Speaker Clayton To Seek Third Term

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton said today he is a candidate for a third term as House speaker of the 1979 legislature.

"I am not interested in the Agriculture Commissioner job to succeed John White and I am not interested in running against Sen. John Tower," Clayton told a news conference.

"But I do intend to run for speaker again."

Clayton said he already had 90 "firm" pledges of support for the 1979 campaign.

"There have been rumbles on the floor the last two or three weeks about the possibility of a full-fledged speaker's race breaking out, which is the last thing I would like to happen," Clayton said. "That's why I want to make clear today I am running for a third term."

Clayton said he hoped his announcement would put a stop to the widespread campaigning and let members know where he stands.

Rep. Buddy Temple, D-Diboll, has said he is a candidate for 1979 speaker and will run whether Clayton runs or not.

Some have considered Rep. Bill Sullivant, D-Gainesville, a possible candidate but he has said he will not oppose Clayton.

"If we allow a speaker's race to develop it could throw us off schedule in handling the important legislation we face and we could end up in a last minute tangle as has happened before," Clayton said.

Clayton said he had received numerous inquires if he would be interested in a race for governor or lieutenant governor, provided the present incumbents do not run again in 1978.

"I don't anticipate there being an opening in either place," he said, "and I have no plans for that... down the line somewhere those are the offices that interest me the most. It might be in 1981 or earlier if there is an opening."

Temple told reporters it was "unreasonable for him Clayton to have a press conference announcing he is running and say the rest of us should stop running for speaker."

Leftist Leader Killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Kamal Jumblatt, leader of the leftist alliance in Lebanon's civil war, was killed in a machinegun ambush today, police reported.

The 59-year-old socialist leader, target of several assassination attempts in the past, was killed while riding in his car in the mountain town of Baakline, 21 miles southeast of Beirut, the police said.

Hijacker Arrested

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — An Italian hijacker was overpowered by Swiss police and arrested today at the end of an 8,500-mile pirate flight in a Spanish airliner around Europe and West Africa. It was the second longest hijacking in distance on record and the longest by a lone hijacker.

Police said the hijacker, Luciano Porcari, managed to grab his Winchester rifle and fire one shot, slightly wounding one of the three policemen who seized him inside the plane. No one else was hurt, the police said.

Aid Speeded To Zaire

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — Belgian weapons and American medical and military equipment have been speeded to Zaire as it tries to repel what it calls an invasion of "foreign mercenaries" from Angola.

Officials of the central African nation said today that the invaders who crossed into copper-rich Shaba Province last week were 5,000 mercenary troops led by "guerrilla and subversive war specialists from across the Atlantic."

Leak Evacuates Dozens

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Dozens of families in this Southeast Texas city were evacuated temporarily early this morning when a cloud of odorless, flammable oxygen hovered over the area for almost two hours before it dissipated.

Police cordoned off a five-block area and evacuated those closest to the American Welding Supply Inc. where a tank was leading the oxygen.

Teresa Smith Is Champion County Speller

After winning the Scurry County Spelling Bee this morning, Teresa Smith will advance to the regional spelling match to be held a month from today in Lubbock.

Miss Smith, 14, literally won the bee this morning on a syllable. The runner-up in the contest misspelled the word "traitor" and Miss Smith correctly spelled that word and then went on to win the match by correctly spelling the word "syllable."

Teresa is an 8th grade student at Snyder Junior High School. She is the daughter of A. Kenneth Smith, a stock farmer. They live outside Snyder on Route 1.

Placing second in the spelling bee today was Floy Willingham, a 5th grader at East Elementary. Miss Willingham, 11, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Willingham of Route 2, Hermleigh.

Ten-year-old Chris Wiman, a 5th grade student at West Elementary, placed third in the competition. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. David Wiman of 2810 El Paso.

Dr. Thomas Scannicchio, one of the organizers of the annual spelling bee, said 20 students from the county's three school districts competed in the spelling match this morning, held at the Fine Arts Theater at Western Texas College. Approximately 450 children, he said, competed for placement in the runoff match.

Miss Smith will now advance to the regional spelling bee that will be held April 16 at the Moody Auditorium on the Lubbock Christian College campus. The winner of the regional spelling bee will then go to the national competition held in Washington, D.C.

'Up With People' Cast Revs Up Local Audience

By JOHN LONG

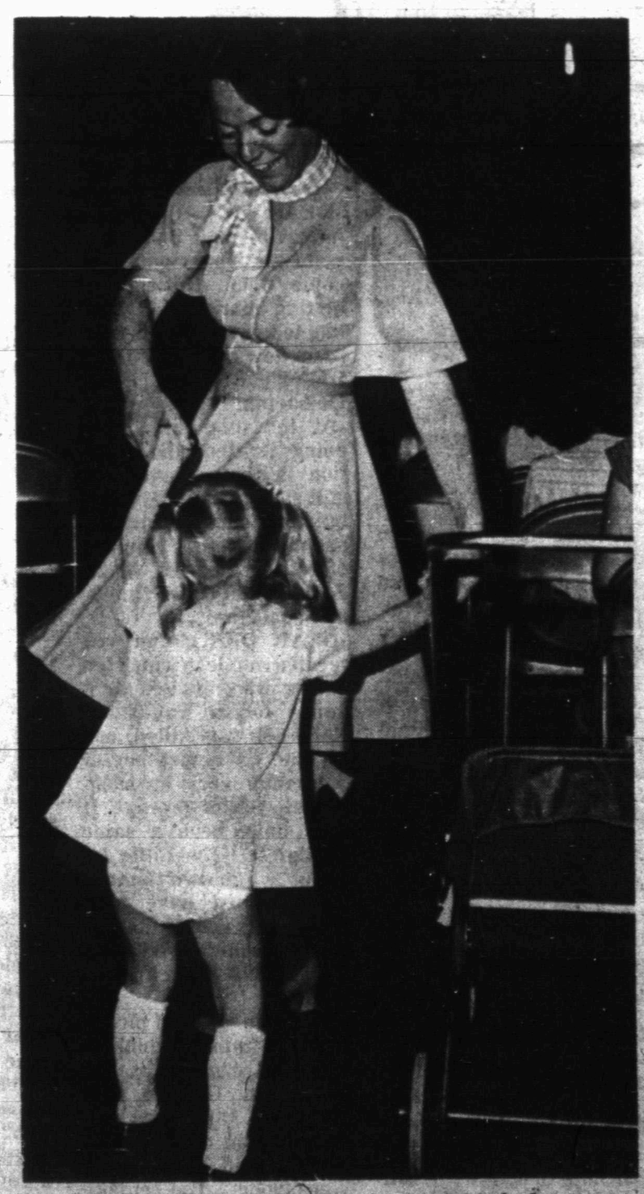

The walls of the Scurry County Coliseum reverberated for two hours Tuesday night as the "Up With People" cast presented a medley of songs and dances before an appreciative Snyder audience.

The 75-member Up With People cast is one of six in a larger Up With People organization that has won international fame for its performances.

In rainbow-hued costumes, the modern minstrels presented an arrangement of primarily original and courageously contemporary songs and dances.

Formed in the mid 1960s as a backlash against the student unrest of that era, the youngsters portrayed youth in a favorable light. The cast members come from different walks of life from throughout the Uni-

For those who have inquired, Daylight Saving Time will begin on Sunday, April 24.

That is the date under the present legislation, although there are proposals before Congress to alter this. Some want more DST, some want less, and some of us want it 12 months per year.

But, we have discovered someone who is happy with the situation as it now exists. Most people don't want any DST at all, or else they want it all the time. Usually, there is no middle ground. A person is either pro-DST or anti-DST.

W.A. Cooper, the city's building inspector, says he likes it the way it is—half a year DST and half a year Standard Time. He says the extra time at the end of the day comes in handy during the long spring and summer period, but that he doesn't especially care for it during those cold, dark mornings in the winter time.

And while we are on the subject, Spring arrives officially this coming Sunday. As usual the fruit trees paid no attention to the calendar and most of them already have bloomed. One of the mysteries is how some of the blossoms that were out in February apparently escaped damage during 22-degree cold. But it looks as if they did—so far at least.

Fruit has the deck stacked against it, especially in this part of the country. If it doesn't get caught by a late killing frost chances are a sandstorm will thin it out considerably before it begins to ripen, and then there usually is at least one hailstorm to take its toll.

But perhaps the law of averages is working for us this year. It seems a long, long time since there was a "normal" fruit crop here.

Underworld Figure Takes Fifth

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reputed crime figure appeared today before the House committee investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy but repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment against self incrimination.

Santos Trafficante, once a reputed gambling kingpin in Cuba, is the sole survivor of a gangland trio secretly enlisted by the CIA in 1960 in futile efforts to kill Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

According to published reports, the FBI had information that Trafficante once told people in advance that Kennedy would be assassinated but the FBI dismissed the remark as braggadocio.

The Senate intelligence committee said Trafficante was the underworld figure who helped line up a potential assassin in one of the CIA plots to assassinate Castro.

SHS Band In Contest Today

The Snyder High School Black and Gold Band, left early this morning for Abilene to compete in concert and sight-reading contests.

The Region 2, University Interscholastic League contests were being held in the Cooper High School Auditorium.

By winning Division I ranking in today's events, the SHS Band would qualify for a sweepstakes award since it rated Division I in the marching contests held last Nov. 3.

House Bill Limits TAs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A West Texas legislator's attempt to assure that state university freshmen and sophomores are taught by experienced faculty members won final House passage today.

An 81-58 House vote sent to the Senate a bill that limits the use of graduate student teaching assistants - or TAs - who teach many freshman and sophomore courses.

The bill says TAs must have experience as teachers or as "co-teachers" with experienced faculty members before taking charge of a class. It also says the number of student contact hours taught by TAs cannot exceed 25 per cent that taught by ranked faculty members.

Silent Indian Masses To Polls

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The world's largest election began today as India's silent masses went to the polls to elect a new lower house of Parliament and to decide whether Prime Minister Indira Gandhi will continue to power.

The voter turnout was reported heavier than usual, a development that Mrs. Gandhi's opponents had said should prove favorable to them.

Voting was scheduled today in 300 of the country's 542 election districts and continues through Sunday. First results were to be announced then, after the last balloting.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Tuesday, 68 degrees; low, 40 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. today, 45 degrees; precipitation, none; total precipitation for 1977 to date, 1.21.

better than hoarding

There used to be a theory immediately following World War II to the effect that the easiest way to get buyers interested in a given type of merchandise was to start a rumor that a shortage was developing. Americans had been living with shortages and rationing so long that they responded quickly when they thought something might be in short supply.

The big saccharin scare of 1977 indicates that this theory still has some credibility. The situation is somewhat different, of course, from those early post-war years when production of goods for civilians was just being resumed. There was light at the end of the tunnel in those days, but saccharin may be on the way out forever if the Food and Drug Administration has its way.

However, the reaction is virtually the same. The consumers are rushing to buy up supplies of saccharin, despite the fact that suppliers say they have plenty for normal sales for the next four months. The catch is that, unless something happens to turn the FDA decision around, no matter how much saccharin is hoarded, eventually there won't be any available on the open market.

So, it would appear that the best course of action would be to protest the FDA order, and there is evidence that many are going to do just that. Users of saccharin, the industry that manufactures it and those who sell it have strong allies in a big segment of the medical profession, according to recent reports. This could be the issue that results in a defeat for the FDA. Anyway it seems to have a better chance than most others and it sure offers a better solution for consumers than hoarding.

"You first! . . . No, YOU first! . . . No. . ."

castro aids madman

It is becoming increasingly difficult for the friends of Fidel Castro in this country to defend their hero.

It is one thing for the Cuban leader to try to score points with Third World members of the U.N. by attacking the United States over the phony issue of Puerto Rican independence. After all, what's Uncle Sam's beard for if not for tweaking?

And if the United States sent half a million men to Vietnam, how can we complain about 10,000 or so Cuban troops in Angola?

Now, however, refugees from that slaughterhouse called Uganda report that Cuban advisors and technicians are helping to train the Soviet-equipped army of President-for-life Idi Amin and prop up his shattered economy. Allegedly, about 200 black Cubans, including military and agricultural experts, have filtered inconspicuously into Uganda in the past month, following an official visit to Kampapa by Cuba's deputy minister of defense Gen. Francisco Cabrera.

The paraonoic Amin, ranting about an imminent invasion from Tanzania, Kenya, the United States, Britain, Israel, South Africa and-or the Sudan, has long sought foreign assistance in shaping up his undisciplined 20,000-man army. Up to now, every government he has approached has refused.

The truth, of course, is that the only danger to the safety of Ugandans is Idi Amin, as even African leaders who would prefer to look the other way now admit. Amin is currently directing the systematic slaughter of Lango and Acholi tribesmen, to cap six years of tyranny which has cost as many as 300,000 Ugandan lives, according to some sources.

To give aid and comfort to this madman and murderer, to associate himself with him even in the slightest degree, is the most damning indictment that has ever been made against Fidel Castro.

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In the home stretch of the 1976 campaign, Walter F. Mondale drew the kind of crowd that every politician dreams about.

The date was Oct. 16, the place a cavernous church hall in Chicago. Thousands of stomping, cheering men and women nearly blew the roof off with an emotional tribute to the Democratic vice-presidential nominee and the ticket he represented.

It was a night Mondale will never forget and a crowd Jimmy Carter should have seen — because the Greek-Americans who shouted their allegiance that night are watching the new administration very carefully right now to see if their faith was warranted.

What drew the crowd to that Chicago rally was a burning and single-minded passion for a chance in U.S. policy towards Greece and Turkey on the Cyprus dispute.

President Ford and Henry Kissinger had incurred the wrath of Greek-Americans by fighting to overturn the embargo on U.S. military aid to Turkey which the Democratic Congress imposed over their objections following Turkey's 1974 invasion of Cyprus.

Now Carter has inherited the sticky foreign policy dilemma and must decide, possibly within days, whether to ask Congress to ease the arms embargo.

His emissary, Washington superlawyer Clark Clifford, has completed a special fact-finding mission to Turkey, Greece and Cyprus and has reported heavy Turkish pressure for a resumption of U.S. aid in exchange for the reopening of American military bases the Turks closed in retaliation against the arms cut-off.

What remains unclear, however, is whether Clifford also found cause to believe that Turkey is now prepared to make genuine concessions to the Greek majority on Cyprus — the price Congress has demanded for a resumption of military aid.

Unless the administration can persuade Congress such concessions are certain to be forthcoming, Carter will risk a major political donnybrook if he seeks an easing of the embargo.

House Majority Whip John Brademas, D-Ind., and freshman Sen. Paul Sarbanes, D-Md., are both Greek-Americans and have spearheaded the congressional drive to block any resumption of arms aid to Turkey until progress is made in resolving the Cyprus dispute. They have had help from Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., and Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., and have won repeated battles on the issue with Ford and Kissinger in the past.

These influential congressmen see no reason to soften their position simply because a Democrat now occupies the White House.

If anything, they intend to hold Carter to a tougher standard; they kept a careful record of his campaign statements on the Cyprus issue and are ready to throw his past comments right into his face if he tries to wiggle now.

In addition, Brademas, Sarbanes and the others believe Carter's outspoken commitment to human rights and repeated expressions of concern about U.S. arms sales abroad should preclude any hasty administration gestures towards Turkey.

They acknowledge that Turkey is a crucial NATO ally — but so is Greece. And as long as Turkey continues to occupy a large portion of Cyprus and to resist the return of Greek Cypriot refugees to their homes, these congressmen see no reason to budge on the arms embargo.

"I'm not sure Carter understands how strong the feelings are up here," one House source said. "He's risking a political catastrophe if he handles this thing wrong. There's a chance he could push a resumption of military aid through Congress, but the political price would be enormous."

A key State Democrat official familiar with the intricacies of the congressional politics involved insisted the administration is fully aware of the hazards.

"We're very sensitive to the political problems and realize the penalty we'd pay to try to shove something through without the cooperation of guys like Brademas and Sarbanes," this source said. "No one wants to get into that kind of contest with the Hill."

my turn...

Is it my imagination or do all beautiful days during the early spring always fall during the week days?

Recently a long talked-about weekend to Lake Hubbard finally became a reality. After careful planning, checking lists to see if each needed item was packed for a weekend "away from it all" my husband and I assured each other that our teenage children were capable of managing a normal routine without us. Of course there would be a number of telephone calls home to make sure everything was all right.

Not at all surprised that the weather didn't cooperate, an attempt was made to get some fishing done in spite of cold, blusterous winds, and rough icy waters.

Consequently, enough food was taken that the regular three meals a day routine didn't suffer!

The first phone call home gave the first hint that we might be needed at home. Our son had attended a track meet and returned home with blood on his clothes. We were quickly assured that it was not his. He had only helped break up a fight between some friends whose horse-play got out of hand. I sighed with relief after the brief contact with home.

Packing the car to return home is the day the waters calm, and the warm sun shines. Even after a restful time it is always good to get home.

On our return, approaching the city limits of Snyder, we spotted a familiar looking car sitting all alone by the fence as if it might have been in a collision, sure enough, after a closer look it was our daughter's little blue Mustang. No injuries, thank goodness, it was labled as a minor accident. Another sigh of relief!

Had we stayed home these incidents probably would have happened anyway, but it can be looked upon in another respect. There comes the time for children when learning to deal with their problems is another step in maturing and being less dependent on their parents, which takes mother and father some getting used to.

about stars 'n stuff

DEAR DICK: I read in a magazine that John Travolta -- Barbarino on Welcome Back, Kotter -- is getting married. I would like to know if that is true. Also, how old is he? DARLENE BRUMFIELD, Delbarton, W. Va.

At the moment this is being written, the situation is this: Travolta is still seeing Diana Hyland, but his friends tell me they are not seriously thinking of getting married. At 22, John has plenty of time -- and opportunity.

DEAR DICK: Can you recall a movie in which ten guests were invited to a home for a vacation? Each one was killed, one by one, by a member of the group very inconspicuously out for revenge. It may have been a same similar to "Ten Little Indians." The last time I saw it must have been eight years ago. Is that the right name? JACQUE EATMAN, Parchment, Mich.

That's an oft-used plot in murder films. I think it was first created by the late Agatha Christie, with her book (and the subsequent film made in '45; called "And Then There Were None." The remake of the film in 1966 was entitled "Ten Little Indians," which is probably the version you saw.

DEAR DICK: I saw John Russell at a restaurant in Carmel a year ago, and, ever since, I've been wondering what he played on TV, what series, if any. Do you know? MRS. LEONARD DIAS, Tracy, Ca.

Sure -- Russell was the star of a Western called Lawman, which flourished in the late '50s.

DEAR DICK: My friend and I have a $30 bet. I say that Rod Stewart is suing Kiss because they sang two songs he wrote -- "Beth" and "Kings of the Nighttime World." My friend says he's not. Please resolve this. KEVIN WELLS AND DREW PECSENYE, Indiana, Pa.

My friends at WB Records -- Rod records for them -- have heard nothing about an suit, and they'd surely know. Further they say Rod didn't write those songs. "Beth," for example, is the name of the wife of one of the Kiss group, so it stands to reason the Kiss people wrote it.

DEAR DICK: Is the Darleen Carr who starred in "Once An Eagle" the same Darleen Carr that was a Mousketeer years ago on the Mickey Mouse Club? P. MERCIER, Portage, Mich.

I can find nothing in the roll of ex-Mousketeers listing her name. There was a Darlene Gillespie, and maybe you are thinking of her.

DEAR DICK: Can you please tell me who plays Jean Stone, Mike's daughter, on The Streets of San Francisco? She also played on "Once An Eagle" on the Best Seller series. DEBBIE BEIER, Frazer, Mont.

Now THAT'S Darleen Carr.

DEAR DICK: In 1918, while stationed at Fort Snelling, Minn., I and three others of my buddies helped film a picture in Minneapolis. It was a movie about Joan of Arc. We were her guards. Can you tell me if that picture was ever shown? ALDEN W. EDWARDS, Noblesville, Ind.

If it was shown, it was probably locally, because Minneapolis was never a center of movie production. There was a 1916 film about Joan -- "Joan the Woman," with Geraldine Farrar -- but the next one, according to my records, wasn't until 1928. That was "The Passion of Joan of Arc," the only film the great French actress, Falconetti, ever made. No record of a 1918 Joan movie.

DEAR DICK: In the old Father Knows Best series, who played opposite Robert Young? Was it Jane Wyatt or Betty White: S.Y., VANCOUVER, B.C., Can.

It was Jane Wyatt.

South was rather bitter about the whole thing. As he pointed out to his partner and his opponents in particular and anyone within hearing range, he just had to try for a slam with his tremendous hand.

In any event he wondered why his partner had made a business double with a mere four points.

We will answer that one for North. When your partner opens with a forcing two bid, he expects to continue to game unless a penalty double of an opposing bid offers a chance for a greater profit. Hence, when North doubled West's two-heart bid he was merely showing defense against hearts and not any interest at all in playing at game or slam.

With this in mind, South really should have bid three notrump over East's two spades and taken his nine top tricks.

South was unlucky in not making five clubs. His contract failed because West had listened carefully to the bidding and came to the conclusion that East would not have run from two hearts doubled with more than one heart in his hand. Hence, West opened the ace of hearts and continued in spite of receiving the three from his partner. East ruffed and eventually South lost a diamond trick.

Ask the Jacobys

A Rhode Island reader asks how you can stop at five notrump after using a Blackwood four notrump and finding you are one ace short for a slam and past your own suit.

The answer is that if you can bid five in a suit higher than the one you have agreed on, your partner is supposed to bid five notrump. Then you pass.

ted States and the world and are united in the fact that they are between the ages of 18 and 25 and generate a positive image.

Swept up in the unadulterated entertainment, the approximately 662 persons in the audience joined in the fun by clapping their hands and singing along with the group, and, sometimes, by linking arms.

"I think the group is great," said Mrs. Martha Fagin, wife of the Mayor John Fagin. "Snyder is fortunate to have the group perform here."

Bob Clifton, a local radio commentator, said he believed the cast members "projected an aura of positivism."

Jack Gorman, assistant school superintendent, said the group was "tremendous."

Mrs. Virginia Clark, wife of Henry Clark, Snyder Chamber of Commerce president, described the Up With People performance as "refreshing."

"I like the group," said H.E. (Buz) Woolsey, manager of the Scurry County Coliseum. "I really think it's great. Anytime you have people of that age performing that well, it's wonderful," he summed up.

The cast members preached messages in carefully couched song lyrics. One of the songs the group sang was "Memorable Tune."

Briefly breaking the rhythm of the song, one of the cast members said the test of music is whether or not it is memorable. And as Snyderites left the coliseum last night, they were heard humming lighthearted tunes they had heard during the evening -- proof of the success of the Up With People performance.

The Up With People cast left Snyder today to go to Abilene, where they will perform Friday and Saturday. From Abilene, the group will go to Borger and then on to Kansas.

AFFECTION is primarily a matter of emotion, but sometimes a little buttering up helps. That's how Kirsten Marlatt, 12, of Ceresco, Mich., got her cat to pose appropriately—by buttering the ceramic version's cheek. 'Happy Days' Top TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — "Happy Days" was the top-rated television show for the week ending March 13 and the film "Mean Streets" ranked as the week's least-watched program, according to the latest A.C. Nielsen figures.

"Mean Streets," shown on NBC's "Saturday Night Movie," finished last of 70 rated programs with an 8.6 rating, which represents 6.1 million households.

With ABC again leading the networks, their standings for the season were unchanged in the ratings made available Tuesday. ABC took first with a 20.3 rating for the week, representing 14.4 million homes. CBS followed with an 18.1, or 12.9 million, and NBC had a 17.8, or 12.7 million.

In order, the week's top 10 shows were "Happy Days," ABC, with a 32.6 rating, or 23.2 million households; "Laverne & Shirley," ABC, 31.6, or 22.5 million; "M.A.S.H.," CBS, 25.8, or 18.4 million; "Barney Miller," ABC, 25.4, 18 million; "Charlie's Angels," ABC, 24.7, 17.6 million; "What's Happening," ABC, and "One Day at a Time," CBS, tied at 24.6, or 17.5 million; "Walt Disney," NBC, 24.3, or 17.3 million; "Starsky and Hutch," ABC, 24.1, 17.1 million, and "Welcome Back, Kotter," ABC, 23.6, 16.8 million.

Rounding out the top 10 were "Switch," CBS; "Rockford Files," NBC, tied with "Rich Man Poor Man," ABC; "Circle of Children" on CBS' Thursday movie; "Little House on the Prairie," NBC; "Baretta," ABC; "The Wind and the Lion," on NBC's Monday movie; "Quincy," NBC; "Tony Randall," ABC, and "Bionic Woman," ABC.

'No Contest' Plea Heard

A plea of nolo contendere (no contest) was entered by Bruce Hatfield to a bribery charge Tuesday in 132nd District Court.

Hatfield is accused of offering a bribe to Howard LaRue Gambol, a state game warden, in July after Gambol allegedly discovered Hatfield employing illegal fishing practices.

Hatfield, 40, was found guilty by the court and sentenced to serve a three-year probated prison sentence and fined $300.

Texas Senators Split Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas senators split their vote Tuesday over the so-called Byrd amendment as Democrat Lloyd Bentsen voted for repeal of the measure while Republican John Tower voted against it.

The amendment was repealed by a 66 to 26 roll call vote, reinstating a ban on U.S. imports of Rhodesian chrome.

Cold alone does not trigger hibernation in animals, says National Geographic. It is linked to the endocrine glands and nervous systems, scientists think, but its exact cause is unknown.

Wedding May Be CB First

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Many wedding ceremonies have been performed on commercial radio broadcasts, but the one uniting "Widow Maker" and "Minnie Mouse" may be a Citizen's Band Radio first.

CB'ers on Channel 13 in this northern California community heard Larry Miller take Helen Frain as his wife in a service performed Sunday in a Redding park.

"Breaker, breaker," said "Silversmith," the Rev. Donald Palmer, cutting into the channel.

"Do you, Widow Maker, take Minnie Mouse to be your XYL till you go 10-7 permanently?" he asked the couple.

"10-4" they replied from inside a radio-equipped car as "Whiskey Man," Otis Croll watched.

Just to make sure the ceremony was complete, the newlyweds said, "I do."

Other CB'ers congratulated them on the air.

Diabetes needs careful test

DEAR DR. LAMB — My doctor told me I was a diabetic after he did a glucose tolerance test. I am on a strict diet — no medication.

Then I read this item in the paper that said the glucose tolerance tests are usually wrong and should not be used to make a diagnosis of diabetes. I have begun to wonder and would like your opinion.

DEAR READER — The comments you read in the paper need to be put into proper perspective. Doctors are trained to use their clinical judgment, not just the results from a laboratory test. A good doctor will know how much weight to put on the test he had performed in your case.

It is true that many false positive tests do occur. This is often because the patient has not been properly prepared. Unless the patient already has diabetes or has a medical condition that contra-indicates it, he should eat an abundant amount of carbohydrates, starches and sweets for three days before the test. This will prevent false positive tests in many cases.

It also depends on how severe the test results are. If the values go very high and stay very high in a properly prepared patient the condition is not so equivocal or borderline. If the fasting specimen is abnormally high to a significant degree the doctor can also be fairly sure about your diagnosis.

So my advice is to depend on your doctor's good judgment and let him worry about the interpretation of your test. I agree with your doctor's idea of reducing a patient and using diet as the first step in management when that is possible. Sometimes that is all that is needed.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-11, Diabetes: Diagnosis, Prevention and Management. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Just write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 52 years old. I have not been in bad health at all. I feel I have passed the menopause. I have read that you recommend a quart of milk a day for women in my category to prevent a calcium deficiency that could lead to softening of the bones. What substitute could I possibly use? Milk causes gas on my stomach and since I am working with many people milk is not the answer for me.

DEAR READER — It sounds like you have lactose intolerance — inability to split the double sugar, lactose, in milk. That usually causes gas and digestive complaints.

You can take calcium pills if you wish — enough to get about 1 gram (1000 milligrams) of calcium a day. You may want to try Lact-Aid, the enzyme substance that you can put in your milk to split lactose before you use the milk. The normal intestine contains this enzyme but some people, quite a few, do not produce enough of the enzyme when they become adults and have an intolerance to milk. Those who want to try this product can write to SugarLo Company, 3540 Atlantic Avenue, Atlantic City, N.J. 08404 for more information on the product.

Opens Record Measure Rests In Subcommittee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Until the Open Records Act of 1973, police reporters in Houston had the right for 40 years to look at offense reports and individual criminal records, so-called rap sheets, says Bob Brown of the Houston Chronicle.

Brown testified Tuesday before Senate Jurisprudence subcommittee on criminal matters in support of a bill that would restore that right.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who said he worked as a police reporter for the Houston Post in the early 1950s, also testified for the measure.

But Dallas Police Chief D.A. Byrd said he hoped the legislature in its "infinite wisdom" will amend the bill in some way so he can protect the privacy of victims of crime.

The bill, by Sen. Gene Jones, D-Houston, was left on the table of the subcommittee after Jones asked Byrd to make suggestions to the Dallas city attorney, who in turn can work on the bill with Jones.

As soon as the Open Records Act became effective in June 1973, the Houston police said the new law made offense reports and rap sheets records confidential.

The Chronicle took the police department to court, winning at the trial court level, but losing the right to see anything but the first page of the offense reports in an opinion by the Houston Court of Civil Appeals.

Jones' bill simply would restore to reporters rights they enjoyed before the Open Records Act, Hobby said.

Byrd said the records must be made available to everyone if they are made available to reporters. "You can't have a half open record. You give it to one, you give it to all."

'Do-Or-Die' Game For Westerners

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—It was "win or pack 'em up" today for the Western Texas College Westerners as they faced powerful Arizona Western in the consolation bracket of the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament.

The Westerners were shoved into the loser's division Tuesday afternoon when Ellsworth, Iowa, rebounded from a 10-point deficit in the final 10 minutes of play to take a 65-62 decision.

The WTC-Western Arizona game was set for 12:45 p.m. today.

The Westerners were the victims of some red hot outside shooting in their game with Ellsworth, as Dennis Van Mathis and John Jones hit 11 of 17 and 10 of 17 shots, respectively, to literally bomb WTC out of the championship bracket.

Meanwhile, the Westerners were having problems with their own shooting, cashing in only 24 times in 61 tries from the floor. Lawrence Butler, WTC's scoring leader, was off his pace considerably, hitting only 8 of 22 shots from the floor and winding up with a total of 21 points, well below his average.

WTC jumped to an 11-2 lead at the outset, but Ellsworth tied it at 18-18 and managed a 30-26 lead at half-time. Three minutes deep in the second half, it appeared the Westerners might have turned it around when the Ellsworth coach was hit with two technical fouls. Allen Corder made three of the four shots awarded on the bench technicals, and some quick baskets pushed WTC to a 51-41 lead with 10:56 remaining.

But Ellsworth's outside shooters took charge, firing over the WTC zone defense, and they knotted the count at 55-55 with 3:30 remaining and edged on out for the three-point victory.

Larry Orton led WTC in rebounds with 17, but he carried most of the load on the boards for the Westerners.

Big Spring Nips Snyder JV Team, 9-5

BIG SPRING—The Big Spring Junior Varsity baseball team pushed over five runs in the third inning and went on to defeat the Snyder JV, 9-5, here Tuesday afternoon.

Snyder had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Kyle Short walked to lead off the game, stole second and then came home on Jay Hammond's single. The Bengals got three more in the second on two bases on balls and singles by Short and David Zajicek; but Big Spring tied the score in the bottom of the second on four walks and a single.

The big third for Big Spring featured a triple by Smith and a double by Manley. An error and Zajicek's double enabled Snyder to score one more in the fourth, but the Tigers couldn't mount another rally.

The Snyder JV will host Lubbock Coronado in a game at 4 p.m. Thursday on Moffett Field in Towle Memorial Park.

LOOKING FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE

TCU Cager Says He'll Defect

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold McDowell, a freshman basketball player at Texas Christian from San Angelo, says he won't be at TCU next year and he believes several other players have decided not to return.

McDowell, in San Angelo for the TCU spring break, said he will return to Fort Worth to finish this semester but will be looking at several junior colleges to transfer to.

Coach Johnny Swaim's Horned Frogs suffered through their worst season in years in 1976-77, losing 17 conference games in a row and winning just three of 26 games for the season.

"I just didn't like the coach and his style of play," said McDowell. "He wasn't doing a good job of coaching. I don't think he knew what he was doing. He wasn't playing with the guys he could win with - it was like he wanted to lose."

McDowell continued, "Daryl Braden isn't going to come back either and I don't think any of the ones who were starters at first will be back."

McDowell mentioned Tim Marion and Cornelius McFadgon as likely departures.

Swaim said he had been out of town and hadn't talked with McDowell or the other players and refused to comment on McDowell's charges.

But he said among the four McDowell said would leave, Marion would probably return next season.

"If Arnold thinks he should go somewhere else, he's probably right," Swaim said. "He needs more freedom than I could ever give him here."

Arnold is a 6-foot-3 guard who averaged seven points per game in conference play.

Longhorns Set Record For Wins

By The Associated Press

The Texas Longhorns tied a school record for consecutive baseball victories with 23 Tuesday night as they beat Wisconsin-Stevens Point in a double-header.

In the 7-4 first game triumph, Keith Ferguson paced the Longhorns with a three-run double and in the nightcap Bobby Kearney picked up two hits and two RBIs as Texas won 7-1.

Other results involving Southwest Conference teams saw Baylor sweep Hardin-Simmons 5-2 and 7-4, Houston trip Sam Houston 2-0 and 10-3, Southern Methodist lose to the University of Dallas 3-2 and then roll 17-3, Texas A&M beat Kansas 3-1 and Mankato State 7-1 in the Alamo Tournament at San Antonio, Central Michigan sweep Texas Christian 4-2 and 10-0 and Arkansas take Tulsa 6-2 and 4-1.

Life insurance can help your family cope with a fate worse than fire.... YOUR DEATH

The plain truth is, dying before your mortgage is paid off is much more likely to happen than a severe home fire.

Most homeowners do have some kind of fire insurance for their property. But too few families are really prepared for the death of the homeowner.

Moon's Hearing Has Ballooned Into Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A routine court hearing has ballooned into a "trial" of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church and the professional deprogrammers hired to battle his influence on the young people called moonies.

At issue are "brainwashing" tactics each side claims the other uses - one to win converts to the church, the other, the wean them away.

Caught in the middle are four young women and a young man who sit quietly in the courtroom every day beside their parents, who are their adversaries in the strange proceeding.

The parents have asked Superior Court Judge S. Lee Vavuris to grant them 30-day "conservatorships" over their adult children to remove them from the influence of Moon's church for deprogramming.

Such court orders are not unusual. Typically, an order is granted upon the parents' request and the young person is taken, sometimes forcibly, to professional deprogrammers who try to persuade him to break away from the church.

Paul Goorjian, an attorney for the five young people, calls it "kidnaping for profit."

Twenty-five conservatorships have been granted to other parents of Moon followers in northern California and hundreds nationwide, but this is one of the few times the judge has called the young church members into court and allowed their lawyer to present their side.

In an opening statement last week, Michael Trauscht, an attorney for the parents, told the court he would prove that "these young people are the victims of artful designing persons and that, in the Unification Church, they are exposed to food and sleep deprivation, isolation and fear and guilt tactics."

But Ralph Baker, another lawyer for the children, said he will prove that Trauscht and his Freedom of Thought Foundation, professional deprogrammers in Tucson, Ariz., are "the real brainwashers."

A psychologist and psychiatrist who examined the five young adults testified that all showed symptoms of thought control similar to brainwash victims, including memory loss and "frozen" emotions.

Gary Scharff, now a Freedom of Thought official who was deprogrammed away from the Unification Church, outlined the church's indoctrination procedures:

"First, they physically and socially isolate people by placing them in a rural environment which they are not free to leave because there is no transportation out," he testified Tuesday.

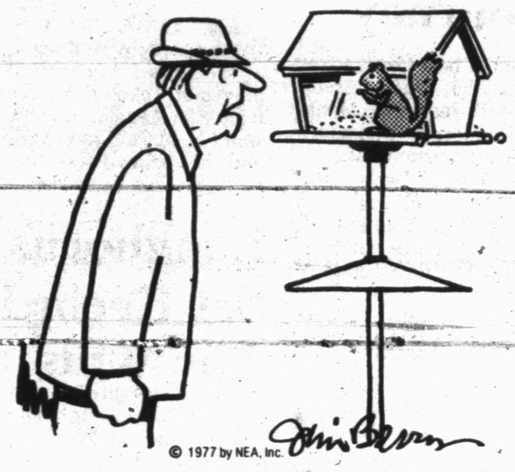

"Secondly, there is intense emotional pressure in which the individual is encouraged to repudiate his past life and even to repudiate the critical faculties developed in his previous life to be more open to indoctrination."

He also said group members talk to recruits into the wee hours of the morning, giving them "little time to themselves to reflect on what they've heard."

Testimony Heard On Abortions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Abortions should be illegal after 22 weeks, except in cases where the mother's life is in danger or the child could not survive anyway, says the president of the Texas Right to Life Committee.

Dr. T. Erwin Ballinger testified Tuesday before the Senate Jurisprudence subcommittee on criminal matters in support of a bill establishing 22 weeks as age at which a fetus becomes viable.

The State Board of Health Resources would be charged under the bill with lowering that age if Jack Ogg, D-Houston, is scheduled March 29. evidence at a yearly study indicated it should be lowered.

Opposition testimony to the bill, sponsored by Sen.

The measure also would prohibit saline abortions except where no other means is available. Ballinger said the salt solution injected into the sack around the baby often gets into the mother's bloodstream, where it can cause death.

Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, who sponsored antiabortion measures in the 1975 legislature, asked Ballinger what the viable age of fetuses was 50 years ago. Ballinger said 36 weeks.

And what will it be 50 years from now, Mengden asked.

"You're talking bout test-tube babies?"

There are between 500 and 600 species of eucalyptus found in Australia.

Farabee's Living Will Bill Approved By Panel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "I do not want to be prolonged indefinitely when I'm dying," said a young woman who is terminally ill with leukemia.

"We can't fool around with human life," declared an attorney.

The statements came during Tuesday's lengthy, emotional Senate Jurisprudence Committee hearing on a bill allowing Texans to write a "living will" to keep their lives from being artificially prolonged by machines.

The committee approved the measure, by Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, by an 8-3 vote.

"I've signed a living will...but it won't stand up," said leukemia-stricken Sally Tullos, 31, of Austin. "I very much want to be able to die with dignity."

The proposal would, in effect, allow patients to order their doctors to withhold or withdraw any artificial life-sustaining procedures when the patient is found to be terminally ill.

Farabee, whose mother died four years ago after lingering 10 days with the help of a machine, said the measure is designed to remove the burden of such a decision from family members.

He said it isn't connected with euthanasia or "mercy killing," since it applies only in cases where death is imminent.

Attorney William Buckner disagreed, "People keep saying this is not a euthanasia bill. Let's call is what it is. It's voluntary, passive euthanasia, nothing more, nothing less."

Other opponents, including a Catholic priest, argued that the bill isn't necessary and is poorly drafted.

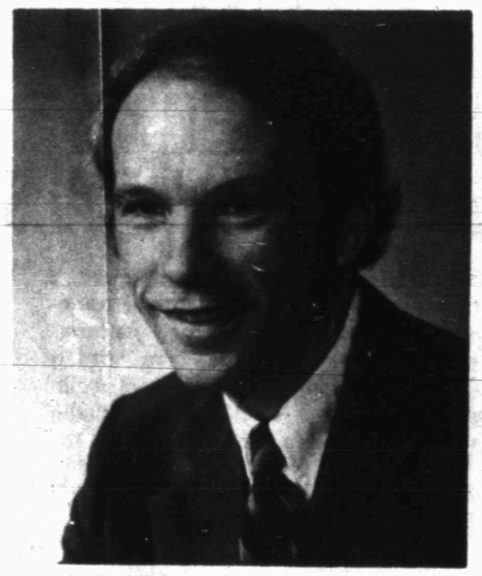

"It is my personal feeling...that I would like to have this procedure available so that I could issue such a directive to make my wishes known," said Farabee.

Jurisprudence Chairman A.R. Schwartz added, "My mother lived for 15 years in a nursing home because of heroic efforts - without any quality of life whatsoever. I certainly want an opportunity to do something different in my own case."

Farabee's bill includes several safeguards and doesn't allow anyone other than the patient to issue "natural death" orders to the doctor.

Send Gift to Abnormal Baby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of ours recently gave birth to an abnormal child (a Mongoloid). We, her friends, are terribly upset about it, and the poor woman and her husband are in a deep depression.

What should friends do under the circumstances? We certainly can't "congratulate" the parents.

Should we acknowledge the birth of this unfortunate child? Should we send a gift? (What does one send a Mongoloid child?) Or would it be kinder to ignore the tragedy?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Perhaps "congratulations" are not in order, but to ignore the birth of a child when you would normally express interest is, I think, cruel. So send a little gift (the same as you would to any other child), and show a continuing interest (not curiosity).

DEAR ABBY: During our two-year marriage, my husband and I have had some very difficult times including separation, a filing for and finally a cancellation of divorce proceedings.

The big problem is this: He thinks I should always be willing to have sex whenever HE feels like it.

Whenever we have an argument, which is often, my husband says some very cruel and cutting things to me, then he says, "I didn't mean what I said. Now can we have sex?"

I think it's nice that he says he's sorry, but I'm in no mood to have sex with him two minutes after he has ripped me up one side and down the other, and hurt my feelings by talking mean and ugly to me.

I need a little time to cool off after an argument, and having sex isn't my idea of cooling off. In an effort to save my marriage, I need your opinion.

NEEDING TIME OUT

DEAR NEEDING: I think you should take all the time out you need. And if your husband expects sex on demand because HE'S in the mood without considering YOUR mood, you may be trying to save a marriage that's not worth saving.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who deeply regrets not letting her husband go to "the other woman" 10 years ago.

He left me for her once, but I fought him so hard over the divorce settlement that he came back to me but continued to see her.

I knew in my heart that they really loved each other, but I couldn't think of her as anything but a tramp who had stolen my husband.

If I had let him go, I probably could have made a new life for myself, but I hung onto him for security.

As my husband lay dying in the hospital, her name—not mine—was on his lips. If I had let him go when he wanted to, maybe he'd be alive and happy today, for heartaches, pressure and frustration can undermine a man's health. I saw it happen. I won the battle but lost the war.

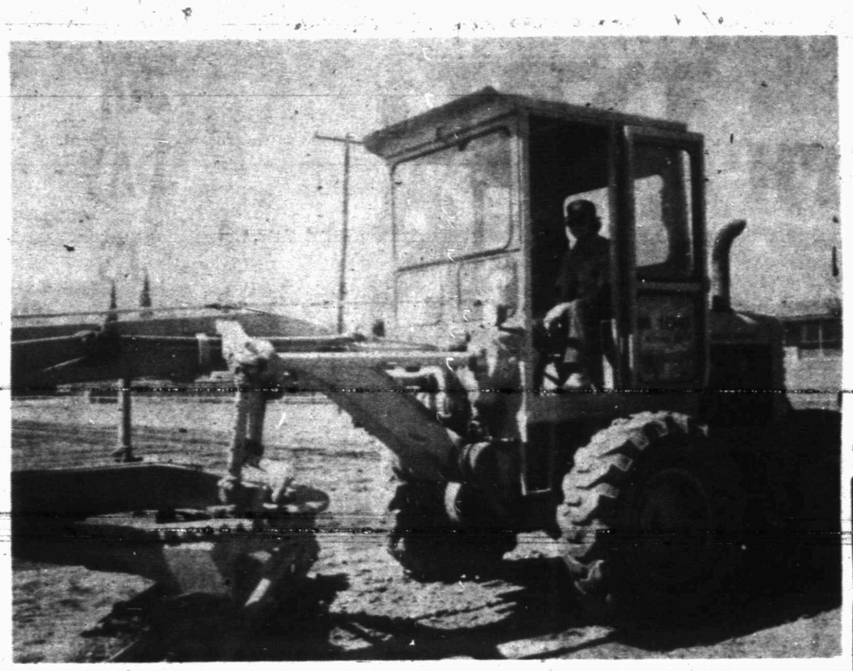

10 YEARS TOO LATE

DEAR 10: Your 20-20 hindsight makes a touching story. And an appropriate time to point out that no one "steals" another person. People are drawn together by a mutual need.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL SEARCHING" IN BALTIMORE: Consider Dr. Donald W. Hastings' philosophy:

"If anyone is searching for peace of mind today, he's searching for a will-o'-the-wisp. Anxiety is a healthy phenomenon—the motivating factor by which we get things done."

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

PARK PROJECT LAUNCHED—The county has begun ground work on the Kiddie Park project initiated by Snyder Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes. The project will provide a special area for small children, with additional equipment designed especially for the younger tots, located just west of the old locomotive near the swimming pool. Funds have been set up in both local banks where contributions may be made to support the project, Jaycee spokesmen said. Billy Joe Hataway, county employe, and Lynn Smith of the Jaycees are shown with earth-moving equipment at the site.

Russian Scientists At Space Center

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A Russian scientist says a decision by his country concerning an attempt to bring a sample of Mars to earth will be affected by Viking data.

Two American-sent Viking spacecraft currently are working on the Martian surface and two more are orbiting that planet.

"We can possibly use the same drilling equipment as was used by an unmanned Russian spacecraft on the moon," Dr. Y.L. Surkov said Tuesday.

Surkov and Dr. V.L. Barsukov, who is director of the Vernadsky Institute in Moscow, held a news conference at the space center here where Russian scientists are attending the eighth Lunar Science Conference.

Barsukov presented a bit of the last sample of the moon brought to earth. It was delivered last August by Luna 24, an unmanned Russian spacecraft.

Under an agreement, this country and Russia exchange samples of materials taken from other planets.

The Russians also showed a film of the Luna flight, the first time the film had been shown in this country.

Barsukov was asked if the President's recent remarks about the abuse of individual freedoms in other countries will have any effect on future Russian-American scientific cooperation.

"It is not for us to judge the words mentioned by your president, "he replied. "You will have more success doing that yourself."

Barsukov was asked when another Russian spacecraft will be sent to the moon.

"Right now that is a hard question to answer," he said. "We are developing newer and better equipment to go to more and better places."

The age of the lunar material from Luna 24 has not been determined, Barsukov said.

About 44 per cent of all youngsters between the ages of 12 and 17 paid visits to a doctor for medical treatment during 1975, according to a national sampling by the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

Group Auto Insurance In Subpanel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The House Insurance Committee late Tuesday night sent group auto insurance bills to a subcommittee, where they are likely to remain.

Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, moved to table the motion to send the proposals to subcommittee, but his motion was voted down, 7-3. The committee then sent them to subcommittee by voice vote.

Two of the bills would authorize group auto insurance for persons over 55.

Rep. Herman Adams, D-Silsbee, said all the bills should go to subcommittee so they could be combined.

Green said if that's what Adams really wanted, all he had to do was vote for Green's bill, which would authorize group auto insurance for everybody, regardless of age.

But the committee sent the measures to subcommittee anyway.

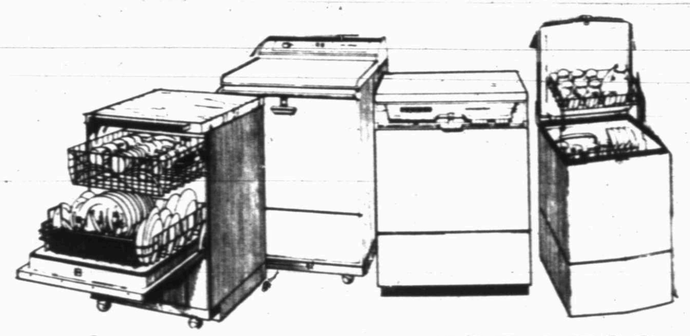

Some insurance industry spokesmen said the group insurance idea will not work for automobile insurance as it will with hospitalization, for example, because there is third party liability involved in car insurance.

Corporate Rites Of Spring Are Due Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual reports are in the mail, soon to be received and probably left unread, to be followed by the annual meetings, to be noted in appointment calendars but probably left unattended.

Yes, its time again for the corporate rites of spring, for the management of American corporations to report to their owners, the shareholders, and listen in return to the owners' gripes, and sometimes even their praise.

Because last year was a fairly good one for many companies - not good enough they'll remind you, just in case Congress thinks they're growing fat - the gripes are expected to be less noisy than in some recent years.

While the environmentalists and consumerists will be active, and the women too, the emotional edge, the cutting urgency, has been somewhat dulled. They have made their point; they are listened to. They made their point in other ways too. Having taken a public relations licking at these annual forums, some businessmen now would just as soon do away with annual meetings, if they could.

J.B. Fuqua, head of Fuqua Industries, an Atlanta-based conglomerate, once made that very decision, but the New York Stock Exchange unmade it, insisting that to forego an annual meeting violated listing regulations.

Fuqua had a point. Few people came, he said, so the affair was little more than ritualistic. And if everyone sought to come, assuming there were enough planes and trains and buses to take them - well, they just couldn't have come; Fuqua has 16,000 shareholders.

The tempo and significance of annual meetings has changed since then, in keeping with the times.

One can hardly forget the striped tents billowing in the breeze at a U.S. Steel meeting early in the 1960s, held on the green of a college campus, a vast picnic indistinquishable from a class reunion.

Nor can shareholders of American Telephone & Telegraph forget their meeting at about the same time in a cavernous New York City armory, an all-day get-together at which boxed lunches were served and shareholders gabbed with old acquaintances.

Controversy intruded. Real issues, tough questions, criticism of management. Women, consumers, clergymen, environmentalists insisted on being heard. The old family spirit was rent with backbiting.

At least, say some shareholders, annul meetings often were turned into real forums of opinion rather than shows staged by managers reluctant to listen, even turning off microphones so critics couldn't be heard.

Still, a real effort has been made to improve the product.

CB Convac

CB movie on the way

By Ink Dipper

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ink Dipper [KYZ-3916] is the handle of the editor of The CB Times-Journal.)

Last year you could have become an overnight sensation with a song about CBers. This year a major film studio hopes the same will hold true about movies.

Paramount plans to release "Citizens Band" later this year and then start counting the money it will make on it. The movie is being billed as "the first Hollywood feature about the current phenomenon of CB radio and its effects on people's lives." Whether it will deliver all that remains to be seen.

Very little information has actually been released about what happens in "Citizens Band." According to Paramount publicists, the company is trying to keep the storyline a secret so no one else will jump in with the same idea.

Paramount will say this much: The comedy-drama concerns the CBing-type lifestyle of a group of characters in a small American town. It will revolve around common CBing happenings, have a search-and-rescue portion and, of course, the inevitable love story.

Director Jonathan Demme says the movie is a "technological love story," which leaves us wondering if the boy is in love with a girl or with his CB radio.

Paul Brickman, who wrote the screenplay, says the movie is "about citizens band and a band of citizens — CB is an extension of their personalities."

If we can gather an overall theme from that vague double-talk, it would be the idea that CB is filling the gap for people and allowing them to return to personal communications. Maybe.

The actors and actresses, again according to Paramount publicists, have gone to great lengths to get inside the heads of CBers. Each person has learned the basics of CBing, including the lingo, so that his or her part will come alive on the screen.

The movie hasn't been rated yet, but it will probably be "G" (general) or "PG" (parental guidance suggested).

Don't expect John Wayne or Jane Fonda. The stars aren't exactly names you mention all the time in conversation. Candy Clark, who received an Oscar nomination for her portrayal of a blond tart in "American Graffiti," plays "Jelly Bean" in "Citizens Band." Paul Le Mat, also in "American Graffiti," is "Spider" in "Citizens Band."

Beyond Clark and Le Mat, there's a cast of even lesser-known people.

Will it be worth seeing? Maybe. It's, of course, hard to tell without having seen the movie. You can bet that it's a low-budget special, but that's not always an indication that a movie won't be any good.

It would be a risky proposition to dump a lot of money into the first CB movie without knowing for sure how many people will buy tickets. Since it is the first one of its kind, the chances are that it will do well. Hard-core CBers, the kinds of us who have base stations, mobiles and QSL cards, will see it.

But I'm going to try not to become too excited. There's been enough exploitation of CBers. I'm going to wait until "Citizens Band" makes it to the movie house around the corner from where I live, the one with the $1 special for weekday matinees. It's bound to be worth at least a buck.

Do you swap QSL cards? The CB Times-Journal does. Send us your card to The CBTJ Card Swap, 2727 Mossdale Dr., Nashville, TN 37217, and we'll send you one of ours!

Senate Panel Is Set To Cut Marriage Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee appears ready to fatten the House-approved permanent tax cut for married couples and take away some benefits now earmarked for single persons.

No large sums are involved in either case. But action contemplated by the committee could mean a tax increase of about $25 for 1.8 million single persons.

It's all in the name of reducing the "marriage penalty," which often has been accused of enticing persons to live together without benefit of marriage. The debate is on the taxcut bill approved by the House earlier this month as part of an effort to stimulate the economy.

The "marriage penalty" arises from the fact that current law allows single persons who do not itemize deductions to take a minimum standard deduction of $1,700, while the same allowance for a couple filing a joint return is $2,100. The maximum standard deduction for singles is $2,400; for couples filing jointly it is $2,800.

Thus, two single persons who formerly were allowed to deduct a total of $3,400 could deduct only $2,100 if they married and filed a joint return, as most couples do. That means the couple would have a taxable income $1,300 higher than if he and she were still single.

For persons who earn more and qualify for the maximum standard deduction, the penalty is $2,000 $4,800 for two singles compared with $2,800 for a couple.

Both the House and Senate and the Carter administration appear to agree on the need to simplify tax returns by approving one flat standard deduction for singles and another for couples. The debate is over how much.

President Carter recommended a $2,200 standard deduction for singles and $3,000 for couples, which would have meant a $1,400 marriage penalty. The House, seeking to prevent a tax hike for some single persons, voted $2,400 and $3,000, resulting in a $500 hike in the current $1,300 penalty.

Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, told his colleages Tuesday the House bill would tax "people for doing something that society wants them to do" - marrying and raising a family.

Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., contended many women no longer see their mission in life as quitting work, marrying and having children.

The committee staff came up with a compromise that would mean a $1,500 penalty, with a $3,100 standard deduction for joint returns and $2,300 for singles. "That makes so much better sense than what the House has in its bill," Long said. Nobody on the committee disagreed.

What does the marriage penalty mean in terms of tax dollars?

For a couple in the 25 per cent tax bracket, the penalty under current law costs between $325 and $500 a year. Carter's proposal would result in a $350 penalty; the House formula, $450, and Long's plan, $375.
