HUGE THRONG WELCOMES TRUMAN TO NATION'S CAPITAL

'They're Just Wild About Harry!'

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—The capital proudly poured forth its people and its plaudits today in roaring acclaim of a returning President who wouldn't be beaten.

From the north portico of the White House he will occupy for four more years, Harry S. Truman responded simply:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

He looked across the swarms of people on the White House lawn, crammed along broad Pennsylvania avenue and overflowing Lafayette park. His warm smile disappeared for a moment. He remarked gravely:

"I shall look forward to the help and cooperation of all the people, because we are faced with great issues now which I think we can bring to a successful conclusion."

Sharing the tumultuous welcome, as he shared the triumph of Tuesday's election, was Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, the next vice president.

But mostly Washington and the folks of nearby Maryland and Virginia turned out to thrust out a friendly hand to the man who almost alone carried the Democratic banner to an upset victory.

With Barkley by his side, sitting on the folded top of a long, black car, Mr. Truman paraded slowly along the historic Pennsylvania avenue route from union station to the White House.

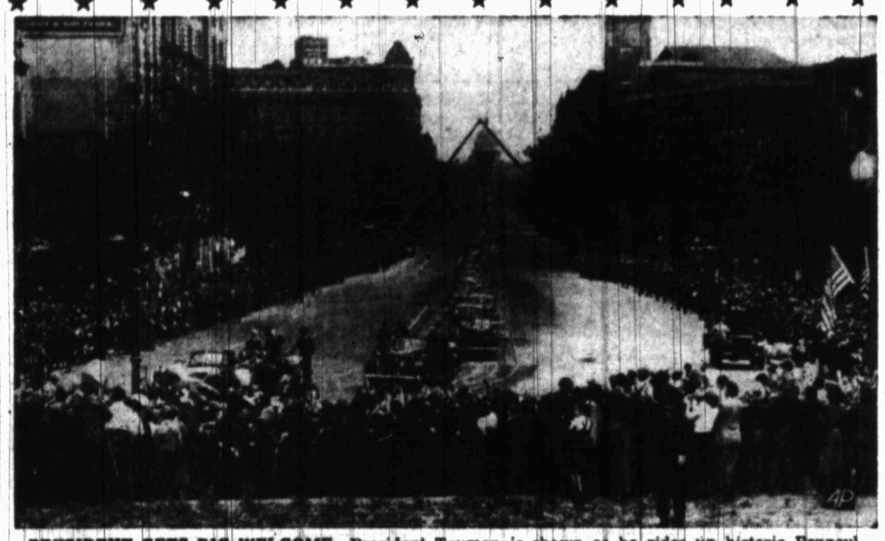

Sidewalks Packed

All the motorcycle police in Washington formed the honor guard ahead. Fire trucks swung 100-foot extension ladders across the avenue in tremendous, bunting-bedecked arches. Hugh banners hanging from them proclaimed: "Welcome home, Mr. President."

Ten and 20 deep, men and women—and school kids waving a sea of miniature American flags—packed the sidewalks. More of them hung from government buildings, perched on rooftops, dangled like oversized acorns from oak trees at the station plaza.

They waved banners and balloons and tossed torn paper by the fistful. Some sported blue "I told you so" buttons. Maids in hotels fluttered sheets and towels

Stock Market Takes Second Major Break

By THEODORE KOSLOW
INS Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The stock market broke wide open again today with leading issues tumbling one to eight dollars a share in the second session of acute post-election weakness.

Financial experts estimated that five and three-quarter billion dollars had been sheared off the value of listed big board securities in these two days.

The Dow-Jones industrial averages showed a loss of $6.16 a share, compared with a drop of $7.30 on Wednesday, and a recovery of $2.08 yesterday. Wednesday's break had been the sharpest in more than two years.

Ticker Falls Behind

The railroad index was off $3.08 today, as against $3.45 Wednesday, and a gain of 78 cents Thursday.

The utility averages were down 89 cents today, compared with a loss of $1.46 Wednesday and a gain of 32 cents yesterday.

The over-all price decline in the averages since Wall street received the unexpected news of the Dmocratic election sweep amounted to $11.38 in the industrials, $5.75 in the rails and $2.03 in the utilities.

Although volume was smaller today than on Wednesday, totaling 2,530,000 shares against 3,230,000 shares, today's session was featured by a midday selling wave which forced the high-speed ticker as much as four minutes behind.

It was 26 minutes before the tape caught up, the longest sustained stretch of downside lateness in years.

Prime investment favorites were particularly hard hit, with lack of nearby support causing many of the high-priced issues to drop as much as a point between sales.

Among the day's big losers were Atchison, off $8, National Steel, off $5½, Standard Oil of New Jersey, off $4.50, United States Steel, off $4.87, United States Gypsum, off $6½, Allied Chemical, off $4, Dupont, off $6 and Standard Oil of New Jersey, off $4⅞.

Barkley Plans Active Role

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — Vice-President-elect Barkley predicted today that the new Democratic Congress which will convene Jan. 3 will repeal the Taft-Hartley labor control act and enact President Truman's price control program.

The veteran Kentucky Democrat, boosted to the nation's second highest office in Tuesday's breath-taking election sweep, made this forecast at a mammoth news conference in the big caucus room of the Senate office building.

Barkley made it clear that he did not intend to be a "forgotten" vice president. He said he would take an active part in legislative policy-making in the second Truman term.

To Attend Cabinet Sessions

He revealed that the President had asked him to attend his cabinet meetings and indicated that he would. Precedent for that was set by former Vice Presidents Garner and Wallace during the regime of the late President Roosevelt.

The 71-year-old Kentucky senator, Senate minority leader in the expiring 80th Congress, said that he hoped to serve as majority leader in the new Congress until he takes the oath as vice president on Jan. 20.

He plans to go to Florida to share with the President his post-election vacation. Barkley said he would either go with the President or follow a day or two later.

Sees Labor Act Repeal

Asked whether the Taft-Hartley act, target of labor's bitter campaign assault, would be repealed, he said:

"I see no reason why this should not be done. It was in our platform, and I assume that it will be carried out."

He said, however, that there might be some modification of the old Wagner labor relations act, which came into being under the Roosevelt regime, but that "as I said in the campaign, the changes

PLANE LOST NEAR NEWFOUNDLAND

Thirty-Eight Persons Missing As New Plane Mishaps Reported

(By International News Service)

THIRTY-EIGHT persons were reported missing Friday night in the stormy outposts of far northwest in a series of aerial mishaps. Most of those believed lost were service personnel.

Meanwhile, a late bulletin from St. John's, Newfoundland, said that an airplane presumed to be a U. S. Naval craft was believed to have crash-landed tonight in Placentia bay south of St. Johns.

The government radio said the plane last signaled to a ship in the bay. It was not known how many persons were aboard or what their fate might have been.

Earlier Friday five men were killed in the crash of a B-17 bomber at Eglin Air Force base in Florida. Killed were three officers and two master sergeants.

In the storm swept area between northwestern Washington and Bristol Bay, Alaska, two Navy bombers and a civilian plane were missing.

Officers Study Texarkanan's Suicide Note

(By The Associated Press)

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. Nov. 5.—A University of Arkansas freshman ended his life here today and later a note was found in his room in which he said he committed two "double murders" at Texarkana in 1946. A wave of unsolved slayings in the Texarkana area—there were five in all—were attributed to a "phantom" killer.

Sheriff Bruce Crider of Washington county said the student was H. B. (Dooty) Tennison, 18, a member of a widely known Texarkana, Ark., family.

He said the youth took poison. A poem found on a dresser said that if the puzzle it contained could be solved, it would disclose how to open a strong box in Tennison's room. Authorities, instead, broke up the strongbox by force. The note was inside.

Victims Named In Note

Sheriff Crider said the note read:

"Why did I take my own life? You may be asking that question? Well, when you committed two double murders you would too. Yes, I did kill Betty Jo Booker and Paul Martin in the city park that night, and kill Mr. Starks (Virgil Starks) and tried to get Mrs. Starks."

Miss Booker, 15, and young Martin, 17, were the third and fourth victims of the so-called "Phantom" killer, who kept Texarkana in a state of tension for months.

They were found slain April 14, 1946, on a road outside Texarkana.

Earlier, Richard Griffin, 29, and Polly Ann Moore, 17, had been slain. They were the first deaths in the grim series. In May, Virgil Starks, 36, was shot to death in his farm home and his wife was shot and wounded seriously.

Officers Begin Probe

Authorities withheld comment on whether the shocking series of deaths had at long last been solved.

Max Tackett, Arkansas state highway patrolman who worked on the "phantom" case, hurried from El Dorado, Ark., to Fayetteville, to investigate. Tennison's mother broke up a visit in Par-

Killing Frost Forecast For South Plains Area Today

THE SEASON'S first killing frost was expected to nip South Plains vegetation this morning, according to the Friday night forecast of the weather station north of Lubbock. The forecast was for a temperature of 29 to 30 degrees early today. The mercury had skidded to 34 degrees at 12:30 a. m.

Football fans, however, should have perfect weather for the Texas Tech-Texas Mines grid game this afternoon at Jones Stadium, the weatherman predicted. He anticipated clear skies, with an afternoon temperature of about 60 degrees. A north wind of about 15 miles an hour is expected at game time.

The mercury slumped to a chilly 34 degrees early Friday morning as a brisk north wind whipped across the area. However, it had warmed up to 58 degrees by midafternoon. The reading at 9:30 p. m. was 39 degrees with the downward trend continuing.

The weatherman predicted that the weather would remain relatively cool through today with an upward trend setting in Sunday. Monday probably will be warmer unless a disturbance in the Pacific Northwest gains strength and moves southeastward into Texas.

The threatening high pressure area, however, Friday night gave indications of breaking up without making a sweep into the more southern regions of the nation, the weather station reported.

A frost would be a boon to South Plains farmers in that it would kill leaves on cotton plants and facilitate mechanical harvesting of cotton, said Don L. Jones, superintendent of Lubbock experiment station, and D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent.

Problems Of Steady Employment Talked At Meeting In City

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

The problems and techniques of providing steady, regular employment for workers were discussed by David M. Molthrop, of New York City, when the South Plains chapter of Texas Manufacturers association sponsored a luncheon in Hilton hotel Friday noon.

Molthrop, who has spoken at 250 such meetings in 47 states, outlined problems faced by employers in planning employment stabilization on a community basis. He emphasized that the time to develop such a plan is now, in a period of prosperity, rather than at a time of depression activity.

Texas Has 'Boom'

He mentioned Texas as enjoying a "super-boom" exceeding the "boom" that is being experienced throughout the United States. He predicted that when the "super-boom" in Texas starts to decline it will be an indication of a period of industrial recession generally.

A staff member of the National Association of Manufacturers, he has had wide experience in large industrial concerns.

Molthrop's talk recommended analyses by employers, such analyses to cover company experience during past depression activity, employment records by individual, department and plant measurements, and company sales. He made suggestions recommended to reduce seasonal and other business fluctuations, and for correct organization of management and

Eight Dead As Storms Strike Over Nation

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's weather, docile as a kitten all fall, erupted into prewinter tantrums in many areas Friday.

Tornadoes killed at least eight persons and inured some 45 others in Louisiana and Mississippi; a heavy wind ripped across Kentucky, blowing down buildings, unroofing others, and injuring two persons; thunderstorms and heavy rains swept across the Tornado area, and 18 inches of snow fell at Deadwood, S. D.

On the West coast, drought-dry California was stricken by two out-of-control brush fires which destroyed scores of homes.

Soviets Told U. S. Not Disarming

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—John Foster Dulles told the Russian bloc today that the United States has stopped disarming and "intends to be strong" so long as fears grip the free peoples of the world.

From the tone and manner of his speech it was apparent that a firm American policy in the United Nations Assembly is shaping up quickly after last Tuesday's presidential election.

Dulles, the Republican party adviser on foreign affairs, thus indicated the election had not changed in any way the general foreign policy supported by both Republicans and Democrats.

He denounced as "vicious falsehoods" Russian charges that the United States aims for world mastery. Dulles told the UN political committee:

"Our growing national strength no doubt displeases some, but it does not, I believe, frighten any. I ask each delegate to search his own mind and come to his own conclusion as to who and what his nation fears. I shall be satisfied with a silent verdict, for I know that some fear even to express their fear."

Americans, Dulles said, make no apology for their decision to stop disarming "because our strength is not for ourselves alone." He added: "It is our purpose so to unite and strengthen the forces of freedom that they will not have to fear."

Dewey Plans Policy Statement Today

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 5 (INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, defeated Republican candidate for president, is expected to issue a statement within the next 24 hours outlining the post-election policies of his party.

James C. Hagerty, executive assistant to Dewey, announced today that the governor would conduct a press conference tomorrow morning.

He did not indicate the subject of the conference, but it was believed Dewey is preparing to expand on his assurance to President Truman that the nation is united behind his efforts to preserve world peace.

Throughout his campaign Dewey urged American voters, after the election, to "close ranks" and to prove to the world that this is a united nation. He is known to feel that this must still be done, despite his own unexpected defeat, and is expected to say so tomorrow.

Dewey also may take the opportunity to call for continuation of the bi-partisan foreign policy, which he endorsed as long ago as 1944, when he first ran for president.

CIO And AFL Leaders Welcome Truman

Cabinet Session Is Held By President

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—President Truman picked up the reins of office again today, holding an "informal" cabinet session and talking to CIO President Philip Murray.

The White House announced the Chief Executive met with his cabinet officers shortly after receiving the greatest "homecoming" reception accorded any public figures by the nation's capital.

The brief cabinet session was attended by vice president-elect Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky).

Asks Officials To Stay

It was reported the President asked his cabinet officials to remain on the job, even though he is expected to make several changes before the inauguration ceremonies in January.

Among the very first of Mr. Truman's visitors this afternoon was the head of the CIO.

Murray told newsmen he conferred with the President for about 20 minutes in his office. The labor leader reported:

"I just extended my compliments to Mr. Truman, that was all."

AFL President William Green greeted Mr. Truman when the Chief Executive arrived at union station before the "homecoming" victory parade.

Tobin Is Endorsed

Murray, who told newsmen that the labor vote "speaks for itself," said that labor wants the Labor department built into a "strong department of government," and added:

"Of course, we also hope for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law now that the people have spoken."

Murray heartily endorsed Mau-

Atlantic Alliance Planning Pushed

By ARTHUR GAVSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 5—The Brussels alliance will begin next week the outline and perhaps the actual draft of a proposed North Atlantic pact with Canada and the United States, British and French sources said tonight. The object is to have the treaty ready to submit to Congress in January.

The report came as John Foster Dulles, Republican member of the U. S. delegation, told the UN Assembly's political committee that "our strength is not for ourselves alone. . . . It is our purpose so to unite and strengthen the forces of freedom that they will not have to fear."

French Divisions Equipped

This development followed the disclosure that the United States already has re-equipped three French divisions in Germany from surplus material. The Russian-licensed press in Berlin termed this action the implementation of a new "Truman doctrine for France," a reference to American

States' Righters Study Wisdom Of Giving HST Electoral Votes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—Southern States' Right Democrats reflectively eyed the Truman bandwagon today.

From States' Rights and regular southern Democrats came telephone calls to Washington sounding out the wisdom of switching any or all of the 38 electoral votes scheduled now for South Carolina Governor J. Strom Thurmond for president and for Mississippi Governor Fielding L. Wright for vice president. Any switch, they made clear, would be to President Truman and Senator Barkley (D-Ky).

Democratic national committee representatives said the votes could be switched from the States' Rights candidates to the Democratic candidates unless specific state laws prevent it.

Southerners, who declined to be quoted by name said they hoped negotiations to raise President Truman's electoral vote total from his present 304 to 342 would bring back to South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana Democrats their "bonus" votes in the next national Democratic convention. Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies Today

Today is Poppy day in Lubbock.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary and their representatives will be on the streets during the day selling a facsimile of the bright little flower that has become synonomous with war and its after-affects.

The poppies, made each year by the millions by war-disabled veterans in hospitals and convalescent shops throughout the country, serve not only to help keep the public conscious of its debt to disabled veterans, but the funds derived from their sale add materially to the comfort of these veterans and their families.

According to Mrs. Fred Kincaid, local Legion auxiliary president, who is in supervision of poppy day here, the need for relief work which the poppy funds make possible has grown greater each year.

Despite generous government help in many cases, there are many veterans with families, or families of deceased veterans, who through no fault of their own, cannot prove up claims, or worthy cases not subject to government help are found, Mrs. Kincaid said. The funds from the poppies help to fill this gap, and the auxiliary head issued an appeal for public generosity in the campaign.

Suspect Held In Death Of Canadian In New York Hotel

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—A Canadian businessman was found beaten to death in the fashionable Waldorf Astoria hotel today and less than 12 hours later police said they had a confession from a 19-year-old salesman.

Assistant District Attorney George Monaghan said tonight the salesman, Ralph Edmund Barrows, had admitted "full participation" in the fatal beating of Cameron Mackellar, 56-year-old textile company official.

$5,000 Bond Set In Assault Case

A 29-year-old Lubbock man was charged late Friday evening with assault with intent to rape, and Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn set bond of $5,000 binding him over to investigation by a Nov. 29 grand jury.

Complaining witness, a 22-year-old Littlefield woman, said in an oral statement before Lynn that the alleged offense occurred about 5 p. m. approximately three miles beyond Shallowater as the man was taking her to Littlefield from Lubbock in his car.

No formal statements had been taken from either the man or the woman last night, but it was indicated that both will be questioned by the district attorney's office today in connection with the incident.

Felony Charge Filed

Lionel R. Julsen, 36, of Lubbock route 7, was held in lieu of bonds totaling $1,850 in three cases, the sheriff's department said late Friday.

Bond of $1,000 was set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in a charge of drunk driving, second offense, a felony accusation.

Bond of $600 was set by County Judge Walter Davies after Julsen had pleaded innocent of a charge of carrying a slung shot.

Lynn, in addition, placed the

Wildcat Location Staked In Dawson

Location for a 5,000-foot wildcat in northwest Dawson county, two miles south of the south limits of the Welch field, has been staked by E. E. (Ed) Reigle of Midland.

It is to be his No. 1 Ina Mae Farley, located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block M, EL&RR survey. The contract depth is scheduled to allow a test into the San Andres, regular producing horizon in the Welch pool.

Contractor to drill the venture with rotary tools is Louis Mabee, also of Milland, who will own a half interest in the project and 640 acres surrounding it.

Project Supported

Cities Service Oil Company, Ralph Lowe, Hugh Corrigan, and Dave Duncan, of Big Spring, are supporting the exploration through the purchase of acreage. Acreage contributions have been made by Richmond Drilling Company, Reigle Trust, American Republics Corporation, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Hugh Corrigan.

The wildcat is now rigging up rotary preparatory to spudding.

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1 Turner, in northwest Dawson county, two and one-half miles northwest of the Welch-San Andres field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 2, block C-39, psl survey, took a two-hour and 15 minute drillstem test in the San Andres-Permian at 4,875-4,913 feet.

Recovery was 210 feet of slightly gas-cut drilling mud. There were no indications of oil or of water. The exploration is coring ahead.

The Harvesters are undefeated in 1-AA, boasting wins over Plainview and Brownfield.

High Scores Predicted

Lubbock's gridders have been the victims of a murderous schedule this season, gaining wins over North Side of Fort Worth and Childress and a tie with Odessa, but losing clashes with San Angelo, Austin, Borger and Amarillo.

A high-scoring tilt is predicted when the two old rivals from the Panhandle and the South Plains tangle this afternoon, since both teams feature steady ground attacks and dangerous aerial offenses. Pampa has tallied three or more touchdowns in four games, and has been held scoreless only once.

The Westerners' have chalked up nearly 200 yards rushing in every game this season, although their passing attack has been slightly erratic, and the Lubbock representatives have scored two or more touchdowns in most of their clashes.

Some of the top schoolboy stars of West Texas will see action in the setto. Bobby Brown, Lubbock's triple-threat tailback, has been honored numerous times this season on the major state "honor rolls" and is considered a top candidate for all-district and all-state honors. A Westerner lineman, End Bob Rooker, has also been praised by downstate sports writers and coaches and is bidding for an all-district post.

Williams Paces Squad

Pampa's grid machine is paced by speedy Halfback Jack Williams, the leading scorer in District 1-AA, and a quartet of veteran linemen. End Derral Davis is considered a strong candidate for all-star honors, as well as Guard Phillip Psyne and Tackle Ralph Hutsell.

The Harvesters will hold a wide edge in experience over the Westerners, since six of the Pampa starters were regulars in 1947. Only one Westerner — Wingback Donald Decker, was a regular last year. Pampa will also hold a weight advantage of five pounds per man in the forward wall, although the backfields will be about evenly matched.

Westerner Lineup

Westerner Coach Pat Pattison announced Friday night his probable starting lineup as follows:

Probable starters for Pampa will include:

The Westerner squad will leave early this morning by chartered bus for Pampa, and will return home tonight.

Sandies Humble Borger, 26 To 6

BORGER, Nov. 5 (Special) — Amarillo's vaunted aerial attack clicked for three touchdowns here tonight, with Tailback Marvin McNeil tossing to End James Garner, and the Golden Sandies chalked up an easy 26-6 triumph over the Borger Bulldogs. The win was the third in District 1-AA play for the Sandies, who are undefeated this season.

Amarillo took advantage of a recovery of a Borger fumble early in the game to launch a scoring drive that ended with McNeil passing five yards to Garner across the double stripe.

The Sandies tallied again on the last play of the second quarter, when McNeil connected with Garner on a long heave to the Amarillo 40, then the speedy end sprinted the remaining 60 yards to the goal line.

Fullback Claude Fox rammed 29 yards for a third tally to put the Golden Sandstorm far out in front, then McNeil and Garner combined on another pass play that covered 62 yards to add the fourth Amarillo touchdown.

Borger's only six-pointer was tallied in the final quarter, when Tailback R. C. Dalton climaxed a long drive with a three-yard plunge through the line.

Idalou Wins Crown

IDALOU, Nov. 5. (Special)— Idalou's speedy Wildcats won the District 4-B grid championship here tonight with an impressive 31-0 victory over the Whiteface eleven.

The Wildcats, who have won six straight conference settos, went ahead in the initial stanza when Halfback Donald Seale circled end on a 30-yard touchdown jaunt. Seale passed to Halfback Leon Jarrett for the extra point.

Jarrett added another six-pointed in the same quarter with a 25-yard spring around end, then the rifle-armed Seale tossed a 30-yard aerial to Lloyd Allen for a counter in the second period to give the Idalou gridders a 19-0 halftime margin.

The Seale-to-Jarrett passing combination clicked for an 80-yard touchdown play in the third quarter. Jarrett took the toss on the Idalou 40-yard line, then raced the remaining 60 yards to the double stripe. Jarrett added the final tally on an end around play.

scoring once. Allen and Green added extra points from placement.

Coach Roy Bailey's team scored twice in the first period and added single scores in each of the final three stanzas, with the line turning in some outstanding blocking.

Pemble scored his first touchdown on a 38-yard pass interception and his second on a 40-yard run around end. Allen notched his with a five-yard plunge to climax a 70-yard march down the field. Green went 11 yards through center to end a march of 40 yards and Hangman, with second stringers playing, took an 18-yard pass from Joe Bob Hoyle to hit pay dirt.

Sandlin Paces Paducah To 33-6 Win Over Ralls; Monahans Crushes Seminole, 49-13

Dragons Roll To Second 3-A Win

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

RALLS, Nov. 5. — Paducah's Dragons, sparked by a brilliant all-round performance by Quarterback Joe Ed Sandlin, rolled to their second District 3-A grid triumph of the season here tonight as they overpowered Ralls' Jackrabbits, 33-6, before some 1,000 chilled spectators.

Sandlin, a speedy 165-pound senior, took the opening kickoff deep in the coffin corner, raced laterally across the field, then cut back and sped 95 yards to a touchdown to give the Dragons a lead that was never seriously threatened.

Sandlin Stars

The Paducah speedster followed through by running 19 yards for another touchdown, passing for one six-pointer, and kicking three extra points to personally account for 21 of his team's points for the night.

Ralls, playing without the services of its star halfback, Billy Woods, made only one threatening gesture. The Jackrabbits opened the second half by driving 40 yards to score, but after that the Paducah defense stiffened and the Rabbits never seriously threatened again. Ray Marsh tallied the lone Ralls touchdown, knifing over center from four yards out.

Pressley Plunges Over

Paducah's second counter was made by Perry Pressley on a three-yard center plunge that capped a 35-yard march in the first quarter. Joe Ed Sandlin scored early in the second period on a 19-yard right end sweep, and Tom Sandlin boosted the lead to 26-0 before halftime with a four-yard scoring plunge.

The final Dragon counter came on a 51-yard pass-and-run play from Joe Ed Sandlin to his brother, Tom, early in the fourth quarter.

Coach O. M. Isbell's team held a clear-cut statistical edge, with 11 first downs to six for Ralls. The Dragons led in net yards rushing by 162 to 57, and in yards gained passing by 83 to 12.

Lockney Stomps Matador, 39-0, To Clinch District 3-A Title

LOCKNEY, Nov. 5. (Special)— Lockney's powerful Longhorns clinched the District 3-A grid title with a 39-0 triumph over the outclassed Matador Matadors here tonight. The win protected Lockney's undefeated record this season.

The Longhorns took the lead early in the first quarter, when Halfback Jimmy McGowan climaxed a drive with a 16-yard scoring slant off left tackle. McGowan kicked the extra point from placement and Lockney led, 7-0.

Minutes later the Longhorns' score was boosted to 14-0, as Fullback Jack Cole sprinted around left end and raced 25 yards to paydirt. McGowan again converted.

Two more tallies were notched in the second period, with the Longhorn backs reeling off long yardage behind the stellar blocking of End Calvin Plye, Tackle Ewell Kelley, and Center Donnie Bybee. Fullback Mack Howard blasted through tackle for one-yard and a six-pointer, then McGowan passed to Pyle on a scoring play that covered 35 yards.

Halfback Jerry McCullough took over the point-making chores for the Longhorns in the third stanza, tallying on an eight-yard buck through right tackle, then Back Max Howard tossed a 32-yard aerial to Charles Crouch to end the scoring.

Spur's Bulldogs Roll Over Outclassed Abernathy, 64-12

SPUR, Nov. 5 (Special)—Spur's Bulldogs crushed the Abernathy Antelopes 64-12 in a near riot here tonight when the Antelopes failed to stop the hard-hitting Bulldog offensive in a District 3-A battle.

Halfback Doyle Slack, Halfback Clarence Blair and Fullback Tommy Aldredge sparked the Bulldog drive with Slack scoring two touchdowns, Aldredge two and Blair five. Quarterback Simpson passed to End Sonnamaker for the additional Bulldog tally. Spur scored twice in each of the first two periods and three times in each of the two final quarters.

Abernathy scored in the first period when Quarterback Hughes passed to Stephens who went over for a tally and again in the second period when Hughes went through the line for the final Antelope score.

Dunbar Panthers Score Twice To Lick Abilene Negro Eleven, 13-0

Dunbar High school's Panthers slammed Abilene 13 to 0 here last night in a first half surge.

Odis Walker took a handoff from Fred Wright in the first frame and raced 25 yards for the first marker after Bullock and Robinson had worked the ball into scoring range. In the second period, Fred Wright passed to Albert Smith for 12 yards and a touchdown.

Abilene threatened shortly before the half when a Dunbar pass went wild and was snapped up and raced back to the Lubbock team's 1-yard line. On the first play Abilene fumbled and Dunbar recovered to squelch the threat.

Wildcats Gain Third 4-A Victory

Littlefield Annexes 13-0 Win Over Sudan

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Avalanche Sports Writer

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 5 (Special) —The Littlefield Wildcats came to life after a sluggish first half here tonight to clip the Sudan Hornets 13-0 for their third conference victory in north district 4-A.

The Hornets, led by backs Pickett and Hommock, swarmed over Littlefield the first half of the contest, to chalk up five first downs to three for the Wildcats. The Hornets took advantage of a fumble near midfield in the second quarter and shortly afterwards punted out on their opponents 11-yard line. A Wildcat passing attack was cut short by the halftime whistle.

Srygley Scores

Littlefield's stellar back, John Srygley, plunged over from the six-inch line at the beginning of the third quarter, following a sustained drive down field with Lilburn Bales and Tom Bailes. Receiving on his own 35-yard stripe Srygley plowed through the Hornets' nest to their 32-yard line. But it required eight more charges to push through to pay dirt. Plunge for the extra point failed.

Srygley again tallied for the Wildcats at the opening of the fourth period, as a result of another series of line-bucking plunges. With a first down on the Sudan 40-yard mark Bales, Bailes, and Srygley knocked off left tackle and end up to the six. Srygley hit center to within one foot of the goal and then crashed over. His plunge for extra point was good, making the score 13-0.

Wildcats Impressive

Although the Sudan eleven put up a terrific fight, they were never a serious threat to the overpowering Wildcats.

Littlefield cracked the line for first downs almost at will during the second half, pushing their record to 13 against a total of eight for Sudan.

SWC Leader May Be Picked Today

(By The Associated Press)

If the odds-makers are correct, there will be an undisputed leader in Southwest Conference football Saturday night.

Southern Methodist, Texas and Arkansas are the selections to win this week's games—meaning SMU is picked over Texas A and M at Dallas, Texas over Baylor at Waco and Arkansas over Rice at Little Rock.

Victory for SMU and defeat for Baylor would put the Methodists on top, a position they now share with Baylor.

Southern Methodist is the longest favorite—27 points. Texas and Arkansas are one-touchdown choices.

The feature battle will be the Baylor-Texas game with a capacity crowd of 20,000 due to watch the Bears try to keep their winning record straight.

Some 50,000 are expected to crowd into the Cotton Bowl at Dallas for the Southern Methodist-Texas A and M fireworks.

A throng of 35,000 is forecast for the Arkansas - Rice game at Little Rock.

Texas Christian, the other member of the Conference, has no game this week.

Last 1948 Futurity Slated At Pimlico Tracks Today

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5. (AP)—The last 1948 futurity, horse racing's barometer of candidates for next season's 3-year-old honors, will run at Pimlico tomorrow with ten likely starters.

While the probable field doesn't include all the year's most promising 2-year-olds, the Pimlico futurity has been an accurate proving ground the last two years.

The lineup also includes Calumet Farm's Flying Disc, Christiana Stable's Parliament, Mrs. Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Bahram, King Ranch's Swap Out, A. G. Vanderbilt's Disconsolate and Stone Age, Woodvale Farm's Sport Page and William Ziegler's Entrust.

Sundown Rolls Up Impressive 64-0 Win Over Morton Squad

MORTON, Nov. 5 (Special)—The Sundown Roughnecks lived up to their name here tonight and smashed Morton 64-0 in what appeared to be preliminaries for a spring track meet.

Coach T. S. Green's madmen, led by back Etheridge, unleashed a tornado attack on the ground, uprooting all uniformed obstacles in their path. They marched to their third conference victory in the northern half of district 4-A, splitting honors for second place with another winning eleven—Littlefield, who downed Sudan 13-0.

A record crowd witnessed the runaway contest.

Paris Baseball Club Appears Certain To Be Moved To Temple

DALLAS, Nov. 5. (AP) — Big State baseball league president J. Walter Morris planned to go today to Temple to talk with prospective buyers of the Paris baseball franchise.

After returning from Paris last night, Morris said it appeared certain the franchise would be moved.

Paris people have until Nov. 10 to buy the franchise at a price set by a Big State league appraisal committee but Morris said he had found no one interested in buying.

Lobos Virtually Clinch 5-A Title

MONAHANS, Nov. 5. (Special) —Monahans' powerful Lobos, sparked by Halfback Waldo Young's superb running, crushed the Seminole Indians here tonight, 49-13, and virtually clinched the District 5-A championship.

Both teams entered the crucial tilt tonight with undefeated records, but the issue was not long in doubt as Young, a 145-pound swivel-hipped speedster, scored six touchdowns and set up another tally. Young was given brilliant support by a rugged forward wall, but in the secondary it was his twisting, driving gallops that chalked up long yardage.

Young Goes Ahead

Young wasted little time in putting Monahans ahead in the first quarter, climaxing a 50-yard drive with a 10-yard smash to paydirt. Weldon Boggus converted from placement and the Lobos held a 7-0 edge.

Minutes later Young tallied again on a 30-yard sprint, but Seminole bounced back in the second period to cut the Lobo lead to 13-6. The Indians scored on a 25-yard pass from Guinn Hood to Tommy Gilmer.

Young gave the Monahans gridders a 19-6 halftime lead with a five-yard smash across the double stripe late in the second stanza, then clinched the victory in the third quarter with a dazzling 65-yard touchdown gallop that boosted the count to 25-6. The irrepressible Young set up another Monahans tally minutes later, when he intercepted an Indian pass on the Seminole 33. On the next play Back Ray Cathey broke over left tackle and went all the way to paydirt.

Few Penalties

Seminole scored a second touchdown in the third period, with Hood climaxing a long drive with a two-yard plunge through center. Bert Affleck added the extra point.

Monahans pushed across three more counters, with Cathey tallying on a 25-yard run and Young scoring on sprints of 20 and 50 yards.

The game was very cleanly played, and few penalties were called in the tussle.

Andrews Swamps Fort Stockton Gridders 13-0 In 5-A Tussle

ANDREWS, Nov. 5 (Special)—The Andrews Mustangs swamped Fort Stockton's Panthers 13-0 in a District 5-A conference tilt here tonight before a crowd of approximately 1500.

The Mustangs grabbed the lead in the first four minutes of play when Halfback Joe Weatherby went through the line for paydirt. The other touchdown was made when Quarterback Bob Holman passed to Johnny Walker, halfback, for a gain of 40 yards and a tally.

The Panthers failed to make a serious scoring threat.

Pecos Eagles Outduel Denver City 26 To 14 In 5-A Tussle

DENVER CITY, Nov. 5 (Spl)— In an onslaught sparked by Fullback George Christian, the Pecos Eagles downed Denver City's Mustangs 26-14 in a District 5-A conference tilt here tonight.

Christian, who played an outstanding game, made all the Eagle touchdowns and received a pass for one extra point. Quarterback Bill Basden kicked the other extra point. The Eagles scored twice early in the first period, once in the second and one time in the third.

For the Mustangs, Fullback Jack Pritchard went 49 yards for a touchdown in second period and Left Half Bill Price went 58 yards in the third quarter for the final tally. This was the last home game for the Mustangs.

NEVER TOO OLD

NEW YORK. (AP) — Mechanize, steeplechase winner on Eastern jumping circuits this season, began racing at an age when most thoroughbreds are getting ready to retire. The black, gelded son of Boston Mat-War Caddy, owned by Jack Grabosky, made his racing debut in 1947 as a 7-year-old. In his younger years he was a hunter and show horse.

Undefeated Miners On Short End Of Odds Despite Fabulous Wendt

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Flying Fred Wendt and Pug Gabrel lead the undefeated, once-tied Texas Mines football team into Jones Stadium this afternoon at 2:30 for the most important Border Conference clash of the season against the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, also undefeated in loop games, before an anticipated crowd of 17,000.

One of the best offensive duels of the season is in view for football fans of this area, with Wendt and Gabrel putting their ability against a host of Raider backs. The Raiders are favored by one or two touchdowns, but their forward wall will give 23 pounds a man to the Miners.

Record Is Impressive

Coach Jack Curtice brings a team with a high proportion of sophomores to Lubbock for the battle today, but sprinkled among the second year men are four seniors and ten juniors. They are improving with each game and their record of five victories and one tie is impressive.

The Miners opened their season with a 33-14 victory over McMurry, conquered Houston University 35-7, took the WTSTC Buffaloes in stride 21-7, added Brigham Young to the list 34-20 and walloped New Mexico 27-13, before being tied by Hardin-Simmons 27-27.

Only two games show any comparative basis. Tech beat WTSTC 19-0, but scored only two touchdowns, which would place the teams even. And Arizona beat H-SU 20-14, while Tech took Arizona 31-0, making the Raiders favored by 37 points.

But this game can't be doped by compartaive scores. The Miners have been anxious to get on Tech's schedule ever since they were dropped in 1939, the year that they won their third of five games in the series, 7-2. The Miners will come up to Lubbock ready to play inspired football and kick over the dope bucket. This is their big game and the Border Conference title could rest with the winner.

Miners Lead In Series

The two teams have played five games, with the Miners winning 31-0 in 1930 and 14-12 in 1931. The Raiders took a 12-0 victory in 1933 and a 14-7 win in 1938, a year that they were not defeated in 10 games. The Orediggers took the 1939 game and the series was broken until the renewal this year.

The Raiders go into this game with a four and three record, boasting wins over WTSTC 19-0, Texas Aggies 20-14, Tulsa 41-20, and Arizona 31-0. Losses were all to Southwest Conference elevens, SMU 41-6, Baylor 13-0 and Rice 14-7.

Each team has one player unable to see action due to injury. Tackle Ray "Sugar" Evans, All-Conference last year, hurt his right leg last week and will be missing from the Miner lineup today. Tackle Bobby Broyles, 245-pounder, sprained his left ankle in practice this week and won't be available for duty for Tech.

Otherwise the two squads are in top shape for this battle on which so much hinges.

Tech Holds Speed Edge

The Raiders, sparked by Ernest Hawkins and Milton Rathbone, will attempt to shake loose such backs as Charley Reynolds, Cal Steveson, aZc Henderson, the Stuver, Bud Conley, Glenn Lewis, J. W. Thompson, Earl Jackson, Walter Maloney, Tim Hatch and Bill White. The Raiders definitely hold an edge in speed and they probably will attempt to make every use of it they can.

There also should be plenty of passing in the game, with Hawkins and Rathbone doing most of the heaving for Tech. Against them the Miners will throw Quarterback Jim Bowden, one of the top aerialists in the Border loop last year. Bowden's completion mark was the best in the league in 1947, tossing 93 and completing 53. He is one of nine Odessa men on the Orediggers roster.

It should be a thrilling offensive battle today and the expected crowd ought to see more fireworks than they would on the Fourth of July.

Plainview Takes Win Over Cubs

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 5. (Spl)— Brownfield's Cubs took a 13-0 whipping from the Plainview Bulldogs in a hard-fought District 1-AA conference game before a crowd of about 2,500 here tonight.

The Bulldogs took the lead in the first period when Fullback Bill Blair went around left end for eight yards and a touchdown.

In the second period Left Half Marlin Miller went 25 yards on a quick opening play for a tally and the final score of the game.

The Bulldogs threatened again late in the second period, and again in the fourth, but failed to cross over for a score.

Brownfield failed to get beyond the Bulldog 20-yard line even though the Cub passing attack was good for heavy yardage around the center of the field.

Quarterback Dale Cary, Brownfield, was injured when he was tackled after receiving a pass. He collapsed after the game was ended. His condition is not considered serious, but he is under observation at a Plainview hospital.

Decision On Hearing On Demo Convention Action Set Today

FORT WORTH, Nov. 5. (AP)— Judge Walter Morris of 67th district court will announce at 10 a. m., Saturday whether he will issue a temporary injunction against all or part of the actions of the Democratic state convention held here on September 14.

Meantime, the threatened purge of party officers was held in obeyance voluntarily.

Democratic state chairman John C. Calhoun and Tarrant County chairman C. E. McKnight told the court through their lawyer, Ernest May, that they would do nothing to carry out the purge of precinct chairmen who refused to sign Truman-Barkley support pledges until Morris renders a final judgment. The final judgment would come at the end of the hearing for a permanent injunction which in all likelihood will follow Morris's decision on issuance of the temporary injunction.

Calumet Farms' Armed, making a comeback attempt at Hialeah this winter, will be racing his seventh straight season at the Florida track.

Bobcat Eleven Hammers Chiefs, 34-0

Dimmitt Stops Friona

DIMMITT, Nov. 5 (Special)— The Dimmitt Bobcats stopped Friona's Chiefs cold and marched to a 34-0 victory in a District 3-B conference play here tonight.

Right Half Harold Brannan scored twice for the Bobcats while Fullback Carl Joel, Quarterback Lonnie Rice and Left Half Jim Joel each made a single tally. Tackle Jim Joel kicked the four extra points.

The Chiefs failed to make a serious threat and never got beyond the Bobcat 35-yard line. The Chiefs opened a drive late in the second period but time ran out when their offense reached the Bobcat 35.

The Bobcats scored one time in the first, once in the second, twice in the third and once in the final period.

Olton Eleven Pounds Out 19-0 Victory Over Anton Gridders

ANTON, Nov. 5. (Special) — Olton pounded out touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters here tonight and staved off a desperate Anton bid late in the third period to win a District 3-B conference game 19 to 0.

Olton took over on an Anton fumble in the first period and on hard driving ground plays drove for their first touchdown. The second marker was racked up after a 50 yard march. Olton ground out four consecutive first downs on the drive. An off-tackle play good for 40 yards racked up the third Olton score.

Anton took over and drove to the Olton one-inch line late in the third period before being held for downs by the stubborn Olton line. Both teams fought to a standoff in the final period.

Farwell Eleven Scores 25-0 Victory Over Amherst Team

FARWELL, Nov. 5. (Special)— Don Ford's sensational pass-snagging and Warlick Thomas' steady running paced the Farwell eleven to a 25-0 victory over Amherst here tonight.

Thomas tallied the first touchdown on a line plunge, then Jerry Pool went across the double stripe on an end run to give the Farwell gridders a 13-0 halftime margin.

Back Toby Boothe's pass to Ford set up another Farwell tally in the third period, with Thomas plunging for the six points.

PENNA WINS TOURNEY

PINEHURST, N.C., Nov. 5. (INS) —Toney Penna, veteran tournament player from Cincinnati, Ohio, today won the 46th annual North and South Open Golf Championship, with a 72-hole score of 285.

OUR VEGETABLES

A Boon To The Area

PROBABLY to a much greater extent than most residents of the area are aware, the potentialties of a considerable portion of the South Plains—including Lubbock and adjacent counties—as a vegetable producing area are being developed.

The commercial possibilities of this type of agriculture probably are in their infancy. But the proof of the possibilities has gone far beyond the experimental stage. It has been demonstrated, for example, that many vegetables flourish in this area, if given sufficient water. The growing season is long. In quality the crops are superior. Most of them mature at periods which command high, if not premium, prices.

If reliable estimates of the dollar value of the production this year is available, usual agencies do not have them. But speaking for themselves are large fields which produced bountifully of carrots, lettuce, sweet potatoes and other crops. Many large packers are interested in this area. Lubbock just missed getting such a plant this year which would have given seasonal employment to several hundred men.

Possibilities of commercial vegetable growing unquestionably exist. Development is in progress and will continue. The potential justifies optimism, considering such factors as the 400,000 irrigated acres of cotton which could have been devoted to vegetables. If possibilities are developed, the result would mean more dollars per acre of land and large payrolls during the packing and harvesting seasons.

The prospect provides just one more reason why South Plainsmen look toward continuing growth and prosperity with confidence.

Who's Wallace?

IF EVER a candidate—even a synthetic one—should have felt thoroughly squelched by the returns in a presidential election, he is Henry A. Wallace. Henry, unfortunately, just doesn't squelch as long as anyone pays attention to him.

His last pre-election forecast claimed a minimum of eight to 10 million votes. Most conservative observers predicted he would get three to five. About the lowest guess was 2,000,000 votes plus. He actually got just a little over 1,000,000.

Comparisons with the polls for extra-party candidates during past years emphasize the smallness of this proportion of the total vote. In 1912, Socialist Eugene V. Debs got 897,000 out of about 15,000,000 votes. Robert M. LaFollette polled 4,822,000 out of 27,000,000 in 1924. Socialist Norman Thomas got 894,000 out of 39,000,000 in 1932. Considering total votes, Debs ran about three times as strong as Wallace, LaFollette nine times and Thomas about 50 per cent better, all without vigorous campaigns.

Henry should, but probably won't, take this convincing hint that he is just about the deadest duck politically on the national scene.

The only people not bothered by the noise of children playing in the house are ones accustomed to living over a bowling alley.

The old-timer is the one who can remember when the butcher would throw in a chunk of liver free of charge.

Man can get accustomed to most anything. The fellow who receives numbers of telegrams can open one without trembling.

BY taking the earliest possible bus next morning Hilary arrived home before the others, who traveled by car after breakfast.

When Sabrina ran up to his room he was already there, and it never occurred to her that he had left it. He could tell by her face that last night's false security still existed. He wondered how long that would last.

Father gave it away at luncheon, by announcing that he had arranged to take rooms in Wells for the next month at least, instead of going up to Town with them tomorrow.

"Tomorrow!" said Sabrina incredulously.

"I shall be able to use the Wells Museum then, until my book is ready for the printer," Father explained.

"But you said I didn't have to go!" cried Sabrina. "Aunt Effie, you promised!"

"I promised about Switzerland," Aunt Effie conceded cautiously. "But when I thought you were going, I made arrangements to give up the lease here."

"When?"

"This week."

"But—" Sabrina looked blankly from one to the other.

"I wasn't going to tell you just yet," admitted Aunt Effie. "Not until you were rested, that is, but now that you know, you might as well start packing directly after luncheon. I thought with luck we might catch the 9 o'clock train in the morning. Your father wants the car left here, of course."

"Then it's over," said Sabrina hopelessly, not looking at them. "I've lost it—forever."

"What, dear?" We thought of looking up places at the seashore for a month later on. Just you and me and Bella, you'd like that, wouldn't you!"

"THAT Swiss school," said Sabrina, looking down at her plate. "Was it a convent?"

"Why—no," said Aaunt Effie.

"I was thinking it must be nice to be a nun," said Sabrina simply, as though talking to herself.

"WHAT?" said Father, so that Aunt Effie jumped and dropped her fork. "Now, look here, Sabrina—a fellow you've never seen goes and dies out in India and you want to be a nun! That's nonsense. You're going to forget all about it at once—forget this house and everything in it! I don't mean to be harsh or unreasonable," he added more quietly, smitten by her smallness and whiteness, so motionless in her chair. "But I expect my daughter to grow up into a sane, healthy-minded woman, with the right ideas about marriage and children. There's no reason on earth why I shouldn't see you married to some decent fellow and safely a mother before I die."

Sabrina stared at him in dumb incredulity. Married? To someone who wasn't Hilary? Children—that weren't Hilary's?

"Some chap with eyes in his head is bound to turn up soon enough, I dare say," Father was assuring Aunt Effie obstinately. "The child is very like her mother, and Joan was a dashed pretty girl when I married her."

"Was she happy with you?" asked Sabrina in the dead silence which enveloped his final word.

"Naturally she was," said Father, without hesitation, but his eyes as they rested on his daughter were guarded and hostile and bleak. "Why shouldn't she have been?"

"Then why did she die?" querled Sabrina unreasonably, and there was a small gasp from Aunt Effie at the other end of the table.

"Because she had a fall just before you were born," he stated with brutal simplicity. "You were born too soon. It killed her."

"Alan—!" Aunt Effie faltered into silence as that bleak, angry gaze came round to her.

"Sabrina's old enough to know these things," he asserted. "You should have told her long ago."

SABRINA left the table without a word, and went to her room and sat down there, sick and cold and faint. Her face felt rigid and drawn, as though she had never smiled, and never would again.

Muffin came and got into her lap, digging in his claws, but she took no notice of him.

When Aunt Effie came up at tea time, bringing a large suitcase, Sabrina rose mechanically and began as requested to fill it with the contents of the chest of drawers. Aunt Effie noticed with relief that at least she wasn't crying, and went away again, more or less on tiptoe.

Sabrina went down to dinner when she was called, and sat through the meal in silence, staring at her plate, deaf to remonstrances. After dinner she went back to her room and began to walk up and down the floor aimlessly, her hands locked together.

About 10 o'clock Aunt Effie looked in at the door and advised her to get a good sleep, as they had to be up early tomorrow. Obediently Sabrina undressed and got into bed.

It was 7 o'clock when she woke. Doggedly she washed her face and brushed her hair and dressed herself, and laid her toilet things and nightgown away in the dressing case, and went down to breakfast. Her head felt very hot and much too big, her hands were icy, and her knees wobbled. All her willpower was in her stoic silence throughout that awful meal, while she sat dry-eyed, choking down a cup of hot tea. It was no good behaving like a baby, making scenes. And she mustn't look a fright with crying when she went up to tell Hilary goodbye.

When Father and Aunt Effie rose from the breakfast table she rose too and climbed the two flights to Hilary's room shakily, holding to the bannisters all the way.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

A BRIGHT young lady of our acquaintance, a bright young lady eighteen years of age, asked to see my wife in strictest privacy.

My wife consented, shut the doors, and the bright young lady poured out her trouble to my spouse.

Was she in trouble!

She had fallen in love with an old man.

Nothing could come of it, she knew that, but she couldn't help it.

But what was she to do?

She couldn't marry an old man, could she?

BRANDEIS

When she was fifty, this man would be seventy-one, when she was seventy, this man would be within nine years of a century!

My wife was duly sympathetic. How old was this old man?

Almost thirty-nine, can you imagine?

My wife smiled indulgently She probably remembered when she, too, would have considered a thirty-niner frightfully old. She also realized that that half-century-plus old chap upstairs working at his typewriter didn't seem old at all.

What did she tell the bright young lady?

Come to think of it, I didn't even ask her, and it really doesn't matter.

When my wife came upstairs to tell me about the visit, I had just finished reading John Crosby's column, Crosby being my favorite radio critic.

Crosby had written a column which I wish I had written.

He had told about the joy of not doing things.

For instance, he said, it was much more fun not to listen to certain radio programs at all than to turn them off, as, for an example, Gabriel Heatter.

He so much enjoyed not reading novels by Taylor Caldwell, or going to the Metropolitan Museum and not looking at certain pictures.

THIS VISIT of the young lady in love with an old man of thirty-nine reminded me of that.

When she gets as old as I, she too will enjoy not doing a lot of things that bother her now.

I am in what is optimistically called the prime of life, by which is meant those years between fifty and the wheelchair.

And you have no idea how much I enjoy not doing a lot of things.

I enjoy not worrying about a career or about making a lot of money.

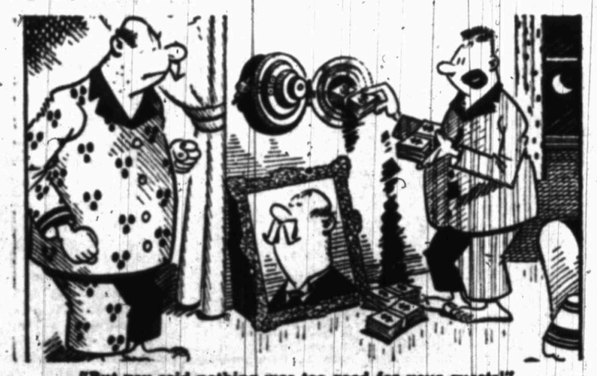

I enjoy not having to commute any more. I enjoy not being bothered with turbulent romances and those awful post-romance letdowns.

I enjoy not giving a continental whether the Joneses have a bigger car than I have or whether the Van Dumberys are going to invite us to their afternoon tea or not.

My wife could have told her youthful visitor about all this. She could have told her how much as we two are getting older, we enjoy not doing a lot of things that seemed so important when we were younger and more impetuous.

But I am glad she didn't. To appreciate the fun of not doing things you must first have done them.

ONE CAUSE FOR UPSET

GOPs Overconfident

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The amazing Truman election, which has left every so-called political expert without a shirt or an apology, means that the underdog has become the top-dog in the United States. Franklin D. Roosevelt's body may lie buried in the rose-encircled plot at Hyde Park. But his spirit marches on.

TUCKER

The American people have voted for the fifth successive time for the social and economic reforms which, in the opinion of the majority, give greater security and a more decent livelihood to them and to their children.

It was an uprising of workingmen, housewives and their husbands, farmers, racial and religious minorities which returned Harry S. Truman to the White House when even his own associates were prepared for almost certain defeat.

RESPONSIBLE: No single element of the electorate was responsible for his victory.

The votes he lost in such industrial states as New York and New Jersey were compensated for by the turnout of agriculturists in Ohio, Iowa and Minnesota.

Indeed, the Democrats' strength in rural areas, based largely on the program of farm support prices, is a new factor that must be reckoned with in all future political alignments.

FARMERS: Governor Thomas E. Dewey lost several farm states which he won in 1944, and which voted for Wendell Willkie in 1940. In fact, had he carried them, he would have nosed out Mr. Truman by from twenty to thirty electoral votes.

Whereas F.D.R. owed his last two triumphs in 1940 and 1944 to overwhelming majorities in about a dozen cities, it was the turnout of the pay-dirt farmers in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Colorado and other normally Republican States which won for Mr. Truman.

In view of this phenomenon, there is more than political honor in the remark of a Republican leader who, after surveying the loss of the White House, the Congress and the governorships in several of the nation's leading commonwealths, said:

"We have got to begin to rebuild from the ground up."

ENEMY: Nevertheless, there is no escaping the fact that Governor Dewey was his own worst enemy. In retrospect, it is obvious that he waged the wrong kind of campaign.

In 1948, as in 1944, he accepted and approved the fundamental reforms of the New Deal, both the Roosevelt and Truman versions. He simply said that he would administer them more efficiently and more economically. In expectation of an easy victory, he rarely descended from aloof, Olymphian heights.

To the people, however, he appeared to be too smug, complacent and cocky. It seemed as if he took for granted such an honor and prize as the Presidency of the United States.

He behaved like a royal heir rather than an American office-seeker. Not even F.D.R. dared to adopt such a pose, although he might have entertained secretly the same attitude that Mr. Dewey did.

JOB: Mr. Truman, on the other hand, did not conceal the fact that he wanted to retain the job, and wanted it badly. He begged, pleaded, wept and argued for his retention in office; he hit directly at the so-called "little fellow" who knew what it is to lose their job.

He ran as a plain, humble, hard-working American, whereas by contrast the New York governor acted as if the office should seek him. Regardless of the basic issues involved in the contest, there is evidence that Harry S. Truman of Missouri won many votes from fellow job-holders.

Although the Democrats capped their astonishing Presidential triumph by regaining control of Congress, their repossession of Capitol Hill may be disadvantageous to President Truman.

BLAME: For one thing, he cannot blame the men at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue for not enacting the social and economic and civil rights program which the "do-nothing congress" turned down.

The men and women who voted for him on this issue will expect him to show leadership by wresting his demands from the next legislative body. Yet it is almost certain that a combination of Republicans and conservative Democrats will fight him as fiercely as the Eightieth Congress did.

Many members of House and Senate figure that Mr. Truman would not have won without their assistance. In numerous contests, candidates for the two chambers ran ahead of him, and they attribute his victory to their personal and local popularity. He will have a bunch of uppity m.c.'s on his hands from the day the gavel falls next January.

HOPEFULS: The New Deal nature of the Democrats' victory is reflected by simply calling the roll of the former Roosevelt aides and admirers who won key governorships and Senate seats.

Whereas the party would have been down and out had advance forecasts been borne out, the Democrats' 1952 difficulty will be that they will have too many Presidential hopefuls.

There are such governors-elect as Paul E. Dever of Massachusetts, Adlai Ewing Stevenson of Illinois, Frank G. Lousche of Ohio, Chester A. Bowles of Connecticut. There are Senators-elect Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, Guy H. Gillette of Iowa.

In view of the heterogeneous turnout for Mr. Truman, and in view of the Democrats' recapture of Congress and important state capitals, they may remain in office for many years if this entirely unexpected burst of prosperity does not go to their heads.

The man who laughs about a woman being unable to find things in her handbag is the one who loses papers on his desk.

Some men hate to impose on their best friends, while others think it's no use to have a good friend if you can't impose on him occasionally.

A parent is a person who knows how to solve most complicated problems with the exception of managing a teen-age child.

An old-timer is the one who can recall when he never heard a woman repeat a cuss word.

A cynic is the man who refuses to forget all of the things he knows about human nature.

We wonder if any one has ever gone through life without signing some kind of a petition.

An ordinary man is the one who resents one referring to him as an ordinary man.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

MIDWEST STATES TURN TO DEMOS

Truman Gains In Farm States

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A significant factor in Tuesday's election has been overlooked or too little emphasized. It has additional interest because of its possible influence on the future shape of the Democratic party and upon future Republican policy.

This is the surprising strength shown by President Truman in Midwest farm territory. It had been taken for granted generally that this area was still staunchly Republican, that is, taken for granted by all but a few which included a fellow named Harry S. Truman and his secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan.

STOKES

This Democratic farm strength was really the big "sleeper" in Tuesday's amazing election. It provided the margin of victory. It was responsible for the President carrying Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa with their decisive total of 75 electoral votes, all of which had been assigned beforehand by the polls to Governor Dewey. Their loss would have cut the President's total from 304 to 229 electoral votes, considerably short of the necessary 266. In his column they far more than offset the loss of four southern states to the States' Righters and fell just short of offsetting the combined electoral total of the four southern states and New York, which is 85.

Farm Areas Changed

Farm support also increased President Truman's total in Minnesota, which the polls had given to him, and it was a threat to Republicans even in South Dakota which Governor Dewey carried this year by only 10,000 votes as compared with his 38,000 majority in 1944 against President Roosevelt. The President also did surprisingly well in Kansas and North Dakota.

The big shock, of course, was when rock-ribbed Republican Iowa went for Harry Truman. He carried it by 34,000 votes as compared with Governor Dewey's 37,000 majority four years ago, quite a spread. Something had happened in the farm belt. How come?

Farmers were restive and disturbed. The reasons were acts of both omission and commission by that 80th Congress to which President Truman so often referred and in speeches to farmers very specifically—and the fear that they might lose present price supports under a Republican administration. Governor Dewey's pledge of continued price supports had been vague and general. Farmers wanted to know for sure.

All of this was dramatized for unknowing easterners through those long hours Tuesday night when Republican managers buoyed their flagging spirits by saying "wait until the rural vote comes in." When it came in President Truman still maintained his lead. Nearly everybody was puzzled.

But not Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. He knew about the worry among farmers. He told President Truman six weeks before the election that he would get surprising farm support from the Midwest. The secretary did something about it. Day after day he made campaign speeches—visiting 13 states in all. President Truman did something about it, too. He stumped the Midwest earnestly and patiently. Many people thought he was wasting his time.

HST Blames Solons

He touched on their grievances. He recalled how that 80th Congress had deprived the Agriculture department of authority to increase grain storage facilities, lack of which was a real worry to farmers. For the corn crop was the biggest in history and wheat one of the largest.

This meant that farmers had to store in private warehouses which cost them 10 to 15 cents a bushel since price supports do not apply on such storage. President Truman charged that lobbyists for speculative grain interests had got Congress to take away the Agriculture department's authority with the result that owners of private warehouses were buying up grain at the below-support price to hold for the higher price.

He also reminded them that the Senate had refused to ratify the international wheat agreement that would have guaranteed farmers a sure export market for five years. During the campaign, too, to give point to farmers' fears, wheat had dropped a dollar a bushel and a few days before election milk and butter went down. Naturally farmers were very much concerned about agricultural aid programs to which Democrats were committed firmly, but about which Republicans were vague.

The pattern of the Truman election victory suggests a return to that of the very early Roosevelt years when Midwest farmers contributed handsomely along with labor and the solid South. Farm area recruits could offset defection in the South, which might continue either through such splinter movements as the States' Righters or through increasing Republican strength in that area, as well as offset losses in the East such as New York and Pennsylvania in this year's election.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP) — Cotton futures moved lower today under pressure of liquidation and profit taking. The market was influenced partly by weakness in securities and declined on technical reasons, following Thursday's sharp advance.

Private advices said that mill buying of spot cotton had slackened, but ginners and warehouses owning cotton ineligible for the government loan sold a fair amount of the staple during the past week. Producers were reported placing most of their cotton in the loan.

Aggressive mill buying and short covering rallied the nearby December and March deliveries into new high ground for the day.

Futures closed 2 cents a bale higher to 40 cents lower than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP) — Grains had a little trouble today in trying to extend their post-election advance into the third straight session. But the market overcame some mid-day difficulties and pushed ahead toward the close, making gains of fractions to about a cent.

The mid-morning trouble came when securities at New York took another tumble. That brought some sympathetic selling into cereals. Early gains in corn and oats were lost and early declines in wheat extended. The sell-off did not last long.

Corn showed the most strength all day. July and September wheat, very strong yesterday, were inclined to lag until the last half hour when they came ahead rapidly.

Wheat closed ¾ to 1 cent higher. December $2.30⅜-½, corn was 1⅛-1¼ higher, December $1.41⅝-½, oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 79½.

MARKET IN SHARP SKID

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—A new selling drive smashed the stock market to the lowest level since early April today.

Rapid-fire trading hammered down prices 1 to an extreme of 14 points. Most of the losses were in a range of 2 to 8 points.

The market value of all shares listed on the stock exchange was chopped down by nearly $3,000,000,000.

Since the Democratic sweep, the market value of all shares has slumped nearly $5,000,000,000, despite Thursday's rally.

The market has lost more ground this week than in any similar period since May 1940—a record of more than 8 years standing.

Orders to sell sizzled into the exchange from all over the country. The general public, brokers reported, as well as many professional operators, got rid of their holdings on a wholesale basis.

What appeared to be a mere gust of selling in early trade turned into a full-scale blast just before noon. Quotations tumbled all along the line and only a token show of resistance appeared.

Business was so fast that for around half an hour the high-speed ticker tape dropped behind actual transactions by 4 minutes. It was the first time since July that the tape lagged.

Stability returned to the market for a while, and some stocks even tried a rally, but in late dealings sellers applied the screws again and the price list generally finished at the lows of the day.

Volume piled up to 2,830,000 shares. This was far above Thursday's 1,530,000 shares but still below Wednesday's turnover of 3,230,000.

The financial district was almost unanimous in explaining today's break: Concern over what the new administration will do to industry's high profits.

Among stocks which took a bad pounding were: Superior Oil of California at 168 (down 14). U. S. Steel, down 4⅛ at 74⅛. General Motors down 2⅜ at 60⅝. Chrysler down 2¾ at 55¾. Nickel Plate down 4 at 77½. Standard Oil (NJ) down 4⅝ at 73⅝. Illinois Central down 3⅜ at 31. Du Pont down 6 at 173. Sears Roebuck down 1⅝ at 41⅝. Skelly Oil down 8½ at 119, and Mission Corp. down 5 at 58.

Others trimmed included U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Boeing, United Aircraft, Schenley, American Telephone, International Telephone, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Radio Corp., U. S. Gypsum, American Woolen, International Paper, and Gulf Oil.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 2.7 points to 65.7, the lowest since 65.5 was touched on April 5 this year. On Wednesday after election the average dropped 3 points but recovered .8 of one point on Thursday.

Number Of Americans With Jobs Stays Above 60,000,000 Mark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—The number of Americans with jobs stayed above 60,000,000 in October for the fifth month, the Census bureau reported today.

The total was 60,130,000. Although this was a drop of 178,000 from September, it was 930,000 higher than in October last year.

Unemployment, meanwhile, dropped 257,000 to an October total of 1,642,000, lowest point of the year, the bureau said. That was 45,000 under a year ago.

The return of young workers to school was largely responsible for the small dip in employment, the bureau said.

Suicide Claims He Was Killer

sons, Kas., to come here.

The youth's parents were divorced. His father, J. D. Tennison, has remarried and resides in Memphis, Tenn., where he is an executive with the Tennison Bros. Inc.

University authorities said the youth had been cutting classes for about two weeks but that he was not failing his work.

City Lives In Fear

The fantastic series of crimes attributed to the Texarkana phantom began on a dark night in February—February 22, 1946.

Before the siege of horror ended, five persons had been killed. They were Miss Moore, and Griffin, on March 29; Miss Booker, and Martin, on April 14; and Starks on May 3.

The attacks and murders occurred at ominous three-week periods, and long before the third attack Texarkana was a city living in fear.

The manhunt for the phantom has been called the most extensive in the history of the southwest.

Citizens went armed and locked their homes, leaving lights on at night. Liquor stores voluntarily closed their doors early. Few persons were found on streets after dark. And strangely, petty crime dropped, for citizens were alert and apprehension might have meant death.

NEIGHBORS FIND STORY DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 5. (AP)—Friends and neighbors "find it difficult" to believe H. B. Tennison was the "phantom killer," editor J. Q. Mahaffy of the Texarkana Gazette-News said tonight.

Tennison, 18, a University of Arkansas freshman, committed suicide in Fayetteville today. He left a suicide note in which he admitted slayings here which had been attributed to a "phantom killer."

Mahaffy, who was acquainted with Tennison, member of an old Texarkana family, said the youth was shy and more or less an introvert.

Played Trombone

He quoted Tennison's sister, Mrs. Alys Jo Daniel as saying the boy was an almost constant reader of comic books and an ardent follower of radio detective programs.

She also said the youth—widely known as "Doodie," his mother's pet name for him—had "seemed to grow up almost overnight, was six feet, four inches tall and weighed 130 pounds."

Mahaffy reported Mrs. Daniel said her brother had never owned a firearm and knew nothing about them, and she was almost certain he did not know how to drive a car two years ago—when the "phantom killer" struck.

Young Tennison, the youngest of four children, was a trombone player in the high school band. His sister said he made "average grades."

Before going to college, he worked as a part-time usher in a local theater.

Barkley Forecasts

should be made by those who believe in the fundamental principles of the law and not by those who want to destroy it."

Barkley said, in response to another question, that he assumed the new Congress would give the President "the stand-by price control that he asked for."

Other Forecasts Made

Other forecasts which he made, in answer to similar questions, were that the new Congress would extend rent controls, vote necessary aid to China, and provide funds to continue the European recovery program.

He said he assumed that the President would recommend a civil rights program in accordance with platform and campaign pledges. But he did not go into the question of its passage or the inevitable southern filibuster.

Asked what would be done about the rebellious Democrats, still members of the Democratic party, he said:

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it—and it might not be a bridge when we get to it."

Told that business was afraid of new reform in the wake of election, he said he knew of no reform that "honest business" should be afraid of. He recalled that business expected to earn $21 billion after taxes in 1948.

Problems Discussed

employer-employe relations.

Molthrop was introduced by Victor F. Grima, representative of the Texas Manufacturers association of Dallas and Houston.

T. A. Rogers, newly elected president of the South Plains chapter, presided at the luncheon. Roy Mack and Ray C. Ayers of Slaton and Mancil Hall of Littlefield were introduced. Edgar G. Lewis, outgoing chairman of the chapter, spoke briefly.

Following Molthrop's talk a round table discussion ensued, with the South Plains industrialists relating their individual problems in maintaining year-around employment and making suggestions for improvement.

The meeting attended by 33 men, was arranged by W. C. Saffarrans, regional manager for West Texas of the Texas Manufacturers association. Saffarrans has opened a temporary West Texas headquarters office in Hilton hotel.

Lubbock Man Injured When Struck By Car

Lester H. Stapp, 46, of 206 Morrow drive, was treated last night at West Texas hospital for injuries suffered when he was struck on East Broadway about 5:40 p.m. Friday by a car driven by Mrs. Jewel Gober Young, 35, of 222 Uvalde.

The injured man suffered a broken right collar bone, a possible fracture of the right elbow and a cut right ear. He was released after treatment, the hospital said. A McDonald ambulance had carried him to the hospital from the scene of the accident.

Accident Is Described

According to a statement made to investigating highway patrolmen, Mrs. Young said the man and his five-year-old son, Billy Ralph, were crossing the highway toward the north at the intersection of East Broadway and Avinger avenue (Keeton road.) She was driving into Lubbock from the east.

The two pedestrians, she said, had hesitated momentarily at the center line on the highway and then proceeded. She swerved her car to the right in an attempt to avoid striking them, but Stapp was struck by the back portion of the left front fender and thrown to the pavement. The boy was uninjured in the collision, the hospital said.

Howard A. Halford, 36, who listed his address as general delivery, suffered a dislocated right shoulder about 7:15 a.m. Friday when his car and one driven by C. D. Knight, 68, of Lubbock route 5 were in collision in 3000-block Walnut. He was treated at West Texas hospital. Police Patrolman J. S. Rucker said he would charge Knight with negligent collision and having no driver's license in his possession at the time of the crash.

Boys Club Meet

of Houston, Ben Singleton of San Antonio, Ronald Johnson of Waco, Ira DeShazo of Fort Worth, and Graham Ball of Wichita Falls. All are executive directors of Boys' clubs in their respective cities.

Principal speaker at the gathering was Everett McCullough, president of the Texas area council, who pointed out that the first boys' club was organized by two women in Hartford, Conn., in 1860. He traced the growth of the boys' clubs from this nucleus to all parts of the nation. In 1906, he said, the existing boys' clubs were organized into a national organization.

The speaker said that there are today more than 300 boys' clubs in the United States with over 275,000 members and physical assets exceeding 60 million dollars.

"The cardinal principle of the boys' club is very simple. It is to direct surplus energy of the boys into decent, directed, and organized play and recreation," he said.

Purpose Is Explained

He went on to say that boys' clubs are much more than that now, including concern of health and physical fitness of boys, prevocational education and training, correction of physical defects, development of constructive interests, and guidance in behavior and attitude toward family, toward girls, and toward their government and their country.

"If, in the Lubbock Boys' club, you—as a lay member, with your money or your personal work—can get one confused American boy whose ears have been assaulted by twisted ideologies to think through to the truth, if you can make him know he can be paid in this world only out of what he produces for the world, that he can go as far and as fast as his abilities and willingness to work will take him, that both the lust for power and surrender to power are weaknesses, and that prosperity, peace and satisfaction come only from honest co-operation, then you can feel you have done something fine for your community, the future of your country, and our American way of life."

McCullough acknowledged the American Business club and all other organizations that assist the local Boys' club, and wished them continued success in their work.

McCullough introduced Ben Singleton of San Antonio, who spoke briefly on the success of the area council meeting, and thanked Lubbock and the Lubbock Boys' club for their hospitality. He praised Wilson's work with the local club and wished him success in the future.

The "Three Mugs and a Brush" quartet of the Lubbock chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc., sang two songs.

Graham Ball presented awards to the winners in the Boys' club declamation contest, similar to the State Interscholastic League declamation contests. Honors were won by youths from Waco and Laredo in both the junior and senior divisions.

In the junior division, Roger Fleshman of Waco was first, Hector Garcia of Laredo second. The only other two entries in that division were Kenneth Williams of Wichita Falls and Billy Beasley of San Antonio. In the senior division, Melvin Ledbetter of Waco won first, Carlos Kirkpatrick of Laredo runnerup honors. The only other entry in that class was Paul Vinzant of Wichita Falls. The subject in the junior contest was "A Toast To The Flag" by John J. Daly, that in the senior division being "If" by Rudyard Kipling.

Lubbock did not have entries in either division.

Benediction was offered by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church.

press DC-3 disappeared between Sitka and Ketchikan and 15 passengers and two crew members were feared lost.

In the area of Bristol Bay a four-engined Navy bomber with 12 men aboard was feared down.

Nine men were aboard the Navy long-range bomber which was presumed lost off the northwestern coast of Washington.

The civilian DC-3 last messaged by wireless that it was over Cape Spencer.

An hour later it was due at Anette island, airport for Ketchikan. It had taken off from Yakutat on a flight from Anchorage, Alaska.

Civil Aeronautics board investigator Fred B. Powell said search efforts have been fruitless.

10 Airmen Are Lucky

Meantime, 10 lucky airmen walked away from the wreckage of a B-29 bomber early Friday in Colorado Springs, Colo. Two were treated for minor injuries.

The Navy bomber lost in Bristol Bay has been unreported since Wednesday when it left Kodiak. It was identified as a PB4Y2 Privateer.

The other plane is a Neptune P3V taking part in Washington coast maneuvers. It was last heard from Thursday morning.

Assault Charge

defendant under $250 peace bond, after Julsen had pleaded guilty of having threatened the life of his former wife, Annabelle.

Suspended Sentence Set Aside

The drunk driving charge accused Julsen of having a prior drunk driving conviction Aug. 6.

Two other county court pleas had been entered. James C. Scott, 17, and Luther D. Burns, 28, a negro, each were fined $50, court costs and a day in jail for theft.

Judge Dan Blair set aside a five-year suspended sentence of April 16 naming William Johnson, 20, a negro who had been convicted of burglary. Johnson was convicted Oct. 9 of burglary of the same establishment, in the 99th court of Judge G. V. Pardue, and sentenced to serve three years. Judge Blair ordered that the two terms be served cumulatively, so that the defendant must serve eight years.

The sheriff's department was informed of the theft of a three bale Pharies and Wilkins trailer from T. E. Wood of Anton. Supt. A. L. Fatbion of the New Deal school at Monroe said someone prowled through his car and took several books, then stole 10 or 12 cans of fruit from his garage.

Verna Lee Jackson, a Big Spring negro woman, told officials a negro man, about 5 feet 8 inches tall, who had ridden a bus with her from Big Spring to Lubbock snatched her purse here. She said she and he got into a taxicab at the bus terminal and that when he got out in 2400-block Ave. C he invited her to go with him and, when she refused, took the purse and ran. It contained $2, she said. The incident happened about 2:35 a.m. Friday, the woman told investigators.

Bonds were posted by a 32-year-old man and his 24-year-old woman companion in connection with drunkeness and vagrancy charges filed against him and vagrancy and liquor curfew law violations charges filed against her, corporation court officials said.

The woman, they said, was questioned briefly in connection with an alleged theft from the person offense in a downtown hotel. The man who made the informal complaint later told police she was not the person responsible.

The automobile of J. W. Lacy, of 2323 Ninth, was not stolen, as first believed. Another motorist who drives a similar car mistakenly drove Lacy's when he found that his ignition key fit.

Dr. Wiggins Greets El Paso Friends Here For Tech-Mines Tilt

Handshaking and back-slapping were in order Friday at Texas Technological college as Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Tech and former president of Texas College of Mines, met friends from El Paso who arrived in Lubbock early for the Tech-Mines football game at 2:30 this afternoon in Jones stadium.

Visiting with Dr. Wiggins Friday were E. M. Thomas, dean of engineering and acting president until Jan. 1; M. L. Pennington, business manager and assistant to the president; Wallace Snelson, sports publicity director; Judson F. Williams, dean of students; and Chuck Whitlock, sports editor of The El Paso Times.

Elkins Named President

Dr. Wiggins resigned from his duties at the College of Mines Sept. 1, when he assumed duties as president of Texas Tech. The Mines board of directors has recently appointed Dr. W. H. Elkins to the vacated position, and he will take over as the college's chief executive Jan. 1, 1949. Dr. Elkins, who was known as "Bull" Elkins in the days when he starred on the Texas University football squad, is now president of San Angelo Junior college. He is expected to arrive for the game at noon today, and will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Wiggins for lunch, leaving immediately after the game.

Other followers of the Orediggers football squad who are expected to be in town for the game are Miss Francis Clayton, assistant librarian at College of Mines; Bill Boyd, president of the El Paso Touchdown club; Henry Hicks, vice president of the Touchdown club; Dr. Ralph Holman, team physician; C. D. Belding, one of Mines' leading supporters, who is called their "firecracker" expert for his connection with the traditional firing of a cannon from a nearby hilltop each time the Miners score a touchdown on their home field; Robert L. Holliday, former member of the board of regents; and Thad S. Steele, president of the Ex-Student association.

Freezing Weather

intendent said that all over the South Plains an upsurge in cotton harvesting would follow if a killing frost should occur, killing the leaves on cotton plants.

Defoliation would enable farmers to use strippers, few of which have been in use so far because of green, tough leaves.

Jones said he questioned whether a killing frost would hurt any crops, except possibly cotton and feed planted unusually late.

Sherrill pointed out that the Lubbock county crop is about 60 per cent harvested and that a killing frost would facilitate harvesting of the rest of the cotton, both in promoting use of strippers and also of cotton picking.

Cotton pickers frequently look over a field and decide whether to stop and pick the cotton by the amount of cotton they see in the field, said Sherrill. Defoliation, which would follow a killing frost within 10 days to two weeks, would show up the cotton better, he pointed out.

He also said little, if any damage would result from a mild freeze. Small grains would keep on growing, he pointed out.

A severe freeze would hurt lettuce still in the fields. About 75 per cent of the approximately 300 acres of lettuce in Lubbock county is harvested, he said.

Numerous South Plains farmers have strippers available for use if conditions indicate that manner of harvesting would be more profitable. They depend on hand harvesting when use of strippers does not seem advisable.

The Associated Press reported that chilly winds blew dust in eight or more cities of Texas Friday.

Strong west to north winds were general over the state. The forward edge of a mass of cold air had passed out of Texas by noon, but the Dallas weather bureau said the winds were strongest behind a secondary front which appeared to be dissipating before reaching deeply into the state.

There was blowing dust at Amarillo, Childress, where the visibility was at one time cut to a half mile, Clarendon, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Dallas, and Waco.

HST Given Welcome

from upper windows.

Signs along the way jeered at poll takers and political experts who had predicted that Republican Thomas E. Dewey could capture the White House. A sample: "Truman Gallup-ed to victory."

Spread across the front of the Washington Post building was a picture of a crow on its back on a platter.

"Welcome home from the crow eaters," the Post said.

Here in Washington, which takes even its visiting kings and potentates pretty much in stride, President Truman never had seen anything like today's reception. The Democrats flunked out of school when they tried to stage a gala welcome when Mr. Truman returned from a campaign swing last September.

But this time it was a champion returned from his Missouri home.

President Pumps Hands

The President's special train backed into union station late this morning. Mr. Truman on the rear platform waving his hat to hundreds of people strung along the track to greet him.

The throng set up a yell. A police band put everything it had into such new hit tunes as "I'm Just Wild About Harry" and the "Missouri Waltz."

Barkley bounced up the train steps, his hand out. Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath and other dignitaries trailed along.

The President pumped hands for 20 minutes. Some unidentified woman with a fur coat tried to add a kiss on the cheek. Mr. Truman ducked and quickly pulled in Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington ball club, as a shield.

Calling a halt to the festivities, the President and Barkley walked to their waiting car and piled in for the ride to the White House.

McGrath rode with them, as did Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret.

They shared the glory with Mrs. Max Truitt, Barkley's daughter.

And they stood on the White House porch while Commissioner John Russell Young offered Washington's official welcome.

It was a welcome which Mr. Truman a moment later called "overwhelming."

"It makes a man study and wonder," he said, "whether he is worthy of the confidence, worthy of the responsibility which has been thrust upon him."

With the count still incomplete, the vote for president tonight stood:

Truman 23,079,060.
Dewey 21,094,756.
Wallace 1,094,877.
Thurmond 925,226.
Total 46,193,919.

rice Tobin, who gave up the Democratic candidacy for governor of Massachusetts and came into Mr. Truman's cabinet as labor secretary to campaign for the Chief Executive. Murray declared:

"Mr. Tobin is an admirable administrator and he will make a very good secretary of labor. He is possessed of all the necessary qualifications."

Mr. Truman is expected to separate from their high offices those administration officials who failed to support him and the Democratic party in the recent election.
