Cotton Forecast for Year Is 15-Half Millions; Price Falls

Breaks Over $2 On New Orleans Mart

Estimate Is Three Millions Above Ginnings in '36

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (P) — The Agriculture department today forecast a crop of 15,593,000 bales of cotton for this year. The forecast was based on conditions as of August 1, and acreage cultivation as of July 1.

Last year's crop was 12,398,082 bales.

The Texas estimate this year is 12,538,000 acres in cultivation with the crop 82 percent normal. The estimate for Texas is 4,314,000 bales.

The condition of the nation's crop as of August 1 was said to be 81.3 percent normal, with a total acreage of 33,429,000.

In New Orleans, cotton broke more than $2 per bale during frenzied selling induced by the government crop forecast.

Cotton opened at 10.87 this morning, climbed to 10.92 before the forecast was issued, then dropped rapidly to 10.36 soon after the forecast was given. At the close of the day's trade it had climbed back to 10.43, a drop of approximately $2.50 per bale.

Tax Collections in County Heaviest in Several Years

Collection of county taxes for the fiscal year ending July 1 was the heaviest since the years before the depression, figures released from the tax collector's office today showed. When 1936 taxes were delinquent on July 1, 90 per cent of the current county taxes had been collected.

This was an increase of 23 per cent over the collections the previous year, the collections on July 1, 1936 for 1935 taxes having been 67 per cent.

County Judge E. H. Barron said today that the heavy increase in payment of county taxes is attributed to the reduction in rate, having been brought down to 85 cents on the $100 valuation from a rate of $1.50 which had been in effect for ten years. He said that with continuation of prompt payment of taxes, and with a minimum of delinquencies, the low rate may be maintained or further reductions effected in the future.

Prior to the depression, collections of county taxes ran as high as 98 per cent of the total for the year. Midland, according to auditors, always has accounted for a heavier collections than most counties in the state.

Street Decorations Contract Will Be Given Tomorrow

Members of the Retailers committee of the chamber of commerce will meet in the chamber of commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of letting a contract for the decoration of the downtown streets for the annual Cowboy Contest, Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Bids have been received from firms operating out of Big Spring, San Angelo and Pecos, representatives from each of the firms having been invited to attend the Tuesday morning session.

Chairman W. B. Simpson urges a full attendance of committee members.

Members of the committee are: W. B. Simpson, chairman; J. H. Casselman, J. C. Smith, Barron, Wadley, P. A. Nelson, Luther Tidwell, Barney Greathouse, S. M. Vaughan, L. G. Mackey and Paul McHargue.

Thousands of Silk Workers Walk Out

PATERSON, N. J. Aug. 9. (P) — Thousands of silk workers quietly quit their looms today, joining in a CIO called strike which representatives of both employers and employees said brought near complete stoppage of work in the 500 mills here.

The call out was intended by CIO leaders to unite 60,000 silk and rayon workers in what they said would become the "first general strike in the industry."

BURN PROFESSOR TODAY

AUSTIN, Aug. 9. (P) — Funeral services will be held today for Dr. Killis Campbell, 65, veteran university of Texas professor, and an authority on Edgar Allan Poe, who died yesterday after a long illness.

Four 'Parents' Claiming Donald

Slightly bewildered by the claims and counter claims of two sets of parents, 31-month-old Donald Regan-Horst laughingly enjoys a romp with his real mother and father, John and Lydia Regan, top photo, and lovingly bids goodbye to his foster-parents, Otto and Martha Horst, below, before going to a Chicago orphanage where he will await a court decision on his case. Object of a wide search after his "kidnaping" from the Horst home, Donald was surrendered to authorities by the Regans, who declared the boy, born out of wedlock, had been given to the childless Horsts at birth. Mrs. Horst is equally determined to keep him.

Roads Around Shanghai Are Barricaded

2 Soldiers Slain After Clash Near City's Airdrome

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9. (P) — Chinese peace preservation corps barricaded roads leading into areas around Shanghai tonight after a clash in which one Japanese and one Chinese soldier had been killed.

Chinese said the trouble occurred when a Japanese marine motor truck attempted to enter the Chinese government's Hungjiao airdrome.

Simultaneously, responsible circles said the Japanese army apparently believed the time had come for peace negotiations with China on the army's own terms: recognition of Japanese control of the North China Hopeh province.

Sale of Democratic Year Books Being Investigated Now

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (P) — Republican leader Snell, New York, made public today a letter in which Attorney General Cummings said that the justice department is investigating the legality of the democratic national committee's sale of 1936 year books autographed by President Roosevelt.

Replying to a letter from Snell asserting that he had evidence indicating the sale was an "illegal device to avoid the law governing political campaign contributions," Cummings said the department was making a query "with respect to this matter."

Ex-Convict Admits Attacking, Slaying 8-Year-Old Child

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. (P) — Assistant District Attorney Frederick Kopff announced Saturday that Lawrence Marks, 49, ex-convict, had admitted the attack-slaying of Paula Magagna, 8, in Brooklyn July 31. Marks was taken into custody late Saturday and questioned for thirteen hours.

The Magagna girl, strangled with a clothesline, was found in the basement of her tenement home only an hour or two after she had gone out to play.

Marks was taken to the scene of the crime early Sunday. The prosecutor said he re-enacted the killing.

The ex-convict was charged with the murder of the girl when Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine arrived at the Brooklyn police station at which Marks had been questioned.

400 Suspects Questioned.

Marks, an unemployed hospital orderly, who has served jail terms for larceny, criminal assault and impairing the morals of a minor, lived with his wife in a furnished room about two miles from the Magagna home.

He was released from the Great Meadow Penitentiary at Comstock, June 13, after serving time for parole violation.

Police had questioned about 400 suspects before Marks was apprehended.

Enactment of Wage, Hour Bill Asked by Labor Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (P) — The house labor committee formally recommended today enactment of the revised version of the wage and hour bill already approved by the senate, asserting it would greatly strengthen collective bargaining. The bill, designed to apply only to industries of interstate commerce and those directly affecting such commerce, empowers the national labor standards board to fix minimum wages of 40 cents an hour and 40 hours per week.

Dollar Polo for 40 Cents Slated Saturday, Sunday

Admission to the polo games Saturday between the southwestern championship Wichita Falls team and a picked team representing Midland will be only 40 cents, it was announced today by Jay H. Floyd. Although the customary admission charge to games of that class elsewhere is a dollar, the local club members decided to take chances on financial outcome of the two-day engagement in order to bring out more people who should become interested in polo as result of the fast action expected.

Games both Saturday and Sunday will be played at 5:30 p. m. to make the hot weather easier on spectators, players and horses. The new field at Midland Fair grounds, recently built inside the race track oval, is in prime condition for fast playing.

Playing for Wichita Falls will be a veteran aggregation which has won more southwestern championships than any other club. The pennant has been taken home to Wichita Falls the past three seasons.

At the No. 1 position will be Ernest Fain, crack player who owns the fastest string of thoroughbreds now playing the game in Texas; at No. 2 will be Horace Robbins, a veteran; at No. 3 Luther Weeks, of El Rancho fame, and at No. 4 the "old man of polo," Chas. Featherstone, a hard riding, accurate hitting, impenetrable back who has used up more horses than any player in Texas.

The hand picked Midland team will enter the games as under-dogs, although having individual players of considerable ability. The fact that they have not been playing as a unit will give the Wichita favorites still better odds. However, with A. C. Woodward of Lubbock at No. 1, Gene Linthicum of Barnhart at No. 2, Jay H. Floyd of Midland at No. 3 and Franklin Cowden of Midland at No. 4, a fast foursome will be on the field for the locals. Sheriff Gus White of Lamesa will sub for Midland and Jack Robbins, son of Hor-

Wasson Southwest Extension Is Seen As Mathews Swabs Oil

By FRANK GARDNER.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Florence Matthews, mile and a quarter southwest extension to the Wasson pool in northwest Gaines, was shut down this morning for repairs to parted swab line after swabbing 54 barrels of fluid, nearly all oil, on four-hour test following 1,000 gallon acid treatment. Immediately after the acid job, while cleaning out, it had swabbed 38 barrels of fluid, 20 percent water and 15 percent basic sediment. Before acid, the well swabbed an average of a barrel of oil hourly. It is bot-tomed at 5,018 feet in line and is located in the northeast corner of section 417, block D, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey.

Carter No. 2 Sharp is drilling line at 4,936 feet, no shows reported, while Continental No. 1 McCarty Moore is drilling plug, circulating oil. Phillips and I. T. I. O. No. 1 Brand was coring from 8,482 to present depth. Amerada No. 1 Cox is drilling at 3,616 in anhydrite. Amerada No. 1 Armstrong is preparing to run 7-inch casing, bot-tomed at 4,992 feet in line. It will rig up standard tools.

Continental No. 1 Jones was shut down to test after drilling the last three feet at an average rate of four minutes per foot. It is bottomed at 5,126 feet in line. Argo No. 1 Jones is drilling line unchanged at 4,944 feet.

In southwest Yoakum, Texas No. 1 Walker is drilling line at 4,755; Bohago and Bond No. 1 West is circulating at 5,183, waiting on 7-inch casing; Denver P. & R. No. 1 West is drilling plug; Moore Brothers No. 1 Cleveland is drilling lime and anhydrite at 4,290 feet.

Sulphur water today apparently condemned chances of production in two widely-separated wildcats, one six miles east of Big Spring in Howard county and the other two and a quarter miles east of production in the O'Brien pool in north-ern Ward.

Roy A. Westbrook, Dick Graham et al No. 1 Great West Refining Company, the Howard wildcat near the Cosden refinery, was shut down for orders at 3,052 feet in line, with a hole full of black sulphur water originating from 3,035 to bottom.

The wildcat attracted widespread attention last February when it struck an air pocket at 1,450 feet and flew wild, making as high as 368,000,000 cubic feet per day of nearly pure nitrogen at the peak of its flow. Unable to kill the well, operators had to let it blow for several months, "air" gradually diminishing until it was sufficiently low that pipe could be run. Location of the test is 430 feet from the north and 390 feet from the west line of section 48, block 32, township 1 north, T. & P. survey.

The Ward failure is Fullerton Oil Company No. 1 Sealey estate, 330 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 32, block A, G. & M. M. B. & A. survey, which was ordered abandoned at total depth of 4,006 feet after developing a hole full of salty sulphur water from 4,001-06. No shows of any consequence were encountered by the Fullerton try.

Winkler Wildcat Flows
W. H. and W. D. Wilson No. 1 Grant - Campbell (1-C Campbell), Winkler wildcat a mile east of two abandoned wells in the Bashara pool, has been completed for flow of 200 barrels a day. Now the sole producer in the area, it was shot with 490 quarts from 3,064 to 3,290, the total depth. Top of pay was 3,095. The well is located 330 feet from the south and 990 feet from the west line of section 18, block B-3, public school land.

R. A. Westbrook No. 1 Kyle, short northeast extension to the Mason pool in northwestern Loving, which produces from the Delaware, flowed 572.32 barrels of oil on official 24-hour Railroad Commission gauge. See (OIL NEWS) Page 2

2 Others Are Injured When Cars Collide

Mrs. M. J. Hutchman Accident Victim Late Sunday

Mrs. Hazel Francis Hutchman, 31, a resident of Midland for the past three years, died at 3:30 this morning in a local hospital as the result of injuries suffered late yesterday afternoon in a wreck about three miles east of town.

An attending physician attributed Mrs. Hutchman's death to shock caused by the injuries, a broken leg and broken arm, influenced by her being in ill health previously. She had been an invalid for approximately the past seven years.

Willie Patillo and A. L. Denison, Temple, are both in a local hospital, seriously but not critically injured in the same wreck. M. J. Hutchman, husband of the dead woman, escaped uninjured in the wreck. Hutchman is an interior decorator and painter here.

Patillo and Denison were both reported to have told officers and an attending physician that they hit the car being driven by Hutchman as he apparently started to turn off the highway to his left. The two cars apparently hit almost head-on, both of them having the motors practically demolished.

Denison is a Temple merchant and Patillo is manager of a furniture store owned by him. At the time of accident they were driving west, reportedly enroute to Odessa on business, later planning on driving to Wink and Barstow to visit a son and daughter of Denison.

The body of Mrs. Hutchman will be shipped tonight to Avalon, Penn., her former home and present home of her parents.

The deceased is survived by her husband, one daughter, mother and father, three brothers and one sister.

Work Is Started on The Superior Oil Company Building

Excavation for basement was started today on the Superior Oil Company building at the corner of Colorado Street and Illinois Avenue, one block north of the Petroleum building.

The building will be a modern one-story brick structure, fully equipped throughout to take care of the office space needs of the company's land and geological departments.

C. S. Oates, Abilene, was given the construction permit, and expects to have the building completed within 75 days. David S. Castle is the architect.

The Superior Company operates extensively in West Texas and New Mexico and has nine persons stationed in their Midland offices.

Hall Edwards is head of the land department and Miss Maria Spencer is in charge of the geological department.

Rodeo Interest on Increase; Sponsor, Band Promised

Eighth sponsor to be entered for the Midland Cowboy Contest Sept. 4, 5 and 6 was named today by Alpine. Miss Frances Cotter will represent that city, a letter to the chamber of commerce here said. Miss Cotter is an experienced rider and an attractive young woman, advises here said, and is expected to be a strong contender in the Cowgirl Spoons contest for which the top prize will be a $100 saddle.

The Crane band is ready to come here and play in the parade on the opening day, Sept. 4, when Governor Allred makes his visit, a letter to the chamber of commerce said. Crane has one of the outstanding bands of West Texas and has won trophies in several contests over the country.

Details will be worked out at a meeting of chamber of commerce directors at 8 o'clock tonight, on assistance in publicizing the rodeo and working out special features for the same date.

Adjournment Talk Heard in Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (P) — Talk of adjournment a week from tomorrow spread through the capitol building today.

The house sent the senate lower court bill to a joint conference committee to work out an agreement acceptable to both.

Senator Copeland, New York democrat seeking the New York City mayoralty nomination, commenting on a press report that President Roosevelt had thrown his political influence to his opponent, said the country has a form of "personal dictatorship."

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — It looks as though some rather horrible things may be written about this Congress after it adjourns, but this correspondent begs to report on one act of Congress—generally overlooked—which was rather nice.

Perhaps it was one of those things the boys sometimes do in a moment of absent-mindedness. Anyway, they voted to save the last great grove of sugar pines left standing in the world. John Muir, the naturalist, once called it the world's most beautiful grove of trees. Irving Brant says "it is majestic beyond all human concepts of majesty."

Just in Time.

CONGRESS authorized Secretary Ikes to buy 7000 acres of sugar pine land adjacent to Yosemite Park in California at a cost of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. This tract contains what's left of the "Cary Inn grove."

There are trees which took 500 years to grow and lumber men were cutting them down as fast as they knew how when the bulk of them were saved. Growing 5000 feet above sea level, some of these trees reached 240 feet in height.

The movement to save the trees began 20 years ago. Only the depression saved them in 1930. Within the last year the owners ran a logging railroad right into the heart of the grove's finest section and began creating a stumpy waste. There was a strange amount of opposition to the bill, some of which originated in the Forest Service and was tangled up between that outfit and the National Parks Service. Finally Ikes, Brant, the Emergency Conservation Committee of New York Senator McCauley, and Congressman McGroarty of California got behind a bill to save the pines and put the purchasing bill through.

And the sugar pines, it is said, will be there for thousands of years.

Sportsmanlike Gesture.

SOMETHING else rather decent also happened. The tax loop-hole committee looked over a report on President Roosevelt's income tax return after Republicans had suggested that F. D. R. might be evading or avoiding.

One of those who inspected it was Congressman Allen T. Tread-ed horsemen here who would be apt players. There are many sportsmen who don't mind spending a few dollars just to promote a spectacular game like polo. And the new field at the fair grounds is ideal. Come out Saturday and Sunday and help get the games off to a good start.

Cowboys have a reputation for being longer without a drink of water than any class of workers I know. And, on the other hand, many of them eat salt pork two or three times a day. This morning I ate or tried to eat, some salt pork for the first time in several years. I drank three glasses of water right after breakfast and have been drinking it ever since. I can't get enough water. How a cowboy can eat three or four slices of salt pork for breakfast, go on a drive all the morning, hold the herd at noon, grab a few more slices of salt pork, work in the branding pen all the hot afternoon—all with two or three drinks of water during the day, beats me. I've been ruined with easy living. Give me milder bacon and plenty of drinking water or sodas.

The polo games coming up next Saturday and Sunday will give Midland people a chance to see the game "as it should be played." It won't have Tommy Hitchcock or Cecil Smith in the line-up, but it will have the crack players of the southwest in action. And the horses to be played in these two games will be worth the price of admission. The boys and fans will be out selling tickets early this week. Buy tickets for your family for both days and help get this sport off to a good start.

If the local boys had started out by having a few practice games, using inexperienced players, green ponies, cowboy boots and panama hats, nobody would have been much impressed with polo. But if you will go out and see the fast Wichita Falls southwestern champs, opposed by two local men and some heavy playing neighbors, you will have to admit that polo is the sport of sportsmen.

Polo is just now coming back into its own. The expression that it is a "millionaire's game" isn't far wrong. It costs money to buy, train and keep a string of ponies. It costs money to go about over the country for games. It takes a lot of the players' time to keep fit and ready for action. Those who really play polo the year round have to keep plenty of help to run their business.

Midland is the ideal spot for a first class polo team. The country is full of horses which are polo "prospects" and can be bought more cheaply than the boys in the east can get them. There are many skill-

Texas Tech Boasts Rapid Growth

LUBBOCK, Aug. 9. — Texas Technological College is growing. The number of individual students in college—1936-37 long session was 3,010, an increase of 262 over the year before. This was an increase also of 642 since the year before the building of the dormitories. In other words, Texas Tech has grown to the full extent of its dormitory space in the last three years.

It might be remembered, however, that before we had the dormitories we had all students living in private residences and boarding and rooming houses in the city of Lubbock.

During the last year—1936-37—936 boys and 370 girls lived in private boarding and rooming houses and residences in Lubbock.

Accommodations in Lubbock are still just as good as they were before the dormitories were built. The College administration is actively working with the people of Lubbock and with the students, to find adequate places for every student who may register. At the present time a large number of excellent boarding and rooming houses have been registered with the college authorities. No residence is approved for the rooming of young women unless there is adequate supervision and every necessary means for their full protection.

Thousands of students have lived at Texas Tech comfortably and conveniently in the accommodations provided by citizens of Lubbock. Men and women have gone through college and graduated with the entrance four years under these circumstances. The college is proud of its dormitories, is actively working to obtain additional dormitory space, but does want to call attention of parents and patrons to the fact that there are ample accommodations in Lubbock for many hundreds of student who may wish to come here for the next school year, and the college authorities will be glad to help persons desiring places to room and board under proper and safe conditions to find such places in Lubbock.

Cowboy Band Opens In Mexico City House

ABILENE, Aug. 9. —After spreading the cordial sentiments of Texas throughout northern and central Mexico, the famous Cowboy Band of Hardin-Simmons university opened Friday, Aug. 6, in Mexico City's largest and most renowned showhouse—the Alameda Theatre—for a two weeks engagement.

Since beginning their goodwill and educational tour as special guests of the Mexican government July 18, the West Texas collegians have played in Nuevo Laredo, Monterrey, Saltillo, Tampico, Anawauk, El Monte, and intermediary points before reaching Mexico City.

Packed houses have heard every performance and the Cowboys' peculiar rendition of all types of music has proved especially popular to Mexican audiences, according to re-

A Book A Day

Lad Rides Leaky Banana Boat to Perilous Experiences.

A LAD of 14, unencumbered by dotting kin, packs his duffle bag and ships away on a water-logged banana tub—that's how the hero of "The Anointed" (Farrar & Rinehart: $2.50) starts a career which Clyde Brion Davis makes into an engrossing, convincing tale.

The boy strikes up a friendship with a fellow sailor, a wizened Englishman called "Limo," who urges him to desert the rotten old craft at Vera Cruz. There, for a bit of mischief, the two are put in a military prison on an island off-shore.

Here the boy learns from his pal the science of throwing dice that afterward was to keep him supplied with ready money; here, too, the boy did some deep thinking that was to provide a foundation for an unusually thorough practical education.

Freud by American sailors, Limo settles down with his half-breed mistress, and Harry, the boy resumes his seafaring career, thirsty for knowledge. With the calm assurance that he was brought into the world for a purpose, he passes untroubled through even the most perilous of experiences.

Seeking the reason for everything the lad consults everyone from a Rio hussy to a San Francisco palm-singer. How he found a mate to help him set his course to Truth "across the Black Ocean" brings the book to a satisfactory climax.

Told in straightforward, un-florescent style, "The Anointed" has a theme that readers will enjoy both for its common sense and its readability.—G. F.

Rail Siding Looted
By Scrap Iron Gang

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A little thing like Sussman Brothers' railroad siding wasn't enough to stop a group of enterprising thieves, who removed six rails, spikes and plates, loaded their truck and disappeared the same night.

Samuel Sussman told police the thieves even cut the rails into pieces smaller than their 30-foot lengths as they removed the spikes.

necessity of proration of the oil production in the country became apparent. With this in mind, the New Mexico Legislature of 1929 passed a law providing for the cooperative development of oil fields. This law provided that agreements made in the interest of conservation of oil and gas or the prevention of waste, between and among operators owning separate holdings in the same pool, or in an area that appears to be overlaid by a common accumulation of oil or gas or both, would not be construed to violate any State statutes relating to monopolies or contracts and combinations in restraint of trade. These agreements could be for the purpose of bringing about the development and operation of a pool or area as a unit. Proration was not mentioned specifically but was undoubtedly within the intent of the law. All such agreements were required to have the approval of the State Geologist in order to be legal.

In the case of proration or unit-operation agreements for pools involving State lands, the Commissioner of Public Lands was authorized to enter into such agreements as a party thereto, on behalf of the State, when in his judgment the best interests of the State would be served thereby.

The Legislature of 1935 passed a new Oil and Gas Conservation law. Some of the important provisions of this law are as follows: Waste of oil and gas, both underground and at the surface, is prohibited. The production of crude oil in excess of the reasonable market demand is prohibited.

An Oil Conservation Commission was created, consisting of the Governor of the State, the Commissioner of Public Lands, and the State Geologist. The appointment of the state geologist is by the Governor, as provided for in the 1925 law. This Commission is given jurisdiction over all matters relating to the conservation of oil and gas in the State and the enforcement of the provisions of the Oil Conservation Law. The Commission is authorized to allocate the total allowable production of crude in the State to the various fields, and also to prorate the production of each field to the various units in the field.

This law provides that no more wells shall be drilled than are reasonably necessary, so that each owner can secure his proportionate part of the production of the pool. The establishment of proration units is provided for, a proration unit being an area which can be efficiently and economically drained by one well. The pooling of properties of parts thereof is permitted. Plans for proration or unit operation that are agreed upon by the operators of a pool, may be adopted by the Commission.

The law defines legal oil and illegal or hot oil. The sale, purchase, or acquisition or handling in any other way of crude petroleum oil in excess of the amount set by the Commission, is prohibited. Stringent penalties are provided for the sale, purchase, acquisition or transportation of illegal oil product. Violations of the Oil Conservation Law or the rules, regulations and orders of the Commission, are punishable by a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment. These penalties may be imposed for each day of such violation.

Regulations on Dove Season to Be Asked Of the Legislature

Game Warden Tom Grammar of Midland has received a communication from Will J. Tucker, secretary of the State Game, Fish and Oyster commission, advising that in the special session of the legislature next month, that body will be asked to harmonize state and federal regulations dealing with the shooting of mourning doves and white winged doves.

The contemplated law, according to Tucker, would provide dove hunters with the maximum hunting privileges offered under federal regulations. In a special session last June a bill to coordinate State and Federal regulations was passed in the Senate but failed of final passage in the House.

Federal regulations officially announced provide an open season for mourning doves and white-wings in the Panhandle from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31, and in the remainder of the state from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15.

If Texas dove hunters act in compliance with Federal and State regulations, they must adhere to opening dates fixed by Federal authorities and to closing dates fixed by State law. Violating Federal regulations are given somewhat more severe penalties than for violating State law.

The only portion of the State in which there is no conflict between State and Federal regulations is the Panhandle section. This section, in which hunting will be allowed from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31, is composed of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kaufman, King, Cottle, Childress and all other counties to the north and west.

The dove season situation in other parts of Texas—a situation that will continue unless the Legislature untangles it—will prevent dove shooting in certain sections because under State law an open season beginning Dec. 1 and extending to Jan. 16 is called for, in complete conflict with Federal regulations.

Tucker summarized the results of limitations imposed on game regulations by present State law as follows:

Mourning dove hunters in all of the north zone except the Panhandle will be deprived of two weeks' hunting available under Federal regulations.

In 18 counties and parts of 15 counties situated in the northern part of the south zone sportsmen will not be allowed to hunt.

In 27 counties and parts of four counties in the Coastal zone hunters will be deprived of 15 days of shooting.

In nine counties and parts of four counties of the Coastal zone they will be deprived of 15 days shooting and limited to four days shooting per week.

The bag limit for both mourning doves and white-wings is 15 a day with a possession limit of one day's bag limit.

The 1935 Oil and Gas Conservation law provides for a tax of one-eighth of 1% on the proceeds of the oil and gas produced in the State. The funds received from this tax are used for the expenses of the Oil Conservation Commission. Until this law went into effect the oil Companies had the benefit of conservation without cost to them.

ace, will be the Wichita extra.

Wichita Falls players will bring a string of twenty horses. Woodward and Linthicum, as well as White, also will come well mounted. Jay Floyd now has ten or twelve of the best polo ponies and prospects he has ever owned. Several of them have been "stuck in the game" in engagements he has joined with Lubbock and Lamesa, and the others have been well schooled. Cowden, the fast little first year man from New Mexico Military Institute, has been schooling a string of ponies owned by himself and his father, Frank Cowden, during the summer, and should be a match for his opponents. Although only a year out of high school, Cowden saw much experience as a sub on the Institute team which was rated as the best college polo team in the west.

He has been carefully coached and "is a natural" according to those who saw him in action in Institute games.

Floyd, who carried a two-goal handicap when playing regularly, usually plays the No. 4 post, as safety man, but is equally formidable as a forward or at No. 3. He has played with El Ranchito, San Angelo, Lubbock and Lamesa teams, as well as with the winning Freebooters at the Waite Phillips tournament in northern New Mexico since the fast Midland team broke up a few years ago.

Making a business of raising, training and selling polo horses, he played with El Ranchito, San Angelo, Lubbock and Lamesa teams, as well as with the winning Freebooters at the Waite Phillips tournament in northern New Mexico since the fast Midland team broke up a few years ago.

Fred Fuhrman is in charge of the polo club and will head the sale of tickets during the week. The tickets may be bought this evening at cigar stands and drug stores, and a group of fans will be on the streets selling the tickets during the week.

The talent was there but it was just too darn hot for football. By agreement, the coaches were allowed to substitute men just as often and as many times as they desired without any penalty. Some of the boys were used as many as a half dozen times in each half. One player, Dickson, was used on the defense and pulled out on offense during the first half and in one three-minute period he was in and out of the game no less than three times.

When sending out their invitations to players for their side, the North coaches almost forgot to include linemen, about 90 per cent of their boys being backfield men last season. They used Wafford of Midland and Storrs of Lubbock, both backs, at the ends, Neal, a Wichita Falls backfield man, held down one of the tackle positions. And how he held it down! He showed more class at the spot than some of the so-called "all state" men. Weighing 269 pounds, he proved to be the immovable object on defense, and opened up holes wide enough for a truck to move through on the offense. He got at least one-third of the tackles during the game for his club.

And don't think Dave Wafford let a new position bother him. We talked to several coaches after the game and all were of the opinion that he was a natural end. He really did some small blocking and was right in the big middle of play all the time. Late in the game when the South got down on the North 9-yard line they tried four consecutive plays at him, and made only about three yards. He was playing in dangerously close to the tackle, but he slapped down one runner that tried to go around him and when the next man received a lateral pass in the flat zone out past him he reached out and snaked in the pass receiver.

Did anybody ever hear of Bolton of Henderson last fall when the all-state selections were being made? But he was the outstanding backfield man on the field Saturday night. Fast as a streak, only an inefficient line kept him from really "going to town." As it was he was a constant threat men he had the ball in his hands. His speed got him into trouble two or three times when he let his feet slip out from under him while attempting to skirt ends. But where he really showed up was at kicking the ball. It is doubtful if he kicked for less than 50 or 60 yards more than once during the night. And that time he laid the ball out on the North 4-yard stripe.

Clesson, all-state halfback from Amarillo, proved to be just another ordinary player during the game. At least a half dozen other boys looked better than he did. Harry Hays of San Angelo was the best man the North had in the backfield. He set up the touchdown for Pugh with a 13-yard run to put the ball on the one-yard stripe and reeled off a couple of other long dashes during the game. He's everything he has been touted as being.

CORRECTION: The district softball tournament will be held here August 23, not September 23. The error was ours and we regret it.

We had intended stopping in Sweetwater yesterday afternoon to see Homer Williams, West Texas softball supervisor, but didn't have the time. Nevertheless, unless something unforeseen happens, the tournament will take place August 23. That is, it will start that day and last until all but one club is eliminated. Full plans will be announced just as soon as it can be learned how many teams are to enter the meet.
