Oil Leaders Of Mid-Continent Arouse Sentiment Against Cut In Prices Of Crude Petroleum

TULSA, Okla.,—A thoroughly-aroused mid-continnent oil area stood militantly Thursday against a threatened cut in the price of crude oil.

The threat came from two major companies which have not yet been named specifically by oil men in interviews for publication, but are freely named in conversations outside the record.

Against these two are arrayed the large and small independents, state conservation leaders and [illegible] journal editors, while other [illegible] companies who have taken little or no part in the present disturbance [illegible] interested watchers on the sidelines.

Leaders Speak Openly

Leaders in the area, speaking openly for the first time since rumors began circulating several weeks ago, have come forward in droves to announce their stand against any revision downward and declare intend for a further lowered output with a probable subsequent price increase. The top price now is $1 a barrel.

In fact, there is in a tangible state of development at this time a strong movement toward a price increase with the support and approval of independent companies so large as to be classed in size and financial power with the majors, common term for units of the Standard group.

Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of Consolidated Oil Corporation, is prominently in the front rank of independents seeking a stablized price, and is joined by Continental, leader of the upward movement last April; Phillips, Empire, Pure, Skelly, Barnsdall, Mid-Continent and others of the important group of this section.

Aligned with them were Governor Murray of Oklahoma who said he would shut in the entire Seminole operations of the two companies if they cut prices, and Kansas and Oklahoma regulatory authorities.

In East Texas, a body of oil men and others met last night to discuss the situation. It was expected to crystalize sentiment against a cut.

Texas Watched

So aroused were leaders that further developments were expected throughout the industry, with the local point Texas, scene of greatest disruption due to lack of a stable program of proration.

In an attempt to show that proration has been successful in bringing [illegible] greater returns despite reduced output, the Oil and Gas Journal today published a detailed article showing comparative cash returns to 21 representative companies, operating throughout Texas, for the second quarters of this year and the corresponding period of 1931.

The article quoted the companies' reports to the Texas comptroller, on which is based the state's gross production tax.

In 1931, when East Texas was running wide open and later forced to shut in by Governor Sterling, the 21 companies produced from all parts of the state 53,064,556 barrels of oil that brought $23,073,607 an average of 45.5 per cents per barrel, the journal says. In the corresponding quarter of this year the same companies produced 51,105,202 barrels under proration which brought $40,754,233 an average of 79.7 cents per barrel. The journal points to these official figures in supporting uniferm proration as a means of aiding the industry.

Speed!

Picture Of First World Series Game Reaches Here In Nine Hours

Best speed record of many creditable ones established by The Associated Press in transmitting news pictures to The Herald and its hundreds of other member newspapers, was accomplished with the picture on this page of Bill Herman, Chicago Cubs' second baseman, batting as lead-off [illegible] in the first inning of the first game of the [illegible] series, played Wednesday afternoon in New York.

The picture was taken, telephotoed to Saint Louis, matted and sent to Big Spring in nine hours, and is being published in The Herald in its first issue after the playing of the game.

The game, scheduled to begin at 12:30 opened at 12:45 p. m. Big Spring time, or 1:45 p. m., New York time.

The picture was taken, rushed to the Associated Press Photo Service laboratory in New York, telephotoed to Saint Louis, and mats made for dispatch to members of the Associated Press in the middle west and southwest.

This was done in time for the mat for The Herald to be placed on Transcontinental-Western Air's ship leaving Saint Louis at 1:30 p. m. central standard (Big Spring) time, or 2:30 p. m., New York time.

The mat was flown to Tulsa, where it arrived at 4:23 p. m. United Air Lines' ship picked it up there, carried it to Dallas by 7:45 p. m., Wednesday.

Then American Airways' transcontinental mail and passenger ship took it on at 8 p. m. Wednesday and it arrived in Big Spring at 10:48 p. m., or nine hours, three minutes from the time the picture was taken.

Police Chief And Pedestrian Killed After Bank Robbery

The automobile of fleeing bandits collided with another a short distance from the bank. The men then commandeered the machine of a passing motorist and escaped the city.

Round-Trip Rate On T & P Cut To Three Cents Mile

DALLAS—The Texas & Pacific railway announced that effective October 1 it would cut the round trip rate on approximately 900 miles of its lines in Texas to three cents.

The company now has a passenger coach rate of one and three-fourths cent per mile in effect. The new rate will apply on the main line between Dallas and El Paso and from Texarkana to Fort Worth via Sherman and Paris.

Mileage on which the round trip rate will apply is the same as that on which the one and three-fourths cents rate now applies, including in its route between Dallas and El Paso such points as Fort Worth, Weatherford, Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Abilene, Big Spring and Midland. The Texas railroad commission already has given authority for the rate change.

Payments Of School Taxes Started Here

Part Payment Plan Offered; Budget is Reduced 38 Per Cent

Several property owners already have paid Big Spring Independent school district taxes and the school board will be able to meet the first monthly payroll of the session fully if as many others make payment in the next three or four days, according to information from the office of the superintendent.

The monthly payroll this year is $6,800, or $3,000 less than for last session.

Meeting the payroll the first month of the session is difficult in any year because payment of taxes does not begin until September or October 1, and payments on the state per capita apportionment [illegible] do not come in during a period between August and October.

The school district this year is offering a partial payment plan to taxpayers. They may pay any part of the taxes levied on the current rolls at any time beginning September 1 and continuing until January 31, when the taxes become delinquent. As parts are paid receipts will be issued for each part.

The budget for this year has been reduced 38 per cent under last year. Salaries were reduced 30 per cent and the teaching load being carried by faculty members is 15 per cent heavier, due to reduction of the staff 12 members. Enrollment, too, is higher than at this time last year.

Oil Is Reported In Ector Wildcat

Operators were drilling ahead slowly at 4,192 feet Wednesday in Broderick & Calvert et al No. 1 Parker, Ector county wildcat test, after a showing of free oil had been logged at that point.

A rainbow had previously been encountered at 4,177-80 feet in No 1 Parker.

At 4,192 feet, Broderick & Calvert deal No. 1 Parker, which is in the northwest corner of section 15, block 44, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. survey, was 1,078 feet below sea level.

Work of cleaning out L. C. Harrison et al No. 1 Addis, another Ector county wildcat test in section 35 block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. survey, was under way, but operators were having difficulty overcoming caving hole. One report was that operators had cemented the hole around 2,900 feet in an effort to stop caving and another report was that cleaning out was progressing about 3,590 feet.

Total depth of No. 1 Addis is 3,640 feet, where operators shut down more than a week ago to cement casing landed at 2,720 feet.

Parcel Post Rates To Be Increased Beginning Saturday

Increased parcel post mail rates become effective Saturday.

The increase is intended to cut into the annual deficit this class of mail has produced, according to post office department at Washington. Based on revenues and expenditures for 1930, parcel post was handled at a net loss of $15,000,000.

Postmaster H. L. Bohannon of Big Spring said that rates to distant zones will not be changed because profit has always been shown on long hauls. No change is to be made on parcels mailed here and for local delivery.

Only the first three zones will be changed with the view of equalizing rates. The increase will run from one to three cents per pound, depending on weight and distance.

Postage on parcels mailed on rural routes for local delivery will be two cents less than the other new rates and three cents less when for other than local delivery.

Ricker And Reagan Talk Before Club

Spiritual Needs Must Precede Material Expansion, They Declare

Rupert Ricker, of San Angelo, and B. Reagan were the speakers at the Business Men's Luncheon club, Wednesday.

Mr. Ricker gave a five-minute talk on "What Would Help Big Spring?" He said that this was a time to emphasize spiritual needs rather than material wants, and he believed that if some means was devised to bring the people closer together in a spirit of brotherhood, it would be a tremendous benefit to the more discouraged brother.

The speaker's suggestion for help along this line was a get-together meeting, monthly or semi-monthly it, the city auditorium to sing old-fashioned songs and to join in a great community revival and spiritual uplift.

Mr. Reagan paid a tribute to the work of the club in the community in his talk on "What Would Make Better Business?"

He expressed his belief that if every man in the city who needed work done and could pay for it would have it done at once the outlook would be brighter at once and the depression would be over in a month or two.

He recalled the compliments of the West Texas editors on the industrial trips they were given around Big Spring and repeated his belief that this town had the room and facilities for the building of a real city.

Part of the foundation, he said, must be laid on building the right kind of ideals and faith in the future as well as at the present. It was not that the city was lacking in leadership, he repeated, so much as in loyalty to leaders who are often attacked by men seeking to oust them for selfish reasons. He maintained that the present leaders of the city affairs were not looking for personal advantage but for the upbuilding of the community and that a crying need of the present was that they should be supported and defended by every citizen who was genuinely and sincerely interested in the welfare of this city.

V. W. Fuglaar was received as a new member of the luncheon club.

COURTCALLS ELECTION PARLEY

Austin Judge Grants Injunction To Prevent Certification

AUSTIN (AP) — Ocie Speer, counsel for Mrs. Ferguson in the fight involving the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Thursday filed a formal request with Secretary of State [illegible] McCallum asking her to advise him whether she would or would not certify Mrs. Ferguson as nominee. Mrs. McCallum said she would answer late Thursday by mail.

AUSTIN (AP)—District Judge W. F. Robertson set 2 p. m. Wednesday for a conference with attorneys for Governor Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson to ascertain "just what they are going to do" about trying the election contest suit filed by Governor Sterling.

The judge said he wanted to make sure there would be no delay in trying the suit.

James E. Ferguson said "we intend to fight the injunction granted early Wednesday by Judge Robertson restraining Secretary of State Jane Y. McCallum from certifying the name of Mrs. Ferguson as nominee to county clerks.

"There will be no quarter," he said. "We'll fight them hard as we can in every way we know."

No date has been set for a hearing on the injunction. The ex-governor conferred with his attorneys Luther Nickles, Dallas, and Ocie Speer, Austin, to plan the next move. Nickles said the Fergusons' answer to the governor's suit was virtually finished.

'Unpardonable Sin' Subject For Townsend

Interest In First Christian Revival Continues High

Interest continued high in the revival in progress at the First Christian Church with a large and attentive audience in attendance Wednesday night. Following a special message in song by E. W. Potter on "The Prodigal Son," the evangelist, Rev. Irye L. Townsend, brought a message on the subject "A Light In God's Window." This message was based upon Jesus' parable of the Lost Son, and contained a tremendous appeal.

The subject of Mr. Townsend's message announced for tonight is "The Sin Eternal," or "The Unpardonable Sin." This will be the last message which Rev. Townsend will bring during the revival, as he must return to his pastorate at Sweetwater. Rev. D. R. Lindley, pastor of the local church, will continue the evangelistic services through Sunday night, with a message Friday night on "The Tempest," and Saturday night on "The Triple Groaning." The services Sunday will be in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the local church, and will climax the two weeks Golden Jubilee revival now in progress.

A special invitation is extended to the public to attend the services tonight to hear Rev. Townsend's last message during the meeting. Preceding the sermon a special message in song will be given by Mrs. Joe Earnest and Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, entitled "Still Undecided."

Application Of Loan Moratorium To Cotton Would Extend $8,460 Of Amount Borrowed Within County

Announcement from Washington Wednesday that farmers owing crop production loans would be required to pay only twenty-five per cent is applicable only to wheat farmers. Consequently cotton farmers in this vicinity will be called upon to clear their entire debt with the government.

However, only $11,281 was borrowed by Howard county farmers last year, according to figures given by Ben Carpenter, of the local crop production committee. A total of 23,027 acres were represented in the loans, or an average of forty-nine cents per acre.

Had the "crop production loan moratorium" applied to cotton it would have meant $8,460.75 in this county. In other words eighty farmers owing loans would have had to pay $2,820.25 this year against the total $11,281 they borrowed.

Loans here averaged $141 on an average of 287 acres securing each loan.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—If distress of other farm sections is proved comparable with that in certain wheat growing regions, the White House stated Thursday that the partial moratorium on repayment of crop production loans announced Wednesday might be extended.

Walter H. Newton, one of the president's secretaries said if it was shown that cotton and tobacco had suffered to the extent of some of the wheat farmers, he had no doubt partial moratorium would be extended them.

Tom Green Sets County Tax Rate At 75 Cents

SAN ANGELO — Tom Green county has cut six cents off her tax rate to set the levy at seventy-five cents per $100 valuation. Based on an anticipated seventy-five cent collection, the rate joins with the 9 cent state levy to make the total rate $1.84. Last year it was $1.55.

Commissioners of Tom Green estimated the new rate would represent a twenty per cent saving to tax payers because of reduced valuations.

High School Grid Race To Begin

Headliner Of Week In District 1

Sweetwater-Abilene Clash Attracts Regional Interest

BY CURTIS BISHOP

The 1932 state interscholastic grid race will get underway this week-end as practically all of the more favored teams take on warm-up competition with one outstanding conference game scheduled.

In District 1 the Pampa Harvesters, dark horses of the 1930 race, meet the Plainview Bulldogs in the only noteworthy district contest on schedule.

In other headline games Corpus Christi plays Harlingen, the Ranger Bulldogs invade Amarillo, Sweetwater meets Abilene, Sherman plays Oak Cliff and Waco meets Forest high.

The Amarillo Sandies, who have dominated [illegible] years and set to [illegible] Westerners last season only after [illegible] reign as pre-season favorites to take the state championship. Coach Blair Cherry has a host of veterans on hand, and a weakened lineup in his district should enable him to bring his proteges on slowly.

Score Challenges

A dozen schools, however, gave promise of exceptionally strong teams as pre-season reports narrowed the list of mythical challengers down to a score of clubs. Abilene and Waco, winner of more championships than all the other schools put together, were neither optimistic over the material on hand, but both will bear watching in District 2 and 11 respectively.

In the Oil Belt the Breckenridge Buccaroos, state chmapions along with Port Arthur in 1929, stand out as the principle challenger to Eagle supremacy. Brownwood, Eastland, and Ranger are also as strong as usual, and the usual tight affair is predicted.

In District 4 Austin High School of El Paso, coached by Pat Murphy, former Abilene mentor, is given more than an even chance against the field. The Sweetwater Mustangs and the San Angelo Bobcats, with the former cited as somewhat the stronger, seem to have the edge in District 3. The Quanah Indians appear powerful in District 5, but the Wichita Falls Coyotes will take to the field under a new coach, Ted Jeffries, and with a wealth of material on hand.

District 6

Highland Park and Sherman appear to be the class of the schools in District 6, with Sherman picked by the majority of the experts. Oak Cliff and Forrest High are top-notchers in the Dallas section. A good comparison can be made this week-end as both play strong teams, Sherman and Waco respectively.

Greenville, winner of District 9 last year, is weakened by the loss of Jay Arnold and another Marshall year is the forecast. Tyler, state champions in 1930 in one grand upset, appears to be on top of District 10. Waco and Corsicana generally fight it out in District 11, but Cleburne appears stronger than usual this season.

Nothing is likely to stop Austin High in District 12 and John Reagan High in District 13. The Royal Purple of Beaumont High finals its last year are still powerful but Port Arthur gives promise of another stellar team. Robstown, a newcomer to state forecasts is due to battle it out with Corpus Christi for the championship of District 15.

Only one game is on the District schedule, and that is the Thanksgiving Day tilt between Harlingen and Brownsville, the only clubs in the division, Harlingen won last year.

Masonic Home, probably the strongest B class team in the state in 1931, has graduated into A circles this year and should be able to handle the other Fort Worth schools and Mineral Wells.

Three Members Of British Cabinet Offer Resignations

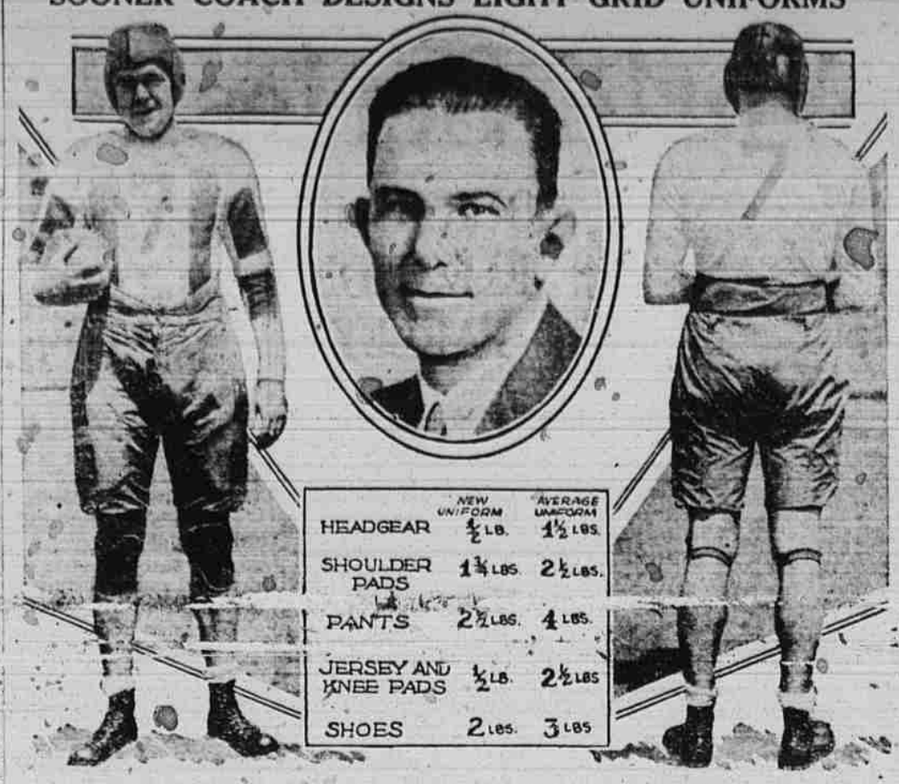

LONDON (AP)—Viscount Snowden, lord privy seal, Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary for Scotland, three of the most important labor and liberal members of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's eleven months old cabinet, resigned today after a disagreement over tariff proposals aproved at a recent imperial trade conference in Ottawa. Resignations marked the first break in the national government. Political observers believed MacDonald would be able to reform the ministry.

Mrs. B. A. Cowan, state president of the Baptist W. M. U. who has been the guest of Mrs. R. S. Reckett for the past few days, returned to her home in Seminary Hill Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Jones have gone to Fort Stockton where they were called by the death of a relative.

SOONER COACH DESIGNS LIGHT GRID UNIFORMS

No excess weight will be carried by University of Oklahoma football players this year, for they'll wear an outfit designed by Lewie Hardage (center), head coach of the Sooners, and it weighs just slightly more than half the conventional attire. Don Smith, manager, is shown "modeling" the uniform, the total weight of which is only 7¼ pounds. (Associated Press Photo)

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

Tall, deliberate "Cy" Reid, for two years a basketball and track star, seems to have found his true position in football and may secure the coveted letter this fall.

Like many other court and cinder artist Cecil, whose career was badly handicapped by injuries last season had previously found the gridiron sport a stumbling block. He has spent two seasons among the Steer substitutes, one year as a center and another as an end. This fall Reid has been shifted to tackle, and is running along with Roberts and Sanders on the first eleven.

The Martin experiment will be closely watched Friday afternoon in the first contest of the season for the Bovines. If it is successful it will not only mean that the Big Spring team will be improved 20 per cent but that the curly-haired player will be almost a cinch for all-district honors.

It is planned by Coach Bris- [illegible] Martin to [illegible] to his regular guard position on the defense, leaving Bob Flowers and Elmer Dyer to back up the line. Both are experienced veterans at the art, and there is little to choose between them.

A search for a capable punter is still a source of worry. Harris has improved considerably and will probably bear the brunt of the kicking during the year. Harris will be out of the Lamesa contest, however, with an injured ankle, and either Coberg or Morgan must be entrusted with the punting duties.

Little, if any, has been learned of the Tornadoes' strength for Friday's game. Rumor has it that the Lamesa team possesses a wealth of veterans, with only a quarterback and a tackle missing from the 1931 team. Last year Big Spring was very, very fortunate to beat the Tornadoes 13 to 6. One Tack Dennis was responsible for the margin of victory.

This year, and the sad refrain as no doubt been heard before, Tack Dennis is not on the Bovine roster. Neither, and this has been said so often we are tired of it ourselves, are Flowers, Hebisen and Coburn.

The comparative strength of the Big Spring team, therefore, is unknown. In one practice session the green backfield goes like a whirlwind, in the next the promising rookies stumble around, miss their holes, and in general conduct themselves as if they were back in the 1931 season, when almost all of them were second string material. It is a cinch that the kicking department will not be an offensive threat this season. The aerial game is apt to bring the Steers very, very few points.

Defensively, however, the Bovines are almost as strong as of last year. The wings are strengthened, the guards are better, the secondary is just as good. Lamesa could not score upon the locals last year. Unless they are considerably stronger we believe that their portion of the final score is going to be the same Friday—a zero.

So we predict: Big Spring 0, Lamesa 0.

Some twenty-five Herald newsboys will be the guests of the management at the Casino boxing arena this evening. Bobby Clark of Sweetwater, who holds a decision over Duke Trammell of Fort Worth in a ten-round bout, will headline the event, meeting one Jack Denton of Midland. Denton is a cagy veteran of the game, and reports from both Midland and Sweetwater indicate that the two battlers are "favorite sons." We were outrageously ridiculed in Sweetwater recently for even suggesting that Clark would not win his first appearance in a Big Spring ring. The identity of his opponent then was unknown, but his backers declared that it would make little or no difference.

• • •

Two of the preliminaries will see regular favorite in action. The Black Knight will meet Kid Bozo, another Big Spring product. The Ogle Brothers, Dynamite and Lightning, will be on hand with another of their fast, three round bouts. We take Dynamite with his left jab.

Clyde Pratt, who once played centerfield for the Big Spring Cowboys and did a good job of it comes forward with the news that in a recent scrimmage his Winters Blizzards could not score against a strong south wind.

Texas Presidential Electors Names Go On November Ballot

DALLAS—The prolonged fight between railroads and trucks broke out anew when railroads of the state, through application by A. C. Fonda, chairman of the Texas-Louisiana tariff bureau, sought to lower freight rates on grocery products to and from Texas points up to a distance of 800 miles.

Lon A. Smith and Ernest O. Thompson, state railroad commissioners, and rate experts of the commission, heard evidence presented by T. E. Huffman, general freight agent for the Texas & Pacific Motor Transport company.

Huffman urged ratification of the rate scale sought, which would amount to a reduction of about 10 to 12 per cent on a long list of commodities such as butter, molasses, fruits, (both citrus and non-citrus) all kinds of foods and food preparations, eggs, tea, tobacco, as well as glassware, some drug products, matches and some other non-edible items.

Under the cross-examination of C. M. Spence, attorney for the Texas & Pacifci interests, it was brought out that the railroads have, according to Huffman, lost most of the volume in such commodities to leased or privately operated trucks. About 80 to 85 per cent of this business is now handled by other than common carriers, Huffman declared.

A recent "grocery mixture" rate scale on the items named, which was put in effect where legal, has resulted in an increase for his lines of about 1,500,000 pounds a month, Huffman said. If the remaining restrictions were removed, many thousands of additional tons would be received, he estimated.

One of the limitations the railroads asked removed was a reduction of minimum shipments from 1,000 to 500 pounds for the rates urged. An elimination of certain percentage requirements also was asked.

Gladewater Asks Rangers Be Sent Away

Operations Hurt Business, Say City Commission And Legion

GLADEWATER (UP) — The Gladewater city commission at its regular session passed a resolution asking Gov. Ross Sterling to withdraw rangers from active duty here.

The document, to be forwarded to the executive offices was signed by Mayor A. J. Wood and L. R. Neal, city secretary.

A similar resolution has been passed by the Gladewater Legion post.

Voting unanimously, the post adopted a resolution condemning presence of rangers, declaring they have "so conducted themselves in this area that business institutions have suffered loss of business."

The resolution further recited [illegible] abiding workingmen residing to the city to trade have been charged with vagrancy and [illegible] charges and fined without respect to the facts; that practices of similar nature have so harassed the people that trade has been driven elsewhere."

Governor Sterling was requested to remove the rangers from active duty and to leave enforcement of law to the regularly elected officers. State Commander Carl Nesbitt of Mineola addressed the barbecue meeting at which the resolution was adopted.

Scrappers See Action Tonight

Two wily, hard-hitting veterans of the cauliflower game, Bobby Clarke of Sweetwater and Jack Denton of Midland, come together in the eight round main event at the Casino boxing arena this evening.

Clarke, middleweight champion of a National Guard division, and boosting victories over such fighters as Bull Caraway of Eastland and Duke Trammell of Fort Worth, will make his first of several appearances in the local ring. Denton has fought in Texas and New Mexico circles for the last ten years, and has built up a more formidable reputation than his Sweetwater opponent.

The semifinal engagement will be a five round mixup between Alabama Cagun, who has yet to lose a fight in the Casino, and Pat Adams, blonde-haired youngster who issued his challenge from the ringside last Thursday. Cagun is in the pink of condition.

For the preliminaries Promoters James and Campbell have arranged four fast bouts. The Ogle brothers, Lightning and Dynamite, will put on one of their three round shows; the Black Knight will take on one Kid Bozo, Big Spring; Tommy Irvin, Midland, will meet Bob Luton, Big Spring; and another match will be announced from the ringside.

Some twenty-five Herald newsboys will be the guests of the management this evening.

Real Hot Water Encountered When Cop Tries Raid

DALLAS (UP)—Policeman J. L. Dyer actually got to hot water on a liquor raid here.

A man barred his way at the front door and after he had knocked him down a vicious dog attacked him. Dyer beat the dog off and advanced towards the rear of the house, anticipating less trouble.

But good luck was not with him. He found a woman pouring liquor down the kitchen sink.

Dyer seized two bottles and the woman grabbed his hands and held them under the hot water faucet. After a brief struggle he bested her, arrested the couple and called the patrol wagon.

He was treated at emergency hospital for scalled hands.

THE RAID ON THE SABINE WOMEN
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Saul Tepper ... inspired by the story of the Roman warriors' ruthless capture of the Sabine village for the express purpose of carrying off its women (290 B. C.).

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ...the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Germany and the Disarmament Conference

In appraising the recent German declarations about armaments, it is perhaps well to remember that strong governments can move quietly, whereas weak governments have to make shoky gestures. The von Papen Cabinet is a most uncertain affair. It rests upon the army, the bureaucracy, no certain elements of the old ruling class and upon such public opinion as can be persuaded to regard Hindenburg and von Papen as a lesser evil than Hitler. In order to keep the Hitlerites at bay the government must steal the Hitlerite thunder: it must move for the liberation of Germany from the servitudes and humiliations of the Treaty of Versailles. And it must move rather rapidly in view of the fact that another Germany election is impending.

The pressure of domestic politics within Germany is sufficient to account for the impatience of the von Papen government, and it is not necessary to suspect that in asking for equality in armaments Germany now has any aggressive intentions against France or Poland. Whatever the danger there, it is in the future rather than in the immediate present, except that under a very weak government at Berlin there would be reason to fear disorders and provocative incidents on the eastern frontiers. But it is safe to assume that for some time to come, as long as there is a government of adults rather than of irresponsible romantics, the German frontiers will not be pressed with violence. There is, therefore, no reason for excitement over the Germany gesture. On the contrary, there is every reason for kind of calm understanding and sympathy which the Herriot government in France has displayed.

• • •

The only real danger in the German gesture would be if it drove a wedge between France and Great Britain and btween France and the United States. For there is no doubt that official opinion in London and Washington, and public opinion in both nations, recognizes the inherent equity of Germany's claim that the time has come to liberate her from the Versailles system. Although it is more difficult for France to accept this view, there is no doubt whatever that it is now rather generally accepted in France and with a little tact and patience will prevail. The French see quite as clearly as any one else how illogical it is to suppose that a great nation like Germany can be kept permanently in a condition of artificial inferiority and how unjust and [illegible] it is to make the attempt.

But at the same time the French have a profound concern with the maintennance of legal forms, because they see in respect for established procedure one of their best guaranties against a sudden and violent upheaval of the European system. It was, therefore, of the utmost importance that Great Britain and the United States should not allow their sympathy with the substance of the German claim to divert them from loyal support of the law and the procedure about which France cares so much. Had Great Britain failed to align herself unequivocally with France in insisting that Germany work out her claims through the Disarmament Conference, had the United States failed promptly to take the same stand, the French would again have been isolated, a premium would have been put upon diplomatic intrigue, France would have been driven back toward irreconcilable nationalism and a large part of the vast improvement in the European situation since Lausanne would have been undone. Happily, Mr. MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Stimson grasped the situation and acted decisively They have preserved that unity which is the first condition of all progress towards the solution of world problems.

Given unity of action and time for opinion to accommodate itself, there is no insuperable obstacle to a good solution of the German problem. As matter stand now Germany's armaments are fixed by Part V of the Treaty of Versailles. This section of the treaty was drafted under the personal supervision of Marshal Foch and Sir Henry Wilson. It contains every provision these two soldiers could think of to render Germany incapable of conducting a modern war. Theoretically, then, Part V of the Versailles Treaty is the model of perfect disarmament, and if all nations were ready to disarm and renounce war as a national policy they would apply to themselves the principles which the Allies imposed upon Germany.

They are not prepared to go nearly that far. Therefore, the Germans insist that they should be released from the treaty and allowed to have the same right to arm as other nations posses. The only objection to their claim is that the other nations are in the midst of negotiations to determine what shall be their right to arm, and until that is settled it is disconcerting to have the Germans throw off the treaty which binds them and start frightening Europe by actually rearming.

If the Germans will wait, a treaty will be framed at Geneva, which limits all armaments for, say, ten years. If the Germanys sign that treaty they will have obtained legal equality with the other powers in that they will then be limited in law not by the Versailles Treaty but by the new Geneva Treaty.

[illegible] equality in fact, [illegible] depends upon whether the powers can work out an agreement along the lines of the Hoover proposals of last spring. These proposals call for one-third reduction all around, and if Germany's neighbors came down one-third and if Germany would agree to make only very moderate increase or technical changes in her army and navy the result would be something which reasonable Germans ought to be willing to consider equal enough.

• • •

They must know that the value of any agreement reached at Geneva depends upon its being voluntary and sincere. The Germans need more than to obtain their rights. They need to obtain them with the good will of France. That is not impossible and it is so immensely desirable that it is worth any amount of trouble to arrive at it. For only then will there be possible that sense of transquility which is the surest foundation of peace.

Willcox W.T.C.C. Representative In Relief Matters

Ray Wilcox, Big Spring director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been designated by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to serve as Governor R. S. Sterling's representative in the preparation and submission of Big Spring's application for funds out of the $300,000,000 provided by the Federal Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been charged by the governor with the responsibility of naming the chairmen in each town and county in its territory and assembling the applications from the towns. The directors of the affiliated towns have been named as chairmen. In unaffiliated towns, the chamber has named others as chairmen.

Already application blanks and instructions have gone out to the two hundred towns, cities, and one hundred thirty counties in West Texas from the office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Stamford.

Assistance in making out the applications is to be given by the regional organization. General Manager D. A. Sandeen, at Stamford, will devote most of his time during the next two weeks in assisting towns and counties in that part of West Texas in making the applications. The same service will be given to the Panhandle-Plains cities by Assistant Manager Maury Hopkins at Plainview. Jack Hott, manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, will assist at Fort Worth and Captain E. H. Simons, manager of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, in that part of the territory.

Applications for the relief must be made through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and must be [illegible] Oct. 15 and to give the organization time to transmit them to the governor before Oct. 15. The governor will make application for the State of Texas on Oct. 15.

The funds to be applied for now are for the months of October, November and December. The amount will be based upon the amounts that have been spent for relief and relief work by the respective applicaht cities during the past 21 months, or since Jan. 1, 1931.

STUDENTS

When schools open in all parts of the land this September, we will find that in all of them there are three types of students. These may be called the fast starting kind, the steady type, and the slow starting.

The fast starting type are the ones who study the first few weeks of school and make good grades, then to the surprise of the teachers, they suddenly are uninterested. Then they coast along the rest of the year on their grades of the first few weeks. Sometimes they get by, but most of the time they fail in their lazy attempt.

The steady pupils are those whose work is either poor, medium or good from start to finish, and the way they start always ends bad.

The last type is a very numerous one. These are the ones who envy all the ones who make good grades and never take time to study during the daily routine, but when time comes for the final tests, they cram their heads with all they can by reading others notebooks or possibly reading up and manage to barely get by.

We may classify ourselves as to which of these types we belong. We may also form our own conclusions as to which of the three we would like to belong. As we all know the results of each, we know it wouldn't take a strong vote to decide the correct answer.

Campus Chatter

By DOROTHY DUBLIN

Professor Whitehead says it is time to start a little gossip around this campus so here goes!

What's this we hear about R. V. J. being the "silent lover" of Hattie Mae Pickle? Not so silent; but after all, "ain't love grand?"

One of our deah little freshmen asked if Con and Vernice were brothers and sisters. No, they are still on speaking terms.

Don't you wish riding boots would hurry up and cost five dollars? Note those dillies Virginia Cushing and Claudine Miller are sporting.

'I can't imagine whose bracelet Caroline is wearing. Could it be Dude "Bing Crosby" Shaw's? What's Jimmy Wilson doing all this time?"

If you haven't been asked for a ride to Lamesa, consider yourself left out. Aw! don't take it so hard; just ask someone if you can buy the gas—Smell Matter (?).

Charles Vines is cutting up again—someone said he broke up Dub Coots home. Fagan youse is a viper!

Famous people in everyday walks of school life. The Four Marx Brothers: Zeppo, George Ed O'Neal; Harpo, Dub Coots; Chicko, Brady Piper; Groucho, Tom Beasley.

Wonder when the pep squad is going to start? All the Freshmen are simply thrilled to death over our new uniforms (?) We are all!

Fred Townsend is stepping high in football—sounds like another "Tack". Don't crowd girls—take your time.

Alta Taylor owner of a pair of sweet pea shoes, tells us she has a brand new crush on Walter Bunker—Watch out Walter.

We find new talent in our student body everyday. One of the most recent discoveries is that of Rick's voice. He especially shows improvement in assembly singing.

I guess the students will all know where to go to get out of classes during a rain storm next time. The brighter section of B. S. H. S. (Red Sanders and Pete Burns) stayed on Uncle Walt's porch and was unable to attend the first part of the class period.

Ringside seats are now on sale for the big fight! Kid Eva O'Neal vs Featherweight Champion George Ed. Time: The next time George puts his books in Eva's locker. — Referee, Marguerite Tucker.

Frank McClesky and Ralph Duvall furnish entertainment for having Al tantrums caused by mistakes make by the typewriter? (Of course it couldn't be them).

According to the great number of freshmen—looks like we have "Fish" for sale.

Lula Ashley seems to be one of our most promising debutantes. And does she have a way with a certain junior boy? He drives a blue Nash.

Jane and Hazel have been sporting a few green dresses. Could it be that our honorable seniors have gone "green" on us.

There seems to be quite a few "bust-ups" in this steady business. However, Viama and Juanita still have "ye olde Ball and Chayne."

X Marks The Spot

Hear ye! Hear ye! All of you careless students. If you don't wish your name in notorious print and exposed to the general public, "stop up all keyholes," beware of talking in the halls, and tear up all notes. There is a Walter Winchell in the school! As he only arrived a few days ago he has only a bit of gossip this week but BEWARE!

Who it is in school that has such a secret crush on Eva Mae O'Neal? He is continually singing "My Silent Love" and as it seems Eva is giving him the "cold shoulder." Faint heart ne'er won fair lady.

The Beau Brummel of the school is a young man who has caused the teachers no little grief and is also "that-a-way" about a pretty good little girl.

All the girls have turned eyes to the Steer's backfield. There is a "blond Atom" there who seems to be causing more fluttering of hearts than Mr. Reed has tests. A grass rope is best, Mr. Bristow!

As yet the freshmen have not been introduced but we do know that there are several young ladies in the class who have made the upper classmen look twice.

Ask Juanita Briggs and Claudine Shaw what they are doing to reduce. Merely a hint.

Shorts

Mary Jane, do you still claim Frank?

Fep, are you still that-a-way about Lula?

Spec and Dot are still going fine.

Hazel Smith has not heard from Jake yet.

Dub and Charley are waxing roth over Maurine.

There seems to be a big split this summer.

Caroline vs. Lloyd.

Jane vs. Rick.

[illegible] vs. Johnnie.

Howard Schwarzenbach's middle name is Francis.

What makes Mack so fond of zippers?

This is the first of a long line of Spots so if you are in doubt and want to know just drop a question in a little box on the principal's office desk. You will learn what you want to know. When doing so you must let us know the first names of your questionnaires so we may get at the bottom of this great work.

"A Parting Short"

Margurite Tuckers says, "Of course gentlemen prefer blondes because who likes to squeeze a blackhead?"

Talk Of The Town

Friday of this week the Steers will be trotting out on the field at Lamesa for their first game of the season.

The Steers beat Lamesa 13-0 last year. This year they are going out there with plenty of pep and the old fighting spirit to beat them again, with a higher score.

With a line lighter but more experienced, the Steers' prospects are good against any team this year.

When they line up for the kick-off, Schwarzenbach will be the man to call the signals. Co-Captain Richbourg will probably play at full while Townsend and Koberg will be at halves. In the line, Vines and Co-Captain Coots will hold down the ends while Sanders and Armstrong of Roberts will take care of the tackle positions. Fred Martin and Clifton Smith will be at guard positions while Bob Flowers and Elmer Dyer are still fighting for center position. The Lomax aces. Leo Hare and Weldon Woods will probably see service in the game in the backfield.

Rick Koberg, the reserve guard last year, is showing his ability at punting, passing and running Fred Townsend, the Devils ace last year, will also probably pass and show his stuff in running.

"Swatzie" Schwarzenbach, last year's quarterback and ace in running with the ball, has impoved since last year and will lead the team against the district this year.

Co-Captain Richbourg, who is taking Harris' place at full is showing the people how to deliver the mail and along with Swatzie is the only experienced man in the backfield.

Monday afternoon Coach Bristow took his entire squad to the stadium and gave them a hard workout with a scrimmage afterwards. He shifted the men around and all showed that good ole' fighting spirit. Koberg and Morgan showed nice form in punting the pigskin and had nice placement. To show the ole' fighting spirit was going, Swatzie returned a punt for a touchdown. Townsend went around end for a pretty gain and Richbourg went through the line for a nice gain when he pulled a fake spinner. All of the men showed up well on defense and offence.

The people of Big Spring and the kids of the school will back up the boys at all the games and will be hollering and rooting for the Big Spring Steers.

JUNIORS

The Devils, Junior football club, in their meeting Tuesday afternoon named Con Coburn coach for the coming season.

Coburn, who was formerly a star backfield man for the high school, replaces Ben Daniels, who now makes his home in Colorado City.

Members of the squad who were present at the meeting are:

Sport Gossip

By ALBERT FISHER, Jr.

With no men on the ineligible list, the Steers are facing a season that seems to be particularly favorable, though no one has yet mentioned the possibilities of a state title, or anything like that.

The Conference Committee did not give out any special names when they discussed eligibility.

Vital To The West

MINING IS vital to the west.

In normal times, the mining industry is the foremost employer, purchaser of supplies and contributer to the cost of government in a number of states. Its prosperity is related to that of every other business—the banker, manufacturer, farmer, storekeeper, all look to mines for a large share of their livelihood. In the pioneer days the lure of precious metals was principally responsible for the development of the west—in these days mining is necessary to the west's future development.

The mines will come back. Their problems are gradually being solved. And in the meantime, it behooves every western state to do all it can to encourage the mining industry, and make its struggle for existence easier, by providing constructive regulation and taxation measure.

CALL of the WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

CHAPTER VIII

Dona stifled a quiver in her arm as the cowboy slid up to the roan she had roped. His chaps flapped noisily and he was evidently reluctant to obey her. He had shortened the stirrups and knotted the bridle reins but he was still undecided as to whether he should disobey Asper Delo and allow Dona to mount a bad horse.

Dona became impatient. Her nerve was beginning to waver just a little. "Make it snappy," she ordered.

Her words had the effect she desired. They caused the cowboy to jerk the saddle forward and toss it across the roan's back. Dona knew that after that she would have to go ahead.

The roan submitted to saddling and bridling with a minimum of snorting and swaping. He intended to have his inning when the rider hit the saddle. He did not have to wait long for his opportunity. Without trying the cinch Dona swung into the saddle and jerked the roan's head up.

The big fellow arched his back and shot into the air. Dona jerked off her hat. She knew this big fellow would expect it. Her spurs raked the withers and his straining chest as far forward as she could reach. The battle was on, with the roan twisting and shooting into the air and landing stiff legged in a ...ing crow hop. The cowboy stood in open-mouthed admiration and watched. From then on Dona would have him as an abject slave.

Her entire attention had to be given to the big fellow twisting and plunging beneath her. She did not want to pull leather. Her pride made her keep from reaching for the saddle horn but she was desperate. Six jumps then seven and eight and still the roan was going strong. Suddenly he leaped sidewise and sprinted straight for the fence. That was his last trick. Dona pinched down tight with her knees and let him go. Two jumps from the pole barrier he set his feet and slid. Dona felt she must loosen up and sail over his head but she clung desperately with her knees and the wide roll on the saddle saved her. The roan shook himself and came to a full stop.

"Boy!" shouted the corral boss tossing up his hat.

"What a ride!" He strode forward to help her down.

Dona shook her head and waved her hat toward the gate.

The cowboy grinned and flung it back. Dona rode out master and friend of the big roan. She knew he would be coming to the corral fence for sugar lumps within a week and she slapped his lather-covered neck affectionately.

"Pal, we're going to do some riding," she whispered.

The tall cowboy stood beside her after closing the gate. "Anything else, Miss?" His eyes were devouring her slim beauty.

"I want a carbine. A light 33 will do." She smiled into his gray eyes.

He shook his head sadly. "Strictly against orders, Ma'am. Both Delo's and Swergin's," he smiled.

"I'll wait here till you get it for me. And then you might act as my bodyguard."

This was too much. "I'll get you mine but you don't need no 33 to ride these woods with Stan Ball hidin' in 'em." There was a queer look of defiance in his eyes as he finished.

Dona smiled. "All you cowmen stand up for this man Ball. He's a murderer, isn't he?" she spoke softly.

"Most any of us—" He cut off abruptly and finished. "I'd sure like to take you up on that bodyguard offer, Miss."

Dona tucked the well-oiled carbine he brought into a scabbard under her stirrup flap. A crowd had gathered in front of the office and main building. "I'll be up there," she indicated.

Dona cantered off. She rode up to the gathering almost unnoticed. At once she saw Dudley astride a meek-looking horse. He sat in a very uncomfortable position and his new outfit was wrinkled and dusty from his attempt to ride the roan. Swergin was facing the group and talking to them.

"You fellows is to spread out and comb the south slope of Folly Mountain. You know this Ball, the clothes he wears and the black mare he rides. If you jump him, shoot and ask questions afterward. He killed a man and we want him. I'm making ... of all of you and you get full pay for this hunt."

Asper rode up from the corrals and halted at his daughter's side. He had already heard about her ride from the corral boss who refused to sidestep any responsibility.

"You play around here with a pretty free hand and these fool men let you make saps out of them," he greeted her.

Dona opened her eyes in mock surprise. "Why, your corral boss is a perfect gentleman. He's riding with me."

"He's not riding with you. He's on his way over to Blind River where he belongs," Asper grunted. "I'm putting a steady, married man with you."

"You mean you fired him?" Dona was really hurt.

"Sure. He deliberately did as he pleased like apy cow hand." Asper produced a fat, back cigar and bit the end from it with a crunch.

"I'm going to overtake him and have him come back," Dona flashed.

Asper caught the roan's bridle rein. "Not so fast young lady. He hasn't left yet." There was a twinkle in Asper's eyes.

Dona smiled. "You hadn't better fire any of my admirers."

Dudley had been so engrossed in listening to Swergin that he did not notice Dona until the timber boss had quit talking. When he saw her he poked his mount over to her side by thumping him in the ribs. He recognized the roan and his eyes widened. Then he flushed deeply and his lips pulled tight.

"You look like a real trooper," he greeted her without making any comment on the horse.

* * *

Swergin rode up and joined them while the other riders cantered off in different directions. All looked grimly determined and very much in earnest. Swergin's eyes rested on Dona's horse and a glint of anger shone in them. He addressed Asper.

"I'll fire that slim leatherneck," he gritted.

"I've taken care of him," Asper grunted.

"He's to be my bodyguard," Dona put in sweetly.

"What about me?" Dudley cut in. "I supposed I'm to be ditched because I have never ridden a mean horse."

"You are to go with us, Dud," Dona smiled at Dudley.

"There's too much foolishness around here," Swergin growled. "This is a killin'—not a picnic. These two will have to ride down the cayon where they'll be safe."

Asper grinned and puffed a cloud of thick smoke out from under his wide hat. "Them's my order's," he stated evenly.

The way he said it made Swergin flare up. "Some of this tenderfoot crew is going to get nicked with a bullet and I'm not going to be responsible!" His eyes rested boldly upon Dona.

"You're going to boss this hunt," Asper snapped, "and that is all."

Swergin went on, speaking in the same tone. "None of you are to ride up Pass Creek trail. Ball is more than likely hiding up there. I'll take that trail myself. I've given the men orders to lay off it. Anyone who hits that trail is due for a bullet unless they know the country."

Dona turned her horse and rode away. Swergin's manner was a challenge and his bold impudence angered her. She met the tall cowboy riding out of the corral. With a smile she greeted him.

"You haven't told me your name?"

"Denny Malloy," he said and his sun-browned face flushed. "Late of Blind River."

Dona decided he was likable in a rough, homely way. She bent toward him. "Can you show me the trail to Pass Creek?" she asked and watched his eyes closely.

Malloy's face remained unchanged but his eyes caught and held her's for an instant.

"Let's go," Dona straightened. "And we better ride down around the corrals as though we were going north into the lower country."

The admission charges for the games this year will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. There will be a slight raise in prices for holiday games, when adults will be admitted for 75 cents.

Let's all go to Lamesa to see the Steers take their first victory of the 1932 season. Okeh, Steers. Let's go!

By GEORGE ED O'NEAL

This year the Steers greatest setback is having so many cripples. Livian Harris and Weldon Woods are both out with sprained ankles, and Armstrong, one of the first string tackles, has a hurt knee.

Bristow's worries have wandered from the end position since "Whataman" Vines and "Harpo" Coots have done so well at defense and offense.

Alas; The Steers feel much better since new equipment has been issued to some of the men. Last week nine pairs of football shoes were passed around to some of the letter men, while Monday evening new jerseys were given to the new jerseys were given to the [illegible] knocked off and was out of the scrimmage Monday afternoon. Here's hoping you get better for the game at Lamesa, Red.

This year two boys from Lomax have been helping Obie out of his worries by showing him how to carry the pigskin. Their names are Leo Hare and Weldon Woods. Woods is on the bench now with a sprained ankle.

Dramatic Club To Function This Year

At a called meeting of the Dramatic Club Monday evening, Sept. 26, proposition of forming a dramatic class under the supervision of Mrs. Hildred Hood was discussed. Although no definite agreement was met with, the club will probably continue as in the past. Definite plans for the coming year have not been formulated, but the club will probably begin active work soon

Enrollment Reached 550

Number Of Girls In High School Exceeds Boys

The enrollment in high school for the first semester thus far is 550 students, a figure was compares favorably with the largest enrollments ever made in the local school. The number of girls in each of the four classes exceeds the number of boys, according to the figures from the principal's office.

There are 253 boys and 297 girls in the high school. In the freshmen class there are 165 students; 72 boys and 93 girls. The sophomore class has 147 students; 75 girls and 72 boys. In the junior class there are 112; 54 boys and 58 girls. The senior class has 126; of which 55 are boys and 71 are girls.

Dr. Dobie Tells Of Signal Mount Treasure Legend

By FRED KOBERG

"Perhaps you have never heard it but Big Spring and Signal Mount are connected with one of the most novel of the romantic and tragic treasure tales of Texas," said Dr. J. Frank Dobie to a Wheel reporter after his appearance in the High School auditorium Tuesday night.

"There were some men who had been to California, had struck it rich and were returning to their homes. They were passing along this strip of territory in the vicinity of Signal Mount. Suddenly they were attacked just south of the mount, whether by robbers or Indians it has never been known. They buried their treasure and in the ensuing battle all of the party were killed," Dr. Dobie related.

Mr. Dobie is a man with a very pleasing personality. He had just come from Midland where he had addressed a large crowd and then took a trip to Castle Gap. He is a man of stocky build, of graying hair and he has a very attractive grin.

He seemed very pleased that the students of High School had shown such an interest in his books. "I would rather have my own people to read about their country than to have the best critics' praised' said Dr. Dobie. "To me the Big Spring country is of great interest. It is a place of hills, springs and the Llana Estacado. The latter is of great interest to me. The most prominent story of its name comes from the story of the Spaniards wo put down stakes every few hundred yards so they might find their way back."

Dr. Dobie is away from his duties at Texas University for one year. He is leaving next week for points in Northern Mexico where he will study the folk tales of that region. He is being sponsored on this trip by the Guggenheim Foundation. When he returns he expects to have another book printed.

Among his latest works is the annual which the Folk Lore Society of Texas sponsors. He is secretary-treasurer of that organization and edits the yearbook. His latest edition contains many new tales for the lover of Texas yarns.

Library Rules Of Year Issued

For benefit of all students the library announce its new rules and regulations. The library is one department in the school with which every student comes in contact, so it is only proper and important that all know about it.

According to Miss Vandergriff and Mr. Gentry, books may be obtained in the following ways:

All outside reading books may be obtained only after school.

Magazines, reference books and papers may be obtained at any period.

Fines for the library have not been definitely fixed.

At present, th temporary librarians are, R. V. Jones, who is completing his fourth year in the work, Ruth Cotton and Otis Marie Wasson, who have a few years of credit in the work also.

SCREEN FAILURE; THEN SUICIDE

When she went to Hollywood last April Lillian Millicent "Peg" Entwistle felt assured of a high place in motion pictures after a success on the New York stage. Instead disappointment followed disappointment, and, penniless, she climbed to the highest spot in the Hollywood hills and leaped to her death from the top of an electrical sign. Rev. Irye Townsend Assembly Speaker

The first assembly of the year was held in the high school auditorium last Thursday morning.

The students heard Rev. Irye Townsend. The subject of his talk was "On the Hill." He brought out to the students that everyone should have his "hill" to look up to that in the midst of the present gloom and despair, people should look up. Also, that parents who sacrificed for their children were looking up to their own "hill."

In the absence of Mr. Gentry, Vice-Principal Reed presided over the meeting. The Rev. D. R. Lindley introduced the speaker.

Current Events Club Begins Work

Woodrow Armstrong, president; Earl Reagan, vice president; George O'Neal, secretary-treasurer, and Edith Cordell, reporter, were installed as officers for the years 1932-33 session at the last meeting of the Current Event History Club, in May 1932.

They reviewed their study of history and current events during the past year, and at a call meeting the third Tuesday in September they decided to study and dramatize current events.

For this year their first study will be the dramatization of present-day events in world politics. The club looks forward to a successful year of service and study. All new students interested in history and who would like to become active members are invited to join at the next regular meeting the third Tuesday in October and help promote the interests of the museum and find a deeper interest in the study of history.

'Barber Bill' Given Twenty-Year Sentence By Jurors At Lubbock

LUBBOCK—B. L. (Barber John) Richardson of Lubbock was sentenced to a 20-year term in the state penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of murder growing out of shooting of F. V. (Leather Hat) Brown near here on the night of May 30.

Second of three defendants to face trial for the slaying of the pioneer Lubbock county stockman, Richardson's trial was called before Judge Clark M. Mullican of 99th district after the third defendant, Hugh Walker, was granted a two-day continuance due to illness of one of his counsel, Dewitt Bomer of Bell county. Walker's case comes up today in the same court before the same judge.

First defendant in the three-sided case was Jess Covington, whose eight-day trial ended Saturday in a conviction and an eight-year prison term.

Little Miss Vernith Earney, who has been seriously ill at her home, is slowly improving.

R. E. Day, who attended the funeral of Durham in Bryan returned Wednesday morning.

Tribal Wells Appears Good For 2500 Bbls.

No. Two M. M. Edwards Strikes Pay 27 Feet Higher Than First Well

Tribal Oil company's No. 2 M. M. Edwards Thursday gave promise of becoming a better producer than Tribal's No. 1 Edwards, which opened the Edwards pool, a short distance west of the Coffee-Phillips or west extension of the Howard-Glasscock county field.

No. 2 Edwards, 1474 feet west of No. 1, and located 2,292 feet from the east and 330 feet from the south lines of section 16, block 32, township 2 south, T & P survey, Glasscock county, topped pay at 2,085 feet, 27 feet higher than in No. 1, and filled approximately 500 feet while tools were being pulled and a bailer lowered.

Potential initial production was estimated at 2,500 barrels daily.

The pay was barely topped, according to officials of the Tribal company, and work of cementing 8-inch casing at 2,095 feet was going forward Thursday.

Tribal Oil company was formed recently by local men, including Noel T. Lawson, A. E. Service, Dr. G. T. Hall, Dr. [illegible] Ellington, and others.

In the Coffee-Phillips or regular west extension pool, in section 23 of block 33, township 2 south, T&P survey, two miles south and east of the Tribal wells, California Company's No. 1 Byrne was reported to have made 620 barrels daily, initial production. The California well, 2310 feet from the south and 1650 feet from the east lines of section 23, had 2,000 feet of salt water from 1,445 to 1,473 feet, started filling with oil at 2,105 feet, was shot with 150 quarts from 2,270 to 2,375 feet, bridged at 2,362 feet, with 1,152 feet of oil in the hole after 24 hours.

Last reports on other drilling wells in the west extension included the following:

Phillips Petroleum company's No. 1 T. W. Baker et al, 150 feet from the north and 1320 feet from the east lines of section 21, block 33, township 2 south, T & P survey, underreaming 12 1-2 inch at 645 feet.

Sun Oil company's No. 1 T. W. Baker et al, 330 feet from the south and 2310 feet from the east lines of section 14, block 33, township 2 south, T & P survey, total depth 2,300 feet, will not deepen at present.

Brookhart Back In Race In New Party

WASHINGTON, (UP)—U. S. Senator Smith W. Brookhart, defeated for renomination in the Republican primaries by Henry Field, Shenendoah, Ia., radio seed salesman, is back in the race. He accepted an invitation to run under the label of a newly organized progressive party, Louis Murphy, Democrat, is the third man in the race.

Beach Camp Death Discloses Triangle

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., (UP)—Authorities were confronted with a strange triangle as they attempted to solve the slaying of Maurice Russell, 40, San Francisco advertising man, whose nude body was found in the isolated Pedro Valley above Half Moon Bay.

Russell had been shot through the back with a shotgun. His body was found lying near the cabin of Pedro Guerrero, 74, eccentric Sallada Beach ranch caretaker.

Sheriff J. J. McGrath took into custody Guerrero, Russell's 35-year-old wife and Carl Hansen, caretaker of the cabins where the Russells were vacationing. The sheriff said Guerrero admitted he had quarrelled with Russell during a drinking party and had struck the advertising man with a lamp.

Mrs. Russell told the sheriff the aged caretaker had uttered a warning to her husband.

"Some day you are going to die and when you do, I shall take over your wife. She is a good wife and I will treat her well," Mrs. Russell quoted Guerrero as having said.

Hansen, in whose cabin the party occurred, wrecked his automobile in racing to Redwood City to notify authorities.

Mrs. Russell said she and her husband left San Francisco 16 days ago on a vacation. She denied she had ever taken Guerrero's advances seriously.

Guerrero denied any knowledge of the slaying. Sheriff [illegible] said a double barreled shotgun was found under the bed in his cabin.

Prosecutor Might Have Summoned Young Insull, Now Enroute To France

CHICAGO, (UP)—United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green probably would have subpoenaed Samuel Insull, Jr., if he had known the son of the one-time utilities magnate intended going to France, the federal prosecutor said.

Young Insull left Saturday and is now on the Atlantic. His departure came amidst a federal and local grand jury investigation of the Insull empire, which collapsed with an estimated $1,000,000,000 (B) loss to investors.

"I knew Mrs. Insull, the mother, was ill and I sympathize with his desire to visit her in Paris," Green said. "But I likely would have issued a supoena had I known. It would not necessarily have prevented his trip but would have given legal basis for insisting on his return at a stated time."

Dry Leader Asks Support Of Dem Ticket

St. Louis Man, Speaking At Wichita Jubilee, Flays Hoover

WICHITA FALLS, (UP)—Charles M. Hay, St. Louis dry democratic leader, in an address at the Wichita Falls jubilee celebration here Tuesday urged drys as well as wets to support Roosevelt and Garner "if this republic is to endure."

"I am not in favor of the repeal of the 18th amendment," said Hay. "But I am so heartily in favor of the repeal of Herbert Hoover and the unsound economic policies of the party now in power, that I am supporting our ticket with earnestness and enthusiasm.

"This government can edure permanently whether the people have or do not have beer; but it can not endure permanely if millions of people can not earn their bread.

"I have no confidence in the leadership of Mr. Hooves on this or any other question. It is my conviction that the [illegible] prohibition policy is in today is due primarily to the maladministration of that policy under President Hoover and his two predecessors. It was never honestly enforced by anyone or them."

Praises Garner

Hay, Democratic nominee for the United States senate in Missouri in 1928, and an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination this year began his speech with praise for John Garner, democratic nominee for vice-president.

"I am happy and honored to speak in the home state of the next vice-president of the United States," said Hay.

"One of the most laughable and ludicrous endeavors of an excited and floundering opposition has been effort to picture John Garner as a 'radical.'

"No radical ever enjoyed the confidence of the people long enough to be elected to congress 15 times or to rise to the speakership of the house of representatives because of his reputation as a fair, sane level-headed man.

Head And Front

The head and front of his offending is that he dared to manifest an extraordinary desire to help the distressed masses of this country at a time when bourbon policies had broken down and Hamiltonism had run amuck, leaving the people helpless and confused.

"The robust and dynamic character of Governor Roosevelt's campaign closes the door to any prospect that Mr. Garner will ever be president unless elected in his own right; but if by any road he ever arrives in that high office, the masses of the people will have a capable friend in the White House."

EVERY WOMAN faces this question

"How do I look to other people?" If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
