National Thrift Week started Tuesday. This is "Own Your Own Home Day." An editorial from the Builder's Guide of Philadelphia is worth while on Own Your Own Home Day: "For instance, THRIFT does not mean hoarding money. One thousand and six hundred homes burn each day in the United States through lack of thrift. Think of it and most of them preventable as they are the result of carelessness on the part of the builder who does not protect the wooden structural members where they are most liable to be attacked by fire. There are five most dangerous places that can be successfully protected by using fire resisting materials, for instance, over the heating plant, just a little square of metal lath and plaster, ten feet by ten feet, will cut down this hazard; underneath and around stairways; under inhabited floors; back of kitchen ranges, and a basket of metal lath used as a fire stop where the uprights and the floor joists meet will stop these flues-like openings and prevent the flames spreading to all parts of the building. The insurance companies ,who are interested in the Thrift Movement, would rather have a lower rate of insurance and less fires, but we have to learn the difference between a hazard and a loss before this can be accomplished, and to realize that the fire menace is always with us. If the money loss from fires in the United States for one year could be used for constructive work, it would build homes for the entire inhabitants for a state the size of Connecticut, which has a population of 1,320,585. Build your home like a battle ship and protest the most vulnerable points. This will be the best investment you can make. Money spent for fire prevention will save you thousands of dollars, if a fire should visit your home and that is what THRIFT means."

Dr. Atticus Webb warns the people of the South, Texas included, that unless the bootleggers are run into the ocean or into the penitentiary, a Republican congress will enact the Dyer Anti-Lynching bill. Dr. Atticus is a bit excited but he is reminded that 3,436 persons have been lynched by mobs ince 1889. Only 17 per cent of the victims of mob law were accused of assaulting women and the lynched victims included 64 women. It is said that 95 per cent of these lynchings took place in Southern States. A wise American has said that "mob rule is government by a minority—the very thing our Republic was founded to avoid." Has Dr. Atticus ever lifted his golden voice against the rule of Judge Lynch and his minority. If not, why not?

"If the farms fail the cities automatically perish," declares George Robinson in the Waco Times-Herald. This reminds Editor W. E. Gilliland of the Baird Star that agriculture is the basis of all wealth. This is the viewpoint of Editor Gilliland who was born in Texas seventy years ago and moved from Washington to Callahan more than forty years ago: "Governor Roberts, the 'Old Alcalde,' said in his book: 'Civilization began and ended with the

PROSPECT FOR HARDING'S PET MEASURE GOOD

Congress Has Discovered That Reorganization Bill Will Avoid Lost Motion and Extra Expense.

Measure Inaccurately Known as "Brown Bill" Largely Regarded as Test of the President's Influence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—It looks as though the government reorganization bill would trundle through congress on castors. It looks that way. Between the day when the trundling starts and the day when President Harding signs the law it may strike some rough going, of course, but those most interested are optimistic now.

"I do not lieve that we will encounter any serious opposition," said the man who has done more than any other one in hammering the bill into shape.

For reasons of his own, he does not want his name used, but it is safe to say that he is more thoroughly conversant with the situation than any other man in Washington. He is regarded almost as the personal representative of President Harding in the preliminary work of preparing the bill, and has sounded the sentiment in both houses of congress.

Going Dawes One Better.

"This is the one bill for which President Harding must take an active personal part," said another man. "He has committed himself, head over heels, to the reorganization and the budget bills. The Dawes budget seems to be going through as prepared—except that congress here and there has been going Dawes one or two better by knocking out some thousands of dollars of appropriations that he wanted in—and President Harding is expected to insist that the re-organization bill be given the same consideration by congress.

Mr. Harding's attitude toward congress is well known now. He does not believe the executive ought to attempt to exert influence upon the legislative end except on rare occasions. The re-organization bill is one of the ocasions. As a senator he demanded a complete change in the government's business methods and as president he has let it be known that he would insist upon the passage of what is loosely and inaccurately known as the "Brown bill," because Walter F. Brown of Toledo, at the request of Mr. Harding, aided in the preparation of the measure, although not a member of congress.

Is Test For the President.

"If President Harding does not use every ounce of weight he has in urging this bill on congress that body will feel itself justified in disregarding the president's future wishes," said a member of the lower house. "His position is so well known that if he does not back that position up no one will care in the future what position he takes toward domestic legislation."

The so-called Brown bill will merely reshuffle the various working divisions of the government. The army and navy will be put under a single head, thereby eliminating an enormous body of foolish and unnecessary competition in buying and to some extent avoiding wasteful sales of excess supplies. A saving in warehouse costs and ship service will be possible also, as both services have maintained their own warehouses and fleets.

The tangled administration of Alaskan affairs will be bettered. Secretary Fall of the department of the interior, has made precisely the same statement that almost every other secretary of the interior has made in the past, to the effect that the administration of Alaskan affairs can be infinitely improved if placed under a single chief. At present thirty-eight different bureaus and other bodies have a swing at it. Alaska will be intrusted to the department of the interior under the Brown bill, although certain governmental services, such as the mails, must be retained in their proper departments.

A new department of welfare, although this may not be the name

MINERS' STRIKE SEEMS CERTAIN SAYS HOOVER

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Secretary Hoover declared today the stage appears to be set for a general strike in the bituminous coal industry at the end of March when existing wage contracts expire.

Mr. Hoover said that the lack of progress made in negotiations looking towards avoiding a break between coal operators and miners indicated that the situation was moving toward a strike.

Mr. Hoover indicated that negotiations carried on by administration officials with representatives of both sides in the coal industry had not produced any concrete results and the impression was given that further negotiations were not contemplated at present.

GERMANY MUST HONOR TREATY, SAYS POINCARE

Obligations Must Be Entirely Fulfilled and No Leniency May Be Expected, Declares Premier.

Poincare Accorded Greatest Ovation Since Memorable Address of Clemenceau During War.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Raymond Poincare, president of the republic, during the war and now Premier of France, with the French chamber practically unanimously behind him, served notice on Germany today that so long as he held office in conducting the destinies of his country Germany must fulfill the obligations she entered upon at Versailles, and may expect no leniency.

"The Versailles treaty binds us to our allies," he said, "but it binds Germany to us all. It must be carried out."

These were his final words before leaving the Tribune, after replying to various interpellations. His pronouncement summed up the whole program.

Never since the Germans threatened Chateau-Thierry, when Clemenceau appeared before the chamber of deputies to tell France that all was not yet lost, and there was still hope of victory, has a French premier received such an ovation as greeted M. Poincare today when he presented before the deputies the ministerial declaration.

Alert and active, all the pent up and suppressed energy stored up during seven passive years in Elysee Palace radiating from his physically small frame, M. Poincare instilled into the chamber the spirit which has been lacking since Clemenceau's departure. Germany must honor her signature at Versailles, declared the premier, not only with respect to reparations which was a matter of "life or death to France," but also disarmament and the punishment of the war criminals.

The premier openly declared that should Germany fail to carry out either of the two latter undertakings it would be considered as a violation of the Versailles treaty, giving France complete freedom of action. He advocated the virtual elimination of the supreme council, with reversion to former diplomatic channels in dealing between nations, with the supreme council "called upon from time to time to confirm agreements, rather than negotiate them." This was another radical departure from France foreign policy.

COAL INDUSTRY ASKS REDUCED FREIGHT RATES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Claims of the coal industry for decreased railroad rates were presented to the interstate commerce commission today in the investigation which it is making into the general level of transportation rates, J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal association, and representative of the largest group of coal mine operators, declared his organization would not attempt to say what railroad earnings would stand in the way of freight reductions but asserted that if any were granted they should be accorded to coal first and to the largest degree.

Mr. Morrow estimated that freights on coal had increased as much as 200 per cent since 1914 and that the present average cost of transportating a ton from the mines to the consumer was $2.74, while the price of the product itself at the mine was $2.14.

EVANGELIST WITH SINGER KIDNAPPED; WARNED TO LEAVE

By Associated Press.

SALIDA, Colo., Jan. 19.—The Rev. James W. Kramer, evangelist and Ralph E. Mitchell, choir leader, who have been holding revival meetings here, announced today that they were kidnapped while on their way to their hotel last night by eight armed men. They were forced to enter a waiting automobile and were taken to Wellsville, six miles from Salida, where they were thrown out of the car. They were informed by the leader of the men that "the boys of Salida can have wine, women and song if they want it without any interference from any sky pilot from Denver," they said.

Kramer and Mitchell were told to remain away from Salida. Mitchell walked to Salida, obtained a motor car and brought Kramer back. The evangelist has been preaching against alleged immoral conditions here.

Poincare Given Deputies' Vote Of Confidence

Raymond Poincare.

By Associated Press

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The new Poincare government was given a vote of confidence by the chamber of deputies this evening. The vote was 472 to 107.

Premier Poincare was given a hearty ovation by all except the socialists and communist groups, numbering sixty-eight. Deputy Marcel Cachin and Alexandre Blac were the only ones to interrupt the premier, M. Cachin shouting the charge that Premier Poincare was responsible for the war, but this charge met with shouts from the other deputies "Go sit in the reichstag."

The ensuing remarks were dropped in the applause which followed.

Former Premier Briand resumed his old seat in the chamber and applauded the new premier along with the others.

Deputy Cachin spoke to almost empty benches.

M. Kachin, accused Premier Poincare of being the embodiment of an imperialist policy which had isolated France from her former allies. Only a day or two ago, he said a resolution introduced by Senator McCormick, directed against France, had passed the American senate.

HEARSAY IS RULED INSUFFICIENT FOR SEARCH WARRANTS

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Jan. 19.—Judge James C. Wilson of the United States district court in an opinion today held that actual evidence of violation of law must be produced before a United States commissioner or other official may issue a search warrant, and hearsay is not sufficient evidence. The ruling was in the case known as Davenport et al. charged with violation of the Volstead act. In this particular case the court held the search warrant had not been granted legally.

The court also held that mere possession of a still which might be suitable for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor did not in itself constitute a violation of the Volstead act. The prosecution must show the still actually was used illegally.

YOUTH IS ALLEGED TO HAVE WRITTEN THREATENING NOTE

By Associated Press.

COLEMAN, Texas, Jan. 19.—A young man who told police his name was Blackwell was arrested today when he called at the postoffice for a letter addressed to "G. Bradford," which was an answer to one received last Sunday by Mrs. R. H. Overall, wealthy ranch owner and which demanded that she mail a cashiers' check for $800 to "Bradford." The letter is alleged to have been signed "Ku Klux Klan organization of Coleman county." There were no other marks of distinction to identify the Ku Klux Klan with the letter.

EXPLOSION AT SHOE FACTORY KILLS WORKER

By Associated Press.

BROCKTON, Mass., Jan. 19.—One man was killed and two injured in an explosion that tore out the roof of the Gowdy Box Toe company late today. The blast set fire to thirty-eight barrels of denatured alcohol and before the flames were checked, the building was destroyed and three dwelling houses near the factory were badly damaged.

Two hundred and fifty employes of the Elliott Shoe company whose plant adjoined the property of the Gowdy company, escaped from their building in safety.

AGREEMENT IS NEARED ON FAR EAST QUESTION

Mutual Pledge Against Discriminatory Railroad Practices in China Recorded by Committee.

U. S. Proposal to Throw Light of Publicity on Chinese Committments Is Tentatively Accepted.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Pushing forward rapidly toward the conclusion of its labors the Far Eastern committee of the Washington conference today recorded a mutual pledge against discriminatory railroad practices in China and then gave general approval to a proposal that the whole multitude of treaties and understandings to China's interest be published to the world.

The suggestion for a show down of all Chinese committments came from the American delegation, was promptly supported by the Chinese and after a discussion received in turn the tentative endorsement of the British, Japanese, and French. A formal resolution embodying the decision is to be considered at a meeting of the committee tomorrow, but it is doubtful whether the publication will be accomplished before the conference ends.

In expressing assent most of the plenipotentiaries declared that virtually all such agreements to which their respective governments were parties already had been made public, and the Japanese interposed the suggestion that there might be much difficulty in making the list complete, because of engagements of various private individuals and corporations of which the governments had no knowledge. The resolution is expected to provide that each government make known whatever information it has regarding the separate agreements entered into by its nationals.

The five power treaty for limitation of naval armament has undergone further changes in the course of a final overhauling by experts and it now is complete except for the article establishing a fortifications status quo in the Pacific.

When a solution of the fortifications problem will be possible is regarded by some delegates as a dubious question, but in other quarters there still is hope that a plenary session to announce publicly conclusion of the treaty may be held by early next week.

VET TELLS OF EXECUTION BY FIRING SQUAD

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—George Washington Yarbrough, a high school teacher of Roanoke, Alabama, and rated as the welterweight champion of the A. E. F., told a senate investigating committee today that he had witnessed the shooting of an American soldier by a firing squad near the Chateau Thierry region in July, 1918.

Regarded by the committee as probable the most clear-headed of all the former service men testifying concerning the alleged hanging of soldiers without trial, Yarbrough, himself a reluctant witness, declared the sight of the man being led to his death, with hands tied behind his back, made him forget for the moment the screeching of enemy shells flying overhead. The witness said he was close enough when the officer commanding the squad gave the order to fire to hear the soldier, barely 20 years old, plead to be permitted to die, with his eyes unbound.

Members of the committee and Colonel Walter A. Bethel, assistant judge advocate general, listened closely to the recital, for evidence from war department sources heretofore presented failed to show where men had met death that way. Yarbrough was pressed by Colonel Bethel, who declared he was not attempting to break down his story, but seeking to obtain some data which might enable him to check up on the shooting.

Much testimony relating to alleged abuse of enlisted men cropped out today along with further references to the conduct of "Hard Boiled" Smith. Two former service men testified they had seen three public executions at Is-Sur-Tille, at which station war department records show only two men were hanged.

The hearing was adjourned until next Wednesday.

STATE AID ASKED IN ENFORCING LAW IN ORANGE COUNTY

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—R. L. Davis, county attorney of Orange county, called on Governor Neff today and asked for aid in enforcing the laws in his county. He advised the governor that already a large number of law breakers driven out of Mexia by state rangers had taken up their work in the new oil field at Orange and that he expected a multitude of others to come.

TESTIMONY AT TRIAL OF ACTOR SENSATIONAL

Prosecution Witness Charges She Was Intimated Into Making Assertion at Previous Trial.

State's Attempt to Have the Testimony Impaired Because of "Hostility" of the Witness Fails.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Miss Zey Prevost, show girl and a leading witness for the prosecution "does not remember whether she told the truth in the first trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle," she testified today in the second trial of the film comedian on a manslaughter charge. At the conclusion of her testimony today she was ordered to court tomorrow. No reason for the order was assigned.

An hour's interruption of the trial because of the cold weather which reached into the court room, and the sudden withdrawal of Miss Prevost from the stand when her alleged inability to remember certain evidence was characterized as "hostile" by the prosecution, were outstanding features today. Overcoats were brought to the jurors, but a half hour later a recess was taken, when the alleged "hostile" attitude of Miss Prevost was developed further and when the court reporters complained that their fingers were so stiff with cold that they could not take their notes with the necessary speed.

Miss Prevost returned to the stand later. She was asked if Miss Virginia Rappe, whose death was made the basis of the charge against Arbuckle, said "he hurt me" after she was alleged to have been fatally injured at a party in the hotel St. Francis. The witness said she did not hear Miss Rappe make such a statement. She was shown her testimony of the previous trial, in which, according to the prosecution, she said that Miss Rappe exclaimed "He hurt me," upon the matter being developed further the witness made the admission that she did not remember if she told the truth in the first trial.

Miss Prevost, who was one of the principal guests at the party was on the stand most of the day. She charged that the district attorney took her into custody and threatened to send her to jail if she did not make a statement to the effect that Miss Rappe exclaimed:

"He killed me!"

Later she testified she made a statement against her will, which embodies the exclamation: "He hurt me."

A motion by the prosecution that it be allowed to impair the testimony of Miss Prevost on the ground that it was "surprising" and showed her a "hostile witness" was denied by the court.

The ruling prevented the prosecution from presenting the jury certain positive evidence offered by Miss Prevost at the last trial which she "did not remember" in her testimony today.

MURDER CHARGE IS OUTGROWTH FATAL PARADE AT LORENA

By The Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, Jan. 19.—The grand jury this afternoon indicted Sheriff Bob Buchanan on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Louis Crow at Lorena October 1. Crow was stabbed during the attempt to stop the Ku Klux Klan parade and died four days later. Buchanan himself was shot twice. Seven others were wounded. Two other indictments were returned in connection with the affair.

Buchanan went to Lorena on the night of the parade, announcing after reaching that place that he would not permit it to take place. After repeated conferences the parade started and the disturbances began when the sheriff attempted to stop the procession.

It was claimed that Mr. Crow was one of the spectators from Waco at Lorena on the night of the tragedy.

PARRISH PAYS LEE TRIBUTE AT MEMORIAL

Special to the Record News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Under the auspicies of the Mildred Lee chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy and also the children of the Confederacy, a memorial service in celebration of the birthday of Robert E. Lee was held in Statuary Hall at the Capitol today with Congressman Lucien W. Parrish of Texas, the speaker of the occasion.

Standing under the dome of the capitol, Mr. Parrish praised the life of Robert E. Lee as a citizen, soldier and statesman, and paused long enough to express the hope that the immortal spirit of Lee, represented by the statue standing between the two houses of congress would serve to stay the hands of the federal government which has of late manifested a tendency to overreach the rights of state and to take from them powers that rightly belong to them.

Mr. Parrish said that impartial critics of history had given General Lee a place among the great military strategists of the world and that all good men everywhere point to him as the highest type of christian gentleman.

W. A. KEELING MAY RESIGN AS TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—Speaking of the rumors afloat that Attorney General W. A. Keeling will resign within the next few days, Governor Neff said today that General Keeling's decision would probably be known tomorrow. General Keeling returns then from Mexia and Governor Neff expects his decision to be made then as to whether he will retire from the attorney general's office.

Receiver John A. Hulen, or Story Of a Lean Rail That Put on Fat

By H. N. F.

General John A. Hulen carried a brigade of Texas soldiers to France and he carried the brigade back to Texas after the world war was over. Many years before he carried a Texas regiment to the Philippines where the successor of the old Thirteenth made history for Texas and this Republic.

General Hulen is receiver of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railway. This railway is the property of the Burlington and the Rock Island systems. It is a fifty-fifty proposition. During war time and government control the Trinity and Brazos Valley did not pay operating expenses. Neither did it pay operating expenses in peace time after government control ceased to exist.

Then the Burlington passed the buck to the Rock Island and the Rock Island passed it back. The Burlington was anxious to sell; the Rock Island was anxious to sell. They continued to pass the buck but couldn't get together.

It is different now.

Mexia blossomed into being as the richest oil field on the continent of North America and Receiver John A. Hulen of the Trinity and Brazos Valley became a very busy man. Why the little Old Brazos Valley is said to be making a million dollars a month and has all the traffic that she has rolling stock to carry and all the rolling stock that she can buy or borrow.

Yes, it is different now.

Buck passing is a memory.

The Burlington owns 50 per cent of the Trinity and Brazos Valley and the Rock Island owns 50 per cent and the Trinity and Brazos Valley is making money galore. Mexia loosened up just in time.

Receiver John A. Hulen was on the job. Now Hale Holden of the Burlington is glad that the Burlington owns 50 per cent of the Trinity and Brazos Valley and no doubt James A. Gorman of the Rock Island is glad that he didn't accept the buck when Hale Holden passed it to him with this admonition, "Buy or sell."

Flowers for the living!

John A. Hulen is living. There are thousands of former service men who love him. There are thousands who are not former service men who admire him. He was made receiver of a rail skeleton.

Now he is putting flesh on the skeleton and it bids fair to grow into a lusty giant of the rail world.

Petroleum made it so. Petroleum placed Mexia on the map and when Mexia was placed on the map the Trinity and Brazos Valley passed from its lean year existence to fat years.

MAN AND CHILD ARE SERIOUSLY BURNED IN FIRE

B. M. Finger, Whose Home on Ninth Is Destroyed, Rescues Three Sleeping Children.

Rushing back into his burning home after leaving it, thinking his children had already been taken out, B. M. Finger, truck driver, living at 207 Burnett street, was severely burned Thursday night in rescuing his three children from the bedroom where they lay asleep when the fire started. After pitching one 9-year-old girl out through a burning doorway, Finger grasped the two smaller children in his arms and ran through flames of an adjoining room to safety.

One child, a two-year-old babe, was also severely burned. At the Wichita General hospital where they were rushed following the rescue, attending physicians said the condition of the father and babe was critical. Both were burned severely about the face and body. The hair of the baby was burned off.

Mrs. Finger, who was also in the house and the other children sustained only minor injuries. Two older children of the family were not at home.

The fire is thought to have originated from a wood fire. Mr. and Mrs. Finger and the three children had gone to bed and were asleep when awakened by the fire and the calls of neighbors. Both the parents rushed out of the house, each thinking the other had taken care of the children, according to the reports of neighbors. Mr. Finger rushed back into the house as soon as the mistake was discovered.

The house which belonged to Sam Sprowles was burned to the ground with a loss estimated at $1,000. Efforts of firemen saved the two adjoining houses which were slightly damaged. The fire started at 9 p. m.

SUCCESSOR OF BUCK GARRET IS 'ORGANIZED'

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 19.—With his deputy force completed with the exception of a single man to be appointed for duty in the Wilson district, Ewing C. London, temporary sheriff of Carter county, succeeding Buck Garrett, pending trial of the latter on cruelty charges was ready tonight to take full charge of the office.

"When court convenes tomorrow," London stated tonight, "it will find us ready to serve every process and every warrant issued since the administration of my oath of office. Things are running smoothly and I anticipate no trouble in getting my organization into action."

Of the new force, three are ex-service men, London, McCann and Short.

WOMAN OF EIGHTY SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR SHOPLIFTING

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 19.—Juanita Martinez, 80 years old, grandmother and frail and tottering, was given a sentence of six months in the Bexar county jail for stealing two gold bars of 86 values from a department store here. At the same time, a two-year suspended sentence imposed on Jose Contreras, 17 years, was set aside for rehearing. No suspension went with the sentence on the woman.

COLD WAVE SPREAD TO EAST FROM THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

By Associated Press.

DALSAS, Texas, Jan. 19.—The Panhandle and West and North Texas was in the grip of the coldest weather of the winter today while in the Lower Rio Grande Valley a summer-like temperature was reported. It was generally cloudy over the state, according to the local weather bureau with possibility of snow in the Panhandle and Northern sections.

At Brownsville the thermometer stood at 70 degrees this morning, the warmest spot on the Texas weather map. Amarillo, with 2 above zero, was the coldest. At Abilene the mercury stood at 16, Denison 18, Fort Worth 19, Dallas 23 and still dropping. Waco 26 and Austin 30. A strong north wind accompanied the cold.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Jan. 19—The winter drought prevalent throughout mid-west wheat belt was little relieved by snow or other precipitation in the severely cold wave which struck the middle west yesterday and last night. Eastern Nebraska and Iowa got a snow of from 1 1-2 to 2 inches, but Missouri and Kansas, especially the western half of the latter state, received little more than a trace. Some few local points reported as high as three inches, according to P. Connor, weather forecaster here, but for the most part the moisture was "negligible."

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—A cold wave, bearing snow, reached eastward from the Rock Mountains today leaving behind the coldest weather known in Washington and Oregon since 1909 and below zero weather in the nearer western states.

The reduced temperatures will spread into Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and southwestern states, the government weather bureau said.

At Deer Park, Wash., 25 miles from Spokane, a temperature of 35 degrees below zero was recorded. Northern Idaho and Montana are experiencing below zero and at Billings, Mont., the temperature fell to 20 degrees below. Casper, Wyo., reported 36 degrees below and a three-inch snowfall.

Denver dispatches told of extreme cold in Colorado, while from San Francisco came word that the cold wave had penetrated the southern part of the state, causing snow to fall at Redlands, in the heart of the citrus fruit district and threatening crops. At Reno, Nev., the temperature was seven degrees below.

Kansas City reported that the thermometer there had reached the 10-degree above mark, while indications were that it would go even lower. Snow, sleet and rain accompanied the cold.

Texas felt the cold wave which reached far south into that state, while New Orleans was preparing for some unusual cold weather following the forecast of a drop in temperature of 40 degrees in parts of Louisiana and Mississippi.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 19. The cold wave which yesterday and last night swept over the Rock Mountain region carrying new low temperature records for the year, was moving southward today followed by a moderation, according to the district weather forecaster.

The cold wave is expected to reach the extreme southeastern part of Mexico tonight.

BURKBURNETT GIRL BURNED THURSDAY

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Jan. 19.—Miss Lilly Anderson was severely burned on the hips and lower limbs at her home today when her clothing became ignited while stooping over before an open gas fire. Her mother was also burned about the face and hands while trying to extinguish the flames. Miss Anderson was taken to the hospital for treatment, where it was found that while her wounds are not expected to prove fatal that she is in a very serious condition.

At 5 o'clock this morning, the home and furniture with all their personal effects of J. M. Phillips and family, located five miles from here in the Springtown community was destroyed. Mr. Phillips is an employe of the Magnolia company at this place.

The Littlefield Oil and Gas office northwest of town was destroyed, and several other fires of a minor nature occurred during the day, but were controlled by the local fire company.

finally selected, will be added to the present list as represented in the cabinet. The title sufficiently describes its functions. It may take some of the present duties of the secretary of labor and the secretary of commerce from them through a transfer of the operating bureaus. Agriculture may lose some of its control of the road building services, and commerce may take from the department of state some of the trade reporting duties of the consular service of today.

Merely a Rearrangement.

On the whole, however, it may be said that little change will be made in the nature of the duties now performed by government. They will merely be rearranged, so that each task will be assigned to the department to which it naturally belongs. The perception of this fact has lessened much of the opposition at first threatened by congress. Certain bureau chiefs feared that their authority might be lessened by the change, and others were constitutionally opposed to any interference with their bureaus for any reason whatever. They made themselves felt on The Hill. Now that congress has perceived, however, that the bill means only the performance of the government's business affairs in a more workmanlike way, and the elimination of a great deal of the present red tape, it seems likely that the bill will be passed upon consideration.

It has been estimated that this will save the government some millions of dollars annually through the elimination of lost motion and lost time and duplicated papers. But the precise saving cannot be accurately estimated. Perhaps the greatest benefit will be to the feelings of those having dealings with the government. At present they spend a god part of their time in a paper chase.

ROBERTSON TAKES ACTION IN AFFAIR AT OKLAHOMA CITY

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 19.—A telegram was received from Governor J. B. A. Robertson at Waco, Texas, tonight by Joseph O'Brien, secretary of the governor here, announcing a $2,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the mob participants in connection with the lynching of Jake Brooks, negro worker at a local packing plant.

The governor also wired his secretary to tell the people of Oklahoma "to keep cool and I will make a thorough investigation."

The message was in response to one received by Governor Robertson from the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce requesting governmental intervention in the packing strike situation here.

DEFENDANTS WIN SUIT ON CONTRACT

Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court Thursday granted a verdict in favor of the defendant in the suit of Ray Bell and others against E. J. Pope and associates. The plaintiffs in their petition asked for $3,000 alleged to be due them on a drilling contract.

The defense contended that there had been fraud in the carrying out of the drilling contract and that the bills presented had never been approved by the defendant.

Newberry and His Sons After Hearing That Senate Had Voted to Seat Him

By a vote of 46 to 41, the U. S. Senate held that Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, is entitled to his seat and dismissed Henry Ford's charges against him. It was charged the expenditure of $195,000 in the Michigan primary was a violation of the law on campaign expenditures. Senator Newberry's sons, Barnes and Phelps, were interested spectators in the senate chamber during the debate. Mr. Newberry is shown here with them (Barnes at the left) after hearing the results of the vote.

JURY MAKES AWARD IN SUIT OVER FORD

After a brief deliberation Thursday afternoon a jury in the county court at law awarded William H. Moore of Walters, Oklahoma, $400 damages against Hub Ruthford of Burkburnett the amount representing the value of a Ford automobile claimed by both. The verdict was rendered after an all afternoon trial of the case.

The suit grew out of the theft of two Ford automobiles several months ago, one from the plaintiff and the other from Oscar Stuart of Burkburnett. An automobile recovered by officers at Burkburnett was claimed by Stuart, who later sold it to Ruthford who has held it for five months.

The plaintiff claimed that the car was the one stolen and introduced testimony to substantiate his claims.

MOTHER'S PLEA KINDLY HEARD BY PRESIDENT

Aged Woman Confident Her Long Pilgrimage to White House in Behalf of Son Was Not in Vain.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The prayers of a mother for her errant soldier son fell on sympathetic ears at the White House today and Mrs. Margaret Anderson, the 63 year old mother, who made her way largely afoot from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, to Washington, left the White House strong with hopes that her son would soon be restored to her.

After seeing the president today, Mrs. Anderson declared that now she was sure help would speedily come for her son, Joseph, who is serving a two-year sentence at Leavenworth on a charge of desertion from the army.

The boy, a private in company K, 159th infantry of the 35th division, was wounded and gassed at the Argonne. After his return from abroad he received a furlough but failed to return to his regiment. He then enlisted in a coast artillery unit under a different name, which constitutes desertion under military law.

Mrs. Anderson as she was being taken by a White House messenger at the order of the president to consult pardon attorneys at the department of justice, declared that her visit had not been in vain, that she had not tramped many weary miles through snowy roads for nothing and that "everything is all right and I am happy now."

Pardon Attorney James A. Finch, and Warren F. Martin, secretary to the attorney general, said Mrs. Anderson was writing tonight to Fort Leavenworth for additional data concerning her son which would be the first step in the process of obtaining his freedom.

"I am sure the president will not disappoint me," Mrs. Anderson said, "and I am going back to Fort Leavenworth to wait at the gates."

Mrs. Anderson expressed herself as delighted with her reception in Washington.

"When I went to the White House," she said, "I did not expect to see the president, but was ushered right into his office and when I found myself before President Harding I was nearly paralyzed."

Mrs. Anderson is to spend a day or two in Washington before going to Fort Leavenworth. She said she would not walk back.

COMMITTEES IN C. OF C. DRIVE TO MEET FRIDAY

Members of both the general committee, having in charge the larger subscriptions, and of the "shock" committee, organized to deal with special cases, will meet at the chamber of commerce rooms at 9:30 Friday morning, according to announcement by Hubert Harrison, general manager.

The general committee, which includes W. D. Cline, G. Clint Wood, W. B. Pyron, C. H. Clark, N. H. Martin and J. M. McFall, have quite a number of the larger subscribers, who have been out of town, yet to see.

The "shock" committee includes: L. M. Forcier, Burton Stayton, N. O. Monroe, Henry Daugherty, Henry Hobbs, J. W. Chatham, Jr., J. M. McFall, Jerome Stone, and A. W. Burnside.

Publication of a membership list is planned at an early date, according to Mr. Harrison. This list will also include a number of firms who are desired as members of the chamber of commerce.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THE PRO LAW?

"The Efficiency of a Law Largely Depends Upon Extent of Enforcement," Declares Rev. Webb.

"The Key to All Law Enforcement Lies in the Policy and Efficiency of the Local Officers."

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 17.—Declaring that the prohibition laws of America will never be satisfactorily enforced until each state "honestly gets on the job," the Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, today gave that body a program to be followed in its work.

"Any propaganda to the contrary is for the purpose of defeating prohibition," the Rev. Mr. Webb said, in addressing the annual convention of the league. "This propaganda has had disastrous results in Texas, until our state has largely broken down in its efforts to enforce this law. It should be the task of this state convention to inaugurate constructive measures to enable our state to successfully suppress the liquor traffic.

"I insist that the state of Texas shall get on to the job of enforcing the state prohibition law.

"If Texas will not get on to the job of enforcing her laws, then she must accept the consequences. There is a bill now introduced into congress called the Dyer anti-lynching bill which proposes to come into each state that fails to suppress lynching, take charge of the situation and remove the local officers, guilty of such neglect. I am against that bill. I am against the federal government interferring with our home affairs, but we must face the facts. If Texas cannot suppress lynching, the federal government will have to do so. If Texas cannot enforce h own laws, then Uncle Sam will have to come to our rescue. Unless Texas gets on the job of enforcing state prohibition we must accept the inevitable that the federal government will have to police our own territory.

"There are four things that we need to do in my opinion. There is still a legislative program necessary, there still remains some weakness in our law. Let us appoint a committee to carefully consider the legislative needs to formulate their bills and put them into the hands of good men in the legislature and ask their consideration. We will not be disappointed.

Needed Legislation.

"I may here mention a few laws that I believe we need. They are simply mentioned for your consideration.

"I feel sure that we will soon face a crisis regarding the search and seizure question. It has not yet been raised and just what is needed does not yet appear, but the liquor interests of the nation are centering their attack right there to defeat the enforcement of prohibition. By distorting the fourth amendment to the federal constitution, they are making outrageous claims for the liberties of the bootleggers and moonshiners.

"In the effort so to amend the Dean bill at our last called session of the legislature, probably inadvertently the bill was so written that the higher courts have held that it is no longer a violation of the Texas law to possess a still for making intoxicating liquor. This should be corrected. The federal government makes possession of a still illegal and the state law should do the same.

"Our police blotters show that quite a few are brought into the police courts of our cities and the lower courts throughout the country, charged with being drunk. We have heard of few or no efforts being made by the officers to find out where these parties get the liquor with which to become soused. On the other hand, the officers claim they cannot get the evidence of the violation of the prohibition law. It seems to me that there is a good source of information.

"The key to all law enforcement lies in the policy and efficiency of the local police and peace officers. And here we have the answer as to why the state of Texas has broken down in its undertaking to suppress the liquor traffic. Reports that seem to be reliable from many sections of the state tell of sheriffs who have built up large bootlegging and moonshining industries under their protection. These reports tell of prosecuting attorneys frequently being found drunk on outlaw liquor and even district judges who both gamble and indulge in drunken riots. We need to write upon our statutes an effective law providing for the removal of those who will not act or cannot enforce the law.

"But we must not conclude that to make good laws is all we need. The best laws that may be made cannot remedy all evil. The great remedy lies on electing local peace officers, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, constables, judges and justices of the peace who will be honest and efficient."

Why Libby's Milk travels for half fare

The milk you get in Libby cans at your grocer's is cows' milk —nothing else.

It comes from sleek, well-cared-for cows in the finest dairy sections of the country.

Libby adds nothing to it and takes out nothing but more than half the water. It is put into sterilized cans and shipped—at half fare because the weight of the evaporated water isn't there!

Because so much water has been removed, Libby's Milk is thick and rich like cream—and convenient, economical and safe.

Put Libby's on your grocer list today.

BOY WINS OVER MOTHER IN EGG ENTRY AT PARK

Henry Hood, 12 Years Old Grade Student, Awarded First Prize in Contest at Poultry Exhibit.

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Jan. 19.—Henry Hood, 12-year-old grade student of the local schools won over his mother, Mrs. S. J. Hood in the egg contest held here today in connection with the poultry exhibit conducted under the auspices of the extension department of Texas A. & M. college in cooperation with the Fort Worth & Denver railroad furnished the special car in which exhibits and lectures were held.

Young Hood was awarded the first prize of $5 for the best one dozen eggs with the second prize of $3 going to his mother. Mrs. J. W. Ellison was awarded the third price of $2. The prizes were awarded by the Farmers Elevator company.

In connection with the exhibits it was announced that local banks would loan $1,000 to boys and girls of this town and section to furnish the development of the poultry industry. Under the plan announced loans of $5 each will be made for the purchase of eggs for setting or baby chicks in order to make it possible for them to obtain a start in the poultry industry.

In spite of the cold weather, 250 visited the special car where they saw the several exhibits and heard lectures by members of the extension department party. Seventy-five people attended the morning meeting at the Park theater where talks were also made on topics concerned with the raising of poultry.

Indicative of the interest that has been taken by local business men in the poultry meeting a local bank had an exhibit in the lobby of the bank. The exhibit consisted of two pens showing mongrels and another high bred poultry.

F. W. Kazmeier and Miss Myrtle Murray of the extension department of A. & M. college; M. L. Oates and J. B. Lawson, agricultural agents of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad and the C. B. & Q. railroad; Guy Jones, county agent, were the speakers at both the theater and car meeting. The need of standard breeds, the care of poultry including housing, feeding and the equipment to be used were featured in the talks and discussions.

Mr. Kazemeier stressed the need of standardization in the poultry industry pointing out that many of the losses were due to its lack. He explained the housing and feeding plans recommended. Miss Murray explained the results to be obtained by local poultry associations and general methods to increase productiveness. Mr. Oates through whose efforts the special car was obtained, explained the desire of the railroad to co-operate in every way possible in the development of the poultry industry.

Mr. Jones had charge of the car and took part in the discussion. A large amount of literature was distributed among the visitors. Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Electra were largely represented at the exhibit.

Doughboys Cheer Captain Who Saved Crippled Transport

Captain Frank J. Beppa is 32 years old. The U. S Army Transport Crook is 40. The Crook, with nearly 950 soldiers of the Army of Occupation on board and with civilians and crew a total of 1,144 persons, left Antwerp for New York. Four days before reaching port Captain Beppa sent out a wireless stating that the old vessel was leaking badly and was encountering heavy seas. The next day he flashed word that a cement bulkhead was holding and finally the badly battered Crook made port. Photograph shows the doughboys congratulating and cheering the young commander after the vessel had reached the Army Base piers.

MAKE TRIP ON W. F. & S. THURSDAY

Officials and a few of the directors of the Wichita Falls & Southern made an inspection trip over the line Thursday as the guests of Frank Kell, making the trip to Breckenridge and return by special train.

The trip also served the purpose of a get-acquainted trip with some of the people at points along the line. The party returned at 7:45 Thursday evening.

Members of the party included, beside Mr. Kell, W. M. McGregor, R. O. Harvey, C. W. Snider, Reese S. Allen, Orville Bullington and W. M. Priddy and the following officials of the railroad: C. L. Fontaine, R. W. Miller, W. O. Womack and J. P. Rayzor.

The man who is always down in the mouth seldom gets up in the world.

Weather Causes Postponement of Poultry Meeting

Due to the cold weather and threatening storm the announced meeting of local poultry enthusiasts which was to have been held at the chamber of commerce Thursday was called off by officials of the North Texas Poultry Association under whose auspices the meeting was called.

Speakers from the extension department of Texas A. & M. college included in the party accompanying the Fort Worth and Denver special poultry car which spent Thursday at Iowa Park were to have been present at the meeting. It was announced that a meeting with other outside speakers will be held here in the near future.

TO SECURE GYM FOR NEWSBOYS

A gymnasium for the Newsboy club will be secured in the basement of the First M. E. Church, South, according to an announcement Thursday by Douglas Pipes, director. Members of the club Monday will provide for the gymnasium by excavating part of the basement which has been designated for that purpose. After the members of the club have made the necessary excavation the church has agreed to construct a concrete floor.

Members of the club Saturday will have a general good time in a truck ride to Iowa Park and Electra. Games with the boys living in the two towns are to be provided.

SPEAKERS' CLUB RENAMES ALL OF OLD OFFICERS

All officers serving last semester were re-elected at the first meeting of the Speaker's club held Thursday morning at the high school. The meeting was the first of the second semester.

The officers re-elected are Everett Kadane, president; Mortimer Clopton, vice president; Louis Clark, secretary; Ebon Keith, press reporter. The advisability of organizing a Y. M. C. A. club at the high school was discussed at the Thursday morning meeting. The matter will be brought up for discussion and definite action taken later.

According to the plans for the semester that were also discussed it is expected that the club will greatly increase its activities. Several special features in club work and entertainment will be carried out before the end of the year.

Conversatism is the halfway place where antagonists meet and settle nothing.

Appreciative Crowd Hears Miss Doyle

An audience, possibly affected by the cold weather to the extent of decreasing its numbers, though not affected with regard to enthusiasm and appreciation, heard and enjoyed Mary Agnes Doyle Thursday evening at the Wichita club. There were many who had heard her at the Rotary club at the noon hour, in a few brief bits, who came in pleasant anticipation of the longer program, and that some of these asked for a repetition of one of the Rotary club selections, as an encore, was a distinct mark of approval, or so considered by the entertainer, and her sponsors, the Studio Players, for to interest and impress busy men is one of the real high goals set by an artist, regardless of their line of art.

Miss Doyle's program consisted of her original arrangement of Jerome K. Jerome's "Passing of the Third Floor Back." Those who were familiar with Mr. Jerome's beautifully idealistic story were pleased with the reader's portrayal of the various characters of the lodging house, and the transformation under the influence of the stranger. But a knowledge of the story was not necessary for enjoyment of the evening, so definite was each character portrayed, and so clearly each step of the transformation shown, from the restless girl Vivian, torn between love and comfort, the musician who had forsaken his ambitions and art, for commercialism, the various other characters of the lodging house, down to the little maid, "Stasia and the Stranger" was made very real.

The little encore, repeated by request, was an arrangement of a story by Mary K. Mullet, with its message of appreciation of fatherhood.

Miss Doyle is the first of several professional entertainers on the Studio Players program for the present season. The appreciation with which she was received was most gratifying to the organization, and it was considered that, despite the unusual cold weather, these professional programs received a most auspicious beginning.

Miss Doyle was introduced by Mrs. E. L. Fulton, the director, and organizer of the Studio Players. At the conclusion of her reading she was presented with a bouquet of roses, Miss Marietta Hunt, a junior Studio Player, making the presentation.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

plow.' The wags in the press of the time made a great deal of sport of the Old Alcalde, because of this quotation. That was over 40 years ago, but the Old Alcalde revamped a great truth, despite the wagsters of his day. Agriculture is the basis of all wealth, because without food, cotton, wool and meat products on the farm, the people would perish, for want of food and clothing. Any other one occupation could cease doing business for a year or for all time and the world would go on without it, but if the farmers all over the world should make a failure in crops or go on a strike and refuse to sow or reap for one year, half the world would come to starvation. What would a bank full of gold be worth if one could find no food to buy?" Conservation of flood waters will reclaim the semi-arid lands. Conservation of flood waters will do more than this: It will banish the summer drouth. Irrigation is coming to the valley of the Wichita. J. A. Kemp's dream of the long ago has become more than the baseless fabric of a vision.

Vernon has enacted an ordinance prohibiting the maintenance and operation and conduct of a domino parlor in that city. And yet Dr. Atticus Webb is of the opinion that this old world of ours is headed straight for hell. Vernon is to be congratulated. Vernon has blocked the procession. Vernon has made it possible to prevent the world from rushing into the arms of the devil. Vernon has saved the day. All men admit that the domino is the most alluring, the most insidious, the most demoralizing and the most destroying invention of Satan to tempt the sons and daughters of men from the narrow path of the righteous into the highways and byways of sin and sorrow. Vernon has throttled the monster; Vernon has banished the selling agents of the monster; Vernon has lifted the mailed mace of the law over the corpse of the slain and given notice to the outside would that there is one town in America where the domino corrupter of morals and destroyer of souls shall have no place to lay its head. This is the beginning. Hellish checkers go next. On with the battle.

As for God, His way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried. For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?—Psalm 18:30, 31.

Could we judge all deeds by motives
That surround each other's lives,
See the naked hearts and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we should find it better,
Purer than we judge we should;
We should love each other better
If we only understood.
—Rudyard Kipling.

"No man has the legal right nor the moral right to set his judgment up against the law of the land," said Federal Judge W. L. Estes, charging his grand jury on liquor probes at Sherman, Grayson county. Judge Estes also warned his grand jury that the bill of rights made a man's home his castle and that a search warrant was necessary before invasion could be made. Federal Judge Estes has some regard for the eternal fitness of things as well as some regard for the magna charta of human rights. This republic has a constitution. Its provisions can not be set aside by an enforcement officer. Bootleggers should be smashed. Rum runners should be smashed. Moonshiners should be smashed, but there is a legal way to go about it. They are malefactors. They become outlaws when they set the law aside. They are entitled to neither sympathy nor mercy. Mexia need a clean-up and Governor Neff ordered it, and General Wolters and his guardsmen are doing the cleaning—doing it according to law.

Andrew W. Mellon is the second richest man in the republic. This is what his critics say and some of his friends admit. He is secretary of the treasury and is looked upon as one of the shrewdest of American financiers. Secretary Mellon favors the adoption of a constitutional amendment prohibiting further issuance of tax exempt securities. He insists it would be better if all kinds of investments were subject to the same principle of taxation. He favors a ban on future issues of tax-free securities so that a base of uniformity may be established. He admits that an amendment would have the tendency of increasing the interest rate on state and municipal bonds. Now why should securities be tax exempt? Secretary Mellon says that $10,666,000,000 in tax exempt securities are outstanding. Some American economists estimated the amount as high as $16,000,000,000. Secretary Mellon, despite the fact that he is said to be a multi-millionaire, would make it impossible for the very wealthy to invest their wealth in tax exempt securities, and thus far he has the best of the argument. If the wealth of America is to be taxed to defray the costs of the world war, then a constitutional amendment that would prohibit the further issuance of tax-free securities is one of the crying needs of the hour.

County Funds Replenished On Thursday

The overdrawn funds of the county were partially replenished Thursday when Tom McHam, county treasurer received checks totaling $56,000 from M. L. Tittle, county tax collector the amount representing the county's share of school and county taxes.

Several of the funds of the county have been overdrawn for several weeks due to small tax collections. Of the total received $9,055.77 represents school taxes and the remainder county taxes.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

MY BEAUTIFUL AUNT.

Aunt Julia was a beauty, men said, in bygone days, and flatterers galooty were throwing her bouquets. They said that she was queenly, the fairest of her sex; when she went by serenely the other girls seemed wrecks. Wherever Julia trotted the nosegays came her way, and flatterers besotted were praising her all day. The poet wrote his sonnet, all burdened by his wreath, about her boots and bonnet, her eyeballs and her teeth. And so she grew up feeling she was divinely fair; she would not mop the ceiling or clean the cellar stair. And she was high and haughty, she would not toil or spin, or with a swatter swatty hit flies upon the chin. Conceited and disdainful, she scorned the household law, and left impressions painful upon her Pa and Ma. She turned down many suitors, her townsmen, good and true, corn doctors, clerks and tutors, and taxidermists, too. Some prince would come and wed her, she figured, in her pride; long, long such visions fed her, and warmed her up inside. Alas, there came no princes, and she'd be glad to wed the clerks and other quinces who loved in years long dead. She finds old age so dreary that all its moments hurt, and she is sick and weary, a disillusioned skirt. My other aunts are dingers, they were not spoiled with praise, and as they turn their wringers they carol joyful lays.

When you talk to the haughty clerk in the outer office, you are almost afraid to ask for his "superior."

In a small town, nothing so excites the neighbors as the receipt by one of them of a special delivery letter.

And the reason parents think it their duty to whip children is because they are big enough to get away with it.

After they accumulate a nice little national debt, the Irish will begin to wonder why it is called a "free" state.

And so the magazines are hungry for humor. What about the "First Class" stamped on some of the manuscripts they receive?

It's a queer system that provides Marines to guard the mail cars from robbers and leaves passengers to take a chance at the ticket office.

When the restaurant orchestra plays, you can't tell whether that sound is made by the saxophone or the man at the next table eating soup.

DANGEROUS MR. PORTEJOIE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

(Copyright, 1921, by Frank Crane.)

There is a gentleman named Portejoie who is president of the "Union Fraternelle des Commis d'Ordre et Expeditionnaires des P. T. F.," which means The Fraternal Union of the Clerks and Other Employees of Public Transportation in France. He has loped into the limelight recently by proposing to the under secretary of state, in France, a means of saving some seven million francs a year for the government.

His method is very simple. Really, as any friend of the workingman will say, it is most outrageous and revolutionary. It is that every employee should be put in his proper place and all of them compelled to work.

In this he has been seconded by M. Cousty, president of another union with a name equally as long, who declares that Camarade Portejoie is right: "Put every man in his place and bounce the lazy ones."

We have been expecting some such thing as this. All other theories have not availed to account for governmental inefficiency. There have been labored speeches showing how the exchange and the tariff and this and that complicated economic thing is what is causing the trouble, and at last Columbus comes along and shows us how to make the egg stand up.

All government is notoriously inefficient, but when it comes to elaborate methods of employing a half dozen men to do one man's work, the United States, compared with France, is still in its infancy.

One French newspaper gives the following instances:

In the office of foreign affairs, seventeen superior officers direct the work of twenty-four employees.

In the department of public works, in one branch of the service are six directors, chiefs, and subchiefs to only five workmen. This makes one and one-fifth bosses to every worker.

In the hydraulic department, there are five bosses to five employes, which is a little better.

In the service of mines, there are five directors, superintendents, and managers for six employees.

In the department of public instruction, there are, in the branch of Beaux arts, twenty-one superior officers and sixty-two work people, or three and nineteen-hundredths employees to one boss. How the boss manages to get along with that nineteen-hundredth of an employee is a question.

Without wishing to seem reactionary or be called the paid tool of capitalism, we yet dare suggest that one solution of the labor problem might be labor.

Not all the fine spun theories in all the volumes of economics can alter the fact that laziness, incompetence, and soldiering are the greatest enemies not only of employers but of the employees themselves.

We might add that it would also be a good thing if the employer himself spent a little more time and energy on the job, and not quite so much time talking about it.

Having said these words the speaker ducked just in time.

HOME NURSING and HEALTH HINTS

By M. JESSIE LEITCH

CONCERNING FUMIGATION

Terry Hill was recovering from a mild attack of scarlet fever. Terry lived in a house that was full of sunshine and fresh air most of the time, which is a very good thing for any one who is ill.

But Terry's mother, who was a most conscientious woman, was anxious that she should not be responsible for more cases of scarlet fever in the neighborhood. So she worried.

In spite of frequent reassurance from the doctor, Mrs. Hill was afraid that other cases might develop, and she set her heart upon doing the right thing in the matter of fumigation, in spite of the fact that Terry had had a very mild case indeed.

It had been a particularly sunny winter, and Terry's bedroom had been flooded, during his illness, with sunshine and fresh air.

Doctor Explains to Mother.

His eyes had been protected against strong direct lights, and his small body kept warm when the windows were thrown wide open to the clear cold air, and altogether Terry had regarded his illness as a lark. And all the time the maximum of sunlight had streamed into the spotless room in which he lay.

The doctor explained to Terry's mother that the present theory regarding the need of fumigation is that if the right kind of precaution has been taken against contamination during an illness fumigation is not necessary in a room to which sunlight and fresh air can be admitted freely.

Science has discovered that contagion is carried less by the air than by flies and other insects. That frequently the secretion of the human body are responsible for contagion.

Still, it was agreed that the room should be fumigated. Formaline was decided upon instead of sulphur, because the latter is injurious to metals, colors and fabrics and does not kill spores.

Terry, properly bathed, shampooed and clothed in fresh garments, was transferred to another room.

In the room he had occupied all drawers and cupboards were opened and the bed-clothes were spread across lines strung up in the room, and the mattress was placed on end. All surfaces must be exposed to the fumes of the gas during fumigation.

Then the cracks around windows and doors, and the keyholes were sealed by pasting strips of white paper over them. White paper was used because colored paper or newspaper would have discolored the wood work.

Room Sealed Twelve Hours.

This being done, a large, low, shallow pan was placed in the centre of the floor. The floor was protected with papers. Because the room was of moderate size, containing about 1,000 cubic feet, Terry's mother had procured one-half liter of formaline, forty per cent, and one and one-half pounds of quicklime.

The lime was placed in the pan. The formaline was poured over it. The heat generated by the slaking of the lime caused the volatilization of the formaline, and the resulting gas fumigated the room and its contents.

The room was sealed up for twelve hours, then thrown open to sunlight and fresh air, after which it was thoroughly scrubbed with clean hot water.

It was only then that Terry's mother ceased to worry about contamination.

The Daily Story

HER LEGACY

Copyright, 1921, by W. Werner

For the first time in twenty years the members of the various branches of the Bartlett family were gathered under one roof. Some of the nephews and nieces had arrived too late for the funeral of their rich old uncle, but on the occasion of the reading of the will the attendance was complete. Jessie Bartlett, alone of all the cousins, felt any real grief for the passing of the eccentric old man; Jessie alone, who had humored his whims and cared for him like a daughter, had any real reason to expect any benefits from the will which was about to be read. But her heart was so full of grief for the only relative for whom she had cared, and her life seemed so empty without the exacting care he had required, that she seemed too stunned to look into the future.

When the will was read and the old lawyer friend of the deceased millionaire had disclosed the fact that the bulk of the estate went to an old people's home, and that each member of the expectant relatives had been remembered with a bank book containing an entry of one dollar and an admonition of thrift, the indignant nephews and nieces dragged their children away and left the house with vague mutterings about breaking the will. At least only Jessie and the old lawyer were left in the farmhouse parlor.

"Jessie," said the kindly old man, "I know that you were your uncle's favorite and that he appreciated the fact that you gave up your teaching to care for his last days. He has left you this farm under the provision that you care for it with your own hands, and for the space of a year work it yourself. He must have meant well with his strange bequest, but I can't understand his reason. There is not a penny goes with it bu—er—r, I would be glad to make you a little loan."

"Thank you," said Jessie, trying to come out of her stupor, "but I have a few hundreds saved from my teaching and that will last until I decide what to do." Yes, uncle must have meant well, but what can I do with this farm?"

After the old lawyer had gone Jessie sat, looking drearily out on the neglected farmyard, trying to fathom the mystery. Her uncle had seemed to care for her—he could have given her travel, opportunity for study and the master's degree she longed for, but he had no patience with woman's higher education—and he had chosen that she work like a drudge for the price of this farm.

As she rambled through the high-ceilinged rooms, furnished in the sturdy black walnut, rag-rug period, primly comfortable, a panic of loneliness seized her. She rushed out into the balmy spring air. When her flock of Rhode Island Reds scurried expectantly to meet her, trailing their fluffy broods behind them, and old Bossy mooed gratefully at sight of the milk pail, Jessie began to feel less lonely, and she determined to try out the year her uncle had required if her frail health permitted.

With the planting of her vegetable garden and the necessity of driving to town twice a week to exchange eggs for groceries, Jessie found little time for vague regrets of her teaching career. Dawn brought her tumbling out of bed and sliding into her overalls and boots, preparing for the struggle with milk can, weeds and potato bugs. Night found her ravenous, eating a man-size meal and crawling into bed at an outrageously early hour, en route for ten hours of healthy, dreamless slumber, an experience unknown to her teaching days.

But as she grew more skilful with her work and it tired her less the restlessness of youth began to assert itself. The neighbors were kind with advice and friendly chat, but she longed for some one with whom she would cross "conversational swords," some one who would talk back to her on every subject under the sun but crops, weather, and live stock. The hidden resentment against her uncle, who had doomed her to this life, smouldered anew.

One day, when she gathered ans for market and silently held a controversy with herself on the merits and faults of the tenth article in the league of nations, she was surprised by the sudden appearance of a tall, boyish-faced young man. He turned in at her gate, and, catching sight of her sunbonnet, came straight toward her. In a deep voice, which sounded delightfully cultured to Jessie's starved ears, he inquired, "Is this Miss Barthert? I am Beverley, the teacher who succeeded you at the Hillsboro school. I came to ask bout certain records and to confer with you on the character of two of in pupils."

Jessie shook hands. She asked if he would care to wait on the porch, as she was obliged to gather the Lenus before the sun reached them. For answer he took off his coat and set to work at her side. Jessie found that he was no novice, for he picked twice as fast as she, and at the same time made a careful selection of those ready for market. When the beans were ready for shipping the two young people rested on the cool, shady porch. Jessie brought a tray with glasses of fresh milk and a plate of home-made cookies.

That was the beginning of many pleasant hours of the former and acting teacher of the Hillsboro school. Jessie learned that Beverley was a college graduate, a specialist in scientific farming, and that he had accepted the little school for a year because of the illness of his mother, who needed him at home. In turn she confided to him the puzzling conditions of her uncle's legacy.

He made no comment other than a surprised glance at her flushed cheeks, but he took her hand suddenly and drew her toward the duck pond. There he made her stoop until she could see her reflection in the clear surface. "What do you see?" he demanded. "A pale bookworm of a girl or a rosy young farmeress? Can you guess now why your mother took you from a nervous prostration career and turned you into the blessed solitude of a comfortable old house qualified by work in God's outdoors?"

Jessie blushed under his ardent look and as she went into his arms the last vestige of hard feeling toward her uncle melted away. Together the youth who had chosen farming for his life work and the girl who had learned to love it for its own sake planned how the legacy should bud and blossom into a memento of the wise old man.

SOCIETY

MUSIC LOVERS INVITED TO MUSICIANS PROGRAM.

Wichita Falls music lovers are promised a real treat this evening at the Wichita club when a splendidly arranged program will be rendered at the "open meeting" of the Musicians club under the leadership of Miss Florence Sammons, with Mrs. John W. King, hostess.

The program which will begin at 8:15 o'clock will be opened with an (a) and (b) number by the high school orchestra under the direction of their teacher, Miss Genevieve Goff. These compositions are both included in the music memory contest work which is in progress in the local schools as a part of the musical training. Another number included this contest work of the schools, that will be a feature of the program tonight, will be a Saint-Saens composition, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and will be sung by Mrs. N. M. Clifford, in her first public appearance in several years, on account of ill health. Mrs. Clifford is a favorite contralto soloist and her many friends will be delighted that she is again able to favor them with solos.

Misses Cecelia Adickes and Marion Maer, favorite violinists of the younger artists, will render a duet, and Charles Angle, soloist at the First Baptist church, who possesses a baritone voice of unusual depth and qualities will sing, and Mrs. T. B. Greenwood, who needs no introduction to Wichita Falls' audiences, but whose playing is always looked forward to with pleasure, will give a Fritz Kreisler violin number.

Mrs. W. L. Parker, a recent addition to local music circles, and who is a soprano of more than ordinary ability will make her initial bow Friday evening, as will also Miss Annette Walsh, already well known as a local artist, but who will make her first public appearance as a soloist since she was coached be the noted Chicago teacher, Rufolph Ganz.

Ernest Katz, well known teacher and performer will give Chopin's Promenade in A flat, op. 53.

Something in the nature of a surprise has also been planned by the teacher and hostess, in the presentation of Mrs. Louella Thomson, formerly of this city, now of Dallas, who came here to be present at the Richolt-Martin wedding, and who has consented to sing. Mrs. Thompson's appearance will be a real treat to her friends in this city, where she taught several years ago, and was soloist at the First Presbyterian church. She was also the first director of the Woman's chorus of the Musicians club here. Mrs. Thomson has continued her musical work during her years of absence from here at her Dallas home, where she is at present soloist at the St. Mathew and Scottish Rite cathedrals.

The program will be concluded with two numbers by the Woman's chorus of the club under the direction of Mr. Elliott.

Mrs. A. H. Britain and Miss Annette Walsh will play accompaniments.

B. O. P. CLASS PLAY "42" AT SOCIAL SESSION.

Five tables of "42" players enjoyed the games Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Trigg, 1304 Taylor street, when Mesdames Trigg and J. S. Elliott were joint hostesses to a social meeting of the B. O. P. class of the Floral Heights Methodist Sunday school.

Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Hugh Weaver, and Miss Ruby Greenwood of Dallas, house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joe B. Stokes.

Following the games, a dainty refreshment plate consisting of chicken a la king, potato chips, pickles, hot tea and marshmallow pudding was served to Mesdames Zeb Nixon, E. A. Gordon, S. M. Black, Paul Cotner, J. B. Stokes, Jr., J. B. Reighard, C. B. Wigley, L. M. Oberwetter, H. E. Smith, H. S. Gray, R. K. Pond, L. E. Cowling, Jr., V. A. Baker, Paul Hathorne, J. F. MRS. BOOTH HOSTESS TO GIRLS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. A. B. Booth was hostess to the Girls Bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon when three tables of players enjoyed the games. Mrs. Fred Elbert and Miss Florence Sammons were guests and in the final count, Mrs. Wayne Hammon won the high score favor, a dainty piece of silk lingerie. Miss Agnes made low, and was consoled with pretty table markers.

Following the games, a delicious refreshment course consisting of chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, olives and cocoa was served to, Mesdames Elbert, Hammon, Henry C. Welch, Landon H. Cullum, Harold Hanes, Jouette Bonner, H. J. Fenton, W. N. Maer, Leslie Stringer, and Misses Agnes Reid, Marion Maer and Lucille Tancred.

NEW COTTON GIN FOR THE FARMERS AT SEMINOLE

SEMINOLE, Texas, Jan. 19.—An agreement was reached between H. C. Burke and Geo. E. Simmons of Lamesa and the business men and farmers of Seminole, for the immediate erection of a cotton gin here. The business men and farmers subscribed for $1,000 of the stock and gave the ground for the gin. The farmers pledged themselves to plant at least 2,500 acres in cotton this season. Gaines county expects to show a large gain in agricultural prodection in 1922. The county had a part in the West Texas chamber of commerce's all-West Texas agricultural exhibit last season which was awarded several first prizes.

COTTON GINNED IN RUNNELS; OTHER BIG MONEY CROPS

WINTERS, Texas, Jan. 19.—Cotton ginned in Runnels county to January 1 totaled 24,410 bales, of this number Winters ginned 10,500 bales. These figures taken as a basis, show that the cotton ginned here was worth more than $1,000,000, and the cotton seed more than $100,000. In addition to the good crop Winters shipped during the past year 450,000 bushels of wheat, 200,000 bushels of oats, $400,000 worth of milo maize. In statistics recently compiled for the West Texas chamber of commerce, showed that 10 cars of hogs, five cars of poultry and $28,000 worth of eggs were shipped during the past year.

Fashions for Americans

Dressy, Yet Simple, Is This Tub Outfit for a Small Boy.

The little boy of two or three or four years may wear the suit shown in the sketch. The overalls are of heavy linen and the ruffled blouse is of sheer lawn or fine handkerchief linen. The suit will be found very smart if made of a colored linen such as gray, blue, pink, or yellow, with blouse of white. A little touch of darning stitch embroidery in self or contrasting color trims the overalls and the self-fabric belt is held with a metal or pearl buckle.

For the small boy's spring overcoat covert cloth is to be a very popular fabric and some charming little mannish models are now being shown. One recently seen was quite splain except for two bias pieces stitched down the back, one at about the shoulder on either side. The straps were about an inch wide. The coat had mannish collars and revers and buttoned double-breasted fashion in front.

The regulation navy cheviots will be very smart also, and no matter what the fabric or color, a hat to match is an excellent recommendation.

In addition to the many plain fabrics approved for coats for boys, some smart little plaid velours are being featured also, and with very good effect.

Dame Fashion rings in comparatively few style changes for the young male of the species, and variety can be obtained principally in the selection of fabrics rather than in the actual styles of garments shown for small boys. Fabrics, however, are varied enough so that any suggestion of monotony is avoided, even in the little sturdy play garments. Khaki colored drill overalls may be made a bit out of the ordinary by the use of red pipings, bands, etc., and this is frequently done even in rompers of the serviceable khaki color.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.—Adv.

The Woman of Poise,

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?—Adv.

Miss Doyle Is Entertainer at Rotary Meeting

A plea for support of the community theater movement as an inspirational and recreational force of high character in the community was made at the Rotary luncheon Thursday by Miss Mary Agnes Doyle, noted dramatic reader of Chicago, following her very effective delivery of three sketches before the club. In the course of her talk, Miss Doyle spoke of her impressions of Wichita Falls, calling to the attention of the members, beauties that some of them had never noticed before.

Miss Doyle was followed by Lon A. Smith of Austin, state comptroller, who was a visitor here Thursday. In a brief but snappy talk, Mr. Smith expressed his pleasure at being in Wichita Falls.

The Thursday meeting resulted in an added impetus for the movement to organize the "Knot Hole Gang" at the baseball park as a part of the boys work of the club. A committee which will be looked to for immediate action on this proposal was named by President Robbins as follows: B. F. Johnson, chairman; R. E. Shepherd, Tom Bergin, J. Will Gray, Charles Bogenpohl, C. H. Reid and Herbert Voelker.

The club almost unanimously voted against a proposal for division of the Texas division of Rotary, the 18th district, which is being voted upon by the clubs of the state.

TEMPLE ISRAEL DEDICATION SERVICE AND BANQUET

Commencing with the coming Friday evening service, and extending throughout the Sunday following, (January 22), the congregation of Temple Israel will hold a series of dedication services and programs, the climax being the special service and program arranged for Sunday, January 22, at 4:30 p. m. Rabbi M. Faber of Tyler, Texas, and H. N. Fitzgerald, editor of the Record News, will occupy Dr. Goldberg's pulpit on Friday, and there will be some extra features at that service.

On Saturday morning the Sabbath school will hold dedication exercises, and on Sunday afternoon the main dedication service will take place. Rabbi Martin Zielonka of El Paso, David Lefkowitz of Dallas, and M. Faber of Tyler will be the honored guests. At 6 p. m. there will be a banquet at the Temple basement with music, recitations, and light-vein performances between courses. The general public is cordially invited to every service and program, the details of which will be announced later.

"IF BECK PLAYS, HE'LL BE WITH SPUDS," SALM

Skipper Believes Frank Isbell, Boss of Witches, Has Put a Bee in Slugging First Sacker's Bean.

"If Fred Beck plays baseball this year, he'll play with the Spudders"—Skipper Walter Salm, when questioned regarding the tale that the slugging first sacker from Wichita, Kansas, is none too anxious to report to the local club.

Walter is of the opinion that Frank Isbell, boss of the Wichita club has put a bee in Beck's bonnet.

"Frank figures he has made a bad deal," the Skipper told yesterday. In fact, when I bought Beck at the Buffalo meeting, I had to work hard and fast on Isbell to get him to sign the papers. He was mighty sure later that he had made a bad deal for himself in letting Beck go, and he got to Beck before I could see the player. But I have received a couple of letters from Beck in which he shows an interest in Texas league affairs, and in which he has recommended two good pitchers to me—and I believe he will report when the time comes. This is just about the right time of year for the old hold-out stuff, you know."

Referring to that part of the story from Kansas that Beck had been offered the field captaincy of the Spudders, and didn't want to come here because he might be the "fall guy" if the Spudders struck a slump, Walter declared the item "plain bunk."

"No one knows who is field captain," he said. "In fact, there are always several men who fill in at that job during the season. Whenever the Spudders struck a losing streak during the past two seasons, I got the blame, didn't I? And you didn't see me try to pass the buck to any ball player, did you? I'm willing to take that responsibility, and willing to have the men credit when the team is running strong.

"I believe things are in such shape that I can say in unmistakable terms that if Beck plays ball this season, he'll play with the Spudders."

CAGERS MIXING TONIGHT ARE WELL PAIRED

High School to Tangle With Texhomas in the Opening Game; Legion Quintet to Battle Gaines in Second.

Two more warm tussels are on the basketball schedule at the Legion hall tonight, with the High school and the Texhoma cagers mixing it in the first game and the Legion and Gaines quintets hooking up in a heated fracas in the second contest.

Both games should be stem-winders from start to finish, as the schedule in each case throws evenly matched teams against one another. The High school got away to a brilliant start last week in their opening game against the North Methodists, while the Texhomas failed to show a great deal of brilliancy against the aggressive University club five. The Oilers, however, have strengthened their team since then, and have put in some vigorous practice sessions—and the High school can look for a "heap big" surprise tonight.

The Legion and the Gaines teams on paper are very evenly matched, with the paper advantage, if there is any, going to the Legion five. The Gaines team was originally figured as one of the strongest outfits in the league, but their stock fell off slightly after losing a sensational opening battle to the Elks by a count of 20 to 22. They have been working steadily since then, however, and their team play should make matters exceedingly interesting for the Legion crew. Both the Gaines five and the Legion have an opening defeat chalked against them, and the battle to get in the "Won" column should be a soul-warmer.

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB ANNOUNCES TEXAS GAMES SCHEDULED

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—A complete barnstorming schedule for the Indianapolis baseball club of the American association has been announced by W. C. Smith, vice-president.

The Indians will go to Marlin, Texas, March 5, for a twelve days workout. On March 18 and 19 the Indians will play the Galveston team of the Texas league at Galveston. The New York Giants will be taken on March 22 and 23 at San Antonio. The two teams then will return to Marlin for two games.

BASKETBALL BRIEFS

BY C. F. C.

The executive council of the City Basketball league raised the admission price to 25 cents Wednesday night—and about all we have to say is that the games are worth even more. There hasn't been a tame, listless game played in the league thus far, while every basketball fan in the city would gladly stick a dollar on the barrel head to see another hurricane battle such as the University club and the North Methodists staged Wednesday. An admission price of two-bits to see two fast, hard-fought games is certainly mighty reasonable. When the price was 15 cents many fans left quarters at the door, and declined to take their ten cents change.

The fighting North Methodists certainly have won a host of admirers within the week. After getting away to a miserable start against the High school in their opening game, they came back against the powerful University club quintet and with only one change in their line-up put up a desperate struggle. They lost, 19 to 11, but in the last half it can be honestly said that they outplayed their more experienced opponents and held them even on the scoring, each team making two goals from the field and one from the foul line.

Captain Neal stated after the game Wednesday that hereafter his team would do all its practicing in the Legion hall.

"We practiced too much on our own court in the church basement," he said. "The court is small, almost square in shape; the baskets are hung unusually high, and the plaster wall itself forms the backboard for one basket. The boys were lost when they made their first appearance on the league's court in the Legion hall."

Rumors were afloat a few days ago that the University club was dickering for the services of Don Faichney, brilliant center of the Knights of Columbus team. It is to be hoped sincerely that the executive council of the league will interfere if such a deal is attempted. With the Viner brothers, Harper, Tate, Bowden, Penrod and Burnett, the University club today has the strongest line-up in the league—add Faichney to that list, and there isn't a quintet in the loop able to stop the club five. By tonight every team in the league must reach its player limit of eight men, and the names must be turned in—Faichney's name should be on the K. of C. list. Let's make this pennant race a hot one, not a runaway affair for one organization. If the University club wants to strengthen, let 'em practice. They have the individual stars, and thus far have won their two league games with practically no practice at all.

McClain, old Ohio State star, is making good as a league referee. He keeps the games clean, and he isn't afraid to call 'em as he sees 'em. If he has a fault it is, perhaps, a readiness to call a foul for running with the ball at the start of a dribble. A little more allowance might be made for the slippery floor, which frequently causes a player to over-step.

Ferguson also refereed in splendid fashion Wednesday night, the only thing that got by him being a time-out in the second half to which the University club was not entitled. Harry Viner, captain of the club quintet, made use of one of his three breathing spells at the time when the Methodists were traveling at top speed. Harry had a "time-out" coming to him all right, but not at that particular time, as the Methodists had the ball out of bounds, and Rule No. 11 states that "time shall be taken out at the request of a captain only when his team is in possession of the ball, except in case of injury."

Wilson, of the Knights; Harry Viner, of the University club; B. Sharpe, of the Elks, and C. Neal, of the Methodists, were all disqualified for four personal fouls—but the referees called 'em right. None of the four players was guilty of any intentional "dirty" playing, but in the heat of a hard-fought game it is difficult to avoid "bodily contact" and "unnecessary roughness."

The beauty about this basketball league is the feverish interest it has aroused. Why, the fans themselves come nearer to blows over the merits of their favorite teams than the players do in the heat of battle! Last summer I played baseball on the University club nine, and managed the team part of the season—yet here I be, by gum, almost hating those fine fellows on the University club basketball quintet! Can you beat that?

REDS EVIDENTLY BELIEVE THEY'LL GET JOHN COUCH

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Cincinnati evidently is certain it will obtain Johnny Couch, star pitcher of the San Francisco Pacific Coast club, as a sporting goods house of the eastern city recently wired a local house asking for Couch's uniform measurements. The Cincinnati club has made an offer for Couch, but the deal has not been closed and may not be, according to local club owners.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE BACK TO CORK CENTERS

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Baseballs with rubber centers will be used in Pacific Coast league during the 1922 season, the directors have decided. For several years the official league balls have had cork centers, which, it was claimed by many, made the balls too lively.

HEARING SET FOR TODAY ON DALLAS SUIT

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Jan. 19.—Judge E. B. Muse, in district court late today postponed until tomorrow afternoon hearing of the injunction proceedings which may decide the ownership of the Dallas (Texas League) baseball franchise. The injunction was brought by Jess Hassell and Sam Patterson to restrain the Texas League from interference in their operation of the Dallas franchise.

League executives at a recent meeting recognized Walter Morris and Ike Sablosky as owners of the franchise. Hassell and Patterson claim ownership despite an alleged contract signed last fall whereby the club was to be transferred to Sablosky and Morris for a consideration of $150,000. Counsel for the plaintiffs asked the court to postpone the hearing until tomorrow to permit more time for study of the defendants answer.

JUNIOR HIGH FIVE LOSES TO ELECTRA

Members of the Wichita Falls Junior high school basketball team covered themselves with glory yesterday afternoon, losing to the first string players of Electra high but holding their older and heavier opponents to an 18-12 score. The Junior quintet, in fact, held the lead up to the last three minutes of play, when the Electra coach put in a number of fresh men who succeeded in pulling the game out of the fire.

The game, played at Electra, was hard-fought and clean throughout, with Palmer Harrod starring for the Junior high five. Harrod made 10 of the Wichita Falls team's 12 points snaring the basket four times from the field and pocketing two shots from the foul line. Stearns, Johnson and Thomas did the heavy work for Electra high. Johnson, who starred on Coach Edens' football eleven last fall, played his first game of high school football this season and the Junior high school boys feel that they faced a far stronger Electra team than did the local high school a week ago.

The locals used six players, Garrett, Williams and Bashara, forwards; Carter and Woodson, guards, and Harrod, center.

FRISCH SIGNED BY GIANTS FOR COUPLA YEARS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Frank Frisch, star infielder of the New York National league club today signed a two-year contract at a substantial salary increase, which Vice President John McGraw stated would make him one of the highest salaried players in baseball. The amount was not made public.

The New York Nationals will leave for the San Antonio training camp on February 28 and will start training March 1. Pitchers Phil Douglas and Fred Toney and Shortstop Dave Danforth will start training at Hot Springs, Ark., the middle of February.

"FROG" ROTHFUSS HATES TO COME BACK TO TEXAS

"Froggy" Rothfuss, fleet-footed and hard-hitting Spudder outfielder, does not pine to play ball in Texas this year. In a letter received by Manager Salm yesterday, Froggy, whose home is in New Jersey, declares that Texas is oo far from his beloved Atlantic ocean.

Salm figures, however, that Rothfuss may be just putting out a feeler for a little more "jack" and isn't worrying over the situation yet.

It is to be hoped Salm's diagnosis is the correct one. Local fans are great admirers of "Froggy", who was batting over the .300 mark, fielding splendidly and shaking a fleet pair of dogs on the bases, when Dick Humphries knocked him "cuckoo" with a pitched ball and put him out of the game late in the 1921 season.

Roush Will Not Be Disposed of Says Hermann

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 19.—August Hermann, president of the Cincinnati Nationals today said Edd Roush, centerfielder of the Reds, will neither be traded or sold.

"Nothing has been said about the salary to be paid Roush but the demands that he makes in the form of a contract are 'upossible of approval,'" said Herrmann. Herrmann made this statement when shown a dispatch to the Cincinnati Times-Star from Oakland City, Indiana, Roush's home, quoting Roush as saying that he will play ball in Cincinnati or quit the game. Roush is also quoted as saying that the Cincinnati club will have to come to his terms.

YANKS NOT AFTER DUFFY LEWIS, SAYS COLONEL RUPPERT

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees, denied on his return from Chicago today that the club had made any offer to the Salt Lake City club for Outfielder Duffy Lewis, its manager, who it was reported, the Yankees were anxious to buy for $25,000. Lewis formerly played with the Yankees.

Ruppert said he and Huston has seen Commissioner Landis in Chicago but that the suspension of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel had not been discussed.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 19.—What is thought to be a record for individual scoring in a basketball game was made by Jones, forward on the Fort Recovery, Ohio, high school team, who scored eighty-eight points in a game against the St. Henry, Ohio, academy team at Fort Recovery last night. Jones' team won 100 to 10.

OLD MAN BOREAS PAYS CALL HERE THURSDAY A. M.

Thermometers Register the Season's Lowest Temperatures; Water Pipes and Radiators Burst.

Old Man Boreas registered in Wichita Falls yesterday, and spent the day making calls. He shook hands (and feet) with friends and foes alike; he turned his icy gaze upon water pipes in hotels and homes, and he shattered automobile radiators and engine blocks. Late in the evening he playfully chased a miniature sleet storm over the city, and at the moment of going to press last night he and cold-blooded business associate, Mr. Texas Norther, were still hanging around killing time.

Thermometers in various parts of the city registered as low as 17 degrees above zero, but they lied. It was colder than that. Out in the clutch of the north wind, the temperature was colder than the inside of an ice house in Amarillo; yea, colder than an Esquimaux's back porch; colder, even, than the gum drops Doc Cook left at the north pole as evidence.

Wichita Falls was the rule, not the exception, for the territory. At Texline, the mercury fell two degrees below the zero mark, while Forgan reported an even zero. All along the line of the Fort Worth & Denver, from Childress to Fort Worth, the cold wave made its presence felt. The mercury hung at the 10-above mark all day at Childress.

The wispatcher's office of the Wichita Valley road reported a light snowfall at Goree and Anson, with brisk north winds.

There was every indication late last night that the cold wave would continue over Wichita Falls and the surrounding territory for at least another 24 hours.

JUVENILES ARE AGAIN IN CUSTODY

Curtis Ashley and Aldridge Pitts, two boys of juvenile age living at Electra are staying for the present at the juvenile jail because they failed to outwit Juvenile Officer Yates. Wednesday the officer was at Electra and at the request of school officials of that city talked to the boys regarding their conduct in school.

After warning them that they would be brought to this city for trial if further complaint was made regarding their conduct, the officer left in an automobile to return home. The boys after brief consultation decided to leave, and caught a Fort Worth and Denver freight train out of Electra at the same time the officer left.

The boys' determination to get away from the jurisdiction of the juvenile officer ended Thursday morning when they were arrested by City Detective Hembree. The boys were put off the train when they arrived here and had not been able to leave on another train when apprehended by the city officer.

The boys have been in the custody of juvenile officials on two previous occasions.

BOARD GIVES MRS. OUSLEY VACATION

Adopting a resolution granting a vacation to Mrs. C. E. Ousley, temporary secretary, and appointing Mrs. Frank Kell, Mrs. C. P. Hartsook and T. B. Smock a committee to consider applications for the position of permanent secretary, were matters handled by the municipal welfare board yesterday morning. The resolution follows:

"Be it resolved by the Wichita Falls municipal welfare board that Mrs. C. E. Ousley, who has been serving for the past few weeks as temporary secretary, be granted a vacation beginning immediately, and that a temporary secretary be secured to take charge of the office until such time as a permanent secretary can be secured."

The other gown is of lustrous metallic cloth of delicate peach tones. It has self embroidered motifs at the skirt hem to accentuate the uneven lines.

AUTO OWNERS HAVE UNTIL FEBRUARY 1

Automobile owners in the county are to be given until February 1 to secure their 1922 licenses, according to an agreement made by county and city officers. The original date was January 15 but after consultation between the heads of the city police force, sheriff's office and constable's office it was decided to grant the extra fifteen days.

Approximately 8,000 cars had been registered at the county tax collector's office up to Thursday night. It is estimated there are still 2,000 automobiles and trucks in the county yet to be registered.

Long on Low Temperature, Short on Gas

Citizens living in the western section of Floral Heights were long on low temperatures and short on high gas pressures yesterday morning—but an S. O. S. call from the North Texas Gas company to the Lone Star company officials shot the gas pressure back to normal soon after 9:00 o'clock.

According to Manager McLaughlin of the North Texas company, there is no danger of a low gas pressure should the present cold wave continue "indefinitely."

THE PROP

By CAROLYN BEECHER

(Copyright, 1921, by Carolyn Beecher.)

Chapter LVI.

"Really those two girls have become so proficient I shall find myself falling behind if I am not careful," Ruth said when speaking to Robert Turnbull of an issue of bonds Selma Thornton had sold without assistance.

"Then you think them capable of running the departments, do you?"

"Yes—and no. They have not been sufficiently tried for me to say they could go on alone. But they are wonderful, simply wonderful. I am paying them each $5,000 a year, and they are worth every penny they get." Ruth fixed the salaries of all in her department.

"You are enthusiastic."

"I have every reason to be."

"Don't give the best years of your life toiling for others when there is no need, Miss Browning—Ruth. You have nobly taken the burden upon your shoulders. Don't you think it is time you shifted it to mine?"

Robert Turnbull looked across the table at his companion. For a wonder Ruth had consented to dine with him, a treat she rarely allowed either herself or him.

"Why should you carry my burdens?" Ruth asked, then blushed furiously.

"Because I love you—and want you to be my wife."

Ruth's eyes grew soft and a tender light came into them, a light, soft as with unshed tears. She felt the pull at her heartstrings.

"Won't you come to me—Ruth?" Then, pleadingly: "I have supposed myself strong enough to go on the rest of the way as I have done—alone. But since I have known you I see how impossible it is—" His voice trembled a little, he reached across the table and laid his hand over hers. "It is only since I have known you, brave little Ruth, that I have realized how a man needs the woman he loves by his side, day by day. My heart has been slowly drying up. You have humanized me, brought new things to me—hope, and what the joy of living may still mean to me. I must have you, Ruth, you and your love."

Ruth was trembling and a bit afraid. Her hand lay under his, soft and warm to his pressure. Her lips and her eyes, the trembling of her body, all told he had touched her, that something in her responded to his plea.

"Tell me, do you love me, Ruth? Can you?" Then again pleadingly: "Tell me that you care?"

"Please!" She covered her eyes for a moment. They were in a secluded corner of the restaurant. "Please, Mr. Turnbull."

"You mean that you do not—that you can not care—for—me?" he asked.

"No—not that! But I shall never marry."

"Will you tell me why?" His voice calmer now.

"There are several reasons. One is my family. Never shall I burden another with them. No, wait," as he was about to speak, "there is mother. She, of course, is my first care. Then Susan must have her chance. She is talented, and, like all such people, temperamental to a degree. She must be perfectly free from all care so that she may become what I know she can. Sam—"

"Ruth, you are giving me no reason at all. I am a rich man, dear one. All I have would be yours. You can still care for them all."

"No—no! Please don't urge me."

"Is there anything else? Any other reason?"

"Yes, my work."

"You mean—"

"I mean that all my life, from the time I was a tiny little girl, I have wanted to be a business woman, a big business woman. As I grew older the longing, the determination grew greater, I worked my way through college—rather partly did so, because of this desire. I am on the eve of seeing my desire fulfilled, my ambition realized. No—I cannot marry—you—or any one."

"Dear, these things are trifles compared to what my love might mean to you if you will come to me. The things that really count lie between two people only—when they love. And you haven't told me you do not love me. You have been in my blood like a fever for days. You have made me young again. Ruth, I love you. Can you say that you do not care for me?"

The passion in his voice, the fire of his words seemed to lash the hot blood to her cheeks, only to fade and leave her white and trembling. She tried to reply to his impassioned appeal, but although her lips moved there was no sound for a moment, then:

"I will not try to deceive you. I do care for you—more than I ever have cared for any man. But I cannot marry you. Please do not talk of it again! Let us be good friends and business associates as we always have been." Her eyes and her voice pleaded with him.

"And you refuse me because—"

"For the reasons I have given you. Very real and potent ones to me. You are not angry with me?"

"No—not angry, but very, very sorry that you do not care enough to trust yourself, your future, to me."

Neither of them spoke again save the commonplaces of conversation. Then he took her to the station.

CLARENCE OUSLEY FORCIBLY RELATES MARKETING STORY

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 18.—Clarence Ousley, former assistant secretary of agriculture, in an address here before the Western Fruit Jobbers association, convention today electrified 1,200 delegates to the annual meeting in telling of the co-operative marketing plan. The speaker also stressed the necessity for the man in commercial life to take an interest in the affairs of the country. He declared that a man, no matter what his business, should take an interest in the development of his homeland. Mr. Ousley declared that a man "engaged in commercial life was not doing his duty as a citizen in participating in politics."

DAMAGES OF CENT EACH AWARDED IN SUIT FOR SLANDER

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—Damages to the amount of one cent each were awarded here today by a jury in the federal district court to Rev. H. M. OIL COMPANY PAYS DIVIDEND OF 75 PER CENT

Texas Chief Brings Total of Dividends Paid by Organization Up to 725 Per Cent Thursday.

One of the Few Stock Companies Organized in the Northwest to Successfully Expand Interests.

Checks were issued for a 75 per cent dividend to Texas Chief stockholders of record December 31, on Thursday, according to announcement from the Texas Chief Oil company's offices. This brings the total amount of dividends paid by the company since its organization to 725 per cent. This company is one of the few organized during the Northwest Burkburnett Extension boom which has continued operation under the same management, and which has expended its interests to other pools in the district.

EIGHT BOYS IN HANDS OF AUTHORITIES

Charged with the theft of articles varying in value from a few cents to several dollars or having refused to attend school, eight boys are lodged in the county juvenile jail. The boys come from this city, Burkburnett and Electra.

Petty thefts by juveniles, according to officers, is more prevalent in the county than any time in its history. Locally and from other points in the county complaints are made daily at the county juvenile office regarding the theft of articles ranging from candy and gum to bicycles.

School officials throughout the county have also made complaint regarding the persistent refusal of a few boys of school age to attend school. According to Juvenile Officer Yates most of the boys now confined in the jail have been warned previously regarding their conduct and will now be tried with a view of sending them at once to the state training school at Gatesville.

"Something has to be done to stop this wave of petty thievery of juveniles," Yates declared Thursday. "Giving the boys another chance and trying to get their parents, when they have any, to keep their boys from temptation don't seem to have the desired effect. I am becoming convinced that the best place for the boys is in the state training school where they will learn discipline and a knowledge of some useful trade."

Several complaints have been made recently regarding the theft of milk bottles left on porches and other places for local milk dealers to pick up in delivering milk. The bottles are readily purchased by all milk depots in the city for 10 cents each that being the amount allowed when the bottles are returned to the dealers. A large number of these bottles have been stolen during the last few weeks according to the complaints made by local residents.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The raw sugar market was more active today and prices were higher; closing at 2 1-8c for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 3.73 for centrifugal for spot Cubas. The total sales for the day were estimated at 150,000 to 200,000 bags to operators and refiners for January, February and March shipment at prices ranging from 3.73 to 3.79 for centrifugal. The raw sugar futures market was irregular at the start, but after showing some hesitation, prices advanced rather sharply on increased buying for outside account, prompted by the higher ruling of the spot market with final prices 4 to 8 points net higher. March closed at 2.31; May 2.30; July 2.69 and September 2.83.

The only change in refined sugar was an advance of 10 points in hard grades by one of the leading refiners to the basis of 4.90 for fine granulated. Other refiners quoted 4.80 to 4.90 and there was a good inquiry although refiners were all behind in deliveries.

In refined futures, there was a sale of one lot of May at 5.55, an advance of 15 points over last night's final quotations. Closing prices were unchanged to 15 points net higher with March at 5.30; May 5.65; July 5.60.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—For the first time in a week the stock market today indicated an excess of offerings over demand, the list recording irregular or uneven changes throughout the active session.

Lacking more definite reasons the market's reversal was popularly attributed to the firmer tone of money. Call loans opened at 4 1-2 per cent, rising to 5 per cent at midday with a 6 per cent rate in the final half hour.

The only stocks to hold or enhance recent gains were specialties dominated by professionals and other shares in which the floating supply is believed to be so small as to make them readily available for speculative purposes. These groups again embraced the independent steels, minor equipments, utilities and sugars, where further extreme advances of 2 to 8 points were made.

Gulf-states steel was in a class by itself, adding almost twenty points to its steady upward movement and closing at 82 a net gain of 16 5-8 points. This represents an average of 31 points thus far this week.

The reactionary side of the market was featured by motors, oils, tobaccos and various miscellaneous issues, including textiles and the major equipments at declines of 1 to 3 points. Rails again were listless, investment or dividend paying issues being only occasionally quoted and then mainly at concessions. Sales amounted to 835,000 shares.

Dealings in foreign exchanges, including British and French bills, were light and without notable changes, aside from the easier tone of sterling, marks and guilders. The bank of England's weekly report disclosed further strengthening of that institution's liability reserves. Bonds were moderately unsettled by the tighter money market, liberty issues with one exception closing at declines. Most foreign issues were steady, but rails showed hesitancy, aside from the new southern railway 6 1-2's this rising sharply over their issue price.

Total sales (par value) aggregated $16,175,000.

Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Bullish estimates of domestic farm reserves did a good deal to lift wheat prices today. The market closed strong, 1 7-8@2 1-8 net higher, with May 1.14 1-4 to 1.14 3-8 and July 1.02 3-8 to 1.02 1-2. Corn gained 3-8 to 5-8 and oats 1-4 to 5-8 in provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 20 cents higher.

According to a recognized authority, farm reserves of wheat, less spring seed requirements, suggested a total of 118,000,000 bushels allowing for average bread requirements, this would mean a shortage of 30,000,000 by July 1 except for mill and country elevator stocks. Moreover, department of agriculture reports current today indicated that European countries might be expected to continue buying wheat freely in the world's market, and there were predictions that a new decrease in the United States visible supply would be announced on Monday. Colder weather, too, counted as a stimulating factor, much of the winter crop being without adequate snow protection, especially in Kansas. Under such circumstances, no import setback in prices took place, and the finish was at nearly the top level of the day.

Corn and oats went higher with wheat. Exports continued after corn. As in the case of wheat, estimates of farm reserves of corn were bullish.

Scantiness of provision stocks tended to strengthen the provision market.

Livestock

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19.—Cattle sold on a fairly active and generally steady market today. The calf trade also moved along with freedom, prices holding steady. Receipts amounted to 1,500 head of cattle and 1,000 calves. Quality made a rather poor average, a large quota of the day's receipts running to jack pot consignments of undesirable flesh.

A supply of 1,200 head of hogs sold on an active market but at a decline of 10 to 15 cents. The best hogs here brought 7.75 and bulk sales made a range of 7.50 to 7.70. Pigs sold generally steady at 5.00@6.25.

Sheep house receipts amounted to only 200 head. The market was weak to lower. Wethers sold at 6.50 and lambs notched 10.50. Quotations:

Cattle—Beeves 3.00@6.75; stockers 3.00@5.00; cows 2.00@5.00; canners 1.50@2.25; heifers 3.00@5.75; yearlings 3.50@6.50; bulls 2.00@4.00; calves 2.00@7.00.

Hogs—Light 7.00@7.75; medium 7.50@7.60; mixed 7.00@7.50; common 6.00@7.00; rough 6.00@6.50; pigs 5.00@6.25; heavy 7.25@7.60.

Sheep—Lambs 7.50@10.50; yearlings 6.50@7.50; wethers 6.00@7.00; ewes 4.00@5.50; culls 1.00@2.00; stocker sheep 3.50@4.50; feeder lambs 4.50@8.50.

Kansas City Livestock.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19.—Cattle receipts 4,500; beef steers slow, steady to 15c lower; 7.75 bid. Calves strong to 25c higher; practical top 9.25; stockers 5.65@6.15; cows 2.75@4.75; heifers 5.00 to 6.25; canners 2.25@2.50; cutters 3.00@3.50.

Hogs receipts 10,000; 10c to 20c lower; bulk sales 7.40@7.50; top 8.10; bidding slightly lower on late arrivals; pigs and sows steady; best pigs 8.25.

Sheep 4,000; sheep steady, best ewes 6.75; few sales medium lambs about steady.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—The market for coffee futures opened at a decline of 5 to 10 points under a renewal of scattering liquidation promised by the easier early cables from Brazil. May contracts sold off to 8.21 or into new low ground for the movement and 82 points below the high level of last months, but the market then steadied on covering.

May rallied to 8.32 in the later trading on higher late cables from Santos and there was some trade buying to cover hedges. The close was unchanged to 2 points higher. Sales were estimated at about 20,000 bags. January 8.35; March 8.45; May 8.32; July 8.24; September 8.24; October 8.22; December 2.19.

Spot coffee dull and nominally unchanged to 9@9 1-8 for Rio 7's and 12@12 1-4 for Santos 4's.

Good grade fabric automobile tires, 30x3½. Our price is right. Phone 6703.—Adv.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—An early decline in cotton was followed by sharp rallies on reports of bullish private ginning figures and covering by shorts. After selling up from 17.44 to 17.87 or 23 points net higher, the market became less active and there were reactions from the best under realizing with March closing at 17.77. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 2 to 13 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 points on December, but generally 6 to 11 points lower owing to weak Liverpool cables and unfavorable reports from the cotton goods where buyers were said to be holding off for a possible revision in prices.

There was some scattered Southern selling as well as further liquidation and active months soon showed net losses of 16 to 20 points with January selling at 17.50 and May at 17.10. Offerings became lighter as soon as the initial selling orders had been executed however, and the market firmed up during the middle of the morning on the continued better character of the spot news from the South.

The buying was stimulated later by reports that private ginning returns indicated only 7,904,000 bales ginned up to January 16, or 20,000 bales for the last period. Brokers who were credited with selling heavily for western and Wall street accounts earlier in the week, were active buyers on the midday advance, which carried January up to 17.85 and May to 17.52 or 19 to 24 points net higher. The covering movement then slackened and later fluctuations were irregular with the close showing reactions of 9 or 10 points from the best. Both Liverpool and the continent were credited with buying here early. In the case of Liverpool this was supposed to represent a transfer of short hedges from New York to the English market, while the continent was believed to be covering short contracts or buying last month hedges against prospective needs.

The ginning privately reported 20,000 bales for the first half of January was compared with 98,000 the previous low record for the period ginned from the crop of 1916. Port receipts today 29,035. United States port stocks 1,248,141. Exports 23,578, making 3,219,060 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19.—Private bureau forecasts of small ginning started an upward movement in the price of cotton today. From declines below yesterday's close of 11 to 17 points there were advances over yesterday's close of 20 to 26 points, March falling off to 16.47 and then advancing to 16.90. The close was a net gain of 12 to 17 points, with March at 16.81.

A Southern bureau accounted ginning to the 16th of January at only 7,904,000 bales which would mean a production for this last period of only about 20,000 bales. The effect of these figures was increased by the figures on the weights of bales furnished to congress by the census bureau, the average weight from the first of the season to December 1st being only 496.3 pounds.

It was market gossip that many short hedges were being covered, such hedges being opened because of recent sales of spot cotton. In the late trading, early buyers took profits and caused moderate recessions.

The early decline was due to poor cables and to the bearish construction based on the attitude of Premier Poincare regarding the Genoa conference.

Liverpool Spot Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 19.—Cotton in limited demand; prices barely steady. Good middling 10.86; fully middling 10.46; middling 10.11; low middling 9.01; good ordinary 7.46; ordinary 6.71. Sales 5,000 bales, including 2,000 American.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Cottonseed oil was steady, closing unchanged to one point net higher. The action of the market was rather disappointing to holders in view of the strength displayed in other commodity markets and crude oil. Commission houses were sellers. Cables were easy, sales 11,700 barrels; prime crude 7.15 sales: prime summer yellow spot 8.55; March 8.76; May 9.00 and July 9.25 all bid.

Liberty Bonds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Liberty bonds closed: 3 1-2s 97.30; first 4s 97.74 bid; second 4s 97.46 bid; first 4 1-4s 97.80; second 4 1-4s 97.46; third 4 1-4s 97.96; fourth 4 1-4s 97.14; victory 3 3-4s 100.14; victory 4 3-4s 100.14.

COMPTROLLER LON A. SMITH VISITOR HERE

Lon A. Smith of Austin, state comptroller, was in Wichita Falls Thursday on business connected with his department, the adjustment of tax matters with oil men here, and to confer with Judge Edgar Scurry, commander in chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans on affairs of the organization. Mr. Smith is state commander for Texas.

While here Mr. Smith announced the appointment of Mrs. Lula B. Oltorf of this city as part of his official staff at the coming Confederate reunion in Richmond.

Mr. Smith expects to be a candidate to succeed himself. So far he has no opposition. At the proper time, he said, he would make an announcement. Today was the anniversary of Mr. Smith's assuming the office he holds. He sent congratulatory messages to officials in the department in Austin in the founding out of the first year.

Calomel Good But Treacherous

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. —Adv.

Living Likeness of Uncle Sam 'Adopts' American Legion Post

"To keep up to date," as he puts it, George Campbell, a living likeness of the artist's conception of Uncle Sam, has 'adopted' the George Washington Post of the American Legion, Washington, D. C., the original unit of the world war veterans' organization. Mr. Campbell, who was born in Ireland, served as a private in the Civil War. He used no make up when he dresses to represent Uncle Sam.

Babe's Eating Humle Pie at Door of Landis

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Babe Ruth has decided that he went too far in violation of the rules of organized baseball by playing post season games and is attempting to persuade Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner through a personal appeal to mitigate his punishment of suspension until May 20 and a fine of more than $3,000.

Ruth, who is appearing at a theater here this week, yesterday telephoned Judge Landis' office in an effort to arrange a personal interview with him but the judge was confined to his home with a bad cold.

A second call was made today but the judge still was sick and indications are that Ruth may not be able to reach him.

If no interview can be arranged before the Yankee outfielder leaves town, he will take up his case with the judge by mail.

EARLY MORNING FIRE AT TIMBERLAKE HOME

Firemen had their fourth run in twelve hours at an early hour this morning when a small fire was reported at the home of Frank P. Timberlake, 2105 Tenth street. The fire which was confined to the kitchen of the house was put out with damage estimated at $100.

The fire is thought to have started from a stove in the kitchen.

Perhaps you have noticed that the ladies who are most enthusiastic about war paint are most prone to lay down a smoke screen.

CRAZED NEGRO KILLS OFFICER AT NEW YORK

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A crazed negro awaiting examination as to his sanity tonight shot and mortally wounded Patrolman Otto W. Motz in a rear room of the West 23rd street olice station. Motz, who had a wife and two children, died in less than an hour. He had been shot with his own gun.

A second killing was averted when the gun misfired. Patrolman John Hagstrand was the second intended victim.

The negro who later gave the name of Frank Whaley, was subdued.

JUDGE JACK SAYS ACTION OF FISHER WAS UNNECESSARY

By Associated Press.
SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 19.—Federal Judge Jack today filed a statement saying it was unnecessary for United States District Attorney Fisher to have filed proceedings yesterday to have him disqualified from presiding in the corruption charge hearing, as he already had requested that another judge be appointed, and the request had been granted.

The hearing is docketed for February 1.

The charge was brought by Judge Jack, and grew out of an alleged agreement between Fisher, Emil Kuntz, republican national committeeman from Louisiana and R. A. Giddens, a member of the republican central committee whereby an embezzlement indictment against Giddens' son-in-law, Tracy S. LeMoyne, was to be quashed in consideration of support given Fisher in getting the district attorneyship appointment.

SMALLPOX IS FATAL TO SEVEN IN WEEK AT SHAWNEE, OKLA.

By Associated Press.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN IS FOUND WOUNDED NEAR FORT WORTH

By Associated Press.
FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 19.—An unidentified man was found unconscious with his throat and wrists slashed at a lonely spot just outside the city limits here today. A card, found in his pockets, gave his address as Milwaukee, but the name was not learned. He is not expected to live.

COLDEST DAY BRINGS FIRE DEPARTMENT OUT

Firemen Thursday were compelled to observe the coldest day of the year by responding to two small fires. The first fire in the morning was at the Clifford Dairympile home, 1110 Ninth street and the second in the afternoon at the Kemp hotel.

The first fire was said to have been caused by a gasoline blow torch used in thawing out a frozen water pipe. Only slight damage resulted. Some confusion arose in responding to the call the automatic call system giving a different location for the fire. A second call brought the firemen to the scene.

The fire at the Kemp was in the main lobby. Woodwork, according to firemen caught fire from an open fireplace. The fire was put out before any serious damage resulted.

Other attendants and guests of the wedding, included Miss Maydette Abernathy of Paducah, Ira M. Avent and mother, Mrs. Johnson of Graham, Harry Moss of Mexia, Bailey Hardy of Breckenridge and Bill Hoge of Iowa Park, returned to their homes on Thursday morning. Miss Minnie Martin, sister of the groom, will leave today for her home in Kansas City, Kan. Mrs. Louella Thompson of Dallas and Miss Helen Edmiston of Paola, Kansas will remain at the Richolt home for a few days longer.

Mrs. C. J. Shumake has been seriously ill at her home at 1607 Tenth for the past several days.

Dr. C. R. Hartsook is in Houston attending a series of lectures on opthalmology by Dr. Fuquis, a noted authority.

Tom A. Key is in Monte Vista, Colo., on a business trip.

Stanley McGregor has returned from a business trip to New York.

T. P. Adams was expected to arrive this morning from El Paso. The change of the Adams family from Colorado to El Paso has been recently accomplished, in the hope of further benefitting Mrs. Adams' health.

John G. Farmer, general passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf railway with headquarters at Fort Worth, came with the blizzard and made the rounds in the city that Faith built with Leland D. Trice as his guide. Mr. Farmer is an optimist and is confident that the railways as well as all the industries of America will make a splendid showing this year.

"Keep your heart burning. Get hot-headed. You don't have to be careful when you're fighting the devil," Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker shouted in defiance of the liquor traffic Wednesday morning at the law enforcement convention. "On with the battle!" he cried. "Down with the bootlegger and the lawbreaker, whoever they are and whatever they are!" He said the prohibition joke is the most damnable form of propaganda in favor of the liquor traffic. He praised the man who has righteous indignation.—Fort Worth Record.

Dr. W. T. Longwell motored to Wichita Falls, Texas, on a business mission, Tuesday.—Frederick (Okla.) Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kennedy of Wichita Falls were visitors in Denison Tuesday. Mr. Kennedy is associated with the Perkins-Timberlake company of Wichita Falls, and is enroute East for a few weeks business trip.—Denison Daily Herald.

Plainview won the 1923 convention of the Panhandle Swine Breeders' Association from Amarillo and Pampa at the closing session of the convention. Fred W. Boerner of Lubbock was unanimously re-elected president of the association. Other officers chosen were: John I. Hammonds of Floydada, first vice-president; E. N. Hogan of Pampa, second vice-president; Earl Lewis of Childress, secretary-treasurer, and F. W. Boerner, J. I. Hammonds, E. N. Hogan, Earl Lewis and M. L. Sharpe of Vernon, directors.—Amarillo Tribune.

Bankers of your Panhandle country tell me, that during the past six months eighty-five per cent of the money that has been brought into the Panhandle has been hog money," said E. F. Herriff of Oklahoma City, auctioneer of more than twenty years experience, at opening the fourth annual auction of the Panhandle Swine Breeder's Association here this afternoon. "Do you people of the Panhandle know that your section is rapidly assuming the supremacy as a hog producing country? Are you aware of the fact, that on last Monday there were 300 more hogs on Hog Palmer's market at Canadian than there were on the Wichita, (Kan.) market? For many years I have been interested in the hog business and the hog breeder. I am firm in my belief that there was never before in the history of the industry a greater opportunity offered than is being offered at the present time to the farmers of the Panhandle.—Amarillo Tribune.

Judge John W. Davidson was called to Wichita Falls Monday by the unexpected and serious illness of Mrs. Davidson, who was visiting her daughter down there.—Childress Post.

Mrs. Will Gray came up from her home at Wichita Falls last Thursday to attend the marriage of her sister, Miss Mary Denny to Mr. Joseph Rhea that evening. She remained over for a short visit before going home.—Childress Post.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Jan. 19.—Practically all testimony in the trial of Manual Sague, Mexican, who ran amuck with a razor on a Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad train near here last December, slashig passengers at will, was in when court adjourned tonight.

Dr. Joe Wooten, Austin, qualified alienist, testified for the defense, other passengers described the acts of Sague when he is alleged to have killed S. O. Wofford, Austin, traveling man, and seriously wounding Will Fisher, Bartlett, Okla., and Will Wallace, Eufaula, Okla.

Sague is represented by counsel provided by the Mexican government.

Coffin Built for Kaiser Still Carried on the Old German Steamer Bremen

This coffin was built for William Hohenzollern when he was kaiser and placed on board the old German liner Breman. All German ships then carried coffins if the kaiser was on board, so that in the event of death the royal remains might not be committed to sea. Today the Bremen is the Greek steamship Constantinople, but the coffin still remains part of the vessel's fixtures.

Miss Alice Davison, Banker's Daughter Now Yale Man's Bride

This photograph of Miss Alice Trumbee Davison, daughter of Henry P. Davison the New York banker, was made just before her marriage to Aretmus L. Gates, of Clinton, Ia. Their romance began during the early days of the war when the bridegroom was a student at Yale and prominent as an athlete. The bride's brother, Henry P. Davidson, Jr., a classmate at Yale of Gates, was best man at the wedding which took place at Locust Valley, L. I.

Meeting Well Attended Despite Unfavorable Weather; W. Y. Hammack Is New Commander.

With 66 present despite the unfavorable weather prevailing the Wichita Falls Commandery held one of its most successful annual meetings at the Masonic Temple, conferring degrees on several candidates and electing officers for the new year.

In the election, W. Y. Hammack was advanced to the position of commander, Otto Stehlik to generalissimo, James R. Bachman to captain general, Robert Nolen was senior warden, L. R. Stringer, junior warden, C. R. Wofford, prelate, W. W. Gardner, treasurer, and W. J. Webb, recorder.

Dr. C. R. Hartsook, the retiring commander, was elected sentinel. A feature of the meeting was the rendition of the "Holy City" by R. E. Shepherd.

ACTIVITY IN EVIDENCE AT LOWER DAM

With quantities of equipment and machinery enroute and due to arrive at any time, activity in a small way is already going on at the site of the diversion dam.

Maney Brothers & Company, sub-contractors, already have 70 teams at work on the ditch and Callahan & Walker, sub-contractors are installing a drag line at the diversion dam. The drag line successfully forded the river at this point with a caterpillar tractor furnishing the motive power.

McCabe Brothers, sub-contractors for the bridge at the site of the diversion dam, are making rapid progress on this structure which is half way across the stream.

LOCAL ATTORNEY WINS JUDGMENT

T. F. Hunter, local attorney, was granted a judgment of $1,059.50 against the High Grade Oil company by Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court following a trial of the case Thursday afternoon.

The amount granted represented attorney fees and court costs.

OFFICERS GET TWO STILLS IN SINGLE BLOCK

Continuing their raids of the last two weeks police officers assisted by Sergeant McCormick of the state ranger force Thursday night confiscated two complete stills located in private homes located on Corwin street in North Wichita. The stills were crudely constructed, one consisting of an automobile gasoline tank used in conjunction with a gas stove.

Officers arrested one man in connection with the raids and additional arrests are expected today. The two stills were located in the same block. City Officers Belcher, Humphreys, Miller and Glenn took part in the raid.

DR. W. H. FELDER WEDS MRS. ALICE MERRITT THURSDAY

Dr. W. H. Felder and Mrs. Alice Merritt, both of this city, were quietly married Thursday evening, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. Rahl, at 2004 Ninth street. Members of the immediate families of the contracting parties attended the wedding.

Dr. J. L. Keevil performed the ceremony, while Mr. Bert Lowry and Miss Ethel Hale, sister of the bride, assisted as best man and bridesmaid.

Dr. Felder has been a resident of this city for nineteen years. Mrs. Merritt has resided in this city for a year. They will continue to reside here, where Dr. Felder is engaged in the practice of dentistry.

TO TEST TO EAST FROM DUKE WELL

Following a deal made Thursday whereby W. J. McCallister, G. J. Brown, W. J. Grisham, O. L. Rahl and Jerome S. Stone acquired a 40-acre tract just east of the Magnolia's new Duke well, at Fowlke from L. P. Hammond, arrangements are being made to put down a test immediately.

The first location has been made 1,600 feet east of the discovery well. Contract has been let to Brown and McCallister, it was stated Thursday night.

Mr. Hammond retains an interest in the lease.
