One Prisoner Dead, Two Blind After Drinking Bout Within Hunstville Walls

OTHER DEATHS FEARED FROM WOOD ALCOHOL

Sightless Pair Critically Ill In Hospital at Prison

SOURCE A MYSTERY

Nocona Man Among Four Victims of Poison Beverage

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, June 30. (AP)—One convict was dead, two were blind and a fourth critically ill here today as the aftermath of a Sunday afternoon drinking bout behind the prison walls.

The victims were believed to have drunk a quantity of wood alcohol mixed with soda water.

The origin of the alcohol was a mystery to prison officials who late today reported they had questioned about 20 prisoners in an attempt to find out how it was smuggled behind the walls.

The dead convict was Ernest Hamilton, 23, of Mingus, Texas, who was serving a five-year term on a liquor conviction in Palo Pinto county. He died yesterday afternoon after being in the hospital several hours.

Inquest Held

Justice of the Peace R. J. Camp of Huntsville, who conducted an inquest, returned a verdict of death due to alcoholic poisoning.

The men blinded were Aubrey Charley, 26, of Nocona, Texas, serving two years for forgery from Hale county and William Duncan, 30, of McKinney, Texas, serving four years for theft of over $50 in Erath county.

Warden W. W. Waid said the two blinded probably would die.

The fourth man stricken was Robert Stewart, 22, of Monroe, La., serving two years for felony theft from Harris county. He was seriously ill, Warden Waid said.

An investigation was started by the prison authorities.

Stores of alcohol in the prison hospital were checked and found to be intact, and laquers and alcohol in the paint shop were untouched, Warden Waid said.

"My first inkling that anything was wrong came," the warden said, "When I saw the boys about the prison yard as though they were in a stupor and called them into my office. Their eyes looked glassy and they appeared to have been doped.

Sent to Hospital

"Hamilton said he had eaten a heavy dinner Sunday, had gone to a ball game in the afternoon and had become overheated.

"I told him to go to the hospital along with Duncan and Charles.

"They did not report to the hospital Sunday night and yesterday morning Hamilton went to the doctor and complained of being violently ill.

"The physicians found out he had been poisoned.

"I found the other two and sent them to the hospital. Shortly after

Houston Liquor Plot Case Rests With Jury

HOUSTON, June 30. (AP)—The jury deliberating the liquor conspiracy case of former Sheriff H. Wyatt Collins of Fort Bend county and 24 others was directed late today by Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly to continue work tonight in hotel quarters and report a verdict, if possible, at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Two of the original 27 defendants Joe Bingham Crawford, deputy under Collins and Dollie Johnson, negress, were granted instructed acquittals. They were not mentioned in the testimony.

U. S. Unable to Redeem Burned Gold Bills

WASHINGTON, June 30. (US)—Treasury officials today regretfully informed Mrs. Golda Thornburg of Granite City, Ill., that they could do nothing about the $3,500 in gold bills which she accidentally burned.

Sympathetic treasury officials instructed her to send some of the ashes for inspection, but efforts to identify the numbers of the bills proved unavailing.

Italy Accepts Debt Plan In Declaring Year's Moratorium

Nation Notifies Debtors They May Suspend Reparations Payments Until 1932; Modified Proposal May Eliminate France From Consideration in World Program

ROME, June 30. (US)—The Italian government will put the Hoover plan for a war debts and reparations holiday into effect tomorrow, regardless of the status of Franco-American negotiations delaying unanimous acceptance of the proposal.

This was announced by the Italian foreign office tonight, following a series of conferences over which Premier Benito Mussolini presided. By her action, Italy becomes the first country to put the Hoover suggestion into operation.

Payments Banked

Italy's reparations debtors—Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria—were notified that their payments due tomorrow need not be made, and that the suspension holds good until June 30, 1932, as originally suggested by President Hoover.

At the same time, Italy informed Washington and London, to which she is in debt, that sums to meet payments to America and great Britain have been banked, and can be paid at any time those countries desire.

A payment equal to her capital payment requirements for one year with interest for six months, was forwarded by Rome to the U. S. treasury on June 15.

Partial Plan Possible

While Italy's move today is dependent upon general acceptance by other countries concerned in the Hoover plan, it was indicated that Rome is ready to consider a partial moratorium embracing the United States, England and Germany, as a gesture toward the economic recovery of the world.

Opinion here is that Italy's announcement will bring pressure on France to accept the Hoover formula in its original larger aspects, although modified as it affects some continental situations.

GERMAN PEOPLE IN DIRE DISTRESS

BERLIN, June (US)—If France delays the Hoover moratorium plan any further, Germany must take steps to declare a reparations moratorium herself.

This was the opinion expressed today in high official quarters coincidental with the announcement that the Franco-American negotiations in Paris were deadlocked with the original date set for the beginning of the holiday marred by gloom over the French delay.

Symtomatic of distress in some parts of Germany is the plight of certain sections, as published in the Berliner Tageblatt today. Figures presented by the newspaper show that in the "misery region" of Thuringia, 65 per cent of all families are existing on public support.

Grain Prices For Wichita Area Towns

Wichita Falls

Wheat 33 cents; oats 20 cents.
Barley 22 cents.

Oat prices were again increased Tuesday, advancing from 18 cents to 20 cents. Although quoted at 14 cents two weeks ago, the slight movement and increasing demand has resulted in a six-cent price increase.

Wheat and barley quotations remained at the same figures after a brief sinking last week. Wheat receipts were steady Tuesday, although very little barley is moving.

Oat prices advanced over Wichita area towns as follows: Seymour from 17 cents to 20 cents; Frederick from 17 cents to 20 cents.

Seymour

Wheat 34 cents, receipts 5,000 bushels; oats 20 cents, none received.

Vernon

Wheat 33 cents, receipts 1,820 oats 18 cents.

Floydada

Wheat 33 cents; oats not quoted.

Altus, Okla.

Wheat 38 cents, receipts 3,000 bushels; oats 18 cents.

Frederick, Okla.

Wheat 35 cents, receipts 6,375 bushels; oats 20 cents.

Nocona

Wheat 41 cents; oats 19 cents.

TRAIN KILLS SHAMROCK BOY

Body of Unidentified Youth Held at Marlow

Special to The Record News

DUNCAN, Okla., June 30.—The body of a youth, killed early Monday morning near Marlow when struck by a train, was being held here today as officers attempted to establish his identity.

He is believed to have relatives or friends at Shamrock, Texas.

Leon Tedder, 24, of Shamrock, and companion of the dead youth, said here today that the two had fallen asleep on the tracks, waiting for a train. Tedder awoke as the train approached but the unidentified victim was unable to escape. Tedder fled to Rush Springs, returning to Marlow late Monday. He told officers that his companion was known to him only as "Boze," and that the youth told him that he had lived near Shamrock for 18 years. The two had been companions on a trip through Oklahoma for 10 days.

The youth was struck by a Rock Island freight train.

Donley County Crops Benefited by Rains

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, June 30.—General showers covered this county this afternoon, varying from one-fourth to one-half inch. Three-tenths of an inch fell here with more threatening. The rain will not harm harvesting and will greatly benefit the best fall crop prospects in this county in three years.

Scion of Texas Pioneer Dies in Nacogdoches

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, June 30. (AP)—John Taylor, 82, last surviving son of Charles S. Taylor, signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence, died at his home tonight after an illness of several months. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Taylor was never married. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Holmes of San Antonio, and Mrs. Julia Curl of Dallas.

Rare Disease Strikes Texarkana Family

TEXARKANA, Texas, June 30. (AP)—A family of five was under quarantine tonight after physicians reported that they were stricken with glanders, a rare disease.

Health authorities declared that while glanders is common among horses and mules, it is rare among humans. Authorities said that only seven cases had been reported at Bellevue hospital, New York City in the past 30 years.

Treasury Opens New Year Deep in Deficit

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—The government's business year ended tonight and changes come with the new one.

The treasury is glad to be rid of the old, for dismal it was. The books won't be closed for several days. Already, however, expenditures for the fiscal year have passed $4,170,000,000. Receipts to last Saturday were under $3,303,000,000.

The announced deficit stood today at $867,906,122. Last year at the same time there was a $212,429,488 surplus.

Pipe Line Company Opens Amarillo Office Today

AMARILLO, Texas, June 30. (AP)—Offices of the Continental Construction company, builder of pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas, will open in Amarillo tomorrow, bringing a new pay roll to this city.

Headquarters offices of the company, formerly maintained in Kansas City, have been divided between Amarillo and Chicago. The company is building a pipe line from the Panhandle gas fields to supply the city of Chicago with natural gas.

McBroom Becomes Acting Manager And Asks City's Cooperation in Work

George D. Fairtrace, city manager here for the past three years, Tuesday turned the affairs of the city over to W. E. McBroom, city clerk, who was appointed by the city council to act in that capacity until a new executive is chosen.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairtrace and their small daughter left Tuesday afternoon for Fort Worth where Mr. Fairtrace has accepted a position as manager of that city.

Mr. McBroom, for 10 years city clerk and recently first assistant to the manager, said Tuesday that no changes in the personnel of the city's force would be made in the near future.

"While the position is only temporary, I want to ask that the cooperation of the public in keeping the city's affairs in the best condition until a new manager is named," Mr. McBroom said.

E. W. Irvine, chief clerk in the city clerk's office, will serve as city clerk during the time Mr. McBroom is in the city manager's office.

SERVICES AT 3:30 TODAY FOR PINK HAMMOND

Wichita to Pay Tribute to Widely Known Rancher And Oil Man

BODY LIES IN STATE

Single Shot From Automatic Pistol Ends Life Of Wichitan

Funeral services for L. P. (Pink) Hammond, well-known Wichita Falls oil man and aviation enthusiast who was shot to death in a Dallas hotel Monday night, will be held here Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church. The body is to arrive here at 6 a. m. on the M-K-T from Dallas and will lie in state until the hour for the services.

Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate and will be assisted in the services by Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church. Burial will be in the family vault at Riverside under the direction of the Hines mortuary.

Services at the grave in Riverside will be in charge of Wichita Falls lodge No. 635, A. F. & A. M., of which he was a member.

Single Shot Causes Death

The bullet fired from a .45 automatic pistol caused instant death. Mr. Hammond with his wife and two small children had registered in the hotel when they stopped in Dallas en route to Wichita Falls from Tyler. Shortly after entering their rooms Mr. Hammond retired to the bathroom. A moment later the report of the shot was heard by Mrs. Hammond who was in an adjoining room. Going to the bath she found Mr. Hammond crumpled on the floor, dead.

Justice E. J. Baldwin pronounced a verdict of death by self-inflicted gunshot wounds following an inquest. Mrs. Hammond told Justice Baldwin that her husband had seemed despondent since the death of his son, L. P. Jr. in an automobile accident on the Archer City road April 10. Mr. Hammond was injured in the accident and his two younger children, John 5, and Betty Sue, 3, were less seriously hurt.

Mrs. Hammond was prostrated with grief following the shooting, and was unable to discuss it, although she telephoned her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Miller, that her husband was killed accidentally.

Friends of the family went to Dallas after receiving news here of Mr. Hammond's death.

Mrs. Hammond, her two children and Mrs. Gay Hammond arrived here shortly after 6 p. m. by automobile from Dallas. They had previously advised Jerome Stone, a family friend, by telephone to prepare for them the residence at 2136 Avenue H.

Well Known in Section

Mr. Hammond, who was 45 years of age, had taken an active part in the business life of Wichita Falls during his entire residence of 22 years here. He was widely known

Graham Man Hurt In Auto Collision

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, June 30.—Harold Mays received painful injuries when the automobile in which he was riding collided here Tuesday with a machine driven by J. T. Rodgers Jr.

The injured man's brother, Howard Mays, and Jack Owens and Clarence Keenan, who were occupants of the car, were uninjured. Rodgers also was unhurt.

Mays was taken to a hospital where his injuries appeared to consist chiefly of painful bruises and minor lacerations.

Widow and Children Testify in Death Trial

SAN ANGELO, June 30. (AP)—The widow of John R. Kiser and four of her eight children were among the first seven witnesses to testify this afternoon in the murder trial of Alva Hill, 23, charged in the fatal stabbing of Kiser here June 10.

Mrs. Kiser and the children told of both Alva Hill and his father, George Hill, fighting the husband and father. Each told of Kiser falling and of the Hills leaving the scene. George Hill's trial will be held later.

New Suit Attacks R. C. A. In Monopoly Charge

WILMINGTON, Del., June 30. (INS)—The Poughkeepsie Gold Seal Electric corporation of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., filed suit in federal court here today against the Radio Corporation of America, charging it with having assumed managerial control of a patent pool and a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of radio sets as far back as 1919.

Rail Lines Re-Open Merger Negotiations

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—The chief executives of the Great Eastern railroad lines met today to consider further the plan for consolidation with them of smaller lines into four great rail systems.

World-Girdling Flight To End Today In Edmonton-New York Hop

EDMONTON, Alta, June 30. (AP)—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, the globe-trotting American birdmen, brought their monoplane down on rain-soaked Blatchford field at 4:35 p. m. mountain standard time, (5:35 p. m. central standard time) today, concluding a 1,450-mile flight from Fairbanks, Alaska.

A drenched crowd of several thousand broke police lines and sped toward the far side of the field, about 1,000 yards from the hangar, where the Winnie Mae came to rest.

The fliers announced they had decided to remain here until 3 a. m., mountain standard time, (4 a. m. eastern standard time) tomorrow. At that time they will leave directly for the United States but whether they will stop at Cleveland or Detroit, or fly non-stop to New York is yet to be determined.

Having traversed approximately 13,500 miles of their 16,000-mile route, the airmen appeared in need of rest. They were not too tired, however, to supervise closely the operation of a tractor which was required to tow their plane through ankle-deep mud to shelter. The fliers also declined to enter a limousine to carry them to a hotel until their plane was berthed.

The pair left Fairbanks at 3:24 a. m. (7:24 a. m. central standard time) today, fighting rain and murky skies to complete the Edmonton leg in approximately 10 hours.

"We're very glad to be near home again where we don't have to make signs," said Gatty as radio announcers, photographers and newspaper men gathered around the aviators.

"Yes, and where we don't have to eat black bread," interposed Post.

About 13,500 miles had been covered of the 16,000-mile route around the globe. Only about 1,900 miles separated them from Roosevelt field, New York, from which they took off Tuesday, June 23, in an ambitious attempt to girdle the northern hemisphere in 10 days or less.

The fliers left Fairbanks at 7:24 a. m., central standard time and thus covered the 1,450 miles today in 10 hours, 11 minutes. Well ahead of their schedule, the fliers expect to be in New York tomorrow.

TEXANS IN IDAHO

FORT WORTH, June 30. (AP)—First word received from Reg L. Robbins and H. S. Jones, transpacific fliers in the Fort Worth, was contained in a telegram received here tonight from Robbins, saying they had arrived in Boise City, Idaho, at 6 o'clock and will spend the night there. The telegram said they would fly to Seattle tomorrow.

Building Maintained In Cities of Texas

DALLAS, June 30. (AP)—The year 1931 turned the half-way mark today with Texas cities maintaining a steady pulse of new construction which, although in most cases somewhat less than during the similar period of 1930, indicated business conditions were maintaining an even keel of development.

Houston ranked at the top of the list with a total of $6,700,000 in new construction for the period, Dallas was second with $5,292,352, and Fort Worth third with $3,292,778. San Antonio boasted a total of $1,434,284 for the city proper, but taking account of construction at army posts there, excluding Randolph field, listed a total of $2,196,800. The Dallas yearly total included $1,740,721 for public utilities construction in the last quarter of 1930.

Cities reporting totals for the six-month period were:

Houston, $6,700,000; Dallas, $5,292,352; Fort Worth, $3,292,778; Galveston, $1,650,041; San Antonio, $1,434,284; Austin, $1,194,307; Beaumont, $792,736; Port Arthur, $568,401; Corpus Christi, $320,325; Brownwood, $285,535; Pampa, $152,400; Sherman, $132,900; Corsicana, $66,785; Wichita Falls, $57,022; Plainview, $36,800; and Gainesville, $24,150.

AUSTIN, June 30. (AP)—Contract for construction of a men's dormitory at the Abilene state hospital was awarded to Dunlap & Cox of Abilene at $34,200, S. M. Ramsey, secretary of the board of control, said today. The dormitory will house approximately 100 beds.

Man and Beast Die Under Fierce Barrage of Record Heat Wave

List of Dead Mounts to 550 as Midwestern States Gasp in Grip of Unbroken High Temperatures

By WILEY S. SCRIBNER

CHICAGO, June 30. (US)—The terrific heat wave sweeping the country had tonight broken previous records for endurance and there was no immediate relief in sight.

For 13 days temperatures have been 10 degrees or more above normal.

The list of dead continued to grow and tonight a tabulation revealed more than 550 lives have been snuffed out in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas. Those prostrated and incapacitated by the heat run into the thousands.

Breeze Helps

Temperatures of 100 degrees and more were reported all over the Middle West. Chicago escaped, officially, with 93, due to a breeze off Lake Michigan, but six miles away from the lake 101 was recorded.

Thermometers in the sun registered 125 in Chicago.

Twenty-two deaths and many prostrations were reported in Chicago during the day. Since the heat wave began 135 lives have been lost here with an additional 50 down state. In Indiana the death toll was 65 up to today, while Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio each had from 40 to 50 dead.

Stock Dies

Livestock losses have been exceedingly heavy. No official figures are available but in one 50-mile area around Belleville, Ill., 150 horses have dropped dead within 10 days. Other communities throughout the Middle West have suffered equally as heavily.

In the far Northwest a disturbance that brought rain and cold weather three days ago continues to move slowly southeastward.

A. C. Donnel, forecaster at the U. S. weather bureau here, said this disturbance has brought bountiful rains over Western Canada where wheat was burning up in drouth. The low pressure area had reached Northwestern Minnesota tonight.

Disturbance Watched

Its movement was being watched with keen interest by Mr. Donnel. "It is moving very slowly and

International Bridge Seen as Job Factor

EL PASO, Texas, June 30. (AP)—Opening of the international bridge between El Paso and Juarez at 10 a. m. instead of 6 a. m. was proposed by W. J. Moran, labor newspaper publisher, here today as a means of relieving unemployment.

Speaking before the city's general unemployment committee, Moran said about 1,800 Juarez residents entered El Paso daily to work, and if the bridge were opened at 10 a. m. unemployed of El Paso would get the jobs of such residents.

Suspect in Girl's Death Indicted at San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, June 30. (AP)—Robert Compton Jr. of Gonzales, now under observation in San Antonio State hospital was indicted today on a charge of murder of Miss Lillian Nagel, 17, of San Antonio, who was shot June 11.

No plans to set the case against Compton had been made, it was stated at the district attorney's office and all action would depend upon the report received from hospital authorities after their examination. Miss Nagel was shot in her home here and died two days later.

Negroes Held in Dual Slaying Near Dallas

DALLAS, June 30. (AP)—Two negroes were in the city jail tonight for questioning in connection with the double murder of Miss Pauline Corman, 17, and Abe Schreiber, 23, but officials said they had discovered no clues yet which would appear to lead to the solution of the crime.

Arrests were made after information had been given officials by a pawn shop employe that a pistol found on the Overton road early Sunday near the bodies of the two youths had been sold to two negroes. Later investigation had proved this belief to be erroneous, officers asserted.

CHINESE REBELS

Last Unorganized Texas County Holds First Election

PECOS, Texas, June 30. (AP)—Rangers stood on guard at the polls in sparsely settled Loving county today as the last unorganized county in Texas elected its officers. Approximately 150 votes were cast according to word from Mentone, lone town of the county.

Loving county has been attached to Reeves county for administrative purposes. Oil developments of the past 18 months, however, resulted in creation of Mentone and agitation for organization of a county.

IMPORT CURB RENEWAL SEEN

Major Oil Companies to Maintain Limit

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—Secretary Lamont, acting chairman of the oil conservation board, today expressed the belief that limitation of imports of crude oil by large companies would be continued for an indefinite period.

The 90-day period for which the four principal importers agreed to reduce their shipments of foreign oil expires at midnight.

Secretary Lamont said he had contacted representatives of three of the four large companies in the agreement and they had indicated that restrictions would be continued.

"Final outcome of the situation," said the secretary, "will depend on control of the output of the East Texas oil field."

Catalonian Autonomy Sought From Spain

BARCELONA, Spain, June 30. (INS)—The formation of an autonomous state within the broad confines of the Spanish constitution was foreseen here today as elections returns gave Col. Francisco Macia and his separatist party an overwhelming victory.

The International News Service learned from an authoritative source that Colonel Macia already has instructed a special committee to draft an autonomous statute into the Cataloanian charter to be presented to the constitutional cortes.

Confederate Veteran Succumbs in Abilene

ABILENE, Texas, June 30. (AP)—Charles Motz Sr., 87, a pioneer of Abilene, died late this evening while returning home from a fishing trip with his son, Charles Motz Jr. He complained of a pain in the chest and lay down on the back seat of his son's car. He was dead when they reached home.

The aged man was a native of North Carolina and a Confederate veteran. He was captured at Gettysburg, spending the last year of the civil war in a federal prison. His son is president of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

Wickersham Crime Commission Bequeaths Ten New Reports

WASHINGTON, June 30. (US)—The Wickersham law enforcement commission, went into official history tonight at midnight, leaving for postmortem publication 10 reports on the why and wherefore of American crime, racketeering, prison evils, law failure, and other topics.

As movers cleared out the expensive furnishings from the commission's headquarters, the only vestige of the much controverted body which remained was an unofficial single room office, paid for by contributions from the members, for the purpose of handling final distribution of the printed reports when they come from the bureau of engraving and printing.

The commission's appropriation, which was obtained by the president after a political battle in early days of his administration, expired with the fiscal year and thus all government properties had to be returned to Uncle Sam by that hour.

NEW POLICY TO PROTECT FRESH CROP PRICES

5,000,000 Bushel Maximum Set for Disposal Each Month

MARKET BOOM SEEN

Farmers Get Renewed Hope In Curb on Domestic Offerings

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—The farm board agreed tonight to limit the sale of stabilization wheat during the new crop year to a cumulative maximum of 5,000,000 bushels monthly.

The board's new policy, following President Hoover's suggestion that the old one be reconsidered, specified that the limitation should not apply to sales to foreign government or their agencies now being considered. The board added that it was not its announced purpose to make any immediate sale "even of those limited amounts at the present range of prices."

Policy Elastic

The board said, however, "it must be understood that if the world production should be altered radically by which the whole surplus could be disposed of, it is in the interest of the farmer that this should be done, but no such policy will be undertaken without ample notice and until the farmer's representatives can be consulted."

The stabilization corporation holdings are estimated at 200,000,000 bushels.

The board's statement was issued late tonight by Chairman Stone after the board had worked several hours on the final draft. The chairman called at the White House this afternoon and submitted the policy to President Hoover for the latter's approval.

Appeal Answered

Mr. Hoover who has been appealed to by many wheat growers and traders urging the board to fix a definite period, preferably a year, in which the board would hold the wheat off domestic markets, suggested that "in view of the unusual conditions growing out of the depression," the board consider a more rigid policy.

FARMERS TO GET BENEFIT IF PRICE ADVANCES

Decision of the federal farm board to keep the major portion of its vast wheat holdings from the domestic market during the coming year may mean thousands of dollars to farmers and residents of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma, according to opinions expressed by grain men and business men to The Record News Tuesday night.

The board has in storage approximately 200 million bushels, and if only 5,000,000 bushels are marketed each month, it will take a year to dispose of 60,000,000 bushels.

While grain men hesitated to predict the course of the wheat market, J. C. Hunt of the J. C. Hunt Grain company, told The Record News in his opinion the farm board's action should "stimulate" the market to a considerable degree.

"Of course some of the previous actions of the farm board, which have been intended to stimulate prices, have had the opposite result," said Mr. Hunt. "In this instance, however, it appears that assurances that only 60 million bushels will be marketed should result in a decided trend upward."

Mr. Hunt said that if prices do advance farmers in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma are in a fine position to receive the benefit of the advance. A considerable portion of the crop is yet to be marketed, he pointed out, while scores of farmers are holding as much of their wheat as possible. Mr. Hunt said that a large part of his available storage had been taken for wheat still in possession of the producers. One large producer, he said, has space for 75,000 bushels.

over Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico for his activities in the oil industry, the ranching business and for his enthusiasm for aviation.

He first engaged in the oil business in the old Sour lake and Spindletop fields. He came to Wichita Falls shortly after the Petrolia field was opened and had since been identified as one of Wichita Falls' most active in the industry. He had developed a number of fields in this section and at the time of his death had production in various parts of the northwest district.

He was among the first Wichitan to take up aviation. He was an able pilot, and was the first manager of the municipal airport here, having acquired the lease of Kell field in September, 1928, and operating the port until late in the following year. He also owned the Lone Star Aviation company at the same time. The concern was a transport company and also provided pilot instructions to student fliers.

He had large ranching interests in Texas and New Mexico.

"ATHLETE'S FOOT" INFECTION STOPPED BY NEW DISCOVERY

Have you noticed an annoying itch between your toes? Has the skin become thick, white and moist, or red and inclined to peel? Or has it developed a scaly dryness?

Any of these symptoms may indicate the mysterious new infection called "Athlete's Foot," which has preyed upon at least ten million people throughout America.

You need not be an athlete to contract this annoying trouble. You can pick it up anywhere—in public places—even in your own bathroom. Sometimes called ringworm of the toes, and many other names, it is caused by a tiny germ, tinea trichophyton.

And now, after exhaustive tests, a famous New York laboratory finds that ABSORBINE JR., the mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic, is especially deadly to the tinea trichophyton germs.

So if you have any of the symptoms, don't take chances on serious complications—douse ABSORBINE JR. freely on your feet, twice a day. It is safest to use this germ-destroyer after every foot exposure to wet surfaces, as specialists advise. For the tiny parasites breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. All druggists, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

Goodlett Man Reports Four-Legged Chick 'Doing Well'

Special to The Record News

GOODLET, Texas, June 30.—J. G. Love of Goodlett has reported a four-legged chicken thriving with a recent hatch of the more common two-legged variety.

So far as can be observed, the chicken is as healthy as any of its mates. It uses four legs while standing, but only two when walking.

may be dissipated before it reaches us," he said.

Asked if it were not possible that the disturbance would gain momentum and sweep across the country rapidly, he said:

"Yes, that is possible. But we can't tell yet what it will do. We are watching it very closely. So far it hasn't made much progress."

FAN FAMINE

CHICAGO, June 30. (US)—An electric fan famine added to the terrors of the heat wave today.

Supplies of jobbers and retailers in Chicago were exhausted.

A plane load was brought here tonight from St. Louis by the Commonwealth Edison company, one of the largest manufacturers and dealers.

Other cities reported supplies exhausted. It was explained that electric fans are manufactured the year around and that it is not possible to increase production on short notice.

There is plenty of cold weather back of this storm. In the mountains of Canada and Montana this morning temperature readings were down to 30 degrees, two degrees below freezing.

Thundershowers over the Middle West were of great benefit to crops. There is sufficient moisture for immediate needs, though danger of drouth is ever present in the corn belt.

In Chicago demand for water for domestic purposes became so great that a shortage threatened. Although the city's 13 pumping stations worked at capacity thousands of complaints were received from persons on third and fourth floors that the water pressure had failed.

Benefit Game For Injured Youth To Be Played Today

The Noble-Little Hardware company baseball team and the league-leading Presbyterians made final arrangements Tuesday for a seven-inning benefit baseball game to be played on Harrison field Wednesday. The collections made at the game will go to N. S. "Al" Ashley, the Noble-Little outfielder who broke his leg in the Monday game between these two clubs. The officials at the game and the players are donating their services.

The Commercial league is also making a collection among the players on each club to go toward defraying the hospital expenses of the unlucky athlete. A large turnout is expected for the game and local fandom is urged to be present. The game is not a league contest.

Shay Taylor Pitches No-Hit, No-Run Game

Shay Taylor's no-hit no-run pitching and Red Camp's lusty clouting proved too much for the Northwest Motors and Taxman refinery won the contest on Scott street diamond, 10 to 0. Taylor whiffed nine men in the brief five-inning contest.

ALCOHOL KILLS TEXAS CONVICT

Two Other Prisoners Blinded by Drink

they were admitted they complained of their sight failing them and a little while later they were blind."

Bottle Found

The warden said he questioned several convicts whom the trio said they had given drinks and only one complained of being ill. He was Stewart.

One of the stricken convicts told the warden where they had disposed of the empty bottle. It was found in a drain pipe but the rain had washed it and erased all evidence of its contents.

Duncan and Charles told Warden Waid that they were approached by "Shorty" Hamilton Sunday afternoon and asked if they wanted anything to drink.

Paint Theory

Replying in the affirmative they were told by Hamilton to help him make up a purse of $1, which they did.

The $1 in change was placed in a waste basket in the barracks and the three went for a stroll about the prison yard, they said.

When they returned they found a four-ounce bottle containing a fluid. Buying soda water at the prison commissary the three went behind the blacksmith shop and began drinking.

The warden said he believed the alcohol had not been smuggled in. The most likely theory, he added, was that it probably had been brought into the prison for mixing with paint, and had been stolen by some convict.

Death Claims Owner of Lawton's First Hotel

LAWTON, Okla., June 30.—Mrs. Margaret A. Carney, who established Lawton's first hotel in 1901 and who was among the prominent Oklahoma pioneers, died at her home here early this afternoon, following a two-year illness. She was 67 years of age.

Besides her husband, C. A. Carney, retired business man, she leaves two sons, Ray Keegan, vice president and cashier of the American National bank, and Jay Keegan of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock Thursday morning with Father Landoll as deacon, assisted by two visiting priests. Burial will be made in Highland cemetery.

Texan Uses Car Crank to Regain Funds After Robbery

CARROLLTON, Texas, June 30. (UP)—Two men held up Ben Myers, a grocer, today.

Myers, however, did not stay robbed.

He leaped into his car, overhauled the bandts' car and forced it into a ditch.

Brandishing a crank, Myers forced the two to return his money and then allowed them to depart.

SCRUPLE COSTS CITIZENSHIP

Educator Barred for Refusal To Fight

FORT WORTH, June 30. (UP)—Citizenship was denied here today to Elihu D. Ryden, dean of Southwestern Junior college at Kenne, Texas, when he told Judge James E. Wilson he could not shoulder arms for the United States in case of war.

He came to America 30 years ago.

Ryden was barred when he said he would not serve in the army as a combatant because "killing is contrary to the principle of Christianity."

Legion Seeks 600 More Terrapins

The American Legion is paying three cents each for terrapins, delivered on the hoof to the paddock, according to Dr. L. I. Lucey, who is in charge of the American Legion terrapin derby to be staged July 4, at Athletic park.

About 600 more terrapins are needed, he said. A like number has already been entered in the speed event by various race fans in this section, it was explained, and when the derby comes off the starter is expected to flash under the noses of more than 1,000 entries.

The legion charges $1 entrance fee for every terrapin entered. Races will be run off in heats, with 100 terrapins to the heat. A prize of $10 will be awarded to the winner of each heat. A $100 prize will be awarded the winner of the final, which is to be run off between heat winners.

The derby is a feature of the Fourth of July celebration being staged by Pat Carrigan post to raise funds to send its drum and bugle corps to the state American Legion convention at El Paso in August.

STOP THAT NAGGY HUNGER-HEADACHE WITH A DASH OF NOURISHMENT

UNDER-EATING, rather than over-eating, can cause headaches plenty of times. Empty stomachs, which are over-active in acid secretions, quickly cross-up the whole system if we don't give them something to do. Don't pile in heavy, slow-digesting solids. But counteract stomach acidosis with fruit acids and energy in pre-digested form.

The ounce of sugar in Dr. Pepper is instantly usable without digestive effort. The fruit juice sweetens up the stomach and makes your head behave. Dr. Pepper isn't medicine ... but something far better, of which Nature heartily approves. Don't wait for headaches to strike you. Keep feelin' fine ... ALL the time. Get yours at 10, 2 and 4.

CITIES BLAMED FOR BIRTH CUT

'No Place for Children' Says Expert

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—Blame for a decreasing American birth rate has been laid by Warren S. Thompson, census expert, to the American city.

In cities, he says in a monograph, children are an afterthought. In the country there is a place for them.

"Not life, not living, but things constitute the ultimate realities of city life," he believes, "—tangible, countable, cumulative things are criteria of success."

Comparing unmarried men in the city and country, he writes:

"A man can live comfortably, even luxuriously, in the city as a celibate. There is scarcely a job of any kind in the city at which one cannot succeed more easily and quickly without a wife, to say nothing of children. The opposite is true in the country. There the bachelor does not find living easy. Without a wife and homemaker he is lonely and uncomfortable and does not succeed any better for eschewing wife and children."

Thompson summarized the situation this way:

"United States village population had a ratio of 44 per cent greater than the city population when number of children under 5 were compared to number of women between 40 and 44. The farm population ratio was in excess of that of the village by 22.5 per cent, and of the urban by 76.4 per cent.'

Thompson predicted that by 1960 "our ratio of natural increase will not be more than half of what it was in 1920 (about 10 per 1,000) unless some very powerful agent arises to stimulate the birth rate in a way we cannot now foresee."

Clay County Farm Club Leader Lists Canning Profits

HENRIETTA, Texas, June 30.—According to a statement of work given out by Aubrey Hall, home demonstration agent for Clay county, there was a total of 24 demonstrations for beef canning and the making of cheese in the county during the period from October to May. Eighteen communities were visited and given demonstrations. There were 22½ beeves canned, valued at $1,143.50, in 781 No. 2 and 387 No. 3 tin cans. On foot the animals were valued at only $418.65 for most of them were young Jersey calves that would bring very little on the market, but worked up well for food at home.

Besides this amount canned in the demonstrations, people who had previously attended demonstrations canned enough meat to make the total for the county reach 54 beeves valued at $958.25 on foot and $2,831.80 after being put in 1794 No. 2 and 3182 No. 3 cans.

Honorable mention has been given Deer Creek, the leader, with a number of seven canned beeves, and Doss and Windthorst communities, where no visit was made by the agent, but who did their work under demonstrations of previous seasons.

At the drop of market price on cream and milk, the making of cheese was stressed, and demonstrations began in January. As a result of 12 demonstrations given in 10 organized and two unorganized communities, 886 pounds of cheese was made by 56 women in seven communities. This cheese was made at a cost of 9.39 cents per pound, and at the local price of 22 cents per pound was valued at $184.92. Deducting the actual cost of $82.93, there remains a saving of $111.89.

Results were so good that the agent hopes a far greater amount will be made next winter.

Pioneers of Childress County To Mark Anniversary July 18

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, June 30.—Final arrangements are being made for the annual meeting of the Childress county pioneers, which is to be held Saturday, July 18. This is the anniversary of the first celebration held in Childress county, which was July 18, 1887, at a point three miles west of the city.

Among the features of this celebration will be a barbecue with enough to supply several hundred people. In the past there has been some difficulty in securing attention to a set program, therefore this year that feature will be omitted. There will be music and other features to make the day interesting, but the greater part of the day will be devoted to meeting old timers and talking over the early days in the Panhandle.

W. L. Underwood, one of the early settlers of this section, is president of the association, with several vice presidents. C. W. Mitchell is secretary and T. L. Hardin, treasurer.

Clarendon to Follow Traditions Of Old West in July 4 Festival

CLARENDON, Texas, June 30.—Final plans are in shape for the biggest gathering of lovers of the old West in this city next Friday and Saturday, July 3-4.

The program of entertainment opens Thursday night with a free old-time square dance on the streets of this city. Friday morning junk car races and baseball games will fill up the day until noon when 10 beeves will be served at a free barbecue, presided over by Frank Whitlock of this city, famous for his barbecue. Plenty of bread, coffee, pickles and onions will also be on hand for the feed to be served at 11:30 a. m. sharp.

Sixty head of the best rodeo stock to be had in the Panhandle will be on hand for the rodeo, which starts at College park at 1:30. Plenty of thrills, many spills and all the wild west trimmings will be offered at the performances both Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Friday night the old fiddlers from all the counties in this section will compete in a fiddlers contest at the high school auditorium. Five to ten thousand people are expected on Friday for the barbecue and rodeo with even a larger crowd on Saturday.

A new grandstand being completed this week will be in readiness for the opening on Friday morning which with the seats already on hand is expected to take care of all comers. Cowhands from all sections of the Panhandle are expected and a full entry in all events is already in sight. Rodeo parades will be held each day of the contest at 1 p. m. through the streets of this city en route to the park.

Childress Crops Thrive on Heat

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, June 30.—Crop prospects in Childress county could hardly be better, according to those who have visited the farming sections during the past few days. Cotton is almost knee high in some communities, while the feed crops are making a rapid growth. So far there has been no damage from the hot weather, but rather the weather conditions have been about right for the cotton and feed. Rain will be needed within another week or 10 days, although some farmers say the cotton will continue to grow for two or three weeks with present weather conditions.

RAIL BRANCH WORK PUSHED

Construction to Be Started In Childress Soon

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, June 30.—Childress citizens having met the requirements of the officials of the Fort Worth and Denver Northern railway as to the right of way through Childress county it is expected that construction work will be under way by the middle of July.

The first work is that section between Childress and Red river. About three miles has been graded and is ready for the ties. The railway company is letting that section by private contract. The company expects to use its own force of mechanics in erecting the bridge over Red river. The latter job is expected to take 90 days.

Railway officials have assured citizens of Childress that all contracts would be let at once and that at least by Aug. 1 work along the entire line would be under way. Materials for the construction work will be concentrated at Childress, the company having taken a lease of a piece of land north of the city for that purpose.

The railway officials as well as the civic and business leaders of Childress expect the building of this road to place this section in a very bright condition, which will run until normal conditions are assured throughout the entire country.

SOONER ROAD BOARD UPHELD

Power to Expend Funds Supported by Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 30. (UP)—The supreme court today reiterated its former stand regarding expenditure of funds on highway projects for which local bond issues were raised.

The court ruled the commission was created and vested with power to effectively carry out its work and when acting consistently with the work, it cannot be enjoined from using funds under its control and in its possession.

The court, however, reversed the trial court decision on the suit brought by Delbert Seay and others against members of the commission and ruled that funds raised for road construction must be used for the purpose designated when the money is raised.

The case was appealed from Jefferson county.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has more farm-owned motor vehicles than any other state—357,000 passenger cars and 42,600 trucks. Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and New York follow in the order given.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Public works, municipal, district and county, are helping to meet the employment situation in Texas. Houston opens bids July 6 for $2,490,000 worth of bonds recently voted and will spend the proceeds for drainage, sewers, waterworks and other municipal improvements, some of them in connection with the new $5,000,000 Southern Pacific passenger station now nearing completion. Corpus Christi is receiving bids for rebuilding the washed-out section of the dam at Lake Lovenskiold on the Nueces at an estimated cost of $417,000. Cameron county district 19 will vote on $800,000 irrigation bonds. Cameron county district 14 is seeking bids on a $1,500,000 irrigation project, covering 15,000 acres. Sweetwater is spending $200,000 for city hall, auditorium, fire station and auxiliary jail. Luling will build a new city hall and fire station. Brownsville navigation district will build a turning basin and 17-mile channel to connect with the outer channel. Turkey is completing the paving of its business district. Temple is to build a new city market. Petitions for a bond issue with which to build a new court house are in circulation in Grayson county. Port Arthur, sub-county seat of the only county in Texas with two cities of more than 50,000 population, is moving for a $150,000 sub-court house for use of Jefferson county officials. The recent legislature enacted legislation permitting the plan.

Wellington Holds Farm Club Rally

Special to The Record News

WELLINGTON, Texas, June 30.—The annually rally for 4-H club boys and girls of Collingsworth county was held Tuesday at the high school building in Wellington. Boys and girls of this county who are identified with club work attended.

The program opened at 10 a. m. Singing was first on the program, after which an address was made by J. D. McGuire, representative of the state health department. All club girls who completed their work last year were awarded pins at this meeting.

Trula Morrow and Buster Worley, Collingsworth county 4-H club members, who represented Texas at the national encampment in Washington, D. C., described their trips.

Oat Yield in Clay Hits 74 Bushels

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, June 30.—Some oat yields in Clay county have reached 74 bushels per acre by actual measurement, according to reports of threshermen. Yields range from this amount down as low as 40 bushels per acre.

Wheat is ranging from 20 to 40 bushels per acre. Threshing is being pushed to get as much done as possible while the weather is suitable. More threshing is being done on the dependent plan this year, and in some cases the threshing is done on a toll basis rather than a cash charge.

Guidance in Music

WHEN little Willie shows that he has unusual talent for playing the violin, his parents usually see glittering visions of a highly salaried child prodigy and start putting him through the grind that will make him a professional concert musician.

Once in a great while it works, and little Willie follows in the footsteps of Elman and Heifetz. More often, however, it does not. Willie becomes just another fiddler, and he discovers too late that his whole childhood was wasted.

All of this, of course, isn't a problem that the average parent needs to worry about. But it is an illustration of the attitude parents are too apt to take when their children show musical ability; and a remark recently made at the convention of the National Federation of Music clubs by Mrs. Elmer J. Ootaway, president of the federation, is worth bearing in mind.

"Parents must be taught," she said, "that merely because their youngsters show musical talent is no reason for intensely preparing them for a professional career. Music for its own sake is the fundamental joy."

There is a lot of good sense to that remark. Sometimes it seems as if the United States today had too many professional musicians—a lot of whom, by the way, are not eating regular these days—and too few amateurs. Parents are always willing to stand the expense of musical training if they believe that their young hopeful can cash in on it when he goes out into the world. They are not so willing when they know that he will never make a cent out of it.

But there are few things that give one more solid enjoyment, during the course of a lifetime, than the ability to play some musical instrument passably well. There is a spiritual relaxation to be found in music that you produce yourself that can be gained in no other way. Even the poor wight who can play nothing but the newest jazz knows this is true.

And that is not the whole of it. Knowing how to play enables one to get more enjoyment from the music the professionals produce. The best possible way to learn to appreciate great music is to learn how to play yourself.

Parents who guide their child carefully toward intimate acquaintance with some musical instrument, with no thought of public performances, are giving the child a possession that will be priceless later on.

Fast Thinking in the Air

THE speed with which an aviator has to think sometimes is amply illustrated by the most recent misadventure of Major James H. Doolittle, who is one of America's most talented flyers.

Major Doolittle was speeding along at a 235-mile-an-hour clip over East St. Louis, Ill., the other day, traveling a bare 100 feet from the ground, when suddenly the fabric began to tear loose from the wings of his plane.

In a moment he had nosed his ship up to an altitude of 300 feet. Then, because the construction of its fuselage made it hard for him to jump out, he rolled it over on its back and dropped out upside down, letting his parachute get him down safely while the ship went on and crashed.

It all happened in a very few seconds. Major Doolittle is alive today because he can think with lightning speed—and act as fast as he thinks.

Jobs and Criminals

IF YOU have ever doubted that there is a direct and important connection between crime and economic conditions, you might profitably consider the fact that the Marshall Stillman movement, an organization which sought to rehabilitate criminals by getting them honest jobs, has gone out of business because of the depression.

The depression eliminated the jobs, and the criminals promptly went back to crime. So the Marshall Stillman movement is being replaced by the Association for Better Citizenship, which will try to prevent young men from entering the underworld.

Seldom is the economic background of crime better illuminated than by this event. Before we can eliminate our underworld, apparently, we will have to take the kinks out of our industrial system.

Immune?

I have no aged Egyptian scarabaeus;
I carry no symbolic amulet;
I bow before no idol on a dias,
Nor have I yet acquired a mental set.

I scorn the rabbit's foot, and four-leaf clover;
I have no faith in what the stars may say;
The earth is full of myths to snicker over,
And I deny that love can find a way.

At Cupid's aimless shafts I raise a brow,
Impervious, I smile, and in disdain
I help myself to all life will allow,
And rate alike the lovely with the plain.

A dozen years roll by, and unimpressed,
I carry still your picture in my vest.

Gag

A few theatrical seasons ago Phil Baker, the Accordion Man, backed a flop called "Cafe de Danse." Rouben Mamoulian staged it. The cast included a boy who also played an accordion.

When Mamoulian became suddenly ill and left the theater Mr. Baker told the cast that he would direct things.

Mamoulian heard about the interference and dashed back to the theater and collected the cast. "And furthermore!" he thundered, "I want you all to know that no accordion player will show me how to stage a show!"

"Do you mean me?" asked the boy accordion player.

"No, sarcastically snapped Mamoulian, "I mean your understudy!"

On the Other Hand

Two East Side peddlers were looking at a newspaper photo of President Hoover. The background was the White House lawn and Mr. Hoover was wearing a blue coat and white trousers.

"Well," said one, "there's the man who says things ain't so bad."

"Yeh, yeh," was the retort, "and he ain't even got a suit to match!"

Novelette

Among other tales they tell you is the one about the wealthy manufacturer of a southern town who believes that "the man in overalls" should get $1 a day. He is known to underpay his great corps of workers.

Last year, they say, he ordered a mansion built in the town. Rooms for 50 guests and numerous other luxuries. The house was finished a few months ago, and just as he was about to move in he received an anonymous note saying that if he entered the place it wou[illegible] bombed.

So since then, he has lived in the garage of his vast estate carefully guarded by a costly regiment of detectives.

Not one of whom, however, can protect his peace of mind.

Weather Note

When the thermom hit 93 on Saturday an enterprising movie house owner on Eighth avenue had a signmaker rush over a sign reading: "It is 40 degrees cooler in here!"

The sign enticed Lou Holtz, who ankled into the theater only to be struck in the face by a rush of hot wind. On his way out he saw a prostrate man on the floor.

"Who's that guy?" asked Holtzie.

"That," was the reply devastating, "is the theater owner!"

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

GEORGE HAMILTON, GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA—George Hamilton, Earl of Orkney (1666-1737) was a famous English general. He was appointed governor of Virginia by Queen Anne of England in 1700, and although he held this position until his death in 1737, he never once crossed the Atlantic to set foot on the soil of his colony. A succession of lieutenant governors actually administered the province in his name, some of them, like Spottswood, Drysdale, and Gooch, becoming famous in the history of Virginia.

FISH CAUGHT IN DEATH VALLEY—Though Death Valley is known to be the hottest and one of the most lifeless places on the earth, Mr. John Edwin Hogg of Alhambra, Calif., finds profitable commercial fishing at Saratoga Springs in the southern end of the valley. Scientifically the fish are known as "Cyprinodon macularius" and are in great demand among fish fanciers and aquariums. Their colors range from bright silver to an irridescent electric blue, with large bright eyes that flash like electric sparks.

TOMORROW—"THE STATE THAT HAS HAD SEVEN FLAGS."

THE STORY SO FAR

Sally Blair, saddened by the death of her friend, Ann Seymour, and by the engagement of Peter Douglas to Linda Davidson, works on as secretary to Linda's father, Harvey Davidson. Sally is in love with Peter, but has decided that she can get along without love if she can have money. She makes up her mind that she will win Mr. Davidson if possible—an easy task because her employer likes and trusts her. One day he confides his worries over the continued postponement of his daughter's wedding, forgets that Sally is only his secretary and kisses her. Sally is stunned by this sudden and unexpected demonstration of his affection, and finds that the conquest brings her no joy.

CHAPTER XXXVI

Sally didn't see Harvey Davidson go out of his office, and he didn't call her in any more that afternoon. She waited until nearly 6:30 and then when she found he had left hours before, she went, too.

It had all come so suddenly. His kiss. So unexpectedly. How would he face her tomorrow? What would he do? She worried about it all night, and in the morning was relieved when he had not come down by noon.

All these weeks, these months that she had worked so close to him she had been thinking of this—hoping he might fall in love with her. Did his kiss mean he had fallen in love with her? At last? Sally didn't know what to believe. The fire, the chat they had had, more intimate than any of their talks had ever been—these had probably carried him away.

At one, Kent Roper called her in. "Mr. Davidson is going to be out of town for a week, Sally. On a hunting trip. Just called me, and told me to let you know. As soon as you clean up your work, you can go on a few days' vacation. Do you good to get away." His eyes were twinkling as they always were when he talked with the girl.

Sally went away thoughtfully. The ordeal would be put off anyway, with Davidson away. She wouldn't have to meet him for a week. That was something, for she had dreaded seeing him again after yesterday afternoon.

The Date Is Set

Two days later she met Roper in the halls.

"I see the wedding invitations are out, Sally."

"Wedding invitations?" Her heart was in her mouth.

"Yes, come in and see mine." So she followed him into his private office and looked at the big square envelope he handed her. Opened it with fingers that forced themselves to be still, saw it with eyes that showed Roper nothing. Mr. Harvey Travis Davidson was inviting Mr. Kent Roper to the wedding of his daughter Linda—to Mr. Peter Douglas, at Grace church, the evening of December twenty-fourth. . . .

The parchment paper was heavy in her hands, the engraved script was dancing before her eyes, but she carefully and slowly put the invitation and the envelope back on his desk.

December twenty-fourth . . . Christmas eve. . . .

The Davidsons had won over Peter's protests. What arguments had Mr. Davidson used that night? That night when he had told Sally he was going to talk to Peter? The night following the afternoon he had kissed her?

"That's nice," she said as she turned to go. She had thought it wouldn't hurt her, that she was almost cured of Peter, but now she knew she wasn't. That sight of Peter's name with Linda's sent the same old ache to her heart. The date set. On Christmas eve, Linda would become Mrs. Peter Douglas.

On Christmas eve Linda would become Mrs. Peter Douglas. That afternoon Sally sat in her office, and counted the days until the twenty-fourth.

That afternoon as she sat in her office, and counted the days until the twenty-fourth. Fifteen of them. Fifteen days and nights. Unconsciously she checked them with tiny black pencil marks, then because she was afraid someone might see the calendar, she tore out the sheet, and procured a new fresh one for December. There it was clean, and she wouldn't touch it again. She tried not to look at it either.

Perhaps if she went away, it would be easier for her. Mrs. Seymour had been urging her to come to Nebraska for the first real Christmas she had ever had. Should she go? Harvey Davidson would let her off. She had only to ask him. She could start a few days before Christmas, spend Christmas day with the Seymours and get back, all within a week.

Christmas on the farm—she could hear Ann telling about it. The great tree, with the home-made trimmings, silver stars the children had cut out, popcorn they had strung, apples they had rubbed with their hot childish hands. The stockings hung on a rack behind the stove in the parlor, because the Seymour farm house had no fireplaces. The dinner with all of the Seymours around the table, some of them married now, and bringing their children home for the day. Sleighs—for there would be snow, and the icicles would be dripping from the roof . . .

Away from New York, away from the papers which would tell her all about Peter's wedding.

Aunt Martha hadn't believed in the Christmas spirit, so during those years while the girl was with her there had been no holiday. And in the years before, when her mother and father had been alive, they had been too poor to provide an exchange of gifts. Too poor, and too young, and too much in love to think that the daughter they had brought in the world would miss what other children had.

That Christmas Ann had been with her came nearer to being real than any one she had ever had. Ann and she had bought a little tree, quite microscopic, and trimmed it themselves with things they had bought at the 10-cent stores. They had cakes, the turkey Mrs. Seymour had sent from the farm, and Ann had hung up two stockings back of the davenport. A meager Christmas, but a happy one.

"Rubbish," Aunt Martha used to say when they hurried home from the markets Christmas eve, and the houses were lighted, and Sally had wanted to linger and look into them at the trees, and the candles, and the gifts tied with their bright ribbons. "Silly sentiment—"

She hadn't made up her mind three days later, and the letter to Mrs. Seymour was still unwritten. Well, if she decided at the last minute, she could wire. Something held her here—she didn't know what. Peter, perhaps, and the hope—but there was no hope left. Weren't the invitations out for the wedding? Peter was—as good as married now.

She longed to go to Ann's home, and she longed to stay in New York. Between two fires, and she'd have to make up her mind soon.

Harvey Davidson didn't come

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea, introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, the Record News Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is the tradition in the Barrymore family concerning an apple on first night performances?—J. A.

A.—A catch phrase in the Barrymore-Drew family was "Speak your piece good and you will get a big red apple." When Ethel Barrymore was to play her first leading part in New York, John Drew, apropos of the saying, sent her an apple. Throughout Drew's lifetime he never failed any members of the family on first nights. When Ethel Barrymore Colt made her debut last September, her uncle, Lionel, wired the apple from Hollywood; and John Drew Colt, making his first appearance in Scarlet Sister Mary, received one from John Barrymore.

Q.—Please describe the pope's crown or tiara.—S. W. P.

A.—The pope's tiara, or the papal crown, is a costly covering for the head, ornamented with precious stones and pearls and shaped like a bee-hive; it has a small cross at its highest point and is also equipped with three royal diadems. On account of the three diadems it is sometimes called "triregnum." In the beginning of the 12th century, the papal tiara had one crown, the second circlet or crown was added by Boniface VIII, to symbolize the two-fold nature of the papal authority. The third crown was used by and since Benedict XII, signifying temporal power and the power of binding and loosing.

Q.—Is Baltimore an independent city?—W. D.

A.—Baltimore, Md., and St. Louis, Mo., are the only independent cities in the United States outside of Virginia. Many of the cities in Virginia are independent.

Q.—When was bookkeeping first systematized?—L. L.

A.—Business records of some form or other were probably employed in the earliest times in the history of trade and credit. Practically nothing is known, however, of the earliest forms of bookkeeping. From the works of Leonardo of Pisa it appears certain that the merchants of Italy, France and Spain practiced systematic bookkeeping for some time prior to the 13th century. We owe the present system of bookkeeping, however, to the Italian traders of the 14th and 15th centuries, particularly the merchants of Genoa, Florence and Venice. In 1494 Luca Pacioli, or Luca di Burgo, a Tuscan friar, published a work which contains a treatise on double-entry bookkeeping. From Italy the system spread to the Netherlands, thence to England and from there to all parts of the world.

Q.—Do cotton planters receive official advance notices of the emergencies of the cotton boll weevil each year?—G. N.

A.—While for some years the department of agriculture issued a bulletin from its Tallulah, La., experiment station, calculated to inform cotton planters of the strength of boll weevil emergence each spring, the service has been abandoned.

Q.—Why does a ceiling show the shadow of the laths above it?—C. B.

A.—The lines on the ceiling are caused by dust-laden air passing up through the plaster and leaving a deposit over the spaces between the laths.

Q.—What will act as anti-freeze for automobile radiators and also keep them cool in summer?—F. W.

A.—A small quantity of natural honey, dissolved in the radiator water will have this effect. Its freezing point is lower than water and its boiling point higher. Joints must be especially tight, however, as honey will pass through openings too small for water.

Q.—How many American aces of the world war are now living?—J. H.

A.—With the death in April, 1931, of Lieut. Frederick E. Luff of Cleveland, Ohio, the number of surviving aces was reduced to 54.

Q.—What is the Roi Cooper Megrue prize?—E. R.

A.—This award of $500 is presented annually by the Dramatists guild for the Broadway play which "makes the audience a little brighter and a little more cheered up when it leaves the theater than when it came in." Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, authors of Once in a Lifetime are the recipients of the latest award.

Q.—Did Lina Cavalieri, the opera singer, ever act in the movies?—F. H.

A.—Miss Cavalieri appeared in the following pictures: "The Temptress," "The Two Brides," and "Mad Love."

The Record News Offers Its Readers Everybody's Stamp Book

Stamp collectors constitute a great fraternity. Did you know that King George of England is one of the active members? He has one of the world's famous collections and his representatives are zealous bidders at most of the great auctions. In fact, there is a great deal about stamps and stamp collectors that you may not know unless you send for a copy of the Record News new booklet, Everybody's Stamp Book, and brush up on the subject. The booklet is especially valuable for beginners, but there is meat in it for the veterans.

Ten cents in coin or stamps will bring a copy to any address. Use this coupon.

WICHITA FALLS SOCIETY AND CHURCH NEWS

Beautiful Luncheon Tells News Of Early Marriage

In an announcement luncheon of more than usual interest made at the Wichita club Tuesday noon, news was given of the engagement and approaching marriage of Eleanor Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming of Wichita Falls, to Frank J. Dempsey of San Antonio, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dempsey of Texarkana. A group of the most intimate family friends were guests.

A rose and turquoise blue decorative motif marked the bride-elect's chosen colors. A great rose crystal bowl in the center of the table was filled with shasta daisies and was flanked with rose crystal holders and turquoise tapers tied with fluffy bows of rose tulle. Place cards were also announcements, with two girls on a rose love seat absorbed in a sheet of "Extra News," bearing the inscription "Eleanor Fleming—Frank J. Dempsey, Tuesday, July 7."

Hob nail crystal used in the bride elect's special honor added to the attractive table. Through the course of the luncheon, toasts scintillating with cleverness were given. Miss Fleming, who has been connected with the Wichita Daily Times for several years, is a girl of rare charm and vivid personality and has a wide host of friends. Mr. Dempsey, formerly manager of Bradstreet company in Wichita Falls, was recently promoted to management of the San Antonio office.

Covers were laid for the popular young honoree and for Mesdames J. E. H. Railey, J. E. Hall, W. L. Underwood, Wayland Sanford, Bentley Nelson, B. D. Donnell, Ed Howard, Clifford Deaton, Sam Kruger, James S. Maxwell and the hostess, Mrs. George Fleming.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Some one gave me a little globe last Christmas—a thing I had wished for all my life. But it must hang just right in its walnut frame if the world is straight. And it seems that every day that world is out of line. I must take it by the small copper rim and set it straight.

But wouldn't it be the grand thing if all the occasions of our distress could be so easily set right. People have been caught in an inescapable net in the last two years. So many are struggling to get straight again. A world gone crooked is mastering and making slaves of many and they are struggling to slip off the chains of servitude and become free.

Morning always comes; there have been times for all humanity, who, remembering the old adage that the darkest night is just before the dawn, doubt its truth; the darkness lasts so long. But morning always comes.

After a storm, the morning light finds some people like rocks, beaten by the winds and rains, but strong still. And it finds ruins. Through all time, one law remains the same—the fit survive.

But when I started writing of my little crooked world which every morning, after some one else has dusted it, I set aright, I though of none of these solemn human things. I thought of the small pup yelping for dear life down the street, probably because he had the tummy ache.

And I had in my mind the last chapter of "Protection," a crook story just concluded in Collier's Weekly. The man intended for a hero was nervous in the concluding chapter. He read innumerable letters and messages and newspapers and each was stuffed into his pockets. In the end he was shot to death, and my mind had been occupied by the amount of paper the bullets had to go through to reach his vital regions.

But I thought now of Hearst in his magnificent estate in California, where at the farthest point from his home, he might reach into a rock, get a long distance phone and have latest news on anything he wished.

I thought of the Homestake gold mines in Lead, S. D., the largest in the world some 10 years ago. They were then the property of Mrs. Phoebe K. Hearst, William Randolph's mother. Not far from Lead was Spearfish canyon, where one of the prettiest streams imaginable ran over the rocky beds and roared down picturesque falls. But the stream had been harnessed by the Homestake mines and the picturesque stream is gone. Money can accomplish so much to make more money and ruin beauty.

I thought of a story I had read in a current "Reader's Digest," written by a professor in an eastern college. His brother had committed suicide; his brother was a traveling salesman; the firm for which he worked and for which he had sacrificed for years, found their profits decreasing; they let him go and hired younger, cheaper men. Nothing left for him. Yet race horse owners care for their old horses.

I thought of life and love and liberty and the land of the free and the home of the brave, and hoped that some inscrutable Providence might soon bring the sunlight of morning to the world.

SCHOOL TRANSFERS

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., June 30.—School transfers were granted recently to 67 students in Jackson county. Several applications for transfers are being held, however, for further information.

Most of the transfers were granted for high school students who are unable to take accredited work in the district in which they live. Except for a few rare instances no other transfers are granted.

Junior Forum Bridge Attracts Attention

Many tables are already being reserved for the final bridge tournament of the summer season which members of the Junior Forum will sponsor Thursday morning and evening. The games will be played at the home of Miss Elizabeth Carrigan, 1100 Austin street, and green and white will be noted in the pretty summer coloring of Shasta daisies to be used in abundance.

Mrs. Lloyd Taylor will be hostess with Miss Carrigan and reservations may be made with Miss Carrigan, 5055; Mrs. Lloyd Taylor, 7894; Mrs. Pierce Langford, 2-0987; Mrs. P. P. Langford, 5154; Mrs. Hubert Stringer, 4442; Miss Mathilda Donnell, 5975 or Miss Mary Virginia Barron, 7748.

Interesting prizes are prepared for the last series of games, all presented by merchants to the group of Junior Forum members who are regarded as the coming women of the city. Prizes will be also awarded to the man and the woman who have been present and played in the greatest number of games in the series of tournaments given during the summer.

Alathean Executive Board Has Luncheon

Bowls of sweet peas were used to make the home of Mrs. W. C. Reeves lovely Tuesday morning when members of the executive board of the First Baptist Alathean class met there for business and luncheon. Mrs. C. L. Oden opened the meeting with an inspiring devotional followed with prayer by the hostess.

Interesting reports of the past work were given by each officer. Mesdames C. L. Oden and Frank Elam, who presented their resignations, were given lovely gifts.

A delightful plate lunch was served to Mesdames W. D. Jones, Homer McGregor, C. W. Stovall, Frank Elam, C. L. Oden, H. E. Nettles and the hostess, Mrs. Reeves.

Biblical Drama Presented by Bowie Actors

Wichita Falls, Olney, Graham, Henrietta, Fort Worth, Decatur, Nocona and Montague were represented in the audience of aproximately 400 who gathered in the city auditorium to attend the Biblical dramatization of "David and Jonathan," staged under the auspices of the Bowie Thursday club with Mrs. David Warren as director, Monday evening. The play was written by Mrs. John B. Hunt, state chairman of Bible in the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and member of the first district board.

The "Eunice Buchanan" scholarship and loan fund of the first district T. F. W. C. and the Bowie public library were joint beneficiaries in the beautiful play. As it exemplified for the second time Mrs. John B. Hunt's talent in Bible dramatization, members of the first district who were in attendance suggested that Mrs. Hunt dramatize and Mrs. Warren direct a Bible play each year.

A feature of the play was that all costumes, gorgeous in Oriental colors, and all stage properties were produced or made in Bowie. David in his gorgeous wedding robe of gold cloth, the bride and about 35 bridesmaids in flowing white garments with the Jewish melodies and the wedding and coronation songs made a beautiful scene. Mrs. Harry Karlsberg had charge of the Jewish melodies. Miss Ruby Evans sang the wedding song. Mrs. Melvin Crisp was accompanist. The cast of characters was as follows:

Samuel, priest, prophet and judge, Rev. Thos. J. Doss; Saul, king, O. W. Watson; Jonathan, Saul's son, S. L. Greenwood; Jesse, A Bethlehemite, Rev. J. Shult; Eliab, Jesse's oldest son, David Warren; Abinadob, Jesse's second son, E. Scott Avery; Shammah, Jesse's third son, Ike Parks; Nathanael, Jesse's fourth son, Ike Chandler; Roddai, Jesse's fifth son, Gordon Cady; Ozem, Jesse's sixth son, E. H. Blough; David, Jesse's seventh son, C. S. Henderson; Abner, captain of the host, Robert Weil; Michal, David's wife, Mrs. Wilbur Morgan; an Amalekite, Lynn Garlington; Abinoam, Saul's wife, Mrs. J. A. Brite; Ziba, Saul's servant, Melvin Crisp; Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son, M. A. Bryan; Micah, Mephibosheth's son, Bobbie Posey; Solomon, David's son, Louis Chancellor; Queen Bathshua, Solomon's mother, Mrs. R. C. Cady; maids of honor, Mrs. Oran C. Stovalle and Mrs. Cecil Allen; Joram, Jack Brooks; Saul's messengers, E. M. Stallings and Will Lancaster; David's messengers, Albert McClellan and Ludolph Greenwood; bugler, E. Scott Avery; lad with arrows, Joe Holloway; whistler, Hettie Lola Dobkins; singers, soldiers, bridesmaids, maids and daughters of Israel.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME SHEER AFTERNOON FROCK

Pattern 1974

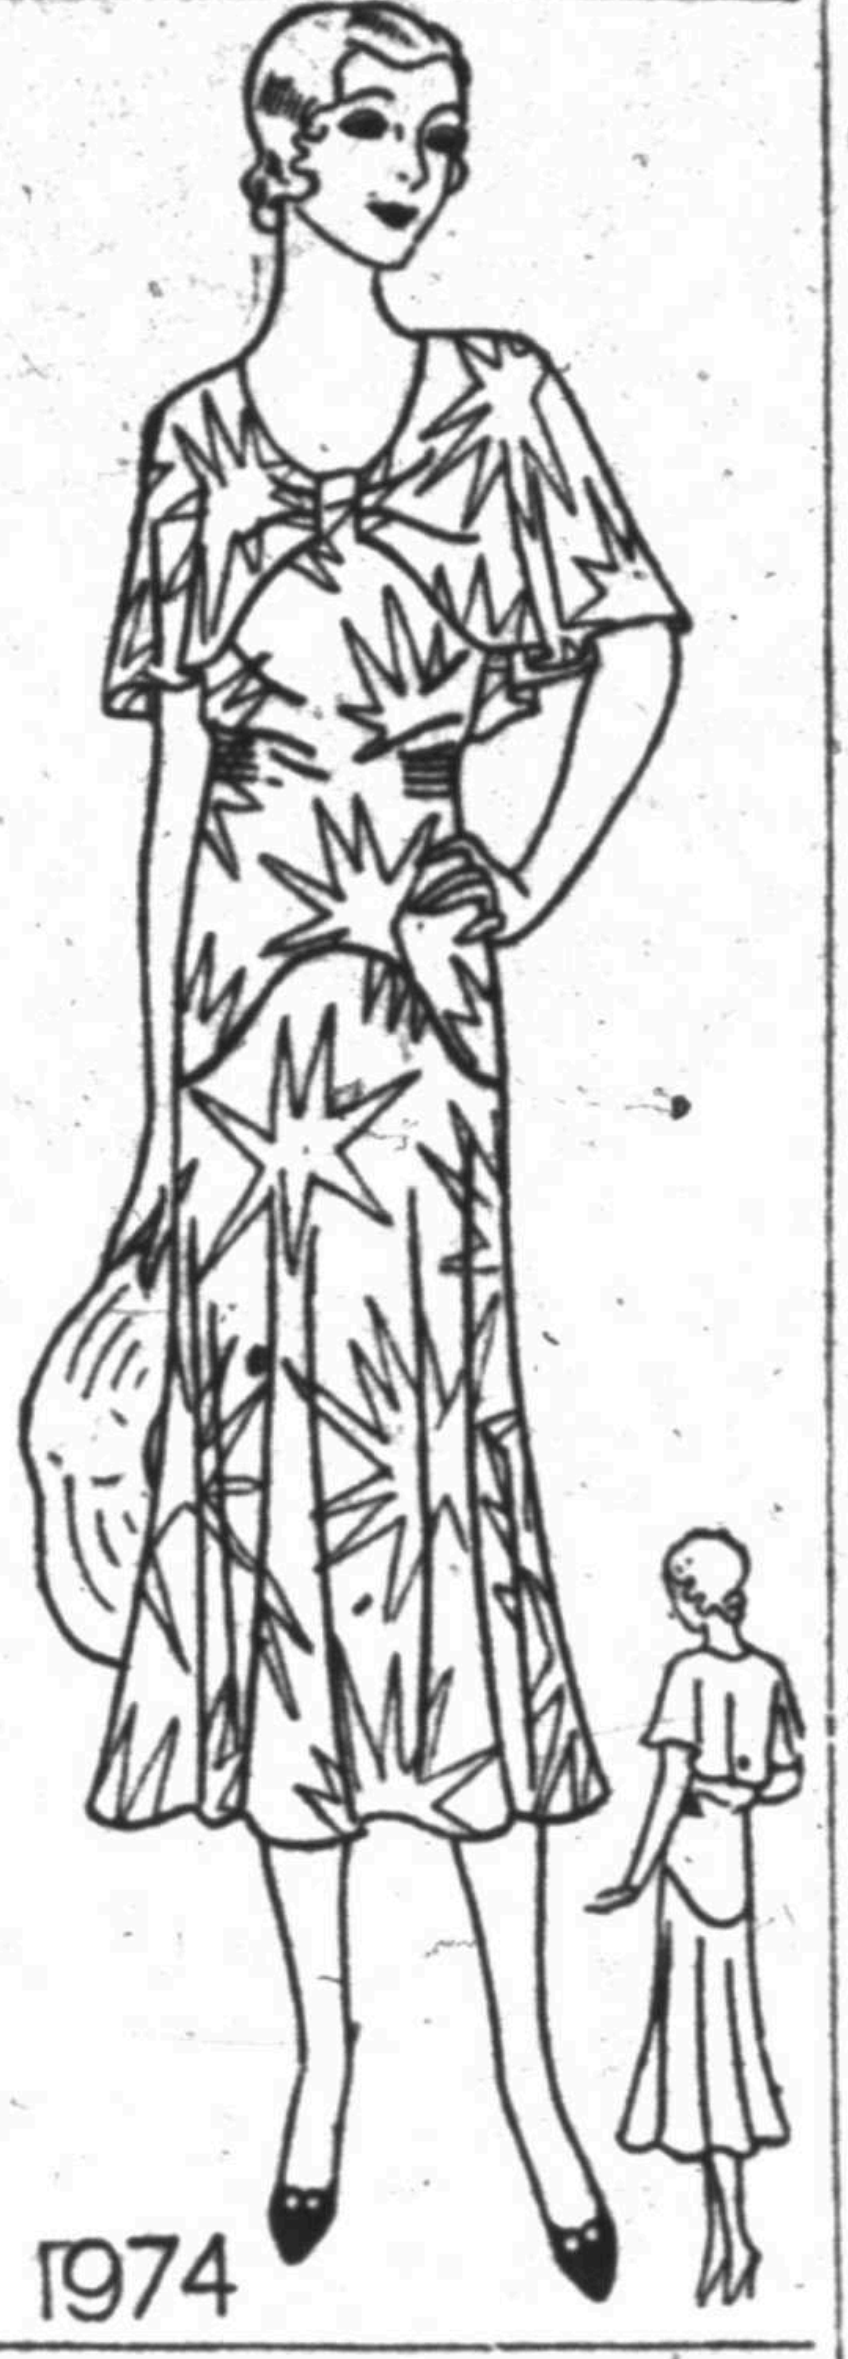
By ANNE ADAMS

It's smart, graceful and cool made of flowered georgette, chiffon, voile or embroidered batiste. The original fabric had a rose ground, the flowers were white outlined in navy, and it was simply stunning worn with navy shoes. A deep cape collar is becomingly caught up in front and fastened through slashes in the bodice, the skirt flare joining repeating the curved line. Tucks at the waistline mould the bodice slightly to the figure. Sleeves are included with the pattern.

Pattern 1974 is obtainable only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16, sleeveless, requires 3⅝ yards of 39-inch fabric. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Send fifteen cents (15c in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The pattern catalog features an excellent assortment of afternoon, sports and house dresses, lingerie, pajamas and kiddies' clothes, also delightful accessory patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty-five cents. Address all mail orders to Record News Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.



Desert Plants For 'Gardeners Who Like Them'

By BERTHA M'KEE DOBIE

Desert plants exert a fascination beyond that of all other growths. Their forms are decorative rather than beautiful; some are monstrous, sinister, suggesting evil. In their fascination is something of the spell-casting power inherent in the root-sense of the word, so that when people speak of the charm of the desert, they use the word "charm" in its full strength. Each year for a brief season at the transforming touch of spring the monstrous forms stand before the enchanted gaze clothed in beauty beyond the power of one who has not seen it to imagine. It would not appear stranger were thistles to bear figs.

More and more people are seeking to confine in their gardens the fascination of desert growths. They cannot, of course, do that, for they cannot bring along with root and stem the sands and the always changing contours and the long roads and the far horizon and the strange clearness of stars above the desert. But they can possess the remarkable decorative quality of agaves and yuccas; and experience the surprise, never quite dulled by repetition, that from plants unable to afford the luxury of leaves can arise flowers so large, so silken, so gorgeously hued as cactus blooms.

Belong to Southwest

Desert plants have a look of belonging to the Southwest, and somehow for houses of Spanish type nothing else is quite so suitable. They derive interest from the curious uses which people have made of them—for food, fuel, soap, needles thread, refreshing drink and intoxicating liquor, cart-wheel lubricants, poultices, shoe fabric, thatches, fiddle bows, and rattlesnake cures; they strike their roots deep into social history.

The person who contemplates a cactus garden either brings in what he finds and later looks up the names in an illustrated volume, or he orders from a cactus nursery such species as pleases his eye in stem or flower. In either case he is compelled to learn botanical names, since common names of cacti are more elastic than most common names. It is no part of this article to list the cacti desirable for gardens. People begin with the common devil's head (echinocactus texensis), which grows in colonies; the strawberry-fruited pitaya (Echinocereus enneacanthus), tasajillo (Opuntia leptocaulis), friend to birds; lead pencil cactus (Wilcoxia poselgeri), which grows down by the Rio Grande; the ubiquitous prickly pear, of which there are several species in Texas, perhaps the best for gardens being a handsome spineless one known in the Big Bend as blind cactus; the rainbow cactus; the hedgehog cactus (Echinocactus setispinus); finger cactus (Coryphantha sulcata); the visnaga or barrel cactus (Ferocactus wislizeni) and perhaps the cholla (Opuntia arborescens). After they get this far, every excursion westward becomes an adventure. If they live far to the south, they may add the coveted sagauro or giant cactus of Arizona, but even so must wrap it with blankets when a freeze threatens.

Chollas for Large Gardens

Like the sagauro, the cholla is for large gardens only. A cholla tract is strange to look at, repellant ordinarily, but, as Dr. Henry F. Hoyt says in "A Frontier Doctor," "a beautiful sight in the night as it glistens like a veritable lake of silver under the stars." The chollas are favorite nesting places for cactus wrens, and Dr. Hoyt tells how in the 1870's quail roosted in them so plentifully that hunting them by knocking them off their perch at night, as passenger pigeons were hunted, was scarcely sport. When the fleshy part of the cholla stem decays, a woody skeleton in arabesque pattern is left, from which canes, wall pockets and other tourists' trifles are made. This cactus grows natively in the Big Bend and on west.

Of all North American cacti the visnaga has contributed most to romantic tradition. It is known as the camel among plants, as the well of the desert. Rather it is a keg in which water is stored against drouth, for the waxed, corrugated stem gives up little to the sun. Many a traveler in the desert, his canteen empty, has had his life and hope revived by the water of the visnaga. Mexicans on both sides the Rio Grande know its properties. They knock or singe off enough thorns that they can slice off the top of the living water keg. Then they bruise and churn the pulp until it releases its water, whereupon they drink refreshed. On at least one occasion the radiator of a car that had run out of water on the desert was filled with visnaga juice. The visnaga is probably the best of the larger cacti for gardens.

Cacti have certain homely virtues to commend them. Of these the chief is a thrifty habit. There used to be a saying that prickly pear could take root in rock and live on wind. I have myself seen a small nopal living in the mortar of an inside rock wall and apparently growing. It is not uncommon to see a fairly large plant growing in the crotch of a tree, where debris accumulated and a seed was dropped. A cactus pad dropped on the ground takes root; tasajillo grows easily from cuttings and so do several greenhouse species, such as lobster cactus and night-blooming cereus. Besides, a cactus garden allows its owner to enjoy a summer's travel without unhappy surmises about what is happening back home.

However, a cactus garden has its requirements of soil and drainage. The great enemy of cactus, as of all succulents, is rot. Prevent rot and you have done all. Mrs. Ellen Schulz Quillin of San Antonio, whose book "Texas Cacti," published by the Texas Academy of Science, is invaluable to the collector, has planted her own cacti in a mixture of red sand, fine gravel and black dirt in equal parts. Since the garden is level, she has elevated the cactus beds two or three inches to provide drainage. If the garden were on a slope, the elevation would not be necessary.

Cactus and Rocks

Cactus and rocks go together in natural association. A rock border is best for a cactus bed, and rocks may be interspersed among the plants to good effect. These rocks should never be placed with geometric precision, but should look as though the accidental hand of nature had strewn them there. On the other hand, cacti suit very well an artificial structure of stone and earth. By planting cacti in the pockets of a cone so built to a height of several feet, one can provide room for a great many small cacti without using much ground

FETE PLANNED IN SHAMROCK

Two-Day July 4 Festival to Be Staged

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, June 30.—Plans for the presentation by the American Legion of the greatest Fourth of July celebration ever to be held in Shamrock are nearing completion. One of the best pieces of advertising done was when the Shamrock municipal band visited Wheeler, Mobeetie, Pampa, Lefors and McLean, giving official invitations to attend this monster two-day show when shows, brilliant fireworks, baseball and terrapin races will combine to give Shamrock and her visitors a glorious Fourth such as Shamrock has never seen.

The terrapin races bid well to be the most popular attraction for this event. More than 100 entrants have been made and mails are daily bringing new entrants and inquiries about this unique phase of the celebration. Final drives for more entrants are being made and the legion is now offering to furnish terrapin fanciers with race animals.

A crowd of approximately 3,000 persons is expected by legionnaires after conference with the good will trippers. In addition to representatives from towns visited in Texas a good number are expected from Western Oklahoma.

BRECKENRIDGE LEGION FETE

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, June 30.—The local American Legion post plans to make the July 4 rodeo and general celebration at the J. P. Stoker ranch next Saturday one of the real big events of the year for this county, according to Post Commander C. J. O'Connor.

The celebration will also last through Sunday, July 5.

Glover Enthusiastic After Long Air Tour

WASHINGTON, June 30. (INS)—After a 3,000-mile airplane tour, during which he surveyed air mail and passenger lines in the northwestern portions of the country, W. Irving Glover, assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, returned here today enthusiastic over airplane passenger conditions in that section.

Popular Frederick Couple Are Wed

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., June 29.—Miss Hazel Tefteller, daughter of Mrs. H. A. Tefteller, 615 North Tenth street, was married to J. D. Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tyler, 215 South Tenth street, Sunday morning at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. H. W. Stigler, local Baptist pastor. Witnesses were intimate friends of the bride, Misses Cenia Anderson, Jewel Pace and Stella Elledge.

Mrs. Tyler is a graduate of the local schools and attended the Central State Teachers college at Edmond.

Mr. Tyler is a graduate of the high school at Rising Star, Texas. He is now employed in a local store.

The young couple left after the wedding for a trip to Carlsbad caverns, and other points in New Mexico. Upon their return they will reside at 615 North Tenth street.

Electran's Heirs Must Live on Wichita Farm to Win Legacy

ELECTRA, Texas, June 30. (AP)—In order to obtain possession of a valuable estate consisting of farm land in Wichita county, cash, stocks and bonds left them by their uncle, the late Andrew Bauer, aged recluse who died here June 18, the children of Johann Keik, living in Germany, must come to America and live on the farm six miles northwest of Electra. A proviso in Bauer's will specifies that at least one of the heirs must come to America and after becoming a citizen of the United States must live on the farm.

Bauer was unmarried. He came to the United States as a steerage passenger in 1891. He worked as a day laborer in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri before coming to Wichita county.

Three Mine Heads Charged in Fatal Lutie Explosion

WILBURTON, Okla., June 30. (UP)—Three officials of the Lutie mine near here in which 15 miners were killed Nov. 29, 1930, were at liberty under $2,500 bond each today on second degree manslaughter charges.

The complaints alleged Dan McAlpine, mine owner, Arthur Craig and J. S. Bowerman, foreman of the mine, had instructed the shotfirer to shoot blasts while the miners were at work.

NEW STAMP

Government Sells Special Issue for Red Cross Anniversary

A new stamp celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross has been placed on sale at the local postoffice for five or six days.

The stamp was first placed on sale May 21 in the postoffices at Washington, D. C., and Dansville, N. Y. All postoffices were furnished the stamps as soon as they were printed, but as they are in a two color dye the printing was delayed.

The local postoffice has 50,000 on hand which are being put in circulation daily. The Red Cross nurse with her hands extended over the globe and the dates 1881 and 1931 mark the new issue.

Equalization Board Holds First Meeting

A preliminary meeting of the board of equalization for both city and school taxes was held in the office of W. Ralph Hyer Tuesday afternoon. The group will probably hold other meetings throughout the week for the purpose of reviewing renditions. No definite date for hearings has been set as yet, but the board expects to be ready about July 15, it was said.

Members of the board include Roscoe Staton, J. T. Young and Homer Karrenbrock.

Never Too Old or Too Young to Swim

In the spring thoughts may turn to those of love, but in the warm days of summer the thoughts turn longingly to a pool of clear cool water, to the beach, or to the old swimming hole. Even those who cannot swim a stroke enjoy taking a plunge in the surf or pool and derive much pleasure and benefit from the toning action of the water on the skin, the healthful sunshine and the exercise. However, one will enjoy going into the water more if one learns to swim. It is easier to learn to swim than to learn to walk. Babies have been taught to swim before they could toddle. On the other hand, many good swimmers did not learn this exhilarating sport until after the age of 60. From this you will see that one good thing about swimming is that you are never too young or too old to learn.

The value of swimming as a health builder is brought out by one of the swiftest swimmers ever known, Duke Kahanamoku, who is nearly 41 years old. He believes that swimming is a better exercise than running and says: "The swimmer has better wind, a better heart and a body more evenly developed." Swimming calls such a variety of the big muscle groups of the body into play, when several different strokes are used, that the body tends to become very symmetrical.

Swimming is one of the best ways to develop powerful shoulders, rounded arms and a good chest. It also tends to tighten and flatten the abdomen. If vigorous kicking is used the hips and legs are made sounder, stronger and well formed.

After a swim the appetite is good, the sleep is restful, the lungs have had a good bathing in fresh air, and the nerves are relaxed.

You never know when the time will come when a knowledge of how to swim may save either your life or the life of a friend. Those who swim will find it a wise plan to know how to rescue a person and revive a person apparently drowning. If the correct method of starting artificial breathing is used soon enough, many lives are saved.

The best method to learn is the "prone pressure" method which every swimmer should learn to use.

It has been found that vacation months are the ones in which most drownings are listed and more men than women drown. The ages of from 20 to 34 are those in which the fewest number of accidents of this type occur.

Once you learn how to swim well the danger from drowning becomes small, while your chances of saving the lives of others are just that much greater. A few simple rules which it is well to remember are to swim a short time at first, wait an hour after each meal before going in, wear rubber shoes in public pools to protect yourself against "athlete's foot" and follow the plunge with a shower. Wear a well fitting suit with a low cut back so that the ultra-violet rays strike the bare skin. Develop several different strokes, as this is the best way to build a smoothly developed body.

Do not stay in the sun too long at first until your skin is well tanned.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mint Leaf Tea

Question—H. D. writes: "Please advise me if tea made from mint leaves is in any way beneficial in cases of arthritis, rheumatism, gas on stomach and skin eruptions on the face."

Answer—I do not believe the tea made from mint leaves would have any effect one way or the other on the diseases mentioned in your letter. I have special articles explaining my theory of their cause and cure which will be mailed to you upon receipt of a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Gastritis

Question—W. C. writes: "I have what the doctors call a gastric stomach. Was all right until two months ago. Was told to eat soft foods. Have been doing that but I still suffer from the gas which comes up about two hours after eating. No pain, except that it bothers my heart. The gas will move up and down, and I have to sip hot water to get relief."

Answer—The word "gastric" means stomach, so you were apparently mistaken about what the doctor said. He doubtless said you were suffering from gastritis which means inflammation of the stomach, as your symptoms seem to indicate that this is your trouble. Nothing could be worse for you than to take the "soft foods." The irritation in your stomach is not produced by foods which are too coarse, but rather by an excessive amount of hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice. The "soft" diet given for gastritis actually produces more trouble and is exactly the wrong diet for you to take. Leave out sugars and starches and balance your meals properly if you wish to get rid of excessive gas and stomach irritation. Drink a large amount of water between meals to keep the digestive fluids diluted until they naturally reduce in quantity because of your change to a correct diet.

Aged Man Charged In Kansas Murder

WICHITA, Kan., June 30. (UP)—W. D. Whitney, 72, today was charged with murder in the shooting of Abner B. Brady, 65, shot down at the door of the house he rented to the Whitneys.

The aged slayer told police Brady woke him and Mrs. Whitney last night banging on the door and cursing, demanding his rent. Whitney said he went to the door and tried to talk with his landlord, but that the latter struck him, knocking him down.

"I had heard he was a knife fighter. So I pulled my pistol and shot," Whitney said.

Bootleg Suspect Killed By Disguised Sleuth

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 30. (AP)—A suspected bootlegger was killed here last night in a pistol fight with a federal prohibition agent in disguise.

The agent, Neil Evans of Jacksonville, and another officer, said they bargained with W. E. Griffin for the liquor and he delivered it in an automobile.

When they diclosed their identity, they said Griffin drew a revolver and started shooting.

Court Upholds Canada's Radio Control Authority

OTTAWA, June 30. (UP)—A majority decision of the supreme court of Canada today held that the federal government has jurisdiction in radio broadcasting.

The supreme court was appealed to when the province of Quebec disputed federal jurisdiction.

The Quebec government may carry the case to the privy council in London, the highest tribunal in the British empire.

CIRCUIT BLOWS AND HILLIN'S PITCHING DOWN SHIPPERS

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Tex Carleton of the Buffs, who is pitching against the Spudders for the third year, and who won his first game at Athletic park last Thursday, 8 to 2, never will forget the day in 1927 when Milt Stengrafe whipped him in a 12-inning struggle, 2 to 1. Apparently he's out to make up for the ignoble record of not a single victory at Athletic park in either the 1927 or 1928 season. When old Gawge Washington Payne blew up in Friday's game and his successor, Newsome, couldn't face the fire, Tex asked Skipper Schultz to let him go in, despite the fact he had pitched a six-hit game the day before. Tex went in and stemmed the rally, receiving credit for his second win over the Spuds in two days.

Alas, It's Untrue

The coffee counter presidents of the Wichita Falls club were saying the other night that the Spuds are negotiating for the return of Hal Wiltse, to give the club pitching strength in the chase for the second half title.

But the rumor, however encouraging, was denied by the actual president, Bill Huff.

A Justification

Now that the first half is over, let's look back over the Spudder record, and appraise it. Almost two-thirds of the spring training period was a total loss. A majority of the team's exhibition games were squashed by bad weather. In spite of the weather, Carl Williams finally got some kind of team together, and had it on hand to open the season April 15. And on that day Milt Steengrafe tore a muscle loose from a rib and was useless to the club for more than a month.

One bad break followed another. We found our hustling center fielder, Herb Kelly, couldn't hit, that Herb Bryant, fine catcher, couldn't hit, and that, in fact, nobody on the club was such a whale of a big boy at the plate. The club obtained Ted Gullic in its first move to add power. Then Kelly was released. This was followed by Bryant's release. Buck Stanton and his big bat was added to the fold and then Bud Hungling, big strapping veteran, came along to bring added punch. And Euller came from Milwaukee.

But the injury and sickness jinx continued. Freddie Vincent went out with the Rambler's disease, appendicitis. Red Badgro became the possessor of a charlie hoss. Ted Gullic went swimmin' and nearly roasted.

It was just one d—— thing after another.

And yet, what have they accomplished? Starting out as possibly the weakest bunch of hitters in the league, and certainly one of the tamest bunches that ever performed in this park, they are today leading the whole circuit in club batting. In our midst we have Stanton, the league's leading hitter, and Bob Fuss, who gives Stanton a merry race for that honor. We have the homerun leader, Ted Gullic. We have Debs Garms, possibly the best leadoff man in the league, a lusty swatter and a fast runner. Any man in the lineup might turn up with "four for four" when least expected.

The fielding of the club at the start was rather sloppy. Bear Allday was fast around the second sack, but uncertain. Even more uncertain was Garms at third base. Allday was the first to snap out of it, and little Debs soon followed suit. When he was relieved by Euller, Garms was playing good baseball, and, like a little man, when he did make the errors a third baseman cannot hope to avoid he made up for them with triples.

But more glorious than these developments was the sudden discovery that Mr. Scoop Scooperorium Scharein, Esq., the Illinois coal miner, was "a diamond spark in coral set" when it came to being a shortstop.

There are people in this man's town ready and willing to fight a duel, brickbats at five paces, over whether Scharein or Levey is the greatest. Scoop has blossomed forth in all his glory in the present home stay. His fielding in the Houston series will never be forgotten. Lloyd Gregory, Houston sports editor who is supposed to be the best in the circuit, said Scharein's play on Medwick's grounder in the ninth inning of the first Houston game was "the greatest I ever saw."

Scoop has a more accurate throw than Jim had the first half of last season. He is just as good, if not a better hitter than Levey was in this league. Levey hit 289 the full 1930 season. Scharein is hitting .275 at present, indicating he will equal, if not best Levey's mark. The only difference between the two that we can see is that Levey accepted more chances than Scoop does. But Scoop is even changing in this respect now. He goes after everything within a mile of his territory.

With Scharein and Allday burning up the region around second sack, the Spudders have the best combination in the league. In Bo Euller we have the best third baseman. Certainly there is no doubt that Buck Stanton cannot be equaled by any Texas league first baseman. We have the best catcher in the circuit in Bud Hungling. As for the outfield, a better pair of throwing arms than Gullic's and Fuss' simply doesn't exist, and as for fielding, we'll put them against anybody in this state. And don't forget that as a utility man, Garms is doing mighty well in left field.

And all these improvements have come about after the club started as weak as a cripple in both hitting and fielding.

What will we do in the second half?

That will depend on one thing: pitching. We have everything else a club could want.

GULLIC, BRAD HIT HOMERS

Ash Pitches Great Six-Hit Game

By FRED THOMPSON

Two lusty home runs, the first by Ted Gullic and the second by Art Bradbury, started the Spudders off on a winning rally in the fourth inning Tuesday and they closed the first half of the season in grand style, defeating Beaumont, 5 to 2. Great pitching by Ashley Hillin, who scattered a mere six hits to the first half flag contenders, was just as potent a factor in the victory. Hillin was never in much danger, and one of the runs scored off him was unearned.

The Exporters thus reached the end of the long pull in quest of the first half championship and awaited the outcome of the Houston-Fort Worth game Tuesday night, the game which could either throw the race into a tie or give the Exporters undisputed possession of the title.

The blows by Gullic and Bradbury and a double by Bob Fuss routed Marrow, Beaumont starting pitcher, and Luke Hamlin pitched the rest of the way.

Cats Here Today

Gullic led the hitting parade with his homer and two singles in four trips, and in addition starred afield.

The Spudders start all over again today with a clean slate, and with the Fort Worth Panthers as their opponents. Bob Cooney was slated to face the Cats. By winning Tuesday's game the Spudders wound up the first half with 42 victories and 37 defeats.

Hillin walked Taylor to start the game. White forced Taylor at second, Allday to Scharein. Schuble flied to Gullic, and White was doubled off first, Gullic to Stanton. In the home half, Garms popped to second. Allday flied to left. Stanton flied to center.

Easterling singled to left to open the second. Hughes forced Easterling at second, Scharein to Allday. Fritz doubled off the center field fence, scoring Hughes. Holley flied to Garms. Wise grounded out, Allday to Stanton. In the last half, Gullic beat out an infield hit to second. Bradbury hit into a double play, short to second to first. Easterling made a fine catch of Fuss' drive to left.

Marrow opened the third by popping to Allday in short right. Taylor socked one against the left field fence. Garms' throw-in was relayed by Scharein, who threw wild to Euller attempting to get Taylor at third, and Taylor scored on the error. Taylor's blow went for a three-base hit. Gullic made a good catch of White's fly to short center. Schuble walked. Easterling grounded out, Hillin to Stanton. In the last half, Scharein grounded out, pitcher to first. Euller beat out a bingle to the box. Hillin singled to left, Euller taking second. Holley booted Garms' grounded to second, loading the bases. Allday fouled out to first. Stanton popped to third.

The Rally Starts

Hughes doubled to right to open the fourth. Fritz popped to Allday. Holley lined to Gullic. Wise grounded out, Scharein to Stanton. Gullic opened the home half with a home run over the left center field fence. Bradbury followed with a home run over the left field fence. Fuss' Texas leaguer over third went for a double. Hamlin relieved Marrow on the mound for Beaumont. Scharein beat out a hit to the box, Fuss taking third. Hillin sacrificed, pitcher to first, Fuss scoring and Scharein taking second. Garms singled to right scoring Scharein, and took second on the throw-in. Allday fanned.

To open the fifth Hamlin grounded out, Stanton to Hillin, who covered first. Taylor lined to Garms. White grounded out, Allday to Stanton. In the home half, Stanton fouled out to left. Gullic beat out a bunt to third and continued to third base when Schuble overthrew first. Bradbury fanned. Fuss grounded out, third to first.

Schuble opened the sixth by grounding out, second to first. Easterling fanned. Hughes walked. Fritz grounded out, Allday to Stanton. In the last half, Scharein grounded out, third to first. Euller walked. Hillin forced Euller at second, second to short. Garms beat out an infield hit to third, Hillin taking second. Allday walked, loading the bases. Stanton popped to second.

Brad Socks Double

Holley opened the seventh by grounding out, Hillin to Stanton. Wise grounded out, Stanton to Hillin, who covered first. Hamlin grounded out to Stanton unassisted. In the last half, Gullic flied to left. Bradbury doubled to center. Fuss flied to right, Bradbury taking third after the catch. Scharein singled past third, scoring Bradbury. Euller flied to right.

In the eighth, Taylor flied to Fuss. White beat out a hit past first. Schuble forced White at second, Hillin to Scharein. Easterling flied to Gullic. In the home half, Hillin flied to center. Garms fanned. Allday flied to center.

In the ninth, Hughes grounded out, Scharein to Allday. Fritz doubled against the right field fence. Holley grounded out, Scharein to Stanton, Fritz taking third. Gullic made a great catch of Wise's fly to right center, ending the game.

Smacks Homer to Start Winning Rally

TED GULLIC

With the Spuds trailing two runs, Ted Gullic strode to the plate in the fourth inning Tuesday and lifted one out of the park. Bradbury followed him to the plate and hit another, and the winning rally was on. Gullic's blow was his 12th of the season. The great center fielder leads the league in home runs.

DIZZY DEAN VICTOR AGAIN

Hurler Wins Bout Almost Single Handed

FORT WORTH, June 30. (AP)—Dizzy Dean, almost single handed, moved the Houston Buffs into a tie with Beaumont for the first half Texas league championship tonight. Not only with his pitching but hitting and the breaks, which proved an impossible combination to beat and the Fort Worth Panthers went down, 10 to 9, in 10 innings, closing the first half race.

But Fort Worth didn't fall before their double conqueror of Sunday until they had caused his dismissal from mound duty in the 10th inning. However, it wasn't so much Fort Worth's clouting as a complaint of a sore arm after having pitched 25 innings within the past three days that caused Dean to be jerked unwillingly.

Though he couldn't finish pitching, Dean's hitting had a major part in a thrilling finish, which saw the Buffs put over two runs and the Cats come back to fill the bases and score once. A triple play engineered by Chester Fowler and Charley Engle saved Fort Worth from further damage in the 10th.

Dean didn't start for the Buffs, being needed in the first inning when the Panthers scored five runs off Otto (Tex) Carleton.

Carleton was wild, allowed the Panthers to make two runs, left the bases loaded for Dean, who was touched for a double by Meyers, which cleared them.

Henry Hardaway started for the Panthers, but was unable to hold Houston with the five-run lead and Bill Terry appeared in the fourth inning. He did no better and finally Dick Whitworth was called on in the seventh, when Houston tied the score. Dick held the Buffs until the tenth, but he couldn't cope with both the Houston bats and breaks in that round. Score:

PLAYOFF MAY BE HELD JULY 25, 26, 27

Alvin Gardner, Texas league president, said tonight that while the matter must be settled between the club presidents concerned, he would consider the Houston-Beaumont series of July 25, 26 and 27 the best time to settle the first half championship race.

The constitution, he said, provides in event of a tie in the first half, the next series in the second half between the contending clubs shall be designated as for the title. The Beaumont and Houston clubs meet next on July 4, but it would no doubt be unsatisfactory to settle the race at that time, he said.

Houston is scheduled to play the series starting July 25 at Beaumont, but the club presidents could work out a plan of alternating the games between Beaumont and Houston, Gardner said.

It was expected an agreement between the Beaumont and Houston presidents would be reached Wednesday.

STEERS, INDIANS TIE

DALLAS, June 30. (AP)—Two former University of Texas mound aces, Mike De La Fuente and Oscar Peeples, pitched San Antonio to a 6 to 6 tie with Dallas in the final game of the first half of the Texas league here tonight. The Steers scored three runs in the last inning to tie the score. The game was called at the end of the seventh to permit both teams to catch trains for their games tomorrow. Score:

Electrics Defeat Empire Paper, 9-8

Ivan "Too Tall" Wooten's hard smash to third base in the last half of the seventh inning to score Costley and Blue with the tying and winning runs of the game, gave the Texas Electric Service company Frigidaires a 9 to 8 victory over the Empire Paper company team on Harrison field. The game had been a free hitting contest all the way with Ray McKee the leading hitter of the day with five singles in five trips to the plate. Gib Lowery hit a single, a double and a triple in four times up. Everett Blue connected for four singles in four trips to the plate while the hero of the day, Wooten, hit three singles and a double in four times up. Manager Wilson protested the ball game on two decisions made at second base on Ray McKee.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—An early decline in cotton was followed by moderate rallies today, but after selling up from 10.08 to 10.25 for October, prices eased again under renewed liquidation. October closed at 10.13, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 12 to 18 points.

The opening was steady 6 to 10 points lower in response to the indifferent showing of Liverpool. There was some trade buying as well as covering on the decline, but the demand was less active than recently, while there was considerable foreign selling as well as Wall street and local liquidation and some selling supposed to be for southern account. Reports of further showers in the Southwest were considered favorable and may have contributed to the decline, which carried July contracts off to 9.76 and December to 10.32, or 15 to 21 points net lower.

Offerings then subsided and the market turned steadier in sympathy with the steadier mid-day stock market and prices recovered a good part of their losses. July sold up to 9.90 on covering or within a point of yesterday's closing quotation while December advanced to 10.50 compared with 10.53 at the close of Monday. The buying was not aggressive, however, and the market eased again in the late trading under a renewal of liquidation and scattered selling which appeared to be promoted by the late heaviness of the stock market. Closing prices showed reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best on most of the active months.

Uncertainty as to the probable showing of the government's acreage to be scheduled for publicati[illegible] July 8 and of the private reports exp[illegible] within the next few days probably increased a disposition to even up commitments until further developments in Paris on the approaching holiday.

Liverpool cables reported that general liquidation on the favorable weather and the French situation was absorbed by covering and trade calling there today. Exports today 26,487, making 6,634,306 so far this season. Port receipts 3,379. U. S. port stocks 3,032,055.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 30. (AP)—Cotton was not active today as it has been of late and prices were erratic, fluctuating within a moderate range. Influences controlling the course of prices included favorable weather, uncertainty as to the outcome of the Hoover debt proposals and a somewhat unsettled stock market. Although the close was a little above the lows it showed a loss of about 75c a bale for the day.

After opening irregular 4 points up to 4 down with Liverpool cables worse than due, the market gradually eased off with occasional slight rallies until prices showed losses of 20 to 22 points from yesterday's close. As stocks improved somewhat later in the morning the market rallied and soon after mid-session showed a recovery of 16 to 17 points from the lows due to trade buying and short covering. The market later eased off some in the late trading but still kept within the earlier range. Closing prices were 4 to 5 points above the lows, the market being called steady with the general list showing net losses for the day of 14 to 17 points.

October closed at 10.15, down 14 points net for the day, and December closed at 10.37, down 17 points net.

Port receipts 3,379; for week 8,246; for season 8,833,986; last season 8,721,429; exports 26,487; for week 35,447; for season 6,433,979; last season 6,475,051. Port stocks 3,062,399. Last year 1,667,185; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 47,047; last year 59,871. Spot sales at southern markets 2,369; last year 813.

Market Sags With Failure of Copper Curtailment Proposals

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 30. (US)—Delay in the reaching of an amicable agreement between the American and French governments over certain points in President Hoover's plan for a one-year moratorium of war debt payments induced increased profit-taking in the stock market today.

Selling also was induced by failure of leading copper producers to agree on a basis of curtailment. Representatives of leading world producers have held a series of meetings recently in an effort to determine the extent to which production should be curtailed. These conferences, however, broke up without any satisfactory decision having been reached. This immediately was reflected in the copper metal market. Bids for the red metal were withdrawn and offerings increased sharply. This resulted in a decline of one-quarter of a cent a pound in the official rate. It also was reported that second-hand copper was being offered at 8½ cents as compared with Monday's official rate of 9 cents a pound.

Decline in the price of copper had a particularly disturbing effect upon sentiment in the late dealings. Increased offerings followed the announcement with the result that stocks generally displayed a sagging tendency in the latter part of the session. Traders were disappointed not so much over the extent of the decline in the price of the red metal, as they were over the failure of the conference to bear satisfactory results. This marks the first conference held in many months that failed to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

Anaconda Copper also was sold on a renewal of reports that the company was considering the flotation of a large bond issue to finance its copper holdings. Kennecott also yielded to pressure, but it was evident that scale down buying made its appearance at the lower levels.

Railroad stocks also were under steady pressure as it became more evident that the Interstate Commerce commission would make a thorough investigation of the carrier's plea for higher rates. The I. C. C. will hold hearing on the subject on July 15 and Aug. 31. This indicates that at the earliest, even allowing for all possible haste in the hearings, an increase will not be granted prior to the end of September.

Washington advices also indicated that there was little likelihood that the railroads would be granted the full 15 per cent increase in freight rates. It was indicated that the commission might compromise on an increase between 5 per cent and 10 per cent. Even the latter, however, would prove most welcome to the railroads, although, allowing for the exceptions they plan to make, the actual increase in net would approximate only about $200,000,000 or half of what their credit.

Pool operators were somewhat more cautious in their activities. In most instances, the majority of the "pools" were inclined to let their favorites take care of themselves.

Case Threshing Machine, however, proved an exception. Widespread tips were circulated that the former bear operator was planning to stage another vigorous demonstration in the stock. The reports indicated that two of his former associates were still heavily short of the stock. At one time, the stock was nearly 5 points higher, but most of this gain was cancelled at the close.

Other "pool operations" proved even less successful and most of the recent favorites closed lower. American & Foreign Power, American Can, Electric Power & Light, and International Telephone all closed below the previous final prices.

The unfavorable turn in the foreign situation made for extreme caution in conservative quarters. Further delay in adjusting the differences between France and this country, it is felt, may undo much of the progress induced by President Hoover's dramatic announcement of plans for a one-year moratorium. The conservative element, therefore, is inclined to stand on the sidelines until the French attitude may be more clearly analyzed.

Easier tendencies also manifested themselves in the cotton and grain markets. Losses in these commodities were relatively light.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.10@1.15; No. 2 kaffir $1.05@1.10.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—Despite big stocks of wheat here, the amount available for delivery on June contracts today proved scant, and June quotations skyrocketed 8 cents a bushel. The flare up came as a spectacular climax to settlement of 1930 old crop wheat transactions but involved only 805,000 bushels, a total smaller than usual at the month end in Chicago.

Wheat closed irregular at ½c decline to 8c advance, corn unchanged to ⅝c off, oats unchanged to ⅜c up, and provisions unchanged to 27c down.

Belated bidding for June wheat to supply traders who were short brought about rapid jumps in prices as the day drew to an end. Highest quotations on June wheat in Chicago, 77c, were reached in the last minute.

Corn and oats averaged lower with wheat. Buying of oats, though, was persistent on account of crop damage reports.

Lower hog values pulled provisions downward.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, June 30. (US)—Farmers are indisposed to worry over the disposition of their wheat crops this year judging by the volume of new offerings and are taking apparently any price they can get.

Effect of the high temperatures to date is hard to estimate although field reports indicate both the yield and quality of oats have been materially lowered. The abnormal heat came at the most critical period, finding the crop ranging from the bloom to milk stage when it is particularly susceptible to damage from high temperatures.

Broomhall reports foreign markets to be influenced substantially by American winter wheat offers and the farm board reserves. All traders are keenly watching the situation in the United States, he says.

Canadian wheat acreage is estimated by the Northwest Grain Dealers association at 21,941,000 acres, against 23,989,000 a year ago, a decline of 8.5 per cent. Acreage in oats is placed at 8,720,000, a gain of 1.6 per cent, barley 2,957,000, off 13.7 per cent and rye 546,000, a drop of 10.7 per cent.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have reached an agreement with the banks to advance funds for financing the 1929 carry-over wheat crop. The provinces will issue bonds to cover losses of about $22,000,000 which will be acceptable to the bankers.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—Cotton goods were quieter in unfinished lines today. Some improvement was heard of in finished lines. Raw silk markets continued to give evidence of greater strength, but little change was noted in the silk goods division. For quick deliveries some types of rayon yarns were scarce. Burlaps showed some easing from a week ago. Wool goods were quieter.

Bees Invade Texas Home While Family Takes Short Trip

SAN ANTONIO, June 30. (AP)—When Joe E. Woods and his family left their home recently for a short vacation, they made no arrangements for the house to be tenanted during their absence.

But when they returned, they found the house completely in possession of a swarm of none-too-friendly honey bees.

The bees, from their base of operations under the floor, had taken absolute command, making it hazardous for members of the family to enter the house.

Because the house is built too close to the ground it was almost impossible for the owner to smoke out his uninvited guests. After a 10-day visit, however, the swarm divided, most of them departing for some more congenial home. A few lingered on, facing slow extermination by sprays of hot water.

FRENCH SENATE SUPPORTS PREMIER

PARIS, June 30. (AP)—By a vote of 197 to 5 the senate tonight gave Premier Laval a free hand to continue his negotiations with Andrew W. Mellon and other American representatives concerning President Hoover's proposed war debt holiday.

The vote came at the end of a vivid session in which the Hoover proposal and the manner in which it was made were subjected to violent attack.

U. S. DISCOURAGED BY FRENCH ATTITUDE

WASHINGTON, June 30. (US)—A note of distinct pessimism crept into debt negotiations for the first time today as the French government held firmly to its counter-proposal to the one-year moratorium.

Just at the time when American officials had been led to believe a settlement was a matter of two days, a deadlock was created by the evident determination of France to insist on demands which the administration declared cannot be accepted by the United States.

In administrative circles the exact situation was outlined tonight as follows:

1—That the French note is not an acceptance of the Hoover plan; that to ask Germany to pay into the bank of international settlements the unconditional annuities this year and make a double payment next year, does not help Germany's situation. France suggests a five-year period for repayment, or perhaps longer, but this government finds it unacceptable.

French Demands

2—France insists that a portion of the unconditional annuity should be available for loans to central European nations. This government holds that the whole sum should be re-loaned to Germany, making it in fact a paper transaction.

3—France insists that in the case a moratorium is declared by Germany, France is relieved from depositing the guarantee fund, as provided under the Young plan. This government holds this matter must be settled with Great Britain and other allied nations, that the United States is not concerned.

The French stand on the guarantee fund was regarded here as the strongest obstacle of the unconditional reparations payments. Should Germany declare a moratorium the other nations would get almost nothing. It was therefore agreed that in case Germany declared a moratorium on its condition reparations, France would at once pay into the bank of international settlements 500,000,000 reichmarks, which would then be distributed to the different nations in proportion as they had received total annual annuities.

The French claim now that if Germany should declare a moratorium at any time before this year's unconditional annuity is paid, France should not be compelled to deposit the 500,000,000 reichmark guarantee fund.

The United States' proposition is that Germany may pay the unconditional annuities into the bank for international settlement on the understanding that all is to be reloaned to Germany. Further, that it be funded a period of 25 years, or at least for a period long enough to afford Germany real relief.

Showdown Today

The showdown will come tomorrow when Secretary of the Treasury Mellon resumes his conferences with Premier Laval, of France, in Paris. He was today given a set of instructions, or the minimum concessions which the United States is willing to make. These were agreed upon at a meeting of the president and his cabinet today.

The one bright ray of hope today was the unexpected action of the Italian government in announcing that Italy would make the Hoover debt moratorium plan fully operative tomorrow, July 1. It will suspend collections of sums due under the Young plan and deposit in the international bank of settlements sums which it owes other nations.

Italy's action, it was believed, may force France to adopt a more conciliatory attitude.

Belgium, close ally of France, today sent what the state department described as a cordial note of acceptance. Jugo-Slavaia and Greece have sent in their tentative acceptances, leaving France the only nation which has not given endorsement.

The administration has asked Secretary Mellon to point out to the French that under the Hoover plan the United States is making the greatest sacrifice of any nation for the sole purpose that Germany and rest of the world may recover from the depression. It feels that France is in a healthy condition financially and economically that she can approximate the Hoover terms without material loss.

Six Narcotic Cases On County Docket

Violations of the narcotic law represent six of the charges against 22 defendants to be tried for alleged misdemeanors before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law next week, according to County Attorney L. V. Abernathy.

Other cases are as follows: Traffic violation, one; carrying concealed weapons, one; adultery, two; drunkenness and disturbing the peace, two; swindling, three; aggravated assault, two; vagrancy, one; drunkenness, two; disturbing the peace, one.

Commerce Deep Test Halted at 3000 Feet

COMMERCE, Texas, June 30. (AP)—The Commerce Oil and Developing company ceased operations yesterday after fulfilling a contract to drill the Ablowich oil test well three miles east of here to a depth of 3000 feet. The test was described as a dry hole at 3030 feet. Hunt county citizens interested in the well were considering drilling the test hole to a greater depth.

MORE OIL

Oklahoma City Purchasers Continue to Draw On Storage

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 30. In spite of the increased production allowed in the Oklahoma City pool, the field still is not producing sufficient oil to supply the demands made upon it, judging by the amount of oil taken from the field.

Sunday, with 105 wells on production, the output of the field was 140,726 barrels of oil; Monday, with 141 wells on production, the output gauged 154,097 barrels of oil.

Sunday, pipe line runs from the field totaled 192,785 barrels, indicating 52,059 barrels of oil were taken from storage. Monday, purchases withdrew 185,898 barrels of oil from the field, totals indicating 31,801 barrels of oil were taken from the steel tanks.

the allowable and the production plan for the East Texas field, sore spot of the oil industry. The commission finished its hearing on the East Texas field today.

Governor Sterling indicated he would call the special session immediately in the event he believed the plan adopted by the railroad commission would not remedy the situation in East Texas. A survey of the members of the house, presented to the governor by W. L. Todd of Fort Worth, showed 99 members were in favor of conservation bill; eight were against it; 17 were doubtful and 26 were open-minded.

HEARING ENDS WITHOUT ORDER

AUSTIN, June 30. (AP)—The railroad commission today concluded its two-day hearing on a new oil propration order for East Texas but no indication of when the order would be issued was given.

Supporters of the Cranfill or East Texas plan asked for a well proration system, with the allowable production to be at last 250,000 barrels daily. Under such an order potentials of the approximately 1,000 wells in the new field would not be considered in determining their allowables.

Opponents did not publicly sponsor a plan but in cross examination they endeavored to show the 250,000-barrel figure was too high and that proration on a potential basis was more nearly equitable.

All attending the hearing wondered what success any new order would have, since both the railroad commission's previous order and the Cranfill plan, inaugurated voluntarily by operators 10 days ago, had been disobeyed.

Many asked for a special session of the legislature to give the railroad commission additional power to enforce its orders. Dan Moody, former governor and attorney for the sponsors of the Cranfill plan, expressed doubt today, however, that any law could be enacted which keep rebellious operators from tying the commission's hands with injunction suits.

Cities Demand Gas Reduction

Four Towns Join in Sending Ultimatum

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, June 30.—A demand, in the nature of an ultimatum, requesting satisfactory reductions in gas rates schedules by July 15, was delivered to the Northern Texas Utilities Co. through the district manager, G. L. Taylor, as a result of a meeting held at Childress. Officials for Memphis, Childress, Wellington and Quanah participated in the meeting which was called by Mayor Allen C. Grunky of Memphis.

The communication given Taylor carried an implied threat that if the rates were not cut low enough that action would be launched to secure gas from other sources. The towns agreed not to accept the cut if it was not agreeable with all the towns. Mr. Taylor was rather non-committal but stated that all would be done that could be done.

Attending the meeting from Memphis were Mayor Grundy and Councilman Byran Baldin, and J. A. Whaley of the public utility committee.

Railroads to Lose Grain Rate Appeal

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—Indications that the railroads would be denied an injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce commission from putting into effect lower rates on grain in the western territory were contained in the "findings of facts and conclusions of law" filed by the United States district court here today.

The decision of the three judge court will be filed Monday. In the statement filed today, the court indicated its opinion that the commerce commission had not gone without the scope of the Interstate Commerce laws in ordering the new rates and that it had not misinterpreted the law involved.

The case had its inception in the action of the commission in lowering freight rates on grain as a farm relief measure.

Texan Wounded by Accidental Gunshot

EL PASO, Texas, June 30. (AP)—While at work on his automobile on a downtown street here this afternoon, M. T. Neville Hartsfield, 26, formerly a resident of Amarillo, accidentally discharged a pistol he was carrying in his belt, causing a dangerous wound in his abdomen. Hartsfield staggered into a nearby cafe and asked for aid. He was rushed to a hospital where it was said his condition was serious.

PRODUCTION OF CRUDE SLUMPS

Daily Average for Nation Declines 40,400

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 40,400 barrels in the week ended June 27, totaling 2,441,950 barrels, the American Petroleum institute's weekly summary indicates. Daily average production east of California decreased 28,800 barrels to 1,932,450.

Refineries representing 94.7 per cent of estimated total capacity, operated at 66.3 per cent of their capacity, reported daily average runs of crude to stills as 2,416,900 barrels. Daily average the previous week for refineries representaing 94.7 per cent of total, operated at 66.8 per cent of capacity, was 2,434,100 barrels. Gasoline stocks at there refineries were 41,858,000 barrels against 42,300,000.

Production of cracked gasoline by refineries representing 94.9 per cent of total charging capacity was 3,236,000 barrels. Production the previous week by refineries representing 94.4 per cent of total was 3,098,000 barrels.

Imports of crude and refined oils at principal United States ports totaled 1,083,000 barrels against 1,111,000 barrels.

TOTAL FOR MAY SHOWS INCREASE

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—The commerce department today said daily production of crude oil during May was 52,000 barrels higher than in April.

Total production for the month was 77,164,000 barrels, a daily average of 2,489,000 compared with production in May, 1930 of 80,342,000 barrels.

The report said Texas was the chief source of gain during May, the average output in that state rising from 893,000 barrels in April to 951,000 in May.

The major portion of the Texas gain was in the East Texas field where the daily output rose from 251,000 barrels in April to 308,000 barrels in May.

A total of 247 producing wells were completed in East Texas in May as against 197 in April. The May completions, however, had a much smaller average daily initial flow than the April completions.

Texas Cotton Crop Reduced in Favor Of Grain Acreage

AUSTIN, June 30. (AP)—Acreage planted to cotton in Texas this year was from seven to 10 per cent less than the acreage planted to this crop in 1930, according to figures of Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas and internationally recognized cotton statistical expert.

The decreased cotton acreage was attributed by Dr. Cox to increased planting of feed crops with about the same total acreage in cultivation as last year.

Reports to Dr. Cox from India and Egypt indicate a reduction of between five and 10 per cent in cotton acreage in these countries. European imports from these two countries have seriously curtailed American export trade, according to Dr. Cox.

Kansas Publishers Ask Resignation of Stone

WICHITA, Kan., June 30. (INS)—Urging him to use his influence to require the immediate resignation of James C. Stone as chairman of the federal farm board, Max and Louis Levand, publishers of the Wichita Beacon, today had wired President Hoover expressing indignation that Alexander Legge, former chairman of the board, had been invited to attend closed door session of that body in Washington.

Dry Enforcement on 'Right Track' Says Chief

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—Looking back over his first year as chief enforcing officer of the dry laws of the United States, Amos W. W. Woodcock believes the course of enforcement now is definitely "on the right track."

It was 12 months ago tomorrow that the soft-spoken Marylander, part soldier, part lawyer, left his post as United States attorney in Baltimore at President Hoover's request to assume the position of federal dry chief.

$20 a Week

By ROB EDEN

back until the fifteenth, and when his buzzer called Sally, she went into his office, nervous, and ill at ease.

Mr. Davidson Apologizes

He was sitting at his desk signing some papers as she took her usual chair, and when he looked up he was the old, unapproachable Davidson—not the man who had kissed her a short week ago.

"I've an apology to make, Miss Blair—" she wasn't Sally this afternoon. She was Miss Blair. "An apology for the other afternoon—I'm very sorry, and I won't let it happen again."

Sally nodded solemnly and blinked her eyes. He was apologizing, and saying he wouldn't—kiss her again. And he was looking at her coldly, as he used to at first, when she had come to him.

"I lost control of myself—I seldom do it, Miss Blair. You'll forgive me?" He didn't wait for her to answer but went on quickly. "You're a beautiful girl, Miss Blair. You understand?"

"I do, Mr. Davidson."

"Thanks—are you ready?"

Then his kiss hadn't meant anything. She needn't have felt so triumphant after all. It had meant only what he had said, that she was a pretty girl, and that for a moment he had forgotten himself. They were on the same status as before. He was her boss, and she was his secretary.

His voice went on dictating, for his correspondence had piled up. It wasn't like Harvey Davidson to run off even on a short vacation without his secretary. Sally knew that, and wondered again why he had gone so suddenly, as she had wondered for the days that he had been away. Hunting, Kent Roper had said.

The day passed as days did in his employ when he was in one of his distant moods. At five she came in again to let him sign his letters, when they were ready, and she was leaving with them in her hands, he stopped her.

Linda's New Home

"Linda wanted me to bring her some papers—and I find I can't get away, Miss Blair. I wonder if you'd take them up to her? She's up at her new apartment. Have you the address?"

"No—." The new apartment. That must be the home she and Peter were furnishing. Erma had gossiped about it this morning.

Davidson told her the address, and handed her a long envelope. "I'm transferring some stock to her. If you'll just take this envelope to her I'll be grateful. Tell her I couldn't get away."

Sally took the envelope, and Davidson dismissed her without even his usual "goodnight."

She would rather have done anything in the world than go to this place where Peter and Linda were to live, but she couldn't help it. She couldn't refuse, could she? How would she have explained to Linda's father?

"The Douglas apartment?" The liveried page asked her when she went into the lobby of the big apartment house on Madison avenue. "It's the penthouse. The elevator at the end will take you right up there."

Disheartened, her spirits low, she got into the car. Everything was going wrong. Here she was on her way up to see Linda's new apartment, the penthouse which would be hers and Peter's. On her way, when she didn't want to see it at all. When the sight of it would send those same shivering memories she had been trying to forget.

And then, too, Harvey Davidson had been so formal, so impossibly formal. Were her plans all going to fail? It looked like it—now.

All Sally's hopes are dashed. Will her future be as sad as that of Aunt Martha she pitied?

AROUND THE RADIO CLOCK

(Time Is Central Standard Throughout)

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—The Schmeling-Stribling fight at Cleveland on Friday night will be broadcast from coast to coast by the WEAF and WJZ-NBC networks.

Details announced late today provide for the start of the broadcast at 9 p. m., with Graham McNamee giving the round by round story. Floyd Gibbons will tell about the preliminaries previous to the main go, while Sam Taub, New York sports writer, is to be the between the rounds announcer.

In addition to this broadcast special wires leading to Schenectady will feed short wave stations carrying both a Spanish and a German description. Short waves station at Pittsburgh and Springfield, Mass., will transmit the English account.

Two networks are to make a two-hour broadcast from the Boston navy yard Wednesday at the time of the recommissioning of the frigate Constitution, also known as "Old Ironsides."

Both the WJZ-NBC and the WABC-CBS chains are to be on the air with the program beginning at 12:30 p. m. Among the speakers will be Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts and Curtis D. Wilbur, former secretary of the navy.

A weekly series to be known as the camp concert, an extension of the school of the air for the summer, opens on WABC-CBS at 2:30 p. m. The programs are to include music, talks and games for children. The series will end Sept. 9.

Otherwise your dials may be set for:

7:30 a. m.—Opening of four weeks' experimental programs, daily WJZ-NBC, with a repeat at 11:15 a. m. for the Pacific coast, first week to consist of tunes by the Josef Koestner orchestra.

9:30 a. m.—Talk on games and pastimes for children, by Erna Bunke of the National Recreation association, in the homemakers, WABC-CBS.

11:30 a. m.—Farm and home hour, program hereafter to include daily weather forecasts, WJZ-NBC.

1:00—Mrs. Nancy Cox McCormack, portrait sculptor, beginning a weekly series of talks in the woman's radio review, WEAF-NBC.

2:30—Song recital by Mabel Wayne, WJZ-NBC.

5:30—First of Lee Morse's crooning programs on WEAF-NBC.

6:30—New network and time for melody moments, WJZ-NBC, moved from WEAF-NBC.

7:00—"The Devil's Pitchfork," drama, WJZ-NBC.

7:30—Broadcast from banquet at Toledo for players and officials in the national open golf tournament, WABC-CBS.

7:30—Concert by the Goldman band, WJZ-NBC.

8:30—Grantland Rice interviewing James J. Corbett, former heavyweight boxing champion, WEAF-NBC, with Gus Haenschen, formerly orchestra director in the program of Olive Palmer and artists, conducting.

A perfect bone needle, 25,000 years old, was discovered by Jean Cazedessus in excavating at Ganties in the south of France.

CACTUS GARDEN HAS INTEREST

Rare Beauty Found in Blooms of Plants

space. And when the cone blossoms pink, yellow, red and purple, it is spectacular enough to please the most resplendent fancy.

Owners of cactus gardens will do visitors a great courtesy by marking all species with botanical and common names. Cacti are collectors' items, and even the most casual observer's interest is increased by knowing what they are.

Other plants of the arid country have a more general appeal. The cactus garden is more interesting for their presence. Furthermore, these taller-growing plants shade cacti to their advantage. To people who think of the sun cacti grow in without remembering how they like to grow against protecting rocks or under mesquite and catclaw, the idea that cacti need shade may be startling. Many varieties suffer from sun-scald if exposed to all-day heat. The most decorative of these drouth-defying plants, other than cacti, are the yuccas; the agaves; dasylirion, better known as sotol; manfreda, or desert tuberose; lechuguilla; Fouquiera splendens, called ocotillo; nolina, or basket grass; and hesperaloe, or red yucca.

Of all these, the yucca in several species, commonly known as Spanish dagger, Adam's needles, and bear grass, are most often planted. In Central Texas the bear grass has no caudex, or stem, but in far western Texas what is called bear grass develops stem and branches. All species of yucca flower in tall stalks. Even today the cream-colored petals are sometimes used for food. An interesting Mexican recipe is as follows: Boil petals and when tender drain them. Beat eggs in quantity equal to that of the petals; add the petals, a tiny bit of garlic, salt, and hot pepper. Cook as scrambled eggs and serve with tortillas.

Red Yucca

All the yuccas, agave (century plant), sotol, and lechuguilla lend themselves to formal arrangements in the garden. They are better in line than in mass. In nature they like to grow on the side of a hill, and to my thinking, look most beautiful when they display their ascendant spikes high above a road. Hesperaloe, commonly called red yucca, is far and away the most beautiful among arid growths for gardens. It is native to a small area in West Texas and New Mexico, and was introduced to gardens by a nurseryman who has done much to acquaint Texans with their own plant life. Hesperaloe has grace in its slender, bending flower stalks; beauty in the rich coral color of its blossoms; and good behaviour in the length of its flowering period—from spring to fall. Manfreda, or desert tuberose, is a little used but pleasing plant. It grows only two or three feet high, and has an uncrowded flower-talk with flowers shaped like tuberoses, at first cream and then pink.

The sotol plant is more decorative than its wheat-colored bloomstalk. In historic ways it is the most interesting native plant suited to the dry garden. Indians used the hearts hidden within tough fibres for food. An account of the method of preparation given in "Life of F. M. Buckelew the Indian Captive" may be interesting here, afield from the subject of gardens though it is: "In a kiln they (the Lipan Indians) would place wood and rocks in a way that the rocks would be thoroughly heated by the time the wood was burned. The rocks and the fire were removed and the rocks replaced. The sotol was placed on these and brush and leaves were placed next to the sotol and the entire heap covered over with dirt so as to make it airtight. This was allowed to remain several days and during this time the heated rock would thoroughly cook the bulbs (hearts)." In Brewster county areas of blackened rock are pointed out as "sotol burns."

Of all xerophytic plants adapted to gardens the one that most stirs the imagination by means of form is ocotillo. It has moved its beholders to metaphor and analogy in the giving of names, some of which are candlewood (the red flowers tipping the stem are the flame), Jacob's staff, devil's walking stick, coachwhip cactus, and mountain rose. Though not a cactus at all, it is commonly thought of as such. It is an excellent garden plant if given suitable associations; it would look very strange with dahlias or roses.

Desert gardens are for those who like them. They are for architecture that by reason of its formality or historic association is kindred to them.

A new disease, thought to be spread by gnats, has been discovered in Mexico and other Latin American countries.

GUESS VERDICT STIRS PROTEST

Mexican Students Outraged At Acquittal

MEXICO CITY, June 30. (AP)—The National university student body published a strongly worded protest in today's newspapers concerning the acquittal of Deputy Sheriff W. E. Guess at Ardmore, Okla., in the killing of two Mexican students.

"In the name of universal justice we energetically protest against the lack of equality of spirit of honesty shown by the jury of Ardmore." And the protest said, "Once again Yankee imperialism, with the impunity of the strong and forgetting the sacred duty of hospitality which falls on civilized countries, has drenched American soil with noble Mexican blood to satisfy a racial passion.

"Mexican students call to the attention of the world this farce committed by a pseudo justice and unanimously protest against this offense to their country."

Foreign Minister Genaro Estrada in commenting last night on Guess' acquittal said it would bring reproval not only in Mexico, but also in American public opinion. He said Mexico could not consider the incident closed.

Two hundred students paraded in Pachuca yesterday in protest against the acquittal. The demonstrators stopped before the offices of the American-owned Real Del Monte Mining company and their leaders delivered speeches suggesting a nationwide protest movement.

MEXICO TO GET TRIAL REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—The state department is preparing to supply the Mexican government with full information on the fatal shooting of two Mexican students at Ardmore, Okla., and the acquittal of former Deputy William E. Guess.

The department has requested a record of the trial through Governor Murray of Oklahoma and will report to the Mexican officials all available information. This was promised shortly after the shooting after the embassy requested the department to make a thorough investigation.

Meanwhile this government has made no statement regarding the Ardmore case and was not expected to express any views pending receipt of full information on the investigation and trial.

Ambassador Tellez likewise has made no comment.

Floydada to Stage Monthly Trade Day

FLOYDADA, Texas, June 30.—The first Monday in each month has been designated as "Trades Day" in Floydada for the next several months, beginning with a carefully planned program for Monday, July 6. A market place and exchange lot where farmers may bring farm implements, machinery, household goods, or livestock for sale or trade, is one of the features of the trades day. Epecially planned events, contests and games with valuable prizes in merchandise are being planned. Floydada merchants and business men are planning special merchandising events and sales for the first trades day.

Graham to Spend July 4 at Lakes

GRAHAM, Texas, June 30.—The merchants and business men of Graham have signed up to close all the business houses here July 4 and spend the day in their own choice of entertainment. There will be no celebration of any kind in the city on that date, but much of the recreation will be centered at Lake Eddleman and other fishing places.

Immunization Work in Knox County Completed

Special to The Record News

BENJAMIN, Texas, June 30.—The work for diphtheria immunization has been finished the past week. Eighteen hundred doses of the toxoid and 400 doses of the typhoid vaccine have been administered and 300 persons inoculated against smallpox.

Thirteen clinics have been held in six different communities. A number of physicians outside the health department have rendered assistance. Dr. Peterson of the state health department has assisted in three clinics. He had the assistance of two registered nurses aside from the services of the state nurses, Misses Durden and Moore.

According to Dr. Stover, county health officer, the demand for inoculation and the interest shown by the people is a new thing for Texas. Much sanitary improvement is being made also.

Government Issues Farm Census on Donley, Childress and Clay Counties

Increase in Dairy Herds and Poultry Flocks and in Number Of Small Farms Shown in Reports

Smaller farms, increased numbers of farm owners and tenant farmers, and increased use of dairy herds and poultry flocks are revealed in the federal census of 1930 for Donley and Childress counties in comparison with the census of 1920, according to a report issued at Washington July 1.

Cultivation of smaller tracts by individual farmers in Donley county county during the past decade is revealed in the decrease of average farm acreage from 549.6 to 395.8 from 1920 to 1930. The same trend is further indicated in the increased number of small farms. Donley county in 1930 showed six times as many farms of less than 50 acres as were listed in the census of 1920. There has been a material improvement also in the buildings maintained on these farms, the total valuation thereof increasing approximately $500,000 during the 10-year period.

Farmers Increase

Four hundred thirty-seven owners were operating Donley county farms in 1930, an increase of 31 over 1920, and were cultivating 189,316 acres, or a gain of 23,000 acres over the total acreage farmed by owners 10 years previously. The total acreage given to crop raising gained about 50,000 during the decade.

Wheat gained favor as a grain crop with Donley county farmers during the 10-year stretch, the county showing in 1930 a total wheat acreage of 11,242 as against 5,114 acres in 1920. Barley also was given more attention, the acreage being doubled during the period.

Increased use of mules for farm work is shown in the enumeration of 3,323 such animals in the county last year, half again as many as were shown in the census of 1920. The number of milk cows maintained almost doubled in the same period.

Federal enumerators listed approximately 500 more farms in Childress county in 1930 than in 1920, the latter total showing 1,348. A conspicuous increase in valuation also was shown, and improvements last year being appraised at $14,930,819 in comparson with a valuation of $10,413,925 in 1920. Implements and machinery owned by Childress county farmers also increased in total valuation during the decade from $468,141 to $614,821.

Owners of farms in the county 10 years ago were numbered as 387, while in 1930 the total had increased to 438. The material increase in the number of small farms shown by the census accounts in a large measure for the increase in tenant farmers from a total of 461 in 1920 to 895 in 1930.

Valuations Gain

Development of larger farms, operated by managers, is clearly reflected in the comparative total valuations of land and buildings. The 1930 figure was $1,014,550, almost four times the valuation shown in 1920.

A small increase was recorded in the number of horses listed in the county; the number of mules more than doubled, Childress county farmers in 1930 using 4,714 head; and the number of milk cows more than doubled, the county showing 3,525 in 1930. Poultry raising also advanced during the 1920-1930 period as an adjunct to farming, 71,257 fowls being listed last year as compared with 43,876 in 1920.

Providing much additional feed for the large amount of livestock maintained, the county devoted 1,578 acres to hay—an increase of more than 1,000 acres since 1920.

TENANT FARMING ON INCREASE IN CLAY

Cultivation of crop lands by tenant farmers instead of by owners has increased materially in Clay county during the 10 years from 1920 to 1930, according to a report issued July 1 at Washington, D. C., by the federal bureau of census.

Ten years ago, Clay county showed but 986 tenant farmers, but in the enumeration of April 1, 1930, the number had increased to 1,238. Farms of 50 acres or less each almost doubled in number during the same period, and a corresponding decrease in the cutivation of wheat was shown. In 1920, 51,596 acres of Clay county land was devoted to wheat, while 10 years later that crop commanded but 15,734 acres.

Barley and hay have been more extensively grown during the past decade, however, barley acreage last year showing a gain of more than 1,000 acres over that of 1920, and the acreage given to hay increasing about 700 acres. While 1930 showed widespread drouth, the total acreage recorded as showing crop failure in Clay county in 1930 was 9,000 acres less than the total of 18,132 for 1925.

Clay county still reveals a heavy production of beef cattle, the census of 1930 revealed, although the total acreage devoted to range cattle decreased during the past decade from 53,728 to 43,706 acres. Dairying activities have increased, as reflected in the maintenance of 7,319 dairy cows in the county last year, a gain of more than 2,000 since 1920.

Agricultural progress also is reflected directly in the valuation of machinery and implements owned by Clay county farmers. The total value of such property in 1930 was $786,253, a gain of $86,000 over that owned in 1920.

PERFECT CHILD 'NOT NORMAL'

Teachers Hear Explanation Of Misbehavior

LOS ANGELES, June 30. (AP)—If a child's behavior is perfect he isn't normal.

That's what Dr. Virgil E. Dickson of the University of California is telling teachers at the National Eduation association convention here. He quoted statistics from observation of 209 boys and as many girls for a semester showing that 74 per cent of the boys and 57 per cent of the girls were guilty of inattention, restlessness, talking, day dreaming, laziness and other forms of misbehavior.

"But behind all misbehavier there is a cause," he said. "Take the case of the poor school girl who wore second rate clothes and was left out of groups of other girls. One day she surprised everybody by letting out a string of profanity. She simply was hungry for some sort of recognition and took that means of getting it."

The "self made man who becomes a captain of industry" was described by Paul F. Cadman, executive secretary of the San Francisco stock exchange, as being among the vanishing Americans.

In his place, Cadman said, has arisen a determined, well-educated man who at the helm of a large business has assumed a critical attitude toward the trained student.

Cadman, who said an exceedingly small percentage of successful business men in American industry, commerce and finance have been denied the opportunity of at least a few years of formal training, cited the instance of a university graduate who applied for a bank position.

"He applied to a typical self-made industrial captain for employment," Cadman said, "and when he was asked for his credentials, the youth presented his diploma and proclaimed possession of his A. B., to which the battle-scarred industrialist answered: 'All right! Go out in the shop and learn the rest of the alphabet'."

So dramatic and glamorous, he said, is the idea of success which starts with selling newspapers and ends in the president's chair that it has almost become sacred and the myth of the self-made man is firmly established in American traditions. Cadman said the executive views the trained student in direct proportion to the amount of training which the candidate has enjoyed.

Wichita Students On U. T. Honor Roll

Three Wichita Falls students are on the honor roll of the college of engineering of the University of Texas for the spring semester, according to an announcement received from Austin from Dean T. U. Taylor.

C. Wilbur Kent of Wichita Falls received the highest rank of the school, being listed among the best one per cent of the students. O. K. Irvine of Wichita Falls was among the best 2 per cent and Ralph King of Wichita Falls was among the best 4 per cent.

Edmund A. McNatt of Bowie and Patric W. Neil of Plainview were listed among the best 5 and 6 per cent.

Colonel Lewis says he was a pal of Buffalo Bill and prior to that he fought the Indians with General Custer.

TEXAS COAST GUARD GROWS

New Pickets to Make War On Rum Runners

HOUSTON, June 30. (UP)—The government is concentrating the largest coast guard fleet ever seen in Texas gulf waters in anticipation of a drive against rum running, it was learned here today.

Ten new picket boats will be added to the four already at Galveston. The new boats formerly were stationed at Buffalo and now are on the way down the Mississippi river to New Orleans where they will be met by the mother ship and towed to Galveston.

Survey Made of Mail Service Through Altus

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., June 30.—Altus city and rural mail carriers deliver mail to 1,303 boxes. Of this number 513 are city boxes and 790 are on rural routes.

Deliveries are made to the 513 city boxes twice each day.

Six rural mail carriers in Altus travel a distance of 183 miles each day.

Four city mail carriers are employed to distribute mail in the city of Altus.

LASH USED ON CONVICT TRIO

Colorado Prison Revives Whipping Post

CANON CITY, Colo., June 30. (UP)—Whipping, worst of all prison punishments, has been resorted to at the Colorado state penintentiary for the first time in more than three years.

Three convicts were strapped to the whipping block at the penitentiary and lashed with a broad strap until "duly red and sore," for attempting to murder two guards.

The convicts had admitted they had intended to murder the guards who were bringing them back to the prison after an escape. The guards escaped with beatings, and finally overpowered the convicts and returned them.

Not since the time of Warden Tom Tynan, who was removed from the penitentiary in 1928, has the whipping block been used. Public opinion forced its abandonment.

Prison officials, however, declare it to be the most efficacious punishment possible.

Prison bullies, they point out, go through spells in the "cooler"—a black cell without furnishings, on bread and water diets—and come out to boast of their ability to withstand the punishment. The ball and chain gang holds no fear for them.

Whippings, say the officials, are different. No prison "tough" likes to be whipped in the manner of a small boy caught in the family "jam-pot."

The whippings were the latest incident in the recent difficulties at the prison. For the last two weeks the prison has seethed with unrest, and nearly a score of convicts have escaped.

Last Services Held For Ed Guthrie

Funeral services for Ed Guthrie, 57, employe of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad here, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Yale Evangelical church.

Mr. Guthrie died late Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. B. Hodges, 1708 Magnolia, after an illness of two months. He has been a resident of Wichita Falls for 20 years, and during that entire period has been employed by the Denver.

Pallbearers Tuesday were Jack Miller, Tom Harrison of Byers; R. W. McClure, Ernest Smith, H. A. Williams and J. C. Patterson. Burial was in Riverside, with arrangements in charge of the Hines mortuary.

Surviving, in addition to the daughter, are the widow, and two sisters, Mrs. Ed. Fields of Henrietta, and Mrs. J. S. Vineyard of Byers.

Man Returned Here On Perjury Charge

J. I. Arnold, arrested in Cotton county, Okla., recently on a complaint filed in Wichita county charging perjury, was returned to the Wichita county jail Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Pat Allen, it was announced by District Attorney Sam B. Spence Tuesday.

The charge against Arnold grew out of his appearance as a defense witness in the trial of Barney Riley on a charge of murder here several weeks ago. Arnold waived extradition.

JUNE PROVES MILD MONTH

Few Extremes Reported by Weather Bureau

Normal weather conditions of the season prevailed in Wichita Falls during June, according to statistics compiled by the weather bureau maintained here by the Texas Electric Service company. No extremes were registered.

Maximum temperature registered during the month, 101 degrees on the 15th and 26th, was five degrees cooler than the maximum registered for June, 1930. Minimum temperature of 55 degrees was also five degrees lower than June last year.

Precipitation was considerably less than for the same month of 1930. The past month's rain record failed to exceed on any occasion more than .46 of an inch of rainfall in any one day. June, 1930, the maximum for one day was 2.27 inches. Days in which as much as .01 of an inch of rain fell here were the same for both periods, five. Five thunder storms occurred during the month.

There were eight clear days during the past month, 15 days when skies were partly cloudy, and seven cloudy. June, 1930, there were 12 clear days, 10 partly cloudy, and eight cloudy.

The mean maximum temperature for the month was 95.97 degrees as compared to 93.19 for June, 1930. Mean minimum was 70.80 degrees as compared with 69.80 degrees. The mean temperature was 83.39 degrees as compared with 81.47 degrees. The greatest daily range of temperature was 33 degrees, occurring on the first.
