Honors Well Divided Among West Texas Towns

Winners Are Named In Regional Literary Events Held In City

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LIST of winners in the Interscholastic League Region 1 contests at Texas Technological college read like a map of West Texas late Saturday as events ended and an estimated 2,000 to 2,500 persons left the campus after taking part in or witnessing contests.

Dr. Ernest Wallace, assistant dean of arts and sciences and director-general of Region 1, estimated approximately 1,100 students competed in athletic and literary events, about 400 teachers, coaches and parents attended literary events and the remainder witnessed athletic events.

Certification of results to state Interscholastic League officials was begun even before contests had been completed, as the first official certified list of winners was mailed.

Winners Enter State Meet

Most of the winners in Saturday's meet are eligible to compete in state contests in Austin May 7-8.

No one school took a majority of honors.

Indicating the wide distribution of awards, students from 34 towns won the 71 first and second place honors in results announced for all except one of the literary events.

Twenty-two first and second places in literary events, Conference B, were won by 15 schools: Cotton Center, Panhandle, Darrouzett, Estelline, Anton, Smyer, Booker, McAdoo, Lakeview, Dickens, Silverton, Hale Center, Nazareth, Plains and Claude.

Champion Not Named

Twenty-three placings in Conference A were won by 14 schools: Floydada, Perryton, Levelland, White Deer, Phillips, Shamrock, Littlefield, Ralls, Tahoka, Canadian, Tulia, Monahans, Paducah and Andrews.

The honors were confined to five schools in Conference AA, with Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lamesa and Pampa taking the 26 first and second places.

A grand champion is not named in the regional contests.

Dr. Wallace said no official complaint of any result had been received by him up to Saturday night. Contests were operated smoothly, results were certified to the director-general by directors of the different contests as soon as determined, ribbons were issued in Dr. Wallace's office by Mrs. Carl Bailey and results were posted by members of the journalism department.

The only literary results not announced Saturday were in slide rule, in which officials were unable to announce winners because

Many States To Go On Daylight Time

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—Daylight saving comes to some 60,000,000 persons in the nation tomorrow.

Until September 26, these millions, mostly in the cities and in the heavily populated northeast, will have an extra hour of daylight.

Californians and Nevadans will have "fast time" until next January, however, as a power conservation measure.

Daylight saving time is to be observed in all or most communities in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Illinois, California and Nevada.

Networks Have Double Schedule

Partial observance is planned in Tennessee, West Virginia, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Virginia and possibly Florida. Residents of Miami, Fla., are scheduled to vote next month on whether they will switch.

The advent of daylight saving time—it becomes official at 2 a. m. tomorrow—forces the four major radio networks to adopt a double transmission schedule so that all sections will be able to hear their regular programs at the usual hours.

Most railroads and airlines will continue to operate on Standard time.

SOLON SPLITS WITH TAFT

Bitter GOP Feud Looms Over Reappointment Of Lilienthal

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24—Senate Majority Leader White (R) Me., split today with Senate policy chieftain Taft (R) Ohio, over the reappointment of David E. Lilienthal as head of the Atomic Energy commission.

White touched off the makings of a bitter feud within GOP ranks by refusing to go along with Taft, Republican presidential aspirant, who has announced he will oppose reappointment of Lilienthal and the four other atomic commissioners.

President Truman has renominated all five men for new, and longer terms than the one-year appointments made when the commission was established. At that time a bitter Senate fight over confirmation of Lilienthal took place.

Harold Stassen, opposing Taft for the GOP presidential nomination, announced that he favored the reconfirmation of Lilienthal. Stassen said:

"I consider it the wrong brand of politics to hold up an appointment or confirmation merely on political considerations."

Taft asserted in a radio address Friday night that "I opposed him (Lilienthal) a year ago, and I am of the same opinion today."

White also opposed Lilienthal's nomination a year ago, but declared today:

"I'm not sold on the idea that because he is not a Republican he ought to be barred.

"My vote a year ago is not necessarily an appraisal of his work at this time."

Senate Republican members of the joint Congressional Atomic committee headed by Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, have been consulting informally on how to resolve what all recognize may become a bitter internecine fight.

Hickenlooper also indicated that party policy would not be the deciding factor in the confirmation of the commission membership as far as he was concerned. He said:

"As far as I am concerned,

U. S. To Use Air Lane To Berlin

BERLIN, April 24 (INS)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay informed Russia tonight the United States intends to use the aerial corridor to Berlin despite any Soviet attempt to impose new curbs.

A Russian spokesman yesterday told Berlin newsmen that Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, the Soviet military commander, "will take measures to regulate air traffic and safeguard the lives of Soviet fliers."

Clay Speaks Out

This additional Soviet attempt to force the Western Allies out of Berlin would be based on the declaration that British violation of traffic rules caused the April 5 air crash of a British transport and a Soviet military aircraft.

Gen. Clay, the U. S. commander, told a news conference today:

"We will abide by quadripartite regulations and continue to use the air corridor."

JEWS INTERCEPTED

JERUSALEM, April 24. (AP) — The British army said tonight that a shipload of 700 visa-less Jews had been intercepted off the Palestine coast. The ship was being escorted to Haifa. It was expected that the ship's passengers would be deported to Cyprus, where 30,000 similar refugees are being detained.

ITALIAN VICTORY TEMPERED

Icy Dread Of U.S.-Soviet War Is Dominating Western Europe

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, April 24—Happiness at the anti-Communist victory in Italy has swept like a spring breeze over western Europe this week but the icy dread of a Russo-American war would not melt.

Democratic diplomats from London to the Dardanelles took new courage. So did the anti-Communist parties in France, the country which felt it was next on the list if Communists won in Italy.

But the first jubilant comments were tempered when two unescapable facts kept demanding attention.

Red Attacks Softened

1. In Italy 30 per cent of the population had voted for Russia against the West, and France also had a 30 per cent block of Communist followers that would not dissolve.

2. Two great powers, America and Russia, continued to shoulder each other around in a world that seemed lately too small for both of them.

The first quick result of the

Dixie Revolt Flares Anew

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24 — The southern revolt against President Truman is boiling anew and political observers predict the chief executive, if nominated, may lose at least four traditionally Democratic Dixie states next November.

Mr. Truman and Democratic National Chairman McGrath are reported hopeful that the rebellion, touched off by the President's anti-Jim Crow program, will sputter out by the July 12 nominating convention.

Leaders Serve Notice

Two important southern Democratic leaders, Sens. Hill and Sparkman, of Alabama, served fresh notice today, however, that the "stop Truman" campaign will be carried to the electoral college if it fails on the convention floor.

Alabama, with 11 electors, is expected to take the lead in voting for a southern candidate or "even a Republican" if Mr. Truman becomes the nominee, which now seems probable.

Observers said that Mississippi, with nine electoral votes; South Carolina, with eight and Georgia, with 12, are almost certain to follow suit.

Compromise Unlikely

They saw a likelihood that Texas, with 23 votes, might go against the President, along with Virginia, holding 11 votes.

Loss of even four southern states for the Democrats would split the party wide open with as disastrous effect as that of 1928, when Virginia, North Carolina, Texas and Florida went for Herbert Hoover.

Hill and Sparkman said jointly that Alabama "is opposed to President Truman and will remain opposed to him both for nomination and election." Hill added:

"From where we sit there is no possibility of any compromise at this time."

Sparkman was one of the staunchest administration Democrats to join the southern anti-Truman movement. Hill, former Democratic Senate whip, first called upon the South to support Mr.

Plainview Tops Judging Contests

By BILL SAYERS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

The Plainview High school chapter of the Future Farmers of America captured the sweepstakes award for the best all-around judging team at the twenty-fourth annual Vocational Agriculture judging contests held at Texas Technological college all day Saturday.

Eighty-two schools from the entire West Texas area and part of New Mexico entered 240 judging teams in six divisions for a total of 720 boys competing. The six divisions in which the students judged were livestock judging, dairy cattle judging, crops, poultry, dairy products and cotton judging.

Plainview won the sweepstakes banner and a gold medal for its coach by placing first in the judging of dairy cattle, second in cotton and seventh in poultry. The team is coached by Gene Barnett.

Other Winners Named

Other schools placing in the first five and other coaches are Cooper High school, coached by Harvey Owen, second; Hedley, coached by Eiton Groves, third; Tahoka, coached by Virgil Carter, fourth; and Dimmitt, coached by J. O. Seal, fifth.

Awards were given to the first five boys in each contest in each division, to the top five boys in each division, and to the three

Many Soviet Soldiers Reported To Have Deserted In Germany

BERLIN, April 24. (INS)—More than 10,000 Russian soldiers were reported today to have deserted in Germany.

Die Neue Zietung, the U. S. military government newspaper in Berlin, said that many Soviet troops and officers had deserted in the Schwerin area of the Russian occupation zone.

It said some went underground with stolen civilian clothing and identification papers, while others fled into the Anglo-American zone.

Wives of a large number of Soviet soldiers and officers ordered back to Russia also were reported living illegally in Germany after refusing to return to their homeland.

College Directors Schedule May 8 Meeting Here

Tech Board Studies 15 Names Offered For President's Post

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, April 24—Texas Tech's board of directors, meeting here today on other college business, discussed a possible successor to Dr. W. H. Whyburn, president, who has resigned, but took no action other than read letters concerning approximately 15 candidates for the post.

Discussion on Dr. Whyburn's successor came in an "executive session" this afternoon after administrative matters had been acted on in the morning meeting at the fashionable Fort Worth club.

Chairman Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City said the discussion was "preliminary."

"We're going to try to get the best available man to succeed Dr. Whyburn," Thompson said, "and we're going to take our time. We hope to have our selection, however, by the time Dr. Whyburn is ready to leave." Dr. Whyburn's resignation is effective Aug. 31. The salary is $12,500 annually.

Meeting Set May 8

Thompson then revealed he had called another meeting of the board for May 8 in Lubbock and had requested members of the finance and budget committees to meet there a day early, May 7. Robt. B. Price, El Paso; Chas. Wooldridge, Dallas; and Leon Ince, Houston, are members of the finance committee; and Ince, Wooldridge, Thompson himself and Chanslor E. Weymouth, Amarillo, are members of the budget committee. Consideration of the budget was delayed until May 8.

Chairman Thompson would not reveal the names of any of the 15 possible applicants for the presidency, but unofficial sources said the group included: Dr. James Boren, 42-year-old president of Hardin college, Wichita Falls; Dr. R. M. Hawkins, president of Sul Ross State Teachers college, Alpine; Dr. Stuart MacCorkle, University of Texas geology professor; Registrar Alex Dickey of North Texas State Teachers college, Denton; Dr. Law Sone, president of Texas Wesleyan college, Fort Worth; and Dean Howard Barlow of the engineering school at Texas A. & M. college.

Dr. Boren, who was an applicant for the post in 1944 when Dr. Whyburn was selected, received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Texas in 1946.

Thompson Also Suggested

One group of West Texas business men has even suggested the name of Chairman Thompson for the presidency, one board member said.

During the morning session, the board acted on a number of routine matters, highlighted by authorizing the West Texas Museum association to employ an architect to draw up plans and specifications for a museum building so that bids may be advertised for the work.

The board, in its last meeting, pledged $50,000 toward the pro-

EARLY EUROPEAN TALKS HINTED

Marshall Returns To Direct U. S. Strategy In 'Cold War'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24—Secretary of State Marshall returned today from the Inter-American conference and the brief outbreak of "hot war" at Bogota to resume direction of American strategy in the global "cold war" with Russia.

BREWSTER DILLARD

His arrival stirred speculation of the probability of an early meeting between American officials and leaders of the western European nations to plan new joint efforts to hold Russian-backed Communism in check in Europe.

European Meeting Seen

American officials were uncertain for the moment whether such a meeting would bring Marshall together with top western European leaders, such as Britain's Foreign Minister Bevin and France's Bidault, or whether the sessions would be at the diplomatic level. Marshall himself is expected to review the situation and lay down a course for action next week.

The secretary arrived at Washington national airport after an over-night flight from the riot-wrecked Colombian capital. He had told other delegates there yesterday afternoon that the pressure of important events required his return to Washington.

Confers With Lovett

Within 25 minutes after his arrival, Marshall was closeted at the State department with his diplomatic chief of staff, Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett, who has been running things in his absence.

Presumably one of the subjects covered in Lovett's reportedly sweeping review of world affairs was the Palestine crisis. Lovett is known to be deeply concerned over the failure of Jews and Arabs to responded to American-supported United Nations efforts to end the fighting in the Holy Land.

Truman Talk Set

Marshall himself, stepping down from the four-engine transport plane that brought him home, confined his public comments to the Inter-American conference. He told newsmen that he expects the conference to complete its work next week.

Marshall brought along on the plane with him William McChesney Martin, president of the Export-Import bank, and Brig. Gen. Marshall Carter, Marshall's secretary.

Marshall is expected to confer

Hung Jury Ends Dillard Trial

A 99th district petit jury of which M. L. Morris of 2307 Seventh was foreman was discharged by Judge G. V. Pardue at noon Saturday after it reported it was hopelessly deadlocked and would not be able to arrive at a verdict in the Brewster E. Dillard murder case.

The jury balloted three times—twice Friday night and once at 8:47 a. m. Saturday—on guilt or innocence of the defendant, it was learned.

Newsmen were informed unofficially that the first ballot was 10 to 2 for conviction, and that the next two ballots were 9 to 3 for conviction.

No Hope of Verdict

The jury received the case at 5 p. m. Friday. At 9 p. m., it asked that the official shorthand reporter of the district read the direct testimony of Miss Jane Larson, night supervisor of Lubbock Memorial hospital, and the redirect

UN 'Dictator' Urged In Area

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, April 24—Jewish militia fought today to take possession of a buffer area to seal off their greatest prize, the port city of Haifa.

While thousands of weary Arabs streamed from the city which was captured by Jews in a spectacular battle Thursday, Haganah guns blazed out at Balad Esh Sheikh and nearby Tirah, two villages about five miles east of the big port. The Arab villages are on the road to Nazareth and Tiberias, a city on the Sea of Galilee from which the Arabs also have been driven by the Jews.

Fighting Renewed

The British said the Arabs asked for a truce at dawn after an all-night fight and agreed to surrender their arms. When only 22 rifles were turned in, however, the Jews delivered a new ultimatum for the delivery of all guns and the fighting was renewed. The latest reports said the British had arranged a temporary truce for the evacuation of women and children from the villages.

Dispaches from Haifa said the Jews were trying to prevent the evacuation of the 37,000 Arabs remaining in the city. The Jews considered the evacuation a political rehuff, and wanted them to remain to demonstrate that Arabs and Jews can live side by side. They offered the Arabs cooperation in solving food and supply problems.

Refinery Work Hit

Arab leaders replied to Jewish persuasions, however, that they could not "subject ourselves to conquerors."

Indications were that most of the Arabs would leave the city as a silent protest against the Jewish blitz of the parts of the town not controlled by the British.

The Arabs believed their withdrawal would prevent the British-owned oil refinery in the port area from operating. The refinery has been closed for two weeks and the gasoline shortage is acute. The refinery management said it would not reopen unless both Arab and Jewish laborers returned to work.

Arabs in the city were under a

Lubbock and the South Plains was swept by a duster for the second straight day Saturday following two consecutive days of light showers, and the weather man forecast possibility of continued strong, dust-laden winds today.

Strong westerly winds hit a steady velocity of 37 miles per hour with gusts up to 45 miles per hour, according to officials at the Weather bureau station north of the city. Visibility was cut to an average of two miles and was reduced to less than that periodically, as the silty dust drew a curtain over the clouds and the sun. A few light sprinkles early in the night only served to emphasize the dust to residents.

Cooler Weather Hits

The winds had subsided to 12 miles per hour at midnight. But they were expected to be on a rampage again by this afternoon, the weather station said. The maximum velocity, however, would be somewhat less than yesterday at between 25 and 30 miles per hour.

Partly cloudy and cooler today and Monday was the midnight forecast for Lubbock and vicinity. The maximum temperature was predicted at 70 degrees compared to yesterday's high reading of 75 degrees. A weak cold front which moved across the area Saturday caused the temperature to drop from the eighties.

Reds Are Probably Right When They Say Spies Are Now Active

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

So let's talk about spies.

Red Star, the Soviet Army newspaper published in Moscow, says imperialist powers (unnamed but obviously the major western democracies headed by the United States) are sending two to three times as many spies into Russia as into any "bourgeois" state. The paper demands alertness throughout the Soviet armed forces to defeat imperialist espionage.

Well, I don't know the ratio of spies assigned to Russia as compared with "bourgeois" states, but it wouldn't be surprising if Red Star were right. Personally I should be greatly disturbed and shocked to learn that the democracies didn't have an army of spies in Russia and Bolshevist satellite countries—just as the Soviet Union has in every other country on the face of the globe.

Swarm Everywhere

As a matter of fact in these dangerous days spies are swarming everywhere, like flies on the ceiling of a farm-house kitchen on a frosty morning. Naturally governments don't advertise their secret agents, but every major nation has them.

There doesn't have to be an "R" in the month to make spies in season, for they are with us always. Of course, when the dogs of war begin to bay at the moon, the spies start to scurry about. Consequently there is much more activity now in all countries because of the dangerous clash between the Communist bloc and the Democracies.

The employment of spies perhaps strikes the average person as unethical, but the custom is general. Most nations employ agents to try to ferret out the secrets of other countries, especially in times of stress. It's an unpleasant thing to contemplate—this spying of nations on one another. Still, when sabres are rattling like castanets it's a matter of national security for countries to know the strength and plans of their enemies.

Pays With Life

The real sin is on the agent's own head—when he gets caught. He is the one who has to pay—frequently with his life. When an agent is caught he generally has to face the music alone, for his government obviously is almost never in position to acknowledge him and back him up. It's the code of the secret agent to take his punishment with sealed lips.

Hunting lions in the jungle is no more hazardous to life than the profession of secret agent. In time of war the firing squad and the executioner take their toll. In peace times the prisons get a lot. I encountered some ex-spies eating their hearts out on notorious Devil's island off the coast of French Guiana when I visited there a few years ago, and theirs was a terrible punishment.

Has Been Many

I've encountered many other secret agents in one country or another. I knew one American agent abroad — a brilliant and charming woman. She got spotted while operating in a European country and all but lost her life. She escaped, but her usefulness was ended because her identity had been disclosed. She was a reserved, mild-mannered little lady, as lovely and fragile as a primrose—a very decepting appearance, for she coupled cleverness with the fighting heart of a tigress.

Sure, there are secret agents busy the world over these days.

Employment Service Is Active In Finding Jobs For Veterans

A total of 153,680 veterans have been placed on jobs in this state by the Texas Employment commission during the last 12 months, according to a report to be made to a Detroit conference next week by Tom L. Ward, veterans employment representative in Texas.

The information, to be given at the 14th annual conference of the veterans Employment service, a division of the U. S. Employment service, was announced yesterday by Tommy Harrell, representative of the agency in the employment commission office here.

Texas has led the nation in placement of physically handicapped workers, most of whom were veterans, for two successive years, Ward's report shows. Employment for veterans graduating from schools this spring will be high on the agenda of the Detroit conference, it was said.

Convict On 'Rock' Wins New Trial In Fight For Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24. (INS) — Cecil "Tuck" Wright, known as "The Brain" in convict circles on Alcatraz island, is going back to Illinois for re-trial for a 1930 robbery which netted exactly $2.43.

Wright, now 40 years old, has been in and out of some of the best prisons in the land and Friday he won a habeas corpus writ in San Francisco federal district court which means he goes back to Danbury, Ill., for the robbery trial.

Given Legal Education

During a stay in the Illinois state penitentiary, Wright acquired a legal education which has kept him busy ever since drawing up writs and giving legal advice to his colleagues.

Wright himself has wrested a total of thirteen habeas corpus writs from the courts in a constant battle for freedom.

Because of the 1930 robbery of a combination grocery store and branch postoffice in Strasburg, Ill., Wright has been forced to serve terms in both federal and state prisons. He got fifteen years on the federal charge of robbing the post office and an indeterminate sentence from the state Illinois for the grocery robbery.

He was paroled by the state in 1939 but merely transferred his residence to a federal penitentiary. He reached the noted "Rock" in San Francisco bay in 1941.

In 1943 he had a temporary breath of fresh "outside" air when Federal Judge William Denman ordered him released on the familiar habeas corpus writ. From October, 1943, to January, 1944, Wright was free but was picked up again by the federal government to serve out his sentence.

He now has a "credit" of five years in federal prison which will be taken into account when his new trial is completed.

It was Judge Denman again today who upheld "The Brain" in his request for a habeas corpus writ on the ground that he did not have proper counsel in his previous trial.

New Drugs That Prevent Blood Clot May Aid Heart Sufferers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24. (INS)—Evidence demonstrating the remarkable life saving power of two drugs that prevent blood from clotting was presented today at the final San Francisco session of the American College of Physicians.

A semi-final report on an extensive medical investigation disclosed that the drugs, called heparin and dicumarol, may save upwards of 100,000 lives yearly in this country.

Can Aid Heart Disease

Astounding effectiveness of the anti-coagulants in the treatment of many types of heart sufferers was detailed in a report by Dr. Irving S. Wright of Cornell university medical college.

Doctor Wright's paper declared that deaths from coronary thrombosis, which claims half of the 600,000 who die yearly of heart disease, can be reduced between one-third and one-half by proper use of the anti-coagulants.

"This means in reality," he said, "that by the intelligent use of this new approach one person in three who would be expected to die from a specific attack of coronary occlusion will survive the attack."

Blood Clot Forms

A coronary thrombosis, or occlusion, is the formation of a blood clot in the artery supplying blood to the heart muscle itself. If it does not cause instant death, it forces a long regime of careful living with the constant threat of recurrence.

By coincidence, it was in San Francisco that Dr. Wright made the first guarded announcement two years ago that the drugs held spectacular promise against these diseases.

After that announcement, a co-operate investigation was set up by heart specialists in seventeen hospitals over the nation to gather and study evidence in 1,000 cases.

Patients admitted on even calendar days received the conventional treatment—morphine, oxygen, bed rest and "prayer," as Dr. Wright put it.

Patients admitted on odd days received conventional treatment plus the anticoagulants.

The work was backed by the American Heart association and the United States Public Health Service.

Covers 800 Cases

Dr. Wright's semi-final report today covered 800 cases. But since there has been little percentage change since the 300-mark, he said he does not expect any change when the final data on 1,000 cases is made public at the American Heart association convention in June.

Dr. Wright's report concluded five days of discussion of current medical problems by 3,000 of the nation's leading doctors of internal medicine.

Coke Stevenson Talks Twice Without Mention Of Election

PARIS, April 24 (AP) — Former Governor Coke Stevenson didn't let on he's a candidate for the U. S. Senate when he spoke here yesterday. He left politics out of two speeches.

He told some 1,500 high school seniors, guests at Paris Junior college's senior day exercises, that many famed world leaders have come from rural schools.

Later, Stevenson told the Paris Rotary club "we need to go back and read the rule book of government."

He said the constitution has served well as the rule book for running the government up to now.

FIRST RECRUIT AT BOOTH—On Friday, the first day of operation of a U. S. Army and U. S. Air force booth which has been set up on the courthouse square, the first recruit at the booth signed up for his first military service. He was William Lacy, above right, from Portageville, Mo., who had been in Lubbock about a week as salesman for a Dallas company. M-Sgt. James C. McNeill is the recruiter pictured in the booth. Lacy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lacy of Portageville route 1. He signed up for three years in the air force and left for Lakeland Air force base at San Antonio for basic training. The recruiting booth, which is operated by the Army and Air force recruiting office here, is located on the south side of the courthouse lawn, facing Broadway, and is to be open daily from Mondays through Fridays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, 8 a.m. to 12 noon.—(Staff Photo.)

To Move Quarter-Million Tons Of Earth

Small Army Turns to Task Of Building 160-Acre City Park In 48-Hour Period

PEORIA, Ill., April 24. (U.P.) — Peorians began tossing around a quarter million cubic yards of earth today in a race to carve out a 160-acre park in 48 hours.

A barrage of aerial bombs over the city for a "starting whistle," and the dirt began to fly. It was spring gardening on a colossal scale.

Eleven hundred workmen, 150 digging machines, bulldozers, tractors and scrapers swarmed over an area which, when its face is changed, will be called the Exposition gardens. By noon, it looked like a giant anthill.

Time To Move

"It's time to move this dirt," said Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of the Army Engineer corps and chairman of the project.

"We in central Illinois will show the world we can accomplish any task we try, and that we are not afraid to try any task."

The weatherman smiled on the workers. Directors said they may be able to finish the job Sunday night instead of Monday morning as planned.

For workmen who took time to look up from their steering wheels or shovels, a scoreboard or "earthometer" was erected at the site to record progress in terms of earth moved and fuel used.

Cars Move Slowly

Policemen flagged cars slowly along nearby highways, keeping traffic at a pace which would let the passengers take a good look.

Behind the army of workers, another army of cooks and truck drivers was mobilized to keep men and machines stoked.

For years, the city has been getting around to getting the job done. City fathers and businessmen wanted a place to hold fairs, athletic events and exhibitions.

They decided that if they were going to do the job at all, they might as well get it over in a hurry. So as a "stunt," they planned the marathon dig.

Mayor Election Ends Stalemate

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 24 (AP) — This university city of 11,000 had a mayor today after a wearying marathon of 1321 ballots taken at 35 meetings over a period of 15 weeks.

Tired members of the nine-man city council elected councillor Michael J. Neville, 42-year-old lawyer, last night, but only after Councilman Edward A. Crane had run a good race.

Neville's election came after Crane admitted he had shot his bolt on the 1320th ballot and switched his vote to give the victor a 5-4 margin.

Forfeit Announced

Coming into the 1315th ballot. Crane announced that if he was not elected on the next five votes he intended to forfeit his own chances. He didn't get the majority.

"It's apparent," said Crane, "after the last five laps I've shot my bolt, so I now withdraw from the running."

On the next ballot he voted for Neville.

Gov. Robert F. Bradford's announcement that he would name a man to the post by Monday served as sort of a persuader.

Elected By Council

Under the city manager form of government, the mayor is elected by a simple majority from among council members.

During the long siege the councilmen were split into three factions — two sponsored by the Cambridge Civic association and the third an independent group. The CCA group was so divided it could not muster a majority.

A city manager governs the municipality, but the mayor is ex-officio chairman of the school committee, presides at council meetings and receives $1,000 above his $4,000 council salary.

CHICAGO, April 24 (INS) — Actress Gail Garber, 27, featured player in the "Burlesque" revival appearing in Chicago with Bert Lahr as the star, was found overcome by gas in her near north side apartment today.

A fire department inhalator squad revived her after 15 minutes work.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Earsh, 305 N. 12th St., McAllen, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds as I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite druggist today.

How to Fall in Love in one very easy lesson

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflow* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silkily you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—[illegible] braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

There's only one place. Only Buick has Dynaflow Drive, and no other American car has anything like it. With or without a car to trade, better see your Buick dealer first minute you can.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs fluid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

TEXAS FARMERS NEED MORE RAIN

Crops, Ranges Get New Lease On Life As Drouth Is Broken

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Rains which last week broke the worst drouth some sections of Texas had experienced in years gave a new lease on life to crops and ranges.

The rains aided somewhat in alleviating what the Abilene Reporter News called the most prolonged drouth in 30 years in that area.

But farmers said the rainfall wasn't sufficient.

Some Wheat Plowed Under

Some farmers around Plainview and Lubbock have plowed under their wheat because it was so poor, the Amarillo Globe News said.

Rains were general over West Texas from the top of the Panhandle to the Gulf, although the amount of precipitation varied widely.

Scattered rains also fell in some parts of North and East Texas.

For most West Texas points, the rainfall was the first precipitation since light snows fell in mid-March. Some had received no rain or snow since February.

'Too Little, Too Late'

The Abilene Reporter News said that the Abilene area had been undergoing a rainfall deficiency for four years. Only twice before in the 62-year history of the Abilene weather bureau had drouths been so prolonged. The newspaper said, however, that Abilene was better off than some other southwest sections.

Wichita County Agent R. G. McNiel said that this week's .33-inch rain was "too little and too late" to prevent a critical reduction in grain yields. Earlier, the Wichita Falls area in North Texas had been the most promising crop section in the state and seemed certain to equal last year's bumper crops. However, wheat deteriorated greatly around Wichita Falls in the last two weeks, cutting prospects in half.

Boost Given Prospects

Wheat a little west of Wichita county, in Hardeman and Wilbarger, appeared in better shape, Glenn Shelton of the Wichita Falls Record News and Times reported.

Abilene said that the rains in that section revived the lagging grain crop, stimulated depleted ranges and will start such row crops as have been planted to growing. But much more rain will be needed.

Light rains in Snyder and Scurry county greatly benefited small grains and row crops.

At Lubbock, north and west of Abilene, County Agent Dave Sherrill said that a considerable boost was given crop prospects. However, he reported that more moisture is needed to guarantee crops from the planting just under way.

Fear High Winds

Still farther north, Art Bralley, Potter county agent, said the rain there gave some encouragement to farmers but more precipitation would be needed. He said he feared high winds would nullify effect of the rain.

Childress County Agent V. E. Harper said his county showed effects of the dry weather but still could make a good crop.

The Ochiltree County Herald said that rains there would be of great benefit to the wheat. That county, in the tip of the Panhandle, often has claimed the title of the heaviest wheat producing county in the United States.

Farther south, in the Hill country around Kerrville, heavy rains fell to revive burned up pastures. Sam Braswell, jr., owner of the Kerrville Times, said the rains would partly replenish stock tanks, which were dangerously low.

Bexar County Agent Robert Tate reported the rains came too late to save the $1,00,000 oat crop in that county.

In northeast Texas, the Paris News said that the rain will bring recently planted cotton to a stand. The News also said that it will benefit tomato plants being moved from hotbeds to the fields and was otherwise generally beneficial to crops and pastures.

Corpus Christi Caller-Times said that light showers which fell generally throughout the coastal bend area were of material benefit to crops.

Flax, the newspaper said, would be ready to harvest within a week and was too near maturity to be helped. Cotton and grain sorghums, several weeks late, gained a little benefit. A good rain within the next week will almost assure a grain crop in the area and be of great help to young cotton.

Laredo reported that ranges there were helped. The drouth had allowed farmers to harvest the largest and most profitable onion crop in 50 years.

Harris county, on the eastern Texas gulf coast, still had sufficient moisture, although precipitation for the year was about three inches below normal. County Agent Dan Clinton said that the situation was not serious and crops would not deteriorate for some time. Only light showers fell last week in that area.

Miss Prator's award was one of three cash prizes offered by the local TPEA chapter to emphasize Gov. Jester's announcement of April 18-24 as "Good Government Week."

One Man Killed And Two Hurt In A Sewer Line Explosion

HOUSTON, April 24 (AP) —One man was killed and two others were critically burned in an explosion early today in a giant sewer line 20 feet beneath the surface of the earth.

The dead man was Felix Shepherd, negro. Two other negroes, Osie Elam, 31, and Curtis Watson, 23, were burned.

The three workmen were working in a section 200 feet from the nearest opening. The blast occurred after Shepherd struck a match, Watson told police.

Officials of the R. P. Farnsworth & Co., the firm constructing the line, said the explosion probably was caused when the lighted match touched off an accumulation of sewer gas.

The two injured men managed to stagger out of a manhole and tear off their burning clothes. They told a construction foreman a third man was still in the sewer.

Well Said New Oil Discovery

Despite the fact that the operator yesterday had not released any official information on developments at Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation's No. 1 Sawyer, deep wildcat in the crossroads area of extreme northeast Lea county, New Mexico, all available reports indicated that some sort of a petroleum discovery has been made there.

The well is 660 feet from south, and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 27-9S-36E. At last report it was bottomed at 12,249 feet in an officially unidentified lime, and was due to take electric log surveys. It then was slated to run a string of 5½ inch casing, so production tests could be made.

Figures Given

In a drillstem test at 12,214-249 feet the tool was open for two hours and ten minutes. A 3,000-ft. water blanket was used. Recovery was 110 feet of clean oil, 2,880 feet of water blanket, and 120 feet of oil-cut water blanket.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 3,000 pounds, and shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 4,650 pounds. No water was developed in the formation.

Most observers are inclined to the belief that the section between 12,099 feet and the current total depth, and from which considerable oil has been recovered, is the Devonian. Some interested parties lean to the belief that the formation might be Ellenburger. Operator has not released any official statement on age of the horizon, or on any other details of the three drillstem tests which have been taken.

Drillstem tests at 12,099-181 feet, and at 12,181-214 feet, both showed considerable oil and some water blanket and drilling water.

The venture has already shown enough oil to cause many observers to class it as a major and significant development. It is expected that its full and actual oil yielding ability will be determined soon, and if it is an oil well, probably will be completed in the near future.

Four Army Airmen Killed As B-25 Plane Crashes, Explodes

CANFIELD, Ark., April 23 (INS) —An Army B-25 plane from Barsdale Field, La., crashed and exploded today in a wooded area four miles northeast of Canfield, killing four men.

Layfayette County Sheriff W. H. Baker said the victims had been mangled almost beyond recognition.

W. E. Copeland, a witness to the crash, said the left engine of the twin-motored plane burst into flames and the left wing fell away shortly before the plane plummeted earthward.

Large Screw Hook Is Removed From Throat Of Little Girl

A large screw hook of the type used in kitchen cabinets, was removed at Lubbock Memorial hospital Saturday morning from the throat of Janice Kay Holland, 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Holland of Amherst, the hospital announced.

The hook was in the cervical ecophagus. The baby was brought to the hospital about mid-morning after apparently picking up the hook and swallowing it while playing on the floor at the family home earlier in the morning.

The child was reported making satisfactory recovery.

TEST CASES IN COURTS

Supreme Court To Make Final Decisions On Labor Disputes

By LILLIAN GREENWALD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24 — The Supreme Court, in the next six months, will have the last word on the validity of vital sections of the controversial Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Three crucial provisions of the law are now in varying stages along the path to a test of constitutionality before the hightest court in the land.

They are: The procedure for handling strikes creating a national emergency, involved in the John L. Lewis contempt case; the ban on union political activity; and the requirement of anti-Communist affidavits from union leaders.

Appeal Is Planned

Observers are doubtful that the Lewis contempt conviction will reach the high tribunal before the current term ends in mid-June.

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison said the government would place no obstacles in the way of appeals directly to the high court of Lewis' $20,000 fine and the UMW's fine of $1,400,000.

He added, however, that he saw no reason for haste and believed the case should go through the regular procedure of appeal first to the United States Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia.

Union attorneys, who served notice that they would appeal, commented that "there is plenty of time" ahead of them.

Under normal procedure they have thirty days in which to file their appeal. Even if they were to take it directly to the Supreme court, the high tribunal would not get it until the end of May if they take their full thirty days.

Test Case Set

It seemed unlikely that the Supreme Court would consider the appeal of sufficient gravity to keep them in session beyond their regular June closing date in order to issue a decision this term.

Closest to a final decision is the question of the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley ban on union political activity.

A test case of this section is scheduled for oral argument before the high court this week.

The case involves federal prosecution of the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, for using union funds to promote the candidacy of a Democratic candidate for Congress at a Baltimore special election.

Federal District Judge Ben Moore has sustained the union's contention the political activity ban violates constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, press and assembly.

A third test case now en route to the high court hearing raises the question of the validity of the Taft-Hartley requirement of anti-Communist affidavits from union leaders.

This provision was challenged by maritime union leader Joseph M. Curran. The affidavits were upheld by a 2 to 1 vote of a three-judge federal court. The union, a CIO affiliate, has announced its intentions of appealing the decision directly to the Supreme Court.

Case Of Pilfered Panties Is Solved

BISMARCK, N. D., April 24. (AP) —The case of the pilfered panties has been solved.

The culprit is in jail. Bismarck clothelines again are safe for milady's dainty underthings. And a sleuthing newspaper photographer is receiving congratulations on a public service.

For months, laundered panties have been disappearing from drying lines behind the nurses home at a Bismarck hospital. Irate student nurses demanded police action. The upholders of the law decided the way to stop the depredations was to catch the thief in the act. They asked the help of John Quanrud, Bismarck Tribune photographer.

The clothesline behind the nurses' dormitory was baited with lingerie. Quanrud lay in wait for five hours Wednesday night. He had no luck. He tried again Thursday night. A prowler climbed the fence and slipped up to the line. He reached for a pair of panties. A flash bulb flared. A camera shutter clicked. Quanrud had the quarry dead to rights.

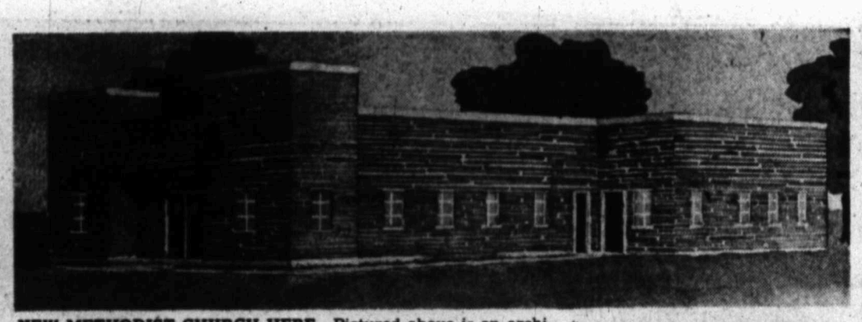

Harold Schreiber, 28, surrendered at police headquarters a few minutes later. He said he had been raiding the clothesline for more than a year. He pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and yesterday was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

New Withholding Tax Schedules To Be Mailed To Employers

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP) — New withholding tax tables are scheduled to go in the mails April 27 to all employers in the southern half of Texas.

The bureau of internal revenue district headquarters here announced that it would mail with the tables the bureau's interpretation of the new schedule.

Lower taxes which Congress recently enacted over Pres. Truman's veto will go into effect on all wages paid on and after May 1.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new church will be conducted Monday at 6:30 p.m.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Set Monday For Pioneer Memorial Methodist Church

Ground breaking ceremonies, marking beginning of construction of a $25,000 first unit of the new Pioneer Memorial Methodist church at North Fourth street and North Adams avenue, will be held at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, with Dr. C. A. Bickley as master of ceremonies.

The new church, Lubbock's fifth Methodist church, is expected to cost about $60,000 when completed. The first unit, on which construction will be started soon, will be the first floor of the educational building, including a fellowship hall which will be used temporarily as a sanctuary, a kitchen, a pastor's study, and several class rooms

Services Are Planned

The second unit of the plant will be a second floor for the educational building, completing that building. A separate building, to be the third unit constructed, will serve as a sanctuary. All the building is planned for construction with white brick veneer.

Although the new congregation was actually started during the latter half of last year, official organization was not accomplished until January 1 when D. Orval Strong of Abilene, senior ministerial student at Texas Technological college, was appointed pastor of the church by Dr. J. O. Haymes, Lubbock district superintendent.

The congregation of the church is holding morning and evening services Sunday and Wednesday evening prayer meeting in the educational building of the Arnett-Benson Baptist church until the new building is ready for use.

The council explained that by use of the "meter" a speck of automobile paint left at the accident scene can be compared with paints used in various years.

NEW LAW TO GO INTO EFFECT

Married Couples Will Receive Most Benefits On Tax Refunds

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24—Most of the extra $600,000,000 in tax refunds the government expects to pay next March will go to married couples.

Tax experts studying the recent income tax cut predicted today that single persons will get far fewer refunds for overpayment of 1948 income taxes than married ones will, and that the refunds they do get will be smaller.

Both groups, of course, will feel benefits from the tax cut long before the refund season comes next March when final tax returns are due on income received this year.

Couples Get Break

Amounts withheld for taxes will be smaller on wage and salary payments made on and after next Saturday, the effective date for the new withholding rates.

Married persons will get a better break on refunds next March, however, because:

1. They're getting a bigger tax cut due to the new law extending throughout the nation the husband-and-wife split income privileges of the 12 community property states.

2. The new law also changes the withholding set-up so that withheld amounts will more adequately cover the total annual tax due from married men than it will from single men.

Full Benefit Later

Effects of the changed withholding system won't be so noticeable on final 1948 tax returns next March as they will each year thereafter, when—skipping over the technical terms of the new law—it will work like this:

Single persons earning over $2,860 will find the withholding fails to cover their total tax bill, and they'll have to ante up the difference when they make final returns.

Under the old law, withholding covered their taxes fully on incomes up to $4,900, and they didn't have to put up more because they were paid up through withholding.

Rates Retroactive

Married persons, under the new law, will find their taxes fully covered on incomes up to $5,720. Under the old law, withholding covered them fully only on incomes up to $5,500. (These are cases of childless couples. Those with children are covered on higher incomes.)

The reason the withholding effects won't be so noticeable on final 1948 income tax returns as they will be in later years is this:

All withholding has been under the old law's rates for the first four months of this year, and has been "too much" because when the new lower rates law was passed recently the low rates were made retroactive to the start of this year.

For that reason, all persons who had taxes withheld in January, February, March and April were overpaying their taxes for that period and were building up a claim on a refund.

COMMUNISTS ARRESTED

LISBON, Portugal, April 24. (AP)—The ministry of the interior announced today the arrest of 50 alleged Communist leaders in Portugal and said one confessed to organizing Communism in the ranks of the Army and Navy.

Pampa Man To Head State Wildlife Group

MINERAL WELLS, April 24 (AP)—Dr. R. A. Webb of Pampa was elected president of the Texas Wildlife federation today at the close of the group's annual conference here. He succeeds Grady Hill of San Angelo.

The executive committee will select next year's meeting place later. Amarillo, Fredericksburg and Mineral Wells extended invitations.

The conference went on record for:

Universal fishing and hunting licenses;

Regulatory powers for the state game, fish and oyster commission to open and close seasons and set rules and regulations instead of the present powers vested in the legislature;

Re-organization of the state game commission, increasing its membership to nine;

Establishment of hunting and fishing preserves in the state by the legislature;

A law giving game wardens authority to arrest persons found shooting from a public road or trespassing.

The conference passed resolutions favoring these pending federal measures:

The Taft-Hartley bill against stream pollution;

The Roberson bill to increase the price of federal duck stamps from $1 to $2; the extra dollar to go to states for conservation and propagation work;

The Dingell bill to apply the federal fishing tackle tax to states for use in fisheries and propagation.

The national assembly has given Li the most votes on two ballots taken so far but he has fallen short of getting the required minimum of 1,523 votes.

Texas School Teacher's Dream To Come True Today As Orange Dedicates Girls' Haven

By J. CULLEN BROWNING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ORANGE, April 24.—The City of Orange will observe the beginning of National Boys' and Girls' week Sunday by formally opening its Girls' Haven, first publicly-supported institution of its kind in the nation.

Girls' Haven is a refuge for socially displaced girls of school age. Its occupants are not juvenile delinquents. They are simply girls who need a home but whose cases do not fall within the requirements of established institutions.

They may be referred to the haven by parents, friends, relatives or the courts. And, while girls in this area are given preference, there are not restrictions as to place of residence.

Owned By Community

The home is owned by the community. It grew out of the dream of an Orange school teacher, Miss Tillie Smith. The movement to establish the haven started a year ago when Miss Smith began selling civic leaders on the idea.

Eventually enough people became interested to set up a Girls' Haven foundation with a board of directors headed by Fred Hanscom, Orange newspaperman. The organization was approved by local juvenile authorities and the State Department of Chlid Welfare and chartered by the state government.

Raising funds with which to open the home proved a difficult task. There was no precedent for the undertaking. Many persons were afraid it would be unworkable, Hanscom said. But the haven board kept plugging away and finally the community was sold. After that things moved swiftly.

Couple Offers Big House

Most of the town's organizations either contributed money from their own treasuries or put on fund-raising projects. Individuals sent in donations, none big, but in the aggregate, substantial.

Then came the biggest break of all. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. H. Stark of Orange offered for use of Girls' Haven a big apartment house in one of the city's better residential areas, for an initial installment of $10, and monthly payments of $125. The payments are to continue only as long as either of the couple is living. Upon the death of the survivor title to the property will pass automatically to the haven.

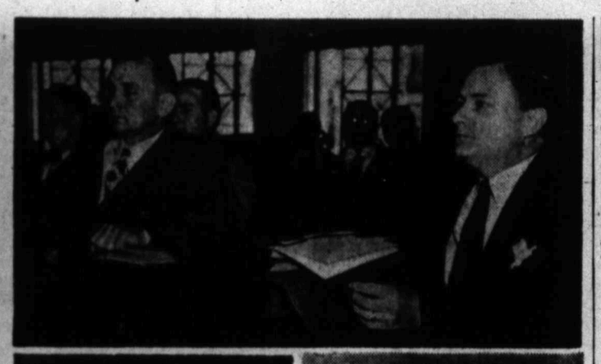

A second big break came when members of several Orange labor unions agreed to contribute the work necessary to remodeling the apartment house. Sometimes dozens of workmen were busy on the place at once on their off hours.

'Mother And Father' Hired

The haven board searched for a suitable "mother and father" for the home and found them right here in Orange. They are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Shipman who, besides rearing several children of their own, have helped rear a number of others. They were hired to run the home under supervision of the Girls' Haven board of directors.

When time came to furnish the home an appeal for assistance went out through the newspapers and over the radio. Contributions ranged from small single pieces to complete furnishings for a room. Women of Orange arranged the furniture and decorated the place.

In the meantime applications for admission began to come in. Six have been accepted and these girls, together with Mr. and Mrs. Shipman have just occupied Girls' Haven.

Negro School Principal Named Head Of Austin Demo Group

AUSTIN, April 24 (AP)—C. R. Steward, negro school principal today was elected chairman of an Austin precinct by the Travis county Democratic executive committee.

The vote was 21 for, 13 against his election. This apparently represented development of organized opposition to election of a negro chairman during the past two weeks, a committee member said later.

A negro chairman for the precinct was elected two weeks ago with only one dissenting vote, but was disqualified because he did not live within the precinct.

J. M. Patterson, Sr., 81-year-old chairman of the county committee, nominated Steward. He held five proxy votes, but did not cast them. The precinct involved has 675 negro and 45 white voters.

Concrete Ship Reported In Difficulty Off Oregon Coast

NEWPORT, Ore., April 24. (INS)—The concrete ship Paisley, war-time hulk being moved to Newport for breakwater purposes, was in difficulty today off the entrance to Yaquina bay.

Coast guardsmen reported a stiff southwest wind had prevented the tug Klyhiam of Astoria from crossing the bar with its ponderous 354-foot tow. The tug was running short of fuel.

Weather bureau forecasts gave no hope for relief from the storm until Sunday morning.

A sister ship, the Joseph Aspdin, broke up several days ago after grounding on a reef while being towed south from Astoria to be used as a part of the breakwater barrier at Newport.

Coach guard vessels were standing by to assist the Klyhiam.

Missouri Sailors Killed In Mishap

ROLLA, Mo., April 24. (U.P.)—Troop G of the state highway patrol reported today that three Missouri sailors were killed near here last night when their automobile struck a bridge and overturned.

The demolished car containing the dead trio was not found until early today.

The victims, all stationed at the Vichy air base near Rolla, were identified as:

Chester M. James, 27, of St. Charles.

Leonard A. Eckelkamp, 20, Catawissa, Mo.

Kenneth A. Fechteman, 22, St. Louis.

Patrolmen said James apparently was driving but that they were making a full investigation into the accident.

Free Soap Box Derby Show Is Attended By Large Crowd Of Boys Saturday; Entry List Now At 128

Interest in Lubbock's Soap Box Derby, to be staged July 5, was given a "shot in the arm" Saturday when more than 300 boys from this and other South Plains towns attended a free show at the Palace theater.

Two color films describing the derby were shown and an explanation of rules for the event was given. Warlick Carr, president of the Lubbock Exchange club, announced that each entrant will be guaranteed a sponsor and will receive wheel and axle sets and a steering gear free.

Attending the performance as guests of the Lindsey theaters and the Avalanche-Journal, the boys took time out to unanimously tab Derby Director Roy Finley as "Soapy", and then became serious as Finley ran through an explanation of rules and regulations for the big event which will be sponsored locally by Kuykendall Chevrolet and the Avalanche-Journal.

Entry List Now 128

Derby entrants had catapulted well over the century mark at the close of the first week's registration Saturday noon at Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Finley announced. Forty-one new entries Friday and Saturday morning bring the total of candidates to 128.

Finley also announced that because of the popularity of the contest, more entry blanks and official rule books are being flown to Lubbock over the weekend from derby headquarters at Akron, O., so that registration may be continued Monday morning.

The youngsters received free ice cream from Borden company and apples from Furr Food stores, witnessed Warner Brothers' "Soap Box Derby" and "The Magic of Youth," official 1947 Derby film, and heard Finley emphasize the following points concerning the races and the contest:

Rules Are Announced

1. Weight of racer must not exceed 150 pounds, and weight of driver and racer combined must not exceed 250 pounds.

2. All cars must be boy-built. Parents and friends may give advice and materials, but each boy must construct and drive his own car.

3. Total expense to each boy on his racer must not exceed $6, and each entrant will be required to keep an itemized list of his expenses to present to Derby officials before the race.

Limitation On Brake

4. The only type of brake allowed in this year's contest will be a single center brake operated by a brake pedal. This is a limitation on last year's regulation, which allowed side brakes on the racers. It has been written into the rule books to assure safety to the boy driving the racer, and to spectators.

5. Derby candidates will be able to obtain next week from Kuykendall Chevrolet a free booklet explaining and illustrating the step-by-step process in the construction of the soap box racer.

6. Entrants in this year's Derby contest will not be allowed to use graphite or grease to cut down wind resistance either on themselves on their racers, nor will they be allowed to use glass, plastic materials or any sort of transparent construction on their cars.

Sponsors Are Promised

Carr was applauded when he announced that he and other members of the Lubbock Exchange club would guarantee to find a businessman or organization to sponsor each boy's racer, no matter what figure entry totals may reach.

"We feel certain that our citizens, always interested in the ideas and ideals of our youngsters, will want to make it possible for many boys, who would not otherwise be able to do so, to enter this race and have the opportunity to go to the grand finals at Akron, O., on Aug. 15."

Sponsors will "foot the bill" for wheel and axle sets and for the steering gear, Carr explained. He added, "I hope all sponsors volunteering to back one of the entrants will take an active interest in the affair, meet the parents as well as the boy, and help the youngster in any problems that he may encounter in building his racer."

Additional sponsors announced Saturday were Perry L. Adams of Perry's Flowers; Olen Stewart Grocery company; Ben E. Keith company; Brock-Hess company; Cecil Elrod's Tailorfine clothes; Furr's Super markets; Architectural Tile and Terrazzo company; Forrest Lumber company; Atkins Lumber company; Piggly-Wiggly stores; Morrison Supply company; Hamilton-Eger company.

Prizes offered at the conclusion of the big event at Akron's Derby Downs include a four-year scholarship to the winner at any college or university of his choice and a Chevrolet automobile to the runner-up.

While only 30 wheel and axle sets are currently available here and will go to the first 30 youngsters who signed up, Finley explained that 125 sets will be available during the latter part of this week, and that he will contact each entrant in plenty of time to pick up his set and begin construction of his car.

Entries were received Friday and Saturday from:

Richard Hadley Bell, 12, son of Mrs. L. W. Bell, 1601 Nineteenth; Charles S. Lingle, 14, son of Mrs. Percy Spencer, 1643 Thirteenth; Lewis F. Sitterly, 13, son of Mrs. F. E. Cost Of Wild Animals For U. S. Zoos Also Hit By Inflation; Many Are Now Scarce

By DOROTHY DOAN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 24—Monkey business is big business today. The furry little pet with the ugly mug sits atop the inflationary spiral—a good 400 per cent higher than he was before the war.

Zoo keepers, jumpy as housewives over the high cost of living, say they're paying 50 to 75 per cent more for wild animals—and in the case of the Rhesus monkey, most common of zoo exhibits—they're paying five times the old price.

The wizen-faced little fellows, pre-war, sold for $5 to $6 apiece. Today, they bring between $25 and $35 each. And they're not a whit better looking.

Feeding Costs Boosted

In addition to paying 50 to 75 per cent more for other animals, buyers have seen the feeding costs jump a conservative 11 per cent. This is the estimate of Lee Crandall, general curator of the Bronx zoo, one of the largest in the world.

Two companies, Louis Ruhe, Inc., ("world's leading animal and bird importers") and Elias S. Ward ("world's biggest animal trader") are the country's leading importers of wild life.

Both say the 50 to 75 per cent increase is general.

A mere four-foot elephant, still in its infancy, brings $4,000, and rhinos, "difficult to locate and harder to catch," have a $6,000 price tag on their heads. You can buy a pair of Indian rhinos (almost extinct) for $20,000.

But you can't buy a platypus for love or money. The premium on platypusses—or platypi — is not for their beauty. They're ugly little web-footed, poison-spurred animals with bills like bull-dozers.

The Bronx zoo has the only platypusses in this country—Penelope, Betty Hutton and Cecil—by special permission of the Australian government who won't sell them.

As for the wooly little panda with the white button face—a real charmer, it sells now for $8,000—when importers can get them from the highlands of Tibet. Before the war pandas dropped from $10,000 to half the price. Now they're back to $8,000.

Adolf Krone of Ruhe, Inc., is reluctant to estimate but thinks his company may bring in between three to four million dollars worth of wild animals this spring for zoos, circuses and private collectors.

"Private collectors," incidentally, covers everything from ladies with a penchant for live snake bracelets to pet lovers who like cuddly lion cubs.

South America One Source

During the war, importers had to rely on South America where they bought principally reptiles and birds. But there also are some first class llamas, armadillos, monkeys and deer below the border.

Years ago, importers used to do business in Ethiopia with Hailie Selassie, who sold them giraffes, antelope, zebras, monkeys and assorted birds. He went out of business when he became emperor.

Today, safaris go out during the winter months, and spring shipments arrive in the United States from India, Siam, Africa and the Far East. Some bird shipments are brought by air, but animals are cheaper to ship by boat.

Importers have run into some political snags. They can't even get equus caballus przewalskii out of Russia. (Russian for wild horses).

The Soviet used to do a good business with this country in bears, Siberian tigers, camels and birds. Since the war they've clamped down.

In fact there's a shortage of polar bears. Importers say their only other source was Norway and they haven't been able to line up any bears there either since the war.

Land Board Sets Up New Bidding System On School Lands

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 24—A broader bidding procedure will be used at the state school land board's next mineral lease sale, Chairman Bascom Giles reported today. The new bidding system was set up at the insistence of Attorney General Price Daniel.

Different types of bidding will be held on specified tracts of land, depending on whether they are wildcat oil prospects near producing tracts, or in what is considered proven producing areas.

Minimum Rental Set

Minimum rental of $1 per acre will also be imposed.

The three types of bidding and $1 minimum rental were demanded by the attorney general at the last meeting of the board, comprised of Giles, who is commissioner of the general land office, Gov. Beauford H. Jester, and Daniel.

Questioned today on his reason for wanting more than one method of bidding, as has been customary the past few years, Daniel said his plan should produce more money for the permanent school fund than could be expected from the usual bonus bid with a fixed rental and one-eighth royalty to the state.

That type bid will apply only to tracts which "are strictly wildcat stuff" Daniel said.

Most of the tracts offered in recent years have required wildcat operations to locate oil, he indicated.

"But this time, they wanted to offer some tracts to prevent drainage of oil by nearby producing fields, and I thought we ought to get a better price," Daniel said.

Some Near Proven Areas

Therefore, a second group of tracts, which are within one to two miles of producing fields, will require a fixed royalty of one-sixth to the state instead of one-eighth, with fixed rental and the usual high cash bonus bid.

A third group of designated tracts, which are "very close" to production and considered in proven production territory will require a fixed bonus rental, with bidding on the state's royalty to start at a minimum of one-eighth.

"The fixed bonus on this third group will be the same as the highest cash price previously paid on a tract in that area," Daniel explained.

Plans To Drill Oil Well In Gulf Of Mexico Are Revealed

HOUSTON, April 24 (U.P.)—The Humble Oil & Refining Co. announced today that a wildcat oil test would be made off Freeport in the Gulf of Mexico.

The drilling spot in water ranging from 39 to 60 feet deep is about seven miles east of the harbor jetties at Freeport.

An earlier test several years ago off McFadden beach, Jefferson county, proved unsuccessful. The Freeport Gulf test will be Humble's second off-shore attempt along the Texas coast.

Meanwhile, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. announced plans to drill four tests in the Galveston area of the Gulf. The first test is scheduled for 12 miles southeast of Port Bolivar where a drilling platform is now being constructed.

SIX ARE KILLED

METZ, France, April 24 — Six persons were killed today when two five story houses collapsed, the French news agency said.

There was no immediate explanation.

Morton Murder Trial Set Monday

MORTON, April 24 (Special)—The murder with malice trial of I. G. Golden, 62-year-old Morton negro groceryman, will be called by 72nd District Judge Dan Blair Monday morning.

The negro is accused of having shot Pete Russell, a negro of about the same age, April 4 in the Morton negro quarter. He was indicted by a grand jury of which Hume Russell was foreman. He waived a special venire.

The principals had been acquainted approximately 40 years ago, and both had moved to Cochran county from Smith county.

Officers were informed at the time of arrest that the shooting followed an accusation of Golden that Russell was "too old" to be associated with a woman and after, it was related, the accused struck the victim.

In addition, the docket has three theft indictments, one bill charging removal of mortgaged property from the county. Frank Griggs of Lubbock is defendant in the last case. He will be defended by the Lubbock law firm of Burks and McNeil. Those charged with theft will be defended by the Lubbock law firm of Denton and Salyars. Fred Chandler of Levelland will defend Golden.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and his assistant, E. G. Pharr, will represent the state.

Subject to the criminal docket, there are several civil actions that Judge Blair may call, court officials said.

Costa Rica Rebels Take Over Capital

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 24 (AP)—The victorious forces of rebel leader Jose Figueres entered San Jose today and took over all military barracks and installations in the capital.

He issued a statement saying his forces were not planning a military junta or dictatorship, but would control the government for as little time as possible pending return of peace and security and the holding of elections.

Figueres, who is slated to be named public safety minister, asked all citizens to cooperate with the new government.

Figueres indicated last night he also may serve as chairman of an interim cabinet, to be chosen from leaders of his armies. A constituent assembly is scheduled to meet May 8 and an election is to be held later.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

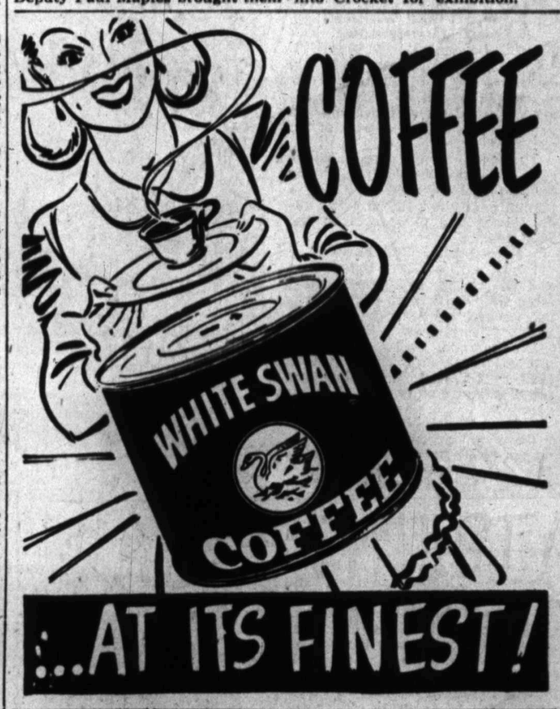

AUSTIN, April 24. (U.P.) — Approval of a $250,000 Reagan county school bond issue for construction and equipment of an elementary school building, cafeteria and band hall was announced today by the attorney general's office.

Two Stills Are Displayed On Courthouse Lawn At Crockett

CROCKETT, April 24. (AP)—Two whiskey stills were on the courthouse lawn here today—very still.

Sheriff Wayne McConnell and Deputy Paul Maples brought them in last night from the southwestern part of the county. The sheriff said he located them several months ago and had kept a constant watch, hoping the operators would fire them up again.

The officers got tired of waiting last night and brought the stills into Crocket for exhibition.

Gail, Capital Of Borden County, Is Still Undisturbed By The March Of Progress

By W. W. (Bill) WARREN
Special Correspondent

GAIL, Borden County, April 24. This quiet but rugged little cowtown, aware of but undisturbed by the march of progress, remains just about as it was 60-odd years ago, an unruffled page of the old West.

The county seat of Borden county, which was created from Bexar county in 1876, Gail now has a population of about 1200, two hundred less than it boasted in the 1940 census.

Named After Gail Borden

Organized in 1891, the county and the county seat were named after Gail Borden, an early Texas patriot and publisher and the inventor of condensed milk.

D. Dorward, Gail's only druggist and a resident of the area since 1892, says that Borden never saw the city and county that bore his name.

Once Chuck Wagon Cook

Once an accomplished chuckwagon cook, Dorward has gone up the trail to Kansas City and other northern markets many times on cattle drives.

He once was nursemaid for sixty days to a cowpuncher who had been badly wounded. "This fellow and another puncher got into an argument, Dorward nursed, and then the shooting started."

Town Without Many Things

Gail goes along its nuhurried way without a doctor, lawyer or preacher. The town has no bank, hotel, picture show nor railroad. There is only a handful of buildings, most of them as old as the city itself, a courthouse and a jail.

Strangely enough, the county's history is virtually unmarked by crime or violence although it was locked in a struggle between "nesters" and cowmen when it was organized.

Recall "Land-Pulling" Era

Dorward and other old settlers remember when men struggled with each other on the courthouse lawn in the "land-pulling" era. One man would yank another away from the county clerk's window as he attempted to file on a block of land. There were plenty of fights but no killings, Dorward recalls.

The ranchers won the battle and Borden county remains one of the best breeding grounds for cattle in the country. About ten per cent of the county's area is in cultivation and the rest of it is ranchland. The biggest spread covers about 200 sections or one-fourth of the county.

Two Criminal Cases

There have been only two major criminal cases in the county's history, according to county judge C. S. Harris, a former school teacher and a Borden resident since 1925.

One case involved a "rustler" whom Harris rather shamefacedly admits actually stole a milkcow, and the other major crime was a murder in 1935, long after the turmoil of the county's pioneer days.

Officials Have Double Jobs

Gail has no city government and few county officials, some of them handling double jobs. Judge Harris is also county superintendent, and J. B. Patterson is both county and district clerk. Sheriff Sid Reeder serves also as tax assessor-collector, and the county treasurer is Mrs. G. A. Cathey.

Three churches, the Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ, hold services each Sunday despite the lack of resident pastors. School children in the lower grades go to school in Gail, but high school students must go elsewhere. The county sent 153 men into the service in World War II.

Progress has made its mark on the ranchers' activities, the pickup replaces the saddle horse to a great extent and big cattle trucks doing away with the long trail drives to market.

Nestled just below the Caprock, Gail becomes increasingly well-known despite its smallness. Tourist trade has increased steadily for several years on highway 180 which is also Gail's main street.

Courthouse Built In 1939

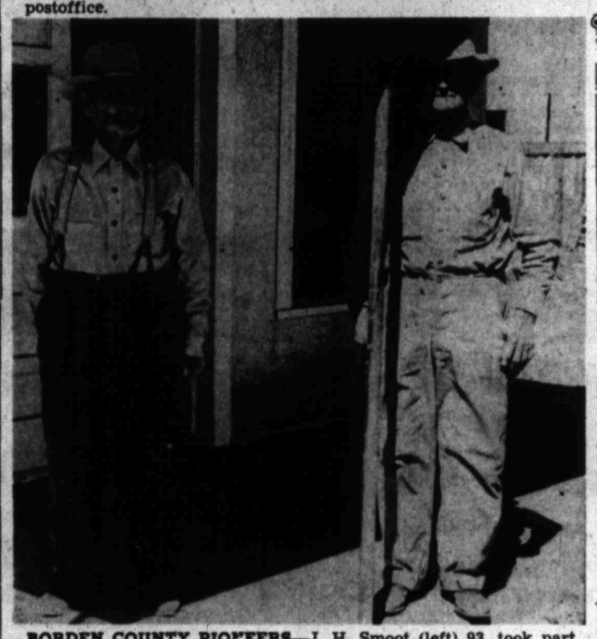

Gail's only modern structure is the courthouse, built in 1939, and seldom is there unusual activity there. A grand jury hasn't met in several years.

Old landmarks of the town, a West Texas landmark itself, include a sturdy rock jail near the courthouse which was built in 1891 and provides adequate housing for an occasional drunk; and the old two-story wooden schoolhouse, built about 1896 and long since left alone with its memories.

Physicists have acknowledged that light's velocity is one of the most fundamental constants of nature.

BORDEN COUNTY PIONEERS—J. H. Smoot (left) 93, took part in the "Land-pulling" struggle when Borden county was organized. R. J. Moore (right), 78, says when he came to Borden county "the sun was just a little thing and there wasn't any moon at all."

BORDEN COUNTY LANDMARK—Seven miles east of Gail on Bull Creek and a few yards north of the highway stands this huge pecan tree, said to be more than 200 years old. Its branches are tangled and twisted as if in its growth it has aped the mesquites which surround it. Believed planted by a wandering tribe of Indians, it takes three men to reach around it, and it is said to be one of the largest pecan trees in Texas.

Baylor Medical Unit Dedicated

HOUSTON April 24. (U.P.)—The health of the nation is a prime factor in the event of another total war, Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall said today during dedication ceremonies at the new $2,500,000 Baylor university college of medicine building.

Secretary Royall declared that institutions like the $100,000,000 Texas medical center, of which the Baylor college is a part, "can maintain and improve the American standard of life."

"We Americans must reluctantly face the fact that we are not a physically fit people," he said. "Even in Texas with its famed outdoor life, 32 per cent of your young men at the peak of their youth were found unfit for military service."

Atomic Medicine Studied

He added that one-[illegible] of the nation's draftable men had to be rejected by the armed forces.

Royall reviewed the medical progress made during World War II, and he pointed out that out of every 1,000 wounded men requiring hospitalization, 955 survived. He said this was 27 per cent better than the American record in any previous war.

"Among the new subjects which we are now studying is atomic medicine," Royall said. "This involves the prevention and restriction of deleterious effects of atomic rays and also the study of the use of atomic energy for medical treatment."

He said this work was going forward under the armed force special weapons project in cooperation with the Atomic Energy commission.

The army secretary lauded Baylor as one of the first civilian educational institutions to establish a medical reserve officers training corps after the first world war.

"The 56th evacuation hospital, the Baylor unit of World War II, demonstrated its worth time and again in the north African and the Italian campaigns," he said. "The army today gladly and proudly welcomes the recent reactivation of this distinguished unit."

Looking toward a possible grim future, Royall said "in the military we recognize that the demands of any future total war would include total medicine."

He told of the constant training of army doctors and he added that five army hospitals in the United States and the Gorgas hospital in the canal zone have been designated as teaching hospitals.

"Closely allied to the matter of training is medical research," he said. "In army and navy hospitals new techniques and new methods of treatment were developed, as were new and better drugs."

Royall spoke of the responsibility shared by Baylor and Rice institute in carrying on research in atomic energy upon assignment by the Atomic Energy commission.

State Health Department Urges Texans Not To Become Panicky Over Threat Of Polio

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP) — The State Health department today urged Texans not to become panicky in the face of an increase in the number of cases of polio.

One death was recently reported from Austin.

"The danger of crippling and death from polio is very real and should not be minimized," Dr. Cox says. "But a knewledge of the facts about this disease will help fight the fear of it, and aid in preventing the panic that is usually associated with the appearance of polio.'

Six new cases were reported to the health department for the week ended April 17. This is two above the median for the week.

These are the known facts of polio, Dr. Cox said:

It attacks so few people that 20 cases per 100,000 population is considered an epidemic. Half of those who get the disease recover without crippling; another fourth, with good care, recover with only slight crippling. Deformities can be prevented and crippling lessened in many cases, by prompt, complete and sometimes prolonged medical care.

Prevention Urged

Even though these encouraging facts have been established, still with polio as with any other disease prevention's better than cure, summer is the chief danger period, and to avoid the risk of contracting this disease, it is well to observe the following suggestions, especially with regard to children: practice absolute cleanliness to personal, home and community life; try not to mingle with crowds; don't get over-tired since extreme fatigue lowers resistance; avoid chilling by swimming overlong in cold water; consult your doctor at once if a member of your family has fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness.

"Following these suggestions will help to prevent the spread of polio but if you do have a case in your family, remember that the majority of patients with good care recover without crippling. Your fear or panic will only make it harder for you and your child," Dr. Cox said.

Teen-Age Boys Execute Rival

NEW YORK, April 24. (U.P.) — Three Teen-age boys were arrested on murder charges today for the "execution" on a Brooklyn street corner last night of a boy they mistakenly thought belonged to a rival neighborhood gang.

William Gottlieb, 18, was shot to death after a brief scuffle despite his denial that he belonged to a rival gang, his 15-year-old companion, John Murphy, told police.

Were In For Trouble

Murphy said he and Gottlieb were talking on the street corner when three youths came out of a nearby bar and walked toward them.

"I knew we were in for trouble," Murphy said. "Because they are three tough guys."

Murphy said the three youths accused Gottlieb of being one of the South Brooklyn Tiger gang who had invaded their Red Hook territory last Thursday night. That invasion had resulted in a fist fight between gang landers.

Murphy said Gottlieb told them he was not a member of the gang and had not been in Red Hook Thursday night. Then, he told police, he was struck on the head with a gun butt.

He Heard A Shot

"The next thing I remember was hearing a shot, and then Gottlieb was lying by me " he was quoted as saying.

The older boy, shot through the chest, was killed instantly.

Murphy was held by police as a material witness and was not identified until after the arrest of the other boy, this morning.

Members of the President gang booked on homicide charges were: George (Red) Boundy, 16; Anthony (Blackie) Lucira, 17, and Thomas (Frenchy) Scardaci, 17.

Two other members were held for violation of the Sullivan law. One of them, Vincent Desieno, 18, had in his home the .32-caliber pistol with which Gottlieb was shot, police said. The other, who also had a gun in his possession, was Vincent Des Calo, 18.

U. S. Court Reveals How Rich Widow Fell For 'Gold' Swindle

NEW ORLEANS, April 24 (AP) —The story of how a Texas widow, "the possessor of many acres, much money, great age and limitless credulity," was swindled of $272,200 in search for buried treasure was told by the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals here Friday.

The story was related by the court in its decision upholding judgment of federal court for the western district of Texas. It held that James A. Akers and Lela Akers of Bexar county Texas, are not entitled to recover income taxes they paid on the funds swindled.

"Gold" Hidden In Closet

In its decision the court recited that Akers between 1932 and 1936 obtained from Mrs Dora Roberts, 84-year-old widow, $272,200 as "expenses" in obtaining maps in Mexico showing places on her huge ranch where "gold" was buried.

From time to time the "gold" was dug up until, in all, 5,833 pounds had been found. It was hidden in Mrs. Roberts' closet because federal laws do not allow the possession of gold by individuals, the court said.

Finally the day came when Akers said the "gold" could be sold, the court said, and he started to Galveston with it. But, he reported to the elderly widow, near Richmond, Texas, he was "hi-jacked" and the "gold" bars taken from him, the decision recited.

"Gold" Was Brass

Later, the record shows, Mrs. Roberts discovered the "gold" was really brass, cast into bars, for which Akers had paid 18 cents per pound.

Ashamed of having been taken in, Mrs. Roberts did not report the swindle, the court said.

However, the collector of internal revenue learned of Akers' receiving the money and brought criminal action against him. Akers was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary and fined $15,000 for failing to report the income. In addition, he was required to pay income tax on the money he received from Mrs. Roberts.

Subsequently Akers and his wife sued the collector of internal revenue to recover the income taxes paid, claiming the income was "not a gain derived from capital nor from labor" nor received "through a sale or conversion of capital assets."

The court held that whereas an embezzler does not have to pay income tax on funds embezzled because title to the money does not pass, a swindler must pay tax on his receipts because in a swindle title to the money does pass to the swindler.

The court remarked in its decision that Akers is immune from criminal prosecution in the swindle because of a Texas statute of limitation.

Polish Youth Will Learn To Kill And Build Under New Program

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WARSAW, Poland, April 24—Two million Polish youths are going to learn how to shoot and kill by the end of this year.

They're going to work hard, too, in the rebuilding of their wartorn country in a tough compulsory labor program designed to teach them mechanical skills and trades.

Nationwide mobilization of youths between 16 and 21 years of age to speed reconstruction and "strengthen national military preparedness" has been ordered by the government under a new law called "sluzba polsce" meaning "in the service of Poland."

Officer Fought With Reds

The job of getting youth to work and teaching them "to be ready to defend the country" was given to Colonel Edward Braniewski who learned about war in Soviet Russia and fighting to drive the Nazis out of Poland. Before the war, he was prominently identified with Polish youth organizations.

Colonel Michal Gorski, one of Braniewski's aides, told a news conference that work brigades are being formed throughout the nation. High on the "must" list is the building of new railways and chemical plants in former German lower Silesia, the reconstruction of blasted Warsaw and the Oder river port of Szczecin.

Many Youths Volunteering

Girls, as well as boys, are subject to the law, but Gorski said it wouldn't be necessary to enlist girls this year. A total mobilization of 4,500,000 youths is expected in the next five years.

Although work and military training is compulsory, Gorski said it would not be necessary to use force to round up the nation's youth. He said tens of thousands of young men already were volunteering. The law provides a 20,000 zlotys ($200) fine and imprisonment for those who try to evade service.

Gorski said the youths are being organized into brigades of 1,150 each. They face a tough schedule of service from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily for a maximum of six months.

War Tactics Stressed

First on the daily routine is five hours of work on reconstruction projects. Then comes physical education, training in trades, such as motor car tractor and airplane industries. Military training will be under the direction of reserve Polish army officers.

Present plans call for 16 hours of army instruction monthly in infantry warfare tactics. The time thus served will be deducted from the compulsory two years army service for Poles 18 years of age upward.

The worker-trainees will have movies, clubs, traveling libraries and other entertainment facilities. Gorski said they would get no pay because "it is the common duty of every citizen to help rebuild the country."

Cigarettes are out too. Gorski said none would be issued, but there would be a pin money allowance of 200 zlotys ($2) monthly for each trainee—"just enough to buy candies."

He added they will get free food and lodging with a minimum of 4,300 calories daily. Uniforms, shoes and other equipment will be distributed which trainees may retain after their service period. A system of military rank is being worked out.

Recreation Department Taking Applications For Summer Jobs

Applications for summer positions are being taken by the recreation department at its office in the city hall, A. C. Hamilton, superintendent, announced.

Positions available require an ability to meet the public and to organize activities, and acquaintance with the sports and activities supervised by the department, said Hamilton. Special training and experience in recreation are desirable.

Types of positions open include swimming instructors, lifeguards and cashiers for the swimming pool, all of which are full-time; softball and baseball umpires and coaches, which are part-time; playground directors for full-time work and assistant directors for part-time.

Those applying for positions as playground directors should be women at least 20 years old, should have had at least two years of college work, preferably in recreation, physical education, or applied arts, he said. Applicants should be thoroughly familiar with as many crafts, games, and outdoor activities as possible.

Men applying for the position of assistant directors on the playgrounds should be 20 or older and should be familiar with games and crafts which appeal to boys.

Over Half Of U. S. Air Force Families In Germany To Leave

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 24 (AP) — More than half the families of U. S. airmen in Europe will be flown home as soon as planes are available, Stars and Stripes said today.

The Army newspaper said between 1,500 and 1,600 of the Air Force's 2,800 family units said they want to leave. The Air Force had asked them if they want to go home at government expense.

City Residents Okay Daylight Saving—Farmers Oppose It

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—April 24.—The annual confusion over daylight saving and standard time starts again as some sections of the country turn all blocks ahead one hour this Sunday and other areas follow suit a week or so later.

In Washington last week the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee held hearings on two bills concerned with time. One would adopt summer daylight savings time throughout the country. The other would return the nation to an unchangeable standard for each of the four time zones in the country.

Majority Favor Plan

How do the nation's voters line up on these proposals? The American Institute of Public Opinion has just completed a new survey on this "Spring perennial issue."

The results show:

1. If the question were put to the nation a majority of voters today would favor daylight saving time in the summer, about one in six voters would vote for year-round daylight saving time.

2. As in past years, it is the nation's farmers who overwhelmingly support the proposal to do away with daylight saving which still remains the delight of most city folks.

3. Most voters in areas which had daylight saving time last year want to keep it, while people in sections which had standard time through 1947 are just as strongly in favor of that way of running their clocks.

Reactions throughout the country were tested by this question:

"Which of the following would you prefer: (a) have standard time the whole year, including summer: (b) have daylight saving time in summer and standard time the rest of the year, or (c) have daylight saving time the year round?"

Here is how the nation voted:

S. T.	42%
D.S.T.	52
No opinion	6

The following table contrasts the views of farmers with those of voters in different sized communities:

	S.T.	D.S.T.	No opin.
Farmers	71%	24%	5%
Under 10,000	49	46	5
10,000-100,000	38	57	5
100,000-500,000	39	58	3
Over 500,000	24	69	7
People in areas having no D.S.T. last year	57%	37%	6%
People in areas having D. S. T. last year	28	68	4

Witnesses before the Senate hearings, no matter which settlement of the time question they favored, joined hands in emphasizing the confusion caused by the present system under which some areas adopt daylight saving time and others do not.

Unusual Movement Of Italian Communists Watched By Police

ROME, April 23 (INS)—North Italian police reported tonight an "unusual movement of Communist partisans to the mountains southeast of Modena."

They said the movement began within the last two days, described the number of Communists as moderate, and said their patrols are watching the situation closely.

Such reports of Communist activity in the so-called "Red belt" of Emilia province have caused fears of a possible Communist revolt, but thus far nothing has happened. Police appeared confident of being able to smash any uprising.

Station Picks Up Profane Broadcast Instead Of Game

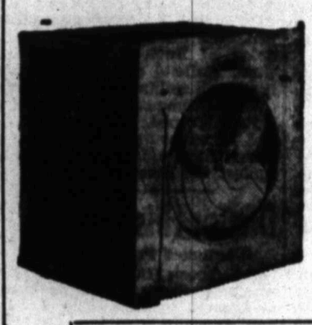

NEW YORK, April 24 (U.P.)—A private telephone conversation of a profane nature was broadcast inadvertently by Station WINS today when its wires to Yankee stadium became crossed with an outside circuit.

The station immediately went off the air as the anonymous speaker tore through a string of the most lurid words ever heard on the air. Seven minutes later it resumed broadcasting with an apology for the incident.

The station explained that the telephone company gave it a public instead of a private line for its play by play account of the New York Yankee-Boston Red Sox game.

NEW AIR SERVICE INAUGURATED

New Mexico, Texas Cities Are Visited By High State Officials

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, April 24—Lubbock and Albuquerque will be only three hours and ten minutes apart when Pioneer Air Line opens its new schedule of flights between Texas and New Mexico on May 1.

That fact was demonstrated today when two planes of the Pioneer fleet, carrying Gov. Beauford H. Jester and a delegation of Texans and New Mexicans picked up along the way, made the flight from Houston to Albuquerque in about 12 hours.

After stopping in Midland for an hour to dedicate a new field there, the "Kit Carson," one of the air lines' newest DC-3 planes arrived at Lubbock Municipal airport at 11:35 a. m. today, where a delegation from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce greeted Gov. Jester during the short stop.

Weather Unpleasant

The South Plains produced some of its windiest weather to greet the visitors. But the weather became progressively more unpleasant as the plane flew westward.

At Clovis, N. M., where Jester and Gov. Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico joined in christening the "Kit Carson" with the customary bottle of champaign, high winds filled the spectators' eyes with dust, and left grime on the face and hands of all present.

Both Jester and Mabry spoke to the assembled Clovis delegation, and short talks were made by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and Gen. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Air lines.

Buck Strong Winds

After bucking strong head and cross winds throughout the trip, the party of approximately 50 aboard two planes arrived in Tucumcari slightly behind schedule. As in Clovis, speeches were made by Jester, Mabry and Smith, and courtesy flights were made for local residents.

Similar stops in Las Vegas and Santa Fe were cancelled because of snow and high cross winds in the former city, and overcast skies in the second. Flying against the wind had lowered the planes' supplies of gasoline, and too much time in the air would have been consumed in circling the field to find an opening in the clouds.

Fighter Plane Escort

Arriving in Albuquerque about 5 p. m. today, the two planes were escorted into the field by a group of P-51 Mustangs, fighter planes of the local national guard. A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce was also on hand to greet the Texas and eastern New Mexico visitors.

Gov. Jester and Gov. Mabry spoke at a chuck wagon banquet tonight in the Hilton hotel here, attended by the newspaper personnel, Texas and New Mexico business men and public officials who made the flight today.

Gov. Jester, in commenting upon the opening by Pioneer of flight service between the two states, said that the joining of the two was most appropriate because of their mutual historical, geographical and economic backgrounds, and the many common interests shared.

Jester praised the new transportation service as another step forward in the progress of the two states, recalling the days of the horse, the train and the automobile in turn, comparing the ease of travel today with that in the past.

The return trip to Texas is scheduled to get under way at 10 a. m. Sunday. Stops will be made in Santa Fe and Las Vegas, the two cities which the flight was forced to pass up today.

Dixie Fight Renewed

Truman, although opposing his civil rights program. He later reversed himself and urged the President to make way for another candidate.

While the view of Sparkman and Hill is believed shared by many other southern leaders a tentative compromise movement is under way in some sections of the South.

The so-called "compromisers," who include a few of the President's bitterest civil rights foes, believe that if he does not press his anti-bias program the South may support him "for the sake of party unity."

Demo Party Harmed

Observers point out that there is "nowhere any enthusiasm" for the President in the South, "just acceptance of a situation." Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), declared:

"It is tragic that the President choose to champion the so-called civil rights issue in this campaign year. His personal political fortunes are of little concern. The harm has been done to the Democratic party.

"There may be some semblance of unity restored to the party but the breach will not heal if Mr. Truman is nominated." Sen. Ellender (R-La), said:

"If the civil rights program is enacted during this session, I unqualifiedly say that the southern states will call their legislatures into special session to repudiate the President."

Tech Directors Meet

ject, provided the museum association pay all above that amount needed to complete the museum structure. The concrete basement portion of the museum, located on the right of the campus esplanade, was built several years ago. Estimated cost of the completed structure has been set at $100,000.

Called Campus Eyesore

Board members Wooldridge and Ince, both Tech graduates, termed the incompleted structure a "campus eyesore" and Wooldridge declared he thought it should be abandoned and the museum relocated at some other spot so that the site could be used more advantageously. Dr. Whyburn agreed that the site would be an ideal location for a large classroom building, but Board Member O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock, reminded the board, "There is considerable emotionalism involved." Ratliff pionted out that the association has spent approximately $35,000 on the museum.

Chairman Thompson said: "I see nothing to do now but go along as the building has been started."

Wooldridge then reiterated a statement made at a previous board meeting: "You see here is another instance of where there is no long-range plan for the campus. Somebody just took it on themselves to put a building there, without any regard for a campus plan.

Campus Plan Urged

"Gentlemen, we're locating buildings, streets, and other things on that campus that will stand there for probably a hundred years and I believe we ought to give a lot of thought to an over-all plan for the entire campus."

Ratliff then moved that a committee be named to re-draw an over-all plan for the campus, designating locations for buildings, utility lines, streets and other projects. Chairman Thompson named Woolridge as chairman and Price and Weymouth as members.

Other action during the session included:

Granting of leaves of absences for one year to faculty members for graduate study. They included: Byron J. Bennett, associate professor of electrical engineering, graduate study at Stanford university; Robert Newell, associate professor of mechanical engineering, for graduate study at an undisclosed school; James F. Adams, government instructor, for work on his Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago; Dr. S. S. McKay, history professor, to accept a post as visiting professor and to do research at the University of Texas; and George O. Elle, associate professor of horticulture, for graduate study at Cornell university;

Extension Fees Hiked

Approval of increasing extension division fees from $5 per credit hour and a $1 exam fee to a flat $7 fee per credit hour;

Approval of a standard cover for commencement invitations sent out by graduates;

Approval of out-of-state travel for 12 faculty members this spring;

Approval of the granting of a right-of-way to the State Highway department on the north boundary of the campus along Fourth street;

Paving costing approximately $10,000 of streets running from the agriculture barns area west of the Chemistry and Library buildings and east of the Textile building to the parking area of the new stadium to relieve traffic congestion on the campus;

Authorizing the expenditure of $6,000 for construction of an addition to the Tech Press building for a stereotyping room;

Authorizing an additional expenditure of $5,500 for utilities to serve a new meats laboratory;

And approval of an estimated expenditure of $2,500 to set up a new auditing system for the college to meet state requirements.

System Is Explained

State Auditor C. H. Caviness of Austin appeared before the board to explain provisions of the legislature's last appropriation measure which requires each state college to set up the system under which that school's governing board must authorize each expenditure over $150 and make monthly reports to the state auditor.

The board also voted to invite officials of the Santa Fe and Fort Worth and Denver railroads to meet with board members in June regarding inclusion of the campus spur track in the switching limits of the city of Lubbock in order to save freight costs.

President Whyburn submitted a preliminary report to the board on the three and one-half years of his administration. Following its submission, Chairman Thompson appointed a committee composed of Mark Magee, Fort Worth; Price and A. G. Mayse, Paris, to prepare a resolution commending Dr. Whyburn's administration at the June 7 board meeting in Lubbock, scheduled in addition to the May 7-8 meeting.

Board Is Commended

"When are you going to tell us you are going to North Carolina?" Magee asked jokingly. Whyburn has not confirmed officially yet the name of the university whose faculty he will join as head of a chair of mathematics.

Chairman Thompson then read a letter, signed by a score of faculty members, commending the board for academic and other achievements under its direction, citing: 1. Recognition by the Association of American Universities; 2. Setting up a definite system for faculty promotions; 3. Advancement of the idea of professionalism among the faculty; 4. Improving library facilities; 5. Promotion, and encouragement of research; 6. Steps toward long-range policy in regard to scholarships and awards; 7. Setting up a college infirmary and student health service; 8. Setting up of student recreation center and expansion of recreation facilities; 9. Steps toward recognition by the American Association of University Women; and 10. Setting up minimum salary scale for each rank for faculty.

Thompson presided at the five-hour meeting, three of which were behind closed doors. Attending were: Members Ince, Wooldridge, Mayse, Magee, Ratliff, Price, and Kyle Spiller, Jacksboro; Dr. Whyburn and W. T. Gaston, board secretary. Chanslor E. Weymouth, Amarillo, was absent.

Duster Cuts Crowds At Two Tech Events

The Sixteenth Annual Texas Technological College Engineers' show and the Eleventh Annual Home Economics Open house officially closed Saturday with a total of 4,324 having attended the open house and estimated 8,000 having viewed the Engineers' show.

The estimate of the total attending the Engineers' show was given by Wendell Mayes, Jr., of Brownwood, Tech senior electrical engineering student in charge of the show.

Attendance fell off somewhat Saturday due to the dust storm that raged throughout the day and did not come up to expectations. It was predicted that over 10,000 would crowd the various buildings housing the engineers' show and that over 5,000 would attend the open house.

Officials of both expressed satisfaction with the turn-out in view of the weather and expressed the belief that this year's shows, the largest and most complete ever put on by the college, gave the public an excellent picture of the facilities, equipment and curricula in use by the students of the two divisions.

Boy, Struck By Car, Is Injured

A seven-year-old Lubbock boy was injured when struck by a vehicle Saturday, and two persons were slightly injured in collisions.

John Merrick, son of Fred Merrick, of 415 Hub homes, was hit by a pickup about 5 p. m. yesterday two miles from the city on the Plainview highway. According to police, the boy was running across the road and the vehicle was coming toward Lubbock when the accident occurred.

Suffers Broken Jaw

He was taken to St. Mary's hospital by Patrolman L. D. Blakney where preliminary examination showed facial lacerations and a broken jaw bone. Further x-ray examination was to be made, the hospital said.

Police said the boy was struck by the right headlight and bumper of the pickup.

Ira Smith, negro, 22, driver of the pickup was charged with exceeding the lawful speed limit and no operator's license. The owner, W. B. Gaddy, of 1610 Ave. F, was charged with allowing an unlicensed operator to drive his vehicle.

Mrs. Clara A. Robinson, 26, of 3001 Twenty-eighth did not require hospital treatment of a forehead laceration and glass splinters in one eye, police said, after a car driven by her husband, Harley W. Robinson, 28, and one by Dalton C. Davis, 22, of 2707 North Third, were in collision in 1400-block Ave. H.

Policeman Is Injured

Both drivers were charged with negligent collision, police said.

Walter E. West, 35, a city policeman of 2107 Fourteenth, suffered cuts and bruises of the right hand and minor bruises of the face when his three-wheel patrol motorcycle was in collision with the rear of a truck driven by Claude Thomas, 28, of 2319-A Fourteenth.

Investigators said Thomas was testing his brakes and that West, following, failed to swerve sufficiently to completely avoid collision.

Jews Attack Towns

Jewish curfew, virtually house arrest. Haganah said five field guns, mortars and other arms had been found in an in-by-inch search of Arab quarters.

Elsewhere nine Arabs, five Jews and a British policeman were killed in continuing violence today.

The British reported that the Jews were unsuccessful in yesterday's attempt to capture three Arab villages, Beit Iksa, Biddu, and Nebi Samuel on the northwestern outskirts of Jerusalem and lost 20 dead in the operation. Nearly every house in Beit Iksa was levelled by Jewish explosives.

City Girds For Battle

After heavy firing in the border land of Arab Paffa and Jewish Tel Aviv on the coast last night, Haganah reported it had moved some of its strongholds into Arab territory.

This Holy City is girding for war like a southern United States city preparing for a hurricane.

The 150,000 Jews and Arabs here believe chances for a truce are dim. Both claim the city for their capital, and both are buckling on the sword to fight for it.

Public services are crumbling, as the British pull out faster than anticipated.

POWERFUL GOVERNOR URGED FOR PALESTINE

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 24. (INS) — The United States, Britain and France are drafting this weekend a stop-gap plan that would place Palestine under a powerful governor-general responsible only to the United Nations.

The three-power move is aimed at beating the deadline of May 15, when Britain is due to give up her Holy Land mandate. If adopted by the General Assembly, the plan would make the governor-general virtual dictator in the Holy Land beginning May 16.

While there is little hope that the Soviet Union's opposition to trusteeship of any plan eliminating Russia will be lessened, the streamlined formula for Palestine now being drafted boils down to the following principles:

1.—The United Nations takes over in the Holy Land where the mandate leaves off after May 15. The UN as a whole in turn designates the trusteeship council with full responsibility for the peace and government of Palestine.

2.—A governor-general empowered to rule by decree and responsible only to the trusteeship council assumes control May 16.

3.—Foreign powers to be designated by the trusteeship council provide enforcement troops as soon as possible to back up the governor-general's authority.

Swindle Suspect Held In Custody

Littlefield and Lubbock authorities announced Saturday that Clyde L. Jones, jr., described as wanted on a 99th district court indictment charging felony swindling and for investigation into an alleged offense in Lamb county, was in custody at Martinez, Calif.

Chief Dep. Sheriff P. W. Graham of Littlefield said Lamb county would extradite the defendant if that were required.

Records in the office of Sheriff Grady Harrist showed that Jones was charged by indictment voted by a January term grand jury with having swindled Joe Boles by giving him a worthless check for $1,115.50 as "part payment" for an automobile.

Man Held In Mission

The car was a heavy 1947 machine, the charge stated. Date charged in the indictment was March 9.

The sheriff's department also was informed that W. Merrill Howeth, 20, of Kansas City, was being held in Joplin, Mo., and that federal authorities had advised him they planned to prosecute him in connection with a stolen Slaton automobile.

The defendant, officials charge, abandoned a stolen light automobile belonging to a Happy man, April 13 at Slaton, where he allegedly stole a 1947 heavy coupe belonging to John Brown.

The car had been recovered in Joplin, it was announced.

The sheriff's department filed a requested "hold" order on the prisoner.

The sheriff also placed a "hold" with Beaumont authorities, after information that Alice P. Norwood, charged here with swindling over $50, had been arrested there. The complaint was filed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn after it had been sworn to by Eva Taylor before District Attorney Lloyd Croslin.

State rangers went to Littlefield to assist in further investigation of an Amherst narcotics burglary Wednesday night. They said Lamb county officials were heading the investigation.

Ted Andrews, Hale county sheriff, informed Lubbock officials of the theft near there of a starter, generator and butane gas carburetor from an irrigation well.

Police said no estimate of loss had been reported in connection with burglary of Baker's Jewelry and Loan company, at 1316 Texas, but that a check was continuing to determine what was taken.

Two automobiles reported stolen Friday and Saturday had been recovered last night. A 1942 Buick sedanette, owned by Mary Caraway of 1714 Ave. K, stolen Friday night from her residence was found at 2507 Ave. U. A 1946 Plymouth belonging to W. R. Sheely, of 2312 Fifteenth, stolen yesterday, was recovered about a mile from the city on the Levelland highway, officers said.

Another car theft was reported yesterday from the Crosbyton sheriff's office. It was described as a black 1937 Ford coupe bearing license number A/K 4734.

GOP Feud Looms

there is only one issue—the continued progress and operation of the Atomic Energy commission. That's alpha and omega."

White said that he had no "basis of criticism of his (Lilienthal's) functioning" during the first year of the Atomic Commission's life.

Taft said he opposed a five-year term for Lilienthal because "long-term appointments would be tying the government's hands."

Compromises Talked

Three possible compromises are under consideration:

1. Legislation extending the present terms of the Atomic Commission for 10 or 11 months to leave the choice to the president the Republicans hope to elect this fall.

2. Allowing all five nominations to go without action, thus again leaving selection to what the Republicans hope will be a GOP president.

3. Deferring on Lilienthal and Sumner T. Pike, named to a four-year term, and confirming Lewis Strauss, for a three-year term, William W. Waymack, for a two-year term, and Dr. Robert Beacher, for a one-year term.

Hickenlooper said that Senate members of the joint Atomic committee will meet Monday or Tuesday to determine the best method of resolving the differences of opinion.

'Cold War' Goes On

West's victory in Italy was a softening of Communist attacks. Communist newspapers from one end of Europe to the other first declared the election results were faked, then published, them with claims that the vote showed the Communists had solidified their position.

French Hopes Raised

What the Communists might try next—and where—could only be guessed. Harrassing tactics continued in Berlin and Vienna. One thing was certain, the objective remained the same. The Communists would continue to oppose the Marshall plan in Europe. In France, some believed that quiet efforts to sabotage and hamper the government would continue.

Diplomatic dispatches from Moscow reported the Communist high command seemed confused and was therefore silent. In the several days after the elections, the biting attacks against "American imperialism" were softened.

Many observers in Paris believe that the election has given the middle-of-the-road French government of Robert Schuman a longer lease on life, perhaps a very long one.

Some sources here indicated that Russia was worried about the war talk in America and was moderating her tone so Congress would not pass a draft bill.

Frenchmen are genuinely worried by the war danger. Many think it is only a question of time and are discouraged by it.

Nevertheless, the Italian election pleased Frenchmen more than anything since the liberation in 1944.

The reason was clear. Italy's election had blighted Communist hopes in France, at least for the time being.

From some quarters, especially in London, came indications that Italy might be invited soon to join the five-power European union of England, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. It is both military and economic.

The Communist parties of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg joined today in asking their followers to organize against the Brussels pact.

Dust was not the dish for Abilene and Wichita Falls to the southeast and east of the South Plains.

Thundershowers were reported at Abilene late Saturday afternoon and continued until about 11 p.m., according to the Associated Press.

Wichita Falls had reported thundershowers also for several hours last night.

Rainfall at Abilene totalled .68 of an inch by 8:25 p.m. More rain was indicated. Winters reported a half inch; Ballinger 1.5; the Tuscola-Ovalo area a hard rain with hail at Ovalo. The rain at Abilene washed out night events in the Hardin-Simmons rodeo.

The Weather bureau at Dallas said thundershowers were reported last night north of Wichita Falls.

Yesterday's showers came soon after relief-giving rains began Thursday in West Texas, moved across the state, and passed the eastern border Friday.

East of the Panhandle in North Texas, Wilbarger county wheat farmers cheered what they called a million dollar rain yesterday.

Most of the county received more than an inch of rain, greatly helping the wheat crop. There was light hail with the rain, but no damage was reported.

Meanwhile, official informants confirmed reports given out here yesterday that Marshall's decision to leave the Inter-American conference and get back to his desk here was due not to any single crisis at hand in world affairs but to a general accumulation of important issues requiring his attention.

Police Start Investigation After Man Found Beaten Here

Lewis McLean, about 25, of Camp Valley on the Slaton highway, was found bleeding and staggering about 10:30 o'clock last night in the 2900 block of Texas Ave. by the bonded patrol.

He told officers at the police station that a lone man drove by in a car, got out, and attacked him with an object used as a club.

McLean suffered a bad wound on the back of his head, and he had been beaten on the mouth and face. An investigation was being made by Detective Lee Rice, jr.

U. S. Said To Have Three Secret Weapons Mightier Than A-Bombs

MIAMI, Fla., April 24. (UP)—Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, retired naval intelligence officer who directed psychological warfare against Japan during World war II, said today that the United States has three secret weapons more powerful than the atom bomb and is "ready for war with Russia any day of the week."

In a Miami Daily News interview, Zacharias listed the weapons as bacteriological (using germs to spread disease), biological (attacking the functions of the body), and climatological (using climate to carry disease.)

"The atomic bomb ranks fourth in consideration of restructiveness," he told a News reporter.

"Our country is ready to go to war with Russia any day of the week," the admiral said, "regardless of statements now made in Washington for extraneous reasons."

Commerce Officials Refuse To Give Letter On Condon To House

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24—The Commerce department, acting on orders from President Truman, refused today to give Congress its loyalty file on Dr. Edward U. Condon, government atom scientist, and House leaders at once threatened a finish fight.

House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., asserted "the last word has not been spoken."

Rep. Hebert (D) La., member of the House un-American Activities committee which first questioned Condon's loyalty, said: "The question now is 'who is bigger, the President or Congress.'"

Refers To HST

Chairman Thomas (R) N. J., of the un-American Activities group was out of Washington but had already promised a "get tough" attitude if the department failed to deliver the file, specifically a letter written by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Acting Commerce Secretary William C. Foster, in informing House Clerk John Andrews that he would not comply with a resolution passed Thursday by the lower chamber demanding the letter, said he was referring the matter to the President.

Mr. Truman on March 13 ordered government departments to withhold from Congress loyalty data on federal employes, unless its transmission was approved by him.

Andrew Jackson Quoted

A few hours after the House passed its resolution, Mr. Truman quoted President Andrew Jackson to indicate his intentions. Jackson, commenting on a ruling by then Chief Justice John Marshall, said:

"The chief justice has made his decision, now let him enforce it."

Condon, who heads the Bureau of Standards—a Commerce subdivision—was criticized by the Thomas committee for associating with Russian agents and described as "one of the weakest links" in U. S. atomic security.

Contempt Citation Hinted

Hoover's letter was written to W. Averell Harriman, Commerce secretary at the time. Harriman turned down a prior request by the committee for the document.

Thomas has indicated he might ask the House to cite the Secretary of Commerce for contempt of Congress.

Martin, Hebert and Nixon all said that if there is anything "damaging" in the letter it should be disclosed and that withholding it is a disservice to Condon.

The speaker and the committeeman agreed that "the next step" might be passage of the Hoffman resolution. This measure provides that government agency heads furnish congressional committees with confidential data upon service of subpoenas signed by the presiding officers of House and Senate.

Hung Jury Ends Trial

testimony of George Eubank, a deputy sheriff. At 11 p. m., the jury ceased work for the night. It had heard three hours of arguments that afternoon.

At 9 a m. Saturday, it requested permission to communicate with the court. Taken into the courtroom, the jury, through its foreman, handed to the judge a piece of paper that explained there was no hope of arriving at a verdict.

Judge Pardue ordered that the jury continue its efforts.

New Trial To Be Set

Three hours later, the jury's inability to reach a verdict resulted in the mistrial.

No announcement had been made regarding date of calling the case for another trial.

Dillard, 36, was charged with murder with malice in connection with the Nov. 1 shooting of Garlon Douglas Weaver, about 38, at Weaver's Panhandle station on Texas Ave.

The state sought to prove that Dillard killed Weaver to regain possession of approximately $1,025 worth of jewelry he admittedly had given to Weaver as collateral for a loan of $300 which he lost in a gambling game.

Gun "Went Off"

Dillard, taking the stand in a surprise move, told the jury that the gun accidentally was discharged in a struggle after he and Weaver had trouble inside the station and the defendant had fled to his car and was attempting to drive away. He said Weaver rushed out after him, grappled with him and attempted to drag him from his car. Dillard said he knew the reputation of Weaver as one to avoid in fight, that he was afraid of him because of Weaver's fighting disposition and disproportionate size and weight, so reached into the glove compartment of his car and got hold of the gun. He said he did not "fire the shot," but that the gun "went off."

Charge Read Friday

The jury was completed at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday, after three days of efforts—from 86 special veniremen and 61 talesmen. The state had exhausted 11 of the 15 peremptory challenges allowed, the defense 13.

Evidence was commenced Thursday morning, completed at 4:30 p. m., after which the court retired to draw a jury charge. The charge was read at 1:30 p. m. Friday, and arguments began. Victor H. Lindsey opened for the state, J. E. Vickers for the defense. Burton S. Burks closed for the defense, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin for the state. Lindsey and L. A. Howard were special prosecutors. Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr completed the prosecution battery.

DETROIT COULD BE ATTACKED

Warning Sounded On Needs For More Adequate Aerial Defense

By ED TORONTO
INS Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, April 24—A dramatic example of America's air defense needs was given today by Air Force officials who said that even the key industrial city of Detroit is not now prepared to repel attack by modern bombers.

General George C. Kenney, chief of the Air Forces' strategic air command, told International News Service that any potential enemy "is a bad copyist if he doesn't have a bomber at least as good as the B-29."

And pilots of the jet-propelled P-80s based at Selfridge Field as the defense force of industrial Michigan assertedly have found their "Shooting Stars" less than adequate in maneuvers against B-29s.

P-80 Said "Obsolete"

Captain James B. Raebel, a World War II veteran, said flatly that his P-80 "is obsolete—as compared with the faster, more soundly constructed versions now under experimental classification."

His commanding officer, Colonel William T. Hurdell, expressed preference for the term "obsolescent," as applied to the P-80. Hudnell, with General Kenney concurring, explained:

"They've got to be good because they're the best we have. Admittedly, they're not the best available. But there's no money to put experimental versions into mass production."

Fighters Needed

Kenney made it clear that the aerial defense of vital Detroit is not likely to be improved in the near future when he said:

"Even if we do get money, it will be a year or 18 months before we can get going with mass production."

The general, in response to a question as to whether the Air Forces merely "want" or actually "need" improved fighters, said:

"Certainly we need them. We need them here at Selfridge and we need them up north where the bombers must be attacked first.

"Understand this: These planes are the last-ditch defense craft. We've got to hit the enemy first away up north—if we detect them."

One Pass Is All

The expert in strategic air warfare then said:

"We don't have adequate detection stations up there. Nor do we have the money to set them up. We have got to get funds before we can have the defense set-up we need."

Captain Raebel said conventionally-powered bombers, patterned on the distance-defying B-29, are "souped up" to such an extent that the P-80 can attack effectively only if the pilot makes his own advantages.

This means the interceptors must get over the bombing force or meet it head-on and Raebel—speaking for himself—said he has found he cannot make a second pass on the bombers flying today.

Vibration Slows Speed

Major Stuart B. McLeod explains that:

"The P-80 has a terrific speed near the ground—about 580 miles per hour without vibrating to pieces.

"But that vibration comes on so much sooner upstairs where the bombers are, up around 30 to 35 thousand feet.

"So, when we make that initial pass, we're going only about 50 or 60 miles faster than the 400-mile-per-hour B-29 and can catch them again only over a long distance—which eats up fuel and takes us too far from base.

"Meanwhile, we're sitting back there like ducks in a shooting gallery for the bomber gunners to sharpen their markmanship on."

Mission Fails

Maj. McLeod nodded agreement as one pilot, a captain, recalled that:

"Recently, a P-80 group at another field was sent out on a surprise mission. They were ordered up to intercept a flight of B-29s 150 miles away. Not one attack was reported."

The fliers admit that any reference to the "Shooting Star" as an obsolete craft seems inconsistent with the record-breaking feats performed by the plane during the past year. The P-80 has roared over every clocked course across the nation as the fastest thing on wings.

But Joseph V. Raiti, a Selfridge field reservist and veteran of 52 combat missions, explained:

"Conventional fighters in World War II needed a 100-mile-per-hour advantage to be effective against an enemy bomber. Compare this with the 50 to 60-mile advantage Major McLeod gives the P-80."

The Selfridge pilots are conscious of their responsibility as the defenders of a manufacturing district which produced one-sixth of all battle implements used in the allied cause during World War II.

They simulate combat missions regularly, winging in on their gunnery range, and firing at both ground and air-borne targets.

Selfridge field definitely is alerted.

The P-80s are maintained on a wartime basis. And efficiency runs so high that, just recently, only one plane failed to get into the air on a mock mission.

The preparedness spirit has seized many ex-fliers living in industrial Michigan and, as reservists, they make periodic pilgrimages to the base to fly when they can and talk flying when they can't.

U. S. Moving To Get War Plants Ready

WASHINGTON, April 24 (U.P.)—The administration moved today to get some 200 government-owned war plants ready in case of an emergency.

It asked Congress for authority to restore the surplus factories to good condition and place them in a proposed "national industrial reserve." They would be kept in "standby condition."

The legislation was sent to the Senate Armed Services committee by the munitions board, and climaxes months of study on the surplus property situation. The move followed a White House order "freezing" sales of the War Assets administration for one month.

The munitions board said that because of deterioration in war plants since V-J day, the need for this type of legislation is "especially urgent." Without it, the board warned, "many of the plants will be lost, as some have already been lost."

Franco Is Given Power Of Awarding Titles Of Nobility

MADRID, April 24. (AP) — The Cortes, Spain's consultative legislature, today gave Generalissimo Franco the power of awarding titles of nobility, a right previously reserved for ruling monarchs.

Ratifying a Franco decree of Oct. 15, 1947, the Cortes also gave the chief of state the power to take away titles from "unworthy holders."

Under the statute all titles held by Spaniards before the coming of the republic in 1931 are given legal recognition. Those who have inherited titles since the republic abolished the Spanish noble ranks must petition Franco for official recognition. They also must pay the government fees ranging from 15,000 to 60,000 pesetas (about $1,400 to $5,400 at the official rate of exchange.)

MAN IS CLAIMED

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (INS)—Death today claimed 83-year-old Frank Hatch on the eve of his wedding. The octogenarian bridegroom-to-be was found dead in the bathroom of his home, apparently of a heart attack. He was to have married Mrs. Jennie Johnson, 76, tomorrow.

Little Woman Can Ring Up Clint Anderson Now For Idea On What To Have For Supper

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24 — If your parsnips look a little hoehappy, you call the Department of Agriculture. If you wonder if it would be smarter to plow the pigs and corn under instead of letting 'em grow up, you dial the same number.

But what slave of the kitchen—your wife—would think to give Clint Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, a ring if she wanted to know if rutabaga would be better for supper than brussel sprouts?

Come Out With Menu

Probably not a one among the wives. Well, Clint and his boys have beaten everybody to the punch. They have made a quick vault from the field, garden and steerlot to the grub board. In other words, the Department of Agriculture has come out with a menu. One that is calculated to save us sinners and spenders a lot of money. Clint bashfully admits that if you use the thing your long-suffering can save as much as one-third on meat alone.

The whole thing is aimed at the official end of meatless Tuesdays. Clint puts it like this: We still want to be meatless now and then, but the people themselves can decide what day in the week it would be nicest not to have meat. Like Friday, maybe.

Long Title

That's where the official government table-platter-planner comes in. It's called "Money $Saving Main Dishes." "One Hundred Tested Recipes Especially Prepared by the Bureau of Nutrition and Home Economics." A mouthful right there.

Ever hear of a potatoburger? Well, sir, it's right there in the free booklet on page 41; includes a little meat, too. You take three-fourths of a pound of ground beef, three-fourths cup of grated raw potato, a quarter of a cup of ground or grated onions, two teaspoons of chopped green pepper, a teaspoon of salt, one egg, drippings of fat, a cup of tomato juice, and a tablespoon of flour all of this makes four or five flat cakes. You brown the cakes on both sides in fat in a frying pan. And the tomato juice. Follow me? Cover and simmer slowly until done—about 25 minutes. Remove the cakes and keep hot. Mix the flour with a little water and stir slowly with tomato juice. Cook slowly and stir until thickened, pour sauce over the cakes. Eat. Yum!

Wife Has Garden

And speaking of onions, for some obscure reason, reminds me of Clint Anderson himself. He recently made the remark that he never planned a garden that was too big for his wife to handle. Well, I took his word and charted a small plot in my back yard. Onions here, dear," I think I said.

She happens to be a city gal—from Milwaukee. She always thought the green stuff on the table came from the store. The rain to keep it crisp came from the sprinkler system.

All right. So she took hoe and rake in hand and smoothed out the plowed ground. She took the onion sets and buried same, up and down four roows, like she personally was going to take care of ERP and Mr. Hoffman could go look for a new job.

The wife meant well, and was stiff and sore enough to have done a good job. But she planted the darn onions upside down.

And it was just like her to get mad when I asked her if she alone was trying to take care of China relief—by saving the transportation cost.

Italian Communists Back Down On Plans For Outdoor Parade

MILAN, April 24. (AP)—Communists apparently backed down today on their announced plan to defy the government with an outdoor parade tomorrow, the third anniversary of Italy's liberation.

Instead the Communist newspaper L'Unita said they will participate in a demonstration approved by the municipal council last night to be held in a large interior courtyard of historic Sforzesco castle.

Foreign Agents Buying Surplus

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24 (AP) Agents of foreign governments, their pockets bulging with American credits, are buying up war surplus the War Assets administration "couldn't give away" a few months ago.

Yesterday buyers for Norway, Austria and Finland bid so eagerly for locomotives, wire cable, construction machinery and like items that prices kited out of reach of American commercial buyers.

The foreigners accounted for about half the $765,666 in purchases during the two-day sale. The 787 lots of material originally cost the government $5,938,065.

Americans Protest

"A few months ago, we couldn't give some of this stuff away," said a WAA spokesman. "All this stuff was offered a month ago to priority bidders, veterans and so on."

American buyers were protesting the foreign agents' price-hiking tactics. The WAA pointed out its object was to get "the maximum market price — the most money the taxpayer can get back on this property" and left the international policy involved to "other agencies of the government."

The three governments bought on credit established with WAA as a result of loans or prospects of ERP aid. Magahild Fjeldheim of Norway said his country has $12,000,000 in credits.

Marc Levine, Clarksburg, W. Va., summed up the criticism of the commercial buyers, who came from 38 states.

"I could have bought everything they did if I had lend-lease money in my pocket," he said, adding he considered the sale "the most unjust thing I've ever heard of."

The Army withdrew yesterday a number of lots of strategic material. It is no longer surplus, the Army explained.

Westerners Win Regional AA Cinder Path Championship

Amarillo Nine Edges Westerners, 7 To 6

Sandies Produce Winning Run In Thirteenth; Davidson Whiffs 19

AMARILLO, April 24. (Special)—Dick Anderson's single through shortstop, with the bases loaded in the home half of the thirteenth inning, gave the Amarillo Golden Sandies a hard-earned 7-6 District 1-AA baseball win over the Lubbock Westerners here tonight.

Anderson's game-winning blow followed an error by Westerner Third-sacker Bobby Griffin, a hit batter and a single that loaded the bases, and broke up a tight mound duel between Lubbock's ace righthander, Denny Davidson, and the Sandies' Joe Palmer.

* * *

The Westerners took an early lead in the conference tussle, pushing single runs across the plate in the first three frames, but the Sandies bunched five of their hits of the game in the fifth stanza to chalk up five tallies. The Amarilloans tied the count at 6-6 in the home half of the seventh, sending the tussle into extra innings.

Davidson and Palmer hurled shutout ball for the next five frames, until Anderson's single shattered Lubock hopes.

Bobby Farmer started on the mound for the Sandies, but the Westerners chased him to the outfield in the sixth after collecting four runs. Then Palmer took over the hurling chores and did an excelent job.

The Westerners turned in a well-played game and were more impresisve in the field than the home nine, but the Sandies' hitting power proved to be the margin of victory.

The loss was the first of the season for the Westerners, giving them a .500 average, while Amarillo holds the district lead with three consecutive wins.

Texas To Play Here In 1949

The powerful University of Texas Longhorn football eleven has signed a three-year contract to play Texas Tech's Red Raiders, two of the games to be on a home-and-home basis.

Morley Jennings, athletic director, released the information yesterday in a mimeographed announcement.

First Game In 1949

The Raiders will journey to Austin in 1949 for a game with the Longhorns on Sept. 17. The following year the Steers will come here, playing in Jones Stadium on Sept. 23.

Dana X. Bible, Texas athletic director, signed the three-year contract for the Longhorns last summer, but dates for the games in 1949 and 1950 were agreed upon only this week.

The Longhorns have met the Raiders five times, winning each contest. The five victories have been by 14-0 in 1928; 12-6 in 1934; 25-12 in 1937; 33-0 in 1945; and 33-0 in 1947.

Sunbeamers Cop Both Ends Of Double Bill

Bluebonnet Sunbeam laundries came through last night with two Texas Softball league victories at Jumbo Webster field over the Odessa Elks.

Jackie Neel blanked the Elks in the opening tilt, giving his mates a 2-0 victory. Neel allowed only three hits, whiffed 16 batters.

Willis James led the Sunbeam attack in the first game, driving in both runs, the first with a double, the second with a home run. The game ended as a real pitching duel between two fromer teammates, Neel, and "Stringbean" Pope.

The Sunbeamers earned another narrow win in the nightcap, 6-5. G. W. Warden was on the mound for Sunbeam, with Garrison handling the mound chores for the visitors.

The Elks grabbed the lead in the first frame and were ahead, 5-0, before the Sunbeam sluggers started their work with a run in the fifth frame, a four-run barrage in the sixth, and the winning tally in the bottom half of the seventh.

Big guns for the Sunbeamers in the nightcap included James Abbott, whose triple sounded the seventh-frame rally that won the game; Floyd Lawhorn, with a run-scoring double, followed by t two-bagger by Willis James. It was Wally Fowler's base-stealing, moving to second, that allowed Abbott's double to bring him home from second. Fowler had reached first on a single.

Mitchell In Golf Finals

DALLAS, April 24. (Special)—Two hardy youths from wind-swept West Texas bored their way into the finals of the eighth annual Texas high school invitational golf tournament here today.

Finding the stiff gale that poured across the long municipal Cedar Crest course exactly to their liking, Billy Maxwell of St. Joseph's of Abilene and Ross Mitchell, medalist from Lubbock, carved out fancy triumphs to enter the 36-hole finals tomorrow.

MITCHELL

Maxwell lived up to his pre-tourney role as favorite by blasting slender Doyle Gilliam, last year's runner-up from Fort Worth, into a 3-2 defeat.

Meanwhile the husky Mitchell was going into two extra holes to earn a squeaky triumph over Joe Conrad of St. Gerard of San Antonio. It was the second day in a row that Mitchell needed added distance in which to dispose of a foe.

As in Friday's quarterfinals, Mitchell was up to the occasions of going into extra holes to stay in the title running. Friday he bested Don Addington of Lamar on the 19th hole.

After being behind one hole at turn, Mitchell found himself two-down going into the 12th.

The Lubbock junior quickly put the match even by winning the 12th with a birdie and the 13th with a par. They halved on out to put the match into extra holes.

Conrad Is Stymied

On the 19th Conrad was stymied behind a tree on his second shot and had to take a penalty stroke. At that he dropped a 20-footer for a half as Mitchell flubbed a putt for eight feet and a win.

Mitchell gambled on the dogleg 20th by laying his tee shot over the corner of the woods onto the frog's hair, while Conrad played safely into the straightaway. Mitchell two-putted for a birdie to win as Conrad's approach was away.

Billy Tatum, Lubbock, dropped by the wayside in first flight battling at the hands of Frank Wear, jr., of Paris. Wear, last year's medalist here, swatted out a 6 and 5 triumph as Tatum couldn't get a putt down.

Lamesa To Play Pioneers Today

LAMESA, April 24 (Special) — Raging sandstorms sweeping West Texas had their affect on baseball, with the scheduled West Texas-New Mexico League game between Lamesa's Loboes and the Gold Sox of Amarillo called off.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the Clovis Pioneers will open a two-game series with the Loboes. George Sturdivant, manager of the Loboes probably will throw J. B. Garland, a righthander, at the invaders.

Loboes Have Won Two

Lamesa, with two victories and one loss in league play, hopes to get off to a good start against the once-victorious Pioneers. The Clovis nine is stronger than last year, boasting sensational infield work and a strong batting order.

Lamesa also is stronger than last year and demonstrated that on two occasions. They whipped Albuquerque in the season's opener and then, after a severe thumping from the Dukes, came back Friday night to whip Amarillo 22-9.

The Lobo management today announced the outright release of Sam Malvica, veteran infielder. At the same time, the baseball club announced the signing of Bob Murphy, 23, a righthand hitting outfielder and a class man.

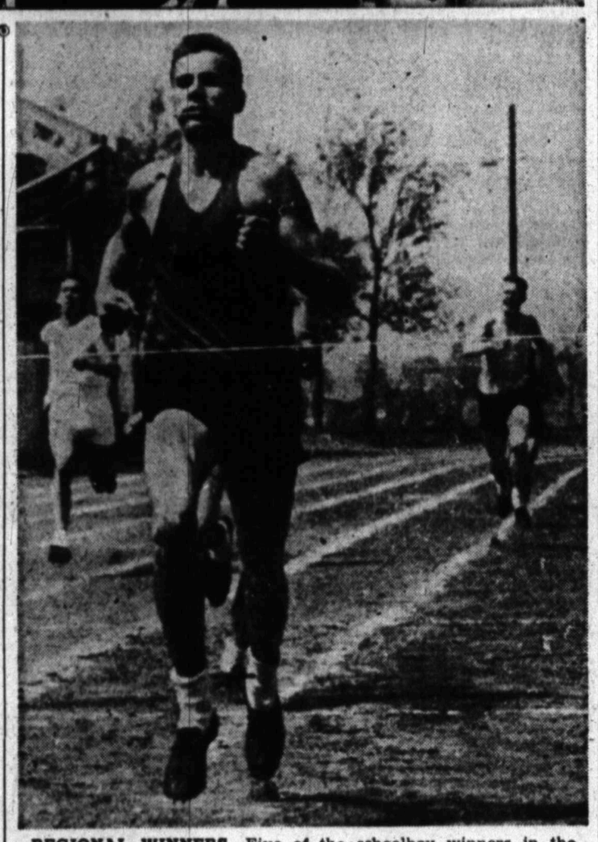

Three Longshots Take Money In Churchill Downs Feature

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 24 (INS)—Three longshots took the money while the favored Argentine charger, Colossal, lingered in the pack today in Churchill Downs' opening-feature handicap.

ROYAL PAIR ATTEND GAME

LONDON, April 24 (INS)—A Wembley Stadium throng of 95,000, including King George and Queen Elizabeth, saw Manchester United defeat Blackpool 4 to 2 today for England's soccer football championship.

Seminole Takes Class A Crown; Phillips Second

Seminole's speedy Indians, paced by versatile Val Joe Walker, chalked up five first place victories and one second to gain the team championship of the Conference A division of the Region 1 Interscholastic league meet at Tech stadium Saturday.

Phillips moved into the runner-up position on two event triumphs and a host of third and fourth places, but the Panhandle schoolboys could only tally 24 points, 10 less than the Indians' 34.

Pecos Is Third

Surprising Pecos gained the third place on the sprint triumphs of Arnold Fairley, chalking up a total of 18 points, and Andrews took fourth with 12 points as a result of the highly-successful efforts of Jack Young.

Other team totals included Shamrock, 9; Lefors 7; Sundown 6; Kermit 5; Wink 4½; Denver City 4¼ Seagraves 2½ and Dimmitt ½.

The Indians' Walker held the meet spotlight as he blazed to a win in the high hurdles, second in the low hurdles, fourth in the shot put and ran the anchor lap or the first place sprint relay team. Walker tallied 10¼ points to edge out Fairley for individual scoring honors.

Other Seminole triumphs were scored by Charles Baker, who copped the 440-yard dash title; Richard Stanfield, who tossed the discus 141 feet, seven and one-half inches; and the mile relay quartet.

Young Is Second

Jack Young of Andrews made a valiant bid for high point honors, taking first in the low hurdles, second in the high hurdles and fourth in the broad jump.

As a result of the impressive performances turned in by the Seminole squad, the Indians loom as one of the top candidates for the state Class A championship at the league meet at Austin May 7-8.

DALLAS, April 24 (AP)—Sandy-haired John Cooper captured three first places and high point honors in helping Highland Park's Scots win the Region 3 Class AA track and field championship here this afternoon. Bowie won the Class A title and Alvarado picked up the Class B crown in the three-division affair.

Locals Win Six Events

The Lubbock schoolboys captured six firs' places in gaining their fifth consecutive regional title, but in two events—the sprint relay and mile relay—the Westerners were only able to gain seconds despite spectacular performances. Pampa's talented Harvesters edged out the Lubbock quartet in the sprint relay with a time of 44.1 seconds, although the Westerners were a close second with 44.2 seconds, and the Childress mile relay team nosed by the Lubbock crew in a time of three minutes 33.1 seconds. The Westerner mile relay team was again a close second and chalked up a 3:33.6 in the race, their best performance in the event this year.

Veteran Jim Johnson came through for the first Westerner win Saturday, taking first in the 440-yard dash with a time of 52.6 seconds, and Charles Curry added to the total with a winning shot put toss of 46 feet, nine inches.

Sam Davis took pole vault honors by clearing the bar at 10 feet, six inches; Parker Stuart won the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, eight and one-quarter inches; Richard Johnson copped the mile run in 4:55.5 and Jack Alderson defeated the other high jump candidates with a jump of five feet, 10 inches, for other Westerner wins.

State Meet May 7-8

All event marks set in the three divisions today will go into the record books as the new standards, under the new "divided competition" Interscholastic league setup. All conference formerly competed together in the regional and state meets, but this year the three classes will battle separately.

Individuals and relay teams that won one of the top two places in any event will be qualified to compete in the state league meet at Austin May 7-8, officials announced.

Pampa, capitalizing on the first places won by Carl (Red) Mayes in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, copped third place in the team standings with 19 points; while Childress took fourth with 15 1/3. Other totals included Plainview, 10, and Wichita Falls, 9 1/3.

Double victories were credited to Mayes and Plainview's Bill Howton, high and low hurdles winner. Mayes was high individual with 11¼ points.

High Wind A Handicap

Brilliant performances were the rule, rather than the exception, in the AA division as several all-time, (and now unofficial) regional marks were shattered. Mayes, boosted by a stiff wind at his back, blazed the 220 dash in 21.5 seconds; Howton toped the high timbers in 14.3 seconds; Pampa won the sprint relay in 44.1 seconds; and Richard Johnson of Lubbock turned in a 4:55.5 mile.

A high wind that reached a velocity of 45 miles per hour in gusts, combined with blowing sand, handicapped all performers except the sprinters and hurdles entries and added to the discomfort of approximattly 800 track fans who huddled in the wind-swept stands.

Woeful Hubs Need Mound Power

Locals Tangle With Albuquerque Today

The Albuquerque Dukes invade Rosenthal Field today for a West Texas-New Mexico League game with the Lubbock Hubbers and Manager Jackie Sullivan's team will be seeking to make the Dukes their first victims of the league season.

The game will begin at 3 p.m., with ticket windows open at 1:30.

Either Royce "Rooster" Mills, able little utility man and relief hurler, or Bob Clodfelter, on option from Austin, will be on the mound today for the Hubbers.

A well-pitched game, plus a revival of their spring training hitting power, could bring the woeful Hubbers the elusive first victory. So far they have shown a little hitting, a little pitching and a little fielding, but not enough to turn back either Clovis or Borger.

The Hub City crew had another night of rest Saturday, when the sandstorm, which had been raging all day, refused to die down after sunset. The storm postponed the second Borger game and leaves the Hubbers to make up aginst Clovis and Borger.

Whether the rest will aid the Hubbers in their quest for a victory remains to be seen. The team hasn't been hitting, picking up only five hits against Clovis in a six-inning tilt and a mere four in nine innings against Borger. To date the Hubber hitters have made the opposing pitchers look good.

Charley Scarborough is the only Lubbock batter using the willow for anything more than a support. The rookie centerfielder has four hits in seven trips to the plate and three of those safeties have been doubles. Left fielder Chick Fowler and Manager Sullivan are the only other men to collect doubles and Fowler is the only other batter to get two hits in one game.

Five runs on nine hits is fair run production, but not when the opposition is making 11 runs on 18 hits. The Hubbers have collected five doubles, their longest extra-base hit, no triples and no homers. The opposition has gotten only three doubles, one single and two homers, but have chipped in plenty of singles. And Clovis and Borger only had six walks between them in this total, of whom two scored.

Sandies Score Easy Regional Net Wins

Amarillo High school netters monopolized the title races in the Region 1 Interscholastic league meet here Saturday, with Bobby Garner and Bill Swank of Amarillo defeating Frank Irby and B. Simmons of Plainview, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, for the boys doubles crown; while Bobby Wilson of Amarillo gained the singles championship with a 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 victory over Joe Maxey of Electra.

In other Conference AA matches Nancy O'Brien of Amarillo defeated Marjorie Cone of Lubbock, 6-1, 6-2, for the girls singles title and June Allen and Charlotte Schultz of Wichita Falls defeated Betty Woods and Betty Rhodes of Lubbock, 6-0, 6-2, for the doubles win.

Jean Cathey of Kermit won the Class A and B girls singles crown by beating Bille Sue Quisenberry of Post, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. Annabell Lee and Jean Arthur of Pecos trounced Navelle Hunt and Agnes Slodek of Spade, 6-1, 6-0, for the Class A and B doubles title and Ben Meek of Kermit defeated David Hummer of Perryton, 7-5, 6-1, 8-6, for the boys singles championship

NY Pilot To Remove Kerr's Suspension

BOSTON, April 24 (INS)—Manager Mel Ott announced today that Buddy Kerr, suspended shortstop, will rejoin the New York Giants tomorrow and be reinstated promptly.

Kerr has been suffering from dizzy spells since he was hit on the head by a ball in an exhibition game on April 14. He was suspended Wednesday when he refused to play because he said he still felt "woozy" despite statements by doctors that all signs of his blow on the head had disappeared.

FORT WORTH, April 24. (AP)—Byron Nelson will break his golf retirement again next month to participate in the third annual $15,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament, it was learned today. Nelson has been playing only in the Augusta Masters and the Texas PGA. Lord Byron is one of 24 professionals already selected for the tournament.

MUST BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY

Dundee Likes Television But Isn't Sure It Will Help Him

BALTIMORE, April 24 (U.P.)—Joe Dundee, former welterweight boxing champion, was a little skeptical today about whether television has helped his tavern business.

Dundee, who bought a set recently for his place, was asked to say a few words to the television audience while attending a wrestling match. He said his piece. Then a an after-thought, he waved to his bartender and said, "Give everybody a drink on me."

"I was thinking of the boys back in the tavern," he explained.

What he forgot was that a lot of other taverns have television sets too.

Within minutes, the rush for free drinks was on. Other bars lost their customers. Radio shops lost theirs, too, and Joe's place began bulging at the seams. When the fighter returned several hours later, the bartender was still passing free beer across the counter.

Said Joe sadly:

"This television is a great invention, all right. But you gotta be careful what you say."

Indians Clip Detroit, 4-1; Cubs Down Cards, 6-2

Between The Lines . . .

By Joe Kelly

The Hubbers, at the time of this writing Saturday, seem to have taken up where the Lubbock High school football team left off. It's not unusual for a pennant-winner to start slowly, to spin its wheels for several days, before the nine begins to get going. In fact, there are several logical excuses to be made for a team such as this year's Hubbers.

• • •

We're not going to make alibis for the Hubbers. When they get beaten, they get beaten. Wednesday night Clovis threw up a beautiful inner defense that stopped the Hubbers cold. Friday night the Hubbers ran into that same fine infield defense, plus a pitcher who had them baffled all night. You seldom win games when you can't hit and those four little base whacks were far from enough.

• • •

As we were saying, we aren't going to alibi for the Hubbers, but let's take a look at the situation. You have a championship team that wins 99 out of 140 games, a phenomenal record. From that team you lose a 70-home run shortstop, two topnotch catchers, three pitchers who won 20, 19 and 18 games respectively and an outfield that hit a combined average of .321. That is a pretty fair cut into a championship team and the job of rebuilding is not done overnight.

• • •

Even more important than the individual loss represented by these men is the fact that they were a team, used to playing together and knowing what the other player could do and probably would do. This, even more than individual ability, is what makes any team. All right, the Hubbers have to rebuild. Sure, they have Virgil Richardson, Manager Jackie Sullivan and Frank McAlexander in the infield, but team play will only come after the individuals have been together a while.

• • •

The Hubbers probably will lose more than they win for a while, before they get team play down right, before the rookies learn opponents' mannerisms and quirks. When this happens, the Hubbers will be a potent organization. All this is not accomplished in the first few days. If they can get occasional well-pitched games and if their hitting perks up, they'll win ball games.

• • •

Actually the Hubbers have potentially as hard-hitting a team as they had last year. Chick Fowler in left field had a .322 mark last year, while Frank Boothe had a .355 average. Charley Scarborough, who has been impressive with his stickwork and throwing arm, is a rookie this year and bids fair to outhit both Fowler and Boothe. Al Smith at shortstop won't begin to hit in the neighborhood of Bill Serena, but he may provide good infield protection and he and Sullivan provide a good double play combination. Floyd Walker, a rookie catcher, is potentially a fine backstop, but he has a lot to learn, a lot that will take time. Meanwhile, the Hubbers need pitching and a first rate receiver badly. With them on hand, the attack probably would not be sputtering as it is at present.

• • •

So much for the Hubbers. Already this writer is being accused of the same incurable optimism that afflicted Earl Scudday in regards to the Westerner football team. We aren't blind to the Hubber weaknesses, but we do believe that they'll come out of it all right. There are still over 130 games to play and four months in which to play them. Much can happen in that time and we're looking for it to happen.

• • •

Texas Tech's football team is about to go into its fourth and final week of spring football practice, with prospects not quite so black as they were three weeks ago. The backers definitely have improved over last year, mainly because they've had a year of experience. When they carry the ball, they know where they're going and what they're supposed to do. The line also is showing more hustle, even though Coach Dell Morgan would give both arms for two good tackles. Doug McSwaine, Don Williams and Marshall Gettys are looking good, but the Raiders need more protection.

• • •

When the chips are on the line is when the coaches will know what they really have, or don't have. Right now, the ends, headed by Dan Pursel, also show strength and Bobby Williams at center is a pretty fair pivot man. Whether these players will measure up to the extremely rugged schedule chosen by the Raiders for the fall will be seen in a few months.

Pampa Trounces Plainview, 9-0

PLAINVIEW, April 24. (Special)—The Pampa High School Harvesters bunched walks, errors, stolen bases and three hits to down the Plainview Bulldogs in a District 1-AA baseball tilt here this afternoon.

It was the first game of the season for the Bulldogs. Fielding by both teams was made difficult by heavy winds and dust.

Three Runs In First

The Harvesters got off to a three-run lead in the first inning on one hit. They added another tally in the second frame, and in the fifth stanza they pushed across five runs without the necessity of a bingle.

The Bulldogs were held to two hits by Pampa Hurler Gamblin, who struck out 14 men. Howton tossed for Plainview for 5⅔ innings, during which time he struck out 10 men. Howton suffered a minor ligament injury in his shoulder and had to be relieved by Woodall. The two tossers together gave up only three hits.

Pampa's single run in the second inning came when Second Baseman Hernandez clouted a home run.

The line score:

PAMPA	310	005	0—	9	3	1
P' VIEW	000	000	0—	0	2	5

Gamblin and Nash; Howton, Woodall and Kay.

INVESTIGATION IS ASKED

JOLIET, Ill., April 24. (INS)—A prominent Will county Republican leader has asked for a federal investigation into the savage April 7 beating of Joliet Publisher William R. McCabe. John B. Two Taxi Drivers Out Over $800 On Trip To Nebraska

OMAHA, Neb., April 24. (INS)—Two Portland, Ore., taxicab drivers are enroute home today after an expensive trip to Omaha for which they were not paid.

Claude Ryerson, 29, and Homer Wolfington, 38, brought to Omaha Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. McNabb so the 27-year-old wife could "check up on the remainder of her estate."

Police Take Couple

She explained she received a $30,000 legacy last year from her grandfather's estate and "was to get $275,000 more" so would pay for the trip out of that.

The drivers, who own the cab, estimate they spent $200 on the way to Omaha and figure the cab fare at $800. But all they have to show for it is a pawn ticket on McNabb's $900 accordion—which they said is not paid for.

Police took the McNabbs into custody after her lawyer told them there was "no more estate." Both admitted they were "broke."

Leo Brown, 27-year-old bellhop who quit his hotel job in Portland to accompany McNabb as a valet, also remained in Omaha.

McNabb, who is 24, is crippled but works as a night club pianist. He and his wife said they would get jobs to pay off the cab bill. She is a former waitress.

Yanks Down Red Sox; Nats Win

DETROIT, April 24 (INS)—The Cleveland Indians wrapped up the second of a three game series with the Detroit Tigers 4 to 1 today in rain-drenched Briggs Stadium at Detroit.

The Indians were sparked by the capable five-hit pitching of Bob Feller, who scored his second win in as many starts this season. Joe Gordon, veteran second baseman, bagged three hits and batted in three Indian tallies.

First Run Off Feller

Young Art Houtteman yielded seven scattered hits, fanned four, walked one and hit one batter with a pitched ball in his eight inning stay on the mound for Detroit. With Houtteman lifted for a pinch hitter, Frank (Stubby) Overmire hurled the ninth for the Bengals.

Infielder George Kell scored the lone Tiger run, the only one collected from Feller in his two games, in the ninth.

Masked Marvel, Clements Will Meet This Week and the Masked Marvel will go at it again Wednesday night in the feature attraction at Sled Allen's Wrestling arena.

In the semifinal, two-out-of-three fall, 45-minute time limit, Ace Abbott of Abilene tangles with Walter Stratton of Youngstown, Ohio.

Previous Bout Void

Billy Hickson of Knoxville, Tenn., meets Young Sandow of Toledo, O., in the preliminary. Yaqui Joe will be referee for all events.

Clements and the Masked Marvel wound up their match last week with a no decision contest when Referee Billy Sandow stopped a wild swing which Clements intended for the jaw of the Masked Marvel. Sandow passed out of the picture in that little fracas.

Clements, meanwhile, was thoroughly irked by the turn of events and proceeded to maul the Marvel, and unmasking him. Deputy Commissioner Oscar F. Sensabaught then declared the match a no contest and asked that it be rescheduled.

Fans will see a pair of old-timers from the standpoint of experience when Abbott and Stratton tangle in the semifinal contest.

Gets Bronx Cheer

Sandow, who collected a good share of Bronx cheers in his role as referee here last week, will meet a rough and tumble opponent in Billy Hickson in the one-fall prelim.

The first match will get underway at 8:30 instead of 8:15, the earlier starting time. Tickets go on sale at Wylie's Drug store Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Texans Dominate Drake Relays

Longhorns Take Championship With Three Victories; Parker Defeated

DES MOINES, Ia., April 24 (INS)—The legs of Texas ran off with three more team events today to give the Longhorns the mythical championship of the 39th Annual Drake Relays before 15,000 Olympics-conscious fans.

Beore the two-day carnival was over, Baldwin-Wallace's Harrison Dillard had turned in his 55th consecutive hurdles triumph, a :14.1 job over the 120-yard highs today which tied his relays record set a year ago and was accomplished, moreover, against a wind clocked at six miles per hour.

Hofacre Sets New Mark

Over the longer 440-yard hurdle route, Lee Hofacre of Minnesota was clocked in :52.7 to break the old Drake standard by half a second and give the Gophers two individual records for the 1,800-man get-together. Discus thrower Fortune Gordien supplied the other one yesterday.

Sparked by sprinter Charlie Parker and the great anchor distance man, Jerry Thompson, Texas added victories in the four-mile, quarter-mile and half-mile relays today to its distance medley relay triumph of yesterday. The Longhorns, thus, were only one event short of tying the all-time mark of five major event victories held by Illinois.

Texas A. & M. had another relay to its credit, so only three baton events escaped the Lone Star state, and two of these were taken by Ohio state.

Missouri took the other one, in the weird 480-yard high hurdle shuttle relay made even weirder by the fact that the Tigers' third runner, Bill Self, beat the gun. After much consultation, it was decided that Missouri's winning time of :59.2 would be disallowed as a new relays record, which it was, but that the Tigers would be permitted to keep first place in the event.

Despite the nature of the program, the only Relays record which fell went by the boards yesterday when Baldwin Wallace, with Dillard running a fine fourth spot, won the college half-mile test.

Parker Gets Bad Start

Today's individual victors included Charlie Peters of Indiana, in the 100-yard dash, and Norm Wasser of Illinois in the shot put. A poor start in the 100 kept Texas' Parker from adding perhaps another triumph to the impressive record of his state.

Charley Parker of the University of Texas breaks the tape in the first heat of the 440-yard relay at the Drake Relays, Des Moines, Iowa. Allan Thompson of Nebraska is finishing second. Texas' time was 0:42.2. (AP Wirephoto.)

Longden, With 3,001 Turf Winners, Will Go After No. 3,002

SAN MATEO, Cal., April 24 (AP)—Jockey Johnny Longden rubbed his balding pate with a muscular hand as he relaxed in the riders' quarters at Bay Meadows track, and said he figured he'd "keep right on riding" despite a million in the bank and a record of 3,001 wins.

The 38-year-old millionaire jockey booted a second-rate horse named Bub under the wire in yesterday's fourth race to become the first rider in American turf history to bring home 3,000 winners.

He also brought in Sun Fair it. the sixth to make it 3,001—but that, like the victories to come, was an anti-climax.

Longden said the two-length victory on the unheralded Bub was "the thrill of my lifetime. Not because this horse rated with some of the others I've ridden, but that 3,000 goal!"

Winthrop Rockefellers Expect Baby Next November, He Says

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, son of John D. Rockefeller, jr., says he and his bride are expecting a baby next November.

Rockefeller, 36, married Barbara Paul Sears, former actress, in Palm Beach, Fla., last February. They are now living in their Park avenue home here.

Mrs. Rockefeller is the daughter of Julius Paulekas, a Washington, Pa., coal miner, and Mrs. Peter Neveckas of Lowell, Ind.

Stassen Man Scores Victory At Denver

DENVER, April 24. (INS)—Harold Stassen won a surprise victory in Denver's congressional district convention of the Republican party today, when a delegate pledged to him ran ahead of six opponents.

The district is entitled to two delegates in the national convention. Charles A. Baer, only one of the seven candidates to announce his stand on the presidential race, drew 536 votes out of 1,039 cast.

The second Denver delegate named was former attorney general Gail I. Ireland, who made no comment on the presidential derby, with 410. Alternates chosen were Harold Taft King with 348, and Miss Mary Pemberton with 267. Miss Pemberton told the convention that she was "an admirer of Senator Taft," but denied that she was pledged for the Ohioan.

The newly organized Citizens for Stassen club in Denver, of which Baer is a director, hailed his victory as "unimpeachable evidence of Stassen's popularity and growing strength in Colorado."

MORE TROUT THIS YEAR

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—C. A. Lockwood, state game supervisor, reported that the rearing capacity of the game commission's hatchery on the McKenzie River will be increased to 1,000,000 trout this year, more than double the existing amount.

Pearman Paces NYU To Win In Penn Carnival

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, April 24. (INS)—New York university and its stretch-running Reggie Pearman left them cheering late today with a melodramic 3:15.5 victory in the one-mile college championship — academy-award climax of the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival.

Michigan Second

It was the climax to end all others, with Michigan a desperate stride back in 3:15.7 and Seton Hall crowding up on the others with a third place 3:16 flat.

Meantime, Pennsylvania was just close enough with its 3:17.4 in fourth place to bring the curtain down on an exit-line that left 35,000 witnesses limp and barely coherent.

The denouement came in a moment of blinding impact right at the payoff post, with N. Y. U., and Pearman rising to a degree of magnificance, so often cherished and seldom achieved.

Nonetheless, to the man that he beat, Herb Barten and the team that was second went the king-size honors of the meet and the name, of the race of itself.

Pearman In 47.9 Quarter

Barten who "repeating" only 50 minutes after anchoring Michigan to its fourth carnival title in 7:49.6 for the two mile relay championship. Yet he finished just 2/10 of a second away from a dead-heat. A great finish.

It brought Pearman roaring through a last quarter in 47.9 to go from one yard behind to one in front. The tiring Barten did 48 flat. So did Seton Hall's Jack Fox in third place with Penn's Jeffrey Kirk, first coming from nowhere to challenge everybody at the head of the stretch—then falling back.

Only Penn State and Lackland Air Base were able to do something about Michigan's near-sweep. The Fliers had three winners for the meet namely, Major George Salisbury, with his 208 feet ½ inches in the javelin throw, and Lt. William Carter in the invitation 100. Also yesterday's 440-yard relay champions, featuring Pvt. Willie Anderson, who's known for two things. He is Comedian Rochester's son, and he runs faster than Rochester's ex-horse, Burnt Cork.

Penn State, with its Ashenfelter-Karver combination, also took its second title today with a commendable 17:30.7 in the four mile championship relay.

Just a mite more commendable was the winning 24 feet 7⅝ inches by Wayne university's Loranzo Wright in the running broad jump.

But better than both was the manner in which ex-Panther, Bill Carter, bolted away from Paul Cowie, Princeton, and Maurice Fuquay, Oklahoma Aggie, to take the special 100 in 9.7.

Ward Tops Stranahan In Pinehurst Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., April 24. (INS)—Harvie Ward Jr., 22-year-old University of North Carolina student from Tarboro, N. C., won the 48th North and South Amateur Golf championship at Pinehurst today by tripping Frank Stranahan of Toledo, 1-up over 36 holes.

The calm, blond college boy was deadly with his putter. Time and again he sank long putts.

Match Is Close

Ward had a one-up lead at the end of the first 18 holes but Stranahan evened the match on the 21st with a birdie three. From that point on the match see-sawed back and fourth between a one-up advantage for Ward to all-even.

At one point, however, Ward stretched his margin to two-up. Stranahan closed the gap to one-up but missed a chance to tie the match on the 17th hole by blowing a 30 inch putt.

The two halved the final hole with fours.

Texas Colt Romps To Wood Memorial Win

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—Duplicating his daddy's victory in 1942, My Request shattered the Derby hopes of 10 other three-years-olds today by driving to a tingling length and a half triumph in the 24th running of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

Thus the handsome chestnut son of Requested, who won this mile and one sixteenth classic six years ago, goes to Louisville with a perfect record for the season and established himself a colt to reckon with in the Kentucky Derby a week from today.

It was the first start for My Request, owned by Texas Ben Whitaker, since April 10 when he captured the Experimental Handicap No. 2—and the colt was even more impressive this time.

And again a long shot came along to grab second money—this time C. V. Whitney's Mount Marcy, who closed at 40 to 1. Mount Marcy held a length margin over King Ranch's Better Self, who finished third after being established second choice in the wagering.

Fourth Victory For 1948

Made the even money favorite by the crowd of 48,711 persons who jam-packed this Long Island course, My Request paid off at $4, $3.20 and $2.40 for $2.

The victory, worth $34,600 to Whitaker, shot My Request's total earnings to $160,825. This was his fourth victory in four 1948 starts, and the tenth time he has entered the winner's circle. He has started 17 times in his brief career.

More than 10,000 lakes have been charted in the Minnesota lake region.

Chicagoan Leads Keg Tournament

DALLAS, April 24 (INS)—Shirlee Wernecke, a Chicago bowler who paid her own entry fee to the Woman's International Bowling Congress and competed with a "pick-up" team, took a 30-pin lead for first place in the singles division in Dallas today.

The Chicago clerical worker totaled 696, only 16 pins short of the WIBC singles tournament record. The record is 712, held by Marie Clemensen, also of Chicago, and rolled at Indianapolis in 1934.

Shirlee, who will be 25 next Tuesday, replaced Jennie Virkstis of Grand Rapids, Mich., as the singles leader.

Shirlee also took over second place in the all-events standings with a 1,848 score, two pins less than the total of Virgie Hupfer of Burlington, Ia.

And Shirlee and her partner, Mary Sims of Chicago, totaled 1,160 on doubles, good for the runner-up spot behind Evelyn Anton and Laraine Rubow of Milwaukee, Wis., who have 1,164.

Levelland To Meet Seagraves In Oil Belt League Opener Today

LEVELLAND, April 24. (Special)—A full schedule of four games will be played in the Oil Belt League Sunday afternoon, with three teams seeking to gain victories to even their standings for the season.

Three games were played last week in the league's opening tussles, with the Brownfield Bears beating the Levelland Refiners, Slaton beating Seagraves and Post licking Littlefield.

Sundown, Slaton Play

Denver City, scheduled to play at Sundown, watched their initial contest blown out by a sandstorm. The game will be made up later in the season as a doubleheader.

Sunday's feature game will be the inaugural in Levelland, where the Seagraves nine will help to unfurl the flag and open the home season. The Refiners have shown signs of getting their attack rolling and, behind the hurling of Dewey Estes, may get revenge for their defeat last week.

Sundown, playing its first game, will go to Slaton, where Lefty Faulkner probably will hurl the first home game of the season. Faulkner combined with Jim "Whistle" Banks of Texas Tech to beat Seagraves last week and the same duo may turn the trick tomorrow against Sundown.

Denver City, which was not able to open the league at Sundown last Sunday, plays host to a Post team that walked away with its first victory Sunday. Post had little trouble in turning back Littlefield and this game should be one of the top contests of the day.

The final game on the schedule sends the once-victorious Brownfield Bears to Littlefield to meet the once-beaten home team. A victory for Brownfield, coached by canny Harold Crites, would make them favorites in the pennant race. A victory for Littlefield in their season's opener, would even the league race.

Membership in the new club, which will devote its activities primarily to the various phases of target shooting, is open to boys or girls under 18 years of age. Anyone interested in joining may see Colgan.

Officials of the new club, who have been elected, are Roy Middleton, president; Bobby Lee, vice president; J. T. Wylie, executive officer; Charles Miller, secretary; and Beneley Don Townsend, treasurer.

The club was granted a junior club charter in the National Rifle Association's youth program by that organization.

BUSTED HAND IRKS FIGHTER

Bill Henderson To Make Third Pro Fistic Appearance Monday

Bill Henderson of Levelland, former Golden Gloves featherweight champion of Texas, will make his third professional ring appearance Monday night in New York.

Henderson wrote friends in Lubbock, immediately after he had won his second pro bout by a knockout in Bridgeport, Conn., Wednesday night, that he was scheduled to fight in New York. He did not know the name of the arena, nor his opponent, but expected to know before the week end.

Both Boxers OK

Doctors, after examining J. D. Kirkpatrick's fractured left hand, declared that he would not be able to fight this coming week. The light heavyweight broke his hand in scoring a second round knockout in his initial professional bout April 13.

Both fighters are well, happy and thrilled over their initial fights. Kirkpatrick, according to Joe Vella, his manager, was a bit disgusted over the fractured hand, but is accepting it as one of the fates of the boxing profession. An early return to ring action is foreseen.

Andy Anderson, Outdoor editor of the Houston Press who is known throughout the nation for his work helping disabled veterans enjoy their favorite sports, will be chairman of the program.

University Of Texas' Plan For Better Athletic Plant Realized

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—A ten-year plan for an enlargeed, lighted intramural athletic plant to serve the University of Texas' 10,000 men students has been completed.

Intramural Director Berry Whitaker, who guided the big project from its inception, said today that the completion of 20 hard-surface tennis courts winds up the program.

Black Hubbers, Negro American Nine Play Today

The Black Hubbers have gone to Amarillo, where this afternoon they will play the first of a home and home two-game series with the Detroit Senators of the Negro American League.

The second game of the series will be played in Lubbock at Rosenthal Field next Sunday.

Play Here Tuesday

The Detroit Senators, who have been holding spring training in Mexico, are currently in Texas for an extended exhibition tour. They will come to Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday nights for a two-game series with the Houston Wolverines, also an outstanding colored team.

The games at Rosenthal Field will begin at 8 p.m., with the ticket windows opening an hour earlier. Half of the grandstand will be reserved for colored people, the other half will be reserved for white. White baseball fans will be admitted to box seats after admission charges.

Both the Senators and the Wolverines are outstanding ball clubs and present colorful exhibitions. Their series is expected to attract a large crowd, which will see well played baseball.

Hutchinson To Toss

Black Hubbers Manager James Lewis said Saturday he was anxious for his squad to get in more practice in order that he might be able to appraise several promising rookies. Lewis announced that Righthander H. S. Hutchinson has been chosen to start on the mound in today's game against John Neal or Bill Barnes of the Detroit nine.

Publinx Tourney Qualifying Rounds To Be Resumed Today

The first 18 holes of medal play in the qualifying round for the Mayor's Cup at the Meadowbrook Publinx golf course began yesterday, with an additional 18 holes of qualifying play being fired today.

Paul Jones, Meadowbrook golf pro, said that the largest entry list of the spring season was expected to attack the 18-hole qualifying round. Golfers will turn in their scores at the club's office following their matches and ranking will follow.

For the following two Sundays, May 2 and May 9, match play over the 18-hole route will be shot on an elimination basis.

Semi-final play, also over the 18-hole course, will be shot Sunday morning, May 16, with the championship play over the 18-hole course following the same afternoon.

Awards to winners will be given at a special meeting following the championship play May 16.

Husband Now Takes Beating In Annual Spring Cleanup

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 24—Spring housecleaning used to involve only a determined wife, an unwilling husband—and a few arguments.

For a day or two the place looked like it had been hit by an untidy typhoon.

When all the dirt had been shooed out, the glaze died down in the lady's eye, and she limped to her couch for a long afternoon nap—victory at rest.

Mostly Grunts

The husband's role in the entire procedure consisted largely of self-pitying grunts as he shoved the furniture back into position over the worn places in the rug. His pocketbook wasn't bruised much.

Today "housecleaning" is as complex as a military amphibious landing—and about as expensive.

At least that is the situation in my cliff-dweller's cave at the moment. Frances began by describing it as "a housecleaning." For two weeks I came home each night to find battalions of strange people swabbing the joint, slapping paint at the walls and waving samples of vari-colored buntings that would blanch a chameleon.

Frances finally said, "after seven years I think we can stand a change."

I looked at the price of drapery sample she held in her hand. My hair rose in horror.

A man came to rebuild two easy chairs and a love seat. He charged more than the fellow who sold them to us. Another man came and rolled up the rug.

"I'll beat it myself and save money," I offered.

"He didn't come to beat it," said my hausfrau. He's taking it away. We're getting a new rug."

"Well, try to keep it under $75," I said.

"Listen, Midas," said Frances. "Today $75 won't buy a prayer mat for a one-legged Moslem."

Something New

A man with a bucket came in and painted the front and back walls a lovely blue-bottle-fly-green. Then he departed leaving untouched the gray side walls—the pleasant, cheerful gray a man's face gets after staying out all night.

"He's coming back tomorrow to finish up?"

"No, we're trying something new for us—a two-color living room," said Frances.

When I saw the final figure for overhauling the house, I went to see an older man whose wife had been seized by the same refurnishing phobia. He was in black despair.

"Twenty-five years ago," he recalled hollowly, "I rented a six-room cottage on a good plot of ground. The rent was $35 a month. I furnished the six rooms and filled the coal bin for $2,500.

"I am now furnishing an alleged three-room apartment. It costs $103 a month and I don't know yet where the third room is. All I can find is a bedroom and a living room.

"To date the living room alone has cost me $3287.96 to furnish. And my wife says she isn't through yet.

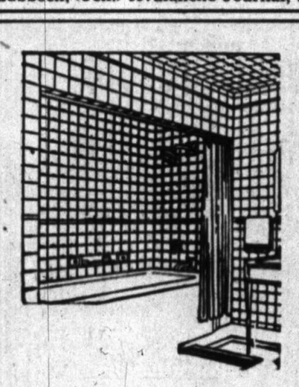

"And you come to me expecting sympathy!"

It isn't the house that takes the cleaning any more. It's the husband.

PLANE ABANDONED AT SEA

Presidential Choice Of Texans To Be Decided Next Saturday

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texans who want to have a real voice in saying who the candidates for President of the United States will be have their first and last chance Saturday May 1.

Democrats and Republicans hold precinct conveations that day. Anyone qualified to vote is legally privileged to attend and have his say. For Democrats especially, these are the major questions before the precinct meetings:

Questions Faced

1. Who will be the delegates to the county conventions?

2. Will these delegates be uninstructed on presidential candidate choice, but instructed against a civil rights program?

3. Will the delegates be instructed for re-nomination of Harry Truman? for Eisenhower?

Both major parties are in an uproar this year in Texas. The Democrats are divided on the Truman-civil rights question; Republicans are rowing over who will run the party and which of a long list of potential presidential candidates they may back.

Demos Wrangle

The Democrats are also in a party-control wrangle. The forces headed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester want a Texas delegation uninstructed as to candidates but instructed against any federal civil rights program. The Woodville Rogers faction wants a delegation flatly instructed for Truman.

The precinct conventions are important because they determine the make-up of the county conventions, to be held Tuesday, May 4. The county conventions, in turn decide the temper of the state conventions May 25.

The state conventions decide who Texas' delegates to the national conventions will be, who and what they are for. They nominate the party's presidential electors.

Real Chance

But for the average voter, who may or not be a delegate to any convention, his real chance to speak and cast a vote for what he believes in and who he wants to support, comes next Saturday.

In the cities, the precinct conventions are held at 7 p. m. In rural areas they are at 2 p. m. The voter has to find out for himself where.

Texans who want Henry Wallace for President meet in Houston Sunday to organize a new party in order to make sure his name gets on the November ballot.

There were other political developments.

Sledge May Run

Terrell Sledge of Kyle, who polled 66,947 votes against Tom Connally for the U. S. Senate two years ago, is thinking about running again. He sent out 1,000 cards to friends over the state asking for financial and ballot support. He asked each of the thousand to pass his request along to 10 other persons. Sledge said his decision on whether or not to run would hinge on the response.

He and other aspirants for W. Lee O'Daniel's seat in the Senate have until June 7 to make up their minds.

Former Gov. Coke Stevenson paid his $100 filing fee and became an official candidate last week. There was still no definite word as to whether or not Rep. Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City would get in the race, but he was still rated as probable.

U. S. Has Plenty Of Wheat After Exports

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Agriculture officials said today the nation still has a plentiful supply of wheat after nine months of heavy shipments abroad.

They said the department's new report on wheat stocks indicates that the government, if it wants to, can add extra wheat to the amount booked for shipment during the last three months of the crop year. This can be done, they said, without dropping reserves to the minimum 150,000,000 bushel carry-over set by Congress.

The report showed that the nation had 478,000,000 bushels of wheat in all positions on April 1.

May Reach Truman Goal

Under present shipping schedules, exports for the crop year will total 466,000,000 bushels of wheat and 90,000,000 bushels of coarse grains. To meet this program, the government must export 96,000,000 bushels of wheat during April, May and June.

If it shipped an extra 14,000,000 bushels, the government would boost total grain exports for the crop year to 570,000,000 bushels. That is the amount President Truman set as the goal when he launched a food conservation program to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for export last October.

Lubbock Doctors Will Attend Medical Association Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. Allen T. Stewart of 3120 Twenty-first will leave this morning by plane to attend a meeting of the Texas Medical association April 26-29 at the Rice hotel in Houston, where Dr. Stewart is to be chairman of the obstetrics and gynecology section.

Dr. Clarence Mast of 1908 Broadway will deliver a paper, "Hydatidiform Mole and Chorion-epithelioma," before the obstetrics and gynecology section, and will present a case in connection with his paper.

Guest speaker for the section will be Dr. Ralph Luikart of Omaha, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Creighton university.

Dr. Stewart will also represent the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society in the House of Delegates. Dr. Frank B. Malone of 2435 Twenty-first will act as alternate delegate.

THE ONE IN THE MIDDLE'S AN ALIEN—Mrs. Julia C. Bonati, 38, leaves Ellis Island, New York immigration center, after immigration officials released her. She had been detained because her six-month-old baby, Richard, is regarded as an alien under a recently changed immigration ruling. Mrs. Bonati, a native of Rochester, N. Y., and wife of an Italian, had been living in Italy for 18 years. Older son, Frank, 12, left, is a citizen under the old ruling. Richard was paroled pending further investigation.

Lamesa Kiwanis Club Launches Campaign To Improve Library

LAMESA, April 24 (Special) — The Kiwanis club here has launched a campaign to provide additional equipment, furnishings and books for the County-City library, club President J. P. White reported today.

Magazine racks and reading tables have already been installed in the library, admittedly one of the poorest in the state for a city of this size, through the efforts of the civic club.

Enough money will be raised to provide a desk for the librarian, Mrs. Nellie Carter, proper lighting facilities, reference books, fiction publications and current magazines if possible, White stated.

The club plans to stage a money-raising entertainment program to help raise the necessary funds. Contributions may be made to White, or library committeemen Roy Storey and Lex Brock.

A large new sign has been provided for the library by the Kiwanis club, and it will be erected over the library's new quarters at 811 North Third.

Woman To Get 'Rain' Dumped On Farm Land In Kansas

SAN ANA, Cal., April 24 (AP)—Mrs. J. E. Morris won a radio station farm contest today in which the prize was a chance to have artificial rain fall on her land.

Only trouble, the housewife said, was that her "land", here — 30 feet of front lawn—currently is ankle-deep in rain.

The station is arranging with the University of Wichita, Kan., to seed with dry-ice the clouds over a piece of land she owns near Winfield, Kan.

CIO Steel Union To Ask Wage Hike Despite Company Stand

PITTSBURGH, April 23. (AP)—The CIO-United Steelworkers served notice today it will plug for pay boosts despite U. S. Steel Corporation's avowed attempt to peg living costs by denying wage increases and cuting prices.

The big union's potent wage-policy committee adopted a resolution here renewing a "no strike" promise but calling on about 600 steel producing and fabricating companies to extend deadlines on current wage negotiations.

The U. S. Steel Corp., No. 1 steel producer and employer of 225,000, announced yesterday it had refused to grant the union's demand for "a substantial wage increase." Instead, the corporation disclosed, it was cutting prices to the tune of $25,000,000 a year, in an attempt to promote a trend toward lower living costs. Westinghouse Electric Corp. then announced it was reducing prices approximately $3,125,000 a year. General Electric Co. previously announced price cuts.

About one of every five persons in the United States lives on a farm.

Tom Gordon Resigns From County Office

His resignation as assistant county attorney, effective May 1, was announced Saturday by Tom Gordon, who will resume general practice of law.

He has an office at 620 Lubbock National building.

Gordon became assistant county attorney under appointment approved by the county commissioners court 16 months ago, after brief practice of law here following his separation from the Army Air forces. He went into service as an enlisted man and was separated three years seven months later as a captain. He and Mrs. Gordon live at 3219 Twenty-second.

County Attorney John Steele said he regretted Gordon's decision to resign, and was unreservedly complimentary of his assistant's performance of office. Steele said he had no plans to ask the commissioners for an assistant at the present.

Gordon said his work had been "made uniformly pleasant by the unusual degree of cooperation of city, county, district and federal officers."

Soviet Composers, Accused Of Being 'Formalist,' Keep Quiet

MOSCOW, April 24 (AP)—Pravda reported today the presidium of the current Congress of Soviet Composers here has demanded that leaders of the formalist trend in music make statements.

"However," the Communist party newspaper added, "the majority of them, as before, prefer to keep quiet."

The party's central committee censured seven Russian composers Feb. 11 for being influenced by "the modern decadent music of Western Europe and America" and following "a formalist trend—a trend against the people."

These included Dmitri Shostakovich, Serge Prokofieff, Aram Khachaturian and Vissarion Shebalin. Some since have promised to change their ways.

Pravda reported that Shebalin, pleading indisposition, sent the congress a letter but "it contained nothing but commonplaces." It said of Khachaturian simply that he spoke to the congress about his plans for the future.

Livestock Losses From Creek Poisoning Reaches 500 Head

HOUSTON, April 24 (AP) — The value of livestock losses from arsenic poisoning in the Brazoria county Little Linville creek may exceed $750,000, a Victoria rendering company operator declared.

Carl Huntington, owner of the South Texas Rendering company, yesterday said 500 head of cattle removed from the creek area had been brought to the Victoria plant. He estimated many other head had been sent to neighboring plants.

The tank carload of the chemical mixture was dumped last week after having been mistaken for dirty water.

Guesses by stockmen in the area have ranged from 300 to 750 head of cattle already dead.

Rhode Island GOP Thinks About Playing Along With Joe Martin

By JAMES F. KIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 24 (AP) — Rhode Island Republicans toyed today with the idea of adopting House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., of neighboring Massachusetts as a "favorite son" for the GOP presidential nomination.

Some party leaders suggested the maneuver as a way to give little Rhody's eight delegates a freer hand at the national convention in Philadelphia—along with the possibility of being on the winning bandwagon.

To Be Chosen Monday

Rhode Island usually sends an unpledged delegation — and the state GOP committee is already on record in favor of keeping up this tradition.

Delegates will be chosen at a state convention on Monday. Just how much support the Martin "favorite son" plan will get among the rank-and-file is difficult to determine.

The plan—as its sponsors see it—would be for the delegates to cast their first ballot for Martin, whose home in North Attleboro, Mass., is only a few miles from the Rhode Island line.

Could Switch

Then, they could easily switch to the apparent winner on subsequent ballots.

Political observers say the sentiment among Rhode Island Republican leaders is strong for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, but former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota is picking up strength.

Stassen, these observers say, has considerable support among the young Republicans.

Rhode Island's last Republican governor—William H. Vanderbilt—is one of the national leaders of the Stassen campaign. Vanderbilt's headquarters as chairman of the Stassen finance committee are in New York, however, and he has not been openly active in state political circles.

Demo Date Not Set

The Democrats—lined up solidly behind President Truman under the leadership of national Democratic chairman J. Howard McGrath—have not selected a date for their state convention.

McGrath, in addition to serving as national chairman, is Rhode Island's junior U. S. Senator—and credited with keeping this state in the Democratic column in face of the nation-wide Republican sweep two years ago.

Two Are Killed In Auto Crash

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., April 24. (U.P.)—Two men were killed about midnight last night and six others injured seriously in a headon accident two miles west of here.

The dead were:

H. A. Olson, 41, Kirksville, formerly a motor car dealer here.

Mike Tonkovich, 20, Granite City., Ill., student at the Northeast Missouri State college here.

The injured were:

Bob Lewis, East Alton, Ill., member of the college's MIAA championship basketball team and a United Press all-conference selection.

Andy Rebeck, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cooper, Kansas City, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Barrett, Kirksville.

Cooper was driving the Barrett car, Lewis the other one, when one of the cars swung wide to avoid road work and smashed headon into the other one. The condition of all six survivors was characterized as serious at the hospital here today.

Tonkovich was student manager last fall for the Kirksville football team. Olson formerly played AAU basketball.

Denison Hotel Owner Injured In Arkansas Auto Accident

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 24 (U.P.)—Mrs. T. J. Long, president of Hotel Denison, Denison, Tex., was in a hospital here today for treatment of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when a car in which she and a daughter were riding went off a road near Little Rock.

Mrs. Long, widow of the late Dr. T. J. Long, suffered a broken hip, shoulder and knee, and internal injuries. Her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Loy of Denison, had attempted to pas sa truck.

TAFT CAMPAIGNS IN OHIO—Senator Robert A. Taft, center, began his two-week campaign in Ohio at a speech at Youngstown, Ohio. Talking things over with the Senator are Common Pleas Judge John W. Large Sum Of Money Is Held By Police

BLACKWELL, Okla., April 24 (U.P.)—Police held a huge sum of money today which they said would be returned to the loser only when he can tell them exactly how much he lost and where he lost it.

Chief W. R. Withrow said the cash was enough for him to retire on—but beyond that he would not describe it.

Three persons already have claimed the money but their claims have been proved false because they did not place their losses "anywhere near" the right figure, Withrow said.

"One of them guessed it was $300," said the officer. "It's a lot more than that. Someone will be quite upset when they discover it is gone."

He said he believed that the person who lost the case was either dead or had not missed it so far.

Los Angeles-To-Washington Aerial Skyway Will Be Dedicated Today Coast-To-Coast

WASHINGTON, April 24 (U.P.)—Skyway No. 1, the Los Angeles-to-Washington aerial highway for private fliers, will be dedicated today in civic ceremonies from here to the Pacific coast.

But, the Civil Aeronautics administration warned, any eager pilot who takes off today with notions of being the first to fly the route is due for a severe disappointment.

He won't find those ground markers which were supposed to be erected at 5,000 cities along the "Wright way," as the skyway has been named, in honor of Orville and Wilbur Wright.

The markers are important. They are ground signs with names of towns, directions to airports, latitude and longitude and other information that private pilots need.

Four Markers Set Up

A map showing a skyway which lacks markers is about as much good to a private pilot, one official said, as a map proclaiming that South America is in the Western hemisphere.

Since the Washington Board of Trade and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce announced with a flourish last year that skyway no. 1 was to be opened, the Civil Aeronautics administration says it has received official notice that new markers have been set up. Three are at Terre Haute, Ind., one is here.

Mrs. Blanche Noyes, CAA air marker specialist, has found three more on a flight between here and Dallas, Texas.

Officials said, however, that Alabama and Pennsylvania have extensive programs for setting up air markers. Some will be on skyway no. 1.

But if there are more now than the four new ones about which there is official knowledge, Civil Aeronautics administration officials wonder why they aren't told.

Oklahoma Ceremony Slated

Markers do no good unless information that they exist is put on the CAA maps that pilots use. There are rumors that the federal agency may not designate any more skyways until it has evidence that markers are up. It has about 100 applications.

Biggest celebration today is in Oklahoma City where not only the Wright way but four other skyways are being dedicated at an international air show. The CAA says the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce "thinks" there are 14 markers along Oklahoma's portion of skyway no. 1, but hasn't confirmed it yet.

The skyways besides no. 1 which intersect at Oklahoma City are no. 17, El Paso, Tex., to Niagara Falls; no 30, Los Angeles to Charleston, S. C.; No. 51, Winnipeg, Canada, to Laredo, Tex., and no 77, New Orleans to Great Falls, Mont. The CAA says it has no official knowledge of new markers on these.

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle is speaking at dedication ceremonies in Dayton, and CAA chief designate, Delos A. Rentzel, here.

Growing Unrest Is Reported In Nicaraguan Capital City

MEXICO CITY, April 23 (AP)—Travelers arriving last night from Managua, Nicaragua, said there was growing unrest in that capital.

The travelers said peasants, encouraged by the success of the revolution in Costa Rica, were arming for a possible attempt to overthrow the government of President Victor Manuel Roman Y Reyes, who is supported by strong man Gen. Anastasio Somoza.

Prior to the Costa Rican revolution there were recurrent reports that Gen. Emiliano Chamorro, now exiled in Guatemala, was gathering arms for a march on Managua. Chamorro has the reputation of having started 17 revolutions in Nicaragua in his 70 odd years.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—The stock market fattened its spring rally this week on a rich diet of bullish news.

In the liveliest sustained trading in 19 months—ever since the post-labor day collapse in 1946—share values pushed to new highs.

Although profit-taking sales slammed the brakes on leaders of the upswing and brought a slight setback today, the week's gain was the best since March 20.

These top developments fed investing sentiment:

The Communist defeat in Italian elections relieved long-felt fears of a deteriorating foreign situation. Resumption of full-scale coal mining following contempt penalties against John L. Lewis and the miners' union encouraged domestic business hopes. Rejection of steelworkers' wage demands by U. S. Steel led to expecation a third-round wage-price spiral might be averted. At the same time price reductions by "big steel" and by Westinghouse Electric spurred belief inflation can be halted and demand for products maintained. A third interim freight rate increase boomed railroad stocks.

Three times during the week, the quotation ticker fell behind actual floor transactions as buying and selling orders came in a rush. Total transfers of 10,-544,750 shares were the highest for any week since mid-September, 1946, and compared with 7,378,310 last week.

Cashing of profits proved too much of a handicap for the market in today's short session. The stock average receded .1 of a point to 68 on losses for oils and some pivotal industrials. Over the entire list 888 issues traded on the broadest Saturday since march 20 and of these 343 advanced and 306 declined.

Finishing lower were Gulf Oil at 70½, Pacific Western Oil 57½, American can 86 ⅞, Standard Oil (N. J.) 81½, American Smelting 59¼ and Chrysler 60¾. Some of the rail equipments and airline issues were better, among them Katy Common at 6⅜ and preferred, up 2¼ at 23¾; Southern Railway 45½, Transcontinental ⅞ Western Air 20, United Airlines 18¼ and Air Reduction 27⅛.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP) — Cotton futures rallied briskly today following an easy opening.

At times prices dropped as much as 85 cents a bale as a continuation of Friday's liquidating movement disclosed a lack of buyers. The sell-off, however, encountered short covering and the market turned higher.

The May contract was inclined to lag on the advance as a moderate amount of liquidating continued prior to first notice day next Tuesday.

Futures closed 40 cents to $1.00 a bale higher than the previous close.

Labor Shortage By Midsummer May Be Worse Than During War

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24— The U.S. faces a labor problem so tough that government labor experts say the work call will go out for all hands—including women and retired workers—by midsummer.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of the U. S. Employment service, predicts around 61,000,000 people will have jobs. In July 1947 some 60,078,000 were employed, an all-time record.

Goodwin says the situation is more critical than at the start of the war because then the nation had an "unemployment pillow" on which to drop its wartime labor recruiting problem. There were 7,000,000 unemployed in 1940, but Goodwin says unemployment virtually is nonexistent today.

Crisis Is Discussed

Military and civilian officials have conferred several times recently on the labor crisis which they say must arise because of the European Recovery program, the U. S. defense program and civilian industrial requirements.

President Truman's Economic council has advised him labor recruitment should be on a voluntary basis. Emergency recruiting powers have expired.

Privately government officials say the availability of materials will help control the labor situation as it did during the war. That is—if material controls become necessary, they say, it means essential materials will be shunted to necessary industries and workers will follow the materials.

Figures Are Given

Statistics list 2,400,000 people "unemployed" today, but Goodwin says this is misleading. Actually, he says, they were only shifting from one job to another or were temporarily out of work. Jobs were available for them.

Although there is virtually no reservoir of unemployed, there are an estimated 5,000,000 persons outside the labor force today who were either in the civilian labor or military forces in 1944. (Technically, the "labor force" means persons working or looking for work.)

These mostly are women, men now retired or veterans who were in the military forces in 1944.

Goodwin says the most important part of the 1948 recruiting program will be to induce some of these people to return to jobs. Many of the women, however, now have families and many of the veterans are in school and probably won't leave except for patriotic reasons or offers of high salaries.

Other Ways Available

Other ways of meeting the production demand include hours of work, reclassification of jobs and importation of foreign labor.

Reclassifying means assigning a couple of assistants to a skilled worker. Altogether they may turn out the work of two or more skilled men.

During the war foreign workers were an important part of the labor forces. About 315,000 prisoners of war and other foreigners helped. The foreign labor force this year is expected to total from 50,000 to 60,000 agricultural workers from Mexico.

Goodwin says the big problem this year will be matching supply with demand, promptly.

Workers May Shift

As an example, a $100,000,000 shipbuilding program and an aircraft construction plan costing several billions are being discussed.

If steel becomes short and is shifted to ships from automobile and other industries, it might mean a movement of auto workers to such shipbuilding centers as Norfolk, Va.

A similar shift might be necessary to man the aircraft plants. At least one plant already is advertising for workers.

If employes leave other essential employment to work on ships and aircraft, other workers have to be recruited to replace them. One ripple of this kind might cause a wave that would disturb the whole labor market, Goodwin says.

The squeeze is expected by midsummer.

"A year ago agricultural employment climbed 3,600,000 between February and June," Goodwin says.

"Agricultural crop goals are at least as large this year as last. Demand for farm and food processing workers certainly will be as great as last year.

"An addition of 3,500,000 agricultural workers will increase total employment close to 61,000,000."

Louisiana Governor Planning Vet Bonus

BATON ROUGE, La., April 24 (AP)—Governor-elect Earl K. Long has mapped a legislative plan for payment of $50 to $250 bonuses to veterans.

He said yesterday his proposals will be submitted to the legislature meeting next month.

Long said the plan will be based on a constitutional amendment. He said a referendum will be scheduled if the legislature approves the bonus.

Proposed scale would be $50 for Louisiana veterans who served three months or more in the armed services, $75 for those who served six months, $150 for a year or more and $250 for those who served overseas.

Another feature of the plan, he explained, would pay $1,000 to widows or children of Louisiana servicemen killed in service. Similar payments would be made to parents, too, if the latter were actually dependent on the serviceman.

Long said the cost of the bonus plan would range between $38,000,000 and $40,000,00C.

Ways and means to get the money for the bonus have not been agreed upon. Close to 300,000 war veterans are believed eligible under the proposed program.

Dollar Bills At 89 Cents Move Slowly, Store Operator Finds

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., April 24. (AP)—One-dollar bills don't sell very well here—even for 89 cents.

By way of advertising for his new store, Olin Austin offered to sell each adult customer two one-dollar bills for 89 cents apiece.

But most people thought there was some catch to it and business has been "pretty slow," Austin reported today.

Some hard to please customers have even grumbled that 89 cents is more than a dollar is worth anyway.

Negro Faces Murder Charge In Death Of Man After Car Crash

HOUSTON, April 24. (U.P.)—George M. Conner, 39, died today of injuries suffered in an early morning auto collision.

Simon Adams, 22-year-old negro, driver of the car which crashed into the rear of Conner's vehicle, was charged with assault to murder, but police said the charge would be changed to murder by auto.

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

THE stories told by women usually leave a man wondering what's funny.

How does it happen that some girls splash their nylons on wet days while other keep them so sleek?

• • •

DAILY SHAVING

ONE radio advertiser includes in his commercial the disquieting statement that his message is addressed to the one man out of seven who shaves every day.

Our impression is that we don't see many men who are without recent shaves. They may fuss and fume about the constant need of the soap and blades, but they shave nevertheless.

Where do "dose bums" described over radio keep themselves?

HUMAN NATURE—To many people it is a surprise when a bus or street car they have boarded starts to move. They look at the driver in the same injured manner that is associated with that of the soda jerker who looks at you disgustedly when you ask for your check a few minutes after you have finished your drink. Then there are those who stand in front of an elevator as it approaches the lobby floor and then look startled when it disgorges passengers in front of them.

Through the Coral Doors

Howdy folks,

Seems to me everything is new behind those Coral Doors, first to catch my eye was a small round dining table that could double for bridge and extends for a dining table. It is exquisite blond mahogany by Dunbar.

And for those of you who lean toward traditional you simply can't resist the pair of pine chests just untrated and set in place with a series of old music sheets framed with pine, yellow velvet mats and rubbed turquoise frames. There are new tables, new lamps, new pictures, and new pieces everyplace.

Seems like everyday I go by Corner of Broadway and N. I see the freight man coming in with a new roll of carpet and a barrel of china. Where it all goes is a mystery to me and I hear Fredda is leaving for New York soon to buy more.

Maybe one reason it all has a place is because of the wide territory the Studio serves. Fredda was just leaving to see a client in Abilene and Evelyn tells me they have clients registered in their guest book from eighteen states.

Annie was just returning from an illustrated talk she gave at one of the clubs, while Mary, Evelyn, and James held down the fort and were kept quite busy showing silver, china, and linens for the brides-to-be.

I've an idea that you are going to see that 6 ft. 2" handsome blonde, James, go places. He can already tell you the names and prices of all the china and with a little assistance from Fredda, he can plan that masculine den or office. However, he seems happiest when working with the silks and satins for a more feminine room. I might add that all the ladies seem happy, too, with his results.

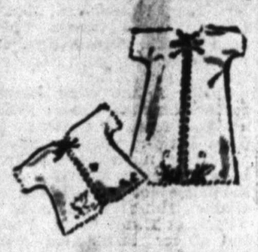

More news next week from my favorite spot, Decorators Studio, Corner of Broadway and N.

Grandpa Nosey.

P. S. A letter from Ruth Pirtle Lee shows that she is still a loyal Texan. She and Fredda plan on getting in some good talking soon while Fredda is in Washington and New York.

Square Dance To Be Open To Area Folk

With interest in square dancing continuing to grow, the Lubbock Square Dance Federation again emphasizes its invitation to those living in surrounding towns and others who may not have attended one of their dances.

The next one will be Tuesday night, April 27, at the Playmor dance hall on the Slaton highway. The Federation has exclusive use of the hall on that night, and the dance is for members, guests, and others approved by the recreation department.

Dancing is from 8:30 to 11, with an admission of 50c being charged members and non-members alike.

Membership in the federation is open and unlimited, the only requirement being a genuine interest in the old-time dances and in providing more opportunities for more people to enjoy them. Its activities are supervised by the Lubbock recreation department and them may be had by calling the department, 9346.

Summer plans of the federation will be made to comply with the wishes of the majority, but will probably be somewhat curtailed on account of warmer weather and vacation time. Special emphasis will be placed on the junior group, and a list of young people and children interested is being made up in the office of the recreation department. It will be open to all youngsters who are interested.

Kaufman-Hart Comedy, Will Be Presented By Tech Group Monday, Tuesday Nights

"George Washington Slept Here," hilarious comedy written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will be presented by the Texas Technological college speech department Monday and Tuesday nights at 8 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium. John L. Upshaw is director.

Students will be admitted on presentation of their activity tickets and admission charge to others is fifty cents.

The play, which captivated Eastern stage audiences during its successful run, is based on the tribulations of Newton Fuller, a family man who craves and gets "a little place to call his own." It is the record of the Fuller family after they move to a windowless, waterless, almost roofless stone house; of neighborhood quarrels, the elopement of the daughter with a summer theater actor; of week end guests and of a supposedly rich uncle who turns out to be bankrupt.

TFWC Program Plans Scheduled

AUSTIN, April 24.—Advance reservations for dinners, luncheons and special events indicate an attendance of 500 or more clubwomen from all over the state at the 51st annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Austin May 3-5. This is according to an announcement made today by Mrs. John J. Perry, Sweetwater, president, who is at headquarters here, perfecting last-minute convention plans.

Delegates and visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the newly decorated Governor's Mansion May 4 when presidents of Austin's federated clubs will be hostesses for a tea there. The entire mansion has been freshened up, inside and out, with new paint, paper, roof repairs, strengthening of the foundation, re-wiring, and complete remodeling of the kitchen.

Shepperd To Speak

The Texas-Pioneer dinner to be held the evening of May 4 will be one of the festive highlights of the convention. Pioneer clubs—those federated twenty years ago—will be recognized. John Ben Shepperd of Longview, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker. Shepperd has come to be noted as an outstanding authority on what young men of the world are thinking and doing about world peace. He is devoting this year to conferences with top leaders of government, business and labor in an effort to determine what young men of this nation must do to better the way of life in their communities, their nation, and the world.

A reception on the terrace at headquarters, following the opening session on the evening of May 3, will honor Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Virginia, General Federation president, featured speaker of the evening, and Mrs. Perry, Texas Federation president.

Arrangements have been made for two informal luncheons on May 4 and 5 at the Georgian Tea Room in headquarters building.

To Talk On Democracy

Fine Arts Evening May 5 will present the 52-voice A Capella choir of Southwestern University, Georgetown, and will feature an address "Is Democracy Worth Saving?" by Mrs. John Whitehurst, Baltimore, Md., General Federation Extension secretary for Foreign clubs.

Presidents of the eight districts of the Texas Federation will take an active part in the business sessions and will be honored, along with individual club presidents and Mesdames Perry and Buck at the

Tend Baby Wisely And Well And He'll Grow Sturdily

EDITOR'S NOTE: Baby week, which starts today and precedes Child Health day, May 1, gives American's lovely, lively and large crop of babies a special spotlight all their own. Importance of a love tonic for Mr. Babe's health is pointed out in this Associated Press story.

* * *

By BETTY CLARKE
Associated Press Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Baby will thrive like a sturdy flower, if Mother tends him wisely and well.

Just as she removes weeds from her garden, so must she weed out the first signs that her baby's development is off balance, and counter with treatment that will insure proper growth.

Fresh air should be available to every youngster, and Mother should make sure, whether she has a small, easy-to-care-for family, or a large troublesome brood, that her young ones spend as much time as possible outdoors.

Love and affection also are important cogs in baby's wheel of life. A good disposition later often is the result of happy babyhood. Mother will notice that if her youngster receives affection from his parents during waking hours he will sleep more soundly and securely during the night. A whining child often is a neglected, heart-sick child.

Cleanliness is the sign of a well-cared-for baby. It is a reflection not only on Mother but a dis-service to a little tyke who has no control over the situation, to make him an object of pity because Mother is neglectful of his needs.

Frequent diaper changes will keep small-fry happy and contented. Special baby lotions containing antiseptic ingredients for after-the-bath protection and after outdoor trips will cleanse and lubricate his skin.

Proper diet will bring roses to his cheeks. A good formula suggested by a doctor should be followed to the letter. If baby is breast fed, so much the better. Whatever his requirements, feed him on schedule. Baby sometimes has a say in the matter. He may cry to show his dislike of a bottle not quite warm enough. Respect his wishes.

Remember this is your baby and as the flower is watered so does it bloom. You can be proud of your offspring if you give them the proper foundation for beauty and a healthful life.

Texas Farmers May Or May Not Be Able To Hire Mexican Labor

HIDALGO, April 24 (AP)—Texas farmers may or may not be able to hire workers from the Mexican government. U. S. immigration officials said the only way to find out is for some farmer to try.

Some informatoin on a contracting agreement signed last February by U. S. and Mexican officials has been received by immigration officers here. Under it, Mexico will continue to allow her citizens to enter this country for seasonal harvest work. It doesn't clear up the standing of Texas would-be employers, however.

Texas was put on a labor blacklist by Mexico last fall after charges that her citizens were victims of discrimination in some places in the state.

CHARACTERS IN PLAY—Harrison Butterworth, above left, has the role of Sheridan Whiteside, a lecturer, reviewer and recounteur marooned in the home of a small town hostess, and Mrs. John Robert Moxley, right, has the role of Maggie in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," first play of Lubbock Group Theater which will be presented at 8 p. m., May 3, in Senior High school auditorium under auspices of Lubbock Optimist club. Butterworth, who has a bachelor of science degree from Dartmouth and attended Dublin university in Ireland, is an instructor in English at Texas Technological college. Tickets for the play are to go on sale Monday at boothes at Dunlap's and Hemphill-Wells Co. Prices will be $1.80 for reserved seats and $1.20 for general admission.

Squatters' Rights Still Count In Oklahoma, Commission Says

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24 (AP) — Squatters' rights mean something in this land rush state.

An advertising agency asked to build benches at city bus stops—and paint ads on them.

Assistant City Attorney Don Dow told the planning commission it couldn't legally approve the scheme.

"Public service is the issue," retorted the commissioners, and approved it anyway.

Confederate Army Veteran, 99, Remains Georgia's Honor Guest

By HARWELL HOWARD
INS Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—To veteran Henry Taylor Dowling, the high cost of living and the shortage of veterans housing are just empty phrases.

For he will live out the remainder of his days as an honored guest of the grateful state of Georgia.

Ex-Private, honorary General Dowling is no ordinary veteran. He is one of the three Georgians remaining of the 125,000 who fought for the Confederate States of America.

He's Now 99

Ninety-nine years old last Jan. 19, he is the only confederate soldier living in Atlanta's Confederate Soldier's home located, of course, on Confederate avenue.

Fourteen Confederate widows, whose ages range from 69 to 91, live there with him. At their beck and call day and night are a superintendent, two nurses, two maids, an orderly, and a cook.

In April, Georgia's three Confederate veterans and 755 Confederate widows cost the state $37,275 in pensions. General Dowling received $5 and veteran William J. Brown of Graymont and William J. Bush of Fitzgerald were paid $75 each.

Day Of Memories

The 741 widows on the pension rolls who live outside the soldier's home each drew $50 and the 14 living in the home were paid $5.

For the people of Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Alabama, April 26 is Confederate Memorial Day. It will, or should, be a day of high and solemn memories for them.

But for no one will that day be more crowded with memories of glory and of gore than for General Dowling. His thoughts will go back to his baptism of fire as a teen-age foot-soldier in the command of General Joseph E. Johnston in the stricken Carolinas.

Day Of Surrender

That day will also mark the 83rd anniversary of the surrender of General Johnston's forces at Durham Station, N. C., 17 days after Lee had sheathed his sword at Appomattox.

As a result of a slight stroke which he suffered more than a year ago, the general's speech is slightly impaired and his left foot drags a bit. But the frail old rebel is still surprisingly agile.

The Lord of the Confederate "manor" gets up at eight every morning and makes his way to the dining room in time to watch the 14 Confederate ladies totter in for breakfast. He whiles away his days having his mail read to him, and joking with the ladies and attendants.

Simple Observance

On this Memorial day he will not march in a brilliant parade through crowd-lined streets to the blare of martial music, as he has done on other April days in Atlanta.

His observance of Memorial day this year will be simple. A Georgia highway patrolman will drive him to Atlanta's Oakland cemetery with the soldier's home superintendent. There, in Atlanta's lovely garden of Confederate graves, he will pay silent homage to his fallen comrades-in-arms.

Working Girl Is Likely To Get Man's Job, Secretary Claims

DALLAS, April 24 (AP) — The working girl isn't likely to get crowded out of her job — she's more likely to latch on to some man's — a national leader of working girls said today.

Miss Olive H. Huston of New York, executive secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, made the comment in an interview. She is attending the Texas federation's three-day convention here.

Miss Huston said there are two reasons why women are in business for good.

For one thing, she said, women are proving their worth in more fields every year; for another, a recent survey showed that 67 per cent of the United States' 18,000,000 working women work because they have to — not just because it's fun. Taking away their jobs would be economically unsound, she said.

Lana Turner And Bob Topping Will Be Married On Monday

* * *

HOLLYWOOD, April 24. (AP)—The way was cleared today for the wedding movieland has been predicting all year—actress Lana Turner and tinplate heir Henry J. (Bob) Topping, jr.

The ink was barely dry on the divorce decree Arline Judge obtained from Topping in Bridgeport, Conn., when the Turner-Topping ceremony was set for Monday here.

The nuptials will be held in the home of William R. Wilkerson, Hollywood trade paper publisher who will double as best man.

Fourth Try For Both

It will be the fourth marriage for both 28-year-old Lana and Bob, 34.

The affair will have more than just a touch of what Hollywood terms "class." Miss Turner has ordered a $25,000 trousseau, including $5,000 worth of lingerie.

Filmtown insiders speculated that Topping might decide to toss the big party which was canceled last January before Miss Judge bowed out of the picture.

Topping at that time sent out some 400 invitations to a $25,000 champagne party at a Sunset Strip club he had engaged, in toto.

The millionaire sportsman filed suit first against Miss Judge, and Arline filed countersuit. It was on her charge of intolerable cruelty that Arline walked out of court yesterday with $100,000 alimony in one lump.

Was Insanely Jealous

The former actress, in shedding her fifth husband, testified that Topping once threw her and her maid bodily out of their Long Island summer home. She said he was insanely jealous, struck her, called her vile names and twice threatened to shoot her.

Miss Judge testified that the trouble started about a month after they were married in Miami Beach, Fla., April 29, 1947. It was Arline's second settlement with a Topping. She got $250,000 plus when she divorced Dan Topping—her second husband and Bob's brother—in 1940.

Her appearance in court yesterday was uncontested; Bob was right here near Lana.

Daughter Flower Girl

Other Turner-Topping tidbits: Matron of honor will be Sara Hamilton, magazine writer. Miss Turner's five-year-old daughter, Cheryl, by a previous marriage to Stephen Crane, will be flower girl.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, pastor emertius of the Hollywood Presbyterian church. The invitation list will be small and select.

The honeymoon trip will extend to New York and London.

Lana's previous marriages: once to bandleader Artie Shaw, twice to Crane. Topping's: Actress Jane Shadduck, socialite Gloria Baker and—Arline.

Girl Wins Without Cooking, Boy's Biscuits Help Him Win

TEMPLE, April 24 (AP)—Lamerle Walker, 17, was worried about her chances of placing in Central Texas handicraft and arts show here — she hadn't entered the cooking division.

But the judges named her girls' grand champion yesterday because of her showing in the arts, miscellaneous and sewing divisions.

On the other hand, Wayne Schmidt, 16, had enough points to be boys' grand champion — because of a second place in biscuit making and a third in cornbread. His other points were in arts, manual arts and miscellaneous.

Since the first American-made gasoline-powered automobile came off the line about 55 years ago, more than 2200 different makes of cars have appeared on the market in this country alone.

Strike Slowed Big Production

WASHINGTON, April 24 (U.P.)—The coal strike slammed the brakes on factory production just when it was hitting an all-time high, the Federal Reserve board reported today.

Shortages caused by the strike set back the board's index two points in March from the all-time peak of 194 in February. The 1935-39 average equals 100.

Because the strike continued into this month, April production will be lower, too, the board said.

Strike Costly

Industry sources estimate that the strike cost about 53,500,000 tons of soft coal. The miners are out more than $100,000,000 in wages. Most of the 400,000 miners were away from the pits for about four weeks, and their wages average about $28,000,000 weekly.

The Federal Reserve board's monthly summary of business conditions lined up the situation like this:

Until dwindling coal supplies slowed output, the nation's steel mills were producing at a new record peacetime rate in March.

Automobiles were rolling off the assembly lines as fast during March as at any time since V-J day. By biting into coal reserves, the industry was able to keep production going despite the strike. But a slowdown is in prospect for the next few weeks.

A DOLLAR WENT FARTHER IN WASHINGTON'S DAY

It is said that Washington once threw a silver dollar across the Potomac. Well, a dollar went further in those days. But here is good news for sick people—a price reduction that will make your medicine dollars go further. The makers of Mertox Compound have reduced the price of this excellent tonic approximately 17%.

The amazing results people have been obtaining with this great medicine has kept sales increasing in such volume that this lower price was made possible.

Mertox has been endorsed in writing by hundreds of Texas people. Here is what Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco wrote us:

"For the past 10 years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to press against my heart and made it difficult to breathe.

"I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times. My food just would not digest and soured on my stomach. I had had dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred, I felt all puffed up.

"I am under weight, but since taking Mertox two weeks, I have gained seven pounds. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine.

"Since taking Mertox, I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, wornout feeling. I was amazed at the quick action of this medicine."

The above is just one of many from people who report quick action for constipation, stomach disorders, kidney conditions, rheumatic pain, etc.

Safety Stressed In Truck-Trailer Unit Coming Here Monday

A Safety Tour unit of the Texas Motor Transportation association will visit Lubbock Monday and Harry Morris, president of Lubbock Auto company, has been selected as chairman for the event. The safety tour unit, a Ford-Fruehauf truck-trailer, is visiting 65 major Texas cities under sponsorship of the TMTA and Texas Ford dealers.

"The Texas Motor Transportation association is working hard to make car and truck operators more safety conscious," Morris said. "The annual loss of life and property on Texas highways has a considerable effect on the welfare of its people and we in Lubbock suffer our share."

Public Invited

Morris urged the public to come to the west side of the courthouse square Monday and view the exhibit and if possible take some of the driving tests. Invitations are being issued to local car and truck operators to visit the safety tour unit and take the tests.

"It is possible that we may overlook some of those who are vitally interested," Morris said, "in issuing the invitations, but we want every man, woman and child in the city to view this safety tour unit."

Members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce safety committee are cooperating in the safety program.

Spending Spree Is Halted By Officer

CHELSEA, Mass., April 24 (AP) Dough was something that about a dozen kids had plenty of—until kill joy policemen stepped in.

Their wild spending spree ended yesterday when Patrolman Hugh Fitzpatrick overheard a little girl ask a very little boy: "How come you don't give me any of that dough."

Inquiry brought forth information that the tiny boy had found $850 hidden in the cellar of a neighbor. He had distributed it among his friends.

The youngsters got loose at the refreshment booths at Revere beach and were having a gay time until Fitzpatrick got inquisitive.

Officers recovered $350. One little fellow was discovered trying to change a $100 bill for purchase of a candy bar. Another $100 was found in the school of a second youngster. Others turned in what was left of their cut.

Police are still searching for the missing $500.

"Big Three" In Oil Production Receive Aid From Other States

BY MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, April 24—The big three of crude oil production — Texas, California and Oklahoma —are receiving big assists from other states in the petroleum industry's supply and demand battle.

Such states as Louisiana, Kansas and Mississippi, with rapid advances in exploration and development, may hold the final answer to the tight struggle to meet unprecedented demands.

Louisiana, currently producing more oil than Oklahoma, last year led the nation in proved reserve discoveries.

Kansas Production Up

The Kansas conservation division recently set daily potential rates for the state's eighteenth and nineteenth discovery wells of 1948.

The state's crude production last week jumped 13,500 barrels daily, the primary reason why the nation's production, as reported by the American Petroleum institute, reached an all-time high of 5,390,650 barrels daily.

Mississippi's legislature has recognized the rapid growth of the industry there by establishing board to set allowables and establish other regulations.

Louisiana Jumps Ahead

Its production jumped 5,800 April 17.

Texas, with 2,419,000 barrels daily, is producing at maximum efficiency rates in all fields, but its new developments have not been as rapid as the booming Louisiana coastal area.

The Louisiana state mineral board last week collected a record $4,945,110 in bonuses when it leased mineral rights on 246,773 state owned acres.

Bidding was spirited on blocks in the Lake Raccourci area of Lafourche and Terrebonne parishes and in the offshore ship shoal area, where 152,138 acres brought $1,729,437 in royalties.

The American Gas association placed last year's proved reserve discoveries of crude oil and natural gas liquids over the nation at 704,811,000 barrels.

Oklahoma Second

Louisiana accounted for 182,625,000 barrels.

Oklahoma was second with 141,490,000 and Texas third with 102,634,000.

87,377,000, followed by Mississippi with 38,882,000.

California, now the second largest crude oil producing state, trailed with only 5,551,000 barrels.

API's record breaking daily production average of 5,390,650 barrels for the week ending April 17 represents an increase of 13,350 barrels and compares with 4,912,100 for the same period last year.

Daily Average Up

The Oil and Gas Journal listed the April 17 daily average at 5,714,360, an increase of 14,360.

The Bureau of Mines April demand estimate is 5,450,000 barrels daily.

William R. Boyd, jr., president of API, predicts the industry's supply and demand problems will continue in "delicate balance" for the year that began April 1.

He said the industry estimates its total supply of petroleum available to meet domestic consumption for the new 12 months period will average 6,025,000 barrels daily, an increase of eight percent over current demands.

Program Proposed

Gov. Beauford Jester has forwarded to Secretary of Interior Julius A. Krug a five-point suggested program on how to boost the flow of crude oil.

The point involve allocation of more steel to the oil industry, prompt settlement of the tidelands issue by affirming state ownership, drilling more wells in known fields rather than increasing allowables, utilization of requested new steel supplies to stop gas wastage, and halting conversion from coal to oil until crude production can catch up with demand.

The battle over the submerged tidelands was revived briefly early last week following a lull as congressmen studied proposals to give the respective states outright ownership.

A joint Navy-Interior department announcement said salt dome geological formations, possibly oil-bearing, have been discovered from 20 to 75 miles off the Gulf coast.

Texas Criticized

Defense Secretary James Forrestal, Attorney General Tom Clark, and Krug, a day later, advised Congress the discoveries emphasize the urgency for appropriate legislation to provide for the development, exploration and conservation of resources in such areas.

They criticized such states as Texas and Louisiana for attempting to extend their boundaries in the submerged areas.

Texas Attorney General Price Daniel, one of the leaders in the state ownership group, retorted that the announcement of "discoveries" and the letter to Congress from the three cabinet members were additional "attempts to tell Congress what it should do about the tidelands issue."

Daniel added that "geologists have known of the salt dome formations for years and have announced their findings in published reports."

In the laboratory:

A British professor reports discovery of a new compound which will permit automobiles to run a lifetime with no change of oil.

Based on flourine, the compound is said to elimate hydrogene from oils and makes them noninflamable.

Chemists of the Esso Standard La., report that a new catalyst, silica-magnesia, a combination of dried out milk of magnesia and common white sand, increase yield of gasoline by 25 percent.

BATTLESHIP REFLOATED

STRANRAER, Scotland, April 24. (AP)—The 31,000-ton British battleship Ramillies was refloated from a sandbank a mile off shore at high tide late last night. The ship ran aground in Loch Ryan while being towed to a break-up yard for scrapping.

On Canadian and U. S. railroads, a freight train and a passenger train start their run every five seconds of the day.

Former North Dakota Governor, Homesteader, Dies At Age 86

FARGO, N. D., April 24. (AP)—Louis B. Hanna, 86, North Dakota homesteader in 1881 and later governor of the state for four years and its representative in Congress, died Friday at his Fargo home.

Hanna suffered a stroke two months ago. A Republican, he served as governor of North Dakota from 1913 to 1916 inclusive, was a member of Congress the four previous years, was decorated by France for distinguished service with the Red Cross during World War I and by Norway for service to that nation.

EDINBURG, Scotland, April 24. (AP)—Scottish Comedian Will Fyffe, who died last December, left 44,000 pounds (about $176,000), his will filed for probate showed today.

New Wildcat Locations For Immediate Drilling Are Reported In Cochran, Hockley, Gaines Counties During Past Few Days

Locations for wildcats in south-central Cochran county, in central Hockley county, and in west-central Gaines county, were reported during the past week, for immediate drilling.

A petroleum prospector in central Hockley county, in a heretofore undeveloped area, has been completed as a flowing commercial producer. A discovery in northwest Gaines county was installing a pump, to complete and put on production, as the opener of a new field.

The Cochran county prospector is to be Bay Petroleum corporation and John Darden No. 1 R. E. Gardner. It is located 330 feet from north and east lines of tract 19, FO sub-division 2, and is three miles west of Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation No. 1 Veal, a recently completed extension to the Cochran county side of the Levelland field.

Drilling To Start

It is contracted to 5,100 feet to explore into the San Angres-Permian section of the Permian. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

Brown and Wheeler No. 1 Devitt estate is the central Hockley county venture. It will be 440 feet from south and west lines of labor 6, league 29, Rusk county school lands, abstract No. 204. It is two miles south of Levelland. Contract calls for the project to dig to about 6,000 feet, unless it gets production above that point, in the San Andres-Permian lime.

Cities Service Oil company and the Atlantic Refining company No. 1 J. H. Proctor, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, is due to drill to at least 7,500 feet, to test into the lower Permian, in west-central Gaines county—and it might be carried on down to at least 12,000 feet, to explore into the Devonian.

Hockley Well Completed

It is five and one-half miles west of the Seminole 5,100 field, and two and one-half miles northeast of the North Riley field. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 David Parsons, in central Hockley county, four and one-half miles southwest of Levelland, and 440 feet from labor 25, league 30, Baylor county school lands, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 188 barrels of 31 gravity oil, with no water, from pay at 4,865-4,907 feet.

That zone had been treated with 8,000 gallons of acid. The completion test was through 5 1-2-inch casing, and there was a two-inch opening at the top. Gas-oil ratio was small.

Installing Pump

Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation and Bay Petroleum corporation No. 1 Jones, five miles south of the Jones ranch field in northwest Gaines county, and 2,200 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block A-7 psl survey, was installing a pump to complete from the Glorieta section of the middle Permian, at 6,030-90 feet.

That interval had been treated with acid. On the last test reported, before operators started to put in the pump, it swabbed 147 barrels of fluid in 19 hours. It was understood that the water content was showing a gradual decrease.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 9-A Riley, wildcat to the San Angelo section of the lower Permian, in the northwest side of the Seminole 5,100 field, in Central Gaines County, drilled and cored to 6,822 feet in dry lime, and has been plugged and abandoned.

No Production Seen

Argo Oil corporation No. 1-N Jones, northwest Gaines county ventures to 9,500 feet, ten miles southwest of Denver City, and in northwest quarter of section 496, block G, CCSD & RDNG survey, had progressed 5,936 feet in lime, and was coring. Up to now it has not reported any indications of production.

Union Oil company of California No. 1 Weltner, in extreme central-west Gaines county, and in southwest quarter of section 16, block A-12, psl survey, had penetrated under 3,341 feet in anhydrite and lime, and was making more hole.

The Texas company, et al, No. 1 Jenkins, in extreme southwest Gaines county, and in southwest corner of section 4, block A-25, psl survey, was drilling ahead below 8, 169 feet in lime, and was going on to its contract of 12,000 feet, or production at a lesser depth.

Near Pay Level

The Atlantic Refining company No. 1-A J. O. Jones, northeast Gaines county wildcat to 5,000 feet, one and one half miles southwest of the Adair field, and in the northwest corner of section 6, block C-31 psl survey, was coring from 4,861 feet in lime. It is due to find the pay in the next 100 feet, it is to make a well from the Adair producing zone.

Atlantic No. 1 G. H. McDonald, 5,500-foot exploration in central Gaines county, three miles east of Seminole, and in northwest corner of section 128, block G, WTRR survey, was drilling ahead from 5,202 feet in dry lime.

White Eagle Oil company No. 1 Waters, in northlcentral Gaines county, ten miles east of Seagraves, and in northwest quarter of section 8, block C-32, psl survey, had progressed past 5,232 feet in lime and was drilling ahead. It is to go to 5,500 feet, unless it gets production above that point.

Terry Well Drilling

Bankline Oil company No. 1 F. L. Butler, in extreme southeast Terry county, and in the northwest corner of section 12, block C-39, psl survey, had drilled past 4,525 feet in lime and was continuing. It is contracted to 5,100 feet.

Fikes and Murchison No. 17-C Elliott, slated 7,500-foot venture in the southwest side of the Wasson 5,100 field in southwest Yoakum county, and in southeast quarter of section 823, block D, John H. Gibson survey, was making hole past 7,229 feet in lime.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Birtie T. Brown, central Yoakum county possible field opener, three miles southwest of Plains, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 446, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is still trying to fish out lost tools.

Production Possible

Total depth is at 5,303 feet. The cable tool unit which has been used on the project during recent weeks has been moved off, and a rotary has been put back on the hole, to use in trying to fish out the junk.

Some slight signs of possible production were shown on the last testing done before the fishing job caused a stoppage of the investigating.

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Wright, nine miles southwest of Whiteface, in southeast Cochran county, and in southwest corner of labor 25, league 95, Mills county school lands, had drilled to a total depth of 5,035 feet, in lime.

It developed salt water at that point, and plugged back to about 5,000 feet. The section between 4,862-5,000 feet, was shot with nitro glycerin. Operator was cleaning out the shot hole.

The chances for this project being completed for any sort of an oil well are rather slim, informed sources reveal.

Drilling Ahead

Cities Service Oil company No. 1-C Maston, 10 miles southeast of Bledsoe, in southwest Cochran county, and in southwest corner of labor 19, league 150, Randall county school lands, had reached 4,110 feet in anhydrite, and was making more hole.

Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation No. 1 Ford Hawkins, wildcat in central Cochran, and in southeast corner of tract 17, subdivision 2, league 131, Carson county school lands, had drilled below 4,927 feet and was making more hole. It has shown some signs of possible production, and is expected to be finished as some sort of an oil well.

Atlantic No. 1-B F. O. Maston, one quarter of a mile west of a recently completed small pumper in southwest Cochran county, 16½ miles southwest of Morton, and in northwest corner of labor 11, league 133, Armstrong county school lands, was installing a pump over total depth of 5,080 feet.

Ropesville Well Continues

The project has shown for a possible small production.

Honolulu Oil corporation and Signal Oil and Gas company No. 1-24 Ellwood, slated 7,500-foot wildcat in southeast Hockley county, four miles north of Ropesville, and in northwest corner of labor 24, league 5, Wilbarger county school lands, had reached 5,800 feet in lime, and was continuing.

Honolulu No. 1-13 Ellwood, in east-central Hockley county, three and one-half miles north of Smyer, and in northwest corner of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, was making hole under 5,449 feet in dry lime, and was going ahead to about 7,500 feet.

DeKalb Agricultural association No. 1 Ted Gray, in northwest Hockley county, one and one-half miles north of the Yellowhouse field, and in southwest corner of labor 2, league 705, State Capital lands, had drilled to a total depth of 4,516 feet in lime. The section above that point was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Plugged Back

It developed salt water, and no possibilities of oil production. Operation had plugged back to 4,488 feet, and was to test slight shows of petroleum above that point.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 T. E. Lutrick, semi-wildcat in south-central Hale county, about six and one-half miles northwest of Abernathy, and in northeast quarter of section 17, block D-8, EL&RR survey, had drilled under 5,993 feet in lime, and was drilling ahead.

General American Oil company No. 1 A. F. Byrd, discovery for some sort of production from the Cisco section of the Pennsylvania, in southeast Hale county, about three miles north and a little east of Plainview, was testing on the pump preparatory to completion from pay above the plugged back total depth of 5,906 feet.

Some Oil

On the last test reported the well was credited with having pumped about 250 barrels of fluid in 24 hours. Some of the recovery was water and the remainder was oil. Informed sources reveal that the water is showing some decrease The well should be completed and put on production in the near future.

General American No. 2 Byrd, one-half mile west of No. 1 Byrd, and in the southwest side of the north half of section 17, block K, TTRR survey, has reached 2,657 feet in anhydrite, and was making more hole.

Active drilling operations are slated to be started by the first of the week at three other stepouts to the No. 1 Byrd. Those projects are General American's No. 1 Bob Army And Air Force Teaming Up For Big Southeast Defense Job in "Exercise Assembly"

By ROBERT H. DENLEY
INS Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, April 24. — The Army and Air Forces are throwing practically everything they have in this country today into the defense of the southeast against an aggressor from a Caribbean base.

It's all part of "exercise assembly." That's the name of a training maneuver on a full theater of operations scale in which the old wartime partners, the Third army and the Ninth Air Force, are teamed again.

Not only is it a training exercise with a new look, but also it's the largest the United States has held since the war.

Mostly Mapboard

The exercise has been underway since April 12. So far, it has been mostly a mapboard affair, The command post phrase started at Fort MacPherson, Ga., and involves the movement of troops from throughout seven Southern states to assembly points.

Actual troop movement is now underway. But most of this phase was placed under censorship to make sure that intelligence groups do their work the hard way—not through newspaper and radio programs.

Generally, the exercise is built along these lines:

The Army officially says that "approximately 30,000 troops and 200 aircraft" are involved. Unofficially, the word has been rather loosely passed around that the exercise involves "pratically everything we've got available."

Planes Flee

The situation at this point is that enemy planes are being spotted with greater frequency over the Southern states seaboard.

The planes invariably refuse to fight, but flee southward. Intelligence reports that guerrilla bands, scattered through the South, are receiving arms and supplies by air. Intelligence adds that fifth column activities are growing steadily.

Our own photo-reconnaissance planes are making regular flights. Our troops are moving toward assembly points in North Carolina and Tennessee. They are fighting their way against occasional guerrilla bands — through simulated problems.

Now, coming up is this:

In May, guerrilla bands will seize the air field at Camp Campbell, Ky.

Paratroopers and airborne elements will counter-attack May 8 from loading points at Fort Bragg, N. C., and Smyrna, Tenn. That will be the "big show."

Ground troops, moving in by rail and air, will support the airborne boys. Later in May, they will launch a grand assault aimed at driving the invaders southward, presumably into the Gulf of Mexico.

The Army says that the exercise is a direct follow-up of last winter's "operation snowdrop," except on a larger scale.

Find Out Hard Way

The old idea of a blue force fighting a red force, and both reading from the same book, is out this time. A small force, drawn from as far away as Fort Lewis, Washington, and El Paso, Tex., has been receiving special training for months to act as the enemy. They will wear special uniforms and have special equipment.

This time, the defenders are already finding out the hard way, just what sort of tactics, weapons and fighting tricks the enemy has.

Sixty per cent of Canada's land area is covered with forest.

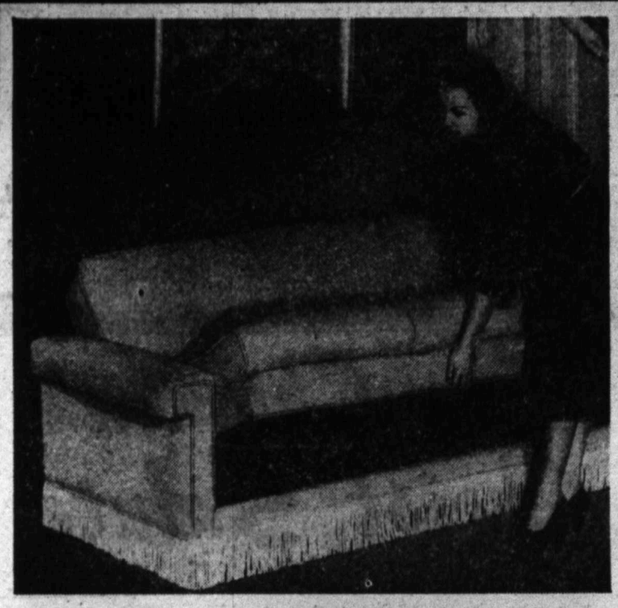

Sealy CONCEALED BED Lounge

HEATH Furniture offers you that extra bedroom: THE SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE!... with the famous Sealy construction, so comfortable for sitting, so soft for sleeping, with a flick of the wrist... a bed for two.

Who would suspect that this handsomely tailored lounge opens effortlessly into a big, thoroughly blissful bed. Yet the biggest news about this brilliant lounge is something you can't see—something you can't even guess until you drop into its depth. For the SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE was designed to make sitting so comfortable you'd never know you were sitting on anything but a sofa. You sit down—and you sink into bouyant, spine-soothing comfort. You feel none of the hard, packed down resistance that's so uncomfortable.

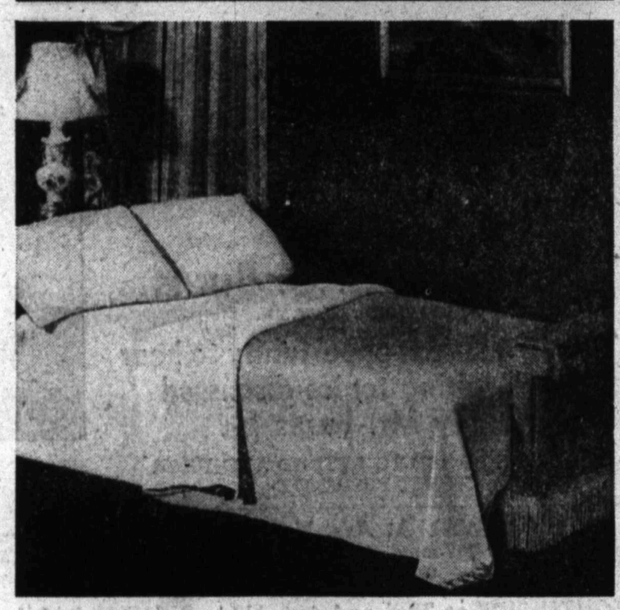

The secret of all this comfort is the special Sealy Innerspring construction mounted on a durable steel frame and the famous long-wearing No-Sag springs—these wonderful springs made of serpentine strips of steel tempered in perfect circles, then stretched and anchored from front to back to form taut, powerful, highly resilient arcs. Last newsmaking note: The lounge base comes with spring front edges that gives gently under leg pressure. This is the same spring action used by famous manufacturers in only their finest sofas and chairs.

Be sure and see the SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE—Come in and make your selection of many styles and richly-textured, richly-hued fabrics, plan to use it at any angle in your living room—for the tailoring on your SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE will be meticulous, careful to the last hand-stitched edge—and as beautifully done in the back as it is in front.

See how handsome every line, every angle of your SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE is, and see, too, how every last line from the slope of the arms to the slant of the back was built for sheer comfort.

(SECOND PHOTO)
With a flick of the wrist your SEALY CONCEALED BED LOUNGE slips open. You need no strong arm to tug or haul it about; you need only a few seconds to adjust it.

(THIRD PHOTO)
And now—You have your concealed bedroom: On go the bedclothes, and you're ready to sleep on a bed for two that's soft and big (an ample 48" x 72")

Right . . . . . Wrong

Cooperation Of Householders In Collection Of Garbage Is Urged

With the busiest season of the year facing the garbage department, members of the staff of the City Sanitation department Saturday issued reminders to householders of provisions in the city's health ordinances and asked their cooperation during the summer months.

The garbage department is now handling 160,000 pounds of garbage with eight trucks daily and the expected seasonal increase will tax the department unless provisions of the ordinances are met.

Ordinances Are Quoted

Section 2 (a) of ordinance No. 777 says: 'Garbage" is defined as rubbish, trash, kitchen and household waste, ashes, paper, food containers, small hedge and lawn trimmings. Section 10 (a), par. 2 of the same ordinance says: "The following acts declared unlawful, viz: the throwing, placing, dumping, or depositing of any lawn trimmings, hedge trimmings or other cuttings or trimmings of weeds, flowers or other vegetation on or in any gutter, street, sidewalk, parkway, driveway, curb, alley or on any other public property of the City of Lubbock."

Section 2 (b) "Brush" is defined as tree trimmings, weeds, large hedge trimmings, and trees not to exceed three inches in diameter, which have been trimmed and cut in lengths not to exceed five feet. Section 5 (b) The garbage department is authorized to not collect brush and trees from premises unless same are trimmed free of branches and cut into lengths not to exceed five feet and the weight of such lengths shall not exceed one hundred (100) pounds. All tree limbs when prepared in accordance with this ordinance must be placed between the sidewalk and curb on said premises, and the department of sanitation shall then be notified immediately by the person in control or possession of said premises. The trees and limbs shall then be removed by the department of sanitation if said trees and limbs are prepared in accordance with regulations as set out in this ordinance. It will be the duty of tree surgery operators, nurserymen, yard work contractors, or public utility concerns to provide their own facilities for removal of trees, tree trunks or any other accumulations of brush, and remove same in a manner which shall be designated by the department of sanitation of the city of Lubbock."

Time Limit Is Invoked

Under section 10 (a) of this ordinance it is unlawful for any person to place tree trimmings or brush in any alley or street, allowing them to remain for longer than 24 hours.

Section 12 par. 3 of the same ordinance says: "It shall be unlawful for any person transporting or in control of any vehicle used in the transportation of garbage, rags, refuge, manure or waste to transport same in such a manner as to permit the discharge of the same upon any alley or street in the City of Lubbock."

Waste Water Included

Section 1, Ordinance No. 427 says: "That it is hereby unlawful for any person to keep or use an outside privy or toilet upon any lot or tract of land the outside of which abuts upon a street or alley in which there is a sanitary sewer line within a distance of 100 feet from such outside line of said lot or tract of land, unless connected with such sanitary sewer.

Ordinance No. 82, section 8 reads: "It shall be unlawful for any person to fail to connect all washstands, lavatories, bath tubs, in the house or yard, with the sewers, or allow or permit any slops, wash or waste water of any kind to flow over the pavement or under the pavement, or into the streets or alleys." (This covers water discharged into alley or street from air conditioners)

Business houses can assist in keeping the streets clean by having porters or cleanup men, when sweeping the sidewalk in front of their establishments, instruct the sweepers to star from the outer edge of the walk and sweep toward the door, where all papers and placed in the garbage containers.

Big Spring To Play Host For Champion Roping Contest

BIG SPRING, April 24 (Special) Big Spring is due to be the gathering place for thousands of followers of western sports next Sunday, May 2, when champion ropers of the nation cross lariats in matched contests here.

Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, holder of many titles, will compete with Everett Shaw of Oklahoma in a $5,000 matched steer roping. Each will rope, trip, tie and brand 10 wild steers, low man taking the purse. An added attraction will be a calf roping event between Sonny Edwards of Big Spring and Walton Poage of Rankin, contesting by tying six calves each.

The program is under sponsorship of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse, and will be staged at the organization's new arena south of the Big Spring airport.

EXTRA CHARGES

ADA, O., April 24. (AP)—The express bill read, "one cat," but when Lee Morrison opened the crate, he found a cat and six kittens yesterday. The express company had added an extra charge, too—12 cents for milk at Cincinnati.

Holsum Bakery To Build $350,000 Bakery Plant On East Broadway

A $350,000 building for Holsum bakery will be constructed on East Broadway, across the street from the fairgrounds on the location where circus performances have been given at various times.

The building, which will be of brick and tile, modernistic construction, will be one of the most modern in the Southwest.

Announcement of plans for construction of the expansive, modern plant was made by W. E. Granberry, manager of Holsum bakery.

Partner With Roswell Man

Granberry is a partner with L. J. Reischman, who has a bakery in Roswell, N. M., in ownership of the Holsum bakery.

Modern features of the plant will include conveyor belts, which will be used throughout—from the oven through the wrapping room and to the loading docks—in order to eliminate extra handling of bakery products.

John T. Glover Contractor

The site already has been staked and preliminary work toward construction opened in the last week. John T. Glover & Son are the contractors. W. E. Long Co. of Chicago, exclusive bakery designers, drew the architectural plans.

Baking equipment in the plant will be new and of latest design.

Construction is to be completed by Sept 1.

Indicative of progress made by Holsum bakery since its opening in Lubbock, the first bakery was opened in 1933 with five employes and one route.

Operate 20 Trucks

Today, a fleet of 20 bakery trucks is in use and 20 routes are operated. There are 52 employes, more than ten times the number in the original bakery.

The present location of the bakery is at 1502 Avenue Q.

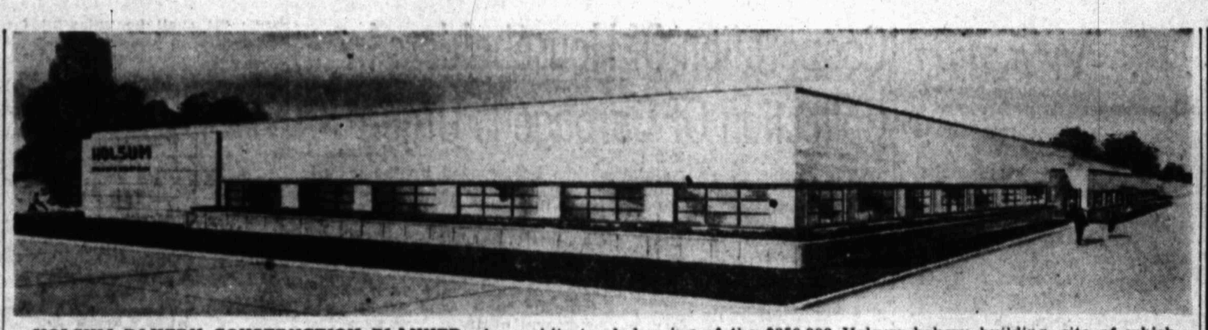

"The purpose of this building is to increase our capacity to take care of the demands for Holsum bread and at the same time give this community a bakery that is unsurpassed," it was announced.

To Be Air-Conditioned

The building will be air-conditioned. It will include the production department, office space and sales room.

Facing northward toward East Broadway, the building will be 130x182 feet and will be located on a 230x500 feet lot providing for lawn and parking space as well as the modern structure.

Outburst Interrupts MacFadden Wedding

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 24 (AP)—Bernarr MacFadden, 79-year-old physical culturist, took his bride yesterday—a 42-year-old grandmother. She was Mrs. Johnnie Lee, blonde, vivacious New York interior decorator.

The ceremony at the palm-shaded Community church on fashionable Lincoln road was marred by an outburst by a crusader known only as "the goat woman."

The woman, who leads a goat through downtown sections while she preaches against tobacco, suddenly appeared and ran behind the altar shouting, "This is against the holy word. It is illegal."

Three husky bellhops from the millionaire MacFadden's hotel here, doubling as ushers, quickly escorted her outside where patrolmen shooed her away.

The ceremony continued uninterrupted, but MacFadden in the excitement forgot to kiss the bride, and the Rev. John Yenches had to remind him.

At the reception, some 500 guests sipped carrot juice and munched whole wheat flour and honey cake. To non-followers of the MacFadden theory of health, champaigne was served and consumed in quantity.

For his brief honeymoon, MacFadden had a suite in his hotel. One of its rooms was covered with congratulatory telegrams sent by MacFadden health fans from all parts of the world.

A Democratic candidate for governor of Florida, MacFadden is to fly to Ocala today to resume his campaign. The new Mrs. MacFadden is to accompany him.

Laboratory Mice Are Free, But There's Good Job Open For Cat

OLEAN, N. Y., April 24. (AP)—There's a job for a cat at the Cattaraugus county laboratory.

Someone let guinea pigs and mice out of cages the other night. About 50 of the mice scurried into a basement.

Voting Public Wants Candidates To Give Future Plans In Talks

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, April 24.—In this summer's campaign for U. S. Senator, as well as other political races, the voting public wants candidates to protect their future conduct, not merely to point with pride to the past.

Most voters want the office seeker to commit himself publicly on a program of future action. A majority thinks a candidate's past record is important, but a larger majority would rather hear him tell what he is going to do than what he already has done.

Platform Is Asked

The Texas Poll found this to be true by asking a statewide cross-section of the voting public this question:

"When a candidate runs for office, do you think he should tell the voters what he has done in the past or what he is going to do in the future?"

The results:

1. Nearly eight out of every ten want to hear what the candidate is going to do if elected.

2. Less than six out of ten say they want him to tell about his past record.

3. About one-half insist he should do both.

4. One out of every three would give more attention to what he promises; only a third as many feel his past record is more important.

5. About one out of ten is not interested.

Both men and women voters are about equally concerned over how politicians will act in office, the following tabulation shows:

	Men Say	Women Say	All Say
What he will do	31%	37%	34%
What he has done	15	10	12
Both	47	43	45
Neither	4	5	5
Don't know	3	5	4
	100%	100%	100%
"What he will do," plus "both"	78	80	79
"What he has done," plus "both"	62	53	57

Other opinion polls have shown that the public considers the high cost of living and the danger of war as the main problems to be solved. In this summer's senatorial campaign in Texas, the voter's ear is likely to be most sensitive to public discussion of these problems.

Mayo, in southeast Hale county, and General American's No. 1 E. M. Carmichael, and No. 1 Flora C. Strickler, both in southwest Floyd county, just over the county line from the new southeast Hale county development. Each of those projects are slated to go to at least 6,000 feet, and some of them may go below that level.

Hale Well Completed

In the southwest Hale county side of the Anton-Irish field, Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Julia Arnold, has been completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 171.64 barrels of 29 gravity oil, with no water.

The pay at 5,509-6,060 feet, had been treated with 18,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 250-1. The well is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 14, block DT, HE&WT survey.

Hunt Oil company No. 1 Adams, stepout from production in the Anton-Irish field, had reached 5,410 feet, in lime, and was making more hole.

Stanolind No. 1 L. A. Harrel was coring ahead below 5,959 feet in Permian dolomite. It has not found much indication of possible production down to the current level of operations.

To Resume Drilling

Stanolind No. 4-A Lee Irish had reached 1,570 feet in anhydrite, and had set 8 5-8 inch casing at 1,567 feet, with 560 sacks of cement. It is to resume drilling in a few days.

Stanolind No. 3-B Lee Irish had cored to 5,536 feet and so far has no signs of oil in commercial quantities.

Stanolind No. 4-B Lee Irish was drilling ahead under 3,242 feet in anhydrite and shale.

Stanolind No. 1 Edward Schooer had drilled below 5,795 feet in lime, and was continuing.

Stanolind No. 1 Ellwood had drilled plug on casing which had been set at 5,850 feet, and was making more hole.

Stanolind No. 1 Twilley, was on a bottom of 5,900 feet, in lime, and was swabbing to test. It is showing some oil, and some water.

Both the last two listed ventures are in the southeast Lamb county side of the Anton-Irish field.

Muleshoe Plans Big High School

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

MULESHOE, April 24.—Plans for a $450,000 high school building, thoroughly modern in every respect, are being pushed by the board of trustees of Muleshoe Independent School district, and board members hope to call for construction bids shortly, it was announced today.

Funds for the structure were made available through a recent $350,000 bond issue voted by the district to supplement an earlier issue of $150,000.

A Lubbock architectural firm, Butler-Brasher company, is completing the plans for early release to bidders.

13 Class Rooms

The building, designed to accommodate approximately 400 high school students of the Muleshoe district, will contain 13 classrooms, an auditorium with seating capacity of 1,000, band and music rooms, home economics department, study halls and library and a gymnasium. Overall dimensions of the U-shaped edifice will be 346 by 303 feet, including the gymnasium.

Of masonry construction, the building will employ fine construction materials throughout. The corridors will feature glazed tile wainscoting. Terrazzo floors will be used on corridor floors.

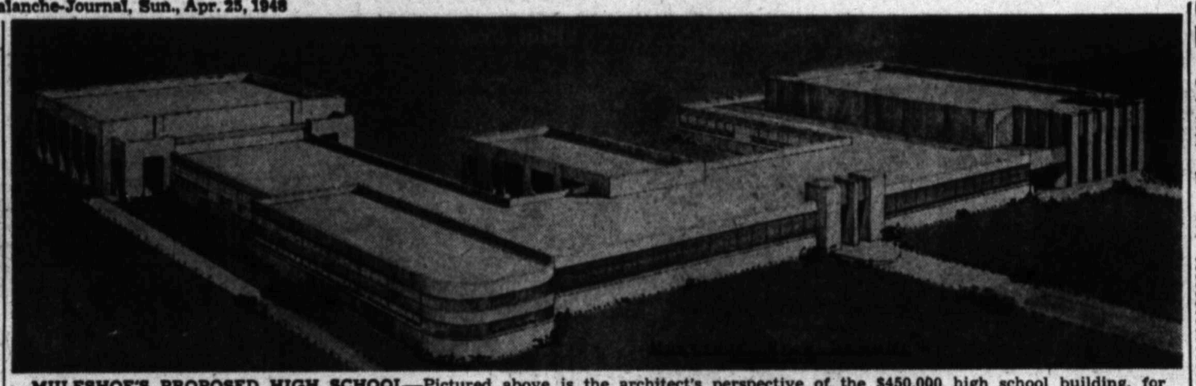

Steel windows will be used throughout the building, and glass blocks will be employed.

Board Members Named

Latest developments in equipment will be incorporated into the cafeteria and kitchen equipment.

Members of the school board of the Muleshoe district are Morris Douglas, president; Myron H. Pool, secretary; M. H. Greer, Burrel Black, C. A. Barnett, W. T. Millen and L. J. Sanders, members.

Walter C. Cunningham is superintendent of schools for the district, which includes three-fourths of Bailey county.

Patent Medicine Of Long Ago Claimed Good For Man, Beast

AUSTIN, April 24 (AP)—Bottled medicine of 50 to 70 years ago apparently was good for man or beast.

The label on an ancient bottle displayed in a University of Texas pharmacy college exhibit claims these virtues:

"Valuable stimulating oil for rheumatism, neuralgia, bruises, cuts, sores, sore throat, stiff neck or chronic pains in any part of the body, and excellent for all kinds of stock in the cure of lameness, ringbone, sore back, sprains, spavin, windgalls, etc."

Hollywood Weddings Of Past Were Often Lavish Affairs

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 25. (AP)—"This Lana Turner-Bob Topping wedding," said the oldtimer, "will have to go some to beat the hitchings this town has seen."

The old boy took a slug from his phosphate and leaned back in the shiny leather chair.

"Well," he began, "the granddaddy of them all was the blowout Sam Goldwyn tossed for his romantic stars, Vilma Banky and Rod Laroque. That set the pattern for the big Hollywood weddings. The reception had a tremndous display of food, including rows of turkeys.

Turkey Is Prop

"I remember one star insisted on a slice from a certain fowl, but the chef said it was a tough old bird. When the star insisted, the chef admitted the turkey was a cardboard studio prop.

"Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond had a big one, too. Jeanette spent $300 on ropes to hold back the crowds in front of the Wilshire Methodist church. Deanna Durbin and Shirley Temple also were married there. Deanna had 900 guests, including most of the big names in Hollywood.

"Shirley's wedding drew a bigger crowd than most premieres. There were about 5,000 people crowded along Wilshire boulevard and Shirley was nearly mobbed. The little trouper was calm and unruffled by it all. More so than the parson, who had to shoo stray bobbysoxers out of the church.

Took Over Town

"When Roz Russell and Freddie Brisson tied the knot, they invited a flock of Hollywood names to meet at Buellton, up the coast. They took over the hotel, motel and bar for the night. To avoid gawkers, they kept the marriage place secret until the last moment. The wedding took place the following day at the Danish town, Solvang, with a big picnic following.

"But my favorite wedding involved a famous actor. Standing outside the Sunset Blvd. church was one of his former wives and their daughter, dressed in tatters. The ex-wife, who had a wry sense of humor, waited until the star emerged with his bride, then dispatchedthe little girl who dashed up to the bridegroom and screamed:

"'Daddy, I'm hungry!'"

Candidates Invited To Talk At California University Campus

BERKELEY, Calif., April 24 (AP) The University of California's campus has been offered as a political forum for all leading presidential contenders, President Robert Gordon Sproul said today.

Invitations, Dr. Sproul disclosed, have been extended to all candidates—including Henry A. Wallace, once denied a campus hall, and President Truman, who yesterday was named the commencement speaker June 12.

Opportunity For Good Dinner Knocks On Oklahoma's Door

ANADARKO, Okla., April 24 (AP)—It was just before suppertime last night when opportunity knocked at the door for Fred Adkins.

He opened it—and got the bird.

Dead on his steps was a fat quail that had rammed the house in flight.

Olympic Swimming Champion Is Granted Divorce From Student

LOS ANGELES, April 24 (INS)—Swimming champion Marjorie Gestring won marital freedom from Edward H. Carter today when she testified that the Stanford university student was critical of her athletic ability and confessed after four years of marriage that he "wasn't the marrying kind."

The couple was married in 1944. Miss Gestring, 25, was one of the youngest contestants in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin.

Dean Leidigh To Be Honored At Banquet, Open House By Club

Arthur H. Leidigh, dean emeritus of agriculture at Texas Technological college, will be honored at the Eleventh Annual Aggie club banquet to be held Tuesday in the Lubbock hotel.

His portrait, painted by Mrs. Loretto Edwards of Amarillo, will be unveiled and presented to the college at the banquet. It is the plan of the Aggie club and the alumni, who sponsored the honor to Dean Leidigh, that the portrait shall hang permanently in Memorial Auditorium in the agriculture building.

Open House Set

Dean Leidigh will be further honored at an open house to be held from 1 until 3:30 p. m., May 2, also in Memorial Auditorium, and will be open to the public.

Agriculture faculty members, alumni, students and other friends of the Dean have joined the club in preparations for the special ceremonies.

At the banquet Dean Leidigh's accomplishments in early life will be set forth in a talk by R. E. Karper, his tenure at Texas Tech by N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry, and as the students see him, by Jason O. Gordon. Presentation of the portrait will be made by Earl Sears, president of the Aggie club and the acceptance will be made by Pres. W. M. Whyburn. W. L. Stangel, present dean of agriculture will give a rendition of memories with a response by Dean Leidigh.

Dean Leidigh is a member of the original Texas Tech faculty, being appointed to the faculty and as dean of agriculture in 1925

"It will be impossible to send invitations to all ex-students and graduates, and any who whish to attend the banquet may make reservations by calling or writing L. M. Hargraves, associate professor of agricultural education, at the college," he said.

International Road Bottleneck Broken As Kerr Work Begins

UVALDE, April 24 (U.P) — The main U. S. bottleneck for completion of the international highway from Canada to Central America was about to be broken today, as construction was begun on the right-of-way through Kerr county.

Right-of-way difficulties had prevented construction through Kerr county for a number of years. Construction was begun after ranch owners granted right-of-way.

New Naval Unit Here Is Studied

Plans aimed at formation of another organized surface division of the Naval Reserve in Lubbock were announced by Lt. Marvin Hunter, who has charge of the Naval Reserve Recruiting office here.

An organizational meeting has been scheduled for 8 o'clock Friday night in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college.

Would Use New Building

The division, along with the organized surface division which already has been formed and has its full complement of officers and enlisted men, would be housed in the training center under construction on the campus at Eighth and College Ave. and scheduled for completion in June.

All Naval Reserve officers and former service men and also all men between 17 and 40 who have not had previous military service who are interested in forming the new unit are asked to attend the Friday night meeting, said Hunter.

The unit, if approved, would have 209 enlisted men and 13 officers, the same number as that of the organized division already established.

Two visiting naval officers have indicated possibility of another division. Facts and figures would need to be placed in an application which would be sent to Eighth Naval district headquarters at New Orleans.

"Pickled" Fish Lead To Bootlegger Lair

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—A flock of tippling fish landed 15 men yesterday — right into federal court.

The pickled pickerel and their finny friends were given credit for hooking 15 alleged bootleggers, accused of plying their trade at stills in Orange and Dutchess counties, New York.

The men were indicted yesterday on charges of defrauding the government of $520,000 in alcohol taxes.

They were reeled in, U. S. Attorney Robert Mitchell said, when they got too lazy to carry the mash from their stills to a forest nearby.

Instead, Mitchell said, they dumped it into a brook that ran by one of theis moonshine machines.

The mash killeds so many fish that local anglers got suspicious.

Their complaints started federal agents angling around and led to a raid on the stills.

German-Born Argentine Jailed For Giving Secrets To U.S.

BUENOS AIRES, April 24. (AP)—A German-born Argentine, accused of divulging military secrets to a United States military attache, was sentenced yesterday to five years in prison.

Eugenio Wittenberg, 58, a translator for the Argentine army, was convicted of obtaining information on the strength and location of army units and giving it to "foreign diplomats."

Wittenberg testified that he gave information to Brig. Gen. John W. Lang, U. S. military attache in 1944. He said Lang once gave him 100 pesos ($25).

Lang was withdrawn from Buenos Aires in 1945.

Shower For 18-Year-Old Bride-To-Be Given Aboard City Bus Festooned With Balloons

DETROIT, April 24. (AP)—The social whirl slowed down for bride-to-be Jean Welch today.

But yesterday it proceeded at a gidd. 25-mile an hour clip—aboard a city bus.

The 18-year-old fiancee of Detroiter Norman Schmied was guest of honor at a bridal shower given aboard the bus as it carried 16 regular commuters to work in downtown Detroit.

The unromantic machine was festooned with crepe paper and balloons and the commuters dined on coffee, cookies and doughnuts. Everyone wore paper hats, even bus driver Parker Warford.

"We've been taking the same bus for almost a year and have come to know each other pretty well," explained Patricia Fouts, 23, one of the regular passengers.

"So when Jean got on the other day flashing a new engagement ring we decided it called for a celebration."

Hollywood On The Loose...

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 24 — Exclusively Yours: Orson Welles' celluloid tricks are back with us in "The Lady From Shanghai," which he wrote, produced, directed and co-stars in with ex-wife Rita Hayworth. But the biggest trick of them all I'll have to tell you about because it happened behind the scenes.

JOHNSON

Rita has a dramatic death scene, with emotional dialog, in the closing minutes of the picture. Orson insisted that a sound stage full of peering eyes was no place for Rita to read such dialog.

So he took the script and Rita and a sound-recording truck and recorded the dialog at Rita's home. Then they went back to the set and filmed the scene, with Rita mouthing the dialog to a playback machine as singers do with songs.

M-G-M and Gloria de Haven have kissed and made up after a year and a half of feuding over her roles. Papa Mayer promised hes a new deal. . . . June Lockhart has her choice of three starring film roles after checking out of the Broadway hit, "For Love or Money." When she left Hollywood a year ago she couldn't get a film job for love or money.

• • •

FEUDING PAYS OFF

If Judy Garland and M-G-M are feuding over Judy's political affiliations, it doesn't show in Metro's plans. She's booked for three films this year. The same rumors circulated about Katharine Hepburn, who immediately stepped into the best role she has had in years in "State of the Union."

An important filmtown producer has a passion for monograms. His initials are emblazoned on all his possessions, including his yacht, car, shirts, shorts, pajamas, belts, etc. Hedy Lamarr, on ribbing terms with him, is giving him a birthday present next week. She gave me a preview of the present on the set of "Let's Live a Little"—a carton of monogrammed headache tablets.

Another star name — Charles Bickford — for "Command Decision." Also supporting Gable will be the new grandpa, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, John Hodiak and Edward Arnold. How can they miss? Actually it is the second time Van has appeared with Gable, but under far different circumstances. In 1942, Van made a 10 - second appearance, peeking over Gable's shoulder in "Somewhere I'll Find You."

• • •

LAND OF MILLIONAIRES

ANOTHER Texas oil millionaire, Glenn McCarthy, is now in the film business. He'll film "Land of Plenty," an original story by Monty Collins, starring Robert Paige.

"Bribe" will take Bob Taylor and Ava Gardner to an island off South America (on stage 12) for romance and high adventure. Taylor plays a two - fisted FBI agent.

Kathryn Grayson, expecting a baby, has ben ordered to bed for two weeks to recover from that hectic Chicago p. a. tour. . . . Perry Como, who didn't do so well last time at bat in films, will do most of the singing—six songs—in M-G-M's "Words and Music."

M-G-M hopes to build a new co-starring team with the casting of Elizabeth Taylor and Peter Lawford in "Introduction to Sally." It may be the first in a series a la Andy Hardy.

Acting Careers Help Marriage

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 24.—Elsa Lanchester thinks she and Charles Laughton are still married after 19 years for the strange reason that both are actors . . . the very up so many movie marriages.

"If he had been a bank clerk or I an elevator operator, I'm sure we shouldn't have been interested in each other," little Elsa reasons. She met big Charles 20 years ago when both were cast in a London play. He was fat then, too. Was a fat schoolboy, even.

While acting is their common interest, their careers are mostly separate. Elsa fully expected some gossip columnist to report they had pfft! after they were seen dining at different tables in the same restaurant the other night. She was talking shop with several Turnabout Theater associates, and Charles was conferring with pupils of the Shakespearean classes he conducts three nights a week.

Live In Mission-Style House

Dimple - chinned, copper-haired Elsa has been singing, dancing, and telling stories as the Turnabout star every night but Monday for more than six years. She has missed only one night, when there was a wartime blackout. She finds Hollywood a huge, artistically unsatisfying machine in which actors are cogs. Her nightly stage performances, to audiences sold out three weeks in advance, are a "mental massage."

The Laughtons live in a mission-style house on a eucalyptus-shaded acre overlooking the murmuring Pacific. Charles is a shrewd buyer of oil paintings and Mayan sclupture that surround them. A Renoir he bought, Elsa says, has since tripled in value.

Prefer Own Cooking

They like to get away weekends, and two or three nights a week, to their tiny cottage 28 miles farther south. Because—Elsa whispered so none of the four servants would hear—they prefer their own cooking.

Charles is sometimes moody. He concentrates continually on his work—Elsa cupped her hands like horseblinders to indicate his one-tracked intensity. He's the procrastinator, she the "tyrant" of the household. He finds petty excuses for putting off unpleasant tasks, the way a person may dodge a tental appointment. The Laughtons have a word for Charles' evasive tactics? "dentisting."

NEW DRIVE-IN THEATRE—Picture above top is the new drive-in theater, "The Corral," located on the Idalou highway east of Lubbock, which was recently opened by the Lindsey Theaters. Built by P. C. Crown of San Antonio at a cost of $15,000 the theater was sold to the Lindsey management before it was opened. Installed with the latest in sound equipment and designed so that every person in an automobile can see the screen with ease, the drive-in has 400 in-car speakers with individual volume controls. The bottom picture shows how the speakers are placed inside the car the window may be rolled up. In the car are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bozeman, who live near the theater. (Photos by Reeves.)

93 New Wells Are Started In Oklahoma During Past Week

TULSA, Okla., April 24 (AP) — Ninety-three new wells were begun in Oklahoma last week, the largest number in several months.

The Tulsa Daily World will report in its editions tomorrow that Stephens county led in new drilling activity with 14 wells being started. The total figure also includes 11 in Cotton county and seven each in Garvin and Seminole counties.

Forty-six oil wells were brought in last week for an initial flow of 16,959 barrels a day. Six gas wells had an initial flow of 26,910,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Thirty-four wells were abandoned after being found dry.

Hunting and fishing are multi-million-dollar businesses, topping all sports in volume of revenue.

Woman Settles Her Accident By Buying Victim Pair Of Shoes

CORNING, N. Y., April 24. (AP) —An accident report in the Corning police records bears the notation "settled for a pair of shoes."

Mrs. Vera E. Newell told police a car she was driving had a broken fender. The fender tore a pedestrian's shoes. So Mrs. Newell drove the man to a store and bought him new shoes.

Jimmy Wakely, star of Monogram Western movies and Capitol recording star, will headline the big stage show at the Arcadia Theatre Sunday, April 25. With Jimmy Wakely will be Cannonball, considered by fans the funniest comedian in Western pictures. Cannonball was formerly featured as a comedian with Wild Bill Elliott, and now appears in the same role in all of JimmyWakely's pictures. In addition to these two sars, the show will include an outstanding western band and featured entertainers. Wakely will sing many of the hit songs which he introduced in his movies and on Capitol records. Cannonball, in addition to his comedy, will prove that he is as great a musician as he is comedian by his sensational playing of the xylophone. This theatre has been selected as one of the very few on this limited tour, as Jimmy Wakely and Cannonball must be back in Hollywood shortly to begin work on another series of western pictures. The engagement at the Arcadia theatre is limited to one day only.

Tech "Rolls Another 10-Strike!"; Jews Defeating Arabs In Holy Land

COMING HERE:

Millikan And Bruce

ANOTHER 10-strike has been rung up by officials and students of Texas Technological college in arranging for the appearance on the campus in early May of one of the world's outstanding physicists and one of the more widely known of the Army's general staff.

We refer, of course, to the forthcoming visits of Nobel Prizewinner Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of California Institute of Technology; and of Maj. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce, of Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Doctor Millikan is one of the foremost authorities in the fields of the atom and the cosmic ray; General Bruce is deputy commander of the Fourth Army.

It will mean a great deal to students and faculty members of Texas Tech to hear Doctor Millikan in a series of lectures and to hear General Bruce in an address dedicating Memorial Circle in honor of the graduates and ex-students of Tech who gave their lives for their country in World War II. It will mean much, too, to visiting parents of Tech students, here for the May 2 week-end, and to Lubbock citizens, as well, to see and hear these outstanding men.

Every time Texas Tech attracts to its campus outstanding persons, it increases its own stature and has directed to it the interest of people who otherwise might not become interested. And every time students, faculty members and friends of the institution are permitted to hear outstanding men speak at the college, they gain much in information and understanding.

To President W. M. Whyburn, who is personally responsible for Doctor Millikan's visit, and to the Tech War Veterans association, which arranged for General Bruce to come here, congratulations on two jobs well done and two very fine choices made.

Oh, Brother!

"ENOUGH gasoline and oil to meet this nation's total demand for 1,500 years can be manufactured from only a quarter of our known coal reserves," according to Dr. Homer Z. Martin, of the research staff of Standard Oil Co.

Good heavens, Doc! Don't tell us that our right to drive a car will also soon be dependent upon the whims of John L. Lewis!

Truman's Critics

MUCH of the criticism leveled at President Truman by members of his own party is a little difficult to understand, especially in view of the fact that his most criticized policies are identical with those of his predecessor, Franklin Roosevelt, whom many Truman critics still maintain "could do no wrong."

Mr. Truman courageously opposed passage of legislation aimed at reducing income taxes and was lambasted all over the place by critics within his own party. Yet Franklin Roosevelt, through a dozen long years in the White House, never gave a thought—much less a kind word—to a tax reduction program of any kind—and many of those criticising Mr. Truman for the same stand lauded Mr. Roosevelt as "the greatest of our Presidents.'

Mr. Truman came out flat-footedly in support of a so-called "civil rights" program, and again was ripped to pieces by Democrats. Yet it was Franklin Roosevelt, who those same critics fawned over, who first proposed an FEPC and who went all out against a color line socially and ever other way.

While Franklin Roosevelt was in power, many Democrats mumbled under their breaths against various of the hodge-podge of New Dealers with whom he surrounded himself. Yet when Harry Truman got rid of some of them, was he generally cheered? Silence was about all he got from the grandstand.

Mr. Truman, it would seem, is not the victim of his policies, in general. Instead, he is the victim of being in the White House at a time when too many ambitious men in his own party seek to improve their own prestige and power at his expense. The so-called Democratic organization, badly creaking in 1944 and saved from defeat only because the nation was at war, is simply falling apart of its own weight and Harry Truman is the "goat."

MINNESOTAN MAKES SHARP GAIN IN LATEST POLL

Stassen Tops Dewey In Survey Among GOP Voters

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 24.—Following his victory in the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries, Harold E. Stassen for the first time heads the list of Republican hopefuls in national popularity within the ranks of G.O.P. voters, the latest Institute survey finds.

Stassen's margin of lead today is however a narrow one, with Dewey close on his heels, followed by General MacArthur, Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg and Senator Robert A. Taft.

GALLUP

Stassen's victory in the two primaries has boosted his national popularity rating in much the same manner as Governor Thomas E. Dewey's popularity as a presidential candidate soared in November, 1946, when he was re-elected governor of New York by a 700,000 vote majority.

The latest Institute survey on candidate popularity covered the period from April 9 to April 17. Since some of the interviewing was done prior to the Nebraska primary April 13, the present poll results do not reflect the full effect of voter reaction to Stassen's victory in Nebraska. The coast-to-coast standings of the various candidates were found to be as follows among voters who classify themselves as Republicans:

Stassen	31%
Dewey	29
Mac Arthur	16
Taft	9
Warren	2
Martin	1
No choice	2

The last previous poll, reported March 28, showed the candidates as follows in terms of popularity among the G. O. P. rank and file:

MARCH

Dewey	34%
MacArthur	19
Stassen	15
Vandenberg	13
Taft	12
Warren	3
Martin	1
Saltonstall	1
No choice	2

* * *

THREE important qualifications need to be emphasized in respect to this and all polls dealing with pre-convention candidate popularity.

1. National figures cannot be used to forecast primary results in any one state, for the obvious reason that differences of opinion exist between sections of the country and even between states within the same sections.

The three open primaries held to date, in New England, Wisconsin and Nebraska, have all shown different result and demonstrate why it is impossible to apply a national figure to a single state election.

2. Candidate popularity must be assessed with two considerations in mind. The question is not simply what a man's popularity is within his own party, but also what his probable vote-getting strength might be if he became the party's official nominee running against the opposing party.

Some Republicans who are far down the list in terms of popularity within their own party show up very well when pitted against President Truman and Henry Wallace in a "trial heat." Senator Vandenberg, for example, runs virtually as strong a race against Truman as either Dewey or Stassen in the latest Institute trial heats reported April 11.

The popularity ratings within the ranks of the Republican Party do not and cannot reflect a candidate's voting strength among independent voters and among those voters who may shift from the Democratic Party — two groups who may very well decide the 1948 election.

3. The final selection of the nominee to head the Republican ticket rests solely with the convention delegates who will meet in Philadelphia June 21. Delegates are free to choose any wan they want regardless of the man's popularity with Republican voters.

Hence Institute poll results on candidate popularity in no way constitutes a forecast of the outcome of the nominating conventions, any more than they constitute a forecast of how any one particular state will vote in a presidential primary before the conventions.

In today balloting Dewey was was found leading in popularity among Republicans in the Eastern and Middle Atlantic sections. In the East Central section as a whole Dewey and Stassen were running about even in popularity. In the West Central area and in the Far West which includes the Rocky Mountain states Stassen leads Dewey.

Looking At Life------By Erich Brandeis

ONE of the things you realize when you travel is that when you travel is that when you stay at home you think entirely too much of yourself.

Your whole life is wrapped around yourself—your home, your family, your social affairs, your ailments—it's you, you, you.

Or perhaps it would be more appropriate to say "I" instead of "you."

With all the thoughts we give to others, it's the great "I" that each of us is most interested in, and whatever we do emanates from and flows toward "I".

But when you travel the "I" in each one of us becomes completely subdued.

If you travel by automobile you are one of thousands of license numbers.

In the hotels and motor courts, you become "Room No. 34." In the restaurant where you eat your dinner you are not Mr. Smith or Mrs. Jones, but "Roast Beef Rare" or "Leg of Veal."

At home you may be a very important person. You may be a deacon of your church or president of your local Women's Club.

But as you travel you are just a transient wayfarer.

That, I believe, is one of the main reasons why everyone should travel occasionally.

It doesn't matter where you go. It isn't the scenery or the climate that has created the saying that travel is broadening.

It is the shedding, for a while at least, of habits and routines. It is the mingling with other people and the merging of yourself into millions of others just like yourself.

It is when you travel that you see that you are no different from all the others.

A restaurant man once told me that all male tourists, no matter where they come from, choose apple pie as their favorite dessert and that the majority of women will order ice cream.

California, Texas, Pennsylvania, Ohio and New Jersey eggs for breakfast, mostly with bacon or with ham. Millions of gallons of orange juice are ordered by travelers from everywhere the first thing in the morning, and there are a few eating places

EVERY BATTLE IS WON

New Invasion Hinted

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Real fact about the Palestine war is that the Jewish army, Haganah, has won every battle with the Arabs so far. The Arabs have taken such a severe drubbing they recently sent secret cables to Arab delegates at the United Nations, asking the effect on American public opinion if the foreign Arab armies of Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Egypt were to begin invading Palestine even before the British evacuate on May 15.

PEARSON

Arab chieftains reported that Jewish opposition was so vigorous that trained foreign armies were needed to save Arab face — despite the fact that Jewish troops are outnumbered four to one.

Also not generally known: All Arab army chieftians from Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Egypt are 100 per cent German-trained. They even use German commands in giving orders to troops.

Few Americans realize that the war in Palestine is a clearcut violation of every form of international agreement. It is not simply a battle between Palestinian Arabs and Jews, but a direct parallel to the Albanian, Yugoslavian and Bulgarian intervention in Greece. This fact doesn't seem to have penetrated the State department or President Truman's thinking. While they protest against Russian intervention in Greece, no protest has been made about Syrian, Egyptian and Lebanese intervention in Palestine.

The White House has even rejected the appointment of a United Nations border commission to investigate foreign intervention.

It has also been suggested that the United States move to expel Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Egypt from the United Nations for indulging in aggression in open defiance of the United Nations.

Unles President Truman acts before May 15, the Holy Land is in for a tragic blood bath.

Rankin Says "Impeach Him!"

Representative Rootin - Tootin John Rankin of Mississippi has been openly boasting that he will bring impeachment proceedings against President Truman if the President refuses to give Congress a document relating to the alleged Communistic associations of Doctor E. J. Condon, head of the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

However, Rankin is in for a shock if he carries through this boast. For none other than the highest Republican in the House, Speaker Joe Martin, will lead the opposition to Rankin's motion of impeachment.

Martin is for the resolution giving the House the right to look at the full text of a letter J. Edgar Hoover wrote to Commerce Secretary Harriman regarding Dr. Condon. But if Truman defies the Congress and refuses to give it the FBI report Martin will not support Rankin's impeachment proceedings.

Martin thinks such a serious step is uncalled for and "playing politics," even though a Mississippi Democrat is behind the move against a Democratic President.

AT long last, the munitions board has come up with a preliminary report on industrial preparedness. The report is now being circulated among top industrial leaders and outlines the general policies which will govern defense and civilian production in the months ahead.

It indicates that the Army and Navy may curtail normal peacetime industrial capacity by about 50 per cent.

The munitions report, incidentally, refers to "the war" as if it were a foregone conclusion. Here are some of the forebodings, so far unpublished, that it contains for American business:

"It is recognizable," the munitions board states, "that there must be some reservation of the normal peacetime capacity of a given industry for civilian needs. For the time being, until better data are available, not less than approximately 50 per cent of the normal peacetime capacity of any given plant . . . should be reserved for civilian needs."

In some cases, the report adds, "the entire capacity of the plant might be used for meeting either civilian requirements or a specialized military requirement, according to the circumstances existing as the war becomes imminent."

Dispersion—"the widest practicable geographical dispersion of the war load will be evenly as possible. Noncongested areas and the smaller cities must be thoroughly canvassed for suitable plants."

Smaller war plants—"small firms will not be overlooked, especially in the case of military items similar to commercial types, and where conversion problems are minor. However, the mere fact that a firm is small is insufficient reason for either acceptance or rejection."

* * *

To Be Given Chief Break

As in the recent war, the munitions board plans to give the chief break to the big industrial firms. In this connection its report states:

"A major share of the war load must be carried by larger plants for reason that the peacetime industrial output predominantly is from such plants and as a general rule they can be converted more efficiently and effectively."

"Paramount objective of peacetime allocation of privately owned manufacturing capacity is to expedite the transition of industry from the production of goods for peacetime consumption to meeting the requirements of the armed services of the United States and its Allies, as well as civil economy, during a war emergency," continues the munitions board report.

Objectives of the "transition" program include (1) elimination of competition between government procurement agencies for the output of single plants — a headache during the last war; (2) provision for "minimum civilian needs"; (3) negotiated contracts, rather than bids, for purely military items; (4) an Office of War Production to control all wartime orders.

The Chokecherry Tree

"THE CHOKECHERRY TREE," by Feike Feikema; (Doubleday).

DOWN to his last two cents, his bare feet sticking through his worn shoes, Elof Lofblom bums a ride from a truck driver to return to his home in Chokecherry Corner, which is set down in the vast northern plains of our midwest.

With Ma dead about a month, crotchety, penny-pinching Pa puffing on an underslung pipe runs the village store. Despite the old man's blunt disapproval, young Elof had had big ideas: A life in the outer world, a college education, success on a grand scale. Elof's perpetual ir- troubled by his doubts about his ability; he had failed in two colleges, he was one of our ill-clad and ill-fed, and so far short of the goal of his dreams that he had come back as to a refuge.

But this seems to be ill-housed, too, for Pa proves hard-hearted. The boy can work for his keep, but he will not be paid a cent. So he takes one job on a farm, and another with Kaes Hinke, who is married to Gretchen, sister of the Gert with whom he had once thought he was in love, and then he has still another fling at the

The hero of Feikema's novel isn't a hero, after all. But he is perhaps the realest flesh-and-blood person who will step out of a book this year. You'll find this author unimaginably persuasive. Out of a jar of jelly on the supper table, a game of checkers by lamplight, a baseball game, a ride in a swing hung from a maple limb, prayers and readings from the Bible at dinnertime, he creates a wonderfully sturdy, foursquare novel. "Made in America" never was applied more accurately to any other goods, and rarely has been applied to any better goods.

Jefferson, Virginian

"JEFFERSON THE VIRGINIAN," by Dumas Malone; (Little, Brown).

THE MAN who, at the age of 33, wrote the Declaration of Independence on a folding writing box in his bedroom-and-parlor apartment in Philadelphia was born 205 years ago at Shadwell, Albermarle county, Va.

Son of a slave-holder, and a slave-holder himself, he was of a reflective rather than active character, a thinker more than a leader. Though he enioyed the elegant social life of Williamsburg under Governor Francis Fauquier, he did not marry until he was 29; he preferred, as Malone says, law to love; while his chief contemporaries during the Revolution were making military reputations, he was occupied principally, except when Cornwallis, Tarleton and Arnold campaigned in Virginia, with parliamentary affairs.

The influence of James Maury and William Small on his classical training; of George Wythe on his legal education; of Patrick Henry on his politics; of Newton, Locke and Bacon, of course, on his humanitarianism; of Palladio on his deliberative author of "A Summary View of the Rights of British America," "Notes on Virginia" and the Declaration . . . the corrections in which by his fellow Congressmen he was human enough to resent.

Classed with Washington and Lincoln as one of the three greatest Americans, he was last the subject of an extensive biography in 1858, when H. S. Randall published his three-volume life, and an exhaustive work was long overdue. Malone presents this as the first of a projected four volTime." These 484 pages end in umes entitled "Jefferson and His 1784. This story of an "enlightened liberal" was written with understanding and devotion by an enlightened liberal; even without the other three volumes, it is essential reading in American history.

HAROLD LAMB is one of the best of modern historians. He is steeped in his subject matter and has the ability to write history and make it come alive without sacrificing accuracy. His latest the The March of Muscovy: Ivan the Terrible and the Growth of the Russian Empire. It is in the tradition of such of his earlier books as Genghis Khan and Alexander of Macedon.

At first Russia was Moscow and nothing more. It was a provincal city. Its inhabitants were in bondage to the tribes to the East. Its, people were traders and farmers in a day wh n the warrior class was the only important one. Moscow expanded, not so much through its own efforts, as through the inertia and deterioration of the peoples around it. Soon the chief man in Moscow began to refer to himself as Czar. The territory over which he held sway began to grow. Then came Ivan the Terrible.

He didn't get the name "Terrible" because he was a great warrior. In battle he was inefficient and hesitant. But he was ruthless in the treatment of his own people and he was shrewd enough to keep expanding his territory. When he died, the foundation of the Russian Empire had been laid. For years it grew—along the lines of the pattern Ivan had drawn.

Lamb makes it a fascinating story.

'Another Such Victory'

"ANOTHER SUCH VICTORY," by John D. Weaver; (Viking).

FEW Americans old enough to remember would want to recall the Monus March of 1932 when 20,000 American war veterans, goaded by depression, moved wretchedly on Washington to "collect" their adjusted compensation.

But John D. Weaver in Another Such Victory has made it the theme of a strongly moving story of men and women who preferred misery on the Anacostia flats to the shame of accepting charity from relatives or neighbors back home.

Weaver has looked up all the facts about the rag-tag but still soldierly bonus expeditionary force. He has reported without belaboring the moral issues involved the sorry victory of the Army over hunger-weakened men accused of "rioting" because a few of them objected to being shoved around. And he has told the deeply affecting story of a man and a woman and their little girl who defeated forces which might have broken up a less courageous family.

The story's moral is implicit in its title. As Weaver notes, "Pyrrhus, after losing 3,500 men in winning the battle of Asculum, 279 B. C., replied to his congratulators, 'Another such victory and we are undone'."

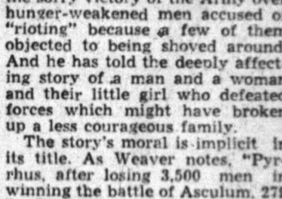

The water-ouzel can run on the bottom of a swiftly-moving mountain stream.

NEW MERCURY TO BE DISPLAYED THURSDAY — This 1949 Mercury sport sedan typifies the low, graceful lines of the all-new Mercury models, which are to be displayed Thursday by the Bennett Motor company, 1701 Texas avenue, simultaneously with dealers from coast to coast.

New 1949 Mercury Will Be Displayed Here By Bennett Motor Company Next Thursday

The all-new Mercury for 1949 will be exhibited Thursday by Bennett Motor company, 1701 Texas avenue, and simultaneously by all dealers from coast to coast. Announcement of the showing was made Saturday by R. O. Bennett, owner.

Described by Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor company and director of Lincoln-Mercury, as "the most significant cars in Mercury history," the new models combine grace and beauty with new interior styling, an all-new ride, increased power, improved performance and more room for passengers and luggage.

New Trend In Design

"We believe the styling motif of the new Mercury will establish a new trend in motor car design," Bennett said. "We also believe the public, while desiring the last word in styling, wants to be comfortable. The new Mercury satisfied both wants."

The new models are being presented in four body styles. These include a four-door sport sedan, a six-passenger coupe, a six-passenger convertible coupe and a station wagon.

The new Mercury is powered by a 110 horsepower V8 engine designed exclusively for Mercury.

Only Five Feet High

Only five feet two inches high, the new Mercury presents a long, low silhouette.

Although the outside dimensions are only slightly greater than preceding models, styling and engineering provide vastly more usable space for passenger and luggage. Increased roominess was achieved by widening the body to fender width from front to rear, a feature which enhances the general streamlined appearance.

The body is of reinforced, all-steel construction, mounted on a newly developed X-type frame with special K members for added strength.

New Spring Suspension

New spring suspension brings a new degree of smoothness to the ride. Individual front wheel suspension of the swinging arm, coil spring type, is combined with airplane style, direct action shock absorbers. This is balanced with long, tapering side springs and Hotchkiss drive at the rear.

The new front end suspension is supplemented by a new-type steering gear mechanism that reduces side-sway or "wander," even under extreme cross-wind conditions. Moreover, the new individual suspension is lighter, thereby reducing the unsprung weight and tendency of the wheels to bounce on rough roads.

Ventilating System New

The ventilating system is the culmination of years of research. Fresh, clean outside air is literally scooped into the car through big ports behind the radiator grille, eliminating noxious engine gases.

The new heating system doubles warm air output through the windshield defroster, insuring an adequate supply even in coldest temperatures.

Other refinements in the new Mercury include triple sealing of doors, spring counter-balanced rear deck lid, outside door handles that operate more easily, instruments grouped in front of the driver, wrap-around bumpers and a foolproof door locking system which permits either front door to be opened with a key.

For the first time Mercury offers factory installed overdrive on all models as optional equipment. The overdrive unit provides greater gasoline economy, quieter operation, higher top speed and longer engine life. It becomes operative at speeds over 25 miles per hour.

Girl Is Freed Of Manslaughter Charge In Drowning Of Boy, 8

KANSAS CITY, April 23. (AP)—A circuit court jury deliberated less than three hours yesterday before acquitting Frances Katherine Wanstreet, 18, of charges of manslaughter in the drowning of a eight-year-old boy.

The girl was charged after Ross Key, jr., was drowned in Blue River, Nov. 4, 1946.

She had been indicted by a county grand pury after charges had been dismissed in justice court. In the first action defense attorneys contended the girl signed a statement under duress and without advice of counsel.

Lead On Apartment Considered Justified Reason For Speeding

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24. (AP)—Halted for speeding, a young man explained his June wedding plans might hinge on that vacant apartment he had just heard about.

"Go ahead, but take it easy," motorcycle Patrolman Walter J. Swift told him.

Talk Of Banning Communism In Western Europe Is Widespread

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager (INS)

ROME, April 24 — There is strong reason to believe today that consideration is being given in certain top level diplomatic circles to the possibility of outlawing the Communist party throughout western Europe.

It appears that the possibility of such a momentous and far-reaching move has not progressed beyond the exploratory discussion stage but it is being talked about in more than one capital of Europe.

Heard In Berlin

The writer first heard mention of this possibility in respect to western Germany when visiting Berlin several weeks ago. At that time, some high ranking American officials were wondering what the reaction would be in the United States if the Communist party was banned in the American zone of Germany.

Since my arrival in Rome I have learned that the possibility of extending a ban against the Communist party throughout western Europe is now the subject of informal diplomatic talk

Pope May Concur

It would, for example, be no surprise to informed diplomatic observers if this possibility has been touched upon in the discussions which Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's special envoy to the Vatican, has had with the Pope as well as with political leaders in the countries he has recently visited.

Taylor is known to have been discussing with His Holiness and some European political leaders a plan for mobilizing the Christian forces of the western world against Communism. Outlawing the Communist party in the western European nations might possibly form part of such a plan

Called Fifth Column

Those who favor such drastic action to check the spread of Communism take the position that the Communist parties of Europe are no longer democratic, national parties but represent fifth column instruments of a foreign power, namely the Soviet Union.

The advocates of this school of thought further point out that the aim of the Soviet dominated Communist parties in Europe is the destruction of the western conception of Democracy and its replacement with a totalitarian dictatorship of the proletariat.

Experience has shown, these advocates say, that the Communists merely use the parliamentary processes of western Democracy to obtain government posts, such as the ministries of police and defense, to facilitate their eventual seizure of power.

Persecute Democracies

In every country behind the Iron Curtain where the Communists have gained complete control they have outlawed or suppressed the truly democratic parties and persecuted or driven into exile their leaders.

Therefore, the western powers would, in the opinion of some high ranking diplomaitc officials, be justified in outlawing the Communist parties as legitimate political organizations in the western democratic system.

If such a step was taken it probably would be done through the medium of the western European union, which is now composed of Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxemburg.

Might Be Difficult

The advocates of such a move believe that in order to be fully effective in western Europe, the ban would have to extend to the Communist party in Italy and, of lesser importance but still desirable to the Scandinavian countries. The party is already banned in Spain and Portugal.

There are indications, however, that it might prove difficult to convince the more moderate political leaders in Italy and France, such as Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, of the wisdom and practicality of such a move.

It is thought these political leaders are likely to fear that such a move would lead to civil war and could only be risked in the event of war between Russia and the west.

If, on the other hand, the Communist parties in Italy and France resort to violent action to sabotage the western European recovery program, it is considered possible that political leaders like De Gasperi and Bidault may come to the conclusion that in the national interests of their own countries the outlawing of the Communist parties would be justified.

While this idea of banning the Communists as legal parties throughout western Europe is only in the talking stage at present, it may develop more seriously as the cold war between East and West is intensified during the coming months.

Looking At Life

A WOMAN who had recently lost her husband asked me not long ago whether she should travel to forget.

"Can a person get away from herself?" she queried.

Of course a person can not get away from herself or from himself.

Memories are hard to forget and habits are difficult to break. Poignant sorrows have a disagreeable habit of going along wherever their bearer goes.

But travel does tend to demonstrate your own insignificance and unimportance to you.

To be a successful traveler and to get the most out of your travels you must be what the biologists call a "social animal."

By being such a social animal you learn not only to forget yourself but also to appreciate your fellow travelers.

All life is a journey and all of us are travelers on this earth.

Why not let this journey broaden us in our outlook and thus get the most out of life?

"Invasion" Of Women's College By Mining Students Brings End To Social Relations

DENVER, April 24. (INS)—Officials at Colorado Woman's college in Denver today severed all social relations with Colorado School of Mines at Golden, 13 miles west of Denver, following an "invasion" of the Denver college campus by Mines students.

Dr. James E. Hutchingson, president of the women's college, said the "invasion" occurred during the mines' students celebration of senior class day.

Some Were Drunk

Dr. Hutchingson labeled it "a disgraceful invasion of our campus by 300 miners, many of whom were dressed in gunnysack and towel loin cloths. They had been drinking, and some were actually drunk."

He said the women students were "insulted by vulgar profanity, such as they had never heard before," and that "they literally kidnaped some of our girls, who were returned unharmed, however."

Colorado Woman's college officials called police, and two squad cars disbursed the students, estimated by police at "about 200."

Accidental Invitation

Sgt. Arthur Shotwell said residence halls were entered following "accidental invitation." Three of the four campus dormitories were entered via doors, windows and fire escapes. Police said telephone wires were cut, fire extinguishers emptied in the halls and trash littered about.

At Golden, H. M. Crain, director of public relations at the School of Mines, said disciplinary action would be taken against the students involved.

Meanwhile, C. W. C. officials have prohibited association of their students with those at Mines. A scheduled concert tonight by the School of Mines glee club has been cancelled.

Secretary's Car Is Stolen From Police Station Garage

LOS ANGELES, April 24. (AP)—Miss Mildred Peck, secretary to city Councilman Lloyd G. Davies, always felt that her car was safe in the city hall garage. It's situated underneath the police station. There are always a lot of police cars around.

But yesterday someone drove her new red coupe out of the garage in such a hurry it nearly bowled over an attendant. And the police red-facedly admitted it was stolen, right from under their feet.

Air Force Base At Enid To Be Reopened For Training

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24 (U.P.)—Tinker Air force base has begun shipping supplies to two bases, one at Enid, Okla., to help them open for business in the near future, it was disclosed here today.

Maj. Gen. F. S. Borum, commanding general of the Oklahoma City Air Material area, said supplies are being sent to the Enid Air force base, which will be reopened as the Enid Air Training base soon after August 1.

Lt. Col. Len B. Deitrickson, area deputy for supply, added that Tinker also is sending supplies to Perrin Air force base at Sherman, Texas, to be opened soon.

The Enid base will be used to train B-29 bomber pilots, and Perrin for basic AT-6 training, Borum said.

The air material area covers 11 states.
