This meeting is open to the public, Frank Kennedy, advisor, said.

There will be an opportunity for those attending to ask questions or discuss problems.

Loyalty to a School

More than 500 Norwood Exes Attend Reunion

More than 500 ex-students of Samnorwood school and their families, now living from Indiana to California, came home to attend their school's first reunion, which also marked the silver anniversary of the Samnorwood Rural High School District.

The event was held Saturday, July 2, and the number attending was more than double the crowd anticipated only days before the reunion.

All events were held in the spacious Samnorwood gymnasium, and the new annex which most of the graduates living away from the community saw for the first time. Informality and visiting were the keynotes of the day.

One quality stood out, and this was voiced by Superintendent Orville Cunningham:

"I am amazed at the intense loyalty of all these people for the Samnorwood school."

Three of the four superintendents who have served the school in its 25-year history

Plan Entries Now

Added Emphasis on Crop Exhibits for Free Fair

Added emphasis will be put on the agricultural and horticultural crops division of the Collingsworth county Free Fair this year, and with this in mind, Jake Tarter, chairman, this week urged farmers to begin planning their entries.

Four hundred dollars in premiums will be paid in this division, the first time money prizes have been given, Tarter announced.

First place winner in the community booth section will receive $30; second $25; third $20; fourth $15; and places five through eight will receive $10 each.

In the open classes, first place winners will receive $2; second $1 and third 75 cents.

"It is not too early to start planning your entries in the Fair," Tarter declared. "In fact, it is time now to start selecting your products and preparing them for exhibit."

Assisting Tarter are Monty Mitchell and Frank Kennedy of Quail and Wood Coleman of Dozier.

One section has been enlarged—the grass seeds.

"Grasses have become one of our major crops, and we feel it is fitting that more attention be given to grass seeds," Tarter commented.

Community exhibits are open to all rural communities, he said, and application for booths must be made with the chairman of booths by August 20. Detailed information regarding setting up of booths will be given later.

Mrs. B. W. Beaird Dies Thursday of Long Illness

Mrs. B. W. Beaird, whose husband is county superintendent of schools, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday, June 30, following a long illness.

The family home was four miles northeast of town, and she had lived in the Wellington vicinity for more than sixty years, since she was a young girl.

She was the former Vera Ingram, the daughter of the late William S. and Ellen Ingram. They, along with a number of other relatives, brought their families here while this was a pioneer area, and all were influential in its development as an agricultural area.

Mrs. Beaird was closely associated with her husband in his school activities, and in addition she remained active in the affairs of her community as long as she was able.

She was a member of First Baptist Church, participating in many of its activities. With all this, Mrs. Beaird was a devoted neighbor and friend to all those who knew her.

She was born August 25, 1891, at Columbus. She was married to W. P. Crawford in 1909, and he preceded her in death on July 4, 1918.

On December 24, 1937, she and Mr. Beaird were married.

Funeral services for Mrs. Beaird were conducted at First Baptist Church Friday at 3 p.m. by the Rev. Glenn Hickey. Pall bearers were nephews: Walter Nelson, Cleve Ingram, W. S. Ingram, John D. Ingram, Doyle Wayne Ingram and Clyde Ingram. Burial was in West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Beaird is survived by her husband; two children, Mrs. Ernest Nipper of Dodson and Johnny Crawford of Wellington; and one step daughter, Mrs. Byron Duncan of Wellington. There are four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Other survivors are a brother and three sisters, John Ingram, Mrs. Rufus Nelson and Mrs. Ben Brewer of Wellington and Mrs. E. M. Cook of Quanah.

Burial was in West Wellington Cemetery by Kelso Funeral Home.

The baby was born in St. Joseph's Hospital early Thursday and died a few hours later.

Surviving are the parents; a sister, Tammy, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lockhart. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude McMillin and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons Sr.

Rain Boosts Cotton Prospects in Area

Cotton showers, falling at the right time, boosted county crop prospects during the week end and early this week.

The amount varied over the county, ranging from .40 up to two inches, with the heaviest fall reported in the Dodson area, where moisture was probably needed worse.

Wellington received .54 inch during the period, to bring the year's total moisture to 14.52 inches. Almost half of this amount fell during June and this week, figures from the Highway Department rain gauge show.

At Dozier, the three-day total measured .55, and added to this is approximately 4 inches received during June. The total for the year is around 17 inches.

About three-fourths inch of rain fell during the same period at Samnorwood.

Cotton in this part of the county could have gone for another week or two before it began needing rain, however the moisture was needed on wheat land.

In the Quail area, the moisture varied from .40 to .90 during the two-day rainy spell, with the heavier amounts received along the Salt Fork river.

Dodson received approximately .50 Tuesday night and a total that is near two inches.

In all sections, cotton was reported growing off as fine as at any time in recent years, in spite of the late start. Quite a few farmers, especially around Dodson, have begun insect control, considered especially necessary with the late crop.

Feed reports were varied, but in some sections growers believe this rain will make the early feed.

The rainfall report, as recorded by the Highway Department, follows:

January—1.23 inches.
February—1.24 inches.
March—1.26 inches.
April—.0.
May—4.39 inches.
June—6.40 inches.
July, to date—5.4 inch.

Excess Cotton Penalty Given

The marketing quota penalty on excess cotton will be 19.4 cents per pound this year, Millard Brown, ASC office manager announced.

Brown said that measuring cotton acreage has started with ten men in the field. Tom Cunningham and A. J. Fires are supervising the work.

Measuring cotton are Jesse Peters, William O'Rear, Billy Bratten, Pat Wilkins, Gano Wilson, Carroll Nunneley, Rev. O. D. Holton, Worth Shields, Rudie Tate and Don Marchant.

The county's cotton allotment this year is 63,943.2 acres.

Did a Red 'Father' Foreign Aid?

There are all sorts of rumors that circulate concerning public matters: One of them has been that Earl Browder, former head of the Communist Party in this country, was "the father" of foreign aid and the Point 4 technical assistance program.

That is the sort of rumor that would appear to be a wild one. But Elizabeth Churchill Brown, an author on matters relating to Communist subversion, wrote in Human Events that she decided to kill the rumor once and for all—or to prove fact from fantasy.

She wrote to Earl Browder. Browder answered her letter:

"... you will find in my book, Teheran: Our Path in War and Peace, in chapter XI, 'Elements of an Economic Program,' that I forecast the necessity after the war of a greatly expanded export of American goods on the scale of some 40 billion dollars annually, backed by Government financing. The Point 4 program was only a niggling caricature of the approach I recommended."

A check of Browder's book shows he had extensive plans for the spending of American money abroad—in Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America—even proposing aid to Russia itself. The ironic thing, little remembered these days, is that Russia was indeed offered American aid, but declined it.

Browder outlined this method of distributing American assets throughout the world: "Our Government can create a series of giant industrial development corporations, each in partnership with some other government or group of governments and set them to work upon large-scale plans of railroad and highway building, agricultural and industrial development, and all-round modernization in all the devastated and undeveloped areas of the world."

It is interesting that Browder's book was published in 1944. Our foreign aid handouts began in a big way in 1947. About 72 billion American dollars have been sent overseas in aid programs—55 billion dollars of this amount in outright gifts.

It is significant that the Community Party boss in America was one of the early proponents of the kind of give-aways we have engaged in—and significant that the Communist line from Lenin through Stalin to Khrushchev has proposed that we be enticed to spend ourselves into bankruptcy, falling into the clutches of the Communists by default, obviating the need for the Reds even to attempt our military defeat.

Letter to Congress

Gentlemen, let's face it:

You are not farmers. You never have been, you never wanted to be; and you never will be. You know very little about it.

You stand on a stump sometimes and "play like" you are farmers... because you may now own a farm, or dream of days you spent on a farm as a boy. But the facts are, you inherited your farm or bought it after you got the money some other way. You usually pay somebody else to run it; and use it as a handy tax-deduction gimmick. You still look on farming as a "way of life"; and talk stupidly about "sustaining" the farmer. You know very little of it as a modern science or business. How could you, since you lack both experience and necessary time to really study the problem.

No! We're not guessing. One of your members checked it out for us. And the men who rifled your records could find only one senator and six congressmen who are anything close kin to being a farmer (names on request), and only three of these are on either Agriculture Committee. These seven and no more—the 530 of you can just quit pulling our legs.

Two years ago we explained in a survey that we want you to keep your clumsy, taxgrabbing, pittance paying hands out of our business. Last year readers of another farm magazine repeated the demand—and corn farmers emphasized it by voting 3 to 1 against controls, which given a choice between freedom and a program of high supports with controls. Now we tell you again...

Offspring Dutifulness

Not long ago a New York City judge wrote to the New York Times saying that in the 17 years he had been on the bench not one Chinese teen-ager had been brought before him on a juvenile delinquency charge.

"P. H. Chang, Chinese Council-General in New York, was asked to comment. He said, 'I have heard this story many times from many judges. I will tell you why I think this is so. Filial piety (offspring dutifulness) is a cardinal virtue my people have brought over from China that was free. A Chinese child, no matter where he lives, is brought up to recognize that he cannot shame his parents. Before a Chinese child makes a move, he stops to think what the reaction of his parents will be. Will they be proud, or will they be ashamed? Above all other things' the Chinese teen-ager is anxious to please his parents.'

"The amazing record of the Chinese children and young people shows that it is in the home that the cure for juvenile delinquency will be found—and in no other place."—Sacred Heart News.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where New York's Governor Rockefeller seems like is dissatisfied with the Republican administration's spending speed.

My cheapskate neighbor says it is impolite of Mr. Rockefeller to criticize, on account of a world's champion in any field of competition is entitled to respect.

But he notes that some believe the governor will quit the party if it's leaders don't renounce frugality further, and he says both Republicans and Democrats need more people willing to improve their parties by getting out of same.

I see where the student class around over the world has about quit goldfish swallowing, panty raids, etc., and took up rioting.

My time-tamed neighbor says he notes that Jap students got up some riots in the 100,000-plus range, but he don't think our own We Invented Brains clubs can ever match this.

On account of the only places where a mob can get satisfactory publicity are in such congested areas that not more than a few hundred students can find places to park their cars while they riotate.

I see where V.-Pres. Nixon wishes to get shed of our annyo some food surplus by passing out same free of charge to hungry people around over the world.

But my quibbulous neighbor says this would be a dirty trick on account of about the time these unfortunates got stuck with the eating habit, our surpluses would run out.

Says his parents made a food addict out of him early in life, and the government's drive to cure him of this habit with high taxes has been mighty painful.

I see where Representative Harris is all tore up because the papers have been printing figures on how much tax money some wanderlust Congressmen spend for high living on the road.

He says the reporters are doing this just to get back at his committee for digging into TV payola, and it ought to be against the law for anybody to investigate Congressmen.

My touched heart neighbor says it must be mighty frustrating to be our rounding up sinners, and then get word that some of your posse may be raiding the hen house.

I note that every day or two some other large wheel in politics says we are sitting ducks for Russia if we don't spend more money on defense.

My blown-top neighbor says this is a downright slam on our Pentagonians who have dedicated their lives to spending us strong.

Says as long as we have got championship-type Navy buyers who can put out $21 each for 25-cent lamp sockets, we are going to be mighty hard to whip in a spending war.

I see where the U. S. Health Department is spending $89,811 to study The Functions of Play in Developing Adult Behavior.

Some of this Bureau's operatives have just finished researching eighty cocktail parties, and my public-spirited neighbor says he would like to join the crusade and help gather this type of vital data for the snoopercrats.

Says he is experienced in several types of play, and the behavior developments therefrom, and feels like with the U. S.: treasury to back him, he could bring in some memorable dope on horse playing and crap games.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

Oh, but I DO have my glasses on!

Today, this is becoming a fairly common statement. Many people are being fitted with CONTACT lenses, with perfect success, eliminating heavy spectacles. In many instances, much better vision is achieved with contacts.

Progress in this field of vision care has been tremendous even in the last two years. Use of contacts now may be possible for you even if unsuccessful before.

Not all optometrists fit contact lenses. Those who do not will refer the work to those with special training.

For information, write Texas Optometric Association, Contact Lens Section, Bolm Bldg., Austin, Texas.

SENATOR GOLDWATER TALKS SENSE

Many politicians threw brick bats at Senator Robert Taft during his political career. But when the voting was held in Congress to select the outstanding Senators of the last 50 years for the Congressional Hall of Fame, Robert Taft was a top choice. His career was characterized by intelligence, integrity, courage, and love of country. Frequently he took unpopular stands on issues. Sometimes he stood almost alone, breasting the current of the stream. But now his colleagues in Congress and perhaps most of the American people recognize him as one of our great leaders.

It takes great integrity and courage for leadership. These qualities are being manifested today by another United States Senator, Barry Goldwater of Arizona. He has just published a book "The Conscience of a Conservative". It stamps him as a national leader. Critics of this book can find fault only with Senator Goldwater's philosophy; they cannot challenge his intelligence, his integrity, his courage, or his love of country. And his philosophy is bedrock American.

Fundamental Truths
Senator Barry Goldwater is, in a sense, a fundamentalist—in politics, economics, government, foreign affairs, in all things. He believes black is black, and not gray. He believes the Constitution of the United States is the bedrock anchorage of our free society. He believes that mankind is not admirable unless self-reliant. He believes there can be no genuine strength in a Welfare State. He believes that government is dangerous—now and eternally.

He is old-fashioned, and yet he is a true political liberal in that he is for maintaining a society in which the citizen has fullest individual freedom and the government's primary and paramount role is the protection of that freedom. This is the liberal concept upon which our founding fathers built the United States of America.

Not Fashionable

Senator Goldwater's ideas clash with the predominant political pronouncements coming from public officials in Washington and in our state capitals—and on the campaign trails. Politically, he is standing almost alone. But he sincerely believes that most of the people of America, if given a clear choice between the Welfare State and freedom, would choose freedom even if it meant a temporary reduction in their economic well-being, knowing well it would mean a big, long-range increase in their economic well-being.

One by one the Goldwater book takes up the grave, troublesome issues confronting our people and their government. To each problem he applies horse-sense logic. Government payments in a farm program which has stimulated production of vast surpluses of unneeded and unmarketable food-stuff simply does not make sense. What to do; Terminate the farm subsidy program—now. On the States Rights issue, he simply states an uncontested truth: The Constitution sets forth the concept of States' Rights. The Supreme Court is illegally destroying the concept.

Monopolies Are Destructive

As regards labor unions, he declares they are an expression of American freedom and as such are wholesome and beneficial. Under present laws however, some unions have created labor monopolies which are being used, he says, in a manner destructive to our American way of life. On taxes and spending, he faces squarely the fact that the Federal budget is not a mere 80 billion—as advertised and quoted by most politicians—but actually about $95 billion. He proposes the gradual withdrawal of the Federal government from social welfare programs, education, public power, agriculture, public housing, urban renewal and other such "grants in aid."

On the subject of Federal aid to education, he cites again the Constitution which leaves the problem of financing schools to the local government units.

Senator Goldwater's recommended solutions to our grave problems are unfashionable, but nobody could challenge their soundness in logic. The only argument that might be raised is that his solutions would "retard progress." He deals with this argument quite adequately. His book should be widely read. His is the voice of an American with the qualifications of national leadership.

Texas Stock Production up During 1959

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas' livestock production for the year 1959 showed a sizeable increase over 1958 production, according to Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

Mohair production in Texas set a new record in 1959. An increase in the average mohair price coupled with an increase in production resulted in this new record, the specialist explained. During 1959 Texas accounted for 97% of the U.S. mohair production.

Texas again outranked all other states in beef production. Although cash receipts and total poundage for Texas showed an increase in 1959, Iowa exceeded Texas in gross income from cattle and calves.

Bergsma explained that Iowa's larger gross is the result of the intensive cattle-feeding industry in that state and in shipments of cattle and calves.

Hog, wool and sheep and lamb production in Texas all showed an increase in 1959 over 1958.

In commenting on the market outlook for 1960, Bergsma said heavy market supplies of most classes of cattle have forced the market lower, thus making for a delicate market which reacts quickly to adverse weather or other unfavorable factors. Marketings of stocker and feeder cattle will continue heavy, and this could reduce expected heavy runs this fall. Lower priced feeders will fill the feedlots, the specialist added.

Reduced hog slaughter will result in a strong seasonal advance in prices, and efficient producers will be in a good position to take advantage of this increase.

Larger supplies of slaughter lambs will dampen the effect of a seasonal price advance. Increased competition from the lower priced beef will influence the lamb price downward, the specialist concludes.

CARS O.K.

Over 95 per cent of the vehicles involved in accidents in a survey of 1957 accidents were in apparently good condition. More than 85 per cent of the fatal accidents came during clear weather, 79.6 per cent on dry roads.

DRIVERS' FAULT

Driver error accounts for the vast majority of accidents, with excessive speeding being the greatest single error. In 1957 a total of 13,200 died and 837,000 were injured in speeding accidents alone.

A chronometer is an instrument to measure time with great accuracy.

Horn Flies can be Controlled

COLLEGE STATION.—Hot weather is horn fly weather, and the insects will be one of the chief stock pests from now until fall, reports C. F. Garner, extension entomologist for the Texas A&M College system.

The horn fly, a close relative of the stable fly, pierces the skin of livestock to suck blood, the specialist explains. The pain and annoyance caused by these bites interferes with the animal's feeding and resting, resulting in a loss of weight, decreased milk yield and indigestion. Horn flies also have been suspected of carrying anthrax, Garner says.

Garner recommends the following methods for horn fly control: add to 100 gallons of water 3 1/3 quarts of toxaphene 60% emulsifiable concentrate, or 8 quarts of 25% methoxychlor, or 16 pounds of 25% Korlan wettable powder, or 16 pounds of 25% wettable powder Co-Ral. The above insecticides should not be used on lactating dairy cattle, and Korlan and Co-Ral should not be used on dairy cattle under any circumstances, Garner cautions. The specialist also warns against using any insecticide other than those especially formulated for livestock.

For lactating dairy cattle the specialist recommends 1 heaping tablespoonful of 50% wettable methoxychlor powder per animal. Sprinkle on the poll, neck, back and upper sides then rub lightly by hand to carry the powder beneath the hair.

The above controls last for about three weeks, Garner says.

Garner concludes by cautioning that cattle should not be slaughtered for at least 28 days after application of toxaphene; 45 days for Co-Ral; and 56 days for Korlan. He also warns that DDT should not be applied to either beef or dairy cattle.

English cities are generally called boroughs.

Thinking About Your Vacation

Most people are at this time of the year, but far too often the big question is where to get the money to take the kind of a vacation you want.

Look around your premises and you may find the answer—stored away in the attic or the storeroom or even stung out rusting in your own yard or on your farm.

There may be any number of things that you no longer use, but which might be desirable for someone else.

What about that old chair or that bedroom suite you have not used for years. What about the hand mower you replaced with a power mower? What about some of the farm implements you no longer need? What about hundreds of items you are no longer using?

SOMEBODY NEEDS THEM and will buy them if the Price is Right.

Leader Want Ads have sold a multitude of such items in the past and they can do it for you this summer. They pack a big selling wallop and at very moderate cost.

Guard Company Trains in Field

NORTH FORT HOOD — Company E of the Shamrock and Wellington National Guard left at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday for four days of active training in the field at North Fort Hood. The unit was under Company Commander Capt. Willard R. Harrel and is a unit of the 1st Battle Group, 142nd Infantry, 36th Inf. Div.

Rains from the previous week left cool air and dust-free training areas. This year the training will emphasize the "ultimate weapon," the individual soldier, on a squad, fire team, and the individual rifleman level. Although high efficiency in the individual guardsman is the purpose of this training, teamwork is not overlooked.

Corp. Curtis White of Wellington and Sp.5 Jimmy Boyd of Shamrock, will be attending NCO school for the two-week training period. There, they will have courses in weapons, C.B.R., map reading, leadership, and instructor training. After graduation, the men will pass on the information that they have learned to other members of their home units.

This week will be climaxed by the annual Governor's review of the 9000-man Infantry Division Saturday at 10 a.m.

Families and friends of the Wellington and Shamrock Guardsmen are invited to attend the review at North Fort Hood.

The men from the two cities, making up Company E in the First Battle Group of the 142nd Infantry of the famous 36th, arrived at North Fort Hood Sunday, June 26, and made preparations for the two weeks ahead of them.

"T-Patchers" from Wellington and Shamrock have volunteered to take an active part in the protection of their country and in the preservation of the American way of life.

They are kept up to date on the most modern weapons and are truly "up-to-the-minute-men."

Tuesday Company E moved into their bivouac area and began field maneuvers, during which each officer, non-commissioned officer, and enlisted man will put into action the skills learned through home-town training in the National Guard.

U. S. 83 Towns Get Publicity

McALLEN.—Towns of West Texas along U.S.-Canada Highway 83 from Brownsville to Swan River, Canada, received publicity in June from two releases from Liberal, Kan., and a news story from McAllen. The highway bulletin published at Liberal announced the directors mid-year meeting July 10 at Oberlin, Kan.

The highway association also issued 50,000 route post cards in color. McAllen Chamber of Commerce sent U.S. 83 news to all newspapers and radio stations on the highway from Texas to Manitoba, Canada, both inclusive. Little League Gets Lively Across Border

By Eli Wolf

Coach Virrell Leeper took his Blue Bums to Mangum on the night of June 30 for a hair-raising game of baseball. While the Mangum boys edged ahead to a score of 10 to 8, the entire game was a masterpiece of Junior baseball.

Leeper was assisted by Coaches Moody and Squires and there were five car loads of players and fans making the trip to Mangum.

Fans are being treated to some of the best brand of ball playing they have seen in years. There will be other out of town games, with some being played under the lights.

In other regularly scheduled games, Leeper's Blue Bums edged out Moody's Dodgers in a daylight game June 28, and Squires' Senators won over Wilkins' Cardinals in a whirlwind game of ball on Friday, July 1.

These youngsters are closing out their regular season play with plenty of fireworks, as many of them will be seeking positions on the All Stars teams, to be selected immediately after the last regular game is played.

Quail Scouts to Kiowa for Week's Camp

Quail Troop 73 of the Boy Scouts of America attended Camp Kiowa during the week of June 26 through July 2. Five boys attended the camp, Johnny Carson, Robert Blevins, Jimmy Lester, Dile Holton and Duane Campbell.

Three of the boys, Holton, Lester and Blevins, advanced to Second Class rank; Blevins and Lester advanced to Class B swimmers.

Two of the Scouts earned Pioneer merit badges, Campbell and Carson. These Scouts worked a total of ten hours helping to construct a pole bridge across a swamp in the camp area.

The troop as a whole rated excellent for camp layout and camp efficiency.

The troop was accompanied by Herman Moseley, scoutmaster, and Johnny Parker, assistant.

Carson and Campbell were tapped out as being selected for membership in the Order of the Arrow. This is a merit fellowship in the Scouts and boys are selected by members of their troop.

Mangum Golf Course Checked

Marian Golf Club members and visitors heard an explanation of the legal aspects of organization and setting up a golf course when they met on Thursday night, June 30. County Attorney Paul Spillman was the speaker.

City Manager Bura Handley, club president Jack Sanford, and the Rev. Frank Weir reported on their trip to the Mangum golf course, which was shown them by Slick Avery, who built it. They are now checking to find the best grass adapted for use on the putting green.

Most of the work on the proposed course to be at Marian Airpark will be done by the members themselves, Sanford said. A tentative course has been drawn up and this will be checked by Avery.

Sulphur Old Timers to Meet

Former residents of the Sulphur community, northeast of Vinson, have been making plans for several months for a reunion the first week in July. The meeting place has been planned to be at the old Sulphur church.

A basket lunch brought by each family will supply the dinner.

Many old timers are expected from as far away as California. Committees in Vinson, Reed and Mangum have been appointed to make contacts.

This will be the first meeting of the early settlers and their families. Credit for instigating the reunion goes to the persistent effort and leadership of Sherman Buckner of Oklahoma City.

Brass is an alloy made from copper and zinc.

NORWOOD EX-STUDENT OFFICERS

As officers of the Samnorwood Ex-Student Association, these four spearheaded plans for the first school reunion, attended by more than 500 former students and their families Saturday, July 2. From left, they are Mrs. Billy Waters, the former Edith Plunkett, treasurer, Mrs. Donald Coleman, the former Martha Fern Montgomery, secretary; Louis Berg, reporter, and W. L. Green, president.

CAMP FIRE GIRL CRAFTS

Linda Moore, left, and Regina Ferguson here display some of the work done by Camp Fire Girls at their day camp held June 27 through 30. Linda holds a mounted snake skin, left, found on one of the field trips and some mounted flowers. Regina holds mounted leaves. In front of the girls are plaques made to hold attractive rocks, a water compass with a needle made from a magnetized sewing needle, and a woven bracelet.

Texas Farm Income Ranks High for 1959

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas far outranked other states in cash receipts from farm marketing of cotton, rice and grain sorghum in 1959, reports John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cotton was the leading income source for Texas farmers as it brought in one-third of the total agricultural receipts. Although Texas grain sorghum accounted for over half of the total U.S. production, it accounted for only 10% of the state's farm income, McHaney continues.

In other rankings, Texas was second in receipts from cattle and calves, fourth in sheep and lambs and peanuts, and fifth in flaxseed. Even though Texas retained its top spot for number of cattle and calves on hand, Iowa ranked first in total cash receipts, McHaney says.

Big Runs on Fish in Gulf

AUSTIN.—The big run on kings and mackerel along the Texas coast has finally come, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

According to reports from along the coast, huge catches of both kings and mackerel have been made by boats in recent weeks. There also has been a tremendous run of tarpon at the mouth of the Brazos at Freeport. Bank fishermen and boats in the river have snarled traffic on the river for the past two weeks and hundreds of tarpon have been caught.

Youth Wounded in Accident

Andy Bell, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bell, received an accidental gunshot wound in his right hand Monday, July 4, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Juda Bell, north of Quail.

The youth was walking around a farm tank, and also carrying his .22 rifle with the barrel in his hand. The gun slipped from his grasp and discharged when the butt hit the ground, sending the bullet back into his hand. He received only a flesh wound and no bones were broken, his father said.

The accident occurred shortly after noon.

Peewee Clubs Swing Into Final Month

By Eli Wolf

Again Coach Tom Ferguson throws out his chest and challenges all comers. On Wednesday, June 29, he piloted his Peewees to a 13 to 12 victory over the colored boys of Wellington.

Gary Brewer and Jerry Woodridge took the mound for the Peewees and did a fine job of pitching. Then Lynn Bevers took over and shut out the opposing team completely.

Coach Ferguson says that Lynn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bevers walked calmly up to him and stated that he was the best pitcher in the Panhandle, but could play any position.

He proved this was not idle talk on either point, Ferguson observed. Lynn is visiting here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bevers.

All are urged to attend these fine games and give these youngsters your support and encouragement.

Game Slated Under Lights

Coaches Tom Wilkins and Wesley Busby's Cardinals will play the Senators, coached by Fred Squires and Troy Marsh, under the lights at 8 p.m. on Monday, July 11.

Everyone is urged to attend.

AUSTIN.—Mary's legendary little lamb would have a hard time following her to school today in most Texas communities.

One Texas school child in every five now rides the school bus each day to and from the school house, the Texas State Teachers Association reported today.

Last year 400,223 Texas children rode to school in the familiar yellow buses, Texas Education Agency figures show. Total distance covered by the buses averaged 482,384 miles a day.

Stretch those miles over 175 days of instruction (the minimum school year) and you get an 85 million mile trip. That's the equivalent of almost a round trip to the moon every day.

It's 253,000 miles to the moon. To the sun it's 93 million miles—so the annual ride by Texas school children would fall short of the sun about 9 million miles.

These figures are a compilation of the miles driven by 7,847 school buses receiving state aid. An average school bus last year traveled 61 miles a day and carried 51 children on its route.

State transportation aid is provided for those children who live two miles or more from school where public transportation facilities are not available.
