LEAGUE ADOPTS FOUR POINT PROGRAM TO END WAR

GENEVA, Dec. 12 (UP)—The League Council tonight unanimously adopted a four point program designed to halt the Spanish civil war and aid Franco-British efforts to that end.

The program provides:

1. Member states must refrain from intervening in internal affairs of another.
2. League members participating in the non-intervention committee are urged to do their utmost to make the agreement effective.
3. Moral support is accorded Franco-British efforts to settle the strike which has torn Spain for 5 months.
4. Secretary General Joseph Avenol is instructed to lend the League's technical service to all humanitarian and reconstruction work in Spain.

SNOW HALTS ACTION IN SPAIN'S CIVIL WAR

MADRID, Dec. 12 (UP)—Loyalist positions in the network battalions Madrid were strengthened today as cold weather halted all fighting in the Spanish civil war.

Snow covered surrounding mountains and sent the temperature below freezing. A fresh fall of snow was expected to halt action in mountain sectors indefinitely.

Government military leaders were puzzled over delay in the expected push by rebel troops. They believed insurgent forces were awaiting reinforcement, especially motorized units.

EASTLAND COUNTY FARMERS BUY SEED IRISH POTATOES SATURDAY

About 60 farmers representing the cooperative potato buyers of this section, including Eastland county and parts of Brown county, gathered at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon and placed orders for certified potatoes numbering some 40,000 pounds which is expected to increase to two-car loads by the time the order is sent, said W. B. Starr in charge of the potato pool for the planters.

The price for Triumph cobbler, this year is much higher than last year. Prices for non-certified potatoes in 1935 were $1.70 per cwt. and $1.94 for certified stock, while this year quotes the mat $3.21 and $3.56 with 15c added for delivery from the car. The above prices are F. O. B. cars in Cisco.

Active control of the powerful Pendergast political organization in Missouri passed to James M. Pendergast, above, 41, when his uncle, Thomas J. Pendergast, long the dominant leader in the state Democratic party, withdrew because of illness. The older Pendergast, stricken during the Democratic national convention this year, will act as an advisor to his nephew.

'STRONG MAN' OF CHINA DETAINED BY REVOLTERS

NANKING, China, (Sunday) Dec. 13 (UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek "strong man" of the National government here, was reported "detained" today by the youthful Marshall Chang Hsueh-liang at the latter's headquarters in Hensi province in far western China.

Dispatches from the provincial section of China's western province said the army of Marshall Chang were in revolt.

The young general was said to have issued a manifesto demanding the restoration of war on Japan and restoration of Manchuria, which he formerly ruled.

General Chiang was reported to have been holding a war council when 3,000 of Marshall Chang's troops mutinied against their leader.

They arrested Chiang and took him inside the capital where he is detained.

Two Great Games Played Saturday

Football fans had two thrilling games to listen to Saturday when 100 won from Santa Clara in San Francisco, Calif., by a score of 9 to 0, and Amarillo won the right to go into the semi-finals next week by defeating Abilene by a top heavy score of 46 to 13.

TCU Frogs battled Santa Clara gridsters in a nip and tuck battle until late in the second quarter, neither side scoring until Sam Baugh slung a beautiful pass that started the Texans on the rampage. Two more fings beautifully placed took the ball across the goal line and the kicked ball went wide to leave the score 6 to 0 in favor of the Texans.

In vain the Californians tried to rally but to no avail and a field goal put the Frogs on a safe footing for the remainder of the game.

Kimborough for the Abilene Eagles, was hurt early in the game and though he re-entered the game, the Eagles were unable to hold the Sandies who showed a marvel of power seldom seen in a high school team.

It had been conceded that the winner of the Saturday tilt at Abilene would have heavy odds for the state championship as no other teams in the state are rated to compare with these two teams of the west.

TEXAS OLD AGE TO GET CHECKS FOR CHRISTMAS

AUSTIN, Dec. 12 (UP)—Texas' old folks on state pension rolls will receive checks for Christmas.

Notice was received today by Chairman Claude Teer, chairman of the Board of Control that the state loan from a Dallas bank has been approved and that $735,000 in federal funds have been earmarked for December use.

Checks already were written and will go out at once.

Under the new arrangements, two checks are required for each pension. One is for the state's share, which will be redeemed by the Dallas bank making the loan. The other will be for the federal social security's board share.

PUBLIC WELFARE BILL READY FOR APPROVAL

AUSTIN, Dec. 12 (UP)—A bill providing for the creation of a state department of public welfare to absorb the division of child welfare, the Texas relief commission and the division of child welfare of the Board of Control today was approved by the Texas Planning Board Government committee.

The bill now goes to the planning board for final approval.

Jaycees Program Here Monday Night

After Judge Clyde Garrett had announced that his presence in Washington would preclude his attending the Jaycees banquet Sunday night, he later says he will attend, at which time he and state and federal representatives would have something to say at the meeting after they, with local men, had examined the proposed park site in the canyon just north of the city, some time during the afternoon.

The revival of the dormant park project which has not been actively pushed since early in the year is timely and has a fair chance of attention at the beginning of plans for the work of the new year, and Ciscoans who have the project at heart are leaving no stones unturned to bring the matter to the attention of Mr. Garrett and the park board representatives, Wendell Mayes and W. P. Ayres.

At this meeting, the "Buy It in Cisco" move will also come up for attention and Cisco's infant industries will be introduced through their representatives at the banquet.

Two Great Games Played Saturday

Those who also attended the Dallas state meeting beside Fisher were his secretary, Miss Louise Johnson; George I. Lane, county supervisor; Mrs. Madge Waggoner, county home supervisor. The county office is also located at Eastland. United States Senator Tom Connally of Merlin was one of the principal speakers at the Dallas meet. D. P. Trent, regional director, and V. R. Smith, state director, were others who took prominent parts in the program.

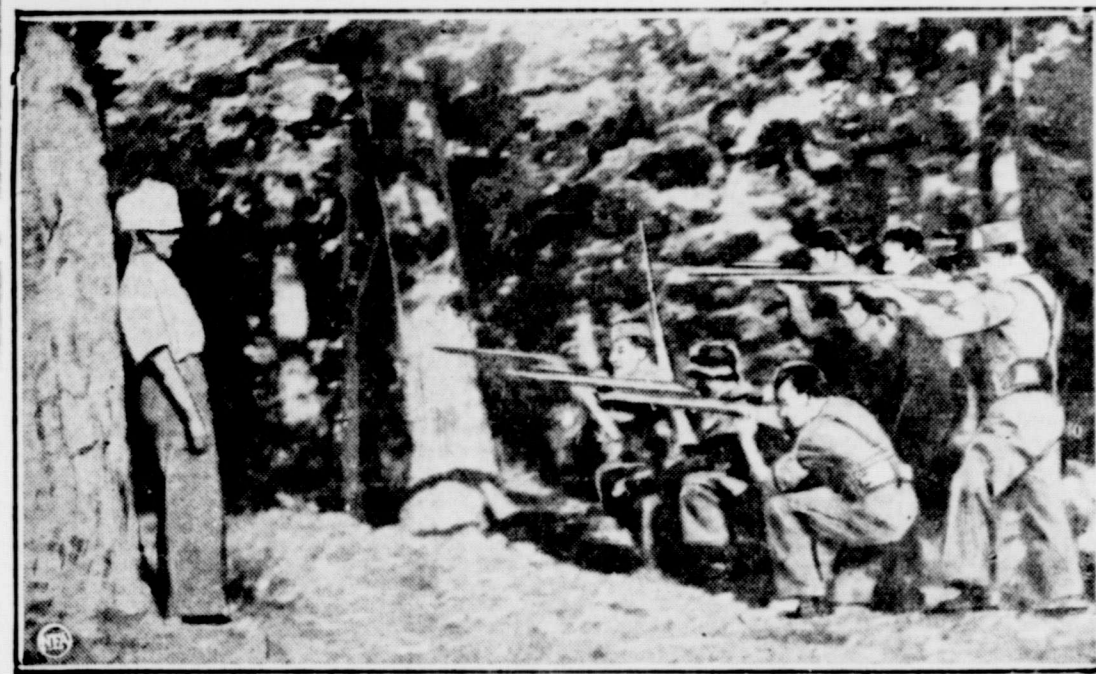

LIONS TO HAVE REGULAR MEAL AT NOON HOUR

Owing to the fact that District Governor Covey of Lions clubs in District 2-E will not be able to attend the meeting arranged as his official visit to the Cisco club next Wednesday night, and since the meeting at that time would conflict with other local event, the gathering for the evening will be abandoned and the Lions will have their regular luncheon at noon next Wednesday, Lion S. H. Nance announced Saturday.

The revised district in which Eastland is located will be composed of the following counties: Taylor, Jones, Seary, Garza, Mitchell, Hood, Somerell, Erath, Comanche, Fisher, Nolan, Callahan, Brown, Coleman and Johnson. The last three counties are transfers from other districts.

JAYCEES GIVE MORE TURKEYS ON SATURDAY

The Jaycees continued their good will trade gesture Saturday by throwing ten turkeys again on the business streets to whoever might be able to catch them. As was the case last Saturday, the event was quiet and orderly with no quarreling or roughness apparent. This time one lady and one very old man secured turkeys.

Noah Fowler, Edward Lee and Fire truck driver, Garrett, with the assistance of the police department, conducted the event.

The good will gesture will continue next Saturday, it was said when ten more turkeys will be thrown.

Winners at Saturday's throwing were, Garland Lassater, Warren Bachus, Elias Watley, Bob Hazelwood and Earl Fry drew a tie on the fourth turkey and they made a division, Jess Simmons, L. E. Johnston, Cris Summerman, Richard Schaefer and Mrs. Jim Dillon.

Adult Art School Holds First Bazaar

The adult art school bazaar held Saturday in the Allen Music Company building near the Laguna hotel reported a good business and will probably remain open throughout the week, said Mrs. Lee Humphreys, teacher of the art school which has an excellent enrollment of 53 students.

As a feature attraction at the bazaar Saturday afternoon Mrs. A. L. Thomas had her 16-piece orchestra play from 2 o'clock until 3.

These ladies of the adult school have a large assortment of different art pieces on display and they say the prices are very reasonable.

SEVENTH WEEK OF GULF STRIKE; NO PROGRESS FOR SETTLEMENT

HOUSTON, Dec. 12 (UP)—Marine strike on the gulf coast, grown tense within the past three days, entered its seventh week tonight with little progress made toward settlement.

Almost 300 men were held in jail at Beaumont today after wholesale arrest to prevent striking seamen from picketing in the Sabine district. They were charged with contempt for violating an anti-picketing court order.

Frequent outbreaks of violence have caused police and Texas Rangers to sharpen their vigilance in Port Arthur, Houston, Galveston, and Neches.

'UGE 'CRACKER' WHEN EXPLODED JARS WINDOWS

Many Cisco people were inquiring Saturday morning if a vault had been blown or just what the cause of the blast was that shook windows just before 10 o'clock Friday night.

It develops that it was a huge fire cracker, known as No. 30 which was set on the vacant lot near the West Texas Utilities company that caused the commotion.

In discussing the matter Fire Marshall Gustafson says that such fire works exploded in the fire district are contrary to a city ordinance and that owing to the fire hazard of such fire works are prohibited and strict enforcement will be made. He urges that those who are inclined to use big crackers first see the police department in order that they save themselves the unpleasantness of arrest and punishment.

Lon Smith's term as commissioner will expire in 1940 and he remarked that he was not running for reelection yet.

TOWN CAN'T KEEP BURGERS

NEW HOLLAND, Pa. (UP)—This town has gone several months without a burgess, because nobody can be found who wants the $25 a year job. The last burgess was Dr. W. F. GEORGE VI PROCLAIMED RULER OF BRITISH EMPIRE

LONDON, Dec. 12 (UP)—King George VI was proclaimed ruler of the British Empire today and announced as his first official act the naming of his brother Edward as Duke of Windsor.

The dukedom will take precedence over Edward's title of prince, and the man, who until Friday was England's king, will be known officially as His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor. If he marries, his wife will be the Duchess of Windsor.

Edward reached Bulogne on the French coast aboard the British destroyer Fury and departed for Switzerland by train tonight, presumably going to Zurich. He can return at will, but said in his farewell radio address Friday night that it may be a long time.

In London, the king was proclaimed in public by the Royal Herald with traditional pomp.

The coronation ceremony will be May 12.

Rain from a dull sky failed to prevent tens of thousands from crowding the route taken by the proclamation pageant. Thousands literally forced King George's car to halt as he arrived at his Piccadilly residence after watching the ritual.

The king waved his hat; his little daughter and her presumptive Princess Elizabeth waved a handkerchief as the crowd resounded to several minutes before the king walked into his house.

The new king plunged directly into work at Buckingham Palace after the ceremonies were over.

Employees Urged to Fill Out Blanks

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 12.—Employees throughout the States of Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico today were urged to fill out application forms for social security accounts and return them to post offices not later than December 15 by Regional Director Oscar M. Powell. "All employees in the fields of commerce and industry who have not already done so should file their applications in accordance with the December 15 deadline as the first step in the maintenance of a wage record account for each of them under the system of federal old-age benefits," Powell declared.

Explaining that the time extension for filing applications was granted because of the many requests for information received from employees and the time required to answer these requests, Powell said one of the common questions raised in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico is in connection with names to be used in filling out applications.

Employees should use the name by which they are known on the pay roll of their employer, Powell said, "and any evidence or statement believed necessary to explain a difference between a pay-roll name and the name as shown by vital records should be either attached to application cards or forwarded separately to the Wage Records office of the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Maryland."

Employees who have not received applications from their employers were advised to apply for an account number application card at their local post offices and fill it out as soon as possible.

Employees are urged to fill out every space on the form, writing the word "unknown" in any space for which requested information is not available.

WEST TEXAS: "The Land of Opportunity"

Remember Now Thy Creator In the Days of Thy Youth"

What was it that created the West Texas we live in?

In one word it was freedom—religious, political, economic. As is true of all America, it is fruition of the declaration that every man could progress as far and climb as high as his own capabilities could carry him.

That was an inspiration to unrelenting ambition and set imagination ablaze.

It sent the bold to conquer the wilderness. It spurred the resourceful to conquer drudgery. It loosed the greatest era of invention, discovery, initiative, enterprise and accomplishment that the world has ever seen.

Let us look now at the fruits of free and far-sighted enterprise in West Texas.

With barely one-sixth of the state's population, the people of this area have created and now own more than one-third the state's wealth.

In little more than a half century, this courage and freedom to dare and do has increased tenfold the wealth produced by the region in the hundreds of centuries that went before.

And who enjoys this wealth today?

The 70 thousand families who live in West Texas, most of whom own their own homes, their own automobiles and their own radios.

"For what avail the plough or sail, or land or life, if freedom fail?"—RALPH WALDO EMERSON

Nowhere in the Southwest is the standard of living as high as in West Texas today—a far cry from the covered wagon era when a pewter spoon was the greatest of luxuries.

If we need more evidence, look at hungry millions of immigrants in the East whose frantic cries bespeak the loss of economic freedom. Look at the flood of Americans to West Texas where the population has increased 176% in the last 25 years.

Natural resources in West Texas have barely been touched for industrial purposes. There abides in its mountainous districts and fertile valleys sufficient petroleum to supply the whole nation for many years. Metallic and non-metallic minerals are to be exploited. Also building stone and rare earths and clays. There are mountains of marble and granite.

Timber, salt, coal, lignite, silica, glass sand, gypsum, gold, silver, copper, lead, granite and talc are all found within the boundaries of West Texas.

The greatest cotton-producing region in the world, free from boll weevils, is in West Texas. Wheat, corn, oats, barley, milo maize and kaffir are flourishing crops. Cattle, sheep and goats thrive on countless thousands of acres of pastureland untouched by plow. Vegetables and fruits, poultry and dairy products, are commercial crops of the first magnitude.

What reasonable person, beholding such an array of assets, can question the benefits to the average person brought about by freedom to grow with West Texas? To what government or plan could you turn for anything which could sensibly hope to match these visible rewards of freedom to produce, to consume—to live and work?

It is natural and perhaps inevitable that any region which makes such growth as West Texas has made in the last 50 years should have growing pains. We have all felt those pains in recent years.

But keep in mind that West Texas is still young—keep in mind the causes for its progress. Given free play, those forces which underlie its greatness—the forces of imagination and energy and courage sired by freedom—will push to the surface once more.

And anyone who has witnessed the resistless power of their combination must recognize in them the real hope and promise of sound recovery and a new advance.

The New Electrified Home Should Be The Model West Texas Home

The New American Home is practical because the West Texas Utilities Company HAS PROVIDED low rates.

Its water heater is operated at a cost of ONE CENT per kilowatt hour during idle periods.

The cost of operating electric range amounts to only 2 1-2 cents a kilowatt hour.

Buy More—Pay Less is an old adage in the business world. The housewife today, the wholesaler, the retailer . . . each buys comparatively large orders in order to secure a discount.

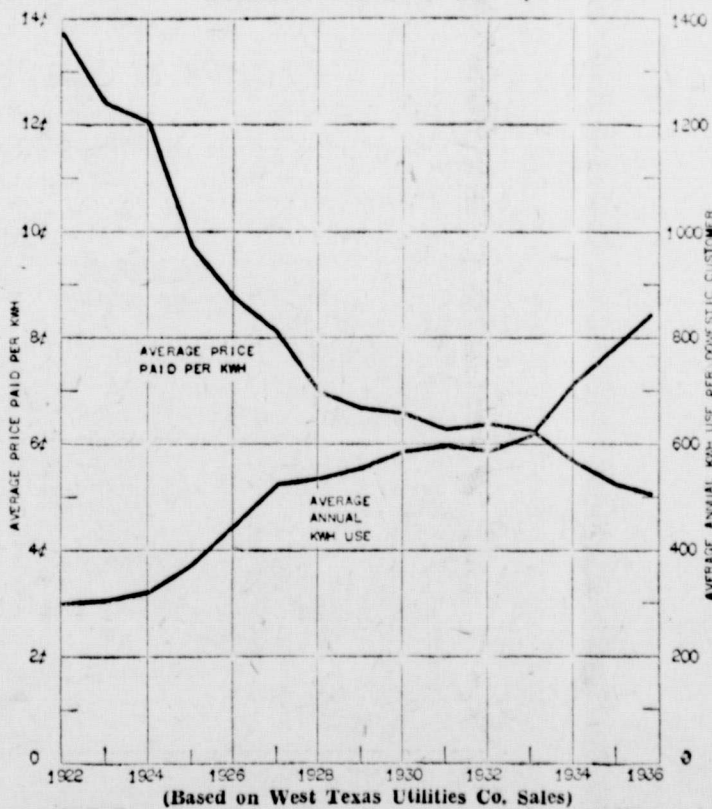

Electric service, although intangible, is a commodity as vital as groceries, clothing or gasoline for the family car.

Twenty-five pounds of sugar cost more per pound than 100 pounds.

Buy More Electricity Pay Less

Average Rates Tumble As Consumption Soars

Chart Shows Kilowatt Hour Rate in 1922 Was 11c; Drops to 5.2 in 1936 as Usage Increases to 821 KWH Annually

IT'S PRACTICAL NOW! The More Electric Service You Use, The Less It Costs

Twenty-five kilowatt hours of electric service cost more per kwh than 50 kilowatt hours!

Just that fast does the West Texas Utilities Company's discount take effect. The second 25 kwh's cost 26 per cent less than the first 25.

Every kilowatt used in excess of 50 kwh costs 53 per cent less than the first 25 kwh used—unless a residence has also electric range service; then, any kilowatt hours used in excess of 50 kwh in the household costs 66 2-3 less than in the first 25 kwh bracket.

This discount is based on the two larger cities served by the company. It is even larger in the smaller cities and communities.

ON TEXAS FARMS

"My contoured land has paid me big returns this year," is the testimony of J. S. Pollard of the Stegall community in Bailey county. "I planted my sudan partly on contoured acreage and partly on land not contoured. The sudan on the contoured acreage made 310 pounds to the acre while the other only made 190 pounds to the acre." Pollard plans to terrace.

"Some of the water ran off of my contoured land and I can save it all with terraces," he said to the Bailey county agricultural agent, J. B. Waide, Jr.

G. T. Colgrove of Skellytown in Carson county harvested his second crop from terraced land in October. Colgrove, who is a real terracing enthusiast, was one of the first men to do any terracing in Carson county. He began with 80 acres in the fall of 1928 and is terracing the remainder as rapidly as possible. M. F. Leaning, Carson county agricultural agent, reports that Mr. Colgrove keeps good records on his farm operations and can convince anyone that terracing on the plains is a paying proposition.

A 65-acre field of cowpeas was grown in 1936 as a soil conserving crop by W. B. Atkinson, a tenant farmer in Coleman county. The peas made a mass of vines two feet deep and produced a good crop of peas which Mr. Atkinson harvested by turning in his 250 turkeys. The vines were then turned under as a soil builder. There are 1,500 Coleman county farmers who are cooperating in the agricultural conservation program by planting crops which enrich the soil and check erosion and by terracing and contouring their fields and pastures. This work is being done under the supervision of county agricultural agent, C. V. Robinson.

In the spring of 1926 P. S. Goen assumed duties of county agricultural agent in Sabine county. He found only one terracing level in the county and that one was in bad shape. Very little interest was manifest in terracing by farmers then, but demonstration terracing, promoting 4-H boys' club work, holding terracing schools for both 4-H boys and adults, aroused much interest.

In 1930 forty farms, a total of 3,200 acres were terraced. In 1931 sixty seven farms of 4,000 acres. In 1932 sixty nine farms of 3,700 acres, and so on. As an indication of the increased interest there are now at least ten levels owned by farmers who are fully qualified to run terracing lines.

SAN MARCOS—The organization of the Hays county dairy herd improvement association has been announced by Agricultural Agent Jack Williams of Hays county. Indications are that 16 herds totaling more than 200 head of dairy cows will go on test.

AUSTIN—Travis county 4-H club boys who carried on demonstration in the variety cotton work this year are following up on their demonstrations by preparing boards on which are placed combed samples of their own cotton in conjunction with samples of cotton raised by their fathers, according to T. H. Royder, county agricultural agent. The boards are attracting considerable attention throughout the county.

WAXAHACHIE—A very successful demonstration in cotton growing has been completed by James Toome, member of the Forrester 4-H boys' club, according to J. W. Wilson, assistant county agricultural agent of Ellis county. James had 5 1/2 acres planted to cotton and produced slightly over 500 pounds of lint cotton per acre. His net profit on the demonstration was $374.16 and well above the average for his community.

DENTON—For many years Gus H. Egan of Denton county has carried on demonstrations on interplanting corn with cowpeas, and has convinced his neighbors of the value of this practice.

"You caused me to get 9 1/2 bushels more corn per acre when you talked me into planting every third row to peas," R. D. Sims told Egan recently.

Sims interplanted peas with corn on 3 1/2 acres and did not interplant on a six acre adjoining plot, according to G. R. Brown, county agricultural agent. He gathered an extra 54 bushels on the smaller plot.

CORSICANA—Last spring Elizabeth Finch, fruit plot demonstrator of the Purley 4-H girls' club, took over the responsibility of her family's fruit plot. The orchard consisted of six peach, four pear, and one plum tree, all of which she cared for and pruned. In addition she planted pecan and peach seed and now has four pecan trees and four peach trees to move to her orchard.

Elizabeth reported to Miss Ruth McNabb, home demonstration agent of Navarro county, that her family had all the peaches and pears they could eat fresh, and some left over to can.

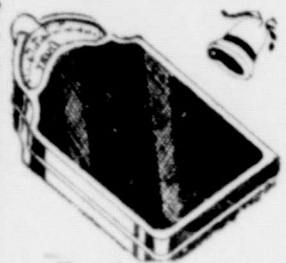

BRENNHAM—Washington county 4-H club girls have an average of eight vegetables growing in their gardens, according to Miss Mildred Tomme, county home demonstration agent, and 61 members are keeping records on their gardens. In the Washington county fair, 67 members of girls' 4-H clubs exhibited canned goods.

CHEAP LAND BOUGHT
SAN JOSE, Cal. (U.P.)—Robert Cimino had the honor of buying the cheapest land ever sold in this county—five parcels for a total of $3. But Judge W. P. James was unable to give him the exact amount of back taxes assessed against the land.

PALACE TODAY

Tall, dark and handsome Warren William has the unenviable job of keeping Mae West from romancing in "Go West Young Man," the curvaceous star's latest comedy, which begins today at the Palace Theatre.

MAE WEST HAS UNIQUE "WISECRACK TECHNIQUE"

Humorous writers and comedians, so the story goes, are usually pretty morose people because it's a tough life being funny. But Mae West, who rates as one of America's greatest comedians, has a method all her own in creating humor—and you may be assured it doesn't make her morose.

Miss West relies almost entirely upon situations which arise during the filming of her pictures to furnish cues for wisecracks and that's one of the reasons they fit so snugly into the action, are timed so perfectly and are "pulled" for what they are worth and not a second longer.

This fact is noticeable almost immediately in "Go West Young Man," her latest comedy, in which she appears with Warren William, Randolph Scott, Lyle Talbot and others, which begins today at the Palace Theatre. "Go West Young Man" is full of wisecracks and funny situations which never appeared in the script, and they got into the picture mainly because the curvaceous star thought them up on the spur of the moment. And it has been noticeable in her past pictures too.

For instance, the line, "Peel me a grape," which became one of America's favorite wisecracks after Mae introduced it in "She Done Him Wrong," came about in this way. Miss West had a pet monkey who would not eat grapes unless the skins were removed. Miss West thought this amusing, and in a spot where the script called for her to look bored and nothing else, she injected the line—and it stuck.

In a sequence of "Go West Young Man," Warren William, her present agent, is trying to get her mind off Henry Scott. He hands her an old-fashioned stereopticon. It so happened that there was a picture of Sitting Bull in the apparatus.

"H-m said Mae, 'not bad for a guy who has been sitting all his life.'"

That line, too, stayed in the picture.

Known in the trade as "ad-libbing," this injecting of wisecracks while a picture is being made is not only rare but, in many cases, specifically forbidden, since a sour joke cracked by the actor during the filming might involve expensive retakes. But Miss West is allowed free rein in this matter. She can butt into the action whenever she wants to because she knows how to do it. The result is a much funnier and more alive picture than called for in the original script.

Chevrolet Tips on Winter Driving

Modern cars are engineered for year-round operation, and the driver who takes advantage of the refinements which they embody can achieve a degree of security and comfort equal to that which he enjoys in warmer weather. With this statement as its introduction a bulletin issued this week by Chevrolet points out to motorists several ways of reducing winter driving hazards.

The principal source of such hazards, says the bulletin, is poor traction, caused by snow and ice on the pavement. Under such conditions, safe driving depends on developing a technique which avoids sudden moves of any kind, since sliding, wheel-spinning, and skidding are all the result of too-abrupt application either of the power or of the brake.

Following are some of the important rules motorists should follow:

"Let the clutch in gently as you start the car. Give the engine only enough gas to prevent stalling as the clutch takes hold. The object of this is to apply the power to the rear wheels so gradually that they will take hold and propel the car forward, rather than spin on the ice.
The same rule holds good once the car is in motion. Both acceleration and deceleration should be gradual rather than abrupt.

"A good driver uses second speed extensively in stopping in approaching intersections and in turning corners. With the synchro-mesh transmission, it is simple and easy to shift to a lower speed and keep perfect control of your car at all times. Another point which good drivers generally observe is to leave the car in gear when slowing down, so the engine may act as a brake.

"Cultivate the habit of giving other drivers ample notice of your intentions to stop or turn. Even though your ability to stop your own car quickly is not in question, the driver behind you may need more space in which to slow down.
Be especially careful to signal when pulling out of line, remembering that traffic in the lane you are entering has the same surface conditions to contend with and can not always make a sudden stop.

"The car wheels should never be permitted to spin at a rate faster than the speed of the car. This applies to both starting and straightaway driving. Spinning wheels may cause a dangerous skid and moreover, if they suddenly come into contact with a spot of dry pavement, terrific strain is thrown on the propeller shaft and rear axle, which may cause damage to your car.

"Adequate visibility, always of the utmost importance at any time, is assured in winter by the use of defrosting units which are available in several forms at moderate cost. Chains aid traction in snow, but should not be relied upon to take the place of sensible driving as a guard against skidding.

"Besides making for greater safety these simple suggestions will prolong the life of any car, if followed the year 'round. It is hardly necessary to add that such units as tires and brakes should be kept in proper repair and adjustment the year 'round."
