Federal Agents Are To Launch Grim War On Vicious Weed

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 1. — Marihuana, the wicked weed that arms cowards with a false and fleeting bravery, came today under the severe restriction of the federal narcotic laws.

The marihuana tax act of 1937 went into effect, hanging a maximum fine of $2,000, imprisonment for five years, or botr, over the heads of those convicted of violating any one of its 17 sections. In Texas, it backed up a state law vircually banning the narcotic, in which the term of imprisonment upon conviction is from two to 10 years with no provision for a suspended sentence.

Effects Are Varied

Marihuana is a derivative of Indian hemp and its effects are as varied as they are vicious.

"It makes a coward act for a few hours like the bravest man alive.

He Gave His Hat Up With A Smile But Not So His Auto

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1. (AP) — Talmadge Staley laughed when he threw his new $10 hat and it landed in President Roosevelt's car. He chuckled again when the president kept it. He still was able to chortle after 50 friends had phoned to 'console' him. He drove to the postoffice to see if a member of the presidential party had returned the head-piece and managed to grin when it wasn't in the mail.

But things went too far—while he was in the postoffice someone stole his car.

Just Wanted To Be Sure That Mammy Got Her Share

A case worker found her eligible to receive state aid and so informed her.

"I don't want no pension myself," the woman explained. "I'm able to work. I want it for my mammy."

Her "mammy," she said, is 107 years old.

Extra Session Is Predicted In November

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — Capital opinion was divided today over the possibility of a special session of congress in November, but some political observers suggested the chances for it had been increased by recent election results.

Those in close touch with the situation were inclined to accept the opinion expressed yesterday by Senator Borah (R-Idaho), who recently conferred with the president, that Mr. Roosevelt has not made up his mind.

To Encourage Session

Some expressed the belief, however, that the Democratic victory in Tuesday's congressional election in Massachusetts and the results of the recent mayoral primaries in New York City would encourage the president to call congress into session.

They conceded nevertheless that the possibility of explosive debate over the foreign situation and the supreme court appointment of Hugo L. Black might deter the president.

The Massachusetts election was suggested by some political experts as a heavy factor in the decision, because the chief executive could point to it as an argument that the people were back of his program.

In that election Lawrence J. Connery, Democrat, was elected to the seat vacated by the death of his brother, Rep. William P. Connery.

Mysterious 'Creeping Death' Is Reported In Japanese Province

TOKYO, Oct. 1. (AP)—The mysterious "creeping death," an epidemic which already has snuffed out nearly 300 lives in Fukuoka province, seeped through the hygienic barriers around the city of Omuta today into four neighboring communities, bringing 52 new cases.

Authorities, scoffing at the possibility water sources had been deliberately poluted, ceased announcing the death toll. The best bacterioligists of Japan were unable to diagnose the disease or state definitely its cause.

Criminals And Insane Alike Being Crowded Into Jails Of Texas

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Staff Writer

Hundreds of Texas insane crowded with lawbreakers into jail cells will be shifted to more suitable havens when the state builds its large hospital at Big Spring, a survey showed today.

Lack of facilities have forced wardens of the insane to bed and board some of their patients in quarters intended for criminals. Of the state's 12,600 insane persons, 483 are in jails and about 100 in private homes waiting transfer to hospitals, state board of control records disclosed.

The Big Spring hospital, on which work will start within a month, will house 540.

County officers called for legislation to remedy the situation permanently.

County Judge Brady P. Gentry of Smith county said "I think it is a disgrace that a man whose only condition is that of a diseased mind should have to lie in jjail because the state does not provide enough room to keep such unfortunate people."

Judge Gentry said in most instances authorities admitting persons to state asylums ask that the younger persons be sent.

Aged Persons Are Held

"There has been one or more persons from 60 to 70 years of age, who have already been adjudged insane, held in the Smith county jail practically every day for the past five or six years," he said.

Harris county has 60 persons in a lunacy ward intended to care for 44. Often it is crowded with 90 to 100 persons. It costs $30,000 a year to operate. Twenty persons above 65 years of age are kept in private convalescent homes.

County Judge Egbert Schweppe of Bexar county said the only difficulty he experienced was in getting aged insane persons into state institutions.

Could Demand Action

The county health officer, Dr. T. N. Goodson, calling it shameful that insane should be kept in jail, said "But I don't know where to place the blame unless it is with the people. If a million Texas voters would rise up and demand action, they would get it from the legislature."

Although only five invalids are in the Longview jail, Sheriff A. A. King said that in past there have been overcrowded conditions because of them.

Sheriff Dan Hardee suggested a special state institution for insane persons who cannot walk. State law forbids their admittance now, he said.

Improvements Planned

Corpus Christi planned improvements to its county jail.

The Gainesville jajil has only one cell for the care of insane.

Sheriff Pat Allen of Wichita county praised state authorities, saying the number of lunacy cases this year has been triple those of other years but that 'splendid cooperation' of authorities prevented any crowding of Northwest Texas jails.

Vernor, Corsicana, Palestine, Amarillo and other cities reported they had no problems of overcrowding.

At Beaumont, quarters for 12 patients were filled. The county follows a policy of not accepting patients unless quarters are available in the insane ward. Otherwise, they are left in custody of relatives.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Oct. 1. (AP)—Clarence Watts walked a mile to the fire station, waited until Fireman Orin Martin finished a telephone conversation, then asked:

Watts' one-story residence was a total loss.

Price Of Love Is Going Up

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Two million dollars—a new high price on love even for Hollywood—was demanded today by Judith Allen, screen actress, from Mrs. Delphine Dodge Cromwell Baker Godde, one of the world's wealthiest women.

Miss Allen, in an alienation of affection suit charges Mrs. Godde stole the love and affection of her second husband, Jack Doyle, a singer known as "the Irish Thistle" and a pugilist of indifferent success.

Decree Was Obtained

Making the situation more complex was the fact Miss Allen obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce last April. She was previously married to the heavyweight wrestler, Gus Sonnenberg.

The complaint alleges that Mrs. Godde, or Delphine Dodge, as she prefers to be known, practiced her wiles on the black-haired Doyle after the interlocutory decree was granted and thereby prevented his reconciliation with Miss Allen.

Mrs. Godde and Doyle announced here last week they planned to leave for England within a fortnight, where she would seek a divorce from Timothy Godde, former New York banker.

Jap Civilians Go Underground If Attacked By Soviet Planes

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 1 — Japanese defense experts today rushed to completion a chain of bomb-proof, subterranean "fortresses" to safeguard the civilian population against the threat of attack from Soviet warplanes.

Stimulated by reports that Russia secretly was sending planes and aviators to aid China in the undeclared war with Japan, thousands of civilians in Japan's teeming cities familiarized themselves with the new type of shelters, believed to be the last word in protective science.

The model shelter was designed by the engineers of the Tokyo metropolitan police board to accommodate 800 persons for at least three hours, and, if necessary, much longer. Thousands of the bombproofs are planned for every major city in the country.

The shelter room, theoretically at least, is fireproof, bomb-proof and gasproof. The double walls of reinforced concrete are each 16 inches thick.

Further Stringent Warning To Foreign Powers In Nanking Is Considered By Japan

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, Oct. 1—China today flatly asked the League of Nations advisory committee on the Sino-Japanese war, on which the United States is a consultative member, to declare her a victim of Japanese aggression.

The request embodied the draft resolution submitted to the committee by Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the league, and demanded that the committee:

Action Is Sought

1. "Condemn the violation of international law and contractural obligations' of which the resolution accuses Japan;
2. "Condemn the ilelgal blockade of the Chinese coats";
3. Declare the facts "constitute a case of external aggression."

Danger Of More Determined Air Raids Is Being Feared

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1. (AP)—Japanese were reported today to be considering a further stringent warning to foreign powers to evacuate Nanking completely or face the danger of even more determined air raids.

The official central Chinese news agency said the warning was based on the grounds that Japanese efforts to avoid inflicting damage on the interests of third powers at the Chinese capital had caused Japanese planes to be shot down by anti-aircraft guns.

Kerley Keeps Record Clear

Despite a coup, J. W. Kerley, about 80, of 2417 Thirteenth street this morning was first to pay his 1937 state, county and city school taxes —for at least the tenth consective year.

"I've been paying them first so many years I can't remember," Kerley said. "I just want to get them off my mind."

Payments Are Made

Kerley, a bachelor, paid $27.32 on a uarter-section of rural land and a city lot to the county. To the city schools he paid $10.26 at the office of A. C. Jackson, business manager.

A boyhood friend, about 65 years old, attempted to "edge Kerley out" but Kerley had his receipt when the friend came into the office of H. B. Bryant, county tax assessor-collector.

He didn't pay—electing to wait until later.

Safety Experts Come Forth To Brand Home, Sweet Home As The Most Dangerous Place

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—The government's accident prevention conference defined today the most dangerous place in the world as home, sweet home.

And, the safety experts added, the most dangerous time to be there is at night.

Saying we don't have to sleep in the dark, the conference called for inventors to produce:

1. A mild light that will not interfere with slumber.
2. A light that goes on when you sit up or get out of bed.
3. A telephone that turns on a light when it rings in the night.
4. Doorbells that turn on lights when they ring.

The safety sachems said people who smoke in bed should be forced to sleep in tents a safe distance from anything inflammable.

Hospital bills for the care of 1936 home-accident victims totaled almost two million dollars a day.

Allred Hurls Challenge For Debate On Taxes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. — Governor James V. Allred challenged Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston to public debate today over taxes, social security and other issues between them, but there won't be any such meeting.

The senator showed strong aversion to the contest and later the governor, reconsidering, intimated he didn't make the challenge seriously in the first place.

Wrangling In Press

The governor and the senator have been wrangling in the press for weeks over the need of revenue.

In the latest exchanges, said the governor:

"I'll be glad to divide time with Senator Holbrook in Austin or elsewhere, but I want a definite understanding I'll get to talk part of the time."

To which Holbrook replied:

Choose Own District

"If he has a challenge, let him bring it ot me. I'll choose my district, Galveston, for the place."

He added he didn't think much of the idea.

A suggestion the debate be staged throughout the state and admission charged, with proceeds to be applied to the state deficit, met little favor from either.

Tom Connally Says There Is Nothing To Be Done Now

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1. (AP)—Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, dismissed the issue of Justice Black and the Ku Klux Klan today with the statement:

"There's nothing can be done about it. He can be removed only by impeachment—and he's done nothing impeachable."

Black To Give His Answers

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Justice Hugo L. Black, employing strategy like that sometimes used by President Roosevelt, will bring to an unprecedented climax tonight the nationwide dispute over his appointment to the supreme court.

He will reply in a radio address at 9:30 p. m., Eastern standard time, to those who have challenged his fitness to serve on the tribunal because of what they allege to be his affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan.

First Time In History

Never in the history of the court has a justice thus carried his case directly to the people.

Three national radio chains will carry Justice Black's speech, making it available to approximately 285 stations. The content of the address remained a closely guarded secret, known only to Black and a few of his close associates.

It was considered highly possible that he would discuss directly the allegations of Klan membership. The question remained, however, whether he might make a complete denial or whether he might say that he once had been a Klansman but long since had renounced his membership.

Branded Life Member

The principal accusation, made in a series of newspaper articles, is that Black is a life member of the order. The articles alleged he joined the Klan in Alabama in the days before he was elected a Democratic senator from that state.

There was no evidence that Black has any notion of resigning his place on the bench, on which he is expected to take his seat Monday.

Premiums Are Promised For All Winners

Payment In Full Will Be Made; Small Profit For Association Depends On Final Two Days

Financial success of the 24th annual Panhandle-South Plains fair became assured today if only the weather holds good.

Directors of the fair association announced this morning that all cash premiums, totaling approximately $6,000, will be paid in full. As in the case of nearly all fairs over the last five years, it was explained, awards offered have been conditioned on probable receipts. That is to say, they would be paid if the income was sufficient to pay them — and the money is available.

Record Small Profit

However, attendance today and Saturday will determine whether the fair actually makes or loses money. If attendance is proportionate to those of corresponding days of the last two years, a small profit likely will appear. If attendance suddenly turns unfavorable, the exposition will be "in the red."

In announcing that premiums will be paid in full, officials of the fair association emphasized especially that checks for cash awards will be mailed. They will not be delivered in person, and those who have won them were asked not to call for them personally. Several thousand such prizes are to be distributed, and the detail work of preparing the awards is enormous. However, they will be placed in the mails within a few days at the latest, management of the fair announced.

One Exception Is Made

Exception to that rule is the livestock department. Exhibitors there, for the most part, have included Lubbock on a tour of fairs, and they still have several expositions ahead of them. That money will be paid this afternoon or Saturday, the judging have been completed Thursday.

The approximately $3,000 in prizes for races is being paid daily.

The satisfying announcement that the fair apparently is headed for financal success was made as preparatons were completed this morning to entertain two of the biggest crowds today and Saturday of the entire exposition.

Editors And Students

Today the guests of honor will be editors of the South Plains, the students of Texas Technological college who will be admitted without charge, and the citizens of Littlefield, Abernathy, Hale Center, Floydada, Lockney, Tulia, Amarillo, Silverton, Canyon, Kress, Happy and Muleshoe.

Saturday will be everyone's day, although it will be dedicated particularly to residents of Paducah, Matador, Spur, Clovis, Dickens and Tatum.

No attempt has been made to arrange any such special entertainment as a luncheon or banquet for the editors because they personally advised against it. Thursday was publication day for most of them, and many were busy this morning getting their issues into the mail. Result is that most of the visiting members of the Fourth Estate will not be here until sometimes this afternoon, and efforts will be made to give them as much individual attention as possible.

More than 3,000 college student tickets have been distributed, and

Suspects Held In Burglaries

Two men arrested in possession of a crow bar, an instrument which has figured in several burglaries in the last week, were being held in Lubbock county jajil today for investigation.

The men, who gave their ages as 42 and 31 and their address as Durant, Okla., were arrested in an automobile by Ham Odom of the police department Wednesday night. In the car were the bar and other carpenter's instruments. Fingerprints will be made, said officials.

No Clues Revealed

Fingerprints taken from Nineteenth street pharmacy at [illegible] Nineteenth street after that store was burglarized early Wednesday morning as yet had revealed no clues, although checking had not been completed. The store manager said merchandise valued at $1,500 and between $75 and $100 in money were taken.

With exception of the burglary, which was one of a series in Lubbock and this section which began before the fair, officials said the week has brought no marked increase in criminal activity. Fair week, which brings an influx of persons and money into the city usually brings an increase in law infractions, officials pointed out. No serious accidents have been investigated.

Lanky Jim Neal Believes All The Needy Should Be Aided

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Lanky Jim Neal, cattleman-senator from Southwest Texas, believes old age assistance should go to all the needy instead of the most needy.

"The old age commission, to make the best use of its funds, is trying to draw a line between the needy and most needy," he commented.

"This will never do. We've got to raise enough money to pay everyone who is in want and pay them enough to live on."

Neal who declared in favor of new taxes to finance adequately the state's social security program said the money should come from those able to pay—"not the poor landowners and farmers."

What Price Fun In Hollywood? Problem Is Puzzle To Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—The momentous questions, "what price fun in Hollywood?" and, "is gadding about a lot and champagne-buying necessary?" intrigued motion picture folks today.

The question has been tossed squarely in the lap of Uncle Sam, by film notables currently afflicted with income tax troubles.

Counsel for several of the contestants argue that entertainment in Hollywood is an expense necessary to one's screen career, and that consequently those terrific bills incurred in the pursuit of happiness are frequently unavoidable, therefore deductable items.

Not so, declared Phil Regan, film singer who used to be a policeman in New York.

Don't Have To

"You don't have to entertain to succeed in the movies," he said, mentioning the names of James Cagney, Ronald Colman and Greta Garbo.

None of them do much entertaining; all of them are getting along nicely in their work, he said.

Grace Moore disagreed.

"Any one who says entertainment is not necessary in Hollywood simply does not know Hollywood," she said. "It's necessary for a screen star to do a certain amount of entertaining, in order to maintain her social and business position in the film colony — much more so than for a person in any other field."

Fair Exhibits To Be Taken From Building Saturday

Entries in the women's department at the Panhandle-South Plains fair may be claimed Saturday night between 8 and 9:30 o'clock, it was announced this morning. The superintendents are anxious for the exhibits to be taken from the shelves and cases as soon as possible.

Stepfather To Face Prison

HOUSTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Penitent Joseph Dunning, an Oklahoma preacher until he "fell from gospel," prepared today to go to Leavenworth prison to serve three years for violating the Mann act.

A federal court jury found him guilty of bringing his 16 year old stepdaughter to Houston for immoral purposes. Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly told him he was "getting off light."

Asked For Acquittal

His arms uplifted, the former preacher wailed "I've been framed" when the jury's verdict was read. Earlier he had pleaded for acquittal. Dunning acted as his own lawyer.

The stepdaughter testified Dunning had improper relations with her before they left Oklahoma in June. She said he had tried to force his attentions upon her since they came here but she had repulsed him.

The girl's mother and the 62-year-old Dunning were married last year. The mother was sent to an Oklahoma tubercular hospital in January.

Estimates of the amount of food required to nourish the huge body of a brontosaurus and keep it moving is made by comparison with the size and food requirements of present-day elephants.

Heir To British Title

An Associated Press News Dispatch brought 55-year-old Francis William Robert Boreel of Los Angeles information that he had inherited title to an ancient English baronetcy. An estate in Holland also is part of his inheritance. He is shown holding the dispatch.

Commission Votes Indian And Pioneer Relic Museum For Memorial To Will Rogers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—Oklahoma's Will Rogers Memorial commission has voted to erect an Indian and pioneer relics museum at Claremore to perpetuate the memory of the late cowboy humorist after Governor E. W. Marland warned a $200,000 state appropriation must be spent by 1939.

The decision to go ahead without waiting for possible federal aid came in the fact of a statement by Representative Wesley Disney of Tulsa that conversations with President Roosevelt had convinced him the president "was settled on a hospital."

Mr. Roosevelt vetoed a $500,000 appropriation to match state funds because the type of memorial was not specified and suggested a "living memorial."

But Marland declared he thought "you can ask the next session of congress to supplement the fund."

A smile calls upon only 13 muscles of the face, while a frown requires the use of 50.

Tech Red Raiders Cheered At Rally

Texas Technological college Red Raiders were cheered by wildly enthusiastic students who packed the college gymnasium Thursday night for the first of the 1937 series of southwestern pre-game football broadcasts sponsored by Coca Cola company.

Candid cameras clicked as President Bradford Knapp praised the Tech team, and Football Commentator Ben Lee Boynton predicted a win for the Red Raiders against Montana's Grizzlies Saturday night.

Nine numbers by the band, and concerted yelling by the Saddle Tramps and the freshman boys spaced the regular speeches by Coach Pete Cawthon, Captain Red Ramsey, and Co-Captain Lou Jones. The playing of the official songs of both Tech and Montana brought applause from the entire student body, assembled in the east and north sections of the building.

President Knapp, speaking briefly of the team's jaunt to Austin last week, and the excellent prospects for the Montana game, praised the club for its courage and showing when "outnumbered, outweighed, and outfinanced" by Dana X. Bible's Texas Steers.

The program, carried to Texas listeners by the Texas Quality Network, was heard over stations WFAA at Dallas, WBAP at Fort Worth, WOAI at San Antonio, KPRC at Houston, and KFYO at Lubbock. The broadcast also was the first of a series of Tech pep rally features to be sponsored by the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co., and to be broadcast over KFYO at Lubbock.

Twenty teams from United States and Canadian colleges are expected to compete in the show. Tech placed sixth last year and Dean Harman, of last year's team was individual high point man in the contest and also high point man in the Jersey division.

School Battle Reaches End

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP) — A county court judge dismissed Pennsylvania's "evolution school case" today with announcement of a compromise providing for the resignation of Mrs. Laura Elms Morris as teacher of the one-room Bally school.

Judge C. W. Waychoff said the teacher withdrew the appeal from her dismissal by school board and the board withdrew its charges of incompetency and cruelty against Mrs. Morris.

Dismissed Last May

Under the out-of-court settlement, the middle-aged "schoolmarm" resigned formally and received $100 from the school board as a salary for September, although she was dismissed last May.

Court costs in the test of the new state teachers' tenure act, which Mrs. Morris had invoked in her appeal, were divided between the teacher and the school board.

More than 100 residents of the Whiteley community of 635 jammed the hearing room to hear the judge's announcement.

The spectators had listened amused to much of the testimony by some of Mrs. Morris' former pupils that she taught them man evolved from a monkey.

Happy It's Over

But they heard without any demonstration the sudden ending of the case which opened last Monday.

"I am happy that this sorry affair is all over," commented Mrs. Morris who is the mother of two, and a teacher with eight years' experience. She added:

"Now I am going out to get myself a job. I expect to move out of the county.

"This all started from a little main street fight. There never was anything to the 'man came from the monkey' charge. I never told any pupil such nonsense because I know Mr. Darwin's theory and I know he never taught that."

Establishment Of International Crime Commission Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Establishment of an international crime commission linking Canadian, United States and Mexican police was proposed today by Colonel S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In an address at the 23rd annual convention of the International Association for Identification, Colonel Wood, assistant commissioner and director of the Mounted Police's investigation division, said the proposed commission would devote itself to three projects:

Improvement of international cooperation between law enforcement agencies.

Research in mutual law enforcement problems.

Collaboration with European crime commissions in studying police technique, organization and equipment.

Here And There At The Fair Grounds

HAS TWO JOBS

Charlie Franz, Tierra Blanca superintendent, was introduced twice at the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday. He was presented as a cattle breeder by former Kiwanian R. N. McClain and as a swine breeder by Doug Pounds." He's big enough to do both jobs well," Doug commented. "He's big in every way, and can handle both cattle and hogs."

PROUD OF HIS SONS

J. H. Adams, Tulia hog breeder, is proud of his sons, Jack and W. O., both of whom have shown hogs at the fair and also the quality meat show for several years. Jack is attending Texas A. & M. this year and is paying his way through there with his hogs. Jack has won many prizes in hog showing, both here and Amarillo and is one of the well-known club boy exhibitors over the state.

VISITS OLD FRIENDS

Judge R. L. Pou of the dairy cattle used to be head of Texas A. & M. dairy department before he went into business for himself. He is well acquainted with Dean A. H. Leidigh and W. L. Stangel of Texas Tech, Ray Mowery and others and while here took occasion to visit with them. Lubbock, he added, "is to be congratulated for having gone down to A. & M. and picked out the men there to head the division of agriculture at Tech."

FORMER STUDENTS HERE

The division of agriculture faculty members were able to contact a large number of former Tech students during the fair. At the grounds W. L. Stangel and Ray C. Mowery met many, while others called on Dean Leidigh at the college. He was scheduled to visit the grounds Thursday morning, but unexpected rush of school work delayed his trip.

DO GOOD BUSINESS

Taxi and bus concersn have been doing a good business this week, hauling passengers to and from the grounds.

HOSPITAL TENT NOT BUSY

Handling the sick at the fair this year has been far from spectacular, only a few minor injuries being reported, according to nurses. There have been a number of cases where persons fainted, mostly children who ate rashly of sandwiches, pop, etc. and then tried the rides. Local hospitals and sanitariums rotate in sending girls to the hospital tent, adjoining the women's building. There is a bed and a large supply of emergency medicines.

SCATTERINGS

Seen and heard at the fair: President and Mrs. Bradford Knapp of Tech inspecting agricultural exhibits, particularly the Ropesville community exhibit. . . . Officer Lewis Kittrell holding an informal court investigation near the midway. . . L. C. Ellis taking time out from his financial work to watch judging of livestock. . . . George P. Lillard, Arlington, dean of hog men, talking to the youngsters . . . crowds around the water faucets waiting to get a drink . . . A. B. Davis spending more than five minutes in one spot . . . local pickups and trucks hauling supplies to the fair dash in and out of tight places . . . farmers visit machinery row in large numbers . . . concerns with public address systems getting visitors to talk over the air.

What A Thrill

PAGOSA SPRINGS, Colo.—The couple who parked their auto at Wolf Creek pass had a peach of a story to tell today—if they weren't still too scared.

They drove up just as engineers set off 12 1-2 tons of dynamite to tear out one side of the pass for a new road.

A boulder the size of a house pounded down the slope and came to rest 12 feet from the car.

When the dust cleared away, the couple had driven off — still unidentified.

Nutty Pears

EARHARDT, S. C. — Duncan George grows pears with shells on them.

Since a storm nine years ago blew a walnut tree in his yard over on a pear tree, George said, he has harvested a fruit which is a cross between a walnut and a pear.

George said the fruit resembles a pear but develops a walnut-like shell as it matures. He said it tasted more like a nut than a pear.

Welcome Home

LANCASTER, Pa. — A. L. Haynes of Harrisburg returned to his old church for anniversary services—and had his pockets picked.

Haynes told police his billfold containing $5 was taken while he mingled with the congregation.

Ida Trouble

BALTIMORE — Ida No. 1 is not dead and is the same person as Ida No. 2—so Hyman London went to jail for 10 days.

London escaped responsibility for a $66.58 debt of his wife, Ida, by testifying she was dead but that he had married again, this time to another Ida.

Later court officials discovered both Idas were the same. London was sentenced on a perjury charge.

Today's Big Bear Story

By Collier Parris

ALTOGETHER NOW, a lusty welcoming "nine" for the Popoviches, Fomajeviches, Szakaches, Lazetiches and Fessendens. You can pronounce 'em—all we have to do is spell 'em.

Nice boys, they tell us, these University of Montana boys, until they get inside football suits. Then they're a gang of Grizzlies; big, bad Grizzlies from the Pacific Northwest, who are quite bearish indeed where the opponents' scoring is concerned.

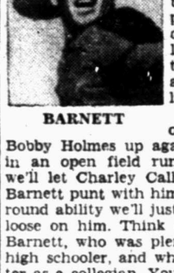

And you can hear a lot of "bear" stories about the Grizzlies if you hang around the Tech athletic department very long at a time. You do not, however, hear or read bear stories from the Grizzly coach or the University of Montana. They are announcing to the world that they have quite a football team this year, and they are interested in getting the news spread around. They are putting up for All-America nomination at least two, perhaps three—well, anyway, one, of their boys, and unbiased outsiders who have seen the lads play are confirmed believers.

An All-American team, we hear, would not be an All-American team without Milt Popovich, the 190-pound halfback who shakes his dogs with such speed and cunning. This Popovich had a record last year that very few players in the country could touch. He started the current campaign by ripping off 238 yards in the game with Whitman last Saturday night, which Montana won by a most comfortable margin. Milt toted the leather 34 times, so you can figure his average per tote. He also does a lot of punting, and is said to be a deadly tackler.

Coach Pete Cawthon and the Red Raiders have heard so much about Popovich that they're worried stiff. Ben Lee Boynton, the ex-official who swings a mean mouthful through the mike now, recently was in New York. Even there he heard tales about Popovich, and all the way home. He was telling Pete about them. Berl Huffman, attending the Northwestern coaching school and the All-Star game at Chicago, heard mutterings about Popovich. "Yeah, I know that's Sam Baugh out there with the All-Stars, and he's good," one coach from the Pacific coast said, "but wait till you see this Popovich from Montana."

Bill McMillan, home from a big bear hunt in the Canadian wilds, also has a bear story to tell about the Grizzlies. "I came through the Montana country, and about all I could hear was about University of Montana's football team. They're really hotted up in that country over football, and especially over Popovich. I didn't think it would be much of a game until I heard what I heard." We'll have a different kind of bear story from Bill when we see his latest collection. Now, Popovich.

Well, we'll believe it when we see him. Personally, we do not expect to see Popovich or any of the other Popoviches do a whole heckuvalot of high-tailed scampering over the green at Texas Tech tomorrow night. Tech has a few guys who can tear off the yardage, punt, pass and otherwise deliver the goods, too, along with a fair set of linemen.

BARNETT

We will put our young Mr. Bobby Holmes up against Popovich in an open field running contest; we'll let Charley Calhoun or Gene Barnett punt with him—and for all-round ability we'll just turn Barnett loose on him. Think quite a lot of Barnett, who was plenty good as a high schooler, and who is even better as a collegian. You may keep an eye on Holmes, too—if your eye is fast enough. And there'll be a heap of Elmer Tarbox, too, if you don't mind, or even if you do.

TECH'S LINE, however, is in for the biggest job of the evening tomorrow.

University of Montana stresses power and speed, mostly power through the line. The team runs from the single wingback formation practically all the time. Tech met that style last Saturday and didn't look so hot at certain times. But the Raiders learned things, and they're better prepared now. That is, they're better prepared against trickery and deceit. If the Tech line holds, the Montana attack can be stopped, just like Texas' attack can be stopped. But that's quite an assignment. Captain Red Ramsey and his lads in the front line will bear the shock tomorrow night. They'll prove whether or not they've "got it" this season, because Montana will be crashing at the line all evening.

Douglas Fessenden, young head coach of the Grizzlies who played at University of Illinois, coached at Brownsville, Texas, High school, and at a Chicago high school before going to Missoula, has adopted the Bernie Bierman style of football, and Minnesota, you recall, specializes in power football.

So you'll be there tomorrow night to watch the Techs and the Montanas in a sure-enough intersectional game. Fessenden and his squad, including 25—count 'em—25 lettermen, are expected early this afternoon. They'll work out tonight, but they don't expect much company.

NOTE TO E. L. KLETT: Many thanks, good sir, for the kind letter. It was a tonic from the fountain of youth, or at least it makes us feel ten years younger. Thanks again.

Note to the writer of the unsigned letter complaining about our "alibi" for the Tech team at Austin: You misunderstood us, we fear. Not being a great hand at alibi-ing, ever, if you'll check back, we tried to make that particular one so ridiculous and all-inclusive that it wouldn't have been considered an alibi. A better one would have been: If Tech hadn't scheduled the game, Texas wouldn't have won. Yours truly, Alibi Abner.

Note to the writer of the letter signed "Elmer's Cousin," who asks why don't we give Alan Plummer more space and consideration: We agree that Alan is a good boy, that he was the star of the Arizona game, and that he can, or could, play a fine game of football. Plummer has been bothered with a set of sore ribs this season, therefore unable to do his best. However, Plummer is no longer amongst us. He has withdrawn from college and from football to cast his lot definitely with professional wrestling, his first love. He left this week, in company with other wrestlers, for Florida, where he'll be starting his career right away. There was no "trouble," and Alan could have stayed as long as he wished. It was his own choice, postponed over a period of months. He left "in good standing" at Tech and with the coaches. Thanks for the letter, anyway.

Little Rock Off To A Speedy Start; Fort Worth Panthers Asleep To Lose Game, 10-0

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 1. (AP)—Manager Thompson "Doc" Prothro of the Little Rock Travelers predicted today a "long, hard fight" for the Dixie series title despite his Southern association champions' 10-0 slaughter of the Fort Worth Cats before 8,295 cash customers last night.

"They've got a better team than that," the corpulent Prothro said solemnly. "They couldn't have gone through that Texas league play-off if they didn't. We'll work Bob Porter tonight."

Peel Mighty Blue

Manager Homer Peel of the Cats was morose after watching the Texans nick lanky Dick Midkiff for only five hits.

"We looked lousy and they looked pretty good," he mourned.

Peel nominated Ed Selway, who pitched a four-hitter against Oklahoma City to clinch the Shaughnessy series for Fort Worth, to oppose the Travelers tonight.

The Little Rock victory came as a result of a barrage of steady and potent hitting in which every man on the team had a part except Nonnenkamp and Graham, both .300 batters. Midkiff himself joined in pounding out three Cat hurlers by driving a double to deep left center in the fifth, scoring Niemiec and Thompson.

Had Lots Of Stuff

The elongated hurler had lots of stuff on the ball but was wild in spots. Tight fielding pulled him out of several holes, including some fast infield work by Niemiec and Oneill and three beautiful running catches in deep right by Fred Tauby.

Jackie Reid started for the Cats but seemed unable to get his screwball working. Oneill, Traveler lead-off man, greeted him in the first inning with a drive into the right field crowd that was counted a double under ground rules. When he was removed in the fifth for pinch-hitter Flippen, Reid had given up nine hits for five runs.

Clyde Smoll, who relieved Reid, was even worse. He walked one man, made a fielding error and allowed four runs on three hits in one-third of an inning. Dick Whitworth, 43-year-old Texas veteran, finished the game, allowing three hits and one run.

Saturday Grid Program Will Be Tasty Affair

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 — With the cry of the quarterback already loud in the land, Saturday's football program, studded with games of national and sectional import and the debut of such august institutions as Yale, Harvard and Princeton, leaves little doubt that the great autumn madness is again epidemic.

Two titans of the corn belt, Minnesota and Nebraska clash at Lincoln in a game of great importance to the national football blueprint. Sam Francis and Lloyd Cardwell are missing from the Nebraska lineup and the bland Bernie Bierman has a Gopher team which brings ecstatic gurgles from gridiron connoisseurs.

Ohio State Meets Purdue

Ohio State and Purdue, consistent paladins of the Big Ten, meet in another important mid-west clash at Columbus, with the Scarlet favored over jinx-ridden Purdue. Michigan entertains Michigan State, the little country cousin that grew up to be a big, tough bruiser at Ann Arbor. Notre Dame leads off against a tough Drake outfit at South Bend and Wisconsin's Badgers play Marquette at Madison.

The east combines inter-sectional flavor with a strong taint of ivy. Top battle of the sector is the Cornell-Colgate meeting at Ithaca, the first since 1923.

Manhattan plays the first of several tough ones in Texas A. and M. at New York and Gil Doble's Boston college Eagles meet an inter-sectional foe in Kansas State.

Princeton Expects Trouble

Yale, Harvard and Princeton enter the lists with only Princeton, which meets Virginia, expecting trouble. The Cavaliers, suh, are coming back after some dismal seasons. Yale plays Maine and Harvard, minus Captain Russ Allen, encounters Springfield.

Army may get a surprise from Clemson, a team that held Tulane to a one touchdown victory. Navy plays The Citadel and Penn has no soft touch in Maryland. Columbia, with astute Lou Little looking his dourest, entertains Williams, and Dartmouth clashes with Amherst.

The Pacific coast, which opened with a bang last week, tapers off with only three contests of major proportions. Southern California, reported on the road back to the football heights, is pitted against a scrappy Washington team. Two other able teams appear in the California-Oregon State game, while Stanford, beaten last week by Santa Clara, plays Oregon.

Several Headliners

The south and southwest have more than their share of headliners. Louisiana State, again richly endowed with talent, will attempt to take the edge off Dana Bible's first Texas team, in one of the best southern games. L. S. U. will have to be in top form to beat a Texas team flush by a neat victory over Texas Tech last week.

Texas Christian plays Arkansas at Fayetteville, with the Razorbacks' famed passing attack getting its first big workout. Southern Methodist should have some fun with an old stumbling block, Centenary.

In the deep south Vanderbilt and Chicago clash. Tulane meets Auburn, Duke gets underway against Davidson and North Carolina plays North Carolina State in one of those "we'll get 'em this time" encounters.

The Cheltenham flyer of the Great Western railroad of England is the fastest scheduled train in the world. It flashes along at 71.3 miles an hour for 65 minutes in a non-stop run of 77.3 miles between Swindon and Paddington.

Birds have a body temperature of 100 to 112 degrees, mammals from 98 to 100 degrees, and reptiles only about 40 degrees.

McKnight Out On Limb To Make Picks

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 1 — Two hipper-dipper units, Arkansas and Texas Christian, hop on the Southwest conference merry-go-round up in the Ozarks tomorrow for the first ride on the most evenly balanced round-robin schedule in the nation's books.

Only league game of the day, the Fayetteville dish comes as the main course in a lineup of five games that sees the debut of Texas A. and M. and Rice institute, potent title contenders.

Here's The Dope

Based on guessing of the timid sort, it looks like:

At Fayetteville: Arkansas by a touchdown in a scoring bee.

At New York: The Aggies to beat Manhattan, with two touches to spare.

At Baton Rouge: Texas and Louisiana State in a two-touchdown tie.

At Norman, Okla.: Rice to bury Oklahoma, 20-6.

At Dallas: Southern Methodist's awakening will catch Centenary, 14-12.

At Oklahoma City Friday: Baylor a six-touchdown winner over Oklahoma City U.

Seeks Spark Plug

Tripped up, 14-0, in his opener against Ohio State, Coach Leo Meyer looked around his Texas Christian squad this week for a "spark plug — somebody who will set the boys on fire." He was subtly referring again to the absence of Sammy Baugh.

He shifted his lineup around and came up with two new starting ends, Paul Snow and Durwood Horner, and a new halfback, Pat Clifford. Only the possible absence of Dwight Sloan, backfield star suffering from boils, would change the Porker lineup. Jack Robbins, the passer; Ralph Rawlings and Ralph Atwood, the speedsters and Jim Benton and Ray Hamilton, the burly, pass-snagging ends, will welcome the Froggies.

All of the Texas Aggies' offensive punch — Dick Todd, Dic Vitek, Jim Shockey, Bob Nesrsta, Karl Steffens and Owen (Slick) Rogers — will be loosed against Manhattan Saturday in an effort to repeat last year's victory at Tyler. Chick Meehan's Manhattans opened impressively against St. Bonaventure last week.

Bible Is Worried

From double and single wingback formations Coach D. X. Bible will pump his star Texas backs — Beetus Bryan, Bullet Gray, Hugh Wolfe and Charlie Haas, at a great Louisiana State team in Baton Rouge Saturday night. They wormed their way through Texas Tech for a 25-12 triumph last week and mixed in magic passing as they went along. Unworried about his offense, Bible still frets over the defense. His tackles and ends were not too aggressive against Tech.

Rice, with its collection of ball carriers — Schuehle, Vickers, Brandon, Neece, Mechler and others — to carry on behind a line that could be weak only at center, comes labelled the "dark horse" team. Oklahoma was stopped by a good Tulsa team last week.

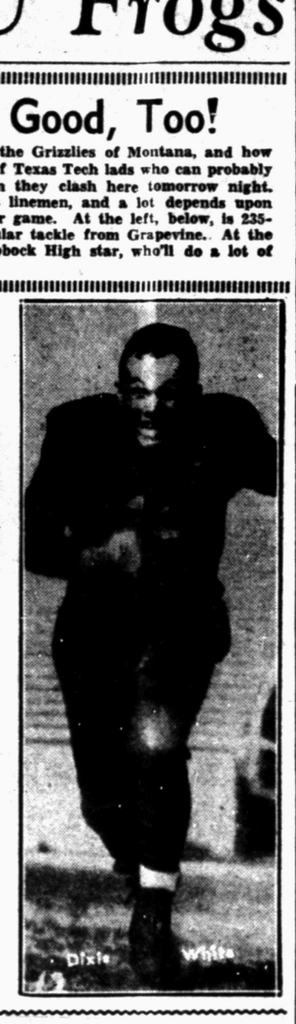

Centenary, after a feeble start, pumped out six touchdowns against Oklahoma City last week and looked like a rugged opposition for a Southern Methodist eleven that took three periods to get going against Little North Texas Teachers. Shifts in the backfield and line, however, may bolster the Mustangs.

Baylor gets started on Friday night against Oklahoma City and appeared a likely winner by several touchdowns, what with three backfield veterans — Brazell, Gernand and Patterson — now joined by a lad with touchdowns in his legs, Milton Evans.

They're Pretty Good, Too!

You've been hearing a lot about the Grizzlies of Montana, and how tough they are, but here's a pair of Texas Tech lads who can probably match two of the Grizzlies when they clash here tomorrow night. They are two of Dutchy Smith's linemen, and a lot depends upon Tech's line play in this particular game. At the left, below, is 235-pound Bill Davis, sophomore regular tackle from Grapevine. At the right is Dixie White, former Lubbock High star, who'll do a lot of guard play Saturday night.

Conference Drive Will Open In State Today

DALLAS, Oct. 1. (AP)—Guns of conference warfare boom in nine of the sixteen districts of Texas Interscholastic league football today and tomorrow. They signal the real opening of the championship drive.

Sandwiched with the title affairs are 24 attractive inter-district games and three of intersectional nature.

Marshall of district 9 started the week's fireworks by smashing class B Gilmer 41-6 Wednesday night and last night Amarillo's Golden Sandies, defending state champions and fast becoming favorites to repeat, downed the powerful Classen High team of Oklahoma City 14-7.

Fifteen conference games are scheduled today, tonight and tomorrow. They are:

District 2—Electra at Quanah.

District 3—Ranger at Abilene, Breckenridge at Sweetwater, Brownwood at Big Spring, Eastland at San Angelo, Cisco at Stephenville.

District 7—Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs Poly (Fort Worth).

District 8—North Dallas vs Sunset (Dallas).

District 9—Texarkana at Gladewater.

District 10—Athens at Gaston.

District 11—Waxahachie at Cleburne.

District 12—San Antonio Tech at Kerrville, Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs Harlandale (San Antonio).

District 13—Stephen F. Austin (Houston) at Conroe, Sam Houston (Houston) vs Mirabeau B. Lamar (Houston).

Other Outfits Battling For Third Place

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the World series battle lineup all settled, and little old New York once more in exclusive possession, the also rans of the major league races settled down today to the business of picking the choicest spots remaining before the season ends Sunday.

When Carl Hubbell, the old convincer, put on the clincher with a five-hit, 2-1 win over the Phillies in the opener of a double bill yesterday — his 22nd of the year — the pennant races officially closed.

Series Opens Wednesday

The Giants had retained their National league laurels and qualified to tangle with their New York neighbors, the Yankees, in the series beginning next Wednesday.

It didn't matter that the Phils won the second game of the double bill, 6-2, against a makeshift lineup, or that the Yankees dropped their first twin bill of the year, losing 8-3 and 6-3 to the Athletics.

Yesterday's results also ended the fights for second place in both circuits. The jinxed Chicago Cubs, taking their fifth straight game by topping the Cincinnati Reds 4-1, rested securely in the National league runner-up spot, 8 1-2 games in front of their nearest rivals. At the same time, the Detroit Tigers, despite a 10-3 kicking around by the St. Louis Browns yesterday, couldn't be ousted from the No. 2 American league berth.

Rest Are In Doubt

The rest of the first divisions in each loop remained in doubt, however. The Pittsburgh Pirates belted the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 yesterday and took a 2 1-2 game edge in the National league tussle for third position. With only three games to play, and Pittsburgh meeting its usual pushover, the cellar dwelling Cincinnati Reds, while the Cards take on their always tough customers, the Cubs, the Bucs were favorites.

In the American league, the White Sox, in third place, 1 1-2 games in front of the Cleveland Indians, will have a tough time fighting off the Tribe. Just to make it tougher, the Tribe clubbed out a twin win over the Sox 6-4 and 4-1 yesterday, undefeated Johnny Allen pitching his 15th straight win in the opener, and Bobby Feller fanning 11 in the seven-inning nightcap.

Have Outside Chance

There's an outside chance that both Boston clubs can better their current fifth place standings before the season winds up. The baffling Bees, taking a doubleheader from the Dodgers yesterday 6-2 and 3-2—thereby stretching the losing streak of the Brooklyn beauties to 14 straight—can overhaul the Cardinals by a slim percentage margin if things break right.

The Red Sox may yet wind up in fourth place, although they didn't do much about it yesterday by gaining only an even break with the Senators, taking the nightcap 9-3 after dropping the opener 4-3 to their old teammate, Wes Ferrell.

Brooklyn's double defeat yesterday left their hold on sixth place decidedly shaky at 1-2-game over the Phillies.

Annually, the British motor industry consumes 650,000 tons of iron and steel, 3,740,000 yards of cloth for upholstery, 1,136,000 gallons of paint and lacquer, 1,176,080,000 gallons of gasoline, and 30,311,000 gallons of oil.

Matadors And Westerners Expect Trouble With Foes On Saturday

Raiders Given Lecture; No Easy Meat

Tech linemen got a long lecture yesterday about the kind of opposition they could expect to meet here Saturday night.

Coach Russell "Dutchy" Smith told his charges that they were going to catch more than they could handle if they were not ready for something rough when the Montana Grizzlies square off with them.

The scouting notes came in yesterday, and Coaches Pete Cawthon and Smith got down to a couple of days of earnest, insistent coaching. Tech hired a popular West Coast coach to scout last Saturday night's game between Montana and Whitman. The scout's reports indicate what the Tech coaches have feared all along—that Montana really has a football team this year. Coach Doug Fessenden admits it, and his club showed it in mowing down the Whitmans.

Must Look For Anything

"Your line has got to be on its toes, has got to be looking for anything and prepared to meet the hardest bunch of charges I've seen in a long time, and they're big and husky. If your line doesn't function properly, you're in for a tough game, and I don't mean perhaps," the scout said in his report.

Fessenden coaches the single and double wingback system, but apparently has settled definitely on the single wingback device. He has a squad of heavy, charging backs who can take off fast. The "Bierman" influence is evident in Montana's style, the scout reports, and that style concentrates on power and ruggedness.

So it would appear that Tech's linemen have a full evening tomorrow. The Montana line is made up of rather large young men, averaging better than 200 pounds.

Best Team Of History

Montana's backfield featuring the play of Captain Milt Popovich, who plays safety position and who is termed "the greatest running back in the Northwest," is full of big, fast ball luggers, passers and kickers.

Every one who claims to know anything about football in that section freely admits that University of Montana this year has its best team in history, and that it should give the other Pacific Coast conference teams a heap of trouble.

The Montana team is to arrive here sometime today, after a brief lay-over in Amarillo. The club left Missoula, Montana, Wednesday, stopped in Denver for a long workout yesterday.

As for Tech's progress, it has been great since last Saturday's game. The clash with University of Texas proved to be a fine lesson for the Red Raiders. Mistakes brought out there are being slowly but surely corrected, and the good word is that fans will see a smooth Texas Tech team in action tomorrow night.

Alan Plummer Quits

Coach Pete Cawthon yesterday announced the loss to the squad of Alan Plummer, big halfback from Beaumont, who has been in the starting lineup in both previous games. Plummer it was announced, elected to give up football in favor of professional wrestling. He has been bothered with a batch of sore ribs recently and apparently became disappointed with his failure to recover quickly. He was reported to be headed for Florida to join a heavyweight wrestling stable.

Gene Barnett, the passer deluxe, and little Bobby Holmes, fine broken field runner, will divide time at left halfback position, vacated by Plummer. Elmer Tarbox and Charles Barnard will alternate at right half. Charley Calhoun seems a fixture at fullback, although Miles Chapman has intimated he'll land the job. Ed Smith and Raymond Perfman still stand out as leading quarterbacks, with Smith probably drawing the starting assignment.

Coach Smith announced no definite change in the line. Captain Ramsey and Thurman Bostick stand out as best ends, big Red Murphy and bigger Bill Davis at tackles, the senior veterans, Pete Jones and Lou Jones at guards, with Frank Guzick or Red Williams at center.

The team will practice against Montana plays tonight in a secret session, dividing time between offense and defensive measures.

Van Noir Cops Feature Race

Coming up from last position, Van Noir overtook the field under the guiding hand of his owner, trainer and jockey—until after the race—Van Noir won the fifth and feature race at the Panhandle-South Plains fair track yesterday with yards to spare.

It was a claiming race and Singleton, said to be the oldest active jockey in organized racing, gave up Van Noir, a 6-year-old black gelding, for $200. The horse, who has raced on numerous major tracks and once valued at close to $2,000, was content to gallop along with the field until the three-quarter turn of the one mile race. Then Singleton applied the bat, and Van Noir came up on the outside to pass Red Banner and Polonian and win by a length and a half. The time was 1 minute, 46.4 seconds. Red Banner, favored by many, took the lead and held it for three quarters, with Polonian, the show horse, close behind. Junior finished fourth.

Wins By Half Length

In one of the prettiest races of the day, Yankee Lad, L. Miller's 5-year-old gelding, nosed out Sky Hawk and Peter Pan in the half-mile, fourth race of the day. Jockey Brite rode Yankee Lad to a half-length victory. Sky Hawk was little better than a head ahead of Peter Pan, ridden by Miss Wantha Bangs, only woman jockey to perform here. Time for the half was 51.8 seconds.

Buddy Nile, G. T. George's 8-year-old horse, with Gruber up, won the quarter-mile opener yesterday, with Cross Fire 2nd placing and Deuce of Hearts running third. Miss Santa Fe ran fourth. Miss St. Joe won the 6-furlong second race, with Abe Furst second, Natemenor third. The third race went to Grand Title, neat gelding owned by Frank Zinn and capably ridden by Williams. Joker Joe placed, Carvil Hall, a favorite, came in third. Time for the five furlongs was slow, 1 minute, 2.5 seconds. It was a bad race from the start, Dry Brush, Line Dorman and Joker Joe offering lots of trouble at the gate.

Lubbock High Squad Leaves For Oklahoma

Lubbock High school's Westerners boarded a special bus today for their journey to Oklahoma City and their game with Capitol Hill to be played Saturday night.

The power-laden Indians last week combined fumbles and Pampa pass interceptions to drop a decision to the Harvesters. Coach Jim Lookabaugh is bringing his charges along slowly but surely.

Second Series Game

Sooner-Westerner series was begun last season when the maroon and white eleven invaded Texas. Lubbock will be out to even the tally with Capitol Hill since they lost that game, 14 to 6.

The Redskins are polishing up on a pass offense that failed to click against Pampa, according to advance reports from the Capitol Hill camp. Big Paul Woodson, burly fullback, will return to the line-up after substituting occasionally against the Harvesters. He was injured in an early season game.

Coach Weldon Chapman cannot put anything like full strength in the game Saturday night. Dependable Herb Leaverton's fractured hand has not responded readily to treatment, necessitating his giving it another week of rest. The 168-pound center is a bulwark on defense and steady plus on offense.

Venable Only Pivot Man

Leaverton's absence will put whole responsibility upon the shoulders of L. D. Venable, since Buford Gregory, third choice for the pivot job, received an eye cut in practice this week.

Neither will Harold Parsons, regular halfback, be ready for action. The side injury that kept him out of the Slaton game is still bothering him. And Dutchy Cawthon is favoring a leg injury sustained against the Tigers. Coulson Paxton will replace Parsons again this week.

Coach Is Gloomy

"We cannot expect less than a three-touchdown defeat," said Chapman last night. "With their big fullback in harness and our line-up so badly shattered they will run over us at will."

At the terminal posts, Melvin Billings and Jack Coursey likely will get the call, and Capt. Babe Ritchie is certain to start at one tackle. Either James Sims and Henry Ford will be at the other.

Only at guard is Chapman blessed with what might be termed a wealth of material, although at that position contestants are not too hefty. Four men are still fighting it out to win approval there. Jerry Nash, "Gotch" Sanders, "Hayseed" Alford and Joe Pytell are the men in question. The latter has finally recovered from a lingering, though slight, illness, which has deterred his full show of ability.

At other backfield positions probably will be Bill Sessums, Rusty Johnston and Jumbo Webster. Dutchy Cawthon is slated to give the kinky-headed Sessums a breather before the game ends.

Special buses for rooters will embark for the Sooner capital Saturday morning, returning immediately after the clash. The Westerners will lay over in Oklahoma City until Sunday morning.

Southwest Loop Can Hold Own--Norton

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Team for team, there's not a stronger football league in the country than the Southwest conference, declaims Coach Homer Norton, whose Texas Aggies make their Eastern debut against Manhattan college here Saturday.

"Maybe there are a few more powerful teams scattered around—like Minnesota and Pittsburgh—than any we've got this year," he conceded, "but you won't find seven in any one section any stronger, and may you won't find seven as strong. We could hold our own against any of them."

In other words, Coach Norton isn't only trying to sell his team. It, he feels, will speak for itself Saturday. He also wants the world to know the other outfits in his group—Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Rice, Baylor Arkansas and the University of Texas—have something on the ball.

The Dominion of Canada had an estimated total of 2,918,900 horses in 1936, as compared to 2,931,300 in the preceding year.

Central Texas Grid League Soon Is To Be Launched

TEMPLE, Oct. 1, (AP)—Representatives of six high schools met in the office of the Temple Telegram here last night, to discuss formation of a six-man football league which would begin functioning in Central Texas by November first.

Killeen, San Gabriel, Salado, Cenaville, Academy, and Pearl were represented.

The league organization will probably be effected by shifting scheduled 11-man games to the new six-man style.

The league is sponsored, and trophies will be awarded, by the Temple Telegram, which has announced an exhibition game for Temple in October.

Whenever you think your job is getting you nowhere and that you're just going around in circles, remember the merry-go-round—it gives the children pleasure and it makes money for its operator!

It was good to have "back home" yesterday and last night one Bennie Lee Boynton, formerly of Waco but after that of Lubbock. Bennie Lee, known to his boyhood friends as "Dago", was one of the greatest football players Texas has ever produced, is still one of its outstanding officials and, on top of his athletic prowess, is one of the finest gentlemen the Lone Star state's younger generations possess.

Ben Lee lived out here for a year or so about 10 years ago and he has never forgotten the fun he had and has always longed to come back.

"Say," he told The Plainsman yesterday afternoon, "when I got here this mornin' I wanted to run up and down the streets hollerin' and whoopin'! I'm sure coming back here to live just as soon as I can."

He was in Lubbock in connection with the pep meeting broadcast out at Tech last night.

INCIDENTALLY that job of football whooping-upping via the radio on the Coca Cola network must be a good one.

In order to take it Ben Lee had to forego his bigtime officiating for the whole season and if you ask The Plainsman his officiating should net him around $1,500 per year, maybe more.

His regular year 'round business is insurance.

Something short of a decade ago a decision rendered by Referee Cost Dutchy Smith, now a Tech coach, a state schoolboy championship.

Dutchy was then coach of the Amarillo Sandies, better known now as the Panhandle Green Ba' Packers.

The occurrence, however, has made not a bit of difference in the personal friendship between Coach Smith and Official Boynton.

And that, we think, is a tribute to them both.

R. B. Creager, of Brownsville, long the lord high executioner of the Republican party in Texas and the "guy you had to see" during the days when the GOP ruled federal patronage, has come out of hiding. He was in Dallas the other day doing a little pulse-feeling.

Out of his Dallas visit came the report that the Republicans of Texas—whoever they were or may be—may try to unseat Congressman Maury Maverick, of San Antonio, in the next campaign.

It will be remembered that San Antonio had for several terms a Republican in the lower house. He was the late Harry Wurzbach.

Probably no one—outside, perhaps, of a few dreamers—expects to see Maverick unhorsed by a Republican. But there is plenty of chance that he may be ousted by a Democrat.

In his 1936 race for election to a second term, Maverick ran a much poorer race than any of Texas' freshmen congressmen and a worse race than all the incumbents save rambunctious Tom Blanton, who was beaten.

Maverick calls himself a Democrat, but from his votes and actions in Washington no one can tell just what he really is.

San Antonio, where they have machine politics with a vengeance, probably will see plenty of fur flying in the congressional race next summer.

MAYBE The Plainsman just isn't "international-minded" enough to know what it's all about, but it seems to him that the so-called League of Nations is just about as impotent as anything can be and still be alive.

If diplomats are as smart as we "numbskulls" are taught to believe, why can't they see the light, quit kidding themselves and go home to work?

Phooey!

Our dyspeptic neighbor, after reading the Austin news, says a legislature spends half of its time thinking up ways to get money and the other half thinking up ways to spend it.

★ ★ ★

BUT maybe, after all, most of us are too critical of the men we send to Austin.

Maybe we wouldn't be pleased with heaven with a fence around it.

George C. Moffett, member of the Texas house from Chillicothe, tells a story on himself that pretty well illustrates the situation.

When he was campaigning for re-election he struck a farmer and urged the man's vote.

"Sure," said the farmer. "I'll vote for you—or anybody else. That guy we've got in the job isn't worth a dern!"

★ ★ ★

The artistic application of face powder may catch a man but it's the intelligent use of baking powder that keeps him caught.

HAS anybody ever seen a gila monster on the Plains? If so, has anybody seen one recently?

The reason The Plainsman wants to know is, he read an article from down-state the other day about workmen finding a gila monster by the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado river, near Austin, and the statement was made that "gila monsters are seldom found farther east than the Plains of West Texas."

Considerably removed from the pioneer class, The Plainsman never-the-less has been in West Texas quite a spell now without ever seeing a gila monster.

Further than that, he's never heard anyone mention seeing such a monster, although the down-state story talks like you can go out on the Plains most any old time and kick gila monsters out from behind every blade of grass.

If we know anything about gila monsters, we'll say they don't abound anywhere east of Arizona and that "monster" they found near Austin was just an overgrown lizard.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KATHLEEN O'SHAN — heroine, writer of greeting card verse.

BOB McTAVISH — hero, detective story writer.

PAT — the janitor who played Cupid.

The DUCHESS — patron of surrealist art.

PROFESSOR BRACEY — Egyptologist.

Yesterday: Bob and Kathleen are settled in their respective studios in the same apartment house. And Janitor Pat lays plans to have the two young people meet. He tips Bob first.

CHAPTER II

"Wonder what that little Irishman meant?" muttered Bob McTavish, as he closed the door behind Pat. "Probably an old shack like this is lousy with writers, and artists and such. I'll have to make it very plain that I have to work for my living. Can't be having the neighbors running in." He retrieved a crumpled cigaret from underneath a pile of books and looked down at the dog.

"Well, Schmatz, it's up to us to get unpacked if we are going to finish that last chapter tonight." He took off his coat and hung it on the back of a chair, rolled up his sleeves, and went to work.

After several hours of sorting things, and shifting them around to the best advantage, he stood back and surveyed his future home. It had evidently been the bedroom of the one-time mansion. An ornate fireplace with a large mirror above it took up one end of the room. The walls were light, the woodwork plain, and the long, narrow windows had scalloped green blinds and little inside shutters that looked as though they had never been dusted.

But Bob had flung them all open at his back, moved his big chair and typewriter stand in front of the bookcase, and noted with satisfaction that his only view was the blank wall. Blank walls were highly conducive to creative work. He could weave the threads of his plot and pursue the dastardly villain without anything to distract his attention. And Bob had to run just so many criminals to earth each week, if he and Schmatz expected to eat. It had been a very hazardous step for him when he decided to come up to the city and try his hand at fiction writing, instead of going into his father's real estate firm as his two older brothers had done.

"I'd smother with so much family hung about my neck," he had said.

"And you'll likely starve in the city," his father had retorted, while the other boys are making a snug berth for themselves. Well go ahead and let me know when you're ready to come back home."

• • •

But so far, Bob had been able to keep just one jump ahead of the wolf, which always lurked within sight of his door. He had even been able to move into this new place, which was vastly better than the room where he first lived when he came to the city, and Schmatz had always had his bone. Take it all in all, they had not done so badly. The men down at Police Headquarters were beginning to know Bob now, when he came nosing around for a possible plot, and were willing that he go through the place in search of ideas. Several of them had even gone so far as to read some of his yarns when they were published, and would often tip him off to some timely new angle.

He ran his fingers through his mop of tousled hair, drew his chair up to his typewriter.

"This is pretty slick, Schmatz," he told the dog. "About two more real snappy murders, and we can begin to think about buying a decent couch and maybe a chair or two more, then we'll be sitting pretty." He stretched out his long legs with a sigh of satisfaction.

Down stairs in studio one, Kathleen resolutely thumbed through her rhyming dictionary, trying very hard to keep her mind on her task. The sight of the good-looking stranger who had dashed up the stairs behind the movers, intruded on her thoughts to an amazing degree. What difference could it possibly make to her that he owned a cute dog, and had a gay, breezy manner? If she did not finish a certain number of jingles before night, she wouldn't have the rent money when it was due. Then she would have to go back home to Gloversville and teach the third grade and probably eventually accept Joe Williams, with his bulging eyes, as her aunt and uncle hoped she would, and settle down to the routine of a small town. She wondered now why she had ever thought she could find a job in the city all by herself.

"Sorry, but we're not putting on any more people," had been the invariable answer, when she had to admit she did not have any experience selling things, or keeping books, or doing stenography.

• • •

Then she had happened upon a firm that wanted rhymes for greeting cards. Yes, she could do that. Hadn't she made jingles all her life just for fun? Why not sell them then? That night she wrote Aunt Hattie that she had taken a job with a big puolishing firm, which was almost true. Anyway it was better than Gloversville and Joe Williams and Aunt Hattie's fussy dictating of her every move, which was beginning to make her very restless. Though of course she really was grateful to Aunt Hattie and Uncle Henry for having taken care of her since her own parents died.

Cheer, near, hear, dear — that dog had had the dearest, bright black eyes, and such a cute red tongue. Schmatz was what the young man had called him. She wondered why such a queer name. Maybe some girl had given him to his master. Of course there would be a girl. No fellow that good looking could possibly escape. She hadn't seen Pat yet to ask about the new tenant. Oh dear, where was she?

A frown creased her pretty forehead, and she wrote down a line, then attentively inspected the eraser on her pencil as though it might hold an inspiration. Nothing happened, so she got up and made a cup of tea and poured it into a gay yellow cup which she took from the cupboard in her furnished apartment. What fun if she only had someone to drink the other cupful that the teapot held. Her glance strayed about the studio. It was really quite pretty. Gray cretonne drapes and red geraniums in brass pots made bright splotches of color. She certainly ought to be able to rhyme cheer and dear — if only that gnawing loneliness would let her.

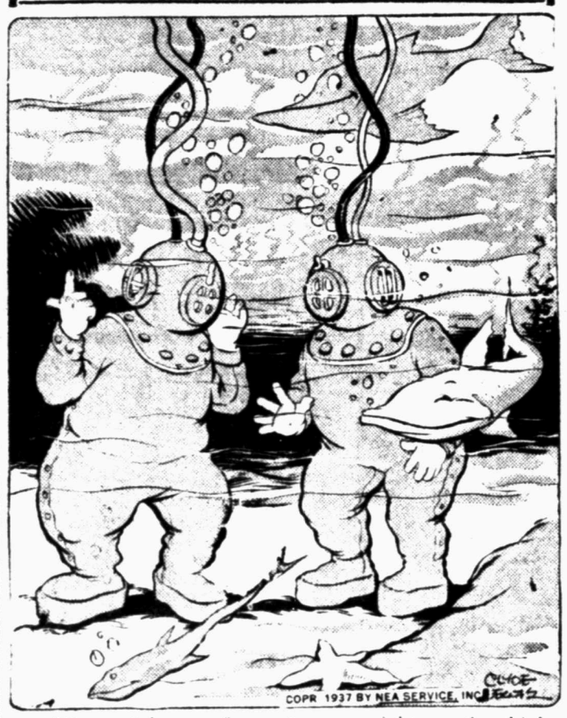

In the hall outside, Pat's broom kept pace with his thoughts too. That young fellow upstairs did seem a likely prospect as a friend for Miss Kathy, but how to bring him to her notice. She wasn't like the Duchess now, who'd speak to any man if she took a notion.

The terrier came scampering through the door just then, dived between Pat's legs and knocked the broom from his hand.

"Hey, ye little divil ye! Where ye goin'?" He grasped the wriggling creature. "Listen, ye don't nade to be rushin' up to yer master's room yit. It's a good turn ye got to be doin' a loidy, see."

ONE PROJECT CAN'T BE LAUGHED OFF

Americans everywhere will take pleasure in chalking up another genuine and permanent gain to the credit of the Works Progress administration. A good sized slice has been cut in the nation's disgracefully large illiteracy problem.

While right here in Lubbock the government's adult education classes did not go over as well as some would liked to have seen them, that apparently was not the case in the more heavily populated centers. For sometime during the next few weeks the millionth adult to learn to read and write in federal aid classes is expected to be enrolled. In the last four years, these classes have taught the three "R's" to 700,000 people; an additional 300,000 will be taught during the coming year.

There are those who claim WPA has a long list of boondoggles to its credit. Perhaps that is true. We wouldn't know about it in this section where, unlike in other places, WPA was placed upon a business basis from the start and has been kept there. But whatever may be the criticism of WPA as a whole, there is no laughing off its achievement in its fight against illiteracy.

Our democracy will be sounder as a result of the success of the educational project.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1. — Sometimes it takes four hours of waiting around just to see Mae West for a few minutes. Sometimes it's worth it.

Miss West has lost 10 pounds, so I don't suppose she required the four hours to get into one of her 17 Schiaparelli gowns. Anyway she remained in her bungalow, knowing that she would be sent for as soon as the set and lights and camera and other players were ready for another scene in "Every Day's a Holiday."

While waiting, I went into a projection room and saw some rushes of the scenes taken the day before. It was New Year's Eve, and Peaches O'Day (Miss West) was hipping along the street and meeting Edmund Lowe. Lowe plays a captain of detectives who has been assigned to bring in Peaches because of her bad habit of selling the Brooklyn Bridge.

But Lowe hates the police commissioner as much as he likes Peaches, so they get to talking about the official:

Mae: "He's sore because I didn't toss him a tumble."

Lowe: "Has that rat been making love to you?"

Mae: "Well, he's gone through all the emotions."

That ought to give you an idea. Back on the set, it was something of a shock to see two nuns, real nuns, sitting on the sidelines watching the action. They wouldn't allow their pictures to be taken. Later, visiting Miss West's new bungalow, I found her maid replacing a couple of nude statues which had been removed before the sisters' visit.

• • •

Pink, Baby Blue Bath

The bungalow is just as modern as her pictures are old-fashioned. First thing that hits your eye is the doormat, which says, "Come up and see me some time." Inside, the chief display piece is a startling, unclad, snow-white statue labeled "Mae West," and executed by Gladys Lewis Bush.

The living room and dressing room are done all in white and cream, even to the piano and set of drums which stand in one corner. The actress likes to beat out some hot licks on the traps. Finds it soothing to the nerves. But she didn't demonstrate.

I even had a chance to inspect the bath. It's done in baby blue and pink, mirrors and chromium, and reveals at a glance that Cecil DeMille was just an amateur in his fancy-bathroom days. Miss West is just cur-r-razy about the place. Pink and baby blue are her favorite colors.

The hat shelf looks like an aviary. There are ostrich plumes, and birds that seem to fly and roost and swoop. The actress says there is nothing to that old adage about birds of a feather.

• • •

Hour-Glass Figuring

Her dressing-room closet, about the size of a boxcar, was lined with 16 Schiaparelli gowns. She was wearing the seventeenth, a scarlet number with a lace business at the —ah—throat.

In spite of her 10-pound reduction she still has to wear a corset, of course. She didn't mind being asked, either.

She said, "No, I really like corsets. They're comfortable. They make you feel just like you're being held.

"But I don't wear the long ones. Mine come just down to here. Better than a girdle. I don't like girdles."

When she said "down to here," she indicated a latitude just a little south of the West hips. Apparently she has been doing some more research on hour-glass figures, for a table was piled with women's magazines of about 1900.

"Wouldn't it be a good idea to have a small corset made for that statue?" asked Miss West, indicating the figure by Sculptress Bush. "Or would the Hays office object?"

I said I thought the Hays office probably would approve any sort of covering for the figure.

Possibility That Court Itself Might Refuse Black A Seat Is Outlined By Correspondent

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — Possibility that the Supreme court might act in one way or another to keep Justice Hugo L. Black from its bench, although not considered a very strong one, calls attention to the court's recent record on cases involving civil and religious minority liberties such as were threatened by the Ku Klux Klan.

Dutcher

One idea is that the court might consent to hear a suit contesting Black's right to sit, on the ground that he was in a senate which voted new emoluments for Supreme court justices.

Another rumor is that the other justices might decide that Black was ineligible in case he were found to have taken the klan oath, assuming that oath were found to pledge a taker to continued intolerance toward Jews, Catholics, negroes and aliens.

• • •

Invalidated Georgia Law

In case that isn't simply a pipedream—and no one is whispering that any justice actually talked to him about it—the position of justices who have taken strong or weak positions as to rights of negroes, Catholics or Jews in certain cases might be an important factor.

At its last term the court voted five to four to invalidate the old Georgia "insurrection" law under which Angelo Herndon, a young negro communist leader, had been sentenced to 20 years for distributing literature.

Although in 1935 it had refused to review an appeal on technical grounds, this year a majority—Chief Justice Hughes, Justice Roberts and the liberal trio of Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo—heard the case and held the Georgia law an unconstitutional interference with free speech and contrary to the "due process" clause. Herndon's conviction, the majority said, was based on no evidence of any clear and present danger to the state.

In 1925 the court ruled against the klan-supported Oregon parochial school law, which struck at Roman Catholics by barring all private schools. No state, the court said, had power to standardize its children by forcing them to take instruction from public teachers only.

Although the supreme bench had approved refusal of the Demoratic party in Texas to allow negroes to vote in its primaries, it set aside the convictions of two Scottsboro defendants in 1935 on the ground that negroes had been barred from the jury. Last year it unanimously freed three Mississippi negroes on the ground that their confessions had been obtained by torture.

These are only a few of the outstanding recent cases. In previous years its record as to civil liberties and minorities has been rather spotty.

Listen Folks—

Here's what Woody-Kutch says in their market report from Ft. Worth.

"Monday's cattle run of nearly 130,000 around the circuit was the heaviest for one day's receipts in several years. This run followed a general 25c to 50c decline on all grass cattle last week, and was heavy enough to break the general grass beef cattle prices another 25c Monday, and Tuesday barely steady at the decline. There wasn't a single market point in the whole country (except Lubbock) that escaped this wave of depressed prices amounting to 15c to 25c on cheaper cows, and 50c to 75c lower on all better butcher kinds of cows, heifers, steers, with heavy calves 75c to $1 lower than 10 days ago. Don't sound so good, but when we quote the market conditions 'a spade is a spade' with us."

REAL ESTATE

We have recently witnessed drastic recessions in stock market quotations. In contrast to this, real estate marches on gaining steadily week by week and month by month. Roger Babson and other economists say substantially that real estate is headed for much higher prices, with peak in 1940 to 1943.

Our sales show many wise investors putting their money into safe, advancing Lubbock real estate.

AMONG OUR LISTINGS ARE TWO OUTSTANDING VALUES, AND IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN PROVIDING YOURSELF WITH A NICE HOME, AND AT THE SAME TIME MAKING AN INVESTMENT THAT WILL PAY OFF IN DOLLARS AND CENTS, WE BELIEVE YOU WILL NOT HAVE TO LOOK ANY FURTHER. WE WILL BE GLAD TO SHOW YOU BY APPOINTMENT.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

WHY the elephant waves his ears back and forth continually has been a mystery to the world of naturalists for years. Now it has been discovered that the ears, with their many blood vessels, act as a thermostat. By waving them back and forth, the animal draws air over them to lessen his body heat.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1 (AP) — Cotton was steady at the opening here today and hedge selling and liquidation was offset by trade buying and covering.

First trades were 1 point up to 1 point with Dec. at 8.27, Jan. at 8.25, March at 8.31, May 8.37, and July 8.46.

Selling increased although trading was narrow. Towards the end of the first half hour active positions had sold off to levels 2 to 4 points under the previous close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 1 lower to 1 higher, steadier Liverpool cables were offset by southern hedge selling. Oct. 8.30; Dec. 8.17; Jan. 8.17; March 8.22; May 8.30; July 8.36.

Jap Indictment

miles up the river, to give officers and sailors a chance for shore leave.

Air raid warnings screamed out in Nanking again this morning but the Japanese warpalnes apparently centered their attention on points down river.

On the northern fringes of Shanghai a bitter battle for the Chinese Chapei section raged into its fourth day with the Chinese defenders holding their lines.

Big Area Bombed

Throughout the night Japanese artillery pounded the Chapei sector and the North Station. Japanese planes roared overhead and bambed an extensive area.

Japanese admitted their "big push' had been halted along almost the whole length of the 25 mile front stretching northwest from the North Station.

In North China, however, Japanese spokesman declared, Japanese forces had occupied Shohsien, startegic point on the inner great wall in Shansi province, and were pushing to the south against Taiyuanfu, the capital of the province. In Hopeh province on the oNrth China front, the spokesman said, Chinese have 300,000 men along the railroads running from Peiping to Hankow and Tientsin to Nanking.

Like Water On Duck

Mayor O. K. Yui of greater Shanghai described the continuous rain of shells on the Chinese positions in Chapei as "like pouring water on a duck's back."

"When the bombardment begins," the Chinese mayor said, "our soldiers just retire to their underground burrows like moles and stay there playing mah jong or shaking dice until the shelling ceases."

Six weeks of relentless war, fire and pillage has converted Shanghai into a series of vast cemeteries of mangled humanity, shattered buildings and charred churches, schools and temples.

Run-Off Vote Is Held Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 1.—Mrs. J. L. Morris of Dawson county today was elected president of the Texas Home Demonstration association, succeeding Mrs. John Palmore of Ravenna.

Mrs. Morris was winner over Mrs. J. D. Bace of Harris county in a run-off election held this morning, made necessary when none of the four presidential candidates received

Two Other Candidates

The other two candidates were Mrs. O. A. Blankenship of Potter county and Mrs. R. Ewells of Jefferson county.

Miss Ruth Lundy of Jefferson county was chosen as vice president-at-large in Wednesday's election, winning over Mrs. J. A. Lewis of Lamar county.

Uncontested offices filled included:

Mrs. W. W. Mitchell of Runnels county, treasurer; Mrs. Ernest Fincher of Liberty county, secretary; Mrs. J. O. Henderson of Smith county, auditor.

District Vice Presidents

District vice presidents included: Mrs. W. C. Henderson of Upshur county; Mrs. Clyde Laurence of Coleman county; Mrs. John Strauss of McLennan county; Mrs. A. J. Brown of Jefferson county; and Mrs. L. E. Drawe of Hidalgo county.

The association also voted to hold conventions away from College Station every two years. Other decisions made were to send a Texas woman and her pantry to the meeting of land grant colleges to be held at Washington, D. C., in December, and to pay membership dues of $25 in the association of County Women of the World, which the association voted to join last year.

An executive session this afternoon brought to a close the three-day convention, which was attended by 398 voting delegates and visitors.

Fair Is Success

indications are that most of them will be put to use.

The program for the day follows, in general outline, those of previous days except that each of the individual features will differ from those previously presented. Horse-racing and vaudeville acts in front of the grandstand, the T. J. Tidwell midway and the various exhibit buildings were entertainment features this afternoon. Tonight the grandstand program will feature the performance of Michael's Big City circus, followed by the fireworks display which will headline a collision of locomotives. Saturday night, the final fireworks exhibing of Shanghaetaonetaoindupz.SH tion will be a repetition of the "Bombing of Shanghai," which Wednesday night scored perhaps the most smashing success of any spectacle of that kind ever shown on the South Plains.

Figures how Gain

Attendance figures were revealed this morning as continuing slightly ahead of those last year, in spite of the fact that Thursday's gate of 11,724 was short of the figure on the same day last year. The total for the first four days of the fair, however, was 87,339, as compared with an exact 86,500 during the same period last year.

Friday's attendance last year was 17,079 and on Saturday it was 22,375, for a grand total of 125,954. That figure in all probability will be surpassed this year, but the 1935 total of 144,273 probably will remain the all time record.

Another announcement this morning was the grand awards have been made in the Boy Scout building.

Troop No. 3, sponsored by First Baptist church and with E. V. Hicks as its scoutmaster, won the first grand award with its elaborate display of Indian relics and curios. Second went to troop 40 or Olton, I. B. Holt scoutmaster, with its exhibit of taxidermy. Troop No. 8, sponsored by the American Legion and with Jim White as scoutmaster, captured third with its homecraft display of furniture made by the boys.

Paul Whiteman And His Orchestra To Make One-Night Appearance In Amarillo, Oct. 4

AMARILLO, Oct. 1. (Special)—Paul Whiteman, "the king of jass," will play a concert and dance in Amarillo Monday night, October 4. The concert will be in the Municipal auditorium, the dance at the Nat.

Whiteman will give auditions to three Panhandle boys and girls. Persons interested in having an audition before the "dean of American music" are urged to contact Dud Wright at the Nat immediately. Contests already have been started to eliminate some of the entrants, so many have asked for the privilege.

Has Sensational Singing Find

After two successful seasons at Casa Manana in Fort Worth, Whiteman comes to Amarillo for the one night engagement. With him will come 20 musicians and ten other entertainers, including 10-year-old Jeanne Ellis, sensational singing find of Whiteman's.

Also included in the Whiteman organization will be Roy Bargy, pianist, who has made "Rhapsody in Blue" one of the most famous pieces ever composed. Bargy has played the Gershwin number more times than any other person in the world. It's Bargy who lifts the heavy load of conducting from the maestro's shoulders—for the pianist often takes the baton while Whiteman mingles with the dancers.

Others Are Featured

Also with the Whiteman orchestra are Jack and Charlie Teagarden, Vernon boys, Jimmy Brierly, handsome Tenor, Mike Pingatore, the banjo wizard, Marian Manners, attractive singer.

Concert tickets cost 40 and 75 cents and $1 and $1.50, while dance tickets are $2 per person plus tax. Reservations in the newly decorated night club are 50 cents and may be made by writing Dud Wright at the Nat, Amarillo.

Tax Roll For Big Spring Approved

BIG SPRING, Oct. 1.—Completed tax roll of the city of Big Spring for 1937 was approved formally by the city commission, total valuation being placed at $6,062,425.00.

This is an increase of approximately $182,000 from the current total, but basically there was no increase in valuations. The gain is represented in new construction, property improvements and increased personal property such as new store stocks, fixtures, etc.

On a tax rate of $1.30 per $100.00 previously fixed, this provides for a total revenue to the city this year of $78,811.53. This is a boost of more than $8,000, from the past year, but that gain is accounted for the 10 cent rate hike for 1937, ordered to finance the recent hospital site bond issue. This year's total tax levy is $70,565.64. Real Estate on the rolls for 1937 is placed at $4,415,445.00 as compared with $4,375,990 for 1936. Personal property is listed at $1,646,980 as compared with $1,504,480.00 last year.

Formal notices have been sent all delinquents, and some of these may be followed up with court action. The city manager was instructed to follow procedure for the municipality to join with the school district in its suits for past due taxes.

News Reporters To Tell Experiences

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Associated Press foreign correspondents will tell of their personal experiences and living conditions in foreign countries in a half-hour radio broadcast tonight. They will not relate current news events.

Five AP foreign staff men will speak on the program originating from the National Broadcasting company's New York offices.

Joseph E. Sharkey, who has been covering international conferences for 15 years, will be the first speaker, from Geneva, followed by Charles P. Nutter, AP bureau chief at Madrid.

From Shanghai, Morris J. Harris, chief of AP's bureau in China, and James A. Mills, roving correspondent and dean of AP foreign men, will tell of their coverage of the Sino-Jap conflict. Relman Morin, bureau chief at Tokyo, will close the program. The speakers will be introduced by O. S. Gramling, executive assistant to the general manager.

The program, entitled "The Associated Press at the war fronts," will be broadcast over the NBC-WJZ blue network at 6-6:30 p. m., C. S. T.

Vicious Weed

It makes a timid man vicious and cunning," said Capt. Roy Richburg, chief of the Dallas police department's vice squad.

"It gives some people hallucinations and a man on a marihuana jag is as likely to attack his brother as he is a stranger."

Difficult To Control

Richburg said the effects varied in individuals, some becoming wild upon inhaling a cigaret or two, and some requiring five or more cigarets. Marihuana is difficult to control in that it grows promiscuously without cultivation, some plants at maturity attaining a height of eight or ten feet.

A small can of marihuana smelled sickly sweet, like a wet bale of alfalfa hay mixed with molasses. Marihuana looks like a cross between ragweed and bloodweed, and is related to the hemp from which the oriental drug hashish is derived.

Col. H. H. Carmichael, state public safety director at Austin, said whether charges will be filed in federal or state courts under the double-barrelled law will depend upon conditions peculiar to each case.

To Issue No Permite

The state law controlling hemp, which has some narcotic properties, allows cultivation under permit, but Carcichael said none will be issued since there is no possible way to keep some of it from entering illegal channels.

Clyde Hood, assistant U. S. district attorney at Dallas said federal narcotic law enforcement officers would cooperate closely with state officials in enforcing the new law.

"It simply means," Hood said, "that in the eyes of the federal government, marihuana is as much a narcotic as any of the others which bring stiff penalties for offenders."

Retail Sales Up 16 Per Cent

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 1.—Department store sales in principal cities in August registered an increase of 16 per cent over July, says the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, released today. This was more than seasonal, the review says, and the gain over a year ago widened to 11 per cent the largest increment shown by a year-to-year comparison since May.

Wholesale distribution in the eleventh district, the review says, after holding up well throughout the late spring and early summer months, increased less than usual from July to August, but maintained a margin of nine per cent over a year ago.

Bank Debits Are Higher

Bank debits, while seven per cent smaller than in the previous month, exceeded the total in August, 1936, by 19 per cent. The number of commercial failures and the amount of liabilities involved, as compiled by Dun and Bradstreet, the review says, "were lower than in either July this year or August last year."

The output of petroleum, which had increased somewhat in July, the review says, rose to a new high level in August, but declined in the first half of September when allowables in Texas were reduced. "Nevertheless, the daily production rate at mid-September was higher than in any month prior to August."

Weather avorable For Crops

In agriculture, the review reports weather conditions in August generally favorable for crops in the eleventh district despite heat and drouth in the forepart of the month. It says department of agriculture estimates as of Sept. 1 reflected upward revisions in the prospective production of several crops. The major increase, it says, was in the indicated production of cotton, which, on the basis of the Sept. 1 estimate, is the largest crop since 1931.

"Cotton prices declined further between Aug. 16 and Sept. 16," the review says, "reaching the lowest level since 1933."

Ranges deteriorated in August but the outlook for fall pasturage was improved by heavy rain falling in most sections since the middle of August. Livestock generally is in good flesh except in the dry areas.

Construction Shows Gains

The review says the largest monthly volume of new construction work in more than six years was started in this district in August. It quotes the F. W. Dodge corporation that although residential building increased, the expansion was chiefly in public works and public utility construction. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities, the revew says, although seasonably larger than in July, was smaller than in the corresponding month of 1936.

The review says daily average gross deposits of member banks in the eleventh district rose $8,646,000 in August, principally at country banks. The loans of weekly reporting member banks increased further by $6,820,000 in the four weeks ended Sept. 8, but their investments were reduced by $1,140,000. Member bank reserve balances declined in the third week of August, the review says, but by Sept. 15 had risen to $182,493,000, which is $2,833,000 higher than a month earlier.

The review notes that "effective Aug. 31, 1937, the discount rate of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas was reduced from 2 to 1 1-2 per cent."

Body Found In River But Doubt Expressed It Kidnaped Man

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 1. (AP) The body of a man was found in the Kankakee river today, but a check in description prompted the sheriff's office to express doubt it was that of kidnaped Charles S. Ross of Chicago.

After a cursory examination, Sheriff Freeman Lane said the body answered the general description of Ross, 72-year-old retired greeting card manufacturer, who was abducted near Chicago last Saturday night.

But a family spokesman in Chicago said Ross had no tattoo marks, whereas the right forearm of the body had been tattooed.

Law Reaching For Capones

CHICAGO, Oct. 1. (AP)—The long arm of the federal government reached toward the pockets of the Capones today.

The object was collection of $350,000 in income taxes from Al and Ralph Capone.

Internal revenue department agents claimed brother Ralph turned handicapper in the 1922-25 period, picked a rich run of "long shots" through a secret system at the race tracks, and collected $75,000 at the payoff windows. They figured Uncle Sam was entitled to $5,082 in levies.

To Seek Judgment

United States District Attorney Michael Igoe and his tax expert, David L. Bazelon, prepared to seek a judgment of $345,000 against brother Al. They calculated he owed that amount in taxes, penalties and interest on the fortune he reaped in the wildest liquor market in the 1925-29 era.

Al Capone, if he won time off for good behavior, could be released from the Alcatraz penitentiary in January, 1939, but then must serve another year in the Cook county (Chicago) jail for evasion of the income taxes.

Ralph Capone has already served two and a half years on similar charges.

First Fan Dancer Claims That The Public's Mind Is Purer

She invented the fan dance

* * *

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—Faith Bacon, the original fan dancer, who must have a "strictly etherel atmosphere" for her performances, is very happy about the cleaning up of burlesque shows. She thinks the public is growing "cleaner minded."

"When they first came to see the female form they came out of curiosity," she says. "Now they're more interested in the artistic side of it."

Nudism? Faith frowns.

"It isn't natural," says she. "If they were serious, they would segregate the sexes or raise their children together so there would be no curiosity about it."

Mineral Leases On Four Tracts Are Filed Here Thursday

Mineral leases on four tracts totaling 2,622 acres of land were filed with County Clerk Ed D. Allen Thursday to continue activity of that kind of the last year.

The total since Saturday was boosted to 7,4[illegible] acres and the entire total under lease for the county climbed to approximately 57,000 acres, according to tabulations from the office of the clerk.

All but 480 acres of land on which the rights were conveyed Wednesday was leased by W. R. Chancellor of Lubbock. Two of his leases were for five years. Most of the leases filed have been for ten-year periods.

Chancellor obtained from the Texas Land and Mortgage company, limited, acting through B. F. Brewer and Hector Mackay, its agents, rights on: 673.77 acres in the southeast quarter of the TT Railway company survey 8, block A; 513.77 acres of the HE & WT Railway company survey 41, block A, abstract 59; and 634 acres, a part of the HE & WT Railway company survey 52, block A.

Chancellor also obtained rights from Mrs. Sarah J. Sides and others on 320 acres described as parts of surveys 2 and 3, block RG, TT railway company survey.

John L. Baldridge, Lubbock oil man, obtained oil and gas exploration rights on 480 acres described as the west half and southeast quarter of section 21, block E-2, certificate 1870, abstract 270. Rights were obtained from W. N. Nabors and wife.

Williamson Presents Figures On Texas Farmers' Income

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 1. (AP)—The Farmers of Texas, who comprise 33 per cent of the state's population, enjoy only 10 per cent of the state's income; in the 12 southern cotton states, farmers comprising 47 per cent of the population receive only 28 per cent of the section's income.

So asserted H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension service at College Station, who Wednesday addressed the annual convention of the Texas Home Demonstration association.

Williamson presented these statistics as a challenge to the farm people of Texas and the South to better themselves. The speaker asserted that in view of this disadvantageous ratio it was hard to see how the farmer had managed to maintain a standard of living.
