Highway 80 Blockade

This caterpiller tractor toppled from the trailer of a truck at the intersection of 2nd St. (U. S. Highway 80) and Hickory St. (State Highway 208) Tuesday morning tieing up traffic for over 30 minutes. Work to upright the massive piece of machinery is shown starting here. No one was injured in the accident although the tractor and the truck hauling it, shown at left, were damaged. City Patrolman Selma Dickson is shown at right observing the operations while directing traffic.

SERIOUS DAMAGES AVOIDED

Caterpillar Topples From Truck; Blocks City Traffic

The dumping of a huge caterpillar tractor in the middle of 2nd St. (U. S. Highway 80) was only 1 of the accidents Colorado City Police had to investigate this week.

The most unusual of the accidents happened at 10 a. m. Tuesday when a large trailer truck turned the corner at Hickory St. (State Highway 208) and 2nd St. and tossed the heavy tractor into the middle of the street.

Wilson W. Mays of Pampa was driving the truck south on Hickory St. when his brakes began to fail. Mays turning east to the left as bottom of the hill, instead of turning eas to the left as planned, as a last-minute safety measure.

The truck and trailer whipped around the corner and tossed the heavy, unanchored tractor into the middle of the street in front of Pick-and-Pay-Grocery and Greyhound Bus station.

The caterpillar landed on its left side and cracked pavement where it fell. Street damages were minor. Damages to the piece of machinery were estimated at about $225.

Bert Talmadge Fincher of Abilene was driving past the intersection in a 1961 Chevrolet at the time of the accident. His auto sustained minor damage, estimated at only $10, to its paint.

The truck was not damaged, but the left front tire was destroyed by the sliding. Its worth was estimated at $225.

Blight Damages County's Cotton

A disease, identified this week as "Ascochyta Blight," is damaging Mitchell County's cotton crops.

The disease, commonly called "wet weather blight," has inflicted heavy damages to county cotton stands — especially to the newer stands of crops just recently replanted.

Mitchell County Agent Jack Burkhalter reports that the disease was officially identified this week by himself and Dr. Harlan Smith, Extension Service Plant Pathologist. The 2 were in conference early in the week concerning the problem.

The killing effects of the disease continued in the county until last week, Burkhalter reports. Older cotton was affected to some extent almost 100 per cent, he states, but fields replanted and others just coming out were hardest hit by the plant killing blight.

The situation is more of a complex disease rather than strictly wet weather blight, he states, since bacterial blight and seedling diseases are also affecting much of the cotton.

The prolonged period of wet and cool weather was ideal for the development of seedling disease and ascochyta blight, Burkhalter notes. These, along with wind dam-

Retiring Fire Chief

Eual Henderson makes his last inspection of 1 of Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department's trucks as department chief. Henderson retired from the local department last week after 26 years of service with the organization and after serving as chief of the department in 1958 and 1960. Henderson is manager of Southland Ice Company here.

Aged Father Of Loraine Woman Dies

Funeral services for Henry Nunn Davis, 86, father of Mrs. R. R. Wagoner of Loraine, were conducted Sunday afternoon in Ballinger.

The services were conducted in the First Methodist Church in Ballinger with burial in Glen Cove Cemetery in Coleman County.

Davis, a Ballinger resident for the past 3 years, died at 6 p. m. Saturday in Loraine. He was a resident of Glen Cove for many years before moving to Ballinger.

Davis was born Feb. 13, 1875, in San Marcos. He was married to Miss Margaret Andrews there on Dec. 5, 1894. She died Jan. 14 of this year.

Other survivors are 4 daughters, Mrs. Mabel Beeman of Abilene, Mrs. D. D. Daniel of Abilene, Mrs. W. E. Bush of Ballinger and Mrs. W. W. Smith of Ballinger; 4 sons, Herman Davis of Ballinger, Ralph Davis of Paint Rock, Edgar Davis of Abilene and Homer Davis of Glen Cove.

Equalization Board To Convene in July

Mitchell County Commissioners will convene at 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 11, as a Board of Equalization for all county properties except oil and utility properties.

All county citizens who have had tax adjustments or new taxes levied may appear before the board. They will be notified by mail.

The Commissioners 2 weeks ago convened as a Board of Equalization for county oil and utility properties.

AFTER 26 YEARS

Eual Henderson Quits Fire Post

Eual Henderson ended 26 years of service here with Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department last week.

Henderson's voluntary retirement marked an end to an era that started here in 1935 when he went to work for the city as a fire department truck driver.

Henderson is presently the manager of the Southland Ice Co. plant here at 101 Oak St. He has worked for Southland since 1935 also.

He stepped down last week from the post of Fire Chief in the local fire fighting group. He served the department as chief for the past 2 years, 1958 and 1960, and all of its other offices.

Henderson came to Mitchell County in 1913 from his native Brown County. He farmed in the area southwest of Colorado City until 1934.

He and his family moved to Colorado City at that time. Henderson and his wife now reside at 842 E. 6th St.

Henderson's real hobby is the fire fighting business. The veteran of many fire fighting activities would rather talk about the Colorado City Fire Department and what it means to the city than about himself.

But he did list his grandchildren as his favorite hobby. The 4 children of his daughter Mrs. Virginia Standifer are Glenn 11, Kathy 10, Danny 8, and Perry 4.

"I've had quite a great time. It's been a great job, but there is little time for

Police Put Speedy End to Man's Flight

5 Minutes from Notice to Capture

Catching a wanted man may take police departments 5 years or 5 minutes—depending upon the circumstances.

But apprehending a wanted out-of-town suspect is considered a hit-and-miss possibility and certainly not something to be cleared up in just 5 minutes.

But that was all the time Colorado City Police Department needed Wednesday from the time of report of a warrant on a man believed traveling through Colorado City until the suspect was in custody.

All it took was a few radio messages and the keen eye of a city patrolman.

Slaton law enforcement officials relayed a radio message, through Snyder, that a 28-year-old former resident wanted in Austin had made a telephone call from Robert Lee and was thought to be traveling through Colorado City on his way to Slaton.

The report and the license number of the suspect's car were immediately broadcast to City Patrolman Selma Dickson.

Minutes lafer as Dickson drove north on Hickory St. (Highway 208) to set up a look out at the north city limits, he glanced in his rear view mirror and spotted the

New Oiler, New Site for This County

Mitchell County has a new oiler in the Iatan-East Howard field and a new site was staked in the Westbrook (Clear Fork) field.

A. L. Holley and Other No. 1 T. L. McKenney pumped 20 barrels of 26.6 gravity oil, with 75 per cent water, on initial potential to become the county's first producer in months.

The new oiler bottomed at 3,367 feet and 4½-ich casing was set at 3,310 feet.

Pay was picked at 2,730 feet and perforations are between 2,745 feet and 3,285 feet. The oil-gas ratio was nil.

The new producer is C SE SE SW, section 46-29, T&P

New City Maps Available At Bank, Hotel, Chamber

Colorado City has new city maps.

Three thousand copies of a map of the city were delivered today (Thursday) to the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce office.

The maps will be available for use by citizens, businessmen, tourists and new residents Friday at the Chamber office, Baker Hotel and City National Bank.

The maps, reprints of an earlier issue, were produced by the Chamber's Promotion and Information Committee, chairmaned by Porter Richardson, in cooperation with City National Bank.

The maps were re-printed as an economy measure, Richardson said, due to the fact entirely new maps will be required once the Interstate 20 (U. S. Highway 80) freeway is completed around Colorado City.

The 14 by 17-inch maps are imprinted with a "Courtesy of City National Bank" at the bottom. The bank sponsored the re-printing.

Richardson also reported that his committee planned to set up an information center here in the near future. It will assist both out-of-town persons and local citizens in finding specific sites in the city and also furnish general information about Colorado City, he stated.

Daniel is presently in Hawaii attending a governor's conference and Ramsey is also out of the state on official business.

3 CHARGED HERE

Credit Card Trail Leads to Suspects

Use of a stolen gasoline company credit card left Mitchell County Lewis Claxton a clear but winding trail to follow to 3 suspects.

The chase, which led from this county to Wichita Falls, to Lubbock, to Big Spring, to Sterling City and, finally, to San Antonio, ended this week with the arrest of 3 suspects.

Charges of misdemeanor theft were filed this week against the suspected leader of the trio in Mitchell County Court. Charged was Willie Joe Huff of San Antonio.

Huff's bond was set at $1,000 by County Judge Elmer Martin after he entered a plea of not guilty. Huff is also facing a charge of forgery in Sterling City for use of the stolen credit card, Claxton reported.

Huff's companions, Geraldine Bush and Forrest Dillworth, both of Big Spring, appeared before Martin today (Thursday) also on a charge of misdemeanor theft. They too entered pleas of not guilty and Martin set bond at $1,000 for each.

The chase by Claxton and his department, assisted by County Attorney Frank Ginzel, started the third week in April.

Mrs. W. A. Alexander of the Alexander's Store near Cuthbert reported at the time the theft of her wallet conaining a credit card and $20 in cash.

The statewide search resulted with the credit card, through its use, leaving "footprints" for Claxton and his department to follow over the wide West Texas area and on into the San Antonio area.

Huff was arrested in San Antonio Friday. Claxton reported that the credit card was torn up and thrown into a river in San Antonio just prior to Huff's arrest.

Bush and Dillworth were apprehended in Big Spring Monday.

Arrest is nothing new to the trio, Claxton reported. All are "2-time losers" with Huff having a record of many and extensive engagements with law enforcement officials, the sheriff said.

Summer Fun

Pictures above might illustrate the different opinions boys and girls have of summer fun as the group of girls chat over their craft work and the boys run for the pool table and ping pong. This is part of the summer program work at the Community Center on 10th St. Youngsters above are included in the Jr. High and elementary group but the program also includes younger children and high school group. There is a total of about 150 youth in the combined group and the program is still open to those who missed out on the earlier part, Mrs. Weldon Rives, director, said.

Farm Pond Swimming Is Dangerous

To youngsters, summertime is swimming time.

This is especially true of rural children, many of whom have a convenient farm pond available. Unfortunately, many of these swimming excursions end in tragedy. All too often you read stories about children drowning while swimming in a farm or ranch pond.

Jack Burkhalter, Mitchell County Agent, says most of the drownings that occur in farm ponds could be prevented if a few simple safety precautions were taken.

The first thing to remember is to never let anyone, adult or child, swim alone. Children should never, under any circumstances, be allowed to play alone anywhere near the pond.

It is also a good idea to keep life preservess handy, and to insist that non-swimmers wear them when playing in the pond. "Life preservers do not mean plastic bags," Burkhalter warns. Although a plastic bag will support a person when inflated, they puncture very easily.

Simple rescue equipment should also be kept at the pond. A long lightweight pole is very good for reaching swimmers in trouble.

Another item that should be available is a length of light, strong rope. This rope should be at least as long as the pond is wide at its widest point. A lightweight float attached to the end of the rope will help if you want to throw it to a person in distress.

Most ponds already have one good piece of rescue equipment — a small boat. If your pond does not, it would be a good idea to get one if at all possible.

July 23-29 is Farm Safety Week, and Burkhalter points out that making the farm pond a safe recreational area would be an excellent way to start preparing for it.

C-City Youth In Summer Schools Here

There are now 38 students enrolled in Colorado High summer school, Supt. Frank Wilson said this week.

The total number of those enrolled include 8 in world history; 8 in American History; 10 in Civics; and 12 in English.

Students are allowed to make up to 1½ credits for summer work but English is only offered to make-up students.

EVA'S

By The Way...

By PAULINE CORNUTT

Millions of laborers and workmen throughout the nation are looking forward with anticipation to next Tuesday as a special holiday . . . the fourth of July.

Maybe a few of the mothers are still planning from last year's experiences how they are going to keep their youngsters from playing with firecrackers . . . and I imagine there are some fathers who might be thinking about spending a lazy day fishing . . . or helping entertain some visiting uncles and aunts.

This year will mark the 185th anniversary of the date of the signing of the Declaration of Independence . . . the real thing that will be celebrated by people here in Colorado City and throughout the United States.

And there is really a colorful background to how this day came to be one of the most distinguished in our history.

John Adams made a wrong estimation when he wrote to his wife on July 3, 1776, that the second of July would probably be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival.

"It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games and sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations, from one end of the continent to the other from this day forward, forevermore."

It was July 2 when Richard Henry Lee of Virginia offered a resolution which was adopted by Continental Congress that "these United Colonies are, and of right, ought to be, free and independent."

However, it is July 4th, the anniversary of the adoption of a declaration justifying and explaining itself out of a "decent respect to the opinions of mankind" and not July 2, which is celebrated.

Thomas Jefferson was chairman of the appointed board to draft the proposed declaration. His associates were John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert Livingstone.

On June 28, the committee submitted a draft of what has come to be known as the Declaration of Independence. It was accepted on July 4.

Observance of the famous holiday has spread slowly throughout the country and into the new states and territories as they were admitted to the union, or as they were created, until the day is a holiday in every state and territory.

For a number of years, it was the custom of many towns and cities throughout the east to celebrate the fourth with two parades.

In the morning, the men and boys would dress in fantastic costumes and parade through the streets making noises with all sorts of devices to the delight of the humorous citizens.

Military veterans and members of various local organizations had part in an afternoon parade which ended with a patriotic address.

Many of the western cities still have their annual fourth of July rodeos with several contests in western sports.

However, it will not soon be forgotten that the most distinguished celebration of all, and the first 4th of July celebration to ever be staged was July 8, 1776, in Philidelphia . . . only 4 days after the greatest document in American history was adopted by congress.

Summer Research

Miss Payne Plays with Honor Band

A Colorado High School student, Miss Arla Jo Payne, has been chosen as a member of the Sam Houston State Teachers College Honors Band.

The Honors Band is composed of outstanding high school musicians from throughout the state. These young musicians have been rehearsing this week, June 26-30, and a concert climaxed the rehearsals today (Thursday).

Concert was on the patio of the Sam Houston Student building in Huntsville at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Payne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Payne, 1111 Walnut St. She plays the tympani in the Colorado High School Band under the direction of Dwight Tomb.

Besides being majorette in her Jr. High band, Arla Jo has won numerous band and school awards.

Private Trains In Oklahoma

Army Pvt. James D. Richardson Jr., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson, live at Baker Hotel, Colorado City, is receiving 8 weeks of advanced individual training at The Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla.

The training is scheduled to end July 13.

Richardson is being trained in the duties of a cannoneer with the 105-millimeter howitzer, a light field artillery weapon.

He completed basic training at Fort Hood.

A 1958 graduate of Colorado High School, Richardson attended Texas Technological College.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were in Lawton over the weekend visiting their son Jimmy, who is stationed at Ft. Sill.

Basic English is a system of 850 words capable of serving everyday needs.

4 More Students To Band School

Four more Colorado City students have been accepted for the 1961 summer band and twirling school at McMurry College in Abilene.

Latest local additions to the list who will attend the school scheduled July 16 through July 29 are Chris Cooper, Doris Pace, Pat Barber and Sandra Stone.

The 4 join the list of 10 other Colorado City students who were earlier accepted to attend the school along with Dwight Tomb, Colorado City High School band director, who will serve as an instructor at the 2-week session.

The earlier named students are Patti Harrison, Debbie Hunter, Gary Gresham, Brenda Bell and Janet McMullen.

Also Jan Williams, Janie Lee, Helen Byrd May, Lanette Spivey and Fay Nell Coker.

Enrollment is continuing, and the final count should run between 300 and 400 students, Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, director, has announced.

The McMurry Band School faculty includes some of the top band directors in the West Texas area in all phases of music, including twirling.

Students participate in 2 public concerts during the 2-week school. Their course of instruction includes both band work and section training on individual instruments.

The school includes a well-planned recreational program in addition to the band work.

Dr. Bynum, who directs the McMurry College Band, will begin his 15th year at the college next fall. For many years he directed the Abilene High School Band.

any hobbies during the summer months when the ice business is at its peak."

Henderson is high in his praise of the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department and its new chief, his successor, Don Benson. "Benson is an excellent worker and will be an outstanding chief," he states.

"My age is my reason for retiring," Henderson states. It gets pretty hard for an older man to move fast enough and climb well enough to fight the big fires," he notes.

Henderson thinks the local department is very fortunate in having many young men on its rolls. "They can better fight today's fires — made much more dangerous by new chemicals and processes—that older members of the department," he states.

"We have an excellent fire department here and the citizens cooperate to aid in its work," Henderson notes.

The retiring chief lists the Colorado Hotel fire in 1954, in which 4 lives were lost, and the 1939 burning of the Berry-Fee Lumber Co. as the 2 most remembered fires in his history here.

Truly, an era of valuable community service ended here last week when veteran Hendrson retired from Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department.

DISEASE—

ages, have weakened cotton plants to the point where they have little resistance to disease and consequently it has spread very rapidly.

According to Burkhalter's reports, the disease will not force extensive replanting in affected fields, but will cut the production of crops affected. The disease appears to have practically run its course in the county — if conditions do not change.

Cool temperatures and wet, cloudy weather are ideal for the spread of this disease and if they return to this area, he comments, the disease will probably continue to damage cotton crops. Early morning dews also aid the spread of the disease.

The continuance of dry, hot weather will end the spread of the blight and all affected cotton that has not already died is expected to recover quickly.

Farmers may reduce the spreading of the blight, Burkhalter says, by waiting until morning dews are dry before plowing or rotary hoeing cotton. However, he notes, the cotton affected with seedling disease should be plowed or worked as soon as possible to allow free movement of air into the soil and thus cut down on the amount of the disease.

This is not the first year of the blight to hit in Mitchell County — it affected some cotton here in 1960.

Proper treatment of seed will help reduce the blight, Burkhalter states, because it is carried on trash and seed of cotton. Also, he says, a 2 year crop rotation program will tend to starve the organism by doing away with host plants on which the organism lives.

By VERN SANFORD

An alligator gar is an ornery critter.

He strips hooks from trotlines, decimates game fish, and makes a nuisance of himself in many ways.

For years, Texas anglers cussed the gar as a no-good. They poisoned him, seined him, and tried every trick in the book to get rid of this bandit of their fishing waters.

Finally it occurred to these same sportsmen that gar fishing might be great fun. They took to the water then with all manner of rods, reels and snares, to tempt this newly-found game fish.

And, soon afterward, some unnamed guy came up with a brand-new wrinkle . . . shooting gar — Injun style — with bow and arrow.

This sport was outlawed in Texas for several years but the 1957 Legislature made it legal again to shoot and spear rough fish.

It takes some experience with the bow and arrow to enjoy this novel sport. But anyone, with a little know-how and shooting practice, soon can be on the water having a good time.

Like raccoons, the alligator gar is common to our state. Almost every stream and lake in Texas has its quota of gar-fish.

All one must have to enjoy gar fishing is a good boat (flat bottomed, if possible), a bow fitted to his strength, and a quiver full or arrows. The bow, however, must be specially equipped with a reel, similiar in design to the ones whalers use, that will play out line attached to a special break-away arrow.

The reel and arrows enable the archer to retrieve his shaft and arrowhead time and again, and affords contact with the fish once the arrow has sunk its head into the gar.

Were it not for this special equipment the sportsman would miss the thrill of bringing a fighting gar to the boat, and he also would lose countless arrows.

Nowadays most sporting goods stores carry a line of bows already equipped with reels and arrows.

Zebco, for example, makes a closed face reel especially for this purpose.

But for the information of sportsmen who cannot afford expensive equipment, and for the thousands who prefer to make their own reels and arrows, here's one way these special pieces can be made. There are many others.

First, secure a bow exactly fitted to your "pull," which means graded to your muscular strength. Archery bows are designated by "pounds." A man of averaged strength can handle up to a 75-lb. bow. A woman should be content with one pulling 40-lbs.

The reel is round, cut in a 10" hollow circle, like a doughnut, the rim of which is 1" thick. It is to be centered over the handle of the bow. Made of plywood, the lower part of the reel rim should be studded with sixteen 3" brass rods about 3/32" in diameter, set at right angles to the reel rim. A small metal clip, similar to the one on your fountain pen, placed inside the reel, holds the line and keeps it from slipping off. The arrow is to be shot through the center of the reel so the line will play out smoothly without snarling.

So much for the reel. Now let us get to the arrows. A 3/8" birch dowel, 30" long, is best. The feathered end is noticed 1/8" x ½" to hold the bowstring. Then drill a hole 1/16" at a 45 degree angle up from the outside center of the nock. From the arrow point, running along the shaft of the arrow to the nock, through the hole drilled there, attach four or five feet of braided bronze metal deep-sea fishing line, to which you later will tie your nylon. This is to prevent the gar from severing your line with his double row of sharp teeth.

Now that the shaft is taken care of, we come to the construction of the arrowhead. Take a 3/4," three-cornered file and grind it smooth to a point. Then grind out the flat sides of the file so as to leave thre sharp blades. These three-cornered files are made of excellent hard steel and make wicked heads for your arrows. This special type of file is used be cause, if the arrowhead is ground flat it will be deflected by the water. Three corners do away with that trouble.

The head is ready now to be fitted to the arrow shaft. This, in itself, is a very special operation. Braze your finished point onto the back of an empty .38 caliber brass pistol shell. The hollow shell will fit your arrow shaft snugly.

Now, when your arrowhead pierces the armor-plate scales of a big gar, you won't lose it. The steel point will enter the flesh and the shaft will drop off. And you don't lose the shaft, either, because it still is attached to the head and reel by the bronze-wire line.

Think of the unit as a miniature whaler's harpoon—reel, line, detachable shaft, to which is attached the steel head that kills the fish.

This outfit sounds as though it might take a great deal of time to construct. But the equipmen is not hard to make if you are at all adept with tools. The only tedious part is the reel construction, and shaping the hard arrowheads. Put once these steel arrow heads are made, your only possible item loss, barring accident, will be the arrow shaft. And they are inexpensive and easy to make.

TIGERS MISS TIE FOR FIRST

Bums Suffer 2 Defeats; Race is Still Undecided

They said it couldn't be done!

They said the Major League Dodgers of Colorado City's 1961 Little League action couldn't be beaten.

But the Giants and the Indians this week found the secret that unlocked the door to victory over the once-feared Dodgers and left the pennant still in doubt in one of the most thrilling Little League races in its history here.

The City Nationally Bank Giants were the first to turn the trick with a 7-6 triumph over the Bums Friday night, but the VFW Indians also pulled the surprise Monday night with a very decisive 8-3 win over the Phillips 66 Dodgers.

But the Co-op Tigers, finally with the way clear to pull into a tie with the Dodgers, also stumbled Monday night and are still in second place, but just 1 game out of first. The Col-Tex Yankees shocked the Tigers 15-13 in that one.

Jimmy Harrison's Tigers have lost only 3 — 1 to the Dodgers in their early "heyday" and 2 others to the Yankees who are presently clinging tight to third place.

The regular season ends Thursday night with the Giants and the Methodist Men's Pirates in a unimportant battle, but the makeup games after the season's official end will still hold the key to who wins the pennant in the hot battle between the Tigers and the Dodgers.

The Bums and the Cats played to a tie and were cancelled twice due to rain in 3 other meetings set up in the schedule. Those 3 makup games could determine the race, but the Tigers also have makeup games to go with the Indians and Giants. The Dodgers too must also play makeup contests with the Yankees and the Pirates.

In other action during the hectic week, the Yankees beat the Injuns 12-11 and the Tigers beat the winless Pirates 7-3.

Other makeup games still to go include the Yankees vs the Indians, Giants vs Yankees and Indians vs Pirates.

The final standings are by no means determined — and the scramble that results after the regular season may be the best play of the year in the league.

Lynn Barnett hurled the Tigers to a come-from-behind 7-3 win over the Pirates Friday night. Jay Hendersons singled in 1 run and was forced home on walks as the Bucs took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first.

The Tigers got to Buc starter and loser Randy Parker in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames to win the contest. Barnett helped his own cause with a 2-run homer in the fifth.

The Tigers scored 3 in the fourth as Bill Magee doubled, Butch Wood, Ronnie Corbell and Donnie Smith all singled. All the hits came back-to-back. Jim Harrison singled home the other 2 Tiger scores in the sixth as loser Parker went the distance.

The Pirates' final score came in the bottom of the sixth and was unearned.

But that wasn't Friday night's big game.

The big contest started at 8 p. m. as the Giants, the only team to give the unbeaten Dodgers any real battle earlier in the season, took the field with a 4-6 record compared to an awesome 9-0 record held by the Dodgers.

But the Dodgers proved less awesome than usual and Giant spark-plug Brad Redman, who had earlier lost the close heart-breaker to the Dodgers, went to the hill for the Giants and hurled them to the biggest upset of the year in the league.

Redman, no bigger than a minute and nicknamed "Nubbin" by all the league's players, bore down behind exceptional defensive play and hurled his way of jam after jam. He allowed 7 hits, including 2 homers, but wouldn't be denied in the clutch as the Giant fielders made the big plays.

James Hill, with a double, and Rusty Steck, Ronnie Wilson and Steve Taylor, all with singles, added their own batting help to Redman. Although those were the only hits the Giants got, they were enough — thanks to a few walks.

Wayne Russell, who went all the way on the hill for the Bums and lost, put the Dodgers into a 3-0 lead in the top of the fourth with a booming 2-run homer.

Then the Titans broke loose.

When the smoke had cleared, Wilson, Taylor and Steck had gotten their hits and 6 runs had crossed the plate—with a lot of help from 4 walks issued to the hungry Giants.

Danny Green doubled and scored for the Bums in the top of the fifth to narrow the margin.

Giant Carol Green walked and stole his way around the base paths as Wilson struck out the next 3 batters. Green's run made the score 7-4.

Then the Bums made their move in the person of Jimmy Haggerton who poled a 2-run homer with Nathan Hoyle, who had singled, on base. That made the score 7-6.

Redman then fanned the next 2 Dodger batters and forced the third to hit a light tapper back to him and tossed him out at first.

And that was the game — the Giants had done the impossible.

The Yankees and the Indians tied up in a scoring battle Saturday night with Yank Ray Garcia and Injun Louis Green going all the way on the mound. Garcia came out the winner in the 12-11 contest.

Dan Steakley singled across the winning run in the top of the fifth for the Yankees. The hits were also 12-11 — with the losers getting the the even dozen.

Alfred Franco and Green, with 3 hits each, paced the Indian hitters as Mike Hillhouse, Leroy Parham and Dale Morris led the winners with 3 hits each also.

The Indians grabbed hold of the faltering Dodgers Tuesday night and rolled to a win that looked almost easy behind the pitching of starter and winner Joe Stockton and reliever Lewis Green and the 3-hit batting of Franco.

The Bums, Steve White started and lost, took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the second inning on Louis Carrases' single, but were never in the game after that.

Two Dodgers errors and Joe Pineda's double and singles by Joe Iglehart, Keaton Grubbs and Felix Madrid scored 4 big Indian runs in the top of the third.

Nathan Hoyle doubled home the other 2 Dodger runs in the bottom of the third inning, but the revived Indians added another insurance run in the fifth as Grubbs singled home Franco, who had tripled, and then poured it on for 3 more in the top of the sixth.

Grubbs doubled and Franco singled to add the RBI punch in that frame.

The Tigers had a first place tie with the Dodgers finally within their reach Tuesday night after the Indians handled the Bums.

But the Yankees refused to bow and the Tigers lost 15-13 to remain 1 game behind the Dodgers in the standings.

Six walks, an error, a hit batter and a single by Randy Feaster and a triple by Mike Hillhouse put the Yanks way out in front early by a 9-4 count.

The Tigers came back with 9 of their own in the second to take a 13-9 lead, but the Indians got 6 more in the bottom of the second to settle the issue.

Ronnie Corbell started and lasted less than an inning for the Tigers. Lynn Barnett came on and finished out the game to take the loss.

Bill Magee led the Tiger hitters with a single and a double against 3 Yank hurlers — starter Leroy Parham and relievers Feaster and Sam Parham.

SEASON CLOSES

Lions Champions Of Farm League

It's all over in the Farm League's 1961 race for the pennant.

The Lions, with 6 wins and no losses, easily took the flag as the 3 other teams battled for runner-up position.

The Cubs, who have rested in last place most of the season, came up with a 20-9 triumph over the Blue Sox Saturday to climb into a 3-way tie for the 3 runnerup spots in the standings.

The Steers had a chance to take second place as all their own Saturday, but met the Lions and bowed, 17-1.

Thus the Cubs, Blue Sox and Steers finish the season all tied with 2-4 records the champion Lions — 4 games behind.

Randy Womack, the only Cub hurler to win a game this season, went the distance Saturday for the Cubs as they beat the Blue Sox 20-9.

Womack also was the winning hurler in the only other game the Cubs won during the year.

Womack allowed only 4 Sox hits, by Jerry Beard, Dick Thomas and Sammy Cook to beat Sox starter and loser Darvin Cox. Thomas relieved for Cox in the fifth frame.

Tony Way and Womack each had 2 hits to pace the winners' 7-hit attack. Alfred Lynch's booming 2-run triple was the big single blast of the game.

In the loop's other Saturday game, the powerful Lions needed only 2 innings to batter the Steers 17-1.

Don Wood started and lost for the Steers and had relief help from Bruce Pineda and John 'Kenyon as the Lions used 16 walks and 7 hits in the 2 innings to score 17 times. Hillhouse's single and double paced the Lion's attack.

Hillhouse went all the way limiting the Steers only 1 run on 2 hits for the victory. He walked 2.

Dan Jordan opened the game for the Steers with a triple and scored on Tom Wilson's single for the Steers' only run. Ed Williams, who had walked, was cut down trying to score from second on the hit.

Most of the Farm Leaguers will return next Little League season — most as Minor League players and some will make the grade to the major league.

OILERS, MYERS STILL DEADLOCKED

Pony League Race Tied As Season's End Nears

Pony League moves into its final regularly scheduled games Thursday and Friday nights with the Humble Oilers and Myers Auto still deadlocked for first place.

The Oilers broke the tie Thursday night with a 14-0 blanking of Myers, but were upset Monday night, 8-3, by Roberts Butane. The Myers crew beat Roberts 17-1 and Craddock-Witten 10-3 in their other games.

The Oilers took an easy 16-4 win over Craddock-Witten and Roberts rolled past Craddock-Witten 7-1 in other games of the week.

The regularly scheduled season is due to end Friday night, but 2/3 of a week's action was rained out recently and those 4 games must be played before the pennant winner is decided for sure.

The big makeup game is the 1 due between Humble and Myers. The others are Craddock - Witten vs Roberts, Roberts vs Myers and Humble vs Craddock-Witten.

The Oilers appeared to be on their way Thursday night as David Bearden walked to the mound and faced only 16 Myers hitters, 1 over the limit in 5 innings of play and handcuffed the Myers crew with a stylish 1-hitter as the Oilers took an easy 14-0 victory.

Bearden struck out 8 of the losers' batters and gave up a lone safety to David McKay in the first inning — a triple.

Howard Belvin started and lost for Myers and went just 2 frames. Ricky Houston came on to finish out on the hill for the losers.

Humble sacked things away in the first inning with a single by Pineda and 5 walks allowing 3 runs. Bryant tripled home 2 more in the top of the second and Elmer McMahan singled home 1 of 3 in the third.

The 2 Taylor boys, David and Curtis, struck the big blows in the Oilers' 3-run fourth and Bryant added his second triple of the night in the fifth to go with singles by D. Taylor and Garcia for the final 3 scores by the Oilers.

Skipper Warren's 3 - hitter held Craddock-Witten in check Thursday night as Roberts took a 7-1 triumph. All of the losers' hits were singles.

John Beezley singled home the only Craddock-Witten run in the sixth — scoring Mike Munday, who had walked. Alan Ramage started and lost and had relief help in the fifth from Wayne Parham.

Roberts only got 5 hits off the 2 Craddock-Witten hurlers, but used 6 walks, 3 fielder's choices and a hit batter all to their own advantage. Ronald Hillhouse's triple and Mendoza's single were the big blows as Roberts took an early 4-0 lead.

Humble really went on a rampage Friday night as they swamped hapless Craddock-Witten 16-4 in a 5-inning contest. D. Taylor 6-hit the losers for the victory. The loser was Craddock-Witten starter Beezley. He had relief help from Perry Millsap.

McMahan's triple, Robert Petty's single and 3 Craddock-Witten errors allowed 4 Oiler runs in the first. Back-to-back doubles by Bearden and Bryant aided the winners in getting 4 more in the second frame. Garcia and Bearden also got RBI's for the winners.

GOOD NEIGHBORS . . .

Good words are what we hear about Travis Turner and the new organization which he leads, Mitchell County Young Farmers.

These young farmers—young in spirit, sound in agricultural knowledge—are emphasizing that their careers demand exacting business principles as much or more as any town business.

We like their approach and the community spirit of young farmers like Turner who are participating in our Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees. They are welcome always here at Corner Drug . . . and we hope to meet 'em more than half-way.

Holiday Life In Hands Of Drivers

Governor Price Daniel said today that every Texas driver owes it to himself, his family, his passengers and his State to make certain that he is not involved in a traffic crash at any time, but more especially during the traffic-crowded Fourth of July period.

His reference to every driver's debt to his or her family comes as we look toward the Independence Day holiday period — a holiday too often marked by tragic highway accidents.

The Texas Department of Public Safety said the official "Operation Deathwatch," during which all victims of holiday violent or accidental death is counted, will be observed from 12:01 A. M. to 11:59 P. M., Tuesday, July 4, making it a one-day holiday.

But highways will carry an unusual amount of traffic also July 1, 2 and 3, immediately preceding the national Independence Day observances. So again state officials appeal to all drivers to exercise unusual caution and to drive carefully and legally.

The average daily traffic toll in Texas was nearly seven a day in 1959 and just over six a day in 1960. In the light of records for the one-day Fourth of July holidays in 1956, when 12 were killed, and in 1957, when 15 were traffic victims, Governor Daniel added, "it is quite possible that the normal average could be doubled on the Fourth, and this we want to prevent."

The Governor has asked all State and local law enforcement officials to "maintain steady pressure particularly on persons involved in speed too great for conditions and driving while drinking, and against all drivers who either cannot or will not drive safely and legally."

In 1956, when the DPS predicted 11 traffic deaths, 12 persons died. In 1957, with a prediction of 10 deaths totaled 15. In the past nine years, Fourth of July traffic deaths have been fewer than predicted only three times. Two of those better years, 1958 and 1960, followed strenuous Statewide campaigns staged under the Governor's sponsorship, in cooperation with State and local law enforcement agencies and civic groups.

The statistics prove, beyond doubt, that pressure of law enforcement officers helps. And we readily support the strict enforcement campaign for the holiday period.

But the actual control over highway life or death remains with the individual driver who must realize the debt of safety he owes himself, his passengers and all other highway travelers.

Some Thoughts On Freedom

The combined observance this year of the Fourth of July and the centennial celebration of the Civil War will bring frequent thought to some of Abraham Lincoln's immortal words on freedom:

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master." In either extreme, of domination or submission, Lincoln saw trouble; and the only way out that he could see was for all men to be free and unshackled.

"In giving freedom to the slaves, we insure freedom to the free." To the degree that all men participate in freedom, to that degree the individual is free. The ugly shadow of millions in slavery dims the individual's freedom.

"Conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." Equal to get all that life has to offer, but, more important, equal to give to life from the fullness of one's ability.

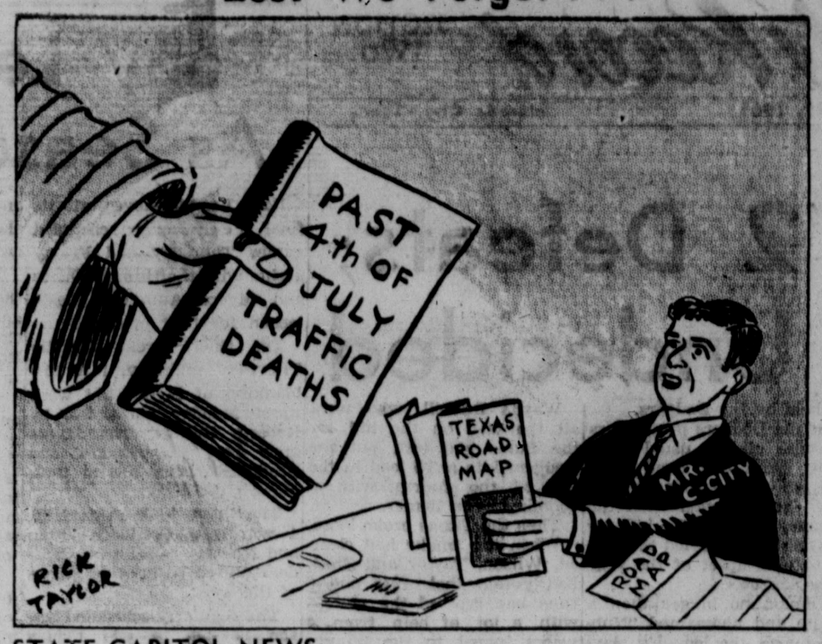

"This nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom." This can happen only as each of us earnestly seeks to keep Religion in American Life through the worship of Almighty God. Worship together and you need never walk alone.

Right Direction

The Administration proposes to substantially increase the charges for Post Office Department services, in order to reduce and perhaps to eliminate the enormous annual deficits. As part of this move, the ICC recently was advised that parcel post rates should be revised upward. Details of this proposal, said Postmaster General Day, will be supplied later. But the purpose is to insure that the costs of fourth-class mail service (the parcel post classification) "will not exceed by more than 4 per cent the revenues therefrom."

It would be better if the new rates took care of that 4 per cent too. But, that to one side, this is a long due step in the right direction. It can berationally argued that the regular and traditional mail service serve vital public purposes of education and enlightenment, and hence need not pay their own way completely. But that argument cannot be applied to parcel post. This is purely commercial service, directly competitive with private parcel carriers operating nationally, regionally, and locally. It can't be compared in any way to the carrying of the mails. If any government service should operate on a self-supporting basis, parcel post is it.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

"Calm Before the Storm" is Hovering Over State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

State Capitol is having a relatively quiet period — somewhat like the "eye" of a hurricane.

Legislators are at home, and Gov. Price Daniel has gone to Hawaii for the National Governor's Conference. Officially, the "time out" ends July 10 when the special tax session begins.

But despite the lull, sharp gusts of differring opinion are still blowing. Before leaving, Gov. Daniel issued a parting blast at lobbyists in particular and critics of his anti-sales tax stand in general. He is thinking of asking for tighter lobby control measures, particularly in regard to reporting of money spent to influence legislation. He also accused opponents of his tax plan of being unwilling to compromise.

Lawmakers are having their say before the Daniel-appointed committee to study tax measures. Sen. Wardlow Lane, sponsor of the Senate-passed sales tax bill, took a dim view of the "compromise" talk. Legislature compromised on taxes in 1959, he reminded, and the state government ended up more deeply in debt.

As to lobby control, Sen. Lane said the Legislature had already passed the measure that the governor had said would do the job. In general, Sen. Lane urged "a stop politicking and get on with the job" approach.

NEW LAWS—Before leaving for Hawaii, Gov. Daniel signed scores of bills into law, vetoed a few, and otherwise cleared the decks from the 57th regular session.

He signed the bill which will allow the University of Houston to become fully state-supported in the fall of 1963. This bill was the cause of a month-long filibuster in the Senate.

He let become law without his signature a measure known as the Carling Brewery bill, also highly controversial. It was sought by the Carling Brewery which plans to build a $20,000,000 plant in Fort Worth. Under the bill, a brewery may continue to operate in an area even if it is voted dry. By not signing it, the governor demonstrated his lack of enthusiasm.

Altogether the Legislature passed 549 bills in the regular session. Only 14 were vetoed by the governor.

BUS PRICES — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has launched inquiry into the prices being paid by the state for school buses.

Wilson announced courts of inquiry to be held in Austin, Dallas, and perhaps later in San Antonio. He said investigation had been under way for 6 weeks and had revealed that Texas was paying from 10 to 25 per cent more for school buses than other states. He said there was no evidence of identical bids, but that he felt there was a strong possibility of "rigged bidding."

School buses are bought by the Board of Control with state school funds on the basis of sealed bids. Bus dealers could, if found guilty of conspiring together over prices, be subject to both civil and criminal anti-trust suits.

(Courts of inquiry are not trials, but proceedings for the taking of sworn testimony to see if there is evidence for filing suits.)

UPHELD — In a recent case, the Supreme Court refused to change a lower court decision that the law holding parents liable up to $300 for damage caused by their children is constitutional.

Challenging the law was a father whose 15-year-old son had stolen and wrecked a car. Three courts upheld the constitutionality of the law and the father's responsibility.

It holds parents liable for "malicious and willful" destruction of property by children between 10 and 18 years of age.

HIKE FORECAST—Higher auto insurance premiums are predicted by officials of the State Board of Insurance.

Board has the matter under advisement after a public hearing. New rates, if set, will go into effect Aug. 1.

Increases suggested by both industry spokesmen and the Board's actuarial staff are the same. They are 8.7 per cent for comprehensive private passenger coverage, 8.1 per cent for collision, 23.6 per cent for liability, and 16.1 per cent for medical coverage.

A Department study showed that premiums were down as a result of the new safe driving plan and that claim costs were up because of the costliness of replacements on today's automobiles.

RULINGS ASKED—Probability of a strong push for a gas tax in the coming special sesion was indicated by Gov. Daniel's request for opinions from Atty. Gen. Will Wilson on the constitutionality of 2 such proposals.

One is a proposal by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston which would require the holders of contracts for dedicated gas reserves to guarantee the state a tax of at least 1 cent on each 1,000 cubic feet of gas produced.

"Dear Sir:

"Perhaps you will be interested in the following news item.

"All the "cackling" that has been heard in the 400 block on East 12th St. is not a new poultry house, but just "the girls" having coffee.

"You see, it's this way — MR. AND MRS. JEFF BROWN have moved back from Abilene, Then Mrs. Brown's daughter, IVY ARMSTRONG, and her husband, GUS ARMSTRONG, the son of MR. AND MRS. JOE ARMSTRONG, drove in from Cortez, Colo.

"So MRS. JOHN DRUMMUND and MRS. NEIL GIBBS asked the neighbor ladies in for coffee.

"The only male present was the 1-year-old son of BILLY JO (REED) HAYES from Midland — and he had his coffee straight.

"Right then the disgruntled husbands planned a stag party. They came, as a surprise, on Sunday morning — seeing it was Father's Day and Mr. Neil Gibbs' birthday too.

They had not even finished their hot biscuits, sausage and eggs until their wives appeared with mops, brooms and cap pistols.

"JOHN PAUL DRUMMOND even called out, "Father, oh Father, come home with me now."

"Mr. Gibbs got them quiet by cutting his birthday cake and serving it with coffee to all — young John Paul had his coffee, with cream, with the men.

"That's a noisy gang on 12th St. — even the BEN ELLIOTTS were there.

"Please do not call the police, just join them for coffee,

"Thanks."

DEAR Thanks,

You will notice that Taylor-Made will sign this little note — even though you did not sign yours.

Just what you have attempted to prove is beyond the limits of the cloudy mind of The Shadow here — but that's nothing unusual in itself.

I'm sure your letter has set many minds at ease in your section of town concerning the din. But they may long wonder what your letter meant to convey.

Nevertheless, thanks to you for the copy for Taylor-Made. It's surprising to The Shadow that some one other than himself could write such a totally meaningless dispatch.

I'm sure the French have a word for it—I know I don't.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Unlimited Water Will Cost Money

Editor's note: The Shinnery Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek looks toward the future of farming this week, but his vision may be clouded.

Dear editor:

I was sitting under a tree some distance away from my house yesterday afternoon where it was quieter, on account of I had just declined to shovel some dirt for my wife on the grounds that I read the newspaper and am fully aware of the dangers of a shovel, although I wish to say I don't rely on Washington to do my thinking and I declined to use a shovel years before Mr. Kennedy tried his hand at it, and pulled out a newspaper I had been saving for just such an emergency and read an article that interested me.

According to it, an experimental plant has been put into operation changing salt water out of the ocean to fresh, drinkable water, and several more plants are being built.

Eventually, the article said, sea water can be de-salted so efficiently and cheaply that it will be available for city use, industrial use, and maybe even finally for agricultural use.

It was this last use that interests me. According to one speculative article on this, one day pipes carrying ocean water will be run all over the country and all a farmer will have to do when he needs a rain is turn on a hydrant and irrigate his crops. This, it said, will whip the weather problem and make farming one of the easiest jobs on earth.

I am afraid the fellow who thought that up is a little over-enthusiastic.

In the first place, farming is farming, which is to say work, whether you get your moisture out of a pipe or out of the clouds.

In the second place, if somebody runs a pipe with de-salted sea water out to my Johnson grass farm, I have a notion that just on the far side of the hydrant he'll install a meter, and before he turns the water on he'll come up to my house and want a substantial deposit. Then when water flows over my farm, the meter will start clicking and it won't be a free gift from the clouds but another bill to face on the first of the month. I'm not saying it shouldn't be this way, all I'm saying is that it won't make farming the easiest job on earth. The only way to make farming easy is to farm like I do, but I don't recommend the method if the world wants to keep eating.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Advertising is Key To Our Prosperity

By MADGE BELL
Record Staff Writer

One of President Kennedy's top economic advisers recently focused attention on the importance of advertising to the prosperity of the nation.

The economist indicated that the President, through tax considerations and otherwise, hoped to increase he producive efficiency of American manufacturers. By employing more automatic machinery, United States producers can beat the threat of foreign competition, he said.

A reporter pointed out such an increase in productive capacity could lead to a glut of the market. The reporter asked what would be done to prevent a surplus of products and an increase in unemployment resulting from automation.

In brief, the economist said that there would be no surplus if American businessmen fully utilized their sales abilities. He said that automation should create more new jobs than it displaces.

These views are supported by the whole economic history of America. The mass-production of automobiles by Henry Ford did disemploy thousands of men who worked in harness and wagon factories. However, Mr. Ford's methods and machines created millions of new jobs — ranging from service station operators to design engineers.

When the produce of any automatic factory is sold the public is enriched and new jobs are created. Of course there is often a shift in the type of employment, but the new wealth inevitably leads to new jobs.

But the key to the whole process is selling. No new jobs nor any new wealth is actually created until the produce reaches the consumer.

Today, selling must be as automatic as the equipment which produces new goods. This means that selling must be done by more and better advertising for automation in selling is advertising.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Texas Eggs Offer "Golden Goodness"

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

July is "Golden Goodness" month in Texas — a time to appreciate, buy and enjoy the natural "Golden Goodness" of Texas High Quality Eggs.

A more appropriate observance of a farm product of our state would be hard to find, because the Texas egg industry has made phenomenal strides in the last few years. And the best testimonial to this advance in production, care and quality is the glow of goodness in healthful, golden-yolked Texas eggs.

During the months of July, Texans will be seeing and hearing a lot about the splendid nutritional value of high quality Texas eggs, an important fact too often taken for granted.

The Texas Egg Council which deserves much credit for the prominent position of Texas eggs today, is cooperating with other related industries to tell this story in a big way.

The "Golden Goodness" message will be everywhere — on billboards, in grocery stores, even on the apron pockets of pretty Texas misses who will hand out samples of delectable hard-cooked eggs in parts of the state.

The hard - cooked eggs (put cool eggs into warm water, lift with spoon into boiling water, reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes, cool eggs promptly in cold water) is a wonderfully satisfying food, especially during light-eating summer days. The Morton Salt Company believes this too, as evidenced by their part in "Golden Goodness" month when thousands of specially - designed salt-and-egg posters reading "Pep-up Summer Meals Enjoy the Golden Goodness of Texas High Quality Eggs" will be seen in stores throughout the state.

Texas eggs are always good, and "Golden Goodness" month is the right time to celebrate — by taking home an extra dozen or 2 of high quality Texas eggs.

Lighting Rods Protect Metal Farm Shelters

A metal covered building without adequate grounding is not protected against lighting.

Jack Burkhalter, Mitchell County Agent, says that proper grounding of such buildings, especially metal roofed structures, will precent many fires.

Lighting protection is very inexpensive and easy to provide, he continues. All buildings with metal roofs or sides can be protected by grounding the roof at all 4 corners.

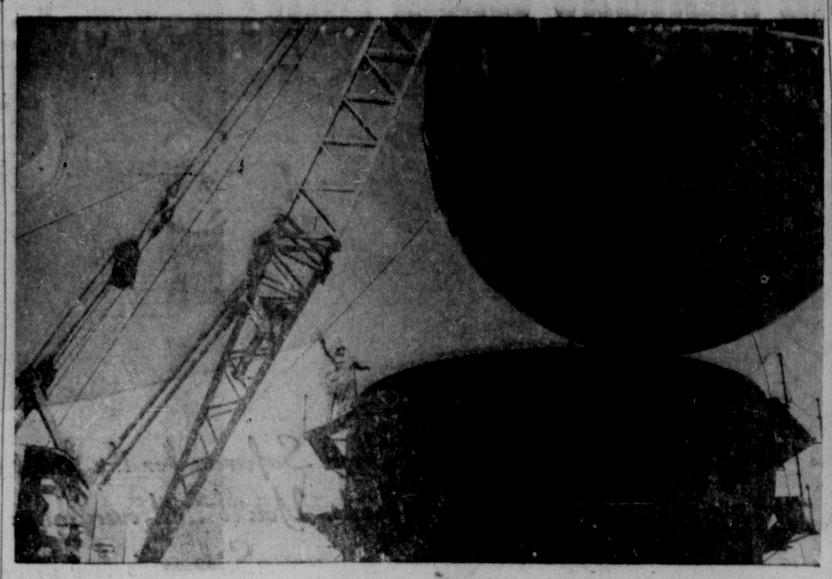

This can be done by flattenng the end of a piece of ½ or 3/4 inch galvanized iron or steel pipe and bendng it so that it may be attached by bolts to the drip edge of the roof. For support, galvanized steel screw hooks should be placed on the side of the building and bent shut over the pipe.

After the pipe has been firmly attached to the roof, it may then be attached by galvanized wire rope clamps to a ½ or 3/4 inch pipe driven 8 to 10 feet into the ground. This ground pipe should be placed as close as possible to the building's foundation, Burkhalter explains.

These lighting rods may not be as fancy as those of grandpa's day, but they serve the same purpose of property protection and fire prevention. Their installation could save you a great deal of money by preventing lighting damage, Burkhalter concludes.

Mosquitoes Have Their Preferences

Do you often wonder why mosquitoes seem to prefer you over someone else?

If you do, you are not alone. Researchers in more than one Texas county are trying to find the answer to why mosquitoes and other insects are attracted to man and animals, reports Mitchell County Agent Jack Burkhalter.

If scientists can find precise causes of insect attraction, more effective repellents that would mask the attraction might be developed, he states. Attraction retarding materials might be combined with insecticides.

This would result in fewer insects bothering treated individuals, and the more persistent pests would be killed by the insecticides.

Experiments by entomologists at USDA's insect laboratory at Orlando, Florida, illustrate the complexity of such research, however. They dressed a man in a light weight diving suit that kept water vapor, carbon dioxide and other gases from escaping to the surrounding environment. He was placed in a small observation room with three man-size dummies and 300 mosquitoes. The subject's breath was drawn outside the room through a hose.

Mosquitoes showed no preference between the man and the dummies. When carbon dioxide was discharged above the man's head, however, he attracted more mosquitoes. The pests also were attracted when a cloth suit was put over the man's diving suit — regardless of the presence or absence of carbon dioxide.

Researchers exposed the man's face — no increased attraction. But when his hands were uncovered, the mosquitoes were attracted. These mosqoitoes prefer the body, but another species showed marked preference for the face.

This shows that different types of mosquitoes aren't necessarily attracted to man and animals for the same reasons. Other insects don't respond alike either. For instance, one study showed that horse flies preferred red cattle to white ones. Pernaps scientists will find the answer some day, but until they do, the hum of mosquitoes will continue to mean discomfort for many people, Burkhalter concludes.

MISSION, TEXANS VIE FOR 2ND

Cats Win Minor Loop Pennant Run

The Cats are the Minor League champions.

The Cats sewed things up last week with 2 wins — a 15-5 romp over the Missions and an 18-17 squeak over the Texans.

The season officially ends tonight (Thursday) with a final game between the Missions and the Texans. The winner of that affair will take home second place in the league.

The Eagles, destined to finish last in the loop, socked the Texans 24-11 and the Missions edged the Eagles 5-4 in the week's other action.

A victory tonight for the Missions would give them second place with a 5-4 record compared to the Texans' 4-6 mark. If the Texans triumph, they will finish second with a 5-5 mark while the Missions will be 4-5.

The champion Cats rolled past the Missions 15-5 Thursday behind the 5-hit pitching of Felix Silba and the 3 doubles and a single blasted out by Matt Ornelas.

Ornelas drove in 6 runs himself, enough to beat the Missions, as the Cats banged out only 6 hits off of Mission starter and loser Johnny Forbes and reliever Jim Shanon.

Four of the Missions' 5 hits were doubles and all figured in the scoring. They came off the bats of David Hoover, Jim Dockrey, David Rhodes and Lee Barrera and came in sets of 2 and back-to-back. Rhodes got the other Mission hit also — a first inning single.

The Eagles sent 45 batters to the plate as they beat the Texans 24-11. Albert Lujan went all the way and 11-hit the Texans to take credit for the victory.

Four Texan hurlers toiled against the rampaging Eagles with starter Lupe Molina taking the loss. The relievers were Robert, Herrera, Kenneth Johnson and Billy Williams.

Lujan's 3 hits paced the winners' 14-hit attack. He had 2 singles and a double.

The Cats pushed across an astounding 13 runs in the bottom of the fifth frame Monday night to topple the Texans 18-17.

The Texans had a 17-5 lead at the end of 4½ innings and appeared on their way to certain victory when the Eagles, aided by 9 walks, staged the game-winning rally.

Texan relievers Milton Bender and Lupe Molina suffered the brunt of the Cats' fifth inning attack with Molina taking the loss. Ken Johnson started for the Texans and went for 3 frames.

Stanley Shawn got 2 of the 5 Cat hits for the night — a single and a double.

The winning hurler was Silba who went all the way for the Cats allowing 10 hits, but 17 runs. John Matthews led the losers in hitting with 2 singles and a double.

The Missions edged the Eagles 5-4 Monday night in a thrilling match.

The Eagles had a 4-3 lead going into the top of the fifth frame, but a walk and a hit batter set up the runs as David Hoover added a single to drive in the winning score.

The Missions had gotten 3 in the first as Jerry Findley and Hoover each singled to drive in the runs.

Amador Lujan singled home D. Lujan with the first Eagle run in the bottom of the first inning. D. Lujan tripled home Jim Bob Ridley, who had walked, and then scored himself in the second.

Ray Sierra doubled home Randy Hamrick with the final Eagle score in the third frame. Albert Lujan went all the way to lose for the Eagles.

Findley went the distance for the Missions, allowing only 4 hits, to take credit for the victory.

Two catches were reported during the week from Cooper's Cove. They were:

Mrs. Ed Speed hook 2 bass, 3 and 2 pounds, on minnows and also 3 "nice" crappie.

Mrs. Hazel Wilson caught 1 bass and 12 crappie — also using minnows as bait.

in the first 2 Craddock-Witten scores in the first inning. Reggie Noble drove home the third in the second and Beezley got his second RBI of the night in the fifth to drive in the fourth and final Craddock-Witten run.

Forty Myers batters went to the plate the same night as Myers humbled Roberts 17-1. Corky McAdams was the starter and winner as he allowed only 2 Roberts hits — singles by Mendoza and Warren. Warren scored the only Roberts run in the first inning on an error.

Ten Roberts errors spelled doom for starter and loser David Kendrick who went the distance. Kendrick allowed only 7 hits while walking only 5. David Way was the only Myers hitter to get 2 safeties — a single and a double.

McAdams and Belvin teamed up with 2-run homers and Belvin 4-hit Craddock-Witten Monday night as Myers won a 10-3 decision.

Ramage went the distance, allowing 8 Myers hits, to take the loss. Beezley, Noble, Robert Aycock and Clay Strange got Craddock-Witten's 4 hits —all were singles.

Warren sent the Humble Oilers tumbling from their league-leading spot and back into a tie for first Monday night as he spun a neat 5-hitter at the powerful Humble squad and Roberts took home an upset 8-3 win.

Larry Currie was the only Oiler who could solve Warren's pitches as he blasted out 3 hits, 2 singles and a triple, to figure in all of the Oilers' scoring. He drove in the first 2 runs and scored the third after his triple.

C. Taylor started and lost for Humble, with relief from Bearden, as Roberts only got 4 hits. Two errors, 2 hits, and a hit batter was all the hustling Roberts crew needed to score 7 of their 8 runs. Standifer and Ornelas each hit singles in Roberts' 5-run sixth to seal the victory.

Grants Open To Students of This County

Applications from Mitchell County are eligible for a special $1,000 scholarship in agronomy from the Western Compress and Storage Co. at Texas Tech College in Lubbock, reports Dr. George Elle, assistant dean of agriculture.

The 4-year grant is made up of income derived from investment of funds for the company's regular 4-year grant of $3,000 to an outstanding Tech freshman in agronomy each year.

Both the $3,000 grant and the special $1,000 grant are now open to applicant of not only Mitchell County, but also to those from Taylor, Nolan, Jones, Haskell, Fisher, Scurry, Knox and Callahan counties said Elle.

The $1,000 scholarship will provide $250 for each of 4 undergrate years.

Among other grants still open at Tech is a 4-year $2,800 Clayton Fund scholarship in agriculture, Elle reported.

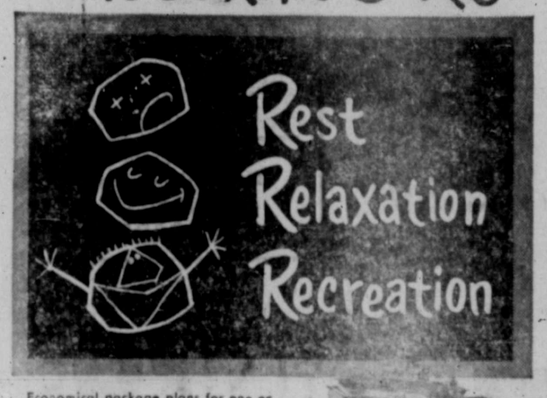

Officials in the Agriculture School may award the grants at any time they decide a suitable applicant has been obtained.

Loraine GI Participates In Exercise

PFC Freddie M. Bowlin, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha B. Bowlin, Route 1, Loraine, participated with other personnel from the Seventh U.S. Army's 92nd Artillery in April Shower, a command post exercise in Germany which ended June 9.

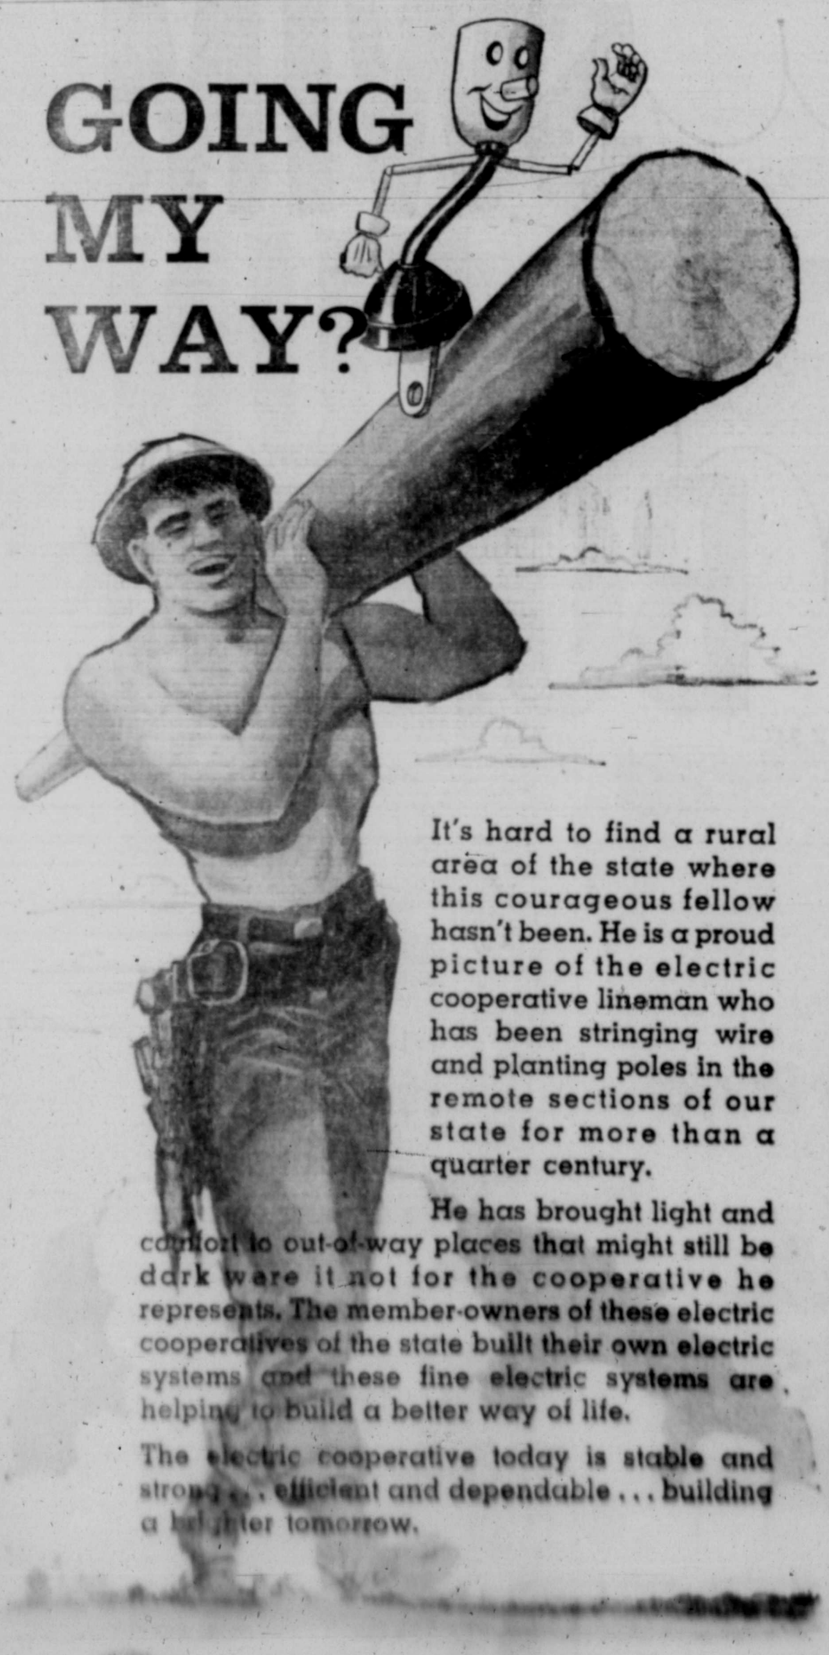

The exercise was designed as a study of organization, displacement of units, communications and logistics. All U.S. corps and divisions within the Seventh Army partcipated at command levels.

During April Shower control staffs fed problems and situations involving the activities of a simulated aggressor force to the partcipatngi commonds. These units then took the necessary action.

Bowlin, a driver in the artillery's Headquarters Battery, which is regularly located in Giessen, entered the Army in June 1960, completed basic training at Fort Hood, and arrived overseas last November.

He is a 1955 graduate of Loraine High School. His wife, Barbara, is with him in Germany.

GOING MY WAY?

It's hard to find a rural area of the state where this courageous fellow hasn't been. He is a proud picture of the electric cooperative lineman who has been stringing wire and planting poles in the remote sections of our state for more than a quarter century.

He has brought light and comfort to out-of-way places that might still be dark were it not for the cooperative he represents. The member-owners of these electric cooperatives of the state built their own electric systems and these fine electric systems are helping to build a better way of life.

The electric cooperative today is stable and strong . . . efficient and dependable . . . building a brighter tomorrow.
