C. of C. Backing Poka-Lambro In Telephone Fight

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors in their monthly meeting Tuesday night took action on several matters of importance to the county.

The body passed a resolution requesting General Telephone Company to immediately make some kind of suitable arrangement with Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative for extended area coverage.

General is proposing a toll charge on all calls through its local exchanges to or from co-op phone members if and when the two systems are connected.

Businessmen and farmers both are "up in arms" over the attitude of General towards connections with Poka-Lambro. Some are suggesting legal action against General, or seeking cancellation of their franchise in Tahoka.

Ask New Highway

The C. of C. directors voted to cooperate with Colorado City and San Angelo in seeking state designation of a connected series of farm-to-market roads between these three cities. Gaps are to be filled in soon to complete this series.

The road would take some traffic off U. S. Highways 87 and 84 to and from the south to the Plains country. From Colorado City, the paving will skirt the new Colorado River lake, and come through Gail and Draw.

The state Highway Commission was to give a hearing on the proposed designation this Thursday.

Swimming Pool Opening

The C. of C. will join the City of Tahoka in sponsoring a formal opening program for the new swimming pool some time in June.

The opening program will not be held until the pool is entirely complete, and will include some plain and fancy diving exhibitions, swimming contests, life saving demonstrations, and a comedy number or two.

Fred McGinty, C. of C. president, appointed Clint Walker Otis Spears, and Alton Cain to make arrangements for the formal opening program.

The directors discussed several other projects which will be given publicity later if they materialize.

Bray Winner In League Opener

League games got underway Sunday in the Lynn County Junior Baseball league with Wilson defeating Southland 7 to 3. Bray Chevrolet topping Bill Strange Motors 13 to 12, and Roosevelt winning over Slaton by forfeit.

Next Sunday, Southland will play Strange Motors at Tahoka. Wilson will entertain Roosevelt, and Bray Chevrolet will play Slaton at Cooper.

In the Wilson-Southland game on Sunday, Mason was the winning pitcher, while J. H. Trimble was tagged with the loss. Kelly and Brieger led the Wilson batting attack, while Huddleston and Stephens were Southland's big guns.

The Bray boys staved off a last inning rally by Strange to win 13 to 12. Jesse Motes was the winning pitcher; Richard Havens, the loser. Carlton Davies paced the Bray hitting attack, and Billy Tong led the Strange hitting barrage.

Fans are urged to attend the Sunday afternoon games.

Road Contractors Are Starting Job

Kerr & Middleton, contractors, began moving in equipment early this week to begin work on two farm-to-market road projects in northwest Lynn county. County Judge W. M. Mathis states.

The firm will build an extension of the Dixie paving west to Petty, and will also close the gap between New Home and Slide, the latter in southwestern Lubbock county.

Record Liquor Haul Made Here

One of the biggest liquor hauls in the history of the county was made Wednesday night when Lynn county officers and Liquor Control Board agents made a raid on two New Home farms. Value of the confiscated liquor was placed at more than $5,000.

Two Mexican men, Leo Lopez and Antonio Mendoza, were arrested and charged with illegal possession of liquor for purpose of sale.

At the Lopez house, about 330 cases of beer and 15 or 20 lugs of whiskey were confiscated. A truck was required to move the cargo.

A smaller quantity of beer, whiskey, and wine, which had not been counted Thursday morning, was taken from the house of Mendoza. Both are laborers on farms in the northwest part of the county.

Those making the raid included Sheriff Norvell (Booger) Redwine, Deputy Tom Hale, District Supervisor M. H. Hood of the Liquor Control Board, and H. Grimley of the Lubbock police.

New Home Will Graduate 15

Fifteen Seniors will receive their diplomas of graduation from New Home High School at the school's final exercises tonight in the school auditorium.

The valedictory and salutatory addresses will be by Bernice Peek and Winona Armontrout, the high ranking members, respectively, of the class.

Mr. Vaughn will present the special awards, and the diplomas will be handed the graduates by B. A. Morrow, president of the New Home School Board.

As a special vocal number, Sue Cowan and Frieda Roper will sing "The End of a Perfect Day." The invocation will be by Rev. Bennie Hargrave and the benediction by Rev. L. B. Taylor. Mrs. Huddleston will play the processional and recessional. Miss Ruth Devbire is the class sponsor.

Last Sunday evening, Rev. C. E. Strickland, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Plains, delivered the class sermon at exercises in the New Home Baptist Church. Members of this year's graduating class are: Winona Armontrout, Ada Marie Barnett, Mary Bess Eades, La Watha Brannon, Darrell Fletcher, Jim Gannaway, Eugene Keith, Shirley McClintock, Willie Nieman, Bernice Peek, Lehman Rodgers, Shirley Roper, Bobby Joe Smith, Horace Walker, and Royce Williams.

W. W. Cooper of Turkey, who is a candidate for Lions District 2-E-1 Governor, was a guest at Tahoka Lions club Tuesday night, May 19, according to president Jack A. Robinson.

Four other Lions members from Turkey accompanied Mr. Cooper.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 21. — William T. (Billy) Hanes, Jr., 22, of Cameron, formerly of Tahoka, will graduate from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis with the Bachelor of Science degree and will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant, USAF, on June 5.

This year's class at the Academy, with 926, is the second largest since its founding 108 years ago. The largest was in 1946 with 1,046 members.

Hanes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanes of Cameron. He attended the Tahoka schools, and after graduating from Yoe High School of Cameron, he attended Baylor University.

He entered the Naval Academy on a Congressional appointment from Texas' 11th district in June, 1949.

He lettered in football, playing end on the Eastern Inter-collegiate champions in 1952, and is a member of the Navy "N" club.

Following his graduation, Lt. Hanes will wed Miss Barbara Ann Boudin of Houston. Their wedding date is set for June 26.

New Nazarene Pastor Coming

Rev. Gene Moore, a spring graduate of Bethany-Peniel College at Bethany, Okla., is the new pastor of the Tahoka Church of the Nazarene.

He and his wife, a recent bride, are moving here immediately. Rev. Moore is a son of Rev. and Mrs. Austin Moore of Abernathy, and Mrs. Moore was reared at Clarendon.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Moseley and daughter, who have been with the local church for three years, moved Thursday to Littlefield, where he has been called to serve the Church of the Nazarene of that city.

Two More Rural Phone Exchanges Are Opened

Telephones have been installed and are in use in both the New Home and New Lynn exchange areas of the Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, workmen are now installing telephones in the West Lakes area, and sets will next be installed in the Fletcher-Carter area, according to W. D. Harmon, manager of the cooperative.

Southland exchange area went into operation several weeks ago. Those who have telephones in these three exchange areas are now able to talk among themselves within their exchange area, but as yet no agreement has been reached with General Telephone for connection with Tahoka or with other exchanges.

Petitions were being circulated this week asking the Lynn County Commissioners Court to take action in an effort to secure a contract between Poka-Lambro and General Telephone.

Annual Tahoka Rodeo Is Set For Three Performances Tonight And Saturday

Rains Too Light For Much Help

Lynn county received some rain but not nearly enough last Friday and Saturday, but this has been followed by drying winds that almost nullified the benefits.

Tahoka received .20 of an inch Friday and 28 Saturday according to the Government rain gauge.

Rainfall over the county ranged from an inch and a half down to almost nothing. Wilson received 1.5 inches, but the heavy fall did not cover a wide area. Good rains were received west of Wilson, at New Home and west, West Point east and south to Three Lakes. Draw nearly an inch, and an area north of Tahoka about an inch.

Most other areas received a half inch or less.

Some farmers, especially in the irrigation areas, are planting cotton.

Cotton Meeting Set For Thursday

Farmers, ginners, and insecticide dealers are being invited by County Agent Bill Griffin to attend a cotton meeting in the county court room next Thursday, May 28, at 2 p. m.

Three speakers will be present to discuss various phases of the cotton business.

Fred Elliott, cotton specialist from the Extension Service, will discuss new developments in cotton growing.

Ed Bush, cotton gin specialist, will present information on ginning.

Neal Randolph, Extension Service entomologist, will discuss cotton insects and furnish information on new insecticides and cotton insect control.

HENRY PROMOTED

John G. Henry, who is serving with the Army in a training center at Limestone, Maine, has recently been promoted to Staff Sergeant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Henry, route 2, and is a graduate of Tahoka High School.

Mrs. M. D. Hallmark, 83, who suffered a stroke last week, is showing very little, if any, improvement, attendants at Tahoka Hospital state.

Oil Well Finaled At 218 Barrels

Magnolia's No. 1 J. A. Timmons oil well in the Tahoka-Pennsylvania pool northwest of Tahoka between Petty and Lakeview was finalized last week end at 218 barrels of 44.2 gravity oil and no water, with gas-oil ratio of 638-1, flowing 24 hours through a 14/64 choke.

This well is the south offset to the discovery well, Hassie Hunt estate and Dan Auld No. 1 J. A. Timmons, which had a potential of 288.75 barrels of oil daily flowing through a 16/64 choke. Elevation is 12 feet higher on the Magnolia well.

Both producers are in the southeast quarter of section 142, block 12, EL&RR survey.

Buddy Poppies Will Be Sold

Buddy Poppies will go on sale Saturday, one week before Memorial Day, under sponsorship of the Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 3905.

Sales of Buddy Poppies to the public each year gives everyone a chance to "honor the dead by helping the living." N. T. Conner, VFW commander, states.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans, and 1,000 have been bought by the local post. Purchase money goes to the Service and Laidon Fund of the National Headquarters to be used for rehabilitation of veterans. All money collected above the purchase price is divided equally between the Auxiliary and the Post for charity purposes in Lynn county. It does not leave the county, but is always used here at home, Conner says.

Each year at Christmas, checks or presents and toys are given needy families of the county. This project has not been highly publicized here before, but is a regular service for the benefit of those in need.

Mrs. R. L. Richardson is chairman of the Poppy committee, and her helpers will be Mesdames Albert Curry, VFW Auxiliary president, Dan Curry, V. L. Clem, C. W. Conway, and Lawtie Smith, and Misses Bobby and Betty Carroll, Martha Prohl, Peggy Hala, Mike, Margie Curry, Jonice Clem, Gloria Best, and Karen Kidwell.

Dr. C. Skiles Thomas is a medical patient in the hospital.

H. J. Henderson Services Today

H. J. (Harve) Henderson, 78, who moved to Lynn county 40 years ago, died Tuesday of a brain hemorrhage at Macomb, Oklahoma.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church here today, Friday, at 2 p. m., with Rev. Lee Ramsour, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. H. Sharp, Methodist pastor, and Rev. Bob Smith, pastor of Midway Baptist Church of near Lamesa.

Interment will follow in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

Mr. Henderson was born in Tallahassee, Alabama, on November 11, 1874. He came to Iredell, Bosque county, Texas, as a child, and grew up in that community. He married Miss Johnnie Harland at Iredell Nov. 12, 1899, and the next year moved out to Baylor county.

The Hendersons moved to the Redwine community of Lynn county in 1914, and resided on the one-section farm they still own until 1946, when Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and a daughter, Belle, moved to Fletcher, Okla., to engage in stock farming. Later, they moved to Macomb.

Mr. Henderson had been in ill health about six years. Last week he had a serious attack, but was able to be up again in two or three days. Then, at about 7:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, he collapsed while at the cow lot, and was rushed to a hospital, where he died of a brain hemorrhage at 3:55 p. m. the same day.

Survivors include the wife; four sons, Harley Henderson of Tahoka, Frank of Wilson, John of Sundown, and Coleman of Dawson county; three daughters Mrs. Mattie Whittington of Wilson, Miss Belle of Macomb, and Miss Claudia of Roswell, N. M.; 23 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. Three children preceded him in death.

The deceased was a highly respected citizen of Lynn county, and he had a host of friends who mourn his passing.

Tom Garrard, who suffered a heart attack several weeks ago, is able to be down town again.

Everything is in readiness for opening of the annual Jaycee Rodeo, with a parade at 4 p. m. today, the first rodeo performance at 8 p. m., the second at 2 p. m. Saturday and the third at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Early entrants indicate that the show will be possibly the best ever held here. Twenty cowboys had already signed entry blanks Wednesday night, and the bulk of the contestants were expected to sign by Friday noon.

Rodeo stock furnished by Morris Stephens of Silverton is expected to be "frisky" and "salty" for this early season show. Stephens has already arrived with his 15 saddle broncs, 18 bareback, 13 Brahma riding bulls, and 30 roping calves.

A last-minute cowgirl sponsor contest has been added to the planned saddle and bareback bronc riding contests, calf roping, bull riding, and cutting horse contests.

In addition, a rodeo clown will be on hand to add fun. Phil Williams of Tokyo, who has won the National Championship cutting horse contests four years with his horses, Skeeter and Little Tom W., expects to be on hand to stage a demonstration. Williams lived here about twenty years ago, and is a cousin of Oran Short.

Announcing at the show will be done by Clint Walker and "Red" Brown. Stephens and Seth Lewis will be arena directors.

Jaycees and Jaycee Ettes will be in charge of the four entrance and exit gates and the concessions.

Winner of the Queen contest will be announced Friday. These contestants include Barbara McNeely, Patsy Smith, Jackie Smith, Doris Clinton, and Ema Jean Brasher.

Among the cowboys who had paid entrance fees up to Wednesday night were: John Hold, Ard more, Okla.; Rusty Welch and Larry Wright, Spur; Junior Fulk, Friona; Tooter Shanklin, Rock Springs; Jimmy Moore and Robert Stewart, Post; Bob Rankin, Abilene; Jim Smith O'Donnell; Floyd Lemond and Frank Best, Lovington, N. M.; Brad Long and Pat McCarty, Lubbock; Billy Hardy, Rotan; Jack Stevens, Wichita Falls; Dale Willhoit, Tahoka; and Darrell Alley, Sonora.

Dancing, western style, will be held nightly following each performance of the rodeo, at the Tahoka Roller Rink, two miles east of town on the Post Highway. Music is being furnished by local musicians.

Any profits from the show will be used by the Jaycees on their community service projects. Admission is $1.25 for adults and 90 cents for school students under 12 years of age.

Charge Negro Of Liquor Violations

Luther Hannon, Negro, was charged with illegal transportation of beer Tuesday, following his arrest the night before in Tahoka by City Policeman Roy Willhelm.

Hannon, when stopped by Willhelm, was found to have in his truck about 40 cases of beer packed in four large oil drums.

City Election Will Be Held Tuesday

City of Tahoka will conduct a special election Saturday at the City Hall to elect a councilman to replace Stanley Sigman, who resigned on moving to Hereford. The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Only one name, that of Albert Curry, has been filed by friends for the post.

Mrs. Lewis Phillips is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital.

Hairy Vetch Is Builder of Soils

The supervisors of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District have long advocated cover crops to improve the physical condition, organic content, and fertility of the soil both under dry and irrigated land in the district. The only difference in dry and irrigated land is the selection of cover crops to fit the available moisture needed to produce a good growth—according to Kay K. Moore, chairman, it looks as if summer cover crops will have to be used on dry land while either summer or winter growing can be used on irrigated land.

One of the winter growing cover crops that has proved successful in the district on irrigated land is hairy vetch. E. A. Thomas, a cooperator of the Lynn Soil Conservation District, made clipping on his hairy vetch last week and found he had 30,000 pounds of green material to the acre. Thomas was assisted in making the clipping study by N. E. Wood, Soil Conservation Service Technician. Wood stated that the vetch crop would add much needed organic matter to the soil that will increase the water storage capacity and increase the rate water will be taken in. The amount of water that soils will hold is very important in the district as it is a scarce item so much of the time. The more water the soils will hold and take, makes the run-off from the district less.

Hairy vetch being a legume has the ability to take nitrogen from the air and store it in the plant. Where the vetch is returned to the soil the nitrogen will be released to be used by other plants planted on the soil.

Moore encourages each farmer in the district to take advantage of the assistance offered by the Soil Conservation District being given technical help by the Soil Conservation Service in this important phase of their conservation program. He stated further that to get maximum benefit from conservation practices, the program must be coordinated to fit the needed and capability of each acre of the farm or ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin (Tiny) Jolly of Oxnard, Calif., arrived Saturday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jolly. He is employed by Chance Vought Aircraft, which manufactures in Dallas guided missiles for the Navy. In California, Tiny is with the company division which gets these missiles ready to fly immediately before delivery to the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Montgomery, Pioneer Citizens, Are Honored On Anniversary

"Brother Lane married us in a buggy in front of Ab Rankin's house in Lubbock on May 18, 1913," said Mr. Will Montgomery at his home Sunday afternoon when his three daughters honored him and Mrs. Montgomery by celebrating their 40th anniversary with an openhouse.

"The wedding was about sundown, and right afterwards, we drove by buggy to spend our wedding night in our own home a mile north of Tahoka. We've lived here ever since, and our daughters were born here," reminisced Mr. Montgomery. Coming to Lynn county from Rising Star in Eastland county in December of 1902 before the county was organized in April of 1903, Mr. Montgomery bought a section of land in the northeast part of the county, selling it to buy his present home, and the home to which he brought his bride, Essie Ballah Montgomery, from Rising Star, in November of 1906.

The young Montgomerys of 40 years ago set up housekeeping with goods bought in Tahoka, going shopping the day after the wedding in a freight wagon pulled by a span of mules.

Mr. Montgomery, in thinking back over the years of his marriage, quoted 1918 as the year of the worst sandstorms, and his answer upon being asked what period was the driest in this country remarked "every drought seems to be the driest." He recalls that on the South Plains dry "spells" seem to appear every seven or eight years with a duration of two or three dry years at a time.

The three daughters, Mrs. Travis Mason of Merkel, Mrs. Paul Kaiser of Graham, and Miss Marietta Montgomery of Monahans and Tahoka were assisted in entertaining the 100 invited guests by the following: Mrs. Ina Wheelock, Miss Rosemary Nelms, and Mrs. Lindsey Telford, of Lubbock; Mrs. Bill Mathena, Monahans; Mrs. Sam Osborn, Dexter, N. M.; and Mrs. J. T. Mason of Odessa.

Also present for the occasion was Mrs. Montgomery's college roommate, Mrs. Lee O'Neal, of Lubbock; the two attended Hankins Normal College at Gorman.

The refreshment table, laid on white linens, was centered with an arrangement of red rose buds, which were duplicated on the white cake squares, which were served with lime sherbert punch. Arrangements of red rosebuds, as well as many floral arrangements sent by friends, decorated the receiving rooms.

The Montgomerys have three grandchildren: Patricia Ann, William Kimble, and Mary Beth Kaiser, all of Graham.

The Ab Rankins, at whose home the Montgomerys were married, have moved from Lubbock to Glendale, California.

Baptist Vacation Bible Class Opens

One hundred eighty-five young people and children registered on the first day of the annual Vacation Bible School being conducted by the First Baptist Church May 18 through Friday, May 29, according to Mrs. Truett Smith, school principal.

Classes will be held daily, beginning at 8:30 a. m. and ending at 11:00, says Mrs. Smith, and training will be centered around a Bible study, character stories, handwork, memory work, music, and mission stories.

Leaders among the approximately 40 adult helpers include the following: Mrs. Smith, principal; Winfred Walker, Educational Director, school director; Mrs. H. L. Roddy, secretary; Mrs. Lee Ramsour, pianist; Miss Leola La Grone, handwork for girls; Walker, handwork for boys; Mrs. N. E. Wood, intermediate superintendent; Mrs. Ivan McWhirter, and Mrs. John A. Roberts, junior superintendents; Mrs. Darvey Lavender, primary superintendent; Mrs. L. D. Howell, beginner superintendent; Mrs. Winfred Walker, Nursery III superintendent; and Rev. Tribute Paid To Policemen

On January 1st, Jack Webb on Chesterfield's "Dragnet" T V Show over NBC paid a dramatic tribute to policemen that has attracted nation-wide attention.

On that show, in an authentic dramatization of a case from the Los Angeles police files, Webb as Detective Sgt. Joe Friday, tongue-lashed a "bad cop" who had been guilty of tipping off a gang of criminals to police department "stakeouts." The suspect offered to inform in return for special consideration and in a scathing indictment of the policeman's action, Webb retorted:

"I wouldn't take you up on that if it meant fifty years before we reached that gang. You get this through your head, Mister. You're a bad cop. You wanna know what that means? . . . This isn't a private affair . . . You'll be all over the front pages tonight and tomorrow. . . Everybody's going to read about you. A bad cop. It makes great news. They're not gonna read about the four thousand and five hundred other cops . . . the guys who walked their beats last night . . . the guys who risked their lives . . . they're not gonna read about millions of man hours turned in by thousands of honest cops . . . here and all over the country . . . They're not gonna read about the 98 per cent, Mister. They're going to read about you. One crooked, thieving cop. He worked with a burglary gang. He had an apartment for a beautiful dame and he stole her a fur coat. And he was a cop. And he had a nice wife and two fine children. Do you know what all this means? Every kid in school with a cop for a father will have to fight his way out today because of you. Every woman with a cop for a husband is going to go shopping at a market today. And she'll have to answer to the butcher and the grocer and everyone of her neighbors because of you. Every officer in this city and across the country is going to have to stand trial because of you. We could have piled up a hundred years of great policemen and great detectives . . . men with honor and brains and guts . . . you tore down every best part of 'em. The people who read about it in the papers, they're gonna overlook the fact that we got you . . . that we washed our own laundry and we cleared this thing up. They're gonna overlook all the good . . .

Standards For Daytime Dresses

COLLEGE STATION, —The woman who shops for medium price daytime dresses, finds many varieties but few standards to guide her in making selections. According to clothing specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, dresses for daytime wear may be of any fabric that suits the needs of the woman and her activities during the day. These activities may include looking after the family, driving to town to shop, visiting a neighbor, attending a club meeting or other community events. Since every homemaker does not want the same quality or style of dress, there are many varieties of dresses on the market.

How can a homemaker judge a dress? First, the specialists say, she must learn to recognize new and lasting fashion for satisfaction and economy. Style in women's wear is changeable but there are fashions which carry over for several years and if the homemaker chooses from the new set, her dress will be more satisfying.

Then, the specialists say, the dress should fit. There are no standards for sizing ready-to-wear, each manufacturer determines his own. Every homemaker then, must shop and try on until she finds the best possible fit. It is not practical to buy a medium price daytime dress and then spend time or money re-making.

A good fit is one that brings out the best lines of the design and affords comfort for the wear and ease for service.

The third suggestion for good buying is careful consideration and evaluation of the dress. Is the dress cut on the true grainline of the fabric? Does it have enough fullness of cut to avoid pull and wear? Are the seams at least one-half inch wide with stitches short enough to prevent spreading? Are buttonholes closely stitched with threads firmly fastened? Buttons sewed on firmly and individually? Is the zipper concealed? Is the hem cleanly finished, with edge turned and stitched, or in the case of non-washable fabric, finished with tape? Are the materials in all findings washable?

The homemaker should be inquisitive toward the fabrics in the daytime dresses she purchases. If the fabric is one of the old fibers, then she should question its firmness of weave, color fastness and shrinkage control. If the new and old fibers are used together in a blend, the percent of each fiber should be learned so she will know what to expect of her dress in wear and care.

The label should tell the homemaker whether the fabric is washable and information about shrinkage and color fastness, ironing temperature and finishes.

Last, the specialists say, the price should be within the homemaker's budget range. If a good shopper knows the features she wants in a daytime dress, she should realize in a medium price range she cannot get all of the desired features. She will have to make her own decision as to desirable and suitable features to get the most personal pleasure in feeling well groomed in her all purpose dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thuren and little daughter and Mrs. Thuren's mother, Mrs. Viola Swafford, left Monday for Illinois to visit his parents and other relatives.

The invocation was by Patsy Smith, and the benediction was by Audrey McKee, also class members.

Mrs. E. W. Patterson played the processional and recessional, and special numbers were rendered by the Elementary School Choir, directed by Mrs. Harold Green.

John F. Thomas, president of the school board, presented the diplomas of graduation.

Principal Ledru (Jake) Jacobs and Floyd Tubbs, co-sponsor of the class with Miss JoAnn Henderson, presented the special awards.

Gold medals were presented Misses Raindl and Scott.

Others honored were: Deanie Edwards and Richard Havens, best all-around girl and boy, selected by the High School faculty.

Jerry Cain Will Go To 4-H Round-Up

Jerry Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cain, has been chosen to represent Lynn County at the 1953 State 4-H Club Round-Up June 10-11, on the campus of Texas A. & M. College at College Station, according to an announcement made this week by Bill Griffin, Lynn County Agent.

Jerry, who is 15 years of age and a sophomore, holds an enviable 4-H record since he first became a club member in 1947. The record on which he was chosen to represent the county, says Griffin, includes the following show winnings:

In 1948, his Duroc barrow placed second in the Lynn County Show; in 1949, Jerry showed the Grand Champion pig in the County Show; in 1950, he had the Grand Champion lamb and the first place pen of three lambs in the local showing.

In 1951 his calf was county Grand Champion, and in 1952, a calf which won local honors. Grand Champion, also was judge Grand Champion of the South Plains Junior Boys Fat Stock Show in Lubbock. Jerry was also 1952 Gold Star winner.

Due to the fact that there is no County Home Demonstration Agent in the county at present, it is not now known whether there will be a girl 4-H club member to attend the Round-Up, states Griffin.

BROWNFIELD GRADUATE

Jimmy Prentice Walker of Brownfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Walker of that city and grandson of Mrs. Beulah Applewhite of Tahoka, graduated from the Brownfield High School this spring.

While attending school, he twice won "all-state" honors as a clarinet player with the Brownfield band.

We wish to thank all our friends who in so many ways were so helpful in our recent trouble. To those who sent flowers, letters or cards; to those who visited; to those who brought food; to those who ran errands and to all who were so helpful in so many ways, we want to tender our sincere thanks and to pray God's richest blessings upon each of you. —Mr. and Mrs. H. grade average of 92.3. She has been a member of the High School Chorus, pep squad and Future Homemakers of America.

Eagle Scout Is Honored Here

A special Eagle Scout award ceremony was put on at the regular meeting of Troop 21 Monday night, May 18, in the WOW hall, as a benefit to the local troop and parents who had never seen such a ceremony performed, according to E. B. Gaither, Assistant District Commissioner.

Edwin Jolly of California, and Jimmy Williams, both Eagle Scouts of Troop 21, were assisted in performing the ceremony by Rush Dudgeon, Eagle Scout; H. B. McCord, Jr., Scoutmaster; Gaither; and John Ed Redwine and Karl Prohl, Star Scouts.

Second Class advancements were awarded John Sanders and Darice Barnes, and John Ed Redwine received five Merit Badges.

Approximately 60 attended the meeting; F. E. Redwine, assistant Scoutmaster was in charge of refreshments.

Cecil Hammonds, advisor, announces that the Explorer Unit will have its first meeting Thursday, May 21, at 7:30 at the WOW hall.

Post Stampede Opens Wednesday

POST (Special)—The annual Post Stampede Rodeo, "the fastest show in the west," will get under way here Wednesday night, May 27, following a two-mile long street parade scheduled for 6 p. m.

Performances will be every night, Wednesday through Saturday, at the Post Stampede Rodeo Association $40,000 arena, where an extensive program of repairs and improvements has just been completed for this year's show.

A total of $3,500 prize money is being offered contestants in six events—wild steer riding, roping, roping, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding and cowgirl sponsor contest. In addition to the regular rodeo events, there will be specialty acts and a rodeo clown, according to Phil Bouchier, manager.

Stock for the rodeo events is being furnished by "Goat" Mayo of Petrolia, whose stock generally is considered the "saltiest" to be obtained, and will be double-tough to ride and rope this early in the rodeo season.

Added rodeo attractions will include a dance every night at the Stampede pavilion, with Tommy Hancock's Band furnishing the music.

The opening parade Wednesday, May 27, will include at least ten of the area's outstanding mounted groups, in addition to floats and other features. Host riders will be the Post Stampede Cowboys and a mounted group representing the Post Junior Rodeo Association.

Many of the Southwest's top-notch rodeo performers are expected to compete for the $3,500 prize money. The show annually attracts some of the best cowboys and cowgirls in the nation.

Clark K. Dyess In Pacific Operation

PACIFIC FLEET (FHTNC)—Taking part in "Operation Sea-Jump," a large scale amphibious training exercise off the coast of Southern California, is Clark K. Dyess, seaman, USN, of Route 1, Tahoka, serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Union.

The climax of the exercise will be a full scale land assault by amphibious forces supported by air units and helicopters landing attack forces, against an "enemy" entrenched at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, California.

Naval units taking part in Sea-Jump include aircraft carriers and air squadrons, destroyers, submarines, minesweepers and various types of amphibious ships, landing craft and units.

The exercise is designed as a means for providing advanced amphibious and land warfare training and improving the readiness of Naval and Marine forces of the Pacific Fleet.

Even though many of the participating units are veterans of Korea, they constantly engage in training exercises to maintain maximum proficiency in the use of combat tactics and special weapons.

Vice Admiral Harold M. Martin, Commander First Fleet, is conducting the exercise which has been ordered by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Commander in Chief, U. S. Pacific Fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans, Jr., and three children of Morton visited the Carlsbad Cavern Sunday. They also visited relatives in Artesia, N. M.

This is Monday morning and one can still hear nothing in Waco but talk of the tornado. I find it hard to write about anything else for my column as yet, although I know that almost everybody in Texas has already read in the newspapers or heard over the radio or seen by television the full story of the storm—no, not the full story, for that of the tornado, however, and that is how it happened that people in hundreds of towns throughout Texas learned of the tornado before all but a mere handful of people in Waco itself knew what had really happened.

Another strange feature respecting the death list is that of the 113 people killed, not a person under 13 years of age was among the number, and very few homes were blown down, though a few in East Waco, across the Brazos River, were either destroyed or badly damaged.

No serious damage was done on the grounds of Baylor University but one Professor, Dr. Keith James, and his wife were killed by falling walls at the R. T. Dennis store when they drove up to the store just before the tornado struck. Two youths, one only 13 years of age, were killed at a swimming pool in south Waco when the dressing rooms blew down.

The fact that no children were killed and that so few adults were killed in their homes is regarded generally as an act of Providence. The only explanation of it from a human standpoint is that all schools had been dismissed and most of the children had returned to their homes before the tornado struck. Most of the people who were killed met death from the falling walls of the buildings in which they worked or were crushed to death in their cars near such buildings. Many parked cars were destroyed by the tornado.

Now, just a little personal explanation. On Thursday of the preceding week, my daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle, and her two daughters, Anita Jo and Sara Sue, and I had come down to Waco for Myrtle to attend a state-wide meeting of officials and other representatives of the Texas State Employment Commission with offices at various cities in the state, which meeting was held on Friday and Saturday in the Roosevelt Hotel in Waco. On Sunday afternoon and night we came back to Tahoka, my sister, Mrs. Alice Martin of Waco, bringing us up in her car. I left my car here.

Late Monday afternoon we heard a report of the Waco tornado and far into the night we listened to radio reports of it but also heard the announcement that all highways into Waco had been blocked. Knowing that we could not get back into the city, we decided, as we had originally intended, to visit our brother, J. A. Hill, and his wife in Canyon the next day, Tuesday, and that we did. My sister had been trying frantically in the meantime to get telephone connection with relatives in Waco and vicinity but was unable to hear from any of them until Tuesday night, when we received our first encouraging report. We hastened back as far as Stephenville, where another sister lives, on Wednesday, spent the night there and came on into Waco Thursday morning, but found the tornado district blocked off as effectively as a corral in the T-Bar pasture.

It is still blocked off. Thousands of cars from Fort Worth and Dallas, from San Antonio and Austin, from east and west and north and south, came down the highways yesterday to view the ruins left by the tornado; but all were turned back or turned aside at the Brazos River on the north and east, and all were turned back at Eighth Street who came from the south and west, and were not allowed to enter the traffic-restricted areas. Had the downtown tornado-stricken district been thrown open to the public, every street in Waco would have been jammed from curb to curb with visitor cars filled with occupants intent on seeing the ruins. It would have been utterly impossible for police to have handled the crowds. My three sisters and I, by taking our place on the city and staying out at the edges of the town, entered the Temple-Austin highway at the Circle in southwest Waco and drove down to Eddy 2 1/2 miles away, Sunday afternoon, and we met 500 cars in the 25-minute drive. About the same number, apparently, were traveling in our direction. An average of approximately 20 cars there were passing any given point every minute. That will give you some idea as to the countless thousands of visitors to Waco yesterday. And they went back home disappointed, for they got to see practically nothing of the tornado's ruins.

that had been destroyed, quite a number of business houses badly damaged, and numberless limbs twisted off of the finest trees in Waco.

Before I close, let me tell you something of the experiences of some of my own kin-folks down here. One of my nieces—a grand-niece in fact, to be more specific—is employed in an office on the 18th floor of the Amicable Life Insurance building, a 22-story structure, just about the height of the Lubbock and the Caprock hotels in Lubbock if one were placed squarely on top of the other. Here is the experience she relates: "When the tornado struck, we did not know what was happening. A strange feeling came over us and we found that we could hardly stand on our feet. All of us just reeled as we walked. We thought some strange sickness had come upon us. We found all the elevators jammed and we had to walk down the stairways to the ground floor 18 stories below us." Their reeling as they walked was due to the swaying of the tall building as the tornado swayed it to and fro. The building is said to have been considerably damaged. If it had toppled over, no one can estimate resultant cost in life and limb and property.

One of my nephews and nieces worked in a four-story drug-store building just across the street from the Amicable. A number of persons of course, were employed in the building. The glass front was blown out and shattered, but miraculously not a person in the building was seriously hurt. One other niece and three nephews were in school that day but reached home shortly before the tornado struck. None of the kin-folks here suffered any substantial property loss.

Personally, a little old tack or nail dealt me more misery than did the tornado. Before I left here last Sunday, one of my tires had picked up a tack and when I got back I found it as flat as

The greatest loss here suffered by any church was that suffered by Columbus Avenue Baptist Church. Thirteen of its members were killed in the storm. I do not think that scarcely a splinter of the magnificent church building was damaged in the least. But before last Saturday night came, the pastor, Dr. W. W. Melton, 75 years old, was just about broken down physically from holding so many funerals. Beginning with Wednesday, he had conducted four funerals each day except one day, when he conducted only one funeral. Among the number, was the superintendent of the Church Sunday School, who was also a deacon, and had just served as chairman

Narrow Gauge Railway Planned For Palo Duro

Work is underway on the right-of-way for a narrow gauge scenic railway in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Tentative name is Palo Duro Canyon, Burlington and Texas Western Railroad. More than 60 tons of rails, ties and other equipment has been received and more is to follow.

The scenic railroad will have a capacity of 72 adults. Powered by a big Chrysler engine, the locomotive is modeled after Casey Jones' Famous Old No. 97. The route starts near Triassic Peak and winds up toward El Coronado Lodge, giving views not hitherto available except by long hikes or horseback of the Sad Monkey, Spanish Skirts, Catrino Cave, Mesa Mecca, Christmas Tree Canyon and the old Goodnight entrada route into the Canyon.

The railroad is being installed and operated by Harold E. Grear and associate, James M. Bailey of Herrin, Illinois. The train, one of a few such scenic trains in the country, has been operated for the past three years at Herrin. Mr. Grear is a member of a pioneer family of newspaper publishers. Prior to World War II Mr. Grear was managing editor of the Herrin Daily Journal. After the war he was in the wholesale and outdoor theatre business. Mr. Bailey was production superintendent for a large manufacturing plant there.

Engineers and officials of the Texas State Parks Board cooperated in selecting a route where the right-of-way in no way marred the beauty of the Canyon. The route has no more than a 3 per cent grade and was routed around picturesque trees, rocks and other formations.

Formal opening of the two mile ride will be the latter part of May. It will be publicized as a major tourist attraction.

Mr. Grear in seeking a Texas location for his train was asked to inspect Palo Duro Canyon as the most logical site for such an attraction. He completed his contract with the Concessionaire, John L. McCarty in April and the survey on the route began last week. Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway are aiding in an advisory capacity.

It is believed the scenic ride will be a big factor in further increasing the attendance at the "World's Most Colorful Canyon" which in the past two years drew more out of state cars and more paid attendance than any other State or National park in Texas.

"Undoubtedly, there will be no scenic ride in America that can compare with this route in beauty, and color," said Mr. Grear. "The public acceptance of this gorgeous ride will attract national attention."

McCORD MOTOR COMPANY

When it comes to value in a car, look no further than Pontiac—A General Motors Masterpiece!

Here's a brilliant performer with a high-compression eight-cylinder engine full of eager pep for traffic, wonderfully economical on the open road.

Pontiac is a striking beauty! No car is more distinctively styled than a Dual-Streak Pontiac.

And what a buy it is! For all its size, roominess and 122-inch wheelbase, Pontiac is priced right next to the lowest. It's not only GM's lowest-priced eight, but is also offered with a remarkably economical six at even lower cost.

It all adds up to this: As an eight or as a six, dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac. Come in and see for yourself!
