weather and poor visibility. U.S. pilots flew only 45 strike missions, most of them against coastal targets in the southern panhandle.

United Fund Needs Less Than $5,000

The Scurry County United Fund needed less than $5,000 this morning to reach its goal.

A few contributions came in over the weekend and there already had been some response to a plea for spontaneous contributions. The coupon for such contributions is being published again in this issue of The Snyder Daily News, and persons who have not contributed to the United Fund Campaign are urged to clip it, fill out the information, attach their contributions and mail to the Snyder Chamber of Commerce office.

The total at noon today had reached $22,566.20. The goal in the current campaign is $27,500. The campaign this year is being conducted by voluntary workers exclusively.

The United Fund supports operations of the Girl Scouts, Boys Scouts, Scurry County Boys' Club, Salvation Army and American Red Cross. It also includes a small contribution to the Texas United Fund (USO). The local organizations depend on the United Fund for their expenses of operation and usually they must make supplemental drives when the United Fund fails to reach its goal.

US Backs China Study

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today rejected once more the seating Red China in the United Nations but announced it would support a plan offered by Italy and five other countries for a full high-level study of the China problem.

In a policy speech before the U.N. General Assembly, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldbert repeated the traditional U.S. opposition to the admission of the Peking government and declared the United States could not accept any move to expel Nationalist China.

"There is no conceivable justification for the expulsion of the Republic of China," he told the 121-nation assembly. "The Republic of China is a founding member of this organization and its role has been outstanding."

Goldberg stressed that the problem of deciding Chinese representation in the United Nations was an "important question" and as such must be resolved by a two-thirds majority. The United States is among sponsors of a resolution reaffirming previous decisions of the assembly on the two-thirds rule.

On the proposed study of the China question, Goldberg quickly indicated U.S. support. But this plan would not sidetrack the vote on the seating of Peking at this session. It would be considered only after the vote on a resolution sponsored by Albania, Cambodia and nine other Communist and nonaligned nations to expel Nationalist China and seat Communist China.

Italian Sen. Attilio Piccioni, outlining the proposal to the assembly Friday, said the committee should ask Peking if it really wants to be represented in the United Nations and if it will abide by the charter.

The committee also should determine what the position of Nationalist China would be if Peking were granted a seat, he said. The Nationalists, now confined to the island of Formosa, currently represent China in the Security Council and the General Assembly. The Nationalist government and the mainland Communist regime both have expressed strong opposition to a two-China policy giving representation to both.

Goldberg told the assembly Sept. 22 that the issue of seating Red China concerned whether Peking would abide by the charter and whether it would withdraw "unacceptable" demands for the expulsion of the Nationalists.

He said the United States would oppose any effort to oust the Nationalists in favor of Peking.

SHS Band Rated Tops In Marching

The Snyder High School Black and Gold Band rated first division (superior) Saturday at the Region 6 University Interscholastic League Marching Contest at Big Spring.

It was the 14th year in a row that the SHS band had won a first division rating in the event and it gave Snyder schools a clean sweep of first division ratings in regional contests this year. Both Lamar and Travis Junior High bands had earned similar ratings in their contests two weeks earlier.

A total of 51 bands participated in the contest Saturday at Big Spring.

In the individual twirling contests first division rating were earned by Kathy Keller, Sharlot Rose, Linda Hall and Belva Shipp, while second division ratings were posted by Judy Voelkel and Jan Williamson, and Linda Hicks received a third division rating. Debbie Roemisch, another SHS twirler, has not yet been notified of her rating. She was one of the last contestants to perform Saturday.

In the ensemble twirling contest, Kathy Keller, Sharlot Rose, Linda Hall and Belva Shipp rated second division.

The SHS bands are directed by Melvin Montgomery, who is assisted by Charles Shaw.

Tax Talk Brings Drop In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Afflicted by discouraging economic news and uncertainities about a possible tax increase, the stock market fell sharply today. Trading was fairly active early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 12.75 at 796.65.

General Motors was delayed in opening due to a heavy accumulation of sell orders. It dropped 1 to 68¾ on an opening block of 30,400 shares and extended its loss fractionally in later trading.

GM's decision to cut back production in December and January was part of the picture of declining sales in the auto industry. A drop in housing starts and a decline in new orders for durable goods were cited as factors in the market decline.

Some of the glamor stocks were down several points while even among blue chips losses ran to as much as 2 or 3 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 3.7 at 293.0 with industrials off 6.4, rails off 1.7 and utilities off 1.0.

News that the Johnson administration is on the threshold of deciding whether or not bo boost deciding whether or not to boost certainty that Wall Street dislikes heartily.

Many electronics still were affected by factor which upset them last week. The result was selling pressure both on the glamor stocks and blue chips.

IBM sank 7 points, Xerox about 4, Zenith nearly 3, Polaroid 2.

In the blue chip section, Du Pont toppled more than 3 points, Eastman Kodak, Anaconda and Westinghouse Electric more than 2 each.

Douglas Aircraft and RCA lost nearly 2 each while Raytheon was off a full 2 points.

Off about a point were Goodyear, United Aircraft, M-G-M, Standard Oil of New Jersey, New York Central, Kennecott and many others.

German Politics Stirs Bugaboo

LONDON (AP) A partial success for West Germany's rightist National Democrats in the Bavarian elections raised the old Nazi bugaboo in some European circles today but much of the reaction was cool and unperturbed.

Some quarters warned against exaggerating the importance of the votes which give the party 15 seats in the Bavarian Parliament. Others voiced the reminder that the Christian Democrats and Social Democrats the two major parties of West Germany, hold the key to any resurgence of old-style nazism.

Parts of Europe which felt the Nazi boot a generation ago were surprisingly self-contained. In Denmark, the independent newspaper Information suggested that a show of strength by the big two parties soon would woo the sensible elements away from the National Democrats and leave the party with a small core of diehards.

In France, the conservative Aurore said the voting showed that the German people dislike "the sterile game of the politicians and need a government really capable of imposin gun-contested authority on the country." The liberal Combat in Paris complimented the Bavarian voters for giving even further support to Franz Josef Strauss' Christian Democrats, regardless of the ballots for the National Democrats. Combat said Strauss was the real winner.

This was the same sentiment expressed by the London Evening News.

The London Evening Standard was more perturbed, commenting:

"There seems to be some strange and eerie law of nature that insists that every 20 years or so Germany should stir from her ponderous bourgeois rectitude and do something that gives the world the creeps. It has haunted Europe for three generations — and here we go again."

Early reaction in Swiss and Italian papers lifted warning fingers, though in moderated tones.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last week a friend and his wife came over to visit us. My husband was discussing sports with the man, and I was helping the wife with some stitches she was having difficulty crocheting. Out of the wide blue sky my husband got up out of his chair, walked over to where I was sitting, and kicked me! I was so shocked my dentures nearly fell out. I was too stunned to say anything, and of course, our guests didn't know what to say or think, so they pretended they didn't see anything. Later on, when our guests left, I asked my husband what his idea was in kicking me. He said "You were sitting badly, your dress was hiked up over your knees." For crying out loud, is this any way for a husband to act when there are guests around?

KICKED IN K.C.

DEAR KICKED:

Certainly not. Nor is it any way for a husband to behave when there are no guest around. He needs to be taught a lesson. Serve him hay. Its a fitting diet for the kind of animal who doesn't speak—but kicks.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Someone signed WORRIED wrote expressing concern because her birth certificate carried her mother's maiden name. She assumed that her mother had had her before she was married.

Abby, in most states (and perhaps in ALL of them, for all I know) this is the way all birth certificates are made out. Only the mother's MAIDEN name appears on the child's birth certificate. Never her married name. A very Sumane practice if you ask me.

M.D.A.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday mom had 50 cents on her dresser, and this morning it was gone. We have a large family and no one will own up, so my father has placed all us kids on restriction until the guilty party confesses. We can't use the phone, radio or TV, and we've lost all our privileges for a whole month. I considered saying I took the 50 cents to get the other innocent ones off restriction, but that would include the guilty one, too, so maybe that's silly. I think I know who took the money, and I think my parents know, too, but they are waiting for her to own up to it. Do you think this is fair? What should I do?

UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: If your parents know who the guilty party is, but are punishing all of you, they are being very unjust. Don't claim guilt you don't deserve. You innocent ones should go to your parents and declare your innocence once more. By this time the guilty party should 'fess up. Good luck.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GINNY": If you are wise, that "certain something" you'll look for in a prospective husband will be "something certain."

Cities Show No Concern About CORE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders in two of three cities named as potential 1967 targets by the Congress of Racial Equality say they're not worried about any problems with CORE.

Floyd B. McKissick, national director of CORE, said Sunday his organization is considering concentrating its efforts next year on Cleveland, Ohio, Newark, N.J., and, if finances permit, Oakland, Calif.

A spokesman for Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio of Newark said he wasn't sure what direction the CORE effort might take, but thought it could be related to a recent McKissick announcement that CORE would found a special welfare information service in Newark.

The official foresaw no friction with CORE in its plan to apprise persons of what they could get under welfare if they were familiar with programs.

Oakland Mayor John H. Reading said he was not "really concerned" about McKissick's statement.

He said: "We're doing everything in our power to prevent race riots. We're including Negroes in city governmental activities and I think all in all we've made real progress."

Cleveland Mayor Ralph S. Locher said, "We will welcome any study of our city. Our hands are clean."

"We will expect that whatever activities are carried on will be completely constructive and not in keeping with recent power and muscle pronouncements," Locher added.

McKissick said on CBS' "Face the Nation" that CORE's 1966 campaign in Baltimore is "a great success." But he added that "we do not by any means indicate that Baltimore is free from racism."

Mod Wedding Not What Mom Planned

DETROIT (AP) — "This is not exactly the wedding I had planned for my daughter," said the mother of the bride.

Joined in marriage in a mod wedding ceremony Sunday at the Michigan State Fairgrounds were Randy Rossi, 19, an unemployed go-go dancer, and Gary Norris, 25, an unemployed artist.

Billed as the nation's first mod wedding, the affair included:

A bearded youth banging on the roof of a dilapidated car with a sledge hammer.

—A youth slithering tacross the stage using a bullwhip and two high-powered flashlights for props while performing an alleged dance.

A crowd of about 4,500 attended the half-hour ceremony, listening to a rock 'n' roll group.

The couple was married by Highland Park Municipal Judge David Golden, who last year was honored by the North American Judges Association for "outstanding community service."

"The Beers" Receive High Praise Here

"A real change-of-pace" was the comment from many of the Scurry Concert members after the delightful program presented by the Beers family Saturday evening in the High School Auditorium. Instead of a "formal" concert which is the usual fare for the series, members were treated with such variety as an American History lesson, folk songs of all kinds, and the audience was taught many of the songs.

The Beers' traditional is composed of three members, Evelyne and Bob, who are husband and wife; and their attractive daughter, Martha. Although they occasionally sing as a trio, they all perform individually, each assisting the other instrumentally.

One of the highlights of the program was "The Rainforest Suite" performed on an instrument called the psaltery. This unusual instrument dates back to 3000 B.C. Bob Beer is the only known performer of this instrument today. Bob, also, entertained the audience with some old time fiddling. He knows hundreds of songs and at times would digress from the printed program as one would come to mind.

The Beers lived on a ranch in Montana until three years ago when the concerts and television programs made it necessary for them to move to New York. They record for Columbia Records and have a new "Christmas album" which has just been released.

Those of us that attended the concert will remember "The Beers" for many years to come.

Two new members were welcomed into the club at the meeting. They are Nancy LaRue and Joyce Thompson. Carolyn Weaver was a welcome guest.

Boyle Bids Happy Birthday To One God Whispered To

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —In every large Irish family there is one child who seems closer to God than the others.

The finger of heaven seemed to point at the third son of five children my mother had—Neil.

This is his birthday, and today, although he is young among the angels, he would be 54 years old if he were still what is termed "alive."

Mama, in the grip of childbirth, seemed to name her children in the flowing, old-fashioned style of penmanship that flaunted a flourish. Before or after she came out of the ether, she decided that her third-born son—the one after me—would be known in City Hall records as Cornelius Gerald Boyle.

Mama's doctor in those days got a little annoyed with her because, although she yielded all her children reasonably easy in her home bedroom—none born in a hospital—she had this romantic penchant for long names. A tired doctor in those days, having a cup of coffee in the kitchen after an always successful delivery, hated the chore of writing down the infant's interminable identity.

Cornelius Gerald immediately became Neil.

In a rude Irish brood, he had a gentleness that set him apart. He was by far the quickest mind of us all, but there was a softness to his soul that made him different. At the table he was the last to reach for a second helping. He didn't like to compete for advantage.

As children, we were favorite brothers and slept in the same bed. It was ritual for us to scratch each other's back before we fell asleep — the winter underwear in those days kept kids in constant itch — but we never told each other who we were, or discussed our dreams. There was just a faith and a liking.

The whisper of God reached down to Neil, but never me.

The atmosphere of a large Irish family in those days was a capsule history of the Irish fate — loud with brags, hopes, denunciations, interior betrayal, and a seeking of importance by gaining audience. It is a curse of the Irish that so many of them aspire to the conduct of kings, reckless of reckoning.

These family hurrahs hurt the heart of Neil. He used to lie silently on the floor during them, his head based on the pillow of his folded hands, hearing above the family tempests God's word of call to him.

He decided to become a priest, and was about to go away to study and become one. An infection common in those days intervened and left him with a crippled heart.

Neil then became one of those many Irish who can't quite serve God to the fulness of their childhood choice and then become a prisoner of home and never get away.

The Army Air Corps took him in World War II and he loaded the guns in airplanes abroad in which he never flew or pulled a trigger. He was not born to kill.

He liked to be useful, and children and old people trusted him. A little more than a year ago in Kansas City he was mowing the lawn for a nice old lady across the street and suddenly keeled over dead without question or outcry. Firemen came with oxygen tanks, but Neil had left home forever.

Bending over his coffin, mother flecked a spot of dust from his undertaker-adjusted face, kissed him, and said an Irish goodby to the first loss from her womb:

"You look lovely, Neil. Don't worry, dear, I'll be with you soon."

Well, of course Mama is only 79, and the rest of her children have no intention of allowing her this final reunion very soon. We are selfish enough to continue to demand her cheer, even though one of her sons remains away — the first to take flight from here, her brightest and perhaps her best.

And this, my dear brother, is my nosegay on your birthday to you. Hello, Neil.

New Concept Of Aid Is Studied

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The old argument—that the federal government should keep its nose out of states' business so they can have more independence—is going to look pretty odd if an idea now gaining momentum causes a rumpus in Congress in 1967.

One of the ways in which the federal government helps states now is through grants-in-aid, meaning that if a state has a need for some specific program, which Washington approves, the government will give the state money to help pay the bill, provided the state matches the amount with money of its own.

The idea being batted around now—not new but with support of both the Democratic and Republican sides—is that the federal government should just hand over to the states some of the money it gets from taxes for the states to use for programs in which they don't have to match the federal help.

The idea has different shapes.

Walter W. Heller and Joseph Pechman of the Brookings Institution have proposed one: massive federal grants to the states without strings attached.

Heller was chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy before he resigned in 1964 to go back to teaching at the University of Minnesota. He has repeatedly made this kind of suggestion which Johnson so far has been unwilling to buy.

Then there are suggestions, made separately, by two Wisconsin members of the House, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, a Democrat, and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the Republican Conference Committee.

Last week Reuss proposed the federal government should hand over $5 billion a year for five years to the states, with no strings, except that the states would have to have programs to reorganize and modernize their state and local governments.

Laird, who has talked about this since 1958, proposed that a certain percentage of taxes collected in each state be returned to the state yearly to help it solve its problem. The National Governors' Conference endorsed this idea last July.

Laird called this a first step toward decentralization of government. No matter what it's called, it's a plea for the federal government to share its taxes with the states and makes hash out of the argument that states should be more free and independent of the federal government.

It would let a state have it both ways: It would depend on the federal government to bail it out, whether it was unwilling or unable to raise enough money of its own to take care of its needs.

A Junior Editors Quiz About VEGETABLE OILS

QUESTION: How are vegetable oils made?

• • •

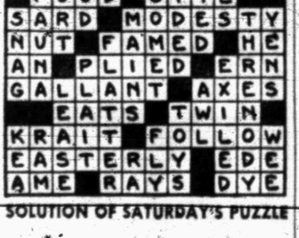

ANSWER: Vegetable oils, very valuable for cooking, for lubrication, medicine and for use in paint manufacture, are extracted from various fruits and seeds. They have a great deal of fat, some close to 100 per cent, and a high energy value when used as food. Our picture shows some important kinds of vegetable oil. Olive oil is very useful in dressing for salads. Corn and peanut oils are also used for this purpose, and for frying as well. Soybean oil is used in making margarine and shortenings. Cottonseed oil is a base for cooking fats as well as a salad dressing. Safflower oil is also used for dressing and cooking purposes, and for paints and varnishes. Other vegetable oils are palm oil, useful in soap and candle making, and linseed oil, very valuable in the manufacture of paint. Vegetable oils to be used for food are extracted by pressing the seeds or fruits after these are first washed. Oils to be used in other ways may also be extracted by pressure, but the use of chemicals and heat is often combined with this.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Many delicious nuts have vegetable oils. The next time you chew a peanut or other type of nut, see if you can taste the oil. 11-21

Colts Fall Behind, Packers Take Over

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Last month, Johnny Unitas was just another quarterback to Garo Yepremian, the Cypriot Lion.

Sunday, Unitas was just another quarterback to Yepremian's Detroit playmates.

The Lions intercepted five Unitas passes before driving the Baltimore quarterback ace to cover Sunday on the way to a 20-14 National Football League upset victory over the Colts.

Yepremian, the left-foot, soccer-style place-kicker from Cyprus who made his NFL debut against the Colts on Oct. 16, booted a pair of field goals for the Lions' winning margin in the return match.

Before the clubs' first meeting, Yepremian was asked if he'd ever heard of Unitas. "He's a quarterback," the little newcomer said. "I hear about him on television. Whose quarterback is he?"

Unitas then fired four touchdown passes, leading the Colts to a 45-14 romp over Detroit.

It was a different story Sunday, the Lion defenders blanking Baltimore until sub quarterback Cary Cuozzo replaced Unitas in the final period and hit John Mackey with a 64-yard TD pass. Unitas connected on only nine of 19 pass attempts for a total of 93 yards.

Yepremian meanwhile kicked field goals of 17 and 21 yards. Pat Studstill grabbed a 9-yard scoring pass from Karl Sweetan and Bobby Felts plunged a yard for another Detroit touchdown.

The loss, coupled with Green Bay's 13-6 victory over Chicago, dropped the Colts one game behind the Packers in the league's Western Division title race.

Dallas trimmed Pittsburgh 20-7 and tied idle St. Louis for the Eastern Division lead; Cleveland remained in the Eastern race by beating Washington 14-3; Atlanta drubbed New York 27-16 for its first NFL victory; Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 35-34 and Los Angeles downed Minnesota 21-6 in other games.

Zeke Bratkowski, filling in for injured Bart Starr, fired two touchdown passes to Carroll Dale, leading Green Bay past the Bears. Bratkowski and Dale connected on a climactic 33-yard scoring play after Chicago's Roger Leclerc missed the extra point attempt following Gale Sayers' two-yard touchdown dive.

Starr suffered a pulled hamstring muscle on his first pass attempt in the game.

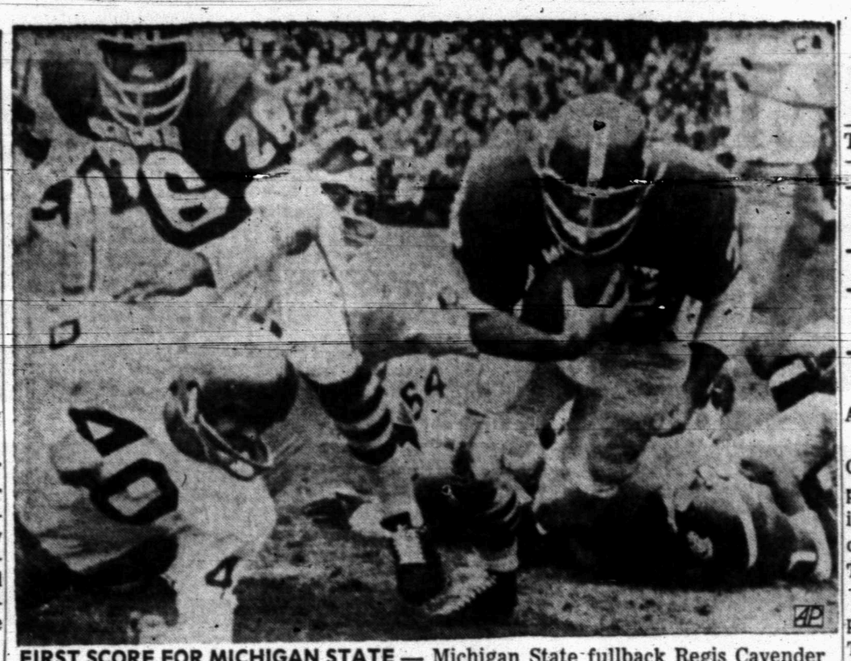

Don Meredith ran for one touchdown and passed 38 yards to Bob Hayes for another and Danny Villaneuva kicked two field goals as Dallas thwarted the Steelers' bid for a third straight upset.

Leroy Kelly capped the Browns' victory with a 56-yard touchdown bolt up the middle after Frank Rya had sent them ahead with a five-yard TD pitch to Ernie Green.

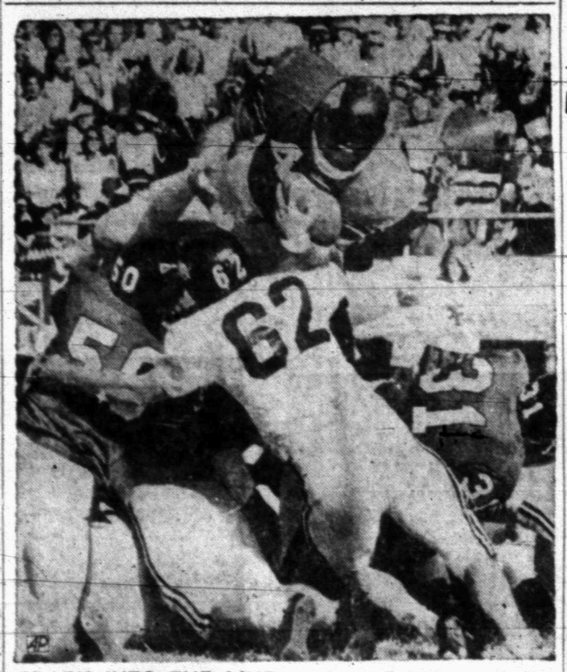

Randy Johnson threw three touchdown passes and scored another TD as the Falcons ended their losing string at nine games and handed the plodding Giants their eighth setback against one victory and a tie.

King Hill's four-yard scoring flip to veteran Ollie Matson capped a second-half comeback by the Eagles, who trailed 20-7 at intermission. Hill also threw two TD passes to Pete Retzlaff in the Philadelphia rally.

Bruce Bossett kicked four field goals, Roosevelt Grier threw Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton for a safety and Billy Truax recovered teammate Roman Gabriel's fumble in the end zone for the game's only touchdown as the Rams outfought the Vikings.

FIRST SCORE FOR MICHIGAN STATE — Michigan State fullback Regis Cavender (25) scores from the four-yard line at the start of the second quarter against Notre Dame at East Lansing, Mich. Game ended in 10-10 tie. (AP Wirephoto)

CRACK INTO THE LINE — Jerry Lovelace of the Texas Tech Red Raiders hits the Arkansas line for a one-yard gain at Lubbock, Texas. Tech scored on the next play, from the Razorback one-yard-line. Texas Tech won, 21-16. (AP Wirephoto)

18th Hole Birdie Wins For Palmer

By MURRAY ROSE

HOUSTON (AP) — When the people root for a millionaire over an average guy, then the moneybags man must be something special.

Arnie Palmer is something special.

The personable, usually smiling golf pro had Arnie's Army rooting for him to win the 110,000 Houston Champions International Golf Tournament Sunday and he obliged by sinking a pressure-packed 12-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 18th hole to win by a stroke over Gardner Dickinson Jr.

An estimated crowd of 30,000 swarmed over the beautiful grounds of the immaculately groomed 7,118-yard par 36-35 layout of the Champions Golf Club and most of the spectators tried to follow Palmer on a perfect, summery day.

The 37-year-old son of a golf pro from Latrobe, Pa., has had his army since 1960 when he scored eight victories including triumphs in the Masters and the U.S. Open.

He amuses the fans with his quips, delights them with his facial expressions and hand gestures, tolerates their behavior and awes them with his tremendous drives and precision iron shots.

Palmer was sitting in the press room after his final round of 34-35—69 for 275, nine strokes under par, when Dickinson, a hungry-looking, 5-foot-11, 130-pounder who hadn't won a regular pro tournament since 1962, stroke to the 18th needing a par 4 to tie Palmer and force a sudden death playoff.

Dickinson, a 39-year-old Alabama native playing out of Lost Tree Village, Fla., got off a good drive on the 428-yard hole. He flubbed his second hot, however, sending it to the right.

He chipped weakly and was short of the green on his third. Then he chipped boldly from about 30 feet out. The ball slid about three inches past the hole.

Dickinson, the co-leader at the halfway mark and leader by one stroke over Palmer after three rounds, finished with an even par 36-35—71 for 276, eight under par.

Billy Casper, winner of the U.S. Open and the PGA's Player of the Year, and Jack Nicklaus each finished with even par 284s, Casper with a final 72 and Nicklaus with a 74, good for a nine-way tie for 19th place.

Champs Lose, 24-7

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

East Texas State could enjoy the luxury of losing its last game and still be Lone Star Conference football champion.

The Lions took a 24-7 licking from Stephen F. Austin last week as the conference race came to a close but a couple of ties along the way enabled them to emerge winners by a half-game.

Howard Payne beat McMurry 10-0, Sam Houston trimmed Sul Ross 21-14 and Southwest Texas State downed Texas A&I 9-3 in other closing games.

Southwest Texas ended up with the best season record—7-2-1.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mario Andretti took the lead on the 132 nd lap of the 500-mile Bobby Ball Memorial Race Sunday after a sizzling 100-lap duel with Parnelli Jones and went on to win by more than a lap.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jim Stefanich of Chicago went from fourth place to first on the final day of the $34,000 Fair Lanes Open by taking 13 of 16 games and beat runner-up Dave Soutar of Detroit.

Tie Leaves First Place Spot In Doubt

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the college football season all but over, the balloting season begins in earnest and a handful of victorious clubs nervously await their postseason fate.

There are the clubs hoping for bids to play in major bowl games —UCLA and Southern California for the Rose Bowl, and Mississippi or Tennessee for the Gator Bowl. Arkansas' chances for the Cotton Bowl depend on Southern Methodist's losing to a weak Texas Christian team on Saturday.

And then there are Michigan State and Notre Dame, which are sweating out ballots of a different kind: The ones that will decide which is the top team in the country. The Irish and Spartans, ranked 1-2 last week, fought to a 10-10 tie in their clash at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday.

The Sugar Bowl has already picked its teams — Alabama, 8-0, and Nebraska, 9-0. The Crimson Tide was No. 3 in last week's Associated Press college football poll and the Cornhuskers were No. 4. And the Orange Bowl has picked fifth-ranked Georgia Tech, 9-0, to play Florida, 8-1.

Other teams set for bowl competition are 10th-ranked Purdue, 8-2, as the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl; ninth-rated Georgia, 8-1, in the Cotton Bowl; and Syracuse, 8-2, in the Gator Bowl.

The Pacific 8 Rose Bowl representative may have been decided Saturday when UCLA, No. 8, beat Southern California, No. 7, 14-7. The Trojans are conference champions — they played one league game more than the Bruins — —but UCLA, with a 9-1 mark, is one game up on them overall.

Arkansas' chances for a Cotton Bowl bid and another Southwest Conference title were rudely treated Saturday when upstart Texas Tech beat the Razorbacks, 21-16. SMU, a 24-22 victor over Baylor, can clinch both the bowl bid and the championship with a victory over TCU.

Michigan State jumped to a 10-0 lead over Notre Dame, but the Irish, with substitute quarterback Coley O'Brien in charge, fought back for the tie. The game ended in controversy with Notre Dame seemingly trying to run out the clock by keeping the ball on the ground rather than go for the winning score.

Bob Griese passed for three touchdowns and kicked a field goal and six extra points as Purdue beat Indiana, 51-6. Floyd Little and Larry Csonka combined to gain 272 yards rushing for Syracuse, which took West Virginia, 34-7.

Mississippi beat Vanderbilt, 34-0 with Doug Cunningham rushing for a pair of touchdowns. Tennessee bounced Kentucky, 28-19, on Dewey Warren's four touchdown passes.

The Ivy League race ended in a three-way tie as Princeton, Dartmouth and Harvard all finished with records of 6-1. Princeton beat Cornell, 7-0, Dartmouth bounced Penn, 40-21, and Harvard blanked Yale, 17-0.

Wyoming won the Western Athletic Conference with a 9-1 mark, beating Brigham Young, 47-14, on Rick Egloff's three touchdown passes.

Creed Grabs Cash

WACO, Tex. (AP) The women's golf tour rolled on to Augusta, Ga., but it was without little Clifford Ann Creed, who won the $10,000 Success Open here Sunday.

Miss Creed, posting a two-under-par 70 for a 54-hole total of 207, was winning her third tournament of the year. She grabbed $1,500 here to make her earnings $21,089.50 and insuring her fifth place.

Boston, KC In 27-27 Tie

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Graham, Otis Taylor and George Sauer displayed sizzling pass catching ability, but when it comes to plucking passes out of the air, you can't overlook Tom Janik.

Boston's Graham snared 11 passes and Kansas City's Otis Taylor grabbed nine as the Patriots and the Chiefs battled to a 27-27 tie in the American Football League Sunday.

Sauer pulled in eight passes, gaining the league lead in that department as the New York Jets whipped Miami 30-13.

Buffalo's Janik caught only two passes, but they were thrown by Houston's Don Trull, and the interceptions were key factors in the Bills' 42-20 triumph over the Oilers.

The 26 - year - old safetyman picked off his first pass in the second quarter, setting up a touchdown that put the Bills ahead 21-13. Minutes later he got in the way of another Trull aerial and this time rambled 37 yards for a touchdown.

On the way to their respective dressing rooms after the game, Janik chatted with Trull and told the Oiler quarterback he got the ball the second time ahead of intended receiver Larry Elkins because he gambled on where Trull was going to throw it.

The gamble worked, and the Bills went on to increase their Eastern Division lead to one game over Boston.

Oakland slicked Kansas City's Western lead to 1½ games by defeating Denver 17-3.

Graham, who hadn't scored a touchdown since 1964, tallied twice for Boston on two of the 11 passes he caught. Babe Parilli hit him on touchdown passes of 21 and 38 yards. Taylor also scored twice, taking passes of 21 and 26 yards from Len Dawson.

The second one gave the Chiefs a 27-24 lead, but Gino Cappelletti's second field goal of the game, a 19-yarder with 24 seconds left, brought the Patriots a tie.

New York's Sauer didn't score any touchdowns, but the 144 yards he gained on his eight receptions put the Jets into scoring territory more than once. Emerson Boozer scored twice, the second time on a 96-yard run with the second-half kickoff.

Art Powell, another of the league's top receivers, caught only one pass for Oakland, but it was an 18-yard scoring toss from Tom Flores. The Raider quarterback also threw two yards to Larry Todd for a touchdown.

North Texas Shares Lead

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisville's upset over Tulsa assured Odus Mitchell, retiring North Texas coach, of at least a share of the Missouri Valley football championship. Mitchell's players had another present — a record-breaking 42-7 romp over Chattanooga in his last game in Denton.

Wichita also gave coach George Karras a day to remember, with a shocking 37-23 upset over Colorado State's bowl-hopeful team before a slim gathering of 4,388 at Wichita. Karras watched his club explode 30 straight points for a 37-8 lead before CSU could recover.

Wichita, 2-7, stunned Louisville 9-2 for its other victory.

Louisville evened matters for Tulsa's 51-18 victory last year by winning 29-18 at Louisville with three big plays. A 98-yard kickoff return TD and Benny Russell's 59-yard TD pass to Dennis made it 20-12.

Ed Harmon's 51-yard interception TD wrapped it up for Louisville after Tulsa rallied within four points, 22-18, in the last period.

Memphis State broke a 14-14 tie in the last period with a 61-yard scoring pass and defeat Cincinnati 26-14 at Memphis.

North Texas finished 3-1 in the Valley and 8-2 for all games, third best in Mitchell's 21 years at NTSU. A bowl bid is a possibility.

Tulsa is now 2-1 in Valley play and must defeat Wichita Thanksgiving Day at Tulsa to tie North Texas for the championship. In other games, East Carolina is at Louisville Friday and Miami of Ohio at Cincy Saturday.

Controversy Still Stirring On Kennedy Assassination

NEW YORK (AP) Tuesday is the third anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., and the controversy surrounding his death continues.

Was the killer Lee Harvey Oswald? Did he act alone? Or was there a conspiracy involving one or more accomplices?

The special investigative commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren answered the first two questions with a firm yes, the third with a firm no.

These conclusions followed months of hearing hundreds of witnesses and examining a mountainous array of evidence.

But still pouring forth are books and magazine articles challenging both the commission's report and the adequacy of its investigation.

Life magazine, in this week's issue out today, said, "A new investigating body . . . should re-examine the evidence and consider other evidence the Warren Commission failed to evaluate."

The magazine said Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was riding with Kennedy and was wounded himself, was still certain that he and Kennedy were hit by two different bullets, not one as the Warren Commission determined.

So persistent are the attacks that in a Nov. 4 news conference President Johnson apparently left open a possibility that the circumstances of the assassination might be further explored — if important new evidence should be forthcoming.

Johnson said: "I know of no evidence that would in any way cause any reasonable person to have a doubt about the Warren Commission. But if there is any evidence that's brought forth, I'm sure that the commission and the appropriate authorities will take action that may be justified."

The Warren Commission report made this summation: "The shots which killed President Kennedy and wounded Gov. John B. Connally (of Texas) were fired by Lee Harvey Oswald. On the basis of the evidence before the commission, it concludes that Oswald acted alone."

The commission found that the rifle fire had come entirely from a window of the Texas School Book Depository Building. Critics of the commission insist there is reason to believe some shots were fired from elsewhere.

Attorney Mark Lane asserts in his book "Rush to Judgment" that at least seven witnesses said they had seen "a puff, or puffs, of white smoke" from behind a wooden fence which the presidential car was about to pass.

On that point the Warren report had this to say: "In contrast to the testimony of witnesses who heard and observed shots fired from the depository, the commission's investigation has disclosed no credible evidence that shots were fired from anywhere else."

Big Balloon Goes Aloft

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — German and American scientists launched a huge balloon Sunday in an experiment designed to photograph the solar surface and spectra on the sun's surface.

The balloon, filled with three million cubic feet of helium, carried a 2,800-pound instrument package aloft.

A co-sponsor of the project is the Fraunhofer Institute of Freiburg, Germany. The balloon was sent up from the National Center for Atmospheric Research located near Palestine, an East Texas city some 100 miles south of Dallas.

The principal director of the flight was Dr. K. O. Keipenheuer of Freiburg Scientists said the balloon was to come down near Alexandria, La., late Sunday or early Monday.

For thousands of years alcoholic beverages were known as "water of life."

Institutional Selling Tends To Play Havoc With Prices

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — On the very day that a meeting was under way on the growing power of institutional investors 25 per cent of the stock in a certain company was traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The amount was almost unbelievable. And it could only have occurred through trading by the big shareowners; that is, through activity of the institutions. Among these are mutual funds, pension funds, trusts.

The company, Fairchild Camera & Instrument Corp., has less than 3 million shares outstanding. More than 562,000 of them changed hands in a few hours Nov. 17. The price plunged $19.62 to $106.75.

About the same time, in an unrelated event, a speaker told the meeting on institutional investing that "apparently it is worrisome to the observers of the market to find we tend to buy and sell somewhat in unison."

The worry isn't confined to observers. It includes the exchanges, investment houses, federal officials and small investors. It includes as well the institutions, which have been proud of their role as stabilizers.

Such dips would have been considered amazing a few years ago, but big price changes became common this year. Among the reasons:

1. Institutional ownership is increasing. Fully one-third of all stock now listed is owned by institutions or trusts.

2. These institutions are trading more often than in the past. Official figures show the turnover rates for some have doubled in 10 years.

3. Institutions tend to congregate in certain stocks and often trade them at the same time. Considerable institution money this year has been invested in a well-known list of glamor stocks.

Declines may be caused by any very large fund unloading its shares at once. When institutions act in unison it can have a devastating effect. And, because they read the same storm signals, they may sell at the same time.

The mere selling by one institution can influence another. If a fund trader holds a certain stock he cannot ignore a sale of that stock by a competitor fund, for a sale might lower the price. Funds, therefore, watch each other.

"Our trading operation is an intelligence and counter intelligence operation," said the head of a very large mutual fund group privately.

"The name of the game today is to use money effectively at all times," he said. "All of us are members of analysts societies, and analysts trade information and judgments back and forth." But, he said, not the timing.

This becomes more important during the so-called performance mania. Institutions once held stocks for years. Now they trade in and out so that they can always show the best performance at any time.

Nobody can say for sure why selling commenced in Fairchild, but the decline began as rumors spread that prices might be cut in integrated circuits, one of the products that put Fairchild in the glamor category.

Other manufacturers were hurt also. Texas Instruments dropped more than $15 and Motorola more than $10. All make integrated circuits, miniaturized electronic units used in television sets and satellites.

Tremendous blocks were unloaded, one of them more than 100,000 shares. This could not have been accomplished by small traders, most of whom had not even heard the apparent reason for selling.

The "unison" activity generally is not as evident as stock is purchased, for it can be accumulated slowly. But when it is unloaded it is dropped with a rush. Timing is important. Quickness in acting is essential.

"The concrete information is on the sell side more often than on the buy side," said the mutual fund man. And frequently that sign is an indication that earnings might not be as good as anticipated.

The institutions can be stabilizers, especially when they slow a rapidly declining market. But they present problems too.

Idaho Youth Held For Fatal Shooting

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Alfredo Morino Jr., 19, of Nampa, Idaho, was charged with murder Sunday, police said, in the fatal shooting of Harry Lucas, 66, McAllen liquore store operator. Bond was set at $10,000.

Lucas staggered into a bar near his store Saturday night, said he was wounded, then died of a shot in the back.

Cactus Jack To Mark 98th Year

By ROBERT HEARD

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Cactus Jack Garner, the Texan who advanced highest in national politics until Dwight Eisenhower and Lyndon Johnson came along, will celebrate his 98th birthday here Tuesday.

Garner, former speaker of the House and vice president for two terms under Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will be honored with a party.

A bristling politician before his retirement in 1941, Garner still is known affectionately in this Southwest Texas town by his nickname, "Cactus Jack."

Tuesday's party is in honor of his birthday and also for his contributions to Uvalde's Southwest Texas Junior College. Students from the college will put on a short program at 10 a.m. under the giant live oak and pecan trees in front of Garner's home.

An elaborate cake for his birthday again will be baked by Walter Koenig of the Old Heidelburg Inn in San Antonio. Koenig is a personal friend and has made Garner's birthday cake for many years.

Garner's life has covered more than half of the 190 years since the Declaration of Independence was signed.

Garner was born Nov. 22, 1868 in Red River County, Texas, up in the northeast corner of the state. He came to the arid climate of Uvalde for his health as a young man.

He was elected county judge and served two terms in the Texas Legislature before his election to Congress in 1902.

The House named him speaker in 1931, and he made a bid for the Democratic nomination for president in 1932, finally settling for second place on a ticket with Roosevelt.

Garner and Roosevelt parted ways on the third term issue and on Roosevelt's Supreme Court appointments. Roosevelt picked Henry Wallace as his running mate, and Garner says he crossed the Potomac heading south, with no intention of ever returning. He never has.

Garner lives in a small house behind the brick mansion he built for his wife. After Mrs. Garner died in 1948, he gave the mansion to the city to be operated as a museum in her memory.

Performers Strike Averted

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP) — Two performers unions and four broadcasting networks reached a tentative contract agreement Sunday night, averting a strike threatened for midnight.

Negotiating sessions went on throughout the day and, at 9:15 p.m., federal mediator Abraham A. Desser announced a settlement.

The announcement indicated that the 17,500 members of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and the 18,000 members of the Screen Actors Guild would remain on the job pending membership votes.

There was no immediate comment from the two unions or the networks involved — the National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System, the American Broadcasting Co. and the Mutual Radio Network.

Terms of the settlement were not made public.

The old contracts between AFTRA and the networks expired at midnight last Tuesday. Talks were broken off early Wednesday but resumed Friday.

AFTRA had demanded that minimum pay be raised from $195 to $225 weekly for newsmen, $195 to $220 for staff announcers, and an additional $225 payment for on-camera appearances by newsmen.

The Guild sought an increase from $105 to $125 a day for performances by actors in commercials.

San Angelo Art Shows Old West

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Were it not for movies and television, Texas kids would never know the meaning of the word "saloon."

But until prohibition, saloons held a large place in American life. They were clubs for the males, often the only source of music and song except for hymnals. The variety of their furnishings and entertainment was endless.

Now it is against Texas law to call a place a "saloon." Places which sell alcoholic beverages are not allowed to use that term in their names.

Although some saloons were as discreet as a mortuary, others were as wild as the owner and the law enforcement officers allowed.

The wild places gave the name "saloon" a bad meaning in many minds, hence it may not be used in naming a lounge today.

A pictorial segment of the days when saloons were often respectable remains in San Angelo, although it is in danger of damage.

It is a mural covering the wall of the JJ Army Surplus Store in a building once occupied by the Arc Light Saloon which began busjness about 1890. At that time, San Angelo had 22 saloons. The building itself was built about 1870.

The Arc Light became very popular particularly for businessmen, and deals in cattle, sheep, real estate and insurance were made there daily.

The building has two stories. Drinking and gambling were carried on at street level, while above were pool tables or prostitutes, depending on which oldtimer recalls what.

After the Prohibition Amendment passed, the place became the Arc Light Drug Store and in 1940 Theo Alexander bought it and made it an extension of his cafe in the adjoining building.

M. C. Ragsdale was San Angelo's No. 1 photographer in the early days, and he gave Alexander an old tintype showing the bar and suggesting that a mural be painted.

Alexander commissioned an artist, his name no longer recalled here, to do the mural.

Alexander said the artist studied available photographs, memoried them and then painted the scene without referring again to the pictures.

The cafe owner said he obtained considerable business from persons coming to look at the mural.

The painting is on canvas which can be removed. It shows people dressed as farmers, ranchers, salesmen, cowboys, two floozies and a small boy perched on the bar.

Joe Mayer, member of a pioneer San Angelo family, said he was the boy. His father, Abe Mayer, and his uncle often took the boy with them when they visited the Arc Light.

Mayer says there are one or two inaccuracies in the mural. For one thing, women were not allowed in saloons by local custom no matter how low their virtue. And Mayer says no woman then smoked cigarettes, as one is shown doing.

Alexander sold his restaurant in 1962 but retained the building. He says he would be willing to give the mural to the local historical society or museum if they would pay for the removal and restoration of the wall behind the picture.

The mural is in danger now of being scratched or soiled in the normal transactions in the surplus store.

Vicar's Wife Favors New Image

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — When the shapely wife of the new minister showed up at the church youth club in a miniskirt, the boys besieged her with requests for dates.

They did not get them, but Judith Rydings, 23, had some new sounding things to say about preachers' wives.

"I see no reason why vicars' wives should be dowdy," Mrs. Rydings said. "I think the church must create a modern image.

"I want the teen-agers' confidence, and I think I'm getting it. I should add that I'm very flattered."

Her husband is the Rev. Donald Rydings of St. Mark's, an Anglican church in nearby Bourne End. Now serving as church missioner, he will be inducted as vicar next month.

With her miniskirt, pretty Mrs. Rydings wore black fishnet stockings studded with diamond designs and her dark hair cut in a short bob.

Her skirts were four inches above her knees.

In Britain, vicars' wives usually wear tweedy suits and pass around cucumber and watercress sandwiches at village fetes and garden parties

Not Mrs. Rydings.

She said her husband approves of her attitude.

He commented: "The image of a conventional vicar's wife is more in the minds of the people than anything else — and particularly in the minds of people who do not go to church very often."

Rail Mishap Kills Five

LOCKNEY, Tex. (AP)—Gala plans for a Thanksgiving week wedding were snuffed out in an instant when a Santa Fe freight train slammed into a car carrying seven young people Sunday.

Five persons, including the prospective bride, were killed. The other two occupants of the car suffered critical injuries.

The accident happened Sunday evening in the Texas Panhandle town of Lockney, some 80 miles southeast of Amarillo.

Jessie Salas, 17, of Lockney, and Teresa Islas, 15, of nearby Floydada, were to have been married today. Salas lay near death instead.

Killed besides Miss Islas were Emma Herrera, 17, of Lockney; Lidlia Cruz, 11, and her three-month-old sister, Norma, and Angelina Cruz, 13, all of Shallowater.

The other injured youth is John Herrera, 17, the husband of Emma Herrera.

Thief Settles For Half

DETROIT (AP) — A courteous bandit, trying for a $10 holdup, settled for $5, police reported.

He entered a cleaning store Friday and put a pen knife to the throat of Mrs. Erma Brown, 42.

"I'm desperate. I need $10," he said.

Mrs. Brown said she was scared at first but something about the youth, about 20, and wearing rumpled clothes, put her at ease.

"Well, why don't you only take $5," she said.

He carefully removed a $5 bill from the cash register, then asked for a pencil, and wrote down Mrs. Brown's name and address.

"I'll get it back to you," he said, and fled.
