CRIES FOR MARTIAL LAW HEARD

Angry Posses Go Gunning For Ambush Killers In Philippines

(By The Associated Press)

MANILLA, April 29—An angry constabulary today went gunning in the retreats of the Communist-led Hukbalahaps for the ambush killers of the Philippines' greatest lady and 11 other persons.

The bodies of Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the first president of the Philippines, her daughter, Maria Aurora, 33, and her son-in-law, Felipe Buencamino III, lay in Manila funeral parlors.

Their bodies along with those of four other of the victims were brought down from the north under armored car escort. Thousands of grieving Filipinos visited the parlors.

There were cries from congressmen for martial law in the Huk country north of Manila, where the slayings ocurred yesterday.

That land of violence produced a second ambush in the same general area only a few hours after Mrs. Quezon's party was waylaid. Mayor David Ventura of Santa Rosa, two members of the Philippine constabulary, and a civilian were reported killed.

Brig. Gen. Ramos, head of the constabulary flew north and took charge of the manhunt.

There was official reluctance to identify the attackers as the armed peasants under Communist command who go by the name of Hukbalahaps.

But Manila newspapers and most citizens agreed with Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, delegate to the United Nations. Stopping in San Francisco, he said he believed the Huks committed the killings.

President Elpidio Quirino blamed bandits. Manila newspa-

Airline Cases To Be Argued

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—A spokesman for American Airlines told the Civil Aeronautics Board today that his company does not want to stop serving Midland, Texas.

William Bundy, the airline's counsel, told CAB examiner James M. Verner that witnesses and evidence to support the company's position will be offered when the matter comes up for a regular hearing.

The meeting today was a prehearing conference attended by representatives for Pioneer and Continental Airlines and Braniff Airways.

To Review Changes

It was devoted to technical points of procedure for a hearing to review several Texas air route changes the CAB has proposed.

One change would be for American to eliminate its present stop at Midland-Odessa on its Fort Worth-Dallas to El Paso flights.

Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer, told the examiner his company took a neutral position on proposed suspension of American's service into Midland.

"It is inevitable that our own operations into Midland would be increased, however," he said.

"We have gained as much as 50 per cent at Abilene since the recent suspension of American's

Blast Injures Five Firemen

ORANGE, April 29 (AP)—Five firemen were injured critically early today when a 55,000-barrel oil tank that had been set afire by lightning exploded.

The tank in the Orangefield oil field, 10 miles west of Orange, was struck during a thunderstorm about 4 p.m. yesterday. About midnight firemen believed they had the flames out. Five of them climbed atop to investigate. The blast occurred while they were clambering over the tank.

Injured Are Listed

The injured were: E. L. Barker, Orange fire marshal; A. G. Mott, Orange fireman; Jack Methner, volunteer fireman for the Dupont company; Lewis York, Orange volunteer fireman, and George R. Vallery, civil service fireman for the Navy.

Three of the injured were taken to the City hospital and the other two to the Frances Ann Lutcher. Attendants reported all except York were unconscious.

Moved From Homes

The tank belonged to the Gulf Oil and Refining Co. It continued to burn fiercely during the morning. Firemen from Orange, the DuPont and the naval station fought it.

Seven families living near the scene were moved from their homes as a precautionary measure.

No other property was in danger.

Barker was well known over the state for his fire prevention work. He was an official of the state fire marshals association.

Final action in the name change is now up to the state House of Representatives.

Back Seat Driving Is All For Women

LOS ANGELES, April 28 (AP)—Back seat driving is a woman's prerogative. But for a man—well ,it's just his tough luck.

Appellate court ordered a retrial for Mrs. Cora E. Statley yesterday after she claimed she drove through a pedestrian zone — and nearly through a pedestrian—on her husband's advice. She had been fined $10 in city court.

But the higher court pointed out that the municipal judge failed to instruct the jury on a California law which says a married woman is not responsible for a misdemeanor acting on command of her husband.

On the reverse or normal state of affairs, when wifey is in the back seat, the law is strangely silent.

It's a woman's world, buddy.

Arguments By State Closed

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

The state closed its argument in the case against Richard McGee at 12:09 p. m. today.

The close came after a dramatic appeal by special prosecutor George Dupree. Dupree related the last words of the shooting victim, R. L. Allston, 42, Lubbock grocery executive who was shot and killed July 7, 1948.

"The defense would have you believe that the acts of Richard McGee, the defendant were those of an insane man," Dupree shouted.

Branded As Murderer

"I tell you that the act was that of a cold-blooded murdered who knew what he was doing."

In summing up the testimony that had been offered in the case Dupree picked up the death weapon, a .38 calibre revolver, and waved it before the jury.

Dupree told the jury that in his argument he only wanted to help them arrive at a just and fair conclusion. He singled out the testimony of the "expert psychiatrists" which he tore into with vigor.

"Remember you must weigh this case on the preponderance of credible evidence," Dupree stated and he emphasized the word credible.

Not Acts Of Insane Man

"According to these experts," Dupree continued, "the defendant never had a lucid moment in his life. The facts of his life, especially while in school, do not

House Slates Showdown On Labor Issue

Return To Wagner Act Voted Down; HST Is Assailed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The House refused emphatically today simply to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and go back to the original Wagner labor relations act.

The proposal was made by Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY), but was voted down.

Big Test Ahead

Still ahead was the big test—whether a substitute offered by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) would be taken instead of the administration's bill.

Off the floor, there was continued rumbling over President Truman's broad hint that Democrats who do not support the administration on this issue need not look for any political plums.

One House leader said privately that the President "lost votes" for the administration's bill by tying it in with political patronage. But he still predicted the administration's measure would be passed.

Marcantonio's move put three principal choices before the House: (1) The administration bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and reinstate the Wagner act with several revisions; (2) a substitute, offered by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) which would keep a large part of the Taft-Hartley law, and (3) Marcantonio's bill.

Order Is Given

The parliamentary situation shaped up so that votes on amendments to the Wood bill were first in order, to be followed by a vote on Marcantonio's proposal. Rejection of Marcantonio's plan would bring in order a vote on substituting Wood's bill for the administration measure, sponsored by Rep.

Our Faces Are Red!

But Furr's Ad IS Whale Of Big One

Are our faces red!

The Lubbock Morning Avalanche announced that today's 16-page Furr Food Fair section set an all-time record for the largest single advertisement ever carried in any one issue in the history of The Avalanche-Journal.

'Tain't so!

On May 28, 1938, The Sunday Avalanche-Journal carried an 18-page advertising section publishing the legal notice of the city's newly-enacted building code.

However, today's 2,709-inch spread is the largest single advertisement ever carried by a private business in The Avalanche-Journal. The section is equivalent to 37,962 lines of advertising space.

Included are eight pages in color, four of them in two colors, four in three colors.

Arrangements for the advertising were handled by Wayne Henly, advertising director of The Avalanche-Journal, and Jack O. Stone, advertising and public relations manager of Furr Food stores. Richard E. Jackson of The Avalanche-Journal advertising staff handled the copy for the spread.

Film Extra Brags He Is Third Best Safe-Buster In Country

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., April 29. A former Hollywood movie extra was the central figure today in a real life story involving scores of safe-cracking jobs.

Kenneth L. Scott, 29, whose only bid to screen renown was bit parts as a card player, boasted a better record as a safe burglar.

"I'm the third best safe-cracker in the country—and I'm not sure the other two are better," he told Detective Stacy R. Hall.

Detectives at first regarded skeptically Scott's boasting, but he soon proved his ability by opening a "crackproof" safe in about five minutes.

Hall said the Hollywoodite was arrested Thursday in a tourist camp east of Columbus. Also arrested was Thomas N. Reilly, 28, of Darby, Pa., who Scott described as his "apprentice."

Hall said the men admitted breaking into 11 safes in Columbus. Charges are to be filed against them today.

Los Angeles police reported Scott was wanted there for jumping bond. He was ac-

GI Wife Sought In Attack On Fraulein

Jealous Spouse Uses Acid On Girl And Rams Pictures Of Hubby Down Throat

(By The United Press)

MUNICH, April 29—A European-wide alarm was sent out today for the pretty wife of an American soldier who allegedly drenched her husband's German girl friend with acid and sheared her hair.

Donald C. Noggle, chief attorney for the military government in Bavaria, announced that Mrs. Leni Manrtin, wife of Sgt. Charles Harry Martin of Picher, Okla., had been missing since April 14.

She was charged, he said, with having disfigured 18-year-old Elizabeth Bauer, making her liable under German law to a possible sentence of 10 years imprisonment.

Noggle said Mrs. Martin might be aboard a Dutch passenger liner en route to New York. He said previous tips that she was hiding in Salzburg, Austria, and in England were followed without result.

The soldier, attached to the Neubiberg airbase, was being detained by Army authorities for questioning in connection with the case, Noggle said. The soldier's German housemaid has been charged as an accomplice in the case.

The formal complaint against Mrs. Martin was filed with military government authorities by the girl's father who asked that Mrs. Martin face not only criminal prosecution but buy a wig to replace the raven tresses of his humiliated daughter.

The father, Karl Bauer, charged that his daughter was attacked after Mrs. Martin had called at his home to warn the pretty fraulein to stay away from her husband.

Bauer said neither he nor his daughter knew previously that Martin was married.

19 Persons Nabbed After Liquor Raids

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Bootlegging here took a terrific solar plexus punch overnight, it was interpreted this morning from announcements of W. G. Poplin, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, and County Attorney Waggoner Carr.

Nineteen persons had been arrested and charged with violation of state liquor laws. At least two more are to be named.

Seventy - three additional charges, most of them naming those under arrest with additional infractions, will be filed, officials said.

Ask Enhanced Penalty

In addition, it was announced:

1. The enhanced penalty will be asked where it legally is applicable.

2. "Jail time" will be requested of juries that may try some of the cases.

3. At least two automobiles, one of them an expensive high-powered heavy 1949 model, will figure in separate suits asking their forfeiture to the state for engaging in alleged illegal transportation of spiritous liquors.

To Seek Injunctions

4. District court procedure will be invoked to enjoin defendants, or some of them, from trafficking in alcoholics in the future.

5. District court action will be resorted to in efforts to forfeit to the state all liquor seized in the raids.

6. And federal officials have indicated they will "have a man here today or Saturday" to bring charges by the government that no federal retail license to sell alcoholics is possessed by any of the defendants under state charge.

Most of the charges allege "sales," but some others accuse defendants of transportation or

Break In Rain Due For State

(By The Associated Press)

A definite break in Texas' spring rainstorms appeared in sight today.

In contrast with the daily hit-and-miss storms of more than a week, there were no reported storms of consequence last night or early today.

In fact, West Texas, the Panhandle and the South Plains had clear skies this morning. Elsewhere it was cloudy.

Heavy In North Texas

The heaviest rains last night fell along the Red river area of North Texas. Bonham reported 1.56 inches, with "much heavier" rainfalls to the north and east. Sherman reported 1.80 inches.

In the south half of Texas, there were lifht scattered rains around the San Antonio and Austin areas, and along the Gulf coast.

It was nothing like the torrential rains which almost daily have bludgeoned the state, setting streams to flooding and keeping farmers from their fields. Nor were there reports of new hailstorms such as hit West Texas Wednesday night and early yesterday.

Although the heavy rains may be ended, there were still floods to deal with.

Guadalupe Is Rising

The swollen Guadalupe river in South Texas rose toward a predicted 28-foot stage at Victoria—seven feet above flood stage.

But there was little excitement there, because all communities

Extra Billion Promised For Cash Lending

Amount Required In Reserves Will Be Pared Down

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 29—Effective next week, the 7,000 banks of the Federal Reserve system will have an extra $1,200,000,000 available for lending.

Financial experts said today that is enough to give the lagging economy a powerful "shot in the arm"—provided bankers and potential borrowers want to take risks.

CREDIT IS EASED

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — The Federal Housing administration today eliminiated the requirement that persons borrowing for home repair and modernization put up 10 per cent of the job costs in cash. The 10 per cent "cash down payment" on modernization and repair loans obtained from private lenders under FHA guarantee had been in effect since April 20 last year. FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards, said the elimination of the down payment requirement is effective immediately.

A Federal Reserve board order was responsible. It empowers the banks to lend the money by cutting $1,200,000,000 off the amount they were required to have in non-lendable reserves.

Motive Made Plain

The motive of making lending easier was made plain. The board itself, in announcing the order last night, stressed that loans by these banks have dropped $1,500,000,000 since the start of this year.

An increase in loans—notably loans to business, which have fallen farther and faster in 1949 than any year on record—would counter recent deflationary effects reflected in lower prices, production, sales and employment.

The availability of the extra funds—more than double the total lendable funds on hand at these banks as of Wednesday—is expected to give lenders a "psychological" lift, affording them a bigger cash margin and an incentive to get a return on the money.

There Is No Certainty

Nevertheless, there was no certainty about the ultimate effects of the action because business decisions on whether to borrow depend finally on prospects for profits.

The $1,200,000,000 to be "unfrozen" for lending next week, however, is only about two-thirds of the amount the board 'froze' into reserves last September 8 in a move against the inflation pre-

Cleanup Drive Set Saturday

Everything was announced in readiness today for the start Saturday of the biggest cleanup, paintup, fixup campaign in Lubbock since the prewar years.

The opening event will be a paint "blitz" on the Milam Home for Children at 10 a. m. and Ernest St. Clair, general campaign chairman, extends an invitation to everyone interested to be present.

Painters To Help

The home is at 3800 Avenue H and can be reached most easily by which leads into Highway 87—more commonly known as the Tahoka highway.

The home is a brick structure about 400 feet west of the highway and can be recognized by the scaffolding which has been erected and upon which the painters will work.

W. R. Dean, chairman of arrangements for the blitz, said he expects about 100 painters, all members of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers local 342, to participate and to finish the entire job in 30 to 50 minutes. Supplies have been donated by member firms of Lubbock chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America and Associated Dealers.

Ceremonies Scheduled

Ceremonies preceding the start of the blitz are scheduled to begin at 9:45 and everyone, especially the painters, has been requested to be present by that time. St. Clair and City Manager Steve Matthews will speak briefly. Dean then will take charge and, at 10 a. m., will give the signal for the start of work.

The 25th anniversary of the founding of the Milam home will be observed next September. It has been in its present location 12 years. Care now is provided there for 29 children, ranging in ages from 1 to 15 years.

Mrs. Milam said it probably will be impractical, for at least two reasons, to permit visitors to inspect the home during or after the blitz. One of the reasons is the expected confusion. The other is that several of the children have measles.

But she said that plans are be-

It also called for the government of the United States to "take immediate steps to prevent Stalin from controlling China and should cease to throw away all that was won for us by our men who fought and died in the Pacific."

The ultimatums were made in a resolution adopted unanimously by the House. The resolution must go to the Senate for concurrence.

Allies And Russia Will Face Troubles On Full Agreement

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP) Diplomatic authorities said today that great difficulties lie in the way of full agreement between Russia and the western powers on the unification and joint control of all Germany.

They took this view despite hope for an early end to the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Official statements, including Secretary Acheson's speech in New York last night, are making it increasingly clear that without basic policy changes by Russia, the East-West split in Germany cannot be closed. So far, there is no evidence that such policy changes are in prospect.

Talks Only Preliminary

The talks held to date by American Ambassador Philip Jessup and Deputy Soviety Foreign Minister Jakob Malik are reported to have dealt only with the problem of lifting the blockade and arranging a meeting of the council of foreign ministers—but not with what the foreign ministers might accomplish.

The fact is that Washington officials regard the possible meeting as a testing ground of the ability of Russia and the American-British-French bloc to reach any constructive agreement. Possible abolition of the blockade is anticipated here as a western victory in a single battle of a continuing cold war.

Insofar as the opportunity for Russia and the western powers to meet is concerned, the lifting of the blockade would restore the Soviets sought to isolate Berlin.

May Drop The Pistol

At that time the western powers served notice they would not negotiate so long as the Russians held a pistol to their heads; now the Russians may be ready to lay the pistol down.

Meanwhile a new situation has been created within the western bloc and Acheson in his speech to the American Newspaper Publishers association in New York last night blamed this squarely on Russia.

He said the Russians had sought economic and political control of Germany in the early postwar period and had refused to make reasonable agreements for the future of a Democratic German state, so the western powers went ahead with their own plans.

As a result they have spelled out in detail what kind of Germany they want to rebuild. In any future council of foreign ministers session, therefore, it will be for the Russians to decide whether they will unify Germany along the lines laid down by the western powers or whether they would prefer that Germany remain split indefinitely.

To Continue Program

Acheson emphasized that the United States is prepared to deal with either alternative and if no agreement can be reached with the Russians this country "will continue to lend vigorous support to the development of the western German program.

At the same time he expressed the intention of the United States to do what it can to reach a satisfactory solution. Presumably he is prepared to make relatively minor modifications in the western German plans if the Russians seem sincerely anxious to adapt those arrangements to the whole of Germany.

The New York Times said today an authoritative source has disclosed that the United States and Britain will propose merger of the Soviet zone in Germany with the proposed west German republic. The story, datelined Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters of the United Nations, said the proposal is to be advanced at the proposed big 4 meeting. It said France has not agreed to it.

Traditional Phone "Hello" Disappearing In Official Washington, Writer Reports

BY HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29 — I got wind of the fact the New York phone company has started a campaign to take the "hello" out of telephoning.

Some efficiency expert up that way figured that to say "hello" and mumble about "who's this?" averages about six seconds per call.

All this sent me on a mighty mission — to see the Chesapeake & Potomac people who serve the capital area.

Gray-haired, friendly Bob Davidson, the middle man between the "hello" girl and the public as far as Washington phones go, kind of laughed when he heard about what is going on in the Bronx, Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Bell Gets "Assist"

Bob is polite and didn't use the word "joiks."

"It would take a generation or ten to re-educate the people to stop saying 'hello' when they answer the phone," he said.

Bob, who used to be a newspaperman himself and still says "A" as in Adam and "B" as in Boston when spelling out a word to you over the phone, dragged out a replica of one of Alexander Graham Bell's first talk-machines.

"After all Mr. Bell gets an assist for the word, 'hello,' doesn't he?"

All of this was very interesting. But I decided to do a little research on my own—at five cents a call.

Few Say Hello

I didn't get many "hellos."

I called the Navy department and asked for extension so-and-so.

A pretty voice answered and without a single "hello" said:

"This is the office of naval research, assistant chief of patents and patent counsel for the Navy. Miss Harrison speaking."

Next I dialed Republic 4142, the Department of Agriculture, and asked for an extension number. A sweet young thing said:

"This is the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, pink bollworm control department. Miss Loftus speaking."

Bound to find a "hello" some place in town, I called one of the Latin American embassies.

Mother Last Resort

"Si."

That was all I got.

I called the French embassy. I asked for the 4th secretary.

"Oui. De la part de qui?" (Yes who's calling?)

Then I called the Spanish embassy and the operator said:

"Un momento." (One minute).

The Argentine embassy always answers "embajada Argentina," which, of course, means Argentine embassy.

A call to the Russian embassy brought a "yes," a moment of complete silence and then a lot of mumbo-jumbo — one Russian talking to another through a handkerchief (or so it sounded). Then:

"No comment."

I was getting a little sore, so I called mama. She said "hello."

Senators Tackle Plan To Give Schools Better Health Service

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29 — What about the health of the 29,000,000 children between the ages of 5 and 17 in this country?

If they have physical defects that are found and treated they can grow into healthy men and women. Otherwise, their lives are marred.

The Senate today tackles, and is expected to approve, a bill giving the states $35,000,000 to help them set up child health programs.

This won't become law, of course, unless the House also approves it at some later date in this session.

But this is the thinking of the senators—a number of Democrats and Republicans—who have combined to push the bill.

7½ Million Need Care

They figure in this country there are perhaps 7½ million children with bad tonsils or adenoids; 4,000,000 with eye defects; 1,000,000 with ear defects; 500,000 with rheumatic fever; 200,000 with epilepsy; and 500,000 with other ailments.

In making a report on the bill, the senators say it has been estimated that 75 per cent of all school children need some dental care.

Periodic health examinations are needed to discover their ills and get them treatment so their trouble can be cured or checked.

About 36 of the 48 states now provide medical examinations or inspections of their school children.

In some of the states there are examinations every year, in some only every three or four years.

The health services for school children vary widely in thoroughness and effectiveness. Why?

Not Enough Money

Not enough money in some states to do a good or better job. This is true in most of the states, the senators report They say:

In many areas and particularly those with low incomes and large numbers of children, the "prevailing school health programs, if any, are grossly inadequate."

Well, what can be done about it? The senators want the states to develop programs to give examinations in all schools, public and parochial, where it can be done at reasonable cost.

And, further, they want the states to provide treatment for free for mental and physical ills whenever the parents can't afford to pay.

(In World war II. selective service records show, about 5,000,000 men—about 30 per cent of all those examined—were physically, mentally or emotionally unable to meet the standards of the armed forces.)

States Put Up Money

How would the money be spent?

To get te full $35,000,000 provided for under this bill, the states would have to put up at least $25,000,000 of their own money.

Not all states would receive the same amount of government help.

The richer ones. better able to afford good health programs, would receive a smaller percentage of government money than the poor ones.

For example: the richest states would have to match the government money given them dollar for dollar. This would be a 50-50 arrangement.

But the federal government would put up $3 for every $1 in the poorest states This would be a 75-25 arrangement.

After finishing this child health bill, the senate expects to consider and pass a bill giving $300,000,000 a year of government money to help the states do a better job of educating their children.

The Swedish Government is reported favoring building of schools, hospitals and public buildings at the expense of private housing.

MEET THE MANAGER—A. L. Kornfeld, manager of Central Pipe and Supply company, was born at Ely, Minn., Sept. 24, 1897. When he was a boy his family moved to Marietta, Ohio, and he was educated in the public schools, high school and business college there. He then went to Washington, D. C., where he worked for the Interstate Commerce commission for several years and attended George Washington university at night. In 1929 he went to Tulsa, where he was engaged in the oil well supply business with his father for several years. In 1925 he came to Texas as district manager for Taubman Supply corporation. He was headquartered in Dallas, San Antonio and Houston, covering Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana. In 1936 he became district manager for Bethlehem Supply corporation in Houston and San Antonio, a post he held until 1938. In 1939, having visited Lubbock and "fallen in love" with it, he established his own business here as Central Pipe and Supply company. Mr. Kornfeld is a member of Congregation Shaareth Israel and B'Nai Brith. He is a 32nd degree Mason and a Shrine member. During the war he served as area chairman of the National Jewish Welfare board, serving all creeds. Although swimming is his favorite sport, he likes baseball and golf. He was a member of Red Cross lifesaving crews in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Kornfeld and one son, Julian, 14, a high school sophomore, live at 2003 Thirty-first. (Staff Photo.)

City Official At Wichita Quits Job

WICHITA FALLS, April 29. (AP)—Another city official has quit his job here.

Alderman John C. Coffey resigned from the city council yesterday.

The council refused to accept Coffey's resignation. But he insisted he would attend the next council meeting as a member of the audience.

"I regret that I am not in position to give the required time necessary to serve," Coffey said. He was one of four holdover members.

The new council first met April 11. Since then two city officers have resigned; two were asked to resign by the council, and the discharge of the police chief has been restrained by court order.

The council asked for the resignation of City Manager George Fairtrace and City Attorney Kearby Perry.

Fire Chief George O'Steen and Joe Ligon of the city engineer's office quit voluntarily.

The council discharged Police Chief Chris Jensen, but he obtained a court order restraining the council.

Jensen has been the center of a political issue for a year. He discharged night Police Captain Ed McDonald for "insubordination." The old city council upheld the discharge. It was an issue in the recent election.

School Heads Named At Church Conclave

WACO, April 29. —Delegates to the Texas Christian Churches convention here named three new members to the board of trustees of Brite College of Bible at Texas Christian university at the closing business session Thursday.

Later, the four-day convention wound up with a mass communion service, attended by more than 1,000 persons.

The new board members are Judge Tom Beauchamp, of Austin, Elmer D. Henson, Houston, and Douglas Tomlinson, Fort Worth.

The convention voted to hold next year's convention in San Antonio.

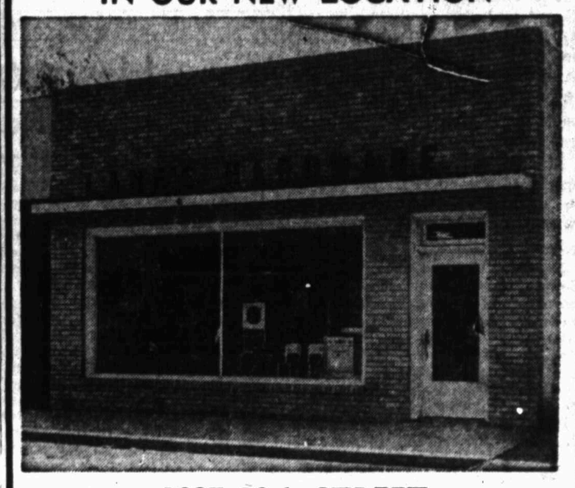

Harry Byrd Kline, Dallas, was re-elected president of the Layman's League. Dr. Colby D. Hall was named chairman of the Texas Christian Missionary society board of trustees.

At the woman's auxiliary meeting, Mrs. Ben F. Hearn, Jacksonville, was re-elected president.

FACE-SAVING — Wearing his headsman's mask, Gustov Voelpel, 48, Berlin executioner who claims to have chopped off 30 heads since the end of the war, sits in a police station after being arrested for robbery. He denied robbing an invalid but admitted, however, he'd been forced to seek a side-line recently due to a slowdown in the head-chopping business. "At 1000 marks a head," he said, "I can hardly make ends meet."

New Light Falls On Elevator Etiquette

Ladies-First In Elevators Is Nice, But It Fouls Things Up

NEW YORK, April 29 (U.P.)—Men in elevators are too polite. They ought to keep their hats on.

Also, they should quit standing aside to let women behind them ooze out of the car first.

Their intentions are honorable, but they tend to foul up the works. That's the opinion delivered by women who ride in elevators.

The Otis Elevator company has announced the results of a study made to find out how to improve elevator service. The company hired two research outfits to survey elevator passengers' ideas about the habits of other elevator passengers.

The women surveyed said that removing of hats by men and letting women off first are nice gestures but have no place in the hurly-burly of modern business elevators.

Slows Up Works

They said the women-first business slows up the service. Holding hats in hand takes up valuable room.

Also, they said, it's probably not good for the hats.

All elevator riders, the survey showed, have a common hanker—to get to their floors as fast as possible. And they don't like:

Carriers of lighted cigarets, cigars, and strong pipes.

Elbowers, shovers and people who wait until they get in the elevator to put overcoats on.

People in the back of a crowded car who want to get off at the second floor.

People who stand in a reverie when the elevator reaches their floor and have to be told where they are.

Girl Wonders If New In-Laws Should Be Entitled To Vacation In Her Apartment

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: George and I are to be married early in May. We have been so fortunate as to find an apartment, which we have furnished gradually, and George has been living there of recent months.

George's parents, who live in New England, will come here for the wedding and stay at a hotel until the wedding is over. Although they haven't said so directly, and we haven't suggested it, they have intimated that they would like to spend an extra week here, staying in our apartment while we are on our honey moon.

They haven't literally invited themselves, but have let us know what is on their mind; and yesterday George asked me if they could stay there. I told him I want to be the first person (besides him) to live in that apartment.

GIRL FEELS IDEA IS PRESUMPTUOUS

I WANT the thrill of coming back from our honeymoon and feeling the newness of my home, linens, china and other gifts that of necessity would be used by them, if they stayed there. After we have lived there, if they should want to visit, fine; but until then, no. George says he understands my feeling, respects it, and it shall be so.

Is my attitude unreasonable? Even though George says he understands, I am sure he must be a little hurt. If I am wrong, please tell me. If I am right, please tell me how we can manage the awkward situation without hurting his parents. I believe they have been tactless and very nervy to have suggested such a thing. Please answer soon. (Signed) K. V.

GIRL'S ATTITUDE UNDULY SELFISH

DEAR K. V.: After some reflection, I have arrived at the opinion that your attitude is unduly selfish; and that, like all forms of picayune selfishness, it cheats the self of an extra dividend of happiness that might be derived from generous dealing.

It seems to me your sentimental argument about wanting to come back from the honeymoon to a brand-new home, as yet unbaptized by domestic usage, doesn't make sense, in view of the prosaic fact that George has been living in the apartment for some months—thus "of necessity" using some (at least) of its furnishings.

Further, I assume that George has met the rent since he moved in to act as caretaker of jointly accumulated equipment; an aspect of economics which (if you will split hairs) rather makes it "his" place—housing your gifts storage-free—and not "our apartment," until you cross the threshold as his wife, ready to settle in.

PARENTS' POINT SEEMS RATIONAL

THUS his parents' hopeful thought of spending a week in the apartment, before you arrive to take over, isn't too unseemly, all things considered. Since they will be coming a long distance, and wish to capitalize on the trip by spending an extra week in town; and since hotel rates and incidental expenses are an extravagant outlay for all but the rich, and since New Englanders are notably thrifty, their indirect bid has some rational point to it, I think.

Lastly, may I remind that considerate hospitality is the householder-spirit which blesses any home; also, that homecoming to a recently aired and dusted place, bearing evidence of appreciative welcome, seems preferable to unlocking the door on a stagnant atmosphere, where the "hollow" silence would be an instant, insidious and lingering reproach to your conscience—and a shadow across George's heart,—if you had denied his parents' entree while he was away.—M. H.

Oil Firm Will Make Changes

G. L. Maciula, Stanolind Pipe Line company engineer, will replace Hobart G. Mariner as the company's engineer in the West Texas division, C. E. Wilson, superintendent, announced today. Mariner was promoted to assistant superintendent of the Wyoming division and will assume his new post May 1.

The resignation of H. M. Hill, former superintendent of the Wyoming division, to accept a position as manager of the pipe line department of the Utah Oil refining Co. resulted in a chain of Stanolind Pipe Line company promotions. Hill was succeeded by Ray R. Strand, former district foreman at Casper, and Mariner was appointed his assistant, Wilson said.

Native Of Oklahoma

Maciula, a native of Bartlesville, Okla., is a graduate of Oklahoma A and M college where he took a BS in mechanical engineering in 1940. During the war he served as a civilian with the navy, specializing in the production of torpedoes.

On leaving the government post he joined Cities Service Oil company pipe line department at Ponca City, Okla. He was promoted to maintenance foreman before joining Stanolind Pipe Line company as an engineer in 1946. Advanced to mechanical engineer in 1947, Maciula recently was assigned the post or research and development engineer.

In 1942, Maciula married Miss Betty Irwin of Bartlesville. The couple has two children, John David, 4, and Judy, nine months old. Maciula plans to bring his family to Lubbock.

Mariner moved to Lubbock from Brownfield when area headquarters were established here in December, 1948. An engineering graduate of Kansas State College, he served in the civil engineering corps of the navy during the war and was in command of a construction battalion in the South Pacific. Before joining Stanolind, he was employed by the Phillips Petroleum company and the Lago Oil Corp., working for the latter company in South America. He was head of the hydraulics section of the Tulsa engineering department before becoming area engineer for West Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Mariner have one child. They will move from Lubbock to Casper to establish a home.

Stanolind Pipe Line company operates more than 380 miles of trunk line system in West Texas, gathering crude oil in several fields and transporting it to refineries in the midwest. The division is divided into three districts—Hendrick, Denver City and Slaughter.

Lubbock's Parking 'Misunderstanding' Brings Fine Refund

Refund checks will be mailed early next week to 62 persons who have paid $1 fines for all-night parking on residence streets Monday night, City Manager Steve Matthews said today.

They were among more than 500 persons whose cars were tagged during an unannounced drive by police. Many protests resulted.

An accompanying letter with the checks will explain the sudden activity apparently resulted from "well-intentioned misunderstanding" of instruction to police, the city manager said.

It will give further assurance, he added, that if enforcement of the all-night residential street parking ban should become practical and advisable, ample advance notice will be given.

The city manager also said he has begun an intensive search for some practical method of eliminating necessity for such parking without imposing unreasonable hardships upon those who lack any other place to leave cars.

Judgment Asked In Doggett Damage Suit

A 99th district court jury of which M. R. Hickman was foreman answered eight special issues Thursday afternoon in the damages action of C. H. and Helen Doggett against Berch Scott.

Based on the answers, which were given to Judge G. V. Pardue at 4 p.m., the Doggetts will move for judgment, James O. Cade, plaintiff's counsel said.

The jury found that the Doggetts, now storekeepers of the New Lynn community of Lynn, suffered $3,000 actual damages as result of an attachment sued out by Scott Nov. 20, and that they also are entitled to $4,000 exemplary damages. The sheriff, armed with the attachment, emptied the Doggetts' grocery shelves when the plaintiffs were in business at Shallowater, testimony had brought out.

Amount of the judgment would be affected by a $1,200 note the Doggetts confessed judgment on in the trial, as well as legal interest to be determined.

The action was a consolidation of two cases: That brought by Scott on the note, and that by the Doggetts for $12,000 in damages based upon the allegedly wrongful suing out of the attachment.

Rural Roads Get Priority On State Funds Before Schools

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP) — What's the use of a school program if you don't have roads the country kids can travel to get to school, the House asked yesterday.

"No use at all," a marjority of representatives decided.

So the House gave rural roads a priority on state revenue ahead of the school program, and then voted final passage of the last Gilmer-Aikin school bill, 114 to 23. The bill creates a minimum foundation fund from which to pay extra state aid to needy schools.

Amendment Offered

Rep. Fred Nieman was worried over the possibility the minimum foundation fund might use up so much state revenue there wouldn't be any left for the rural road fund created this session. He offered an amendment guaranteeing the road fund first crack at the revenue ahead of the schools.

Speaker Durwood Manford took the floor to champion the amendment and rural roads.

The rural road fund calls for allocation of 15 million dollars. The minimum foundation fund will require an estimated 60 million dollars or more — no one knows the exact amount.

Reps. Charles McClellan of Eagle Lake and W. O. Reed of Dallas said the amendment jeopardized the school program and created the strong possibility a new tax will be needed to insure that program.

Manford, who was accused by Rep. Leslie King of Vernon of having lobbied on the floor in an effort to force members to accept the amendment, left the chair to speak only as a representative, not as speaker of the House.

Should Keep Faith

"All the people of Texas have been told they were going to get 30 million dollars (each two years) for rural roads. I think this thing (the amendment) might be predicated on keeping faith with the people," Manford told a House that gave perhaps the closest attention accorded a member's speech this session.

He said it had been unforseeable when the rural road bill was passed that the enactment of the Gilmer-Aikin bills might jeopardize the rural road program.

"Frankly, this amendment might take some money from what the schools might get under the Gilmer-Aikin bill, but they will still get plenty of money to take adequate care of their needs," Manford continued.

He said the rural road program would "only amount to five or ten per cent of the amount spent on education."

"The people in my district are much more interested in a rural road program than they are in the Gilmer-Aikin program," he asserted.

Drunk Picks Wrong Place To Get Beer

DALLAS, April 29. (U.P.)—Policemen Thursday didn't need much proof of guilt of one man arrested for drunken driving.

At the police station the man refused to take a sobriety test. Then he plunked a quarter down on a desk and said:

"Gimme a bottle of beer, please."

New Diseases Are Attacking Flowers

WASHINGTON April 29 (AP)—Strange new plant diseases and a few unexpectedly troublesome old ones are attacking the nation's flowers.

They aren't doing the U. S. treasury much good, either.

Robert H. Ronald, an official of the Society of American florists, told a Senate committee Thursday that powerful viruses are killing off such plants as gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums.

And mildew, the ancient enemy of the rose, "is showing disregard for usual control measures," and "just running away with itself."

He asked the lawmakers to appropriate $50,000 for the bureau of plant industry so it can get started on research. So far, he said gloomily, "nothing has been turned up that has any effect at all."

Senator Russell (D-Ga) lent a sympathetic ear.

"Millions of dollars in taxes were lost last year through these flower diseases," he observed. "We'll have to do something for these people."

Expressway Plans Pushed By Dallas

AUSTIN, April 29. (U.P.)—Plans for a $25,000,000 expressway from Dallas to Fort Worth were inching closer to actuality today.

A seven-member delegation from Dallas county yesterday asked the state highway commission to determine by a survey the location for the expresway. Bob Clinger of Dallas, head of the group, said the county was ready to begin its share of the program.

Dewitt C. Greer, state highway engineer, told the group to consult with the city of Dallas and notify the commission when that city also was ready.

PAINT VET'S HOUSE—IN TWO AND A HALF MINUTES—The slap-slap of brushes sounded like machine-gun fire when these 96 workers painted a crippled war veteran's five-room house in a record-breaking two minutes and 32 seconds. The $20,000 home belongs to Bob Hoelzle, 23, crippled by Jap gunfire on Okinawa when he was 19. It was given the former Marine by fellow citizens of New Brunswick, N. J., in recognition of his war record. Hoelzle, seated at left in wheelchair, beside his fiancee, Frances Elaine Noll, watches the sweeping second hand of the big clock set up to time the painters. All volunteers, they were members of Local 834 (AFL) Painters and Decorators Union. House won't be completely finished until just before Hoelzle's marriage to Miss Noll, June 12.

Noted Game Hunter Is Granted Divorce

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—Mrs. Osa Johnson Getts who, with her first hurband, Martin Johnson, won fame as an explorer and big game hunter, was granted an uncontested divorce Thursday from Clark H. Getts, 55, New York City booking agent.

Mrs. Getts, 55-year-old author, charged her second husband deserted her Nov. 25, 1946, after a disagreement over management of her business. They were married secretly on April 29, 1939, she said, and on Feb. 3, 1941, the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York publicly solemnized the marriage.

Mrs. Getts was granted the use of her former name, Osa Johnson, by Judge Joseph A. Sabath. She also receives possession of $75,000 worth of furniture, antiques, and trophies and retains control of her lecturing corporation, Osa Johnson, Inc., with assets including 1,500,000 feet of movie films and 27,000 pictures and her book rights.

Her first husband was killed in 1937 in an airplane accident.

American and Panamianian capital will be represented in a new lumber, plywood and veneer company, equipped with modern machinery, soon to get under way in the Provinces of Panama and Chiriqui.

Dewey Is Nursing Desire For Another Shot At White House

ALBANY, N. Y., April 29. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who bit the dust twice in running for President, nurses a deep-down desire for another shot at the White House.

This came out today when an unimpeachable source thoroughly familiar with Dewey's views disclosed that the 1944 and 1948 Republican standard bearer, contrary to frequent reports, has not decided to return to private life when his gubernatorial term ends Dec. 31, 1950.

Neither has the governor decided to try to continue in public life beyond that date.

Mind Not Made Up

In short, he has not made up his mind. He won't until he has to.

Close friends insist—and Dewey does not deny—that the presidential bug still is in his system.

This, plus other evidence at hand, has led friends to conclude that Dewey now is more inclined than not toward extending his career as a public servant—with a view to being in good position should he ever get a new crack at the big prize of politics.

Dewey himself said after his defeat by President Truman that he did not intend again to seek the office. The governor, often tagged as a realist, still cannot see any real prospects of winning the GOP presidential nomination a third time—under foreseeable conditions. But he knows that conditions change, often radically and quickly.

Defeat Still Rankles

And those who know Dewey best report that:

1. His defeat last fall still rankles, and he longs for political revenge.

2. He likes public office, with its power and prestige—and limelight.

3. He is genuinely interested in government problems.

4. He has a fighting spirit that never really surrenders.

Before his second term as governor expires, the choice of two political paths leading to a continuation of his public career might be his—another term as chief executive of the Empire state or a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Either one, in the opinion of his admirers, under favorable circumstances could lead to a comeback on the national scene.

However, neither "problem" has arisen, and until it does he will not face it or discuss it publicly, it was learned authoritatively.

The governor sails next Thursday for a six-week European trip that could serve as a springboard for a bid for the Senate seat held by the aging Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

The term of Wagner, who has been ill for long time, expires at the end of next year. There have been recurring rumors that Wagner would resign before July 8, which would permit a contest for his seat in the general election next November. There also have been as many reports that he will stay on until the end of his term.

If Wagner quit after July 8, Dewey could resign as governor, and his successor, Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, could appoint him to succeed Wagner. Then Dewey presumably would be the GOP candidate in November, 1950, for a full six-year term.

Operation Of Berlin Airlift Has Cost U. S. $148,664,200

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Operation of the airlift into Berlin during the first ten months has cost the United States $148,664,200, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said today. There is talk now it may not be needed much longer, that the Russians may end their land blockade of Berlin.

Van Zandt, a member of the House armed services committee, provided figures for the congressional record showing this cost breakdown:

22 Fliers Killed

During the first 10 months Van Zandt said, 319 Air Force and Navy planes assigned to the operation completed 120,377 flights and carried more than 1,250,000 tons of food and supplies.

As of April 25, 1949, he said, 28 planes had been wrecked and 22 Air Force fliers killed.

In support of the airlift, he said, the U. S. Army of occupation spent, as of March 31, 1949, approximately $7,000,000 for food, supplies, transportation and other items.

Albuquerque Dukes Shade Hubbers, 8-6

Borger Edges Abilene, 9-8

(By The Associated Press)

Borger and Albuquerque continued a neck and neck race for West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league supremacy Thursday with the Texas club holding a bare edge.

Both racked up their fourth straight wins. Borger staved off a last-inning rally to edge Abilene 9 to 8. Albuquerque piled up a three-run fifth inning to take Lubbock 8 to 6.

At Clovis, the big and famous WT-NM bats started booming when the Pioneers ran wild with Pampa, banging out 24 hits for a 23 to 9 win. In the other game, Amarillo measured Lamesa 8 to 2.

Gassers Hold Lead

The Borger Gassers hold a percentage edge in league standings with .833 in five wins and one loss. Albuquerque's six wins and two losses give them a .750 standing.

All teams remain at their present locations for Friday games.

A fence busting triple by Shortstop Frank Okrie in the fifth gave the Albuquerque Dukes their fourth straight. Lubbock took the lead in the first half of the fifth when Manager Jackie Sullivan got on base by an error, stole second and scored on Jim Prince's single. In the bottom half of the frame, the Dukes loaded the bases with two walks and a single and, with only one down, Okrie bounced his triple off the fence to score all three.

Amarillo Gets Win

Darwin Dobbs' control pitching and two big blows by Paul Halter and Doug Lewis gave Amarillo's defending champion Gold Sox the win. Dobbs, hit hard in the early innings, choked the Loboes off with one single through the last five and didn't issue a base on balls.

The Clovis-Pampa tilt was the greatest scoring game of the season in the score-famous loop. Blanked in the first inning, the Pioneers chalked up three in the second, seven in the third, rested the next two and went back for more in the last three.

BILL GRAFTON SLATED TO HURL FOR HUBBERS

ALBUQUERQUE, April 29.—(Special)—Manager Jackie Sullivan probably will throw Bill Grafton, trounced 11-3 by the Dukes in Lubbock Monday, against the same club here tonight.

For Albuquerque, Nino Barnese probably will do the chucking. The former California star did the pitching in the game Grafton lost.

Sullivan changed his line up here last night in an effort to put more punch into it and to give better infield protection. He sent Nelson Davis back to third base, where he was originally, and shifted Buddy McCallum to short from third.

Mike Dooley, light-hitting Hubber catcher, was dropped in the lineup and his place was taken by Davis. The rearranged order still managed only seven hits off Marv Christiansen, who pitched a tight game.

Meanwhile, the Dukes hit Cotton Russell hard and he was removed in favor of Royce Mills. But Mills couldn't live up to the task, the Dukes punching over the winning runs at his expense and handing him his second setback of the season. Thus Mills, who won 16 and lost only three last year, is within one game of losing as many as he did all last season.

Tech Netters Battle Lobos

Texas Tech and New Mexico tennis teams were scheduled to play team matches on the tennis courts at Tech this afternoon, with the visiting Lobos not given much chance of winning.

The Red Raider second team won an easy victory over the Lobo netters last week at Albuquerque, while the first four Raider players were on a swing against Texas, Houston and the River Oaks tournament at Houston.

A four-man team was being brought here by Coach Joe Palia and the return of David Ong should make the Lobos stronger. Ong, No. 4 netter, has recovered from a recent illness and his return was hailed by Palaia.

Tech Well-Balanced

Members of the Lobo squad coming here will be Johnny Allen of Amarillo, No. 1; Carl Webb, No. 2; Bob Kayne, No. 3; and Ong. So far they have lost matches to the University of Arizona and Arizona State college of Tempe.

Tech sends a well-balanced team against the invaders, with Jake Broyles and Glenn Ivy heading the Raider players. Broyles for two years has been eliminated in the Border Conference title play by the man who went on to win. This year he has his sights set on avoiding this elimination.

Broyles and Ivy form a good one-two punch for the Raiders and they will have support from Carl Schmidt, Eddie Scudday, David Hester and Jack Prentiss.

Squad Should Win

This squad should hurdle New Mexico without being extended too much, after the way the second team handled them in their match. But following the Lobos will come one of the stronger tennis teams in the Border loop.

Texas Mines sends its netters to Lubbock Saturday for a dual meet and the Miners will have a full squad. Their top man is Rodolfo Gonzales, with the others, in order, Bill Fairley, Sam Kobren, Eddie Wilkerson and Willie Baldwin.

Mines holds victories over New Mexico and New Mexico Aggies in matches so far.

Texas Longhorns To Test Baylor Today

(By The Associated Press)

Everybody is in action today as the Southwest conference baseball race moves into the second half of play.

The undefeated University of Texas Longhorns face the strong Baylor Bears in the top game. These two clubs open a two-game series at Waco.

Yesterday, Rice won its first conference game by thumping Texas Christian university, 14-7. The A. and M.-Southern Methodist tilt was rained out.

Rice and Texas Christian meet again today at Houston and Texas A. and M. and Southern Methadist have a doubleheader scheduled at College Station.

Wet Track Cancels Meet Here Saturday

A five-team track meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Texas Tech was called off yesterday, when officials examined the track and found it too waterlogged to permit first class cinder work.

The schools expected here to participate in the meet were New Mexico, Texas Mines, Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State Teachers college and Tech.

Williams' Homer Paces Attack; Bosox Invade New York Today

BY JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

American league pitchers, beware! Ted Williams has found the home run range.

While rookies Johnny Groth and Jack Graham and teammate Vern Stephens battered the fences, Teddy had to be content with singles and doubles. Now he's back in the groove.

Williams had a big day yesterday with his first homer, a single and three walks for a perfect day against Philadelphia. He drove in five runs during the afternoon's festivities at friendly Fenway park.

Sox Drub A's

Led by Williams, the Sox thumped the A's, 12-5, for a clean sweep of the two-game set. Now they move on to New York for an important series with the Yankees. It was the fourth straight loss for the A's.

Manager Joe McCarthy found encouragement in the pitching of Mickey Harris, making his first start of the season. The 31-year-old lefthander allowed only three hits up to the seventh, although the A's final total was 11.

The Yanks warmed up for the Boston series by downing Washington, 6-2, behind Ed Lopat. The chunky lefthander, supposedly a slow starter in the spring and a great hot weather pitcher, now has won three straight.

Rookies Dick Kryhoski, with two singles and a triple, and Gene Woodling with a single and triple, led the attack on Rae Scarborough for the Yanks' eighth win in 10 starts.

Groth Gets Homer

Groth and Graham each hit their fourth home runs as the St. Louis Browns whipped Detroit, 9-6. Groth got hits with the bases loaded, his second grand slam, to send the Tigers out front in the third inning. Although the 22-year-old Johnny drove in five runs and stretched his season-long consecutive game hitting streak to nine games, it wasn't enough.

The Brownies pounded four Detroit pitchers, including loser Saul Rogovin, for 15 hits and a sweep of the two-game set. Graham smashed his homer with nobody on in the second.

Cleveland and Chicago were not scheduled, giving player-manager Lou Boudreau of the Tribe another day to rest after being hit on the elbow by a pitched ball.

Both Stan Rojek of the Pittsburgh Pirates, hit on the head at St. Louis Wednesday night, and Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves, injured at Philadelphia Wednesday, were out of action yesterday.

Pete Castiglione filled in for Rojek, getting three hits, as the Pirates lost to the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2. Alpha Brazle, ace of the Card staff at the moment, copped his second straight. The lefty set down the Pirates with eight hits.

Murtaugh Is Injured

The Pirates lost another infield regular when Danny Murtaugh twisted his ankle and had to be helped off the field in the sixth inning. He said later it was not serious.

Elliott's place was taken by Connie Ryan, who contributed two hits in Boston's 6-1 romp over the Phillies. Vern Bickford allowed only three hits, all singles, in outpitching Jocko Thompson.

Brooklyn bombed the New York Giants, 15-2, moving into a first place tie with the Braves. While the Dodgers ripped the Giants pitchers to shreds, Ralph Branca doled out only four hits for his third straight win. Branca was in trouble in the early innings due to wildness, but escaped disaster.

An eight-run blast in the sixth inning, including a pair of homers by Mike McCormick and Roy Campanella, each with two on, did the trick.

It was after this humiliating defeat by the team he used to manage, that Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants got into an altercation with a Brooklyn fan.

Ken Raffensberger, Cincinnati's crafty southpaw veteran, shut out the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, with seven hits. Johnny Wyrostek, on a hitting spree, scored both runs. Walt Dubiel was the Chicago loser.

GOLF FAVORITES WIN

DALLAS, April 29 (AP) — The Texas schoolboy golf championship enters its second round here today with the favorites, Medalist Johnny Powell and former titlist Bernard Reviere, still in the running.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

In the mail this week are a great many record books. They are going to members of the press and radio, softball officials of both the American Softball Association and National Softball Congress, managers of teams in this country and Canada and to anyone else of interest. They are bound in a white, glossy cover overprinted in red and black, as attractive as any we've seen in a long time. At the top they advertize that "Softball is faster in the Texas League." Following that blurb is a picture of a minature umpire, his dignity untouched by a player holding a bat menacingly in one hand and a player, obviously the manager, unloading a stream of invective.

A large initial T contains the wording "Texas Softball League, Inc." It is a first edition and sells for 25 cents. Genius behind the record book is Ralph Bumpass, who is vice president of the TSL. Ralph proposed the record book at a winter meeting and it was adopted immediately. There is considerable advertising in it, with Lubbock firms the principal advertisers. On page two is a table of contents, on page three is a forward by Hugh Welch, president, and on page four are the officers. From that point on there are the standings for last year, league team statistics, pitching records, batting records, pictures of the 1948 all-stars, the 1949 schedule, posters of each team, pictures of various players and the constitution and by-laws of the league.

It's a neat booklet and one that any sportswriter interested in the TSL should have. In fact, it's a must on any sports staff in Lubbock, San Angelo, Odessa, Abilene or any of the other TSL points. The booklet was mailed personally to each writer and radio man, insuring him of a ready reference book. And with the season opening Saturday night, we're mighty happy to have it.

As we just said, the season opens Saturday night in the Texas Softball League and Lubbock will be host to the visiting Maurice Shop nine of San Angelo. Opposing the San Angelo nine will be the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamer Laundry team, defending league champions. Last year the local laundry nine went through the season with 27 victories against five defeats to win by 10 games. That's a wide margin in a 32-game season. They did it not only because they had fine pitching, but also because they hit and fielded well. Moreover, the team exhibited hustle all season and that, combined with a well-balanced team, brought them victory.

It may be that they will not win as many games this year, but we guarantee that they'll be hustling all the time. They will have steady hurling from Stringbean Pope and G. W. Warden; they will have hefty hitting from Roy Butler, Warden and Willis James; they will have the usual good work in the outfield and infield. All in all, it looks like a good year. Softball, like any other sport, though, is precarious. You may be up on top one year and the next year you may stumble and fall down. So long as the Bumpass family is running the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers, we don't look for them to finish in anything except the first division.

Incidentally, you can still buy season tickets to the games and we'd advise you to do just that. You actually won't be saving anything on the season, but you'll avoid having to pay 50 cents each time you go to a doubleheader. A book of tickets is selling for only $3.00, cheap enough to see really good, fast softball throughout the summer. Moreover, 20 per cent of the total advance season ticket sale will go to the Lubbock Boys club. That's worthwhile in itself, to say nothing of giving you a chance to see all the games.

We expect to see several of the softball games this summer. It's our person

Playing Out Of A Bunker Is "Easy" With The Right Club

By BEN HOGAN
CHAPTER VIII

BUNKER SHOTS ARE EASY

Playing out of a bunker or trap became so easy for Gene Sarazen when he was competing in tournaments regularly that it was always suspected that he deliberately played into them when he was ahead in order to give the gallery the thrill of watching him get out. This is one of the easiest shots in golf, but most beginners are terrified at the idea of having to play out of a bunker. I can't understand why they should be because it is a shot which allows more of a margin of error than any other.

You don't even have to hit the ball on a short bunker shot. All you have to do is to hit the sand behind the ball. Of course, it must be done properly, but it isn't hard to do with the sand wedge we use today.

Let's discuss short bunker shots first. To simplify the short bunker shot use a sand wedge with as much flange as possible. The ideal club for this shot is a sand wedge of the type favored by the tournament professionals. The ordinary nine iron digs too deeply into the sand.

The sand wedge I mean is a heavy club, deeply lofted, with a large amount of clubface surface and a large flange which prevents the club from digging too deeply. If you use this kind of a sand wedge start the shot with the idea in mind that you are going to let the club do the job. By that I mean that you are going to swing it, not scoop it. These clubs are so heavy that they will practically swing themselves if you let them.

Full Swing Shot

On bunker shots assume the same tripod position you take on any other full swing shot. The stance, however, is opened considerably and your hips are facing to the left.

Make sure that you are loose and easy and under no obvious strain. It is very important, however, for your feet to be well anchored on this shot, otherwise they may slip in the sand.

Plant your feet firmly in the sand and then wiggle them around to make sure that you are solidly placed. While you are wiggling them around to secure good footing take notice of the firmness and texture of the sand. This knowledge will help you to decide how the shot should be played.

Of course, there is a penalty for touching the sand or soling the club at address, but aim approximately one inch back of the ball for most bunker shots. As you do this size up the terrain between the trap and the flag. If you can't see it from where you are standing at the ball take the time to climb out of the trap and look it over.

The clubface is open as you address the ball. Your hands are out in front. You are now ready to explode the ball out of the bunker or trap on all shots on which you can reach the green with the explosion shot.

In taking the club back on the backswing break your wrists early. The idea is to let the club up fairly abruptly because it is necessary to hit down into the sand on the downswing until the clubface digs into the sand behind the ball. In spite of this, however, the bunker shot is made with a full swing, not a scoop, as the flange will prevent the clubface from digging into the sand too deeply.

As you break the wrists on the backswing, take the club back slightly on the outside of the line of flight you plan. Use a long backswing because it must make a smooth trajectory with the club, not a jerky one.

Start the club down from the top the same as on all other shots. The hips start turning first to bring you down into the hitting position. With the club on the outside hit down across the line, making sure that the clubface is open. The club bites into the sand approximately one inch behind the ball and goes on through to the finish with the clubface still open.

Follow Through Important

The follow through is highly important. Crossing over the hands or closing the face of the club during this shot will cause you to shank. Shanking is one of the most serious errors in golf.

Obviously, this shot requires a firm grip. But in spite of that don't tighten up.

On long bunker shots the stance and the address are the same as on short bunker shots, but there are two other very important differences in the way the shot is played.

The first of these two differences is in club selection. On short bunker shots I advocated using the heavy sand wedge, but on long bunker shots the club used will depend on the length of the shot required.

Rule To Remember

A good rule to remember is to always take one more club than you would from the same distance on the fairway. Hitting the sand will deaden the shot just about one club, sometimes two. What the difference will be will depend on whether the sand is heavy or light.

It is a good idea to determine the consistency of the sand in the bunkers while you are wiggling your feet around to make sure of your footing, just as it was on short bunker shots. There are no tips I can give you about learning how to recognize the consistency of the sand and its effect on the shot, or I would. After you have played a few shots out of the sand you should begin to have some idea of how to judge whether the ball comes out slow or fast.

Your problem on long bunker shots is not only to get out of the bunker, but also to get as much distance as possible. When the tournament professionals find themselves 200 to 250 yards from the green in a bunker they will often play the shot with a four-wood, but only when the lie is good. In using the four-wood, or any other wood for that matter, out of a bunker make sure that you hit the ball, not the sand behind it.

That is the second of the two differences in the way long and short bunker shots are played. Whether you use a wood or an iron you have to hit the ball first on long bunker shots in order to pick it up clean. I can't be too emphatic about this because it is very important on long bunker shots. As a consequence the ball has to be sitting up in the sand quite prominently before you can afford to take a chance with a wood club.

Tomorrow: Uphill And Downhill Shots.

Team Bowling Is Scheduled

Twenty-four more teams will bowl in the second week of the fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling league tournament which gets underway at 5 p. m. tomorrow at Lubbock Bowling club.

Three eight-team shifts will start the second week's activities in team bowling, with the first shift at 5 p. m., the second at 7:30, and the third at 10 p. m. Doubles and singles will be rolled Sunday from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Few top notch scores were turned in last week except in Class C team bowling. Pabst Blue Ribbon of Midland posted a 2,611 which will be hard to beat. Herring hotel of Amarillo leads Class A with 2,738 pins, and Santa Fe Rangers, Amarillo, is in the top spot in Class B with 2,457.

Lubbock Tops In Class B

The class B division has two Lubbock keglers in the controlling position in doubles with Ray Hooten and J. A. Peel turning in 1,100. C. D. Wickson and Allen Simmons, Lubbock, scored 1,018 to lead the Class C doubles. In Class A Jack West and Fred Grimes, Amarillo, totaled 1,154 to take command in that division.

Wickson also leads the Class C singles with 597. Charles Lyle, Amarillo, rolled 623 to hold the top spot in Class A and B. Helms holds the individual high in Class B with 595.

The tourney is sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal, and after this weekend one more week of kegling will remain. The schedule will be completed Sunday, May 8.

$3,000 Prize Money

Prize money will be awarded the top bowlers in each division, depending on the number of entries in each class, and approximately $3,000 in prize money will be distributed when the final scores are posted. The team, doubles, and singles winners will receive trophies, and the all-events winner will take home a trophy. The all-events is a special entry, and the score comes from the total scores in team, singles, and doubles games.

Towns represented this week are Monahans, Amarillo, Hobbs, N. M., Las Vegas, N. M., Clovis, N. M., Santa Fe, N. M., San Angelo and Lubbock.

Most of the Lubbock teams entered will participate this week. The Class A teams from here are Yellow Cab, Mission Orange, Walton's Men store, and Arthur Lay. In Class B are Plamor Lanes, Lubbock Bowling club, and Lester's Jewelry. No Class C teams will bowl this week.

Picnic Is Held For Westerner Lettermen

Westerner Lettermen, their parents, and dates were guests of the Westerner Mothers club last night at a picnic in MacKenzie state park.

The picnic was attended by approximately 150 persons, each bringing some part of the supper. The get-together is the last of the year and an annual affair.

DRAKE RELAYS OPEN

DES MOINES, April 29 (AP) — The 40th annual Drake Relays opened today with perfect weather for record breaking indicated. The two day track meet drew 1,876 athletes from 179 schools, 71 in the university and college divisions and the rest high schools.

Mexico expects to have television shows on the air by the end of this year.

Westerners To Bid For Win Saturday

A District 1-AA baseball tilt faces the Westerners tomorrow afternoon in Plainview, and a tough game is in prospect for the local nine. If Lubbock wins, the victory will clinch the south half championship of the district for the local schoolboys.

A muddy field Thursday shortened the workout of the squad and permitted only pepper practice, running, and throwing exercises.

Four district victories have been won by the Westerners to date, including a triple victory over Brownfield and one triumph over Plainview. Plainview has also taken a pair of games from the Brownfield Cubs.

Lubbock Needs Victory

With the south half district schedule completed except for a brace of games with Plainview, Lubbock is in a position to cinch the bottom bracket title with a victory over the Bulldogs in their game on tap Saturday at Plainview. Should the Bulldog nine upset the Westerners the game on May 3 would probably determine which team would play the winner of the north half of District One.

Westerner power at the plate has been obvious for its absence in the four district tilts that have gone into the record books despite the high scores.

Pitching Poor

In case Lubbock wins the south half of the district, it will be interesting to observe what the boys will do against better pitching that will face them in the playoff, because the pitching seen thus far in district competition has been anything but deceptive or fast.

Only two batters on the first team have averages above .300 in district play—Charles Galey and Morris Turner with .375. And over the full season only three who have been at bat more than 20 times boost .300 averages. Bob Brown, shortstop, has .355, Turner has .325, and Jessie Fullerton is hitting at a .309 clip.

Softball Tilt Set Saturday

The stage is all set in Lubbock for the official opening here Saturday night of the Texas Softball League, with the Maurice Shop nine of San Angelo tangling with the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam Laundry, defending league champions, at Jumbo Webster Field.

The doubleheader opens a 12-game home season for the laundrymen, who have their sights set on repeating as loop victors. But hoping to slam the door shut in their faces in the first game will be Bert Hester, Texas Tech student, who last year chucked for Ragsdale of San Angelo.

He will be opposed by Warren "Stringbean" Pope, also an outsider, who pitched for Odessa's Elks last year. The second game will bring together another pair of veterans. Boyd Reese, who pitched for Nathans of San Angelo last year, will be on the hill for the visitors and G. W. Warden, another Tech student, will hurl for the Sunbeamers.

Maurice Shop has such returning veterans as R. W. Bowman, who played for Stamford in 1949, at third base; David Bledsoe from last year's Ragsdale nine at first base; J. C. Gotcher, also a Ragsdale man last year, in the outfield; and Barnell Malish, a Ragsdale player, behind the bat.

The championship Lubbock team also has a host of veterans and some new players who also are veterans. Among them are Earl Ince, who played first base for Baldridge, and Jimmy Joe Reiger, who played outfield for Baldridge. Slim Norvell of Bryan and the University of Texas will be a utility outfielder and Robert Bagwell of Texas Tech, who played here in 1947, will be another utility outfielder.

Returning players from the championship nine include Jiggs Jackson, rightfielder; Roy Butler, leftfielder; Willis James, catcher; Dub Kuykendall, utility outfielder; Bryan Clark, second baseman; Jim Abbott, third baseman; Wally Fowler, first baseman; and Claude Spears, utility infielder.

Tickets for the game are on sale at both the Bluebonnet and Sunoeam Laundries, the College Avenue Drug store, dormitories at Texas Tech and at the ball park Saturday night. Prices will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for high school and college students and children under 12 free.

Band Contests On At Canyon

Two bands representing Lubbock junior high schools today were in Canyon for the Region One Interscholastic league band competition, as Lubbock Senior High school band members prepared for their performance tomorrow in Class AA-1 of the event.

More than 120 band members from Carroll Thompson and O. L. Slaton Junior High schools left today.

The 60-piece Senior High school band, directed by Paul M. Branon, will leave early Saturday.

Entered As Soloists

Approximately 25 of the Senior High bandsmen will compete as solo entries, and at least five ensembles are entered in group contest.

Competing against Amarillo and Pampa in Class AA-1, the entire band will present three concert numbers, "Marco Poco," "Raymond Overture," and "First Movement from Symphony in B Minor (No. 8)."

The Lubbock Senior High school marching band, under the direction of C. R. Dale, also will compete at Canyon.

Concert numbers in the competition are scheduled for Saturday afternoon, with the marching event set for Saturday night at Buffalo stadium.

Both the Carroll Thompson and O. L. Slaton Juniod High school bands were to play today for criticism only at the Canyon event, and not for rating.

To Return Tonight

The 47-piece Carroll Thompson band, directed by Frank Herring, left by bus this morning. It was scheduled to perform at 5 p.m. today, and to return to Lubbock by 8 p.m.

Two soloists of the band will compete in individual events. Wendell Spence, son of Mrs. Vada Spence of 1801 Eighteenth, will play a cornet solo. Don Elliott, son of Mrs. Elois Elliott of 2303 Thirteenth, will compete in the clarinet division.

Barbara McCune, niece of Mrs. Mamie I. Neal of 2212 Seventh, will be piano accompanist for both soloists.

Accompanying the Thompson group were Mr. and Mrs. Herring and Mrs. P. O. Smith, a chaperon.

Eighty-one members of the O. L. Slaton Junior High school band left by bus at noon. The band's performance at Canyon was scheduled for 4 p.m., and the group was to return to Lubbock at 11 p.m. Lannes Hope is director of the Slaton band.

McGee Trial

point to the acts of an insane man."

The state began the argument of their case at 10:11 after Judge Dan Blair read the charge to the 72nd District court jury. The charge contained 35 paragraphs and six possible verdicts that the jury can return.

The charge included an intricate explanation of the acceptance and meaning, under law, of the term insanity and the way in which the jury can arrive at a conclusion of insanity.

The court convened at 9:50 after some delay was experienced in checking and cross-checking the charge. After attorneys for both sides made their objections and the alterations were completed the judge started the reading.

More than 700 persons were jammed into the court room in the tense atmosphere that is prevailing in the final chapter of the trial.

"Case number 3379, the state of Texas versus Richard W. McGee," the charge read. McGee is charged with murder with malice aforethought to which he has entered the plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Penalties Are Listed

The penalties, according to charge which can be given in this case range from two years imprisonment to the electric chair depending on which one of the verdicts is rendered.

If the jury returns a verdict of guilty of murder with malice the penalty can be death, life imprisonment or any term of not less than two years.

The state has emphasized the points that a "man is considered sane until a preponderance of the evidence shows him to be insane."

The shooting was the culmination of a college love affair between McGee and Betty Jane Allston, 18, daughter of the slain man. McGee and Betty Jane met at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, in March of 1948 and began going "steady."

Argument Is Recounted

The two young people were together most of the time after they met. They had many parties and picnics, which included the families of each, they attended church together and visited in the homes of their parents.

Two nights before the shooting the girl's father advised the boy and girl that they should not consider plans for an early marriage but should wait until they had completed their schooling. Allston also told Richard that he had learned that a guardian had been appointed to administer his financial affairs.

"Anyone who is not competent to handle his own affairs can hardly take proper care of my daughter," Allston is reported to have told the boy.

This remark prompted McGee to anger and he shook his finger at Allston and said that "he didn't know so much about the matter." "Betty Janes and I are in love and are going to get married," McGee said, according to the testimony in the trial.

Two days later, while the Allston family was having lunch, McGee returned to their apartment at 2020 Fifth (Colonial Apartment). After a brief conversation in which Allston said he didn't care to talk to the boy, the fatal shot was fired.

The CAB proposed discontinuance of the Midland-Odessa service by American as an economy move, contending the carrier could operate more efficiently by non-stop flights from Fort Worth-Dallas to El Paso and by leaving short-haul business to Pioneer, a feeder airline.

A Braniff attorney told the examiner his company opposes the CAB's proposal to extend Pioneer's existing services to include a flight from Waco to Austin.

Verner said it probably would be six weeks or more before a hearing on all the proposed changes will be held.

Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland college at Plainview, spoke at Thursday night's session of the conference.

Responsibility On People

Dr. Marshall said in his speech that the responsibility for international education does not rest primarily upon Congress or upon representatives of the United States government throughout the world, but upon the people of every area and in every walk of life. He asserted that, "God is expecting all of us to do the best we can in educating for world peace." He reminded listeners of the turbulent times in which they are living and said that, "if Christian youth could give one-tenth as much as the Nazis gave the educate their youth for war, what an impact, it would make on the world."

In Thursday afternoon's general session, Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Technological college, had expressed a need to return to the disciplinary system of education rather than the "play way" of making everything pleasant. He said he was not referring to discipline in the sense of punishment but rather in the sense of thinking a problem over and coming out with the right answer, in the sense in which a musician disciplines himself in practicing, in the sense in which an athlete adheres to training rules.

Feb. 11, Mrs. Martin returned and demanded to know where her husband was, the complaint stated.

Informed that Martin was not at the Bauer home, Mrs. Martin allegedly demanded that the girl accompany her and her maid to look for her husband.

The girl was driven to a lonely road several miles from Munich, the complaint said, and was beaten, stripped of her clothing, and had the lower portions of her body doused with raw lysol.

Miss Bauer's hair was clipped close to the scale, the complaint said, and Mrs. Martin took pictures of her husband and rammed them down the girl's throat. The pictures later were found in the Bauer gril's purse.

German physicians reported that Miss Bauer was recovering. But they said that her injuries were such that they might make Mrs. Martin liable to prosecution under a German criminal statute relating to permanent loss of bodily function, including that of procreation.

Poplin told newsmen that, "We can seriously dent bootlegging activities here and in this 23-county district if the public will cooperate by giving us what information it has as to bootleggers and their operations — and if court juries will stay with us and vote punishment in keeping with the enormity of offenses."

Press Congress

dent of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city.

The first speech of the congress was made by Johnson. Johnson, who has been chief photographer for the Daily Oklahoman since 1946, told delegates he was here to "urge future newspaper men to not under-estimate the value of a good photographer."

He gave pointers to students who planned to go into newspaper photography and told them never to forget how important a service they could give to the newspaper. He closed with remarks on the important advances photo-journalism was making.

Gives Advice To Students

Johnson was followed by Miss Stephenson. She has been writing the daily column, "Mirrors of Washington" for several years. Miss Stephenson discussed how a student should go about breaking into the newspaper field. She told delegates they should "do something you know about."

Miss Stephenson closed with a description of the inauguration of President Truman and she told of the workings of the press on that event. She was introduced by Mrs. Louise Allen of the Tech journalism department.

Prof. Horne then introduced Charles A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal who in turn introduced the next speaker, Kirschten. In introducing Kirschten, Guy said he was in truth a "newspaperman's newspaperman."

Editorial Value Stressed

Kirschten spoke about the value of the editorial page to a newspaper and told of problem of attracting readers to that page in the paper. He said the small paper has a better chance to change its editorial page to suit their readers. In telling of the points of a good editorial, Kirschten said it first should be written for the adult reader.

"Good editorials are a matter of good taste and good judgment," he declared. In closing his talk Kirschten stated "the newspaper, especially the editorial page, is an integral part of our great American heritage." He also touched briefly on some of the editorial campaigns his paper was carrying on.

Following his lecture the congress adjourned until 2 p. m.

He was also on hand when Rudolph Hess parachuted into Scotland in 1943.

The next address will be by Ward C. Mayborn, publisher of The Sherman Democrat, at 10:10 a. m. He will speak on, "Working Together." Mayborn has worked with various newspaper chains including Scripps-Howard and Hearst for the past 29 years.

Question Period Set

White is a graduate of Texas Tech and has served in the newspaper field in many various ways. During the war he was chief of the press section of ETO headquarters in Paris.

The final address of the congress will be made by Dwight Allison. He has chosen "Doing Your Newspaper Job," as his subject. Allison has been managing editor of The San Antonio Light since 1929. Students will elect officers for the coming year and then adjourn.

In the faculty meeting, a round table on teaching problems will be held. Dr. Casey will be co-ordinator. It will close with a selection of a meeting place for next year and election of officers.

vailing at that time.

"The present action," said Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe, "was taken in furtherance of the board's policy of adjusting all of its credit regulations in accordance with changing economic conditions and the credit requirements of the current business situation."

That pointed up the fact that the board also, in less than two months, has twice relaxed installment credit control terms, making them as easy as typical terms in uncontrolled prewar days, and also made credit easier to buyers of securities on the nation's stock exchanges.

But McCabe made clear that the board continues to back President Truman's request that Congress at least extend its present control powers, some of which expire June 30, even though it doesn't feel need to use them to the hilt at this time.

"We have frequently stated that credit regulations are not a one-way street," he said "They should be tightened or relaxed as general economic conditions require."

Labor Bill

Lesinski (D-Mich).

The President indicated to newsmen yesterday that only lawmakers who support the Democratic platform—including repeal of the Taft-Hartley law—can hope to have their choices named to federal offices in their districts.

Southerners Furious

The southerners at whom the comment was primarily aimed were furious. And Democratic leaders, who have been busy for weeks trying to line up votes for their Taft-Hartley repeal measure, acknowledged that Mr. Truman's statement hurt. One of them, asking not to be identified, said:

"He lost us some votes. We have had to go around and do over again some of the work we thought we had settled two days ago."

But this administration man and others stuck to their prediction that the substitute bill introduced by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) would be defeated.

Quick Vote Forecast

Some Democratic leaders expected a quick vote on this measure, which has the backing of Republicans. But others talked of calling a Saturday session. Otherwise the final vote on the administration bill might not come before next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Wood bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law in name, but would keep almost all of its provisions and even large chunks of its exact language.

The administration bill is sponsored in the House by labor committee Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich). It would replace the present law with a slightly altered version of the New Deal Wagner act.

The story had been on the news wires only a few minutes when Rep. Hebert (D-La) pitched it into the middle of the labor debate. He supported the States' Rights party's Thurmond-Wright ticket last fall.

Loud Cheers Heard

To the accompaniment of loud cheers and applause from the Republican side of the chamber, Hebert told the House Mr. Truman had "placed a patronage purchase tag" on votes for the Lesinski bill. Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) called it "the most contemptible conduct I have ever known."

Majority Floor Leader McCormack (D-Mass) immediately jumped on all Democrats who supported either Governor J. Strom Thurmond or Henry Wallace in 1948, declaring that they are "sitting by tolerance" with administration Democrats in Congress.

U.S. Aims For Fair Germany Solution, Acheson Pledges

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson pledged Thursday night the United States will leave no stone unturned, if four-power talks with Russia are resumed, to work out a settlement on Germany that is fair to all.

He promised there will be no bargaining away of rights and security of the 45 million Germans in the western occupation zones, or the rest of Europe.

Acheson, addressing the annual dinner of the American newspaper Publishers association, emphasized that the way still is open for four-power agreement on a united Germany. Steps taken by the U. S., Britain and France to found the proposed west German republic "did not mean that we had abandoned hope of a solution which would be applicable to Germany as a whole," he said.

Won't Wait Long Time

"It did mean that this government was not prepared to wait indefinitely for four-power agreement" after seeing conquered Germany threatened with "chaos" by disagreements with the Russians, he continued.

(The New York Times said an authoritative source has disclosed that, if four power talks resume, the United States and Britain will propose merger of the Soviet zone and the west German republic, to form a single German federal state. The Times said the proposal is designed to draw the teeth from Soviet maneuvers which the western powers expect. The Times reported France has not yet approved the proposal. The U. S., said the Times' dispatch from Lake Success, also will propose sharp reduction of all military occupation forces, but will not agree to an expected Russian proposal for complete withdrawal of occupation armies.)

U. S. Is Protector

West Germans, secretary Acheson declared, "may rest assured that this government will agree to no solution for Germany into which the basic safeguards and benefits of the existing western German arrangements would not be absorbed. They may rest assured that until such a solution can be achieved, this government will continue to lend vigorous support to the development of the western German program."

The United States wants Germans in due time to share the obligations and benefits enjoyed by the rest of western Europe, Acheson said, but this must depend largely on themselves. America wants to see an integrated German people, "or as large a part of them as possible" qualify for a place in "a new common structure of the free peoples of Europe," he told the meeting.

Western agreements on the future of Germany have held unswervingly to that line, Acheson asserted, and represent "a sincere effort to deal with existing realists in the spirit of the original allied covenants pertaining to Germany."

War Against Pennies Results In Savings

ST. PAUL, April 29 (AP)—John J. Feckey carried on a private war against "white" pennies for three years. Feckey said he figured he'd won his fight.

With 32,700 of the light-colored coins stashed away in a giant whisky display bottle, Feckey called it quits and cashed in on his crusade.

He didn't like the pennies and the customers on his milk route didn't like them either. Too often, they mistook them for dimes. So Feckey undertook to retire all he could from circulation. By the time the whiskey bottle was filled, the milkman had 225 pounds of coins.

The Feckeys turned the pennies in at a bank and used the exchange to buy a television set. The Federal Reserve bank retired the pennies for good.

There was only one catch. Feckey and his wife had to wrap every cent in paper rolls of 50 per roll before the bank would take them.

Nutrition Cure Experimented On Rodents

Lack Of Vitamins May Cause Alcoholism, Texas Group Says

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29 — Inherited deficiencies in vitamins may be a cause of alcoholism in human beings and addicts may be cured through nutritional treatment, a group of Texas scientists reported today.

The group, led by Dr. Roger J. Williams, professor of chemistry at the University of Texas, told the National Academy of Sciences of experiments on animals, which also indicate, Williams said, that many other diseases in man may result from an unbalanced diet induced by heredity.

Based On Experiments

Their findings were based on a series of experiments with rats and mice, whose "appetite" for alcohol went up and down, depending on amounts of vitamins injected into them.

In the case of human beings, such a treatment was described as "shotgun therapy" by the Texas group.

The dietary deficiencies in alcoholics arise not primarily because of failure to eat what is regarded as satisfactory food," Williams said, "but because the genetic patterns of these individuals are conductive to the development of crucial deficiencies."

Such a condition, the Texans reported, is known as genetotrophic disease arising from nutritional deficiency "which in turn has its basis in a genetically controlled augmented requirement for one or more specific nutritional elements."

Others Indicated

They further said that other diseases, such as allergies, mental diseases, heart disease, arthritis, multiple sclerosis and cancer, may be included in the category.

"This is hpyothesis, of course, but it has a large body of information to support it," the group reported.

Of the alcohol problem, Williams said:

"It is hoped that for treatment of alcoholism in human beings a therapy may be developed which will effectively curb or abolish the excessive appetites of many compulsive drinkers."

First, however, medical science must determine just what are the individual patterns and what are the specific deficiencies most often associated with the disease, Williams said.

In the case of experimental animals, he reported, a lack of the vitamon B's appeared to be the factor that "drove the mice to drink."

Cat Is Changing Color, Man Says

GREENCASTLE, Ind., April 29. (AP)—Here is James W. Wright's tale of the cat and the canary:

Wright's jet black Persian cat tried to get at his canary. The bird's cage fell to the floor with a loud clatter and the freightened cat scampered for shelter.

When it re-appeared the next day, it had a white ring around its neck, Wright says. The ring has spread and now only the cat's tail remains black.

Reds Hurt In Berlin Clash

BERLIN, April 29 (AP)—Several hundred Communists and anti-Communist German youths clashed in bloody street fighting this morning.

A number of Reds were hospitalized after the battle which was broken up by police. The fighting took place in the American sector, near the Soviet sector border.

The Communists claimed their opponents tried to break up their pre-May Day meeting in the American-occupied borough of Tempelhof. The Communist press charged American military police inspired the disorders.

American authorities said no allied personnel was involved.

Had Permission

American public safety officers said the Communist Free German Youth organization had been given permission to hold a meeting. They said that scores of those attending the meeting came from the Russian sector and this "invasion" created resentment among the anti-Communists.

The ruckus stirred fears of further clashes Sunday when Communist and anti-Communist trade union federations plan to stage rival May Day celebrations. Each organization has accused the other of planning "provocations" Sunday.

Western Berlin's German police were ordered on full alert for the May Day weekend.

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, April 29, 1949

Ex-FBI Agent Is Subpoenaed

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Rep. Velde (R-Ill) said today he had been subpoenaed by a New York grand jury for next Wednesday. He saw in this an indication it is investigating "Russian atomic espionage."

Velde investigated it, too, while he was an FBI agent in San Francisco. That was before he came to Congress and became a member of the House un-American activities committee.

He told reporters he expects to cooperate with the grand jury.

Velde appeared as a witness last year before the committee of which he now is a member, in connection with the case of Steve Nelson, who the committee has labeled a Red spy, and "Scientist X."

May Be Same Case

Presumably, he said, the grand jury also wants to ask him about that case.

"When I testify," Velde said, "I am going to suggest that the voluminous files the FBI has on this case be presented to the grand jury.

"It may be that the statute of limitations has expired on most of the members of the espionage ring and it would be impossible for the attorney general to prosecute in these cases.

"If that is so, I believe the Russian agents who still are in this country should be brought to public light through investigators of the un-American activities committee."

He will be appearing before the same grand jury which urged Tuesday that all further spy investigations in this country be conducted in secret. That would apply to hearings like some of those the committee has held.

Nelson Is Red Leader

Velde and several other members said it is the committee's duty to expose subversive activities.

The one-time G-man said he worked on the west coast spy case for about a year, and only on one small phase of it.

Nelson is a Communist party leader now living it Pittsburgh. The committee has said that in March, 1943, he got an important atomic formula from "Scientist X," who was employed at the radiation laboratory at the University of California in Berkeley.

The committee never identified the scientist because he denied last year that he knew Nelson or had given secrets to an unauthorized person.

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

What book have you read in the last year which particularly impressed you? Why did you like it?

THE ANSWERS

MISS DORIS STONEHAM, 905-A Ave. R, youth director of First Baptist church: "'A Guide to Confident Living,' by Dr. Stephen Vincent Peale. I liked it mainly because it was such a practical pattern for living. It's what the name of the book implies."

MISS CAMILLE CONELY, 2114 Sixteenth, Texas Technological college student: "Going to college, I haven't read much except textbooks. 'The Big Fisherman', by Lloyd C. Douglas, was very good. I suppose I liked it because the characters live so vividly. Of course it's a wonderful portrayal of Biblical people."

CURTIS REYNOLDS, 2602 Twenty-fourth, manager of Mark Halsey Drug store No. 2: "'To Hell with Glory.' It's about our unpreparedness for war, more than anything else. The author was in the Philippines when the war started. It's adventurous and I was in the Pacific during the war and had flown and I was interested in what the author had to say. He was a pilot."

HERBERT PEELE, Denver City, Continental Oil Co. roustabout: "I read a good mystery book, 'The Clue of the Brass Bound Trunk.' It's a Nancy Drew book. I liked it because I was in suspense all the time."

MISS MARY FRANCES BLEDSOE, Petersburg route 2, teacher in Idalou elementary school: "'I've read 'Fountain Head,' by Ayn Rand, in the last year and I thought it was wonderful. It came out in 1943 but it still is a best seller. It's a story of an architect. I liked it because of its different philosophies of life. They were very unusual."

MRS. ROY KREBBS, 3112 Twenty-seventh, secretary of Lubbock Community Chest: "I read one that's real old . . . 'King's Row,' by Henry Bellaman, which was one of the best books I ever read. I expect probably the reason I liked it is because the lowly ones as well as the wealthy ones were liked. Everyone should read that book. It's good. It's a good lesson even, I think."

Palo Duro Drive Is Slated On May 28

CANYON, April 29 (Special)—Treasure and pleasure hunters over the Panhandle will head for Palo Duro canyon Saturday, May 28 to participate in a modern "gold rush."

The crowd of '49ers and gold seekers will watch from the rim of the canyon as 10,000 goldine coins are scattered from an airplane over the entire area of Palo Duro canyon.

Jester To Start 'Rush'

After the coins have been dropped, Governor Beauford H. Jester will cut a ribbon at the entrance of the canyon at 2 o'clock to launch the gold rush and a long range project to promote the Palo Duro canyon as a major tourist attraction in the Panhandle.

The project, sponsored by the Palo Duro Canyon Boosters club, will continue from May 28 until Labor Day in September. All outstanding prizes then will be awarded on Sept. 11.

Coins May Win Prize

Each goldine coin is a potential prize winner. The 10,000 coins are numbered on one side. On the other side is a line drawing of the Lighthouse. All coins ending in the number 'seven' are prize-winning coins. All other coins are potential winners of supplemental and grand prizes. All 'seven' coins will be valid through Labor Day.

Top prizes include two all-expense paid eight-day vacations to Havana, Cuba via Braniff Airways and the proposed grand prize will be an expense-paid vacation to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

The Palo Duro "gold rush" is being held by the Boosters club to solicit membership and appropriate funds and gifts to advertise the Palo Duro canyon attractions throughout the country. A program of events will be scheduled to attract people to this region and to draw steady tourist trade to the Panhandle.

Truce Is Called In Berlin's Touchy 'Battle Of The Barges'

BERLIN, April 29. (AP)—A truce was arranged today in Berlin's "battle of the barges."

Two Russian officers who had attempted to halt traffic in the British sector canal locks Thursday and Wednesday returned today and announced they had orders "not to cause any trouble" and not to inferfere with British traffic in the canals.

British officers on the scene said they understood the dispute was being referred to "higher authority" for settlement.

Armed British military police still stood guard on the locks, and barge traffic continued unmolested.

Russians Pull Out

Five Russians carrying sidearms, who had announced their intention to remain at the canal locks to stop barges lacking Soviet registry, pulled out during the night, leaving the British in sole command until the two Soviet officers showed up this morning.

The Russian claim is that no barges may be operated on Berlin's canals, which lace waterways in the Soviet zone west of Berlin with those in the eastern part of the Russian zone, unless they have registration certificates issued by the Russian-controlled waterways directorate.

The British do not dispute the right of the Soviet military administration to supervise the canals technically.

British Denounce Acts

They do, however, reject any claims by the Russians to interfere with this specific type of traffic which is purely for western Berlin and is of no interest to the economy of the surrounding Soviet occupation zone.

The British have denounced the Russian attempts to block the coal distribution system as "a provocative action which is all the more surprising at a time when informal discussions have been taking place regarding the possible lifting of the blockade."

The Russians made their first attempt to stop movement of the British barges Wednesday. The British protested and the order was rescinded.

The Russians reinstituted the order Thursday and sent in the force of five officers. Barge traffic was stopped for a time but was resumed after another complaint.

Some observers speculated that the Russians might be testing allied reactions.

Dumas Workers Take Strike Ballot Today

DUMAS, April 29 (AP)—Workers at the Phillips Chemical company near here were to start a strike vote today.

Negotiations between the workers, members of the International Oil Workers union, CIO, and the company broke down Thursday. The union members seek reductions in rent of family dwellings owned by the company and retirement and sick leave benefits. No wages are involved in the dispute.

BLIND Trible Runyon, right, learns to repair a radio by touch as Bob Nevitt, inventor of Braille tester, watches.

Blindness Doesn't Keep Youth From His Radio Repairing Job

By HORACE B. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29 — Blindness cannot stop Trimble Runyon from following his favorite occupation, repairing radios.

The Kentucky mountain youth from Pinson Fork, Pike county, has just completed a course in a radio school here. He is ready to do business on a commercial scale —thanks to his "Runyonometer."

The young man has been blind since he was seven years old. His father, Acye Runyon, had brought home some dynamite caps from the mine where he works, intending to use them for clearing land. Young Trimble never had seen a cap before and was playing with it when it exploded, destroying the sight of both eyes.

Radio Specialist

The boy obtained an education at the Kentucky School for the Blind here, then specialized in radio at a commercial school.

The "Runyonometer" is a device, about the size of a table radio, which is the invention of one of his instructors, Bob Nevitt. Its inventor calls it "a whole radio service shop in one box." He says it combines about 12 different testing machines seen in the ordinary radio shop, linked together for the convenience of his sightless student.

Runyon can carry it anywhere and be equipped to find worn-out radio tubes, locate the cause of static and cure it, as well as perform all the various tests a professional radio workman uses. Then he can go ahead and remedy the trouble, locating the parts by feeling and testing.

Works By 'Feel'

Except that he works by "feel," Runyon's methods of workmanship are no different than those of any other radio repairman. It's the testing device that makes all the difference.

For the information of radio fans, the "Runyonometer" combines, among other things, a signal tracer, signal generator, 1,000 cycle multivibrator, auto-radio power supply and others.

As an example of how Runyon makes a test without sight, he inserts a tube whose condition is doubtful into the socket, starts a signal going through it, and turns a dial, increasing or diminishing the force of the signal until the sound is "cancelled out."

That tells him the condition of the tube. Raised characters in Braille on his dial tell his sensitive fingers the reading which other workmen would get by sight.

Inventor Nevitt estimates the separate testing devices which his "Runyonometer" replaces would cost about $400. The combined machine will cost Runyon $93.

St. Louis University Gets Four-Yolk Egg

ST. LOUIS, April 29 (U.P.)—The chef of the Majestic Hotel cracked an egg and found four yolks in it.

He thought it was unusual. He telephoned St. Louis University and told Dr. John D. Campbell, professor of embroyology, about the event.

"Such an egg is rare," Dr. Campbell confirmed.

The chef was so impressed that he donated the egg to the university as a specimen.

Sunray Tests New Producer

Sunray Oil Corporation has completed its No. 1 Brown for good flowing production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian three miles south of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county.

On a potential test, the well flowed 10 hours through a one-half-inch choke, producing 432 barrels of 44.2-gravity oil in that time. This would make a 24-hour initial production of approximately 1,036 barrels of oil.

There was no water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,000-1. Production was natural from the open hole section at 6,535-6,644 feet.

This pay opener is 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey, about six miles north of the town of Snyder.

Error Is Made

A report Wednesday that this well flowed 132 barrels of oil in 32 hours was in error.

Lipscomb & DeLange of San Antonio are starting by May 1 on a west outpost the Sunray No. 1 Brown Canyon discovery in north-central Scurry county as their No. 1 A. L. Wren, et al.

The drillsite is 467 feet from north an deast lines of Dallas Trust & Savings Bank subdivision of section 20, block 11, J. P. Smith survey.

Projected depth is 7,000 feet. Drilling will be with rotary equipment.

Producer Is Completed

A small Devonian producer has been completed in the undeveloped area in north-central Andrews county, eight miles north and three miles west of the town of Andrews.

It is McAlester Fuel company of Magnolia, Ark., No. 1 M. M. Fisher, 660 feet from south and west lines of the lease in section 4, block A-36, psl survey. Elevation is 3,163 feet.

The well was finished on a gas lift for 5.41 barrels of oil per day. Gravity was 29 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was not measured. Total fluid recovered had a shakeout of 40 per cent water.

Total depth was 11,297 feet. Top of pay was 11,005 feet. The venture was plugged back to 11,184 feet. The Devonian pay zone had been acidized with 5,000 gallons preceding the test.

Pipe Is Set

Magnolia Petroleum company has set pipe and was preparing to start tests at its No. 1 Eicke, Canyon-Pennsylvanian prospect in central Scurry county, four miles west of Snyder.

Following a recovery of clean oil on a drillstem test to 6,778 feet, total depth, operator cemented seven-inch casing on bottom with 125 sacks. The project was waiting on cement to cure before drilling plug and testing.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey.

Actress' Marriage Derailed By Trains

LOS ANGELES, April 29 (AP) —Their marriage was derailed by toy trains, says film actress Beverlee Mitchell.

She won a divorce from William F. Crane Thursday testifying:

"He was so intent on his hobby he refused to kiss me for six of the 10 months of our married life or even take me out to a movie. Why, he even spent $700 on electric trains when he had no money to pay the rent or the doctor."

Once, pouted Miss Mitchell, 23 and red-haired, when she asked Crane, 28, to kiss her, he answered:

"Leave me alone. I want to play with my train."

Democrat Senator Scores Republicans After HST Economic Council Rapped As 'Political'

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—A "political" tag pinned by Republicans to President Truman's council of economic advisers was hurled back at the GOP today by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).

O'Mahoney heads the Senate-House economic committee, whose Democrat members last month issued a report which in general approved President Truman's 10-point anti-inflation program.

Thursday night the Republicans on the committee released their own report, disputing the majority's findings and denying "any serious danger of inflation."

The committee Republicans drew up an eight-point program of their own, part of it frankly "anti-deflationary," and charged that Mr. Truman's proposals and the council report which went with them were tinged with "political propaganda."

Draws Reply

That drew a heated retort from O'Mahoney.

The GOP program itself is "political," he said, as well as "vague and ill-defined." He declared the inflationary hazard is almost as great as ever—that recent drops are "a mere wiggle at the top of the chart."

"The economy is under tremendous strain, and it will be as long as we continue to spend tremendous sums for national defense and foreign aid," he told a reporter.

The GOP report urged that the budget be balanced through cuts in government spending—not tax boosts, as the President recommended. The major threats to prosperity, the report said, are the "constantly increasing" tax load and a shortage of investment capital.

The federal reserve board added a footnote to the squabble Thursday. It lowered the amount of money which its 7,000 member banks must hold in reserve by $1,200,000,000, to leave more bank funds free for lending. The order takes effect next week.

Charge Undefended

On the Republican "politics" charge, the three-member council of economic advisers had little to say.

Chairman Edwin G. Nourse and vice-chairman Leon Keyserling—who disagree themselves on whether the council should take a public stand on administration programs—had no comment.

The third member, John D. Clark, simply pointed to a paragraph in one of his recent speeches. In it, he said in effect that some mixing of politics and economics cannot be helped because "the great issues on which the political parties divide are economic policies."

The minority report seemed likely to revive the internal council dispute which broke into public notice early this year when Nourse, believing the council should not identify itself with any party's program, declined to testify on the Truman proposals.

Both Testify

Keyserling and Clark testified in support of the broad control program.

Nourse said today that he believes both reports by the congressional committee help to bring economic problems under study "from every angle." The minority report will be given careful consideration by the council, he said.

Keyserling told a reporter "he subscribes completely" to Nourse's statement. He added that this demonstrates "there is a lot more agreement within the council than some news stories would indicate."

Nevertheless, some supporters of the Keyserling-Clark viewpoint said the congressional disagreement is a sign that the council should work more closely with the legislators—that they should testify even if their opinions differ.

HEAD SHOT— Carl Standingdeer, 68, who has worked at "chiefing" at a Cherokee, N. C., souvenir shop for 40 years, thinks he's the most photographed man in the nation. A Cherokee himself, he wears the headdress of a Plains Indian chief, since real Cherokee chiefs never wore such gear. Standingdeer is "shot" about 200 times daily by tourists who stop at the shop to snap a picture of the heap big "chief."

Lutheran Convention Goes To Galveston

MASON, April 29. (AP) — The Texas district of the American Lutheran church will hold its 1950 convention in Galveston.

Delegates yesterday picked the site at the closing session of this year's meeting.

They also established three projects for the district to consider. These are selection of a Bible camp site, scholarships for Texas Lutheran college at Seguin and a Lutheran foundation at the University of Texas similar to the one operating at Texas A. and M. college.

The annual leadership training school was scheduled at Seguin in June. The fourth annual rural church conference is to be held at College Station, also in June.

Rev. C. N. Roth of Seguin is the Texas district president. Other officers are:

Dr. W. A. Kiefger, San Antonio, vice president; Pastor Alfred Pfenning, Galveston, second vice president; Dean Streng, third vice president; Milton F a lkenberg, Bishop, secretary; Pastor Raymond Schliesser, Temple, assistant secretary; Robert Pfenning, Austin, treasurer.

Pastor A. F. Flathmann, Buckholts, statistician; and Dr. A. G. Weiderаenderr, Seguin, archivist.

Workers Are Aided By "Foot Clinics"

CHICAGO, April 29 (U.P.)—The Leather and Shoes weekly reports that recent installations of foot clinics by industries have sharply reduced accidents, fatigue, absenteeism and personal turnover.

The basic idea of the clinics, the weekly says, is to "relieve urgent foot troubles—corns, ingrowing nails, athlet's foot, aches or pain in the foot, fatigue" and other disorders.

The chiropodist who staffs the clinic also sees that proper shoes are worn and that measures are taken to reduce foot strain on the job.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND LOYAL CUSTOMERS

In 1944, Saveway Food Stores started in the retail grocery business in Lubbock. It registered its tradename "Saveway Food Stores--Save At Saveway" and the Secretary of State issued his certificate giving the Company the right to use that name.

Recently the Safeway Chain Store System obtained an injunction in the United States District Court to stop us from using our registered tradename because it was claimed to be too much like Safeway. Such chain system has never had stores in this section of the State and does not even propose to put in stores in Lubbock.

We are appealing from the judgment and in the meantime, we must obey the injunction. Until it is disposed of we are stores without a name.

B. M. Taylor, who established such stores, moved into your midst and by fair play and giving friendly and courteous service and selling the best merchandise that can be bought at fair and competitive prices, built up for the Saveway Food Stores a splendid and profitable business and reputation. The people at Saveway are homefolks, living and spending their substance among you and participating in civic and public affairs. They believed they had a valuable asset in their registered tradename and spent thousands of dollars advertising it.

What name we may use after May 1st and until appeal is heard is a big question mark. For the want of a better name we will use this question mark to identify our stores which will constitute the symbol of fine merchandise at low prices and friendly, courteous service just the same as the word "Saveway" in our registered name has done.

Effective May 1st, we cannot advertise "Save at Saveway" until the appeal is heard, but when you see the question mark in our advertising and on our stores, just remember it means come in and Save, even though we are a store without a name.

Your continued loyal support in this just cause will be greatly appreciated by all of us.

Atlantic Pact Makes Another War Certain, Wallace Claims

CHICAGO, April 29. (AP)—War with Russia, says Henry A. Wallace, "is eventually certain through a western world heavily militarized under the Atlantic pact."

"Under the pact, the only uncertainty is when, where and how," Wallace said in a nation wide (ABC) radio broadcast Thursday night.

Ultimate Is War

"The ultimate, disaster which the Atlantic pact involves is war itself," Wallace said. "No one can say when, where, and how it will come but we do know that two worlds cannot indefinitely denounce each other and build up arms against each other without eventually exploding into the most horrible holocaust of all time.

"I know that Russia will not enter upon this war unless she is provoked by aggression on her very borders. The U. S. with her atom bomb and her enormous industrial power is far more likely to take provocative steps under a pact which gives so much power to the military men and place military bases on Russia's borders."

The defeated Progressive party candidate for president, who on Wednesday night in New York opened his three week nation wide "peace tour," said that peace with Russia "is possible through a strong United Nations."

If War Comes

On a possible war with Russia, he said:

"Even if we should win militarily, I know we would lost and I fear that the cost in human life would be half a billion lives and in money, five trillion dollars. Such rivers of blood, such oceans of treasure, can be measured only in the flood of women's tears."

Accompanying Wallace on his tour are H. Lester Hutchinson, Labor member of the British parliament, and Michele Giua, Italian Socialist senator. They will speak tonight in the Chicago Coliseum at a meeting sponsored by the Progressive Party of Illinois.

"Snafu" Now Part Of U. S. Language

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. April 29 (INS)—"Wolf"—meaning a fellow who whistles at gizls—"snafu," and "cold war" now are officially part of the language.

They are only three of 15,000 new words and terms added to the Webster's New Collegiate dictionary, which will be published tomorrow by the G. & C. Merriam Co., of Springfield.

Editors of the dictionary spent 15 years on the present edition, which they think includes all new words generally accepted by the "intelligent public."

Reservoir Is Afire, Water Still Needed

BISMARCK, N. D., April 29 (AP)—It was a case of "water, water everywhere, but—"

Fire broke out on the city reservoir roof. There were 1,000,000 gallons of water in the structure. No direct link to the city water system was handy.

Firemen put out the blaze with 450 gallons of water from a fire truck. Damage was light.

On THE WAY—Wearing a special crash helmet and with plenty of feed, Olympia, the favorite, takes off from New York's La-Guardia field for Louisville and the Kentucky Derby, slated May 7. Capt. Carroll Latimer, pilot of the cargo plane, tucks in his star passenger.

Institute Student Is Freed Of Charge

TROY, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—A 19-year-old Rensselaer polytechnic institute freshman was free today of a second degree manslaughter charge in the shooting of a classmate.

The charge against Richard Perry was dismissed in state supreme court yesterday. Assistant District Attorney Edward J. Poland said a grand jury had decided not to indict the former Dallas, Tex., youth

However, Perry was fined $500 for illegal possession of the gun police said killed Manfred Lowen, 23.

District Attorney Earle J. Wiley quoted Perry as saying his gun discharged accidentally while he was examining it and the bullet went through the wall of his room.

Brazilian business spent $40,000,000 on advertising last year.

Rapist Faces Prison Death

MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 29 (AP)—A circuit court jury has convicted Francis Desales Grayson, negro, 37, of raping a white woman., His sentence was fixed at death.

Convicted Thursday, Grayson is the fifth negro defendant in the case for whom the death penalty has been recommended. Two others are yet to stand trial.

Those convicted, Grayson, Joe Heary Hampton, Frank Hariston, jr., Booker T. Milliner and Howard Lee Hairston, faced the jury in separate trials in almost daily succession.

Two Remain

James Luther Hariston and John Clabon Taylor remain to be tried. Trial of the former is set for Monday.

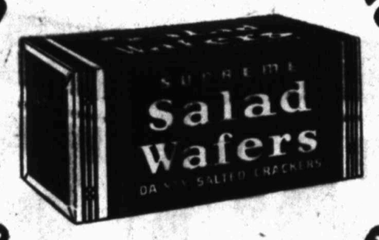

Judge Kennon C. Whittle has deferred sentences until the trials of all defendants are completed.

The state charged the men attacked Mrs. Ruby Stroud Floyd, wife of a Martinsville department store manager, on the night of Jan. 8. She testified she was walking down a railroad track near here when four of the men seized her. She said three others joined in the assault later.

Grayson is the only married man among the defendants. He is the father of five children ranging in age from two to eight years.

School-Age Children Of Migratory Farm Worker Getting Poor, Haphazard Education On The Run

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29 — Nearly a million children, sons and daughters of America's migrant farm workers, are grabbing their education on the run.

As the parents move over the country, picking beans here, strawberries there and sugar beets in another place, the children are taken along. Often, the youngsters must go out in the fields, taking their places next to their mothers and fathers in the picking crews.

The result is haphazard education. If the child does go to school at all, he'll attend five or six different schools in a year. He'll spend from two to six weeks in one school, then have to transfer when it comes time to move on to the next harvest center.

Become Retarded

After two or three years of this, most children become retarded, and soon notice they are older than the other children in their class. Overcrowded, understaffed rural schools seldom have facilities for maladjusted youngsters. Thus the migrant child soon drops out of school altogether.

That's the problem worrying the National Education Association, a problem constantly growing as the steady commercialization of agriculture makes it more and more a large-scale industry, needing hundreds of thousands of migratory workers.

The association's report on the subject, called "Children in the Crops," paints a dark picture. Not only are the numbers of migratory families going up, but the educators foresee that trend continuing. The wartime emergency, during which farmers had to lure workers with good conditions, is over, and so are the good conditions.

This girl, working on a Wisconsin farm, knows more about bean picking than most kids her age, but like the migrant farm-worker children she typifies, her schooling is haphazard.

"It has been predicted that the living conditions of migrants will become increasingly worse," the report gloomily states.

No Shelter Proided

In an arspargus cutters' camp in Illinois, for instance, people live in a warehouse with a gravel floor, divided into family units by chicken wire hung with blankets. Some places even fail to provide that much shelter.

But thousands of workers stream to such places each year. Wages are fair, but work is unsteady. If they arrive in a harvest center too soon, they must wait, without pay, until the crop is ready. Some crops can only be picked in the morning; the rest of the day is wasted. If bad weather ruins a crop, a trip of several hundred miles may be fruitless.

These and other occupational drawbacks combine to reduce a migrant worker's wages to possibly the lowest in America. The annual income of migrant families in Texas cotton and winter vegetables, the report says, was found to be about $950 in 1944. The average family was 6.6 persons, a lot of mouths for $950 to feed over the course of a year.

Many Under 14

In the New York State pea and bean counties, a 1945 survey showed more than a fifth of the migrant workers were under 14. In a study in Hidalgo county, Texas, 16 per cent of agricultural laborers were under six and another 37 per cent were between six and 15.

States and local authorities are often lax about enforcing compulsory school attendance. Truant officers rarely visit migratory workers camps. Most state school attendance laws merely state that children of "residents" must go to classes. That word can be interpreted in several ways.

Some states, notably California, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Maine, have specific provisions regarding attendance of migratory attendance of migratory children. But even there, local authorities often look the other way.

In the Hidalgo county, Texas, survey, only about half the children below 15 were enrolled in school. Of those, more than two-thirds did not attend at all until after the middle of November, and one-third withdrew before the first of April. Those statistics, the report states, are typical.

Public opinion in that county, says the report, was that "school attendance should not be allowed to interfere with the supply of cheap farm labor."

The National Education Association thinks that "a positive schooling program" — improvement and enforcement of school laws, smaller classes in schools likely to have big seasonal increases, and a curriculum designed for brief units of study—would go a long way toward improving the situation.

Politician Pays Off After 21 Long Years

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 29, (U.P.)—Jess Boyd has received a check for $1.60 in payment for his services as a handbill passer 21 years ago.

During the 1928 election, Boyd passed the bills soliciting votes for John T. Hereford, successful Republican candidate for the house of delegates. He was promised 80 cents by a Hereford associate who had hired him, but the latter apparently forgot the debt.

Boyd recounted the tale to a friend of Hereford's recently. From Glasgow, Ky., several days later came Hereford's check for principal and interest.

Sale Of $2,474,000 In City Bonds Okayed By Commission

City Engineer Gets New Job

Members of the commission, meeting in semi-monthly session Thursday afternoon, sold $2,474,000 worth of bonds, promoted City Engineer R. L. Oldham to the new position of director of public works, completed two extensions of the city limits, helped get another extension of major importance well under way and took under advisement for study a plan of reorganization of the city health department recommended by a committee of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society.

The bonds were sold to a syndicate composed of First Southwest Co., of Dallas, and 14 other investment firms at a net interest rate of 2.5629847 per cent per year. The rate was considerably lower than officials had expected, according to Mayor W. H. Rodgers. Some city bonds sold last year carried an annual interest rate of 3.04 per cent.

Lowest Of Four Offers

The bonds included $174,000 in securities to be paid for out of direct taxes and $2,300,000 secured by city electric department revenues.

The tax bonds, voted in 1945, include $60,000 for storm sewer extensions and $114,000 for airport improvements, The revenue bonds, voted in late 1947, are for electric, water and sanitary sewer extensions.

The bid was the lowest of four submitted, net interest rates of other competitors ranging up to 2.86 per cent annually. Frank J. Medanick represented the successful syndicate and reported that the total interest cost of the bonds will approximate $733,000 in 20 years.

Receives Pay Increase

The new job of director of public works, authorized more than a year ago, was created and filled by City Engineer Oldham on the recommendations of City Manager Steve Matthews. it carries with it a $50 monthly increase in pay for Oldham, to approximately $580 a month, including the cost-of-living bonus paid all city employes.

The position will carry with it a great deal of increased responsibility, the city manager said. In addition to the city engineering department, Matthews continued, Oldham will have overall supervision of all city construction, the water, electric and sewage departments, warehouses, shops, maintenance of equipment, the garbage dump and other duties.

The city manager said Oldham's advancement will require the appointment of a new city engineer, and he is ready to receive applications. Essential qualifications of applicants must include training and experience in waterworks and sewage designing, he added.

Lubbock applicants will have the inside track for the job, if qualified, Matthews said. Next to them in preference will be residents elsewhere on the South Plains. The salary will be determined by direct negotiations. Oldham has received $450 a month plus the city bonus.

Two of the extensions of the city limits completed at the meeting required only the routine action of approving on final readings previously discussed ordinances providing for the annexations.

One of the new additions to the City of Lubbock is Denison Heights, embracing four double-length blocks bounded by Thirtieth and Thirty-second streets and Taylor and Pierce avenues. The other is McMillan Heights in Northwest Lubbock, bounded by Maple and

Petitions Seeking Decontrol Of Rents To Be Passed Here

A group of approximately 600 persons, mostly property owners, were present last night in the third-floor district court room at the county court house to discuss the issue of rent de-control for Lubbock.

T. E. (Chief) May, chairman of a committee recently appointed to arrange the public meeting, introduced C. L. Harris, representing the landlords, first and only speaker at the meeting to voice before the group his sentiments on the subject of de-control.

Harris, who spoke strongly in favor of complete de-control pointed out the purpose of the meeting to those assembled, and then went on to give his own personal reasons for his opinion.

Among other reasons, he stated that he believed there was no housing shortage in the city of Lubbock at the present time. Using figures taken from local building permit records, he gave the following information on the number of housing units built in various years from 1943 to the present: 1943—19 living units; 1944—140 units; 1946—667; 1947—885; 1948—1,139; and for the first three months in 1949—226.

Harris made no distinction between "living" units built and "rental" units built, nor did he mention in any way the rapid growth of Lubbock's population during the years from 1943 to the present.

Using information gained from the gas company here, he pointed out that there had been 7,318 "turn-offs and turn-ons" during the last 12-month period, and 1,118 "turn-ons" for the same period at new residences. These figures, he said, indicated to him

Jones, vice-president of the college, and Dr. Ernest Wallace, associate dean of arts and science, will announce the names of students who will receive these honors.

Mark Would Get Big Laugh Out Of This

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., April 29 (AP)—Mark Twain might envy the tall tales they still spin about the jumping frog of Calaveras county.

Twain, of course, spun the first one about the frog which was so loaded with buckshot by a hostile gambler that he lost the contest.

Earlier this week Dr. D. L. Abasio of Angels Camp announced—with tongue in cheek—he had chipped a frozen frog out of a Yosemite glacier and would try to awaken him from a sleep of 1,200 years in time for the next contest May 13-14-15.

Last night the frog was "unfrozen" for photographers and was quite alive. The "glacier" was a press agent's dream—an ordinary block of ice.

British Commonwealth Saved By Historic Pact With India

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The historic agreement whereby India can become a republic and still remain a member of the British commonwealth of nations, without recognition of the King's sovereignty, constitutes one of the striking developments of these amazing days in which we live.

By a simple juggling of words this great commonwealth has been saved from the disastrous loss of India's membership, and the possible withdrawal of other members later. Not only that, but the new commonwealth (which abandons the designation of "British") bids fair to be far stronger than ever.

The weakening of the commonwealth at this crucial juncture in the cold-war between the Communist and the anti-Communist blocs would have been a serious blow to the latter. This would be especially true as regards India, for this great nation of 300,000,000 people may easily become the key-stone of the defense against Bolshevism in Asia.

As a matter of fact, it's a fair guess that this aspect of the situation was constantly in the minds of the London conferees. They scarcely could ignore that angle in view of the steam-roller offensive of the Chinese Communist armies against central and southern China. India and China lie side by side in the Asiatic theater in which the war of the isms may eventually be decided.

The change in the commonwealth relations perhaps couldn't have been achieved but for the extraordinary circumstance that Britain has no written constitution to hamper the reframing. The constitution just grew up through precedent. The same is true of many laws, which are based on custom and common-sense interpretation.

Thus freed from constitutional barriers, the commonwealth conference in a few sessions figured out a way to get around the kingly sovereignty to which India objects so fiercely. As things now stand the King is accepted "as a symbol of free association" of the independent members, "and as such, the head of the commonwealth."

Comment Is Cited

One can't pass on without referring to Winston Churchill's comment on the commonwealth agreement. He hailed it as a possible step towards merging the United States with a united Europe. He said such an association might bring to "a harassed and struggling humanity real security and freedom for hearth and home."

It might seem somewhat strange that India should be the one to object to further recognition of the King's sovereignty. Throughout the long reign of the British throne India, with her hundreds of Arabian nights princes, was the scene of a regal splendor rarely equalled in history. The imperial durbars, with the bejeweled maharajahs and their caparisoned elephants, were story book dreams.

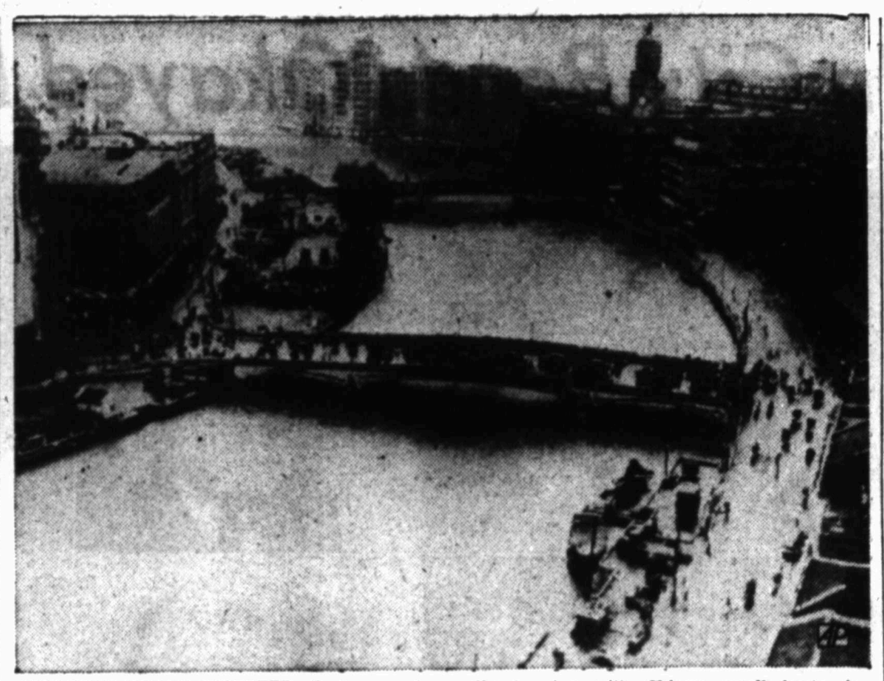

Probably no other emperor had such homage paid to him as was tendered by these powerful rulers whose wealth was so vast they couldn't compute it. Even the emperor's representative, the viceroy, maintained an atmosphere which was more regal than that in London.

Indians Proud People

So it's given to wonder why India should be the one to refuse recognition of regal sovereignty now. Still, having seen much of that country at first hand in the imperial days, I incline to the thought that after all it may be in part because of those times that India shuns imperialism now.

There is no doubt that the princes loved the glitter of imperialism. So did many of the Indian aristocracy. But the blaze of the jewels only served to spotlight the tragedy of hungry millions who forced a bare existence from the soil.

Furthermore the Indians are a liberty-loving people, and they are proud. They bow to nobody these days, since they won their independence under such leaders as Prime Minister Nehru and the great Gandhi, who was Nehru's friend and teacher.

"Death" On Power Pole Not Serious

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 29 (AP)—Two o'clock in the morning, and a sudden sharp report like a pistol shot.

Mrs. Ada Morris told herself it was nothing.

Then foot-falls and hushed voices. She crept to the window.

Shadowy forms were clustered around a power-pole on the street. She caught the word ". . . dead." The figures melted away.

Mrs. Morris grabbed a phone and called police.

But the utilities truck got there almost as soon as the police did, and put a new fuse in the switch-box.

TOWN HONORS PETAIN

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 28 (AP)—Las Condes, fashionable suburb of Santiago, has named an avenue for Marshall Henri Phillipe Petain, under sentence of life imprisonment in France for his wartime relations with the Germans. Questioned by a reporter, municipal authorities of Las Condes declined to say what prompted them to honor the 92-year-old marshal, former head of the so-called Vichy government, who was convicted of intelligence with the enemy and imprisoned on the Ile d'Yeu.

Marine Corps League To Hold Convention

Col. Francis H. Brink, officer in charge of the Southern recruiting division of the U. S. Marine corps, with headquarters in Dallas, will be guest speaker at a banquet for the Souhtwest regional convention of the Marine Corps league in Amarillo Saturday night.

The Southwest regional convention is to be held Saturday and Sunday, said Sgt. M. L. Alles of the Lubbock recruiting station, who said some Marines of this section might wish to attend.

Marine Corps league members of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico are to attend the meeting.

Col. Jean Moreau, USMC, retired, national vice-commandant, will represent the National Marine Corps league at the business meeting.

Army Lifts Secrecy From Two Articles

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The Army whisked the veil of secrecy today from a couple of items.

"Motorcycle, solo (Harley-Davidson model)."

"Watch, pocket, 16 size, 21 jewel, model 992B."

Citizens who, unwittingly, have been using these secret gadgets for years now may exhibit them in public without fear of the espionage act.

Musician Leaves Orchestra To Study Art, Play "Box Fiddle"

SARASOTA, Fla., April 29 (AP) —Andrew J. Swatt has forsaken all music except his cigar-box fiddle and has taken up art under the GI Bill of Rights.

Swatt, unmarried and a native of Shamokin, Pa., is 53. He is a veteran of both World Wards and during the first was a member of the United States Army Band, playing saxophone and clarinet.

He has been a member of several other bands; and in 1946-47 was judged best drummer in the country.

Swatt once drew cartoons for Connecticut and New York papers, too.

His fiddle cost 15 cents, the bow $12. He made it 25 years ago and has played it all over the world, mostly gratis at entertainments such as USO, civic clubs, Boy Scout and church festivals.

Swatt says, however, he couldn't make sufficient money with his last orchestra so he gave away all his musical instruments except his cigar-box fiddle and entered the Amagansett School of Art here where he hopes to supplement lessons he has taken at Pan-American University at Miami; the Ringling School of Art here and Connecticut Junior College at Bridgeport.

Worship Service Is Set By New Church

The first worship service of a newly-organized Christian church group will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday in Fellowship hall of First Christian church.

The new group is being formed as the membership of a church to be established later in 3300 block Thirty-fourth.

Rev. Burgin Watkins will be guest minister at Sunday's service. He is the minister of a new Methodist church in southwest Lubbock which is not yet holding regular meetings.

Officials of the new Christian church have urged all persons interested in becoming charter members to attend Sunday's service. Charter membership will be issued until about July 1.

Lubbock Quartet To Enter Huge Contest

The Plainsmen, Lubbock quartet of tonsorial tremolo artistry, departed early today for San Antonio, where they will vie with other barbershop balladeers of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

The Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America is holding the central states semi-final contest in San Antonio Saturday, with approximately 30 quartets from 14 states entered.

The Plainsmen, composed of Robert Dennis, lead; Bob Hufstedler, first tenor; Jack Hall, baritone; and R. S. Roberson, bass, placed third in the Kansas City contest which preceded the semi-finals.

The six best quartets selected at San Antonio will compete in the international contest to be held in Buffalo, N. Y. where there will be only 40 quartets, selected from over a thousand entries.

Rites For Sundown Vet Slated Sunday

SUNDOWN, April 29 (Special) — Reburial services for Lieut. Luther F. Hines, jr., thrice decorated fighter pilot of World War II, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in Melrose, N. M., High school auditorium.

Rev. B. M. Dennis, pastor of Melrose Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. H. Hatfield, of Alta Vista, Colorado, will officiate.

Burial will be in Memorial cemetery, Melrose, with graveside rites conducted by the American Legion, Rev. H. E. Carroll of Texico acting as Chaplain.

Attempted Crash Landing

Lieut. Hines was killed March 13, 1945 as a result of a crash landing near Boxted, Essex, England, after his plane and another collided in the air. Lieut Hines had partial control over his plane and attempted a belly landing, suffering fatal injuries in the crash that followed.

At the time of his death he was training newly assigned pilots in fighter tactics, involving close formation fighting, and the crash came in making a cross-over. Neither pilot was able to use his parachute.

He flew 65 missions over Europe as a fighter pilot, participating in some of the heaviest fighting of the war, including driving enemy planes from the Remagen bridgehead and being among the first to penetrate the Berlin area to strafe Templehof Aerodrome. He is credited with several victories in the air and with destroying boats, locomotives, and depots with rocket fire.

He was shot down twice over Europe.

Lieut Hines joined the Air Force early in the war and received training at Grider Field, Army Air Force school, Independence, Kansas; Moore Field, Texas; Bradley Field, Conn.; and Richmond, Va.

In August 1944 he was assigned to the 61st Fighter squadron with the 56th Fighter group of the 8th Air Force in England.

He resided with his parents at Allred and Sundown several years before the war, and was engaged in the housing business.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P Hines of Sundown; two sisters, Mrs. Joan Hines Phifer of Kansas City, and Mrs. Patricia May Lee of Sundown; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Scarbrough of Melrose, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hines of Lubbock.

Annie's Gun Proves Menace To Workers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29 (U.P.)—Two stage managers and a stage hand are going to let Annie get her gun and keep it from now on.

Annie's guns failed to fire at the proper time in a performance of "Annie Get Your Gun" here. The trio took it backstage to see what the trouble was and it exploded, sending them all to the hospital.

Plane And Pilot Battle Cloud Banks To Protect Banana Crop

LA LIMA, Honduras, April 29 (U.P.)—High over the banana farms of this tiny republic a lone aviator is buzzing the cloud banks these days in one of man's most persistent efforts to exert control over the weather.

Sometimes a few drops of rain may fall, but rainmaking is not his prime purpose. What he hopes to do is dissipate clouds and prevent winds from blowing down the country's rich banana crop.

Joseph Silverthorn is the aviator's name. He is chief pilot for the United Fruit company, which maintains a fleet of private planes here in connection with its multi-million dollar banana business.

Every afternoon Silverthorn spots a cloud somewhere over Honduras that he thinks might be worth looking into. Then he cranks up his twin-engine Lodestar airplane and starts climbing. The clouds that Silverthorn regards as worthy of his attention are the deep ones that go up as high as 15,000 or 25,000 feet.

Balloons Released

Once inside such a cloud bank he begins giving orders over the inter-com to his navigator and an assistant in the rear of the plane. They have at their elbow a large ice-box containing small rubber balloons filled with water and a wetting agent called OT-100.

At a command from the pilot, the men in the back of the plane poke the balloons out through a funnel in the plane's side. If a cloud is effectively dispersed it may prevent it from causing a damaging wind disturbance.

Silverthorn and his crew keep elaborate notes on every observation they can make while aloft—temperature inside and outside cloud banks, altitude, density and nature of clouds, speed of plane, and amounts of water and OT-100 released.

This information is sent promptly to the laboratories of General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y., where it is compiled and studied in weather experiments. Silverthorn probably is piling up the biggest backlog of "weather making" data ever gathered.

Scientists visiting here from the G.E. laboratories in Schenectady regard the Silverthorn experiments as of great importance, but are unable to say precisely what they have proved. The real payoff may be years away. If damaging winds are less frequent in the months when Silverthorn is at work in the clouds, it is a fair assumption that his work is having some effect.

Even a light breeze of 20 miles an hour is a potential scourge in the banana country. It causes what the banan people call a "blow down." Thousands of mature banana stems come crashing down from the tops of fragile banana stalks in a wind of that velocity. The fruit is then a total loss because such large quantities could not be moved to market all at once.

Infant Heart Victim Saved By New Drug

MIAMI, Okla., April 22. (U.P.) Eight-months-old Charles David Stout wasn't given much chance by his doctors of ever cutting his first tooth.

Today, he has two teeth and is making medical history. That is not because he has teeth but behause he has lived long enough to have them. Charles David has tachycardio, a generally fatal heart condition.

Soon after he was born, his heart beat was recorded at 399 per minute," one of the most rapid beats ever counted from one his age," his doctor said.

After a series of transfusions and a period in an oxygen tent, Charles David was given crystodigin, a new wonder drug. And now, he has a good chance of growing up to be a healthy boy. His heart beat is almost normal.

Rescuers Of Animals Observe Anniversary

BOSTON, April 29. (U.P.)—The Animal Rescue League of Boston, noted for its annual Christmas "party" for underprivileged horses, celebrates its 50th anniversary this year.

Serving as a model for similar agencies throughout the natien, the league has solved problems for monkeys, mice, alligators and whales.

Altogether, it has cared for some 3,150,000 animals since it was founded in 1899 by Mrs. Huntington Smith.

In its half-century of service to the stray, unwanted and helpless animals of 86 eastern Massachusetts communities, the league has compiled some impressive statistics.

It has treated more than 456,000 animals at its free clinics, placed 50,000 pets, restored 19,000 others to their owners, quarantined 10,000 biting dogs and rescued 20,000 animals from abuse.

In addition to the clinic and shelter at its Boston headquarters the league operate a large branch at Lynn, two shelters on Cape Cod and a rest home for horses and a cemetery for small animals at Dedham.

That's only part of the league's self-appointed task. It fights cruelty in rodeos, campaigns against neglect of animals arriving here by ship, battles for humane treatment of horses hauling peddlers, carts and trains children in animal care.

But league agents get their biggest enjoyment out of their annual Christmas Eve duty. Each year on that night since 1913 they have visited all of Boston's stables, distributing carrots, apples and sugar lumps to horses waiting patiently in their stalls for Santa Claus.

South Africa Eyes Intermarriage Bill

CAPETOWN, South Africa, April 29 (AP)—Marriage between white and colored persons would be prohibited by a law introduced in the House of Assembly today.

The bill would also ban such marriages even when one party did not reside in South Africa.

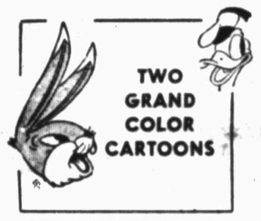

A surprising provision in the bill, was one stating that a person who "looks" white shall be presumed to be white and one who "looks" colored shall be presumed to be colored.

Strike-Threatening Speed-Up Charges Are Probed At Ford

DETROIT, April 29. (AP)—A top-level union team was dispatched to the Ford Motor company's sprawling Rouge main plant today to confirm or refute strike-threatening speed-up charges.

Hanging in the balance was a possible walkout of 60,000 CIO United Auto Workers that would tie up virtually the entire Ford industrial system and could upset the UAW's spring bargaining drive.

A strike of 6,000 employes at Ford's Lincoln-Mercury plant was authorized by the UAW's executive board yesterday to start May 9. Similar sanction was denied the Rouge plant workers pending today's inquiry. Both disputes involve production speed-up complaints.

Negotiations Resumed

But negotiations aimed at heading off walkouts were resumed after previous talks had failed.

A Lincoln-Mercury walkout probably would have little effect on either overall Ford production or the union's industry-wide campaign for pensions, medical care programs and wage increases. This drive is scheduled to start with Ford May 16.

UAW leaders were hopeful at least that a Rouge plant strike, involving ten times as many workers as at Lincoln, could be averted.

President Walter Reuther told the union's 100-man national Ford council:

"Don't let anyone get us on a detour, for the main road clearly lies ahead."

Demands Are Framed

The council is framing final demands on Ford which will launch the UAW's 1949 campaign.

Reuther said the UAW expects to have $4,000,000 in its treasury for use in any showdown in this year's bargaining.

With respect to the Lincoln speed-up dispute Reuther said the international union has "documentary evidence based on company records" that production lines move too fast for worker health and safety.

At the Rouge plant, he added, there "is a discrepancy between the facts submitted by local 600 and those claimed by the company" as to production standards in one building.

The union committee, headed by UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, was assigned to determine which is right, Reuther said.

Reuther and Company President Henry Ford II agreed in principle.

"One of the major reasons that our union came into existence," said Reuther, "was the revolt of workers against the inhuman speed-up that existed in the automobile industry before it was organized."

Ford told the Economic club of New York last night that higher worker output "cannot be expected to spring from longer hours or speeded-up effort."

"If we are wise," he said, "we will always head in the other direction, toward greater output at less expense of time and energy."

Fire Breaks Out As Engine Rams Caboose

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 29. (AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad eastbound freight train crashed into the rear of another freight at nearby Heckton today.

No one was injured, the railroad said, although the locomotive of the second train overturned and the caboose it struck caught fire.

Nine other cars, four in one train and five in the other, also were damaged in the crash on the Pennsylvania's Williamsport division six miles north of Harrisburg.

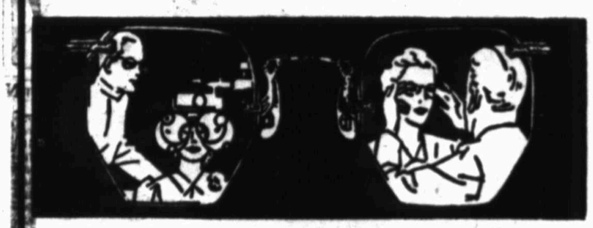

The blaze in the caboose was extinguished by firemen from nearby communities as wrecking crews were rushed to the scene to clear the two-track line.

A spokesman for the railroad said it was not learned immediately what caused the crash. The leading train, consisting of 125 cars, was enroute to Harrisburg from Renovo, Pa., and the second train—with 62 cars—was bound for the same destination from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 28. (U.P.)—Local citizens were puzzled by the appearance on Halifax streets of a hearse with New York license plates.

An investigation showed it was a hearse, all right, but a converted one.

TEXAS TECH is host today and tomorrow to a couple of hundred of the most promising journalism students from 11 leading Southwestern colleges and universities; to their principal instructors and, also, to a dozen or so outstanding newspaper people who have come to speak to the group.

The meeting, which is the annual conclave of the Southwestern Journalism Congress, is a choice one for both Texas Tech and Lubbock. The program is an especially strong one.

Profs. Cecil Horne, Clark Schooley, Louise Crawford Allen and the others at Tech who have arranged the program have done a good job.

We hope their efforts will be crowned with success in every way and that the meeting will be the best one in the 22 years or so of the Congress' history.

But we hope something else, too.

We hope that some of the visiting speakers—men and women who are outstanding successes in the actual, hurly-burly of the newspaper business—will get down to brass tacks in their addresses.

We hope some of them, at least, will tell their young listeners that, as they enter the large and small newsrooms of the nation, there still is no substitute for hard work.

We hope the speakers will sort of let the idea drop that the 40-hour week, the days off, and the guild contract which insists that ordinary newsmen be paid as much as good newsmen, largely are biproducts of the sociologists and the politicians; that neither nor all of them constitute an open sesame to success in a highly competitive field.

NOLAND "Boots" Norgaard, who topped the Associated Press' coverage of the European phase of World War II from Africa to London and from Rome to Berlin, is one of the Congress' major speakers. We hope he'll tell the youngsters something about the dirty side of the work through which he slogged to a position of reportorial eminence.

Ernest C. Kirschten, one of the nation's brilliant editorialists and a member of the justly celebrated brain trust of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, is another headlined speaker. We hope the salty Mr. Kirschten will remind his youthful listeners that he didn't hop, full blown, from college into his high position. He should tell them how he drove himself, through years of preparation on police and courthouse runs, an Associated Press bureau and many lesser tasks, to fit him for the job he holds today for his equally important posts on other metropolitan papers in Boston and St. Louis.

We hope Bill Donnell, crack young city editor of the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News, will recall some of the not-so-romantic experiences of his cub days; how his Dad, then, and still, editor of the Wichita Falls paper, sent him away from home to be broken in the hard way. He should tell how a Simon Legree of the Avalanche-Journal's newsroom forced him to inspect the horribly burned bodies of three accident victims on slabs in a morgue because the experience would enable him to write a better story—and how, although the grisly scene made him physically ill, he did write a better story than he otherwise could have written.

There are many able, sound, experienced newspaper people here to help the youngsters of the Southwestern Journalism Congress: lovable Don Hinga, of the Houston Chronicle, one of Texas' abler writing men; Paul White, Texas Tech graduate now editing a Ford Motor Co. magazine; Malvina Stephenson, a topflight woman correspondent in Washington; Ward Mayborn, who has bossed a flock of Hearst papers, and Lynn Landrum, whose pungent editorial column makes him the most widely read writer on The Dallas News. There are Bob Whipkey of Big Spring, and Forrest Weimhold of Levelland—two extremely able young men who literally cut their eye teeth in newspaper shops and who know the score from front to back.

But somehow or other, we're guessing that the youngsters at the Congress will get more actual meat from the remarks of Dwight Allison than from any other one speaker—providing, of course that they'll listen to Colonel Allison's remarks and follow his advice.

SOME say the San Antonio Light's Dwight Allison is the toughest editor in Texas. Whether he is or not will remain subject for argument, so long as such worthies as Waco's Frank Baldwin and El Paso's Ed Pooley stride the quarterdecks of newspaper plants in these parts.

But there is no doubt (1) that Colonel Allison is coldly efficient; (2) that he is the most starkly realistic of Texas editors; (3) that he worships continuously the shrine of accuracy; and (4) that no excuse, however good, can satisfy him if a story and/or a picture do not come up as and when he directs.

Once a crack reporter, Colonel Allison knows all the angles from that end. Later, a copydesk chief, he learned how to put papers together quickly and attractively. As a managing editor, he demands first-rate performance all the time and will fight for a subordinate who delivers.

But heaven help the loafer, the incompetent, the disloyal staffman under the Allison gun—which is doubtless the basis for the belief in Texas newsrooms that "a guy who can work for Allison for two years can work for anybody!"

The Light's skipper, who took over his present job before he was 30 and has held it for over 20 years, is a newspaperman's newspaperman. That means he's an unusually good one.

Since Colonel Allison is allergic to sugar-coating, his speech will not be the most pleasant one the youngsters will hear in Lubbock.

But whatever ipecac he dishes up will be good for them in the long run—better, no doubt, than some of the whipped cream they may joyously guzzle down from less direct sources.

We welcome to Lubbock those members of our justly proud craft who are here to counsel the college students; we welcome the journalism professors whose responsibility it is to train students so they can get and hold newspaper jobs; and we especially welcome the students themselves.

All concerned can get a good deal out of the Congress.

We say that advisedly, because upon three occasions we have appeared on programs of the Southwestern Journalism Congress; 15 years ago, when it last met at Texas Tech; 13 years ago, at the University of Oklahoma; and last year, at the University of Texas.

There are no better people in the world than newspaper people: those who train them—and those who soon will be among them.

BY DREW PEARSON: FARMERS TO RESENT POWER TRUSTER AS ARMY SECRETARY

Russians Are Flabbergasted At Berlin Airlift

WASHINGTON—While it's difficult to get the right men to fill top government jobs, the proposed appointment of Curtis Calder, head of Electric Bond and Share, as secretary of the Army is going to cause a lot of eyebrow-lifting among farmers.

PEARSON

In the first place, Electric Bond and Share was one of the power trusters whose abuses led to passage of the Holding Corporation act; and the records of the Federal Trade commission regarding its operations make juicy reading.

Second, and more recently, Electric Bond and Share has been one of the most effective and ruthless members of the power-trust gang in fighting the government's program for public power and rural electrification.

Nevertheless, it is now proposed to take the head of this giant corporation which has bitterly opposed the government, and embrace him in the bosom of the government as policy-maker, among others, for the Army engineers—which build the multipurpose dams for the government.

"To put Calder in this job," says the Rural Electric cooperative, "would be about the same as making Ham Moses, of Arkansas Power and Light, the secretary of the Army." Moses is the power executive who once gave nylon stockings to the wives of Congressmen he wanted to vote against public power.

Background Re Germany

On the foreign front, Calder's connections are also important. One of the Army's most vital jobs pertains to Germany. That country, from which sprang two great wars, may hold the key to future wars, and the cabinet officers who make decisions regarding Germany must be impartial.

Mr. Calder, however, is a director of the United States and Foreign Securities Corp., and the United States and International Securities Corp., both organized by Dillon, Read and Co., for the purpose of financing public utilities in Germany before the war.

The Dillon, Read group has always believed in building up Germany and, despite the mistake of having financed what eventually became part of Hitler's war machine, this group has continued to support German cartels. An official report is now before the Army department criticizing ex-Undersecretary of the Army William Draper, another Dillon, Read executive, for rebuilding cartels since the war.

James Forrestal, ex-secretary of national defense and former head of Dillon, Read, is also in this group. And it was one of the companies of which Mr. Calder is director—U. S. and Foreign Securities—which caused Forrestal great embarrassment. For a Senate committee revealed the fact that he had made a profit of $865,000 by selling his holdings in this corporation in 1929 and had avoided paying income tax on the $865,000 by creation of a family holding corporation in Canada.

Capable as Mr. Calder may be as a business executive, his corporate background is not going to inspire confidence among the two million men who would serve under him in the U. S. Army.

CONFUSING the Russians—On Easter Sunday, the Soviet officer attached to the U. S. air safety center at Tempelhof airdrome, Berlin, watched 13,000 tons of goods landed by U. S. airplanes in a single day—a landing or take-off every thirty seconds. Before the Berlin blockade, the total flow of goods into Berlin from the western zones by rail, barge and truck—all three put together—was not more than 11,000 tons a day. Shrugging his shoulders at the amazing performance of U. S. air freight carriers, the Russian officer walked out in despair. He said he could no longer follow, much less record, the speed and complexity of the American flight pattern. No wonder Russia is now ready to lift the blockade.

Washington leans to Arabs—The capital's horse-and-hound set is beginning to take up the Arab. No, it isn't so much interested in Palestine, as in horses. Arabian horses, the original breed that carried Ghengis Khan through Asia, have now come to the U. S. A. And believe it or not, but out of only 5,000 pure-bred Arabians in the world, 4,000 of them are in this country. Though smaller than the Virginia hunter, they are the most intelligent horse living, and because of past habits of desert forage, eat less. Virginians have to look to the middle west for pure Arabs, however—one of the prize stallions, Sarab al Sahra, being owned by Joe Lebowitz of Midlothian, Ill., but goes in for Arab horses, but not the Arab horsemen of Palestine.

Battle Of Barrels

Battle of whisky barrels—Seton Porter, president of National Distillers, one of the most powerful members of the whisky combine, has been lobbying to block a treasury declaration that whisky aged in second-hand barrels is just as good as whisky aged in new barrels. The treasury contends there is no difference between new and second-hand barrels in the aging of whisky, but Seton Porter, a heavy contributor to the Democratic national committee (after the election), rushed in, pounded on treasury desks and demanded that the ruling be reconsidered. Mr. Porter stands to lose money if the treasury sticks to its original position favoring second-hand barrels.

FARM battle—A furious battle has broken out between the Farm bureau and the Agriculture department. The first salvo was fired by Allan Kline, head of the Farm bureau, who protested angrily because he wasn't consulted about Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's new farm program. Defiantly, Kline ordered his state organizations to oppose the program, later made the strange declaration that the program offered the farmers too much money . . . Brannan will now carry his case against Kline direct to the farmers, who are beginning to wonder just who Kline is supposed to represent.

The Irish legation—Sean McBride, Irish foreign minister, has informed the State department that Ireland would come into the North Atlantic defense pact if Britain agrees to give up northern Ireland. However, Secretary Acheson turned the Irish down cold. In fact, he reminded them that he was not bribing anyone to enter the North Atlantic pact.

Wings Over Berlin

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

DO YOU remember—

All those pitiful "house or apartment wanted" ads that ran in your local paper in which the advertisers promised they didn't drink or smoke, threw no parties, were permanent residents, could get references from previous landlords, had no pets, and if they had children, sounded apologetic for even hoping someone would rent them a house?

They seem to be missing from the want ad section these days. And a few beautiful phrases are creeping into the "for rent" ads that have taken their place. Words like "children welcome," "children considered," "near school and playground."

MILLETT

And do you remember when "one to a customer" signs were posted over boxes of soap flakes, where there WERE soap flakes? Now it's a question of which box top you want—the one you send in to get bulbs for the garden or silver for the table.

Remember also when a runner in your only pair of nylons was a great tragedy? Now it's just an amusing news story when, due to some chemical reaction, nylons start falling apart on women's legs.

Remember when the favorite phrase of salesclerks was "You're lucky to get it at any price?" It's been replaced now by "that's been reduced from. . ."

Remember when you stopped in every few days to chat with your car dealer, so he wouldn't forget you? And now maybe you're waiting until you can get just the paint job you want.

BUTCHER ANOTHER GUY

REMEMBER WHEN you courted the butcher? And now you're making him trot out every roast he has for your inspection.

Remember when second-hand goods were being sold at fancy prices because they were "prewar construction?"

Remember when the big event of your day was a V-mail letter? And now you're a little put out, perhaps, at having to leave the bridge table early to get home to start dinner for the sender of those letters.

Things have certainly changed, haven't they? Yes sir, these are the good old days, all right.

Journal Jabs

IT IS reported that an Arkansas man recently traded his wife for a 40-acre farm. He may have made a bad trade, as farming is quite a gamble these days.

"Try And Stop Me"

AT THE Gridiron club dinner in Washington, Poolster Gallup learned the real reason for Iowa's flip-flop to the Democratic banner in 1948. "President Truman spoke up and down the state," explained the Gridiron club pundit. "The citibens of I-o-way flocked to hear him. And, brother, that is one state where they recognize and appreciate good corn when they hear it."

IN SPRINGFIELD, O., the wife of an executive of the Crowell-collier plant gave birth to her fourth child. The other three kids—all girls—were delirious when they heard that at last the stork had brought them a baby brother. "We want to see him, daddy," they implored. The father explained that Mommy had him in the hospital, and that they would have to wait a few days. Four-year-old Lucy was disgusted. "A fine brother," she mumbled. "One day old, and they had to take him to the hospital already!"

Publishing Of New Baseball "Form Sheet" Draws Praise

NEW YORK, April 29.—Today's baseball fan not only must be expert in surgery, psychology, osteopathy, labor legislation and corporation law to keep up with his favorite club, but now it seems he must learn to translate a betting form sheet, too.

RUARK

Just out is a rather flat and embarrassing admission that the grand old American pastime has finally achieved equal recognition with the horses as a big-time gambling medium. This has been true for years, but is never admitted by the mealy-mouthed directors of the business. Last year in this vicinity the bookmakers handled more dough on baseball than they did on the horses.

And now every man, for the price of two bits, can get the latest dope and the most up-to-minute form on his favorites. Baseball finally has its own dope sheet, a brand new publication called the Daily Baseball Form. It is produced for the same purpose as the horse journals—to allow the scientific bettor to pick his nag—excuse me, I mean team—with a finer adherence to past performance against certain adversaries. It offers all vital statistic necessary to the placing of a short two bob on the nose of an estimated pitcher.

Gives Technical Lowdown

The formsheet gives you the technical lowdown on each of the day's starting selections—earned run average, whether he can go in the mud—pardon again, whether he pitches well at night—whether he lost his last shot out of personal incompetence or was beaten by poor support.

The succinct remarks are rather startlingly frank. They run like this: "Good—first start of year." "Poor—bunched hits, RFPH (removed for pinch hitter)." "Hit hard—ko'd in 8th." "Poor—no control," and so on.

Listed is complete past performance for individual teams, and records of current wins and losses. It even carries a daily box naming "cousins" or soft touches, or best bets, for certain pitchers. I was unable to find any mention of early odds, or the morning line, on any individual or team, but assume they can be readily furnished by your favorite bookie.

THERE IS actually nothing more sinister in a daily breakdown of baseball performance than might be found in the game's own records—except for the slight matter that the Daily Baseball Form's figures are compiled purely for gambling. And gambling has always been the word you did not mention in the same breath with baseball—not since the Black Sox scandals.

But the candid admission that the lily-white game is now big grist for gambling mills is enough to cause shrieking and grinding of teeth in the citadels of the sport. For this is the national religion which forbids its players the horse park, in holy dread of evil association with nasty old gambling.

I find it hard to wail in horror that the game is sullied by the sordid paws of bookmakers. It is almost comforting to see at least a portion of baseball's lofty hypocrisy discarded. Baseball has always been a harsh business, no more noble in concept than a horse race or a crap game, while being touted as fully vital to the commonweal as Sunday school.

Action Is Praised

Indeed, it is quite a noble thing the Marbrooke Publishing Co. has done, in providing the chronic bettor sufficient statistic to enable him to accurately estimate his chances, thereby protecting his bankroll. It brings science to the wager, and everybody knows a scientific gambler is happier than a hunch-player.

Of course, there is always the chance that when the gamblers move deeper and deeper into the game, some underfed peon will succumb to temptation and take crooked steps to protect a gambler's point-spread. This will be lamentable but will not necessarily destroy the sport.

Now the form sheet's here, I am daily expecting legislation to install the parimutuel machines in the ball stadiums which have nearly everything else in the way of racetrack equipment, anyhow. No sense in letting the handbooks make off with all the profit, when the states can just as easily grab a legal slice.

Today's Thought

Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.—I Corinthians 3:8.

For as one star another far exceeds,
So souls in heaven are placed by their deeds.

—Robert Greene.

Today's Journal Editorial

SUPPORT THE SYMPHONY

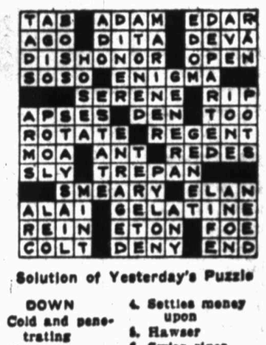

Few cities comparable in size to Lubbock have symphony orchestras. Lubbock has one and it has been virtually the unanimous consensus of those who know about such things that our symphony is a very good one.

The organization will bring another highly satisfactory season to a close with concerts in Senior High school auditorium Friday and Saturday nights, May 6 and 7. The featured artist will be the internationally known pianist, Miss Amparo Iturbi. Some critics say she is even better than her more famous brother, Jose. But whether she is, or not, she is very good.

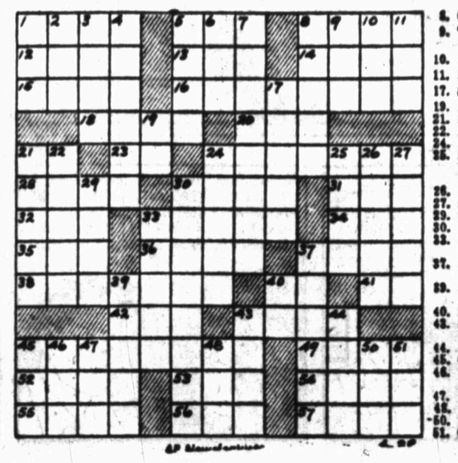

The concert program is of a quality which deserves and seems likely to attract capacity audiences. This is a suggestion that those who plan to be present, but have not yet secured tickets, should attend to the matter at once. Good seats are likely to be scarce, if available at all.

The concerts will offer an opportunity to all music lovers to spend a delightful evening, and to join in giving financial and moral support of the Symphony orchestra of which Lubbock has every reason to feel deep pride.

To the creditors of Otis Nathaniel Stewart, of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, a bankrupt:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that said Otis Nathaniel Stewart has been duly adjudged a bankrupt on a petition filed by (or against) him on April 28, 1949, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of the Referee, in Lubbock, Texas, on May 9, 1949, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., at which place and time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, appoint a committee of creditors, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Rent Control

that people were "shopping around" for different living quarters and "moving around" sufficiently to show that housing was available.

600 Houses Claimed Vacant

He also pointed out that there were some 600 vacant houses in the city. Most of these, he added, were vacant because owners under rent control regulations could not sell them and guarantee immediate possession to the prospective buyers if tenants were in the buildings.

After the meeting, a reporter asked Harris, in half facetious and half serious vein, if he knew where the reporter might obtain a satisfactory place to live inside Lubbock proper "for $65 or less a month."

After a pause for study, Harris admitted he didn't.

No mention was made at any time during the meeting of the effect which the reactivation of Lubbock Air Force base will have upon the availability of rental units within the city.

Must Vacate Air Base

According to the most conservative estimates, hundreds of families will be among the personnel moving to Lubbock when the base is reactivated, and most of them will be renting families.

Following Harris' talk before the group in the courtroom, others were given an opportunity to speak either for or against rent de-control. However, no other person present indicated his desire to talk, and from the applause following Harris' speech it was indicated that most present were in complete agreement with his sentiments.

Petitions Passed Out

Approximately 100 petitions were passed among the group present, and those holding the petitions were asked to get 'as many as you can" to sign the petitions which will be turned in at the office of County Judge Walter Davies before 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Among reasons set out on the circulated petitions as to why rents in Lubbock should be decontrolled were the following:

"Whereas, the most recent studies made by the Bureau of the Census, the Department of Labor Statistics and the Federal Reserve Board indicate that there is no housing shortage in America but a declining availability nationally of rental housing because of the disparity in rents allowed under rent control."

"Whereas, there appeared in the April 10 issue of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal 'For Rent' advertisements of more than 50 apartments, and in the April 17 issue an equal number of apartments, 40 bedrooms, and 20 furnished and unfurnished houses, which is in itself conclusive evidence that there no longer exists a housing shortage in Lubbock."

To Ask De-Control

The petitions, along with a resolution asking for rent de-control, will be presented at an open meeting of the City commission in the near future, Harris indicated.

Next step in the procedure would be some action or the part of the City commission, either approving or disapproving rent de control. Provided the commission were in favor of de-control, the completion of the action would require only the favorable action of Governor Beauford H. Jester to bring Lubbock completely out side federal control on rents.

Once controls are lifted in Lubbock, citizens have no recourse under the law. Rent de-control, once it is approved for Lubbock by the governor, cannot be revoked.

Argentina's Transport Secretariat has ordered fines of up to 50 per cent of the cost of the ticket, for people who return unused tickets for pullman seats or berths—the amount of the fine depending on how late they are turned in.

Kinsman Of P. T. Barnum Demands Museum Return Big Cardiff Giant Hoax To Family

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 29. —When P. T. Barnum foisted the Cardiff Giant on the public 60 years ago he chuckled "there's a sucker born every minute." Michael Fitzmaurice is out to prove that Barnum was wrong.

"My great grandfather may have been a sucker," Fitzmaurice said in the mellifluous tones that have made him a leading radio performer, "but only P. T. will find that the strain toughened when it reached me. I want the Cardiff Giant back. It belongs to my family."

And setting his handsome chin he called for his attorney, Parnell Callahan, who has been instructed to demand the big concrete figure from the New York State Historical Museum at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Fitzmaurice realizes that he is stirring old circus ghosts by trifling with the memory of one of the greatest hoaxes of all time, but every time he thinks of the small salary his great grandfather got for his fabulous creation he boils.

Invented Calliope

"Wesley Jukes was my great grandfather," he said, "and anybody who has ever seen a circus has heard his handiwork. He invented the steam calliope, also the illusion of a woman cut off at the waist and the famous robot chess player who beat so many champions 70 years ago.

"I think," he added, "I am violating no family confidence by revealing that the robot chess player was worked by air suction by an operator who sat where he could watch the chess board. Great grandpa also used compressed air for his celebrated robot orchestra, Gideon's Band.

"Now the story about the Cardiff Giants is this. Barnum was hard up for ideas and asked great grandpa, who worked for him, to think of something. So the old man suggested they ought to 'discover' the mummified body of a prehistoric giant. Barnum thought it was a great idea and grandpa fashioned a phony mummy out of concrete and buried it secretly on a farm in upstate New York, where a farmer allegedly found it while plowing.

Earned Thousands

"Barnum then announced he had acquired this fantastic property at great expense and exhibited it for years, amassing many thousands of dollars. After that it was given to the museum without even consulting the Jukes family. We feel it belong to us although—confidentially — darned if I know what we'll do with it. It's a matter of principle."

Fitzmaurice, who is 38 and married, feels strongly about the case.

"Maybe I'll use it for a plaything for my kids—when I have kids," he said.

Note to Fitzmaurice: you're givin glots of publicity to Barnum's old circus, Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey, which comes to town next month. Are you sure P. T. wasn't a little bit right?

North Fourth streets and Tyler and Van Buren avenues.

They add somewhat more than a half of a square mile to the city's area and, if and when annexed plans for development are carried out, will mean an increase of 1,500 to 2,000 in the Lubbock population.

New Extension Urged

Prospects for another city limits extension regarded by officials as being of major importance also were brightened after a committee of interested citizens conferred with the commission.

The group resides in the area immediately outside the city limits extending from Nineteenth street southward to Twenty-sixth and from Tyler and Taylor, which are two blocks apart, to Pierce avenue, which is another two blocks west of Taylor.

The city limits in that area now follow a jagged path which long has been a city commission headache and which Mayor Rodgers described, bluntly, as a "mess." Taylor avenue is the city boundary line for most of that area. But from Taylor to Tyler, two blocks east, a bottle shaped area still remains outside the limits, although almost completely surrounded by the city.

This situation has arisen from the refusal of some of the property owners in the past to plat their real estate to conform with the property it adjoins in the city limits. In one instance, an owner wanted to cut his property up into lots without leaving space for an alley. His idea was to let people who build there set their garbage cans in front of their homes. In other instances, owners have declined to dedicate sufficient rights-of-way for needed streets.

Expensive Homes Built

The result has been to prevent the annexation to the city not only of the "bottle" area, but of the rapidly developing territory west of it, which has been the scene of a great deal of building activity. Most of the residences there have been of the better type—some of them representing investments up to $40,000 and $50,000.

Because of being outside the city limits, the whole area is without zoning protection. Some shoddy and commercial building already has been done—and much more of it proposed—which threatens to impair the desirability of that section as a place of residence.

These and other fears were expressed to the commission by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sandlin, Mrs. W. C. Bigham and T. W. Waddell.

Petition To Be Circulated

They were advised to circulate a petition among the residents of the area interested in annexation to the city.

"If a majority wants to be annexed, we'll annex them," Commissioner E. K. Hufstedler assured the group.

Mrs. Lewis said the petitions will be started at once, and she predicted that "at least three-fourths" of the residents will sign.

The area contains about a half of a square mile and several hundred inhabitants. Such an annexation also would remove a barrier to the extension of the limits to include large developing areas west of Pierce avenue and south of Nineteenth street in which several thousand people reside.

Highlights of the health plan reorganization recommended by the medical society committee were these:

1. Increased personnel and other costs which would boost the departmental budget about $90,000 to $150,000 a year.

2. Permanent improvements costing about $450,000.

3. More liberal provision for payments for the treatment and/or hospitalization of indigents without including this cost — of an amount not estimated — in the health department budget.

4. The separation of welfare agents and budgets from those of the health department.

5. The demotion of Gerald E. Jarvis, now director of the City-County Department of Public Health and Welfare, to the rank of "executive assistant" and his replacement by a doctor as director. Jarvis now receives about $400 a month. The lowest estimate of the salary of an officer of the type recommended by the committee has been "$10,000 or $12,000 a year."

Dr. R. C. Douglas was spokesman for the committee during several conferences.

New Line Of Packard Automobiles To Be Offered With Different No-Shift Device

DETROIT, April 29 — Packard Motor Car company announced Thursday a complete new line of Golden anniversary automobiles and a no-shift device unlike any other in the industry—"ultramatic drive," available initially as standard equipment on the 160-horsepower custom eights.

George T. Christopher, president and general manager said, "More than 5,000 of these new cars already have been built. They contain 77 major improvements and dozens of minor changes, adding up to the finest of the 1,200,000 automobiles which Packard has produced in the past 50 years.

Ultramatic Drive Featured

"But the crowning achievement for our Golden anniversary year is the ultramatic drive, which impartial experts describe as 'the closest approach to the engineering ideal of no transmission at all.'"

The Golden anniversary Packards will go on display in showrooms throughout the United States and Canada next week, following a "kickoff" meeting of dealers in Detroit's Masonic temple May 2 and a mass driveaway of 2,000-gold-painted cars from Packard's 504-acre proving grounds near Utica, Mich., May 3.

Power Stepped Up

The new line of Golden anniversary Packards includes the 135 horsepower eights, on a 120-inch wheelbase; the 150-horsepower super eights, on a 127-wheelbase; and the 160-horsepower custom eights, on a 127-inch wheelbase. They are in 14 different body types, including a limousine, seven-passenger sedans, convertibles and a "station sedan."

Christopher emphasized that the engines in the Golden anniversary eights and super eights are more powerful than those in comparable models of the 1949 line—135 horsepower for the new eights, compared with 130, and 150 for the new super eights, compared with 145. The wheelbase of the new super eights is seven inches longer than that of the comparable preceding model.

"Ultramatic" More Responsive

Christopher credited Col. J. G. Vincent, a director and the vice-president of engineering, with playing a key role in the creation of "ultramatic drive" after 16 years of development and test.

Christopher explained, "The device, which eliminates gear shifting, is unique because a torque converter is used for acceleration and positive mechanical drive for cruising.

"For example, if the driver pressed hard on the accelerator, the unit doesn't shift automatically into positive drive—the direct connection between engine and rear wheels—until 55 miles an hour. If he releases pressure momentarily—at any point between 15 and 55 miles an hour—the unit shifts at once into direct drive. The driver has full control at all times. He's not 'chained' either to the torque converter or the direct drive.

"Direct drive means no wasteful slippage—because the torque converter actually 'goes along for the ride' while the engine directly powers the rear wheels. A custom eight equipped with the unit, in fact, gives slightly more miles per gallon of gasoline than the same car with conventional drive.

"The Packard torque converter is simpler than any other now being produced. It contains fewer parts. Routine maintenance is confined to checking the oil level at periodic intervals and adding some, if needed."

The twin-screw cargo-passenger steamer, Presidente Peron, just launched for Argentina by a British yard, is 529½ feet long, with streamlined super-structure, gross tonnage of 14,500, and speed of 19 knots on its trial run.

Largest Sausage And Cheddar Cheese To Be Shown At Furr's

The world's largest salami sausage, a 14-foot creature, and the world's largest cheddar cheese—for the largest state in the Union, Texas, that's what Furr's Super Markets will parade as one of the features of the Food Fair, today through May 7.

Built by Armour & Co., the salami and cheese will be in Lubbock today Saturday and Monday. The exhibition truck will be open for the public from 8:30 a. m. until 8 p. m. on Saturday and until 6:30 p. m. on Monday, rolling from store to store.

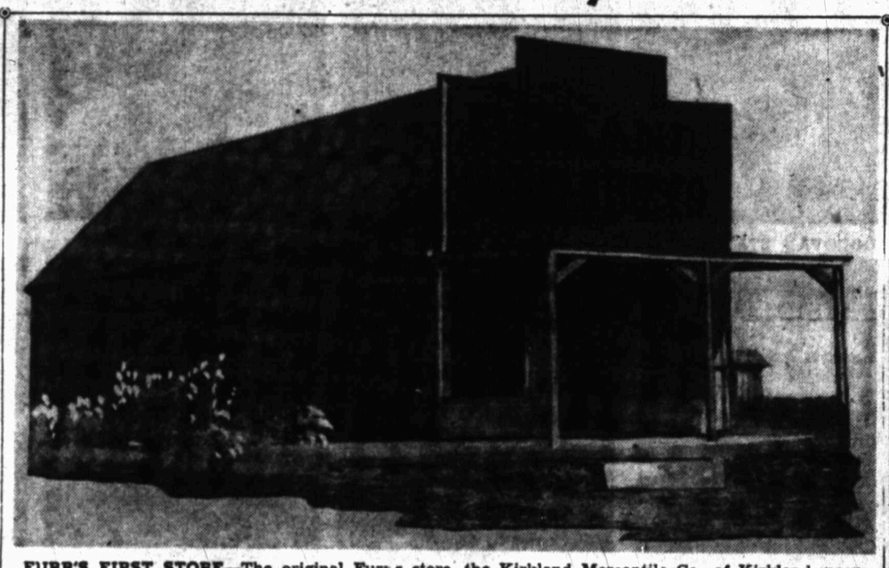

The huge salami was packed in Fort Worth and shipped to Lubbock. Here it will be placed in a refrigerated truck and sent on a schedule which will include Childress and Plainview today; Lubbock on Saturday, April 30 and Monday, May 2; Levelland, Brownfield and Lamesa on Tuesday; Big Spring, Midland and Odessa, on Wednesday; Monahans and Hobbs on Thursday; Roswell and Carlsbad on Friday and El Paso on Saturday, May 7.

Schedule Is Given

The world's largest salami until this unit, was built by Armour & Co. for Stattler's in Buffalo, N. Y. This sausage is 10 pounds heavier than the one sent to Buffalo, Armour people say! The chees is the largest of its kind and never equaled anywhere, the Chicago Armour packers say!

Here is the schedule for the truck Saturday in Lubbock: No. 1 store, Broadway and R, 8:30 a. m. to 9:45 a. m.; No 2 store, Thirteenth and L, 10 a. m. to 11:15 a. m.; No. 3 store, Nineteenth and T, 11:30 a. m. to 12:45 noon; No. 4 store, on East Broadway, 1 p. m. to 2 p. m.; No. 5 store Seventeenth and Texas, 2:15 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.; No. 16 store, Green Acres, 3:45 p. m. to 5 p. m. and No. 19 store, Fourth street, 5:15 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.

FURR'S FIRST STORE—The original Furr s store, the Kirkland Mercantile Co., of Kirkland, near Childress—as it appeared in 1904. Here, C. W. Furr, now deceased and father of Roy Furr, president and general manager, founded this company.

First Furr Store Opened As Combination Grocery And Department Store In Kirkland, Texas, Back In 1904

Furr's Super Markets of 1949 are a far cry from the small but influential Kirkland Mercantile Co. of Kirkland, Texas, near Childress, the first of the string of Furr's markets.

Here, in 1904, its doors were opened to the public by C. W. Furr, now deceased and father of Roy Furr, president and general manager of Furr's, Inc. It was a combination grocery and department store from the beginning.

Total 46 Units

He was "Daddy" of the Furr's supers of today. From this dust and stir of Kirkland's first store, the Furr's string has grown to 46 super markets, Roy Furr heads the 26 units of the Lubbock division, in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, while brother Kay is key man of the 20 units of Amarillo. Some of these stores are in Oklahoma and Kansas.

Roy attended elementary and high school at Kirkland, then spent two years at Clarendon college and three semesters at the University of Oklahoma. He taught school for four years, before joining his father in business. He was married in 1923.

Today Roy and Mrs. Furr reside at 3120 Twentieth street in Lubbock. The couple have a married son, Don who is in the business here with his father; daughter Shelly in Texas Tech and Roy, jr., "Corky," in J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

C. W. Furr moved to Kirkland in Childress county. The rear of the mercantile company building, a 20 by 30 foot establishment, was used as a home for almost a year. As the country about Kirkland built up, C. W. Furr added to his holdings, erecting several brick buildings and organizing several business firms, including furniture, drygoods and groceries. In 1906 he helped organize the Kirkland State bank and in 1915 was elected its president. During these years he kept accumulating farms and business property in that country.

In 1925 he stepped into Potter county, Amarillo where he bought the M-System franchise in several counties in the Panhandle.

Roy went with his father to Amarillo as a business aide. He saw a fertile field in Lubbock and

"As we of Furr's celebrate this 45th year of business with the good people of West Texas and eastern New Mexico, our thoughts turn in appreciation to our friends, old and new, who have stood by us loyally, realizing full well that it has been the confidence and support of these good friends which has made possible the growth and expansion of the Furr's organization," Roy Furr said.

"Throughout the years to come, as in the past, we of Furr's pledge ourselves to carry on the business in such a manner that will continue to merit this confidence and good will. Martha Logan, Swift's Famous Home Economist, To Teach Furr's School

Event Is Scheduled Monday And Tuesday Mornings At The Clifton Theater; Swift Is Co-Sponsor

One of the most spectacular free cooking schools ever to be staged in Lubbock will be held Monday and Tuesday at the Clifton Theater, sponsored by Swift and Co., Chicago.

Martha Logan, the famous home economist, will be the lecturer, Swift's well-known representative on such schools.

Prizes To Be Awarded

Prizes amounting to $225 will be given away during the two days. A Norge Deluxe Gas Range will go to the winner on Tuesday, at the grand drawing. Each day 15 bags of groceries, donated by Furr's Super Markets, will be prizes. Gifts by Swift's will be added daily, company officials say.

The school will be held from 10 a. m. to 12:30 noon each day. Admission is free. "Red Wagon" a Swift film will be shown.

"Cookery That Captivates"

"Cookery that Captivates," is the title of the first school on May 2, which features easily-prepared food fare that is both eye-appealing and appetite-tempting. Foods to be shown include a Marmalade Glazed ready to eat picnic, garnished with Calla Lilies made of rutabagas and carrot stems. An open-faced Dagwood Prem Sandwich, Party Fried Chicken, a Cold Meat Tray and a Frank Quail Platter are among the other main course suggestions. A quick-mix Golden Glow Cake, lavishly frosted with peanut butter icing will also be prepared.

In keeping with the theme of the second school on May 3, titled "New Fashions in Food" "quick-to-make" food platters with a definite "new look" will be demonstrated. Included will be a Honey Glazed Ready-to-Eat Ham, A Swedish Meat Ring made with a homemade biscuit base, barbecued Franks, and Prem baked with Bleu Cheese topping.

Step-by-step instructions on preparing a Bacon Broiler meal and a Fried Chicken Buffet will also be demonstrated. A "minute and a half" cold meat tray, and peanut butter candy treats, made by a "no-cooking" method are other foods to be shown.

Develops New Recipes

As a member of the staff or the Home Economics Division of the Research Laboratories at Swift & Company, Miss Logan spends much of her time in the development of new recipes and the improvement of food preparation techniques. In addition she makes numerous personal appearances before home economics and homemaker groups to help in the solution of their problems.

Martha Logan is the professional name of Verna Schroeder of Chicago. She is a graduate in home economics of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and a member of the Home Economics in Business Branch of the American Home Economics association.

Capable Staff Of Executives, Each A Specialist In His Own Field, Contributes To Success Of Furr's

Around Roy Furr, president and general manager of Furr's, Inc., a strong group of executives have been gathered, each selected for talents which have meant much to the grocery retailing success of Furr's.

Experienced personnel head the key spots in the Furr's organization. Clem B. Boverie, vice president, has been with Roy Furr since the beginning in Lubbock. In fact he was manager of No. 2 store, at 13th and L, first home of the Furr's general office. Clifton H. Cummings is secretary-treasurer. He is a product of Texas Tech, with Furr since he graduated a good many years ago.

Boverie Heads Sales Division

Boverie tops the sales division of Furr's. He works closely with retail store managers, Donovan Stafford and Cloyce Knowles, in charge of the western and eastern division of 19 stores out of Lubbock. Under Stafford is Supervisor Ray Hunter while Burl Ham teams with Knowles in that division.

El Paso's branch manager is A. R. "Chick" Arnold, another one-time store manager under Furr. Arnold has assistants R. Q. Reed, store supervisor; Bill Douthit, office manager and John Wells, El Paso Wholesale company buyer.

In the general office is John A. Milligan, purchasing agent who came down from Amarillo's Furr's some year ago. He handles grocery buying for the company, plus having charge of the warehouse, creamery, bakery, trucking and packaging.

Stone Handles Advertising

Jack O. Stone, personnel and public relations, is in charge of the newspaper and radio advertising, display department, promotions and personnel publications and training.

Ray Johnson is the Lubbock Packing Co. head of that organization, handling distribution to the Furr stores as well as other retail outlets.

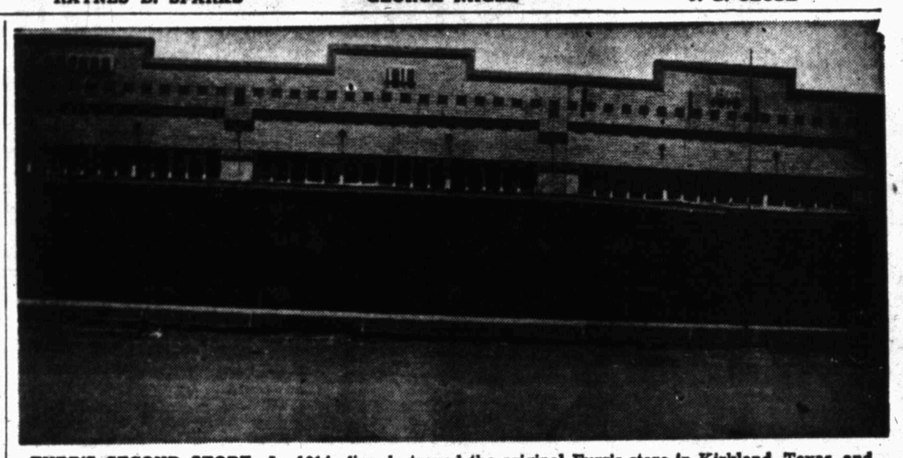

Sparks Supervises Drugs

Raynes B. Sparks, drugs supervisor, is the buyer of those commodities and in direct charge of all drug departments.

George Nagle is a recent addition to the Furr's staff, handling produce supervision in the stores.

J. Garth Close is the new maintenance engineer of the Furr's organization while Don Furr, son of Roy Furr, spends half a day in the general office with personnel problems and the other half in Lubbock stores.

Furr's Magazine, is the name of the Furr's personnel magazine, published monthly from the general office here. Editors of the magazine are the correspondents in each Furr's Super Markets departments, writing monthly for the magazine. This next issue will be a May-June edition, dedicated to the Furr's Food Fair.

FURR'S SECOND STORE—In 1914, fire destroyed the original Furr's store in Kirkland, Texas, and this store was built the following year, 1915. It housed the grocery department, a clothing store and later a hardware department was added, leased by C. W. Furr, the founder.

RULES FOR DRAWINGS

Rules which are to be observed in all drawings include: (1) Stubs must be filled out. If not they will be declared void. (2) Immediate families (living in the same house) of Furr's regularly employed personnel are not eligible to win any prize. Nor are immediate families of Kaiser, Servel, Norge and Cooler-ator dealers eligible for respective prizes. (3) Should the name not be legible on the stub when drawn, the ticket will be held until May 14, Saturday when a special drawing will be held, if the winner has not claimed his prize.

A bowling league among Lubbock Furr's stores is held each winter. No. 5 on Seventeenth and Texas, is the winner of the 1948 season.

One-Stop Shopping Is 'Buy-Word' For All Of Furr's Super Markets

One-stop shopping is the "buy-word" for Furr's Super Markets. That means that a shopper can buy total needs when shopping at Furr's, in the grocery departments, the meats, the fruits and vegetables, the drugs, frozen foods, bakery goods and tobaccos.

Furr's features nationally-known merchandise throughout its grocery department, priced low every day. Its fruits and vegetables come from the richest gardens and fields of the nation, trucked fresh daily. The meats, of all grades, is largely bought on the hoof, killed and packed in Lubbock or otherwise bought from large packers.

The drug departments, in a good many of the Furr's 26 stores, are features which have attracted many a shopper. They, too, are priced low for selling. The tobaccos, bakery goods and frozen foods are other departments which have well-known and priced low, good quality merchandise.

Household Institute silverware and cutlery promotion card plans will be discontinued in May, C. B. Boverie, in charge of sales, announced this week for Furr's Super Markets.

Charles White, of Furr's in Childress, was recently named the most courteous in Childress by a committee of citizens in a contest. He received a $50 prize and a $50 bonus from the company.

Furr's Personnel Totals More Than 500 Families

More than 500 families are members of Furr's Super Markets personnel, reaching into homes more than 500 miles from east and west and 250 miles north and south.

In the 14 cities, the Lubbock division operates 26 super markets, a creamery, bakery, packing plant, produce and grocery warehouse and a wholesale company. The number of units in this tremendous operation? Well, inventories turn over so fast that a guess now would be history in the next ten minutes. It would be best to figure all in carloads!

HERE'S FURR FOOD FAIR TICKET—Here is Sample Ticket available Free at Furr's Super Markets. Fill in stubs and drop in drawing box. Drawings will be held daily at 3 p. m. today through May 7. The photographs snow front and back of the tickets.

45th Anniversary

29-May 7, good for every drawing. As many tickets as the person likes, may be dropped. Stubs must be filled out. The winners need not be on hand for the drawings.

Stores have been decorated, "circus-ized" to the final degree. A Courtesy Campaign has been instigated and is proving successful. Personnel have donned red aprons, yellow neckerchiefs and white caps for the event.

All in all, Furr's Food Fair is "the likes of which the southwest has never seen!"

On the program of the Super Market Institute convention May 8-14 in Chicago next month is Jack O. Stone, Furr's. Stone will speak on the May 9 advertising panel, discussing "Promoting an Anniversary Sale."

Mrs. Beckham Heads Egg Department At Furr's Super Markets

Mrs. Beulah Beckham, a veteran with Furr's Super Markets, heads the egg department of Furr's, housed in the rear of No. 5 store, on Seventeenth and Texas avenue.

Mrs. Beckham

Here all eggs are assembled, brought in by the farmers on nearby and far farms. The eggs are candled, graded and packed in Furr's cartons, then delivered to stores for sale.

The operation is an interesting one and a tricky one, too. It calls for persons who know their "eggs."

Grading is important and Furr's tries to give the housewife the egg she likes.

Sometimes the demand is greater than possible to fill, and that is the time Mrs. Beckham becomes "egged" by the store managers.

Furr's History

vicinity and in 1929 he moved here.

During that year six stores of the M-System were purchased and in 1934, when there were three stores in Lubbock and six in neighboring cities, they became known as Furr Food Stores.

In the intervening years the program of units has expanded. Furr's now operate stores in 14 towns, out of of Lubbock; has its own creamery, bakery, warehouse and packing plant in Lubbock; the El Paso Wholesale Co. and seven retail stores in El Paso and single markets in Plainview, Childress, Levelland, Lamesa, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, and Monahans, in Texas, and Carlsbad, Roswell, and Hobbs, in New Mexico. Seven stores are operated in Lubbock.

Two of the latest stores built were in El Paso, opened in November before 40,000 persons in two nights. Latest Lubbock store is the No. 19 unit on Fourth street. Remodeling of all units is a constant operation for Furr's.

A new warehouse for El Paso Wholesale Co. and Furr's Super Markets was opened in January in El Paso, some 37,000 square feet.

"Cover man" for May's Super Market Merchandising magazine, published in New York and with a circulation all over the United States, going largely to super market operators, was Roy Furr, president and general manager of Furr's, Inc.

Lubbock, (Tex.).

The Andrews Sisters, popular girl singers, have endorsed special photographs to store managers of Furr's Super Markets, and are being displayed at the Food Fair.

Watch for the colorful neckerchiefs, the yellow ties they are; the brilliant red aprons and white caps worn by all Furr's personnel during the Food Fair.

Display Department At Furr's Is Headed By Ben W. Jones; His Wife Is Ardent Helper

Latest of the departments set up at Furr's is the display department, headed by Ben W. Jones, long time in the art game and a hard worker to keep ahead of the Furr's stores displays.

With Benny is his new wife, Phyllis, employed by Furr's and an ardent helper. The two handle all window display signs, done by silk-screen process; wall signs and all types of work necessary for retailing groceries.

Jones spent some time here with a local theater chain and later had his own shop. He is a veteran of four branches of the service and Merchant Marines.

Other than handling signs for stores, Jones turns out layout work for advertising, some of the best placed in engraving plants in Lubbock. For the Food Fair he turned out innumerable signs, including the huge FURR'S FOOD FAIR cutouts, working with Garth Close, maintainence engineer, which hang on the exteriors of all stores. Signs for the big trucks which roll daily have recently been erected.

Furr's Operates Cafeterias In Stores At Hobbs, Odessa

Popular spots, the two are integral parts of these communities. At Hobbs, Duncan Hines, the nationally-known foods gourmet, has stamped his approval on that cafeteria, while the Odessa unit is under observation.

At each the cafeteria, the basic breakfast is featured. Good foods at reasonable prices have attracted many. They are clean, new and both are adjoining the stores, with a single door between.

Furr's Operated Five Years Under M-System Name; Corporation Now Simply Furr's, Inc.

It was not until 1934 that the M-System stores, purchased by Roy Furr here in Lubbock in 1929, sallied forth under the name of Furr's. At that time the name was Furr Foods.

After the war, in 1946, the name became Furr's Super Markets. The organization was incorporated as Furr's Super Markets, Inc., at that time but beginning with this year the corporation became officially as Furr's Inc., covering all units.

In 1929 the six stores were located: three in Lubbock and single stores in Idalou, Shallowater and Littlefield. Thirty-six employees were on the payroll at that time, what with 25 additional persons helping on weekends. The purchase of the M-System stores was made through A. C. Hendricks and sons.

By 1934 three units were operated in Lubbock and one each in Slaton, Tahoka, Hale Center, Littlefield, Clovis and Hobbs, nine in all.

MARTHA LOGAN — Swift's famous lecturer who will instruct Furr's cooking school here Monday and Tuesday.

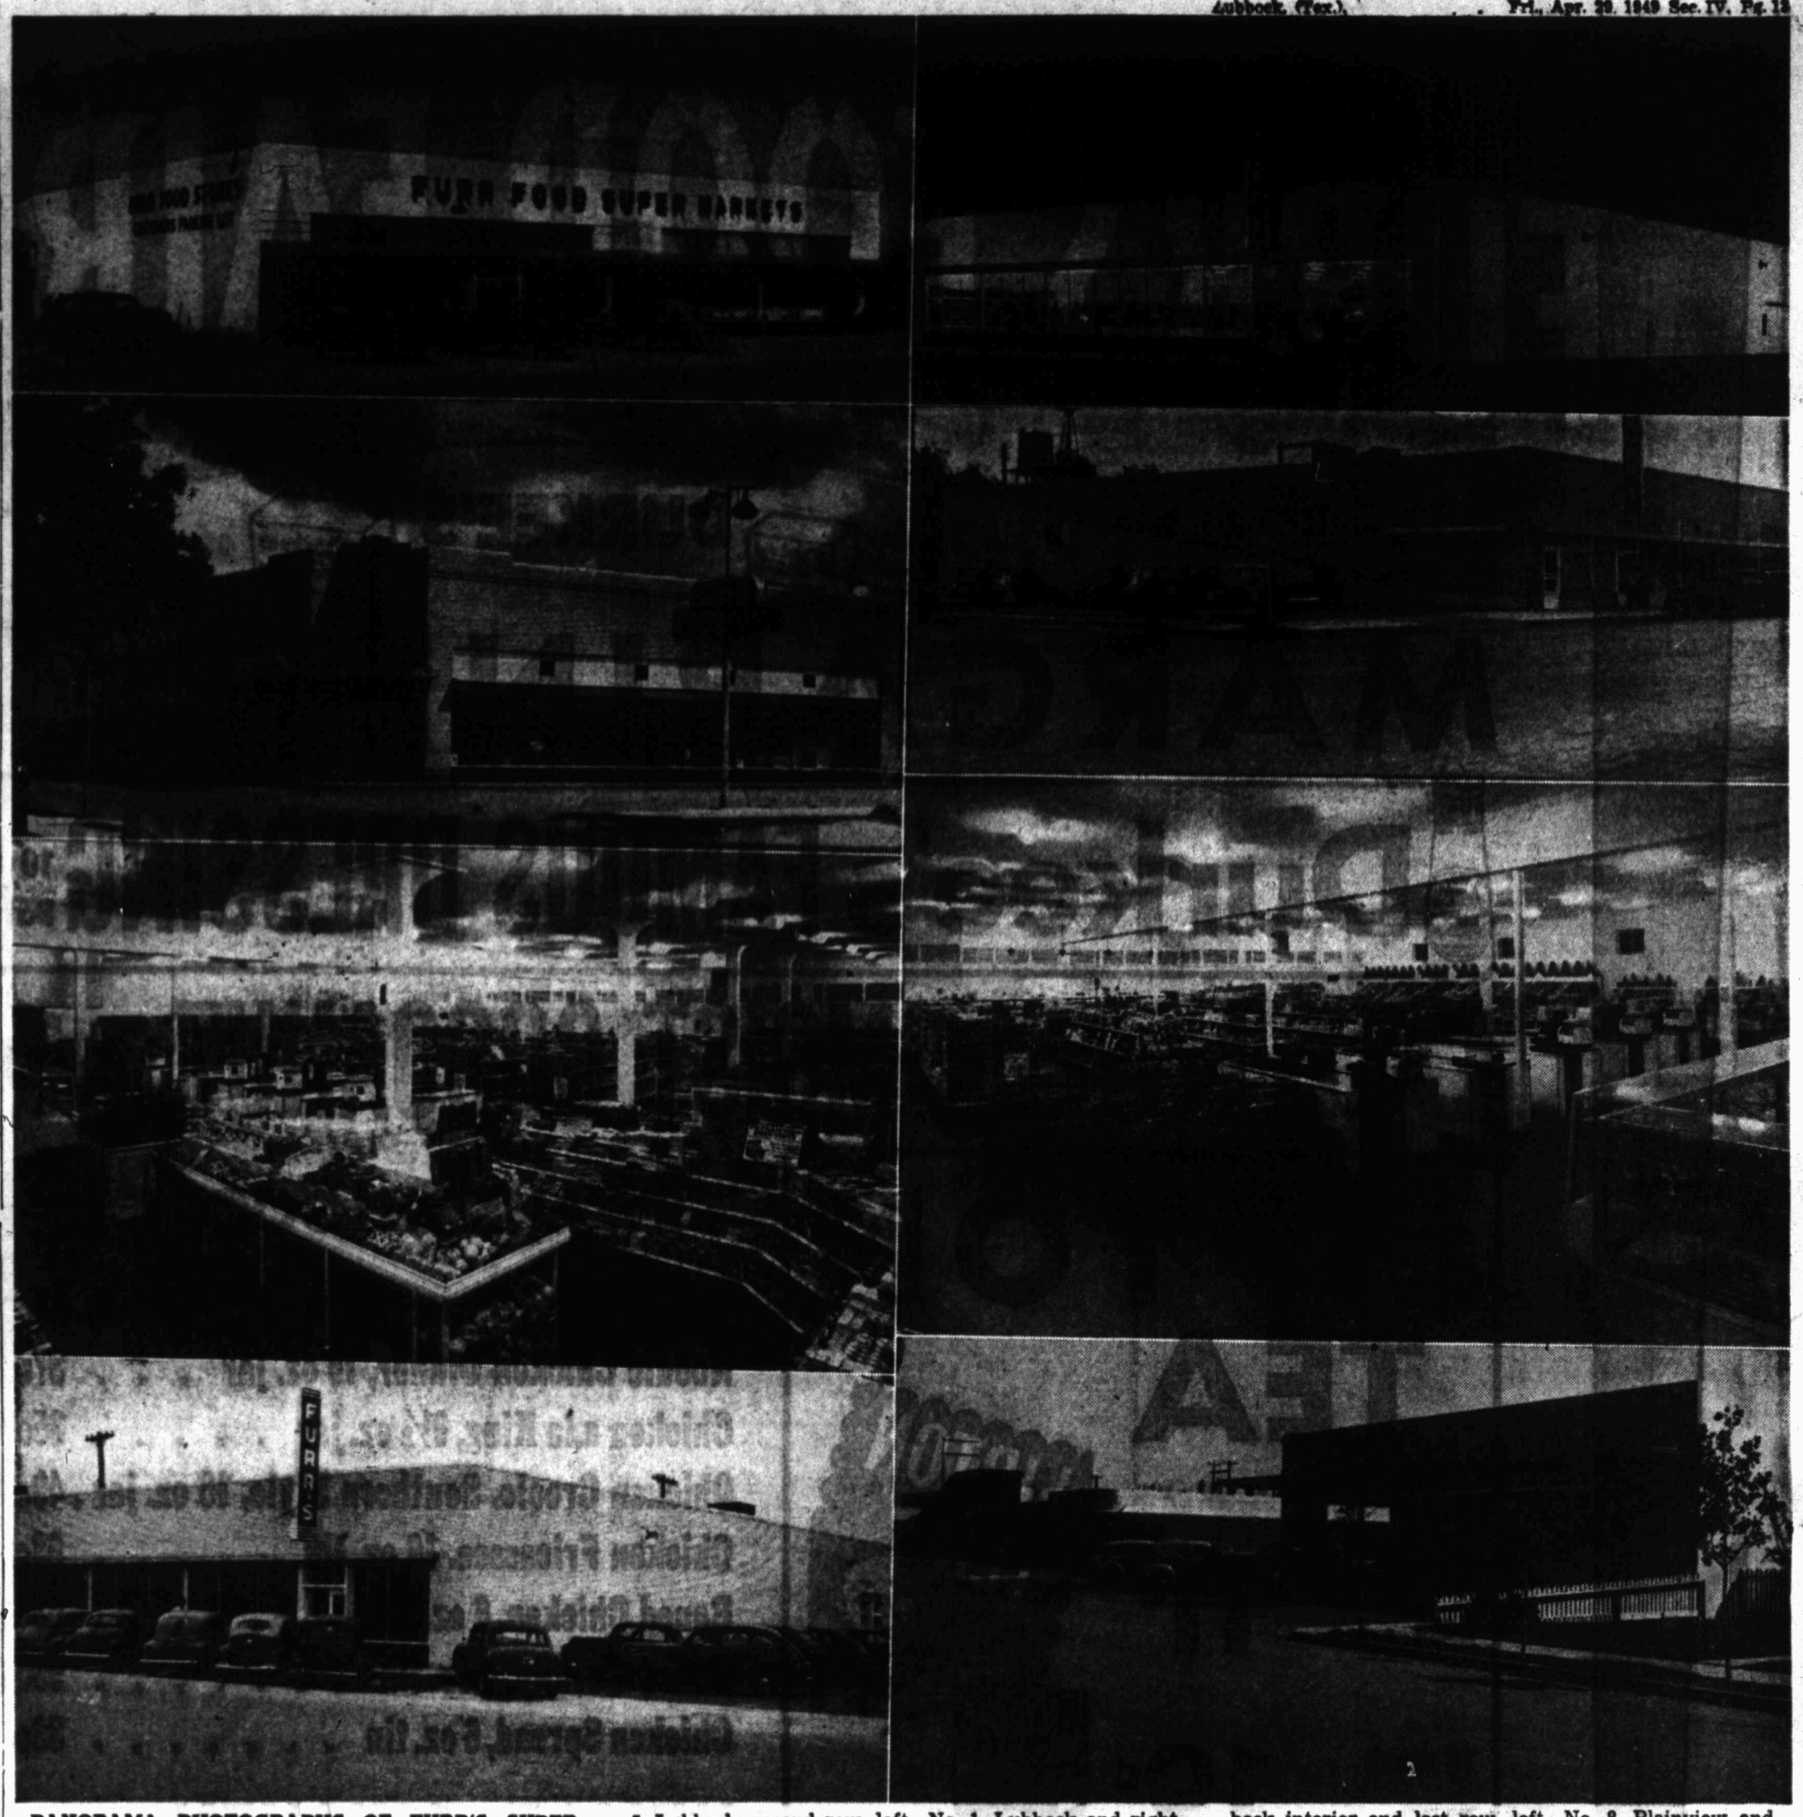

The Lone Star Service company, a welcoming service for newcomers to communities, is affiliated with Furr's in Lubbock, Midland and Odessa.

Navy, Army, Marines and Air Forces veterans are sprinkled among the personnel of Furr's.

Furr's No. 19 Has Complete Self-Service Meat Department

One completely self-service meat departments in Lubbock is the Furr's No. 19 super market on Fourth street.

Here consumers can make their choices from a large variety of meats in open service cases, ranging the full width of the rear of the market. It is the first in Lubbock with a complete list of meats. Prices are marked on each package, priced by pound, too. The meats are packed right in front of the customer, too and she may have the butchers package a choice piece of meat should she care for that.

Cooking Schools Are Being Conducted In Seven Towns

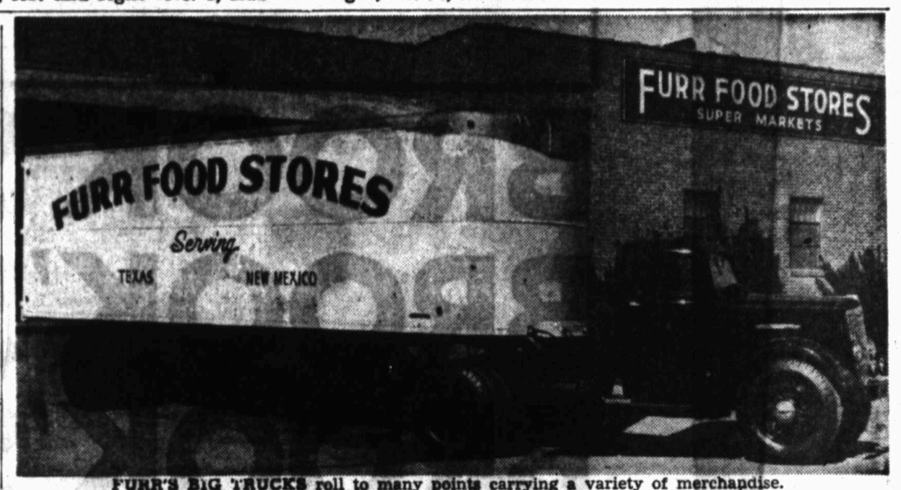

Cooking schools in seven towns of West Texas are being completed this week for Furr's. This week's school is being concluded today at Plainview. Mrs. Marion Roberts, Homemakers Service, is the lecturer.

The schedule opened in Lubbock, and followed weekly in El Paso, Hobbs, Lamesa, Midland and Odessa. In each town 75 bags of groceries and major appliance prizes were given away. Some 30,000 persons in the seven towns have attended the schools, said to be the most attractive witnessed in West Texas for many years.

A softball championship is determined each summer in the Furr's organization. Last year the Lubbock team won out over Carlsbad in the finals and then defeated El Paso's team at El Paso.

A Safety Plaque system of awards is in operation in all Furr's stores, awarded for perfect safety records.

Managers Of Furr's Markets Play Important Roles In Operation

Managers of Furr's Super Markets play important roles in the operation of this large organization.

Each manager is Furr's to every person who walks into the doors. He has been selected after careful consideration by Furr's executives to represent the company through direct contact with the consumer.

In most cases he has been with Furr's a good many years, knows the policies and steps into that role after having earned the promotion. For example, Roger Hurt, of No. 1 on Broadway and R, just recently was transferred from Big Spring where he was assistant manager, now as manager of the key store in Lubbock. Wayne Griffin, No. 19 on Fouth street, came up from Lamesa on the same route.

He is the top man in each store, and works hand in hand with the market manager, head of his department.

The Earl Brown family of Plainview's Furr's Super Market, No. 8, just Thursday became parents of a new boy. Brown is the manager of that store, and formerly assistant to Junior Powell at No. 3, Lubbock, on 19th street.

New Fashions In Food Is Theme Of Furr's Free Cooking School

"New Fashions in Food" is the theme of the second and final cooking to be given by Martha Logan, widely-known home economist for Swift & Company, on May 3, at 10 a. m., from the stage of the Clifton Theatre, Lubbock.

Her appearance has been arranged by Furr's Super Market in celebration of their 45th anniversary.

"New Look" food platters that are both easy to prepare and attractively different will be demonstrated in keeping with Miss Logan's theme. Featured will be a honey glazed ready-to-eat ham, that can be served cold as is, or warm, by just heating through in the oven.

Franks in barbecue sauce prepared in approximately 7 minutes simmering time, when the sauce is made in advance, are Miss Logan's suggestion for tasty backyard or country picnic food fare.

Principles of boiling will be demonstrated by a complete Bacon Boiler meal, which includes oven crisp strips of bacon, browned peach halves and green beans heated below while the bacon is boiling. Broiled loaves of Prem topped with Blue Cheese and mustard and served with asparagus also heated through while the meat is browning is another example of "economy broiling."

"Streamlining Meal Preparation Is Easy" says Miss Logan who proves her point by using a homemade biscuit mix as the base for a Swedish meat ring served with a cooked meat and mushroom filling.

Miss Logan challenges attending homemakers to time her when she prepared her "minute and a half" cold meat tray of table ready mats with a center garnish of cottage cheese and tomato wedges. Another quickie is her peanut butter candy treats—an easy to make "no cooking dessert with a smooth peanut flavor.

"Know how" on planning a party buffet of golden brown chicken fried the day before and served cold with an assortment of cheese foods and natural cheese completes the Martha Logan platter suggestions.

"Furr Food Day" at Mackenzie Park, Lubbock, last August 31, drew some 30,000 people in eight hours. It is planned again for this summer.

Rain and hail caused managers of Furr's Super Markets several headaches this week in Lubbock, but when all Kaiser automobiles on display were found in perfect condition, the matter passed. Only three cars are being given away, but every store has one on display.

Ft. Worth packers of the giant salami sausage, the world's largest, have never seen such an "animal" and were hard to convince that Furr's Super Markets had ordered such an item. When the Food Fair was explained, it was only a matter of getting the order out.

Food Manufacturers from far and wide have already made Lubbock a point on their travel schedule for all this week representatives have been pouring into this community to see Furr's Super Markets decorated for the Food Fair, materials largely supplied by the manufacturers.
