From the Empire May 2nd.

Ed Keith was over from Dublin Sunday.

Miss Sabra Key of Dublin visited Miss Bonnie Keith here Sunday and Monday.

W. A. Dawson was brought home last Satruday from Fort Worth, where he had been several weeks under treatment. His condition is thought to be slightly improved.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Houston last Saturday afternoon swallowed a sewing machine shuttle. Medical aid was given as early as possible, but nothing could be done, and Mrs. Houston left on the night train for Fort Worth to have the little one operated on if necessary. Fortunately the shuttle passed away naturally Monday and the little one is all right.

The Stephenville cemetery association are inviting bids for a wall to be built of rock and mortar around the entire grave yard. They will either build a wire fence or a solid stone wall, and much prefer the latter if money enough can be raised to meet the cost.

From the Tribune, May 3rd.

The First Baptist church of Stephenville will be dedicated at 11 a. m. Sunday, June 9th, same being the second Sunday. Rev. J. B. Gambrell of Dallas will preach the dedicatory sermon.

Judge Frank was at Austin this week looking after refunding $10,000 worth of the court house bonds. There is now in the county treasury $10,000 of the permanent school fund unemployed and drawing no interest. It is Judge Frank's desire to have this money invested in Erath county court house bonds. To do this it will be necessary for the state, which owns all the court house bonds, to cancel bonds to the amount of $10,000 and re-issue them to this county. Then Erath county and its school fund will get the advantage of the interest being paid on the court house bonds, which now goes to the state. This is the only way in which this permanent school fund can be invested.

The Stephenville Standard Oil Co. of Beaumont, composed of Stephenville people, have closed out their interests at that place and will not issue any stock. They made quite a neat little sum in the "close out," however.

An Odd Fellows' lodge was organized at Morgan Mill last Tuesday night with the following officers: J. C. Yarbrough, N. G.; J. D. Biggs, D. G.; R. E. McClenny, secretary; J. C. Thornberg, treasurer; W. C. Childress, warden.

The friends of John Hull will be glad to learn that he has been pardoned by the governor and will arrive home this week. Mr. Hull has been in very poor health since January and to this is due the fact that he was pardoned. The pardon was granted on April 29th.

The grand jury adjourned Friday to convene May 20th, after finding seventeen felonies and ten misdemeanors, or a total of twenty-seven.

HOWELL SPRINGS.

Regular Correspondence.

May 6th.—We are needing rain very badly and the bugs are working on our wheat and oats.

Our literary meeting was almost a failure last Saturday night, but it is hoped that it will improve in the future, and there is no reason why it should not, for the young women have about decided to come forward and do what the men and boys have heretofore failed to do. Now, as the girls have taken hold in earnest, it is hoped that the men will follow and if they do we will soon be at the front, but if they don't we will always be in the "back-woods." What we need is men and women who are not afraid of their own voices and who are not afraid to say "come on and we will build up our society," and not men and women who will set back and say to their children, "go on and do and see what you can."

Now we hope all who read this will come out every Saturday night and lend what help they can toward rebuilding the organization.

Made to Confess by a Horse.

A strange story comes from California that is worth repeating. Recently a mail carrier in one of the mountain districts was found by the roadside murdered. Near him was a little mare that he had ridden and petted for years. At first the animal refused to let any one approach the body, but finally a gentleman with whom the rider stopped at times, came up and the pony allowed him to place the dead man on its back and carry it to his ranch. A certain party was suspected of the murder and arrested. Just as the officers with their prisoner reached the ranch where the pony was, it was being led to water. On seeing the prisoner the animal became frantic, with mouth open and mane flying it made for the man, whom the officers saved with difficulty. The prisoner was so badly frightened that he at once confessed the murder and told where he had hidden the valuables taken from the mail.

STOCK GOES SKY HIGH

FIGHT FOR THE ROAD

Two Syndicates Caused the Wild Advance and Not Until an Understanding Was Had Did the Market Finally Settle.

New York, May 10.—The great excitement and heavy decline in practically all securities, except the Northern Pacific, which began on the Stock Exchange Wednesday afternoon continued yesterday morning. From the moment of the exchange's opening trade was furiously active and for the first half hour at least, apparently without support, although Northern Pacific stock rose higher and higher on the bidding of the frightened shorts. This stock rose rapidly from 170 to 190 and then almost without a pause the advance kept on till 300 was paid for 500 shares for immediate delivery. At the same time 100 shares for today delivery was sold for 230.

Trading in Northern Pacific became so wild and excited toward 11 o'clock that prices changed rapidly 25 and 50 points at a time. A sale at 530 was recorded and almost immediately another one came out at 700. This was for tomorrow's delivery and not a cash sale as some ones had been thereby indicating the belief on the part of the purchaser that the short commitments was so large that the stock to come from Europe would afford little or no relief.

At 11:15 Northern Pacific sold at $1000 per share for cash. As fast as Northern Pacific went up other stocks were going down. At the opening, declines in New York Central, Missouri Pacific, Louisville and Atchison ranged from 2 to 5 points and it seemed for a time as if orders were being give to sell without regard to prices. This wildness was uninterrupted until about 11:40 when it seemed that for a moment at least there was a disposition to steadiness. Then all support seemed to be wishdrawn, the stock market and prices began falling many points between sales.

The steamships Majestic and Servia, which arrived from Europe Wednesday evening, had in their mails large blocks of Northern Pacific common for account of arbitrage houses which were delivered to them at once. The stocks were made ready for delivery on exchange, but apparently they were not a drop in the bucket for the frantic demand for the stock not affected.

All interest centered on reports that conferences were being held to patch up the truce preliminary to a permanent basis of agreement between rival interests in Union Pacific and Northern Pacific. It was generally accepted that the Burlington deal would go through but that it would be arranged on some basis satisfactory to the Kuhn-Loeb-Harriman people. There were many conferences of various financial leaders throughout the morning. It was learned from authorative sources that up to 11 o'clock no compromise had been agreed upon but the situation was more hopeful than it had been.

Efforts to arrange a conference between conflicting interests was resumed yesterday morning and while no definite steps was taken it seems certain there would be a meeting and with it peace. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who openly declare they have a majority of Northern Pacific stock said their policy is a concilitary one and that they had reached out with all their strength in their position and influence in an effort to protect instead of crushing.

At 11:40 a statement was made that J. P. Morgan & Co., and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., had agreed not to enforce deliveries on Northern Pacific stock yesterday. With this announcement there was a rally in prices throughout the general list.

Just before 12 o'clock there was a rapid and sensational rise in the United States Steel Corporation to 45, Manhattan got up to 105, Suthern Pacific to 36½. Amalgamated Copper to 109, Atchison preferred to 90 and others rising a point or two at a time.

After noon there seemed to be more steadiness to prices, though the market continued exceedingly erratic for some time after the upward turn had actually come in the list generally.

Professional traders who had sold recklessly on the break had to scramble to cover and heavy buying was attributed to large capitalists with available funds who saw attractive investments at the level prices that had been reached. Northern Pacific almost disappeared from the record after the announcement as to its delivery, which was the effective cause of allaying the extreme nervousness. There was a transaction of 100 shares at 500 shortly before 1 o'clock.

As high as 60 per cent was bid for money.

At 1 o'clock the failures of W. H. Brower, 50 Broadway, and J. T. Lee, 62 Broadway, were announced on Consolidation Exchange.

The failure of A. F. Fields, also a member of Consolidated Exchange, was announced.

At 2 o'clock the semi-official announcement was made that the Gallatin National bank would lend $16,000,000 at 6 per cent, acting for associated bankers of the city.

Pan-American Sunday Opening.

New York, May 10.—At the meeting of the board of managers of the American Sabbath union, the opening of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo on Sunday was discussed and resolutions were adopted denouncing the directors for disregarding the petition "of 2,000,000 individuals, representing a constituency of 22,000,000 of ecclesiastical, civic, humanitarian and labor organizations," by deciding to throw open the gates of the exhibition on Sunday. The resolutions stamp the directors' action as an affront to the religious conviction of a majority of the people of the empire state. Ministers of the gospel throughout the country are asked in the resolutions to preach upon the subject before the formal opening of the exposition May 20.

THE CHINESE LOAN.

American Financiers May Be Asked to Take Part in the Deal.

Washington, May 10.—American capitalists may be asked by the Chinese government to subscribe to the loan it will have to negotiate to pay the indemnity to be exacted by the powers.

Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, and New York financiers have been in communication on this subject. The communications are entirely unofficials and have therefore been kept very quiet. Nevertheless, it has developed that the idea has been favorably received in New York. It is, of course, impossible to say what the outcome will be, as international politics will have an important influence upon the placing of the loan, but intelligent Chinese favor obtaining subscriptions from the United States.

The Chinese government is well aware that provided the "open door" be conceded the United States at this moment would not go beyond a formal protest in case of the division of China. The situation would be changed, however, if Chinese bonds, valued at millions of dollars, were held by American capitalists.

All that the Chinese minister has done has been to make inquiries and American financiers have given an indication of what they are willing to do. The loan will be very large—special commissioner Rochhill has cabled to the state department that the ministers had agreed upon $337,000,000, but he is still trying to secure a reduction of this amount—but the lower it is, the easier it will be for China and the better the terms upon which she can negotiate it.

Foreign representatives in Pekin will undoubtedly bring strong pressure to bear in behalf of the placing of the loan in their respective countries. Mr. Rockhill is not expected, however, to join in such a movement. If within the range of possibilities that China, in order to satisfy all the powers may decide to place in each country a loan on the indemnity duty of that particular nation. In this event the share of the United States will probably be less than $20,000,000 and perhaps only $12,500,000 in case its proposal for each power to reduce its indemnity demand should be adopted.

DANGER OF GAMBLING.

Bishop Lawrence Takes to Task Dealings of the Stock Market.

Boston, May 10.—One has only to listen to the shouts in the stock market during the past few weeks," said Bishop Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, "to be impressed with the danger in which our young men and women, our boys and girls stand for the temptation to gamble, to get something for nothing, to try to make money fast, to hazard what is of value simply for the pleasure of the hazard. I am not drawing fine distinctions, much less am I making the stock market the scapegoat for an increasing popular danger and vice.

"Vicious gambling, which catches the popular eye, is but the symptom of a spirit prevalding the community, that of an unreadiness to work steadily for the legitimate reward of labor, an unrest at the moderate and fair returns of capital, a making haste to get rich, a keen love of the sport of overreaching another w fascination in living by one's wits instead of by one's sober thoughts and careful work.

"Two generations ago playing cards was forbidden, because it was associated with gambling. Then the cards were brought forth from their hiding places and given a place in the decent amusements of the home. Today they are returning to their old calling as the instrument of gambling. There men and women, worshippers in our churches, some even communicants, who waste the daylight and concentrate all their thought and nerve upon the game—and the game is not complete without some stake, small or large.

"What will you give for the future of the boy whose pin money is the gain of his father's game at the club? The point I want to make is that instead of dwelling an the excesses of the stock market or criticising the police for not suppressing the worst forms of gambling, we should look to ourselves and discover the symptoms of the same vice in uss.'"

Attendance at Indian Schools.

Washington, May 10.—A report on enrollment and average attendance at regular Indian schools for the quarter ended April 1, compared with corresponding quarter last year shows the largest annual increase in attendance recorded in last 10 or 15 years. The average attendance at non-reservation schools also increased 819, at the reservation boarding schools 1338; at day schools there was a decrease of 342. Net increase for all schools 1865. The total number of pupils enrolled in all Indian schools 25,860.

Pegasus Up to Date.

Ascend, my love, and take your place
With queenly air and matchless grace,
And up to legal limit pace
We'll speed our course afar
Along the highway, straight and clear,
Of peril entertain no fear,
While by your stately side I steer
My brand new motor car.

No monarch e'er was half so proud
As I, when through the gaping crowd
I thread my way with hootings loud,
An automobile star!
At lessened pace the hill we scale,
Then madly dash adown the dale;
A cloud of dust denotes the trail
Where whizzed my motor car!

The engine throbs beneath our feet,
And just as fast my heart doth beat;
My joy is perfect and complete;
* * * * *
But why this sudden jar?
I beg you, dear one, not to frown;
By rail we must return to town.
Alas, my muse has broken down!
So has my motor car.

SALISBURY'S ILLNESS.

Failing Health May Force Him to Give Up the Premiership.

London, May 10.—Alarming reports about Lord Salisbury's condition are prevalent. A. J. Balfour, the government leader of the house of commons and a nephew of Salisbury had a private audience with the king, which is understood to have been caused by the prime minister's failing health. There has been complete silence on the subject for three weeks, the only indication that he was not recovering being afforded by the message of his return from Beaulieu. He was to have been in London by this time but he has not yet left his Riviera residence.

The attack of influenza before Easter left him extremely enfeebled and the news from Beaulieu received in London shows that his debility is obstinately resisting all treatment and has now reached a grave point.

When asked, Lord Hugh Cecil, member of parliament, one of Lord Salisbury's sons, if it is true that the premier is seriously ill. He replied:

"I know of no ground for such a statement."

The possibility of Lord Salisbury's retirement has been freely canvassed in political circles. His death would not dissolve the ministry but would lead to its reconstruction.

It is rumored that King Edward would first ask the duke of Devonshire to take the premiership and if he should refuse then ask Mr. Balfour to accept it.

SUBJECT TO DUTY.

Lava Rock Importers Must Pay the Government Fifty Per Cent Tax.

New York, May 10.—A decision has been made by the board of classification of the United States general appraisers upon an important, but not generally understood import. It was relative to the status of lava rock under the present tariff. The lava rock in question was hewn and squared and the collector at San Francisco assessed a duty or 50 per cent ad valorem under the provision for "other building stone, hewn." The importer, the Giant Powder company, protested, claiming a lower duty under any one of four different classifications.

The board overruled the protest and in rendering this decision reverses a previous decision of its own, which had been affirmed by the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York. General Appraiser Fischer, who wrote the opinion for the board in the present case, says that at the time the previous case was heard no evidence was submitted to show that lava rock was used for building stone anywhere in the United States. In the present case the testimony submitted proved conclusively that lava rock is now used largely for building purposes in this country.

Melbourne, May 10.—Opening of the first Australian federal parliament took place at 12 yesterday with impressive ceremony. The capacity of the exhibition building, the scene of the ceremony, 12,000 people, but available space was taxed to the utmost. Decorations consisted of regimental standards, trophies of arms and floral festoons. MORE WONDERFUL THAN AN OIL FIELD!

Contemplate the Scene.

Stand imaginatively before the past century, with its scientific inventions arrayed in panoramic view before you. Marvelous have been the improvements! Could our ancestors return to life great would be their astonishment. Of all these wonders what has been more wonderful than the implements that have emancipated the farmer from the slavery of the field? With the Klondike Cultivator to stir the soil, after it has been broken with an X-Ray and planted with a Champion, a man need not fear, all he needs is Newton Wagon, unless he has a Schuttler. Or if perchance he has sown wheat, oats, cane seed or millet, he needs a Deering Ideal Light Draft Binder, Rake and Mower. This line of implements have won a world record that has never been equaled. Now if they can stand the critical analysis of the most scientific and most practical men of the world, is that not sufficient evidence to prove their worth to you if you contemplate buying?

MAY HAVE TO COMBINE.

All Europe Watching the Great Trusts of This Country.

Chicago, May 9.—"If the great trusts in this country encroach on European markets to the detriment of European manufacturers, I predict a combination of the commercial countries of Europe to raise tariffs on American goods to almost prohibitive figures." So spoke Jules Siegfried, France's minister of industry, commerce and the colonies in the cabinet of Ribot in 1892 and 1893, who is at present in this city.

"There is but one logical solution of the present situation," continued Mr. Siegfried, "and that is the signing of a fair and equitable reciprocity between the different nations. I always have been in favor of such treaties because they foster trade and increase the friendliness of political relations between the countries party to them. It really is the only logical solution of the approaching troubles.

"Do I believe a combination of European powers probable in the near future? Well, it will follow after several of the countries have put up their tariffs to protect their own manufacturers. You are a wonderful people and your country is marvelous in its resources, and when your competition becomes so great as to be alarming the combination of governments will be a very natural result.

"Under reciprocity this situation would be almost impossible. Take my own country, France, for example. We buy our steel, iron and machinery from England, but we could buy it from your mills just as well. Under a reciprocity agreement between the two governments we could come to you for our iron, our steel, our machinery, in fact, nearly all of the material used in our own markets and industries. On the other hand, we would send you our gloves, our fine linen and lace and cotton goods, and the commercial relations established would bring the two countries into closer and more cordial political relations. It would be a benefit to both."

SMALL PLANTS TO CLOSE.

The United States Steel Corporation Will Concentrate Their Business.

Pittsburg, May 9.—The Commercial Gazette publishes the following:

"The United States Steel Corporation has adopted a policy of centralizing operations, of abandoning its smaller plants, those disadvantageously located and those that cannot be economically worked. Work heretofore done at the plants will be transferred to those that remain operated to the advantage of the company. Undoubtedly the plan will work with great benefit to the Pittsburg district as the most favored of all which the United States steel Corporation operates."

The above is the statement of Joshua Rhodes of Pittsburg, retired, as chairman of the board of directors of National Tube company, now a constituent of the United States Steel Corporation, in reply to an inquiry as to what the new Morgan combine has adopted as its policy. The adoption of this policy of centralizing operations by the United States Steel Corporation will mean to the Pittsburg district, if carried into effect without delay, the bringing here within a year of about 50,000 mill men from the plants of the company that will be abandoned.

New York, May 9.—The plans for a consolidation of locomotive manufacturers are rapidly assuming definite shape. The Texas Reform Press Association has been called to meet at Corsicana Friday and Saturday, June 14th and 15th.

The total list of deaths in the English army in South Africa since the commencement of the Boer war is placed at over fifteen thousand.

It is now claimed that the English government has spent more for war in the last two years than she has for education in the last thirty years.

A saloon man advertises in the Hunt County Observer as follows: "Don't drink whisky, brother, but if you will drink it, heedless of this advice, buy the pure truck from us."

FEET OUT.

Curious Habits.

When a person has to keep the feet out from under the cover during the coldest nights in winter because of the heat and prickly sensation, it is time that coffee, which causes the trouble, be left off.

There is no end to the nervous conditions that coffee will produce. It shows in one way in one person and in another way in another In this case the lady lived in Vermillion, S. Dakota.

She says, "I have had to lie awake half the night with my feet and limbs out of the bed on the coldest nights, and feel afraid to sleep for fear of catching cold I had been troubled with twitching and jerking of the lower limbs, and for most of the time I have been unable to go to church or to lectures because of that awful feeling that I must keep on the move.

When it was brought to my attention that coffee caused so many nervous diseases, I concluded to drop coffee and take Postum Food Coffee to see if my trouble was caused by coffee drinking. I only drank one cup of coffee for breakfast but that was enough to do the business for me. When I quit my troubles disappeared in an almost miraculous way. Now I have no more of the jerking and twitching and can sleep with any amount of bedding over me and sleep all night, in sound, peaceful rest.

Postum Food Coffee is absolutely worth its weight in gold to me." This lady's name can be given on application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

A recent dispatch from Paris, France, says: "The late Count de Ouin Patrieterre bequeathed to the city of Rouen his fortune of 10,000,000 francs on the novel condition that the city annually give a marriage gift of 100,000 francs to a couple of giants in order to regenerate the human species. The candidates are to be medically examined and the healthiest couple will be chosen.

The comptroller of the treasury has decided that postal money orders are payable only by the postmasters upon whom drawn and to whom notice of issue has been sent. It has been the practice heretofore to cash money orders at postoffices other than those on which they were drawn and for the postmasters cashing such orders to turn them into the postoffice department as vouchers.

The leading ministers of New York city have begun a crusade against gambling in "high society." They declare that the society women of the city have developed a mania for gambling and actually entice young men to their homes for the purpose of robbing them at the card table. The ministers claim to know whereof they speak and the picture they paint is a very dark one indeed.

The legislature of Arkansas has just passed a bill making it unlawful for any person to drink any intoxicating liquors as a beverage unless he or she shall have first obtained a license as a dram drinker. The license is fixed at $5 per annum. The outlay of $5 and the stigma attached to having in one's possession such an instrument will undoubtedly reduce the number of drinkers.

The man who is satisfied with his attainments should be wrapped in the cloak of his self conceit and buried in some secluded spot where the wolves could sing a sad requiem over his grave. His part is done; the world does not want him any longer. But the man who presistently reaches forward and adds to his laurels by dint of brain and hand through weary years of ceaseless toil—bury him where loving hands can carefully tend his grave. The whole world mourns his departure.—Morgan News.

According to a dispatch to the Times from London, England, Pope Leo, temporal head of the Catholic church has executed a will naming his successor as supreme pontiff of the church and thus modifying the habitual mode of choosing a pope by a conclave of cardinals. The theory is simple, the papal power being absolute and involving the right of naming a successor. The pope is now very much advanced in years and while his health is reported excellent for a man of his age his sudden death would be no surprise.

Messrs. John G. Harris, A. M. Maloney and B. M. Utterback went to Beaumont the first of this week to look after their interests in a recent provisional purchase of oil lands. As stated in the Progress recently, these gentlemen, with others, purchased five acres of land near one of the wells being bored there, known as the Kelly-Kiser well, located in what is supposed to be the proven oil fields, at a total consideration of $25,000. A sum of money was deposited in the Beaumont bank to secure the deal, pending an investigation of the title, when the remainder was to be paid if the title was satisfactory. The investigation proved the title to be very uncertain and for this reason the deal was recalled. A good title to the property is now worth double the money they were to pay for it, at least a Progress reporter heard Mr. Kelly propose to pay that amount for the land if a good title was given, but this, it is said, is impossible at the present time. Mr. Utterback returned Wednesday and the other gentlemen were expected home yesterday, having remained, as we understand, to investigate another purchase they had in prospect.

We promised to let the readers of the Graphic-Truth know if our people ever heard of the medicine man or their pictures. Last week they received their pictures they sent to have enlarged, in a letter stating that the company had lost over $450,000 in the fire at St. Louis, and would send them a prescription worth much more than the portrait. So here it is: "Sure cure for cold." Dovers powders, 20 grains; Capsicum, 20 grains, Camphor 20 grains; Quinine, 20. Keep Bowels open. Yours truly, Guaranted Medicine Co." We hope that our people will appreciate the prescription and keep their bowels open and their stomach in order to catch suckers. It is said that J. T. Cook had so much faith in the medicine that when it was all gone he would fill up the bottles with Kicapoo water which gave just as good results.—Lipan Correspondent in Granbury Graphic-Truth.

Geo. Matthews has sold his place in east Dublin to Mrs. Jones, formerly of Sanger, Texas, who has now occupied the place with her family. The consideration of the purchase was $500. Mr. Matthews is preparing to leave Dublin to locate at Myra in Cook county and enter the dry goods business with Dr. Johnson, who until recently resided at Lamkin. His present expectation is to leave Dublin with his family on the night train Saturday for his new home. We regret to lose such a good family, but wish them much success at their new home.

Next Sunday is the day for the Hico male quartette to be here to sing at the Christian church. Services at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Preaching by the eminent G. A. Foris, editor of the Christian Courier of Dallas. Visitors are expected from Hico, Stephenville, Alexander and perhaps Comanche. It is desired that all good people of other churches assist in making our visitors feel welcome to our town. The members will please be on hand by 10:45 for communion. The Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m.

The ground has now about been cleared for the erection of the three story structure which Dr. O Brien will at once have built on Elm street adjoining his sanitarium building. The building will be of rock with an iron and brick front and occupy a frontage of forty-seven feet additional to his present building.

THE FLORAL PARADE.

CROWDS TO SEE HIM.

The Chief Executive Stood Knee Deep in Rose Leaves Thrown into the Box at the Reviewing Stand by the Ladies Passing.

Los Angeles, May 10.—From a broad, blue canopied pavilion, surrounded by the members of his cabinet, the governor of Ohio and notables from many states, President McKinley Thursday reviewed the floral parade of the Los Angeles carnival. The population of Los Angeles, according to the census is over 100,000, but the streets must have held almost twice that number Thursday. Pasadena, Santa Monica and other neighboring towns sent in hundreds of visitors. Every facade flamed with bunting, flags, pampas grass and red, green and orange plumes.

The president rode at the head of the parade in an open carriage drawn by six white horses with yellow satin harness. At the head of each horse walked a Spanish caballero in green velvet, trimmed in gold braid. The carriage was a mass of white and yellow blossoms. A troop of cavalry with yellow horse hair plumes waving above their helmets and wreaths of flowers across their shoulders and blanket roll of red carnations behind their saddles, headed by a band playing the "Star Spangled Banner," preceded the president's carriage.

As each carriage reached the reviewing stand, the ladies there saluted the president, who returned the greetings. He apparently enjoyed the experience greatly. Each lady carried a bag of rose leaves and after saluting the president each threw a handful of the soft petals into his box. Before the parade was over he was ankle deep in rose leaves.

Previous to the floral parade the president and his party were driven through the residence section of Los Angeles. In the afternoon, the ladies of the president's party went to Pasadena, while the president went to the National Soldiers' Home near Santa Monica. He was greeted there by 3000 veterans to whom the president made an address.

Upon his return to Los Angeles late in the afternoon the president received Governor Nash and the Ohio congressional delegation at the hotel. There was no public functions in the evening.

Considerable excitement was caused by the discovery after the speaking that a pickpocket had relieved two members of the party, Secretary Wilson and Col. C. A. Moore of their pocketbooks. The thief was arrested.

A Louisville boy, an officer in the Philippines, tells a story on one of his brother officers which will bear repeating, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. The officer in question, a captain, stutters badly. He had been on recruiting duty in the United States and while at his work had enlisted for his regiment a man who stuttered as badly as, if not worse than, the captain himself.

Some time later he was ordered back to his company, and a few days afterward was on duty as officer of the day. As it happened, the stutterer that he had enlisted was without his knowledge put on guard duty that night. When the captain went around to inspect the guard, he came to the new sentry and was challenged. "Huh-huh-h-halt, who-who-who c-c-comes there?"

The captain answered, "O-o-o-of-of-of-of-ficer of the did-dad-day."

Then the sentry said, "A-a-a-advance, of-f-of-of-officer of the d-d-day, to b-bib-bab-be recognized."

By this time the captain was mad all over, for he thought the man was mocking him. He did not know the recruit, although the recruit knew him. The captain went bouncing up to the sentry and yelled at him, "W-w-wh-wh-what d-d-d-darn f-f-fool enlisted y-y-y-you?" and the sentry said, "Y-y-y-you did, sir."

A Dutch View of England's Decadence.

Great Britain has reached and passed the zenith of her prosperity, says the Amsterdam Algemeen Handelsblad. If a war with two small states reduces her to these financial straits, what sort of a figure will she cut when she is locked in a struggle with Russia or, as may happen, with Russia and France? If only the plea for arbitration so often advanced had been accepted!

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are filling graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tully, Kan.: "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything, in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Thedford's Black-Draught, when needed, and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

WINE OF CARDUI

A NEW GRETNA GREEN.

Steamers For Elopers to Run From Chicago to South Haven.

SPECIAL FOOD FOR THE BRIDES.

Chef Will Prepare Angel Food and Sweet Wine For Lovers—One Minister and Justices of the Peace Will Be Prepared to Tie the Knots. Scheme of G. P. Corey.

Next June will bring a boom in the matrimonial market if G. P. Cory has anything to say, and he thinks he has. Cory is the man who originated the St. Joseph and Benton Harbor marriage excursions. He made a veritable Gretna Green of the Michigan resorts and offered special rates to eloping couples or to any prospective bride and bridegroom.

Now he is managing a steamboat line of his own from Chicago to South Haven, and it is his purpose to make the latter resort the most popular place for the marriage ceremony that lovelorn damsels or impressionable swains can possibly find, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. He will have two steamers, both fitted up with special reference to the matrimonial trade. Drawing rooms and boudoirs will be found snugly furnished in a style to make any young person think of home. After an hour or two spent in these luxurious cabins no young man can resist the darts of Cupid, and Mr. Cory expects to turn the tide of matrimony from St. Joe to the more northern town this summer in such crowds that he will have to hire or build more boats for the future traffic.

Moreover, South Haven itself is alive to the opportunities. A minister duly qualified to tie the knot that binds has been selected to devote his time to the emergencies of the lake trippers and for a moderate fee will marry couples in five minutes by the clock, or at the rate of 12 marriages an hour. The Rev. M. I. Fox of the Methodist church is said to be prepared to speak the words that unite loving hearts and willing hands, and should his duties become too arduous, as it is fully expected they will be as soon as the Cory matrimonial line is known, there is a reserve force of justices of the peace and several other ministers ready to step in and help smooth the way at the hymeneal altar.

Then the beauties of South Haven are to be expatiated upon in the printed matter that will be distributed. Its lovely walks and drives among the peach and apple orchards will be described, and a special offer of wreaths of white and pink blossoms for the brides is to take the place of the old and familiar orange blossoms.

Mosquitoes and sand flies are to be exterminated, and the festive ant will have his habitation ruthlessly destroyed. At least Mr. Cory says so, and he is running the show. Nor is this all. The food is to be carefully looked after. Brides are notoriously delicate of appetite. They cannot eat porterhouse steaks and lobster salads on a honeymoon trip. They crave for angel food and stuffed olives. Even the pickle is believed to be more satisfying than the most tender of chicken when the little god with the silver tipped arrows is doing business, so Mr. Cory has engaged a special chef to look after the wants of his hurry up wedding trippers. The most refined taste can be catered to as well as the most robust. Charlotte russe and angelica wine will be found alongside pork chops and beer.

"I have fitted up the steamer Petoskey for my South Haven line," said Mr. Cory the other day, "and will have another one in commission in time for the June brides. I expect to beat St. Joseph on the marriage game, but I am not going to cater to a cheap trade. My prices will be in accordance with the comforts I furnish. Once South Haven becomes known as the Mecca, or Gretna Green, of the lakes, I believe I will have to build a new boat. Anyway, I will offer the best of everything at rates to suit the most exclusive bride that ever came on board a ship. I shall expect to see a rush for the new haven for lovers."

PROVIDED WITH EARS.

Boy Born Without Aural Appendages Aided by Surgery.

Three-year-old Paul Rehm of Chicago was born without ears. This deformity has been overcome through an operation performed by Dr. Nicholas Senn, says the Philadelphia Times. By lifting the skin from the base of the head back of the point where the normal site of the ear would be, carrying the flap forward, doubling it and placing the folded skin in such a position as would quite simulate a normal aural appendage the surgeon provided the boy with two ears.

Gold wires of various lengths will be inserted into different parts of the new skin formations. These wires will serve the same purpose as ordinary cartilage in the lobes, preserving the shape and curves of the ear.

Galveston's Good Record.

Notwithstanding the interruption to the shipping caused by the storm of Sept. 8, Galveston has exported 1,231,191 bushels more wheat this season than during the season ending July 1, 1900, says the St. Louis Republic. The total exported thus far this season has been 9,700,640, and the total exported last season was 8,480,449.

Astronomical Expeditions Brave Cannibals to See the Eclipse.

The total eclipse of the sun on May 28, 1900, was observed by many parties of astronomers from all over the United States and from foreign countries as well, and the results have been given in various publications. Among these parties was one from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which observed the eclipse at Washington, Ga. The same party from this institution, with its personnel but little changed, sailed recently for Sumatra to observe the eclipse of May 17 in company with the expeditions from the United States Naval observatory and the Lick observatory in California. This party, which is in charge of Professor Alfred E. Burton, sailed from Boston to Genoa, where they took passage on the Dutch steamer Koningen Regentes for the East Indies. On the steamer were also parties of astronomers sent out by the governments of Great Britain and Holland.

Sumatra, which is directly in the path of the shadow of the eclipse, is situated near the island of Borneo and, although it has been a Dutch possession for several centuries, is said still to contain tribes of cannibals. At any rate, the Boston party was well supplied with paste diamonds and quantities of cheap jewelry for barter with the natives, and one member laughingly promised to give a dinner to the cannibals if the observation of the eclipse should prove successful.

The astronomical transit which this party took to Sumatra is one which was used in driving the famous tunnel through Hoosac mountain, in western Massachusetts. It was presented to the Institute of Technology after that great feat in railroad engineering had been accomplished. The equipment of the expedition also included a valuable set of instruments furnished by the United States coast and geodetic survey for making gravity observations by means of a pendulum and thus helping to ascertain the exact shape of the earth.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

DEFINES BASIS OF HER RELIGION.

Ten Commandments, Ninety-first Psalm, Sermon on the Mount and Revelation of St. John the Divine Declared—Says Monitor, Not Master, Is Guide For Governing Her Followers.

Mrs. Eddy has great hopes for the future of the Church of Christ, Scientist, believing that it will finally embrace all who believe in Christ under the healing wings of her faith. Born of God, she is not at seeing such phenomenal increase of her adherents, the spread of Christian Science in foreign countries and all over the land. She believe in her faith, believing in the second coming and the exaltation of prophecy is natural enough, writes the Concord (N. H.) correspondent of the New York Herald. Then the more real question of existence of the government of the church and of its growth she had this to say:

"The problem is not so much as to the form of the government as providing an authority that will ever keep the church true to the Christian Science practice. A monitor more than a master have made rigid bylaws for the government of the church, and every one has been necessary, but they need to be administered in gentleness and forbearance as well as in firmness with loving. I have always been mother church instead of dictator, as has been falsely said."

"When you organized your church, Mrs. Eddy, did you give up healing to get a living from the church?"

"The church and my book work made demands on my time, but I received my fixed salary from my church, accepting a small dividend on the profits of the contribution box. More than that, I have given to the Christian Science Publishing society all the profits from the periodicals that I own. By my own means I helped the poor and intelligent in my church when the church was too poor to do it."

"Do you accept remuneration for your services as a healer after founding your church?"

"Before it was possible for me to minister to the sick without neglecting my other work, I did it without remuneration, save in two exceptional cases. I did this object, however, to others receiving means from their labors for their maintenance, because 'the laborer is worthy of his hire.'"

"What is a question concerning the tolerance of women in the early church members that I make the statement that she has succeeded as ruler directly This avowal is important, because the secrets of her rulership, if secrets they may be called, have been intrusted almost exclusively to her secretary, Calvin A. Frye, although it is quite imaginable that another should be designated of broader cast of mind, Mr. Frye retaining possibly his secretaryship.

But the question of woman in her church fascinated her, and she returned to it with gusto.

"Woman," she said, "has the finer spiritual nature. She more readily takes the impress of Christian Science. If, as you say—I leave all statistics to the publication department—there are 13,000 women against 5,000 men in a book total of 18,000, it shows that their minds are more receptive, their enthusiasm greater at the beginning of a struggle, but in the strength of man lies the power of carrying it on. I look on man as the designate of the word; but, to my view, the idea of race is superior to the idea of sex. Indeed, may we not look forward to a human condition, when perfection is nearer, wherein neither male nor female shall be known and the race may reproduce itself otherwise than now?"

Mrs. Eddy characterized doctors as "false teachers, looking into matter, not into mind; relying on drugs instead of on God for healing, and making their fears into laws on the subject of disease."

"But if, as you say, Christian Science wholly rejects the germ theory of the propagation of certain diseases, what is your theory of them?"

"They are fears, sin, moral illusions shared by the people in general. Cast out fear. Call in the divine love and the diseases will be no longer infectious, for they will not exist."

Mrs. Eddy, however, far from counseling any sensational opposition to the state's health laws, advises submission, but in that case fervor must be doubled and more heart reliance placed on Christian Science. Medicine appears to be the only science to which Mrs. Eddy is really opposed. Healing, she thinks, may be accomplished by the most ignorant person, without the slightest knowledge of anatomy, provided the heart is sufficiently pure and the mental attitude is correct.

She makes a really beautiful application of her approval of the other physical sciences, for to her mind they tend to lessen the handling of matter by mankind. Machinery doing so much now, man's time is by so much more free to examine the sources of life. Science that makes living finer, more ethereal, using the finer fluids of the universe, is really bringing everybody nearer to Christian Science.

Talk on this and other points of the attitude of Christian Science toward what most people consider the great sciences proved fruitless, always turning back to definitions of Mrs. Eddy's religious belief, often striking and sometimes beautiful in expression.

"On what is Christian Science based?" I asked at last.

"I can tell you on what I based my conception of religion and on which, so far as in me rests, I have laid its foundations in Christian Science—the Ten Commandments, the Ninety-first Psalm, the sermon on the mount, the revelation of St. John the Divine."

The psalm indicated, it may be recalled, contains the promise of safety from pestilence and plague of those who are godly, "Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling."

"I am a theist, I must confess," said Mrs. Eddy, smiling. "In our services," she went on a little reluctantly, "we have some slight forms of ceremonial, but in conformity with the simplicity of our belief there will be a gradual abandonment of even the present slight forms."

"Why, Mrs. Eddy, should not others who take the same attitude to disease effect cures as well as Christian Scientists?"

"Their basis is false. I am not to deny any cures, but those who place their reliance on mind instead of on God in their mind are erring in the same degree as doctors who dose with drugs. Medicine has no effect in the cure of disease; it can have none. The willing of it, the trust in it, helps. Those who have pirated from my books are not honest to begin with. Those who mix mind cure with drug cure, as many do, I am told, are hypocrites. They create dissension and unlovingness. Can anything based on such evil have a permanent place? Belonging to the Church of Christ and observing its laws, one must live the godly life. Without such guidance from God how can cures be effected?"

"Does Christian Science take any attitude on the broader political questions? Does it, for instance, lean toward the higher socialism?"

Mrs. Eddy thought over this before replying and said cautiously: "We are not indifferent to forms of government, but we support the best in each. A church to be universal must in many things be neutral about forms of government and at the same time support what is right to support.

"When all men are one in the Church of Christ, the perfection of life and the perfection of government under the application of the golden rule will come. It will all be simple, natural, without clash or combat, all over the world in a divine brotherhood."

On personal matters Mrs. Eddy was naturally more reserved. She reads much, she says, and keeps abreast of the thought and the doings of the times. She reads several newspapers and subscribes to seven monthly periodicals.

"Do you like novels?"

"I skim over a great deal. They often say of me here, 'She knows more about it'—naming some book—'than we who have read it through.'" And the thought seemed to please her, for she smiled over it.

"And what works do you prefer?"

"I will tell you the books and writers that I have loved best. They are Young's 'Night Thoughts,' Alexander Pope's poems, Felicia Hemans' poems, Ruskin's works, Robert Browning's poetry, Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poetry, Ralph Waldo Emerson's poetry and essays and Amos Bronson Alcott's works."

AMERICA LEADS IN EXPORTS.

The monthly summary of commerce and finance issued by the treasury bureau of statistics at Washington presents in the current number some interesting facts about the commerce of the principal nations of the world. The most interesting fact is that the United States stands in the fiscal year 1901 clearly and unquestionably at the head of the world's list of exporting nations. Her average monthly exportations for the nine months ending with March, 1901, were $124,497,853, while those of the United Kingdom, her closest competitor, were $117,816,246 per month during the same period. Those of Germany, the next largest exporter, were $87,551,000 per month during the 12 months ending with December, 1900, and other nations as follows: France, $56,467,000; Russia, $29,550,000; British India, $26,747,000; Austria-Hungary, $25,753,255; Belgium, $23,568,000, and Italy, $20,518,000.

The total domestic exports of the United States in the nine months ending with March are $1,120,480,673, while the exportation of British and Irish produce in the same period is $1,060,346,214, showing the exports of the United States to be $60,000,000 greater than those of the United Kingdom, her greatest rival, during the term under consideration.

The United States in the nine months ending with March, 1900, showed $394,000,000 excess of exports over imports. In the same months of 1901 the excess of exports was $521,000,000, a gain of $127,000,000 in 1901 as compared with 1900.

"Indian Mary" Living In a Hovel.

The woman who saved the life of Colonel Mulligan of the Mulligan guards of Chicago during the civil war was found recently living in a hovel in Stevensville, near St. Joseph, Mich., says the New York Sun. Her name is Mary Cochrane, and she is familiarly known as "Indian Mary" and is believed by some to be a witch. She entered the civil war as a nurse and was assigned to Mulligan's brigade. Mulligan was severely wounded at Lexington and was removed to Island No. 10. "Indian Mary" nursed him back to life. Her father was an Indian, and her grandfather was an Indian chief, Jacob LaSalle. She is now in poverty, and her advanced age renders it impossible that she will live out the year.

KEIR HARDIE FLAYS TRUSTS.

Leader of English Workingmen's Party Says the Nation Must Control.

Keir Hardie, M. P., leader of the English workingmen's party, has given the following signed statement to the New York World on the effect of J. Pierpont Morgan's trust enterprises. He says:

Considerable alarm has been caused by the action of J. Pierpont Morgan in stretching his paw across the Atlantic and clutching our steel and shipping trades in his grasp. The trust constitutes the modern menace to progress. It places the producer and the consumer alike at the mercy of the over rich. The trust is more rapacious than the robber barons were of old. It is the bandit of commerce, the vampire of trade, bowelless and rapacious.

The trust is a veritable daughter of the horse leech and, like hell and the grave, can never be satisfied. The trust is dangerous to national life and destructive of freedom of the individual. Its operations can only be successful through intimidation of the workingman, corruption of the press and control of politics. These form the working stock in trade of the trust system. England has found that fact out to her cost through the war in the Transvaal, a war of financiers seeking to secure higher dividends through reducing the wages of white workers and enslaving the black workers.

Part of the means by which these ends are to be secured is the crippling or destruction of trade unions. What is to be done? I reply that either the nation must own the trusts or the trusts will own the nation. Democracy, by which is meant the rule of the common people, is a sham and delusion so long as labor is economically enslaved. Socialism offers the only way of escape.

Monopoly is inevitable, and the question at issue all over the world is whether this monopoly in the means of life is to be privately owned and controlled and conducted solely and exclusively with the object of putting money in the pockets of the shareholders or is to be owned and controlled by the nation and conducted so as to produce the highest possible happiness and the greatest personal freedom. Socialists advocate the latter as the better way.

PROF. CROOK EXPLAINS.

Supposed Unkissed Instructor Was Trying to Reform a Friend.

Professor Algie R. Crook of Chicago is becoming so thoroughly bored and annoyed by the notoriety thrust upon him that he recently made his "final statement" on the subject. Incidentally he denied the Paris cable alleging that he kissed and hugged women in the Latin quarter, says the New York World. He says he has not been in the Latin quarter for ten years and then only for a few hours. Here is his "final statement:"

"One day I was talking with a young man who had the reputation of being wild. I assured him of my deep solicitude for his future if he persisted in the ways he had adopted. He argued the question with me and insisted that everybody expected young men to sow wild oats. He said every man did and that they were the better and wiser for it when they were older. He even quoted Luther to me:

"Who loves not women, wine and song
Will live a fool his whole life long.

"I lost patience with him and told him he was utterly wrong, but he insisted he was no different from what other men had been at his age, and then he said that perhaps if I were to look back and remember some of my old school days I might have a little fellow feeling for him. This called from me the remark that I had not intended to pose as an example, but that if he were to follow me as a model he would never smoke, swear, drink, chew, lie or flirt with women, for I had never done any of these things in my life. This young man told one of his friends of what I had said. It soon became noised about, and the newspapers got it.

"These are indeed degenerate days! It is still a question at which to wonder most, at the college professor 37 years old who never swore, smoked, drank, chewed or kissed a woman or at the world that stood aghast when it found such a man."

Can't Let Go the Tail.

General von Waldersee admits that the task of letting go the dragon's tail is fully as difficult as getting the original grip. He should take a lesson from General Chaffee, says the Omaha Bee. The latter was on hand to assist in capturing the animal and as quickly dropped it when the work was done.

Buffalo Comes Into Its Own.

Henceforth, says the Boston Globe, it will be eminently the proper thing for the exposition seeking traveler to remark, "Let me off at Buffalo."

ANOTHER GREAT WELL

It Is on the Guffy Property Near the Lucas.

EQUAL TO THE BEST.

When the Drill Struck the Oil Region the Fluid Shot 175 Feet High. Immense Production of the Developed Wells.

Beaumont, Tex., May 9.—Contractor W. E. Sharp brought in another gusher for the J. M. Guffy company Wednesday morning, equal to any yet produced, making the fifth producing well this company now owns in this field, with two more drilling and due to come at a not very distant date. Estimating that each of these wells will flow 50,000 barrels of oil each day, which is considered a conservative estimate, this company has a supply of crude fuel oil equal to 250,000 barrels a day, and if it could find a market for all of it at the price it is now selling some of it, 38 cents, it would have a clear income of $95,000 every day, a money gusher almost equal in volume to one of the wells.

It is about 600 feet west of the Lucas well and just a bit below the crest of the hill known as Spindletop Heights. The drillers went ahead with the work and when everything was ready the drill was sent swiftly into the sand and the magic touch of the steel struck life into the potent fluid, which shot upward as if resenting the disturbance, and went fully 175 feet into the air.

The men had everything in perfect control and after it had spouted for a few moments the well was closed. Men were put to work making connections between the new well and the storage tank. In another day the new well will be but a piece of pipe extending from the depths below to the tank built to hold the fluid several miles away.

Awarded Damages.

Sherman, Tex., May 9.—A. D. Hay was awarded damages in the sum of $7500 against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway. Hay was a railway postal clerk and alleges that through no fault of his, but because of the negligence of the company's agents, he received painful and permanent injuries.

Big Shipments Expected.

Atlanta, Tex., May 9.—About 300 farmers have organized a truck growers' association. There were planted last fall about 3500 of the famous Elberta peach trees, and the acreage in potatoes, beans, melons, cucumbers and other vegetables is very large. The farmers in this neigborhood expect to ship 100 carloads of truck this season.

Both Held Without Bail.

Malakoff, Tex., May 9.—The examining trial of John B. O'Donnell, charged with the murder of his father at this place on the night of May 1, resulted in his being remanded to jail without bail. Mrs. McDonald, his mother, charged as an accomplice, is also in jail, being denied bail.

Water Turns to Oil.

Texarkana, Ark., May 9.—Dr. Oliver of Park, Tex., five miles west of here, created much excitement here Wednesday by reporting that a well of water on his place had turned to oil. Preparations are being made for the sinking of a well near there.

Girl Seriously Burned.

In the Whitney warehouse there were 2500 bales stored and soon the whole was a roaring mass of flames. The walls of this structure were the only ones to give way. HARRIMAN WINS OUT

New York, May 9.—The stock market was utterly demoralized at the opening yesterday by the developments in Northern Pacific. What were rumors Tuesday became facts yesterday that the Harriman interests in relation of the attempt to secure control of the Union Pacific had turned upon the Morgan-Hill interests and wrested from them control of the Northern Pacific. Competitive buying resulted in a virtual corner in the stock, to the discomfiture and panic of a very large short interest.

The collateral consequences of the open war disclosed between the most powerful financial interests in the country caused acute alarm among large operators of longs of the market. The Harriman syndicate, supposedly backed by Gould and the Standard Oil interests in a bitter warfare with the Vanderbilt, Morgan and Hill combine offered alarming suggestions to the heated imagination of speculators. While shorts were bidding at any prices for Northern Pacific, speculators were unloading other stocks all through the list.

The disorder on the stock exchange was extreme during the first hour, but strong rallies in the general market and a relapse in Northern Pacific reassured the holders and the market became quieter.

It is expected that this gun will be capable of throwing a ball weighing 2370 pounds a distance of 21 miles. The gun weighs 130 tons, and its total length is 49 feet 2 9-10 inches. The length of the bore is 37 feet 4 inches with a rear diameter of 60 inches.

An army officer at Washington says that should that this weapon be mounted at Sandy Hook it would be capable of protecting a territory of almost incalculable wealth. New Rochelle on the north, Tuckahoe on the south, Hempstead and Long Beach ond Long Island, Perth Amboy and Paterson in New Jersey, not to mention New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City, would all be within the zone of its protection. Its shells could pass far above Staten Island and fall half a mile beyond Atlantic Highlands.

The Feasibility of the System Is Assured by the Naval Board.

Washington, May 9.—The board of naval officers headed by Captain Chadwick appointed to make a full investigation and report on wireless telegraphy, has completed its work and submitted its report to Admiral Bradford, chief of the naval bureau of equipment, having charge of this subject. It had been expected that the inquiry would last through the summer and the navy department has been somewhat surprised at the promptness with which the board has been able to report its conclusions. Although the findings will not be made public, it is said, the feasibility of the system and the recommendations of the board will be adopted and the present system of using carrier pigeons for messages between ships will be abandoned.

The board submits the results of an extended conference with Senor Marconi, the Italian inventor, concerning the general subject of wireless telegraphy. It is understood that Marconi made no proposition regarding his own system, and that the board secured his views as an expert on the general subject. There is no finding in favor of any particular system but a general treatment of all systems. The board has no doubt that wireless telegraphy will prove a valuable adjunct for the navy.
