President And Governors Of Drouth Stricken States Plan Relief Program

FAMILIES LEFT DESTITUTE TO BE GIVEN AID

Prevention of Unnecessary Livestock Sacrifices Also Urged

STATES BEAR LOAD

Providential Rains Bring Genuine Relief To Large Region

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (UP)—Formulation of a national program for drouth relief was announced by President Hoover tonight after a conference of governors from stricken states.

The objects will be, first, to assist families over the winter in cases where they are deprived of support through loss of crops; second, to prevent unnecessary sacrifice of livestock; and third, to protect health.

Four-Fold Program

A four-fold program for achieving these results was agreed upon as follows:

1.—Placing of loans privately or where necessary with assistance of state or national agencies.

2.—Red Cross assistance.

3.—Increasing employment.

4.—Reduction of railway rates for food, feed and livestock to the distressed districts.

The president emphasized, however, that the burden of relief rests primarily on the states and counties, supplemented by what help the federal government can give.

Rains Reported

White House efforts appear to have coincided with providential rains reported by the U. S. weather bureau in many drouth districts. In many places rainfall of as much as one inch soaked the wilted feeds. This gave hope that some of the anticipated crop losses might be salvaged, though department of agriculture experts have estimated roughly that paper losses are likely to exceed three-quarters of a billion dollars figured on present market prices.

The real extent of the damage could not be determined, the president announced, but at least 250 counties were "most acutely affected," and must be given some degree of relief.

"It is the view of the conference that the burden of effective organization to meet the situation over

Haitian Cabinet Quits, Blaming U. S. Envoys

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Aug. 14. (UP)—The cabinet resigned today, giving as its reason the insistence of the American legation on the appointment of its nominee as director of the technical service of agriculture.

The legation insisted on the appointment of Carl Colvin, director of education and assistant director of the agricultural service, as successor to George Fouche Freeman, director general of the technical service of agriculture.

AIR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (US)—Upon invitation of the French government, the United States will participate in the first international congress of aerial safety at Paris next December, the state department announced today.

107 DEGREES HERE

Wichita Falls residents sweltered and squirmed through another day of record heat Thursday, the temperature here ascending to 107 for the day's maximum and matching the mark set Wednesday. The temperature Thursday made the fifth time this season that the mercury has climbed to 107 degrees.

Low barometer readings of late Wednesday failed to bring any relief from the heat Thursday, so the barometer climbed back up to normal. The lowest temperature for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Thursday was 83 degrees.

'Obie' And 'Red' Jest In Notes

St. Louis Endurancers In High Spirits Over Victory

LAMBERT-ST. LOUIS FIELD, St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 14. (UP)—Two weary young aviators pushed the world's endurance flight record close to the 600-hour mark tonight, keeping up their courage the while with wisecracks and about how little they were suffering.

"We won't be down till frost," Forrest "Obie" O'Brine, an Irishman from Iowa, wrote on a message, the penmanship of which showed signs of physical strain, "and we feel as good as the day we started."

"Obie" and Dale "Red" Jackson, a slightly more serious minded former delivery boy of Faribault, Minn., exceeded the former world's record by a full day at 8:43 a. m. today. For this 24 hours and any more they remain aloft until 70 hours, they receive $100 an hour from an oil company, their only pay so far for the flight.

They completed their 590th hour in the air at 9:11 p. m. Thursday.

"What is the biggest thing in your minds now, outside the record," the United Press asked the fliers in a later message.

"A real bath in a bathtub. A lot of honest-to-goodness soap, and a big turkish towel," was the answer.

BILLINGS ASKS FULL PARDON

Supreme Court Session Held in Prison

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Aug. 14. (UP)—Insisting that a parole is not desired because "paroles are for the guilty," Warren K. Billings asked the California supreme court tonight for a pardon from Folsom prison, where he has spent 14 years.

Occupying a huge chair in one end of the administration building, Billings answered the questions of Associate Justice John W. Preston without hesitation.

He said he was not connected in any way with the San Francisco Preparedness day bombing, July 22, 1916, of which he and Thomas J. Mooney were convicted.

"Do you want to get out of prison?" Justice Preston asked early in the hearing.

"I certainly do," Billings replied.

"Then answer one question," Preston demanded. "Why have you never appled for a parole?"

"Parole is for the benefit of those who are guilty of crime and are sufficiently repentant to be released," Billings explained. "Not being guilty, I felt that my case did not call for a parole."

Billings also disclosed that he has placed his own case as being secondary to that of Mooney, now serving a life sentence for the bombing.

Justice Preston inquired in detail why Billings had not applied for a pardon until this year.

The slender and youthful appearing convict explained that Mooney's case had been pending for years

Naval Treaty Brings Cut in Recruiting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (US) — Navy recruiting will be cut in half for three months, due to decommissioning of the battleships Florida, Utah, and Wyoming under the London naval treaty, it was learned today.

About 2,400 men will be released when the Utah and Wyoming are put on reserve status and the Florida is scrapped. The navy strength is 84,500 men. About 1,000 new men are admitted per month to offset expiring enlistments. This number will be reduced, temporarily to about 800.

Wealthy Youth Faces Jail for Paris Escapade

PARIS, Aug. 14. (US)—Logan Railey, young American sculptor and scion of a wealthy Louisville, Ky., horsebreeder, who took two friends on a nocturnal tour of the Parisian suburbs in an appropriated fiacre on Tuesday night, today received conditional liberty.

Railey's hearing will be before Judge d'Instructions Maurice Chones on charges of theft and complicity. Chones has a reputation for severity, and it is said by police here that Railey's several escapades, climaxed by the cab ride, may lead to more than a reprimand.

FIVE MURDERS SPREAD GANGS' BLOODY WAR

Three Gunmen Found Dead By Officials Near Twin Cities

MORAN IS BLAMED

Detroit and Chicago Also Record Killings In New Flareup

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 14. (UP) —Two machine gun gangsters, presumably from Chicago, shot and killed Joe Giovingo, 32-year-old Italian Rockford racketeer tonight, as he sat in an automobile with three companions.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (US) — Gangland had spread its deadly warfare over the Middle West today.

Five victims were dead in the sudden flare-up in three widely separated localities.

Attempts of George (Bugs) Moran, arch-enemy of Al Capone, to "muscle in" on underworld rackets in St. Paul and Minneapolis were believed responsible for the shooting which left two men dead and another dying on a highway a few miles from the center of the former city.

Lover Sees Shooting

Another victim, whose allegiance with the Moran-Aiello gang evidently cost him his life as an outcome of the Jake Lingle and Jack Zuta killings, was Danny Vallo, Vallo, a former Genna gangster, then a henchman of Capone and finally a Moran gunman, was shot down in Chicago in the presence of his sweetheart after he had been "put on the spot" by a series of telephone calls.

In Detroit, gangsters cut the fifteenth notch in their guns in recent weeks by slaying Cicero Mangiapani. His assassin, who was riding with Mangiapani in an automobile, shot him five times and escaped.

Moran Men Blamed

The triple slaying near St. Paul is believed to have been the work of gunmen allied with "Bugs" Moran in his new racketeering ventures in the Twin cities and in nearby summer resorts. Moran, driven out of Chicago by Capone had established himself, authorities said, on White Bear Lake, Minn. The bodies of the two men and the third man dying were found two miles south of Wildwood amusement park which is on the lake. They were identified as:

Sam Stein, a Kansas City gunman sought for more than two years on murder and bank robbery charges.

Frank Coleman, chauffeur and bodyguard for Solly Weisman, Kansas City gambler and former Chicagoan.

"Butch" Myers, St. Paul racketeer and gunman.

Official Finds Bodies

Gen. W. F. Rhinow, head of the Minnesota State Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, found the bodies late last night while he was on a quiet sortie about Ramsey county, Minn., expecting to disprove statements appearing in Chicago and Twin City newspapers that Chicago and other gangsters were establishing themselves there to go into racketeering on a large scale.

Sheriff George H. Moeller of Ramsey county was so indignant that he wrote Chief Investigator Patrick Roche of Chicago calling for a repudiation of the statement which was credited to Roche. The letter arrived at about the same time the news came of the three killings there.

The slaying of Danny Vallo in Chicago was linked with the Zuta murder when it was learned today that he had been staying within a few miles of Delafield, Wis., where Zuta met his death and was there before and after the murder.

Chain Store Probe Increased in Scope

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (US)—With its staff almost doubled, the federal trade commission has increased the scope of its investigation of the country's chain store business, it was announced today.

Reports already have been received from 1,163 systems operating 65,367 stores. Of the 65-367 stores, 42,751 are groceries.

Youth Acquitted Of Killing Young Bride

Soft Water Saving City $10,000 Per Month In Soap Bills, Says Expert

Dr. Douglass Shows How Economies Here Would Pay For Three New Water Plants

Drawing Unexpected Dividends

By DR. A. H. DOUGLASS
Superintendent of the City Water Department

One of the most common arguments in favor of soft water for municipal use is the saving the citizenship experiences on its soap bill.

Since the early summer rains have reduced the hardness of our supply to approximately six grains per gallon, thus giving us a quality of water which can be expected at all times when the contemplated major improvements are eventually made, it might be interesting to note what this improved quality of water is meaning to the city on soap saving right now.

Three months ago our water carried a hardness of over 20 grains per gallon and it required over three bars of average sized laundry soap to reduce 100 gallons of that water to a desirable softness. With our present quality of water, one bar of soap will soften 100 gallons of water.

In the average household there is used at least, 500 gallons of water per month for kitchen and laundry purposes and the saving effected in soap in this instance is roughly 10 bars per month. For lavatory and bath purposes, the average household will use over 1,000 gallons of water per month and the soap used is of a more expensive quality.

To be sure that I will not exaggerate the actual condition, I will assume that the total saving in soap to the average household for one month is one dollar. The many machine shops, hotels, office buildings, and other places of business where soap is used in large quantities would no doubt bring the figures for soap used, much higher, but I will take the one dollar per month estimate for each one of the 10,000 water connections. This makes a monthly saving in soap to this city of $10,000 which in a year would amount to the sizeable sum of $120,000.

In connection with the life of laundried fabrics it is a well known fact that hard water greatly reduces the life of the garment. The chemicals in the water deteriorates the fiber in the cloth. Water of 20 grains of hardness reduces the life of the laundried garment approximately one half.

Assuming that the investment of the people of this city in washable fabrics is only $1,000,000 and that the life of the garments under favorable conditions will be an average of five years, then the replacement cost would be $200,000 per year If hard water reduces the life to two and one-half years, then the annual replacement cost is $400,000. The $200,000 increase should be directly chargeable to hard water.

The above estimated saving would pay the interest on three times as much bonds as this city has ever contemplated for improving the water system, but since it is a saving in small items to each individual it is not fully appreciated. It may be that when our water returns to its former hardness sometime this fall or winter, that the value of soft water will have made a lasting impression.

R-100 AFTER NEW RECORD

Writer Aboard Dirigible Describes Flight

By E. W. GRANGE
Correspondent for the Associated Press, and Reuters, London

ON BOARD THE AIRSHIP R-100, Aug. 14. (AP)—The British dirigible R-100 tonight was sailing over the tossing Atlantic, homeward bound and giving every promise that she should make a record eastward crossing.

So fast was the speed, between 75 and 90 miles an hour, that those aboard believed it was possible for the largest airship in the world to reach her home port, Cardington, England, by midnight tomorrow, British summer time (5 p. m. E. S. T.)

It was felt that the dirigible, which left its mooring mast at Montreal at 7:26 a. m. C. S. T. yesterday, should reach Cardington by 2:25 a. m. C. S. T. Saturday at least, even if held up by winds.

Those aboard are enjoying the flight greatly. When the breakfast of ham and eggs with coffee was served this morning, quite in hotel fashion, hardly a movement of the ship could be felt.

The passengers expressed amazement at the steadiness of the airliner as it penetrated huge ranges of clouds, and the only thing preventing absolute comfort was the fact no smoking was permitted.

As darkness fell tonight the electric lights were switched and a bell summoned the hungry passengers to dinner. Plates of hot soup awaited them in the dining room and they fell to without urging.

The printed menu cards, the glittering silverware and spotless linen made the scene of Picadilly or Fifth avenue rather than mid-Atlantic.

The experiment of obtaining water from the clouds proved a great success today.

Wichitans Face Charge in Fatal Crash of Autos

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 14. (AP)—L. R. Trout, 35, geologist, and H. B. Ward, 27, barber shop owner, both of Wichita Falls, Texas, were charged with first degree manslaughter today in connection with the death of Pauline Haven, 9, near Comanche last Sunday.

Trout and Ward were released on $6,000 bond each. Ted Eckert, 23, of Wichita Falls, their companion, was freed. Preliminary hearing was set for Sept. 3. The child was killed when a car allegedly driven by Trout sideswiped the Haven car and threw the girl underneath the machine. The fuel tank of the Haven car exploded, throwing flames over the child. She died five hours later. Trout's car was damaged, but neither he nor his companions were hurt.

Churches Urged To 'Humanize Religion'

LAMBETH PALACE, London, Aug. 14. (AP)—A clarion call to "humanize religion," to defend the Christian standard of the family, of marriage and sacredness of sex and to meet squarely and frankly other problems of life, was sounded by the Lambeth conference of Anglician bishops which has just concluded its deliberations here.

Sixty bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States were among the 306 who sat for five weeks under the chairmanship of the archbishop of Canterbury.

Pampa School Teacher and Attorney Jailed on Charge of Counterfeiting

U. S. Agents File Complaints After Investigation; Childress Man Held in Similar Case

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 14. (UP)—Eugene J. Wood, attorney and school teacher of Pampa, and prominent in church circles there, is held in the Potter county jail under $5,000 bond following his arrest and arraignment before a United States commissioner here on charges of counterfeiting coins and raising one dollar bills to five dollar notes.

Wood's arrest followed weeks of investigation by a federal agent who alleged that Wood passed spurious bills in Fort Worth, and Dallas during trips to those cities.

Dr. W. A. Wood, of Waco, father of Eugene, was here today attempting to make bond for his son.

Wood's arrest was the fourth on charges of counterfeiting in this district in less than a week. Others arrested were Leo and Orvil Edison, of Maude, Okla., and Ralph James, of Childress, Texas. All have been charged with raising and passing bank notes.

WARRANTS FOR BOMBERS FILED

Federal and State Charges Are Sworn Out

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Aug. 14. (AP)—Federal and state warrants charging conspiracy to destroy nonunion mine property were sworn out late today against Paul Montgomery and James Malone, aviators, and others in connection with the aerial bombing at Providence, Ky., Monday morning.

The federal warrants charged violation of the action of congress giving the department of commerce authority to regulate air traffic. These, as well as the state warrants, were sworn out before Charles L. Porter, who is both a United States commissioner and a justice of the peace. The state warrants charged the conspiracy was concocted in Illinois.

The warrants were served immediately on Montgomery and Malone who are in jail here. Montgomery, who confessed he piloted the bombing plane, had been held pending extradition to Webster county, Kentucky, while Malone had been held for further investigation after he admitted he had unwittingly acted as a go-between in the bombing plot. He said two men offered three weeks ago to employ him as a pilot but he was unable to accept the job and turned it over to Montgomery, a friend. He declared he did not know the purpose of the flight.

Dallas Candidates File 'Champagne' Expenses

DALLAS, Aug. 14. (UP)—County candidates are being embarrassed by a printer's error when they go to file their campaign expense accounts, it was revealed today.

Instead of reading "campaign expense account," at the top of the printed form, the words "champagne expense account," greets the eye. But the candidates, especially the dry ones, insist the money was spent for nothing wetter than blotters.

SUSPECT HELD

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14. (UP)—Police today arrested a man identified as Ted Lindsey, wanted for bank robbery in Oklahoma.

HARD WATER DAMAGE TOLD

Rotary Club Discusses Losses From Plant Here

Detailed pictures of the damaging effects of hard water prevalent under Wichita Falls' present water system were drawn before members of the Rotary club Thursday noon by Julian Montgomery and other speakers on a program devoted entirely to consideration of the local water problem.

Describing the present plant as broken-down and inadequate, Mr. Montgomery declared that it constitutes a constant menace to health and convenience of citizens here, and that a city must solve its water problem before it can grow normally.

Plumbing Damage

William L. Herblin, plumbing supply jobber, spoke on another phase of the situation not heretofore stressed in public discussion on the matter. Corrosion caused by an excess of salt in the water now supplied consumers in this city constitutes one of the greatest evils, he declared. Much of the salt content, he said comes from the draining of numerous salt-water wells into the upper waters of Holliday creek. Mr. Herblin expressed his belief that salt causes more damage to plumbing than any other one thing, and that installation of an expensive water-softener will not prevent corrosion.

Discussion of the water situation was suspended until next week's meeting. It was indicated that proposed plans for financing improvements in the present plant and equipment will be the principal subject for discussion next Thursday.

Mr. Montgomery, selected several weeks ago by the Rotary club when it first began its study of the water situation to head a serious discus-

COMMISSION TO CUT OIL YIELD TO 750,000

Rail Board to Commence Enforcement of New Rule Aug. 27

CURB LASTS 90 DAYS

Action Is First General Curtailment Under New Pipe Line Law

AUSTIN, Aug. 14. (AP)—Invoking its authority to prevent waste of natural resources, the state railroad commission today ordered a 90-day period of curtailed oil production in Texas, effective Aug. 27. Maximum production allowed during that period will be 750,000 barrels daily compared to approximately 863,000 barrels present daily average.

The commission based its order on the premise that storage of crude oil above ground in the enormous quantities to which oil is held in storage at present led to much waste, and that to decrease supply to equality with demand would eliminate this waste.

Area Schedules

Production schedules for the states by areas follow:

Panhandle 80,000 barrels (counties of Gray, Robinson, Hutchinson, Moore, Potter, Carson and Wheeler.)

North central, 69,000 barrels, (counties of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cooke, Foard, Montague, Wichita and Wilbarger).

West central, 52,000 barrels (counties of Brown, Callahan, Comanche, Coleman, Eastland, Erath, Jack, Palo Pinto, Young, Haskell, Runnels, Shakelford, Stephens and Throckmorton).

West Texas, 27,350 (counties of Crane, Upton, Crockett, Ector, Howard, Glasscock, Jones, Mitchell, Scurry, Winkler, Pecos, Reagan, Ward, Jones and Fisher).

East Texas, 41,850, (counties of Anderson, Cherokee, Navarro, Freestone, Limestone, and Van Zandt).

Southwest, 67,150 (counties of Bexar, Caldwell, Atascosa, Guadalupe, Bastrop, Williamson, Milam, Medina, Liveoak, McMullen, Webb, DuVal, Jim Hogg and Zapata).

HONDO, Texas, Aug. 14. (AP)—Homer Edwards charged with murder of John W. Bradshaw, whose body was found in the Guadalupe river near Waring, April 10, was convicted in the 38th district court here today and his punishment fixed at life in the penitentiary.

The jury retired at 3:30 and the verdict was returned at 6 o'clock.

ASSOCIATION GIVEN STATE CHARTER

Notice of the approval of the charter application of the North Texas Oil and Gas association was contained in Associated Press dispatches from Austin Thursday night. The association was organized several months ago, and has been active since that time in the program of operators in this district.

Purpose of the association is the "study of oil problems and dissemination of information," the dispatch said. Incorporators were listed as P. B. Flynn, Walter K. Campbell and R. L. Underwood. The association has no capital stock.

South Plains Crowd Chokes Street At Lubbock to Hear Ross Sterling

By ROBERT WEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 14. (AP)—Ross S. Sterling addressed the largest and most demonstrative crowd of his West Texas tour here tonight. It was his seventh speech of the day after an automobile journey from Amarillo.

The crowd occupied an entire downtown block street roped off, packed a large balcony on an adjacent hotel and filled many automobiles parked several blocks in every direction and within hearing of radio voice amplifiers. It frequently cheered the speakers, and there were cries of "pour it on" as Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman assailed the Ferguson record, citing case after case.

The candidate so far had traveled through 12 counties of West Texas, speaking only a few miles distant from James E. Ferguson, as both campaigned vigorously, seeking the COLORADO, Texas, Aug. 14. — James E. Ferguson brought the West Texas campaign for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, as far south as the Texas & Pacific railroad tonight with an address here in which he attacked his political enemies and defended his wife's record.

The former governor went by automobile from Floydada to Lubbock, by train from Lubbock to Snyder, and by automobile from Snyder here, but arrived in time to sleep a while and greet old friends before ascending the platform.

This was the farthest south Ferguson planned to go in his West Texas tour. He was still in territory carried by Clint C. Small in the first primary. Mrs. Ferguson, second in Mitchell in the first pri-sion by the club, reviewed briefly Thursday the history of the problem. He has been closely in touch with the situation for five years as a member of the first chamber of commerce water committee and as a city planning expert. He outlined some of the shortcomings of the present water system, and detailed advantages to be realized through its material improvement.

Financial Benefits

"The financial benefits that would accrue would be derived from several sources," Mr. Montgomery said. "We would save from $60,000 to $65,000 each year in insurance premiums.

"We would save $150,000 on soap alone during one year. Investigation has shown that the present hard water is responsible for a depreciation of $150,000 on automobile radiators. In water heaters, wash materials and other miscellaneous items, we would save $200,000 a year.

"Wichita Falls is now spending $90,000 on bottled water each year. It is also estimated that the extra revenue in the water department under soft-water conditions would be around $50,000 a year. It is, therefore, a conservative estimate to say that we would actually be saving $550,000 a year if we had soft water and plenty of pressure.

"It is for you to say whether or not you want to continue to use that broken-down, inadequate water plant with the attendant menace to your health and comfort." Mr. Montgomery concluded. "Before a city can ever grow normally, it must solve its water problem."

Difficulties encountered by industrial plants as a result of hardness of water were mentioned by E. B. Lehrack, who declared that the company which he heads spends as much annually for plumbing repairs and replacement as for water. One $10,000 machine, he detailed, began to break down within 30 days after installation because of rapid corrosion. A second set of interior working parts is now kept on hand, he explained, so that sets may be cleaned on alternate days in an acid solution to prevent corrosion and accumulation of solid matter from the water.

Industrial Damage

Mr. Herblin mentioned replacements of water pipes which had to be made in one of the city's largest apartment houses, and in the courthouse, declaring that these expensive improvements were made necessary by damaging elements in the city water.

Fifteen thousand cars and trucks in this city experience an average depreciation of $10 per year through the effects of the local water upon their radiators, according to George D. Fox, automobile dealer.

Mr. Montgomery stated that adequate improvements to provide soft water and ample pressure could be financed by a 20-cent increase in the tax rate or an increase of 15 per cent in the water rate. Other members of the club declared that other means of financing the proposition without bond issue could be devised. Herbert Voelcker, president, announced that these phases of the problem will be brought up for major consideration at the club's next meeting.

Walter D. Cline, recently elected chairman of the board of directors of the Rotary Boys' club, outlined plans for work to be done in that department during the coming year. Other officers elected at a meeting Thursday morning are Sam Kruger, vice chairman; W. P. Killingsworth, secretary and treasurer; and William B. Ward, director.

mary, had more than half as many votes as Small.

The speaker did not mince words as he levelled his verbal barrage on his wife's opponent, Ross S. Sterling, "Little Dan Moody," and former Governor W. P. "Water Power" hobby. The principal planks of Mrs. Ferguson's platform were explained by Farmer Jim.

He mentioned the proposed old age pension law and advocacy of a law to keep officers from drinking bootleg liquor. The "equity of redemption" plank, opposition to the state highway bond issue and espousal of an elective highway commission.

The speaker said the present highway commission was a "pretty good set of Democrats" when the commissioners went into office, but "they drifted into autocrats." "If you don't believe old Jim," he said, "go down to Austin and see for yourselves."

"Go first to the railroad commission, whose members are elected by the people. The members are glad to see you—they want to know how's your country and how's your business. Then go over to the highway commission.

"Why you have to send in your card by a derned nigger before they will see you."

Ferguson stated his wife was opposed to the practice of routing roads to miss towns, "to favor tourists over taxpayers." He added that he and Mrs. Ferguson always had been fair to West Texas.

vote West Texas counties gave Clint Small in the first primary.

Sterling left Amarillo this morning, ate breakfast at Canyon and spoke on the courthouse lawn. Clyde W. Warwick, publisher of a Canyon newspaper, presided and introduced Sterling, State Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman and Judge R. E. Taylor of Wichita Falls.

The day's journey was crowded. Speaking engagements were carried to Tulia, Plainview, Lockney and Floydada. At the latter place a crowd waited several hours for Sterling to arrive, hearing in the meantime an address by T. T. Hamilton of Matador. When Judge Taylor was discussing the Ferguson pardon record, he was heckled repeatedly by a man who asked, "Why didn't they put Jim in the penitentiary after he was impeached?"

The last speech before reaching here was at the sixth annual West Texas Old Settlers reunion picnic at the Hank Smith Memorial park near Crosbyton.

Roscoe Wilson, chairman of the Lubbock co[illegible] Sterling-for-Governor club, presided at the meeting here tonight. The candidate was introduced by W. H. Bledsoe, Lubbock attorney, former state senator.

Bledsoe, known as the "father of Texas Technological college," predicted Lubbock county would go overwhelmingly for Sterling.

E. L. Klett, who introduced Woodward, declared "West Texas holds the balance of power and whoever is elected governor henceforth will see West Texas gets what it is entitled to."

The crowd filled the downtown block which was roped off, and listeners were in automobiles parked some distance back on surrounding streets within hearing of the voice amplifiers.

Woodward explained that after the first primary he had turned his support from Small to Sterling because of his philanthropies, honesty and support of the Small land validation bill. He predicted Sterling would wholeheartedly support Texas Technological college at Lubbock and "make it the best institution of its kind in the South."

There was much applause when Woodward explained the Sterling plan for placing the burden of highways building on the traffic through funds raised by a gasoline tax instead of a property tax. He asserted it was untrue that "to vote for Sterling would be to vote for a huge bond issue."

"Sterling stands for things which will make the state a better place in which to live," he asserted. "The great issue now confronting the people of Texas is honesty in government and responsible government."

DROUTH RELIEF PLANS DRAWN

Hoover and Governors Map Program

the winter in the acutely affected counties rests primarily upon the counties and the states themselves. Supplemented by such cooperation and assistance as may be found necessary on the part of the federal government," the president said.

Detailed Plans

The following detailed program of procedure was mapped out, the president announced:

Each governor who considers that a situation requiring emergency relief exists within his state shall create a drouth relief committee to take general charge of relief measures within the state.

The state committee to organize county committees where necessary.

The county committees to receive individual applications for relief and recommend the method of relief.

The president to set up a committee to coordinate national relief activities.

Development by state committees in cooperation with federal agencies of provision for credit beyond state resources.

Organization by the Red Cross of its own committees in each drouth county, with a national relief fund of $5,000,000.

Reduction of rates by the railroads.

Dissemination of information by the agriculture department as to the sources of feed supply and localities to which livestock may be shipped.

Creation of state committees in those states with a surplus of feed, to cooperate with committees of states having a surplus of livestock.

State Orders Oil Proration

tentatively, subject to revision at a hearing set for Aug. 25. Principal protestants to proration were from these fields, including virtually all gulf coast producers, the Laredo field in Webb county and the Big Lake field in West Texas.

Proration schedules for the individual fields in these areas will be drawn up by committees of operators in the fields. The state railroad commission will hold hearings to adjust any difficulties in the fields.

At a date to be determined later the committee will hold another hearing to determine whether the proration shall be extended.

Penn Heads Move

The proration order was the direct result of agitation started two months ago by a group of independent operators headed by Robert R. Penn of Fort Worth, who was later appointed chairman of a proration committee of operators, formed at the request of the commission.

Several hearings were held, the last two here, at which the principal discussion was whether the commission had the authority to promulgate such an order.

It had first been planned to make the curtailment order effective under a newly enacted law authorizing the commission to regulate common carriers of oil, but today's order deals with this phase of the question secondarily, the commission confining its conclusions to the effect of over production on conservation of natural resources.

"The legislature has forbidden the production of crude oil in such a manner and under such conditions as to constitute waste," the order said, "and the railroad commission authorized to prevent waste and conserve oil and gas."

"There is not included within the authority of the commission the power to adjust supply to demand, while as in the economic welfare of citizens whose capital is invested in oil, it cannot be the guardian of limit production other than on proper considerations involving the interests of all the people.

The commission drew its conclusions as follows:

"The world now produces more pertoleum than is necessary to meet the demand, and there is now in storage enormous quantities of petroleum. The amount produced is daily adding to the accumulation because of the excess of production over demand.

"Outside of Texas, oil interests and regulatory bodies have taken steps toward conservation. The existing and threatened over production in Texas is the chief menace to balancing the supply with demand, and the pricipal threat that our natural resources will be wasted through continued storage in the crude state.

"Artificial storage causes petroleum to lose the lighter volatile elements and no methods have yet been devised to prevent its constant evaporation, shrinkage and deterioration. The resulting waste is enormous. There is waste also by reason of the fact that the major purchasing companies of Texas, seeking to avoid discrimination between producers, are curtailing purchases, in some cases to only 40 per cent of the actual production, and in other cases to only five per cent of the potential production.

"The large amounts of oil in storage constitute an additional and unnecessary fire hazard."

The production allowed was greater than the amount recommended by the proration committee which was 737,000 barrels daily. The commission believed by this comparatively small allowance, the objections of those fields which claim the proration would not be equitable may be met without undue discrimination.

July 1 production in the areas in the schedule was: Panhandle 96,450 barrels; North Central, 74,500; West Central, 55,700; West Texas, 293,950; East Texas, 39,350; Southwest, 72,400; Gulf Coast, 183,500.

OPERATORS TO DISCUSS PRORATION SATURDAY

A meeting of all oil operators of the North Texas district has been called for 2 o'clock Saturday at the Wichita club to discuss the proration plan of the Texas railroad commission, it was announced Thursday. Notice of the restriction of the state's output to 750,000 barrels per day was received Thursday by Merrill W. Blair, chairman of the proration committee of the North Texas Oil and Gas association.

Results obtained at the two hearings held before the railroad commission will also be discussed at the meeting of oil men here Saturday, it was said. It is the plan of the proration committee of the North Texas Oil and Gas association, in order to protect the small or marginal wells from which the district so largely depends for its production, to exempt from proration all leases having a daily production of less than six barrels average per well and to prorate 10 per cent all leases having a daily production of more than six barrels average per well.

BILLINGS ASKS FULL PARDON

Supreme Court Session Held in Prison

and he thought that case should be disposed of first as Mooney is a first termer while Billings had been convicted previously.

Billings, convicted in 1918 when only 22 years old, was sent to Folsom, the state's penal institution for "two time" losers, because of a previous conviction while Mooney, a first termer, was sent to San Quentin.

The convict was seated in front of a huge steel door which serves as a "master key" for all the prison cell blocks.

The session opened officially at 5:15 when Billings was escorted to the witness chair. Just before the court started this unprecedented prison session, the "master key" door had been closed so that all of Folsom's convict population of 2,200 except a few special duty men were locked up.

The night session and the placing of Billings' chair in front of the master key door were precautionary measures to prevent rioting, such as occurred Thanksgiving day, 1927, when 13 men were killed here.

Part of the story of Estelle Smith, a repudiation witness in the Billings trial, was refuted when Billings permitted Justice Preston to examine a scar on his left thumb.

JOY BATH

Remove Corns
this easy way

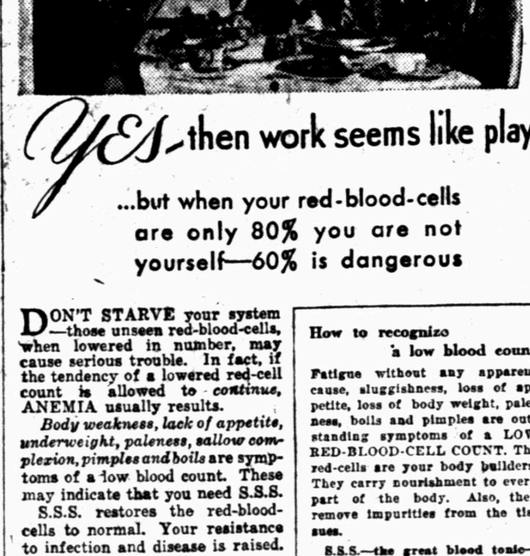

Three or four invigorating 15 minute foot baths in as many nights and that big old agonizing corn is gone—root and all.

All callouses and that hard skin on toes and heel just naturally melt away.

Foot joy at last—walk and dance and play games with ease and comfort.

You'll enjoy every minute of a Radox bath—gloriously exhilarating—they leave your feet strong—vigorous—healthy — you can wear smaller shoes.

Get a package of Radox at Allison Drug store—or any live druggist—it's the only safe, sure way to get rid of corns.—Adv.

YES—then work seems like play!

...but when your red-blood-cells are only 80% you are not yourself—60% is dangerous

DON'T STARVE your system—those unseen red-blood-cells, when lowered in number, may cause serious trouble. In fact, if the tendency of a lowered red-cell count is allowed to continue, ANEMIA usually results.

Body weakness, lack of appetite, underweight, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils are symptoms of a low blood count. These may indicate that you need S.S.S.

S.S.S. restores the red-blood-cells to normal. Your resistance to infection and disease is raised. Your appetite picks up, your whole body is strengthened, invigorated! You, too, may soon possess a wonderful power of new life and vitality. Get the large size. At all drug stores. © S.S.S. Co

How to recognize a low blood count

Fatigue without any apparent cause, sluggishness, loss of appetite, loss of body weight, paleness, boils and pimples are outstanding symptoms of a LOW RED-BLOOD-CELL COUNT. The red-cells are your body builders. They carry nourishment to every part of the body. Also, they remove impurities from the tissues.

S.S.S.—the great blood tonic—stimulates the blood-building organs to supply the necessary red-cells. Your appetite picks up, your body is strengthened—you feel like yourself again!

Builds Sturdy Health

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to every cubic millimeter.

(Right) Anemic red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh.

A new pleasant way to remove loose Dandruff

Listerine shampoo usually gets results in 3 days— and cools itching scalp

NOW thousands are hailing the wonderful results obtained by full strength Listerine used in connection with the shampoo.

Ordinary loose dandruff is often removed in three days or less—sometimes in one treatment. Inflamed conditions of the scalp which cause itching and burning are relieved almost instantly. The entire scalp is made cleaner, healthier, and more vigorous after only a few applications. We have hundreds of unsolicited letters testifying to Listerine's success against dandruff.

If you have loose dandruff—if your scalp itches, feels uncomfortable or shows any evidence of inflammation, try Listerine and see how quickly you note improvement.

Dandruff is drying sebum forced out by over-active fat glands surrounding the hair roots. This over-activity, many dermatologists claim, is the result of infection.

Listerine used full strength dissolves and removes the sebum, and if infection is present attacks it. You know it is a safe though powerful germicide.* Simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously with the fingertips, repeating the treatment until dandruff has disappeared. A little olive oil may be used if the scalp is excessively dry. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest time accurately recorded by science).

Listerine THE SAFE ANTISEPTIC

NOOSE VICTIM'S NAME SOUGHT

Police Try to Identify Man Hanged at Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 14. (AP)—An attempt was being made to identify the body of a man who hanged himself in the Frisco yards here early today, as that of G. E. Duldig of Parsons, Kan., a laborer.

In the man's clothing was a paper bearing the name, L. E. Stark, with an address "1639 Velasco street." No city was given. Stark, found at that address in Dallas, Texas, said the suicide victim fitted the description of Duldig, his father-in-law.

The body was found hanging at the end of a rope on the side of a box car.

Kohler Urged To Dismiss Charges

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 14. (AP)—A recommendation that action against Henry A. Huber, lieutenant governor, for alleged violation of the state corrupt practices act, should be dropped was made today to Gov. Walter J. Kohler by Carl N. Hill and Theodore W. Brazeau, special counsel, appointed to prosecute the case.

The action originally was brought by Randolph Connors, Madison attorney, last January. He filed similar petitions against Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, and John W. Reynolds, attorney general. All are Progressive-Republicans. Kohler is a member of the opposition "conservative" faction.

Hill and Brazeau held that their evidence showed there had been violations of the corrupt practices act, but that they would be unable to establish willful violation in court.

Information has been given Senator Elmer Thomas that the board, consisting of Generals Cruickshank, Bash and Lieutenant Colonel Bryden, has found Fort Sill "the most suitable permanent location for the field artillery school," and has recommended the school be retained there.

There has been much agitation in official circles and at Lawton, Okla., resulting from fear the school might be withdrawn and sent to Fort Bragg.

Boy Tied to Rails Refuses to Talk

FORT MADISON, Iowa, Aug. 14. (INS)—Police authorities are today attempting to solve the puzzling mystery of the finding of a boy securely tied to the Burlington railroad tracks here Tuesday night. The lad, apparently about 13 years old, was found by Lee Sturgeon, who barely freed the captive before a train roared by.

Asked who he was, the boy replied, "I can't say a word—I don't dare to," and hurried off into the darkness. No other information than that he was tied to the tracks by a gang of boys was divulged by the lad.

Authorities advanced the theory that the gang of boys may have feared that this boy was in possession of some dangerous information regarding some of their activities, and decided to kill him.

Chicago Opera Loses $558,528 in Season

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Samuel Insull submitted a report to the guarantors of the Chicago Civic Opera company today in which he said that the "constantly increasing cost of producing grand opera" resulted in a loss of $558,528.26 for the 1929-1930 season in spite of an "entirely satisfactory" increase in receipts.

Insull, president of the opera company, said receipts for the last season were $1,230,224.67 and that the season was "memorably and more than usually brilliant and successful because the performances were given in the new civic opera house built especially for the company."

Concerning the coming season which will open in Chicago Oct. 27, Insull said representatives of the company are now in Europe negotiating with artists.

Disabled Seaplane And Crew of Five Saved

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 14. (AP)—The Hampton roads naval air station was advised today that the giant naval seaplane PN-12, with a crew of five men, was picked up off the South Carolina coast by a passing steamer and towed safely to Winyan bay this morning after a night on the open Atlantic. The crew was none the worse for the experience.

The PN-12 left the naval air station early yesterday for Fernandina, Fla., but was forced down by motor trouble. The airship was in command of Lieut. Commander H. T. Bartlett, executive officer of the air base. Other members of the crew were Lieut. L. W. Curtin, chief Aviation Pilot Clark, Aviation Chief Machinists Mate Russell and Chief Radio Man Jacks.

Fat Men Make Best Husbands, Says Miss Dix

The Old Saying That No One Loves a Fat Man Is Untrue; Practically All Women Love Them, for Their Good Nature Makes Them Paragons Among Husbands, and Their Girth Makes Them More or Less Safe From Flappers.

In a recent murder trial the lawyer, who was defending a stout young man who had killed the husband of a woman to whom he had been paying attention, cited the old proverb that nobody loves a fat man as proof of his client's innocence.

"No fat man ever broke up a home," the lawyer emphatically declared.

Perhaps this argument may have been convincing to a man jury, but a woman jury would have laughed it off, because a man's attractiveness to a woman does not depend upon his weight. Women don't estimate men on the hoof, so to speak. They value them for things of the spirit, for their understanding, their sympathy, their intelligence, their strength, not for their size.

Besides, it is only men who make a cult of the rag and the bone, and whose ideal of beauty is the living skeleton. Women prefer curves to angles, and they would award the blue ribbon at a beauty show every time to the man who had a well-nourished appearance over one who has a haggard and dyspeptic look.

Anything short of obesity in a man goes with women, but not so with men. It is the emaciated maiden, with no proturbances except her vertebra, who has all the dates, and who has to cut her dances into mince meat at a party, while her sister, who is a perfect 46, butters the walls at balls and bears mother and father company at home in the evening with never a beau to bless herself with. But nobody ever heard of a girl turning down a charming, agreeable chap with a light foot and a nimble tongue, just because he hadn't counted his calories religiously enough.

Nor do you ever hear of a middle-aged married woman giving as her excuse for leaving a perfectly good husband that he has got fat and has developed a bay window. Yet every day we hear of men forsaking their wives for no other reason than that they have put on a little flesh. Indeed, so forcibly is it impressed upon the minds of wives that the only tie that binds is the corset string and that the chief virtue that their husbands esteem in them is thinness, that everywhere you go the one topic of conversation among married women is reduction diets and massage and the various forms of torturing exercises. But no man feels that he has to go into a state of semistarvation in order to retain his wife's affections.

Of course, in fiction and romance the traditional lady-killers, the Don Juans and the Lotharios and the Romeos all inclined to the Early Gothic instead of the Queen Anne style of architecture, but you will find in real life that no men cut a wider swathe among the women than do the fat men.

And this is because women are not so much carried away by the display in a man's show window as they are by what he has on his shelves and the fat man is so often able to deliver the goods in the way of a subtle comprehension of a woman's soul and his tact and finesse in dealing with her that she overlooks his figure.

Nor is stoutness any handicap to a man when he wants to get married, as it would be to a woman under similar circumstances. Women have more matrimonial sense than men and they know that a fat man is almost invariably cheerful and optimistic and good-natured and easy to get along with, and these are the headliner qualities in a husband. It is the thin, nervous, worrying, irritable men who are the hammer wielders and who keep wives walking on edge from the altar to the grave trying in vain to please them.

Look around at the good family men—the men who are always bragging about their Marias and about how smart their children are; the men who hang pictures and paint the kitchen floor of an evening, who cut the grass and who take the wife and children out in the car every Sunday. Aren't they nearly always plump, jolly, round-faced men whose tailors are always letting out their waistbands?

Ever woman admits that she likes to see her husband take on flesh after he gets married. There are many reasons for this. One is that he does credit to her housekeeping and the care she takes of him. She doesn't want him going around looking like a half-starved cat that doesn't get enough to eat at home, or to appear as one who is poisoned on his bride's housekeeping. She desires him to look fat and prosperous and contented, the visible proof of the excellence of her handiwork.

Another reason is that the fat man is the only husband for whom a wife can put any pep into her housekeeping. There is no kick in getting up a fine dinner and concocting new dishes for a dyspeptic man who is as thin as a rail, who has no appetite and only picks at his food and who would just as soon have milk and mush and a dose of bicarbonate of soda as lobster Newberg and champagne. But the fat man loves to eat. Otherwise he would not be fat, and he partakes of his good food with a savor of every sauce and with beating upon the cymbals for his wife's artistry in cooking.

Furthermore, the wife of a fat man knows that as long as his appetite lasts, she brews a spell with the pots and pans that no siren can break, and that she can keep him eating out of her hand. Also she has a charm by which she can work him, for a full stomach makes a generous heart and a peaceful disposition. No man feels like quarreling who has just been stuffed on the dishes he likes best, whereas the thin man is always in fighting trim and ready for a mix-up.

Also a fat man is a woman's best bet as a husband because he is more or less safe from the flappers, for it takes more age and experience than a young girl posseses to know how often he is really worth his weight in gold.

So the lawyer who contends that nobody loves a fat man is wrong. Practically all women do. With Caesar they say, let there be fat men about me. Thin men are dangerous. They think too much.

C.-C. WELCOMES METAL FIRM

New Company Tells of Its Program Here

Members of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce devoted their called meeting Thursday afternoon to becoming better acquainted with the Equipment Manufacturing company, which recently began operations in the old Ray Sheet Metal company plant, and to the formulation of plans for cooperating with that concern in the development of its industry here.

A. E. Tabor, president; T. G. Dabney, vice president, and John K. Omo, assistant-secretary and treasurer in charge of the plant, were present at the meeting Thursday, and discussed plans of the company for the manufacturing business opened last week in the local factory.

Permanent Site

According to statements made to members of the industrial committee, officials of the new concern regard the factory here as a permanent addition to Wichita Falls' industrial activities, and are purposed to develop it to the fullest extent. They declared their intention of endeavoring to attract other industries to this city, establishments with which they might to some extent practice exchange of manufactured products.

The Equipment Manufacturing company has been adequately financed for all of its present needs, it was stated, but officials of that concern stated that the organization would welcome a small number of Wichita Falls citizens as directors primarily for the purpose of aligning the enterprise more intimately with this city. Should such relations be established with local persons, it was pointed out, no investment of money would be asked now, since it is not needed. Subscription to small amounts of stock in the company for the purpose of qualifying for places in its directorate would be arranged, it was indicated, without the paying in of capital at this time.

Suggestions and aid of the chamber of commerce was solicited by officials of the company in providing the addition of one or more local citizens to its directorate. Pledges of full cooperation of the industrial committee to that end were expressed by John Hirschi, who presided, and for that purpose he appointed a committee consisting of N. M. Clifford, C. E. Basham, and J. C. Mytinger.

'Business Good

Discussion of the business now under operation in the plant on the Henrietta road occasioned the statement that numerous large orders have been received since the plant began operations one week ago. Some considerable orders have been received from local firms, Mr. Omo stated.

Those present at Thursday afternoon's meeting included the following members of the industrial committee: Mr. Hirschi, Mr. Clifford, Pat Simmons, Mr. Basham, J. S. Bridwell, president of the chamber of commerce; J. B. Marlow, Mr. Mytinger, and Roy Mann; Jerry Vinson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce; Dudley B. Foy, industrial department head, and John Boswell, general manager, of the chamber of commerce.

The Bench's Price Tag—
A Real Graft Trap—
The Hourglass Figure—
It Won't Stay Long—

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Mr. Thomas T. Tommaney, a Tammany clerk who for some reason or other accepted $5,000 from the wife of a magistrate, refuses to tell the federal grand jury anything about it. The federal attorney thinks the money was part payment for the magistrate's appointment. What happened to it after Mr. Tommaney handled it would make interesting reading. Mr. Tuttle should ask Tammany about it and not Mr. Tommaney.

If jobs on the bench are for sale, some astute master mind should devise some way of recording the money by a method which would not arouse the suspicions of income tax experts. All would be rosy today if New York politicians could skirt that trap. It begins to appear that Candidate LaGuardia's talk during the last mayoralty campaign was not so wild after all.

The latest exposure of petty graft in municipal departments involves the payment of thousands of dollars to supervisors of the departments of markets by Jewish butchers and delicastessen dealers in Brooklyn and Queens. It is alleged regular sums are being paid for permission to shave the word "kosher" or other Jewish lettering on windows. Nice, easy way of making a living.

American ladies, freed from uncomfortable fashions, will read with interest that Paris decrees the revival of the hourglass figure. Slender waistlines are said to be on the way back and Venus hips will be emphasized by tunics or full skirts. The hourglass figure means corsets and stays which women threw off years ago. They will not go back to them or the "Venus hip," a charitable way of describing a large hip, not popular with American ladies, or gentlemen either.

Mr. Lamar, "wolf of Wall street," once more under investigation, discusses the present market with the zeal of a veteran spectator. Those seeking tips will not be interested in the fact that he served a prison term for attempting to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co., and the United States Steel corporation. He says it is a bull market today and "bear operations will be crucified." Little lambs will listen to him, but will not romp as merrily as they did before the explosion of last fall.

Up in Albany, genuine Scotch whisky valued at $30,000 is poured into the city sewers by prohibition agents. It was imported in 1921 in one-fifth gallon bottles. The concern which possessed it was not permitted to rebottle it in pint bottles for sale on physicians' prescriptions. One of the many mysteries which makes prohibition what it is. Most readers will refuse to believe it was really destroyed.

All previous attempts at enforcing prohibition have degenerated and died. An honest agent who starts out, righteous and determined, quickly finds himself confronted with one or the other of two alternatives: either to become dishonest himself or quit. Sometimes he does both; he becomes dishonest, salts away a nice bit of graft and quits.

Mothers will be interested in this. Mr. John Barrymore, movie star and proud father, argues with his wife, the beautiful Dolores Costello, because their baby has developed a glaring red birthmark on its head and the mother will not consent to an operation to remove it. Mrs. Barrymore, who risked her life to bear the baby, should have more to say about it than the strutting father.

NEWSPAPERS SOLD

BOONEVILLE, Mo., Aug. 14. (UP)—Edgar C. Nelson today announced the sale of the Booneville Daily News and the Booneville Advertiser, a weekly paper, to F. L. Steenrod, W. J. McGiffin and Paul B. Whallon, all of Kansas City and Excelsior Springs.

Mrs. Em Moots has got a new set o' pearl gray teeth an' she sounds like a telegraph office. Love hain't blind or the ditches would be full o' wrecked cars.

Just as the noise abatement committee had solved its major problems, along comes announcement of the discovery of a new musical instrument which is a combination of the saxophone and bagpipe.

The fact Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh have taken their first flight together since Charles Jr., was born, leads to the suspicion the baby has already become an endurance cryer.

The 125th anniversary of the discovery of the hot dog is being celebrated in Vienna. With much relish, of course.

Our Enemies in Peace

WE HAVE talked preparedness for a long time. Now we are realizing its need. Not only in war in which life is taken, as we have commonly thought of it, but in a field that is distinctly more practical and humanitarian.

Movable water tanks, which have been placed in commission at army posts in the fifth corps area, were ordered used for hauling water for livestock in the nearby drouth-stricken areas in Ohio.

When winds refuse to blow up a cooling shower . . . when the blue-green waters of the ponds under deep trees turn muddy brown and the leaves of their shelter wither . . . when the troughs from which they drink no longer have a refreshing flood of cold water, livestock suffer more cruelly than if a marauding army had plunged across the fields.

We are discovering that it is as important to keep prepared in time of peace as in time of war. Not all of our enemies are wearing helmets and carrying bayonets. We have the elements and pestilences to combat. They are distinctly more deadly.

Why not marshal our men and reserves and be prepared to make war on these enemies when the time comes. They will conquer it in the end if we don't. The government is justified in keeping a reserve of men and supplies ready for such combat as surely as it is in sending the marines to protect our citizens and their property in foreign lands.

Instruments of warfare have proved their use more than once in time of peace. America has gone to battle very often when the enemy wasn't an army that advanced under another flag.

Down in Panama, the cleaning up of the swamps abolished disease. It took the maneuvers of an army, the skill of generalship, the bravery and daring of a gallant soldiery to combat that fever pestilence. But it was done.

If we are going to be happy in time of peace it begins to look as though we must prepare for war. For some strange reason we hesitate to make ready to meet an invader that isn't human. We will prepare for war, though. We could avoid this roundabout method of achieving our end if we would face the dangers of peace as readily as we do those of war.

Breaking a Mother's Heart

MEMORIES are the only beautiful thing in life which nothing can take away from us. Those little souvenirs, so worthless to others but so infinitely precious to the one who treasures them, stand for the dream that is done, the memory that is folded away in tissue paper in a secret, sacred corner of the heart

A war mother came home from France the other day. In her worn traveling bag she carried a crumpled flower that had bloomed on a grave in France; a few pebbles from the graveled walk that led to the poppy-shrouded grave; and a splinter of wood from a battered dugout. To her they were symbolic of the tryst that she had kept with a soldier who sleeps in Flanders.

She intended to keep them always, to look at them sometimes in the twilight, to hold them and remember.

But that dream is vanished now. Just the memory remains. Two thieves took the battered old bag from her porch in Kansas City as she was greeting friends and relatives. When she reached for it, it was gone.

The mementoes will mean nothing to the men who stole them. They will see a crushed flower, pebbles and a splinter of wood. But to the mother they were part of the shrine where she had gone to keep a tryst.

The thieves may toss them away carelessly, angry because they didn't steal something of value.

Value is a strange word. To the gold star mother the trinkets are of greater worth than gold and myrrh and frankincense could ever be.

Perhaps the thieves, one or the other of them, will notice the foreign label on the bag. Maybe he, too, will recall a memory, grown dusty in the dim recesses of his mind. And if he does, perhaps he will gather up the souvenirs and carry them back home to Mrs. Hadley. We hope so.

Water—Five Cents a Glass

EVERY now and then a story drifts across the pages of the press, telling of some far land where water is at a premium. We have a habit of shaking our heads sympathetically and immediately forgetting the calamity. After all, we think, no one could be without water. Not in our land anyway. Water is a God-given gift.

Once in a while we hear a little different story coming of someone who became insane because his thirst was too much. We feel so uncomfortable when we try to visualize such a condition that we promptly put it out of our minds.

But now the situation is coming home to us. In Brown and Jackson counties, according to a story we read the other day, in Indiana it has been a long time since the air has been cool and fragrant with beating rain. Water has been getting more and more scarce. And now armed wen were standing guard over the few remaining wells that give water and selling it for five cents a glass. Water was being shipped into the community in milk cans. Farmers had sold practically all of their livestock.

When we count our blessings after this, we could easily be a little more practical and put water on the list. When the well goes dry a cup of cold water is worth considerably more than rubies and emeralds.

Confession

Little lady, I can take you
Out to dinner where the wine
Brings a tingle—I can make you
Think you are a dream of mine
Quite come true—and little lady
We can see a Broadway show,
Where the dialogue is shady—
Shedding quite a sensuous glow.

Little lady, I can squire you
To a tinselled night club, too;
Where the music may inspire you
To do things you shouldn't do;
But this lad, my little lady,
Cannot give his heart—I know
It's a shame, but I'm afraid he
Lost it one night—long ago!

Things That Knock Me Cold

For the first time in our journalistic career we are behind the N. Y. Times in reporting a blessed event. We must be slipping. But what we started out to say was that the N. Y. Times was among other newspapers which deplored this column's beat:

"The Charles A. Lindberghs (Anne Morrow) anticipate a blessed event!!!" which appeared almost six months before the Lindbergheir arrived.

Colonel Lindbergh, himself, we are told by Editor and Publisher, was opposed to those journals which reported that the stork was bound for his shack, "because it was printed so far in advance." This attitude on the part of the colonel and other critics confuses us a little, considering that the N. Y. Times (for which the Colonel writes exclusively) the other day announced that the empress of Japan expects a fourth child next February!

Or am I too loud?

It is S. Jay Kaufman's favorite anecdote about Jack Osterman and a well-known revue producer. Osterman, whose clown imitation of Master Vallee will go down in history as One Of The Heartier Laughs of 1930, was feuding with the boss about this, that, them and those, but particularly about a raise in wages.

When the quarrel ended the producer cooed: "From now on I want you to be happy while working for me—I want you to consider yourself like a son."

"That's very lovely of you," snapped Jack, "but never mind. A son gets an allowance. I want a salary."

William Charles Macready was the famous actor who managed along with Edwin Forrest to stir up the Astor Place riots. He was a crotchety bird; but he kept a diary in which he castigated himself in a most virulent manner.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

As the result of an accident, Kay Smith cannot even recall her name. At a night club Kay meets a man and woman who apparently know her, but a hold-up occurs before she can ask any questions of them. Dane Talbot, who Kay loves, rushes to her apartment after the hold-up and confesses his love for her, though he is engaged to Julie Drew. Before he can see Julie, an announcement of their approaching wedding appears in the newspaper.

CHAPTER XXXI

The Cambridge was much more imposing in the day time than at night, Kay decided as she approached the great hotel. She hadn't noticed it especially the night before, in her excitement.

It was her noon hour, and she had been planning all morning how she would approach the strange man, and the woman called "Marion."

She remembered the man perfectly, and could describe the woman. Nevertheless she hesitated as she approached the desk. It was so elaborate, and all the clerks so busy.

Waiting until one of them was at leisure, she tackled him bravely.

"I'm looking for someone in your hotel, but I don't know the name. If I describe the man, can you tell me who he is?"

The clerk looked at her suspiciously, then affably. Certainly she was horest. At least she looked so.

"I'll do my best, but we have about a thousand guests. So don't be too sure."

Kay Is Dismayed

A thousand guests! Kay was dismayed. Her man and the woman called "Marion" among a thousand people.

"The man is middle aged, his hair a little gray at his temples, and somewhat thin on top," she began. She felt she must know who these people were. They might be a link to her past, and she must find that link. They knew her, apparently. She went on with her description of the man. The clerk nodded now and then.

"The woman is also middle-aged, a nice looking woman, her hair grayer than the man's. Last evening she wore an ermine, a white ermine coat, and her dress was pale blue velvet. Her slippers also blue velvet."

The clerk shook his head. "The man might be one of two or three hundred who are registered here. Your description is not very explicit. What city are they from?"

Kay was forced to admit she didn't know.

However she said that the woman's first name was "Marion."

Again the clerk was doubtful. The first name meant nothing. Because he felt sorry for the girl, and because she was so pretty, he was taking more time with her than he should.

"They were in the Crystal Palace hold up last evening," Kay continued desperately. "And the woman fainted. The man carried her into the hotel. Surely, you know now."

"Several of our guests were in the hold up—it's all we've been hearing this morning. You say the woman is ill?"

"Yes."

He left her, and went off to consult someone else. He came back soon, and asked her why she wanted the information. She had to give some reason, so said the first thing that came to her mind. The real answer was too complicated to explain to the clerk.

"I was there, too, and this man and woman were so kind to me — I wanted to thank them," she fibbed quickly.

Not Her Man

"You'll have to see the night force, I think. Your descriptions are too vague. Unless—wait, is your man that man walking across the lobby?"

Kay rushed ahead, but came back to announce that wasn't the man she wanted.

"No? Come back at five-thirty then. The night force will be on then?"

She had to be satisfied with that. At five-thirty, when she finished work, she was back at the Cambridge, and again explained her mission. Another clerk listened to her tale. Yes, he remembered the crowd that had come in after the hold up at the Crystal palace. But the confusion was so great that he couldn't be sure who had come and who had gone. He knew several of the guests had been to the night club. The house physician had been kept busy all evening. More than that he could not say.

Kay was so plainly disappointed, and the hotel so large, the guests so numerous, that the clerk seeing her distress, finally called the house physician, who told her that he was positive he had not attended a middle aged woman the evening before who had been at the Crystal palace hold up. He was sure.

"No one with a severe heart attack?" she asked.

"No, no heart attacks last night, young lady. I was busy all evening, but not with heart attacks."

So Futile

All so hopeless, when she had not a name to go on. For all she knew the couple might have checked out.

Now that she couldn't find the man and woman, she wanted them badly. They must know her. Know who she was. Else why would the man have written the note, summoning her to the corridor? Else why would he have greeted her the way he did? Why would the woman have kissed her?

To find them, then to lose them. If only the hotel weren't so large. It seemed impossible to Kay that a man could carry a woman into a hotel lobby unnoticed.

Because she was sure they could help her find out who she was, she next tackled an elevator boy, making sure first that he had been on duty the night before after the hold up.

She trembled as she waited the answer to her question. Yes, the boy had taken a man up in the elevator last evening, late. The man was carrying a woman in his arms. The woman seemed very ill. Her eyes were closed, and she was hardly breathing. They had gotten off at the tenth floor. A taxi driver was with them, carrying some coats. That's all he knew. No, he didn't know the name of the man and woman. Had never seen them before. Didn't know their room number. They were alone in the car, with the driver. He had taken the driver back down in a few minutes.

There was a lot of commotion about that time, so he hadn't recalled the man and woman until now.

Another futile trip to the desk. This time to ask about the tenth floor. The clerk could give her no more help than the statement that five people from the tenth floor had checked out since he had been on duty. He didn't know how many had left during the day. Dozens, he supposed.

The house physician again said that he had had no call on the tenth floor the night before.

Kay had to be satisfied with this. There was nothing more she could do, but she was bitterly disappointed. Because she did not know what else to do, she took an elevator and went up to the tenth floor herself. Doors, dozens of them, corridors winding in and out. A soft rug on the floors that stifled her footsteps, and deadened everything.

Numbers on the Doors

Numbers on the doors. Shiny brass.

In one of these rooms was the man and the woman she wanted to see. Unless they had checked out. The woman, she felt, must be too ill to leave.

A man passed her in the hall, and she scanned his face eagerly. No, he wasn't the one. He was young, and looked a little like Gordon. But he wasn't Gordon.

A faint sound of music came from behind one of the closed doors. She stopped to listen, then went on.

Well, it was certain she couldn't stay any longer roaming the corridors. A waiter going in and out of number 1009, passed her twice and looked at her suspiciously.

She hurried past him to the elevators, and disconsolately went down into the lobby.

Dane was to meet her at seven at home. She glanced at an ormolu clock on one of the marble mantels. Six-thirty. She'd have to hurry to make it.

What would Dane have to say? After the announcement in the paper of his wedding day? So many disappointments today. First the item in the paper. Then not finding the man and the woman called "Marion." She had been so sure she could describe them perfectly, yet her description, according to two clerks were too vague. The maze of hotel rooms. The thousand guests. Like finding a needle in a haystack.

Still a Chance

If she hadn't been so upset last evening, she would have had sense enough to find out who they were then. That was the time to do it. Not now. . . .

There was still a chance! The papers were printing lists of the people robbed at the Crystal Palace! Though the hotel would not give her these names, she could get them from the papers. A few phone calls to the Cambridge would settle the matter! She should have thought of that before.

When she got off the car, she bought a paper, and trudged home with it under her arm.

Prohibition Not Issue, Says Senator Fess

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—Despite the recent strong showings of several anti-prohibition candidates for high public office, Senator Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the national Republican party, said today the Republican party does not recognize prohibition as an issue.

"I do not believe the prohibition question will be an issue in the fall campaign in Ohio or anywhere else. Prohibition is not a party issue unless both parties force it and the Republican party does not recognize it as an issue," Senator Fess said.

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Have we had the pleasure of serving you through our Washington information bureau? Can't we be of some help to you in your problems? Our business is to furnish you with authoritative information, and we invite you to ask us any question of fact in which you are interested. Send your inquiry to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage.

Q.—What do the Mexican 10-gallon hats weigh?—D. L.

A.—When these hats are trimmed with leather and metal ornaments, they actually weigh from five to eight pounds.

Q.—Do any of the first class battleships use coal for propulsion?—J. F.

A.—The navy department says that there are no first class battleships now in commission which use coal.

Q.—Is it legal for a bank to charge 50 cents a month against checking accounts when they run below a certain sum?—T. I. T.

Q.—Is golf played in South America?—D. H.

A.—Almost every town in the union of South Africa has at least one golf course. Johannesburg, or the Witwatersrand, which includes several reef or mining townships, has at least 12.

Q.—Is more cream used on Sundays than on week days?—B. P.

A.—It depends somewhat on the location of the consumer. The average American family uses three times as much cream on Sunday, but less milk. At Christmas and Thanksgiving time three or four times as much cream is used.

Q.—When was the first arithmetic text book published?—S. M. G.

A.—Cocker's Arithmetic, the first complete manual for "numerists," was published on the third of September, 1677, by Sir Roger L'Estrange. The author, who died before it was published, became proverbial in England as a master of mathematical subjects. His book was a "best seller" for nearly a century.

Q.—What is the idea in being presented at the Court of St. James?—A. S. R.

A.—The greatest social distinction which a woman can attain, in a day when there are so few kings occupying thrones, is gained through being presented at the Court of St. James. Literally one makes her low bow before King George and Queen Mary of England.

Q.—Kindly settle an argument. Can foreign flags fly from embassies without the Stars and Stripes?—R. K.

A.—A foreign embassy may fly a foreign flag without having it accompanied by the American flag. The foreign embassy is under the jurisdiction of the country which it represents; therefore, the law of that country applies.

Q.—What is the purpose of the Kuomingtang mentioned so frequently as operating in China?—N. R.

A.—The English translation of Kuomingtang is as follows: Kuo means country; min means people, and tang or tong means association. The whole word is interpreted: Association to bring the country into the hands of the people. The association is half patriotic, half political.

Q.—What may be used to avoid perspiring under the arms and staining one's clothes?—C. E. B.

A.—The American Medical association suggests the use of a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride. This should be lightly dabbed on the affected areas for three or four days, or until some irritation appears. It should be repeated in three or four weeks. Any medication should be discontinued upon the appearance of the slightest indication of inflammation.

Q.—Are conditions good or bad at Ellis Island?—E. S. M.

A.—Ellis Island is not the uninviting place it is generally thought to be. Actually, said Mr. Hull, commissioner general of immigration, it consists of three small islands. On these islands are 27 buildings, including hospitals and power houses. The quarters occupied by detained aliens consist of large, light, well-ventilated rooms with floors and dados of Dutch or white glazed tile. A covered porch is available for recreation in stormy weather, while a playground supplied with equipment for games and enteftainment for both children and adults is provided for use in good weather. The aliens are first registered at examination desks, and their names checked with the list furnished by the steamer on which they arrived. A medical examination is then given, immigrant inspectors then inquire where the aliens are going and how much money they have, and they are directed to a restaurant where food may be purchased.

COTTON CO-OP FUNDS PAID IN

$5,000,000 Subscribed for Handling Crop

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Attending a meeting here of the American Cotton Cooperative association, Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, today announced that representatives of cooperatives in the cotton growing states had subscribed $5,000,000 of working capital for the $30,000,000 marketing agency to which $800,000 recently subscribed will be added. The money will be employed, he said, to handle the 1930 crop.

E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the association and of the cotton stabilization corporation, said approximately 800,000 bales carried from last year have been taken over by the cooperative association and that within a short time the amount will be increased to 1,300,000 bales.

Declaring the surplus must be wiped out and the quality of cotton improved, Mr. Williams predicted that "the cotton growers this year will not get as good a price as last year."

"The reasons are," he said, "the surplus, the world wide depression in prices and the poorer quality in American cotton.

"The cotton belt must reduce acreage and increase quality. Anything above 40,000,000 bales yearly is dangerous. Last year the crop was approximately 46,000,000 bales.

"The greatest needs of agriculture today generally are—and this includes cotton—an efficient, cheap marketing system and a way to control supply so it will not exceed demand.

"Both these needs are being met to a certain degree by the machinery set in motion by the federal farm board."

Indian Conference To Open in November

LONDON, Aug. 24. (AP)—The Indian round-table conference, which will attempt to achieve a definition of India's status and future, is not expected to assemble before the second week of November although at least 14 delegates will arrive here three weeks earlier.

Among the advance guard will be the noted Maharajah of Patiala, chancellor of the chamber of princes.

The total number of delegates will approach 100, so St. James palace will be crowded. Before the Indian conference opens the delegates will meet the delegates to the imperial conference.

Filipino Fruit Workers 'Fired' After Threats

SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 14. (AP)—More than 100 Filipinos working on fruit and vegetable crops in this vicinity have been released by orchardists and other employers after receiving anonymous warnings against the use of Filipino labor.

One of the warning notes, headed by a skull and cross bones, read: "work no Filipinos or we'll destroy your crop and you too." Several of this character were placed in rural mail moxes of pear orchardists in the Santa Clara-Sunnyvale district. Postal authorities started an investigation.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy and called his prescription Hem-Roid. He prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get Hem-Roid from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and Allison's Drug store invites every Pile sufferer to try Hem-Roid and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.—Adv.

HAWKS EXTOLS 'PONY EXPRESS'

One-Day Coast-to-Coast Mail Possible

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, who yesterday set a new west to east transcontinental flight record, told the Advertising club at its luncheon today that the trip was not made primarily to set a new speed mark but to demonstrate the feasibility of a "pony express" air line.

Such a service, he said, would prove invaluable in expediting the delivery of important documents from coast to coast. His trip, made from Glendale, Calif. to Roosevelt field, N. Y., in 12 hours and 25 minutes with three refueling stops proved that such a service is possible, he said.

Captain Hawks said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose Easter day record was shattered in the flight yesterday, had called him by telephone to congratulate him.

"I'm glad I'm beaten," Hawks said the colonel told him.

Beefsteaks From Heifer Equal To Flesh of Steer

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—This being the day of sex equality, the heifer has won recognition from meat study experts for as tender and juicy steaks as her brother, the steer, contrary to traditional belief.

The annual conference of meat investigators of 30 agricultural experiment stations and the United States Department of Agriculture reported today that up to a weight of 700 pounds the heifer produces beef which is just as palatable and economical as that from the steer.

In addition to bringing out that the consumer's dollar buys more meat today than at any time since the world war, the experts said housewives could make that dollar go still further by buying little known cuts, such as plate, flank, breast, chuck, picnic and shank.

LEGION HEAD ASSAILS GRAFT

Honesty in Government plea of Louisianian

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Urging honest government and elimination of "inefficiency, extravagance and in too many instances downright dishonesty," Roland B. Howell of Thibodaux, commander of the Louisiana department of the American Legion, today opened the annual convention here with a plea for citizens to rally to a "purging of the body politic of the nation."

"In a great many nations of the old world since the war," said the commander, "free government through unintelligent, inefficient and corrupt leadership has failed, and has given way to iron dictatorships.

"In this country democracy shall not and will not perish. But in many instances both from the federal and state viewpoint, its foundations are being weakened from the prevalence of dishonest and rank inefficiency.

"The time is here for all of us worthy of the honor of having served our country in the hour of peril to rally to honest government by purging the body politic of our nation, state and municipalities, those opportunists who have taken advantage of the prevalent disregard of governmental morality to gain their seats of power, and who, by their inefficiency, extravagance, and in too many instances downright dishonesty have burdened the public with mounting taxes, which, if not checked will soon reach such proportions as to retard, if not greatly jeopardize the reattainment of business normalcy in this country.

"Each of us, not as a collective unit, but as individuals, owe our state and nation the solemn duty as citizens of serving in peace as we did in war."

Howell announced that the membership of the American Legion in Louisiana now exceeds 10,000 and that 1,200 new members were added during the past year.

Buying of Cattle By Farm Board Impossible, He Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Vice Chairman Stone of the farm board said today a suggestion that the farm board buy stocker and feeder cattle in drouth areas was purely a question for local organizations to handle.

The board he said could not buy anything and whatever money it might lend for the purchase of cattle must be administered through local credit organizations which are in position to determine the needs of the individual farmer and pass on the security for his loans.

While communities cannot underwrite loans for drouth relief, he said there likely will be a number of "charity patients" and in that instance the question of such financing would be up to the president's conference here with governors of drouth area states.

MOTOR TRUCK HEARING HELD

Compressing in Transit Opposed by Railroads

AUSTIN, Aug. 14. (AP)—The statement that allowing truck lines to compress cotton in transit, as done by rail carriers, would tend to destroy the whole cotton marketing structure was made today at a hearing before the state railroad commission.

I. M. Griffin, representative of a Philadelphia cotton firm and former cotton representative of railroads, testified for rail lines opposing application of truck companies of the Corpus Christi area for this privilege.

Rail carriers have their cotton compressed usually at the first compress in transit. Griffin said there would be no advantage to trucks to compress at the first point, and every advantage to compressing at the ports, with the result that all truck cotton would be brought to port compresses.

This would give them an advantage over rail carriers, he continued, and the rail lines would have to meet the competition with the result that eventually all cotton would be compressed at ports. This would mean the destruction, he said, of all interior markets and communities built around interior markets.

The loss to the producer, Griffin testified, would be destruction of competition between interior and port markets. He estimated there were about 110 compresses and 200 interior markets, with investments of $15,000,000 which would be affected. He denied the assertion of a truck line representative that trucks have saved the cotton farmer approximately four and a half million dollars by bringing reductions in rates.

Refrigerated warehouse capacity has increased 60,748,260 cubic feet in the last two years.

Famous Chariot Of Fire Official Stolen by Negro

HOUSTON, Aug. 14. (AP) — Fire Commissioner Andy Delery's famous chariot, known to fire fighters and sleuths alike, underwent a temporary but illegal change in ownership for a few hours today, while the commissioner pursued his duties, unaware of the fact. He was told about it by Juvenile Officer Paul White, who recovered the automobile and arrested an indiscriminate driver.

Delery had left the auto, a small rather ancient touring model, parked in his private reserved fire zone alongside the city hall. Then at 11 cruising about, he noticed a car of familiar appearance.

The negro in it protested it belonged to him and he was out for a morning's ride.

At the police station, however, he admitted he had stolen the machine with the use of a master key. He also admitted being under a five year suspended sentence for car theft. He was held.

That Body Of Yours

By JAS. W. BARTON, M. D.

Should You Work or Rest Your Heart?

"You cannot quench a fire by both feeding it and extinguishing it."

This expression was recently used in describing treatment for heart ailments.

As you know, no heart can get strong unless it is exercised, asked to do some extra work, by pumping a little more blood than it has been doing.

On the other hand, if the heart has been doing a lot of extra work, due to some ailment, some infection in the body, then it does not seem like good sense to ask it to continue to work hard even after the ailment or infection has left the body.

The natural thing to do then is to give it as much rest as possible.

How then are you to know whether your heart needs resting or working.

Your safest plan is to leave this in the hands of your physician, who will likely explain why he wants you to rest even when you think you are well, and also why you should begin to exercise, to walk, or to golf, even when you think your heart really needs rest.

However, if you want to try and figure it out for yourself just remember that if you have had an acute illness, and your temperature has gone up to 102, 103 or 104 degrees Fahrenheit, and for every degree your heart has increased its number of beats by 10, you can see that it has had to increase its work 30 to 60 per cent. With a continuous temperature running from one to four degrees every day, for a number of days, it has done a lot of extra work. In doing this extra work it has used up some of its "reserve", and if you are willing to remain in bed for a few days until your temperature is normal, you can give it a chance to build up its reserve again.

Of course, I couldn't advise the exact number of days; that would depend upon your condition before the illness, how your particular system withstood it, and your condition after the illness has passed. My only thought is to show you why your doctor wants you to remain in bed even after you think you are well.

But after it is considered safe for you to get up and around, you shouldn't "nurse" your heart any more, but should start out with short walks daily. This is really feeding your heart and strengthening the muscle fibers: because the heart is simply a bunch of muscle tissue—nothing else. Although it is under the control of the will, it can be strengthened by exercise, just as can the muscles that cover the surface of the body.

Rolling Sleepers

PITTSBURGH—No matter how soundly you sleep, you are constantly on the move. Dr. H. M. Johnson, of the Mellon institute here, has conducted numerous experiments to prove this. # PORT ARTHUR HEARS ALLRED

Wichitan Denies He's Under Obligations

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Aug. 14. (AP)—James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for attorney general, answering R. L. Bobbitt, incumbent and his opponent, said here tonight he would not be obligated to either candidate for governor.

"I am not trying to ride the coat tail of either of the candidates for governor," he said. "I have never received any favors at the hands of James E. Ferguson or Ross S. Sterling that would put me under obligations to either, and when I am elected attorney general I will feel free to exercise my own judgment in handling the affairs of the office and no living man will be in a position to dictate to me."

Allred also answered Bobbitt's challenge with reference to the handling of a certain law suit by the attorney general's department which was attacked by a circular.

"I did not have anything whatever to do with that circular and my opponent knows it," Allred said. "It was circulated by a citizen of Fort Worth, who, I understand, signed his name to it. Rather than submit it to an investigation by the Texas Bar association, I would suggest that my opponent explain to the 800,000 voters of Texas the facts about that case."

Eighteen small diamonds belonging to Mrs. E. W. Napier, reported stolen Wednesday from a filing case in the office of her husband, were recovered shortly after the theft, Mrs. Napier told The Record News Thursday afternoon. The gems were found in another filing case, Mrs. Napier said, having evidently been replaced. Since the diamonds had never been placed in any but one cabinet, it seemed that the thief had returned the jewels a few hours after the theft, Mrs. Napier said. The diamonds were valued at approximately $180.

Prohibition Looms As Big Illinois Issue

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (US)—Prohibition loomed today as the issue which probably will cause the greatest controversy at the Republican and Democratic state conventions, both of which will be held next week in Springfield.

Three nation-wide organizations seeking repeal of the 18th amendment will make a determined effort at Springfield through their branch organizations in Illinois to have a wet plank incorporated in the platform to be adopted by each party.

New Home for Uncle Sam in Chinese Port

The palatial new consulate of the United States at Shanghai is shown in the center with the old structure at the upper right. Above, to the left, is Edwin S. Cunningham, consul-general.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14. (AP)—A landmark of this Chinese port, over which the American flag has flown for 20 years, is coming down to make way for America's new consulate-general.

The structure will be the finest of its kind in all Asia and will set a new standard for United States diplomatic buildings abroad.

The site, on the Whangpoo river, Shanghai's artery to the sea, is in full view of every steamer entering or leaving the port.

Destruction of the old buildings has begun and within two years there will be completed a million dollar structure which will furnish living quarters and office space for Edwin S. Cunningham, of Maryville, Tenn., consul-general here for 11 years, and his entire staff of about a hundred.

The old buildings were erected about 50 years ago and when structures reach that age in Shanghai they are old. The soft mud brick of which they were made began to disintegrate years ago and great slabs fell away from various parts of the group until the structures looked as if they had been subjected to shell fire.

The foundations sank until floors were so uneven that steps had to be constructed between some of the rooms. So frail did the main office become that steel safes housed on the second floor were removed to the basement, lest they crash through and wreck the whole interior.

But although the old buildings were disintegrating and sinking in value, the opposite was true of the ground on which they stood. The government bought the property 15 years ago, paying a third of a million dollars for it. It is now worth a whole million and with Shanghai real estate values booming, it will soon reach a still higher level.

DAMAGE SUIT ASKS $20,000

Mrs. Donna McDuffey Files Petition in Court

Claiming she had sustained permanent injuries and partial disabilities in an automobile accident here last April, Mrs. Donna McDuffey Thursday filed suit in district court asking $20,000 damages of W. F. Parrish and his daughter, Bertha Parrish McCracken.

Mrs. McDuffey asserts in her petition that on April 12, 1930, she and a Mrs. Bowens were invited by Mrs. McCracken to accompany her to the home of a Wichita Falls dressmaker. While the three were traveling on Tenth street, the petition states, Mrs. McCracken began to "swerve and turn" the automobile from one side of the street to the other.

It is alleged that after she had swerved the car to the left side of the street, it collided with another machine driven by Don Taylor of Wichita Falls.

The claim of $20,000 is based upon alleged permanent injuries and nervous shock arising from infections of the wounds suffered by Mrs. McDuffey when she was thrown through the windshield of the Parrish car.

Lake Closed to Bathers After Third Drowning

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14. (AP)—Foside's lake, on city park property, which today claimed its third victim by drowning in six weeks was ordered closed to swimmers late today.

About the same time, Chief of Police Henry Lee, was notified of threats made in an unannounced quarter to blow up the lake dam with dynamite tonight. He ordered a policeman stationed there and the park department detailed a special watchman. The threats were supposed to have followed the third death by drowning that of Edwin Reed, 11, who fell off a raft into 18 feet of water and, unable to swim, drowned because there was no one there to save him. Two youths drowned in the city-owned lake in July.

BANDITS LOOT SPENCER BANK

Robbers Burn Car After $1,000 Haul

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 14. (UP)—Two bandits robbed the State Bank of Spencer, 10 miles northeast of here, shortly before noon today, shot Cashier E. S. Poole and escaped with about $1,000 in cash.

Officers lost their trail in Oklahoma City shortly after the robbery when the bandits burned their automobile and were picked up by another automobile, presumably carrying accomplices.

Mrs. Poole, wife of the wounded cashier and herself a vice president of the bank, said her husband told her one of the bandits shot him accidentally.

"They were both amateurs and young," Poole said. "One of them became nervous and discharged his pistol. The shot struck my arm."

Just outside of the city limits, the bandits poured gasoline over their car, which was believed to have been stolen from the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company here. Another car picked them up. The last seen of them was when they drove north out of Oklahoma City.

Mysterious Disappearance of Aged Couple Explained by Police Chief

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14. (INS)—The mysterious trip to Ohio of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kern, which elicited concern for their safety from St. Louis and Toledo, Ohio, authorities today had been cleared up to some extent by a statement of Chief of Police Gerk of St. Louis.

Chief of Police Gerk declares that he learned from a reliable source that the wealthy retired St. Louisian, Kern, had found a pocketbook, said to have contained $900,000 in a Toledo hotel and that when the owner showed up to claim the money he offered out of apparent gratitude to let Kern and a companion in on a big transaction which would net them a "huge profit."

Toledo police searched the Ohio highways for Mr. and Mrs. Kern when it was learned that they left a train at Defiance, Ohio, in company with two men and got into an automobile with them.

Kern was known to have a bank draft for $70,000 in his possession at the time and it was feared by the police that the couple were in the hands of a notorious band of swindlers.

Although the Kerns keenly resented the publicity which attended their trip and shunned reporters it was learned that the bank draft was still in their possession upon their return.

CYCLONE HITS NAPLES, ITALY

Inhabitants Terrified By Death Dealing Storm

By PRINCE PIGNATELLI

NAPLES, Aug. 14. (US)—Neapolitans tonight prepared to give divine thanksgiving for their escape from last month's earthquake, terrified and saddened by the death-dealing cyclone that early this morning swept a section of the city.

The cyclone brought death to four persons, injured six others probably fatally and 70 less seriously. Occurring on the eve of tomorrow's celebration of Assumption Day feast, when by order of Cardinal Ascalesi the Virgin Mary, traditional protectress of Naples, is to be thanked for sparing the city the ruin and death the quake brought to south central Italy, today's disaster left the city in a panic-stricken condition.

The cyclone swept in from the Mediterranean at 6:45 a. m. It had been preceded by an electrical storm of an hour's duration.

Sharing Good Things

Helping yourself you help Texas

The best customer your state has for the food it produces is A & P. The reason is simple: A & P has to buy a larger supply of this food than anyone else because of the demand for it from hosts of housewives all over the country who trade in A & P stores.

This helps the producer just as A & P methods help you. Producers, to prosper, must have sure, quick, and good markets. You, to be satisfied, must have the best of what you like at the lowest possible cost.

Ask the food industries of Texas who are their very big customers—for their vegetables, sugar, flour, cotton seed oil, dairy products, meat products and other famous products. Last year A & P bought more food in Texas, at a fair price, than any other buyer, and will buy still more this year.

Why a low price to you and a fair price to producers? . . . Because all the money you pay A & P for food—less only actual expenses and A & P's small service charge—goes to the producers.

FITZGERALD SWATS HOMER IN TWELFTH TO BEAT INDIANS, 14-12

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

You can never please a sports editor, says my boss. Give him a page with lots of ads on it and he raises sand because he hasn't enough room to print his column and give him two or three pages and he snorts around because he can't fill 'em up.

Well, the last coupla days we haven't had much room and the old Rambler had to suppress a lota steam. Taking a column away from a sports writer makes him feel like Jim Ferguson would if his tongue refused to work every time he wanted to say something hot about his enemies.

So today we're going to ramble all we want to about just any old thing, and make up for lost time.

I guess the thing that's interesting most people is the fastest runner from plate to first contest. Well the latest developments aren't very startling. The fact is, the boys have been hitting the ball so hard they haven't had to run at all. Levey and Burns are still tied for first place. Harry Van Emden brought his stop watch down to the first San Antonio game last Wednesday but he didn't get such good results. Every time a Spudder came to bat he either singled, doubled, or tripled. Levey beat out a bunt in 3.8 seconds, but he has made better time than that. And so we'll have to wait a few days before we can expect to do some good timing.

Not that we are in a hurry at all. If the boys keep socking the ball so hard they don't have to run fast, this contest can just wait. We have no desire to see our bunch losing just so we can time the runners striving to make a base on a scratch hit. No, sir. Our patience won't be tested at all as long as we are heading for that old pennant.

Mrs. H. B. Van Emden approached Guy Airey early this week with a sporting proposition. Mrs. Van, as her friends call her, owns a cleaning and pressing establishment here, you know. So she went to Guy with the offer to clean and press a suit for each Spudder who should hit a home run, and each pitcher to come out victorious in a contest.

That was Sunday. That very day Kloza banged out a homer and Vincent won a game. The next day Kloza hit another homer and Lester White hit one. In addition, White won the game. Have you got two suits, Lester? Tuesday, Steengrafe won a game and hit a home run, and Burns, Crouch, Storti and Bettencourt also hit home runs. And Wednesday Koob won a game and Burns hit a homer. In our estimation, Mrs. Van is indeed a real sport to offer a bargain like that. No wonder the pitching got good this week, and no wonder the balls have been sailing over the fence.

Papa Pratt, skipper of the Waco Cubs, announced while here this week that his club is already making extensive preparations for the Texas league play-off. They have plans pending to widen the Waco ball park by extending it over a neighboring street, a project which will enable the club to accommodate 10,000 fans at the prospective play-off.

Well, we have a poultry expert here named Mose Johnson who made close to a fortune by counting his chickens before they hatched, and maybe Papa Pratt is right. But the old Rambler thinks that Papa Pratt's guess that the Cubs will win the second half is about as accurate as a park department report of a tennis tournament.

But we will say this. If the Spudders can't win the second half title we hope the Cubs do, because the play-off will be strictly a daytime affair. And you know what the Cubs do in the day time. It will be different if Fort Worth wins the title. They'll be a hard bunch to whip in the sunshiny play-off.

In our estimation Mr. James Spider Lightnin' Where's-Tha-Life Levey is one of the oddest creations that ever trod this old crust. Or maybe I should have said, that ever tip-toed o'er this old crust. For the gent seems to be always on his toes. We mean that literally. His heels apparently never touch the ground. Notice him when he walks around. He doesn't use the full extent of either right or left hoof. He trips along on his toes all the time.

Incidentally we've been asked how come the new name, "Where's-Tha-Life." We just decided to give it to him, since he doesn't seem to have many nicknames. When he's in action he's always shouting, "Come on, where's tha life!"

On the other hand, Lin Storti snorts, "Shake 'em up!"

Whereas Bo Euller is always admonishing the pitcher, "Make him hit that ball!"

Of course Euller doesn't mean that exactly. What he means is "make him hit at that ball."

Well, it's a great life any way you take it. Especially since we've got a new umpire. He sauntered onto the lot Monday, mates, looking so fresh and full of life. But before the game was over he had got his. The fans gave him the razzberries on some of his base decisions—no, we mean decisions on the bases—or, on second thought—well, just any way you want to put it. His name was announced as Mr. Dunsmore, or something like that. Make yourself at home, Mr. Dunsmore.

Why don't these umpires do like Harry Kane? This old veteran stands for exactly no foolishness whatever. He even commands the respect of the soda-pop brigade in the stands, and an umpire who can be respected by just one fan, in our estimation, is good enough to be president of the league. Harry, if he is backtalked by a player, tells the boy where to get off. Certain other umps that we know of haven't got nerve enough to do that.

All of which brings to mind this subject. Fred Vincent, you know, recently had a little difficulty with some of the umpires. And even before that he has been known to get a little riled up. But don't get the idea that Freddie is continually getting mad, or that he naturally

MILT STARS IN LAST INNINGS

Outfield Bobble Ties Up Score in Ninth

By FRED D. THOMPSON

After holding the Wichita Falls Spudders at bay until the ninth inning Wednesday and losing only on Irving Burns' home run in the closing frame, the San Antonio Indians Thursday afternoon made Carl Williams' hopefuls toil a little longer, holding them in check until the last half of the 12th, when Howard Fitzgerald's home run with Levey aboard enabled the Spudders to again whip the cellar-ridden Redskins.

The score was 14 to 12. It was a riotous game, won principally through the pitching of Big Milton Steengrafe, the boy who mauled the Cubs last Tuesday. Fred Vincent pitched a creditable game until the eighth inning, when his defense went haywire, the usually alert Spudder infield and outfield combining their bone-headedness to produce five errors and come within an inch of spilling the works. Dick Florrid pitched the ninth inning, but gave way for a pinch hitter. Steengrafe then came in and for three innings held his foes at bay with only one hit at a time when two solid blows would have won the game.

The victory, coupled with Fort Worth's loss to the Houston Buffaloes, shot the Spudders back to their accustomed perch at the top of the league standings, with a full game lead over the Panthers.

Early Inning Rally

In an early inning spree the Spudders scored seven runs, but the Indians, profiting from Spudder errors and four hits off Vincent in the eighth, scored six times to take the lead. After pushing over one run in the seventh the Spudders scored three in the eighth to put them only one run behind. Then in the ninth inning, Ballew, San Antonio right fielder, dropped Euller's fly allowing Burns to score from third to tie the count at 12-all.

Then the battle started. Steengrafe allowed not a hit in the 10th or the 11th. J. Moore singled in the 12th, but the side was thereupon retired.

In the Spudder half of the 12th Levey, first up, beat out a bunt down the third base line after Steengrafe had flied out to right. Storti grounded out, third to first, advancing Levey to second. And Fitzgerald zoomed a high, hard-hit ball over the right center field palings to drive in the winning runs.

Cy Smith Starts

The Indians opened the game with old Cyrus Smith, former Spudder, in the box, and Tom Estell, also a former spudder, razzing his former mates from his post on the first base coaching line. Smith lasted seven innings, finally giving way for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Cottey pitched the ninth, and Cooper finished the game in great style, the two Spudder hits in the 12th being the only ones from the curver's grip.

The Indians started out by scoring two runs off Vincent in the first. Euller bobbled Ballew's grounder and Flippen walked to get two on base in a hurry. J. Moore then singled to left, scoring Ballew and Leslie singled to center, scoring Flippen. Hamilton forced J. Moore at third, Vincent to Euller. Carson struck out and Laveque popped out to Crouch.

Levey, Storti and Fitzgerald went out in order in the Spudder half of the first. In the second the Indians scored again on Kott's base on balls, Smith's sacrifice, and Flippen's single. The Spudders came to life in their half and scored their first on singles by Kloza, Burns and Bettencourt.

The Indians went scoreless in the third but the Spudders took a safe lead by scoring six. Vincent grounded out, pitcher to short to first. Levey and Storti both singled to left. Fitzgerald doubled to center, scoring Levey and advancing Storti to third. Kloza singled past second, scoring Storti and advancing Fitzgerald to third. Burns singled to left, scoring Fitzgerald and advancing Kloza to second. Bettencourt doubled to left, scoring Kloza and advancing Burns to third. Crouch singled to center for the seventh consecutive hit of the inning, scoring Bettencourt. Then Euller hit into a double play, short to second to first, closing the period.

But the Indians kept pecking away. In the fourth Smith and Ballew singled and J. Moore tripled to center to score two more runs. The Spudders went scoreless in their half, and likewise in the fifth and sixth. In the first of the sixth, however, the Indians scored their sixth run, cutting down the Spudder lead to a mere tally. It was done on Ballew's single to center, Flippen's base on balls, and J. Moore's single to center which scored Ballew.

The Spudders widened their lead by one run in the seventh when Fitzgerald singled to center and continued to third when the ball rolled through the center fielder's legs. Burns' sacrifice fly scored the runner.

The Big Eighth

Then came the terrific eighth. It opened with an error. Levey, whose pegs to first had been getting lower and shorter all during the day, finally put one over that Burns couldn't get, allowing Kott, Indian third sacker, on base. Peery, pinch hitting for Smith, struck out. Ballew singled to left advancing Kott to second. Storti bobbled Flippen's grounder, filling the bases. J. Moore singled to left, scoring Kott and Ballew, and continued to third when Kloza let the ball roll almost to the fence. Leslie walked. Hamilton sacrificed to Kloza, scoring J. Moore, and Leslie went to third when Crouch failed to retrieve Kloza's throw-in. Carson singled past Euller, scoring Leslie, and took second on a wild pitch. Laveque singled to left, scoring Carson. Kott flied out to Kloza for the third out.

In their half of the inning the Spudders helped matters along by scoring three. Crouch was safe on the third baseman's bad throw to first. Euller singled to right, Crouch taking second. Bradbury batted for Vincent and blazed a single past third, scoring Crouch, and when the second baseman failed to handle the throw-in from left Euller also scored and Bradbury went around to third. Levey grounded out, second to first, Bradbury scoring. Storti grounded out, third to first. Fitzgerald beat out a bunt but was thrown out stealing, catcher to short.

The Deadlock Tally

After Cottey had singled in the ninth, the next three Indians went out in order. But the Spudders showed more life. Kloza, first up, walked. Burns beat out a bunt. Kloza overran second and was thrown out at third, third to catcher who covered third. Bettencourt flied out to left. Crouch singled to center, advancing Burns to third. Euller hit a long fly to right and when Ballew dropped it, Burns scored for the tying run. Geygan batted for Florrid, but fouled out to first for the third out.

Cooper had taken the mound in the ninth for San Antonio after the tying run had been scored, and with the beginning of the tenth it was a pitcher's battle between Cooper and Steengrafe, in which Big Milton came out the winner.

The teams conclude the series today.

Big Bill Defaults Match When Hecklers Poke Fun at His Style

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 14. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden took his turbulent personality out of the Eastern grass courts singles championship today, when he withdrew from the defense of his title in a match with Clifford Sutter, intercollegiate champion from New Orleans.

The youthful Tulane university star had won the first set 6-1, and was leading 4-love, love-15 in the second set when Big Bill took offense at the heckling of the crowd, which packed its way into the bleachers at the Westchester Country club. Preceding Tilden's walkout, the referee frequently requested the crowd to refrain from showing any signs of partisanship. As the ace of the American Davis cup team left the court he said "I can't stand this any longer."

Tilden throughout the match, limped and let ordinary easy returns drop for placements to Sutter's credit. After several such plays a portion of the crowd began to laugh at the lanky Philadelphia's style. Two or three times before defaulting he paused and cast his famous "glare" in the direction of the hecklers.

After a short rest Tilden took the court with his doubles partner, Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle but the veteran combination lost to Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Calif., and Ellsworth Vines Jr., Pasadena, Calif., national junior doubles champion. The score was 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 and placed the youthful West coast pair in the semi-finals.

Hunter also lost in his singles match falling before Johnny Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-2.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Berkeley Bell of Austin, Texas, were the other favorites to come through to the semi-final. Mangin turned back Ted Burwell, Charlotte, N. C., youth, 6-3, 6-4, while Bell managed to eliminate the young Harvard freshman, Richard Murphy of Utica, N. Y., 4-6, 7-5, 8-6.

The survivors in women's singles today were the two Californians, Miss Marjorie Gladman, Santa Monica, and Miss Helen Marlowe of Los Angeles; the Italian entry, Baroness Giacomo Levi of Rome and Miss Clara Louise Zinke of Cincinnati.

Tells Why Girls Leave Home

LONDON.—Want to know why girls leave home? Commandant Mary Allen, chief of the Women's Auxiliary service, tells you that: "The chief reasons why girls leave home today are dislike of discipline, a taste for adventure or desire for a career, and falling in love with a man of whom parents disapprove. In my experience, the greatest of these is dislike of discipline.

"Many parents, forgetting their own youth, look with scant sympathy on the ideas and aspirations of our modern youngsters. Often they do not even trouble to understand what their daughters are thinking.

"There is, of course, the sensational explanation that is sometimes advanced. But the truth is usually simple enough. Lots of missing girls get jobs and manage to keep their heads above water; others get married and are happy. But shame, anger, pride, or pique stops them from letting their parents know where they are."

has a bad temper. When he was chased from the game the other day and fined by the league president it was the first time in his baseball career either had happened to him.

In the seventh inning of the final game with Waco this week Jasper Crouch pulled one of the flashiest plays of the season. Mr. Tate, Waco's third baseman, grounded one between first and second. Burns was playing in and the ball went by him. Both Burns and Steengrafe started running to cover first. Steengrafe was the closest and should have safely put the man out. But he didn't get over there in time and Storti's throw went over the line toward the visitor's dugout. The runner was safe at first, of course, and started for second.

But Jasper had backed Steengrafe up. He recovered the ball. Tate saw this as he was three or four good steps off of first. To continue to second would have been foolish. There was nothing to do but try to get back to first. He made a dive for it. But Jasper likewise made a dive. And what we mean, a real dive. He suddenly reared up in the air and hit the dirt on all fours, his body sprawling over first base. He succeeded in putting Tate out.

In a tight game, that sort of playing probably would have saved the day. In this case there was no particular reason why Crouch should have risked injury in getting that man out. The Spudders were in the lead by about a score. But that's just the way old Jasper plays the game. Always straining to get the best there is in him. It's that kind of baseball that takes the boys up to the major leagues.

The announcement that Wichita Falls is once again to see wrestling matches seems to have aroused a good deal of interest. Not for months and months has there been a wrestling show here. Not since old Alec Ross held forth in his gymnasium.

John A. Billings, who will manage the shows here, will make many friends in this city, we predict, for the very good reason that he formerly was a ball player. This town loves baseball, and will do anything for anybody connected with the sport.

Billings is a young man, and yet he is a veteran of the national pastime. His role was that of catcher. He has played hither and yon over a period of years, and his career includes a four-year stretch with the Dallas Steers in the middle twenties when Jakie Atz wasn't around to keep Dallas from having a good ball club.

Billings started his baseball career with Topeka of the Western league when but a mere lad. Later he played with Quincy, Ill., of the Three-Eye league. From Quincy he went up to Cleveland Indians, and finally landed with the St. Louis Browns, parent club of the Spudders, in 1919. He was with the Browns for five years, until 1923. In 1924 he toiled the season through with Kansas City of the American association, and in 1925 the vagaries of the pastime landed him with the Dallas Steers.

That year Billings was part and parcel of a swell Dallas club which lost out only on the home stretch, Fort Worth winning the pennant in the play-off. The next year, 1926, he was part of an even better machine which won the Texas league flag and the Dixie series. He was with them again in 1927, when our own Spudders won two pennants, and again in 1928.

He started the season with the Steers last year but was released. Then he managed the Waynesboro, Pa., club of the Blue Ridge league, a Cardinal farm, and this year managed the Alexandria, La., club of the Cotton States league until the club was disbanded at the end of the first half.

A long and useful career. He is a good friend of Skipper Carl Williams, and still hankers for the old pastime.

But now the promoting business has called him, and, in association with Bert Willoughby of Dallas, he's planning a series of matches here. Willoughby, we understand, features some of the best wrestlers in the country on his cards, and many of them will be routed through this city.

The Morning Mail

In comes a letter with a question:

"Dear Rambler:

"Who led the Texas league in runs batted in in 1929, and what was his total?

"As I am a subscriber of The Record News, would you please answer this question in The Rambler's Corner.

"Yours respectfully,

"Tate Robinson,

"Clovis, N. M."

That's easy. The league leader in runs batted in last season was Fred Bennett, outfielder for the Wichita Falls Spudders, and his total was 145 runs.

On the Tennis Courts

Little John Benton, 13-year-old tennis player of no mean ability, was defeated in the semi-finals of the boys' singles last Saturday by Ted Norwood. Little John fought hard but finally had to accept defeat. This hurt him very much. He was lamenting his fate long afterwards.

Then the Rambler rambled up and told John that he was 20-such-and-such years old and won his first set that very day. This made John a little more cheerful.

Babe Anderson knows this racket of racqueteering to a fine edge and should do wonders in the state tournament at Dallas . . . John Graham is a good tennis player, but he wears red socks on the courts. . . . Tennis players are supposed to drink very little water between sets, but I drank two quarts and lived over it . . . Some players who ride to the courts in cars bring along a thermos bottle of iced water, and usually get two sups out of it before a bunch of torrid players discover and steal it . . . That's the way I got mine, but don't tell anybody . . .

Considerably less than one per cent of American men are graduates of a college of any kind.

CHICAGO WINS THIRD, 5 TO 1

Brooklyn Tally in Ninth Averts Shutout

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The brawny right arm of Percy Lay Malone throttled the Brooklyn Robins to a mere chirp today and derricked the Cubs back into a full game lead in the bitter fight for the National league pennant.

Backed by faultless support and bunched hits early in the struggle that carried him over the top, the big fireman from Altoona, Pa., gave Uncle Wilbert Robinson's warriors just eight scattered blows and conquered them, 5 to 1, in the third game of the first place series. Thirty-eight thousand spectators gave him a big ovation as he waded through the flatbush ranks with his famous smoke-ball that never worked more effectively. He struck out six, walked but three and permitted but one man to reach third up until the final inning.

Misses Shut Out

But for a careless let-up in the ninth inning, Malone would have daubed the whitewash on the Robins. Babe Bressler opened the inning with a weak single and when the next two batters flied out, Bressler was permitted to jog around to third base without a play. Then Johnny Frederick came through with a single over second that scored Bressler and wiped out what looked like an almost certain shut-out.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the first three innings during which they sent Watson Clark, Brooklyn's prize left-hander to the showers.

Gabby Hartnett started the rush that netted another run in the second.

The Cubs added their final two runs in the third.

Root May Pitch Today

Today's triumph not only pushed the Cubs to a full game lead in the pennant scramble, but placed them in an excellent position for tomorrow's game. Manager Joe McCarthy indicated he would send Charles Root or Young Bud Teachout to the mound while Manager Robinson expected to send in Adolfo Luque, the tricky Cuban who has beaten the Cubs twice this season. In winning the first game St. Louis extended their latest winning streak to six straight.

Cup Challenger Awaits Big Test

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 14. (AP)—Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger for the America's cup, swung gently at her anchor off here today as her brawny crew rested after their boisterous 26-day passage from England's shore.

The Erin, Sir Thomas' steam yacht which convoyed the challenger tied up at an electric boat works dock to unload Shamrock's top mast and spare spars and other gear. The latter included a spare center board, built entirely of bronze and devised to slip up through Shamrock's keel.

Officials of the boatyard said today it might be Monday before everything would be in readiness for the intensive work of preparing the challenger for her coming test with one of four candidates for the defense of the cup. Stepping of the top-mast represents a difficult task. The top section of the spar, which fits into the lower part, must be hoisted more than 100 feet into the air. A wooden tower will be built on the pier to attain so tall a lifting purchase.

The Erin will leave tomorrow for New York to meet Sir Thomas, due here on the Leviathan Saturday. He is not expected to come immediately to New London, but probably will spend some days in his New York office, as he has on previous cup invasions.

Stars Selected For S. A. A. U. Team

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Ten outstanding athletes of the Southwest were named today by Secretary L. Dibenedetto, of the Southern Amateur Athletic union, to compose the S. A. A. U. team to compete in the National Amateur Athletic union track and field meet at Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday of next week. The team was selected from Louisiana and Texas.

The members, club they represent and the events in which they will enter include:

Cy Leland, (Fort Worth A. C.) senior 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Nelson Greer (Houston A. C.) senior half-mile and quarter-mile.

Clyde Blanchard (Houston A. C.) senior high hurdles and special 400-meter hurdles.

Claude Bracey (Houston) senior 100 and 220-yard dashes.

W. G. Smiley, Jr. (Jasper, Texas) junior broad jump and hop-step-and-jump.

Electrics Defeat Dealers, 4 to 2

Flipper Hoskins was the outstanding star Thursday afternoon on Harrison field when he held the Furniture Dealers to four scattered bingles while the Texas Electric Service company team was nosing out on Larry Robertson for a 4 to 2 victory. Both pitchers were in rare form, but Hoskins had a little better of the argument all the way.

Very little was done in the way of hitting, with Pitcher Larry Robertson and Shepherd being the only two men who could break into the hit column for the second time. Shepherd hit two for two for the winners, while Robertson poled out half of his team's four hits off the Kilowatt southpaw.

Preston Beck, of the Furnituremen, again had a great day in the field, accepting five chances without a bobble. Glenn Coolidge, the Kilowatt Terror, made up in the field for his lack of power at the bat by making a couple of nice catches in the outfield. Score:

Smart buyers are getting bigger tire values now than ever before!

Competitive conditions are tightening up in the tire business.

When this happens, high-powered salesmanship usually takes on an extra head of steam.

But don't be confused when the tire dealer with something "special" to sell backs you into a corner.

Just remember the one fact — after years of experience, after testing this value and that, "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

There must be a valid reason for this.

There is: Goodyear Tires are definitely superior, in the two main parts of a tire.

The Goodyear All-Weather Tread is superior in traction.

The Goodyear Supertwist Carcass is superior in vitality and long life.

These superiorities are not sales claims; they are real.

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

Now is the time to get YOURS

The facts certainly are: Goodyear Tires do give greater value.

As far back as 1916, it became a fact that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Every year since that time it has been increasingly true that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Today this preference for Goodyears runs into millions: millions more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

There can be only one conclusion: Goodyear Tires must be better—and at present prices they are a matchless bargain.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—A moderate advance in cotton during today's early trading was followed by declines which carried all the active months into new low ground for the movement under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers combined with local scattered selling.

The new October contract after selling up to 12.05 early broke to 11.77 and closed at that figure, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 11 to 16 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points and the active months sold about 9 to 13 points net higher during the early trading on some trade and commission house buying together with covering promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and uncertainty as to the probable showing on drouth conditions expected during the early afternoon.

Reports that cotton was being offered at a tenderable basis in some parts of the South, and that hedging was beginning to increase, were regarded by local traders as accounting for a little more southern selling at times here during the day. Private advices from New Orleans quoting a member of the Federal Farm board in part as believing that the drouth has cut down the potential yield of cotton but has also killed boll weevils so that the remaining cotton would average more bales per acre than it would otherwise, was also discussed in connection with the afternoon decline.

Liverpool cables reported that hedging and liquidation had been absorbed by covering on expectations of a bullish drouth report. Exports today 1,830, making 77,603 so far this season. Port receipts 14,592. U. S. port stocks 1,598,795.

Futures closed easy, 11 to 16 points lower, spot quiet; middling 12.05.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—The cotton market was more active today and the price trend was again downward. After advancing in the early trading 9 to 10 points on good cables and the absence of rain in the Central and Western belts, the market weakened on a statement from a member of the farm loan board to the effect that prices would be lower this season owing to the large surplus and that the effect of the drouth had been offset by the good prospects in the eastern belt and the absence of weevils.

Prices broke sharply on this statement, declining 21 to 22 points. They continued to decline in the late trading and December broke through the 12 cent line, 28 points under the late highs. There was a slight rally at the end and the close was steady, showing net losses for the day of 12 to 45 points.

Liverpool came in 5 to 6 points better than due and first trades here showed no change to 8 points up, after receding a few points in sympathy with New York, prices rallied on the weather map, showing little or no rain in the drouth areas, October trading up to 12.83 and December to 12.23, up 9 to 10 points.

The market weakened sharply after midsession on the statement from a member of the farm loan board that prices would be lower. ## End of Climb Reveals Stocks Act In Response to Internal Conditions

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (US)—The stock market showed plainly today that it was responding more to internal technical conditions than any fundamental factor. The rally which commenced the day previous was carried, sometimes at a fairly rapid pace in the more volatile issues, through the morning. But it failed to hold as buying power waned and the close found changes unimportant compared with the final levels of Wednesday. At the same time there was some satisfaction in the market's demonstrated ability to hold for the day at least its general level. Volume declined appreciably, totaling but 1,523,000 shares, against two-million-share volume the two preceding days. The decreased activity, too, developed as price receded. All in all, however, it was purely a speculative affair, whose significance on the longer-term outlook was nill.

Short covering, it was generally admitted, acounted for the strength shown on Wednesday and early today. The size of the short interest is highly debated in the street, with claims that it amounts to record size being disputed. One large wire house, which ordinarily is thoroughly representative of the country, reported that the short position of its customers is the largest in the firm's history, amounting to almost 150,000 shares. Perhaps half of this, however, represents "selling against long holdings." Other houses queried likewise reported their customers short a record amount of stock, with a corresponding increase in number of short-sellers, indicating a large public short interest.

However, this condition was not the case with still other houses, some of whom reported either comparatively small short positions among their customers or sizeable short positions in concentrated form. This latter selling usually is shrewd and the most dangerous for the market. Since it represents action taken only upon extensive survey by powerful interests. It is likely that the influence of the short interest, except for such rallies as just witnessed, is exaggerated.

Some cheer was gained by an advance in steel scrap prices at Pittsburgh, the first upturn in several weeks. Usually this is an index of higher Steel prices throughout the market, but on advance is insufficient. Earlier in the year a similar 25-cent increase took place but it was not followed. Steel common fluctuated within relatively narrow range and finally closed almost unchanged. The independents, however, continued under pressure, with Republic breaking 5½ points to a new low for the year. Motor shares were likewise nervous as trade reports indicated disappointing response to the new models. General Refractories proved a strong feature, as more active market sponsorship was forecast with entrance of a new group in its market affairs.

A sharp break in Canadian Pacific, forcing it to a new low for the year, proved the most unsettling development of the afternoon. The stock was off over 10 points and its decline hardly could be attributed to a bear raid, the popular explanation for the break in many stocks. Canadian's weakness affected the entire list and many stocks which had scored substantial gains were quick to respond to its weakness. Case Threshing closed virtually unchanged after having been up almost seven points making a total gain for the last two days of over 21 points. Incidentally, there is said to be considerable difference of opinion regarding this Morgan issue. General Foods was firmer, as information was broadcast that this company is in exceptionally fine position with respect to its corn and wheat requirements, its management having provided for requirements of wheat over the next 10 months and of corn until the first of the year. Both corn and wheat purchases were made, it was stated, at prices considerably below prevailing quotations.

Grain prices generally were steady despite further evidence the extended drouth seems to have ended. Important banking quarters regarded the agricultural situation, insofar as it affects the general economic structure, as about evenly divided between its favorable and unfavorable aspects. Money remained firm, while foreign exchange was featured by easiness in the French franc, with its suggestion the outflow of gold to that country may at least temporarily have ended.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14. (AP)—Improved demand was reported Thursday for wheat for export. Premiums were stronger and Fort Worth exporters were trying to buy all grain possible on the basis of 93¾ to 94½c for ordinary hard wheat delivered gulf ports. Mills were bidding 96 to 97c for ordinary No. 1 hard wheat delivered Texas common points and 97 to 98c for 14 per cent protein. The lowered prices made demand good again after several days of unsettlement in the market.

Light offerings of other grains were easily absorbed with the trade again willing to do business at present price levels. Oats continued slow however.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 83 cars; corn, 8; oats, 2; barley, 1, and sorghums, 10.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed $1.09 to $1.10; No. 2 white or yellow $1.12 to $1.13.

Oats—No. 2 red, 50 to 51c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally, 73 to 75.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, nominally $1.80 to $1.85; No. 2 kaffir $1.70 to $1.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Reassurances that banks will finance the 1930 movement of Canadian wheat and that provincial government guarantees are probable, did much to lift wheat prices today. Persistent reports of unseasonable weather in Europe hampering the wheat harvest there counted also as a stimulus to upturns in wheat values. Besides, export business today in North American wheat was of more liberal volume than of late, 1,000,000 bushels, mainly wheat from the United States, with Liverpool quotations 18c above Chicago, the widest difference so far this season.

Chicago's closing prices on wheat were firm ⅞-1⅛c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to ¾c lower, oats ¼-⅜c up, and provisions unchanged to 5c down.

Helping to emphasize that prospective financing of operations of the Canadian growers' pool would be conducted about as heretofore, except as to the amount of the initial payment to farmers, was word that the heavy selling which upset the Winnipeg wheat market yesterday was largely for Chicago account.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by the action of corn.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (US)—In the interim between the excitement of the heat wave and its drouth damage and the time when the extent of that damage will be fairly well known, speculative attention has been diverted to the situation of the Canadian wheat pool. Since its inception, the object of spirited controversy, the pool remains in the eyes of the trade a debatable influence.

State reports on corn indicate much irreparable damage and only limited areas now remain it would seem where improved weather can be of benefit.

Unusual difficulty in hazarding drouth damage to corn will come from the fact that in many sections the principal damage was checking of proper pollinization resulting in poor ears. In such instances extent of damage will remain practically unknown until actual harvest of the grain.

Some of the reports of heavy truck shipments of corn to drouth areas in Illinois said farmers were receiving $1 per bushel for their corn and replacing it for their own feeding with wheat bought at 75c per bushel.

New wheat in France is said to be of low natural weight and offers of new wheat from farmers are very small.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 14. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Livestock trade around the 11 market circuit was featured by another price upturn on hogs. General trade was active at prices unevenly 15 to 40 cents higher. Shippers were liberal buyers of weight averages 250 pounds down. At a few of the river markets packers failed to follow the pace set by shippers. The day's extreme top of 10.50 was paid at St. Louis. Offerings were around 56,900.

Fat lambs moved freely at strong to 25 cents higher rates, but no change was registered on mature classes of sheep. Chicago scored $9.85 on choice native lambs while in Omaha choice rangers made $9.50. The supply approximated 48,000.

The cattle market had a healthy tone with moderate receipts and a fair demand at eastern dressed beef markets as the chief stimulating factors. Killing classes were on a steady to 25 cents higher basis with the most advance reported at Chicago on medium weight and heavy steers. Packers also continued to display considerable interest in common light weight grass steers, and the lower grades of cows. Chicago had a top of $10.75 on yearlings and realized $10.25 on medium weight steers. Stocker and feeder classes were scarce at steady prices. Recent rains have had a tendency to stimulate trade on stockers but many potential feeder buyers are delaying their purchases claiming that current prices on feeders are too high as compared to values for finished steers. Receipts were estimated at 21,500.

PIGS PROBLEM

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Here's a conundrum facing the city fathers. Pigs on Riker's island, where there is a city dump, are being killed by ferocious dogs kept on the island to kill equally ferocious rats. Employes refuse to go on the island unless accompanied by the dogs. One suggested solution is that a fence be built to protect the pigs.

In the afternoon further recessions occurred and a new low record for the season was made. Prices reacted a few points on the near months. Cables were 4 to 8 American points better than due but were ignored by American exchanges.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Cotton goods were in light demand today at low prices. Some silk goods were being sold on a competitive basis with the better rayons and cutters were taking more of them for fall use. Wool goods were quiet, with some spot business on suiting and overcoatings being booked.

District as Large as New England

If you think you have a good many troubles, just consider the case of Mayor R. E. Thomason, above, of El Paso, Texas, who has just won the Democratic nomination for congress from the sixteenth Texas district, which is equivalent to election. He must please constituents in an area as large as the whole of New England, as the sixteenth Texas district comprises 38 counties with an area of more than 65,000 square miles and is the largest congressional district in the nation. The above maps show how the district compares in size with New England.

Woman's Return From 'Death' Ensnarls Husband's Affairs

BELLOWS FALLS, Vermont, Aug. 14. (AP)—The reappearance here of Mrs. Catherine Rockwell Packard, wife of George J. Packard, of Rutland, today had given her the role of a feminine Enoch Arden and had produced a mystery involving suicide or murder and mistaken identity which officials sought to unravel.

More than a year ago, Mrs. Packard disappeared from her Rutland home. In August, 1929, the body of a woman found in a Chester pasture was identified by Packard as that of his wife. On the body was a note which read: "I am sick of life and am going where I will be happy."

On July 14 of this year, Packard married again. His second wife was Margaret L. MacFarland of Rutland. On that same date, an insurance company refused to pay insurance on the first wife.

Recently the supposedly dead Mrs. Packard made an appearance in Manchester, N. H. She explained she had been "out west." She returned to Vermont Sunday.

Investigators said Mrs. Packard admitted having written the note found on the body of the dead woman, during a period of despondency. How another person obtained it she could not explain.

KENORA, Ont.—Jim Wyder, farmer in the East Melick area, sure has hard luck. Two days ago while out in the fields, he was warned that his home was burning. He returned to find it burned to the ground. The following day, as he sought to straighten up the ruins, hail beat down his crops and ruined them. The hailstones were as large as hen's eggs.

STRAND: "Manslaughter" with Claudette Colbert and Fredric March. Short subjects and Paramount sound news.

STATE: Hoot Gibson in "Roaring Ranch." Comedy and sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Captain of the Guard" with John Boles. Comedy and sound news.

GEM: Buffalo Bill Jr. and Yakima Canutt in "Bar L. Ranch." Comedy and chapter six of "Lightning Express."

Those who remember the wreck scene in the silent version of "Manslaughter" will be interested in comparing it with that in the talkie starting at the Strand today . . . especially since it's the same scene! Although it's Leatrice Joy at the wheel, she and Claudette Colbert look enough alike that, with a little sound effect added, the several feet of film was just pasted in. (And that information was not gleaned from a press sheet.)

Charlie Ruggles and Ginger Rogers, the two who put over one of the funniest shots in history in "Young Man of Manhattan" (the telephone conversation in which Shorty explained to Puff about the "If-At Girl"), are again presented at the Majestic Saturday, in "Queen High." If Charlie gets drunk and Ginger gets hot, there should be plenty of fun.

Another presentation for Saturday—a midnight matinee—is "Let's Go Native," which will be shown here for the first time in Texas. Jeanette MacDonald, Jack Oakie, Kay Francis, Eugene Pallette, Skeets Gallagher and a lot of others are cast in this new production. "Let's Go Native" will also be brought here for a three or four-day run in about two weeks, the Saturday night offering being only a preview.

Beginning Wednesday at the Majestic, audiences will be treated to a moving picture which looks like the old family album on parade. Bustles, buggies, bicycles and the first horseless carriage are all shown in "The Floradora Girl" which stars Marion Davies. By that time, we will have almost forgiven the Majestic for billing "Captain of the Guard."

BURIAL CASE DELAYED

The trial of a case charging Albert's Funeral home with conducting a burial without obtaining a permit from the city health department, set for 2 p. m. Thursday in the justice court of Judge R. V. Gwinn, was continued one week at the request of the defendant, who was conducting a funeral at that hour.

RACING PLANES HERE AUG. 21

Derby Entrants to Spend Hour in Wichita

Numerous inquiries are being received at local chamber of commerce offices, it was announced Thursday, relative to the stop to be made at the Municipal airport next Thursday morning by racing planes in the Brownsville-Chicago air derby.

Interest in the landing here has been aroused by the fact that the race is expected to bring a number of expert racing pilots to this city in specially prepared ships representing a number of manufacturers, according to the letters received.

The Brownsville-Chicago derby is one leg of the National Air Races which bring experienced aviators from all parts of the country into Chicago against time, and there affords them one week of competitive flying with prizes totalling $100,000 as the incentive. The race which will bring the fleet of racing ships to this city will be broken into several jumps, stops being scheduled in most of the larger cities between Chicago and Brownsville, and will be won by the plane showing the least net flying time. For that reason, landings and take-offs are made with the greatest possible speed, as each ship will be stopwatched as it slips across the finish line at each control point both on arrival and departure.

Scheduled to leave Fort Worth at 8:30 a. m. next Thursday, the racing planes are expected to land here about 9:30 o'clock, according to estimates made by officials in charge of the event. Departure from the local airport will be at 10:30, the ships leaving in the order of arrival from Fort Worth. Final arrangements for the stop here, which will occasion servicing of the ships, will be completed Friday when Richard Allen of Chicago will confer with members of the local chamber of commerce aviation committee, it was said. The hour of Mr. Allen's arrival had not been learned Thursday evening.

Theft Charges Filed In Stripping of Car

Charges of theft over $50 were filed against C. A. Bledsoe and Joe Duffield before Judge R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, late Thursday afternoon in connection with the alleged stripping of an automobile belonging to Kermit Williams, negro, Wednesday night.

The complaint was taken by Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney. After Williams had reported the theft of his automobile, police found the car in the brush at the end of Tenth street, according to Frank Burns, chief of police. The two men were taken into custody by officers Poe and Webb when they were found with the automobile.
