REFUGE FOR JEWS TO BE SOUGHT

Great Accord To Be Signed Late Today

BY ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 — The greatest commercial accord in recent history, embracing a total American trade of $1,500,000,000 a year, was ready today for signature by high officials of the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

Formal ceremonies for concluding the reciprocal agreements, apex of Secretary Hull's commercial program, were arranged for 3 p. m. (central standard time) in the famous east room of the White House.

Three Are To Sign

Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada, Sir Ronald Lindsay, the towering British ambassador, and Secretary Hull were designated to sign the bulky documents for their governments.

During a two-day visit here, MacKenzie King also is expected to confer with President Roosevelt on the latter's plans for mutual defense of the western hemisphere.

With relations between the United States and Germany strained over Nazi violence against the Jews, the Anglo-American trade agreement appeared destined to bring the United States and Britain closer together.

Germany On Blacklist

Germany, now on the United States' economic blacklist because of her discriminations against American trade, is not eligible for the same tariff reductions granted Britain under the new agreement.

Some officials believed the treaty might act as a restraining force on Germany, perhaps inducing Adolf Hitler not only to quell anti-semitic outbreaks but also to seek a similar trade agreement with the United States.

Secretary Hull was visibly pleas-

Two Employes To Hold Their Jobs Under O'Daniel Regime

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—The prospects seem bright that two present employes of the governor's department will hold their jobs under the O'Daniel administration.

The two are negroes, Emory Ahart, a porter, and Hugh Green, a clerk. Ahart was appointed by Governor Ross Sterling; Green, by Governor Tom Campbell, 30 odd years ago.

It is understood Governor James V. Allred recently telephoned W. Lee O'Daniel to urge retention of Ahart and Green.

In the case of the latter, general efficiency was urged; in the former, the item of a marriage was disclosed.

It seems Ahart wanted to get married again and provide a mother for his five motherless children, and he couldn't take a chance with the government about to be shaken up.

Governor Allred allegedly asked O'Daniel if he wanted to "interfere with the institution of marriage," and received a positive negative reply.

So the colored porter and clerk are optimistic. And the odds about the capitol are they'll still be in there after January.

Ginnings In South Plains Area Exceed 250,000 Bales; Lynn Is Leader With Lubbock Second

South Plains ginnings up to Nov. 1 had passed the quarter million mark, a report of the bureau of the census, department of commerce showed today. Totals were 254,008 bales for 19 counties, compared with 325,943 for the corresponding date in 1937.

Loss was 22 per cent or 71,935 bales. With a third less acreage planted this year than in 1937 and an estimated considerably less yield per acre, the discrepancy is not unexpected.

State total this year was 2,594,713 bales as compared with 3,662,081 a year ago.

Lubbock Close Second

Lynn again leads in bales, 34,572, with Lubbock a close second with 33,738; Crosby third with 30,638 bales; Dawson fourth with 25,709; Dickens fifth with 20,580 bales and Scurry sixth with 20,489 bales.

Last year rankings at this date were, Lynn, Dawson, Lubbock, Crosby, Scurry, Lamb.

Six Show Increases

Six counties, Dickens, Floyd, Hale, Hockley, Motley and Parmer, show increases this year over last.

The half-way mark is believed passed for the season, in bales ginned. Total production is estimated

CIO Contracts To Be Upheld

BY T. F. COMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17. — The first convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, working under the direction of Labor Leader John L. Lewis, wove into the base of its first policy program today a pledge to uphold its contracts with industry and a demand for federal action against anti-labor forces.

Both propositions were approved yesterday by a convention gathering that included many CIO unionists who took part in the bitterly fought strikes of 1937 when the Lewis organization was struggling to win collective bargaining agreements in the steel and automobile industries.

To Be "Unshakable Policy"

The resolution on the abservance of collective bargaining agreements proclaimed that "it is the unshakable policy of the CIO and its affiliated organizations to adhere to their contractural obligations in letter and spirit and the CIO undertakes to throw its full weight and influence into the balance to effect such adherence."

The conventions demand for federal action against anti-labor forces was incorporated in resolutions asking for justice department prosecution of employer conspiracies to prevent establishment of labor organizations, and appropriation by congress of sufficient funds to continue the senate civil liberties committee

Texas Employment Service Is Pondering Reduction In Funds

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Texas Employment service pondered today how to operate more than 100 district offices during the remainder of the year in the face of a reduction of $70,000 in federal operating funds.

Orville S. Carpenter, chairman-director of the unemployment compensation commission of which the employment service is a part, said the matter was still pending before the Social Security board in Washington.

Cotton Improvement Is Discussed Today

Before a small group of farmers the need of cotton improvement and better ginnings was discussed this morning in a district courtroom on the second floor of the court house by E. A. Miller and F. E. Lichte.

Miller stressed the necessity of growing better staple length cotton in Texas. Such a heavy percentage is grown for export and foreign mills are preferring cotton with a longer staple than that which comes from Texas.

Lichte advised producers not to force ginners to hurriedly gin cotton, as poor ginning always results.

J. W. Palmore, assistant county agent, presided. M. E. Heard also spoke as did James Buchanan, of the U. S. D. A. at Abilene.

Secretary Of Agriculture Is Emphatic In His Appeal To Georgia Farmers Today

(By The Associated Press)

MACON, Ga., Nov. 17 — Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace here today told cotton and tobacco growers that they must keep their Agricultural Adjustment administration programs "if you want to save your economic life."

The secretary compared the AAA programs to ships "in a sheltered haven, away from the winds of the world economic storm."

"Those winds are rising to a hurricane gale, the force of which most of us in the United States do not yet appreciate," the secretary said.

"And so I say to both groups (cotton and tobacco farmers) stay by your ship, and don't let anyone lure you off from it. Don't give up your ship if you want to save your economic life."

Secretary Wallace spoke on invitation of the United Georgia Farmers and the Georgia Cooperative council. Georgia, with other cotton and tobacco producing states, will vote Dec. 10 on the question of continuing marketing quotas on cotton and flue-cured tobacco for 1939.

Burglars Make Haul In Olton

(Special To The Journal)

OLTON, Nov. 17—Burglars struck swiftly—and without regard for their proximity to the courthouse—in Olton Wednesday night or early this morning.

Three places were burglarized, one of an estimated $400 in merchandise, and one lesser offense was reported.

Keeping Close Watch

Early this afternoon, South Plains and eastern New Mexico authorities were keeping close watch for an automobile in which were a woman and a young boy.

Speculation that a heavy sedan, at first believed stolen in Lubbock but found early this afternoon, might have figured in the jobs was made this morning.

Breaking a window of Van Doren Variety store, just across the street from the courthouse, the intruders made entry by working door latches. The loss there was heavy, including 200 boxes of women's hose, each box containing three pairs; two knitted sweater sets, 24 pairs of men's dress shoes; six pairs of men's work shoes; six pairs of boys shoes, and 45 pairs of women's shoes.

Cafe Suffers Loss

Clyde Cates' cafe, nearby, reported a nickelodeon was broken into, as was a penny slot machine, and an undetermined amount of money taken.

In North Olton, two offenses were reported. Two hoists were taken from L. H. Trotter garage, both painted blue. One was a one-, the other a two-ton hoist. A lock on a gasoline pump of Ormstead station was broken and enough gasoline drained to fill the tank of the undesirables, Mrs. F. A. Loyd, sheriff, and Sam Hutson, sheriff-elect, estimated.

Hutson said the men's dress shoes were 7 to 10 in size; the work shoes 8 to 10; the boys' shoes 3 to 6 and

Republican Candidates Seeking Recount In Indiana Counties

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Indiana Republican candidates for state offices in the Nov. 8 election have signed petitions for recounts of votes in five counties. The petitions charged fraud and mistakes in vote counting.

State Chairman Archie N. Bobbitt of Indianapolis said they would be filed Friday in circuit courts of Marion, Lake, Vanderburgh, Vigo and Vermillion counties, which gave Democratic nominees heavy pluralities.

Ball Of Fire Or Bolide Races Across Western Sky Last Night

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17. (AP) — Across the skies of three western states raced a ball of fire last night, burning out into blackness while airplane pilots and earth-dwellers gazed in awe.

The giant meteor, known to science as a bolide, was seen in California, Arizona and Utah, about 11:30 p. m. (central standard time).

In Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, scores of excited residents mistook the meteor for an airplane falling in flames.

A. M. Newton of the Los Angeles Griffith observatory reported the bolide, or ball of fire, was not unexpected at this time of year and others might appear today or tonight, but it was unlikely they could be so large.

Candy Is Condemned In Health Campaign

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—With 25,000 pounds of candy already condemned and destroyed, State Health Officer Dr. George W. Cox promised children of Texas clean sweets for Christmas through efforts of the department's staff of food and drug inspectors.

"In the fall certain manufacturers buy old candy from retailers, ship it to their factories and re-process it," Cox asserted. "Then it is usually sold in bulk and is known to the trade as Christmas mix. It is retailed at cheap prices."

The health officer said inspectors were visiting all plants and as many retail stores as possible to remove the merchandise from trade channels.

"The combination of old candy already filthy from handling," he said, "and insanitary conditions in some plants render the article unfit for human use."

Man's Asserted Belief U. S. Is In Need Of Dictatorship Costs Him His Chance For Citizenship

RENO, Nev., Nov. 17. (AP)—Henry Risser's asserted belief a dictator "would be a good thing for this country" cost him his chance to gain American citizenship here today.

One of Risser's character witnesses, Forrest Whiting, said he signed Risser's application for citizenship last July.

Later, Whiting testified, the Czechoslovak crisis occurred and Risser argued "that Hitler's action was proper." Whiting said Risser asserted that a dictator was needed in the United States, and said he therefore would not recommend the man for citizenship.

District Judge B. F. Curler denied Risser's application. Risser was born in 1888 in Alsace-Lorraine, then a part of the German empire. He is a music teacher by profession.

Nelson, a former football player at East Texas Teachers college, offered a resolution in the senate last year urging the conference to admit Tech. No action was taken on it.

Britain To Try To Carry Out Envoy's Plan

Chamberlain Says Matter To Be Taken Up With Governors Of British Colonies Soon

SUGGESTION IS MADE

BERLIN, Nov. 17. (AP) — Prominent Jews suggested today that the United States "mortgage" the German immigration quota for the next three years and accept 81,000 Jews immediately.

Frantically trying to arrange refuge from the Nazi laws against them, they pleaded that America, England and France and Germany permit the German Jewish population to emigrate without passports and visas "because of the acute need."

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 17—The British government was said by a high authority today to have agreed to try to operate a plan offered by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy for removing thousands of Jews now suffering from a wave of violence and restrictive decrees in Nazi Germany.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons that the matter of finding new homes for such refugees was being treated as one of urgency.

Taken Up With Governors

He said the problem had been taken up with governors of a number of British colonies, including

"WE ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE"

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Nov. 17 (AP)—With a challenge to the world, the Nazis gave a martyr's funeral today to the assassinated diplomat Ernst vom Rath.

Adolf Hitler, many other high officials and the whole nation—by radio—heard Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop close a funeral oration with an ominous repetition of the words the Reichsfuehrer himself used on a like occasion in 1936:

"We understand the challenge, and accept it."

Vom Rath was killed by a young Jew in the German embassy in Paris last week. The death touched off a wave of anti-semitic violence in Germany.

the governor of Tanganyika, former German East Africa, now a British mandate.

He added that he hoped to make a statement on the whole question early next week.

The United States ambassador was known to have laid his proposals before Chamberlain in a long conference Tuesday and the British government considered them at its meeting yesterday.

Would Remove 600,000

The "Kennedy plan" has been described authoritatively as calling for an effort to remove the majority of the 600,000 Jews now in Germany to North and South America and parts of the British, French and Netherland empires.

In well-informed quarters it was emphasized that Britain was working with the United States in trying to obtain "a final solution" to the problem of the German Jews.

Details of the proposals, which are to be presented also to France, the Netherlands, Latin American republics and other states, are

Paroled Convict Is Sought In Slaying

MALVERN, Ark., Nov. 17. (AP) Officers announced here today they were hunting a paroled Oklahoma convict for questioning in connection with the beer bottle slaying of a man identified as W. J. Hooser of Lubbock, Tex.

The victim of the slaying was identified today by his four brothers, F. U. and R. A. Van Hooser of Lubbock, S. H. Van Hooser of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and J. W. Hooser of McMinnville, Tenn. They said the 55-year-old man was a traveling salesman for a Los Angeles concern. The body was sent to McMinnville for burial.

Sheriff T. S. Fisher, Prosecuting Attorney W. H. Glover and Police Chief Frank Ault, who returned from a trip to Texas last night, said they had determined the hired man left a Clarksville, Texas, tourist camp to drive Van Hooser to Memphis.

The officers said Malvern filling station attendants had identified the two as having made purchases at the establishment the evening of Nov. 11. Van Hooser's partially clad body was found on a lonely road three miles from here the next day. A littler of broken beer bottles surrounded the corpse.

The officials said they had learned in Texas a relative of the purported convict who supplied information definitely linking the hired man with the case.

Van Hooser's automobile was found abandoned at Monday night. State Police Jack Benton and Prosecuting Glover left today for Muskogee to get the car to Malvern.

Subject Of Economy To Plague Federal And State Governments

Demands Are Already Seen

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 — Two governors-elect, talking about spending less instead of more, have brought up a subject that already is troubling the Roosevelt administration and will plague congress and the states for many months.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman said at Albany, N. Y., "This is no time to spend money on frivolities." Arthur H. James disclosed at Harrisburg, Pa., his inauguration would be as "inexpensive as possible." The one was a Democrat, the other a Republican.

Read In Eyes Of Voters

Their hints of economy were a token of what they had read in the eyes of the voters—and of what quite a few members of the new congress read in the election returns.

The state governments now are spending more than $3,600,000,000 a year. That is a billion dollars a year more than they were spending in 1932. The counties, cities, towns, villages, school and levee districts and other local governmental agencies spend about twice as much as the states.

States Owe Three Billions

The states themselves have a total bonded indebtedness of only about three billion dollars. It would take a week with an adding machine to learn how much the thousands of minor local governments owe. The figure ran to nearly seventeen billions in 1932.

Forty-odd state legislatures will be in session again this winter, and the extent of economy demands will become apparent then. Its first evidence in a national way will show up after congress gets going.

At the eleventh hour the town hall of Wrexham, England, dating from the time of Henry VIII, has been saved from being razed for street widening.

Splawn Advocates New Federal Unit

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17. (AP)—A new federal agency to be known as the department of transportation was advocated by Walter M. W. Splawn, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, in an address before the convention of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners here Wednesday.

The new department, Splawn said, would be used to work out economies and ward off ruin to many operators of superfluous trucks, barges, ships, and airplanes "and disaster to railroads."

"We today find the means of transportation over-extended and built far ahead of traffic," Splawn declared.

Growth Rapid For Industry

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — The grapefruit industry's bearing tree population has multiplied nearly seven times in the last 18 years, and the upward trend is still young.

Agriculture department statisticians estimate there are 13,123,000 bearing grapefruit trees five years old or over. In 1920, there were 1,937,000.

To Increase Production

The bureau of agricultural economics warns production will increase sharply the next few years, especially in Texas and Arizona where more than 90 per cent of the bearing trees have not reached full production. In California, it said, about 70 per cent of the bearing trees are less than 16 years old. Sixteen years usually are required for trees to reach full bearing.

In Florida, the bureau said in a recent report, the increase will be less marked because about 60 per cent of the trees are of full production age.

Seedless Varieties

"In Texas, Arizona and California, moreover," it added, "production consists chiefly of the late or seedless varieties, and production of seedless grapefruit will contribute an increasing larger proportion of the total United States grapefruit supplies in the next few years.

"Less than 20 per cent of the bearing seedless grapefruit trees in the country have reached full production, in contrast to 65 per cent of the bearing seeded grapefruit trees, most of which are in Florida and now in full production."

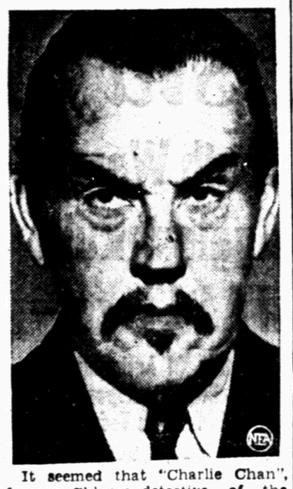

In the same 18-year period there has been an equally heavy increase in national production of grapefruit.

In the 1919-20 crop season, the four states produced 6,293,000 boxes. The agriculture department has estimated the current season's crop at nearly 40,000,000 boxes.

Carries On

It seemed that "Charlie Chan", famous Chinese detective of the movies, had passed on with the recent death in Sweden of Warner Oland, who created the character. But insistent demands by movie fans for a continuation of the mystery thrillers moved the producers to seek a successor. Veteran character actor Sidney Toler, pictured above, made up as the aphorism-dispensing Oriental sleuth, won the role over 34 candidates.

Improved Oil Business Seen

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Axtell J. Byles, president of the American Petroleum Institute, predicts that oil business would improve during the first half of 1939.

Byles made his prediction as approximately 3,000 representatives of the industry gathered here for the 19th annual convention of the association. The convention will continue through Friday.

The head of the institute said he believed that the last "shot in the arm" government had given business, improvement in heavy industry—which, he said, was aided by armament programs—should carry through for six months or more.

"The motor people appear confident," Byles said, "and I believe there should be a pickup for the oil business to the middle of the year." Beyond the middle of the year, Byles said, he "could guess."

Situation Has Improved

Commenting upon causes of the cut in crude oil prices, Byles said a factor had been over optimism during 1937, when crude oil production, he said, "almost ran riot."

The situation, however, he said, had improved since 1938 when some control was exercised.

With crude oil and gasoline inventories now at fairly economic levels, and distillate inventories sound, the only burdensome inventory conditions remaining are residual fuel oil and lubricating oils, he said. The pickup in business, he added, should improve the fuel and lubricating oil situation.

Run Down Folk!

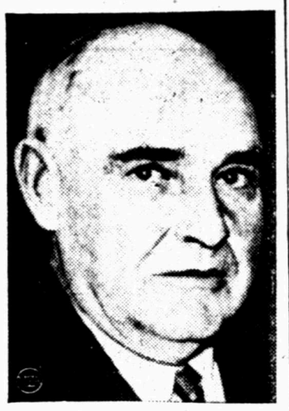

Take A Tip From Nature

You know what usually happens to growing things when you add new nourishment to the soil. Plants shoot up straight and sturdy, flowers bloom in rich colors and fragrance, trees grow heavy with their fruit. And all because of receiving proper nourishment. So, run down folks, take a tip from Nature. See what proper nourishment may do for you.

If your appetite is finicky, your digestion faulty no wonder you are rundown, listless, feel gassy, belchy, bloated. Without proper nourishment your blood is weak—fails to supply the precious tissue-building elements every fibre in your body is crying for.

Your trouble may be functional and therefore to get the right help and nourishment you should try B-L Tonic. This tonic will make your appetite keen, improve your faulty digestion, thus enriching the blood, which, flowing like sap in the trees, will stir you to new strength and energy. It costs only ten cents a day to get this new hold on life. Starts B-L Tonic today on a money-back guarantee.—(Adv.)

Orders Arrests

Arrest of 73 persons, many prominent in New Mexico politics and government, was ordered by U. S. Circuit Judge Colin Neblett, above, of Santa Fe following grand jury indictments on charges of diversion of WPA funds and labor, and conspiracy to violate the WPA appropriations code. Judge Neblett's comment: "It was common rumor that graft had been going on for some time."

Early Christmas Enthusiasm Vies With Thanksgiving Celebrations Here

How To Relieve Misery of Your

CHEST COLD

If you are suffering from a miserable chest cold, try this: Massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Then spread a thick layer on chest and cover with warmed cloth.

VapoRub goes right to work to bring relief—two ways at once. (1) Direct through the skin like a poultice; (2) Direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors.

This poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over. VICKS VAPORUB

Two Hundred Fifty Persons Are Entertained By Club

Celebration of the harvest season, what appears to be an earlier than usual attack of Christmas enthusiasm and the state convention in session here this week are some of the reasons why this story is so long.

Two hundred fifty persons called at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton of 1808 Broadway from 4 until 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for tea. They were mothers of Senior high school students and members of the 14th district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. The Senior High Mothers club was host.

Mesdames Rafe Nabors and Rufus Rush greeted guests and presented them to Mrs. Overton and Mrs. O. P. Harlan, president of the club, and the following 14th district P.-T. officers:

Hay of Sudan, M. L. H. Baze of Brownfield, A. C. Surman of Post, L. LaGrange of Amherst and City School Superintendent W. B. Irvin.

The lace-covered tea table was centered with a crystal ball in which was an arrangement of chrysanthemums. Green tapers lighted the table. Tea was poured by Mesdames Irvin, W. E. Humphries, C. E. Maedgen and Haynes.

Oldest Twins Complimented

CROSBYTON, Nov. 17 (Special)—The 87th birthdays of J. P. (Uncle John) and E. M. (Uncle Lishe) English, said to be the oldest living twins in Texas, was celebrated recently with an annual party given at their home, two miles west of Cone, in Crosby county. One hundred fifteen relatives and friends attended.

Dinner was served in the yard, and pictures were made of the relatives, many of whom came from Fort Worth and other remote points for the occasion, and of the entire group.

The twins are natives of Hunt and, in their early days, drove cattle over the Chisholm trail to the north. They drove their herds to Eddy, N. M., during the time that Billy the Kid was famous in that sector. They were well acquainted with Pat Garrett, the sheriff who killed Billy the Kid.

They have lived at the same place in Crosby county the past 50 years, engaging in the cattle business. J. P., who never married, is a former sheriff of Crosby county. "Uncle Lishe" and his wife, the former Miss Anna Sawyer, have no children.

More Than 250,000 Germans Seeking Entry Into The United States

At Least 85 Per Cent Are Jews

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—More than 250,000 Germans, officials indicated today, are trying to get into the United States to live.

On October 1, latest date for which exact figures are available, there were 220,000 would-be immigrants on the waiting list. It was officially calculated that at least 85 per cent of them were Jews.

Despite the terrific pressure in Berlin, no large scale immigration of Jews is possible because of the immigration quota laws which permit only 2700 Germans to enter the United States monthly. This quota has stood since the 1924 act was passed, and it cannot be altered except by congress.

tion fee was instituted.

Main feature of the morning's program was a lecture on "American Youth for a New Day," by Cameron Beck of New York City. Mr. Beck, a vocational and industrial relations consultant with an Eastern business school, stressed the importance of parents and teachers dealing with youth and his problem with kind understanding. He urged that they set before their children examples of honesty, integrity and the dignity of labor.

Quoting Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, the speaker suggested the "greatest problem of the age is changeless people in the midst of changing times."

After Mr. Beck's talk, delegates asked questions of four high school students: Reuby Tom Rhodes, Joyce Halsey, Keith Black and W. C. Estes, jr., and four students at Texas Technological college: Noel Edgar Thompson, Eron Gafford, Floy Glenn and Jack Jones.

Reports included summary of conferences by recorders, the endowment fund, Mrs. J. H. Moore and resolutions, Mrs. R. M. Carter. The resolutions adopted by the convention included dispensing with and discouraging the use of all fireworks during Christmas holidays, radio, motion pictures, education and health.

Hundreds Attend Dinner

Over 900 delegates and visitors attended the dinner meeting Wednesday night at which Mrs. M. A. Taylor of Bonham, retiring president, presided. After invocation by Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, greetings were brought by Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter of Dallas, founder of the Texas Congress.

Julien Paul Blitz, head of the department of music at Texas Technological college, played a 'cello solo, "Berceuse," accompanied by Mrs. Blitz.

Mrs. Wessendorff was presented with a birthday cake because women of the eleventh district, of which she is president, raised the largest amount for the state endowment fund last year.

Main speaker was Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, Idaho, national first vice-president, who discussed "World Peace is of Primary Importance to Protect the Children of the World."

The safety of the child is maintained through his health, education, opportunity for finding the right kind of work and building something of beauty in his life, Mrs. Hayes said, adding that these things are possible only in a peaceful nation.

In event of war the stability of human thinking is undone, education is destroyed, opportunities for a child to become acquainted with vocations vanish and the ability for him to fit into an economic niche is disturbed, said Mrs. Hayes.

If we could have one generation happy in human relationships, satisfied and successful with work, acquainted with beauty and realizing spiritual growth, there would be no wars, the speaker said. She suggested the Parent-Teacher Congress may make a definite contribution toward preserving peace by touching the home of every child in schol and developing attitudes which have behind them human understanding and the realization peace is a collective responsibility; by assuming a responsibility for unemployed youth and by remembering social sharecroppers who feel they are not a part of the community.

Refuge For Jews

pected to be worked out at forthcoming meetings of the inter-governmental committee on refugees, formed last July at Evian-Les-Baines.

Would Cost $600 Family

It was estimated that it would cost about $600 a family to move Jews from Germany to new homes in other lands.

The United States' part in the plan was understood to be mainly financial.

Kennedy talked three times this morning to Malcolm MacDonald, secretary for colonies and for dominions, who was one of the first members of the British government with whom he discussed his proposals. He also put them before Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary, at luncheon yesterday. Tonight he is dining with leaders of the labor party in the house of commons.

To Try As Soon As Possible

It was understood that Britain would try to move Jewish refugees considered in immediate danger to British Guiana and other British colonies as soon as possible.

Some of the British dominions were understood to have offered to accept some refugees.

It was said, however, that Chamberlain visualized taking care of only a few thousand refugees while Kennedy contended it was necessary to think in terms of tens of thousands and to act swiftly.

Ambassador Kennedy, it was learned, plans to return to the United States after January 1, on vacation.

WILSON IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP)—Hugh R. Wilson, the American ambassador to Germany who was summoned to Washington to report on the anti-Jewish campaign, arrived by train from Berlin this morning.

He had arranged to sail from Le Havre aboard the Manhattan tonight but fog delayed her sailing until tomorrow.

ATTACHE ORDERED HOME

BERLIN, Nov. 17 (AP)—Douglas Miller, commercial attache of the United States embassy, was called to Washington today less than 24 hours after the departure of Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson. Miller was directed to report in Washington not later than January 1.

The calling home of Miller was regarded by the American colony in Berlin as a significant indication that the United States department of commerce had lost interest in Germany for the present.

(The Berlin announcement came on the same day set for the signing in Washington of broad commercial treaties among the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

Between halves of the game, the band will present two formations. While presenting the Double-T formation, it will play the Matador song and while presenting an "N. M. U." formation, will play the university's song. Approximately 90 members of the band are to make the trip, on the special train leaving Friday night.

Interruption In Rise Is Seen

BY IRVING PERMETER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—A prominent federal economist said today that a number of business prognosticators expect a temporary industrial decline early next year.

The economist, who asked that his name be omitted, said statisticians in and out of the government believe recent business improvement has been too rapid to be sustained indefinitely.

Upswing To Be Resumed

They foresee, he related, a setback in the first quarter of 1939 followed by a resumed upswing in the second quarter. By that time they expect the full effect of the federal government's spending program to swell purchasing power.

He estimated that industrial production, as measured by the federal board index, is now back to 100 per cent of the 1923-25 averages—up 24 points from the 1938 low of 76 in May, 12 points higher than a year ago, and higher than at any time since the 102 mark of October, 1937.

Would Be Too Good

To expect the rise to continue without interruption, the economist explained, would be too good to be true and would be unwarranted in the light of business history.

The limited consumption power of the nation will put the brakes on industry, according to this forecaster. When the present recession production slumped much faster than consumption. Eventually, after consumption ran ahead of production long enough to use up glutted surpluses of some goods, the wheels of industry began turning a little faster, causing the current improvement.

Now, the experts believe that industry is producing goods faster than the public is buying and wearing out goods, and that the nation therefore is headed for another temporary merchandise surplus.

NEW LAMB PASTOR

OLTON—Rev. L. E. Carpenter of Quanah has accepted the place here as minister of the Church of Christ at Spring Lake and Olton. He will preach here the second and fourth Sundays in the month and at Spring Lake the first and third.

Rayon Said Great Cotton Competitor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—A department of agriculture committee reports rayon "very definitely" is competitive with cotton.

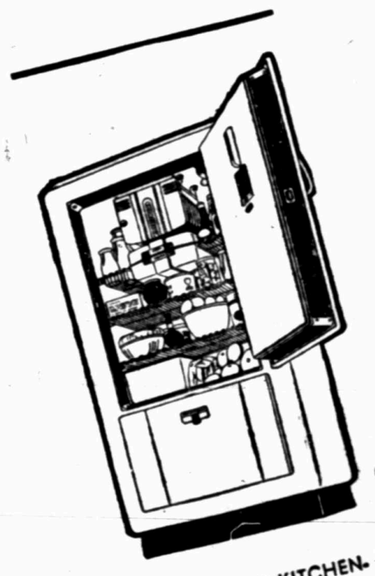

The committee, named by Secretary Wallace to study developments in synthetic fibers, said a considerable part of the expansion in rayon consumption had been at the expense of cotton.

The report showed ten years ago cotton represented abcut 85 per cent of all textile fibers used principally in clothing in the United States. Rayon then accounted for 2.9 per cent of the textile fibers used, wool, 9.7 per cent and silk 2.6 per cent.

Preliminary figures for 1937 place the cotton percentage at 81.1, rayon at 8.6, wool at 8.7 and silk at 1.6 per cent.

The slight downward trend in wool consumption probably was due to changes in the nation's living conditions and habits, the report said.

Elmer Tarbox Is Placed On All-Southwest Grid Team

Three Frogs On Group; Raider Rates High

By POP BOONE
NEA Special Correspondent

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17.—There are a number of football experts in the southwest who would make an easy job of picking a sectional honor team, merely by naming the Texas Christian varsity en toto.

Although a censensus isn't quite so flattering, the Horned Frogs finally wind up with three men on the first team, and Dutch Meyer's entire line is named somewhere among the first three teams.

O'Brien Is Leader

Named as the outstanding choice in the district, and one upon which all observers concur, is Davey O'Brien. The T. C. U. 150-pound quarterback not only is a smart field general but is recognized as the passing equal of Sammy Baugh at a comparative point in the latter's career.

At the halves are Elmer Tarbox of Texas Tech and Dick Todd of Texas A. & M. Tarbox has starred for two years with the Red Raiders, who are undefeated this season.

A fast, dynamic runner, critics rate him one of the hardest men to stop ever seen in the district.

Critics Say Todd Rates Higher

Todd, the finest triple-threat back in the southwest, actually is All-America caliber according to most observers, but the Aggies' spotty season probably will keep him from national honors.

Kay Eakin, Arkansas' junior, gets the fourth post in the mythical backfield. Playing with a weak club he is nearly always was the most dangerous man on the field.

Sam Boyd, Baylor's great pass-catching end, is a popular choice at one flank, and pairs up with Billy Dewell, Southern Methodist junior, who should be headed for the top next year.

Gigantic I. B. Hale, 240 pounds of smashing tackle, has his post all to himself. The Texas Christian captain's play this season stamps him as a definite All-America possibility. As a running mate, Hale has Joe Boyd, Texas A. & M. junior, a devastating lineman whose bulk belies his speed.

At guards are Matt Landry, outstanding man in the Rice forward wall, and Jack Rhodes of Texas. Both weigh close to the 200-pound mark, and in addition to possessing slashing defensive ability, are particularly adept at pulling out to run interference.

Little Aldrich Doesn't Do

Ki Aldrich of Texas Christian, considered by many to be the greatest center ever developed in the southwest, is a unanimous choice for the pivot job.

Standing more than six feet and weighing 200 pounds, Aldrich not only was the backbone of the Horned Frog defense, but often performed the almost unheard of feat of pulling out to run interference after snapping the ball.

There are a host of others who pressed closely for first team positions, but fell just a trifle short.

Dwyer Has Few Peers

Billy Patterson of Baylor, one of the truly great passers to come out of the southwest, almost was placed in the first backfield. Bill Dwyer of New Mexico has few peers as a ball carrier. Ollie Cordill, Rice halfback, far overshadowed his teammate, Ernie Lain, who was nominated for stardom in pre-season predictions. Jack Schuehle of Rice probably could play fullback for any team in the land.

Charley Sprague, Southern Methodist leader, and Don Looney of Texas Christian are 'way above the average as ends. Allie White of T. C. U. and Jess Hines of Rice are just a shade below Hale and Boyd.

Forrest Kline of T. C. U. and George Sanders of Southern Methodist would make a swell brace of guards for any coach, and Larry Woodell of Arkansas rates with the best when it comes to centering.

It isn't so simple picking an honor team in the razzle-dazzle country, where the stars shine their brightest.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Around Detroit you can get a bet that Dutch Clark won't be with the pro football Lions next year . . . And that Harry Kirke will take over his coaching job there . . . Dutch, the grapevine says, wants to take a crack at college coaching . . . It looks like Joe Louis vs. Maxie Baer early in April for that San Francisco show—provided the boys out that way get the quarter-million guarantee on the line for Mike Jacobs by Dec. 20 . . . Dan Hill, the ex-Piedmont league prexy, is in town and will tell you modestly that his boy, Dan, jr., is quite a bit of center on the Duke team . . . Well, Dan, don't be modest, 'cause the kid really has it . . . Should even give Ki Aldrich of Texas Christian a rub . . .

Ex-lightweight champ Lou Ambers, who doesn't have to worry—what with those annuities and all-takes the comeback trail to Cleveland against Frankie Wallace, Dec. 6, and then to Boston two weeks ater, swapping punches with either Sammy Fuller or Mike Caplan. . . . The Sugar Bowl folks also hit town, and wouldn't mind it a bit if they could land an Ivy league outfit or Carnegie Tech for their classy show down N'awleans way New Year's day. . . . Bernie Bierman loses 19 from his Minnesota squad by graduation this year—but you can pretty well bet he'll come right up with three deep in '39 anyway . . .

Which brings up that pick-and-pray session as usual . . . From here, it's Notre Dame over Northwestern in a breeze . . . And Oklahoma's Sooners score sooner—and oftener—than Iowa State . . . Syracuse socks Columbia, Fordham flails South Carolina, the Harvards hammer the Yales and Army pounds Princeton . . . Wisconsin takes the Big Ten from Minnesota, California over Stanford, and Michigan over Ohio State's . . . Auburn tops Georgie . . . and, for the longshot, Rice may finally come due against Texas Christian . . . sounds silly, doesn't it? . . .

Alligator Clutch Of Banaski Is Too Much for Walter Stratton

Joe Banaski's alligator clutch was more than Walter Stratton could figure out and the Oklahoman won in straight falls in the main event Wednesday night at the Auditorium.

In seven minutes of the first fall Banaski applied the pesky hold and nailed Stratton's shoulders to the mat. It required 28 minutes for him to duplicate the trick in the winning fall.

Stratton was hard to get into a position for the hold in the second setto. He was on his toes to avoid it.

Banaski's cunning and smooth wrestling was viewed by a large audience of wrestling fans. The Bostonian tried almost every hold in the books to pin him, but each time he squirmed out of grasp.

Stratton took what appeared to be the upper hand late in the last fall, but Banaski turned the tide to [illegible] his pet hold.

Case Deferred Until Saturday

Action on Slaton High school officials' protest of eligibility of Eugene McCraw, Brownfield center, was deferred to Saturday morning at a meeting of executive committee of District 5B in Hilton hotel Wednesday night.

Lack of evidence to substantiate or overrule his eligibility under the eight-semester rule caused postponement late last night.

Morton Rule Eligible

R. C. Morton, Cub backfield star, was ruled eligible under a similar protest of Slaton officials.

Protest is based on claim that McCraw played in a basketball game for Southland Jan. 10, making him a student of the second semester that year and ineligible for further schoolboy competition.

The executive committee will continue the case at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the local hotel. D. A. Edwards of Crosbyton is chairman and Elmer J. Moore of Olton is secretary.

Brownfield At Post

Brownfield, leader in the southern half race by virtue of its sound licking of Slaton last week, plays at Post Friday in which a win would clinch the title should the boy be found eligible.

Olton, heir apparent to the northern division crown, plays at Crosbyton in a titular game. The Chiefs have yet to post a conference triumph.

Tahoka goes to Levelland for a non-title contest. Littlefield entertains Floydada, member of District 4B.

Ralls and the Lubbock Cowhands were to play at Ralls this afternoon.

Rice's Star Blocking Back To Be Buried On Friday By Owl Gridmen; Vestal Death Victim

HOUSTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Saddened football warriors of the Rice institute tomorrow will carry to its last resting place the body of their star blocking back, Jack (Red) Vestal, 21.

The Red Horse, as they knew him on the gridiron, died yesterday of cancer of the pancreas—a malignant disease that robbed the Southwest conference champions of a backfield ace for whom there is no substitute this year.

An honor student and a hard plunging football player who cleared the way for the touchdown makers last year and in the Cotton Bowl game against Colorado on New Year's day, Vestal was a favorite with his fellow students and players.

Coach Jimmy Kitts announced today there would be no more strenuous football practice at Rice this week, even though Rice meets undefeated and untied Texas Christian university Saturday in one of the nation's top games.

Five football and one of his basketball teammates will act as pallbearers. They are Earl Glassie, Ed Singletary, Captain Jess Hines, Ernie Lain and Ollie Cordill of the football team and Levi Craddock, basketball player.

The balance of the football team and basketball team will be honorary pallbearers along with the Rice coaching staff.

Vestal was a former all-state high school back at Sherman, Texas, before he entered Rice.

Invitation For Post-Season Tilt In California Hinges On Who Wins In Saturday's Game

(By The Associated Press)

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 17—Officials of San Jose State, which has the highest scoring college football team in the country, delayed action today on selection of a team to play Dec. 26 in a post-season game.

Both University of New Mexico and Texas Tech have been approached to appear in the game here, but it was decided to wait until these elevens meet in Albuquerque, N. M., Saturday bfore proceeding further with selection of an opponent.

Oklahoma university notified school officials yesterday it would be impossible for the Sooners to play here, and it was considered logical New Mexico or Texas Tech would get the invitation.

Texas Tech Coaches, Squad Of 32 Players Off Today For Battle With New Mexico U.

Texas Tech coaches and 32 gridders entrained at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for Albuquerque where they will meet the University of New Mexico Saturday afternoon.

Long rehearsals of offense and defense Wednesday afternoon concluded Raider preparations for the game. New Mexico plays were run at regulars by a team preserves in the drill. Success in stopping the plays was varied.

Akins To Get Call

It appeared that Dudley Akins, fleet halfback, would get the call to start at Bobby Holmes' left halfback post against the Lobos. Elmer Tarbox likely will be at the other half, with Raymond Flusche at quarter and Jodie Marek at full.

A special train leaving here Friday night will carry between three or four hundred Tech students and townspeople to Albuquerque for the game. Arrival is scheduled early Saturday morning. The special will start back for Lubbock at midnight Saturday.

The Lobos have run up 165 points to their opponents' 22 this season, winning all but one game, and losing that by a single point. Only three teams have been able to score against Shipkey's New Mexico outfit.

Lobos Won Last Week

New Mexico defeated the New Mexico Aggies in an upset last week, 6 to 2. Previously, the Lobos had beaten Denver university, 7 to 6; University of Arizona, 20 to 7; Arizona State of Flagstaff, 20 to 0; Colorado college, 45 to 0; Tempe Arizona Teachers, 21-0, and the Silver City Teachers, 40 to 0. Texas Mines eked out a 7-6 victory for New Mexico's only defeat so far.

Word from Albuquerque is to the effect that "the Lobos are ready and waiting for the Red Raiders, and are quite hopeful of knocking Tech from the undefeated, untied list of teams."

The following players were included on the Tech traveling squad.

Ends, George Webb, Prince Scott, E. J. McKnight, Jack Wheelis, and George Philbrick.

Tackles, Abe Murphy, Leonard Latch, Bill Davis, Elbert Overton and J. B. Gilbert.

Guards, Dixie White, Holt Waldrep, Wilmer Greene, Tex Jones, Phil Harmon and Primo McCurry.

Backs, Bobby Holmes, Gene Barnett, Dudley Akins, Raymond Flusche, Elmer Tarbox, Milton Hill, Jodie Marek, Charley Calhoun, Johnny Sims, Woodrow Ramsey, Walter Rankin, Ralph Balfanz. Student managers, Cheek and Bingham.

Spur Bulldogs Take On Lockney In Battle Friday Afternoon; Player Is Ruled Eligible

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, Nov. 17.—The Spur Bulldogs, victorious in a protest question, journey to Lockney Friday afternoon to battle the Longhorns for championship of District 4B.

At a meeting of the district executive committee here last night Andy Hurst, star Bulldog guard, was found eligible. Flomot officials had protested under the eight-semester rule.

Originally the schedule called for Estelline to play at Spur and Matador to meet Lockney. Estelline and Matador school officials arranged for their teams to play at Matador.

Other games in the district pit Flomot and Turkey at Flomot, Paducah against Silverton on the latter's turf. The Floydada Whirlwinds go to Littlefield for a non-conference game.

Ticket Scalpers Get Busy

By Collier Parris

IT'S OPEN SEASON for duck, deer, bear and turkey hunters—and football ticket scalpers.

And we're told that the unscrupulous gents of the latter category are enjoying, or are on the verge of enjoying, a profitable season.

Scalpers are already asking—and getting—as high as ten bucks for a couple of choice grandstand locations for the Lubbock-Amarillo game on Thanksgiving, a week hence, and the price is going up daily.

It's always the case when a sellout is inevitable, or promises to be so; ambitious birds with a yen for a quick cash turnover and easy profit always manage to snare a handful of extra ducats, and peddle them for fancy prices. It's an evil for which no workable panacea has been discovered. Schools and other institutions, firms and individuals sponsoring popular sports attractions are helpless against the scalper; it'll take federal and state statutes, and a hive of G-men, to stop it.

Business Manager Pinkey Lowrey and Lubbock High officials probably won't admit it, but it's pretty safe to say that fully one half of the tickets sold for the Lubbock-Amarillo game will reach their ultimate users via the scalpers route. Lubbock High officials attempted to keep the number of tickets sold to one person to ten, but even at that figure the scalpers can, and will, reap a nice profit.

Mr. Lowrey called last night to say that another rumor had hit town, this regarding sale of counterfeit tickets. He had it on good authority that a flock of ducats were released for sale in town yesterday at three bucks apiece, and some of the citizens were of the opinion they were bogus ducats.

Mr. Lowrey places small credence in the counterfeit rumor; he prefers to believe that scalpers bought up a bunch of ducats placed on sale early yesterday at Amarillo, brought them back here to peddle to the local citizens. He and his scouts will be "working the town" from now until game time trying to run down the ugly rumors, and to discover who's doing the heavy scalping of locally sold ducats.

School officials advise prospective ticket buyers to be wary of scalpers and counterfeit tickets, and to purchase none from strangers. Mr. Lowrey will try to buy some of the alleged fake tickets today and will announce their value.

MAJOR LEAGUE baseball looks forward with considerable interest to the 1939 season at St. Louis—and the fact that anybody is interested at any time in the Browns and Cardinals is news in anybody's paper.

Having cast off their big name managers, the Cards and Brownies have called in a couple of guys from the minors to pilot the clubs next season. The American League club went over to a Detroit farm, Toledo, and came up with Fred Haney, who has had unusual success in the Association for the past four seasons, while the Cards dipped into their farm crop and came up with Ray Blades, who used to do some fancy baseball playing for the Cards before he went off to manage the Columbus and Rochester units, one at a time, of course.

Haney, who admits to being 40 years old, hasn't been directly associated with big time baseball for some time, but he has sent numerous hotshots to the majors. The late Frank Navin liked him for Detroit's manager when he hired Cochrane, but Haney preferred to stay on the farm.

The following personality notes concerning the new St. Louis skippers is lifted from a recent Harry Grayson yarn:

Haney is a liberal manager, but rough on his men when occasion demands . . . is fiery on the field, but not particularly abusive, and is well liked by umpires . . . a personable chap, he is extremely popular with fans . . . so much so that the Toledo club showed a profit on the gate in each of the four years he was there . . . His hero is Ty Cobb, under whom he played in Detroit . . . Others discussed Cobb's idiosyncrasies, but to Haney the immortal Georgian did everything letter perfect, on and off the field, as player and manager.

With Cobb as his pattern, Haney for years was one of the best base

Cisco Big Dam Lobos Seek Comeback On Gridiron

Headline Game In Oil Belt

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

Cisco's Big Dam Lobos, who over a decade ago were powers in Texas schoolboy football, climax their drive back toward the top tomorrow when they bid for the Oil Belt championship in a battle at Breckenridge that will be one of the headliners of the "semi-final" week of the Interscholastic league race.

Many lean seasons have come to Cisco since the Lobos were feared from Panhandle to Gulf for their gridiron prowess but this year finds them reaching the end of the regular season undefeated. Breckenridge is not unbeaten but the Bucs, boasting one of the strongest offenses in West Texas, have been tough to handle by the best of them.

While Cisco and Breckenridge are fighting for the championship of the eastern division of district 3, San Angelo, also on the comeback trail, journeys to Sweetwater tomorrow night to determine the winner of the western division. The victorious teams clash next week for the district title.

Resumption of relations between Port Arthur and Beaumont in a game Saturday that is likely to determine the district 14 championship is another feature of the week's play. These two teams did not meet for several seasons because of a controversy involving use of twelfth graders by Port Arthur, but this question was settled by a league referendum. Port Arthur and Beaumont are undefeated in conference play. Each has a game after this week, however.

Poly Faces Masonic Home

Masonic Home meets its last obstacle in the way of a championship in the Fort Worth district, clashing with Poly tomorrow night. Poly retains a chance at the title but must win over the Masons to earn a tie. Masonic Home can tie Poly and still take the crown.

Things also happen in district 16 where ties are probable in both divisions. Brownsville, Harlingen and McAllen were deadlocked for the upper bracket. Brownsville plays Harlingen and McAllen tackles Edinburg. Should a tie for the title result the championship would be determined on the basis of "who beats who" in previous engagements. Pharr-San Juan-Alamo and Weslaco are tied for the top in the lower bracket but with Mission playing Pharr and Mercedes clashing with Weslaco there were prospects of all five teams finishing in a deadlock. In that case the title would be decided on the basis of scores and penetrations. If two teams tie for the title the crown would be determined on the basis of "who beat who."

Barring upsets championships in eleven other districts will not be settled until nex week. Sunset (Dallas) has already clinched honors in district 8.

This week's schedule by districts:

District 1—Friday: Plainview at Pampa (conference).

District 2—Friday: Childress at Graham (conference), Vernon at Quanah (conference), Olney at Electra (conference).

District 3—Friday: San Angelo at Sweetwater (conference), Eastland at Brownwood (conference), Cisco at Breckenridge (conference), Fort Worth Tech at Mineral Wells.

District 4—Friday: Ysleta at Bowie (El Paso) (conference), Cathedral (El Paso) at Fabens, El Paso high at Douglas, Ariz.

District 5—Friday: Sherman at Paris (conference), St. Joseph's (Dallas) at Denison.

District 6—Friday: Ranger at Highland Park (Dallas), Greenville at Denton (conference).

District 7—Thursday: Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. Paschal (Fort Worth) (conference); Friday: Masonic Home (Fort Worth) vs. Poly (Fort Worth) (conference).

Westerners 'Dig In' For Amarillo Game

Lubbock High school Westerners are scheduled to "dig in" this afternoon with one of the most strenuous workouts tabbed in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day clash with the Amarillo Sandies at Texas Tech field.

All members were on hand Wednesday as the Westerners returned to uniform after a holiday Tuesday during examinations. A light drill had been held Monday.

To Build More Seats

Meanwhile school officials were troubled with the problem of seating as many spectators at the Turkey Day game. Plans were drawn up this morning to build seats from the 10-yard line to the goal line on each side of the field.

General admission tickets received the same response as reserved seat ducats and as a result only a scattering few remained on sale at noon at Hub Clothiers, Lubbock Hotel drug, and Mark Halsey's No. 2 drug.

Sell 2,700 In Amarillo

Reports from Amarillo said 2,700 tickets were sold there Wednesday after going on sale that morning. Student tickets were to be placed on sale today.

Rumors were circulated last night that counterfeit ducats were being sold by scalpers here. E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey, business manager of Lubbock High athletics, warned ticket buyers to observe care to avoid purchasing bogus tickets.

Care, he said, had been taken in printing tickets, but duplication might have been accomplished.

BROADCASTS TO START

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Fight broadcasting via WJZ-NBC is expected to get under way Friday night. It was to have begun a couple of weeks ago with Armstrong vs. Garcia, but Armstrong's leg injury delayed that scrap until the 25th.

The Friday night battle will be a 15-round go between the middleweights, Fred Apostoli and young Corbett III, listed for air description at 9 (cst) by Sam Taub and Bill Stern.

Lain To Play Against TCU

(By The Associated Press)

Rice Institute's Ernie Lain probably will be on the firing line when the Owls meet Texas Christian university in an important Southwest conference football game Saturday and that's big news for folks down around the bayou.

Indication that Lain might be on hand to pitch passes with T. C. U.'s Davey O'Brien was a cheerful note in the mournful tunes emanating from Houston. The Mexia flash showed improvement yesterday when he tested his injured ankle and Ollie Cordill, another ailing Owl, gave indications of getting into shape to handle the punting.

Sour Note Sounded

But a sour note was the report that Jess Hines, Owl captain and line mainstay, was not likely to see service. Hines reinjured an ankle.

On the other hand the Frogs were cutting up so much in scrimmage the double tough Ki Aldrich, bruising center, retired with a hand injury. It is not expected to bother him much.

Matty Bell at Southern Methodist university, is trying to fashion a defense against Billy Patterson and his Baylor Bears. After watching the Mustangs futily attempt to stop the kind of passing expected from Patterson, Bell declared disgustedly: "We're going to get beat, I'm afraid."

The Bruins, in good shape for the game with S. M. U., went through rough scrimmage to polish up their defense.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, dropping another game in the last quarter to the University of Mississippi, swung back to Fayetteville to resume training for their Thanksgiving day finale with Tulsa. The Porkers lost yesterday 20-14.

The Texas Aggies and University of Texas who do not play until Thanksgiving day worked as hard as if the game came next Saturday.

DALLAS FIGHTER WINS

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Pat Tuebner, Dallas junior welterweight champion, decisioned Buster Burrell of Fort Worth, last night in the main event of the first of a series of monthly fight programs to be staged at the Dallas Athletic club.

Two 'Champions' To Meet Friday Night

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—The beak-busting business never was more ludicrous than this week with two self-styled middleweight "champions" fighting for the title and a third middleweight beefing loud and long that he and he alone is the head guy of the division.

The combatants are Fred Apostoli and not-so-Young Corbett III, who will meet amidst wild disinterest in Madison Square garden tomorrow night. Ring veterans say the fight has attracted less interest hereabouts than anything since the last city series between the Athletics and the Phillies in Philadelphia.

The third "champion" is Solomon Krieger, a Brooklyn boy, who to all intents and purposes has been handed the short end of the stick by the New York State Athletic commission. Krieger whaled the tar out of Al Hostak, recognized as champion in 47 states, Sumatra and Pago-Pago, only to find he was just another fighter in his own back yard.

The commission didn't recognize Hostak as champion because he had won the title from Freddie Steele, also one of the commission's problem children. It did order Apostoli and Corbett to get together and blessed the until with a title. The two Californians are the commission's leading contenders. Each considers himself the division's head man.

The public is invited to a showing at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the engineering building at Texas Tech of motion pictures filmed during the Texas Tech-Loyola game Nov. 5.

Calvin Hazelwood, assistant to the dean of men, said that 550 feet, including some color film, would be shown. He supervised shooting of the pictures.

Editors of picture magazines are trying to discover the cause of a severe circulation slump.

Maybe it's because they've exhausted all the angles from which to photograph a girl drum major!

TONIGHT or tomorrow, at some odd moment when you have nothing to do, bundle up your kiddies' worn or out-moded toys and make ready for Saturday's annual toy pickup.

For on Saturday the Boy scouts of Lubbock will cover every block in the city, picking up toys for the Goodfellows' annual drive—a drive which for several years now has resulted in a Merry Christmas for every boy and girl in Lubbock, regardless of race, color or creed.

The toy pickup is just one phase of the Goodfellows' campaign, carried on each year by generous Lubbock citizens and through the columns of The Avalanche-Journal.

For the benefit of Lubbock's newcomers, toys thus collected are repaired and repainted by firemen and others interested in helping this worthy game along.

Thus many worn toys, particularly those needing only paint and some tightening up here and there, can be made usable again and warm the hearts of unfortunate boys and girls at Christmas time.

So get ready tonight or tomorrow for the pickup coming Saturday.

If you are in average circumstances and have children, you're bound to have some serviceable playthings that your own children won't miss, but that other, less fortunate youngsters will get a big kick out of.

AND now we're down to a project that never fails to click when things look like the Lubbock Westerners will thump the socks off'n the vaunted Amarillo High school football team.

From time to time in the past, The Plainsman has promised to secure for each Westerner designated by Coach Weldon Chapman as entitled to the honor a properly inscribed gold football IF the Westerners beat Amarillo in the Turkey Day classic. Three times the Westerners have won the trophies.

That promise was made again a week or so ago, and now the time has come for Westerner fans to "get on the line".

Getting fans "on the line" for gold footballs for the Westerners is no trouble at all. In fact, letting everybody in who wants in before the lists are closed is the tough part about it!

Coach Chapman says 25 Westerners will be entitled to a gold football apiece IF they beat Amarillo next Thursday—one week hence.

Already five of those balls have been pledged since the matter was briefly mentioned last week. Those five balls will come from Spencer Wells, Ellsworth J. (Jack) Parsons, Sam S. Richardson, Parker Prouty and The Plainsman.

Who wants in on the remaining list of 20?

SAM Richardson, of Anderson Brothers Jewelry Co., will furnish the engraved balls at cost—which will run $6 per ball.

Each ball will bear the name and position of the player receiving it; the numerals 1938, and the raised letter "L", properly embellished.

They will make an appropriate gift from the fans to the players and give each member of the victorious Westerner squad something to wear daily, for many years, in token of his team's triumph in the most important game of the year for Lubbock.

You guys who want to be included in the list of donors call The Plainsman at The Avalanche-Journal, No. 13, and tell him to put you down.

If The Plainsman isn't in the office when you call, whether it be day or night, tell the young lady at the switchboard here at the Avalanche-Journal that you want to get your name in the gold football pot.

Let's wind this up in a hurry and show the Westerners that Lubbock men are behind them until "who laid the chunk."

Remember, the Westerners have to win to get the footballs, so no one needs put up the $6 until after the game.

And also remember, the first to step forth with promises of six bucks for a gold football will be the first on the list.

What do you say, gents?

It didn't want to worry you, or anything, but the cost of state government in Texas increased from $7.18 per capita, in 1920, to $23.46 per capita in 1937—for which figures were last available—and shows no sign of doing anything else but increasing more and more.

Further, while state governmental expenses have increased 322 per cent since 1920, Texas' population has increased only 32 per cent since the same year.

You might remember that next time some candidate seeks your vote on a promise to "give" you something that already is yours in the first place!

LUBBOCK County Attorney Bob Allen with four sons, and The Plainsman with three, have been rudely shaken out of any idea they might have had about having a corner on male heirs in these parts.

Hizzoner, Judge Alton B. Chapman, of the 110th District court which covers Dickens, Motley, Floyd and Briscoe counties, was over here the other day and reported that officials of that judicial district were doing pretty well in the sons line, themselves.

Judge Chapman, who lives in Spur, has two boys; District Attorney John Hamilton, of Matador, has two boys; and R. F. Stovall, of Floydada, court reporter, has two boys.

Just what kind of a record that is, The Plainsman doesn't know.

But it's some kind, anyway!

You may not agree, but from where The Plainsman sits an attack on this country by the nazi press is just about as fine a compliment as we Americans could hope for.

MRS. George Duval, principal over at Guadalupe Mexican school, is simply bubbling over with good cheer.

And The Plainsman doesn't blame her, since she finally has gotten the Mexican school on the same radio footing with the other schools of the city.

About ten days or two weeks ago, The Plainsman dropped a hint in this column that Guadalupe school needed a radio and could not get one like the other schools had done—because its P-TA organization was not financially able to buy a machine.

Apparently, we didn't make ourselves clear, for there were no radios immediately forthcoming.

So last week we brought the matter up again, were more explicit in the matter and brought out the fact that never in 12 years had this column appealed for a worthy cause and been turned down in the matter.

The good people of Lubbock didn't fail the Guadalupe kids when they discovered what it was all about and Mrs. Duval has been literally "covered up" with radio sets.

Where she had none at all, and timidly asked for only one machine, now she has five—one for each room so Guadalupe children can plug in to city-wide programs on which all schools are hooked up; or to any educational program on the air any time.

Kind donors of the machines were Mr. and Mrs. Len McClellan, of 19th street and College avenue; C. W. Tinney, of Modern Appliance Co.; D. A. Davis, of Household Supply Co., Bryan Edwards, of Lubbock Appliance Co., and W. C. O'Mara, of Sear-Roebuck and Co.

Attorney Tom Garrard, of Tahoka, called up from the Lynn county capital, offering a set, which was greatly appreciated. However, at that time Mrs. Duval had plenty of radios—for which she and all the Guadalupe children are exceedingly thankful.

Chapter 47

Uprooting The Boxwood

In that first breathless sceond when Judith looked up to see Reuben standing beside her, he had never seemed further away. She attempted to rise to her feet. Reuben held out a steadying hand. The touch of his fingers sent blood hurrying through Judith's veins, fire to her cheeks.

"Judith," his voice was warm and even. "I'm sorry about Jim."

Of course that was why he had come. He was being kind. Judith's pride made a last bid for recognition, then faltered before a terrible longing to know the truth.

"You got my letter?"

"No." Reuben took a step forward. He seemed to tower above her, a brown, controlled stranger.

Then he didn't know how she loved him. All strength deserted her.

Suddenly Reuben's angry, parting words thundered in her ears. "If you go now you need never try to come back." It seemed hopeless to try to bridge the chasm that separated them. She might have known it was too late.

Her words sounded strained, uneven, as if she were forcing conversation with a casual acquaintance. "How did you get here?"

"Cissy brought me," smoothly, without trace of feeling.

Judith's knees weakened. "If you go now you need never try to come back." Life was a one way street . . . you could never go back.

"Shall we go into the house," Reuben was saying. "You must have plans to discuss with me."

Judith couldn't bear it any longer. Humiliation, trampled pride, anything was better than this. An irrepressible sob broke from her. Her hands stretched out.

"Reuben . . . oh Reuben, can't you see?"

He couldn't yet believe what he wanted with all his heart to believe. Struggling with the longing to crush her in his arms was the desire for self-protection. He wouldn't be hurt again. This time he must be sure.

"Judith!" Reuben's heart missed a beat as he met her eyes—ringed with black shadows as they had been the night the twins were born. She was thinner, too—"Judith—I came half way across the world."

The wall crumbled. In an instant he was cupping her tragic face in tender hands. "Tell me I've found you, Judith. Tell me you are glad to see me?"

She could not tell him. But she went into his arms — protective, gentle, strong. Against his heart she whispered: "I've missed you so, I love you so!" The ache that was in her heart burst tears that had been dammed against her eyeballs.

Reuben kissed them away.

May Day

A May day at Goodloe's choice. Little lamb clouds being swept across a blue sky. Scent of lilacs and apple blossoms being swept across the world. In the meadow small Judy Oliver and sturdy young Jim sailed paper boats in the stream. Nearby Reuben assisted by Ben was carefully digging up the hedge. Judith was painstakingly clipping off tiny shoots.

If her heart was sore today there was a soft singing in it too. She was keeping faith with Jim. Wiping out the debt starting all over again. Keeping the finest and best of the old. Reaching out for the finest and best of the new. She had been given another chance too. The chance to walk with Reuben shoulder to shoulder. She would not bungle life this time. Make it fine. Make it true. Take all it had to give—adventure, danger, love, pain, laughter—One must struggle through the night to know the full glory of the sunrise—

She looked up and saw Gran.

Amanda, not quite so erect, came through the wide doorway under its delicate skylight. At the threshold, Amos, unable to bow quite so low, but smiling just as widely, met her.

"A fine day, Amos?"

"Yes Ma'am, Miss Mandy, mighty fine."

"Warm as July," Almost she said: "We will have tea in the garden." Almost she said it. Remembered—in time.

Children At Play

She crossed the columned portico and formal stone Terrace, walked past rose arbors and the lily pond with the fat, lazy Cupid spouting water and turned into the violet-bordered walk, but she did not pause at the peacock chair under the white oak. She kept right on and joined the workers by the hedge.

Standing very straight, Amanda watched the whole structure of her universe being torn down. She had a naked feeling. The entire curious world could gaze at her. Well — it wouldn't be long—

The events of her life passed in slow procession, from the day she entered this place a bride until the moment they carried Jim into the holly decked hall — a reckless half-smile upon his stiff lips. The last Goodloe — gone. The hedge—staying.

From that moment the box lost its value for Amanda. It had served its purpose and she had served hers. She felt not the slightest pang as she watched it being lifted out leaving great holes — holes deep as graves.

She stepped nearer. How the roots clung! Protesting this outrage. Clem Rogers had been the highest bidder for the box. He wanted it for Cissy who must compromise with life. Cissy was taking up the things Judith had laid down.

Suddenly Amanda saw life as a great wheel turning ceaselessly. The side that is up today must inevitably be down tomorrow. That was the law of compensation. The law of progress, the law of life.

From the meadow came Hugo's joyous bark; the sound of children's voices clear and shrill—

With a start Amanda listened Why—the children were still at their play — Jim and Judy. The children! There would always be children at play. Stiffly she went on her knees and with ringed white fingers commenced to plant tiny sprigs of box along the edges of the great holes.

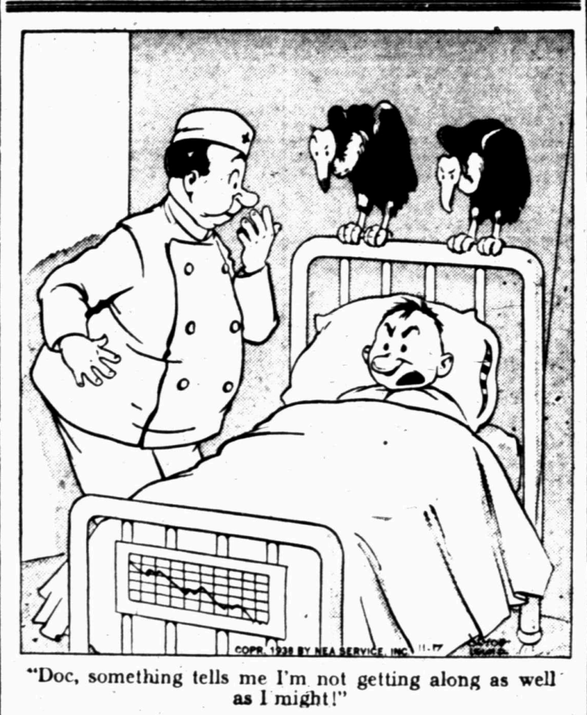

"Reuben," the old assurance crept into her voice. "Your son will jump these spindlings, but his great, great grandson will put his hunter over as fine a hedge as you ever saw. You can't separate Goodloes from boxwood."

"Nor Goodloes from Olivers," Reuben told her and smiled into

SLACKS AND COURT DIGNITY

Many who read of a California judge sentencing a young woman to five days in jail for appearing in his courtroom in slacks will wonder whether he has anything more substantial than his dignity to uphold.

In imposing the contempt of court sentence, the judge argued that the court's dignity was lowered by her presence in the costume to which he objected.

There is this to be said in defense of the judge: he had warned the young woman not to return to the courtroom in slacks. She defied him. He thus climbed so far out on a limb that he couldn't back up, although it likely will develop he has sawed himself off on that very limb.

But his order, in the first place, was silly. The court over which the judge presides is nothing but a glorified police court in which the costume of any accused person is likely at any time to be most informal. Another circumstance was the young woman's plea that she lacked silk stockings to wear with a dress. Any woman can sympathize with her in that regard. Also to be considered is the fact that in Southern California a woman in slacks is not at all unusual. As those who have had occasion to observe, it is an accepted costume.

It is desirable, of course, that the dignity of every court of justice should be upheld. But it is far more desirable, that plain, ordinary horse-sense be the occupant of judicial benches.

Today's Thought

But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deuteronomy 25:15.

NOTES ON HOMICIDE

One of the quaintest pleas in a murder case was offered in defense of Lizzie Borden, accused of axing her parents to death. Since there was no blood on her clothes, it was suggested she had stripped naked to perform the carnage. It was indignantly maintained that no well-bred New England lady would shame herself by appearing naked before a man — even to kill him. When the booze gorillas tore Chicago to pieces with bullets, two gunmen were up on charge of wiping out two cops. Their lawyer argued that killing a policeman who bothered you wasn't murder — merely manslaughter. You think that's funny? What's even funnier is — they licked the rap!

During the gang wars the trigger men perfected a system of dealing death. It was two slugs in the stomach, one in the chest and one in the throat. Then a finisher through the head — lest the victim live long enough to sing to the coppers. There was enough time for this leisurely system on the "ride."

Defense attorneys always cry out loud against convicting of homicide on circumstantial evidence, and the parrot in the barber shops and cigar stores always make that part of their sappy arguments in defense of butchers. But, as England's Justice Dunham once wondered, what other kind is there? Few commit murder with others looking on.

Comrie Thomson, a famous Scottish defense counsel, once won an acquittal for a man accused of drowning a lad for insurance money. After giving the prisoner back his freedom, Thomson wouldn't speak to or look at him—a pretty good verdict, too.

Alexander Woollcott is authority for another item on counsels. After Madeline Smith's mouthpiece had won her an acquittal, on charge of poisoning her lover with cocoa, she thanked him and invited him to tea. "Delighted," he said, and then added quickly: "No cocoa."

The odds against "the perfect murder," i. e. the unsolved deed, are almost unlickable. Dr. C. Mercier, famed criminologist, explained that the slayer loses because he "takes most careful measures against detection by one method and lays himself open to detection by another."

Theorists argue Leopold and Loeb would have got away with the killing of Bobby Franks had not Leopold's spectacles been found near the body. Smart cops insist, however, that all the evidence hinted the boy had been slaughtered by neighbors, and finding the "cheaters" merely hastened the collar.

For years there have been six major motives for violent death: Gain, revenge, elimination, jealousy, love of killing and conviction—this latter meaning because somebody believes the world would be happier with the victim out of the way. Another motive was added during the prohibition carnage—the murder of the squealer. That didn't come under either "revenge" or "elimination," although it combined the best features of both.

Dopey Benny Fine, gang master of the East Side years ago, is listed as the papa of gang killings. As Monk Eastman's stooge and successor, he sent the first hired thugs through the ghetto assigned to stamp out Big Jack Selig.

In the movies a newspaper reporter (usually Gable) always finds and solves the murder on the spot, but things aren't quite so smooth when it's a genuine bump off. The first officer on the scene has to make eleven notifications (from the chief to the stenographers) before he asks the first witness, "Whodunit?"

Whenever there's a spectacular murder trial, the boosters in other cities usually brag that nothing like that could happen here. When Nan Patterson, the Floradora lovely, was tried (unsuccessfully) for the topping of Caesar Young in a hansom cab, the out-of-town editorialists thanked heaven their burgs had no Floradora girls — or hansom cabs.

When the dry era hoodlums were in the chips they gave employment to the most dangerous killer of all—the homicidal maniac, who slays for the hell of it. It was the first time in the world's history (outside of war) where mad men could get paid for their specialized insanity—like Killer Burke of Detroit's Purple Gang.

One famous N. Y. murder was solved by a duck. This duck waddled into a barroom, its white feathers tinged with red. A reported deduced the bird came from a bloody pool and there was found the body of Wm. Guldensuppe . . . Martin Thorn and Mrs. Augusta Nack were eventually convicted for doing him in.

In New York, the other day, the newspapers told about 17-year-old Eva Kopalchak who went to the Bellevue psycopathic ward and said she had just killed her mother. She had a tough time convincing the attaches. So indifferent was she About The Whole Thing. However, after the parent's bullet-marked body was located, Eva was asked by reporters if she didn't feel sad about it. "Well," she replied casually, "after all—she's my mother."

The poisoner Wainewright, who seemed to have no motive for destroying Helen Abercrombie, shrugged, when asked his reason: "I don't know—unless it was that her ankles were too thick."

Republican Will Move Into White House In 1940 If Gains Are Carried Through Election

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—You can figure an electoral college majority for Republicans on the basis of the 1938 election. If states in which the party made noticeable gains were to be carried by the G. O. P. in 1940, a Republican would move into the White House.

In states where a new Republican governor or senator was elected, the total electoral vote would not be big enough to elect a President. But if it could be assumed that, in addition to those states, each state which elected two or more new Republican congressmen would go for the party presidential candidate two years hence, victory by a comfortable margin would be assured.

Dutcher

That assumption may be considered optimistic. But if the 1938 trend toward the Republicans is half matched by one in 1940, the result appears to be indicated by these figures:

In 1936 Mr. Roosevelt received 523 electoral votes as against Alf Landon's eight from Maine and Vermont.

In 1938 Republican gubernatorial or senatorial candidates—or both—displaced Democrats in these states: Pennsylvania, 36 electoral votes; Ohio 26, Michigan 19, Massachusetts 17, New Jersey 16, Wisconsin 12, Minnesota 11, Iowa 11, Kansas 9, Connecticut 8, Colorado 6, Oregon 5, New Hampshire 4, South Dakota 4, Idaho 4, Rhode Island 4, Wyoming 3, Delaware 3.

The total electoral votes of these states, added to those of Maine and Vermont, is 206.

But an electoral college majority is 266.

Apparently it hasn't been done yet, but any smart Republican can figure that majority and more if he banks on the following states in which his party has just gained two or more seats in the House:

New York, 47 electoral votes; Illinois 29, California 22, Indiana 14, Nebraska 7. Which is 119. And if you add that to the previous total the result is 325 electoral votes.

A campaign record appears to have been established by Senator Homer T. Bones of Washington, Democrat, who won in the primaries without accepting a contribution or spending a nickel and beat his Republican opponent in the election without accepting a contribution.

Folks at Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee headquarters swooned all over the place when Bone returned the perfunctory $500 campaign contribution they sent sent him. In the election campaign he reported no contributions and $406 for expenditures.

WHAT'S THE MORAL HERE?

Today's true story concerns a young man who got a job in the Department of Labor helping enforce the Walsh-Healy act, which requires certain government wage-hour standards in factories filling government contracts.

He got the job through a congressman, and was sent out to check on factories. He was a bright boy, but couldn't write a report.

He met the difficulty by proceeding on arrival in each town, to acquire a girl friend who could.

The girl friends came through magnificently until the day the job-holder was required to take a written civil service examination. The young man recently returned to New York.

A drive to have Sunday night dances throughout Ireland stop at 11 o'clock has been launched, the rule having gone into effect in three counties.

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(Letters from readers are invited and welcomed. They will be published gladly whenever they do not violate the laws of libel, or the rules of decency, and when they do not exceed 500 words in length. Letters criticising individuals, firms or organizations must be signed by the true name of their writers.

OFFER THANKS

Dear Plainsman: Please accept our most grateful appreciation for the Old Clothes matinee that The Avalanche-Journal and the Lindsey Theater Enterprises put on for us.

Both quantity and quality exceeded any matinee that we have ever had before.

Respectfully yours,
Sanders Sunday school.

(Dear Members of the Sanders Sunday school: Thanks a lot for your kind letter. If The Avalanche-Journal aided you, we are happy. We are here to serve all worthy projects, just as we have done for many years. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

Dear Plainsman: The hardest column for me to read is "Walter Winchell on Broadway (Copyright for The Journal.)"

The worst sight is the cemetery—go see it sometime. It is really a shame to our fair city.

What do you think?

Sincerely,
A Friend and a Lover of Lubbock.

(Dear Friend and Lover of Lubbock: Thanks for your letter. The Winchell column is of the type that it can appeal only to a segment of the circulation of any newspaper carrying it. A reader either likes Winchell a lot; or he despises his stuff. That is true the country over. Yet it also is true that Winchell is one of the biggest names in newspaper featuredom and that his stint appears daily in papers combining to 20 millions circulation. We bought Winchell because we consistently follow the policy of attempting to present here a complete newspaper—one which daily carries articles which, in addition to the news report, interest readers of all ages and all groups.

As to the cemetery, it seems to me that it is gradually improving over the years. Please bear in mind that this is the hardest part of the country in which to have a beautiful cemetery and that those in charge are faced by many problems—including finances—in their efforts to build up a beautiful cemetery here. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

Boxwood Barrier

his wife's blue eyes.

Amanda went busily on with her planting but Reuben threw down his spade, leaped the ditch to his wife's side.

"Judith," he took the shears from her, laid them aside, raised her hands to his shoulders, and looked deep into her blue eyes: "Love me?"

"You know it!"

"Sure you're not feeling sad this morning? Sure you're not sorry my old roan spilled me over the boxwood and broke up your tea party?"

"Sure!" Judith laughed as only happy women can laugh. A quick kiss. And they went back to their digging and clipping.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—The stock market, after three declining sessions, put on a quiet rally today that lifted industrial favorites fractions to more than 2 points.

Trading forces, while still somewhat concerned over possible international complications resulting from the German anti-semitic flare-up, found courage in improving domestic business news.

The rather sluggish nature of the day's proceedings—transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 shares, was attributed partly to the desire of Wall Street to await detail of the new Anglo-American trade treaty which was due to be signed late in the afternoon.

Great Trade Accord

ed over conclusion of the pacts with Great Britain and Canada, bringing to 19 the nations which have signed reciprocal treaties with the United States.

Embraced in the two new agreements are about 1,000 articles of export and import. Each treaty, in printed form, is the equivalent of a good-sized book. Together they weigh a pound and a half.

Products from all parts of the globe are involved in the agreements through inclusion of the British colonies.

Importance Is Indicated

The importance of the trade with the colonies is indicated by the 1937 figures showing that the United States bought $322,560,000 worth of goods from them and sold them $76,897,000.

The United Kingdom is the United States' best customer. She bought $535,000,000 worth of goods from the United States in 1937, which is about as much as this country sold to Germany, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Sweden combined.

The new agreement with Canada replaces and amplifies one expiring Dec. 31. Trade between the dominion and the United States in 1937 amounted to $908,047,000.

Lubbock And Fort Worth Sportsmen Back With Plenty Of Game To Support Tales; Three Deer, Two Lions, Bear Killed

Back from the hunting wars in Arizona are Lubbock and Fort Worth huntsmen—and they have plenty of game to justify their tales.

Three large bucks, one of them the second heaviest registered this year in Arizona; two lions; two turkeys, and one bear were dropped by J. T. Magee of 1713 Avenue K, L. G. Brown of 1219 Sixteenth street, J. D. Jones of 2427 Twentieth street, and Chas. F. Williams of Fort Worth, members of the party proper.

Brings In A Turkey

And A. W. Boucher of Lubbock, who went to the camp headquarters, near Beaverhead lodge 25 miles south of Alpine, Ariz., to cart the game back, was not to be left out. He brought down a turkey.

Magee, who at 69 concedes nothing to his former reputation of being quite a bear and deer hunter in the Dakotas, was hunting his first time in 20 years. An unusual incident was touched off to bring him into the limelight.

He, Brown and Jones were driving along a washed trail and saw a deer, the big one, 10 yards up the side of a mountain. Jones, driving stopped quickly. Brown jumped out and was attempting to draw a telescopic bead.

"Bang! And I Got Him"

"There he is," said Magee. Bang! "And I got him, too."

It all happened as fast as that.

"Don't try to get a bead on 'em," he told Brown. "Shoot from the hip. They run like hell in this brush."

He had cut the heart out of the big buck, which scaled more than 210 pounds, all the scales were calibrated for. The biggest buck registered this year in Arizona was 237 pounds.

One of the lion pelts was left for being mounted, but the party brought back a bear hide "just because of the fun in remembering what happened." Another huntsman had come onto the animal in a tree. Nine times he fired. The bear decided to reverse the order. He came down from the tree and chased the nimrod up another trunk, from where the thoroughly affrighted marksman pumped 16 shots downward into the ascending bear.

"You can have him; I've seen enough of him!" the fellow said in making the presentation.

Jones dropped an 183-pound deer, Brown a 164-pound buck. All shots were made from 100 yards with .30-.06 or .30-.30 rifles.

Shot Lion In Tree

Williams shot a lion from a tree, 100 feet up, after the eight hounds had treed the varmint ahead of the mounted hunters. Brown brought his out of a branch 50 feet up, but had to batter him with four shots.

The bear was shot by Williams and was a "throwback," having qualities of both the grizzly and another variety. When knocked out of a 50-foot tree he was trying to get down to the dogs.

Jones killed the other turkey. Both were running.

The scraggy brush, hanging on the slopes above the pinon, is at an elevation of 9,800 feet. The hunt was the third annual for some members of the party.

Williams is associated with the building specialties company bearing his name and Magee is his Lubbock office manager. Brown is a groceryman, Jones a wrecking yard proprietor.

New Bone-Mending Method Announced At Oklahoma City

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17. — A new method of mending broken bones which makes plaster casts unnecessary and shortens the time of recovery was announced last night before the Southern Medical association by a Clarksburg, W. Va., surgeon.

Dr. H. H. Haynes demonstrated for the first time how the device sets and immobilizes a broken bone at the site of the fracture, leaving the other parts of the arm or leg free to move normally. Previously the plaster cast method required keeping an entire limb immobilized until the one bone healed.

One of the big advantages in using the bone fixator only at the point of a fracture is that it enables the patient to use his muscles and keep them in normal working order. "When a plaster cast is used it frequently requires as long to restore the unused muscles to normal working order as it does for the bone to knit," Dr. Haynes explained.

In applying the devise, metal pins or screws are driven directly into the bone above and below the fracture. The screws are then hooked to a yoke and attached to a metal bridge across the gap between the broken parts of the bone.

Four universal joint braces, which can be adjusted to any position, are then used to bring the ends of the bone into adroit alignment for healing and metal pins are driven through the bone across the point of fracture.

The burglaries interrupted a comparative quiet in Lamb county, with exception of scattered rural burglaries, said the sheriff's department.

Clues this morning were being studied, but nothing tangible was announced as pointing to identity of those responsible, said Mrs. Loyd.

Court Of Honor Committee Is To Meet For Organization

Meeting of the Lubbock district Boy Scout court of honor committee will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in room 215 of the Myrick building, according to J. C. Reynolds, chairman.

The purpose of the meeting is to perfect the organization of the committee, train members in respective responsibilities, and plan a program for the Lubbock district court of honor for Dec. 22.

The second session of the training course for scout leaders will be held at the First Baptist church. This is the last opportunity for enrollment in the course.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

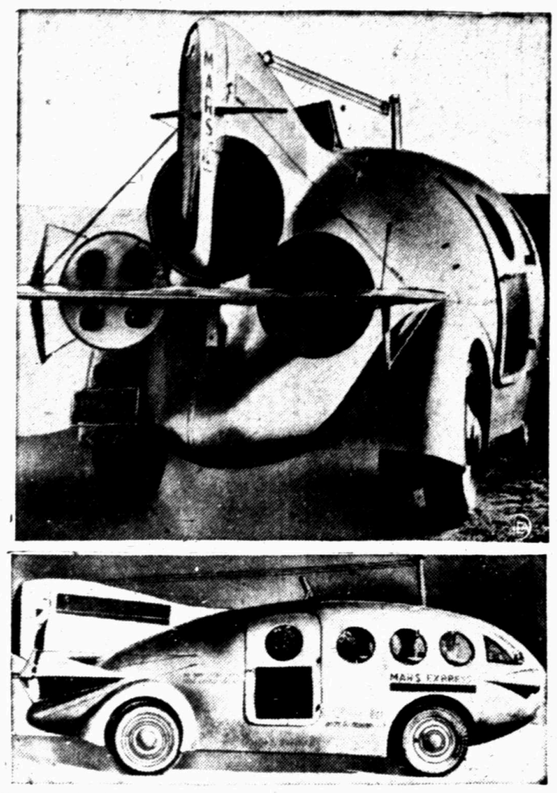

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Mars Express"---Via Buffalo

Jittery folk who were panicked by the recent radio broadcast of an attack by Martian monsters might have an uncomfortable moment at first sight of the machine pictured above—the "Mars Express." This latest thing in super-streamlined automobiles is convertible into a rocket car, as shown in the rear view, above, where the vents for rockets are seen. Designed by Peter Vacco, of Buffalo, N. Y., the aluminum car is 20 feet long, and, powerd by a V-8 motor and supercharger, makes 115 m. p. h. It cost $16,000. In a side view, below, it resembles a wingless airplane.

QUEEN IS OPERATED

Men Wanted To Make 4-Day Test

If you get up nights due to functional kidney disorders get juniper oil and seven other drugs made into green tablets. Help nature flush excess acids and other wastes from the kidneys. Excess acids can cause the irritation that wakes you up. Just say Buke's test box to any druggist. Locally at Bowen's Drug store.—Adv.

City Seeking Church Meet

Invitations to the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, now in session in Memphis, to hold the 1939 meeting in Lubbock were telegraphed Wednesday.

Telegrams were sent to Bishop Ivan Lee Holt and other church officers Wednesday from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the Lions club, the American Business club, and the Retail Merchants association.

Place for the next conference will not be named until late this week, it was indicated.

Residence Of Mr. And Mrs. L. L. Felton At Slaton Is Burned

SLATON, Nov. 17. (Special)—Fire Wednesday afternoon destroyed a five-room one-story residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Felton and owned by J. W. McDonald of Lamesa.

Loss was estimated at approximately $3,000 and was partly insured, it was reported. It was at a 235 West Panhandle street residence.

It was believed the blaze originated in the kitchen, possibly from electrical wiring or connections. Practically all household furniture was destroyed.

Mrs. Felton was asleep when the fire started and awakened to find the inside of the structure aflame. She escaped injury.
