Russia Warned On Middle East Drive

Acheson Stresses Firm U.S. Policy In Strategic Area; Denies Soviet Claims

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23—Secretary of State Acheson warned Russia—and reassured Greece, Turkey and Iran—today that the United States is as determined as ever to block Soviet expansion into the strategic Middle East.

It was the second time in five days that Acheson had spoken out publicly to underscore that policy. It was evident he feared that some nations might have "misinterpreted" this country's recent concentration on the North Atlantic pact as meaning a drop in interest in the Middle East.

Today, as in a radio speech last Friday, Acheson said that is not so. He added, "our interest in the security of these countries has been made clear, and we shall continue to pursue that policy."

Nations Reassured

At a news conference, the secretary of state issued three statements dealing with the Middle Eastern area. Then, in response to questions, he left open the possibility that the United States might regard favorably the enaction of a Middle Eastern defense treaty comparable to the North Atlantic security agreement. For the moment, he said he had no comment on that possibility.

In his three statements, Acheson made these points:

1. The United States became aware during the North Atlantic pact negotiations that its concern over western Europe might be "misinterpreted as implying a lessening of our interest" in other areas, particularly the near and Middle East. Acheson then reassured the people of those areas and by indirection warned Russia not to misjudge Uncle Sam's interest.

Reds Step Up Pressure

2. Soviet Russian propaganda pressure on Iran has intensified in recent weeks, according to reports from the American embassy at Tehran. The Russians have charged that the United States is building Iran into a base for use against the Soviet Union. Acheson said such charges are "altogether false and demonstrably untrue."

3. The United States is following a policy of "solidarity" with the government and people of Greece "in their struggle to preserve Greek independence and democracy."

It is understood that in the carry-all military aid bill which the State department is now preparing for President Truman, authority will be asked of Congress for the United States to give aid to all three of these countries which have been under the Russian propaganda guns for several

PARIS, March 23—Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Ashgar Hekmat served notice on Russia today that any attempt to send troops into Iran on the pretext that American aid constitutes armed intervention will be regarded as "an act of aggression."

In an exclusive message to International News Service, sent from Tehran on behalf of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Hekmat denied flatly that his country is being converted into a military base for the Western Allies.

He said:

"We shall never permit Iran to be used for aggressive purposes against the USSR."

No 'Incidents' Reported

The foreign minister stressed that no incidents have taken place in Iran which would justify invocation by Russia of the key article 6 of its mutual aid treaty with Iran.

This article gives Russia the right to send troops into Iran in the event that "a third power makes an effort by armed intervention in Iran or uses Iranian territory as a base for military attack against Russia."

(U. S. Secretary of State Acheson in Washington denounced Russian charges that the U. S. is preparing bases in Iran and referred to apparent "intensified pressure" on Iran by Russian propagandists.)

Red Move Possible

Iran, the oil-rich Middle East nation which shares a 1,000-mile frontier with Russia, has been mentioned as the possible scene of the Kremlin's next move in the cold war.

The country and its government have been the targets of Soviet propaganda attack for accepting financial aid from the United States and charges have been made that the Allies are establishing bases on Iranian territory.

Reports that Russia might invoke the mutual aid pact have been current since delivery in February of a strong Soviet note

Deficit Looms In Texas Funds

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—The Senate Finance committee Wednesday reported that the state is going to be more than $48,000,000 short of funds for necessary services for the next biennium.

It brought the legislature face-to-face with the issue of new taxes now or a special session next January.

The figure does not allow for any of the scores of single-purpose appropriations still pending.

Committee Chairman James Taylor of Kerens said he would recommend that the Senate depart from the customary two-year appropriation pattern and substitute a one-year spending program instead.

Three Bills Okayed

If only one year appropriations are made, he estimated that the state can end the 1949-50 year about $5,000,000 ahead of expenses if it limits itself to essential spending. A special session next January would complete the appropriation job for the second year of the biennium.

The one-year plan that would defer consideration of a tax measure to cover the deficit until the special session was announced Tuesday by Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers.

The committee voted its approval to three of its four "must" appropriation measures. They called for biennium appropriations as follows: Departmental, $34,011,978; judiciary, $5,404,554; and eleemosynary, $64,252,246.

The eleemosynary bill called for

Farmers Asked To List Labor Needs With Employment Office

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP) — The Texas Employment commission today urged Texas farmers to let their local TEC office know what their 1949 labor needs are.

Henry Le Blanc, chief of the TEC's farm placement department, said plans are now being made to meet labor demands for the onion and tomato harvests and for cotton choppers in the Central and South Plains.

By EDWARD WELSH

A record-smashing bid of $2.50 per pound for the grand champion pig climaxed the auction and the 16th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show at the Fairgrounds Monday night.

W. C. O'Mara, bidding for the Sears-Roebuck company, topped all other buyers after a long and spirited session in which a large number of buyers and breeders took part. The top barrow, a Poland China weighing 264 pounds, brought its owner and exhibitor $660 on the hoof. The pig was the entry of a Lubbock boy, Carleton Hatchett, 16-year-old FFA member. N. J. Robnett, Lubbock High school vocational agriculture teacher was Hatchett's instructor in the care and feeding of the money winner.

500 Attend Auction

The reserve champion, a Hampshire and the entry of John A. Smith of Snyder, sold for $1.50½ a pound, another top figure in the swine division.

More than 500 persons were in the auction arena during the sale and interest ran high as the bidding advanced into the record brackets. Most of the crowd remained for the final bid which did not come until 7 p.m. after auctioneer, buyers, boys, pigs and record keepers were all but exhausted.

The pig auction was split to allow the sale of the lambs which also commanded high prices but did not equal or closely approach earlier records.

Lamb Brings $2.25 Pound

The grand champion fat lamb, a Southdown, was sold to the R. L. Elms Equipment company, one of the heaviest bidders in all divisions. Elms paid $2.25 per pound for the 106 pound lamb owned by Billy Earl Terrell, Lockney, route M. Elms was commended for his support of the work the boys have been doing in stock raising.

Accident Ruled Out After Man Whistles 'Dixie' To Yankee

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 23. — District Judge Robert Young ruled today that it was no accident when Norman Lionel Daugherty lost an eye because he whistled "Dixie" to a Yankee.

Daugherty had testified he lost the eye in a fight with Freddie Ferdig, a fellow worker at a Fort Worth bakery, after he whistled the southern air to tease Ferdig.

Judge Young instructed a 48th district court jury to bring back a verdict setting aside an industrial accident board award to Daugherty.

Field Shutdown Order Is Upheld

AUSTIN, March 23 (AP) — The Railroad commission came out winner again today in its fight to shut down certain Texas oil fields for wasteful flaring of natural gas.

The Court of Civil Appeals today dissolved an injunction which had prevented the commission from enforcing a shutdown order for Flour Bluff field in Nueces county.

Recently the state Supreme court dissolved an injunction granted operators in the Heyser field, also in South Texas. In the Heyser field decision the Supreme court said at that time it was not prejudging issues in the 14 other fields which had obtained injunctions against the shutdown.

Opinion Given

Flour Bluffs operators argued that they were doing everything possible to utilize the gas being flared but the commission order did not give them enough time to construct facilities needed for the change.

"It is undisputed the appellees are flaring enormous quantities of sweet gas which is produced along with the oil," the opinion said of the Flour Bluff case. . . . the oil industry has been aware for some time that the commission was concerned with the waste of natural gas and that it contemplated taking steps to remedy the situation."

Huge Gas Fire Rages In Houston Oil Field

HOUSTON, March 23 (AP) — A huge gas fire broke out in the south Houston oil field tonight and still was burning uncontrolled nearly five hours later.

Its origin had not been determined. Shortly before midnight there had been no reports of casualties.

The fire broke through the ground suddenly at 7 p.m. about 100 yards from a new oil well being drilled and the same distance from an abandoned well.

At times the burning gas was accompanied by rumbles and small explosions. Windows in stores and homes in several Houston suburbs were rattled.

The scene of the fire is approximately 10 miles southeast of downtown Houston and about 25 miles northwest of Texas City, scene of the 1947 waterfront explosion and fires which claimed 500 lives.

TEXAS MENTAL INSTITUTIONS

Patients Forced To Sleep On Floors In Crowded Hospital

By J. P. PORTER
Special Correspondent

STRAW mattresses soaked in human filth; a bare cement floor sticky with saliva; three wooden park benches; steel barred windows and grated doors.

This is the ward for 56 sick men at San Antonio State hospital.

These patients are epileptics with the added affliction of mental illness. Few who come to this ward ever leave except through the portals of death. It is Exhibit "A" among the relics of human misery.

No. 4

Subject to sudden convulsions, these patients make their bed on the floor on mattresses of straw because they have no control over bodily functions. The straw can be destroyed when soiled, like that in a chicken coop. The stench resembles that of a barnyard, but low-paid attendants soon get used to the smell.

This ward is a tragic example of the depths to which human decency can fall. It is San Antonio's worst, and exists in the name of state economy. But it is only one of the many blights found

Strong Winds Whip Dust Over Plains

Strong winds which at one time Wednesday reached 32 miles an hour with gusts above 40 miles an hour are expected to continue up until noon today.

Yesterday's wind stripped some surface dust, but at no time did visibility drop below four miles, the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport reported. Velocities or from 20 to 25 miles an hour are expected this morning, the Weather station said, but the wind will subside this afternoon.

A mild cool front will drop temperatures slightly today, the station said. Readings ranging from 46 to 62 degrees are foreseen. Skies will be partly cloudy.

Friday will be slightly warmer with readings of 36 degrees for the low and the low 70's for the afternoon high. No winds of consequence are predicted for tomorrow.

Wednesday, besides being one of the "breeziest" days of the year, was also one of the warmest. The mercury hit 79 degrees during the afternoon after a morning low of 47 degrees.

Safe-Crackers Steal $12,000 From New Mexico A&M Office

LAS CRUCES, N. M., March 23. (INS)—The theft of approximately $12,000 from a safe in the business office of New Mexico A. & M. college at Las Cruces was being investigated today by state and county officers.

They said the entry was made by prying an office window and opening a double door. The safe was cracked when the burglar drilled a hole near the combination knob.

Officers believed the work was that of an expert.

'Home Rule' Rent Bill Is Okayed By Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23 — The Senate tonight passed a "home rule" bill to extend rent controls 12 to 15 months and allow some rent boosts up to 10 per cent.

The vote was 68 to 10.

Under the "home rule" provision, states would be permitted to remove rent curbs. Cities and towns would also be allowed to decontrol their areas when the state governor approved.

Administration Democrats said the home-rule feature would "wreck" the entire federal rent control program.

Controls Loosened

President Truman had asked for a two-year extension of rent controls, but an attempt to carry out his request was swamped.

Mr. Truman also asked for a general strengthening of rent laws to punish violators. Both the Senate and House measures generally loosen controls.

The Senate version now goes to the House which has already approved a bill calling for a flat 15-month extension. The House measure has a somewhat similar "home rule" provision, which would permit states, counties, cities and towns to junk rent controls any time—without the consent of the state's governor.

Mayors Oppose "Home Rule"

While the Senate was discussing the "home rule" provision, the 600-member United States Conference of Mayors, winding up a three-day annual meeting here, threw its weight behind the administration's drive for strengthened controls, minus the "home rule" clause.

Senate-House differences will be subjected to a joint conference. Then both houses must approve the final version before it goes to the President to become law.

The present law expires March 31.

The Senate knocked out criminal penalties of one year in prison and a $5,000 fine for "willful violations" of federal rent ceilings.

The vote was 52 to 30.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) called the action "inconsistent."

He said Congress year after year

Twelve years in the penitentiary were assessed by 72nd District Judge Dan Blair after the court had overruled new trial motions of two defendants and accepted a plea of guilty from a third, it was announced Wednesday.

Rufus Doyle Eady, 24, of San Angelo, and Shirley Roy Belt, 23, of Sweetwater, each of whom had been convicted March 3 of car theft, were sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary after their new trial motions were overruled.

Lubbock Man Sentenced

Howard Jones, 22, of Lubbock pleaded guilty of forgery in connection with the passing Nov. 16 of an $80.64 check to a Piggly-Wiggly store here. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr represented the state in the proceedings.

A 32-year-old Lubbock man, Edward C. Conkin, pleaded guilty Wednesday of drunk driving and was fined $75 and county court costs, a judgment of County Judge Walter Davies showed. His driver's license was revoked six months.

Negro Is Charged

Norris Allen, 32, a Lubbock negro, was fined $50 and county court costs and sentenced to three days in county jail after he pleaded guilty of theft.

Sam McDaniel, 56-year-old Lubbock negro, was charged with theft by bailee in justice court of C. E. Lynn after Catherine Overstreet complained that he received $52 from her to be paid to another person, but fraudulently converted it to his own benefit.

He was arrested early last night

TEXAS SOLONS ALARMED BY COST

Bonus Plan Is Pigeonholed After Boisterous Committee Hearing

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 23—Two bonus bills that would pay Texas veterans of three wars from $200 to $500 were dealt virtual death blows by a House committee today.

The measures were sent to a subcommittee for study after a hectic 2½ hour hearing. No time was set for the subpanel to report back. This usually means the legislation has little chance of reaching the House floor for consideration.

Estimated to cost approximately $400 million, the two proposals ran into heavy fire from members of the committee on constitutional amendments who wanted to know how the money would be raised.

Vet Favors Sales Tax

One veteran, Eugene Sanchez of Floresville, said in reply to a question that he would favor a sales tax to bring in the needed revenue.

Rep. Blake Timmons of Amarillo offered an amendment

House Slates Action Today On Veterans Pension Plan

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23 — Amid wrangling debate, the House today riddled the multi-billion dollar Rankin veterans pension bill with amendments, then put off final action until tomorrow.

The postponement climaxed two days of hectic maneuvering over disposition of the bill sponsored by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to give veterans of both world wars $90 a month at age 65, regardless of need. The administration opposes the bill, contending it would cost $125,000,000,000 in the first 50 years, with the annual outlay rising to $4,000,000,000 by the year 2,000.

But before the lawmakers halted deliberations today, they had altered the original measure almost beyond recognition.

Bill's Foes Oppose Halt

It was Rankin himself who proposed a delay after opponents had loaded down his plan with restrictive clauses. He put across the postponement by a vote of 173 to 98.

The bill's foes wanted to continue action. They apparently hope to saddle it down with so many amendments the House then will vote to send the measure back to the Veterans committee for "further study"—in other words to pigeonhole it.

These major changes were tentatively approved (all subject to roll call votes):

1. Basing the pension payments on length of service according to a formula proposed by Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind). Under this plan veterans reaching the age of 65 would receive a flat $10 a month, plus $1 for each month of service during actual hostilities and another $3 per month for each month of service in a theatre of operations.

Two Proposals Rejected

2. Restricting the grants to (A) single veteran who at age 65 had incomes of not over $2,000; (B) those with dependants and whose yearly incomes did not exceed $3,000. This amendment by Rep. Rogers (D-Fla) was approved 127 to 70.

Jacobs, whose formula was adopted by a vote of 135 to 111, told the House if it approved a veterans pension plan on another basis it would be a case of "just plain buying votes."

The House did reject two amendments to bar World War II servicemen from the Rankin bill's proposed benefits. The votes on these proposals by Reps. Huber

Boyd Confirmation Puts Lewis On Spot

PITTSBURGH, March 23 (AP) — Senate confirmation of Dr. James Boyd as head of the U. S. Bureau of Mines today left the next step in the coal mine shutdown squarely up to John L. Lewis.

Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, called 463,000 hard and soft coal miners out of the pits Monday, March 14, to protest Boyd's appointment. Lewis considers him unqualified since he never was a miner. The work stoppage also was termed a memorial to mine accident victims.

The miners are scheduled to return to work next Monday. No one in authority has said they won't but many have wondered what action Lewis would take if the Senate ignored his wishes—as it has.

Churchill, HST To Confer Today

By MILTON KAPLAN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 23—Winston Churchill, powerful anti-Communist orator and champion of an American-backed federated Europe, arrived in the United States today for a short visit.

He will have dinner tomorrow in Washington with President Truman, and he said he came to the United States "to express the thanks we all feel for everything the United States is doing for the world."

The 74-year-old wartime British prime minister—the usual fat cigar dividing a wide grin—stepped ashore in New York from the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth and immediately ran into faint echoes of his famous Fulton, Mo., speech of three years ago.

Others in the crowd of several hundred persons shouted "Hi, Winnie," and the famous grin wreathed Churchill's face.

In that "iron curtain" speech three years ago Churchill denounced the "expansive and proselytizing tendencies" of Russia and

WASHINGTON, March 23. (INS) President Truman said Wednesday night that retiring Defense Secretary Forrestal has agreed to "come back into the government" again in the event of an emergency.

The chief executive made his statement at a surprise appearance at a testimonial dinner in a downtown Washington hotel for Forrestal, who is scheduled to drop the reins of office March 31.

The dinner was tendered to Forrestal by the high command of the Army, Navy and Air Force and the President's cabinet.

Mr. Truman dropped in after dining with his daughter, Margaret.

The President said to Forrestal: "Jim, I want to congratulate you on a great public career. I hope I'm as well thought of, when I get out of office, as you are."

"FRANCE is again ready to take her place among the circle of nations of the world after more than 10 years of war and strife," Mlle. Eve Curie, noted lecturer and writer, told a small audience in the Texas Tech recreation hall Wednesday night.

Mlle. Curie who is on an eleven-week lecture tour of this country spoke to a group of approximately 200 persons at the college. The daughter of the discoverer of radium told her listeners the best news from France was that the nation was making tremendous progress in all fields.

She said that she was also glad to note the interest that the people of the United States were taking in her country. CATTLE DISEASE FIGHT PRAISED

Public Tightening Purse Strings On Meat Buying, Cattlemen Told

HOUSTON, March 23 (AP) — Southwestern cattlemen were advised today that meat consumers are becoming more cautious about spending money.

Homer H. Davison, Chicago, vice president of the American Meat institute, said meat packers the past several months have been unable to increase sales materially by lowering prices.

Davison also warned the seventy-second annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association that further indications of inflation may mean new attempts for government controls over the meat industry.

Added Controls Possible

"The latest word is that it isn't very likely but if there should be any indication of further inflation there probably will be more pressure for controls," he said.

Other speakers before the convention today included General Harry H. Johnson, Houston oil executive on leave as co-director of the joint American-Mexican commission directing the fight against the dread foot and mouth livestock disease in Mexico.

Johnson said the comparatively new limited slaughter and general vaccination plan which replaced a complete slaughter system over a year ago still is in an experimental stage but has made considerable progress.

Mission Outlined

He said the commission's mission in Mexico is two fold: First, to contain the foot and mouth disease within the infected zone in Mexico, and, second, to eradicate it in the infected area.

"The first of these aims, we believe, has definitely been accomplished," Johnson said. "In the second objective, much progress has been made through a specific plan of inspection, quarantine, disinfection, extermination and vaccination."

The general said American participation in the program is costing about $2,000,000 per month and that there are 800 Americans, including 100 scientists, among the 4000 employes of the commission.

Two other speakers were F. W. Hinkhouse, cattle feeder from West Liberty, Iowa, and Judge E. E. Townes of Houston.

Price Comparison Given

Hinkhouse said the price of round steak last year was 370.6 percent higher than in 1914 but that in terms of work hours the 1948 price was 40 percent cheaper than in 1914.

The "typical market basket" of 1914, he said, required 29 hours of work, compared with only 14 today.

He urged the cattle raisers to continue and expand pasture lands as a means of soil conservation.

Townes said that while only a small percentage of land contains oil or gas the lease bonus and rental money paid by the oilmen has saved cattlemen and farmers from financial embarrassment and perhaps bankruptcy on many occasions.

Four new directors elected by the association today were Foy Proctor, Midland, Cameron Duncan, Freer, Jack Mansfield, Vega, and John Schwartz, Fort Worth.

Floyd Courthouse Decision Awaits Insurance Settlement

FLOYDADA, March 23 (Special)—Any decision on the rebuilding of the Floyd county courthouse which burned March 11 depends on first obtaining an insurance settlement, county officials indicated today.

The 37-year-old structure is again in partial use, but the upper floors are completely burned out. Doubling up in offices on the first floor and in the basement are the county judge, sheriff, treasurer, collector-assessor, county school superintendent, county and district clerks and surveyor. The county and district attorney have occupied offices in the business district and all courts are held in a small first-floor courtroom.

The building was insured for $200,000, and contents were insured for $25,000.

County Judge G. C. Tubbs said he had heard of no petitions for a bond election as yet. Architects have started a survey of damage, and out of the survey is expected to come definite information as to whether the building can be rebuilt on its present existing walls and foundation, or whether a new building must be started from the ground.

After that decision is made, county officials will know whether a bond issue is required and how much.

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Daily average crude oil production in the United States increased 22,050 barrels in the week ended March 16, the American Petroleum institute reported today.

The institute said the daily average was 5,145,400 barrels during the week, compared with 5,240,250 a year ago.

Refineries operated at 84.1 per cent of potential, compared with 85.9 per cent a year ago and 5,335,000 barrels of crude were run to the stills daily, compared with the year ago figure at 5,344,000 barrels.

Total United States heavy oil production was 8,411,000 barrels, against 8,125,000 the previous week and 9,008,000 a year ago.

Light fuel oil production was 6,775,000 barrels compared with 7,325,000 the previous week and 7,472,000 a year ago.

Estimated gasoline production in the United States was 17,470,000 barrels during the week ended March 16; it was 17,267,000 the previous week (a revision from the 17,487,000 previously estimated), and 15,600,000 a year ago.

The institute said that due to a change in the reporting base in California it was impossible to give comparative figures for gas, oil and distillate fuel oil and for residual fuel oil.

First Of Air Force's New B-45 'Tornado' Bombers Delivered

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23 (AP)—The first of 53 B-45 "Tornado" jet bombers was delivered today to the 47th bombardment wing at Barksdale Air Force base. The 47th is the first jet bomber wing in Air Force history.

The four-jet bomber was landed at the air base at 3:33 p.m. (CST) by the 47th Wing and group commander, Col. W. F. "Bill" Chapman, after a 746-mile flight from Biggs Air Force base at El Paso, in one hour and 35 minutes.

Col. Chapman said another B-45, piloted by Lt. Col. Sherman R. Beaty, is due to arrive at Barksdale early tomorrow from Biggs Air Force base, where it landed this afternoon from San Bernardino, Calif.

Others On Way

The 47th commander said two more B-45's have been completed by North American aviation at its San Bernardino plant and will be flown to Barksdale next week.

"We will receive 15 jet bombers from the San Bernardino plant in the next two months, the colonel said. "After that we will receive approximately two each week from other B-45 factories."

"The 47th bomb wing will be completely equipped with B-45 jet planes by mid-summer or early fall," he said.

Col. Chapman said he averaged 498 miles an hour on the flight from El Paso, utilizing approximately 84 per cent of the plane's power plant, and helped by slight tailwinds.

Asked if he could have continued much farther on his fuel load, he replied: "I could have gone considerably farther than Barksdale."

He said the B-45 has a bomb load capacity of 27,000 pounds, compared to 20,000 for the B-29, and 4,000 for the B-26 Invaders now used by the 47th.

Chapman said he flew at 25,000 feet until he reached Fort Worth, then began descending at a rate of 1,000 feet a minute to land at Barksdale.

Only 20 officers of the 47th are qualified to pilot the B-45.

Confederate Flag Thefts Are Probed

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—A Texas Ranger is looking into the wave of Confederate flag-stealing here.

The Confederate museum on the capitol grounds was broken into last night and several flags stolen. Several days ago, a Confederate flag was stolen from the Senate chamber.

The Senate flag was recovered on the University of Texas campus and police described the incident as a college prank.

Today, state police director Homer Garrison assigned a Ranger to investigate the flag raid on the Confederate museum.

Israel Signs Armistice With Lebanon, Northern Arab Neighbor

TEL AVIV, Israel, March 23 (AP) Israel and the smallest of her active Arab foes, the republic of Lebanon, signed armistice terms today.

Israeli and Lebanese delegations formally ratified at the Lebanese city of En Naqura an agreement they initialed Sunday.

One of the terms is that Israel will withdraw her troops from 14 captured villages in Lebanon within the next ten days. Lebanon is a northern neighbor of Israel.

It was four weeks ago that Israel and Egypt, the largest of the active Arab participants in the Palestine war, signed an armistice that broke the ice for other members of the Arab league.

MAN FAINTS AT LOW PRICES

The high cost of living took its toll in reverse today. Joe Smudge is so used to paying high prices for everything that when he ran into a low price for a better product, he bit the dust!

Seems a friend lent him a wonderful razor blade—PAL Hollow Ground. Joe went to the store to get some more. "How much?" asked Joe. "Still only 10¢ for 4," said the clerk. That's when Smudge fainted.

"What!" said Joe when he came to, "Why I pay twice that for blades that aren't half as good."

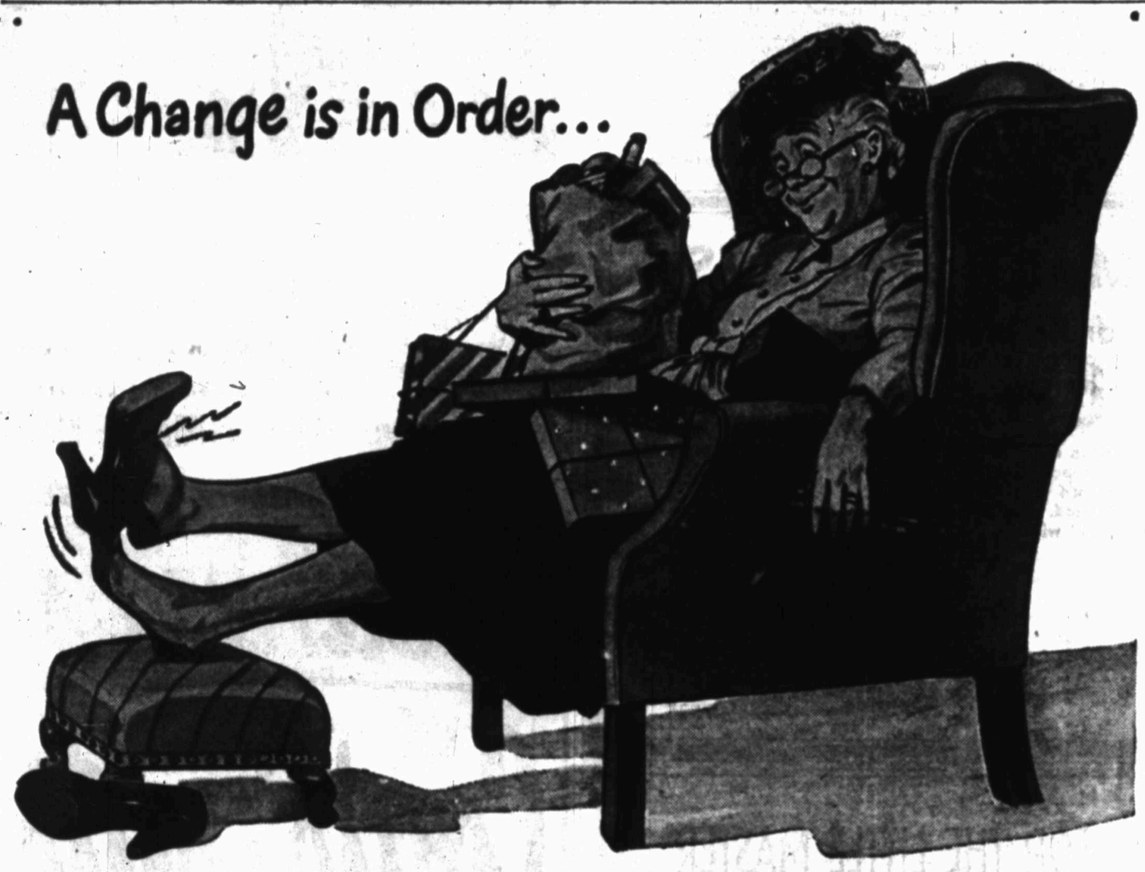

P.S.: Don't be fooled by price. Try Pal Hollow Ground yourself. You still get 4 for 10¢, 10 for 25¢, 21 for 49¢, 44 for 98¢. For either Double or Single Edge razors.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

(EDITOR'S NOTE: During the two months that Margaret Turner is in Europe, The Woman's Angle will be written by Ellen Miller, a member of the Woman's staff.)

We have received a letter from a woman who is much distressed by conditions existing in state mental hospitals, and who says that people with money to contribute to worthy causes should consider the case of mentally ill people in Texas before they decide to send all their gifts elsewhere.

"I happen to be one of the unfortunate ones who knows something about these hospitals," she wrote. "I have not been confined in one myself, but am closely connected with someone that is . . . . people who are not in any way connected with these conditions do not realize how badly money is needed . . . "

In commenting on her letter, we are in no way appealing for funds, because we feel it is the privilege of each individual to decide where his money shall go. But the idea doubtless merits consideration from thoughtful people. Authorities say that one member of every five families in the United States today receives or will receive treatment in a mental hospital.

It is all the people of the state, through their elected and appointed representatives, who build and staff the mental hospitals. And if these institutions are not maintained properly, it is the fault of all the people.

Citizens might do well to consider, in a spare moment, the words of Elizabeth Fry in her report on Paris prisons to the king of France: "When thee builds a prison, thee had better build with the thought ever in thy mind that thee and thy children may occupy the cells."

The same is true of mental hospitals here today.

FLOUR AND BORAX

A friend of ours in New Orleans (city of glamour, hoopla and king-sized roaches) has discovered a poison for cockroaches that is a bit unusual.

Mix equal parts of flour and borax and leave around for the rouches, she says. Obviously you have to keep all other food inaccesible. We haven't tried it, but if it works on the monsters that grow in the Delta city, it certainly ought to eliminate Lubbock's puny little specimens.

TELL US WHY DEPT.

Why is it that a man can weave in and out of traffic, run red lights and speed on busy streets, and those who see him will only say, "That man (meaning that individual) ought to have his driver's license taken away!"

But let a woman pull any one of those stunts, and the average onlooker will say, "Women (meaning the driver in question, and all other women including your Aunt Hattie who won the safe driving contest) ought to have their drivers' licenses taken away!"

INDIAN HUMOR (?)

Two friends, Ammu and Din, were flying to Kashmir at high altitude. Ammu was cold to his bones as their non-air-conditioned plane hit the 12,000 foot altitude.

Din, teeth chattering, suggested that they ask the pilot to "stop those big fans whirling outside."

This gem was furnished us gratis by the Government of India Information services as an example of Indian humor. If you think it is funny, well and good. If not, just be glad you don't live in India and have to hear such all the time.

Brannan also told a House Agriculture subcommittee that he has broad enough authority to withhold price supports for cotton, tobacco and other crops from a farmer who refuses to cooperate in controlling production and narketing of corn.

Youth Charged With Slaying Wife Held In Galveston Jail

KEMAH, Texas, March 23. (AP) Harold Allred, 23, charged with slaying his 16-year-old wife Tuesday, was held in jail at Galveston last night in lieu of $2,000 bond.

The bond was set by Justice of the Peace Paul Labadie of Dickinson a few minutes after Allred surrendered to him.

Allred, a pipefitter of Kemah is charged with murder.

The young wife, mother of a two-months-old child, was shot once with a .30 caliber rifle.

She was hiding in the bathroom of her sister's home when the door was battered down and the fatal shot was fired. The sister is Mrs. Robert Upton.

Allred went to a cafe after the shooting and left a letter addressed to Rev. T. H. Epton, First Baptist church, Gainesville. "If anything happens to me," he told the cafe owner, "see that this letter is mailed."

Several people followed him from the cafe to another eating establishment. A number of persons took him to the justice of the peace.

Bricker Raises Loyalty Question

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP) Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) demanded Wednesday an investigation of the way Dr. Frank P. Graham, senator-designate from North Carolina, was cleared for access to atomic secrets.

Bricker told the Senate he did not plan or expect any objection to the seating of Graham, now president of the University of North Carolina. But he said the circumstances with regard to atomic information "ought to have the attention" of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee.

Cleared By Atomic Board

Bricker said an atomic security review board refused to clear Graham for secret material and disbanded at some later date. He wanted to know more about that, too.

Graham was cleared for access to all atomic data by the Atomic Energy commission itself.

Bricker's demands brought an immediate reply from Senator Hoey (D-N.C.). Hoey said he resented "implications" and "insinuations" against Graham's loyalty.

Morse Praises Graham

The issue of Graham's access to atomic secrets arose when he became president of the Oak Ridge institute of nuclear study, a non-profit group that includes representatives of a number of southern colleges. The institute was set up to promote regional partipation in atomic studies at the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) atomic plant. Graham was named last night to fill out the Senate term of the late Senator Broughton (D-N.C.).

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) said he worked with Graham for two years when they both were members of the old War Labor board.

"If I had to name 25 of the greatest living Americans, I would include Dr. Graham and I would place him exceedingly high on the list," Morse said.

In addition to the specific inquiry on Graham, Bricker demanded an investigation of the Atomic Energy commission, headed by David E. Lilienthal.

Canadians Move To Cut Taxes, Loosen Import Restrictions

OTTAWA, March 23 (AP) — The Canadian government moved today to cut taxes sharply and provide more consumer goods for the people.

A 32 per cent reduction in income taxes and liberalized exemptions striking the names of 750,000 income taxpayers from the rolls are features of the program.

It also calls for a cut in taxes on earnings of small business firms; repeal or reduction of a variety of other levies; removal of price control of many commodities; and relaxation of import restrictions on a long list of commodities.

Tax Exemptions Raised

The program would lop $270,000,000—about 32 per cent of last year's tax revenues—from the national income.

The income tax program calls for exemptions to be raised from $750 to $1,000 for a single person; from $1,500 to $2,000 for a married person; and from $100 to $150 for each dependent child.

War-time price ceilings are being abolished immediately on many foodstuffs. Controls will remain on primary forms of iron and steel.

Rent controls will remain in effect, and the government is asking for authority to continue any other controls it deems necessary.

Restrictions Lifted

To provide more consumer goods, import restrictions will be lessened or removed on a long list of commodities, many of which come from the United States. He said an increase of U. S. dollar reserves to $1,065,000,000 made this possible.

Quotas will be increased from 15 to 25 per cent for the import of textiles, fruits and vegetables, footwear, luggage, furniture, plumbing fixtures, heating equipment, prepared foods, watches, clocks, toys and sporting goods. Imports restrictions are removed from lumber, paint, mirrors and certain kinds of glass. The import on 16-mm. motion picture projectors and greeting cards, now banned, will be permitted on a quota basis.

Man Leaps To Death From Dallas Hotel

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—Jack Matthews, 48, was injured fatally today in a plunge from his room on the 13th floor of the Adolphus hotel.

He crashed onto the roof of an adjoining six-story building, and died two hours later in a hospital.

He was connected with the American Lead Pencil Co.

Leonard A. Hehner of West Orange, N. J., who occupied the same room with Matthews, described the plunge to officers. Hehner is advertising manager for the pencil firm.

He said Matthews seemed distressed last night. He told officers that when Matthews awoke this morning, he said:

"I've been thinking all night long, looking up at a crack in the ceiling."

Hehner said he was at a desk writing when suddenly Matthews wheeled and smashed through the window screen.

It is estimated that U. S. automobiles totalled 600 billion passenger miles in 1947.

Foreign Delegates To 'World Peace' Conference Arrive In U.S.; Opposition Groups To Meet

By W. J. EADS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 23—Foreign delegates began arriving today for a three-day "World Peace" conference as protest groups planned picketing and prayer by massed thousands.

Patriotic, civic and veterans' organizations said prayer will dominate their demonstrations—"prayer that liberation will come soon for the Russian-enslaved millions."

The "World Peace" conference, to open Friday night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, has been described by Secretary of State Dean Acheson as "a sounding board for Communist propaganda." State department officials also have described it as a Moscow move to oppose the North Atlantic Security pact and further other Soviet aims.

The conference is sponsored by the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Dr. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer and chairman of the council, says the conference is independent politically and will be conducted in the "democratic tradition."

Czechoslovak delegates were the first to arrive today from abroad.

Three Polish delegates arrived during the afternoon.

The Soviet delegation of seven, including Dmitri Shostakovich, the composer, arrived by plane at La-Guardia field late today.

'Protest' Activities Co-Ordinated

Activities of the protest groups were being co-ordinated by a newly-formed Peoples' Committee for Freedom and Religion. One spokesman said picket arrangements have been cleared with the police department and that no requests to limit the number of pickets were made.

Several slogans have been prepared for the protest demonstration. Joseph M. Calderon, Brooklyn attorney and chairman of the co-ordinating committee, said some of them will be:

"Communists are not welcome here. We don't want you. Get out."

"Defend human rights of Communists by destroying Communism."

"Stalin must free the 15,000,000 slave workers in Russia."

Junior Jaycees Planning For Annual Convention in Galveston

ABILENE, March 23. (U.P.)—Headquarters of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday were making plans for nearly 2,000 delegates and their wives to attend the 22nd annual state convention which opens in Galveston March 31.

The meeting will last through April 2.

Melvin B. Evans of Wichita Falls, state president of the Jaycees, said the highlight of the convention would be the keynote address at a luncheon on Friday April 1, by Gov. Sidney S. McMath of Arkansas.

Other speakers will include Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls; George O. Baird, jr., of Shreveport, vice-president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce; Tex Roberts, Tulsa, magazine editor, and Cliff Cooper of Pasadena, Calif., national chairman of the War Memorial fund.

SPACE AT A PREMIUM—Straw mattresses on the cement floor, like these on an open porch at San Antonio State hospital, are the only beds available for more than 200 patients. Even if beds were available, says the superintendent, the hospital would not have enough floor space to accommodate them.

Conditions In San Antonio State Hospital Almost Unbelievable; Food Fund Is Low

throughout the system.

San Antonio has one of the most able and competent staffs in the state hospital system. Superintendent J. B. Anderson, a former colonel in the Army Medical Corps, sets a pace for his staff that matches his brisk military stride.

Then why the straw mattresses when other institutions handling epileptic patients have found beds and cotton mattresses satisfactory? The simple facts are that these patients in San Antonio sleep on the floor and on straw mattresses because Dr. Anderson has found no substitute for money.

The epileptic patients with whom he is concerned are in advanced stages, in most instances. He doesn't have the staff so spreads his force thin in order to use it most effectively.

Space shortages, bed shortages, straw mattresses, are all problems. But there is one other difficulty which makes these minor in comparison. With less than 40 cents per day to feed each patient, it has been necessary to dig into other funds to provide sustenance.

DR. Anderson frankly admits that his hospital is so overcrowded that there would not be enough floor space to give every patient a bed even if the beds were available.

Last summer Superintendent Anderson, measuring all available floor space, found that San Antonio has twice too many patients to meet even the minimum standards (60 square feet per bed) of the American Psychiatric association.

Many of the 2,900 patients at San Antonio should be in other institutions. For example, Dr. Anderson estimates 950 of these are seniles who cannot be improved by mental treatment. Another doctor said there are at least 300 epileptics who should be in a special hospital. Other groups which have no place in a regular mental hospital include about 20 alcoholics, 10 drug addicts, and a few adjudged criminally insane.

Some Units Adequate

It would be improper and untruthful to leave the impression that all of the San Antonio hospital is like the epileptic ward. There are some adequate units, such as modern psychopathic buildings, where many patients live in private rooms, and the clean, well-kept tuberculosis wards.

The medical staff is also an asset. The ratio of one doctor to 300 patients is too high, but it is still better than the system-wide average. Five registered nurses, a clinical psychologist, and two social workers raise San Antonio's score. But the staff would have to be doubled to meet desirable APA standards.

INADEQUACY of facilities and equipment is graphically demonstrated three times each day in the central dining room. About 1,000 patients, both men and women, ranging from the passive and quiet to the violently disturbed, of necessity must be herded like cattle to the "feed bins."

The quiet, neater patients are sent through the cafeteria-style line first. As soon as the last of this group moves to a table with his metal tray and spoon, another door admits the more troublesome, deteriorated patients.

The babble of hundreds of aimless voices blends with the clatter of metal utensils. Shrill commands of the attendants—"Now ladies, stop fighting!"—are lost in the squishing of shoes and bare feet through the litter of food which soon covers the floor. With the arrival of each new group of patients the din builds into a crescendo like that of an approaching tornado.

Not Pleasant Scene

By the time the maniac group arrives one might think the Third Armored Division was maneuvering in the building.

This is unpleasant to watch and to hear. Worst, is its adverse effect on the patients. A restful and undisturbed atmosphere is important in the treatment of the mentally ill. One meal in San Antonio's dining room can wipe out weeks of careful therapy.

This is a condition over which the present staff has no control. Several years ago it was decided that it would be cheaper to feed the patients in one big dining room rather than break them up into smaller groups.

BUT the panorama of bedlam must of necessity extend throughout the hospital. Those close to the system know that it must be cured first if doctors and attendants are to get the best results in patients.

The current legislature has been asked to meet the overcrowded conditions by approving new construction. This would include a new tuberculosis hospital which would handle all such patients from both San Antonio and Austin. This might prevent the mentally ill from overflowing into South Texas jails. But those close to the problem say it would be merely a stop-gap measure.

Perhaps the most enlightening comment on the situation was made by a ward supervisor at San Antonio for 19 years. With the calm of desperation he said:

"The jails might not be so bad. At least the patients would get a bed, two decent meals a day, and individual attention. Patients are lucky here if they get one of the three."

(TOMORROW: Terrell, like Texas, just grew. By necessity it has taken on the air of a penal institution where doctors and patients make the best of a sorry mess.)

WITNESS TELLS OF PARTY WORK

Budenz Opens Government Case Against 11 Communist Leaders

By JOSEPH HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 23 — A one-time high Communist who has renounced the party opened the government's case against 11 U.S. Communist leaders today. He described inner workings of the party between 1935 and 1945.

Louis F. Budenz, one-time member of the U.S. party's "politburo" and managing editor of its paper, The Daily Worker, was the first witness called by the prosecution in the conspiracy trial.

He took the stand 66 days after the trial began.

Budenz linked several of the defendants to key roles in the party machinery in the decade in which he was a member. He testified that certain of the defendants gave him his party assignments and directed his activities in running the Daily Worker.

One defendant, Jacob Stachel, rebuked him because a statement prepared for publication in the paper did not give "enough prominence to Stalin and the international Communist movement," the witness said.

Budenz left the party in October, 1945, and since has repeatedly denounced it in lectures and writings. He rejoined the Catholic church and taught for a while at Notre Dame university. He then became a member of the faculty at Fordham university where he teaches economics.

His testimony included the following:

That Gilbert Green, a defendant, had told him he (Green) attended the seventh congress of the Communist international in Moscow in 1935.

That Stachel showed him (Budenz) a resolution adopted at the same congress which lauded Premier Stalin as "the beloved leader of the whole proletariat."

That the editorial content of the Daily Worker was closely supervised by Stachel; Eugene Dennis, another defendant, and William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party. Foster originally was a defendant but was granted a severance because of a heart ailment.

John L. Smith Is Speaker At Exchange Club Meeting

John Lee Smith, local attorney and former lieutenant governor of Texas, spoke on the monetary system of the Roman empire at the weekly Exchange club luncheon Wednesday in Hotel Lubbock.

The soundness of ancient Rome's currency was a major factor in the spread of the empire, Smith explained. He pointed out that the Romans, while not the first to use coins, were the first to use money as an international medium of exchange. Thus, he said, the Roman system is the parent of all modern monetary systems.

In closing, Smith noted that as the value of Roman money declined, so did the power of the empire. He warned against the dangers in "watering" money, making it progressively cheaper.

After his talk, Smith exhibited his collection of about 70 Roman coins to Exchange club members. from 15 to 23 centuries old, is rated as the finest of its kind in Texas.

A soft ball practice session was set for 6 p. m. Friday, at the diamond in 3200 block Nineteenth. All interested club members were invited to attend.

ON NAVY DUTY — Lt. Cdr. David S. Butler, USN, son of Mrs. Lillian Butler of 1905 16th St., Lubbock, Texas, is currently serving as assistant training officer on the staff of Commander Fleet Air Wings Atlantic, at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va. He entered Naval service Dec. 13, 1940.

Floyd Stock Group To Meet Saturday

FLOYDADA, March 23. (Special)—Stock breeders of Floyd county and the surrounding area will attend a meeting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the American Legion hall for the purpose of organizing the Floyd County Artificial Breeding association, County Agent Robert Gibson announced today.

Koy Neeley, lecturer in animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, will be a speaker at the meeting.

Officers and five directors for the organization will be elected. The group will make application for a charter, locate a headquarters and discuss buying equipment, hiring a technician and obtaining report and record forms.

Gibson said Floyd county stockmen have shown much interest in forming the organization and because of this the group will be able to start functioning immediately in order to take advantage of the spring breeding season.

Houston To Enforce Horse Meat Ban By Inspecting Producers

HOUSTON, March 23. (AP)—Houston's bulwark against the infiltration of horse meat was set up today on a statewide front, as City Veterinarian Dr. J. W. Williamson announced he would personally inspect plants shipping meat into the city.

Williamson revealed he had already barred two plants, in Beaumont and Galveston, from disposing of meat in Houston. The action was taken, he explained, because he found that cattle and horses were being slaughtered on the same premises.

Through Dr. Williamson's trips over the state, Houston's new stringent meat ordinance, which has not allowed horse meat to be sold for human consumption, will be well publicized.

Plants will be informed of Houston meat inspection standards, and if all specifications are not met, Williamson stated, the meat will be kept out of the city.

Dr. Williamson said he would go to San Antonio today to confer with Dr. Austin E. Hill, former Houston health director who is now San Antonio's health officer, and with the San Antonio chief veterinarian.

Michigan's 'Youngest Father' Starts Work On Dairy Farm

PAW PAW, Mich., March 23. (AP)—Life has suddenly turned rosy for Michigan's youngest father who celebrated his 14th birthday Tuesday.

Carl Harvey Blake, jr., with a 16-year-old wife and month-old baby to support, has found a job and the little family has been flooded with gifts.

A few days ago, he was despondent because he was too young to get a job.

That's changed now. Carl, his wife and son are living in a tenant house on the dairy farm of Earl R. Thompson near Richland. Thompson put him to work.

On his birthday, Carl received packages and parcels from well-wishers in 35 states, Canada and Mexico. They are valued at $1,000 and won't be opened until John W. Reed, temporary guardian of the family, can be present.

IBC Slates Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott Title Bout In June

Heavyweight Go Set For Chicago

CHICAGO, March 23 (INS)—Joe Louis and the new International Boxing Club announced today that they will promote an Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott fight in Chicago this June for the heavyweight title vacated by Louis.

Possession is nine tenths of regular law and ten tenths of boxing law, and Louis, Arthur Wirtz and James Norris—co-partners in the I. B. C.—had possession of Charles and Walcott when they opened the new I. B. C. offices in Chicago's west side stadium today.

They also noted that Abe Greene, president of the National Boxing Association which controls the sport everywhere of consequence except New York, has sanctioned the Charles-Walcott fight as a title match.

Charles and Walcott will appear before the regular meeting of the Illinois Athletic Commission next Monday to do the necessary signing of papers that will make the fight official. At that time, the I. B. C. will receive an Illinois license and the date and arena-site for the bout will be made known.

Tell All At Conference

Promoter Louis, whose formal title is that of boxing director for the International Boxing Club, and Harry Mendel, his matchmaker held a news conference at which they told all. Wirtz was in the next room and Norris was in Detroit with a broken foot.

Louis and Mendel said the I. B. C. plans a fight card at Chicago Stadium (which Wirtz and Norris own) the week of April 17 and at the Detroit Olympia (which Wirtz and Norris own) the week of April 24. For the latter date, they said, featherweight champion Willie Pep and challenger Sandy Saddler have promised their services.

"We can have either one," Louis said, "so long as they don't end up fighting each other."

Other Fighters In Fold

They went on to say that they have the call on several other fighters, including possibilities equal to those of other promoters of getting people like welterweight champion Ray Robinson, who is under contract to no man, which occasionally includes his own manager.

Louis and Mendel said that both Charles and Walcott will be under two-year contract to the I. B. C., which means that no matter who wins the title fight, further defenses against the likes of Le Savold or Gus Lesnevich will be the International Boxing Club's business too.

In Cincinnati, promoter Sam Becker, who had offered up to $500 to get his city as site for the Charles-Walcott fight, exploded wrathfully at today's news and claimed he would hold his own title bout, probably between Joey Maxim and Lee Savold. NAB president Greene, Becker said, had no right to sanction one fight as a title bout when a championship is vacant without first holding an elimination tournament.

Lubbock Keglers Win In Odessa Tourney

Three Lubbock keglers were among the first five winners in the first annual Elks Club sweepstakes held in Odessa the last two week ends.

Ben Brown of Lubbock won the eight-game sweepstakes with a total of 1,567 pins for first money of $250 and a diamond studded gold medal. Jay O'Keefe finished in fourth place with 1,515 and T. I. Brown had 1,509 in fifth place.

Bowlers from all over this area participated in the sweepstakes and more than 100 pin-topplers tried their luck for the prizes. In this particular tournament one person could enter more than once, but one bowler could win only one prize. Twenty-four local bowling enthusiasts made the trip.

On Saturday Brown, O'Keefe, Bill Nelms, and Jim Buckner will go to Fort Worth for the Cowtown Roundup, a four game sweepstakes with a $300 first-money purse.

Manager Jackie Sullivan Not Happy

Hubber Players Are Slow In Reporting

(Special To The Avalanche)

GREENVILLE, March 23 — Manager Jackie Sullivan of the Lubbock Hubbers should be a happy man.

Ever since he put away his uniform following the final game of the 1948 season, Sullivan has been waiting impatiently for the 1949 season to roll around. It has. He's in camp and back at the baseball grind again.

But Sullivan's not happy. He left Lubbock full of optimism and eager to greet his squad. Now he's wallowing in the depths of despair. The players are slow in reporting.

Outfielder Joe Wisniewski still is home with the flu. Outfielder Bob Cowsar is coaching and can't get away. Outfielder Carl Brecheisen is still in college. Infielder Bill DePetris still is in college. A couple of pitchers haven't reported because of one complication or another.

And Sullivan just can't stand not seeing a lot of fine ball players on his squad. He wants to get going and he's stymied by the lack of Hubbers in uniform. Not even the assurances of George Schepps, general manager, that he'll have all the players he wants in a few days, can smooth over Sullivan's unhappiness.

Meanwhile the squad that is on hand is going through a week-long drill that is emphasizing condition. The Hubbers also are getting some hitting and some fielding practice. The pitchers are loosening up tight arms and the outfielders are shagging flies.

Pitts' Work Liked

Generally, the squad is in good condition, although Cotton Russell has come down with shin splints. At the same time, he has thrown a lot and has looked better than a year ago. Sullivan also likes the work of Herby Pitts, the Indian southpaw. Pitts wasn't ready last year, but Sullivan says that he is faster this year. He also has more poise and is working harder.

Jim Prince, the former Midland first baseman, still has a lot of superfluous winter living to work off, but he shows signs of making the Hubbers a top first sacker. He's working hard, hitting well and making progress.

All in all, things are better than Sullivan sees them right now and are certain to get better.

Weaver Cops Wrestling Event

Paying patrons at Sled Allen's arena of mirth without melody were entertained by three good wrestling matches last night, with Buck Weaver besting Rod Fenton in the main event and the other two matches ending in draws.

There wasn't as much of the rough, rowdy stuff last night, but there was enough to keep everyone happy. Pat O'Dowdy and Arturo Ruiz provided plenty of fireworks in their get together, while George Blackley and Vic Weber had a good 20-minute draw to open the proceedings.

Weaver was in good form last night, winning the first fall from the clown-like Fenton in one minute flat. The veteran tossed Fenton with his Texas Bulldog, a variation on the flying headlock. But Fenton came back to win the second on a body slam and body pin, after dishing out plenty of punishment.

The third fall ended with surprising rapidity, after Fenton virtually had Weaver pinned. The veteran suddenly upended Fenton, breaking the Canadian's hold and applying a quick Japanese crab.

Ruiz and O'Dowdy had a rough, but crowd-interest, match, with Ruiz taking the first fall in 17 minutes on an abdominal stretch. O'Dowdy came back to throw his usual knowledge of the ring at Ruiz and took the fall in nine minutes with a hammerlock stomp.

Then the two grapplers came back to a rousing fall that ended in a draw when time ran out.

Blackley and Weber put on a good match in the preliminary, wrestling to a draw that kept the fans entertained and provided them with good wrestling.

Mrs. George Soash Gets Low Stroke Honors In Ladies Play

At the regular meeting of the Ladies Golf association at Lubbock Country club Wednesday, Mrs. George Soash was low in strokes leading up to the green over the 18-hole course, and Mrs. John Markham carded low putts over the long course.

In the nine hole flight, Mrs. O. D. McCoy and Mrs. C. E. Hunley tied for low score. Low with the putter was Mrs. Fenner Tubbs.

Gardella Will Get Answer To Baseball Suit On April 6

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Danny Gardella, squat outfielder once with the New York Giants, must wait at least until April 6 for an answer to his plea that he be permitted to return immediately to baseball.

Federal Judge Edward A. Conger heard attorneys for both sides today and said that he would rule on the request after lawyers filed their briefs on April 6.

Tech Net Stars Beat SMU, 4 To 2

DALLAS, March 23 (AP)—Texas Tech had an easy time of it today defeating Southern Methodist university, 4 to 2, on the tennis courts. SMU was able to take only one of the four singles matches and one of the two doubles matches.

Singles:

Jake Broyles, Tech, defeated George Martin, SMU, 6-1, 6-3.

Glenn Ivy, Tech, defeated James Owen, SMU, 7-5, 6-8, 6-2.

Raymond Rude, SMU, defeated Ed Scudday, Tech, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Carl Schmidt, Tech, defeated Herbie Karren, SMU, 6-4, 6-2.

Doubles:

Ivy and Broyles (Tech) defeated Martin and Karren (SMU) 0-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Rude and Owen (SMU) defeated Schmidt and Scudday (Tech) 6-8, 6-4, 7-5.

Broyles' win over Martin was by a surprising margin. The speedy junior from Lamesa played a good steady back court game and his placements were deadly accurate.

After the Lubbock netsters wrapped up three of the four singles matches, SMU's only chance to salvage the event was to win both doubles. Martin and Karren seemed on the road to that end, too, winning the first set 6-0 against Ivy and Broyles. The second set went to Tech 6-2. In the decisive set, SMU took a 5-3 lead and seemed headed for victory when Ivy and Broyles broke through Martin's service to rally and win the set 7-5. Ivy and Broyles played a lobbing game to take the set.

SMU's rally in the second doubles match was successful, but too late to do any good.

Longest match of the day was the singles go between Rude and Scudday. Both played a deep back court game.

The Raider netmen tomorrow journey to Fort Worth for a match against the strong Texas Christian university tennis team.

DYER'S LIFE IS SERIES OF IFS

Cardinal Farm Clubs Fail To Produce Needed Player Talent

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 23—They don't plant 'taters. They don't plant cotton. They don't plant major league ball players.

Sometimes you wonder if the St. Louis Cardinals the last few years have planted anything but their feet on their farms, which used to produce enough playing talent annually to fatten the papa club, with enough left over for a little lend-lease business.

We have an idea manager Eddie Dyer is thinking along the same lines, and is far from being a completely happy man.

The unkindest cut of all so far as Dyer was concerned was the surprising sale of Murry Dickson, the work-horse pitcher, to the Pirates.

Dyer had nothing to do with that. Didn't know about it, in fact, until he read about it in the papers, and we have an idea he'd have put up a loud squawk had he known what was coming. The Cards need every good player they can scrape up, and the $125,000 the club is reported to have received for Dickson won't win many ball games.

As things stand, Dyer has to try to win with practically the same team that couldn't win last year. He just has to hope that Whitey Kurowski returns to form, that Marty Marion can be corseted and braced and wired together to stand regular play, that the veteran pitchers have durable arms, and Del Rice learns to hit, and that he can uncover a first baseman and center fielder.

We think Dyer is a capable manager, in addition to his other fine traits. But the old Cardinal machine is just rusting out on him, and those once lush farms seem to have lost their producing power.

Rather a Dyer situation, spelled D-I-R-E.

Don Hutson To Sue Hotel For Damages

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 23 (INS)—Don Hutson, who rose to all-time football greatness as an end for the Green Bay Packers, has filed a $100,000 damage suit against a Marquette hotel, charging that a bathtub accident there brought his football career to an end.

The suit, on file in circuit court, names the Kawbawgam Hotel Company and Mrs. Beatrice Degiman, operator of the Hotel Northland.

Hutson's declaration alleges that while a paying guest of the hotel over three years ago he "sustained a severe cut in the palm of his right hand" as he was turning the handle of the shower fixture.

"As a result of said accident," the suit continues, "he was no longer able to catch passes or handle the football as effectually and efficiently as he did in the past which made it necessary for him to give up his career as a professional football player."

Abilene Christian College Drubs Howard Payne Trackmen

ABILENE, March 23. (AP)—Abilene Christian college edged Howard Payne college 64½ to 62½ today to capture a dual track meet.

With a strong south wind at his back, Howard Payne's Eugene Carter was timed at 9.5 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 20.1 seconds in the 200-yard dash. He tied with ACC's Leon Lepard for individual honors, each garnering 11¼ points.

Last year, Howard Payne defeated ACC 54½ to 53 for the Texas Conference cinder championship.

Westerner Diamond Squad Drops Boys Club Nine In Practice Game

Lubbock High school's Westerners defeated Boys club, 4-3, Wednesday afternoon on wind-swept Chapman field diamond in a seven-inning practice baseball game.

In winning the game the Westerners were out-hit, 5-4, by the Boys club team, but their hits came when most needed. An error in the third inning and two walks and an error in the fifth also helped the winners.

The pitching was the strongest feature of each team, although four walks were issued by each side. Jim Wilson, starter for the Westerners, allowed only one hit and one walk in his four-inning stint on the mound. He struck out six batters and only faced 13.

Martyn Gives Up Three Hits

Jackie Martyn gave up three hits and two runs for the Clubbers, struck out five batters, and issued two walks in four and one-third innings.

Jimmy Hamilton relieved Wilson and pitched two innings before Jack McCabe took over in the seventh. Joe Hall relieved Martyn for Boys club.

Leading the Westerner hitting attack was Bob Brown with two doubles on two official trips to the plate. He also was issued a base on balls. Jessie Fullerton collected the other two hits in three trips to the plate.

In the first inning Brown drove a pitch from Martyn through the hole in left-center field and scampered on across home plate, but he failed to touch third base and was thrown out, getting credit for a double.

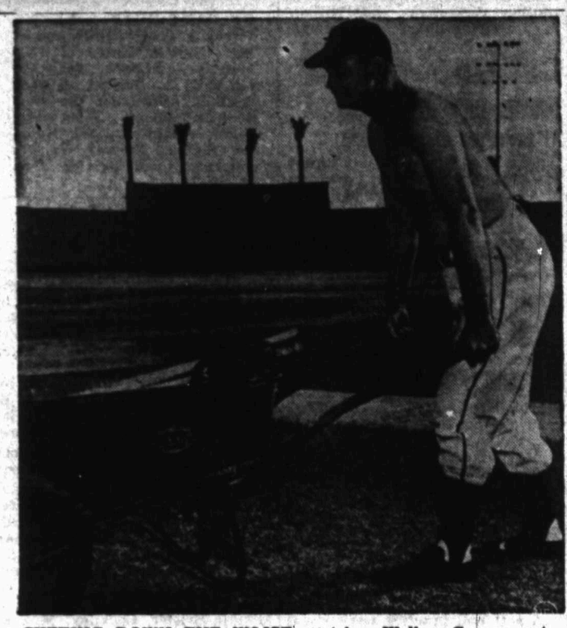

The Westerners scored two runs in the third inning with two outs. Brown doubled; Richards reached first base on an error by the shortstop, and both runners crossed homeplate on a single by Fullerton.

With one out in the fifth inning Hamilton and Brown walked. Richards struck out. Then Fullerton hit a high ball that came to earth between home base and the general direction of shortstop but close to the pitchers mound. No one touched the ball and Hamilton scored. Attempting to throw Brown out at third base, Catcher Jackie Cook threw into left field, and Brown scored. Fullerton advanced to third base and was left stranded there.

Final Scoring In Sixth

Jackie Whitehead scored the first Boys club run in the fifth inning after drawing a walk from Hamilton. Roy Jones also walked, and with two outs Bennie Scott singled, driving in the run. Scott in turn was picked off first base to retire the side.

The final scoring came in the sixth inning, again with two outs. Mackie Lawrence singled; Cook got on base on an error by Garnet Reeves in center field; and Martyn drove in Lawrence and Cook with a single.

CUTTING DOWN THE WAIST—Catcher Walker Cooper, getting into shape, carts his bats and catching equipment to practice in the Phoenix, Ariz., training camp of the New York Giants. Cooper is one of the Giant stars who will be seen at Rosenthal Field April 5 when the New Yorkers play the Cleveland Indians in an exhibition game.

Lockney Boxers To Meet Paducah

LOCKNEY, March 23 (Special) — A strong Lockney boxing team will go against Paducah here tonight, and from all accounts the leather should be flying thick and fast.

Fifteen matches are on the card, and Coach Curtis Kelley expects a hard night of fighting for his team. Previously the Longhorn fistic squad defeated Olton, winner of the high school division at the Regional Golden Gloves tournament held in Lubbock.

Three Paducah Dragons have been upsetting their opponents in earlier matches and will have their sights set on giving Lockney a licking tonight. This is the first year of boxing for Paducah, and the boys have been showing up well.

Out to protect the hold over boxing in this area for Lockney will be Calvin Pyle, middleweight. From the light heavyweight division on down to the grade school boys, Coach Kelley has a strong team that will be trying hard to protect its record. The most serious threat will probably come from the middle weights.

In the same ring where he gained experience as a 112-pound high school boxer will be LaVern Roach as referee.

WINDY DUSTER DELAYS WORKOUTS

Blustery Weather Still Slows Up Red Raider Track Practice

Anybody want a genial, red-headed athlete, a former football, basketball and trackman, who also can coach?

If anyone does, they could pick him up real cheap at Texas Tech, providing they were able to restrain him without the strait jacket he's ready to wear permanently.

The coach is Maxey McKnight whose humor has suffered for three days now at the expense of the weather. It wasn't so bad Monday, always a slow day for track athletes, but Tuesday it was pretty terrible, and yesterday it was just plain awful.

The Red Raider cindermen might as well have stayed in and studied, as to have tried to get anything done on the track. It was a good deal closer to the temperature Coach McKnight is searching, but the wind and sand prohibited any time trials.

Coach McKnight is fed up with the vagaries of the so-called spring of West Texas. As stated yesterday, he'd give anything for a week of beautiful, virtually windless days. Instead, he finds that the elements go entirely against him.

Work yesterday was held to a minimum as the Raiders continued to try and get in shape. The runners have one meet under their belts and it helped considerably, but they need more running under pressure. Only time trials can do that for them. Meanwhile, the Raiders keep trying to get ready for the Texas Relays, to which the same 11-man squad will go.

The relays in Austin April 1 and 2 should find the Raider squad somewhat more advanced even though the weather is bad. They have the feel of the track now and daily workouts, even under present conditions, are helping.

Pinto On Way To Join Loboes

LAMESA, March 23 (Special)—Dan Pinto, the only returning member of the Lamesa Loboes' regular outfield in 1948, passed through here today en route to join his mates at spring training camp in Ballinger.

Pinto conferred briefly with club officials before boarding a bus for the Longhorn League city.

The Lobo outer gardener, formerly with Albuquerque, said he was in good shape and had played "a little winter ball" in California. Originally he was sold to Santa Barbara of the California State League following the 1948 season, but was re-purchased.

Pinto hit .280 in 97 games with the Dukes and the Loboes. He poled 31 doubles, seven triples and five homers, while driving in 50 runs.

Although Frank Fanovich won only nine games and lost 13 for Syracuse, the pitcher was chosen as the lefthander on the International League's all-star team.

SPORTS NEWS ALONG BROADWAY

Jacobs Returning From Florida To Save Tottering Fight Empire

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 23.—Along Broadway today we find . . Jake LaMotta confident he'll stop Frenchman Robert Villemain . . in their 12-round brawl in Madison Square Garden Friday night... Jake says "The guy bruises easy . . . Mike Belloise cut him all up . . . so the Frenchie must have one of those skins you love to touch . . . I'll stiffen him sure . . .

Mike Jacobs expected back from Florida April 1 . . . to lead fight to save his tottering fistic empire . . .

Fight mob thinks if Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler title fight gets away from Mike he should blame his lawyer Sol Strauss who was pinch-hitting for Mike while Mike was sick . . .

Lou Vicausi . . . Pep's pilot . . . claims Strauss owes him $3,800 . . . the difference between what he got for his last fight and the $25,000 he says Strauss promised him . . .

With Mike on the job there would have been no argument . . . Mike would have called in Vic and said . . . "Here's five grand . . . let's sign up for the next one . . . " At least, that's the way Mike always has handled such cases . . .

Ray Arvel tells us Tommy Yarosz is getting $5,000 . . . tax free . . . and all expenses . . . for fighting David Sands in London . . . Tony Janiro is getting $4,000 clear for fighting Gwyn Williams on same card . . . Believe it or not, promoter Jack Solomons is getting 10 quid . . . about $40 . . . for ringside pews . . .

Hein Ten Hoff . . . German heavyweight champion . . . is going back home . . .

Lew Burston had several matches lined up for him in various parts of the country . . . but each time opposition from Jewish sources forced promoters to cancel . . .

Now that Vince Foster has been cleared of assault charges, plans are going forward for him to fight Charley Fusari in the Garden in May . . .

Cary Middlecoff may bring top price in the Calcutta Pool for the Masters Tournament this year . . .

AAU banning of American boxers in Canada reminds us that amateur sport needs an international code that could and would be followed by all nations . . .

In Canada, an old pro hockey player can regain his amateur status after years in the pro ranks . . . and in this country different sports have different ideas of what constitutes an amateur . . .

We never could understand why the fact that a man is a pro in one sport makes him a pro in others . . . for instance a retired ball player could play amateur golf . . . but he wouldn't be accepted as an amateur tennis player . .

Wrestlers claim Braves' Pete Reiser gets hurt so often because he is too tense . . . and doesn't know how to fall relaxed . . . like babies, drunks, acrobats and, of course, wrestlers . . .

And that reminds us of the laugh of the week . . . Gorgeous George says we eastern sports writers are not gentlemen . . . so he's going back to Hollywood . . . Al Santora, please note . . . and keep him when you get him . . . Selah . . .

brought its owner Doyle Hutson, Tulia, an even $1 per pound. The purchaser was Economy Mills, whose buyer resold the lamb at once for $1.25 per pound. The proceeds of the resale, $120, were given to the fund for the Cerebral Palsy center.

Another lamb, sold by John Allen to Claude Hurlburt for 41 cents per pound was resold to Economy Mills for 60 cents, the proceeds, $60, went to the Milam Orphan's home.

Calf Prices Average

Early in the day the fat calves were auctioned off at top prices and to an interested buying crowd. Bids were only average although the offerings in the top half were better than in previous years.

The grand champion Hereford, a 1,050 pound calf owned by Weldon McClurg of Kress, was purchased by Dunlap's Department Store for $1.05 per pound. Weldon could bank over $1,000 on his prize entry. The reserve champion was bought by The Avalanche-Journal for 60 cents per pound. The reserve champion was the entry of Billy McAnelly, Tulia, a 944 pound Aberdeen Angus, a breed which made its first appearance at the South Plains show this year.

Show Huge Success

General show superintendent D. W. Sherrill expressed the appreciation of all the officials connected with the show for the splendid co-operation they had received from the merchants and business men of Lubbock and other cities and towns in the 26 county area; the exhibitors and their parents, teachers and county agents; the members of the staff at Texas Tech for giving so generously of their time to the judging of the various divisions and to all who had any interest in the show.

Everyone who had any part in the show or was a spectator during the judging or auction, agreed that it was the finest and largest event of its kind ever held in Lubbock.

Auctioneer Morris Ziegler stayed at the microphone from the opening bell at 1:15 until the gavel was rapped on the last sale at 7 p.m. There was never more than a few minutes pause throughout the entire sale. Ziegler was assisted by two able ring men, W. D. Lawson and L. O. Tucker, both of Lubbock. O. J. (Bo) Sexton was chief clerk with Dixon White and Tom B. Simmons, jr., assisting him in keeping the multitude of records straight. Bookkeeping seldom lagged behind the rapid fire sales chatter of the auctioneer.

Iran Warns Soviets

to the Iranian government. This charged that Iran is threatening the Russian border by constructing fortifications along the frontier and converting the country into a military base.

Only three days ago the Moscow radio broadcast an attack on the Iranian government for allegedly permitting construction of air fields, ports and communications facilities "in the interests of American military and political expansion."

Hekmat said emphatically that the only air fields in Iran were constructed during the war to help Russia and that any future developments of this sort will be for defensive purposes only.

Pension Battle Rages

(D-Ohio) and Kearney (R-NY) were 162 to 3 and 121 to 65, respectively.

Republican members took the lead today in arguing against the Rankin bill because of its prospective cost.

Consistency Urged

Rep. J. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif) said everyone wants to help w... veterans but he told his colleagues "you've got to think of the country as well."

Rep. Carroll (D-Colo) declared that the country simply cannot foot the bill at this time.

Carroll set off yesterday's bewildering vote performance which saw the lawmakers first vote—off the record—to kill the Rankin bill and then later—on the record—decide to revive it for further consideration.

On that score Rep. Jackson (R-Calif) urged the House members to be "consistent" in today's proceedings.

Vet Leader Opposes Plan

"I don't know what the people of America are thinking today," he said, "after the House marched up the hill yesterday and then marched down again."

But Rankin had an explanation for the vote turn-about. "You can call it just a revival of righteousness," he said.

While the debate went on, Harold A. Keats, national commander of Amvets issued a statement saying "the organized veterans of World War II are unequivocally opposed to the Rankin pension bill."

Keats labelled the measure as a "pension grab" which he said is "bad for the nation and bad for the veteran."

Rep. Potter (R-Mich), a legless combat veteran of the last war told the House the Rankin measure "doesn't do credit to the veterans committee, the veteran and the Congress."

Three Sentenced

by Deputies Sheriff John Barnett and B. F. Forrester on a work train west of Posey.

Ina Bacon of 2223 Ninth street told city police that a spare tire and tube valued at $45 had been stolen from a car at her residence.

Pistol Reported Stolen

A P-38 pistol, valued at $30, and $1.50 in cash were taken in a burglary last weekend of the residence of Charles Outlaw of 2606 Twenty-first, Outlaw told police Wednesday.

Mrs. Leona Hawkins of 518 Ave. C asked police to be on the lookout for a billfold containing $165 cash which she said she lost Wednesday in 600-block Broadway.

Melvin Dean Barton, 24-year-old farmer of 18 miles southwest of Littlefield in the Pep community, who Tuesday night admitted in signed statements that he had forged checks amounting to more than $9,000 over a wide area, was taken to his home Wednesday morning in order that persons from Texas and New Mexico might identify property which he had received for the bad checks and at the same time identify Barton as the man who received the property.

He was returned to Lubbock county jail later where he was still held last night in lieu of $2,500 bond.

The sheriff's department said that hold orders had been placed here for Barton by Brownfield, Muleshoe, Levelland, Morton and Littlefield authorities.

Most of the property which Barton allegedly "bought" with the forged checks was recovered, with the exception of about 30 head of cattle and some feed, officials said.

State Faces Deficit

a mammoth expansion and improvement program, including $22,270,000 for new buildings. Exclusive of buildings, the appropriation was still 53 per cent larger than last biennium.

Committee members were insistent on the big increase in eleemosynary spending.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo said "a German prison camp would have been decent" compared to conditions at one institution.

The three big bills go to the Senate floor Thursday. Taylor said he would seek early consideration.

Editor Is Speaker At Floydada Rotary Meet

FLOYDADA, March 23. (Special)—Seventy Floydada Rotarians and their guests, meeting at the American Legion Annex at noon Wednesday, heard Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal newspapers, discuss "Area Solidarity" in an informal addres.

John W. Reue, outgoing president of the club, presided at the luncheon. Rev. Lloyd H. Jones presented traditional anniversary gifts to Mrs. Hollis Bond and Mrs. Garlan Glover, who were special guests.

New officers, who will take office in May, were introduced. They are John B. Stapleton, president; Hollis R. Bond, vice president; S. W. Ross, re-elected secretary; and R. E. Fry, Carl L. Minor, jr., and W. E. "Billy" Brown, jr., directors.

Cecil Haygood was program chairman for the day.

In his brief talk Guy recommended that West Texans give serious thought to the political interests of the area.

"We in West Texas are, politically, the red-headed stepchild of Texas," he asserted. He expressed belief that the average West Texan wants fair, honest and just representation for Texas—and isn't getting it.

News Briefs

Some improvement had been noted last night in the condition of B. E. Mixon, 54, Lubbock barber who received third and fourth degree burns in a Tuesday morning fire, a West Texas hospital attendant reported. The fire destroyed the rear of a barber shop at 1512 Ave. H which was under lease to Mixon.

Mrs. J. G. Welch, about 58, of Lubbock, last night remained in critical condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where she is receiving treatment for meningitis. She was admitted to the hospital Tuesday afternoon after being stricken Monday. She is mother of Mrs. C. H. Grace of 2109 Sixth.

City Firemen were called about 2:35 p. m. Wednesday to Texas Tech campus to extinguish a small blaze in the lint room of the textile engineering building. A cutting torch, which was being used to cut a pipe, threw sparks into lint and trash in the basement room, firemen said. There was no damage to the building.

Churchill Welcomed

called for an Ango-American "fraternal association"—interpreted as a virtual alliance.

Favors Atlantic Pact

What does Mr. Churchill think of that speech today?

"I don't feel inclined to go back on it," he said, "if I delivered the same speech today it would be thought rather behind the times."

Churchill's call for an Anglo-American association now is almost an accomplished fact in the Atlantic alliance and Churchill told shipboard newsmen:

"As everyone knows, I am wholeheartedly in favor of the North Atlantic pact."

The famous statesman declined to be drawn out extensively on world affairs, however. He threw up his hands and chortled "now, now, now," when asked if he also would favor a Pacific pact.

"Winnie" appeared to be in fine health and he was in high good humor when presented to the largest clan of newsmen and photographers ever to go down the harbor to meet the liner.

Every day on the Atlantic crossing the man with the insatiable curiosity visited the bridge and chatted with Commodore C. M. Ford.

Elder American statesman Bernard Baruch also climbed aboard the liner before she docked in New York. Baruch went almost unnoticed by the crowd when Churchill stepped ashore and accompanied host Baruch to his home.

"Churchill is an old, old friend," said Baruch, "I have known him for 40 years."

Churchill, accompanied by his wife and his son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Christopher Soames, will speak March 31 at a Massachusetts Institute of Technology convocation at Cambridge.

He was disappointed over President Truman's cancelation of a Boston speech April 1 due to pressure of work, and said he had been looking forward to the President's address.

Others aboard the giant liner which carried 1,947 passengers included Prof. Harold J. Laski, former chairman of the British Labor party executive committee and long a political foe of Churchill; Paris designer Christian Dior, and J. Arthur Rank, British film magnate.

Churchill plans to leave the United States April 2. He will attend a few private dinners, but has scheduled no public appearances aside from the MIT convocation.

Senate Group To Study Texas Senatorial Election Dispute

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP) The Coke Stevenson-Lyndon Johnson election dispute will be looked into, according to a letter from Sen. Frank J. Meyers, chairman of the U. S. Senate Committee on Privilege and Elections received Wednesday by Ben Tasto, San Antonio attorney. The charges will be referred to the subcommittee, the letter stated.

Tasto said Meyers' letter was in reply to his suggestion that charges of election irregularities in Duval and some other Texas counties should be looked into by the U. S. Senate. Tasto said he had sent a copy of Meyers' letter to Stevenson.

Johnson was declared the winner by a majority of 87 votes over Coke Stevenson in the Senate runoff election last August.

France On Road Back

could never be measured in dollars and cents. She credited the progress that France had made, first to the spirit of the French people, and second to the aid that they had received from the United States.

"With the aid of ERP dollars the farmers of France are beginning to bring more and more modern equipment into use." The industries of France are also benefiting from the plan according to Mlle. Curie. She said that the French had worked hard and had used all of the money that was available to them before they turned to the United States for help, but when all of its own funds were exhausted there was nothing left but to ask for aid from the west.

France Is Battlefield

"Without that aid France would most certainly have experienced a serious economic and financial collapse," she went on to say. The fact that the United States, champion of free enterprise, is helping France is also making that country very free enterprise minded, she added.

On the subject of Communism, Mlle. Curie observed that "France is a constant battlefield between Democracy and Communism." The main efforts that Russia has launched against the ERP and Democracy have all been centered around France. She went on to say that the series of coal strikes that France suffered last fall were the direct work of the Kremlin to offset the Marshall plan.

Still Face Big Job

Mlle. Curie said she felt the Atlantic pact was one of the best steps to date in curbing the growth of Russian influence.

"Although the picture in France today is bright, we still have some serious problems to cope with," she went on to say. The worst things facing the French people now are inflation, high rents and bureaucracy according to Mlle. Curie. She was hopeful that the trend toward price cutting that was evident when she left France was continuing.

The recent elections in France have lead her to believe that the only way Gen. Charles DeGaulle and his party will ever return to power is for the General to become the leader of a coalition party. She feels that other than that his party has no chance of coming back.

In closing Mlle. Curie said "France has chosen freedom and friendship with the west. We feel that the Atlantic pact is not for the purpose of banding together to win a war, but rather to prevent a war."

Mlle. Curie was introduced by Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the Foreign Language department at Tech. After her lecture she devoted a short period to questions from the audience.

Mlle. Curie will go from here directly to New York. She plans to return to France around Easter.

Earlier Wednesday, in an interview, Mlle. Curie, who also helps edit and writes for The Paris Presse, stressed that France must become self-sufficient before the Marshall plan expires. "We must get on our feet before 1952," she said.

Interested In Fashions

Asked for comment on fashions, Miss Curie said, "I'm interested in fashion like everyone is." Paris is regaining influence in the fashion world, she said, and "is a great center of ideas for fashions." Clothing can be manufactured in larger quantities better in America, she added.

Concerning the fashion trend when she left home, she said. "Skirts are shorter. Everything is simpler. The new look is dead."

The "new look" she said, added 10 years to a woman's appearance. "We are a little younger this year." Adding that she is a working person, that she drives her own car and does not have have a chauffeur, she said she finds simpler clothing much more practical.

Acheson Warns Reds

years and which the United States has supported for at least two years.

Aggression Charges Denied

Acheson laid considerable emphasis on his argument, made in denouncing the Russian charges about Iran, that the United States does not have any aggressive designs in that or any other part of the world but is following a policy of defense and preservation of the independence of countries which might otherwise lose their freedom.

The United States does not have any bases, facilities, or air fields in Iran and does not intend to have any, Acheson told his news conference in amplifying his statement.

(Acheson noted that Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala had called on him last week to "protest against disturbing Soviet press and radio attacks on Iran," International News Service reported.)

Iran has lost the use of 60 per cent of its locomotives, for lack of repairs.

Bonus Bills Killed

to require the money be raised by a state income tax. He withdrew his suggestion after conference with other members.

Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas proposed a 3 per cent sales tax to bear the bonus cost. Rep. Jim Horany of Archer City opposed placing any kind of tax in the plans, one of which he authored.

"I object to putting any kind of tax in the bill because it would kill the chances of this bill passing," Horany said.

Meeting Almost Disrupted

He suggested the method of financing could be determined by a future legislature if the people of Texas approved a constitutional amendment to pay a bonus.

A plan by Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont to make small business and homestead loans to veterans was placed in the same subcommittee with the bonus measures.

Boisterous cheering, jeering and cat-calls by Texas ex-GI's almost led to disruption of the hearing.

Angered by repeated emotional displays from the crowd, several members of the House Constitutional Amendments committee demanded that Chairman Phil Willis of Kaufman maintain order.

Threat Is Made

Willis said he had asked the audience to refrain from applauding.

"If we can't have order, I'm going to make a motion to adjourn," declared Hanna.

"I'll call for enforcement of the rules, but we're not going to adjourn unless you just walk out," Willis retorted.

Ex-soldiers, sailors, flyers and marines cheered.

"Now hold on!" roared big, burly Rep. George Parkhouse of Dallas. "You have told this committee what it is going to do two or three times and I'm sick and tired of it. . . . I want to tell you, Mr. Willis, you are no dictator."

A one-armed man, Parkhouse threatened to throw Willis out of the hearing and Willis challenged him to try it. Sgt.-at-arms Bob Murphey, also one-armed, tried to restore peace.

Bonus Idea Explained

Horany, a World War II veteran, grabbed the mike and urged the veterans not to make any further demonstrations.

Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie, retired Army captain, explained his bonus idea to which most of the hearing was devoted, to apply to veterans of the Spanish-American war as well as the two world wars.

Veterans would receive a minimum of $200 and a maximum of $500, except that prisoners of war, dependents of deceased veterans, and disabled veterans could draw up to $750.

Bonuses would be based on $10 per month for each month of military service within the continental limits of the United States; $15 for each month outside this country; $30 per month for the time they were prisoners of war. Next of kin of men who died in service would draw double the maximum amounts allowed others.

Election Is Urged

Spokesmen for the veterans argued chiefly that the people of Texas should be given the opportunity of voting on whether ex-servicemen should receive a state bonus.

"I don't believe there's a veteran in this House today who's asking you for anything but fair play," said Frank Sliger of Dallas, legless veteran of World War II. He represented the Disabled American Veterans, Department of Texas.

"We're not asking a handout," he said. "The veterans are asking for the people to have the right to vote on it and to decide whether we're entitled to it."

The committee dispute started after Rep. Bill Fly of Victoria asked Sanchez if the people of Texas should also vote on how to finance the cost of the bonuses.

"Your suggestion is somewhat ridiculous," Sanchez replied. "The ways to raise revenue for all purposes have always been up to representatives of the people."

It was this remark that prompted loud laughter and jeers.

Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas objected to the gallery expressing its feelings, but Fly said: "They can cheer and holler and scream as much as they want to. I don't care."

Ex-enlisted men and ex-officers started filling the gallery and seats on the House floor an hour before the public hearing on bonus proposals of Reps. Benton and Horany of Archer City. Benton is a retired Army captain. Horany is a World War II veteran.

Berlin Blockade

est interest the present pendulum-like swing of western Germany from inflation to deflation. An encouraging view is that it is an indication of sound economy, but if it goes too far it might be dangerous.

"We are taking steps to meet this by supplying new capital to German industry through the Reconstruction Loan corporation."

The official said this RLC group is German-operated and similar to the U. S. Reconstruction Finance corporation. It expects to get funds from three billion marks deposited as a counterpart to Marshall aid funds plus those from private German capital.

The official said he did not expect the Berlin currency reform to cut down the shipment to Soviet areas of an estimated 20 per cent of Berlin's production.

"This amount of trade exists," he said, "because of mutual needs. Both sides use barter methods necessary in order to continue it."

CONDITION STILL CRITICAL

FORT WORTH, March 23 (AP)—Former Governor Ross Sterling continued in a critical condition, hospital attendants reported today. He has been confined here since Sept. 18 with a heart ailment.

Home Rule Rent Bill Is Okayed

kept these penalties in operation for the special rent control law protecting the District of Columbia where many congressmen are tenants.

Under the Senate bill, two five per cent rent increases are authorized—the first Oct. 1, 1949, the second April 1, 1950. However, in no case could the total increases push a tenant's rent more than 15 per cent above the level of June 30, 1947.

For example, any tenant whose rent has already been raised 15 per cent under the so-called voluntary increase provision of the present law could not be charged either of the increases provided for in the Senate bill.

"Fair Return" Provided

But if a tenant's rent has been hiked only 10 per cent since June, 1947, he could be charged the first five per cent increase Oct. 1—but not the second on April 1, 1950.

The House bill does not provide for such rent increases, but does require that the landlord get a "fair return" on his investment.

Here are other main provisions of the Senate bill:

1. Areas which have been freed of rent controls could be controlled if the local advisory board recommended such a step.

2. Residential hotel apartments in New York and Chicago would be recontrolled and the rents rolled back to the level of Oct. 31, 1948. Hotel apartments in all other cities remain decontrolled.

3. Trailer camps used for permanent residence would be recontrolled when the local board recommended it. So would dwellings which were off the market for two years prior to June 30, 1947. Those units were freed of controls under the 1947 rent law.

4. The housing expediter is authorized to sue for treble damages in cases of rent overcharges by landlords. Under the present law only the tenant can sue.

5. Municipalities (incorporated towns and cities) might be exempt from the federal rent control law if their governing body and the governor of the state approved. Provision is made for public hearings.

Two-Year Extension Beaten

Administration leaders won and lost—both by whopping majorities—on two major issues in the Senate battle over controls.

They won:

By 64 to 22, the Senate beat down a Republican-sponsored move to cut down the proposed 12-to-15 month extension of federal rent controls to 6-to-12 months.

They lost:

By 75 to 10, the Senate then rejected an attempt by Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) to write a flat two-year extension into the bill. President Truman had asked for two more years of rent control.

By a 47 to 34 vote, it refused to write into the bill a mandatory requirement that rent ceilings be fixed at a level to guarantee landlords a "reasonable return on the reasonable value of their property.

The rejected amendment was sponsored by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash).

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) opposed the amendment.

The proposal to whittle the extension period was sponsored by Bricker and Cain. It called for a six-month extension now, with another six months of protection for tenants who want it.

Defeat of the amendment kept in the bill a provision for 12 more months of controls, plus three extra months for tenants who want continued federal protection thereafter.

During the last three months, tenants could not be evicted merely for refusing to pay higher rent. Thus, in effect, rent ceilings would remain in force for 15 months.

Earlier, administration Democrats had squeezed out a tight victory on a provision giving the federal housing expediter the power to regulate evictions under rent control.

On this, the vote was 44 to 42.

EASIER DAYS ARE RECALLED

Task Of Putting Over Charity Drives Becomes More Gruelling

By ROBERT CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 23 —John Golden, the dean of Broadway producers who succeeded recently in bringing Paul Muni back from Hollywood, was talking about charity the other day at the Dutch Treat club.

I had mentioned something about the gruelling difficulty one is beginning to encounter these days when the aim is fund-raising. The charity buck is becoming elusive, as this reporter has noted recently in efforts in behalf of such fine organizations as the National Council to Combat Blindness, the Heart Fund, the Cancer Funds, Red Cross, Community Chest, Catholic Charities, United Jewish Appeals, infantile paralysis, etc.

It reminded Golden of a happier day in fund-raising, and of a man who possessed (and possesses) the proper ingredients of fund-raising genius — Col. Charles F. H. Johnson, the woolens tycoon.

During the war Golden put up some prizes for one-act plays written by GI's. He finally picked five of these and one day, returning from lunch, found a note on top of the stack. It was from Mrs. Hugh Drum, wife of the general. She had written that the Soldiers and Sailors club of New York had a $78,000 mortgage staring it in the face. Perhaps John could produce the soldier playlets, etc. etc.

Golden got Lee Shubert to lend him a theatre for a night. He borrowed some actors back from the Army and rehearsed them in the five prize plays. He named the show "The Army, Play by Play." But his efforts always paled when he thought of that $78,000.

He went down to Washington to talk it over with his friend Mrs. Roosevelt, and she bought a ticket. "I want to pay $500 for it," she told him. Golden is a conservative man and a proponent of reasonable theatre ticket prices. But he accepted the check, and a great light began to dawn.

Tickets Sold At $1,000

He had heard something of Col. Johnson's generous ticket-selling in behalf of Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army." So he formed a committee consisting of the Mesdames Albert Lasker, Donald Tansill, Jock Whitney, Marshall Field and Vincent Astor, called the colonel and the mob walked in.

"We explained what we wanted to do in about two minutes," Golden recalled, "and mentioned that tickets were not selling, and that their prices were adjustable. So he picked up a phone and did a miracle job of selling right there in front of us. He reached one pal after another and said, 'Listen, you're buying a ticket to a great show. Tickets are a thousand dollars each. But you probably want three or four.'

"He sold out the whole house, the biggest single night box-office attraction of all my years in the theatre. It more than paid off the mortgage in one shot."

Charity Show Has Seats

A lot of charities could use the likes of Col. Johnson today. I don't know of any that aren't having their troubles, and perhaps this is a barometer of the times.

There are, for instance, many seats left for a charity show named "Lights On" to be presented in New York Sunday night with an army of stars ranging from Milton Berle to Mae West. This is the case despite the fact that every quarter of the dough will go to the National Council to Combat Blindness — the only organization in the U.S. now attempting to raise a buck for research into the reasons why countless thousands of Americans of all ages go blind each year.

Couple of girls I know gave up their children and worked for several days recently to plug for the noble Heart Fund, and they report that an increasing number of droll souls, mostly men, told them "nothing doing, Cutie. I haven't got any heart trouble."

One bloke, however, attempted to strike a bargain. He said he would contribute a thousand dollars if the girl gave him a receipt reading "$5,000." He wanted it for tax-exemption purposes.

The charity buck, as we are saying, is getting tougher. Just when the need is most urgent.

State Official Cites Communistic Threat In Rotary Club Talk

The threat of Communism is the most insidious danger facing the American government today and it is the responsibility of every citizen to combat this ideology with every ounce of his strength, Olen Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, declared in a talk at the Lubbock Rotary club luncheon at the Hilton hotel Wednesday.

"The day is here that we must be doubly on guard against those who attack our unity," Culberson declared. "We as individuals should recognize for every privilege we enjoy, there is a corresponding obligation and duty."

Citing a survey made five weeks after the 1946 election, Culberson said there were 214,000 persons who declared they were members of the Communist party in the United States.

Minority Powerful

"You ask 'Well what can 214,000 people do as compared to 151,000,000?'; but let me remind you that they are 124,000 more than the group which took over Russia in the red revolution and they have 181,000,000 in Russia.

"But the most dangerous threat is that this unspeakable crew declares that there is no God; they're just as insidious as sin and the devil."

Culberson was introduced by Vaughn Wilson, program chairman. Paul Lloyd and Dr. Brandon Hull were introduced as new Rotarians.

Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: Dr. L. B. Reavis, Paris; Earl W. Rogers, Borger; J. W. Porter, W. P. Bowdry, jr., and Ray Foley, Dallas; C. W. Mann, Jimmie Rankin, Mike Wicks, Tim Lyle and Charles Clinton, Ralls; Jimmy Marshall, Crosbyton; Fred Humphrey, San Angelo; Roy Mack, Slaton; Oscar McGinty, and Charles Tinsley, Spur; Mark Allen, Seagraves; L. H. Hinsley, Amarillo; Clark Hardin, Oklahoma City and C. E. Ross, Brownfield.

Democrat Dinner Expected To Raise $40,000 In Austin Thursday

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—A barbecue here Thursday night at $25 a plate is expected to bring Texas Democrats approximately $40,000.

Brilliant new DE SOTO gets tremendous welcome from public!

Come in and see "The Car Designed With YOU in Mind"
IT'S BRAND-NEW . . . so new that there aren't many on the streets yet. But already it's a tremendous success. And it's easy enough to see why.
Everybody wants a smart, good-looking modern car. But most of us don't want to pay a penalty for being modern. We want more room . . . more comfort . . . more visibility . . . not less.
That's where De Soto scores. It's got those long, low lines. But you don't have to wriggle into it. It has big wide doors. Plenty of headroom, too. The roof won't scrape your hat, no matter where you sit. It's roomier than ever.
It's no use having bigger windows and windshields unless you can see out of them. In the new De Soto you can . . . because you're sitting on chair-high seats. Even a short person can see over the steering wheel. Even a six-footer won't hit his knees on it.
You don't have to enlarge your garage to hold the new De Soto. You can still change a tire yourself. And a dent in the fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job. Come in and see this wonderful car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it with any other at any price. Then decide.

Winston Churchill's Price Of $1 Million For Memoirs Gets Cool Reception In Hollywood

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 23—The asking price for Winston Churchill's memoirs for the movies has made it prohibitive for Hollywood purchase. He has asked one million dollars for the film rights, and in these days of economy there is no movie company willing to invest that much money in any story, no matter how powerful.

Now, it's said that Churchill will lower the price. He wants to have the picture made while he is living.

I thought Sir Alex Korda would be the one to make Churchill's life story. He's a close friend of the former prime minister and it has always been said Churchill was responsible for getting him his title.

Warner's Retain Claim

With all the talk about Burt Lancaster's new Warner deal and his joining up with the Cole Brothers' circus next month, many people think his contract with Hal Wallis has lapsed. It isn't true.

Hal still has a claim on Burt for six more years and Hal is not a man to be caught napping. He has bought "No Escape," by Lawrence Marcus, for immediate production.

If it is humanly possible to get the racketeer drama scripted within a few weeks, Burt will make it before he heads out to Burbank and immediately after he finishes his stint with the circus.

Song Cut From Film

This is an interesting thing—a tune practically cut out of a picture because it is too popular!

"Neptune's Daughter," made a year ago, has "Slow Boat to China," but when it was previewed in Santa Monica a few nights ago, only a little of the popular hit tune remained. It was bought for the picture, but director Eddie Buzzell made a mistake and allowed it to be published too soon.

Tyrone Power and Linda Christian took over London, according to a cable. The crowds were the largest since Princess Elizabeth's wedding.

Alfredo De La Vega, the Los Angeles socialite, was on hand to welcome Sonja Henie when she arrived in Hollywood. But Sonja isn't serious about any of these admirers.

Sam Engel was so seasick when he arrived in London that General Lyman Munsen had to call off the party planned in Sam's honor.

George Raft and Joy Lansing, former MGM lovely, are stargazing these spring evenings.

Liam O'Brien, the writer, and Ricki Soma, the ballerina, are finding life pretty wonderful these days. He is the brother of Edmond O'Brien, the actor.

Rudy Vallee opens at the Cocoanut Grove next Tuesday and after his big success in New York, the Grove is having one of the biggest advance sales ever to pour into their treasury. Amazing the way Rudy, like Tennyson's brook, keeps going on forever.

RFC To Consider Amending Loan For Hereford Hotel

WASHINGTON, March 23 (Special)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., has informed Sen. Tom Connally of Texas that it will give proper consideration to amending a previously approved loan for the Hereford Community Hotel Corp., at Hereford.

The hotel group seeks $181,500. Already conditionally approved was a loan for $115,000; hotel officials have informed the Dallas offices of the RFC that they would be unable to operate on that amount.

Harley Hise, chairman of the RFC board, told Sen. Connally that as soon as final application was received, his office would consider it further.

Average Life Of Cars Extended Since War

DETROIT, March 23 (AP) — The average life of the average automobile has lengthened materially since the war but it isn't always smart to keep the car too long.

After an auto has been driven 35,000 miles it's usually economical to get a new one.

The best piston rings in the world wear down. So do connecting rod and main shaft bearings and cam shaft settings. Perhaps with careful maintenance of crankcase oil levels they will last longer than 35,000 miles. But the average motorist doesn't take proper care of his car.

Maintenance Costs Mount

Usually, after the first year of operation, normal servicing operations are overlooked or ignored. And after three to four years of average driving, maintenance expense begins to mount. Fuel mileage declines, oil consumption increases, clutch assemblies, brakes and tires need replacement.

Almost invariably when the motorist tries to get a second 35,000 miles of driving the increased cost of keeping the car rolling plus its depreciation, amounts to more than the price of a new vehicle.

The car makers won't admit this publicly. It is no secret, however, that it costs a lot to operate the average three year old car. Servicing and replacement have soared in cost, too.

There is no present indication that repairs and replacement parts prices will decline substantially in the near future. What may happen to car prices is anybody's guess.

Driver, Guard Hurt As Armored Car Runs Wild In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (U.P.) An armored truck, carrying money from business houses to banks, went out of control and overturned Wednesday, seriously injuring the driver and a guard and scattering thousands of dollars to the four winds.

The accident occurred near the city limits on the road to Kelly Air Force base when the truck's drive shaft broke. John Powers, 28, the driver, and J. V. Hawkins, 49, were in serious condition when they arrived at a San Antonio hospital.

Police patrolmen and passersby scrambled for the spilled money, most of which was believed recovered.

Mexico To Seize 'Prohibited' Merchandise Sent To Country

MEXICO CITY, March 23. (U.P.) The treasury ministry said Wednesday that certain classes of "prohibited" merchandise sent into Mexico from foreign countries will no longer be returned to the sender but confiscated.

The ministry announced customs officials had orders to place the ruling in effect immediately.

The list of "prohibited" merchandise, which may now be confiscated by customs agents, was published last year, ministry officials said. It includes dozens of luxury articles and such items as used wrist-watches, sent out of Mexico for repair.

The ruling was designed to stop the efforts of "certain individuals, who, having tried to bring in prohibited merchandise, have later tried to return it to the sender, alleging ignorance of the laws, but in reality trying to avoid having the articles confiscated."

Jester Promises To Sign Measure

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 23—The Senate joined the House today in a resolution to kick Communists out of state-supported colleges.

Without the hullabaloo or oratory that marked House passage of the measure yesterday, senators adopted the resolution unanimously and without discussion.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester said he would sign the resolution.

It empowers and instructs presidents of all state-supported schools of higher learning to investigate and expel any student or teacher who is an avowed Communist. Copies of the resolution are expected to be on their way to the school presidents tomorrow afternoon.

Painter Issues Statement

President T. S. Painter of the University of Texas issued this statement on the resolution this afternoon:

"Whenever HCR 50 becomes effective, the University of Texas will, of course, comply with the letter and spirit of the legislative mandate."

Its authors, Reps. Sam Hanna of Dallas and Preston Smith of Lubbock, explained that it wasn't a law—"it just gives moral support to the presidents and lets the people know what the legislature believes."

"A vicious witch-hunting proposal," a University of Texas student, Wendell Addington, called it. Addington says he represents the Texas state committee of the Communist party.

House Turns To Taxes

The House turned to taxes today and gave a cold shoulder to a bill levying a cent and a half on each 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas. Its author, Rep. Deno Tufares of Wichita Falls, asked the House to take the measure out of an unfriendly subcommittee in the Revenue and Taxation committee and send it to the Committee on Highways and Roads. The House refused 53 to 50.

But the House gave a helping hand to a proposed constitutional amendment by Rep. James Norton of Nacogdoches to divide part of the revenue from the university permanent fund among the 16 state-supported colleges. The plan had been buried in an unfavorable subcommittee of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments. Norton asked to send it to the Committee on School Districts, and the House approved 71-50.

The House Criminal Jurisprudence committee approved a bill by Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview setting up a seven-man commission to rewrite the code of criminal procedure and the penal code. The bill is backed by the State

Fuller Prepares For Austin Shift

"I only have to say that every co-operation that I asked was given by officers and others of the district—and that I've enjoyed being stationed here."

That was the reaction of Charlie F. Fuller to Wednesday newspaper stories saying he, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, and his three inspectors stationed here would be transferred this week and be replaced by a supervisor and three inspectors from other Texas districts.

Lawhon Reveals Change

The announcement of the transfer was made in Austin Tuesday by John Lawhon, administrator of the board, shortly after an Austin conference in which he had received reports of dissatisfaction at Fuller's alleged failure to cope with an alleged liquor syndicate here.

Fuller told newsmen here he would remain in Lubbock until probably Sunday, so that he could check office supplies to his successor, W. G. Poplin. Poplin has been deputy supervisor of the Longview district. Both Fuller and Lawhon recommended Poplin highly.

Fuller will report probably Sunday night to Austin, where he will become supervisor of the Austin district of the liquor board.

He came here in early 1947, and was the 11th deputy supervisor to be sent here by the board since the setup became effective in 1935, it was stated. He remained in the position longer than any of his predecessors.

Henry C. Miller, Prominent Rusk County Resident, Claimed

HENDERSON, March 23. (AP)—Henry C. Miller, native of Rusk county and head of the Miller Production company, died in Tyler Wednesday after a long illness.

It was on the Miller home site at Joinerville that "Dad" Joiner brought in the East Texas discovery well in Sept. 1930.

Miller's father, John C. Miller, surveyed the Henderson townsite in 1843 and served as one of the first Rusk county commissioners.

Surviving Henry Miller are his widow, two sons, Jim Hale Miller of Austin and Kenneth C. Miller of Tyler. Funeral services will be held in Tyler Thursday.

Texas Supreme Court Upholds Peaceful Picketing

Court Rules Against Labor Law

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 23 — A key section of one of the labor-regulatory laws passed by the last session of the legislature was struck down today by the Texas Supreme court.

It invalidated the part of the so-called secondary strike law restricting a labor dispute to a controversy between an employer and a majority of his employes.

The court dissolved an injunction granted the Velasco laundry and dry cleaners against picketing by the International Union of Operating Engineers local 564 (AFL) upholding the plea that the picketing was lawful under the free speech guarantee of the federal constitution.

Labor won this case but lost another decided by the court today.

An injunction granted by a trial court to the North-East Texas Motor Freight lines forbidding picketing by the Teamsters union local No. 745 (AFL) was upheld.

The court said the difference was that a valid controversy between labor and management existed in the laundry case, and there was no such controversy in the motor line case.

Once an industrial dispute arises, said Associate Justice A. J. Folley in his opinion on the laundry dispute, "the legislature can not deny the employes the right to picket peacefully within due bonds merely because only a few are aggrieved. . . ."

Picketing Ruled Lawful

"That is the constitutional abridgement which we here condemn," said Justice Folley, adding that the picketing was lawful and should not have been enjoined.

In the laundry case, some employes who were dissatisfied had sought the aid of the operating engineers local. An election to determine how many favored unionization ended in a 15-15 tie. Testimony showed that the laundry discharged several workers who were active in the unionization drive and reduced the wages of others, but denied discrimination.

Other provisions of the law in question were not held unconstitutional. Folley said also that picketing may be prohibited by injunction where there is no industrial dispute.

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman wrote the opinion in the motor line case.

He said the court would not uphold an injunction which would be a broad prohibition against "all picketing."

OPERA PROGRAM SLATED

'The Barber Of Seville' To Be Presented In Lubbock Tonight

The Texas Tech Artist course will present Rossini's gay comic opera "The Barber of Seville," tonight at 8 p. m. in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium. It will be the final attraction for the season.

Marilyn Cotlow, famous coloratura soprano, will appear in the leading role of Rosina in the opera which is full length and will be sung in English. Miss Cotlow began singing at the age of 16. She has been in many leading soprano roles and made an excellent impression on Broadway last season when she appeared in Menotti's "The Telephone." She has recently appeared as a soloist on a nationwide radio show.

To Include Orchestra

Charles L. Wagner is in charge of the production. Wagner has been producing opera road shows for many years.

Tonight's performance will feature a chorus of 10 male voices and an orchestra of 20 pieces. Paul Breisach, eminent conductor of the San Francisco Opera will direct the orchestra, cast and chorus. Desire Defrere, stage director of the Metropolitan Opera association, is directing the cast for tonight's performance. Other artists in the cast will be Val Patacchi, Emile Renan and Lizabeth Pritchett.

"The Barber of Seville" is often called the singers opera. It deals with the story of two young lovers who have been denied the pleasure of seeing each other. The young lady, Rosina, has a cruel uncle who is trying to marry her to her singing teacher. The hero, with the aid of the famous clown, Figaro, comes to the rescue, however, and all ends well. The part of Figaro has long been a favorite with opera goers. It offers a real challenge to the singer who takes the role.

Tickets for tonight's performance will be on sale at the door. The admission is $1.80 for adults and $1.50 for students and children.

Texas Auto Accidents Kill 127, Injure 1,580 During February

AUSTIN, March 23. (U.P.)—Accidents in Texas last month killed 127 persons and injured another 1,580, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported Wednesday.

The 4,623 reported accidents during February were slightly higher than the 4,581 total for the same period a year ago. However, the department noted, 171 persons were killed during February last year.

Some 57 of the 127 total were the result of two automobiles colliding, 22 of automobile-pedestrian collisions, while 16 were from hitting a fixed object and 14 from running off the roadway, the department said.

$835,000 GRANT IS STUDIED

Lubbock Post Office Expansion Project Is Planned By Congress

Expansion of Lubbock's post office is among 41 Texas building projects planned by Congress, the Associated Press reported Wednesday from Washington.

If existing plans are carried out, $835,000 in federal funds may be granted for expansion and remodeling of the Lubbock post office. An additional $350,000 may go to Levelland, the AP dispatch stated.

House Approves Bill

In Washington, the House Public Works committee has approved a rewritten Senate-passed bill which would initiate a long-range federal construction program.

It is expected the final bill probably will provide only $70 million for the first stages of the program. Grants to Lubbock and Levelland apparently would be included in this figure.

Postmaster Amos Howard, when informed of the appropriation requested of Congress, said Wednesday that expansion and remodeling of the Lubbock building has been "in the mill" two years.

Expansion plans would call for extension of the present building 50 to 60 feet west and as far north as space will permit, Howard said. All three floors and the basement of the building would be extended.

"We've been working in the basement and in every space available for nearly two years," Howard said. "We could use that space badly now, as we're practically working on top of each other."

He said the volume of mail had practically doubled here since the start of the war.

Howard said he did not know the estimated cost of remodeling of the entire building, nor any of the details of remodeling of the floors above the first floor and basement.

PLANE IS READIED FOR TEST

Experimental B-36 Bomber To Be Equipped With Jet Motors

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—A B-36 equipped with four jet engines to boost its speed is being readied for a test at Fort Worth, it was learned today.

The four jets would add to the power supplied by the six standard engines on the Consolidated-Vultee bomber.

The Air Force declined comment on a published report that the first test flight might be made next month. The time is uncertain but it may be made in early summer, it is understood.

Speed To Be Increased

The Air Force so far has made no direct public reference to the project for adding four "pods" of jets to the B-36 to push up its speed and increase the total load at takeoff.

However, Air Secretary Symington said in an address last month that before the end of this year the speed of the B-36 will "exceed at high altitude that of any bomber except the smaller, entirely jet powered bomber."

The experimental jet installation being made at the Fort Worth plant of Consolidated-Vultee is described as an intermediate design for testing purposes. This apparently refers to attaching the detachable jet power pods to the wings of a standard model B-36. However, it is presumed that any production line version of the combined jet-standard engine B-36 will include strengthening of the weights and other structures to bear the added stress of the jet thrust.

The trade publication "Aviation Week" says that the auxiliary jet power planes are expected to boost the B-36 speed to 435 miles an hour at 45,000 feet. The Air Force has said the standard B-36 was designed for speed of "more than 350 miles per hour."

El Paso C Of C Unhappy About Sharing 'Premier' With Illinois

EL PASO, March 23. (AP)—The chamber of commerce here is sore—it says—because the moving picture "El Paso" may be premiered in El Paso, Ill., Friday. That's the same day the picture is scheduled to have its world premier here.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Chris P. Fox said he heard the Illinois town of 1,621 people had asked for the premier. Fox said the 135,000 people of El Paso "feel deeply" about this.

Air Force Recovers Five Bodies From B-29 Crash In Philippines

MANILA, March 23 (AP) — A U.S. Air Force rescue team today recovered five bodies from the wreckage of a B-29 tanker plane on a mountain top 25 miles northeast of here.

Four other crew members, presumed to be dead, had not been located.

A diamond ring won on his last flight led to the immediate identification of the body of Lt. Col. Jack Stuart Hunt of Victoria, Tex., among the victims.

The four other bodies had not been identified.

Deputy Sheriff Killed In Odessa

ODESSA, March 23. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff L. E. Lee was shot to death in the sheriff's office here about midnight by a man he had arrested in an investigation of the theft of some shoes.

The prisoner, Sotero Ledsma, 38, of Midland, in turn was slain by another deputy sheriff, W. H. Beasley.

Sheriff Ernest Broughton said Lee and Beasley were booking Ledsma when the prisoner grabbed Lee's pistol and opened fire. The officer died instantly from three bullet wounds.

As Ledsma was firing at Lee, Beasley jerked his gun from its holster and sent two bullets into Ledsma's body, according to the Ector county sheriff.

Lee was 55. He had been a deputy since the first of the year. Previously he was with the Odessa city police. Before coming to Odessa, he was a policeman in Fort Worth and Dallas.

The new Willard rental batteries are the first produced by any battery maker since the war and emphasizes the service keynote of Willard's new 1949 sales, merchandising and advertising program.

The meeting, conducted by the Willard district office in Dallas, will consist of sales and merchandising discussions, a sound movie on prices and talks by sales executives of the battery firm.

Frenship High School Group To Attend El Paso Meeting

WOLFFORTH, March 23. (Special)—Several representatives of the Frenship High school student body will leave at noon Thursday for El Paso to attend the state convention of the Texas Association of Student Councils Friday and Saturday.

Those going will be Earl Ray Swenson, junior, president-elect of the Frenship student body; Mary Louise Woods, junior, vice president this year and secretary-elect; Patsy Hall, secretary this year, sophomore, and Charles Reid Fireman, president of the freshman class and member of the council.

The present president, Ray Gillett, a senior, gave up the trip in order that two juniors who would be in school next year might attend the meeting.

Accompanying the students will be Mrs. A. F. Rasor, student council sponsor, and Fred Worsham, president of the school board. Worshim will furnish transportation.

This is the first year the Frenship school has had a council.

Demo Leader Says Regard For Vandenberg High Despite Blast

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath said today he has "high regard and respect" for Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) despite a political attack on Vandenberg which appeared over McGrath's signature in last week's issue of the Democratic party circular, Capitol Comment.

McGrath told a reporter the article's sharp criticism of the Michigan senator's actions in the filibuster fight doesn't indicate that the Truman administration has turned against Vandenberg.

Advised Demo Officials

The latter served as adviser to two Democratic secretaries of state and shepherded bipartisan foreign policy measures through the GOP 80th Congress. He is expected to take a leading role in Senate action on the European recovery program and the North Atlantic security pact.

"I hold Senator Vandenberg in high regard and respect," McGrath said. "I do not question his motives or his sincerity. I think he acted in entire good faith in the filibuster matter."

Vandenberg defended a ruling he made in the 80th Congress that under its existing rules the Senate couldn't end debate on a motion to take up a bill. When Vice President Barkley reversed this ruling, Vandenberg took the floor to dispute the decision, which the Senate later overturned.

Ruling Recalled

Capitol Comment said that the Republicans "felt they could benefit by preserving the Southern power of obstruction" and felt they could thus deny civil rights to the nation and blame it on the Democrats."

The party organ went on to say that Senators Wherry (R-Neb) and Millikin (R-Colo) "alone were not enough to give the GOP the cynical leadership it required to swing this political trick," adding: "Senator Vandenberg helped them out."

The article recalled Vandenberg's ruling last year that debate couldn't be halted and Barkley's reversal of that decision.

"On the afternoon of the crucial vote on the Barkley ruling," the article continued, "Senator Vandenberg once more arose in the Senate to give similar aid and comfort to another filibuster. He tortured logic to prove his point: debate should not be limited on a motion — only on a measure.

"Most liberal senators found his argument faulty. But 22 GOP senators followed his lead.

"Thus with words did the Republicans salve their consciences while with actions they betrayed their promises."

While McGrath said he assumed full responsibility for the article, friends said it was prepared at the Democratic national committee and probably wasn't read carefully, if at all, by the national chairman.

Vandenberg confirmed the fact that he had discussed the matter with McGrath. He declined further comment.

Floydada AF Officer Stationed On Guam

FLOYDADA, March 23 (Special) — Lt. Col. Kirk Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Scott of Floydada, currently is serving with the Far East Air Forces on Guam. There, he is chief of the Air Installation division at Harmon Air Force base.

Scott, who assumed active duty with the Air Force in 1941, first served as chief of the design unit at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and later as engineering staff officer to the commanding general of the Miami Air depot.

In 1944, Scott served in the same capacity with the San Antonio Service command at Kelly Air Force base. After another tour of duty at Wright Field, he was sent overseas, where he was again engineering staff officer in the Japanese Air Materiel command for two years. After returning to this country, he spent one year as associate professor in the engineering department at the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright Field.

Lt. Col. Scott arrived for duty on Guam last November.

He graduated from Floydada High school in the class of 1919, and received a bachelor of science degree from Texas A & M in 1927. He holds membership in the American Society of Military Engineers. ## TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't able much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 209 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back. ADV

Devonian Pay Section Extended As Cochran County Test Flows

More Devonian pay section was proven for Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Edwards, discovery from that formation in the Landon-Strawn area of extreme South-Central Cochran county.

A three-hour and seven-minute drillstem test at 10,915-955 feet, using a 1,800-foot water blanket, showed oil at the surface in 53 minutes. The flow was gauged for the remainder of the test period, making 35.29 barrels of oil the first hour and 35.98 barrels the second hour.

Perforations will likely be shot in the section of pipe above 10,714 feet, the initial discovery zone, and the well probably will be completed from that section and the open hole at 10,914-955 feet.

This new field opener is 660 feet from north and 528 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, psl survey.

Taking Drillstem Test

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Sartin, Southeast Yoakum County wildcat, a few miles northwest of Seagraves, and 330 feet from north and west lines of the east 200 acres of the west 422 acres of section 19, block C-34, psl survey, is bottomed at 7,210 feet in the Clear Fork-Permian lime, taking a drillstem test.

Informed sources reveal that the project probably will be plugged and abandoned. It took a two-hour drillstem test on the first porous zone encountered in the Clear Fork at 7,050-7,200 feet.

Recovery was 300 feet of black, muddy sulphur water, and 450 feet of drilling mud. No shows of oil or gas were developed.

This venture did not find any possibilities of commercial production in any horizon it drilled through.

Tentative Top Called

The second venture to enter the Devonian in the North Russell pool of Northwest Gaines County is Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-C Jones, one and three-quarter mile northwest outpost to the same company's No. 1-N Jones, discovery from the Devonian to open the field.

Tentative top of the Devonian was called by No. 1-C Jones at 11,360 feet. The exploration drilled ahead to 11,385 feet and ran a drillstem test with no recovery. Another investigation with no recovery was taken on 11,394 feet.

Operator has now deepened to 11,400 feet in the Devonian and was in the process of running a drillstem test. The venture is reported as extremely low to the discovery.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of the north three-quarters of section 32, block AX, psl survey.

The other Argo discovery flanker, No. 1-B Jones, one mile west and one-half mile south of the pay opener and 465 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the south half of section 31, block AX, psl survey, was bottomed on 10,930 feet in Mississippian lime and chert, attempting to straighten the hole before drilling ahead to the Devonian.

Well Drilling Ahead

J. C. Barnes drillstem tested in the Tubb Section of the Permian with its No. 1 Lawlis, West-Central Andrews County wildcat projected to the Ellenburger, 14 miles west of the town of Andrews.

The tool was open one hour at 7,055-79 feet, recovering 650 feet of gas cut mud with a rainbow show of oil in the bottom of the mud. The prospector was drilling ahead.

It is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 22, block A-47, psl survey.

Preparing To Deepen

Lone Star Producing Company No. 1 Maule, on the northwest side of the North Snyder-Canyon field, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&TC survey, which failed to make a commercial oil well from the Canyon above current total depth of 7,190 feet, is preparing to deepen to about 8,200 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Operator had tested all way from 7,190 feet back up to about 5,900 feet and had failed to develop any sort of production.

It is a north outpost to Humble No. 1 Permian, which was completed as a producer from the lower Canyon to extend the North Snyder field more than one mile to the west.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Moore, Northwest Scurry County, wildcat 10 miles northwest of Snyder, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TS survey, has perforated the casing at 8,200-40 feet, with four jet holes to the foot and is now swabbing to test.

The perforated zone is in the top zone of the Ellenburger where some free oil was developed on drillstem tests.

This prospector developed sulphur water in a test at 8,364-8,405 feet, in the bottom of the Ellenburger. Top of that formation is at 8,202 feet.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. # Weather Continues To Aid Texas Farmers

AUSTIN, March 23 (AP)—Texas weather continued to smile on farmers last week.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported today that the second consecutive week of fair weather kept spring field work going at peak level. Weekend rains over practically the entire farming area then lent a hand at settling newly worked soil and hastening seed germination.

Principal exceptions were in upper coastal and scattered East Texas counties, where showers again kept soils too wet to work.

Wheat, oats and barley were reported making excellent growth. Some green bugs in northern blackland counties and some rust in southern counties were showing up in oats, however.

Seed pods were forming on flax in the southern flax counties with good yields in prospect.

Cantaloupe and watermelon planting was active in central and eastern counties. Some East Texas tomato plants were going to the fields. Lettuce was up to a stand in the Panhandle area.

A limited harvest of broccoli, beets, carrots, cabbage and spinach continued in South Texas.

Onions in the Coastal Bend area continued to show adverse effects of blight and thrips were causing some damage.

Range and pasture feed continued to make excellent growth in southern, central and eastern counties, USDA said.

Dr. Denman is head of evangelistic work in the Methodist church. He conducted four services Sunday and is conducting services daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

A young people's division prayer service is being conducted from 7 to 7:30 o'clock each night.

Scurry Group Holds Barbecue

SNYDER, March 23 (Special)—More than 350 persons gathered in the Snyder High school gymnasium Tuesday night for the first barbecue meeting of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was a combined chamber of commerce event and the celebration of the striking of an important oil pool in north Scurry county and included in the visitors was a large number of oil men from all over West Texas.

Three speakers, John House, district superintendent of the Humble Oil company, Midland; Cecil Hunter, Amarillo and Fred Wemple, state highway commissioner, Midland, were heard on the program which followed a sumptuous barbecuse meal.

Charles Paxton, Sweetwater, was master of ceremonies. Bill Scheible, manager of the chamber of commerce, opened the program with a few brief remarks and address of welcome was given by Mayor Forrest Sears of Snyder.

House stressed the importance of the oil industry in the economic picture of a community in his talk; reviewed briefly the history of the oil development in Scurry county from the time of the first drilling in 1912, through 1919 and 1925 when other wells were drilled up to the present strike of the Ellenberger, which has caused a boom in Snyder.

Housing facilities are at a premium and rooms just aren't obtainable in Snyder any longer; business is booming in the cafes, stores and other businesses.

House pointed out that shortsighted policies of business leaders of an oil community often resulted in destruction of the very business they were seeking.

Hunter, "Stuttering Sam" of radio fame in Amarillo, was introduced as Charlie Hunt, young veteran who has returned from the war and pepped up his home town of Bushland, where 75 blocks of paving and numerous other improvements had been made in the past two years.

Hunter kept the crowd in an uproar with his verbal antics.

Wemple cited the importance of highways in the development of oil fields and in the long-range development of any county and community.

Efforts To Form Government In West Germany Slowed By Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

While the Allies and Germans in their zones are trying to settle last minute difficulties over establishment of a Western German government, Russia is seizing every opportunity to play on German nationalism to interfere. The Western Germans face political pressures because their government will mean at least temporary acceptance of a divided Germany.

The Russians, to emphasize this difficulty, make a great to-do about proclaiming a constitution for all Germany. Although it is actually a document providing a police state in the Eastern zone, it is held up as a great example of the unity which would be permitted if it were not for the Western Allies.

Reds Repatriate Prisoners

Former establishment of the East German government is expected to be held up until it can be used as a counter for one in the West.

Repatriation of German war prisoners from Russia is being resumed after Allied protests over Soviet failure to live up to its agreements on the subject. (But the accompanying Russian propaganda suggests that the former soldiers have not been permitted to go home until they have been subjected to a thorough Communist indoctrination campaign.)

But the Western Germans, in addition to their troublesome political situation, face great problems due to reparations, occupation costs, and the influx into their areas of some 12,000,000 refugees from the Russian zone and the Silesian area taken over by Poland. But they show no signs of falling for so-called solutions proposed by the Communists.

Agreement Brings End To Rail Strike

ST. LOUIS, March 23 (INS)—The Wabash railroad resumed operations today after an agreement with leaders of four operating unions ended an eight-day strike by 3,500 employes in six states.

Operations of the Wabash and a subsidiary, the Ann Arbor railroad, were halted March 15 in Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

The walkout developed after negotiations on a list of grievances broke down. Wages were not involved in the strike.

A presidential fact-finding board earlier had suggested direct negotiations between the railroad and the unions be resumed. The board did not participate in future conferences which brought about the strike's end.

ELECTRIC EYE SORTS FRUITS

CHICAGO (U.P.)—An electric eye that chooses and rejects fruits and vegetables for freezing is among the new mechanical developments for the frozen food industry. The electronic sorter scans 60 items a second and rejects fruit and vegetables of non-uniform color—differences which are imperceptible to the human eye.

NATIONAL CO-OP PRESIDENT—Pictured is Leonard F. Cowden of Amarillo, executive vice president and general manager of Consumers' Co-Operatives Associated of Amarillo, who recently was elected president of National Co-Operatives in Chicago. The national co-op organization serves more than three million farm and ranch families in the United States and Canada, and is the largest farm organization of its kind in the world. Cowden will continue as the head of the CCA organization, which serves 307 local co-ops in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi, in addition to his duties connected with his new office. He attended a local meeting of the CCA in Lubbock March 9.

Sterley Crash Victim In Serious Condition

LOCKNEY, March 23 (Special)—Two of three men injured in a truck-train crash at Sterley, in northeast Floyd county, were released from Lockney hospital after emergency treatment today, but an attending physician described the condition of the third as serious.

Old "Doodle Bug," a diesel running from Childress to Plainview, was in collision with a gravel truck owned by Cooper and Woodruff Construction company of Floydada at a grade crossing just west of Sterley at 8:52 o'clock this morning.

Witnesses said the train struck the caliche-loaded dump bed of the truck. Most seriously injured was the train's engineer, Walter Williams, about 50, of Childress. The fireman, Ben Trent, about 40, of Childress and the truck driver, Charles Brantner, 18, of Floydada, suffered only superficial injuries. The three were taken to Lockney hospital in a Texas highway department station wagon.

Williams suffered a leg fracture, severe facial and internal injuries. His condition was not critical, the physician said.

The truck was employed on a farm-to-market road paving project near Sterley.

Rejection Of Home Relief Program Seen

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—A survey indicated today the House Ways and Means committee will turn down President Truman's proposal for direct federal help (home relief) for all needy persons.

One of Mr. Truman's closest friends on Capitol Hill told reporters the proposal "is as good as dead." One committeeman estimated at least 17 of the 25 members will oppose payments to persons able to work.

The federal government is spending $1,100,000,000 a year in a money-matching arrangement with the states to provide financial aid for the needy aged, the blind and dependent children.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, social security commissioner, told the committee the immediate cost of expanding the so-called home relief program to all needy would run from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 a year.

In answer to questions, Altmeyer has said "no one on earth" could say what the cost would be if the country entered a depression.

Altmeyer testified again today, winding up the committee's four weeks of hearings on the public assistance phase of the administration's social security program.

Tomorrow the committee will open hearings on a proposal to expand the old age and survivors program of social security.

Red Ouster Okayed

Bar association.

More hearings this afternoon and tonight had on tap two proposals before the House Constitutional Amendments committee for a veterans bonus, the controversial basic science measure passed by the House was before the Senate Public Health committee.

A proposed constitutional amendment was introduced in the Senate by Senator Kyle Vick of Waco to increase salaries of the state comptroller, treasurer and commissioner of the general land office to a minimum of $10,000 yearly.

The Senate passed a House-approved bill setting up an adjunct to Texas A&M college in Kimble county but amended the bill to limit the branch school to pre-college training.

Bills approved by the House included those:

Making it a felony punishable by additional imprisonment of two to 15 years to escape from a state prison or jail.

Allowing the state medical school at Galveston to obtain bodies of executed convicts if the bodies are not claimed by relatives or friends.

Allowing out-of-state truck operators a temporary 60-day Texas motor vehicle license. Backers said it would help wheat farmers along the Red river where trucks from Oklahoma are needed to help haul wheat.

The House sent back to the Game and Fish committee a new plan to keep Louisiana shrimp boats out of Texas waters. Originally the bill, by Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton and approved by the Senate, allowed the Game and Fish department to make a survey each year and issue commercial fishing licenses on the basis of marine life available. Opponents tacked on two amendments in the House prohibiting the commission from setting a quota on licenses or from issuing licenses on any priority basis.

Andrews Farm Road Project Is Approved

Additional low bids for 20 road projects, including one in Andrews county, were announced in Austin Wednesday by the State Highway commission, according to an Associated Press dispatch last night.

These, coupled with 22 low bids which were announced Tuesday by the commission, brought the total for the 42 projects to $6,630,932. The 22 low bids announced Tuesday aggregated $3,682,112, and included projects in a number of area counties.

The Andrews county project was let to C. Hunter Strain of San Angelo, with a low bid of $52,673. The work is to include 24.42 miles of double asphalt surface treatment on farm road 703 from Andrews to the Winkler county line.

Other West Texas counties in which road work is to be done include Howard, Pecos, Jeff Davis, and Culberson counties.

SLAIN GIRL'S SISTER LOCATED

Police Seize Couple Wanted For Questioning In Wisconsin Killing

MINNEAPOLIS, March 23 (INS)—Milton Babich, 19, and Kathleen Birmingham, 17, sought for questioning in the Milwaukee slaying of Kathleen's younger sister, were seized late today in Minneapolis.

Detectives, led by Inspector Eugene Bernath, arrested the couple in an apartment which the two said they had rented yesterday.

Bernath told reporters Babich and Miss Birmingham admitted reading about Patricia Birmingham's death in the newspapers but denied any further knowledge of the crime. The body of the 16-year-old girl was recovered from the Milwaukee river last Sunday.

Marriage Claimed

Bernath said the young couple told him they were married in Kalamazoo, Mich., last weekend. They disappeared from Milwaukee March 17.

The inspector said neither of the two offered any explanation of why they had not called their parents when they read of Patricia's death.

Bernath said both Babich and Kathleen told him they ran away from home because they were in love and wanted to get married but were afraid they would be stopped because of their youth.

Babich was held in Minneapolis on a Milwaukee warrant charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Miss Birmingham was held as a material witness. Milwaukee officers were scheduled to fly to Minneapolis tonight to return the pair.

Milwaukee police were searching for a young man with a blue car who reportedly once said that no one could have Patricia if he couldn't. A long distance call from New York tipped the officers on the youth, who was not identified.

Babich and Miss Birmingham were trapped after giving a Minneapolis bank their apartment address while attempting to transfer some funds from a Kalamazoo bank.

The two said they arrived in Minneapolis from Kalamazoo Monday morning.

Bernath said the couple readily admitted they were Babich and Miss Birmingham and put up no struggle when surprised by the squad.

Elaborate Trap Set

Minneapolis police had set an elaborate trap for the young elopers after it was disclosed that Babich had requested the transfer of nearly $1,300 from a Kalamazoo bank to Minneapolis' Northwestern National bank.

The police were on guard at the bank, a Railway Express agency, the post office and the apartment.

Babich and Miss Birmingham had been the object of a nation-wide search since the discovery of Patricia's body.

Earlier in the day the search for Babich and Kathleen was concentrated in Michigan. Milwaukee authorities learned a youth using Babich's name purchased a $45 wedding ring in a Kalamazoo jewelry store last Friday.

Kalamazoo detectives also told Milwaukee officials a couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. Milton Babich stayed at the Harris hotel in Kalamazoo from Friday afternoon until Sunday.

Companion Identified

A girl who accompanied Babich to the jewelry store was identified by a clerk as the sister of the dead girl. The couple had left notes at their Milwaukee homes indicating they were eloping.

Medical examiners said Patricia was killed by two bullets fired into her head. The body was weighted with a 38½ pound concrete block.

Milwaukee Detective Chief Adolph Kraemer claimed he has a witness who saw Babich's auto near Patricia's suburban West Allis home Feb. 10, the day she disappeared.

Kraemer said the witness substantiates the theory that the 19-year-old Babich kept a date with Patricia to secure her help in patching up a quarrel between him and Kathleen.

In Milwaukee David Heilpap, 16-year-old classmate of Patricia, was scheduled to undergo a lie detector test. He is one of the four youths questioned after Patricia's body was recovered.

The parents of the slain girl had pleaded for Kathleen to return home in order to attend funeral services for her sister. The services are scheduled for tomorrow.

Director Of Washington Zoo Makes Space In 'Back Yard' To Park Old Friend's Circus

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23—A circus is about as hard to park as the state of Texas—unless you know Bill Mann.

Bill has one—at least one act of one—in the back yard of the Washington zoo right this minute.

Dr. William M. Mann, director of the zoo, calls himself the nation's No. 1 circus fan and he's never been known to let a showman down. It was like this:

Will Hill, a 70-year-old trainer of elephants from Miami, kind of misread his invitation to take part in the Shrine circus which opens at Uline arena here on Monday. He got here a week early.

Called Old Friend

So he called his old friend, Bill. "What'll I do with Tulsa and Judy (two lady elephants) and six ponies and a dozen dogs and a couple of monkeys?"

Good old Bill told him to bring 'em out to the zoo. And before Bill could shake up a fork of hay there was Will.

He came prepared, too—as do all visitors to the zoo.

I got to the zoo right in the middle of things—just as Will Hill and Mill M. were shaking hands. Behind Will there were two trucks, one full of animals and the other full of hay and other nice things. Two bales of hay a day for Tulsa and Judy, all kinds of bags of bran and oats and enough vegetables to feed a family of 75.

Eat Lunch

Bill M. said why didn't we go to lunch. We did.

Lunch at the zoo with Bill M. is an education.

Will Hill told about entertaining the biggies in the winter colony at Miami. How the fragrance of "Tulsa" and "Judy" didn't exactly charm the society ladies and how he got around that by spraying expensive perfume over the elephants.

Also lunching with us was Roland Lindemann, who operates a game farm at Catskill, N. Y.

"There," said Dr. Mann, pointing with a salad fork, "sits a good operator."

There sure sat one.

Lindy told us about the 568 animals he has on his farm and how he supplies zoological gardens and parks.

He said he had a slot machine arrangement where the kids can dump a dime and get a paper cup full of feed for the deer. He gets a lot of deer fed that way.

"We also have a milk bar," he said, proudly. "I let the kids buy the milk and then they feed it to the fawn by putting nipples on the bottles."

I've been to lunch with Dr. Mann a lot of times, and I've never seen him finish one. Last time I was at the zoo he was about to dig into a strawberry parfait when a small boy came in screaming that the snakes he had ordered from Africa had arrived.

This time he was just about to start on a piece of lemon pie—and a collection of rare ants arrived.

TYLER MAN DIES

TYLER, March 23. (AP)—Henry C. Miller, widely-known East Texas oil man and head of the Miller Production company of Tyler, died at his home here last night after an extended illness. He held extensive oil interests in Rusk county and owned the land at Joinerville on which the discovery well of the East Texas field was brought in in September 1930.

Walt Mills, Noted Newsman, Claimed In Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23 (AP) — Walt Mills, 68, long-time Oklahoma newsman and columnist, died at his home here today. He had been seriously ill since about Feb. 1.

Mills came to Oklahoma City in December 1917 as an Oklahoma City Times editorial writer and it was here that he started a column called "Don't Worry." He left the Times in 1935 to become a columnist for the Oklahoma News and remained with that paper until it suspended in 1939.

Until recently Mills continued writing his column on a weekly basis for several Oklahoma newspapers.

Congresswoman, Navy Captain Say Charges Are 'Fantastic'

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) and her one-time secretary, Navy Captain Harold A. Latta-Lawrence, today rejected allegations of an attachment between them as "ridiculous" and "fantastic."

Mrs. Rogers, a descendant of New England pilgrims and dean of Republican women in Congress, is 67.

Wife Hurls Charges

Charges that the Navy officer and the pink-cheeked, youthful appearing Mrs. Rogers had been on "close and intimate terms" for 20 years came from Capt. Latta-Lawrence's wife, Eilene Diana, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Contending that the alleged attachment wrecked her marriage, Mrs. Latta-Lawrence, a strawberry blonde, filed suit in federal district court here yesterday for $300 a month separate maintenance.

Neither process servers nor newsmen could reach Latta-Lawrence today — the former seeking to hale him into court— but Navy friends handed out this statement:

"Capt. Latta-Lawrence said he has not been afforded an opportunity to read the complaint filed against him by his wife, but that from what he has read in the newspaper they (the charges) are fantastic and he denies them categorically."

Listens To Pension Debate

The pert Mrs. Rogers had no further comment to cap her initial exclamation when the case broke last night: "Ridiculous!"

A meticulous attendant at congressional sessions, Mrs. Rogers showed up as usual when the House met at noon today. She entered the chamber about 12:15 p.m. After lunching in the House restaurant with a group of young girls.

There was no sign of a ripple or stir as Mrs. Rogers took her seat behind the table where leaders of the House Veterans Affairs committee were steering a pension bill through hot debate.

Mrs. Rogers, wearing a corsage of pink spring flowers instead of the usual purple orchid which had gained her the soubriquet of the "orchid lady from Lowell," immediately busied herself with a sheaf of papers on the committee table and closely followed the debate.

$5,171 Damage Suit Is Filed As Result Of Auto Collision

Judgment for damages of $5,171.85 was asked in a lawsuit filed Wednesday afternoon in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair as outgrowth of an April 22 collision of two cars on U. S. highway 84 just outside the Lubbock city limits.

The suit, J. P. Bowling and wife Carrie Maude Bowling against Will Stacey, alleged that Stacey's car was in collision with the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Bowling, who was represented to have been seriously injured. All principals live in Lubbock county.

The petition was filed by Gordon Treadaway, attorney for the Bowlings.

'Unpopular' Michigan University Professors May Lose Positions

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 23. (U.P.)—Five professors and instructors who flunked a campus-wide student popularity poll may be fired and 42 who won "A" ratings may receive raises, University of Michigan authorities said Wednesday.

The university passed out 50,000 questionnaires three months ago to students in the college of literature, science and arts asking that they rate their professors on ten points.

Norton Bill Hobbled

INDICATIONS are that the powerful "University gang" has succeeded in pigeon-holing, insofar as the present session of the Texas legislature is concerned, a proposal to allow all State colleges and universities to share in revenues from the Permanent Building fund.

As most Texans are aware, this fund now totaling nearly $100,000,000 has been accumulated almost entirely from oil and gas leases on and production royalties from public lands in West Texas. All revenues from the fund now go to the University of Texas and A. & M. college.

Rep. James L. Norton, of Nacogdoches, has proposed that people of Texas be given opportunity to vote on a constitutional amendment under which portions of the revenue would be distributed among all State schools of higher learning in proportion to enrollment. He offered the democratic plan of letting the people decide in the matter.

But, as realists expected, the "University gang" is sure to do everything it can to prevent submission of any such amendment to a vote of the people. It has succeeded in bottling the Norton bill in an unfriendly legislative subcommittee. Not even the legislators will get a chance to vote on it unless they attempt and succeed in the difficult task of forcing it out of the committee for action by the House as a whole.

Mr. Norton's efforts cannot be written off as a total loss, even if his bill dies. He has started something which is pretty sure to be revived with increasing vigor in session after session until the people are given a chance to vote their preference in the matter.

The hope seems reasonable this may happen when redistricting, after 1950, gives West, South and other progressive regions of Texas the equal legislative representation they have been denied nearly 30 years. And it seems a safe bet that they will vote, when given the chance, for a more equitable distribution of the funds now hogged by the two giant schools.

Reds On The Job

THE recognized fact that Communist agents never overlook a chance to stir up trouble for Uncle Sam, or any democracy, has been demonstrated anew by a recent unfortunate incident in Havana, Cuba.

Three American sailors struck some ridiculous poses on a statue which happened to be that of a revered Cuban patriot. They should not have done it, and they are paying severely for their prank. But no one with a grain of intelligence suspects them of anything worse than a prank.

Yet, in some manner, mobs of Cubans were aroused almost instantly to a frenzy of indignation. News dispatches said Havana police saved the sailors from lynching. But the significant fact was that a mob so large congregated almost within minutes manifesting insane anger.

Such results could not have been obtained without organization—organization of the kind which is peculiarly that of Communism. It was a disturbing demonstration which should serve further to awaken those who persist in the belief that the Red menace in America is largely imaginary. The Havana incident offered just a little more proof that Moscow's agents are alert to any opportunity to disrupt freedom-loving people.

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, vacationing at a swank resort, witness the death of Romeo Anglin. Before Anglin dies, he whispers to Johnny, "You already got it." Anglin previously had apparently mistaken the Conovers for someone else. Then the Conover quarters are occupied by Faye Jordan under a pretext of a reservation mixup. At a swimming pool Johnny tries to question Faye. Sin, slightly jealous, suddenly finds herself in company with Saggmen Robottom, an archeologist, who calls her "Mrs. Jones." It is the second time she was called by that name—once before by Mr. Barodus, the owner of the resort. Robottom tells Sin he'll have "no interference." Meanwhile Faye has offered to take Johnny to an interesting place.)

XV

THE road was bumpy even in her convertible Mercury. John Henry conned the girl's profile against the speeding desert. Almost classic, if you like a nose that regally turned up a little. Then he reached the conclusion that her chin curved toward the delicate throat too soon. It didn't balance the forehead which arched up to her ebony braids. Faye ruined his analysis with a boudoir smile.

"We're almost there now, Johnny."

"Good. Where?" She lowered her lashes enigmatically. John Henry couldn't get an answer for that particular question. Back at the pool, Faye had suddenly told him he would be interested in seeing a fascinating place—a secret place. Curious, but inwardly hesitant, he had allowed himself to be carried away from the Las Dunas, through Azure and out across the rolling plains to the south. A mile or so back, Faye had wheeled the Mercury off on a dirt road, still holding to a speed that made the conservative John Henry shudder.

She had changed her bathing suit for a play dress, pink with a faint horizontal white stripe, full skirt, low-backed and with a bare midriff. The exposed stomach bothered John Henry some; it always did in a street length dress.

What bothered him more was the card. He could see the white edge of its stiff cardboard protruding from the skirt pocket on her left thigh. Why did she carry it in everything she wore?

The car lurched gaily around a hairpin curve.

"Why don't you slow down a little," he suggested tentatively.

"Don't you like going fast?"

"What's the big hurry?"

"What's life? What's death?" Faye asked rhetorically, her eyes immense.

THE Mercury leaped ahead faster than ever and Faye laughed exultingly. John Henry hunched down in the red-leather seat. Sin had been right. He should have taken her advice. It would be tough on her when she heard how he had been killed.

"There it is," Faye announced happily and John Henry realized he had his eyes shut. He opened them now.

The Mercury had topped a slight rise in the desert and was rolling headlong down the incline on the other side toward a barbed-wire fence which vaulted the road in the form of a log archway. The swinging sign spelled out Bar C Ranch in twigs. Beyond the fence, man's dissatisfied hand showed. The mesquite, sagebrush and greasewood had been banished. In their place sprouted feathery green tamarisk trees, rows of pink and white oleanders and, of course, the omnipresent palms.

A hundred yards back from the archway rested the bulk of the large house. It was low and rambling, devoted more to length and breadth than to height. Wings sprang forth haphazardly to the right and the left.

The ranch house was evidently constructed of adobe, plastered with a beige stucco. It had been deliberately aged in spots by allowing the adobe bricks to peep through. The pseudo-western air had been carried through with heavy beams which supported the roof and with wooden shutters on the windows. But behind these shutters, John Henry could see shiny metal Venetian blinds.

"ISN'T it darling!" Faye breathed as she forced the Mercury to a jarring stop. "Oh I guess I'm supposed to park over there." The car lunged forward again, pursuing the circular gravel driveway to a small parking lot. The lot was already occupied by a silent herd of automobiles.

When they made their last vibrating halt, John Henry clamped a decisive hand on the girl's wrist. "Now, before we go any further—"

"Now you're talking!" purred Faye. She got up on her hands and knees on the east cushions and thrust out her face toward him.

John Henry sank behind a determined shoulder and said, "None of that. Just what is this place and what are we doing here? What's so secret about a dude ranch?"

"You're so pent-up" she sighed and reached across him to open his door. Then she crawled over his lap and slid to the ground. "It's no dude ranch," she added.

Dubiously, Conover followed her. Faye Jordan had the mysterious card palmed in one hand now.

As they crunched through the gravel to the big front door, John Henry noticed that bridles and branding irons hung from the huge supporting timbers of the porch. A weathered broken wagon wheel leaned theatrically against the low cement and tile porch. Faye banged at the door with the heavy brass knocker.

"Are they expecting you?" Conover asked.

"That's no fun." The latch rattled and the door swung open smoothly, revealing dim cool reaches beyond. A battered face peered at them from the gloom. Crushed lips grated, "Won't you come in?"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THAT Electroman I told you about has me worried.

After finishing my column yesterday I went back to work on my colossal invention.

But a couple of friends dropped in and, knowing that they are trustworthy and wouldn't swipe my idea, I discussed it with them.

The man thought it was great.

He figured that when the human race became a race of Electromen and Electrowomen the whole world would run like a well-oiled machine, and not be a hodge-podge of badly-put-together human beings of the present model.

BRANDEIS

For instance, he figured, electricians being much cheaper than doctors, the money saved on doctor bills alone would almost enable a man to buy a home.

Oil being much less expensive than pills and lotions, there would be another great saving.

When someone suggested that my Electroman might put a lot of doctors and druggists out of business, my friend dismissed that idea with the remark:

"Never mind that. There are plenty of doctors and druggists going out of business now. So let the doctors study mechanics and the druggists go into the oil business. It might be better for all of us."

Everything was going fine for my invention when this fellow's wife had to pipe up with this crack:

"So far so good. You have provided for the physical part of the new type of human being.

"But how about his heart, his soul, his brain?

"How are you going to do that with electricity?"

Well, she had me there, and now I'll have to try to tackle that, too.

The brain part won't be so bad.

A Dr. Raymond Pepinsky, physicist at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, has just perfected an electrical brain intended to figure out the atomic arrangement of various chemicals. I don't know what it means, but it is supposed to be terribly important for something or other.

MY trouble at the moment is that this newly invented "electric brain" looks like a giant switchboard and is much too large to build into my Electroman, who, after all, will have to be about the size of the average human being so that he can fit the standard size automobiles, elevators, apartments and clothes.

I don't anticipate much difficulty on that score, however. See what they have done with portable radios that give you the same terrible programs, with a little flashlight battery, as the big thousand dollar sets.

My real problem will be the heart, the soul.

How will I handle love and hope and charity? What will I do about faith and kindness and brotherhood?

I certainly want to do better than what has been done with the present type of human being.

At least there is one bit of consolation in the work ahead: I couldn't do much worse.

NAVY ATTACK OPENED

Air Force Claims Hit

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Navy's typewriter gunners have begun to deliver a counter-barrage of publicity against the Army Air Force's unprecedented and unrivalled campaign to high-pressure Congress into allotting to their arm the lion's share of the fifteen billion dollars that will be appropriated for national defense.

TUCKER

Although the Admirals have not rushed into print or staged any 'round-the-world flights in order to impress the White House and Congress, their spokesmen are fighting back angrily and effectively on and off Capitol Hill. They admit that the erstwhile backbone of the fleet — the "big battlewagons" — are outmoded, but they insist that planes from the decks of small, fast aircraft carriers will be more essential than the Army's land-based machines in a prospective war with Russia.

DISPUTE: They dispute the Symington claims that no existing fighter plane can maneuver at a sufficiently high altitude—eight miles—to knock down the Army's B-36 bomber, which is capable of carrying atom bombs or a 42,000-pound pay load of other deadly missiles.

Russia may not possess an interceptor that can repulse the B-36 at such a height, as Secretary Symington maintains. But the Navy replies that it now has a model which can sweep the B-36 out of the skies.

In fact, they are willing to try to prove it if the White House will assent to such a test. And they may ask Navy friends on Capitol Hill to demand such a showdown before the 1950 appropriation books are closed at this session.

ANSWER: The Navy also has an answer to Secretary Symington's surprisingly belligerent and provocative statement that atom bombing of seventy Russian targets already selected would render that nation impotent to wage a major war. Moscow, according to the naval version, has no fear of American use of the atomic weapon in any future conflict.

Red troops, the naval strategists point out, would sweep Western Europe, the Scandinavian countries, the Balkans and the Middle East before the United States and its allies could prevent this conquest. It is obvious from this analysis that the Navy topnotchers have scant faith in the ability of the proposed North Atlantic alliance to stave off the loss of these areas.

BELIEF: Under such conditions, the Russians doubt if the U. S. will dare to drop atom bombs on Paris, Brussels, Madrid, Rome and other world capitals. Should we do so, it is Moscow's belief that the inhabitants of those countries would prefer Russian conquest and occupation to atomic destruction.

Foreign diplomats have already raised this question in preliminary discussions of the pact. Their people, they report, want to be guaranteed protection against invasion, not "liberation" after their lands have been destroyed.

Our only use of the atom bomb, if this thesis is correct, would be against factories, transportation lines and cities within Russia itself, beyond occupied zones in friendly countries. But the distance from allied land bases to Soviet territory might be so vast that our bombers would be shot down before they arrived over the targets.

DOUBTS: The Navy also doubts whether such islands as Britain, Greenland, Iceland and the Azores would afford us bases, if Russia held the continent. The Reds would not make Hitler's mistake of bombing cities or even factories.

Having read Churchill's memoirs, they would direct their destruction against airfields, control towers and all the other facilities which an air force requires.

Meanwhile, naval propagandists insist that squadrons of aircraft carriers, standing offshore, could easily release their planes, steam 600 miles before attacked, await the planes' return, and be ready for action again in a few hours.

EXPLAIN: President Truman's friends explain his resentment over photographic invasion of his Key West vacation quarters by the fact that he has enjoyed almost no privacy since he moved from the White House to Blair House, which abuts on a Pennsylvania Avenue sidewalk.

Crowds gather and trail him when he walks from his residence to his office, and when he returns in the late afternoon. A trolley car loading platform had to be removed from the street opposite Blair House because waiting or dismounting passengers craned their necks to peep in the windows, or to ogle family members and visitors.

The public even knows what he eats. Although there is a side delivery door, it is so unhandy that delivery boys frequently dump the presidential groceries on the front sidewalk. Passersby stare at them as if they were curious. On a recent evening, it was obvious to observers that the Blair House menu was:

Leek soup, roast beef, carrots, a tossed salad, ice cream and cake.

DECORATION: "Can you tell me why there has been so much fuss over Major General Harry Vaughan's acceptance of a decoration from the Peron government in Argentina?" ask several reader from places as remote as Brooklyn, N. Y., and Sacramento, Cal.

Answer: No, I cannot. More than a score of American officers have been similarly decorated without any unfavorable publicity or criticism. Such honors do not mean a thing, and certainly they do not affect our government's major foreign policies. You could fill a museum with the badges and medals given to the "high brass" by the late Kaiser, Mussolini, Hirohito and even more unsavory dictators than Peron.

It is true that Major General Vaughan is no 'great brain,' and that his value to President Truman consists of his loyalty, his friendliness, his unselfish devotion and his happy-go-lucky personality.

FIDO: Living the thankless life of a goldfish, save that his habitat is a jail rather than a jolly bowl, a President needs that kind of a man around him almost as much as he needs food. Franklin D. Roosevelt explained it best when a visitor asked why he gave the late Harry Hopkins the run of the White House.

"If you ever sit here," replied Mr. Roosevelt, in effect, "you will realize what it means to know that every man who comes through that door wants a favor from you. Then you will know how much it means to look up and know that when he (Hopkins) comes through that door, he wants nothing for himself, and seeks only to serve you faithfully and unselfishly."

Major General Vaughan is Harry Truman's Hopkins, although without the latter's ability and versatility. Every Chief Executive since Washington has felt the need of such a Fido. T. R. had Archie Butts, Taft had his brothers, Wilson his "Joe Tumulty, Harding his Daugherty, Coolidge his Frank Stearns, Hoover his Larry Richey and Roosevelt his Hopkins.

It is almost as unfair, unkind and unreasonable to criticize a President's selection of his personal friends, so long as they be honest and not harmful to public policy, as it is to question his choice of a wife.

BIG STATES CLAIMED BLOCKED

Control Of Senate Under Fire

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Though of little comfort to President Truman in his present difficulties with Congress, an analysis is enlightening to show why the will of a majority in a national election—a so-called "mandate"—can be flouted immediately in Congress on legislation proposed by a victorious President.

Basic in Congress as a whole, of course, is the fact that the split-off southern conservatives to join Republicans can wreck a majority in both House and Senate when Democrats are in power, which has been happening so long now that it is well-known to the nation.

Of current interest is the Senate. An analysis here recently of the 52 members who signed the petition that caused a capitulation by the administration leadership in the anti-filibuster fight revealed that they came largely from the South and West of the Mississippi river.

STOKES

Voting Is Studied

There was negligible support from the big populous states in the North, East and Middle West which were largely influential, for instance, in putting platform pledges on civil rights in the national conventions of the two major parties where representation is on the basis of population in contrast to the Senate where every state, large or small, has two votes.

For a more detailed analysis of how a majority of the people have only a minority influence in the Senate we are indebted to Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), who showed how the original compromise in the constitutional convention, giving equality in the Senate to the small states, works today very much against those who live in big states.

He explained, first, how the 25 smaller states, with a population in 1940 of 25,000,000—19 per cent of the total—have 50 seats in the Senate, a majority. The other 23 states, with 81 per cent of the population, or 106,500,000 in 1940, have only 46 seats.

"One-fifth of the population," he said, "already controls the Senate, even on those matters which are decided by a simple majority of the Senate, while the remaining four-fifths of the population are represented by a minority, even in cases where a simple majority is required."

Then he took the 24 states of the South Atlantic, east south central, west south central and mountain states. Though they have only 35 per cent of the population, or 45,100,000 in 1940, they have exactly half of the seats in the Senate, 48, with the other 65 percent of the population having the same number. Beyond that, only 4,000,000 have 16 Senate seats, while his state of Illinois, with twice that many people, has only two votes in the Senate.

Federal Aid Cited

"We of the 24 states of the North, Midwest and Pacific coast pay 80 per cent or four-fifths of the personal income taxes of the government, while the remaining 24 states pay only 20 percent or one-fifth of the total," he said. "The two states of New York and Illinois alone pay approximately a quarter of the entire income taxes of the country or more than all of the 24 states of the South Atlantic, West and east south central and the mountain states combined.

"We do not complain about this. Our per capita incomes are larger than those of the south and it is only proper that we should pay more taxes. Moreover, we of the large industrial states of the north and midwest are openhanded in the appropriations which we make for the people of the south and mountain states. We alone are giving in excess of a billion and a half dollars in the form of federal aid to the states. The south and the mountain states are getting more than their proportionate per capita share of this."

The Illinois senator said he favored a continuation of such aid; but he objects to having the North, Midwest and Pacific coast treated as "poor relations" in the Senate. They, he said, "are the suppressed classes and second-class citizens in the Senate and in the nation.

"We pay the taxes and what we do decides whether we win or lose the elections. But after winning an election, we find it almost impossible to get anything for ourselves or for the nation. We do not ask for position, as individuals, but we do want to further the welfare of the people of the United States, most of whom live in our regions."

Then, he concluded, on top of all that, the sections which profit so much from the North, Midwest and Pacific coast insist on using the filibuster, so that "a minority of a minority" controls the Senate.

MARKET STAGES BIG RALLY

NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—The stock market put on one of the largest overall advances of the year today.

Gains were not notably large—fractions to more than a point—but they were liberally distributed among key issues. Final operations in most cases were tops for the day.

The volume of business increased on the way up with turnover falling just under 1,000,000 shares.

The advance didn't get going until after the first hour of trading. For a while in the morning losses of fractions to a point or so were in the majority.

Demand soon expanded, though, and prices slowly but persistently moved ahead for the rest of the day.

Wall Street followed its customary course of ignoring one side of the news and playing up the other—today favorable news was emphasized and unfavorable items ignored. One of the levers helping to lift prices was an increased 75-cent dividend voted by the board of Pennsylvania railroad. Announcement that Emerson radio would pay a higher quarterly dividend didn't do any harm either.

Morning selling appeared to have spilled over from yesterday when sharp declines in American Woolen and Gimbel Bros. helped unsettle the price list. Both issues cracked to new lows for 1948-49. Woolen because of a poor report on new orders booked and Gimbel because of a cut dividend.

Both issues started to slide soon after the opening bell but climbed back part of the way. Woolen closed ¾ lower at 20½ and Gimbel was off only ¼ at 13⅝.

Emerson advanced 1⅛ to 15 and Admiral tagged along with a ⅝-point gain at 16½.

At highs for the year were Standard Gas and Electric 64 preferred, up 1⅝ at 26½, the $6 preferred up at 2¼ at 113, and the $7, up 4¾ at 136¾.

Others higher included U. S. Steel, Armco, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, International Paper, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, and Paramount Pictures.

Among the losers were Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Lowe's and American Telephone.

The Associated Press average advanced .7 of one point to 69.8. This rise was matched once before this year on March 11 and exceeded only once on Jan. 6 when the average gained 1.1 points.

Chinese Peace Cabinet Is Declared 'Bogus' By Reds

NANKING, March 23 (INS) — The Chinese Communists termed the Nationalist peace cabinet "bogus" today and questioned the sincerity of the government's desire for an end to the civil war.

A Communist radio broadcast heard in Nanking declared that whether the Nationalists are ready to accept the terms of the recent Red eight point "peace ultimatum" will be seen "as soon as peace talks open."

Nationalist peace delegates will be named tomorrow at the first meeting of Premier Ho Ying-Chin's new cabinet and the Communist radio said negotiations would "start very soon."

The broadcast referred frequently to premier Ho's "bogus cabinet" and "bogus ministries." It also renewed the old Communist charges that "American imperialists" have continued to direct and assist reactionaries under retired President Chiang Kai-Shek who has been . . . preparing for war."

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Cotton futures moved in a narrow range in slow dealings today. Futures later turned steady on light mill buying and short covering.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP) — Grains moved up in moderate dealings on the board of trade today. Lard also scored gains. This was the last day for trading in March contracts.

Corn was the first grain to show a firm tone. Small arrivals of cash grain and advancing spot market prices brought buying into yellow cereal futures. Reports of a rush to place corn under the government loan before April 1 also helped prices.

Wheat's gains were made largely in sympathy with corn, although the bread cereal also was helped by a small amount of hedge lifting on the part of mills.

Wheat closed ⅝-1¼ higher, May $2.14⅝-2.15. Corn was ⅝-1⅝ higher, May $1.31⅝-1.32, oats were ¼-⅝ higher, May 68⅝, rye was ⅝ to 1 cent higher, May $1.28⅛, soybeans were 1 cent lower to 3¼ higher, March $2.21½-2.26½, and lard was 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.55-11.60.

Way To Break East-West Deadlock Sought

Church Group Plans To Bring Religion To Homes, Factories

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

EVANSTON, Ill., March 23 — The American section of the World Council of Churches ended its first meeting today and began plans to implement a program for bringing religion into every American home and factory.

The historic conference, held at the First Methodist church, Evanston, formally brought into existence the official regional organization of American member churches, 29 of them, of the World council, set up at Amsterdam last summer.

Broad Program Approved

The 90 delegates, representing churches with a total membership of approximately 30,000,000 in the U.S. and Canada, voted to contribute $440,800 to the World council's $539,000 budget.

Also approved by the delegates was a three year study of evangelism, with special emphasis on bolstering what was felt to be the waning influence of religion, especially among industrial workers.

Approved also were a survey to find ways to relate Christian faith to modern society, with the aim being to break the "deadlock" between the West and Communism and seeking a social system which "transcends both," and a survey of methods to apply biblical teaching to world problems.

Atlantic Pact Questioned

What some observers regarded as a trial balloon was sent up in a speech last night by Dr. O. Frederick Nolde, Philadelphia, a noted Lutheran theologian and associate general secretary of the council.

Dr. Nolde said churchmen should ask "what should we do about the Atlantic pact?"

He asked if there was "any possibility in suggesting" that the western powers "see whether such a drastic agreement is justified" at this time.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, American president of the World council, and Methodist bishop of New York, told a news conference that American section of the council will be able to reach down into the local churches with the aim of establishing the unity of Christian forces. He added:

"The World Council of Churches has now been brought to the grass roots in the United States."

He explained that the American group is to work with such organizations as the Federal Council of Churches and the International Council of Religious Education on a consultative basis.
