Industry Faces Wage Deadlocks

MEDIATORS REDOUBLE EFFORTS TO REACH STRIKE SOLUTION

(By The Associated Press)

Wage deadlocks in iron and steel, silk and cotton continued to mar the industrial picture today as mediators redoubled their efforts at settlement.

The strike situation was reflected in these developments:

Striking soft coal miners gathered for a picket march on the Carnegie steel mills at Clairton, Pa., to urge steel workers to join them in seeking union recognition.

Guardsmen Called

National guardsmen were ordered into Sullivan, Ind., after three heavy explosions shook that city. The militia had been patrolling Sullivan county mines to prevent disorders.

State police at Weirton, W. Va., fired shots and used tear gas to break up a crowd of several thousand at the Weirton Steel company's plant after some workers had been pelted with stones.

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of Pennsylvnia's governor, told 3,000 steel workers at Appollo, Pa., that "steel trust officials" were to blame for industrial unrest in western Pennsylvania.

In Washington, the national labor board urged 13,000 striking workers and their employer, the National Steel Corp., to arbitrate their differences. The board prepared to hear complaints that Kentucky miners had been discharged for joining the United Mine Workers.

Settlement Is Seen

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, was told negotiations involving employees of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., in western Pennsylvania, were leading to a settlement.

Strike of 10,000 cotton pickers in California was at a standstill as five ranchers were arrested in connection with the killing of three strikers. Grape pickers, fishermen and stevedores remained on strike. Senator Robert F. Wagner said he would submit the wage disagreement in the eastern silk industry to President Roosevelt.

In Scranton, Pa., a coal truck was dynamited, a short time after anthracite workers at one colliery had decided to return to work.

HOLIDAY OBSERVED

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Financial markets throughout the country were closed today in observance of Columbus day. In New York state the day was a legal holiday and all national and state banks were closed.

Average Woman Is Growing Taller

CHICAGO, Oct. 12. (AP)—The average woman of today is three inches taller than the average back in 1893, dietitians meeting in conjunction with the American College of Surgeons, were told by Dr. Charles F. Read of Elgin, Ill.

Dr. Read, who is superintendent of the Elgin state hospital, said he attributed the growth in women to a better knowledge of balanced diets and a subsequent lessening of nervous ailments. Balanced diets, he said, act to prevent nervous disorders.

HOME PROJECT IS LAUNCHED

SUBSISTENCE PLAN IS STARTED IN WEST VIRGINIA AREA

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — The administration will inaugurate its subsistence program in a West Virginia mountain valley, where a project described by Secretary Ickes today as "one of the most significant of this period," soon will be developed.

Homes for 200 unemployed miners and their families will be built on a 1,100-acre tract acquired in Preston county, West Virginia. A factory to produce equipment for the post office department will be established, handicraft industries developed and gardens laid out to enable the prospective residents, now on relief lists, to support themselves.

Secretary Ickes, in announcing details of the project, said it would be developed with the aim of demonstrating the feasibility of decentralization by private concerns. It will be financed from the $25,000,000 of public works funds set aside for subsistence homes and the cost of the dwellings will be repaid by the settlers over a period of 20 years.

"This project is in many ways one of the most significant in this period," Ickes said. "It will serve as a means of measuring the possibilities of decentralizing industry in this country where the evils of overurbanization have become all too evident in this depression."

Surveyed By Washington

The property purchased for the experiment was once part of the lands of Colonel John Fairfax and legend says it was surveyed by George Washington.

Each home will cost about $2,000 and will be surrounded by from two to four acres for gardening, fruit trees, poultry raising and the production of other foodstuffs for home consumption.

BLACK HANGED FROM GIRDER OF BRIDGE

ARRESTED IN SLAYING OF WHITE GIRL, MAN TAKEN FROM JAIL

(By The Associated Press)

LABADIEVILLE, La., Oct. 12.—A negro, arrested yesterday for questioning in connection with the slaying of Miss Louisiana Larose, 15-year-old white girl whose body was found in a field, was taken from Labadieville jail early today and lynched by a mob of unidentified men.

The negro, whose name was not disclosed at the time of his arrest, was seized quietly by the mob and hanged from a girder of the bridge over Bayou Lafourche. When early risers in the community saw the body at dawn and officers cut it down, they found a roughly written note pinned to the clothing warning "all persons" against attacks on women of the section."

So stealthily did the lynchers move on the jail and seize the prisoner after midnight that no one in the little town was awakened. Authorities said they were investigating the manner in which the negro was removed from the jail.

The body of the Larose girl was found amid the tall sugar cane of an outlying plantation on Monday. She had been beaten and apparently had been dragged through the sharp-leaved cane for some distance but Coroner T. B. Pugh reported she had not been criminally attacked.

The negro suspect, a plantation worker, was arrested yesterday and held in the Labadieville jail for examination. Parish officers said they had planned to file definite charges against him this morning.

CONSERVATIVES IN CONTROL OF AFOL

WASHINGTON Oct. 12 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor swung today toward the close of its annual convention with the older and more conservative leaders in full control for another year.

Before the convention ends, probably tomorrow, officials expect there may be more attempted uprisings born of the depression, but they are confident these will be roundly beaten as have two others of major proportions.

With an open statement by John L. Lewis that he and the 3,000 United Mine Workers' votes he controls as president of that union will go for the re-election of President William Green, the result was held easy to forecast.

COLUMBUS DAY IS OBSERVED TODAY BY ALL AMERICA

While the United States observed the 441st anniversary of the discovery of America with celebrations confined mainly to the schools, the rest of America, from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn, celebrated the day as "la fiesta de la ratza" (the festival of the race).

The Spanish American republics recognize October 12 as a national holiday dedicated to the memory of Christopher Columbus and the extension of the Spanish race into a new world.

Italy which claims Genoa as the place of the discoverer's birth, acknowledged the festival with the opening of the "Columbus House" in Genoa.

Spain, whose Queen Isabel furnished the funds for the voyage of 1492, staged special ceremonies in Madrid.

GERMANY GETS WARNINGS

FOUR POWERS DEMAND ASSAULTS ON THEIR CITIZENS CEASE

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 12—Four powers have served notice on the German government that assaults on their citizens must cease or the most serious consequences concerning the relations of their countries with the Reich may result.

William E. Dodd, American ambassador, this morning received the latest instructions of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, while the Spanish and British embassies and the Dutch legation were similarly advised to make representations.

Concern Manifest

Meanwhile deep concern was manifested at the American embassy over the recurrence of Nazi molestations of Americans.

A foreign office spokesman, commenting on information that Hull had demanded the prompt apprehension of the offenders, declared there had been no needless delay, and added, "we are doing all possible to hasten the prosecution of cases."

Nothing But Apologies

The burden of the complaint of the four countries was that apparently nothing ever happens after the attacks on their nationals beyond a formal apology by the German foreign office.

These four actions, added to the previous American protests as well as the earlier representations by Switzerland, Poland, Russia, Austria and Czechoslovakia, indicated that something more than an announcement in the press that the foreigners are not to be molested if they fail to salute in the Nazi fashion is necessary to assure the safety of the visiting foreigners.

"MUST SUCCEED"

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Saying the NRA was increasing costs but not purchasing power in the United States, Sir Josiah Stamp, British economist, predicted in a speech that "America must succeed in spite of herself because of her youth and vigor."

CAR IS UPSET AT TURN IN HIGHWAY

BROTHER OF FATALLY INJURED YOUNG MAN NOT BADLY HURT

(Special To The Journal)

SLATON, Oct. 12.—Janet McDonald, 19-year-old Van Alstyne youth, died in Mercy hospital here about 11:30 o'clock last night as a result of injuries suffered when an automobile driven by his older brother, James C. McDonald, upset about 9:30 p. m. at Southland.

Several of his ribs fractured, Janet McDonald suffered a punctured lung, as he was thrown from the car, a Ford-T touring model. He had been asleep on the rear seat.

Brother Is Bruised

James said when he regained consciousness he saw Janet sitting on the edge of a ditch, gasping. Although not thrown clear of the car, which turned upside down, James suffered only minor bruises and abrasions and a sprained shoulder.

The two brothers went to a nearby filling station, from which Janet was brought to Mercy hospital.

The accident occurred on state highway 7 as the boys entered Southland. James said they had driven all night the night before, en route to the Plains, hoping to find cotton-picking jobs here.

Blinded By Dust

Near Post, James, who is one-legged, took the wheel. On Southland's outskirts, an automobile passing the McDonalds from the opposite direction before they reached a turn stirred a cloud of dust which blinded James. He had supposed the highway was straight, he said, having seen no highway sign about a turn. The light touring car struck sand on the turn at about 20 miles an hour, James said, and overturned.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 12 (AP)—The socially prominent son of Senora Josina Doamaral was held for questioning today as police investigated the case of the 80-year-old millionairess whose mysterious disappearance more than a year ago was solved when she was found locked in a closet.

Authorities took the son, Mario Doamaral, in custody after they said they had learned that the house in which the aged woman was found apparently had been rented by relatives. His wife also was detained.

Probe Is Pushed Into Job Selling

TWO LIVE STOCK COMMISSION MEMBERS DENY KNOWLEDGE OF REPORTED BARTER OF JOBS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—W. M. Glenn of Lufkin and Leo Callan of San Antonio, members of the live stock sanitary commission, testified today before the house appropriations committee that they had not known about reported activities of some parties in selling jobs their commission had to offer.

The committee's inquiry into charges that money had been accepted from certain persons by other parties who promised in return employment by the state, probably will be concluded today.

Glenn said that he had heard many rumors about sale of jobs with the commission and that it had been discussed at meetings of the commission. He said a casual investigation was made of some of the rumors but that no persons connected with the commission were implicated.

It was testified before the committee yesterday by Royce Williams of Gilmer and D. H. Williams of Poteet that they had collected approximately $2,000 from various persons on representation they would be given employment and turned the money, less expenses, over to Dr. E. F. Jarrel of Tyler, a member of the commission. They said they were authorized by Dr. Jarrel to obtain the contributions.

Dr. Jarrel resigned yesterday, stating in his letter to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson that he was "entirely innocent" of the charges.

Glenn testified that one farmer in his county approached him and offered him $25 of his first month's salary if he would be given employment. Glenn testified he told the man that whatever salary he earned would be his, but added that the man never was employed.

James G. Ulmer, manager of a radio station at Tyler, pastor of a church at Mineola, dean of the Tyler Commercial College, and a member of the board of regents of the state teachers colleges, also testified.

Ulmer testified that he received "several" contributions on a bill owed the radio station by Dr. Jar-

FORGERY CASE SET FRIDAY

EXAMINING TRIAL FOR MAN AND WOMAN TO BE AT SLATON

Examining trial of J. W. Adams and May Shaw, charged with forging and passing a check in a Slaton clothing store, will begin at 9 o'clock Friday morning in Justice of the Peace E. H. Ward's court in Slaton, Vaughn E. Wilson, county attorney, said.

Adams and the woman were arrested in the store late Saturday, where the woman, in passing a check, was detained until officers arrived, the sheriff's department reported.

A series of at least six forged checks passed in Lubbock stores was attributed to the pair also.

Paraphernalia Seized

Queries received by the sheriff's department indicated the man and his attractive young woman companion had operated in other cities, using a differently issued check in each. Rubber-stamp paraphernalia was confiscated in the arrests. A check-protector machine used on the worthless paper was not found.

The six checks attributed to the pair here, ranged from $13.90 to $21.30, and totaled $113. A jewelry firm, two department and two drug stores, and a clothing store accepted the checks here. In Lubbock and Slaton some merchandise was obtained in virtually all transactions. County officers confiscated a large quantity of widely assorted merchandise.

G. V. Pardue and George S. Berry, Lubbock attorneys, will defend the pair.

SESSION ENDS TOMORROW

SENATE PASSES BILL TO FURNISH FUNDS FOR CENTENNIAL

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 12—The Texas senate today passed finally a bill to appropriate $200,000 for preliminary arrangements and expenditures for the Texas centennial in 1936. The proposal would provide for creation of a centennial commission of 15 members.

With the special session of the legislature ending tomorrow and with considerable opposition to the appropriation at this time, sponsors of the bill admitted there was little chance for the house to pay it finally. The vote in the senate was 14 to 7 with four pairs.

Other Bills Advanced

The senate also sent to the house a number of bills on which there was little debate.

These included:

To authorize the state board of education to issue interest bearing certificates in an effort to provide a method whereby teachers will not have to discount their warrants.

To regulate loan brokers.

A bill designed to make unnecessary the immediate liquidation of insolvent banks through giving the banking commissioner 30 days in which to work out a plan for reorganization.

To appropriate $2500 for a cotton disinfecting plant to be used in the work of eradicating pink boll worms. The plant would be constructed at Fabens.

MAN AND WIFE GET MAXIMUM UNDER LAW

JUDGE VAUGHT DENIES NEW TRIALS; TO RUSH PAIR TO PRISONS

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 12.—The notorious Kellys, George and Kathryn, were sentenced to life imprisonment today, a few minutes after a federal jury had convicted them under the "Lindbergh law" of kidnaping Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil millionaire.

The maximum sentences were pronounced by Judge Edgar S. Vaught sixteen days after the Kellys had been trapped at Memphis, Tenn., after a haphazard flight over the middle west and south, and only three days after they went to trial.

Six Face Life Terms

Thus six of the nine persons convicted for the $200,000 kidnaping conspiracy have been ordered to prison for the rest of their lives. Also under life sentence are Harvey Bailey, the jailbreaker; Albert Bates, Kelly's aide in the actual kidnaping, and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon, operators of the Paradise, Tex., "kidnap farm" where Urschel was imprisoned. Mrs. Shannon is Kathryn Kelly's mother.

Even before the sealed verdict, returned after an hour of deliberation, was read, federal agents had perfected plans to take Kelly by plane to the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

His wife is to serve her sentence at the women's federal prison in West Virginia.

Show No Emotion

The Kellys received the verdict and sentence without changing expression.

In the front row of spectators, Pauline, 15-year-old daughter of the convicted woman, smiled strangely as Judge Vaught pronounced the life sentences.

Court had opened five minutes after the scheduled time, with a

LOUIS RUTHARDT ON STAND TODAY

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Louis Ruthardt, 24, testified at his trial for the death of Jo Betty Sell, his 17-year-old dance partner at a night club near Dallas, today of the couple's relationship while working together.

"When you arrived at Melody tavern with this young girl, you introduced her around as your wife, did you not?" Henry Tirey, one of the prosecutors, asked.

"I did not," Ruthardt replied.

"Well, isn't it a fact that you lived with her while you were at Melody tavern?"

"Yes, I did," the witness replied when Tirey asked the question a third time on cross-examination.

On direct examination, Ruthardt said Miss Sell attempted suicide in Oklahoma City a week before her death here on May 30.

THREE KHAKI SHIRTS' HEADQUARTERS RAIDED PRIOR TO MARCH ON CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12—Raiding three headquarters of the Khaki Shirts, police today arrested 27 men awaiting a scheduled march on Washington and seized loaded pistols, knives, clubs and blackjacks.

Police said they had received "definite information" that the Khaki Shirts planned to storm the armory of the 111th regiment, Pennsylania national guard, to get ammunition for their march.

Three armories were placed under guard, and the raids on the headquarters were made when residents called police to protest that armed men were walking around the streets.

Among the prisoners was a "general" and a couple of "colonels," but police said they were still seeking the organizer and self-styled commander-in-chief, Arthur J. Smith.

It was Smith who announced 1,500,000 men would descend on the capital from nine states today and, "install" President Roosevelt as the nation's dictator. It was Smith's order to march which was being awaited by the Khaki Shirts when the police arrived.

Police, who said they are seeking Smith, asserted that a "mutiny" broke out in the headquarters, a former hospital in north Philadelphia, before the raiding party arrived and Smith departed while his officers and men were looking for him for further information about his plans.

Police Captain Walter Hart-

ONE-MAN CHEERING THRONG GOES BIG TIME AFTER RECOGNITION FROM FDR

BY W. H. BEATTY

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (AP)—A bit dusty from close contact with certain underparts of a railroad carriage, Mr. Horace "Patsy" O'Toole, the one-man cheering throng from Detroit, arrived home belatedly from Washington today to tell how President Roosevelt had "inquired" about him, and to place his voice in training for a tough season of football bellowing—on a national scale.

Mr. O'Toole, by his admission, has been thrust suddenly into national prominence. Although Mr. O'Toole expects to maintain headquarters in Detroit, his native metropolis, his operations, he will tell anyone who inquires, henceforth will extend to all parts of the country.

"I went up there to Washington," said Mr. O'Toole, after freshening his cinder-specked clothing, "to shout the Washingtons into a series title. Well, I give 'em my best, and Joe Cronin personally thanked me—in fact, we had our pictures took together—but the Giants had the stuff.

"Anyways, I was in a box right next to the president, letting 'em have my best voice, never giving a minute's letup. The president keeps looking at me. I smile, but he don't smile back. Pretty soon, he taps an aide on the shoulder, looks my way, and says something in the aide's ear. The aide drops over to see me.

"'O'Toole,' says the aide, 'you're a great guy, and I know

SPANGLES ARE USED

PARIS (AP)—Spangles shimmer in the weave of a number of new winter wool frocks shown in recent fashion shows. Round black paillettes are woven into numerous black or dark hued wools while little gold spangles gleam from others. Gold and silver threads are woven into others which are called lame wools.

Botanists are unable to name a mystery plant, found growing in the garden of the late Luther Burbank.

New Furniture Ingenious; Here Is A New Wrinkle

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Writer

Two-timing is admirable—in furniture. The new double and triple utility pieces strike a practical note in home furnishings.

For the hostess who has little space but, fortunately, lots of company, there is a new divan which comes apart to make three separate chairs. Two of the chairs have arms on opposite sides, making them perfect for reading. The center piece is armless and can be drawn up in front of your desk to make a comfortable writing chair. Put together, you have a davenport.

New bedside utility cabinets serve three purposes. They are made with open compartments on the two lower shelves and a couple of drawers at the top. You use the little open cubby holes for your shoes and the drawers for handkerchiefs, nightgowns and the like.

The flat top itself is sturdy enough to hold a reading lamp, an ash tray and your bedtime reading matter.

Triple Utility Piece

Also introduced this fall is a new three-in-one piece of furniture which looks like three narrow chests of drawers. They fit together along the wall of an apartment living room. The piece on the right end opens up to show rows and rows of bookshelves. The one on the left reveals three or four drawers. The center piece has a split panel across the front. The top half of the panel drops down and then you have a writing desk. You can use them together or, lacking space, use them separately.

Quarter couches fit together to make a circular divan. They are handsome love seats for either side of a fireplace when used separately. One has an arm on the right side, one left. A particularly lovely pair of these circular quarter couches comes in pale green velour.

A chaise lounge that looks like an arm chair at one end is appropriate for either bedrooms or library. It appears to be merely an elongated easy chair. And beautiful it is, with a short arm on one side and the other arm extending all the way to the foot.

Right in the double utility mood is a desk table that is plain and simple enough to be used as a luncheon table in the small apartment. It has a thick glass top, making it ideal for writing purposes. Put a pad and a linen cloth over the glass and there you are—all set for lunch.

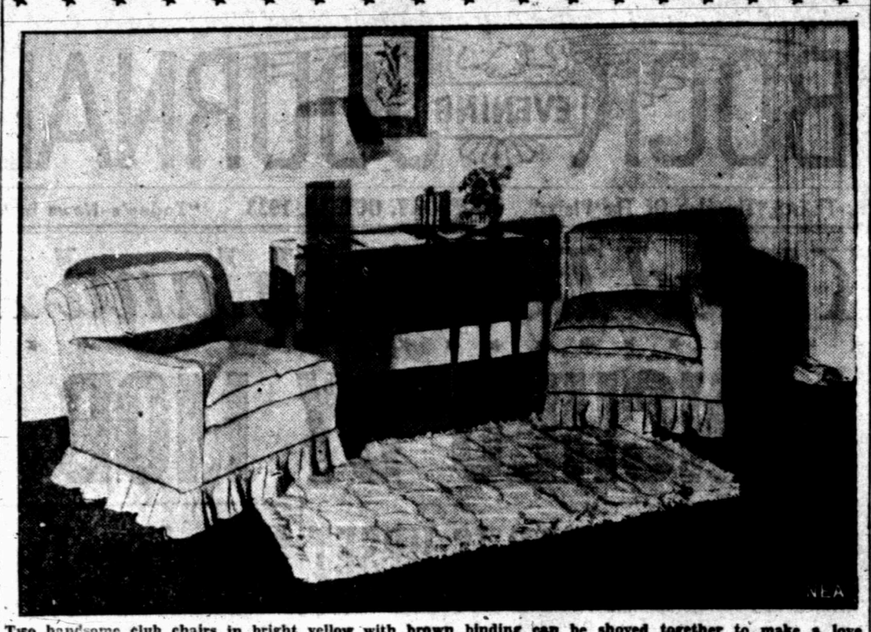

One Legged Bridge Table

A bridge table that is heavy and solid, with one large leg instead of four little wobbly ones, stays up all the time. Place it in one corner of a large living room, with its chairs grouped close to it, and besides being decorative, it is always ready when you want to play cards or serve refreshments.

There is a beautiful eighteenth century library table (shown between the two chair in the picture), that is grand for an apartment. You can use it as a regular living room table and, by putting up the side pieces, as a dinner table. Use the nice little end drawer for silver.

A very large, round table (about four feet in diameter) can be used as an ordinary library table. And also for a tea table if you are a hostess who gives large parties. It is just the right height so that a table lamp placed on it will shed rays of light on the book held by a person sitting in a club chair near the table itself. And it is large enough to hold dozens of tea cups and many platters of sandwiches and cakes.

By all means investigate the two-timing furniture trends and see for yourself how useful and decorative these new pieces can be.

Two handsome club chairs in bright yellow with brown binding can be shoved together to make a love seat. If the matching third chair—armless—is set in between them, you have a divan. The lamp on the eighteenth century table adds just the right modern touch.

AGGIE RODEO AT TECH SET FRIDAY

A barbecue will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the pavilion, and the queen will be crowned immediately afterward. A full rodeo program also is scheduled for that night.

LAUNDRY EMPLOYES FETED

Men employes of Lonnie's Steam Laundry were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Sanders at a dinner Wednesday night in the Hilton hotel.

KELLYS GIVEN LIFE TERMS

JUDGE GIVES MAXIMUM PENALTIES TO PAIR IN KIDNAP CASE

wild scramble for the few available seats.

The two accused entered the room under guard. They sat at the end of their counsel table, facing the judge.

Judge Vaught scanned the verdict casually and handed it to Theo Filson, court clerk, to read.

New Trial Denied

James H. Mathers immediately filed a motion for new trial. It was overruled.

"Have you anything to say before sentence is pronounced?" Judge Vaught asked the prisoners.

"No, sir," Kathryn replied.

Kelly shook his head.

Judge Vaught then pronounced the sentences.

The entire procedure occupied just thirteen minutes and the Kellys were led from the courtroom and rushed back to their county jail cells.

Jewelry, automobiles, a Fort Worth residence and other property claimed by Mrs. Kelly were ordered listed and held by the government for later transfer to the 15-year-old Pauline. Before court opened, Mrs. Kelly signed a deed giving the $30,000 home and $10,000 in other property to her daughter.

Urschel Is Gratified

In front row seats, Urschel, the millionaire victim; his attractive wife and E. E. Kirkpatrick, who paid the $200,000 ransom to Kelly on a Kansas City street, expressed gratification at the verdict and sentences.

The jury foreman, G. H. Verity, said only one ballot was required to decide the guilt of each defendant.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Vaught had said he did not believe Kathryn's story that she was forced into the crime by her husband's threats.

As for Kelly, repeatedly accused as kidnaper, ransom collector and as the writer of lurid death threats to Urschel during the first trial last month, he offered no defense at all.

"Court Fully Concurs"

"The jury has found you guilty and the court fully concurs," said Judge Vaught in pronouncing sentence.

Kelly, standing with his wife before the court, munched placidly on a wad of chewing gum.

"It is the judgment of the court that you and each of you be sentenced to terms in the federal penitentiary for the remainder of your lives."

Kelly turned and grunted to his wife, whose face was grim and expressionless.

Appeals Are Planned

Notices of appeal were ready for filing. Mathers declaring he would seek reversal and John V. Roberts, his colleague, saying: "this case will go to the United States supreme court."

While other spectators were rushing from the court to see the Kellys placed in a patrol wagon for transfer to the county jail. Mr. and Mrs. Urschel slipped down a side corridor into Judge Vaught's office.

"We thank you so much for our lives," said Mrs. Urschel. The oil man grasped the judge's hand.

Both of the Urschels had been threatened with "destruction" in letters sent by Kelly while he and his wife were fugitives.

In disposing of the Kelly property, Judge Vaught ruled that the government could retain anything which it feels was purchased with Urschel's money until ownership has been established. This, District Attorney Herbert Hyde said he believed, was true of a motor car purchased in Des Moines.

To Oppose Leniency

District Attorney Hyde, in charge of the prosecution of both trials for the Urschel kidnaping, said he would forward immediately to the department of justice in Washington his strongest recommendation any application for a pardon or parole for any of the convicted persons, now or later, be denied.

"I shall ask the court to join me in this recommendation," Hyde states, "and ask that our requests be made a part of the permanent records of the Urschel case.

"It was one of the most vicious crimes in American history and we who assembled the evidence and prosecuted the case are convinced that these persons are not entitled to any clemency or leniency at the hands of the authorities.

"We feel that there should be no concession to maudlin sentiment because two of these convicted defendants are women and I want my unalterable conviction placed in the official record."

ley, who visited the headquarters before the raid, said "the last I saw of Smith was as he went out a window in the rear."

"Smith's followers went right through the door of his office when they found he had disappeared," Hartley said. "They wrecked the inside of the place."

Smith, in announcing plans for the advance on the capital, said installation of the president as a dictator would be in accordance with the organization's fascist policies and some of the prisoners were quoted by Inspector John F. Driscoll, who conducted two of the raids, as talking of "having it out with the communists" in Washington.

"Enrolling men at $2 a head and selling them trench caps and brown shirts, Smith recruited a large number of followers in Philadelphia. His "shock troops" wore helmets and plumes flowed from those of high officers.

As to the organization's actual enrollment, only Smith's figures are available—and his announcement that 1,500,000 would troop to Washington failed to stir police officials.

Paralysis Victims Aided By Operation

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Success in treating infantile paralysis by an operation upon the nervous system was reported to the American College of Surgeons last night by Dr. D. E. Robertson of Toronto.

The operations, he said, brought about substantial improvement in enlivening withered limbs of children afflicted with the disease.

The field of nerve surgery, surgeons explained, is one of the newest into which they have ventured.

Dr. Robertson reported he had been able to "increase the blood supply and accelerate bone growth" in 68 advanced cases of infantile paralysis in which the young patients were "past the stage of recovery and in the stage of deformity."

He described his technique in a paper before a night session of the college.

Billings Gives Up Hopes Of A Pardon

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP)—Grown "sort of tired of the place" after nearly 17 years in Folsom prison, Warren K. Billings has abandoned efforts to obtain a pardon and is seeking a parole from his life sentence for the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness day bombing.

Referring to Tom Mooney, serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison for the bombing, Billings said: "He'll probably want to blast me when he hears I have applied for parole."

But Mooney, who has consistently declared he should "either be pardoned or hanged," offered no criticism.

New Theory Studied In Fatal Shooting

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 12. (AP)—The possibility that more than one gun figured in the fatal shooting which climaxed a factional controversy within the congregation of the Baptist tabernacle here and brought a murder charge against the pastor was studied today by investigating officers.

Three guns were in the hands of Sheriff Houston Johnson who said he was endeavoring to determine whether slugs from more than one of the weapons struck W. J. MacMurdro, 65-year-old tabernacle janitor, for whose death the Rev. Dale Crowley is charged with murder.

DEPOSITORS' AID SEEN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Woodin last night indicated the Roosevelt administration would make public next week a plan to thaw frozen deposits in closed state and national banks. "I have been on top of this problem constantly for two weeks," he said, "and in a few more days everybody will know the answer."

DEADLINE SET FOR FARMERS

WHEAT GROWERS MUST SIGN APPLICATIONS BY OCTOBER 15

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 12 (AP)—Texas wheat growers have until Oct 15 to sign applications for government wheat contracts, Director O. B. Martin of the Texas A. & M. college extension service, directing the campaign in the state, has announced. This twenty-day extension from Sept. 25 was granted by the federal agricultural adjustment administration because of investigation of the Texas wheat allotment after protest of Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo and because of the delay in receipt of cotton checks in Texas, it was explained.

To date 4,005 farmers, or 16 per cent of Texas wheat growers, representing 1,250,000 acres or about 30 per cent of the total Texas acreage, have signed applications for domestic wheat allotment contracts, Martin stated. He estimated that 40 per cent to 50 per cent of all Texas wheat growers, representing 60 per cent to 80 per cent of the total Texas wheat acreage, will take advantage of the government's offer to insure a parity price on 54 per cent of the crop for the next two years.

Lubbock Included

So far 3,256 wheat growers in ten counties have furnished about 85 per cent of the total acreage signup in Texas, Martin said. The counties include Ochiltree, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Carson, Hemphill, Potter, Hartley and Lubbock.

The premium of 30c a bushel on 54 per cent of the average three-year production, payable through county wheat production control associations now being formed by growers with the help of the county agents, are expected by Mr. Martin to exceed $3,000,000 and perhaps run as high as $4,000,000. These premiums, less cost of local administration, will be payable this fall and the balance of one-third about next June 1 after farmers' fields have been inspected to see that the contracts have been respected.

you wouldn't refuse the president a favor, would you?'

"'Absolutely not,' I says, and went back to rooting.

"'Well,' says the aide, 'the president would like it very much if you would sit on the opposite side of the field. He'll see to it that a place is arranged for you'."

This, said Mr. O'Toole, constituted the highest recognition of his prowess as a de-luxe rooter to date, and brought the decision that henceforth he will "branch out."

"From now on," he said, "you can look—I mean, listen—for my cheering at all the best box fights, football games, and sports shindigs all over the country. I'm in the big time, now."

Mr. O'Toole rose from the ranks as a powerful roaring person at Navin field during past engagements of the Detroit Tigers. He became a personage in Detroit, the mayor called him by his first name, and he got his picture in the papers.

That gave him ideas.

JOB SELLING

rel from persons who said they had been sent to him by Dr. Jarrel. He said that in all between $150 and $250 was paid by persons sent him by Dr. Jarrel and that receipts were given in each instance.

Ulmer said there was no discussion that he could remember with those making contributions about their being given employment in return for making payments on the radio bill. He testified that the radio expense for the gubernatorial campaign last year was between $700 and $800, all of which had been paid, with the possible exception of a small balance.

Most of the bill was paid by Dr. Jarrel, he testified, who made the contract with the radio station as campaign manager for Governor Ferguson.

Ulmer testified most of Dr. Jarrel's payments were in cash, but that there might have been a few checks.

He said his only knowledge of any job transactions was that Dr. Jarrel told him that some persons were after Dr. Jarrel and were accusing him of selling jobs.

Beware The Cough Or Cold That Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion.—(adv.)

ELLSWORTH TALKS ON SUMMER TRIP

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the department of agricultural economics of Texas Technological college, entertained members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club today noon with an interesting description of a 6,000-mile trip taken this summer by himself and a group of eight Tech students through sixteen states. The trip was made to study the economic side of agricultural in the various areas.

Dr. Ellsworth told of many interesting places the group visited including the Century of Progress in Chicago, numerous agricultural colleges and experiment stations, nationally known farms, dairy products firms and commercial institutions.

Mrs. Ray Mowery gave a reading, "Sail On", commemorating Columbus' voyage.

Rev. Lyle Barnett was program chairman. At the outset of the program, Dean O. V. Adams received O. J. Sexton, former president of the Plainview club, and W. H. Walton as new members.

Hugh Johnson Plans Revision Of Codes

WASHINTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Revision of NRA codes with a view to generalizing trade practices, especially in related industries, is planned by Hugh S. Johnson.

To this end, the administrator has been watching actual operations of the important codes. He will start his modifications in charters of competitive industries.

DUMMY REPLACES FIREMEN IN JUMP OFF DRILL TOWER

Although they erected ladders and laid hose in a demonstration, Lubbock firemen substituted a dummy for a real fire-fighter in a jump from a 54-foot drill tower to a net in the 900-block of Texas avenue last night.

The demonstration was presented in connection with observance locally of National Fire Prevention week.

One of the most difficult projects was carrying a hose to the top of a 45-foot ladder, held perpendicular with four ropes. Three men were on the swaying ladder at the same time.

The firemen also propped a 45-foot ladder against the drill-tower, then pyramided a 16-foot ladder to reach the top of the tower.

Another demonstration will be given at 8 o'clock Saturday night, when three lines of hose will be run to the tower top as though the department were fighting a fire, it was said.

Publicity Is Needed

It is reported in New York that Wall Street believes that the renewal of the Senate's investigation into banking and speculation abuses is going to be killed off. It is an open secret that Wall Street has exerted all the pressure it can muster to prevent any further disclosures like those of the Morgan investigation a few months ago.

This attitude is a familiar one, but one would have though that the events of the last few years would have made even the die-hards see the absurdity of it. Trouble isn't caused by those sensational disclosures; it is caused by the abuses which lie beneath the disclosures, and we can't get back to full health until these abuses have been given the bright light of publicity in which we can correct them and prevent them from happening again.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the best way to get rid of the depression is to give it the Buy-Buy.

A statistician is listing the common causes of fatigue and it is hoped that he doesn't overlook statistics.

SINCE the fall season in this country has always been the money-making season, when conditions look rosy to business men and the old do-re-mi rolls in easily, it has also become the accepted season for financial drives of various donation-supported organizations.

Already there are heard, even in this year, rumors of rumors that several financial campaigns will be held within the next few weeks—which leads The Plainsman to cogitation.

Business thus far this season is probably a little better than most people thought it would be.

Indications are that Lubbock and the South Plains will experience a better fall and winter than they have had for several years.

At least, we all hope this is true.

But the fact remains that this year falls upon the heels of several, which, although good as compared to most of the rest of the country, were not good enough to permit business concerns to set aside the profits and surpluses which they needed to set aside.

And we're not 'out of the woods', economically speaking, yet.

OF course, we have in Lubbock a number of worthy organizations which operate upon finances donated by the public.

We should continue these worthy organizations, if it is at all possible and feasible, by maintaining their framework so that when good times come back they can pick up where they left off at depression's beginning and go on expanding.

But just because there can be slightly noted a silver lining to the clouds of hard times, is no reason for organizations to take the financial field seeking more support than is absolutely necessary to barely keep running.

Personally, The Plainsman is in favor of keeping these drives to the absolute minimum.

Further, he believes the public shares the same opinion.

Included in whatever financial drives held this year should be no frills and furbelows. This is no time to expand expenses or operations.

Organizations seeking help from the citizenship and the business interests must be fair enough to realize that the old days of "easy come, easy go" have not returned. It will be a long time after they do return that donors will have taken up the slack brought about by the years of economic stress.

OUT OF THE HUDDLE: President Roosevelt, himself, coined the term "brain trust" to describe his group of professor-advisors . . . Jack Parsons, back from the national legion convention at Chicago, met a princess at the fair . . . The picture of Doctor Knapp helping John Garner to put on his Tech suit was first printed in the Chicago Tribune . . . Farmers in northern Canada, interested in home spinning, have heard about Tech's hand loom and have been writing down here to find out about it . . . One of the larger stores in Lubbock reports that its business last week was better than for any week since December, 1929 . . . Those who saw FDR at the time of his nomination and have seen him again recently report that his first few months in the hardest job in the world have aged him noticeably.

A dime isn't much money to any of us until they start paying that much per pound for cotton. Then it's a fortune!

First Tech kid: The dates I've had with Mary are like a string of pearls.

Second Tech kid: Howzat?

First Tech kid: Neckless, boy, neckless!

THE Plainsman has no sympathy for workers who are striking during times like these nor for jobless, on charity lists, who decline to go into the cotton fields.

A man with a job, even if it pays but a bare living wage, is luckier than millions with no jobs at all.

And the fellow who won't pick cotton for his sustenance shouldn't be coddled. He has no right to further aid from others.

There is nothing—nothing at all—disgraceful about accepting charity when that is the last resort.

This country is full of men and women forced onto relief rolls by conditions no fault of their own, who have been and will be again self-supporting citizens contributing to the general welfare.

But there is everything disgraceful in leeching from charity when it is possible for a man to earn a living but who won't do it.

May There Be No Moaning Of The Bar When I Put Out To Sea

Labor Secretary Frances Perkins Is Forty-Five Per Cent More Human Than When She Took Office, Says Labor Head

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column, is being conducted by Willis Thornton during Rodney Dutcher's vacation.

BY WILLIS THORNTON
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—"She's 45 per cent more human than when she took office."

That's the opinion of one labor leader who has been in frequent touch with Labor Secretary Frances Perkins ever since she joined the cabinet.

I don't know why he picked 45, but, anyway, Madame Secretary certainly was the height of gracious cordiality when she spoke for nearly an hour to a packed house at the A. F. of L. convention.

She walked through the rows of delegates in tow of enormous Martin Ryan, A. F. of L. treasurer, like Equipoise following a dinosaur. As she neared the speakers' platform, she stopped to greet warmly old Andrew Furuseth, head of the Seamen's Union.

Half embracing the 78-year-old veteran of so many labor wars, Madame Secretary patted his back affectionately. Andy was so flabbergasted that he just blinked.

But when Miss Perkins spoke, he was one of the most attentive listeners, leaning forward and puffing on his cigar. His doctor has forbidden him to speak at the convention, though he is full of speeches still, at 79.

And old Andy, his cadaverous face almost as gray now as his hair, was one of the first to rise in tribute when Miss Perkins had finished speaking.

The A. F. of L. which bitterly had opposed her appointment, gave her an ovation of several minutes of handclapping.

Ickes Driven Dizzy

The tremendous task of spending that three billions for public works seems to move slowly. It's no wonder. More than 5500 proposals have had to be examined, and some of them were plenty dizzy.

There was the man who wanted to build a tower a mile high with an auto runway to the top. No, no special reason. Just so people could drive up, and down again, thus burning more gas, wearing out their cars, and increasing consumption in general.

Another wanted to use a good part of the three billions to build a rocket ship that would reach the moon. Another engineer proposed to build high-speed transportation belts from New York to San Francisco that travelers could step on and off just like an escalator.

A town of 4000 wanted to build a maternity hospital that would take care of 1000 births a year and another town wanted to build a self-liquidating jail—presumably one in which the prisoners would be asked to pay rent and be evicted if they didn't.

All that stuff has to be waded through. But Secretary Harold L. Ickes is determined that every allotment be made public. "We invite inspection of every item," he says. Twelve housing projects already have been approved.

8000 Want 500 Jobs

Everybody stopped work at the White House the day the president addressed the American Legion at Chicago . . . the whole house was silent except for the loud-speakers. . . . Nearly 8000 men, many who had waited all night, crowded about the Navy Yard here the other day just to be put on the waiting lists for 500 jobs that don't yet exist, but may crop up soon. . . . The NRA is cutting down its headquarters staff . . . it reached a peak of 1161, but now is down to about 900. . . . Winter outfits for the C. C. C. foresters will be gay, with red, green, and blue jackets. . . . The A. F. of L. is going to back labor education stronger than ever before. "These new opportunities call up new responsibilities," President Green told the Workers' Education Bureau, which has an exhibit at the A. F. of L. convention. . . . Aspirants for jobs as Department of Justice agents no longer have to answer so many embarrassing questions about their personal attitude toward liquor. . . . They used to be put over the hurdles on their personal habits in a big way back in the days when prohibition rode a little more solidly in the saddle.

FLASHES OF LIFE FROM EVERYWHERE

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Close To Home

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—A search of two weeks for John Vinson, sought for questioning about the theft of some harness, has ended successfully. He was in the county jail all the time—but under another name, serving a term for possessing liquor.

Easy Sleuthing

WACO—Annie Williams, negress, didn't know when she allegedly stole a sack of flour, that the sack had a hole in it, until officers trailed her all the way from the residence where the flour was stolen to her own shack.

Jolly Idea

PHILADELPHIA — For the first time in 12 years of its existence, men are permitted in the swimming pool at the Young Women's Christian association.

As an experiment in helping young women entertain the "boy friend" at the "Y" instead of having to go elsewhere, directors of the organization are trying out the mixed swimming idea. "Bring your best beau," they urge the girls, "or let us get one for you."

A Proud Workman

CHICAGO — Apparently Charles C. Bittner is the kind of man who takes pride in his work.

He testified before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson that he had been making quarters that put the real ones to shame.

"They," he said, "were good quarters .They had more silver in them than the ones the mint makes, and the design was just as pretty."

Eight years in prison was the court's answer.

No More Birdies

BUFFALO, N. Y.—There will be no more birds twittering in Mayor Frank M. Schwab's campaign this fall—not if the mayor knows it. Until recently, whenever the mayor made a public appearance the amplifier on his ballyhoo bus blared forth "tweet, tweet, tweet like the birdies sing" to announce the mayor's arrival.

"We'll just open the cage and let the birdies out," the mayor said, ordering a new record. Now the campaign song is a stirring march, "his honor, the mayor."

They Make Amends

COLUMBUS, O.—When more than 1,000 crippled children were taken to a football game by Columbus firemen, Irwin Diamond, 12, was overlooked.

Here's how the firemen made amends when they learned their mistake:

Irwin saw a fire prevention display on a movie; ate a huge meal at a restaurant; pulled the siren on fire engine number one, and received a ticket on the 50-yard line to the Ohio State-Vanderbilt game next Saturday, with the promise he'll meet Coach Sam Ellaman and the team.

It has been shown that cadmium, a metal well known only to chemists and metallurgists, when substituted for tin in babbit is useful in bearings and will operate satisfactorily at temperatures up to 570 degrees Farenheit.

Lions, in an African game preserve, are said to be so tame they come out for their dinner. Thank you, we'll stay away.

Much Pleased With Cardui

"My first experience with Cardui began when I was just a girl," writes Mrs. Millard Wallis, of Apple Grove, W. Va. "I took it for painful trouble. It gave me great relief. I have taken it at intervals since I was married twelve years ago. Before the birth of my first baby, I was weak and run-down. I was very nervous and did not get the rest I needed at night. I took six bottles of Cardui. I regained my strength and felt fine. I have taken it since as a tonic and to keep from having pains at menstruating time."

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Senator Margie Neal of Carthage, only woman member of the senate, presided over a session last week. It was the first time she ever had wielded the gavel and she has been in the upper house nearly eight years.

Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt of Waco recalled, after Miss Neal revealed that it was the first time she had presided over the senate, that in his 12 years on the floor of the chamber he had not sat in the president's chair until he was elected and had taken the oath of his present office.

Somewhat Modest

Witt confessed that he never had a yen for parliamentary law and would rather not be bothered with its intricacies.

The lieutenant governor always has been somewhat modest for a public man. He has dodged the limelight more than once. He prefers to be out on the sidelines, stepping in now and then in an unostentatious manner to express himself or give a lift.

Since he came into state-wide office, however, he is getting away from that timidity. He is in line for the governorship and realizes it. Everyone is of the opinion that he will offer himself for the place in the primaries of next July.

Impressive Speaker

He is small in stature but he can make an impressive speech on most any subject. He is energetic and if he decided to go into the thing whole-heartedly he could stir the political waters.

Meanwhile, Senators Walter Woodul of Houston and Joe Moore of Greenville are warming up for the lieutenant governor's race. There'll probably be others go after that place—maybe Senator George C. Purl of Dallas and a few who are not at this time legislators.

Ancient Rivalry To Flare Again

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

FOOTBALL TONIGHT

If you think the Westerners are a fighting, hustling bunch of ball players, go out to Tech Field tonight and see a team that outfights and outhustles the Westerners. Coach Swede McMurry presents his Cowhands of Lubbock High against the Slaton Tigers.

There is every reason why the Cowhands should fight. You've been hearing about them for a long time, but you haven't paid much attention to them, considering them as you would consider the freshman team at Tech. But the Cowhands are more than freshmen. There are several lads on the club who, no doubt, would be playing regularly for the Westerners were it not for strict eligibility rules. They'll be eligible next year, which is one reason Coaches Chapman and Huffman are looking to 1934 with a great deal of ease and patience.

It's the Cowhands' first home game in three years. They're a rambling bunch, touring all West Texas during the grid season and playing as many games as the Westerners, perhaps more. They have a worthy foe in the Slaton Tigers of Coach Paul Wright tonight. In fact, Slaton is doped to win the game, being a strong Class B club with a 25 to 0 victory last week over another strong Class B team.

SOME CORRESPONDENCE

We've a couple of communications that need acknowledging. One comes from a former Texas Tech student, now at Waco. The other was mailed at Lubbock, and tells all. The Waco letter first:

Mr. Collier Parris,
The Evening Journal,
Lubbock, Texas.
Dear Sir:

After reading your column in The Evening Journal, Oct. 3, 1933, in regard to Tech not scheduling more games away from home, I, as an ex-student, want to congratulate you upon your stand. I hope that you will stay right in their and make Runt Stangel and Dr. Jackson see things your way.

Please pardon personal references, but I had intended to drive up to Dallas to see the Tech-Dixie game. And after it was moved I was very much disappointed, as I will not have another chance to see the Matadors play this year. What chance has the Central Texas fan had to see what Pete Cawthon has done at Tech? Also, why is it that Tech and Baylor do not have a home contract?

You should be able to realize yourself more than anyone else in Lubbock that Tech has many friends here, in Waco and Central Texas and that Baylor has had very nice relations with Tech. But the people down here want to see the Pride of West Texas in action, and do not want to be forced to just read about what a great team they have out there on the Plains. If Tech does not start playing more games away from home, critics soon will be saying that the Matadors can't play anywhere else.

Yours very truly,
S. A. (Scotty) Poage, '27, '28 and 29.

The other letter should be very helpful indeed to you who worry about the outcome of football scores and seasons. You need worry no longer, here it is:

Dear Mr. Parris,

I have been reading your column for some time and want to congratulate you on the way you picked the winners of the local ball teams' games last weekend.

Since you were so nice as to print the winner and the score, I am printing for your benefit how the Southwest conference race will come out. (I have to differ with our Dallas Scribe, Mr. White, on every point except we both think Rice will finish last.)

Date	Loser	Winner
Oct. 7—	T. C. U.	vs. Ark. (played).
Oct. 14—	Rice	vs S. M. U.
Oct. 14—	Arkansas	vs. Baylor.
Oct. 21—	T. C. U.	vs. A. & M.
Oct. 28—	A. & M.	vs. Baylor.
Oct. 28—	Rice	vs. Texas.
Oct. 28—	Ark.	vs. S. M. U.
Nov. 4—	T. C. U.	vs. Baylor.
Nov. 4—	S. M. U.	vs. Texas.
Nov. 11—	Rice	vs. Ark.
Nov. 11—	Baylor	vs. Texas (tie, maybe).
Nov. 11—	A. & M.	vs. S. M. U.
Nov. 18—	Rice	vs. A. & M.
Nov. 18—	T. C. U.	vs. Texas.
Nov. 24—	Ark.	vs. Texas.
Nov. 25—	Rice	vs. T. C. U.
Nov. 30—	Texas	vs. A. & M.
Dec. 2—	T. C. U.	vs. S. M. U.

The final standings:

Teams	Won	Lost	Pct.
S. M. U.	6	0	1000
Baylor	4	2	.667
Texas	4	2	.667
A. & M.	3	2	.600
Arkansas	2	3	.400
T. C. U.	1	5	.166
Rice	0	6	.000

I may have A. & M. and T. C. U. each one game low, and S. M. U. may tie Texas A. & M. instead of winning, but I think the rest is according to Hoyle.

Yours till Texas Tech swamps Texas U. next fall,
S. T. Newman.

There is a slight discrepancy or two, Mr. Newman, in the above. For instance, in the predictions you have Texas billed to beat S. M. U., but in the standings, S. M. U. is undefeated. And we can't find but five S. M. U. games, where you have six in the standings. Evidently, you've missed some games on the schedule, for you have only four games listed for Baylor. But if that's the way you say the season will end, why of course that's the way it'll end.

GRID CLASH BETWEEN CORNELL, MICHIGAN HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Except perhaps for the Stanford-Northwestern battle at Chicago, the clash between Cornell and Michigan in the first big east-west game of the year takes the intersectional prize on this week's football program.

This game, besides renewing an ancient rivalry, brings out two contrasting styles of football for what may be a conclusive test. Michigan has had remarkable success in recent years with its famous "punt, pass and prayer" system of putting up a strong defense and looking to the breaks for chances to score. Cornell's fame was built on Coach Gil Dobie's off tackle smash, which won just about as much renown as the game taught by Harry Kipke.

The big red team from Ithaca hasn't been as successful as Michigan in the past few years but despite the handicaps of limited practice and material, Cornell football has been on the upgrade and this year's team has shown considerable promise in its early games. Likewise the Dobie attack has been modernized, still along conservative lines, until it should give the Michigan defense a stiff test.

Navy To Meet Pitt

The east has its star struggle in the Pitt-Navy clash at Pittsburgh, which overshadows even such early season games as West Virginia-Fordham, Ohio Wesleyan-Syracuse, Washington and Lee-Yale, Bucknell-Villanova and Rutgers-Colgate. The Pitt Panthers rated as one of the best two or three teams in the section last year have made another good start with victories over Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia. The Midshipmen look somewhat better than they did last season having downed William and Mary and Mercer decisively.

Purdue Vs. Minnesota

The Big Ten program gets under way in earnest as Purdue clashes with Minnesota and Wisconsin meets Illinois. Some word of what may happen in the championship race may also come from the Indiana-Notre Dame clash. In the Big Six, Nebraska, which walloped Texas last week, meets Iowa State, rested by a week of idleness after taking a close decision from Denver. Missouri meeting Kansas State, hardly looks stronger than a "set-up" for Bo McMillen's team.

COWHANDS AND TIGERS WILL MEET HERE

GAME WILL BE UNDER LIGHTS AT TECH'S FIELD TONIGHT

Providing Lubbock's football entertainment this week in the face of schedules which take the "A" teams away from home, Coach Swede McMurry's Lubbock High school Cowhands meet the strong Slaton High school Tigers tonight at 7:30 o'clock under the arcs at Texas Tech field.

Lubbock's Westerners carry the high school football banners to Abilene this week, waving them at Coach Dewey Mayhew's Eagles Saturday afternoon. It looms a heavy weekend for the high school gridders.

Eagles Are Strong

Following the showing last Friday of the Eagles, who soundly drubbed the touted San Angelo team, Coach Chapman's boys are by no means favorites to take Abilene. And the Cowhands, Lubbock's so-called B team, a strikingly ill-balanced but sometimes brilliant aggregation, will have to extend themselves mightily if they make a showing against Paul Wright's Tigers.

The chief strength of the Cowhands is admittedly in the backfield. A brace of fast little backs featuring Morris White, recruit from White Deer, who would be a threat against a college team, have so far kept the Cowhands in the running. The line, which does well on defense, is too slow on offense, the guards and tackles don't draw out like they should.

Former Tiger Here

Playing against the Tigers tonight in the Cowhand secondary will be Irwin Gear, a former Slaton letter man and a nice prospect for the Westerners next year.

Out at Fair Park yesterday the Lubbock Westerners went through another stage in their preparation for their clash at Abilene Saturday.

In an effort to put more weight and blocking ability in the backfield and to speed up the wingmen, Coach Chapman has experimented with various set-ups during the week. Dago Meador, a little 130-pound boy with a lot of nerve, was running yesterday at left end. Starkey Whitehorn, slated to hold down this position may not see service Saturday because of housemaid's knee.

Charles Calhoun, erstwhile end, transferred to the backfield, was running at blocking half yesterday and looking good, if not impressive.

Starting line-up for the Cowhands tonight follows: Ends, G. Jones and Venable; tackles, Coursey and Jackson, guards, Wright and Jones; center, McGraw; halves, Gear or Atcheson and White or Cellum; quarter, Hill; fullback, Upton.

A partial list of the Cowhand squad with their weights, and positions includes: Centers, McGraw, 157; Dulaney, 150. Guards, Lamb, 155; Wright, 185; Smith, 140; J. Jones, 137; Morrow, 150; Lattimore, 130. Tackles, Abbot, 147; Coursey, 146; Jackson, 163; Blue, 157; Ends, Jones, 160; Venable, 140; Vaughn, 137; Bailey, 150; Snyder, 147; Nelson, 140. Halves, White, 150; Gear, 160; Cellum, 150; Atcheson, 122; Parks, 137. Quarter, Hill, 125. Fullbacks, Upton, 140; Boyd, 122.

Chicago Bears Win Over Capital Team

WASHINGTON Oct. 12. (AP)—The Chicago Bears last night smothered the Washington Passers 48 to 7 in the debut of the national capital team as a professional outfit.

Red Grange's team scored almost at will and outplayed the Passers in every department of the game except kicking. Moles Worth, formerly of Monmouth college, was the star, scoring two touchdowns for the Bears from his quarterback position. Jimmie Bankhead, formerly of Texas, shone for the Passers with his kicking and scored the lone touchdown.

Foxx Is Chosen "Most Valuable"

INTRODUCING THE TECH MATADORS

(This is another of a series dealing with individual members of the Texas Tech varsity football squad.)

EALEY "STUBBY" HARRIS—To the backfield men of a football team usually go the credit for winning or the blame for losing, and few football fans have learned to appreciate the work of linemen. Now and then, however, a man identifies himself by powerful line work, particularly on defense. Such a man is Harris, "watch charm" guard on the Texas Tech team. He earned his second letter last year and is due for another this year. Playing at least half the time in a system that sees changes in the lineups every few minutes, Harris has distinguished himself thusly. A former star lineman at Ralls High school where he earned all-district honors in the Class B circuit, Harris is one of the hardest working and most sincere men of the Matador team. Standing 5 feet, 7 inches high and weighing 170 pounds, Harris is exceedingly hard to take out of a play, and hard to hold back at any time.

MAJOR LEAGUES HOME RUN KING IS NAMED FOR SECOND YEAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—James Emory Foxx, the home run king of the major leagues, was named by the baseball experts today as the American league's "most valuable player" for the second successive year.

Only two other stars in either league have ever gained this extraordinary distinction. Walter Johnson, when he was the "Big Train" of Washington's pitching staff, captured the award in 1913 and repeated in 1924 the year he helped the Senators win their first world series. Rogers Hornsby won the National league "most valuable player" contest in 1925 and repeated in 1929.

Foxx was selected for top honors again by a committee representing the Baseball Writers' association of America, of which Denman Thompson of the Washington Star acted as chairman.

Cronin Is Second

The slugging first baseman of the Athletics was given a brisk run in the voting by two Washington rivals, Manager Joe Cronin and Heinie Manush, but emerged with a clean-cut margin. Decisive factors in favor of Foxx were that, in addition to retaining the home run crown, he led all the American league hitters with an unofficial mark of .356 and topped the clouters of both big leagues in runs batted in, with 159.

In the opinion of Cronin, his closest rival and a former winner of the award, Foxx is "the greatest all-round ball player in the game today."

MORE FANS AT GRID GAMES

ATTENDANCE SHOWING DEFINITE SIGNS OF REBOUND IN 1933

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—It's been a long time since football has broken any attendance records, but the early returns from the 1933 season show definite signs of a rebound from the depths that were reached last year.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press, covering the early games of 32 representative colleges, show improved attendance figures on all sides and a total gain of over 200,000. Where fewer than a half million fans had turned out at this stage of the season a year ago, the 1933 total for the schools listed is 705,880.

Prices Are Lower

A good many reasons can be found for the larger crowds, notably lower admission prices and a reduction in the "set up" games, but a general trend toward a recovery of the lost "gates" of the past few years is quite evident. Only four of the 32 schools have reported attendance lower than last year and a few of them already have reported banner crowds.

Already there has been one gathering of 60,000, which turned out to see California defeat St. Mary's 14-13. Ohio State, which could pull only 12,000 fans into its stadium last year, drew 42,000 for its 75-0 victory over Virginia Saturday. It was a remarkable gain even when the fact that a large number of school children were admitted free is considered.

Yale and Tennessee had record opening game crowds. The Elis drew 17,000 for the season's first clash with Maine and 11,429 saw Tennessee defeat Virginia Polly.

WALTER ACHIU WINS FROM ARGENTINE

POLI SUBSTITUTES IN WRESTLING MATCH AND IS BEATEN

Climaxing 45 minutes of thrilling wrestling, which did not stick all the time to straight neck-twisting, leg-splitting and otherwise orthodox rules of the mat game, with a brief series of flying tackles and body-crushing shoulder blows, Walter "Sneeze" Achiu, of China and Dayton, Ohio, won a three-fall match over Gorilla Poli of Argentina and San Francisco last night to feature Promoter Sled Allen's opening rassle show in Lubbock.

Poli substituted for "Tuffy" McMullen of Chicago in the main event last night, the latter having wired late yesterday of serious illness that kept him at home. But nobody took up the proposition of Announcer Cal Farley of Amarillo to the effect that any and all persons dissatisfied with the match would find their ticket money waiting at the box office. Nobody claimed any refund, for Poli put up a match that brought plenty of excitement to the fans and plenty of worry to the favorite, Achiu.

Sneeze Takes First

Achiu won, taking the first and third falls of a scheduled three-fall match, but he had to call on all his native and American-learned resources to register a victory over the charging, growling, grimmacing Argentine.

With head close clipped and a fine growth of black wool covering his front and back, Poli looked like the Gorilla he's named after, and many times during the 45-minute session looked like the winner. Employing rough tactics to the Chinaman's darting, snake-like thrusts and smooth footwork, the Gorilla put on a show that undoubtedly pleased the faithful.

Heinz Wins Prelim

A scheduled 30-minute time limit semi-final ended after 20 minutes of furious fighting between Pat Garrison of Borger, 163 pounds, and Red Heinz of San Diego, California, 162, when the nonchalant German executed a series of body slams and got a toe-hold and leg-lock that caused the black-haired Garrison to pat the mat in defeat.

It was a snappy battle, this preliminary, the business-like Garrison struggled hard and using all his tactics to throw the cocky redhead, who jumped in the ring during the main match to challenge the winner.

Start Is Furious

Achiu and Poli flew at each other fast and furious at the beginning, the Chinaman dancing back out of distance as the Argentine rushed and flailed and jumped up and down. "Sneeze" weighed in at 153 pounds, Poli at 157.

Poli succeeded finally in getting an arm lock, a hold that he took at every opportunity. Then he got a toe-hold, which the Chinaman broke. Darting about the ring, feinting and hacking away, Achiu fanned the flames of Poli's wrestling heart so that the latter charged and rushed with all the fury of a wounded bull. Gorilla had a few intense moments early in the match as Achiu got a leg-lock about the Argentine's neck. He broke out, and they charged each other about the ring, slinging fists and feet. Toe to toe they stood, as if boxing, and Referee Bo Sexton had to warn them.

After so much of this, Achiu started the rushing game, pounding into Poli like a football tackle, blocking him into the ropes with resounding crashes. A little of this, and Poli hit the floor, where Achiu pounced on him, grabbed a wrist, got a leg-hold and pinned Poli's shoulders for the count. The fall came after 17 minutes of fighting.

Poli Wins Second

Poli won his fall in 12 minutes. Each smashed the other to the floor with resounding thwacks, the Chinaman getting the worst of it. Then Poli grabbed an arm, pulled the Chinaman in and, so anchored, delivered three terrific shoulder blocks. On the third, Achiu went down, and Poli pinned him with his favorite arm lock.

Sixteen minutes were required for the third and decisive fall. For a while it looked dark for the lightning-like Chinaman, who was on the defense for the first few minutes. They charged and butted, butted and charged, and the crowd rose to its feet when Poli grabbed Achiu's arm for the anchored block attack again. But this time Achiu was on to the trick. He charged in heavy with the block, breaking the hold and shouldering the Argentine all over the ring. Then came a smashing flying tackle and the climax.

They went to the floor in a terrific slam, Achiu on top. Quickly, he fixed a top body hold, and the Argentine was out. It happened so suddenly after the outburst of charging that half the fans didn't know when it was over. They hung around the ringside, as Poli lay on the floor squirming and groaning.

He appeared hurt, but left the ring under his own power. Sneeze appeared unhurt. That last flying tackle and body slam was evidence of great power saved until the right moment.

Matadors Leave For Wildcat Go

TWENTY-SEVEN TAKEN TO TUCSON FOR ONLY CONFERENCE BATTLE

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith and 27 selected Matadors are en route this afternoon to Tucson, where on Saturday they meet the University of Arizona Wildcats in a Border Athletic conference football game.

The Matadors gathered at Tech field yesterday afternoon for the final workout in preparation for the game. A 45-minute scrimmage against Dell Morgan's freshmen gridders climaxed the workout, the first part of which had been given over to a detailed study of the plays which Arizona is expected to use against them. The varsity gridders were placed on defense against the Picador attack, the latter using Wildcat offensive plays.

With Student Manager Cyrus LaMaster rounding out the 30th man, the Tech crew boarded a northbound Santa Fe this afternoon for the 26-hour ride to Tucson. They are scheduled to arrive there about 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The return trip will start Sunday morning, and the team will get home about noon Monday.

Handicapped in scrimmage this week because of a limited knowledge of plays used by the Wildcats, the Matadors and coaches have made the most of meager information that has trickled in from helpful scouts. The Tech coaches have been unable to scout the Wildcats this season, whereas the Arizona coaches have twice seen the Matadors in action. Scouts were here for the S. M. U. and Dixie games.

Nearly all the injured parties on the Tech team appear to have recovered, and Cawthon will have his strongest set up Saturday against the Wildcats.

Anticipating an unusually hard game, because Arizona is reputed to have the strongest team in the history of the school and because it is "homecoming day" at the university Tech coaches bore down heavily this week in attempting to whip their charges into shape.

The men who boarded the train this afternoon are: Marion Harris, halfback; Bert Williams, tackle; Brigham Young, tackle; G. B. Morris, tackle; Captain Elva Baker, tackle; Gaines Davis, guard; Toby Greer, guard; Larry Sollis, halfback; Aubrey Butts, halfback; Lacy Turner, guard, Ealy Harris, guard; D. M. McElroy, halfback; Malcolm Martin, end; Sam Jones, end; Braxton Gilmore, end; Matt Hitchcock, end; Yancy Price, fullback; Bennie McWilliams, tackle; Bob Crawford, center; J. V. Beauchamp, quarterback; Ed McKeever, quarterback; Gwynn Dowell, fullback; Leonard Curfman, fullback; Larry Priddy, center; Whacker Barton, center; Adrian Clark, quarterback, and Lee Gaylor, halfback.

Pilots Of Indoor Teams Are To Meet

J. A. "Judge" Raley, president of the Lubbock Indoor baseball association, has called a meeting of all managers of teams in the indoor league for this evening at 6 o'clock at the J. & J. Sporting Goods company store.

The managers will discuss the advisability of adopting additional special rules calculated to provide more and greater thrills for fans and call for more activity on the part of players. For one thing, a larger ball may be adopted as official. The ball now in use is a 14-inch pellet, while the regulation indoor ball is 16 inches in circumference. It is thought that by the use of a larger ball, scoring will be decreased.

It is urgent that every manager attend this evening's meeting. No games are scheduled tonight because of the football game at Texas Tech field between the Lubbock High school Cowhands and the Slaton High school Tigers.

SUCCESS SEEN FOR LEAGUE

ASSEMBLY PRESIDENT SAYS WILL TO LIVE ASSERTS ITSELF

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

GENEVA, Oct. 12 b—Charles te Water, president of the League of Nations assembly, told the fourteenth session of the assembly shortly before it was adjourned that the will to live has asserted itself among the nations of the world.

The assembly had been in session since Sept. 25.

"Defeatism Being Defeated"

"Defeatism is being defeated by those powers the innate recovery of which many of us insufficiently discounted in our gloomy prognoses," the president, who is South African high commissioner in London, declared.

"The straitjacket in which the world has been shackled since the great war has been burst," te Water added, "and an era of economic restoration has begun."

Then he praised the efforts of the countries to secure national regeneration and, alluding to disarmament, predicted that peace was assured "if the leaders of the great powers change their policies from fear and resentment to a policy of generosity."

Tone Is Different

The president's closing speech was of a far different tone than that delivered on the opening day by Johan Mowinckel, premier of Norway.

On that day, the Norwegian delegate startled the assembly with a warning that wars impended and urged drastic action toward disarmament.

The outstanding problem of the sessions was Germany's treatment of the Jews. A number of speakers in assembly commissions criticized the German stand and branded as unacceptable the Reich's theory of ethnical unity.

The Germans accepted a proposal that the league council appoint a high commissioner to deal with the Jewish refugees provided the project is not otherwise linked to the league. By voting negatively, however, the German delegates succeeded in securing the rejection of a section of a minority resolution calculated to pledge them to give the same treatment as other nations accord the minority peoples.

Progress Achieved

The assembly adopted many reports showing progress has been achieved in social domains, like the abolition of slavery and the fight against narcotics, and went on record with the view that the world economic conference has not yet completed its work.

The league acquired strength and greater universality by the return of Argentina, which was elected to the council. Australia, Denmark and Portugal also were elected to that group.

GROCER RETURNS HIS BLUE EAGLE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 12. (AP)—Charles G. Mynatt, Knoxville grocer, yesterday announced he had withdrawn from the NRA and sent back his blue eagle.

Blaming what he termed "chiselers" and an "ineffective" local NRA compliance board, Mynatt said the code was a failure so far as his business was concerned.

Meanwhile, C. F. Holland, chairman of the local compliance group, announced receipt of a letter from Hugh S. Johnson, the National Recovery administrator, saying the NRA could not accept such withdrawals. The statement said "some cases have arisen in various parts of the country where employers have voluntarily proposed to surrender or take down their blue eagle."

Mynatt insisted the government could not compel him to follow the code. He said NRA compliance cost him $200 extra each week.

He said he still believed in the NRA principle and would return to the code "just as soon as I can."

AID PROMISED FOR NEEDY

JOBLESS TO BE TAKEN CARE OF IN WINTER, HOPKINS SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Assurance was given by Harry L. Hopkins, emergency relief administrator, that the "needy unemployed are going to be taken care of this winter."

"The federal government," he said in an address, "is not going to countenance relief on a standard so low that the needy unemployed are only a calory or two ahead of the grim reaper.

"We are going to see that relief is given quickly and on a basis of reasonable adequacy."

"Work And Not Relief"

Saying that 15,100,000 are now being cared for on unemployment relief rolls in this country, Hopkins added that "the vast majority want work and not relief."

"We are feling the effects of the National Recovery program on the relief situation," he continued. "The program is working men and women are going back to self-supporting jobs. Employment conditions are improving.

"But let no one think that we are not going to have a great many people depending on unemployment relief for their existence this winter . . . and there are a great many things that we can't do with relief funds that must be done. These things must be taken care of by the communities, themselves, and much of the money will have to come through private contributions.

"There are the aged, the tubercular and the blind and the orphaned to be cared for. They are not the result of unemployment but they are nevertheless the problems of the community and they must be taken care of. Then there are community needs in the way of agencies for health, character-building, recreation and child care."

SURGEONS REPORT CANCER CURABLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 12. (AP)—Surgeons from the United States and abroad today reported 12,746 cases of cancer have been cured in the last three years.

Thirty one specialists reported this progress against the country's No. 2 killer in a symposium entitled "Cancer Is Curable," sponsored by the American College of Surgeons. Their figures show, said Dr. Franklin K. Martin of Chicago, that the American death rate from cancer can be cut one third—from 150,000 to 100,000 a year—by periodic examinations and early treatment.

"The statement that cancer is curable," said Dr. Beckwith Whitehouse of the British radium commission, "is the greatest contribution the profession can make to the public." The symposium was particularly timely, said Dr. Charles A. Dukes of Oakland, Cal., because cancer's mortality rate has risen steadily until it is now second cause of death in the United States. Heart ailments rank first.

Student Officers Will Be Selected

Texas Technological college students will convene at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the college gymnasium to elect 35 student officers, said today's edition of The Toreador, campus newspaper.

Two major officers will be named to replace students elected last year. The vacancies occurred when Marvin Collins, elected student representative to the athletic council, and Miss Audrey Farris, elected council secretary, did not return to school this year.

Among other positions to be filled are representatives from the four classes of each division of the college. The various classes also will elect presidents, vice presidents, secretary-treasurers, and reporters.

MITCHELL TO ASK FOR A REHEARING

J. E. Vickers, an attorney for Paul Mitchell, who faces death in the electric chair as a result of robbery with firearms in which a man died, Wednesday said a motion for a rehearing will be filed. The court of criminal appeals at Austin affirmed the sentence Wednesday.

Mitchell pleaded guilty of robbing a Lubbock grocery store, in which he fatally shot the assistant manager. The sentence was the first death penalty in Lubbock county. The victim, Robert Tharp, 25, a former football star, was shot in the abdomen the night of Oct. 15, 1932, and died the morning of Oct. 17. Before he died, Tharp repeatedly said he had complied with the gunman's instructions.

The motion for a rehearing must be filed within 15 days. If the motion is denied, the court of criminal appeals will send to Lubbock its mandate affirming the sentence. Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court, in which Mitchell was tried, then will pass sentence and fix the date of execution.

A STATEMENT OF FACTS

The American public is always fair in their judgment if they are given the facts. For that reason, the following paragraph, taken from Judkin's and Smith's book on Dairying is respectfully called to the attention of the public who use dairy products. This quotation relates to disease organisms in raw milk, their causes and prevention. Quote:

"While not commonly found in milk, disease organisms may cause very serious results when they are present. Too much care cannot be exercised in preventing milk from becoming contaminated with bacteria that cause disease. Disease that has been spread by milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, sore throat, undulent fever, and intestinal troubles. It will be seen that, of these diseases, the only one that might be traced to the cow is tuberculosis. It is generally agreed, at the present time, that children under five years of age may contract bovine tuberculosis, but that older children and adults are not ordinarily subject to it. However, recent figures show that 26 per cent of the tuberculosis in children between the ages of five and sixteen is of the bovine type. It follows that, if an adult contracts any of the above-mentioned diseases from milk, the organism causing the trouble must have got into the milk from someone who handled it, or from the utensils or other outside sources. Unfortunately, most of the disease organisms are hard to find in milk and no visible or chemical change is produced by their presence in it. An outbreak of any of these diseases in a town is usually sudden, and if it is found that most of the sick are taking milk from the same milk-man, there is a strong supposition that this milk is the cause of the trouble. The dealer whose milk is suspected is then usually forbidden to sell any more milk until an investigation has taken place. If the organism of the prevalent disease is found in his milk, this is sure proof that the outbreak is due to his milk. The disease will usually cease to spread when the infected milk supply is shut off."

You can easily understand from the foregoing paragraph, quoted from an accepted authority that the public can use raw milk in their homes with absolute safety, provided, of course your dairyman complies with the sanitary laws governing their industry.

Working with the dairymen who supply Lubbock with milk is the Health Department of the city, composed of a staff of able men who constantly test all dairy cows and dairy milk that is offered to the consuming public of this city. This is your guarantee of safety and it is absolute.

The dairymen who serve Lubbock with their products gladly cooperate with the city Health Department in protecting your health and there is no friction or misunderstanding between the two forces. Both organizations have their work to do and both understand and respect the rights of each and the importance of the work of each. It is mutual.

The housewives of Lubbock may purchase dairy products with confidence and full assurance that there is none better offered on any market in America. The milk comes from healthy cows and is handled by healthy operators under sanitary conditions required by your health department for the protection of your health.

No milk is more wholesome than pure raw milk. It is rich, full flavored and the perfect food of mankind from the cradle to the end of the trail.

In fairness to yourselves and your dairyman, always—

MONTANA THINKS IT HAS THE ANSWER TO QUESTION—"AFTER REPEAL—WHAT?"

BY T. M. METZGER

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 12 (AP)—Montana believes it has the answer to—"after repeal—what?"

Through the action of the 1933 legislature, Montana will answer the question with it's own system of liquor supply stores which Governor Frank H. Cooney says he believes will end organized bootlegging and preclude the return of the saloon.

Local Option Allowed

The act contains protective features for those communities desiring to bar the sale of liquor through a local option provision whereby one-third of the qualified voters may petition their county commissioners to call a special election to settle the issue.

Salient features of the Montana liquor control act are:

A liquor store in every county seat and elsewhere as seems expedient.

The state shall have a complete monopoly in the sale of liquor. Beer is not classed as an intoxicating liquor.

All profits shall go into the state treasury.

All activities of the state liquor business will be in the hands of the state board of liquor control consisting of the governor, the secretary of state and the attorney general. They will receive no extra compensation for their work as board members.

The liquor stores will be in charge of a supervisor who will be paid a fixed salary.

The stores will be open for business from noon until 8 p. m. every day except Sundays, legal holidays and election days.

To Require Permits

No liquor shall be sold to anyone unless a permit is presented. The permits shall cost $2 annually and will expire Dec. 31 of each year. For 50 cents, persons visiting in the state will be allowed to obtain permits good for 1 month.

Liquor may be consumed only in the residence of a purchaser and it will be unlawful either to drink or be drunk in any public place or for anyone to sell liquor to an intoxicated person.

Liquor will be sold only in the original bottled containers and not in barrels or in bulk.

The state board of liquor control has the right to fix the maximum amount of liquor that may be purchased by an individual customer.

Prepare for winter driving. Protect your car against freezing and rust with the proper anti-freeze.

Boil-away anti-freezes evaporate. They require refills, they leave your car at the mercy of winter. Rigid tests prove many "permanent" anti-freezes break down and cause rust and clogging.

This autumn, you can get genuine Eveready Prestone at the new low price of $2.95 a gallon. One filling stays on the job all winter—25,000 miles or more of safe, rust-free running. Easily your most economical buy.

One and a half gallons of Eveready Prestone, costing $4.45, protects a Nash 1070, 1130 or 1170 to zero temperature all winter long. For other models and makes, see your dealer's chart. Approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.
