In Thunderbirds Crash...

Elite AF Team Wiped Out

INDIAN SPRINGS, Nev. (AP) — Strict training to keep their eyes only on the plane next to them may have led three pilots of an elite Air Force stunt squad to blindly follow the lead of a fourth and slam into the desert after a 400 mph dive.

"Normally, he (the leader) is the only one looking where he's going," said Air Force Sgt. Jack Conner. The Thunderbirds' commander, Maj. Norman L. Lowry III, died along with the three other pilots in Monday's accident during practice.

The Thunderbirds pilots, who sometimes fly as little as three feet apart in their T-38 Talons, are trained to "fly off the commander-leader," watching only the plane next to them and not the ground or instruments because of the tight formation, Conner said.

"We don't know whether it was a mid-air collision or a case of follow the leader into the ground," he said, adding that it may be several weeks before investigators make a determination.

"It's one of the possibilities," Conner said of witnesses reports that the planes slammed into the desert. He said it would take a trained observer to tell what had happened because the planes were flying so fast, about 350 knots.

"At the speed they were going when they came out of the loop, I just thought, 'That's the end of that for them fellows,'" said W.G. Wood of Indian Springs, who witnessed the crash as he drove along U.S. 95. "It happened so fast I couldn't tell you if one hit sooner. It looked like all of them hit at the same time."

The loss of the four officers was the most devastating accident in the history of the precision flying team and left its future in doubt.

A resident across the highway from the auxiliary base where the flight team practiced said he heard the whine of the red, white and blue jets as they climbed to a high arch, then the scream of the engines as they plunged downward to complete the maneuver.

"Then boom-boom-boom, boom-boom-boom as they hit the ground one after another," said Loren Conaway.

George LaPointe, a construction worker, watched the jets disappear behind tree tops.

"They didn't come back up," he said. "They were going full tilt, really screaming, and at the time I thought they were too low."

Air Force officials said a panel would be formed to investigate the crash — an inquiry expected to take up to three weeks.

The crash came as the four planes were completing what was known as a "line-abreast loop" — climbing side-by-side for several thousand feet in a slow, backward loop, then hurtling down at more than 400 mph, leveling off at about 100 feet.

Besides Lowry, 37, of Radford, Va., killed were Capt. Willie Mays, 32, of Ripley, Tenn.; Capt. Joseph Peterson, 32, of Tuskegee, Ala.; Capt. Mark E. Melancon, 31, of Dayton, Ohio.

Lowry became commander of the Thunderbirds in October after Col. David L. Smith died when his jet crashed on takeoff following a performance in Cleveland.

Another Thunderbird officer died in a crash last year before 80,000 spectators at an Ogden, Utah, air show.

"It's too early to speculate as to what will happen" with the Thunderbirds, said Air Force spokesman Col. Mike Wallace. "Obviously, the loss of four pilots and four aircraft is a severe blow. But we have snapped back before and could conceivably snap back again."

Two of the pilots killed Monday had talked of the perils they faced when companions were killed last year.

"Accidents in flying are something you learn to live with," Peterson once said in an interview. He added that pilots learn to accept "but for the grace of God, it could be anyone of us anytime, anywhere."

Mays once said that after an accident, morale drops, but "we realize that we have a mission."

The planes crashed at Indian Springs, an auxiliary field 40 miles northwest of their home field, Nellis Air Force Base. The team flew to Indian Springs almost daily to practice formation flying in preparation for an 81-show exhibition season scheduled to begin March 13 at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson, Ariz.

In 30 years the group has flown 2,455 air shows before 153 million people, Conner said.

The Indian Springs airstrip was the site of another air disaster last Sept. 21. Seven men were killed when a C-130 carrying Army troops crashed while practicing a night landing.

SPRING REGISTRATION—Registration for the spring semester at Western College is now underway. WTC instructor Bill Halbert is shown assisting Snyder sophomore Carla Nunley with some sticky scheduling problems during Monday afternoon's first session. Classes for the spring term will begin Wednesday, Jan. 20, with regular registration ending Tuesday afternoon. Late registration for students unable to attend the regular sessions will continue through Friday, Jan. 22. (SDN Staff Photo)

Sales Tax Rebates Show Gains Here

Snyder received a sales tax rebate check for $40,610 this month, an increase of 18 percent over the $34,316 for the same period last year, State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced.

Bullock said that overall, his office mailed rebates totalling $34.7 million to Texas cities, some $1.6 million more than last year. Houston received the biggest check, $7.4 million, an increase of 11.7 percent over last year.

Snyder led the cities of this area in its population bracket.

Levelland received $38,803; Andrews, $29,439; Monahans, $29,301; Sweetwater, $28,725; Lamesa, $25,230; Pecos, $23,275; and Brownfield, $17,549.

In other area towns, Colorado City received $12,522; Post, $7,189; Roscoe, $1,104; and Rotan, $949. Roby did not receive a rebate check this time.

The checks mailed this week covered the period ending Jan. 10, the comptroller reported.

United Way Gets Campaign Report

Scurry County United Way directors this morning received a report that the fall campaign accounted for $64,484.67. The goal was $60,600.

The organization is considering a request that some of the funds above the budget be allotted to the Snyder Child Day Care Center, due to a reduction in government funds it had received heretofore. The center is trying to maintain its full services with fewer personnel, it was reported.

Two new directors have been named. They are Dr. Don Newbury and Phil Guerry.

However, election of officers was postponed because a quorum was not present. The nominating committee is composed of Brenda Hedges, Rodger Sullenger, Jo Ann Nunley and Jerry Vestal.

Vestal reported that the 1981 campaign disbursements had been made and the next disbursements will be made in April. The United Way expenses have been the same the past three years.

Campaign reports by divisions include Advance, $16,460; Royalty Owners, $2,295; Commercial, $12,140.30; Oil and Industry, $16,180.60; Educational, $5,821.50; Professional, $2,486; Utilities, $4,375.52; Public employees, $2,203.65; Rural, $2,521; total, $64,484.67.

Missiles Fired

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian forces fired antiaircraft missiles at four Israeli reconnaissance jets over eastern Lebanon today, witnesses reported, but there were no reports that any of the planes were hit.

WTC Board Due To Set Election Date

Scurry County Junior College District Trustees are scheduled to adopt a resolution formally calling a trustee election for April 3 at a meeting Wednesday.

The meeting is set for 7 a. m. in the faculty dining room of the Western Texas College Cafeteria.

Three places on the board will be filled in the election this year. They are Place 5, now held by Edwin Parks; Place 6, now held by R. C. Patton, and Place 7, now held by Bill Jones.

In other business, the board is due to consider bids on group health insurance and the purchase of materials for a duplex apartment now under construction on the WTC campus.

Also, employment of an instructor in auto mechanics to fill a vacancy will be considered.

Auditions For Play At WTC Set Monday

Auditions for the Western Texas College theatre department's production of "Fiddler on the Roof" will be held at 7 p. m. Monday in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus, James Rambo, director, has announced.

Any community resident who is interested in working with the show is invited to attend the audition, Rambo stressed. There will be a pianist available for vocalists and they need to bring their own sheet music.

Mike Dennis has been cast as Tevye, Rambo said. Appearing as Tevye's wife, Golde, will be Jane Womack.

Rehearsals for "Fiddler on the Roof" will begin March 8, with production dates set for April 22-27. The rehearsal schedule will be flexible so that people with prior evening commitments can work around these meetings. Baby sitting will be provided for the young children of cast members.

Anyone who would like further information about the new show is invited to contact Rambo or to call his office at 573-8511, extension 233 or 234.

Proposed Excise Plan Will Hurt Little Guy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's reported plan to impose excise taxes on some consumer goods will hurt the "little guy" and risk economic and political defeat for the GOP, two leading House Republicans say.

In an apparent split within Republican ranks, House GOP Whip Trent Lott of Mississippi and Rep. Jack Kemp of New York, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said they "are deeply disturbed by the lack of political and economic common sense demonstrated in the current tax-increase campaign."

They made their remarks in a Jan. 14 letter to budget director David A. Stockman.

Reagan is expected to announce his plans during his State of the Union address to a joint session of Congress Jan. 26.

Reagan aides gave a preview of the speech Monday to Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee and House GOP Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois.

Baker declared the address would be "a humdinger" but refused to reveal details.

"I think it's going be full of substance...far more than just a report; I think there'll be innovative ideas and suggestions, and I think it will chart the course for our political debate for months and maybe for years to come," Baker said.

Officials have said previously that Reagan, facing ballooning budget deficits, has decided tentatively to call for an increase in excise taxes on certain consumer goods and turn the revenue over to states.

In exchange, the states also would inherit federal programs, including some dealing with highways, education and welfare.

Under the plan, taxes would be increased on alcohol, gasoline, tobacco, telephones and perhaps some "luxury items," some sources said.

Nuclear Plant Site Attacked

LYON, France (AP) — One of five homemade rockets fired at the construction site of France's first full-scale nuclear breeder reactor plant hit the main building, but caused only a minor hole in a concrete wall, officials said today.

No one claimed responsibility for the late night attack Monday on the controversial Creys-Malville plant, 28 miles east of Lyon.

Police found the rocket-launching tube on the banks of the Rhone river opposite the plant this morning.

Union Okays Contract

DEER PARK, Texas (AP) — Almost unanimous consent was given to a two-year contract by 2,100 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union at Shell Oil Co. here.

Barely an hour after voting started Monday night, OCAW officials confirmed the agreement, terming the vote "close to unanimous."

No details of the contract were released but OCAW spokesman Roy Barnes said Monday the oil company's proposal was "in line with the national package."

On Sunday, about 250 workers in Texas City ratified a contract with Marathon Oil and 1,200 workers in Beaumont approved an new agreement with Mobil Oil Corp., union officials said.

The exact vote and the terms of both contracts were not disclosed.

Nearly all 55,000 OCAW members nationwide continued working under an extension after the union's old contracts expired Jan. 8.

Smothers Arrested

CANEY CITY, Texas (AP) — Former state representative Clay Smothers says he regrets the incident that led to his arrest on aggravated assault charges.

Smothers, 46, was arrested and charged Saturday night after he allegedly struck Dave McGee in the head with a pistol.

"I did a stupid thing," Smothers said Monday. "If I could undo it, I would."

Smothers said the incident occurred because McGee was spreading rumors that Smothers had been jailed New Year's Eve.

McGee has declined comment.

Smothers was taken into custody Saturday night by Caney City police chief Doug Briggs. Justice of the Peace Judy Newman said Smothers posted $2,000 bond and was released Saturday night.

Murder Conviction Overturned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down the death sentence of a young man convicted of killing an Oklahoma state trooper.

But the court left unanswered the major question it had been expected to raise in the case: whether convicted murderers who commit their crimes when under age 18 can be sentenced to death.

Instead, the justices voted 5-4 to overturn Monty Lee Eddings' sentence since it had been imposed without full consideration given to certain "mitigating" evidence that might have pointed to life in prison as the appropriate punishment.

Eddings was 16 when in 1977 he fatally shot state highway patrolman Larry Crabtree on a highway outside Tulsa.

The SDN Column

Now that all thoughts about a mild winter have been frozen out, look for some expert to predict that we are headed for another ice age.

Any time that we have weather extremes, those who view one season as a long range trend seem to emerge. After a hot summer, they begin looking for signs of a warmer Earth with the Arctic and Antarctic ice caps likely to melt and drown us. An unusual cold spell stimulates speculation that the ice cap is going to move in and freeze us.

But we have noticed that no matter how cold or how hot it gets, there's always some old-timer who can remember when it was worse. Sometimes they tend to exaggerate, but usually their recollections are bound by a thread of truth. We have heard some old-timers talk about skating on frozen stock tanks in this area, implying that it was a common occurrence in earlier days. Others have modified the accounts, suggesting that those who recall such things actually did experience a freeze or two that produced ice thick enough for skating. It happened at an age when they were most impressionable, and it is one of their childhood experiences that they remember best.

Roland Bell, a former Snyderite who now lives in Fort Worth, says we should be more considerate of our automobiles.

"In our traveling to the store the other day, the car developed a knock and then a miss," says Bell. "So we went straightway to the car repair shop close by and were informed that a ring and valve job was in order.

"Several days later we had to dig deeply to buy back our car. After paying the owner, I asked for the papers on the place, since I had made such a substantial down payment. His reply was, 'just get behind the counter and it's yours.'

"Well, I'd been led into such deals before, so I left before he made me do it.

"On our way home, the wife averred that it is amazing how valuable a possession we have in the car and how badly we and others seem to be treating them. Cars are almost as valuable as life itself. We provide considerable amenities for ourselves, and our poor cars are placed here and there indiscriminately, treated badly, made to look untidy. Put me to thinking that we should at least provide the car with a bathroom that could be for the comfort of the car itself since it is such an attachment to our daily lives.

Everyone is always thinking up things to do around the house, upgrading for future sale enhancement and all, and we have decided on bathroom accommodations for our precious car to be the next project we shall do...and raise the price sufficiently to have a realistic return of some 23 to 28 percent. Or, playing futures, say some 31 to 34 percent."

Ask Us

Q.—Why were the voter registration cards mailed for 20 cents each when they could have gone for 13 cents each and saved $612.50 for 8,750 cards?

A.—The full 20 cents is required for the voter registration cards because those that are not deliverable must be returned, says Dan Foreman, officer in charge of the Snyder Post Office. Cards may be mailed for 13 cents, but they would not be returned at that price. Voter cards cannot be forwarded, and the county clerk is required by law to put the names on returned cards on a "purge" list. Therefore, the clerk must be certain that those not delivered be returned to the office, and that costs 20 cents each.

Pressure control is complex

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have been taking medicine for six years from the same doctor for high blood pressure. I'm worried about strokes. The top is always around 170 to 190 and the bottom always stays low, between 70 and 82. Why can't my doctor give me some medication to bring the top pressure down? He does not seem concerned because I feel so good. I don't realize the top is that high until I have it taken. I am a female, 74 years old and I weigh 125 pounds. I'm 5-feet-2. I work hard.

DEAR READER — You might be better off with your present pressure. That sounds strange since it is quite true that your upper reading is too high. We find that in people who are in your age group that lowering the pressure too much causes other problems for some.

Your very good bottom reading of 70 to 82 suggests one of two causes for your high blood pressure. You may have an increased amount of blood pumped out by your heart, particularly when you are excited, which will raise the top reading a lot just as vigorous exercise does in an athlete.

The other possibility is that you may have some stiffening of your aorta, your large artery. As one loses elasticity with age one gets readings like yours. You can't decrease the hardening of the aorta with medicines and if you lower the pressure to accommodate for it you might not have enough blood flow to vital organs.

The control of blood pressure and what to do about it is fairly complex and has to be individualized. I am sending you The Health Letter number 15-8, Your Vital Blood Pressure, to give you more information about it. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

You should be glad you feel so well. High blood pressure usually does not cause symptoms unless you have complications. But the best additional aid you may get to lower your pressure is to lose a little weight. I don't think you are too heavy but in the presence of any high blood pressure it is one of the safest and usually the best thing you can do. Don't try to do it on a crash program or at the expense of a good balanced diet.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 74, 5-feet-2 and weigh 118 pounds. According to the charts that is normal for me. But I have a roll of fat around my abdomen and loose water and fat in my upper arms. I am in a retirement home and the diet here is not well balanced. We get too many carbohydrates and insufficient protein. I am careful not to eat all of it and I exercise with the TV program each morning but I can't get rid of the roll. Can I get this roll of fat removed by a plastic surgeon?

DEAR READER — You could but I don't think that is a good idea. You are not that overweight. Remember that the medical reason for eliminating fat deposits is to lower cholesterol or blood pressure or for some other good medical indication. Unless you have such an indication the fat is not harmful to you. And let's face it, at your age you may have an illness that keeps you from eating well for a short time. In that case those stored calories, which is what body fat is, may be very handy for your health. A little extra fat may cushion you and help prevent bed sores if you ever have to stay in bed, too.

Premier Wins Presidency

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — With a majority in the electoral college assured, Premier Mauno Koivisto claimed Finland's presidency today, and his seven opponents conceded defeat.

Koivisto, the favorite in pre-election opinion polls and the acting chief of state since President Urho Kekkonen resigned three months ago, will be sworn in Jan. 27, a day after the electoral college meets to elect him. He will be Finland's first socialist president.

Returns from 91 percent of the vote in the election Sunday and Monday gave Koivisto's Social Democrats 43.3 percent of the popular vote and 146 of the 301 seats in the electoral college, only five short of a majority.

The British government proclaimed a protectorate over Egypt in 1914.

After years of being married to a man who sits around all day Sunday and watches animal documentaries, I have gotten used to people giving animals human emotions.

I've heard Marlin Perkins tell when an alligator is "bored," William Conrad describe an elephant plowing through an entire village as "playful" and Lorene Greene diagnose a penguin who won't go into the water as "crabby and sluggish."

I don't know how they do it. I'm probably the only person in the world who can't tell when a dog is smiling. I answered the phone once wearing only a hair dryer and I thought I heard a giggle, but I couldn't be sure.

That's why I was interested to read a story about dogs whose masters were into running. You see 'em all over the place...joggers flapping along five, ten miles a day and beside them a ball of fur on a leash panting to keep up.

How do they know dogs enjoy running? Isn't it possible some dogs are born who don't like to chase cars, return sticks or bite mailmen? Maybe they just didn't know how to tell you.

Ironically, vets say dogs develop the same problems as runners: sore feet, shin splints, heat prostration, lacerated foot pads, arthritic hip conditions and heart problems. They even suffer from attacks from other dogs. Besides that, dogs don't sweat like people. (Did you ever see a deodorant for dogs?)

I watched a marathon once at San Diego where a runner came in with his dog on the leash. Both had gone over 26 miles of a grueling course. Both had hit the wall. Both had drawn from their reserves for every bit of energy they possessed to keep their bodies moving.

The one in the shorts with two legs got a T-shirt and a can of beer. The one in the fur coat with four legs wandered around confused with a tree wish.

There must be a way for non-running dogs to let you know if they want to run or not. Luckily, we have a dog that communicates. If you say to him, "C'mon, boy, we're running!" he crawls under the dryer with a Marguerita and looks at you with a disgusted look that says, "I'm not moving until you call a cab."

He could be the smartest dog in the world. Or he could have picked up that trick from me.

Charged With Violations

MIAMI (AP) — Bernard Sansaricq, a gas station owner who masterminded an abortive plot to invade his homeland of Haiti, is free on bond after being charged with violating U.S. neutrality laws.

Sansaricq was released Monday night from a detention camp in Miami on $400,000 bond. Two of his lieutenants were still in custody, as were 22 others ordered held as material witnesses by U.S. Magistrate Herbert Shapiro.

The rag-tag force was returned to Miami Sunday by a Coast Guard cutter after its chartered boat broke down about 50 miles north of Haiti. Sansaricq and his two Canadian lieutenants — Philippe Carre and Milo Goussel — were charged with violating the U.S. Neutrality Act by mounting an invasion from American soil.

Sansaricq said earlier this month that he planned to make Tortuga the capital of his Haitian government-in-exile.

We know what to do with nuclear wastes...

let's get started.

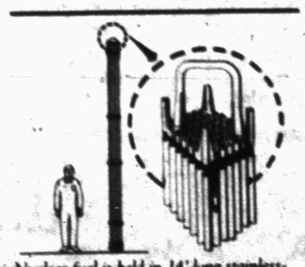

We Americans have always been among the world's foremost inventors and innovators. Scientists in America discovered and proved the principles of nuclear energy, pioneered its commercial use, and developed safe and practical ways to permanently store nuclear wastes. But while other nations are using these methods of storage, we aren't.

In the United States, spent fuel assemblies are stored at reactor sites. This practice is safe, but unnecessary and expensive for permanent storage.

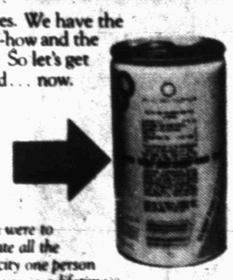

We know how to recycle spent nuclear fuel. The 3% or less that is waste can be mixed with insoluble glass or ceramic for storage. This process is being used commercially in France, but not in the U.S.

At your electric company, we see the use of nuclear fuel as essential — if you are to continue to have the electricity you need at a reasonable cost. And we need permanent storage facilities for wastes from nuclear power plants.

The Federal Government is responsible for selecting the sites and building these facilities. Users will pay for them. But their construction will take time, while spent fuel accumulates. We have the know-how and the need. So let's get started... now.

Nuclear fuel is held in 14'-long stainless-steel fuel-rod assemblies. About 60 of these assemblies must be removed each year from a 1000-megawatt nuclear reactor and stored in racks under water. Reprocessing would separate waste from reusable fuel and significantly reduce required permanent storage space.

If you were to generate all the electricity one person would use in a lifetime using nuclear fuel, the solidified high-level wastes would only half-fill a soft-drink can!

Dear Abby

Daughter Bites Tongue When Father's Mouth Is Full

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My parents are loving, kindhearted people in their 60s, but they have the worst table manners I have ever seen.

Other family members have hinted to them over the years with no success. Now we either exclude them from dinners or make sure we surround them with people who know what to expect.

My husband and I and our two small children drive 300 miles a couple of times a year to visit them. We were there for Thanksgiving dinner, and my father once again filled his mouth so full of food his cheeks were bulging, then he started to talk. Abby, I couldn't understand a word he was saying, so I asked him to please not talk with food in his mouth. He got so angry he refused to speak to me the rest of the visit. When we left there was a lot of tension. It spoiled the whole trip for me.

I feel so bad. I wasn't mean or disrespectful, Abby, I just told him not to talk with his mouth full. Was I wrong to say anything? Should adult children never correct their parents — no matter what? We try to teach our youngsters proper table manners, and parents like mine really make it rough.

HEAVYHEARTED

DEAR HEAVY: Some parents accept criticism gracefully, and some do not. Unfortunately yours do not, so if you want to keep the peace, grit your teeth and hold your tongue.

DEAR ABBY: I just had to write after reading the letter from "Grampa," who mentioned your suggestion for the perfect gift to give older relatives: "Offer to do something for them that they can't do for themselves. For example: Furniture moved, windows and doors repaired, pictures and mirrors hung, trees and bushes planted, etc."

Last Christmas I took your advice and gave my 70-year-old mother, who has enough money to get herself whatever she might (reasonably) want, a gift of "cleaning up" her cluttered house. Well, it's been 12 months and my gift has yet to be redeemed.

Why? It's hard to catch my mother at home long enough to begin the job. Between her two part-time jobs (she counsels recovering alcoholics), her skiing trips to Aspen, her rafting down the Colorado River and her trips to various other places, we've yet to get together. She has to be there. I'd never tackle 25 years of accumulation myself. So what do I do now?

DARLENE IN L.A.

DEAR DARLENE: Thank God for a healthy, active mother and pray that you've inherited some of her energetic genes.

DEAR ABBY: It's too late for this year, but I hope you will remind your readers to have a heart next year and refrain from sending candy, fruitcake, nuts and home-baked goodies to friends they know are trying to watch their calories.

I was doing just great until all these tempting no-nos arrived, then I blew my diet like you wouldn't believe!

Abby, please print this, and don't suggest we use a little willpower. If we had willpower, we wouldn't be in the shape we're in.

There are a lot of ways to bid today's hand. Seven is a reasonable contract. All South needs to do to make it is to finesse the winning way for the queen of clubs. Also, if North holds the queen of clubs instead of the queen of hearts, there are no finesses needed.

Many players would have bid seven with the South hand after North showed two aces, but this South settled for six.

A finesser plays the queen of hearts at trick one. It loses to East's king. A red card comes back and sometime later South must go after clubs. A good guess as to which way to finesse and he is home with his slam. A bad guess and the slam has disappeared into that place from which no traveler returns.

A player who knows about end plays refuses to take the heart finesse. He rises with dummy's ace of hearts, leads a trump to his ace, cashes the ace of diamonds, leads a trump to dummy and ruffs the last diamond.

Now he leads a heart. It doesn't matter where the king is. Whoever wins the trick must either lead a club to take declarer's finesse for him or lead a red card for declarer to ruff in dummy and discard a club from his hand.

Diet facts & fallacies
These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER
There has been a tremendous amount of interest in nutrition during the past few years. People are recognizing that they literally are what they eat. Also, they realize that in order to be healthy they must eat foods that give the body the correct type of fuel. Too often people eat easy to prepare, convenience foods, meal-in-one type foods or foods that smell and taste good, giving little thought to foods that are necessary for good health. To feel full after a meal is not enough. Our body needs a certain type of fuel to burn just as our car does. Fruits, cooked vegetables and raw vegetables, some oils are needed each day to give your body the fuel necessary to make sure that the body runs like the complex machine that it is. A person wouldn't think of feeding their car water in the gas tank. The car would quit working. In many cases this is just what has happened when we become ill. Little or no thought has been given to what kind of food we have fed our body over the year's time.

For Breast Cancer Victims...

Woman Runs Program In Japan

By DEBORAH SMITH
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Takako Watt, the Japanese wife of a British businessman and mother of two, believes she would be dead today had she followed Japanese practice and taken her first doctor's advice.

He told her to "wait and see" about the lump she discovered in her breast. She sought a second opinion — a rare initiative in a country where doctors are seldom questioned.

The second physician said he was 90 percent certain the tumor was benign, but Mrs. Watt requested a biopsy "to be 100 percent sure."

Twenty minutes after the biopsy, she was told she had cancer. Her breast was removed immediately. That was almost five years ago.

The experience and her frustration at finding no one who could answer her questions led her to found Akebono-kai (Dawn) for breast cancer victims, patterned after the Reach for Recovery program of the American Cancer Society.

"I thought I needed one person, not necessarily a doctor, but someone who'd had the same experience," she said. Her doctors were unprepared to deal with her fears and depression, because they had never been asked. Japanese — taught by tradition to endure — consider it a virtue to control their emotions, she said. However, she found others who shared her anxiety, even years after surgery.

Akebono-kai has grown to 1,400 members (including two men) since it was founded in October 1978. Because of a lack of office space and official funding, she continues to run the organization from her living room.

"It became my whole life," she said, adding that her husband, Andrew, and 11-year-old daughter and 8-year-old son have supported her.

Health and Welfare Ministry statistics show breast cancer is increasing in Japan, although it is less common than in many other countries. In 1980, 4,140 women and 44 men died from breast cancer, up 262 cases. Between 1970 and 1978 the number of cases per 100,000 population rose from 4.7 to 6.5.

The first U.S. Congress convened in New York City in 1789.

Elrod Named To 'Star' Team

Toni Elrod, two-year All-State Tournament spiker from Snyder High School, has been chosen to play in the Texas High School Girls Coaches Association Volleyball All-Star game.

Elrod, daughter of Coach Joyce Elrod, was a key force in Snyder's back-to-back Class AAAA state volleyball championships. She was honorable mention all-district and selected all-region as a junior and made first-team all-district as a senior.

The annual All-Star Game will be held July 9 at the University of Houston in conjunction with the THSGCA clinic. Coaches for the game will be announced at a later date.

Teammate Kathy Northcott will be an alternate for the All-Star Game. Northcott was all-district and all-region in 1980 and all-district in 1981. All-region teams were not named in 1981.

Northcott, a three-year letterman, received enough points to make the all-star team, but due to rules which state that only one player can represent any particular school, Northcott will take an alternate role because Elrod received more. The girls are rated on a 0-10 scale with THSGCA coaches doing the scoring.

Elrod and Northcott were both team captains for the 1981 team.

The rest of the West Texas All-Star team includes Camille Badgett of Bronte, Laura Neugebauer of San Antonio Jefferson, Vanessa Shows of San Antonio Madison, Jeanne Bryant of San Angelo Central, Suzanne Derrick of Arlington Bowie, Patricia Plumb of San Antonio Churchill, Vicky Lewis of Amarillo Tascosa, Helen Washington of Monahans, Irene McKibben of Plains, Diana Sharp of Richardson Pearce and Christine Guzman of San Antonio Harlandale.

Westerners Nipped By Plainsmen

BORGER — Western Texas College's Westerners couldn't come up with the big play in the final moments and dropped a close one to Frank Phillips College here yesterday, 75-70.

The loss leaves the Westerners at 10-10 on the season and 2-5 in WJCAC competition. Midland comes to Scurry County Coliseum in Snyder at 8 p.m. Thursday for WTC's next outing.

"We just can't seem to make the plays when we have to have them to win," said Coach Larry Dunaway, whose team was within one point three different times late in the ballgame.

"We missed a short jumper; we missed a one-and-one (bonus freethrow) and we had a crucial turnover," he noted. "But the thing that probably broke our back was we had back-to-back three on one breaks when we were three points down and we didn't score either time. In fact, we fouled on the rebound on one of them."

Dunaway saw some good things, however.

"I think Derrick (Grow) played his best game of the year and Jerrold (Whitmore) had one of his best offensive games. You can always find some bright spots, but we just can't put it together all at once out there. It's an exercise in frustration," Dunaway added. "The kids play hard but we just can't seem to do the right thing at the right time."

Whitmore scored 19 points to lead the Westerners. Darren Lee added 17 points and Grow added 16.

Alan Lovely had 22 for the hosting Plainsmen, while Gerald Wright notched 12, Michael Bishop had 14 and Don Crisman had 10.

Frank Phillips led 41-35 at halftime.

Western hosts Midland on Thursday, then travels to Levelland to meet South Plains on Jan. 25. A date with New Mexico Military Institute in Snyder on Jan. 28 winds up the first round of WJCAC play for the team.

Taking Care Of Business...

Dusters Blitz Frank Phillips, 101-38

BORGER – "We went back...redetermined what had been going on...and decided we're going to take care of business," said Coach Joe Cushing this morning. "We're going to start in the first half taking care of our business."

Western Texas College's Dusters did just that here last night, overpowering Frank Phillips College 28-1 over the first 10 minutes enroute to a 101-38 victory.

The stunning victory leaves WTC at 15-4 for the season and 3-2 in conference play. The Dusters will play non-conference opponent Kilgore in Scurry County Coliseum at 7 p.m. Saturday, and according to Cushing, it might as well be the game of the year.

"We're going to play every game from here on out like it was the national championship game," he said. "We're going to play them one at a time and every one for 40 minutes."

All 15 Dusters scored points and brought down rebounds as Western blew past Frank Phillips. Norma Frazier and Vickie Teal had 11 points each and Shara Fredenburg and Dorcas Perkins added 10 apiece to lead the way. Fredenburg pulled down 9 boards and Teal had 8 as Western set a new Duster record for team rebounds with 64.

"I was real proud of the girls," said Cushing, whose team stayed in Amarillo over the weekend. The Dusters lost to Amarillo 78-74 last Thursday.

"I got them up early the next morning (after the loss) and we worked out for 2½ hours," Cushing added. "And we got a whole bunch of things worked out. A conference loss is never good, but that (the loss to Amarillo) is probably the turning point in our season."

It may have been the ranking, at one time No. 1 in the nation, that pushed the Dusters into the doldrums.

"I think the ratings almost killed us," confirmed Cushing. "We weren't playing with intensity. We were just going through the motions. It was like we expected everybody to just roll over for us."

But Cushing believes the problems are cleared up now, and fans will see a more determined Duster team through the rest of the season.

"We're going to start utilizing our press and start utilizing our depth," the coach stated. "We're going to start taking care of our business in the first half."

Cushing began sending his bench into last night's game even before the half, which WTC took 47-16. The Dusters shot 55 percent from the field and 65 from the line to sew up the victory.

Frank Phillips, led by Weathers and Chandler with 9 and 8 points, hit only 16 of 66 from the floor and had 29 rebounds. The hosts suffered through 27 turnovers, including 20 steals, as WTC's thieving press and fastbreak offense swamped them early.

"I was real proud of the girls," added Cushing. "Frank Phillips is not all that strong, but they are not all that weak either. We just put it on them."

Longhorns Blast TCU; Three SWC Tilts Today

by The Associated Press

Texas Christian University coach Jim Killingsworth was impressed and Texas' LaSalle Thompson was wide awake as the Longhorns raced past the Horned Frogs, 105-89 for their 13th straight victory.

The Longhorn victory was the only Southwest Conference basketball game scheduled Monday. Three games are scheduled tonight. Texas A&M is at Southern Methodist University, Baylor travels to Arkansas and Rice visits Texas Tech.

Killingsworth said Texas, ranked No. 19, is the best team he has seen this year and noted that he watched top-ranked North Carolina play in a California tournament.

"They played a lot better than North Carolina, and I'll tell you another thing they do better than North Carolina — they can bury you from the outside," Killingsworth said.

The Longhorns front line of LaSalle Thompson, Virdell Howland and Mike Wacker combined for 81 points as Texas compiled its second-highest point total of the season.

"I can't remember when we played a team as good as Texas was tonight," said Killingsworth whose Frogs have played Tulsa, Penn State, Texas A&M and No. 9 Arkansas.

Thompson scored 31 points. Texas coach Abe Lemons credited a pregame pep talk for Thompson's performance.

"We kind of woke him up before the game in the dressing room. All of them were just mulling around. We're not much of a rah-rah team," said Lemons.

The Frogs scored the most points of any Texas opponent this season, but fell to 7-8 overall and 2-3 in the SWC.

Darrell Browder scored 28 for Texas Christian, including 22 in the second half.

Quickness On Andrews' Side As Tigers Battle

Quickness, a key ingredient to any good run-and-gun offense, is Snyder's greatest enemy tonight as Andrews High School takes up the challenge.

Here in Snyder, Coach Ken Housden's Felines will host the first-round champion Lady Mustangs at 8 o'clock.

The boys, under the direction of Coach Larry Scott, will play the visiting role at Andrews; also at 8. Both games will be preceded by junior varsity contests at 6:15.

Both Housden and Scott referred to their opponents' quickness in preparing for the contests; important ones in the District 2-AAAA standings.

"Andrews is real quick," confirmed Housden of an Andrews club which comes into SHS Gymnasium with an 8-0 first-half record. "They press full court, usually man-to-man the whole way. They've got two good outside shooters...and sizewise they are taller than us by quite a bit."

"They fastbreak as much as possible," said Coach Scott of Andrews' No. 4 ranked boys team. "Anytime one of our shots goes up they're going to send somebody breaking to the basket. I think they average 80 points a game," he said, "and I think 67 was the highest we scored all year."

Due to previous play and rankings, Andrews will be favored in both varsity contests. But Snyder coaches hope to be able to pull off the upsets that would keep them in good shape in the district standings.

"We have to be able to be more consistant with their press," said Housden, whose Felines dropped a three-point halftime lead before falling to Andrews 68-51 in the first round of play. "Last time we played it was not so much what they did, but what we did that made the difference in the game."

Coach Housden's Felines may have enough quickness to hold off the Andrews press, but Scott's Tigers will have to use some other form of strategy to derail the Mustangs.

"When they send somebody back we're going to have to send somebody back with them," said Scott, who feels stopping Andrews' fast break is a must for the Tigers. "I'm sure they'll try to run-and-gun and we're going to try to slow it down and actually make them work for their points."

Scott realizes the Mustangs will "run a full court man, a full court zone, a half court man, a half court zone, a 1-3-1 zone on a half court..." but he believes his team can take the pressure.

"We've played against the press a lot of times this year and our kids know how to handle it...Our offense is more disciplined and I think it will be easier for us to slow them down than to get us to run-and-gun," he added.

SMU Hires Collins From Southern Miss

DALLAS (AP) - Bobby Collins, the new football coach at Southern Methodist, says he may get the Mustangs' two returning 1,000-yard gainers in the backfield at the same time.

"I'll have to see both Eric Dickerson and Craig James on the field, but it's in the back of my mind I might want both of 'em in there," said Collins. "We used two tailbacks in our offense. If you are going to run the I, you need two tailbacks."

Dickerson and James alternated at the tailback position in 1981. Dickerson was in The AP second team backfield.

The 48-year-old Collins was named the 13th head coach at SMU Monday, replacing Ron Meyer who resigned to go to the New England Patriots of the National Football League. Collins got a five-year contract for an estimated $100,000 a year.

Collins built independent Southern Mississippi into a national power in seven years, compiling a 48-30-2 record.

The Golden Eagles, operating out of the I Formation like Meyer's Mustangs, were 9-2-1 last year, including a 19-17 loss to Missouri in the Tangerine Bowl.

Asked to describe his offensive philsophy, Collins said "it's run-oriented."

Quarterback Reggie Collier of Southern Miss, a third team AP All-America, gained over 1,000 yards rushing and passing out of the I Formation.

Collins said he realized it was important in Dallas to "put on a good show that will attract people to the games" because of the presence of the professional Dallas Cowboys.

Collins, who played under Darrell Royal at Mississippi State, said "I saw SMU play twice on the films last year. There is a lot of talent on this team."

He added "I know enough about the Southwest Conference to have a great respect for it. This is a tremendous challenge for me."

Sherrill Ponders Aggie Package

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Texas A&M hopes it has made Jackie Sherrill an offer he can't refuse, and a decision is expected soon from the University of Pittsburgh football coach.

Sherrill toured the A&M campus Monday amid published reports he may be seeking a 10-year, $3-million contract to become the Aggies' athletic director and football coach.

Lane Stephenson, an A&M spokesman, confirmed that Sherrill had discussed the vacant athletic director's job with university officials. No one gave specifics about a contract offer.

Sherrill returned to Pittsburgh to discuss his future with his family and Pittsburgh officials after touring the campus and meeting with some members of the school's board of regents, Stephenson said.

Because Sherrill is currently in the middle of his recruiting season at Pitt, he is expected to make a decision within days.

Freshman Top Sweetwater

Snyder freshman Gold boys team defeated Sweetwater White here last night, 39-26.

Snyder jumped to a 10-7 lead and held a 19-9 advantage at halftime.

Charles Bollinger led the scoring with 14 points. Willie Greathouse had 7 and Kyle Freeman added 6.

Snyder will host Sweetwater White here on Jan. 25. A previously scheduled game with Madison has been cancelled.

SOCIAL STUDIES PROJECT—These fifth grade students at the Hermleigh Elementary School recently completed their studies of German people in America. As part of their project, the students made a crockpot of saurkraut to demonstrate typical German foods. The students have also studied the contributions of French, English, Spanish and other peoples to the American culture. They are preparing representative foods from each group as part of their studies. (SDN Staff Photo)

High School Students Act Now For SS Benefits

By The Associated Press

Some Texas high school students have doubled their academic load, given up traditional senior-class projects and enrolled in college a year early to [illegible] a Reagan administration budget-cutting move that will end Social Security survivor benefits for students over age 18.

"I feel like I'm being cheated out of my senior year," said Kim Austin, 17, a senior at Richardson's Lake Highlands High School.

Miss Austin, whose stepfather was stabbed to death by robbers 13 months ago, is one of about 10,000 high school seniors in Texas officials say could lose their benefits if they are not enrolled in college full time by May 1.

Congress set the deadline as part of the admistration budget-cutting move that Social Security Adminstration spokesman John B Trollinger in Baltimore said would save $10 billion during the next five years.

"It certainly was the intent of Congress to eliminate this program," Trollinger said. "We had to start somewhere."

The result is that Miss Austin and many other Texas high school seniors counting on the checks that average $260 a month are enrolling in college early. Some are quitting high school, others are trying to attend both high school and college at once.

"The chances are that there are about 10,000 high school seniors who will lose their benefits unless they get into college by May 1," said John Mallas, vice president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Starting Monday, Miss Austin will spend four hours each morning on high school reading, drama, Western literature and dance and spend four hours each evening at Richland Community College studying American Government, American history, English and theater. She said she will have to quit working on the senior prom.

"I'm pretty nervous," she said. "But I'm just going to try as hard as I can."

Her mother, Barbara Braswell said the Social Security checks are "going to be a big part of the money" Miss Austin needs to attend college.

Although there are some exceptions, state colleges require a high school diploma or equivalency for admission. Richland and some other community colleges do not.

Richland has enrolled about 30 high school seniors who are trying to keep their benefits, said academic officer Ruth Shaw. Late registration could add 100 more, said Chancellor R. Jan LeCroy.

Work Session Is Scheduled

The Snyder City Council has scheduled a work session for noon Wednesday at K-Bob's Steak House.

City Manager John Gayle said the session had been called to study some reports by consultants on plans for developing Line Park and to discuss personnel levels.

Burglary Suspect Is In Custody

Local law officers have arrested one suspect in the Monday morning burglary of the Anderson Davis Jr. residence.

Charges of burglary of a habitation against the 23 year old black male suspect are expected to be filed with the district attorney Tuesday afternoon.

Snyder police officers are also investigating two other theft reports filed Monday.

Around 8 a.m. Monday, Nettie Brooks of the Three D Motel told police that someone had taken an undetermined amount of cash from a dresser drawer in her room.

The other theft was reported around 6:15 p.m. Monday. Louis Timora of 1904 Coleman Avenue told local police that someone had taken a pair of coveralls valued at $75 from the front porch of his residence.

Investigation into both of these incidents is continuing.

In other routine action, police officers arrested three subjects on charges of public intoxication and investigated two minor traffic mishaps Monday evening.

The first mishap occurred in the 1900 block of 26th St. around 3:50 p.m. Involved in the accident were a 1978 GMC pickup driven by Wanda York of 1212 18th St. and a 1978 Ford driven by Delia Florez Hernandez of 2002 Avenue O.

Only minor damages were reported to both vehicles in the mishap.

The 1800 block of 26th St. was the scene of a minor hit and run mishap around 7:30 p.m. Monday. In this accident, a 1978 Pontiac driven by Ida M. Walker of 3105 Hill Avenue sustained minor damage when it was struck by an unidentified vehicle which fled the scene.

Hermleigh Fire Put Out

Units of the Snyder fire Department were dispatched to Hermleigh around 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Snyder firemen assisted units of the Hermleigh Volunteer Fire Department in extinguishing a fire in a cottonseed trailer owned by John R. Stockton.

OBITUARIES

Jeff White

Graveside services for Jeff W. White, 66, who died this morning at Snyder Oaks Care Center, will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Highland Cemetery in Stanford, Tex. with Rev. David Robertson, pastor of the First Unied Methodist Church in Snyder, officiating.

Mr. White was born Aug. 10, 1915 in Merkle, Tex. He was a salesman.

Survivors include two daughters, Sue Glass of Lubbock and Kay Spoonts of Houston; one brother, Ned White of Snyder; and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Laura B. Smith, 87, who lived at 2607 Ave. W, died at 2:14 a. m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Bob Rhodes, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will follow in the Ira Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale.

She was married on Nov. 27, 1920, in Roby to Lewis J. Smith. He preceded her in death on Feb. 29, 1944.

Surviving are a daughter, Catherine Allen of Snyder; a son, Kenneth Smith of Snyder; eight grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandson.

Meeting Set Tonight

The AARP will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Senior Center. A short program will follow. Women are asked to bring sandwiches and cookies. Anyone 55 or older is invited to attend.

Edgar Allan Poe, the poet and short-story writer, died in Baltimore in 1849.

Air Crash Bravery... Recounts Heroic Tale

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survivor of the Air Florida plane crash said today he and another man, who was strapped in his seat and eventually drowned, tried to pass a life ring to a woman who was clinging to the tail section of the Boeing 737 with them.

The survivor, Joseph Stiley, 42, of Alexandria, Va., said he believed the other man was Ted Smolen, 48, of Gaithersburg, Md.

The woman was Priscilla Tirado, 22, of College Park, Md., who survived the crash but lost her husband, Jose, and their 2-month-old son, Jason.

Stiley, who has two broken legs, spoke from a wheelchair at a news conference in the lobby of the National Hospital for Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation.

"I think that man and I as a coordinated effort were trying to get that thing to that woman there because clearly she was the one in the worst shape, and she was the one who should get out first as far as I was concerned," Stiley said. "She was holding on to me. She wasn't holding on to much of anything else."

Other rescue accounts have spoken of an unidentified man who repeatedly passed a life ring to others and who gave up his own life. Stiley, however, said he did not see such repeated acts of heroism. He said at one point he asked the man to pass him a yellow lifejacket and the man said he could not because he was strapped in:

Hoyt Furniture's Appliance Manager Is Planning Changes

Hoyt Furniture Showroom has a new manager in the appliance center and carpet department. Jerry Richardson, who has 15 years experience in the appliance field, knows his appliances and is always willing to help the customer.

Jerry is making some changes in the appliance center to give the customer even greater selection than is already available. New merchandise is coming and the regular stock of appliances and carpet are being rearranged to make room for the new stock.

The appliance center at Hoyt Furniture Showroom will be a new Tappan and Amana dealer. Thursday or Friday this week, the new merchandise should be in including refrigerators, microwaves, and refrigerated air conditioners all by Amana.

Along with the Whirlpool refrigerators, cookstoves, washers and dryers, that the appliance center usually carries, Speed Queen will be a new addition.

Many people who prefer the Speed Queen will now be able to find a good selection of their stock at the center.

To join the selection of Eureka and Singer vacuum cleaners, Panasonic and Hoover vacuums will be here in the near future. Jerry will also carry belts, bags and vacuum cleaner accessories. Also, one of the best sewing machines made is Singer, which Jerry has ordered. Sewing machine and vacuum cleaner repair work can aso be done in the store now, so you don't have to wait while someone sends your machine off to be repaired.

Philco televisions are also a new item at the appliance center. They will carry electrophonic and pilot models.

Jerry also reminds us that all of the carpet in the carpet department is now marked $2-$4 a yard off of regular price. All of the appliances are also at sale prices now! The savings are great at Hoyt Furniture Showroom now, so you should go by and see them while the sale is on.

Anytime you need furniture, appliances, or carpet, the friendly staff at Hoyt Furniture Showroom is always striving to give you more selection, service and quality merchandise. Hoyt Dillard, owner of the store, Jerry Richardson, the manager of the carpet and appliance centers, along with Steve Dillard, and Renda Derington in sales are pleased to be of service to you in any way possible. James Powell and Johnny Hermesillo are glad to deliver your furniture or appliances for you. Johnny does repairs also. Delores Rios Jr. will be glad to be of service to you by installing your carpet.

Go by and see the appliances and carpet in the appliance center of Hoyt Furniture Showroom at 2112 25th St., and while you're there, check the furniture bargains in the store. If you have any questions about the new merchandise in the appliance center, give Jerry Richardson a call at 573-2661 and ask him about the changes that are happening in the appliance center.
