Resounding Johnson Victory Is Claimed

By IRWIN FRANK
Associated Press Staff Writer
Sen. Lyndon Johnson's forces Saturday claimed a "resounding victory" in Texas Democratic county conventions even though vote-heavy Harris County failed to endorse him.

Scurry Delegates Pledged To LBJ

Scurry County Democrats will send a delegation to the state convention pledged to support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for president without reservations.

At the National Democratic Convention said "we believe Texas has demonstrated that our party can win with Sen. Johnson as its standard bearer."

Battles over loyalty pledges to support any candidate named by the Democrats at Los Angeles July 11 caused liberals to stomp out of the huge Harris, Dallas and Travis county conventions.

Harris county, divided over the loyalty pledge, failed to pass any resolution concerning Johnson.

Although no protest of Snyder's preliminary census report is planned, officials here reminded Saturday that the final report will not be issued until next fall and there still is a chance that it will show more than the preliminary figure.

There's Still Time To Be Counted

Ike Departs For Paris To Attend Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower took off Saturday night for the Paris summit conference and a face-to-face meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev under tensions heightened by the U. S. spy plane affair.

Oklahoma's Count Short

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The wave of disabled in-migrants shocked city officials pondered preliminary reports of the 1960 census.

Eisenhower smiled broadly and waved a cheery farewell as he stepped aboard his military jetliner carrying him on the nine-hour trip to Paris.

The orange-and-silver presidential craft took off from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. The craft was due to arrive in Paris Saturday morning after a refueling stop at Goose Bay, Labrador.

Eisenhower's pilot, Col. William Draper, advanced the scheduled departure time by 35 minutes and shifted the planned refueling point from Newfoundland to Labrador because of weather conditions.

The weather was chilly and the skies were gray—there was a smattering of rain—as the chief executive left for the historic Paris conference between East-West heads of state slated to get under way Monday.

The President remained publicly silent right in until departure time instead of issuing the usual farewell statement. He cancelled a previously planned farewell message and bypassed microphones waiting at the air force base.

The President flew to the base from the White House by helicopter.

There was an absolute minimum of ceremony at the departure and only a few officials were on hand to bid Eisenhower farewell. Church bells pealed in Washington to wish him Godspeed, but at the airfield only a few onlookers attended although earlier thousands had been at the sprawling hangar to watch Armed Forces Day demonstrations.

U. S. Protests Castro's New Verbal Attack

By LEWIS GULLICK
WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP) — The United States protested to Cuba Saturday against what it termed an unprovoked attack on a U.S. submarine while on the high seas. The government demanded an explanation of the incident while at the same time vigorously disputing accusations by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro that the United States has aggressive designs against Cuba.

The U.S. view was conveyed to Cuba by Lester D. Mallory, deputy assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. He called in the highest ranking Cuban diplomat in Washington and delivered the message during a personal visit. A State Department announcement said Mallory had demanded an explanation of why "an armed vessel of the Cuban navy fired without provocation on the USS Sea Proacher while the latter was pursuing a peaceful passage on the high seas."

The Navy earlier had displayed ship logs and navigation charts to refute Castro's charges that U.S. warships violated Cuban waters. The navigation track of the Sea Proacher at the time of the disputed incident indicated she was more than five miles from the nearest rock or point of land ever claimed by Cuba.

The incident occurred May 6 and until Castro made his charges about a Friday night, the U.S. Navy apparently had been unaware that its sub had been fired upon. Both the Navy and the State Department disputed Castro's contention that the craft had been chased from the area by the Cuban firing.

The government obviously had shown no previous concern over the incident, but officials were obviously disturbed about the overall situation as it has developed through Castro's drum beating. The harassed Cuban in his latest harangue denounced the United States again instead of showing what U.S. officials feel is the ease tensions between Cuba and her big neighbor in the West.

The department expressed regret that Castro should continue to follow such a course. As an example of the distortion U.S. authorities say Castro is using to hit at Uncle Sam, they said the Castro claim that the U.S. destroyer, Norfolk, cruised within 2 1/2 miles of a Cuban island is clearly impossible. They said the Norfolk, a cruiser and not a destroyer, is too big a ship to escape going aground at the location Castro mentioned.

Castro's Friday 13th television speech to the nation spelled bad luck for the slim hopes of relaxing tensions between Washington and Havana.

As usual, he ran on past midnight. He restrained himself from shouting but he reeled off half a dozen naval, air and diplomatic incidents and blamed them all on the United States.

The 2 1/2-hour speech seemed to give the green light to an anti-American campaign raging in Cuba all week.

The Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, whose leaders are among the most extreme and most powerful in Cuba, demanded Saturday the expulsion of U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal. He was accused of ties to counter-revolutionary groups. It was the strongest direct attack on him recently.

Castro put his stamp of approval on charges that the United States is plotting an armed attack on Cuba, ignoring previous assurances by U.S. officials, he called on Washington to issue a nonaggression statement.

Citing a navy report, Castro said the coast guard cutter Oriole had spotted a U.S. submarine five miles off the coast of Matanzas on May 6, chased it about 30 miles and taken several shots at the undersea craft until it gave an identifying signal.

He added that two U.S. warplanes and a destroyer marked USNAVY were spotted off the coast on May 7, the destroyer Norfolk crossed Cuba's three-mile limit near Cayo Blanco 75 miles north of Havana and shot at the U.S. planes.

RESOUNDING

DOTC and that most Texas Democrats will unit to work for a stronger party in our state and for our Texas candidate for president.

Denton County, with 11 votes, also did not pass a resolution backing Johnson. Democrats in Denton, however, passed a resolution supporting Mrs. R. D. Randolph, national Democratic committeewoman from Houston, for a second term. She is a longtime political foe of Johnson.

Harris county, with 295 votes, had its convention split when liberals walked out and set the stage for possible contesting Texas delegations at the national convention in Los Angeles in July.

Conservative forces bypassed a Johnson-for-president resolution. They selected an unopposed delegation headed by the unit rate.

Walkouts by liberals also occurred at Dallas and in Travis County. Liberals in a rump convention at Austin, supported a loyalty resolution and endorsed Mrs. Randolph for reelection. Conservative forces instructed delegates to the state convention to vote for Johnson under the unit rule, but made no party loyalty requirements.

Tarrant County, 136 votes, was in control of conservatives and passed a resolution backing Johnson for president and the county will vote under the unit rule. John Connally, former administrative assistant to Johnson, was named chairman of the county delegation.

Mrs. R. D. Randolph, liberal Democratic national committeewoman, said the liberals would lead a rival Texas delegation to the National Democratic Nominating Convention in Los Angeles July 11.

"We are going all the way to Los Angeles. I have friends on the national committee and I believe we will be seated there," she said. She is a long-time foe of the Senate majority leader.

She left no doubt that the liberals, if necessary, would hold a rump session June 14 at the state convention at Austin.

Johnson forces had hoped to avoid having a rump delegation from Texas at the national convention.

Mrs. Randolph told about 1,000 liberals who met in a football field: "Let's go to the state convention and back loyal Democrats."

Democratic State Chairman Ed Conroy of Abilene said in Dallas Friday that Mrs. Randolph "has lost Houston."

He said conservatives and middle-of-the-roaders had taken Houston away from the ultra-liberals as represented by Mrs. Randolph.

In most instances, however, the meetings were peaceful and many ended in about a half hour.

Allowable Hike Seen

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission will meet here Wednesday to set the June oil allowable. Indications point to an increase.

Both the nominations submitted by the major oil buying companies and the forecast of demand by the Bureau of Mines were higher. Major purchasers estimated they would take 2,332,247 barrels daily during June, an increase of 74,788 over May. The Bureau of Mines forecast of 2 1/2 million barrels was up 100,000 barrels.

In nominations by districts, only District 5, East Central Texas, and District 10, Panhandle, showed drops. District 5 was down 1,728 barrels daily and No. 10 was down 735.

Increases by districts include Dist. 1, Southwest Texas up 1,642 barrels; 2, Southwest Texas, up 955; 3, Gulf Coast, up 10,816; 4, Southwest Texas, up 1,313; 6, East Texas, up 4,216; 8, East Texas Field, up 2,724; 9, West Central Texas, up 46,724; and 9, North Texas, up 7,562.

McCollum On Study Council Committee

Dr. Lee Vardy of Slaton has been named new chairman of the executive committee and T. E. McCollum, Snyder School Superintendent, has been named to fill a vacancy on the executive committee of the West Texas School Study Council, which has headquarters at Texas Tech.

Dr. Vardy, Slaton School Superintendent, succeeds Fred Cunningham, who has resigned as superintendent of the Hereford school system to go into private business. Shallowater and Olton school systems were invited to join the council at the beginning of the next fiscal year, which starts Sept. 1.

At the meeting Dr. Berlie J. Fallon of Tech, council executive secretary, reported on 13 research bulletins completed during the 1959-60 fiscal year. Since its inception in 1957, the council has conducted 43 research projects on problems affecting member school systems, Dr. Fallon said. Council projects currently are being conducted on study methods for high school students, methods of maintaining a balanced program in junior high, and practices for staff in public schools with personnel who support instructional practices.

Rites Held Saturday For Mrs. Marchbanks

Funeral service was held in Big Spring on Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Maggie M. Marchbanks, 90 a former Scurry County Resident.

Mrs. Marchbanks died Thursday night in a Big Spring hospital. A native of Johnson County, she came to Vincent in northeast Howard County in 1911. She and her husband, the late R. P. Marchbanks, moved to Snyder that year and she made her home here until Mrs. Marchbanks died in 1946.

She is survived by a son, Lindsey Marchbanks of Big Spring, with whom she had made her home for the past 15 months.

Asks Overtime For Prolonged Jail Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A truck driver who went to jail for five days and stayed there six days more because they forgot to let him go, has demanded $30 a day for the overtime.

George David Wilson, 56, was fined $263 and sentenced to five days for drunken driving last Dec. 15.

When the five days expired, he and an attorney tried to get him released. Wilson said he was finally freed Christmas Day.

Jail officials called it a "clerical error." The County Board of Supervisors Friday took his demand for $30 under advisement.

NEW YORK (AP)—There are more than 200,000 illegitimate births and 200,000 to 2,000,000 abortions each year in the United States, Dr. George A. Friedman of New York told a meeting of the state medical society Friday.

Government's Cotton Deal Is Closing Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is closing up the largest cotton purchase deal in history. The Agriculture Department has bought an estimated 8,650,000 bales from last year's crop of 14,351,000 bales—or nearly 60 per cent of the entire crop. The cost was estimated at about $1,300,000,000.

The purchase was made under a new cotton production control and price support program. Under this program, growers were allowed to overplant allotments 40 per cent if they were willing to accept price supports lower than accorded those who planted within allotments. The market price for cotton was established below the support level for those complying with allotments. The market price for cotton was established below the support level for those complying with allotments. The government arranged to buy the cotton grown by the allotment-complying growers. This turned out to be about 60 per cent of the crop.

The government turned around and offered this cotton to the trade for domestic and export use at the market price. It has sold slightly more than six million bales. It has taken a loss of around $25 a bale on this cotton, or about 150 million dollars.

In addition, it has been paying an export subsidy of around $42 a bale of shipments overseas. The plan was to make U.S. cotton competitive in world markets. Exports of this marketing year are expected to exceed six million bales.

Officials To Stop Talking

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today that government officials have been ordered to stop talking in public about the American spy plane lost over the Soviet Union.

A Washington dispatch by William J. Jordan said that the new policy was marked by President Eisenhower's cancellation of plans to make a farewell statement before leaving for the summit meeting in Paris.

"Apparently," said the Times, "it was decided that an Eisenhower statement, even one that omitted reference to the incident or its aftermath, would only generate additional speculation."

The story continued: "Word has been passed around that too much already has been said about aerial surveillance of other countries. It is admitted that in the propaganda exchange with Moscow, the United States has suffered a series of setbacks and that nothing is to be gained by further controversy."

Strike Is No Handicap To Awards Fete

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene: Hollywood is a place where they have a tax-and-mink strike rally at $20 a plate. That was the situation at the Writers Guild of America banquet last weekend. The writers gave out their annual awards and saw no reason to cancel the show because they have been on strike for four months.

The show did go on, and what a show! It was the kind of thing that Hollywood is famous for. The writers were not quite nominated.

Milton Berle and Edie Adams did an Alpine spoof of the stars who are storing up tax dollars by living in Switzerland. There were skits with Craig Stevens ("Peter Gunn") as David Suzuki, George Jessel as the world's oldest living theater man Burt Lancaster as a song and dance man, a bedraggled crew of gladiators spending their lives making "Spartacus," and Dan Dailey in a "My Fair Lady" parody.

There were gags about the writers' plight—"Never have we owed so much to so few"—and the actors' strike—"Remember when the actors used to do their fighting on the Sunset Strip?"

The writers kidded everything in sight, especially themselves. Now the party's over, and the strike continues. The producers seem even further apart from the writers than they were from the actors. The writers hold unwaveringly to the theory that they create film material and hence seek to enjoy a royalty therefrom. The producers aren't budging and the wheels of production are slowly running down.

Even if there is a settlement, it would be weeks and months before the studios would again have a backlog of scripts to resume shooting.

Friends are wondering if the Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz divorce will stick. They point out that she was fairly easy on him in her testimony, citing only his temper and that the war is still deeply involved in business matters.

Giants' Lead Is Whittled As LA Wins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dodge Stan Williams' two-hitter cut down San Francisco 2-1 Saturday, snapping the Giants' seven-game winning streak and narrowing their National League lead to one game.

The Los Angeles right-hander, winning his first game of the season, bested Lefty O'Dell in Candlestick Park.

O'Dell gave up seven hits the last two in the ninth when shortstop Muryr Williams led off with a blop single, was sacrificed to second by Gil Hodges and scored the winning run on Don DeSisti's single.

Rosters For Farm League Announced

The much-anticipated announcement of team rosters in both the American and National Farm Leagues has been submitted with league play now in the countdown stages.

The initial games of the season will be unveiled tomorrow night beginning at 7 o'clock, with appropriate first-night ceremonies preceding them at 6. Tomorrow's activity will see the Athletics tangling with the Yankees and the Braves trying on the Giants for size.

All of those boys who tried out for the league and failed to be named on any of the teams are reminded that there is another league being formed for boys of their age group in the near future.

Top Horses To Vie In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Venetian Way, Bally Ache and Victoria Park, the one-two-three finishers in the Kentucky Derby, will hook up again Saturday at Pimlico in the 94th running of the Preakness, middle jewel in racing's triple crown for 3-year olds.

A crowd of about 40,000 is expected in the field parades to the post at 4:45 p.m. EST to the strains of "Maryland, My Maryland." The race will be seen on network CBS television.

Although Venetian Way won handsily at Churchill Downs under Bill Hartack beating Bally Ache by 3/4 lengths, the sharper turns and shorter distance of the Preakness favor the speed horse. The Derby distance is 1 1/4 miles, the Preakness 9 1/2 furlongs.

Fruchtman said that he sold his horse because "he was taking too much of my time, sometimes as much as four days a week." The 39-year-old steelman added, "I've got to get back to my job and I want to spend more time with my family."

Hank Hankers Quintet Of Tigers For Fight With Hank Named All-District

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sluggier Henry Hank, who hasn't got much time for boxers, and boxer Hank Casey, who may run out of time quickly, meet in a 10-round midweight match Monday night.

Loop kingpin Snyder paced the District 3-AAA all-district selections as chosen recently by coaches and sportswriters of the three cities involved, as five of the eleven choices are named by Tigers.

Lamesa followed in the halluting by placing four performers on the mythical dream team, while Colorado City's Wolves garnered two slots.

The only unanimous picks were the three hurlers, one from each representative city being named. Each saw considerable duty over the course of the district play, with Colorado City's Steve Hillhouse, a southpaw, leading every inning in which his team engaged Norman Gladson, the senior right-hander from Snyder, and Melvin Keithley, who throws from the same side as the other pitchers named to the team.

Behind the plate is Lamesa's junior backstop, Harvey Everheart, who is also the Toranobes' leading hitter. First base is also manned by a Lamesan, senior Ken Flippin, while Snyder's sophomore performer, Steve Free, gets the nod at second.

Late Rally Spurs Orioles To Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Baltimore fell on a doddily inept Boston team Saturday for a 5-2 ninth inning victory which snapped a four-game Red Sox winning streak.

Held to five singles for eight scoreless innings, the young Orioles jumped on starter Bill Monbouquette for doubles by pinch-hitter Albie Pearson and Jackie Brandt, then poured 'em on against three relievers.

Brandt's two-bagger accounted for one run and a Bud Hansen single for two more. The other tally resulted from an error and wild pitch.

Before the Baltimore ninth was over, 10 men went to the plate. There were four hits, three walks, two errors and the wild pitch. Baltimore 000 000-5 9 1 Boston 010 010 000-2 3 2

Mountaineers Here Monday For Playoff

The district 3-AAA champion Snyder Tigers may be seen in action here Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock as they take on the Mineral Wells Mountaineers in the first of a best two out of three game bi-district playoff.

Snyder faced the Mountaineers under the same conditions last year, losing out to the 4-AAA delegation in a series which went the full three game limit.

The sites and dates of the remaining playoff games will hinge on the outcome of Monday's initial contest. A Tiger victory in that tilt will find them traveling to Mineral Wells for the remaining game or games on Wednesday and Thursday. However, should Snyder drop the first contest the team will remain at home for the second clash Tuesday, then go to Mineral Wells for the third game should it be needed.

Probable mound selection for the Tigers tomorrow will be Norman Gladson, who received credit for all three of the Bengal district triumphs and also the sole loss registered.

The two ladies displaying the catch are Mrs. Casey Bishop at left and Mrs. T. B. Knight, and the splendid specimen was brought in off a trot line Friday morning at Lake Thomas. The line was baited with perch, and the fish was caught near the dam in the Lake Thomas Lodge area. It was the ladies' first venture of the season, although last year they teamed up to pull a 21-pounder from the same area. (Photo by Thomas Boyd)

JONES CLOUTS HOMER

Lubbock Monterey Slams Tigers, 8-1

Righthander Ronnie Arrington of the Monterey (Lubbock) Plainsmen gave some indication of just why his team took the District 3-AAAA title as the three-hit batter Jones of the Monterey Tigers here in Toole Park Friday in winning an 8-1 non-district contest.

Another reason—the Tigers' Jones—represented the only Snyder batter to pick up an extra-base blow off Arrington. It was a big one, however—a towering second-inning leadoff home run which he golfed over the right field fence for Snyder's sole tally.

A trio of pitchers shared mound duties for the Tigers including Benjie Greenfield, Freddie Miller, and Jones Greenfield, the starting pitcher, was charged with the loss.

The Plainsmen lost little time in gracing the scoring column, as they got to the Greenfield offerings for three runs in the initial innings of play. Johnny Johnson, the lead-off hitter, walked to start the game then stole second and romped home on a baseline single to left by Jim Harris. Ronald Bandy made base after cracking a sharp grounder to Tiger third-sacker Jerry Guthrie, who failed to field it. Harris scoring on the bobble. Bandy followed by drawing a base-on-balls, advanced to third as Arrington doubled, and scored on a sacrifice fly to center by Morris Dudley.

Monterey picked up a single run in the second as Johnson led off with a double which sailed over the head of left fielder Spencer Dyer and scampered home as Bandy singled.

Two More in Fifth

The fifth frame found the Monterey marking up an additional pair of runs, with Johnny King touching off the fireworks by singling and going to third on a James Ellis double. Ever dangerous Johnson plated them both with a single, his third hit of a perfect four-for-four for the afternoon.

Monterey completed the scoring onslaught with another brace of markers in the seventh. The first two batters in the inning went down weekly, after which catcher Cole

Snyder Dominates District Statistics

Final 3-AAA statistics give concrete insight into the reasons behind Snyder's Tigers' convincing defending of their district championship, as they also convincingly topped the statistical laurels following completion of loop play this past Thursday.

In the area of hitting, Ronnie Jones of Snyder topped the district with a .667 average. However, he made only 6 appearances over the four-game span, picking up four hits, three of which went for extra bases.

Another Tiger, Spencer Dyer, had a solid eight for 18 while batting in the leadoff slot and consequently had more at-bats than any other player in the district. Included in those hits were a pair of doubles.

Jones also hurled three innings and failed to give up any earned runs. The top pitcher over the span of the district slate was the Tigers' ace right hander, Norman Gladson, however. In 21 innings on the mound he posted a 1.33 earned run average while striking out 27 opponents.

Snyder, in winning the crown, runs up a 3-1 won-lost mark, routing Colorado City in the deciding encounter which was played Thursday. Colorado City thus dropped to a final 2-2 mark, while Lamesa became the cellar occupant with 1-3.

Scores in the district games included: Snyder 12, Colorado City 3; Snyder 6, Lamesa 5; Lamesa 3, Snyder 0; Snyder 18, Colorado City 1; Colorado City 9, Lamesa 0; and Colorado City 11, Lamesa 5.

The latter Wolf victory went 11 frames, being the only game that carried over the regulation 7 innings.

Littler Ties Nagle For Tourney Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gene Littler shot a par 70 Saturday to pull into a tie for first place with slumping Kel Nagle in the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Nagle, the big Australian, started the third round leading by two strokes over Littler, from Singing Hills, Calif., but took a 72 to wind up with 209 for 54 holes and a deadlock for the top with Littler.

One stroke back was Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., who came out of a tie for fifth place with a 1-under-par 69 for 210.

Littler brought excitement when he rounded the first nine with a 2-under-par 33 and on the 10th hole had increased his lead over Nagle to three strokes. The Australian had a 36 on the first nine and bogeyed 10.

Littler and Nagle tied for first with 209, and Boros next with 216 were off by themselves. Next were three players—Ted Kroll of Sarasota, Fla., Don January of Dallas and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, all at 215.

Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, one of the tournament favorites, had his worst round—a 5-over-par 75 and fell virtually out of contention. The other top favorite, Arnold Palmer, Masters champion from Lionier, Fla., had a 73 and fell down to 214.

A 20 mile-an-hour wind swept the 7,041-yard Colonial Country Club course and again caused scores to soar.

Little League Sets Openers

The Little League season will have its inaugural here at Towle Park tomorrow night, as the Athletics go up against the Yankees in the initial American League fest, and the Braves and Giants lock horns in the National Loop 14-fitter.

The first game will start at 7 o'clock, and will involve the A's and the Yankees. League kick-off ceremonies will be held off beginning at 6 o'clock and will be a completed prior to the offering up of the first pitch.

MOMS TO MEET TUESDAY

Teenage League Players Chosen; Helpers Needed

With the announcing of the Texas League (junior division) players of the Teenage League goes out a plea for additional managers, sponsors, and umpires in order that the loop may function at "full speed."

Any persons interested in helping in the program are asked to contact either Dub Everett (HI 3-3957) or W. F. McMennamy (HI 3-3208) as soon as possible and let them know in what capacity they would be able to serve.

In addition, a mother's meeting has been called for the coming Tuesday night, and will take place in the Junior High Cafeteria beginning at 7:30 that evening. All mothers of boys listed on the below rosters are strongly urged to be present at the session so that plans for the upcoming season may be formulated.

The initial league games are set for the night of Monday, May 23. The senior division, or Continental League has not as yet released its roster but publication of same will be made at the earliest possible date.

Hapless St. Louis Drops Number 12

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs pinned St. Louis with its 12th straight loss Saturday by blanking the Cardinals 4-0.

Rookie Dick Ellsworth scattered six hits in turning his second start into his second victory with late-inning help from Seth Morehead.

The Cardinals, who have yet to win on a foreign field this season, used four pitchers as the Cubs got 10 hits to balance new Manager Lou Boudreau's record at 2-2 in their second straight triumph.

Jerry Kindall, Ellsworth's teammate at Houston before the youthful pair were recalled by the Cubs recently, drove in three runs. Replacing traded Tony Taylor at second, Kindall hit a sacrifice fly for his first 1960 RBI, then singled for two more.

Homer-Happy Detroiters Clobber KC

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers banged out of a batting slump Saturday with five home runs that accounted for all of their runs in a 7-6 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers, who started the season with five wins and then nose-dived into a 10-game losing streak. All four recent victories have been by a one-run margin.

Rookie's Bat Spells Doom For Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two home runs by rookie Tony Curry powered the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati Saturday and snapped the Reds' winning streak at nine.

Curry's hitting nullified a spectacular relief pitching stint by Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall in which 9 of 12 outs he recorded were strikeouts.

Ross Hunter Pampers His Fem Stars

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ross Hunter, producer of "Pillow Talk," is a man in love with her world. He has produced some of the most expensive movies in the industry—those that cost more than $1 million to make. He has borrowed $200,000 to pay his income tax this year. He has borrowed money to pay his taxes. He has spent most of his income on gifts for his stars. For instance, before the start of "Pillow Talk," he found that Miss Day had a passion for candied fruit.

Lace with Rex Harrison. In this day when casting is the biggest single problem of production, Hunter has a waiting list of top feminine stars wanting to be in his pictures. How does he do it? "It's very simple," he says. "I just treat an actress the way a man in love with her would. You show how expensive that can be with women—but it's so expensive he had to borrow $200,000 to pay his income tax this year. That's why he had to borrow money to pay his taxes. He had spent most of his income on gifts for his stars. For instance, before the start of "Pillow Talk," he found that Miss Day had a passion for candied fruit.

HERE COMES THE STARS—Dick Clark, TV idol of the teenagers, stars in "Because They're Young," the Columbia Pictures' revealing drama of today's young people. Co-starring with Clark, in his movie bow, are Michael Callan, Tuesday Weld and Victoria Shaw. James Darren and Duane Eddy and the Rebels are guest stars. The show is booked for the Palace Theater here for May 22-24.

Reaction To Violence On TV Shows Getting Some Results

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—All the public agitation about excessive violence in the television action shows—the horse operas, the private eyes and the adventure shows—is beginning to show results. The hour-long mystery series which will be NBC's summer replacement for the Dinah Shore show is making a special point of eliminating excessive violence. This is all very nice, but it also raises a question: When does violence become excessive violence? Is it violence or is it excessive violence when the hero is felled by a chop on the back of the neck. Or when the hero cuts down the villain by the same method? How many non-excessive punches and kicks is the villain allowed before the hero shakes his head and uncorks his roundhouse right? Probably the delicate point won't be established during the summer. But fall, with its new shows, ought to bring a diminution of mayhem. The word has already gone out that sponsors are getting nervous about the criticism. And goodness knows the networks already are sensitive about the subject.

Speaking at the national convention of the American Women in Radio and Television in Cleveland last week, Frederick W. Ford, new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission commented on complaints about excessive violence on TV. While conceding that no scientific proof exists that it contributes to juvenile delinquency or rising crime rates, he added crisply: "Millions of dollars are spent by advertisers each year on television to sell merchandise for many more millions of dollars. It is hard to believe in the terrific power of this media to sell merchandise and not believe that it can also sell violence. For surely, if it can sell one, it can sell the other." The program note made a "courtly bow" to Mark Twain and his Connecticut Yankee as a peevish Tennesseean visited King Arthur's court on NBC Tuesday night, courtesy of a Buck Rogers time machine. Ernie Ford was transported to Camelot, but they didn't have to make heroic King Arthur a but-fool and all the glorious knights of the round table drunken, cruel fiends.

TOP TWO SNYDER SCHOLARS—Sherrell Bell, Salutatorian, and Johnny Joyce, Valedictorian.

Top Seniors At SHS Are Revealed

Johnny Joyce and Sherrell Bell are the top scholars of the 1960 Senior class graduating from Snyder High School Tuesday, May 24, in the high school auditorium.

Joyce edged out Miss Bell for the top spot with a four year average of 95.68 to her 94.71 for the four years.

Both were members of the Quill and Scroll Club with Joyce being vice president one year and Miss Bell being secretary one year. Both were also members of the Student Council, The Tiger's Tale and the Tiger's Lair staffs. Joyce served as editor his senior year with Miss Bell as business manager. Future Teacher Association, and Who's Who.

In addition Joyce was a member of the Spanish Club, serving as president and vice president, was a member of the Creative Writing Club, was regional winner in Inter-scholastic League Number Sense competition.

His hobbies include rock and roll music, travel and playing the piano or organ. He plans to attend NTSC and major in Journalism and language.

Policewoman Convincing

BOSTON (AP)—Attractive Mary C. Connolly, 29, blushed as she gyrated and wiggled her torso in the packed room.

She blushed because bumps and grinds are not part of her calling. But her performance was convincing.

Miss Connolly, a Massachusetts state policewoman, performed in a packed municipal courtroom Friday as part of the state's testimony before Judge Francis X. Morrissey.

Her demonstration of what she had seen at the Club Zara last week helped convict five women and six men of participating in an immoral show.

The women all identified themselves as Oriental dancers.

Miss Connolly attempted to show the judge what the girls were doing the night police raided the nightclub.

Gales of laughter came at one point when it was discovered Miss Connolly had a costume on backwards. However, she was wearing it over her own suit.

Judge Morrissey fined the 11 a total of $6,900 and sentenced 10 of them to jail terms.

U. S. Hoped For Oil Surplus As Recently As 15 Years Ago

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Just 15 years ago the United States hoped some day to have a surplus of oil.

The goal was only one million barrels a day in reserve capacity but today's surplus has reached such proportions it has become a major item of concern to the domestic industry.

About one-third of the nation's current productive capacity is idle.

Production last week averaged 6,771,000 barrels a day. Idle capacity could have turned out another 3 1/2 to 4 million barrels.

The surplus that developed after World War II has become worldwide. Barring an international crisis, the end is not in sight. Bright prospects for such new production areas as Libya and the French Sahara in North Africa may aggravate the situation even further.

Domestic oil refiners also are faced with idle capacity problems. The nation's refineries the week of Jan. 8 processed a record 8,396,000 barrels of crude a day but were operating at only 86 per cent capacity. Last week's crude runs averaged 7,788,000 barrels a day.

Current domestic capacity is about 9,800,000 barrels daily.

Domestic refiners were reminded this week the situation they face currently probably would have developed earlier had it not been for three international emergencies.

M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), said the Korean War, the oil shut-down in Iran, and the closing of the Suez Canal came at times when American refiners faced similar situations.

Rathbone's remarks before the American Petroleum Institute Division of Refining meeting at Detroit were confined to the problems of that phase of the industry but they could have applied to oil producers as well.

The Korean fighting and the Suez crisis brought abrupt ends to pleas by independent producers seeking federal curbs limiting oil imports.

Rathbone, API board chairman, said current conditions may continue for some years, barring another emergency or crisis.

Crash Mars Reunion

MCRAE, Ark. (AP)—A planned family reunion became a tragic gathering when a car smashed into a bridge Friday night, killing Mrs. Freda Foster of Longview, Tex., and her infant son, Michael.

Her daughter and her husband's nephew were injured.

Mrs. Foster and her two children were riding with Bobby Foster, 22, the nephew, to her mother-in-law's home near Walnut Ridge, Ark. Her husband, Homer Foster, a truck driver, was to meet them there.

State police said the driver apparently lost control of the car.

Bobby Foster was in a fair condition with head and face injuries. Sheila Foster, 3, was in good condition with two broken legs.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster have lived in Longview several years. Mrs. Foster's survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Buchanan, of Longview.

One Dead, Two Hurt In One-Car Mishap

BRYAN (AP)—Miss Carol Shirley, 22, of San Antonio was killed and two Texas A&M students were injured early Saturday in a one-car accident three miles west of Bryan.

Injured were Michael McClelland, 21, of San Antonio, and Edward Lux, 21, of Schulenburg.

Vote Irregularities Alleged At Marshall

MARSHALL (AP)—Eight indictments charging voting irregularities in last Saturday's Democratic primary were returned by the Harrison County grand jury Friday.

Names of the accused were withheld until their arrest.

The grand jury reported finding evidence of bloc voting and said that "by this system the individual wishes of the voters of Harrison County have not been expressed."

Casuals Boost Hawaii's Stock In Fashion World

TARITI DRESS... Popular fabrics of Tahiti feature stylized designs, stencilled in dazzling white on solid color.

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH
HONOLULU — Hawaii long famed for its sun-drenched beaches, soft, swaying palms and comfortable pace is rapidly becoming an international fashion center for casual wear.

"In the not too distant future," says Richard T. Goodwin, "it will be a source of international fashion similar to the popularity Italy acquired after World War II."

Goodwin, styling director of Alfred Shaheen, Hawaii's leading house of fashion, garment manufacturer and exporter, believes Hawaii some day may even outstrip Paris, New York or Rome in fashion.

"The accept of women's wear in Hawaii is casual — and the trend is toward further informality," Goodwin says. "Suburban living — the trend all over the United States today as well as several foreign countries — requires functional casual wear."

sugar and pineapple among Hawaii's exports. The industry, growing at a rate of about 15 per cent annually, reached 15 million dollars last year. Good William F. Quinn predicts it will top 70 million dollars in 10 years.

Over 4½ million dollars worth of clothes — sundresses, lounge costumes, sportswear and women's as well as men's beachwear — were sent to the United States mainland and several foreign countries in 1959.

Goodwin, a 36-year-old bachelor from Belfast, Ireland, who once was destined for a British foreign service career, says his main job is to develop a fashion in the smart casual field. A cross-roads of the Pacific and the melting pot of exotic Eastern cultures, Hawaii has proved a fertile field for fashion.

Inspiration for design is drawn from the various Oriental cultures

blended here with a touch of Polynesian motifs," says Goodwin. "It's a tremendous field. You have the great arts and crafts of Asia and Australia, the South Sea Islands, the Pacific Ocean itself and Hawaii's own Polynesian-archipelago."

Shaheen, who first set up a textile print plant in a garment hut in 1951, today is the country's largest manufacturer in Hawaii to do its own fabric printing. Among the designs are "Canton," "Luan," "Kyoto," "Joss Sticks," "Rolling Surf," and "Geisha."

"The 'Canton' fabric is heavy on plum branches with bright blue and soft shadows," "Luan," as the name indicates, is a native Hawaiian feast complete with roast pig, tropical fruits, fish-nets and torches drawn in bold line and colors on backgrounds of red, turquoise, grey or yellow. "Kyoto," a bit of old Japan, has a white chrysanthemum motif. Chinese motifs are enhanced with Oriental calligraphy are blended into "Joss Sticks" and "Rolling Surf" depicts graceful little fish swimming through breakers of the great barrier reef off Australia.

Goodwin says the "Geisha Set" outfit, popular for casual entertaining, can best be described as a contemporary American function.

"Inspiration of the cut came from the Japanese," he says. "The flower motif print is Hawaiian, and treatment of the print design at Van Gogh. It's a box top with long pants."

Popular among Honolulu women for casual entertaining are the "Bora Bora Sheath" — a simple sheath of white; "Temple Set," box top and long pants patterned after ancient Chinese brocades; "Tahiti," a strapless top with a full skirt; and "Port of Paradise Sarong," the traditional garment TEMPLE SET The delicate art of ancient Cathay is retained in this design, patterned after ancient Chinese brocades.

Lately, a fitted version of the "mou-mou" called "Holomou" has been worn at formal dinners. The mou-mou is a shapeless, loose-fitting, nightgown-like dress, usually worn floor-length that originated in the 1820s when missionary wives put Mother Hubbards over the Polynesians to cover their nakedness.

The "Holomou" has a waistline, sometimes puffed short sleeves, and has a wide following among residents and tourists alike. Its appearance at formal functions shows that Hawaii's trend toward further informality is continuing.

Appliances
You can save on service calls and temper by preventing trouble with your appliances. If you have lost the direction book that came with your appliance, write the manufacturer for another. Be sure to give the model number so you'll get the right book. Before starting to launder, be sure to remove safety pins, hair pins and loose objects from pockets. Never overload a washer or clothes dryer. Empty the lint trap after each use. It is also a good idea to turn off water between washings to prevent pressure build upon valves and hoses.

Travel Help On Wardrobe For Males

With jet speed and credit plans as magic carpets whisking millions of Americans on new travel adventures this year, man's biggest problem is not where to go, or even how to pay for it, but what to pack and how much clothing he needs to keep him a happy traveler.

The lad who spends his time chasing laundry instead of dreams, who marks new frontiers by the weight of luggage holding everything but the right clothes is short-changing one of the biggest investments of his life.

But this year the American Society of Travel Agents have joined with hundreds and hundreds of men's wear stores across the country to help the traveling man solve the problem of what to pack and how much.

Out of this joint travel and fashion effort has come an ideal basic travel wardrobe designed to weigh in under minimum air travel regulations and to provide any man with everything he needs for a week's stay. The wardrobe is a man need only add the "extras" that are contained in his own personal travel plans — such as formal dress wear or special apparel for sports hobbies.

Included in this basic wardrobe are 2 suits — one of which is worn while traveling, 1 sport jacket, 1 pair of slacks, 1 topcoat or raincoat, 2 pairs of shoes, 4 shirts, 2 drip-dry, 4 collars, 4 sets of underwear, 2 pairs of pajamas, 8 pairs of socks, 1 bathrobe, 12 handkerchiefs and 1 pair of slippers, a scarf and 6 ties.

An additional travel tip is to coordinate a travel wardrobe around a single basic color or two complementary colors. Overpacking produces fewer wrinkles than underpacking, men's wear experts warn, and add that a smart trick for a man traveling by air means but his own car is to carry a special little traveling case containing overnight toilet articles, a change of shirt, socks and handkerchiefs for quick, easy changes. And a weary traveler will find a pair of soft folding slippers a comfort on long plane flights or train trips.

Oesterreich, O'Neal To Wed In June Rites

Mr. and Mrs. William Oesterreich Route 3 Wausau, Wisconsin, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Mae, to Hubert Ronald O'Neal, Garland, Texas, son of Mr. A. J. O'Neal, Snyder, Texas.

A teacher in the Dallas Schools, the future bride graduated from Wisconsin State Teacher's College in LaCrosse, Wisconsin.

Mr. O'Neal, attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Texas, where he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemistry. He is employed as a Development Chemist by the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company in Garland.

A June wedding is planned.

Midland Man To Speak Here Tuesday

Mr. W. H. Hilliard, Supervisor of the West Texas District Operations for Core Laboratories, Inc. of Midland, will be the speaker at Desk & Derrick Club's dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. but the officers and directors are scheduled to meet at 7:00 for a board meeting.

A native Texan and a graduate of SMU with a BS in mechanical engineering and BBA in industrial management, he started to work for Core Laboratories, Inc. in February 1948 and was assigned to the Corpus Christi District in the logging division. In 1949 he was temporarily transferred to the West Texas District where his assignment was the operation of diamond core barrels in the Scurry County "boom". He served in the Navy from February, 1951 thru February, 1953 and discharged with the commission of Lieutenant.

On his return to Core Laboratories he was assigned to the Core Analysis Department of the West Texas District. He has worked as laboratory supervisor, sales engineer, and at the present time is supervisor of the West Texas District Operations which is composed of eight laboratories located in Abilene, Lubbock, Midland, Monahan, Pampa, Pecos and Hobbs and Roswell in New Mexico.

Hilliard is a member of the Methodist church, is married, and the father of two children. Mr. Hilliard will show the film "The Million Dollar Question" and will give a short talk on core analysis.

VISITING HERE—Mrs. Eva Theodore of Bronx, N. Y., is visiting here in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Theodore, 1902 Fifteenth Street. Mrs. Theodore came from Greece to the U. S. in 1914 and has made her home in New York ever since. It had been three years since she had seen her grandchildren, Claudia and Peter, so she is having a delightful visit. Although she had never been in this part of the country before, she says it is all right, but laughingly said, "I haven't seen one of your dust storms yet." Mrs. Theodore will leave for her home May 22. Several friends of her son have honored this charming lady with various parties.

HONORED—Special honors went to these women of the Grandmothers Tea held Tuesday afternoon by the Twentieth Century Club. At left, Mrs. J. M. Dock, who has attended the annual tea held each year, the first being in 1923, and Mrs. Rose Coleman, the eldest grandmother present.

20th Century Holds Annual Tea Tuesday

The Twentieth Century Club held its annual Grandmothers Tea Tuesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. This occasion, which honors all the grandmothers in Snyder, has been a regular observance of the club since its organization in 1923.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn welcomed the guests, which included some 50 grandmothers. Mrs. Yarbrough and her girls' choral group of Travis Junior High School, rendered several lovely melodies of song.

A corsage was presented to Mrs. Rose Coleman, honoring her as the oldest grandmother present, and also a corsage to Mrs. J. M. Dock, who had attended every tea.

The entire group joined heartily in an old-fashioned singsong, which was led by Mrs. John Reeves, with "What a Wonderful World It Is" as the theme.

Refreshments were served from a buffet table by the hostess, Mrs. J. M. Dock, Mrs. T. W. H. Dave Hoover and Mrs. J. M. Dock.

The tea was a most successful one, and the women enjoyed the evening very much.

Clothes Dryer

When you shop for a clothes dryer, look at several different models and compare features. Some have interior lights and illuminated control panels that will be helpful if your utility room or basement is not well lighted. A timer dial will help to save on fuel costs. An automatic door switch is available on some models. Be sure to locate the lint screen and study the controls so you'll be sure to get a model that gives you a choice of drying temperatures for the different kinds of fabrics you use in your household.

These Housewives Have Turned Mystery Writers

By NORMA GAUIN
AP Newswriter

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncounted numbers of housewives go about their daily chores, musing "I ought to write a book."

Few of them make it. Chief reason, say two women who have just had their first joint-writing effort published, "It's just plain terribly hard work. Most people wouldn't bother."

However, Anita Feagles and Gretchen Mochler did bother, and successfully overcame formidable obstacles of six children (four Feagles, two Mochlers), one pregnancy and the usual whirl of commings and goings in suburbia.

Their collaboration is a mystery story set in their hometown of Chappaqua, N.Y., called "Trial by Slander." Rinehart Current is their work polishing the final draft of a second book, also a mystery. Their pen name is Travis MacRae, combining their maiden names.

The first book took about a year to complete. Says Gretchen, "We set aside one day a week to work together and let absolutely nothing interfere unless one of the kids was sick. The rest of the time we were on the telephone, working things out."

Kids Leaked Word
"We didn't plan on telling anyone what we were doing," says Anita. "But the kids let the word out—they'd tell everyone. Our crazy mommies are writing a book."

For their work day, Gretchen would see her 2-year-old daughter and 9-year-old son off on the school bus, clean up the breakfast dishes and drive three miles to Anita's. Her 11-year-old daughter and 7-year-old son had left for school, her 5-year-old daughter was supplied with playthings and 9-month-old son was napping.

Anita furnished the plot for "Trial by Slander." Her banker husband, Robert, has a collection of guns and one was kept in a kitchen cupboard.

"I got to wondering what would happen if someone took that loaded gun and shot somebody. We went on from there. My husband still runs—but not in the kitchen."

"Ideas for a story are the easiest thing of all," Travis and MacRae agree. "Murder plots are all around—you just look around your bridge club and start thinking. What if?"

"It gets hard though when you have to make the story stick together and the characters do what they should. And actual facts take lots of work."

"Research," says Gretchen, who once worked on the Omaha, Neb. World Herald and did public relations work. "You think you know all about something but just try writing it into a story."

For one thing, they visited the local police department and to the officers' amusement, questioned them on operations at the station.

"We also had to know if a dog could be knocked unconscious for several hours and come to without suffering ill effects," says Anita.

"We called two veterinarians and both said yes. We called a third to doublecheck, he said. Bring the animal into the at once."

"Travis MacRae are both pretty and reddish-haired. Gretchen is 42, is nine years older than Anita. Gretchen's husband Richard, is an advertising man.

"Both admit there are days when they'd rather scrub floors than sit down to the actual job of writing. "I'm surprised at how much housework I got done," Gretchen says, "while fighting off the book."

Both women report their husbands are pleased and proud of their writing success.

"Dick kept telling me not to count on publication too much," Gretchen says. "Then when it was accepted the first thing he said was, 'I've got the income tax on it all figured out.'"

Boy Of Year Gives Tips On Dating

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature

"THERE ARE LOTS of good boys around if you are seeking dates," Nick Beck, 17, of Hollywood, Calif., advises girls. "So why settle for less?"

Nick, the 1960 Boy of the Year, ought to know. He had to win over some 600,000 other good boys (we hope) all members of the Boys' Clubs of America.

What kind of advice does this handsome, healthy, jolly boy dish up for girls? How does he say they can tell a good boy from a bad one? Here's a yardstick for you girls. Let us see how that current date measure up.

Date Yardstick

1. What kind of friends does the boy enjoy? (Birds of a feather flock together.)
2. Does he take school seriously? (An indication of how he will apply himself to other projects.)
3. How about his personal appearance? (He should be clean and well-groomed and take pride in himself.)
4. Does he stand outside "beating the horn" when he calls for you at home? (He should appear cordial, polite, mannerly and greet your parents before you go out.)
5. Does he persist in spending the evening at your house even though he has invited you out?

"Either you can't see the reason he likes you or you don't want to see it."

Those are little guideposts, says Nick, but they hold true of many boys. He adds:

"It's wise not to accept a date just because you want to be popular. It's dangerous. Dutch treats are all right until the boy becomes a serious dater. It is not good after you become engaged because the boy seems more like an escort than a permanent date, and you will feel that he really doesn't care enough to give his money for your enjoyment."

Nick doesn't believe in blind dates.

"The only time a blind date is all right is when reliable people get you together. It's wise in most cases not to go out with a boy about whom you know nothing."

What kind of girl does this sensible, intelligent, realistic boy like? His surprising ideal is: Beautiful, blonde, shapely and DUMB.

Beautiful and Dumb?

Why dumb? Nick explains:

"Marriage depends on the man's maturity more than the girl's. It is the custom of our society that the man should be head of the house, the wage earner, smarter than his spouse. It works out better when she's not as bright as her husband."

Although Nick is from the film city, he has no desire to be in the movies and would reject an offer, he says, because, "there is no use trying to be something you aren't. It would ruin me character-wise." He adds:

"Besides I don't need a swimming pool. There's a perfectly good big one at the Boys' Club of Hollywood."

BANDS TO PERFORM—(top) The Lamar Junior High School band under the direction of Tim Dennis and (lower) Travis Junior High School band under the direction of Bill Green will present special music for the meeting of the Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association meeting Monday evening at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

For Shiny Pans

For removing a dark film from an aluminum pan, fill the pan with hot water to one inch above the ring, add two tablespoons cream of tartar and boil over a high flame for 10 minutes. Then wash in hot sudsy water, and rinse the pan well.

Shrinkage

To prevent shrinkage of cotton shirts and knit underwear, dry these articles in the same hot water as the knitted garments from getting too dry. Be sure to remove them from the clothes dryer before they feel completely dry.

Library Notes

Snyder High School art students, Mrs. Lillian Jones, instructor, have a representative exhibit of their paintings on display in the Selury County Library. A variety of techniques and media were employed in the painting of the pictures that will be on display for public viewing until Tuesday, May 17.

Beginning June 1, and continuing through the summer months, your present schedules will be continued until dates indicated.

- Hermleigh — Jones Grocery—May 25th
- Dunn — Community Center — May 31st
- Fluvanna — business area — June 1st
- Ira — in front of the school — June 2nd
- Camp Springs — Beavers Store — June 5th

Peat Moss Listed In Ground Rules For Transplants

A rolling tree that gathers some moss is likely to be in better shape for the growing season. The transplant just moved from nursery to home grounds has a firmer grip on life in soil improved with peat moss, just before planting. Reason is that the peat moss helps condition the soil, whether sandy or clay. It retains moisture in the sandy kind and perates the clay sort.

Peat moss is important in promoting retention of water in the soil. The peat moss should be good topsoil free of roots, sod or other undecayed vegetable matter. Topsoil is far better than unimproved subsoil, but even so its quality is uncertain at best. That's why it is essential to mix it with liberal amounts of peat moss, a convenient form of humus.

For rule of green thumb, one-fifth to one-third of moss to soil is desirable. Determine how much you need and then buy it in packages, bag or bale, depending upon the quantity. It's easy to mix. Merely turn it over with the soil several times, concrete mixing style. Don't try mixing in the planting pit, but do it before you start filling in. The same applies to the moss-enriched fill you place in the bottom of the pit before the root ball is placed.

If the job is done right, peat trees will thrive in well-aerated, moderately rich, moist and well drained soil.

Skillet Supper

Place a large skillet over the automatic top-burner heat control on your range. Set the control at 180 degrees and add 1/4 cup of milk, 1 can 29-ounces of drained tomatoes, 3/4 pound sharp cheddar, cheese cut in pieces and 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon celery seed and some chives or parsley. Turn the flame back to very low until ready to serve.

Hermleigh Girl Scouts Receive Pins

Hermleigh Girl Scout Troop No. 242 held their annual Court of Awards Thursday evening in the High School auditorium.

Girl Scout pins were presented to: Betty Groves, Cecile Hall, Cheryl Foster and Nancy Tate; World pins to Virginia Williams, Betty Groves, Cecile Hall, Sandra, Fritz, Carolyn Chitsy, Cheryl Foster and Nancy Tate.

Second class badges went to Kelly Maves, Nancy Capbell, Virginia Williams, Geenita Robbins, Betty Groves, Sandra Fritz, Cecile Hall, Carolyn Chitsy; Proficiency badges to Kelly Maves 10, Nancy Campbell, 12, Geenita Robbins 10, and Betty Groves 7. Membership stars were presented to each girl for the number of years she has been in scouting.

Brownie Troop No. 249 had their Fly-up ceremony. The flag ceremony was given, also the Scout motto, slogan, promise and laws. Brownies flying-up were: Linda Bollinger, Theresa Campbell, Cynthia Clifton, Renae Ferguson, Gloria Ince, Kathy Odstriel, Sandra Ward, Linda Williams, Norma Wright and Janice Colvin.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Dorwin Bollinger, Brownie leader and Mrs. Nathan Campbell, Girl Scout leader by the troops.

Following the ceremony the group was invited to the Girl Scout house for a reception.

Children Can Eat Pork Same As Everyone Else

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newscasters

PORK IS GOOD FOOD for children and for everyone else. It contains rich vitamins and more vitamin B than any other kind of meat except liver, and, in addition, it tastes good.

However, pork is one food that must be thoroughly cooked. Unlike beef and lamb, which are delicious rare, pork tastes much better when it is cooked all the way through so that no pink areas are left.

There is another reason for cooking pork besides the taste. Some hogs in this country are infected with a parasite called trichinae. This parasite can be transmitted to man if the meat of the hog is not thoroughly cooked. Not all hogs are infected, of course, but inspection programs to eradicate the disease in hogs are only partly effective. Until all the hogs in this country are free from trichinae the only safe procedure is to be sure that every bit of pork consumed is thoroughly cooked.

especially to the muscles. The patient suffers from nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Later symptoms depend upon what part of his body contains the young larvae. He may suffer from swelling of the face or other parts of his body, weakness of the eyes, hemorrhage under the skin, muscular pains and difficulty breathing. The variety of the symptoms makes diagnosis difficult, though once suspected, laboratory tests can definitely determine the presence of trichinae.

Treatment is difficult and unsatisfactory. There is no known way to kill the adult trichinae in the intestinal tract or the larvae in the muscles.

But prevention of this disease is simple—thorough cooking of all pork products.

Ford Reunion Held At Towle Park, Sunday

The children of the late John and Lizzie Ford of the Polar community held a reunion last Sunday at Towle Park.

All 12 children were present and a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, other relatives, several friends and neighbors. In all 125 attended. The enjoyable day consisted of a beautiful dinner, picture taking, and old time story telling.

The children present were: Alice Neason, Artesia, N.M.; Lillie Marcum, Odessa; Cecil Hughes, Fresno, Calif.; Alma Fowler and Jessie Peterson, Snyder; Ernest Ford, Polar; Noma Cumber and Angelle, Vealmoore; Eula Clanton, Somme Lyons, Snyder; Leona Masdenark, Ark.; Burl Ford, Post; and Aileen Handquist, Shallowater.

You'll need two cups of medium white sauce for half a pound of dried beef. Nice over crisp hot toast, or for brunch or lunch. Garnish with minced parsley.

Family Style

Before plunging into spring house cleaning, give the family a chance to discard possessions not being used. Provide a box or basket for each room and ask for items that can be given or thrown away. One appliance that reduces housecleaning jobs is the new smokeless-odorless disposer. It consumes rubbish and trash before it has a chance to accumulate.

Beauty Tips From ME to YOU

By Jessie Hampton

Make-up is so important to the emotional health of women that many hospitals go to great lengths to provide for it. . . . Go to your professional beauty experts and ask them to give you some hints that will enhance your charms. . . . Here are a few you might use.

When putting on creamy make-up, stipple over your face and neck. Then blend. Wipe off excess. Then blend again for a transparent look — not a masquerade.

Keeping one's mind occupied has been proven the key to health. Taking care of your hair and skin properly and a weekly visit to the Beauty Salon will assure you of better looks.

A hint that may be helpful — Biting of nails may be cured by a weekly visit to your beautician.

Watch for more details next week on Jessie's Beauty College Student Contest to be held in June.

Mix cream rouge with make-up base in your hand. Apply to cheek bone and blend. Add more rouge if not red enough or tone down by adding more make-up base. More next week.

Halls Bare In 'Lost' Monastery

HEBRONVILLE, (AP) — There's a lost Franciscan monastery here standing high on a hill, its windows staring like sightless eyes over the walled garden where South Texas mesquite is replaced by the tropical lushness of bananas and palms.

Inside, the echoing halls are bare and deserted, except for three priests and three lay brothers, one of whom, a pianist, sometimes loses a flood of melody through corridors and down the marble stairs.

Scotus College, as it is called, had its beginning in 1926 when nuns and priests of the various orders fled Mexico before the social revolution.

After brief stays at various locations, members of the great religious organizations founded by St. Francis of Assisi reached this brush country haven and started a monastery for the Mexicans.

It was named after one of the most profound scholars of the Middle Ages, Joannes Duns Scotus—John Dun of Scotland—a Franciscan and a professor of theology at Oxford.

In the school, which in the beginning was only a small cluster of frame classrooms, the friars once more began to train laymen for the priesthood and in the tenets of the Franciscan order, which has long been identified with great educational institutions.

The white masonry building—main structure of the college—was completed about 1940 with accommodations for nearly 40 students and priests, but only 6 remain. When the rigorous treatment of the clergy was relaxed in Mexico, novices once more began to study at another Franciscan college in Monterey.

"But maybe next year, manana the students will come, says Father Ramon Solano, one of the three priests in residence.

Teacher To Run Miniature Train

PARIS, (AP) — When he was a boy growing up on the family farm in Lamar County, Sam Skidmore marveled at the big black locomotives of the Texas & Pacific as they thundered down the track pulling their trains of cars.

His fondest boyhood dream that someday he could own and run his own steam locomotive.

Now at 65, Skidmore is preparing to retire from his school teaching job to devote his full time to operating the miniature train he has built himself.

Industrial arts teacher at the Paris High School for the past 21 years, Skidmore had built five steam engines and eight other diesel style trains.

He built his first train 17 years ago with the aid of his industrial arts class. Since his first steamer, Skidmore has built four others and rebuilt his first one.

His pride and joy is his latest train, "The Skidmore Short Line" and the box car carried the title "Route of the Llama Man" in honor of his wife. The engine is numbered 218 after a Southern Pacific engine which used to travel past his home when he was a teenager.

No. 218 pulls a tanker, flat car, a coal car and caboose and will easily carry 36 passengers. Passengers are not confined to children. Skidmore says that nearly 40 per cent riding the train are adults.

Skidmore has a spacious piece of property at Reno, 5 miles east of Paris, and has laid a 14-inch gauge track that winds for a half mile through a wooded section.

The Paris teacher grew up on a farm and spent considerable time around a cotton gin where his father was a stationary steam engineer. He holds both bachelor and master of science degrees in industrial arts.

His trains have been built to an exact scale of two inches to one foot ratio. It took approximately 1,000 spare-time hours to build No. 218.

And when it comes to running trains, Skidmore is fully capable. He is a qualified engineer for train duty having worked part time for the Paris-Mt. Pleasant Railroad during World War

Highway Construction Probe Not Likely To Reach Texas

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Service

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The congressional investigation now centered on alleged irregularities in Oklahoma highway construction may spread to several other states, but probably not to Texas.

That's the opinion of Rep. Jim Wright, D., Fort Worth, vice-chairman of the House Public Works subcommittee that is conducting the probe.

"The group has heard testimony some of it sensational concerning construction of the Skelly bypass, right?"

"It is evident that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has not perfected adequate machinery for detecting such glaring irregularities in the vast federal aid highway program which has cost American taxpayers more than 15 billion dollars in the past four years," Wright said.

The Tulsa probe repeatedly received a clean bill of health by a bureau inspector who works out of the southwest division headquarters in Fort Worth.

Wright emphasized there was no indication of wrongdoing by federal officials, but under the present system he said they simply accept statements of state highway authorities as to whether construction contract specifications are met.

One way the taxpayers were misled in the Tulsa project, testimony brought out in the weighing of truck loads of asphalt. The scales were not large enough for the entire truck at one time, so the front wheels were weighed first, then the rear axle load.

By having the drive in front of the scales sloped at a sharp grade, the brakes would always have to be set and this would throw an erroneous heavy weight reading on the rear.

The committee has received hundreds of complaints from all over the United States, Wright said. He revealed that investigators for the committee are presently digging into situations in five states. Texas is not one of them.

"If fact," Wright said, "we have received only one charge of corruption regarding the highway program in Texas. We checked and learned that State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer had already heard of the matter and put an end to it."

He said this was a case of the state being billed for more than the true weight of road materials on a project in North Central Texas, a situation brought to the attention of proper officials by an honest truck driver.

A top Texas congressional aide leaving Capitol Hill in June to embark on a foreign service career.

He is Craig Raupe, 35 secretary to Rep. Jim Wright. He expects to go to Indonesia in August for the ICA International Cooperation Administration program after completing an indoctrination course.

Raupe, a one-time Texas college professor, is a specialist in political science. He got both his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts on the same 1950 day from North Texas State College in Denton. He has done post graduate work at S.M.U., the University of Wisconsin and American University.

Getting out of NTSAC, he served first as public school principal at Vega in the Texas Panhandle, then taught in the Abilene High school in 1951 and 1952. Later, he taught in West Texas State College in Canyon and Weatherford Junior College.

West Texas Areas Need Rain

COLLEGE STATION, AP.— Texas farmers and ranchmen at midweek generally were either wet or dry, depending on the area. All sections of West and Southwest Texas need rain. Moisture in the other areas ranged from adequate to excessive, reported John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Damage from hail and heavy rains was reported from several areas and made replanting necessary, especially in South Central Texas. Early plantings of cotton were stopped and replanting made necessary by the low temperatures in the South Plains. Pastures improved in the moist sections as did livestock.

the cotton in the area is planted. Corn and sorghums are making fair to good. Ranges are dry and all counties good growth. Pastures are good need rain in far West Texas. The and improving and livestock are condition of livestock ranged from in good condition.

A general rain was needed in most of Northwest Texas. Rains Central West Texas. Livestock from a half-inch to three inches generally was in good condition fell over the area during the past week. Pastures are improving and grazing. Small grains are making good growth. Cotton is up to stand in some counties.

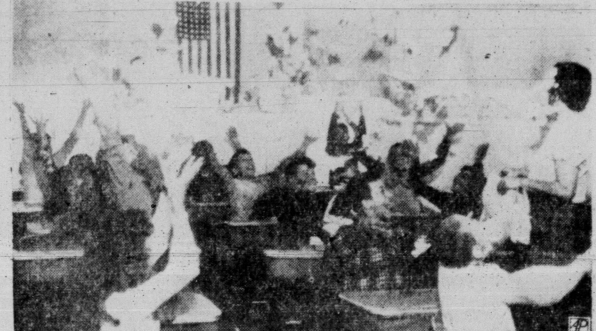

Moisture is now adequate over most of Northwest Texas. Rains generally was in good condition fell over the area during the past week. Pastures are improving and grazing. Small grains are making good growth. Cotton is up to stand in some counties.

Soil moisture is, generally adequate. Adequate moisture was reported in Central Texas and recent rains in East Texas with some spotted rains ranged from light to excessive. Hail damage was being done, with hail damage in some for hay and silage. Livestock are spots. Oats are maturing fast and in good condition. Some are being haled for hay. Heavy rains stopped work and caused some crop damage along the upper coast. Some stands of cotton and corn were light and replanting may be necessary. Some rice farmers are flushing their fields while others are planting. Pastures are good and improving and the condition of livestock is generally good. Heavy rains and hail damaged crops and made replanting necessary in South Central Texas. Livestock and pastures are improving. Good rains in the Coastal Bend and Valley improved pasture conditions but intensified the weed problem. Grain sorghums were beginning to head and cotton was making rapid growth in the Valley. Potatoes, carrots, beets, onions, squash and sweet corn are among the vegetables now being shipped from the Valley.

Government's Role Appears As Major Farm Policy Issue

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON, AP.—The role of government in the determination of the farm production pattern and of farm product prices appears most likely to be the crux of the farm issue in this year's elections.

A Democratic Advisory Committee farm policy will urge the party's convention in Los Angeles in July to adopt a farm plank promising to put the government back into the position of guiding farm production. That's what it was under Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. This, of course, is just opposite the role which the Eisenhower administration has sought — and with a degree of success — to assign government. This administration says government should get out of the business of controlling farm production and of fixing prices. Government efforts in behalf of farmers, it argues, should be confined largely to research, market development and instruction. The Democratic advisory group — which met here earlier last week — would restore the controversial 90 per cent parity price supports for basic crops in effect from the early days of World War II into the early years of the present administration. It also would reestablish rigid production and marketing quotas of the same era to halt the production of surpluses.

Most of the supports now are at 75 per cent of parity or less and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson wants to lower some of them even more.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as the likely GOP presidential nominee, has indicated he is not in full agreement with present policies as evolved by Eisenhower and Benson. Nixon could take a position between the Democrats' with their high supports and controls and the Eisenhower administration with its opposition to high supports and controls.

The Democrats favoring a return to the old farm programs may have some difficulty, however, in convincing all party leaders that would be a politically wise course.

Gov. Hefschel C. Lovelless of Iowa, chairman of the Democratic Farm Advisory Committee, conceded to newsmen that some Democrats in Congress oppose controls and higher supports. But he said they have been away from home too long to know how farmers feel about the matter. Farmers may have favored relief from controls a few years ago, he said, but the rising pile of farm surpluses and public criticism have changed this.

Surface moisture is needed in all the Panhandle. Wheat made good growth. Cattle generally are in good condition and some cotton is being planted.

Surface moisture is short in the South Plains (Lubbock) and a third or more of the early cotton will be replanted. Low temperatures from light to moderate on small grains, early cotton and sorghums. Ranges needed moisture and stock water was low in a few counties. Cotton and sorghum planting is continuing where moisture is adequate.

In North Central Texas, heavy rains stopped field work. Ranges and livestock were in good condition. From 50 to 75 per cent of

Reno Club's Act Off To False Start
RENO, Nev. (AP)—Reno's first bare-bosomed night club act got off to a false start Thursday night with what might be called a reverse strip tease.

A hotel had promised 10 chorines—bare from the waist up. Four girls showed up, scantily clad but not bare bosomed.

In the first act they were covered with strategically placed ornamentation. In the second act their bosoms were covered with gauze.

And, as a grand finale, they appeared fully clothed.

Concern Voiced On Crude Imports

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, AP.—Concern over crude oil prices and oil imports was voiced in Washington this week by independent producers.

Oil men from Texas, Ohio, Michigan, North Dakota and New Mexico carried pleas to Interior and Commerce Department officials for a further tightening of import controls.

Minor Jameson Jr., executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said a weakening in crude oil prices since Jan. 1 is the biggest problem of independent producers.

Jameson said a reduction in imports would be a help but wouldn't solve the problem. Industry management, "all the way through" is going to have to adjust operations in line with demand for petroleum products, he said.

Jameson estimated the average price of crude oil is now about $2.92 a barrel compared with an average of $2.94 last year. He said the price should be about $3.35 a barrel just to meet inflationary increases in costs of machinery, wages and other items. And it really should be something like $5.50 a barrel, he said, to allow for the basic costs of exploration for new supplies.

At the meeting with Interior and Commerce officials, independent spokesmen for the independents urged action to reduce imports.

"We are here to tell you that the days of the independent producers are numbered unless something is done," said Jack Campbell, appearing for New Mexico oil men.

John Hurd of Laredo, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn. said the domestic oil industry

Cohen's Girl Friend Mum On Diamonds

LOS ANGELES, AP.—Mickey Cohen's 13-year-old lady friend is in jail today because she refused to tell a federal grand jury where her diamonds came from.

Sandra Hagen was jailed Thursday for contempt when she declined on grounds of possible self incrimination to tell whether the pudgy ex-gambler gave her an expensive watch, ring and bracelet.

The jury is investigating the mysterious finances of Cohen, who lives high while reporting a low income.
